Trio Arrested On Yablonski Clue

IN 4,000 WORDS

Nixon's Talk Bittersweet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, in his first State of the Union message, prepared for Congress today a bittersweet prescription of austerity, prosperity and peace.

The Chief Executive delivered his 4,000-word message to a joint session of the House and Senate.

Nixon's message was a statement of goals for 1970 and the new decade, more than what he calls a "laundry list" of detailed proposals he will submit to Congress in a series of later messages.

Budget Follows
Nixon's address was to be followed within about two weeks by his 1971 budget, his annual report on the national economy and a special message on foreign affairs.

One major theme of his opening address to Congress was economy and more economy, with a suggestion to the public, including labor and management, that it follow the federal example of avoiding inflationary price and wage decisions and postponing major expenditures when possible.

In other words, Nixon is attempting to combat inflation without pitching the national economy into even a mild recession, and he is determined to continue reducing the size of the U.S. military establishment in Vietnam.

The painful whacking of several billion dollars out of the fiscal 1971 budget, without asking several billions in new federal excise taxes, dominated Nixon's State of the Union. He, himself, indicated in advance that the message would be weighted on the domestic side.

This in turn influenced his decision to deal with international matters, particularly Vietnam and the Middle East, in a later, separate message.

The line of the presidential thinking as he outlined his program for 1970 was evident in a statement issued Wednesday. His object of immediate concern was the sagging housing industry, but he addressed himself to the broader economic picture.

"The need to regain early control over inflation is paramount and voluntary steps to restrain unnecessary spending can play a vital role."

"In order to maintain a surplus in the budget, I have cut federal spending to the minimum possible levels this year and next. This will help free resources for housing."

"I urge the private sector (business, labor and consumers) to follow this example by also postponing avoidable expenditures and increasing savings."

Old Speech Haunts New SC Nominee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell has rejected as "obnoxious and abhorrent" a white supremacy speech he reportedly made 22 years ago while running for the state legislature in a small Georgia town.

The 1948 speech was unearthed by a Jacksonville, Fla., television station Wednesday and its copyrighted account, along with a rebuttal from Carswell, were aired nationally on the CBS-TV evening news.

Station WJGT said Carswell made the speech to an American Legion meeting in his hometown, Irwinton, Ga., while he was editing one of two local weekly newspapers, the now-defunct Irwinton Bulletin. The speech, printed in the paper, was reported as having read: "I yield to no man as a fellow candidate or as a fellow citizen in the firm, vigorous belief in the principles of white supremacy, and I shall always be so governed."

The account also said: "I am a Southerner by ancestry, birth, training, inclination, belief and practice. I believe that segregation of the races is proper and the only and correct way of life in our state."

Carswell, a U.S. Appeals Court judge, from his home in Tallahassee, Fla., said in a statement: "I do not subscribe to those views now. I am not a racist," he said.

Americans Call For Viets To End "Sterile Debates"

PARIS (UPI)—No closer to peace, the four-way Vietnam negotiations entered their second year today with a call by the United States for the Communists to end their "sterile debate" on the war.

Philip C. Habib, the chief of the U.S. delegation, told newsmen before entering today's 51st session that the Allies were determined to discuss with the Communists ways of allowing the South Vietnamese to choose their own government.

Three of the four chief negotiators for the participating delegations attended today's session. The only one absent was Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief delegate since the four-way talks began Jan. 18, 1969.

He has been boycotting the meetings since last month to protest what he says is President Nixon's refusal to name a replacement of similar status for resigned Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's foreign minister, returned to the conference table after a four-week absence. She immediately attacked President Nixon's policy.

Pampa Attorney, Daughter On First Flight Of Boeing 747

Joe Gordon, 1811 Charles, Pampa attorney, and his daughter, Martha Gordon Tepera of Fort Worth were first in line to board the "young America" for the maiden voyage of the giant Boeing 747 inaugurating commercial jumbo-jet service. The flight finally got off the ground following a six and a half hour delay and last minute change of planes.

Gordon and his daughter, holding tickets and reservations for the flight secured nearly one year ago, were early birds at Kennedy International Airport and earned an interview by NBC television newsmen covering the flight.

The plane, set down in London six hours after its 1 a.m. EST take-off time today.

Gordon and Mrs. Tepera will tour Europe before returning to Texas later this month.

The Pan American World Airways jetliner left Kennedy International Airport at 1:52 a.m. EST on a transatlantic flight to London expected to take five hours and 36 minutes. There were 332 passengers, 30 fewer than had booked passage.

NEWSMEN INCOMMUNICADO

Biafra Reflects Chaotic Scene

LAGOS (UPI)—Nigerian authorities in Port Harcourt today held incommunicado 80 foreign newsmen who reported scenes of starvation, rape and chaos in the former Biafran territory.

According to unofficial reports reaching Lagos, the newsmen—including Americans and Europeans—have been confined under guard at the city's airport without food, water or bedding, some of them since Tuesday.

In Port Harcourt, newsmen saw Nigerians toasting each other with champagne and eating roasted meat at a two-day wedding reception for the state governor while less than an hour away Biafran refugees fought over food scraps.

The Nigerian government remained silent both on the detention of the correspondents and their reports from the scene filed Wednesday.

Press For Return
Official sources in Lagos said the embassies of the nation concerned had pressed the federal government to return the journalists to the capital.

These sources said the Nigerian government was stunned and embarrassed by the news reports from the refugee areas. The dispatches contradicted the confident statements of federal officials that the situation was well in hand.

(In London, Lord Hunt, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's official envoy to Nigeria, told newsmen upon his return Wednesday night the reports of suffering he had read were "irresponsible, exaggerated and generalized.")

Murdered Man Kept Notes On Strangers

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Mine union official Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski, murdered with his wife and daughter in their Pennsylvania home, may have provided the clue which led to the arrests of three Cleveland area men in connection with the execution-style gunshot slayings, it was reported today.

Sources at Washington, Pa., reported that for several weeks before the Dec. 31 slayings, Yablonski, fearful of his family's safety, kept a list of the license numbers of "suspicious" automobiles passing by his isolated Clarksville, Pa., home or pulling into his driveway.

He gave the license numbers to a "friend" on the Washington city police force who turned them over to the FBI and the Pennsylvania State Police after the bodies of the Yablonskis were found in their home Jan. 5, it was reported.

One of the license numbers was traced to Cleveland and led to the arrests by FBI agents there Wednesday of Aubran Wayne Martin, 23; Claude Edward Vealey, 26; and Paul Eugene Gilly, 37, all of Cleveland.

U.S. Attorney Robert Krupansky said the federal government would ask for "substantial" bond, in excess of $100,000 for each of the three suspects when they are brought before U.S. Commissioner Clifford E. Bruce.

Martin and Vealey have criminal records. Several sources in Washington, D.C., Cleveland and Washington, Pa., reported Gilly had sought Yablonski's aid in obtaining a mining job in West Virginia but was turned down.

In Washington, D.C., Joseph L. Rauh, attorney for the slain long-time United Mine Workers official, said he had the "impression" Gilly was "the name of a guy who was seen around Clarksville" shortly before the UMW's Dec. 9 presidential election. Yablonski was defeated in the election by the incumbent UMW president.

The Yablonski faction in the union has contended the murders stemmed from Yablonski's election campaign. This was denied by the union leadership.

Yablonski sources said the connection between the murders and Yablonski's union activities was implicit in the nature of the charges against the suspects — interference with a union member's rights.

In Washington, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the investigation would continue and UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle expressed "delight" the three suspects apparently had no union connections.

But in Morgantown, W. Va., Ray Martin, associate editor of the Morgantown Dominion-News, reported in today's edition Gilly applied for a mine workers' job in Monongalia County, W. Va., just two weeks before the killings and was turned down. The newspaper did not elaborate on the report.

Martin, Vealey and Gilly were jailed on federal charges of interfering with the rights of a union member by force or violence, obstruction of justice and conspiracy to interfere with a union member's rights. They spent the night in a maximum security section of Cuyahoga County Jail.

Hoover said the arrests resulted from "wide-ranging and extensive investigation throughout the United States." Police indicated further arrests may be coming.

Pennsylvania State Police and the district attorney of Washington County, Pa., meet today to discuss the filing of murder charges.

Bodies Found Jan. 5
The bodies of Yablonski, 59; his wife Margaret, 57; and their daughter Charlotte, 25, were found by a son, Kenneth, when he went to their home Jan. 5 after being unable to reach the family by telephone for several days. Authorities said the slayings occurred New Year's Eve.

Police said Martin, a laborer, has a record dating back to 1965.

Guerillas Overrun SV Outpost

SAIGON (UPI) — Guerrilla troops shelled and then tried to overrun a South Vietnamese marine headquarters outpost deep in the Mekong Delta early today, killing 38 government soldiers and wounding 41.

Military spokesmen said the defenders of the camp, on the edge of the U Minh Forest 122 miles southwest of Saigon, weathered the 100-round shelling attack and used air strikes and artillery to beat off the assault. They found 72 guerrilla bodies at dawn.

The attack lent credence to Allied intelligence reports that North Vietnamese troops are reinforcing the Viet Cong in the delta for a tet-type offensive in February aimed at showing the vulnerability of the government army.

Freedom Values Rotarian Topic

"Freedom is not the absence of restraint," said Rev. Dan Cameron, "it is when we are under no obligation to another man."

"Without some restrictions, anarchy will follow," said the local pastor of the First Baptist Church. He was the guest speaker at the Pampa Rotary Club's noon meeting Wednesday at the Coronado Inn.

Rev. Cameron described how man has strived for freedom throughout the world and gave past and present definitions of the word. He also quoted what several early Americans had said on the subject.

"God planted in every man the spark to be free," said the minister.

He suggested that we should preserve our freedom continually and not just in times of war. "We should build our freedom so strong we can keep ourselves and other countries out of war."

"Security and freedom are not the same," said the pastor. "They can not be equated."

Blue-Ribbon Jury Gives Ruling In Deaths Of Black Panthers

CHICAGO (UPI)—A special, blue-ribbon coroner's jury has concluded the deaths of two Black Panther party leaders during a police raid were "justifiable homicide."

The jury qualified its finding, however, in the death of Fred Hampton, 21, Illinois Panther chairman. The verdict said his death was justified, but added that the ruling was "based solely and exclusively on the evidence presented to this inquisition."

The death of Mark Clark, 22, a downstate Panther organizer, "was justified," the panel said. Hampton and Clark were killed Dec. 4, 1969, during a pre-dawn raid on their West Side apartment. Fourteen Chicago policemen assigned to the state's attorney's office took part in the raid.

Prompt Special Jury
Seven Panther's who survived the raid charged police entered the apartment shooting and "murdered" Hampton and Clark. Police said the occupants of the apartment fired first. The disagreement prompted the formation of the special coroner's jury.

Dr. James T. Hicks, foreman of the jury, said the jurors could not take into consideration the charges made by Panther supporters since they had to rely solely on information presented at the inquest.

The seven surviving Panthers refused to testify because all face criminal charges of attempted murder and aggravated assault in connection with the raid. The only testimony was from police and expert witnesses.

Hicks said the findings were unanimous. He said the question of who fired the first shot was not of major importance to the jury. Jurors, he said, concentrated on the specific events surrounding the two deaths.

Clark's body was found just inside the front door of the shabby apartment. Police who participated in the raid testified they believed Clark fired the first shots at them, including a blast through the door from a shotgun. Earlier, they said they thought a woman inhabitant fired the shots.

Obituaries

JESTON L. WELBORN
Funeral services for Jeston Lee Welborn, 73, will be held at 10 a.m. Friday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel with the Rev. M.B. Smith, a Baptist minister, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Welborn died Tuesday afternoon at Highland General Hospital.

TCU Student Charged In Dual Slayings

FORT STOCKTON, TEX. (UPI)—Police Wednesday night charged John Russell Kincaid, 18, a student at Texas Christian University, with murdering his mother and stepfather.

Kincaid was held without bond in the Pecos County jail. A maid coming to work found the body of Bert Kincaid Jr. lying across the front seat of an automobile under a carport. His wife's body, in a nightgown, was in bed in the main bedroom. Both were shot through the head.

Pecos County Sheriff Pete Ten Eyck said he had no clues. The house did not appear to have been broken into.

Ten Eyck asked the Department of Public Safety at Midland to help him investigate.

Credit Union To Adopt New Set Of Laws

Adoption of new by-laws approved at the last session of the Texas Legislature will top the agenda at the annual meeting of the Pampa Municipal Credit Union at its annual meeting in the City Hall Palm Room at 4 p.m. Friday.

W.A. Wagoner, treasurer-manager of the local group, said that under the recent state legislation the Department of Credit Unions was created. The credit unions formerly operated under the State Department of Banking.

The Pampa Municipal Credit Union has 212 members comprised of city employees and members of their immediate families.

Wagoner stated permission had been given for city employees to attend the annual meeting tomorrow.

A statement of the union's financial condition will be given by the treasurer-manager.

April Deadline For Filing Tax On Personal Property

The deadline for filing ad valorem tax returns on personal property will be April 1, tax assessor-collector Aubrey Jones announced today.

All persons, firms, corporations and associations doing business in the city are required to make a full statement, list and schedule of all personal property in the city and personal located property elsewhere that is subject to taxation in the city as of Jan. 1, 1970.

The statement, Jones said, also must list the location of the property and the name and address of the owner.

In his announcement today Jones said: "The greatest problem facing the City Tax Board of Equalization each year is acquiring adequate information in order to equalize values, thereby equalizing the tax burden."

The cooperation of all businesses is earnestly solicited in providing detailed and permanent information that reflects the true value of the business listed."

Jones said the tax assessor-collector's office at City Hall is ready to assist in filing returns for the current year.

Canadian Picked Up For Forgery

Hemphill County Sheriff Jim Cloyd was in Pampa today to return Jack Bennett, 42 Canadian, to that city where he is wanted on felony forgery charges.

Bennett had bond of $5,000 set Wednesday by Justice of Peace Nat Lunsford after he was arrested in Pampa.

Bennett was picked up in the 800 block of W. Brown about 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Cloyd said Bennett is accused of forging approximately $275 worth of checks in Canadian.

Commissioners Meet With Urban, Rural Appraiser

M.L. Harris, representing the Southwestern Appraisers of Fort Worth, met with Gray County Commissioners today to present a proposal for setting new values on urban and rural properties in the county.

J. Wed Davis of Thomas Y. Pickett, Co., Dallas, presented a proposal for mineral, pipeline, utilities, railroads and industrial appraisals to commissioners Monday. That company retained its $12,000 per year contract to continue in this phase of evaluation.

Great Plains Appraisers of Amarillo are scheduled to appear before commissioners at 10 a.m. Friday.

The commissioners will contract one of the companies to begin immediate steps to revalue county properties which are currently being taxed on a basis established in a 1960 evaluation.

In 1969 a tornado killed 29 persons and left hundreds injured at Hazelhurst, Miss.

In 1848 gold was discovered in the Sacramento River near Coloma, Calif.

Boys Questioned In Alleged Rape

Two 17-year-old Pampa boys were released without bond Wednesday night after being questioned about an alleged rape on a six-year-old girl.

According to a police report, the incident reportedly occurred shortly after 4 p.m. in a home in the 800 block of S. Somerville.

The young girl is staying in the home of an aunt, while the mother is in Florida. The aunt notified police when she returned home and heard the accusation.

An examination in a doctor's office revealed the young girl had not been raped, according to city police.

Chief of Police Jim Conner said charges will not be filed against the boys until the girl's mother returns to Pampa.

attendance were Mrs. Wedgeworth,
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred McLeod, June
Sweetland, Mr. and Mrs. J.B.
Woodington, and Mr. and Mrs.
Buck Worley.

Speaker at the Spearman banquet was Newt Hiescher of Shreveport, Louisiana. Two
"Citizen-of-the-Year" awards were presented, with one going to Jerry Davis, a druggist in Spearman, and Mrs. A.E.
Greaver, a pioneer of that community.

Annual meetings next week are scheduled in Canadian for Tuesday night with Colonel Wilson Spiers, director of the Department of Public Safety, as the speaker, and Thursday night, Jan. 29, at Dumas. Dr.
Kenneth McFarland, of Topeka,
Kan., will speak in Dumas.

Pythian Home Topic For Guest Speaker

Grand Chancellor of Texas
Knights of Pythias Lodges,
William Porter Rice, Fort Worth, addressed members of Lodge No. 480 in the Temple
Tuesday night.

The affairs of the Grand Lodge and the operation of Pythian Children Home at Weatherford were main topics in the address heard by the 25 attending members and guests.

A progress report on the Pythian Home for the Aged located in Greenville.

Weylen C. Frasier, McGregor, president of the Past Grand Chancellor Association, outlined the association plans to help secure more support for the Pythian homes in Texas.

Don Loshier, representing the March of Dimes in Gray County, showed the film, "A Letter to Jimmy Lee", as a part of the dinner program which preceded the Lodge meeting.

Visiting Knights from Amarillo included: A.L. Anderson,
Larry Harr, C.L. Klipstine,
Monroe Carr, and Jake Milburn.
District Deputy John N.E.
Johnson of Childress Lodge, was also a special guest.

Floyd Sackett, local chancellor commander, presided.

Second Tryouts Slated For
'Texas' Musical

Actors, singers and dancers will have their second opportunity to try-out for the fifth season of the "Texas" Musical Drama-1970 on Saturday, Jan. 24, in Canyon. One hundred salaried positions are to be filled and performers will have schedules which allow time for some college work. Auditions will start at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Branding Iron Theatre on the campus of West Texas State University. The theater is located in the Fine Arts Building on Highway 87.

Most positions require some singing and some speaking, so applicants should prepare a memorized speaking selection and a song. Each of these should show a range of skills.
The directors will be looking for a voice that can be heard outdoors, for actors who understand character motivation and who can convey a variety of emotion.

Rehearsals for "Texas" in 1970 will start on Sunday, May 31. The last performance will be Aug. 31, 1970. The drama plays in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park near Amarillo and Canyon.

There are also places for technicians, and for performers on violin, banjo, string bass, accordion and standard guitar.

At the first audition of the year which was held early in January, applicants performed from 10 communities and 16 schools.

TDPS Looking For Job Applicants

The Texas Department of Public Safety is seeking applicants to fill the ranks of its uniform services. The training schools for cadet patrolmen will begin February 10, March 17 and May 5. This announcement was made by Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety for this area.

Applicants must be males

between the ages of 20 and 35;
a height of not less than 68 inches nor more than 76 inches;
a weight of not less than two pounds nor more than three and one-half pounds per inch of height; visual acuity no less than 20-40 correctable to 20-20;
a high school graduate or equivalent; in excellent physical condition; good moral character; and a citizen of the United States.

Applicants are urged to contact any Texas Department of Public Safety office or patrolman for an application.
After completing the application take it to the nearest regional, district or sub-district Texas Department of Public Safety office for verification and certification. If all is in order then the written test will be administered which will qualify or disqualify the applicant for further consideration. Successful applicants will be given an agility test, a character investigation and a physical examination. Those accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning date of the next training school.

Cadet patrolmen will be assigned to the Texas Department of Public Safety Law Enforcement Academy in Austin, Texas for a 17-week training period. The cadet will receive some 800 hours of intensive classroom work and supervised study. The training is designed to equip the cadet to handle any of the various situations he may encounter as a patrolman. The training of a patrolman is a test of an individual's intellectual, emotional and physical stamina. It is also an educational process which prepares him for a rewarding career in law enforcement.

In addition to classroom work
the cadet is taught self-protection by means of judo, boxing, wrestling, and other police-protection methods.

The salary during training is $325 per month. Room and board while at the academy will cost the cadet approximately $50 per month.

Upon being commissioned a patrolman, the salary is automatically raised to $630 per month. Effective September 1, 1970 the salary will increase to $651 per month. Patrolmen receive additional longevity pay for each five years of service to a maximum of 25 years.

Uniforms, vehicles, weapons,
ammunition and necessary equipment are furnished. They are also granted a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and receive travel expenses when away from their assigned station. Group life and hospitalization insurance are available at a reasonable cost.

Community Credit Union Rates Progress Since Organizing

By GERALD SEWRIGHT
News Correspondent
LEFORS (Sp) — "We have grown from a $50 beginning to $100,000 in assets in less than ten years," reported Fred Blackwell, treasurer of the Lefors Community Federal Credit Union, at the tenth annual chili supper served to 195 members and guests at the Civic Center Saturday night.

This community organization was founded in 1960, due to a need for a branch bank in Lefors. Ten local citizens acted as charter members. Each contributed $5 to supply the necessary amount for a federal charter. They were aided by Phillips Petroleum, and soon had a capital of $1,500. The first loan of $150 was granted to Roy Jordan. The union was founded primarily to aid those of Lefors School District but soon included McLean, Alanreed and Hopkins. At present there are members in widely separated regions of this county. Blackwell says that the name will possibly be changed to the Gray County Federal to include all those not being served by an organization of this kind.

Blackwell, who has served the union since its beginning, says, "There have been loans totalling $41,086 and we have lost less than $600." There are currently 183 working loans and 350 members of the organization.

Members of the directory and committees include: Arthur Hamner, president; Ed Brock, V. President; Fred Blackwell, treasurer; Mrs. Blackwell and Mrs. Carl Ferguson, assistant treasurers; Mrs. Spencer Presley, secretary; Spencer Presley, chairman of the credit committee; Carl Wall, secretary of the credit committee; Howard Marlar, Mrs. Marlar and Horace Means, supervisory committee; and Joe Clarke, member of the credit committee.

Business has been conducted from the Blackwell residence from the beginning but plans are underway to equip an office building on the city square. According to reports given, the number of loans granted to aid in the purchase of homes, finance business enterprises and give young people a start in life, has made the agency a vital part in the life of the community.

Directors feel that few organizations of this type can equal their near-perfect record and invite participation from all sectors of Gray County.

Requests Recognition

BERLIN (UPI) — East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht took a much tougher stand against West Germany today, declaring that recognition of his government is the "indispensable prerequisite" for East-West German relations. His new statement tended to dash hopes that East-West Germany talks sought by West German Chancellor Willy Brandt would be successful.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three out of every hundred Americans are mentally retarded.

That's 6 million people who are burdened, through no fault of their own, with one of life's heaviest handicaps.

The vast majority of them could, with proper help, learn to live relatively independent lives. But, although substantial improvements have been made in recent years, U.S. programs for special education of the retarded now reach fewer than half the people who could be helped by them.

These figures come from Patricia Reilly Hitt, assistant secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). At the request of Secretary Robert H. Finch, Miss Hitt is paying particular attention to the retardation problem, as a major item of unfinished business on the nation's humanitarian agenda.

There is a tendency among laymen to think of retardation solely in terms of children. But HEW figures show that more than half of the retarded persons now living in America are over 20 years of age.

Psychologists have developed an imprecise and often misleading index called the Intelligence Quotient (I.Q.) to rate mental capacity. On this scale, 100 is arbitrarily defined as par, but any score from 0 to 1910 is within the median range for the human race as a whole. Higher scores indicate brighter-than-average person. Lower scores indicate less-than-average learning ability.

Most experts apply the term "retarded" only to persons with I.Q.'s below 67. Anyone whose score is between 52 and 67 is considered to be only mildly retarded, and capable of being educated for a relatively self-sustaining life. Nearly 90 per cent of all retarded persons fall into this category. Of the remaining 10 per cent, well over half are capable of being trained to care for themselves and to work a unskilled or semi-skilled jobs under supervision in a sheltered environment.

Economics as well as humanity dictate a maximum effort by society to provide special education and other needed social services for the retarded. It is costing the nation more than $500 million annually to care for 300,000 retarded persons in state institutions. The cost of special education is, on a person for person basis, only a fraction of the cost of institutional care.

The biggest barrier to expansion of services for the retarded, Miss Hitt says, is an acute shortage of professionals who know how to supply these services. We need many more special education teachers, psychologists, social workers, therapists, counselors and recreation specialists to begin to do an adequate job.

In 1958, Congress enacted a law providing $1 million a year to subsidize preparation of more professional personnel in this field. The program has been steadily expanded, and this year $5 million is available for this purpose.

Education of the retarded is oriented toward the practical goal of enabling them to qualify for a self-supporting job, and to master the seemingly simple, but to them terrifying, tasks incidental to employment, such as riding buses and handling money.

Finding suitable jobs for them is becoming much easier than it used to be, because work is getting around among employers that retarded workers are reliable, punctual and content with routine jobs whose monotony would cause high turnover rates among more skilled employees.

Plan Your Next Party Around Zoo Theme With Animal Cracker Cake

Bill

FOR CHILD'S BIRTHDAY PARTY IDEAS... plan a play trip to the zoo with animal crackers

You can make your child's next birthday party something delightful, different, and fun. How? Make the next birthday party a play trip to the zoo. All it takes is several boxes of animal crackers and a few ideas.

All birthday party plans start with a cake and this one is no exception. Begin with a delicious banana cake made with vanilla wafers.

- ZOO ANIMAL BANANA CAKE
- 3/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
 - 1 1/2 cups sugar
 - 4 eggs
 - 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1 cup mashed ripe bananas
 - 1 12-oz. package vanilla wafers, crushed to fine crumbs
 - 1 cup chopped pecans
 - 1 package butter-cream vanilla frosting mix
 - 1 package animal crackers...

Cream butter or margarine until light. Add eggs, beating one minute after each; continue to beat until light and fluffy. Sift together flour and baking powder; add to creamed mixture alternately with bananas, blending after each addition. Stir in vanilla wafer crumbs and pecans. Turn batter into two greased paper-lined 9-inch round pans. Bake at 350 degrees, 40-45 minutes. Cool ten minutes; remove from pans. Cool completely.

Fill and frost with frosting mix prepared as directed on package. Sprinkle toasted coconut over top and press into frosting around lower half of cake. Press animal crackers onto sides of cake above coconut as if the animals were walking in a toasted coconut path. If desired, for a birthday cake use animal candles on top of the cake.

ICE CREAM CUPS — Fill sugar or vanilla ice cream cups with assorted candies, jelly beans, peanuts and animal crackers. After your guests have enjoyed their party goodies, you may wish to fill the cups with the children's favorite ice cream.

PLACE CARDS — Help you organize table setting. Take name cards and print the name of each guest on one. Use some left-over cake frosting to attach an animal cracker to the cards. The animal cracker could be eaten if you use cake frosting to hold it in place.

ANIMAL SANDWICHES — Another cute idea to decorate your party table is to set before each guest an animal cracker. They're easy to make, too. Spread vanilla cake frosting between two vanilla wafers and sandwich together. Place some additional frosting on top to hold an animal cracker.

ANIMAL GAMES

GUESS WHO? — When each guest arrives at the party, tape a picture of an animal on his or her back. The party-goer will have to ask someone, who can only give clues, about the picture on his back. When he guesses it, he wins a prize. In the meantime, everyone has a lot of fun.

ANIMAL HUNT — Before the party begins, hide some animal crackers under chairs, behind curtains and other spots children can reach. Award a prize to the guest who collects the greatest number of animals within the time allowed.

NUMBER GUESS — Fill a large bottle with animal crackers (keeping count as you fill it) and have your guests try to estimate the number of animal crackers in the bottle. You may wish to write each guess on a separate piece of paper with the person's name and keep in another container. Be sure to announce the winner before the party is over. The prize? The bottle of animal crackers, naturally.

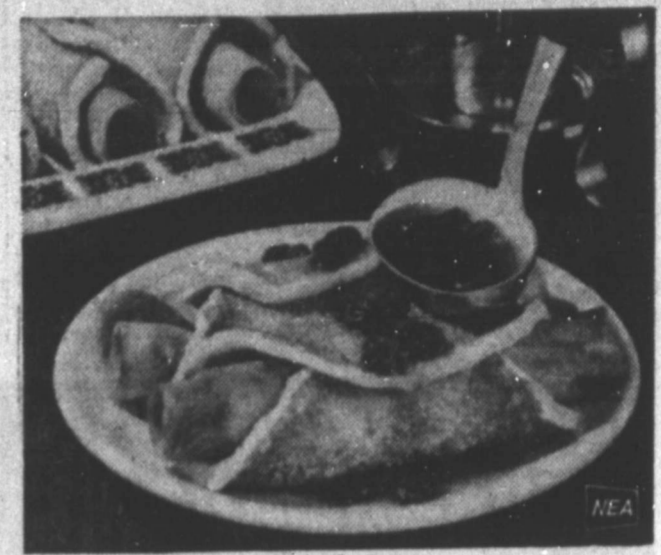

Add a Caribbean flavor to your menu. Cook three slices of bacon and drain; split a banana in half crosswise, then lengthwise. Sauté banana in bacon fat. Heat 4 1/2 oz. veal with vegetables and crumble crisp bacon into it. Pour mixture over toast and place sautéed bananas on top.

A fascia board is a board and usually used with moldings for decorative effect.

West Tree Farms — About 16 million acres of private, taxpaying lands in 12 western states are producing continuous forest crops on certified tree farms. The acreage is five times the land area of Connecticut.

Moldings in Style — Plain old kitchen cabinets "go-go" Mediterranean style with the simple addition of wood moldings. Most dealers have a variety of styles to choose from.

Spice Hot Pancakes With Ham, Raisins

You'll like these pancakes wrapped around thin ham slices. They're topped with a special sauce of raisins, red current jelly, grated orange peel and brown sugar.

or liquid shortening
1-3 cup drained, chopped, peeled orange
8 thin cooked ham slices...

For raisin sauce, place raisins, water, jelly and orange peel in saucepan. Bring to a boil; simmer about 5 minutes. Thoroughly combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Slowly stir into raisin mixture. Bring to a boil; simmer about 5 minutes, stirring frequently.

For pancakes, place mix, milk, egg and shortening in bowl. Stir until batter is fairly smooth. Lightly stir in orange. Pour about 1/4-cup batter into hot, lightly greased griddle to make 8 pancakes. Turn when tops are covered with bubbles and edges look cooked. Turn only once.

Roll up ham slices. Wrap a pancake around each ham roll. Top with warm raisin sauce. Makes 4 servings.

HAM ROLLS 'N' HARMONY SYRUP

- Raisin Sauce:
- 1/2 cup raisins
 - 1 cup water
 - 1-3 cup red current jelly
 - 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
 - 2 tablespoons firmly packed brown sugar
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - dash salt
- Pancakes:
- 1 cup pancake mix
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 egg
 - 1 tablespoon melted

Give pudding a new twist — Combine 1 jar strained chocolate flavored custard pudding and 4 1/2 oz. strained bananas. Beat together until smooth and pour into glass serving dishes. Serve with whipped cream, chopped nuts or cherries for dessert.

Welcome Cold, Frosty Weather With Winter Sports Picnic

Cold weather heralds the delights of many winter sports. These outdoor activities on sunny winter days encourage people to be out of doors. What better excuse is there to get together with friends and enjoy a picnic?

Preparation is simple and no fuss at all when you take "the totables" to the slopes. The totables are canned meats and other easy-to-pack fully cooked meats like franks. They make picnics a pleasure. These meats need little attention before serving. Mostly, just heating them is enough because desirable seasonings are already in the recipes used in preparing them. Franks are easy-to-pack, since they're sealed in a vacuum package to maintain maximum freshness.

Beef stew is a versatile canned item that wears the two most trusted words in meat. They give assurance of fine flavor and highest quality. They are nutritious too, being rich in complete protein, the bodybuilding nutrient so necessary for winter sports enthusiasts.

A sample menu might include: canned beef stew, juicy franks, spam, deviled avocado dip with tortilla chips, blue cheese, fruit and a hot steaming beverage.

Canned beef stew in a wide mouth vacuum jug stays as hot and steamy as when it was first poured in. The big chunks of tender beef, carrots, and potatoes are seasoned with a subtle brown gravy. The all meat franks can also be heated for a crowd in another vacuum bottle. Just fill it with boiling water before leaving for the slopes and when ready to eat, drop in the franks. They're fully cooked and so only 5 minutes in hot water is necessary.

For those who get hungry on the slopes, provide the quick energy demanded by outdoor sports by taking along thin slices of canned pork and beef luncheon meat placed between graham crackers spread with margarine and peanut butter. They store well when wrapped in foil or in sealable plastic bags and are ready at a moment's notice when the hungry clan stops for a breather.

Chips and dips are always good to take along on a picnic. Hungry picnickers can happily munch on them while the food is being prepared. Deviled ham spread adds a zesty flavor to deviled avocado dip. It is also good to spread on sandwich buns to go with the franks.

To round out this Alpine scene, try a continental dessert of fruit, cheese and crackers. Blue cheese has a pungent flavor that enhances ripe fresh fruits. The cheese is packaged in wax and foil for easy toting. It's a refreshing and pleasant way to end a meal.

To Make Prem Wizards: Spread margarine and peanut butter on graham crackers. Top with thin slices of Prem. Broil 2 minutes and serve hot. Or, top with crackers spread with margarine and serve cold.

To Prepare the Dip: Combine 1 large ripe avocado, two 3 ounce cans deviled ham, 2 tablespoons mild mustard, 1 tablespoon instant minced onion and 1/4 teaspoon (hot) sauce. Blend well. Store in resealable plastic freezer containers.

Oven-Baked Ham Goes Tropical

Take the sting out of sharp weather notes by serving a ham slice with tropical topping!

An inch-thick ham slice goes into the oven with a topper of apricots and pineapple, brown sugar and fruit juices to bake for a carefree hour, advises Reba Staggs, meat expert with the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Tropical Ham Slice can go into a menu with baked sweet potatoes, cauliflower and peas, a raw relish tray and individual steamed fig puddings and hard sauce or egg nog ice cream balls rolled in coconut.

Tropical Ham Slice
1 smoked ham slice, cut 1 inch thick
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/2 cup drained, unsweetened, cooked dried apricots
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple
1/4 cup liquid in which apricots were cooked
1/4 cup pineapple juice
Place ham slice in roasting pan. Spread top and sides with mustard and sprinkle with brown sugar. Force apricots through a coarse sieve. Add pineapple and liquid to apricots and mix thoroughly. Pour over ham slice and bake in a slow oven (325 F.) one hour.

A cheese-date filling is a winning combination for a canape or a sandwich snack. Combine 4 1/2 oz. strained cottage cheese with pineapple and 1/4 cup chopped dates. Makes a quick and easy filling for any occasion.

Waffles love being smothered in this honey of a sauce. Mix 4 1/2 oz. strained orange pudding with 1/4 cup honey. Heat and serve for breakfast or a delicious dessert.

Journalism Suffers From News Dropouts

DALLAS (UPI)—Journalism suffers from "newsroom dropout" because colleges and the press are not offering today's students a challenge and a change, an educator told the Texas United Press International Editors Association Saturday.

"The old rules for running universities and newspapers no longer apply," said Jay Milner, acting head of the Department of Journalism at Southern Methodist University.

"This generation is not like our generation," said Milner, former West Texas reporter and author. "They know more than we did. The ironic thing is that we've made it possible for them to be as aware as they are through technology, instant communication and instant travel."

Milner headed a panel discussion on "The New Journalism" at the 12th annual convention of the Texas UPI Editors Association in the Dallas Statler-Hilton.

Today's Students Ready

Others on the panel were Bill Brammer, novelist and former reporter and press aide to Lyndon B. Johnson; Don Brown, an SMU junior; Don Richardson and co-editor of the student newspaper, and Max Woodson, an SMU sophomore from Brinkley, Ark.

"Today's journalism students are much more ready to handle a lot more important stories than they are given credit for," Milner said. "The top prospects are getting weary and tired of waiting for their chance in the news business."

"The newsroom dropout problem is as bad if not worse than the school dropout problem," Milner said.

He said students and the press do not trust each other—the students because they feel the press does not fairly report news of today's campus rebellions.

"They begin to wonder if the rest of the paper is that inaccurate," Milner said.

He said "new journalism" does not mean that reporters should be any less objective.

"It means that you dig into a story, research it and find out a lot of things you wouldn't have done for days before the advent of television," Milner said. "Papers can't compete

HEW Representative Out To Stop Ousting Girls From High School

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Most of the estimated 200,000 teen-aged girls who get pregnant this year will be ordered out of school at least until their children are born.

School officials have justified this action for years in various ways. "It's for the girl's own good...she might get bumped in the hall or the other girls will laugh at her," is one common argument.

Others take a "moral" stand, insisting that to let a pregnant girl continue to attend classes regularly would be "to reward a sin."

Still others fear the pregnancy might be contagious, both figuratively and literally. "Would you allow a typhoid carrier in the classroom?" asked one school attorney during a recent legal test of such policies.

Marion Howard, a maternal and child health researcher at the Health, Education and Welfare department, is out to stop this practice—mainly because many of the girls ordered to leave school will never return and thus lose the education needed later in life to be understanding and helpful mothers.

"They are mothers at 14 or 15 whether we like it or not," Miss Howard noted Saturday in an interview. "What we are trying to do is to improve their mothering ability and help them become complete girls."

This reasoning has led Miss Howard to organize the first national conference on school-age pregnancies. It will be held here Thursday through Saturday under the auspices of Yale University, the University of Pittsburgh and HEW.

Pilot's Drinking Cited As Cause Of Airplane Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Transportation Safety Board announced Tuesday it decided a pilot's drinking was a factor in the crash of a Cessna 310 airplane which killed six persons last April near Huntsville, Tex.

The ruling came with several handed down by the board in connection with airplane crashes in Texas during the first four months of 1969.

The plane was leased to the Texas Department of Corrections at the time and crashed two miles west of Huntsville on State Highway 30.

The board ruled the crash was caused by a failure to obtain or maintain a flying speed. The board said the pilot's alcohol intake may have hindered his efficiency and judgement.

John N. Crawford Jr., 46, the senior pilot for the department; George Clark, 36, manager of the Huntsville Airport; Charles H. Greene Jr., 34; his wife, Barbara, 32; and his two children, Charlotte, 7, and Charles H. Greene II, 6, died in the crash.

Other judgments handed down by the board included:

- Jan. 19, 1969, crash near Barksdale, Tex., killing two caused by flying in bad weather.

An Opposition View On Nixon Domestic Record

By HUBERT H. HUMPHREY
Former Vice President

Richard Nixon came to the White House at the end of a decade of dissent and disorder, turmoil and change. It was a decade in which the nation confirmed the shift to an urban culture; made good on John F. Kennedy's promise to put man on the moon and saw tremendous change in the popular taste—in music, film, clothes, art, theater,—changes that, in most cases, have been indicators of our movement toward a more open, more liberal, society.

In one sense, Richard Nixon came to the White House at a fortuitous time. Though such distinctions as decades may be arbitrary and meaningless in terms of how lives and events actually progress, nevertheless, there is a psychological aura about the end of a decade, and the beginning of a new one. It is an artificial but nonetheless recognizable break that allows us to reflect on the past and to speculate on, and plan for, the future.

Richard Nixon has had one year in the White House yet we have seen no sign of a program designed for the seventies; no indication that he can—or wishes to—direct the national

One Of Kennedy Clan May Soon Join Lindsay Force

NEW YORK (UPI)—A key member of the Kennedy clan may soon join forces with Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Stephen E. Smith, who is married to the youngest Kennedy sister, Jean, has met recently with Lindsay and Deputy Mayor Richard R. Aurelio to talk about a possible role in Lindsay's new coalition city government.

A source close to the mayor said Saturday, however, that no final decision had been reached. He said it was "premature" to speculate that Smith, like fellow Democrat Arthur J. Goldberg, would be named to head a task force or temporary commission.

Smith, 42, managed the presidential campaign of John F. Kennedy in 1960 and Robert F. Kennedy's senatorial campaign in 1968. He also oversees the family's $300 million fortune from offices in the Pan Am Building here.

Although he has remained a Republican, Lindsay won reelection last fall as a Liberal and Independent candidate pledged to form a coalition government. He already has appointed Democrat Robert M. Morgenthau, the former U.S. attorney forced out of office by the Nixon administration, as his third deputy mayor.

Smith did not endorse Lind-

Abortion Laws Are Liberalized

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI)—A bill to give South Carolina one of the nation's most liberal abortion laws was steered passage Tuesday by a House member who used himself as an example of birth defects.

Rep. Thomas W. Greene, born with a withered arm, led the fight for legislation to permit abortion in cases where pregnancy endangers the physical or mental health of the mother, where there is substantial risk of a defective child, and in cases of rape.

"I know something about the problem of physical defects," Greene said as an unusual quiet fell over the house. "My mother should be allowed to make this decision between her God and her doctors."

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Juliet Mills—sister of Hayley, daughter of John—is the star of a mid-season replacement television series in which she plays an English nanny who is a coalescence of Maria Von Trapp, the Flying Nun and Mary Poppins.

Raised by English nannies herself, Juliet is equipped to play the part but chary about the magical or extrasensory perception with which the character is endowed.

If the new ABC show is to be a success, viewers must fall in love with Juliet in "Nanny and the Professor."

This should prove rather easy.

Juliet is blessed with that smooth, pink and white english skin, a musical voice, an impertinent nose and enough femininity to stock a sorority house.

She's lovely.

Juliet is also a realist. The show is a cliché. She appears as a nanny at the home of a widower—Richard Long—with sloopy dog, guinea pig and other fauna available for laughs.

"I'm not playing the tweedy nanny of the old days," Juliet said at 20th Century-Fox.

"I won't be wearing a pearl hat, shawl or doing my best to look like Elsa Lanchester.

Nanny For All Ages.

"Nannies come in all ages. I have a 17-year-old nanny for my son, Sean, and she is very modern and with it. The character I play is also a modern girl with a bit of magic.

"She doesn't wiggle her nose and move mountains. She can't fly. But she does have ESP and there usually is a logical explanation for the magic in the show.

Juliet is following in the distinguished footsteps of her father, who bombed in a Hollywood series two years ago. After "Dundee and the Culhane" was cancelled, Mills returned to England in a swivet, which is not a new type of jet.

"Dad said he would never speak to me again if I didn't accept this series," Juliet said.

Money Talks

"It's an economic matter. I've been working in repertory companies and in London's West Side theaters for 75 pounds a week. The state of the theater and movies won't allow you to make a living.

"The good thing about this show is that nanny has evolved as an individual in her own right. And I like her.

Daddy's show got worse as it went along. The scripts were bad. But we've already completed eight episodes and the shows get better and better."

As with most video situation comedies, "Nanny and the Professor," is a fairy tale. What red-blooded American widower could live under the same roof with a girl like Juliet without chasing her around the

Foreign News Commentary

Apparently, for the first time in 23 years, governments of the two Germanys are to meet across the conference table for high-level talks.

The mere fact that such talks may be held represents a certain victory for West German Chancellor Willy Brandt's new "realistic" approach to the attempts to reduce the tensions of central Europe.

The plan easily could come unstuck, depending on the outcome of what seems clearly to be a conflict of interests between East German President Walter Ulbricht, last of the old Bolsheviks actually to have known V. I. Lenin, and present day rulers in the Kremlin.

Wall 'Non-Negotiable' At his Monday news conference, his first in nine years to which western newsmen were invited, Ulbricht declared the Berlin Wall non-negotiable, described a renunciation of force pact as premature and one to which all Communist nations must agree, and repeated his already rejected proposal that West Germany grant his government recognition under international law.

The Soviets have urged West German recognition of the East German state but have not yet made it a condition for other agreements.

Ulbricht, under pressure from his East European partners wrote to West German President Gustav Heinemann on Dec. 18, listing his demands in the form of a draft treaty.

Along with recognition, he also demanded an immediate exchange of ambassadors and renunciation of the 1955 treaty by which West Germany joined NATO. He has been adding to this demands ever since.

Immediate reaction to the Ulbricht news conference was that the wily man whose political obituary has been written many times, ostensibly was keeping the door open but actually was trying to lead the West Germans into a dead end.

Brandt accepted and is expected to send a formal reply to the Dec. 18 proposal next week.

More than anything else Ulbricht fears isolation within the bloc.

The Russians, on the other hand, are seeking to shore up the status quo, including boundaries and a sphere of influence in Eastern Europe.

They also need help for their sagging economy and they are tempted by a West German offer of a $327 million credit for the purchase of a huge natural gas pipeline.

Nixon Suffers From Typical Credibility Gap

DALLAS (UPI) — President Nixon suffers from the same credibility gap that plagued former President Lyndon B. Johnson, ex-White House press secretary George Christian said Saturday.

"From what I read, it appears President Nixon's press relations are about like ours were," Christian said. "The honeymoon is over. It's going to be a long winter."

Johnson's former press aide told the 12th annual convention of the Texas United Press International Editors Association the White House acted in self defense "when it unleashed (Vice President Spiro T.) Agnew."

"Mr. Agnew woke all of us up with his famous speeches about the news media. I think the vice president started a much needed debate in this country," said Christian, 43, now an Austin-public relations man.

Not Threatening Press "And I honestly do not feel that the administration is threatening the freedom of the press," Christian said. "I just do not see as many night moisters as some of my friends in the news media see."

Christian, who also served as press secretary to former Texas Govs. Price Daniel and John B. Connally, told the UPI editors Nixon, Agnew and other government leaders should have the right "to dissent from something he doesn't like in the news media...and to do it vigorously, roughly and colorfully."

"That includes the use of language like 'an effete corps of impudent snobs.'"

"If any major force in our society — and that includes the press — should ever be immune from criticism, or equally bad, should it ever be insensitive to criticism, then God save the republic," Christian said.

The former press aide, who left Washington a year ago next Tuesday when Johnson turned over the White House to Nixon, said the President needs the support of the American people to solve the major problems, including the Vietnam War and inflation.

Support The President

"I think it's in our enlightened self-interest as Democrats, Republicans, hawks, doves, liberals, conservatives and rabble-rousers to support the President of the United States in every way we can, however we can, wherever we can, and with whatever resources we can," Christian said.

Occidental Chemical Sells Galena Park

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Occidental Chemical Co. put its Galena Park plant on the block Tuesday because it does not want to spend any more money on antipollution measures.

"We've spent too much money on it already," said John M. Harris, executive vice president for production. "If you take pollution out of the air, you have to put it in the water, and that would have meant a whole new set of problems."

"The plant is up for sale," he said. "We have no plans to reopen it."

The plant was refused a pollution variance last week by the Texas Air Control Board.

The plant annually produced 80,000 tons of fertilizer worth $3.25 million. Fifty-five employees were dismissed with severance pay. When possible they are being placed in Occidental plants in Texas, Louisiana and Florida.

Advertising is a serious investment... art, engraving, typography and copy are costly. All are planned carefully to attract readers who are prospects for the merchandise or service. No business can afford to waste any part of this investment in any medium that cannot guarantee definite circulation and readership. "Waste basket circulation" in post offices, and so called throw-aways that usually travel to the incinerator are of little or no value to the advertiser.

Ballet Performer Schedules Classes

Mrs. Jeanne Willingham will be a guest teacher in three one-hour classes beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Beaux Arts Dance Studio, 315 N. Nelson. All area dancers may attend the programs by George Zoritch, classical ballet dancer from Moscow.

At the age of 14, he was performing with the Paris Opera Company and had made a performing tour of Europe, Asia, Australia and North Africa. His first United States tour was in the 1938-39 season when he started with a season at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City.

After five ballet seasons, he was signed for the juvenile lead in a Broadway musical, "Early To Bed." He appeared in an acting role in an off Broadway production of "Death Takes A Holiday," and the Broadway musical "Rhapsody."

He has directed and choreographed a television special and appeared in 12 Hollywood films, several operettas and musical comedy revivals.

He left the United States in 1951 for another Grand Ballet tour of Europe, Africa and South America, and before returning to America in 1954, appeared in Rome in a musical revue starring Anna Magnani.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, JAN. 23

Your birthday Friday: You have a cheerful, complicated year ahead in which you must seek more definite expression of your real goals in life. You may change profession in the course of this search for identity and purpose. There are many pathways to explore, novel ideas and people to study.

Romantic interests are active and healthy. Friday's natives tend to relocate over great distances.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Disregard past and present annoyances, incidents. You must concentrate all your resources on your own interests. Fortunately for once, friends are busy elsewhere.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Offer encouragement to younger or less skilled associates. Get rid of all sorts of outworn and outdated possessions. Resolve use of the empty spaces before beginning replacements.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Shortcuts prove misleading and wasteful; adhere to well-known, traditional methods. Friends need your help and advice, but wait until it is sought. In the evening have alternate plans in case present ones go awry.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Be guided by past experience in a rather conservative course of action Friday, since not much cooperation is in sight anywhere. Some evening exercise will be helpful in settling you for a good night's rest.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): There's just nothing else to do but endure the stresses of the moment. Take nobody into your confidence about money and your plans. Wear whatever clothing you have which gives you a feeling of assurance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Whatever else you do, make sure you loved ones hear from you and know what you are about in case of some delay or unusual absence. Avoid isolation, but expect help from nobody. Your problems are meant for you to resolve on your own.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You have to follow an orthodox procedure Friday to protect your financial situation. Your interests in the fine arts, museums and such matters are rewarded, while other matters are less satisfying.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): No particular plan seems to be well at the moment. Put together what you can and do not fret over what cannot be finished. Prayer and meditation in the evening will show you a new direction for the future.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Do your own work conscientiously but not that of people who are just loafing. Stand clear of local controversy.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Too steady a concentrated effort defeats itself Friday. Pause now and then; get a little less done but with better quality. Back away from someone's attempt to involve you in an awkward chore.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Do the minimum to square off the week's work, then seek a complete change of scene and mood at the earliest convenient moment. Return to a favorite spot with pleasant memories and relax.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Technical information proves to hold the key to a variety of puzzles. The later hours are excellent for organizational review of your budget.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please do not disclose my name, or where this letter is from, just sign it "Disgusted With Celebrities," and let me have my say:

I'm in a business which caters to people who want the best and expect to pay for it. My problem, Dear Abby, is getting my money from some of these celebrities. If I were to mention the names of some celebrities who have stuck me for thousands of dollars, you'd say I was lying.

Do not say, "Sue them!" It costs money to sue people, and collection agencies take a big percentage of whatever they can get out of some of those deadbeats.

Give me the honest, quiet rich "nobodies" who pay their bills, and you can have the celebrities who think they are doing you a favor by "honoring" you with their accounts.

DISGUSTED WITH CELEBRITIES
DEAR DISGUSTED: Your complaint is not a new one. Most "celebrities" are notoriously inept when it comes to managing money. (The smart ones have business managers who dole out a living allowance.)

Your only protection against celebrities who eat chicken one week and feathers the next, is to check and double check their credit, or deliver C.O.D.

DEAR ABBY: I read your letter from "NO SAINT" and can appreciate his problem. I happen to be a Square John (never been convicted) who is associated with the Seventh Step Foundation, an organization to assist convicts and ex-convicts. We try to find jobs, living quarters and offer friendship, advice and counseling.

"NO SAINT" and any others with this problem can write to The Seventh Step Foundation, San Francisco, Calif., 94106, and we will direct him to the nearest chapter who will take over from there.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN P. FINSLAND,
President

DEAR JOHN: I have checked you out with the Shell Oil Co. for whom you work and you are A-O-K. A million thanks.

DEAR ABBY: For reasons of health, I must have all my teeth extracted soon, and here is my problem. First I should tell you that I'm a 55-year-old grandmother.

Abby, I've always had a very ugly mouth. My teeth stuck out in front, and to make matters worse, they were parted in the middle.

My dentist told me that he could give me a beautiful mouth with nicely spaced teeth and no sticking out in front. I was really looking forward to having my teeth out and getting a prettier mouth until I told my sister-in-law about it, and she said, "Oh, no, do not do it! It won't look like you. A really good dentist would try to make your 'new' teeth look as much like your 'old' teeth as possible."

Abby, I don't want my "new" teeth to look like my "old" teeth. I've hated those ugly teeth all my life, and now I want to look as pretty as possible.

Please tell me if you think I'm wrong. Or is my sister-in-law? My dentist says it is up to me. He can do it either way.

WAITING TO HEAR
DEAR WAITING: I don't blame you for wanting a new, prettier mouth. Stick with your original idea, and more power to you.

Bids For Owens May Be Higher Than O.J.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Before Steve Owens gets fitted for his first pro football uniform—the colors will probably be either Pittsburgh Steeler gold or Chicago Bear blue—he'll be wearing one of green. Some time very soon, he will enter the Army for a little basic training.

"I'm in the process of joining a National Guard unit in Oklahoma City," the Heisman Trophy winner says. "I'm joining with John Ward, the All-America tackle from Oklahoma State. We both asked to go on active duty as soon as possible so we don't have to go during the football season. I'll be gone about 16 weeks.

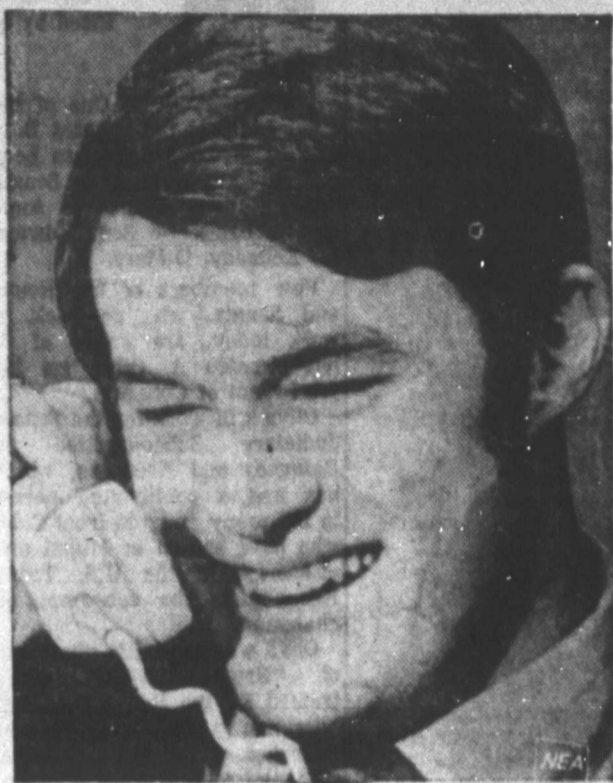

"My younger brother, Dale, is a private first class in a unit back home in Miami (Okla.). He tells me I'll be earning $3.84 a day in the Army. That totals up... let's see... to $115.20 a month."

What the Army is going to pay Steve Owens is exactly $115.20 more a month than he received for playing football at Oklahoma. But, if the people who are going to handle his pro contract negotiations have their way, Steve Owens is going to be making at least $115.20 per week session. The word is bidding on Steve Owens will start where the bidding for O. J. Simpson left off.

"We're going to use O.J.'s figure as a starter and see what happens," says Mike Wilson, president of Sports-Plus, Inc., the New York-based firm which represents Owens. "We're not out to rob anyone and we don't think we're being unreasonable in asking that figure. In many ways, Owens has as much to offer pro football as O. J. has. And I know what O. J. got from Buffalo: $325,000 over four years. I used to be in the business, remember?"

If anyone knows what O. J. Simpson is making, or Joe Namath or even Freddie Forberg of the Denver Broncos, it is Mike Wilson. He used to be Pete Rozelle's man in player personnel and his specialty was player contracts. The files in pro football's offices on the 12th floor of a Park Avenue skyscraper are filled with Mike Wilson's paperwork.

"I'm in a better position to negotiate a player contract than any agent in the business," says Wilson. "In fact, I'd go as far as to say I know more about what players are making in pro football today than anyone else. The best measuring stick for determining Steve Owens' value is remembering back to what other players of the same caliber received when they signed. And O. J. is the man I've picked."

O. J. Simpson, one remembers, asked the Buffalo Bills for $600,000 for five years. The owner of the Bills, Ralph Wilson, suggested, at that price, O. J. had better be capable of walking across Lake Erie as well as football fields. After considerable hassling and a long delay, both sides relented somewhat and settled, according to Mike Wilson, on $325,000 for four.

"If we are forced to hold out, we will," he says. "I'm well-aware of the feeling club owners have for negotiators, but I'm only interested in getting for Steve Owens what Steve Owens is worth. The negotiating itself will be done by Stanley Handman, the legal consultant for our firm, who is an experienced negotiator of theatrical contracts."

"If we hold out, we'll look into the possibility of Canadian football, but I don't think it'll come to that. We think Steve, besides his ability on the field, will do a lot for pro football from a public relations standpoint. He is an affable, warm person who comes on like O. J. Both are perfect gentlemen."

It also is Wilson's contention that, in the pro draft Jan. 27, Steve Owens will be the first player picked. He says this is a lean year for top college

DISTRICT WINDUP

Pampa, Bulldogs Meet Friday

Pampa will end a disappointing first half of play in District 4-AAAA Friday and Borger will do the same when the club's meet at 8 p.m. in Harvester Fieldhouse.

Borger was upset, in more ways than one Tuesday by Palo Duro, losing to the Dons, 65-63 in overtime to ruin any chances the Bulldogs had of winning the first half district title.

Coach DeWayne Hunt has two starters back from last year's team that split with Pampa and three other lettermen. All five Borger starters are averaging in double figures.

The Bulldogs are scoring at a 66.3 per district game clip and giving up 57.3 points per game. They have lost to Plainview, 42-43; Amarillo, 72-67 and Palo Duro in district competition.

Senior Richard Coffey, a 6'0 returning letterman is the Bulldogs leading scorer with a 16.1 average and 6'5 senior returnee Kenny Harper is next at an even 14 points per game.

Earl O'Steen, who started last season and is a 5'7 senior carries a 11.8 district average

SPORTS

Pampa is scoring at a 52.1 per game clip and just last week the Harvester defense was the third best in the league, giving up under 40 points per game.

The figure now has ballooned to 54.7 points per league contest.

To make matters worse senior Jim Gallman was the district's leading scorer last week but he now is third with an 18.6 mean.

getting too many shots lately with opponents sagging three men on him.

Sophomore Richard Buntun has raised his district average to 10.2 points per game while sophomore Mike Edgar is at 7.1, senior Randy Marsh at 7.0 and senior Jerry Brumfield at 3.6 for three games.

Over the last six seasons Pampa has handled Borger well, winning 10 of 13 games played. Borger won the first game, 64-45 last season and the Harvesters copped the second, 61-52.

Crosby Golf Has Favorite, Just Anybody

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—Picking winners on the pro tour is risky business, especially one like the $150,000 Bing Crosby National pro-am which begins today over three seaside courses on the rain-swept Monterey Peninsula.

But Bobby Lunn, off to a snappy start this year, had little trouble playing Cypress Point and Spyglass Hill in the rain over the last two days, and looks like the man to beat when the firing begins.

"Even though it's early in the year I'm playing better now than I did at the end of last year," said Lunn. "It's all a matter of confidence and I think I can win here, although it won't be easy."

It never is, and 168 pros take off after the top prize of $25,000 today, evenly split in groups playing Cypress, Spyglass Hill and Pebble Beach. They play one round on each course and the low 70 and ties advance to the final on Sunday at Pebble.

Casper won the Los Angeles Open to launch a $7 million pro car two weeks ago and Dale Douglass took the Phoenix last Sunday.

Weather is the big bigaboo here. The man who conquers the elements, generally a lot of rain, soggy fairways and greens, and a cold wind, will be the winner Sunday afternoon.

Palmer, Nicklaus and Casper, like all the others, manage to get in a couple of complaints but they wouldn't miss the Crosby for anything. Palmer never has won the Crosby, but Casper was the champ in 1958 and 1963 and Nicklaus won in Crosby last year and is back to defend his title.

There also are 166 amateurs in the field and they play along for three rounds before the final 40 teams advance for the final round Sunday.

Agnew May Enter Hope

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI)—Comedian Bob Hope, an occasional golf partner of President Nixon, says Vice President Spiro Agnew tentatively has agreed to play in the Bob Hope Desert Classic tournament next month.

The Desert Classic, scheduled for Feb. 4-8, during its first for rounds tests outstanding amateur contestants with pro partners. Agnew plans to play in two of the four pro-am days.

Hope recently played a private round of golf with President Nixon at the Lakeside Country Club course. The comedian did not disclose whether he talked to the President about playing in the tournament he sponsors.

Lou Boudreau didn't mind at all. For him, it was a perfectly beautiful day.

THE SERIOUSNESS of personal situations is reflected in the faces of Curt Flood, Rick Barry and Gale Sayers, left to right. Flood deliberates on his reserve clause suit against baseball; Barry sits on the Washington Caps' bench reflecting on the latest injury that had kept him out of action, and Sayers sits in on his first meeting as a Chicago Park district commissioner, a post to which he was appointed by Mayor Richard Daley.

St. Bonaventure Star Helps Tumble DePaul

By United Press International DePaul paid the price for facing a potential half-million dollar star.

Bob Lanier, the 6-11, 265-pound St. Bonaventure who is sure to start a price war between the rival National and American Basketball associations after the season, scored 20 points and collected 22 rebounds Wednesday night in the Bonnies' 83-59 victory over DePaul.

It was the 11th win in a row for unbeaten St. Bonaventure, string that includes the title game in the Holiday Basketball Festival last December.

St. Bonaventure's point total fell short of its 94.2 average, fifth best in the country, but it was easily enough to clip DePaul with its sixth loss in 15 games.

Lanier paced the Bonnies to a 42-19 halftime lead with 16 points and 14 rebounds.

Mike Grosso's two foul shots with 36 seconds remaining helped Louisville nip Wichita State, 59-58. Grosso led the Cardinals with 17 points and sealed Louisville's triumph by grabbing a loose ball with five seconds left that prevented Wichita from getting off a last shot.

Once-beaten Pennsylvania won its 13th game, beating Temple, 66-59, on sophomore

Bob Morse's 16 points in the second half, and all five Villanova starters hit in double figures during a 96-68 win over Boston College in a twinbill Philadelphia's Palestra.

Mike Caruso netted 13 of 14 free throws and scored 19 points as Creighton stopped La Salle, 86-77; Tom Daley and Ron Kodish combined for 41 points that assisted Penn State in beating West Virginia, 81-69; Tim Harman's 26 points led Toledo to an 82-76 upset win over Bowling Green and Oklahoma City posted a 73-70 triumph over Arkansas behind Charlie Wallace's 19 points.

On Wednesday night, Pancho and Laver, tuning up for their head-to-head battle, teamed in a doubles match against Roy Emerson and Andres Gimeno.

Sudden Death Rule In Tennis

NEW YORK (UPI)—"Maybe it can help older players like me," said Pancho Gonzalez, "but it isn't really tennis."

The 41-year-old graying lion of the courts, who will meet Rod Laver in a $10,000 winner-take-all match Friday night, was referring to the introduction of the "sudden death" provision in his best-three-of-five sets with the great Australian in the Madison Square Garden Invitation Tournament.

"I know the promoters are trying to find a way to make tennis fit into a TV time slot, and I know they'd like to find way to let fans know approximately what time a match will be over," Gonzalez said. "But the best matches, the most dramatic, the ones fans remember most, clearly have always been the long ones that were in doubt up to the last point in the third, or even fourth hour."

Under the sudden-death rule which will be in effect for Pancho and Rod, if any set reaches 5-all the men will begin a 12-point game, alternating services. First man to score seven points wins the "sudden death," it is awarded two games and the set at 7-5. Should the first 12 points be split 6-6, the players change sides and start another run of 12 points.

Boudreau Feels Good But Not Different

NEW YORK (UPI)—The passenger on United's flight No. 917 to Chicago glanced at the overhead sign and immediately obeyed it.

Lou Boudreau buckled his seat belt. He had been elected to baseball's Hall of Fame only two hours before and sitting there in the jet before takeoff he was suddenly aware he didn't feel any different. Good, yes; Different, no.

He wondered whether anybody had noticed the tears in his eyes back in the commissioner's office where the announcement of his election to the Cooperstown, N.Y., shrine had been made.

Grateful Memories The jet was moving down the runway now and Boudreau wondered if he had remembered to mention every one who had ever helped him. He had tried awfully hard.

Now the plane was above the clouds and Lou Boudreau thought back to 1947 when he was Cleveland's shortstop and manager, how Bill Vecek was getting ready to trade him to the St. Louis Browns for Vern Stephens, Jack Kramer and Wally Judnich and how the people in Cleveland prevailed upon Vecek to change his mind by deluging him with wires, letters and phone calls.

"He (Vecek) did not think I was a good manager and I have to agree with him. I was a lot younger then, only 30, and had a tendency to over-manage. But I have only praise for Bill Vecek as a baseball man and as a man, period. When it was all over and he decided to keep me instead of trade me, he said, 'perhaps I'm wrong. You are my manager. This is what the people want.'"

That was 1947. A year later it all fell into place for Lou Boudreau. He hit .355 and was named the American League's Most Valuable Player. He also led the Indians to the pennant and subsequently to the world championship when they beat the Boston Braves.

But the big thing in 1948 was the pennant playoff game with the Red Sox in Boston. Boudreau had been asked about that game back in the commissioner's office. Specifically he was asked why he chose a left-hander, Gene Bearden, to face the slugging Red Sox in Fenway Park for that vital game.

Bucking The Odds "We were in Detroit, Newtouser had shut us out, 8-0, and now we knew we would have to go to Boston to play them in their own ballpark. I held a meeting with my players right there in that clubhouse in Detroit. I told them I knew 1 was going into the lion's den by starting a left-hander like Gene Bearden in Fenway Park, but he was my choice. John Berardino, who is doing a great job on television as an actor now, was with us then. He got up and said 'You know left-handers don't go well in Fenway Park.' We discussed and argued the thing for 45 minutes and then Joe Gordon spoke up. 'This man has picked our pitchers for 154 games and got us where we are,' he said. 'I think he's entitled to pick the pitcher for the 155th game.'"

Gene Bearden pitched and Lou Boudreau batted. Boudreau hit a pair of homers and a pair of singles in that contest. When he came up in the ninth with the Indians leading 8-3—that was the way it ended, too—the partisan Boston crowd gave him a standing ovation.

Lou Boudreau thought back to that now as the plane began making its approach to O'Hare Airport. An announcement over the intercom disclosed the weather in Chicago was cloudy and the temperature was minus four degrees.

Lou Boudreau didn't mind at all. For him, it was a perfectly beautiful day.
