Heavy Boosts in Oil Prices Posted; West Texas Given 'Two-Dollar Oil'

FLYING BOAT FORCED DOWN—This is a Boeing Flying Boat of the type that made a forced landing at sea, near mid Atlantic, with 69 persons aboard when its fuel supply ran out. The American weather ship, Coast Guard Cutter Bibb, rescued those aboard at a point 1,400 miles west of Shannon, Eire.

By The Associated Press
Led by the Phillips Petroleum Company, heavy boosts in oil prices were posted yesterday by a number of oil firms and other companies were expected to fall in line today.

The general increase was 20 cents a barrel. Magnolia Petroleum Company and Stanolind Petroleum Company quickly followed. Phillips Petroleum, the Southern Mineral Corporation at Corpus Christi, the Co-operative Refinery Association with offices in Kansas City, the Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. and the Mid-Continent Petroleum Corp. announced they were meeting the new prices. Some of the price boosts were for limited areas.

Deep Rock Oil Corp., an independent company, Ben Franklin Refining Co., and the Bell Oil and Gas Co. will boost similar amounts in Oklahoma and Texas pools where they buy Standard Oil (Indiana) announced it was meeting the Phillips advance, "wherever we purchase crude oil."

Standard Oil (Indiana) purchases in Kansas, Nebraska, Montana and Wyoming and Stanolind's purchases are in Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The Phillips announcement at Bartlesville, Okla., came before noon and covered approximately 120,000 barrels it buys daily in fields scattered over four states effective 7 a. m. yesterday.

On the heels of the Phillips announcement, Maston Nixon, Corpus Christi, vice-president of Southern Mineral Corporation, said that his firm was going up 20 cents a barrel on the 40,000 barrels it buys daily in South Texas fields.

At Houston, officials of Humble Oil and Refining Company, largest crude buyer in Texas, had the situation under study.

Dallas officials of Atlantic Refining Company and Sun Oil Company said they had the new schedules under consideration.

Under the new schedule, Magnolia's posting in East Texas will be $2.15 a barrel, highest in the history of that field.

West Texas was given "two-dollar oil" under the new posting, which starts at $2.02 for 40-gravity and above and drops 2 cents per degree down to $1.62 a barrel for 20-gravity. On the Gulf Coast the price will start at $2.06 and move up to $2.38 a barrel.

It was the first break in crude prices since March, 1947, when Stanolind initiated an advance of 25 cents a barrel.

The break came after prolonged and heavy pressure on the part of producers, aided by reported bonus payments over the posted price in the scramble to meet an unprecedented demand for oil and its products.

K. S. Adams, president of Phillips, set the stage for yesterday's price advance in saying two weeks ago that higher crude postings were needed to block the undercover market spread.

Considerable doubt was voiced in Dallas that the new price schedule would hold.

There's a gun in my car. He was indicted for murder in the death of Willard H. York, 39, York's wife, Gertrude, 43, their son, John, 9, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67, all of San Antonio. Ross, who was born and raised in Ohio, blamed York, an investment broker, for the loss of his fortune, estimated at thousands of dollars.

The defense counsel bases its case on a plea of insanity. The state elected to try Ross first on the charge that he killed York's wife. The trial here opened Monday, but it was not until yesterday that the 12th man became qualified. He was Eldor E. Zoch, 35, the 109th man examined of two jury panels.

Possibility of Calling Special Session Stands

WASHINGTON — President Truman said today there still is a possibility he will call a special session of Congress to deal with Europe's financial plight.

The President told his news conference no decision has been made and that the administration is still continuing its search for funds for stop-gap aid to Western Europe.

The questions to Mr. Truman were prompted by published reports that officials see fair prospects that emergency help for Europe can be supplied without a special session.

Mr. Truman said administration financial officials had had considerable success in their efforts to develop stop-gap aid.

He cited yesterday's authorization for the Army to buy $50,000,000 of French francs.

This transaction will put needed dollars in the hands of the French. The Army will use the francs to pay for services the French have given American troops.

Mr. Truman also cited efforts by the Export-Import Bank to transfer construction loans for France to a special session.

Britain Prepared To Reemphasize Withdrawal Plans

LAKE SUCCESS — Britain prepared today to reemphasize her determination to withdraw from Palestine at an early date and leave the solution of the Holy Land problem to the United Nations.

Arthur Creech-Jones, British colonial secretary, was selected by the London government to make this policy declaration as the 57-nation Palestine committee scheduled for 3 p. m. today in a stand-up drive aimed at concluding the opening round of debate by Saturday.

Meanwhile, the U. S. rallied substantial support for Secretary of State Marshall's year-around assembly plan as the first test vote approached.

Joseph Bach of Luxembourg, chairman of the assembly's political committee, announced he would call for a vote this afternoon or tomorrow on an Australian resolution to send the American proposal into subcommittee for re-framing.

Thus far eight nations have announced support of the Marshall plan while the Russian-led Slavic bloc has denounced it as a means to destroy cooperation between the Soviet Union and the Western powers.

First Part Hospital Application Is Filed

Judge Sherman White said this morning the first part of the official formal application for the Gray County General Hospital had been made.

After announcement was made by the Surgeon General last week that Texas hospital plans had been okayed for $72,000,000 in state projects application blanks were forwarded to Pampa.

CIO Stands Firmly Behind Marshall Plan

BOSTON — This was clear today: the CIO stands overwhelmingly behind Secretary of State Marshall and American foreign policy.

This is the No. 1 fact of the CIO convention so far.

It was demonstrated yesterday in one of the most violent debates heard at a CIO convention in the last six years.

The convention cheered constantly for right-wing speakers who denounced their support of American policy and fired criticism at Russian and Communist methods.

It was an obvious spanking for the CIO's extreme left wing, with President Philip Murray doing part of the spunking.

The loudest and longest roar of applause came when George Balaban of the textile workers said that in Russia President Truman has been compared to a Hitler and then added: "He couldn't be a Hitler, because if he were a Hitler, Russia would work out a pact with him."

Secretary Marshall himself addressed the convention earlier in the day. The delegates gave him an ovation. Murray called him "one of the world's greatest champions of peace."

Marshall spoke of the "urgent necessity" of "positive interim measures" to supply food and coal to Europe "to prevent a fatal deterioration, political, economic and psychological."

He said: "We are faced with the danger of the actual disappearance of the characteristics of western civilization on which our government and our manner of living depend."

At the end of the day, the convention adopted a CIO resolution of foreign policy supporting all "sound programs" of economic aid to other countries and generally calling for peace, unity, understanding, and an end to war talk.

ONE INTOXICATION
One man was fined $10 for intoxication this morning by Judge Clifford Braly in Corporation Court. No cases of traffic violations were heard.

Speculation on Exchanges Is Investigated

WASHINGTON — President Truman said today that Attorney General Clark is investigating gambling in grains and fibers on commodity exchanges.

Mr. Truman spoke out against gambling in commodities at a news conference, during which he attributed much of increased food costs to such speculation.

He also said that he thinks the food conservation program is showing signs of success.

The President saw no immediate need for the return of food rationing and other such controls. He called them police-state methods usable only in extreme emergencies.

In a stern manner, Mr. Truman said there is a tremendous amount of gambling on commodity exchanges. He said that the wheat crop had been traded in eight or nine times on the Chicago Board of Trade alone.

Questioned by reporters as to whether government purchases for foreign relief are largely responsible for prevailing high prices, the President said while this buying has had some effect it is not considered. He added that the United States should be a net exporter of food.

Schools Planning Challenge of Law On Teachers' Pay

TEXARKANA — A challenge of the constitutionality of the Texas minimum salary law was shaping up today with H. W. Stillwell, Texarkana, Texas, school superintendent, a leader in the plan.

He said yesterday that he and other Texas school men were preparing to challenge the law, which has been interpreted as requiring school districts to pay Negro teachers the same as white teachers.

One of the state's best constitutional lawyers has agreed to study the matter, Stillwell said. The supreme court may be asked for a declaratory judgment on the law's constitutionality.

He said he was not fighting the law because of any prejudice against Negroes but from his stand that the salary provision could not be applied to the Texarkana district without serious consequences.

He said that if they lost the fight, there would be no alternative to cutting the salaries of some white teachers in order that Negro teachers might receive raises.

Stillwell said it also was not quite clear as to whether the state Superintendent of Instruction or the State Board of Education had the final power to approve or disapprove the salary schedules or districts. State Superintendent L. A. Woods has disapproved Texarkana schedules on the grounds that they discriminate against Negro teachers. Superintendent Stillwell said he is not sure that the Board of Education cannot overrule Woods.

Ross Pleads Innocent To Ambush Slaying

LA GRANGE — Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, Harvard-trained San Antonio surgeon charged with murder in the ambush slaying of four people entered a plea of innocent through his attorney when arraigned for trial today.

Dr. Ross is being tried specifically in the killing of Mrs. Gertrude York, 43, wife of Willard H. York, an investment broker whom the surgeon blamed for loss of his fortune.

Sitting facing the bench, Dr. Ross said nothing as he removed his spectacles and rubbed his eyes.

The not guilty plea was entered by Fred Blundell, Ross' attorney after District Attorney J. Lee Dittert read the indictment.

Court was 30 minutes late in convening because the district attorney was giving instructions to his witnesses.

The courtroom was packed and people were standing in the doorways. The room seats 200 with another 100 seats in the balcony.

District Judge J. D. Fuchs warned spectators that there must be no demonstration at any time during the trial.

The prosecution's star witness, Ann York, 13-year-old school girl who was the lone survivor of a hail of rifle fire that killed her father, mother, brother and grandmother last May 25 as they dove from their ranch home in Comal County, San Antonio for church services, is due to take the stand today.

She was brought here by her guardian, Henry B. Diehlman, San Antonio attorney.

The 43-year-old doctor walked into the police station at San Antonio shortly after the shooting, which occurred on a country road, 22 miles from New Braunfels, and told a desk sergeant.

"There's a gun in my car." He was indicted for murder in the death of Willard H. York, 39, York's wife, Gertrude, 43, their son, John, 9, and York's mother, Mrs. Mary York, 67, all of San Antonio. Ross, who was born and raised in Ohio, blamed York, an investment broker, for the loss of his fortune, estimated at thousands of dollars.

The defense counsel bases its case on a plea of insanity. The state elected to try Ross first on the charge that he killed York's wife. The trial here opened Monday, but it was not until yesterday that the 12th man became qualified. He was Eldor E. Zoch, 35, the 109th man examined of two jury panels.

Proud Citizens of Texas City Are Building Again

By MAX SKELTON
TEXAS CITY — Six months ago today—at 9:15 a. m.—a freighter SS Grand Camp exploded at Texas City's busy industrial docks to initiate a disaster that brought death and sorrow to practically every home in this little city on a proud, thriving little metropolis that sunny spring day.

And today, once again, despite the memories of the nearly 500 dead, the nearly 100 missing and the 3,000 injured and the continued presence of tons and tons of debris at the docks its residents are proud of the way the city has re-erected, proud of its reconstruction.

It will take much longer than six months for Texas City to remove its greatest scars but the progress is rapid and all but two of its major industrial plants have resumed full scale operations and most have productions records that exceed those prior to April 16.

This Is Happy

By PEGGY DERN

THE STORY: Joyce tells Happy that she has been angling for George for a long time but that he is definitely not in love with her. She admits that she is a "benevolent despot" when she and her mother are concerned, and she vaguely troubles. Next morning Happy dresses in riding clothes, and Joyce and Madeline are at breakfast.

JOYCE, in riding togs similar to Happy's, greeted her and said, "So you don't like breakfast in bed either?"

"It's rather a messy habit," said Madeline and smiled. "I don't blame you."

Later, when the horses had been brought to the side drive, Happy eyed the pretty chestnut mare assigned to her, with something very like panic.

"I don't even know how to get on her," she wailed.

Joyce laughed. "Oh, well, we'll get you a ladder," she teased. "Don't look so frightened. Susie Q is a lamb."

A groom bent down, laced his fingers together, and said, his voice mellow and soft with the inherent melody of his race, "Jes' put yo' foot in ma han', ma'am, an' hold on to de saddle—and jump jes' a lil' bit."

"I can't! I think I'm scared!" wailed Happy.

Joyce said sharply, "Nonsense, Happy! George will have a fit and fall in it if you don't learn to ride. Come on—it's easy!"

Happy drew a deep breath, but, after a bewildering moment in which panic threatened her again, she found herself in the saddle. Susie Q looked back, seemed to be assured that everything was all right, and moved off slowly.

After the first few minutes, Happy relaxed.

"What a morning!" she said, lifting her head and sniffing with delight at the very smell of spring itself. "On a morning like this, who could be anything but at peace with the world?"

Joyce's young face darkened. "I could, for one," she almost growled, and Happy looked at her in surprise. But the next moment Joyce had touched her heel to her own horse's side and loosened the reins a little, and he dashed away down the narrow path and around a curve.

HAPPY stared and gasped as Susie Q, excited by the other horse's sudden dash, tried to follow him, but Happy's tight clutching on the reins controlled her and Susie Q dropped once more to her gentle walk.

When Happy came around the curve in the path where Joyce had vanished, she found Joyce standing beside the black, in deep and earnest conversation with a young man whose riding clothes were well-worn but quite presentable. He was holding Joyce's reins, his own horse placidly cropping grass at the edge of the path. The young man looked up sharply as Happy came around the curve; Joyce said something under her breath to him and turned to Happy, saying glibly, "Hi, howdy, Happy. This is David Boyle. David, Happy Brandon, who is staying at Sundown."

David smiled at Happy, his white teeth a pleasant flash in the deeply burned tan of his good-humored face. His hair was dark and rumpled by the spring wind. He looked attractive and likable.

They chatted for a few minutes, and then Joyce swung herself back into the saddle and trotted off, with Happy following her at a slow and even pace.

A little later, Joyce reined in her horse and said, "Happy, I have to ask you something—a promise."

Puzzled, Happy said, "Of course, Joyce, if I can."

"Oh, you can, all right—if you will it's just that you don't tell

Collusion Suspected In Foot and Mouth Disease Program

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture Oscar Flores, co-director of the Joint Mexican-U. S. Foot and Mouth Disease Commission, said he had asked Attorney General Francisco Gonzales De La Vega to investigate an "attempt to commit fraud" on the part of unidentified small animal owners in the state of Michoacan.

Until October 3 payments for small animals, such as pigs, sheep and goats, were paid by the Mexican government. However, since that date payments have come from a joint Mexican-U. S. fund for all animals slaughtered.

Flores said claims for payments presented to the commission exceeded the actual number of pigs culminated and counted.

Flores in his prepared statement said the count did not tally with the claims for indemnification and that there appeared to be collusion between owners and some commission inspectors.

tion had been exposed. Again it was shown that Padway took $1,000 from Sealise, ostensibly for drawing up a new constitution for his union. Actually, this was the price for his personal plea of intercession with Roosevelt to get a Presidential pardon to permit Sealise to exercise the ordinary rights of American citizenship which he had lost when he was convicted of violating the white slave law.

He eagerly sold for money even to a notorious Capone gangster convicted of prostitution the spurious prestige which he had amassed. He was a traitor to labor and a prostitute himself, peddling his perverted talents to his own evil kind. Would an altruist in the labor movement charge a struggling little union of scrubwomen $1,000 for pulling a standard constitution out of an office file and causing a $30 a week typist to copy it with three carbons, in less than half an hour?

In recent years, Padway's bluff was called. Only a few weeks ago at a hearing in California, Irving McCann, 60 years old to Padway's 56, smacked him on the nose for the sort of insolence that Padway had been getting away with for years. Legislatures and Congressional committees no longer quailed at his bellow. Always yellow and a miserable gangster at heart, Padway hollered that at a word from him, his goons would tear McCann apart.

A man has his choice in this life to be good or bad.

When a good man dies, eulogize him, yes.

When a rotter dies, the least said is soonest heard.

You have here the only eulogy that can fairly be written to Joe Padway. When Harry S. Truman writes that he is "saddened by the death" of such a man he classifies himself and defiles the office that has been entrusted to him. The people take an exception.

OUT OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

FAIR ENOUGH

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1947)

NEW YORK—President Truman has had some ominous demonstrations lately of the decline of the prestige of the office which he holds. He took to the air to advocate voluntary curtailments of the consumption of food. He was widely disregarded. This is bad for him. But it is much worse for all the rest of us that a president should invite the people to hold the office in contempt and leave them no choice but to.

I come to Mr. Truman's telegram concerning the death in San Francisco of Joseph Padway, the chief counsel of the American Federation of Labor. Padway collapsed in the midst of a speech against the Taft-Hartley law. William Green, the president of the A. F. of L., honorably announced that he had died fighting labor's battles. This was to be expected from a professional unioneer, tarred with the same stick.

But if Harry Truman, the politician who gave the Russian propagandists so much Kansas City muck with which to smear our political institutions, feels thus about his late friend, he should speak in his private name, not as president of the United States. Certainly the President in his official person has no reason to feel "saddened" by the passing of a man who had seized every chance to corrupt or organize labor and to profit in the union movement.

Padway, always for sale to the fabulous rascals of an unimaginable era, came to be regarded by Congress and by the public as a "spokesman" for labor, as though "labor" someone had elected him to some representative position. He never represented "labor" in his life. He was the "spokesman" for the union movement only in the sense that any unscrupulous lawyer would hire out to clients engaged in sinful work under virtuous pretenses. Thus Padway regularly sat at the long board table of the Executive Council of the A. F. of L. and not only picked up clientele from other members of the board, who controlled litigious unions, but came to know the inner secrets of the gang.

He was so audacious that when the anti-racketeering act was up for passage in Congress he drafted an amendment exempting murderous highwaymen from the penalties for extortion by assault or intimidation provided they had the right to buy membership in the Teamsters' Union and other unions. Padway wrote this amendment; the attorney general approved it and Congress, in its servile degradation in those early days, enacted Padway's exemption into law. This proviso meant, as the Supreme Court later agreed, that unions had the power to issue licenses to highway robbers and that the Department of Justice must respect those licenses.

In 1942, Roosevelt selected Padway and Dan Tobin, the president of the Teamsters' Union, which was Padway's juristic client, to fly to England and "represent" American "labor" at the British Trades Union Congress. They both were scared almost to death and old Tobin's report to his subjects on his return is a hero's account of a great adventure. On Roosevelt's part it was just a dirty trick that Padway and Tobin should have learned to expect.

He smeared them with goose-grease and they were so greatly obligated that they couldn't refuse him any favor. And then he asked these bombastic old windbags to soar away over the raging billows in one of those new-fangled flying machines, not failing to utilize their fears with little touches about planes which had gone down with ice on their wings or had been shot down by mistake or spattered themselves against Greenland's icy mountains in the fog. They had to go and the most precious point of old moose jaw's jest was that it made no slightest difference who "represented" American labor at the British T. C. U. Those goblins, ostensible Cockneys knew nothing about the American union racket and on past occasions had shown elaborate honors to gangsters who went over accompanied by the fetchingest trolope out of their brothels, cast as their secretaries.

Padway was so greedy that he pulled the rug out from under him-larger plants and improved facilities.

The Monsanto Chemical Company, whose $20,000,000 plant was practically destroyed, last week announced purchase of an additional 77 acres adjoining the original site and already has initiated its expansion program.

Few people, Mayor Steed says, have departed permanently from the stricken city and new residents more than offset the losses.

Reconstruction and repair work in the residential and business districts is 75 percent complete.

All the signs of the great disaster never will be removed.

There is the little four-acre cemetery, three miles north of the City Hall, where the 63 unknown of the nearly 500 dead were buried June 22.

At the City Hall, Police Chief W. L. Ledsh continues to display the personal belongings of the unknown #3 but since a week prior to the mass funeral nearly four months ago there has been no indication that further identification will be accomplished.

City officials list the following damage estimates and insurance collections as resulting from the disaster:

Industrial plants: $42,000,000 and $22,000,000.

Business establishments: $6,000,000 and $4,750,000.

Residences: $2,250,000 and $1,600,000.

Automobiles: $500,000 in damages.

Public schools: $700,000 and $140,000.

Churches: $150,000 and $5,000.

People throughout the United States contributed nearly $1,000,000.

The committee has spent approximately $300,000 in aid to residents to date and a similar amount has been earmarked for future aid to approximately 200 dependents of persons killed or permanently injured.

The American Red Cross has spent over $1,000,000 in relief.

Steed denied a report that there have been few social functions at Texas City since April 16.

"Quite to the contrary, for we have encouraged our people to mix and mingle," he said. "Entertainment helps us to forget and that is what we need—something to occupy our minds and keep us from thinking of that dreadful day."

"Why, actually, the disaster has knitted us more closely together," he said. "Long time residents who never knew each other are close friends now."

"We're more like a big family now because the grief and sorrow were common among us."

Mayor Just Has No Influence in City Hall

"Ain't no use tryin' to get Mayor C. A. Huff to 'fix' that traffic ticket for you, cause he just hasn't any influence or control over anybody in City Hall, not even members of the executive branch."

This was proven this morning when City Secretary R. L. "Grandpa" Anderson and City Purchasing Agent George Casey were seen gulping Coca Cola in the presence of their boss Mayor Huff, who is also manager of the local Dr. Pepper Bottling Co.

Dale Evans Seeking Film Series of Own

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Dale Evans, the Uvalde, Texas, cowgirl who appears with—but never kissed by—Roy Rogers, is seeking a film series of her own.

For years Dale has played a close second to Trigger in Rogers' film affections and lately she has been doing some straight roles out of the saddle. Now she wants to become a female Tom Mix. When she returns from her rodeo tour with Roy, she'll talk with Republic bosses about a new deal for a series starring her alone.

Dick Powell is finding out that independent production is no chinch. He has sunk almost $60,000 into the script of "The Pitfall" and still hasn't a workable story. Upon completing "Station West," Dick climbs into a cockpit for a flying tour to promote his national flight system. Business is so good, he claims, he might even be encouraged to give up acting and become a businessman.

Mark Hellinger moves into the Selznick studio in two weeks, bringing with him his roster of he-man stars. Mark says he has "no dames under contract," he'll borrow the needed females from Selznick. The producer's first will be "Knock on Any Door" with Humphrey Bogart, followed by a Burt Lancaster film, then another Bogart.

Ella Raines, scheduled for two more films this year B. B. T. (before British tax), now says she'll have the rest of the year off. Claude Rains writes from his Penn. farm he'd like to return to work now that his crops are harvested. Ann Lehr of the Hollywood Guild and Canteen wants veterans to know that studio jobs for inexperienced workers are almost impossible. Many veterans are coming to Hollywood to crash pictures, but they're doomed to disappointment. The studios just aren't hiring. Stay home, bud.

Wrestling Matches To Return to Pampa After Long Absence

Come October 30, professional wrestling will return to Pampa after an absence of many years to this locality. Vic Burnett, Pampa sportsman, announced yesterday that his place of business, formerly known as Burnett's Cabinet Shop, 339 E. Tying, will be transformed into a Sportatorium, for all types of indoor sports.

The building, a 70x100 foot brick building, will seat approximately 1,200 spectators, and will be heated to the comfort of the fans, stated Burnett.

The matches will be run weekly beginning Thursday night October 30, and Burnett has promised local wrestling fans that his cards will be made up of the best wrestlers obtainable in the Southwest, which will include Leroy McGurk, Tilt heavyweight champion, from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

'Texas-Sooner Battle Will Not Be Taken Away From Dallas'

DALLAS—(AP)—George White, sports editor of the Dallas Morning News, writing of the Oklahoma-Texas football game held annually in Dallas, said today, "that it will not be taken away from Dallas and played alternately in Norman and Austin is about as near a cinch as there is in sport."

Oklahoma supporters have advocated playing the game on a home-and-home basis, and this plea was augmented by last Saturday's game, which was marred by bottle-throwing and attempted attacks on the game officials.

"Oklahoma harvests more money out of this game here than it gets for any other contest on its schedule," White wrote in his column, "The Sport Broadcast."

"Bickering over this attraction has gone far enough. It's about time for Oklahomans to face this reality."

Thirty Conference Clashes Slated for Week's HS Grid Play

By The Associated Press

Three games tonight start off the most important week-end of Texas Schoolboy Football to date.

There are 30 conference tests with a dozen districts involved and with one of the contests matching undefeated teams ranked highly in the state.

Corpus Christi's Buccaneers, favorites for the finals, entertain Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio tomorrow night. It is a crucial district 15 game with Corpus Christi seeking to repeat one of two strong challengers, Austin is the other.

The major interdistrict battle sends Amarillo to Odessa tomorrow night as two undefeated, untied teams meet in a contest which is an outstanding favorite to win the state championship again.

Tonight Austin (El Paso) plays host to Carlsbad, N. M., in an inter-sectional game while conference tilts are scheduled in two districts—Arlington Heights vs. Amon Carter-Riverside in the Fort Worth district and Lamar vs. San Jacinto in the Houston district.

Ortega KO's Ortiz in 8th to Claim Bantamweight Crown

EL PASO—(AP)—Jimmy Ortega of El Paso could call himself the crowned champion of world's bantamweights today.

Ortega, the former Golden Gloves who arose to national prominence in pro fighting last night, bested Manuel Ortiz, the bantam champion, on a technical knock-out at the end of the eighth round before a crowd of 5,000 here.

The fight show was staged for the benefit of the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund.

Both fighters weighed in at 122 1/2 pounds but it was a non-title bout. The scrap was stopped because of a cut over the champion's right eye which, Ortega inflicted in the seventh round. Until then the bout was an even tussle.

Aggies Timidly Face First Conference Tilt With TCU

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Aggies timidly will step into the Southwest Conference football race Saturday afternoon against the Texas Christian Horned Frogs in Fort Worth.

A.M. picked by the grid experts to finish fifth in this year's pennant chase, had planned to make a bold entrance this weekend after giving Oklahoma a hard afternoon and missing a victory over Louisiana State by a cat's whisker, but an injury has knocked one of the main props out from under the Aggies' victory plans.

When the No. 1 quarterback, James Cashion, of Bryan, received a broken ankle bone early in the LSU struggle Saturday night, A.M. lost much of its punch. Cashion not only was one of the smartest signal callers, Coach Homer Norton never has had, but he also was a sure-fire passer and one of the Aggies' leading ground gainers.

Now the Aggies will have to depend upon less-experienced Stanley Bohling of Houston, Baylor, and Paris and James Hallmark of Kilgore to lead them through the double-tough conference race. Cashion is expected to be out for the entire season.

Saturday's game will bring together two of the nation's leading punters, Carl Knox of TCU and Holmgren. The Aggie booter averaged 53 yards on nine kicks at Baton Rouge, La., Saturday.

TCU was very impressive in losing to Arkansas, 6 to 0, and in romping over Miami, Fla., 49 to 0, in the Aggie's first game. Both the Southwestern and Texas Tech, was outlasted by tough Oklahoma, 26 to 14, and was outplayed by the highly-rated LSU Tigers, 10 to 13.

Two other "showdown" games are scheduled for this Saturday. Rice and Southern Methodist will clash in a scorching in Dallas and Texas will uncover Arkansas on a neutral field at Memphis, Tenn.

Baylor will visit Texas Tech at Lubbock in the lone non-conference game.

Groom and Exercise Boys Continue to Strike at Jamaica

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Jamaica race meeting was scheduled to offer its second day's program today despite a strike of grooms and exercise boys and an accompanying sympathy walkout of van drivers that resulted in greatly reduced fields.

The strike, which began at noon yesterday, was staged by several hundred of the lackluster help, who are seeking union recognition, $50 a month more pay and better dormitory and eating conditions.

The union, AFL-Teamsters Local 814, claims membership among about 700 of the nearly 1,200 employees of the various stables at the track.

Out of a field of 70 horses on yesterday's opening card of seven races, there were about 20 late scratches. An indication of what was in store for today was seen in the fact that only two of the horses entered in the featured Glade Valley purse are quartered in Jamaica.

Cherry Has Football Illness Described as 'Right Halfback-itis'

AUSTIN—Blair Cherry apparently has cured an old football illness at the University of Texas this season, an illness which might be described as "right halfback-itis."

A mixture of "it" and an enthusiastic group of husky lads seems to have done the trick. At any rate, that right halfback position was the power spot on Texas' surprising running game last Saturday in the 34-14 conquest of Oklahoma.

For the past decade or so, the Longhorns have had more difficulty with that post than with the rest of their back combination. In the wingback style of D. X. Bible, the position required a combination of talents that were seldom found in the Texas camp. Big Hugh Wolfe was one exception, but he had too many other duties to perform. Dick Pollock, who has kicked 34 out of 35 attempts.

"Know why those fellows were good? Baugh made 'em."

"We had our best illustration of this three years ago. Baugh was down on his ranch in Texas when we played Philadelphia. Without Baugh to hold the ball, Aguirre missed four out of five.

Baugh, in his cowboy boots and his 7 1/2 gallon hat, wandered by and a reporter promptly grabbed him to ask:

"Do you think your big hands are the secret of your success?"

"Nope," said Baugh. "Lots of fellows with little hands pass all right."

"After another moment's thought Baugh added:

"Lots of our tackles have huge hands—and they can't pass at all."

Another pause, another Baughism:

"Well, I reckon I do all right."

"Which pretty well sums it up, folks. On Baugh, the hand looks good."

Six New Members Elected to State Scholastic Council

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Interscholastic League advisory council today had six new members and three re-elected members, League Director Roy Bedichek announced.

New council members are: Region 1, Conference B, Supt. John Morris of Claude; Region 2, Conference A, Supt. I. L. Lanster of Winters; Region 4, Conference B, Supt. Lewis Simms of Caddo Mills; Region 5, Conference B, Supt. Vernon Madden of Sealy; Region 8, Conference A, Supt. J. M. Hanks of Ysleta, and Conference B, Supt. Leland L. Martin of Crane.

Re-elected were Supt. Jack Ryan of McKinney to Conference AA in region 5; Supt. E. T. Robbins to Amigo Heights, San Antonio, to Conference A, Region 6, and Supt. S. V. Neely of San Benito to Conference AA, Region 7.

The council will hold its annual meeting in Austin Nov. 7 and 18 and new member members take office, Bedichek said.

Three Women Lead Hardscrabble Open

PORT SMITH, Ark.—(AP)—Mildred Zaharias of Denver, Patty Berg of Minneapolis and Betty Jameson of San Antonio led in that order as nine entrants started today on the second six holes of medal play in the Hardscrabble Country Club Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias' total after 18-hole rounds Tuesday and yesterday was 150. The other two followed with 151 and 152, respectively.

Miss Jameson yesterday established a new women's record for the course of 73, thereby lifting herself from sixth to third place. Women's par is 79.

Garcia Wins 10-Round Verdict Over Manchia

GALVESTON—(AP)—Buddy Garcia, Galveston lightweight, won a 10-round decision over Pete Manchia, New York boxer, here last night. Garcia weighed 136 pounds and Manchia 146.

Bobby Dukes, 140 1/2, San Antonio, defeated Johnny Mills, 146 1/4, Uvalde.

Walter Simmons, 205, Galveston, TKO over Arnold Woodson, 177, Corpus Christi.

West Texas Skeet Tournay to Open

MIDLAND, Tex.—(AP)—A West Texas skeet tournament will open at the Midland Gun Club tomorrow and continue through Sunday with shooters expected from all over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

There will be 13 trophies awarded along with $500 in added money. A small-bore rifle match will be held Sunday morning in connection with the tournament.

Future Generations Can See Exactly What the Hand of a Passer Should Be

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Now future generations can see for themselves exactly what the hand of a top-flight football thrower should look like.

Sammy Baugh's right mitt has been sculptured.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins and Baugh's employer, called in the press yesterday for a look at this deathless work.

"Look at those fingers," said Marshall. "Note how long they are. Also note how strong each finger is, especially the middle finger. Is it any wonder he's the top passer in the world today?"

Without waiting for an answer, Marshall rolled on.

"Mrs. Marshall had this hand made for me as a birthday present. She gave another one, just like it, to Mrs. Baugh."

"One of the great sculptors on the West Coast did it while we were training out there. Everyone has heard of this sculptor."

Still without pausing, Marshall grabbed a phone, dialed and asked: "Mrs. Marshall?"

"This is Mr. Marshall. What was the name of that sculptor? Oh, yes, Lyons, Henry Lyons."

Continuing his excellent demonstration of broken field conversation, Marshall said:

"Everyone knows that Baugh is a great passer. But this hand, I think, illustrates why he also is the best in the business at holding the ball for field goals and kicks after touchdowns."

"Washington always has had fine field goal kickers—Tilley Smith, Bob Masterson, Joe Aquire and now Dick Pollock, who has kicked 34 out of 35 attempts."

"Know why those fellows were good? Baugh made 'em."

"We had our best illustration of this three years ago. Baugh was down on his ranch in Texas when we played Philadelphia. Without Baugh to hold the ball, Aguirre missed four out of five."

Baugh, in his cowboy boots and his 7 1/2 gallon hat, wandered by and a reporter promptly grabbed him to ask:

Sports Round-Up

Quick Kick

John Jacobs, Oklahoma U. track coach, says his cross country team will work on pass defense all this week. . . Although his squad beat the Oklahoma Aggies last week, Jacobs protested: "Johnny Teakel of the Aggies passed all my boys. Looks like we need some work in that department."

Trainer Jimmy Jones is planning to ship Armed to Haleah for his sixth winter and a shot at a third straight Widener Handicap victory. One more and they'll be pointing him out as Miami's oldest citizen. . . Washington and Lee, which popped up with the No. 1 football oddity last year when Bill Chipley wandered into the wrong huddle on a muddy day, is bidding for the result of last week's George Washington game. . . As the result of a mixup of signals, Center Joe McCutcheon snapped the ball straight up in the air and GW's Carl Butkus "intercepted" it for a touchdown.

ASK ABOUT WARDS CONVENIENT MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AF Foreign Affairs Analyst

Anxious inquiries are coming to this column from folk who want to know what has happened to the ideal of "One World"—whether the drift toward "Two Worlds" means that "One World" is out.

Aprons of this general thought, we have some searching current observations from two of the most widely known statesmen of our day—former U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and Britain's wartime prime minister, Winston Churchill. Few were privileged to know as much as they about the relations of the Big Three (America, Britain and Russia) during the DEWITT MACKENZIE late conflict.

Byrnes states in connection with his new book "Speaking Frankly," that "there is room in the world for the ideologies of Russia and the United States just as there is room for the people of the Soviet and the United States. The U. N. is our best hope—not our only—hope for reconciling the differences that exist between us."

Churchill expresses the view that the Soviet Union and its satellites may quit the United Nations organization. Then, he says, "there would be what is called two worlds, and we should be sorry to see that. But if one of these worlds (the democracies) is far more powerful than the other (the Communists) and is equally vigilant, and is also sincerely desirous of maintaining peace, there is no reason why a two world system should lead to war. Great wars come when both sides believe they are more or less equal, and when each thinks he has a good chance of victory."

Both statesmen subscribe to the thesis that the democracies, while seeking peace, should keep their powder dry and be firm. Each recognizes the possibility of there being "Two Worlds" and not one.

As a matter of fact we have "Two Worlds" already, so that our inquiry resolves itself into whether there is any hope of achieving "One World." We can say right at the start that there is no possibility of reconciling totalitarian communism and democracy. The two are as far apart as the poles.

Therefore we seem to face the startling theory that a completely unified world could be achieved only when one or the other had been found wanting and had died a natural death.

However, we are getting ahead of ourselves. The first thing to be achieved is not "One World," but "Two-Worlds" which are at peace. Technically we are at peace now but practically we are not, for the Bolshevik world revolution is in full swing. That must be stopped, and it must be stopped without another global war. That probably can be achieved by rehabilitating Western Europe through the Marshall Plan so that the democracies can defend themselves against the Bolshevik offensive.

If the Communist upheaval can thus be halted, we shall have "Two Worlds"—not friendly but still not shooting at each other. Then we can begin to think about "One World."

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The stock market produced its fifth successive advance today in a lively session.

A flood of buying orders for selected industrials dropped the ticker tape behind floor transactions briefly in the opening minutes, hereafter, price movements were irregular, and early gains were trimmed or turned into declines on occasional slowdowns. Motion picture shares were active in late dealings. A new upswing in the final hour failed to hold as scattered losses appeared at the close. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

New highs were reached by Chrysler, J. I. Case and John-Manville. Dividend news aided Archer-Daniels-

Gracie Reports

BY GRACIE ALLEN

Well, I suppose that a physiologist in Chicago is planning to put light corsets on forty monkeys to see if this will have the same effect on them that it has on women. This will sort of even things up. He'll make women out of monkeys while the fashion designers keep right on making monkeys out of women.

George thinks this experiment could be carried a lot further than corsets. He says that the man should give the monkeys watches to see if they'll be as late as we are for appointments and the mirrors to see if they take as long to make up their faces, and bank books to see if they can beat us to the overdraft.

Call it a woman's pride if you wish but I'm sure that our side would win in every case.

Home Demonstration Clubs Change Roles

The luncheon which was enjoyed by the Worthwhile and Wayside Home Demonstration clubs last Tuesday was a transition in which the tables were turned and the host became guest and the guest became host.

After a forenoon with Wayside Club doing the host honors the Worthwhile Club took over and exhibited homes of some of their members.

First Mrs. G. H. Anderson showed a bedroom she had redecorated, then her large yard which is enclosed by a board fence. On one side is her vegetable garden and on the other side which is surrounded by trees and shrubs is a lovely sodded picnic spot.

Mrs. Ray Robertson, clothing demonstrator, showed numerous garments she had made for herself and her child, some of which were "miracles" performed from feed sacks. She showed also a living room chair which she had upholstered.

Mrs. T. J. Watt, pantry demonstrator invited the ladies to her cellar to inspect rows of shelves filled with canned fruits and vegetables, most of which were from her own garden.

The afternoon's activities were concluded in the home of Mrs. Watt with Mrs. H. B. Taylor giving a report on her trip to Galveston and each member displaying Christmas gifts.

Mrs. Watts served cookies and date loaf to the twelve members of the guest club and to the following: Mrs. H. B. Taylor, Jr., Ernest Edwards, Harold Osborne, Homer Taylor, Gus Greene, J. S. Fuqua, J. T. Rogers, R. E. Montgomery, Lowell Osborne, A. B. Carruth, and three children.

Carrie Lou Morris Is Married To Jack Nelson Riley in Canadian

CANADIAN, (Special)—In a simple but impressive ceremony attended by members of the families, Miss Carrie Lou Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Morris, became the bride of Jack Nelson Riley Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 30.

Rev. Fern Miller read the double-ring ceremony in the Morris home at 200 N. 6th Street.

The vows were spoken before large French doors on either side of which stood baskets of white asters and woodwardia fern.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was her sister, Mrs. Quentin Isaacs, attired in a brown suit with brown accessories and a corsage of mums.

J. C. Claxton of Amarillo served as best man.

Entering with the wedding party, the bride was lovely in a wool gabardine suit of palomino with brown accessories. Pink Delight roses made up the corsage which she wore.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Morris chose a black crepe dress beaded in pink and blue. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the Morris home.

Centerpiece for the serving table was a white three-tiered wedding cake. The table was covered with a lace cloth and bore crystal appointments.

Mrs. Charles O. Ellis of Canadian, aunt of the bride, presided at the coffee service and Miss Pauline Riley of Groom, sister of the bridegroom, served the wedding cake.

After the reception the couple left on a short wedding trip. For traveling, the bride wore the suit in which she was married. Mrs. Riley is a graduate of Canadian High School and attended West Texas State College for one year.

Mr. Riley was graduated from Clarendon High School and Clarendon Junior College. He attended Texas Tech for one year and is a Marine veteran of World War II.

Common Ground
By R. C. HOILES

Things Educated People
Would Not Do

A reader of Common Ground writes me and says I overlooked the fact that half the children in the United States could get an education were not for tax-supported schools; that their parents could not afford to send them to private schools.

Now let's see if half the people are now educated in the United States, as those who believe in compulsory education seem to think. The only way to judge education like anything else is from its fruits. "Ye shall know them by their fruits." "Do men gather figs of thistles?"

If half the people were now educated would we have the discrimination laws that we have?
Would not all people be equal before the law as they are before God? Would we have discriminatory tax laws? Would we have minimum wage laws which make it impossible for the slow and inefficient to get jobs? Would we have "social security" which compels a man to turn part of his money over to the government and does not guarantee that the government will give him back a dollar that will buy a toothpick?

If half the people were educated would we have the depression we had in the late 1920s and the 1930s? Would we have repudiated our contract to pay government bonds in gold when the contract called for gold payments?
Would it be a crime to own money with real value in itself as it is today? Would we have such an enormous debt for our children to pay?

Would we have such a high rate of living as we have now?
Would we have so many strikes?
Would we consume so much liquor and so much tobacco? Would we have immigration restrictions and tariff walls which bring on wars?

Rough Road Seen For Farmer, Says Senator Capper

TOPEKA, Kans. — Farmers were advised by Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas to plan now for "rougher roads ahead."

"Now while farmers are riding high in an era of prosperity," he writes in the October issue of Capper's Farmer, "they should get their affairs in shape to withstand the shock of inevitable lower prices and smaller production. I do not know how soon that time is coming and neither does anyone else. But we can all be rather certain it will come some of these days."

"Farmers who get ready now for the rough going will be money ahead."

Senator Capper warned that

The Governor noted the importance of soil conservation, and called on all citizens to cooperate in conservative projects.

As I See It—

By SAM LEWIS VEITCH
Washington, D. C.

This week brings encouraging news about the corn crop for a change. The Weather Bureau reported that more than 75 percent of the corn crop has matured several jumps ahead of damaging frost. So its full food value will be available. Corn that freezes before it matures loses a good deal of its feeding value, plus the fact that it won't keep very well.

But "O' Jack Frost" was a little too late to catch the main part of the Midwestern corn crop, with the exception of one state, Ohio. There, experts said that weather in the low twenties had taken an undetermined toll.

But if the news on corn was good, it was bad for some other farmers—particularly those in the Northeastern states who raise garden truck and fruit. The unseasonably early frost caught these farmers with crops still not ready for harvest. The tomato crop in western New York State was called the worst in 27 years by packers—in fact it was just a plain "failure," they said.

In the Plains states, farmers were seen cutting their corn that was planted late for silage, which means that they will get at least some of the feeding value from it. However, the greater portion of the crop appeared to be out of the ground at plans were laid to start shucking in the near future.

THE MEAT QUESTION

Reactions to the appeal for saving food by observing meatless Tuesdays and "eggless and poultry-less Thursdays" were not long in coming from two sections of our economy. The meat traders, as the first to answer, it pledged cooperation—but with some qualifications.

The American Meat Institute did not believe meatless days would actually save anything since all meat produced will be eaten anyhow. They called for more emphasis on feeding habits and marketing processes by the producer, as the most practical way of saving grain. The point here is that meat, once produced, will not keep any length of time, and that no grain saving will come of not eating it.

One farm group made its voice heard. It was a turkey grower's association out in the Par West. Its spokesman asked the President and Mr. Luckman to clarify what they intended to do about Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's this year, since they all fall on Thursdays and Thursdays is "poultry-less Thursday" from now on. This would be serious if the Turkey rule was so rigid it could not be changed, but that isn't likely to happen. Naturally, the turkey growers are anxious to know, since about one-third of the whole turkey crop is consumed each year on these three days—the turkey being the symbol of the "festive board." We do not think that growers will have any reason to worry, but do expect to see fewer fat, grain-fed birds and more of the bonny types, when the holiday season rolls around.

Weed-Killer Dust Has Bad Features

BY TEX EASELY
AP Special Washington Service

Education was seen by Representative Thompson (D-Tex) as the key to prevention of further cotton crop damage by a weed killer dusted on rice fields.

He discussed the matter with a reporter after a conference with experts at the Agriculture Department laboratories at Beltsville, Md. Saying he was concerned over reports that $250,000 damage had been done in Wharton and Matagorda Counties, Texas, from the weed killing dust which was spread by planes on rice fields last summer, Thompson is seeking to prevent a repetition. The wind blew the dust into nearby cotton fields.

"The real solution appears to be in informing all farmers of the dangerous features of the weed dust eradicator as well as its good points," said Thompson.

A & M Agronomist, Rust-Resistant Wheat Developer, Is Being Honored

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—A quiet little adopted Texan credited with saving millions of lives in a hungry world is being immortalized in marble and bronze today in his native town of Webster, S. D.

The man is Edgar McFadden, who produced the first successful strain of rust-resistant wheat, which he aptly named Hope Wheat.

From this first breed have been developed the hardy varieties which today make possible the growing of wheat in many parts of the world where grain production would otherwise be impossible.

His discoveries are credited with saving American farmers alone about $100,000,000 a year, and one magazine article declares that "thanks to his work, 25,000,000 people are eating throughout the world today who otherwise would be dead."

Since 1925, McFadden has been with Texas A. & M. College here as an agronomist in cereal crops for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, working in the Texas Agricultural Experimental Station at Webster, a little wheat county seat, is celebrating "Edgar McFadden Day" today.

Washington Newsletter

By EUGENE WORLEY
The membership of the House Committee on Agriculture was called back to Washington last week to resume hearings on a long range agricultural program.

A large number of witnesses were heard last week and still more are scheduled to appear as the hearings run into November. The formation and recommendations provided by these witnesses have been valuable and helpful, but it is my desire as upon the farmers and ranchers of my own District to find out what they themselves think. The purpose of this newsletter therefore is to request all farmers and ranchers, whether renters or owners, to provide me with any ideas or suggestions which they might have.

No legislation of greater importance to the farmers and ranchers and business interests of our part of the country will be considered by the next session of Congress. The Texas Pathhandle has been blessed with many valuable natural resources which we hope will last forever. But after our oil and gas reserves have disappeared, we must still rely on topsoil for food, fiber and prosperity. Unless our farmers and ranchers can secure a fair price for what they produce, they will have little or no purchasing power and will be unable to patronize merchants and other businesses in our communities and towns.

If agriculture hits the skids after this year, it did not too many years ago then the good times which we all want will not be realized. I think all of us remember nickel cotton, six-bit wheat, five-cent beef, breadlines, soup kitchens, etc., and all started with the collapse of farm prices. Congress is trying its best to avoid a repetition of these conditions, and one of the first steps to take is to avoid another collapse of farm prices.

In a democracy people tell their Representative what they want him to know, and what they think, is of the utmost importance to him in the discharge of his duties.

I am therefore requesting that you, whether a businessman, tenant farmer, rancher, or your own operator, let me know what you think should go into a long range agricultural program which will conserve our soil, and bring about a strong and stable agricultural economy with a minimum of governmental supervision. It is useless to hope for a high standard of living unless our agriculture is sound. A postcard or letter addressed to me in Washington expressing your ideas and suggestions will be most welcome.

Foreign Workers To Return Home

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government winding up its program for supplying United States farmers with foreign workers.

Recruitment of farm workers in Mexico, the West Indies and Canada by the government already has ceased, and approximately 40,000 foreign agricultural laborers in this country under federal contract must be returned to their homes by Dec. 31, an Agricultural Department official said.

The official told a reporter that the department has no exact information on the extent of private recruitment of Mexican farm labor, but said there are indications that "some of this is being done."

The future of private recruitment of Mexican labor for use in this country on farms is not clear. Questioned concerning reports that Mexican government policies will block such action, Department of Justice sources said only that "conference" on the matter are being held by immigration officials and representatives of Mexico.

Of the 40,000 foreign farm workers in the United States, 24,000 are Mexican, 9,000 West Indians and the remainder Canadians. At this time last year about 65,000 foreign laborers were in the United States under the federal program.

Woman Meets Death In 10-Story Leap ways wintered in Texas, riding north on the first warm winds. His method is to develop better Texas grains, which will resist the rust at its source, eventually killing out this threat to wheat across the continent. His Austin variety, developed a few years back, is credited with having extended the Texas wheat belt for the first time below a line drawn east and west through Dallas and Fort Worth.

Announcement is to be made shortly of his latest variety, Seabreeze, which will extend the wheat growing areas in Texas to the Rio Grande and the Gulf Coast. A hardy disease-resistant variety, still another great-grandchild of the sturdy Hope, Seabreeze is adapted to the damp, humid climate of the Gulf Coast area. It has a longer growing season for green-grazing to meet the needs of coastal ranchers, and is capable of producing commercial quantities of grain under conditions in this area.

56 Counties Will Be Offered Cotton Insurance in 1948

The Agriculture Department has announced the 56 counties in which the curtailed Federal Crop Insurance program on cotton will operate in 1948.

Cotton insurance contracts this year are in effect in 609 counties. Congress, however, established a maximum of 56 counties in which cotton insurance may be offered in 1948. Heavy losses to the government in cotton insurance in 1945 and 1946 prompted the action.

"The maximum of 56 counties established by Congress for cotton crop insurance in 1948 did not affect in any way the cotton crop insurance contracts in effect on 1947 crops," Gus F. Geissler, manager of the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, said.

"The Corporation will pay losses where insured on cotton crops and the producers, of course, will pay the premiums due for their 1947 protection against virtually all unavoidable causes of loss."

Geissler said it is hoped a sound cotton crop insurance program soon can be extended to additional counties.

The states and counties where Federal Crop Insurance on cotton will be in effect in 1948 include:

New Mexico: Chaves, Oklahoma: Bryan, Grady, Hughes, Texas: Anderson, Cameron, Collins, Donley, Hill, Jones, Knox, Lubbock, McClellan, Neches, RFD River, Reeves, Rusk, Williamson.

The presentation of the world's choice roosters will be the most elaborate of its kind ever held, and the most elegant rooster probably will scratch his signature on a real Hollywood movie contract for Warner-Pathe News.

The contest will climax a long and intensive search for a successor to the rooster which has appeared on the main title of Pathe News in theatres throughout the world for nearly 40 years. Guy Roy T. Turner and Norman Moray, president of the Warner-Pathe News, jointly announced contest plans last week.

Legion Asked to Follow Program

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas American Legion and Auxiliary members today had the recommendation of State Legion Commander George S. Berry of Lubbock to "cooperate to the best of their ability" with the nationwide food conservation program.

"The President's proclamation should be and is our program and it is most assuredly fitting that Legionnaires lend every encouragement and practical assistance to this endeavor," Berry said.
