Solons To Confer On Monaco Island

To Discuss Campus Unrest, Hijacking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Air Force presidential jet headed today toward Monte Carlo where the plane's congressional passengers hoped, among other things to gain a new perspective on campus unrest.

With scarcely time for a breather, the senators and representatives temporarily put aside pressing domestic business and turned to the international problems scheduled for discussion at the spring conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, described by some cynics as one of the better "junkets" available to members of Congress.

For the first time the conference is being held in the principality of Monaco and its single city, Monte Carlo, the pleasure and gambling spa, Prince Rainier and Princess Grace are the officials hosts.

Invited to the conference were members of parliaments from 67 nations. Among items on the agenda are hijacking of international airliners, the seabed, the impact of radio and television on parliaments and university unrest, which of late has become common in all parts of the world.

Up for discussion is a 200-word paper written by a Japanese delegate. An American who read it describes it as a "beast."

The U.S. delegation includes Sen. John F. Sparkman, D-Ala., B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., Hugh Scott, R-Pa., Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Birch Bayh, D-Ind., Len R. Jordan, R-Idaho, Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill. House members were Reps. E. Ross Adair, R-Ind., Emilio Q. Daddario, D-Conn., Alexander Pirnie, R-N.Y., Edward J. Derwinski, R-Ill., and Robert McClory, R-Ill. The congressmen will be going at the expense of the government. They will receive a per diem allowance of $50 a day.

Congressional spokesmen said they did not know how many lawmakers were taking their wives. The government does not pay a per diem allowance for the women but their Air Force transportation is free. The delegation departed Thursday night from Andrews Air Force Base, Md. The

Cambodia Border Target Area For B52's

SAIGON (UPI)—An American B52 accidentally bombed a populated area along the Cambodian border Thursday, wounding 12 Vietnamese civilians and damaging two houses.

A number of bombs impacted outside the target area, a military spokesman said in describing the accident four miles north of the Mekong Delta town of Tri Ton, 120 miles west-southwest of Saigon.

Three of the villagers were seriously injured and military spokesmen said the incident was under investigation. Tri Ton is at the base of the Seven Sisters Mountains astride the Cambodian border. They have been used all through the war as a Viet Cong sanctuary, earning the nickname "million dollar knoll" for the amount spent to bomb them.

It was the second accident in the war zone in 24 hours.

Kidnaped American Diplomat Said He 'Was Well-Treated'

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI)—Lt. Col Donald J. Crowley said he was well treated by his kidnapers but declined today to give the details of his 55 hours under death threat.

The American diplomat, released Thursday in exchange for 30 political prisoners who were flown to exile in Mexico, said in a telephone conversation his captors guarded him "assiduously" in a house whose location he did not know.

Crowley was freed on a downtown street Thursday and taken by police to the Mexican Embassy under an arrangement worked out between the government and terrorists. The prisoners left for Mexico shortly after he turned up.

OFFER COUNTER PROPOSALS

Congress And Union Still Talking Postal Pay Raises

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration has offered postal workers a counter-proposal to their demands for a 12 per cent pay hike that a union spokesman today termed "a basis for negotiation."

Government and postal union representatives in seven hours of talks that recessed this morning at 1 a.m. struggled to hammer out an agreement that would satisfy Congress, the administration and the postal workers.

They agreed to resume the talks, which were described by the government as "friendly and businesslike," at 3:30 p.m. EST. Both sides refused to discuss details of counterproposal and the union demands. However, a union spokesman said the government's new proposal offered "a basis for negotiation" and a government spokesman said he was hopeful about the course of the talks which he indicated might last through the Easter weekend.

Predicts Early Agreement

Postmaster General Winston M. Blount earlier Thursday predicted agreement would be reached soon on a wage increase but he declined to set a time limit.

Blount met with President Nixon Thursday morning for 45 minutes on the postal negotiations before Nixon left for a holiday weekend at his Key Biscayne, Fla. home.

24-HOUR DEADLINE

Government Gets Tough With 'Ailing' Air Controllers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government today hinted it may fire those air traffic controllers who do not return to their jobs in 24 hours. The threat came as the controllers union issued a fresh call for a nationwide walkout.

The new developments left Easter weekend air travelers facing uncertain prospects. But despite the charges and countercharges in the three-day dispute, there were signs the walkout would produce no more than scattered airport traffic jams.

The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) sent telegrams Thursday night to those members of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO) who are away from their jobs on "sick call." The telegrams detailed a court order won by the government banning a strike and added:

"Your absence is presumed to be in violation of that order and if your absence continues for more than 24 hours after the receipt of this telegram, and if you fail within that time to furnish medical proof of your illness, prompt action will be taken against you."

The FAA did not detail what personnel—"rusty old men"—to replace absent PATCO members. He said it was a "policy calculated to do irreparable damage" and it could cause an airline disaster.

The FAA warned air travelers to expect some delays, but it advised them not to change their travel plans. FAA Administrator John A. Shaffer admitted some travelers would be "inconvenienced" by the walkout.

Shaffer said there would be no talks until the controllers return to work. Even then, he said, he would not meet with PATCO without including the rival traffic controllers unions which oppose the walkout.

Freakish Weather Plagues Nation On Easter Eve

By United Press International. Freakish weather continued across much of the nation as spring tried to gain a foothold.

Fourteen to 16 inches of snow fell in the Upper Midwest; Thursday—then began rapidly melting away. Ice broke up in Lake Superior, then caused earth tremors as it ground against the Michigan shoreline. Winds up to 70 miles an hour closed Southern California roads. A snowstorm blitzed the Rocky Mountain states.

At Marquette, Mich., on Lake Superior's shore, windows and dishes rattled and some buildings awayed as thawing ice pushed against the shore, causing mild earth tremors.

One person was killed and 30 others injured in a chain-reaction collision on Southern California's Interstate 10 Thursday as high winds whipped the area. The Highway Patrol said wind apparently blew a camper top off a truck and 25 cars piled up behind it. Visibility was three feet.

Bureau to issue stockmen's warnings for eastern and central Nebraska and western and central Kansas.

But a meteorologist at the Fort Worth Regional Weather Bureau said he doubted that the front would maintain its present severity until it reached the Texas Panhandle.

He expected, however, that a subdued front will reach the Texas coastal plains by Saturday morning. The front was expected to reach North Central Texas late tonight.

Saturday should be a day of intermittent rain and cooler weather over nearly all of Texas. Easter Sunday weather should at least be cloudy. At dawn, temperatures over Texas were generally in the 30s and 40s. They ranged into the 50s at El Paso and along the Lower Rio Grande.

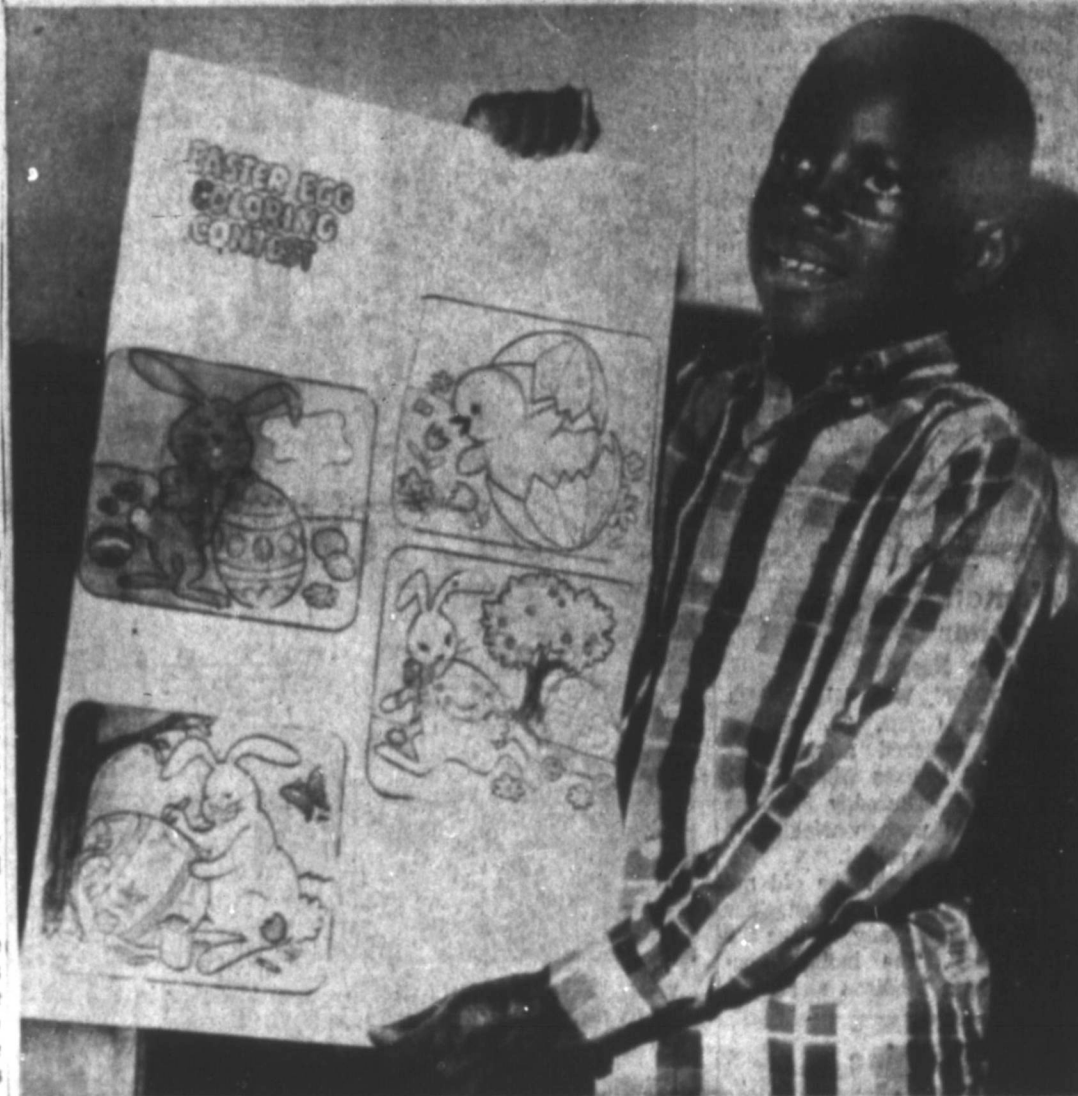

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY—Wind warnings in effect for area lakes until sunset. Considerable cloudiness through Saturday. Chance of rain this afternoon, turning to snow tonight. Cooler today and tonight. High today, mid-40s; low tonight mid-20s. High Saturday, lower 50s. Southwesterly winds 15 to 30 m.p.h. this afternoon, changing to northerly tonight. 20 per cent chance of precipitation today; 50 per cent tonight. High Thursday, 58; Low this morning 35.

Librarians To Converge On Amarillo On April 8

From all over the state, hundreds of librarians, library trustees, and Friends of the Library will converge on north-west Texas April 8-11 for the 57th Conference of the Texas Library Association, to be held in the new Civic Center in Amarillo.

Theme of the Conference announced by Ray C. Janeway of Lubbock, program chairman and Texas Tech librarian, is "People, Politics, and Progress."

Major speakers for general sessions are Carl T. Rowan, Washington D.C. based syndicated columnist, author, diplomat, and former director of the U.S. Information Agency; and George Christian of Austin, presidential press secretary for the Lyndon B. Johnson administration.

Rowan will speak Thursday evening on "The Great Menace of Moral Pollution." At age 37 he became the youngest U.S. envoy in the world when he was appointed ambassador to Finland. At age 38 he was named USA director. He has written four books, and his columns are read in over 100 newspapers weekly.

Christian, called by the New York Times "one of the most powerful personalities in the Presidential entourage" under LBJ, will speak at the closing session at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Revolutionaries Not Of Working Class

By LEE MUELLER
 President Nixon probably isn't aware of it, but in his attempt to cure inflation, he might be creating some recruits for the Chicago Seven's revolution.

The trial proved, if nothing else, that unemployed men are more apt to take active roles in revolutions than employed men — and unemployment in the United States is climbing.

Consider, if you will, the case of writer Norman Mailer. Mailer testified during the trial that he was speaking to demonstrators in Grant Park before their clash with police two years ago during the Democratic convention.

"I told them I thought they were possessed of beauty... and that we were at the beginning of a war which would continue for 20 years and the march today would be one battle in that war... and that I was not going to march with them because I had to write this piece."

There, it's something we completely overlooked, isn't it? It is not the sort of thing Castro or the Bolsheviks or Pancho Villa had to cope with. In those days, spies could be eliminated, treachery could be exposed or horses could be shod. Here, however, is a man committing himself to one cause and still having to work for another — his own.

"I was in a moral quandary," Mailer said. "I didn't know if I was being scared or being professional."

Mr. Mailer doubtlessly was being professional. Doubtlessly it remains, though, that to be professional and to be revolutionary will involve no few conflicts of interest for anyone who has a job in a

NEW YORK (UPI) — The market will still show some weakness over the next few weeks until the capital drain of the AT&T financing is out of the way and liberalized Federal Reserve Board monetary policies have time to be translated into a resumption of monetary growth, Wright Advisory Reports says. But the firm anticipates "an early, strong, and possibly record-breaking summer rally," followed by continuing strength as investors become more optimistic about the 1971 economy.

The prime interest rate cut "indicates the long awaited end to the credit crunch," Walston & Co. says. The cut is not enough in itself to trigger a bull market, but does constitute a "step in the right direction."

First-quarter earnings reports will hold the market down for a while. The firm expects the market to move into a trading range of 760 to 780 in terms of the Dow Jones industrial average.

In view of the "unreliability" of such securities analysis tools as price-earnings ratios, Donald Samuel, president of Energy Fund Inc., suggests using another approach in sizing up stocks which he calls "sentiment and expectations." When an unexpected, disappointing piece of corporate news is released and the stock holds or barely declines, sentiment is improving, he says. Conversely, when an expected piece of disappointing news causes a stock to decline, "investors are looking for an excuse for falling sentiment," he adds.

Kidnaping as a terrorist tactic is not new. What is new is the epidemic of kidnapings of diplomats to force governments to release political prisoners.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market has been in the process of changing from a "bear" market declining trend to a "bull" market advance since last fall, Wright Investors' Service says. This recovery could take six months or more, as in 1957-58, before it is completed, and could be delayed this year by the "unduly deliberate Federal Reserve Board delay in easing credit restrictions," it adds. The possibility of a delay, however, does not mean that new investment commitments should be deferred.

In six of the past eight years stocks selling below book value on Dec. 31 outgained the Dow Jones industrial average the following year, according to a computerized study by Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis. Such stocks offer above average performance potential, the firm

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Angel Tompkins is her name and she is from Chicago. She hopes to become a movie star.

Her real name is Angelina. Mrs Tompkins is blonde. Her face is very beautiful. Her figure is full and pleasing to eye.

She has come to Hollywood from Chicago, where she was co-host of a local television show, "John and the Angel."

But a girl does not become an international star on television or in motion pictures by working in Chicago. She must go to New York or London or Rome or Hollywood.

The Right Choice
Angel made the right choice because she has an important role in a new movie, and that is what she wanted.

Angel Tompkins is untypical of the pretty young hopefuls who disembark in Hollywood, their eyes wide with wonder and hope. Angel is hip.

"My dream ever since I was 10 years old was to become a film star," Angel said. "I always thought I could act, and I'm optimistic about the future."

In a sense Angel was lucky; she was among 243 persons interviewed by producer Stan Margulies and director Mel Stuart for "I Love My Wife."

"The idea was to find a new face," Margulies said. "We went ape looking for a girl in her mid or late 20s. Most girls in that bracket out here aren't new faces. They've been around."

"Finally we read 80 girls for the part and ultimately came down to Angel and a New York model. We gave them both screen tests."

"The role called for a great beauty who would create an immediate and stunning sex appeal. Secondly we thought it would be nice if she could act."

McNair Makes Six Pictures In One Year

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Six pictures in about a year is pretty good going for anybody, but especially good for a girl who had hardly acted before. But that's the record of young Barbara McNair. She's doing her sixth now, the lead opposite Sidney Poitier in "They Call Me Mister Tibbs!"

She's frank about how the big McNair boom started. "It was the Playboy layout that did it," she says. "It was a calculated risk for me. I thought it would do what it did, but it could have ruined me."

I had interviewed Barbara a long time ago — 1960, to be exact — and, in that talk, she had said, when I asked her her ambition, "In a word, I want stardom." Today, she says that still applies. She's getting closer to it all the time.

She thinks it will come through films, but she hasn't altogether abandoned singing and clubs.

"I just don't have much time for clubs any more," she says.

Connie Stevens Rises To Hour

By DICK KLEINER
HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — What would you do if you suddenly found you were sitting down to dinner next to President Nixon?

Connie Stevens faced that situation. She and her fellow Bob Hope Troupers were invited to a White House dinner, and drew lots to see who would sit next to the President. Connie won.

"I was scared," she says. "I didn't know what to talk to him about, especially since I didn't vote for him. But it was fine. We talked about baseball and California and then I got on my favorite subject — my two daughters. Since he has two daughters, too, and we each have a daughter named Tricia, it worked out fine."

Connie says she just made a "decision. She's so tired (from doing a TV pilot film, from club dates, from her first recording — "The 5:30 Train" — in three years) that she simply has to slow down.

"I want to go somewhere and just read," she says. "Last night, I wanted to read, I had bought 'Nicholas and Alexandra,' but I couldn't read. I was too tired to read and yet too tired to sleep. That's when I knew I had to slow down awhile."

THE PSYCHIC STARS:
Diahann Carroll
When Diahann was a little girl, the grandmother of her best friend died. Her family insisted that she go to the funeral, and she was obedient, but terribly frightened. She knew she would have to look at a dead body and she'd never done that before.

As she entered the church, she looked up at the ceiling — and saw a vision of the dead woman. It couldn't have been a reflection, because it only lasted a fraction of a second. Diahann thought it was a hallucination, based on her intense fear. But there was one strange thing — in that split second, she saw the woman exactly as she later saw her really in the coffin, even to the color of the dress (lavender) and her jewelry.

Stories like that one of Diahann Carroll — in more detail, of course — are featured in my new book, "E.S.P. And the Stars," which Grosset & Dunlap has just published. There are strange tales from more than 70 stars in the book. They talk about novelists

They Love Dusty In Calgary

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) —They've finally wound up shooting Dustin Hoffman's "Little Big Man." The last scenes were with Dusty as a 121-year-old man, in make-up that is as closely guarded as a national secret. It took him four and a half hours to put it on.

Those scenes were shot in the psychiatric ward of a veterans' hospital here. Only the patients and the crew saw the make-up — and the therapists said they thought it did the patients good.

Prior to this scene, the company shot near Calgary, Canada, and it was way below zero. At the party ending that phase of the shooting, the crew gave Hoffman an antique grandfather clock. Generally, it's the star who hands out presents. But they love Dusty.

ROCK HUDSON is off on the

first vacation he has had in five years. He and five buddies are going to Hawaii, "and we'll sit on the beach and play bridge."

Rock is one of the most dedicated — and best — bridge players. His buddies were all selected for their congeniality and finessing ability. Rock even bought a couple of decks of magnetic cards, which won't blow away, so they can deal 'em out on the beach.

When he comes back, he'll do a television special. He says he can't talk much about it — too soon — but it has series potential.

"It's something like Laugh-In," he says, "except that instead of black-outs our pieces are a little longer."

Americans Pay Tribute To Memory Of Martin Luther King

ATLANTA (UPI) — Hundreds of thousands of Americans attended a filmed tribute to Martin Luther King Jr. in theaters across the nation Tuesday night. A handful of bomb threats in the South marred the evening.

Police reported bomb scares in Arlington and Richmond, Va. One theater in Arlington, a Washington suburb, was evacuated for a search. Threats were made against eight other theaters in the Washington area, but they were not emptied.

The film of King's 13-year civil rights battle from Montgomery, Ala., to Memphis was shown in 1,000 theaters. The Southern Christian Leadership Conference SCLC said 83 theaters were sold out in Manhattan, 27 in Washington, 10 in Atlanta and four in Memphis.

King's widow, Coretta, attended the movie in Atlanta. "To be able to see in one stretch all of the campaigns that were conducted during those twelve and one-half years of my husband's life and leadership at one sitting is something that we never had an opportunity to do," she said. She said she was "tremendously moved" by the film.

"It was great, really great," said King's father, who also saw the movie in Atlanta. The Rev. Andrew Young, a top King lieutenant, said "I was able to appreciate his power, wisdom and eloquence even more."

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The events related in the following dispatch haven't happened yet, but stick around, folks...

WASHINGTON — The president of the United States went on strike today to protest the failure of Congress to pass the presidential pay bill.

The chief executive who is a member of the International Amalgamated Federation of Heads of State, walked off the job at 12:05 p.m. five minutes after Congress had adjourned for its Easter recess.

In Paris, French President Georges Pompidou, the union's shop steward, said the walkout was unauthorized and branded it a "wildcat strike."

Nevertheless, the heads of several other countries, including Pakistan, Hungary and Uganda, left their jobs in a display of sympathy and support of the U.S. president's action.

A White House First

The President's strike, which was the first White House work stoppage in history, came on the heels of a series of other governmental labor disorders, the most recent being the U.S. Supreme Court strike.

Upon leaving his office, the president began a one-man demonstration in front of the White House. He carried a sign reading "Augment President's Emolument-Now!"

Efforts to have the vice president fill in for the president during the strike collapsed when the vice president refused to cross the president's picket line.

The effect that the strike will have on the nation was not immediately clear, mainly because nobody seemed to know just what it is that a president does all day.

Could Cause Inconvenience

Observers here doubted the impact would be as great as in the secret strike by the Central Intelligence Agency or the recent Internal Revenue Service strike.

They agreed, however, that a prolonged presidential strike, lasting maybe two or three years, could be a major inconvenience.

For one thing, it would create a backlog of unsigned legislation, some of which might even be beneficial. In addition, as long as the President remains on strike there will be nobody around to answer the "Hot line" in case it rings.

Congress presumably will resume consideration of the presidential pay bill after the Easter recess. However, it probably will not have time to finish work on the measure before the Memorial Day recess.

Meanwhile, essential governmental services, such as mail deliveries, are expected to continue.

The Almanac
By United Press International
Today is Friday, March 27, the 86th day of 1970 with 279 to follow.

The moon is between its full phase and last quarter.

The morning star is Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1513, Ponce de Leon discovered the east coast of Florida in his search for the fountain of youth.

In 1939 Japan resigned from the League of Nations.

In 1941 regent Prince Paul of Yugoslavia was removed from office after agreeing to a military and economic pact with the Axis Powers.

In 1958 Nikita Khrushchev replaced Nikolai Bulganin as premier of the Communist party.

A thought for the day: British writer Thomas Babington MacAuley said, "Men are never so likely to settle a question rightly as when they discuss it freely."

AUSTIN (UPI) — A brief look at Wednesday's events in state government.

Funds Allocated

The governor's office announced the allocation of $100,000 in federal funds to the University of Texas School of Public Health at Houston for a pilot project to encourage former military medical personnel to enter civilian health services. The contract will be administered through the governor's office and will last a full year.

Leigh Named

Gov. Preston Smith named Houston accountant Weaver P. Leigh to the state Board of Public Accountancy.

Funds For Airstrip Sought

The City of Denison asked the State Parks and Wildlife Commission to build an airstrip at nearby Eisenhower State Park and to help construct an airstrip for the city. Sen. Ralph Hall, D-Rockwall, and Rep. Vernon Beckham, D-Denison, appeared before the commission to support the request by a group of Denison civic leaders.

Court Orders Reconsideration

The Texas Supreme Court ordered the Fort Worth Court of Civil Appeals to reconsider the amount of damages owed to a Wichita Falls couple whose furniture was seized and sold in a dispute with a loan company. Southwestern Investment Co. appealed a lower court ruling granting Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Neeley $700 in actual damages and $20,000 in exemplary damages.

Tours Drug Centers

LT. Gov. Ben Barnes leaves today on a two-day six-city tour of drug treatment and rehabilitation centers in Texas. Barnes, accompanied by officials of half a dozen state agencies, planned to tour facilities in Houston, Galveston, Huntsville, Dallas, Fort Worth and Terrell.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My father is very ill and we do not expect him to live more than a couple of months longer.

I have a very pretty navy blue suit. It has a straight skirt, and there are little gold buttons on the jacket. I plan to wear that to the funeral. I do not have anything suitable in black. My friends say that navy blue is not appropriate for a funeral. Do you think I should go out and buy a black outfit just for the funeral?

Also, I plan to wear a string of pearls at the viewing and also at the funeral. The pearls are a gift from my father and I am very proud of them. My friends say that jewelry is not appropriate. I would like your opinion.

ANONYMOUS, PLEASE
DEAR ANONYMOUS: Any dark dress or suit would be appropriate. And if, for sentimental reasons, you want to wear the pearls, wear them. In the meantime, don't spend too much time fretting about the outfit for your father's funeral. He may live.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 and Ron is 29. He's intelligent, handsome, successful, and could get married tomorrow if he wanted to.

We have practically gone steady for a year now, but get this, he doesn't want to even talk about marriage. He says he loves me, and I know I love him, but he says he doesn't know of one good marriage, and he's not about to spoil our "perfect romance" by marrying me. Have you ever heard of anything so ridiculous?

We have everything in common and get along beautifully. He tells me I'm free to date others, but I don't care to. Far as I know, I'm the only girl he dates. How can I get him to marry me? I'll do anything!

WANTS RON
DEAR WANTS: Ron is trying to tell you that he can't think of one good reason to marry you. And unless you can come up with one that makes sense to him, you'd better look elsewhere or contact yourself with

Agent Suggests Easter Season Ideas For Eggs

It wouldn't seem like Easter without eggs. As the holiday approaches, children begin to think of gaily colored eggs.

Choose eggs for Easter according to the ways they will be used. For eggs served poached, fried or cooked in the shell for Easter morning breakfast, use Grade A eggs. Priced for eggs make them an economical protein choice and low in cost per serving and per pound, according to Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County home demonstration agent.

If you have blown the eggs out of the shells, then use them for cake, custard or pudding. The raw eggs that are left over could be frozen and used at a later date.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

SATURDAY, MARCH 23: Your birthday Saturday: A period of adjustment toward improving environmental conditions begins now. There will be new people, many of them from quite different cultural background, who offer much mental and emotional stimulus. Collaboration takes on a more poignant meaning in your life.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Pleasure-seeking urges are stronger Saturday than ever. Tend your weekend chores early, get them out of the way so you are free to enjoy the spirit of Spring.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Check expenses, finish your shopping so that you can move about and see what has developed since you last had a good chance to look around.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Social activity runs to a peak, but this time with emphasis on togetherness, reconciliation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Make up for recent inconveniences by doing and sharing something special with your loved ones. Sentimental feelings rise and flourish.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Do not expect to get much work done; instead take an unofficial holiday, doing minimum weekend routines.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sep. 22): Romance is favored more strongly Saturday than other factors. Live and let live should be your motto. Where others let well enough alone, do likewise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Mental pursuits, planning tend to focus on revisions, applications of recent experience. Make amendments, apologies where they are due, or where they may help smooth the way toward better working relationships.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Financial affairs suddenly look more optimistic. Settle outstanding differences, odds and ends of accounts.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Exert yourself to stick with your regular weekend routines. Get more than a fair share of them done before you spend time on your favorite pastimes and hobbies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Generally improved relationships exist all around Saturday, depending on how fluent and flexible you have been lately.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): New friends, novel situations attract your attention. With any luck you are free to explore some fresh experiences with them.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): You who work Saturday can develop some fine, delicately balanced results; most Pisceans are apt to loaf now, with nothing of value to show for it later.

Nurserymen Suggest Summer Patio Fun

With another season for outdoor living on their minds, a lot of homeowners are taking a look at their patios. . . or the spot where they wish they had a patio. . . and wondering what improvements might be made.

Whether you're planning to improve your existing patio, or construct a new one, there are some fresh ideas suggested by American nurserymen. The easiest way to improve your outdoor living facilities, nurserymen say, is to plant for patio pleasure.

If you're constructing a new patio, plan it around an existing tree. An opening in the patio design for a tree or shrub will add beauty and coolness on summer days. If you will be improving the patio you already have, see if there isn't a way for you to plant a small tree within the patio design.

Avoid "messy" trees over the patio. Trees that drop flowers, shed bark, or have undesirable fruit will just be a bother.

A patio should have a wall or fence wherever it's needed to block out unsightly views; other than that, though, the fence or hedge should not be taller than one foot, because higher enclosures will have a confining effect. A low wall of shrubbery will set the patio apart from the rest of the yard without creating a sense of enclosure. Building or remodeling a patio gives a garden enthusiast the opportunity to let his imagination run wild. A curved flower bed, a wading pool, a little area of turf within the patio. . . these are just a few of the planting ideas you can experiment with. And if such permanent innovations are not practical, you can add charm with potted geraniums or other plants in containers.

Even the smallest home landscape has room for a patio.

Church Cuts Off Funds To Baptist Convention

AMARILLO (UPI) — Dr. Winfred Moore, pastor of Amarillo's First Baptist Church, said today he was not trying to create an uproar when he urged his church to cut off its contribution to the Southern Baptist Convention's Christian Life Commission.

The board of deacons and congregation, by heavy majorities, on Sunday did cut off the contribution because the Christian Life Commission invited a spokesman for Playboy Magazine to appear on a commission seminar in Atlanta, Ga.

"Our church was not trying to do any damage to anybody but to register in an approved way our protest of this type of seminar," Dr. Moore said.

"We have great admiration for our men there but disapproved of the way they used to get the gospel across. I said I had no doubt our professors would come out victorious in the debate with Playboy's representative."

Gave Them Forum

"But my complaint was that they gave to Playboy or anybody else of that philosophy a forum from which to speak."

Dr. Moore said he had had letters from a "few pastors" about his church's action but it had not created a great flap in the Southern Baptist Church.

Amarillo's First Baptist Church has 8,500 members and an annual budget of $1 million, out of which it gives $230,000 a year to the Southern Baptist Convention. Dr. Moore said about 7 of 1 per cent of the $230,000 goes to the Christian Life Commission.

The board of deacons first approved a resolution cutting off support to the commission with a few members objecting that the action might be too hasty. Then the membership approved the resolution.

Dr. Moore read the congregation a report on the forum, quoting the Playboy representative, Anson Mount, as telling the audience that the mission of his publication was to remind people that "sex can and ought to be fun."

"All these centuries almost everything the organized church has had to say about unmarried sex has been one word: 'Don't,'" Dr. Moore quoted Mount.

Dr. Moore said another speaker on the forum was the Rev. Joseph Fletcher, an Episcopal clergyman and exponent of situation ethics — which holds that a thing is right or wrong according to the circumstances.

Fletcher was quoted as saying: "I am prepared to argue that the Christian obligation calls for lies and adultery and fornication and theft and promise-breaking and killing sometimes, depending on the situation."

Local Church News

Immanuel Temple

The Singing Shells Gospel Team will sing for one night only, at the Immanuel Temple Church, 801 East Campbell St.

Rev. Henderson has announced that the Gospel Team will perform at the church on Saturday. The service will begin at 7:30.

Rev. Shelton, who heads the singing group, has been in evangelistic work for the past 13 years. He attended the Central Bible College in Springfield, Mo. and has attended two other colleges.

Rev. Farini, who also travels with the Gospel Team, received his training at Southwestern Bible College in Waxahachie, Texas. He has served as a pastor and evangelist for 8 years.

The Gospel Team has five long play albums and sings a wide variety of Gospel Music. They have traveled throughout the United States and Canada. The public is invited to attend and hear the Gospel Music and Message at the church Saturday night.

First Christian Church

Sunday Morning, the sermon topic will be "Vanishing Doubts." Scripture — John 20:24-30. Rev. Anglemeyer will bring the sermon with the choir providing special music.

Saturday at 7:00 a.m., the men of the church will have another fellowship breakfast. Persons attending are asked to notify the church office. The Pastor's Class will not meet this Sunday morning there will not be a Snack Supper or CLC Session Sunday evening.

First United Methodist

First United Methodist Church will observe Easter by encouraging its members to begin the day by attending the sunrise service in Aspen Park at 7:00 a.m. Following the sunrise service, the regular morning worship services will be held at 8:45 and 11:00 a.m. Dr. H. DeWitt Seago, pastor, will preach on the topic, "Victory Over Death" using as his text, Luke 24:1-9.

The music for both services will be identical with the Sanctuary and Youth choirs participating. The anthems are "Gloria In Excelsis" from Twelfth Mass by Mozart, and the "Hallelujah Chorus" by Handel. The choirs are under the direction of Mr. Morris Killie.

Tracy D. Cary, organist has chosen the following music for these services: Prelude: "Easter Prelude In Classic Style" by Gordon Young. Offertory: "In the End of the Sabbath" by Oley Speaks. Postlude: "Recessional At Notre Dame Cathedral" by Mallengreau. There will be no evening activities at the church.

Zion Lutheran Church

Zion Lutheran Church will commemorate the death of Jesus Christ with a Good Friday Worship Service with the celebration of Holy Communion tonight at 7:30 p.m. The Pastor, Rev. M. G. Herring, will deliver the Good Friday message. "Why Can't We Prize the Death of Jesus?"

The regular Sunday morning schedule will be followed at the church on Easter Sunday. Members will celebrate the resurrection of Christ in the worship service at 11:00 a.m. The Easter sermon, offered by Rev. Herring, will be, "Why Seek the Living Among the Dead?" Visitors and guests are welcome.

Hi-Land Pentecostal Holiness

Rev. J.B. Caldwell, pastor of the Hi-Land Pentecostal Holiness Church, 1800 N. Banks, has announced the performance of the Songsman Quartet of Amarillo at the 7:00 p.m. Sunday service.

Rev. Caldwell also said that Lloyd Sims, an Amarillo police officer, will speak to the congregation at the Wednesday evening service at 7:30.

Sunday school will begin at the church at 9:45 Easter morning. Worship services will be held at 11:00 a.m.

Christian Science Church

The differences between material theories and spiritual values are brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Reality," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

A Bible passage in the Responsive Reading is from Colossians: "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ."

One of the selections from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity or Truth, in its divine principle."

First Baptist Church

The Pastor, Rev. Dan B. Cameron, will be in the pulpit for the three services of worship Easter Sunday, in the First Baptist Church. The morning worship services will be at 8:30 and 11:00.

The Junior High Choir will occupy the choir loft and Miss Wanetta Bayless will sing a solo for the eight-thirty service. The Sanctuary Choir for the eleven o'clock worship service. David Campbell, Minister of Music will direct all the music. There is a special call to worship, "He Is Risen" by Sanborn, the choral worship number, "My Eternal King" by Marshall, and a solo, "The Holy City" by Mr. Campbell. Miss Eloise Lane, Organist, and Mrs. Amy Stewart, Pianist will play "Spring Bell Carol" by Lorenz for the offertory.

The Tuesday noon Bible study will be taught by the pastor from the fifth chapter of Daniel. The study is preceded by visitation beginning at 9:30 and a luncheon at noon.

The pastor will be in charge of the Wednesday evening Prayer Meeting at 6:15 and he will continue teaching the book of Matthew.

Faith 'or Easter

(Ephesians 2:8) "For by grace are ye saved through faith: and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God. This verse expresses that we are saved by grace but our faith must be expressed wholly in God's grace for it is by grace we are saved through personal faith in the God of all grace as revealed to us in His Son, Jesus Christ. "Without faith it is impossible to please Him."

The salvation that God's provision freely offers is for every individual, because God's grace is for every individual.

(2 Chronicles 30:8) "Yield Yourselves unto the Lord." (Romans 6:13) "Neither yield or surrender ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin," but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead."

When anyone allows his faith in God to weaken and his love to grow cold, he is well on his way toward yielding to Satan, and then to failure. God wants His redeemed people as individuals to know there is such a thing as missing the mark, and in many ways Satan works to destroy our faith in God.

Let us go forward to higher ground in faith, wisdom, virtue, knowledge, all of which are necessary to God's Kingdom.

There are many things in life which Satan would like to merge into the multitude of life's problems so that we might become lost in the crowd.

Do not surrender your God-given heritage in spiritual things. To do so can only lead to failure.

(Jude 1:3) "Ye should earnestly contend for the Faith which was once delivered unto the saints."

The Bible is the complete and infallible word of God and Jesus Christ, the risen Lord, is the all sufficient Saviour.

Now have faith in the risen Christ this Easter, let your life be changed as the winter grass and trees to the beautiful grass and trees of summer. Arise now by faith with the risen Christ.

Sad News Should Arrive
Pretty Soon To McLain

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Denny McLain gets the sad news pretty soon now. Probably inside the next 10 days, Bowie Kuhn, the baseball commissioner, has been conferring with the Justice Department regularly since suspending McLain a month ago. Kuhn has a strong sense of fairness and responsibility. He doesn't want to keep either McLain or the baseball public on the hook too long. He wants to get all the facts and by now he has. McLain may draw a year suspension, possibly even two, and no matter what the penalty is, he'll certainly be on probation afterward. If Kuhn has uncovered any evidence at all of McLain having bet on baseball games then Dennis is a goner. He'll be set down for life. Meanwhile, McLain keeps waiting for Kuhn's decision at his home here. He'll be 26 on March 29, Easter Sunday, and rather hopefully he says: "That's the day of the Resurrection, isn't it?" McLain never has ventured any kind of guess on how long he'll be out. If he's suspended for any length of time though he'll most likely accept some of the offers he has had to play the organ in various cities around the country. McLain looks back now and can understand a lot of things better. He knows some of the mistakes he made and keeps trying to find out the reasons for them. McLain is no dummy. He has a good IQ. A few weeks ago a group of people in Detroit began taking up a collection for McLain. When he found out about it, he called them, told them how much he appreciated what they had done and asked them to please turn the money over to charity. McLain directed part of the money be channeled to the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County in Michigan, the organization from which he and his wife, Sharyn, adopted their two boys; another portion be given to the March of Dimes and a third of the funds turned over to a program in Detroit set up to fight drug addiction. McLain is strapped for funds now and couldn't use the money. Some people wondered why he turned it over to charity and he answers that question this way: "Whatever difficulty I'm in now resulted from my using bad judgment. I did it myself and figure I have to get out of it myself. My wife and I were very moved by the people who took up that collection for me so we sat down and thought of what we could best do with the money. We decided finally,

Gil Hodges

Gil Hodges King Of New York Mets

By IRA BREKOWE
(First of Three Parts)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (NEA) — Gil Hodges sprang from the dugout and then began a walk that is both proud and strol. Everyone from fan to fielder on this wet Shea Stadium day figured the manager of the New York Mets was courting toward the mound to discuss his nine-run deficit and the Houston batters, particularly the one who had just whacked a ball which kept plopping from puddle to puddle as leftfielder Cleon Jones loped after it. Hodges walked past the pitcher, and then the thought was that Hodges was going to speak with the shortstop, Bud Harrelson. He walked past Harrelson, Hodges walked with large hands, characteristically curled as though carrying imaginary water buckets, and with a light bounce on the balls of his feet that is unusual for someone 6 feet tall and over 200 pounds and who is said to be so strong he could squeeze the eyebrows off a man. With a shrillness in his watery blue eyes, Hodges sloshed right up to Cleon Jones and wanted an account of that play, right now. Evenly, Hodges asked Jones why he did not chase that ball like a locomotive. Jones said he had a pulled thigh muscle. Hodges said, "Oh, in that case you're coming out of the game, Cleon." The two walked through the wet, under the gaze of the amazed crowd, and disappeared in the dugout. The incident took place in late June of last year, well before anyone seriously believed that the Mets, ninth place the season before, would do something as impossible as it was spectacular. Win the World Series and eventually endure a ticker tape parade down Broadway which, the Department of Sanitation noted, surpassed in whiteness the legendary Blizzard of '88. What followed that incident says a great deal for the success of Hodges the manager. Jones, the league's leading hitter at the time, could have sulked in his tent the rest of the season. He admits now he was embarrassed by the move and, for a time, resented Hodges for it. But Jones, upon returning to the lineup, contributed mightily to the team's triumphs. "He convinced me it was in the best interests of the team," said Jones. That was one part of it, how Hodges was able to keep Jones producing after mortification. Equally significant was that Hodges demonstrated he was no hypocrite. He says he has one set of rules for all players, stars or rinky-dinks, as substitute catcher J.C. Martin terms it, and the players, to a man, respect him for it.

It also demonstrated his ability to make decisions on the moment. "All season long," said infielder Wayne Garrett, "everything he did was right. He was like Houdini." This is the confidence the players have in him that surely has contributed importantly to a vital statistic. Since 1963, when he took over as manager of the Washington Senators and then in 1968 moved to the Mets, his teams have improved in the standings each succeeding season. It also showed the sporting public a side of Hodges that, though not altogether buried, was not commonly known. He could be stern. Hodges, from his days in the 1940s with the Dodgers, has always been the epitome of the "Nice Guy of Baseball," who has never been booted, whom Charley Dressen once offered $50 to please argue with an umpire. In the throes of a catastrophic batting slump during the 1952 World Series, Hodges received sympathetic comfort from a most unusual source. A Brooklyn priest told his parishioners one warm October Sunday. "It's too hot for a sermon. Go home, keep the Commandments, and say a prayer for Gil Hodges." Hodges, though, remembers when he has come into the clubhouse from a costly defeat, and threw and kicked and mashed a stool until it was reduced to nearly sawdust. "No man," said Hodges, "actually lives his image." (NEXT: The Ken Harrelson Report.)

Shannon Not Kidding Now
Baseball Future In Jeopardy

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Mike Shannon is the last of the red hot kidders. No matter where he is or what he's doing, he likes to kid somebody. His teammates with the St. Louis Cardinals all know that so they always kid him back. Mike Shannon isn't kidding around so much anymore today. He's a patient at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis, undergoing tests to determine the cause of a kidney disorder which has put his baseball future in jeopardy. The congenial 30-year-old third baseman, who has played in three World Series with the Cards, has thought over all the future possibilities since leaving their St. Petersburg, Fla., training site and entering the hospital last Monday. He thought them over on the plane that he, his wife, and five children came up on from Florida and he thought them over some more alone in his hospital room. "A lot of things go through your mind," says Mike Shannon. "You have to look at a lot of possibilities you never did before." Including the possibility of never coming back to baseball again?

"If you don't look at that one you're foolish," Shannon says. "Being in baseball, though, you get sort of used to the idea your career can end anytime, and with this thing now, I've thought about the possibility I might not come back. I'm going to have to wait and see the results of these tests they're taking. I want to come back. There's no doubt in my mind about that." Shannon's kidney trouble was discovered during a routine physical exam given all the Cardinals ballplayers. If he were given a clean bill of health and discharged from the hospital today, the earliest he could start playing again for the Cardinals would be June. That's because the condition he has requires rest and it would be at least two months before he could safely become regularly active again. The Cards have told Shannon not to try to rush back unduly, certainly not at the expense of his health. Whether he plays again or not, there will be a job for him, the Cards say. "When this is over, Bing Devine and I will sit down and talk about the future, I suppose," Shannon says. "I think I can make a contribution to baseball; to society, also." Meanwhile, it isn't a particularly good feeling for Mike Shannon to know his ball club is in Florida and he's in a hospital room in St. Louis.

New York Defeats Baltimore
Bullets In Double Overtime

NEW YORK (UPI)—The fabled "New York syndrome" is beginning to show signs of wear to Baltimore followers. It could crack tonight. It hasn't collapsed as far as the Knicks are concerned, but three times Thursday night defeat was just an instant away. The Knicks were extended to two overtime periods before they could edge the Bullets, 120-117, in the opener of the National Basketball Association Eastern Division playoff series. The teams meet in Baltimore tonight for the second game in their best-of-seven series. Last year, New York swept the Bullets four straight in a first-round matchup. The Mets and Jets have also beaten Baltimore teams for championships. Willis Reed's hook shot with 31 seconds remaining in the second extra session Thursday night broke a 117-all tie for the Eastern champions. The Knicks were too tired after the game to do much more than voice their appreciation of the magnificent defense put up by the Bullets. They all admired the courage of Kevin Loughery, playing with four fresh scars that covered surgery for the repair of four fractured ribs and a punctured lung. An aluminum corset protected the Bullets guard. The Knicks pointed to Reed, who required a shot of cortisone to kill the pain in his injured knee. Reed scored 30 points for New York. Fred Carter, with 21 points, and Earl Monroe, scoring a game-high 39 points, repeatedly penetrated the Knicks' defense. Wes Unseld gathered 31 rebounds and Gus Johnson 10 during the game. This board work was matched by Dave DeBussche 24 rebounds and Reed's 30. In the only other NBA playoff action tonight, Milwaukee again hosts Philadelphia at Dane County Coliseum in Madison, Wis. In the Western Division, champion Atlanta hosts Chicago Saturday night and the second place Los Angeles entertains Phoenix Sunday.

Rice Owls
Win Two
From Tech

By United Press International
The Rice Owls combined pitching and power to take both ends of a doubleheader from Texas Tech and Texas Christian Conference record Thursday by handing another loss to hapless Southern Methodist. All seven Southwest Conference teams were in action Thursday. Conference teams won four of five interleague games with Texas A&M's 3-1 loss to Minnesota in the first of two games the only defeat. Texas defeated Phillips twice and Baylor edged Pan American in the other games. Tech and Rice finish their current series today in Houston and Baylor entertains Lamar Tech in a doubleheader while all the other league teams begin their Easter vacations. Sophomore Donnie Brogna pitched a four hit shutout in the first game against Texas Tech which Rice won 7-0. Rice opened up the contest in the very first inning on back-to-back triples, two singles and a sacrifice fly. Dennis Alexander hit a bases loaded triple in the fourth inning and David Hilton added an insurance run with a leadoff homer in the sixth and Rice went on to win the nightcap 6-4. TCU scored a run in the top of the first, added another in the second and then coasted behind the six hit pitching of Rod Monahan to defeat SMU 2-0. Glenn Monroe and Jimmy Torres drove in the game's only runs. Nati Salazar used chiefly as a relief specialist for the Longhorns, pitched a shutout in his first start of the season as Texas dumped Phillips College 6-0 in the first of two games. Tommy Harmon's homerun was the game's big blast. In the second inning of the nightcap, Texas sent 14 men to the plate and scored all its runs then let Walt Rothe pitch his way to an 8-3 victory. With Pan American leading 2-1, Bart Bratcher tied the score in the fourth with a homerun and Bill Dykes singled home John Dodgen with the bases loaded to give Baylor its narrow 3-2 win.

Menne Leads Airline
MIAMI (UPI)—The book "Psychocybernetics" seems to hold the answer for two of the leaders of the rain-soaked National Airlines golf tournament, both claiming to be fighting bad mental approaches to their game. Eob Menne, who led the $200,000 tournament by two strokes going into today's second round after blasting a course record eight-under-par 64, gave the book to George Johnson, two weeks ago. And Johnson, playing hours after Menne, shot a 66 on the par-72 course to tie R. H. Sikes for second, two strokes ahead of a pack of five golfers with 68.

Cuellar Pitches Orioles Past Washington Senators

By United Press International
Mike Cuellar, a 23-game winner with a 2.38 ERA last season, ignored the tornado alert and breezed through his first nine-inning stint of the spring by pitching the Baltimore Orioles to a 2-0 victory over Washington, while the tornado turned out to be merely a constant drizzle. He gave up a run in the third inning and a leadoff homer to Tom Greve in the fourth, but limited the Senators to only seven hits while the Orioles rapped losing pitcher Dick Bosman and two relievers, George Brunet and Darold Knowles, for 10 hits. Elrod Hendricks led the Oriole attack with a double and single to knock in three runs. All other games in Florida were rained out. At Scottsdale, Ariz., Rob Santo drove in three runs with a homer and a single as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Oakland A's, 9-2. Ken Holtzman pitched seven innings for the Cubs and gave up only six hits and one earned run and Johnny Callison matched Santo's three RBIs with a single and a triple. At Tempe, Ariz., Marty Patin and John Geinar combined for a three-hitter as the Seattle Pilots downed Cleveland, 2-1, and the California Angels tripped San Diego, 6-3, at Palm Springs, Calif. Three hits by Bill Voss and two each by Sandy Alomar and Marty Perez triggered California's attack while Rudy May worked the first six innings to earn the victory. The San Francisco Giants found the most favorable playing conditions in Nagoya, Japan, where 17,300 enthusiastic fans turned out to see the Giants' 5-0 victory over the Chunichi Dragons. Jim Gosger belted a pinch-hit homer and Ken Henderson hit a two-run homer to give San Francisco its third victory in seven games against Japanese competition.

FORM CHARTS

21—Houston, NL West
By MARTY RALBOVSKY,
NEA Sports Writer
PROSPECTUS — No matter what they say about Harry Walker and his opinions he did have the Astros in contention most of last season. Addition of Joe Peptone will live things up even more, but it remains questionable whether or not Texas is big enough for both him and Walker at the same time. If Peptone comes through, Astros will be formidable. If not? Well, Houston did beat the Mets 10 out of 12 times last year. PITCHING—Larry Dierker was 20-13 last year with 2.33 ERA. At 23, still far from prime, Don Wilson (16-12) is No. 2 and behind him is Denny Lemaster, who had a 13-17 problem year. Tom Griffin (11-10) and Jim Ray (8-2) round out rotation bullpen has Jack DiLauro, acquired from the Mets; Dan Osinski, from the White Sox, and Fred Gladding. Also in picture, somewhere, is Jim Bouton, with knuckle ball. Rating — B-. CATCHING—Johnny Edwards carried the load last year and hit only .232. Look for rookies Marty Cott and Bob Watson to start being groomed. Rating — C. INFIELD — With Peptone at first, infield is solid. Pept had some problems in New York last season (off the field) and slipped to .242. Still had 27 HRs, though, and is not yet 30.

Walker Peptone

Dennis Menke (268) stays at short Joe Morgan (.234, 15 HRs) at second and Doug Rader (.247, 11 HRs) at third. Hector Torres is the spot man. Rating — B. OUTFIELD—Strong front line: Jesus Alou (.248), Jimmy Wynn (.269 with 33 HRs) and Tommy Davis (last addition last year from Seattle) across the board. Little depth, however. Only utilityman is Norm Miller (2.64) or if any rookies make this team, they'll make it in the outfield. Rating — E. TOP ROOKIES — Ed Armbrister, Cesar Cedeno, Rich Chiles, Cesar Geronimo and Jay Schuster get locks in outfield. First baseman John Mayberry has impressive minor league credentials; so does pitcher Buddy Harris. Prediction: 3rd in NL West.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Population Control

In the belief that Americans will not get serious about this matter of controlling their numbers until their pocketbooks are affected, Sen. Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore., has written a bill which would limit personal federal income tax exemptions to three children in any family. The bill, which if passed would become law after Jan. 1, 1973, and would apply only to children born after that date, would allow an exemption of $1,000 for a family's first child, $750 for the second and $500 for the third — a total of $2,250. This is the same amount a family with three children will be able to deduct in 1973 under present law, when the exemption of $900 per child goes up to $750. However, present law places no limit on the number of exemptions.

The object of Packwood's legislation — population control — may be desirable, but the utility of it is highly questionable. If income governed a family's decisions as to the number of children it had, the poorest parents would always have the fewest children. This has historically never been true. In fact, the opposite is the case and is a complex matter of ignorance, religious or ethnic tradition and lack of accessibility to birth control information.

Not only this, but families which have the most children are thus entitled to the most exemptions and generally have incomes so low that the exemptions are meaningless. To remove the exemptions would be equally meaningless.

Taking a position 180 degrees away from Packwood is someone like Maxwell S. Stewart, a writer on social and economic issues, who advocates a program of children's allowances, payable to all children regardless of their family size or income. At least 62 other countries, including every country in Europe as well as Canada, Australia and New Zealand,

Politics In Pollution

Human activity, life itself, is not possible without some degree of pollution. The act of breathing alone, pollutes the atmosphere. When energy is expended, whether it be the energy of the human body and mind, or that produced by the consumption of our various energy-producing fuels, some degree of environment-contaminating pollution is inevitable.

Therefore, the increasing talk of "eliminating pollution" via the injection of massive doses of governmental spending, matched by just as massive doses of governmental coercion and force, is uninformal.

Just what is an acceptable level of pollution? Frankly, we do not know; or is it likely that anyone does. Obviously, with over 200 million people now inhabiting this country, the levels of environmental pollution occurring during the early, transitional stages of the industrial revolution are no longer acceptable.

But, that stage of the industrial revolution, now being hastened by an aroused public opinion, is already on the way out. Increasingly, this is the day of the "clean" factory and relatively speaking, "non-polluting" foundry and mill.

The simple truth is that the trend toward cleaner industrial activity was brought about, for the most part, by economic considerations and has been going

H. L. Hunt Writes

WHY SUBSIDIZE REVOLUTIONARIES?

The Chicago Tribune recently disclosed that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has given more than $1 million during the past two years to the revolutionary Student Health Organization (SHO).

SHO describes itself as a "refuge for left-of-center health student activists." A recent newsletter was dedicated to Ho Chi Minh and had a picture of Che Guevara on the cover.

This same newsletter contained a story entitled "Castro's Revolutionary Medicine" and quotations from Mao Tse-tung. In another newsletter, SHO stated: "We should try to understand, relate to, and work with other revolutionary groups... we should start working closer with the largest of these organizations, the Students for a Democratic Society."

The HEW grants were given to the group for the supposed purpose of conducting "health surveys." Instead, several of the SHO members who received the money organized demonstrations during the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Another, who received a salary of $120 a week from HEW to act as an "area coordinator," is under indictment for mob action and aggravated battery.

Another "coordinator" on the HEW payroll has stated: "We must prepare ourselves and the masses for armed struggle. People in our organization should be prepared to defend themselves and to use all the weapons necessary for revolutionary struggle."

Senator Strom Thurmond expressed the views of many citizens when he said: "This is a gross distortion of HEW's mission and a perversion of our responsibility to the taxpayers." This subsidy benefited no one except the destructive elements in our society. We can't help those in need by giving money to groups who aim to destroy our Republic.

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

A feller asked me, "Do you have a second car?"

"Sure I have," I told him; "if the Blouse & Skirt needs the car to go some place she uses it first — I get it second."

Which brings up the question of the administration's new welfare plan. If you need a second car, a home freezer or air conditioner, you may pay to have one delivered — not to you, but to one of America's 12 million "new" welfare "clients"...

The Nixon administration has reversed itself on the pledge to eliminate present welfare programs. The new program is not "instead of" but "in addition to." Another 12 million will qualify for welfare — on top of the 10 million who are on welfare now.

The added cost is $10 billion, or $275 a year in additional taxes for the little working feller. That is the price of a TV or air conditioner. And it will have to be paid...

Under this new programme, there would be no residency requirements, no investigation and no need to account for the way the welfare money is spent!

And what is the condition of those who are "presently" welfare "clients"? A U.S. Chamber of Commerce report shows this: Among families regarded as at the poverty level, 4 in 5 had TV sets and 50 per cent had both TV and private telephones!

Three of four "poor" folks had washing machines, one in five owned a home freezer and one in seven had just bought a car!

Do you want to deliver one of those appliances gratis to 12 million more people? If your congressman likes the idea, then you will have to...

Wit And Whimsy

Mr. Bass — Senator, many of your constituents can't understand from your speech last night just how you stand on the question.

Senator Blank—Fine! It took me eight hours to write it that way.

The Coup In Cambodia May Cause Trouble For Hanoi

By RAY CROMLEY, Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For decades in Cambodia several families have vied for economic power. They have made favorable economic deals with the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong. They have connections with French and Italian international commercial organizations.

Opponents have accused them of making millions through political corruption. The men who reportedly engineered the Cambodian coup represent rival families.

For one, this group is understood to have close economic connections with the Cambodian Chinese merchant community. (The connection is economic, not political. Most local Chinese are businessmen, not Peking agents).

The Chinese merchants compete bitterly with the local North Vietnamese middlemen. There is some reason to believe the "coup" in Cambodia was set off by these economic rivalries.

There are 300,000 to 600,000 North Vietnamese settlers in Cambodia. These Vietnamese are the middlemen in much of Cambodia's rice and fish trade in the villages.

They're hated by Cambodia's farmers, who compare their own poor living with that of the Viet. The situation is not unlike that in Sukarno's Indonesia, where Chinese, as middlemen, were so hated that many who were not Communist nevertheless died in the anti-Communist purges.

On the whole, these North Vietnamese residents, and the

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Seek Underlying Cause In Asthmatic Cases
Q — Our son, 5, has asthma and is taking cortisone. Can he take this drug regularly without any bad side effects? Is there any other treatment for this disease?

A — Although cortisone helps most asthmatics, it is only a stopgap. Prolonged use may cause peptic ulcer, moonface and bleeding into the skin. Antihistamines also give temporary relief but the cause should be found so that your son can avoid it or take desensitizing injections.

Q — If a child has an allergy to a pet, is there any way to keep the pet without harming the child?

A — Desensitization to the offending animal dandruff helps some but not all asthmatics. It may build up enough immunity to permit the child to be in a room where the pet has been but rarely enough to permit close contact with the pet.

Q — My child is allergic to dogs but I have heard that such a child can have a poodle without getting an asthmatic attack. Is this true?

A — All animals shed dandruff, which is the offending allergen. For a definite answer to one individual's allergy, however, a brief trial exposure to a poodle could be arranged but be sure to have some antihistamine tablets handy in case an attack of asthma occurs.

Q — My son, 5, can sing the alphabet song perfectly but he can't recognize the letters when he sees them. Should he repeat kindergarten as his teacher suggests?

A — If your son does not have a visual defect he may be dyslexic, a formidable term to describe reading difficulty. Such a child often shows no preference for his right or left hand and his eye dominance may be equally uncertain. When neither half of the brain is dominant, skill in language and especially reading develops slowly.

When a diagnosis of dyslexia is made before a child is 7, treatment to promote the development of one-sided dominance and special training in reading may bring him up to the level of his schoolmates. Repeating kindergarten may be a necessary part of the treatment but this in itself is not enough.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

Voice Of God In The Night

By DR. BOB JONES

The Voice of God came in the night to the child Samuel, calling his name. Thinking it was the voice of Eli, the priest, his Master, Samuel ran to the old man saying, "Here am I!" (I Samuel 3:5). "I called not. Lie down again," said Eli. Three times the Lord called, and three times Samuel went to Eli. The fourth time, following the instruction of the priest who knew it was God's voice the lad was hearing, Samuel said, "Speak; for Thy servant heareth."

The Lord knew Samuel's name. Samuel had been given by God to a praying mother who asked God for a son. He was God's lad, dedicated to His service. God always knows His own by name.

Jesus Christ, the Good Shepherd, speaking to His disciples a parable about a shepherd said, "he calleth his own sheep by name" (John 10:3). No harm can reach the sheep under the protection of their shepherd; no man can pluck them from his care, but best of all he knows them each by name.

The grief-stricken woman beside the empty tomb, thinking Him the gardener, said, "Tell me where thou has laid Him"

(John 20:15). He calls her name, "Mary," and she recognizes her risen Lord in the sound of His voice speaking her name.

The doubting disciple refuses to believe the truth of the resurrection until he beholds and handles the living Lord. The voice of the Saviour invites him by name, "Thomas, reach hither thy finger... and reach hither thy hand" (John 20:27); and his doubts are laid at rest.

The disciple whose heart is heavy with the sin of his denial stands in the mists of early morning on the beach as the Lord questions him three times by name, "Simon... lovest thou Me?" (John 21:6); and fellowship between the disciple and his Master is established as Simon Peter responds with profession of his love.

He knows His own by name. He is intimately acquainted with each individual. He knows the fears and the sorrows of each. He speaks to the listening heart. He calls each one by name, "and the sheep follow Him: for they know His voice" (John 10:4).

Soviet Economy Faces Dismal Year

JOHN GOLDSMITH

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — A dismal year for the Soviet economy has produced new strains and stresses inside the Kremlin's ruling hierarchy.

That is the current view of top Kremlinologists here. Even if it does not herald one of those convulsive upheavals in Russia's top echelon leadership, this appraisal could have important implications for the United States.

The slow pace of the Soviet economy has not been a secret, of course. Experts say, however, that the degree of the slowdown has not been adequately reported. In the words of one top Kremlinologist, it has been "a terrifically bad economic year."

A report, presently being drafted by a Congressional committee with help from government experts, is soon to declare that Russia's economic growth, as measured by the gross national product — the value of goods and services produced — was at one of the lowest rates in modern history during 1969.

By this year, 1970, the Soviet Union was to have overtaken the United States in production of meat and milk, according to the boastful predictions of deposed leader Nikita S. Khrushchev. Clearly, that has not occurred.

Consumer goods of all kinds are still scarce. The Soviet economy is faltering. Experts here agree with assessments, recently published abroad, that this has created problems for the Kremlin clique headed by Leonid Brezhnev and Alexei Kosygin.

Younger men, a rung or two down the party ladder, are understood to entertain the idea that they can do as well, or better, than the old Communists now at the top of the heap.

SHAKE-UP IMMINENT? — For the present at least, experts here discount reports abroad that a Kremlin shake-up is imminent. They know of nothing to support that aspect of recent speculation from Prague and Vienna recently echoed in Paris.

It must be noted however that the intelligence community, here and elsewhere in the West, has never been notably successful in predicting the changing of the palace guard in the Kremlin.

Certainly, there has been a shift in emphasis by top experts here. Last summer they were saying that events such as the Sino-Soviet border hostilities and the receding aftermath of the crisis in Czechoslovakia were taking the heat off the Brezhnev-Kosygin ruling elite.

At that time it was being said that a Kremlin power shift must be viewed as a strong possibility — but in 12 to 18 months. The sluggish performance of the Russian economy was advanced, then, as a factor which could help bring it about.

Now are the economic difficulties the only ones which now demand the urgent attention of the current Kremlin leaders. There are difficulties also in the continuing unrest among intellectuals and among minority groups.

SALT PROGNOSIS — Even if the current stresses produce no obvious results in Moscow, the present situation may tend to dim certain U.S. hopes. The strategic arms limitation talks, scheduled to resume next month in Vienna, are a case in point.

In advance of those talks, the Kremlin's propagandists have been sharply criticizing the ABM, multiple warheads, U.S. Policy and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird. Such polemics did not take place during the first 10 weeks of the salt talks in Helsinki.

There is some disposition here to feel that the Russians are seeking every advantage now because they really intend to do some hard bargaining in Vienna and want to have world opinion on their side. There is a certain logic in that view.

Russia, like the United States, is hearing a heavy burden of defense expenditures. Decreased spending for missiles — a reordering of priorities in Moscow — would help Brezhnev and Kosygin put consumer goods in the shops and spur the lagging economy.

Unfortunately, however, Western-style logic has not often distinguished decision making in the Kremlin. Moreover, Moscow leaders under pressures from below, may not be anxious to take bold steps toward disarmament or any other logical goal.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: — What is the difference between the Freedom Philosophy and Objectivism?

ANSWER: We would suppose the principal difference between the freedom philosophy as espoused by Freedom Newspapers and a great many other students of liberty and the Ayn Rand program which she calls Objectivism is in the emphasis.

Both advocate individual liberty, respect for private property, and laissez-faire capitalism. The philosophy of freedom as we discuss it means self-responsibility, self-reliance and voluntary association by individuals to accomplish what they believe to be good.

Much of the same can be said for Objectivism. One point where we differed with Miss Rand was over whether one has a "right" to seek a government scholarship or other government grant of tax funds which are extracted by force from others. We contend that it is wrong, and that to the extent that one seeks largesse from forcibly collected taxes, he loses the right to oppose others seeking funds taken by force from others. Miss Rand and her supporters at one time contended that an individual was entitled to seek to "recover" some of the tax money forcibly taken from him. We believe that had anything to give. Since the government must take from others to give one a scholarship or a handout, seeking an additional subsidy seems to us as perpetuating the evil system, even extending it.

Another separation between many freedom philosophers and Miss Rand has been in the matter of religion. Miss Rand has attacked the beliefs of many in a supreme being as mysticism, as if they were wrong. We defend the right of individuals to believe in any way they want — even to be wrong in their beliefs. We believe most truly religious persons have accepted standards of morality to guide them which will help them to avoid injuring their fellowmen.

Some believers in the freedom philosophy believe Miss Rand's ideas on sexual freedom as indicated in "Atlas Shrugged" and other of her writings does not place a strong enough emphasis on individual responsibility and respect for the marriage contract. One teacher of the freedom philosophy said he would not advocate a study of Objectivism until after the student first understood the necessity of total responsibility for his acts and the necessity, for his own good, of avoiding indiscriminate sexual activities.
