Congress Convenes For Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Democratic controlled 91st Congress returned for its second session today to face an immediate political struggle with President Nixon on school aid and inflation.

The House and Senate meeting at noon, also were geared for later election-year tests on hot issues from street crime to the draft.

Nixon will deliver to a joint session Thursday his first formal report on the State of the Union. Lawmakers speculated he will propose a narrowly balanced budget for the new fiscal year with little room for legislative innovation.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he would call up at once a $19.7 billion money bill for the Labor and the Health, Education and Welfare departments which Nixon has promised to veto as costing too much.

In the House, only minor bills were on the first week's agenda, but the Ways and Means Committee was starting secret consideration of Nixon's proposed welfare reforms.

Members said Nixon's plan for guaranteed minimum income for poor working people faced nearly impossible odds, partly because it would double current $5 billion annual welfare expenses.

Other major Nixon proposals on postal reform, voting rights, the end of most college deferments from the draft, and a new attack on organized crime also face tough opposition.

Heaviest Casualties For South Since Nov.

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist troops, using a pellet-spewing directional mine, ambushed a South Vietnamese officer candidate company at the edge of Saigon today, killing 18 men and wounding 35 others.

It was the heaviest casualties for South Vietnamese forces in a single action since Nov. 18 when the Viet Cong killed 53 in one battle.

Terrorists killed two children in a grenade attack on a South Vietnamese elementary school, communiques said and Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shelled 30 allied posts across the country overnight, wounding 27 Americans.

The reports of new action came as Allied military sources said the Viet Cong had begun conscripting children as young as 9 years old in what the sources saw as a reflection of a severe Communist manpower crisis.

The South Vietnamese were ambushed near a training ground 10 miles north of Saigon and near the government Thy Duc Infantry School. The attack killed 16 officer candidates along with an officer instructor and a civilian. The wounded included 34 cadets and an officer instructor.

Terrorists threw grenades into a grade school at Thanh Quyet, nine miles south of the northern coastal city of Da Nang today. The explosions killed two students and wounded 13 others.

Military spokesmen said in a weekly report the number of American servicemen in South Vietnam totaled 465,200 as of

Jan. 15, compared with 467,500 on Jan. 8.

U.S. infantrymen killed 29 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Sunday in four battles in two areas of South Vietnam.

Leader Sure Biafrans Well-Treated

LAGOS, Nigeria (UPI) — Secretary General Thant conferred with Gen. Yakubu Gowon for two hours today and said afterwards he was satisfied defeated Biafrans were being treated well by federal soldiers.

Thant, who passed up a trip to visit a refugee camp, flew to New York shortly after concluding his talks with Gowon. The Burmese diplomat planned a brief stop in Paris on his way back to New York.

Senator Says Lee H. Oswald Had Assistance

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said today he never believed that Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President John F. Kennedy without at least some encouragement from others.

Russell, a member of the Warren Commission that investigated the assassination, said however that he did not have "the slightest doubt" that it was Oswald who fired the fatal shots in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963.

"If there was any one thing that was conclusive it was that Oswald fired the shot," Russell said, but he added: "I never did believe that he did it without any consultation or any encouragement whatsoever."

Mormons Mourn Loss Of Seer

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (UPI) — The world's nearly three million Mormons mourned today the death of their prophet, seer and revelator, President David O. McKay. McKay, president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints since April 9, 1961, died early Sunday in his Hotel Utah apartment. He was 96.

Death was attributed by his physician, Dr. Allen T. McFarlane, to acute congestion of the heart. He had suffered from heart and kidney failures for several months and lapsed into a coma shortly after midnight. He died at 6 a.m. Sunday.

His wife of 69 years, Emma, 95, was at his bedside as were most of their seven children.

Three Youths Implicated In Rash Of Burglaries

Burglary charges were expected to be filed today on an 18-year-old Pampa and a 20-year-old Pampa in connection with burglaries last week in Lefors.

Gray County Deputy D. L. Day said this morning he would file charges against Cecil Ray Williams, 18, and Harold Jay Whittely, 20, for the burglary of Malt Shop and Lefors High School Thursday night.

Officers hope to clear up, they said, several other burglaries, one in Lefors, one in McLean and two in Pampa.

A safe at Houston Lumber Co., 420 W. Foster, was ripped open sometime between 12 noon Saturday and 10:15 a.m. Sunday and $300 in money taken.

Late Wednesday night or early Thursday a safe at Elks Lodge, 1533 N. Hobart, was stolen and had $374.70 in it. The safe or money has not been found.

Also burglarized in Lefors was White's Texaco service station and Wink's Garage in McLean reported a burglary.

A 16-year-old Pampa youth, who Pampa police say admitted the Lefors burglaries and im-pllicated both Whittely and Williams, will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Whittely and Williams were arrested about 12:31 a.m. Sunday by officer John O'Neil and charged with minor in possession. Both were fined $30 each today in Municipal Court then taken to the sheriff's office.

Pampa policeman Stan Brown said in a report he went to the 16-year-old youth's home and talked with him about the burglaries. Brown said the youth told him and the youth's mother that he had taken part in the burglaries along with Whittely and Williams.

Brown said the youth said he knew nothing of the two safe burglaries.

A search of a pickup driven by Williams, according to Brown's report, yielded a pair of pliers identified as taken in the Lefors school burglary.

Brown said that Whittely gave officers his permission to search his apartment and 1,500 pennies were found in two different jars. The pennies are believed to have been taken in the burglary at the Malt Shop.

Also found in Whittely's apartment was a bank deposit bag containing $19 in cash and two rolls of dimes believed taken at the Malt Shop.

In the break-in at Houston Lumber Co. burglaries entered the building through a west side window, pulled the safe off its wood base and dragged it into the bathroom.

Tools owned by the company was then used to rip open the bottom of the safe and the money taken. Left behind was several checks and a $100 bill and some change.

New Justice Appointment Announced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House has informed Federal Circuit Judge G. Harold Carswell of Tallahassee, Fla., he will be appointed to the Supreme Court, UPI was told today.

Carswell has been prominently mentioned for the vacancy, created when Abe Fortas resigned last May under fire for his financial association with financier Louis Wolfson, convicted of selling unregistered securities.

A White House aide telephoned Carswell, 50, several days ago to inform him he had been picked, UPI was told. "He was told just to sit tight and make no statement about the nomination," a source said.

Carswell did just that, telling reporters in Tallahassee that "It would be highly inappropriate for me to make any comment of any nature" on reports of the appointment.

Nixon named Carswell, a former federal district judge, to the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals seven months ago. The court handles cases in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas.

Choir Students Qualify For State Honors

Four Pampa High School Concert Choir students qualified for All-State Choir in auditions held Saturday in Coronado High School, Lubbock, according to a very proud director Bill Davis.

Finalists were Randy Cantrell, tenor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Cantrell, 412 Lowry; Jeret Pitts, first alto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Pitts, 4701 Chestnut; Mark Turner, baritone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Turner, 2225 Duncan; John Duggan, baritone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Duggan, 1601 Hamilton.

Three alternates named were Mimi Miller, Cynthia Carter, and Beverly Cantwell.

The finalists will be presented in concert, along with other state winners from Regions 1, 6, and 16, at the Texas Music Educators Clinic to be held in Dallas Feb. 12-14.

"We feel very fortunate and quite proud," Davis said. "We took nine students to Lubbock Saturday; four of them were finalists and three were alternates."

Fire Department Has New Fire Prevention Program

By ALETHA DAVIS, News Staff Writer

The Pampa Fire Department has announced plans to sponsor a year-round fire prevention program which will be supported by newspaper, radio, insurance agencies, civic clubs, school officials, city officials and citizens.

In programming the new effort, Fire Chief Finis Dyer has issued a plea to all residents to become fire conscious and follow the safety outline to prevent Pampans or their homes or businesses from becoming one of the grim statistics.

As a guideline for safety,

"Ten Commandments of Fire Prevention" has been issued.

(1) I shall not let anyone in my house use gasoline for cleaning purposes.

Each year 47 per cent of home fires are caused by this practice.

(2) I shall not burn trash on a windy day, or too close to any building.

In this area wind is a very definite problem. Firemen urge people to heed this warning. The city has an ordinance which prohibits burning trash in a container at any time, and the State law, effective in April 1969, prohibits burning rubbish at any time. So, in effect, this commandment should read "I shall not burn rubbish".

(3) I shall see that all electric appliances and extension cords in my house are kept in a safe condition.

A large part, 14.3 per cent of home fires are attributed to this cause. Overloaded circuits and worn wiring should be replaced. Never try to repair a worn cord.

(4) I shall not let oily rags and paper collect in and around my house.

Spontaneous ignition from cleaning rags and mops each year are responsible for 3.6 per cent of fires in homes.

(5) I shall see that all matches are kept out of reach of small children.

Children and matches are trouble when they team up for play. Four per cent of fires are credited to this association.

(6) I shall see that no one smokes in bed in my home.

A whopping 19.1 per cent of fires in the home, not to list the deaths and injuries, each year are caused by this dangerous practice.

(7) I shall not let drapes or curtains hang too close to heaters in my home.

Drapes and heaters offer trouble. 1.5 per cent of fires are credited to this practice.

(8) I shall locate the second exit to any public building I enter.

This practice can avoid a rush to the main exit in the event of a fire. It takes only seconds to glance around any auditorium or hall that you enter. . . and it may save your life to be aware of the exit locations.

(9) I shall impress my friends of the danger of turning in false alarms.

Each year thousands of false alarms are turned in as a prank, pulling the fire fighting equipment and personnel away from the station and leaving the public with a shortage of protection in the event a legitimate call is turned in.

(10) I shall promote the necessity of fire prevention when and wherever I can.

This is the endeavor of the local fire fighting department.

"The object of the department is to protect life and property. Through the announced plan it expects to minimize the loss of life and damage to property by preventing fires from occurring through removing or eliminating fire hazards. To do this, it must make the public constantly aware of the hazards of fire in the home and business and to help rid property of fire hazards," Dyer said.

The fire department is of course, called when a fire occurs, but the fire chief emphasizes the department is here for other reasons too.

"Inspection is one of the most important functions performed by the department,"

he said. "We encourage citizens to check for hazards first, then call the department for a check team which will come to the home or business at anytime throughout the year for inspection."

"Fire inspection can and has reduced the damage caused by fire."

Special attention will be given to churches, schools, hospitals, convalescent homes, child care homes, theaters and other places where large groups of people assemble.

A report will be made on each inspection. Any hazards will be listed and the owner of the property notified. A reasonable time for correction will be allowed before re-inspection is made.

TUESDAY, JAN. 20
Your birthday Tuesday: Now you begin a long series of difficult but very rewarding readjustments to correct past errors. Many of you will be pulling back from deadends to favorable points from which to make a fresh start. The keyword for the coming year is persistence and diplomacy. The Sun changes from tropical signs Capricorn to Aquarius Tuesday at 6:25 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Pick up the pieces from Monday's dealings and proceed in high good humor. Cash transactions are quick and easy.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your workmates, friends, and neighbors offer more cooperation now. Proceed on the assumption that all is well and going to get better.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Ask for a raise, apply for a scholarship, enter a competition, something up-reaching that fits your situation. Put in a full day campaigning for what you feel is due you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Family and related enterprises should begin to show progress, profit. Take a strongly individual approach to business matters.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Alert is the word for Tuesday. Stay up on your feet pursuing your career, seeking better connections. Interesting information can be had by chance conversation.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Now is the time to get your facts, figures, records, papers straight. Do the expedient rather than the theoretical. Pace yourself for a rather long day, possibly overtime. Seek a broader point of view.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): A big emotional "secret" exists somewhere amongst your family. Tuesday is as good a time as any to figure what it may be. Everybody around you takes the initiative; let them, there's nothing to contend over.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your keen sense of purpose and motivation leads you to fairly drastic actions. Be sure you are right and make a Clean sweep of it. Have fun at night without bringing in the day's shop talk.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Improvement of connections or new promising contacts characterize the day. Be firm in your bargaining.

for an extra cash advantage. The evening holds a pleasant surprise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Now you have a brief chance to profit from the results of your diligent labor. Make full use of every opportunity. Sociable inclinations prevail.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): What you decide Tuesday is crucially important for your future. If your plans are not developed enough for decisions now, you may have to adjust your goals somewhat to fit what the world demands of you.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Quite a number of things you've been searching for are now available. Take the trouble to check prices and quality.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Marriage is one of the most important decisions a person has to make in his life, right? So why shouldn't a person take as much pains in selecting a mate as he would in hiring an employee? I mean, no one in his right mind would hire anyone until he checked his references, and found out if he quit his last job or was fired.

Also, he would like to know something about his habits, disposition, ability to get along with others, etc.

What I am getting at is this, I think every person who is considering marrying a divorced person should sit down with that person's ex-mate and have a long talk with him. One could learn more just listening for an hour than living with someone for a year.

PRACTICAL: Your idea would never work. When a marriage is considered, the candidates are looking at the world (and each other) through rose-colored glasses, which they would be reluctant to discard in favor of a magnifying glass. Also, though some divorcees are more civilized than others, few part "friends," and one wouldn't expect to get an impartial reference from an enemy. And lastly, one woman's leftovers can be another woman's banquet.

DEAR ABBY: I am planning to marry in exactly four weeks. My future husband is everything a woman would want in a man, but there is one thing that is upsetting me.

I am of the opinion that once the wedding date has been set, all past "ties" with old friends should be broken. He, on the other hand, has different ideas. He sees nothing wrong with keeping in touch (by letter) with one woman in particular.

What do you think?

DESPERATE: You sound desperate as well as possessive and faddy unsure of yourself. Don't make an issue of it, and don't doubt his devotion to you, or he may begin to doubt it, too.

FOUR PAMPANS ESA Chapter Nominates Diana Award Candidates

Kappa Alpha Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, International, has selected four Pampa women as nominees for the first Diana Award which will be presented Jan. 24 to the woman whose life daily exemplifies qualities of love, faith, courage and service to others.

Nominees for this annual honor are Mrs. Jewel Walker, Mrs. Mattie Norton, Mrs. Doris Gage, and Mrs. Ruth Harmon.

Today, the Pampa chapter is spotlighting Mrs. Gage, wife of Lyle Gage, a Pampa pharmacist and mother of three children. The three other nominees will be spotlighted this week in a series of stories preceding the selection of the winner Saturday.

Mrs. Gage, of 303 Starkweather, a native of Butler, Okla., names as her main hobby a love for children. She has three of her own, Lyla Beth, 21; Jimmy, 17, and Phil, 14. She is a member of the Church of Christ and works in the church nursery.

Her unique contribution is rearing foster children in her home. She has "mothered" 78 different children in her home and has as her main goal to care for the unwanted and neglected child.

To Mrs. Gage, these are the children who most need "understanding, a home, and to know they are wanted and cared for. They are also the children who usually need more direction and guidance to grow up as better citizens."

The Diana Award is the first ESA has given to women outside the organization. Only one Diana Award is permitted from a city each year. The winner in Pampa will become a nominee for the International Diana Award and will receive an all-expense paid trip to St. Paul, Minn., in July where the award will be presented at ESA's International convention.

All interested members of the community are invited to the meeting. Miss Tabor is among the outstanding speakers on the National Girl Scout staff.

District II Cookie Chairman is Mrs. Newt Secrest, 2231 Christine; Highland Cookie Chairman is Mrs. W. W. Hampton; Sunrise Cookie Chairman is Mrs. Norman Allen; Sunset Cookie Chairman is Mrs. N. G. Kadingo. Troop leaders should turn in orders for cookies to their neighborhood cookie chairman by Jan. 23.

Fringe Benefits are accruing to nearly every fashion from Western-style shirts to after-five tunics. Fringe is in, as a border or a trim. It's especially effective on such seemingly disparate fabrics as leathers, satins, denims, crepes.

Soften Laugh-Lines
To avoid laugh-lines, or to soften them (if they are there, there's nothing you can do about them except camouflage) try an under-eye moisturizer.

Timber Tough
Pound for pound, wood is stronger than steel. That's one reason why eight out of ten homes built in America have skeletons and walls of wood.

Losher Presents La Cultura Club's January Program

La Cultura Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Tom Chambliss for its regular session recently as Mrs. Phillip Rapstine, president, presided over the business meeting. The club endorsed Mrs. Kermit Lawson's nomination as district president of this Federation district.

Don Losher, a representative of the March of Dimes Foundation, presented a film "A Letter from Jimmy Lee" describing the foundation's work with birth defects. Losher discussed the rubella vaccination which is currently available.

A concentrated drive to inoculate all children ages one through 10 years is to be made soon here.

Three new members introduced were: Mrs. Frank Small, Mrs. Don Wilson, and Mrs. Robert Darenthal. Mrs. David Damron was a guest. Others present were: Mmes. Rapstine, Charles Arledge, Bill Chafin, Walter Cowell, Ralph Dozier, John R. Ellis, Lee Foxworthy, W.W. Hampton, Ricardo Ramirez, Scott Nisbet, and the hostess, Mrs. Chambliss.

If metal windows seem severe, dress them up by framing them with wood casing or moldings. Lumber yards carry them.

For fences use boards not more than eight inches wide to reduce the chance of cracking due to nailing stress.

dry up, lady!

Think about it. Your biggest complaint about washday is probably the clothesline routine. With a family, it gets to be a hang up. You can spend a big part of your life hanging out T-shirts, mini-skirts and Hubby's socks. And sheets, and jackets, sweaters, bedspreads... even curtains. Not to mention the unmentionables.

You don't like lifting, lugging and wrestling loads of heavy, wet wash to the backyard. Then there's always the weather. Now's the time to do something about this bundle of problems with a GAS clothes dryer. A gas dryer does five loads of clothes for the price of one load in an electric dryer. So, dry up with gas.

PAMPA Business News...

DEPENDABLE SERVICE in the drug department is assured at B&B Pharmacy located at the corner of Ballard and Browning in Pampa. R. B. Ragsdale, pictured, is one of the registered pharmacists on duty at the pharmacy to fill prescription needs in the Pampa trade area. Day or night an emergency service is available for prescription needs. (Staff Photo)

B&B Pharmacy Is Leader In Trade Area

Modern science has perfected thousands of drugs, preventive and curative to preserve life, enable the body to recover from invasions of disease and insure good health and longer life.

The department for smokers is complete from the large variety of cigars, tobacco, pipes and other smokers supplies. The coffee shop at B&B is well-known. Coffee drinkers and lunch patrons will find a varied dinner menu as well as delicious hot rolls to set off that coffee at break time.

These drugs, used in the proper dosages, fresh ingredients and expert combinations can make the difference of life or death to the patient.

Your doctor depends on the druggist to carefully and expertly fill the prescription he orders. For complete dependability in this field, rely on the druggists at B&B Pharmacy, Ballard at Browning in Pampa.

A complete pharmaceutical line is included with the complete supply of prescription drugs. Two full-time registered pharmacists are on duty to insure the best care of customers.

Customers who are home-bound are invited to call for free delivery of prescription needs. And for emergency calls, a number is available for service at any hour and on holidays.

The drug department is not the only advantage of shopping B&B.

Top names in cosmetics are available. Trained personnel will help you make your selection from name brands such as Frances Denney, Jacqueline Cochran, Bonne Belle, Dorothy Gray, Cover Girl and Revlon.

The store also carries a complete line of film and offers a processing service.

Western Beef Packers Inc. Announces New Expansion

Western Beef Packers Inc. purchased Panhandle Co. Dec. 1, 1969, and effective Jan. 1, 1970, incorporated under the name of Western Beef Packers, Inc., a subsidiary of Western Beef.

Immediately prior to purchases of the facility, the company had been involved in a considerable amount of reconstruction and addition of a new on-rail gravity flow

PROTEST POLLUTION

VENICE, Italy (UPI) — Fifty motorboats, barges and fishing craft cruised canals here Sunday to protest pollution.

"Do not let Venice die of poison" placards were waved by those on the boats.

The demonstration was organized by a group called "Front for the Defense of Venice." The protesters attacked industrialists for the oil and other pollution in the city's canals.

COSTLY HANGOVERS

LONDON (UPI) — The National Council on Alcoholism said Sunday hangovers cost Britain $600 million a year in lost work. The council said more than 250,000 workers fail to show up for their jobs each Monday because of hangovers.

SEARCH FOR LEADS

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard investigated underground political organizations today in a search for leads to vandals who tried Sunday to blow up the tomb of Karl Marx. Police said the 12-foot memorial was daubed with swastikas. Two large stones had been shattered in the blast and the nose of the large statue of Marx, coauthor of the Communist manifesto, had been all but sawed off.

killing floor. The new addition includes a chill cooler with walking beam rails whereby cattle are slaughtered and moved from the kill floor into the holding cooler, never being touched by human hands. This automated operation is currently killing in the area of 50,000 head of cattle per year and will be increased to 100,000 per year as facilities are made available for processing of boneless beef. At a later date, facilities will be available for processing fabricated vacuum sealed beef.

Western Beef Packer, Inc., at the time of purchase of the plant had 54 employees. This has expanded to 79 employees, and at the completion of facilities for boneless and fabricating procedures, the payroll will list 100-125 employees. The company is now adding to the payroll and is looking for employees who are interested in a future with the young aggressive, rapidly growing company. Western Beef Packer, Inc., will continue to seek out employees until all openings have been filled. In addition to the new portion of the processing plant, construction has started on a blast freezer with a 36,000 pound capacity and an accompanying holding freezer of 80,000 pound capacity to handle the boneless beef soon to be produced by Western Beef Packer, Inc. Presently the company is shipping carcasses by truck and rail to all areas of the United States including North and South Carolina, Florida, Indiana, Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit, and Atlanta. The modern facilities at the company are, according to the head of the operation, John F. Welch, the most modern and efficient he has seen in his almost thirty years in the meat processing business.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Although any broad stock market advance will have to be founded on something more substantial than hopes and rumors about easing of the Vietnam conflict and the money credit situation, stocks still continue to advance independently and persistently to new highs, Hayden Stone Inc. observes. Study of the prevailing fundamental picture and of patterns of hundreds of individual stocks indicates that many private bull markets remain in force, the firm says.

There is a considerable lead time, about six to nine months, before shifts in monetary policy take hold in respect to production and sales, but there is no lead time before such shifts are reflected in the stock market, Spear and Staff says. A change in policy could come when people least expect it, "before it is obvious that the economy has taken a turn for the worse." Because of next fall's elections, a shift is likely soon and would trigger a decisive rally in the market, the firm says.

A mild recession is the inevitable price of an effective disinflation program, Argus Research Corp. says. The faster the business correction is digested, the better it will be for the investment markets, and "inasmuch as the economy is now displaying many recessionary symptoms, it appears that the period of greatest uncertainty is already behind us." Investors will soon be getting clearer signs of what lies ahead, the firm adds.

Towles Tile Co. Is Center For Unique, Beautiful Floors

Jack Towles, owner of Towles Tile Co. is busy summer building the famous Hallmark Swimming Pools to cool off area residents seeking comfort in the Panhandle's 100 degree weather.

The cold months of winter don't offer a lull in the business which is recognized as a leader in its field here. Indoor tile and flooring needs are supplied by Jack Towles.

The latest in floor covering is the Camdura Seamless flooring. The Camdura contractor, in this case Jack Towles, provides the labor material and equipment when you decide on which of the nine decorator colors will go best with the decor of your home or business.

Camdura is a unique seamless flooring system designed to provide extreme resistance to abrasion in heavy traffic areas, indoors and outdoors. The system is a combination of Camdura Ceramic coated quartz beads, bound together by Camdura Glaze — a thermosetting resin, to form a continuous uniform tweed-like texture.

The Camdura Flooring system provides a wide variety of color combinations. Camdura beads can be combined in various percentages to create an infinite number of color combinations.

Camdura Glaze has exceptional toughness, chemical resistance and color stability. The floor never needs waxing and has non-skid properties.

Heavy traffic areas are ideal spots for Camdura covering. It can be applied over concrete or wood. Call Jack Towles for further information. His expert training merits the factory guarantee of the material. It must be installed according to the manufacturer's specification.

Jack knows and has been trained to this requirement.

So with winter weather here, think of the indoor flooring that can be replaced and save plans for your Fiberglass Hallmark Pool for next summer. Jack will do both expertly.

Pampa Travels To Lubbock, Plays Coronado

First half action in District 4-AAAA closes Friday night and Monterey and Plainview appear destined to tie for the first half title although the Plainsmen must face Tascosa Tuesday.

Plainview and Monterey are tied for the league lead at 6-1 but three teams, Borger, Amarillo and Tascosa are just one loss from the top spot, all sporting, 5-2 records.

Monterey plays Tascosa Tuesday in Amarillo and closes first half play Friday against Lubbock high. Plainview takes on Lubbock in Lubbock Tuesday then hosts Coronado Friday.

While anything could happen to the top five teams Pampa still has a chance to knock off one of the top five in a spoiler's role. The Harvesters journey to Coronado's home court Tuesday and end first half play by playing host to tough Borger Friday.

The Harvesters, who lost for the first time in five years to Lubbock Friday night, are 2-3 in league play and tied with Palo Duro and Coronado and the Harvesters, losers of two straight are 9-8 for the season.

Friday night Plainview upended defensive minded Tascosa, who didn't have one, 63-49, while Monterey was eased by last place Caprock and Amarillo was downing Palo Duro and Borger by Coronado.

Pampa's defense was ripped to shreds by Lubbock's outside shooting Friday night that saw the Westerners hit 10 of 17 from the field in the first quarter enroute to a 20-14 lead that Pampa was never able to come close to again.

SAYERS MOST VALUABLE

Gabriel On Target, 16-13

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Roman Gabriel got the job done as he did for the Los Angeles Rams in 11 straight games when he came up with a perfect pass Sunday that the West All-Stars rode to a 16-13 win over the East in the NFL's 20th Pro Bowl football game.

Gale Sayers of the Bears was voted the most valuable back of the game but there were many among the 57,786 in the Coliseum and in the press box, where the balloting took place, who felt Gabriel might have gotten the honor if the poll was taken after the game instead of during the fourth quarter.

Subjected to a fierce charge by Dallas defensive stars Bob Lilly and George Andrie, who was named lineman of the game, Gabriel Cooly threw the clincher, a 28-yard pass to Carrol Dale of the Packers with 72 seconds left to win the game.

Coaches Praise Gabriel
Winning West Coach Norm Van Brocklin of Atlanta and losing Coach Tom Fears of New Orleans joined in praising Gabriel for his clutch effort.

"You've got to give Gabriel a lot of credit," said Fears. "We put a powerful rush on him. But that last pass was just a thing of beauty."

Gabriel, named the Most

Miller Capable, But Can't See Other Side

NEW YORK (UPI)—Marvin Miller, who heads the Baseball Players Association, is one of the more capable men around today.

The ballplayers will tell you that and so will the owners.

Capable as he is, Marvin Miller seems incapable of conceding that maybe sometimes the other side is right. Capable as he is, Marvin Miller seems incapable of believing that the vast majority of the press has absolutely no axe to grind.

From time to time, I have been critical of baseball owners but never on any one of those occasions have I ever heard from Marvin Miller.

Not long ago I said it was difficult for me to understand how Curt Flood felt he was being treated like "cattle" and was part of a "slavery" system when, among other things, he was earning $90,000 a year and could quit and tell those Simon Legree "masters" to go jump in the lake at any time he liked.

Miller Writes Letter
Marvin Miller has written me a letter about that. He says, "by focusing on Curt Flood's salary, your article successfully obscured the issue."

Marvin Miller should have more faith in the general public. No newspaperman is so good that he can fool the people and "obscure the issue" for long.

Miller contends my opinions have been used before by owners of another age—those who defended slavery more than a century ago.

I can't claim to be the great emancipator Marvin Miller is.

NHL All-Stars Play Tuesday

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The trophies earned in the National Hockey League last season will be presented formally tonight at the glittering All-Star banquet on the eve of the 22nd All-Star Game.

Much of the silver hardware is evenly divided between a few old pros past the age of 38 and a few players 23 and younger.

Jacques Plante, 41, and Glenn Hall, 38, share the Vezina Trophy for the lowest team goals against average. Alex Delvecchio, 38, will accept the Lady Byng Trophy for sportsmanship.

Then the youngsters take the stage. Bobby Orr, 21, is the winner of the James Norris Trophy as the best defenseman.

Young Pro Wins Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Dale Douglass, a stringbean of a golfer who's won a lot of money but not many championships, is the No. 2 tournament winner of 1970.

Douglass, 32, a willowy 6-foot-2 and a wispy 160 pounds, broke out of a low-scoring pack of pros Sunday to win the $100,000 Phoenix Open with a 72-hole score of 271, 13 under par. His rounds were 71-66-66-66 and the total was good for $20,000.

Douglass, from Evergreen, Colo., won $91,553 last year but the Kemper Open was his only major tournament victory.

Gene Littler, the smooth swinger from San Diego, Calif., held a one-stroke lead going into the last round and was favored to win his fourth Phoenix title. It was not to be, though. He slipped to a 70 after rounds of 67-68-67 on the 36-35-71 Phoenix Country Club course.

Littler, 38, tied for second at 272 with another veteran, Howie Johnson, 37, Palm Springs, Calif., who had a final 68. They each collected $9,250.

There was a mob tied for fourth—five pros—Dave Hill, Dave Marr, Orville Moody, Bob Lunn and Tom Weiskopf. They cut the money melon from fourth through eighth place and each came up with $3,710.

Homero Blancas took ninth with 274 and won $2,700.

Baseball Draft May Be Changed

NEW YORK (UPI)—Baseball may have had its last "live" winter free agent draft in a ballroom setting.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn said before Saturday's draft that his office is exploring the possibility of holding the winter draft by telephone. The regular phase of the winter draft is usually sparse of talent with junior college and high school players dominating the picks.

Unsung Hero

An unsung hero, except to his teammates, was defensive tackle Gary Larsen of the Vikings. He rushed to the game from his home in nearby Whittier, Calif., when notified at 11:30 a.m. that Fred Miller of the Colts had suffered a detached retina and was unable to play.

Larsen arrived after the game started, donned Miller's uniform and played much of the game despite not having practiced. He earned a winner's share of $1,500 from the players' pool. The losers got $1,000 each.

The win was the third straight for the West in its original format with the West ahead 13-7. Next year under pro football's realignment, the game will be between the stars of the American and National conferences.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch-Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain. In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

OUR CAPSULE POLICY
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TEXAS PANHANDLE
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Let Peace Begin With Me!

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others. To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

Not Sick, But In Danger

The United States, emerging from a turbulent decade, has been called a sick nation, wallowing in its own despair, torn by internal dissent and violence and a war more than 10,000 miles away.

Crime is king and the streets of our great cities are more dangerous at night than the jungles in Vietnam. Murders, mugging, robbery and other acts of violence are so commonplace in the nation's capital that a number of foreign nations are seriously considering moving their embassies to other cities.

Yet, the terror that has swept this land does not mean that we are a sick society. Man's cruelty to his fellow man is not new—it has been going on since the beginning of time.

The latest horror story calculated to cause all thinking Americans to bow their heads in shame is the so-called massacre in My Lai, Vietnam.

It's not possible to write factually about this incident because no facts have been divulged. All we have seen and heard has been hearsay and unconfirmed statements by persons who say they were witnesses to the wanton murder of men, women and children.

If indeed there was a massacre, then Americans can only take solace in the fact that they brought it to light and necessary steps will be taken to punish those who are guilty.

Civilization, as we know it, is about 3,000 years old. Yet, there is a very thin line between civilization and savagery in war, and in all wars, the innocent and the non-combatants become victims.

Vietnam has been called an "immoral war." There is no such thing as an immoral war, but during times of war the moral standards of the world suffer and sometimes give way completely.

The history of civilization has proved that the people of the world have never existed without wars.

Suppose the mobs who burned down buildings and looted stores in our cities were armed with machine guns and hand grenades. The streets would have been red with the blood of hundreds on both sides.

In the final analysis, it is always the people who permit such things to happen.

We are not a sick society because of these things—because some in our midst murder and rob and because some men do evil. Even if the My Lai incident is true, this does not mean that all American soldiers are murderers.

But if Americans do not recognize the need to restrain those who would tear down our society; if they do not practice restraint among themselves; if they continue to hold back in moral judgments, then we are in mortal danger of becoming a very sick society.

The popular phrase these days is "everyone must do his thing," regardless of the rights of others. This is a growing symbol of our nation as we enter into a new decade and far too many of our elected leaders have given ground to the thoughtless, uninhibited persons who are out to wreck the establishment but have nothing with which to replace it.

This is the road back to the dark ages when there was no law except the law of the jungle.

This is our danger. When inhibitions disappear—when morals upon which our civilization has been built are corrupted, and when we give way to hysterical demands of a minority, we will be lost in a morass of contempt for ourselves and our fellow man.

A Need For Courage

"What we need in America," the man said, "is a big dose of courage; courage to take a position on controversial issues; courage to reject compromise between good and evil; courage to take a stand on moral issues; courage to refuse to be 'bought' by government payments of private bribes."

The man is Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Man and organization are longtime foes of government controls and government subsidies paid with taxes plundered from the labor and savings of those more provident and energetic. "It is time," he said in a speech at the organization's 50th anniversary "to rid the U.S. of welfare state policies and return the country to a climate of individual responsibility and private enterprise."

And, while any number of speakers and organizations can be found who oppose socialism in the abstract (when others are receiving the welfare goodies), Shuman and the American Farm Bureau, standing on principle, would apply the cure of the farmers themselves. They favor, beginning immediately, a phasing out of both government controls and subsidies, returning the nation's farmers to a free market system.

Tearing into other aspects of the welfare state, Shuman:

—Attributed much of the bitterness and frustration manifested in demonstrations, riots and increasing crime to "government fiscal irresponsibility." Politically motivated, "extravagant promises of instant prosperity and total security could not be fulfilled, and so the disillusioned protested," he said.

—Pointed out that the multi-billion dollar spending programs, "such as urban renewal, poverty and farm subsidies," as well as the "strange, no win-war" in Vietnam, have generated the inflation which is destroying the purchasing power of our income dollars.

—And, finally, charged that the so-called hunger campaign will probably result in a "huge new federal bureaucracy," to consume more of our tax dollars which, in turn, "would then solicit (poverty) clients." Many people, he continued, would thus be "encouraged to reduce their efforts to help themselves and thus become eligible for food stamps. In that event, 'The hunger' situation may actually worsen rather than improve." Hunger, much of which is the result of "ignorance of proper nutrition, prejudice about food, or unwise dieting, can't be cured by food stamps or other (government) spending programs," Shuman concluded.

That is what this newspaper has been saying for years.

Vote buying politicians are not going to like what the man said. But we do! And we believe that more and more of our readers, watching the vanishing buying power of their hard-earned dollars, will.

THE RESULTS OF HIGHER EDUCATION

Those who criticize our youth should not over-generalize. Many young people are patriotic, hard-working, and self-reliant.

Instead of only criticizing, we should try to determine what has caused some of the attitudes of young people today. A recent survey gives some interesting answers to this question.

This survey studied attitudes of young people, dividing them into those attending college and those who were not. A sharp difference was found between the two groups.

Seventy-one percent of non-college youth believed that belonging to a church was important, but only 42 per cent of college students. Sixty per cent of non-college youth believed that patriotism was important, but only 35 per cent of those in college. Sixty-nine percent of the young people questioned who were not in college believed that "containing communists is worth fighting for," but only 43 per cent of those in college.

The first thing we should learn from these statistics is that by no means all college students have developed erroneous attitudes. But we should also realize that college has had a bad effect on many young people, causing far more of them than of those not in college to reject sound values.

One of the reasons is the disdain for values common among many college and university professors. Another is the large number of anti-American professors on college and university faculties, especially those supported by government funds and grants.

Parents should do all they can to teach their children sound values and patriotism, and they should support and send their children to only those colleges which will maintain those values.

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

The trouble with this country these days is, we've got more myths floating around than there are people to believe them. But enough do believe them to cause them to keep growing.

One of these myths is the one that the increase in federal spending in the last decade is due to the defense establishment. I agree that the cost of Viet Nam is more than we can afford.

But if you compare the budget of 1964 with the estimates for this year, the spending shows a rise of $74 billion while defense outlays are larger by only $23 billion.

The fiscal fact is, that spending for social boondoggles dominates the public budgets. Why, federal aid to the "poor" alone will smack us for $27 billion this year but was $12 billion in 1964.

And you have heard about those "grants," all kinds of stupid grants, like the sex life of the aphid. Well they rupe us out of another $25 billion. There was $15 billion in 1967, $10 billion in 1964 and $5 billion in 1958 '58 was a good year.

All these boondoggles of non-defense spending on various programmes is nothing but a government maze that is smothered in paper. One grant of $1,000 may require over 30 major federal agency stamps, including a review by a 15 man board!

The myth goes on concerning defense spending. But the real bogey man in the budget is the countless welfare programs. They are in more need of control and scrutiny than all the other establishments put together.

Wit And Whimsy

Then there's the golfer who explains the reason he does not address the ball properly. He says he was polite to the thing as long as possible.

Washington bureaucrats have finally figured out how to balance the budget. They are going to tilt the country.

HEW Voids Security Checks

By THURMAN SENSING

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare's decision to drop pre-appointment security checks for its science advisers is likely to open the doors to wider government employment of radicals. President Nixon, who first gained fame because of his investigation of Alger Hiss, should countermand Secretary Robert H. Finch's order.

Mr. Finch said that henceforth HEW agencies will evaluate their own advisers and consultants. On the basis of the record of some of these agencies, it is not difficult to imagine how effective such evaluations will be. One of the HEW agencies is the Office of Economic Opportunity which has played a big role in funding radical inner-city groups that spark community strife. Without security checks, Black Panthers and members of similar subversive groups are likely to climb aboard the government payroll.

For months the New York Times, Washington Post and other spokesmen for "liberalism" have been demanding that the security check procedure be ended. They have complained of a "blacklist" of scientists. Well, the fact is that many U.S. universities are loaded with sociologists and other "scientists" who are bitter foes of America's free enterprise society. For several years, the New York Times has carried political advertisements by hundreds of sociologists and other "scientists" opposing the war in Vietnam and condemning the U.S. for its foreign policy of resistance to communism. These types now, presumably, will have an easy time getting appointed as consultants to HEW agencies.

The relaxation of security in any government department is a dangerous development. Anyone who doubts that should read the new book "The Otto Otepka Case" by William Gill (Arlington House Publishers). Mr. Gill, a prize-winning journalist, tells the story of Mr. Otepka, the State Department security evaluator who was hounded out of his job because he opposed the New Frontier's effort to load the department with people who had questionable security records.

Mr. Gill details the manner in which the friends of Alger Hiss became powerful in the State Department and how they also moved into other governmental departments. If security checks are abandoned in HEW leftists may move into that department and then, as a result of administrative shifts, get into more sensitive departments of the federal government.

H. Reed Ellis, a Harvard Law School graduate who was picked by HEW to study its security procedures, made recommendations abolishing the security check procedure. He said that "the whole operation takes on a Kafkaesque aura when Nobel Laureates are excluded from the government for whatever reason." The word "Kafkaesque" is in reference to a Central European writer who described a weird political trial

Tooth Decay And The Pill

The pill has flumped again. Just the other afternoon, at a cocktail party, a cute young thing asked me, when she discovered I was a dentist, if the pill had anything to do with tooth decay. She said that since taking the pill she has had far more fillings than before.

With a mild harrumph, I assured her that it was rather doubtful there was any connection with the pill and a higher incidence of tooth decay; that the pill has been blamed FOR many things, and tooth decay has been blamed ON many things...

But the thought of the pill increasing tooth decay kept recurring. After all, the pill alters the balance of many body functions. It contains steroids which can produce hormonal imbalance, and hormonal imbalance is often associated with gingivitis and other gum disturbances, such as sometimes occur during puberty, pregnancy and menopause.

Could it possibly have a direct effect on teeth?

Alas! Today there came in the mail a news release with information that Dr. Frank T. Y. Liu of Kansas City, Mo., makes the claim that "... use of synthetic steroid contraceptives may increase the incidence of tooth decay."

How do you like that? It must be hastily added that Dr. Liu's findings were obtained from animal experiments which can't be applied directly to humans, but the University of Missouri scientist says they point up the need for further investigation.

In his laboratory experiments, Dr. Liu learned that tooth decay increase was in proportion to dose level and frequency of administration of the two contraceptives used in the tests. Not as some would believe, dependent on sexual activity of the animal.

Don't forsake the pill yet. So far indications are that only laboratory animals have to do that.

Please send your questions about dental health to Dr. Lawrence in care of this paper. While he cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

More Draft Reform In '71 Unlikely

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON, — The advance word at the Capitol is that Congress will not act this year to institute further reforms in the military draft law.

This is all unofficial, of course. No such announcement is to be expected now or in the immediate future, from House and Senate leaders or from the two Armed Services Committees.

Nevertheless, knowledgeable members of the Senate and House have concluded that the odds are heavily against any action this year on the draft law which expires June 30, 1971. Several circumstances contribute to that informed judgment.

Most important is the reaction of House leaders and House military experts last year when Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., tried to force early draft reform. During the consideration of President Nixon's draft lottery bill, Teddy suggested that the draft law's expiration date be changed to December 31 of this year.

The suggestion was flatly rejected by the House leaders. They later passed the word that House members have never had to vote draft extensions in an election year and should not be required to do so this time. That attitude is expected to harden as re-election campaigns warm up for all members of the House and a third of the Senators.

In the Senate, the Armed Services Committee is pledged to consider draft reform. However, the promise made by Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., was to hold draft hearings, no more than that. He has carefully avoided any pledge that draft reforms will be enacted.

Stennis is well aware of the election-year sentiment of abuse members. He knows that even if the Senate approves a reform package and passes an extension bill, the House might not approve it. That would mean that the Senate would have to do it all again next year.

POLICY VOID—Stennis has announced his Senate hearings will begin about Feb. 15. That busy-up timetable, while it mollified draft critics last year, is now causing some problems.

By mid-February there will have been very little time to test the lottery plan enacted last year and the shift of draft vulnerability from "oldest first" to the current focus on 19-year-olds. It will therefore be hard to recommend improvements in that very new mechanism.

The new operation is expected to generate new complaints; however, some House members are already preparing for an all-out challenge to undergraduate college deferments on the theory that, as the war is "vietnamized," educational deferments will let affluent 19-year-olds buy time so as to escape service in a shooting war.

Matters of that sort have been under study of the National Security Council, and some recommendations are expected shortly. The Selective Service System is not now geared to respond to recommendations for major changes in current policy, however.

The transfer to other duties of the draft director, Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, has already been announced. His successor has not yet been selected. For the present, the system is minus a top-level policy maker.

UNPOPULAR POST — The recruiting of a replacement for Hershey has been a problem for the administration's latent hunters. When the general's transfer was announced, White House aides were confident that they could find a man of national reputation to replace him.

They have discovered that many national figures are unwilling to risk their reputations in one of the nation's most unpopular jobs.

Hershey has been the draft boss since 1941. For much of that time he was a non-controversial fixture of the federal government. His troubles really began when he had to draft young men for service in an unpopular war. The general compounded his problems when he tried to use draft service as a penalty for young men in trouble because of militant dissent.

With Hershey on the way out, it is now being reliably reported here that the 76-year-old, tough-talking general was not personally responsible for the "draft" em' policy which provoked immediate criticism and controversy in the courts.

According to a very reliable informant, Hershey was instructed by his boss to use the draft process as a means of dampening student dissent and quieting campus revolt. The instructions were first given by telephone, according to this account, and then confirmed by a memo tucked away in Hershey's files.

The boss who made the phone call and sent the memo: then President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Down Is Not Always Out

On our feet we are a punching bag for any and every pipsqueak, would-be giant killer.

But on the ropes we fight back.

No sooner do the voices of doom proclaim that we will surely bury ourselves alive and suffocate to death under an annual accumulation of 35 billion tons of trash—

Than researchers in Toledo, Ohio, discover a way to pave streets with old bottles. They grind the glass, mix it with asphalt (cheaper than gravel or sand) and start paving streets with "glassphalt."

And Stanford Research develops an air pressure separator to recycle and, in some form, re-use up to 95 per cent of household garbage.

Anxious "experts" announce we are depleting our resources, using up our oil.

Suddenly American ingenuity discovers another 10 billion barrels under Alaskan ice.

Then the pessimists predict we'll never be able to afford the billion-dollar pipeline to bring it out—and other un-sinkable Americans ram a tanker through a new Northwest Passage and prove we don't need a pipeline.

and with it a sharp decline in the birth rate.

Just a few months ago ladies knew of no way without cumbersome hardware to keep their stockings up. Now look!

Nightmare remains an ominous nightmare; there is now no cure in sight.

So researchers at Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere, concentrating on stimulating the body's natural resistance, are now cautiously predicting a preventive—a vaccine against cancer—within 10 years.

That there are problems unresolved and much yet to be done could defeat us—but should stimulate us.

What a thrilling challenge for an upcoming generation seeking worthwhile goals for itself.

What fun you should have preventing all kinds of menacing malignancies: crime, mental illness, pollution, erosion—

You might even develop a faucet that won't drip and a swimming cap that'll keep hair dry.

And you know what? A generation which can produce the mathematical, mechanical and electronic genius to make safe a round trip to the moon— Might even develop a car clock that'll keep running and keep time.

The gang was glued to the television screen at the old hangout, but our pal's sign at Lai Khe didn't make "The Bob Hope Christmas Special." Never mind, a lot of other guys couldn't be seen waving signs to the folks back home.

Somebody had to be happy. The 90-minute holiday annual Thursday night on NBC-TV popped, skipped and jumped from a White House sendoff to Berlin to Vietnam and back again with stops in between.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Odds and ends from the nation's capital—mostly odd:
Julian Hardy, a 35-year-old writer at the National Press Club, was retiring, so the members threw a modest party for him.

Pat Heffernan, club president and Washington bureau chief for the news agency Reuters, asked Hardy what he planned to do.
"I have a pig farm down in North Carolina," he replied.

Heffernan: "Do you know anything about stopping pigs?"
Hardy: "Well, I've been feeding members of this club for 25 years."

The luncheon special at the government cafeteria was advertised as soup, sandwich and beverage for 90 cents.
One diner added a brownie, and the bill came to $1.19.

When he questioned the amount, the cashier replied: "You have to take a salad. Otherwise I have to charge you separately for each item."

So the diner went back and got a salad—and got off for only $1.13.

A Commerce Department release inquired:
"Have you been seeing men wearing orange-colored umbrellas over their heads on a bright, sunny day?"
"Have you seen tall steel towers which sprang up suddenly on the landscape and then suddenly disappeared? Perhaps you've noticed large white balloons dangling high in the air between them."
