MUST BE A REASON

Youth Searches Cause For Father's Death

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

13-year-old Kenny Gage's father, Chief Petty Officer Norman Glenn Gage, 32, was buried today in Fairview Cemetery.

He was killed in action Feb. 23 in Vietnam.

Kenny sought solace in his grief by trying to find a reason for his father's death.

Two nights before the funeral, the lad stayed up until midnight writing what was in his heart.

He titled his efforts "The Flag."

It goes this way:

"The flag, its stripes, there are 13. They are white and blue and even red. Now let me tell you what they all mean.

"Now think of our Boys as All. Instead, now think of the men, the Chief and Staff who helped the Boys and heard them laugh. Who saw them fall, and saw them crawl and heard them bawl. And now he has taken the fall.

"There are 50 stars engraved in blue. Stars for me and for you.

"Now I've heard them say about each and every day. Now he has fallen and he has died. Now joined to All, the dead. Now let's not think of Hell or War, but God inside the long, lonely door.

"For you have heard about our flag and now just think of All instead. Don't think of War or Dead. Think of All instead."

And there is a dedication for "The Flag": "Dedicated to my father, Norman Glenn Gage. He loved his flag. He lived for it and died for it."

Kenny, who was born in Pampa and lived here until he was five, now lives in Lakewood, Colo. He made the more than 300-mile trip to Pampa by airlines for his father's funeral alone. His mother was unable to attend.

Kenny said his dad had been in the Navy for 14 years and he had not seen him for over a year. He had been in Vietnam for six months before he died of a missile wound in the chest while on river patrol in Vietnam.

His Dad was born and reared in Pampa and his grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Ing, still lives here at 408 Hill. That is why the more than 300-mile trip to Pampa by airlines for his father's funeral alone.

AT BOSS NIGHT

ABWA Spotlights "One Good Guy"

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writer

Elbert Walker, a Cabot Corp. engineer, was spotlighted Tuesday night as the "Boss of the Year for 1970" by the American Business Women's Association at its annual dinner.

He was crowned, congratulated and presented with an engraved trophy by his secretary, Mrs. T. A. (Babe) Mastin.

During the dinner in the First United Methodist Church, Jean Martindale, chairman of the employee letter judging committee, announced the winner as Number 7 and said "it was particularly difficult to select a winner, because we couldn't tell who any of the nominees or employees were."

All letters are designated only by number. The business firm name and names of the boss nominee and his employee are omitted according to ABWA rules.

Walker, a Pampa resident 10 years, received a Bachelor of Science degree from East Texas State College and has done graduate work at Texas A&M University. He and his wife, Jewell, have one son, David, who lives in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker moved to Pampa from Corsicana where he was employed as an engineer with Bethlehem Supply Co. At Cabot, he is chief engineer of the mobile hoist and drilling in the Machinery Division. He is a member of First United Methodist Church and Pampa Fine Arts Association.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Otis Nace, a professional writer decided the word "Boss" to include "B for bright, a shaded brilliance, one who is smart enough not to tell everyone how smart he is."

"The 'O' in Boss is for observing but not observable, one who is tolerant, helpful, kindly and on his toes with information. The 'S' represents when necessary, use scalpel, but don't leave a scar, and carefully, wisely, and unobtrusively manage the office," Mrs. Nace said.

"The most important ingredient in a successful office is partnership between boss and worker, those who can share bad days when everything goes wrong, and the good days when all life is a song," she said.

Former bosses of the year since 1961 were Lou Troja, Hugh Peoples, Wallace Bruce, Mrs. Velma Sutton, Rue Hestand, Harold Barrett, Vermell Meador, Jack Reeve, and Harold Miller.

Commissioners Continue Probe Into Appraisal

Gray County Commissioners were still in session at presstime today conferring on the proposed re-evaluation of county property and the signing of a contract with a Dallas appraisal firm.

Meeting with the four commissioners and county judge were businessman John Gikas, school business manager Homer Craig, Floyd Watson, president, and A.A. Schuneman, chairman of the board of First National Bank, which handles school funds; county auditor Ray Wilson; Pct. 2 commissioner candidate George Thompson; and a private citizen, Wesley Simpson.

No action has been taken on the proposal as of noon, but progress is being made, according to County Judge S.R. Lanning Jr.

NO FATIGUE SIGNS

Pompidou Isn't Going Home Mad

PARIS (UPI) — President Georges Pompidou returned home smiling today and said his trip to the United States had "served well the cause of Franco-American relations and, in general, the cause of peace."

The French chief of state and his wife showed no signs of fatigue from their nine-day trip as they stepped off the presidential jet at 2:06 a.m. to a greeting from the French cabinet and U.S. diplomats.

"You see, everything went well," Pompidou told Robert O. Blake, acting chief of the U.S. Embassy in the absence of Ambassador C. Sargent Shriver.

He told newsmen he wanted to save his impressions of the sometimes tumultuous trip for a cabinet meeting this afternoon.

"But," he added, "I would like the French people to know my voyage has ended as well as it began and that it has served well the cause of Franco-American relations and, in general, the cause of peace."

During his flight home, Pompidou added a final note to the trip, sending a telegram to President Nixon thanking him for his hospitality.

"I wanted to tell you again how much I was touched by your welcome to Washington and how much, in particular, I was sensitive last (Monday) night to your presence in New York."

Nixon had flown unscheduled to New York Monday night to attend a dinner honoring Pompidou and to apologize to the French president for pro-Israeli demonstrations that marked his visit.

Before he left the United States, Pompidou told newsmen he would "not conceal there were incidents that will leave a very slight impression in my memory." "In respect to Chicago," where 10,000 demonstrators protested his Middle East policies, Pompidou said, "it is largely the attitude of the municipal authorities rather than the attitude of the demonstrators that struck me."

Johnson's Condition Remains "Unchanged"

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Luci Johnson Nugent combed her son's hair as they walked up the steps of Brooke General Hospital.

"Are we going to see grandpa?" she asked Lyn.

"Yes," he said.

Mrs. Patrick Nugent and Lyn were among the few visitors permitted to see former President Lyndon Baines Johnson Tuesday.

"His doctors report President Johnson has been more comfortable during the day, although he is still experiencing discomforts in the chest," according to the last medical bulletin.

The next report on the former president's condition was scheduled for later today.

"Mrs. Johnson is still at the hospital," the statement said. "President Johnson's spirits are good and he has been eating well."

Johnson flew from his LBJ Ranch to the hospital by helicopter Monday, suffering chest pains. Lt. Col. Robert L. North, chief of cardiology at the hospital, diagnosed Johnson's troubles as "angina pectoris," a pain in the chest resulting from a diminished flow of blood to the heart.

The situation with President Johnson is not that severe," North said. "It is not severe enough to actually cause any severe injury to the heart itself."

"I cannot predict in all honesty what the duration of his stay in the hospital will be," North said. "I would say at least several days."

North said he believed Johnson could return to normal activity once he returns to his ranch. "In fact, we plan to prescribe a period of physical activity for him."

Meanwhile the former president concentrated on two books in his seventh-floor suite, reading "The First President Johnson" and working on the drafts of his own book "Lyndon B. Johnson, the White House Years."

BOSS OF THE YEAR for 1970, according to the American Business Women's Association was Cabot Corp. engineer Elbert Walker, seated, pictured here receiving honors from his nominator and secretary, Mrs. Ted Mastin, while the 1969 Boss of the Year Harold Miller, looks on.

Unions Call For Shutdown Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary George P. Shultz urged Congress today to avert the "nationwide disaster" of a railroad strike by imposing a contract settlement on the railroads and four shopcraft unions.

Testifying in support of President Nixon's proposed emergency legislation to avert a strike called by the unions for 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Shultz pointed out that "the parties have been unable to settle their dispute by themselves."

Shultz, who arranged to appear at both House and Senate special hearings on the plan, testified that the settlement would not be terms worked out by the government but by the railroads and the union negotiators. It is a tentative settlement accepted by members of three of the four unions, rejected by members of one union—the Sheet Metal Workers.

"This nationwide disaster for that is what a railroad strike would be—would be caused by the vote of less than one half of one per cent of all employees of the railroads and by less than 5 per cent of the shopcraft employees," Shultz said in prepared testimony.

"The legislation which we propose to avert this disaster is simple. We propose that the Congress declare as the contract of the parties the memorandum of agreement negotiated by the parties and favored by the majority of the union members voting on it."

At the House hearing, Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., asked John P. Hiltz Jr., the railroads' chief negotiator, for his views on a suggestion by Chairman Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., that the government seize the railroads and freeze wages, salary increases and profits.

Hiltz said he did not want to see either the unions deprived of their wage increases or management of its profits.

Hiltz also said he opposed another suggestion by Adams that Congress extend a no-strike period for an additional 45 days and name a special arbitration board to propose a binding settlement. Congress did this in 1967 in a similar dispute.

Representatives of the unions as well as rails management also were summoned to separate hearings on the Nixon plan by the House Commerce Committee and the Senate Labor Committee.

Nixon made his first move to intervene in a major labor dispute by proposing the emergency congressional action after the unions announced they would strike the nation's 128 railroads after midnight today.

In his testimony, Shultz said collective bargaining "came within an eyelash" of producing a voluntary agreement after 15 months of off-and-on negotiations, interspersed with government actions to prevent strikes and lockouts.

Asked of the contract terms Nixon asked Congress to impose, Shultz told members:

"You would not be imposing a government dictated settlement but just requiring the parties to abide by the terms and conditions of employment that they themselves worked out."

He added: "We come to you with a proposal that leaves collective bargaining as free as possible consistent with the protections of the public interest."

The President asked Congress to act swiftly to avert a stoppage of rail service.

Eclipse Viewers Warned Of Danger

NEW YORK (UPI)—The sun's deadly eye can put a celestial whammy on yours that will leave your vision crippled for life. Don't look at the eclipse.

That is the warning issued by many eye experts. They are talking about the danger of blindness for those who are overcome with awe or eagerness during Saturday's total or partial eclipse of the sun over North America. So overcome that they gaze directly at it.

"The sun," wrote Lucretius in 45 B.C., while laboring another point, "will blind you if you persist in gazing at it."

The modern eye expert might add to that: "Or even a glint of it."

Watch it on television, or use recommended methods of indirect viewing. Direct viewing can result in painless, irreversible retinal damage, even blindness. This includes peering at the sun through camera, view-finders, binoculars, telescopes, tinted glasses, pin holes and other commonly used means.

The National Science Foundation presents these points from the American Association of Ophthalmology and the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness:

1. Damage to the eyes from eclipse-watching involves burning the retina of the eyes.

French Sub Disappears With 45 Men

TOULON, France (UPI)—The French antinuclear submarine Eurydice with 45 men believed aboard disappeared today in a Mediterranean storm 66 miles east of Marseilles.

French navy officials said the 1,040-ton vessel failed to surface after a 1,800-foot test dive and that serious concern was felt for the boat which normally carries 8 officers and 39 enlisted men.

It was Charles the Eurydice that Gen. Abard de Gaulle dived in 1966 in a demonstration of confidence after the loss of its sister ship Minerve with its crew of 52 men.

The Eurydice, which was built for deep-sea combat duty against nuclear submarines, last gave its position when going into the dive at 7:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. EST).

By AUGUST VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have some friends who are about our age (middle-aged), who are very charming people. They entertain at home a lot, and we have always enjoyed their company.

They have suddenly started something new. They invite people over, and the evening's "entertainment" is to play some sort of game. These games are competitive, of course, and require a knowledge of history, geography, politics, literature, opera, "words" — and so on. It's sort of a "how smart are you?" thing.

I am frank to admit that I don't care for this kind of evening because I am not as well informed as some of the others, and I don't like to be put on the spot that way. I know a few others who don't care for "brain games" either.

If I wanted to show how smart (or dumb) I was, I would go on a quiz show. What is your opinion of such games?

DEAR BOOBY: They're wonderful for people who know all the answers and like the mental combat. But I think a host who would force an evening of "skull practice" on guests without being absolutely sure they were all eager to play, is inconsiderate. Next time, you (and the others who don't care for brain games) are asked to play, either speak the truth, or take the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: Some people can't resist the temptation to talk "shop." In this community lives a registered nurse who is such a person.

I recently attended a dinner party where this nurse was also a guest. Regardless of what the conversation started out to be, this woman always managed to turn it to her profession. Then she'd tell some "amusing" little inside stories about patients who were known to everyone in the company. Most of it was far from table talk, but she thought she was "entertaining." I thought she was disgusting.

I understand this nurse is very well trained and efficient in her field, but Abby, doesn't every nursing course include a lecture on "good taste" and common sense?

IRKED: Every nursing course includes a lecture on "good taste" and common sense.

Traveling to the best resorts this season and moving right on into spring and summer are the newest featherweight knits that cling to every curve. They're sleek and fluid, ultrafeminine and, best of all, add up to more than the sum of their parts. A case in point, the tunic top that meets its match with flowing pants (left) by Weber. The top can go it alone, too. Barely there—that's the way to look for the cruise-resort season. Ruth Manchester knows how to make the point in a slinky nylon knit (right). She molds it into a figure-hugging tank top that slides down over the briefest of skirts with a ruffled hemline flourish. Ruffles are repeated at the border of the huge triangular show. These designs are in Enkure nylon that packs without a wrinkle and machine-washes and dries.

America's Natural History Museum Marks 100th Year With Grim Show

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI)—Prim and proper for 99 years, the staid American Museum of Natural History has gone psychedelic in marking its 100th.

At the centennial exhibition in the museum's lobby, a mod light and sound show addresses itself to this question: "Can man survive?"

Children under six are discouraged from visiting the exhibit for the message is grim: Unless the various pollutions are checked, man can't survive.

Our expanding technology coupled with unchecked growth of population make the prognosis grim. The tender balance of oxygen, water, food is unique in our planetary system.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

THURSDAY, MARCH 5

Your birthday Thursday:

There is a special emphasis this coming year on thinking and understanding other people's thinking. In one sense you have to learn to go it alone, philosophically, while in another sense the search for a valid system requires you to relate mentally more than you ever have. Personal freedom is the idea of the year's paradox. Thursday's natives are strongly extrovert. Where the Sun is well aspected, they are friendly and generous; where afflicted, anxious to attract public notice.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): New methods and equipment will help your work. Questions and problems within the family circle are more easily settled now if you plunge in with a rational proposal.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Speak right up about how good your work is. Negotiate for better conditions and increased rewards. Significant new acquaintances are made, particularly if you are moving about.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your schedule is very likely upset by somebody with more energy.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Business contacts may develop into a proposal for cooperation — check the deal out before refusing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Thursday is a time for thinking big, feeling optimistic, taking the expansive course of action.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): At present seek collaborators, or recruit people to share your side of coming debates. Use your wits, try new approaches in your work. Any emotional rapport is modified by your own recent expressions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Speculative efforts are promising. Your normal tact serves well where work conditions are concerned, since a change is probably taking place.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Bring interrupted or unfinished work to completion or to some balance with your other projects.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Unorthodox schemes of others may oddly enough turn out to be the only feasible approach to some problems.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You may at first doubt it, but unfamiliar places and people are very lucky for you Thursday.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Put emphasis on previous plans and finish what has already been started.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Your own theories find confirmation in some bit of little-noticed news. Information about complex technical matters, faraway places is more readily gained now.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—With network executives realizing that television audiences nowadays are more demanding, the major broadcasting organizations are seeking new ways to engage viewer interest.

The latest effort along these lines is a program called "Four-in-One," announced by NBC-TV for next season, a regular weekly entry from 10 to 11 p.m. EST on Wednesdays.

The NBC-TV experiment will consist of four individual one-hour series, each to be presented "in approximately six consecutive telecasts." Specials will separate the end of one series and the premiere of another, the network adds.

The four short series will be selected from among nine of the network's "World Premieres" programs—those original two-hour teleplays with which NBC-TV has had good fortune in the ratings in its attempt to create new product to substitute for the dwindling supply of old movies.

Each of the nine "World Premieres" was designed as a pilot film for a series, and this sort of entry, first developed by NBC-TV, now has become a widespread practice in the industry. As an example, CBS-TV recently has begun showing two-hour originals as world premiere films. And ABC-TV this season has had great success with its new 90-minute "Movie of the Week" series, also a collection of originals.

News Reporter Tells It Like It Is

By STEWART SLAVIN
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—Thirty persons were arrested Friday night by sheriff's deputies for violating the emergency curfew ordinance, including myself, one of three UPI reporters assigned to cover the story at Isla Vista.

I noticed 11 persons being lined up in the street and handcuffed. I went to a public telephone across the street to phone in the report. After being told that all circuits were blocked, I opened the booth and noticed one suspect breaking from the group being pursued by a deputy equipped with a shield.

As I began to follow, another deputy approached me, told me to halt and said I was under arrest. I identified myself as a UPI reporter and showed him a Los Angeles County sheriff's press badge. He told me to "shut up" and handcuffed me with a disposable plastic band cinched tightly behind my back.

I was ordered with about 20 other men to stand against a wall of the burned down Bank of America and stood there for 30 minutes before I was photographed. I attempted to identify myself again but was told again to keep silent.

I was then taken with about 40 other arrestees to the new county jail where we waited for nearly an hour. We had been handcuffed for more than two hours and when the agonizing pain cutting off circulation produced groans, a sheriff's captain ordered, "cut those men loose immediately."

Twelve hours later after being released from a holding cell, I again produced my press credentials and related the circumstances leading to my arrest to the booking officer. He did not acknowledge them. Again I explained my position to a fingerprinting officer and he told me I was arrested because I did not carry a special pink Santa Barbara County sheriff's pass. Later, at the sheriff's command post, Lt. James Vizcolini told me authorities had been told to honor all Los Angeles County sheriff's passes.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Failure of the Nixon administration to take a firm stand on the hemline issue has spread dismay among consumer rights leaders who are fighting to uphold the miniskirt.

They feel that in the absence of strong White House support downward pressure on skirt lengths will become irresistible. That would be a grave setback for the consumer rights movement. Heavy consumer investments in miniskirts would be wiped out.

But consumer rights leaders derive no encouragement from the administration's posture on the matter, which they regard as ambiguous at best.

It is true that Dr. Henry Kissinger, a top presidential assistant, has been quoted as saying he would be "sorry to see the miniskirt go."

Attorney General Likes Minis
It likewise is true that Attorney General John N. Mitchell, who is regarded as the most influential Cabinet member, has been quoted as saying "I have always liked short skirts on women."

However, consumer rights spokesmen point out that both were speaking unofficially and were voicing personal opinions rather than administration policy.

Offsetting whatever help their comments might have provided was last week's official state visit by French President Georges Pompidou, whose wife wore elongated skirts at all of her public appearances in Washington.

The impact she had on the miniskirt cause was devastating.

"Probably the only thing that can save the miniskirt now would be an unequivocal statement in its behalf by the President himself, either in one of his television appeals or in a special message to Congress," one consumer rights leader told me.

Effect Is Primary Concern
Of primary concern to the consumer rights groups is the inflationary effect of plunging hemlines.

"Consumers will start pouring millions of dollars into new garments at a time when the president is trying to cool off the economy," a spokesman said.

A White House source advised me, however, that President Nixon is unlikely to intervene.

Iowa Defeats Ohio St. In Basketball Roundup

By United Press International
Iowa and Marquette, two top ten teams headed for post-season tournaments, oiled their offensive machine and mechanically breezed to victory Tuesday night.

Big Ten champion Iowa, ranked seventh and headed for the NCAA Midwest Regional, surpassed the century mark for the 11th time this season with a 113-92 decision over Ohio State and No. 10 Marquette, bound for the NIT, shot a blistering 58 per cent from the field to down Southern Illinois, 75-68.

J. In Johnson paced Iowa by scoring 37 points and grabbing 11 rebounds and four other Hawkeyes scored in double figures—led by Fred Brown with 24 and Glen Vicnovic with 22.

Dean Meninger scored 22 points to lead Marquette, which is now 21-3 with one regular season game remaining.

Drake backed into the Missouri Valley Conference title and an automatic NCAA regional berth despite being idle, as Bradley eliminated Cincinnati from the MVC race by beating the Bearcats, 87-83.

Milwaukee Rips 76ers 127-116 In NBA Action

By United Press International
The Philadelphia 76ers haven't seen the last of Lew Alcindor. They may regret meeting him the next time.

Alcindor ripped the Philadelphia defense for 31 points Tuesday night as Milwaukee defeated the 76ers, 127-116, to tie the regular season series at 3-3. The Bucks are second in the Eastern Division and Philadelphia is fourth. At the rate they're going, they'll wind up as first-round opponents in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Flynn Robinson aided the Milwaukee cause with 30 points, including seven early in the third period that put the game on ice. Hal Greer led the 76ers with 28 points.

New York reduced its number for clinching the Eastern Division title to six by socking San Francisco, 115-100. Atlanta widened its lead to 1 1/2 games over second-place Los Angeles in the West with a 101-93 triumph over the Lakers. Chicago defeated Phoenix, 123-111, and Seattle downed San Diego, 126-114.

Dave DeBusschere scored 22 points. Walt Frazier added 20 and Willis Reed netted 19 to help New York establish a club record of 53 records in a season. Jeff Mullins paced San Francisco with 28 points, but it was Clyde Lee's 23 that drew the most attention as the Warrior center hit 11 straight baskets.

Atlanta drained the strength of the Los Angeles attack when Hawk defenders held Jerry West, the league's leading scorer, to 18 points and Elgin Baylor to 21. Lou Hudson, meanwhile, netted 31 points and Walt Bellamy controlled the boards with 27 rebounds for Atlanta.

Clem Haskins, with 33 points, and Bob Love, with 32, led Chicago's attack, which survived a Phoenix rally following a fight in the fourth quarter.

Chicago was ahead, 99-90, when the fight broke out with 9:56 remaining. Bulls' center Bob Kauffman and Phoenix guard Gail Goodrich had collided coming downcourt, and after a Phoenix field goal, the two met again under the basket. Neil Johnson came off the Phoenix bench to aid Goodrich and tangled with Kauffman. Kauffman was charged with two personal fouls while Johnson received a technical and was ejected from the game.

Dick Snyder hit five straight field goals early in the fourth quarter to spark the Seattle victory, which was a club record sixth straight. Snyder led the Sonics with 26 points and Elvin Hayes paced San Diego with 31.

Phillips Leads UPI's SWC Basketball All-Star Team

DALLAS (UPI)—Gene Phillips of Southern Methodist, one of the most prolific scorers in league history, and Gary Reist of Rice, who proved that a guard offense can win titles, were unanimous picks for the 1969 United Press International All-Southwest Conference basketball team.

Phillips, who made 30-point games a habit as the only consistent threat SMU offered, was the only repeater on the team that included four juniors and a lone senior.

Phillips, Reist, William Chatmon of Baylor and Gene Knolle of Texas Tech all will have a chance to gain similar honors next year. The lone senior picked by the UPI with the assistance of the conference sports information directors was Texas A&M's Mike Heilmann.

Boyd headed up the second team, which also included Tom Myer of champion Rice, Wayne Doyal of Texas, Jeff Harp of TCU and Greg Lowery of Texas Tech. Myer and Lowery are juniors, the others seniors.

Tommy Bowman of Baylor, who had been a first team pick in both 1968 and 1969, dropped all the way to the honorable mention list this year as Chatmon came in to take over the scoring punch at the Waco school.

Laguna Wins Lightweight Crown Back

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Ismael Laguna said he expected to meet a professional but encountered only an amateur Tuesday night when he defeated Mando Ramos of Long Beach, Calif., to regain the lightweight boxing crown.

Before a crowd of 15,577 at the Sports Arena that paid a gate of $150,001.50, the 26-year-old veteran in his 10th year as a professional gave Ramos, 21, a boxing lesson for nine rounds. The fight was halted after the ninth at the request of the champion's corner.

The new champion from Panama gave a dazzling exhibition of jabbing and exhibition of jabbing and elusive defense. Laguna, the second time Laguna had won the lightweight crown.

The badly cut Ramos, who had blood streaming from both eyes when the bout was halted at the request of his manager, Jackie McCoy, berated himself for what he termed "a dumb fight."

"I didn't feel strong," he said. "This guy is a real good fighter. If I fought him again, I'd stay on top of him."

Ramos landed his best punches in the early rounds, although suffering his first eye cut in the opening round. But from the seventh round on, Laguna's sharp jabs and dancing tactics had Ramos defeated.

When Ramos suffered the cut on his right eye in the ninth, that was the end. It goes into the books as a ninth-round knockout under California rules and the first time Ramos had been stopped in 32 fights. Laguna weighed 135 and Ramos 134 1/2.

For Laguna it was his 61st victory with 35 by a knockout in his lengthy ring career. Even if the fight had gone the limit, Laguna apparently would have won by a decision. He was ahead on the cards of the referee, 6-3, and those of judges John Thomas, 5-3, and Dick Young, 5-4. The UPI card had Laguna ahead, 4-2.

Stephens Makes A Hole-In-One

Loyd Stephens "finally got one" Sunday on the Pampa Country Club golf course.

Stephens teed up on number 12 and hit the ball straight into the hole on the 197-yard, par three, hole Sunday afternoon.

It was Stephens' first hole-in-one and all he was heard to say was "I finally got one."

Phillips, who averaged 28.7 points going into his final game Tuesday night, led the conference for the second year in a row and his full season average bettered the previous record of 28.2 set by TCU's Dick O'Neal in 1955.

Reist averaged 19.8 points per game, Heilmann 19.3, Knolle 20.7 and Chatmon 21.2.

Chatmon and Knolle transferred into the conference from junior college stardom to continue the pattern conference schools have taken in recent years.

Three Way Tie In Citrus Open

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI)—Three golfers carried five-under-par 67s into today's second round of the $35,000 Florida Citrus Open golf tournament, with a total of 22 beating par the first day.

Mike Morely had a brilliant 30 on the front nine of the Lone Palm course Tuesday, but ended up sharing the lead with Ken Ellsworth and Bill Collins, who also posted 67s.

Jacksonville pro Larry Sears trailed by a single stroke and five others carded 69s, including Rives McBee of Denton, Tex., Ted Hayes of Atlanta, Bob Stone of Independence, Mo., Babe Hickey of Pocatello, Idaho, and Rafe Botts of Los Angeles.

The tournament is a satellite event to the $150,000 Florida Citrus Invitational which begins Thursday in Orlando.

PROSPECTUS — After losing to the Mets in the World Series, the Orioles stood pat in the off-season, which should indicate something. Pitching is not as deep as meets the eye, which Mets proved, and the Robinsons are, indeed, a year older. Psychological effects of the Series are sure to linger. This club could wind up as the flop of the year.

PITCHING — Mike Cuellar was 23-11 last year and won the Series opener. Screwball carries him. Dave McNally had a 15-0 start, then tailed off and finished 20-7. Jim Palmer, who always seems to be aching, was 16-4 in between stints on the injured list. No. 4 man is Tom Phoebus, 14-7. Jim Hardin also around for spot duty. Orioles need another righty starter. Bullpen solid with Pete Richert (7-4), Eddie Watt (5-2) and vet Dick Hall. Rating—B.

CATCHING — Andy Etchebarren and Elrod Hendricks split job last year, but neither cracked 250. Etchebarren can do better. Rating—C.

INFIELD — Boog Powell had

304 year with 37 HRs and 121 RBIs. No moving him from first. Second belongs to Dave Johnson, who outdid himself with a .280 year at the plate.

In the same vein, Mark Belanger hit .287 last season after years struggling to get over .300. He's got a great glove and stays at short. Third is Brooks Robinson's still, despite off-season with bat. Chico Salmon and Bobby Floyd are spot men. Rating—A.

OUTFIELD — Remains Don Buford (.291) in left, Paul Blair (.285) in center, Frank Robinson (.308) in right. Hitters all. Only question is whether Robinson, nearing 36, can keep up the pace. If he needs an occasional rest, Marv Rettenmund, Curt Motten or Dave Maye can spell him. Rating—A-.

TOP ROOKIES — Only two youngsters have a chance of sticking for the season. Fred Beene, who can throw despite slight build, could be a long reliever, and Don Baylor, power hitter, might be utility outfielder. He's up from Rochester.

PREDICTION: 5th in AL East. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

The School Voucher Plan

As a reaction against the steadily deteriorating quality of instruction in the government school system, against forced integration (with its attendant indiscriminate busing of children to distant schools), and against the introduction of "sex courses" and "sensitivity training" into the so-called public schools, a new concept known as the "voucher plan" is attracting widespread support.

The plan, as described in the Feb. 2 issue of The National Observer, "would work something like this: Parents would be given an 'educational voucher' representing their child's (or children's) 'share of the public school budget.' The voucher, according to the plan, could then be spent at a school of the parent's choice.

President Nixon, being the consummate political animal he is, and, no doubt sensing the widespread disenchantment with the school system, is reported to be intensely interested in the voucher approach. "Little publicized until now," noted The National Observer, "it is one of the experiments that President Nixon alluded to in his message last week explaining his veto of the Health, Education and Welfare bill."

A 'Flame Of Hope'

Social attitudes improve as burden of his fellow countrymen. Family Weekly reported that it costs the tax payer more than $100,000 each for a lifetime of institutional care of a mentally retarded person.

Flame of Hope, Inc. was founded as a non-profit venture. As such, it is superior to establishing another governmental agency. Those who support the organization are doing so voluntarily out of their sincere desire to help others to help themselves.

H. L. Hunt Writes

DISRUPTION OF COURTS

It has become apparent that the anarchistic forces set on tearing down America have established a pattern of disrupting court procedure whenever some of their number are indicted and brought to trial on criminal charges.

In Chicago, a group of men on trial for conspiring to incite riots constantly heaped abuse on the presiding judge, shouted insults and obscenities and engaged in silly antics to draw the attention of the press.

These deliberately planned outbursts are part of the effort of the Farleft to destroy all established American institutions, schools, universities, legislative bodies, the courts, the churches, and the business system.

Under our American system, any person charged with a crime is entitled to a fair trial and is presumed innocent until found guilty. But regardless of the charges on which they are being tried, these agitators have openly convicted themselves of contempt for the very procedure designed to insure that they will be treated fairly.

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

Where your tax monies go... Labor secretary George Shultz is continuing to subsidize the militant National Welfare Rights Organization to the tune of $434,930 a year.

Both bunches are headed by Geo. Wiley, a firebrand who claims to represent welfare recipients throughout the country. The labor dept. contract authorizes Wiley's group to study the work incentive programme and "recommend ways in which the welfare recipients can assume leadership roles" in the program.

But Wiley's group is absolutely against the entire "work incentive" program. Naturally so. This program provides that welfare officials may refer physically-fit welfare recipients to jobs. Do they want jobs? Are you kidding?

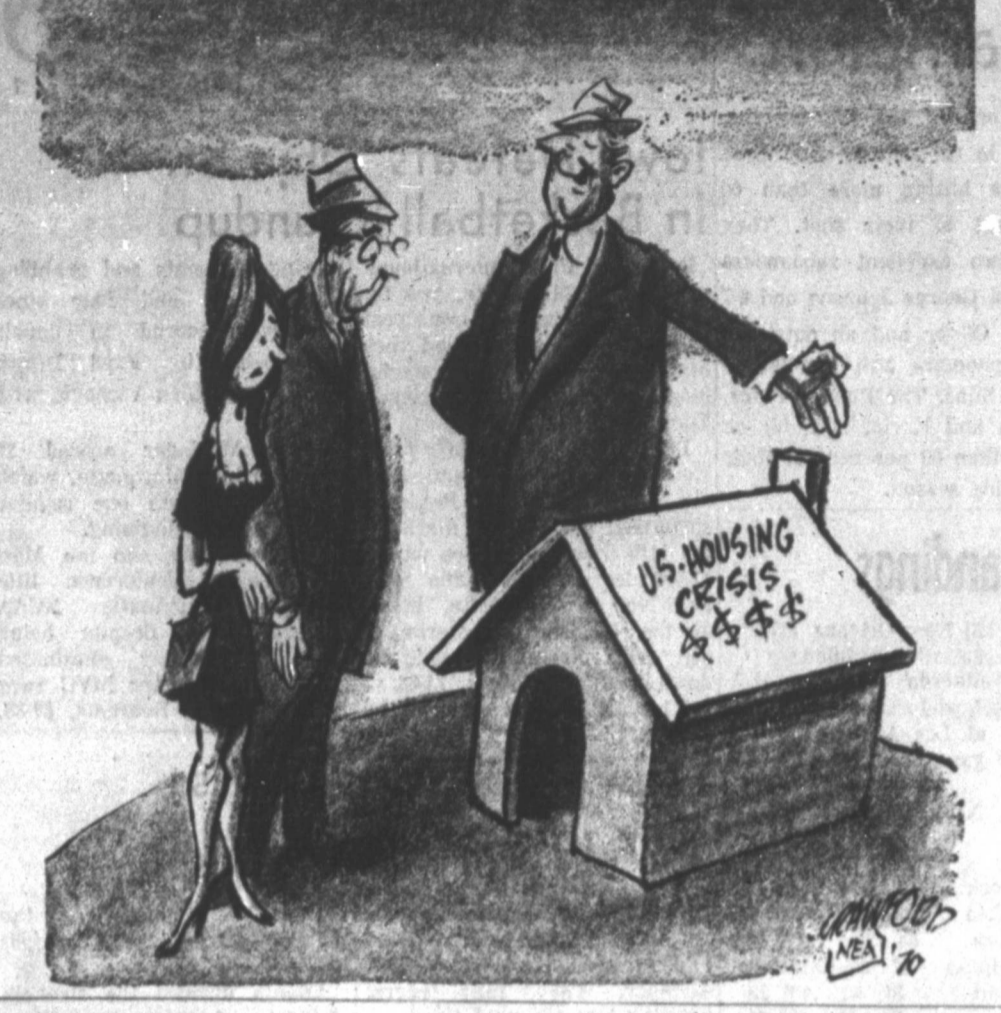

At a NWRO two-day seminar, conducted by NWRO officials, welfare recipients were lectured long and hard on ways they could avoid job training or work under the new incentive program. Their only incentive is to keep away from work.

It is unfortunate that it seems necessary to establish a taxfree organization to achieve good aims. It would be far better if a profit-seeking enterprise were able to do the same work. Were it not for hampering minimum wage laws and politically-enforced working conditions, a private company could be formed to operate the training courses, producing a desired product to sell to the public and thus become self-sustaining.

Clearing House

Got something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested that should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind. So, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor: A great deal has been said and written about who was responsible for inflation. Inflation is a selfish public demand. Consumers demand two cars in each garage, with a trade in each year; as well as unlimited credit cards, an example set by the government spending more than it received.

The picture all this gives of what is going on in Mississippi is vastly different from that imagined by most northerners. And, it must be said, television and most other news media outside the South have not helped to paint a careful portrait.

The impression evidently held widely in the North is that up until the Supreme Court spoke on Oct. 29, virtually nothing had happened in Mississippi—and that since severe integration orders began taking effect most white Mississippians have been at the barricades in firm resistance.

Today, integration in Mississippi involves almost 50 per cent of the black school population, and most of this increase has occurred in just the last several weeks.

Admittedly, the change is the result of the strong compulsion given by recent Supreme Court decisions. Nevertheless, the change is astonishing. As one thoughtful Mississippi source observes:

"It represents the most total uprooting of people ever done anywhere in the country in so short a time."
Hypocritical northern liberals who make a career out of punishing the South verbally would be hard put to point out anything even remotely similar in the northern big cities.

Among 40 Mississippi districts integrated but not segregated under the Alexander vs. Holmes edict, racial ratios sometimes are high as 70-30 black to white, or even 80-20. Yet the white students are in regular attendance, as in dozens of those areas voluntarily desegregated or affected by other court orders.

Of course, there has been a white exodus from the public schools in some places, mostly districts within the 15 of 82 Mississippi counties with black majorities up to 5 to 1. The number of known white private schools has risen from 32 last September to around 100 today. And in possibly a dozen districts, public schools left wholly black may deteriorate from local and state fund reductions.

Yet some key Mississippians think the cost burdens and other factors may cause many private schools to vanish in a few years. The big thing is the massive charge Mississippi has managed with minimum trouble.

Security Bill Blocked By 3 Demo Senators
JOHN GOLDSMITH
ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Three liberal militants are determinedly blocking Senate consideration of the Defense Facilities and Industrial Security Act passed overwhelmingly by the House weeks ago.

They are Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., Philip Hart, D-Mich., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

All are members of the Senate Judiciary Committee where this important anti-sabotage and espionage legislation is being stalled.

They are opposing this internal security measure on the ground it violates civil rights, freedom of speech and assembly, and due process.

The House bill has been pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee since late January, when it was passed by the smashing vote of 274 to 65. A group of Democratic militants made three attempts to pull the teeth of the measure. Each was decisively defeated.

As approved and sent to the Senate, the bill was sponsored by the entire membership of the Internal Security Committee, with two exceptions, and a number of other Republican and Democratic congressmen.

The exceptions were Reps. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., chairman of a special crime investigating committee, and Louis Stokes, D-O., brother of Cleveland's controversial Negro Mayor Carl Stokes.

Also stymied in the Senate Judiciary Committee is a generally similar bill sponsored by Sen. James Eastland, D-Miss., chairman.

It is his intention to vigorously press for hearings on the embattled legislation, after the Senate has disposed of the appointment of Judge G. Harold Carswell to the Supreme Court.

Eastland emphatically predicts the Florida bill will be confirmed by a 2 to 1 vote. Latest backstage poll shows only 27 votes against him — all by five Democrats.

Sen. Eastland's aim is to report the security bill to the full Senate by May at the latest. They would ensure its being acted on this session — which

Big City Welfare Taking More And More Of Your $$

Let's face it: Cities are getting filled up with people least willing or able to support themselves, least able to pay taxes.

Now the big-city states, blaming the rest of the country, are demanding that the 'country' share the cost of 'city welfare.'

What are we going to do about the fact that more people in big cities getting more welfare have attracted more people to big cities to collect more welfare?

President Nixon's proposals for welfare reform include a provision for making welfare payments in all states more nearly similar, thus to discourage the continuing migration to already over-stuffed cities. The national minimum would become $1,600 a year.

Further, recognizing that the cities are already in financial trouble, the President would offer them $3.4 billion federal aid (Your money).

But legislators from nine of the most populous states say that's not enough. Now they are demanding that the federal government take over the financing of all welfare programs at an estimated cost of 7.5 billion of your dollars.

we could have cheaper interest and less taxes. It is said that thriftiness means success. Let us pray for a thrifty and just government.

Question Box

We invite questions on economic and political issues which will not injure anyone.

QUESTION:—It is my understanding that the Smith Act of 1940 was abolished. Would you please explain this act and if abolished, why?

ANSWER: The Smith Act made it a criminal offense to advocate overthrow of the government by force or violence. The act is still on the books, but its enforcement apparently was made impossible by the rulings of the U.S. Supreme Court. The court in 1957 held that teaching and advocating forcible overthrow of the government were not punishable under the act so long as such teaching and advocating were divorced from the effort to instigate action.

"Advocacy or teaching of abstract doctrine," said the court in Yates vs. U.S., was not punishable "even though uttered with the hope that it may ultimately lead to violent revolution." Before Earl Warren's day, the Supreme Court headed by Chief Justice Fred Vinson had upheld the conviction of 11 Communist Party officials for violation of the Smith act.

Highlights And Sidelights

AUSTIN, Tex. — Top Texas officials have agreed on general outlines of a plan to combat the rising problem of drug abuse.

Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin and House Speaker Gus Mutsaers are united in a statewide concentration of effort. Plan was announced after a meeting of the four in Smith's office last week. Texas Justice Council will serve as coordinator.

Coordinated law enforcement action will first be called on to try and dry up the sources of dangerous drugs.

Top priority is given a "total education" campaign for youth, adults, teachers and law enforcement personnel on drug dangers and possible solutions to the problem.

Task forces will be named to develop effective concepts and action programs in enforcement and education.

Leaders agreed on this immediate-action program:

One-day seminars for Texas law officers and prosecutors.

Exchange of vital information with Mexico.

Assistance through the Justice Council to implement school education.

Review of successful narcotics programs in other states.

Greater assistance to local enforcement and prosecuting agencies in evidence analysis.

Gathering of statistics in major cities on drug-related crime.

Creation of a model drug information office.

Narcotics strike forces will include local, state and federal personnel, military manpower and use of helicopter patrols along the Rio Grande.

Another task force will attempt to explore causes of drug use and to evaluate proposed research and rehabilitation programs as well as to implement educational programs in schools.

State officials will meet here March 13 with aides to U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell. They will explore federal support programs and the uniform controlled dangerous substances act now before congress.

TOLL ROADS PROPOSED—

In a surprise session with the State Highway Commission, Texas Turnpike Authority proposed that preliminary studies be made for the development of a massive toll road network estimated to cost more than $135 million.

Last year the Legislature authorized the agency, subject to the Highway Department's permission, to spend money for investigating the feasibility of additional pay-road projects.

Turnpike Authority asked the Commission to let it make exploratory studies of the following projects:

An 83-mile, $50 million mid-Texas turnpike from Hillsboro to Interstate 45 near Centerville, to provide a direct freeway from Dallas-Fort Worth to Houston-Beaumont areas.

A 20-mile, $40 million Dallas-Fort Worth-Trinity turnpike connecting Dallas and Fort Worth parallel to the present turnpike by way of the projected Greater Southwest International airport between the two cities.

An 8.8-mile, $18 million airport tollway connecting LBJ Freeway in Dallas to the new airport estimated for completion in 1973.

A $20 million toll road in San Antonio to follow the route of long-delayed U.S. 281 North Expressway.

A 1.2 mile, $7 million toll bridge across Mountain Creek Lake in Dallas County connecting the Oak Cliff and Arlington areas.

A turnpike from downtown Houston to Intercontinental Airport and possibly other facilities in the state's largest city.

Preliminary studies will take six to nine months. Feasibility surveys may follow where reasonable promise is shown for the projects.

WELFARE CRISIS AVERTED—Welfare Board cancelled its April 1 cuts in aid to needy families and medical assistance after Governor Smith ordered $133 million in medical school building funds shifted to welfare.

Deputy Welfare Commissioner Herbert Wilson said the fund transfusion will run programs at present levels through August and maybe longer.

Cuts of 12 per cent in Aid to Families with Dependent Children and 20 per cent in Medicaid had been ordered for April 1. In order to transfer to make this reduction unnecessary.

Smith also directed strengthening of the welfare program administration and a step-up in rehabilitation efforts.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—Fraternal and veterans organizations operating clubs and serving alcoholic beverages are subject to sales tax as ultimate consumers for mix, beverage, for or set-ups, says Attorney General Martin in a new opinion. However, Martin said, the "makings" are not subject to further sales tax when incorporated into alcoholic beverage served to guests and members.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Amarillo Mayor J. Ernest Stroud did not automatically resign as mayor when he announced his candidacy for Randall County Judge.

Alcoholic Beverage Commission does not have authority to construct a revenue station at Eagle Pass from appropriated funds.

Board of Insurance is authorized to permit continuance of above-ground storage tanks for flammable liquids at retail service stations where they were in service prior to last September 1 and where they conform to safety standards.

County Commissioners have no authority to budget an amount for the current year which exceeds the county auditor's anticipated revenue.

RETROACTIVE PAYMENTS MADE—A total of 131 persons received $53,811 in retroactive welfare payments under terms of a San Antonio federal court order invalidating to one year state residence requirement.

Since last October, the welfare department has been trying to locate 414 who might have been eligible. Payments went to these categories:

—Add to Families with Dependent Children—$48,097 to 112 persons.

—Add to Disabled—$332 to three.

—Old Age Assistance—$4,982 to 16.

WASHINGTON—Herbert Rafter, public health director of Oak Park, Ill., arguing that women are being used to test birth-control pills of uncertain safety:

"Women on the pill are ready made and superb guinea pigs. They don't cost anything, they clean their own cages, feed themselves, pay for their own pills and in many cases even remunerate the clinical observer."
