FAVORS LOWERING

Solons Axed On Age Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A test vote has put the Senate squarely in favor of lowering the voting age to 18 by law, but one man blocked the Senate from acting. "What's the rush?" asked Sen. James B. Allen, a Democratic freshman from Alabama. "What's the rush?" responded Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. "If the senator from Alabama had eight children as does the senator from Michigan, he would not ask." But Allen said he meant why did the Senate want to rush into lowering the voting age by law when, in his view, a constitutional amendment is required to do it legally. Nonetheless, by a vote of 62 to 21, the Senate Wednesday rejected the motion of Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., to kill the proposal, offered by Democrat Leader Mike Mansfield, of Montana. "It's the current youth kick," said Mansfield's Republican counterpart, Hugh D. Scott Jr., of Pennsylvania. Scott sided with the Nixon Administration in voting to kill the Mansfield proposal. The administration argues a constitutional amendment is required. But 25 Republicans deserted their party position and joined 37 Democrats in voting not to kill the Mansfield plan. Eleven Democrats—all southerners—and 10 Republicans voted the other way. Today's debate centered on an amendment offered by Allen to put the 18 year old vote into effect Jan. 1, 1971, as proposed by Mansfield.

TOP WINNERS

GRAND CHAMPION pig owned by Frank Morrison, right, of Pampa was purchased by Jimmy Dean Meat Packing Co. represented by Elmer McLaughlin, for re-sale. The 210-pound Poland China brought $2 per pound.

Times-Mirror Plans Merger With Newsday

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The morning's editions of the Times and Newsday, publishers of The Los Angeles Times, said today that merger discussions have been going on with the owners of Newsday, the Long Island newspaper. A brief statement in this morning's editions of the Times said: "A spokesman for Times-Mirror said Wednesday that Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, president of Newsday Inc., and Norman Chandler, chairman of the executive committee of Times-Mirror, have had informal discussions concerning a merger in Garden City, N.Y., a spokesman for Newsday said Guggenheim was in Florida and unavailable for immediate comment. "We have nothing to say," the spokesman said. "A possible merger but no agreement had been reached."

City Refutes Erroneous Story Of Bid

City Hall today denied a radio broadcast report yesterday that the city commission had awarded a contract to an out-of-town bidder to the exclusion of a hometown firm that had submitted a bid $600 lower. City Manager Charles Hill said today he had learned the report was in connection with bids opened at Tuesday's meeting for the purchase of trees and shrubbery in the city's park beautification program along Red Deer Creek.

Only one company, Tom's Tree Place, Lubbock, bid on all items and met all specifications. Two other bidders, one of them local, did not bid on all items and in each case there was an instance or two of not meeting specifications or making substitutions. An attempt to combine these two and come up with a total on items for which specifications were met resulted in a higher price than the Lubbock firm, Hill stated. Tom's Tree Place bid a total of $4,129.20. The combined bid of the other two was $4,366.80.

The bids were studied while the commission was in session and when the results were reported back, city commissioners awarded the bid to the Lubbock firm as low bidder. "We simply took the best bid that met all specifications," City Manager Hill said. "I don't know how the story got started that the contract was awarded to an out-of-town bidder who was $600 above a local bidder on the same items. That was not the case."

Call For Repeal Of Common Law Marriage Law

AUSTIN (UPI)—Maurice C. Elsberry, a Houston businessman running for the legislature, produced a petition Wednesday with 20,000 signatures and called for a special legislative session to repeal the so-called common-law marriage law.

The law permits teen-agers to legally declare themselves married without their parent's consent. Elsberry said the law conflicts with another statute on statutory rape. "If this law is left on the books for two years, one out of every five families will be affected," Elsberry said. He said many young persons would be damaged "by allowing them to be married at an age where we are already having tremendous difficulties with crime, dope and parental control." He said a man who signs a declaration of informal marriage with a 14-year-old girl, as permitted under the new code, "would be open to charges of rape or statutory rape."

Panthers Solicit $1 Million Fund

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Kansas City Black Panthers will try to solicit $1 million from merchants in the black community this year. The money would be raised "by any means necessary," said Pete O'Neal, leader of the Black Panther Party here. He then qualified the "means" as economic boycotts of merchants who did not contribute. A Panther statement released at a news conference Wednesday also charged that a five-day House committee investigation into the Kansas City party produced opinions rather than information.

Three Skyscrapers Blasted By Bombs

NEW YORK (UPI)—High powered bombs which anti-establishment revolutionaries claimed to have devastated the offices of major corporations in three Manhattan skyscrapers early today and set off a rash of bomb scares forcing evacuation of stores, schools and courts.

The bombers informed police of their plot in advance, so that night workers could be evacuated from the skyscrapers—all within a 15-block area. There was not enough time, however, to search for the bombs, which injured no one.

United Press International received a special delivery letter several hours later from a group calling itself "Revolutionary Force 9" which took credit for the bombings. It said the offices of Socony Mobil Oil, International Business Machines and General Telephone & Electronics were chosen because they profit from war and exploit and degrade human life.

A typewritten message taking credit for the bombings was delivered to United Press International by special delivery mail shortly after 7 a.m. It was signed, "Revolutionary Force 9."

"IBM, Mobil and GT&E are enemies of all life," the message said. "In 1969 IBM made $250 million, Mobil $150 million and GT&E $140 million from U.S. Defense contracts—profits made from the suffering and deaths of human beings." The message ended: "In death-directed America (SIC) there is only one way to a life of love and freedom: to attack and destroy the forces of death and exploitation and to build a just society—revolution!"

The message, which decried the Vietnam War, racism and sexism, was similar in tone to that sent to news media after the bombings last fall. Following a pattern set in other corporate bombings in the past year, bomb threats harassed police throughout the morning. Among the buildings which had to be evacuated for searches were the Manhattan and Brooklyn federal courthouses, Bloomingdale's department store, the Consolidated Edison building and several schools.

The circumstances and results of the bombings were "very similar" to another triple bombing last Nov. 11 that hit other offices in Manhattan, a police official said.

A special delivery letter received in United Press International's New York Bureau today said a group called "Revolutionary Force 9" was responsible for the bombing attacks against the large corporations.

Later this morning, police received another anonymous telephone call with the message that four bombs were set to explode in the lower level of Grand Central Terminal at 5:30 a.m. An emergency crew of police and firemen waited on the main level until after 5:30, then searched the downstairs area.

WHITE WOMAN SOUGHT

Police Seek Chief Bombing Suspect

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (UPI)—National Guard troops stood by today as police searched for a white woman suspect in the $100,000 bombing of the courthouse where H. Rap Brown originally was to have been tried on inciting to riot charges.

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland ordered strict security measures—including a state police guard around the capital in Annapolis—Wednesday when he received reports of the Dorchester County Courthouse bombing—the second within 48 hours associated with the trial pending in Bel Air, Md., 85 miles north of here. State's Attorney William C. Yates won a change of venue for the trial on grounds the proceedings would create tensions in Dorchester County, the population of which is 23 per cent Negro. Harford County, in which Bel Air is located, has an 8.6 per cent Negro population. Defense attorneys object to the shift.

Defense Lawyer William M. Kunstler urged a dismissal of the 1967 charges against Brown in view of the incidents. Ralph E. Featherstone and William Herman "Che" Payne, who were members of the Student National Coordinating Committee along with Brown, were killed late Monday night when a bomb ripped their car near Bel Air.

Brown has not been seen since the trial proceedings began Monday. Tuesday, they were recessed until next Monday, Kunstler said he had not talked to his client in 10 days. Kunstler said Mrs. Brown might make a statement about her husband's disappearance from New York City at a news conference in Washington today. Brown left New York Sunday, presumably to go to Bel Air for the trial.

Mandel said his office would submit emergency legislation to the general assembly today to tighten laws governing possession, transport and use of high explosives. The new measure would increase penalties for violations.

Brown is charged with arson and inciting to riot in a speech July 24, 1967, at Cambridge. Racial unrest followed the speech and a two-block area in a predominantly-Negro area was burned.

A search continued for a white female police said was seen entering the Dorchester County Courthouse with a bundle under her arm on Tuesday.

It was learned police were trying to locate a Dodge sedan bearing the New York State license number KT 1562, believed to be the getaway car.

MASSIVE WALKOUT

Bright Lights In Vegas Go Out

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—The bright lights of the garish Las Vegas Strip disappeared Wednesday night in the wake of a massive walkout by union members. Some hotels turned away tourists for the first time in the history of the resort mecca.

The strip, with billions of its neon lights dark, looked like any other small city in America except for hundreds of pickets who paraded along the darkened sidewalks.

The 14,000-member Culinary and Bartenders Union struck three resorts early Wednesday and twelve hours later the picket lines spread to 13 other Strip hotels.

By midmorning the airports were jammed and traffic was heavy on the arteries leading out of town. Vacationers carried their own baggage out of the hotels.

A spokesman for the six Howard Hughes hotels said that new guests were being turned away and the Frontier Hotel probably would be closed entirely tonight.

A federal mediator sent requests to management and the unions to resume bargaining but received no reply from the unions. Management replied it would resume talks.

Caesars palace closed its casino and asked guests to leave as soon as possible. Other casinos virtually were empty and showroom curtains failed to go up as showgirls and musicians honored the picket lines.

Gov. Paul Laxalt said in Carson City that the state was "in the midst of what could be the most severe economic strike in Nevada history."

Only three of the major hotels—Riviera, Circus Circus and Bobanza—were unaffected by the strike, because they do not belong to the Resort Association and previously agreed to union terms. They reported a brisk business.

Al Bramlet, president of the executive board of the unions, predicted the strike would "be a long one." The unions asked for a 35 per cent wage increase over a three-year period. Their old contract paid waiters and waitresses $11.60 a shift, cooks $33.95 minimum, and bartenders $28 to $31 per shift.

At the Tropicana, Maynard Sloote, hotel entertainment director, and Bill Pierce, a public relations executive, were tending bar.

"Everything is either a dollar or 75 cents because I can't add," Pierce said. "You can either order shots or beer, because we aren't too good at mixed drinks."

Nixon Names New Director

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has chosen Curtis W. Tarr, 45, an Air Force assistant secretary, as the new draft director, it was learned today.

The nomination of Tarr was being sent to the Senate this afternoon.

The former Wisconsin small college president was selected to succeed Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, 76, who retired Feb. 16.

Since then, the Selective Service has been under the supervision of Col. Dee Ingold, Hershey's former assistant who was named acting director. Nixon's direction to become a presidential adviser on manpower and mobilization.

CONTEST STARTS

Entries in the Easter Coloring Contest are beginning to come in. But the Pampa Daily News Contest Editor cautions its young artists to hold all cartoons until they have finished the four-cartoon series, then send them all in, in the same envelope. All four may be sent in as soon as they are completed. Deadline is Friday, March 20.

City Names Personnel Director

George C. Campbell, 25, a 1960 graduate of Texas Tech, will start work Monday as city personnel director and administrative assistant to City Manager Charles Hill.

Campbell will move into the post vacated by Ronnie Woods who resigned last Dec. 31 to become school business manager at Spearman.

Graduated from Arling High School, Campbell has been attending Texas Tech working part time for the City of Lubbock.

He was graduated as a government major and will take the post here as part of his training for a career as a city manager. Starting salary for the personnel post is $548 a month.

Campbell is married to the former Sandra Kay Shrew who was born in Pampa and attended Pampa elementary schools; They have a six-month-old daughter, Cheri.

Mrs. Campbell currently is studying sociology and government at Texas Tech and will receive her degree in June.

LEARNS FAST City Slicker Covers Junior Stock Show

By DEL CONNER News Staff Writer
I was standing there, trying to mind everyone's business for the sake of the news media, when the duroc, (they're the red ones), tried to bite the Chester White, (they're the white ones). See how clever I am?

Alarmed, I jumped over a little fence just as a Poland China came around the corner between my legs.

At the time, I was pretty sure the Poland China must be a fancy brand of dinnerware, but kept an open mind just in case Poland and China had announced a new peace treaty or something.

Anyhow, I jumped again, and landed next to two little girls. Embarrassed at their sniggering, I mustered what dignity I could and said, "Lovely cows you have here."

I suddenly felt the dirty looks of about fifty people who had been too polite to laugh at my fear of the pigs.

I was rescued, however, when a kindly gentleman walked over and led me aside.

"I could feel the warmth as I stood on a green mound, (which I immediately recognized as bird food), in my alligator shoes."

The kindly gentleman gave me a few facts concerning the nomenclature of beef cattle.

"Look," I said, "I know a Hereford when I see one. And I'm not prejudiced. I like the black ones, too."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the first time since 1957, the nation's birth rate has started to increase again, according to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

It said the rate of 17.7 births per 1,000 women during 1966 was due, not to women having more babies, but to a growth in the number of women of child-bearing age.

PHS Drama Students At Tourney

Members of the Pampa High School Drama Department left today to participate in the three-day Invitational One-Act Play Festival at the Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M.

Participating in the competition are Jane Dingus, Kathy Lewis, Lou Ann Fulcher, Sara Walker, Paula Johnson, Retha Jordan, Pat Jernigan and Lill Carson.

They were accompanied by Mrs. William Sargent Jr., head of the Pampa High School Drama Department and by Mrs. Rochelle Wilkins, play director.

Drama students will present "The House of Bernard Alba" by Federico Garcia Lorca. The PHS group is scheduled to perform Friday afternoon.

Highlight of the festival will be the Awards Banquet Saturday night, when recognition will be given to the "best actress," "best actor," "best director" and "best group."

"The House of Bernard Alba" will also be the entry at the University Interscholastic League district one act play contest in Canyon on April 11.

Grand Jury Delays Political Pressure Report

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The federal grand jury that investigated alleged pressure against political opponents of Rep. W. S. "Bill" Healy, D-Paducah, probably will not ask for any indictments, a U.S. attorney said Wednesday.

The grand jury report to U.S. District Judge Adrian Spears has been indefinitely postponed because Spears is in bed with a bad cold. The grand jury must report directly to Spears.

U. S. Attorney Seagal Wheatley said the jury finished its investigation and decided on the report's contents. He said there probably would be no indictments.

Democrat Leon Williams and Republican Zack Fischer, both running for Healy's seat in the House, charged friends of Healy exerted pressure to try to force them out of the race.

Williams said he was fired as manager of the Quannah, Tex., Chamber of Commerce when he filed for the office. He said his wife was fired from her job as a county home demonstration agent because her employers said her state job and her husband's candidacy constituted a conflict of interest.

Fischer said when he entered the race he was forced to cut ties with four of his partners who are loan officers with the First National Bank of Memphis, Tex.

Healy is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee and one of the most powerful men in state politics.

Actress Loses Mink, Jewelry
VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI) — Burglars stole a $3,000 mink coat and $2,100 worth of jewelry Wednesday from the home of actress Margaret O'Brien.

Miss O'Brien said she returned home in the early morning hours and found her house ransacked. Police said the burglars gained entry by removing a window screen.

HARMON, 22, is a Pampa now attending West Texas State University at Canyon. He was on leave while touring college campuses across the nation for ASG, based in Washington, D.C.

His Chamber of Commerce talk will deal with student-administration confrontations which have been taking place in colleges and universities throughout the nation and explain the ASG aim to bring a solution to this particular area of unrest.

Harmon was graduated in 1966 from Pampa High School where he served three years as a student council officer, chaplain of the student body and was a member of the varsity football team.

He was named outstanding delegate at the Hardin-Simmons student council workshop for Texas high school student council officers and was nominated for Young Texan by the Optimist Club.

Harmon began his freshman year at WTSU by being elected to the Student Senate where he served three years. He represented West Texas State at the ASG national convention in San Francisco in 1967.

He has worked at WTSU with the dean of student life to formulate procedures to control campus demonstrations and general student unrest.

The ASG vice president also found time, while a full-time under-graduate, to work a 42-hour week for the Borden Co. of Amarillo and to serve as youth director of the First Baptist Church in Delhart.

Harmon, who is interested in politics, says he hopes to go on to law school after his stay with the American Association of Student Governments.

In addition to his address at the chamber luncheon Monday, Harmon will be the speaker at the general assembly meeting to open the annual Pampa High School Career Clinic next Wednesday morning, March 18.

The Monday membership luncheon of the chamber will be open to the public as well as chamber members. Reservations now are being taken at the Chamber of Commerce office in the Hughes Bldg.

Star Of "The Virginian" Due At St. Patrick's Celebration

SHAMROCK — The Irishmen of Shamrock stand ready to stage their 24th annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration. The theme is "Shamrock Under Seven Flags," the seventh banner, of course, being that of Ireland. Highlighting this year's Festival will be the appearance of Doug McClure, who plays the role of Trampas on the weekly television series, "The Virginian." With him will be four other Hollywood personalities, Hi Busse and The Frontiersmen and Joanie, billed as America's No. 1 Western Vocal Group. They will present entertainment for the Pre-St. Patrick's Day Banquet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 16, and will appear in a show at 5 p.m. Tuesday, March 17. Both events will be in the National Guard Armory. Highlighting the parade will be 25 or more colorful floats and a dozen or so bands, drill teams and other marching units. The parade is scheduled for 11 a.m. March 17. An Old Settlers Reunion will be held with registration starting at 9 a.m. on the great day. The annual Old Fiddlers Contest, with $200 in prizes going to the winners, will begin at 2:30 p.m. The coronation of Miss Irish Rose of 1970, selected from a bevy of beauties representing the various high schools of the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma, will take place at 3 p.m. The 1970 Irish Festival will end with two dances Tuesday night. Lou Hurt and The Westerns will furnish music for the regular St. Patrick's Day Dance at the Armory. Playing for a dance at the junior high school gymnasium will be the Press. Both bands are from Amarillo. It's you the Irish of Shamrock will be expectin' on St. Patrick's Day.

No Irishmen Aboard Mayflower

By MIKE WESTER
SHAMROCK, Tex. (UPI) — 'Twas but one thing a missing when the Mayflower landed years ago, at least in the opinion of Irish historians. There was no Irishman aboard. Irish feel a regret that no resident of the Emerald Isle sailed westward with that hardy band of Pilgrims, but they made up for lost time later by flocking in great numbers to America during the great potato famine of the 1840s. The 24th annual St. Patrick's Day celebration, the second largest in the world, is scheduled Tuesday when the green carpet will once again be rolled out for the Irish city of the Texas Panhandle. No one will notice a lack of Irishmen then. Tuesday Is Day The festival is scheduled Tuesday with a full day's list of activities. Everything will be green during the day — from the newspaper of the 40-page, three-section weekly newspaper, the Shamrock Texan, to the downtown decorations. Almost all of the celebrants dress in Irish costumes. It's On Route 66 Shamrock, along Route 66 with only 3,113 residents, will suddenly become a center of attention with more than 30,000 Irishmen on hand for their special day. Banquets, parades and dances — all to be highlighted by the crowning of Miss Irish Rose 1970 — will be the rule. For the past 32 years the town with the Irish name has been putting on the green for St. Patrick's Day. Shamrocks have been flown in from the banks of the River Shannon in Auld Ireland to be given to the crowd as souvenirs. A special banquet Monday night will kick off the festivities on St. Patrick's Day eve. Television personality Doug McClure of the Virginian will headline the banquet which also features Hi Busse and the Frontiersmen with Joanie, also from Hollywood. Banks Skips Red

Altrusans Name Officers To Head Activities In 1970-71

Miss Vermell Meador, director of nursing at Highland General Hospital, was named president of the Altrusa Club of Pampa at its noon luncheon meeting Monday in the Coronado Inn. To be installed as officers of the executive women's service club in a June ceremony are Mrs. Marian Jameson, vice president; Mrs. Van Vandenberg, treasurer; Mrs. Fidella Yoder, recording secretary; Mrs. Georgia Mack, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fanny Cree and Mrs. Georgia Johnson, directors. Mrs. Cree, Altrusa chairman for the Career Clinic, announced David Harmon, vice president of the Association of Student Government, will be guest speaker at the Chamber of Commerce noon luncheon Monday. He will speak on "Why Students Revolt." The Monday meeting will be considered a make-up meeting for Altrusans. Harmon will also be the keynote speaker for the Pampa High School Career Clinic Tuesday. Two special guests at Monday's luncheon were Debbie Veale, Altrusa Girl of the Month for February, and Cindy Cambern, Altrusa Girl of the Month for March. Miss Veale is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J.B. Veale. She is editor-in-chief of the Harvest Yearbook; corresponding secretary of the Pampa Presidency To Texas; member of the Texas Association of Student Councils; the National Honor Society and secretary of Quill and Scroll. Miss Cambern is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Cambern. She was cheerleader for the past two years; two-year member of the National Honor Society; named Outstanding Youth of the Year, recipient of the Optimist Award; three-year member of the Concert Choir; a member of the French Club; and the Student Council. In announcements, Mrs. Geneva Tidwell, community services chairman said Cancer Crusade Chairman Gerald Lyda had asked the assistance of Altrusans to assemble, distribute crusade literature, solicit funds for donations to the cancer fund from business firms Saturday April 4th. Mrs. Mack requested Altrusans each give two trading stamp books to the Girl Scouts to help toward the purchase of a new bus. Mrs. Marie Fitzgerald, president, announced a Fun Trip To South of the Border is being planned for Altrusans after the district conference in San Antonio next October. She also announced the area workshop will be held in Abilene in April.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:
The headliners: Mayor John Lindsay of New York City will be the host of a unique NBC-TV variety hour April 26 marking the centenary of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The broadcast is entitled "Marvelous Magnificent The Metropolitan Museum", and producer Aline Saarinen offers this partial description:
"We have an animal act, and a ballet, a tour throughout the Netherlands, a sideshow and a dozen other numbers all built from selections drawn from the more than three million objects in the Metropolitan Museum. This will be no museum tour, no guided excursion. We will film the works of art, using new visual techniques, but never see the galleries."
Des O'Connor, 36, a top British comedian and singer, will be the host of 13 "Kraft Music Hall" hours on NBC-TV starting May 30, with the programs taped in London.
Pete Maravich, the all-time college basketball scoring leader, will be on display Sunday on CBS-TV when he and his teammates from Louisiana State University take on Georgetown in a National Invitation Tournament contest.
The Red Skelton series, dropped by CBS-TV and picked up by NBC-TV for next season, finished a resounding fourth in the national ratings for the week ending March 1.
Jackie Gleason's series, also canceled by CBS-TV, came in 37th in the ratings—18 shows higher than its competition on NBC-TV, Andy Williams, who is being renewed. Tom Jones, the Welsh singer whose ABC-TV program also is returning, ranked 60th, and another returning series, NBC-TV's "Bracken's World," about the behind-the-scenes folderol in a movie studio, finished 81st. The top three shows in the ratings were CBS-TV's "Gunsmoke," NBC-TV's "Laugh-In" and AEC-TV's "Marcus Welby, M.D.," the leading new hit of the season.
MISSION: IMPOSSIBLE
LONDON (UPI)—Britain's health education council will distribute thousands of posters picturing a "pregnant" man clutching his bulging stomach as part of a new sex education program.
In announcing the program Wednesday night, Dr. Bill Jones, director-general of the council said, "Much previous sex education has concentrated on the girl."
"We are calling attention to the fact that there is co-responsibility. We need to dramatize the male's obligation."
Jones said the poster, to be distributed to family planning association clinics and other facilities, asks: "Would you be more careful if it was you that got pregnant?"
Only college for the deaf is Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C.
Franklin D. Roosevelt was the first U.S. president to appear on television in 1939.

Toastmasters Set Speech Contest

A serious speech contest between Berger and Pampa Toastmasters Clubs was announced recently by the local club.
The event will be held March 23 and is also designated as Ladies' Night.
At this week's meeting of Toastmasters Ramesh Khona was general evaluator with Mark Clapp as grammarian. Speakers of the evening were Calvin Lacy on "Jaycee Creed", which earned for him the most improved speaker title. Marston Meador speaking on "Blind Pride", was awarded the best speaker's trophy.
Dean Davis was presiding officer. Clarence Wolf was toastmaster.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE BY BOB PRICE, TEXAS

RAILROAD DISPUTE—The House considered several bills last week. Probably the most important was a resolution delaying a railroad strike for 37 days in order that labor and management can have further discussions in hopes of settling the dispute. I voted for the resolution because I do not believe the nation's economy can withstand a prolonged strike of a major industry while we are attempting to bring inflation under control.

GUARANTINE STATION—I was pleased when the House adopted on a voice vote, a bill identical to one I introduced last year providing for an international quarantine station. This will hopefully lead to the improvement of livestock breeds in this country by allowing importation of livestock from other countries for cross-breeding purposes.

HEW APPROPRIATIONS—By a vote of 324 to 55 the House finally adopted an HEW Appropriation Bill. The final version gives the President the authority not to spend 2 per cent of the money appropriated. The President agreed to sign the bill because the 2 per cent provision makes the bill less inflationary than the one he vetoed last month.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS—Approved during the week also was a $75 million appropriation for additions to the Library of Congress. I voted against the appropriation because I believe this is one expenditure that could be delayed as long as we are continuing efforts to stop the rising cost of living.

18th DISTRICT VISITORS TO THE WASHINGTON OFFICE: Mr. & Mrs. Jesse T. Lebow, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Loyd, Amarillo; Mrs. Herbert C. Martin, Amarillo; Mr. Don Kimball, Amarillo; Buck Alred Wildorado; Lloyd Glenn, Tulsa; and Steve Walters, Amarillo.

LAST MINUTE NOTE—Two 18th District Companies have received Labor Department grants to train unskilled workers. Missouri Beef Packers of Friona will train 25 persons as butchers. Wilson Beef and Lamb Company of Hereford will train 138 butchers and 12 maintenance men.

UNITED WE STAND—UNITY, N.H. (UPI)—There is a certain unity in Unity. At Tuesday night's town meeting, Levi A. Lemere won a new term as police chief. His daughter-in-law, Esther, was picked as town treasurer. However, her husband, James, lost the race for selectman—the voters apparently feeling too much unity is not a good thing.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—At this point in every election year the streets and byways of this great land become awash with coy politicians.

Yea, and verily the woods likewise are full of uncandid candidates who are planning to seek some sort of office but are not yet ready to announce their intentions.

These are trying times both for the latent office-seekers and for the journalists who are trying to smoke them out.

They know they're going to run, and we know they're going to run, and they know that we know that they know it. Yet protocol requires the politician to perform pirouettes around the periphery pending his for- at entry into the race.

The following interview is typical of the genre:
"Well, Governor Paltor, what brings you to Washington?"

Secret Mission
"Oh, nothing newsworthy. I'm just here to see the capital's famous cherry trees."

several more weeks before the cherry blossoms appear.

"I didn't say I was here to see the cherry blossoms. I said I was here to see the trees."

"It has been rumored that you plan to run for the U.S. Senate this year. Would you comment on that?"

"When the people of my great state elected me as their governor, I promised I would serve out my full term. I intend to keep that promise."

"But, governor, your term expires in two weeks."

Steadfast
"Nevertheless, I stand on my original statement."

"If you are only interested in cherry trees, why did you go to the White House and have yourself photographed shaking hands with the President? Isn't that a sign that you plan to run for the Senate?"

"Maybe it's a sign that the President plans to run for the Senate."
"Then why are you spending so much time conferring with your party's senatorial campaign committee?"

Danger Of Losing Freedom Of Information Threatens

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Julian Goodman, president of the National Broadcasting Co., said Tuesday government pressure on the news media could "create a clear and growing danger to the freedom of information secured by the first amendment."

Goodman, speaking to a Sigma Delta Chi group at the University of Texas, suggested a three point program for action against "unwarranted government intrusion" with any news operation:

—Full publicity of any government action threatening the flow of news.

—Explanation to the public of the issues and its rights.

—Support of newsmen's legal defenses when their rights are at stake.

Goodman said some news operations are better able to withstand pressures than others. He vowed NBC would continue to present the news as it saw fit, including the presentation of other viewpoints when President Nixon takes to the airwaves to give his point of view directly to the people.

"Some Will Yield"
"Some will hold firm," Goodman said. "Some will compromise. Some will yield. Yet part of the press cannot be subservient and the other part expect to retain its liberty."

Goodman said Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's attacks on television networks and the "dragnet" subpoenas issued to newsmen, demanding their notes their sources and their memories, threatened the foundation of a free flow of news and ideas.

"Not since 1793—when newsmen were sentenced to prison under the Sedition Act for statements displeasing to the government—has American journalism been under greater attack," he said. "It began with television news. It has moved to newspapers, news magazines and other periodicals."

Intent Doesn't Matter
"The intent of the attackers doesn't matter, but the effect does," he said. "It can limit legitimate news coverage. It can narrow the range of the newsman's sources. It can dry up the flow of information to the public."

"If the pressure continues they create a clear and growing danger to the freedom of information secured by the first amendment," he said.

Goodman said if the country's founding fathers placed security above independence, they would have saved themselves a lot of trouble. But they did not, he said.

"It seems to me that the government must be just as zealous as the press in securing constitutional freedoms," Goodman said.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market outlook appears to favor the bulls over the next several weeks, TPO Inc. says, but buying caution is still advisable. The firm sees the Dow Jones Industrials possibly consolidating at only slightly higher levels, while the glamors "which have neglected recently, are now oversold and could provide the leadership as interest rotates in their direction."

The current market resembles the October 1966 turnaround, Spear and Staff says. Then, as now, the glamor stocks took a beating while the Dow sharply recovered much ground lost in a previous decline. The firm feels the sell off of the glamor issues will be short-lived, a state of equilibrium will be reached, and "virtually all important categories of stocks will advance in a manner characteristic of a major bull market."

Goodbody & Co. believes some definitive action by either the Federal Reserve Board or the large commercial banks to lower the prime rate will be necessary before the long term municipal bond market can be expected to move higher. Over the near term, the firm is cautiously optimistic, since the corporate calendar remains heavy and "there seems to be less enthusiasm among dealers to continue pushing the market higher."

Meat Supply Available To Weekend Buyers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A good supply of meat and fresh produce will be spotlighted at food stores and supermarkets this weekend, according to the Consumer and Marketing Service.

Meat features include beef roasts and steaks and hams. Broiler-fryers continue to be a good poultry selection. Fish buys are fish sticks and portions, canned tuna, and sardines.

Best vegetable values are lettuce, carrots, and potatoes. Also check cabbage, greens, and onions. Fresh fruits in best supply are apples, oranges, and grapefruit. Also look for peanuts and peanut products, canned tomatoes and tomato products, canned and frozen sweet corn, canned pears, and rice.

Ormphby-Horneigh Nuptials

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Not since Tiny Tim and Miss Vickie married on the Johnny Carson show will a television nuptial rite touch as many hearts as the wedding of Gladys Ormphby to Tyrone Horneigh.

These cuckoos will pledge their troth March 16 on "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In," the highest rated series of the year. It is a triumph for dirty old men.

Tyrone, as played by comedian Arte Johnson, is the white-haired amorous old goat who has been molesting Gladys on a park bench for almost two years now.

Gladys, a frump in baggy sweater and stockings, invariably has socked Tyrone with her purse in response to his advances.

Both Gladys, portrayed by Ruth Buzzi, and Tyrone, it would appear, could do better in the marriage market than they have.

By comparison Tiny Tim and Miss Vickie are Mr. and Mrs. America.

Johnson is one of the world's great put-on artists and feigns indignance when Tyrone is described as a leech.

No Julie Andrews

"Tyrone is not a dirty old man," he bristled. "He may be a health hazard and a eyesore.

But a dirty old man? Never. I take umbrage at that.

"The truth is Tyrone Horneigh is not his real name. He was born Julius Andrews. As a boy he was called Julie. When he entered show business there already was a Julie Andrews so he changed his name.

"If viewers choose to see him as wicked or lecherous, then it is they who have a warped point of view. Not Julius... I mean, or, Tyrone."

The versatile Johnson also plays the Russian, Rosmarko, on the show in addition to the Nazi, Wolfgang, and Rabbi Shanker the Indian guru. But his favorite is Tyrone.

"I conceived Tyrone in 1958, basing him on a caricature of a little English barrister. I'd done him at parties and on a TV commercial, but never as a full-fledged character before Laugh-In," Johnson says.

Once he assumes the identity of Tyrone it is often difficult to shake him out of the characterization.

Shotgun Wedding

Asked why Tyrone was marrying a hag like Gladys, Tyrone narrowed his eyes in regret.

"I was forced into it by an ex-bartender and an ex-used car salesman," he explained—the former occupations of Dick Martin and Dan Rowan. "They wanted Tyrone to be part of 'Make America Beautiful' by getting him off the streets and away from park benches.

"Actually Tyrone is not a man to be tied down to any one woman. I can't guarantee there'll be a marriage March. There are three possible endings: (1) the snake ending (2) the molten lava ending (3) the space ship crashing into the temple ending."

Tyrone-Johnson laughed his dirty, low chuckle and hobbled away.

ABM INFLATION

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Deputy Defense Secretary David Packard said Monday the estimated cost of the Safeguard Antibalistic Missile System (ABM) rose last year from $9.1 billion to $10.7 billion—an overrun of 17 per cent.

In prepared testimony before the House Armed Services Committee, Packard said: "I want to tell this committee very frankly that if such factors as inflation, stretch-out and design improvement occur in future years as they did in the past year, then we could experience some continuing cost growth of this defense."

Father Tells Court Of Son's LSD Adventure

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UPI) — Richard Hockaday appeared Tuesday before the county commissioners court to tell of an LSD trip his 18-year-old son took.

"He was carrying on a ritual with a very bright light shining into his eyes," the Los Fresnos, Tex., school teacher said. "He was watching himself in a mirror and a radio was blaring hippie music. My son would laugh, cry, sing, scream and occasionally he would almost collapse."

"I know that by bringing this matter to public attention, I am jeopardizing my family's reputation, my future and perhaps even my life," Hockaday told the court.

"But I love my son. He does not think so but I do, and I want to do everything possible to stop the illegal use of drugs by young people."

Stop The Flow of Drugs

Hockaday said local law enforcement officers were doing everything they could to stop the flow of drugs. But he said the law officers could not get any help from District Attorney F. T. "Dut" Graham.

In fact, Hockaday said, Graham refused to even investigate the case.

"I have not refused a thing," Graham said. "I told him to get the family physician... to find a psychiatrist to look at the boy. That's what his boy needs."

"As for the other, I can't go out there and arrest somebody this man wants arrested. The boy's father is a hothead."

A Bunch of Politics

"I don't know what he wants and neither does he. It's a bunch of politics. I haven't got to the bottom of it, but I'm working on it and I will," Graham said.

Hockaday told the court he met three times with Graham. He said he left the third meeting "disgusted" when Graham would not take any action to arrest persons supplying drugs to his 18-year-old son.

Graham said Hockaday's court speech was character assassination.

"The commissioners have nothing whatsoever to do in connection with this," Graham said. "Nothing. The reporters and radio people and cameras were there though. That was it."

Fish Cakes Served With Egg Sauce Helps Cooks Observe Lenten Season

A new recipe for fish cakes is always handy for those who wish to observe the Lenten period with occasional meatless meals.

One with wheat germ for an added nutritional boost also has an egg sauce for more flavor.

FISH CAKES WITH EGG SAUCE

1 cup wheat germ, divided
1 lb. (2 cups) cooked cod or any white fish, flaked
2 cups cold mashed potatoes
1 egg, beaten
1/4 cup finely chopped onion or sliced green onion
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 to 4 tablespoons cooking oil
Chopped fresh or dried parsley ...

Combine 1/4-cup wheat germ and all remaining ingredients except shortening and parsley. Mix well. Divide into 6 equal portions. Shape into 3 1/2-inch patties. Coat outside of patties with reserved wheat germ. Fry patties in hot oil over moderate heat, 6-7 minutes per side, or until lightly browned. Serve with Egg Sauce. Garnish with chopped parsley. Makes 6 servings.

EGG SAUCE

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup unsifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
Dash white pepper
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped ...
Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour, salt, paprika and pepper.

For Well-Balanced Meal, Create Solid Meal From Cheese Try Fresh Potato Pancakes

Greater emphasis is put upon nutrition, in the U.S. and in emerging nations, than ever before. Actually nutrition represents a tasty way to approach daily eating and should not put off youngsters as being forced to eat "your spinach and peas because they are good for you" admonitions once did.

Nutrition is "the sum of the processes by which an animal (man) or plant takes in and utilizes food substances."

Today's concern among health-nutrition experts is that too many are taking in a lot of "empty calorie" foods and not enough "sum and substance." Being overly diet-conscious without finding out what you can eat that is enjoyable, nutritious and less fattening is a basic problem.

For example, many cut potatoes from the diet although the plentiful tuber is chock-full of things like vitamin C and when baked adds fewer than 90 calories to a meal (minus globs of butter).

Serve fresh potato pancakes with ham or sausages and a sliced or fresh grapefruit to complete for a well-balanced family meal, one that men especially will enjoy.

FRESH POTATO PANCAKES

2 pounds potatoes (about 4 medium-sized)
1 small onion, peeled
1 egg
3 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
Salad oil ...

Paré potatoes. Grate on fine grater. Pour off excess liquid, if necessary. Grate onion into potatoes. Mix in egg, flour, salt and pepper. Heat oil in skillet; drop batter into oil. Fry over medium heat until crisp and golden brown on both sides. Turn once. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 40 4-inch pancakes.

FRESH POTATO SAUSAGE SKILLET

1 pound Italian-style sausages
2 medium-sized potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
3 large green peppers, cut into strips
2 medium-sized onions, sliced
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper ...

Place sausages in cold large skillet. Brown slowly on all sides. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon drippings. Add potatoes, green peppers and onions to sausage.

Potato pancakes and ham—a sound meal.

A tangy cheese snack served with a robust brown bread is a welcome sight to brunch or dinner guests. Since cheese is a good source of protein it proves an ideal item for family munching year-round.

A special "Frontages de Grenoble" takes its name from a popular European ski area where winter athletes especially appreciate a fun food pickup. Some children take to the cheese flavors immediately while others develop a taste for the stronger ones slowly.

For many the Fromages de Grenoble, brown bread, a hearty soup and salad make a well-balanced and different meal during Lent.

FROMAGES DE GRENOBLE

2 8-oz. wheels French camembert
6 2-oz. packages triple cream or gervais cheese
1/4 pound Roquefort
1 cup soft butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups heavy cream
1/2 cup finely chopped olives
1/2 cup finely chopped pimiento
Cayenne ... (Make about 3 qts.)

Scrape camembert to remove white outer coating. Blend together the camembert, triple cream and Roquefort cheeses. Heat in butter and flour

McCarthy Mum On Presidency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said he has not closed his door to another presidential bid in 1972. But neither has he opened it.

Exactly two years since his "victory" in the 1968 New Hampshire primary that preceded Lyndon B. Johnson's withdrawal, and two years before the next first-in-nation New Hampshire test vote, McCarthy declined to be specific about his 1972 plans.

"It's two years off. I haven't eliminated it. I haven't done anything about it."

In an interview before heading to New Hampshire to mark the second anniversary of his 1968 success, in which he barely lost in the Democratic primary to Johnson, McCarthy left all his options open.

The possible options include running as a third-party candidate. He announced several months ago he would not seek re-election to the Senate on the Democratic ticket this year. But he was not closing out the possibility of again running as a Democrat in the 1972 presidential primaries, provided the party carries out extensive reforms.

Priest Tells Nuptial Plans From Pulpit

SANTO STEFANO DI MONTEMAGNO, Italy (UPI)—The Rev. Pio Ottenio, a Roman Catholic priest, adjusted his glasses, faced three old women attending a 6:30 a.m. mass and broke the news.

"Faithful parishioners," he said, "I am going to marry. My fiancée is the girl in the front pew. She is Clara Panizzolo. She is of age and lives in Turin."

There was no reaction until Ottenio, 39, repeated the announcement at the 10:30 a.m. mass attended by most of this tiny village near Turin. Then the reaction was swift.

Bishop Giuseppe Angiliani of Casale Monferrato, who governs the diocese where Ottenio has been a priest for nine years, ordered another priest to replace Ottenio.

The three-day-old case shows no sign of ending there. Ottenio met newsmen Tuesday to introduce Miss Panizzolo, a 22-year-old brunette pharmaceutical student.

"I am a priest," he said, "and I want to remain one. This remains a decision to be resolved at the Vatican. I believe a married man can serve his church as well as an unmarried man."

Ottenio has not been suspended from his priestly duties, he said, but he added he did not know what his position was.

Selassie Praises Nixon's Policy

ADDIS ABABA (UPI)—Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia praised President Nixon's African policy Wednesday and urged white regimes of South Africa and Rhodesia to make peace with black Africa "lest they invite more disastrous consequences."

"We have received President Nixon's statement on Africa in his State of the World message as promising and encouraging," the 77-year-old monarch said in an interview.

Nixon's message said the United States would not intervene in internal affairs of African nations but would "help our friends in Africa to help themselves when they are threatened by outside forces trying to subvert their independent development." Nixon also said the United States abhors the racist policies of certain African nations but called for nonviolent means of abolishing them.

Selassie said what he and other African leaders told Secretary of State William P. Rogers on Rogers' tour of Africa last month "will have useful results in promoting even stronger and friendlier relations between the United States and Africa."

Selassie was asked what he would suggest now that the U.N. measures to end the South African apartheid policy and to curb the white minority government in Rhodesia have failed. "The apartheid government of South Africa and the racist white minority regime of Rhodesia have not yet realized the nature of the will and determination of the African people," he said. "Yet, whether they do or not, the truth is that Africans will always continue to gain force both from within and from outside."

"We, therefore, believe that the time has come for both South Africa and Rhodesia to heed the Lusaka Manifesto. If reason is to prevail, lest they invite more disastrous consequences."

The Ousaka Manifesto, adopted in Zambia by the Organization of African United in September and called for diplomacy with South Africa, Rhodesia and Portugal to solve problems of racial discrimination and colonialism in southern Africa.

ARRAIGNED OR RANGED?

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A robbery suspect masqueraded as his cellmate, appeared in court on a drunk charge — which was dismissed — and walked to freedom, authorities reported Wednesday.

James Frederick Plage, 27, apparently switched identification wrist bands with Lewis Apuzzo, 24, and then answered his name at the roll call of prisoners due in court.

The switch was discovered when Apuzzo was found without his wrist band. Apuzzo said Plage stole it, but he was booked on suspicion of aiding an escape, a felony.

Government Lists Five Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Justice Department has recommended that five relatively new hallucinogenic drugs be listed as dangerous drugs, making their manufacture, sale or possession a violation of federal law.

The five depressants and stimulant drugs are MDA (methylene dioxy amphetamine); MMDA (methoxy-methylene dioxy amphetamine); TMA (trimethoxy amphetamine); JB-318 (n-ethyl-piperidyl benzilate); and JB-336 (n-methyl-3-piperidyl benzilate).

CIRCUS VISITOR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Richard Nixon went to the circus Wednesday. She signed autographs, got pink cotton candy on her yellow dress and didn't seem to notice the scattering of boos among the cheers which greeted her.

"This is great fun," she said of the opening performance, staged especially for 7,000 underprivileged children. "I always like it when the circus comes to town."

"THE HAWK" will be among the variety acts presented by Shipstads — Johnson Ice Follies International to be presented for the first time March 24 through March 29 in the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. Its family entertainment at family prices. The first performance will be dedicated to the High Plains Center For Performing Arts. Tickets are now on sale at the Amarillo Civic Center Box Office.

Bill Outlawing Cigarette Commercials Before Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House sources Wednesday predicted final congressional passage this week of a bill outlawing cigarette commercials on radio and television.

The ban would become effective Jan. 2, a date picked partially to let broadcasters bid for a final feast on cigarette advertising money during the New Year's Day football bowl.

The bill also would strengthen the health warning on cigarette packages and free the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) from a five-year restriction against requiring a health message in printed cigarette ads.

"Great economic forces were aligned against passage of strong legislation," Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said Tuesday, shortly before the Senate passed the bill 75 to 9.

MINERS EMERGE

DEAL, England (UPI)—Seven hundred miners marooned underground overnight by a power failure emerged today from coal mines. The men were due off their shifts Wednesday night but could not come out of the ground until power was restored to elevators. Mining company officials assured the miners' wives there was no danger as the men had ample ventilation and heat underground.

Cool and carefree are the key words to describe the navy denim duo of miniculottes and western jacket (left) from Mahari International. Culottes have slash pockets outlined in white stitching and jacket has buttons for show that conceal a handy zipper. Piquant bright red smock dress (right) from Ginori of Originola is in denim and Dacron. Long cuffline is accentuated with bright gold buttons also used on dress pocket.

Denim, Perennial Favorite, Makes Scene For Daytime, Evening Wear

NEW YORK (NEA) — Just a few fashion seasons ago, good old denim strolled onto the fashion scene and caused quite a stir with apparel for beach, patio and playwear and even a few dresses for evening.

To prove that its fashion success was no flash in the pan, denim continues to do its thing each season, as more and more designers fall under the spell of this perennial favorite.

It is the youth market that is responsible for denim's success. Paris and New York fashion centers readily admit that fashion no longer filters down from the elite few but comes up from the fads of the 'in' generation.

While there are still many denim fashions in familiar navy, denim takes off in a wealth of colors and patterns this time around for comfortable leisure wear. And now there's no need to soak-soften and bleach your denims. For new scrubbed denim, with its soft, nappy surface, comes in a bleached effect. You can find new scrubbed, bleached denim in jumpsuits, culotte dresses, casual wear and, of course, in jeans.

Creative designers now fashion denim into sports clothes, cruise and evening wear. It is a gregarious fabric — it goes anywhere.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a husband who will not wear a wedding ring. We've been married for 10 months, and this is the only thing we ever had angry words about.

He wore his wedding ring on our honeymoon, but as soon as we got home, he took it off. First he said it was too tight, so I had it made larger. Then he said it fit all right, but it made him "uncomfortable." Why should a little ring make him uncomfortable? I would be uncomfortable without mine.

He says he won't wear it to work, but he'll wear it to parties. Abby, that's the whole point. I'm with him at parties. It's when I'm not with him that I want him to wear it.

We really love each other, and I do trust him, but this bugs me. What should I do?

LONG BEACH WIFE: DEAR WIFE: Get off his back. It's probably not the ring he objects to as much as your insistence that he wear it. You say you trust him. So trust him!

He knows he's married, and if you continue to nag him about it your problem will be much bigger than a "little ring."

DEAR ABBY: I think I am too flat for my age. My measurements are 37-22-27. I am eleven years old and am 4 feet 9. I have friends who are not much taller than I am, and they are wearing a 30 AA cup bra.

I wish my mother would get me a bigger bra so I would look more like my girl friends. I asked her once, and she said she would get me a bigger bra when I need it, and not until.

Abby, I wouldn't want a bra that looked too padded for a girl my age, but don't you think just a little padding would look better?

FLAT AS A PANCAKE: DEAR FLAT: Be patient, and when you get a little older, if you are still conspicuously "flat," ask your mother to take you to a good lingerie shop, and let the authorities there be the judges and make recommendations. In other words, at the proper time, what nature has forgotten — stuff with cotton.

DEAR ABBY: Several years ago I married the most wonderful man this world will ever see. We had four wonderful children, and life for us could not have been better. Then cancer took him away, but not before he made sure that his family was provided for in every way.

When he first learned that he was not long for this world, he started looking around for his replacement. Yes, Abby, you heard me right. His replacement!

You see, he knew that no decent woman who had been married as long as I should be without male companionship, and he loved me enough not to leave me to the streets and bars and other places where lonely women go in search of men.

My sainted husband brought a very fine gentleman to our home, introduced us, and this man became like one of the family. He loved the children and they loved him. We all lived together for five months, then my dear husband died happy, knowing that his replacement and I were compatible in every way. Of course, the town gossips had a lot to say about this arrangement, but it didn't bother us. Our oldest (a girl, 16) realized that a woman needs more than food and a roof over her head to make her happy.

Area TOPS Club Selects Officers

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — TOPS Skellytown Simmers Club met recently for officer election and weight reports. Mrs. Gladys Simmons, club leader presided at the meeting with Mrs. Sadie Lane recording weights of the 18 members attending.

Mrs. Rayma Hicks was crowned weekly queen with a loss of 5 lbs. A loss of 18 1/2 lbs. and a gain of 11 3/4 lbs. was reported for the past week.

Mrs. Frances Taylor was queen for the month of February with a loss of 8 lbs., and received a money gift. Mrs. Taylor was also winner of five-week contest by losing 11 1/4 lbs. She received nine sets of matching bath towels and wash clothes. Two runners up were Mrs. Gladys Simmons and Mrs. Mary McKisick who received four towel sets.

New officers for 1970 were nominated and elected and will be installed at the April 7 meeting. They are Margaret Simmons, leader; Irene McCoy, co-leader; Odell Hassler, weight recorder; Gloria Frank; secretary Mary McKisick treasurer and Fannie Coleman, reporter.

IMAGE CHANGES

Girl Scouts Switch To Civic Concern

NEW YORK (UPD)—Time was when the "image" of a Girl Scout was that of a little girl learning to tie the knot in rope and cook potatoes in campfires. Girl Scouts still earn merit badges along outdoor trails, but anyone who has kept up with the scout's knows the scouts have also kept up with the times.

One Senior Scout, in making out a report on a community service project, summed it up when she wrote recently: "They don't think of us any more as little girls in green selling cookies and playing games. Now they know that we do care about our community and we do want to help."

One who acknowledged this recently was Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, who wore Girl Scout green when she was officially installed as honorary president — a post held by all first ladies since Mrs. Woodrow Wilson — and said: "Girl Scouting exhibits the type of enthusiasm and spirit we need in this country — the concept of being friends with all."

Mrs. Nixon was particularly impressed with the Action 70 Program — a national effort to achieve freedom from racial, religious and ethnic prejudices — and told the scouts: "You can count me in as an active volunteer."

The kind of program the girls — Seniors, Cadettes, even Brownies — think up, plan, carry out and often continue with the aid of foundation grants, varies greatly depending on the area in which they live.

In Chicago last summer, for instance, the girls decided on street programs for youngsters in three neighborhoods where recreational facilities and activities were unavailable.

The program was called "Come Join Us," and the scouts walked the streets of the neighborhoods chosen, inviting youngsters to join in sports, field trips and crafts programs. Casual-appearing on the surface, the scouts had worked with police, fire department, community groups and churches to develop activities for all the children of the neighborhoods.

As a spokesman for Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. put it: "The girls in these projects seem to feel they are better people for having done them. It's not so much what they did for others, it's what those they helped did for them."

recreational facilities and activities were unavailable.

Your Horoscope JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, MARCH 13

Your Birthday Friday: In the coming seven months you are almost certain to divide your efforts between two distinctly different activities. Each of them is worthy of your full time and attention, so that you have to cut corners, skip details, and keep going longer hours just to keep up with what you are trying to do.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Friday the only mischance you are susceptible to might be digestive symptoms from eating something which does not agree with you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You need a change of pace, and you are likely to get it. It is a fortunate day, with much more resources available than meet the eye. Seek recommendations, career advancement.

Phi Epsilon Beta Members Present Flower Program

Members of Phi Epsilon Beta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the home of Mrs. Eddie Edwards for a committee reports program.

New officers and Girl of the Year will be elected at the next meeting.

Refreshments were served to all attending by Mrs. Eddie Edwards and Mrs. Larry Filippo. A program was presented on making various kinds of decorative flowers by Mrs. Don Hufstetler and Mrs. Sammy Gidde.

Members attending were Mmes. Mike Clark, Al Cross, Robert Danford, Eddie Edwards, Larry Filippo, Sammy Giddeon, Charles Hoskins, Don Hufstetler, Danny Strawn, Harold Taylor, Dennis Wyatt, Rod Caldwell, Richard Dorman, Bob Lowrance, Robert Schaub, and Miss Audrey Mollett, and honorary member Mrs. D.B. Jameson.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You will find others listening to your advice, so give it seriously and simply. Spiritual matters interest you beyond the usual.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Official and legal questions are more readily cleared up now. The pleasure of laughter and good companionship is featured throughout the day.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your impatience in the morning has no basis; people are trying to get the message to you. Care in handling fire and liquids is advisable.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): A consistent and well-paced effort brings you out at the end of the day with much achieved but with little fatigue.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your personality sparkles and attracts more friends than ever. Get busy and stir up your contracts. Competitive sports and pastimes offer much lively enjoyment.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Retain your normal skepticism, about bargains and your usual caution in making contracts and other formal obligations. Aside from these matters, sound work is achieved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): With just a little initiative on your part, your social and business life both settle into comfortable routines and steady progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): The morning is the time to apply pressure; the afternoon yields results. Home life presents some curious paradoxes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You should continue checking details in your work and hobby projects; the whole story has not yet developed.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Take a long look at your belongings, clothing, furnishings, appliances. Some good ideas will almost certainly occur to you.

TO DAR CHAPTER

Pampa Nurse Presents Program On Seminole Indians' Traditions

Mrs. Eugene Franklin, whose father was a full blooded Indian and her mother a white woman, was guest speaker at the meeting of Las Pampas Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution which was held in Furr's Cafeteria recently.

Mrs. W.S. Dixon, vice-regent, discussed Mrs. Franklin's accomplishments and said, "Bessie Ripley Franklin, married at the age of 16, is the mother of two daughters and a son. She went back to high school and at the age of 33 received her diploma with her son Bill. Two years later she enrolled in Frank Phillips Junior College, commuting to Borger, and was graduated from there.

"She was accepted in North West Texas School of Nursing and was graduated in 1963 as a registered nurse. She is Director of the Vocational School of Nurses at Highland General Hospital, and has taught and capped one of her own daughters.

"Besides holding memberships in several professional organizations, she is a member of the American Business Women's Association and has served as its president. In July, 1969, the organization named her Woman of the Year and presented her with a trophy. She is a member of the local Indian organization," Mrs. Dixon said.

Speaking on "Indian Customs and Traditions", Mrs. Franklin said "I was raised on the Seminole Indian reservation near Seminole, Okla. One of several children of a white woman and a full-blooded Seminole, I chose to follow more of my mother's ways than of my father's. Never-the-less, I participated in the ceremonial ritualistic dances and was required to take tests to participate in them."

"When I was married to my husband, Eugene Franklin, a white man, when I was 16, he had to get permission from the whole tribe as well as my father, to marry me. On the reservation the Chief's word is law, and tribesmen accept his advice and judgement without question," she said.

"Basically Indians are superstitious and taciturn and are taught not to show emotion. The ritualistic dances are means of releasing their pent-up emotions as well as a religious ceremony. Upon the death of a tribesman, his body lies in state for three days, and someone sits with the body at all times. After burial, they have a ritualistic dance to cleanse the body of evil spirits. All these customs and traditions are still being observed," she concluded.

Exchange Of Chicago "7" For American Prisoners Lauded

Pampa congressman Bob Price's recent suggestion that the Chicago "7" be exchanged for American war prisoners in North Vietnam has created nationwide attention and a heavy mail load to the congressman's Washington office.

Under the heading, "Response To Proposal," the Congressional Record published the following article on Price's comments to the House of Representatives on Thursday, March 5:

"Mr. PRICE of Texas, Mr. Speaker, I have been very gratified by the nationwide response received since I suggested last week that the Chicago "7" be exchanged for American prisoners of war being held in North Vietnam.

"This suggestion was made in the light of North Vietnamese intimations that the Chicago "7" were being treated as political prisoners because they oppose U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

"A Navy veteran from Indiana wrote: 'I am contacting my Representative and urging him to support your suggestion.'

"A businessman from Chicago said: 'I'm with you 100 per cent.'

"A group of firemen from New York City stated in their letter: 'Your idea of sending the Chicago 7 to North Vietnam in exchange for American prisoners was terrific.'

"A judge from the Bronx wrote: 'I have just heard that ball was granted to those bums. What a shame! I do hope the next time they decide to speak against this country they do it at this judge's house.'

"A Georgia man stated: 'Personally, my opinion wasn't that lenient, but I'll endorse your proposal.'

"An Illinois public official made this comment: 'My best wishes to a member of Congress that knows how to think for Americans!'

"The telegram from the wife of a flyer missing in action merely read: 'I'm with you.'

"Mr. Speaker, I bring these comments to the attention of my colleagues because I believe that sentiments such as these constitute an affirmation of my firm conviction that the vast majority of the American people are shocked, dismayed, and disgusted at the type of behavior that the Chicago anarchists, their attorneys and fellow travelers have displayed before this country and the world. These individuals bring no credit to themselves or America by their actions: those who believe different are guilty of the worst sort of self-deception."

Death Takes Editor Of Kansas Paper

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Marcellus M. Murdock, president and chairman of the board of the Wichita Eagle and Beacon Publishing Co., died Tuesday night at Pittsburgh, Pa., where he was taken for special treatment following a stroke suffered Nov. 29.

Murdock was 87 years old. His death followed a second stroke March 3.

Murdock spent his adult life on the Eagle, joining the staff as a reporter in 1902 when he was 19 years old. He became publisher in 1907 and was away from the newspaper only during World War I, for service in the Army's military intelligence department.

Murdock was born at Wichita, where his father was editor of the Eagle, a morning newspaper. Marcellus Murdock established an evening Eagle edition of the morning newspaper in 1927. In 1962 the Eagle purchased the competing Wichita Beacon and the name of the evening Eagle was changed to the Beacon.

Murdock was an early aviation enthusiast and booster, a pilot himself, and a prime mover in the location of several aircraft plants at Wichita. Orville Wright breveted him as an "aviator pilot" in 1929. He also was long active in radio broadcasting, as general manager of radio station KFJH at Wichita.

Oil Fire Operating Offshore Without Necessary Safety

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — An interior Department official revealed most of the 1,000 barrels of oil jetting daily from a fire-blackened offshore platform originates from a single well operating without a safety device designed to prevent accidental oil spills.

The official, Harlan Wood, also said the well was not authorized to operate without the device called a storm choke.

Wood said Tuesday night two Chevron Oil Co. inspectors on a boat discovered the disastrous "Charlie" platform the early Feb. 10, boarded the platform for a time and actually fought the blaze on the well's production deck until they were driven back by the heat. The production area blaze then spread to include eight of 12 wells controlled by "Charlie."

A storm choke is an automatic valve, installed at least 1,000 feet down in Gulf of Mexico oil and gas wells by industry agreement and government regulations to shut down upward flow if a surface accident such as a fire or a hurricane wrecks surface controls.

Wood said part of Chevron's oil skimming operations closed down Tuesday night — several hours after Texas wild well fire fighters touched off a dynamite blast to snuff out the flames on the platform. Anchored skimming barges remained on duty but roving slick-chase boats knocked off at dusk.

The oil from the one trouble-making well spurted 100 feet into the air after the flames were put out.

The three-mile-long brownish-yellow slick, only partly contained by barges and the skimming crew boats fielded by Chevron, began flowing towards Breton Island in the Chandeleur Islands National Wildlife Refuge. The island is 10 miles from the platform.

Chandeleur has a population of 8,000 to 12,000 teal and pintail ducks plus uncounted gulls and shorebirds. The ducks stop off for a rest in the islands after flying to Louisiana from a Mexico. After a few days they push on to their northern summer homes. The migration will continue at least another month with departing birds replaced by arrivals.

"One of the wells did not have a storm choke and no walver," said Wood. "This is the well that caused most of the fire and where most of the oil on the water is now coming from."

The U.S. Geological Survey is authorized to permit wells to operate without storm chokes for five specific reasons. Storm choke waivers are granted most frequently offshore Louisiana because they sometimes cause wells to get clogged with sand.

LONDON — Member of Parliament Marcus Lipton, arguing against a move to do away with the parliamentary snuff fund, which cost British taxpayers $48 a year:

"I take it because it helps clear my head. If more of my colleagues took it, it might improve parliamentary proceedings."

LBJ Takes Walk Around Suite

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson walked around his spacious hospital suite Tuesday and suffered none of the pains that hospitalized him 10 days ago.

"His vital signs remain normal, and his doctors continue to be satisfied with the President's progress," the day's single medical bulletin said.

An aide to the former president said that for the fifth straight day Johnson has not had any pain which hospitalized him. But doctors still refused to speculate when Johnson might be released.

Army Charges Captain With Murder, Maiming

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army has charged Capt. Ernest L. Medina, commander of the unit that swept My Lai, with murder and mutilation of Vietnamese—the first time a maiming accusation has been raised since the alleged massacre.

Four other men also were charged Tuesday with crimes rising out of the My Lai incident March 16, 1968. That brought to 10 the number of men charged so far, and the Army said another five more soldiers and 22 former soldiers remain under suspicion.

The charges against Medina, 33, of Pico Rivera, Calif., and fellow Capt. Eugene M. Kotouc, 35, of Fort Omaha, Neb., said some of their alleged crimes were committed the afternoon of March 16—after the military sweep of the hamlet presumably had ended.

The two men were charged with murdering one enemy suspect, and maiming and murdering another during interrogation. In addition Medina was charged with two other counts of murder and one count of assault with a deadly weapon. Kotouc was also charged with assault.

During a news conference in December, Medina said he had shot and probably killed a Vietnamese woman he thought was pulling a gun on him. He

Fort Leonard Wood In Semi-Isolation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., the scene of an outbreak of spinal meningitis, is not in isolation, but you'd think it was the way lawmakers and high service officials are acting.

Word crept out of the nation's capital Tuesday that two Missouri Marine Reserve units scheduled to drill at the Army post decided not to go there because of the sickness.

"Rather than take any chance, they made the decision not to conduct their drills for that time," a Marine spokesman said here Tuesday. "It was their own decision."

The first word in Washington about the decision not to drill at the post came from Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., who had asked Stanley R. Resor, Army secretary, and Defense Secretary Melvin Laird to make sure there is no assignment of National Guardsmen and reservists from his area to Ft. Leonard Wood.

"I think this is a ridiculous way to run an Army, to send additional men to an area where there is known to be an extremely serious and fatal disease," O'Neill said.

Kansas senior Sen. James Pearson, a Republican, asked Resor to prevent any new arrivals at the fort "from being unnecessarily exposed to spinal meningitis there."

Newspaper Publisher Succumbs

DENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Joe Riley Cross, publisher of the Denton Record-Chronical since 1945, died early Wednesday of a heart attack. He had been ill several months.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the St. David's Episcopal Church in Denton. The burial site was not announced.

Cross was born Dec. 20, 1906, in Llano, Tex., and was reared in Brownwood, Tex. He married Vivian Griswold of Shetman in April, 1929.

Cross attended Howard Payne College and was a member of St. David's Episcopal Church in Denton.

He began his newspaper career in the business office of the Brownwood Bulletin. He also worked in the offices of the Sherman Democrat and the Paris News. He was publisher of the Marshall News-Messenger before moving to the Record-Chronical.

Monterey Favored In District Golf Opener, Harvesters Set

Lubbock Monterey will have the opening round advantage this weekend as the district golf teams open conference play.

Friday will be the first of five golf tournaments that will decide a district winner. The ten teams in the district will open play on the Meadow Brooks golf course in Lubbock and then play in Plainview, Borger, Pampa and Amarillo with the low team on the tour winning the conference.

Monterey is noted for taking an early lead in the competition, not only because of their strong teams, but Meadow Brooks is their home course and they are very hard to beat on it.

Pampa golf coach Deck Woldt says, "You can expect Monterey to come in with between a 290 and a 295 and that," any team that does not shoot around 300 will be behind in district play."

He went on to say that, "We will lose a lot of ground if we don't stay up with them."

Monterey likes to take the lead and force the rest of the field to play catch-up ball for the rest of the season and any team that does not shoot close to 300 or below may never have a chance to catch them.

Woldt added the Harvesters "have been playing good," and "we intend to play well in Lubbock."

The teams that will be competing in this district are: Lubbock High, Lubbock Monterey, Lubbock Coronado, Amarillo High, Amarillo Tascosa, Amarillo Palo Duro, Amarillo Caprock, Plainview and Borger.

The Vernon tournament was rained out last weekend and the Harvester team was not able to play in order to get ready for the first district meet. However Woldt took the A team to Amarillo and played 18 holes to try and make up for the lost tourney.

The team came in with a 317 at Amarillo as Sherwin Cox, Joe Foster, and Leslie Harris all shot 80 and Gregory White shot a 77. The fifth member of the team, Jackie Gindorf, came in with an 81.

Five boys play on each team, and the low four scores are added for the team score.

In the district meets the B-team and three individual players will also compete.

The B-team will be made up of Doug White, John Garren, Chip Taylor, David Hall and Dudley Warner. The individual players will be Bruce Brown, Terry Washington and Dick Baily.

The Harvester's A-team now has played 14 and a half rounds, their total score and average score is: White 1145-78.9, Cox 1162-80.1, Foster 1190-82.1, Gindorf 1160-80.0, Harris 1195-82.4.

The average score for the team, dropping the high score, is 331. This is at least 21 shots high for a good round at Lubbock. This total includes the first games shot at the beginning of the year and with the improvement the team has shown it is hoped that Pampa will come in, in the low three hundreds.

Pampa Tennis Team To Play At Midland

The Pampa Tennis Team will hit the road for Midland and a two-day meet that will be hosted by Midland's Lee High school.

This will be the fifth match for the Harvester team and it could also be the toughest so far. Last year 45 teams competed in the tournament and around the same number of teams are expected this year.

Last weekend the Pampa team was short several players, but this week they will be at full strength. At Phillips the Harvesters won three matches despite having the missing players.

The matches will start at 8:30 a.m. Friday and then start again at 8:30 Saturday. The meet will be a single elimination type. Representing Pampa will be: Mark Shakerford and Ray Kenney, boys A doubles. David Carr, Boys A singles.

Jim Daniels, Boys B singles. Debbie Bray, girls A singles. Mary Carlson and Jo Forsha, girls A doubles.

Cleese Vaughn and Susan Stowers, girls B doubles. Debbie Fletcher and Susan Wilson, girls B doubles. Marsha Millican and Sidney, girls B singles.

boys will start in the two games that are set for 1 p.m. against the Amarillo team. The Harvesters had set their opening game for the San Angelo Tournament last weekend but the tournament was rained out. (Staff Photo)

NAIA Tournament Moves Into Quarterfinal Round

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The marathon National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) basketball championships moves into the quarterfinal round tonight with results after 24 games running almost too true to form.

Only two upsets marred the 16-game, first-round card and after Wednesday's second round, the eight clubs seeded best at the outset of the 32-team, 32-game classic are all in tonight's lineup.

Tonight's quarterfinal schedule:

5:15 p.m.—Eastern New Mexico (6) (24-5) vs. Maryland State (2) (27-1).
7:00 p.m.—Stephen F. Austin (1) (29-0) vs. Guilford, N.C. (8) (31-3).

8:45 p.m.—Central Washington State (3) (29-1) vs. Jackson (Miss.) State (7) (26-4).
10:30 p.m.—Central State of Ohio (5) (25-4) vs. Kentucky State (4) (26-3).

Kentucky State had the hardest time advancing. In beating Eau Claire State of Wisconsin, 73-65, in Wednesday night's finale. The Thoroughbreds trailed throughout until reeling off the final 12 points of the game in the last 3 minutes and 55 seconds.

Central Washington State overcame a 35-32 halftime deficit to beat Wartburg, Iowa, 66-58; Stephen F. Austin scrambled to its 33rd consecutive victory by downing Augusta, Ga., 74-71; and Central State of Ohio was hard pressed in ousting Wiley, Tex.—one of the two unseeded teams to get past the first round—83-77.

In day games Wednesday Guilford outlasted No. 9-seeded Eastern Michigan, 89-85; Eastern New Mexico, the defending champion, knocked off stubborn Arkansas Tech, the other unseeded first-round winner, 84-81; Maryland State dumped Morris Harvey of West Virginia, 88-78; and Jackson State advanced on a 90-83 win over Northeast Louisiana State.

Stephen F. Austin didn't put Augusta—seeded no better than 18th—away until the final three minutes. The Lumberjacks broke off a 57-57 tie with only five minutes remaining and it was a pair of free throws by George Johnson that gave Austin a six-point bulge, 67-61, at the three-minute mark.

The semifinals are scheduled Friday night with the consolation and championship games slated for Saturday night.

NCAA Semifinals Open Play Tonight

By United Press International Form and logic dictate St. Bonaventure, Kentucky, New Mexico State and UCLA will advance to the semifinals of the NCAA basketball tournament next week.

But the favorites must first get by regional qualifications which begin tonight and continue Saturday afternoon at four sites across the country.

Perhaps the toughest of the regionals this season is the Midwest at Columbus, Ohio, where top ranked Kentucky meets explosive Notre Dame and Big Ten champion Iowa tangles with towering Jacksonville.

The Eastern regional at Columbia, S.C., pits third-ranked St. Bonaventure against North Carolina State and Villanova against Niagara. Defending champion UCLA meets relatively unknown Long Beach State and Utah State battles Santa Clara in the Far West.

Atlanta Hawks Top San Diego

By United Press International The Atlanta Hawks and San Diego Rockets both moved closer to their respective goals Wednesday night.

The Hawks, struggling to finish first in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, opened their lead over second place Los Angeles to 1 1/2 games by beating the Rockets, 122-121. And the Rockets, by virtue of the loss, moved four games ahead of San Francisco in the dubious struggle for the worst record in the West which rewards the winner with a possible shot at the first pick in the college player draft.

UCLA, minus Lew Alcindor for the first time in three of the nation's best zone defenses when it plays Long Beach State which carries a 19 game winning streak into the contest.

New Mexico State posted a 24-2 record during the regular season thanks to the scoring of Jimmy Collins (24.7) and the rebounding of Sam Lacey (15.4) and figures to prove too powerful for Kansas State.

In the Eastern regional opener, Villanova pits its well balanced attack, led by Howard Porter, against the offensive explosiveness of Niagara's little Calvin Murphy.

Pampa Baseball Team Set For Season Opener At Palo Duro

The Pampa High School Baseball Team will hopefully open their 1979 season at Amarillo Saturday with Palo Duro.

The Harvester squad was set to open their season last weekend at the San Angelo Tournament, but the meet was rained out delaying the start of the season.

The Palo Duro game was scheduled this week to make up for the lost games at San Angelo.

The non-conference season opener will start at 1 p.m. and will be a double header. Palo Duro has played three games so far this season and has a 3-0 record. All three games were with El Paso schools.

Griffith Defeats Carlos Mark

NEW YORK (UPI)—Emile Griffith, a five-time world champion, was supposed to be the teacher, but he learned a few lessons himself.

Griffith had to rally in the last three rounds Wednesday night to score a unanimous 12-round decision over unranked, unheralded Carlos Mark in his 21st main event bout at Madison Square Garden.

Although Griffith went into the bout against the late substitute as a 3-1 favorite, the 32-year-old veteran had more trouble than he should have catching up to the 23-year-old Mark. Not until the ninth round did Griffith score effectively, and at the end the Garden was filled with boos over the decision.

Griffith, 156 1/2 pounds, was scoring his 62nd victory against 11 losses compared to Mark's 18-8-1 record.

Mark, 157 pounds, came in only 10 days ago as a substitute when former middleweight and light heavy champ Dick Tiger had to pull out of the bout with a training injury.

The under-30 set came through, however, in a 10-round semifinal when 27-year-old Charlie Green stabbed out a unanimous light heavy decision over Henry Hank, a 35-year-old throwback to the days when fights were still shown on television.

Hank was staggered several times and went down from a hard left hook in the last round. However, Gil Clancy, who manages both Green and Griffith, was far from satisfied.

After the bouts, Clancy said he wasn't happy with Green's or Griffith's performance. "They were loafing," Clancy said, "But they both won, and it wasn't close. I have to give them credit for that."

THIRD BASE — Tommy Hawkins, Mike Edgar and Randy Swope.

OUTFIELD—Greg Schultz, Lonnie Ward, Steve Scott, Dennis Taylor, Jerry Lindsey and Al Ferguson.

PITCHERS—Cliff Gage, Sammy Hoasley, Keith Russell, Ricky Harris, Jeff Hogan and Doug Thompson.

The baseball team will play a 25-game schedule with the first home game set for March 20 against Anadarko, Okla.

Head baseball Coach Buddy Williams' tentative starters will be Earp at catcher, Jenkins at first, Johnston at second, Holman at shortstop, Hawkins at third, and Schultz, Scott and Lindsey in the outfield.

The pitchers will be chosen from Gage, Hoasley, Russell, Harris, Hogan and Thompson. Williams pointed out that the game could be canceled at the last minute depending on the weather Saturday. Last week the team had traveled to San Angelo before the tournament was canceled.

Player, Palmer Headline $150,000 Monsanto Open

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—Gary Player, rejoining the U.S. tour for the first time since last summer's racial disturbance in the PGA championship, and Arnold Palmer, making his first appearance here in five years, headlined a star-studded field today at the start of the $150,000 Monsanto Open.

Player returned to his home second in the PGA at Dayton, Ohio, which he was a target of militants because of his country's attitude toward blacks. However, Player made it clear when he returned the first of this week that he does not wish to discuss last August's incident.

Palmer, who hasn't played in Pensacola since 1965, said he added this tournament to his schedule "because I want to play in as many tournaments as possible between now and the Masters to get my game in shape for that event."

On Lowering Birthrate

Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, the nation's "top doctor" as assistant secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, recently said he favors abortion on demand as one method of stabilizing America's population.

Sen. Robert W. Packwood, of Oregon, has introduced a bill limiting personal tax exemptions to three children in any family.

And HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch has said that limiting families to two children is one way Americans can improve their environment.

All in all, despite the recent birth of the quintuplets in New York and the news about the British housewife who hopes to be the first in the world to have a test-tube baby, infants currently aren't considered "in" with those who worry about this old world becoming overpopulated.

They see seven billion people in the world in 30 years, twice as many as now. That would include 300 million in the U.S., 650 million in Latin America, 4.25 billion on the Asian continent.

And so you get suggestions like the above, and some more extreme—such as, for example, that there may have to be a law limiting families to two children, or whatever number would keep the world's population in balance.

There is a danger in all this, says Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n. By concentrating too much on limiting births, we might be devoting less effort to improving our environment and adapting it to the number of people we have.

Although they are not perfect examples, consider how Belgium, the Netherlands and Japan have accommodated population densities far greater than America's.

Belgium has 11,781 square miles and 9.63 million people, or $17 per square mile. The Netherlands spaces 810 persons per square mile between dikes and tulips. Japan, another

Street Lights Curb Crime

According to crime statistics, three-fourths of all crimes take place at night, and two-thirds of these are perpetrated in dimly lit areas.

Yet less than 2 per cent of America's residential streets are lit to acceptable minimum levels, leaving the vast majority—96 per cent—"a happy hunting ground for thieves, dope addicts and muggers."

So charged Charles Siragusa, executive director of the Illinois Crime Investigating Commission, speaking at the first Urban Lighting Forum held in Chicago recently under the sponsorship of the Chicago Lighting Institute.

The problem is going to get much worse before it gets better, he predicted. "We have accepted certain levels of tragedy because we have not been willing to pay the price for safety or security," despite the fact that "there is plenty of evidence that well-lit streets are deterrents to violent crimes."

"He cited the example of Gary, Indiana, where in two years following the installation of 5,600 new lights the number of reported criminal assaults dropped 70 per cent and robberies decreased 60 per cent. In Indianapolis, after a 90-nation which has made land usage a fine art, supports 708 persons per square mile.

The United States, on the other hand, has only 56 people per square mile, hardly elbow to elbow.

Hunger is relatively unknown in Belgium, the Netherlands and Japan. In America, however, undernourished and hungry citizens can be found in numbers, despite the fact that in fiscal 1967-68, the U.S. Department of Agriculture paid $4.5 billion to farmers (mostly large corporate farms) to help stabilize their incomes, mainly by cutting back on food and fibers. This amount was three times what it is estimated it would have cost the government to feed America's hungry that year.

Congress in that same year appropriated only about one-ninth of needed moneys for the federal food stamp program. The logic of huge subsidies not to grow food at the same time that people are starving escapes many observers.

One can also look at India to witness how predictions of mass starvation because of too many people have never quite turned out so gloomily. Although drought brought hunger to some areas in 1967, a large wheat crop was produced in 1968, and improved genes, fertilization and irrigation are steadily reducing India's previous food shortages. Voluntary sterilization by about 3.5 million persons has also helped ease fears.

Certainly, the overpopulation threat can't be ignored. Man has no right to destroy his individuality and his environment by thoughtless propagation. But when population forecasters move toward putting arbitrary limits on the number of people a nation or a world can hold, or when laws are suggested to tell a husband and wife how many children they can have, we run the risk of tampering with a basic human right while neglecting social and economic means at our disposal.

year-old retired teacher was murdered by a 15-year-old purse snatcher, the women of the city banded together to work with local government officials and the local utility to see which streets most needed improved lighting. The result was a 60 per cent reduction in night crime.

That city got another bonus—54 per cent fewer traffic accidents, despite a 4 per cent increase in traffic.

Lighting is not a panacea, Siragusa conceded. Crime will continue to occur in well-lighted areas so long as there are no observers or observers who "don't want to get involved."

But lighting can be a large factor in crime fighting. A good light on every corner will help bring more people out on the streets which is a deterrent to most criminals in itself.

It all gets back to the old saying, which is nevertheless true: An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Too often, unfortunately, we end up paying for the pounds because we have been unwilling to pay for the ounces.

The challenge, to adapt another old saying, is to stop cursing the darkness of crime and start lighting the candle-power of concern.

They'd Kill Us 6 Times

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, America's walking DEW Line, warns that Russia is catching up with us in ballistic missiles and by the end of this year will have 1,200 ICBMs compared to our 1,054.

This means that if a nuclear war broke out in 1971, the Soviets would be able to kill 1.2 billion Americans while we would be able to obliterate only 800 million Russians.

GLOBAL VIEW:

Ivan Junior Also Eager For Change

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (NEA) — It is not only in the permissive society of the democratic West that youth is in rebellion against the adult world. In the regimental East, Communist leaders are equally bewildered by the mounting dissidence of the adolescent young.

As in the West, they challenge the authority of the "Establishment" and reject the moral values of their parents. They increasingly resort to drugs, violence and preach the "sexual revolution."

There is indeed a similarity in the psychological motivation of the alienated young men and women in the East and their counterparts in the U.S., Britain, France, Italy or West Germany. They are also eager for change and restless for new ideas.

But the ultimate goal of youth is profoundly different in the East and in the West.

Advocates of a "youth revolution" in the West are presumably dissatisfied with the social consequences of unprecedented technological advance and economic affluence. In search for freedom and new social values, they turn to teachings of Marx, Lenin or Mao Tse-tung for an antidote for what they believe to be the cultural sterility of capitalism.

But it is against the stodgy ideology of Marxism-Leninism — let alone Maoism — imposed by totalitarian regimes that youth is rebelling in the Communist countries. In a society that glorifies materialism, it wants to opt out of materialist ambitions.

Also, unlike in the United States, no influential segment of the adult world in the East has elevated the alienation of the adolescent youth to the status of a "youth culture."

Communist leaders regard alienation as a potential threat to their rule. Their newspapers and ideological journals had been forbidden for many years even to mention the "generation gap" — as if it could not exist in Marxist-Leninist society.

Only now are they full of reports about the deterioration of family life, drug addiction among the young and sexual promiscuity.

They cite cases of youngsters who start dancing when a state funeral march is played, proclaim pacifist and even pro-American sentiments and show contempt for Communist propaganda.

Young people, the Communist press complains, are free of all moral restraint, live in an atmosphere of constant excitation and "make unlimited demands upon life."

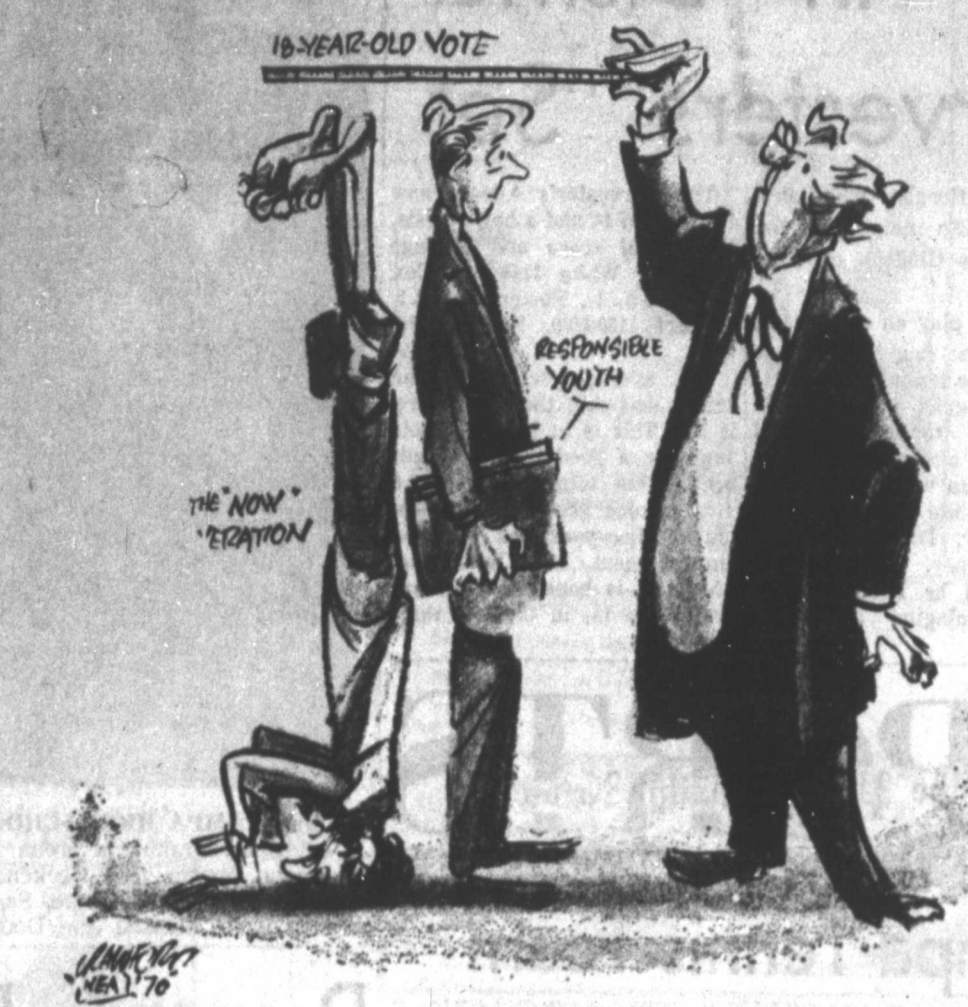

According to Komsomolskaya Pravda, newspaper of the Young Communist League, "sinister elements" use pictures of nude women to turn the thoughts of the young toward the "sweet life" when they should be concerned with working for communism.

An increasing number of "nice" Soviet girls form communes to live in sexual promiscuity or go to wild parties in dachas (country houses), the newspaper complained.

Such complaints have a familiar ring to Western ears. As in the West, Communist sociologists are now frantically searching for a clue to youth's alienation. But their questions are not easily answered.

Belatedly, the Communists concede there are no adequate substitutes for family life and parental care.

Billions Have Been Wasted On U.S. Defense Contracts

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — An unconscionable stupidity in defense contracting has cost the government hundreds of millions of dollars (perhaps billions) in past years.

Worse yet, though one would have to be able to read minds to know the answer, the government may have made unwise buys of expensive weapons systems (or carried on work on unsuitable weapons far longer than wise) because purchasing decisions were firmly tied to arbitrary dates.

That is, the Department of

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY
By now I suppose most of you little fellers have read 'em and wept — the new 'simplified' income tax forms, that is.

I have to laff on the outside and cry on the inside, when, each year, the IRS comes out with the announcement that the new forms will be a breeze to figure out. Talk about propaganda from the veranda!

I guess that is why there are so many new tax assistance groups springing up everywhere. The forms are so simple, you can easily sign your name after computers have determined how much you owe and what line to put it on.

In California, 200 real estate firms offer tax service on a franchise basis. For a commission paid to the company, the broker and his salesmen get 100 hours of instruction, plus access to a computer. If you want to take the course too, you will be able to figure out your tax after only 100 hours of study.

In Washington, D.C. a big department store has gone into tax help as has the United Virginia Banks. Montgomery Ward is offering the service in 135 stores. Beneficial Finance Co. offers a new wrinkle, "instant" refunds, if you have one coming.

Fees charged to help you with your 'simple' tax forms range from $3 to $10. You now are in a situation where you have to pay to find out how much you have to pay. O, what a revolting development the bureaucratic monster has wrought.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Defense has, in a considerable number of contracts, agreed to a fixed cutoff date. If the government wanted to buy a weapons system, say the F-14 plane, at the price or price formula agreed on in the contract, it must sign on the line by that firm date.

Otherwise, the government, when it was ready to buy, had to renegotiate the contract. There are extensive delays on most major weapons systems. Therefore, all too frequently when a cutoff date came, work was not advanced enough for an intelligent decision on whether to buy or on how many to buy.

If the government delayed its decision and did renegotiate the agreement at a later date, the military men almost invariably found they were charged a steeper price than agreed on in the original contract.

Why the steeper price? By the cutoff date the company often had the government over a barrel. A year or two or three had passed since the signing of the original arrangement. The company was behind schedule. The military needed the weapon. If the Defense Department decided to begin again with some other company, there would be a further delay in deliveries, possibly up to three years or more. It would take that time for a new company to tool up for the job and develop the capability the original builder had built up while working on the project.

In part, this situation developed because the Department of Defense has been so eager to build new weapons rapidly that it has ordered systems before they were researched completely and before component development work was far enough along. A tendency has been to contract from plans and blueprints. This, for example, is what went wrong with the F-111.

The situation was made worse because some companies knowingly underestimated the difficulties, the costs and the time required to turn out the weapons systems they contracted to build.

They knew in advance they would pass the cutoff date before they had developed a weapons system to a stage at which the Defense Department could determine with any degree of confidence whether it wanted to buy or not.

These extraordinary contracts thus often penalized the government, and profited a company, for the company's own delays.

The government then had three choices. It could order a pig in a poke. It could let its option slide and pay a higher price. It could call the whole thing off and begin again at considerable delay and expense. Finally, after years of this bumbling, someone has come up with the obvious simple solution — make the cutoff date a sliding date, tied not to the calendar, but to the stage of development of the weapon. This hopefully will mean the government will not be penalized, because a company does not meet an agreed-on deadline.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT
Cause Of Shaking Palsy Remains Unknown Factor

Q — What causes Parkinson's disease? What is the best treatment? Is complete recovery possible?

A — The cause of Parkinson's disease or shaking palsy is unknown but there appears to be a hereditary factor in some victims and in others the disease follows an attack of viral encephalitis — sometimes 20 to 30 years after an apparent recovery.

Most victims of this disease have a fixed facial expression, a shuffling gait and a tremor of the head and hands. The muscles become stiff and their movements slow.

The treatment consists of massage, drugs and in some victims surgery. A wide variety of drugs (including Artane, Cogentin, Doanatal and Panparin) has been used to control the tremor. They are usually effective but often cause such side effects as dry mouth, blurred vision, mental confusion, dizziness and nausea.

"For the muscular rigidity muscle relaxants (meprobamate) and anticholinergics (Benadrin) are given and for the slowing, muscular relaxants Ritalin and Dexedrine have been used. The most recent drug to be given, especially for muscular slowness, is L-Dopa. It has received enthusiastic acceptance by some, but not all, doctors.

Freezing a small center in the brain has given marked relief of all symptoms in carefully selected patients, especially those under 45. Despite recent advances in treatment, no complete cure has as yet been reported but, since the disease is not a threat to life and treatment relieves the disability, it is well worth while. Each patient must be carefully studied and the treatment tailored to his individual needs.

Q — My right arm has been very shaky for two years. I take a nerve pill and Donnatal but they don't help. Is there anything else I can do?

A — First, it should be determined whether the tremor is caused by nervous tension, hardening of the arteries or palsy. The treatment varies with the different causes.

Q — I have had Parkinson's disease for four years. I am 73. At my age, would you advise the freezing operation?

A — No. Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

May President Exercise Common Sense Economy? JOHN GOLDSMITH ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — President Nixon won the veto test in the long fight over the Health-Education-Welfare appropriations bill, but it is beginning to look as if the victory was not without its price.

Congress, which failed to override the President's veto of the $19 billion money bill, may well have emerged from the battle with its powers enhanced. That is the current talk at the Capitol.

It arises from the President's veto message. In it Mr. Nixon contended that most of the HEW increases, added by Congress, were for "mandatory programs" over which he would have no control if the bill became law.

The President based his statement on a legal memorandum supplied by William H. Rehnquist, a previously unsung assistant attorney general, to Edward L. Morgan, deputy counsel to the President.

Until the Rehnquist memo made the rounds, most budget officers — in Congress and the Executive Departments — would have said confidently that an approved appropriation was only a permission to spend. The generally accepted view was that the President could not be forced to spend money.

Differing, Rehnquist referred to programs which allot appropriated funds as grants under a congressionally approved formula. The specific case in point was the program for aiding school systems "impacted" by federal activities.

The President, Rehnquist said, cannot withhold such funds. More generally, Rehnquist took issue with the idea that a President has certain inherent powers under the Constitution to withhold funds or impound them.

"With respect to the suggestion that the President has a constitutional power to decline to spend appropriated funds, we must conclude that existence of such a broad power is supported by neither reason or precedent," his memorandum declares.

FDR ET AL. — One way or another, whatever the precedents, all the recent presidents have, on occasion, decided not to spend some of the funds appropriated by Congress in recent years such withholdings have often involved weapons purchases, but that has not always been the case.

Impounding some $15 million in agriculture appropriations in 1942, President Franklin D. Roosevelt tartly commented that "the mere fact that Congress, by the appropriations process, has made available specified sums for the various programs and functions of the government is not a mandate that such funds must be fully expended."

"Such a premise would take from the Chief Executive every incentive for good management and the practice of common-sense economy," said FDR.

Announcing his approval of an agriculture department appropriations bill in 1966, President Lyndon B. Johnson said he would curtail certain of its programs. LBJ said he planned to "exercise my authority to control expenditures."

In the weapons area, President Harry S. Truman impounded funds for a 70-group Air Force. President Dwight D. Eisenhower declined to spend funds for a variety of military purposes, including planes for an expanded airlift in 1959.

President John F. Kennedy's impoundings included funds for speeding the controversial supersonic B-70 bomber. In that continuing controversy, Kennedy was able to persuade House leaders to soften 1962 language "directing" him to spend the B-70 money.

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF — Rehnquist's memo suggests that a President does have power to withhold money appropriated for such defense programs, or for implementing foreign policy, because he has special constitutional authority in those areas — his powers as commander-in-chief, for example.

The memo agrees, generally speaking, that an appropriation is permissive. It contends, however, that a combination of an approved, formula-grant authorization and an approved appropriation may, indeed, be "mandatory" on a chief executive.

Deer Killed With Kindness

By PAUL HARVEY
Much snow in the mountains of Pennsylvania. Well-meaning sportsmen are feeding the herds of hungry wild deer, thinking they are rescuing the deer from starvation. On the contrary, hundreds of whitetails may die because of the feeding.

Good intentions are not enough. We can kill with kindness, too, you know. They don't call it wildlife "conservation" any more. Game and Fish people prefer to call it wildlife "management" because, they explain, wildlife must sometimes be "harvested" as well as conserved.

When the average individual sees skinny deer foraging in belly-deep snow it is difficult for him to understand that artificially feeding those animals could do more harm than good, but it could.

The Pennsylvania Game Commission explains that deer herds can subsist for long periods on reduced diets of low-quality browse but, suddenly fed nutritious hay or corn, they are unable to digest the "richer" food.

It has to do with the fact that the microbes which aid digestion in the deer's four stomachs may become inert if there is an abrupt change in the natural diet.

Recently, District Game Protector Lynn Keller picked up two dead fawns near Clearwater, Pa. They were lying next to a bed of hay, their stomachs full of hay.

Nonetheless, and despite warnings in The Progress and other local publications, sportsmen in the area continue to gather and distribute hay and corn and make public appeals for "help to feed starving game"; there are even coin cans soliciting funds for the purpose in many places of business. If the deer were left alone that

Washington Window

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The frightening idea of a nutty president and how he might affect the world has been kicking around for years, but George E. Reedy is bringing the theoretical problem into public focus—and quite seriously, too.

Few people around Washington will discuss the possibility of an unbalanced president, and what to do about him, for fear of being accused of referring to someone still on the political scene.

Because of Reedy's background, he makes it clear that all present company is excepted; that in his new book, "The Twilight of the Presidency," he is dealing only with an abstraction and has no specific individual in mind.

Knows his Washington

Reedy has more than good credentials for discussing the presidency. He has been around Washington since World War II and for about 20 years of that time, he was associated with Lyndon B. Johnson while he was senator, vice president and then president. During the LBJ White House era, Reedy was press secretary for a time, then became a special assistant to the President.

The main thrust of Reedy's book is that with domestic problems and world affairs becoming increasingly complex, the presidency as now constituted is too burdensome—dangerously so. Reedy thinks some of the responsibility should be spread around instead of remaining concentrated in one man.

Along the way, Reedy devotes a chapter to the possibility of an unstable man in the presidency.

"A highly irrational personality, who under other circumstances might be medically

"Telephone Pioneer Week" Salutes More Than 13,000 Veteran Workers

Governor Preston Smith has set aside the week beginning March 9, as "Telephone Pioneer Week" to salute more than 13,000 veteran telephone employees in Texas who have contributed to the betterment of their communities.

Telephone pioneers of America is a service organization made up of individuals who have worked for the telephone industry 21 or more years and are dedicated to community service.

In signing the proclamation, Governor Smith recognized the service which Pioneers provide by their programs aiding the handicapped and underprivileged throughout the state.

"Pioneering started in 1910 when a small group of telephone employees agreed to form an organization for long-service employees," said H.V. Ballard, president of the local Top O' Texas Pioneer Club. "A year later, Boston was chosen as the site of the first Pioneer Assembly and Alexander Graham Bell was the featured speaker."

There were 439 charter members of the organization in 1911. Today, the organization includes more than 325,000 members in 77 Chapters across the United States and Canada.

In Texas, there are three Chapters: the San Jacinto Chapter, which covers the Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange area; the Alamo Chapter, which covers San Antonio, Austin, the Rio Grande Valley and West Texas; and the Lone Star Chapter, covering Dallas-Fort Worth and East Texas.

"Pioneering in Texas will continue to grow, not only in numbers, but in expanded fields of interest and accomplishments," H.V. Ballard predicted. "Being the senior employees of the telephone industry and having a strong organization, Pioneers are in an excellent position to work for the betterment of each of our communities."

Only through combined efforts can things be accomplished in this era of constant change. Pioneers of today are exploring new ways to be good neighbors...to meet the needs of their communities."

Bank Wants Widow To Return Money

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Gateway National Bank gave Mrs. Ursula Mix $913 when her husband, a bank guard, was killed in an attempted holdup.

Then a new bank president was named. He demanded Mrs. Mix pay the money back in order to receive payments from her husband's insurance.

Mrs. Mix, a 39-year-old immigrant and mother of three children, said she received the $913 from the bank after her husband Richard, 42, was shot to death by gunmen last December. She said she used the money, equal to what her husband would have earned in a month as a guard and a maintenance man, to pay for funeral expenses.

She said Tuesday that bank president George P. Poulos summoned her to the bank last month and ordered her to sign a check for $913 before he would release an insurance check for $5,000. She said she was "very confused," but signed the check when he said hospital expenses for her husband—she lived for four days after the gunman shot him in the head—were over $900.

Mrs. Mix, who does not work, said she found out later that workmen's compensation insurance paid for the hospital bill.

Poulos reportedly told her the money was given "without authorization, inadvertently," by former bank officers, and that "nobody gets paid anything for services not rendered."

He also is alleged to have remarked, "It's not our fault if a guy gets his head shot off. I can't help that."

Later, Mrs. Mix said Poulos called her again—he had another $5,000 check. "I think it is double indemnity when a man is killed," she said.

WASHINGTON—Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., after three of his proposals to amend a voting rights bill were defeated in Senate debate:

"My state has been trying to get back into the union for 105 years. The Civil War is over! I wish I could say the same thing for reconstruction."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Many products are today being sold by their smell as well as by their appearance. The use of perfumes in commercial goods has far exceeded their use by persons. The World Almanac says. Perfume scents are being used to improve the sale of detergents, fabrics, fertilizers and used cars. Perfumed advertisements have appeared in national magazines, and some department stores have even sent fragrant inserts enclosed with their bills.
