BOB PRICE
... up for 3rd term

For Congress Bob Price Announces Candidacy

Republican Congressman Bob Price today announced his intention to seek a third two-year term in the House of Representatives in Washington, D.C.

Price made the announcement at a morning news conference. He plans to return to Washington Friday morning in preparation for the opening of the 91st Congress Monday.

Price issued the following statement:

"It has been a great privilege and pleasure for me to represent the 18th District of Texas in the Congress of the U.S.

"In the 1968 election I was honored to receive almost 70 per cent of the total vote passed by the voters of the Panhandle. At that time, I re-pledged myself to represent the interests of all the residents of the 18th District. Judging from the mail received and personal visits with individuals and groups (See PRICE, Page 2)

'The Pill' Controversy Continues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A private physician suggested today the American Medical Association (AMA) may have helped drug firms promote birth control pills and conceal their alleged dangers.

Dr. Edmond R. Kassoff, of Cranford, N.J., said he understood the prestigious AMA Journal refused to publish articles linking oral contraceptives with stroke and cervical cancer.

Kassoff's testimony came in the second day of hearings on "the pill" before Sen. Gaylord Nelson's select small business monopoly subcommittee. Another witness, Dr. Robert W. Kistner of Harvard Medical School, debunked studies concluding that oral contraceptives may cause cancer of the breast or cervix.

"The pill is safe," Kistner said in prepared testimony. "It is safer than pregnancy but not as safe as continence. . . one cigarette is three times as dangerous to life as one pill."

Nelson, D-Wis., previously accused the AMA of tailoring its editorial policies to please drug makers in exchange for their advertising dollars. AMA officials strongly denied it. The AMA Journal is generally considered the most prestigious U.S. scientific publication for physicians.

Kassoff said the paper on birth control pills and cervical cancer was "quickly published" by the British Medical Journal. "In the end it is the patient who takes the risk." He said alleged dangers of oral contraceptives are "denied and distorted" in pamphlets published by pill manufacturers. (See PILL, Page 2)

COVERED BY $4.5 MILLION

Insured Satellite Readies For Trip

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers tracked the first satellite insured against the risks of rocket flight today and prepared to kick it into its final orbit above the Atlantic Friday. The commercial communications satellite will remain covered by its $4.5 million insurance policy until the ultimate 22,300-mile high stationary orbit is achieved.

The spacecraft is owned by the Comsat Corp., and the 70 nations in the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium (Intelsat). Comsat's investment in the $11.5 million mission is $6.1 million, and the insurance protects its stockholders against 75 per cent of the potential losses.

If all goes well, the first satellite launched by the United States this decade will be ready for business in the booming transatlantic communications service Jan. 25, able to relay 1,200 telephone conversations or four color telecasts simultaneously.

It was launched by the space agency's 75th Delta rocket at the last possible moment Wednesday night when it appeared a troublesome radar unit at the Bermuda Tracking Station was going to force the sixth launch delay in eight days.

But just as officials were preparing to call another postponement, the radar was fixed and the countdown proceeded. The Delta got off at 7:16 p.m. EST—the deadline for the night.

The Delta propelled the 644-pound, drum-shaped Intelsat 3 series satellite into the current preliminary orbit ranging from an estimated 165 to 22,700 miles high.

The orbit change is scheduled for about 9 a.m. EST Friday. A radio signal from earth will trigger the spacecraft's rocket and push it out of its egg-shaped orbit into a circular one 22,300 miles high. At that point, the satellite's speed will match the earth's rotation, and it will remain over one point on earth.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"Your know, judge, like sometimes I wonder if you know what is going on," said Charles Manson.

"Sometimes I wonder, too," said Superior Court Judge George M. Dell.

It was a storybook setting in the Hall of Justice Wednesday as the bearded, shaggy-haired Manson chatted for 30 minutes with the judge about acting as his own attorney in the Sharon Tate murder case.

"You don't just become a lawyer overnight, you know," said Manson.

"Well, there is an old proverb that you probably have heard a thousand times," Dell replied. "It is that a lawyer who represents himself has a fool for a client. I think that also applies to laymen who choose to represent themselves."

Manson, 35, clad in red velvet blouse and tattered vest, grinned as spectators chuckled at his sallies.

Manson complained about the inconvenience of preparing his defense from jail and there were these exchanges:

Manson: "We are living, you know, like in an age of computers but you give me some paper and pencils and a stack of books and tell me — 'You've got it made.'"

Dell: "The district attorney is being lenient in approving a

Election of two officers to fill vacancies and a report on Crippled Children's activities will highlight the Pampa Shrine Association's final meeting of the 1969-70 fiscal year at 7 p.m. Friday in the Sportsman's Club.

An election will be held to fill the first vice president's office left vacant by the recent death of A.B. Moore. A director will be elected to fill a vacancy left by Kermit Plovman who moved out of the city.

Aubrey Jones, chairman of the Masonic Crippled Children Services Committee, will give a financial report on the committee's work during the year. Other association officers for the 1970-71 fiscal year are Travis McMillan, president; C.E. Reese, 2nd vice president; and Roy L. Kay, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Don Conley of Pampa, and Frank Slaten of Canadian.

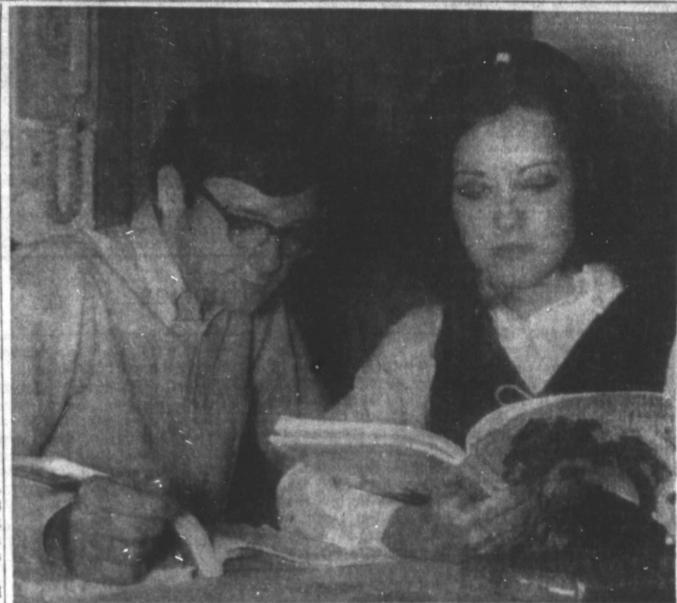

The highlight of the program will come with surprise presentations of five Silver Beaver Awards which will honor men outstanding in youth and community contributions within the council.

James A. McCune will make the presentations. Established in 1938, the Silver Beaver Awards have been presented to only 72 men to date.

Milo Carlson, council president will make the introductions and act as master of ceremonies.

Bob Curry, Pampa council past president, will install district officers. Council officers will be installed by Frank Phelan Jr., Clarendon, executive board member.

The Adobe Walls Council serves scouting in the eastern half of the Texas Panhandle and all of the Oklahoma Panhandle, 15 counties in all.

IN JANUARY CALL

SS Boards Limited To First Thirty Numbers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Selective Service has asked the nation's 4,000 local draft boards to try to stay within the first 30 lottery numbers in filling January induction quotas.

With the draft at a comparative low of 12,500 men for this month, a spokesman said that, barring exceptional circumstances, not more than 1-12 of the 366 draft numbers should be needed.

So far, the spokesman said, only a few boards have gone beyond No. 30. One report to headquarters was that an Illinois board had no men available for draft with a lottery number lower than 278, but it was not known whether this man was inducted.

The state directors have been asked to cooperate in making it possible for local boards to defer their quotas until later in the year when men with low numbers are not available.

The hope at headquarters is that induction quotas for the first half of this year can be filled without using more than 30 numbers in any month. This would mean that, through June, there would be no draftees with numbers above 180.

In July, Selective Service

officials believe, most draft boards could start over using Nos. 1-30 again because of deferments expiring at the end of the school year.

The total of potential draftees to become available through expiring deferments in 1970 is estimated at 350,000, and could equal the pool of nondeferred men who will be available for draft at midyear. The nondeferred pool of draft eligibles is estimated at 500,000 men, but the Defense Department believes that 200,000 of these will volunteer during the year. This would leave 210,000 available for induction. Some among the expiring deferments will also volunteer, but the percentage may be lower.

Current shortages of men eligible for draft are mostly in neighborhoods where the percentage of college attendance is very high and almost all 19 year olds are entitled to deferments.

Selective Service officials believe the same neighborhoods, if permitted to postpone quotas early this year, will be able to recover next summer because of their predictable larger-than-ordinary influxes of expiring deferments.

TO SPEND $192,000 HERE

Bell Tells Of Growth Plans

Southwestern Bell announced today its plans to spend $192,000 on construction in Pampa during 1970.

"This expenditure will cover several projects necessary to keep up with the increasing communications needs created by Pampa's healthy growth rate," said G.H. Newberry, Southwestern Bell manager.

He said projects will probably be started or completed in 1970 include construction of a half-mile of underground conduit, expansion of the cable system serving the north part of Pampa and addition of dial switching facilities.

Last year, Newberry said, the company converted to All-Number Calling.

"It's often said that telephone growth is a good yardstick of a town's progress," said

Suggests Talks With East German Solons

BONN (UPI)—Opposition leaders say they will closely question Chancellor Willy Brandt on his state of the nation address in which he proposed new talks with East Germany with an unlimited agenda.

Parliament opened a two-day debate on Brandt's address, made Wednesday before the legislative body.

Kurt George Kiesinger, who headed the West German government until he was forced into opposition by last fall's election results, said Wednesday night Brandt's report contained unclear and questionable passages.

In a radio interview in which he was speaking as the leader of the Christian Democratic Party, Kiesinger said lapses in Brandt's report gave him cause to "ask precise questions to which I hope to receive precise answers."

Brandt told parliament West Germany is prepared to sign binding agreements with East Germany to improve practical relations but is unwilling to consider East Germany as a "foreign" state. West and East Germany are states of a single German nation, he said.

Brandt proposed negotiations with an unlimited agenda in which East and West Germany could raise any question. Basis for the talks would be a proposed agreement for renunciation of the use of force, he said.

President Walter Ulbricht of East Germany has countered Brandt's offer of an agreement on the renunciation of the use of force with a demand for Bonn recognition of East Germany as a sovereign state.

Brandt said other Communist nations of Eastern Europe do not share Ulbricht's demands. He said the fact the East Germans "are turning somewhat to make ever new demands" on Bonn is one of the main obstacles to initiation of talks.

Brandt advised the German people against expecting early unification of their nation and counseled West German politicians to avoid promising otherwise to their voters.

Jumbo Jetliner To Get Sendoff From First Lady

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon christens aviation's biggest baby today — the 700,000-pound, 490-passenger Boeing 747 jumbo jetliner.

With the press of a lever, Mrs. Nixon will spray red, white and blue water over the Pan American clipper "Young America" at Dulles International Airport outside Washington.

The plane will officially open the age of the jumbo jetliner with a flight from New York to London Jan. 21.

Mrs. Nixon is not the only first lady to christen an airliner — Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge all have performed the job. But the jumbo jetliner is by far the largest plane to open its career with a sendoff from a president's wife.

Lieutenant Governor's Wife Seeks Divorce

COMANCHE, Tex. (UPI)—A study committee of the state bar of Texas recommended it, and it was passed with ease in both houses of the legislature.

The law allows a simple dissolution of the marriage when both parties agree that they can no longer live together as man and wife. There is technically no plaintiff in proceedings, and no defendant.

Barnes, honored last Saturday night as one of the ten outstanding young Americans in 1965, has been married for almost 13 years. He was 19 when he married his DeLeon High School sweetheart Feb. 22, 1957.

The divorce petition was filed by Mrs. Barnes' attorney, Hume Cofer of Austin, just before the doors of the Comanche County clerk's office closed for the day Wednesday.

The petition states that the Barnes' marriage "has become insupportable because of discord that destroys the legitimate end of the marriage relationship."

No Reconciliation Likely
It also said there was "no reasonable expectation of reconciliation."

Barnes office released a statement confirming the divorce petition and saying the custody of both children from the marriage — Greg, 12 and Becky, 8 — would be awarded to Mrs. Barnes, 30.

"All questions of support and the settlement of property rights were agreed upon in advance," the statement said. "No further statement on this matter will be forthcoming."

The divorce petition will be heard in the Comanche courtroom of Judge Truman Roberts. No date for the hearing was set immediately.

There's Waiting Period
A 90-day waiting period is called for by law, however, before such divorces can be granted.

The petition was filed under a recently passed law which makes a divorce much easier and quicker to obtain in Texas.

Barnes was not instrumental in the passage of the law.

Large Gap In Fayette
Police Force

FAYETTE, Miss. (UPI)—Mayor Charles Evers said Wednesday an auxiliary police unit would fill the gap until he could replace his Negro police chief and three other officers who suddenly resigned.

Evers, a civil rights leader and the state's only Negro mayor of a biracial town, said Police Chief Robert Vanderson simply came in Tuesday night and told him "I'm through" without giving any specific reason. "I don't know why," said Evers. "Maybe it was just an administrative thing."

Senorita From South Of Border Learning American Way Of Life and operating several movie theaters. The attractive brunette is a member of a family of five and her lineage is Italian and Syrian.

When asked about her impressions, Yara replied, "Americans are too serious about everything. They could enjoy life more by slowing down." She said the exact time of appointments and engagements is more binding here.
The lack of household help impressed her, but she said there are so many appliances to make up for it.
Yara enjoys all sports and in Brazil, her family belonged to several sports clubs where they could engage in volleyball, tennis, ping-pong, basketball, archery, marksmanship. She even played baseball and some American football. She said her whole family attended the clubs for evening recreation. She prefers American movies and saw many of these in Brazil. She enjoys the "pop" music here and there but still prefers the Brazilian Samba. The Riley household is often flooded with the Latin beat as Yara selects favorites from her large supply.
Miss Barreta says that she will go to Ohio from McLean to join a group of Brazilian friends, who will jointly tour the large cities of the Northeast.

Afterward, she will return to her studies in Sao Paulo, where she recently completed her first year of junior college.
She especially likes to study languages and will continue to study English as well as French, German, and Italian.
She does not anticipate an early marriage since she has such an interesting life already. Miss Barreta said, "I want to learn about the world and people. I hope to travel to many countries and see the many things of interest in each."
Yara has brightened the classrooms of both McLean and Lefors schools, and her vivacious manner and quick wit have given numerous students a real insight into the Brazilian personality. Her English is excellent but some of the "far-out" expressions are being willingly explained to her by local young men.

Yara Barreta brings a rich background to share with her newly-made friends, having been born and reared in Sao Paulo the fastest growing city of the world today. When asked the size of her hometown, she said, "It is rapidly approaching 10 million."
Her father is a successful businessman, dealing in jewel-

Mechanics Of Cattle Feeding Related By Rotarian Speaker

"The first cattle feed yard of any size was the one in Hereford started in 1963 with a 5,000 head capacity," said Sam Thomas.
"It is a big money business," he continued "and any company starting out today begins a yard with 30,000 head as a cold start."
"It is now a $6 billion a year business," said the Southwestern Public Service representative, "with a 4 million head kill capacity." Thomas spoke Wednesday at the regular noon luncheon of the Pampa Rotary Club in the Coronado Inn.
He explained how the feed lot business started with several tours in the early 1960's into California, Arizona and Iowa. He traced the growth of the business to what it now is for the state.
"In March of last year we had a capacity of 1,375,000 cattle and during the rest of the year a total of 800,000 additional capacity has been announced by 27 companies," said Thomas.

Warren Stark, 46, of 220 N. Houston, was listed in satisfactory condition in Highland General Hospital today where he was taken following an early Thursday morning fire in his home.
Pampa firemen, called to Stark's residence at 1:45 a.m., found the front room of the house in flames and Stark in a chair in the back of the house.
Stark, suffering minor burns and smoke inhalation, was taken to the hospital by ambulance.
Firemen, who returned to the station at 3 a.m., reported heavy fire and smoke damage to the front room of the two-story house and heavy smoke damage throughout the rest of the structure.
A fire department spokesman said the blaze apparently started by a burning cigarette in the living room.
Martha Gumm is listed as owner of the house, according to the fire department.

Oklahoma City Mother Plans Confrontation With Marshal

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—An Oklahoma City Mother plans to confront U. S. marshals today in defiance of a federal court desegregation order.
Yvonne York, 34, said she would escort her son Ray, 14, to Taft Junior High School this morning in defiance of an order by U. S. District Judge Luther Bohannon.

ing in any classroom activities. "They treat him like a leper," Mrs. York said. Mrs. York said she realized the importance of an education, and did not want her children to look on their parents as law breakers.
"We do not think of this as breaking a law," she said. "We don't feel this court ruling is a law."

Bohannon said Wednesday he would order federal marshals to take Mrs. York and her son into custody if they set foot on the school grounds.
The conflict was triggered by an order by Bohannon last August changing boundary lines at Taft in line with an integration compliance order.

Under the order Ray should attend another school four miles away. Mrs. York said they bought their home in northwest Oklahoma City so their children could attend school in that district. She vowed to fight the order as far as the U. S. Supreme Court.

"I'm fighting for all the people in Oklahoma and America," she said.
When Ray continued attending Taft, principal Garwin Fleming said the family was keeping the school from complying with the boundary change order.
Ray kept coming to school but was barred from participating in any classroom activities.

Wedgeworth To Attend Workshop

E. O. Wedgeworth, general manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will go to Abilene tomorrow where he will attend a committee meeting to plan the West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual workshop to be held there later in the year.
The committee sessions, under the chairmanship of Gene Garrison, manager of the Odessa chamber, is set for Friday night and Saturday morning.
Wedgeworth said plans for the seminar have been changed this year from four regional meetings to one large-scale annual meeting.

Dr. Roy Hertz, assistant medical director of the Biomedical Division, Population Council of Rockefeller University in New York City, said the FDA gave birth control pills an "indulgent endorsement" more than 10 years ago because of the "widely recognized urgency of the population problem."

"It is noteworthy that just prior to the time that the FDA endorsed the pill, it had persuaded Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Arthur Flemming to order all poultry producers to stop the use of estrogens for the fattening of chickens," Hertz said.

SPEED READING CLASSES SET FOR PAMPA

The famous Cutler Accelerated Method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.
The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60 percent comprehension—a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.
This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least four times their beginning rate with a definite increase in comprehension.
Many graduates of the nine-week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.
Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.
Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.
This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.
A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.
At these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.
Since there is no cost or obligation to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you.
Drop in and find out how you can make 1970 a more successful year.
All meetings are open to the public, and will be conducted as follows:
Monday, January 12 at 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, January 13 at 7:30 p.m.; Wednesday, January 14 at 7:30 p.m.; Sunday, January 18 at 2:30 p.m.; and again at 4:00 p.m.
All meetings will be conducted in the Emerald Room of the Coronado Inn, 1101 N. Hobart, in Pampa. (Adv.)

Hazel Frasher, as she grocery-shopped, commenting, "well, it's time to eat again". Just a suggestion of springtime in the air, if you have a strong enough imagination. Glenn Cox talking about the upcoming Lions Club Minstrel slated for March... Rev. and Mrs. T.O. Uphaw out for dinner... Mrs. Bob Gordon doing an errand for the Rev. Dick Crews of Lafayette, California, who are former Pampans, when he was pastor of First Christian Church here...

George Smith and Rev. Dan Cameron playing handball... Jiggs Cook talking to Bob Gordon... Sheriff Rufe Jordan talking to Roy Denman and Lois Conner... A politician giving a political handshake and smile.

"As my seniority in Congress grows, so does my ability to make your views felt in ever-widening circles."
"My wife, Marty, and our three children always look for an opportunity to come home to the Panhandle. They would have come this time had the younger Prices not been in school. The children are already planning next summer's homecoming."
"Marty always enjoys the visits of the people from our district, who come to the capitol."

"In announcing my candidacy for re-election, I am very conscious of the fact that our nation is facing grave problems. We are all painfully aware the American way of life is being threatened both at home and abroad.
"If you choose for me to continue as your representative in congress, I pledge myself to do my utmost to protect and preserve the America we all love so well."

MEAT COOKERY
Quiz

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Beef English Cut; also called Boston Cut.
Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?
A. It comes from the section of the beef chuck (shoulder) closest to the rib section. This square cut is thicker at one end. Its lean contains several thin layers of fat. It usually contains 2 or 3 rib bones, but they may be removed to make a boneless pot-roast.
Q. How is it prepared?
A. By braising. Slowly brown meat on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add a small amount of liquid and seasoning, as desired. Cover tightly. Cook over low heat on top of range or in slow oven (325°F.) until meat is tender. Allow 3 to 4 hours total cooking time for a 3 to 6-pound cut.

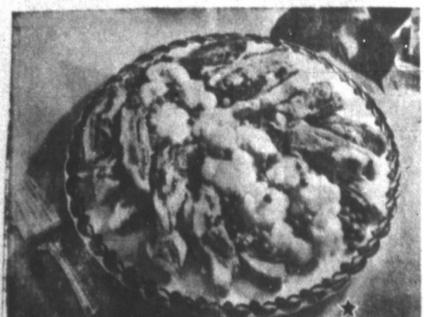

Raw Mushrooms Add Salad Zest

Mushrooms have delightful flavor. So why not include them in your special dinner? Stuffed mushrooms make a subtle first course. Raw mushrooms in a salad add to its refreshing quality.

- STUFFED MUSHROOMS
1-3 cups country style mashed potato flakes
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
1 tablespoon prepared yellow mustard
24 large fresh mushroom caps
1/4 cup melted butter
Parsley flakes, . . .

Prepare mashed potatoes according to directions for 4 servings on the package. Stir in onion and mustard. Wash mushroom caps, removing stems. Brush caps with melted butter and place on foil over hot grill, stem side down. Grill 2 to 5 minutes. Turn, brush with butter and fill with mashed potato mixture. (Forcing potato through a pastry tube makes an attractive swirl.) Sprinkle with crushed parsley flakes. Grill 10 minutes or until mushrooms are soft and tender. Serve piping hot. Four to 6 servings.
NOTE: May be broiled or baked, if preferred.

- TOSSED MUSHROOM SALAD
3 cups shredded lettuce
1/2 pound fresh, sliced mushrooms
1/2 cucumber, peeled and sliced
6 cherry tomatoes, halved
1/4 cup sliced scallions
1/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1/4 cup bottled low-calorie Italian salad dressing. . .

BRAISING BRINGS OUT FLAVOR in lamb riblets, cooked on top of the range. They're good with cauliflower and peas.

Winter Cooking Is Possible In Several Ways

How do you cook with barbecue briquets in winter? The answers are as varied as the families now enjoying it. Many use the outdoor grill or wheels all year. There are a number of sheltered, well-ventilated spots around the home where it can be used, such as the terrace, porch, carport, or in the garage with doors left open.

Other families gather around the fireplace, using a small portable grill, or a rack attached to the grate. Thousands of families have installed kitchen barbecue grills. Some use waist-high fireplaces in the den or family room. New homes are increasingly being constructed with built-in barbecues.

The hibachi also can be used indoors when ventilation is provided. Hibachis and grills which arrived in a blaze of color this year — including red, green, yellow and blue — add extra cheer to gray days.

The sizzle of food over a glowing briquet fire is even more appealing in wippy weather than in summer. Charcoal broiled steaks, chops, hamburgers, sausage, lobster tails, and noble roasts and fowl on the rotisserie are now being enjoyed the year around.

In 1970 Americans will use a record number of barbecue briquets for cooking, according to the Barbecue Briquet Institute. The demand continues so constant that leading supermarkets and hardware stores now stock briquets the year around. Barbecue fans have doubled the sale of paper cups and plates over the past decade, have increased U.S. foil consumption and sent sales of barbecue implements soaring. The cookin has become as firmly established as the cookout.

Use of the grill also is increasing at fall and winter sports events. Tailgate picnicking is popular, with the grill set up at the back of an open station wagon to provide hot food at football games and ski meets. The grill goes along to skating, snowmobile and sledding parties to warm hands, dry mittens and supply hot soups and grilled sandwiches. Even ice fishermen tote a charcoal grill for food and warmth, but they must remember to use the grill outdoors — not in the shack.

The distinctive flavor imparted by cooking over charcoal briquets lends festivity to any meal. Even thrifty foods gain flavor from the dry and radiant heat of a charcoal fire. Ground beef, chuck steak and short ribs are good examples. Gourmet feasts also can be prepared on the charcoal grill. Porterhouse, T-bone, sirloin, Rock Cornish game hen, double thick lamb chops and rib roast beef are all spectacular choices for holiday dinner parties.

Each year, growing numbers of North American families are discovering the delights of participating in the winter scene. A steady stream of winter picnickers visit woodlands and parks for sport, armed with grills and barbecue briquets, to frolic in the wonderland of winter.

Economical tuna kale casserole provides high protein.

Tuna, Kale Combination Makes Tasty Cold Weather Casserole

Kale may be a stranger to the urban eater. This fresh vegetable is usually plentiful in winter and also comes frozen. Combine kale with canned tuna and Swiss cheese and it makes an attractive and appetizing main dish that is most economical.

A quick version for tuna kale casserole relies on canned soup and frozen kale.

TUNA KALE CASSEROLE
1 pound (2 quarts) fresh kale
2 hard-cooked eggs

- 2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup shredded Swiss cheese
1/2 cup light cream
Few drops Tabasco
Cook kale in 1/4-inch boiling salted water until tender; drain well. Cut through kale with scissors several times. Sieve egg yolks for garnish. Chop egg whites; add to kale. Transfer kale to 4 individual buttered casseroles. Drain tuna, reserving 2 tablespoons tuna oil in saucepan. Blend in flour and salt. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese, cream and Tabasco; stir in tuna. Pour creamed tuna mixture over kale. Bake in 325-degree oven 15 minutes or until bubbly. Garnish with sieved yolks. Makes 4 servings.

Quick Way
For cheese sauce, substitute 1 can condensed cream of celery soup, undiluted. Mix with 1/2-cup shredded Swiss cheese, 1/4-cup light cream and a few drops Tabasco. Use 2 packages frozen cooked kale, spinach or chopped broccoli in 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Arrange drained kale on top of vegetable. Pour sauce over tuna, bake as directed above.

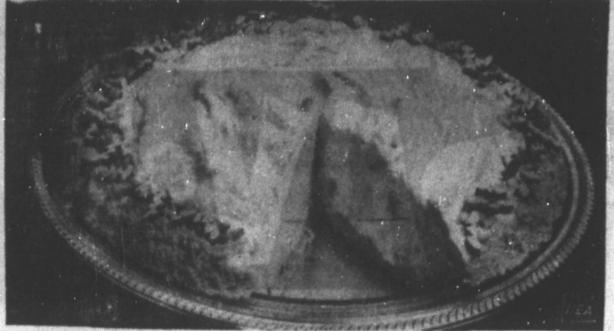

Rough textured shredded wheat crust gives this tuna pie a most attractive appearance. It provides extra nourishment, too, for breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, important B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy. This pie makes a substantial, he-mannish entree for a meatless or Lenten meal, particularly if it is sliced in four large wedges instead of six smaller ones. If allowed to cool 10 minutes after baking, it will cut and lift smoothly out of pie plate. Add a good green salad for accompaniment.

- Tuna Cheese Pie in Shredded Wheat Crust
3 cups coarsely crushed shredded wheat
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
2 tablespoons sliced green onion
1 can (10 1/2 ounce) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
4 drops Tabasco sauce
1 can (7 ounce) tuna, drained and flaked
1 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
Combine shredded wheat, salt, and 2 tablespoons melted butter; mix lightly. Cover bottom and sides of well-buttered 9-inch pie pan. Sauté onion in remaining 2 tablespoons butter until soft. Stir in soup, milk, eggs, and seasonings. Arrange tuna on shredded wheat. Spoon soup mixture over tuna and sprinkle cheese over top. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) until done (a knife inserted in center will come out clean when pie is done) about 30 minutes. Cool 10 minutes before cutting. Yield: One 9-inch pie, 6 servings.

Turn coffee into a delightful mocha float by combing 7/8 oz. chocolate flavored custard pudding, 1 cup strong black coffee, and 1 tsp. sugar. Rebeat and top with whipped cream. A tasty dip that is easily prepared in a jiffy can stave off big appetites for precious minutes needed to prepare that special dinner. Soften 4 ounces of cream cheese and add 4 1/2 oz. strained cottage cheese with pineapple, 2 oz. (1/4 cup) Blue Cheese, 4 slices crisp bacon, finely crumbled, and 1 tablespoon chopped onion. Chill and serve with tortilla chips.

PUMPKIN ICE CREAM PIE
Makes 9-inch pie
9-inch Graham Cracker Crumb Crust

- 1/4 Cup mashed cooked pumpkin
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt
One-third cup finely chopped pecans
1 quart vanilla icecream, softened
Prepare graham cracker crumb crust. In mixing bowl combine all remaining ingredients except ice cream; mix well. Stir in ice cream; Mix until blended and smooth. Pour into crumb crust; freeze until firm.

GRAHAM CRACKER CRUMB CRUST
Makes 9-inch pie shell
20 graham cracker squares
1/4 cup softened butter
1/4 cup sugar
Roll crackers (or blend in electric blender) to even fine crumbs. Pour crumbs into mixing bowl; add butter and sugar. Blend well with fingers or fork. Pour into 9-inch pie plate; press firmly to make even layer on bottom and sides. Chill for 45 minutes before filling.

Food Questions

Q—I am confused by the different types of flour I see on my grocer's shelves. Can you explain them to me. I love to bake.

A—Home bakers have a choice of these flours:
All-purpose flour is usually made from blends of wheat. It is suitable for all types of home baking and cooking, except for delicate cakes.
Instant flour is specially processed flour made from all-purpose flour. It is granular, easily dispersed in cold liquids and does not need sifting. It cost about 2 cents a pound more than all-purpose flour.
Self-rising flour, usually milled from soft wheat, has a leavening agent (baking powder) and salt added. It may be used in any recipe calling for baking powder and salt by omitting these ingredients from the recipe.
Cake flour, made from soft wheat, is the finest in texture and most expensive of all flours. The protein content is over than in all-purpose. It is made specifically for delicate cakes.

Q—Do all breads cost about the same per pound?
A—Large loaves of a given brand and type of bread cost less per pound than smaller loaves. Special dietary breads usually cost more per pound than white bread. These include such breads as salt-free and sugar-free.
Day-old bread costs less than fresh bread and may be economical for French toast, crumbs, stuffings or bread pudding.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
 UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—TV is the whipping boy of the intellectuals," says Hal Kanter, producer of "Julia" and situation comedies are whipped worst of all and out of proportion." Kanter defends television more articulately than most. "On any given night on television there is more ingenuity, creativity and expertise than in an entire season on Broadway," he said. "The reason why situation comedies are abused is because everybody in the world knows and situation comedies in particular. "When this era of television is evaluated in the future—say a hundred years from now—men like Paul Henning will be regarded as scholars as the folklorists of our day," he said. Henning is responsible for "The Beverly Hillbillies," "Peticoat Junction" and "Green Acres," all of which are consistently high in the ratings. "Television comedy shows started out by photographing radio shows," Kanter continued. "Then movie-makers drifted into TV. It became a combination of old radio guys and old picture guys. Today's crop of television producers and directors are the result of the change all that in the future. And I don't think it is far away."

No Laugh Track
 Kanter's "Julia" for NBC is one of the few sitcoms without a laugh track, another sensitive subject with the producer. "I've always been against laugh tracks," he said. "If an audience enjoys a show I think in terms of three or four people sitting in a room, not 40 million individuals." Kanter believes the half-hour comedy show has supplanted the old two-reel movie of 35 years ago. He also foresees a time when the format will be increased to one hour. "Of necessity, television comedy is bland right now," Kanter said. "But the advent of cable or pay television will

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, JAN. 16
Your birthday Friday. Your success this year depends on the conquest of some needless but real psychological limitations. You will have to figure things out for yourself and discover the encouraging truth about your capabilities. Friends loved ones are not always kept in close enough touch during such a campaign of self-realization; resolve to do more for them as you go. Friday's natives are noted for their impatience.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Early morning decisions mark a forward-moving day. Keep at it full time. There is extra money or some momentary advantage available. The evening favors romantic expression.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): You should profit through some intuitive estimate Friday. Inside knowledge is often at your command without your having to seek it. Cultural pursuits, especially if you join forces with active enthusiasts, fill the evening.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): If you must keep some business confidential, work on it Friday. Your executive ability is at a peak now. The evening is for simple pleasures and pastimes.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Your recent treatment of others now comes back to you with added emphasis. Commence future planning for group enterprises. The coming weekend depends on what you achieve in the morning.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Be a good listener once you get past the important morning tasks. New equipment bought now is quite likely a good investment. Social activity fills the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Your surroundings are much lighter in spirit and quality than usual lately. Rise to the occasion. Take a journey to new places or try new ways of getting where you normally go.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Partnerships in practical matters are suddenly essential; team up with somebody you know well and go ahead. The unusual idea and rapid approach should pay off handsomely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You get farther and faster with simple self-improvement efforts now. Let results rather than talk persuade your stubborn associates, neighbors. If you do not press them, friends are remarkably helpful now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): The initiative is yours now. Persistent effort finally brings improved results near the end of the workday. The evening is quite full of discussions. Present your side of the debate throughly where it is meaningful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Working tools, mechanical equipment can be purchased to good advantage Friday. Follow the intuitions of the morning hours—they give you more than enough to do all day and into the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Bring financial matters to working conclusions. Sign agreements, get set for the long pull. Domestic affairs stand a bit of reorganizing as well, but get done early.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Errands, delayed visits to people in institutions are in order. Clear up the loose ends of pending matters, both personal and business. Somebody near you is promised a stroke of luck. Plan a quiet evening.

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Helen who has trouble with the metal trolleys on her bras. I suggest that she buy bras with plastic ones. They are dependable and sturdy. She also might try a size larger. I learned from experience that this helps.

DEAR POLLY — The trolleys on Helen's bras will not scrape against her skin if she will sew a square of cotton (quilted preferred), cut from an old bro or blanket, to the trolley area of her bras. Make sure to sew these on the edges of the trolleys.

tell Helen that I also had trouble with the metal trolleys on my bras "pinching and punching" until my gynecologist advised me to buy more properly fitting ones. I went to a well-known but inexpensive chain store, was fitted by their trained personnel and the problem was solved. This may or may not be the answer to Helen's problem but it is wise.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become engaged and am in the process of planning my wedding. A problem has arisen about which my mother and I disagree. Let me explain the background:

When I was 16 I got into trouble. The boy ran out on me, but I kept the baby, and with the help of my wonderful family I raised the child. (She is now nearly 5.)

Abby, I want to have the kind of wedding every girl dreams about. My fiance says that he is with me all the way. I want a wedding gown and veil, and bridesmaids and organ music and I even want my daughter to be my flower girl. It's not like nobody knows about what happened to me, Abby. All my friends and relatives know, and so do his. My mother said it isn't "right." Please help me make up my mind. I know that a wedding gown and veil is supposed to be for a first wedding only, but even though I am a mother, this is my first wedding. Would it be so wrong?

WITHHOLD MY NAME
DEAR WITHHOLD: If you want to have your "dream wedding" and your fiance is "with you all the way," then I vote with you.

However, instead of a stark white gown and veil, I suggest off-white, ivory, or a pale pastel. And please don't think me unkind, but having your daughter for your flower girl would undoubtedly call attention to that part of your life which I think is better deemphasized on your wedding day. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this question is too dumb to answer.

Why are famous women always referred to as "Miss" — regardless of whether they are married or single?

For instance, you are called, "Miss Abigail Van Buren." I know that's not your real name, but since you are married and have grown children, why aren't you called "Mrs. Van Buren?"

Also, when Judy Garland died, they were calling her "Miss Garland" until the end, and she had been married several times and had children, too. So why wasn't she called "Mrs. Garland?"

DON'T GET IT
DEAR DON'T: Yours is not a "dumb" question. It's a very intelligent one. When a woman takes a pseudonym (pen name) for professional reasons, she is always known as "Miss" regardless of her marital status. (This would have been a good question for Miss Amy Vanderbilt, who is also a "Mrs.")

IN THE MIDDLE
IN HOUSTON
DEAR IN: I would say that by clear implication, the painting was offered and rejected, so the painting was not your sister's until your daughter had given it to her. However, if this case ever gets to court, anything can happen. (P.S. This is certain, your sister will never make the diplomatic corps.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO VIRGO: It is time to take stock of your company. Those who sleep with dogs, wake up with fleas. (O dogs, wake up with fleas. (Or worse!)

Council Schedules Scouting Leaders' Conference Here

The Quivira Girl Scout Council will have its annual Leaders' Conference from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Jan. 22 at Furr's Cafeteria Coronado Center.

Mrs. Rufe Jordan, Pampa, and former council president, will be the guest speaker.

Additional conference feature will include planning sessions and a panel discussion. Members of the panel include Mrs. Richard Stowers, council president, and Miss Celia Fowler, executive director, of Pampa, and Mrs. Vaden Fowler, board member from Borger.

Topic for discussion will be Action 70 as related to Quivira Council. Action 70 is a nationwide effort to become more aware of prejudices; and to take action to build better relations, religions, races, and nationalities. Mrs. Stowers said.

Mrs. D.B. Jameson Pampa, is in charge of conference arrangements.

A registration form for the conference may be found in the Council Bulletin, "Coronado Trails" and Girl Scout adults throughout the 10 county council are invited to attend.

Jaycee President reviews 'Involvement' for Altrusans

When the Altrusa Club of Pampa met Monday noon in the East Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn, guest speaker John Warner, president of the Pampa Jaycees gave a resume of the 50-year history of service of the Jaycees since its organization in 1920. He said: "There were dancing fads coming into being in the 20's. The Bear Hug and the Turkey Trot. Many persons including Henry Geisenberger felt the old popular dances should be continued; therefore HG formed dancing clubs. After organizing seven dancing clubs, he was not satisfied that the club members were dancing only that there were more worthwhile things needing his attention, so that he began to have guest speakers who spoke on the needs of civic works."

Henry Geisenberger then formed the Junior Citizens which later became affiliated with the US Chamber of Commerce as the Junior C. of C. Later this organization was developed in to the Jaycees International with a national membership of 350,000.

"In 1931 Pampa was one of the first 15 clubs in Texas. Later, the Pampa Club helped organize the Amarillo, Perryton, Borger and other clubs in the Panhandle."

"One word that describes the Jaycees is 'involved'. Locally the Jaycees are involved in all civic endeavor—with more than 100 projects. We are proud of the Career Clinic which we co-sponsor with Altrusa" he said.

He listed several of the Jaycee projects such as Career Clinic, Red Cross First Aid Course, Blood Transfusion machine purchase for the Highland General Hospital, the Polio Vaccinations, the Book Bank, and Rehabilitation of young men.

"January is community involvement month as the 50th anniversary celebration of the Jaycees."

He said in speaking of the Jaycee-Ettes, "they are pretty smart women as they are married to a Jaycee in order to qualify to become a Jaycee-Ette. He said a Jaycee family works together on projects. The Pampa Jaycee-Ettes have been the outstanding club for past four years in its district and has so qualified for seven years out of last eight. The Jaycees of Pampa was the No. One Club in the District in the year 1966."

Other guests were Debbie Junger, Altrusa Girl for the month of December, who introduced Susan Maguire, Altrusa Girl for the month of January. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Maguire Jr. She's captain and secretary of the Pep Squad, associate editor of the year book, secretary of the National Honor Society, and is currently in the cast of two plays: "Aesop's Fables" and "Look Homeward Angel" to be presented by the high school drama department.

Altrusa president Mrs. C.C. Fitzgerald announced the nominating committee named by the board is Mary Wilson, Van Vanderberg and Martha Kennedy. Other business included club approval of the purchase of a tape recorder to be used in connection with guest speakers to be heard over the 'Voice of Altrusa' program on KPDM each Saturday morning at 10:06.

The secretary, Genevieve Henderson, read a thank you letter from Katie Vincent for the Senior Center sponsored by the Altrusa Club of Pampa. Linda Dyer, Scholarship Girl who is attending Frank Phillips College sent her grades for the past semester. Also read was the Christmas greeting from Evelyn Arellano of Guatemala, whom Altrusa sponsored while she attended school in Pampa a few years ago.

Ruth Sewell requested Altrusans and all persons who are interested to save cancelled postage stamps for the Methodist Church to send to foreign orphanages that may redeem these stamps for milk for the orphans.

Marian Heare, Altrusa Information Chairman, was in charge of the program "A Fresh Approach to Evaluation at Mid-term". Evaluation sheets were tabulated. At the question and answer session of the program, favorable comments were given by the membership. Congratulations were extended Genevieve Henderson who was named "Realtor of the Year", and Marian Jameson who was named a Secretary to the Realty Board.

Impala.

It's got more re-sale value because it's got more to re-sell.

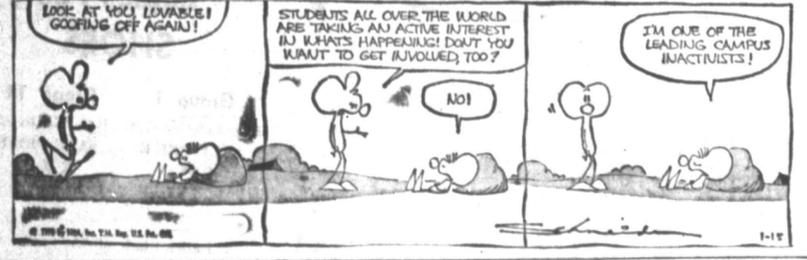

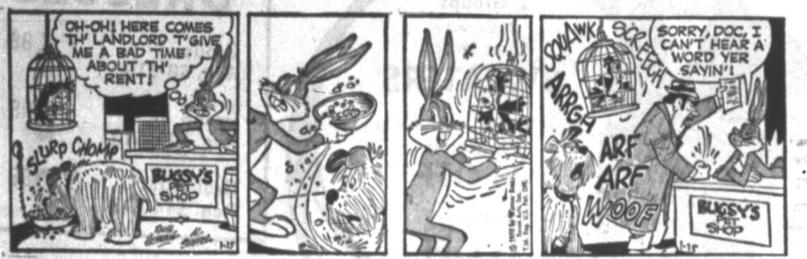

One of the nicest things about buying an Impala is selling it. That's because selling it traditionally brings back more of what people put into it in the first place. Money. Where does Impala keep getting its higher resale value? From features like those you see below. Features which explain why America's most popular car for the last nine years will undoubtedly make it ten in a row.

Impala. More to drive. More to re-sell.

Experience Will Help Harvester Basketballers

There is nothing wrong with the Pampa Harvester basketball team that a little experience won't help. More height would help also but since it doesn't come as quickly as experience we settle for what we have.

You Don't Say...
By RON CROSS

Pampa is probably the most inexperienced team in District AAAA but only Monterey has beaten the Harvesters badly. Only in that game has Pampa been out of it.

Plainview, Monterey and Tascosa are tied for the lead with Amarillo a close second. Yet the Sandies won by four points, Plainview by four and Tascosa by three.

So Pampa has played three of the top four teams within 11 points. Ad three losses were on the road with only Monterey able to beat the Harvesters at home.

In fact six of Pampa's seven season defeats have been road games and everybody knows how tough it is to win away from home.

Pampa will close out the first half of district play a week from Friday against Borger and while the chances are slim and none of winning the first half title the chances are good and better of being a top contender in the second half of play.

Last season Tascosa won the first half championship at 9-0 while Pampa finished 6-3. But the Harvesters won the second half title with a sparkling 8-1 mark.

The Harvesters were weak at the start of last season with only one parttime starter in camp, same as the situation this season with Jim Gallman the only returnee. Turnovers and a solid offensive attack have been the only things to keep Pampa from being a winner in the district thus far. But they have improved all along.

The defense is fine, nothing to be tampered with here, its the third best in the league and by season's end could well be the best. One reason it might not be now is the fact that the Harvesters have gone into the fourth period behind so many times they have been forced to foul and that produces points the majority of the time.

But the Harvesters need another scoring threat to go along with 6-6 center Jim Gallman who has had to carry the load in most of the district games.

He will come and it probably will be senior Randy Marsh or sophomores Mike Edgar or Richard Buntun.

Edgar probably has the best chance. He has a double figure scoring average for the season but has hit the double figure circle only once in district games. Why? Who knows.

Buntun, who leads the team in rebounding, is closest. He sports a 9.6 district average and could well be over the double figure mark but has missed some sure baskets. But keep in mind that both he and Edgar are just sophomores and while most of the time they play far beyond their ages, they do at times play like sophomores facing varsity competition.

They can't be expected to know all the moves and all the things seniors are supposed to know.

There is no telling how good Marsh would be this season if he hadn't had to miss last season because of a bad knee.

He has shown improvement in every game, both rebounding and scoring. He does have the touch and it is just going to take time for it all to work out.

Despite his height (5'8") he doesn't take a back seat to anyone on defense and more times than not you'll find him guarding the opponent stop scorer.

Coach Sterling Gibson, and what a great coach he is, has tried everybody as a fifth starter and apparently has decided on the very capable Jerry Brumfield, a 5'8 senior, who spent last year on the Shockers.

Brumfield has started the last four games and is still getting adjusted to being a starter. But he is capable and makes every few mistakes, he doesn't make the kind that will beat you.

Pampa will be heard from in the second half of district play, just wait and see.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

But Snead's Not Moaning Sports Patrol

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sam Snead was born too soon. "Shucks, I won over $53,000 in 1968 when I was 36 years old," says old Sam. "That's more money than I ever won any year in my life and I led the PGA list three different times."

Snead won seven tournaments in 1938—his first year as money leader—and you know how much loot that brought in? It was $19,534.40—then a record. "I'd sure like to win seven tournaments at today's prices," mused old Sam, glancing across the table at Frank Beard, who won only two tournaments in 1969 but led 'em all with $175,223.93.

Times, indeed, have changed on the pro golf circuit. Snead led the field in 1949 with five victories for $31,593.83 and again in 1950 with seven victories for $35,758.83.

In 1948, Snead collected $500 for winning the British Open. In 1968, he collected $24,000 for finishing second in the Greater Milwaukee Open.

"Biggest paycheck I ever got and I didn't even win," says Snead.

The old slammer is well fixed but he still answers with a sly smile when you repeat the legend of how he supposedly buried his early winnings in old tomato cans around his native Virginia hills because he mistreated bankers. Regardless of where he stashed his loot, none of it ever escaped him unless its departure followed a most careful consideration.

Learning to tip properly came hard to Snead but he finally mastered the art. Sometimes, he's sorry he did. "I'm playing in the Danny Thomas tournament last December and I got this caddy," Sam began. "Turns out he doesn't know the yardage on any hole or where the pins are set or anything. He told me later it was only the second tournament round he ever caddied. How do you like that? And I'm the only guy in the tournament that tipped the caddy master in advance."

Snead's favorite caddies were at his home course in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., several years ago.

"There were eight or nine top boys," says Sam, "and the youngest was 72. That's what you call experience."

As a former PGA champion, a three-time winner in fact, Snead is permanently exempt from those Monday morning qualifying nightmares before each major tournament. He can play anything on a pass except the U.S. Open.

"My nephew, J.C. Snead, says too many of us old people are cluttering up the big money tournaments under the present exemption rule," says Sam. "I tell him all a young player has to do is make it through one of those Monday qualifiers and then be sure he makes the 36-hole cut so he'll be exempt from qualifying the next week."

"If you can't make the cut, maybe you're not ready for the tour."

Sam is almost perpetual motion off the course with a wealth of golf stories, many at his own expense.

"There was this hot shot who came down to Greenbrier and he got one of our old caddies," Sam recalls. "He'd ask what club Snead used in a similar situation at each hole, then he'd use one club more. If Snead used a seven iron, he'd use a six. And he was doing fine until he reached the 18th fairway."

"What club did Snead use here?" the hot shot asked. "An eight iron," the caddy replied.

"Okay, I'll use a seven," said the visitor but to his dismay his resulting blast left him a considerable distance from the green. "If that's so, how come I'm short?" "So was Snead," the caddy used an eight," the hot shot answered.

DAVID CAIN, a three-year basketball letterman at McMurry College, is rounding out his playing career with the Indians next month. Cain, a part-time starter over the past four seasons, has seen action in all 11 games to date this season. He is averaging 3.4 points per game. Cain is a 6-5 senior who played for Terry Culey at Pampa High, graduating in 1966.

Ron Mix Stands And Listens

NEW YORK (UPI)—Everybody bets. Joe Namath once said that and then challenged anybody in the bar to tell him he was wrong.

Mention the word "bet" or "gambling" to the average professional football player today and he immediately claps both hands over his ears, turns on his heels and runs, not walks, the other way.

Ron Mix happens to be one of those exceptions.

He doesn't run away from anything. Never did in his 10 seasons with the San Diego Chargers and certainly wouldn't now even though he retired two weeks ago at the ripe old age of 31.

Ron Mix doesn't duck problems. He believes in getting involved and trying to help. He believes so strongly, in fact, that many of those who know him are urging him to move into public life.

He's not sure whether he will yet although he has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for the position of Secretary of State in California.

"Obviously," he says, "the newspapers are responding to a

SPORTS PARADE

Mix Unusual Mix has the kind of awareness uncommon among the majority of pro athletes. He's not afraid to talk about point spreads and what he thinks about newspapers printing them.

"Many of those who want the point spread for gambling purposes use it to gamble among themselves. The consequences from such betting, of course, are not nearly as bad as those which flow from betting with a bookie, who usually figures in a large scale betting operation.

When that is the case, there generally is a mob syndicate behind the operation and the money that is earned, estimated by reliable government sources as $7-billion ... that's right, $7-billion ... is used to finance the mob's other forms of illegal activity. Now there's the real danger. I have no strong moral feeling about betting between individuals; I do have strong feelings about participation in an operation that benefits a questionable source and the money of which is used to finance other illegal forms of operation in our society."

Mix, who researched the subject of gambling because he was asked to discuss it on a recent TV show with football Commissioner Pete Rozelle, says it would be easy for a pro football player to provide information to a gambler unwittingly.

"Apparently all a gambler needs is an edge. Some information about a club. How does the quarterback feel? What is his mental attitude? Are there any injuries? This information could be given unwittingly. It could be given by a trainer, a member on the taxi squad, or even the hall boy."

Stallings Already Has Foe In Mind For 11th Grid Game

By United Press International Gene Stallings must know a reliable football teller somewhere.

The Texas A&M coach said Wednesday, hours after the NCAA approved a provision to allow universities to play an 11th regular season football game, he already has a match in the works.

Stallings said he has talked with a team about playing the Aggies this upcoming season, but "We haven't signed a contract yet." He would not name the team.

Former Coach Kiwanis Speaker

Odeus Mitchell, Pampa Harvester football coach from 1927 to 1940, will be guest speaker at noon Friday at Pampa Kiwanis Club meeting in First Methodist Church.

Mitchell will be inducted Sunday into the Panhandle Sports Hall of Fame along with Patti Powell of the Amarillo Globe-Times and O.T. Nicholson of Shamrock.

PAMPA NEWS SPORTS

"It's a good football team and would have a lot of appeal with it," Stallings said.

Southwest Conference information director Bill Morgan said after the announcement coaches will decide individually if they want to add an 11th game.

Individual Preference "It came up at our December meeting," he said. "It will be up to the individual schools of our conference to decide if they want to schedule that extra game."

Morgan said the new rule would not affect schedules planned sometimes as much as 13 years in advance. He said the individual schools could "just add another game."

"People will start dealing now," he said. "A coach is a friend of a coach somewhere else and they'll get together and say 'Why not play each other.'"

He said "there is no way really to say" if coaches will go outside the Southwest to find another opponent but in all likelihood they would.

Morgan said some of the country's weaker teams might not want the extra game because the chances of getting a big crowd to see a losing team play 10 games is hard enough.

Some Opposition Other teams, though winners, are against scheduling another game for other reasons.

Texas, the No. 1 team in 1969, does not want to play an 11th regular game this year.

"Our people didn't vote for it at the last conference meeting," assistant Athletic Director Bill Ellington said. "And right now we have no plans to at all. Our schedule is completed through 1963 and that would also pose some problems."

The Pampa offensive average might balloon a bit Friday night since Lubbock has been touched for an average of 71.6 points per game. The Westerners are scoring only 53.4 per contest.

"ICE CREAM SUNDAES" seem to be coming off the assembly line. Actually, these are ice-crusted plings off Chicago's North Avenue beach, where temperatures dipped well below zero.

Best Dressed List Ain't What It Was

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 30th annual Best Dressed List ain't what it used to be when it bore the names of instant recognition celebrities.

The 1969 list, issued today by fashion publicist Eleanor Lambert and based on a poll of 2,000 international style observers, lists 14 rich but otherwise undistinguished women whose fashion and society columns. Most of today's designated top names in fashion would be unrecognizable to the half of the U.S. population that is under 25 years of age.

Miss Lambert's committee has tried to keep up with the times by issuing a men's best dressed list and elevating former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, actors Cary Grant and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., and diplomat Angier Biddle Duke to the permanent "Fashion Hall of Fame," until now a hen heaven.

The only person on Miss Lambert's list with a clue to "with it" fashion is young film actress Ali McGraw, who recently married Paramount Pictures boss Robert Evans. A newcomer on the list, Ali likes the romantic look of gypsy gowns, headbands with flowing scarves, and accessories out of the '30s and '40s.

There are other young people on the list—Mrs. Robert Sakowitz, Princess Salima Aga Khan, Charlotte Ford Niarchos, Mrs. Patrick Guinness, Mrs. William Rayner, Mrs. Wyatt Cooper and Mrs. Harilaos Theodoracopolis—but they are traditionalists. Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper is currently pushing the prim Gibson Girl look.

Rounding out the list are Mrs. Graham Mattison, Mrs. Charles Revson, Mrs. Ahmed Benhima, Mrs. Ahmet Ertegun, Mrs. Kirk Douglas and Mrs. William McCormick Blair. The men's listings are Michael Butler, Harry Belafonte, Wyatt Cooper, Gianni Agnelli, Jean Claude Killy, James Coburn, Adolphus Andrews, Frank Gifford, Baron Eric de Rothschild, David Susskind, Gianni Bulgari and George Hamilton.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk may not know it, but he has some friends quite high in the Nixon administration who feel he was treated shabbily by some Georgia officials in connection with his selection to the University of Georgia faculty.

Rusk, a native Georgian, recently was appointed professor of international law at the University in Athens, Ga., but got something less than a rousing vote of approval. The state Board of Regents voted to confirm the Rusk appointment officials have professional by a vote of 9 to 4.

Several Nixon administration academic backgrounds and they undoubtedly have been looking ahead to what might happen to them should they desire to return to campus life a few years hence.

Maddox Critical
Gov. Lester Maddox predictably was critical of the Rusk appointment because of Rusk's liberal connections with the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. The toughest opposition to Rusk seemed to come, however, from one of the most political fighters in Georgia, Roy V. Harris of Augusta, a longtime leader in the affairs of white citizens councils.

Harris is a member of the powerful Board of Regents and can be expected to be unrelenting in his criticism of Rusk. One reason is that Rusk did not prevent his daughter, Margaret Elizabeth, from marrying a black man, Guy Gibson Smith.

Professors brought in government by the Nixon administration expressed little outward concern when Walt W. Rostow, policy adviser to President Lyndon B. Johnson, could not return to his old campus because of his involvement with Vietnam policy.

Texas A&M Representatives Go To Automotive Meet In Detroit

COLLEGE STATION — Two members of the Texas A&M University student branch of the Society of Automotive Engineers and their faculty advisor participated in the international congress and exposition of that organization Jan. 13 in Detroit.

Prof. Robert H. Fletcher, associate professor of mechanical engineering, Johnny Del Walker, senior in mechanical engineering from Dallas, and David M. Wilks, graduate student in interdisciplinary engineering from Pampa, attended the Detroit meeting which attracted 30,000 persons.

The Texas A&M representatives took part in an all-day panel on "Compatibility of Student, Professor, and Industrial Employer." Leader of the panel was Al Campbell, sales director of Timken Roller Bearing Co. Several other industrial leaders and students from other engineering colleges were on the panel, Fletcher said.

Walker is also member of several other campus organizations and has three years ex-

Some Large 'ifs' In Postal Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The first meaningful reform of the Post Office Department since Ben Franklin shook up things nearly 200 years ago could take place in 1970. All Congress has to do is resolve such issues as:

—Conversion of the department from a cabinet post to some type of public corporation as proposed by President Nixon and opposed by many members of Congress.

—Another round of pay raises for postal and other federal workers either as part of reform or in a companion bill.

—Giving postal workers bargaining power—but not the right to strike.

Any of the three issues is not enough to bog down Congress for the rest of the year. But it just could be that lumping them all in one bill might enable Congress to achieve something in the way of reform.

All Agree
All sides agree something has to be done both to stem rising postal deficits and, more important, to halt the decline in service.

The concept that delivery of the mail is a government responsibility started before the American revolution when the English commissioned local postmasters in the colonies as representatives of the royal crown.

Ben Franklin gathered those local entities together in 1778, forming the basis for creation of a formal Post Office Department in the new federal government in 1829. It has remained under Congress' thumb ever since.

Nixon, like Lyndon B. Johnson, proposed a corporation that would practically sever the historical and political ties between Congress and the Post Office. The corporation could finance itself but still draw on general tax revenues for help, set mail rates, and bargain with workers over pay and other conditions.

Rejected Concept
The House Post Office Committee rejected this concept and is halfway through its drafting work on a simple reorganization bill. Meantime, the Senate Post Office Committee can start writing its own reform bill by Feb. 1.

Recently, Nixon sent up a compromise bill with slightly modified corporate powers for the Post Office and an 11 percent pay raise for postal workers.

The Postal Workers Union had opposed the corporation plan but the largest of them, the letter carriers, voiced support for the new administration plan. The new measure, in addition to a pay raise, would provide for compulsory arbitration in future pay negotiations.

Introducing our brewmaster's own- ENCORE

What is "Quality"?
Quality begins when something is made a little better than it has to be.
There's one more step. When a thing is made as well as man's knowledge permits... made by people who care about the best, for people who appreciate the difference... then we say that special something has quality.

Encore was never meant to be sold. It was our brewmaster's own private recipe. Something he brewed just a little at a time for his friends.

They all agreed, it was an extraordinary beer.

The secret was in our brewmaster's recipe. It called for slow-lager ageing—a time-consuming, rather costly way to make beer. Only recently have we been able to make enough to offer it for sale.

Discover it soon. And see what sets Encore apart from all other beers. Discover why Encore makes this, a very good year for beer.

It's a very good year for beer.
