

Heatly Under Fire

LUBBOCK (UPI)—U.S. District Attorney Eldon Mahon said Wednesday Rep. W. S. "Bill" Heatly, D-Paducah, "is a potential defendant" in the grand jury's investigation into his campaign for re-election.

Two of Heatly's opponents have charged they were pressured to drop their campaigns.

The grand jury heard from five witnesses in Wednesday's six-and-a-half hour session including two persons who testified before a similar grand jury in San Antonio.

The investigation into the charges made by Democrat Leon Williams and Republican Zack Fisher actually began with a grand jury in San Antonio.

But the investigation changed locations because the Lubbock grand jury has jurisdiction over the district Heatly represents in the Texas House of Representatives.

Heatly is chairman of the House Appropriations Committee which is charged with originating all the state's tax bills. Heatly is regarded as the most powerful and influential legislator in Texas.

"He is a potential defendant and we cannot subpoena him," Mahon said of Heatly. "We will give him the opportunity to testify before the grand jury and his lawyers have been advised."

Heatly testified before the San Antonio grand jury, which subpoenaed him.

Grand jury investigations are not open for public scrutiny and persons connected with them usually are hesitant to talk about the jury's investigations.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney Frank McCown said the jury would consider the charges made by Williams and Fisher as two separate cases. But he refused to say which charge would be considered first.

The grand jury is apparently studying Williams' charges first. Williams claimed he was fired as manager of the Quannah, Tex., Chamber of Commerce and his wife was dismissed as a county home demonstration agent when Williams announced he would run.

Williams and his wife Gail were two of the five witnesses who testified Wednesday. Another witness was Claudia Williams, no relation to the candidate, who is the supervisor of all county home demonstration agents for the Texas A&M Extension Service, for which Gail Williams once worked.

Claudia Williams entered the grand jury's chambers at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday in a jovial mood. But when she was finally released, at 7:15 p.m., she appeared distressed.

Mahon said there was no way the investigation could be completed before the end of the week. He also said the jury would have to recess because of pending business in Abilene and Amarillo next week.

Mahon also said he was pleased with the way the grand jury was conducting its inquiry.

"This is going to be a complete, thorough and just investigation," he said. "And it's only just beginning."

Fisher claimed he was forced to sever his business connections with four of his six partners who are loan officers of the First National Bank of Memphis, Tex., when he challenged Heatly.

TV May Lose $238 Million

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A bill that would ban cigarette commercials from radio and television beginning next year and require a tougher health warning on cigarette packs was short step from final congressional approval today.

The measure would end broadcast advertising estimated worth more than $238 million dollars.

Final and routine concurrence by the Senate was expected today on the bill, which would also free the Federal Trade Commission from a six-year prohibition against federal regulation of cigarette advertising.

Inkeeper Shoos Swallows Away

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (UPI)—Legend has it friendly Francisco padres welcomed the swallows at their historic mission after an inkeeper chased them away from their eaves.

And if the birds adhere to the pattern they have followed for at least 192 years, the swallows, famed in song and story, swoop back to Capistrano today.

The fathers chronicled the arrival and departures of the faithful feathered creatures and said they came each year on St. Joseph's Day, March 19, and left on St. Juan's Day, Oct. 23.

The House approved the compromise measure worked out by a House-Senate conference committee in a voice vote without debate Wednesday and sent it back to the Senate for final action on a technical change.

Approval by the Senate will climax a five-year legislative and regulatory struggle with tobacco and broadcast interests. Congress in 1965 imposed the first printed health warning on cigarette packs, although it barred government action against cigarette ads.

The new warning which would be required on all packs six months after President Nixon signs the bill would read:

"Warning: The surgeon general has determined that cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health."

The bill would ban regulation of cigarette advertising by state governments, but would free the FTC, effective July 1, 1971, from a prohibition against federal regulation of cigarette advertising in effect since 1965.

The FTC has proposed a warning for all cigarette ads, including billboards, newspapers and magazines, but indicated it probably would not require it unless cigarette makers increased their advertising in non broadcast media.

The proposed FTC warning reads: "Warning: Cigarette smoking is dangerous to your health and may cause death from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

New Leader Against Communist Trends

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—The national assembly granted what it called "full power" today to Premier Lon Nol, the rightist general behind the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk and declared a national emergency.

Announcements from government outlets said Articles 4, 9, 10 and 12 of the constitution had been suspended because of the "dangerous situation," giving the government broad powers of arrest and to prohibit public assemblies.

The situation in the capital was calm, with Cambodians taking Sihanouk's ouster favorably, but troops continued their vigils around government buildings and the Phnom Penh Radio.

Agence Khmer Presse and the government radio said the new leadership — Lon Nol is a staunch anti-Communist — would nevertheless remain neutral. Sihanouk was described as a corrupt playboy who helped units into the northeast corner of the country, where most of the guerrilla troops are bivouacked in sanctuaries near the Vietnam War.

Cheng, 50, issued a communique this morning saying Cambodia would remain neutral in the Southeast Asian cauldron of war, continuing "to practice a policy of independence, neutrality and territorial integrity."

Governments from Tokyo to Kuala Lumpur to Washington had been waiting for an indication whether the new leadership would lean toward the Allies or Communists or neither as Sihanouk had done.

Lon Nol, who served as premier under Sihanouk, was the driving force behind recent anti-Communist demonstrations in Phnom Penh and the demand for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to drop their estimated 40,000 troops out of the country.

Exactly what the term "full power" meant was not made clear. The parliament named Cheng Heng, the national assembly president, as acting chief of state Wednesday.

Intelligence reports from Thai officials said the Cambodian army was moving large

USA Blamed For Tension

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam accused the United States today of creating the tensions in Cambodia that led to the ouster of Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state.

The accusations against the United States were made by Nguyen Minh Vy, the negotiator for North Vietnam, before today's 59th session of the state-estimated Vietnam talks.

The Hanoi official walked with a grim expression into the majestic hotel negotiating room and told reporters he had been instructed to protest at the session the alleged American role in the Cambodian political crisis.

"We are going to show today that the United States not only continues its war of aggression in Vietnam and extends the war in Laos but that it also creates tension in Cambodia, thus raising a grave threat to peace in the whole of Southeast Asia," Vy said.

"I don't think my opponent had any business endorsing (Eugene) McCarthy for President and he didn't have any business endorsing the moratorium," Bentsen said. "We can't do anything about the McCarthy-George McGovern policy, but we can do something about the Yarborough policy. The people are going to retire him to private life."

Young Eisenhowers To Be With Mamie On Death Anniversary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Julius and David Eisenhower, back at the White House for an Easter vacation, were expected to visit David's grandmother, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, at Augusta, Ga., next week.

The President's daughter and son-in-law, on a recess from college, hope to spend some time with Mrs. Eisenhower at "Mamie's Cottage" near the Augusta Country Club where the former First Lady will commemorate the first anniversary of the death of her husband. Eisenhower died on March 28, 1969.

High-Priced Demo Talent In Houston For 'Thanks' Dinner

By United Press International
Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., is importing some high priced political talent into Houston tonight for an appreciation dinner. Scanning over the guest list one finds such names as Cranston and Muskie.

But Yarborough's Democratic opponent, Houston insurance executive, Lloyd Bentsen doesn't call it importing. He suggests it is more like carpetbagging.

Yarborough's campaign manager predicted a "crowd of thousands" tonight for Yarborough's appreciation dinner.

Yarborough's senate colleagues Alan Cranston of California, Harold Hughes of Iowa and Edmund Muskie of Maine will speak at the dinner.

A spokesman for Yarborough quoted Hughes Wednesday as labeling Yarborough "that rare combination — a humanitarian and a tough, tireless fighter."

"It is important to Texas and to the entire country that Ralph Yarborough continue his outstanding career in the United States Senate," Hughes was quoted as saying.

Bentsen said Yarborough should be more careful of the company he keeps — meaning the likes of Cranston, Hughes, and Muskie. He said, for instance, the approach to the Vietnam situation taken by these four Democrats "means kick your friends and coddle your enemies, criticize Saigon and apologize for Hanoi, and paint America's military leaders — not the communist military leaders — as the greatest threat to world peace."

Houston Mailmen Sympathetic

HOUSTON (UPI)—National Association of Letter Carriers local 233 President Sam A. Madonio had all he could handle Wednesday night trying to keep Houston postal workers from joining their New York City colleagues on strike.

Madonio had to plead with 800 members of his union, attending a special meeting, to support the national union by not going on any unauthorized strikes.

"There are no ifs, ands or buts about it, they would have gone on strike if a vote had been taken tonight," Madonio said after the meeting, which was called for the purpose of discussing a strike.

"Our people are very dissatisfied with the way things are going," he said. "It would not have been a sympathy strike. Postal carriers have been more or less the stepchildren of the government. We have been called on time and time again to carry the burden while everyone else reaped the benefits."

But he added, "A wildcat strike is not the answer."

To avoid such a strike, Madonio had to telephone national NALC President James H. (See HOUSTON, Page 2)

400,000 IN TEXAS

Unlicensed Drivers Object Of Search By DPS Officers

Efforts to roundup more than 400,000 unlicensed drivers in the state of Texas is being undertaken by the Department of Public Safety.

Figures just released by the TDPS reveal many of the more serious accidents are involving unlicensed drivers.

Highway Patrol Sgt. Jim Dalrymple of Gray County stated today all of the men under his command will be checking driver licenses while on routine patrols.

He also stated this is not meant to be a harassment of the licensed legal driver and asks their understanding in the venture.

Patrolmen Paul Geiser, Ken Evans, Larry Dunnam and Jim Powell, stationed in Gray County, will become very familiar figures to many of the citizens that use the highways daily around this area.

In addition to asking for drivers to produce their driver license, the Patrolmen will be checking for compliance to the Motor Vehicle Inspection program.

Figures reveal that 9.6 percent of persons involved in fatal accidents in the first six months of 1969 were unlicensed. Another startling statistic points out that one out of each seventeen Texas residents involved in motor vehicle accidents during this same period was not licensed. Approximately 400,000 unlicensed drivers are using the streets and highways in Texas at this time, according to Sgt. Dalrymple.

Every branch of the Texas DPS, as well as local authorities, is working to protect the citizens of the state of Texas. Help is requested from everyone by persuading an unlicensed driver to get a Texas Driver License as this could help save a life someday.

Schools will be held to aid those persons who need help to obtain a driver license. Sgt. Dalrymple said that if persons needing help would call the DPS office, the time and location of the next school could be obtained.

HEROIN SEIZED
TIJUANA, Mexico (UPI)—Uncut heroin worth $30,000 was seized at a narcotics checkpoint station about 70 miles east of here, federal judicial police report Wednesday.

The 38 ounces of heroin was found in a suitcase aboard a Mexico City-to-Tijuana interstate bus, said Chief Alberto Peral Orea.

There was no way to determine where the suitcase came aboard the bus or to whom it belongs, authorities said.

SOFTEN REGULATIONS

Federal Judges Let Off Financial Report 'Hook'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Judicial Conference, rule-making body for the nation's 500 federal judges, has softened the regulations requiring judges to report money they make on off-the-bench activities.

The change will mean that for the time being anyway, judges will not have to report their income from investments. They will be required to report money received from lecturing, serving on boards, writing and other activities.

The whole question of financial disclosures arose with the resignation of Supreme Court Justice Abe Fortas last May.

He left the bench after it was revealed he had received $20,000 a year from the family foundation of Louis Wolfson, a man later jailed on charges involving the sale of unregistered securities.

The latest disclosure rules announced Wednesday by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, are less stringent than the ones endorsed by former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Before his retirement in June, Warren persuaded the conference to forbid acceptance of fees for any off-bench activities by judges on Nov. 1, after Burger took over, the conference suspended that rule and required only that judges report to a committee their receipt of such payments. These reports are not made public.

Under the Warren disclosure program, judges also would have made annual reports of their income from all sources, including "investment and other assets." The character of U.S. Circuit Court Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.'s investment portfolio was one of the factors that led to his rejection by the Senate as Fortas' successor.

But by virtue of Wednesday's conference action, a federal judge will report only income from services and gifts of more than $100 to him or his immediate family.

These reports will be filed on June 30 and Dec. 31 with the conference committee, with the appropriate Circuit Judicial Council and in the clerk's office of the court in which the judge is a member. Reports in the clerk's offices are open to public inspection. All the rules are in effect only until an American Bar Association committee headed by former California Chief Justice Roger J. Traynor completes a new ethics code for all judges, state and federal. A tentative draft is expected in June.

None of the temporary rules apply to Supreme Court justices because the conference has no jurisdiction over them.

Teachers-Administrators Set Sessions On Communications

Pampa school trustees were requested today to schedule a talk session on professional communications with Pampa teachers.

In audience with the board Mrs. Doty Warner, president of the Pampa Classroom Teachers Association, explained the study of professional communications and requested the board meet with the district's teachers and draft a proposed plan for communications.

Trustees were still discussing Mrs. Warner's proposal at press time but have not set a definite date for the session.

The session date was for after the April school board election.

Trustees also requested the PCTA write a draft of its proposed agreement and state exactly what they want.

Professional communications study began last year with a volunteer committee of PCTA. At that time, the vote was 160 for the agreement and 84 against.

In other business, the board approved personnel changes: the resignation of Mrs. Barbara Graham, Austin Elementary School teacher, and Floyd Smith, Pampa High School custodian.

Mrs. Terri Wells was employed to replace Mrs. Graham as a sixth grade teacher.

Mrs. Terri Wells was employed to replace Mrs. Graham as a sixth grade teacher.

Mrs. Wells has a masters degree in education from Eastern New Mexico University and seven years teaching experience.

Jack Purcell was employed to replace Smith.

Price Wants To Keep Farm Bill From Becoming Political Issue

An overwhelming majority of the House Agriculture Committee would approve a farm bill today that would be agreeable to almost every farmer in the nation but it would not get more than 50 votes on the House floor, Pampa Congressman Bob Price said recently in El Paso.

Price told the Texas Independent Ginners Association's annual convention that the Nixon Administration and the Agriculture Committee are working diligently to perfect legislation which will be approved by an urban-dominated Congress.

"Farm and commodity organizations must decide whether they want a farm bill passed or a political issue for this Fall's campaigns. President Nixon and our committee are committed to continuing farm payments at the present level, even in the face of strong inflationary pressures which have forced budget cuts in many areas," the Agriculture Committee member said.

Price noted that like so much legislation the farm program is about to fall of its own weight, primarily because only 15 percent of the members of the House now represent districts with substantial agriculture production.

"For the first time in anyone's memory a National Administration has not come to Congress with a program that is supposed to be a cure-all for agriculture's ills. Instead,

Secretary of Agriculture Hardin and his staff have spent many hours with the committee in exploring areas of possible improvement. At times I have doubted the advisability of some of their proposals and have said so publicly, Price stated.

"On the other hand, I believe many farmers have done themselves a disservice by rejecting the Administration proposals without really studying it simply because they are different from past policies," he said.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Ordinarily, wild horses couldn't drag me to New York, but a major cultural event is...

On second thought, being dragged someplace by wild horses would be an improvement over many of the trips I have made.

Anyway, as I was saying before I so rudely interrupted myself, a major cultural event is no ordinary occasion, and is worth going to New York to see.

Consequently, I recently went to New York to see Phyllis Diller in "Hello Dolly." It was all that I had expected. And more.

Resists Making Comparison
 But I shall resist the temptation to compare, or contrast, Miss Diller's Dolly with Carol Channing's Dolly, or Pearl Bailey's Dolly, or Betty Grable's Dolly, or Ginger Rogers' Dolly or Martha Raye's Dolly.

Instead, I shall direct your attention to a problem that appears to have arisen in connection with the show.

Producer David Merrick is determined to make "Hello, Dolly!" the longest-running musical in Broadway history. To gain that honor, it will have to break the record of "My Fair Lady," which had 2,717 performances. Which means it must go on about 195 more times, give or take a couple of matinees.

The problem, as I understand it, is that Merrick is running low on middle-aged leading ladies who can sing like nightingales, or semipalmated sandpipers, and dance at least as well as the whooping crane.

Ethel Merman is Next
 Ethel Merman is scheduled to take over when Miss Diller retires from the cast next week, but she will only stay with the show through June. After that ????

I was discussing this problem with Miss Diller after the 2,518th performance of "Hello, Dolly!" and I suggested Margaret Truman as a future Dolly. Others nominated Kate Smith, Maria Callas, Christine Jorgensen, Mrs. Miller and Liberace for the role.

It was Miss Diller, however, who did the best job of casting. Her pick for the Dolly-to-end-all Dollys to bring Merrick the long-run championship is Tiny Tim.

BERLINERS PROTEST

BERLIN (UPI)—Nearly 1,000 young demonstrators smashed windows and set fires Wednesday night to protest a court sentence given a lawyer who has represented left wing causes. The protest was against a 10-month suspended sentence assessed Horst Mahler, who was convicted for taking part in illegal demonstrations on East-ber, 1968.

Start Of Spring Finds Ample Supply Of Meat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Consumer and Marketing Service reports that a good selection of meat and fresh produce will be available at food stores and supermarkets for the start of spring.

Beef features include ground beef, roast, and steaks. Pork cuts to consider are bacon, chops, hams, and roasts. Poultry buys include broiler-fryers and turkeys. Fish sticks and portions, canned tuna, and sardines are in good supply.

Top vegetable values are carrots, lettuce, potatoes, celery, onions, and cabbage. At the fruit bins, apples, oranges, and grapefruit are featured. Also look for peanuts and peanut products, canned tomatoes and tomato products, canned and frozen sweet corn, canned pears, and rice.

PUSHES SEASON

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Spring cannot come too soon for some people.

A University of Akron co-ed told police she was walking in her car in two inches of fresh snow Wednesday when a young man dressed only in swim fins and a diving mask approached her.

The girl got in the car and locked the door. The man uttered one word—"Miami"—and turned and walked away.

Roast Lamb Graces Easter Table To Celebrate Beginning Of Spring

Easter's early this year, perhaps a little too early for the blossoming flowers and budding trees. But it can never be too early for the other signs synonymous with Spring and Easter — gay fashions, joyful spirits, fresh outlooks and festive Easter dinners.

What would be more appropriate for Easter than a leg of lamb? There are two styles available. The American style is square to rectangular in appearance since a portion of the shank has been removed. The French style is more tapered with a small amount of meat trimmed from the shank bone so it can wear a paper frill.

Roasting leg of lamb to its tender, juicy best is an easy procedure. Place the meat, skin or fell side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. The fell (the thin, paper-like covering) should be left on during roasting to hold the roast's shape. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) until the meat thermometer registers 170 degrees to 180, for well done or 165 to 170 degrees for medium.

For ease in carving, remove two or three thin slices from the thin side of the roast, then carve perpendicular to the meaty or fell side. Under the slices by cutting under them, following the leg bone.

For a clever salad the children are sure to enjoy, make coconut-fluffed pear bunnies. Pear halves, filled with cream cheese and pressed together, form the bunnies' heads. Ears are made by cutting wedges from the tapered end of the pears. Raisins and gumdrops provide the eyes and noses of these Easter cottontails.

Start the dinner with tomato juice, spiced with Worcestershire sauce. Fresh broccoli spears and potatoes au gratin go well with the lamb for the main course. This special meal calls for a dazzling dessert of Vanilla Bavarian with Strawberries.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB
5 to 7-lb. leg of lamb
Salt and pepper, (if desired)

Do not remove fell from leg of lamb. Place the leg of lamb, fell side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Season. Insert roast meat thermometer so the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Make certain the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) 2½ to 3½ hours or until the meat thermometer registers 165 degrees to 170 degrees for medium or 170 to 180 degrees, for well done.

PEAR BUNNIES SALAD
2 cans (16 ozs. each) pears
3 to 4 tablespoons cream cheese
2 pink gumdrops, cut in tiny triangles
12 raisins
½ cup flaked coconut
Lettuce ...

Drain pears thoroughly. Fill center of each half with 1 teaspoon cream cheese. Press matching pear halves together to make rabbit head. Cut V-shaped piece from the center of top of the tapered end of

Bake Corn Beef In Slow Oven To Make Meal Preparation Easy

"Make it easy, so you can take it easy" is a motto with merit. Meal preparation is no exception. When you serve corned beef for oven roasting you live up to this motto.

Cooking this new generation of corned beef is a breeze. Just place the roast in a slow oven and forget it for about three hours. Apples can be baked in the oven along with the corned beef during the last hour of roasting. Fill the centers of the apples with a mixture of crushed pineapple, a little honey and lemon juice. This same mixture of honeyed fruit makes a delightful glaze for the corned beef for oven roasting. Spread the glaze over the top surface of the roast during the last 20 minutes of roasting.

Pineapple glazed corned beef, baked apples, buttered green beans, sliced cucumbers and tomatoes with sour cream dressing for the salad and hard rolls and butter are suggested for the entire meal. You can prepare it easily. Why not take it easy?

PINEAPPLE GLAZED CORNED BEEF ROAST
with
BAKED APPLES
1 (3½ ozs.) can crushed pineapple, drained
½ cup honey
1 tablespoon lemon juice
6 small apples
Lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Brown sugar
¼ cup water ...

Place corned beef roast, fat side up, on a rack in a shallow open pan. Do not cover or add water. Roast in slow oven (325 degrees) about 3 hours, or until fork tender. Combine crushed pineapple, honey and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in a small bowl. Reserve for glaze and apple filling. Core apples. Pare each apple one-third the way down. Dip in lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Place apples in shallow baking dish. Spoon 1 tablespoon of pineapple-honey mixture into center of each apple. Dot each with butter and sprinkle with brown sugar. Add water to bottom of dish. Bake apples during the last hour of roasting time. Add remaining pineapple-honey mixture to top of corned beef roast the last 20 minutes of roasting time.

When Stew You'd Chicken, Make It With Chicken

Stew has always been a slow poke dish, requiring long cooking. Now hear this! Make savory chicken stew and dumplings with a tender broiler-fryer and stew time shortcuts to only about 45 minutes. According to the National Broiler Council, a three pound chicken yields over a pound and a half of cooked edible meat—enough for 4 to 6 hearty servings. That makes chicken stew a fine, thrifty dish to serve today. Here is the easy art of it with Herb Dumplings.

Chicken Stew
1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in serving pieces
2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
½ cup dried celery
6 carrots, scraped and quartered
12 small whole onions
Place chicken in saucepan or skillet with tight fitting lid. Add water, salt, pepper, thyme and celery. Bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat to medium and cook 20 minutes. Add carrots and onions; cook 10 minutes. Drop Herb Dumplings by spoonfuls (6) on top of pieces of chicken or vegetable. Cook, uncovered, 10 minutes. Cover tightly and cook 10 minutes longer.
YIELD: 4 to 6 servings.

Herb Dumplings
2 cups prepared biscuit mix
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning, savory or thyme
½ cup milk
Combine biscuit mix and desired herb in bowl. Add milk and mix well with fork.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was early Sunday morning, and two old-hand Washington Democrats were leaning against a wall outside an after-dinner party room in the Statler Hotel. One of the Democratic pros in the hallway (there was no room inside the suite) said to his colleague, "God knows what sort of image Nixon could take into 1972—it might be murderous."

What produced this left-handed compliment was this: At the end of the Gridiron Club's annual dinner, after the traditional toast to the Chief executive, President Nixon did not make the customary response from his place at the head table. Instead, he walked in semi-darkness around the banquet room to center stage. What's more, he took Vice President Spiro T. Agnew along.

The lights came up again and Nixon was standing, beaming in the spotlights, offering to prove that Agnew was, indeed, a man of his own spirit and direction. First the President and Agnew did what nightclub and in semi-darkness around the TV Affiliations would call a standup routine. The President propounded questions designed to show Agnew's utter freedom of expression and action. And the vice president answered with meek positive expressions, the personification of a yes man.

Curtains behind them parted to disclose two upright pianos. Nixon wanted to show that an administration that plays together stays together.

After denying vehemently, as one of the Gridiron skits had maintained, that his administration had a Southern strategy, Nixon then attempted a series of piano duets with Agnew, choosing a medley of tunes which had been presidential favorites over the years since the New Deal.

With each song, however, to the President's feigned shock, Agnew ended up playing "Dixie."

They finally reached a point of musical agreement and played a thumping version of "God Bless America" which brought the staid audience to its feet, singing loudly. The Nixon-Agnew team closed out the evening with the Gridiron's traditional goodnight song, "Old Lang Syne."

All of which was what the Democratic pros were talking about. How do you lick a piano set playing "God Bless America?"

Nixon Thinks Inflation Checked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Nixon administration thinks inflation has been checked, despite the continuing rise in the cost of living, and has shifted the emphasis of its policy to measures intended to head off a recession.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, told newsmen at the White House Tuesday the economic drag from federal budget and tax policy is being reduced "right now" and there is some evidence the Federal Reserve Board has relaxed a little in its tight money policy.

McCracken said the basic causes of inflation have been corrected although the symptoms—rising consumer prices—are still causing trouble. But he insisted now is the time for a modest shift in government economic policy.

"The right time to change will always seem to be premature at the time," he said.

McCracken emphasized it takes time for government policies to affect the economy. McCracken insisted a recession is not likely. But sources said the danger of cooling the economy too much is now being seriously discussed in the administration's economic strategy sessions.

Skelly Oil Sells Holdings

TULSA, Okla. — Skelly Oil Company today announced the sale of its oil and gas holdings in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio.

Judd H. Oualine, exploration and production vice president, said that except for two properties in the process of sale, Skelly has now sold all its producing leases, royalties, overriding royalties, and undeveloped acreage in the four states.

Purchasers were C.F. Rebstock of Carmi, Anton Hulman, Jr., Princeton Mining Company and Black Hawk Coal Company. Rebstock and Hulman each obtained one-third interest, with the remaining one-third evenly shared by Princeton and Black Hawk. Amount of the transaction was not announced.

CONCERNED LAWMAN
CLINTON, Mo. (UPI)—Sheriff Wilmer Ray Schmidt headed the investigation and search today for a man who set fire to a farm house, burned a barn to the ground and shot five cows, killing three of them.

Schmidt said he was more interested in this case than in most.

The farm house, barn and cows belonged to him.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Richard Burton stopped in Hollywood to do a television show and to discuss his chances for winning an Oscar for his brilliant performance in "Anna of the Thousand Days."
Burton, with six nominations in his career, holds the record for being the most nominated performer who has never won an Academy Award.
The best of Burton is to listen to his humor, passion and intellect as he rumbled along conversationally:
"I don't know what it takes to qualify for an Oscar. The two pictures which disappointed me most because they weren't in contention were "Look Back in Anger" and "Taming of the Shrew. I wasn't even nominated. And the films did not fare well with the academy either."
"You grow... You grow."
"If I'd played Henry VIII ten years ago I'd have had the script rewritten for my limited ability. But in this version I could afford to play it down."
Elizabeth Taylor was in the hotel cottage with her husband. She said, "No matter how talented and versatile and brilliant my husband is, I've still got two Oscars and he's got none. I hold that over him."
Burton granted his amusement.
"The first time I attended the awards expecting to win," he said, "I wouldn't be surprised if I did not win this year. But I'd be terribly disappointed if Ges (Genevieve Bujold, his co-star) doesn't win. She gave a magnificent performance."
"As for me, there are more pictures to be made in the future."
Both Elizabeth and Richard will present Oscars at the April 7 awards. Doubtless it would please them both to see another statuette in the family.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—At the tail end of major downturns the stock market tends to become oversold because negative elements that often have already spent themselves as long-term influences are overemphasized by investors, Speer & Staff says.
"The specter of tight money" haunts Wall Street today as it did in 1966, but in the months ahead this fear should come to be recognized "as a ghostlike memory rather than a fact of life," the analyst says.

Currently some of the most depressed issues in the market are stocks of capital goods manufacturers and their suppliers, E. F. Hutton & Co. observes. The firm feels these issues have "speculative appeal" because "in past recessions their steep declines have usually been followed by an above-average recovery in market upturns."

Much potential good news, such as reduction in the Federal Funds rate and the Eurodollar rate and a substantial increase in the issuance of certificates of deposit, has already been reflected in the municipal bond market, Goodbody & Co. says. One year notes have already dropped substantially. The firm thinks it likely that yields on municipal bonds maturing beyond 10 years will increase as much as 25 basis points in the next few weeks, however, since there are insufficient funds to "top up the supply" of these longer term bonds.

Reynolds & Co. feels investors should consider corporate and municipal bonds for their relatively high current yield and possible long-term capital appreciation. The firm believes the fight against inflation has been successful, that interest rates are near their peaks and that bonds therefore are attractive investments now.

PNG To File Statement

AMARILLO.—Pioneer Natural Gas Co. announced Tuesday the company contemplates filing a registration statement to cover a public offering of up to $20 million of intermediate term straight debentures maturing five years from date of issue.
"An making the announcement, Burton P. Smith, president of Pioneer, said proceeds will be used to repay the company's short term indebtedness and to finance the 1970-71 construction program. Smith said the offering is tentatively scheduled for late spring.

Bra Factory Goes 'Busted'

GARLAND, Tex. (UPI)—Five hundred cases of bras were auctioned Tuesday. But the buyers must wait until Thursday before they learn if the sale becomes final.
The bras were auctioned under an order from a bankruptcy referee.

But Pennyrich International, Inc. the first that makes the patented undergarment, is now trying to stay in business.
"We have asked the court to hold up confirming the bids for seven days," said Phil Palmer Jr., an attorney for an association of distributors. "Settlement negotiations are now in process which would put Pennyrich International, Inc., back in business and make everyone one big happy family again."

Palmer said his clients, headed by Gerald Hollis of Houston, came up with "a source of funds" to support the business. He said $2 million was available to pay to creditors. Pennyrich owes its creditors half that amount.
"I've scheduled a hearing for 9:30 a.m. Thursday to confirm the bids," said Judge Elmore Whitburn, the bankruptcy referee. "I'll listen to whatever they have to say then."
The kits sold at the auction contained 32 bras each. The kits were sold for $14,000 which, in round figures, comes out to a dollar a bra.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We're now in town. My husband's company transferred him here. I met a very nice woman at a women's club meeting and we hit it off very well. Since she and her husband are bridge players, and so are we, I invited them here for an evening of cards. The husband also seemed to like each other, so we've had several fun evenings of bridge with them.

Well, at their house last evening, the husband of my friend started playing "footsies" with me under the bridge table. I tried moving my foot as far out of his reach as I could, until I nearly fell off my chair, but that didn't help much.

I didn't want to risk a scene because I really like this wife, but I was quite upset. I certainly don't want this friendship to develop into anything like that, so how do you think I should handle it if he starts in again where he left off?

DOUBT IN SPADES DEAR DOUBT: At the first opportunity, get "Daddy Long Legs" alone and tell him his footwork is fine, but he's overplaying his hand. In other words, you got his message, and the answer is no!

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my mother-in-law. Rick and I were married last summer and are living with his parents as this is our last year of college, and frankly, the price is right.

Rick and I have our own bedroom, but we have absolutely no privacy. Like none. Rick's mother (I call her "The Inspector General") is forever bursting into our bedroom, unannounced, to "see if the windows are closed," or "if the radiator is on," or "if all the lights are out."

Yesterday I was standing in the hallway when she burst right into the bathroom, knowing that Rick had gone in there to shower. (She said she had to get the soiled towels.)

Encourage Neatness With Laundry Bags

Tired of picking up dirty socks? Encourage small fry neatness with a lucky laundry bag, to hang out in plain sight as a decorative element in the room. A beguiling Bugs Bunny with polka-dotted bow tie, and an engaging Edgar Elephant, staring cross-eyed at a worm on his trunk, are sure to bring good luck to the youngster who feeds them his dirty clothes instead of leaving them all over the floor for mom to deal with.

Lucky laundry bags can make clothes pickup a breeze. Try the rabbit pattern for an Easter gift or the elephant design for a "trunkful" of luck.

POLLY'S POINTERS Slip Stocking Over Cast To Prevent Snagging

DEAR POLLY — I am a registered nurse who works in a doctor's office and have passed the following Pointers on to many of our patients who have had casts on wrists, elbows and ankles: Cut the foot of an old nylon stocking and slip it over the cast, tucking it under the edges at both ends. This prevents the rough edges of the cast from catching on clothing and enables the patient to easily slip a sleeve or pants leg over the cast and keep the cast clean.

Another use for such a stocking is to put it over a large dressing on an extremity and tape at both ends. The leg or arm will slide easily into clothing and the dressing will not pull loose due to friction. Many mothers have used this idea to keep little ones from pulling at dressings over cuts and abrasions that the doctor wants covered to prevent infection. I do hope these will be helpful to some readers whose Pointers I have enjoyed.

MRS. W.S. POLLY'S Problem DEAR POLLY — I have a pair of earrings with rhinestones set around opalescent stones. One of them was left beside a leaking ballpoint pen. Now some of the rhinestones are black. How can I get this ink off? The stones are set in yellow gold plate.

MRS. M.O.C. DEAR POLLY — I want to tell Fran that the candles in a candelabra in my living room bent over during the summer heat. They always had to be replaced until last year. I had the old ones on the kitchen cabinet after they had been replaced. I had some very warm soapy water and decide to put them in it and see what would happen. They began to soften up, became clean and like new again. I straightened them under the water a bit at a time so they would not break and, while they were pliable, my husband ran stiff wire from the bottom to the center of each one, close to the wicks. They have been nice and straight ever since. I use mine only for decoration but if they were to be used, the wire could be snipped off as they burned down. I have also repaired broken candles this way.

Women Participate In Prayer Program

GROOM (Sp) — World Day of Prayer was observed in the sanctuary of the Groom United Methodist Church recently.

Mrs. Lynward Harrison was the leader for the program which was based on the theme of "Take Courage." She was assisted by Mrs. Tommy Simmons, vocalist, Mrs. Frank Grantham, pianist, and Mrs. Glynn D. Harrell, reader. Mrs. B.H. Cooper gave the part on Commitment. Mrs. Jerry Kotara and Mrs. Tom Britten were leader and reader of the Meditation. Mrs. Melvin Asberry led the responsive reading on Prayer. The Congregational Litany of Affirmation to close the program was led by Mrs. Jeff Gray.

Women of the host church served refreshments in the church parlor to members of Immaculate Heart of Mary Church' Baptist Church and the Church of Christ from a table centered with an arrangement of pairs of praying hands around a world globe.

County Has Two Deaths On Highways

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 14 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of February, according to Sergeant Jim Dalrymple, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in 11 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $26,875.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first two months of 1970 shows a total of 36 accidents resulting in 2 persons killed, 25 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $43,495.00.

In an all-out effort to stem the rising toll of traffic accidents in Texas, the Department of Public Safety is increasing the ranks of its uniform services.

One hundred and twenty men between the ages of 20 and 35

Pampa Baseball Team Set To Begin Six Game Home Stand

The Pampa High School Baseball team will start a six-game home stand Friday afternoon at Optimist Park.

This will be the first home games this season for the Harvesters hardballers. The first three games, of the s.x., will be with Anadarko this weekend and then Pampa will take on Borger, Lubbock High and Lubbock Monterey next week.

The Friday game will start at 4 p.m. and the Saturday double-header will begin at 1 p.m. All home games will be at Optimist Park.

With snow on the ground today and more predicted for this weekend, there is a good chance that some or all of the games with Anadarko may be canceled.

Baseball coaches Buddy Williams and Marvin Lay are concentrating on batting and offensive plays this week. Both coaches have said that they are fairly happy with the defensive game but felt the offensive game needs more work.

Pampa now has a 2-1 record after defeating Amarillo Palo Duro twice and losing to Borger.

boys he will choose and their positions include:

CATCHER: Wyatt Earp or Dale Ammond.

FIRST BASE: John Jenkins, Dan Hood or Larry Knutson.

SECOND BASE: Vernon Johnson or Marsh Gambin.

SHORT STOP: Russ Holman, Gary Haynes or Lonnie Robbins.

THIRD BASE: Tommy Hawkins, Mike Edgar or Randy Swope.

OUT FIELD: Greg Schulz, Lonnie Ward, Steve Scott, Jerry Lindsey or Al Ferguson.

PITCHING: Rickey Harris, Doug Thompson, Cliff Gage.

Sammy Heasley, Keith Russell or Jeff Hogan.

Coach Williams has stated that Rickey Harris will start the Friday game but has not picked his starting pitchers for the two Saturday games.

John Jenkins is leading Pampa with three hits and is also leading in stolen bases with three. Dale Ammons is second in stolen bases with two. Ammons and Tommy Hawkins are tied with runs batted in with two each.

The Pitching record shows both Heasley and Thompson with one win each and no losses, while Cliff Gage has one loss.

Tennis Team To Compete At Perryton

The Harvester Tennis team will compete in a tournament hosted by Perryton Saturday. The matches will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday morning and run all day.

Pampa sent two boys to Borger Tuesday and they won their matches. Ray Kenny and Mark Shakelford won Boys A Division doubles at Borger.

Playing in Perryton will be Shakelford and Kenny in boys A doubles, Jim Daniels in boys B singles, Mary Carlson and Sidney Mills, girls A division doubles, Marsha Millican, girls B singles, Jo Porsha, girls A singles, and Debbie Fletche and Susan Wilson playing in the girls B doubles division.

Pampa Has 'Good Opportunity' Track Team Heads For Perryton

If the weather will permit it, the Harvester track team will travel to Perryton Saturday for their third track meet of the season.

The teams that are expected to compete in the meet include Sunray, Borger, Amarillo, Sprock, Guzman, Okla., Tucuman, N.M., Perryton and Liberal.

Coach Ed Lehnick has not received a list of all the teams that will compete in the meet, but he does expect several other teams to enter besides the ones listed above.

Coach Lehnick is expecting the team to make a good showing this weekend, and said, "If several of our injured boys are ok Saturday this meet should be one of our better opportunities." However, Lehnick will not know all the teams he will compete against until the team arrives Saturday.

Lewis Davis, Pampa's most consistent first place winner, will be in for some strong competition from Liberal's shot put and discus specialist. The Liberal weight man was throwing the shot put last year as far as Davis has been able to do this year. But none of the Pampa coaching staff has seen the Liberal boy this year and has no idea of how much he has improved.

The Pampa squad is gaining experience as the season goes on but is still at a disadvantage with most of their competitors. This is the first year that the Harvesters have had a good track to work on and all but one member of the team is either a junior or a sophomore.

Coach Ed Lehnick, and his assistant coaches Bryant Clark and Bob McAllister, have been trying to build up a strong track team and with the help of the new track are doing a good job of it.

So far each meet that Pampa has competed in they have placed better than the last. Last weekend the Harvesters won fifth place by winning the shot put and discus, sixth in the 800, second in the high hurdles, fifth in the intermediate hurdles, sixth in the mile relay and first in the high jump.

The individuals and teams that will be competing for Pampa this weekend and their best time so far this year are:

MILE RELAY TEAM: Mike Brister, Steve Scarbrough, Lawrence Richards and Mike Keen, 3:35.

400 YARD DASH: Mike Brister, 53.6. Steve brough, 53.4. Mike Smith, 54.3.

SPRINT RELAY TEAMS:

Steve Scarbrough, Lawrence Richards, Garvin McCarrell and Dennis Stowers, 45.3.

200 YARD DASH: Lawrence Richards, 23.8. Garvin McCarrell, 24.0. Johnny Roth and Mike Keen, 24.4.

100 YARD DASH: Garvin McCarrell, 10.7. Dennis Stowers, 10.5. Johnny Roth and Mike Keen, 10.6.

HIGH HURDLES: Randy Stephens, 16.5. and Keith Coyle, 15.8.

INTERMEDIATE HURDLES: Randy Stephens, 41.3. Keith Coyle, 43.5.

800 YARD RUN: Mike Redell, 2:07 and Neil Brooks, 2:05.

MILE: Mike DeWitt, 5:15. and Steve Weatherly, 5:25.

BROAD JUMP: Bobby Owens, 15' 6".

POLE VAULT: Terry Pat and Jimmy Clark, 10 feet.

SHOT PUT: Lewis Davis, 53' 8". Scooby King, 51' 6" and Kenzie Nachlinger, 43' 8".

DISCUS: Lewis Davis, 157'. Greg Dennis, 130'. and Scooby King, 136'.

HIGH JUMP: Kevin Walls 5' 10" and Greg Dennis, 5' 6".

Defense May Bring Tears To Maravich

NEW YORK (UPI)—Defense is a word that makes Coach Press Maravich of Louisiana State cringe. By the time tonight's semifinal round of the National Invitation basketball tournament is over, that word is likely to bring tears to his eyes.

And, before this weekend is over, he may wish defense had never been invented.

Maravich, whose run-and-shoot club has squeaked by two supposedly "easy" teams in the first two rounds of the tournament, sends his troops against defense-minded Marquette in the second game of tonight's semifinal doubleheader, and he is aware his team is in for trouble.

LSU, even with flashy Pete Maravich handling the ball, had a difficult time with Oklahoma's pressing tactics in Tuesday night's quarter-final game and can expect an even rougher time from the Warriors.

In fact, three of the four semifinalists are exponents of rugged defensive tactics. St. John's and Army, which meet in the other semifinal game, also play a hard-nosed defensive game.

Home Runs Are Made Easy With Wednesday's 5-X Ball

By United Press International

In his first game as a St. Louis Cardinal, Richie Allen homered. But so did a lot of other players, because it was Wednesday.

Four teams scored in double figures with the livelier, experimental Spalding 5-X baseball—which is tested each Wednesday—and lost.

Detroit collected 19 runs and 21 hits in beating the Chicago White Sox, and the Seattle Pilots combined with the Cleveland Indians for 34 hits and seven home runs.

The Washington Senators produced eight runs in the sixth inning against Kansas City, then scored five more in the 11th inning to win a close one, 18-13.

Seattle went into the ninth inning down by a run, but came up with a touchdown and extra point to beat the Indians going away, 19-14.

Allen's Run Legitimate

If it is any consolation to Allen, who was booed by fans in St. Petersburg, Fla., most of the afternoon, Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst said he thought Allen's home run was the only legitimate one during St. Louis' 4-2 loss to Pittsburgh.

Ron Santo's single in the ninth, when the Cubs scored twice, gave Chicago a 12-11 decision over Oakland as the Cubs hit four homers—two by Jim Hickman and one apiece by Ken Rudolph and Rowe Skidmore.

It took 3½ hours to play Detroit's 19-13 victory over the White Sox, as 29 walks and 35 hits by both teams expanded the action.

Rookie Tom Grieve was on base seven consecutive times with two doubles, two singles and three walks and scored three times during Washington's 18-13 victory over Kansas City.

Back-to-back homers by Dennis Menke and Joe Pepitone boosted Houston to a 10-3 triumph over Cincinnati, homers by Joe Lahoui and George Scott helped Boston to down Philadelphia, 6-5, and the Los Angeles Dodgers pounded out 10 hits in an 8-2 breeze over Minnesota. San Diego, with Nate Colbert driving in four runs, edged California, 8-5.

The Yankees and the Mets continued their intra-city feud at Port Lauderdale, and perhaps the new ball is not to the liking of the world champions. In any event, they bowed to Yankees, 8-1.

Hoyt Wilhelm couldn't care less what kind of ball they use. The aging wonder of the Montreal Expos was no longer in control of their own destiny, club President Billy Sullivan said Wednesday night.

Sullivan indicated that because of political delays on plans for a new stadium for the team, it appeared probable that the Patriots would have to leave Boston. But he said the "Patriot family" would do everything to keep the club "somewhere in New England."

The Boston City Council's Legislative and Home Rule Committee voted Wednesday to shift the site of a proposed stadium, a move which appeared to virtually assure transfer of the Patriots franchise from Boston.

The fate of his club, Sullivan said, rested with the other 25 NFL clubs which were scheduled to take up the Boston issue today at the league's spring meeting here.

A decision on the Boston matter was the major task facing the NFL executives before their meeting adjourns Friday. The NFL had urged Boston to at least come up with a firm stadium plan before the end of the Honolulu meeting.

The Patriots had hoped for the council to settle the stadium matter one way or the other by Wednesday. But the matter was further delayed when the council committee voted 3 to 2 to change the stadium site from Neponset to the South Station area. The committee meets again Friday to reconsider its action but the issue is not expected to go before the full council body until Monday, three days after the club owners' meeting here ends.

Murphy Tops UPI Small America Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—Calvin Murphy of Niagara, a three-time All-America, again heads United Press International's annual "Small America" college basketball team for players no taller than 5-10.

Murphy, who compiled a 30-point scoring average while leading Niagara to a berth in the NCAA tournament, is the first player ever to make both the UPI's All-America and Small America three times. Murphy is 5-10.

Selected with Little Cal were John Rinka of Kenyon (5-0), Vaughn Wedeking of Jacksonville (5-1), Billy Kalbauch of St. Bonaventure (5-10) and Charlie Jris of New Mexico State (5-8).

Rinka, twice the best vote-getter on the UPI's small college All-America, was picked on the little man's team for the second year in a row. He had a 41 point scoring average.

On the second unit were Steve Blisky (5-10) of Pennsylvania, Rafael Stone (5-6) of Washington, Jim Tedesco (5-7) of Union, Pete Gibson (5-8) of New Mexico and Frank Sylvester (5-4) of Bradley.

Honorable mention includes Dick Devenzio (5-10) of Duke, Kevin Eagelson (5-10) of Santa Clara, Don Weber (5-8) of Georgetown, Mike Wren (5-8) of Miami, Ohio, Mike Pagliara (5-10) of Massachusetts, Mat Bozek (5-9) of Harvard, Tony Holm (5-8) of St. Peter's, Rudy Kinard (5-10) of Tennessee and Sam Hill (5-10) of St. Mary's.

Harvester Golf Team Set For Week Of District Tournaments

The district golf tournaments may turn into more of an endurance race than a skill test as weather is forcing the teams to play in three tournaments in six days time and preventing the teams from practicing to get ready for the meets.

The first district golf tourney was set for Friday, March 13, but this was canceled and re-set for last Monday. When the teams started play it began to sleet and this forced them to cancel the meet after only five holes. The tournament has tentatively been set for Monday, March 23.

There is also a tournament set for Friday and another one set for Wednesday, March 23. They had been scheduled at the first of the year.

All three will be district competition.

Pampa will play in five district meets and the teams with the low total score will go on to regional competition.

But due to the weather it looks as if three of the five district meets will be played in a six-day period, which will not give the teams much chance to practice and improve between tournaments.

But it could still get worse before it gets better, the weather man is not giving this schedule much of a chance either, as he has predicted more snow and cold weather for the weekend.

If the weather fouls up play this week no one is sure how the tournament's will be re-scheduled the next time, but it will move even more of the regular scheduled tournaments closer together and create even more problems.

The only good point that has come of all this is that Monterey will not be hosting the first meet.

Monterey normally hosts the first meet and takes a strong lead in the district, but if the new schedule holds up the first tourney will be at Plainview Friday, and Lubbock will not get the teams on their course until the following Monday.

The teams will play their last meet of the week at Borger on Wednesday. This will be the only tournament played in the middle of the week.

The Harvester's A-team has played 14 and a half rounds of golf so far this season. Their total score and average is Greg Cryer, 1145-78.9; Sherwin

Stars Tip New Orleans In Overtime

By United Press International

Keeping up with the Joneses proved a problem for the Los Angeles Stars Wednesday night but the problem was eventually solved.

The New Orleans Bucs' backcourt duo of Steve Jones and James Jones had combined for 47 points to keep the Bucs tied with the Stars at 111-111 after the first overtime period. However, both players fouled out in the first minute of the second overtime session and the Stars went on to score a 124-115 victory and move within a half game of the fourth-place Bucs in the fight for the final playoff spot in the American Basketball Association's Western Division.

Andy Anderson, who led the Stars with 26 points, tallied 12 of them in two overtime periods. Mack Calvin scored 24 for Los Angeles and Craig Raymond had 19 while Steve Jones was high for New Orleans with 24.

In the only other ABA action, Washington used Rick Barry's 49 points to beat Pittsburgh, 135-128, and Denver topped Indiana, 128-112.

Washington and Pittsburgh were playing the first game of a doubleheader at Los Angeles and Barry's 49 points tied an arena record for an ABA game. Washington's victory kept the Caps two games behind first-place Denver in the West. Rookie John Brisker led the Pipers with 43 points, including 17 in the final period.

TOP ROOKIES — Cash, Jeter and Manguel look best, but another pitcher, Frank Cambria, might also make it. He was 9-2 at York last year and pitched perfect game.

Patriots May Leave Boston

HONOLULU (UPI) — The American Football Conference's Boston Patriots are no longer in control of their own destiny, club President Billy Sullivan said Wednesday night.

Sullivan indicated that because of political delays on plans for a new stadium for the team, it appeared probable that the Patriots would have to leave Boston. But he said the "Patriot family" would do everything to keep the club "somewhere in New England."

The Boston City Council's Legislative and Home Rule Committee voted Wednesday to shift the site of a proposed stadium, a move which appeared to virtually assure transfer of the Patriots franchise from Boston.

The fate of his club, Sullivan said, rested with the other 25 NFL clubs which were scheduled to take up the Boston issue today at the league's spring meeting here.

A decision on the Boston matter was the major task facing the NFL executives before their meeting adjourns Friday. The NFL had urged Boston to at least come up with a firm stadium plan before the end of the Honolulu meeting.

The Patriots had hoped for the council to settle the stadium matter one way or the other by Wednesday. But the matter was further delayed when the council committee voted 3 to 2 to change the stadium site from Neponset to the South Station area. The committee meets again Friday to reconsider its action but the issue is not expected to go before the full council body until Monday, three days after the club owners' meeting here ends.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Our Capable Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a voluntary basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Council Opposes Freedom

We've often commented that if the United States loses the last of its dwindling freedom, business people will contribute to the loss.

Another example is an advertising campaign to build up support for the 1970 census by the Advertising Council, which has prepared a series of ads "contributed for the public good," which urge everyone to answer all of the questions asked of them this year.

"We can't know where we're going if we don't know where we are," is the slogan being promoted by the Advertising Council. The ads primarily promote the idea that the government must know all about the people and their neighborhoods or it will not know where to spend all the tax money for housing, recreation, transportation, schools and the like.

A cover letter by C.W. Erenius, volunteer coordinator of the council's campaign, concludes:

"As I'm sure you realize, this country needs the best possible information about our people, our economy, our resources, our problems in order to properly plan and carry out a wide range of major programs — housing, veterans' benefits, social security, planning of schools and other public facilities. The information is sought in the census because it cannot be obtained effectively in any other way. The use of private data in marketing, locational planning and a host of other ways, is, of course, well known to you and is a worthy by-product." The last sentence was underlined for emphasis.

It would appear that one of the main reasons a lot of the strictly personal questions in the census forms are designed as much to help business people, who should make their own surveys and not ask the tax payer to finance them. The director of the census in an interview in U.S. News and World Report was quoted as saying "the census is a gold mine for business. It tells the businessman where his markets are."

So, the business people on the Advertising Council are pushing the compulsory aspects of the 1970 census, despite the fact that the prying personal questions probably would be found unconstitutional and an illegal invasion of privacy in anything other than this census.

The only thing provided in the Constitution is for a count of the number of people to determine congressional representation. All of the rest is either to satisfy bureaucrats wanting to spread around more tax money or for business people who want information but don't want to pay for their own survey.

We're not a particular admirer of "liberal" Sen. George McGovern, but we agree with him in this statement:

"There may be a legitimate purpose to be served by questions in the census, but I can think of none that surpasses the right of each citizen to be secure against government intrusion into his private affairs. Certainly the decision whether to answer inquiring government beyond numerical count should be left to the individual."

Sen. Sam Ervin, a "conservative," said, the problem "is essentially one of First Amendment freedom. It involves the right not to speak against our will about our personal and family affairs, our thoughts and attitudes."

The Committee for a Voluntary Census, with headquarters in Philadelphia, still is seeking repeal of the fine and jail sentence for failure to answer the personal questions. It is soliciting funds also to help in legal defense of persons "who will test the constitutionality of the compulsory census by refusing to answer any except headcount questions."

Donald Ernsberger is executive director of the committee, whose address is Room 304, Empire Bldg., 13th and Walnut Sts., Philadelphia 19107.

Voluntaryism 'Unrealistic'

Even before the report is written and submitted, according to a news item, "certain key defense officials consider a presidential commission's proposals for an all-volunteer military force will be unrealistic."

In other words, voluntaryism and freedom of choice are "unrealistic" therefore, according to that line of reasoning, coercion and the dragging of human beings are "realistic."

What the human draft advocates seem unable to get through their heads is that the draft, as a means of manning armed forces is doomed, and each additional day it is continued in force adds further fuel to the smoldering embers of resentment being fanned by professional agitators.

The "certain key defense officials" pumping for continuation of the draft might profitably renew their history lessons which they seem to have forgotten: specifically, the history of events leading up to the Revolutionary War and those attending the Russian Revolution.

In the former case, it was the dragging of American sailors for service on British ships of war, as much as it was "taxation without representation" that sparked the Declaration of Independence and the ensuing struggle to throw off the British yoke.

In the latter case, it was the Russian soldiers, returning from the German front and a detested war, who following Russia's withdrawal from World War I provided much of the manpower for the Red Army's successful onslaught against the white forces, also composed of Russian citizens.

Nixon, in this instance, at least, seems to have a better grasp of history than his dissenting Defense Department officials.

As a means of blunting the drive of the SDS and other militant agitators to create chaos in his country, we cannot think of anything better calculated to achieve that effect than abandonment of the human draft.

Priority On Pollution

Basement inventors take note:

Beginning in February, the U.S. Patent Office began speeding up its handling of patent applications for devices aimed at cleaning up the environment. Applications for pollution-control devices will now be processed in six to eight months instead of the usual three years.

The purpose, says Patent Commissioner William E. Schuyler Jr. is to make available for use as soon as possible a backlog of some 11,500 recent inventions designed to clean up the nation's land, air and water.

Every little bit helps in the fight against pollution.

50-Year 'Trial' Ends

Capital University in Columbus, Ohio, the oldest school founded by the American Lutheran Church, has announced the lifting of a 50-year-old regulation that kept female students on a "trial" basis — to the joy of 800 coeds currently attending the university.

One hopes the decision has not been too hasty.

BACKBONE OF INDUSTRY

The backbone of the domestic oil industry has been and is the so-called "stripper" wells, oil wells which produce, on average, a fraction of a barrel up to 10 to 15 barrels per day. Such wells constitute a large percentage of all the oil produced in the U.S.

If they are eliminated our total daily production of oil would be cut drastically, eliminating hundreds of thousands of jobs and leaving our oil requirements at the mercy of foreign governments in unstable areas of the world. After our "stripper" wells are eliminated, U. S. Production cannot be turned on like a water faucet in our homes. A healthy oil industry can jump into the breach and increase production when required, as at the times the Suez Canal has been closed. A closed down field and closed up refineries cannot be reopened cheaply, often not at all.

Skilled workers cannot be created out of thin air after the oil industry skills are lost through closing domestic production and shifting to "cheap" foreign oil. In the long run nothing is cheap about foreign oil, as those nations have learned the hard way who have neglected their own oil industry. In those nations, inefficient government ownership and operation of oil industries guarantee they will have to depend on foreign oil. If the U.S. is to remain free, we cannot allow our basic industries and our national defense to depend on foreign governments in unstable areas of the world.

Shallow wells in huge foreign fields of high flow can, in the short run, produce oil with cheap foreign labor at a lower cost than our "stripper" wells. History proves what happens to "cheap" prices for any commodity, once a foreign monthly gets control of the market.

By INJUN WOODY

Apparently few people will note, but they will long remember, that UNESCO, that agency of the United Nations, has announced plans for celebrating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Lenin next April.

They say that this is being done to emphasize his "humanitarian and cultural contribution" to mankind.

For a cake I suggest they decorate one with 100 Sicksles. This will denote the some 100,000 heads he rolled down the Russian Steppes. Or even a cake embellished with 100 Hammers to point up his weapon used to pound out his great "humanitarian and cultural" contributions.

If anything is at all obvious from this blatant observance it should be that the Communists are running the United Nations and are making it an instrument of violations by the dozen every day. ## BARBARIC OUTLAW?

'Ugly American' On Loose Right Here In Our Midst

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA) — The "ugly American" does not just travel abroad. He is here in this country, in far too great numbers. And most of us go to considerable pains to hide this harsh fact from ourselves.

Almost by the day, as our total numbers soar well beyond 200 million people, we see more and more Americans growing more unruly, less respectful of the law in major and minor ways, increasingly tolerant or committed to violence, unbelievably inconsiderate toward others in public and even much private behavior.

Today's "ugly American" is a composite figure. He is at once young and old. He is an establishment man, accepting the system. He is also anti-establishment, railing against it.

His overriding characteristic is that he is a demagogue. He uses people with calculated or careless indifference of the consequences to them. He takes, from society, from the material world about him, but seldom if ever gives.

He becomes infuriated when anyone makes demands upon him, and he seems to make no demands upon himself except to satisfy what he deems are his selfish needs of the moment.

He gets so tangled up in his self-interest that he sometimes sacrifices his personal safety in single-minded pursuit of some goal. For instance, for at least a decade and a half countless Americans have seriously endangered themselves physically in crushing crowds gathered to see and perhaps touch of a favored national political candidate.

The home-front ugly American wants to be permitted nearly everything and to be held accountable for nothing. Though Ralph Nader will not say so and even Detroit will not dare to whisper it, he is often an atrocious driver who commits open moving traffic violations by the dozen every day. Parks incoherently much of the time, litters the landscape with beer cans, cigarette butts, paper, even artificial garbage.

Shriver Hides His Time On Maryland Race Decision

JOHN GOLDSMITH

ROBERT ALLEN

PARIS. — U.S. Ambassador Sargent Shriver has told friends here that he is very much tempted by the prospect of running for Governor of Maryland after he has concluded his assignment here.

They insist, however, that Shriver has made no further commitment. He is, according to their appraisal, intrigued by offers of political support for a race against Maryland's Democratic Governor Marvin Mandel, nothing more.

Thus there is no firm support available here for the Shriver-for-Governor headquarters now open in the ambassador's native state. Nor is any definitive statement expected here.

There are at least two reasons for a continued diplomatic silence by the ambassador. In the first place, associates report that Shriver is determined to keep the embassy free of any such political maneuvering.

Moreover, as a Kennedy in-law possessed of some of the political expertise of that political clan, Shriver knows that he is already vulnerable to campaign charges that he is not really a Marylander at all. Nothing would serve to brand him as a continental carpet-bagger as fast as a statement of candidacy dated Paris.

Consequently a Maryland newsman, who came here on the inaugural flight of Pan American's awesome 747 determined to clarify Shriver's intentions, was rebuffed — politely and courteously — but rebuffed, without seeing the ambassador last week.

Shriver will complete his Paris assignment, return to Maryland, and give some serious thought to his political future. Then a statement will be forthcoming.

COLD CLIMATE? — According to one theory being aired here, a Shriver candidacy may not be as likely now as it seemed to be a couple of weeks ago. Oddly, the events involved in this theorizing are the recent bombings in connection with the Maryland trial of negro militant H. Rap Brown.

There is, of course, no direct relationship whatever between Shriver's political decision and those violent events. Some of Shriver's associates believe, however, that there may be some implications for Shriver in them.

The bombings, front-page news here, have simply caused some second thoughts by Shriver's friends about the possible success of a Shriver candidacy in Maryland.

Shriver, former director of the Peace Corps and the war on poverty, would run under the liberal banner long associated with the Kennedys. In his letter of resignation to President Nixon, Shriver wrote in late January that the needs of the United States "now impinge more and more on my conscience."

The question being asked here is whether that sort of a candidate can win in Maryland, where the political climate is quite apparently conservative — conservative enough to have nurtured the political flowering of Spiro Agnew.

Apparently anticipating a political announcement by Shriver, President Nixon offered only the minimum courtesies in responding to Shriver's letter of resignation. Mr. Nixon has cooled to Shriver as Shriver has warmed to the talk of a political career.

Mr. Nixon praised the ambassador effusively when the President made his state visit here last year. He almost forgot to mention Shriver, however, at a dinner honoring President Pompidou in Washington during Pompidou's return visit early this month.

HOME SOON — For whatever future — Shriver will bow out here before the end of the month. His departure is tentatively scheduled next week, and that will clear the way for President Nixon's new man, Arthur K. Watson.

However Watson, chairman of the IBM World Trade Corporation, is not expected to arrive in Paris for several weeks. He must wind up his business affairs and win Senate confirmation before he actually succeeds Shriver.

Advance indications are that Watson will be welcomed by the American community here, and Mr. Nixon is being praised by some Americans for naming Watson, who headed the International Chamber of Commerce a year ago. He appears to be well qualified to deal with economic issues and that, in view of some experts, is what is needed here.

They contend that current policy differences between the United States and France over the crisis in the Middle East, should not be allowed to obscure the services to be performed by a U.S. Ambassador here. Those services, they say, will be largely in the area of economics and commerce.

Watson, according to this view, should be particularly effective in dealing with questions such as U.S. overseas investments.

PHIL HARVEY NEWS

The Rich Have Been Soaked

By PAUL HARVEY

Here comes a cry not heard in our streets since the 1930s: "Soak the rich, share the wealth."

The demonstrators' protestations heard lately in New York City included an obscenity but the message was the same: the have-nots want what the haves have and if they have to, they say, they'll seize it.

In our country they already have.

Last December, when the re-elected President Marcos of the Philippines was sworn into office, he made an announcement which caused a lot of world leaders to swallow their portable dentures.

At that ceremony, which was further spotlighted by the presence of our Vice President Agnew, President Marcos announced that he would "give away all his worldly possessions" to the Filipino people, thus to set an example of self-sacrifice.

He said he'd talked it over with his wife, Imelda, and she agreed — fully supported his decision — to give away all their worldly possessions "so that they may serve the greater needs of the greatest number of people."

Immediately upon hearing that utterance, you and I forecast the inevitability that the world's self-appointed Robin Hoods are likely to start demanding that all wealthy families give their money away to the poor "as reparations for years of deprivation," or some such. Sure enough, we've heard that effect from at least a fraction of the New Left.

Do you know the background of President Marcos' dramatic gesture?

In the mostly poor Philippines there still are some rich so rich that they can keep agrarian armies in peonage. Recently there has been a rising chorus of prominent intellectuals in that country urging revolution — violent revolution, if necessary — to accomplish land reform to break up some of those vast plantations.

President Marcos was responding to this bloody exigency by giving away his own worldly goods and by suggesting that others of his wealthy countrymen do likewise.

The Marcos estate will be placed in a foundation, to be spent "to advance the cause of education, science, technology and the arts."

Today's demand that our country's family fortunes be broken up is 40 years outdated. Estate-tax laws have long since either dissolved most big-big private estates or forced those resources into foundations similar to that which President Marcos has prescribed for his own. Any North American today who demands what he "wants" instead of what he "deserves" is undeserving.

There are many nations in the world, however, notably in Latin America, where individuals and individual families have accumulated such vast resources that they are themselves virtually "above the law." If the Marcos gesture should start a chain reaction through Latin America it might afford a better reaction than the revolutions which so frequently plague those nations and inhibit their progress.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Cortisone Drugs Helpful To Victims of Pemphigus

Q—What is the cause of pemphigus? What kind of test is necessary to make the diagnosis? Is there a cure for it?

A—In this once-fatal disease, large blisters form on the skin. The cause is unknown. The diagnosis is usually based on the characteristic appearance of the lesions. When the diagnosis is in doubt, a small portion of the involved skin is taken for microscopic examination.

Most victims do well on drugs of the cortisone group. If this fails, cyclophosphamide or methotrexate should effect a cure. Skin grafting is sometimes necessary.

Q—A man, 73, has bullous pemphigoid. His doctor is giving him cortisone. What causes this disease?

A—Pemphigoid is seen only in elderly persons — is similar to pemphigus but is not fatal. It is often caused by taking bromides or iodides.

Q—What are the side effects of L-dopa for persons with palsy?

A—The most serious side effects are a very low blood pressure and irregularity of the heart action. Less serious are nausea and mental confusion. The side effects can usually be controlled by adjusting the dosage.

Q—I have Parkinson's palsy. Would it cause my voice to quaver?

A—Yes.

Q—My wife and I have been taking Nafretin K and Esdrix K for eight years. What are they for? What are their side effects?

A—Nafretin K is used to combat waterlogging. The K stands for potassium, which is added to prevent a mineral imbalance in your system. Its side effects include nausea, jaundice, irregularity of the bowels, dizziness, headache and a tendency to diabetes and gout.

Esdrix K served the same purpose but was withdrawn from the market in September, 1969.

Q—I have a little angina and am taking Nitrospan. What is it for? Must I take it for the rest of my life?

A—This is a long-acting nitroglycerin preparation given to relax the spasms in the coronary arteries that cause attacks of angina. If you don't take it regularly, you should at least carry quick-acting nitroglycerin tablets with you at all times and take one as soon as an attack starts.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt can't answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Wit And Whimsy

A nine-year-old friend of mine is involved in Little League football and he was told that, in playing the line, he should try to strike fear and terror into the heart of the man opposite him.

Mr. Brown (his father) — Look him in the eye, and growl. Shortly after that, he had a practice game and, when it was over, his father asked him if he had growled at his opponent.

Billy—Yop.

Mr. Brown (his father) — What did he do?

Billy — Oh, he crossed his eyes at me.

Mr. Jones had recently become the father of triplets. The minister stopped him on the street to congratulate him.

Rev. Jackson — Well, Jones, I hear the Lord has smiled on you.

Mr. Jones — Smiled on me? He laughed out loud.
