FOOD OUTLOOK

Food economists are predicting retail prices for the first half of 1970 compared with 1969 will be lower on pork, fruit, fresh and processed vegetables, fats and oil.

For other foods like eggs, turkeys, dairy products, potatoes, candies and soft drinks, prices will be higher. t

Staying the same will be prices for beef, cereal and bakery products, sugar, tea and

FACTS AND FORECAST

People ate more beef and pork in 1967 than in previous years, but less lamb and veal. For 1970, a further increase is seen for beef, pork and broilers. Decline in the consumption of veal, lamb, eggs and turkey is seen.

Inch-thick steaks are broiled to rare within 24 minutes, or to medium in 30 minutes, using moderate temperature.

Space Flights Spur Food Developments

Space flight requirements have accelerated work on freeze-dried foods. The need for lightweight, compact food which could be reconstituted at mealtime was urgent.

In plastic containers, these foods also solved another problem, that of particles floating about in the weightlessness of the space ship.

So, now, what's good enough for the astronauts is good enough for everyone. All Mrs. Homemaker, camper, bachelor or career girl has to do is add water to prepared, dehydrated food to serve in its original

Freeze-drying removes 98 per cent of the moisture at very low temperatures but does not adversely affect color, texture, flavor or nutrient content What's more, these foods don't need refrigeration.

FOOD PRICE CHANGES

Money spent for food in 1970 rose to $101,000,0000. That's up seven per cent from 1967. Disposable personal income was up eight percent to $588,000,000. What does it mean? Simply that these two figures put together reflect less of the disposable income went for Melt 2 tablespoons butter in
