A dessert to assuage dieters.

Slimmer Desserts Save Your Figure

With the din of "diet, diet," in our ears, have too many closed the doors on nagging family and friends to become closet eaters?

For those who fear they're on the road to becoming foodies, take heart. There is no need to sneak a few bites during the day to soothe a gnawing feeling in the stomach.

Successful dieters report eating three well-balanced meals a day helped solve their excess flab problem. It also calms the psyche. Give everything-up and take-pills dieting can bring on the nervous reaction of withdrawal similar to that of smokers who try to quit. It also can be damaging to one's health.

With a doctor's advice most can cut 500 calories a day, using well-balanced menus and lose a pound a week. This form of dieting proves less traumatic and helps maintain weight loss over a longer period.

When dieting remember one thought from a diet watchers' guide:

"Happiness is taking your clothes in by four inches."

You can do this and have a low-calorie pudding and meringue kisses, too, with dinner.

"SLIMMER" PUDDING
1 package (2 envelopes) low-calorie butterscotch pudding
4 cups skim milk
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
2 teaspoons angostura aromatic bitters
1/2 cup low-calorie whipped topping
slivered orange rind

Prepare pudding according to directions on package, using skim milk. When slightly cool, stir in spices and angostura.

Pour mixture into 1/2-cup sherbet glasses. Chill. Serve each pudding topped with 1 tablespoon whipped topping and a few pieces of slivered orange rind. Eight servings. Calories per serving: 67. 7 for topping, 4 per serving.

LOW-CALORIE MERINGUE KISSES
2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon angostura aromatic bitters

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add salt and cream of tartar and beat egg whites into stiff peaks. Gradually beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, until mixture is stiff and glossy. Beat in vanilla and bitters. Cover a cookie sheet with foil. Do not grease. Spoon on foil about 1 tablespoon at a time of the mixture, spacing 2 1/2 inches. Bake in a preheated 250-degree oven for 40 minutes or until kisses are pale golden and dry to touch. Cool and remove from foil. Store in an airtight container in a cool place until ready to serve. Makes about 2 dozen. Calories per meringue:

Imaginative Cooks Observe May As Month To Create New Salads

CHICAGO, Ill. (Sp) — Salad lovers of the world unite to celebrate your own salad month. All through the merry salad month of May you can prepare satisfying one-dish meals, and no two need ever be the same. Make your salad simple or elaborate; use garden fresh vegetables or fruits; experiment with slices of cold chicken or bits of ham, dress it up with anchovies or hard cooked eggs. Give your imagination free rein.

For a Springtime touch, toss the salad and serve it in one of the new wicker basket-bowls. Whether you settle for just a bed of lettuce graced with tomatoes or treat yourself to a dewy-fresh delight chockful of many tempting vegetables, take this tip from connoisseurs: A hint of American blue cheese will put your salad in the gourmet class. Crumble the cheese over the salad. It makes an exciting color contrast with the greens, or blend it into one of many delectable dressings.

An easy dressing can be made in minutes by combining one quarter cup each of mayonnaise and French dressing with a dash of dry mustard. Lightly stir in one quarter cup of crumbled blue cheese. Or try American blue cheese celery seed dressing, a mellow blend of herbs, spices and cheese in a sour cream base. Whatever you do, discover salads anew this Spring. You'll want to continue accenting your menus with them long after salad month draws to a close.

BLUE CHEESE CELERY SEED DRESSING (Makes 1 1/2 cups)
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/4 cup American blue cheese (about 1 1/2 oz., crumbled)
dash of pepper
dash of paprika

OIL-VINEGAR BLUE CHEESE DRESSING (Two cups)
1/2 cup light vinegar
1 1/2 cups salad oil
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup American blue cheese (about 4 oz., crumbled)

Blue Cheese 'n Greens
1 1/2 cups salad oil
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 cup American blue cheese (about 4 oz., crumbled)

Perfect Salad Month Salute

Cucumbers, radishes, green onions and celery spill invitingly over a bed of crisp lettuce in a salute to May, "Salad Month." But no ordinary salad this. Crumbles of tangy American blue cheese are sprinkled over the greens. Topped with creamy blue cheese dressing, the salad becomes an aristocratic accompaniment to any entree. For the dressing blend 1/4 cup each mayonnaise and French dressing with dash of dry mustard. Lightly stir in 1/4 cup of crumbled American blue cheese.

Wise Food Buys Help Save Budget, Create Ways To Change Menu Ideas

Ever get the feeling you should invite the grocer, garage mechanic, dry cleaner and department store manager to your home for a weekly bill-paying party?

Just spread the green on the table and serve with coffee and cakes. It should save on gasoline and shoes.

However, if you must visit merchants personally, watching for food specials in newspaper ads can aid the budget. For example, have you thought of buying a whole loin of pork when there is a special on pork rib- or loin ends? The little piggies now come to market leaner and meatier and fit our diet-conscious mood. By buying a special you get choice center-cut chops at a savings, if you have freezer space.

RICE 'N' APPLE CHOPS
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 medium cooking apple, cored and cut into rings
2 to 3 tablespoons shortening
6 shoulder pork chops (about 1/2-inch thick)
salt
pepper
1-1 1/3 cups packaged enriched pre-cooked rice
1 medium cooking apple.

soberant paper. Season pork chops with salt and pepper. Brown in skillet on both sides until well done. Remove from skillet and keep warm. Sauté rice, chopped apple, celery and onion in skillet until tender and rice is browned. Add water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and the reserved sugar-cinnamon mixture; bring quickly to a full boil. Cover; remove from heat. Let stand 5 minutes or until water is absorbed. Spoon rice mixture into serving dish. Arrange browned pork chops and apple rings on top. Six servings.

A tasty bed for pork chops.

Medium-weight loins run from 14 to 22 pounds and that's a lot of pork. Have the butcher cut your pork loin so you get six shoulder chops, for example, from the blade or rib end; the center for a roast or have it sliced into center-cut chops as thick as you prefer. You'll want the loin end left whole for roasting.

Or it can be cubed for goulash or kebabs.

Use the shoulder chops within two days, perhaps as a one-dish meal of chops with sugar-spiced apple rings on a bed of sauteed rice.

Freezer wrap, mark and store the remaining perk for use sometime within three months.

Strawberry Season Makes May Special

On the first of May the California strawberry season started. It goes on for months. So enjoy yourself; use them as is, with powdered sugar, with cream, in pies, cakes and puddings and in fruit cups and jams.

Try this recipe for strawberry lemon parfait. The fresh lemon juice and strawberries combine wonderfully.

1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 cup heavy cream
1 pint strawberries

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in small saucepan; mix thoroughly. Stir in boiling water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture reaches simmering point. Simmer 3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice and rind. Cool thoroughly. Beat cream until stiff. Fold lemon mixture into cream. Chill. Hull and slice strawberries. Arrange alternate layer of berries and lemon sauce in individual dessert glasses. Chill until serving time. Four servings.

STRAWBERRY LEMON PARFAIT
1 tablespoon cornstarch

EVESHAM England UPI—A priest baptized 10-month-old Martin Sandall in his bathtub Wednesday because the youngster screamed and kicked violently recently when the ceremony was attempted in a church. Said the Rev. Albert Webb: "I was not prepared to carry out a christening by force in church. Martin might have grown up to resent the church."

PUZZLE SOLVED
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Police had been puzzling over why an old, abandoned home had such a heavy and seemingly indestructible rat population.

Wednesday they learned the woman who had lived there became so fond of the rodents, she returned regularly to feed them cinnamon buns.

NONE TOO SOON
NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)—Local officials have decided to give hospital porter Christopher Bennett, 25, a new suit. His old one shrank after he rescued a 7-year-old boy from a river three months ago.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE
LONDON (UPI)—A probation officer told a court Wednesday two sisters, aged 20 and 21, had such a good time in Holloway Jail that they went shoplifting within minutes of their release to be able to return to prison.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—John Wayne, accepting his Oscar last month, voiced his disdain for nudity, but he didn't say anything about frolicking around with pretty young girls.

Big Duke, in fact, has a prairie bedroom scene in his new picture.

Actually, a charmer named Jennifer O'Neill jumps into his bedroll with him out under the stars.

"We were both dressed," Wayne hurried to say. "She was wearing long underwear, and I was dressed from head to toe except for my boots."

David Paul, something else, snuggling up with Jennifer sure beat using a warm brick to take the chill off a bedroll.

Peck On The Check
Wayne chuckled at the memory of the scene. The last thing he wants is a reputation as a prude, although in most of his westerns he never got closer to the leading lady than a peck on the cheek.

"I've had my moments," he said, his face cracking into a grin. "Two of my pictures had bedroom scenes: 'Wake of the Red Witch' and 'The Barbarian and the Geisha.'"

"And I literally hit the hay with Jean Arthur in 'The Lady Takes a Chance,' and Maureen O'Hara in 'McLintock.' They had me kissing those girls in haystacks."

"But we all kept our clothes on. That's more risque than looking at all that hide you see on the screen today."

"Most of the sexy pictures were made by Ernest Lubitsch. But they were the kind of movies you could take your kids to see. He was a director who kept an illusion of beauty and romance."

Wayne glanced around daring anyone to challenge him.

Good Wholesome Thing
"Sex is a good wholesome thing to have in the movies, but I'll be damned if that means

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV Tuesday night presented "The National Environment Test," an hour viewer-participation quiz on the subject of pollution.

In the results of a national sampling announced by the network, Westerners and persons in the 30-44 age group fared best in their knowledge of the subject.

CBS-TV also had a studio audience divided into two groups: Ecology-minded students and their parents. The students had a slightly higher quiz average, but neither group was exceptional.

Hosted by Harry Reasoner and Mike Wallace, the hour, which was effectively visual in its illustration of questions, nailed down a number of points of general interest. Among them:

Used As Dumping Sites
 —Drinking water sources in America are often used as dumping sites for sewage. About half the drinking water is polluted somewhere upstream. Treated water is bound to get more expensive.

—Automobiles are the source of most of the nation's air pollution: About 60 per cent.

—Among cleansers, soap flakes produced less water pollution than detergents.

—Concerning the population explosion and its geometric relation to pollution: Families can average no more than two children to prevent a population increase. Ninety-eight per cent of the students in the studio audience knew this, and 84 per cent of their parents.

In one sampling, 56 per cent of persons polled said they favored conservation when progress and conservation were not compatible. Thirty-four per cent favored progress, and 10 per cent had no opinion.

Another Sampling
 In another sampling, 60 per cent were against elimination of tax deductions for dependent children as a means of stemming the population growth. Twenty-nine per cent were for it, and 11 per cent had no opinion.

Among the specific questions, these points were also noted:

—Pesticides do not kill only insects and animals that are harmful to crops. They show preference in killing.

—Most of the DDT in our bodies comes from foods we eat, which have often been sprayed.

—Concerning noise pollution: A continuous exposure to loud noise eventually results in some degree of hearing loss.

—As much solid waste is created by individuals as by manufacturing, mostly because of modern packaging, which in turn increased consumers' costs.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The war protest movement in this country takes many forms and directions, including splashing about in public fountains in the nude.

This is something that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew apparently doesn't understand. Judging from his comments in a recent television interview, Agnew sees no connection between nude fountain splashing and President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Because of this blind spot, the vice president concluded that the students who dunked themselves in the altogether in a park fountain and later during the May 9 antiwar demonstration here merely were "out on a typical spring lark."

Does Not Recognize Protest
 I must confess that I, too, did not immediately recognize the naked intrusion into the fountain as a protest against the U.S. intrusion into Cambodia.

But then I had a talk with Rennie Cascade, one of the leaders of the radical "Skinnydipper" faction of the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

"What do you have to say about Vice President Agnew describing the splash-in as a lark?" I asked.

"That's the kind of comment you expect from a hawk," Cascade replied.

Far from being an impromptu frolic, as many on-lookers assumed, the splash-in was a carefully planned operation organized and carried out by militant, hard core Skinnydippers, he said.

"We shall continue skinnydipping in the public fountains of America until the nation comes to its senses in regard to Vietnam," he vowed.

Has Evidence Of Persecution
 Cascade claimed he had evidence that the FBI was conducting a campaign of persecution and harassment against the Skinnydippers.

"Every time we take off our clothes for a splash-in, FBI agents sneak up and tie them in knots," he charged. "This is an unconstitutional police state tactic that seeks to suppress the right of dissent."

But Cascade said the alleged mistreatment of the Skinnydippers was proving counterproductive. He said scores of previously uncommitted students were leaping into the fountains out of sympathy for the oppressed splashers.

I said, "What reason do you have to believe that the splash-ins will be an effective weapon of protest?"

"They make waves," he pointed out.

NAACP Official Found Dead

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—James M. Floyd, a veteran NAACP official, was found shot to death on a sidewalk outside his office Tuesday night.

W. W. Law, the local NAACP president, said it was "quite possible" that he was the intended victim.

"I don't know whether they mistook him for me, but it's quite possible they did," said Law, a 26-year veteran of the local NAACP branch.

Floyd, 57, a member of the NAACP Executive Board, was found outside the NAACP headquarters by a passing patrolman Tuesday night. He had been shot in the chest.

Detective Sgt. Coy James said no motive was immediately established, but, "we have some good leads."

Floyd had $612.34 on his body, which Det. Sgt. William E. Baker said apparently ruled out robbery, unless "the robber was scared away before he could search Floyd."

But Law said Floyd, a maintenance man in an apartment building had the money hidden on him because he apparently did not trust leaving it in his room where he lived alone.

Law said there was no

Floyd was working Tuesday night on a profling up churches for NAACP's weekly mass ings during the month, said.

A boy in business for himself doesn't worry about summer job

On fall jobs, or winter jobs, for that matter, I cause the boy with a newspaper route—a junior independent merchant—has a year-round income. The few hours he puts in each week not only provide monetary returns but the even more significant dividends of learning how free enterprise operates.

The business of learning the value of money, keeping books, collecting, buying at wholesale and selling at retail is important. But not even money can buy the other skills acquired from route experience—learning to deal pleasantly with people, for instance, or the value of punctuality.

Your newspaperboy is learning all the time. His route experience helps him acquire the intangible skills so necessary for success both socially and professionally. He makes money at it, too.

Only about one boy in ten gets the opportunity to have a newspaper route. If you think your son or some other youngster might profit by newspaperboy route experience, why not suggest that he come in and talk to us.

FOUR STUDENTS OF MUSIC who will perform in Bill Haley's recital at St. Vincent Catholic School Saturday and Sunday are from left: Christie Whaley, Adam Akst, Mary Hasse and David Chambliss. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Foster Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Irving B. Akst, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hasse and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Chambliss.

Pianists To Play Recital Programs

Students of Bill Haley will perform in three recitals this weekend with a performance slated at 8 p.m. Saturday and two Sunday at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. at St. Vincent's Catholic School.

Among works performed will be the "Miniature Concerto" by Alice Browley, a bravura style composition adapted especially for the capable teen-aged pianist. Also on the program will be two Beethoven sonatas, the Opus 16 No. 1 and the Opus 15, and works by Mozart, Debussy, Bach, Schumann and many other composers. Although the recital is primarily for piano students several pieces will be played on the guitar and the organ.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How do I get rid of a guy I love very much but can't marry?

I am 25, single, and a Roman Catholic. The man I love is 34, Lutheran, divorced, and has two children. There is no way I can marry this man, but he won't leave me alone. We have broken up at least a dozen times, but we always go back together again. The last time we broke up I told him to please leave me alone because I had to get him out of my system. Well, he moved into my apartment building, so now we see each other more than ever. I love him, but I won't give up my religion for him and I can't marry him. What should I do?

HELEN: You know what to do, what you need is the strength to do it. A hopeless "love" should be treated as any other addiction. Quit "cold turkey." And talk turkey to that foxxy Romeo who's not making it any easier for you.

DEAR ABBY: Three of us ride to work and back every day with a fellow worker I'll call "Muriel." Muriel is a widow and she proposed the arrangement to help pay for her car. It seemed a good deal for all of us, so we agreed. We pay her promptly every week.

And very well!

Our problem is Muriel shops all the way home! At the end of the day we all want to get home to start supper, but she delays us daily from half an hour to an hour while she leisurely shops for this and that. If she would pick up an item or two once in a while, we wouldn't mind, but she takes her sweet time, pinching, poking, and studying each item while we sit outside in the car fuming.

We don't like to find other means of transportation, but if Muriel doesn't see this in your column and wise up—that's exactly what we intend to do.

ULCERS in MEMPHIS: DEAR ULCERS: Since the driver is well paid, you have a legitimate gripe, so quit fuming and tell Muriel what's eating you.

DEAR ABBY: My family rents an apartment in the same building where an unmarried girl resides. This girl has male callers at all hours of the night, every night.

The resident manager says he can't take any action unless he receives a letter stating the activities of this angelic young thing.

I'm hesitant to write such a letter because it could be legally sticky. Why should our family have to move? Please guide me as to how this female can be evicted sans expense to us.

INDY: DEAR INDY: In order to "evict" her, you will have to state your reasons (which, in this case, would be a reflection on her moral character). If she is a swinging amateur with lots of friends, she has as much right to live in that building as your family, and if she's a "professional" (as you suggest), you'd better be prepared to prove it, or you could have a lawsuit on your hands.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "Eating My Heart Out" in Birmingham: Don't worry—it won't last. Nothing does.

White Deer members attending were Mmes. Evelyn Chamberlain, Marguerite Hudgins, Edith Morris, and Evelyn Evans.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, MAY 22
YOUR BIRTHDAY-FRIDAY: — A building-up phase begins in which you continue, and perhaps improve somewhat, the successful methods that you have developed so far. Diversification or new extensions are not particularly indicated or needed for the time being.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): — Close out the workweek neatly with all loose ends settled or precisely noted for easy resumption Monday. Avoid haste, your own or others'.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): — All subjects for discussion or disagreement seem larger than they really are. Later it will be seen that argument has done nothing to improve matters.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): — Squabbles Friday very easily drift into serious quarrels. It is better to let small matters get past you than to invest time and energy in conflict.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): — Expect some added demand on your strength and resources. Have extra supplies available, and keep yourself fresh by taking a short rest whenever you can.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): — If you can select work which doesn't require the close collaboration of others, do so. Being able to concentrate gets this phase of your routines a long way ahead. People in general are not inclined to be helpful.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): — Home and family concerns distract you, and possibly, you should have the day set aside for just this area of your life-pattern. Also, pay attention to your personal habits; decide on changes which offer more protection to your health.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): — You are likely to be called to arbitrate the dissensions of others. Take care that your own recent actions are not presented as acts of competition or retribution.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): — Budgets and other arrangements of resources are all too easily upset now. Sudden decisions do not work out very well and cannot be corrected if they're wrong.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — Nobody wants anything decided for him, least-of-all-yourself. Make plans at the last minute to fit the empty spaces left over.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — Pace your efforts so as to avoid both haste and undue fatigue. There is no point to the traditional hurry-up and wait technique. Avoid any squabble over precedence and thus, enjoy a more comfortable existence.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — The more people care about you, the more likely they are to show a streak of contrariness. It helps if they are not sure what you plan to do next, or when you will act.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): — You satisfy nobody Friday. If you can't manage to be traveling on business or a family outing, see if you can get off from work for a day of home repairs.

Official Reaction To Campus Disorder

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The response of state and school authorities to the student strikes and protests over Kent and Cambodia has been generally restrained with relatively few demands for legislative or academic reprisals, a 50-state UPI survey showed Saturday.

In some states, notably New Hampshire and New Jersey, there have been demands for a special session of the state legislature to crack down on campus violence. In Delaware and Massachusetts, punitive measures were pressed but then shelved.

But in a great number of states the prevailing official attitude was to keep the schools open during student strike activity, to be ready to cope with any violence but to keep the situation as calm as possible and let time cool the controversy.

The survey showed that most states have experienced strong campus antiwar protests and student strike activity. But in only five states were schools compelled to shut down completely. There were temporary closings of from one to 10 day duration in 14 states.

On the other end of the scale, UPI bureaus in Arkansas, Alaska, Mississippi, North Dakota and South Dakota reported everything normal on their campuses.

The nationwide survey indicated that in every instance school authorities were working out flexible plans so that students will sustain no academic loss or punishment for disrupted by protest, classroom work or exams missed in a college year disrupted by strife and angry dissent.

At schools that were disrupted, the general academic rule was that students would be allowed to leave early and be given the option of taking the grade they made at May mid-term exams, to take make-up final exams this summer and next fall or to obtain credit for their courses on a pass-or-fail basis with no grade.

Complete school closings were reported at Kent State University where four students were fatally shot by Ohio National Guardsmen; Grinnell in Iowa which ended its school year before the end of the spring term; the University of Massachusetts and Boston University; Seton Hall in New Jersey after a police clash that left 25 injured, and in Vermont were five universities cut short their terms.

There were temporary closings reported from Washington, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Michigan, Illinois, New Hampshire, Wyoming, New Mexico, Georgia, Delaware, Oregon, New York, California and Tennessee—either by consent of college authorities or by direction of state governors in cases where violence flared.

UPI bureaus in 31 states reported their schools were kept in operation although in most cases classes were approved creation of a special state commission to study campus turmoil.

UPI's New Orleans bureau summarized the Louisiana situation this way: "The attitude of the over-30s seems to be more or less ho-hum. There is no move afoot to cut off public funds to the state schools—most of which are in dire financial straits anyway."

But from Maine, it was reported that while there is no sign of a fund-cutting effort by the legislature, "university officials believed that the outbreak of protests has damaged chances for passage of a $14.9 million university bond issue that goes before the voters June 15."

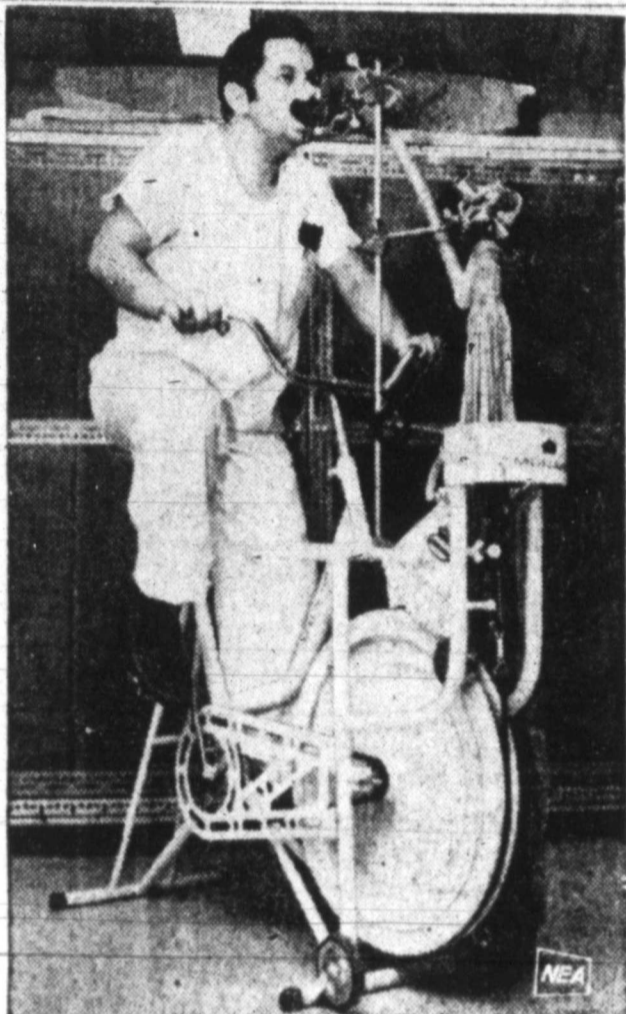

The Massachusetts House pigeonholed two bills—one to allow college presidents to withhold funds from campus publications that use inflammatory language and the other calling for a mandatory one-year suspension of any student convicted of taking part in a campus disruption.

The New York State legislature at this point apparently is relying on its special Henderson Study Commission directed at the recently adjourned session to come up with solutions to the problem of campus disorder.

Oklahoma's lieutenant governor, George Nigh, undertook a tour of the state's campuses in an effort to ease tensions. Minnesota's Gov. Harold Levander praised students in his state for conducting their protests without violence although he made plain he did not favor the campus strikes.

The situation in Maryland had possible November election overtones, particularly after Gov. Marvin Mandel dispatched National Guardsmen to the University of Maryland to deal with disorders there.

Sargent Shriver, who may run against Mandel in the Democratic primary, criticized the governor for taking too emphatic action rather than letting campus authorities handle the situation.

CARBON MONOXIDE markedly impairs human activity, according to tests conducted at the Marquette School of Medicine in Milwaukee, Wis. Here, a volunteer in a carefully controlled environmental chamber pumps a bicycle under varying levels of carbon monoxide. Test results are analyzed by IBM computer.

Gov. Ronald Reagan's decision to close state colleges to avoid violence was generally favorable.

In Delaware, a state legislator declared he would introduce a bill to eliminate funds for the University of Delaware if school authorities ordered the out of it by Gov. Russell Peterson.

Illinois Republican state senators summoned Samuel F. Braden, president of Illinois State, to a party caucus and upbraided him for allowing American flags on his campus to be lowered to half staff in memory of the dead Kent students.

But the executive committee of the state Senate subsequently

9th Graders To Clash

JO MEEKER shows the form which earned a berth in the DGWS National Intercollegiate Track and Field Championship.

WT's Woman Hurdler Started At Panhandle

CANYON — Jo Meeker, 20-year-old West Texas State University sophomore, competed in running and jumping events during her high-school track days at Panhandle, but she combined those talents into one event this spring and it paid big dividends.

Mrs. Mary Hill, coach of the West Texas State women's track team, decided Miss Meeker's best event would be in the hurdles.

In her fifth meet this spring the Texas Division of Girl's and Women's Sports in Lubbock, Jo stepped over the 200-meter hurdles in 32.0 to place second and qualify for the DGWS National Intercollegiate Track and Field Championships in Champaign, Ill., May 29-30.

Outstanding performers at the national meet will be selected for the World University Games at Turin, Italy, this summer. The selections will be made by the U.S. Collegiate Sports Council, which is also trying to raise funds so those going to the world games can also compete in meets in Athens, Greece and Paris, France.

For Jo, her track experience started in the ninth grade at Panhandle High School. Miss Ann Metcalf, coach of the girl's basketball and volleyball teams, took over the track coaching duties to form a girl's team.

"Miss Metcalf knew little of track when we first started, so all of us learned by reading books and by doing," recalls Jo.

It paid off, as we won the Class B division of the state girls' meet my sophomore year and won the state Class A championship my junior year."

Jo's events in high school were the long jump, triple jump, and the mile, sprint and 880-yard relays.

Jo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Meeker Jr., live on a farm 10 miles from Panhandle. She did a little cross-country running on that farm.

Besides running and jumping on the track squad, Jo played both basketball and volleyball at Panhandle High School.

A physical education major, Jo is a student leader at WTSU. She is a member of the Student Senate and represented the WTSU physical education department at the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation convention earlier this year in Seattle.

Her expenses to the national meet are being paid by the University Student Senate.

Besides placing second at the Texas DGWS in the 200-meter hurdles, Jo was third in the 100-meter hurdles, placed in the leg of the 880-yard medley long jump and ran the 440-yard relay. She entered the district DGWS meet and qualified for the state meet in all of them.

Shaving Strokes

9—The Rear End

Orville Moody, the U.S. Open champion, was telling a funny story the other day about some people who watched him play and told him later how much they enjoyed watching him work up power with his fanny. Orville told her he had never thought about it quite that way, but maybe they had something there.

Certainly Orville is a strong player. He has a reputation for being a short, straight driver, but this goes back to what we have said about playing within yourself. Orville could bust the ball 320 yards if he wanted to, but that isn't a high-percentage shot, so he isn't going to hit it. With rare exceptions.

But back to Orville's rear end. Now that I think about it, it does play a certain conspicuous role in his swing. At address, Orville, like all good players, flexes his knees, as if he were sitting on a stool two or three inches shorter than his rear end. He bends over from the waist. The end result, if you'll excuse an awful pun, is that his rear protrudes somewhat.

This rear-out posture serves at least two purposes. It relaxes him. Many average players stand up too straight — they're too tight. Secondly, it gives him plenty of room in which to work the club, both on the backswing and the downswing, without his hips getting in the way, and that leads to power.

Pampa High School's footballers will close out spring training this week and the Harvesters have saved the best for last.

The gridders of coach Swede Lee will treat Pampa residents to two pre-season games in the forms of a ninth grade intrasquad contest tonight and the varsity-alumni game Saturday.

Tonight's ninth-grade affair, as well as Saturday's game, will start at 8 o'clock at Harvester Stadium. Admission to both battles is one dollar for adults and 50 cents for children.

A few members of the Harvester varsity will mingle with the ninth graders tonight.

Although the Harvesters-to-be are small in number, the group does not lack for talent.

"Our ninth graders had a heck of a good scrimmage Saturday," and from what I could tell, some of these boys are going to make good football players," Lee commented.

Among the long list of junior high standouts is Richard McCampbell of Pampa Junior High.

"McCampbell looked real good at halfback and also on defense. He's run a 10.3 hundred and that's pretty good for a ninth grader," the head football coach said.

Pampa Junior High's Don Proctor also drew praise for his running.

If Rick Musgrave repeats Saturday's performance, the Pampa-Lee signal caller will give an impressive showing tonight.

In Lee's words, "He has a real fine prospect." The spotlight, luckily for Pampa's football future, does not fall solely on the backfield. Several linemen have caught the eyes of the Harvester coaching staff.

In fact, two drew special comment for their performances during spring training.

"Freddie Wilbon has been playing well at Split end. He has a lot of speed and has the ability to catch the ball, and Ed Townsend has looked good as a defensive lineman," Lee said.

Lee, who will start his third season as Pampa's head football coach, is well pleased with the results of spring training and the attitude of the entire squad.

"I'd like for people to get out and see the ninth grade tonight. These kids have been playing real well and it will be well worth the time and effort to come to the game," he added.

Today will be the last practice for the varsity before the game against the exes Saturday.

Graduating seniors and a sprinkling of 1969 graduates will compose the opposition for the Harvesters.

Cardinals Slip Past Houston, 3-2

HOUSTON (UPI)—The rule around the National League is don't throw fast balls to Jim Wynn—that is unless you have an exceptionally good fast ball.

Mike Torrez of the St. Louis Cardinals has a good fast ball. In fact, it's his best pitch and he threw it to Wynn three times Wednesday night. Twice it was on the outside corner and Wynn doubled to right center field and right field. The last time it was inside and Wynn doubled to left field.

But Wynn came up with the outcome of the game in the balance in the ninth inning and reliever Chuck Taylor gave him nothing but sliders. Wynn grounded to short to end the game with the tying run on second and the winning run on first.

The Astros lost 3-2 with the Cardinals' powerful Richie Allen doing most of the damage.

The reformed Philadelphia bad-boy, who hit a three-run homer Tuesday night, singled home the Cardinals' first run Wednesday and set up the other two with a double.

Houston gave Tom Griffin a 1-0 lead in the third inning. Joe Morgan walked, took second on Jesus Alou's single and scored on Wynn's second double.

Alou was thrown out in a close play at the plate. Coach Salty Parker sent him home although there was only one out and the No. 4 and 5 hitters were coming to bat.

The Cardinals tied it in the fourth when Jose Cardenal singled, stole second and came around on Allen's single to left.

St. Louis scored the two deciding runs in the sixth when Dal Maxville, a 197 hitter, walked and Allen doubled to put runners on second and third.

Manager Harry Walker decided to pitch to Joe Torre with first base open and Torre slashed a two-run single to right that was the difference.

The Astros threatened in the ninth when Torrez walked Doug Rader, the leadoff batter, and the Cardinals brought in Taylor in relief. John Edwards was safe when Julian Javier booted his double play grounder.

Norm Miller singled in one run, but Taylor retired Morgan on a fly to center, pinch hitter Keith Lampard on a pop up to third and got Wynn to ground out.

The Astros open a four-game series with the Cincinnati Reds tonight with Denny Lemaster, 3-4 going against Jim McGlothlin, 4-3.

Harvester Club Elects Officers

The Harvester Club elected Bill Harris president in a business meeting Tuesday night at the new athletic field house.

Ray Thompson was chosen vice president and Frank Craig was named secretary-treasurer.

In other business, the group voted to award a yearly $500 scholarship to a deserving Pampa High School athlete and organized a membership drive.

An air conditioning unit was approved for the meeting room in the new fieldhouse.

Members also viewed films of the first Harvester scrimmage of spring training.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some of the local pundits are saying that the White House staff has created a communications gap within the administration by "protecting" President Nixon from his Cabinet.

That sort of thing, if it be true, is nothing new, of course. At some point during almost every administration, members of the Cabinet begin to feel isolated from the President.

Then this happens, Cabinet members occasionally resort to various stratagems to try to get the President's attention. One favorite maneuver is the leak technique.

A Cabinet member will write a private memo to the President. But being fairly certain that it will be intercepted by the White House staff, he will leak a copy to the press in the hope that the resulting headline will catch the President's eye.

Or, if the Cabinet member is really desperate, he might write a note to the President, put it in a bottle and drop it in the Potomac on the chance that it will wash ashore, be recovered and delivered.

In extreme cases, a Cabinet member might even use his wife as an attention-getter. For example, he might have her telephone a newspaper at 2

Pearl Takes Rest For More Money

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Miss Bailey, star of "Hello, Dolly," has quit the show, and its weeklong run scheduled to open Tuesday night at the Performing Arts Center in Milwaukee was canceled.

Local promoters were told Miss Bailey had flown from Houston, Tex., where the show had finished a week's engagement, and said she was through.

Miss Bailey was quoted by the Houston Chronicle as saying, "There is a slight chance I might rest two or three weeks and rejoin the company, but only if there are some changes in the cast and I get more money."

Pam, Unlike Virginia, Learns "There's No Santa Claus"

DIXON, Calif. (UPI)—Pamela Cross, 9, who sent a letter to President Nixon questioning some of his decisions, has been advised by Washington to concentrate on her homework and let the President take care of national and international affairs.

Pamela wrote President Nixon more than two months ago as part of a fourth grade assignment. She said:

"Why are you spending all that money on war and not on schools, papers and books? Why did you okay the ABM and veto the school bill? Once I went camping and I went for a hike, I could smell the sewage. I think you should do something about the pollution. The hospitals need money, too."

Her reply came eight weeks later from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It was signed by Thomas J. Burns, acting associate commissioner for elementary and secondary education, who said:

"Dear Pam: President Nixon has asked me to reply to your letter of Feb. 26. Dixon is a good town, with good schools, and it receives money from several federal education programs. You will be able to learn there very well indeed, if you listen very carefully in class, cooperate with your teachers and do your homework as it is assigned. Getting an education is no easy matter. It requires concentrated study, extra reading of books from the library, and review, every now and then, of all you have been taught in the classroom. Pay attention to your own learning activities and let the President take care of decisions on national and international affairs. He is equipped to do this. Good luck in your studies."

Pamela wasn't sure what the answer meant, so she asked her mother, Lois Cross.

"It means mind your own business," her mother replied. Burns said his office writes:

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, with his assessment of the actual breadth of feeling among American students on the war issue:

"I certainly don't agree that the demonstrations that took place in Washington and some of the demonstrations that have taken place on the campus are really indicative of the deep-seated student hostility to the Cambodian situation. I think a lot of those students were out on a typical spring lark."

dozens of answers every day to the White House letters and most are drafted by a former California school teacher who he said "does a wonderful job in researching the answers. He said Mrs. Cross' interpretation of the letter was "unfortunate."

Win a year's supply of Polaroid Colorpack film

Enter our Polaroid color picture contest.

All you have to do is bring us your favorite Polaroid Land picture. We'll display it in the store with the other entries and notify the winner by the end of the month.

If your picture is selected, come in and take home 15 packs of Polaroid color film, free. It's as simple as that.

Of course, you can get your film right now at our special price of only $3.89 per pack.
