Apollo Flight Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The Apollo 14 moonflight has been delayed at least two months, from October to December, and may be grounded until early 1971 because of oxygen tank changes needed to eliminate the risk of an explosion.

Apollo 14 astronauts Alan B. Shepard, Stuart A. Roosa and Edgar D. Mitchell still will make the flight, but they will be retargeted for a landing in the moon valley originally assigned to the abortive Apollo 13 expedition.

Dr. Thomas O. Paine, space agency administrator, announced late Thursday the investigation already made by the Apollo 13 board of inquiry showed that several months will be needed to make safe the tanks in Apollo 14.

"Our present assessment is that the modifications to the oxygen tanks in the service module that have already been identified will require several months and that Apollo 14 cannot be launched before the Dec. 3 launch window," Paine said in Washington.

"We will take whatever time is necessary and will not commit to a specific launch date until the Apollo 13 review board completes its work and makes its findings and recommendations."

In the event a further delay necessary, Paine said engineers would calculate moonflight trajectories for launch opportunities in early 1971.

The review board plans to have its final report ready to present to Paine by June 1. The investigation so far shows the most probable cause for the explosion was a short circuit which touched off a fire in the tank, heating the oxygen and raising its pressure until the tank burst.

Shepard, Roosa and Mitchell originally were targeted to land near the Crater Littrow on the southeastern edge of the Sea of Serenity.

Scientists at the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, however, recommended that landing be dropped and that Apollo 14 be reassigned to the hilly Fra Mauro formation Lovell and Haise were to explore. Paine accepted the recommendation late Thursday.

Hangnail Protest Next?

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—Two miniskirted office girls who complained that splintery old desks ripped their pantyhose forced a shutdown of the Massey-Ferguson tractor factory Thursday.

The girls were joined by 11 sympathetic male workers in a walkout that forced plant officials to send home 500 workers because the strikers work in a section vital to the flow of production.

"It's terrible," said one of the girls. "We can sometimes get through three or four pairs of tights (pantyhose) a week through catching our legs on the desks."

A Massey-Ferguson spokesman said the walkout cost the company $600,000 in lost production.

HALFWAY COMPLETED, construction project at Highland General Hospital will add nearly $1.5 million in new medical facilities for the area. The project began last August and is scheduled for completion Nov. 25. Added to present facilities will be a new laboratory, and numerous other medical care facilities, according to a hospital spokesman. (Staff Photo)

AT KENT STATE UNIVERSITY

Planned Festive Weekend Takes On A Funereal Air

Kent, Ohio (UPI)—It was to have been a festive weekend at Kent State University.

KSU Student Victim Of "Times"

LORAIN, Ohio (UPI)—William K. Schroeder, 19, one of four students shot to death on the Kent State University campus, was buried Thursday.

The family pastor said the youth was a "victim of troubled times."

"Out of confusion must come order," said the Rev. Donald Yaeke. "Out of conflict must come peace."

About 250 friends and members of the Schroeder family, including a delegation from the Kent State Student Council, attended the funeral services at St. John's United Church of Christ.

Schroeder was a sophomore at Kent State, majoring in psychology. He was a ROTC member, an Eagle Scout and a former high school basketball star. His friends described him as an "all-America boy."

Three students wounded most seriously by gunfire at Kent State University last Monday have been removed from the critical list.

Hospital authorities said their conditions are improving.

Dean Kahler of East Canton, Ohio, is listed as guarded. John Cleary, of Scotia, N.Y., and Joseph Lewis of Massillon, Ohio are in fair condition.

Tricia Nixon Backs Father

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon's family was drawn into the acrid debate about his war policies Thursday when daughter Tricia met for an hour with two Finch College war protesters.

Tricia, 23, is a 1968 Finch graduate. According to the two students, Tricia stood "100 per cent behind the President's policy." They told her the White House was "not listening... not hearing" what students had to say.

Kent State University—the annual spring frolic that brings back the alumni for a day of fun.

Normally, there would be a parade, a songfest, and the crowning of a campus queen. But no alumni returned to Kent State today.

Instead, the last contingent of National Guardsmen leaves the tragedy-scared campus, and no one knows when the 20,000 students will be permitted to return to their classrooms and dormitories.

The guard, which maintains a sniper triggered Monday's fatal shooting of four students, says it is "satisfied we accomplished exactly what we came here to do—take care of the campus."

Kent State President Robert White originally had hoped to reopen the school next Monday. He admitted Thursday there was "no possibility" this could be done, and university officials contemplated alternatives to complete the final five weeks of the term.

White planned a meeting with the school's 1,200 faculty members this afternoon to discuss the situation.

The last two of the four victims were buried Thursday. At Lorain, Ohio, William K.

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Jim Boyer says the silent majority on the Texas Tech campus is a little too silent.

"We want to hear from the opposition on campus," Boyer said Thursday. "We want to know what they think of us. We've invited them to speak but we've heard nothing yet."

Boyer, 23, is one of the leaders at Tech in its campus protest over the killing of students at Kent State University in Ohio. Tech does not have a reputation for student unrest.

The dissident students occupied two campus buildings Thursday before they left them at the urgings of city police. They finally settled on the student union building and held a sit-in there.

The students protested the presence of the city police on the campus. The university asked the police to leave. The police finally left but a campus security force remained. The first sit-in began in the halls of the Social Science Building. The university's ROTC

Nations Note Historic Day With Parades

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviets brought a historic flag back to Berlin, French veterans paraded on Paris' Champs Elysees, and the Germans on both sides of the Iron Curtain quietly observed the 25th anniversary of Allied victory in Europe today.

At Rheims, France, city officials planned a bouquet of red carnations outside the Little Red Schoolhouse where Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Supreme Allied Commander, accepted the German surrender.

Shortly before the ceremony, police discovered black swastikas had been painted on nearby monuments to the war dead.

More than 4,000 persons gathered at the Camp de Voyle-Lieu, north of Paris, at a "Flame of Remembrance" for Jews, resistance fighters and thousands of other persons who were imprisoned at the camp prior to shipment to death camps.

French government officials were among those reviewing the Champs Elysees parade. Neither Britain nor Italy had anything to go.

East German officials in East Berlin put on display the Soviet flag that the victorious Red Army of Marshal Georgi Zhukov hoisted above the Reichstag (parliament) on April 30, 1945, the day the city fell. The banner was carried more than 1,000 miles from Moscow by relays of Soviet motorcycle riders.

The observance was subdued in West Germany. President Gustav Heinemann told a gathering of 100 ambassadors to West Germany that his country was "immune to hate and revengefulness despite the sacrifices demanded of it and the destruction of nationality."

For thousands of residents of Western Europe, the day was a time for picnics or just staying at home. In some countries, it coincided with Ascension Day, a legal holiday. Many Germans chose to ignore VE day.

"Why all this fuss?" asked Egon Kemmler, 17, in Frankfurt.

"I think the students are there for the opportunity to get an education," Smith said. "The taxpayers expect those of us in government to carry out that program. A state institution is not the place to bring about social change."

Smith added he would not hesitate to call out the national guard to meet campus peace demonstrations in Texas. But he said he thought the Department of Public Safety and local police could handle such incidents as this week's demonstrations in Austin.

He said he felt the Austin demonstrations were led by a small group, and that many of those present were "sight-seers."

Ordered To Carry Refugee Supplies

SAIGON (UPI)—An armada of 40 U.S. and 60 South Vietnamese boats set sail up the Mekong River toward the Cambodian capital at Phnom Penh today to break Viet Cong resistance along the international waterway and carry food and medicine to Vietnamese refugees there.

There was no immediate indication the fleet had crossed the border. The boat crews had orders to bring back from Cambodia any Vietnamese refugees who wanted to come.

This unprecedented development, following negotiations in Phnom Penh between officials of both governments on the plight of the estimated 600,000 Vietnamese, came as:

U.S. troops in the Fishhook region of Cambodia 70 miles north of Saigon reported turning up what the White House called "a major sophisticated base complex" covering at least three square miles and containing 500 huts and warehouses with radio antennae in the area where the Communists' war headquarters was believed situated.

Military spokesmen announced eight Americans killed Thursday in a Fishhook battle, the costliest fight yet in the Allies' eight-day-old Cambodian campaign. North Vietnamese losses were put at 24 dead.

President Nguyen Van Thieu said he has set no deadline for the withdrawal of government troops from Cambodia despite President Nixon's promise U.S. soldiers will be out by July 1. Thieu said once his men are out of Cambodia, they will go back in if the need arises.

Communist troops, striking back in response to the presence of Allied forces in Cambodia, shelled Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city, killing seven civilians and wounding 12, and detonated a mine 14 miles south of Da Nang, killing 26 civilians and wounding five.

In Washington, a White House spokesman said the Mekong River mission is not considered a military operation and should not be considered a violation of President Nixon's ground rules limiting the penetration of U.S. troops into Cambodia to 21 miles. From the border to Phnom Penh is 45 miles.

Cambodian troops were reported to have captured Koki Thon, another Mekong River village near Neak Luong, and were said to be moving with tanks against Neak Luong.

Informed sources said the Armada would not cross into Cambodia before Saturday.

The Allied operations in Cambodia brought savage reaction from North Vietnamese and Viet Cong soldiers who killed 57 Vietnamese civilians and wounded 82 in shelling and terrorist attacks reported today.

The heaviest opposition was expected at the Cambodian River crossing town of Neak Luong, 30 miles below Phnom Penh and 15 miles above the South Vietnamese border. Strong Communist forces controlled the ferry crossing there, and Cambodian troops were reported moving slowly into the area from Phnom Penh to try to dislodge them.

The Board of Immigration Appeals cleared the way Thursday for the deportation of Yvonne d'Angers, a topless dancer at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas in 1966, to her native Iran or France.

There was testimony she married an American, paid him $100 when they married and another $100 when they were divorced nine months later. She never lived with him.

Unemployment Rates Show Upward Trend

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's unemployment rate soared from 4.4 per cent in March to 4.8 per cent in April, with jobless rolls rising to the highest total in more than six years, the government reported today.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said the 0.4 per cent rise in the jobless rate, the second such one-month jump since December, meant that 3.9 million persons in the labor force were unable to find work. That was a 300,000 increase on a seasonally adjusted basis from March.

The 4.8 per cent level was the highest since April, 1965, while the 3.9 million listed as looking for jobs was the highest figure since March, 1964.

The 0.4 per cent rise in the unemployment rate matched the increase from December to January. Since December, the rate has jumped from 3.5 per cent.

A Labor Department spokesman said April's increased jobless rate was due to supply house said damage outbacks in defense spending, strikes, and weaknesses in the

Smith Defines College Role In Society

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Gov. Preston Smith said Thursday he did not think a college was the proper place to try to initiate social change.

"I think the students are there for the opportunity to get an education," Smith said. "The taxpayers expect those of us in government to carry out that program. A state institution is not the place to bring about social change."

Smith added he would not hesitate to call out the national guard to meet campus peace demonstrations in Texas. But he said he thought the Department of Public Safety and local police could handle such incidents as this week's demonstrations in Austin.

He said he felt the Austin demonstrations were led by a small group, and that many of those present were "sight-seers."

Plastic Pipe Catches Fire

Black smoke filled the sky in downtown Pampa shortly before 11:30 this morning when two plastic pipe's behind Sullins Supply Co., 320 W. Kingsmill, caught fire.

Fire Department units responded to the blaze and had it extinguished within two minutes.

Fire officials had no immediate comment on the cause of the fire. Officials at the supply house said damage estimates were not readily available.

FBI Director Says Communists Involved In Antiwar Protests

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover says Communist elements anxious to try and force a unilateral American withdrawal from Vietnam were deeply involved with the Nov. 15 mass antiwar demonstrations. His harshest testimony in years—critical of demonstrators, liberal judges and the Black Panther party in particular—was made public by the House Appropriations Committee on the eve of mass demonstrations Saturday against U.S. involvement in Cambodia.

"It was neither by accident nor coincidence that the demonstrations held in Washington and San Francisco on Nov. 15, 1969, had accompanying anti-U.S. demonstrations in other countries throughout the world on the same day," he said, detailing various Communist sessions abroad in the six-month period prior to the rallies.

"The major emphasis in the discussions on those occasions was on the need to keep massive propaganda pressure in the form of antiwar demonstrations on the current administration in the United States to force a unilateral withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam," Hoover testified.

"The Black Panther party, a black extremist organization, consisting for the most part of hoodlum-type revolutionaries, continues to be most active and dangerous from an internal security standpoint. Law enforcement agencies throughout the country are wrongly accused of harassment by many well-intentioned but uninformed voices echoing outright lies generated by the lawless BPP.

"During 1969, leading proponents of the New Left more clearly established themselves as Marxist-Leninist revolutionaries dedicated to the violent destruction of our society and the principles of free government. As a result, they intensified their efforts to foment violent disorders and discord."

During a discussion on the 195 million fingerprints on file at the FBI, Hoover disclosed he has "always advocated that the age of juvenile delinquents should end at 16. Anyone above age 16 should be tried as an adult and records should be filed on them as they are on adults."

In the spy area, Hoover warned the Soviet Union and its Communist satellite countries, Communist China and Cuba all had stepped up their "deep cover" espionage activities here.

In this connection, he said there were 38 internal security wiretaps or electronic surveillances as of Feb. 14, 1970. There were five others operating against organized crime.

THE NOISE INVASION

The need for noise control was the one item on which 1,800 apartment residents unanimously agreed in a five-city survey that asked tenants what they liked and disliked about their dwellings. In the survey, conducted in Atlanta, Detroit, Minneapolis, San Francisco and Washington, D.C., by Owens-Corning, traffic, children playing, people talking and walking and doors slamming accounted for most of the outside noise reported. Plumbing, people talking and walking, door slamming and appliances were listed as the major sources of inside noise. Nearly two-thirds of the renters were interested in reducing noise with sound-conditioning materials at an additional $5 a month.

National Guard Acted In Heat Of Anger: S. Agnew

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In the heat of anger, National Guardsmen apparently "over-reacted" and may, in a sense, have been guilty of murder in the shooting deaths of the four Kent State University students, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Thursday night.

Agnew appeared on the taping of a television show with David Frost in a studio of KTTV in Los Angeles only a few hours after President Nixon assured college presidents that administration officials would mute hostile comments about college students.

Under questioning by Frost, Agnew said he had great sorrow over the tragedy in Ohio but added he felt the guardsmen, most of them no older than the students, acted in the heat of anger.

Agnew said during the television program, which will be aired next Wednesday night, but plants of which were made known in Washington, he felt there would have been no shooting had not militants hurled rocks and attacked the guardsmen.

Pursues Question Pursuing the question, Frost asked whether there might not have been any demonstration had not students been upset over the movement of U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Agnew replied that was possible but suggested certain elements were ready to riot over almost anything, including the length of haircuts.

Agnew was asked whether guardsmen might not be held responsible for "murder" if it was established that no shots were fired at them first.

"Yes, but not first degree murder," the vice president replied. "There was no premeditation but apparently an over-reaction in the heat of anger."

"Hope of the Nation" Agnew said that it was his heartfelt opinion that "with the young people today resist the hope of the nation."

Frost asked him about Interior Secretary Walter Hickel's letter to President Nixon suggesting Agnew's speeches had contributed to a lack of communication between the younger people and the administration.

The vice president said he did not believe his "old friend" Hickel had read his speeches and added that he believed the opinions of younger persons were being heard.

"But the fact that they are heard does not necessarily mean they must be heeded," he said.

Does Not Comprehend Agnew said he could not comprehend why there was not outrage at the stoning of guardsmen, the cutting of fire hoses and the burning of buildings by those who deplored his straight talk.

Asked about his candid language, Agnew recalled that Sen. J. William Fulbright had called him a "smart aleck" and Arthur Goldberg had termed him a "fourth-rate hack politician."

Agnew was asked how he would like to be remembered. "As some one who did something and stood for something," he replied.

Girl Blinded By Eclipse Now Sees

TIPTON, Ind. (UPI)—March 7, Ann Turner, 15, stared at the solar eclipse and was blinded. Her doctor said her eyes showed burn inflammation and scars, and she probably never would regain her sight.

Today she can see again. Dr. Samuel Thompson, a Marion eye specialist who first examined Ann after the eclipse, said she had experienced a "medical phenomenon."

When Thompson first looked at her eyes, he said, they showed burn inflammation and scars. They still have some scars, but Ann now has normal vision, Thompson said, although he will examine her periodically for the next year.

"I believe it was a miracle, through the doctor or by natural means," said Ann's mother, Mrs. Coy Turner.

Bike Month Stresses Safety Rules

Police Chief Jim Conner said today the Pampa Police Department is cooperating with community civic clubs in sponsoring programs for American Bike Month.

Conner said a bicycle is a vehicle, the same as an automobile, and riders should take precautions regarding traffic safety.

"The bicyclist should consider himself a driver," Conner said. "He should obey all traffic rules and keep his vehicle in top-notch repair."

Statistics show more than 44 million Americans ride bicycles. "There is a great number of bicycles in Pampa," Conner said. "Kids are very active and use the bikes for practically everything."

Conner said bicycles take a lot of abuse, therefore a preventive maintenance inspection is a good idea.

In Pampa, the Optimist Club is sponsoring a free bicycle safety inspection Saturday at 10 a.m. at 601 E. Craven.

"This program deserves everyone's cooperation," Conner said. "Parents should see to it their kids have their bikes inspected."

Miniskirts Prevent Backaches?

LONDON (UPI)—Two British doctors give the miniskirt credit for being great preventive medicine for backache among young mothers.

Dr. Sydney Harris and Dr. Norman Moss, writing in the current issue of the British Medical Journal, said the short-skirted young mothers of today modestly squat to pick up their children because bending over as their mothers did in days of longer hemlines is too revealing.

"Those who are self-conscious are doing themselves a world of good," Dr. Moss said. "They use their legs for lifting over they will feel the benefit over the next 10 or 20 years."

Nixon Promises To Lower Voice To Shouting Rioters

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With the first of what may grow to be 100,000 young protesters already in the streets of Washington, President Nixon has promised to lower his voice. The demonstrators, however, are still at odds with the government on where they can mass Saturday so Nixon will hear their shouts.

The President, who only recently labeled some college demonstrators "bums," told eight university presidents during a private White House meeting Thursday the administration would temper its criticism of the protest movement. He said the rest of his team, presumably including the sharply critical Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, shared his view.

But the scene of Saturday's outpouring remained in conflict. Organizers of the protest Thursday night backed off from an earlier demand that they be given Lafayette Park, a brick-walked Victorian square across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, barely a half-block from Nixon's front door. Instead, the protest leaders are demanding they be given the Ellipse—an open, grassy square block directly south of the White House, but separated from the mansion by the long and secluded south lawn.

A federal judge has ruled anything within one block of the White House, including the Ellipse, off-limits to demonstrators.

Cleanup Week Moving Along

Pampa's annual Cleanup Week campaign moves into its second week Monday with Ward 2 being the target for city trucks to haul away trash.

Ward 2 is the area north of E. Foster and east of Cuyler and Mary Ellen streets.

R.B. Cooke, public works director, said today nearly 50 loads of rubbish were hauled from Ward 1 in the first week of the drive which started last Monday.

"We're hoping Ward 2 residents will busy themselves with cleanup chores during the weekend and have trash ready Monday morning for pick up," Cooke said.

The public works director also reminded dog owners that Saturday will be the last day for them to get a special low-rate fee for vaccinations at Pampa veterinarians.

Car Agency Burglarized

MCLEAN (Staff) — Gray County Sheriff's officers were continuing the investigation of a burglary at Ted Simmons Chevrolet here this morning.

Deputies said someone entered the business sometime Thursday night or early this morning and took an estimated $1,000 in hand tools and tape players.

Owner Ted Simmons said the burglars entered by breaking out a window. He said damage to the window was only minor.

The intruders are believed to have left the garage through the front door, leaving it unlocked. Simmons said the office was ransacked, but nothing was taken.

Deputies were still on the scene at mid-morning, taking photographs and fingerprints.

protest, warned the government it be allowed to "hold a peaceful demonstration in the Ellipse area, or we will hold in Lafayette Park and the government will have to accept the consequences."

The President's news conference tonight, nationally televised at 10 p.m. EDT, is likely to provide a forum from which he would seek to report on the progress of the Cambodian military campaign, and seek to dampen some of the protest spirit. Nixon also invited the nation's 50 governors to a White House meeting Monday to discuss "the disruption of peace, violence and potential violence throughout the nation."

Student Demonstrators Plan Peak Protest This Weekend

By United Press International Strikes and demonstrations at hundreds of colleges and university campuses mounted today toward a peak of protest planned for the weekend.

Tear gas was used to disperse crowds of protesters at the Universities of Wisconsin, Kentucky and West Virginia, and 12 persons were wounded by birdshot at the State University of New York in Buffalo.

A United Press International count showed at least 191 colleges and universities closed by order of school or state officials. Thousands of students at other schools stayed away from classes on "strike."

All of California's 23 state colleges and universities as well as most major private schools and 54 of 92 community colleges were closed.

The newly formed "National Strike Information Center" at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., said 356 schools were striking with faculty or administrative support.

In Buffalo, N.Y., the injured students were believed to have been hit by shotgun fire from other students.

About 400 state police in riot gear dispersed a crowd of 1,500 West Virginia University demonstrators with tear gas Thursday.

At Lexington, Ky., National Guardsmen and state troopers used tear gas to break up a rally by 250 University of Kentucky students.

National Guardsmen used tear gas when students pelted the Southern Illinois University security police with rocks. At least 15 persons were arrested after the rock barrage ended.

About 1,000 National Guardsmen and 200 Champaign-Urbana police patrolled the University of Illinois campus during the night. Five persons were arrested for throwing rocks at a rally attended by 5,000 UI students.

Eight demonstrators were injured and nine arrested in Meleets at New York's Union Square Park. The demonstrators staged a sit-down that blocked traffic on 14th Street for more than an hour before mounted and helmeted police cleared them away.

Students Go Into Jails To Teach Academic Subjects

NEW YORK (UPI)—Many Joe Colleges went to jail last summer to teach prisoners academic subjects.

Other students spent the long hot months aiding boys and girls on probation or running playgrounds on steamy asphalt streets.

At dozens of city halls, male and female college students helped man complaint departments, aided city planners, and pitched in where needed.

This summer more than 10,000 students will do such things and many more in 80 cities—helping to oil the squeaking wheels of city life as members of the Urban Corps.

Students are involved in every aspect of public affairs, ranging from legal research and pollution control to community development and remedial education," says Michael B. Goldstein, director of the Urban Corps National Development Office.

"There assignments will be based upon needs and priorities of the individual communities, and their own interests, experience and objectives."

The first Urban Corps was launched four years ago by Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York. Two years ago, the Ford Foundation provided funds for the development office—to expand the role of creative students in cities nationwide.

Urban Corps programs in Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Atlanta, New Orleans and St. Louis each anticipate several hundred participants this summer.

mer. And New York City, where it all started, expects nearly 4,000.

City Pays One-Fifth
Most students will be paid between $2.25 and $3.25 an hour, the money coming primarily from Uncle Sam through the college work-study program. One-fifth of the pay comes from the city.

In this era of college students wanting to be involved, the Urban Corps provides the opportunity for constructive involvement.

Pampa City Of Many Churches And Fine School Facilities

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the last in a series of articles pinpointing the Chamber of Commerce "Pride In Pampa" theme designating Pampa as the industrial, business, recreational, educational, religious and cultural hub of the Top O' Texas area. Today's article deals with Pampa's church and school facilities.

By TEX DEWESE
News Staff Writer

Pampa long has been noted for its fine church facilities and excellent schools.

There are seven elementary schools, two junior high and one senior high school in the public school system.

The total enrollment is approximately 6,000 pupils. Some 1,400 pupils attend the Pampa Senior High School. Robert E. Lee Junior High has a population of around 850 and Pampa Junior High, 750.

The ten public schools comprise the Pampa Independent School District. Pampa also has two parochial schools.

St. Vincent's Catholic School, operated by the Sisters of Charity of Incarnate Word, provides education for some 200 pupils from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

St. Matthews Day School, an Episcopal school, has an enrollment of around 100 pupils in pre-kindergarten and grades 1 and 2.

The public school system currently is going through a city-wide updating program in its physical facilities as the result of a $900,000 bond issue approved by voters in March of last year.

The improvements include athletics, band-music building, science wing, new cafeterias, parking lots, building repairs, central library learning center, girls' gym, parking lots, etc.

School administrative offices now are located in the renovated Carver School.

All improvements provided in the nearly $1-million bond issue are expected to be completed by the opening of the 1970-71 school term next September.

There are approximately 280 teachers in the school system and the average teacher-student ratio is around 1 to 20.

The school system is affiliated with the Texas Education Agency and the Southern Association of Secondary Schools. Pampa is within 75 miles of West Texas State University and within 40 miles from junior colleges at Glendon and Borger.

In the church category, Baptists and Methodists lead in the number of churches with 11 and 5 respectively. Other denominations represented among the 41 churches in the city are Apostolic, Assembly of God, Catholic, Christian, Christian Science, Church of Christ, Church of the Brethren, Church of Episcopal, Four-square Gospel, Jehovah Witnesses, Latter Day Saints, Lutheran, Nazarene, Pentecostal and Presbyterian.

Pampa is truly a City of Churches and fine schools. There are other salient facts about Pampa that should be noted in this final article on the many things in which Pampans take pride.

Among these:
In its city government Pampa is a home rule city with a mayor, four city commissioners and a city manager. The mayor and commissioners are elected on an alternate 2-year basis without party affiliation.

The city has adequate plus fire and police protection, water street and parks departments. Pampa is the county seat of Gray County. The county judge and four county commissioners are nominated and elected on a two-party election basis to 4-year terms.

There are two hospitals in Pampa—Worley and Highland General. Worley is privately operated and Highland General is a county hospital now undergoing complete modernization of facilities and expansion of bed space under a $900,000 bond issue improvement program authorized by county voters.

Highland General Hospital is accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals and is affiliated with the American and Texas Hospital Associations and the American Medical Association. The city also has seven private clinics operated by local physicians and surgeons.

The City of Pampa also maintains Lovett Memorial Library, one of the finest libraries in the Texas Panhandle.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—James Arness, embarking on his 16th year as Marshal Matt Dillon in television's "Gunsmoke," has a word of advice to movie stars rushing into video series:

Don't count the number of scenes and lines that fall to you.

"Because actors are hams by definition, the more lines they read and the oftener their faces are seen on screen, the happier they are."

But television audiences rebel and tune out. The show is canceled and the great profile or glamour girl can't figure why.

Arness has endured by applying reverse techniques.

He limits his scenes and lines sufficiently to give viewers the illusion that they are seeing a great deal more of him than is the case. Often he cuts his own lines.

Gives Viewers a Rest
"Maybe part of the success of the series is the fact that the lead characters back of a little and give the viewers a rest," the big (6-foot 7-inch) fellow said.

"There is a different psychology between the theater screen and the television screen."

"With too much dialogue an actor can talk himself right off the air. People get tired of looking at him and listening to him."

"I try to do a heavy show four or five times a year. By that I mean I will play the major figure in the story. The rest of the time I don't press it too much. Other characters take over."

"If you notice the shows that have been on the air the longest are the ones where the so-called star isn't on screen all the time."

Do Not Oversell
Arness, Fred MacMurray, Lorne Greene and others cannot be accused of oversell. Neither do they overexpose themselves by appearing on talk shows and as guests on other series.

Arness, whose contract expired with CBS last year, signed up again because the show is in the top ten and he enjoys the work.

"I haven't the urge to try anything else," he said, grinning.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market cannot be expected to rally until there is some improvement in the bond market, Argus Research Corp. observes. Many top-quality stocks are available now at what later will seem bargain prices. However, while the Cambodian operation has not yet significantly changed the economic outlook, "investors should proceed with some caution until it can be determined whether the United States is continuing on a withdrawal plan or is entering an expanded war," the company says.

The decline in many issues has reached an emotional stage, and predictions as to the market's immediate future "would seem to be on thin ice," E. F. Hutton says. There is some hope, at least, in the fact that extensive declines do not usually occur on top of such extreme oversold conditions. There have been only a handful of times in recent years when the cumulative margin of declines over advances has exceeded that piled up during the past 10 days, and in most such cases rallies soon followed.

Only conclusive evidence that a final bottom has been reached, or some other bullish incentive, could restore confidence to the overall market, and these are both still lacking, Hayden, Stone says. However, the fact that the pessimistic psychology is so unanimous and has become so popular makes it difficult to believe that the market is very far from a sudden surprise turning point.

WT Student Lashes Out At SDS Organization

CANYON, Tex. — A national student government officer from Pampa lashed out at Students for a Democratic Society leader Mark Rudd during a recent address at an Iowa education convention.

David Harmon, functions vice-president of the Association of Student Governments and a junior government and speech major at West Texas State University, criticized Rudd and the SDS for their alleged role in the Columbia University rioting in 1968.

Harmon made the remarks at the annual Pacific Northwest Conference on Higher Education, held last week at the College of Great Falls in Great Falls, Iowa.

"It is hypocrites such as Rudd and other revolutionaries," Harmon said, "that make responsible change difficult, if not impossible."

"Such leaders want to widen the gulf that exists between students and administrators. Yet we realize we can't open minds by cracking skulls," he added.

Harmon said the Institute for Defense Analysis and the construction of a gymnasium were key issues around which the Columbia protests were organized.

He also said Rudd was quoted by the Boston Globe during a Harvard University speech as saying "Let me tell you, we manufactured the issues at Columbia. The Institute for Defense Analysis is nothing — just three professors and the gym is bull. I didn't even know how to get to the gym until the demonstration started."

Harmon said many universities which have been the scene of political demonstrations were penalized through repressive legislation.

"When legislators pass laws which take funds from universities, they are playing into the hands of these radicals whose goal it is to 'shut down' the universities, and eventually the system," he said.

He then warned of student activists who present demands to a university which can't be met.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I woke up one morning this week and discovered that I wasn't guilty about anything. So I began to feel guilty about not feeling guilty.

I picked up the telephone and dialed the local "Dial-A-Guilt" number, a recording sponsored by the Group Guilt Foundation.

Anytime you run low on individual guilt feelings, you can dial this number and the recording will suggest a group guilt that you can share in.

The group guilt special for that day was mistreatment of the Indians. For my purposes, it was a poor selection.

Feels Umbrage Not Guilt. I happen to have a little Indian blood myself. (One of my great-grandfathers was rumored to have been the illegitimate son of Running Back, a Navajo rug salesman.) Ergo, the mistreatment of Indians makes me feel umbrage rather than guilt.

Thus wroth, I walked out into the springtime. The sun was shining. Birds were tweeting and tweets were birding. Brambles were overrunning the law.

I loaded my sprayer with 10-2-L-7 and began spraying the rambles, whereupon my wife appeared on the back stoop.

"Hypocrite!" she called. "Why are you calling me a hypocrite?"

"You write columns deploring environmental pollution and then you spray your own lawn with 10-2-L-7."

"What's hypocritical about that?"

"Didn't you read about 10-2-L-7 in the paper? In laboratory tests, mice injected with massive amounts of 10-2-L-7 were found to have developed bad cases of athlete's foot."

Guilt Can Be Wonderful. For the first time that day, I felt guilty. Which can be a wonderful feeling. Which proves there are two kinds of guilt: Good guilt and bad guilt.

For years, I have felt guilty about letting brambles overrun my lawn. That is bad guilt.

But now I discover that if I spray the brambles with 10-2-

LX-7, I am polluting the environment. That is good guilt. For it means I no longer have to feel guilty about letting brambles overrun my lawn.

Consequently, the outlook for the summer is much improved. If anti-pollution researchers will keep finding things for me to feel guilty about, I can sit back and guiltlessly let the entire yard go to pot.

NEWS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon will hold a news conference Friday, his second of the year and first since he announced sending troops into Cambodia.

No time was set, but Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he assumed the news conference would be televised.

PRECAUTIONS WASTED

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Authorities sealed off a two-block area and closed all businesses when a pint of liquid found in a young woman's refrigerator was believed to be pure nitroglycerine strong enough to blow up four city blocks.

Miss Jackie Semay, 22, said a friend gave her the substance when she had to drive home alone late at night and told her if anyone bothered her, to throw it at them. Chemists analyzed the substance Wednesday. It was glue.

Truman Hearty But Hampered At 86!

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (UPI) — Harry S. Truman, hampered by arthritis but still able to take an occasional morning stroll, will be 86 Friday.

He'll celebrate in the almost total seclusion that has confined his life in recent years. There'll be a birthday party as usual in nearby Kansas City, an event he last attended in 1966.

Seldom, these days, is Truman seen. His quiet life is shared almost exclusively by Mrs. Truman—who was 85 last February—in their big white frame house at 219 S. Delaware St., only a few blocks from the town square. Most of his days focus on reading newspapers and accounts of history, friends say. There are few visitors to the Truman home, surrounded by a six-foot high, black wrought-iron fence.

Library Is Near By. Less than a mile away is the Truman Library, which contains more than 3.5 million of the former President's letters, documents and records of his administration.

Occasionally when weather permits, Truman strolls Delaware and his streets nearby. A dark suit and dark hat hang loosely on his now thin frame. The brisk pace has been slowed by age, and the walking stick he once swung jauntily at his side is now a cane.

Police Lt. Paul "Mike" Westwood, a long-time friend, is always at his side. A conspicuous, sleek black car—driven by a Secret Service agent—is no more than few feet away.

Except for those rare walks, Truman's only other known trips away from the family home are to the barbershop a block away, to the doctor or dentist and for an occasional ride with Mrs. Truman in the family car chauffeured by Westwood.

Play Dramatizes Years. The premiere presentation of "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" opened Thursday night, highlighting "Salute to Harry S. Truman Week" in Kansas City. The two-act documentary play dramatizes Truman's White House years.

Even a group of Pennsylvania Republicans are honoring Truman. In Southampton Township near Teveos, Pa., the Republican club's theme Friday for its annual spring dance is "Give 'Em Hell, Harry!" The club even invited Truman to attend. "He had a lot of guts, to use a modern term," said Tom Welsh, club president. "He really told it like it was."

CEREMONY PLAGUED. MADISON, N.J. (UPI) — Drew University officials are trying to decide whether they dare to hold graduation ceremonies outdoors on the tree-shaded campus. An invasion of cicadas forced everyone to take shelter in the gymnasium during the ceremonies in 1962 and this year the college's zoology department warned there might be a plague of locusts.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department said Wednesday Sgt. John L. Ward of Ft. Bliss died recently in Southeast Asia but not as a result of hostile action.

I appreciate very much the vote of confidence given me by the Republican Primary voters on May 2. I especially thank the voters of Gray County for their overwhelming support. I will do my best to merit this confidence.

My opponent, Jack Hart, campaigned vigorously, but fairly, and I thank him and his supporters for the manner in which his campaign was conducted. I look forward to working with Jack in the future.

During the next few months I will be traveling around the district, getting acquainted with all the voters, regardless of political affiliation. I believe you and I can work together effectively to realize many of the opportunities we have in this area of the Panhandle. Blackmun Nomination Goes On Calendar

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun went on the Senate calendar today. Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said it will be considered Monday.

With no opposition in sight, the confirmation debate was expected to be short and laudatory. Blackmun thus will be able to take his seat in time for reopening of court May 13.

Blackmun, 61, is a judge of the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. A Republican, he lives in Rochester, Minn., where he served as resident counsel for the Mayo Clinic for nine years before President Dwight D. Eisenhower appointed him to the federal bench in 1959.

Blackmun was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas nearly one full year ago. Two other U.S. circuit judges—Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina and G. Harrold Carswell of Florida—failed to win Senate confirmation to fill the vacancy.

Cary Grant Denies Fatherhood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Cary Grant, 65, denied today that he is the father of a child born to Cynthia Bouron, 32, a former studio employe who named the actor in a paternity suit.

Miss Bouron, of Beverly Hills, gave birth to Stephanie Andrea last March 12.

Fatherhood

"Of course I'm not the father," Grant said. "If I were, I'd be more than proud to admit it. But it happens to be a fact that I am not the father of the child."

Famous Flower Mart Moving

LONDON (UPI)—Covent Garden market, where bawdy tarts once frolicked among the turnip vendors, celebrates its 300th birthday Saturday.

"We've been 'moving' since bloody and we ain't budged an inch yet."

The famous flower, fruit and vegetable wholesaling place in the heart of London is moving to a larger site south of the River Thames in 1972.

"You're joking me, old darlin'," one porter recently told a newsman as he pushed a barrowload of brussels sprouts.

"We've been 'moving' since bloody and we ain't budged an inch yet."

Another porter chimed in: "When? Go on, you tell me when. Once it was Caledonian Road, then somewhere in Essex we were going to. "Next time, it'll be China. Come back in 10 years and we'll still be here, mate. You listen to me . . ."

Covent Garden today handles 15 per cent of all fruit and vegetables grown in Britain. It covers 6½ acres, whereas the new site at Nine Elms will have 64 acres.

Behind will stay the ghosts of the real and the fictional who over three centuries trod the market's cobblestones—Henry Higgins and Eliza Doolittle, Nell Gwynne, Dr. Samuel Johnson and James Boswell, Betty Careless, and Moll King. Saturday will not be the time for tears, though. From noon until midnight, there will be dancing, drinking, boxing matches, barrow races and Punch and Judy shows.

Prince Pushes Button
A brass band will thump out "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and Prince Philip will press a button that remotely detonates a charge to start clearing the $72 million new market site at Nine Elms in Battersea.

Royalty gave Covent Garden its lease on life. And royalty thus takes it away.

The market was chartered in 1670 by King Charles II, who had a vested interest in fruit sellers. His mistress, Nell Gwynne, was an orange seller when she won royal favor.

Ripe and ribald were the 300 years of history that followed. Britons fondly call Covent Garden "The National Cabbage Patch."

But wenching and debauchery flourished there in the 17th and 18th centuries, leading Sir John Fielding to call it "the great squade of Venus . . . the resort of abandoned rakes and shameless prostitutes."

Sir John was magistrate at Bow Street Police Court which overlooks the marketplace.

Porters Do Not Believe
Although Covent Garden's death knell is already tolling, many porters insist they will believe the end has come only when they see the stalls being torn down.

JULIE AILING
NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (UPI)—Julie Eisenhower, President Nixon's younger daughter, was admitted to Cooley Dickinson Hospital Tuesday night with a "severe gastro-intestinal upset." URGE WITHDRAWAL
NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Jewish Congress Wednesday urged the United States to withdraw its troops from Cambodia and the Soviet Union to send its forces home from Egypt. Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and my husband is 23. We've been married for a year and a half, and have a six-month-old son, which is the only reason I don't just pack up and leave.

My husband is worse than an old man. When he comes home from work, he kisses me, then goes in to look at the baby, then he buries his face in the newspaper until dinner. After dinner he can't get into bed fast enough — because that's where the television set is.

Our sex life is, like — forget it. He says he had so much sex before marriage he doesn't even think about it anymore. (That doesn't happen to be true in my case, but it doesn't bother him.)

When I want a little affection he makes me feel like a dirty old lady. I don't want to raise only one child, but if I ever get pregnant again it will be a miracle.

He is a hard-working man, a good person, really, but he is a lousy lover. Please tell me what to do.

HUNGRY FOR LOVE
DEAR HUNGRY: Something is wrong with your husband. It's either physical, mental, or emotional. True, not all sexual appetites are the same, but your husband's is sadly below par. Keep nagging him until he gets help. If he is a "good person," he will realize that you are not a "flower-born to blush unseen, and waste your sweetness on the desert air."

DEAR ABBY: I am simply amazed at the response I continue to receive since my letter appeared in your column. It concerned the cruel tradition of denying brides the privilege of wearing white unless they were "pure."

Of some 150 letters I received, only ten were negative. They suggested that I was encouraging promiscuity, which I did not, nor would I approve.

The pathetic tragedies of human suffering that have scarred the lives of so many persons needlessly is unbelievable.

When I offered you the use of my name, I had no idea you

Food produced in the U.S. is adequate to provide each person in the country with each nutrient need every day. The entire range of nutrients available in 1966 was above the recommended dietary allowances of the National Research Council.

Protein, for example, at 96 grams per person available is well above 65 grams, which is what men over 22 need, or the 55 grams needed by women of the same age.

Other essential nutrients such as the B vitamins, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin, plus the mineral, iron, are also available in adequate amounts on a per capita basis.

would include my church and its location. But I am now grateful to you for the gifts of kindness I have been able to receive because of it. I wish I were as good as some people perceive me to be.

My only regret was when I read my letter in your column, I saw that I had committed an error by referring to "black" as a symbol of evil or wrong. This is another cruel tradition carried on by our white racist culture unconsciously. One person wrote to me, critically because of it, and I sent her my apology.

PAUL WHIPPLE, (Minister)
DEAR REVEREND WHIPPLE: You sound like a man I'd like to know.

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago our son died. Friends and relatives kept us company up until the day of the funeral. Then we were left all alone.

I know they probably felt that the family wanted to be alone, which is so untrue, Abby. That was the time when we needed friends the most.

Many would call and ask us to come over. But we didn't really feel like going out. We aren't the type who would sit and cry and carry on in front of people. We needed our minds taken off our grief. Maybe we're different. Would you please ask your readers who lost someone close if they felt like we did. Or did they want to be left alone?

ALONE IN ANAHEIM
DEAR ALONE: Offhand I'd say you are not different. Perhaps it will help to let people know that people do need people. We share our happiness with our friends. Why not our sorrow?

CONFIDENTIAL TO WILLE MAE: Tell him that it's easy to become a father. It's harder to become a man.

A patio dinner was held at the home of Mrs. A.L. Weathered, attended by members, their husbands and guests from Amarillo. Mrs. W.S. Howell, most excellent chief, presided for the meeting at the Knights of Pythias Hall, 315 N. Nelson.

After a brief business session, the Grand Chief spoke on fundamentals of the Pythian Order, and stressed continued support of the group's altruistic projects. Mrs. McDonald reported on the two Pythian homes, the Children's Home in Weatherford and the Pythian Retirement Home in Greenville. The next regularly scheduled meeting of Pampa Temple No. 41 will be held at 7:45 p.m. Monday, May 11.

Bible Class Has Rest Home Tour

SKELLYTOWN (Sp) — The Women's Afternoon Bible Class of Skellytown Church of Christ met at the church recently as Mrs. Bennie Woodward gave the invocation. A lesson taught by Mrs. Jean Douglas was on conclusion of "Our Children."

After a benediction by Mrs. Grace Smith, the women drove to Pampa to visit residents of Casa Del Nursing Home.

Attending were Meses. Mamie Varnon, Earl Lane, Roy McKissick, Grace Smith, Bennie Woodward, and daughter, Darla, and Jean Douglas.

MUSIC THERAPY

Doctor Prescribes Piano Practicing

NEW YORK (UPI)—On the battlefield, bits of shrapnel tore into the soldier's hands.

In the hospital, doctors wanted the imbedded metal closer to the surface of the wounded man's maimed hands. They wrote a prescription filled by a music therapist instead of a pharmacist. They ordered piano lessons.

The music therapist, whose services were paid for by the musician's emergency fund, taught the convalescent. Through practice on scales and simple pieces, muscles worked the metal up.

Surgeons then removed the splinters in minor surgery. Without the piano exercise, the operation would have been more complicated.

The fund's therapists fill such prescriptions—from group singing to guitar and bongo lessons—in 44 hospitals and treatment centers in eight states and Washington, D.C.

More than 500,000 individual and group sessions have been conducted by the therapists since the fund was called on for such assistance at the end of

Gardening Club Members Install Officer Slate

Mr. and Mrs. Garden Club members, meeting for a dinner program at Furr's Cafeteria, Tuesday, installed new officers and planned a Spring salad supper.

Mrs. Lee Moore installed officers by comparing their lives to a garden and named Mrs. Vivian Ruff as president; Melton Burns, second vice president; L.B. Studebaker, treasurer, and Mrs. Pansey Ballard, recording secretary.

Those attending were Messrs. and Meses. L.B. Studebaker, Melton Burns, Robert Coley, Jay Mitchell, Aubrey Ruff, Bill Morgan, Mrs. Leola Higginbotham and Mrs. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Moore hosted the dinner and social hour. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will host the salad supper at 1901 Duncan at 7 p.m. June 2.

World War II, according to Gladys Douglas-Longmore, director of the hospital program.

The first S.O.S. went out to the fund in 1945. It came from the U.S. Naval Hospital at St. Albans, N.Y. Two wounded sailors booked for long convalescences wanted saxophone lessons.

"The lessons stimulated dozens of other requests from that hospital's patients," Miss Douglas-Longmore said. "The word got around and we had a constant stream of requests from other hospitals and the Veterans Administration."

"The results in terms of physical well-being and mental outlook were a revelation to all concerned. Unwittingly, we found ourselves the pioneers of present-day music therapy."

The fund's original purpose when founded 34 years ago: helping down and out musicians.

In the hospitals doctors learned how study of a musical instrument could help restore muscular coordination of burned areas, wounded joints—all in the pursuit of a pleasant and satisfying activity.

As hospital work grew, emphasis was placed more and more upon music therapy as an aid in treatment and rehabilitation of the mentally ill.

Progressive HD Members Review Cosmetic Tips

Progressive Home Demonstration Club members, meeting at the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. Flame Room, Tuesday participated in a program on cosmetics presented by Mrs. Neal Fulton.

Members attending the program, Mrs. F.L. Symonds and Mrs. J.J. Seitz as hostesses were Meses. B.F. Dorman, G.E. Hogan, E.P. Templin, John Murry, E.L. Trumm and E.A. Revard. Mrs. Seitz won the door prize.

The group will meet again at 1:30 p.m. May 19 in the Flame Room for a program by high school students on drug abuse.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

SATURDAY, MAY 9

Your birthday Saturday: The year ahead is one of extension and improvement of your potentials. Opportunities come abruptly and when you least expect them, so it's best to begin work at once on self-improvement programs: deeper understanding of whatever your present work involves, new skills, and some preparation for possible moves into special activities.

AIRES (March 21 - April 19): Take the day as it comes, without binding contracts or promises. Your patience could wear thin just for the few moments it takes to spoil something nice.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Everything is going for you. People you think you know surprise you with sudden actions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Give others a chance to experiment and to express themselves. You learn more that way.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Older friends are quite helpful, but you must do something in return. A conservative approach, with an eye to the future, shows an almost immediate profit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Keep on quietly putting your ideas together. You can't have your way about everything, as somewhere along the way somebody is going to object to whatever is happening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Promises are all too easy to make and to break Saturday; don't offer or accept any commitment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): That sudden impulse to discard something may not be such a bad thing; do it with zest and style. Relationships are fragile and require much understanding. You provoke people to think and change.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21):

Nobody agrees with you, and it may be nothing more than the need to do their own thinking or the way you present your schemes. Wait until asked and you have a better chance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Saturday you talk faster than you think, and may thereby land yourself in some confusion or embarrassment. Be cognizant of what you are about in competitive situations. Pastimes sports hold your attention in the latter part of the day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): It seems to you that things are not well enough organized, but this is partly your own clear ability to see what might be done. People are not likely to share much of your viewpoint; wait until they see things for themselves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The search for pleasure should not be allowed to overshadow the search for truth and a better way. The tendency is for all around you to be tempted to play both ends against the middle.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - March 20): Pull back a little from intimacy, continuing involvement with people and spend today alone with your thoughts and creative planning. Sketch in the future with broad strokes and a spirit of adventure. The evening returns to normal and much good fun.

What's in A Name
If you ask a florist for a bouquet of daffodils and narcissus, don't be surprised if all the flowers look alike.

Most plants have two names, but usually only one has widespread use. The trumpet-shaped flower of Spring, however, will answer to both its botanical name, narcissus, and its common name, daffodil.

Christian Science

Differences between spiritual and material interpretations of creation in the Bible are brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday. An explanation of conflicting accounts in the first and second chapters of Genesis will be read from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. One citation states: "Spiritually followed, the book of Genesis is the history of the untrus image of God, named a sinful mortal. This deflection of being, rightly viewed, serves to suggest the proper reflection of God and the spiritual actuality of man, as given in the first chapter of Genesis."

Barrett Baptist Church

Dr. Franklin Swanner, evangelist from Plainview, will preach revival services at Barrett Baptist Church, 903 E. Beryl, beginning Sunday through May 17. White Churchmen Give Facilities To Blacks

By LOUIS CASSELS

An Episcopal church in Washington, D.C., has decided to apply to itself the advice Jesus once gave to a rich young man: "Sell all you have and give the money to the poor."

In an action that may be without precedent, the congregation of St. Stephen and the Incarnation Church has voted to give its property to the community it serves. The property is valued at $300,000.

The gesture takes on added significance because St. Stephen is historically a white church, while the community it serves is now overwhelmingly occupied by black people.

Genuinely integrated

St. Stephen has long had a genuinely integrated congregation.

The racial mix is now about 50-50, and concern for the welfare of the people of its neighborhood is no new thing.

The plan calls for creation of a non-profit corporation on whose board of directors the church will have a minority representation, but which will be composed mainly of representatives of community groups.

It is anticipated that this corporation will erect on the land now occupied by the church a 200-unit low rent housing project, which will include facilities for a day care center for children, a senior citizen's center, classrooms for remedial and special education at all ages from pre-school to adults, indoor and outdoor recreational facilities.

Stewardship Plan

To insure its economic soundness, the congregation also has approved a stewardship plan under which each member will be asked to pledge a designated percentage of this income toward the support of the neighborhood as well as the church.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about this project is that it grew out of one of those "reparations" demands that most white churches have found too rude, abrasive and impractical to warrant consideration.

George Hart, the spokesman for the Black United Front who presented the original demand, said the gift St. Stephen is making is "many times what was asked of them."

They wanted to do more than we asked," he said, in a tone of wonderment.

The Weekly Message of Inspiration...

Foursquare Gospel Church

SAM GOODWIN
... pastor

I Was Blind — Now I See

At one point in the life of Jesus, He taught some things that were hard to understand or accept. As a result, the great crowds of people, who had been His followers, began to forsake Him and drift away.

(Jesus never claimed to be a politician or diplomat. Rather, He was concerned with truth.)

Finally, there were left, only a handful of His faithful disciples. Jesus asked them "Do you also want to leave Me?" (The Lord never asks us to stay with Him against our own will.)

Peter replied "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of Divine Life."

What a logical answer! And really, what ARE the alternatives to living The Life Of God? Look at the emptiness and ugliness of life without the Lord and you must ask "To whom shall we go?"

Though we may be slow to grasp and apply His teachings and though, because of doubts we can't always coerce the intellect to accept the miracles, yet, TO WHOM SHALL WE GO? Where can we find a friend like Jesus, one who is so pure and Holy, one who inspires us and believes in us even when we have lost faith in ourselves.

A man whom Jesus had healed of blindness was being questioned by some of Jesus' enemies. They asked him "Do you believe this man Jesus, whom you say healed you, is He the ONE AND ONLY?" And listen to the pure logic in the reply of the former blind man: "Once I was blind but now I see" — let that speak for itself.

If you had a machine that could turn sand into gold, all the scientific proof to the contrary would have to yield if even one ounce of gold were produced. Jesus does not turn sand into gold but He does change lost sinners into saved children of God. You may know someone He has saved. He can do it for you too.

"TO WHOM SHALL WE GO?" Try Jesus.....

Grid Scrimmage Slated Saturday

Pampa High School football candidates will knock heads in the first scrimmage of spring training at 3 p.m. Saturday in Harvester Stadium.

Head football coach Steve Lee invites all interested persons to watch the affair. Films of the controlled practice will be shot and the coaches will grade performances Monday evening to make final position adjustments.

"We will put our number one offense against the best defense we can field, for 20 snaps," Lee said. "Then we'll shoot our second team offense and then our third," he added.

Beaman Leader In Houston Golf; Hogan Fires 71

HOUSTON (UPI)—Deane Beaman, leader by a stroke after one round of the Houston Champions International golf tournament, blamed high winds and the last stretch of killer holes for the run of high scores during the tournament's opening round Thursday.

So did Bruce Crampton, Johnny Pott, Julius Boros, Gary Player, Miller Barber and Homero Blancas. Ben Hogan, playing in a tournament for the first time in three years, birdied two of the last four holes and said, "The wind didn't bother me. It didn't make any difference at all."

The wind was the big subject during the first round of the $115,000 tournament and through it all Beaman fired a 33-35-68 over the 7,166-yard, par 36-35-71 Champion Golf Club's Cypress Creek course to lead Crampton, Bert Greene and Gibby Gilbert by a stroke. The only other players to break par, at one under 70, were Dave Hill, Lee Trevino, Gene Littler, Pott, Tommy Aaron and Dale Douglass.

of the scrimmage is to fully analyze each player. As Lee explains, "We might move some people from the first squad down to the second and move some of the second-squad personnel up to the first team."

After four days of spring training the head football mentor seems well pleased. "So far, the practices have been real encouraging," he commented. "Nearly everyone is giving an honest effort and I've noticed a distinct improvement in our speed."

The Harvesters have worked on fundamentals all week and will continue to do so. Lee added, "We've put a lot of emphasis on the kicking game, 25-30 minutes each day, and there has been continuous individual coaching."

"The boys have been hitting hard, they're scratched and bruised all over, and they'll keep hitting a lot until spring training is over."

Although several people have not been able to practice due to foot and ankle injuries, several others have impressed Lee and his coaching staff with performances so far.

Lee calls Jimmy Clark's ability at defensive end and offensive tackle a "pleasant surprise" and praises the effort of Mike Cummings at center. Noting other players, Lee commented, "Tom Watson has been playing pretty good at split end and I'm well pleased with fullback Jimmy Clark. Halfback Monroe Woods has improved considerably, particularly in his blocking."

Forty-two ninth graders are working out with the high school and although that number is not as large as the coaches would like it to be, they voiced pleasure with the talent. Workouts begin at 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and end at 6 p.m. Controlled scrimmages are slated for Saturdays, except for the final scrimmage in the same manner as a regular game.

Steve Scott's fifth-inning grand-slam homer over the wall in deep center enabled Pampa's Harvesters to end their season in grand style Thursday at Optimist Park with a 10-8 victory over District 4-AAAA champion Lubbock Monterey.

With the Harvesters trailing, 8-6, the Pampa centerfielder unloaded on PAMPA SHORTSTOP Ross Holman awaits a popup off the bat of Monterey's Duane Griffith in the third inning.

Plainsman pitcher Billy Sorrells to provide the winning margin.

"It felt great," said Scott, who also slammed a double in the second frame. "It's the greatest thing that's happened to me."

Pampa finished with a 9-9 district mark and upped its season record to 14-10 in ending a three-game losing streak.

The Plainsmen, who clinched the district banner with a 5-2 victory over Plainview Tuesday, won 15 games against three losses in district action and ended their schedule with a 21-6 mark.

Under the direction of coach Bobby Moegle, the Plainsmen have worn 10 of the last 11 district baseball crowns. Lubbock High stole it away in 1964.

Southpaw Sammy Heasley relieved Harvester starter Doug Thompson in fourth after two were out and Monterey was leading, 8-6. Heasley shut out the Hub City team through the next three innings, striking out 7 giving up two hits, two walks and hitting one batter.

Thompson walked seven and served four hits during his stint. The win pushed Heasley's mound record to 5-3.

Billy Sorrells, who came in from short to relieve Monterey starter Donnie Baker in the third, absorbed the loss. Donnie Moore relieved Baker in the fifth.

Pampa took a three-run lead in the first with only Ross Holman, who bunted down the third base line, registering a hit.

Two Monterey errors and two walks were responsible for the outburst. Back to back doubles by Scott and Mike Edgar in the second gave the Harvesters a 4-0 lead.

A double by Tim West drove in three runs for Monterey in the top half of the third but Tommy Hawkins' two-run homer in the bottom of the frame kept Pampa in command, 6-3.

Hawkins' blast cleared the centerfield barrier in the same place as Scott's.

Roaring back, the loop champs tallied five times in their half of the fourth when Thompson had control trouble.

Thompson walked two, hit one batter and allowed three singles before Heasley came in to get the third out.

The Harvesters put runners on first and second with nobody out in the bottom of the frame but left them stranded.

Setting the stage for Scott's grand-slam, Jerry Lindsey walked, Heasley singled and Holman walked to load the bases. Scott then rapped a 1-1 pitch over the wall in straightaway center to wrap up the scoring and insure Pampa's victory.

The Harvesters went on to load the bases with two gone in the same frame but couldn't bring them around.

Monterey placed runners on third with no outs in both the sixth and seventh innings but Heasley quickly struck out the side in each frame.

REED STILL DOUBTFUL

NBA Crown On Line In New York Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI)—Will Willis Reed play?

If he does, how effective will he be? These are the questions haunting the New York Knicks-robbers as they prepare to tackle the Los Angeles Lakers at Madison Square Garden tonight in the deciding game of the best-of-seven series for the National Basketball Association title.

Reed, who suffered a severe hip injury in the first quarter of game No. 5 and missed three quarters of that game plus all of game No. 6, is given a 50-50 chance by the team physician, Dr. James Parkes, to start tonight's game.

The Knicks managed to win the fifth game even without Reed in one of the most inspired games ever seen at the Garden. But, given two days to adjust, the Lakers overwhelmed them, 135-113, in game No. 6 with Wilt Chamberlain completely dominating the proceedings. Playing against an assortment of centers much smaller than him, Wilt poured in 45 points and grabbed 27 rebounds, with most of his points coming on dunks and short shovel shots.

Reed is capable of stopping Chamberlain if he is stopping enough, but the doctor doesn't see how that can possibly be. The question then remains: Is a Reed on one leg better than a Reed at all?

Dave DeBusschere, whose job it will be to get most of the rebounds if Reed does not play, isn't quite sure.

"We are just an ordinary team without Willis," says DeBusschere, whose job it will be to get most of the rebounds if Reed does not play, isn't quite sure.

DeBusschere. "We might win, but it would take a superhuman effort. I'd rather have Willis in there if only for a little while. With Wilt making up his mind to go to the hoop like he did, five little guys can't do it. There's virtually no way to stop him."

The Lakers' Jerry West concurs. "If Wilt goes to the hoop like that again, there's no way we can lose," he said.

HAYWOOD LEADS TEAM

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spencer Haywood of the Denver Rockets, who previously was named the American Basketball Association's Most Valuable Player, led the All-Rookie team announced Thursday by the league.

Also named to the squad were Willie Wise and Mac Calvin of the Los Angeles Stars, Mike Barrett of the Washington Caps and John Brisker of the Pittsburgh Pipers.

ON DISABLED LIST

CHICAGO (UPI)—Catcher Duane Josephson was placed on the 21-day disabled list by the Chicago White Sox Thursday after suffering a broken finger in Wednesday night's game with the Cleveland Indians.

Josephson is one of the White Sox' leading hitters this year with a .305 average and 11 runs batted in.

SHANNON OKAY

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Dr. Stan London said Thursday that third baseman Mike Shannon has not suffered any adverse effects from workouts he has been taking with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mayo Catches 7 lb. Catfish

This tasty channel catfish, shown by S. E. Mayo of Box 331, Miami, and his nephew, Gerald Heyden of Pampa, was just caught in a Roberts County pond.

The fish measured 24 and 3 1/4 inches, was caught on a rod and reel, and was lured by a live waterdog. Mayo and Gerald reported the catch to the Sport Afield Station at Pampa Tent & Awning Co., 317 E. Brown, phone 665-8541. Adv.

New AAA, AA Track Champions Expected At State Contest Today

AUSTIN (UPI)—New champions are virtually assured in both divisions as the Class AAA and AA Interscholastic League state track and field meet unfolds today at the University of Texas Memorial Stadium.

Angleton, the reigning champion in Class AAA, has only two entries in the state meet this year, and defending conference AA champ Fort Worth Kirkpatrick failed to qualify a single man for the title run.

Lubbock Estacado is favored to replace Angleton in Class AAA, but the conference AA competition is wide open. Crane, Karnes City and a week ago today.

Gaidwell appear on paper to have the strongest chances for the AA crown. Wichita Falls Herschel, which had the state's best time in the Class AA Amile relay—lost its chance for a state title in that event when coach Herby Carr announced Thursday two members of the foursome were dismissed for "disciplinary reasons."

Carr refused to elaborate. But runners Dwight Johnson, 18, and Herbert Smith, 17, were charged Wednesday with arson in connection with $2,000 fire competition is wide open. Crane, Karnes City and a week ago today.

House Members Make Public Financial Worth

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U.S. Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., who introduced legislation to require House members to make a complete disclosure of financial holdings, has yet to make his own complete list.

The listings, required by all House members to make a complete disclosure of financial holdings, has yet to make his own complete list. But the list he submitted for the committee showed several changes from the one for last year.

Bush and Rep. Jim Collins, R-Tex., had the most impressive listings. Both are Republican millionaires.

Required by Law

The yearly listing, required by law of all House members, could be only a fraction of a congressman's holdings, because the law requires no showing of smaller transactions.

The requirement is that House members show publicly their links worth over $5,000 to any business doing "substantial business" with the federal government, their professional work giving them income over $1,000 or in which they hold offices, and their income—or capital gains over $5,000.

They list the sources of their substantial holdings, but the value does not have to be shown publicly.

Some Omissions

Collins, of the Texas 3rd District, listed substantially the same long list of 1969 stock holdings as in 1968, with some omissions.

Collins listed stock or other interests in 31 different firms, including U.S. Steel, Standard of New Jersey, some South American firms, some gold companies in South Africa, and foundations.

He said he sold stock in 1969 in General Motors, Southern Pacific, Phelps Dodge, Kennecott Copper and Technical Corp. (on the Toronto Stock Exchange). He has real estate interests in Texas and Georgia.

Bush, who has introduced legislation to require House members to make a complete disclosure, has yet to make his own personal full list. But the list he submitted for the committee showed several changes from the one for 1968.

Holdings Increase

He listed stock in 29 firms, including 12 that were not on the 1968 list. Many of his holdings in companies increased in 1969, he said, and his omissions showed he sold some stock, apparently not for any substantial capital gains. The stock included AT&T, Columbia Broadcasting, R. J. Reynolds, IBM, and several in which he purchased bonds.

Bush listed among his capital gains transactions with stock in shares of Laine Wood, Inc.

Bush noted he has no way of knowing which of his companies have had business with the federal government — one criterion of listing. But he said his interest "is for investment purposes only," and his sales are handled by a broker.

Full Listing Later

Later this month, he said, he will make a full financial listing public, including material the House committee does not require.

These showed no financial holdings or gains that fall under the requirements — Reps. Wright Patman, John Dowdy, Earle Cabell, Olin Teague, Jim Wright, Graham Purcell, John Young, Eligio de la Garza, Richard White, Bob Price, George Mahon, Henry Gonzalez, O. F. Fisher, and Abraham Kazen.

Ray Roberts — Stock in 1st Federal Savings and Loan, McKinney; Nalco Chemical, J. C. Penney; real estate interest in Roberts Brothers, McKinney; and gains from sale of real estate.

Robert Eckhardt — Proprietor of his law firm.

Mostly in Banks

Jack Brooks — Stock in Security Title and Trust, Main Bank, Medical Center Bank, University Savings and Loan, Beaumont State Bank, Silsbee State Bank, Vidor State Bank, and stock and chairmanship of the board at Neches National Bank and First of Groves Corp. He showed as other income Long insurance, Twin City Credit Life Insurance, and Continental Telephone stock.

J. J. "Jake" Pickle — Reported land dealings by himself and in coownership with others. Net income from one holding in Austin came to $389.50 in 1969, he said and his partner also traded some land with the Scottish Rite bodies and bought some land financed through the Veterans Land Board. Austin condemned 551 acres of his land and gave an award of $350 an acre, he said, which is being appealed.

WASHINGTON—Anthony J. Moffett, President Nixon's youth director, explaining his reasons for resigning: "I think the inflammatory language used by the President in the past 10 days and by the vice president and others over a period of months has served to divide the country, not bring the country together."

W. R. "Bob" Poage — He said he received nothing in 1969, but in January of 1970, he got $9,200 as principal and interest on money advanced to the Smith-Poage farm partnership. Omad Burleston — Stock certificate in Citizens National Bank, Breckenridge. Bob Casey — Stock in Bayshore National Bank, Spring Branch Bank, Union Bank, Missouri City State Bank, and Bank of North Texas.

Government Making It Easier To Buy Securities On Credit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government is making it easier to buy securities on credit in an effort to shore up the stock market and prevent Wall Street from sucking the nation into a major recession.

"They must be worried over what the drop in the stock market is doing to business sentiment," one government economist said in analyzing the Federal Reserve Board's decision Tuesday to cut the stock margin requirement from 80 per cent to 65 per cent.

The margin requirement is the cash down payment required to purchase stock on credit.

To buy stocks on the margin beginning today, a purchaser must put up 65 per cent of the price in cash. He may obtain a loan from his broker or a bank to finance the other 35 per cent. Usually, the stock certificates are used as collateral for the loan.

If the value of the stock falls to the outstanding amount of the loan, the broker or banker may sell off the stock to satisfy the loan. A low margin requirement can help foil a crash by encouraging brokers to "sell out" customers who might prefer to hold onto the securities. But government sources said they do not expect a drop that would produce "margin calls" even at the new rate.

The Federal Reserve's move, which took effect Wednesday, reduces the downpayment required for a stock purchase to the lowest point in 6½ years.
