Politicians Blitz Hawaiian Isles

HONOLULU (UPI)—Hawaii goes into its last-in-the-nation primary election Saturday with a campaign blitz the likes of which has never been seen here before.

Charges and counter-charges about campaign spending and professional public relations help have overshadowed the issues in the hot Democratic governor's race between two-term incumbent John A. Burns and Lt. Gov. Thomas P. Gill. Gill, accusing Burns of "hiding behind a TV tube," has charged the governor with hiring four mainland public relations firms and spending upwards of $500,000—a tidy sum in a state with only 282,470 registered voters. Burns has accused Gill of conducting the same kind of professional "slick" campaign.

Majority Party
Burns put together the coalition that turned the Democrats into the state's majority party 16 years ago, and political observers say if he is defeated many Burns supporters may well bolt to the GOP, where a candidate with a name magic to many Hawaii voters is favored to be nominated. The Republican favorite is former Judge Samuel P. King, whose father was the first territorial governor with Hawaiian blood. King's opponent is conservative Hebdon Porteus, a 30-year veteran of the state legislature.

None of Hawaii's congressional delegation, Republican Sen. Hiram L. Fong or Democratic Reps. Spark M. Matsunaga and Patsy T. Mink, faces primary opposition. Fong and Matsunaga are heavily favored to win re-election in November; Mrs. Mink has no Republican opposition and is assured of re-election.

When it comes to the Burns-Gill race, all bets are off. Polls say the contest is too close to call, although Burns has pulled even and perhaps even slightly ahead after an early Gill lead. Four years ago Burns lost Honolulu, which has nearly 80 per cent of the statewide vote, but won election because of heavy support on the other islands. Some observers say his neighbor island support has diminished.

Ignores Gill
Burns, 61, has remained aloof from much of the day-to-day campaigning, running on his record and generally ignoring Gill. He has spoken at public events only on limited occasions, and never when other gubernatorial candidates are present. His primary campaign vehicle has been saturation spot television commercials in both

English and Japanese, and a half-hour professional produced television film which has been shown at least a dozen times in the past month.

Gill, a 48-year-old liberal who won the lieutenant governorship in 1966 after beating a primary candidate supported by Burns, has been described as being in the Kennedy mold and has made his basic election issues the quality of life in Hawaii and the caliber of the political appointments Burns has made.

Improvement is liberty since by freedom there are as many possible centers of improvements as there are individuals.

Bush Here For 'Burger Feed In Park

U.S. Representative George Bush, (R) candidate for the U.S. senate, is expected to arrive in Pampa by air around 5:45 p.m. today for the Hamburger Supper slated for 6:30 p.m. today in Hobart Street Park.

Flanking the Republican candidate will be Dallas Cowboy grid stars Tackle Bob Lilly and Quarterback Roger Staubach.

Bush's Gray County chairman, Warren Fatheree said, Bush, Lilly and Staubach will go directly to GOP Headquarters, 125 W. Kingsmill, to meet with constituents before going on to the Hamburger Supper.

Republican candidate for state representative Bill Nix of Canadian will be master of ceremonies. Special entertainment will be provided by the Miami Stompers.

Fatheree said tonight's supper is one of 14 held since August throughout the state.

Bush is slated to address a joint meeting of service clubs in Amarillo before returning to Austin Tuesday. He is due back in the west Texas area Oct. 3 for a supper in Plainview.

Tickets for tonight's Hamburger Supper may be purchased at GOP Headquarters.

Demos' Visit Causes Upset In Benavides

BENAVIDES, Tex. (UPI)—An estimated 1,500 South Texans turned out in wet, chilly weather Sunday night to see and hear Gov. Preston Smith, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and senatorial candidate Lloyd Bentsen, but four Mexican-Americans were upset when they arrived.

"I never would have believed it," said District Judge J. R. Alamia of Edinburg.

"They told us: 'Get your a-out of that car,'" said Hidalgo County Commissioner Ramiro Guerra.

Alamia, Guerra, county clerk Santos Saldana and their driver, Gonzalez, U.S. Patrol enroute the 150 miles here from the Lower Rio Grande Valley for the political confab.

Downs Hurt In 'Cycle Accident

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Hugh Downs, host of television's "Today" show, was released from a hospital Sunday after undergoing treatment for minor injuries suffered in a motorcycle accident near his home at Cave Creek, just north of here.

Downs, 49, suffered cuts and bruises and an injured ankle sprain Saturday. He fell from his cycle into a clump of bushes.

Downs was expected to be out of the hospital by Sunday. The accident was blamed on a stuck throttle.

PEACE TREATY SIGNED

Jordanian War Over But Fight Continues

By United Press International
The Jordanian civil war was at its official end today, but Amman radio indicated fighting was continuing.

King Hussein of Jordan and guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat signed the peace treaty in Cairo Sunday, with other Arab nations banding together to prevent further outbreaks.

Amman radio this morning broadcast an appeal "to stop fighting" so observers could take up positions to ensure the truce. There were no details on where the fighting was taking place or how heavy it was.

Tickets for tonight's Hamburger Supper may be purchased at GOP Headquarters.

Twenty-six of the released hostages were flown to Nicosia, Cyprus, where they spent the night, while another six went on to Rome. The other six still were in Amman, but were expected to be flown out today.

Mitchell Meltzer of Orlando, Fla., a student who was one of the hostages, said "we were treated as humanely as possible." Others said they ran short of water toward the end of their captivity and that fighting went on around them during the war.

Alfred A. Kiburis of Paris, 45, the flight engineer of the Trans World Airlines plane that was one of those hijacked, said "the shelling by the Jordanian army was murderous. Men, women and children were slaughtered in big numbers."

In the shattered capital of Amman, the airlift of food and the cleaning up of the homes and apartments shattered by the fighting began.

Jordan's new civilian government, named by Hussein Saturday, worked to provide food and water and to restore public services. Hospitals were jammed, with many wounded lying on blankets on the floors and in hallways.

Estimates of the dead and wounded ranged from 2,500 to 10 times that number.

In Cairo, the Arab heads of state who reached an agreement to end the war were leaving for their homelands. The agreement between Hussein and Arafat provide for the Arab nations to act as guardians in future relations.

HUNDREDS HOMELESS

Wind-Whipped Fires Continue To Plague Californians

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Wind-whipped brush fires continued to plague Southern California today, leaving giant scars of ruin from Bakersfield to San Diego. Hundreds of homes were destroyed and tens of thousands of residents evacuated.

The total area blackened by the blazes, some of which have raged since Friday, was nearly 400,000 acres—more than half the area of Rhode Island. Three persons were killed.

The worst of three major blazes, all propelled by heavy, dry winds, was in San Diego county where a fire destroyed 200 homes and ranches and charred at least 150,000 acres. It was the latest in the worst series of brush fires in Southern California history.

In the Malibu area near Los Angeles, the Newhall-Malibu fire which started four days ago, blackened 110,000 acres and destroyed 151 homes, some worth $125,000. Smoke billowed up to 2,000 feet in the air and was visible 30 miles away.

In the Los Angeles fires, arsonists were sought.

Houston Tries To Solve School Crisis

HOUSTON (UPI)—A federal judge today will hear the Houston school district's request for legal action to help solve desegregation problems which have closed several of the city's high schools.

The Houston Independent and the Northeast Division School Districts will consult U.S. District Judge Jack Roberts in effort to quell student unrest. Superintendent L.B. Lohn said the Northeast District will file disorderly conduct charges against 33 students suspended after a racial clash last week at Smiley High School.

Representatives of the school districts want to allow high school seniors reassigned to new schools this year to return to the school they attended last year.

The transfers are intended to ease disturbances which resulted from the court ordered desegregation plan.

Fancher Named Chamber Prexy

Kay Fancher was elected president of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce for the 1970-71 year at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors this forenoon in Coronado Inn.

Fancher moves up from the office of vice president which he has held during the current year. He will succeed Don Lane.

Other officers elected for the upcoming year are Roy Sparkman, vice president, and Jerald Sims, finance director.

Appointed by the president to serve one-year terms on the board were Robert W. Rasmussen, Charles D. Zlonke and Al W. Bassett.

The new officers and directors will be installed Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Today's annual election was held at the regular meeting of chamber directors preceding the September membership luncheon.

Following the luncheon the chamber sponsored a two-hour bus tour of the Pampa area's agribusiness industry.

Today's luncheon program and the bus tour was in charge of the chamber's agriculture committee headed by Foster Whaley, Gray County agent.

Campus Ills Reflect Deep Conflict

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The report of president Nixon's commission on campus unrest issued during the weekend, concluded there is a more profound national crisis than just the campus violence of the past decade.

"Campus crisis reflects and increases a more profound crisis in the nation as a whole," the report said, adding there are two components of this national crisis: one of violence and one of understanding.

While On Tour In Tense Middle East

ROME (UPI)—President Nixon began his European tour in Italy today with talks on the tense Middle East and a surprise welcome for 26 Americans returning home after three weeks in Arab guerrilla captivity.

The President flew to Rome International Airport by military helicopter minutes after conferring with Premier Emilio Colombo, who went along to meet the freed hostages.

The 26 Americans were flying from Nicosia, Cyprus, aboard a Trans World Airlines jet en route to the United States.

Nixon apparently decided to meet them after learning of the flight, and went to the airport before a gala luncheon given in his honor at Quirinale Palace by President Giuseppe Saragat.

International airport by military helicopter minutes after conferring with Premier Emilio Colombo, who went along to meet the freed hostages.

The 26 American were flying from Nicosia, Cyprus, aboard a Trans World Airlines jet en route to the United States.

Nixon apparently decided to meet them after learning of the flight, and went to the airport before a gala luncheon given in his honor at Quirinale Palace by President Giuseppe Saragat.

The passengers were among 38 American airline passengers held for three weeks in Jordan after guerrillas hijacked four airlines. The 26 flew to Rome to pick up six others who had arrived earlier. The last six were reported still in Amman. White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said Nixon and Saragat, in a morning conference at the Quirinale Palace, stressed the importance of the Mediterranean to European security. Nixon called it the "southern anchor" of the NATO alliance.

Nixon is concerned about U.S. influence in the Mediterranean, where a growing Soviet naval force is challenging America's long-standing strategic dominance. This was underscored by his plans to confer with U.S. commanders for several hours Tuesday aboard the aircraft carrier Saratoga and the cruiser Springfield, flagship of the 6th Fleet.

Budget Cuts Impair U.S. Sixth Fleet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A congressional subcommittee says budget cuts have impaired the U.S. 6th Fleet to such a point that it gives the appearance America has turned the Mediterranean Sea over to the Soviets.

The House Armed Services subcommittee on antisubmarine warfare said budget restrictions should be eased so the fleet and NATO defense operations in the Mediterranean can be bolstered. The committee made a six-day visit to the area earlier this month. President Nixon planned to visit the fleet starting this evening.

The subcommittee also recommended the United States agree to Israel's recent request for $300 million in arms aid during the next two years. It said Israel should be admitted to NATO if it wishes.

The subcommittee said the 6th Fleet's state of readiness has been impaired by cutbacks in flying and steaming time imposed for budgetary reasons. Because of the restrictions, aircraft carriers must sit at anchor much of the time, "a very dangerous situation in the present circumstances," the report said.

"This leads to crews getting rusty from lack of proper exercise together, and it also gives the impression that the United States—having once sailed high and wide across the Mediterranean—is now content to let the Russians take over most of the operations in that ocean," it said.

The subcommittee urged a buildup in the antisubmarine warfare capability of the 6th Fleet and NATO, stationing of more U.S. planes at shore stations for possible use on carriers and a strengthening of NATO air and naval defenses throughout southern Europe.

The subcommittee, which spent two days in Israel, said it was essential the United States provide that country prompt arms assistance.

Four Traffic Accidents Mar Weekend Driving Records

Four auto accidents caused an estimated $1,443 in damages to eight vehicles and four citations for varied traffic violations over the weekend.

J.D. Helms was cited for an unsafe start from a parked position after a collision involving three cars on Scott street Sunday. Total damages set at $250 for the three.

H.J. Ryzman reported the Helms car was backing from a driveway and was hit by a car operated by a Tulsa, Okla., minister, Frank T. Hardestad. The Helms car then spun off and rammied a parked car in front of 832 E. Scott.

A.W. King 105 N. Faulkner, received $350 damages to his car and a citation for failure to control speed after a crash into the rear end of a car operated by Joe D. Sutton, 1109 Duncan, Sutton's car was damaged an estimated $150.

Charges of uncontrolled speed were placed against R.E. Cole, 1818 Nelson following ramming a parked vehicle owned by V.L. Snider, 1941 N. Nelson. Total damages set at $350.

Backing from a private drive resulted in William Adcock, 413 N. Wells, being cited for failure to yield at a crash at Cuyler and Francis Friday. Police say he backed into the street causing a collision with a car driven by E.O. Carter causing an estimated at $345 to both cars.

Oilman Urschel, Kidnap Victim Of Mid-30s, Dies In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Former Oklahoma oilman and philanthropist Charles F. Urschel was kidnapped by George "Machine Gun" Kelly in 1933 and held until his wife paid a $200,000 ransom.

Urschel was blindfolded most of the time, but he picked up enough clues with his ears to later lead police to the Paradise, Tex., farm where he was held.

Funeral services were scheduled today for Urschel, who died Saturday at Santa Rosa Hospital in San Antonio, where he had suffered with a prolonged illness. He was in his 80s, though his exact age is not known.

Kelly's gang snatched Urschel and W.R. Jarrett from the porch of Urschel's home, where the men were playing a game of bridge. Jarrett was later released unharmed. Urschel was taken to the R.G. Shannon farm near Paradise, Tex.

He was blindfolded during the trip, but he estimated the farm's location as a 12-hour drive from Oklahoma City. Once at the farm he noted the airplanes flew over at 9:15 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. daily. He waited until five minutes after an airplane passed and then asked the guard the time.

The ransom was paid by Urschel's wife, Bernice Slick Urschel, who died five months ago. Urschel was released un-harmful in Norman, Okla., after the money was delivered to a Kansas City hotel.

Using Urschel's clues about the airplanes, the FBI found the farm and arrested Shannon and his family Aug. 22, 1933, as accomplices. Agents later arrested Kelly in Memphis, Tenn., and Albert L. Bates in Denver.

Pair Held In Connection With Burglary Of Local Warehouse

Two men are being held by city police and two others are being sought in connection with the burglary of a Southwestern Public Service Company warehouse early Sunday.

J.M. Harmon and Larry L. Kinsey, both of Wichita, Kan., are being held for investigation of burglary. Two other unknowns are being sought.

The men were arrested at a local motel following the finding of papers in a U-Haul truck used in the burglary, identifying the renter and place of rental.

Officer Bob Franklin told of seeing the truck parked against the side of the warehouse on Craven Street. He got out of his car to investigate and occupants in the truck pulled off to a nearby auto lot. Two persons leaped from the vehicle and ran.

Franklin said he then saw three other persons inside the building and called for help. Other officers arrived on the scene and a search of the building failed to locate anyone.

A check of the truck showed rolls of copper wire inside which had apparently been taken from the building which had been entered by prying open a door lock.

A check of hotels and motels located the pair who had checked in shortly after the time of the reported burglary.

According to Franklin's report, Harmon said he was approached by two men whom he knew only by nicknames and asked to rent the truck as neither had a driver's license. They said they wanted to come to Pampa to get some furniture which one of them was getting as a result of a divorce.

On arrival in Pampa the group drove about for some time. Harmon related, and then stopped. A little later the two unknowns left the truck to return in a few minutes and asked him drive it alongside the warehouse.

While bargaining on a new, three-year contract continued at the General Motors building here, UAW President Leonard Woodcock said the union has assigned its top staff members to various trouble spots to intensify efforts to reach local accords.

Woodcock himself skipped today's formal negotiations in favor of attending a mass rally by GM strikers in Oshawa, Ont.

The local agreements, which have been reached at only eight locations in the United States and Canada, supplement the national master pact, covering such issues as plant seniority, division of overtime and work rules.

Guerra said he jotted down the two border patrolmen's names—G. Lee and E. R. Bentler.

After that, Guerra said, Judge Almania asked the officers why they were stopped in the first place and they said "we wanted to know where we were from."

"The judge told them Edinburg, and that was it. I wonder what would have happened if we had been someone else."

Tom Ball, head of the U. S. Border Patrol in McAllen, said today he was looking into the matter and that "I personally will take any action necessary on the matter."

Pampan Signs Record Contract

James Hinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.C. Bronner, 1023 Love, has signed a three-year recording contract with a record company in Fort Worth and will begin recording his country-western music in November.

Hinson, a member of The Delegation, plays lead guitar and sings with the group, which includes Robert DeWeese, on the drums, and Othal Hicks, bass. Hinson has performed in this area about eight years and first performed with The Catalinas. The Delegation group was formed seven months ago.

He graduated from Stinnett High School in 1960 and served in the Army before he was employed here with a gasoline processing plant. He and his wife, Linda, residents of 721 W. Crawford, have two daughters, Charla, 4, and Jama, 2.

Welfare Index Plans For Holiday Project

Mrs. Dorothy Hartley was appointed as chairman of the Welfare Index holiday food basket program for 1970 in a meeting conducted Friday.

Ted Gikas, president of the Index, called for an annual report of projects undertaken during the past year. E.M. Stafford, manager of the storage room reported garment and furniture distribution to needy or disaster affected families, and extended appreciation of the local Rebekah Lodge for volunteer help in the storage room.

The group voted to eliminate food staples from the holiday baskets this year due to the Commodities Program which will provide these items to families qualifying for the project.

Mrs. Hartley will work in conjunction with the Salvation Army. Persons wishing to contribute to the food distribution should call 669-2031.

Auto Strike Enters 3rd Week Of Walkout

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers strike against the eighth General Motors Corp. entered its third week today with more than 382,000 men out of work. Local plant disputes attracted the most attention in the attempts to end the costly walkout.

While bargaining on a new, three-year contract continued at the General Motors building here, UAW President Leonard Woodcock said the union has assigned its top staff members to various trouble spots to intensify efforts to reach local accords.

Woodcock himself skipped today's formal negotiations in favor of attending a mass rally by GM strikers in Oshawa, Ont.

Conservationists Plot Court Fight On Thermal Pollution

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Conservationists disclosed plans today for a court fight aimed at dragging the reluctant Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) into the fight against thermal pollution.

If successful, the proposed action could affect significantly nearly all the 92 nuclear power plants now planned or being built. Twelve of them will be situated on the Great Lakes, current battleground in the pollution controversy.

The AEC grants construction permits and licenses for nuclear plants, but insists it has no authority even to consider whether a plant will pollute the water, unless radioactivity is involved.

The conservationists' lawyer, Myron M. Chtry of Chicago, said he would contend in court that a new federal law requires after World War II, "I'm interested and concerned individual ... simply loved the looks of someone who just came out of the service. And then he became my landlord."

"How do you think he gets all that money for the cancer society?"

Then calling him a "true friend; a wonderful person," Agnew noted, "he's not that way out of any innate instinct of decency. His father had to beat hell out of him."

The vice president apologized to the audience of 450 saying, "I suppose you think I'm being rather callous—somebody said I was callous recently—but it's hard to be serious about an old friend. I'm afraid if I really become serious I might become emotional—and I don't want to do that—not back here in Baltimore county."

SOMEWHAT PUT OUT
HEMEL HEMPSTEAD, England (UPI)—Fire chief Ron Percival demonstrated a fire extinguisher to a group of truck drivers by spouting them with it. He said he forgot he had removed the safety pin.

Agnew Bypasses Political Jabs For Night Of Benevolence

BALTIMORE (UPI)—It could have been Don Rickles entertaining the $100-a-plate banquet in suburban Pikesville Sunday night. The after-dinner speaker reeled off a series of devastating one-liners about a Baltimore business leader.

The comedian at the American Cancer Society testimonial was the vice president of the United States Spiro T. Agnew. He returned to his home Baltimore county to praise the humanitarian work of local banker and real estate developer, I. H. Hammerman, Agnew's friend for 25 years.

The vice president, obviously enjoying the strolling violinists and the fine wine, confirmed, "this is not a night for political jocularities or a sense of partisanship."

"It's hard when you're among such convivial friends to be serious."

Agnew rose to prominence in county government in the early 60s, and Sunday night he recalled the early days.

Agnew cracked, "he sold me the lot on which our first home was built. And the fact that I sold it when I went back into the service in 1950 at a loss nothing to do with it."

DELEGATION DEPARTS

BELGRADE (UPI)—A Yugoslav delegation headed by Assistant Foreign Trade Minister Petar Tomic left Saturday by air for Washington for talks with U.S. officials on economic relations between the two countries.

The delegation is to discuss exports of cotton textiles to the United States in the next three years, Yugoslav sources said.

PRESIDENTS HONORED during the Twentieth Century Club's annual Brunch at the Country Club recently were from left, Mrs. Ralph McKinney, Cotillion Club; Mrs. William G. Easley, Twentieth Century Club; Mrs. G. E. Lunsford, Allegro Club; Mrs. Don Cameron, Culture Club, and Mrs. Kermit B. Lawson, president of the Top of Texas District of Texas Federated Women's Clubs. Twentieth Century Clubs Honor Presidents With Annual Brunch Twentieth Century Forum members hosted the annual Twentieth Century Clubs' Presidents' Brunch recently at the Pampa Country Club with Mrs. Kermit Lawson, district president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs as a special guest.

The Twentieth Century Study Clubs sponsored their first joint meeting 42 years ago with two clubs. They met for breakfast in the Schneider Hotel. In 1970, we have five clubs, more members and have moved the brunch location and changed its format. When we meet twice a month, exchanging ideas and friendship, we come away much the better for it," Mrs. Frank Stolfa, toastmistress, said.

"In these days of Women's Liberation, we might be considered the opposition. We're all homemakers, wives or mothers, able to be busy, involved and happy within that framework.

That's no small accomplishment. It's always impressive and a source of pride, that when the community has work to do, be it United Fund, Scouting, Hospital Auxiliary, or other community service, Twentieth Century Women are present and working hard," Mrs. Stolfa said.

Club presidents honored were Mrs. William G. Easley, Twentieth Century; Mrs. Holt Barber, Twentieth Century Forum; Mrs. Dan Cameron, Twentieth Century Culture; Mrs. Gene E. Lunsford, Twentieth Century Allegro, and Mrs. W. Ralph McKinney, Twentieth Century Cotillion.

Others on the program were Mrs. J.R. Holloway, general chairman; Mrs. McHenry Lane, invocation; Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, decorating committee chairman; and Mrs. David Holt, Mrs. Stolfa and Mrs. Wilkinsen, Forum committee.

Jaycee-Ette Club Directs Regional Meet In Library

The Pampa Chapter of Texas Jaycee-Ettes hosted a Region I "Sit-In-Hen" meeting recently in the hospitality room of Lovett Memorial Library.

Eighteen guests attended from the four out-of-town clubs, Perryton, Plainview, Borger and Amarillo. Pampa members attending were Nancy Wilson, Treeta Saltzman, Rhona Saltzman, Sally Hardy, Gay Cline, Betty Shelton, Nancy Vaughn, Gladys Green, Sue Hinds, Carol Williamson, Jeanne Sutton, Patsy Strawn, Nelda Lancaster and Carol Turner.

Jack Pape, minister of the Church of Christ at Mary Ellen and Harvester Streets, showed slides of his recent trip to African theme.

Scouting Scoops

By Ronald Graves
Is there a girl in your life? Is she now a member of Girl Scouts? Would she like to be a part of the "girls in green"?

You—as an interested Father can be a valuable volunteer in the Quivira Girl Scout program.

There are thousands of men in Girl Scouting and their numbers keep increasing. Why? Because busy men, important men, professional men recognize the wisdom of the old adage, "When you educate a girl, you educate a family"—the core of the future.

Men in all walks of life are lending their special skills to the Girl Scout program in the future interest of their homes and communities.

Today's Girl Scout will grow to fit a significant role in our country's future. Some of them

Baker PTA Has Fall Open House

B. M. Baker Elementary School Parent Teacher Association conducted its open house recently and elected new officers to fill vacancies.

Officers elected were Mrs. Willie Cook, president; Mrs. Lee Brown, vice president; Mrs. Arnel Brown, secretary, and Mrs. Bill Miller, treasurer.

John Warner introduced the Blue Star program which was adopted by PTA members. The school nurse requested every parent to permit their children to take the Rubella vaccination for measles which will be offered at the school free Oct. 13.

The group voted to have its Fund Raising Carnival Oct. 26 at the gym and will have a queen candidate from each room during the carnival.

Hostess chairman was Mrs. Roy Bogges with Mrs. DeWayne Hill and Mrs. Tony Anderson assisting. After the program, parents visited their children's rooms and teachers. The unit's next meeting will be at 2:15 p.m. Dec. 10 at the school.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a church organist who has been intending to write to you about church music for some time, but what happened yesterday was the last straw.

A bride-to-be requested that I play "Aquarius" and "Let the Sunshine In" at her wedding. Naturally, being a conscientious church musician, I refused. She complained to the pastor who brought the matter before the church council. Believe it or not, the pastor and council agreed with her!

Now, don't get me wrong, I have nothing against the two songs mentioned above, but they have no place in a worship service, which is what a wedding is. It's bad enough when we have to play the traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn, or those sentimental love songs such as "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me," but I think when they approved "Aquarius" and "Let the Sunshine In," they hit rock bottom.

Thousands of serious church musicians will thank you for printing this. And if you do, please use my real name because I would like for people to know where I stand.

Very Truly Yours,

THOMAS L. SCHECK,

Organist

ST. JOHN'S UNITED

CHURCH OF CHRIST

MANFIELD, OHIO

DEAR ORGANIST: It might interest you to know that "rock bottom" was hit a few years ago when another organist wrote to tell me that she had been requested to play "What Kind of Fool Am I" at a church wedding. And she played it.

DEAR ABBY: My months ago my beloved hand died suddenly of a heart attack. We had been happily married for 40 years. He was when he died.

Soon after his funeral I visited his grave and in a vase of fresh flowers the I asked friends and relatives if they had put them there. None I asked had. On several occasions I visited his grave and again, fresh flowers, with no sign of the giver, I have idea who is doing this as were a very happy couple. My husband was always home with me, so I doubt that I was seeing someone else.

I wrote a note banking the unknown donor the lovely flowers and asking to please identify herself. I put this note under the vase. On my next visit, there were fresh flowers, and my note was gone.

I have visited the cemetery at all hours long to run into this person, but so far, I've seen no one.

I am just back over this, but have kept to myself. Losing my husband was difficult enough to live without this added burden if you help me, Abby?

Official name of the Mormon Church is the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints.

DEAR NO NAME: Do not let your imagination run wild. The unknown flower donor need not be a woman with whom your husband was romantically linked. It could be a devoted, but shy person — possibly a man. Or even someone who admired your husband from afar, or one whom your husband did not even know. Do not torture yourself with frequent visits to his grave. Stay away. And most important, retain those memories of a faithful husband.

Way Sought To Remove Lime From Water Heater

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I work in a nursing home and the electric heater we use for heating water is coated with lime. I have tried everything, including scraping the lime flakes, but they remain. Can you help me?

—BETTY

DEAR POLLY — You mentioned in the column that you loosened the stuck top to a nail polish bottle with the aid of a lighted match. This is dangerous! I have seen a nail polish bottle explode when heated over a flame. The best method I know for opening a stuck bottle is to soak and soak in a basin of very hot water.

—MARGIE

DEAR MARGIE — Thank you for your letter. I stand corrected and should never have mentioned that, in desperation, I tried this on a nail polish bottle. Your Pointer is much safer, so forget the other one, girls.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I placed a board down the center, from top to bottom, to make a divider in our clothes hamper. Now we all place all the colored things on one side and white ones on the other. This eliminates a sorting problem, saves me time and teaches the children that order helps.

—MRS. R.H.

DEAR POLLY — This is for the woman who wanted to know how to keep hair together after it has been cut off. After mine was cut, I held the cut locks together and poured clear nail polish on the ends. When I want to wear it, bobby pins hold this in place. I find it fun to experiment with new hairdos.

—MRS. E.H.

DEAR POLLY — The reader who wanted to know how she could hold her cut hair together could use a rubber band around one end as the easiest way. However, I take strands of hair and make darned stitches across one end. After doing one row, I go across and fill in on the second row and continue like this as long as I want. This will make a kind of weaving that holds the hair together. After weaving several inches, wind or roll the rest of the hair over the woven part and put a matching hair net over it all. Use this for fluffing up your hair style into more of a bouffant look.

Cadillac 1971...the new look of leadership!

In every respect, all nine of Cadillac's magnificent models are totally new in looks. Body contours are crisp and classic. There is greater glass area. A new lower door sill design permits easier entry and exit.

They are also new in luxury. A new instrument panel is so designed that all gauges are positioned or canted for easy reading. There are new lower profile seats, contoured to make a full day's drive a relaxing reality.

There is new Cadillac performance, too. The smoothness and quiet must be experienced. And all Cadillacs V-8 engines will perform on the new no-lead, low-lead fuels.

Your authorized Cadillac dealer invites you to see and drive this brilliant new Standard of the World. You'll discover that leadership has never before been so elegantly denied.

Eldorado 1971...world's most elegant personal cars!

In the Eldorado Coupe and Convertible, Cadillac presents two completely new and distinctive automobiles. With their new, longer wheelbase, the 1971 Eldorados ride with superb new smoothness and quiet.

There are individual touches, such as the jewel-like standup crest and the new exclusive coach windows on the Coupe.

The Convertible, now the only luxury convertible built in America, comes equipped with a new inward-folding hideaway top that provides greater rear-seat room. With a combination of front-wheel drive, variable-ratio power steering, front disc brakes, Automatic Level Control and a 2 liter V-8, Eldorado performance has never been so rewarding.

Surely these are the two most excitingly luxurious automobiles in the world of personal motoring...the totally new Fleetwood Eldorados by Cadillac.

See the New Look of Leadership at your authorized Cadillac dealer's tomorrow!

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—ABC-TV Thursday night offered four new series: One marking the return of Vince "Ben Casey" Edwards, another about a fellow immune to old age and sickness, and the other two adapted from Neil Simons' "Barefoot in the Park" and "The Odd Couple."

Best of the lot was the half-hour situation comedy version of "Barefoot in the Park," in which the principals now are black, differing from the Broadway original, where they were white. The tale focuses on a couple of newbies, and the irony is that one of them—the actor who plays the husband, and plays him well—was fired from the series just days ago after a number of disputes.

The fired star of the series is Scoey Mitchell, but because of advanced filming, he had completed 12 of the episodes before he was bounced.

One thing is sure: If the series does catch on, Mitchell will be a large reason why. He was well cast.

As I say, the show is strictly situation comedy, and nothing more, but the casting and breezy spirit hold up throughout. As the wife, Tracy Reed is beautiful and a pro with her lines. Thelma Robinson is just right as her worldly, amusing mother. And Nipsey Russell is fine as a saucy operator who runs a pool hall and has eyes for the mother.

Somewhat disappointing, on the other hand—at least to this viewer—was the half-hour premiere of the situation comedy based on "The Odd Couple," starring Tony Randall as an dapper neat photographer and Jack Klugman as a sloppy sportswriter, both divorced and sharing an apartment.

The trouble was that the witty, human relationship of the pair, as developed on the stage, was, in the video debut, somehow diluted as the show seemed to rely on a rather standard situation comedy approach. Make no mistake, though: This series has all the elements, and with Garry Marshall and Jerry Belson as producers, and perhaps with a more low-key directing style in the future, it could be quite engaging, though it also must compete with CBS-TV's movies.

The premiere, by the way, concerned Klugman's aggressive attempt to have a party with the fussy Randall and a couple of girls in the same building. Future directors will have to modify Klugman's aggressive approach on the premiere so that the humor comes through much more.

Vince Edwards' return, meanwhile, was in an hour melodrama, "Matt Lincoln," in which he plays a psychiatrist at a walk-in clinic with a hot-line for troubled persons who can call in. In the opener, Patty Duke was the guest star, playing an unwed mother who thinks she wants to give up her son to adoption. But the show just didn't work. In the first place, it was simply flat and uninspired.

"As 'Ben Casey,' Edwards was a bullheaded rebel against the usual ways of the medical establishment. In 'Matt Lincoln,' he is, of all things, the establishment. He was very boring. The old pizzazz was missing.

Finally Thursday night there was this hour called "The Immortal," about the fellow I was telling you about who can't get sick or old because he has this terrific, rare blood. Everyone wants it from him and plots to get it. On the debut it was a millionaire who plotted. Other than that I didn't understand anything that went on. For all I know is so dumbly escapist that it might get an audience.

CHATS WORTH, Calif.—Mrs. G.M. Funk, surveying the shell of her home burned by one of the brush fires that scorched thousands of acres of Southern California.

"The sparks came so fast I couldn't get anything out of the house but the clothes I was wearing."

Bentsen Asks Bush To Stop 'Free Mailing'

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Democratic senatorial candidate Lloyd Bentsen Saturday accused his Republican opponent of mailing campaign literature at government expense.

Citing a newsletter sent out by GOP congressman George Bush, Bentsen said Bush marked the newsletter "not printed at government expense," but said it was mailed at government expense under a label of "public document—official business."

"As a candidate, I don't like the unfair advantage George Bush has taken in sending newsletters postage-free," Bentsen said. "And as a taxpayer, I do not particularly care for it either."

He called on Bush to refrain from mass mailings at government expense until after the Nov. 3 election.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Who is running for sheriff?

In the political debate of 1970, Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton finds self-appointed sheriffs among prominent Democrats he says were formerly too tolerant of violence in America.

"Republican candidates this fall, from senator on down, are running for sheriff," said Adlai E. Stevenson III, Democratic nominee for senator in Illinois. "They are running against kids and kooks, Communists and crime."

Republican leaders are happy now that they have found what seems to be a cutting issue. They can blame the Democrats for encouraging violence by a hope the soft-on-crime issue will overshadow economic issues which appear to be favoring the Democrats.

The Democrats have been upset and thrown on the defensive. They would prefer to pound on economic issues and blame the Nixon administration for unemployment, high prices and high interest rates.

In the Republican National Committee's weekly publication Sept. 21, Morton pointed to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy as "a classic example of a prominent Democrat who was soft on law and order but who now has been pinned on the sheriff's badge and become an election-eve enforcer."

Morton also mentioned former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, now Democratic nominee for Senator in Minnesota, as "another one who has suddenly seen the light."

Stevenson argued during a Washington visit Sept. 22 that the GOP had decided "demagoguery is good politics this year."

From Dad's Era
"Not since 1952 has there been such a calculated political pandering to our fears, our prejudices and our divisions," he said. "In 1952 'soft on

Solving Old Problems Creates New Ones Along Border Towns

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Theidents of th United States and border between their countris but created a problem for a Texas town and some of its peopl whose lives are in their land. This is their story.)

By EDWARD A. FULTON
PRESIDIO, Tex. (UPI)—Alberto Armendariz Sr. bought land along the Rio Grande more than a half century ago. Later his sons joined him in the fields.

"We have worked that land for man years," said Alberto Armendariz Jr.

The dozen or so other farmers who soon will be paid "fair market value" for their land and then see it given to Mexico also have worked their soil many years.

The transfer was created during a meeting between President Nixon and Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz two months ago as a means of straightening the border cut by the erratic Rio Grande.

Not Too Happy
The two presidents decided to select a specific border, then build dikes to keep the river in the path. The new border sliced 1,600 acres of U. S. land into the Mexican side, and the U.S. owners must give it up.

Farmers along the river and residents of Presidio, which lies beside the disputed acreage, described themselves as "not too happy."

They talk of economic hardship on the town, lost jobs and lost revenue, flood control and a dimming future when first discussing the land transfer. And each point carries weight. But near the end of each conversation, the talk returns to the land.

Charley Spencer said he will lose from 130 to 230 acres.

"That is all good farmland. It will grow anything—onions, cantaloupe, cotton, alfalfa.

"When it goes over (to Mexico) it will hurt the economy of Presidio and Mexico both. The land is productive now. As soon as it goes over, they won't farm it like we do," Spencer said.

Spencer said his brother, Manuel, probably will lose several hundred acres.

"Look at the future. If that land could remain here it would be better for everybody. It would be better for the land—for progress. Production would remain the same," Armendariz said.

Waste That Knowledge
"When that land goes across (to Mexico) that knowledge is going to be wasted. There is not going to be enough land left in Presidio for those people to practice what they have been trained to do," he said.

At the turn of the century the acreage along the river produced cactus, and little else, through the years it has been brought to riches with fertilizer, irrigation and hard work.

"We have done this to the land," Armendariz said.

His family, which bought the land in 1911, will lose from 190 to 240 acres, depending on the final border. They have a total of 650 acres.

Charles Strangellow will give up about 90 acres.

He's Resigned Now
"I think it's kind of inevitable now. I'm resigned to the fact that we have to give it up."

he said. But he also not happy.

"It's cutting outside a lot of crops. We talking about 600 acres of our most productive land. I could figure out about 200 acres of cantaloupe per acre, not going to be good for our people."

Armendariz lists statistics of the elected size of the lost revenue when the land is gone.

"The land prices a year around," he said. "It hires a certain amount of people from both sides of the border. That money stays in the area. That way the towns of Presidio and Ojinaga Mexico trade with each other."

Revenue Lapses
The revenue from the acreage changes with the year and the crop.

In May it's onions, and farmers pay about $1,000 to laborers for harvest and packing.

The price for best cantaloupes in July is about the same. It drops to $90.00 in November and December.

That money circulates in these two towns that's the only means we have to live on here. We're situated in a corner where the means of communications aren't as refined as elsewhere; we are isolated," Armendariz said.

"We don't know what will happen to the land when it goes over to Mexico. It might be federal property. It might and might not be farmed," he said.

"We feel bad about it."

The government has said it will give "fair market value" for the land to the owners. But it will not be enough.

"There is no price that they could give us that would suit us. We could get a million dollars an acre, but that wouldn't suit."

"I hope you understand, that land is our means of subsistence. We want to retain that land," Armendariz said.

The price will be closer to $800 an acre. An appraisal will be made over a period of time by a private organization.

"Now it's something that both governments want to do and we can't do anything about it," Armendariz said.

LB, Wrns Demos About GOPs

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—Former President Lyndon B. Johnson told 1,000 democrats at a barbecue Saturday they had better start working for the party or the republicans will gain power in Texas.

"We've got get out and work or these republicans are gonna stand slip up on us," Johnson said at the rally to kick off gubernatorial campaign of incumbent Preston Smith.

Introduced Smith as an outstanding one, Johnson said he was happy to be in Lubbock.

"George (Mahon) called and said he was coming home and wanted me out here for this rally," Johnson said. "I'd wanted to see that big football fight between Texas and Texas Tech since leaving the White House and Lubbock is a great center of a great area of this great state."

"This is the first time I've had an opportunity to show the people of Lubbock my appreciation by helping them have the governorship of the state of Texas from their own area," he said.

Cadillac Adds New Elegance To '71 Models

DETROIT—The 1971 Cadillac features a new low horizontal front-end motif with widely-spaced head lamps set into individual bezels as shown on this Sedan de Ville (left). The front bumper has greater impact and parking protection and enhances the new horizontal look. Two vertical chrome bumper guards with rubber impact strips frame the license plate and reduce possible bumper damage. The grille is of traditional Cadillac cross-hatch design and features an in-depth frame in each opening. All standard Cadillacs are powered by a 472 cubic inch engine designed to operate on leaded or new low pollutant fuels.

New Series
Well, then there are ABC-TV's other new series. "The Young Rebels" is a Disney-like version of youthful heroes in the American Revolution. "Dan August" is routine cops-and-robbers filler. "The Silent Force" is a crime tale that harkens and puffs 1940s-style. "The Immortal" is crude hokum about a fellow whose blood everyone wants because it prevents old age and disease. "Matt Lincoln" stars the old rebel, Vince (Ben Casey) Edwards, as a psychiatrist, but now he's an establishment-type advice giver, and he better get into action. Danny Thomas' situation comedy is traditional video by an entertainer who knows his specific audience.

As for NBC-TV, it now has Red Skelton, and he's a known quantity. And it has a Don Knotts variety hour, which will have ups and downs, but it is basically standard. It also has a Burnett and the Monday Flip Wilson variety hour, and this already is an obvious hit with a popular star, but is essentially also in the standard musical-variety form.

Then there is "Nancy," about a daughter of the president of the United States, and it is the usual situation comedy approach. And there is "Four-in-one: McCloud," a series in which one only hopes the execution can catch up with the attractive concept of a southwestern deputy marshal temporarily attached to the New York police force.

At CBS-TV, there is "Headmaster," with Andy Griffith as a school principal who deals with problems, such as narcotics, as though he just discovered the world is round. There is "Arnie," an amusing show about a blue collar worker promoted to executive status. There is Tim Conway, whose comedy hour got off to a fine start but who will be hard-pressed in the ratings' because of his lack of powerhouse star appeal.

There is Mary Tyler Moore in a routine comedy about a bachelor girl. "The Storefront Lawyers," meanwhile, is also about young attorneys who help the needy.

SECURITY MEETING

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The United States, Australia and New Zealand Saturday began their 20th annual review of international security in the Western Pacific and Southeast Asia.

Green Beret Captain Will Soon Know About Court Martial Fate

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (UPI) —A preliminary decision is expected here this week on whether Green Beret Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald, 27, will face a court-martial on murder charges in the death of his young pregnant wife and two daughters.

Public disclosure of the recommendation of Col. Warren V. Rock of Raleigh, N.C., is not expected however, since two higher ranking officers, who could overrule him, will review his decision.

Rock, since July 6, has listened to testimony concerning the events of Feb. 17 when the three members of the Special Forces doctor's family were fatally stabbed and beaten.

The hearing, which was recessed a total of four weeks before finally adjourning Sept. 11, covers 3,000 type-written pages, all of which are being reviewed by Rock.

Recommendation Passed On

The colonel's recommendation goes first to Maj. Gen. Edward M. Flannagan, commander of the John F. Kennedy Center for Military Assistance and the 6th and 7th Special Forces groups. Captain MacDonald, who will be 28 Oct. is assigned to the 6th Special Forces Group.

Flannagan will also review the voluminous transcript. His decision is subject to further review by Lt. Gen. John J. Tolson, Ft. Bragg commander, who alone has the authority to decide if a court-martial will be convened.

When the decision finally comes, and that may take two to three months, observers believe Tolson will order the Princeton graduate to stand trial. However, the case is expected to be a difficult one and the court-martial could stretch into next year.

The Army has never made public its case against MacDonald, but defense attorneys

Bernard L. Segal and Dennis Eisman, both of Philadelphia, have said the prosecution believes he killed his family in a rage over a bedwetting incident involving one of his children.

The defense calls this contention an "insult to the intelligence" of everyone involved in the case, and MacDonald has steadfastly maintained his family was murdered and he was stabbed by four intruders, including two white men, a Negro man and a blond woman wearing a floppy white hat.

The two-month hearing, which received testimony from more than 40 witnesses, was closed to the public and press by decision of Flannagan. While his reason was never disclosed, it is believed the general was concerned about pre-trial publicity that could be grounds for overturning a conviction if MacDonald was eventually found guilty by a court-martial.

Window on the World

By United Press International Hussein's Dilemma:

Western diplomats are deeply pessimistic about the long term outlook for King Hussein of Jordan. They say he will be blamed throughout the Arab world for the bloodshed in the war with Palestinian guerrillas and is unlikely to command any loyalty in the future with the Palestinians who comprise about 50 per cent of Jordan's population. Hussein has also earned the lasting hatred of the leftleaning Arab governments in Syria and Iraq.

Weapons and South Africa:

The British government has asked South Africa for a "shopping list" of weapons South Africa would like if Britain lifts its arms sales embargo. But political sources say no firm decision by Britain is likely before early next year. The conservative government in London has announced its intention of resuming sales of weapons to South Africa, a nation where whites govern despite the fact that most of the people are black.

Wilson's Strategy:

Former British Prime Minister Harold Wilson is expected to try to block any disruptive post-mortem at the Labor party's annual conference opening at Blackpool today into the reasons for the party's defeat in the general elections last June. His main aim is to plan for a Labor comeback rather than to rehash old quarrels.

Fire Destroys Grain Elevator

CLEBURNE, Tex. (UPI)—A fire gutted two one-story buildings in downtown section of Cleburne early today causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

Three businesses and two professional offices were destroyed in the two-hour fire that started in a hobby shop shortly before midnight Thursday.

Fire officials believed the blaze began in Buddy's Hobby Shop, one block off the courthouse square, and spread to Darden-Simpson Insurance and Real Estate next door but in the same brick building.

Buddy's carries considerable quantities of airplane glue and doubling as a sporting goods store, a lot of ammunition and powder. The fire apparently started somewhere in the shop and spread rapidly fed by the minor explosions of the ammunition.

The Johnson County News, a weekly newspaper, an attorney's office and a doctors office in an adjacent building also were gutted.

The fire was put out at 1:15 a.m.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"God Bless You Uncle Sam" is the title of an unreleased movie spoofing some of America's monolithic verities.

Inasmuch as anti-establishment films are in vogue, it follows that a movie knocking sacred cows on both sides of the fence might be twice as funny and-or profitable.

Robert Lansing, who stars in the picture as an Air Force captain, explained that "God Bless Your Uncle Sam" is not unpatriotic or subversive.

Nor does it blame the country's woes solely on the beleaguered guy with lunch pail, ahrd hat, white collar, military uniform or the fuzz.

"There's another establishment," Lansing explained, "the junior conformists who dress and talk alike. They're as locked into their own rigid rules as anyone else."

"Our pictures offers a pox on both their houses."

No One Hears about Film

No one has heard much about the film, nor has a release date been set. According to Lansing, "all the money went into the picture, and not for publicity or advertising."

Lansing believes the picture will be compared with "Dr. Strangelove," and predicts screams of "outrage will be heard from extremists on the outer fringes of the political spectrum."

"The far right and the far left will be convinced we are picking on them," Lansing said, grinning.

A grin on Lansing is a rare thing if you see him only on television or in movies. His deep-set blue eyes, high cheekbones and aggressive jaw have restricted him to drama either as hero or villain.

"This movie is different because I have a chance to play some comedy," he said.

Made in 7-8 Weeks

A Ralph Andrews production, "God Bless You Uncle Sam" was made in seven or eight weeks almost totally on locations in Southern California.

The story involves three draft card burners who escape from a sheriff and conspire to set right the manifold shortcomings of the nation.

"It's not just a witty anti-establishment film," said Lansing, drawing a distinction between those cute little inside pictures that make the average American look retarded and a movie that is made for entertainment.

"Our picture is funny. And that's the big difference."

"There's another difference. "God Bless You Uncle Sam" is as yet unreleased."

Communist Cuba Agrees To Return Airlines

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Communist Cuba announced its willingness Saturday to negotiate a treaty with the United States providing for the extradition of all airline and ship hijackers.

The announcement was made by Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a statement broadcast on radio Havana and monitored here.

"If the United States really wants to discuss this problem once and for all," the statement said, "my government will be willing to negotiate immediately an agreement on the basis established by Cuban law."

The law to which Roa referred provides that any treaty or diplomatic formula on planes and ships and grant no exceptions on the extradition of hijackers. Cuba has long maintained that the United States backs piracy of its ships by persons fleeing Cuba.

In the statement, Roa referred to Cuba's extradition of airline hijacker Robert Labadie to the United States last Thursday as a gesture of "good will."

In offering to negotiate an extradition treaty covering hijackings, Roa's statement stressed that there be no exceptions.

"No exception is to be made in the exchange," he said. "Of all hijackers' of ships and planes."

The Lighter Side

NEW YORK (UPI)—The handwriting may be on the wall, almost literally, for drug addicts applying for jobs.

A handwriting test for both narcotic addiction and alcoholism has been turned up recently, according to Dr. Michael Pace of the Psychographical Center at Hicksville, Long Island, N.Y. And that's encouraging news for business firms which lose several billion dollars a year in the pilferage, absenteeism, costly errors and general inefficiency associated with drug addiction.

The marijuana user applying for a job is tougher to spot than the alcoholic, just as he is on the job. While the alcoholic shows signs of wear and tear, the pot smoker may appear perfectly normal.

Once the addict is discovered, getting rid of him legally may be troublesome. And the outlook for rehabilitation of addicted employees is discouraging up to now.

Attorney General John Mitchell has estimated that about 2 1/2 per cent of all industrial and office workers use drugs. A Chicago publication, Industrial News-Letter, says three out of four factories in the United States have some kind of narcotic problem.

So the businessman tries not to hire an addict if he can avoid it. This often entails expensive investigation and a routine urinalysis, the most reliable test and the one most likely to stand up in court if dismissal or refusal to hire results in a lawsuit.

But the urinalysis route has two drawbacks. It won't detect the marijuana user. And even if it does turn up traces of quinine, used often to cut heroin, amphetamines and other drugs, they may not be conclusive proof. Anyone who drinks gin and tonic also has traces of quinine in his urine.

While Pace's handwriting tests so far have not been accepted as legal evidence in court, they do give the prospective employer a guideline.

"It has the great advantage of not invading privacy," said Pace. "All workers and applicants must write and you needn't take special samples for detection purposes." Like the urinalysis, though, it is of no practical use in detecting addiction to marijuana only.

Despite the existence of urinalysis and handwriting tests, a security officer for Western Electric Co. in Los Angeles says the undercover agent is the surest way of handling narcotics problem in factories. He uncovers the pushers as well as the addicts.

Knit vinyl upholstery. All standard.

3. GTO. Legendary. But we made it better. In honor of our enthusiast fans. New scoops that really scoop. Order them functional with a new 455-CID H.O. V-8. Which is also very efficient on the new no-lead or low-lead gasolines. Lower exhaust emissions. Plus longer life for spark plugs, exhaust system and other engine components. If no-or low-lead gas isn't available, use any leaded regular-grade gas with a research octane number of at least 91. The new Endura front end fights back. It looks like painted sheet metal but isn't. Much tougher. It resists dings, dents, chips. Won't rust. The power train's tough, too. 400-CID V-8. Dual exhausts. A Hurst-shifted 3-speed transmission (order a 4-speed if you prefer).

4. Grand Prix. Until now, no new car ever started out a classic. The look of a classic. An all-new front end. Classic. A sensational new sculptured rear end. Equally so. A new cockpit interior that puts every new control and gauge at fingertip command. There's more to a classic than ogling. It has to move. Grand Prix has a 400-cubic-inch V-8. Power brakes, front discs. Variable-ratio power steering. An available 455 V-8. Grand Prix moves. A new maintenance-free battery. It never needs water. And it holds a higher power reserve throughout its life. Standard on Grand Prix "SJ" model.

Your Horoscope

TUESDAY, SEPT. 29
YOUR BIRTHDAY: TUESDAY: —The search for creative self-expression dominates your entire coming year. Your past achievements are foundations of the present and encouragement for the future, but nonetheless past. The new paths you follow now are defined more by instinct than logic. Tuesday's natives include many obvious instances of fate taking a dominant hand in their history. Many possess great theatrical ability.
ARIES (MARCH 21-APRIL 19): —Slow down a bit, master your impulses, then you can be more effective. Channeling is almost certain to involve loss and other repercussions more important than the low life.
TAURUS (APRIL 20-MAY 20): —Use your head rather than your feelings to meet provocative change. Channeling is almost certain to involve loss and other repercussions more important than the low life.
GEMINI (MAY 21-JUNE 20): —There is no simple magic solution for today's complex atmosphere. Take one thing at a time in finding the smoother path through routine.
CANCER (JUNE 21-JULY 22): —Caution in travel and use of equipment is urged. You are pursuing a rather solitary course to do what you're doing, take the risks into account, and go ahead.
LEO (JULY 23-AUG. 23): —Take the most conservative course. It may be better simply to ride along with conditions than to attempt drastic solutions. Get the facts before you make changes.
VIRGO (AUG. 23-SEPT. 23): —Drama is in the air—capture it constructively in creative projects. People are tempted into needless looking. Passive resistance, dis-involvement are essential.
LIBRA (SEPT. 23-OCT. 23): —Creative experience is the thing for Tuesday, Tuesday's natives are more concerned with routine matters. Your money has too many places to go; just wait a while.
SCORPIO (OCT. 23-NOV. 21): —Start early, settle things before your friends indulge an emotional need to interfere. Use your talents for their highest application. The later hours can be great fun.
SAGITTARIUS (NOV. 22-DEC. 21): —Pace once in a while Tuesday to let intuition catch up with the instant stimuli all around you. Don't let sensibilities deteriorate into serious arguments.
CAPRICORN (DEC. 22-JAN. 19): —Your system of organizing runs a collision, course settles other people's ventures. Seek compromise, acceptance. It is a tense but very rewarding day.
AQUARIUS (JAN. 20-FEB. 18): —Continue to avoid any action which would endanger your partnership or marriage. Your intuition now is your finest guide, despite your very active logic.
PISCES (FEB. 19-MARCH 20): —Going along will others may be the quickest way to advance your own plans. Look ahead to judge when you must diverge to follow your own path somewhat later.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Dow Jones industrial average has been "consolidating" under its recent highs in the past two weeks but the rest of the list has experienced "selective strength," TPO Inc. observes. The adviser also notes that glamor and growth-oriented issues seems to be attracting buyers but adds that the blue chips "could soon resume their upward trends."
Pickup 2nd pgt: With the decline of the past two years, many investors may be turning into traders in hopes of recovering some of their major losses. Harris, Upham & Co. says. Still, as long as the speculative action does not get "completely out of hand," it may turn out to be "a characteristic of the base-building phase that is evident," the company adds.

The Cats Are Back In Pro Ball

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

The Detroit Lions have emerged once again as the dominant force in pro football. The Lions, the famed awesome machine of the early 1950s, have registered two overwhelming victories this season to loom as the powerhouse of the National Football League.

Detroit romped to its second successive victory Sunday with a 38-3 rout of the Cincinnati Bengals in an inter-conference game at Detroit. Thus in two games the Tigers have scored 78 points, tops in the league, and have yet to allow a touchdown.

Lem Barney returned a punt 61 yards for a touchdown and Mel Farr ran for two touchdowns to pace the Detroit

Harris, Rentzel Lift Dallas Past New York

By E FITE
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — A play which grew out of a bit of practice field horseplay and some sterling defensive gems by rookie safety Cliff Harris and Dallas Cowboys' 28-10 defeat of the New York Giants Sunday.

Harris picked off a Fan Tarkenton overthrow and streaked 60 yards with it to set up a three-yard scoring plunge by Hill.

Less than three minutes later, he stole another Tarkenton pass but that effort went for naught when Mike Clark missed a 47-yard field goal try.

Two plays later, however, Harris was at it again. He pounced on a Ron Johnson fumble at the New York 29.

America's Cup Race Now Do Or Die For Gretel II

By WILLIAM VERIGAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — With hopes of reversing an earlier disqualification doomed to failure, the crew of Australian challenger Gretel II began the unlikely task today of winning three straight races against Intrepid of the United States in the America's Cup yachting series.

The race committee's verdict not to reverse the disqualification left the Americans with a 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series to make winning not just important but essential for Packer's Gretel. The forecast was for Intrepid weather today, the kind that Ficker has been waiting for a sail to the final victory.

"It's a forecast for 10-15 knots and steady," a crewman told "before he quit trials Sunday in choppy Newport harbor.

An erratic breeze and Ficker's failure to cover his opponent kept Intrepid from sweeping the series in four straight races last Thursday. Leading by one minute, two seconds at the start of the last leg, the American 12-meter yacht bogged down in a wind shift that carried Gretel to the victory.

"Of course," Packer added, "we all have to win some more races. That's most important now."

However, a member of the hope for a reversal, saying "our first decision was final."

American skipper Bill Ficker continued to voice his agreement with the race committee's decision.

"I'm not bitter about the controversy over the disqualification," Ficker said, but "it's irritating that they continue to bring up rules they don't understand. Maybe they didn't read far enough in the rule book."

Lee Edges Pampa Junior High 20-6

The Robert E. Lee eighth grade Razorbacks beat the Pampa Junior High eighth grade, 20-6, behind the quarterbacking of Rick Leverich.

Leverich scored twice for the Razorbacks on quarterback sneaks of 5 and 7 yards in a clash between the two teams last week.

Tim Thornburg scored from fourteen yards out and did a good job on offense. The offensive line did well on opening holes for Lee's running backs.

Pampa Junior scored on a Mike Taylor pounce on Greg Back. Back scrambled fifty yards for the PJH score.

Harris' heroics came first to lift the Cowboys out of the doldrums and spark them to a 14-10 third quarter lead. Then came the stunner that sealed the Giants' doom and brought a small crowd of 57,236 roaring to its feet in gleeful amazement.

It all started innocently enough as a right end weep as Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach handed off to Calvin Hill, the National Football League's leading rusher, at the Dallas 42-yard line.

But, suddenly Hill handed off to wide receiver Lance Rentzel, sweeping by toward the left in an apparent double reverse. Rentzel swept wide, all right, but suddenly stopped, cocked his left arm and let fly a southpass pass that split end Bob Hayes streaked under on the New York 13-yard line and zipped into the end zone to make it 21-0.

"It was the first time I've thrown a pass since high school days (at Oklahoma City Casady)," Rentzel said later.

"I've been throwing passes to Bob Belden (the taxi squad third string quarterback) while he runs pass patterns in practice and we've had a lot of fun with it," Rentzel said.

"I've been kidding coach Tom Landry about putting it into the playbook and bragging about how I could pick the defenses apart. But, I didn't really think he would do it. I had forgotten about it until he put it in this week."

That pass and a later 24-yard one from Staubach to Hayes with just 11 seconds left were just icing on the cake.

It was really the two interceptions and a fumble recovery by Harris, a 1-year-old free agent from obscure Ouchita Baptist University in Arkansas, that turned the frustrated Cowboys about and headed them toward victory.

The Giants were leading 10-0 and everything the Cowboys did seemed to turn sour until

Pirates Grab NL East Division Three Straight Wins Over Mets

By IRA MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — It was a throwback to the past, the real old time, critics said. Expansion and the two divisions so diluted talent, they played like they did before the game was refined by home-run hitters and overpowering pitchers. It wasn't supposed to matter who won the Eastern Division of the National League.

Apparently no one told the Pirates.

When the pennant race ended Sunday and they were still on top, the clubhouse scene was one of jubilation, the jubilation you expect from winners, winners who have not been told they shouldn't celebrate because they are lousy.

Steve Blass. "This is a young club. They haven't had that much experience."

"I thought maybe they would tighten up but they stayed loose so you know the top had to come off when we finally won it."

"We didn't have a better record than Cincinnati, but we didn't have to," he said.

To Mazeroski, he hollered: "Same old stuff every 10 years, huh Maz, same old stuff every 10 years."

The Pirates could not agree on when they thought they really might win it.

Mazeroski pointed to a game in June where three of the youngsters—Bob Robertson, Al Oliver and Dave Cash—produced hits to score three runs in the ninth inning and win 3-2.

Giusti said the three wins in four games at New York last weekend convinced him. Dock Ellis had a more practical point.

"When Robby (Robertson) stepped on the bag for the final out, I knew we had won it," Ellis said.

Mazeroski said 1970 was more thrilling but 1969 was more fun.

Joe Paterno lost a ballgame and is a happier man for it.

Paterno's Penn State team had won 23 consecutive games and was unbeaten in 31 straight before being routed by Colorado 41-13 Saturday. Most coaches would be upset by the loss, but not Paterno.

"The streaks had become an albatross around our necks," said Paterno, who always his team's winning streaks. "We were outcoached, outplayed, outth and outscored, it's as simple as that. They hit us with some big ones and we just never got into the ballgame. They out-ever-thought us."

Paterno said his team, "always tried to be gracious winners. Now I hope we will be gracious losers."

Penn State's streak went quickly as Colorado opened up a 13-0 lead in the first quarter, added a second period touchdown to take a 20-7 lead at the half and then broke the game wide open on Cliff Branch's 97-yard kickoff return opening the second half.

Penn State Streak Snapped, 'Never Got Into The Ballgame'

The new holder of the nation's longest winning streak is No. 1 ranked Texas, which came alive in the second half to beat Texas Tech 36-13, for its 22nd straight triumph.

In other action involving the top 10 No. 2 Ohio State ripped Texas A&M 56-13, fourth-ranked Stanford downed Oregon 3-10, Southern California (No. 5) demolished Iowa 48-0, Air Force upset sixth-ranked Missouri 37-14, seventh-ranked Mississippi edged Kentucky 29-17, No. 8 Nebraska blanked Army 28-0, ninth-ranked Notre Dame blasted Purdue 48-0 and No. 10 Michigan beat Washington 17-3.

Six teams in the second ten were handed crushing defeats. Oklahoma State beat Houston (No. 11) 26-17 and Oregon State upset 13th-ranked Oklahoma 23-14. Auburn (No. 19) beat Tennessee (No. 14) 36-23, Alabama walloped Florida 46-15, Purdue lost to Notre Dame.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UPI) — Mason Rudolph fired a final round 64 for a 72-hole score of 274 to capture the $80,000 Green Island Open golf championship.

TOKYO (UPI) — Japan's Yoshiji Numata knocked out America's Paul Rojas in the fifth round to retain the world junior lightweight boxing title.

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Violence And Police State

To challenge the coercion and violence of the political establishment with more coercion and violence is an open invitation to the state apparatus to resort to even further repressive measures.

That non-governmental violence begets further governmental repression and the growth of the state apparatus in size, power, and expense to the productive taxpayer was perhaps never made more evident than by the reaction of Minneapolis authorities to eight bombings in three weeks in that city as reported recently on the news wires.

Following the eight bombings, the almost automatic kneejerk reaction of Minneapolis officials was to impose "emergency regulations to control the sale and handling of explosives," the AP dispatch said.

Of course, this is now virtually common knowledge, such further bureaucratic restrictions will not act to deter the criminal users of explosives any more than like restrictions on the sale and use of firearms have deterred the criminal users of guns.

Now, It's 'Safe Look'

The outcome of the current struggle between the miniskirt partisans and fashion designers determined to foist the mid-skirt on them may still be in doubt but, according to one authority on male fashion, the "Peacock Revolution" is moulting.

It was inevitable, he says, with the coming to power of a Republican administration. For didn't we have the "up-tight" Hoover color during Depression days, and didn't the Zoot Suit come in with the Democrats?

Let's (Pant) Swap (Pant)

After more than two decades as a poor relation, Communist East Germany is now staging its own version of West Germany's "economic miracle."

lipstick, eye make-up and other cosmetics.

But along with boom times has come something the socialist planners didn't plan on, reports UPI correspondent Joseph Fleming — the appearance of pretty, shapely women.

Maybe we can work out a deal with East Germany. We'll send them our women liberationists who are tired of being treated as sex objects and want to be appreciated for their intelligence and ability to achieve and they'll send us their female lathe operators and tractor drivers who are tired of achieving and who would like to begin being appreciated for more "primitive" reasons.

Wit And Whimsy

The pleasantest thing in the world is happy thoughts; the secret of a happy life is to have as many of these as possible.

The most interesting and satisfying adventures of life are usually not the ones we seek — they come as a sort of by-product.

H. L. Hunt Writes

LET FREEDOM STRIVE
Citizens of every country outside the Iron and Bamboo Curtains should prevail upon their governments to permit the refugees from slavery to try to oust the minority of enslavers who now rule the captive satellite nations.

Once upon a time the United States of America was noted as a haven of freedom, casting fear into the hearts of tyrants the world over. Freedom-seeking majorities in scores of tyrannized countries took heart from the existence of this Republic and from our model were able to overthrow their own minority oppressors.

If the U.S. government of that day had interfered with freedom-seeking refugees, there would be few if any free nations in the world today. The United States government did not meddle, either by arming rebel refugees or by preventing private citizens from supporting fighters for freedom from other lands.

With the increase in crime and communist-inspired anarchy and socialism in our own nation, we are in no position to think: "It can't happen here."

Clearing House

Got something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind, etc. in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor: In a recent letter in which I mentioned projects for politicians and the need for new building programs for new pastors, it seems that some concern is voiced by some of the brethren of some churches.

There are no greater organizations, than our churches who endeavor to carry on the Bible teachings. But, it seems that we as churches in many instances have forgotten where we started. We started out to save the world.

We have detoured to the real estate holdings. We have lost our enthusiasm for the old time evangelist pastors largely swap about and hold the revivals for each other.

In some instances I have known some pastors who spent about as much time away "holding revivals" as they do in their own churches.

Our Churches in truth have veered from saving the world, to dabbling in tax free real estate. This happens all too frequently.

SENSING THE NEWS

The Courage To Affirm

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN
HARTFORD, Conn. — While Black Panthers, the SDS and a mixed bag of revolutionary groups plunge many campuses into chaos, the nation's educational institutions are not without student groups dedicated to upholding American principles and traditions.

President Nixon isn't among the YAF heroes, but Vice President Spiro T. Agnew definitely fits YAF's concept of a heroic mold. His name produced cheers from the assembled delegates.

Part of the national importance of the YAF meeting in Hartford is that these bright, energetic young people undoubtedly will play leading roles in political campaigns around the country this fall and in 1972.

At this meeting, the youthful YAF members heard — and received very well — advice from their elders in the conservative movement.

Waggoner Carr, former attorney general of Texas, reminded his audience that American youth has a bad image overseas — that the minority of disrupters has hurt the reputation of American young people.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb
An Excess of Anything Can Prove Your Undoing
If a little is good, is more better? Not necessarily if you want to stay healthy.

Oxygen in the air you breathe is one example. If you are exposed to thin air, at altitude, you may not get enough oxygen if the oxygen lack is severe, it can cause fainting or even death.

Sunshine is another example. It is really radiation. A small amount is good for you and builds up vitamin D in the body. Too much can cause severe sunburn or may lead to early wrinkling of the skin.

Many people, particularly diabetics, overweight individuals and those with heart disease, need foods prepared with artificial sweeteners. If you are one of those I say go ahead and use them.

Question Box

QUESTION—The Congress has now lowered the voting age to 18. Is age a proper requirement for voting?
ANSWER: We do not believe the voting privilege should be given to a person just because he has reached a certain age, no matter whether that age is 18, 21, 41 or whatever.

While we do not believe that the political vote will in any way solve any of our problems, if we are going to have a political state and elect politicians to rule us, it seems we should allow only those to vote who are qualified to exercise mature judgment.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Inside Washington

Crime in the Capital
—And No Answers

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — A graphic illustration of why widespread crime and violence are the overriding campaign issue in this year's election is the pitiful case of Julius Rufus Cramer.

But throughout the months their noisy battling, not one did any of them say one word about the crime ravaged and agonizing losses of Julius Rufus Cramer — thousands of little people like him, black and white, all over the country.

In 1967, the year of Washington's riots, burnings and looting, his little shop was pillaged 39 times.

The breast-beating liberals had much to say about safeguarding "constitutional rights and freedoms," but nothing about protecting the livelihood of the Julius Rufus Cramers.

Julius Rufus Cramer is a stocky, balding, 61-year-old grandfather of five. He is the epitome of the best type of small negro businessman — honest, efficient, competent and conscientious.

Although a Negro himself Cramer flatly puts the blame for his problems on blacks.

Washington now has a 5,100-member police force — the largest for any city its size in the country. Several months ago, under persistent and vigorous prodding by President Nixon, Congress finally passed the District of Columbia anti-crime act. Deemed a model of its kind, the measure was particularly distinctive for two tough provisions — no knock, permitting police to enter premises without prior notice, and preventative detention, barring the release of dangerous suspects held for trial.

"I can't sleep at night. I have high blood pressure because of this. My wife is sick because of this. I can't sleep and my wife is sick because we know that when I come here in the morning it will be the same old story — another break-in and another burglary."

THE GLOBAL VIEW

Lies And Deceit Still Soviet Way Of 'Playing The Game'

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — Having misused the Mideast ceasefire agreement for a massive missile build-up in the Suez area, the Russians are now making a half-faced attempt to justify their perfidy.

condemned as cynical liars."

What is disturbing is the fact that even a student of Soviet strategy like President Nixon gave the Kremlin leaders an opportunity to outwit him by putting too much faith in their word.

It would be highly undiplomatic for Nixon to say this outright. But the President and his advisers surely remember that it was during the Geneva summit conference of 1955 that the Russians began the penetration of the Middle East. Even as former Premier Khrushchev was offering to President Eisenhower eternal "miri i družba" (peace and friendship), Moscow was sending in arms and agents.

There is nothing wrong with Nixon's policy of "negotiation instead of confrontation." But an awareness of the Russians' technique and an alertness toward their ultimate revolutionary goal cannot be replaced by hopes of détente. Good intentions are usually counterproductive in any dealings with Marxist-Leninists.

Some 15 years later, Communist Russia, without firing a shot, emerged as a dominant power in the Middle East and the Mediterranean, thus realizing the old imperialist dreams of the Czars.

By now this is old stuff. But American policymakers, it seems, must be constantly reminded that Lenin's turgid volumes are still the "Bible" of the Kremlin leaders — despite the periodic twists and turns of their foreign policy.

As yet, there is no indication that Moscow is prepared to accept a SALT inspection system. In its absence, who could say how many warheads the Russians had? Even spies in the skies are not infallible counters.

Quotes In The News

BEER DRINKER DIES

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI)—Jack Manakau, 33, a laborer, collapsed and died Saturday trying to break the world beer drinking record. Manakau collapsed in the bar of a hotel in Fielding, 80 miles north of Wellington, after he finished 90 seven-ounce glasses — 31.1 pints — of beer. He was taken to Fielding Hospital and died shortly after admission.

ROCKEFELLERS EXPECTING

CHARLESTON, Va. (UPI)—John D. Rockefeller IV, Secretary of State of West Virginia, and his wife are expecting their second child. Rockefeller, 33, great-grandson of the founder of the Standard Oil Co. and the Rockefeller Foundation, made the announcement this week-end. He said the baby was due early next year. He and his wife Sharon, daughter of Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., have a 14-month-old son, John, who will decide himself at age 21 if he wants to become John D. Rockefeller V.

MISCALCULATION

CINCINNATI (UPI)—William Roberts decided to call the bluff of the gunman robbing his Pony Keg restaurant Sunday when he saw five chambers of the revolver were empty. When Roberts rushed the bandit, he was wounded in the hand. The gunman escaped with $198.

NEW STAMPS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Post Office plans to issue five Christmas stamps on Nov. 5, four of them showing 19th Century toys and the fifth depicting a nativity scene. The toys will include a toy locomotive, a horse, a doll carriage and tricycle. The manger scene will be a reproduction of Lorenzo Lotto's "The Nativity," a painting by the 16th century Italian artist which hangs in the National Gallery of Art.

Students Aid Teacher Who Is Good Guy

SEATTLE (UPI)—Blood donations from hundreds of high school students helped a teacher Saturday in his recovery from a operation that was risky because the patient is a hemophiliac.

The donations were being drawn in the Ballard High School gymnasium from among 1,200 students who each have pledged a pint.

"I think the great majority of the young today are simply fine persons," said Erma Rodenhouse, a teacher who helped organize the collection. "But you don't hear as much about the good as you do the bad."

Ballard Fletcher, 39, a business teacher at the school for 43 years, has blood that won't clot without outside help.

Doctors needed over 1,000 pints to extract enough of a special factor to care for Fletcher during his recovery from surgery replacing an artificial hip joint, needed because the joint was injured by the blood disease.

A plea for donations was posted by the student body president, George Guy, 17, because as one pupil put it: "Mr. Ballard Fletcher is a good guy."

Pope Plans Asian Trip On Birthday

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI turned 73 today in the midst of preparations for the longest journey in papal history — his visit to the Philippines and Australia in November.

Vatican sources said the Pope's birthday would be work as usual. Italians generally celebrate the feast day of the saint they are named after rather than their birthdays.

As well as planning for the Asian trip—the first made by any pontiff to that part of the world—the Pope was closely following Middle East developments with the hope of offering Vatican intermediation if necessary, the sources said.

The Pope was preparing for his meeting Monday evening with President Nixon. Vatican sources said the Pope wanted to talk to Nixon about Indochina peace prospects in preparation for the speeches he will make in the Far East. The sources said Paul VI also could be expected to encourage the United States to continue its peace initiative in the Middle East.

On Sunday, the Pope will preside over a rare ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica at which St. Teresa of Avila will be named a Doctor of the Church — the first time a woman has been admitted to the select body of "super saints" honored for the exemplary sanctity of their lives and for their theological wisdom.

Only 29 persons have been proclaimed doctors in the church's almost 2,000-year history.

Oil Finds Up, Gas Finds Down

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Texas wildcaters had three oil and eight gas discoveries in the state last week, the Railroad Commission reported.

The new finds bring the total for the year to 256 oil and 414 gas discoveries; compared with 226 oil and 439 gas finds to the same date a year ago.

Two of the oil discoveries were in Southwest Texas and the other was in East Texas. Four of the gas finds were in Southwest Texas, one was in the Gulf Coast, one was in East Texas and two were in West Central Texas.

Including regular drilling, there were 110 oil and 35 gas wells completed during the week, bringing the total for the year to 3,790 oil and 1,413 gas completions. To the same date in 1969, there had been 3,724 oil and 1,768 gas wells completed.

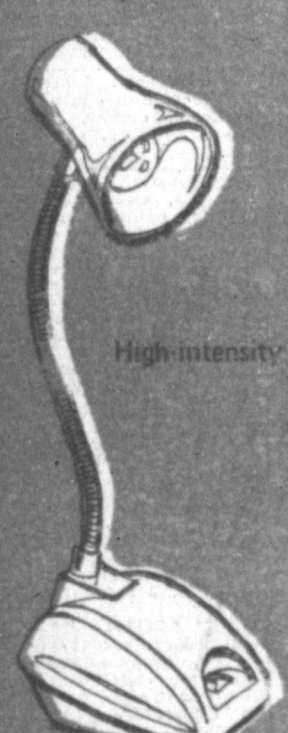

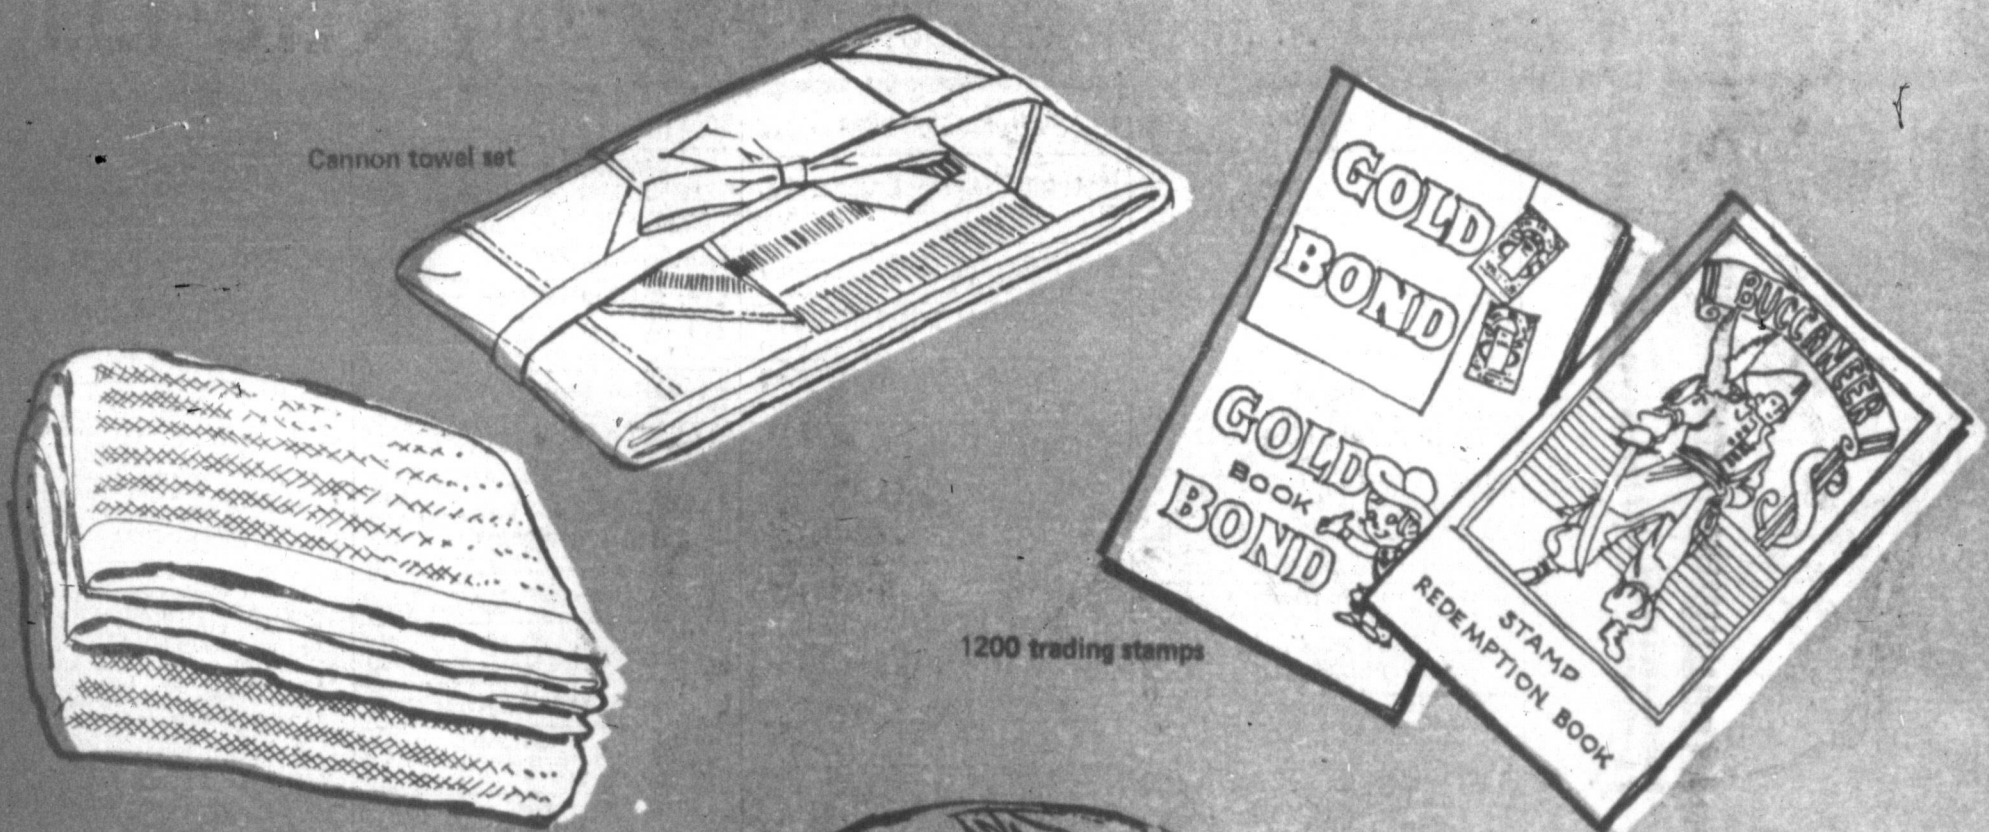

CURIOUS—BY JIMMINY!
ANZIO, Italy (UPI)—Mrs. Maria De Felice walked up to her parked car Friday and stopped abruptly.

Yes, there was a sound coming from inside, like the ticking of a time device.

Mrs. De Felice called customs agents. Customs agents called the police. Police called the fire brigade.

Firemen found the source of the noise—a chirping cricket.
