West Germany, Poland To Sign Pact To End 25-Year Animosity

WARSAW (UPI)—West Germany and Communist Poland reached agreement after a marathon negotiating session Saturday on an historic goodwill treaty designed to end 25 years of animosity.

The pact, like the nonaggression treaty signed by West Germany and the Soviet Union last August, would include West Germany's acceptance of Poland's western border at the Oder and Neisse Rivers.

The treaty will be initiated in Warsaw Wednesday and it will almost certainly be signed before Christmas, possibly by West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, a West German spokesman told newsmen.

Hard bargaining over West German recognition of the Oder-Neisse border kept West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel's delegation in Warsaw for nearly two weeks.

Only after an all-night session, which ended at 4:55 a.m. this morning, did Scheel and Polish Foreign Minister Stefan Jedyrychowski announce agreement.

The 1945 Potsdam Treaty, signed by the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain, made the Oder-Neisse frontier provisional pending the signing of a peace treaty with a reunited Germany. The Russians have blocked any peace agreement.

But 25 years after Potsdam, the Poles insisted on recognition of the frontier by West Germany as the essential condition for the reconciliation which Brandt has been seeking with the Communist world.

Scheel and Jedyrychowski smiled broadly as they emerged today from the final round of negotiations.

A West German spokesman won a round of applause from newsmen when he told them full agreement was reached on the text of the treaty and associated humanitarian issues.

He said both Scheel and his Polish counterpart hailed the treaty as the beginning of a new era of relations between their peoples after a history that brought "deep sorrow."

It marked a new success of Chancellor Willy Brandt's policy seeking reconciliation with countries of Eastern Europe and a personal triumph for Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, who has sought Bonn's recognition of the Oder-Neisse border for more than 20 years.

West German spokesman Ruediger von Wechmar said the treaty will almost certainly be signed before Christmas, possibly by Brandt.

Its central point is Bonn's acceptance of the Polish western border which was marked by the wartime allies in 1945 at Potsdam, giving German lands the size of the state of Kentucky to Poland to make up for larger territorial losses to the Soviet Union.

Von Wechmar quoted Jedyrychowski as saying the treaty should close a rift dividing the West German and Polish nations as a result of the past and it would have an important influence on relations between other European states.

He declined to say, however, when diplomatic relations will be established between Bonn and Warsaw, explaining it would be easier to answer the question once the treaty is signed.

IN PLANE CRASH

Grid Team Wiped Out

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A chartered airplane bringing the Marshall University football team home from a game in North Carolina crashed and burned Saturday night about a mile from the Tri-State Airport.

State police said it appeared there were no survivors.

A spokesman for Marshall University here said the plane, a DC9 chartered from Southern Airways, Atlanta, Ga., carried 68 persons, including the university football team and coaching staff, a State Assemblyman, and a Huntington television station sportscaster.

The crash occurred at about 7:40 P.M., EST, while the plane was under approach control by the airport, the Federal Aviation Agency said. The wreckage still burned two hours after the crash, State Police at the scene reported.

State Trooper W. F. Donohue said "It would be a miracle if anyone survived the crash."

The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) at the airport confirmed that 68 persons were aboard the plane.

The plane was returning from the Marshall-East Carolina football game won by East Carolina, 17-14. It departed from Kinston, N.C., for the 40-minute flight to Huntington.

There was light fog and light rainfall in the Huntington area at the time of the crash.

Chief Justice: Jury Trial In Civil Cases Should Be Curtailed

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Chief Justice Warren E. Burger suggested curtailment of jury trials in civil cases Saturday as one way to accomplish a sorely needed streamlining of the judiciary.

Stressing he was not advocating any specific change but only making suggestions for bar and bench to consider, Burger said all automobile and personal injury cases might be removed from federal to state courts and tried without juries.

"Perhaps the time has come to ask whether automobile personal injury cases have any more place in the federal courts than overtime parking or speeding on Chestnut Street in Philadelphia," he said.

He spoke at a testimonial dinner honoring Pennsylvania Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr., 78, a harsh critic of some U.S. Supreme Court decisions. Bell led a move in 1966 to have the Conference of State Chief Justices protest the high court's guidelines for police questioning of suspects.

Among his "few modest examples" of how the judicial system might be modernized, Burger suggested trying complex and lengthy cases with a judge and two lay experts, as is done in England. Lay experts in chemistry, physics or engineering, for example, could assist the judge and hasten a verdict.

"The mere fact that the prolonged trials so common in the United States are virtually unknown in England suggests we ought at least to look more closely at their experience," he said.

Burger noted that while the constitution guarantees a jury trial in criminal cases, the supreme court recently ruled that although traditional, a jury of 12 members is not constitutionally required.

Spearman Man Dies In Crash

PERRYTON (STAFF)—A 71-year-old Spearman man, Paul McClaren Taylor, was killed in a rear-end vehicle crash around 6:30 p.m. Saturday, 20 miles south of Perryton on US 83. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Services are pending with Boxwell Brothers Funeral Directors in Perryton.

Investigation officers said Taylor, driving north toward Perryton, crashed into the rear end of a semi-truck tractor trailer parked on the highway. The driver of the truck, Leslie Hensley of Perryton, was not injured, according to officers.

California Forest Fires Are Still Out Of Control

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI)—Forest and brush fires, four of them burning out of control in Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Ventura counties, accounted for more than 51,000 acres of blackened forests and brush-covered areas Saturday.

The largest, the Bear Fire, seared more than 45,000 acres of valuable watershed area in the San Bernardino Mountains while destroying 32 resort homes and threatening several more near the San Bernardino city limits.

"PEOPLE WILL Say We're In Love" is the lyrical look Curley is giving Laurie in this segment from the Broadway musical "Oklahoma" to be presented by the Pampa High School Concert Choir Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Beloved 'Oklahoma' Readied For Texans

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

One of the most popular, most beloved, longest-running, most widely-produced around-the-world musical show in theatrical history, "Oklahoma" will be presented by the Pampa High School Concert Choir in Robert E. Lee Junior High School, with Thursday, Friday, and Saturday opening performances and a Saturday matinee.

"And you don't have to be an 'Oklie' to enjoy it, as evidenced by its 5-year run on Broadway beginning in 1943. Although it has not accurately been determined, the Oklahoma population ratio to Texan population in Pampa is enough to insure a packed house every night!

As added insurance for a pleasant theatre evening, choral director Bill Davis has cast each of the roles with top-notch musical talent to do each of the Rodgers and Hammerstein songs full justice.

Lead roles are taken by Mimi Miller, soprano, as "Laurie" and Greg Dennis, baritone, as "Curly."

In supporting roles are Sharon Bruce as Aunt Eller; Dennis Taylor as Ike Skidmore; Charles Combs as Fred; Jimmy Crossman as Slim; Rick Harris as Will Parker; John Fitzgerald as Jud Fry; Jeree Pitts as Ado Annie Carnes; Darrel Cory as Ali Hakim;

Rebecca Secret as Gertie Cummings; Lana Barnett as Ellen; Paula Homer as Kate; Julie Johnson as Sylvie; Beverly Cantwell as Armina; Glenna Hudgins as Aggie; Loren Rice as Andrew Carnes; Keith Oliphant as Cord Elam; Steve Cory as Jess; Monty Bryan as Chalmers; Jim Thompson as Mike; Billy Lemmons as Joe; and Monty Joiner as Sam.

An interesting sidelight is Mimi Miller's mother, Mrs. Jack O. Miller, played the role of "Laurie" when the original play "Green Grow the Lilies" was presented by the University of Texas drama department when she was a student there.

Musical accompaniment will include brass, woodwind and percussion instruments players from the Pampa High School band augmented by strings from the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, directed by Davis.

Scenery has been rented from a theatrical company in California which was used in the 1943 production of Oklahoma.

Jeanne Willingham of the Beaux Arts Dance Studio is instructing the choreography.

Performances will be 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings with a 2:30 Saturday matinee.

Tickets are available at Malone Pharmacy or by calling 669-2681 and tickets will be delivered.

Matinee tickets are $1. for students if purchased in advance or $1.50 at the door; $1.50 adult general admission, if purchased in advance; $2.49 advance reserve seats and $2.25 if purchased at the door.

GOP SENATE LEADER

Curb On Candidates' Spending For Political Broadcasts Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott urged his Republican colleagues Saturday to uphold the curb on candidate spending for campaign broadcasts which President Nixon vetoed over Democratic protests before the Nov. 3 elections.

"I believe campaign spending should be limited," Scott said in a letter to GOP senators. "I do not believe, however, that it should be limited only to one form of advertising as this bill does."

Democrats dismissed Nixon's argument that the legislation was not broad enough, charging that he merely wanted to protect Republican candidates backed by the much greater financial resources of his party. Even if signed, the bill would have had virtually no effect on broadcast spending in the recent elections.

The bill Nixon vetoed Oct. 12 would have limited spending on radio and television in general elections to 7 cents for each vote cast in the last general election for the same office, or $20,000, whichever is higher. In primary elections, the candidates would be limited to half that amount.

The curb would cover presidential and vice presidential candidates in the general election.

Century's Worst Disaster Devastates East Pakistan Areas

DACCA, East Pakistan (UPI)—As many as 60,000 persons were feared lost Saturday in the wake of a cyclone and tidal waves which battered offshore islands and coastal areas of East Pakistan. The government launched a massive relief operation.

Radio Pakistan placed the official death toll at 800 but said 50,000 may have died. All India Radio said the toll had risen to 60,000 and was expected to surpass that figure when communications were restored with devastated areas.

The East Pakistan government said it was the nation's worst disaster of the century, exceeding the death and destruction caused by the scores of other storms down through the years which have whipped across the Bay of Bengal and lashed unprotected lowlands in the area known as the Mouths of the Ganges.

The cyclone battered the area for six hours Friday. Some of the tidal waves were 30 feet high.

A pilot who flew over the scene estimated 1 million persons in a 10,000-square-mile area were homeless. He said there were no signs of life in some previously populated areas. Some islands had simply disappeared.

Radio Pakistan said Noakhali, a district with a population of more than 3 million, was the hardest hit area where 500 bodies were counted.

In the Barisal district, east of Noakhali, the radio said 287 persons were known to have been killed.

Heavy tolls were reported on the offshore islands of Hatia and Sandvip. Hatia, 23 miles long and 4 to 8 miles wide, was reported under 20 feet of water in some places. A cyclone in 1876 killed over half of Hatia's population.

More than 14,000 launches were put into the relief operation Saturday and several Pakistani warships joined the effort to get food, clothing and shelter to the stricken area. Helicopters dropped medical supplies.

Radio Pakistan said it was believed that many of the victims were among 13,000 religious pilgrims who had assembled in the Dubla area for immersion in Ganges waters considered holy by Hindus. Dubla is part of the Sunderbans, a swampy area which stretches for 160 miles along the coast of the Bay of Bengal.

There are about 2,000 islands in the area, and most remained cut off from communications.

A correspondent of the Eastern News Agency said he visited the coastal zone and counted 350 floating bodies. He said other corpses were stuck in tree branches or lying in paddy fields. Thousands of cattle, their bodies bloated by water, were seen.

Pakistani officials dispatched a motor launch to check on reports all or most of the pilgrims were drowned.

Reports from unofficial sources repeatedly spoke of islands either missing or still inundated 24 hours after the giant storm.

It was the ninth deadly cyclone to strike East Pakistan in 10 years and appeared to have caused damage in an area of 10,000 square miles with a population of 5 million.

Ahmed reported 90 per cent of the houses were destroyed along the 300-mile coastal bay between Noakhali and Chittagong. He said thousands of cattle perished and there was heavy damage to standing crops. Storm damage also extended inland to the Khulna and Barisal districts, 100 miles southwest of Dacca.

"HOTLINE"

Crisis Center For Local Area

Interested persons are invited to attend an orientation and organizational meeting at 4 p.m. today in the Educational Building of First Presbyterian Church to inaugurate a crisis intervention service for the Pampa area.

The 'Hotline' service, similar to one in effect in Amarillo, is being organized under the direction of Rev. Martin Hager, pastor of First Presbyterian Church and Don Loshner, Cabot engineer.

"Pampa needs a crisis intervention service that will provide a quick reaction to a whole spectrum of emergency situations. So far, we are assured of the full support of the Amarillo programs 'Drug Alert' and 'Suicide Prevention' that will train Pampa volunteers and give us the benefit of their experience," the co-chairmen have outlined.

Attending this afternoon's meeting will be Mrs. Claire Rigger, of Amarillo executive director of 'Suicide Prevention and Crisis Intervention" and Jim Hulet, former Pampa High School counselor now associated with Panhandle Educational Services Organization in Amarillo.

What "Hotline" needs are people with a compassionate interest in the problems of others, the co-chairmen outlined. "We are not only looking for telephone volunteers who must have very special skills that are almost 'inborn' in a person, but people who are willing to spend some time in administrative support of the program."

Loshner said invitations had been extended to all segments of the community to attend including medical, legal, law enforcement, school, and church officials; civic and cultural representatives.

Labor Leaders Seen To Clash With Texas Insurance Industry

AUSTIN (UPI) — Labor leaders are expected to clash with the Texas insurance industry at an insurance board hearing Nov. 23.

K&F SPEAKER — Dr. Paul S. Spangler, retired captain of the USN Medical Corps, will address the Top O' Texas at a dinner meeting in the Coronado Inn at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Members may obtain tickets until Monday noon at Malone's Pharmacy in Coronado Center.

H. S. Brown has warned leaders to the insurance industry they will get a fight if they ask for higher auto insurance rates. Auto rates went up 9.9 per cent last year after Gov. Preston Smith appointed a special nine-member committee to look into the recommended 11.4 per cent hike called for by the insurance board staff.

Although insurance companies traditionally decline to say what rate changes they will request until the date of the rate hearing, it is a foregone conclusion they will ask for higher rates this year.

When the companies presented testimony at a hearing Oct. 20 indicating a proposed change in the rate-making formula would require at least a 6.5 per cent rate hike, Brown made this reply:

"If this is forging a precedent for letting us know how much more we're going to have to pay for auto insurance, you're going to have the damndest fight since the Battle of the Alamo both politically and in the legislature."

Labor leaders and some legislators have campaigned for years to make the insurance board consider companies' investment income in considering insurance rates. After years of resisting, the companies endorsed the planned rate-making change this year.

ANALYSIS PREDICTS Texas Unemployment Rate Highest In Six Years

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) —The Texas unemployment rate for November will be the highest level in six years, state analysts predict.

Texas Employment Commission statisticians estimate at least 4 per cent of the labor force will be shown out of work and unable to find jobs when actual numbers are tabulated.

Mass layoffs in defense plants and other manufacturing industries, cutbacks in federal programs and government office staffs and the generally tight job market in all fields present a gloomy outlook for job seekers.

"I think the picture is going to get a whole lot worse before it gets any better," says Texas

APL-CIO President, Hank Brown. Figures compiled by the Texas Employment Commission tend to support Brown's pessimistic assessment of the Texas situation.

The number of jobless workers in the state increased during September for the first time on record—from 176,500 during August to 179,500 for September. Normally, the return of student job seekers to schools and other seasonal upturns in employment reduce the jobless rate considerably from August to September.

But mass layoffs in a number of areas of the state offset the normal trend this year and Texas' unemployment rate edged upward from 3.7 per cent in August to 3.8 per cent in September. The increase — even though slight — was the first recorded for September since the State Employment Commission began compiling statistics in 1947.

Although exact figures are not available yet, state officials say more mass layoffs pushed the jobless rate up further in October. And on the basis of a number of announcements of planned layoffs state officials predict unemployment will climb still higher for November.

"I would imagine it would be at least 4.0 per cent," said Ruth Goebler, a labor market analyst with the state agency.

That would be the highest figure for the month of November since 1964 when the jobless ratio hit .47 per cent.

"Readjustment" — "It's just a matter of readjusting the economy—we've kinda been swept along on the crest of a boom and now we're kinda settling back to more of a peacetime economy," Mrs. Goebler said.

Testimony In Five-Month Trial Ends Tate Murder Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The state of California has finally wound up its case in the Tate murder trial after 83 witnesses, 17,659 pages of testimony and 297 pieces of evidence over a period of five months.

Deputy District Attorney Vincent Bugliosi was expected to pronounce formally the words, "The state rests," on Monday after arguments over introduction of photographs, documents, knives, rope, a gun, clothing and other exhibits for examination by the jury.

Bugliosi announced late Friday that the prosecution had no more witnesses to call against Charles Manson and his three female codefendants, Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel and Leslie Van Houten.

The defense was expected to begin its case by introducing motions for a directed verdict of acquittal. If that is denied, defense lawyers will start calling an estimated 20 witnesses, expected to include Manson himself but not the young women.

Bugliosi noted the tremendous length of the trial and estimated it would go beyond Christmas.

The final prosecution witnesses were two psychiatrists who testified that the 17-year-old Dianne Lake was mentally competent to appear for the state although at one time she was suffering from an LSD-induced psychosis.

Her testimony about the August, 1969, slayings had been among the most damaging against Manson and the three women.

At the end of Friday's court session, Judge Charles H. Older

Audit, Bus Routes On School Agenda

Pampa School Board will hear an audit report for 1969-70 and consider the district's charter bus policy during the regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Carver Center.

Other agenda items are consideration of a local purchasing policy, pre-basketball agreement clarifications, discussion of architect's statements on the district's building program, and a report of the special property committee.

Herbert Erasher, of Lubbock, architect for the district's building project, is to submit a report of remaining bills for 1969 additions to Pampa High School, science equipment, and field house.

John Gikas, chairman of the property committee of Dr. R.M. Hampton, and Warren Hassee, will report on the consideration of property purchase across from Sam Houston Elementary School.

18 Injured In 2-Car Wreck

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI) —Two buses carrying Ohio State football fans to Purdue collided on a rain-slick highway near the Boilermaker Stadium Saturday. At least 18 persons were injured.

The wreck occurred when the first of two coaches in a caravan operated by People's Travel Service of Columbus, Ohio, stopped in heavy traffic on the U.S. 52 bypass around the east limits of Lafayette and West Lafayette.

The driver of the second bus was unable to stop in time to avoid crashing into the rear of the front coach. Both coaches remained upright, but the back bus was damaged considerably. Most of the injured were in the rear bus.

"I would imagine it would be at least 4.0 per cent," said Ruth Goebler, a labor market analyst with the state agency.

That would be the highest figure for the month of November since 1964 when the jobless ratio hit .47 per cent.

U.S. Still Opposes Peking's Admission Into United Nations

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States said today it still opposes admission of Communist China to the United Nations—a statement that seemed to water down an apparent move toward a "two China" policy in the U.N.

U.S. Ambassador Christopher H. Phillips told the General Assembly Thursday "the fact of the matter is, the United States is interested as any in this room to see the People's Republic of China play a constructive role among the family of nations."

But he said, "we do not see how the purposes of this organization can be served by expelling any member which has long and faithfully observed the obligations set forth in its charter." This was a reference to Nationalist China.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House spokesman, said today in Washington the United States still opposed Red China's admission and that "Peking has never indicated any interest in joining the U.N. unless it is coupled with expulsion of Nationalist China."

He also said the United States hoped to see Peking play a "constructive role" in the family of nations, stressed anew President Nixon's desire for better relations with Peking and said the President is working toward a point "where we can begin establishing communications with China."

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The World Almanac notes that Abraham Lincoln, speaking at a Republican State Convention in 1858, exclaimed: "A house divided against itself cannot stand." He added: "I believe this government cannot endure permanently half slave and half free. I do not expect the Union to be dissolved—I do not expect the house to fall—but I do expect it will cease to be divided."

Singer Here For Revival In First Baptist Church

Homer Tankersley will be the singer for the revival in First Baptist Church this coming week. He was reared in Dallas, was in the service two years, and later taught voice in California. He was a member of the Imperial Quartet which was on the Texas Quality Network for six years and made appearances from coast to coast.

The Imperial Quartet later became known as the Commodores and made appearances on the Arthur Godfrey television and radio show on CBS, and with Pat Boone, Ernie Ford, Red Foley, and others on NBC.

After leaving the entertainment world, he decided to operate a men's clothing store, and he developed it into a successful business. Now he feels that his calling is in the field of sacred music, and since moving to Clovis he has had five releases for major companies here and in Europe. He is Minister of Music for the Central Baptist Church, Clovis, and Mrs. Tankersley is the church pianist. He also records for the Beam Record Company there and his latest recording is "I'll Tell the World."

Tankersley will meet with the revival choir each evening at 8:45 and present special music each service during the revival.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—When General Motors resumes full production "a sharp upswing in the economy" will follow accompanying "substantial improvement in profits," Argus Research Corp. says. "Given this prospect," the company feels a "constructive investment stance is appropriate."

Federal Reserve Board discount rate cut can be "viewed as a clear indication that FRB Chairman Burns has conceded to an acceleration in monetary policy," according to R. B. Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis. Johnson said the administration "feels it must adopt policies which will be more stimulative toward economic recovery... in view of the 1972 presidential elections."

Crude Oil Price Hike By 2 Firms To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Nixon administration has said it will investigate a crude oil price increase by two large U.S. firms that could cost American motorists a penny more a gallon for the gas they buy.

As other companies reported they were considering following the lead of Gulf and Atlantic-Richfield, the White House's Office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP) informed the two companies that the inquiry was being started into "the national security implications of a price increase at this time."

Gulf and Atlantic-Richfield increased crude oil prices, effective Friday, by 25 cents a barrel to $3.35 and ordered an accompanying hike of 0.7 cents a gallon in the wholesale price of gasoline to dealers.

Observers said the increases more than likely would result in gas stations ultimately raising their gas prices by at least a penny a gallon. It could also trigger higher prices for other petroleum products.

OEP Director George A. Lincoln announced that he had decided to investigate the increase was made after consultations with Paul W. McCracken, Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, who promised to take a major role in the probe. Lincoln said the Justice and Interior Departments also would help in the investigation.

Officials said the investigation was in line with President Nixon's expressed concern about high fuel prices and possible fuel oil shortages—particularly in the Northeast—and with general inflationary trends in the country.

OEP will conduct the probe under the Oil Import Proclamation which requires the OEP director to "maintain a constant surveillance of imports of petroleum and its primary derivatives in respect to the national security."

LONDON—Michael Pearson who bought a 1941 Daimler "Dingo" armored car to combat London's rush hour traffic;

"I can't think of a better vehicle for avoiding being eternally cut out by taxis and London Transport buses. I expect a wide berth from anything else on the road."

Youth Center Wrapup

BASKETBALL LEAGUE—The Center will offer the City League Basketball competition again this winter. The league is open to any teams whether church, company, independent, school or otherwise. Teams from out-of-town are invited to enter.

Entry fee for each team will be $45 plus the referee's fees which is $5.00 per game played per team. In addition to the team fee each player must either be a Center member or pay the 50 cents team admittance fee each game. A 1/2 year membership is only $5.00.

On November 30 at 7:00 p.m. an organizational meeting will be held at the Center to determine fees for each team and to draw up playing schedules. All team fees must be paid by the time you play your first game. Individual fees are also due. The first game League play will start the following week. Practice time can be arranged by contacting the Center Director, Georg Smith, by calling 665-2012. Any individual wishing to play should contact Smith.

TEEN DANCES—The most important activity we have at the Center is our teen dance program. This activity reaches more young people than any other. These dances are held on Friday or Saturday during the school year and at other special times. All dances are well chaperoned by adults. Many parents come out to help chaperone and all parents are invited to come out and get a first-hand knowledge of what a teenage get together looks like.

The dance schedule is booked according to the Harvesters' athletic schedule. If the Harvesters play in town on Friday night, the dance will be after the game from 9-12 p.m. If they play out-of-town, the dance will be on Saturday night from 8-11 p.m. Bands already booked are Nov. 20—Felix; Nov. 25—Midwest; Nov. 27—Baby; Dec. 4—Felix; Dec. 11—Midwest and Dec. 22—Midwest.

CALICO CAPERS SQUARE DANCE—There is a dance schedule for adults too at the Center, but this in the form of square dancing. The Calico Capers Square Dance Club uses the Center as their home and they meet each Saturday night except 5th Sat. nights. If you are interested in this activity, come out some Saturday night from 8-11 p.m. and visit. The club will explain how you can become a part of the activities.

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB—The Center has recently organized the Dolphin swim club for the purpose of entering into competitive swimming. The Dolphins meet each open day at 6:00 p.m. to workout and would invite any boy or girl 8 years of age or older to join the club.

The Dolphins swim coach is Everett Gray of Pampa and he would encourage anyone who knows how to swim to come and participate. The Dolphins will be entering about one swim meet each month during the school year and several during the summer months. The school meets will be on Saturdays. The club has already participated in the Amarillo Aquatic Club "Kick-off Meet" and scored with several ribbon wins.

MEMBERSHIP—Our method of operation financial-wise is through a membership plan. The Center is not tax supported in any way and must sustain its own operation by means of a charge for membership and use of the facilities. The cost for memberships though are so economical that everyone can afford them.

The Center offers two types of memberships for those interested, the limited and unlimited. The limited membership is for those who like to play in the gym, swim, or use the recreation hall, but does not want to use the health facilities. This membership is $5 for six months or $8 per year for an individual. For a family the cost is $12 for six months or $20 per year.

The unlimited membership gives you the same privileges as the limited, but in addition allows you full use of the new health facility. The health facility has all the exercise equipment, 2 handball courts and a sauna room. The cost for an individual is $65 for six months or $118 per year. For a husband-wife combination the cost is only $90 for six months or $118 per year. For a husband-wife combination the cost is only $90 for six months or $160.00 per year.

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, claiming Republican campaign tactics caused Democrats to take a hard line on law and order from an earlier position of "cozying up" to radical dissenters:

"As they fled, they stripped off their leather jackets, pinned on sheriff's badges, then turned to their constituents transformed—now all Wyatt Earpy and swearing evermore to foursquare for law and order."

Nixon Supports Scott As GOP's Leader In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House Friday reiterated President Nixon's support of Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., to continue as Senate Republican leader.

There have been reports that conservative Republican senators might try to oust Scott from the leadership job in January. White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was asked at a briefing whether Nixon hoped Scott would retain the GOP leadership job.

Good Year Tire Opens

Goodyear Service Store, 125 N. Somerville, is having its grand opening November 16th, 17th, and the 18th.

Tuesday, November 17th at 10 a.m. will be the official ribbon-cutting of the store. There will be a drawing for a General Electric black and white portable television on Saturday, November 21, at 6 p.m. you do not have to be present to win. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at Goodyear during their grand opening. Be sure to go down to Goodyear Service Store and register for the drawing and have a cup of coffee.

Goodyear has opened its first company-owned store in Pampa. Jon Kennedy, manager of the store, previously managed a Goodyear Store in Oklahoma City for three years. He also received a degree in business at Oklahoma University and played four years of football at OU. Although he has lived in Pampa only a month, he says that he prefers a smaller town than a large city.

Kennedy and his family reside at 2630 Navajo.

James Mathers, who has also moved from Oklahoma to Pampa is assistant manager. Carolyn Gallman is the pretty secretary at Goodyear. Then, there is J.C. Albin who is the service manager. Dwayne is Jesse Williams who is the fleet man.

Jennings and Fred Christy are the specialized mechanics at Goodyear Service Store. Next

Goodyear does have a fleet service truck for the farmers to repair their trucks and tractors. You'll find some of the friendliest people in town at Goodyear. They are there to help their customers in any way they possibly can and to please them with the best of quality and service.

Goodyear carries a full line of General Electric major appliances. They stock television sets, stereos, tape players for the car as well as for the home. They have tapes and record albums to go with these tape players and stereos also. Washers and dryers and all the major appliances that General Electric has can be found at Goodyear.

In the service department, the trained mechanics will give you the best brake jobs, tune-ups, wheel alignments, and just about anything you need for your car.

There are four ways to pay at Goodyear Service Store. Customers can pay cash, use their Bank Americard, Master Charge Card, or Goodyear's own budget plan.

Visit Jon Kennedy at Goodyear Service Store, 125 N. Somerville, and get acquainted with all his employees. They will show you around and help you get familiar with their brand new store.

ROME—Defense lawyer Giuseppe Sotgiu, describing Raffaele Minichiello who was sentenced to seven and a half years in jail on charges stemming from the world's longest airplane hijacking:

"He was also a romantic figure because nostalgic pining and yearning drove him into the improbable adventure, like an ancient crusade."

Irish End Season With 44 To 6 Victory

Harvesters Routed By Sandies 34 To Nothing

By HARLAN HYSMITH Sports Staff

The Pampa Harvesters closed out the 1970 District 3-AAA season Friday night in Harvester Stadium by losing to the favored Amarillo Sandies by a score of 34-0.

The Harvesters ended with a 6-4 season record, their first winning season in 17 years, and a 2-3 conference mark. Amarillo High kicked off to Pampa, the ball went into the end zone and the Harvesters took over on their 20 yard line.

Junior Larry Knutson lined up behind center Keith Coyle as the Harvesters' signal-caller. Both Dan Hood and Dale Ammons had been hurt in the Palo Duro game last week, so J-V quarterback Rick Musgrave was called up as back-up quarterback.

The Harvesters moved the ball nine yards in three plays against the Sandies' district-leading defense. The ball was on the Pampa 24 so Swede Lee sent Ammons in to kick. The ball went high into the air against the wind and snow blowing across the field and came down on the Pampa 33 yard line.

Amarillo drove to the Pampa 15 yard line before the defense toughened. Pampa took over on downs after the Sandies failed to convert a fourth and five situation.

Four downs later Pampa kicked from their own 23 to their own 45. The Sandie offense found itself and, behind the leadership of Johnny Warren, marched the 45 yards in 12 plays to score with Warren going over from the one. Warren's kick was no good but the Harvesters were down 6-0.

Amarillo kicked off three times before they could get the ball to stay in bounds. Pampa finally got the ball on their own 36.

Pampa moved the ball seven yards in three plays to give themselves a fourth and three at their own 43. Pampa kicked against the wind for six yards. Amarillo ran three plays and got to the Pampa 45 before the first quarter ended. Seven plays later the Sandies were on the Pampa four with a second and goal. Running back Lenny Turner swept right end for the touchdown with 9:49 left in the first half. Warren's kick was blocked by the wind and the Sandies had a 12-0 lead.

The Amarillo kick put the Harvesters on their own 28 yard line. A penalty moved the ball back to the 23. Two passes and a one yard loss put Pampa back on their own 22. Amarillo put on a tremendous rush in an attempt to block the punt. The seven yard punt was scooped up by Sandie Jerome Smith who ran down the right sideline for the score. Forsaking the point-after kick, Warren ran for the two points to make the score 20-0, Sandies.

The kick-off and return gave Pampa good field position on their own 36 yard line. Johnny Clark, Pampa fullback, hit the line for two yards to the 36. Musgrave came in at quarterback and handed the ball to sophomore halfback Richard McCampbell for six more yards. John McCarrall ran for three yards to the Pampa 49 yard marker. For the Harvesters' first down of the ball game.

The Harvesters were unable to cross the mid-field stripe. The 41 yard punt by Ammons put the ball on the Sandies' 15 yard marker. The Sandies moved the ball only three yards on the next three plays against an inspired Harvester defense.

The six yard Sandie punt gave the Harvesters their first penetration into Amarillo territory and their best field position of the day. A fumble two plays later gave the Sandies the ball.

An illegal procedure penalty against Amarillo gave them a first and 15 from their own eleven. Sandie quarterback Warren called on back Lenny Turner to get the Sandies out of the hole.

Turner exploded for 44 yards to the Amarillo 45 yard marker. Turner picked up 137 yards for the night. Ten plays later Amarillo had a second and goal on the Pampa six with one second left in the half. On the next play Warren rolled left to pass, then cut into the end zone for the Sandies twenty-sixth point. Warren ran for the two-point play to send the Sandies into the dressing rooms with a 28-0 lead. That drive had taken 11 plays and 84 yards.

The Sandies scored once more in the third quarter on a one yard run by running back Larry Linger. The two-point run by Herman Campbell failed but Amarillo had a 34-0 lead which stood up for the rest of the game.

SHAMROCK — Shamrock kicked off to Electra and on the first play of scrimmage Randy Reeder recovered a Tiger fumble on the 21 yard line to set up the Irish wheels in motion for their 44-6 victory.

With 40 seconds gone into the game Shamrock scored on an eleven yard ramble by Ricky Gragg around the left end. Gragg's eleven yards in the first quarter seems small to his total for 234 yards rushing for the game.

Gragg's total rushing for the season is 1,574 for a total of 157.4 per game for the season.

The kick for the extra points was not good. Electra was forced to punt four plays after the second kick-off. The 15-yard punt landed on their 45. In an even split of yardage between Gragg and Don Rhodes the Irish moved the ball to the Electra five.

Gragg went in from the five for the second touchdown of the game with 3:30 gone in the first quarter. Gragg on a sweep around the left end tallied the two extra points giving Shamrock a 14-0 lead.

The third TD was set up by Scotty Arnold on a fumble recovery on the Electra 32, just 30 seconds after the TD. Rhodes the man in motion ran 23 yards for the TD. Gragg on his fourth trip into the end zone scored the two point conversion. The Irish led 22-0.

In the first quarter Gragg went on his fifth end-zone tour on a seven yard run giving the Irish another six points. Charles Franks going up the middle of the Electra defense scored the two point conversion giving the Irish an impressive first quarter lead of 30-0.

The stage having been set for an Irish victory allowed the Green B-Team a chance to play with a minute and a half left in the first quarter. The Green offense played with the first team defensive unit until the half.

A Green fumble with two minutes gone in the half allowed Electra the ball on their 35 yard line. Con Allison intercepted an Electra pass on the first play from scrimmage and returned possession to the Irish on the Electra 25.

The second string offense could only manage five yards giving the ball up on downs with eight minutes remaining in the half.

Another punt by the Electra team was recovered 50 yards away on the Shamrock 30. Gragg received the kick and ran the ball back into Tiger territory on the 45 yard line.

Garza's first good fielder was a 26-yarder in the second quarter, to give the visitors a 3-0 halftime lead. He added his 56-yarder in the third quarter and Rusty Tucker took a 16-yard pass from Ed Holwig to score the first touchdown of the game.

The Falcons, who had tried a 32-yard field goal in the opening quarter, got their only touchdown in the fourth quarter when Vern Wireman ran the last four

The Green second string moved the ball down to the Electra 15 on runs by Steve Copeland and Phillip Range and Randy Tarbet. At the 15 Electra intercepted a pass and were immediately downed by the Irish.

Charles Franks recovered a fumble on the first play from scrimmage on the Electra 20 yard line. The Tiger defense held and took control on the fourth and inches on the two yard line. The half ended with Electra punting from their five yard line and an Irish lead of 30-0.

The third quarter opened with Shamrock kicking off to the Electra team. The fighting Tigers were forced to punt with the Irish taking over on the Electra 42. Taking 4 minutes and six plays the Irish moved to the Tiger one on running by Gragg and Rhodes. The Irish made the TD on a one yard dive by Franks. The conversion attempt for the extra points failed.

The final Irish TD came after the tough Shamrock defense pushed the Tiger team back to their 25 yard line. Gragg doing well what he had done all evening went in for the final Irish TD on a ten yard dash up the middle. This run gave Gragg a total of 96 points for the season and the lead in District 2-AA with Rhodes having a total of 84 and second in district. Rhodes also leads the region for TD yardage on kick-off returns with 99 yards.

Lynn Ramsey ran the two point conversion giving the Irish a 44 to nothing lead over the Electra Tigers.

The highlight of the fourth quarter was a pass interception by Reeder on the Shamrock five that yard line. Gragg carried the ball forty yards to the 45 to stop the Tiger drive. The final five minutes of the game was Senior's choice by the Irish. The Irish playing all of their seniors including defensive and offensive members. The unruly squad moved the ball well penetrating down to the Tigers five before a pass interception stopped the Irish drive. The quarterback for the unusual team was Rhodes who normally plays halfback.

Shamrock ended the season undefeated 9-0 for the best record since 1934. Electra scored their lone TD with Rusty Sargent completing a pass from John Marsh early in the fourth quarter for 23 yards. The extra point attempt failed.

Canadian Ends Season By Taking Sunray 16-6

Coach James Anglin's Canadian Wildcats may have missed out on the District 1-A title but they came out on top last Friday night when they beat Sunray 16-6 last Friday night in Canadian.

Sunray was the team that blemished the District 1-A champion White Deer Bucks' 1970 record by coming up with a 0-0 tie.

Canadian scored in the first half on a one yard plunge by senior fullback Randy Fiel. A Steve Carter kick put the Wildcats in front 7-0. The rest of the first quarter—and all of the second quarter—was a defensive battle. The teams went into the locker rooms with Canadian holding on to the one touchdown margin.

Sunray came back in the third quarter to close the gap to 7-6. Sunray Defenseman Ricky Keith came up with a Bill Lynch pass on the Canadian 45 yard line. Seemingly unhampered by the miserable playing conditions, Keith returned the ball for the score. Sunray went for the two-point play but the pass failed.

A 27 yard field goal by junior kicking specialist Steve Carter in the fourth quarter gave the Wildcats a little breathing room with a 10-6 lead. The final score of the game came on a 15 yard pass play from Canadian's senior field general Lynch to Harold Pack. The two-point run attempt was stopped but Canadian had a 16-6 point margin. The Wildcat defense kept Sunray out of the end zone and the game ended 16-6 Canadian.

Tiger Fumbles And Weather Give Follett Upset Victory

By STEVE BOLANDER News Sports Writer

GROOM — The Follett Panthers upset the Mighty Groom Tigers 21-12 in a sub-freezing contest here Friday night.

The Panthers, clawing their way up and down the Tiger football field scored again and again on the abilities of two players.

The two standouts on the Panther team were brothers Steve and Dan Becker. The Becker brothers accounted for all of the Panther's 21 points.

The first touchdown of the game came with 5:50 remaining in the first quarter on a three yard run by Steve Becker for the Follett Panthers. Becker the Panther Quarterback had marched his team down the field from about the 36 yard line.

The Tigers were unable to score on the ensuing drive from kick-off and the Panthers once again took over the ball.

for the Tigers. The extra point attempt was off target, with 5:36 remaining in the half Follett led 9-6 in a heads-up football game.

The third quarter was played scoreless on the wind swept field with both teams suffering from the effects of cold temperatures and the wet playing surface.

Moderate sleet fell throughout the fourth quarter but fans on both sidelines were kept warm by the hard hitting and valiant efforts by the Tigers and the Panthers.

Dan Becker, playing in the halfback slot for the Panthers ran fifteen yards into the Groom end-zone for another Becker score.

The extra point attempt failed giving Follett a 15-6 lead. Catch up football is always the roughest to play but Groom gave it their best. Gregg Britten drove past the tough Panther defensive unit into pay dirt (mud) for a Tiger score.

The extra point attempt was off giving the Tigers a chance with 3:26 remaining in the game. Follett capitalizing on the many fumbles during the game reigned supreme until the bitter end with a score by S. Becker on a ten yard drive.

On the kick-off Groom ran the ball back to their 45 yard line before being tackled by a Panther linebacker. From the 45 they drove the ball to the Panther 25 before time ran down to 14 seconds. Then Follett played a hard defense plays by Groom.

An interception gave the Panthers the ball and the ballgame. At the end of the fourth quarter the score read Follett 21 and Groom 12.

Follett will meet Lefors next week and if they should win there will be a three way tie for the district title.

PRINGLE KICKS THREE

HOUSTON (UPI) — Allen Pringle of Venezuela kicked three field goals in a driving rain Friday to boost the Rice Owlets to a 16-5 win over the Baylor Cubs in a Southwest Conference freshman game. Pringle learned to kick soccer style while playing rugby in England. The win put the Owlets at 4-1 for the season.

West Texas Field Goals Win Ballgame

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (UPI) — Matias Garza kicked three field goals and two points after touchdown Saturday to spark West Texas State to a 23-7 win over Bowling Green in a weather-plagued game.

Garza's three field goal total tied a school record and his 56-yarder in the third quarter was a record which wiped out his earlier season mark of 53 yards.

In the opening period, Garza unsuccessfully tried 79 and 76-yard field goals 10 minutes apart rather than resort to punting because of the wind and snow at the game, honoring BG's retiring athletic director Doyl L. Perry.

Garza's first good fielder was a 26-yarder in the second quarter, to give the visitors a 3-0 halftime lead. He added his 56-yarder in the third quarter and Rusty Tucker took a 16-yard pass from Ed Holwig to score the first touchdown of the game.

The Falcons, who had tried a 32-yard field goal in the opening quarter, got their only touchdown in the fourth quarter when Vern Wireman ran the last four yards after defensive end Phil Villapiano recovered a fumble on the six.

Rocky Thompson iced the visitors' win with an 83-yard run and Garza then booted a 31-yard field goal.

Bowling Green finished the season 2-6-1 and West Texas State, with one play is 6-3-1.

Northwestern Has Rose Bowl Ideas

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) — Allison Robinson scored two touchdowns Saturday and Mike Adams broke Big Ten and school records as Northwestern kept its Rose Bowl hopes alive with a 21-7 Big Ten football conquest of Indiana.

Despite rain, sleet, a 25-mile-per-hour wind and temperatures in the 30s, Adams, the Big Ten leading rusher, picked up 162 yards in 42 carries, establishing a conference season mark of 216 carries. The old standard of 201 was set by Jim Graboski of Illinois five years ago.

Bucks Edge Eagles 9-0 To Clinch District 1-A Title

The White Deer Bucks clinched the District 1-A title by taking a 9-0 decision over the Sanford-Fritch Eagles last Friday night in Sanford-Fritch.

Coach J.T. Hill's Bucks will be meeting the Clarendon Bronchos in Bi-District play in Clarendon, next Friday night, Nov. 20, at 7:30.

The game was a lot closer than might be expected. The Bucks went into the battle with an 8-1 record while the Eagles were 1-8. White Deer may have had visions of an easy victory.

The first White Deer score came in the first quarter on a seven yard run by fullback Terry Sargent. David Guinn's kick made the score 7-0. Bucks, White Deer had two other opportunities to score in the game. Penalties and inspired playing on the part of the Eagles prevented the touchdowns. Mistakes played a big part in the game as the muddy chewed-up field kept both teams from operating to their full potential. The other score came on a safety.

Buck Mike Mercer tackled Eagle quarterback Mike Dunham in the end zone in the fourth quarter for the two point safety. White Deer closed out the regular season with a 9-0 record. Sanford-Fritch finished with a 1-9 season mark.

McLean Tigers Are Upset By Wheeler Mustangs 16 to 6

The McLean Tigers were unable to control the power plays and end sweeps of the Roy Don Chick and Steve Cole last Friday night in Wheeler, so the Wheeler Mustangs came out on top 16-6 in the District 2-A grid battle.

Wheeler's scores came on runs by Chick and Rodney Weatherly in the second quarter for three and two yards, respectively. Weatherly and Dale Stevens ran two-point plays to complete the Mustangs 16 point performance.

Wheeler garnered second place in District 2-A behind the Clarendon Bronchos.

The filed was in good shape for the contest with real fine mist blowing across the sod. Weather conditions did not affect this game as much as it did other games in the area. McLean couldn't take advantage of several scoring opportunities in the second half.

The Tigers had the ball inside the Mustang ten yard line but lost the ball on fumbles at least once in the course of the game.

Standouts for the Tigers were junior quarterback Tommy Duniven and sophomore wingback George Danner, offensively, and defensive guard Craig Corbin.

Corbin came up with two Mustang fumbles, one of which set up McLean's lone score. Ricky Evans finished the scoring drive with a two yard run in the third quarter. Cold hands caused a bad snap from center on the Tigers' try for extra points. Duniven, who also does the McLean kicking, fielded the ball and attempted a pass. The pass was no good so McLean trailed 16-6.

There was no scoring in the fourth quarter. McLean finished out the season with a 4-6 season. Commenting on the past season, McLean coach Bob Langford said, "This year's competition in District 2-A was a lot closer. Last year Clarendon was the top team but we had an overall tougher district this season."

One interesting fact gleaned from the conversation was that George Danner piloted the Tigers to a 3-6-1 season last year as a freshman. Top Tiger quarterback Duniven, then a sophomore, broke his foot in the fourth game of the season and Danner took over.

Perryton Drops To Dumas Demons After Hard Fought Defensive Battle In Last Minute TD

PERRYTON — The Perryton Rangers battled for their lives against the tough Dumas Demons losing by a close seven points Friday night in Perryton.

It was in the last minute and a half of the slugfest that Dumas picked up the remains of an ineffective offensive unit and slammed two 34-yard passes down to the Ranger one yard line allowing Bob Laughey to score.

The victory gave the Demons a sure tie for the district title. The first half was marked by a see-saw battle cluttered with fumbles and incomplete passes. Perryton lost the ball to Demon hands twice in the first half.

With 1:31 left to play in the game Laughey passed deep into Perryton territory only to have the ball tipped by an alert Ranger. The tip, however, bounced the ball into Demon receiver

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—Three months ago, Bill Race was a typical 13-year-old American boy. He loved to play baseball and basketball—but his biggest love was football.

He was one of the first in line to pay his registration fee and enroll this year in the suburban Colonie Pop Warner Football League, for boys ages 10 to 13.

Though he weighed only 83 pounds, two below the minimum for the league, Bill almost ate the Race family into bankruptcy trying to gain enough weight to play in a game.

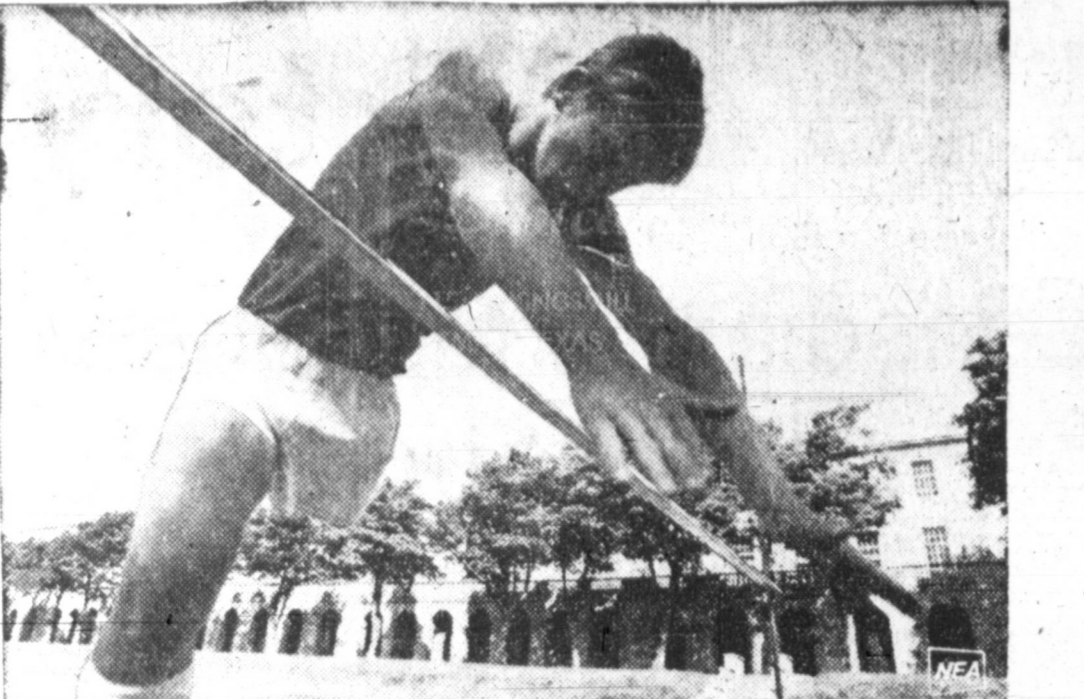

He succeeded but then in a practice session injured his left knee. X-rays of the injury disclosed more than a bruise. A bone tumor was found and Billy's leg was amputated.

Packers Keep Winning

While all this was going on, Billy's team, the Colonie Packers, kept winning. Their record was six wins and no losses when Billy entered the hospital.

Coming up was the final regular season game against East Greenbush. If the Packers could win, they would have their division title and go to the mini Pop Warner Super Bowl.

On the Thursday night before the big game, the 35 Packer

Oklahoma Squeezes Past Kansas In 28-24 Defeat

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Sophomores Greg Pruitt and Joe Wylie scored two touchdowns each and blocked superbly Saturday as Oklahoma roared from behind for a 28-24 victory over Kansas.

Pruitt scored the go-ahead touchdown on an 11-yard run with Wylie taking out two Joy-hawk tacklers with 8:49 to play.

Steve O'Shaughnessy intercepted a Kansas pass in the Oklahoma end zone with 2:24 to go.

A crowd of 38,200 braved 35 degree temperature to see the Jayhawks take a 24-14 lead in the third quarter when quarterback Dan Heck sneaked for a one-yard touchdown and Bob Helmacher kicked a 29-yard field goal.

Pruitt pulled the Sooners back into range with a 14-yard touchdown run on the second play of the fourth quarter, culminating a 68-yard drive.

The winning score completed a 70-yard drive with another sophomore, Leon Crosswhite, gaining 38 yards on four carries.

For the half, Riggins had 110 yards and Wylie 95.

Riggins' 65-yard run was a thing of beauty. He broke two tackles about five yards past the line of scrimmage, cut to the sidelines, and outran defensive halfback Larry Roach to the goal.

Penn State Prevents An Upset By Ohio U.

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—Penn State staved off upset-minded Ohio University's last-quarter rally Saturday and the Lions' crushing ground attack carried them to a 32-22 win over the Bobcats.

Mike Smith's fourth interception of the game, a Penn State record, broke the back of a Bobcat comeback which saw Ohio tally one touchdown and threaten to narrow the Penn State margin further. The Lions held on from that point to win. Lion backs Lydell Mitchell and Franco Harris each gained more than 100 yards and the Lions intercepted six passes, two of them by Smith in the first half which snubbed Ohio drives near the Penn State goal. Smith also ran one of his interceptions back 28 yards for Penn State's first touchdown.

The Lions scored what proved to be the winning touchdowns on drives of 54 and 38 yards in the second half, with Mitchell carrying in both times from six and three yards out.

Then one of the Packer backs broke loose and galloped 50 yards for a touchdown. The kids screamed, "We have to get that extra point." They did, and the score was 27-0.

With 13 seconds to play, the Packers had the ball on the East Greenbush 40-yard line. Time for one more play. The quarterback called the signal, flipped the ball to one of the halfbacks and he heaved a pass.

The receiver pulled in the ball on the 25 and ran for a touchdown. For the conversion, the quarterback barked off the signals and handed off to a halfback on a power play. He went in for the extra point.

The Packers and their fans went wild.

The final score: Packers 34, East Greenbush 0.

Billy got his wish.

Texas Tech Fumbles Victory From Baylor

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Fumble-plagued Texas Tech scored on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Chales Napper to Ronnie Ross in the second period Saturday, and made the score stand up for a 7-3 Southwest Conference victory over Baylor's stubborn Bears.

The Red Raiders, hoping to impress scouts from three post-season bowls who watched the game, drove inside the Baylor 10 on two other occasions, but were stopped once by a fumble

Colorado Plows Over Oklahoma State In 30-6 Rushing Game

STILLWATER, Okla. (UPI)—Tailback John Tarver scored one touchdown and backup tailback Jon Keyworth scored two as the Colorado-Buffaloes defeated Oklahoma State 30-6 Saturday.

Dave Haney booted field goals of 36.2 and 21 yards and added a point after each Colorado touchdown to tie the Keyworth for high-scoring honors.

The Buffaloes, who had not won a game in Stillwater since 1960, kept the Cowboys off the scoreboard until late in the fourth period. Fullback James Williams plunged over the goal line on a three-yard carry with 4:12 left in the game for the only OSU tally.

Keyworth scored his first touchdown on a 19-yard run less than two minutes into the second quarter to climax a 90-yard drive in 19 plays. His second touchdown was a 2-yard run late in the third period that capped a 2-play, 12-yard drive set up by a pass interception. John Stavey brought down the pass thrown by backup Cowboy quarterback Mike Robichaux.

Tarver's touchdown, a two-yard run, came at the end of an 80-yard drive in 14 plays on Colorado's first possession.

Haney booted his first three-pointer with eight seconds left in the half to give the Buffs a 17-0 advantage. He added another deep into the third quarter and kicked his third with only 20 seconds left in the game.

The chilly weather, 37 degrees, and a 30-mile-per-hour crosswind hampered the passing game of both teams.

Colorado quarterback Jim Bratten was able to complete only three of 13 aerials and Cowboy signal caller, Tony Pounds, connected on six of 18.

Williams carried the ball on every running play for Baylor in the third quarter.

Tech's victory was the school's first ever over Baylor in Waco in a rivalry that goes back 29 years.

The Bears had threatened to take a commanding lead in the first period when a chilling 22-mile-per-hour wind was at their back. After Conrad's field goal, the Bears drove 42 yards to the Tech three. But on fourth down quarterback Laney Cook rolled around right end and fumbled as he was hit at the goal line and Tech recovered.

Bill McClard Kicks Record Field Goal

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI)—Junior Bill McClard kicked three field goals, one of them the longest in collegiate football history, and quarterback Bill Montgomery accounted for three touchdowns Saturday to send eighth-ranked Arkansas rolling past interception-plagued Southern Methodist 36-3.

McClard, the nation's leading kick scorer with 61 points going into the game, booted field goals of 29 and 37 and 60 yards. The 60-yarder in the second quarter eclipsed the old NCAA record of 59 yards set in 1969 by Mississippi's Cloyce Hinton.

McClard finished the game with 12 points and tied the SWC career extra-point record of 85. SMU quarterback Gary Carter, substituting for the injured Chuck Hixon, suffered eight interceptions and the Mustangs could never mount a sustained drive. Kicker Chipper Johnson hit a 49-yard fourth quarter field goal for SMU's only score. Montgomery scored on a one-yard plunge in the second quarter set up by a 35-yard pass to flanker Jim Hodge, and threw scoring passes of four-yards to Chuck Dicus and 29 yards to tight end Bobby Nichols.

Tailback Jon Richardson scored on a nine-yard run in the fourth quarter as the nation's highest scoring team won its eighth game against one loss. Montgomery gained 327 yards in the air to riddle SMU's secondary.

SMU was held without a first down until early in the second quarter. The Mustangs gained only 39 yards in total offense in the first half.

McClard kicked a 29-yard field goal after Arkansas drove 51 yards in 11 plays after receiving the kickoff. The 37-yard boot in the second period was set up by the first of three first half interceptions thrown by Carter.

The eight interceptions thrown by Carter were a Southwest Conference record.

Graham And Devlin Lock Up World Cup Tourney

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—David Graham and Bruce Devlin shot a 65 and 66 for Australia Saturday and virtually locked up the golden world cup golf trophy with a fantastic 34-under-par with one round still to play on Sunday. They led Argentina by 19 strokes.

Graham birdied six holes on the back nine, including the last four in a row.

"A machine couldn't have kept up with him (Graham) Tony Jacklin of England who played in a foursome with the Aussies as they made shambles of the little par-72 Jockey Club course for the third day in a row.

In shooting his second 65 of the tournament, Graham finished with birdies on holes 10, 13, 15, 16, 17, 18.

The 24-year-old Australian, who failed to make the rich U.S. tour earlier this month, also took the tournament's individual lead by two strokes over Argentina's Roberto de Vicenz, who fired a 68 on Saturday.

The other 41 two-man teams in the tournament, including the defending champion U.S., fell out of sight and the second place Argentine could muster little with only an even-par 72 from Argentine Vicente Fernandez.

"I think Bruce Devlin is one of the best players the world has ever seen," said Graham.

Brodie Receiver Of Million Dollar Bid Against Houston

HOUSTON (UPI)—John Brodie, the man the Houston Oilers once offered a $1 million contract, brings the best aerial show in pro football to the Astrodome today as his surging San Francisco 49ers meet the reeling Oilers.

Brodie, almost lured from the 49ers by the lucrative contract at the height of the war between the American and National leagues, is having the best season of his 14-year career and as a result, the 49ers are having the best record in their history so far.

San Francisco, currently on a three-game winning streak, is leading the Western division of the National Conference with a 6-1-1 record, but Los Angeles, which plays the lowly New York Jets today, is close behind with a 5-2-1 record.

Houston, non-winner in five starts and 2-5-1 in the Central Division of the American Conference, must win to keep their title hopes alive. Coach Wally Lemm says the Oilers have to win all their remaining games to have a chance to catch Cleveland or Pittsburgh, both 4-4.

About 45,000 fans are expected for the 1 p.m. kickoff to see the 49ers' first appearance in Houston. San Francisco was favored by 10 points.

The 34-year-old Brodie reached the 2,000-completion milestone last week and this season has hit 130 of 218 for 1,772 yards and 13 touchdowns. The amazing thing is that he has had only three intercepted while completing 59.8 per cent of his attempts.

By comparison, the Oilers' Charley Johnson, who is hampered by a broken left collarbone, has completed 87 of 168 for 1,021 yards, a 51.8 per cent, and had eight intercepted.

Brodie's top receiver is sophomore Gene Washington, who has caught 33 for 638 yards and five touchdowns, placing him third in the conference. His yardage total is tops.

Fullback Ken Willard, a fine runner, blocker and receiver who is fifth in rushing, rounds out the hub of the offense.

Notre Dame Slips By Determined Georgia Tech In 4th Quarter TD

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—Denny Allan plunged two yards for a touchdown with 6:28 to play Saturday to carry Notre Dame from behind to a 10-7 win over rugged Georgia Tech.

It may prove a costly victory for Notre Dame in the national rankings.

They went into the game sharing the No. 1 spot with Texas against a Tech team which had been beaten twice. But the Engineers displayed the toughest defense Notre Dame has seen all season and outgamed the Irish almost all the way. For ten and one half minutes before Allan's scoring plunge, Tech was in front by 7-3 on the strength of a 66-yard touchdown play in which sophomore quarterback Eddie McShan hit flanker Larry Studdard behind the Notre Dame pass defense and Studdard outran the Irish into the end zone.

It was only the third pass completed by McShan in 10 tries, though, and he wound up with only seven completions in 19 attempts for 109 yards.

Notre Dame's top candidate for All America and the Heisman Trophy, Joe Theismann had almost as difficult an afternoon.

Although Theismann completed 15 of 30 passes for 272 yards, the Tech defense got to him three times when he was attempting to pass, throwing him for 26 yards in losses. And for the entire game, Theismann gained only 21 yards on the ground in 18 carries.

Twice the Engineers intercepted Theismann passes to halt Notre Dame drives, with one of the interceptions by Rich Lewis in the Georgia Tech end zone.

Still, Theismann helped set up all the Notre Dame points with his passing.

After the teams played a scoreless first half, the first for a Notre Dame team coached by Ara Parseghian since 1965, Theismann hit his top receiver, Tom Gatewood, for passes of 15 and 20 yards to spark a drive which carried to the Tech 17 before Scott Smith kicked a 34-yard field goal to give the Irish a 3-0 lead.

Then, after Tech came back on the McShan-Studdard scoring play, only four plays later, Theismann connected to Ed Gulyas on a 46-yard pass to the Tech 34.

Gulyas ran for 15 yards and Allan carried the last five times for the final 19 yards. Scott Hempel converted.

It was a tough defensive battle all the way for both teams as the unbeaten Irish ran up their eighth win and Tech suffered its third loss in 10 starts, with every defeat at the hands of a team rated in the top ten.

Ohio State By Three Over A Hardened Purdue

EAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Fred Schram's game-winning field goal was hardly over the cross bar and the victorious but badly scared Ohio State Buckeyes, hardly back in their dressing room when the telephone rang.

It was a sports fan named Richard M. Nixon who had been watching the cliff hanger 10-7 OSU victory over a giddy Purdue team in his home at Washington.

Not every football fan can pick up the telephone and call Woody Hayes when OSU wins a big one. But for the President of the United States it is different.

The Ohio State coach thanked the President warmly and asked if he'd be at Columbus, Ohio, next Saturday when the Buckeyes, still untied but just barely, take on Michigan in a Big Ten showdown of unbeaten titans.

Nixon said he didn't think he could make it. Then he asked to talk to Schram, whose 30-yard field goal through the murk of Ross-Ade Stadium with just two minutes and four seconds left saved the victory for Ohio State.

Burrisk Leads Landslide

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Freshman running whiz Don Burrisk dashed 159 yards in just nine carries for Texas Friday in a landslide victory over the previously unbeaten Tex. Christian Pollywogs. Burrisk's rushing performance broke the freshman season record, previously held by Steve Worster. Burrisk has now accumulated 425 yards on the ground.

Texas Demolishes TCU's Upset Plans In 58-0 Scoring Spree

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Jim Bertelsen streaked 54 yards of the third play of the game for the first of his three touchdowns Saturday to ignite No. 1 ranked Tex. to its 28th straight victory, a 58-0 romp past Southwest Conference foe Texas Christian.

Bertelsen also scored on a pair of three-yard blasts, quarterback Eddie Phillips ran three and 10 yards for another pair of touchdowns and then the reserves took over.

Paul Robichaux ran six yards for one score. Dean Campbell got another on a 29-yard pass from Donnie Wigginton and Mike Bayer fled 80 yards with an interception for the final Texas touchdown with 2:01 left to play. Happy Feller contributed a 27-yard field goal and seven of eight conversions.

Texas went into the game sharing first place national ranking with Notre Dame, but the impressive victory coupled with the Irish's hard-won 10-7 verdict over Georgia Tech seemed sure to catapult the Longhorns back into the undisputed No. 1 position.

Texas played more than three quarters of the game without wheelhorse running back Steve Worster, who suffered a rib cartilage separation on a block on the opening kickoff. Doctors said the injury was more painful than serious, and Worster left the game after carrying four times for 23 yards.

Bertelsen easily picked up the slack left by Worster's departure, gaining 92 yards on 14 carries while Phillips gained 33 on a dozen trips before both turned their jobs over to reserves for the final quarter.

They left with 1:27 to go in the third quarter after Bertelsen's third touchdown and the first of two which Texas scored within 15 seconds. Texas recovered a TCU fumble on the Horned Frog six-yard line the first play after the ensuing kickoff and Robichaux took a pitchout from Wigginton to go the short six yards with 1:12 left to play in the quarter.

TCU which was mauled 69-7 by last year's national championship Texas team, threatened seriously only one time. The Frogs got a first down on the Texas eight after a pass interference call in the second quarter. But they wound up turning the ball over to Texas on downs just one yard nearer the goal.

Without Worster Texas rolled to 301 yards on the ground, 211 of it in the first half, and got 107 more yards through the air on Phillips and Wigginton's passes.

It was a very ragged game with Texas losing three of four fumbles and TCU losing four of eight as well as suffering two interceptions.

TCU's Raymond Rhodes had his third straight 100-yard plus rushing game when he ran 32 times for 116 of TCU's 140 yards on the ground.

Falcons Claw Stanford 31 to 14 In Casual-Crucial Situations

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (UPI)—Nerveless Bob Parker, casually converting crucial fourth down situations into Air Force triumphs, threw three touchdown passes to Ernie Jennings Saturday as the Falcons upset six-rated Stanford 31-14.

Fullback Hillary Shockley scored twice for Stanford, both on plunges through line. Tough running Brian Bream got the other Air Force touchdown from the one and Craig Barry kicked a 46 yard Air Force field goal.

But Air Force defensive tackle Eugene Ogilvie was the man who helped put the game out of reach for the Air Force. He blasted through the line and sacked Jim Plunkett, jarred the ball loose and recovered it on the Indian 28. That set up Jennings' third touchdown catch in the final quarter. Plunkett, Stanford's super quarterback, completed 17 of 35 passes for 182 yards but Parker, with the same number of completions, gained 229 yards through the air. Jennings, who holds most Air Force receiving records, caught most of them.

3 Yard Touchdown Preserves Rice Win

COLLEGE STATION, Ark. (UPI)—Flanker Macon Hughes raced three yards for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter and Bucky Allhouse came up with two clutch plays to preserve the victory as the Rice Owls edged Texas A&M 18-17 Saturday.

It was A&M's eighth straight defeat.

Hughes' run around right end with 13:44 remaining to tie the score at 17-17 and Mark Williams, who had a 41-yard field goal in the first quarter, kicked the winning point.

Tailback John Cardwell scored Rice's other touchdown on a one-yard dive in the third quarter and quarterback Philip Wood went in for two all important extra points.

Tailback Steve Burks scored on a 2-yard run and Joe Mac King passed 11 yards to tight end Homer May for the Aggie touchdowns. Pat McDermott converted twice and kicked a 44-yard field goal.

He also missed a 45-yarder with 43 seconds left in the game and attempts of 46 and 56 yards earlier.

But Allhouse, Rice's senior safety and tri-captain, made the two big plays in the fourth quarter, first running 16 yards from punt formation on a fourth and one situation and then when he was finally forced to punt kicked it out of bounds on the Aggie two despite a 23-mile-an-hour wind.

A&M 2-8, never got out of the hole again until Bland Smith blocked a punt on the Rice 47 with 1:36 to go. But the Aggies could not move the ball and McDermott ended up trying his unsuccessful field goal.

Rice won its third game in eight tries and its first since Coach Bo Hagan announced his resignation Wednesday. The team had dedicated its last three games to Hagan.

John Cardwell, who wasn't even on the Owl varsity at the beginning of the season, played a major role in the victory, leading both teams in rushing with 74 yards in 22 carries and throwing the key block that sprung Hughes for the winning touchdown.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Cornell Wilde has produced a timely film based on ecological disaster and over-population which he fears may someday become a documentary.

The picture, "No Blade of Grass," is taken from John Christopher's novel. It is a highly dramatic, fictional story — and frightening.

"We demonstrated what the final stages of pollution and over-population could be," Wilde said. "Certainly we dramatized the situation but the events are not impossible."

Wilde doesn't appear in the film but his wife, Jean Wallace, co-stars in a cast composed of unknowns to lend verisimilitude to the starkness of the screenplay.

"The picture sums it all up and says something must be done about our environment because four years from now may be too late," said Wilde who admits he is not an authority on environmental issues.

Wilde began pre-production on the film more than a year ago. His timing was perfect.

A Shattering Warning

"This is something I've wanted to do," he said. "On an entertainment level it is a thriller. On another level it is a shattering warning to people and their complacency."

"The curious thing is that so many events have taken place in the news that we have already included in the picture. The cholera outbreak in Turkey, the Hawaiian 'koa trees' dying off, the corn blight in the Middle West.

"We have motorcycle gangs attacking people fleeing the city. While I was editing the film such a gang invaded an English seaside resort and vandalized 500 cars in one night.

"The summer the whole Eastern Seaboard of the United States from Florida to Maine was struck with the worst kind of Los Angeles-type smog.

"It's not a local joke anymore. I think the smog situation in the East awakened some people to the dangers."

Five Previews Held

Wilde has held five previews of "No Blade of Grass" and was surprised and pleased by audience response.

"The 18-30 group look on the picture as a crusade," Wilde said. "They were caught up in the story and afterward talked about action to prevent its coming true.

"Fifty per cent of the people over 40 didn't care to know or want to be frightened."

Most of the picture was shot in desolate areas of England's moors.

Yippie Rubin Arrested In North Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—Yippie leader Jerry Rubin was arrested here last Friday and told to get out of the country on his own or be thrown out. After huffing and puffing in protest, he finally agreed to pack up and go, according to the Home Office.

The bearded and flower-shirted "Chicago Seven" defendant was hauled into custody for failing to get out of the country when his seven-day visa expired at midnight Thursday.

"If we are deported, England will pay," he vowed to police when he was taken away.

PETERBOROUGH, England (UPI)—Mrs. Mary Appleton heard footsteps behind her every time she went for a walk but saw no one there when she looked.

A specialist at Peterborough District Hospital she consulted solved the mystery — she was wearing her hearing aid backwards.

"Instead of footsteps, I had been listening to my own heart beat and whenever I quickened my pace, my heart beat faster," said Mrs. Appleton, 42. "I was convinced I was being followed."

Candelight Service Unites Martha Paris, Stephen Porter

MIAMI (Sp) — Martha Ann Paris and Stephen Duane Porter pledged their marriage vows Nov. 5, in an evening candelight ceremony in the First Christian Church in Miami.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Paris of Miami. The Rev. and Mrs. Luther Porter of Paducah are parents of the bridegroom.

Rev. Porter officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Two seven-branch candelabras bearing yellow tapers enhanced on either side by pedestals holding arrangements of mums and daisies of varied shades of yellow to orange, formed the setting. Pews were marked with yellow bows.

Mrs. Charles Clark, organist, played the traditional wedding selections and marches. She accompanied Mrs. Bailey Dodson, who sang, "More" and "Whither Thou Goest."

BRIDE

The bride, escorted and presented in marriage by her father with the "Her Mother and I" avowal, wore a formal gown of silk peau de soie and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The empire bodice and Victorian neckline were overlaid in lace. Full sleeves were caught at the wrists by lace cuffs and flared over the hand. Her A-line skirt swept to back fullness and into a full chapel train. Her coil of Alencon lace was accounted by a tulle puff and seed pearls. Her tier veil featured a hand rolled edge and was appliqued in lace flowers. She carried a bouquet of white orchid with stephanotis with white streamers atop a white Bible, and wore the traditional something old, new, borrowed, and blue, with a penny in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

Miss Nancy Paris, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Jackie Wells of Lockney and Miss Connie Ratliff of Miami. They wore identical floor-length gowns of yellow silk with matching shoes. Their dresses had an attached panel train extending from beneath a lace yoke and were bordered with lace trim. Their nosegays were of daisies and mums in shades of yellow to orange with wide streamers of orange ribbon. Their hair pieces were of finger-length yellow tulle held by yellow floral pieces.

Miss Rebecca Hoffer of Miami, the flower girl, wore an orange floor-length dress with attached panel train. Her hair piece was a matching orange bow. Todd Porter, nephew of the bridegroom carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Jimmy Porter, of Paducah, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Tim Porter, brother of the bridegroom of Paducah, and Charles Taylor of Canyon. Serving as ushers were Alan Thompson and Russell Ratliff, both cousins of the bride, of Miami. Candlelighters were Vance and Kent Porter, nephews of the bridegroom, of Paducah.

The bride's mother wore a green dress and a corsage of green orchids. Mother of the bridegroom wore a pink dress with a white orchid corsage.

Guests were registered by Miss Mary Ann Stockstill of Canyon and Miss Beth Sheffy of Dimmitt.

Honor guests included Mr. and Mrs. Leo Paris, grandparents of the bride and Mrs. Bunia Swisher, Paducah, grandmother of the bridegroom.

RECEPTION

For the reception in Fellowship Hall, the bride's table was covered with a floor-length satin cloth centered with an arrangement of white flowers. Crystal and silver appointments were used. The three-tiered cake was decorated with yellow flowers and surmounted with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Don Hawkins of Pampa, cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and was assisted by Miss Sue Last of Dimmitt. Sheryl and Mitch Porter, niece and nephew of the bridegroom of Paducah, distributed the rice bags.

The bridegroom's table, covered with an orange colored cloth, held sandwiches and coffee. Mrs. Charles Taylor of Canyon presided.

For a short wedding trip the bride wore a blue and white two-piece suit and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

They will be at home at 2500 8th Ave., in Canyon. The bride is a senior student at West Texas State University. The bridegroom a WTSU graduate is serving with the United States Army and will report to New York City, Dec. 1, for overseas duty.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Junior Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sloan, in Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church in Miami.

Twentieth Century Forum Has Report On Art Forms

For their first November meeting, Twentieth Century Forum, met in the home of Mrs. Frank Stolfa, President, Mrs. Holt Barber, called the meeting to order as plans were made for the Federated Women's Clubs district meeting to be held in the Spring.

Presenting the program on literature was Mrs. Hugh D. Barton who said "Art outlasts all other forms of human endeavor. Kingdoms, empires, and civilizations rise and fall; their laws, their political organizations, their religions vanish; their customs and all their ways of life disappear from the face of the earth; but the art that they have managed to create remains."

"Of all forms of art, literature, recorded on the faintest of materials, has had the strongest lien on immortality. True even of the centuries of parchment and papyrus, the superior longevity of the written word was established beyond the possibility of rivalry when through the invention of movable type it attained the perpetuity of printing," she said.

"Barring some strange degradation of human nature which should cause it to lose entirely its sense of values, literature is the safest of our possessions."

"The Bible, containing the best of a great people's literature during nearly 10 centuries, is regarded throughout the Western World as the most important of the world's books. But though esteemed highly, it is not read as formerly," she said.

"With its study in the schools limited or even proscribed by sectarian jealousy, after being virtually the whole of education in our pioneering days, the Bible seemed to drop out of education altogether."

In the long run, this will not matter, since one may safely prophesy that the Bible will outlive every sect fashioned upon it. The outstanding qualities of Biblical literature are precisely those that have more and more come into favor in recent years.

"In striking contrast to Greek literature, that of the Bible is marked by three great characteristics: it is collective rather than individual in inspiration and workmanship; it is free and flexible rather than idealistic in manner, it is free and flexible rather than constrained in form. The language is vividly realistic and even contemporary when we compare the "Song of Songs" to the free verse of Walt Whitman and Amy Lowell," Mrs. Barton said.

Discussing in detail the history of the Bible, she stated it had been written over a period of 1,600 years, undergoing various translations throughout different periods in history.

Concluding her program, Mrs. Barton read selected Bible passages, representing various types of literature: romantic, adventure, historic, and poetic.

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. Holt Barber, Hugh D. Barton, William G. Corman, Robert Cotter, Larry Cross, Edward Dunigan, Lois Franklin, J.R. Holloway, David Holt, Homer Johnson, McHenry Lane, McDaniel, Aubrey Steele, Frank Stolfa, Jack Ward, Ernest Wilkinson, and John L. Young.

Twentieth Century Club Sponsors Guest Day Tea

Twentieth Century Club president, Mrs. William Easley, welcomed members and their guests to the club's 22nd Annual Guest-Day Tea, held recently in Lovett Memorial Library.

Hostesses were Mrs. Lorene Locke, Paul Harbaugh, Yvonne Stroup and Charles Fagan. The Thanksgiving Holiday theme was accentuated in the tea table and room decorations. The club's only remaining charter member, and a past district president, Mrs. Raymond Harrah, presided at the tea service.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell introduced the guest speaker, Don Lane, immediate past president of Pampa Chamber of Commerce. Noting that the club's course of study is "Tomorrow, Our Responsibility Today," Lane spoke on "Guidelines For a Better Tomorrow."

"When we see signs of unrest, disregard for law and order, even much open rebellion among our youth today," he said, "I believe that our most important guidelines lie with what we teach our children, beginning in the home and throughout our whole educational and religious process."

"I would stress three basic R's — not Reading, 'Riting and 'Rithmetic, but Reverence, Respect and Responsibility. Of the three avenues of learning, I think the home training most important," he said.

"In a nation founded on the principles of freedom, equality and opportunity for every man, we must first instill in their thinking a reverence for our historical past. I'm one of that 'over 30' group," he continued, "but if our children realize that their present and future must be tied to a proud historical past there should be no generation gap, and it should guide them into respect for the present. No country in the world offers as much opportunity for its youth as does the United States."

"Our children must first be taught responsibility in the home or they will not assume it as they grow into adulthood. The future, not only in their own lives, but in the life of our nation depends upon their acceptance of this fact. Responsibility for the future is in their hands," he said.

In closing he quoted from Dr. Albert Schweitzer, "I do not know what your destiny will ever be, but this I do know—you will always have happiness if you seek and find—how to serve."

Present were Mrs. Joe Z. Weaver, J. B. White, N. C.

Varietas Study Club Reviews Conservation

Mrs. Aubrey Sprawls presented the program for Varietas Study Club in the home of Mrs. H. Price Doster as members heard a program on conservation.

Mrs. Luther Pierson, club president, presided at the business meeting as plans were made to bring gifts for the Wichita State Hospital to the next meeting.

The afternoon's topic was "Conservation," with the subtitle "My country is the forest and the trees — the birches in white, the aspens combing their golden tresses, the hemlocks, firs, and pines whose fingers caress the sky."

In Mrs. Sprawls' talk on "Forests and Trees of America," she gave a recitation of Joyce Kilmer's poem, "Trees" and said "conservation is a state of harmony between man and land."

Throughout her talk, she accented her descriptions with pictures of unusual trees which she saw during her recent trip to Alaska and the west coast.

Stressing the importance of trees to mankind, she said, "Trees are symbols of life, strength, and beauty; since ancient times trees have provided shelter, fuel, food, weapons, and a sense of awe which is part of religion. Preservation of forests is essential to our lives as well as our culture, since young trees check air pollution. Man has always been careless about destruction of forests, as when one gun factory cut down 28,000 walnut trees for gunstocks during the Civil War, and as when our many great fires destroy thousands of acres of vegetation."

The United States has six broad regions of forests in the United States, due to conditions of soil, temperature, and moisture. The tropical region extends from southern Florida through southern Texas and Arizona. The second is the southern forest region, a coastal area from Maryland to Texas, including parts of Missouri, Arkansas, and Oklahoma.

The third is the central hardwood region, including the entire Midwest. This section has lost the most timber in recent years. The fourth is the northern region, the largest of all, running from Georgia into Canada and through the interior of Alaska.

The fifth is the Rocky Mountain Region, a vast area from Mexico to Canada. The sixth is the Pacific Coast Area, including the Pacific Coast states and parts of Alaska, where most of our "saw" lumber remains. The largest trees in our country are located here, the redwoods and Sequoias, as well as our most important timber species, the Douglas Fir," she said.

"While we still have 187 million acres of land in our forests, with the largest acreage in California and the second largest in Colorado, we must work constantly to preserve our balance between man and land. Trees are important for protection, scenic, historical, archeological, geological, and memorial reasons.

"We can learn many things from trees, one of them being that trees are the oldest living things on earth and possess a perennial youthfulness unknown anywhere else. In our area Arbor Day will be April 22, and we should each plan to plant a tree on that day. We must remember that this is our land and we must use it wisely, enjoying its gifts."

Following the program, the hostess served refreshments. Two new members were voted into membership, to be invited to the next meeting.

Present were Mrs. F.A. Cary, H. Price Doster, S.C. Evans, J.E. Gibson, J.E. Kirshman, R.W. Lane, Otis Naco, L.B. Penick, Luther Pierson, DeWitt Seago, J.R. Spearman, Aubrey Sprawls, and Sherman White.

Pilgrim Governor Starts Thanksgiving Day Legacy

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Sp)—Of all the holidays observed in the United States, none is so thoroughly American as Thanksgiving, a legacy of the Pilgrims and cherished because of the traditions that surround it.

Most Americans are familiar with its initial origin attributed to Governor Bradford of Plymouth colony. The Pilgrims, after landing in New England in December of 1620, suffered a winter of great privation. The following year, when the seeds of their first crops were found to be abundant, the governor proclaimed a day of thanksgiving which was celebrated with the fruits of their harvest and quantities of wild game, particularly turkey.

Doubtlessly due to this incident the turkey is now considered a necessary part of the holiday feast. But apart from the influence of this first celebration, other factors and personalities in American history have played roles in making this a day of national observance.

In 1789, President Washington issued a proclamation to honor the Constitution, appointing Nov. 26, "as a day of general thanksgiving for the establishment of a form of government that would make for safety and happiness. . . . But, after a short time, the states, one by one, began to celebrate the day at different times.

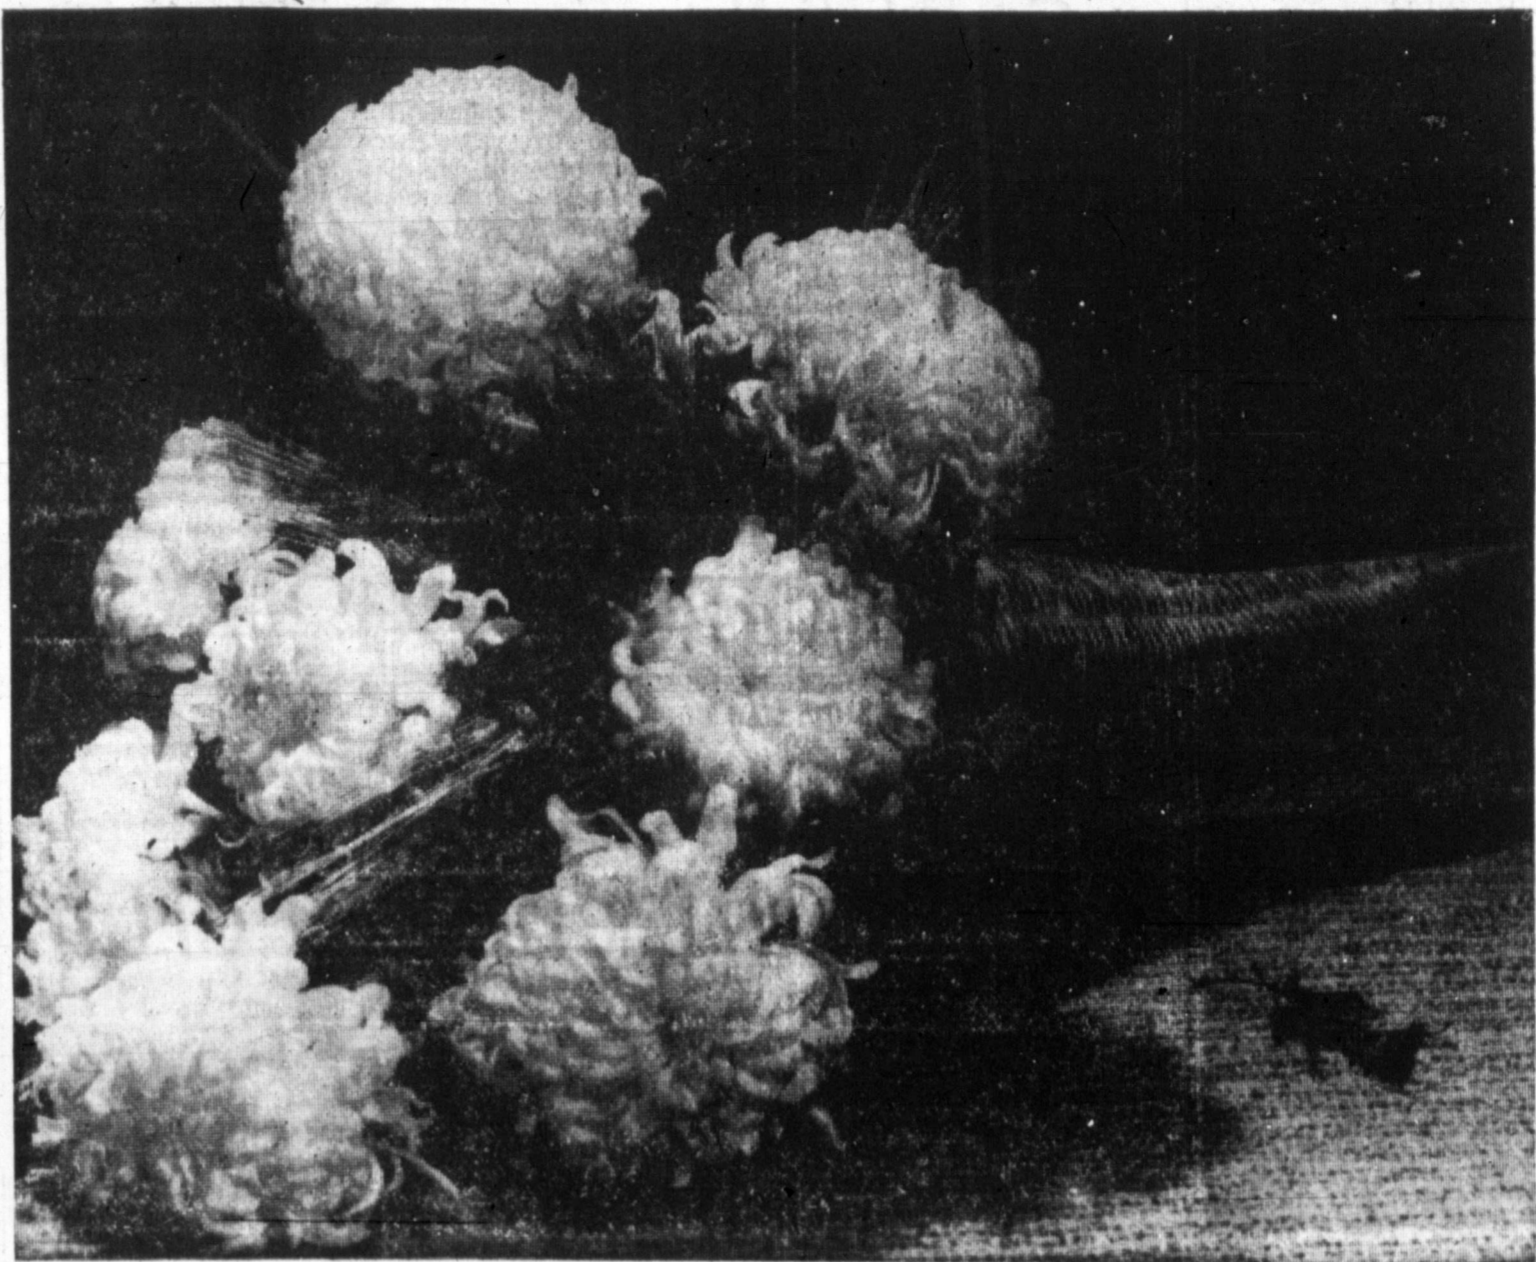

Finally, in the 1800's the adoption of a national uniform date was effected, due largely to the efforts of Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale. As editor of Godey's Lady's Book she wrote many editorials over a period of 20 years, and many letters to presidents and state governors urging them to fix a November date as an official day of Thanksgiving.

Her campaign eventually bore fruit. President Lincoln, in 1864, issued the second presidential proclamation, appointing the fourth Thursday in November as a day of thanksgiving with the view of having the day observed every year thereafter. Thanksgiving continues to be observed by church services, family reunions, dinners and home festivities. And today, as was true with the first Pilgrim celebration, fresh blossoms are a sign of plenty and festivity. For many, the holiday is the start of a four-day weekend of entertaining, and fresh flowers are the key to festive decorating.

Chrysanthemums, the favorite flowers of Thanksgiving, are recommended for the holiday table. White variations, which will blend with any color scheme, are suggested for formal dinners, while mixed yellow and bronze mums will make up a colorful bouquet for informal family dining. But, for a true harvest theme, design a floral arrangement in a horn of plenty or pumpkin shell.

Ancient or modern, the Thanksgiving festival is a day when family and good friends gather, and your holiday celebration can spell out the festivity with all the right trimmings of food, fun and flowers.

Pretty Spring Dress Sets Designers' Fate

NEW YORK (UP)—With an eye on the cash register, the nation's influential designers are pinning their hopes for spring on the rebirth of the pretty dress.

The pretty dress was the common denominator in the majority of more than two-dozen fashion openings previewed during the past three weeks by United Press International fashion writers in the nation's garment district, New York's Seventh Avenue. Some of the clothes will be in the stores next month, and here's how you'll recognize the "pretty dress" among them:

A hemline at or just below the knee; a skirt that helps disguise hip problems via gathers, soft folds or gentle pleating; bodice that's slightly fitted but rarely bosom hugging; sleeves to the wrist or just over the elbow.

Pants Suits & Romance
Promotion of the dress with the sensible hemline to fashion's front ranks doesn't mean that fun, intrigue and romance will be missing on the Spring fashion scene.

Area 4-H Club Presents Music Program In Gym

MOBEETIE (Sp)—The Mobeetie 4-H Club sponsored a musical program in the Mobeetie Gym and heard a string band from Lubbock and a group from Pampa present a program of western and religious music.

Those participating in the program from Lubbock was Clovis Brown, Bill Brown, James Addeberry, Clovis Jordan, and Cookie Blair. Those from Pampa were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martin, Rickey and Gary and Butch Jordan.

There will be plenty of pants suits, a full serving of dresses with romantic, come hither or sexy looks, and even a touch or two of the comical.

Strictly from the comics were three long crepe dresses in the Geoffrey Beene collection, with comic strip characters embroidered on with pounds of sequins.

Right behind the pretty dress in the Spring fashion picture is the ethnic look, inspired by gypsies, peasants, and South American cowboys, the American Indian and grannies of the 1890s. The "ethnics" were designed for patio parties, at-home festivities indoors or even a black tie dinner dance.

Daytime Wear
For daytime the costume and the Chanel suit repeated in many collections. The costume was a little dress with matching jacket—bolero, cabin boy or slightly fitted to the hip.

Coats for spring, most often mid-length, came in paintbox colors but navy, always a Spring winner, was most often repeated. A blazer silhouette was preferred in the cuddlecoat collection designed by Victor Joris. Cape and trenchcoat silhouettes also were seen. Frequently coats came with matching trousers.

Some fashion houses didn't show a hemline higher than the mid. Pierre Cardin America, for one, relied on high slits—fore, aft and at the sides—to show flashes of gam. These were called petal skirts, sometimes shown by models in bare feet.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently married a wonderful man. He had been married to a woman who was sickly for many years. She finally took her own life, leaving him with one child who could be a beauty if she ever got down to human proportions. Abby, she is enormous. I don't know how much she actually weighs because she refuses to get on a scale, but she must be 250 pounds, and she's only five feet tall!

This child has been on every kind of diet imaginable, but she "cheats." We discovered that after dieting all day, she'd get up at night and raid the refrigerator and pantry, so we put locks on both.

Now, she steals food during the daytime and hides it in her room to eat at night. I've found candy, cookies, bologna and even cans of spaghetti hidden under her mattress.

Abby, she's not a dull child, but she's so unattractive and unpopular and unhappy. And she's only 13.

Don't suggest TOPS or Weight Watchers. She's tried them. And don't tell me to get her to a doctor. I'd have to drag her there. I want more than anything in the world to help this girl, but where do I start?

DESPERATE: You must convince her without increasing her shame and guilt that she must see a physician for a thorough physical checkup. She may have a glandular disorder or a sluggish thyroid. The physician will probably recommend psychotherapy. She is a troubled child whose compulsive eating is only a symptom of deeper emotional problems.

DEAR ABBY: I moved into this apartment building 30 years ago. On my floor was a terminal cancer patient who had a nine-year-old cat named "Miss Chee Chee." I told her I would care for her cat after she was gone and not to worry. She left her entire "estate" to me to care for Miss Chee Chee. (It was $25.)

Well, for four days after the lady died, Miss Chee Chee wouldn't eat a thing. I feared she would die, so I called a vet to find out how to get her to eat. On the fifth day, when I had dinner on my table, my phone rang. It was my vet with more "tricks" on how to get the cat to eat. When I got back to the table, my steak, gravy potatoes and green beans had disappeared!

Fifteen years later Miss Chee Chee put her paws around my neck, gave it a hug and died.

I vote, with you. Why destroy a healthy pet? Let God decide. Miss Chee Chee gave me 15 years of happiness, and she had the same herself.

GEORGE THANOS, N.Y.C.

DEAR ABBY: Your telling KAY to ask her boy friend's mother to clue her in on her son's habits around the house was ridiculous!

Let me say I'm in full agreement with you that "premarital housekeeping" is not the solution either, but in my opinion neither is asking the boy's mother.

It's a rare mother who would tell a girl about her son's faults and thereby lay herself open to blame for them. Besides, mothers of sons have a ferocious "loyalty" to their sons any time they are not about to disclose their faults to prospective wives—and especially to one who is so concerned with her own welfare that she's looking for bad habits already.

I say, ask his brother, maybe, his co-workers, or a buddy, or even his Dad. But if you want the facts, forget about asking Mom.

Easy-Care Bedroom Comes In 5 Stitches

By JOANNE SCHREIBER
 Do you dream of a bedroom that's easy to keep picture book-pretty, in spite of kids, pets, city soot and normal wear and tear? It's easy—sew it yourself of easy-care fabrics that can be glamorous as any magazine cover but designed for easy sewing and easy maintenance. The secret is the miracle fiber which is used for the sheer window curtains and blended

Sew up an easy-care bedroom for this winter's big sewing project. Even a quilted coverlet can be done on a home sewing machine; laminated window shades and sheer-pouf draperies add up to a handsome window treatment; the chair takes a classic tailored slipcover. Fabrics of Fortrel insure easy care.

machine-washed, tumble-dried with cotton for the crisp lemon and whipped back into service and delphinium print. Star performer is the quilted bed coverlet. Believe it or not, Here's a bedroom that's as you can sew it yourself on a straight-stitch sewing machine, to save a very pretty penny over the cost of a store-bought spread.

To make the spread, piece your fabric to the correct size. For length, add one yard to mattress length. For a normal-length bed that's three yards. Lay fabric down center of bed, measure from selvage to desired length on each side and cut strips accordingly. In most cases, you'll be able to get the two side strips from a split length—meaning a total of six yards of 36-inch fabric for a coverlet for a double (54-inch) bed. Get equal yardage of lining and batting.

Mark off top section with chalk or bastings in eight-inch squares. Pin to batting and lining. With No. 16 needle, polyester thread and a long stitch, quilt along marked lines. A triple row of stitching is especially handsome. The batting is so lightweight that you'll be able to roll it tightly as you go, so it will fit under the machine head. At the halfway point, reverse the quilt and work from the other end, so you never have more than half the quilt under the head at one time. Finish with self bias binding.

The unusual window treatment is easy care, too. The fabric is laminated to the shades simply by ironing the material to the preheated shade cloth. Don't try to dunk the shades; keep them fresh by frequent vacuuming with the soft vacuum brush and occasional wiping with a damp sponge.

Both the under curtains of deep delphinium blue and the poufed overcurtains of pale aqua are sheer. The poufed valance is made by simply joining the long edges of folded strips of fabric and stitching a casing in the seam edge. Don't tie with tasseled cords, lift and pin the lower section to the other curtain and fluff out the pouf. Untie to launder. Admittedly, it's a good winter's project to quilt a spread, relax and enjoy your handiwork.

POLLY'S POINTERS Use Clean-Out Door On Toaster's Underside

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. E.J. D. wanted to know how to clean her toaster after she had toasted buttered bread in it. I had the same problem. I first disconnected the toaster, turned it upside down and opened the crumb door on the underside so most of the places could be reached with a soft cloth or paper towel. This cleaned mine fairly well. But do be careful not to touch the coils.

M.I.K.

DEAR GIRLS— Many of us forget about that door on the bottom of most toasters and a surprising amount of burned crumbs, etc., fall to the bottom. This removable piece can be scrubbed. While it is off, gently shake the toaster to loosen others. Do be gentle so as not to damage any fine wires. Be sure any brush used is soft, such as a pastry brush, or if a chicken feather is available, it would brush away any particles with a soft touch.

—POLLY

Polly's Problem
 DEAR POLLY — I would like to know how to protect the finish on each end of my nine-month-old son's crib and also protect him at the same time. He is teething and is chewing right down to the bare wood. Is there something I could use to cover the ends temporarily?

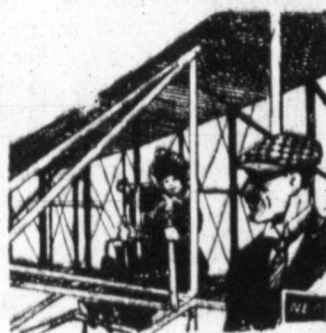

—MRS. O.S.

DEAR POLLY — Recently, when raking an enormous amount of leaves fallen from large trees near our house, I picked up a board about 4 1/2 feet long, 12 inches across and 3/4 inch deep and placed this to the edge of the leaves. With my wide metal rake similar to a bamboo rake in shape, I pulled it along as I walked carefully backwards. The board caught a much larger amount of leaves than the single rake. It is not necessary to stick to these dimensions but that is what I happened to have on hand. This works fine on hard ground and on the cement patio where we have so many leaves in the fall. It really speeds up my leaf raking.

—MRS. H.S. W.

Danger Season For Pedestrians Comes In Winter

CHICAGO, Ill. (Sp.) when a drivers need to be on the alert for older pedestrians," according to Hillel H. Yampol, executive director, Metropolitan Chicago Nursing Home Association. He pointed out that longer hours of darkness, fog, snow, sleet and rain make it harder for drivers to see and stop in time.

"For their part, older persons should avoid jaywalking," he said. "When they walk, they should try to avoid the hours between 4 p.m. and midnight, and they should remember that Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays are the worst accident days.

Drivers must see to avoid collisions with other cars or pedestrians. They should keep their headlights clean as well as their windshields.

"Since this is the first generation to move toward adulthood without having to worry about making a living, it feels shallow. The youth cannot understand our generation's preoccupation with acquisition and assume that affluence is a permanent condition, not a goal to be achieved," Mrs. Giggy said.

She quoted Roderick MacLeish, senior commentator for a broadcasting company, as saying the "best way to thwart the activists and militants is not to meet them with force. When force arrives so does mass support. To clear up some of the student demands one needs to separate emotional demands from the real grievances which demand attention."

"The youth need and want a moral code to follow, one that spells out in concrete terms what is eternally right and forever wrong. They are waiting for a cause big enough and novel enough to challenge their idealism. What you believe determines how you respond to

Legs are alive and kicking up fashion excitement underneath the hemline highs and lows. Black braid bands the new proportion of an asymmetric skirt that's topped with a skinny sweater and the good looks of a gauchon hat. Actionwear pantyhose draws attention to the strong stance of the midi (left) and pulls the look together with "Tuxedo" from Berkshire. The playful skirt (right) hits a highpoint in fashion lengths. Supporting the high climb, Christian Dior puts a signature on high-rising socks which meet the hemline halfway.

Fashion Kicks Up On Hemline Quirks

NEW YORK (NEA)—The new lowdown on hemlines is not a blast from the dreary past. If you know how to handle it, it can smack of the modern '70s and mingle easily with and pants. And the midi is not the only acceptable length. The woman who knows what is right for her won't wear it unless it does something for her. Even for those who like the longer hemline, it can be part, but need not take over all of their wardrobes.

Never, have women had a greater variety of fashion from which to choose. And never before have they had to call upon imagination and fashion sense with such confidence. Correct proportion is the byword.

While word has it that "the leg is dead," women know that's far from true. Legs are alive and kicking. They provide the pivot point around which midis, longuettes, updated minis and asymmetric hemlines turn. Leg fashion plays a leading role. And a provocatively clad leg is far more interesting than blatant leglessness.

Actionwear pantyhose of nylon provide miracle comfort and fit for women on the move. They can be misopaque—a wash of color on the leg that creates total harmony from hem to shoe. There is a complete palette of such luscious shades as cadet blue, cocoa green, even scarlet to co-ordinate with every imaginable color.

They are a must for a long, lean look with midis and longuettes. They are a comfortable and cool substitute for the boot.

The mini still has its place in the hemline hop, especially it's a high climb back to the skirt and matching long vest. miniskirt is updated by meeting it halfway up with Christian Dior's "signature socks." A subtle Dior signature is etched in the cuff of these knee-high Acrilan and nylon socks, which provide the perfect how-to for short proportioning.

"Pinstripe" pantyhose has no stocking welt whatsoever. It's a modern accessory with an old-fashioned look for the woman who wishes to unbutton her midi thigh-high. And "Tuxedo" stripe pantyhose assures the leg its proper attention by adding sheer drama to an asymmetric ponchoskirt.

From the highs and lows, ups and downs, this season's lively legs are kicking up fashion excitement.

PARIS—President Nixon, in a tribute to Charles de Gaulle: "There are really four men in Western civilization we owe a tremendous debt to. He (De Gaulle) is without question the only man who could have saved France in World War II and his great legacy today is that France would not exist if it were not for De Gaulle."

Corncrafters Create Fall Buffet Fantasy

CHICAGO (Spl) — There's nothing prettier on a Fall buffet table than an arrangement of bright yellow mums, sprays of golden wheat, and perky cattails. Now here's one you can create from a brand new craft material — popcorn no less! And how appropriate it is, because, just like mums and cattails, popcorn belongs to Autumn, too.

In many homes, part of the ceremony of building the year's first fire in the fireplace includes popping a batch of popcorn in an old-fashioned, long-handled wire mesh hand popper. If this is a custom in your house, you're on your way to being ready to put together this Corncrafters' Fall Fantasy because the corn for the mums and cattails should be dry-popped.

Even if you don't have a basket popper though, for use by the fireside over glowing logs or coals, or at the outdoor grill, you can still create this

"pop art" floral piece, by dry-popping in a covered skillet on the kitchen range, being sure to keep shaking the skillet while the popping is going on.

The "mums" and "cattails" are colored rich Autumn yellow and brown with craft spray paint; so this is one popcorn concoction which can't be nibbled. Put it's so attractive a piece, you wouldn't want to do that anyhow when it can serve as the focal point for so many Fall gatherings. You can always provide a dish full of "snackable" corn, too, for folks to munch while they admire your pop art.

For instance, 2 quarts of warm, unsalted popped popcorn can be quickly coated with a glaze of two-third cup light corn syrup, two-third cup sugar, and 1 teaspoon salt. Combine the ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to boiling over medium heat; then boil two minutes, stirring constantly. Pour the syrup slowly over the popcorn and toss lightly to coat the kernels evenly. With buttered hands, shape the glazed corn quickly into small 1-to 1½-inch balls or clusters. This will make about 3½ dozen balls.

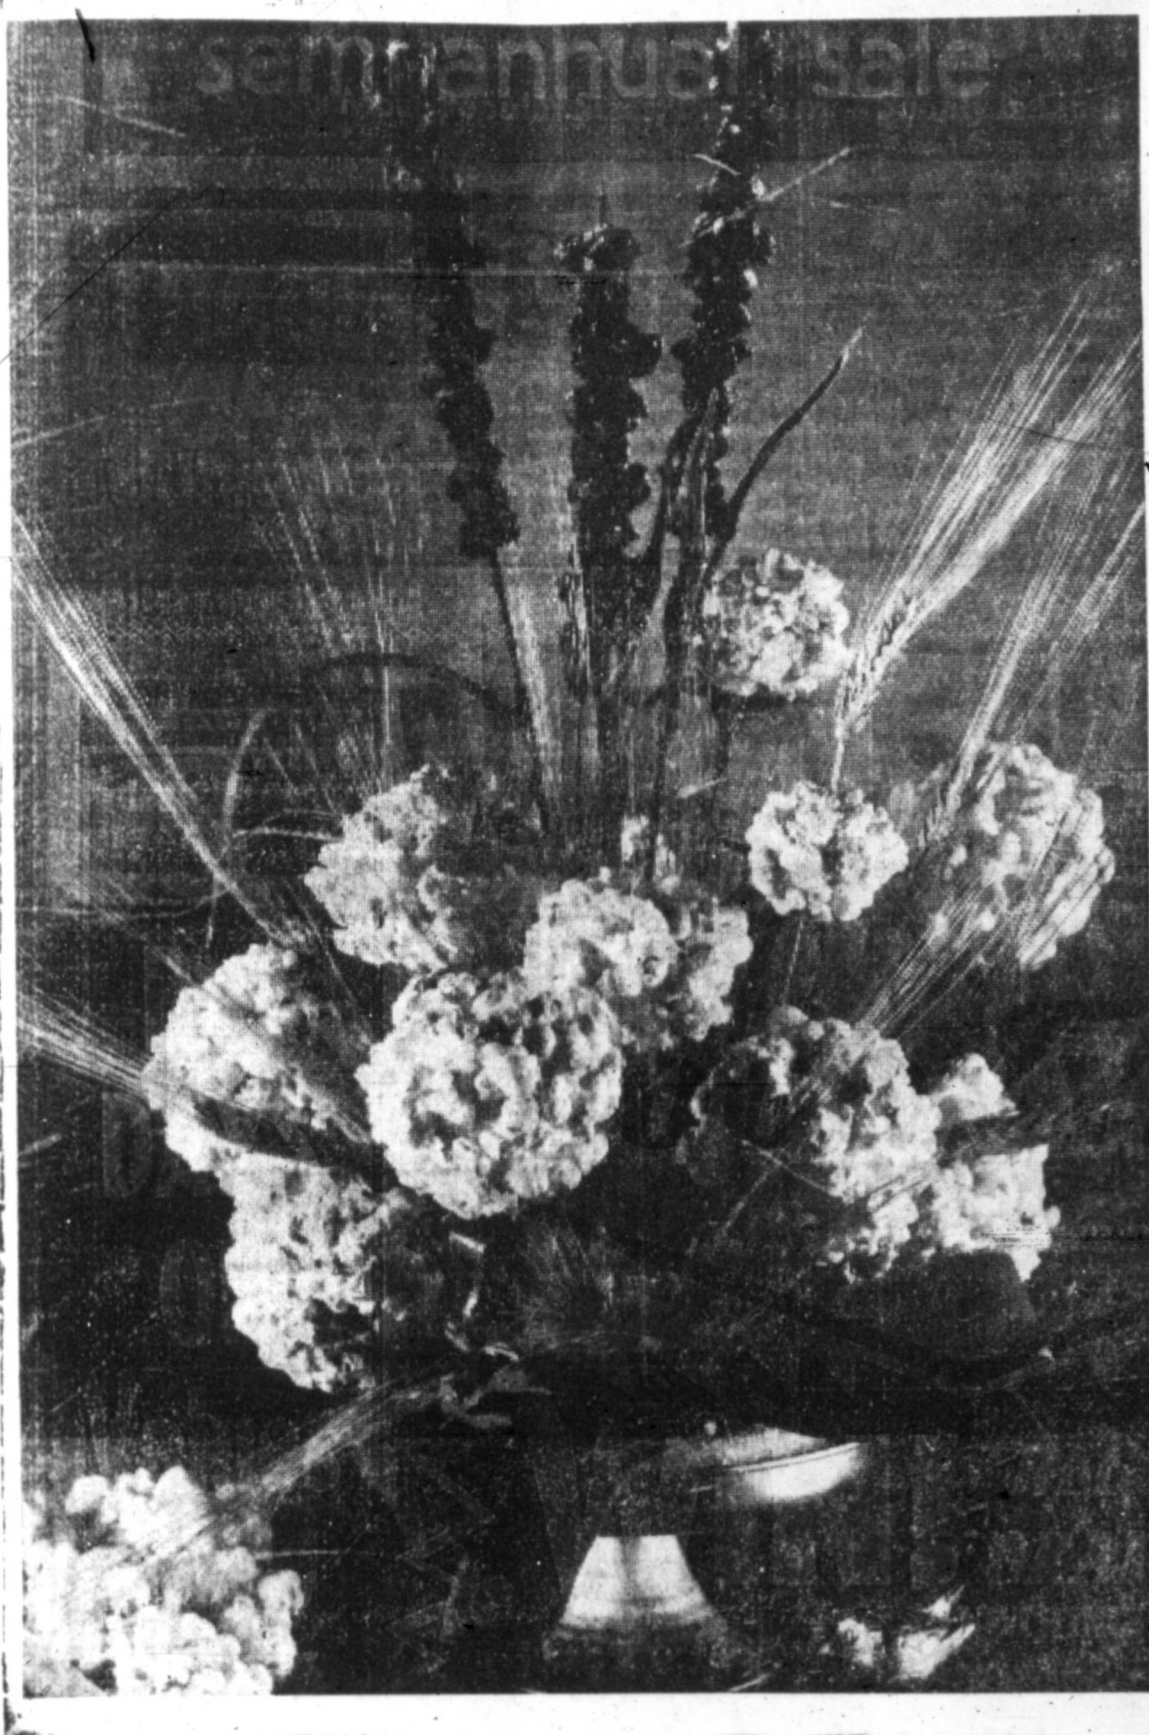

Candy corn kernels can also be pressed in hile balls are being shaped or "glued" on after shaping with hot corn syrup. If you want your nibbling corn to match the mums, or fit any other party color scheme you may have, you can do this by adding pur food coloring to the hot syrup before you pour it over the popcorn.

With all this popping good information now, you'll just have to plan a Fall party. Be the first one in your neighborhood to display this delightful Corncrafters' Fall Fantasy. The arrangement — and lots of delicious eating popcorn — will be just right for a football Frolic, or even an Autumn Bridal Buffet. It takes a little time, but the results are worth it.

CORNCRAFTERS' FALL FANTASY

MATERIALS: Five quarts dry-popped, unsalted, yellow variety popcorn (about ¾ cp kernels). White craft glue. Styrofoam balls, four 2½-inch and one 3-inch diameters. Stems and calyxes from 12 plastic flowers (about 8 inches long).

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)

There are two commonplace but highly important functions in life that the average person simply is unable to perform well.

One is choosing a spouse and the other is choosing a career.

Precise statistics on the number of mismatched couples and maladjusted workers are unavailable, but the figure obviously would run into the millions.

Until now there was not much a person making these decisions could do except muddle along on his or her own. Girls who should have married introverts married extroverts. Men who should have been engineers became lawyers. And electronic computer, however, help is finally on the way.

Wiping Out Whimsy

Already a substantial number of privately owned computerized dating agencies are in operation, gradually bringing a measure of order and stability into the chaotic matrimonial situation.

Once they have reached their full potential, marriages will be formed on the basis of scientific matchmaking rather than whimsy, impulse and blind chance.

It is equally gratifying to note that the U.S. Labor Department currently is striving to perfect a manpower matching system in which computers will be used by employment agencies to find the right workers for the right jobs.

If you ponder upon this arrangement for a moment, however, you will sense that something is amiss. Which it is.

Joining Forces

Basically, we have two go-betweens performing essentially the same service. Which is inefficient and wasteful. One matching system should do both.

Here, for example, are an employer's requirements: "Have opening for honest, ambitious young bachelor with at least 10 years experience as door-to-door tent peg salesman. Must have own car. College degree. Willing to work nights. Minimum starting pay but good opportunity for advancement."

Here are a job-seeker's qualifications: "Honest, ambitious young bachelor with 10 years experience seeks position as door-to-door tent peg salesman. Has own car. College graduate. Willing to work nights. Will accept minimum starting pay if job offers good opportunity for advancement."

And here are another job-seeker's qualifications: "Middle-aged, self-educated widow with large family to support seeks well-paying job as tumbler model within walking distance of home. Daylight hours only."

Any properly functioning matching system would find both applicants unsuited for the job but ideal mates for each other.

WASHINGTON—Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird in a letter to Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., reaffirming the United States' commitment not to develop "first strike" nuclear weapons system: "We have not developed, and we are not seeking to develop, a weapons system having, or which could be reasonably construed as having, a first strike potential."

Lt. Governor Interested in Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes is so anxious to jump into national politics that it appears almost certain at this point that he will run for the U.S. Senate instead of Governor in 1972.

Barnes already is looked on with high regard by national Democratic leaders. Some of them already place him in the role as heir to the Texas party leadership and expect him to move with ease into the role of a national leader.

Crazy World Of Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The season of speculation is in full flower on a possible shakeup in the Senate's hierarchy with the convening of the 92nd Congress in January.

Never mind that the 91st Congress still has failed to resolve itself into extinction.

For the record, no challenger has declared his entry, no incumbent formally notified his colleagues of an intention to seek another term.

But that doesn't still speculation in an area that thrives on it.

As a starter: Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who already holds the longevity record, is a sure thing for two more years, at least.

Without doubt, Senate Democrats will elect him their leader unanimously, without any sort of challenge.

No. 2 Situation Different

With the post of leader, Mansfield also automatically becomes chairman of the Democratic Policy, Steering and Conference committees.

But the No. 2 job among Democrats—assistant leader or whip—presents a totally different situation.

Despite some earlier speculation that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy would relinquish the post at bit too restrictive, he now plans to ask his colleagues for a second term.

Kennedy could face an election, however, as close as the one by which he ousted Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana from the whip job two years ago. That vote was 31-26.

There are strong indications that the challenge will come from Sen. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, now the No. 3 man with the odd title of secretary to the Democratic Conference.

Unlike Kennedy who is frequently absent, Byrd is a glutton for the routine chores and rarely is absent from the Senate floor. He has doled out many favors and those chits can be called in.

Interest in Challenge

On the Republican side, the speculation and interest centers on a possible challenge to Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott who was elected by a narrow 23 to 20 margin after the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Strategists who put Scott over the top a little more than a year ago, consider the 68-year-old Pennsylvania, just re-elected, much stronger now.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Board at its meeting last week issued a policy statement which will allow parks and wildlife enforcement personnel to enforce water-pollution control laws. The resolution passed by the Parks and Wildlife Board empowers its officers to file charges against anyone they find violating the water-quality laws. The Board exempted dischargers of pollutants who hold Texas Water Quality Board permits or orders. A study of the policy statement issued by the Parks and Wildlife Board reveals that officers of the agency may also file charges against pesticide polluters and establish guidelines against litter violations in swimming areas, against disposal of wastes from watercraft and against the disposal of human wastes, oil slicks and fish carcasses and parts.

Catfish Farm

One Texas Panhandle farmer has already begun catfish farming. Ralph Hutchinson, a combination agri-businessman of Booker has installed a combination system of tailwater and channel catfish feeding ponds on his wheat and sorghum grain farm in the northeast corner of Ochiltree County.

Mr. Hutchinson is presently enlarging the size of the dam of the lake near the center of the North section line in order to capture and hold more water. This lake will be used not only as a tail-water pit but also a lake where people will be able to try their luck at catching fish.

method of farming and commercial fish feeding. He catches all of the tail-water from his wells and estimates that its value would equal another 800 to 1000 gallons per minute well. During the past crop season he irrigated 90 acres with the recovered tailwater.

Hutchinson was in Carson County last week visiting with Gene Harlan at Skellytown to secure a compressor to pump oxygen by means of perforated pipes through the channel catfish ponds to insure a plentiful supply of oxygen for the growing fish.

Mr. Hutchinson is conservation minded and welcomes any ideas or questions on his farming operations and by looking at this section of land one can readily see that much thought and planning have gone into the development of the system for the movement of water. Water can be picked up and delivered to almost any point on the section by the regulation of valves or ditches. Pits can be drained by the simple action of laying over a short flexible stand-pipe, which in turn releases water into a lake where it can be picked up and returned to the system.

Gray and Carson County agri-business people may reach the catfish farm through Perryton or Canadian.

Hutchinson is already convinced that commercial fish farming can be a valuable extra crop for the Texas Panhandle. He has combined a versatile

PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd Year Sunday, November 13, 1970

Texas Ranchers, Farmers Asked To Answer Survey

Some 40,000 Texas ranchers and farmers, including a representative number from Gray County, will be involved in the 1970 state livestock survey.

County Agent Foster Whaley said that during the last half of November survey questionnaires would be mailed to the selected livestock producers by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Each should fill out the questionnaire as soon as possible and return it in the enclosed envelope.

The reports will be used, explained the county agent, by the state statistician in making an accurate estimate of the cattle, hogs and chickens on the farms and ranches of Texas.

There are many uses, both in and out of Texas, for this information. We use it here in the county, Whaley said, in connection with our program building activities and in conducting educational programs involving livestock.

The more questionnaires returned, the more accurate will be the estimates; therefore, it is important that each producer in Gray County who receives a questionnaire, complete and return it immediately.

Steps To Prevent Evergreens From Weather Damage Outlined

Weather injury, especially during the winter, can inflict serious damage to evergreens, explains Everett Janne, Landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Evergreens are particularly susceptible to winter drying in areas such as West Texas where the relative humidity is low, says Janne. This damage occurs in late winter or early spring before new growth can get started. Strong winds and low humidity desiccate the foliage because the plants are unable to replace the moisture given off by the leaves through excessive transpiration.

According to the horticulturist, visible symptoms of winter drying depend on the severity of the injury. Sometimes only the branch tips will be dead; at other times the whole tree or shrub may turn brown and die. In windbreak plantings, dead plants are often found next to apparently healthy ones.

Janne explains that the best precaution against drying of evergreens this winter is to plant them in a well-drained, fertile soil. Since this isn't always possible, the next best thing is to provide adequate soil moisture.

Homeowners and gardeners often store the water hose at the same time they put away the lawn mower for the winter, points out Janne. Landscape plants still require moisture even though winter weather has made the scene.

To prepare evergreens for the winter and reduce weather damage, Janne outlines these steps:

1. Water trees and shrubs thoroughly at regular intervals throughout the winter, especially where they are protected by wide overhangs on homes.
2. Use a mulch to prevent surface evaporation and to keep the soil warmer. Evergreens have difficulty taking up moisture when the ground is cold.
3. Maintain a fertile, well-aerated soil to encourage deep root growth. Compacted soil hinders good root growth.

Evergreens display a beauty all their own and add much to the winter landscape. They can maintain this beauty only if they are cared for properly, adds Janne.

Output per man-hour on the farm increased 83 percent between 1959 and 1969. Farmers now produce over 20 percent more food and fiber on 6 percent fewer acres, according to New Holland, the farm equipment division of Sperry Rand.

Today's 230 pound market hog has 21 pounds of extra meat and 11 pounds less lard than an animal of the same weight would have had in 1960.

700 To Attend Annual Cattle Feeders Meeting

The promotion of the industry's product "beef" is slated to receive special attention at the Fourth Annual Meeting of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association scheduled November 16-17, in Amarillo.

Lloyd Bergsma, Executive Vice-President of the Association, said, "We expect more than seven hundred people to attend the 1970 Annual Meeting which will make this meeting one of the largest ever for the cattle feeding industry."

The Panel, "Beef Promotion - Whose Responsibility?" will take the spotlight Tuesday afternoon. Dudley Campbell, Campbell and Co., Regugio, Texas, will moderate the panel. Campbell, a native Texan, has long been associated with livestock organizations and beef promotional programs across the nation. Included on the panel will be John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture. Under the direction of Commissioner White the statewide "TAP," Texas Agricultural Products promotion program, has been initiated.

George Spencer, who recently assumed the position of Executive Vice President of American National Cattlemen's Association, Denver, Colorado, will participate on the panel. Spencer was formerly in charge of beef procurement and sales for Swift & Co. plant at Guymon, Oklahoma.

Also on the panel is Dolph Briscoe, Jr., Uvalde, Texas. Briscoe has extensive ranching interests in South Texas and is Chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat Board which is the national promotion arm of the industry. Jack Carrothers, Past President of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association and Chairman of the Beef Promotion Committee, American National Cattlemen's Association, is included on the panel. Concluding the panel is James P. Hartman, Director Livestock and Products Division, Foreign Agriculture Service, USDA. Hartman has been a leader in the promotion of beef sales overseas.

"The greatest ever," said R.M. Carter, President of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, Texas, which is soon to be number one as a cattle feeding state, is looking now to the number one cattle feeding convention.

DANCE MARATHON

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI)—A dance marathon was in progress today in an auditorium used just six months ago to house National Guardsmen during campus violence at the University of Maryland.

The 52-hour marathon is designed to raise money for muscular dystrophy research. In addition, one youth volunteered to swallow a goldfish for every $1,000 raised by the marathon.

A LOT OF WHALE

FLORENCE, Oreg. (UPI)—A demolition crew blew up a 40-ton dead whale with 20 cases of dynamite after the California gray whale floated up dead on a beach near here, this week. Fragmented meat blew hundreds of feet into the sky and one chunk smashed an automobile roof.

ELKS' MOOSE MISSING

LIVERMORE, Calif. (UPI)—A man named Doe reported to police a moose head and antlers had been stolen from the Elks Club here.

Police said a burglar apparently forced open a window and took the trophies, worth about $300.

Agriculture Income In Far West Texas Area Shows Increase

Agricultural income in the Far West Texas area should show some significant increases during the 1970s. In fact, studies conducted by county agricultural agents and Program Building Committees in the 25 counties in District 6 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service show that the area's cash receipts from agriculture will total $158,357,500 by 1976.

"This means an increase of $38,106,400 over the next six years," says Charles A. Taylor, Extension area farm management specialist located at Fort Stockton, headquarters for the district. Taylor compiled the county figures into an area-wide projection. Each economically important agricultural enterprise was considered in developing the county and area income projections.

According to the projection, the area will contribute substantially to an overall statewide program launched early this year by the Extension Service to boost Texas' agricultural income by more than $1 billion by 1976. The state's present cash receipts from agriculture total about $2.75 billion. The goal of the Extension Service is to boost the total farm income to $3.76 billion. Thus, the program has an appropriate title, "3.76 in '76."

"This area of the state is proud to be participating in a program of this magnitude," points out Ray Siegmund, district agricultural agent. "We solicit the assistance and cooperation of everyone engaged in agriculture so that the goal of 3.76 in '76' will be realized. Efforts will have to be intensified to close the gap between average and potential yields of our agricultural commodities, and improved cultural practices and management techniques will have to be applied."

"The livestock industry is expected to lead the way in the area's bid to increase total cash receipts from agriculture by more than $38 million," points out Taylor. "This segment is projected to increase by $25,108,600 over the next six years."

Counties expected to make major contributions toward this increase are Reeves-Loving, El Paso, Crockett, Midland and Pecos.

Looking at the area picture regarding crop production, the specialist explains that the overall increase in income from this segment is expected to total $10,300,300 by 1976. Counties projected to set the pace in reaching this goal are Reeves-Loving, El Paso, Reagan, Midland, Kinney, Hudspeth, Glasscock and Andrews.

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY

W.O. Jones with the Texas Animal Health Commission, Amarillo, is in the process of Bangs testing about seven hundred head of cows in Gray County in an effort to recertify the county as a Modified Brucellosis-Free area. Every three years a minimum of twenty percent of Gray County's cow population must have had an official test. There are two ways this can be done — first, through cooperating packing houses back tagging the cull cows and having them tested. Second, enough cows must be tested on the ranches to bring the total county to twenty percent of the cow population in the County. Should enough cull cows be tested to equal the twenty percent, then no testing would be necessary in the County. Therefore, we needed to test about seven hundred cows to get our total required percentage. We need the cooperation of owners of cows in this effort to recertify the County. I have no doubt but what someone would volunteer. We might point out, however, the county could be quarantined in effect on the movement of certain classes of cattle unless someone did cooperate and have their cattle tested. It is always an inconvenience to do this. But we seek your cooperation. Would you please call and let me know if you would volunteer your herd for testing?

CATTLE PRICES

The market has taken a decided slide downward on light weight replacement cattle. The fat market is still sick, however. Excessive hog numbers at the major markets and pork promotion projects are having a decided effect on the fat cattle market. With the fat market sick for so long, it is no surprise that stocker calves a downward course. With Wheat pasture prospect looking so dim, I can't see anything but further slide in the price on light weight calves. The cow-calf man deserves to be getting every dollar he does today. But economics usually rules out over what seems justified. Supply and demand usually come together on common ground to set price. The demand has been cut by negative margins in the feedlot and in the stocker phase of production. Most operators that were looking to wheat pasture have given up hopes. In some cases they have cattle they purchased earlier hoping for wheat. In some cases these individuals are looking to other alternatives and are disposing of these cattle. This reduces demand for further importation of light weight calves from the East.

Less than 30 percent of the United States population today lives in rural areas. Less than 25 percent of America's 54 million rural residents live on farms and earn their livelihood from agriculture.

The value of United States farm real estate was set at $208.9 billion for year ending March 1, 1970. Per acre value averaged $193 ranging from $36 in Wyoming to $1,028 in New Jersey.

Prices for restaurant meals have increased 50 percent since 1957-59, while prices for all food at retail stores are up 26 percent.

Golden Spread Sets Welcome For Texas Farmers Union Meet

A Golden Spread welcome awaits farm and ranch families attending the 67th annual convention of Texas Farmers Union December 3-5. The high plains city of Amarillo is in the heartland of the organization's membership, and according to convention planners the city and the Holiday Inn West will provide an ideal convention location.

Gray-Roberts County officers are Henry Harnly, president; Richard Bowers, first vice president; Willis Clark, second vice president; Ann Rapstine, secretary.

Delegates to convention are Willis Clark and Clyde Hodges. Harnly serves on the state policy program committee for the convention.

One of this year's special features will be a "Meet The Livestock Experts" workshop. A panel of livestock authorities from the agricultural colleges and commercial production units will discuss new developments in livestock production. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the state extension service, will moderate the panel. An array of nationally-known speakers are expected to address the convention. They include Senator Ralph Yarborough, Governor Preston Smith, Congressman Bob Price, Congressman Graham Purcell, National Farmers Union President Tony Dechant, Canadian Uniform President Paul Babey, National Farmers Union Insurance President Ray Novak, and National Green Thumb Director Dr. Blue Carstenson.

The board of Directors composed of county unit presidents will meet prior to the convention for the purpose of electing district directors to fill vacancies in four of the nine Farmers Union districts. These posts are presently held by Beryl Long of Silverton, Dist. 2; Kobert Cathey of Dublin, Dist. 4; Jack Norman of Howe, Dist. 6; and Doris Blissard of Garden City, Dist. 8.

The convention will elect state officers to serve for the coming year and delegates to the National Farmers Union convention. Texas Farmers Union is entitled to three delegates to the National Farmers Union Convention which will be held in Washington, D.C. in February 1971. The present officers are Jay Naman of Waco, president; Joe Rankin of Ralls, vice president; and Elizabeth Doshier of McGregor, secretary-treasurer.

REP. BOB PRICE

Postal Department To Fill 5,000 Vacancies Soon

Congressman Bob Price said Saturday he has been notified the Post Office Department will begin immediately to fill some 5,000 postmaster vacancies on a non-political merit basis.

Most of the postmaster vacancies have accumulated since February 1969, when President Nixon and Postmaster General Winton Blount jointly announced elimination of the political "advisor" system in postal job appointments.

Until enabling legislation was passed recently permitting postmaster appointments without congressional approval, offices with vacancies have been manned by postal career personnel serving as Officers-in-Charge.

"The success of our efforts to remove the last vestiges of politics from the postal system has finally been realized under the Post Reorganization Act," Postmaster General Blount said. "We now have the authority to move ahead and appoint personnel chosen by our management selection system."

For the past 17 months, National and Regional Management Selection Boards have been identifying qualified personnel to fill vacant career positions. First consideration is given to available, qualified postal career employees. The few vacancies for which no qualified careerist can be found are referred to the Civil Service Commission for open competitive examination.

Concurrent with the 1969 announcement, rural career vacancies were also removed from political influence and placed under merit selection procedures.

"I consider the authority to now make postmaster appointments based wholly on merit to be one of the most important facets of our reorganization," Blount told Price.

"At last we have the ability to provide our employees with truly meaningful career advancement opportunities, and postal employees have a goal worth working for—promotion by merit."

Mental Illness Is Industry's Most Expensive Health Problem

HOUSTON (UPI)—Mental illness is industry's most expensive health problem, a University of Texas professor told 35 area corporate executives Thursday.

Dr. Robert L. Sutherland, president-emeritus of the Hogd Foundation for Mental Health at the university's Austin campus, said mental illnesses cost United States' businesses $10 billion annually.

Sutherland said the "real issue here is how can someone tell his boss, 'look I've got an emotional problem,' and keep this from affecting his records position and promotion in the company?"

Sutherland and Dr. Moody C. Bettis of the Baylor College of Medicine conducted a seminar for the executives.

"This is a problem of stigma so don't use the words psychiatrist, mental health or disturbed," Bettis said. "People do not choose to be mentally ill or troubled."

Americans Cut Church Finances

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The average American Protestant has sharply reduced the amount of money he gives to his church, a financial report disclosed recently.

Church officials attribute the sharp decline, in part, to a "give-up" strike by members who object to church involvement in social action.

Other factors, possibly of even larger importance, are a general recession of religious fervor—attested by declining church attendance and Sunday School enrollment—and the fact that church contributions are an easy target for economizing by families who find their budgets in a squeeze because of overall economic developments.

The latest report was compiled by the National Council of Churches from data supplied by 48 Protestant denominations. It covers contributions during the 1969 fiscal year, the latest period for which figures are available.

The per capita contribution (total contributions divided by total membership) was $87 a year.

A similar survey covering 71 denominations had showed a per capita contribution of $127 in the 1966 fiscal year.

Thus, over the three most recent years for which comparable statistics are available, per capita giving dropped by about 30 per cent.

During the same period, the per capita disposable income of Americans went up from $2,599 to $3,098 a year, an increase of about 20 per cent.

Nixon To Pay More Attention To Home Affairs

NEW YORK (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Wednesday the Nixon administration will start paying more attention to domestic issues in preparation for the 1972 election.

Agnew, speaking to editors and executives of the Daily News, the nation's largest newspaper, conceded that the administration's domestic record may have been at least partially responsible for 11 governorships going Democratic in last week's elections.

But the losses in the state houses were not catastrophic, Agnew said, and with "a strong domestic program, the trend may be reversed," the Daily News reported.

Agnew stressed Nixon's proposal for revenue sharing with the states. The money for such a program can come from cutting back on unnecessary and outmoded federal matters.

"Several times he mentioned the Housing and Urban Development Department as an area where great savings could be made," the newspaper said.

The vice president said he was surprised that more post-election analysis had not been devoted to the swing in the Senate toward the President on foreign policy. The Republicans won two seats outright and two more ideologically, according to Agnew.

Somebody Is Mistaken

Two years ago, Cofnell biologist Lamont C. Cole warned a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that mankind was in grave danger of running out of the very breath of life.

Soaring population, the steady removal of green spaces from the photosynthetic cycle, the continued burning of fossil fuels — coal, oil and gas — and pollution of the oceans, he said, were bringing us to the point where our consumption of oxygen would outrun the ability of nature to replenish it.

A recent article in Audubon, the magazine of the National Audubon Society, is more specific in its pessimism. It has already "hung a veil of dirty air over the earth that cuts off 20 per cent of the sunlight," write Robert and Leona Reinow. In another 10 years we will have shut off 50 per cent of the sun and "in 20 years, we shall find ourselves in a global doom," they claim.

There's the other side if the coin. Recently concluded study by two U.S. Department of Commerce scientists reports that there has been no discernible change in the world's oxygen supply in the last 60 years. The project was commissioned in 1966 by the office of the President's Science Adviser with the aim of determining whether increasing concentrations of herbicides and pesticides in the oceans were killing off oceanic plant life, the primary source of atmospheric oxygen.

Collecting and testing samples of air in land and sea over three years between 50 degrees north and south latitude or from the area of Newfoundland to the tip of South America, the scientists came up with an average oxygen content in the atmosphere of between 20.9453 and 20.946 per cent.

Projecting their finding into the future, the scientists concluded that even if all the known recoverable reserves of fossil fuels were burned, the concentration of atmospheric oxygen would be about 20.8 per cent, or too small a reduction to have any effect on human breathing.

The study did not direct itself to other aspects of the pollution problem, however. And it would be stupid to conclude that we may proceed recklessly to throw dust and haze into the air, pave over the green spaces and flush our wastes into the oceans in the belief that nature's capacity to replenish herself is limitless.

But at least we now have some more data showing we have not irrevocably doomed all life and that rather than crying havoc, which only drives people into despair, we should continue our efforts to conserve our resources and make the best economic use of them possible.

Unbeatable Protection

Sometime ago, Dr. S. Kent Christensen, vice president and agricultural counsel of the National Association of Food Chains, projected retail food price trends in 1970. As might have been expected, he foresaw price increases, due to continuing monetary inflation, taxes, and soaring operation record wage settlements.

However, Dr. Christensen's study revealed far more than the fact that prices are going up. It shows how the fiercely competitive mass retail food distribution system contains a built-in resistance to price increases.

He points out that the inability of food chains in a highly competitive market to pass along costs as fast as they occur has contributed greatly to a four-year industry decline in earnings per dollar of sales. Profit rates for food chains decreased from 14 cents per dollar of sales in 1964-65 to 1.02 cents in 1968—a 28 per cent decline. In fact, the study showed, as nothing else could, what a great protection the consumer has in the free market in the concept of high volume, mass retail distribution. The life of this distribution system hinges upon moving a tremendous flow of goods at minimum prices.

No law can police the marketplace with a shadow of the thoroughness of the self-policing mechanism that is built into the everyday operations of the modern supermarket.

Thus, while rising costs all along the line make higher retail prices inevitable, consumers, as Dr. Christensen's findings make clear, may be certain of the lowest prices possible on any of the thousands of items displayed by local food retailers.

A Deceptive Image

The attorney general of North Carolina has launched an investigation into what he calls an "unfair and deceptive practice."

It seems that some motels in the state are parking decoy automobiles in front of their rooms to give the impression to passing motorists that they are popular and have customers for the night.

This is as dastardly a deception perpetrated on the traveling public as would be the parking of decoy trucks in front of a roadside restaurant to take advantage of the common motorist's simple faith that any place that has trucks parked at it must serve the best meals.

The smart person will not be taken in by such subtle subterfuges, however, but will continue to stop only at those hosteries whose billboards advertise that "Everybody stays at the... Motel," and eat only in those establishments where the sign plainly says, "Good Food."

Now, How About This?

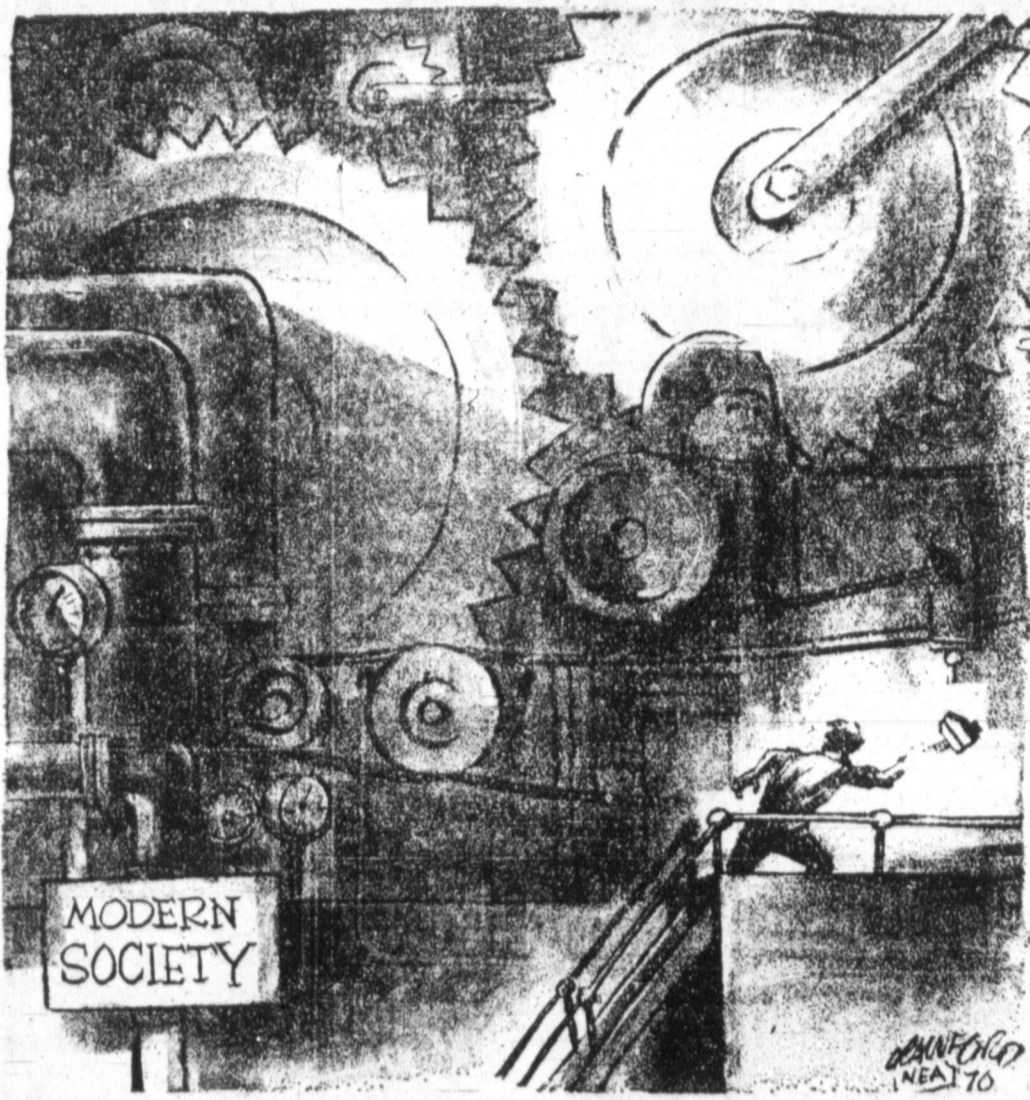

According to the West Texas Utilities Company, "There is a land where there are no income taxes, no property taxes, no sales taxes and no taxes of any kind, and the per capita income of the people is $6,000 a year—about double that of the U.S. All medical expenses are paid for all citizens by the state and there is a hospital bed for every 10 persons—the highest ratio in the world. The government pays all education costs including lunch, transportation and clothing. A $200 bonus goes to each passing student. If you are in the upper 80 percent of your high school class, you may enroll in any university in the world all expenses paid, with about double that of the U.S. $3,160 a year pocket money and other bonuses for good grades. Where is it? It stretches for 100 miles along the northern shore of the Persian gulf and it is the oil-rich little Arab nation of Kuwait. But who wants to go to Kuwait?"

Persons with criminal intent and a specific target in mind do not have to rely on a newspaper to tip them off on something that already has happened. They know about it long before the police and newspaper reporters come into the picture.

"I have taken this paper for 15 years and thoroughly enjoy it until something like this is carried too far," our reader concludes. She reluctantly signed the letter, but said she purposely was not giving her address. The News respects the lady's right to protest, but hopes she will drop by for further friendly discussion of the subject with the editor.

PAMPA HAS an active group of Alcoholics Anonymous. Currently there are between 15 and 20 members who attend regular meetings.

Dr. John L. Norris, non-alcoholic chairman of the board of trustees of Alcoholics Anonymous, mentions the Pampa chapter in his annual report just released from New York City.

Dr. Norris reports that the increasing number of A.A. groups throughout the world reflects a growing recognition of alcoholism as a major disease, coupled with a greater willingness on the part of its victims to seek help.

The total of A.A. groups throughout the world has increased about 1,000 since last year to a present total of 16,000. They currently have a membership of 475,000 men and women in 92 countries, compared to 425,000 in 1969.

The membership of A.A. is a fellowship of men and women who maintain their own sobriety by helping other alcoholics to recover. The Pampa group is comprised of former alcoholics working with alcoholics they hope to rehabilitate. The group is self-supporting and self-governing. They share experience with each other through the General Service office in New York.

The annual report shows that 10,637 A.A. groups, about two-thirds of the world-wide total, are located in the United States and Canada.

Alcoholics Anonymous stands ready to help any alcoholic who has the desire to be helped.

A LETTER from a Daily News subscriber sets forth her opinion that the newspaper goes into too much detail in reporting police news.

"I don't know who writes the articles about the police happenings," she writes, "but I don't believe they need be so detailed, such as addresses, etc.; it's no wonder their (the police) lives aren't worth a plugged nickel as the saying goes."

She then points out recent stories about the Pampa policeman whose home was the target for a couple of molotov cocktails. In reporting the story next day, The News published the street address of the policeman involved. Certainly that was not a tip-off to the would-be arsonists. They are bound to have known his address before they read it in the newspaper many hours after the incident occurred.

Persons with criminal intent and a specific target in mind do not have to rely on a newspaper to tip them off on something that already has happened. They know about it long before the police and newspaper reporters come into the picture.

"I have taken this paper for 15 years and thoroughly enjoy it until something like this is carried too far," our reader concludes. She reluctantly signed the letter, but said she purposely was not giving her address. The News respects the lady's right to protest, but hopes she will drop by for further friendly discussion of the subject with the editor.

Shingles, Chicken Pox
Caused by Same Virus

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have contracted the "shingles" and am in terrible pain. Would you please tell me what to do and how long it will last?

Dear Reader — "Shingles" are caused by the same virus that causes chicken pox. Characteristically, "shingles" or herpes zoster occurs in adults, although it can occur in children.

In most cases, the adult has previously had chicken pox. The virus may remain in a dormant state for years and then become active.

Usually a nerve root is involved. The inflamed skin is over the area where the nerve is located. The most common location is along the curvature of a rib. A nerve follows the course of the rib from the spine, halfway around the chest. The band of pain may exist for several days before any changes in the skin are noted. In this time interval the doctor often has trouble discovering the cause of the severe pain. Then a rash, such as that seen in chicken pox, occurs along the rib.

The period of acute pain usually lasts 10 to 21 days, but the area may be sore for some time thereafter.

Unfortunately, there is nothing that can be given to eliminate the condition except medicine to relieve pain, so the disease usually runs its course. Pain medicine and tincture of time are all that can be offered. If the skin gets infected, the infection has to be treated.

Dear Dr. Lamb — I am 62 years old. Recently when I urinate I notice that I am passing blood. I have had prostatitis in the past and I have passed stones. I do not have any pain or hurt any place. Could it be cancer of the kidneys or prostate gland?

Dear Reader — Yes, it could. If it is painless bleeding it is probably not stones. The only way you can find out the cause is from a complete examination. It is likely that the doctor will need to look into your bladder or do other studies to locate the source of the bleeding and its cause.

Don't wait. See your doctor right away since blood in the urine, particularly without pain, can be caused by cancer and, if that is the cause, the earlier you receive treatment the better. Regardless of the cause, you need treatment.

Please send your questions and comments to Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Lamb cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

RUSSIAN DIPLOMATIC EFFORTS

Pravda, the daily newspaper that serves as the mouthpiece of the Kremlin, has hinted that Japan is looking to Moscow for some kind of treaty that would improve Nippon-Soviet relations. The assertions come on the heels of the West German deal with Russia.

The newspaper's statement may be a trial balloon to get some reaction from Tokyo. It is to be hoped that the Japanese will ignore the bait. The Japanese are still bitter about the last minute entry of the Russians into the Pacific war in 1945. The Tokyo government has been vehement in pressing for the return of small islands close to Japan but Moscow says the issue is long since settled.

The history of Russian treaties with other nations is a sordid one. That includes a friendship pact the Soviet has with the Japanese when the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis existed prior to and during most of World War II. It was a cut-throat arrangement that was based on the premise of land-grabbing.

The post-war work of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his staff paved the way for Japan to regain her place in the council of world powers and enjoy peaceful relations that helped spur her great economic boom. Adhesion to any kind of diplomatic and trade arrangement with the Communists could lead to trouble for Japan whose strength is counted on to fill the void left as Great Britain and the United States withdraw. The build-up of Russian might in the Middle East already has unhinged the balance of power there and a Russo-Japanese deal might loose Communist power in the Pacific, thus creating a potentially dangerous pincers movement on the Western hemisphere.

By INJUN WOODY

Every year, nowadays, it takes about two months for the Sexologists to get rolling. Two months before they really get unleased with the propaganda they have been working on all summer in preparation for the first ring of the bell denoting that schools have opened.

Then they hit again. In schools where the smut programmes are already pushed in, they work on expansion, spreading their tentacles into every classroom, regardless of subject. In Math, I plus I makes 1, unless it happens to be twins...

Why are these Sex educators so anxious to cover the earth simply this, it is big business, and dirty business at that. The "make your own decision" advocates in regards to sixth graders have no more concern for your kiddos than do the dope pushers.

Many parents are being hoodwinked by the propaganda, however, that it is good for the kids to know "all about sex." Too many take the attitude — "they might as well learn it now and get it over with."

Unfortunately, most educators today feel there should be no more periods of childhood, that children should begin applying themselves, at the age of two or three, to the vicissitudes of life.

When I was a boy, a kid might be asked — "What do you want to be when you grow up?" If he truthfully answered, "I don't know," then that was the end of it.

Today, if he answers in the same way the parents say, "Well, you'd better be finding out, boy. You're already eight years old and there isn't much time left!"

It is shameful and wrong that these forces are working together to eliminate "childhood" that fantasy-filled period of life that is most wonderful of all...

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

That Overflow of Sewage!

By PAUL HARVEY

The Presidential Commission on Obscenity and Pornography tried to say everything, please everybody, that pornography does not cause sex crimes except that maybe an increase in rape parallels an increase in published erotica.

That maybe there should be some state laws to prevent public display of dirty pictures where children can see them but no legal ban on anything written.

No wonder Junior sometimes spits on our generation; we do. Frankly, I don't give a hoot what those Manhattanites show in their Times Square theaters, but I sure hate to see New York's sewers overflow the streets of Sioux Falls and Ponca City and Fayetteville.

Recently you and I have watched a gallant handful of mayors — like Sensenbrenner in Columbus, Ohio — try to prevent the local performance of what used to be called stag shows.

And the merchants of this stuff — who are going around the country trying to sell you a peek at these poor, stupid, naked would-be actors — are protesting that if you don't like it there's something wrong with you.

They insist that the human body and its natural functions are entirely beautiful. Well, they can turn their boudoirs into a barnyard if they want to, but — as I say — it bugs me to see them track filth into our bedrooms in Salinas and Salina, in San Angelo and Tupelo and Pampa.

But that's what happens when magazine publishers, home-based in Manhattan, promote the local theater nationwide?

And some mostly nice people in Waxahatchie — who would never buy dirty pictures from a porno peddler in a back alley — come to assume that what's been shown on the New York stage can't be "that bad."

And why must we be so backward — why can't we have up-to-date shows in Waxahatchie
