

Kidnaped British Diplomat Freed; Abductors In Cuba

MONTREAL (UPI) — British Trade Commissioner James L. Cross, who spent 60 days as a hostage of the terrorist French separatists and one more in the custody of the Cuban government on a windswept island in the St. Lawrence River, was freed early today. He said he would go home to England. Halfway around the world, his wife toasted his sudden and unexpected freedom by drinking a bottle of champagne. "It is the greatest Christmas gift I could have hoped for," She said. "I am very happy to come back to the world," Cross said simply. "There were times in the past eight weeks when I had almost given up hope." Kept in Sunless Room Cross was released by the Cuban consul about 2:30 a.m. EST. after a plane with three of his Quebec Liberation Front (FLO) kidnapers and four members of their families landed at Havana airport, where the Cuban government gave them exile. Canada said they could never come home. Cross, 49, was taken to Jewish General Hospital in 90 minutes after the plane touched down. Police said he apparently had not been getting the pills he needed for his heart condition while he was captive, but that he did not appear the worse for it.

Given up for dead by many who had watched closely the drama of his abduction and the FLQ's almost unceasing communique listing demands that must be met for his freedom.

Congress May Enact Cambodia Bill

SST Project Grounded But Supporters Will Keep Program Alive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Opponents of the supersonic transport (SST) claimed today the 1,800-mile-per-hour jetliner, which they have termed an "environmental and economic disaster," has been grounded for the time being. But the plane's backers are not giving up. Foes of the faster-than-sound plane were jubilant Thursday after the Senate, by an unexpectedly large 52-41 margin, decided to stop government financing of the project. But the Nixon administration served notice it would try to revive the project. The next chance would come when House and Senate representatives get together later this month to iron out differences in legislation from which $290 million in development funds for the plane were struck by the Senate. However, Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., said he would move that the House instruct its representatives to go along with the Senate amendment. SST opponents predicted the move would be successful. Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., a prime SST backer, said moves to turn back the Senate action "will be an uphill fight, but perhaps we can work something out to at least keep the program alive." Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said the administration "most assuredly" would seek a reversal when the House-Senate conference committee meets to consider compromises. The White House said President Nixon still favors the project and feels "the United States should not fall behind in any aspect of aviation." Congress already has appropriated nearly $700 million toward the $1.3 billion cost of building prototypes to put the plane into the air.

Backers said the government would get its money back when the plane became a commercial success and said the development was needed to maintain the U.S. position in civil aviation. The project was criticized as a jet set toy whose noise would harm the environment and whose money could be better spent on other domestic needs.

Critics Vow To Remove Douglas From Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional critics of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas vowed today to keep fighting for his removal from the bench, despite a House Judiciary Subcommittee report clearing him of charges that could have led to his impeachment. The subcommittee voted 3 to 1 Thursday, with one member abstaining, to adopt a report stating its eight-month investigation found no grounds for impeaching the 72-year-old justice. Douglas' liberal opinions and off-the-bench activities, including a series of marriages, have long made him a figure of controversy. The principal charges against him were that he associated with gamblers, through his past connections with the Parvin Foundation, which has been accused of involvement with Las Vegas gambling; that he advocated revolution in his book "Points of Rebellion"; and that in effect he wrote for an allegedly pornographic magazine in allowing excerpts from the book to be reprinted in the Evergreen Review.

Pampa Police Check Second Bomb Threat

Pampa police this morning received the second telephone bomb threat within two days. It came at 7:09 a.m. when a woman's voice advised that "a bomb was going to go off" in the Marie Foundations factory, 800 W. Kingsmill. Assistant police chief George Wallace said the woman hung up before he could ask any questions. No time was given, he said. Wallace, along with Officers O'Dell, Stafford and Ryzman, left immediately for the plant. It was found to be locked with no signs anywhere of a forcible entry. A thorough search of the building failed to reveal any signs or trace of an explosive device, Wallace said. Employees reported for work as usual and there were no disruptions on the production lines.

$25,000 Income Add To Auditorium Fund

An additional $25,000 income has been deposited to the city's account for Pampa's civic auditorium by the M. K. Brown Foundation. William Jarrel Smith, Foundation secretary, notified Mayor Milo Carlson and city commissioners the $25,000 "is dedicated to the retirement of bonds in connection with the municipal auditorium in accordance with an agreement between the city and Foundation."

Dale Greenhouse, plant manager, told police he could think of no incident that would cause an employe or former employe to take such action. A telephone report at 7:35 a.m. yesterday informed police a bomb was set to go off in Pampa High School at 9:35 a.m. Nothing came of the threat and police and school officials attributed it as an attempt to clear the school for a scheduled walkout of some students to protest the School Board's dress code.

Communist China Ignores Pope's Visit To Hongkong

HONG KONG (UPI) — Pope Paul VI, carefully steering clear of politics, expressed his love today for all Chinese—including those behind the Bamboo Curtain. Communist China kept a stony silence. The Pope, homeward bound on his voyage to Asia and the Pacific, stopped over in Hong Kong for about three hours to celebrate Mass in the Sports Stadium. He left for Colombo, Ceylon, before returning to Rome to end the 29,000-mile trip—by far the longest of his nine journeys outside Italy. The pontiff's speech was approved in advance by nervous Hong Kong authorities, who had refused visas to Nationalist Chinese Roman Catholic officials so there could be no political interpretation of Pope Paul's visit. Hong Kong, a British crown colony, sits on the edge of Communist China. Pope Paul did not mention Communist China specifically, but referred simply to China and the Chinese—apparently

Vietcong Attack Allied Positions On Three Fronts

PHNOM PENH (UPI) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops attacked allied positions on three fronts along the South Vietnamese border Thursday night but artillery and air strikes broke up the assaults. The Cambodian command said a 200-man North Vietnamese and Viet Cong force attacked Cambodian positions at Irivong, 69 miles southeast of the capital, and a lesser Communist unit attacked Cambodian troops at Kompong Trach, 70 miles to the southeast. No casualty reports were available. South Vietnamese spokesmen said government rangers killed 12 Viet Cong in heavy fighting near Krek, 75 miles east of Phnom Penh and eight miles from the South Vietnamese border. Two South Vietnamese were killed and four wounded. The U.S. command said an Army UH1 Huey helicopter was shot down Thursday 245 miles northeast of Saigon, but the crew escaped injury. American spokesmen said Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners carried out 10 shelling attacks overnight in South Vietnam. None was against a U.S. outpost. One of the bombardments killed a Vietnamese child and wounded three other civilians at Phu Thien district town, 220 miles northeast of Saigon, Thursday night. Lt. Col. Am Rong, the official Cambodian military spokesman, said the main area of Communist pressure was between embattled Highways 6 and 7, which fan in spokelike fashion from Phnom Penh to the north and the northeast.

KIWANIS GOVERNOR Dr. Ernest Sturch, Jr., was in Pampa last night on an official visit to Division VI Kiwanis clubs of the Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis International. He is shown here being welcomed by President John Simon, left, of the Top O' Texas club and President D. W. Bond of the Downtown Pampa Kiwanis club.

Kiwanis Governor Pays Pampa Official Visit

Representatives from a score of Kiwanis Clubs in Division VI of the Texas-Oklahoma Kiwanis International district were in Pampa last night to welcome District Governor Dr. Ernest Sturch, Jr., of Durant, Okla., as he paid an official visit to the division. The affair was attended by approximately 150 persons at a dinner in the Pampa Country Club. Delegates came from clubs in Amarillo, Canyon, Hereford, Shamrock, Vega, Wheeler and Wellington. The governor was welcomed to Pampa by Division VI Lt. Gov. Don R. Lane and D. W. Angela Davis, ordered extradited to Calif. NEW YORK (UPI) — Black revolutionary Angela Davis was ordered extradited to California Thursday by the State Supreme Court to face charges of murder and kidnap in a court house shootout last August. Supreme Court Justice Thomas Dickens granted a five-day stay of extradition, however, to give the 26-year-old defendants' attorneys time to appeal to the state Court's Appellate Division. Miss Davis took her extradition to the Supreme Court after it was ordered last month by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Miss Davis, a Communist and former philosophy instructor at the University of California, at Los Angeles was arrested here Oct. 13 on a federal fugitive warrant. She is charged in California with buying weapons for the San Rafael, Calif., shootout but she is not accused of being at the scene.

President Has Power To Save American GIs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Legislation designed to restrict President Nixon's hand in Cambodia — a proposal which deadlocked the Senate for two months last spring — is now moving through Congress without a whisper of opposition. A amendment to bar the introduction of U.S. ground-combat troops into Cambodia was quietly tacked on to a $36.4 billion-defense money bill before it emerged from the Senate Thursday. There was no effort by administration stalwarts on the panel to defeat it and most observers believed it would be enacted without a fight. The measure is similar in content to an amendment sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, that passed the Senate in July 58 to 37 but has been stalled in a Senate-House conference ever since because of White House opposition. The Cooper-Church amendment barred the President from "retaining" ground combat troops in Cambodia. The new amendment added to the defense appropriations bill declares: "In line with the expressed intention of the President of the United States, none of the funds appropriated by this act shall be used to finance the introduction of American ground combat troops in Laos, Thailand or Cambodia." The restriction on Laos and Thailand already was in the bill passed earlier in the year by the House and also was added to last year's defense money bill. The White House comment about the new restriction on Cambodia was from press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who said "the President has clearly stated his intentions regarding Cambodia." White House sources said Nixon already has declared publicly he does not intend to return ground combat troops to Cambodia. Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., a leading administration ally in the Senate, and Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the committee, contended Nixon would still have the power—as commander in chief—to send troops into Cambodia to save American lives. But backers of the Cooper-Church Amendment said this was the very argument they made all summer—that they could not restrict presidential powers, but had the right to assert congressional powers. They contended the effect would be the same: to inhibit the President from any future venture in Cambodia by the use of the congressional control over money.

President Urged To Impose Freeze On Wages, Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic congressional leaders urged President Nixon Thursday to impose an immediate, temporary freeze on wages and prices to bring inflation and unemployment under control. The White House rejected the plan as unworkable. Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, backed by Speaker John W. McCormack and House Democratic Leader Carl Albert, proposed a ban on further wage and price increases for 30 to 60 days. During that time, he said, Nixon should work with industry, organized labor and others to develop guidelines for voluntary restraint that he abandoned when he took office. They also urged a presidential request of Congress for $1 billion in federal grants to finance state and local emergency public works construction. The program, already authorized, would help relieve unemployment that had risen from 2.6 million persons to 4.7 million since Nixon entered the White House, they said. "There is no change in the President's attitude about wage and price controls," said White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler, when informed of the leadership's proposals at a news conference. "We feel the steps we have taken to deal with the need for expansion in the economy are well founded." Congress already has given Nixon unwanted standby authority to impose not only wage-price controls but controls on interest rates and credit.

Egypt Threatens To Resume Firing When Truce Ends

By United Press International Egypt said today it will resume fighting when the current cease-fire expires Feb. 5 unless there are definite moves towards peace. The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said the headline Egyptian message is being taken to President Nixon by Jordan's King Hussein, currently on a six-nation tour to meet with Arab and western leaders. Al Ahram said Egyptian President Anwar Sadat gave the message to Hussein and asked the king to tell Nixon Egypt "is determined to resume fighting after the cease-fire expires in case there was no progress." Egypt has been taking an increasingly hard line on the ceasefire, claiming Israel simply is using it to try to solidify its borders and is avoiding sitting down for negotiations. Egypt also accused Israel of breaking the truce by violating Egyptian air space at the southern tip of the Suez Canal Wednesday and complained to the United Nations. Israel denied the charge.

DEAR ABBY: You be the judge: Recently a young couple got married. They received many beautiful wedding gifts, among them were two identical electric blankets. The mother of the bride offered to buy one of the electric blankets from the newlyweds and they agreed to sell it to her. The deal was made, the blanket was delivered and the money was collected.

Well, when the bride's mother heard about it she called the kids and told them they should get that blanket back, ask the person who had given it to them in the first place if it could be exchanged for something else, and blah, blah, blah. She made a whole big federal case out of it and caused a lot of hard feelings.

If you were the bride, what would you have done about this mess?

DEAR ABBY: I'd have thanked my mother for her suggestion, told her that the deal had been made, to the satisfaction of all parties concerned, and not to sweat the blanket.

DEAR ABBY: I am extremely fond of a young woman and am considering marriage, but something bothers me. Having a meal—just the two of us—in the privacy of her apartment is something of an ordeal because she is terribly strict about table manners. Elbows off the table, knife and fork must be properly placed on the plate when not in use. Hands must be below the table when not eating. No resting the arms or hands on the table while eating, etc., etc.

I would like to dine in a relaxed, comfortable manner without worrying about the rules of etiquette constantly. Be assured, I do not eat like a hog, and my relaxed manner wouldn't offend even the fussiest lady. But what would marriage with such a woman be like?

DEAR EMERALD: Like being nine years old again, and being married to your mother.

DEAR ABBY: After my

NEW YORK (ED)—You're looking a little frazzled, Mrs. Castleton. Is it all that pre-holiday bustle that's getting you down? I guess it would be a chore getting up for 35 people. Course, my sister-in-law Sue Ellen does it every year when the clan gathers at her home for the festivities. But she has four kids under eight, so you might say she's had a lot of battle training!

Last year was really something. The kids got this "epidemic" disease and the grape juice was all over the place—except in their mouths of course. This year she told me she's gonna be a little smarter—serve apple juice, use big placemats, and make everyone under six wear big terrycloth napkin bibs.

So, Sue Ellen tells me that she packed a couple of rotations in her kit, too. "Like what?" I ask her. "I'm not gonna shout at Grandma when she asks the same question six times. I'm gonna keep my eye on Grandma and the egg nog. I'm gonna stop the pretzel-throwing among the kids early on. And I'm gonna keep my temper when Aunt Min—who's never cooked a meal in her life—tells me the fruit cake could be a little moister." I said, "Sue Ellen, your survival kit sounds just dandy. But just to make sure, why not throw in a couple of bottles of aspirin?"

Concerning perhaps the biggest news event of this week the Associated Press reported: "The largest space telescope ever launched failed to reach orbit Monday night when a protective nose cone did not separate from the booster rocket. It ruined an ambitious $98.5 million project which could have unlocked many secrets of the universe."

While the mission of the Church has by no means failed, neither has it been fully successful. Few of its millions of "member" parts around the world, have functioned to their fullest in Christian love, faith, unity, loyalty, compassion and personal witness.

This Christmas season, when Christians everywhere celebrate the birth of the Christchild, let us rededicate our lives to God who so loved us he sent his only Son. Let us work together for the success of his mission to the world begun on that first Christmas day.

Wall Street Chatter NEW YORK (UPI)—The "high catch-up production rates at GM" will mean a gradual pick-up in steel output, according to the Argus Research Corp.

The administration is determined to drive interest rates down, according to Paule, Webber, Jackson & Curtis Inc. The company says "lower interest rates mean higher bond prices (and) those who've been bullish on bonds have been right."

"Time is running out on the bears," the Dines Letter warns. The letter says "August and September witnessed the kind of buying orgy frequently found before crashes."

"What is bad for the country may this time be good for the stock market," Hopping, Watson & Co. says. The company says a portion of the money being pumped by the Fed will "find its way into speculative channels."

Shockers Play Hereford After Downing Elk City

They never say die Pampa Shockers opened the 16th Annual Top-O-Texas Basketball Tournament Thursday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. with a third overtime defeat of the Elk City Elks 74-66.

The Shockers playing a full court press throughout the game followed the fantastic performance of Freddie Wilbon. Wilbon shot a total of 29 points in the conflict.

Most of these came in the third overtime period. Second High man for the Shockers was Steve Richardson with 17 points, five of which came on free throws.

The Shockers opened the game with two scores in the first quarter. The Elks led under the scoring of Roger Davis 13 to 4 going into the second.

In the second quarter the Shockers were trailing with Don Proctor nitting constantly from the outside for the Elks. At Halftime the score read 29 to 25 in favor of the Elks. Elk City continued to stretch their margin in the third. The Shockers playing true to Shocker form came back in the fourth and tied the score 56 to 56.

The game went into its first overtime, which ended 60-60. The Elks took the margin and went ahead 66-63 in the second overtime but a timely foul by an Elk narrowed the gap to a two point margin. Wilbon hit the free throw. The Shockers pulled down another field goal in the closing seconds forcing the game into its third overtime at 66 to 66.

The Elks didn't manage to hit the elusive hoop as the Shockers pulled away in the final moments of the game with a 74 to 66 win going down on the scorebooks.

The Shockers meet the Hereford Whitefaces today at noon in Harvester Fieldhouse. The winner of this game will square off against the Dumas Demons.

The Pampa Harvesters defeated the Demons earlier this week and played five Shockers in that meeting. A strong team from Dumas may move into the finals Saturday afternoon.

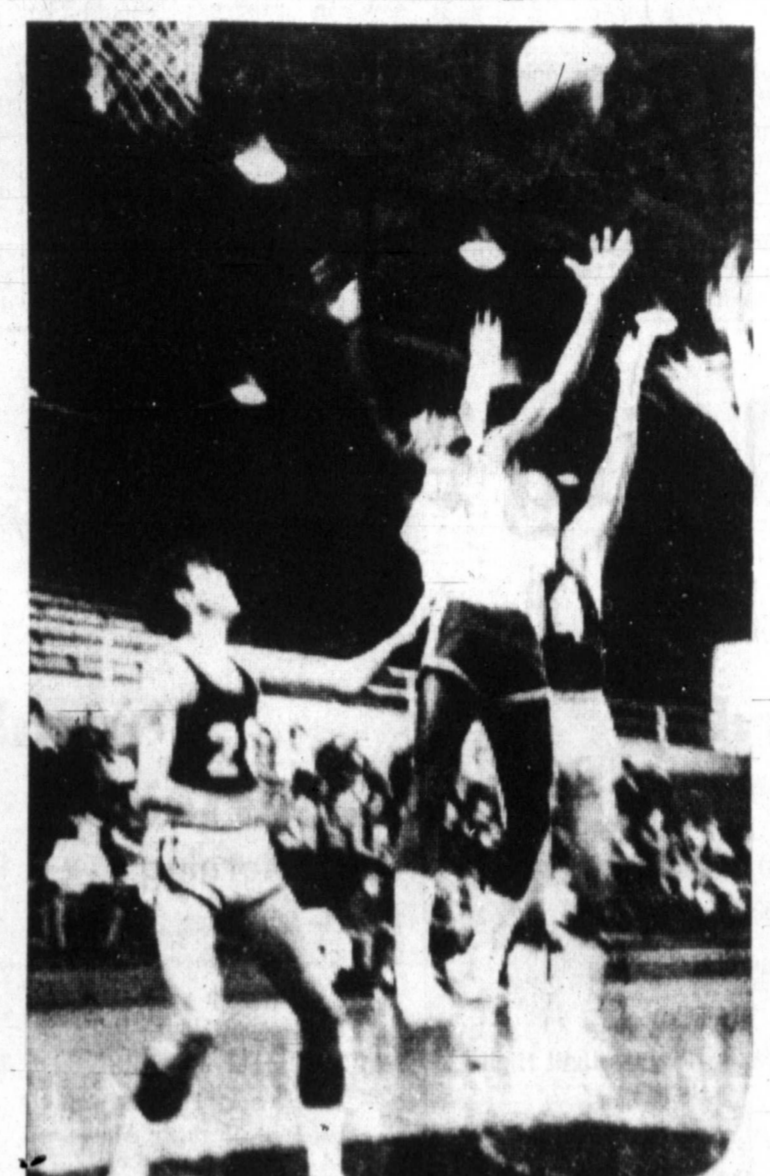

Dumas defeated Wichita Falls 76 to 60 in a 5:30 game Thursday afternoon.

The Pampa Daily News PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd YEAR Friday, December 4, 1959 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 9

TOP-O-Texas TOURNAMENT ACTION included an opening 74-66 win by the hustling Pampa Shockers. Shown here is Freddie Wilbon going after a rebound watched by an unidentified Elk City player. The Harvesters, Pampa's Varsity Squad, had a win on their record against Woodward in a 91-52 decision.

Backus Is Back As Welterweight Champ

Billy Backus is the world welterweight champion today. He sliced open a gash over Mexican Jose Napoles' left eye to win the title with a gory fourth-round technical knockout Thursday night.

But in 90 days, Napoles will have his chance to win it back, and the rematch will be in his backyard, Los Angeles, instead of Syracuse, Backus' home town.

"I'll fight Napoles again in 90 days," the elated Backus said in his dressing room after the remarkable upset. "The contract is already signed."

Napoles Started Fast "When we fight again I expect him to be better. After all, he'll be a former champion and know what it means to lose the title. That'll make him try that much harder."

Napoles was so heavily favored for his fourth defense of the title he won last year that the odds makers were unwilling to take bets. In the first round, Napoles, 30, appeared to be living up to his reputation, easily parrying the awkward lunges at Backus.

However, Backus' uncle, former welter and middleweight champ Carmen Basilio, had some advice at the end of the round that paid off.

Advice Helped Backus "He told me to stay to my right," Backus, 27, said. "As soon as I did, I started hitting him and Napoles started missing."

In the second and third rounds, Backus bullied inside, forcing Napoles into a brawl the champion should have avoided. By the end of the second round, Backus right eye was swelling, with a small nick underneath, and Napoles had a cut beside his right eye.

"I thought maybe I might get stopped because of the cut," Backus admitted, "but they told me it was beside my eye and wouldn't bother me."

Physician Steps In With a minute left in the third round, Backus opened the cut over Napoles' left eye into a gash that required seven stitches, and virtually won the fight. Napoles' face was crimson with blood and his cornermen worked feverishly to repair the damage. They covered his face with a towel to conceal it from the ringside physician.

Twenty Players May Return From Last Year's Texas-Arkansas Duel

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Assuming that Texas fullback Steve Worster starts in this Saturday's Longhorn-Razorback game, and assuming that fast-healing Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett does too, there will be 20 players in the opening lineups who also started last year's epic struggle.

Arkansas will have five offensive starters back from last year's Texas game and six defensive starters. There will be five offensive starters for the Longhorns making their second straight appearance against Arkansas and four on the defensive unit.

For the Razorbacks split end Chuck Dieus, tackle Mike Kelson, tight end Pat Morrison, quarterback Bill Montgomery and probably Burnett will be starting once again.

Harvesters Win

The hustling Pampa Harvesters soundly defeated the Woodward Boomers 91 to 52 in their first game in the 16th Annual Top-O-Texas Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The Harvesters in their highest scoring game of the season had four players in the double figure bracket. Leading the Harvesters with 18 points was Donnie Cain, 6'4" junior, hitting seven field goals and four free throws.

The other three double figure marksmen at 16 points apiece were Mike Jordan, (6'1" senior), Mike Edgar, (6'5" junior) and Marsh Gamblin (6'0" junior).

Cain's highest quarter came in the third when he sank 12 points. The Harvesters jumped to an early lead after overcoming a six point outburst by the Woodward team. The first quarter ended with Pampa on top 16 to 11. They never lost the lead in the remainder of the game.

In the second period the Harvesters hit an all time high of 36 points. The half ended with the home team on top 52 to 29.

Mosier the high point man for the Boomers had 12 points, all on field goals. Meadows followed with seven and Wilson and Quiller had six, for the visiting team.

The Harvesters will meet Burk Burnett, today at 3:30 in Harvester fieldhouse in the semi-finals of the Top-O-Texas Tourney.

Burk Burnett downed the Perryton Rangers in a 9:00 a.m. game Thursday 67 to 49. The Rangers will now meet Woodward at 9:00 tonight for the consolation bracket. Wichita Falls after losing a 76 to 60 cage decision to Dumas will meet the winner of the Elk City-Canyon bout to be held at 1:45 today.

LSU's Football Motto Is Don't Let Them Score Any Touchdowns

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—There's a motto down in the dressing room of the Louisiana State University football team—don't let them score touchdowns.

The players don't run onto the field like so many crazed devils the way the famed "Chinese Bandits" did a decade ago, but some folks think they do a better job overall. And the way head Coach Charles McClendon sees it, that's what the game is all about.

"Your offensive team can complement your defense by controlling the football, but you win football games actually on defense," said McClendon. "We try to avoid losing a game and then try to win it."

McClendon should know. LSU ranked eighth in the nation, has made a specialty of defense for two years, leading the nation both years in rushing defense and ranking in the top 10 in scoring defense.

Bowl Bound This year, LSU has limited opponents to an average of 51.2 yards a game on the ground and is third in the nation in scoring defense, holding opponents to 7.9 points a game. The Tigers have an 8-2 record going into Saturday night's game with the University of Mississippi for the Southeastern Conference title. If LSU wins, it will face third ranked Nebraska in the Orange Bowl.

One of those losses was a 3-0 heartbreaker to sixth ranked Notre Dame two weeks ago, one of the top offensive teams in the nation. LSU held the fighting Irish to 78 yards rushing, less than one fourth their previous average.

This week, two of LSU's defensive players were named to UPI's all-America team — linebacker Mike Anderson and the first team and cornerback Tommy Casanova to the second team.

Games like that and honors like these provide the spark in the LSU defense, the desire to keep the defensive momentum going and something for McClendon to use in recruiting during the off season.

"Anything you excel in, this is where the pride develops. You don't develop pride in being an average type football team," he said. "I think we've had this throughout the years. They (the players) have seen LSU play, they've heard about our defense and they want to be part of it."

LSU started specializing in defense back in 1958 with a specialized unit dubbed the "Chinese Bandits." The defensive coach was none other than McClendon.

The bandits were more or less the forerunner of special units in college football, concentrating on defense in an era of playing both offense and defense.

They didn't look any different from the rest of the team—same gold pants and white jerseys, same gold helmets—but when they came onto the field it was like Mardi Gras itself. Somebody wrote a song about them and one local restaurateur even cashied in on the enthusiasm by selling coolie hats.

Mean Bandits That first year in 1958, the Bandits held opponents to 53 points en route to a 10-0 record and the national championship. The next year, the Bandits held opponents to a total of 21 points and shut out five teams enroute to a 9-1 season.

The Bandits were disbanded after McClendon moved up to head coach in 1962, primarily because the NCAA tightened up its rules on substitution, blocking platoon football. But the pride LSU has in its defense is still around.

"I guess in the locker room the biggest word is pride itself," said McClendon. "I think emotions are involved defensively more than anything else and also a sense of pride in people not scoring."

Soccer Finals To Be Played Sat.

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Defending NCAA soccer champion St. Louis University will try for its eighth title in 12 years Saturday against the Bruins of UCLA.

The Billkens, ranked No. 1 in the nation and unbeaten in their last 29 games, edged Hartwick College, 1-0, in semifinal play Thursday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

UCLA moved into the final playoff with a 4-3 win over Howard University in a game

Major Hoople Favors Texas In Cotton Bowl Engagement

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE Peerless Prognosticator

Egad, friends, the schedule makers have prepared a fitting climax for the regular 1970 pigskin season — har-rumph!!!

Spotlighting the slim but potent card is the Southwest Conference clash between undefeated Texas, the nation's Number 1 eleven, and powerful Arkansas. Just a smidgen behind — half-kaff — in popular interest is the annual battle featuring Louisiana State and Mississippi. Another high spot for the fans will be the 44th renewal of the Arizona State and Arizona classic.

We've programmed all available data on this week's contestants through the Hoople Computer and here is how we are calling 'em!

Texas (9-0) vs. Arkansas (9-1). The Longhorns, unbeaten in their last 29 games and aiming for a return engagement with Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl, had best keep their sights on rugged Arkansas on Saturday. In a thrilling, down-to-the-wire finish, we see Texas rallying for a 21-13 triumph.

Arizona St. (9-0) vs. Arizona (4-5). The classy Arizona State Sun Devils, headed for the Peach Bowl, will put the finishing touches to a glorious unbeaten season. This, too, will be a bruising struggle as these archrivals throw the record book to the winds. Make it Arizona State 28, Arizona 17.

LSU (8-2) vs. Mississippi (7-2). It's a do-or-die situation for the LSU Tigers, who must win to satisfy the Orange Bowl Committee. For Ole Miss, already chosen to play in the Gator Bowl, it's a grand opportunity to move up in the national ratings. In perhaps the finest clash of the day, we give LSU a 17-14 edge.

Tennessee (9-1) vs. UCLA (6-4). A funny thing is about to happen to Tennessee on its way to the Sugar Bowl to meet the Air Force. Coming to pay a visit to the Volunteers' home field are the dangerous UCLA Bruins, who lost to Texas Stanford and Oregon by a total of only SIX points. The Volunteers' eleven will put up its usual fine performance but to no avail. The final score, UCLA 33, Tennessee 22.

Houston (7-3) vs. Miami (Fla.) (2-8). The Cougars of Bill Yeoman are finally moving in high gear and should polish off the Miami Hurricanes with a resounding 55-20 count.

Tulsa (5-4) vs. No. Texas St. (3-7). It's been a rough year for these great competitors and they'll be out to improve disappointing records. Our calculations point to a Tulsa triumph, 25-12.

There you have it, dear readers, and remember you read it first in The Hoople Football Forecast — um-kumph!

Watch for my next column, when we'll review the bowl participants.

Inside Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although East-West tensions have eased somewhat with the passage of time, at least one major point of friction remains.

I refer to the awarding of western literary prizes to Soviet authors.

Last week, for example, the East Germans began harassing traffic on the autobahns between West Germany and Berlin. Ostensibly, the slowdown was imposed in protest against a scheduled meeting of the West German Christian Democratic Union in Berlin.

Actually, however, there is good reason to believe the traffic jam was a retaliation against the awarding of the Nobel Prize to Soviet novelist Alexander Solzhenitsyn.

Examination of East-West relations over the past two decades reveals a distinct pattern in that regard.

Recall what happened after Soviet novelist Boris Pasternak won the Nobel Prize in 1958. Soviet authorities forced poor Boris to reject it. Then came a series of incidents that eventually led to the confrontation over Cuban missile bases.

I fear something of that sort may occur again now that Solzhenitsyn has won the Nobel.

The main danger, as I see it, is that the Communists will beyond traditional interference with autobahn traffic into more drastic retaliatory measures.

This time they may strike back by awarding Soviet prizes to prominent westerners.

Just this week, Life magazine quoted Nikita Khrushchev as reporting that Joseph Stalin admired Dwight Eisenhower.

That could be the first step in an escalation of plaudits.

Just Suppose ...

Now suppose the Lenin Prize for distinguished motion picture performances were awarded to John Wayne. And suppose the winner of the annual Karl Marx Peace Prize turned out to be J. Edgar Hoover.

Do you think for one minute that the United States would stand idly by and let these awards go unchallenged. Fat chance.

You can bet that the American Legion and the Daughters of the American Revolution would then bestow a joint "Americanism" award on Soviet leader Brezhnev.

Meanwhile, both countries would begin bolstering their Mediterranean fleets and accelerating the development of multi-headed missiles.

To avoid such a risk, the strategic arms limitation talks now in progress should be expanded to include laudatory restrictions. With a clause freezing autobahn traffic jams at current levels.

Public Urged To Mail Early

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Postmaster General Winton M. Blount has urged Americans to mail Christmas cards and parcels immediately in case of a nationwide railroad strike next week.

Blount said he was hopeful there would be no strike, but "would be remiss if I did not strongly urge mailers to deposit out-of-town Christmas cards and packages immediately to insure that the mail-strike, if one occurs, does not prevent delivery by Christmas Day."

Washington Window

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Who is poor in the United States? Are the poor those who haven't got the money to buy enough food to survive? Or are they the people who have the least money compared to the rest of the population?

The answer is of some interest because the nation is making dramatic progress toward ending poverty defined on the basis of a minimum human diet. But it seems to be moving far less quickly toward closing the gap between the rich and the poor.

Since 1964, the government has used a food-yardstick to measure poverty. It is based on the assumption that anyone who must spend more than one-third of total income to buy a subsistence diet is poor. By 1969, with price adjustments, a city family of four needed $3,553 to be considered officially non-poor.

Under this definition, the number of Americans living in poverty declined from 39.5 million in 1960 to 24.5 million in 1968. Most politicians love those figures, because they obviously indicate that the problem of poverty is on the way to solution.

There are some, however, who say the government has been far too easy on itself in defining the problem.

The National Welfare Rights Organization, for example, bases its estimate of the minimum income needed for the necessities of life on a Labor Department calculation called the "lower standard budget." In 1969, that showed a family of four needed $5,500, not counting medical care.

Anthony Downs, a leading private expert, points out in a new study of urban poverty for the Committee for Economic Development that the Labor Department also provides a definition of a "moderate" standard of living. In 1963 prices, that came to $9,361 for the urban family of four.

Downs does not suggest that the "moderate" standard replace the official "poverty threshold," but comments that the nearly three-to-one differential between them shows that the government's definition of poor is "extremely low."

Without giving figures he notes that a definition of poverty based on housing rather than food costs, done by his own firm for the government in 1968, resulted in "much higher" minimums.

Mortol Isler, in a housing study for the Urban Institute, set $130 a month as a reasonable rental outlay for a family of four, and noted that would represent 41 per cent of total income at the poverty threshold and leave less than $11 per week for food, clothing, medical care, transportation and all other costs.

Another group of critics believes that the whole approach to defining poverty is weak. These analysts are interested in income distribution throughout the population and classify as poor those whose incomes are in the lowest 20 per cent of the national ranking.

Soviet Brands Would-Be Defector As 'Criminal'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union has branded as a "criminal" a sailor who sought asylum aboard a U.S. Coast Guard cutter only to be returned by a Russian crew that was allowed to go aboard the cutter and search him out.

The Soviet Embassy issued a statement denouncing what it said was an attempt "to present as a martyr the criminal who tried to escape responsibility" for stealing money from the captain's safe on a Russian fishing vessel.

President Nixon was quoted as describing as outrageous the U.S. handling of the affair, and said a repetition would not be tolerated.

The Russian statement was issued prior to a scheduled hearing this afternoon by a House subcommittee on the episode. The rejection of the attempted defector's asylum request and the action allowing a group of Russians to come aboard the cutter to forcibly capture the man, identified as Simas Kudirka, about 35, has been strongly criticized inside and outside Congress.

Civilian witnesses to the incident said Coast Guard crewmen were told not to interfere as the Russian party was allowed aboard the cutter Vigilant to capture Kudirka. The witnesses said Kudirka, who they said had pleaded for asylum, fought his captors and at one time broke away. They said the Russians were permitted to search the ship and said he was beaten into submission after he was found.

The Coast Guard said the captain of the Russian ship, where Kudirka was reported to be a radioman, alleged that the man had stolen $2,000.

U.S. Objects To Forcible Return Of Russian Sailor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department announced today a protest to the Soviet Union and what amounted to an indictment of the U.S. Coast Guard over the attempted defection to the United States of a crewman of a Russian ship.

The department disclosed that a Russian Embassy representative was summoned Wednesday to receive a protest over forcible return of the would-be defector who had sought asylum on a Coast Guard cutter last week.

The State Department said that allegations that the sailor was a thief "should have been handled through the U.S. judicial system" — after the man was given at least temporary asylum.

This was an indirect attack on the Coast Guard for allowing a band of Russian seamen to come aboard and take the man back.

The announcement followed a Soviet Embassy statement characterizing the seaman as a criminal who had stolen money from his captain's safe. The White House at the same time announced steps already had been taken.

FACING FUND DEFICIT

University Of Texas May Ask Solons To Double Tuition For Out-Of-State Students

AUSTIN (UPI)—University of Texas regents—anticipating a tough fight for funds in the 62nd legislature—are considering urging lawmakers to double tuition for out-of-state students.

Such a move, in addition to raising more money, might blunt legislators' criticism over campus unrest since many of the lawmakers—rightly or wrongly—believe student agitators are imports.

John Peace of San Antonio and other members of the nine-man regents board over University of Texas system schools have indicated they are giving serious thought to the proposal. Peace said the matter probably will be discussed at a board meeting Friday.

Regents chairman Frank C. Erwin Jr. of Austin has advocated hiking tuition for all students for several years.

But Peace said he does not believe the regents will recommend tuition hikes for Texas residents.

Among Nation's Lowest Tuition and fees at Texas state-supported schools are among the lowest in the nation. As a result many students from other states come to Texas to go to school for less than they would pay as residents in their own state schools.

"I think there's no way for the board to justify the subsidy that Texas taxpayers pay for these out-of-state students," regent Joe M. Kilgore of Austin said. Kilgore said he still hasn't made up his mind on the matter but "there is a great deal of equity in the proposal to somehow or other relate out-of-state students' tuition to something akin to tuition schools in those states charge."

A number of legislators have proposed setting out-of-state student tuition on the basis of Texas students.

Present Fees Listed At present, tuition at Texas colleges and universities is $50 per semester or $100 per year for Texas residents and $200 per semester or $400 per year for nonresidents.

The State College Coordinating Board has recommended hiking the tuition to $125 a semester or $1,000 a year for non residents at senior colleges.

The coordinating board's numerous tuition increase proposals have gone unheeded by legislators in recent years. But the lawmakers will be facing a financial crisis and what many predict will be a record tax bill next year and may find it more palatable to have students shoulder a larger share of the cost of their education.

Peace said "normal academic instruction" for one student costs about $1,500 a year.

More Next Year Regardless of the outcome on the tuition increase proposal, students at most Texas schools will have to pay more next year.

The University of Texas regents are slated to vote Friday on a staff recommendation to hike building use fees at the Austin Arlington and El Paso campuses to $50 a semester or $70 per year.

Legislators have empowered the various college boards to set "reasonable" fees to raise money for buildings and equipment. There is no ceiling and the charges range from a low of $8 a year at Tarleton State to $70 a year at the University of Texas and North Texas State.

Coordinating board officials report several other colleges contemplate raising their fees next year.

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by: The headliners: Bill Russell, ex-basketball great of the Boston Celtics, has a provocative group of guests when he fills in for vacationing Dick Cavett Friday as host of ABC-TV's late-night show. On hand will be Jim Plunkett, football's Heisman Trophy winner and quarterback of the Rose Bowl-bound Stanford team; Sen. George McGovern, sometimes mentioned as a presidential candidate, and Harry Reasoner, who takes over Monday as coanchorman of ABC's evening newscasts after leaving CBS.

Marcello Mastroianni is a guest Tuesday when noted screenwriter Buck Henry begins four nights of substituting for Cavett. Henry, who wrote the scripts for "The Graduate," "Catch 22" and "The Owl and the Pussycat" (the film version), as well as teaming up with Mel Brooks to create television's "Get Smart," will host the show Dec. 11, with a visit from the executive director of the President's Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, Dr. William Cody Wilson.

Walter J. Hickel, recently fired as Secretary of the Interior, is interviewed Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation." Roman Gabriel, quarterback of the Los Angeles Rams, is featured as a police lieutenant on the Dec. 31 episode of NBC's "Ironside," which concerns a power blackout that paralyzes a large part of San Francisco. Impresario Sol Hurok's latest classical music hour for CBS, "S. Hurok Presents—Part IV," airs Christmas Day with violinist David Oistrakh and pianist Sviatoslav Richter.

The programs: "The American Adventure," a two-hour ABC news special with commentator Frank Reynolds examining many of the nation's values as the country approaches its 200th anniversary, is set for Dec. 28, focusing on Columbus, Ohio, as a typical city, but also visiting such locales as Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, St. Louis and Washington. CBS' "60 Minutes" on Tuesday will offer a report on "rising black militancy and black-white tensions and violence in the United States Army in Germany."
