WEDDING TODAY!

Love Makes All Traces Of Father Time Vanish

By ALETHA DAVIS
News Staff Writer

Robert Eugene Boydston was walking down the hall nearly five months ago when he saw a "girl that looked awfully nice." Mary Jane Swisher Hudge was the lady he was referring to and she is glad he thought she "looked nice."

This afternoon they will be married with their many friends as guests. Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate.

It's the typical "boy meets girl" story with exception of one fact. Mr. Boydston lists his date of birth as March 18, 1883 and Mrs. Hudge was born July 5, 1894!

Residents of Casa Del Nursing

Center, the bridal couple was busy yesterday with last-minute details for the wedding and reception which will be conducted in the lobby of the Center so that all of their friends may attend. The 3 p.m. ceremony will precede a reception which is being planned for 100 people.

The bride will be given in marriage by her son, David of Dallas. His wife will attend the wedding. The two granddaughters will be unable to come to Pampa due to college activities.

Mrs. Hudge was letting friends get a first hand glimpse of her teal blue wedding ensemble which will be complemented with white accessories. Mr. Boydston said George F. Baker, Pampa, longtime friend, will be best man for the occasion. Mrs. Bonnie Stuckey, Pampa will be matron of honor.

The prospective bridegroom is a retired farmer and veterinarian assistant. He says

SPEARMAN (Staff) — A pickup truck which he was driving, ran off the road, crashed through a fence and overturned, a spokesman for the DPS said.

A lifetime resident of Pampa, the victim attended schools here prior to going to work in oilfields. He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. F.E. Latnke of Pampa, and Mrs. F.C. Carney of Denton along with one brother, Marvin of Stinnett.

Funeral services are to be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in Carmichael-Whitley Colonial Chapel with burial following in Fairview Cemetery.

Classes Canceled At Wichita State U

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — All Monday's classes and activities on the Wichita State University campus were canceled Saturday except commemorative services in the chapel for the 29 persons, including football coach Ben Wilson and 13 players, who perished in Friday's plane crash in Colorado.

A statement was issued by the university's academic council Saturday. The council is composed of faculty members and Michael James of Wichita, president of the student body.

The statement was read by R. Doug Lewis, university formation director, at a news conference. It said in part:

"There are no words to adequately describe the sense of loss and shock which follow the tragic events of yesterday. Our

Tight Security Shields Nixon In Emerald Isle

9-Day, 5-Nation Trip Ends Monday

LIMERICK, Ireland (UPI) — The tightest security in Irish history shielded President Nixon Saturday from well-wishers and antiwar protestors alike on his arrival for talks with his chief Vietnam peace negotiator about a possible U.S. cease-fire proposal.

The President saw only a handful of carefully screened spectators waving American flags, cheering and clapping, and an even smaller handful of booing youths when he landed at Shannon Airport on the last stop of his nine-day, five-nation European tour that ends Monday. The youths were quickly silenced by spectators shouting, "Go on home. You ought to be ashamed of yourselves."

There was a similar lack of crowd turnout along a 34-mile motorcade route to Limerick, where Nixon spent the remainder of the day resting at the home of a millionaire American friend and attending a private dinner that featured Galway Bay oysters, Dublin Bay prawns and turtle soup.

But at the airport and along every mile of the motorcade route, Nixon saw hundreds of armed security men, pressed into duty because of threats of demonstrations by various antiwar groups.

He apparently did not notice about 20 Maoists who hurled leaflets at the motorcade just outside Limerick bearing the legend, "Wanted for murder, Richard M. Nixon" and "Mr. President at Kilfrush Sunday."

No Celebrities Show For Victory March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With Dr. Carl McIntire, a Bible in his hand, leading the way, a parade of demonstrators at least six blocks long moved down Pennsylvania Avenue today in a "March for Victory" in Vietnam.

Neither South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky nor Madame Ky was present — as McIntire, a Fundamentalist minister in charge of the

There was no immediate crowd estimate but it appeared far smaller than McIntire's prediction of 500,000. Mrs. McIntire, at her husband's side, carried a miniature American flag.

Mrs. Ernest Thacker, 73, of Ellenwood, Ga., was being pushed in a wheelchair. "These are Christian patriots marching for victory," she said.

There were U.S. flags of all sizes, as well as Confederate flags, Nationalist Chinese flags and American Legion flags.

William Washington, 82, Philadelphia, Pa., who described himself as "a one man band" beat on a drum and played a flute in the middle of the parade ranks.

The march generally was orderly and there were no incidents in contrast to the 320 persons arrested in counter-demonstrations in Georgetown Friday night.

CARRIERS TO CHANGE COLLECTIONS

WEATHER
PAMPA AND VICINITY — Partly cloudy today through Monday. High today mid 80s, low tonight mid-50s. High Monday near 90. South to southeasterly winds 10-20 mph.

The newspaper is changing to monthly advance collection on Nov. 1 with subscribers paying the newspaper carrier before the month's newspapers are delivered rather than afterwards.

The advance collection system applies to Pampa subscribers only and does not apply to subscribers in outlying areas.

For those subscribers, who are not now paying in advance, they will be given the opportunity to catch up during the last week in October. The month-in-advance collection will start Nov. 1 with all subscribers in Pampa paying one month in advance thereafter.

They will collect for November on the first of November and will collect the first of each month thereafter.

Aim of the new collection system is to insure carrier profit.

The problem of decreasing carrier profits has arisen over the past few years as a result of the increasing mobility of today's population. When a family moves, the carrier is all too often forgotten.

The newspaper carrier's profits decrease when a subscriber moves without paying. Advance collection will hopefully solve the problem.

Mutineers Take Four NY Jails

NEW YORK (UPI) — Riot police equipped with tear gas went into the 19-story Brooklyn jail Saturday to aid guards trying to regain control of the prison, the fourth jailhouse to be hit by a mutiny in three days.

Inmates, holding a total of 26 men in custody, had control Saturday night of parts of four of the city's six jails for adult men. Three persons were held hostage at the Brooklyn jail, 18 at the Manhattan House of Detention known as the Tombs and five at the Queens House of Detention in Long Island City. No hostages were taken in disturbances at a second Queens jail.

At Long Island City, the state Supreme Court held an extraordinary bail hearing inside the jail itself in response to demands from prisoners who began the rioting Thursday to protest high bail, overcrowding and bad food.

An inmate said Friday the hostages, whom prisoners had threatened to kill, would be released if the hearing was held. But Saturday night, while the hearing was in progress, inmates demanded that a "congress of inmate" be formed and composed of last April and have been unable to make bond. Dudley refused to hear the motions.

Mayor John V. Lindsay appealed to inmates Saturday night to release their hostages immediately, warning persistence could lead "only to a nightmare of tragedy."

He repeated an offer made Friday to meet with prisoners if they first release the hostages. "One thing is clear," Lindsay said, "we cannot and will not be powerless in the face of disorder."

Earlier in the day riot police with helmets, handcuffs and tear gas, massed outside the Tombs in downtown Manhattan but a prisoner called out, "If we don't come out alive, the hostages don't come out alive."

The riot force was, then shifted to Brooklyn where about 50 police entered the building but turned over the tear gas to guards who began firing it on floors held by the prisoners except for the fifth floor, where the hostages were believed to be held.

Nine guards were overcome by the fumes and taken to the hospital, and prisoners, who earlier in the day smashed windows, tables and chairs.

Price Calls For Beefing Up Nat'l Defense System

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Panhandle Congressman Bob Price has called for a revitalization of our national defense system in the face of what he describes as an ominous and growing military threat from the Soviet Union.

Price, issued this call in a speech delivered at the quarterly meeting of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Ordinance Association in the Coronado Inn Saturday night.

He said the evidence being accumulated is quite persuasive. "In the kinds of weapons that count most, both nuclear and non-nuclear, the Soviets are going ahead on quantity.

On quality, it's a horse-race with the U.S. now ahead by a neck, but falling behind."

Price said the Soviet menace is growing on all military fronts, underwater, sea, land and air. He cited the growing gap between U.S. and Russian Research and development in defense-related areas as evidence of the growing Soviet willingness to apply technological advances to military hardware.

Price said in the late 50s and early 60s, the U.S. spent substantially more on research and development than did the USSR, but by the late 60s, the tide began to turn. "In 1968 the U.S. and Russia both spent $14 billion on research and development; in 1969, the U.S. spent $14 billion and Russia spent $15 billion; in 1970 the U.S. will have spent $13 to $14 billion, while the USSR will have spent $16 to $17 billion," he said.

The Texas Republican said it seemed a growing number of

Seek Cause Of Crash

SILVER PLUME, Colo. (UPI)—A federal disaster crew searched Saturday for the cause of a power loss that forced the crash of an ancient double-prop airplane on a Colorado mountainside, killing 29 persons, including the heart of the Wichita State University football team. The FBI ordered reports that it was investigating possible sabotage and any relation to four bombings in Wichita Friday, the day the plane and the players took their fatal trip across the Rocky Mountains. "There is absolutely no evidence, no indication, that we should investigate the possibility of sabotage," said John F. Morley, assistant special agent in charge of the Denver FBI office. Eleven survivors, two listed in critical condition, were in two Denver hospitals. And on the campuses of Wichita State and Utah State, whose teams would have met on the football field Saturday, there was grief.

Easy-Do Forms Go Out For Voters' 'Sigs'

Gray County voters applying for registration certificates will find the procedure simplified this year according to a report issued from the tax office Friday.

Local Teachers Set First TSTA Meet

The Gray Roberts Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association will have its first meeting, Monday, at Robert E. Lee Junior High. The meeting will begin with a buffet dinner at 7 p.m. Following a business session which delegates to the district convention in Amarillo, Nov. 12-13 will be elected. E. L. Galvean, assistant executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association, will bring the program. His topics are "An outline of the Legislative program" and "Professional rights and responsibilities."

A niece, Mrs. Charlie Gibson of Amarillo is planning to attend. "I guess Charlie will come," related Mr. Boydston. "He sure got an invitation, I know that!"
 Mrs. Hudge related one damper on plans for the ceremony. "Charlie Thut wasn't in his office the other day when we got our license. I sure would have liked to have seen him. We've both known him for many years."
 "We're so happy now, says the bride. "I know what a lot of people think about people our age getting married again. But it's no fun to be lonely."
 She won't be lonely now, according to Mr. Boydston. He excused himself from this interview with the explanation, "I'm going to go take a nap so we can practice that wedding."

No Trace Of Wife Missing 21 Days

KERMIT, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. Nancy Mitchell, 27, vanished 21 days ago in the middle of the night, leaving her two children asleep. The only trace her hundreds of searchers have been able to find was her slashed clothes, strewn along a highway.
 "Outside of her clothes, we have found nothing," Kermit Police Chief Melvin Bartley said. "It looks bad."
 Mrs. Mitchell, a supervisor for the telephone company at Monahans, disappeared just before midnight or shortly after midnight Sept. 15. Her husband Gene came home at 12:45 a.m. Sept. 16 from his night job and found his wife missing and their two children in bed. Mrs. Mitchell's sewing machine was out as if she had company in Monahans at 5 p.m. Sept. 15. She and a girl uncle of the telephone at 9:30 p.m. Sept. 15.
 Searchers soon turned up her clothing—slashed but with no sign of blood on it—along a road leading out of town. Searching parties of 100 persons at a time, using a Department of Public Safety helicopter, and horses failed to find another sign of her.
 "People live in houses on both sides of her," Bartley said. "Her house was on a 65 foot lot. Nobody noticed anything. Neighbors heard dogs barking but they paid no attention. They thought it was normal."
 "Nothing was missing from her home. She got off from her job for the phone

Decision Due In Splitting Huge TCAS

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—A decision on whether to split the mammoth University of Texas College of Arts and Sciences into three separate divisions has been delayed until Oct. 19 by the Senior College Advisory Committee.
 The committee, an arm of the State College Coordinating Board heard arguments Friday for and against the controversial division but sidestepped the topic of Dr. John Silber. Silber was fired as Arts and Sciences dean shortly before the division was approved because of his opposition to the plan.
 Wales Madden Jr., chairman of the advisory committee, said the panel would not listen to any discussion relating to "the em-

FOR 52 weeks of a 365-day year, news people are busily engaged writing about you, the reader. But this week, National Newspaper Week, Oct. 4-10, we're going to turn the tables briefly and write about us, the newspaper possible.

GATHERING, WRITING, editing news is one of the most fascinating of professions. It's exhausting, but never boring. No one day is like the other. On the pages of your daily newspaper are mirrored the day-to-day events that go to make up this mad whirl we call life... births... deaths...

WHAT IS A newspaper really like? Well, it is a business and like any other business and our system of free enterprise, it is operated to produce a profit. And the people who staff a newspaper are no different from those who staff other businesses.

They are concerned about the welfare of their families and communities; interested in national affairs; sports; and the cost of living.

There is one difference, however. They are more pressed for time than the majority of people. Most of them are engaged in writing, at the same time everyday.

WHILE THERE is a clock in every newspaper office, it is not for the staff. It is for that glutinous press that must be fed at exactly the same time EVERY DAY, so that it can belch forth the daily newspaper that will be on your doorstep

NO, NOT all news men and women are dedicated. There are those who promote themselves, slant the news and use journalism for unaltruistic purpose. And sometimes, they go far before they are spotted. But not very often. They do get tripped up.

IT'S BEEN popular to attack the press this year. And in all honesty, we must admit that, in some instances, there is justification. Some "hacks" are influenced by scoops, sensationalism and "fringe benefits."

YOUR SMALLTOWN daily or weekly newspaper, published in the grassroots of our country, is its backbone. It is flattering and satisfying to have a reader call with a suggestion or a criticism, if the suggestion and criticism is constructive.

A professional news person turns a deaf ear to flattery. It is nice to hear a compliment, but it is the constructive criticism that helps a newspaper and a newsman to grow.

It was Benjamin Franklin who said: "If all newsmen were determined not to print anything till they were sure it would begin in this country just 280 years ago, but the nation's first newspaper, 'Publick Occurrences Both Foreign and Dometick,' which hit the streets of Boston on the morning of Sept. 25, 1689, was shortlived. Its publisher, a shield against our own complacency and indifference. So during this National Newspaper Week, being observed as 200 years of freedom from 1770's to the 1970's, be kind to your daily newspaper. And if you know a newperson, why not take one out to lunch? ... d.e.w.

reporters, the editors, the teletypsetters, the linotypes, the ad men, the makeup and pressmen... whose efforts make your daily newspaper possible.

marriages... divorces... one person's accomplishments and another person's tragedy. Your hometown newspaper, however, is not bound by county lines. Through national wire services, it reaches out across the state, the nation... across oceans to bring the world right to your doorstep.

editing and printing in a few hours enough material to fill the average 100,000-word novel. They work under pressure six-days a week. They deserve your respect, but not necessarily your awe. They appreciate brevity, but not curtness. Because it is a profession, where people on the outside often seem to think they know better how to do the job than those on the inside, newspaper people will appreciate your gaining an understanding of their pressures, their work, their deadlines and the standards they must meet.

Dedicated newsmen and women do not work by the clock. They work by the story. Investing time and energy it takes to get the facts, develop the story for you, as the clock eats up the hours.

But freedom of the press. The right to know the truth belongs to the public... not the news media, and they are remiss when they color or slant the truth.

offend nobody, there would be very little printed." News people are writing and editing copy for, in our case 30,000 to 40,000 persons daily... all ages, all degrees of education and intelligence. Stories are read by people with many different likes and dislikes.

If we can please "some of the people, some of the time," a newsday is well spent. We like what newsman F.B. Dunne had to say: "The job of a newspaper is to comfort the afflicted and afflict the comfortable."

Benjamin Harris, had committed a crime by publishing his newspaper. He had not taken out a license. So only one issue was published. It took 14 years before someone else had the courage to try again.

a shield against our own complacency and indifference. So during this National Newspaper Week, being observed as 200 years of freedom from 1770's to the 1970's, be kind to your daily newspaper. And if you know a newperson, why not take one out to lunch? ... d.e.w.

Elco Glass Co. Burglarized

City police are investigating a Friday night burglary of Elco Glass Company, 416 S. Taylor, in which about $100 was taken, according to investigating officers. The loot consisted of a cash box containing $50 in money and another $50 in checks according to police reports. A small amount of money was left in a safe. Police are not certain as to whether or not the safe was entered.

A pry bar, similar to a large screwdriver, was used to pry a door and the same tool apparently used an attempt to open the safe. It was already unlocked. A small bank containing a little cash was left on the floor of the safe.

New Committeewoman Is 'Mrs. Democrat'

By DORIS E. WILSON, News Staff Writer
In Gray County political circles, she is known as "Mrs. Democrat" and that title of respect and affection will probably follow her into state politics as she assumes her new duties as state committeewoman for the Democrat party's 21st senatorial district. Mrs. J. P. Rahn Osborne was named to that office at the Democrat State Convention held Sept. 13 in Dallas.

Committee on her interest in the Demo party, which spans more than 15 years. Mrs. Osborne said she has worked in the party since she was 17. "I was never anything but a Democrat," she said. "I have never been anything but a Democrat." For those who have observed Mrs. Osborne in action for a number of years can attest she has sparked every precinct and county convention. And upon those gloomy occasions, when her candidate was not favored by voters, she showed good sportsmanship by walking into the other party's headquarters and offering her congratulations.

She has attended state conventions for a number of years and was a delegate to the 1938 national convention held in Chicago.

Marriage Difficulties Drives Man To Kill Wife, Friend, Self

CANYON, Tex. (UPI)—A railway conductor driven to a murderous rage by marriage difficulties, killed his girl friend, his wife and committed suicide at a vocational nurses convention, it was disclosed Saturday.

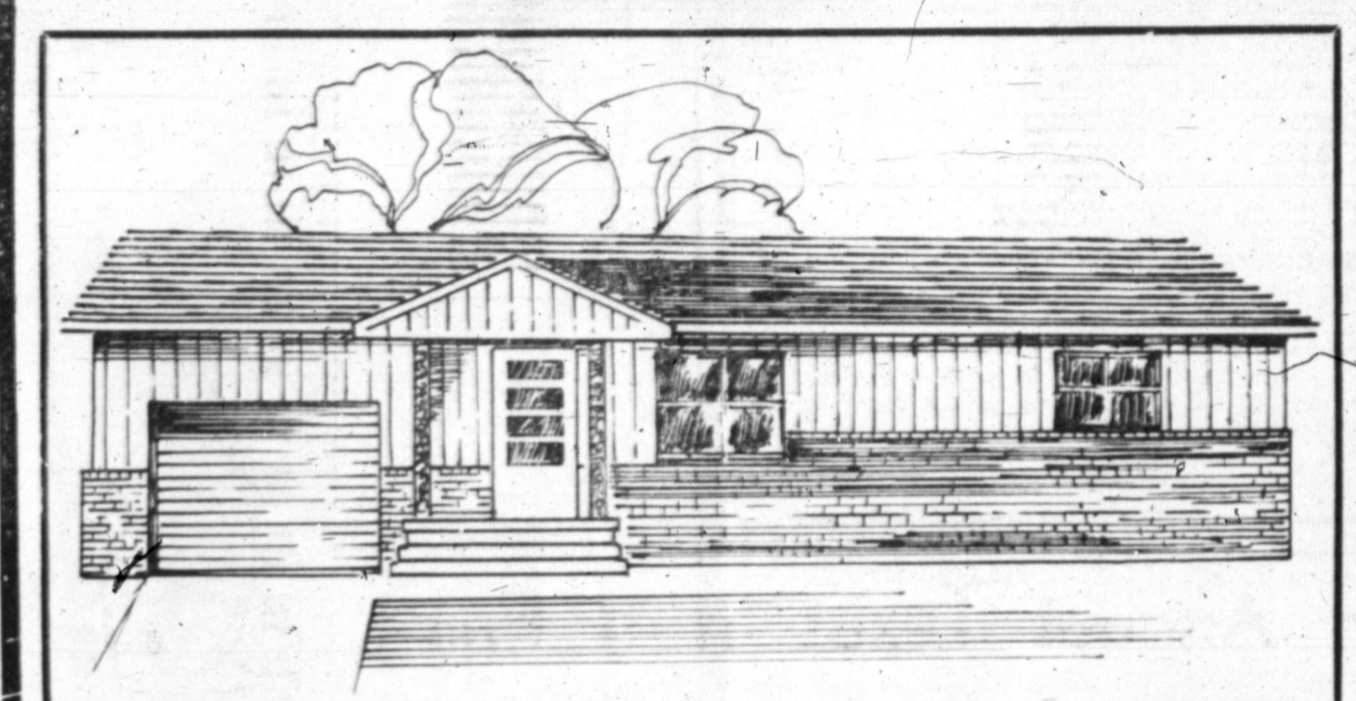

The conductor's wife, 42-year-old Jackie Simms, had been elected the new president of the Licensed Vocational Nurses Association of Texas a few hours before the conductor killed her. She was one of 250 delegates to the nurses' convention Friday.

But a moment before the conductor, Ray Simms, 43, killed his wife with a shotgun blast in the chest, he killed his girl friend, Dorothy Quinn, 32, of Clovis, N.M. A witness said Miss Quinn stepped between Simms and his wife as Simms lifted a 16 gauge shotgun. Having killed the two women, Simms put the muzzle of the automatic shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger. The blast lifted the back of his head off.

84th Annual Texas State Fair Starts Saturday For 16 Days

DALLAS (UPI) — The 84th annual run of the State Fair of Texas — the biggest of its kind in the country — opens on Saturday for a 16-day run.

By the time the fair closes at midnight Oct. 25, about 3 million persons will have seen it. The most people ever to have seen the fair in an annual run was 3,014,114 in 1968.

Last year, rain hurt attendance and the crowds totaled 2,992,853 persons.

The State Fair of Texas long since has outgrown the cotton-corn-cow-preserve-pickle concept of the traditional state fair, although agricultural products are an important part of the exhibits.

The State Fair of Texas has a theme every year, like world fairs. The theme this year is "Exposition of the Seven Seas."

To carry out the theme the Varied Industries Building has been renamed the "New Dimensions Pavilion." Thirty thousand square feet in the pavilion are filled with all kinds of oceanic exhibits.

Scale Model Sub
The equipment includes diving equipment, buoys, boats, submarine models and even an underwater hotel. One of the submarines is a two-thirds scale model of the Seacraft, a submarine the Navy has been experimenting with.

Hundreds of buyers and exhibitors, both from the Southwest and from below the border are expected for the Pan American Livestock Exposition. A new exhibit is the Texas Department of Agriculture Food and Fiber Pavilion.

The pavilion will show Texas products continuously, with women cooking experts showing how to prepare recipes, and fashion shows of Texas fabrics.

Pearl May Be Left Holding Bag.. Empty

DALLAS (UPI) — The late oilman A. Otis Birch may have left property worth $200 million around somewhere but all the Texas administrator of his estate can find is $2,688.66, including Social Security.

The administrator, the Mercantile National Bank of Dallas, has made a thorough search because it would like to be paid for its efforts. So would the under who gave Birch a $4,666.06 funeral after his death March 15, 1967.

The cash on hand does not look like the fortune expected by Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch, 63, Birch's second wife. She passed through Odessa, Tex., a week ago headed west and said the money would start "rolling in" soon.

The second Mrs. Birch, a 6-foot, 200-pound former practical nurse from Breckenridge, Tex., put up overnight in a $4 hotel room in Odessa. Her reference to the money rolling in was in connection with a Dallas judge's action a few days earlier, making her the sole owner of the Birch estate in 30 days.

Before and after his death, Birch was spoken of as a man who had a $200 million estate.

"This seems to have seen one of those estates which was supposed to be worth a lot but which is worth practically nothing," said Hubert D. Johnson, an attorney for Mercantile Bank.

Nobody is sure where the $200 million figure came from. But it does not frighten Edwin L. Davis, the attorney Mrs. Choate Birch hired to defend the estate against a suit by a California Baptist church and four Baptist organizations.

"In Texas, he probably didn't have much," Davis said. "California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah is where the bulk of the estate's property lies. Most of it is patented (proven) mines. Some are not producing, though patented."

"One engineer could look and see them to be worth a billion. Another could look and see $100 million. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. "I know of one uranium mine that is active now and being produced out of."

Davis could not provide a list of the mines though he said he thinks one must be on file in some court in Los Angeles.

After all, Birch might have died quietly in his 30-room home at 431 Oaklawn in South Pasadena, Calif., and the size of his estate might never have been a real issue if it had not been for Mrs. Choate Birch.

Mrs. Choate, who had had five or six husbands and served a prison term for murdering an Amarillo, Tex., carpenter, landed a job nursing Birch and his 93-year-old wife Estelle in their South Pasadena home early in 1966.

Mrs. Choate put Birch and his first wife in the back seat of her car and brought them to Breckenridge, via Mexico and the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Somewhere along the way, Birch, then 94, broke his hip. The first Mrs. Birch, in an advanced stage of cancer, died in Mrs. Choate's Breckenridge home Oct. 7, 1966.

Mrs. Choate shipped the body back to California with instructions to bury it privately in the family crypt. Within days of his first wife's death, Birch undertook to adopt Mrs. Choate.

This having failed, Mrs. Choate eloped to Altus, Okla., with Birch and a justice of the peace came out to the curb and married them in their automobile.

"It wasn't through passionate love or anything like that," the bride, then 59, explained. "It was his concern for me and what was happening."

The new Mrs. Birch was promptly charged in Texas with kidnaping. She posted $5,000 bond and was released. A grand jury refused to indict her.

Birch died the following March and was buried in Dallas in a copper coffin with a pale yellow lining.

Nearly everybody thought Birch was a wealthy man, with extensive oil, mining and real estate interests.

He was a devout Baptist and was said to have given $20 million to Baptist institutions. He and his wife once gave a party for 1,500 persons in honor of Baptist evangelist Billy Graham.

So the fight for his estate after his death was merely a continuation of a struggle that started before he died.

Temple Baptist Church, American Bible Society, American Tract Society, American Baptist Home Mission Society and Missionaries Benefit Board charged that Birch was senile on May 14, 1966, when he left Mrs. Birch everything he had except $2 in a handwritten will.

The religious organizations were favored in an earlier will. The fight went on until last Sept. 9, when lawyer David E. Agnew wrote Davis from Los Angeles: "The charitable beneficiaries whom I represent as a group have directed me to abandon the contest."

Two weeks ago, Judge J. Roll-

Fair of 101st Civil District Court in Dallas dismissed the suit and told the jubilant Mrs. Pearl Choate Birch she could have possession of the estate in 30 days.

"It was a long fight, but I knew I would win some day," Mrs. Birch said.

A few days later, Mrs. Birch turned up in Odessa, Tex., on "business." She arrived in a bus with no luggage, wearing tennis shoes, and put up in a $4 hotel room with connecting bath.

She explained in Odessa that the money would "start rolling in" soon and now that she had title to it, there was no reason for her to make a show.

A couple of days later, she was seen outside Pecos, Tex., hitchhiking west.

Davis reported this week that Mrs. Birch had made it back to California. He said she telephoned him — he was not sure from what city, but it probably was Los Angeles — that a producer wanted to make a film about her life and she wanted him to take a look at the deal.

All of the money that has "rolled in" from the estate to (See PEARL, Page 12)

HERE'S WHERE YOU GET CLIPPED.

Right in the newspaper. Or magazine.
Men will clip you. Women will clip you. Kids, too. And if your dollar volume begins to swell, swell.

But first, you've got to set yourself up for it. Putting coupons in print media is the best way. Print lets people clip and save your message. Or file it. Or compare it. Or pass it to a friend. Or mail it back to you.

And that's not all. Print shows your product off to its very best advantage. It flashes its color. Struts its style. Displays its beauty. Shows its uses.

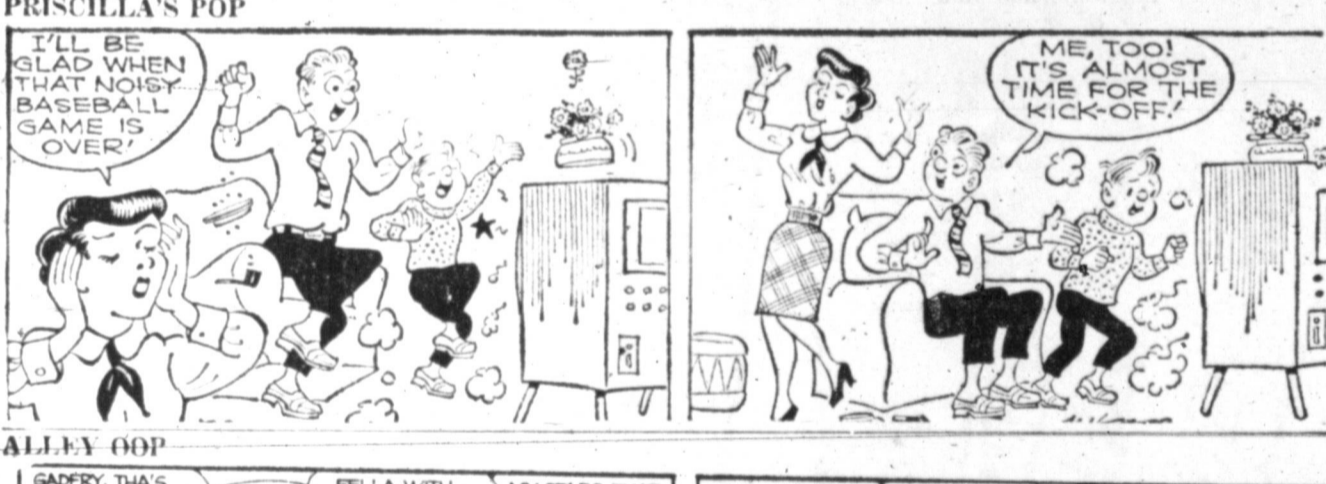

Print can do lots of things for you. Even get you clipped.

JEANE DIXON Your Horoscope

FOR SUNDAY, OCT. 4, 1970
Your birthday Sunday... Diversity characterizes the coming year. There are stimulating new insights. Variable conditions which will not let you remain in your pattern of habits. All relationships must develop further, requiring definite choices from you. Today's natives generally have a progressive viewpoint and very often are interested in such matters as child welfare education, social work, friends and love interest.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Join in the community's observances. There is enough content to make your festive expression of faith meaningful. Gather friends for pleasant pastimes.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): This Sunday brings no special pressures. Simple, natural pleasures are preferred. Give yourself a rest from business concerns.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Complicated conditions. Incomplete information should not be allowed to spoil an otherwise fine Sunday. Think of a simple plan and get started.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Enjoy a relaxing Sunday. In socializing avoid serious subjects and any effort to change anybody's mind. Share your hobbies with others of like interest.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Concentrate mainly on your home life. The spirit in which things are done. Prayer offers fresh insight. Evening brings a cheering moment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Visitors bring interesting information. Listen carefully; make your own conclusions. The late evening may include serious business.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Consider the concerns and shortages of others. Bring more balance into your social life. Call on people you haven't seen for some time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Busy plans may have to stretch to include additional people. The more the merrier. Hold your expansive mood and go on to a lively evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Normal Sunday activities are satisfying and provocative. You can't keep anything secret. Your friends likely have plans of their own.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): The early hours of this complex Sunday are important, as there are so many things to settle. Friends are very helpful, may bring you an unusual contact.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Make today a happy and fun-filled day. The fine nuances of relationships with love and care. Sharing of plans this evening holds a great deal of interest.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): After sharing in the community expression of faith, settle down to a quiet evening. There's a great deal to do. Gather friends about you in the later hours.

FOR MONDAY, OCT. 5, 1970
Your birthday Monday: Progress is the story of your coming day. Diligence is essential. Every side line activity can distract you from your main goals. Creative activities promise results beyond expectations. Romantic ventures—any prominent in your scheme of life. Monday's natives have the knack of combining an occasional bit of luck with a great deal of hard work. Most of them have natural skills at politics.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Your week opens with a special challenge. Business and personal projects mesh for once and can be strongly improved. Seek new contacts, deal with influential people.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): New concepts bring changes in your work. Proceed cautiously. Attend to family financial and legal arrangements.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Things which require close cooperation are better done now, since all concerned are well disposed. Display your work. Be ready to adjust to the needs of others.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): You have an expansive mood for beginning an active and successful week. Do your best with the diverse opportunities. New Methods note considerable change.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Creative approaches deal with influential people. Promising children need your attention. Plan for a modest social evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Look about you for fresh opportunity. Acquaintances and contacts are plentiful. Technical experts emphasize bold ideas. A complete change of tempo is favored in the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Apply your best skills Monday. An early start gives you ahead—see that you stay ahead. Seek important contacts, fresh channels of personal expression.

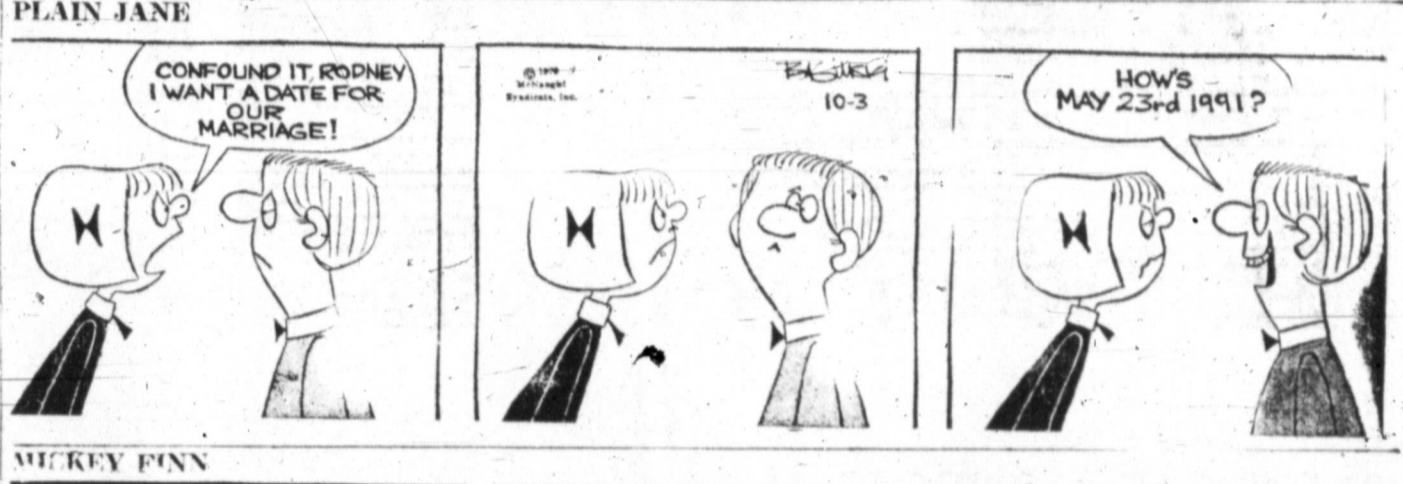

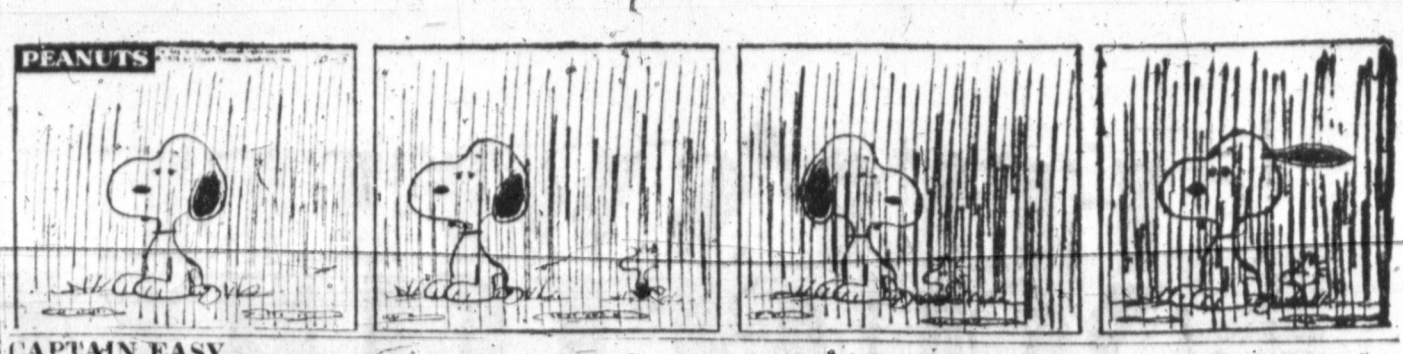

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You can turn some old stunts into ready rewards. Excellent results in dealing with influential people are favored. Lay the groundwork now for sudden improvement later.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You can have almost anything you desire. The result of recent past efforts. Ask for improvements, backing. Evening hours are for meditation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Diligent effort brings results as many confused matters are cleared. Make direct inquiries. Prudent experiment with short cuts, new methods go surprisingly well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Reach out for new contacts. There is strong support for your projects. If you haven't already, make your bid Monday and all the coming week.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Unexpected circumstances keep you busy this week, beginning with the large surprise of Monday. Try new methods, break old habits. Follow your intuition in making choices.

NEW YORK (UPI)—As a result of disinflation measures, the bond market has been enormously strengthened, Argus Research Corp. says. The huge volume of long-term borrowing anticipated for this year "will go a long way" toward improving the liquidity position of non-financial corporations, it adds. Over the long run interest rates should continue to drop, the firm says, but "the heavy volume of new issues may lead to occasional traffic jams and temporary increases in bond yields."

The market is in a recovery phase, bolstered by improved fundamentals, such as the July surge in business activity, rising consumer purchasing power, rising new orders for durable goods and easing of monetary policy by the Federal Reserve Board, Spear & Staff says. Many stocks, however, are still selling at "incredibly low levels, in terms of past and potential growth," management, and market value, the firm adds.

Pearl

The Texas administrator so far is $267,66 which is listed in an inventory and appraisement filed with probate court. Of this, $10 has been spent for legal advertising and the remainder is in the trust department of the Mercantile National Bank.

Despite what Davis believes about untold millions being in mining property in four states, the Mercantile National Bank and its lawyers never have been able to turn up more than the inventory and appraisement shows.

"After these investigations we have never actually found any records confirming ownership of any property, whether real estate, stocks or bonds in Mr. Birch's name except for the annuity contracts and cash in possession of the fiduciaries, which has never been authorized to be paid to anyone," one entry by an assistant trust officer of the bank in the probate file said.

Thad Barrington, trust officer of the bank, was asked whether that meant the bank and its lawyers had looked everywhere it could think of and failed to find any more.

"It does," Barrington said. The inventory and appraisement listing all that was turned up from April 12, 1967, to June 29, 1969, includes:

- Dividends on stock through June 26, 1969—$185.90
- Final payments from annuity contracts with Eastern Baptist College and Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary May 3, 1967—$485.42
- From Tretolite, a division of the Petrolite Corp.—$10
- From Social Security July 12, 1967—$727.20
- From Social Security Nov. 16, 1967—$237.00
- From a conservatorship in the United States National Bank of California—$1,033.14

As the search for assets went on, Hubert D. Johnson, a lawyer for the administrator, made discouraging reports to Probate Judge F. W. Bartlett.

Before the final inventory and appraisement, Johnson wrote: "The report (on the condition of the estate) was quite discouraging in that it indicated a total on hand of $1,222.62. Comparing this report with the newspaper accounts of $200 million make for some rather interesting contrast."

"I've never been able to figure out where that $200 million figure came from," the Baptists' lawyer, David Agnew, said. "Pearl took all of Otis' records with her, so there are no current records—just a big gap. But all I've been able to find out is that the estate is almost worthless."

Agnew said Texas revenue agents received a state tax return showing the estate at $5,000. Agnew estimates that legal costs will total $200,000.

"We are not aware of any assets other than what Mr. Agnew has found," John Furman of First Western Bank of Pasadena said. "We looked at the income tax returns to see from whence the income was derived and there was never any amount approaching a million dollars at alone $200 million."

Davis said Pearl Choate Birch's California lawyer, Bernard Leckie, will be in charge of seeking out additional assets in California. Leckie apparently is less optimistic than Davis.

Leckie noted that the first Mrs. Birch—Mrs. Estelle Birch—had an interest in part of what was left.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—It is finally becoming apparent to the big institutional investors that the market, has turned, that last spring's lows will very likely never be seen again and that "the word for today is 'Better late than never'." Wright Advisory Reports says. Recent record-breaking volume reflected this switch from pessimism to optimism and "a last minute rush to get aboard the stock market escalator," it adds.

The lagging performance of the blue chip section, as evidenced by the Dow Jones Industrial average, should not be overlooked since it is a widely watched and important segment and more often than not over the past year has tended to lead the market. E. F. Hult & Co. says the firm nevertheless advocates a "positive market approach on the basis of favorable performances by virtually every other market index."

We were so happy to have a Junior Miss to come by the office the other day when we needed to be out of the office a little while. Miss De Anna Hantche, Mrs. Jess Hatcher's granddaughter, said she would love to sit at my desk and answer my telephone for me. She did a remarkable job and told me who had come into the office and who had called while I was gone.

The following have completed their Beginner Swimming Class at the Youth Center Pool: Reid Steger, Bryan Glascock, Tommy Smith, Mark Damron, Denise Damron, Kim Sims, Greta Evans, Leslie Lovell and Ellen Lovell. Some of these youngsters have come by the Red Cross office for their patches. Congratulations, boys and girls!

There will be a Mothers Aide Class for Girl Scout Troop No. 41 in the Red Cross office at 7 p.m. Monday, Mrs. Eschol Jackson is the leader and Mrs. Searl, L.V. N. is the trainer for this class of girls. Other Girl Scout Troops will meet Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Presbyterian Church Annex with Mrs. Presler instructor and Mrs. Forest Hills will teach the girls at the Scout House on Kingsmill at the same time. We should have some fine baby sitters after all of these girls complete their course.

Mrs. Travis Winegeart will begin a mother and baby care class Tuesday in the Red Cross office at 7 p.m. Persons expecting their first child should make every effort to attend this class. There is no charge.

Have you made your contribution to the United Fund? Why don't you do so today? The Red Cross gets 90 percent of their funds from the United Fund. Help us by giving to the United Fund!

Several have called and asked when the Red Cross Youth would meet for their fall breakfast meeting. Floyd Sackett, chairman of Red Cross Youth will be out of town on school business next week so we plan our breakfast meeting Oct. 14. Mark this date on your calendar for the principal and teacher Sponsor breakfast.

GOP Ranks Split Wider Than Ever

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Republican ranks split wider today when Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott criticized Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for attacking his party's senatorial nominee in New York, Sen. Charles E. Goodell.

"I think when the President is away, those who are not the President seem disposed to play," said Scott. "I will be glad when the President gets back." He appealed for party unity.

Agnew charged Wednesday that Goodell had abandoned the party and joined Nixon's ideological opponents. This was denounced by the New York senator today. "His (Agnew's) rhetoric suggests that people who question the administration's views are somehow dangerous and, irresponsible, have no place in public life and should be discredited in the public eye," Goodell said.

Nixon's lack of endorsement of Goodell—and Agnew's outright attack—suggested to many political observers that the President prefers James L. Buckley, the Conservative Party nominee, to Goodell.

Season Bright For White Wing Dove Hunters

AUSTIN (UPI)—White wing doves are rather bright.

A state biologist said Thursday the birds apparently escaped the open season of them by flying across the border to Mexican hideouts before the season opened in early September. The biologist said this was the reason for the poor dove season in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

But, as far as hunters are concerned, that was the only dismal report included in a survey issued by the Parks and Wildlife Department on the prospects for the upcoming hunting season.

In general, the survey said the hunting should be excellent this fall and winter in most parts of the state.

The deer and turkey hunting prospects are especially rosy, the survey said, and there appears to be an ample supply of bobwhite quail, particularly in the South Texas brush country.

THE QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLAR Moody Feed Mill forms a backdrop for these Dallas-owned Charlais cross and straight steers as they stand guard at the Moody Farm's installation, southeast of Pampa.

IN GRAY COUNTY

Sleeping Giant Awakens

By FOSTER WHALEY
Gray County Agriculture Agent

A sleeping giant was awakened in the early sixties when the effect of irrigation and the commercial cattle feedlots began to be felt.

Agricultural income bounced from $3.9 million to $5.7 million from 1944 to 1959, depending on weather conditions and post war prices. In 1964 the agricultural income took a decided rise to almost $8 million dollars. Much of Gray County's irrigation was developed in the early sixties. Moody Farms started feeding a few cattle in the early sixties. Moody Farms made a large expansion in the mid-sixties and Heaton Cattle Feedlot went commercial in 1967.

By 1968, both feedlots were moving at a fast clip. The statistician's office in Austin recorded the Gray County Agricultural Income at $10.6 million for 1968. By 1969, both feedlots had enlarged and over 63,000 head of fat beefies were finished, swelling our agricultural income to over $15 million, according to agriculture statistics relating to Gray County released by Austin.

Beef cattle accounted for over 90 percent of the increase in income.

By 1970, the agricultural income for Gray County is expected to spiral to over $27 million.

Western Pork Producers, Lefors, and the McLaughlin Brothers Swine Farm, Laketon, will add over a million dollars to the agricultural income with their commercial swine plants.

Much of the progress of the agricultural boom was credited to the local Production Credit Association and the local banks.

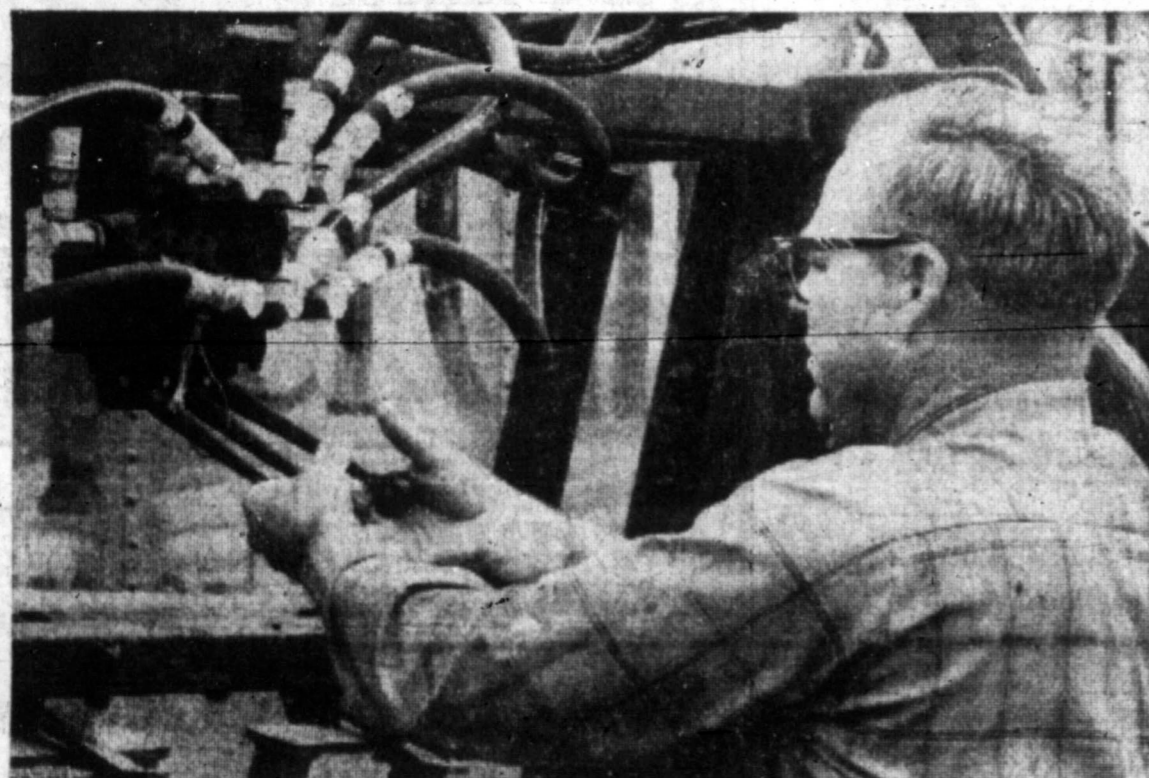

In 1965 the Pampa loan office of the Canadian Production Credit Association loaned slightly more than $2 million dollars to its 100 borrowers. By 1967 the loan figure jumped to over $6 million. By 1969 the figure had risen to over $11 million. The current year that ended in August 1970, Gene Hanks, local vice-president of the P.C.A. loaned over $23 million dollars to some 110 borrowers. The average loan size jumped from twelve thousand dollars in 1965 to ninety-three thousand in 1970.

Agricultural income in the six-county trade territory — Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Roberts, Hemphill, Wheeler, and Gray — made similar advances. The 1968-69 average showed the agricultural income to be close to $54 million.

Extension Service Program Building Committees in these counties projected the 1976 agricultural income to be $93 million by 1976. This would account for close to $40 million dollars to add to the one billion dollars increased expected in the agricultural income in Texas by 1976.

Over eighty-five thousand dollars net were made hedging cattle on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange in 1967 through the assistance of the Gray County agent.

Result demonstrations run in both feedlots under the direction of the local county agent has proven savings of up to one dollar per head on certain practices on implanting heifers with growth regulating hormones. Over forty thousand head of heifers were fed in 1969.

WARREN PICKENS, county agent at Canadian tries his luck at the controls of a new hydraulic chute just installed at the new Moody Farms back-grounding feedlot, five miles north of Lefors. The new facility will afford more isolation from disease at the main feedlot located on the Wheeler Highway. All new cattle will be started and held at this installation for a thirty or forty day period before graduating to the main feedlot, wheat pasture, or other types of pasture.

Pants Suits Race With Midi Styles

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California fashion designers couldn't make up their minds Wednesday whether the midi was the last word or a dead horse.

"Our bag is to survive, and it's always been a jungle in ready to wear," said Stan Hirsh, whose medium-priced garments are designed by Michael Calderon.

"When it comes down to the line, that buyer in Omaha, she's buying pants."

Most of the designers were showing skirts near the knee or just below it. There were lots of midi skirts—but that was by no means the only length. Every line was heavily laced with pants-suits.

Hirsh flatly said he felt the midi length was dead.

On the other hand, other designers praised the longer look.

Georgia Bullock said, "I think it's high time our skirts were longer. It's not going to take long for the customer to accept it and feel out of it if she is still wearing the old short skirt."

"Let's face it," said Helen Bass, whose designs are intended for the woman with a matronly figure, "when the mini was in, not everybody was wearing clothes as short as some young girls. Clothes are longer. That's a fact. Mrs. America is going to bring her skirts down the same way she brought them up—inches."

The best looking outfits shown by the higher-priced designers were the pants suits, which they believe are the most popular items in the stores.

Georgia Bullock showed a stunning three-piece gaucho outfit in navy polyester jersey, matched with a red jersey turtle neck shirt.

She also had a series of young looking country dresses in checked gingham with ruffled hems and sleeves.

Calderon for S. H. Hirsh featured a demure polka-dot mini dress with white cuffs and collar worn over pants, and a white polyester jumpsuit with patch pockets.

Ernst Strauss had a tailored look, with pants suits that were belted and some which were worn with longer jackets or vests.

Georgette Trilere for Trimar Inc. had a two-piece pants suit with a zipper front, worn belted. She also had a cowboy style pants suit.

Lota Pounds Off Honors Member For Weight Loss

The Lota Pounds Off TOPS Club met recently in the Central Baptist Church with 11 members present.

The weight recorder, Mrs. Leon Brown, reported the club lost 94 pounds and gained 10 pounds.

Mrs. Randall Schulz received the fruit basket with a loss of 54 pounds. Mrs. Ernest Lueddecke won the weekly pig. The club welcomed a new member, Mrs. Joe Sutton.

Team No. 1 reported losing 24 pounds in the Tape Measure Contest while Team No. 2 lost 124 pounds.

The club made seven posters to be placed in store windows around town to recruit new members.

Teachers Honor Former Pampan

Mrs. Thelma Davis, former Pampa teacher, has retired from the teaching profession and was honored at a retirement party in Perryton where she was teaching first grade at South Elementary School.

She is a member of Eta Alpha Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, international honor society for women teachers, the Ochiltree County Teachers Association, Texas State Teachers Association and the Parent-Teachers Association in Perryton.

A teacher for 32 years in the elementary schools, Mrs. Davis spent six weeks this Summer in Hawaii attending classes at the University of Hawaii. She also worked with the Hawaii Baptist Academy in 1961 and 1962, and is a member of the First Baptist Church in Perryton.

She attended Baylor College one year, and received her B.A. Degree from West Texas State University in Canyon in 1930. She attended the Southwestern Theological Seminary in 1932 and the University of Wyoming in Laramie in 1934.

She taught in Jones County from 1925 to 1929 when she moved to Canyon to teach first grade from 1930 to 1934. She taught in Pampa schools from 1934 to 1936 and was married to James Q. Davis in 1936. Mr. Davis died in 1950.

She received her master's degree at Columbia University in New York City in 1954, and in 1955, attended the Baptist World Alliance in London, toured Europe and the Holy Land. With the Alliance she has traveled to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Mexico City, Central America, Argentina, Chile and Peru.

Women Organize Officers' Program For Panhellenic

Pampa City Panhellenic will install officers during its annual banquet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Crown and Shield Room, Coronado Inn.

Those directing the programs are Mrs. J.G. Morrison, reservations; Mrs. George F. McCarroll, publicity; Mrs. James Cunningham, decorations; and Mrs. Frank Kelley, menu. Mrs. William Tuke will give the invocation. Mrs. Howard Wilmett will conduct the officers' installation ceremony.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Darrell Liston of Dallas, the national Panhellenic Conference's area collegiate advisor. She will meet with the West Texas State University Panhellenic in Canyon Monday and Tuesday.

PEO Chapter CS Conducts Coffee In Pampa Home

Mrs. F.E. Imel, 1701 Charles, was hostess for the PEO Chapter C.S. meeting recently as Mrs. W.R. Harden and Mrs. D.V. Burton presented the program, "Your Book and Ours."

Mrs. Harden and Mrs. Burton were assisted on the yearbook by Mrs. R.E. Dunbar and Mrs. Paul Reimer. Theme for 1970-71 is "This Is My Country, Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow."

Those attending the coffee were Mmes. Walton W. Bailey, Burton, Darrell Cameron, J.G. Crinklaw, Harden, P.W. Harvey, Imel, Danny King, Robert LaFon, W.J. Miller, Bruce Riehart and Wesley Simpson.

Members' next meeting is at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 13 at Mrs. William J. Miller's home, 1812 Dogwood.

Carpenter Tools Decorate Fall Buffet For Club

WHEELER (Sp) — The Thursday Review Club met for the opening dinner in the home of Mrs. Dorothy McIlhany. Hostesses, Bernice Hall, Mona Patterson, Julia Denson, and Dorothy McIlhany, served a buffet supper.

Miniature carpenter tools, carpenter aprons and nosegays made of nails decorated the candle-lit tables.

A short skit was presented by Paula Britt, Wilma Hefley, Dot Hefley, Julia Denson, Patsy Bateman and Kathleen Cross.

The Federation Report was given by Sharon Wright. Bernice Hall presented and reviewed the yearbook "Criteria for Construction".

A short business meeting was presided over by President Dorothy McIlhany.

Guests for the evening were Nita Dunn, Tobytha Wiggins, Peggy Morgan, Phoebe Winslow and Mrs. Keith McCormick.

Members attending were Patsy Bateman, Paula Britt, Anita Brown, Mary Kay Christner, Kathleen Cross, Dot Hefley, Wilma Hefley, Geraldine Hollis, Linda Howe, Sylvia Lee, Ed Uri Luttrell, Patsy Rarden, Pam Phillips, Jane Rives, Gail Roman, Jody Thomas, Rosemary Vise, Sharon Wright and the hostesses.

The deeper the color of green (or yellow) of the vegetable, the greater its food value. When you select green vegetables, keep in mind spinach, chard, kale, broccoli, and all the dark salad greens.

A season-spanner coat to wear right now and on into late fall (left) is the natural cotton canvas with simulated bolero top. Buttoned down the front and casually tied at the waist, it's weather-treated to take storms or light showers, in stride. The new midi length is shown (right) in a cotton canvas coat colored and lined with white curly lamb-look fur. Deep-flapped patch pockets on the skirt and gleaming gold buttons and buckle add fashion touches to this zepel-treated, all-weather coat.

Football Orphaned Wives Require Strategy To Talk

NEW YORK (UPI)—Talking to one's mate during this season of televised football takes strategy. Typical husbands watch Saturday and Sunday afternoons and even some Monday evenings.

It doesn't end until January. Only a stupid woman tries to communicate with her hubby during play. She talks but he doesn't hear.

Some wives save urgent messages for the commercials. But then so many husbands are so busy eating they can't or won't pay rat attention.

Most desperate are the wives whose husbands watch two sets at once. Some of these men manage to keep tuned to a radio also.

"I think it's a terrible waste of time," a young wife told me. Her husband is a two television set, one radio man. "It gives me time to do things around the house," she said. "I cook, he eats."

Such wives ought to think how much easier it is on the budget to have their mates stretched out there in the easy chairs in the living rooms of America than to have them going out to a game.

Fresh pears are the most popular variety of pear and for good reason: They are juicy, thinskin and have a distinctive pear flavor. Pears are eating-ripe when they have a pale-to-rich yellow color.

The 9.3 million spectators of professional football games this season will pay an average of $8 per event.

If more is needed to put you in a better mood, you might consider the domestic tranquility club, sponsored by a Philadelphia brewer.

Membership is open to husbands and wives. She gets a card; he gets a card. They get a certificate describing rights and privileges. And he gets a shirt that says "authorized viewer" on the back in big red letters.

The rights include his right to enjoy unhindered, uninterrupted use of the television set during the football season. Exceptions for fire-flood and earthquake. The rights also include his right to employ body English, strong language or voodoo as required to assist team and individual players to victory. A third right entitles him to consume food, equivalent to the attendant at game. This includes mustard and napkins, but without tax, charge, tip, cover or minimum.

The wife who agrees to this pact gets something in return if she lives up to her part of the agreement "without undue noise or complaint."

She gets the right to have him available in a reasonable state of repair and relatively sound frame of mind for public and private appearances as scheduled by his wife on all non-football evenings and afternoons, September through December.

Old Reliable's Ego Suffers Low Blow

By BETTY CANARY

When I was in the hospital I talked with several women sooner than later the conversation always turned to how difficult things were for our families at home. I would sigh at intervals and murmur that I worried about my husband and children being all alone without Old Reliable to care for them. The terrible thing is that I believed what I said.

I am beginning to think that perhaps women have a conspiracy of sorts going. At the least we have worked hard at the job of convincing our families we are indispensable when it comes to their getting off to school on time or remembering to take lunch money.

Until I was home I had mental images of children in unironed blouses and tangled shoestrings. But it didn't take long for me to discover they could manage without my personal brand of supervision. I didn't suspect anything the first day or two. They allowed me to pat their cheeks and say, "Poor darlings, I'm home now, to my heart's content."

I began to grow suspicious when, by the third day, nobody had asked me to find a tennis shoe or a school book.

On the fourth day I was certain. That's the day I asked Cissy to please look in my dresser drawer for my blue bed jacket. "If I remember, it's in the top drawer," I said. "Just rummage around — it's in there somewhere."

She briskly whipped it off a hanger — in the closet. I rearranged your things while you were gone," she said.

"How thoughtful," I whispered.

"It was nothing," she assured me. "I had already done my room; ironed two blouses for school and helped clean the kitchen, so I had lots of time."

I wasn't too frightened by this. I've heard that 12-year-old girls have occasional spurts of energy. I called my youngest daughter, patted her hand and promised that in a day or two I'd feel strong enough to shampoo her hair.

"But look at it, mother," she replied. "I did it yesterday all by myself!"

My husband entered the room and I remarked in a gentle remonstrating tone, "I'll have you forgotten to take your shirts to the laundry."

"I remembered," he assured me. "By the way, I took the Winter clothes to the cleaners, too."

This is when I realized entire family had been infected. But I still tried again. I plucked weakly at the blanket and said, "I'd better get up and dinner."

"It's all ready," he said. "Get your robe and if you're up to it you can join us in the dining room."

All that coping without effected an almost instantaneous cure.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to write this letter, but I won't have any peace of mind until I have somebody's opinion.

Last Sunday I went to the train station to meet a friend. I was early so I started walking around. I noticed a middle-aged man between 45 and 55 following me. I really wasn't frightened because there were a lot of people around, but I thought if I went into a telephone booth and pretended to make a call he would go away.

When I came out of the phone booth he was waiting for me. Then he asked if he could buy me a soft drink. I snarled, "Beat it, Buddy, or I'll call a cop."

He took off without a word, but Abby, he had such a hurt look on his face. Now I'm sorry I was so mean to him. I'm usually not like that. How should I have handled this? I got to thinking that maybe he was just a poor lonely old man trying to be friendly to another human being.

GUILTY IN CHICAGO
DEAR GUILTY: And maybe he was just trying to pick you up. Don't feel guilty. Perhaps you were a bit gruff, but I think you were wise for discouraging him.

DEAR ABBY: My wife wears a blonde wig when she goes to business which makes her look 20 years younger.

I think she looks real neat in that wig, however, when she comes home, the first thing she does is take her wig off!

What I want to know is — don't I count? Why should a woman not care how she looks in front of her husband, but she tries to look very special in front of other people?

Don't you think she should wear her blonde wig at home, too?

DEAR HUSBAND: It's obvious that you have never worn a wig. It's a little like a girdle. It feels so good when you take it off. Cheer up. It's what's underneath that counts.

DEAR ABBY: Many young people write and ask if they should "go all the way" to prove their love, and the various other names applied to enjoying the privileges of marriage without accepting any of the responsibilities. May I tell my story?

On Easter Sunday evening, back in 1942, I, then a young Naval officer, sat in my car on Rock Creek Parkway, directly behind the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. With me was a young government stenographer whom I had been dating seriously for several months. Even though today's young people will think this was back in the Dark Ages, the desires of men and women haven't changed much since Adam and Eve. As the evening progressed with much hugging and passionate kissing, we both grew increasingly excited, when she suddenly drew away from me and said, "I am deeply in love with you, and I hope you feel the same about me, but if we don't stop right now I will hate you for what you will have done to me and you will abandon me because there will be nothing left. Whether I marry you or someone else, I will have broken a promise. I made to myself that I would present my body to my husband in the same condition in which God brought me into this world. Now, please take me home."

All that night I thought about what she had said. Then I realized that she was not just another conquest. We were married in June, the following year. She kept her promise to herself, and I helped her.

Now, 28 years later, we have four wonderful children, and we still find each other mutually thrilling — and thrilling.

CHARLOTTE, N.C.
DEAR CHARLOTTE: Thanks for sharing your experience with me and my readers. (Girls, commit that stenographer's speech to memory. It's beautiful. And practical, too.)

Crochet is the newest form of patchwork. A bright rainbow of colors—10 in all—form a new fashion geometry on this patchwork poncho that's worked in a single size. Crochet this and a colorful striped poncho.

Crochet Patchwork Starts Style Trend

The newest version of patchwork is like nothing grand-mother knew. It's no longer cut and sew. Today it's crochet. Crocheted patchwork is a "now" look that's bound to start a trend, not to mention a conversation every time you wear it. And if you like color, there's no better way to express yourself.

This patchwork poncho takes 10 colors to form the giant patches in front and back and the series of shoulder stripes. Make your own choices or play it safe. Suggestions of the designers for 10 beautiful brights in Scottie yarn are included with crocheting instructions.

The instruction leaflet also tells how to crochet a second poncho. This one is a seven color stripe edged with fringe. The girls will be wearing them back to school so now is the time to start crocheting.

A copy of the instruction leaflet for both poncho designs is available for 5 cents from Stitchin' Time, C-1 Radio City Station, Box 503, New York, N.Y. Include your name, address and zip code, and ask for leaflet S 196.

Knit Knacks
DEAR JUDY: I am just completing an overblouse and the directions call for picot edging around the neck and sleeves. However, I would prefer a trim that's more tailored than the scalloped effect of picot. Can you suggest one?

DEAR R.L.: A corded edging can be used in place of a picot. It's a beaded trim that forms a straight, tailored edge.

To make it, first work one row of dc. Then — and this is important — work from left to right, work in dc, inserting the hook under both horizontal threads. This crossing forms the beads of your simple trim.

—Judy Love

County HD Group Plans Fall Events

Gray County Home Demonstration Council met in the Agricultural Building with Mrs. N. A. Brien, chairman, directing the program and discussion of fall activities.

Members voted to have the annual Council luncheon from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Oct. 23 in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room. All club members are requested to bring a covered dish and Christmas suggestions with patterns of Show and Tell.

The council Christmas party will be held at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 10 in the Flame Room. Jimmie Lou Wainscott, Gray County Home Demonstration agent, will direct a training meeting on Holiday Fun — Making Candy and other desserts in the Flame Room at 9:30 a.m. Oct. 16. Two members from each home demonstration club will attend.

Mrs. Mildred Prince will present an October meeting for each home demonstration club in the council. The 14 members attending represented seven home demonstration clubs and two agents. It was announced a new club has been organized in Lefors.

Fabrics Help Save Natural Heritage

NEW YORK (NEA) — While a variety of campus groups plan national marches underscoring the urgency of rescuing the environment, others work quietly toward the same goal.

For example, a leading manufacturer of drapery and upholstery fabrics, has assigned royalties from the sale of 19 designs in its "Nature's Heritage" group to the National Wildlife Federation. The money will go to the Federation's "Youth in Conservation" program.

Thomas Kimball, NWF executive director, says, "If we could get the story of conservation across to this group which, in many cases, has no conception of what constitutes this country's natural heritage, we don't have to worry about particular areas or species to be protected. They will take care of it."

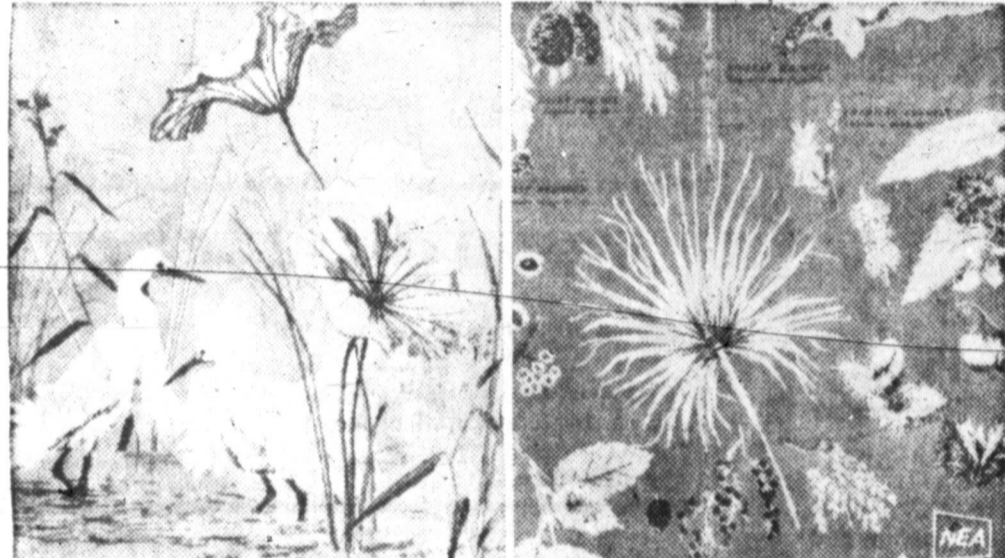

The designs are authentic reproductions of ferns, flowering trees, wildflowers and beautiful birds, most threatened with extinction. Included are wildflowers selected from the Garden Club of America's "do not pick or pick sparingly" list. These include wood anemone, Jack-in-the-pulpit, Dutchman's breaches and wild geranium, for example.

Consultant on the 18-month project was Don Eckelberry, ornithologist, foremost bird painter and conservationist. He designed "Caribbean Hummingbirds" for the collection.

An Ohioan now living on Long Island, Eckelberry laments, "As Nature is pushed back farther and farther, as we develop and pave and progress, there is more and more the sense that something vital in our way of life is being lost. Not all of our commerce is indifferent. I think we are experiencing an awakening — just in time."

And Eckelberry asks the moot question, "But what of the next generation? Are the woods and fields and bright waters so far removed already and the cities and highways so all-encompassing that which nourished and refreshed us is no longer recognized as relevant?"

Snowy Egrets (left) once faced extinction when their plumes were in great demand by the millinery trade. With protection, this graceful bird is extending its range north. Trees feeling the brunt of urban expansion and blight are pictured in a Greeff Fabric design, "A Study of Trees," from the Nature's Heritage collection. Royalties from the group go to the National Wildlife Federation "Youth in Conservation" program.

Plant Berried Shrubs To Brighten Garden

NEW YORK (Spl) — Besides colored leaves, one of the best ways to brighten and add interest to the garden is to plant trees and shrubs that produce colorful berries. Red, yellow, blue, black, pink, orange, white or purple — any of these or all of them are available in woody plants. Now is a good time to set out most of them according to garden experts — dogwoods and magnolias being the chief ones to hold back until Spring in the most northern states.

Bare-rooted, balled or camed, all can be planted now. Plant them as you would any other woody plants. With shovel or spade dig a hole larger than the diameter of the roots spread out. Then improve the soil to be returned to the hole with 10 to 20 per cent peat moss or other humus, a little slow-acting fertilizer (equivalent to 5 pounds per 100 square feet, one spade deep) and sand and lime, if needed, hoed in thoroughly.

Next partially fill the hole, tamping with your heels. Then fill it with water and when it is gone complete the filling. Finally make a basin around the plant to hold water and mulch over the entire area with 2 or 3 inches of good mulching material.

One brand new idea is to put one or more packets, according to the size of the plant, of slow-release fertilizer into the hole. These will feed the plant 3 to 5 years. Another is to incorporate a small amount of an also new coated or pelleted fertilizer into the hole. This, too, will fertilize without burning the roots.

Now for the plants themselves. If you like red berries, consider firethorns, shrub roses, English and American hollies, hawthorns, flowering dogwoods, European cranberry bushes, common barberries and a host of others. For low ground effects try bearberries and cotoneasters. In the South add such plants as nandinas and tender hollies.

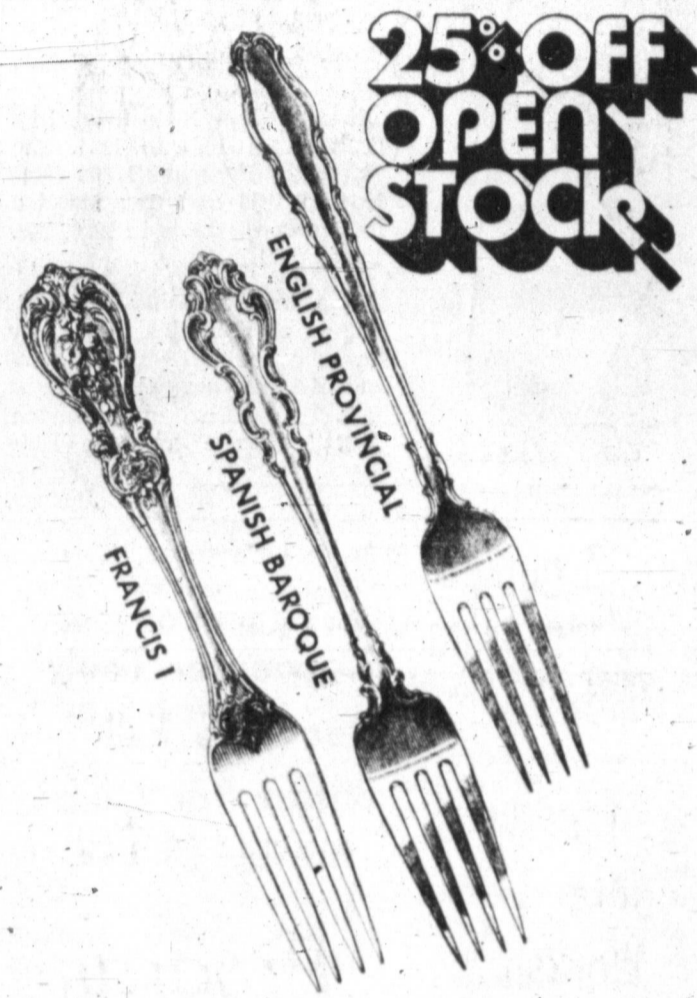

For pink berries the only common one is European euonymus.

White may be obtained from Siberian and redosier dogwoods, the white European privet or snowberries. Yellow is available in many trees and shrubs. A few are the yellow hollies and yellow cranberrybush and some crabapples.

Orange we can get with hardy oranges, some pyracanthas, bittersweet vines and some magnolias.

Finally, we can get blacks, blues and purples from shadbushes, Japanese hollies, jetbeads, Beal's hollygrapes, fringe trees and Oregon hollygrapes.

DUTCH TULIP PLANTING GUIDE

DIFFERENT FLOWER SHAPES FROM TULIP FAMILY
... botanical and hybrid plants make long flowering season

Democratic Flower Grows From Fall-Planted Bulbs

Spring in America means baseball, robins, a new Easter outfit, sunshine and flowers. And when the flowers come, the tulip is right there among the most eager harbingers of Spring.

First, though, the bulbs have to go into the ground in the Fall. Then, from April through June, there can be tulips in bloom — there are that many varieties. Some flower earlier some, later. Some are almost black they're so purple — others are as delicate pink as a twilight sky.

The tulip is truly a "democratic" flower. Probably more people enjoy tulips in the Spring than any other flower all year long. They belong to everyone. Tulips spread a rainbow of color all over the land — over gardens larger and small, through parks and along city streets.

There are striped and multicolored varieties. Some have oval flowers and others are almost square. There are tulips that grow six inches tall and others that reach a proud height of 3 feet.

Here is a sampling of the varieties of tulips available that can offer color spectacles in the garden next Spring from bulbs planted this Fall.

The Species tulips, sometimes referred to as "botanical" or "wild" tulips, include many classes, hybrids and varieties. Four of the more familiar classes are Eichleri, Fostiana, Greigi and Kaufmanniana.

They produce gaily colored flowers, some on quite short stems, and are the first tulips to bloom — sometimes as early as the crocus. These tulips are most effective planted in small clumps and are ideal for rock gardens and mixed borders.

Excellent for massing in beds and borders because of their sturdy short stems are Single Early tulips. For combined color and form, the Single Early tulips have decorative value beyond compare.

The bold attractive Double Early tulips are highly esteemed by gardeners. They are excellent for mass planting in beds and borders because of their sturdiness.

Triumph tulips produce large blossoms on strong, stiff stems which makes them still another class suitable for mass plantings in exposed situations. They are also excellent for indoor forcing. The Triumphs include a wide range of colors and they appear in the garden toward the end of April.

Darwin Hybrids were first introduced into the country after World War II. The immense, striking blooms appear in midseason, often attaining a height of 28 inches. They are a cross between Darwin and Fosteriana tulips and have the largest blossoms in the tulip family. The stately Darwin Hybrids are noted for their many brilliant shades of red.

An exceptionally striking, richly ornamental effect in Spring gardens is achieved from the feather-edged Parrot tulips. The light green foliage of Parrots contrast with the bright colors of the flower petals which range from deep maroon (almost black) to red, pink, yellow, blue and multi-colors.

Darwins are the supreme example of the tulip family, ranking first among the favorite Spring-flowering bulbs. The height, strength and beauty of Darwin tulips combine to give it so majestic an appearance that no garden should be without some. Their rich shades and colors produce an imposing effect wherever they are seen.

The late or May-flowering Cottage tulips are derived from a strain of seedling gathered from the cottage gardens of England and Ireland. Their elegant form is magnified by enchanting colors, usually of pastel shades with lighter hues prevailing. Cottage tulips have long stems and slender buds with long pointed petals.

Almost equal in size to the Darwins are the Breeder tulips. These long-lasting tulips are noted for their striking colors — orange, bronze and purple tones predominate, with some having two or three colors.

The Double Late tulips are sometimes called "peony-flowered" because of their resemblance to peonies. These tulips owe their popularity to their late-blooming — fully a month later than the Double Earlys. As their name suggests, these attractive long-stemmed flowers are full-petaled. They bloom in shades of red, violet, yellow, white and multi-colors.

Unsurpassed for their elegance and charm are the Lily-flowered tulips. They have graceful, reflexing blossoms with pointed petals on wiry, but strong, stems. Long-lasting Lily-flowered tulips come in hues of bright pink, red, rose, yellow lilac, violet and white.

Even a new gardener can succeed with tulips. All that must be remembered is that tulips must be planted during the Fall before the first hard freeze of Winter for good root development. Plant the bulbs six inches deep and six inches apart — then let Nature take its course. These hardy Dutch bulbs are practically foolproof!

Whatever tulips you select, Fall is the time to plan and plant your Spring garden.

PTA Announces Delegate List For Workshop

Woodrow Wilson Parent Teacher Association discussed the Fall Workshop during a recent meeting in the school auditorium, which Mrs. Melvin Davis, president, directed.

Delegates appointed to attend the workshop in Phillips Tuesday are Mmes. Melvin Davis, J.L. Dykes Jr., Tommy Hill and Billy Raper.

John Warner reported on the "Blue Star Project" which is being sponsored by Pampa Jaycees and the Pampa PTA City Council. In his report, Warner explained blue stars would be placed in several home windows to designate those families which would offer help to children traveling to and from school.

The school's annual Fun Night will be held Oct. 23 in the gym. Proceeds will be used for the school's 1970 project to air-condition the school building.

After the meeting, parents attended an open house.

Area Residents Attend Meeting In Groom Home

GROOM (Spl) — The Entre Nous Needle Club met in the home of Mrs. Rose Fields, for their first meeting of the season.

The afternoon was spent visiting and doing needlework. A salad course was served to three guests, Mmes. M.F. Fields, of Amarillo, Grim Goodlett and J.L. Crammer, and to the following members: Mmes. Roy Ritter, Lilla Hess, Allen Knorpp, Margie Emery, Frank Grantham, Phil Farley, Rudolph Tucker, Van Earl Steed and C.L. Ledwig.

THOSE HORRID AGE SPOTS*

FADE THEM OUT

Weathered brown spots on the surface of your hands and face tell the world you're getting old—perhaps before you really are. Fade them away with ESOTERICA, that medicated cream that breaks up masses of pigment on the skin, helps make hands look white and young again. Equally effective on the face, neck and arms. Not a cover-up. Acts in the skin—not on it. Fragrant, greaseless base for softening, lubricating skin as it clears up those blemishes. If you have those age-revealing brown spots, blotches, or if you want clearer, lighter skin, use ESOTERICA. At your favorite drug and toiletry counter. $2.00.

ESOTERICA SOAP softens skin, helps clear surface blemishes. Combats dryness.

Varietas Club Has Program On Youth

Varietas Study-Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Sherman White as Mrs. Luther Pierson, the club president, introduced the program, a panel discussion on "What the Youth are Doing in America."

"I want to begin my remarks by saying I think the majority of the youth of America are great! That is what we are going to try to bring out today — the good things the youth of today are doing," Mrs. Fred Cary said.

"I believe teenagers are more actively concerned with doing something constructive about the problems that face our country today than we were at their age," she said.

Mrs. Cary mentioned constructive activities of the youth of America, such as the Peace Corps, Vista Program, Public Health Nursing Service and Christian Ministry to Parks.

"The nation spends about $313 million annually to support youth organizations," she said.

Giving examples of youth who gave unselfishly of their time and efforts, Mrs. J.E. Kirchnerman, explained a "gang" in Ann Harbor, Mich., that was dedicated to doing good for the community, instead of destruction. Their work was done in secret.

Mrs. Cecil Dalton, the third member of the panel, spoke on the work of the 4H clubs, Boy Scouts, and individuals who were striving toward improvement of life in America.

Members attending were Mmes. W.E. Abernathy, Fred Cary, Cecil Dalton, Price Dosier, N.B. Ellis, S.C. Evans, J.E. Gibson, Lee Harrah, J.E. Kirchnerman, R.W. Lane, Luther Pierson, Ralph Thomas, Dewitt Seago, W.H. Burden and the hostess, Mrs. White.

Pampa Sorority Attends Program On Polar Regions

Xi Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the Citizens Bank and Trust Company Hospitality Room to start activities for Fall programs.

Members plan to attend the Area I convention in Plainview Oct. 17-18 and are working on plans for the October Harvest Ball.

Mrs. Bill Greer and Mrs. Wendell Maloney presented the program on "The Polar Regions," a film on the Arctic and Antarctic.

Those attending the meeting were Meses. Bill Baten, Dwayne Blakemore, Chuck Zlomke, Don Carpenter, Woody Crawshaw, T.L. Garner, Bill Greer, Homar Hollars, Don Huffacker, David Hutto, Buddy Lamberson, James Lee, Wendell Maloney, James Schaffer, Don Stafford, Benny Stout, Dick Wilson, Dorothy Francis, Jack Vaughn, Miss Norma Briden and a guest, Mrs. H.D. Lawrence. Hostesses were Miss Briden and Mrs. Garner.

Members will meet at 8 p.m. Oct. 12 in the Hospitality Room for another program.

Move Plants Indoors Before Frost Hits

DAYTON (OHIO)—With the approach of cold weather the time has come to take inside any plants that have been outdoors for the summer. In fact, one should not wait. Take them indoors now before the heat is turned on so they can become acclimated to indoor conditions first.

If the pots have been plunged into the soil, dig them out carefully with a shovel or spade and cut off any roots that have come through the bottom of the pot. Then, using a stiff vegetable brush plus soap and water, if necessary, clean off the pots.

Only now can you turn your attention to the plants. Cut off any shoots that are long and rangy. Then ocean out broken or diseased parts and shape the plants as the need indicates.

The next step is the most important of all, for no plants should be taken indoors harboring insects. Spray the plants thoroughly, covering both tops and bottoms of the leaves with either a pressurized can or small compressed air, hand sprayer. In the case of the pressurized can, especially, two important points must be kept in mind!

Be sure you buy an indoor house plant spray, not an all-purpose household type which will kill insects but might injure the plants too. Secondly, do not hold it closer than 18 inches from the plants, for the propellant, which is frequently a refrigerant like freon, might freeze the plants.

Now you are ready to move the plants. If possible, place them on a sheltered, screened or partially glassed porch as an intermediate step to acclimate them to indoor conditions more gradually. After a week or 10 days the plants can be sprayed once more especially if there is any evidence that they were not completely cleaned up the first time.

Gamma Conclave Names Members To Committees

Gamma Conclave of Kappa Kappa Kappa Sorority sponsored a program titled "Torch Lighting Time," with Meses. Houston Price, W.K. Mackey, Truett Ross and Miss Alma Wilson as co-hostesses.

Members met in the City Club room as the president, Mrs. Price Smith, presided. Mrs. L.B. Penick reported on the national convention in Atlanta, Ga., in June.

Mrs. D.L. Mackie, Mrs. G.M. Walls and Mrs. Wendell Watson were named to compile the pressbook. Mrs. Roy McMillen and Mrs. W.A. Rankin will represent the sorority at the Council of Clubs. Mrs. J.E. Tatum was named empathy chairman.

The serving table was covered with a green cloth and centered with a slate in an arrangement of red apples interspersed with long white sticks of chalk. Mrs. W.K. Mackey presided at the coffee service.

Mrs. James Poole will be hostess for an October meeting. Those attending the meeting in City Club Room were Meses. D.V. Biggers, Perry Gaut, J.E. Gunn, Jarvis Johnson, Mackey, Mackie, McMillen, LeRoy Morris, M.Z. Morris, Donald Nensiel, W.L. Parker, Penick, J.R. Poston, Price, Truett Ross, Austin Ruddick, Smith, Roy Sportsman, Tatum, Walls, Watson and Miss Wilson.

Rho Eta Sponsors Autumn Programs

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority recently met in the Hospitality Room of the Citizen's Bank for the second monthly meeting and also sponsored a rush party.

The program entitled "Speech" was presented by Mrs. Georgia Mack assisted by Mrs. Randall Cross, Mrs. Tommy Hill, and Mrs. Sonny Golden.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Jack Eddins. The table was appointed with an Autumn centerpiece.

Mrs. Randall Cross won an artificial fruit basket arrangement. Members attending were Meses. Robert Benyshek, Gary Clark, Randall Cross, James Cunningham, Jack Eddins, Sonny Golden, Richard Gordon, Tommy Hill, Carlos Nunez, and Mrs. Georgia Mack, chapter director.

The chapter's rush party was held in Pam Cel Hall at Celanese. Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham won the prize for high score and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Manning for low score in the chapter games. Mr. and Mrs. Terry Joe Haralson won the guest prize.

Mrs. Tommy Hill, chairman of the membership committee, planned the social aided by chapter members. Decorations of candlelight and other Italian accents carried out the theme.

Guests were Meses. and Meses. Ronnie Cline; Dick Handley; Terry Haralson, Jay Manning, Randy Phillips, Riley Walters, and Miss Jana Cole.

Members and husbands were Meses. and Meses. Robert Benyshek, Gary Clark, Randall Cross, James Cunningham, Eddie Dicken, Sonny Golden, Tommy Hill, and Mrs. Richard Gordon.

One of the primary causes of the skyrocketing costs of Medicare and Medicaid has been inflated fees charged for medical services. The Senate committee has evidence that payments under Medicare run two to four times higher than payments by private insurers in the same geographic area for the same services.

Teachers' Chapter To Attend Meet

Beta Delta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met in the City Club Rooms to start the 1970-71 club year and to discuss the regional Delta Kappa Gamma meeting.

Mrs. Mangold, Alma Lane, Oleta Martin, Miss Nova Mayo and Laura Penick were hostesses for the social hour.

Mrs. Wilsam Hill, president, presented the group's work and study agenda. Mrs. Willie Mae Mangold, gave the yearbook report; Mrs. Fay Watson, personal growth; and Mrs. Betty Tom Graham, initiation.

Members will attend the regional meeting Oct. 10 at Clarendon Junior College. The program will start at 8:30 a.m. with registration and a coffee. Yearbooks for the Beta Delta Chapter will be distributed at the meeting.

Our best physicians and hospitals have always provided low-cost care to those in need. They should continue to do so and refuse to accept government subsidies. Otherwise they may soon find themselves under complete government control.

The federal subsidy of Medicaid in 1969 will total approximately $278 million. The combined state and federal cost next year is expected to reach $8 billion.

another new travel idea
by Santa Fe

"FLEXI-FARE" is Santa Fe's new one-class fare for travel in sleeping car or chair car

This new idea makes it easy and flexible for you to travel Santa Fe.

Easy because you need only our one class rail fare. If you desire to travel in sleeping car you pay for the sleeping accommodations you use, or for reserved seat in chair car, but no additional rail fare.

This new idea helps keep your travel plans flexible, too, because you can travel sleeping car in one direction and chair car in the other, with no change in your rail ticket. Or, if space is available en route, you can change from chair car to sleeper by paying for sleeping accommodations.

"FLEXI-FARE" is another of the many ideas Santa Fe offers to make your trips better than ever, such as: family fares, Chico Tours, charge privileges (Master Charge, an Interbank Card or BankAmericard), and one price tickets covering all major travel expenses, including meals, on most of our trains.

Chico invites you to break away for a friendly trip on the scenic and comfortable Santa Fe by taking advantage of our new one-class FLEXI-FARE.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
 Pampa Youth and Community Center

JUDO BEGINS—The Center will offer a new class in beginners judo starting Monday night, Oct. 12 at 7:00 p.m. In order to better organize this class and to relate to parents and participants there will be a demonstration meeting on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 4 at 3:00 in the Center gym. At this time Paul Moot and some of his judo classmates will give a demonstration as to what judo really is. Parents and boys may ask questions and be better informed.

The cost of taking judo is very nominal. You need only be a man or boy 8 years of age or older and be a member of the Center. You may join the Center for 6 months or a year. The cost is only $5 for six months or $6 per year. Paul and Sam Moot will instruct all the classes.

WOMEN'S SWIM AND EXERCISE TIME—Now that you have the children in school season, you will want to come and join the other women in our exercise and swim classes. This program is strictly for women only and meets on Monday and Friday at 9:30 a.m. The women go through a 30 minute exercise class and then top this off with a swim period until 11:30 a.m. You may participate in either or both of these classes.

The only requirement that we have is that you be a Center member. We do have a baby sitting service now. For 50 cents you may leave your child with an attendant all morning and enjoy a morning without any cares.

SWIM LESSONS—The swim program is really in full swing now for the school year and you will want to check the classes below and enroll as soon as possible. The classes meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 4 to 5 p.m. or 5-6 p.m. Classes are under the direction of Mrs. Jackie Marlar, our resident water safety instructor. Enrollment is free to Center members and $4 to non-members.

DOLPHIN SWIM CLUB—The Center Swim club has been reorganized now and some 29 persons were on hand Monday to start in the competitive program. This club is open to all boys and girls interested in swimming competitively. All you need do is join the Center or be a member and come to the workouts. A family membership is required in this category. Workouts are Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays from 6-7 p.m.

The Dolphin Swim Club is also interested in obtaining a swim coach. If you are qualified to direct swimmers or a swim club and have the time from 6-7 open, we would like to hear from you.
