

"I hate to see things done by halves. If it be right, do it boldly. If it be wrong leave it undone."
—Bernard Gilpin

The Pampa Daily News

Serving The Top O' Texas 63 Years

WEATHER

PAMPA AND VICINITY—
Forecast calls for clear to partly cloudy today, tonight and Wednesday. Winds light and variable becoming southwesterly 8-18 mph Wednesday. High yesterday 68, low last night 46. High today mid 70s, low tonight upper 40s, and high Wednesday low 80s.

VOL. 63—NO. 168

Circulation Certified by ABC Audit

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1970

(14 PAGES TODAY)

Week Days 100
Sundays 11c

KSU Leaders Taken On Indictments

FOR ATHLETIC TRIPS

Trustees Question Charter Bus Trips

By Wanda Mae Huff
Pampa School Trustees, faced with "repeated violations of board policy," concerning use of charter buses for school trips, agreed Monday night to consider a solution at its November meeting.

Athletic Director Swede Lee and Bill Harris, president of the Harvester Club, petitioned the board to change board policy on charter buses for out-of-town athletic trips.

Supt. Dr. James F. Malone explained the present policy, adopted in 1967, stated charter buses could be used for a school-sponsored trip if the distance was more than 125 miles one way.

"When competing for the championship, we should use every means available to insure victory to our team," Malone said.

Like this, but once every six years, and are in the running for championship now. We have two games left, both to play Amarillo teams," Lee said.

"We also understand two unpaid bills were presented to Pampa High School for chartered buses to Hereford and Plainview, and we need to know if the bills are going to be paid by the district, or if the Harvester Booster Club will need to take up a collection to pay them," Harris said.

After Harris asked if a private group would be allowed to pay for a private bus on the remaining two football trips, two board members, Warren Hasse and Jimmy Thompson, said they had no objection as long as this was not violating University Interscholastic League Rules and as long as the bus and driver were covered by proper insurance.

When John Gikas, board member, stated "the board feels it is a matter of insubordination, whether the athletic director or superintendent, to charter buses for a distance less than 125 miles," no board member voiced objection to his statement.

"It seems I'm in a situation in violation of a code. Maybe that's true, but athletics are a more competitive, exhausting sport than any other school activity. When I chartered the bus to Plainview, I studied what I thought was official board policy, and did not find that charter buses were limited to less than 125 miles from home," Lee said.

"On the Plainview trip, since Dr. Malone was out of town, (See TRUSTEES, Page 2)

Eye Doctor, Four Others Murdered In California

SOQUEL, Calif. (UPI)—Firemen answering a call to a blazing mansion atop a remote hilltop overlooking the Pacific Ocean on Monday night found the bodies of a rich eye doctor and four other persons in a swimming pool.

Sheriff Douglas James of Santa Cruz County called it the "most gruesome crime in country history" and declared there was "ample evidence of both arson and foul play."

All the victims had been shot in the back and bludgeoned. Their hands had been tied in front of them with scarfs.

The victims were Dr. Victor M. Ohta, 45; who practiced in nearby Santa Cruz; his wife, Virginia, 43; their sons, Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11; and the physician's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

First word of the killing came from Chief Ted Pound of the Live Oak Fire Department which had been called to the 2-year-old mansion isolated among trees four miles north of state Highway 1 between Santa Cruz and Watsonville, south of San Francisco.

Chief Pound told sheriff's deputies that bloody smears led his men to the swimming pool where the bodies were found.

AN UNFAMILIAR scene on the Coronado Inn Monday afternoon was the red and white helicopter used by the Barnes, Sherman-Cates campaign swing around the Panhandle. Pictured here greeting Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes are from the right, Joe Batson of Amarillo, Democratic committeeman, Barnes, Mrs. Ruth Osborne, district committeewoman and Harold Comer, chairman of the Gray County Democratic Executive Committee. (Staff Photo)

Officials Questionin 'Peaceful Powers'

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—A former Kent State University student became the fifth person, taken into custody after being indicted by a special state grand jury that investigated the fatal shooting of four students last spring.

Larry A. Shub, 19, of Cleveland Heights, indicted on charges of first and second degree riot and an attempt to burn property, surrendered at the Portage County Sheriff's office in nearby Ravenna. He was accompanied by his father and a brother.

Four persons were arrested Monday, including Craig Morgan, Kent student body president and senior Air Force ROTC cadet who had urged his fellow students to follow the motto "Power to the Peaceful."

The Kent faculty senate passed a resolution calling for a grand jury investigation into last May's incidents at the school because "the special grand jury exceeded 'life boundaries of its legal responsibility.'"

"The grand jury report exempts from prosecution the National Guard and ignores state officials whose decisions and actions we believe contributed to the slaying of the four Kent State students," the council said.

The 20,000 student campus reacted with shock to the arrest of Morgan, a senior Air Force ROTC cadet. More of the 25 persons named in secret indictments by a special state grand jury were expected to be arrested today.

William M. Kunstler, the lawyer who defended the Chicago Seven, said here Monday night he would send several lawyers to co-ordinate the defense of "the Kent 25."

Morgan pleaded innocent to a second-degree riot and was released on $1,000 bond. Others arrested Monday were Dr. Thomas S. Lough, 42, associate professor of sociology; Jerry H.

Rupe, 22, and Richard C. Felber, 21, of Akron.

Felber and Rupe, former students now serving jail terms on drug convictions, were charged in connection with the burning of the campus ROTC Building May 2. Lough was released on $5,000 bond on a charge of inciting to riot May 4, the day four Kent State students were slain in a confrontation with National Guardsmen.

James Nuber, a senior from Canton, Ohio and Morgan's executive assistant in the student government, said:

"Craig's just not a radical. A lot of kids are uptight. They figure if Craig goes, who next?"

Morgan, 21, of Upper Arlington, had urged students to heal the scars of last spring's tragedy by involving themselves in constructive activities this fall, under the slogan: "Power to the Peaceful."

"Truthfully, we are a little shocked" at Morgan's arrest, said a spokesman for the administration.

EMERGENCY DECLARED

Canadian Martyr Buried In Montreal

MONTREAL (UPI)—Canada today buries its martyr in the cause of Canadian unity, Pierre LaPorte, while the search intensified for his killers and the kidnappers of British diplomat James L. Cross.

Canadian political figures including Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and opposition leaders from Ottawa, were joining LaPorte's family in paying final respects to the Quebec labor minister murdered Saturday, one week after his abduction by the Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ).

At the request of LaPorte's wife, Francoise, the simple funeral at 4 p.m. EDT at Notre Dame cathedral in Montreal was to be private. Extraordinary security, including the 4,000 federal troops mobilized Thursday by Trudeau, were poised for possible FLQ trouble.

Meanwhile, 9,000 police from throughout Quebec pressed their search for three men wanted as suspects in the kidnappings of Cross and LaPorte. Since Trudeau Friday decreed emergency war powers broadening police powers and suspending some Canadian civil rights, authorities have seized without charges 341 suspected FLQ leaders and sympathizers in 1,627 raids throughout Quebec.

They have failed to find the kidnapers or Cross, who was abducted from his suburban Montreal home Oct. 5 by armed members of the FLQ. Apparently he still is alive, for he sent a communique to police Sunday begging them to call off their search and accede to FLQ demands.

The Canadian government waited for word from the FLQ to its standing offer for safe passage to Cuba for the kidnapers. If the abductors agree, they would bring Cross to the Concordia Bridge over the St. Lawrence River at the site of Expo '67, Montreal's World's Fairgrounds.

There the kidnapers would turn Cross over to the Cuban Consul, hop into a waiting helicopter for the short ride to Montreal International Airport, then aboard a one-way flight to Havana. Cross would be released when the kidnapers arrived in Cuba.

But the FLQ has ignored the offer made Saturday night by Quebec Premier Robert Bourassa at about the same time police discovered the bloody body of LaPorte stashed in the trunk of the auto in which he had been kidnapped. The FLQ has demanded release of 23 political prisoners and $500,000 gold in ransom for Cross.

Trudeau and Bourassa were men deeply men deeply of LaPorte's funeral. Both leaders were close personal friends of LaPorte, as well as being his political colleague.

Parliament Monday gave overwhelming endorsement to Trudeau's assumption of war powers. By a vote of 190-16, the House of Commons approved a resolution supporting Trudeau's decision to outlaw the FLQ and to continue his extraordinary powers until April 30, 1971, unless revoked earlier by Parliament.

In Washington, D.C., the State Department said it has cautioned U.S. diplomats in Canada to take "special precautions" against kidnappings, in light of the LaPorte-Cross abductions that have plagued Canada into turmoil.

Green Beret Exonerated

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Army has prepared a report exonerating Green Beret Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald of the slayings of his wife and two young daughters, a defense attorney claims.

Bernard L. Segal, the lawyer, said Monday Army investigative officers in the case had recommended charges against MacDonald be dropped.

Segal, contended his client was entitled to a copy of the report under the Uniform Code of Military Justice. He said he had seen a copy of the document on a visit to Ft. Bragg, N.C., where the pre-trial hearing took place.

The Army charged the captain May 1 with the slaying of his pregnant wife, Collette, 26, and their two daughters, Kimberly, 6, and Kristen Jean, 2, in their Ft. Bragg apartment Feb. 17. MacDonald himself was seriously stabbed.

At the pre-trial hearing, MacDonald said his wife and daughters were beaten and stabbed by three young men and a young woman who chanted "acid is groovy; kill the pigs."

Arizona Warning Given On Voting

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Supreme Court arguments over the new federal law dropping the voting age to 18 have ended with a warning from the state of Arizona that "breaking the Constitution for a good purpose" could be the first step in the nation's downfall.

The statement came Monday from Arizona Attorney General Gary K. Nelson II who said he personally has worked for a lower voting age—but that a constitutional amendment was the way to do it. Congress chose to drop the voting age and ease other voting requirements, not by amendment, but by passing the Voting Rights Act of 1970.

The court was expected to make an early decision on the law's constitutionality because the new voting age is scheduled to go into effect with the start of the new year. If the law stands, an estimated 10 million more Americans would be enfranchised. In Georgia and Kentucky 18 is already the legal voting age.

DAY-LONG SWING

Ben Barnes Barnstorms Around Panhandle Area

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

"I'm not making many campaign promises on this tour," Democrat Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said, as he stepped to the microphone in the Coronado Inn Monday evening. "But there is one I am going to make and see that it is kept."

"I am going to introduce a motion that these young people (Barnes indicated with a sweep of his hand the Sing Out Pampa group traveling with him for the day) be invited to the state capitol in Austin to sing before the legislature in January."

"And to insure that it is done. Right now I'm asking Jerry Sims and Euster Carter to provide the necessary financing," Barnes concluded.

His announcement was met with shouts of surprise and happiness by the more 80 "Sing Out" Pampans, who had spent the day with incumbent Barnes, who is seeking another term as lieutenant governor; Max Sherman of Amarillo, candidate for the state senate and Phil Cates seeking a state representative post. They had visited seven Panhandle cities during the day.

There was a sparse turnout of partisan members of the Democrat Party for the Barnes reception. Among them were most of the local candidates seeking election this year.

In an interview later with Barnes, at a dinner before he boarded the helicopter again for a jaunt to Amarillo to speak before the Jaycees there, Barnes detailed some of the visions he has for his second term as lieutenant governor.

In capsule form, Barnes cited the low tax rate of $234 per capita for Texans in a one-party state as opposed to New York and California, where the per capita tax rate is $468 and $513, respectively.

"You have a party trying to spend money trying to stay in power, and you have another party spending money to get into power. Both parties spend money to perpetuate their power. And it is the taxpayer who pays the tab," Barnes said. "And the government becomes more labored under the burden."

Barnes said he thought it imperative that the state and counties be re-districted. "And if they don't do it, the courts will," he added.

CONFERENCE ANNOUNCED

Nixon Will Meet With Soviets Foreign Minister Gromyko

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Nixon will meet Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in Washington Thursday for discussions aimed at easing the current tensions in Soviet-American relations.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers announced the meeting Monday night, after conferring with Gromyko for two hours and 45 minutes. "This meeting, like any meeting, we hope will play a part in better understanding," Rogers said.

Nixon had considered the possibility of meeting Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin at the United Nations. But Kosygin canceled his projected visit to the United Nations, reportedly because of a deterioration of Soviet-American relations.

Although Rogers and Gromyko still were at a stand-off over the missile violations and prospects of resuming Arab-Israeli peace contacts were dim, they apparently laid to rest the incipient crisis over Soviet Naval construction at Cienfuegos Harbor in Cuba.

U.S. delegation officials gave this account of Rogers' second meeting with Gromyko at which, they said, the atmosphere was better than at the first encounter Friday night.

The Middle East—Rogers and Gromyko remained at loggerheads over the reported Soviet-Egyptian missile violations. No compromise solution emerged for "rectifying" that situation. But it seemed increasingly likely that the Middle East cease-fire would be extended on a day-to-day basis. The Soviet Union indicated that it would like Arab-Israeli talks under the auspices of U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring to resume, although when this might take place remains unclear.

The Four-Power talks on Berlin—the two foreign ministers cleared up a misunderstanding over the Soviet position at these talks, scheduled to meet again in November. While the nature of the misunderstanding was not specified,

'Talking Dog' Turns Out To Be A Barker

It was thought for awhile this forenoon Pampa might be the home of a talking dog.

A news reporter was startled when he read this brief notation among the police reports:

"Complainant advised that a bird-dog down the street had been barking for several days and to send someone to talk to him."

For a moment, the reporter wondered what the dog had to say when police arrived.

Further investigation revealed police did "talk to him" but the "him" was the complainant not the dog.

All of which sent a talking dog feature story down the drain.

Melcher Testifies Manson Not Singer

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Terry Melcher, son of actress Doris Day, listened to the songs of hippie cult leader Charles Manson but decided they were not worth commercial recordings.

Gregg Jakobson, an associate of Melcher's in the music business, told the Tate murder trial Monday that Melcher went twice to the Spahn Ranch after he recommended the hippie cult leader and his girls as a good "package."

Actress Sharon Tate and four other persons were killed in August, 1969, at the Beverly Hills residence where Melcher once had lived. The selection of the Tate home for mass murder has been one of the obscurities of the 18-week trial.

Jakobson was scheduled to testify again today under cross examination by Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek.

Kanarek suggested to Jakobson that he was "putting on" Manson in his hopes of becoming a recording star so that Jakobson could have sex relations with girls at the Spahn Ranch. Jakobson denied that was true.

Jakobson testified that Manson once spoke of Negroes "ripping off some white families." Kanarek inquired how he could remember the occasion so clearly.

"I remember the sky and the sun and the girls and the motorcycles and the hills and the music and guitars and I thought what a wonderful scene it would make for a movie," Jakobson said.

Avid Fan Wins Grid Contest

(See Story/Picture on Page 11)
John McGuire of 1820 North Zimmers, Pampa, won last week's Football Contest sponsored by the Pampa Daily News and 17 local merchants.

McGuire missed only one game, the White Deer vs. Sunray game not being counted because it ended in a tie score. McGuire took the Houston Oilers over Pittsburgh for his only incorrect guess.

Eight entrants missed two games each, therefore second and third places had to be decided on the basis of the tie-breaker scores.

Earl Crouch, 2705 Rosewood, Pampa, was awarded second place. He predicted Pampa would win 21-15 over Caprock. The actual score was Pampa 25, Caprock 15.

Two entrants, Mark Clapp, 1913 North Dwight, and Skip Sumners, 861 East Frederic, tied on the point spread of the Pampa-Caprock score. On the basis of the second tie-breaker, Clapp was declared winner of third place.

Others who missed only two games were: Mike Mytryk, Jerry Braddock, Lupe Hernandez, Bill Browning, all of McLean.

Pampa, and J. D. Alexander of McLean.

This week's contest page appears elsewhere in this issue. Circle the teams you think will win and get your entry in before 7-p.m. this Friday. You may well be one of this week's winners.

INSIDE TODAY'S NEWS

	Pages
Abby	3
Classified	13
Comics	10
Crossword	7
Jeanne Dixon	8
Editorial	12
On the Record	4
Sports	11
Women's News	3-9
TV Log	10
Business Page	5

Air conditioner covers — We measure, install. Pampa Tent & Awning, 317 W. Brown, 658-8541. (Adv)

Stewardesses Walk And TWA Cancels

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Trans World Airlines canceled all domestic flights today following a walkout of 5,400 stewardesses and stewards.

The airline said it would attempt to operate about 20 international flights with supervisory personnel, but a spokesman said a final decision would be made today on the transatlantic and transpacific flights.

Picket lines appeared at major air terminals at 12:01 a.m. EDT today after last-minute negotiations between the airline and the Transport Workers Union reached an impasse. TWA President F. C. Webb immediately announced cancellation of domestic flights.

Another negotiating session at National Mediation Board headquarters was scheduled for 1 p.m. EDT today.

There was no immediate indication what issues remained unresolved after the Monday night session, but federal mediator Francis A. O'Neil Jr. said the two sides had succeeded in resolving a great majority of the issues.

The stewardesses, stewards and in-flight service managers, who have worked without a contract for 17 months, have demanded wage increases up to 30 per cent and improved fringe benefits including more expensive money and maternity leave along with better hours and working conditions.

Union spokesman Margo Whyte said the Airline Pilots Association and the International Association of Machinists agreed to honor the stewardess picket lines, along with another branch of the TWU representing dispatchers and meteorologists.

PRETTY, 15-year-old Shermette Stephens, 1800 N. Zimmers has been named one of the semi-finalists in the Miss Teenage America Pageant to be held Dec. 5 in Fort Worth. (Staff Photo)

Bentsen Rips Nixon On Oil Curtailment

BORGER, Tex. (UPI) — U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. accused the Nixon administration today of curtailing expansion of the Texas oil and gas industry which he said already has brought about a shortage of natural gas.

The Democratic nominee told supporters in this rich oil and gas country President Nixon "has been trying to curry favor with consumers of the Northeast" with punitive measures against oil producing states like Texas.

"But ironically the same people they have been trying to protect now have become victims of an energy crisis," Bentsen told supporters at a coffee at the Hotel Borger.

He blamed much of the natural gas shortage on gas price fixing policies of the Federal Power Commission. Bentsen advocated legislation to take away the power of the FPC to regulate natural gas prices.

"We must do this in order to stabilize the Texas economy and our revenue picture," he said. "After all our permanent school fund has been built on oil and gas revenues and 221 school districts receive more than 50 per cent of their revenue from this source."

Bentsen pointed out the oil depletion allowance was cut during the Nixon administration and said a Presidential task

Vandals Damage School Interior

Two more cases of vandalism were listed in police reports today.

Horace Mann school was broken into, according to Sam Begert, principal. The vandals sprayed walls with a fire extinguisher and marked them with obscenities.

Food was scattered in the cafeteria and report cards stolen from teachers' desks.

Harlan Keating, 1601 Williston, said windows had been broken out of a house he had just bought at that address.

An abandoned truck, parked on the west side of City Hall since August, finally was hauled off to storage yesterday.

Police said the license number was traced to an Amarillo man but he could not be located.

Bill Campbell, 723 Campbell, a newspaper delivery boy, was bitten by a dog while making collections around 7 p.m. Monday. Police said the dog had been vaccinated, but ordered the owner to keep it chained up.

Police still were trying today to learn what happened to a $20 bill Steve Casey accidentally dropped while making a deposit yesterday in a downtown bank.

Casey said he moved from one teller's window to another and discovered the loss immediately.

However, a woman he said was standing with a $20 bill in her hand at the window he just left denied any knowledge of his loss.

Pampa 'Soph' Entered In MTAP Contest

Shermette Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.L. Stephens, 1800 N. Zimmers, has been named one of the semi-finalists in the Miss Teenage America Pageant and is now awaiting word if she will be selected as finalist for the competition to be held Dec. 5 in Fort Worth.

Shermette is in the 10th grade at Pampa High School, where she maintains an "A" average. She is five-foot-one-inch in height, weighs 97 pounds and has blonde hair.

Shermette's talent specialties are musical. She lists flutist and pianist among them and will probably play the flute in the talent competition.

She lists water skiing, dancing, dance-skating, motorcycle riding and reading among her hobbies.

She obtained 27 merit badges in Girl Scouting, where she attained the rank of Cadette Scout. She is on an inactive status presently with the Order of the Rainbow for Girls, but had held the Fidelity station and choir director while active.

She was a member of the Hep Cat Club, where she held the office of treasurer.

While at Lee Junior High, she served on the student council and maintained honor roll grades throughout.

Shermette is currently homeroom secretary of her sophomore class and is a member of the PHS Pep Squad.

Her family is backing her solidly in the Miss Teenage American Contest. In fact, it was her 12-year-old brother, Clay, who persuaded her to enter.

Clay had a dream one night that his sister won the contest, even before she had entered it.

Now, Shermette is setting about to make her brother's dream come true.

Stock Market Quotations

Close Open High Low Last
Oct	28.85	28.87	29.85	29.85
Nov	29.17	29.12	29.17	29.12
Dec	29.47	29.40	29.42	29.40
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Nov	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Dec	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jan	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Feb	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Mar	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Apr	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
May	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jun	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Jul	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Aug	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Sep	30.42	30.40	30.42	30.42
Oct	30.42	30.40	3

Washington Window

By STEWART HENSLEY
 UPI Diplomatic Reporter
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon obviously believes that foreign policy is one of his administration's strongest talking points in a campaign where Republicans are meeting difficulties on other fronts — inflation for one.

The President is campaigning in behalf of Republican hopefuls with a flat promise that "the Vietnam war is coming to an end."

And he says that with adequate congressional support he has a chance of giving the electorate "not just peace for the next election but peace for the next generation."

These might appear to be overly optimistic predictions in view of the facts that Hanoi has rejected Nixon's peace plan as a fraud and the American peace initiative in the Middle East has bogged down with no breakthrough in sight.

However, the President's promises on Vietnam acquire a certain credibility because of the fact that he has withdrawn 165,000 U.S. troops from the conflict there since July 1969.

and plans to pull out an additional 100,000 by next May 1. This will leave just half of the approximately 550,000 American servicemen in the war theater that he found there when he assumed office.

It is against this background that Nixon's new peace plan has been a domestic political success even in the face of Communist assertions that they will never consider the plan and that they expected Hanoi and the Viet Cong to turn it down at first but to decide eventually to negotiate on it.

Many administration officials privately acknowledge that the peace plan may never get anywhere. However, they claim that Nixon's political promises are valid because peace for the Americans, at least, eventually will be achieved by "Vietnamization" of the war, turning it all over to South Vietnam.

Quotes In The News

By United Press International
 MONTREAL—A note from British diplomat James R. Cross whose kidnapers are being hunted by police: "The success of this search would be my death warrant."

DETROIT—Sen. Philip A. Hart, contending all gasolines are alike: "The consumer is well advised to buy gasoline—at least regular—wherever he finds it the cheapest as long as the service suits him."

BIRMINGHAM, England—The city medical examiner discussing American motorists: "The average American driver is very much an unimaginative, conditioned type. He displays little competitive spirit. He regards his car as an extension of his home. It is a mobile room."

CLASSIFIED ADS
 GET RESULTS
 PHONE 669-2525

SHE'S RESERVED. Carol Earp (left) salutes after enrolling in Air Force ROTC at University of North Carolina. Miss Earp, first woman to join Carolina program, will attend classes in aerospace studies and participate in drill along with her male counterparts.

Woman Heads State-Wide Prison System

AUGUSTA, Maine (UPI)—"The females of the species always stand out when they do something that's in the male competitive world... legal or illegal."

So says Miss Ward E. Murphy, making news in the legal circles as the first woman in the nation's history to head up a state-wide correctional system. She is in charge of five state institutions and the Division of Probation and Parole in Maine.

When it comes to the illegal, Miss Murphy sees the woman criminal somewhere on the scene "in almost every instance of a major crime."

"They might assist in the planning, pick up the pieces afterward, or take care of the wounds," she said in an interview.

The woman criminal is not to be underestimated—"They (the women) have always been as able," she said. Nor is she something new. "You go back in history and some of the most renowned criminals that have had nationwide publicity have been women ...

don't know the Ma Barker series or Tokyo Rose."

In the past, however, the type of offenses committed by men and women usually were different, she said. "But the changing social moves and structure in our society have lessened the differential between offenses that men and women are committing."

"Women," she continued, "have always been involved in occasional acting out of aggressive cases, but they are much more unusual than the male counterpart on a nationwide basis."

Six Men to Every Woman
 The Detroit, Mich., native explained that there usually are six men (criminals) in public for every woman, and there is even a larger proportion of men in the correctional systems.

"I think that the participation on a social level is becoming more equal (between men and women)," she said. "With the social level of the culture being more active, you are having more acting out of behavior than is acceptable to the establishment of this particular group (women)."

Miss Murphy, 45, is a veteran of more than 20 years in the field of corrections, serving in Detroit, Washington, D.C., and working for the federal Bureau of Prisons.

In Maine, she was superintendent of the Women's Correction Center for nine years before being appointed to her present post less than three months ago.

McALLEN, Tex. (UPI)—McAllen Fire Chief Jerold Weaver said Friday he thinks a Molotov cocktail started one of three fires in downtown McAllen Thursday night.

The first fire started at a construction site, the second gutted a parked car beside a federal building and the third broke out in a Dempster Dumpster. Weaver said the first fire may have been started by someone throwing a bottle of gasoline with a wick attached.

Classified Ads
 Get Results
 Phone 669-2525

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—When I learned a few weeks ago that there was an English organization called the Fairy Investigation Society whose members "sincerely hold the fairy faith," I sent in a request for some of its literature.

Specifically, I asked for a copy of the society's newsletter which was said to contain reports of "recent fairy sightings."

My reason for doing so was, I assure you, completely honorable and legitimate, reflecting a two-fold scientific curiosity:

1. I have long had a theory that many of the so-called "flying saucers" and other unidentified flying objects sighted in this country actually are fairies. But since the fairy faith is very weak in America, that possibility was overlooked by the U.S. Air Force in its investigation of the UFO phenomenon.

Sightings are Similar
 It occurred to me that if the fairy sightings described in the society's bulletin closely resembled the UFO sightings, then there would be grounds for demanding that the Air Force reopen the investigation.

2. I wanted to determine whether the fairies sighted by members of the society were identical to the one I saw fitting about my rose garden in the gloaming of St. Swithin's Day a couple of years ago.

If so, this would lend credence to the belief that English fairies are attempting to establish a colony in America without going through customs.

Regrettably, however, I neglected to mention any of this in my letter to the society. Consequently, the Society's London representative who replied to my inquiry was basically uncommunicative.

"I would have been more helpful, perhaps, if you could have said more about the nature of your interest (e.g. whether you have experiences which you wish to share)," he said.

Society Has Suffred
 "... Of late it (the society) has suffered much from unwelcome publicity, hence the desire to preserve a certain reserve."

He also reported that the society had ceased publication of the newsletter, which attracted "a mass of dubious speculation on the lines of UFO" rather than "reliable first-hand material."

Well, I know enough about dealing with fairies to appreciate that the society must operate with finesse and discretion. I certainly don't wish to make things more difficult by being a party to unwelcome publicity. So hereafter my correspondence with the society will be conducted in strict confidence.

EVERYDAY TENSION? SLEEPLESS NIGHTS?
 Are you edgy and always having to be "understood" by even your friends?
 Well, when simple nervous tension is bothering you and causing sleepless nights you should either try B.T. TABLETS or see your doctor, or both.
 B.T. TABLETS have tested ingredients which will help you overcome simple nervous tension and sleep better at night.
 Richard Drug has help for you in safe - nonhabit forming B.T. TABLETS, others are enjoying the relief B.T. TABLETS can give, so why wait another day? There's a money back guarantee - so do you have anything to lose? - Yes, tension and sleepless nights.
 Only $1.50 at Richard Drug
 INTRODUCTORY OFFER $1.50
 Cut out this ad - take to Richard Drug. Purchase one pack of B.T. Tablets and receive one Pack Free.
RICHARD DRUG
 Tom Beard, Pampa's Synonym for Drugs
 111 N. Cuyler 665-7471

Sugar
 5 Lb bag 49¢
 With $7.50 or More Purchase Exc. of Cigs.

Food King
Bread
 1 1/2 lb. loaf 19¢

Coupon
 Maryland Club
Coffee 1-Lb. Can 69¢
 Limit One Per Family with Coupon
HOM'S FOODS

COKE or 7-UP
 King Size
 3 Ctns. $1.00

TOILET TISSUE
 Charmin
 4 Roll Pak 35¢

22nd

HOM'S FOODS
ANNIVERSARY
 These Prices Good All This Week • Oct. 20-24

Shurfresh
EGGS
 Grade A Med.
39¢ doz.

Shurfresh
Biscuits - 12 cans $1.00
 Honey Boy
Salmon tall can 79¢
 Wolf Brand 19 oz.
Chili, no bean 69¢
 Shurfine
Flour 5 lbs. 39¢
 Clorox 1/2 gal. 33¢

Our Sincere Appreciation to Our Customers For Walking and Driving Through The Mud To Get To Our Store During Road Construction!

Shurfine Tall Can
MILK
5 CANS $1.00

Wagner's Qt.
Breakfast Drink
4 FOR $1.00

Shurfine
Spinach
 303 Can 17¢

PRODUCE
 Fresh Firm
LETTUCE lb. 19¢
 Texas 1-Lb. Cello
CARROTS 2 Pkgs. 19¢
 Golden Ripe
BANANAS lb. 10¢

Shurfine
Green Beans 17¢
 Cut, 303 Can

Shurfine
Golden Corn 17¢
 W/K or Cream 303 Can

Roxey
Dog Food Tall Can 8¢

Shurfine Boneless
Canned Hams 3 Lbs. $2.99
 Fresh Dressed
Fryers, Whole lb. 29¢
 Fresh
Ground Beef 3 lbs. $1.35
 Choice Beef
Chuck Roast lb. 59¢
 Choice Beef
Arm Roast lb. 69¢
 Market Made
Chili lb. 69¢
 Boneless
Stewing Beef lb. 79¢

Half or Whole
Cured Hams lb. 59¢
 Smoked Rite
BACON Thick 2 lbs. $1.19
 Fresh Market Made
Pure Pork Sausage lb. 49¢
 Choice Beef
Chuck Steak lb. 59¢

Crisco
 3 lb. Can 69¢

TIDE
 King Size 5 lb. 4 oz. $1.09

TV DINNER
 Morton's
3 FOR $1.00

TAMALES
 Ellis Jumbo 28 Oz. Cans
3 FOR $1.00

Kleenex Jumbo
Paper Towels roll 29¢
 Nestle's 12 oz.
Choc Chips 49¢
 Aqua Net 13 oz.
Hair Spray 49¢
 Shurfine 18 1/2 oz.
Cake Mix 27¢

Shurfine 8 oz.
Tomato Sauce 10¢
 Honey & Almond 16 oz.
Hand Lotion 39¢
 16 oz. bottle
Rubbing Alcohol 15¢
 Goldsmith 2 lbs.
Cottage Cheese 49¢

HOM'S FOODS
 We Give Buccaneer - Double Wed. With $2.50 or More Purchase
 421 E. Frederic - Open 7 Days 665-8531 Limit Rights Reserved

On The Record

MONDAY Admissions
Jimmie Hanson, Lefors.
Melvin David McCabe, McLean.
Mrs. Myrtle Odella Gay, 413 N. Zimmers.
Mrs. Linda Lou Velasquez, 121 E. Alchison.
Baby Girl Velasquez, 121 E. Alchison.
Donald K. Dunn, 416 W. Crawford.
Paul Weslie Searl, 1021 S. Christie.
Mrs. Veima Irene Henderson, 1412 E. Browning.
Ithut Britton Huff, 1116 Christine.
Cheryl Denise Sims, Lefors.
Mrs. Anna Lou Williams, Canadian.
Ronald L. Harris, 1120 E. Francis.
Elvin Leroy Kite, McLean.
Mrs. Lillian Vera Hamby, Berger.
Robert Cecil Dittmeyer, Pampa.
Mrs. Veda Mae Alverson, 1100 Garland.
Mrs. Susie Ann Prather, Sunray.
Mrs. Peggy Jean Neal, Amarillo.

Dismissals
Mrs. Jowannah Shackelford, 840 E. Murphy.
Baby Boy Shackelford, 840 E. Murphy.
Mrs. Glenda Johnston, Pampa.
Christopher Lee Bohrer, 914 Christine.
Mrs. Irene Mitchell, 633 N. Faulkner.
Miss Debra Sue Murray, 320 Miami.

CONGRATULATIONS:
TO: Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Velasquez, 121 E. Alchison, on the birth of a girl at 1:45 p.m., weighing 6 lbs 2 ozs.

Diplomacy More Than Debate Needed In War

NEW YORK (UPI)—Quiet diplomacy rather than public debate is the course that will produce successful negotiations for peace in the Middle East, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said Sunday.

Mrs. Meir, who was arriving here on a two-week U.S. trip to address the United Nations General Assembly 25th anniversary session, contrasted her hopes for harmony in the Middle East with the forecast voiced Friday by Egypt's Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad that a special U.N. debate on the Mideast conflict should begin after the anniversary session ends Oct. 24.

"Speeches have never solved problems," Mrs. Meir said. "All Mr. Riad and his government have to do is recreate the situation according to the cease-fire agreement and talking can begin immediately."

Mrs. Meir will address the General Assembly Wednesday. Saturday she is to attend a state dinner in Washington. Her schedule includes meetings with President Nixon, visit with Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau and British Prime Minister Edward Heath during and after the two weeks in the United States.

First Lady Visits HS

DETROIT (UPI)—When 15-year-old Lisa Roth invited U.S. senatorial candidate Mrs. Lenore Romney to her suburban Southfield High School, she didn't really expect her to appear, let alone the nation's First Lady.

But today, Mrs. Richard Nixon will accompany Mrs. Romney in an appearance before Lisa and her classmates. Mrs. Nixon is scheduled to arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at 11 a.m. (EDT).

The First Lady was flying into Detroit today for a four-hour visit in an effort to bolster the campaign of Mrs. Romney.

Polls show that Mrs. Romney, wife of Housing and Urban Development Secretary George Romney, is lagging far behind Democratic Sen. Philip A. Hart.

In her letter Oct. 10, Lisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roth, told Mrs. Romney that "my assignment is to invite my most admired and most looked up to person in the world to my school to be interviewed in front of my classmates."

Texas Baptist Youth Pay Tribute

DALLAS (UPI)—The 3,000-plus college students attending the Texas Baptist Student Convention paused in silent prayer Sunday for two persons who couldn't attend.

The tribute was for Lynn Ann Pinson, 18, a freshman at Texas Tech University, and T. R. McCarty of Lubbock. Both were killed as a result of a bus accident Friday night. The bus, which overturned on a rain-slicked highway near Jacksboro, was en route to the convention.

"Tragedy in the midst of our Christian celebration here may seem ironic," David Dixon said. "But strangely it adds a significant note of reality because of the painful suffering around us which we, as Christians, must minister to."

Dixon is the 20-year-old president of the Texas Baptist Student Union from North Texas State University.

The Rev. Bruce Melver of Dallas challenged the students from 81 campuses to retain those intangible factors of toughness and tenderness when ministering to the physical and spiritual needs of others.

On Saturday, a panel of two Baptist preachers, a college president and two college students talked about the freedom to reach out to persons who haven't found God. The panel looked at ways to set up lines of communication in the church between generations.

"How can you, as part of the older generation, care about the new student like style?" asked Karen House of the University of Texas at Arlington.

"Age is artificial," said Dr. Jimmy R. Allen, pastor of a San Antonio Baptist church. "The real question is whether the life style is right or wrong. There is a common goal and it doesn't matter how a particular life style goes after it."

Sherman Gives Handbook To County Judges

Max Sherman, chairman of the State Mental Health Committee of the State Junior Bar of Texas, appeared before the Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association Conference in Amarillo to present a newly published handbook to the judges for each County Court in the Panhandle.

The handbook is for the use of attorneys appointed for proposed mentally ill patients involved in involuntary hospitalization proceedings. It is the result of a six-year project of the Junior Bar of Texas. The project began in 1964 in the Legislative Task Force of the Committee for Comprehensive Statewide Community Mental Health Planning.

Copies have been made available throughout the State for each county judge, psychiatric association and legal organization.

State Senate Committee To Have Hearing

The Senate Interim Committee for the Study of the Motion Picture Industry in Texas will conduct a public hearing in Amarillo Tuesday, Oct. 27 at 10 a.m. in the Downtown Hotel. Senator Ralph M. Hall is committee chairman.

Rep. Malouf Abraham of Canadian said today the people of the 79th District are invited to attend and testify at the hearing in Amarillo Tuesday, said, is to come up with better laws to restrict obscene motion pictures. Anyone interested in appearing is invited to contact Representative Abraham.

SEUL EXERCISE

SEOUL (UPI)—U.S. and South Korean armed forces Saturday began an intensified training exercise in South Korea's four southern provincial areas. U.S. military authorities said. The Exercises will last through Nov. 15 and will be joined by U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force elements from outside Korea.

NEW GREENHOUSE

DEVONPORT, England (UPI)—Vic Perrott, a construction worker who operates a crane at the Devonport Royal Navy dockyard, has found that his cab 200 feet in the air makes an ideal greenhouse. He has put tomato plants around the cab and is hoping for a bumper crop.

Pigeons Don't Need The Pill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Science has given the lowly pigeon something many human beings might envy—a contraceptive that doesn't harm the pigeon or interfere with his sex life, is taken with food and affects both male and female. Its only effect is to reduce the pigeon's birth rate.

Dr. Joan Sturtevant of the University of Michigan discussed the new pigeon control chemical in the current issue of Science, technical journal for the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

She said a synthetic sex hormone called mestranol may be the answer to pigeon overpopulation, which she said was a problem in several areas because of the pigeon's "unsanitary habits of dwelling in cities and parks, and harassing the feed lots and grainaries of rural areas."

Nix Announces Steering Group

Bill Nix, Republican candidate for State Representative, 79th District, announced today the selection of his Gray County Steering Committee.

Members of Nix's Gray County Steering Committee are: E.A. Myatt, David E. Holt, Joe Cree, Warren Fatheree, Ralph McKinney, V.L. Simon, Norman Pulpis, A.S. Bonner, Jr., Elmer D. Wilson, Ben L. Sturgeon, Cary Don Smith, J.S. Skelly, Bill Stockstill, Bill Taylor, A.J. Beagle, Bill Fraser, and Jack Curtis.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

LAUNCH COSMOS

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviets announced Saturday they have launched another unmanned space satellite into earth orbit. The news agency Tass said Cosmos 975 was launched Friday with "scientific equipment" to continue space studies.

Episcopal Society Promotes Race Unity

HOUSTON (UPI)—A national Episcopal society founded to promote racial unity disbanded Sunday in order to seek "new approaches" to problems of race and community development.

The announcement was made indirectly at the end of the triennial banquet of the Episcopal Society for Cultural and Racial Unity (ESCRU) by its Vice President Barbara Harris of Philadelphia. ESCRU was founded 12 years ago.

The dinner speaker was the Rev. Jesse Jackson, 28, of Chicago, national director of Operation Breadbasket, the economic arm of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

He hinted to the audience of 400, about two-thirds white, the time had come for a new posture for blacks and whites wanting to erase poverty, discrimination and inferior education patterns.

"I argue from Christian convictions that there is one race—the human race," Jackson said.

But he added: "Many blacks argue separation not because they think they're superior, but as a political strategy."

The ESCRU banquet was held in connection with the 63rd General Convention of the Episcopal Church, which is meeting through Thursday.

Past banquet speakers have included the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and Saul Alinsky from the Industrial Areas Foundation.

DISMISSALS

Mrs. Jowannah Shackelford, 840 E. Murphy.
Baby Boy Shackelford, 840 E. Murphy.
Mrs. Glenda Johnston, Pampa.
Christopher Lee Bohrer, 914 Christine.
Mrs. Irene Mitchell, 633 N. Faulkner.
Miss Debra Sue Murray, 320 Miami.

CONGRATULATIONS

TO: Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Velasquez, 121 E. Alchison, on the birth of a girl at 1:45 p.m., weighing 6 lbs 2 ozs.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Several seasons back, television introduced a series called "ABC Stage 67" which was widely heralded and offered a number of lengthy, original dramas, comedies and musicals.

Although it scored often enough to be considered a success as a worthy, and even daring, attempt, the series was doomed well before it got on the air because of one fatal mistake.

That mistake was an enormous amount of advance boasting about what a marvelous cultural contribution and outstanding series it would be. It was as though video had never done anything worthwhile before.

All this immediately resulted in considerable resentment among many people in the industry. Skeptics couldn't wait for the series—which, as I say, was a decent try—to fall on its face. Viewers, who quite understandably just want to enjoy a show rather than being told it is their responsibility to watch it, stayed away in droves. Despite many good critical notices, the show died aborning because of the promotion, and even admirers never entirely shook their feeling of resentment.

I bring all this up because you would think networks would never forget this lesson. Alas, not so. If they hadn't forgotten, the overblown boasts of "relevance" and "social significance" on the new series might well have been toned down. It was another fatal mistake. The shows have died.

As with "ABC Stage 67," the new promises of relevance brought out the hooters again. Once more, they waited for the shows to fall flat. Cynicism was widespread before the season began. For the very audience that the networks want—the younger, brighter audience—is much too smart for the kind of old-fashioned come-on it was offered. If you say you're going to be relevant, you better be relevant.

CBS-TV tonight offers a documentary you ought to catch—"Television and Politics." An hour about the disgraceful practice by which

ELECT DON CAIN

COUNTY JUDGE

- EXPERIENCED
- DILIGENT
- PROVEN ABILITY TO HOLD A PUBLIC TRUST

DON CAIN

Your Vote And Support Appreciated
Democratic Nominee — Vote Nov. 3
Absentee Balloting Oct. 14-30
(Pol. Adv. Paid For By Don Cain)

FOOD SAVINGS ROUND-UP

PRICES GOOD OCTOBER 20-24

LONGHORN (Half or Whole)	HAM 55¢ lb	COFFEE Shurfine 79¢ lb
	Shank End 49¢ lb	EGGS 2 doz. 79¢
	Butt End 55¢ lb	McNeil's Cello Pak Tomatoes pkg. 25¢
	Center Slices 98¢ lb
MORTON'S T.V. DINNERS 39¢
DEL MONTE, 20 oz. CATSUP 3 for $1.00
Giant Size FAB 59¢
HEINZ STRAINED Baby Food 10 Jars $1.00	SIRLOIN STEAK Lb. 89¢
OSCAR MAYER All Meat WIENERS Lb. 69¢	WHITE RUSSET POTATOES 10 Lbs. 49¢

And Managing Our Meat Market (Carl Sexton — Journeyman Butcher. Courteous, Friendly, — Professional Service — Come In and Shop With Us. Your Business is Appreciated)

MILLER'S FOOD

HOME OWNED—HOME OPERATED
We Invite You to Visit Us and Shop Our Old Fashioned Meat Market. Special Cuts Anytime
613 N. Hobart 613 N. Hobart

Mitchell's Grocery

We Give Buccaneer Stamps
Double Wednesday with $2.50 Purchase or More
Prices Good Thru Oct. 24
665-5451 Double Stamp Wed. 638 S. Cuyler
WE ARE OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK

Shurfine Flour 5 Lb. Bag 39¢	Fresh Dressed Whole Fryers Lb. 28¢
Charmin TISSUE 4 Roll Pak 29¢	Pork Chops End Cut Lb. 59¢
Aunt Jimema PANCAKE MIX 2 Lbs. 39¢	Smoked Rite Bacon 2 lbs. $1.25
King Size COCA-COLA	LEAN, CENTER CUT Pork Chops 73¢ lb
Shurfine OLEO 5 Lbs. $1.00	Bologna All Meat Lb. 49¢
Shurfine Frozen FRENCH FRIES 2 Lbs. 39¢	HOME MADE PURE PORK Sausage Lb. 59¢
Mead's Frozen 24 oz. pkg. DINNER ROLLS 2 for 49¢
Giant 49 oz. box GAIN 59¢
Del Monte 20 oz. CATSUP 29¢
Colorado Rome or Delicious APPLES 9¢ lb

Ctn. Plus Dep. 3 FOR $1

Save Shurfresh & Tender Crust Coupons

Ask Your Grocer For Prize List

CRISCO 3 Lb. Can 69¢

Ellis No. 2 1/2 Can TAMALES 29¢
Ellis 24 oz. Can CHILI No Beans 49¢
Ellis 4 oz. can VIENNA SAUSAGE 19¢
46 oz. orange or grape HI-C DRINK 4 cans $1.00
Tre Ripe No. 2 1/2 Can PEACHES Sliced Elberta 4 cans $1

PAMPA Business News...

GOOD PHARMACISTS are not born, they are highly-trained and then through years of experience and administering to the needs of their patrons, they become competent. B & B Pharmacy's trademark is quality as given by R. B. Ragsdale, registered pharmacist pictured here. (Staff Photo)

Competence And Quality Sets Trademark At B & B Pharmacy

Highly competent B and B pharmacists have been filling prescriptions to the best of their ability and to their customers' satisfaction from their stock of 10,000 medicines since B and

B Pharmacy, located at Ballard and Browning, opened for business in 1953. In that time, the B and B pharmacists have filled well over half a million prescriptions, said pharmacist R.B. Ragsdale.

Two pharmacists are on duty at all times at B and B Pharmacy, and are on call on Sundays.

B and B Pharmacy also offers "over-the-counter" medicines, carries Dr. Schools remedies, and is equipped to meet all everyday drug and first-aid needs.

In other departments, B and B also carries quality stock to meet the demands of its customers. There is a gift department at B and B Pharmacy which carries such things as costume jewelry, colognes, perfumes, glassware and billfolds.

In the cosmetic department, B and B carries several well-known lines of beauty aids, which include Frances Denny, Dorothy Gray, Revlon, Bonne Bell, and Allercerme.

In women's fragrances, B and B stocks Nina Ricci, Lanvin, Crepe de Shine, Coty, Faberge, and Vitabath.

For men, Band B Pharmacy stocks goods to meet all shaving needs, and in men's fragrances. They carry English and in men's fragrances, the pharmacy carries English Leather, in the regular or lemon-lime scent; "That Man," by Revlon; Old Spice; Robert Denny; Black Belt; and Signoriel.

The hungry Pampan may eat his fill in the Band B Pharmacy coffee shop where "staff Breakfast" has been held for years. The shop serves lunches, sandwiches, malts, most any ice cream dish, and soft drinks.

Russell Stover Candies, Pangburns, and Ann Raskas hard candies may be purchased at B and B, with which as well all purchases, B and B gives "S and H Green Stamps."

Seven employees operate the establishment, directed by F. L. Stone, owner, and Mrs. Lucille Foster, co-owner.

Businessmen Ask Wage Raises Stop

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI)—Six of the nation's most powerful businessmen agreed Saturday that inflation cannot be controlled unless the Nixon administration does something to dampen wage increases, especially for hard hat construction workers.

The same group of corporate executives will deliver the message in person to President Nixon Sunday at a meeting scheduled to follow White House worship services in Washington.

Donald C. Burnham, chairman of Westinghouse Electric Corp., said the business leaders emphasized at a closed door meeting that if wages continue to rise at their present pace, "We will all have to push to raise our prices." He said the general wage spiral was led by "exorbitant" pay boosts won by unionized construction workers. Burnham summarized the views of the businessmen following a discussion with Nixon's five highest ranking economic advisers at the semi-annual meeting of the Business Council at this Allegheny Mountains resort.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, said of construction industry wage increases, "There was no question about the problem. The facts speak for themselves."

The chairman of the General Electric Corp., Fred J. Borch, who also is chairman of the Business Council, said the business leaders offered few specific suggestions for controlling wage increases because "we think that our friends in the government have enough ingenuity to do something about it."

Members of the council panel included S. D. Bechtel Jr., San Francisco, president of the Bechtel Corp.; Ellison L. Hazard, New York, president of Continental Can Co.; Ralph Lazarus Jr., Cincinnati, chairman of Federated Department Stores; Roger Milliken, Spartanburg, S.C., president of Deering, Milliken; James M. Roche, chairman of General Motors Corp., and Burnham.

The government panelists were McCracken, Federal Reserve Chairman Arthur F. Burns, Management and Budget Director George P. Shultz, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy and Commerce Secretary Maurice H. Stans.

HEAD FOR U.N.

PARIS (UPI)—Justice Minister Rene Pleven and a group of other government officials flew to New York Saturday to represent France at ceremonies commemorating the 25th anniversary of the United Nations.

US Economy Should Show Improvement

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
HOT SPRINGS, Va. (UPI)—The U.S. economy has "passed its low point" and should show steady improvement next year, but unemployment will continue relatively high, a report to the Business Council said today.

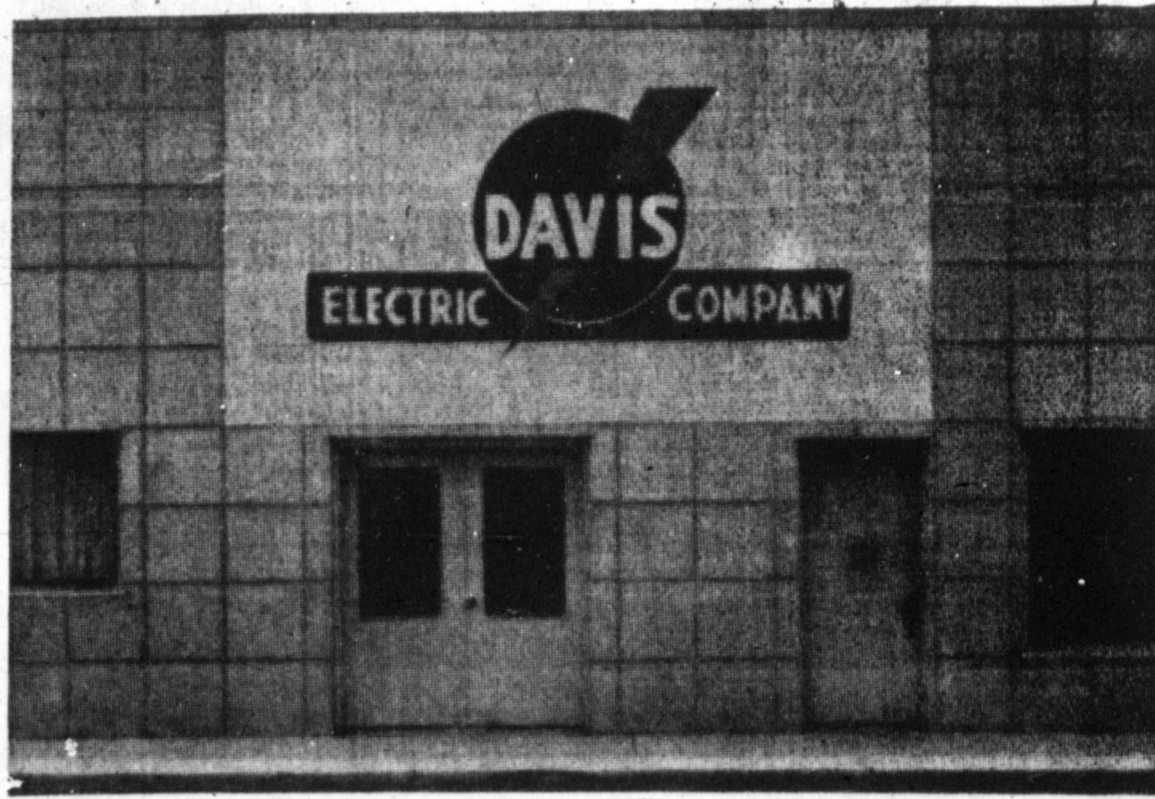

The report by the council's economic consultants predicted unemployment would average about 5 per cent next year, down only a little from the current level of 5.5 per cent, the highest mark in almost seven years.

The two-page summary of the report handed to newsmen is about as close to an official council position as the organization of highly independent corporate executives ever gets.

The Nixon administration has been working hard during the council's weekend meetings to head off a gloomy report that might have heightened fears about the state of the economy.

One administration official conceded the businessmen were less optimistic than were government officials.

WHEN A builder or homeowner runs into an electrical need or problem, Davis Electric at 124 S. Frost, stands willing and capable of assisting. Davis Electric has been serving the people of Pampa and the surrounding communities since 1915. (Staff Photo)

Good Workmanship Key Word At Davis Electric On Frost

Davis Electric, located at 124 S. Frost, has a widespread reputation for giving their customers first rate service. Davis electricians have established a reputation for giving safe, professional wiring service. They will do an excellent job when a customer wants new wiring for an air-conditioner installation at home, or wants a new home, business or office building wired to provide years of safe efficient service.

Davis Electric has been serving the people of Pampa and surrounding area since 1915. Robert Burns began his employment at the business in the late 1940's and acquired full ownership in 1952.

Safety and dependability are big words to Burns. He and his employees believe in good workmanship. They make it a rule to keep their customers satisfied.

Standing ready to serve, Davis Electric serves the electrical contractor. They also deal with industrial, commercial, residential, retail. They handle trouble calls on everything electrical.

Davis Electric carries a variety of 300 light bulbs including fluorescent, mercury vapor, quartz, and incandescence. They can give the perfect lighting to any home or office building. Any atmosphere can be created with the right color of fluorescent tubes.

Davis also holds a complete stock of all necessary items for electrical installation. And professional advice is available for the home electrician.

Four-Day Work Week Gaining Momentum

By DAVID HASKELL
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—A quietly growing revolution is taking place in the business world. It's the move to a 4-day, 40-hour work week.

While most workers across the nation probably have at one time or another dreamed of three-day weekends without losing a day's pay, there are about 36 firms where this is a reality.

Most of them have converted to the 4-4-0 schedule within the past year, according to Bursk and Poor Publishing Co., 66 Martin St., Cambridge. It is bringing out in book form a study of such firms.

The book, entitled, "4 days, 40 Hours? Reporting a Revolution in Work and Leisure," traces the experiences of 27 firms that have converted to 4-4-0. They include five that switched back to the present standard of 5-4-0.

In his foreword, economist Paul A. Samuelson of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, former advisory to President John F. Kennedy, called the 4-4-0 a "momentous social invention." He said it is "merely one facet in the steady sweep toward greater leisure and less lifetime toil."

The book details the benefits and disadvantages of 4-4-0 and is a practical guide for businessmen contemplating such a move.

"The advantages to the firm are varied," according to Riva Poor, editor of the book and co-publisher, "but for labor, it is the 3-day weekend."

rule to keep their customers satisfied.

Standing ready to serve, Davis Electric serves the electrical contractor. They also deal with industrial, commercial, residential, retail. They handle trouble calls on everything electrical.

Davis Electric carries a variety of 300 light bulbs including fluorescent, mercury vapor, quartz, and incandescence. They can give the perfect lighting to any home or office building. Any atmosphere can be created with the right color of fluorescent tubes.

Davis also holds a complete stock of all necessary items for electrical installation. And professional advice is available for the home electrician.

LAUNCH INJURES SIX
MARINA DI CARRARA, Italy (UPI)—The launching of the ferryboat Tiziano was something less than a success. Six persons were injured Sunday and 15 others suffered a bruising and bruises when the boat threw up a wall of water that smashed into them when it slid into the sea.

Your Roffler Sculptur-Kut Barber In Skellytown
Bob Stevens, R.S.K.
Bob's Kut & Style Shop
Skellytown-Ph. 848-2922

A COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE
Letterheads
Business Forms
Wedding Invitations
FUGATE PRINTING CO.
"Quality is our Trade Mark"
210 N. Ward 665-3431

L & P INTERIORS
"ACCENT ON BEAUTY"
Custom Draperies
Bedspreads
Custom Upholstery
Accessories
FREE ESTIMATES
Consulting Service
110 S. Cuyler 665-3243

DAVIS ELECTRIC COMPANY
Residential-Commercial Contracting
Maintenance & Repairs
Superior Service Since 1915
124 S. Frost 669-6211

SHELBY J. RUFF FURNITURE
2111 N. Hobart 665-3348
Fine Furniture
for Every Room in Your Home
Free Delivery
Liberal Trade In Allowance
Convenient Credit Terms

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market is hanging in an extremely sensitive balance, overbought to an extent that suggests an impending crash, yet stubbornly holding near its highs, says the Dines Letter. The Dow Jones industrial average has risen to "the point of no return." Either it will signal a primary bull market by turning down from here, or it will confirm a bull market by continuing upward.

"Until the market environment becomes less polluted," the best that can be expected is a backing and filling action, according to Alexander Hamilton Institute. Key business indicators still are soft, corporate earnings reports are turning out to be much more depressing than anyone expected, and heavy new financing, in the form of rights offerings and new bond sales, is still flooding notes.

Waddell & Reed, Inc. sees the present as a good time "to sell some stocks about which we don't have long-term convictions." The mutual fund administrators says the recent stock market rally "surprised many people" and heightened caution among money managers.

Although the bear market is in its final stages and stocks are well established, seasoned companies possess little downside risk, a dramatic general recovery from existing levels cannot be expected in the near future, Harby & Co. says. A high degree of selectivity is warranted, the firm adds.

Seamless Floors on New or Old Surfaces Can Add Beauty to Your Home. TOWLES TILE CO.
665-5075
N. E. of City

SHARP'S HONDA SALES

-REPAIRS-
-PARTS-
-CB450K3-
-SALES-
-Service-
New & Used Cycles
-Alvin H. Sharp-
800 W. Kingsmill 665-4063

JOHNSON, INC.
TRUCKS — INDUSTRIAL EQPT.
SALES — SERVICE
PAMPA, TEXAS
PRICE ROAD 669-7466

Lawn Mower Repairing
SMALL ENGINE SERVICE
Factory Approved Service — All Work Guaranteed
RADCLIFF ELECTRIC CO.
519 So. Cuyler St. Pampa Phone 669-3395

Western Beef, Inc.
A DIVISION OF WESTERN BEEF CO.
East Frederic (Highway 60) P.O. Box 701
Phone 669-6811
Pampa, Texas 79065

That Does It! Call
Pampa Cable Television TODAY
for better, interferences free T.V. reception. Low monthly rates.
665-2381

John T. King & Sons Sales & Service
Authorized Distributor Sales & Service
Floco Barton Meters
Rockwell Meters
Bowler Meters
Badger Meters
918 S. Barnes Pampa, Texas 669-3711

WILSON'S CABINET SHOP
Cabinets
Remodeling
Furniture Refinishing
Formica Topping
Morris Wilson Ph. 665-1259
120 W. TUKE

Seat Cover Headquarters
Carpet
Door Panels
Ready Made or Custom Fitted
HALL TIRE CO.
700 W. Foster 665-5755

Dixie Parts & Supply
"Complete Stock Auto Parts"
Mufflers & Tailpipes —
Starters — Generators —
Shock Absorbers —
Fuel Pumps — Brake Shoes
All Auto Accessories
Auto Air Conditioning
No. 1 417 S. Cuyler 665-5771
No. 2 1421 N. Hobart 665-1625

Summers Upholstery
FABRICS-DRAPES
Free Pickup and Delivery
Free Estimates
2236 N. Dwight
665-4571

Ogden & Son
Goodyear Tires
Texaco Products
Auto Air Conditioners
501 W. Foster 665-8444

HOW TO RID HOME OF ROACHES
Spray non-toxic No-Roach for fast, quick kill of roaches and ants. Brush on No-Roach for long time control. Take your choice, or better yet... take them both. Johnston's No Roach Available at Furr's and other supermarkets. Dist. by Kimbell.

RICE'S Feed Store
"Your Garden Center"
Farm Supplies and Lawn Supplies
Featuring—
Green Light — Ortho
Scott Ferti-Lome
665-5851 522 S. Cuyler

Have You Heard About CAPILLICULTEUR?
We Have, You Should!
ASK!
CLEMENTS Barber Shop
R.O. Clements, RSK
310 S. Cuyler — 665-1231

VAUGHN AUTO SERVICE CENTER
1800 N. Hobart 665-3741
Specializing in STAR VENTILATED BRAKE SERVICE, the Brake that runs cooler, lasts longer, and stops better.

'Professional' SERVICE On All PERMANENT PRESSED VOGUE CLEANERS
1524 N. Hobart 669-7500

DOUG Boyd MOTOR CO.
PAMPA'S FINEST AUTOMOBILES

TUNE-UP
Our SPECIALTY
Jimmy Gillam Now Our Chrysler Products Specialist
Olen's Tune-Up
Brake & Front End
310 N. Ward 669-9815

TRUST IS MORE THAN A WORD... IT IS OUR PROFESSION
You can trust our Pharmacists to compound your prescription accurately at
B & B PHARMACY
We Give S & H Green Stamps
FREE Delivery
Ballard at Browning 665-5788

ALLSTATE INSURANCE
Automobile, Fire, Life, Boat, Accident & Sickness, Homeowners, Commercial.
Top quality protection at low cost. Famous for fast, fair claim settlements; easy payment plan.
ALLSTATE INSURANCE CO. — MARK BUZZARD
Sears Roebuck Bldg., 1623 N. Hobart Phone 665-4122

Convicted Killer Shot To Death

CHICAGO (UPI)—A convicted murderer sentenced to death in the electric chair tried to force an escape Monday by holding a revolver to a deputy sheriff's head, but was shot and killed in a courtroom shootout. Two other men were also shot.

Gene Lewis, 23, described by police as "one of Chicago's most dangerous and cunning criminals," was hit by four bullets. He died in a seventh floor corridor of the Cook County Criminal Courts Building.

An assistant state's attorney and a court bailiff were wounded in the gunfire. One was hit in the hip, the other in the hand.

Sheriff Joseph I. Woods said preliminary investigation indicated a gun had been passed to Lewis by another prisoner in a

"bulpen" on the sixth floor. Lewis put the gun to the head of a deputy and forced him to accompany him to the seventh floor by a rear elevator.

When Lewis reached the seventh floor, Woods said, he forced another deputy to give him a gun. The shooting started almost immediately afterwards.

Witnesses said Lewis was cut down by four bullets when he tried to break out of the courtroom into the corridor. His hostage apparently had freed himself in the exchange of bullets.

Lewis was convicted of the Nov. 8, 1962, slaying of a guard on a check-cashing truck during a $38,000 robbery of a Des Plaines, Ill., firm. He had been convicted of murder and had been sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Lindsay Ignores Rockefeller's Request To Remain Neutral

NEW YORK (UPI)—Republican Mayor John V. Lindsay endorsed Democratic candidate Arthur Goldberg for governor Monday, ignoring Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's plea that he remain neutral.

The move revived rumors that the 48-year-old mayor would switch his allegiance to the Democratic Party with an eye to the presidential nomination in 1972, but Lindsay denied this at a press conference at the mayor's residence.

"I am a Republican and I intend to remain a Republican," he said.

He gave as his reason for endorsing the former associate justice of the U.S. Supreme Court and ambassador to the United Nations his evaluation of the "dominant forces" in Albany, which he said were "rooted in the past." He did not mention Rockefeller, who is running for an unprecedented fourth term on the Republican ticket, by name.

Rockefeller, in Rochester, said he would have no comment on Lindsay's announcement until he read a transcript.

Spock Glad He Didn't Raise Nixon, Agnew

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Dr. Benjamin Spock, the pediatrician and peace activist, says he is thankful no one can say he was responsible for the raising of President Nixon or Vice President Spiro Agnew.

The vice president has blamed Spock's widely read book on child rearing for parental permissiveness which he asserts is making radicals of America's youth.

"No one can accuse me of having brought up Spiro Agnew or Richard Nixon," Spock told reporters Sunday here where he received an award from the American Academy of Pediatrics.

"The peaceful kids were brought up on my book and the conservatives and the jocks (college athletes)," he said. "Everybody was brought up on my book—except the illiterates."

"Most of the peace workers know are charming, thoughtful people who are the furthest extreme from the bombers," he added.

"But the vice president and the President are trying to pretend that that's what all kids are like."

"It's the warmongers who are trying to smear them with the tirade of violence," he asserted.

"The bombers are in a tiny minority but they get all the attention in the ... psychologically they are much grimmer types."

DOG SHOTS MAN
 MONTESQUIEU, France (UPI)—Jacques Bigot, 40, was resting from the hunt, Sunday with his gun pointed toward him when his hunting dog leaped up, caught the trigger with his paw, and shot Bigot twice in the stomach, police said. Bigot died en route to a hospital.

Goldberg stood solemn-faced beside the mayor along with Democratic lieutenant governor candidate Basil Paterson, whom Lindsay also endorsed, but refused to answer any questions beyond a statement praising Lindsay for "performing an act of political courage." Lindsay said he based his endorsement on the Goldberg-Paterson ticket's program for "urban survival."

Goldberg appeared angered by a suggestion from a reporter that Lindsay was repaying Goldberg for his endorsement when Lindsay lost the Republican primary and ran as a Liberal. The white-haired gubernatorial candidate said that was "emphatically" not the truth.

"I made it clear from the outset I did not expect any consideration from the mayor," he said.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who has endorsed Rockefeller, said he regretted Lindsay's decision because Rockefeller "has done more to help New York City than any governor modern times." He added that Lindsay's move was "not vital" to Rockefeller's reelection in his opinion.

Paul Adams, Conservative party candidate for governor, predicted Goldberg would pay "a terrible price" for Lindsay's endorsement.

The mayor and the governor have disagreed on a number of issues including the Vietnam War, which Lindsay has opposed, and their political enmity has been no secret although they kept up a surface friendship. On Sunday Rockefeller urged Lindsay "to sit this one out," advice which Goldberg characterized as "extremely inappropriate."

400th Person Jumps From Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The 400th person known to have plunged to death from the Golden Gate Bridge is an unidentified woman who wore a brown corduroy coat, a red, white and blue shirt and jeans. Still trying to identify her Sunday, the Marin County coroner's office said she was 5-foot-5, had blue eyes, weighed between 135 and 150 pounds and had short brown hair. Her plunge was seen Saturday by three fishermen, but little else is known.

Show us your employees' safety record. You may save a bundle on Workmen's Compensation Insurance.

Call this Sentry Insurance man. Ask him about our "Merit Dividend." (Sentry doesn't penalize you for bad years.)

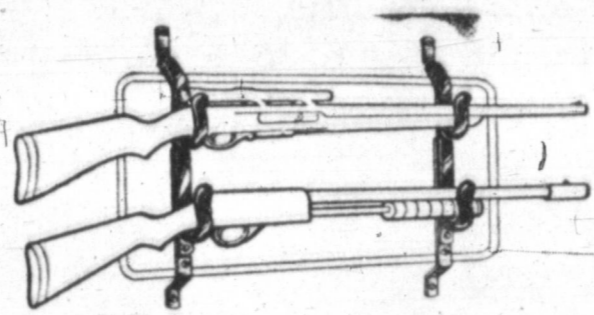

John R. Ellis
 P.O. Box 237
 665-4670

SENTRY INSURANCE
 The Hardware Mutuals Organization

"WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS"

GIBSON'S DISCOUNT CENTER

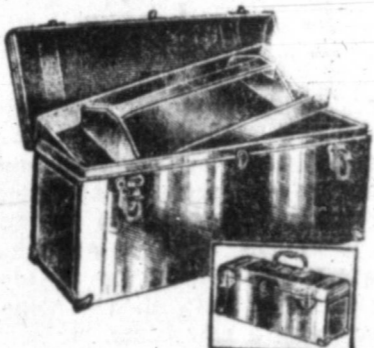

Open Daily 9 AM to 9 PM — Closed SUNDAY

2 Gun Rack

For Truck or Pick-Up

$149 $44⁹⁷

Park Tool Box

No. YRRB 84444

Ret. $349

$4.59

Dupont RALLY

Liquid Wax $1.29 18 oz.
 New 1/2 Hour Car Wax

S.T.P.
 Oil Treatment

77c

Texasware Dinnerware 26 Pc. Set

$8⁸⁸

Smoke Stands

$8.99

Decorative Salt & Pepper Shaker Trends

99c Pair

GIBSON'S Rpharmacy

SAVE ON PRESCRIPTIONS

PHONE 669-6896

Prices Good Mon. & Tues.

Zebco Rod & 2 Pc. Reel

Model 1545

404 REEL The BIG Bee

4040 ROD

Retail $14.90

$6⁹⁹

Rayovac Flashlight and Batteries

SPORTSMAN SPECIAL

Retail $2.88

$1⁹⁹

OUR PRICES WON'T

Dupont Heavy Duty Brake Fluid

49c

12 oz.

Folger's COFFEE Lb. Can

79c

Fruit Cocktail

Richelieu

2 303 Cans

49c

Family Favorites

Tide 49 oz. 83c	Cheer 49 oz. 83c	Oxydol 49 oz. 83c	Ivory Flakes 44 oz. 83c	Dreft 44 oz. 83c	Dash 9 lb., 13 oz. $2.37
Bold 49 oz. 79c	Gain 49 oz. 69c	Ivory Snow 32 Oz. 83c	Ivory Flakes and Snow 32 Oz. 83c	Salvo 46 oz. 83c	Cascade Giant 85 oz. 67c
THRILL 22 oz. 59c	JOY 22 oz. 59c	IVORY 22 oz. 49c

Small Wiglets
$2.99

Playing Cards
19¢

Portable RADIO
$8.97
Retail $14.97

Good Selection Halloween CANDY

Whitman's WINDOW BOX CANDY
Reg. 39¢ 29¢

Open Daily 9 AM to 9 PM — Closed Sunday

Beautyskin

Hand & Body Lotion

1 Pint $1.50
2 For

IT SCARE YOUR

Pacquin
Lotion
Family Size
16 Oz.

99¢

F. D. S.
Feminine Hygiene
Deodorant
Spray

3 Oz.

97¢

White Rain
SHAMPOO

14 Oz.

69¢

SCHICK
Shave Cream
11 Oz. 79¢

Natural
Net

HAIR SPRAY

2 FOR 99¢

Mennen
Deodorant

7 Oz.

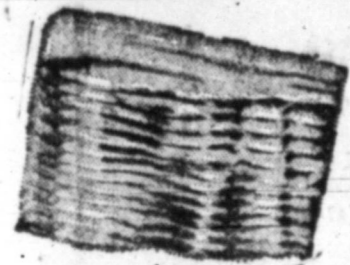

97¢

Smoked Rite

BACON

2 lbs.

1.19

Richelieu

Spinach

2 27¢
303 Cans

Western Gold

Pork & Beans

2 19¢
300 Cans

All Sweet

Margarine 26¢

Bar-S Sliced 12 oz.

American Cheese 59¢

Oscar Mayer

Luncheon Meats

47¢ 8 Oz. Pkg.

Variety

ACROSS
1 Highest point
4 Adult male red deer
8 Course file
12 Hall
13 Harness part
14 Against
15 Golfer's term
16 Supplying food
18 Changed
20 Fixed look
21 Request
22 Demerit
24 Long cut
26 Cicatrix
27 Deep hole
30 Trustworthy
32 Freebooter
34 Louisiana parish
35 Habituated (var.)
36 School of whales
37 Mouth parts
39 River barriers
40 German courtesy title
41 Footlike part
42 Latent
43 Columbus' discovery
49 Pauses irresolutely
51 Spigot
52 Captor of Jerusalem (582-644)
53 Church fast season
54 Sigmoid curve
55 Name of 12 Popes
56 Puteo
57 Pronoun

DOWN
1 Bark of the paper mulberry
2 Ellipsoidal
3 Had reference to
4 Elasmobranch fish
5 Story
6 Pertaining to an amide
7 Jewel
8 Raves
9 Brazilian tapir
10 Asterisk
11 Heap
17 Phytostimine as hay
19 Natural fat
23 Slewless
24 Ocean vessel
25 Timber wolf
26 Flight of steps
27 Sycophants
28 Newspaper paragraph
29 Settlers
30 Trustworthy
31 Taciturn
33 Cruder garments
38 Prattled
40 Inheritors
41 Ruses
42 Store
43 Half prefix
44 Brother of Jacob (Bib.)
46 Repair
47 Ready money
48 Church part
50 Winglike part

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
The Jordanian woman looked out across the wall dividing old and new Jerusalem. Pointing, she declared: "See! That is my house."

A simple statement of fact. Her house. As if she would return to it that night. She would not because she was an Arab refugee and what had been her house now was a part of Israel.

She was a bit of Middle East flotam cast adrift by the first Arab-Israeli war in 1949, refused permission by Israel to return to her home, manipulated as a political tool by the established Arab states, an object of occasional concern by the wealthy among the United Nations who contributed to her relief and hoped that eventually she and her problem would go away.

On that sunny day when she pointed across the wall, the third round of the Arab-Israeli war still was to be fought.

When she fled her home in 1948, her number was estimated at 300,000. It quickly jumped to more than 500,000, went from there to more than 1,000,000 and after the 1967 war to more than 2,000,000. As of the 1967 war, U.S. aid alone to the Arab refugees had come to $387 million. And no solution yet in sight. Russia, incidentally, had contributed nothing.

Nor was there to be an end to the Mideast chronology of violence. July 22, 1946, saw Jewish Irgun extremists blow up British headquarters in Jerusalem's King David Hotel. MORE MORE MORE

AF First At Babies With Unwed Capt.
McCHORD AFB, Wash. (UPI)—If Capt. Susan R. Struck has her way, she will become the first Air Force officer to give birth while on active duty.

A three-officer administrative board is recommending, however, that she be honorably discharged. Capt. Struck, 26, is an unmarried nurse who has served in Vietnam who said Sunday she wants to "remain in the service and make a career of the Air Force."

The board's recommendation is being sent to Robert C. Seamans Jr., secretary of the Air Force, but it may reach him too late. A Sept. 14 blood test indicated she was seven months pregnant. Her lawyers objected to the test, saying it was merely hearsay unless accompanied by testimony or a deposition by the doctor.

She said she plans to put the child up for adoption. Under a new Air Force regulation mothers or legal guardians of children may continue active duty in the Air Force.

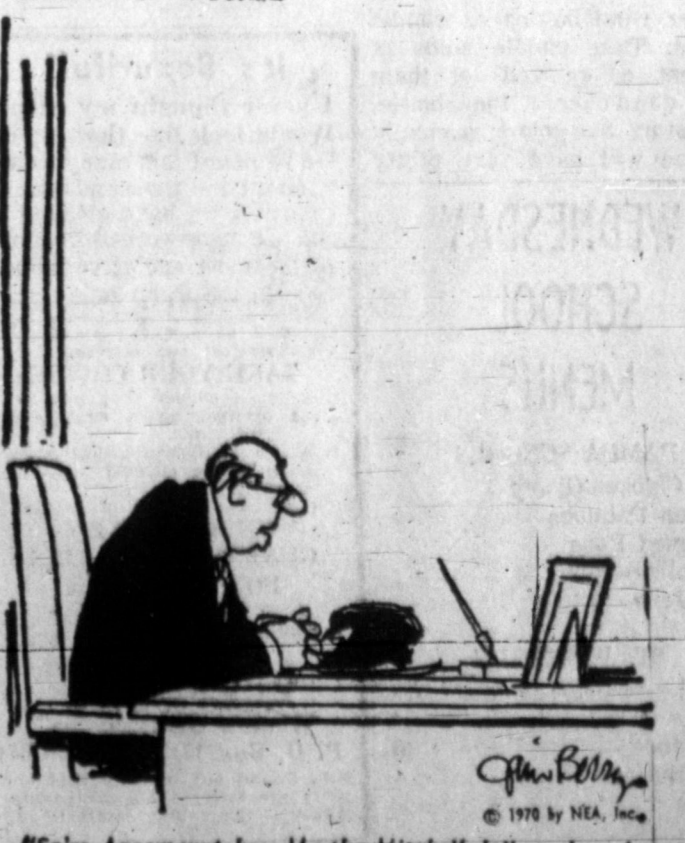

Gore Questions Agnew's Salary
OGDEN, Utah (UPI)—House Majority Leader Carl Albert has questioned whether Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is earning his $60,000 annual salary as presiding officer of the U.S. Senate.

"Let him explain what he is doing to earn his $60,000 salary while he is going around the country attacking congress," the Oklahoma Democrat told a Democratic rally at Weber State College Friday night.

"Let's put his record on the line," he said. Albert noted the vice president is one of two constitutional officers charged with presiding over the Congress. The other is the Speaker of the House, Rep. John McCormack, D-Mass.

"John McCormack hasn't missed 15 hours in the past 19 months," he said. "Vice President Agnew hasn't been there 15 hours in the last 19 months."

BERRY'S WORLD

"Spiro Agnew watches, Martha Mitchell dolls—where is it all leading?"

By Virginia Van Gure

DEAR ABBY: MARYLOO wrote to you saying pregnant women have no business working in an office. She says they come late to work due to morning sickness, have to leave early for a doctor's appointment, can't reach the high files and can't bend down to get into the low files. Also that sympathetic co-workers do their work for them.

I happen to agree with her. The employe with integrity (man or woman) will give his employer a full day's work for a full day's pay. You, Dear Abby, defended the pregnant working girl, saying, "I'm sure she'd rather be home, but she continues to work because she has to."

Sorry, Abby, but in this day and age, no girl has to get pregnant unless she wants to. And if she is so stupid or careless as to find herself in that condition before she is financially able to quit her job, I have no sympathy for her.

MARRIED, CHILDLESS AND SMART

DEAR ABBY: In your valiant effort to defend the pregnant working girl, you said, "There is only one reason why a pregnant girl would go to an office and that's because she has to, so how about a little compassion sister?"

Well, I must be the exception because I worked right up to the bitter end—not because I "had" to, but because my doctor said it would be "good" for me. He said pregnancy is not an "illness," it is a normal condition, and the woman who sits around and treats herself as an invalid is apt to have all sorts of aches and pains.

I worked well into my ninth month. I gained only 14 pounds and never felt better in my life. One morning while taking dictation I thought someone had suddenly kicked me in the kidney! That was my first labor pain. Four hours later I was the mother of a healthy six pound baby boy.

So, please tell pregnant women that "work" is the best medicine. I recommend it.

BARBARA IN MARYLAND

DEAR ABBY: There is another reason why a pregnant woman might stay on the job in an office when she would rather be home. Her boss "needs" her. My boss kept begging me to stay on "another week" and "another week" until I almost delivered my baby between the reception room and the switchboard. This is no lie. I had nearly 40 witnesses.

JULIA IN MISSOULA

DEAR ABBY: I have been in charge of office personnel for almost 30 years, and I have some news for MARYLOO.

In every office you will find the "complainers" (men as well as women) who always have a headache, an upset stomach, a backache or a hangover. But when it comes to pregnant women, I have found them to be every bit as efficient during pregnancy as before and after.

MALE PERSONNEL MGR.

DEAR ABBY: I am 38, single and have done office work for many years. I sincerely hope your readers won't think MARYLOO's attitude toward pregnant women who work is typical. It's not.

I have worked with many pregnant women and not one of them has ever expected—or asked for any special concession because of her condition. Also, it has been my observation that all their co-workers (including me) always offered to assist them in every way possible without being asked.

LYNN, NYC

POLLY'S POINTERS Youthful Baby Sitter Shares Helpful Hints

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I am only 14 but would like to share a Pointer with other baby sitters. When I first started baby-sitting, I tried to think of a game the kids would enjoy playing. This is what I thought up: On little slips of paper I PRINT simple stunt ideas, such as "turning somersault," "tell your favorite story" or "see how long you can sit still without smiling." I make about 15 of these, fold them several times and put in a small container. The kids take turns drawing a paper out, then following the directions on it. Those in the early grades of school find it challenging to try to read the papers all by themselves. The kids I baby-sit with are really crazy about the game and never seem to tire of it. If you are just beginning a new baby-sitting job, I am sure you will find this game will "break the ice" between you and the children. In no time you will be their favorite sitter.—RUTH

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Is there a home method one can use to remove scratches from the sole plate of an iron?—MADIE

DEAR POLLY—Kathy could use her wine bottles as candle holders. Take candle stubs of different colors and let them melt down over the bottle, alternating the colors gradually and she will have very pretty candle holders of use for table decorations.—MARTHA

DEAR POLLY—Kathy could go to an electrical supply store and buy a light attachment that will fit into the neck of a wine bottle. Put the cork around the inside of the bottle and then add the fixture, a light globe and shade. The two I have done this way are much admired.—VIVIAN

SOUVANNA IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prince Souvanna Phouma, prime minister of Laos, visited the State Department Saturday for a lunch and private meeting with John Irwin, acting secretary of state. Souvanna is in the United States for the current session of the United Nations. The subject of his talk with Irwin was not disclosed.

BUY — SELL — TRADE
WITH CLASSIFIED ADS
Phone 669-2525

It's Beautiful!

I never thought my carpet would look like that again. We've heard this many times about the thousands of carpets we have cleaned and we have worked in some of the most exclusive homes in the Panhandle.

Call us and ask about some of our references. TAKE YOUR CHOICE

1. A clean carpet that has to be cleaned again next week.

2. A beautiful carpet that doesn't have to be cleaned again for a year.

WE HAVE BEEN GUARANTEEING THIS FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS

Why not call us and talk to us about it?

X-L-N-Y Carpet & Window Cleaning Co.
P. O. Box 1712 665-1664
P.S. Found out recently that our rates are lower than our competitors — isn't that interesting?

WEDNESDAY SCHOOL MENUS

- PAMPA SCHOOLS
- Filed Chicken-Gravy
- Whipped Potatoes
- Boiled Peas
- Butter
- Jello
- ST. VINCENT'S
- Corn
- Apple Sauce
- Fried-Butter
- Cookies
- Milk

Woman's Page

Wanda Mae Huff, Women's Editor

PAMPA DAILY NEWS PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd Year
Tuesday, October 20, 1970

B&PW To Honor Woman Of Year

Business and Professional Women's Club is conducting a series of special events this week to observe National Business Women's Week and will announce the 1970 choice for Woman of the Year at a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. today.

During the dinner today at Furr's Cafeteria, Mrs. Inez Carter, club mother, will also be honored. Mrs. Cliff Drake of Phillips will present a talk on "Wild Flowers of the Texas Panhandle."

"Wildflowers of the Texas Panhandle" presented in today's program was an educational color slide presentation explaining Texas' heritage of wildflowers and the uses people in earlier days made of some of the plants.

The flower photographs were all made in the Panhandle and vary from fields of flowers to close-ups of single blossoms.

The program was compiled by Mrs. Drake, a botanist and photographer. She has collected plants for the Herbariums at the University of Texas at Austin and Texas Tech University in Lubbock and is a member of the Southwestern Association of Naturalists.

She is past-president of Phil-Pic Camera Club of Borger, affiliated with the Photographic Society of America; and has won awards for photography, especially for outstanding photographs of wildflowers. She has five sets of slides of wildflowers that grow in the Texas Panhandle and will show

Set V, late Summer and Autumn, flowers.

Other events this week will be a breakfast at 7 a.m. Wednesday at Mrs. Elsie Cunningham's home, 1312 Terrace; a radio program and the Senior Center Party Thursday; a Supper-Ette at 6:30 p.m. Friday in Mrs. Van Vanderburg's home, 1125 Charles; a coffee at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and luncheon Saturday at Furr's Cafeteria.

Floral Society Selects Officers

African Violet Society, meeting in Mrs. Norman Walberg's home, recently, named new officers and heard reports on the car and treatment of soils.

Officers elected were Mrs. Holly Gray, president; Mrs. V. N. Osborn, vice president; Mrs. Charles Glisson, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Norman Walberg, historian and librarian; Mrs. R. F. Dirksen, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Lee Moore, reporter.

Mrs. Osborne reported on trips she and her husband took to Mansfield, Ohio, to the American Gesneria Society Saintpaulia International Convention and Show this month.

Mrs. Moore spoke on the acidity of the soil and discussed ways of using limestone to reduce acidity.

"Adding one teaspoon of dolomite limestone to one gallon of water and watering your African Violets a few times with this solution will bring the (ph) down to 5.6, which is neutral," she said.

The Halloween motif was used for table decorations during the social hour. Members attending were Meses. Moore, Eyan Jones, Osborne, Dirksen and the hostess.

Members' next meeting will be in Mrs. Moore's home, Nov. 2.

KERBOW'S
THE KEY TO BETTER AIR CONDITIONING HEATING.
Authorized Carrier Dealer

GIANT RALLY

Carlson, Gray, & Hutchison Counties TEXANS WHO CARE*

DR. IRA GALLOWAY

District Superintendent of the United Methodist Church and State Co-Chairman of the Texans who care organization, Fort Worth, Texas

- Hear the Truth ● Accept the Challenge
- Get The Facts ● Be Inspired

To Defeat Liquor by the drink in November's General Election

Thursday, Oct. 22, 1970
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
PAMPA, TEXAS
7:30 P.M.

*Every Concerned Citizen, Regardless of Race, Creed or Color is urged to be Present.

(P.R. Pol. Adv.)

Four Questions And Answers About Advance Collections

1. What happens if we miss some copies during the month if we have already paid the carrier for delivery in advance?

Answer: If you miss any copies, now, or when the paper is paid in advance, call the Pampa Daily News Circulation Department 669-2525
Daily 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.
Sunday 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m.

2. What happens if we move out of town in the middle of the month and we have already paid the boy for the full month?

Answer: Most people know when they are going to move. When the boy collects let him know and he'll collect only for those days which you receive a paper. If you should move without advance notice, you may pick up your refund at the newspaper office during regular office hours. Monday - Friday.

3. What happens if we move to another part of town, and the carrier has already collected the month in advance?

Answer: Again most people know when they plan to move, but if you plan to move without advance notice, the newspaper office will transfer your credit to your new address.

4. How do we pay the carrier for the paper when we plan to be gone for a couple of weeks?

Answer: When the carrier comes to collect, let him know how long you will be gone. He will make the proper charge for the days which you receive the paper.

Advance Collection Will Start November 1, 1970
For All Subscribers In The City of Pampa Only!
Carriers In The City of Pampa Will Collect $1.75 Per Month
Will You Help Your Carrier Be A Success In This?

The Pampa Daily News

The Women's Page

WANDA MAE HUFF, WOMEN'S NEWS EDITOR

PAMPA, TEXAS Tuesday, October 20, 1970 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 9

Floral Gifts Spark Anniversary

NEW YORK (Sp) — Although the silver and gold wedding have become the two anniversaries that are celebrated more than any other, the old idea that anniversaries which come before the quarter century mark are usually disregarded, is now outmoded.

Today, the wedding anniversary naturally presents itself as an appropriate occasion for merrymaking, entertaining, and commemorative gift giving. As such, couples, starting with and commemorative gift giving mark their years together with various forms of informal festivity, reserving formal banquets for the observance of their 25th and 50th anniversaries.

This ever-increasing observance of each year of marriage also poses a problem for friends and relatives — that of giving a fitting and memorable gift.

Flowers span the years and are generally accepted as customary anniversary gifts. But, floral design experts suggest that they are especially on target when professionally designed to feature individual anniversary themes.

Following are a few examples of traditionally accepted motifs: first year — paper; third year — leather; fourth year — books or fruit; fifth year — wood; 10th year — tin; 15th year — crystal; 20th year — china; 25th year — silver, and 50th year — gold.

Emphasizing these themes, your local florist can create unusual floral arrangements for a truly original gift. For example, by incorporating creatively selected dimestore utensils he can make a tin man to wish someone a happy 10th anniversary. Set alongside bright blooms, the tin man transforms a simple arrangement into a unique conversation piece.

And why wrap a gift of crystal, another conventional item for one's 15th anniversary? A crystal bowl or vase, filled with fresh flowers will certainly draw the attention it deserves.

The important thing to keep in mind is securing that special professional touch that will make yours a memorable gift as well as show that you gave extra thought to make giving an art.

COLORFUL TIN FOR TENTH — Inspired by fancy, a designer created this Oz tin man for an unusual 10th anniversary gift. Made of salt and pepper shakers, a vegetable grater body, spoon arms, and a funnel hat over his scouring pad hair, the tin man is surrounded by an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums, orange marigolds and stocks of gladiolus. After this novel floral greeting has served its purpose, the utensils will be welcomed in the kitchen.

Safety Rules

For Strange Dogs

NEW YORK (WVNS) — Just because a day is someone else's best friend does not mean he will necessarily be your best friend.

In recognition of this poignant fact, the National Safety Council has just issued a series of guidelines on dealing with strange dogs. In descending order of friendliness:

If he ignores you, ignore him. If he growls, stand perfectly still. Do not look him in the eye.

If he continues to growl, try to sooth it (with words alone, do not move your hands) so you can slowly walk by and beyond him.

If he jumps you, bring your arms quickly to your face — each hand holding the opposite elbow.

If you're thrown down, roll onto your stomach and cover your head and neck with your arms.

LION IS SHOT
AKITA, Japan (UPI) — A 450-pound lion walked out of its cage at the Children's Zoo Monday when the zoo keeper forgot to lock the door. Some 50 police and other officers barricaded the area of the zoo where the lion was walking and finally shot it to death.

Senior Center Corner

By LINNIE CHANDLER

The 61 Senior Citizens attending the weekly Senior Citizens' party at Lovett Memorial Library didn't consider Thursday a dreary, rainy day at all. They welcomed Mrs. Linda Vanas of Knox City, Iowa, as a visitor.

Sponsoring Altruists attending were Mmes. Bill Tidwell, G. W. Anderson, Louise Sewell, Lora Dunn, Ruth Sewell, A. D. Hills and Lillian Snow. Red Cross Volunteers were Mmes. Libby Shotwell and Lelia Clifford.

El Progresso Club serving refreshments were Mmes. J. T. Curtis, Roy McMillan, O. K. Gaylor, Glenn Dawkins, Glenn Radcliff, and R. A. Keagy.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lawrence have returned from a visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Cramer of Oklahoma City. The couple also spent a few days at Lake Texhema fishing and going boating.

Mrs. Jessie Rance's daughter, Mrs. Linda Vance of Sioux City, Iowa, visited her recently and helped work with the Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy dolls for the First Christian Church Bazaar.

Mrs. Glen Vaughn spent a night recently with her parents,

Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Moseley. Mrs. Elizabeth Kretzmeier spent a few days with her niece, Mrs. Marion Elder of Fort Worth.

Mrs. M. Slaton spent a week with her son, Floyd Slaton of Borger. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Schonertadt and daughters, Kanie and Kristi of Levelland visited their grandmother, Mrs. Elma Bailey.

Mrs. Phoebe Evans of San Pablo, Calif., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Barbara Roop.

Mrs. Ruby Stovall has returned from a 22-day foliage tour of the New England states.

R. W. Tucker received information the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wendell Alt-miller of Ada, Okla., was destroyed by a flood. The family reported they were marooned on top of a refrigerator two hours until rescued by the Ada Fire Department.

ASKS CUT LONDON (UPI) — Sir Michael Cary, permanent secretary at the Ministry of Public Building and Works, has asked his employes to cut down on the number of memos they send out. There is said to be too much wastage, he said. Cary made his appeal in a memo.

Springtime In Paris Has Clinging Shape

PARIS (UPI) — Springtime in Paris may be long and droopy next year.

This is not to say that the manufacturers who displayed dresses Saturday at the 10th annual French spring ready-to-wear show in the Salon de Versailles abandoned the A-line structure look. It was there, and plenty of clothes are "Chanel length," falling just below the knee in a slight retreat from the winter midi.

But what swingers may judge to be the newer look in the exposition hall was the midi shirtwaist dress of crepe, silk or chiffon, cut on the bias for a vaguely 1930 look. The shirtwaists, with full or puffed sleeves, came in rust or wine, old-fashioned floral prints or geometric designs.

"The A-line is going. The new shape is the important news, these clothes that cling and droop," said one Canadian buyer.

Other buyers said many of their colleagues from Europe, and Japan were buying the clothes at lengths shorter than seen in the exhibitors' stalls. The designers made the Spring fashions in any length you want — just so it's long, from barely below the knee to maxi with numerous variations in between. Some minis for sport were seen, but they were lost in the crush.

For those who can't stand the loss of the mini there were plenty of skirts split in the middle to the knee or on both sides to the hip.

BUY — SELL — TRADE WITH CLASSIFIED ADS

Sorority Conducts Rushees' Program

Rho Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a "Model Meeting" for nine rushees recently in the Hospitality Room of the Citizens Bank.

Rushees attending were Mmes. Ron Cline, Gary R. Clark, Dick Handley, Terry Joe Haralson, Jay Manning, Randy Phillips, Dwight Turner, Riley Walters, and Miss Jana Cole.

President, Mrs. Robert Benyshek welcomed guests and conducted the business meeting. After roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were read by recording secretary, Mrs. Carlos Nunez, the treasurer's report was given.

A program entitled "Prose" was presented by Mrs. Nunez with selections from Kahill Gibran's "The Prophet" and "La Gioconda" by Walter Pater.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Sonny Golden and Mrs. Richard Gordon. The door prize was won by Mrs. Jack Eddins.

Members present were Mmes. Robert Benyshek, Gary Clark, Randall Cross, James Cunningham, Jack Eddins, Sonny Golden, Richard Gordon, Tommy Hill, and Carlos Nunez.

STOPPING IN LONGVIEW
AUSTIN (UPI) — President Nixon will stop in Longview for an airport rally en route to Dallas Wednesday, Oct. 28, to campaign for Republican Senate candidate George Bush, according to Bush's campaign headquarters.

KILLED IN CRASH
ALICE, Tex. (UPI) — Felipe Esparza and Jesus Cortes, both 24-year-old Laredo residents, were killed Monday and a third man was injured in a head-on automobile crash.

EARLY-WEEK SHOPPERS GET THE BEST VALUES AT Thrif-T Priced Ideal!

IDEAL FOOD STORES

IDEAL'S THRIF-T LOW PRICE!

PRICES EFFECTIVE THRU OCT. 21, 1970.

BAR—5 FULLY COOKED, HALF OR WHOLE	$1.19	OSCAR MAYER	89c
Boneless Hams, FAMILY PACK, SIRLOIN CUTS	Lb. 79c	Link Sausage	Lb. 89c
Pork Chops, COUNTRY STYLE	Lb. 69c	OSCAR MAYER	1-Lb. 79c
Spare Ribs, MEADOWDALE, 2-lb. Pkg. $1.15	Lb. 58c	Skinless Franks	Pkg. 79c
Sliced Bacon, RODEO	1-Lb. Pkg. $1.59	OSCAR MAYER SLICED ASSORTED	8-Oz. 79c
Sliced Bacon, SOUTH BREADED, PRE-COOKED	28-Oz. Pkg. 69c	Luncheon Meats	Pkg. 28c
Fish Sticks	Lb. 69c	U.S.D.A. FRESH DRESSED	Whole Fryers	Lb. 33c
		U.S.D.A. FRESH DRESSED	Cut-Up Fryers	Lb. $1.19
		MRS. PAUL'S	24-Oz. Fish Cakes

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

ELLIS 4-OZ. CANS

Vienna Sausage 5 FOR $1

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

ELLIS HOT OR MILD 16-OZ. CAN

Chili with Beans 29c

More Ellis Values!

WITH HAM

Ellis White Beans 15-OZ. CAN 37c

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

THRIF-T-SPECIAL 24-OZ. BTL.

Log Cabin Syrup 63c

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

Green Goddess, Creamy Italian, Russian, Or Caesar 8-OZ.

Seven Seas Dressings 3 FOR $1

ELLIS PORK

Luncheon Meat 15-OZ. CAN 43c

ELLIS CORNED

Beef Hash 14-OZ. CAN 43c

WITH MEATSALES

Ellis Spaghetti 14-OZ. CAN 33c

GRADE A

Medium Eggs DOZEN 37c

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

THRIF-T-SPECIAL 48 OZ. Btl.

Floor Wax 1.79

APPIAN WAY

Pizza Mix 12-OZ. PKG. 33c

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

THRIF-T-SPECIAL 20-OZ. CAN

Blue Bonnet 25c

THRIF-T SAVINGS!

THRIF-T-SPECIAL 20-OZ. CAN

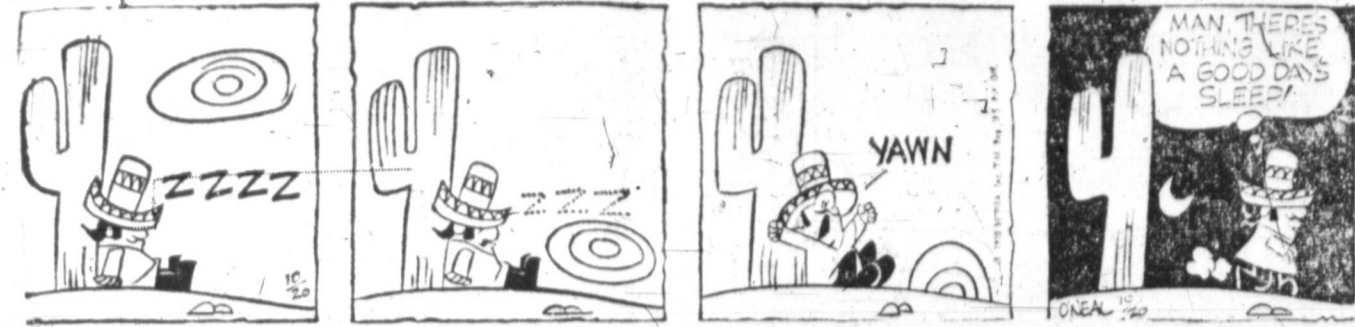

Blue Bonnet 25c

SOLID HEAD

LETTUCE 19c

EA. NEW CROP Jonathan Apples 10c

40-LB. CTN. $3.49

10 PAMPA DAILY NEWS
PAMPA, TEXAS
Wednesday, October 19, 1978
JEANE DIXON
Your Horoscope

FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 19, 1978
YOUR FORTUNES FOR WEDNESDAY: You are a little off-kilter that your own words will be used for a long time. You learn to direct your energy into your own life and to stop worrying about what others think of you. You are a little off-kilter that your own words will be used for a long time. You learn to direct your energy into your own life and to stop worrying about what others think of you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): The day is crowded with discussions of trivia. Listen to the high spots, then attend to the low spots. Think it should be some. The less comment from you the better.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Despite some additional hard work, your work is going well. You are a little off-kilter that your own words will be used for a long time. You learn to direct your energy into your own life and to stop worrying about what others think of you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your impatience leads you into a certain risk of your own. Think it should be some. The less comment from you the better.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Whatever you had set your hopes on will be there later. Think it should be some. The less comment from you the better.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Publicity hinders your progress. Just do what's needed without inviting general criticism once you have your facts straight. People who understand least comment more adverse.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Financial moves continue steadily. Your intuition is mixed with wishful thinking. Learn the difference. Put some time into your hobby, try new materials.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Conditions encourage conservative changes. Experience is needed to have formal support. You receive more public notice than is comfortable. Give the appearance of being at ease and competent.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your strongest supporters are most critical now. Personal charm rises almost to charismatic level. Be responsible. Treat everybody kindly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You are tempted to spend to impress others. This may result in a loss of money. Your sense of profit becomes the most profitable of all. Give it a chance.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): A blunt word Wednesday will get you an argument from the most docile. Appeals to reason are difficult, but pay off in both human and commercial terms.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Expect no favors, but enjoy seeing your work benefit others - you can learn something watching your ideas being tried by others. Evening brings a sober new thought.

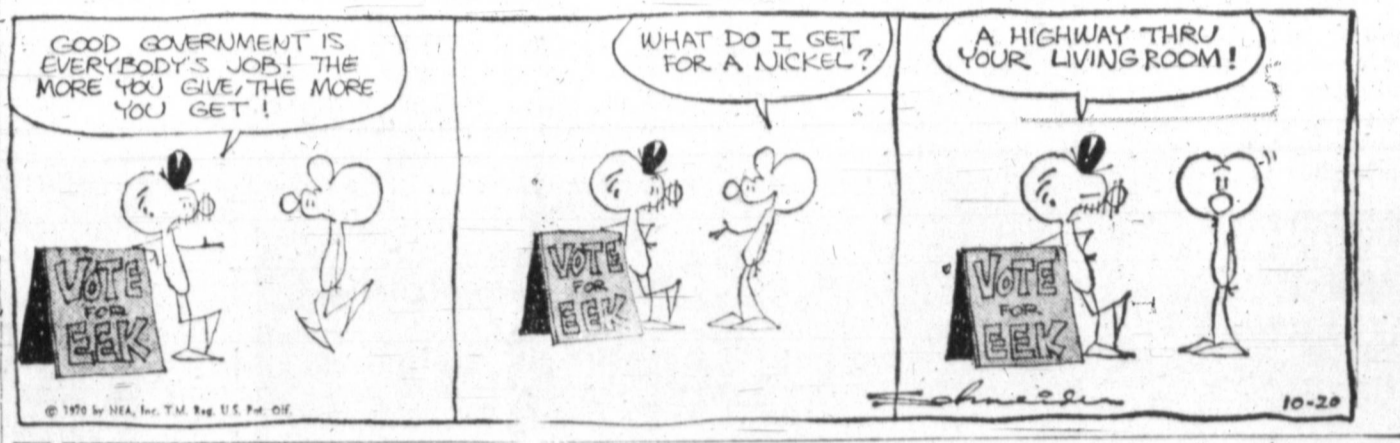

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Expansive programs require more cash than your budget permits. Get an outside opinion. If you get strong encouragement go ahead - otherwise settle for a modest project.

Tuesday
Television
Schedule

- 6:00 4-7-10 News, Weather and Spts.
- 6:30 4-Don Knotts
- 7-MOD Squad
- 6:30 10-Hillbillies
- 7:00 10-Green Acres
- 7:30 4-Julia
- 7:30 7-Movie "Wild Women"
- 10-Hee Haw
- 8:00 4-Movie "House of Cards"
- 8:30 10-To Rome with Love
- 9:00 7-Marcus Welby
- 10-Special TV & Politics Politics
- 10:00 4-10-7-News, Weather Spts.
- 10:30 4-Johnny Carson
- 10:40 7-Rona Barrett
- 10:45 7-Perry Mason
- 10:45 10-Movie "Sink The Bismarck"
- 11:45 7-Cot 45

COSMONAUTS VISIT WASHINGTON (UPI) - Soviet cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Vitale Sevastyanov, who set a spaceflight endurance record of 18 days last June, arrive here Sunday for a 10-day tour of the United States. Stops have tentatively been set at the Houston Manned Spaceflight Center, the Marshall Spaceflight Center at Huntsville, Ala., and the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., along with other centers on the West Coast.

today's FUNNY
A GOOD WIFE IS THE POWER BEHIND THE DRONE
Thanks to Dorothy Hoffbauer, Ravenna, Neb.
© 1978 by NEA, Inc.
Today's FUNNY will pay $1.00 for each original "funny" used. Send copy to: Today's FUNNY, 1200 West Third St., Cleveland, Ohio 44113.

Follow Your Favorite Comics In The Pampa Daily News.... IN COLOR ON SUNDAYS

By United Press International

The Texas A&M defense is in such a slump that even Wall St. feels better, but the likes of Steve Judy are not going to spend a lot of time wondering why.

The likes of Steve Judy are just going to score points against it.

A&M, you will recall, was the darling of the non-conference season. Gene Stallings Aggies defeated Wichita and then stunned LSU. There was the unfortunate slipup against Ohio State, but then there was a lot of sophomoric mistakes involved, and everything seemed secure when A&M ran Michigan all over the field before losing in the final quarter.

Stallings' sophomores seemed ready, but the word had not gotten to the conference foes. Against A&M last Saturday night in College Station Judy and his Texas Christian teammates romped for almost 600 yards. Judy himself ran the ball 16 times for 136 yards, completed seven of 13 passes for 116 more, trotted over for two touchdowns and hit flanker Larry Speak for another.

This was with an offense that was supposed to be sputtering and indeed was crippled with injuries, and his near flawless performance made Judy the United Press International Southwest Conference offensive player of the week.

People are making a living off Texas A&M. Charles Napper earned the same honor the week before in quarterbacking Texas Tech to a win over A&M. For the second straight week A&M was stunned chiefly on the ground, which still comes as a surprise because of the Aggies' tough defensive showing against Michigan.

During the week before the game coach Fred Taylor said he had been disappointed with his team's personal pride, but Judy said the coach didn't come down hard on the Horned Frogs with any lectures.

Torpey Wins First Open

USK, Wash. (UPI)—There are two things you can do in Usk: You can sit in Oie's Tavern and look across the street at the Buffalo pen, or you can stand next to the Buffalo pen and look into the window of Larry Oie's Tavern.

At least that's the way it was until the first national "Usk Open" golf tournament was held here this past weekend.

Billed as "The World's Most Obscure Golf Tournament," it was held on the ninth-hole Orielle Hills Golf course and camp site.

The 19-hole tournament had been postponed the weekend of Oct. 10-11 at Oie's request so people wouldn't be drawn away from the World Series, and in hopes it might snow, forcing cancellation.

Entrants paid $10, and this included an official tournament sweatshirt, green fees and a half case of beer.

There were two types of sweatshirts. One said "Usk" and showed the front part of one of Oie's two buffalos, and other said "Them" and showed the other end.

The idea was to play two rounds, finish the beer and then play a 19th hole, which was determined by a draw from a fish bowl.

The winner, a "Them," was John Torpey of Spokane, who with a hidden handicap of 12 and after his worst three holes were deleted (known as the Usk equalizer), netted a 64.

Torpey received a genuine buffalo collar and a promise that the children of Usk would be informed of his feat at the Usk Elementary school, which was closed several years ago.

The tournament turned out to be only incidental to the real news. "Shirley" was pregnant and "Chief Bigsmoke" was going to become a father. They are his buffalo.

"Oie was so happy he drove all the way to Newport (about six miles away) to celebrate," said one of Oie's customers. "He didn't even play in the tournament. Said something about having double-vision." Believe it or not, they plan to do it again next year.

Clay-Quarry Bout To Use NY Scoring

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Cassius Clay-Jerry Quarry heavyweight fight here next Monday night will be scored by two judges and a referee under the New York state scoring system which gives the victory to the fighter winning the most rounds.

The scoring system was agreed to Monday, ending a week of haggling. Under the system, should there be a tie of rounds won, the deadlock would be broken by an added 10-points-per-round system.

Fight spokesman Murray Goodman said that the judges and referee would be brought in from other states because of a lack of experienced boxing officials in Georgia. Their identity was not disclosed and will not be announced until the night of the fight.

Both Clay and Quarry rested Monday but will resume training today.

Two Invited To Laurel Park

LONDON (UPI)—Lorenzaccio, surprise winner of the Champion Stakes at Newmarket on Saturday, and Hotfoot, who finished third in the race behind Nijinsky, have been invited to run in the Nov. 11 Washington, D.C. International at Laurel Park, Md.

Lorenzaccio's trainer, Noel Murless, said a decision on whether Lorenzaccio will cross the Atlantic for the race will be made later in the week.

Royals Acquire Garibaldi

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Royals Monday acquired pitcher Bob Garibaldi from the San Francisco Giants' Phoenix farm club in exchange for minor league catcher Fran Healy.

Garibaldi, who logged time with the Giants in parts of four seasons after signing a big bonus contract in 1962, had a 15-10 record and a 2.87 ERA with Phoenix last season.

Waivers Sought On Gibson

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Monday asked waivers on Joe Gibson, 35, a left-handed pitcher, for purposes of giving him his unconditional release.

Gibson, pitching in 41 games this season with an ERA of 4.95, was one of three current Pirates who played for the club in 1960 when they won the World Series.

Esposito Leads NHL Scoring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Phil Esposito of the Boston Bruins, only seven points away from becoming the 42nd National Hockey League player to reach the 500-point plateau, has taken over the NHL scoring lead with 19 points in his first four games.

Esposito has scored five goals and five assists to take a two-point lead over four players tied for second place.

Air Conditioner Covers
We Measure and Install
Pampa Tent & Awning Co.
317 E. Brown 665-8541

ON THE MARK—President Nixon takes time out for a few frames of bowling on the lanes in the Executive Office Building adjacent to the White House. Bowling has become the favorite sport for the Nixon family.

SPORTS

The Pampa Daily News
PAMPA, TEXAS 63rd Year
Tuesday, October 20, 1970 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 11

NTS Not Enthused About 1-Pt. Win

DALLAS (UPI)—North Texas State University had not had too much to be enthused about until last Saturday's 11-10 decision over West Texas State, and that slim one-point victory was due to a large extent to Lyndon Fox.

Fox, a junior defensive back, intercepted the Eagle win by intercepting two West Teas passes in the final two minutes of play.

Fox is an experienced thief — on the football field that is. He intercepted eight passes during his sophomore year, and although he got off to a slow start in that category this season his total now is three.

His heroics against West Texas made him the Missouri

Valley Conference defensive player of the week.

Although Fox has picked off only three aerials this season, the Eagle secondary has intercepted 19 passes.

His first interception against West Texas came with 1:54 left in the game, and then he clinched the victory with another theft with only 35 seconds remaining.

Fox was selected for conference defensive honors over Louisville's Paul Mattingly and Tulsa's Chuck Cummings. Mattingly was in on 14 tackles and intercepted one pass in Louisville's 16-14 win over Marshall while Cummings was involved in 13 tackles and recovered one fumble in Tulsa's loss to Virginia Tech.

First Male Adult Wins Grid Contest

(See Story on Page one)
The male acumen for excellence in athletics, both on the playing field and from an armchair, was redeemed this week when John McGuire, 1820 N. Zimmers, emerged the winner of the Pampa Daily News' Football Contest.

McGuire is not only this week's winner, he is the first adult male winner since the contest started at the beginning of the football season. Other weeks' winners have included two feminine "guessers" and two high school students.

McGuire is an avid sports fan. He says, "Whatever is in season that's my favorite," he said when he dropped by The News office to have his picture snapped.

And he is also a Big Booster for the Harvester Team, the Optimist Club's Tiger League Football, and both junior high school teams.

"They have some great school teams this year. Lee's ninth grade will win district this year and I think the Harvesters will, too. They have an offense that will 'jell,'" said this week's winner of the football contest. "McGuire has no favorite 'pro' team... 'unless it is the Rams.'"

McGuire pulled out two tickets out of his sports' jacket pocket to the Pampa-Tascosa game for Friday night.

"Everyone better get their tickets early," he advised. "This is going to be some game."

Although he was a winner his first time out in the Pampa News Football Contest, it won't be his last. "I'm going to enter again this week," he said confidently.

Richey Leads In Tennis Tournaments

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., holds a three-point lead over Ken Rosewall of Australia in the $200,000 Pepsi Grand Prix tennis tournament.

JOHN MCGUIRE

Booster Club To Meet At PHS

The Harvester Booster Club will have its regular meeting at 7:30 tonight at Pampa High School cafeteria.

Color films of the Pampa-Caprock game will be presented by head coach "Swede" Lee.

Cowboys Try To Ignore Last Week's Massacre

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys, not wanting to look back on its worst defeat in its 11-year history, may look forward to playing the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs this weekend without quarterbacks Craig Morton and Roger Staubach.

Cowboys Coach Tom Landry says the status of both Morton and Staubach is questionable today and indicated Bob Belden may be activated off the taxi squad.

Morton took a blow on the side of his already sore knee Sunday as the Minnesota Vikings were humiliating the Cowboys 54-13. Staubach has a staph infection in his throwing arm and was hospitalized when the team returned to Dallas from the Bloomington, Minn., massacre.

Team physician Dr. Marvin Knight said he hoped to clear up Staubach's infection quickly but he could not be sure how long it would take.

"Morton has to be doubtful for the Kansas City game," Landry said. "It'll probably be today or Tuesday before we can determine how damaged it is."

"We'll give Roger antibiotics and just hope his arm clears up," the coach said.

If both Staubach and Morton are out this week, Danny Reeves will probably work with Belden at quarterback.

"It's hard to explain a game like that," Landry said of the misery dealt by the Vikings. "I've never been able to explain them."

Bloomington, Minn. (UPI)—Although the Dallas Cowboys suffered their worst defeat in history Sunday, 54-13, at the hands of the Minnesota Vikings, the Cowboys somehow managed to beat the Vikings in total offense.

Final statistics revealed the Cowboys had 286 yards in total offense to 258 for the Vikings.

Bradshaw Reveals Nature

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—There is a Terry Bradshaw few people know and nobody ever sees.

The one everybody sees and most people know is the flip, fun-loving sometimes facetious strawhaired kid from Shreveport who is putting in his rookie season with those long-time palsies, the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Terry Bradshaw nobody ever sees is the one who gets down on his knees in his room every night, clasps his hands in front of him and prays.

"I say: God, I want to be the greatest quarterback who ever played this game and then I'll use all the honors I'll ever receive to glorify Your name," says Pittsburgh's personable 22-year-old super rookie.

He means it, too. Terry Bradshaw devotes a great deal of his time to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and religion isn't anything he jokes about but that's not the reason some of the front office people among the Steelers, who Bradshaw steered to a 7-3 upset victory over the Houston Oilers Sunday, refer to him as "Moses." They call him that because they had lost 16 straight regular season games before their last two back-to-back wins over Buffalo and Houston and they honestly believe Terry Bradshaw has come to lead them out of football's wilderness.

Bradshaw treats the whole thing rather intelligently. He laughs it off and considers it merely one big put-on.

"They call me a lotta names like Moses and Superman," he says, "and I think it's cute, it's fun, it's flattering. It's good for the team. I don't take it to heart, I know I'm not Moses."

Terry Bradshaw is something the Steelers never had before though. He's completely refreshing, acutely aware of his talent for throwing a football without being abrasive about it and bone honest.

Bradshaw realizes he has a way to go. He knows what they were saying about him after the Steelers dropped their first three ball games.

"They were saying what a bum I was and where is this saviour of ours and when was he gonna do it?" Bradshaw says. "I didn't say I'd do it this year, but I know I'm gonna do it. I know it."

He knows what the game of football is all about. More important, he knows himself.

There aren't many like that around. Hardly any at all in fact.

Namath Hurts And Whole Team Is Hurt

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Jets are hurting all over today because of a fractured small bone at the base of Joe Namath's right thumb.

The Jets announced Monday that Namath will be sidelined during next Sunday's game with the Buffalo Bills—marking the first time the star quarterback will miss a regular-season game because of an injury—and declined to speculate how much longer he will be out of action.

Dr. James Nicholas, the team

physician, is expected to examine the injury today or tomorrow. X-rays revealed Monday that the navicular bone had been fractured during the Jets' 29-22 loss to the Baltimore Colts Sunday, but Dr. Nicholas was out of town and no long-range prediction will be made until he examines the injury.

Namath, who has been bothered by brittle knees during his pro career, was held out of his first game as a member of the Jets in 1965 but has played every regular-season game since then.

NFL Standings

By United Press International American Conference		West
East	W. L. T. Pct.	Los Angeles	W. L. T. Pct.
Miami	4 0 0 .800	San Francisco	3 1 1 .750
Baltimore	4 1 0 .800	Atlanta	2 3 0 .400
N.Y. Jets	1 4 0 .200	New Orleans	1 1 1 .250
Boston	1 4 0 .200	Monday's Results
Buffalo	1 4 0 .200	Oakland 34	Washington 20
Central		Sunday's Games
Cleveland	3 2 0 .600	Easton at Baltimore
Houston	2 3 0 .400	Buffalo at N.Y. Jets
Pittsburgh	2 3 0 .400	Cincinnati at Washington
Cincinnati	1 4 0 .200	Cleveland at Miami
West		Dallas at Kansas City
Denver	4 1 0 .800	Denver at San Fran
Kansas City	3 2 0 .600	Detroit at Chicago
Oakland	2 2 1 .500	Houston at San Diego
San Diego	1 3 1 .250	New Orleans at Atlanta
National Conference		Phila vs Grn Bay at Milw
East	W. L. T. Pct.	Pittsburgh at Oakland
St. Louis	4 1 0 .800	St. Louis at N.Y. Giants
Dallas	3 2 0 .600	Los Angeles at Minnesota
Washington	2 3 0 .400	(Only game scheduled)
N.Y. Giants	2 3 0 .400	NOW SHOWING
Philadelphia	0 5 0 .000	Top o' Texas
Central		DRIVE-IN
Minnesota	4 1 0 .800	Opens 7:30
Detroit	4 1 0 .800	Every loving couple should see this film before it's too late.
Green Bay	3 2 0 .600	wedding night
Chicago	2 3 0 .400	COLOR BY MOVIELL

Hayes, Royal Relive '69 As Ohio St.-Texas Are 1-2

NEW YORK (UPI)—Woody Hayes of Ohio State and Darrell Royal of Texas must feel as if they're reliving the 1969 season.

A year ago, Ohio State held the No. 1 ranking through most of the season, trailed closely by Texas. The Buckeyes were upset in their season finale by Michigan and Texas pulled off one of its miracle finishes to beat Arkansas in its last game and take the national title.

The scene is the same this season, with only some characters changed. Ohio State was rated the nation's No. 1 team today in balloting by the 35-member United Press International Board of Coaches and Texas ranked second, a scant eight points behind. Both teams received 14 first place votes.

Notre Dame maintained a close third, 20 points behind Texas. Nebraska was fourth, followed by Auburn, Air Force, Michigan, Stanford, Arkansas and Arizona State to complete the top 10.

Five coaches, from each of the seven geographical areas of the nation comprise the UPI ratings board. Each week they select the top 10 major college football teams, with points awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis on votes from first through 10th.

UPI Football Standings

NEW YORK (UPI)—The United Press International top-ranked major college football teams with first place votes and won-lost-tied records in parentheses. (fifth week).	Points
1. Ohio St. (14) (4-0)	318
2. Texas (14) (4-0)	310
3. Notre Dame (5) (5-0)	290
4. Nebraska (1) (5-0-1)	218
5. Auburn (5-0)	168
6. Air Force (6-0)	155
7. Michigan (5-0)	155
8. Stanford (1-1) (5-1)	131
9. Arkansas (4-1)	60
10. Arizona St. (5-0)	44
11. USC (4-1-1)	35
12. Tennessee (4-1)	22
13. Mississippi (4-1)	22
14. Houston (3-1)	8
15. San Diego St. (6-0)	3
16. UCLA (4-2)	2
17. (Tie) LSU (4-1)	1
(Tie) Toledo (6-0)	1

The Pampa Daily News

Watchful Newspaper
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP OF TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Where's Nader Now?

Isn't it strange that Ralph Nader falls suddenly silent when it comes to "protecting consumers" against the demands of greedy union bosses and their misguided members who strike on command?

"But," it will be argued, "strikes are against industries and businesses, not against the consumers. So, why should Nader and others of like mind concern themselves with a squabble between unions and management in which the interests of consumers are not involved?"

That, putting it bluntly, is the argument of either a charlatan or a person who has not bothered to inform himself.

It is precisely because the interests of consumers are involved that such as Ralph Nader, if they are sincere in their professed concern for consumers, should take the part of industry and business and oppose the strikers.

A strike against any industry or business is a strike against every consumer. It is an attempt, via the resort to threat, coercion and force, to compel consumers to pay a higher price for products and services than they would pay voluntarily on a free and uncoerced market.

Take the United Auto Workers' strike just now under way against General Motors, for instance. The strikers, already among the highest paid wage earners in the world, are demanding "increased pensions."

That is merely another way of saying higher pay. And, what's more, like spoiled children or, more aptly, like the unthinking mobs demolishing campuses, the unions are demanding the higher pay now!

Never mind where the "increased pensions" are to come from. "We want them now!" is the cry. "In the name of Justice!"

But management, knowing that for every outgo there must be income, cannot adopt such an unthinking, emotional stance. Management must ask, "Where are the increased pensions to come from?" And, let it be thoroughly understood, there are only three possible sources. 1. GM could reduce the quality of its products by using (a) less and cheaper materials in construction and (b) by insisting on less rigid standards of workmanship and the laying off of some workers, thus reducing its costs. Imagine the cry of outrage this would elicit from "Unsafe At Any Speed" Nader and, besides, the laying off of workers would set off another UAW strike, not to mention that such a solution would make GM even more vulnerable to competition from foreign auto makers. Unthinkable!

2. GM could (to the extent that its already tax-squeezed profit margin would permit it) pay the increased wage out of its profits. But here again, it would run into unsurmountable obstacles. For GM, you see, is not owned by GM per se, but by its consumer stockholders who, if their profit-produced dividends are reduced drastically, will withdraw their capital and invest it elsewhere. In that case, GM, without capital for tomorrow's production, would be bankrupt. Again, unthinkable!

That leaves the only remaining alternative. 3. GM can raise the price of its future cars — which means, of course, that the consuming public will be required to pay higher prices for cars than they were paying before the strike occurred. And this, most likely, is what will happen.

When GM caves in, as it probably will under the combined pressure of union coercion and governmental "persuasion," the entire auto industry in this country will cave with it. As a result, auto prices throughout the entire industry will rise and they will be paid by the only people capable of paying them — the consumers.

That is what we meant when we said that a strike against any industry or business is a strike against all consumers; including the unthinking union members themselves, who are slowly but surely pricing their own skills out of the job market.

are only three possible sources. 1. GM could reduce the quality of its products by using (a) less and cheaper materials in construction and (b) by insisting on less rigid standards of workmanship and the laying off of some workers, thus reducing its costs. Imagine the cry of outrage this would elicit from "Unsafe At Any Speed" Nader and, besides, the laying off of workers would set off another UAW strike, not to mention that such a solution would make GM even more vulnerable to competition from foreign auto makers. Unthinkable!

2. GM could (to the extent that its already tax-squeezed profit margin would permit it) pay the increased wage out of its profits. But here again, it would run into unsurmountable obstacles. For GM, you see, is not owned by GM per se, but by its consumer stockholders who, if their profit-produced dividends are reduced drastically, will withdraw their capital and invest it elsewhere. In that case, GM, without capital for tomorrow's production, would be bankrupt. Again, unthinkable!

That leaves the only remaining alternative. 3. GM can raise the price of its future cars — which means, of course, that the consuming public will be required to pay higher prices for cars than they were paying before the strike occurred. And this, most likely, is what will happen.

When GM caves in, as it probably will under the combined pressure of union coercion and governmental "persuasion," the entire auto industry in this country will cave with it. As a result, auto prices throughout the entire industry will rise and they will be paid by the only people capable of paying them — the consumers.

That is what we meant when we said that a strike against any industry or business is a strike against all consumers; including the unthinking union members themselves, who are slowly but surely pricing their own skills out of the job market.

are only three possible sources. 1. GM could reduce the quality of its products by using (a) less and cheaper materials in construction and (b) by insisting on less rigid standards of workmanship and the laying off of some workers, thus reducing its costs. Imagine the cry of outrage this would elicit from "Unsafe At Any Speed" Nader and, besides, the laying off of workers would set off another UAW strike, not to mention that such a solution would make GM even more vulnerable to competition from foreign auto makers. Unthinkable!

2. GM could (to the extent that its already tax-squeezed profit margin would permit it) pay the increased wage out of its profits. But here again, it would run into unsurmountable obstacles. For GM, you see, is not owned by GM per se, but by its consumer stockholders who, if their profit-produced dividends are reduced drastically, will withdraw their capital and invest it elsewhere. In that case, GM, without capital for tomorrow's production, would be bankrupt. Again, unthinkable!

H. L. Hunt Writes

CAMPUS UNREST

The President's Commission on Campus Unrest has released its 374 page report that sums up its findings and recommendations following three months of investigation and hearings. It seems to blame everybody — students, lawmen and political leaders — and issues a plea for "national reconciliation" lead by the President.

In the end it will probably please no one. One nail it drove home was this: our campuses face a historical crisis. But the reasons for the crisis, as determined by the commission, are rather general and will be highly controversial. The roots of the problem, says the commission, lie in divisions within our society that go beyond the war in Indo-China and racial injustice.

Specifically, the report hits at universities for not being prepared to cope with the problems of unrest. The roots of student activism have their basis in the unresolved conflicts of our national life.

The report hits at "overreaction" by law enforcement officers. It concedes that a "small minority" of students is bent on destruction. It rejects the theory that a conspiracy is behind the unrest and violence.

Just what the commission has accomplished, if anything, is difficult to predict. No citizen who believes in our system would deny the right of peaceful protest and speech to a student or anyone else. But that same citizen will demand that students, like all others, shall comply with the laws of the land. Enforcement of those laws is the best way to stop trouble and anarchy. They were designed for just that purpose. Theories of what is behind lawlessness should take second place to enforcement.

With Some Reservation

By INJUN WOODY

The women are up in arms—and legs. They are getting tired of sagging panty hose and droopy drawers. They are now trying to get the government into the notion of passing another law.

If they think that panty-hose are in a poor state of affairs wait'll they get a look at the affairs of state.

The panty-hose is a garment that recently came on the market and the ladies have been snapping them up. Even so, it costs more to sell 'em than it does to make 'em.

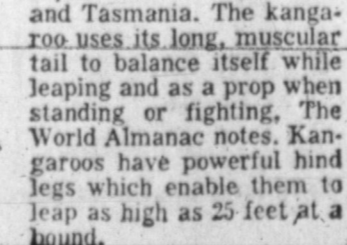

The ladies claim it is a garment that strangles—then runs. Their other complaint is that it hugs the surface going around curves but not around knees. They start small—but get big.

It seems to be a serious business. One lady sent in a picture of Pat Nixon and her secretary with their hose drooping at the ankles. Such wrinkles could turn every private number into a public figure.

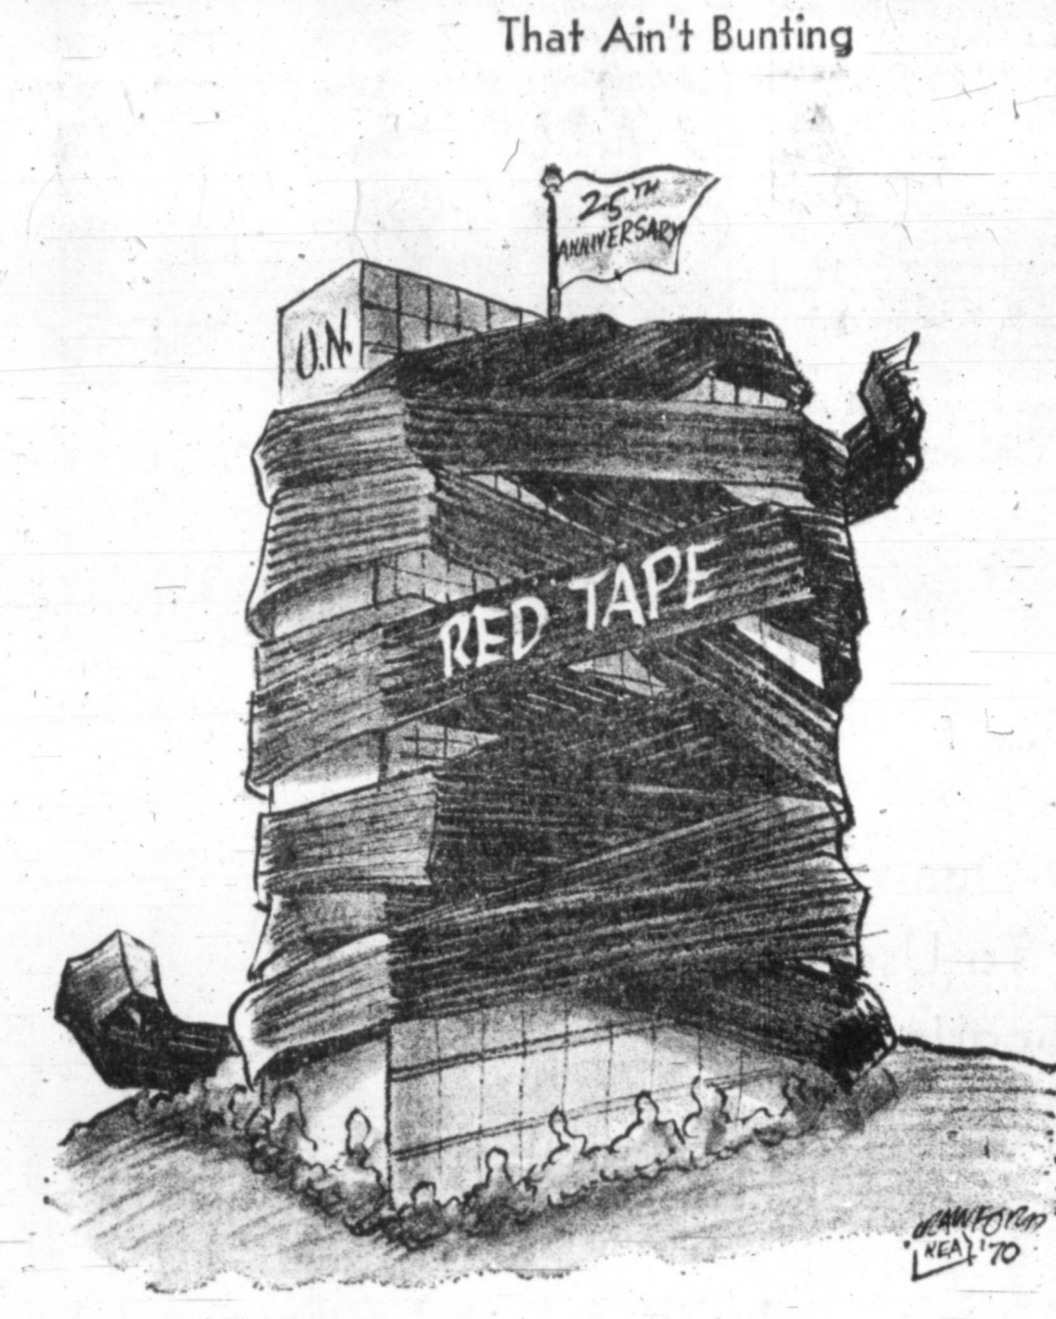

Women like panty-hose because it eliminates the hardware. But they just don't stand up. Manufacturers are trying to correct the situation. They are going to develop uniform panty-hose sizing standards.

This should be of some help in areas where things have been stretched to thin. With panty-hose, some are ragged—but most are ragged. We hope the snags get straightened out, for panty-hose make girls look good—and men too.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The kangaroo is a marsupial native to Australia and Tasmania. The kangaroo uses its long, muscular tail to balance itself while leaping and as a prop when standing or fighting. The World Almanac notes, Kangaroos have powerful hind legs which enable them to leap as high as 25 feet at a bound.

Americans Have Disturbing Attitude About Violence

By DON OAKLEY, NEA Staff Writer

A disturbing idea seems to be gaining credence among many Americans—the idea that while we may deplore the actions of those who would overthrow society by violent means, we have no right to deplore them too strenuously so long as society itself indulges in officially sanctioned violence.

For example, the writer of a letter to a midwestern newspaper noted America's outrage at the bomb blast which destroyed an Army mathematics laboratory at the University of Wisconsin—but "I know of no national manhunt for those responsible for the violence we are committing against the Vietnamese people."

Generals, alleged the writer, are as "sick" as the student radicals. William Kunstler, defense attorney in the Chicago conspiracy trial, and supposedly a man of intelligence, said this recently:

"In terms of real violence to human beings, one B-52 raid over South Vietnam makes it offensive to apply the word violence to what some of the more militant factions of the (antiwar) movement have done. . . . When you talk about arson, you must remember that Hiroshima was a pretty good example of arson, and that was an act of the United States government."

In other words, until and unless the violence committed by the radicals equals or surpasses the violence committed by U.S. armed forces in World War II or the Vietnam war, we really cannot condemn the radicals.

This strange kind of reasoning apparently proceeds from the premise that violence is violence, that there is no difference between one act of violence and any other act of violence.

Thus a logical paraphrase of Kunstler's statement would be: "In terms of real violence to human beings, one jolt of electricity sent through a condemned man in the death chamber makes it offensive to apply the word violence to what some of the more brutal elements of the criminal world have done."

Certainly, as far as the victim is concerned, it makes no difference whether death comes at the hands of a state executioner (though there have been no executions in America for the past three years) or at the hands of an attacker in a dark alley.

Certainly, as far as actual physical effects are concerned, there is no difference between an explosion caused by an Air Force bomber or an explosion caused by a revolutionary.

But whatever one's convictions about capital punishment or about war may be there is a vast difference between violence performed in the name of law and legally constituted government and authority that performed by those outside the law. It is the difference between civilization and the jungle.

The social compact is based on the implicit agreement that violence is to be the monopoly of the government established by that compact. "Violence," in the widest meaning of the word, is the ultimate sanction of all law and is applied in a multitude of ways, from taxes and fines to imprisonment all the way, until recently, to the actual taking of life.

To paraphrase Kunstler again: In terms of real violence to civilized society, the bombs set off by radicals could ultimately do more harm than all the bombs ever ordered dropped by the U.S. government.

That Ain't Bunting

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

"What these so-called staff reports did," Wyman notes, "was to give Douglas a clean bill of health on the basis of his own appointments."

In 1963, as a freshman, he was put on the powerful Appropriations Committee. Not long thereafter, he was elected to the Executive Committee of the Republican Committee on Committees, a 12-member panel that selects Republicans for assignment to committees. He was also made co-chairman of the Footwear Steering Committee, a bipartisan group organized to "protect the interests and concerns of the shoe and leather industry."

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

"What these so-called staff reports did," Wyman notes, "was to give Douglas a clean bill of health on the basis of his own appointments."

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

Inside Washington

Douglas Impeachment Drive To Survive Celler

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

"What these so-called staff reports did," Wyman notes, "was to give Douglas a clean bill of health on the basis of his own appointments."

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

"What these so-called staff reports did," Wyman notes, "was to give Douglas a clean bill of health on the basis of his own appointments."

WASHINGTON — Justice William O. Douglas is in for a sore disappointment if he thinks the House Judiciary subcommittee's long dawdling investigation spells the end of the drive to impeach him.

Regardless of what this handpicked subcommittee does, under the adroit manipulation of its strongly pro-Douglas chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., House leaders are on forceful notice that a determined effort will be made to bring about a "sweeping independent investigation" of the ultra-liberal jurist.

This notice has been served by Rep. Louis Wyman, R-N.H., whose blistering charges against Celler last spring impelled Celler to hastily launch his diversionary inquiry.

Wyman, former state attorney general and a distinguished trial lawyer, already has drafted a resolution calling for a new problem by a bipartisan committee selected from the membership of the House at large. This panel would have a staff of lawyers and investigators of its own, and wide authority to issue subpoenas and examine tax and other records.

It is Wyman's intention to introduce this proposal immediately upon the convening of the new Congress in January. That's what he has told the bipartisan leaders of the House.

This delay has been forced on him by three factors: Celler's continued stalling on the submission of a report by his handpicked subcommittee; lack of time to get action on a new investigation in the remaining weeks of this Congress; and the fact that a probe approved by this Congress would expire with it.

In Wyman's private opinion, if Celler's subcommittee does produce a report, it will in effect be a "whitewash." In support of that view, Wyman points out:

That although the subcommittee has been functioning since last April, it has issued no subpoenas; held no hearings; private of public; heard no witnesses under oath; and has not employed a special staff for the inquiry. Also that in two secret "interim reports," prepared by members of Celler's staff, the legal views and arguments of Douglas' lawyer predominated.

WIN CASH!

FOOTBALL Contest

$15.00 1st Prize
$10.00 2nd Prize
$5.00 3rd Prize

Firestone

120 N. Gray
 665-8419

Firestone
 Save $10⁰⁰ to $14⁵⁰ Per Day
On 4-Ply Nylon Cord Tires With Wide Look
 E78x14 2⁰⁰$46 Blackwalls Save $10
 E78x15 Now
 Dallas vs. Kansas City

For The Best in Service and Sales — See —
Walsh Tire Co., Inc.
 Your Dayton and Battery Dealer

Chris Walsh, Charlie Russell & Smokey Stover for Tires, Batteries, Motor Tune-up, Brake and Exhaust Systems and Front End Alignment Service trucks with Two-Way Radio for Truck, Tractor and Heavy Equipment Tire Repairs.
RED BROADBENT, Service Manager
 200 N. Ballard, Pampa, Texas
 665-2172 665-3131
 Houston vs. San Diego

Langley & Gray
 Cabinet Shop
 323 S. Starkweather Phone 669-2971

Headquarters For PITTSBURGH PAINTS
 featuring weekly specials on all your painting needs
 White Deer vs. Stratford

Vaughn Auto Service Center
 1800 N. Hobart 665-3741

"TIRE TRADINEST TIGERS IN THE TOP O' TEXAS"
 Canadian vs. Gruver

Culberson-Stowers Chevrolet, Inc.
 805 N. Hobart 665-1665

Truly the little car that does everything well!
 Proclaimed by a host of car publications to be the answer to America's small market — How can so many be wrong?
 You Have To Drive It To Believe It!
 See — Dean Monday — Jack Lankford — Lige Tarvin
 Wheeler vs. Memphis

Cock O' Walk
 Drive-In Restaurant
 1328 N. HOBART

For Carry-Out Service
 Phone 665-4622

- Tacos
 - Chicken
 - Shrimp
 - Sandwiches
- McLean vs. Silverton

Jim McBroom Motors

Pampa's Low Profit Dealer
 807 W. Foster 665-2338

- 1969 CHEVROLET PICKUP full power, air, V8, one owner, automatic, low mileage. $2490
 - 1968 CHEVROLET PICKUP power steering, 294 V8, turbo-hydraulic, radio, heater, long wide box, still in warranty. $2195
 - 1966 FORD RANGER V8, 4 speed, radio and heater, long wide bed. $1495
- 25 Cars to Choose From—
 Baylor vs. A&M

FLEMING APPLIANCES

1312 N. Hobart, Ph 665-3111

Get More
 Kick out of Color
 The Carry-ette $299⁹⁵
 ONLY

Alabama vs. Houston

FOODWAY

Now 2 Locations In Pampa

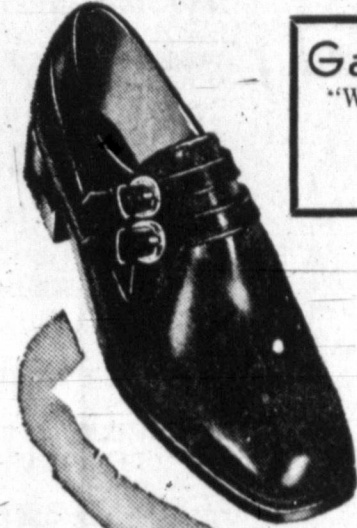

900 N. Duncan
 502 W. Francis
EVERYDAY LOW, LOW DISCOUNT PRICES PLUS WEEKLY SPECIALS

Texas vs. Rice

GIBSON'S DISCOUNT CENTER

DISCOUNT CENTER
 Perryton Parkway

Tone-O-Matic, Pro-Model $2⁸⁸
HIT TRU
 Golfer's Aid
 Tech vs SMU

Gattis Shoe Store
 "We give & redeem Pampa Progress Stamps"
 207 N. Cuyler
 Phone 665-3321

FREEMAN FOOTWEAR FOR FASHION

Missouri vs Colorado

Mail or Bring Entire Page to:
 Contest Editor
 Pampa Daily News
 P.O. Box 2198
 Pampa, Texas 79065

In case of ties, the scores of these two games will be used as tie-breakers.

Pampa vs Tascosa
 WTSU vs New Mexico St.

Name _____ Address _____
 City _____ Phone _____

Brown-Freeman MEN'S WEAR

"Where quality and hospitality meet"
 220 N. Cuyler

Traditional Shoes for Young Men, and Men Who Think Young

Cole-Haan

Calif. vs Wash. State

Heard-Jones DRUG

114 N. Cuyler
 669-7478

POLAROID 108 Color Film $3⁹⁹
 Regular $5.50
 Sou. Cal. vs Oregon

MONTGOMERY WARD

Pampa's Largest Department Store
 Your Sporting Goods Headquarters
 UCLA vs Stanford

Pampa Cable TV

1425 N. Hobart
 Phone 665-2381

Get On The Cable Now!
 Enjoy Better Reception, FM Music, News-Weather and Stock Market Quotations!
 Hurry — Limited Time Only
 Okla. vs Kansas St.