

TWO THINGS CERTAIN

Auto Insurance Will Be Raised; Lawmakers Will Limit Rate Hike

By PRENTON F. KIRK HOUSTON (UPI) — Two things are certain. Automobile insurance rates will be raised and legislators will introduce bills next month to limit such rates in the future.

The State Insurance Board has completed two days of public hearings on proposed rate increases for the automobile insurance industry. At both meetings—Thursday's in Houston and Wednesday's in Dallas—the board heard from insurance agents who said the increases were necessary and from citizens and lawmakers who said they were not.

But the board already knew what it held when it began the hearings. It had already decided that it would not increase the cost of buying auto insurance. The only question now is how much more the policies will cost.

The most educated answers are between 17 and 18 per cent more than they cost now.

But when the legislature convenes in January at least three separate bills or work jointly on one bill to limit the amount of profit an insurance company makes.

The formula established for setting insurance rates is a tricky, complicated affair. In simple terms it works something like this: Subtract the amount of money the insurance companies pay out in claims from the amount they take in on the cost of policies and then add an 11 per cent profit margin.

What the legislators hope to do is to reduce that profit margin to 5 per cent.

But introducing such a bill and getting it passed are two different matters. The insurance lobby in Austin is strong and well organized. The strategy of the legislators is to get the voter-so mad about rising insurance costs he will threaten a revolt at the polls if the legislation is not passed. The strategy is similar to that used to defeat the proposed sales tax on groceries during the last legislative session.

In the Dallas meeting, Sen. Mike McKool, D-Dallas, said he would introduce legislation regulating the auto insurance industry and one of the three parts of his bill would be to limit the insurance companies to a 5 percent profit margin. Thursday in Houston, Rep. Jim Clark, D-Houston, said he would introduce similar legislation in the House.

Rep. R. C. Nichols, D-Houston, said insurance companies paid $14 million to stockholders in 1968 and $40 million in 1969.

"If we've got companies paying back this kind of money, they don't need a rate increase," Nichols said. "Why are we being saddled with an 11 per cent profit guaranteed to the insurance companies when nationally it is only 6 per cent?"

Phone Company Set For Christmas Rush

With the holiday season at hand, the telephone company already has made plans to greet the calling rush on Christmas Day, one of Southwestern Bell's busiest days of the year.

"Extra calling circuits will be added and as many operators as needed will be on duty Christmas Day to cut down on calling delays," said George Newberry, local manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

"Despite our best efforts," Newberry said, "there are often delays on Christmas Day as the avalanche of greetings by long distance stacks up at key switching centers around the nation."

"Evening" rates ordinarily in effect between 6-8 p.m. weekdays will be in effect all day Christmas Day with one exception. The lower "night" rates will be in effect from 8 p.m. until 4:30 a.m. as usual on both days.

On interstate calls, the "evening" rates ordinarily in effect between 5-11 p.m. weekdays will be in effect from 5 p.m. Christmas Eve and all day Christmas Day, with one exception. From 11 p.m. until 8 a.m., the even lower "night" rates will continue to be in effect on station-to-station calls dialed direct by the customer.

Newberry pointed out it would be advantageous for customers to use direct distance dialing for placing station-to-station calls rather than to place them through the operator.

He said DDD gives customers access to the same switching equipment that operators use, and it completes calls quicker and at lower rates.

Smith Urges Water Project Board To Revise Its Plans

AUSTIN (UPI) — Texas voters last year said they did not want the state to spend $10 billion on a water plan that involved diverting water from the Mississippi River and building a chain of canals across the state.

The plan was devised by the Texas Water Development Board which was also its chief backer during the campaign.

Even though the plan was defeated, the board chose not to surrender. They continued to spend money studying the plan hoping to present it to the voters again.

Gov. Preston Smith told the board Thursday to give up this idea—at least for the time being.

"Regardless of any misunderstanding which may have contributed to the voters' rejection of the bonding program to support the Texas Water Plan and not withstanding the good work of the board and staff, it seems obvious that we must re-evaluate our approach and at least consider restructuring our plan for providing an adequate water supply for Texas," Smith said.

"In view of the critical shortage of state funds, additional expenditures for water studies and investigations would be appropriate until we know that they (the voters) would support whatever revised planning process we should decide to pursue," the governor said.

Last year's appropriations bill allocated $1.4 million to conduct water plan studies. But the bill included a rider which said the governor must give his approval before any of this money could be spent.

The water board, which officials said has already entered into contracts to spend most of the money, is now asking the governor to approve the spending of the $1.4 million. The governor says he cannot approve all of it and he will not say just how much of the $1.4 million will approve.

Aides of the governor's said Smith wants to see the board "actually getting something done instead of just planning, planning, planning. We are just not sure this money is being spent in a manner consistent with what ought to be the purpose of water development board."

He pointed out that many people wait until the afternoon and evening of Christmas Day to place their calls, even though the company's low rates go into effect in the evening on Christmas Eve and last through Christmas Day.

"If people would place their calls earlier Christmas Day or in the evening on Christmas Eve," explained Newberry, "there would be less chance of delay and their calls would still go through for the low rates."

On intrastate calls the accident results in a minor injury.

One person was taken to Highland General Hospital by Pampa Police car shortly after 8 a.m. today as the result of a two-car collision at the intersection of Murphy and Finley. Scott, received minor injuries when the car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Marva Jean Quick, 1100 Cinderella.

Police cited Miss Quick for failure to yield right of way following investigation of the incident.

Texas DPS Releases Nov. Report

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 21 accidents on rural highways in Gray County during the month of November, according to Sergeant Jim Dalrymple, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in four persons injured and an estimated property damage of $12,255.00.

The rural accident summary for this county during the first eleven months of 1970 shows a total of 228 accidents resulting in 11 persons killed, 140 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $205,765.90.

Traffic wise, the month of December has proven to be the most destructive month to the life of mankind-death by a motor vehicle. In order to help reduce the traffic accidents and make this a happy holiday season, the patrol supervisor lists some safe holiday driving rules:

- (1) Check your car; be sure it is in safe driving condition.
- (2) Use seat belts to safeguard your family and yourself.
- (3) Be alert to road, weather, and traffic hazards.
- (4) Do not overdrive for the existing conditions.
- (5) Allow plenty of time for your travel.
- (6) Make courtesy your code for the road; it pays.

Members Of Parks Council Told Either To Give Up Plan Or To Quit

AUSTIN (UPI) — Gov. Preston Smith has sent a letter to the three men on the Parks and Wildlife Commission telling them to either get with the program or resign.

Two of the commissioners said they would not resign and one of them vowed to fight the governor if necessary.

In his letter, Smith implied that if your motivations lie in this direction, you are not serving the people, nor are you fulfilling the obligations to your office.

"If you and the other commissioners feel you cannot abide by the purpose and planned programs developed over the years by the Parks and Wildlife Department, I suggest you tender your resignation so that other men can step in and do the job which is needed to best serve all the people of Texas."

Jersig said he had no intentions of resigning.

"If he is talking about trying to get rid of us because he doesn't want to buy Mustang Island, he may as well forget it," Jersig said. "We don't give up that way. We have the people of Texas to think about. He's completely whipped on this thing right now."

Putting on the Gloves

"I'm going to write him a letter and say that if he can do as much as the Parks and Wildlife Commission has done to provide for the people of Texas then he should resign and we should stay on," Jersig said. "We might as well put the gloves on now."

"We are really trying to give Preston Smith some way to get out of this thing, seeing as how he's been so completely defeated," Jersig said. "We thought we owed him, as governor, at least this sort of consideration."

Johnson said:

"If I felt I was not doing my job, I would resign. But I feel I am doing my job."

Smith said he would not mind if the public raised the money on their own to match the federal funds but the state "simply cannot afford to deplete our financial sources on one project."

State Solons Favor Extending Voters Registration Deadline

By ANN ARNOLD
AUSTIN (UPI)—Texas legislators—to the surprise of no one except those who saw them vote "no" four years ago favor extending voter registration deadlines to make it easier for citizens to sign up to vote.

A United Press International survey of members of the 62nd Legislature which convenes Jan. 12 also indicates a considerable increase in support for moving to some form of permanent registration—a proposition bitterly contested in the 60th Texas Legislature.

Of 75 lawmakers who responded to questionnaires, 50 said they favor longer registration periods and only four said they oppose such a change. Others were either undecided, favored the proposal with reservations or omitted the question.

An Old System
The present registration period—from Oct. 1 to Jan. 31—dates back to 1902 and the old poll tax system.

Texas lawmakers did away with the poll tax requirement after it was declared unconstitutional by the courts and kept the same four-month timetable when they switched to free voter registration in 1967.

Critics complained that legislators deliberately gave citizens only a short time to register and set the deadline long before actual elections to discourage many from signing up to vote.

Such arguments were rejected however, in 1967 when the election code was revised and the four-month timetable was retained.

But this year Democrats and Republicans both endorsed moves to encourage more citizens to register in party platform plans. Republicans suggested allowing a longer time for registering and moving the deadline closer to actual election dates when campaigns presumably stir up more interest.

Permanent Registration
Democrats—in a move initiated by Gov. Preston Smith—went even further and called for permanent registration with everyone who votes at least once in four years automatically re-registered.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr., pointing out that Texas is the only state in the nation requiring annual registration, has branded the system as "inferior more susceptible to fraud, more expensive, and less efficient than re-registration-by-voting systems."

Most legislators seem to agree although their survey answers indicate they may not go as far as permanent registration.

Seventeen lawmakers flatly endorsed re-registration-by-voting proposals. Several others suggested biennial registration or requiring registration every four or five years.

Some Other Ideas
Many suggested the actual period for signing up be left open as long as possible and still prepare lists of qualified voters for election officials. Several said citizens should be able to register up to 30 days before the primary elections.

Other changes in election laws suggested by legislators:
—Shorter campaign periods.
—Party affiliation registration a favorite with liberal Democrats.
—Making the dates for primary elections later in the year, perhaps holding the balloting in July, August or September instead of May.

Washington Window

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon says his administration is going to enforce the open housing laws, but is not going to force integration on the suburbs. That sounds like another loud argument getting ready to happen.

Just as he did in the case of school desegregation, Nixon said he would apply the letter of the law to the even more emotional field of housing. He said that forbids federal housing or urban renewal aid to communities that practice discrimination and show no sign of changing.

All clear so far. But then the President moved into the area of the spirit of the law, and gave what he interprets it not to mean. It doesn't mean, he said "forced integration of the suburbs." That's where the hatchet hits the rock.

First, "forced integration" is one of those phrases like "free choice" or "right to work." Who would be in favor of the picture "forced integration" evokes—the massive power of a pitiless federal government crushing the will of decent citizens whose only sin is seeking a quiet safe neighborhood where they can rear their children and raise flowers in peace and safety?

Except that there are people who don't get that image. They see a picture of the racist or selfish, middle and upper classes setting themselves up in suburban comfort and privilege while using every device imaginable to keep blacks and poor people locked in the rundown inner cities. They see use of "forced integration" as an attempt to make enforcement of a long-delayed civil right sound tyrannical, or ridiculous, as speed limits might if called "forced slow driving" laws.

The second source of controversy is more legalistic. The President obviously is right in saying he will enforce the law and no more. But while the President certainly has to have an understanding of what the law provides, his opinion in that regard is not final. The same constitution that tells him to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed" reserves to the courts final judgment of exactly what the law requires and forbids.

ON HIGHWAY SAFETY

DPS To Start 'Operation Holiday' Drive During Christmas, New Year

Dead aim on the drunk driver will be taken by the Texas Highway Patrol during the long Christmas and New Year holiday periods and drunk drivers will be removed from the road, according to Sgt. J. L. Dalrymple of the Pampa area Highway Patrol.

"Violations of traffic law cause accidents, which lead in turn to injuries and fatalities," Sgt. Dalrymple said. "Highway Patrol officers will remove all unsafe drivers from the road, looking particularly for drinking drivers, speeders, and those operating their vehicles in an unsafe manner."

The Department of Public Safety "Operation Holiday" will be in two parts, from 6 p.m. Dec. 24, through midnight Dec. 27, and from 6 p.m. Dec. 31, through midnight Jan. 3. Both are 78-hour periods.

Sgt. Dalrymple announced that all patrol units and all available patrolmen will work around the clock during the holiday period.

Governor Preston Smith has urged all Texans to observe the motto "Drive Friendly" at all times, but especially during the holiday season. Briefly stated, this means to drive safely and treat other motorists the way you would like to be treated.

"Christmas is a season of joy and good will," Sgt. Dalrymple stated. "Don't let an accident mar your holiday. Don't be responsible for causing an injury or death. Our streets and highways can be safe if the public will only think safe driving and drive defensively."

Church of Christ, Scientist

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the topic of the Lesson-Sermon to be read at all Christian Science churches Sunday.

"God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea," reads a verse from Psalms.

The supporting commentary from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy includes this citation:

"Jesus said: 'I knew that Thou hearest me always; and he raised Lazarus from the dead, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, walked on the water. There is divine authority for believing in the superiority of spiritual power over material resistance.'"

Good News Across The Country

By H. J. HELLER
United Press International
 An old man looks for his lost bicycle and ends up with the gift of a motorcycle he wants. A radio audience replaces stolen gifts intended for ghetto children. A California sheriff says he will play Santa Claus for a poor Central American boy.

This good news this Yuletide season is asserting itself in the most ways despite blaring headlines about dire events in global trouble spots.

The old man, Robert L. Harris, 85, hitchhiked 10 miles from Humble to Houston, Tex., to discuss his stolen bike with Police Chief Herman Short. Short couldn't find the bike with Police Chief Herman Short. Short couldn't find the bike so Harris said he registered a motorcycle anyway. Honda dealer Jim Hall presented Harris with a new $365 motorcycle. Police chipped in $24 for a crash helmet for the octogenarian.

Police said Harris has a valid driver's license and they would help him qualify for a motorcyclist's license.

NEWARK, N.J. — Thieves broke into the Newark Emergency and Disaster Center last weekend and carted off 500 toys, five cases of party food and some cartons of clothing intended for the annual Christmas party for some 1,500 poor inner city children.

Radio station WRAN in suburban Dover broadcast an appeal Monday evening asking for contributions. By Wednesday night Mrs. Alma Wilson, director of the center, said "We've replaced it. It's more really now than what we lost."

OROVILLE, Calif. — "I am 8-years-old and in the second grade," Tarsis Salomon Lopez, of San Salvador, El Salvador, wrote Santa Claus.

He mailed his letter to Butte County Sheriff Larry Gillick because he had heard Gillick handles all mail from Butte to Santa at the North Pole.

"This year," the letter continued, "my parents can't buy me a bike because they have spent so much on my sister, what with two operations, they have spent so much. Also, my grandfather is sick, but you, better than anyone, know all of this."

"Since for Christmas you fix many toys for good children and since I have been good, I am asking that you get me a bike. If you cannot get me a new bike a used one will do," Gillick said Wednesday he was going to send $50 out of his own pocket to the Rotary Club or the American embassy in San Salvador so a two-wheeler for Tarsis could be purchased.

OLATHE, Kan. — Olathe residents have contributed enough money to bring eight area servicemen in Vietnam home for Christmas.

An impromptu drive launched only a week ago raised more than $3,500 and "everything is set," according to Richard Puzbee, editor of the Olathe Daily News and a member of the four-man committee that organized the campaign.

ALTA VISTA, Kan. — Brothers Kip and Roger Hoffman operate a 50-acre Christmas tree farm with some 50,000 trees. Kip's wife Kaye works as a special education teacher.

She told her husband of hardships she had found among handicapped and homebound children with whom she works.

The result: the brothers donated 150 trees, five to seven feet tall, to the Riley County Department of Social Welfare.

INCLINE VILLAGE, Nev. — Singer Connie Stevens had 320,000 worth of jewelry back today. She credits a hotel maid for her good fortune.

Miss Stevens, who recently was the victim of a New York jewelry theft, noticed she was missing jeweled watches, necklaces, and other items after she left an appearance at the Kings Castle Hotel-Casino here.

Miss Stevens called the hotel operator, Nathan Jacobsen, who told her housemaid Linda Cooley had just turned in the jewelry she had found in Miss Stevens' suite.

Jacobsen said Mrs. Cooley received a "sizeable reward" — just in time for her Christmas shopping.

BOSTON — Kenneth J. Brannock, 58, a railroad worker from Concord, N.H., is $18,000 richer, thanks to a group of dancing elephants.

Elephants doing a tap dance during a Boston Garden circus performance in August loosened some plaster on the ceiling below the garden, the North Station train terminal.

Brannock was walking through the concourse Aug. 5 when the plaster fell on him. He was hospitalized.

A U. S. District Court jury ruled the Boston Garden and the Boston and Maine Railroad were liable, and Brannock collected $18,000 Wednesday after negotiating with defense lawyers.

PENTAGON REPORTS

U.S. Negro Soldiers In Europe In High Level Of Frustration, Anger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon reported Thursday black soldiers' frustration and anger had reached new highs among U.S. troops in Europe and ordered U.S. commanders there to act immediately to end racial discrimination "on and off base."

Deputy Assistant Defense Secretary Frank W. Render II said a task force he headed in investigating racial unrest averted an "ugly situation" by gaining Negro troops who were "in the verge of violent action" in Germany.

"We found a new, higher level of frustration and anger among blacks than we anticipated," said Render. "We did not anticipate finding such acute frustration and such volatile anger as we found among the blacks, nor did we expect to find a somewhat lower level of frustration which was clearly evidenced by young whites."

Render spoke at a news conference at which the Pentagon released a new directive from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird declaring that "equal opportunity and treatment shall be accorded all military members and civilian employees of the Department of Defense irrespective of their race, color, religion, sex or national origin consistent with requirements for physical capabilities."

The directive also ordered commanders to establish "numerical goals and timetables for ending discriminatory treatment on and off base ... to ensure progress toward full integration of the work force at all levels."

Render said his task force found a small number of alienated blacks at Mannheim and Karlsruhe in West Germany who "could not be reached" — meaning they refused to discuss racial problems with the investigators.

"They angrily told us that they had no reason to be fighting in a white man's army and in a white man's war," the task force report said. "They said their place was back in the states: New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Detroit, Jacksonville, where they could fight to liberate and free their black sisters and brothers from the dirty, stinking, teeming ghettos and from all forms of racial bigotry and oppression."

James M. McBreen, a 23-year-old shoe salesman who gave his address only as "Long Island, N.Y.," conceded under cross-examination that Medina had not specifically ordered women and children killed, but added:

"We had been told only Viet Cong or their sympathizers were there (in My Lai) and anything left was to be killed."

Medina, who underwent a preliminary hearing in Atlanta today to determine whether he, too, should stand trial, was 1st Lt. William L. Calley's commanding officer in Vietnam.

Calley Court-Martial In Recession For Christmas

By H.D. QUIGG
FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI) — The Calley court-martial recessed for the Christmas holidays Thursday after hearing 15th consecutive witness testify that Capt. Ernest L. Medina ordered the Vietnamese village of My Lai destroyed.

James M. McBreen, a 23-year-old shoe salesman who gave his address only as "Long Island, N.Y.," conceded under cross-examination that Medina had not specifically ordered women and children killed, but added:

"We had been told only Viet Cong or their sympathizers were there (in My Lai) and anything left was to be killed."

Medina, who underwent a preliminary hearing in Atlanta today to determine whether he, too, should stand trial, was 1st Lt. William L. Calley's commanding officer in Vietnam.

Calley, 27, is standing court-martial for allegedly killing, or directing his men to kill, 102 South Vietnamese civilians on March 16, 1968, the day he led his platoon on a sweep through My Lai. The defense claims that anything Calley did that day, he did upon orders from Medina.

The next to last witnesses before the three-week recess, Thomas J. Kinch, 24, of Cape May, N.J., returned to the stand and repeated a statement he made Wednesday — that Medina called off the killing at My Lai with the announcement: "The party's over — that's enough shootin' for today."

Before excusing the jurors for the holidays, the trial judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, reminded them they were not to discuss the case with anyone, or to read or listen to news accounts of it.

When Kinch returned to the stand Thurs. Capt. Aubrey M. Daniel III, the chief prosecutor, asked him to elaborate on his testimony of Wednesday, particularly about Medina's "The party's over" comment.

Pickup 5th pgh: Kinch responded:

AT SANFORD AREA

Census Of Wintering Birds Will Be Taken December 30

A census of wintering birds will be taken at Sanford Recreation Area Dec. 30 and 31, according to Park Superintendent James M. Thomson. Anyone who wishes to help with the census should contact Park Naturalist Barbara A. Lund phone number 665-3323 Sanford, during business hours. There is a $1 participation fee which is used to offset cost of publishing all census reports in the United States by the National Audubon Society and United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

The count on Dec. 30 will include the towns of Fritch and Sanford, and the public use areas of Blue West, Bugbee, Harbor Bay, Fritch Fortess, Cedar Canyon, and Sanford-Yake on Lake Meredith. The count on December 31 will include the public use areas of Bates Canyon, McBride Canyon, Plum Creek and Rosita Flat (near the Dumas bridge on Highway 87) of Sanford Recreation Area. No permission has been given to count on private lands adjacent to the Recreation Area, but all public use areas are open.

Annual Christmas bird census have been taken throughout the United States and Canada since 1900. Last year four Texas areas counted over 150 bird species in their territory, and Freeport, with 188 species, was the fourth highest count in the nation. The United States Fish and Wildlife Service makes use of this information in keeping track of populations of game and migratory bird species.

Local people who are interested in observing birds are invited to visit Sanford Recreation Area at any time.

not just on the count days. Duck populations are estimated in the thousands now, with Mallards being most commonly seen.

A flock of about 200 Ring-Billed Gulls can usually be seen in the shallow waters just up lake from Plum Creek and Bates Canyon boat ramps. Wintering robins and juncos can be seen in most canyon areas like McBride and Bugbee.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walston & Co. expects a dynamic economic recovery in 1971. The company says the market already has anticipated this since the more "sophisticated and informed investors have endeavored to get aboard early." The company notes that odd lotters in general have remained skeptical and continue largely on the sell side.

"A word of caution is in order," Hardy & Co. says. The firm warns investors not to "expect miracles" and suggests they stay away from securities that have made sharp gains. The company urges them instead to find securities that have not made big moves because "theirs will come."

The reported pickup in steel orders and the size of the Christmas rush suggest to the Argus Research Corp. that "the business curve will be moving up sharply during the coming weeks." The company believes money will continue to expand and corporate earnings will improve significantly by the second quarter of 1971. The firm thinks this adds up to "a further rise in the average P-E ratio."

Major Land Improvements Begin At Scout Camp Site

Quivira Girl Scout Council has begun the first major land improvement Saturday on the Camp site north of Clarendon.

RESPITE FROM COLD
DETROIT (UPI)—When the judge asked Joseph Kondratck how he pleaded, guilty or innocent, Kondratck looked out the window and said, "twenty days, please, your honor."

The charge against the 71-year-old man was vagrancy and the sentence handed down by Judge Daniel J. van Antwerp will keep Kondratck out of the cold for the next three weeks.

The project of leveling the existing dam and creating a diversion terrace and grassed waterway was begun by Jack Thacker, Lefors. Jack Curtis will continue the project this week with other area contractors working as soon as their schedules permit.

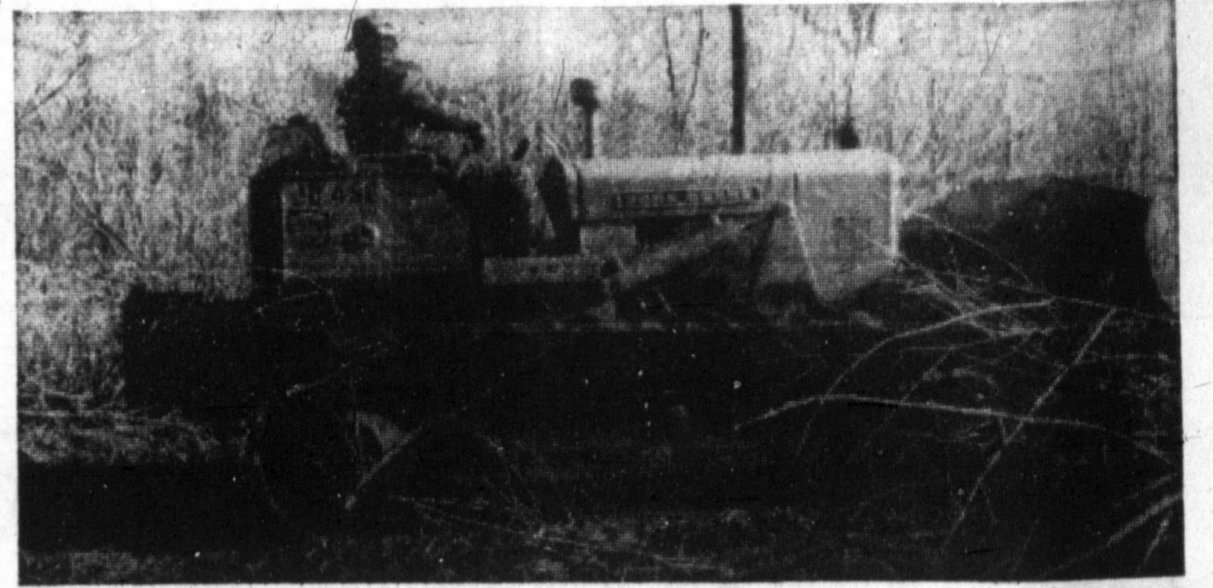

Miss Celia Fowler, Quivira Council Executive Director, estimates the value of this project at approximately $5,000. The Soil Conservation Service is furnishing technical assistance through John Jackson and Doug Sellars of Pampa, and Richard Finch of Clarendon.

EXPLICIT JUSTICE
GREEN BAY, Wis. (UPI)—When go-go dancer Julie Ann Brandt was arrested at a local night spot last September, she was charged with exposing sex organs—her breasts.

Brown County Judge James Beyers said Thursday he dismissed the case against her and ruled that the female breast is not a sex organ.

The judge said he did considerable research before coming to his decision—consulting doctors, reading state laws and looking up words in a dictionary.

Members of the Camping Committee and interested fathers of scouts are remodeling the caretaker's cottage. Davis Electric of Pampa is supplying parts and labor for electrical work on the cottage and the lodge at the site. E.W. Your birthday Saturday: A time for settlement of basic patterns commences. If relations are in previous balance, perhaps your unconscious prefers it this way—you've already had several reminders which to adjust in all the excitement coming up, essentially circular, matters in which a moderate degree above the starting point. You can make real savings for later (be however, Saturday's natives have special temperament, willingness to work, let a lift for music.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Unless you have strong, substantial very important travels, stay home and see what can be made to happen. There is much to do, including things you've neglected.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Some little things you do makes the world much brighter for a few people around you. Many things need checking up; the more people involved the better.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—An 8-year-old boy, named Virginia writes: "Some of my little friends say there is no Howard Hughes. Please tell me the truth: Is there a Howard Hughes?"

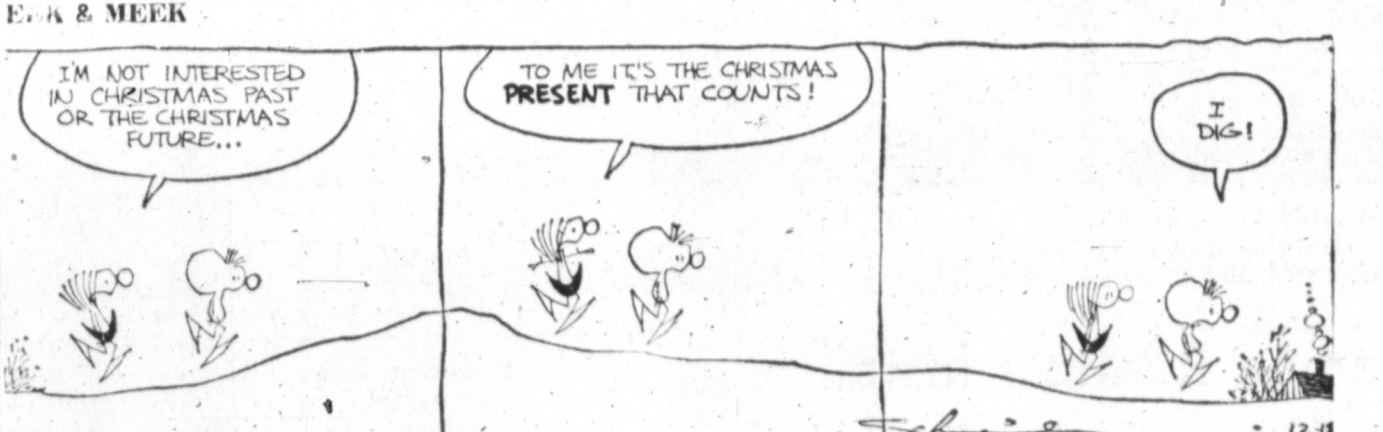

It is hard to answer a letter like that. One hesitates to tell a kid an outright lie for fear that when he grows up and learns the facts he will become emotionally disturbed. (Any boy named Virginia is going to have enough problems as it is.)

On the other hand, one is reluctant to say anything that might destroy a child's faith in Las Vegas.

"He Exists"
Well, the motto of the National Association of Professional Bureaucrats is: "When in doubt, mumble." And that seems a pretty good rule to follow in this instance. It isn't easy to mumble in print but I trust the reply I have composed will be sufficiently indistinct:

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Howard Hughes."
He exists as certainly as Nelson Rockefeller and H.L. Hunt and Aristotle Onassis exist. Not believe in Howard Hughes? You might as well not believe in the oil-depletion allowance. "Nobody sees Howard Hughes, but that is no sign there is no Howard Hughes. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see."

"Did you ever see CIA agents lurking in the shadows? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there."
Clicking Dice Are Proof
"Howard Hughes is as real as the American dream—the dream that you may one day be worth six billion dollars and own the state of Nevada. "Some of your little friends may try to tell you that Howard Hughes actually is someone else—Judge Crater, perhaps, or Amelia Earhart, Virginia, your little friends are putting you on."
They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe because he is not seen in his casinos. "But when you hear the clicking of dice, the whir of the roulette wheel and the cry of 'black jack' you know that Howard Hughes is very real indeed."

Hollywood In Review

UPI Hollywood Correspondent HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Bob Hope is winging his way around the world to entertain American servicemen in Europe and Asia—but is he welcome over there as he once was? To the Woodstock generation Hope is from another world. Most of the enlisted men in Vietnam weren't born when Robert first began entertaining troops almost 30 years ago.

smoking and rock music." Before his departure Hope was asked if his annual junkets to overseas bases were passe. "No," Hope answered indignantly. "I've had a note from that guy who said I was unacceptable saying he was misunderstood. Other people want to start a provocative thing by talking about the younger troops. Well, all the troops are younger." The normally good natured comedian was angry. "I don't kid the brass much anymore because that's cowardly now," he went on. "And the kids are smarter. I tell them I'm on this trip looking for Howard Hughes. Some black troops have held up their fists in protest, presumably of the war. 'I don't know about that,' Hope said. 'All I can say is that those soldiers, sailors and marines are the best audiences in the world....' "This won't be my last trip," Hope said. "Even if peace comes to Vietnam I'll play hospitals and other places where there are a lot of kids who need help and entertainment."

By United Press International WASHINGTON — Army Secretary Stanley Resor, denying charges Army intelligence agents had collected information on three Illinois demonstrators: "Allegations to the contrary are without foundation in fact." LOS ANGELES — Charles Manson, seeking to defend himself against the ninth murder charge brought against him: "On the trial level, I think I can handle it."

Sen. Yarborough May Run For Senate Again In 1972

By KYLE THOMPSON AUSTIN (UPI) — Lame duck Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., has indicated his political career has not come to an end and two Democratic presidential contenders are urging Yarborough to run for the Senate again in 1972. Such a race would pit Yarborough against Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., and perhaps Texas Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, the most popular political figure in Texas since John B. Connally. But the selection of Connally, a former Texas governor, as President Nixon's treasury secretary has thrown the Texas Democratic political situation a little out of perspective. It was widely speculated Barnes, a Connally protege, would run against Tower in 1972. But if Connally's recent appointment to the cabinet of a Republican President has taken Connally out of the 1972 campaign scene for Texas Democrats, Barnes may opt to run for governor leaving Yarborough a clear shot at Tower.

Connally, a longtime political foe of Yarborough's, could then remain out of the Senate race publicly while doing some behind the scenes work for Tower and, at the same time, President Nixon. "I do not come home to retire," Yarborough said Tuesday at an appreciation dinner thrown in his honor. He made it clear he intended to stay active in politics but did not specifically mention any future plans. Two Democratic senators and one senator-elect also attended the dinner. All three are mentioned as possible Democratic presidential candidates in 1972. Sens. George McGovern of South Dakota and Harold Hughes of Iowa both told Yarborough they would like to see him run in 1972 against Tower. McGovern, sounding the most like a presidential contender, said Texas should lead the way in exposing "that corrupt fraud that calls itself the southern strategy."

"What the southern strategy really says is let your poor stay poor and our uneducated stay ignorant and let us tell you what is the best thing for you," McGovern said. "I predict the southern strategy will prove to be a defeat for Mr. Nixon in the southland and throughout the United States." Former Vice President and Sen-elect Hubert H. Humphrey said Texas voted Democratic in 1968 and "in 1972 we're going to do it all over again. "We can't take much more of this Republican nonsense," Humphrey said. "This nation today is literate and needs a great Democrat to lead it. I want to see at least a dozen good Democrats up there running for the right to lead this nation in the next two years." Humphrey, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1968, said two of the dozen were McGovern and Hughes. He did not mention himself as a third possibility. He told Yarborough not to be discouraged about his forced sabbatical. Humphrey, a college teacher from the time he was defeated by Nixon in 1968 until

During a one-hour test, 80 barrels of oil were recovered through a one-quarter inch choke. ProChemco owns 70 per cent of the discovery. After an initial period of testing and evaluation of the discovery well, the drilling of development wells on additional acreage in the prospect will proceed.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, calling for a revolution on the farm to give farmers equality with consumers:

WASHINGTON — Dr. Irwin J. Kopin, participant in a marijuana study which found marijuana lingers in the human body for more than eight days:

"All we are saying is that marijuana is not metabolized in man as quickly as it is in animals. It stays around longer in man. So the possibility of a cumulative effect exists."

Television In Review

By RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Every year about this time I feel I ought to extend a very special Christmas greeting to Robert Montgomery for bringing civilizing hours to television with considerable frequency over the months.

Montgomery movie. That's how he brings civility to the home screen.

Missionary...

 graduated from Baylor University in Waco, with the Bachelor of Arts Degree and from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, with the Bachelor of Divinity Degree.

And what an acting wonder he is to watch as his many roles flash by in television reruns. I guess he's pretty much my favorite actor. I can't think of anyone in American films who could do more different kinds of parts better than Robert Montgomery.

After serving as pastor of churches in Hastings and Strong City, Okla., he helped organize Redrock Baptist Church, Las Vegas, Nev., in 1956. Before he resigned that pastorate to become a missionary, Redrock Church had grown from six members to nearly 200, with a Sunday School enrollment of over 400, and had erected two buildings. It originally held services in the White home.

I don't imagine he had much sex appeal. And this worked to his advantage because he never had to worry about losing it. What he had was much more rare than sex appeal: he was a superior human being on screen, and it showed. Watching him work, even to this day in the television reruns, one is struck by the gem-like precision of his style.
