Terrorists Blast GI Quarters Again

3 Killed, 25 Wounded In 2nd Such Attacks

SAIGON (UPI) — The U.S. command said today terrorists bombed a U.S. officers quarters and hurled a grenade into a nearby sidewalk cafe in another outbreak of anti-American attacks Wednesday night. Three persons were killed and 25 wounded.

The explosions killed two American GIs and wounded seven. The other dead and wounded were Vietnamese. It was the second straight night of terrorist activity, which has increased since an American soldier shot and killed a Vietnamese schoolboy in the city of Qui Nhon last week.

Both explosions occurred near Tan Son Nhut airbase on Saigon's outskirts.

Officials said a grenade was thrown from a speeding automobile into a cafe not far from the base, killing one American GI and wounding seven. One Vietnamese civilian also died and 17 others were wounded.

Military spokesmen said a 30-pound plastic explosive device was set off in the lobby of Horne Hall bachelor officers quarters. The blast killed the officer on duty and wounded a civilian employe.

The four-story officers dormitory was heavily damaged and many occupants had to move to other quarters.

Communiques from Phnom Penh said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units which cut Highway 4 linking the capital with Kompong Som, Cambodia's only seaport, a month ago, have built roadblocks of heavy timbers and even dug trenches across the highway at some points.

The Communists also have blown up most of the bridges along the 120-mile route of Highway 4 between Phnom Penh and the coast, according to Brig. Gen. Sosthene Fernandez, commander of the Cambodian Gen. Michael J. L. Greene, 51, of New Town Square, Pa., the commander of the U.S. Army Headquarters Area Command. His statement followed another terrorist attack which killed two Americans and one Vietnamese and wounded 25 others Wednesday night.

In the past week, U.S. military and civilian vehicles have been fire bombed, two bachelor officers quarters buildings were hit by satchel charges and a sidewalk cafe catering to Americans was hit by grenades. These attacks were first thought to have been carried out by young anti-American students.

Greene said he had advised persons under him to take precautions but he placed no restriction on their movement. He said he had asked military police to extend their patrols but no additional MPs were ordered into the streets.

Both of Wednesday's explosions killed two GIs and wounded seven. It was the second night of such activity, which has been on the increase since an American soldier shot and killed a Vietnamese schoolboy in Qui Nhon last week.

TRAVELERS SAY

Polish Authorities Suppress Rioters With Troops, Tanks

Riot-Stricken Area Returns To Normal Today

WARSAW (UPI) — Polish Radio said today the situation in the riot-stricken area of Gdansk has "returned to normal." Diplomatic sources said police reinforcements were sent into other potential trouble areas to stop unrest from spreading.

Polish authorities promised "just punishment for murder, arson and robbery" to the rioters who clashed with police and set ablaze government buildings in the Baltic seacoast cities of Gdansk, Gdynia and Sopot—an interlinked area with a population of 600,000.

The government news agency Pap said six persons were killed and scores more seriously injured in rioting Monday and Tuesday. Accounts from diplomats and travelers said authorities put down the trouble with troops, militia, tanks and helicopters.

In a statement broadcast late Wednesday over Polish television, the government appealed to striking shipyard workers to return to their jobs in the Lenin shipyard of Gdansk and end the state of "anarchy" there.

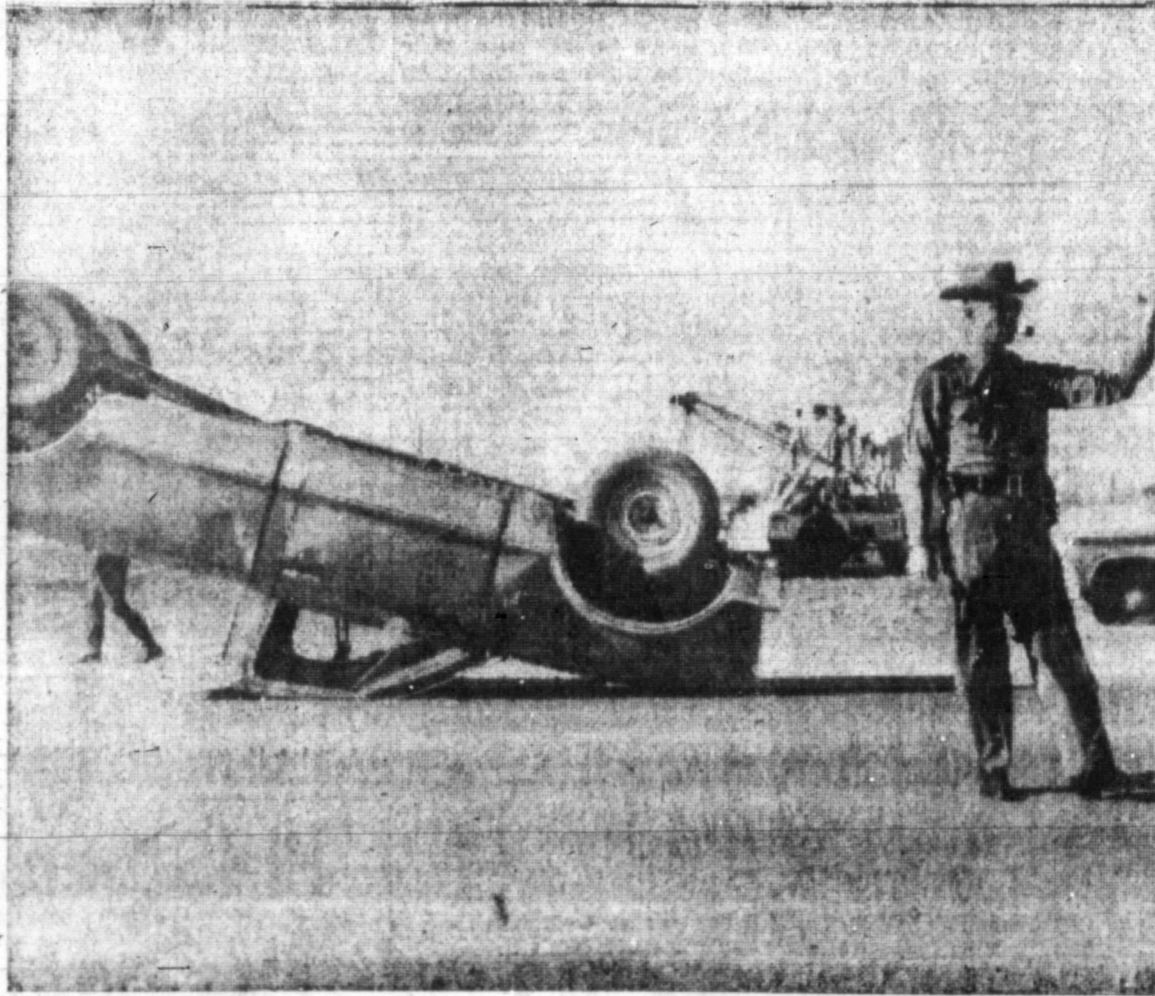

Polish Radio today said "the streets of Gdansk are almost fully cleaned. Life and transportation in Gdansk have returned to normal." It said Deputy Premier Stanislaw Kociolek delivered a speech to citizens of the tricity area Wednesday, but did not give details.

(In Stockholm, the Swedish Broadcasting Corp. (SR) said Polish Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz, in a speech broadcast by the local radio station, promised the workers higher wages to offset rising food prices and appealed to them to go back to work Wednesday night. SR said he promised the shipyard and dock workers in particular "considerable wage increases.")

The riots broke out following a 20 per cent hike in food prices announced Sunday by the meat shortage and a stiff rise in fuel prices—and all coming just before Christmas—the local population apparently took to the streets in protest.

It was reminiscent of the "bread and freedom" riots in Poznan, Poland, in 1956.

TRAFFIC BLOCKED—Drivers on Price Road Wednesday were directed by officer of the Department of Public Safety Kenneth Evans, pictured, after a 13-year-old Pampa youth, lost control of the pickup and overturned just north of Highway 60. The youth escaped serious injury in the incident which occurred shortly after 1 p.m. (Staff Photo)

President Threatens To Recall Congress If It Adjourns Jan. 3

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 91st Congress is headed for adjournment at noon Jan. 3, when the Constitution declares it must quit—the latest such finish since the dark days of World War II. Even if Congress wanted to adjourn earlier, President Nixon would not allow it.

With the Senate hopelessly entangled in a maze of filibusters, congressional leaders abandoned hope of leaving before the holidays and were reduced to thinking about a couple of days off for Christmas.

Nixon dashed any other thoughts. He threatened to recall Congress Dec. 26 if it adjourned before acting on welfare, Social Security, trade, the supersonic transport (SST) and appropriations measures.

Senate To Probe Charges Against U.S. Army Agents

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate subcommittee will conduct a formal probe of reports by a former U.S. Army intelligence agent that the military spied on federal and state officials, including Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., said Wednesday the officials were the targets of Army undercover investigations during their campaigns or while they were in office. He charged they were placed under surveillance because they opposed or did not actively support the government's policy in Vietnam or because they disagree with the domestic policies of the Nixon administration.

A spokesman for the Army said the service was "gravely concerned" over Ervin's charges. He said such surveillance of civilians was prohibited by Army policy. The White House said it was "inconceivable" to President Nixon that the military would spy on political figures. Other congressmen responded with angry words.

"We have reached a frightening state of military control in this country," said Rep. Abner Mikva, D-Ill. "The whole concept of civilian control of the military is in jeopardy."

The former Army intelligence agent who made the reports was identified as John M. O'Brien of Evanston, Ill., who had held the rank of staff sergeant and for a one-year period starting in June, 1969, was assigned to the 113th Military Intelligence Group in Chicago.

O'Brien said he was "a domestic spy for the Army" and he stated the intelligence group maintained a "subversives file" that contained dossiers on 800 individuals in Illinois alone, including Stevenson, former Gov. Otto Kerner, now a federal circuit court judge, Mikva and the Rev. Otto Kerner, now a federal circuit court judge.

Prospects Are Dim

White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said "the President feels very strongly these measures should be voted up or down before the Congress adjourns. There are other measures, too."

As an added slap at the already restless lawmakers, Nixon Wednesday vetoed a manpower training bill two years in the making. The veto enraged key members of both parties but was likely to be sustained by Congress.

Neither Nixon's threat nor the length of the session appeared to enhance prospects for passing what Nixon has put on his priority list of "overriding interest" legislation.

Filibustering Begins

The last time Congress was in session Jan. 3 was in 1941. In 1951 Congress did not adjourn until Jan. 2.

The Senate and House already have passed a resolution under which the 92nd Congress would not convene until Jan. 21.

CRMWA Wrangle Over Operating Costs Continue

The reason for a recent change in operating costs to cities in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority remained a matter for controversy today.

City officials of Amarillo, Borger and Pampa met with Lubbock city officials in Plainview yesterday in an effort to thresh the thing out.

The tri-city group protesting the change argued that it was pushed through by the City of Lubbock contrary to the formula for rate-setting in the original contract.

Borger, Pampa and Amarillo maintain the new operating cost formula hikes the rate for them and lowers it for Lubbock.

Lubbock claimed at Yesterday's meeting the change only altered the method of reconciling costs to individual cities at the end of each year and did not change the rate.

Pampa City Manager Mack Wofford said about all that came out of yesterday's conference was an agreement from Lubbock's representative that the Lubbock City Commission would be asked to join with Pampa, Borger and Amarillo in urging the CRMWA board to name an outside accounting firm to determine how the original operating and maintenance figures were arrived at, and then ask all cities to agree to go back to the original formula.

Pampa Youth Escapes Injury In Pickup Wreck Near City

A 13-year-old Pampa youth escaped serious injury yesterday after a high speed race with police officers. The chase ended on Price Road just north of Highway 60 when the pickup driven by the boy went out of control and turned over.

The accident occurred shortly after a 1 p.m. call reached Pampa Police from a station owner on Aleock. Cleo Hoyer notified police at 1 p.m. that a 1968 pickup driven by a young boy had just left his station without paying for a tank of gas. A check of the license number determined that Utility Oil and Supply owned the vehicle. Further checking revealed that the pickup had been stolen from the St. Vincent's School parking area.

Pampa Police officers investigating the gasoline theft located the pickup on Price Rd. and gave chase when the driver refused to stop.

The youth lost control of the vehicle in loose gravel on the side of the road as he attempted to avoid a second police unit which had arrived in the area.

The pickup rolled over, coming to a stop in an inverted position, blocking traffic for short time.

Department of Public Safety officers arrived at the scene shortly after the accident.

The young driver reportedly sustained no major injuries, and was released after emergency treatment at Highland General Hospital.

The Department of Public Safety turned the investigation of the incident over to Juvenile Officer Bill Leonard today.

Xuan: Nixon's Statement Directly Defies Might Of Communist Bloc

PARIS (UPI) — North Vietnam said today that President Nixon had directly challenged the might of the world Communist bloc by threatening to resume bombing of North Vietnam.

The statement by Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy coincided with a rare personal attack on President Nixon by an official Soviet statement which said Russia would "draw appropriate conclusions" if U.S. air raids on the North continued.

Thuy made his remarks as he entered the 95th session of the Paris talks. He said Nixon's Dec. 10 news conference statement "defies not only the Vietnamese people, but also the Socialist countries and the peace-loving peoples of the world."

They did not elaborate. But his statement came after both Moscow and Peking reacted to Nixon's declaration by issuing their strongest denunciations in months of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

President Nixon had told the nation he would not hesitate to order a resumption of bombing in the north if the North Vietnamese continued to fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes, or if they mounted a military buildup likely to endanger the withdrawal of U.S. troops.

Moscow denounced the Nixon statements Tuesday, 24 hours after Premier Alexei N. Kosygin received Hanoi envoy Nguyen Tho Thuan in the Kremlin. Thuan normally informed Kosygin of Hanoi's partial mobilization to meet the bombing threat.

The Moscow declaration followed a similar one from Peking, issued three days earlier, warning Nixon "not to miscalculate."

In his prepared speech to the conference, Thuy did not repeat his remarks about the challenge to the Communist bloc. But he denounced the President's remarks as "most brazen and warlike statements."

The chief Viet Cong negotiator, Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, urged the United States to respond to her offer last week of an immediate cease-fire and talks on prisoner release if the U.S. declares it will pull out of South Vietnam by next June 30.

Nixon, Heath Holding Talks In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon today welcomed Edward Heath on his first official visit to the United States as Britain's prime minister, and asserted that their two days of talks will contribute toward "a full generation of peace."

Heath, in his response, said he expected their conversations to range over European and British matters. He said Britain's hoped-for entry into the Common Market "will be to the benefit" of Europe, Great Britain, the United States and the free world.

Heath received a 19-gun salute on the South Lawn of the White House during a half-hour ceremony that included a review of U.S. troops and full military honors.

Nixon said the relationship between the two nations was "special" because of common language, common law, similar institutions and above all, dedication to general political principles.

Heath took a similar theme, characterizing the relationship at one point as "natural relations" and at another as "happy relations."

Senate Approves $225 Million Aid Plan For Embattled Cambodia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has approved a $225 million aid plan for Cambodia, stamping its approval on a vast program of unknown duration to save the embattled Indochina state with American dollars instead of American men.

The measure passed Wednesday on a 72 to 22 vote despite the claims of opponents who said it would create a downward slide leading to another Vietnam.

The action represented a major foreign policy victory for President Nixon. Ironically, it came from the same Senate that challenged Nixon's policies on Indochina and finally drove him to the campaign trail last fall seeking the election of new legislators who would support him.

Bigger Battle Looms

The victory will not be complete, however, until the measure clears a Senate-House conference which will negotiate the differences with a House-passed version of the bill.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who opposes the aid measure, will head the Senate conferees and some congressional sources expect him to try to bottle up the bill.

But a much more serious obstacle to final passage involved an issue that the White House and Senate have fought out all year: a legislative prohibition on the use of ground combat troops in Cambodia, which the President feels would tie his hands.

Filibuster Threatened

The aid measure approved Wednesday contained the ban not only on troops, but also advisers.

The prohibition was oversha-

Enemy Offers Conditional Cease Fire

PARIS (UPI) — The Viet Cong today repeated its offer of an immediate cease-fire in Vietnam in return for a declaration of U.S. and allied troop withdrawal by June 30 of next year.

Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's chief negotiator, told the 95th session of the deadlocked Vietnam peace conference U.S. acceptance would also mean immediate negotiations on the release of captured American prisoners. The same proposal also was made at last week's session.

Madame Binh in her prepared statement to the session ignored the allied counterproposal to meet every day to try to negotiate the release of U.S. prisoners by Christmas.

She said her proposal "will insure, in the immediate future, the safety of the U.S. troops' withdrawal" as well as quickly ending the war.

Going into the conference, chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy denounced President Nixon's news conference statements last week as "warlike."

Nixon told the nation the United States would not hesitate to resume bombing of North Vietnam of the latter continued firing on U.S. reconnaissance planes, or if there was Hanoi military buildup that would threaten the withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Vietnam.

Nixon, he said, "defies not only the Vietnamese peoples, but also the socialist countries and peace-loving people of the world. We categorically reject his assertions."

Requirements Eased On Filing For Income Tax

An estimated six million people will no longer be required to file income tax returns because of liberalized rules added to the law by the Tax Reform Act of 1969.

The increased filing requirements apply also to married couples, but only if they live together and file jointly and neither is a dependent of another taxpayer.

Married persons filing separately, however, are still required to file returns on incomes of $600 or more.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The year 1970 will never make the all-star team, but neither should it be written off as a total loss.

Looking back, it becomes apparent that 1970 produced several twitches of genuine progress that bode well for the future.

In Geneva, Switzerland, a company known as I.O.S. Ltd. advanced the frontiers of communications — several batches by calling two press conferences to announce it didn't have anything to say. Calling a press conference when you have nothing to say is, of course, an ancient practice, particularly in Washington. Man and boy I personally have attended at least 200 press conferences of that sort, and I am by no means a prodigious press conference attendee.

Fortrightness Now! In the past, however, people who have called press conferences when they had nothing to say have gone ahead and said it anyway. Thus the Geneva press conferences, at which the nothingness was left unsaid, breakthrough.

Maybe I'm a dreamer, but I like to think that one day there will be a world in which people who have nothing to say won't call press conferences at all.

I doubt we'll see it in our lifetime, but it's coming.

Equally promising, although in another capacity, was the allegation that a motion picture studio owed the government nearly $200,000 for the use of an aircraft carrier in filming a movie about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

The important thing here is not the alleged debt but the opportunities it suggests for balancing the federal budget.

The government must own hundreds of other items for which there would be a ready market.

Share In America? Renting or leasing them for private use during slack periods should go a long way toward wiping out the annual deficit.

I am thinking in particular of the Selective Service system. Once draft quotas for a given period have been filled, the Selective Service machinery could be rented to a Las Vegas casino for use in operating lotteries. Or perhaps some church group would lease it for fund-raising bingo games.

Another popular item, I imagine, would be congressional committees. Some of them appear to have a great deal of spare time that would be profitably used by commercial, social or civic institutions.

A garden club, for instance, might want to rent the Senate Public Works Committee to help it design a bird bath.

When 1970 is viewed in this light, it ranks as a pretty good year after all.

WASHINGTON — Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, proposing an amendment to knock money for Cambodia out of a $550 million appropriations bill:

"If they want to pick up their pitchforks and axes and butcher each other, that's fine. But don't want my money to pay for the butchering."

WASHINGTON — President Nixon, asserting America is rich enough to solve the social problems which have plagued mankind for ages:

"Our ability to do things for people in the United States and in the world depends upon this enormously productive American economy."

THE HUNT COMES HOME

LUDGERSHALL, England (UP)—Organizers of a local hunt have apologized to a retired farmer, Frank Mole, for an incident in which 20 hounds chased a fox into his home and mauled it to death in the sitting room. They also have offered to pay for any repairs.

HOLDUP NET LOSS $10
CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—For two young men who tried to rob a gas station here, Wednesday crime not only didn't pay, it cost them money.
The pair gave station attendant Albert Mitchell a $10 bill, asked for change and then told him it was a holdup when he unlocked the cash register.
When Mitchell refused to turn over any money, they fled — leaving behind their $10 bill.

JEANE DIXON
Your Horoscope

FRIDAY DEC 18, 1970
Your birthday, Friday, a year of reasonable progress is being achieved by diligence and continued study. Your present line of effort is broadened by technical developments so that you must hurry to keep up with the changing times. Your earnings rise with steady effort. Emotional expression comes rather impulsively with frequent dramatic moments. Friday's natives have strong feelings about letting an interesting story and usually help in community affairs.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You need to be vitally loud; outspoken with peers and competitors, quite the reverse with people who know you. Disregard unfair or incomplete comment.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): In your social group you will find freedom, needing advice, unwilling to ask for it—and others trying to live in your time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You can't keep a secret now, so don't try. Stay with relatives. A smile and whether you have to do anything special.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Everything should go rather well Friday. Avoid the tempting let-down and drift, press right ahead to do as much as you can now.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): Wind up the work week with no loose ends. Dress well, but realize you don't have to be extravagant to make a good impression. See everything with a sense of humor.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Devotion to a cause only causes needless squabbles. Let reasonable lapses go. Impromptu arrangements work out better than detailed plans now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Career prospects brighten with an idea gained traveling, listening to strangers. Your community needs your talents; find a graceful way to volunteer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Everybody has his own special tantrum to throw Friday. Your success is determined by how you come with all this without taking sides. Don't try too hard. Relax.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Do your normal work in good spirits. Expect your friends and companions to be somewhat shy or concerned about something. Gentle consideration should come Saturday.

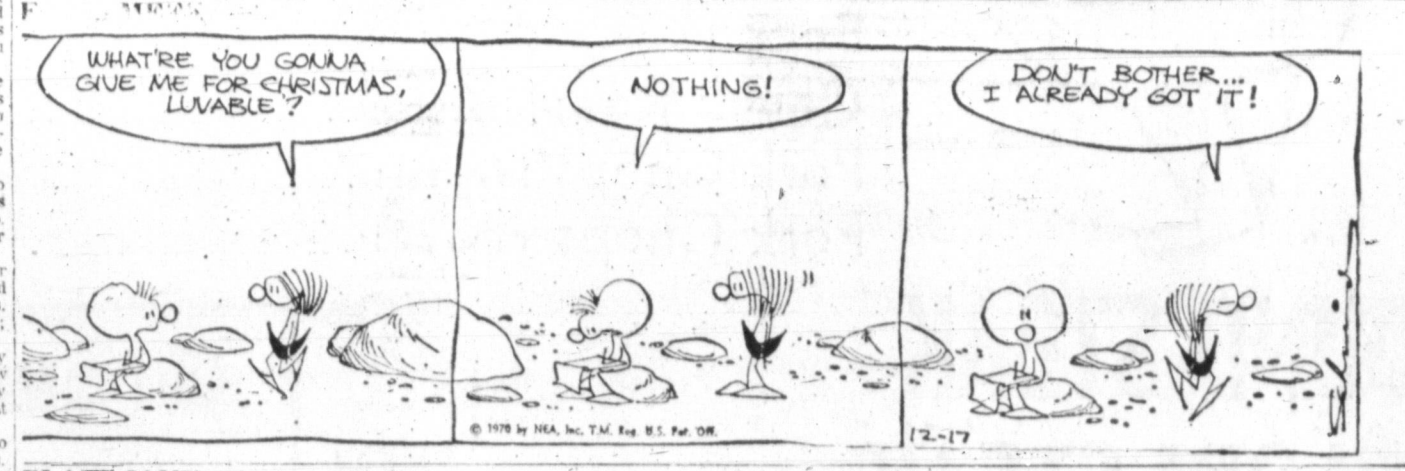

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): An idea that looks fine to you from your statistics doesn't arouse the enthusiasm of others. To insist on pushing it through only makes the situation worse. Work alone if possible.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): It's better to catch an error yourself before someone else does. Your work than to let others discover it Friday they will not let you escape responsibility for the blunder.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): If you will master your courage and demand some improvement or increase, you stand a chance of getting it, particularly in a newly-setup situation. Nothing lost by trying.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The "Memphis Blues" made musical history in the United States when it became the first blues song published. It was written in 1912 by the Negro composer, William C. Handy, "the father of the blues." The World Almanac recalls, Handy also wrote many other popular pieces, among them being the "St. Louis Blues" and "Beale Street Blues."

Gale Sayers Is Still Getting Piccolo's Help

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UPI)—Gale Sayers still is getting help from Brian Piccolo.

That could hit you a little strange considering Brian Piccolo has been dead for nearly six months now, but you wouldn't think it was strange at all if you knew the deep feeling which existed between the two men.

Gale Sayers probably is the greatest running back in the Chicago Bears' history, which is saying something when you take into account Bronko Nagurski was a running back for them also.

More than that, Gale Sayers is a genuinely warm, decent human being. Although he once got up on his feet in a banquet room and told a packed audience that he loved Brian Piccolo, don't get the idea he's one of those peculiar football players Dave Meggys has everybody talking about.

Acquaintance With Courage
Brian Piccolo, who was Gale Sayers' backup man and roommate with the Bears, died of cancer last June at the age of 25. Two weeks before Piccolo died the New York chapter of the Professional Football Writers' Association presented Sayers with the George S. Halas Award as the most courageous player in pro football because of the spectacular way he returned following an operation on his right knee the season before.

When Gale Sayers stood up to accept the award, he didn't talk about himself, he talked about his roommate, Brian Piccolo, who had just finished a series of cobalt treatments in a hospital a few blocks away and had gone back home.

"He has the heart of a giant," Gale Sayers said, "and that rare form of courage that allows him to kid himself and his opponent, cancer. He has the mental attitude that makes me proud to have a friend who spells out the word courage 24 hours a day of his life."

"You flatter me by giving me this award but I tell you here and now that I accept it for Brian Piccolo. Brian Piccolo is the man of courage who should receive the George S. Halas Award. It is mine tonight, it is Brian Piccolo's tomorrow. I love Brian Piccolo and I'd like all of you to love him, too. Tonight, when you hit your knees, please ask God to love him."

A guy was talking to Sayers here Wednesday about his second knee operation eight weeks ago. This time the surgery was on his left knee, and the Bears' brilliant running back admitted the knee still was a little weak.

"Are you worried?" the guy asks Sayers.

"No," he says softly but firmly.

"How come?"
"Well, for one thing I've been through this before," Sayers said. "For another thing, my association with 'Pick' has helped me. When this second knee injury came along and I knew I needed an operation, just having been around Pick made me accept it much better. I didn't say 'Why me? Why me?' Look, at least I'm here."

Gale Sayers has written a book along with Al Silverman, the talented editor of Sport magazine. The book is called I Am Third—"The Lord Is First, My Friends Are Second, and I Am Third"—and if you don't read it believe me you're missing something. Viking is the publisher and the book goes for $6.95.

It is not like the one Jim Bouton wrote nor like the one Dave Meggys has coming out soon.

"I'm not a whistle-blower," Sayers says. "I don't want to cause waves."
The book will though. Nice warm ones. I particularly remember chapter six. It's entitled simply Pick. I found only one trouble with that chapter. It's a little hard to read when your eyes are misty.

No. 2 And Maryland Declared Open War

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer
South Carolina and Maryland, who weren't supposed to declare open warfare in the Atlantic Coast Conference until next season, got a bit of an early start Wednesday night.

South Carolina, the nation's No. 2 ranked team, was cruising along with a 96-70 lead over Maryland with 4:52 remaining in the game when a wild, free-swinging brawl involving players, coaches, fans and police erupted.

Police had to escort coach Lefty Driesell and his Maryland team from the South Carolina court. Officials ruled that the game was over at that point.

Player Socks Coach
Driesell, who was punched in the mouth by one of the Carolina players during the melee, warned Gamecock Coach Frank McGuire not to bring his team to College Park, Md., for their second scheduled game on Jan. 9.

"If they want to fight, then we'll put on boxing gloves," said Driesell, who moved to Maryland from Davidson two years ago and who is in the process of building a national title contender.

McGuire scoffed at Driesell's warnings and added that the Terrapins, "don't scare us a bit." He said he would take his team to Maryland for the rematch.

Talented Feuders
Ead blood has been brewing among the schools since Driesell's takeover at Maryland two years ago. The Terps boast several fine sophomores, including Howard White, the game's high scorer Wednesday night with 38 points, and have possibly the finest freshman team in the nation.

That group includes 6-foot-11 Tom McMillen, the nation's most sought-after schoolboy star last year, and a pair of New York City products, Len Elmore and Jap Trumble, from Lewis Elmore's alma mater, Power Memorial.

South Carolina, which ran roughshod through the ACC last season before being stopped by a North Carolina State slowdown in the conference playoffs, is expected to combat Driesell's youngsters with Kevin Joyce, a sophomore who's rated as a potential superstar, and freshman Brian Winters, another potential star via McGuire's "underground railroad" from New York.

No other members of the top 20 were in action Wednesday night. In other games, Fordham defeated Columbia 83-67, Brown beat Yale 79-66, Boston College downed LeMoyn (N.Y.) 106-68, Louisiana State whipped Tulane 94-79, Toledo ripped San Francisco State 71-54 and Brigham Young walloped Denver 100-72.

24 Minutes Were Beautiful But Pro Basketball Games Last 48

By United Press International
It was a beautiful 24 minutes for the Cleveland Cavaliers. But unfortunately, pro basketball is a 48-minute game.

The Cavaliers, who may set all sorts of futility marks before their maiden National Basketball Association season is over, surged in front of the league champion New York Knicks in the first quarter Wednesday night and held on for a 50-50 halftime tie.

But then, quickly and almost inevitably, the roof fell in. With Walt Frazier and Phil Jackson leading the way, the Knicks outscored Cleveland 14-5 in the first seven minutes of the second half, rolled up a 58-34 second half margin and coasted to a 108-81 victory.

Other Games
In the only other NBA action Wednesday night, Los Angeles whipped Cincinnati 118-102, Atlanta beat San Diego 128-117 and San Francisco downed Seattle 108-91.

Frazier hit 16 of his 22 points in the second half and Jackson, subbing for Willis Reed, who suffered a cut above his eye in the first half, hit six of 11 shots to perk up the sluggish New York offense. Rookie John Johnson scored 21 points to lead the Cavaliers, who suffered their 33rd loss in 35 games.

Wilt Chamberlain and Jerry West teamed for 60 points as the Lakers beat San Diego. Chamberlain hit for 35 and West contributed 25 to help Los Angeles snap the Royals' three-game winning streak.

West's 25 points left him only 17 shy of the 20,000-point career mark.

Walt Hazzard scored 10 consecutive points early in the fourth quarter to rally the Hawks over San Diego. Atlanta led 90-87 when Hazzard went on his spree to lift the Hawks to a 100-87 lead.

Hazzard had 31 points and Pete Maravich 27 to lead the Hawks while Stu Lantz was high man for the Rockets with 31.

Nate Thurmond scored 17 of his 19 points in the second half as the Warriors downed Seattle. Thurmond hit two free throws and a layup to give the Warriors a 71-67 lead in the third period and they never relinquished it. It was San Francisco's third straight triumph and left the Warriors a half game behind the Lakers in the Pacific Division.

Jerry Lucas' 29 points were tops for the Warriors while Len Wilkens led the SuperSonics with 28.

Dallas Coach Landry Hates The Word 'Looser'

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer
DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry uses the words "attitude" and "looser" frequently in describing his team's turnabout performance that has brought it from the brink of disaster to a possible National Football League playoff spot.

"I hate to use the word looser in describing our play," he said, "because it can be construed the wrong way."
"I don't mean that the Cowboys are now a carefree type. They still are nervous before a game, but they are not so tense in the game—and that's important."

"Potentially, we can play better than we have, but you've got to start with attitude—and ours is better than ever. Attitude and looseness go hand in hand. If we had been tense at Cleveland last Sunday, we would have lost the game in the fourth quarter... and if we had matched the Browns in mistakes, we would have lost it.

"But, we made only five major errors in the whole game, and that's remarkable. It comes from being loose, not tense."

The Cowboys' 6-2 victory over Cleveland put them in a position to win the Eastern Division title Sunday by beating Houston if Los Angeles beats or ties the New York Giants.

Even if the Giants win to leave the two clubs tied for the East lead at 10-4 (the Giants would represent the East because of a better intra-division record) the Cowboys would have a chance to be the National Conference's wild card team in the playoffs.

Detroit also could wind up at 10-4 by beating Green Bay and if that should happen, then a coin flip would determine whether the Cowboys or Lions become the wild card team.

"Naturally, a coin flip is not the ideal way to settle it," Landry said. "I would like to play for it. But, I guess it is the best alternative under all the varied circumstances which exist."

"I do think a coin flip is better than deciding it on the basis of comparative points scored if the teams are in different divisions. Points do tell you something, but a lot of circumstances could be involved in whether a team runs up the point total."

Landry said that "naturally, we won't be happy if we don't make the playoffs, but in assessing the season I would have to say I am pleased with the club's turnaround."

"You can only go so deep before you start fighting back and I can't imagine being any deeper than we were after that 38-0 second loss to St. Louis."

The Cowboys' record was 5-4 at that point, but they have won four in a row since and have not allowed a touchdown since the third quarter of a 45-21 victory over Washington a week after the humiliating loss to the Cardinals.

Clay Will Retire After Frazier Fight

ALBUQUERQUE N.M. (UPI)—Cassius Clay, still bartering about the time and place for his heavyweight championship fight with World Boxing Association champion Joe Frazier, says he will retire from the ring—win, lose or draw—after that bout.

Clay and his wife, Belinda, stopped off in Albuquerque Wednesday to visit friends en route to Los Angeles.

The undefeated, deposed former WBA champ revealed his retirement plans in an interview with an Albuquerque television station (KOAT-TV).

"Win, lose or draw, it will be my last fight. I've been in this boxing business 16 years and I'm tired," Clay said.

Clay called himself "the greatest fighter in the world and a professional" and referred to Frazier as "a tramp and an amateur."

Clay said 800 million people around the world will see the fight. He said he would like the fight to be held in Houston's Astrodome.

"I'll clear $1 million in this Frazier fight and I'm going to take the money, buy some land and invest." He mentioned New Mexico as one possibility. He said he was considering buying a tract of land near Albuquerque for his winter home.

Asked if he had any resentment against Texas because of his long battle with the Army and courts over his conscientious objector status, Clay said, "No, some of my best fights have been there. It just happens that that's where I reported for induction. We're talking about a sporting event, not something where the government is involved."

If Clay is to come close to that $1 million figure, the fight almost has to be in the Astrodome, where a live gate would go above 50,000.

In his customary style, Clay predicted a victory over Frazier, and even offered a poem to that effect. It ended:

"Who would have thought that when they came to the fight,

They were going to see the world's first colored satellite.

RANDLE TO COACH

GREENVILLE, N.C. (UPI)—Sonny Randle, former all-pro pass receiver for the St. Louis Cardinals, was named Tuesday to succeed Mike McGee as head football coach at East Carolina University.

TCU Has Solved Coaching Problems...But Not Tulane

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Texas Christian University has solved its football coaching problems and in so doing created some for Tulane.

Jim Pittman, the first coach in 39 years to leave Tulane on a winning note, announced Wednesday he had accepted the job as head coach of the TCU Horned Frogs.

Pittman rejoins the Southwest Conference almost five years to the day from when he left it. He was an assistant to Darrell Royal of Texas before undertaking his rebuilding job at Tulane.

"I am pleased to be associated with the Southwest Conference again," Pittman said. "It was tough at Tulane to have six or seven new opponents every year."

Tulane, a former member of the Southeastern Conference, is now an independent.

"We had a number of fine Texans (38 to be exact) on the Tulane squad this year and it's good to be out in the center of them recruiting again," he said.

Pittman said he had 38 Texans on his Tulane team because he was "having to fight the politicians all year around" in Louisiana. The politicians, he said, wanted all good state school football players to play at Louisiana State.

Pittman leaves Tulane just four days after completing an 8-4 record including a stunning upset victory over Colorado in the Liberty Bowl. Before Pittman arrived on the scene, Tulane's record was 19-63-3 over the previous nine years.

But Pittman's job change has left Tulane, a school which looked for even brighter years under Pittman's guidance, without a football coach. But authorities believe Pittman's success gives them a better chance at obtaining a higher caliber of talent than if Tulane was still a loser.

The most likely prospect at the moment appears to be Benny Ellender, who coached Arkansas State to the No. 1 ranking among small colleges and a victory in the Pecan Bowl. Ellender was a quarterback at Tulane and a former assistant coach there.

Among other names mentioned for the job are Eddie Kyayat, an assistant coach of the New Orleans Saints of the NFL; Roland Dale, an assistant at Ole Miss and a former Tulane assistant coach; and Jerry Claiborne who recently resigned as head coach of Virginia Tech.

Tulane linebacker Rick Kingree, a member of a committee appointed to screen applicants for the Tulane job, said Pittman's loss was a definite setback for the team.

"I'm more upset at Tulane than I am at Pittman," Kingree said. "You can't blame a man for wanting to improve himself. I'm of the opinion that if Tulane wanted him badly enough they could have kept him. I don't think they talked solid, dollars and cents with him."

But Pittman indicated salary was not the only deciding factor.

Conference I will have less travel and more time to spend with my family at TCU," Pittman said.

"All the good that came out of the Liberty Bowl win and the past season has definitely been hurt by Coach Pittman leaving," Kingree said.

"We tried in every possible way to get coach Pittman to stay with us," Tulane Athletic Director Dr. Rix Yard said. "We regret that he has made this decision."

But Yard also said Tulane "is well on its way in football and we feel that we will be able to attract a top flight coach and continue our winning ways."

Tulane President Dr. Herbert E. Longenecker added: "We are confident we can find such a person just as we found Jim."

Gumdrop Fruitcake Sparks Holiday Dessert Appetites

CHICAGO, Ill. (Sp)—Fruitcakes are a traditional English cake. The recipes for these cakes were brought with early settlers and have been made in this country for generations.

Gumdrop Fruitcake is a joy to make, a little easier and a lot less expensive than order it from your milkman or pick it up from the store along with other milk products.

Entertainers Serve Swiss Carrot Cake

Some people call this carrot cake "heavenly." Others, equally delighted but more restrained, call it one of Switzerland's finest. It is made of grated raw carrots, ground unbleached almonds, lemon rind, bread crumbs, sugar and spices.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Edelweiss is a perennial plant found at high altitudes in the mountains of Europe, Asia and South America. Its white, woolly leaves seem to protect the plant by preventing an excessive loss of moisture, allowing it to thrive under exposed conditions. The World Almanac says, Edelweiss is prized by the Swiss as a symbol of purity and inaccessibility.

Poppy seed loaf cake adds continental touch to holiday desserts.

Poppy Seed Cake Is Special Treat

Poppy seeds, originally from Asia, add a distinctive flavor to cakes, breads, noodles, pickles, preserves and beverages. For a special holiday treat, whip up a Poppy Seed Loaf Cake. It has chocolate, plus a layer of strawberry or currant preserves for a perfect munchy dessert that keeps well.

POPPY SEED LOAF CAKE

3/4 cup poppy seed
3 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
One-third cup corn oil
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup strawberry or currant preserves or jelly
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1 1/2 (1-ounce) squares unsweetened chocolate
1 teaspoon hot water

Line bottom of an 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch loaf pan with waxed paper. Cover poppy seed with water in 2-quart saucepan. Heat to boiling and boil 30 minutes, stirring occasionally, adding more water if needed. Drain in fine sieve. Cool.

Beat egg whites in mixing bowl until foamy. Gradually add 2 tablespoons of the sugar, not hers. Her hips are 44 inches.

INFLEXIBLE EVIDENCE

BARNESLEY, England (UPI)—Workers clearing a drain at the home of Mrs. Audrey Kenn, 34, found the blockage was caused by a giraffe and a pair of tights. The local council sent her a bill for 19 pounds ($46.60) but she and her husband have refused to pay it. She says the giraffe, made for 35-inch hips, is beating until soft peaks form when beater is raised. Set aside.

Cereal confections make tasty edible ornaments.

Cereal Confections Create Candy Tree

Tree ornaments of Cereal Nutritious are well within the artistic realm of homemakers who are long on interest but limited in ability. The confection consists of presweetened cereals and nuts held together by a clear candy syrup. When separated into pieces of reasonably even size—the crunchy mixture produces wholesome sweets.

To turn these into edible baubles to hang on a Christmas tree centerpiece, twist plastic film around each candy and tie

SANTA GOT A TICKET

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—Security guards at Barnes Hospital had Santa Claus sleigh towed away Wednesday.

Santa, in full costume and carrying a bag of gifts for children at the hospital, parked his "sleigh"—a metal vehicle with four wheels—in a fire lane. Security guards had it towed to a nearby garage.

GUMDROPS, YES GUMDROPS IN A FRUITCAKE

Bake your holiday fruitcake in a tube pan and make it the imposing focal point of your holiday buffet. Gumdrop Fruitcake will be popular with those who are not fond of candied fruit.

traditional fruitcakes. Gumdrops, pecans and raisins are the "nibbly" ingredients in the Gumdrop Fruitcakes. Applesauce is used to help keep the cake fresh and moist. And the savory, flavorful taste is a combination of cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg.

Once you see how simple this recipe is to follow you'll probably want to make a few additional Gumdrop Fruitcakes to give as gifts. They go jauntily through the mail in inexpensive antique tins.

Remember that fruitcakes improve with age, so now is the time to bake them. It's important to store the cakes properly. To do this saturate a piece of cheesecloth in fruit juice or cider. Wrap the cake in the cloth, then wrap again in foil or plastic wrap. Check to see that the cheesecloth is kept moist throughout storage.

It is most convenient to have fruitcakes on hand for the holiday callers. And it is so easy to have eggnog on hand to complement this holiday treat. All you need do is to

COED SWIMMING
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Vel Phillips, Milwaukee's only alderwoman, has won permission for women to swim in city swimming pools on Saturdays.

Saturdays used to be restricted to men in the city's five pools. Mrs. Phillips told a committee the practice was begun when men worked during the week and could only swim on Saturdays.
 Alderman Mark Ryan heartily agreed with Mrs. Phillips. "Every day is ladies' day with me," he said.

Illinois Voters Decide To Revise State's Century-Old Constitution

CHICAGO (UPI)—Illinois voters have decided to replace the state's century-old constitution with a new charter, but have rejected lowering the voting age to 18 and abolishing the death penalty.

Tuesday's vote, with 1.7 million of 5.2 million registered voters casting ballots, showed 1,073,297 for and 786,683 against abolishing the constitution adopted in 1870—a majority of 57 per cent.

DISAPPEARING ACT
CINCINNATI (UPI)—James Dixon said he wanted a breath of fresh air, but he took a powder instead.

Dixon, 29, was convicted of driving without a license and sentenced to 10 days in the workhouse Wednesday in traffic court here.

Following sentencing, Dixon told police he felt ill and needed some fresh air. He was permitted to step outside a rear door. He failed to return.

Police say they may have some difficulty in locating Dixon because he listed three home addresses.

Most of the new constitution's major provisions will become effective July 1, 1971. It will become the state's fourth constitution—previous ones were 1870, 1847, and 1818, when Illinois became the 21st state in the Union.

The new constitution's major provisions provide expanded home rule powers, a ban on discrimination in housing and employment and revision of the state's fiscal and revenue system.

Four issues deemed so controversial that they were offered to voters in ballot questions separate from the constitution's main body were: Lowering the voting age to 18, abolishing the death penalty, appointment of judges by the governor instead of electing judges, and abolishing the state's unique system of cumulative voting for the House of Representatives.

Lowering the voting age and abolishing the death penalty were defeated—the latter most soundly with 64 per cent of the voters choosing to keep capital punishment. Fifty-four per cent voted not to lower the voting age.

Fifty-four per cent voted to retain the present system of electing judges instead of adopting a so-called "merit system" of having them appointed by the governor, currently Republican Richard B. Ogilvie.

Fifty-six per cent of the voters opted for the current system of three-member State House districts instead of having single-member districts.

The new charter was called "a great victory for Illinois" by Governor Ogilvie and Samuel Witwer, president of the sixth constitutional convention which produced the new charter after nine months of work at a cost of $14 million.

Television In Review

By RICK DuBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) Wednesday was the 200th anniversary of the birth of the greatest composer who ever lived, Ludwig van Beethoven, but not a single commercial television network found room for a prime time program marking the event.

There is little question that any such program would have gotten low ratings: witness the sad fact that NBC-TV's recent offering of "Hamlet" with Richard Chamberlain and a distinguished British cast finished in 90th place in the two week rankings. And note, also, the fact that CBS can't find a sponsor for a 90-minute Beethoven special planned for this winter.

All right, commercially one can make a case for the bookkeeping reasons of the networks. But it is fair to ask: are there no special obligations that a broadcast organization has to the public on certain occasions when bookkeeping is not all that counts?

The important music chroniclers of our time are writing about the classics and the significant contemporary artists in the pop area. But some network television executives honestly continue to think that Bobbie Gentry is actually where it's at.

The problem with Beethoven, of course, is that he doesn't have a Hollywood packageer putting together a deal for him. Bing Crosby, who doesn't have the same problem, had an hour Christmas show on NBC Wednesday night. Needless to say, he sang "White Christmas," which for years has been sort of the Beethoven's Ninth of Tin Pan Alley and what's left of it.

I usually stay away from reviewing these institutional Christmas shows with institutional stars in institutional settings singing institutional songs, but I tuned in the Crosby hour simply to keep up with the progress of the young and superb performer named Melba Moore, who is destined for big, big things. As it turned out his singing and exuberance were the best things in the hour, but even her numbers were given an institutional tone, and she never got a chance to just bust loose and stop a show the way she can—and always does.

NBC also introduced Wednesday night the latest six-episode series of its "four-in-one" show that is airing a quartet of mini-series this season. The newest entry is "Rod Serling's Night Gallery," and the writer hosts a weekly hour of several separate, bizarre stories. The premiere made clear that "Night Gallery" is attempting to reincarnate the spirit of Serling's notable "Twilight Zone" series of some years back, and that's a pretty good idea.

Sen. Dole May Be New Republican

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., all but announced Wednesday that he is President Nixon's choice to be the new Republican national chairman.

Dole, grinning, joshed with reporters about speculation that he would soon be tapped for the top party post.

But the tone of his voice and the tense of his verbs left little doubt that the 47 year-old Kansan not only wants the job but will get it. He said he expected the announcement to come soon, "probably this week."

The job falls vacant next month when Rep. Rogers C.B. Morton, R-Md., leaves to become interior secretary. The GOP National Committee, which formally chooses the chairman, is expected simply to ratify Nixon's choice.

"I keep walking by the White House, but no one comes out," Dole said. "I saw the President there right before last at a reception and the President saw me. We wished each other Merry Christmas."

Dole said he wanted the job "under certain conditions," chiefly that he "be an active participant in party affairs and not just a caretaker."

"I hope to have a voice in some of the decisions of the 1972 presidential campaign and also in some of the strategy," Dole said. "I wouldn't be a parttime chairman."

Reservation Still Available For CoC Monday Luncheon

A few reservations still were available today for Monday's membership luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room.

The affair will honor Gray County clerk Charlie Thut who will retire Dec. 31 after 45 years of continuous service on the job.

The luncheon, sponsored jointly by the chamber and the Gray County Bar Association, is open to the public.

Reservations still can be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office at 669-3241.

GOP's Top Aide Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Jim Allison Jr., No. 2 man in the Republican National Committee, Tuesday resigned elective Feb. 1.

Allison, 39, a former Texas newspaperman, became the committee's first deputy chairman last year when Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, R-Md., became chairman. Morton recently was chosen as the next interior secretary and Allison's resignation was not unexpected.

AUDIENCE CANCELED

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI is suffering a mild case of influenza and will not hold his usual weekly general audience today.

Press spokesman Federico Alessandrini said in an official statement Tuesday the pontiff has flu symptoms and a light fever.

BERRY'S WORLD

SUN VALLEY, Idaho—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, exhorting the nation's Republican governors to stop blaming him and President Nixon for election defeats:

"What is an election if it's not an attempt to divide the voters of the country between two or three candidates who may be seeking an office?"

"Heavens, if they don't divide, we might never have a result. After all, that's our free system."

By United Press International
INDEPENDENCE, Mo.—Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Me., relating the advice given him by Harry S. Truman during a 40-minute meeting between the senator and the former president:

"He told me to always tell the truth. When I said, 'But Mr. President, your way of telling the truth is not exactly my way,' he replied 'Well, my second piece of advice is to be yourself.'"

Central Baptist Slates Speaker

A three day Bible Seminar at Central Baptist Church will be led by Stuart Arnold, former British pastor, Dec. 18, 19 and 20. Dr. Arnold is a native of England and holds degrees from Leeds University in that country. He is presently a general administration consultant of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Before joining the staff of the board in February 1968, Arnold served as pastor of the Guilford Baptist Church in England. He has served as chairman of the European Baptist Federation Youth Committee, as a member of the Baptist World Alliance Youth Committee and as co-chairman of the Baptist World Alliance Commission on Bible Study and Membership Training.

In England, Arnold served as pastor of several Baptist churches. For five years he was the young people's secretary for British Baptists. In this appointment he wrote study programs and contributed a number of articles on youth and education to British and European publications.

The Bible Study will be held in the Central Baptist auditorium Friday, Dec. 18 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., then again on Saturday evening from 7 to 8:30.

Sunday morning Dr. Arnold will teach all youth and adults during the Sunday School hour and will then deliver the message in the morning worship at 11.

A special study, "In The Land Where Jesus Lived" will be taught to students from first through sixth grades on Friday and Saturday nights. The church nurseries will be open for pre-schoolers.

Bryan Halliburton pastor, and members of the host church invite the public to make Christmas more meaningful through attending this special series of Bible Study.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coping with Christmas — four handy hints for overcoming Yuletide problems before they overcome you, compiled after reading the December issues of several household magazines:

Problem: How to dispose of old Christmas cards. Each year the question arises, "What shall we do with our old Christmas cards? They are so pretty it seems a shame to throw them away."

Solution: Enjoy the cards for as long as you like, then put them into envelopes and mail them back to the people who sent them to you.

Problem: How to dispose of leftover eggnog. Tradition decrees that you prepare a bowl of eggnog for your Christmas party. Experiences shows, however, that very few, if any, guests are going to drink the stuff. The cop-out most commonly used is that eggnog is fattening. Experience shows, however, that the real reason most guests turn down eggnog is because they prefer something stronger.

Solution: After the party, take the leftover eggnog into the arbor and pour it into the birdbath. Unlike your guests birds love eggnog. A few of them may become a bit obstreperous but that is a small price to pay for getting rid of a bowl of eggnog.

Problem: How to dispose of leftover guests. Each Christmas party produces a certain quota of leftover guests. The trick is to get rid of them. For if they suspect that, they will never leave.

Solution: Leap upon the eggnog table and call out, "Hey, everybody! I've got a great idea! Let's all go caroling." As the guests are lurching out the door, make certain each has his or her wrap, so they will not have an excuse to come back in again. Once outside, start them lurching down the street singing "We Three Kings." Quickly slip back inside, douse lights, lock doors, disconnect doorbell.

Problem: How to dispose of Christmas carolers. Each year your neighbors have a Christmas party, after which some of the guests go caroling. Experience shows they will appear on your lawn at 3 a.m. singing "We Three Kings."

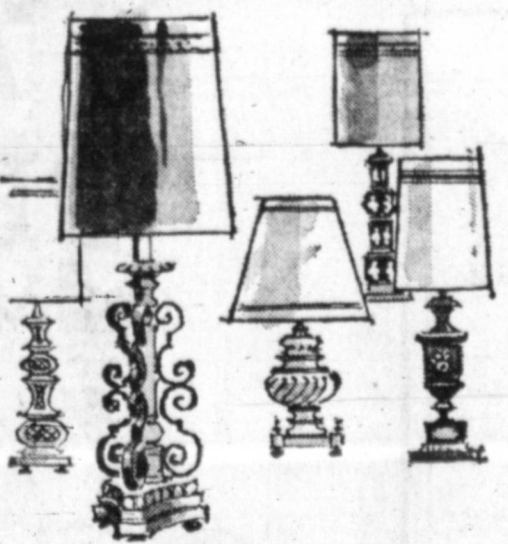

Solution: There is only one sure way to ward them off. Invite them to come in for a cup of eggnog.

NO CARDS
CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Gov. Walter Peterson said Tuesday he and his wife will not send Christmas cards to friends this year.

He said they would contribute instead to Odyssey House, a private drug rehabilitation program operating in Portsmouth and Hampton Falls. "We believe that this would be a more meaningful way to celebrate Christmas and we know our friends will understand this feeling," he said.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Seamstresses Can Make Doll Poncho

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Little girls like to get Barbie doll clothes for Christmas. It is so easy to make a smart poncho for one. All needed is one washcloth and some bias tape. Fold the cloth in half diagonally to make a triangle, then cut out a hole for the neck. Cut a slit about 1 1/2 inches long in what will be the back. Sew bias tape over the raw edges and leave ends long to tie a bow in back. If you have any leftover fringe, sew it around the edges.

Letter Carriers' Auxiliary Members Exchange Presents

The National Association of Letter Carriers' Auxiliary met recently in the home of Mrs. F.F. Winkleblack, president, as members exchanged gifts and voted to donate $25 to the Boys Ranch Christmas Fund.

Those attending were Mmes. Charles George, L.W. Hurdle, Bill Hagerman, Joe Hrenandez, R.W. McPhillips, Lessie Parks, Leon Peeler, Glyn Vanece, James Whitmarsh, Doty Warner and F.F. Winkleblack.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — We own a large lot that gets full of weeds which the city requires us to have cut. This costs a great deal. I would like to know if there is any way we could permanently kill the weeds.

—HERBERT

DEAR HERBERT — When my sons were youngsters a neighbor allowed them to use his vacant lot for play and having a carnival in exchange for cutting the weeds. A group of them did it rather quickly. Perhaps you could make such an arrangement with children in your vicinity who would be delighted to have an open place to play.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I used to get my fingers painted when I sprayed pine cones for holiday decorations. Now I put them in an empty egg carton which is newspaper. They stand up in placed on a large piece of newspaper. They stand up in the sections and I can spray as far down as I want.

—KATE

DEAR POLLY—Last year my two girls in grade school thought they should give a Christmas card to every classmate. I had an idea which cut down on the expense and also provided some fun for the children. They were each given plain white art paper, pinking shears, glue, crayons and pencils and my last year's Christmas cards. They "pinked" the edges of the fronts of these cards and the verse and made their own cards. On some they even made up their own verses. It kept them busy and out of my way while I was busy with other things.

Create Rainbow Hairstyles For Holiday Party Season

NEW YORK (NEA) — The total look, so important today in fashion ties beauty and fashion together. Hair and make-up are as much a part of today's fashion as the clothes we wear.

Fashions run in cycles. Ten years ago women were wearing their skirts a modest 14 inches me." Everything is shaded in two or three tones—lips, eyes and hair.

Hairstyles are less teased, more molded and flowing. And color is luscious. Color stylists have come up with some of the newest ideas yet seen. And you can do some of this coloring yourself.

be clustered all over the top and crown. Nape and tendrils are tinted green. The over-all effect is of a field of flowers. Rainbow hair is a long, flowing arrangement, shaded into the colors of the rainbow.

These temporary colors apply instantly from a selfapplicator and wash out completely when shampooed. First determine the colors you wish to use and set out the containers in the order you intend using them. Section the hair for the desired coiffure and, wearing rubber gloves, hold up a section and saturate it with the color. Immediately wrap it around its roller. Place a small piece of foil under the roller to prevent running. When finished, use an electric dryer.

During comb-out, don't use a brush. It might cause the colors to bleed into each other.

You can change the colors of the streaks or curls as often as you wish. And if you have extra curls that pin in, just dip them in the temporary color rinse and have them ready. The rinse takes equally well on synthetics and washes out easily. It's pretty and it's fun.

DUAL MATCH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Russia, boasting two straight victories, will meet the United States in the third dual boxing match between the two countries, on Jan. 23 in Las Vegas.

Party-color hair can be fun to do at home with a temporary rinse that washes out instantly. The whole effect can be part of the total fashion look so important today. Rainbow hair (upper left) is in seven pastel shades. Blossom (upper right) is also in pastels, applied to curls rather than streaks. Tortoise (lower left) is in shades of gold and brown. Ombre (lower right) uses shading from light to dark. If the color desired requires bleaching, this should be done professionally. Rinses can be done at home.

from the ground. And here we are again.

Ten years ago rinses for the hair—in gay party colors were introduced. Avantgarde hair-dressers created rainbow heads, using green, pink, blue, mauve, apricot, gold and red. Ladies matched their tresses to their dresses and "Tickled Pink" meant not only cosmetics but also pink hair. And now, once again, London and Paris hair stylists are dipping their clients' hair in all hues.

Does this mean it's the same "look" again? Yes and no. In make-up, the transparent gels are out. Instead the colors are outspoken, saying "Look at Temporary color shampoo in and wash out at will. Ombres, rainbow heads, tiger lilies, tortoise shell or blossoms are there for the taking. They are subtle and beautiful because the same principle of several shades used in today's make-up holds true here, too.

Ombre, for instance, shading from light to dark, is a delicately lovely thing. If you are a brunette, keep your hair dark around the face and lighten it gradually until it is pale blond at the tips. If you are blonde, do it in reverse.

"Blossoms" is a mass of ringlet curls, each curl a different pastel. These curls should

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband owned a store in New York and we used to spend about five months of the year in Florida. He died in Florida last month, and it was his wish that he be buried in Florida. I notified his employes in New York, and his bookkeeper who had been with him for 13 years, and his manager, who had been with him for 25 years, flew to Florida for his funeral.

Later, when I checked over the books, I found that the manager and bookkeeper had charged their airline tickets to my husband's business! I am terribly angry over this and wonder if I should insist that they reimburse the business.

DEAR WIDOW: Ask yourself, "How would my husband have handled it?" Then, handle it that way.

DEAR ABBY: I have been unable to find the correct type of card to send to friends and relatives to announce the arrival of an adopted baby. Printing services in our city have not been able to help us. My husband feels that we should make it perfectly clear that we have adopted a baby. I don't think that is necessary. I think if we send out announcements with the baby's name and date of birth on it, those who are close to us will know he's adopted, and the others need know nothing more than the arrival of our child. Please advise.

IN DOUBT IN CONN. DEAR IN: Your "printing service" needs to update their service. I have seen announcements for the adopted child. ("We have an addition to our family. Mary Ann was born Aug. 25, and came to us on Sept. 2nd.") announcement would imply that you had actually given birth to the child, which is perfectly all right, if that is the impression you want to create.

DEAR ABBY: I know lying is wrong. But how about a "little white lie?" There are so many situations where the bald truth is cruel, and a little white lie wouldn't hurt. Example: "How do you like my new hat?"

DEAR NELLIE: That type of white lie is, of course, not only harmless — it's kind, and I doubt if the gates of heaven would be closed to you for having told it. However, most white lies often end up as a double feature in technicolor.

MEMO SENT WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary John H. Chafee, in a memo to all Navy personnel, has urged that more than just lip service be paid to efforts to improve race relations. "In recent weeks," Chafee said, "it has become increasingly clear to me that our track record in this area is far from adequate. We can do more. We must do more ... We can no longer tolerate mere lip service regarding this matter at any level."

WASHINGTON

U.S. Needs A Good Spy Ring In North Vietnam

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The establishment of the type of ground intelligence organization in North Vietnam essential for success in bringing out prisoners of war is not the impossible task high officials believe it to be.

They have been discouraged by incredible blundering in past attempts to introduce agents into the north. Men have been dropped in by parachute. Even at night, this makes them easy targets, subject to quick capture. Others have gone in with insufficient training, inadequate cover stories to account for their sudden appearance in the north or short on northern friends and relatives to front for them.

In short, there has been too little preparation and too much bungling (do it like the movies) spirit.

As a result, the agent network in the north, including that run by the South Vietnamese and other allies, is so fragmentary as to be inconsequential in the war.

Yet an adequate net is of vital importance for the war effort not only for prisoner rescue but in a host of other ways as well.

It could provide: Critical information on military, economic and political weaknesses. Information on dissident groups within the population, the major causes and extent of popular dissent.

came. It is essential that these agents go armed with names of northern residents unsympathetic with Hanoi — for the objective is to build up the organization with men and women already in the north, not with outsiders. Outsiders, even previous residents, are vulnerable. They stand out, are open targets for suspicion. They must be kept hidden unless an unusually safe cover can be found. Their job is to create the basis for an organization among those who have lived in the north and never moved away. But these things are possible.

This reporter has discussed these problems at length with men who have had years of experience in running intelligence networks. The job is difficult. But it can be done. It would shorten the war. It would increase immensely the chances of prisoner rescue and it could build a base for greater freedom for the ordinary man in North Vietnam.

Inside Washington

New 'Campus Coalition' Seeks Education without Intimidation

WASHINGTON — Campus extremists and violence agitators are being directly challenged by a significant new student movement.

Designated "Campus Coalition," it was launched at a Chicago meeting attended by about 100 student leaders and young faculty members from 55 Eastern and Midwestern colleges and universities.

Avowed purpose of the organization is to maintain campus tranquility, safeguard freedom of speech and civil liberties and keep classes open.

A steering committee from eight leading universities was elected to direct the movement formulate plans for expansion, particularly in the West and South, and convening of another meeting in the near future.

Members of the steering committee are — Mark Souder, former president of the student body at Indiana University; William Bowman, head of the Coalition for Reason at Northwestern University; Brian Leahy, student body president at Boston State College; Grover Rees, Yale; George Taylor, Ohio State University; John Meyer, Pennsylvania University Law School; Jay Parker, Washington, D.C.; Arthur Waldron, Harvard; Edith Hollan, Cornell.

National headquarters of Campus Coalition is Room 204, 2313 Sheridan Rd., Evanston, Ill.

Souder presided at the Chicago meeting. Bowman, a Northwestern senior majoring in computer science, acted as secretary. He is a leading founder of the new movement.

In addition to initiating plans to extend the organization to campuses throughout the country, the Chicago gathering unanimously adopted a forceful "statement of purpose" enunciating three basic principles, as follows:

JOHN GOLDSMITH

TEACHING — NOT PREACHING — Throughout the Chicago meeting, the student leaders stressed the urgent need to preserve the basic purpose of colleges and universities — to teach and not to engage in political or ideological agitation.

This underlying theme was the keynote in the "Statement of Purpose", as follows:

"We believe the solution to the university crisis is to be found in the return to fundamentals. A university derives its authority from the excellence of its scholarly research and teaching, and this excellence must be preserved at all costs. The university must be a testing ground for ideas, not a base for the implementation of political action."

In equally vigorous language, the student leaders flatly opposed "all forms of violence and intimidation." They maintained universities must remain open, and no exceptions can be permitted on that fundamental precept.

"The civil liberties of all members of the university must be preserved," they declared. "The university must preserve the rights of dissent and freedom of speech within a framework that recognizes, respects and protects the rights of others. The university must not be politicalized to serve the goals of any particular factions or interests through the closing down of classes, distortion of procedures by which curricula are set or by other manipulations of the academic process."

In commenting on the session, Bowman, 21, emphasized that the organization still has a long way to go to achieve national effectiveness.

"The biggest thing we accomplished," he said, "is to get a number of people together to discuss campus problems and decide on basic principles and policies. We made a lot of progress on that. We honestly believe we have made a good start and that Campus Coalition has genuine promise as a rallying point among students who are interested in constructive results and not destructive uproar and furor."

Down in the middle echelons of government is his son, Ramsey Clark.

Your Health

By Dr. Lawrence Lamb

Eyes Red, Itchy? Suspect Mites

Do your eyes itch and are they red when you get up in the morning? Is so, you may have eye mites. That is right — mites, a tiny bug closely related to the flea. One doctor claims that it occurs in 80 per cent of his patients over 65 years of age and is common in adults throughout the United States. In case you don't want to call them eye mites there is another name — demodex folliculorum belpharitis.

The microscopic bugs infest the eyelashes. Fortunately, they do not carry any disease—that we know of. They burrow into the eyelash and cause itching and sometimes vague pain, usually in the morning.

The recommended treatment is washing the eyelids twice a day with a mild baby shampoo. Women are especially vulnerable to eye mites since mites live in oil and women use lots of oil in their skin lotions and make-up. Some women evidently would rather have eye mites than wrinkles. So here is a tip, men: If you are in the market for a new wife and don't want eye mites — look for a wrinkled one.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My doctor says I have paroxysmal atrial tachycardia. What causes it and what is the best treatment?
Dear Reader—Tachycardia means a fast heart beat. Paroxysmal means occurring in bursts or paroxysms. Atrial identifies that the impulse for the heart beat begins in the atria—the saclike chambers at the top of the heart. Thus the term means recurrent episodes of rapid heart action caused by an abnormal impulse in the top of the heart.

This occurs in some people without any apparent disease, but it also occurs in heart disease, an overactive thyroid, pneumonia—too much alcohol and a host of other conditions.

If there is a medical cause the best treatment is to correct the basic problem, like an overactive thyroid. Sometimes a sudden attack can be stopped by a person, trained in stimulating reflexes in the neck or even the eyes. An untrained person can occasionally abort an attack by simply holding his breath in deep inspiration, or even gagging. Repeated episodes often can be prevented by certain medicines. One of these is quinidine, a heart medicine closely related to quinine.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

Did Ramsey Clark 'Evict' Father From High Court?

By PAUL HARVEY
When former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark tried to boot J. Edgar Hoover in the reputation, the kick was blocked by an assortment of Republicans and Democrats on the Hill.

One Republican congressman called Clark "a jellyfish." A Democratic representative described Clark as "a pussillanimous nincompoop who could not get elected dog-catcher!"

Then what explains the rapid rise of Ramsey Clark to a position of Cabinet rank? The explanation is very interesting. Attorney general of the United States. That honored office suggests an occupant of vast judicial experience or, at least, demonstrated excellence as a member of the bar.

More frequently, however, that position has been "a payoff" to a political functionary.
