

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE.
 NEW YORK (AP)—"Nobody saw the old man fall." "Nobody tumbled down the last few stairs and lay, stretched silent and meager on the narrow platform of the Wall Street Subway Station."
 It was the noon hour and people are in a hurry this along the street were the world buys and sells. Some men stepped over the small sprawled figure and others walked to the other side of the stairway, pausing only for a quick glance.
 A subway track walker and a young well-dressed man who looked like a broker saw the old man. The subway worker bent and lifted the old man to a sitting posture. The well-dressed young man, heedless of a pool of spreading blood, knelt to feel the feeble pulse.
 "I can't hardly feel it."
 Someone ran upstairs to the change booth to summon help.
 The other two men gently laid the old man back down and put a newspaper under his head. The color drained out of his wrinkled face like a thermometer, leaving the skin as colorless as his white mustache and thin hair.
 "What happened, he fall?" asked a bystander, and climbed up the stairs when the young man nodded his head.
 The subway worker and the well-dressed young man watched alone as a glass came slowly over the blue eyes looking up from the platform. The mouth gradually rapped open as slack facial muscles let go forever.
 "This man is dead," said the subway worker.
 "Yes, there's no more pulse," agreed the young man. "All we can do is pray."
 So there on the station platform with cars coming and going, carrying heedless hundreds on the errands of life, the young man knelt by the side of death and lifted up his voice: "Our Father, who are in Heaven."
 The grimy subway worker knelt, too, and joined him.
 "Hallowed be Thy name."
 Frightened women moved away from the scene, but half a dozen men halted. At first self-consciously, they took off their hats, and knelt on one knee—with the other leg ready to be gone.
 "The Kingdom come, Thy will be done . . ." the young man

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
 Associated Press Staff
 There is peace in our time. Fort Worth proved it Tuesday.

Texas-born General Dwight D. Eisenhower came to Cowtown by the man of the hour was Wil Rogers, a humorist.
 The man who led Allied armies to victory in the world's greatest war got second billing to a civilian, dead a decade.
 The event was designed to honor the humorist-philosopher of course. His good friend, Amor Carter, Fort Worth publisher, too, the occasion of what would have been Rogers' 65th birthday.

Yes, the show was designed to honor a dedicated man who lived and died for his country. But what would have happened two years ago, even one year ago, if five-star General Dwight D. Eisenhower had appeared in Fort Worth? On any occasion or even anniversary?
 It would have been his show. Streets would have been packed. Flags and bunting would have been whipping in the crisp November air.
 Bands would have marched. State officials would have been on hand to honor the grinning, victorious hero of World War II.

Tuesday, General Eisenhower still in uniform, still a five star general, still a hero, was just the featured speaker honoring Wil Rogers.
 Streets were not decorated. There was no parade. Instead of a crowd of half a million jubilant Texans, 8,000 gathered to hear him talk, and see him unveil the statue and the picture.
 Eisenhower himself asked that he be treated as a "private citizen," and there wasn't even a press conference.
 Yes, there is peace in our time—for a time, anyway. The hero of World War II are not forgotten, nor will they ever be. But Texas, and the country, is looking for new heroes, remembering old memories.
 Some of the war's leaders are out of uniform. Some have entered public service, some private business.
 Others have voluntarily slipped into the limbo of legend.
 Eisenhower, himself, is still in uniform, still head of the U. S. Army, and is frequently mentioned as a possible presidential candidate.
 But this new era of peace Tuesday made him just another American honoring a man who fought his way to fame with a pen, not a sword.

Cities Seem Made For A-Bomb Targets, Statistics Reveal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Almost half the people of the United States are living in cities "ideal for destruction" by atomic bombs.
 The Census Bureau, in a report yesterday that 10 percent or more of the country's population is clustered around 110 cities of over 100,000, said:
 "Any one of these could be largely destroyed by a single a-bomb."
 Although expensive cuts of meat are often more tender, don't forget that cheaper ones are as nutritious and that there are ways to prepare them for mighty delicious eating.
 said.
 And the others picked up the ancient chant.
 "On earth as it is in Heaven, give us this day our daily bread."
 Death isn't always as lonely as life in the endless flow of Manhattan.

Field Day Set on Land Improving

A brush spraying inspection field day will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 15, on the Oasis Ranch about 20 miles northeast of Canadian, to inspect results obtained from a comparatively cheap and highly effective method of controlling sagebrush, skunk brush, sand plum, and many range weeds, by airplane spraying with 2,4-D chemicals. Quentin Williams, of the Soil Conservation Office, said today. This work was conducted on the Oasis Ranch in May on about 1,000 acres of range land which was heavily infested with various kinds of brush and weeds. This was done as a follow-up to small scale investigations which were conducted on the experimental range near Fort Supply in 1946. The work was conducted by the Southern Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Okla., in cooperation with F. C. and A. V. Miquidly of the Oasis Ranch, several chemical companies, and an airplane-spraying company. D. A. Savage and J. R. Harlan of the Field Station will be present to discuss results and representatives of chemical companies and airplane-spraying companies will also be present for consultation. All stockmen who are interested in controlling brush and weeds in improving their range land are cordially invited and urged to attend.

Heavy Fog Hits English Coast

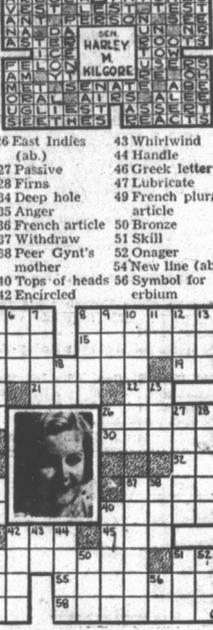

LONDON, (AP)—A 200 mile bank of heavy fog, one of the worst of the year, settled on central and southern England during the night, reducing visibility to a few yards and slowing transport services to a crawl. In the rush hour today several million London workers were delayed, Thames River services were cancelled and two buses collided.

Locals Favored in Conference Battle

Harvesters Seek 2nd Win in as Many Starts

The Pampa High School Harvesters left today at noon for Lubbock where they will engage the Lubbock Westerners tomorrow afternoon in a District 1AA conference football game.

By leaving at noon, the local team will arrive in time to work out tonight before the game tomorrow.

The Harvesters will be out for their second conference win in as many starts. A 41 to 12 win over the Brownfield Cubs last week put them back in the conference running after their loss to the Plainview Bulldogs. A loss to Lubbock would virtually eliminate the Green and Gold team from the conference standings.

Coach Tom Tipp's charges will be heavy favorites over a Lubbock team, which is now facing its worst season in its history.

The Westerners have been on the short end of five games and have tied two.

Injuries may be the cause of the Westerners' poor showing. Injuries have plagued their team throughout the season, beginning with Tailback Dwight Moore, who broke his ankle before the start of the season.

However, the fact that the Westerners will be playing on their own field and that they will be striving for their first win of the season should make the game more interesting than statistics show.

In the weight department the Harvesters will have a considerable weight advantage over the boys from the Hub City. On an average, the local team will outweight the hosts nine pounds per man, with the biggest advantage coming in the line where the Harvesters will outweigh the Lubbock team 14 pounds per man. The Harvesters will average 183, the Westerners 169. The only weight difference in the backfield will be the total weight of the Kramm backfield, which averages 165 pounds heavier than the Westerners.

Barney Poole Tops List of Pass Receivers

NEW YORK —(AP)—

The heralded battle of the pass catchers fell to materialize last week-end as Barney Poole of Mississippi and Bill Swacki of Columbia had unimpressive days, and Tom Bienenmann of Drake and Dan Edwards of Georgia projected themselves into contention.

National Collegiate Athletic Association figures today showed Poole kept leadership for the sixth straight week by snagging four passes from batterymate Charlie Conerly for 49 yards to bring his total receptions to 27 for 267 yards.

Swacki only caught two for 36 yards at Columbia discovered it didn't have to get off the ground to beat Cornell last week, and he dropped to third place with 24 catches for a season high of 409 yards.

Going into second was Drake's Bienenmann, who collected five for 53 yards in a 6-0 tie with Iowa State Teachers, for a season mark of 25 caught for 285 yards.

Georgia's Edwards grabbed six for 123 yards as the Bulldogs beat Clemson, enabling him to jump from sixth to fourth. He and Vincent Cisterna of Flagstaff State both have caught 23, but Edwards leads in yardage gained, 376 to 341.

In putting, Fred Wendt of Texas Mines, first last week, slipped to sixth this week with a 42.8 average and Charlie "Choo-Choo" Justice of North Carolina took over the leadership of a 44.9 average per spiral.

North Carolina is the nation's top punting team at the moment with an average just under Justice's—44 yards.

Lindy Berry of Texas Christian is the year's busiest safety man, running back 33 punts for 420 yards, both totals being high.

Walter Ebdon of Richmond led the kickoff returners for the third straight week, retrieving eight for 278 yards.

Jackie Jensen of California with seven interception runbacks for 102 yards, leads the country in that respect, while Jimmie George Simms of Baylor.

In punt runbacks Jim Spavital of Oklahoma A. and M. with 16 for 365 yards was second and Aubrey Fowler of Arkansas third with 15-312.

Wilton Davis of Hardin-Simmons was tenth in kickoff returns with six for 202 yards.

Wellington Favored Over Lefors Pirates

LEFORS —(Special)— Joe Champion's scrappy Lefors Pirates will step into the spotlight of Region 1 Friday night when they take the road trip to Wellington to clash with Al Duncan's powerful Skyrocks in one of the deciding games of District 3A.

Wellington, a heavy favorite, is the top defensive team of the region, allowing only six points to be racked up against them this season. Lefors is ranked ninth in the defensive poll. Both teams are constant scoring threats, making the outcome of the game unpredictable.

BOWLING

In the Lone Star Ladies League last night at the Pampa Bowling Alleys, Franklin Life Insurance won three games from Walker Grocery, and the Modern Beauty Shop won two out of three games from Parker's Edson Shop.

Crump of the Parker team bowled high single game with a 182 and high three game series with a 409.

In the Major Bowling League, Pampa Bowl won two out of three games from Cabot. John McFall of the Whozits won three games from Cabot. John McFall of the Whozit team bowled high single game with a 201 and John Hutchens of the Pampa Bowl team bowled high three game series with a 575.

Rickey Still Has No Idea Who Will Direct the Bums

BROOKLYN —(AP)— So you want to know who will manage the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1948? Well, so does Branch Rickey, he says.

The Dodger president returned to the Brooklyn offices and disclosed he had spent three days on a private hunting and fishing expedition with Leo Durocher near Rickey's winter home in Chestertown, Md.

They hunted birds. They also talked baseball "generally" and specifically. "And yet the brain of Montague Street said yesterday 'at this time I have no idea who my manager will be.'"

"I phoned Leo Sunday night and asked him to spend a few days with me," Rickey said. "I told him not to tell anybody so we could talk with more latitude and less interruptions."

Replying to harried reporters who told him frankly that they were getting bored with having to ask the same questions and receiving the same vague answers, Rickey answered: "I wish I could give you a definite answer, but I honestly can't."

In putting, Rickey said, "All I can tell you is that I will have a manager by March 1. Otherwise I cannot answer any questions pertaining to the Brooklyn managerial situation."

"Some of you might think I'm kidding, but I'm not," he said. "I can tell you that I will have a manager by March 1. Otherwise I cannot answer any questions pertaining to the Brooklyn managerial situation."

Mayne - Parker Match to Feature Wrestling Card

Tonight's twin main event at the Sportatorium will feature Ken Mayne of Salt Lake City against Sailor Parker of Jackson, Mississippi and Ace Abbott of Abilene, Texas against Henry Harrel of New Orleans. The first bout will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Promoter Vic Burnett, at the request of Mayne, has matched the bout between the Salt Lake City wrestler and the sailor from Mississippi after an outbreak in the Sportatorium's office last Thursday night.

Mayne awarded Jack Pappenheim the third and deciding fall over Parker, disqualifying Parker because of unnecessary roughness. The two mixed it up in the ring following Mayne's decision but the row was immediately stopped. It was again reported to have broken out in the office of the arena.

Ace Abbott was winner of the first bout last week. Last week's fights inaugurated the return of wrestling to this area after an absence of many years.

Referee for tonight's card will be Billie McEwin of Gainesville, Texas.

deals with Durocher? "Yes, but I also discussed them with Shotton, Arthur Mann, my assistant, my coaches, and anybody I figured could help me make the right deals." Rickey disclosed that two deals with other clubs are "on the fire." Would he meet with Durocher in the near future? "We have no further conferences arranged."

Rickey, however, didn't hesitate to reply to the query whether he still felt the way about Durocher as he did when Leo was suspended. At that time Rickey had exclaimed "I'd go to hell for Leo."

"Yes, nothing has arisen since to make me change my feelings. Sometimes a man reveals his genuine feelings when making an impulsive remark. It represented exactly how I felt then and I still feel that way."

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — Ruby Goldstein, a little guy from the east side who hasn't done too badly in the boxing business, figures there's just one way to make good in the fistic trade. "When you're young, you gotta buckle down for about seven years. You swim hard and take care of yourself—all the time, not just occasionally. You learn all you can and you make a wad. Then you can have your fun later." Ruby, now one of New York's top fight referees, was moved to express this theory after officiating last week when us Lesnevich, a guy who buckled down, pounded the daylight out of Tami Mauriello, who isn't. "Sure," someone agreed, "but how many kids will train the way you did 20 years ago?" "A lot of them," Goldstein replied. "You'd be surprised to see how many kids train just as hard—but a lot of them quit as soon as they get a couple of good punches."

Winner in Poster Contest Are Listed

CANADIAN — (Special) — Winners in the school fire poster and fire prevention theme contest, sponsored by the Canadian Volunteer Fire Department and the Chamber of Commerce, were announced Tuesday.

The firemen furnished appropriate literature beginning with color books of fire prevention subjects in the lowest grades, and going up through quite thorough fire prevention quizzes in the higher grades.

The Chamber of Commerce furnished the prize money. Equal cash awards were given the two best posters or themes in the grades that participated in the contest.

Winners in the poster contest were: Third Grade—Ann Bennett, Malouf Abraham; Fourth Grade—Berta Gale Parrott, Arthur Verklar; Fifth Grade—Edsel Cole, Rose Marie Miller; and Sixth Grade—

Helen Riley, Sheila Cole. Students having winning themes at the High School were: Eighth Grade—Louise Zybach, L. H. Webb; Tenth Grade—Myrtle White, June Parker; and Twelfth Grade—Shirley Wilkinson, Lajuana Smart.

He scampered 73 yards for a touchdown.

DIRECTOR

(Continued From Page 1) tion might also be given to "aging" columnists here at home," Garrison told his listeners. Directing attention to the non-tiring fight against traffic fatalities, Garrison said the number one job of public safety officials in this field today is "a job of selling of public relations. The people are—and will continue to be—in a mood for progressive change, especially in anything affecting their security," he believed.

He advised concentrating enforcement efforts against the dangerous 15 percent of the drivers who are responsible for 85 percent of today's accidents at the same time encouraging the other 85 percent of the drivers to assume a defensive driving technique based on the theory that "the other fellow is drunk or crazy."

Garrison's report on crime revealed that Texas crime on the whole is increasing almost twice as fast as the rate of increase nationally. The speaker said the reason for this disproportionate increase is that Texas with 7,000,000 inhabitants has approximately the same number of law enforcement officials as Chicago, which has a population of 3,400,000.

He also disclosed plans to leave for London November 20 aboard President Truman's special plane, the Independence. The foreign ministers' meeting opens November 25.

Chickenless Days Flood Poultry Shelves Today

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The War Relocation Authority reported today that the fifth poultrying campaign of the food conservation program that the nation's markets are being glutted with poultry. Prices are going down, it added, and city dealers are urging country shippers to hold their chickens back for lack of a market.

Cold storage stocks of frozen poultry, which on Oct. 1 were at record levels for that date, contained to increase last month to such an extent that the industry was said to be running out of space to store dressed poultry. The report was issued as representatives of the poultry industry renewed their efforts to get the Citizens Food Conservation Committee headed by Charles Luckman to do away with the poultry ration part of its program.

Police System Is Discussed at Meet

H. L. McCann, area FBI director, talked today with county police officers from the region yesterday in Amarillo on the underlying philosophy of the police system in the United States. Most of the personnel of the Sheriff's office here attended the session of lectures and demonstrations held at the Municipal Auditorium in Amarillo.

McCann said that a national police force was not desirable, that it led to totalitarian control, and he cited European examples. He explained in detail the merits of our elective police officer system. Carl Perryman and Davie O'Brien of the FBI gave judo and bearmaning demonstrations.

SHOWDOWN

(Continued From Page 1) berg declared in a speech at Ann Arbor, Mich., Monday that "The peace conference should be called by those who do agree." Marshall told a news conference yesterday that he has no idea what the Russian attitude will be at London and that he has information on Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov's plans for attending.

Of his own attitude Marshall said he intends to do his best to see whether the foreign ministers can find a basis for a German settlement, adding that he never allows himself to be pessimistic as to the outcome of any operation in which he is engaged.

He also disclosed plans to leave for London November 20 aboard President Truman's special plane, the Independence. The foreign ministers' meeting opens November 25.

Slashing Income Taxes—Simpler Said Than Done

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, (AP)—This year's tax-cutting bill will be up to President Truman to decide whether he'll kill such a bill with two weeks left in 1947.

But what they say will be done in Congress. And the Republican-controlled Congress seems certain to pass a tax-cut bill of some kind.

STUFFY NOSTRILS? that's a job for Comfy and Minty

income taxes can be cut, there are problems. Roughly, here's a bird's-eye view of them:
Last year—the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947—the cost of running the government was $42,500,000,000 and the government took in, mostly through taxes, about $43,200,000,000.

...The special tax committee thinks maybe the cost of running the government can be reduced from $37,000,000,000 by perhaps $25,000,000,000 or even $30,000,000,000.

Square Biscuits, Yet!
I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than those customary ovals.

Wayside HD Club Is Told How to Improve Gardens

The Wayside Home Demonstration Club met Friday in the home of Mrs. Felix Stalls. Roll call was answered by each member naming something she could do to improve her own yard. Christmas gift packages of towels were brought to be sent to Europe.

Mrs. Stalls, yard demonstrator, spoke on "Planning for Yard Improvement" and her own beautiful garden was a manifestation of her love of flowers.

In her talk Mrs. Stalls enumerated several things that would help make a beautiful yard. She named first the enriching of the soil, preferably in the spring and fall with the best and cheapest kind of fertilizer—barnyard manure.

She emphasized the desirability of choosing the plants, shrubs, and seeds best adapted to this area. She pointed out the value of pinching off the first buds of some flowers, like snap dragons, to increase the length of the stem and enlarge the second blossoms, thus making for more showy blossoms. Mrs. Stalls stated that it is now time to plant certain seeds and grasses and to set out certain shrubs and bulbs.

New officers elected to serve next year are: Mrs. Harold Osborne, president; Mrs. Ernest Edwards, vice president; Mrs. Robert Montgomery, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Gus Greene, reporter; and Mrs. J. S. Fuqua, council representative.

Mrs. Jo Edwards was a visitor. Ten ladies were present.

Eight 4-H Clubs Will Hold Exhibit In Pampa Saturday

In observance of National 4-H Club Achievement Week, the girls 4-H clubs of Gray County will hold their annual achievement day Saturday, Nov. 8. The exhibit will be in the home demonstration agent's office in the Court House. Entries may be brought in any time Saturday morning. Judging will begin at 1 P. M.

The eight 4-H clubs of the county will display their achievements for the year. The exhibits include dresses, play clothes, pajamas, mittens, belts, hand towels, good grooming kits, canned tomatoes, fruits and vegetables.

Ribbons and cash awards will be given by the local Chamber of Commerce to the first, second, and third place winner in each division.

Here's how to keep pictures from marking freshly decorated walls: just stick a thumb tack in the back of the two lower corners, then frames won't touch the walls.

'Fellowship Night' at Sam Houston School

"Fellowship night" will be held at the Sam Houston Cafeteria beginning with a meal at 6 o'clock Friday, it was announced yesterday by a member of the Parent-Teacher organization of that school.

The P-TA is sponsoring the benefit dinner, and the proceeds will go for expenses of the organization for a year. This is an annual event, it was noted.

The dinner, it was stated, is open to the public, especially to those who have children in the school. "Other interested persons are also asked to attend," a spokesman said.

J. Aaron Meek, principal, is chairman of finances; Mrs. L. N. Atchison is president of the Parent-Teacher organization. Mrs. Noel Dalton is vice president; Mrs. C. R. Cobb, secretary; Mrs. Frank Smith, treasurer; Mrs. Joe Gordon, historian; and Mrs. Paul Kasishke, parliamentarian.

Beta Sigma Phi Hears Two Talks

Beta Sigma Phi met Monday evening in the City Club Rooms with Mrs. L. G. Airhart as hostess. Mrs. H. J. Johnson spoke on "Conversation" and Mrs. Wilbur Dowd spoke on "How to Review a Book."

The sorority will have their "Ritual of Jewels" tea for pledges Sunday afternoon in the City Club Rooms.

There are orchids the size of pearls and as large as eight-feet.

Round of Social Events Is Held

SHAMROCK — (Special) — A round of social events of various types were held here during the past few days.

Mrs. Joel Gooch was hostess to a group of guests and members of the Saturday Bridge Club at her home Saturday afternoon. High score award went to Mrs. Harrison Hall of Wheeler, and second high prize was presented to Mrs. Winifred Lewis.

Refreshments were served at the close of the games.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nichols, Sr., entertained with a dinner Sunday when members of their family met for a "get-together" at the family home.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Roark and children, Charles, Lola Mae and Joe, of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nichols and son, Don Walter, of Lefors; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Nichols, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Nichols.

April Tisdal, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Tisdale, was complimented by her mother with a birthday party Sunday afternoon.

Those attending were: Betty Jean Chandler, Linda Sue Isaacs, Lynda Carol Adkins, Cheramy and Pam Tisdal.

Mrs. Leroy Wall was named honoree at a dinner and pink and blue shower given at the home of Mrs. J. D. Mallow Monday evening.

Co-hostesses for the affair were: Mrs. Glenn Richardson, Mrs. Alvin Nik, and Mrs. Edward Price.

The Mallow home was decorated with dahlias and the chicken dinner was served on small tables centered with an arrangement of pink chrysanthemums.

The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Miss Barbara Laycock, bride-elect of Malcolm Wesley Yarborough of Memphis, was complimented Saturday morning with a brunch and kitchen shower.

The affair was given at the home of Mrs. Frank DuBose with Mrs. S. Q. Scott as co-hostess. Roses and chrysanthemums were used throughout the entertaining rooms to decorate for the occasion.

Business Women Circle Formed at Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Business Women Circle was organized by the W.M.S. of the First Baptist Church Monday evening. The group met at the church, with Mrs. Edward C. Derr presiding.

Officers were elected with Mrs. Frank Short as chairman; Mrs. Irene Bryan, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. E. W. Moss, devotional leader. The business circle will meet once each month.

Charter members of the group included: Mesdames Frank Short, E. W. Moss, Myrtle Marchbanks, Edward C. Derr, and Misses Be Lummus, Irene Bryan, and Vera Wonack. Other W.M.S. members present were: Mesdames Charles Green, Lee Newman, Seibert Worley, J. J. Baird and Frank Exum.

Club Has Pie Sale And Tacky Party

The Skelly-Kingmill Club members and their husbands enjoyed a tacky party last Thursday evening in the G. L. Craddock's garage which was decorated in the Halloween motif.

Mrs. G. I. Harckner won a pair of high topped shoes and Creed Smith won a bright bannana for wearing the tackiest costume. Both were dressed as mountaineers.

R. G. Candler auctioned off the beautifully boxed pies and then refreshments of pie and coffee were served.

The other entertainment for the evening consisted of progressive bridge and other games. Seventeen couples were present.

Wesleyan Service Guild Studies History of Hebrews

Group I of the Wesleyan Service Guild met Monday night in the home of Miss Minnie Allen for a continuation of the Bible study being conducted by Mrs. Lee Harrah. Mrs. Winnie Carnahan and Miss Alma Wilson were co-hostesses.

The study, which was begun the previous meeting, continued with an outline of the early history of the Hebrews with particular emphasis on the Patriarchs, the Judges, the Kings, the Exile and Return. At the next meeting members of the group will discuss the various characters concerned in these periods.

Refreshments were served to those mentioned above: Mesdames Diamia Dood, Bob Watkins, Malcolm Denson, Harold Wright, G. H. Newberry, W. R. Putty, Tom W. Hammonds, Joe Wells, Aubrey Jones and Misses Jean Clubb, Lillian Mullinax, Ita Poole and Florence Merriman.

The next meeting will be in the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Pearce.

B&PW Board Takes Important Actions

The Board members of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club, meeting in regular session on Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1947, voted to send in their protest against making the life of Al Capone into a movie.

Mrs. Dorothea Ward appeared before the members and discussed the registered nurses backing the doctors' appeal to build the county hospital now with the available funds. The club voted to go on record as favoring immediate construction of the county hospital with the appropriated funds.

A donation of $25 was made to the Pampa Girl Scout Drive now in progress. A donation of $20 was made to the Chinese Nursing School, for which a drive is being sponsored by the National Federation of Business & Professional Women's Clubs.

Two new chairmen have been appointed: Mrs. Opal Wright, Education; and Charlie Neal Young, Publicity.

Meeting Reports Are Heard at Panhandle

PANHANDLE — (Special) — Reports from the recent meeting of Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star held in San Antonio, were given by Mrs. Essie Weatherly, Worthy Matron, and Mrs. J. E. Southwood, who the Panhandle Chapter met last week.

Mrs. Hazel Guyer, worthy matron of White Deer chapter, was a special guest. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Weatherly.

Speaker Asserts That There Is No Religion At the Peace Table

The Civic Culture Club observed their annual guest day Tuesday with a tea in the City Club Rooms. The table was beautiful with a centerpiece of orchid and white mums, carrying out the club's colors, and with the silver tea service. A corsage was presented to each guest.

Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. H. W. Waters, president. His subject was "Religion at the Peace Table."

In his talk Dr. Nelson said: "There is no religion as we know it—at the peace-table. There is a spiritual problem. A group of specialists are struggling to cure a group of sick nations. We had imagined these to be Christian, but find some (Russia) offering a cruel, lusty and vigorous non-Christian religion with no ethics. We live by a code of ethics, but leave our religion out and have been clever but not right in our dealings with other nations."

"It is a stupefied mistake to think we can win because of our high and lofty ideals and until we learn that man cannot achieve his own salvation we are faced with disaster."

About twenty-five ladies were present.

Troop 26 Puts on 'Brownie Story'

Brownie Troop No. 26 of the Woodrow Wilson School received their pins and registration cards at the regular meeting Nov. 3.

The Brownie Story was presented by Nancy Moore, Betty Prescott, Dorothy Ayres, Mary Lou Asmus, Emily Sue Alexander, Nancy Sharp, Louine Kitchens, Kathryn Williams, Beth Spencer, Donna Conrod, Jackie Bourland, Emma Gail Smith, Marilyn Wells, Delma Franklin, Delma Franklin, Fern Yates and Patsy Putty.

After the program refreshments were served.

Mrs. C. B. Ausmus and Mrs. J. B. Ayres, Jr., are troop leaders.

Club Reports Success In Benefit Carnival

The Skellytown Rebekah Delorah Club held a benefit carnival at the Skellytown IOOF Hall Tuesday evening of last week.

One of the major features of the entertainment was a style show presenting men in the role of models. Prizes were awarded to the models who showed off the styles to the best advantage.

Food booths were popular and the money rolled in from hungry revelers. The purpose of the carnival was to augment a re-conversion fund which has been started to build a new hall.

In reporting the results of the evening's affair, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, chairman of the carnival committee, stated that the venture had brought the club $387. She further stated that it was only through the generosity of the merchants that the organization was able to put on such a successful affair. On behalf of the Skellytown Rebekah Delorah Club she wishes to thank all who made contributions of food or other merchandise.

Circle Meetings Are Held at Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The W.M.S. of the First Baptist Church held circle meetings Monday afternoon.

The Rex Ray Circle met in the home of Mrs. George Beatty. Refreshments were served to: Mesdames Ben A. Skidmore, P. T. Boston, Seibert Worley, J. T. Isaacs, and Charles Green.

The Blanche Groves Circle met in the home of Mrs. Norman Patrick.

A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mesdames J. J. Baird, Bill Wilson, Neal Lanham, Lee Newman, Dean McMurry.

The Many More Circle was entertained in the home of Mrs. Helen Lea Cox.

The hostess served refreshments during the social hour.

Those present were: Mesdames Fred Holmes, Frank Exum, J. R. Brown, Charles Daugherty, T. D. Bland and R. A. Nichols, Sr.

Mrs. Bill Doty Entertains Group

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Presbyterian Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Bill Doty Monday afternoon.

Those present were: Mesdames T. H. Sonnenburg, Earl Koger, Wilbur Jordan, and Thurman Adkins.

State 4-H'ers Win $2,600 in Scholarships

Members of 4-H Clubs in Texas and the twelve other states in the southern Extension section have gained much from educational awards since 1940, having won $26,300 in college scholarships.

In Texas alone, club members received $2,600 in scholarships provided as national 4-H awards in Achievement by National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work; Leadership by Edward Foss Wilson Girls' Record by Montgomery Ward; Meat Animal by Thomas E. Wilson; Better Methods by Westinghouse; Dairy Products by Kraft Foods; Farm Safety by General Motors; Soil Conservation by Firestone; and Field Crops by International Harvester.

During the same period, in all four Extension sections, scholarships worth $93,500 were awarded in the National 4-H Programs. These programs are conducted annually under the direction of the Extension Service.

Signals to Moon May Help Prolong Seed Storage Time

ARLINGTON, Tex. — Texas cotton farmers may rightly wonder how in formation equipment that sends signals to the moon can help preserve their cottonseed, but it will if a University of Texas research project is successful.

Better oil from cottonseed in long storage is the aim of the project. By means of high-frequency heating, a graduate student in chemical engineering is attempting to "destroy" enzyme activity in cottonseed, and to destroy insecticide by sterilization. He is Charles G. Heising, Minneapolis, who has a fellowship from the Texas Cotton Research Committee.

"Radar" equipment—including that used to send signals to the moon—is being converted into di-electric heating equipment for the research work. If the high-frequency heating proves effective and enzyme activity is destroyed, then cottonseed can be stored for a longer period of time without becoming rancid, Dr. Kenneth A. Kobe, University chemical engineering professor supervising the research project, explained. At present, when cottonseed is in storage for a long period, free fatty acids are formed, thus decreasing the value of the seed's oil.

A better product from long storage may be the result of the high-frequency heating, Dr. Kobe explained. A second project in which high-frequency heating will be used is on rubber compounds. Dr. Kobe said William A. Rantz of Austin is undertaking this research, aided by a fellowship from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company. Work on the rubber research has not yet begun, nor has a specific project been selected because of delay in arrival of equipment.

Both Heising and Rantz had electronic training while serving in the Navy.

Merten Home Demonstration Club Members Active in Varied Works

By MRS. T. G. GROVES
"Hi there, neighbor! This is Mrs. T. G. Groves reporting for the Merten Home Demonstration Club."
I've been kind of slow getting this story ready, as there are so many things in Home Demonstration work that one could write on. In fact, since National Home Demonstration Week in May, Miss Ann Hastings, our county agent, urged reporters to write and I am just now getting around to writing some of the activities of this club.

The Merten Home Demonstration Club, composed now of 18 members, has been in full swing the past four years. Last year there were 41 members on roll call. Our women have been very enthusiastic and loyal in all phases of the work.

The Merten Club was first organized about 1932 with Mrs. T. L. Strimmon, Mrs. A. Swafford, Mrs. C. B. Haney, Mrs. J. H. Fish, Mrs. H. H. Threath, Mrs. John Brandon and Mrs. Emmett Osborne and others as its charter members. It was carried on several years and then disbanded to be reorganized about 1941.

Mrs. Julia Kelley was agent when I became a member with Mrs. D. L. Hale as president of our club. About a year later Miss Millicent Schaub became agent and for about two years home demonstration work really hummed.

During the war years the club pieced quilts, made wool afghans and some garments besides donations and canvassing for the Red Cross. An entertainment and refreshments were carried to the hospital of the PAAF base.

We sponsored a night at the Teenage Canteen and gave a money donation and cup towels. One of our treasury projects was sponsoring the sale of hot dogs, hamburgers, sandwiches, pie and drinks at the Herford Breeders' Sale for two consecutive years.

We really did work this year. We have made a donation to the Cancer Fund and also to the Good Neighbor Fund for victims of the tornado.

Now I would like to tell you a little about some of our members. First, Mrs. V. Smith, one of our most active members, recently showed some 600 jars of canned food. She and her husband are top gardeners and canners. The shelves hold all the way from turnip greens to strawberry preserves. But let me give you the low down on "Smithy," as she is called. It's funny, she doesn't sew and a needle and thread scare her to death. Well, each woman more or less has her individual thing for the hundreds of domestic arts she is called on to do.

Just let me tell you a little about one of our new members, Mrs. A. M. Nash. She has been a member only a short time, and we have met in her home only one time, but she is a charming hostess and one of the first things that will catch your eye in her home is her collection of salt and pepper shakers. She only has about 300 sets, neatly arranged on narrow shelves on the wall.

Mrs. Nash does beautiful crochet and embroidery and showed dozens of pieces of her work. She is so good that her work has been sample exhibits of hand work at one of the embroidery counters in a store for several years.

When hostess she served delicious homemade angel food and sponge cake and one of the most refreshing drinks made simply in proportion of a quart of ginger ale to a pint of orange or lime sherbet. Stir lightly and serve.

Another good member and 4-H Club Girls' sponsor is Mrs. J. C. Steward. She has much to her credit working with the girls as well as a good club member and home maker.

Mrs. H. H. Threath is a most capable club worker. She is THDA chairman at council and recently won recognition for her essay on "Social Security and Farm Families."

In September we held our County Home Demonstration Fair for the third year, and our club's exhibition ribbons cashed in for a nice check of prize money. Our educational exhibit on textile painting won a blue ribbon.

Well, it's not all work and no play, for club ladies. One thing

10,000 Entries Are Expected for Poultry Contest

OKLAHOMA CITY — Poultry breeders may be assured that every entry in the 1947 Oklahoma State Poultry Show, to be held here December 2-7, will be inspected officially upon arrival for contagious and infectious diseases, Dr. Carl Wick, supervisor of poultry for the Oklahoma Department of Agriculture, said here today.

Because of the International Rooster Contest to be held in conjunction with the show, entries are expected to more than double the 5,000 fowls entered in the 1946 show. Purpose of the contest is to choose a rooster suitable for use on the main title of Warner-Pathe News. It will climax a long and intensive search for a successor to the rooster which has appeared on the main title of Pathe News in theatres throughout the world for nearly 40 years.

Doctor Ricks' staff will be enlarged in order to handle the poultry consigned to the Oklahoma State Poultry Show. Not only will each fowl be inspected upon arrival, but also daily health inspections will be held by an official of the Department of Agriculture for the duration of the show, he said.

The International Rooster Contest was announced jointly by Gov. Roy J. Turner and Norman Moray, president of Warner-Pathe News, last week and has gained attention throughout the American Poultry Association. Entries are anticipated to come from every state in the Union as well as from Mexico, Cuba and Canada.

Food is a vital factor in our foreign policy. And the attitude of Americans toward food can make or break our efforts to achieve peace and security throughout the world.

Hopkins Home Demonstration Club Summarizes Activities for Year

By MRS. VERN SAVAGE
I was asked to write a story of the Hopkins Home Demonstration Club and who it considers the most outstanding members. The club was organized in 1937, and Mrs. Seth Horn was the first president. We have 14 members at present. Mrs. R. W. Orr, Mrs. Geo. Reeves, and Mrs. C. J. Jones, who has just moved from the community, are all charter members.

I have selected Mrs. W.E. Melton and Mrs. C. H. Brickey as our most outstanding members. Mrs. Melton is our yard demonstrator. The improvements she has made in her yard have made us all want to make changes in our yards. Mrs. Melton joined the club in 1941, and besides being a demonstrator Mrs. Melton has found time to have other activities.

She served two years as president of our club and two years as council chairman. At present she is our council delegate, and by the way, Mrs. Melton still finds time for her garden and does a lot of needle and hand work. At the recent Gray County fair she was awarded five blue ribbons.

Mrs. C. H. Brickey is our food demonstrator. Mrs. Brickey joined the club in 1942. I visited Mrs. Brickey just recently and she took me on a tour of her garden. There we found 16 different varieties of vegetables growing. She told me that the year before she had canned 500 quarts of fruits and vegetables. Then she has a variety of fruits, as we found in the orchard most all the varieties of berries, grapes, peaches, rhubarb. She also has laying hens and fryers to supply her family with well balanced meals.

She was awarded more blue ribbons at the fair exhibit than any one of the other club members in the Hopkins club, so you see all the members are good workers. Mrs. R. A. Irwin, referred to as Nan by her friends, is our president for this year, and Mrs. Geo. Reeve is secretary.

Our club as a whole had as one of its projects the entertaining of all the children in the community. We grouped them according to age and planned the parties and entertainment suitable to age groups. Attendance of all parties was 165 children.

Brain Injury Is Fatal to Man

MEMPHIS, Ark. — (AP) — J. H. Giles, 30, died here last night of brain injuries received Sunday night when he and a 27-year-old Ashdown, Ark., man fought on a downtown street.

Sheriff W. E. Davis of Miller County said the encounter followed an argument in a cafe which arose when Giles refused to change a quarter into nickels to play the juke box. Davis said the younger man was under arrest.

Germany, Europe's Biggest Headache

The eastward orientation of the European satellite nations, at the point of Russian bayonets, will hurt Germany and Austria more than almost any other factor since they are more dependent upon Central European resources than the rest. But the damage will go much deeper. With the Russians entrenched in Vienna and determined to exploit their position ruthlessly, Austria will become a permanent ward of the United States. So will Berlin, unless the Allies give up their sectors, a move that would be tantamount to acquiescing openly to the Sovietization of eastern Germany, a diplomatic disaster that would not help to relieve the problem of the western zones.

Western Germany is the epicenter of Europe's earth-tremors. To start her restoration, many inter-allied snags will have to be overcome. Also, she must be reconverted psychologically from the defeatist egalitarianism from which she suffers under Allied control. Anyhow, her reconstruction presupposes currency stabilization. But Messrs. Morgenthau and Harriman handed over to the Soviets the engraving plates for the mark with the result that we can neither ascertain the total amount outstanding nor stop its further rise, nor can we convert the currency circulating in the Allied zones into a new one without paying huge involuntary tribute to the Germans in the eastern zone, i.e., to their Russian masters. That would be a non-recurrent loss "only." The western zones — i.e., we who finance them — are threatened with a much more serious and a continuous drain if and when reconstruction gets under way: the Germans west of the Elbe cannot help but support their co-nationals on the Soviet side who also are likely to stream westward to benefit from the higher standards of living and greater freedom. East Elbian Prussia as the rest of Central Europe, instead of being the traditional granary of the West, has become a food-deficiency country, thanks to the reduction of output under sovietization and the Russian skimming of what is left. Briefly, to make the Tri-Zonal area self-supporting, we will have to keep supporting the Russian zone. The costs will be enhanced accordingly, and the goal postponed.

Can Germany be reconstructed in visible time as is being taken for granted? It is a fair question, indeed, after starting her for two and one-half years into "Morgenthauization." If reconstruction should provide her with both self-support and the ability to export surpluses in coal, potash, steel, machinery, etc. — surpluses which are absolutely essential for the internal and external balance of western Europe — the investment for no return which we would have to advance is virtually prohibitive. After World War I, Germany emerged with her industrial plant unscathed, disregarding the loss of her commercial fleet, of railway rolling stock, and the war-time depletion of inventories and equipment. Now the physical damage and loss of able-bodied manpower wrought by World War II stagger the imagination, to say nothing of the more chaotic conditions and the incomparably greater degree of demoralization. If it took five billion dollars to reconstruct the time of four or five billion gold dollars net (after surpluses) to create an export surplus in the Weimar Reich, how many paper billions will it take to rebuild a devastated and mutilated Potsdam Germany, despoiled as she is of some three-fifths of her agricultural and almost one-half of her mineral sources of supply, with a dozen millions of expelled persons and unproductive refugees thrown in her lap?

The costly process of the (half-) Reich's reconstruction will be lengthy, too. At the outset it will boost Europe's spirits, but disappointment is likely to follow soon. To bring Germany to her feet, to restart her productive energies, tri-zonal arrangements and new bureaucratic makeshifts will not suffice. A larger measure of administrative self-determination will have to be provided, and the Germans' responsibility for their own economic fate put in their own hands. Mistaken as individuals cannot be expected to meet the great productive efforts in the sticky atmosphere of concentration camps, or under restrictive foreign military regimes which prohibit free communication with the outer world. But freedom, even a limited freedom, cannot fall to affect costs and prices. Who can force German labor, once freed from slavery, to work for low wages while its products are in urgent demand at home and abroad? To keep tolling for the news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

CHICAGO — National Republican leaders do not want to count their 1948 political chickens before they are hatched, but their final 1947 computations encourage them in the belief that they have a chance to regain the White House next year after sixteen years of aimless, helpless, hopeless striving.

These state-by-state estimates and the analyses given below represent the GOP's own, present-day calculations, and are recorded as such. They are based on field surveys by such key men as National Chairman Carroll Reece, Senate Leader Taft, House Speaker Martin, and scouts for such candidates as Harold E. Stassen and Governor Thomas E. Dewey. They also stem from a quizzing of local workers, a study of recent statistics and changed conditions and personalities on the political stage.

How We Look To The Russians

By MELCHIOR FALYI, Ph.D.

It is a foregone conclusion that the Soviets will not relax voluntarily their iron grip over the 150 million peoples of Central Europe, if not extend it further. They sorely need the instruments of those resources and manpower. No American generosity could possibly go far enough to substitute for the uncounted billions worth of annual benefit Russia derives from that region. Still less could she afford to forego the immeasurable political and military advantage of a hard-earned conquest. To do so would mean to let a strategic area of prime importance slip back into capitalist "chains"; to let it become a potential menace to the "peace-loving Soviet democracy" (using late-Rooseveltian terminology) instead of being its object of exploitation and its instrument of further expansion; to lose the first and perhaps only historic opportunity of effectively spreading light into the reactionary jungles of Europe and beyond. Given the fundamental cleavage between the two worlds (visible at last, if not understandable, even to the adolescent political minds of the One-World-sentimentalists), given Russia's insatiable need for raw materials and the united front under the U. S. elementary political logic impels her to hold on to every inch of foreign real estate and every ounce of its resources. And her administrative system does not suffer from the inhibitions which impede democracies in the absorption, by force, of other nations.

As a matter of fact, political logic is on the Russian side, a kind of logic scarcely accessible to the average American who appraises the international jungle through glasses colored with a blend of biblical traditions and economic common sense.

We have underwritten the Soviets as the saviors of democracy, as being a sort of democracy themselves, full-fledged members of the fictitious One World, entitled to swallow neighbors and slice up former enemies, and to impose upon them regulations as well as "friendly" governments. We have accepted the theory, too, that they are entitled to rule the U. N. by veto power, negatively at least, and to corrupt its meaning by such feignings as accepting benefit of strangers before its own urgent wants are reasonably satisfied? Who can keep it from organizing itself and from fighting wage-bargaining battles, once its physical existence is secured? The idea that the Germans will accomplish wonders of output at low cost — at low living standards — so as to reconstruct Europe in a hurry is a worthy counterpart to its predecessor: that the American farmer and laborer will sweat extra time for Europe without raising their own remuneration proportionately.

Germany's economic restoration is a prime requisite to revitalize Europe. But it cannot be accomplished by holding her down as a slave camp, nor by pressing reparations out of her emaciated body. It will be long and costly procedure, much too long to answer the critical needs of Western Europe — even if it should not turn out too costly for us to support. Had it been started two years ago, the present European calamity may not have arisen, certainly not with the acute sharpness that renders the early prospect of its solution a matter of very serious doubt.

not see how President Truman can equal the Roosevelt poll, electorally or politically. They expect a falling-off among labor elements, independents, liberals, and among many Republicans who voted for him as a war leader. Democratic dissensions are counted on by Republicans as No. 2 asset. Unless Henry Wallace repents and returns, they think that he will siphon off thousands of voters or induce them to stay at home. The Democrats' attempt to purge themselves of erstwhile Communist allies, especially in New York and California, may mean the loss of valuable support in those key states.

PREPARED — Burdensome, post-war pressure—high prices, taxes and shortages of commodities—are expected to operate against the "ins. Although the Republicans will cooperate on foreign affairs, they intend to try to capitalize on domestic difficulties. The GOP strategists also feel that their party is more closely knit and organized than it has been since 1928. The Republicans occupy twenty-four of the thirty-six gubernatorial chairs outside the Solid South, and control most of the legislatures in the north, which is more populous than similar territory held by the opposition. They have both House and Senate majorities, and most of their 1944-1948 gains in Capitol Hill were achieved in states with top-heavy, electoral strength.

The Democrats, so their enemies like to believe, are not so well prepared for a national campaign. As is natural, party workers are not so enthusiastic and ambitious after sixteen years at the trough. Their state organizations suffered cruel losses in 1942-1944 and 1946.

They have had four different national chairmen—Messrs. Walker, Flynn, Hannegan, and now Senator McGrath of Rhode Island—in the last few years.

OPTIMISM — On the basis of U.S.S.R. as sovereign states. Why then, do we object if they live up to our promises? Why is bolshevism so evil in Poland or Hungary (and in Greece, for that matter) if it is "democracy" in Russia? How can she expect a "friendly" government anywhere, unless composed of her friends and neighbors? Why did our unlimited adoration of the Stalingrad heroes give way to what must appear to them as an obviously hostile and organized propaganda about Iron Curtain, totalitarian tyrannies, Red Fascism, and what have you? How could we expect them to believe that in the emotional frenzy of the war, and led by notorious fellow-travelers, we did not know what we were talking or screening about? That we really were naive enough to believe that they were our "brothers under the skin," if somewhat ill-mannered (as Mr. Chamberlain mistook Hitler for another Rotarian from Birmingham)? That they do not really believe in bolshevism, and would give up their ideals and power-birthright for a dish of dollar-loans? Who violates the Potsdam dictate: they do insist on its clear implications, the veto power in occupation questions and the objective of destroying German economy—or we who have changed our minds suddenly on both issues?

Our "bad faith" would be evident to the Russians even if they were not imbued with the crusading consciousness of an unavoidable conflict, and if they were not embarrassed by the fact that every attempt at co-operation would disclose the fundamental cleavage in ethical concepts. To ask a man who believes in the Marxian Law of History (i.e., in naked power) to open his doors to one whose conduct is more or less orientated on the Ten Commandments (or some of them) is as intelligent as assuming that the late Al Capone might have been persuaded to submit voluntarily to a check-up by J. Edgar Hoover. The two may live side by side, perhaps, but they cannot "do business" with each other—as demonstrated by all the deadlocks, from Lake Success to Korea. It is elementary self-interest of every member of the national-socialist elite that owns outright Russia and the Russians, even if it were not his profoundly dogmatic conviction, that America is identical with "imperialistic capitalism," his deadly enemy. The eventual show-down is a foregone conclusion of the infallible prophets, from Marx to Stalin, and our readiness to protect Greece or Iran, thousands of miles from our shores, appears as the obvious proof of the prophecy. From the global anticommunism is just as obviously imperialistic as the Russian armed "protection" for, say, Uruguay would be from our point of view.

Russia will remain a drag on Europe. She has no interest in the consolidation of the west, and can only profit by its decomposition. Fishing in troubled waters is the best, say, the only kind of fishing open to bolsheviks. And trouble the waters they can directly, as in Greece, or through the medium of communist and fellow-traveling movements whose effectiveness is based on the real power that looms behind their quasi-ideological appeal.

These factors, which admittedly embody maximum expectations, the GOP believes that it has an excellent chance. Here is their state-by-state sizeup, as well as the reasons for their optimism: They regard seventeen states with 144 electoral votes as "in the bag." They are Maine, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Colorado, Wyoming, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Delaware, Michigan, Minnesota.

Governor Dewey carried the first twelve states for a total of ninety-nine electoral votes. He lost New Hampshire by 3.3 per cent, Connecticut by 5.4 per cent, Delaware by 9.2 per cent, Michigan by 1 per cent, Minnesota by 3.4 per cent. In these turbulent, mercantile states, any state lost by less than 10 per cent is a real prospect, especially since the 1944 winner was such a miraculous vote-getter as F.D.R.

ADDITIONAL — The Republicans next cast their eyes on six states which will give them additional 153 electoral votes if they can capture them, making a total of 289, or twenty-three more than the necessary 266. These states are New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Wisconsin. Truman's own bailiwick of Missouri.

Governor Dewey lost New York by 4.7 per cent, Pennsylvania by 2.8 per cent, Illinois by 3.4 per cent, Massachusetts by 5.8 per cent and Missouri by 3 per cent. All these states elected Republican Governors or Senators in 1942, 1944 and 1946, showing a definite Republican trend.

FAVORABLE — Internal political conditions within these six key states are regarded as favorable to the cause by the GOP. In Massachusetts, for instance, the friends of ex-Governor, ex-Mayor and ex-representative James M. Curley of Boston are bitter over his conviction and jailing under the Truman Administration. But State politics begged for leniency, explaining the political implications, but he is behind-bars in the federal pen at Danbury, Conn.

Two magic, New Deal figures—F.D.R. and P. H. LaGuardia—in New York are gone, and with Al Smith they were finest, rabble-rousing campaigners in the Empire State. Sidney Hillman is another loss. The American Labor Party shows signs of restlessness. Labor and leftist elements friendly to Moscow have rallied around Mr. Wallace.

MACHINE — Regular and special elections in Pennsylvania and New Jersey suggest that they may return to their historic Republicanism. The Pew-Grundy faction in the Keystone State is eager for a GOP victory after many lean years, and will spend money to attain it. "Joe" Guiffey's personal organization has cracked up. Like New York, provided the Jersey and Pennsylvania bosses like and work for the ticket, the opposition may have the edge here.

To the Citizens of Pampa: Have the people of our town already forgotten what the soldiers in World War II did for them? It would almost seem that way.

Our first war dead from Pampa was buried here Friday, Oct. 31, but the business places couldn't even close their business for even one hour during the funeral to pay tribute to him, but even worse than that was the way people respected the funeral procession. As we passed through the streets on the way to the cemetery, most of the cars didn't even stop to let us pass. Some people broke through the procession and even tried to pass the ambulance. One car came through and then sat down on the horn for us to let him pass, and then when he finally succeeded in breaking into the line, he only went about two blocks then turned into a house. Now I'm asking you is that showing respect to our dead? That perching on the horns of the line, and hope he wouldn't want anyone to show such little respect to any member of his family.

This boy gave his life for his country. He fought for all of us as did so many others. Can we do so little for them when they did so much for us? People there will be other boys being brought home to be buried. Let's respect them and all try our best to at least stop our cars when we see a funeral procession coming through town. Don't break through the line, you are not in that big a hurry.

Thanking you for your kindness, we are

FAIR ENOUGH

WASHINGTON—The great work of the House committee on un-American activities against some of the most ruthless traitors in the history of patriotism is slowly receiving recognition. As the Dies committee for long, humiliating years under Roosevelt, and now, as the Thomas committee, this continuing inquiry has fought against many unnecessary handicaps. Bad newspaper reporters, affecting cynicism toward Congress under the influence of Roosevelt, often sneered out loud at the hearings under Martin Dies. He should have had the capitol's sparrow cops throw them out. Or better, he should have done it by hand, as in most cases, he could, for a painted eye in the halls of the press club.

autographed by Martin Dies, would have been strong propaganda for manners in the fourth estate.

Now the sentiment is changing. The Thomas committee is winning fights with the conspirators, victories over the hucklers and the respect of ethical newspapermen.

These committees count among their victims the three most ruthless enemies of the United States in all issues with Russia that the Kremlin could send against us. They are Earl Browder and Eugene Dennis, who served the party as general secretary, and Gerhart Eisler, a snarling, hateful ingrate who came here, with his equally vicious brother, Hanns, to escape the German gas chambers. J. Edgar Hoover said Gerhart was now the No. 1 Communist in our country. Hanns is a noisy Hollywood parasite in process of removal to Germany, too late for Hitler to gas him. It was for Hanns that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in her casually officious way, intervened with the State department when we should have turned him over to the Germans to dispose of however they pleased—in trade for one of our traitors there.

The Dies committee got Browder for a passport fraud and the court gave him five years. But Roosevelt thought he heard a clamor for Browder's release and turned him loose. The whole, petulant purpose of this was to mock the Dies committee.

Dennis cheated in passport frauds and ducked the draft. He got a year for contempt of Congress and a fine of $1,000. He was released on bail and is still at large, but the point is, the committee caught him and licked him. If the Department of Justice can't make its convictions stick, or doesn't want to try, that is William Weiner, alias Welwel another matter.

Warsover, a charter member of the party and a defiant enemy, was convicted with Browder. Same old frivolity; forging American passports for use by Russian spies and aviators in Europe. Weiner never served a day of his sentence. He said he had asthma. Last May Day, a traitor's holiday, he walked three miles in the New York parade.

This year, Howard Fast, of the New York front but typical of the Hollywood cells, and 16 others were convicted of contempt of Congress. They refused to turn over the records of the joint anti-Fascist refugee committee. Fast wrote a pot-boiling book in praise of Tito, the butcher of Yugoslavia, boasting that refugee money was spent to set him up as Stalin's stooge. It was shown that $150 a month of this went to Gerhart Eisler, who got one year and a $1,000 fine on one charge and is convicted of another, good for five and five. But he is still on bail and touring the country lecturing.

To the ignoramuses of the Broadway rat-hole circuit who seem not to know what they are doing, the case of the Josephsons must have been a surprise. Louis J. Russell, the committee's investigator, 10 years a German, swore that Lucy Josephson, the wife of Leon, was co-owner of the liquor license of the New York night club called Cafe Society Uptown. He said Leon's brother, Barney Josephson, was an incorporator of the two society cafes, Uptown and Downtown. He told more facts about Brother Barney and then he said Brother Leon was pinched in Copenhagen in 1935 and told the American consul he considered the orders of his Communist central committee above any American law. And, finally, Russell testified, Ruth Bryan Owen, our ambassador in Denmark, the daughter of the old windjammer and the appointee of Franklin Roosevelt, entertained Leon Josephson "regularly" when he got out of the Danish jail.
