

Solon Asks 'Total Bill' on Aid; Tax Cut Recommended

Possible GOP Limitations on Plan Shaping

WASHINGTON — A Prospective Republican limitation on the Marshall Plan began to take form today with a demand from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) that the administration submit a "total bill" for world-wide aid proposals.

Vandenberg's assertion that "we cannot indefinitely underwrite the world," drew attention to a growing framework of requirements upon which the GOP majority in Congress may insist before it approves any plan for economic help to Europe.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) already has said the cost of such aid ought to be limited to $4,500,000,000 in the next year.

White of Maine, the GOP floor leader, told a reporter he thinks other party members will have "quite a few ideas of their own" when the special session begins considering the program Nov. 17.

"I think the Republicans are going to be keenly interested in how the program is administered," White said.

Mr. Truman also has called for action to halt a domestic inflationary spiral, but White indicated this subject may be laid aside temporarily for debate on the aid program.

Vandenberg, returning to his desk here to begin preparations for Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearings on emergency European help, proposed a special effort this week to familiarize all ex-service men with the work of the Legion before the special drive ends Nov. 9.

Intensive Drive For Members on

Legion posts over the area have had an intensive membership drive under way, and officials of the local post said they were making a special effort this week to familiarize all ex-service men with the work of the Legion before the special drive ends Nov. 9.

American Legionnaires here hope to double their present membership of 450 by early next year. Jack Graham, service officer of the Legion here, said the goals and ideals of that organization were best shown by the preamble to the constitution of the American Legion:

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred percent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the Great Wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and goodwill on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.

Former Diplomat Winant Ends Life

John G. Winant

CONCORD, N. H.—(AP)—John G. Winant, wartime ambassador to Great Britain and three-time Governor of New Hampshire, shot himself to death last night with a .32 calibre Belgian pistol.

The 58-year-old diplomat, who retired only in January as permanent U. S. representative on the United Nations Economic and Social Council, was officially pronounced a suicide by Medical Referee Clarence E. Butterfield. Dr. Butterfield attributed the act to overwork.

His secretary, J. Bernard Teulon, said Winant's health had not been good and that a doctor advised him to "take things easy" as he had a heart condition and was suffering kidney or bladder trouble.

"I know Mr. Winant has been working very hard lately on writing and business affairs and I believe that he suddenly cracked," said Teulon. "This suicide was done on the spur of the moment."

Governor Charles M. Dale of New Hampshire said his predecessor would be considered a casualty of World War II.

Winant had just completed his memoirs—"Letters From Grosvenor Square"—for Nov. 15 publication and was understood to be planning a sequel.

His body was found lying face down near a fireplace in his bedroom by a secretary and maid after they heard a thud—but no shot.

Doctors said there were indications Winant had fired the bullet through his right temple while kneeling.

A box of headache pills, some missing, was in the room. Two guns were nearby—the Belgian pistol and a German luger that apparently had been thrown against the bedroom wall when Winant could not find ammunition.

Winant, "in pretty good spirits" according to his secretary, ate lunch downstairs yesterday in his home adjacent to exclusive St. Paul's School, where he once was a student and later a teacher. He went upstairs shortly afterward and had dinner served in his room. No one saw him until they heard the thud about 6:30 p. m. (CST). He died an hour later without regaining consciousness.

Though a Republican, Winant became a loyal supporter of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and campaigned openly for him and the New Deal.

Born of a wealthy family in New York City, Feb. 23, 1889, Winant was educated at St. Paul's and Princeton University, where he majored in American history. Starting out as a teacher at St. Paul's he entered politics in 1916 to gain what he held a friend was "practical experience every teacher should have."

He won a seat in the New Hampshire Legislature but his political career was interrupted almost immediately by World War I.

WEEPS AT INQUEST—Mrs. Mary Fellick, mother of murdered 7-year-old Lonnie Fellick, is comforted by Robert Shafer, her son by a former marriage, as she weeps after leaving the witness stand at the inquest in Chicago. Lonnie's battered body was found in a woods near Chicago on Oct. 29.

Chicago Boy, 12, Admits Slaying

CHICAGO—(AP)—State's Attorney William J. Tuohy said today he plans to go before the Cook County Grand Jury Thursday and seek a murder indictment against Howard Lang, 12-year-old schoolboy, in connection with the brutal slaying of the youngster's 7-year-old playmate.

The tow-headed, 73-pound Lang boy yesterday, after signing a statement that he killed Lonnie Fellick in the presence of a 9-year-old playmate and left his body in a forest preserve, accompanied police and prosecution officials to the scene.

"I thought Lonnie was breathing when we left, but I was sure he'd die," the Lang boy related. "I covered him with leaves."

The Lang youngster, appeared calm during the reconstruction, said in his statement he had killed Lonnie on Oct. 18 but the child's body was not found until Oct. 29.

Accompanying Lang and the officers to the forest preserve was Gerald Michalek, 9, who nodded frequently as his playmate detailed movements in connection with the slaying. Poica said the Michalek boy was an unwilling witness and had been threatened by his older companion.

"I gave Lonnie a cigarette," Lang related calmly, "and told him this would be the last one he'd ever smoke. We walked a bit and then Lonnie said he was going to tell my mother that I took $10 of her money." Police said that appeared to have been the only motive for the slaying.

Lang took detectives to a spot where he said he had picked up a heavy piece of concrete.

"Then I took out my knife, and opened the long blade and the short one," the Lang boy related. "I hit Lonnie on the chest, and he doubled over. At that time I struck him in the chest and he fell face down on the ground. I turned him over on his back and cut his throat. I don't think I cut very deep."

"I don't think that it was a very deep cut, either," the Michalek boy commented.

Lang then said he picked up the piece of concrete and dropped it on Lonnie's chest.

"There was a loud thud or crunch," Lang continued, "then I turned Lonnie over, stepped on his head, picked up the stone, and threw it twice more on his head. I thought Lonnie was breathing when we left, but I was sure he'd die. I covered him with leaves."

Reduction in Individual Tax Rate Proposed

WASHINGTON — A citizens advisory committee on taxation recommended today "a reduction in individual tax rates for all, with due regard for the cost of living of those in the lower income groups."

The study group was set up by the House Ways and Means Committee and includes both business and labor representatives Roswell Magill, former under-secretary of the treasury, heads it.

The group's report was submitted as the Ways and Means Committee assembled to prepare legislation for the special session of Congress convening Nov. 17. Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) has said he wants a bill cutting income taxes by $4,000,000,000 a year.

Also on the committee's list of business was the issue of whether farmers cooperative associations should be taxed at the same rate as business corporations. On that, Undersecretary of the Treasury A. Lee M. Wiggins submitted a report suggesting that a decision be deferred.

Wiggins said he thought it would be wise to put off a decision until the treasury completes a study it is now making of the entire tax system.

Magill told the committee his group was making no specific recommendations as to rate changes and personal exemptions, but believes "equitable adjustment of tax rates and exemptions is the number one federal tax problem today."

Knutson withheld temporarily release of the report's text. But it was understood to propose 46 changes in the tax laws.

Matthew Woll, AFL official and labor member of the 10-member study group, filed a minority report disagreeing with the majority.

An associate of Woll said his report contends that the majority recommendations would:

- 1. Severely reduce federal revenues.
- 2. Disregard revenue needs for the European aid.
- 3. Shift the tax load from those best able to those least able to pay.

When the House committee met Knutson said hearings on a general overhaul of the tax structure would end by Jan. 1 and that he expects the House to pass tax legislation by March 15.

When the Magill and Woll reports were received, the committee called Wiggins for testimony on farmer cooperatives and taxation.

Wiggins told the Congress members that studies the treasury is making embrace the tax treatment of cooperatives and of taxation.

Opportunist's Opportunity

Reds Expel AP Writer From Hungary

LONDON —(AP)—Jack Guinn, 31, Associated Press correspondent in Hungary for the last 22 months, has been expelled by the Communist-dominated government of that country and expects to leave Budapest today for Vienna.

The government notified Guinn yesterday that he must leave Hungary within 24 hours or face charges of "espionage and the smuggling of criminals" out of the country. Guinn decided to bow to the order after conferring with U. S. Minister Selden Chapin.

Guinn's wife and two children will follow him to Vienna shortly, by U. S. Legation plane.

The Hungarian government action against Guinn followed by a week the arrest of his American-born secretary, Miss Elizabeth Pallos, 21; and by three days the expulsion from Yugoslavia of Arthur M. Brandel, Yugoslav correspondent for the New York Times.

The Hungarian Ministry of Interior issued a statement saying that political police had discovered "an organization for espionage," in connection with which Miss Pallos and seven other persons had been detained.

"In connection with the discovery of this organization," the statement said, "Ministry of Interior authorities expelled Mr. Jack Guinn, Associated Press correspondent, from Hungary forever."

Brandel and his wife Mary Lester, United Press correspondent, left Belgrade yesterday. They were ousted for what the Yugoslavs termed "offensive" writing.

Yesterday's statement by the interior ministry in Budapest was the first detailing of any reason for the detention of Miss Pallos.

Guinn was born in Rusk, Texas, on Oct. 18, 1916, and attended the University of Texas at Austin. He served with other news agencies from 1939 to 1945—much of the time in the war theaters—and joined The Associated Press in April, 1945. He has been Budapest correspondent since January, 1946.

Tax-Cut Talk Again Becomes Leading Subject

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Hold your hats. The tax-cut talk starts again. You'll be hearing it for months to come.

Maybe you'll get a cut in your 1948 taxes. This much seems pretty positive: you won't get a cut in taxes you owe on 1947 income.

In 1947 Congress twice passed bills to cut your 1947 income tax. And twice President Truman killed the idea with a veto.

All the talk in Washington now is about cutting 1948 taxes, not those for 1947.

Months ago the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles tax problems in the House, set up a special outside committee of 10 civilians to study taxes.

That committee was expected today to recommend a bunch of changes in the tax laws, including cuts in 1948 taxes.

So that starts the tax-cut talk all over again, with a bang. Cutting your 1948 tax would be a politically popular thing for Congress to do because 1948 is a big election year.

In 1948 you'll vote for a President, vice president, one-third of the Senate, and all 435 members of the House.

If either political party, Democrat or Republican, could claim credit for 1948 tax-cut, it would have good vote-getting bait.

But something besides politics will get mixed up in any effort by either party to cut your 1948 tax. There'll be two big stumbling blocks:

- 1. The national debt.
- 2. The Marshall Plan.

Here's why: Our taxes pay the cost of running the government. When the cost is greater than the taxes it takes in, the government has to borrow money.

The money it borrows is called national debt. That debt now is about $250,000,000.

Most of the money was borrowed during the war, when the cost of running the government, and paying for the war, went far beyond the taxes taken in.

Right now the cost of running the government is about $100,000,000 a year.

Straying Teeth Bother Patrolman

Department gossip has been buzzing in the police station ever since the boys found out that Patrolman J. R. Manning has teeth like the stars—they come out at night.

The other night, the boys were told, Manning and his teeth went to bed. Next morning he couldn't find them. Manning's face grew pale. His wife suggested he should go and have his stomach X-rayed and Manning almost fainted.

As he turned to rush out of the door, Mrs. Manning turned back the sheet and there in the bed, down where he keeps his feet, lay the chompers.

Grapevine has it that Manning is feeling and chewing better these days.

Al Capone's Story Headed Your Way

HOLLYWOOD—Despite nationwide protests from mothers and anti-juvenile delinquency groups, "The Life Story of Al Capone" is slowly headed for the screen. There have been secret meetings in Chicago between film representatives, Al's widow and the attorney for the Capone estate.

"Dillinger" grossed nearly $2,000,000. Hollywood figures the Capone story would crack $10,000,000, but of course, no one in Hollywood worries that it would make 10,000 more juvenile delinquents. Any film based on Capone's life would be a glorification—no matter how the story was handled.

Naturally, Capone's widow is holding out for a whitewashed version of her gangster husband's life. The Capone family attorney has even suggested a Hollywood actor the family would like to see on the screen. And—here's the laugh—the actor is jovial Edward Arnold.

I asked Arnold if he would play the role if given the chance. The answer I received was far from what I expected. Said Arnold: "Well, I don't know. I'd have to read the script first. I only met Capone once. In some ways he was a very sweet character. Maybe you better talk to my press agent."

Later, through the M-G-M publicity department, Arnold issued this statement: "I wouldn't portray Al Capone and I'm sure my studio wouldn't let me if I wanted to if the story should be against the best interests of the American people. I certainly do not want to play any role which in any way will help to glorify crime or contribute to the delinquency of the youth of the nation."

Then—refusing to burn any bridges—Arnold said: "But it is conceivable that organizations devoted to the prevention of crime and juvenile delinquency might approve of a story about Capone, providing it would prove a deterrent to other gangsters or embryo law-breakers."

But that, I say, would be impossible. Any film version of Capone's life from "fame" to the federal prison and death—would leave him a hero in the eyes of impressionable kids.

Lawrence Tierney, who played "Dillinger" on the screen, was more positive about the effects of such a film on juveniles. I admired his stand. He said: "The kids and young people who see such pictures, I learned sadly enough, do not stop to analyze the criminal character of the man—but see only the ad-

American Sources See Approval of Korean Proposal

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)—The United Nations opens debate on Korean independence today in a stepped-up drive to reach general assembly adjournment before Thanksgiving.

American sources expressed confidence that Secretary of State Marshall's Korean proposal would be accepted by the 57-nation Political Committee during today's discussions. These sources also predicted defeat for a counter resolution calling on the United States and Russia to evacuate their troops from Korea by Jan. 1.

The Marshall proposal provides for a U. N. commission to oversee elections to be held not later than next March 31. Troops would be pulled out as soon as a government is set up.

With conclusion of work on the Korean question, the committee will turn to another Marshall proposal for creation of a 15-nation subcommittee yesterday, 9 to 0, with Russia and Czechoslovakia contending their boycott and four other countries abstaining.

Both proposals eventually must go to the full assembly for approval in plenary session. U. N. officials said, however, that they planned no more plenary sessions until Nov. 17 and would concentrate on committee work until that date.

At a plenary meeting last night delegates approved unanimously a world condemnation of propaganda that might threaten peace. The final action, confirming a 56 to 0 Political Committee vote, was taken only after Russia declared that it was a "half-way" measure which did not name "those countries where war propaganda is particularly widespread."

British Seek Reduction In Budget of UNESCO

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Sources close to the executive board of UNESCO, which opens its second general conference here Thursday, said today the British delegation was expected to seek a reduction in the proposed budget of $8,500,000—probably because of their dollar situation.

The United States on the other hand—which alone bears 44 percent of the cost of UNESCO—is expected to press for adoption of the full budget, these sources said.

VA Representative to Appear Here Thursday

Veterans and their dependents will be assisted in any problems they may have when a Veterans Administration contact representative appears at the Courthouse welfare office here from 1 to 5 p. m. Thursday, it was announced today from Amarillo.

The announcement said: "Veterans desiring information or assistance on such matters as compensation, pension, insurance, hospitalization, education, on-the-job training, and other rights and benefits are invited to contact the VA representative at that time."

WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

James F. O'Neil, newly elected national commander of the American Legion says that juvenile delinquency is America's Public Enemy Number One.

His statement was made immediately following two particularly horrifying examples of the juvenile delinquent at work.

Item: one 14-year-old boy, to prove himself not a sissy, deliberately setting out on a plan to kill another youth.

Item: a wild gang fight on the streets of New York in which many of the participants walked away with black eyes and other marks of damage. This would not be unusual, except all the brawlers were girls, participating in a street fight to determine which of two factions should have the prior claim over a group of boys as dates.

The only trouble with Commander O'Neil's statement is that there is no such thing as a "juvenile" delinquent any more. Juvenile in years, possible. Juvenile in stature, perhaps. But there is no more juvenile mind.

CIRCUIS, NOT CRIME
A decade ago, a 14-year-old boy, to establish his masculinity would have to run away from home and join a circus, or something of that sort. But it wouldn't have occurred to him to kill.

A decade ago, a group of girls, to establish their dating claims, would have primped a bit more, or dressed more carefully. But they wouldn't have slugged it out.

The Number One Public Enemy, Commander, is the civilization which creates an adult too young.

Irish Again Rated First; SMU Jumps to Third Spot

Grudge Battle To Pit Mayne Against Parker

NEW YORK (AP)— Notre Dame's unbeaten and untied eleven, which Coach Frank Leahy admits "has finally reached its true stride," remained the number one college football team in the nation today in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers.

The South Bend gridders face their biggest test of the campaign Saturday when they meet Army in final game of a long series between the traditional rivals. Cadet Coach Earl Blaik predicted the Irish would throw all of their manpower and strategic resources into the game.

Michigan's Wolverines who kept their slate clean by defeating a tough Illinois team 14-7 in a grueling game that might well have decided the Big Nine's Rose Bowl representative, retained second place.

Southern Methodist, unbeaten Texas by the slim margin of one point, surprised by taking over third spot from the Longhorns. The Mustangs made the biggest gain of the week, vaulting from eighth place. Penn, Southern California, Georgia Tech, Penn State, Texas A and M and Virginia followed in that order.

The point score showed Notre Dame on top at 1,731 with Michigan not far behind at 1,681. SMU's third place total was 1,187, more than the 1,136 points Penn polled to retain fourth place. Baylor, fifth place Southern California (1,082), sixth place Georgia Tech (1,041) and seventh place Penn State (701) held on to their positions of seven days ago.

The biggest drop of the week was experienced by Texas which slidded five berths into eighth place with only 553 points as a result of its 14-13 setback by the Mustangs.

Team standings with points figured on a 29-9-7-6-3-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes in parentheses):

- 1—Notre Dame (106) 1731
- 2—Michigan (93) 1681
- 3—Southern Methodist (7) 1187
- 4—Pennsylvania (8) 1136
- 5—Southern Calif. (2) 1082
- 6—Georgia Tech (6) 1041
- 7—Penn State (2) 701
- 8—Texas 553
- 9—Army 498
- 10—Virginia 498
- 11—Illinois, 177; 12—California, 86; 13—Duke, 71; 14—Purdue, 66; 15—William & Mary, 44; 16—Alabama, 41; 17—Columbia, 27; 18—North Carolina, 18; 19—Wisconsin, 17; 20—Yale, 13.

Others receiving votes were Kansas and Wake Forest, each 7; Minnesota, 6; Missouri, 4; Maryland and Nevada, each 3; Rutgers, Boston College, Texas Christian, Utah and Catawba, each 2; Wesleyan, (Middletown, Conn.) 1.

Ole Miss Drew Its Name From Lady In Big House

OXFORD, Miss.—(NEA)— The University of Mississippi's adopted name—Ole Miss—dates back to slave colloquialisms, well beyond the year of 1886, when it was selected to serve as the title for the yearbook. The contest itself was held some three years ago, but the reasons given by Elma Meek for the suggestion and use of the title go back to the earliest days of slave-times. Miss Meek, still a resident of Oxford, drew the name from the old dardies on the plantations who were wont to call the lady in the big house Ole Miss, their mistress' daughter Young Miss.

Sport Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS—(AP)—Coach Jess Neely of Rice explains why his team didn't live up to pre-season predictions with this:

Sports writers and fans underestimated the strength of the other teams.

Now, I wouldn't want to embarrass anybody but why not include the coaches in this, too? They were mainly responsible for the sports writers and fans picking Rice to be the king of the Southwest Conference. I conducted a poll before the season started. Five of the coaches picked Rice to win the championship, another said it would be between Rice and Texas. Neely didn't say where Rice would finish. By popular vote Rice was awarded the title before the season started.

Just completing the record; just showing that the coaches can't pick them any better than the sports writers.

Neely also says that if the sports writers and fans would place Texas and Texas A and M at the top of the pre-season predictions every year they would find themselves right more than wrong.

Now let's see: Jess has been in the Southwest Conference since 1940. What is the record: 1940, Texas A and M and Southern Methodist tied; 1941, Texas A and M won it; 1942, Texas won it; 1943, Texas won it; 1944, Texas Christian won it; 1945, Texas won it; 1946, Rice and Arkansas tied for it. That means Texas and A and M have won four championships and one tie in seven years.

There is little change in the Texas schoolboy football rankings this week with Corpus Christi being one of a few teams taking an appreciable drop in estimations.

The highly-ranked Buccaneers were held to a 26-26 tie by Lake Charles, La., a team that had trouble beating Orange, which has won only one game all season. Lake Charles also lost to John Reagan of Houston although whipping Beaumont handily.

This game must not be taken too seriously. Corpus Christi was thinking about Brackenridge of San Antonio, this week's opponent.

However, it did indicate that Corpus Christi may have been somewhat overrated.

Here are the rankings: 1. Wichita Falls; 2. Odessa; 3. Longview; 4. Corpus Christi; 5. Corsicana; 6. Marshall; 7. Waco; 8. Waxahachie; 9. Brackenridge (San Antonio); 10. Amarillo; 11. Coosa Creek; 12. Austin; 13. Kerrville; 14. John Reagan (Houston); 15. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); 16. Texarkana; 17. Austin (El Paso); 18. Brownwood; 19. Forest (Dallas); 20. Paschal (Fort Worth).

Speaking of football records: Howe High School had gone through last season and this without being scored upon—until last week. Van Alstyne beat Howe 7-0.

Coach Jack Osborne hadn't lost a conference game by a score in his four-year coaching career—until this one. Howe was played to a scoreless tie in 1946 and lost on a penetration to Pilot Point.

fine would be paid today by one of the directors at the office of Commissioner A. B. Chandler in Cincinnati. This would automatically restore the White Sox to good graces and make them eligible for the American League player-draft meeting in Cincinnati Monday.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press said the "Young Roman" was on the telephone most of yesterday talking with directors in Chicago and that the agreement was reached.

Leslie O'Connor, general manager of the club and member of the board, denied there had been any such meeting and declared that the directors would convene formally today to discuss procedure in the case.

O'Connor was barred, along with the Sox, from all baseball activities for refusing to pay the fine for alleged violations of the regulation prohibiting the signing of high school players.

The statements attributed to young Comiskey, who could not be reached for further comment, came amid speculation that a compromise or settlement with Chandler's office had been effected by O'Connor and other board members.

Pa Walker Reared His Son to Be a Football Player

CLEBURNE, Texas—(AP)— The grandparents of Doak Walker, Southern Methodist University's great football star, will tell you how he became the nation's toast.

It was his daddy, Mrs. Ross Walker, wife of a retired Santa Fe Railroad man, said.

Yes, Ewell Walker, her son, reared Doak to be a football player. He played the game with Doak when he was a little tot, teaching him to pass, to fade, run, tackle and think out gridiron situations. It was Ewell Walker every afternoon and on Saturday, when he was not at work, teaching the boy to play football.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Walker were in Dallas Saturday to see Doak in his greatest moment—the 14-13 defeat of Texas. They still are a little excited about the trip and tell you proudly every thing their grandson did to keep Southern Methodist undefeated and untied in Southwest Conference football.

Mrs. Walker adds something else: she's even prouder of Doak's spotless record—scholastically and in two branches of the service than she is of his gridiron feats.

And also secondary to his football laurels is the fact that Doak never has smoked a cigaret or taken a drink.

Grandfather Walker, who spends most of his time grafting and perfecting fine paper shell peacocks, Mrs. Walker, their other child, Mrs. A. B. Brown of Big Springs, and her family, were all in Dallas for the football game.

"My daughter was kind of dis-

Chicago Directors To Meet Today To Discuss Case

CHICAGO, (AP)— Directors of the Chicago White Sox planned a formal meeting today to discuss the club's suspension from baseball and there were reports they already had agreed in secret to pay the $500 fine which would reinstate the Sox without delay.

At St. Thomas College in St. Paul, student Charles Comiskey, future owner of the White Sox, was quoted by the Minneapolis Tribune as saying that the $500

Offensive Stars Set Fast Pace As SWC Enters Final Weeks

DALLAS—(AP)— The Southwest Conference's offensive stars—Bobby Layne of Texas, Clyde Scott of Arkansas and Doak Walker of Southern Methodist—set a blistering pace as the campaign swings into its final four weeks.

Layne holds the lead at this time but it's by a margin of only eight yards over Scott. Walker is some 124 yards back of the Arkansas flash.

Bobby has completed 43 passes out of 73 attempts for 707 yards, and this added to 33 yards carrying the ball gives him a total offense of 740.

Walker, the conference's leading scorer with 61 points, has carried 96 times for 437 yards and has 171 yards in passes for a total of 608.

Ranking behind Scott and Walker in ball-carrying is big Ed Dusek of Texas A and M who has gained 329 yards on 59 carries. Jack Price of Baylor is second in passing with 33 out of 73 for 392 yards and Stan Hollmig of Texas A and M is third with 35 out of 83 for 388.

Howard Hughes of Arkansas leads the punters with a 45.5 average on eight kicks. Frank Guesz of Texas is second with 43.5 on 17 and Tom Landry of Texas is third with 41.1 on 18. Hollmig is the real leader, however, since he has kicked 55 times and averaged 38.7.

Byron Gillory of Texas has caught 12 passes for 209 yards to lead that department, with Barney Welch of A and M second on 13 receptions for 164 yards. Ross Pritchard of Arkansas is third with 155 on nine.

Aubrey Fowler of Arkansas leads the punt returners, averaging 20.3 yards on 16 runs. Perry Samuels of Texas is second with 14.8 on six and Gillory is third with 13.7 on 14.

In team offense, Texas holds a wide lead, rolling up 2203 yards in seven games. Baylor is second with 1818 in six and Arkansas is third with 1636 in seven.

A and M tops in passing with 844 yards. Texas leads in ground-gaining with 1404.

Texas Christian is the defensive leader, holding seven opponents to 150.5 yards per game. Baylor is second, limiting six teams to 151.5.

The... WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

The unidentified linemen that blocked both Brownfield punts, Friday night, was learned today to have been Derrell Davis, capable Harvester left end. Davis held the ball given to the Browns by the Harvester, and has already proved his worth to the squad this year as a pass snatcher.

In the account of the Harvester-Brownfield game in Sunday's News in the statistics department, it read that the Harvester made five first downs, it should have been 11.

It seems a shame, that after all the howling done by local fans as to the need of a new football field, the lack of talent on the football field, and other things just as pertinent to football at Pampa High School that there were only 2,000 fans to witness Friday night's game.

Football cannot be developed unless you fans are going to support it. It wouldn't be out of line to say that the only time that Harvester Park (which we believe to be below the average of other football parks of class AA schools we have seen) is filled to a capacity is when the Harvester plays the Golden Sandies from Amarillo at the local park. And that is only every other year. And again it wouldn't be out of line to say that a large percentage of the fans go to this game only because it is Amarillo, and the traditional rivalry that lies between the two towns.

By no means can you support a football team in any way, or build new park by filling a stadium once every two years.

Ralph McWright, resident of Pampa back in the early '40's and coach of the Junior High School Reapers during his stay here is now coach of the Tilghman High School Tornados, in Paducah, Kentucky. The Tornados are currently rated as the number one high school team in the state and have been so rated since October 1946.

In the summer of 1942, McWright went to the University of Kentucky as an assistant coach and subsequently to the Navy. He returned to Paducah in the fall of last year.

For the interest of all Harvester fans would like to print the following taken from Dub King's high school football roundup (King is a sports writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram):

"Pampa, Weatherford, Corsicana and Corpus Christi were the teams mentioned most frequently Saturday night as schoolboy football shook north halls from their overcoats and discussed November possibilities.

"Pampa pounded Brownfield, 41-12. The Harvester appears to have recovered from successive losses to Vernon, Wichita Falls and Plainview. Since they play Amarillo in Pampa this year, the Harvester appears to hold the key to the IAA pennant race."

Plans for New Minor League To Be Discussed

LAKE CHARLES, La.—(AP)— Representatives from the least eight Louisiana and Texas towns will meet in Crowley Nov. 9 to discuss organization of a new minor baseball league.

Organization of a league with six or eight clubs is planned. Towns asked to send representatives include Lake Charles, Jennings, Eunice, Opelousas, Morgan City, La., and Orange and Port Arthur, Texas.

Lake Charles, Opelousas and Port Arthur have been members of the Class D Evangeline League at one time or another.

A. A. Nelson, leader of a group which has been seeking a place for Lake Charles in organized ball, said he had been informed Locals to Meet Westerners in Lubbock Fri.

Fresh from their District IAA conference victory over the Brownfield Cubs, Friday night, the Pampa High School Harvesters began extensive drills yesterday afternoon in preparation for their clash with the Lubbock Westerners, Friday afternoon in Lubbock.

The Harvesters, by winning Friday night's game over the Cubs, and Plainview's loss to Berger, will now be a serious threat in District IAA competition.

The Harvesters will be favorites against the big and slow Westerners. The local boys now have a season's record of four wins and three losses, while the Westerners show a very unimpressive record of no wins, five losses, and two ties. One tie was a conference battle with the Berger Bulldogs, and the Bulldogs were awarded the game on penetrations, after battling to a 7 to 7 deadlock.

On the ground, Lubbock has scored only two touchdowns this season. However this may be due to the injuries that have plagued the team throughout the season. Their hardest blow coming when Tailback Dwight Moore broke an ankle before their opening game.

Wichita Falls Rated Top Team in State By Poll of Writers

DALLAS—(AP)—The Wichita Falls Coyotes took over as the top team in Texas High School football by the slender margin of one vote in the Dallas Morning News' poll of sports writers.

Odessa, defending state champion and leader until last week when it tied Wichita Falls, was second.

Longview, Corpus Christi, Marshall, Corsicana, Brackenridge (San Antonio), Goose Creek, Amarillo and Austin rounded out the first ten teams.

Corsicana, one of six undefeated teams in the state, gained the select circle for the first time.

Waco and Arlington Heights (Port Worth) dropped from the top ten teams.

TEN PHIL FARMS LAND TOP BERTHS

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Ten of the 11 farm teams of the Philadelphia Phils finished in the first division, with four of the teams winning pennants and four more finishing second.

The pennant winners were Utica in the Eastern League;

Yes, It Happened in Western Hemisphere

ATHENS, Greece.—The Kremlin today subpoenaed Greek shoe manufacturers to appear in Moscow next week to answer charges that they violated Russian anti-trust laws. The Greek shoe manufacturers were ordered to bring copies of all correspondence between their firms and the Greek government. The Russian secret police said the Greeks may be prosecuted in Russia courts.

That is a fictitious news story. It hasn't happened. The Russians aren't that brutal. But if it did happen, we can imagine the howls from the American delegation at the UN—the charges of Soviet imperialism, the iron fist, the nailed boot, the Soviet disregard for the authority of sovereign governments.

The U. S. rooting section would break out the red, white and blue bunting and open all the stops. And we'd all join in the Hallelujah chorus: "Those nasty Russians, amen!"

Well, something very similar to our fictitious news story has happened. But the Russians haven't had a single pink little finger in the pie. It is the U. S. that has sent its secret police over the border into the realm of another sovereign nation, Canada, and subpoenaed a foreign industry to appear in the United States for investigation under United States anti-trust laws!

It is hard to believe. We like to think that only the perfidious Russians would do a thing like that. Imagine if the tables were turned and the Canadians subpoenaed American businessmen to appear in Canada with copies of their correspondence with the U. S. government to face prosecution under Canadian laws!

But, it is true. The Department of Justice of the United States of America has gone into Canada to order Canadians to appear in a U. S. district court in New York to see if the Canadian news and industry violates U. S. anti-trust laws.

That is the ultimate in imperialism. Power-drunk bureaucrats have so long been given free hand to investigate and control U. S. news and industry; they hardly will notice the difference if they decide to investigate and control the business and industry of businessmen in other countries.

Canadian newspaper manufacturers operate under the laws of Canada, not the U. S. The fact that U. S. capital is invested in these concerns, that their greatest sales outlet is in the United States does not alter the basic fact of their allegiance to Canadian law.

The strongest possible protest should be sounded by the rank and file Americans. Perhaps our congressmen and senators should be informed that their authority does not extend beyond the continental United States and possessions.

It is no wonder the Montreal Gazette was moved to write: "It is remarkable enough that the department should consider such a probe either necessary or within its jurisdiction."

The authority of the Justice Department hardly extends to

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER CHICAGO.—The American people are suffering from a post-war letdown that has left them in an almost unprecedented state of confusion and perplexity amid domestic and foreign problems. This is the conclusion I have drawn as I near the end of a cross-country trip during which I have interviewed hundreds of farmers, city workers, business men, local leaders, and housewives in some thirty states.

Despite high employment, good wages and signs of superficial prosperity everywhere, the people are looking back over their shoulders with a morbid curiosity. Their two greatest fears, as of the moment, are a depression and a war—not tomorrow, perhaps, but in the near future. And they doubt whether the world's statesmen, at Washington or in the United Nations, have formulated a program to guard against these twin evils.

They do not want a "man on horseback" in the White House, which may handicap any presidential ambitions. General Eisenhower and MacArthur may cherish. They seek to want a Chief Executive who, besides solving or softening current problems, will give them at least partial assurance of peace and prosperity "in our time."

They are not yet sure whether President Truman and his aides can give them that succor. How he satisfies these yearnings may determine whether he can be re-elected. At the same time, they do not envisage any Republican who has the answers to their bread-and-butter difficulties. As of today, they are somewhat indifferent to politics, politicians and their promises.

TRUMAN—Here are the questions which harass them, as well as their general attitude toward them: Politics: President Truman is generally liked and admired as a modest, hard-working individual trying to do the best he can in the biggest job in the world. Indeed, there is genuine sympathy for him, in view of his manifold assignments and the circumstances under which he took office, as highlighted by the Byrnes, Morgenthau, Farley memoirs. He will be a hard man to defeat, as Republicans admit, if domestic and foreign conditions improve even slightly.

No Republican has yet caught the popular fancy. Nor has any candidate, avowed or otherwise, shown national strength and appeal. Professional polls are keeping their fingers crossed, straining their eyes to discern a winning hand, but figuring enterprises operating within the borders of another friendly and sovereign state.

Even more remarkable, the department has sought in pursuit of its inquiry to compel officers of Canadian newspaper companies, incorporated and functioning in this country (Canada), to appear in U. S. courts to submit to questioning.

The validity of this astonishing procedure is strongly open to challenge, quite apart from justification from an inquiry with some earmarks of a political witch-hunt.

The effort to force business concerns in another country to open their affairs to snoopers of the Government's agency was undertaken without consultation with the Canadian government, and apparently without any effort to obtain pertinent information from or through Canadian authorities.

Some reportedly persisted despite protest from Ottawa to the U. S. State Department.

shorter name: dirt. I feel like a man who has truckloads of filth heaped upon him." And so forth. HEARING IS ABSOLUTELY LEGAL

The idea that the Thomas Commission has no legal right to make an investigation is a nonsense. Congressional hearings are established procedures, by law and by custom. To take away from Congress its right to probe any situation it chooses would be to end one of the healthiest practices in American government.

Laymen not familiar with the congressional hearing procedure object—that witnesses are not represented by counsel and cannot cross-examine. But these hearings are not trials.

The American Activities Commission did very well for itself in the first week of its hearings. It built up the case that there was an active minority of Communists in Hollywood who were exercising an influence out of all

Common Ground

By R. C. BOILES Monopolies Necessary

As the money price of things goes up and as people have a harder and harder time to maintain their standard of living, let alone improve it as they should each year if we didn't have so much socialism, we will hear more and more about monopolies being the cause of high prices and the high cost of living.

Of course the word "monopoly" has different meanings to different people. A natural monopoly is absolutely necessary in order to have development and growth. A natural or earned monopoly simply means that each man is owner of himself and all he produces. It means that he has a right to sell the product of his labor at any price he can get. He has a right to hoard it, he has a right to give it away, he has a right to spend it foolishly. He has a right to invest it. It means that ownership is simply management.

A natural monopoly is necessary that a man may occupy his home, that he may have possession of his farm or his factory or his store or his automobile or anything that he has bought or produced. There were no natural monopoly then, but there are now homes that they could enjoy in peace and comfort, no farms, no factories, no business houses. In fact, without natural monopoly it is like a man who has a right to use his own as he sees fit.

Of course a monopoly that attempts to prevent other people from having an earned monopoly over the fruits of their labor is not a natural monopoly. It is an artificial monopoly established by fraud or by force. An orderly monopoly is established by ability and by voluntary agreements.

Our trouble is that our government is interfering with natural and earned monopolies. It is talking the side of artificial and fraudulent or forced monopolies. In fact it is a great creator of artificial or fraudulent monopolies which should be a protector of a natural or earned monopoly.

The government's action in rent control, in minimum wages, in progressive taxation, in tariffs, in immigration restrictions, in the banking laws are all interference with natural monopolies. In this case the government is doing exactly the opposite from what a just government should do.

It is time people began to learn that some monopolies are absolutely necessary to develop life and character. It is time people stopped talking loosely against monopolies in general without natural monopolies is communism. There we have one artificial monopoly—the state.

and because it may check the spread of communism, they should be the cost of sacrifice, and the impact on living standards over here. They oppose the original idea of a twenty-billion grant for a four-year period, favoring a small advance for one year and future aid to be continued as used the first installment is now.

Washington's handling of the so-called "plan" has caused some uneasiness. They do not think it was proposed or developed in a statesman like or businesslike way. It was a suggestion, Mr. Marshall's Harvard "suggestion." But now that the U. S. is committed, Europe's hopes, raised so high and Russia antagonized to the point of a cold, diplomatic war, they figure, somewhat fatalistically, that a must go through with it, though to the extent of bankrupting ourselves.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN Well, I see that President Truman was chosen the best-dressed statesman of 1947 and I can't help but wonder if the fashion experts who picked him ever got a good look at the hats he wears.

Of course, weird headgear could be part of his political strategy. Next year he's going to throw his hat in the ring and he may figure that his opponents will be frightened away and let him have the ring all to himself—unless, George suggests, one of his opponents honored one of my hats. I'll bet the other candidates, afraid of losing the fashionable vote, are already planning campaigns to show how well dressed they are. In 1948 we may see such slogans as "Be Chic-er with Bricker" or "You Can't Beat Stassen for snappy Drassen." Or even "The Clothes of Taft Fit Ford and Alf."

What is the use of living while hatless and killing have marred the atmosphere? —Mohandas K. Gandhi.

Labor leadership has equipped itself with ample devices for telling the membership what the leaders think, but they have apparently fallen down in perfecting accurate devices for determining what the employees want. —John S. Bugas, vice president, Ford Motor Company.

There is no doubt in my mind that the Republicans will elect a President in 1948. —Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio.

WINANT

Hampshire present by serving three two-year terms.

Though a conservative in private life, Winant was regarded by friends and foes as a progressive politician.

President Roosevelt named him as the first head of the Social Security Board, later he became chief of the international labor office at Geneva.

He was appointed ambassador to the Court of St. James in 1941 during the blitz.

When Winant was leaving Britain as ambassador, Winston Churchill delivered the valedictory tribute describing him as "a true, faithful and unyielding friend."

Winant was ambassador when the United Nations Economic and Social Council was organized in London in January, 1946, and two months later was named by President Truman as this country's permanent representative to UNESCO.

Last December, he asked to be relieved of this post to pick up life again as a private citizen in his own country.

Lincolnesque in appearance, Winant was a great admirer of the Civil War President, quoted him in his speeches and collected his works.

Winant leaves his widow, the former Constance Irvington Russell, two sons, John G., Jr., a student at Princeton, and Irvington a student at Oxford, and one daughter, Mrs. Carlos de C. Velando of Lima, Peru.

His mother, Mrs. Jeannette Winant, and a brother, Frederick, also survive.

Simple funeral services will be conducted tomorrow in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at 1 p. m. (CST) with burial in the Blossom Hill Cemetery, Concord.

Bishop John T. Dallas of St. Paul's will officiate.

AID PROGRAM

softened his previous demand for a "total balance sheet" of worldwide aid, including that to China.

The Michigan senator said he is in agreement with Secretary of State Marshall's plan to help Europe help itself if the program is carried out under sound administrative policies and with adequate cooperation from the nations receiving assistance.

Administration leaders have said they will act in terms of five to seven billion dollars for the first year's economic aid to Western Europe. But there has been no apparent effort to estimate now what sort of outlays will be required in China or elsewhere in Asia.

Squirrel Has Way to Get Rid of Fleas

PITTSBURG — (AP) — H. H. Pant of this town reports this little item: While out hunting, a local preacher saw a fox squirrel approach the opposite bank of a river. In the squirrel's mouth was a bunch of moss. When the squirrel reached the water he began backing very slowly into the water. After his body was under the water, he began to swim across the stream with his nose and the moss out of the water. Just before he reached the bank of the river he let go of the moss and dived under the water, coming out on the bank. The preacher rushed down the stream and with a stick recovered the moss which he discovered was alive with fleas. This was the squirrel's way of getting rid of the fleas.

This Bloodhound Has Perfect Record

HARRISVILLE, N. H.—(AP)—Queenie, three-year-old bloodhound owned by Sheriff Arthur N. Jenkinson, still is batting one thousand.

A little less than a month ago, Queenie led a posse through a mile and a half of swamps and woodlands at Fitzwilliam to find three-year-old Louis Dunton, missing since the previous evening, sitting naked in the underbrush.

Sunday, Queenie—in her second best at tracking a human—led a search party to Anthony Leoni, 28-year-old Boston war veteran, found unharmed after a night in the freezing woods.

Leoni, a patient at Aldworth Manor, a private sanitarium, disappeared Saturday afternoon.

the government is less than the amount of money the government collects from us in taxes.

So the government is using the difference—between the cost of government and the total taxes to pay off some of the national debt.

exempt organizations in general. "I do not feel that it is wise to reach firm conclusions with respect to this part of the post-war tax structure before we have had an opportunity to review the entire tax system," he added.

When the treasury completes its present general review of the tax system, Wiggins said, "We hope to have the opportunity to submit our full recommendations to this committee."

The matter of taxes on farmers co-ops cropped up as a result of contentions from some business men and others that co-ops enjoy an advantage over competitors because they have certain tax exemptions.

There are approximately 10,150 cooperative organizations through which farmer-members both buy and sell. They do a $5,600,000,000 annual business.

Wiggins presented the committee with a treasury study on taxation of co-ops which said: "Making them pay income tax on their 'patronage dividends' or 'refunds' would not necessarily change their competition position because many of them could get around the tax by lowering prices."

2. Repealing the general income tax exemption now enjoyed by more than 5,000 co-ops would "impose relatively little tax" on them if the patronage dividends or refunds were left tax free.

Congress is not going to appropriate funds and levy taxes in the United States to establish conditions in other countries on levels better, in some instances, than at home or higher than pre-war levels abroad.
