Andrei Vishinsky, Red Diplomat, Dies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Andrei Yanuarievich Vishinsky, the once obscure Russian lawyer who became a foremost mouthpiece for the Soviet Union, died today. The Soviet deputy foreign minister, Moscow's chief delegate to the U.N., would have been 71 years old Dec. 10.

Eleco Van Kieffens of the Netherlands, president of the U.N., announced the Soviet diplomat died of a heart attack. In bad health several years, Vishinsky remained in the thick of diplomatic storms here to the end.

All U.N. meetings were suspended for the day, and thus debate in the U.N. Political Committee on President Eisenhower's atom-for-peace plan was postponed.

A Soviet source said Vishinsky collapsed and died early this morning at a dinner given by Henri Hoppenot, France's permanent representative to the U.N., for French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., said he saw Vishinsky as late as 11:15 o'clock last night at a dinner given by Henri Hoppenot, France's permanent representative to the U.N., for French Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

Lodge said Vishinsky was in "fine good humor, laughing and talkative as always."

Lodge said he first heard that Vishinsky was ill when the announcement that the Soviet diplomat was indisposed was made in the U.N. Political Committee by A. A. Sobolev of the Soviet delegation.

Lodge said he called an interpreter over who told him Vishinsky was ill and Lodge said he inquired if there was anything he could do. He said the interpreter thanked him but said there was nothing. Then came the news of the death.

Sobolev stood at his chair after the meeting was adjourned and a line of delegates formed to extend their condolences. Some of the Soviet representatives were wiping their eyes as they left the committee chamber and appeared to be stunned by the news.

Word of the death of Vishinsky—as famed today for his blistering oratory as he was in the 1930s as Stalin's blood purge prosecutor—spread quickly throughout the U.N.

While regular sessions of the U.N. were adjourned out of respect, the General Assembly arranged to meet this afternoon in tribute to the Soviet delegate.

Once a member of the right wing

"Menshevik"—minority—faction of Russia's revolutionaries, a faction hated by the Bolsheviks, Vishinsky fitted himself to the Bolshevik-majority line and never deviated from the line he was accepted into the Communist party more than three decades ago.

Vishinsky rose to fame as state prosecutor with a slashing, violent prosecution of old Bolshevik leaders in the Stalin blood purge of the middle 1930s. He went on to higher things, winding up as foreign minister.

He surrendered the top post of the Foreign Ministry to V. M. Molotov in March, 1953, in the Soviet government reorganization which followed the death of Stalin, and he was appointed first deputy foreign minister. Last December, on his 70th birthday, Vishinsky's services to the Soviet state were recognized when he was awarded the Order of Lenin, his nation's highest award.

Vishinsky, better known to the world outside the Iron Curtain than almost any other Soviet figure, began to suffer declining health in 1948. His health frequently caused his absence from important councils. In 1950 he had to go to a Czechoslovak Spa to recuperate, but always he was back on the job when the U.N. was in session. He arrived in New York only last September at the head of his delegation to the U.N. Assembly.

A smallish, stocky man, Vishinsky's appearance belied his reputation for acid debate. There was never any doubt among Western observers, however, of his reputation as a ruthless man who probably was well-suited temperamentally for the job he did for Stalin in the blood purge which wiped out thousands of Soviet Communists, great and small.

Vishinsky was born in Odessa in the Ukraine Dec. 10, 1883. His father was a Czarist petty official who sent him to school in the Azerbaijan capital of Baku and in the Ukraine capital of Kiev to study law. He joined the Revolutionary Social Democrat party in 1902 and was arrested during the 1905 Russian revolution for leading a Baku railway strike.

Three Hurt In Highway Crash

Three persons were hospitalized Sunday evening as a result of a head-on collision on Highway 80 about 4.5 miles west of Big Spring.

A pickup driven by Juan Sepulveda, of Stanton, was in collision with a car operated by Earnest Darwin Goodloe of Pecos. Highway Patrol officers reported.

Sepulveda and Geronimo Amaya, Coahoma, a passenger in the pickup, were taken to the Big Spring Hospital in a Nalley ambulance. Goodloe was taken to the Cowper Hospital, but he wasn't thought to be seriously injured this morning.

Doctors at Big Spring Hospital said the bone in Amaya's left thigh was fractured. Sepulveda received a fracture of his left knee and both received cuts and bruises. Their condition was satisfactory this morning.

Goodloe was being X-rayed this morning, but his most serious injuries appeared to be possible rib fractures.

Officers said Goodloe was traveling east and the pickup was going west at the time of the collision. Both vehicles were in the north segment of the two-lane highway, and both were "washed out" by the crash, but he wasn't injured.

None was injured in another Highway 80 mishap west of Big Spring Sunday. The patrolmen said a car operated by Norvell G. Haggard of Stanton overturned about 4.5 miles west of the Howard-Martin line around 5:45 p.m.

Segregation Case Arguments Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today postponed arguments on how and when to end public school segregation. The arguments which had been scheduled for the week of Dec. 6, were delayed because of the vacancy on the court.

Judge John Marshall Harlan of New York has been nominated for the seat of the late Justice Robert J. Jackson, but Senate action has been put off until the new Congress meets in January.

James McMorries On Trial On School Fund Indictment

Surprise Switch Is Made In Cases

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS
SWEETWATER — James McMorries, former Martin County judge, went on trial in 32nd District Court here this morning, but on an indictment that he misappropriated Grady School District Funds.

He was on trial last week for alleged misappropriation of Martin County funds when a mistrial was declared after the father of a juror died suddenly.

Switch in the cases up for trial came as a surprise after Davis Scarborough, Abilene, defense attorney, first moved for a dismissal of the case brought up for trial last week. He then produced a letter signed by District Attorney Eldon Mahon, Colorado City, dated last Oct. 21 in which he said that the Grady School case would be the first tried. Last week the State did not announce ready in the Grady case.

Judge A. S. Murrey did not rule immediately on the motion by Scarborough for dismissal of the case involving alleged use of county funds by McMorries for fence posts that were never delivered. To try him again would amount to double jeopardy, said Scarborough. Elton Gilliland, former 118th district attorney and a special prosecutor, completed questioning the jury panel during the morning and

Examiner Gives Odessa Firm TV Permit Backing

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Communications Commission examiner today recommended that Odessa Television Co., associated with radio station KOSA, be authorized to operate a channel 7 TV station in Odessa, Tex.

Examiner John B. Poindexter proposed dismissal of a competing application of Clarence E. Wilson and Phillip D. Jackson, doing business as The Odessa Television Co. The company recommended for the grant is owned 50 per cent by Odessa Broadcasting Co., operating KOSA, and 50 per cent by Cecil Mills of Dallas.

Cecil L. Trigg, who owns 75 per cent of the stock of Odessa Broadcasting Co., is president both of that concern and Odessa Television Co.

Wilson, of Medford, Ore., and Jackson, of Chickasha, Okla., and partnership in the competing application, own and operate radio station KOBV at Medford, Jackson owns a 15 per cent interest in station KPQQ-TV at Oklahoma City. The examiner said:

"We have found Odessa Television Co. to be superior in four areas of comparison, namely, local ownership, past partnership in civic affairs of the Odessa community, program proposals and diversification of control of the media of mass communications."

JEANNETTE EARNEST

THURMAN PRIEST

Uncle Confesses In Girl's Death

By ALLAN MERRITT
LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—A meek, middle-aged bookkeeper who admitted slaying his pretty 11-year-old niece with whom he was infatuated was taken to the slaying scene today in a search for the death weapon.

Thurman Priest, 48, Grand Prairie, Tex., was taken by officers to a spot four miles east of here where the body of the girl, Jeannette Earnest, was found yesterday on a pile of leaves. She had been shot in the right temple.

The girl had been missing from her home at Ft. Worth, Tex., since Tuesday. Priest, taken into custody on a kidnapping charge, led officers to the body after admitting the slaying.

"I was afraid the family was going to take the girl away from me," Priest was quoted as saying by Sheriff Bill Decker of Dallas County. "If I couldn't have her, no one else could."

While officers took Priest to look for the slaying weapon, a coroner's jury viewed the body at a funeral home here. Coroner Stanley Palmer Jr. then recessed the inquest until 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Prosecuting Atty. Eddie Mayfield said a murder warrant naming Priest would be issued later today.

Priest yesterday led Texas and Missouri officers on a long search for the body. He said he was taking the girl to Ohio where he said he was going to get a job.

Officers said that during the 22-mile trip through Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, Priest sobbed hysterically several times. He finally directed officers to an oak tree grove and said:

"The body's out there."

He remained trembling in the car.

Sheriff Decker quoted Priest as saying he had "struggled with the girl in the woods, blacked out and heard an explosion."

"The next thing I knew she was lying there dead."

After an autopsy, Coroner Stanley R. Palmer Jr. reported there were "no signs of criminal attack."

One of three physicians who took part in the autopsy, however, said microscopic examination of tissues had led to no conclusions.

"The autopsy could not determine whether she had been criminally assaulted," reported Dr. Paul Jenkins. "It also could not definitely show that she hadn't been. There were no bruises or anything like that."

Until yesterday Priest arrested Wednesday at Mount Vernon, Mo., had steadfastly denied knowing what happened to Jeannette.

The girl, who looked older than her 11 years, was taken Tuesday while waiting near a self-service laundry for her mother. Witnesses reported Priest had picked her up.

Priest told detectives and a newspaperman that after leaving Fort Worth he drank heavily. He said Jeannette had left Texas willingly with him and they were going to Ohio and then send for his wife and his 18-year-old daughter.

"I loved the child for so long. I wanted her so bad to be happy. She was like another daughter to me."

Decker said Priest told him he had killed Jeannette about sunrise Wednesday morning with a .32-caliber automatic.

Questioning of Priest continued until 1 a.m. today when the man blurted: "If you'll let me get some sleep, I'll lead you to the gun if I can."

He shared a cell with the old, ugly red brick jail here with another prisoner and shortly before 6 a. m. was awake. He told a newspaperman "I slept out and off."

The sheriff said Priest was asked point-blank if he had been intimate with Jeannette and that Priest replied: "No."

Brown said that when Priest was being quizzed for a possible motive, he told questioners:

"My little girl (his 18-year-old adopted daughter) had grown up. She (Jeannette) had taken the place of my daughter."

He then related that until recently, when her visits had been restricted, Jeannette stayed with him and Mrs. Priest from time to time. After her visits were restricted, he said, he couldn't bear the thought of being without Jeannette.

HOODS ON METERS

First Steps To Paving Of Fourth St. To Begin

Hoods were placed over parking meters on Fourth Street this morning so that the street could be kept clear for cleaning operations which precede paving.

However, cleaning crews of Jarbet Construction Company had not shown up this morning.

City Manager H. W. Whitney said that he had been asked to place hoods on the meters so that preliminary steps to paving of the downtown segment on Fourth could begin.

It was also Whitney's understanding that Jarbet would start topping work today on the east end of the county right-of-way which has been cleared. Some hot mix paving also is to be placed on the Third Street artery east of Coleman Hill, it is reported.

Fourth Street will be covered with hot mix like Third Street was last year, making the downtown segment of the new highway artery conform with the new construction.

Whitney said this morning that the street has to be cleaned before a "tack" coat can be installed on the present pavement. The hot mix will stick to the present pavement layer as a result of the "tack" coat.

Paving has been torn out at Fourth and Rummels to allow a level drive through on the highway. Speculation is that the intersection pavement at Fourth and Main will not be taken up. It is believed that Jarbet will level the dips there by "fills."

Actual topping work apparently had not gotten under way on the east end of the highway this morning. Caliche was still being hauled to the area shortly before noon so that another base layer could be spread.

Appearances indicate that the east segment of the highway which is within the city limits is just about ready for topping. Curbs and gutters have been installed to what was the city limits before the recent annexation, and base layers have been built up to the gutter tops.

The west segment of the highway portion is not in so good shape as the east. Several blocks of curbing and gutter must yet be installed, and the grade has to be built up considerably. Caliche has been piled in the middle of the thoroughfare for distribution.

The topping in the downtown area is expected to get under way before it starts on either the east or west segments in town. The pavement will be installed in segments so that traffic can be routed through the city on a north-south basis.

NEVER A WINNER

Cyclone Davis, Veteran Candidate, Dies At 73

DALLAS (AP)—Cyclone Davis, who seemed to get as much kick out of losing in politics as most candidates get from winning, is dead.

The 73-year-old Texas legend with the flowing beard died in Methodist Hospital here yesterday. He entered it two weeks ago with kidney trouble.

Death came four months after his most recent bid for the governorship.

His full name was Arden Barton Davis, and he was best known for the many times he ran unsuccessfully for high state offices. He had campaigned for governor, lieutenant governor, the U. S. House and Senate.

Even though he invariably lost, Davis always appeared in high good humor.

In fact, his ready grin, his quips and picturesque appearance were a lightning influence on many a bitter Texas campaign. Davis would show up at rallies and often get more applause than his opponents combined. He was never without a word to say.

He made few, if any, enemies in his political battles.

Between his numerous campaigns, Davis ran a car body repair shop here.

He was a legend for other reasons.

From 1900 to 1920, Davis organized and operated 25 banks in Texas.

But politics was Davis' forte, and he looked like a classic Southern politician. Tall and stout, Davis wore a big hat pulled low to shade his weakening eyes. His most arresting feature was a white beard that hung to his chest. The veteran campaigner

Old Sheppard Friend Testifies Osteopath Had Studied Divorce

By RALEIGH ALLSBROOK
CLEVELAND (AP)—A fellow osteopath and old school friend testified today that Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard "wanted to consider the possibility of divorce" four years ago.

The testimony was given by Dr. Lester H. Oversten of Glendale, Calif., to a jury trying Sheppard for the murder of his wife Marilyn.

Oversten, a key state witness to establish a motive for murder, testified he talked Sheppard out of sending a letter to his wife on the "possibility of divorce" in 1950.

"Dr. Sam asked my advice on a letter he had written Marilyn and I asked him as a favor not to send it at the time, but to wait until he could speak to her in person."

"It was to the effect he was concerned about his marriage and wanted to tell her how he felt and he felt he wanted to consider the possibility of a divorce."

Oversten was a house guest of the Sheppards until one day before Marilyn was bludgeoned to death in bed.

With respect to the 1950 conversations, Dr. Oversten said Dr. Sam later within the week became "disturbed over a phone conversation he got from his father. I told him to realize his father had his best interests at heart. He calmed down then."

Q—Did he tell you what his father said to him?

A—I don't recall the exact words, but it was something to this effect: He said Sam should realize his responsibilities as a husband and a father.

Again referring to Marilyn's midsummer vacation in 1950, Assistant Prosecutor John J. Mahon asked Dr. Oversten:

"While his wife Marilyn was away on vacation, did he associate with any other women in California?"

"I do not know of any specific instance at any time that I saw Samuel Sheppard with any woman other than his wife," the witness replied.

However, in response to further questioning, Dr. Oversten explained:

"Dr. Sam was a guest several times at my home. I took him along with me to visit other friends. On such occasions he undoubtedly met other women."

Mahon asked specifically about a Margaret Kausor, not otherwise identified.

"He has been in her company, but as my guest," replied Dr. Oversten. "I have never seen him with her on a date, or otherwise."

Sheppard once admitted he lied about his affair with a pretty hospital technician, a Cleveland detective testified today.

Detective Robert F. Schotke told Sheppard's murder jury from the witness stand that Sheppard made this admission to him July 31, conceding he stayed at the same hotel with Susan Hayes in California, and gave her a wristwatch.

Prior to that, said Schotke, Sheppard denied he stayed with Miss Hayes at the home of a fellow osteopath, Dr. Arthur Miller, of near Los Angeles last March.

Under questioning by Assistant Prosecutor Thomas J. Parrino, Schotke testified:

"We asked him about Susan Hayes and he said 'yes,' he had lied about her and did stay with her at the home of Dr. Miller, and he gave her a wristwatch."

"He said that when he was in Los Angeles, his wife told him to see Susan Hayes and have a good time."

"He said he told his wife about Susan so that someone else would not tell her first. We asked him if he had told his wife about other women, and he said yes. He said he always told her about other women because he did not want her to get the wrong impression if someone else told her."

Schotke said that on the date of this questioning, Dr. Sheppard refused to answer any questions about what happened July 3 and 4, claiming he was acting under the advice of his attorney.

The state contends that Sheppard's affair with Miss Hayes and other women resulted in Sheppard quarreling with, and finally murdering his wife, Marilyn.

Miss Hayes, says the prosecution, admitted intimacies with Sheppard after the osteopath first claimed he knew her only as a friend and hospital associate.

Schotke also was placed under further cross-examination today by a Sheppard lawyer, Fred W. Garmon.

Referring to an interview Schotke had had with Dr. Sheppard July 31, Garmon asked if it concerned various degrees of homicide. He continued:

"Did you say to him that 'if you give us a confession, we'll recommend a life sentence?'"

O. C. Bayes, 78, Succumbs

O. C. (Charlie) Bayes, 78, retired farmer-stockman and a former county commissioner, died at his home at 310 NW 9th Street here Sunday.

He had been in failing health for five years and his condition had steadily worsened.

Funeral will be held at the Eberly-River Chapel at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. G. W. Turner, Fort Worth, formerly pastor of the Baptist Church at Knott, officiating. Burial will be in the IOOF section of the City Cemetery with the Odd Fellows conducting graveside services.

Mr. Bayes came to Howard County in 1903. He was elected county commissioner in 1923 from Precinct No. 1 and held that office for four terms.

Mr. Bayes leaves his wife; four daughters, Mrs. D. B. Wiley and Mrs. M. L. Merrick, Dallas, Mrs. J. J. Kemper, Andrews, and Mrs. Millard Shortes, Knott; two sons, Glenn A. Bayes, Dallas, and Joe Bayes, Oil Center, N. M.; one other son, George Bayes, died in 1932. Mr. Bayes also is survived by 18 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Palbearers will be Miller Nichols, J. A. Iden, Jim Motley, E. H. Phillips, Oscar Gaskins and Willie Woods.

Russia Is Apparently Resigned To Arming Of West Germany

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, (U)—The Soviet government apparently has concluded a policy reappraisal and decided against paying a high price—in either concessions or threats—to block Western rearming of West Germany, American officials believe.

Russia's latest moves to prevent the conversion of West Germany into a member of the anti-Soviet defense alliance are considered here obviously lacking in boldness and effectiveness.

This is taken to mean that in a sense the Soviet government is resigned to German rearmament. The interpretation is that the Kremlin may have reached this attitude because (1) it was unwilling to let Germany be unified on Western terms and (2) it was unwilling to threaten seriously use of military forces against the West.

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen is due here from Moscow, probably tomorrow, for talks opening Wednesday with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on Soviet policy and the state of relations between the United States and Russia.

Dulles and French Premier Mendès-France announced Saturday that in their view the Western Powers should come through with "early ratification" of the agreements to make West Germany a defense partner. They thus rejected a public offer by Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov to delay a European security conference he has proposed provided the Western Powers were willing to delay ratification of the German treaty.

Dulles and Mendès-France, winding up four days of talks here, said that once the treaties are ratified they would be ready to go into "adequately prepared negotiations" with Russia, but "not into improvised debates intended mainly for propaganda."

The Soviet Union probably will get this week notes being drafted in London by U. S., British and French officials turning down the Soviet call for a meeting Nov. 28. Russia is thus faced with a solid Western front on its various moves to substitute an East-West security system in Europe for the Western defense program to include a re-armed Germany.

Several years ago many American officials felt German rearmament at the showdown stage would involve serious risk of war with Russia. They expected the Soviets would make very belligerent gestures to keep the West from tying up this great power prize, or at least would try to get a fully neutralized Germany, even if that meant giving up East Germany.

That was before the death of Stalin. After the defeat of the European Defense Community program in the French Assembly last August, the Soviets were jubilant, believing the issue of German rearmament was dead for a long time. But within 33 days the West came up with new plans to rearm Germany by other means. Those plans are moving swiftly.

U.S. officials decided the West had moved with such speed that the Soviets were caught off balance. They also felt the prospect of quick German rearmament decisions put Soviet rulers in a position where they would have to reappraise their major European policies.

The fact that Moscow is reacting with familiar Soviet propaganda terms, including claims that the German agreement will destroy the basis for future European settlements, is regarded here as being in line with the general peace offensive of the Malenkov regime.

Henry Fonda Finishes His 'Mr. Roberts' Role

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, (U)—Henry Fonda has come to the end of a long cruise with Lt. (j.g.) Douglas Roberts, USNR.

When the actor finished his role as the soft-spoken, high-principled Navy officer in the film version of "Mr. Roberts," it ended an association that began when Fonda opened in the stage play in December 1946.

I watched as Fonda went through one of his last scenes in the picture.

Roberts was seated on the afterdeck of the cargo ship when Doc, played by William Powell, came out to join him. The young officer told of seeing a huge task force sail by the night before. He showed Doc his latest wording of a letter he sent to higher authorities each week requesting for transfer to the shooting war.

"I'll get there, Doc," Roberts said. "I'll get there some day." After the scene was over, Fonda talked about his life with Roberts. He had read the Thomas Heggen book when it came out, and he saw movie possibilities in the property. But he never suspected it could be made into a play. He was still unconvinced when Jack Logan teamed with Heggen on the script and Leland Hayward planned to produce.

"They had more faith than I did," Fonda remarked. "I never could see enough plot in the book for a play. But when I went east Josh asked if he could read it to me."

"I was just like an audience. I laughed, I cried, and I applauded at the end. I called Leland and said: 'This is for me. Get me free.' I still had a couple of film commitments to get out of."

He wiggled out of the film deals and started one of the most monumental attractions in the history of the American theater. He played "Mr. Roberts" for three years in New York and then toured the nation.

Since then Fonda has done two more stage hits, "Point of No Return" and "Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

Also in the cast is Jack Lemmon as Enns Pulver — "the best Pulver we ever had," says Hayward. And James Cagney is playing the demonic captain. I asked Jimmy how he has managed to keep him from becoming Queeg of the "Caine Mutiny" fame.

"Oh, this guy is a riot," he said. "Queeg had no redeeming qualities. But you've got to laugh when this captain comes down from the bridge in pajamas and pulled-down cap to water his pet palm tree. You can't hate anything you can laugh at."

8 Violent Deaths Occur In State

By The Associated Press

Eight violent deaths were reported in Texas over the weekend—one of the safest in months. Two died in a plane crash, two in traffic, two were stabbed, one was apparently poisoned and one shot.

Marine Capt. Thomas Pryor Wareham, 24, of San Francisco and Naval Cadet Robert Anthony Verdugo, 22, of Laredo were killed Saturday night when a Navy training plane crashed just off the Texas A&M campus at College Station. They were stationed at Kingsville Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

Mrs. Millie James, 53, was shot to death at her Houston home Saturday night. Her husband, Morris James, 56, told police a pistol he was loading went off accidentally. Luther Julius Jr., 27, was dead on arrival at a Houston hospital Sunday night after collapsing in a cafeteria kitchen. Hospital attendants said an ounce of insecticide was taken from Mullins' stomach. Justice of the Peace Dave Thompson withheld a verdict pending receipt of an autopsy report.

Robert Craney, 16, was stabbed to death in a Bastrop cafe Saturday night. Police arrested an 18-year-old youth.

A 7-month-old child was killed and nine persons injured Friday night in a head-on crash 22 miles from Laredo on State Highway-202. Lou Aila Bazan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dellino Bazan, was killed. Bazan, 29, and his wife, Lesbia, 20, were among the injured.

Stuart Gabbart, 15, was killed Saturday when a wrecked pickup truck fell on him as he tried to crawl from under it. The mishap occurred at the Tow community on Lake Buchanan, near Llano. Sheriff Travis Baucum said the truck overturned, pinning Gabbart under the wreckage. When he tried to crawl out the truck shifted, fell and crushed him.

A man identified by police as Herman White, 39, of Garland was knifed to death Saturday in a fight at a drive-in. Police sought a 37-year-old suspect.

Oklahoma Building Lodge At Texoma

MARIETTA, Okla. (U)—Oklahoma Gov. Johnston Murray manned a bulldozer yesterday to turn the first dirt for construction of a 106-room lodge at nearby Lake Texoma.

The recreational project on the man-made lake on the Oklahoma-Texas border is part of a $7,500,000 self-liquidating park program. The Lake Texoma project calls for an expenditure of $2,900,000. Construction is expected to start Dec. 1 with completion expected in time for part of the 1955 tourist season.

Administration Leaders Oppose Tax Reductions

WASHINGTON (U)—Settlement within the Eisenhower administration appeared today to be running strongly against any new tax reduction next year unless business falters.

High officials of four federal agencies, which presumably will influence the shaping of President Eisenhower's recommendations to Congress in January, indicated in interviews that a final decision on tax policy hinges on business developments of the next several weeks.

But each said the state of government finances — a $4,700,000,000 deficit is expected by June 30 — does not justify further business or individual tax cuts, assuming that the economic recovery is still on the upbeat at the turn of the year.

This probably means that the administration not only will oppose a further income tax reduction, advocated by a number of the Democrats whose party will control the next Congress, but will take a stand against scheduled reductions in corporate income and excise tax rates.

The corporate tax rate is due to drop from 52 to 47 per cent on April 1, under present law.

Several excise levies, including those on automobiles and gasoline, also are due for reduction next spring.

One of the officials interviewed said: "We cannot afford any tax reduction in 1955. It is a pretty safe guess that the administration will oppose even the scheduled reductions."

Another official, pointing to the likelihood of lower federal revenues next year, said:

"Unless the business situation calls for relief, I cannot see how we can initiate tax cuts."

A third official said: "If we get a strong economic expansion — and this is the probability — it would seem inappropriate to reduce taxes."

GI In Emasculation Case In Stockade

SAN ANTONIO (U)—A Fort Hood soldier who was a complainant in a recent maiming case against two Brady ranchers is in the Fort Sam Houston stockade here charged with being AWOL three weeks.

Cpl. Clyde M. Bennett, 34, claimed he was mutilated with a pocket knife and partially emasculated while he and another soldier visited at the home of a widow 15 miles from Goldthwaite.

Roy Barton and David Dutton are charged in the case, called for trial recently in Brady but transferred after a jury could not be picked.

Baldness Hereditary, Michigan M.D. Says

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (U)—A University of Michigan doctor says if your mother and father are bald and your head is taking on the proportions of a billiard ball, the only answer is a good-looking hat. Dr. Thomas G. Jansen of the university's Medical School, says he recommends throwing away hair lotions and advises persons not to be misled by advertisements. "Just recognize the inevitable and adjust accordingly," says the skin specialist.

Distinctive Features On '55 Lincoln

Twin exhausts with vents integrated into the rear bumper assembly are a feature of the 1955 Lincoln Capri models. Further emphasizing the forward motion theme are the unusual canted tail light assemblies. The Lincolns for 1955 are powered by an overhead valve V-8 engine developing 225 horsepower. A Turbo-Drive automatic transmission is new and exclusive in the 1955 Lincoln line. The new models are to be shown Tuesday, with local presentation at Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels St.

TO BE SHOWN TUESDAY

Engineering, Style Changes Noted In Lincolns For 1955

A new standard in automotive luxury is claimed by Lincoln with its 1955 models, which go on display Tuesday. The new cars are to be shown locally by Truman Jones Motor Co., 403 Runnels St. A restyled exterior, a totally new and exclusive Turbo-Drive transmission, a redesigned overhead valve V-8 engine of 225 horsepower and major chassis innovations are some of the features. A new rear quarter panel eight inches longer than in previous models is culminated in an unusual canted tail light assembly, complementing the headlight treatment. Twin exhaust vents are a part of the rear bumper assembly.

Lincoln for 1955 has an advanced design automatic transmission which combines fluid torque converter with three-speed planetary gear to give the ultimate in smooth performance through all driving ranges. Exclusive features make it more flexible than any previous transmission. A specially designed throttle kickdown permits a particularly fast getaway.

With Lincoln's new transmission and more powerful engine it has been possible to reduce the rear axle ratio from 3.31 to 3.07, with a resultant further improvement in fuel economy.

Emphasis has been placed on increasing the torque of the Lincoln engine for 1955. This has resulted in better performance and more rapid acceleration at the low and medium engine speeds. This new advantage was gained by increasing the horsepower rating to 225 and the torque to 332 pound feet at 2500 rpm's.

Displacement is increased to 341 inches and cylinder bore diameter to 3.9 inches. The stroke stays at 3.5 inches but compression ratio is increased to 8.5 to 1.

Another first in its field for Lincoln is a newly developed 18 millimeter conical seat spark plug — the first major advance in spark plugs in a generation. This new plug has a wider heat range and, with a larger air gap between the insulator and the outside shell of the plug, reduces the possibility of spark plug fouling. The conical seat design eliminates the gasket, thus insuring against compression leakage.

Dual exhausts are standard equipment on the 1955 Lincoln. They give better economy, faster acceleration and higher top speed. The system consists of an additional exhaust system installed on the left side of the engine, duplicating the one on the right side. A new manifold goes on the left side and the cross-over pipe is eliminated.

Rear shock absorbers are mounted at a more horizontal angle and are wider apart than on previous models. The rear axle has been modified to permit an increase in the rear tread to 60 inches.

Luxurious new interiors have been created by Lincoln stylists in keeping with the modern design of the car. Good taste, is in evidence throughout the all-new two-tone upholstery combinations featuring horseshoe shaped bolsters finished with moccasin stitching. Modern nylon fabrics and leather are used effectively.

The Lincoln Capri series includes a special custom coupe, special custom 4-door sedan and a convertible. The Lincoln series consists of a custom sport coupe and a custom 4-door sedan.

A total of 16 solid body colors and 35-two-tone combinations and 24 interior trim options are offered in Lincoln for 1955.

Bridges In Line For Policy Post

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire today was reported in line for chairmanship of the Senate GOP Policy Committee. Such a move would fill two top leadership posts with Republicans critical at times of Eisenhower administration foreign policies.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, has told friends he has no intention of giving up that job although he diverges from President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles over some aspects of international policies. While Bridges has not publicly indicated his intentions, colleagues said there is little doubt he can have the chairmanship of the party's policy committee if he wants it. The present chairman, Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, was defeated for re-election.

Bridges, senior Republican in point of service in the Senate, was one of those who fought unsuccessfully against confirmation of Eisenhower's nominee for ambassador to Russia, Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen.

Knowland and Bridges are advocates of stronger action against communism in Asia than the Eisenhower administration thus far has been willing to undertake. Both are bitter opponents of admission of Communist China to the United Nations, a possibility Eisenhower has said this nation opposes now but on which he has not foreclosed a possible future change in policy.

As chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, Bridges has been critical in the past of some of the policies of Foreign Operations Administrator Harold E. Stassen.

U. S. Industrial Mobilization Program Held Satisfactory

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate House committee says the nation is "a long way toward achievement" of its industrial mobilization program but cautions against any slip below "maximum readiness for any emergency."

In its fourth annual report on national defense production and controls, the Joint Committee on Defense Production said last night, "large expansions in basic industries have materially increased the country's capacity to produce both for war and for peace."

The committee also reported that minimum goals in strategic materials stockpiles have been reached in some vital areas. Of the 75 materials being stockpiled, it said, 30 are at the minimum levels while only 18 are at less than 50 per cent of established goals.

Listed as the scarcest of critical materials were nickel, tantalum, selenium, titanium and strategic mica.

Noting big increases in industrial capacity since the mobilization program was launched during the early stages of the Korean War, the committee said: "Private industry has stepped up its rate of plant and equipment expenditures to nearly 28 billion dollars in 1953 compared to 19 billion dollars in pre-Korea. This is in contrast with World War II when government funds accounted for more than 70 per cent of the plant expansions."

The committee said more than 155 billion dollars have been appropriated since Korea for military procurement and construction. Of this total, some $32,000,000,000 worth had been delivered as of last June 30.

During the 12 months ended June 30, it said, delivery of guided missiles increased 104 per cent, ammunition 23 per cent, ships 6 per cent, electronics 6 per cent and aircraft 5 per cent.

Decreases attributed to shifts in emphasis, were reported in deliveries of tanks, automotive equipment, textiles, clothing, construction and weapons.

The committee said deliveries for the 12 months ending next June 30 are estimated at nearly 22 billion dollars.

Barbers May Gain Patron Saint In 17th Century Monk

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Barbers of the world eventually may have as their patron saint a Peruvian monk who worked in a Lima barbershop more than 350 years ago.

He is Blessed Martin de Porres, Dominican, whose cause for canonization — highest honor of the Roman Catholic Church — was renewed in 1926, and now is slowly continuing.

A movement to have him proclaimed the patron saint of barbers when and if he finally is canonized is now under way here. Bologna's archbishop, Giacomo Cardinal Lerario, has urged the barbers of his archdiocese to adopt the 17th-century monk as their patron and invoke his protection over their business matters, their families and their spiritual welfare.

As a boy De Porres was an apprentice in a Lima barbershop and is said to have told his mother that he wanted to work "as a barber and leecher to help my brothers in Christ." After his apprenticeship he worked as a barber, but refused all pay for his services. He then entered a Dominican monastery, helping orphans, slaves and the oppressed. He died Nov. 3, 1639.

They're Arriving Tomorrow... NEW LINCOLN FOR 1955

See and drive these new beauties!

New Turbo-Drive — most far-reaching advance in no-shift driving in 14 years.

New high-torque, high-output V-8 engine — for matchless performance in every range.

We've just seen the new Lincoln for 1955! All of us have spent the last few hours just looking—and once in a while running a hand, gently, along what seem like the longest, sleekest fenders ever.

This car, in our opinion, is more than beautiful. It is everything a fine car should be—but so seldom is!

Now—come in and see for yourself. The new Lincoln styling—the new colors and fabrics—merit a long look.

And then you must—as we have—drive a new 1955 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri. Because beneath this beauty is new performance words cannot describe.

You must experience Lincoln's new Turbo-Drive to realize how far ahead it brings driving. It gives you, for the first time in any car, ultra smoothness and instant acceleration—with neither left out for the sake of the other.

And the new Lincoln V-8 engine! You've got to feel its silky power in action to believe it. You must feel its incredible response in every driving range from start to superhighway speeds.

AND A NOTE OF URGENCY: Our present shipment of new Lincolns may not be with us long. Early orders mean early deliveries.

We're looking forward to showing you this 1955 Lincoln in action.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Wisdom was in the beginning and end of creation. The human body is an illustration of the infinity of wisdom beyond our knowledge or understanding. It may be in our lives too, but we must learn of God and listen to Him. "In the hearts of all that are wise hearted I have put wisdom." — Ex. 31:6.

Rewards Might Encourage Safety Where Fear Of Punishment Failed

There are any number of punishments for reckless driving, but precious few rewards for careful driving. On the theory that molasses will attract more flies than vinegar, it might help if a little more emphasis were placed on rewards. A current magazine article suggests that a preferred class of drivers could be created. They would be given cards to identify them as accident-free, and only persons bearing such cards would be permitted on the high-speed toll roads, and so on. The idea could be expanded into the insurance field, where in some states drivers up to 25 years of age, a class that manages to get in most of the accidents already, must pay an extra premium. It follows that motorists with a good record should benefit by enjoying a lower premium rate. Thus by creating a system of rewards in various forms, people would be encouraged to earn them by careful driving, or to protect them once they have gained the preferred status. This principle is already accepted and practiced on a limited scale; why not spread the rewards over the whole mass of motorists, and thus stimulate even greater results? Many people are influenced more by the hope of reward than by the fear of punishment. Surely motorists who compile a record of years of safe driving practices have earned the kudos of organized society, and some means should be found to extend the recognition that is their due. Perhaps the Texas Public Safety Department could work out a system based on this practice. Accident-free motorists could be issued, say, a blue driver's license to identify them as a class apart. Those with a so-so record could be given a yellow card. Finally, drivers with a bad record could be handed a red card, which they might be privileged to change to yellow or blue over a period of time if their subsequent conduct warranted it. We'd like to see something along this line tried out. Goodness knows nothing to improve traffic safety should be left undone, and a system of rewards as well as punishments might be just what is needed.

Of All Nations Of The Earth, We Have More Reason For Thanks

Thanksgiving is our most distinctive holiday, and while the spirit in which it was born is sometimes obscured by mundane matters, sort of lost in the shuffle so to speak, millions of our people still manage to honor it by giving thanks to God for his manifold blessings. It would seem that the 98 per cent of our population who believe there is a God could manage at some time during the holiday to breathe a prayer: "We thank Thee O God for our being." Just being born is a miracle and just being alive is another miracle, and surely a minimum obedience to our Creator would be to thank Him for just being alive. We should thank him for being born an American, or being blessed with American citizenship by grace of man-made laws; for surely being an American must be counted among the great blessings of our times. It is a blessing most of us achieved by simply being born. We should thank Him for an abundance of the good things of life when most of the world lives in scarcity or on the verge of famine. The devisers of our day of thanks knew what starvation was, and how directly they were dependent upon God for fruitful fields, in spite of economic maladjustments, very few living Americans have ever known what real hunger is like. Hundreds of millions of the world's inhabitants have never known anything else. We should thank Him that we live in peace, an uncertain peace perhaps but infinitely better than war, and that men are striving with might and main to devise ways of maintaining the peace and making it secure. We should thank Him for being allowed to worship in peace and fellowship; that is a privilege that is now denied to some 800 million of the earth's peoples. He has blessed our nation and our people perhaps beyond our deserts, and we should pray for the grace to keep from taking it for granted, and for the humility of acknowledging that but for His long-suffering kindness we would be cowering in the caves, instead of standing up straight with our faces turned upward to God.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann Ratio Of Atomic Armament Does Not Determine World's Course

LONDON — Extracts of Sen. Knowland's speech, which are printed over here, make him sound more like a man having a private nightmare than like a responsible political leader. His is the familiar nightmare of how in about five years the Soviet Union will have achieved atomic armaments so great that the free world will "become paralyzed and immobilized by the realization that the United States and the Soviet Union could act and react upon one another with overwhelming devastation." When this atomic stalemate is reached, the Soviet Union will "seek to take over peripheral nations bite by bite." The question we might ask ourselves is whether this atomic stalemate is something that may be achieved in the future or whether in fact it already exists. The answer, I submit, is that in regard to all of Europe and of Asia the atomic stalemate already exists, indeed has existed since the Soviet Union broke the American atomic monopoly in 1949. Every since then it has been a major premise of the foreign policy of all our allies, as well as of the great uncommitted nations like India, that the prevention of atomic war is essential to their survival. The Korean War and the Indochinese War were both of them limited and conditioned by the existence of an atomic stalemate, by "the realization" — in Mr. Knowland's words — that atomic war would bring "overwhelming devastation." An atomic stalemate is not something that is going to come about a few years hence. It exists now and we have been living in it for several years. What, presumably, Mr. Knowland has in mind is not atomic stalemate but the theoretical possibility that the Soviet Union might achieve atomic superiority — that in some years the Soviet Union may have the bombs and the planes and the missiles to strike a knockout blow at the United States. This is a theoretical possibility but the answer to it is plain enough. It is to make sure by spending enough money and taking enough trouble that the strategic air force itself cannot be knocked out by a sneak attack. If that is done, it is not necessary to set up defenses in every town in the United States. For if the retaliatory power cannot be taken away from us, the atomic stalemate, which now exists, will not be broken. Mr. Knowland believes that during an atomic stalemate the Soviet Union will take over the world bite by bite. I am not myself a blithe optimist about the future but I do not read the present and the future as does the Senator from California. It is a striking fact, for example, that the great period of Communist expansion in atomic stalemate began in 1949. Sen. Knowland will remember that China was bitten off before the Soviet Union had an atomic bomb. It is also worth noting that since 1949 the losses and gains have not by any means been one-sided. The Communists have advanced in Indochina. But they have suffered a great setback of enormous strategic importance in Yugoslavia. What is more, in Western Europe as a whole the Communist position has deteriorated. All that this shows is that the relation between atomic power and the ebb and flow of Communism is complicated and indirect. There is no ground for Sen. Knowland's prediction that the political future of the free world is going to be determined by the ratio of atomic armaments. There is no ground for his assertion that an atomic stalemate means the Communist conquest of the world. There is just as good ground for believing that an atomic stalemate, which renders general war intolerable and improbable, will give the free world a better chance in the rivalry for the allegiance of mankind. Let us not forget that freedom works best in peace and that all war regimes, even cold war regimes, have to become centralized, illiberal, and arbitrary.

POTOMAC FEVER By FLETCHER KNEBEL WASHINGTON — French Premier Mendès-France confers with President Eisenhower. He: "On foreign policy over here, we're all team players." Mendès-France: "Out. Out. I know. And which team is it that plays Senator Knowland?"

Senator Joe McCarthy is in the hospital with a sore elbow. If it's like most hospitals, they'll wake him up every fifteen minutes and remind him that he ought to be sleeping.

The Senate uses a new gavel presented by India's Vice President Radhakrishnan. Very fitting. To appreciate most rulings from the Senate chair, you've got to be either a Hindu mystic — or a member of the majority party.

As a former college president, he thinks it's about time to de-emphasize college football. He will pass up the Army-Navy game for golf at Augusta, Ga.

Democratic Senator Ed Johnson moves to condemn McCarthy, but applaud Communist investigations. What the Senate really seeks is a resolution that will say: "We're not only anti-McCarthy, we're also anti anti-McCarthy."

An atomic engineer says the sun is cooler than the center of the H-bomb. That's one good thing about the sun compared with the H-bomb. Another is that you can get away from the sun by moving to Pittsburgh.

More universities refuse to let their debating teams discuss Red China admission to the U. N. About the only subject a guy can get into a decent argument about these days is what subjects shouldn't be argued about.

"Is There Somewhere Else To Go?"

The World Today—James Marlow

Failure To Censure McCarthy In 1954 Won't Necessarily Mean End Of Issue

WASHINGTON — Failure of the Senate in 1954 to reach a vote on censuring Sen. McCarthy wouldn't necessarily end the matter. The Senate could resume study of the problem as soon as the Democrats took over Congress in 1955. It could be done by a simple majority vote on a resolution next year to take up McCarthy's case again. No doubt McCarthy's Senate friends would fight it.

Such a fight could delay the new Senate's legislative work for weeks. More time would be used if a majority approved the resolution and, in due course, got around to debating censure again. A week ago the Senate seemed to have sufficient time to reach a vote. It came back Nov. 8 to consider censure and had until its deadline of Dec. 24 to finish up. But last week, after McCarthy went to the hospital with a bruised elbow and Congress' official doctor said he would not be fit to return to the Senate for at least 10 days, the Senate recessed until Nov. 29. If he returns that day his friends, although he reportedly wants a vote, may filibuster to prevent voting before Christmas Eve. If there's no vote by then, there can be none in 1954. Several of McCarthy's friends have said there will be no effort to prevent a decision this year.

It's anybody's guess what the Senate will do if McCarthy or a doctor says he can't return Nov. 29. This is why the Senate must vote by Dec. 24 or not at all in 1954: Any legislation — a resolution comes under that head — offered in a Congress, ends with that Congress. It does not carry over into the next Congress. On Aug. 2 the present Senate approved a resolution — No. 301 — setting up a select committee to consider charges that McCarthy's conduct should be censured. The committee was headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah). Any action the present Senate took on Resolution No. 301 would have to be completed before the 84th Congress took over. If the 84th wanted to resume the McCarthy case, it could do so only by a new resolution. On Aug. 20, with its business finished for the year, the House adjourned. It could not return unless President Eisenhower called it back in special session. But on Aug. 29 the Senate was far from finished. It would have to consider censure for McCarthy if the Watkins committee recommended that, as it did later. So House and Senate agreed that the latter could go on working but no later than Dec. 24. The Senate could not continue debate on McCarthy beyond Dec. 24 unless the House came back and voted approval. Eisenhower would hardly call a special session just for that. But next year's Senate could pick up the problem of censuring McCarthy if a senator introduced a resolution to do so and a majority approved.

Belgians Eagerly Enter Century's Second Half

BRUSSELS, — Leaves from a Belgian notebook: The Belgian people are heartily in favor of rearming their big German neighbors, who overran them in two great world wars in a generation. Many visitors find this hard to understand. To the ordinary Belgian it is merely a matter of accepting the hard facts of geography. The soil of Belgium literally has been reddened by the blood of millions of men through the centuries. famous battlefields are known to every American high school history student. But any high school student here could name you a dozen more great battles fought in the area of Belgium, from Roman times until now. Belgium in wartime is simply an accorcion of anguish — squeezed back and forth by the armies of bigger powers. "That is why even Belgian underground leaders who fought fiercely against the Nazis now are in favor of rearming Germany," explained an American who lives here. "They know it is impossible to keep the Germans permanently disarmed, and they are in favor of any plans that will make all their big neighbors allies instead of enemies." There are no signs of combat fatigue in Belgium, exhaustion of the spirit, no frustrated sense of bitterness against the present, such as visitors sometimes say they see in France. A tidy people in a tidy country, the Belgians are bouncing into the second half of the 20th century with the eager resiliency of a rubber ball. This small land, welding as it does the Teutonic and Latin strains of European culture, is a little living museum, crowded with the treasured masterpieces of the past. No country its size has so many historic objects worth picturing on postcards. But while he admires these old glories, the ordinary Belgian isn't overwhelmed by them. He is almost as gadget-crazy as an American, and if his home doesn't have every labor-saving device on the market it is for only one reason—he can't afford them. But he is eager to try new things, and new ways of doing old things better.

Looking For More Efficiency? Try The Use Of Chewing Gum

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note. If you want to increase the efficiency of your office help — those of the readers, that is, who crack the whip over a bunch of working stiffs — encourage them to chew gum. A Chicago psychiatrist, Dr. Leo H. Bartemeier, recommends it, even though the Emily Posts and the Amy Vanderbilts might not think it graceful. A chew will raise a person's work I. Q., Dr. Bartemeier insists, because it helps discharge tension. Most types of office work, he adds, do not offer enough release for those built-up tensions, which is why you oftentimes see people biting or chewing their pencils or nibbling on candy or food during working hours. Dr. Bartemeier contends such an urge isn't to satisfy hunger but rather to discharge "oral aggressive drives." Permitting the help to exercise their jaws with gum might increase their efficiency as much as 17 per cent, the psychiatrist maintains. In jobs that provide a chance for releasing aggression—such as operating a pneumatic drill or running a steam shovel — workers do not feel the necessity of munching while working. Many psychiatrists have long insisted that our instinctive impulse for putting things into our mouths, beginning in infant nursing, can be transferred to our hands. According to Dr. Bartemeier, the close relationship between the mouth and working is seen in many aspects of our lives. We use such expressions as "sinking our teeth into the job" and "biting off more than we can chew." We refer to a job as our "bread and butter" and to existence as "living from hand to mouth." Many of man's tools also show the relationship. All wrenches and vices have "jaws." Saws, rakes and gears have "teeth." Dr. Bartemeier also draws attention to the fact that it is a common experience to see people accompanying a manual task with facial movements, such as pursing the lips, tensing the jaw or swallowing motions resembling those made during chewing the food. Those movements, says the doctor, are more likely to occur when the efforts with the hands are not working out too successfully. Dr. Bartemeier also applauds the do-it-yourself trend, maintaining it has a beneficial effect on the nation's health. Energies left over from the day's job, says he, are drained off in the basement workshop instead of at the evening snack table. —TOMMY HART

The Belgians Are Contented; No Wonder, With That Bread!

BRUSSELS, Belgium — When I return home for the holidays, all my ever-lovin' family needs to do is to pop an apple 'into my mouth and arrange a little parsley around me on the platter. During my days in the hospitable land, I have been stuffed like a pig. And I don't want anyone in the audience to suffer under the delusion that it was forced feeding! I have been a willing volunteer because the food in Belgium, as I have heard all my life, is superb.

Belgium is obviously the original home of the Three-Hour-for-Luncheon Club. And if the meal is real good, by Belgian standards (divine, by American), they don't object to tossing in an extra, or fourth, hour. What the traveler needs in this country, above all else, is an expanding waist band. Unfortunately, mine are stationary, and asphyxiation probably will be my fate within the next 24 hours. But I shall die happy. Belgian bread is the best I have ever eaten since Mama, Grandma, and Aunt Nell and Aunt Kit stopped making bread at home 25 years ago. Here in Belgium bread is bread. I don't give a hoot whether it has any vitamins or B1, 2 or 3 in it. What it has is a real, deep-down, locked-in good taste just like Mother used to bake. The crust is brown and crispy and delicious, and the bread has substance and character. You can get your teeth into this bread and chew it. It just doesn't give up and slide down the gullet like a frightened oyster as does its American 64th cousin once removed. When these Belgians put a basket of bread down in front of the customer in a restaurant, they don't accompany it with a pat of butter approximately the size and thickness of a three-cent stamp. This little country, where the cost of living is slightly higher than in the United States, brings each and every patron a dish with never less than four large pats of butter. And if the customer eats all the bread and butter, and he's a fool if he doesn't, it's not necessary to beg for more. The watchful waiter is always on hand with fresh and generous replacements. There is a saying in Europe that the Belgians are devoted to two things: food and money, which certainly isn't a bad parody. It is my considered opinion that in the years since the war, these hard-working, intelligent and industrious people have achieved a high proportion of each or both. As in the United States, there is spotty unemployment today in Belgium. But the standard of living is certainly one of the highest in Europe and the world. In the countryside, and in such cities as Ghent, Bruges, Antwerp and Brussels, every Belgian is well-fed, well-clothed and content. A beggar is unthinkable. There is a great moral, too, in these obvious facts: In Belgium, communism is all but nonexistent. This is the testimony not only of American observers but of Belgians of all stations. Perhaps we in America ought to take a tip from Belgium and improve the quality of our bread!

Austin Recollections—Raymond Brooks

Political Playback

Prohibition, to me, brings up a swift-changing succession of individuals, people who figured in the biggest political-social-moral issue in this century of Texas public affairs. Later I'm going to spin that kaleidoscope. Meantime, there were sidights in the nature of events, impressions, apart from personalities, that left a pungent tang like the whisky the bartender used to pour on the sidewalk sawdust, like the sugar on the flypaper. One was the unique way that Texas helped repeal the "noble experiment." Texas couldn't wait for a session of the Legislature, to ratify the repeal amendment to the United States Constitution. Besides, Texas wasn't sure that a preponderantly dry Legislature would ratify repeal. So, the unusual procedure was invoked of a "constitutional convention." Delegates were elected under a procedure similar to the political party convention series. The convention delegates assembled in the Texas House of Representatives and voted ratification of the repeal amendment. Incidentally, between the time the 36th state ratified and thus made effective the repeal of prohibition, and the time the Texas Legislature could set up its liquor control system, there was a period of about six months in which the old-fashioned saloon system was revived, without any controls or limitations. The most vivid sensory pictures of the prohibition era came out of the cedar brakes near Austin. It may have been typical. Moonshine brew came from unknown places, by unknown processes. This one was documented. This hillbilly thirst-quencher did not have much equipment. He didn't have a cooking vat for the fermented mash, nor that spiral copper retort tube of the cartoons. He had a big clothes wash-pot, a riding horse and saddle. There was a saddle blanket, about an inch thick, which had been used on the sawback horse until it was well soaked with sweat-salt and discolored with saddle scabs. In order to collect the alcohol vapors boiled off from the fermented mash in his wash-pot, this distiller simply laid the sweat-caked saddle-blanket on top the wash pot and boiled away. When it was saturated, he wrung it out into a wash-tub. Bottled, the liquid wrung from this blanket was prohibition moonshine whiskey. That was the flavor of prohibition.

Sheriff Is Speedy

MORRISTOWN, N. J. — If you get in trouble in Morris County, don't try for a fast get-away. Sheriff Arnold Ladd is an amateur car racer. His English M-T-C racer has got not only speed — but endurance as well. Ladd came in seventh in the recent 12-hour endurance grind for sports cars at Linden. And the sheriff does it all despite an artificial leg. He lost his right leg when his jeep hit a land mine in North Africa during the war.

Church Of England Asks For Change In Naming Bishops

LONDON — The Assembly of the Church of England has called for a change in the method of appointing its bishops and deans — a function in which Britain's Prime Minister has an important role. A resolution approved by the Assembly recently said the present system "is open to objection and should be modified." It did not indicate what changes should be made. A church spokesman said the resolution was considered at present only an expression of opinion and would not be pushed at this stage. The Church of England is Britain's state church. The sovereign now makes the appointments on the "advice" of the Prime Minister. By custom, the Prime Minister first confers with the Archbishop of Canterbury, spiritual head of the church.

Bull's Freedom Short

HOUSTON — Life was short for a 1,500-pound bull after it escaped from stockyards yesterday. The bull toured a golf course and charged a car. Four policemen came up and killed the reddish-brown animal near a drive-in theater with 10 rounds of ammunition.

She's Thinking About Christmas

Virginia Field, popular motion picture and TV actress, makes some plans for Christmas. She talks about diet and relaxation.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

How To Relax, Even In The Bustle Of Yuletide

By Lydia LANE
HOLLYWOOD — The spirit of Christmas was in the air and very much in evidence as I drove down Hollywood Blvd. toward NBC for a visit with Virginia Field. When I joined Virginia on the set of "Fire-side Theater" it seemed natural to talk about the coming holiday season and I found that with Christmas only a month away, Virginia was doing some wise holiday planning.

"This year I'm going to avoid all the mistakes I've made before," Virginia said firmly. "Holidays can be fatiguing and uncomfortable if you don't plan your activities wisely."

"Some people use the Christmas season as an excuse to let down all the bars, and that's foolish. I intend to have a wonderful Christmas dinner—but no second-helpings for me. I hate that sluggish feeling that comes with over-indulgence and I don't want it to spoil my day."

"What about all the candy and extra goodies that lie around to tempt you?" I wanted to know. "I'll leave those for children," she laughed. "I want to be able to sit comfortably in my new holiday clothes."

That brought to mind the inevitable chore of Christmas shopping. "That's where another of my resolutions comes in," Virginia replied.

"There's nothing more fatiguing than a day of Christmas shopping unless you go about it the right way. I'm going to take time out at Intervals for a hot cup of tea. There's nothing quite so relaxing. In London, during the war, they tried to abolish the tea break to speed up production. They soon went right back to it, however, when they found that production actually suffered without that few minutes of valuable refreshment.

"Then I'm going to make sure I wear comfortable shoes on my shopping trips. This is something that really helps stave off fatigue—whether shopping or otherwise. And it's always a good idea not to wear the same pair of shoes two days in succession. This is not only easier on your feet but helps prolong the life of your shoes."

Virginia told me about her favorite footwear. "After a day on my feet, I like to soak them in hot water and lemon juice. This seems to draw out all the ache and then there's nothing like that old trick of lying with your feet higher than your head to soothe that tense, tired feeling."

I congratulated Virginia on her neat solutions to the usual holiday headaches and made a mental note to try them myself. "Though Virginia has lived in Hollywood for some time, she has retained that lovely, fresh-looking skin that is so often associated with English women. I found her skin-care routine to be efficient and simple."

"When I'm not working, I use as little make-up as possible," she confided. "I'm a great believer in scrubbing your face clean and giving it a rest from make-up every so often to let your pores breathe. If this sometimes results in dryness, a few drops of almond oil will fix it."

Women Mental Patients Are Given Permanents

Fifty women patients from Big Spring State Hospital look better today and probably feel happier than they did before Sunday morning.

The patients were given permanents Sunday by 21 beauty operators from Midland who came here to participate in a project sponsored by the regional Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists.

The goal of the project is to give all the State Hospital Patients permanents by Christmas. Next Sunday operators from Odessa will come to Big Spring and work with the patients. Other cities participating will be Abilene and Lubbock. The Big Spring unit will sandwich in work between that done by the out-of-town groups.

Dr. Roy Sloan of the State Hospital, has praised the project as "giving a sense of well-being and emotional happiness to the patients" and feels that it contributes a great deal to the overall management and treatment of individuals who are not emotionally stable.

The work was done Sunday at the Youth and Settles beauty salons and probably will be carried on their next Sunday. Four operators will go to the hospital to give permanents to those patients who are not able to come into town.

Operators were on duty from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sunday giving the permanents.

Dance Honors Gen. Dean

Over 400 persons attended the formal farewell dance for Gen. Fred M. Dean at the Webb Air Force Base Officers' Club Saturday evening.

Preceding the dance a dinner and cocktail party for the general was held by squadron and group commanders and staff officers. About 90 were guests at this event.

Center of interest was a large cake in the shape of a star. Dancing began at 9 p.m. to the music of Lee Powers' orchestra. A floor show was held during the evening.

Following the theme, "Operation Oasis," the club was decorated extensively with green plants and shrubbery. Silver stars were placed throughout the area.

A semi-formal dance will be sponsored next Saturday evening at the club by the Medical Group. Bobby Burns and his orchestra will play from 9 to 1.

ARTISTIC CAKE
... you can do this with new booklet of decorating tricks

Decorating Cake For Holidays Now Easy

Whether it's a party, a birthday or a family surprise, the occasion can be just as special as your cake makes it. Thanks to a new booklet that gives all the cake decorating tricks and ideas you could ever want, it's easy to serve cakes that are beautiful and original.

Everyone can decorate a cake with the easy-to-follow techniques of frosting preparation and cake decorating found in the booklet "Icings, Frostings and Cake Decorating Made Easy," now offered by Imperial Sugar Company. This 25-page booklet is compactly arranged to make frosting fun... cake decorating easy.

SHINY CHOCOLATE FROSTING
3 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups sifted Confectioners Powder
2 cups Sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
7 tablespoons milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
Melt chocolate and butter together over hot water. Mix remaining ingredients in bowl. Add hot chocolate mixture. Stir until blended. Cool, stirring occasionally, until of good spreading consistency. Makes generous amount for a two-layer cake.

During the coming holidays you may want to decorate a "Merry Christmas Cake" using a Christmas tree design. For New Year's Eve, "The Clock Cake" helps set the tempo for celebrating. Decorate the top of the cake with a face of clock design with the hands pointing to midnight. Then paste calendar sheets of the months of the new year around the cake plate.

A free copy of "Icings, Frostings and Cake Decorating Made Easy" may be obtained by sending the red block marked "Pure Cane" from an Imperial Powdered or Brown Sugar carton to Imperial Sugar Company, Sugar Land, Texas.

Something Special But Easy Is This Turkey Hot Brown

Having some friends over and want to serve something special-but easy? TURKEY HOT BROWN is a new way to use turkey and make a big impression with guests or family. A creamy cheese and mushroom sauce is laced over the turkey slices. This sauce browns beautifully under the broiler and is piping hot and bubbling when placed on the table. Either the large, more choice slices from your turkey, or the smaller pieces may be used for this main dish which is low in cost but still on the elegant side.

Put the water, salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over the low heat for 14 minutes. Remove from heat, but leave lid on for 10 minutes. Spread the cooked rice over a greased shallow baking dish about 12 inches x 8 inches. Heat together the mushroom soup, milk, salt and pepper. Pour half this mixture over the rice. Place the slices of turkey over the rice. The slices should not overlap. If small pieces of turkey are used, arrange them on the rice to make six servings of turkey. Add the cheese to the mushroom soup-milk mixture and heat slowly until the cheese melts. Pour this over the turkey and rice. Sprinkle with the paprika and place in the broiler and broil until hot and bubbly. Watch closely to prevent top from becoming too brown. This recipe makes 6 servings.

Here Is Selection Of Good Stuffing Recipes

Here is an assortment of stuffing recipes that can become a tradition at your house. Some are for turkey, others for duck.

OLIVE CLAM STUFFING
1/2 cup ripe olives
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/4 cup butter or margarine
4 cups soft bread crumbs
1/4 cup thinly sliced celery
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1/4 cup drained minced clams
1/4 cup liquid from clams
Cut olives into large pieces. Cook onion slowly in butter until tender but not browned. Pour over bread crumbs. Add olives, celery, salt, thyme and pepper and toss lightly to blend. Add clams and sprinkle clam broth over crumbs to moisten lightly. Toss to mix thoroughly. Enough stuffing for large roasting chicken. Triple this recipe for a 12 pound turkey.

CORN DRESSING
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon onion
4 rolls
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 can whole kernel corn
Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Add onions and saute until golden brown. Dip rolls in water; squeeze out most of moisture. Add rolls to onions and mix together with wooden spoon. Place rolls and onions in bowl; allow to cool. Add eggs and mix well. Then add remaining ingredients. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Makes enough dressing for an 8 to 10 pound turkey.

Here's A Change From Pumpkin Pie

If the family does not insist on pumpkin pie to make the festive dinner complete, a coffee-egg nog pie would be certain to make a hit. Serve it with fragrant coffee for a memorable dessert. This pie should particularly please the busy cook who likes to prepare part of the big dinner a day in advance, for it is best served cold from the refrigerator.

THANKSGIVING COFFEE EGGNOG PIE
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold coffee
2 cups hot coffee
1/4 cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon brandy flavoring
1 cup heavy cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 9-inch baked pie shell
1 square unweetened chocolate
Soften gelatin in cold coffee; dissolve in hot coffee. Add sugar; stir until dissolved. Pour slowly on well-beaten egg yolks. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Add flavoring.

Whip cream; fold in. Beat egg whites with salt; fold in. Spoon into pie shell. Chill until set. Garnish with shaved chocolate.

Flavor Change

For a change in preparing pot-roast season it with a mixture of marjoram, basil and rosemary; a mixture of curry powder and lemon rind, or a small amount of horseradish.

Russia Still Has Country Village Named Christmas

MOSCOW (AP)—Down in southern Russia, 27 years after the Bolshevik Revolution, a little village is still called "Christmas."

"Somehow they never got around to changing the name," complains Komsomol Pravda, newspaper of the Young Communist League. Furthermore, the paper says, the people never got around to changing their churchgoing habits.

Autumn, after the harvest, is the traditional time for weddings in rural Russia and without fail, the paper complains, "there are marriages in churches—some of those getting married in church are even Komsomol members."

The paper quoted Maria Kudriatsova, district Komsomol secretary, as saying it was "only a habit" and asked: "It is a good habit! No, it is bad. Must we fight against it? Yes, we must."

There are about 2 1/2 million widowers in the United States.

150 Howard-Glasscock Drought Loans Total Above $400,000

By GLENN COOTES

More than a half million dollars is outstanding on FHA loans made to over 170 farmers and ranchers in Howard and Glasscock counties, according to Carlton J. Chapman, supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration here. The bulk of these loans were made to residents of Howard County, he added, and 150 of them, representing over $400,000.00, are part of the Drought Emergency Loan Program.

Any farmer or rancher who is unable to obtain a loan from private sources is eligible to receive aid from the FHA, Chapman said. The government realized that many farmers and ranchers would be unable to stay on their farms without some kind of financial assistance during the drought years.

Because of this, it established the FHA program to assist the farmers and ranchers in helping themselves, said Chapman.

Also, Chapman said, the FHA will make 100 per cent loans to qualified individuals who wish to enter the agricultural field.

Applicants for loans, who do not own the land they intend to farm, must furnish written lease from their landlord to run concurrently with the amortization of the loan, the supervisor said. Also, the applicant must have reasonable prospects for success with the aid of the loan.

Applications can be made at either the FHA office in Howard County or the ASC office in Glasscock County, Chapman said. A local certification committee decides whether the applicant is eligible and approves the loan, he added.

Some of the emergency loans now being made are:

1. Special Livestock Loans, available to farmers and ranchers who need credit to continue cattle, goat, or sheep operations. These loans bear five per cent interest and are repayable as fast as possible.

2. Production and Economic Emergency Loans, available where serious losses in agricultural production have occurred due to natural calamities. These loans are repayable at the end of the crop year when the loan is made and bears three per cent interest.

3. The Hay and Feed Grain Program, enabling farmers and ranchers to obtain feed at reduced transportation costs in areas which have been designated disaster areas. Glasscock County is now eligible under this program.

The FHA assists farmers and ranchers during normal times, too, explained Chapman. Operating loans are available through the

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Chameleon catches insects by shooting out its long tongue.

One of the world's strange animals is the chameleon (pronounced Kuh-ME-le-un or Kuh-MEEL-yun). It is known for its power to change color. In addition it can use its long tongue with amazing skill.

There are various kinds of cha-meleons. All belong to the lizard family, but some chameleons differ widely from others. Those I shall describe today are native to Africa, and are most widely known because of their changes in color.

Want to go on a thrilling exploration of the planets? Write for A ROCKET TRIP TO OUTER SPACE, a fascinating new leaflet which takes you with Uncle Ray on an atom-powered flight through the universe. To obtain a free copy send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Uncle Ray in care of this newspaper.

Some persons suppose that chameleons change color on the instant, but this is a mistake. A change takes time, and even after an hour or more on certain backgrounds the animal fails to match color.

Tests have proved that the colors become different after changes from daylight to darkness, and from warm air to cold air. Anger and fear also play parts in changing chameleon colors.

In daylight a common chameleon of Africa is gray-green except for brown spots or patches along the sides of the body. After darkness the animal takes on a cream color, and has yellow spots.

In the shade on a cool day a chameleon of Africa tends to become all gray. The same animal turns all green while in the shade during a hot day.

When a chameleon becomes afraid, it tends to become pale. In bright sunshine, on the other hand, the skin darkens and at length seems almost black.

Just as strange, perhaps, is the long tongue of a chameleon. This organ is kept out of sight most of the time, but it is ready for use when a fly or other insect comes within range. Judging distance and location with only one eye, the chameleon suddenly shoots out its tongue and strikes the insect in a flash. Then the victim is hauled in the mouth and chewed between small teeth.

There is a larger part, a sticky knob, at the end of the tongue. This knob strikes the insect.

The tongue may be seven or eight inches long, the same length as a common chameleon. Another kind of African chameleon has a tongue which is longer than its body.

Lady Psychiatrist Found Dead; Ired Veteran Suspected

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police here planned a check of records on all Veterans Administration patients examined by murdered psychiatrist Elinor M. Langton.

Dr. Langton, 32, chief of the Mental Hygiene Clinic of the Veterans Administration Hospital here for three years, was found dead Saturday on the rear floor of her car, parked in nearby Chester.

Found in the car was a belt which police said apparently came from an Army-issue coat. Investigators theorized that she may have been murdered by a veteran whose claim for compensation she had disallowed.

An autopsy showed there was a possibility Dr. Langton was still alive when her assailant left her. Dr. William Miller of the Fitzgerald Mercy Hospital in suburban Upper Darby, who performed the autopsy, said she may have strangled on her own salivary fluid and that a partial dental plate had slipped down into her throat. Her head and pelvic area were battered but she was not assaulted sexually, Dr. Miller said.

One Way To Get Scientific Data

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten-year-old Terry Stromberg tied a message to a gas-filled balloon a week ago and set it loose at her Chicago home.

"Help, please!" the message read. She signed her name and added her address.

Yesterday a farmer found the balloon in a field near Grand Junction, Mich., 75 miles northeast of Chicago, across Lake Michigan. He notified Michigan state police who, in turn, radioed Illinois police.

Sugar Heir's Term To End On Holiday

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Jailers say sugar heir Adolph Sprockels II, 43, will get time for good behavior lopped from his 30-day jail sentence for wife beating.

He should be released about 8 a.m. Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and should be able to eat turkey—instead of soup, the jail fare—for Thanksgiving dinner, jailers said he is getting five days off for model behavior.

Toronto Bridge Gives Way; Two Are Injured

TORONTO (AP)—Weakened by recent floods, a Toronto bridge collapsed last night and tumbled a truck 30 feet into a stream. The vehicle's two youthful occupants escaped.

Driver Bruce Logan, 21, said he saw the structure sag when his truck was in the middle. "I knew I'd never make it across," he said, "so I just hung on."

The truck landed upright with a steel girder on top, wedging the doors shut. The two youths smashed a window and scrambled up the bank. They suffered severe cuts and bruises.

Ideal Job Conditions

SOUTH SIOUX CITY, Neb. (AP)—Safecracker who entered John Drake's grocery over the weekend dragged the safe into a meat cooler where they had made-to-order sound-proofing, before breaking it open. They got away with $4,000.

local FHA office for the farmer who needs aid in running a "family-type farm." This type of farm is one which will maintain full productive year-round employment for the farmer and his family. The farm should be large enough to provide a good living and pay all necessary operating expenses. An applicant can borrow as much as $7,000 at a time and total outstanding debt is limited to $10,000. The interest on these loans is five per cent per year on the unpaid balance.

Funds which are advanced to meet the operating costs during a crop year must generally be paid when that year's income is received, said Chapman. Security for the loans consists of a first mortgage on all crops to be produced with the funds as well as on livestock and equipment.

Being already in debt will not necessarily keep a farmer from obtaining a loan, Chapman explained. But the FHA must know the extent of any indebtedness and what plans have been made to pay it.

50 MILLION CARS

comes an all-new General Motors masterpiece

PONTIAC FOR '55

The 1955 Pontiac is getting a royal welcome. "It's hot," they're saying, "the hot car of the year." And no wonder! With its Vogue Two-Tone styling and Strato-Streak V-8 engine, Pontiac wraps up more beauty, luxury, size and power than a like amount of money ever bought before. The price is near the lowest, but the car is way out front in everything that makes an automobile great.

The reason lies in the achievement General Motors is now celebrating—the vast experience gained in building 50 million cars. Research experience that uncovers what you want and need. Design experience that creates new trends. Engineering experience producing more dollar-for-dollar quality year after year.

That's the background of this All-New General Motors Masterpiece. Come in, drive it, and find out what it means to you. Let your own eyes tell you that here is the smartest car on the highway. Let your own hands report the new handling perfection brought about by recirculating ball steering and other advancements in the all-new shock-proof chassis. And let the great new Strato-Streak V-8 whisper its tale of getaway, response and compelling power that make driving a brand-new experience.

Then let us tell you about Pontiac's new thrift and reliability—and how little it costs to buy this future-fashioned beauty. Come in soon and get the exciting facts!

Four Elevens In Running For 1-AAA Grid Pennant

Standings can get so confused in District 1-AAA on Thanksgiving Day, it could take the executive committee half of basketball season to figure out the bi-district representative. Breckenridge can win the right to compete in the playoffs by beating Vernon. Big Spring can tie for first place by beating Sweetwater. However, should Sweetwater defeat Big Spring and Breckenridge get upset by Vernon, the Ponies will emerge into the playoffs. Should Vernon defeat Breckenridge and Big Spring tie Sweetwater, then the Lions will be tied with Breck and Big Spring for the lead.

Big improvement in surprising Plainview last week, 34-12. Levelland appears capable of knocking a down-trodden Plainview team. Breckenridge, though it was held to two touchdowns last week, remains the top scoring team with 301 points. In conference play, the Bucs have registered 174 points. Defensively, Vernon has been the toughest, yielding only 87 points, 65 of them in conference play. (agate)

RICE BIG HURDLE

Sugar Bowl Offer May Go To Baylor

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
It's showdown week in the South-west Conference and Baylor hopes to be one of those doing the showing.

The Golden Bears, driving toward a championship tie with Arkansas, face the hard-fighting Rice Owls at Waco Saturday in the big game—the one that may put Baylor into the Sugar Bowl. Arkansas, which wound up its conference schedule two weeks ago, is already in the Cotton Bowl, although it may have to share the title with Baylor. This came about through a conference rule that gives the Cotton Bowl host spot to the team that beat the other in regular season play in the event of a tie tie.

Smith, Andrews Take To Ring

By The Associated Press
Boardwalk Billy Smith and Punching Paul Andrews, the two leading light heavyweight contenders, share the boxing limelight this week. Smith, a dynamic clouter from Atlantic City, N. J., takes on heavyweight Archie McBride at New York's St. Nicholas Arena tonight. The 33-year-old Smith layed out Gene (Tiger) Jones, Willie Bean and Harold Johnson in quick order in his three fights this year. Du Mont will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Andrews, a tall, 24-year-old ex-paratrooper from Buffalo, N. Y., gets his big test Wednesday night against Joey Maxim, the ex-light heavyweight champion, at the Chicago Stadium.

Handed by Marshall Miles, who managed Joe Louis, Andrews is being groomed for shots at both the light heavy and heavyweight titles. He has a 28-3 record. Wildcat Billy McNece, of Islip, N. Y., and Ted Olla, of Milwaukee, two free-swinging middleweights, mix it up tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. ABC will telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

33-21 Saturday to ruin the Methodist's dream of a title and probably kill their bowl chances. SMU was leading the race until it ran into the Bear buzz-saw. Rice promised the stiffest of competition for Baylor by swiping Texas Christian 6-0 with an iron-handed defense. Arkansas was chastened by a 7-6 loss to off-defeated Louisiana State but didn't feel too badly in view of the fact that it got into the Cotton Bowl without an argument or turning a hand.

At Baylor they're talking about playing in the Sugar Bowl if they wind up with a victory over Rice for an 8-2 season record. They're in somewhat the same boat as 1951 when they had the best season record of any club in the league but failed to win the conference championship because of a tie with Texas A&M. The Bears went to the Orange Bowl. SMU and TCU, with nothing to lose, swat each other at Dallas Saturday in a conference game while Arkansas is closing the season against down-trodden University of Houston at Houston.

Before the big fireworks are set off a couple of ancient, bitter rivals will settle their own private championship. It's Texas vs. Texas A&M in their 61st meeting at Austin Thursday. A&M can't escape the cellar but might get to share it by beating Texas while TCU lost to SMU. It's the first time in years for the Aggies and Longhorns to both be down in the rack when they meet Texas in its fifth place. After this week there'll be only one game left. SMU plays Notre Dame at Dallas Dec. 4. The conference intersectional record for the year is 15 victories against eight losses.

Art Smith, cross country and track coach for West Virginia university, was coach of the U. S. Olympic track team in 1912 and 1920.

'Natural' Tilt Not Possible

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

The scramble of lucrative bowl bids was not over by any means today, but no matter how the final pairings line up the "natural" of the year won't take place.

The Rose Bowl is the only one of the four big post-season extravaganzas filled. It will pit twice-beaten Southern California against mighty Ohio State. UCLA, possibly the only team in the country capable of giving the Buckeyes an argument, played in the Rose Bowl last Jan. 1, and by Pacific Coast Conference edict, can't appear again.

As far as college football goes, that's a genuine tragedy. Both Ohio State and UCLA boast proud 9-0 records. Both are undisputed masters of their conferences—UCLA the PCC and Ohio State the Big Ten—and they rate the Nos. 1 and 2 teams in the nation.

If there was any doubt as to who was best in the PCC, it was dispelled last Saturday when UCLA clubbed the Trojans 24-0. Ohio State meanwhile, was winning its seventh Big Ten game, a 21-7 decision over Michigan.

Two other teams emerged with bowl assignments. They were Arkansas for the Cotton Bowl host and Nebraska as the visitor for the Orange Bowl. Both sneaked in the back door.

Arkansas was beaten by Louisiana State 7-6, and Nebraska suffered a 55-7 pasting at the hands of Oklahoma. But... Baylor beat Southern Methodist 33-21 in a Southwest Conference game. Since SMU was Arkansas' only competitor for the Cotton Bowl assignment, the defeat spelled doom for the Mustangs. Baylor still can tie Arkansas for the league title, but the Razorbacks had the forethought to whip Baylor earlier in the season to clinch it.

Oklahoma, like UCLA is barred from appearing in the Orange Bowl two years in a row, the runner-up gets it this year. Oklahoma's victory over Nebraska gave the Sooners their seventh straight Big Seven title.

Kansas State was the only team that had a chance of overtaking Nebraska in the race for second place. Colorado beat State 38-14 and that settled things.

If Duke can get past North Carolina Saturday, the Blue Devils no doubt will get the Atlantic Coast Conference spot in the Orange Bowl. A vote is taken, but Duke will have a spotless record compared to one tie against Maryland. Conversely, if the Blue Devils lose, Maryland probably will get the nod for the second straight year.

Should Mississippi win the Southeastern Conference championship by getting past Mississippi State Saturday, Ole Miss will act as host team in the Sugar Bowl. Baylor has a good chance of being named the visitor.

More Reserved Ducats Tuesday

All reserve seats for the Big Spring-Sweetwater football game Thursday were sold out within an hour this morning. However, Section 6 in the West stands is being converted into a reserved section and seats will be placed on sale at the School Tax Office and John Dibrell's Sporting Goods Store at 9 a.m. Tuesday. The section will seat about 410.

Moegle A Sure Rushing Leader

DALLAS (U)—Unless Rice's Dicky Moegle breaks a leg or something he'll be the Southwest Conference leading ball-carrier but other statistical championships are as uncertain as the weather.

The Rice Express roamed for 100 yards against Texas Christian last week to bring his total for the season to 779—a lead of 170 over runnerup Henry Moore of Arkansas. Dicky gets his last chance to cover territory Saturday as Rice closes the season against Baylor at Waco.

Duane Nutt of SMU still tops 104 throws for 713 yards but his margin is slim over Baylor's Billy Hooper, who gained 132 yards against SMU Saturday. Hooper is just 16 yards back and closing fast.

The Baylor quarterback made 29 yards rushing and shoved into the lead in total offense, replacing Elwood Kettler of Idle Texas A&M. Hooper now has 886 yards on 143 plays. Kettler is second with 852 on 201.

Ray Taylor of TCU still leads punters with an average of 41.9 yards on 44 boots. Moegle is the top punt returner with 202 yards on 13 runs and Fon Watson of A&M leads in kickoff returns with an average of 24.5 on seven.

Henry Gremminger of Baylor is the leading pass-receiver with 283 yards on 15 catches. Preston Carpenter of Arkansas and Eldon have caught the most, however, 19 apiece.

When Baylor gained 378 yards rushing and passing on SMU Saturday it took away the latter's defensive leadership. A&M now is tops, giving up only 252.7 yards while SMU is second with 253.9. But SMU gained 278 yards against Baylor and remains the No. 1 offensive team of the league with 337.2 yards per game.

PLAYOFF BRACKET WILL TAKE SHAPE THURSDAY

By The Associated Press
Six district championships go on the line Wednesday and Thursday to complete the state playoff brackets in Classes AAAA and AAA of Texas schoolboy football.

Abilene, Waco and Galveston, the major favorites in Class AAAA, already are in the field. Also holding district representations are Austin of El Paso, Poly of Fort Worth and Austin of Houston.

Thursday South Oak Cliff is expected to become the Dallas district contender for the state title. That night South Oak Cliff, tied with Sunset for the lead, plays off-beaten Adamson. Sunset faces Woodrow Wilson. If both win South Oak Cliff will get the playoff spot because it beat Sunset when they met.

Also Thursday Miller of Corpus Christi can win the Dist. 6 championship by beating Ray of Corpus Christi. A loss would throw the conference into a tie with Ray and Jefferson of San Antonio. In the event the latter wins its final game with Breckenridge of San Antonio.

Galveston is the only undefeated, untied team left in Class AAAA. The Tors won 10 straight. Abilene, however, has lost only one game and it's the game with Waco.

Garland, Sherman, Port Neches and San Antonio Alamo Heights are in the state playoff in Class AAA. The other four teams will be determined Wednesday and Thursday. Wednesday Austin McCallum closes the season against Austin Travis and by winning can wind up in a 3-way tie with Palestine and Temple for the Dist. 5 championship. In that event, the district committee will have to select the representative in the playoffs.

Thursday Breckenridge can sew up Dist. 1 by beating Vernon. Lufkin can win Dist. 4 by beating Nacogdoches and McAllen can take Dist. 7 by downing Pharr-San Juan-Alamo.

Port Neches is the defending champion of Class AAA but Lufkin is the championship favorite. The Panthers have won nine games and scored 399 points—an average of better than 44 per game.

Cleveland Faces Giants In Headliner Sunday

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns and the New York Giants, two of professional football's finest defensive clubs, collide at the Polo Grounds in New York Sunday in a game that should settle the wrestling for the Eastern Division title of the National Football League.

"They'll have a psychological edge," New York Coach Jim Lee Howell said. "They beat us last month, 24-14."

TO DALLAS

Florida May Get Bowl Invitation

DALLAS (U)—There were so many prospects of equal prominence for a Cotton Bowl visiting team today no one would hint at an outstanding contender.

Arkansas, which became host team in the Dallas New Year's day football game when Baylor beat Southern Methodist 33-21 to knock the latter out of the lead in the Southwest Conference race, has a list of teams but isn't saying publicly which is its preference.

Best indications were that Florida, Auburn, Mississippi, West Virginia, Georgia Tech and Penn State were the major candidates. The letter has finished the season with a 7-3 record but Florida, Auburn, Mississippi, West Virginia and Georgia Tech still have games to play.

Felix McKnight, president of the Cotton Bowl, said the team would not be selected until after next Saturday at the earliest.

At Fayetteville, John Barnhill, Arkansas director of athletics, said the list of preferences was being prepared by himself. Coach Bowen Wyatt and Dr. Delbert Swartz, chairman of the university faculty athletic committee, but that the choices would not be announced until the opponent is picked.

There were reports Arkansas favored Florida and did not want Mississippi because the Razorbacks already have beaten that team 6-0. Arkansas backed into the host spot Saturday while losing an inter-sectional game to Louisiana State 7-6. The Razorbacks already had finished the conference race with a 5-1 record and although they can be tied by Baylor for the championship they are in the Cotton Bowl because of having beaten Baylor in regular season.

East Texas Can Tie For Lead

By The Associated Press

The last guns of the Lone Star Conference football campaign will be fired this week with prospects of a tie for the championship.

Southwest Texas State leads with a record of five victories and one tie and East Texas State is second with four victories and one tie. East Texas closes the race Thursday against Sul Ross at Commerce.

Southwest Texas and East Texas played to a 7-7 tie last week, creating the probable deadlock for the crown.

Texas A&M plays Trinity at San Antonio Friday night, and that will be the final game of the season for a member of the conference. Sul Ross won its first conference victory of the campaign last week in beating Lamar Tech 27-20. Sam Houston State blasted Stephen F. Austin 42-25. A&I beat Mexico City College 20-13.

Coach Hampton Pool of the Los Angeles Rams won't pick a winner but he calls the Giants the most improved club in the league.

"They'll have a psychological edge," New York Coach Jim Lee Howell said. "They beat us last month 24-14."

Coach Hampton Pool of the Los Angeles Rams won't pick a winner but he calls the Giants the most improved club in the league.

"I couldn't believe the Giants were that good," Pool said. "They'll be tough for Cleveland. They'll be up. This is their 'must' game."

This was after the Rams had beaten the Giants 17-16 in a football melodrama yesterday.

The Browns for their part, turned in a great defensive effort in front of the Giants with 6-2 against the Giants' 6-3.

Detroit, after a bad scare, slipped by Green Bay 21-17 and took a firmer grip on its third straight Western Division championship.

In other games, the Chicago Bears took Baltimore 28-13 and the Chicago Cards thumped Washington 38-16. San Francisco dumped Pittsburgh 31-3 Saturday night.

Twice yesterday New York fought from behind, led 16-10 at the half and might have pulled it out with a fourth-period field goal. Ben Agajanian's kick from the 42 bumped the crossbar and dropped back onto the playing field.

Ex-Cub Pitcher Dies

DALLAS (U)—Uel Melvin (Pops) Eubanks, former Chicago Cubs pitcher, died in a hospital here yesterday after a brief illness. He was 51.

Move To Coast Talk Hinted

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (U)—The majors launched their annual draft meeting today but the big baseball news may emanate from another session, held by the National League alone, later in the day.

Although they insisted only routine business was to be discussed, reports persisted that the National League executives were to discuss plans for invading California and expanding into a 10-team circuit.

Provision for such expansion already has been made by the National, as well as the American League. It was believed the older league was determined to press for immediate investigation of such future sights as Los Angeles and San Francisco, in a race to win those two rich Pacific Coast League territories from the American.

The owners may also hear from Bill Veeck, former head of the St. Louis Browns, employed by Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs to explore the major league possibilities of Los Angeles and Frisco.

In order to add either of these cities, the majors would have to draft it and pay damages to the remaining Pacific Coast League clubs.

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the 10-club matter came up at our meeting," an unidentified National League club owner said. "I believe both major leagues will consist of 10 clubs within two or three years."

As for the draft, baseball men predicted a light selection from the minors, even lighter than last year, when only 13 players were promoted, costing the majors $132,500. Of this group, six managed to last out the season.

Webb Cage Quintet Is Seeking Games

Beware Of Lean And Hungry Teams, Dewitt Weaver Says

LUBBOCK (U)—Coach Dewitt Weaver of Texas Tech says beware of the lean and hungry men, to quote Julius Caesar.

He has had experience this football season to back up Julius' pungent comment. It's one reason Texas Tech is thinking about bowl games again.

Hunger for a victory and desire for revenge have been key factors in at least six of Tech's games this season, Weaver says.

"Take our game with Texas A&M, for instance," he points out. "A&M was the only team to beat us last season. Our boys vowed then that they'd win this season—and did, 41-9."

Weaver didn't mention another factor that may have entered into Tech's smashing triumph—the only time A&M has been beaten by more than two touchdowns this season. Weaver charged last spring A&M switched its vote to exclude Texas Tech from the Southwest Conference because it feared competition in West Texas for school-boy athletes.

"Trouble is," Weaver continued, "we didn't know that revenge works both ways. Oklahoma A&M and College of the Pacific both branded our victories last season their most bitter defeats. We barely tied Oklahoma A&M 13-13 and got beat 20-7 by College of the Pacific."

Tech needs a victory over Hardin - Simmons Saturday to wind up the season with a 7-3 record. In the last three games the Raiders have averaged 48 points.

Tech has already received some bowl feelers, including the Gator Bowl where the Raiders whipped Auburn 35-13 last Jan. 1.

"Louisiana State hadn't won a game when we played them and must have been pretty hungry. That added up to a 20-13 loss for us."

Weaver figured the Tigers also were hungry again last Saturday—they beat Arkansas.

After Tech lost to LSU and COP, the Red Raiders themselves were pretty hungry. So they broke their fast by trouncing the nation's leading yardmaker, Arizona, 28-14. They followed up with a 35-13 victory over Tulsa and a 61-14 trouncing of University of Houston.

Tech has already received some bowl feelers, including the Gator Bowl where the Raiders whipped Auburn 35-13 last Jan. 1.

Howard Payne And ACC Square Off

The Texas Conference football champion Howard Payne meets independent Abilene Christian at Abilene and McMurry takes on Missouri Valley of Marshall, Mo.

All three league members were inactive last week. The third, Eastern New Mexico, had finished the season earlier.

Houston Players Reported Better

HOUSTON (U)—Twenty-two University of Houston football players who were sick during the weekend Texas Tech game trip appear improved, coach Clyde Lee said yesterday.

He said all should be strong enough to play against the University of Arkansas here Saturday. None had been admitted to the university infirmary.

The players became ill after eating at a campus dormitory Thursday. Saturday, Tech beat Houston 61-14, the worst defeat in the Cougars' nine years of football.

Several of the players fainted at the Lubbock airport Saturday night and had to be carried aboard their plane, Lee said.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Breckenridge has tentatively been assigned to District 9-AA by the Texas Interscholastic League.

The Bucs will have as company in the circuit Stephenville, Cisco, Mineral Wells, Graham and Weatherford.

It's within the realm of possibility that Big Spring will wind up with a better football record than it enjoyed a year ago (8-1-1 vs 9-4), yet fall to get out of the district.

It's probable Breckenridge will end its regular season with a record which compares favorably with its mark of a year ago (8-1-1 vs 8-2), yet go into the playoffs.

Most everything depends on how well Vernon can contain the Breckenridge threat Thursday, as far as the Steers are concerned, but the Big Springers don't want to make the mistake of expecting Vernon to do it all. They've got quite a job on their hands, themselves, this Thursday.

Of the boys Snyder brought over here last weekend, only nine will not return in 1955.

They are Bernie Hagins, Gerald Crawford, Jimmy Bennett, O. Parker, Claud Stroud, Douglas James, Joe Parker, Steve Blair and Frankie Minton.

Hagins is the Tiger quarterback. Crawford and Bennett are first string backs. Blair and Minton are stickout linemen.

The Bengals do not expect their great team for two years but they could well take it all in 1955.

They had four undefeated teams in Snyder this fall—the Ninth Graders, Seventh Graders, Seventh Grade B team and one Ward School eleven.

The Snyder program is bound to pay off in several years, with material like that coming on.

Here's one reason the Tigers play inspired ball against Big Spring every year:

They haven't beaten the Steers since 1928 and have licked the locals only that one time. The tally then was 7-0.

Sophomores outnumber juniors on the Big Spring B football team, 28-15.

A Howard County Junior College basketball player who is probably going to be very popular here is little Jimmy Robinson of Lovington, N. M.

Robby is as fast as greased lightning. He stole the ball time and again from Webb's Dusters here last Saturday night.

He makes mistakes and runs away from the ball on occasions but you've got to remember he's only a freshman and is only recently out of high school.

Give him time and he should make his mark here.

Billy Maxwell, the former Nation Amateur golf champion, stopped off here last week enroute from California to Dallas, where he'll mark time for the winter golf tour.

Maxwell, whose parents and brother reside here, is now employed by a sporting goods manufacturing concern. He was in California practicing on some of the courses he'll be playing in January.

Maxwell played the local courses with Bobby Wright and Luke Thompson. He cut loose with a number of prodigious tee shots but he wasn't happy with them.

"Anybody who hits the ball like that doesn't deserve to win," he'd say.

There are those who are betting that Billy will be right up there with pro golf's best in a few years. He's got the power of concentration, the killer's instinct that a professional needs.

DiMaggio Enters Coast Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—Joe DiMaggio is in Franklin Hospital but attendants said today his condition was not serious.

Nature of the former New York Yankee baseball star's ailment was not reported, but friends said he frequently has been troubled by a duodenal ulcer and is about 10 pounds under weight.

He entered the hospital yesterday, leaving strict orders against telephone calls or visitors.

DiMaggio was a frequent visitor to bedside of Marilyn Monroe, his divorced wife, after she underwent minor surgery in Los Angeles earlier this month.

Sen. Cordon Concedes His Defeat in Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Republican Sen. Guy Cordon, who lost the Nov. 2 U.S. senatorial election in Oregon to Democrat Richard L. Neuberger by 2,462 votes, conceded defeat yesterday.

He sent Neuberger a telegram saying: "The people of Oregon have spoken. You face an onerous task, a tremendous responsibility. I wish you success."

Unusual Selfishness Key To Cullen's Life

Millionaire Roy Cullen has described himself as the most selfish man in the world. By his definition of the word, he might be right; but not in any dictionary sense of the word.

Cullen has given over 93 percent of his fortune to various organizations and individuals. He gives his money away personally, because he receives a personal pleasure in seeing the money used for worthwhile purposes. Thus, he has tried to refute the age-old platitude that money doesn't bring happiness. His money has brought happiness to thousands of Texans, who benefited by his philanthropy, and to Roy Cullen, who has enjoyed giving it away.

Cullen calls this philanthropy, selfishness.

The story of his life, HUGH ROY CULLEN, A Story of American Opportunity, by Ed Kilman and Theon Wright, Prentice Hall, Inc., $4.00), is a story of our American heritage in the "rugged individualist" tradition.

Texas Roy Cullen was born on a farm in Denton County in 1881. He left school after the fifth grade to help his mother make ends meet. His first job paid him $3.00 a week which he handed over to his mother. But young Roy rapidly gained a good reputation for honest dealing and when he entered the cotton business, he was often able to borrow as high as $250,000 from banks, using only his word as collateral.

At the age of 23, Roy decided to be his own boss. But he soon found that he couldn't make any money in the cotton business. After careful consideration, he decided that Houston would be the city of opportunity in the future.

In 1911, Cullen moved his family to Houston and entered the real estate business. But a friend interested him in oil, due to the numerous oil strikes being made throughout Texas.

Cullen became one of the most successful drillers in the oil fields. He attributes his success to the fact that he used his own method of locating oil. He calls his system "creekeology." Cullen discovered and developed many of the most famous and productive oil fields in Texas. Some of them were found on land which the big oil companies had already drilled and failed to find oil. His "creekeology" made him one of the wealthiest men in the world.

But Roy Cullen hasn't kept his wealth. Most of it has been given away. For instance, few people had heard of the University of Houston before Cullen took an interest in it. The school did not have a campus and was using an old building for classrooms. Due principally to Cullen's efforts, the University now has a beautiful campus. Most of the buildings were financed by members of the Cullen family.

It is perhaps fitting that Cullen should take an interest in education. His grandfather, Ezekiel Cullen, was one of those responsible for the creation of a Texas public school system, when a member of the Legislature.

Other recipients of Cullen's philanthropy have been an art museum, a medical school, the Houston Symphony Orchestra, and the Boy and Girl Scouts. He once gave four Houston hospitals over four million dollars in the space of 48 hours. The Cullen Foundation has about $160,000,000.00.

Although he is neither Republican nor Democrat, Cullen takes an active interest in politics. He says that he supports the man, not the party, but due to his opposition to the New and Fair Deal, the Republicans have received much of his support. He opposed both Roosevelt and Truman and was an ardent backer of Eisenhower.

The book is an interesting portrayal of the oil business — and one man's definition of selfishness.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Who Decides What?

Dear Miss Brandow:
Who should decide what's to be done on a date? Sometimes you say that a boy should invite a girl for a specific occasion; other times that the girl has the right to choose. My steady and I are at a loss to know which is right, as well as what to do on dates.

To be successful, a date must be enjoyed by both parties, and this is virtually impossible if one person forces his or her will upon the other.

A gentleman should, in all things, consider the wishes and happiness of his girl. If her desires are too different from his, he has the wrong girl. Occasionally, of course, he will want very much to see a particular movie or attend a special party. In that case he should invite her specifically to it. Ordinarily, for the sake of clarity, a boy asks a girl to go dancing with him, or to a movie, rather than just "for a date." Before he pops the date question he tries to decide what would please them both. He may properly suggest a date, naming several forms of entertainment from which she may choose.

Steadies who see a great deal of each other frequently find planning new and different entertainment a chore. In that case, they

Iowa Governor Killed In Crash; Wife Is Injured

DES MOINES (AP)—Gov. William S. Beardsley was killed in an automobile-truck crash near here last night, less than two months before he would have completed his third term as Iowa's chief executive.

Highway patrolmen said the car crashed into the rear of a pickup truck driven by John Gardner, 54, of Des Moines, about six miles north of Des Moines on State Highway 60.

Beardsley, 53, a Republican and one of the early supporters of Dwight Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952, was the first Iowa chief executive to die in office.

The Beardsleys had gone to Ames to visit their youngest son, Dan, 20, a student at Iowa State College. They were returning to Des Moines when the accident occurred.

Ironically, they failed to find Dan at Ames as he was attending a movie. The boy said he first learned of his father's death from a news broadcast.

Beardsley's administration was active in promoting highway safety.

Highway Patrolman Glenn McDole said when he arrived at the accident he found Gov. Beardsley lying with his head in his wife's lap.

"Bill hasn't moved," he quoted Mrs. Beardsley as saying.

Dr. Lester Powell said the governor's death was caused by chest injuries.

Mrs. Beardsley was reported in serious condition with cuts, knee, shoulder and spine injuries and shock.

Gardner and two passengers in the pickup truck — his daughter Janice, 20, and a stepdaughter, Lois Evans, 17 — were taken to Broadlawn Hospital with cuts and bruises.

McDole said the accident took place just after the Beardsley car had come over the top of a hill. He said Gardner gave this account:

Another car had pulled off the road on the shoulder and the driver had flagged Gardner down. Gardner had slowed to 10 to 15 miles per hour to pull off on the shoulder and the Beardsley car then struck the truck from behind.

"Skid marks on the highway indicated no excessive speed on the governor's part," McDole said.

Gov. Beardsley did not seek reelection in the general election earlier this month.

U.S. Gov. Leo Elthon, also a Republican, automatically became governor under Iowa law to fill out Beardsley's unexpired term. He will serve until Gov. elect Leo A. Hoegh, a Republican, is inaugurated. That is scheduled for Jan. 12.
