der, that Mr. Truman's anti-inflation proposals are "totalitarian. He added that his message to Congress Monday, as well as Tru's speech later the same day, speak for themselves.

3-Told that Republicans contend he has export controls now that he is not using. Mr. Truman said that probably is correct to some extent.

What he asked for, he said, was extension of export controls.

4-He expects to submit to Congress in about 10 days the administration's long range plan for European Economic Recovery. Emergency aid to tide France, Italy and Austria over the winter already is under consideration in Congress.

Initial hearings by the Senate-House Economic Committee on the President's request for the inflation controls were scheduled after the meeting of GOP senators.

Marra.

The general replied that a letter from LaMarre on last September 27—after the Senate probe started—confirmed the $18,000 loan and repayment.

Ferguson said this letter was "self-serving." William Rogers, committee counsel, broke in to note that LaMarre testified this was a "phony letter" which Meyers asked his former business associate to write.

Rogers asked why the general was seeking written data about 1940-45 transactions in September 1947, after the company had been liquidated.

Meyers insisted that the committee probe had "nothing to do with it whatsoever." He said treasury tax agents had asked him to supply the data.

Rogers then asked about earlier testimony by President Lawrence Bell of Bell Aircraft Corporation that General Meyers had recommended Aviation Electric for a subcontract from the Bell company.

Most of the company's business and profits came from Bell subcontracts.

Meyers said that he would not dispute Bell's testimony but added that other companies than Aviation Electric also had been recommended to Bell by other officers.

Unemployment Very Low in Pampa Area

Employment in the Pampa area is lagging, but there are relatively few people out of work except those driven in from outside jobs during the inclement weather, a Texas Employment office report said this morning.

It appears that turnover, or "quits," have reached an all time low. Major employers report that people are staying on the job with a tenacity heretofore unknown.

Most retail businesses whose trade accelerates during Christmas season, have a waiting list of experienced people waiting call to go to work on these temporary jobs.

Claims for unemployment compensation have reached a low not attained in years. Veterans readjustment pay has also kept pace with the downward trend of unemployment claims of civilians.

Specialty sales jobs, household help, bookkeepers and very few unskilled labor jobs are among those that are now on file as unfilled locally. In other localities there are many highly skilled jobs open to which unemployed skills can be referred. These openings are scattered over Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana.

resigning as war assets administrator November 28.

The President said Deputy Administrator Jess Larson will take over Littlejohn's duties as acting head of the War Assets Administration which is to be liquidated by next June except for real property.

Mr. Truman said he could not say what job Dillon S. Myer will take when he leaves his present post as commissioner of the Public Housing Authority. Myer, the President said, has not made up his mind what post he wants.

Myer announced in New York yesterday that he is leaving the housing post.

Veterans Administration officials said Bradley will leave his desk there on Dec. 1 and for the rest of the month Omer Clark, executive assistant administrator, will be in charge.

Mr. Truman said Bradley himself requested an early return to the Army Department in order to study its present setup.

The President said he does not know what Littlejohn proposes to do when he leaves the government. He said that war assets sales have progressed rapidly under Littlejohn's direction and that liquidation of the agency will be started by next June.

He said Littlejohn has done a good job, that he was just tough enough to do it.

The new commandant-designate of the Marine Corps, Maj. Gen. Clifton B. Cates, won three decorations for fighting the Japanese in the Pacific. After service on Guadalcanal in 1942 he commanded the Fourth Marine Division, Marine Fleet Force, from July, 1944, to November, 1945.

He now is commanding general at the Quantico, Va., base.

early part of November, 1946, with Catherine Anderson say to her, "I'm going to get them," and then pull a pistol out of the glove compartment and show it to her?"

"I did not,"

Brady turned quickly, excused the witness and called Catherine C. Anderson to the stand. Sharp intakes of breath were heard through the audience as the sister of Bertha Lee Bostick took her place in the witness box. Before Catherine could answer the first qualifying question by the D. A. counsel for the defense Aaron Sturgeon objected to her qualifications as a witness on grounds that she violated the rule of remaining outside of the hearing of the testimony. The jury was again paraded out of the courtroom while Sturgeon questioned her about her whereabouts during the trial's proceedings.

Mrs. Anderson had been sworn as a witness and under court rules was not permitted to listen to the trial.

Under questioning by Sturgeon who said he saw her standing outside the north side door at times during the trial, the woman said she had walked through the halls, sitting first in one office and then in another and was taking care of Mattie Lee Wright (the daughter of Bertha Lee by her first of three marriages) during that time. She admitted she had talked with Crawford about his testimony and to it? She added that someone asked him, "why did you swear had told her what Crawford's testimony was and that while she was near the side door in question, she was back more toward the elevator and could hear only voices; but could not distinguish words. Judge Goodrich overruled the objection and had the jury recalled to the room.

has been constituted in France which has as its objective, and perhaps its only objective, the separation of national sovereignty from its fundamental traditions."

Obviously he was referring to De Gaulle's proposals to revise the constitution.

"I have come here to sound the alarm," the veteran statesman said.

He can count on opposition from the 17 Communist and 17 other left wingers who vote with them. The 72 De Gaulleist deputies also were expected to vote against Blum.

Vincent Auriol, president of the Republic, last night nominated the 76-year-old former Socialist premier to form a government of "public safety" succeeding Ramadier, also a Socialist.

The Communist issued statement last night saying Ramadier's cabinet had "collapsed in shame and dishonor." They demanded the formation of a new "democratic government" in which "the working class and its Communist Party could at last play a determining role."

Present negotiations for a new cabinet, the Communist said, were leading toward "the submission of France to the potentates of the dollar and preparing the way for the would be dictator, De Gaulle."

With 500,000 workers already called off their jobs by the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT), the Marseille railroad workers struck last night.

France's school teachers were called off their jobs today. A strike of metal workers, which the DA continued its examination of Mrs. Anderson, which she told the jury that she had been riding with Crawford on the Lefors Highway in the latter part of October or early in November.

"Did you discuss the Bosticks," asked Brady.

Brady attempted several times to draw out the threat Crawford was alleged to have made and had to reform his questions on objections of the defense on grounds that it was attempted to impeach the witness' (Crawford's) testimony.

The DA countered with: "After you two talked about the Bostick's did Jessie Crawford say to you, 'I'm going to get them and then show you a pistol?'"

"Yes sir."

Under cross examination by Sturgeon the woman testified she was Bertha Bostick's sister.

Both state and defense rested at 4:59 p. m.

A 15-minute charge was read to the jury by Judge Goodrich, explaining what the jury was empowered to do and what sentences, if any, they could mete out. The final arguments by counsel followed.

Stamp Denominations Being Discontinued

Several stamp denominations are being discontinued. Postoffice officials said this morning. Whether these denominations will be continued at any time in the future is not known.

Stamps which are no longer being issued: 4 1-2 cent, 11, 12, 13, 14, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 24, 29, 50, 52; and 30 and 50-cent airmail.

A small stock of these stamps is on hand, except for the 4 1-2 and 24-cent stamps, with only a sheet or two left of 13-cent and a few sheets of 21-cent stamps.

Stamp collectors of this area were advised the remaining stamps would be gone shortly, and those collectors wishing some of the out-of-issue denominations should act promptly.

Although the organization has not been active since the war, there has been in recent years a stamp collectors' club with 25 to 30 active members in Pampa. There are several active collectors in Pampa at present.

multitudes who came in rain and cold to cheer the nervous maid as she drove to Westminster Abbey with her father, King George VI, and came away, smiling and waving, a wife with her handsome husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, who was 14, Philip Mountbatten, R.N.

Celebrants, clustered thickly around Buckingham Palace, lifted their voices till past midnight in unheeded pleas for one more balcony appearance of their monarch. But the lights that flooded the palace finally flicked off and all the rolling shouts of "we want the King" and "we want Margaret" brought no sign from the wide windows.

In Romney, little was known about the immediate plans of the Honymooners.

Official functions are largely out of their way for the next several weeks and their time will be their own.

London's papers, thinly rationed for a page, clipped their chronicles of sport and foreign troubles to relate in detailed words and huge pictures what the labor party's "Daily Herald" headlined as "the full story of a perfect wedding day."

Russia's press and the Moscow Radio spoke no word of the wedding.

In Rome and Paris, both troubled with political and economic crises, the glum home was backed away by flowing accounts of the ceremony.

Graduate Students Give Up Ambitions To Break Up Bank

RENO (AP)—Two University of Chicago graduate students with ambitions to break the bank at roulette gave it up Thursday when their system went sour.

They were about $7,000 ahead, however, on an original $300 stake.

The youthful gamblers, who for a few days had Reno's professional housemen looking interested, are Roy Walford, 23, of San Diego, Calif., and Albert Hibbs, 26, Chillicothe, O.

Their system consisted of betting on number nine exclusively. Playing the wheels in alternate eight hour shifts for nearly two weeks, Walford and Hibbs retired at 6 a. m. after a long losing streak at Harold's Club during which they dropped most of $5,000 won there.

Walford said they may resume play later, but intimated they had enough of the little whirling ball.

The system played by Walford and Hibbs consisted of betting only on the number nine. But the bets varied, and that part of the system was a secret.

Walford and Hibbs, who said they figured out their method while studying at Chicago (Hibbs holds a master's degree in mathematics), have been playing steadily for two weeks, taking turns at the table. At one point their winnings reached $11,000 but this was trimmed by one streak of 85 consecutive losses.

REVOLUTIONS

tries been supported by Russian troops of occupation—as was the case in Eastern Europe—it might all have been over but the shouting before this.

Both governments must work out their own salvation so far as concerns actual military defense. At least that's the way things stand now. They may expect to get economic aid from America, and it will be strange if Russia is providing similar assistance for the rebels. But we may take it for granted, I believe, that both Washington and Moscow will proceed with caution, since nobody wants to see another world war develop.

The Italian and French governments are marshaling all their strength to meet their life and death crises. Italy, of course, is by far the weaker of the two and there are no very precise indications of how much military strength she can muster to deal with the Red menace.

In neighboring France president Auriol has been taking drastic measures. He has recalled 140,000 conscripts to the army to get set for eventualities, and at the same time has been seeking to reorganize the cabinet in a middle-of-the-road basis politically.

It is in this tense atmosphere that the big four foreign ministers are assembling in London to try to reach agreements leading to European peace.

Nationalization has proved a failure.

Canadian C of C Names Directors

CANADIAN (Special)—Darrell Wiggins, Vincent Lockhart, and Carl Zybach were elected as new directors of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at the annual election held this week.

The new members will serve for two years. Holdover directors from last year are Tom Abraham, secretary-manager of the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association, Charles Douglass, drug store owner, and Dr. E. H. Morris, physician and surgeon.

Wiggins, a longtime resident of this area, has been affiliated with almost every progressive movement in the community for the past twenty years. He is a cattelman and automobile dealer.

Zybach, longtime employee of the Canadian post office, is an ardent booster in matters of civic improvement and is at present chief of the Canadian Volunteer Fire Department, which has an enviable record.

Lockhart is editor and publisher of the Canadian Record, coming to Canadian two years ago after long service in the Army. He was named last year as the citizen who contributed most to the Canadian trade territory during 1946. He is a former state editor of the Amarillo Daily News.

One of the principal goals set by the Chamber of Commerce for the coming year is the reorganization of the chamber to include the Canadian trade territory. This plan was presented at the last regular meeting by County Agent Walter Grist. The body voted to set the project up as a major aim for next year. If the plan is worked out, each rural community will name a director to the Chamber of Commerce.

Finland and the Balkan states import most of their petroleum and its products from the United States.

Yankees Cry of Alarm at Recent St. Louis Trades

ST. LOUIS—(P)—The mighty New York Yankees have added their voice to the cry of alarm emanating from several baseball quarters over the St. Louis Browns' startling trading activities.

Yankee President Daniel R. Topping, a claimant he doesn't want "to see the American League become a seven-club league," yesterday asked for a "complete investigation" of the Browns' player trades.

The Browns who finished eighth in 1947 have already transferred six of their best players to the Boston Red Sox and the Cleveland Indians in exchange for players of unknown quality and an unannounced amount of cash.

Topping's statement said the Yankees will request that the Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler and League President William Harridge, "a complete investigation of the situation be made."

William O. Devitt, vice president and general manager of the Browns, declined comment on the Yankees' protest. He said the answer would have to come from President Richard Muckerman of the Browns who is out of the city.

Lucky Fists, Too

Joe Louis puts his hands through holes in his famous maroon and white bathrobe, but won't discard it. The Brown Bomber regards this wrap as a good luck charm, having worn it in training for 13 years and for all of his championship fights. Smoky Joe is working at Fontpont Lakes, N. J., for the 24th defense of the title against Jersey Joe Walcott at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 5.

Jersey Joe Walcott Tapers Off Ring Work

GREENLOCH, N. J. (P)—Jersey Joe Walcott, training here for his Dec. 5 fight with Heavyweight champion Joe Louis, is tapering off his ring work because his manager, Joe Webster, fears the challenger is "getting down too fine."

Tomorrow Marks the Final Big Saturday of College Football

NEW YORK—(P)—This is the final big weekend of college football this season and is the Saturday of tradition—when previous form and records go out the window.

But here's hoping that the form will hold true enough to permit a duplicate of last week's efforts when 70 winners were named correctly and 12 were missed for an average of .854. That lifted the season's totals to 463 correct, 102 incorrect for an average of .819.

This week's selections:
Southern California-UCLA: A Southern California triumph would give the Trojans the opportunity of playing in the Rose Bowl and they should get that victory on the quarterbacking and passing of Jim Powers and George Murphy. Shaky field leadership has cost UCLA several games and could be fatal in this fray, Southern California.
Ohio State-Michigan: It is doubtful whether the Wolverines will duplicate their 58 to 6 massacre of a year ago. But they have the talent to do it, Michigan.

Tulane-Notre Dame: This game is important only in that it ends, for the time being at least, another series. The Irish have too much power for Tulane. Notre Dame.
Harvard-Yale: Yale.
LSU-Alabama: Since the Alabama linemen have lost their excess weight they have yielded just two touchdowns in their last five games. And they have Lowell Taylor and Harry Gilmer on their side, too, Alabama.
Southern Methodist-Baylor: They take turns beating each other in the Southwest Conference but why should SMU wait until now for its first beating of the year? Donk Walker to star again, SMU.
Furman-Georgia Tech: Go pick on someone your own size, Georgia Tech.

Missouri-Kansas: A victory for either team could mean the Big Eight championship, depending on what happens in the Oklahoma-Nebraska affair, Kansas.
North Carolina-Duke: North Carolina.
St. Mary's-Boston College: Boston College.
Penn State-Pittsburgh: Penn State to win and finish undefeated.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:
Friday
College of Pacific over Fresno, Wake Forest over Duquesne, Florida over Miami.

Saturday
East: Colgate over Boston University, Columbia over Syracuse, Georgetown over George Washington, Holy Cross over Fordham, Lafayette over Lehigh, Princeton over Dartmouth, Delaware over Washington and Lee, Lebanon Valley over Juniata, Muhlenberg over Bucknell, Toledo over Canisius, Washington and Jefferson over Dickinson, West Virginia over Temple.
Midwest: Illinois over Northwestern, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Purdue over Indiana, Wisconsin over Minnesota, Detroit over Tulsa, Cincinnati over Butler, Denison over Lehigh, Western over Valparaiso, Ohio Western over Oberlin, Xavier over Ohio University.
South: Clemson over Auburn, Georgia over Chattanooga, Mississippi State over Mississippi Southern, Tennessee over Kentucky, Vanderbilt over Maryland, William and Mary over Bowling Green, the Citadel over Davidson, Louisville over Washington University, Marshall over Bradley.

Sunday
Christian, Texas Mines over New Mexico A&M, West Texas State over Arizona State of Tempe.
Far West: California over Stanford, Colorado A&M over Wyoming, Marquette over Arizona, Oregon over Oregon State, Texas Tech over New Mexico, Washington over Washington State, Brigham Young over San Diego State, Pepperdine over California Tech.

Seranton over St. Vincent, San Francisco over Villanova.

585 Recognized as New Doubles Record

MILWAUKEE—(NEA)—Adolph's game rolled by Lowell Jackson and Sam Garofalo in the St. Louis City Tournament, March 9, 1935, finally has been recognized by the American Bowling Congress as a record. Both were scratch, leglers, and the game, rolled in a handicap tournament, was overlooked by officials. It was not reported to the ABC until, recently, when Jackson, who rolled 297 to Garofalo's 238, requested a review of the case.

Scoresheets, newspaper clippings and published prize lists substantiated his claim. No date reporting limitations exist in the doubles event due to the fact that medals are not involved. The score is 27 pins higher than the previous mark of 558, bowled by Jerry Peek and the late Joe Hradek of Cicero, Ill., Feb. 1, 1935.

Coach Survives 69-6 Drubbing

—Big-time football coaches would probably envy the treatment received by Head Coach Ben Douglas after his Colorado College Tigers absorbed a 69-6 drubbing from Oklahoma City University. Douglas, serving his first year at C.C.U., announced after the thrashing submitted his resignation to College President Thurston J. Davies. This is the rest of the story, told by Davies: "I called Mr. Douglas at once and told him that I would not accept his resignation. Mr. Douglas has done an excellent job here this fall. The men on the squad and the administration of the college are 100 percent behind him."

Parker Wins Feature Over Pappenheim

Baylor Listed as Underdog in Duel With Mustangs

WACO—The Baylor Bears will be striving to give more strength to their title of being the upstart team in the nation Saturday when they meet the undefeated and untied Southern Methodist Mustangs in Waco. The Ponies will rule heavy favorites to down the thrice beaten Bears, but a scintilla crowd is expected to be present just in case they don't.

The Mustangs need only one win to claim the title for the title and a right to play in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas on New Year's day.

The Bears, after dropping three straight conference games, got back into the win column last week by defeating the Texas A&M Hurricanes, 7-6. The game marked the first win for the Bears over Tulsa since 1940 in a series which is annually the Tulsa Homecoming.

Baylor will not be in top physical shape for the Ponies, but they may be in much better shape than they have been in several weeks. The game will be the last on the home field for eight Baylor seasons.

With the exception of the 1945 contest, all of the SMU-Baylor contests played in Waco have been on wet fields and early weather in Waco this week has been anything but dry.

If the Bears can pull a win out of their next two tilts, they will not only have won more than half of their games, but will also climb out of the cellar in the Southwest conference standings.

Southwest Conference Teams Enter Next to Last Week of Schedule

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
NEW YORK—(P)—The guys who appear the last concerned about Bob Rottenberg's threat to buy the St. Louis Browns and transfer them to Baltimore are the International Leagueers, who would lose some of their most valuable territory if the deal should go through. Leaving around Presley Shaugnessy's office just before taking off for Florida, Leo Miller, the Syracuse Club's chief, volunteered: "I can give you the answer to that; George M. Conan was going to buy a major league club for 30 years, but he never did. A couple of years ago a bunch of us started figuring how much it would cost to move the Browns jolting down various items. We reached 2 1/2 million so fast we just gave up." Miller went on to explain that it was the International League's insistence that the rule on "drafting" territory was changed so as to give the invaded league full compensation. . . . Shaugnessy added: "Baltimore isn't a major league city with a last place club—and that's what Joe Walcott is for several years, at least. What do you think of those trades? I wonder what minor league they're planning to move into."

Sports Round-Up

Final Exam
Just after Michigan scored its fifth touchdown against Wisconsin last Saturday, Dick Rifenburg, the end who caught the paydirt pass, raced back into the huddle and asked "Captain Hylkema, is it okay now if we mention that word, R-O-S-E-B-O-W-L?" . . . anyway, he can spell it as well as play in it.

Nebraska alumni wolves are reported howling on the trail of Ernie Masterson. . . . As soon as he disposed of Jersey Joe Walcott, Joe Louis plans to head west for a little golf on "that course where Bud Ward plays" . . . Indian Canyon at Spokane. . . . under the coaching of former Notre Dame Wally Fromhart, Los Angeles (formerly Columbia) College has had its third undefeated team. The other two were coached by Gus Dorais (1916) and Eddie Nebraska (1922).

Nebraska will battle for the fifth spot. Gardner did not include the new conference member, Colorado, because his team has never played the Rocky Mountain boys.

Arkansas also plays Turkey Day, meeting Tulsa at Tulsa.
Southern Methodist and Rice each is a two touchdown favorite in tomorrow's games.
Two weeks in a row we hit every game. This week's looks just as easy:
Southern Methodist vs. Baylor at Waco—Conservative SMU by two touchdowns.
Rice vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth—Rice by three touchdowns.

Gardner Picks Tigers To Top Big Six Cagers

MANHATTAN, Kans.—(NEA)—If Kansas State coach Jack Gardner is as accurate in his forecast of the Big Six basketball situation this season as he was last, you can bet on Missouri. This time last year Gardner said it would be Oklahoma all the way, and predicted correctly the second, third and fourth positions. This trip, after Missouri he likes Kansas and Oklahoma in a deadlock for second and third. Iowa State should finish fourth. His own Wildcats and DALLAS—(P)—Diz—Jerome Herman Dean—told police someone had stolen all the trophies of his golden days in baseball. "It ain't gonna be healthy for that guy if Old Diz ever lays his hands on him," he snarled.

Pampa Lions to Sponsor Stage Production Here Dec. 11, 12

"Arms and the Man" will be given in Pampa Dec. 11 and 12 by the Border Theatre dramatic group, it was announced at the Lions Club, sponsoring organization, at the regular luncheon yesterday.

This professional stage group is also giving the same performance in Amarillo, but admission price ranges are thought to be on a lower scale in Pampa. Ed McClendon was named general chairman of this program committee, with Dr. L. J. Zachary appointed publicity chairman.

The Pampa Lions will go to Higgins Dec. 2, when charter ceremonies are slated for that club. Pampa Lions will offer the first part of the program and after installation ceremonies, to be conducted by the district governor, the Higgins club will give a program.

A kick-off breakfast will be held in the Palm Room of City Hall next Tuesday morning at the beginning of the Salvation Army fund drive, the goal of which is $6,500. Around $1,400 in advance gifts has already been received.

Ray Salmon, of the Pampa Sanitation Department, said a food handlers' school will be held in Pampa Jan. 5, for personnel of cafes and grocery stores, and similar workers. The Lions will sponsor this school locally, which is being conducted by the state Health Department.

Two High School students, Bill Boyd and Barbara Walter, furnished the entertainment, as Boyd sang "When You Were Sweet Sixteen," and "White Christmas," accompanied by Barbara.

J. L. Swinzie, editor of the Pampa News, gave an address in which he considered the present foreign aid policy and the recent request a President Truman that he be granted power to put in effect wage and price control as he thinks necessary.

He said Washington writers believe the President is shrewd enough to know the power will not be given and that if it is not given, and prices mount as most believe they will, this move will adversely affect the general party.

Frank Culbertson was presented a certificate as it was announced he had been a member of the Lions for 20 years.

It was announced that a special Barbershop Quartet Parade program, to include some of the finest in the land, would be presented here Saturday night at the Junior High auditorium, beginning at 8 p. m. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at Berry Pharmacy, and general admission tickets are on sale at most other drug stores.

E. O. Wedgeworth was awarded the weekly attendance prize, and the retiring Lion Sweetheart and Cub Lion were presented gifts.

Wayland College Choir Goes on Tour Nov. 26

The Wayland College choir, which has attracted state-wide attention, will go on tour November 26. This musical organization will play before civic and church audiences in Ft. Worth, Dallas, Sulfur Springs, Little Rock, Arkansas and a special performance at Ouachita College in Arkadelphia, Ark.

Presenting special Thanksgiving music the choir which numbers over a hundred voices plans to tour these cities during the Thanksgiving holidays returning to College in time for class resumption on December 1. Directed by Dal'as Alford, a Wayland graduate, the choir recently attracted state-wide attention at Wichita Falls Baptist Student convention where Charles Wellborn, said upon concluding his convention speech that he "was at his spiritual height upon hearing the choir sing 'Battle Hymn of the Republic.'" Other speakers at the convention were high in their praise for the musical organization, referring to it as the high point of the convention which attracted over two thousand students and educators from the state of Texas.

Texas Traffic Toll Is Up Ten Percent

AUSTIN — (P) — Texas' loss of life and property in traffic accidents this year will be "roughly equal to having four Texas City disasters in a single year," Texas Department of Public Safety

Director Homer Garrison has said. In a speech prepared for delivery at a convention of the Texas Motor Bus Association, Garrison forecast an all-time record for the state in traffic deaths for 1947, currently five percent above last year.

"We expect 200 to be killed this month—not a few of them at Thanksgiving celebration. In December, with its Christmas celebration, we expect 250 deaths," he said. Garrison predicted a total of 2,100 to 2,200 deaths for the entire year, 10 percent ahead of 1946.

Socialization Comes Step by Step

It has often been stated that the goal of socialism would eventually be reached through encroachment after encroachment upon the liberties of the people. Intelligent socialists know that there is no chance of bringing about their "dictatorship of the proletariat" at once. They are satisfied to make their gains little by little, secure in the knowledge that once a certain point is sighted.

Here is one of the reasons why left-wing elements, including such publications as the Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist party of the United States, are making a determined drive to force federal compulsory health insurance on the country. Socialized medicine would obviously be a long step toward the socialistic order—and regimentation of medicine, with the bureaucrats in control, is considered a necessary prelude to socialization. The doctor would become the creature of politics. The people would become dependent upon the government for medical attention. A vast new administrative agency, with a budget of billions of dollars a year, would be established. The thought of all this naturally makes the socialist's mouth water in hungry anticipation.

As a matter of fact, the American people are solving their medical care problems through voluntary systems which are within the means of all but the lowest income groups. It is also a fact that these groups, containing a small percentage of the population, can be aided and given adequate medical care without imperiling American medicine. But those who are hoping for welfare are not concerned with facts such as these. They are promoting socialization of medicine with every means at hand.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
One of the finest pieces of public service I have ever seen in the national paper of women is the list of names of the nation's ten most eligible bachelors.

This list includes such blue-ribbon catches as Cary Grant, Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy and J. Edgar Hoover, and I have only one fault to find with it: their home addresses should be given so they could be tracked down and besieged. Also the list should be longer. Thousands of women want to get married and there aren't enough bachelors to go around, especially when you consider that Mr. Hoover is rather small.

I think that in every community the names, addresses and phone numbers of eligible bachelors should be posted in front of the courthouse. And if anyone says this is unconstitutional, just remember what that document says about the pursuit of happiness. If we girls don't know who and where the bachelors are, how can we pursue happiness?

CAPITAL NEWS NOTEBOOK

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A man going by the 15th Street side entrance of the Treasury building the other evening about dusk, was surprised to see a police patrol pull up. Out of the Treasury door came several uniformed Treasury guards, with a young couple between them. The couple was hustled into the paddy wagon and away it went. Curious, the passer-by sidled up to one of the guards and asked what went on. "Oh, we make a check-up of the building every night about this time," said the guard. "It's just to make sure everybody's gone home and there's no one left who shouldn't be here. In one of the rooms we found this pair making hot love, so we pinched 'em." "What will happen to them now?" the guard was asked. "I suppose they'll fire 'em," the guard said. "If they find out they were Communists."

That Acme newspaper of Sen. Owen Brewster of Maine snidlingly inspecting the telephotos of the Howard Hughes eight-engine flying boat gave the millionaire a big laugh. But when Brewster was asked to autograph a copy of the photo for Hughes, the senator refused. His explanation was, "Brewster won't let me."

The "Homer" he referred to was Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan. Brewster is chairman of the full Senate War Investigating Committee, but Ferguson is chairman of the subcommittee that ran the Hughes probe.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The following documents, which are published here simply to keep straight the record, are self-explanatory:

On October 31, Charles P. Shaeffer, able public relations officer for the Treasury Department, wrote to Robert W. Maxwell, Commissioner of Accounts: "In the current issue of Readers Digest, in a book review on Herbert Hoover (Mr. Shaeffer refers to a condensation of a forthcoming volume entitled Our Unknown President written by Eugene Lyons) the statement is made that upon leaving the White House, you sent a check to the Treasury Department for $300,000 representing his salary as President over a four-year period. "If this is true, I have been giving out gross misinformation. Will you please give me an official report on whether Mr. Hoover did or did not accept his salary as President?"

Mr. Shaeffer regularly receives letters about this question, which seems to have aroused considerable interest, and it had been his understanding, which he wrote in his replies to the customers, that former President Hoover did accept federal pay.

SALARY — On November 6, Commissioner Maxwell replied to Mr. Shaeffer as follows: "Reference is made to your memorandum of October 31, 1947, relating to the article in the November, 1947, issue of Readers Digest, containing the statement that Herbert Hoover sent back to the Treasury $300,000, representing his salary over a four-year term. "Former President Hoover received his full salary during his term as President, as provided under the Economy Act of 1932, as amended, certain percentage reductions were made in the salaries of all government officials and employees, except those whose compensation may not, under the Constitution, be diminished during their continuance in office."

RETURNED — "The Secretary of the Treasury," Commissioner Maxwell continues, "was authorized to accept from any person whose salary, under the Constitution, may not be diminished, remittances such part of his compensation as would not be paid to him if such diminution of compensation were not prohibited."

Under the above mentioned provision of law, President Hoover, during the last year in which he was in office, and the first year in which the Economy Act was in effect, returned to the Treasury the sum of $10,125. In this connection, there is attached a copy of a memorandum prepared by the Division of Bookkeeping and Warrants, dated January 27, 1947, answering an inquiry received by the White House."

ECONOMY — It should be noted that the Treasury prodded both Presidents Hoover and Roosevelt into chipping into the economy "kitty." In making out their checks, the Cabinet paymasters of that day sent them two different warrants. One credited them with the amount they should receive if the Economy Act affected them; the other carried the figure which they should return to the Treasury if they accepted the cut voluntarily, as Mr. Hoover did. Incidentally, President Roosevelt paid back approximately $17,000 for the period during which the Economy Act was in effect in his Administration.

ESTIMATE — Chief of Staff Eisenhower's estimate that there can be no war between the United States and Russia for at least four years, a far shorter period of armed peace than the ten or fifteen years which other military men envisage, let a large black cat out of the Congressional bag that carries the Marshall Plan.

The M.C.'s have asked some sharp and penetrating questions on this phase of the recovery program's effect in their off-the-record interviews with spokesmen for the State and National Defense departments. In effect, they want to know whether the proposed strengthening of Western European nations will not tend to make them stronger allies of the Soviet when and if Stalin decides that he is ready for an actual battlefield clash with the western powers, and particularly with the United States.

RISK — This concern lies behind the statement of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who said that European military experts told him during his continental trip that Russia could overrun all of Europe within two weeks. Other sources have said that the Red Army could reach the Channel and the Mediterranean more quickly than Hitler's Wehrmacht did.

Anglo-American officers, in their talks with members of the Herter Committee and other touring legislators, conceded that a rehabilitated and reindustrialized Europe would, naturally, constitute a great asset to Moscow if conquered by the Communists in a World War III.

But they also admit that it is a risk which must be chanced if countries west of the Rhine are to be persuaded through our aid that their best interests lie with us.

These background considerations, together with frank admission by the author of the European recovery program that there is no assurance of its actual success, convince even favorable M.C.'s that they are making the greatest gamble in world history at the special session which is being held in Washington.

What is true of the United Nations as a whole is true of nations individually. If we are going to continue to be a prosperous and healthy republic, we must have unity of purpose, workers, managers, industrialists, farmers, educators—we must all keep our purposes controlled in the direction of full unity. If one group wants to destroy the capitalist, and another wants to destroy labor unions, these are at cross purposes.

One group wants to eliminate private ownership of property, and another group wants to preserve constitutional government. These also are working at cross purposes. If we have everybody working at cross purposes, then conditions in our country will grow worse rather than better. It is imperative that the entire nation be united on fundamentals. It is necessary that all groups work for certain goals.

Right now, I would like to suggest three goals we can all achieve together. First, economy in government spending so rigid the public can see that money is being saved. Second a program of maximum productivity that can attract the enthusiasm of capital, management, labor, agriculture. Third, a reeducation of all our groups to preserve individual freedom for the entire nation. With this kind of unity right now, in 1947, no one need fear the future prosperity and well-being of our nation.

I have had quite a broad experience in dealing with men. But through all these years I had no experience that prepared me for negotiating with Mr. Molotov. —James F. Byrnes, former secretary of state.

So They Say

The nation cannot long underwrite the material deficits of other nations without serious impact upon its economy and its resources. —Secretary of the Interior Krug.

If the President can bring down prices without consumer controls jack on, he is a genius—and we'll admit it. —Rep. J. P. Wolcott (R) of Michigan.

The German people must understand that they cannot create an independent and unified Germany out of sharp contrast between the big powers, but only out of the still possible unanimity among those big powers. —Theodore Pliver, writer.

There was a young southern soldier who went overseas in the war and got wounded. They put him in a hospital, and there was a fine flower of womanhood in the hospital as a Red Cross nurse. She happened to be from up north, but she was a good Democrat just the same. She saved the southern boy's life and nursed him back to health, and out of gratitude and because she was such a good Democrat, even if she did come from up north, the young southern boy thought he ought to marry her.

But he was bothered by one thing. So he decided to talk it over with his buddy, who was a good southerner and a Democrat like himself.

"My father and mother are both in the poorhouse now," the boy said. "My brother shot a man and he's in the penitentiary at Atlanta. Both of my sisters was born deaf and dumb. I got two other brothers who are in the insane asylum. One of my uncles has fits and the other one is a moonshiner, who has delirium tremens."

"I've told my nurse all that. But I just wonder if I ought to tell her that I got two cousins who are Republicans."

LOOKING AHEAD by GEORGE S. BENSON President, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas

NEED FOR UNITY The United Nations is a young organization. It was formed about two years ago and now comprises 55 nations. During the past year, it is said the different divisions have held a total of 1,911 meetings. The chief avowed purposes are to bring peace to the world and to prevent starvation as an aftermath of the war. Great sums of money have been used to provide food for people that are considered destitute.

At first it was thought that 1946 would be the critical year and every effort was made to get people through that year. Now, we are approaching the winter of 1947. Some reports say there will be no more hunger this winter than last. From various countries in Europe the reports show no improvement. These countries are not getting to their feet so they can stand up and solve their own problems. And they are not sure what attitude they should take toward the United Nations.

We are also much nearer to another year than we were two years ago, or even one year ago. Naturally, then, people have a right to ask why the efforts of the United Nations do not meet with greater success. It would seem there is enough power and strength in 55 nations to help this muddled world get somewhere. And surely enough money has been spent to help those hungry nations to begin feeding themselves.

The answer is not hard to find. The United Nations has not demonstrated real unity of purpose. Even the leaders among the 55 nations have worked at cross purposes. Each nation has been intent upon achieving certain objectives of its own. This is as true of the "Big Four" as it is of the smaller nations. Therefore, despite the 1,911 meetings and the hundreds of millions of dollars spent, the situation has grown worse rather than better.

NO CROSS PURPOSES It is my hope that in some way the United Nations may find unity of purpose and intention. The most I can get out of this present situation however, is an important lesson for our own country. What is the application? In America, we have found a good measure of unity, historically speaking. Though we are made up of states and other kinds of groups, we have shown appreciation for the same fundamental of democratic living.

What is true of the United Nations as a whole is true of nations individually. If we are going to continue to be a prosperous and healthy republic, we must have unity of purpose, workers, managers, industrialists, farmers, educators—we must all keep our purposes controlled in the direction of full unity. If one group wants to destroy the capitalist, and another wants to destroy labor unions, these are at cross purposes.

Local Women Share Good Grooming Hints

Here are some beauty secrets on grooming that three ladies told a group of their friends at a small club meeting recently.

Mrs. T. G. Groves said that hands and nails can be made lovelier with only a few minutes care each night.

She suggested that a suitable hand cream or lotion be massaged in as you would put on gloves. If the hands are unusually dry and rough choose a cream that contains lanolin. A baby cream is helpful to hands and complexion. Push the cuticle back daily and shape the nails. Use a hand or nail brush for thorough cleansing. In applying polish, use a base coat and then two top coats of polish of desired color.

If nails are brittle orange juice and milk in the diet should be increased.

Mrs. V. Smith told a group of friends that women are wearing their hair shorter and straight. She suggests a frequent change of style to prevent discoloration and increase vigor. She said the hair should be washed through three suds and rinsed three times with boiled water, with vinegar added for dark hair and lemon juice for light.

The hair should be brushed vigorously and the brush should be wiped often. Dandruff can be prevented or reduced by using a shampoo made of pine tar soap and boiling water. Mrs. Smith said that hair rolled on soft rags will have a natural wave or curl.

Mrs. A. Swafford recommends exercise rather than diet for reducing and correcting poor posture. She says that naturalness will soon cultivate poise.

Why men go right

IT'S HARD to understand the secret springs of human behavior—why some men with apparently all the advantages go wrong.

But The Salvation Army knows from countless thousands of experiences that the "grace of God" will set men right.

Practical material help of every kind is freely given by The Salvation Army to the individual in trouble. But the basis of The Salvation Army's work is changing the hearts of men—showing them how they can get a new direction in their lives.

Our community needs this service which lifts up and rebuilds men and women until finally they can help themselves. Support The Salvation Army—generously.
