Oklahoma Physician's Body Found In Burning Coupe

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

JUST got back from the old and the new Texas & Pacific shops. Misted down and ate lunch with Dutch Scherrubel and Elmer Cravens and we went over and looked around that new terminal plant.

Course they knew what it was all about and were good enough to point out how some of the contraptions installed in the numerous buildings worked and what for.

By the way, the T. & P. put the shop boys on 7-hour shifts a few days ago. Due to a decrease in tonnage it would have been necessary to lay off a number of men. So to prevent having to cut 'em off during quiet times they shift everybody from eight to seven hours and fixed it so all men could keep right on working. About 225 men are on the payroll.

Now, George Crouse, the machine shop foreman is building him a little railroad of his own down here. It's going to be a one-way haul every load. Going to roll those 25-or-so-ton machines out of the present shop over to the new machine shop. In the new building the bases for each machine are all ready. It looks like a big job but those boys do down there handle big machines like we would this typewriter only more so.

Guy Cravens, the boiler shop foreman, was watching the National Boiler Washing company's force getting ready to move one of the big tanks out of his part of the old shop over to the new boiler house. That's the only old piece of equipment that will be in the new boiler shop.

Over at the new plant everything is about ready for moving day. Before a month has passed, it appears, things will be buzzing around the finest and most modern railroad terminal, we dare say, between Fort Worth and the Pacific ocean.

Dutch Scherrubel took a look at the inspection pit where he as locomotive inspector will monkey around under those 800s and see if every little thing is in order. Got electric light sockets in the sides of the pit under the track. Good-bye flashlights.

Over in the round house they got 800 pits that are pits. Fixed 'em the wheels of a locomotive will be dropped right off on a sort of underground elevator that works side-wise or up and down. They start movin' that elevator upward, and it got steel posts on each corner. Well, those posts push the section of the track over the pit up in the air. When the wheels off the locomotive on the next track reach ground level they roll 'em off easy as you please. If you get what we mean.

As we started to leave the old shops Elmer he points to four or five brass pots, or at least that's what we'd call 'em. They were lying out there in the open. "That's the 'bass foundry," he said. Got over to the new plant and saw a nice fireproof brick building, and that's gonna be the new brass foundry.

Now they got two boilers in the main power house, which is three ordinary floors high, that look like they could generate enough steam for to last all the politicians a generation or so.

They generate steam for everything around there, including the direct steaming of locomotives out in the round house. Yeh, they got pipes running into all the 23 pits and instead of building a fire in a engine and monkeyin' with it before takin' it out on a train, well they just shoot the steam into 'em and in 15 minutes of so she's hooked onto a string of cars and then they start a fire in her.

Lots of things to see down at those shops. It's a wonderful thing for a town of this size to have a

MURDER IS SUSPECTED BY POLICE

Gas Tank Explodes, Tearing Charred Remains

DUNCAN, Okla., Aug. 12 (AP)—Jim Brown, Stephens county deputy sheriff and former operative of the state bureau of criminal investigation, expressed belief today that Dr. J. Arthur Mullins, Marlow physician, whose charred body was found in his burned motor car yesterday, had been killed before the car was fired.

Several parts of McCollum's body, a part of his head and right arm were found 630 feet from the site of the explosion.

Theory Dropped
Authorities previously had advanced the theory that the physician had been the victim of an accident. Brown had no theory as to motives for Mullins' death.

The physician's body, burned beyond recognition, was found in his flaming coupe on a country road near Marlow yesterday. Attracted by the sounding of the horn, a farmer ran to the vehicle but before he reached it the gasoline tank exploded.

Morrow, Deats Star In Shoot; Holdsclaw Wins

Shooting 47 out of a possible 50, L. C. Holdsclaw was high in the regular weekly Big Spring Gun Club shoot at the new location at the City Park.

H. C. Cummings and Harold Green, with 45 out of a possible 50, tied for second place, with Cummings winning in the shoot off by one bird.

Dr. W. M. Long with 44 out of a possible 50, was third. In a 50 bird contest between L. D. Morrow and Dr. C. W. Deats, each cracked 49 out of a possible 50, in an additional 50 shots. Deats missed one after a total straight run of 91. The final tally was Morrow, 99 out of a possible 100, and Deats, 98.

Other scores were A. L. Woods, 23 out of a possible 25, Dr. J. P. French, 45 out of 50, shooting for targets only, E. O. Price 69 out of 75, Robert Currie 65 out of 75.

Holdsclaw was given a brass gun rod, and hunting knives were awarded Dr. Long and H. C. Cummings. The C. & C. Hardware company gave a knife to L. D. Morrow, winner over Dr. Deats.

According to the officials of the club, the organization is gradually growing and the shooters are improving weekly. A small club house has been donated by M. L. Tinsley.

Lomax School Plans Ready

Contractors desiring to bid on the erection of a new gymnasium and auditorium at Lomax school, may obtain plans and specifications Thursday afternoon at the office of Miss Pauline Cantrell, county superintendent.

Bonds totaling $8,000 for constructing and equipping the building were recently voted by residents of the district.

Out For Congress

Heywood Brown, newspaperman, writer and liberal, will run for congress on the socialist ticket from the "silk stocking district" of New York.

BOILER BLAST IN OIL FIELD FATAL TO ONE

SAINT JO, Texas, Aug. 12 (AP)—Marshall McCollum, 27, was blown to his death, and Harper Monroe, 25, was probably fatally injured when a boiler in the Butcher oil field exploded today.

Lee Suteles and two other helpers were slightly injured. McCollum's body was torn to many parts by the explosion and he was identified by shreds of his clothing that were picked up. His legs were severed from the torso. Parts of his body were found 200 yards from the scene of the blast. The boiler was blown about 50 yards.

Earl Carroll Freed, Grand Jury Refuses To Give Indictment

NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Earl Carroll and eight members of the cast of his "Vanities" were freed today of charges of presenting an immoral performance when a grand jury refused to return an indictment against them.

Among those against whom an indictment had been sought were Faith Bacon, dancer; Kay Carroll, actress; and Jimmy Savo, comedian, participants in scenes which caused police to raid the Vanities on July 29.

It took the grand jury only about an hour to set Carroll and the three members of his cast free. The taking of testimony began this morning. Captain James J. Coy, police department censor who conducted the raid on the "Vanities," was the principal witness against the four defendants. All of the latter also testified, signing waivers of immunity before they went into the grand jury room.

The charge on which the four had been held was preferred by Captain Coy.

PAYNE PREPARES ADDRESS HE INTENDS DELIVERING TO JURY IN TRIAL FOR BLAST MURDER

AMARILLO, Aug. 12 (AP)—A. D. Payne, self-styled arch fiend and master criminal who described his confessed slaying of his wife as "the most heinous crime in history," is preparing an address he will deliver to the jury that hears his plea of guilty to a charge of murder.

He expects the speech to be as immortal as Lincoln's Gettysburg address but more on the order of the famous oration made by the late Temple Houston in behalf of an outcast woman whom he was appointed to represent.

The accused attorney, consistent with his life's ambition to make history and to be remembered for time immemorial, wants to appear before a jury and make such a speech regarding his own life as Temple Houston made about the

AVIATOR IS ARRESTED IN BOMBING

Paul Montgomery Is Held Following Mine Barrage

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., Aug. 12 (AP)—Paul Montgomery, local aviator, was arrested here today by Sheriff William Flanagan for investigation in connection with the airplane bombing of mining properties in the vicinity of Province, Ky., yesterday.

Montgomery's arrest followed receipt of a telephone call from Sheriff Oversee of Dixon Ky., that a warrant for the aviator in connection with the bombing outrage had been issued there.

From Field
Three men who came here from the Kentucky coal field conferred with county authorities, advising they had some evidence of Montgomery. The nature of the evidence was not revealed.

The aviator, who had talked of a Rome to Dallas nonstop flight this summer, declined to make any statement other than to deny he had flown in the vicinity of Providence yesterday or that he had any connection with the air raid. Immediately after his arrest he asked permission to arrange counsel.

Montgomery's orange and black monoplane answers the general description of the ship that dropped nine bombs in the vicinity of Providence yesterday. He admitted having had the plane up early yesterday night, but said he merely went up for a brief flight to "sober up" after having been intoxicated Sunday night.

He reported having seen a "strange plane" answering the description of the bombing plane near Pinkneyville, while he was flying, but said that it was too far away to identify.

Remnants of State Guaranty Fund To Be Dispensed Soon

AUSTIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—Payment of approximately $500,000 to approximately 1,000 banks and between 9,000 and 10,000 depositors from the remnants of the depositors guaranty fund will be started soon, Attorney General Robert Lee Hobbitt's office here announced today.

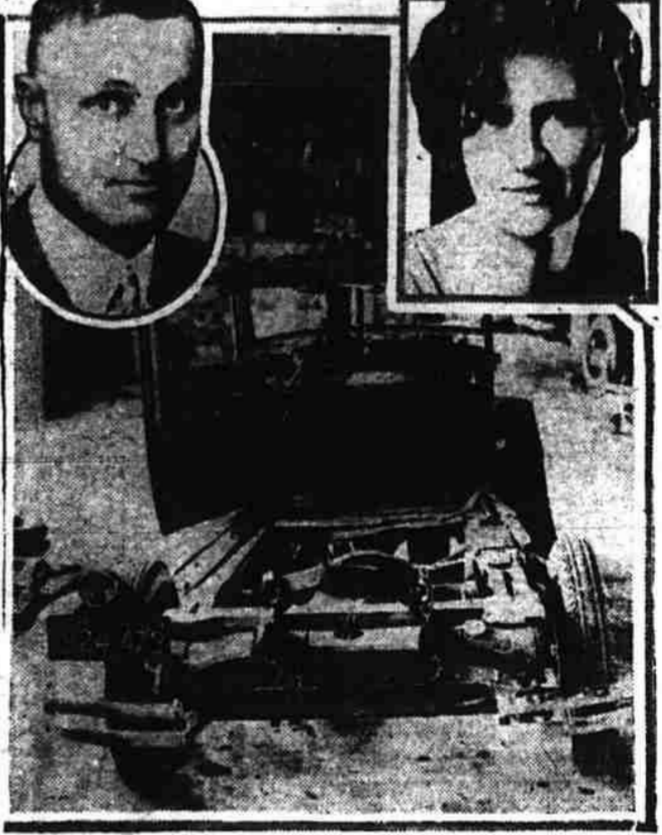

Hobbitt, state treasurer Gregory Hatcher and James Shaw, state bank commissioner, constitute the banking board charged with administering the fund when the guaranty fund law was repealed. It has been in litigation concerning claims of various banks and depositors as their priority of their claims against the fund.

Hobbitt announced that the greater part of the litigation has been settled, making the fund available for payment. Claims against it range from a few cents to thousands of dollars. The depositors were those with funds in nine banks which failed under the law.

TO DRILL WELL

TEXARKANA, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—Drilling for oil will begin within 90 days on a block in the vicinity of Bloomburg, 20 miles south of here, A. P. Knowles announced today. The block comprises about 7,000 acres along the Texas-Arkansas state line between Miller and Cass counties.

ATTORNEY ADMITS BOMB SLAYING

A. D. Payne, Amarillo, Tex., attorney, confessed to police in Stinson, Tex., that he placed dynamite in his automobile which wrecked it, killing his wife and maiming his 8-year-old son. He was arrested after his former secretary had signed a statement indicating his infatuation for her provided a motive for plotting his wife's death.

PANHANDLE IS BATTLEGROUND OF FERGUSON AND STERLING AS BID FOR SMALL VOTE IS MADE

(By The Associated Press)
Out over the broad plains of the Panhandle the storm center of the campaign for the governor's chair swirled today.

Former governor James E. Ferguson, working for the nomination of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, moved into Clarendon, while Ross S. Sterling turned toward Memphis.

Scores of adherents of the two candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination either spoke or prepared to speak in many sections of the state.

NEAR RECORD, FLIERS AIMING AT 1,000 HOURS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12 (AP)—Feeling assured of establishing a new world's record for sustained flight tomorrow, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien today talked of keeping their monoplane "Greater St. Louis" in the air for six weeks, or 1,000 hours. At 12:11 p. m. (est) they had flown for 533 hours and had slightly more than 20 hours to go to wrest the record from the Hunter brothers.

"The engine has run a long time, and no one knows when it will get tired and want a rest, but it may keep going for 1,000 hours, who knows?" said Jackson, talking to the ground crew over the plane's short wave transmitter this morning. "I have my mind set on that mark now. After we pass the record, if we do, we will stay near the field so that we can glide in if the motor quits."

Previously the aviators, who in July last year set a 420-hour endurance record that stood nearly a year, had said they expected to stay up 30 days or about 750 hours.

ATHLETICS 9, TRIBE 1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12 (AP)—The Athletics defeated Cleveland 9 to 1 in the first game of today's doubleheader. Groves went the distance on the mound and allowed the Indians six hits. Simmons hit a homer in the fifth with two on base. Score: Athletics.....010 000 000—1 6 1 Philadelphia.....030 030 30x—9 11 1 Shoffner, Beane and L. Sewell; Groves and Cochran.

GAS PRODUCER

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 12 (AP)—Minnehoma Oil and Gas company's No. 1 Brown, in the new Hughes county area south of the Wewoka field, a wild gasser for several days, has been completed for a gas flow of 21,000,000 cubic feet, an actual gauge showed, with a rock pressure of 995 pounds. The well, in SW NE NE 17-7-S, was drilled to 2,927 feet.

'Print Jim's Charges' Sterling Tells Press; Ferguson Is Dared

CHILLICOTHE, Tex., Aug. 12 (AP)—Ross S. Sterling of Houston today issued a statement in which he agreed to release newspapers and news wire services from any liability for libel in reporting or printing anything Gov. James E. Ferguson may say about him in the gubernatorial campaign.

At the same time he issued a challenge to Ferguson to give the newspapers and news services a similar waiver.

Sterling's statement was as follows: "I hereby release all newspapers and wire services from any liability for libel in reporting or printing anything James E. Ferguson may say about me in the present campaign."

"I am willing for the people of Texas to know all that he says about me, and to let them be their own judge as to the truth of the charges he has been making. At the same time I challenge James E. Ferguson to follow my example and give a similar waiver to the newspapers and press services of the state. If Ferguson refuses to do this then it is an open admission on his part that he is afraid for the people of this state to know the truth."

Primaries Held In Five States

ARKANSAS
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 12 (AP)—Unusually heavy voting was reported from many sections of Arkansas today as choices were registered in the biennial Democratic primary for United States senator, governor, congressman, and all state and county officers.

Mostly fair and cooler weather prevailed over the state.

ALABAMA
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 12 (AP)—Alabama Democrats turned out an immense today to cast their votes to nominate officers for United States senator down, with early reports from the state indicating a vote of near 200,000. Clear skies were general.

OKLAHOMA
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12 (AP)—Another torrid day appeared for the most part to have produced apathy among Oklahoma voters and to be keeping many of them from the polls.

Although an unusually heavy vote was being cast in Oklahoma City, reports in general told of light voting over the state.

NEBRASKA
LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 12 (AP)—General rains throughout the state this morning threatened to reduce the vote in one of the most bitterly contested primary elections in state's history.

Farmers in some sections of the state, political leaders said, would have difficulty in getting to the polls over muddy roads.

OHIO
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 12 (AP)—Light voting was reported in the majority of the larger cities of Ohio today as electors selected their nominees for state senatorial, congressional and county officers.

Fair and cool weather was prevalent in most sections of the state.

Valley Residents Forced To Suffer Creager Reports

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 12 (AP)—The 200,000 persons of the lower Rio Grande Valley were made to suffer because of unjust attacks of the affiliated better business bureau on this section as a whole instead of on the few questionable agents involved, R. B. Creager, Texas Republican national committeeman, told visiting officials of the National Better Business organization at a banquet last night.

Kenneth Barnard of Detroit, Mich. president, and H. W. Riehl of St. Louis, Mo., vice president, headed the delegation.

WEST TEXAS GROUP WILL MEET HERE

City Is Unanimous Choice of Lubbock Confab

Big Spring was chosen unanimously as the site for the March convention of the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association at its semi-annual meeting, in session in Lubbock, Tuesday morning, according to a message from Shine Phillips to The Herald.

Phillips, Strange
Shine, armed with words of welcome from other local druggists with "Tanlac" Strange as his chief aide in boosting Big Spring's case and with copies of Monday's Herald, containing a large display ad, Tuesday after a drive from home and had the convention in a sack at 11 a. m.

Mr. Phillips is a very active member of the West Texas body and is a past president of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. Mr. Strange, local architect, formerly of Lubbock, was to be one of the speakers at a banquet tonight.

Mexican Deputy Out of Danger

Juan Perez and Pedro Gallardo, deputy sheriff, wounded in a gunfight in Mexican Town, Sunday night, were reported out of danger today by attendants at the Big Spring Hospital.

Gallardo was only slightly wounded, a bullet from a 45 Colt revolver having penetrated his abdomen along the surface. Perez, alleged to have been Gallardo's assailant, was more seriously wounded, having received a bullet wound in his back, the slug entering from the right and going through his body. An operation was performed Monday morning.

George Urias, also a deputy, shot Perez after Gallardo had fallen. The two deputies were recently appointed by Sheriff Jess Slaughter upon a petition signed by residents of Mexican Town for a peace officer.

No charges have been filed in Justice of the Peace Cecil Collings' court.

LATE SPORT

JUNIOR TENNIS
CULVER, Ind., Aug. 12 (AP)—Karl Kamrath of Austin, Tex., first seeded player in the National Junior Tennis championships, advanced in the tournament today by taking two matches, the first from H. Adler, St. Louis, 6-0, 6-0, and the second from Richard Blackwelder, San Francisco, 6-2, 6-0.

Wilma Hines of Columbia, S. C., also won two matches, defeating M. S. Weisberg, Dorchester, Mass., 5-1, 6-1, and Ray Daggett, Syracuse, N. Y., 6-0, 5-2.

Kamrath and Hines are expected to meet in the semi-finals.

Joe Bralley, Austin, Texas, considered a strong contender, was eliminated in the third round by Al Surface of Kansas City, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4.

Store Theft Is Charged to Mexican

Charges of theft were filed in county court this morning against Antonio Colzaco, alleged to have stolen a quantity of merchandise from the Austin-Jones store.

The Mexican was arrested by City Policeman Howie. The goods, consisting of shoes and hosiery, were recovered.

BABE GETS 43RD
NEW YORK, Aug. 12 (AP)—Babe Ruth connected with Walter Hoyt's delivery for his forty-third home run of the season in the third inning of the Yankee-Detroit game today. The blow barely cleared the right field screen, bringing in Reese ahead of Ruth, and giving the Yankees a 4 to 1 lead.

Pro Referendum Asked In Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Cook county Republican committee petitioned the secretary of state today for a dry law referendum.

Three petitions, bearing the names of approximately 400,000 voters and sent from Chicago last night under guard, called for the inclusion on the ballot of three questions. Shall the eighteenth amendment be repealed? Shall congress modify the Volstead act? Shall the Illinois search and seizure act be repealed.

Bernard W. Snow, chairman of the Cook county G. O. P. committee, who headed a group of Chicago party leaders in presenting the petitions, said prohibition has not only been a failure in accomplishing the object sought but has been attended by a long trail of evil consequences that threaten the stability of government administration. Under the Illinois law, the names of 310,000 voters must be had before a public policy question can be placed on the ballot. If approved, the questions will be voted upon at the November general election.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The body of Lee Redman, 35, was found in his cell in the county jail here today. He had been hanged. Redman had been brought to jail here from Denton after getting a suspended sentence for forgery and was awaiting trial on a second charge.

OIL OUTPUT DECREASES

West Texas Total Falls But 4,827 Barrels

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 12.—(AP)—A decline of 20,104 barrels was registered in the daily average production of oil in the United States for the week ending August 9, the Oil and Gas Journal estimates. The total is placed at 2,478,259 barrels, as compared with an average for the preceding week of 2,498,383 barrels.

Production of heavy oil estimated at 438,867 barrels, a decline of 31,300, accounted for the drop, more than offsetting an increase of 11,196 barrels in the light oil output, which averaged 2,042,392.

For the midcontinent area, including both light and heavy gravity oils, the estimated daily production was 1,332,124 barrels, an increase of 1,125. Oklahoma's light oil output, placed at 560,075, was up 6,070 barrels, while the West Texas production was 293,793 barrels, a decrease of 4,327. The Kansas average was 117,485 barrels, 1,175 more than for the preceding week.

ONE TIME CLOWN OF CIRCUS DEAD

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 12.—(AP)—From his dingy upstairs room papered with gaudy circus posters and yellowed newspaper clippings, coroner's office attaches today removed the body of Dan du Crow, 75, old time clown.

Du Crow, one time member of the Du Crow Trio, who traveled with the big show, all over the country and in Europe, was found dead late yesterday.

Death was due to the heat, physicians said.

Helen Wills Moody Not To Defend Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(AP)—Helen Wills Moody has decided she will not defend her national women's tennis title this month at Forest Hills, N. Y.

The champion gave unwillingness to leave her husband, home and relatives so shortly after her long trip to Wimbledon, England, as the reason for decision.

"I have decided to stay at home with my husband and relatives for a time," the tennis champion said. "It wouldn't be right for me to go away again so soon when I have just returned from a long trip."

"I love competitive tennis and have no intention of giving it up, but I am not going to defend my national title this year."

Mrs. Moody returned recently from Wimbledon where she captured the singles title. Her decision not to defend her national championship marks the abdication of a queen who has ruled the courts since 1923.

The only previous break in the series of triumphs which began when she took the national championship from the former Molla Bjurstedt seven years ago, was in 1926, the year she was kept out of competitive play by an operation for appendicitis. Her career as a tennis champion began when she was 15 years old, with the winning of the girls' national tournament.

Crack-up Ends Try At Pacific Flight

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The wreckage of an airplane crashed in Ladner field here today as a forlorn monument to an ambitious flight project and one of the craft's owners, Bob Wark, was reported in a serious condition from injuries received in its latest crack-up.

Wark was injured and the plane, dubbed the "Pacific Era" was smashed yesterday when the flyer overshot the landing field in returning to Vancouver from Lulu Island air field, near here, preparatory to resuming a projected four-stop flight from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokyo.

Eddie Brown, partner of Wark, was not in the plane, having gone to Ladner field by automobile with the expectation of continuing the trans-Pacific flight as soon as the ship could be made ready.

Earl Bryant of Knott was a business visitor in Big Spring Monday.

Electric Power for the New Empire

In West Texas is occurring a change that is little short of dramatic. A new and untried territory is assuming the proportions of a great empire. The rapid strides that it is making have attracted the attention of the world. For years progressive men and women were drawn to West Texas by boundless resources awaiting only courage and initiative. Today these men and women are building a New Empire.

Aiding in this program of empire building is electric power, the first essential for rapid industrial development. Within recent years electric power transmission lines have been built through virgin territory to supply dependable electric power to growing cities and towns and their new industries. Small villages and rural communities, too, have benefited from the spreading network of electric power lines, which have brought to many small communities the same character of electric service supplied to the largest cities of Texas.

The Texas Electric Service Company is keeping pace with the growth of the new West Texas Empire. Through its predecessors, the Texas Electric Service Company pioneered in the construction of electric power transmission lines in West Texas and today these lines serve 65 cities in the New Empire. West Texas cotton gins, oil fields, oil refineries, gypsum factories, rock crushing plants, railroad shops and dozens of other industries have felt the stimulating effect of ample and dependable electric power supplied from the transmission system of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Tune In Texas Electric Service Company Radio Program Over WBAP Every Tuesday at 8 P.M.

Texas Electric Service Company

The business of the Texas Electric Service Company is founded on diversified interests over a large and growing territory. Industries, farms, dairies, cattle ranches, commercial establishments and homes, all aid in stabilizing the earnings of this company. A depression in one or two lines of business or industry has only a slight effect on the sale of electricity over a wide territory. This stability, coupled with a far-seeing management, has given West Texas a power company fully capable of keeping abreast with West Texas growth.

More money to the cause. Said cause being the Steers' Training camp. Masters Cafe came forth with a bucket, followed close behind by C. A. Hodgson of the West Texas Miniature golf course. Added to that is a dollar from Dick Collins, J. M. Morgan, Mrs. Jim Pardue and Bill Pilant. Which isn't enough, speaking of totals. So the committee goes out either today or tomorrow and seeks to fill in the gap. All business houses will be visited, so it is said, in order to raise the $300 necessary for the pre-season encampment of Bill Stevens' palookas. Incidentally Stevens and his cohort Bill Olsen were among those present in the sanctum this a. m. They were looking for a cook. Which is one of the things we are the most interested in.

Cosden Refinery toppled over the Bankers in a farcical bout Monday afternoon. Seems like it doesn't make any difference how far back in the grandstand we repose our weary bones, Spike Henninger always finds us and has something rash to say in our direction. Yesterday it came when Cotton Lynn, catcher for the Bankers, went up against the net to catch Pool's high one. Umpire Blevins didn't see it. We didn't see whether Lynn was catching it off the wire. As a matter of fact it didn't make any difference to us where he caught it or if he did catch it. We didn't see the play. But Spike alleges we did and wouldn't give a decision in his favor. Which, of course, is just so much hokum. When we umpire we get $3 for it just like all the other blind Tommies.

Doc Wolford Hardy, Frank Boyle and a fellow named Will Hanson and ourself trekked out to the new gridiron yesterday eve and sat in the press box. We just sat up there and watched the men make the mules work. We'll say this, the fellow that invented mules surely did know his business. They are getting the field cleaned off, scraped and massaged. The steel bleachers have been erected on one side. It is still indefinite whether bleachers will be erected on the other side this season. It all depends on how fast the coin rolls into the Steer treasury. A new eye-clone proof fence will be ordered and erected around the new athletic field. San Angelo will find it mighty, mighty hard to break out of that cyclone proof fence.

We spoke of Hodgson giving a dollar to the football fund back yonder. Just as we finished making our sixth hole-in-one of the evening around at the deformed golf course, Hodgson approached us with a proposition. We'll say this, his approach is wonderful. He said if the money for the training camp were raised he would give a percentage of one night's receipts to the good of the order. Which, no doubt, will be taken up.

This afternoon at Dusty D. the second half winner of the City loop probably will be decided. The Barbers and Richardson Refinery meet. An arbiter for the fray has not been obtained. George Blevins, the regular umpire informed us this a. m. he wasn't going to be the regular umpire any longer. Besides Blevins is due to play this afternoon as he is under a Richardson contract. If there are any applicants for the job, we have a suit of armor we found which might come in handy. Should Richardson cop the battle today they will have virtually clinched the second half title. Should the Barbers do so, they will have placed a headlock on the flag. Should Richardson cop the second half pennant it will be all over, inasmuch as J. C. Moore's aggregation stepped out and won the first half at a gallop. Incidentally Johnny Moore is still vacationing and Willie Hoehn, who still is in doubt as to exactly what league this is, has charge of the gasoline manufacturers.

Cotton Lynn declares he may not "hog" the form that Sain and Mickey Pool do when it comes to baseball, but at times he is an outstanding young man. In an exclusive interview given to the press of the nation Monday afternoon he openly admitted, after much pressure, that he could put Sain and Pool in the shade of the cellar when it came to shuffling the hardwoods.

Which maybe he can. The Chicago Cubs breathed deeply today of the dustless air at the head of the procession—leaders of the National league parade once more.

In second place, crestfallen and perhaps just a bit weary of the frantic struggle that is marking the final drive for the flag, are the Brooklyn Robins, out of first place, with the exception of a couple of one day lapses, for the first time since June.

The margin is only a point, but it is a margin, and the worst is yet to come for the falling flock if Uncle Wilbert Robinson, for the Robins must face the battling Cubs themselves in a four game series that opens today in the back yard of the 1929 champions.

The Cardinals deal their final blow in the overthrow of Brooklyn yesterday, coming from behind in the ninth to score three runs and whip the Robins for the third straight time, 6 to 6, while young Buddy Teachtout, freshman southpaw of the Cubs, was taming the Boston Braves, 4 to 2, the third time McCarthy's warriors have turned that trick in two days.

Bad Record

More worful even than the drop of the Robins is the record of the Flock against the Cubs themselves. Brooklyn has beaten Chicago only four times against 11 defeats.

The goat of the Cardinal conquest yesterday was Del Bissonette, lanky Brooklyn first baseman. Hollis Thurston went into the ninth with a 6 to 4 lead, thanks to Babe Herman's 27th homer, another by Johnny Frederick, and other timely clouting against Johnson and Grabowski. Then Hafey and Watkins singled. Bissonette hit Watkins in the back trying for a forecourt on Fisher's grounder, and two runs scored. Del missed Gelbert's foul, threw late to catch Fisher at third and Gelbert hit to him again, and a pass filled the bases. Babe Phelps replaced Thurston. He got two outs but Frankie Frisch, who would like to play in Brooklyn next season, singled home the winning run.

The Cubs' tussle with the Braves was a simple thing with Teachtout allowing but six hits. Wallie Berger got his 29th homer; but Cantwell was hit freely.

Pirates Win

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Giants 8 to 5 and kept them from gaining precious ground. Larry French pitched nice ball to halt a Pirate losing streak that had reached five straight. Bill Terry did most of the Giant hitting with a homer, double and single, and French helped his own cause with three hits.

Washington's Senators picked up a game on the pace setting Athletics in the American league but the breach is still very wide. Washington clipped Cleveland 9 to 2 while old Red Faber and his spiltball were taming the A's and Lefty Walberg 8 to 3. Goose Goslin hit a pair of homers to lead a St. Louis attack that halted the Yankee winning streak at six games, 10 to 5. O'Rourke and Blue also hit home runs.

Danny McFayden turned in the best pitching performance of the day, letting Detroit down with three hits, two of them by Easterling, as the Red Sox won 5 to 1. Ray Kulp also hurled well for Cincinnati, holding the stugging Philadelphia to six hits as the Reds won 4 to 2.

RICHARDSON, BARBERS PLAY TODAY

MANDELL SOOTHED IN LOSS OF TITLE

Four years as lightweight champion brought Sammy Mandell a modest fortune and the respect of his hometown, Rockford, Ill. Left in fighting pose. Right with his young son, Dick, and the family pet.

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY, Associated Press Sports Writer
ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Here is what four years as lightweight champion did for Sammy Mandell: Made him a fortune which he invested wisely.

Established him as a stable citizen of Rockford with the respect of his home town.

Mandell, his title to Al Singer of New York but he still has domestic happiness, a $30,000 home here, a little son, Dick, now almost three years old and something like $250,000.

A year ago the former lightweight champion said he was "set for life." Since then he has had two bouts with Jimmy McLarnin in which he earned upwards of $50,000.

and the other night when he was knocked out for the first time, he picked up $65,000.

Mandell is one of the extraordinary characters of the ring. This black headed Italian youth, a year before he won the championship from Rocky Kansas in 1926 decided that his father, who had worked for 20 years in a Rockford foundry, had toiled long enough. Sammy built his father a home and gave him a monthly income.

Sammy married a Rockford girl and built an English type bungalow in one of the city's best residential streets. Then along came Dick to make the love nest complete.

Mandell liked to box but he loathed a certain type of hangers-on who infest gymnasiums.

Through the friendship of the late Thomas Sizer, cashier of the Forest City National bank, and Thomas Gill, an attorney, Mandell made wise investments with the money he earned in the ring.

The first knockout of the Rockford lad is likely to be the last. He once said:

"As soon as I am convinced that I have begun to slip I shall quit. I'll never stay in there and get punched around until I am goofy."

When Mandell came back to Rockford, a dethroned champion, 3,000 persons were at the station to greet him.

That's what they think of Sammy Mandell in Rockford, the town he loves to brag about.

WACO DROPS BEHIND SPUDS

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

Unless the Waco Cubs throw on the brakes, citizens of the McLennan county metropolis can call off that pennant fund they started raising a few days ago and return the checks on hand.

Leading the Texas League chase when they hit the road four days ago, the Prattmen today were two and one-half games from the top, the result of three straight defeats at Fort Worth and Wichita Falls. Their pitching, as good as any in the league under the home lights, has gone more or less haywire on foreign soil.

Becker blew up in the seventh yesterday and the Spudders came from behind to make it two straight over the Cubets, 13 to 8. The first half champs scored three runs in the seventh and six more in the eighth off Brancheau to sew up the verdict. Before going down, however, the Cubs had the satisfaction of clouting Hal Wittse from the hill in the third. Jack Kloza drove in four of the winners' runs with a homer and three singles.

The Fort Worth Kittens managed to stay a jump ahead of the Spuds by cooling Beaumont again, 5 to 2. Hugh Buchanan, young right hander, obtained by the Cats in exchange for Bill Kelly, blanked the Exporters until the ninth and would have registered a shutout but for an error behind him. Every Cat joined in a 12-hit assault on Denny Burns and Mallett, with Fowler, Tavener and Buchanan each contributing a pair.

Two games word the extent of the day's activities, rain spiking Houston's night engagement at Shreveport, and Dallas and San Antonio resting from their Sunday doubleheader.

Although they did not play, the Steers figured they were several dollars ahead for the day. President Sol Dreyfuss finally talked Vic Frasier into joining the White Sox, and if the obstinate right hander does report to Dottie Bush and stay put this time the Mavericks will be able to collect his purchase price. Frasier has been hurling for a semi-pro nine at Mt. Enterprise since jumping the Sox in the spring.

U. S. HAS "EXCLUSIVE" REGIMENT IN PORTO RICO

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico (AP)—The Sixty-fifth infantry, the most exclusive regiment in the United States army—only native Porto Ricans may enlist in it—has a long waiting list of would be recruits. A few of the officers also are Porto Ricans.

Several hundred youths are already ready to enlist, a soldier's job being considered one of the most desirable in the island, especially in view of the extensive unemployment.

Whenever vacancies occur in the ranks of the Sixty-fifth, the officers "hand pick" the new men, choosing only those who have completed at least an elementary school education.

BANK DROPS FARCE TO COSDEN

Redcaps Rap and Run; 16 Errors Are Gleaned

In a baseball burlesque at Dusty D Monday afternoon Cosden Refinery elevated itself into a tie for first place honors by defeating what was generally accepted as the Bankers, but what looked more like a bunch of sandloters with no lot.

Barbers, and outsiders that bit the dust at the hands of Spike Henninger's redcaps.

The score? Yes, there was a score. At the final reckoning it stood Cosden 23, Bankers 5. Which is as near right as anyone knows the Cosden gleaned 16 hits off the offerings of Jim Payne. The Bankers set a new record of some kind by making 16 errors. Nesbitt, Brown, Segell and Bass of the Barbers were allowed to play. Nesbitt and Brown displayed their prowess by making three and five errors respectively.

It was one of the worst games seen inside the confines of the local ball park this year, and why Umpire Blevins let it go seven frames may go unsolved through the centuries.

Great Melee
Richardson Refinery and the run column in the final three innings. At the beginning of the fifth inning the tally stood, Bankers 5, Cosden 3. At the end of the fifth the redcaps had a two run lead. At the end of the sixth they had an eleven run lead. At the final inning they had the Bankers' assorted tongues out. They tallied nine in the sixth and seven in the seventh while Lefty Potter and his cohorts were holding the Treasury scoreless.

The win over the Bankers gave Cosden another opportunity to top first half honors. Cosden, however, is handicapped by the loss of men and what started the second half as one of the best equipped teams in the loop has dwindled of late and more dwindling is due.

and against a candidate who campaigned the district, he won by a seven-to-one vote. He has been re-elected twice without opposition, and in the primary of July 26 McLennan county endorsed his candidacy for lieutenant governor by a vote of 10,805 to 3,123 for all his opponents combined, the candidate nearest him receiving only 907 votes.

Senator Witt has been a member of all the important committees of the upper house, chairman of most of them at various times. He has the support of nearly every colleague in the upper house, is entitled to the place he seeks, and is completely deserving of West Texas support. Texas will never be shamed by the type of candidacy represented in Edgar Witt.

Primary Election Figures Tell The Story

—Austin American
 Figures never lie, facts speak in thunder tones and the official record tells the story. It goes without saying that the Texas election bureau has another magnificent achievement to its credit: its daily bulletins until the official returns were given in complete form in its tabulation of votes in the July primaries revealed a new high mark for the bureau workers. Regardless of the probability of political forecasts, the bureau's record of 88,041 ex-votes in 1936, the previous record of 82,707 votes cast in July 1934, was surpassed. This is a new record for the bureau.

Maintenance Cost

WHILE arguing against the state wide road bill, it is estimated in more than 50 states, the maintenance cost of highway systems is increasing rapidly. The cost of maintaining inferior types of roads, of the state designated system.

The annual road maintenance bill can be reduced only as rapidly as really permanent paving is put down.

That answers the question how could issuance of bonds, making available for construction a stipulated sum annually over a period of ten or twelve years, reduce the cost of maintaining highways?

Under the "pay-as-you-go" plan, which bids fair to become the "pay-and-not-go" plan, as now practiced, 25 to 40 years will elapse before the state's highways are paved.

The so-called Sterling plan would pave these roads in approximately 12 years, and the reduced cost of maintenance, becoming increasingly lower as more paving were put down, would be one of the principal reasons why the process would be expedited.

Second In Command

WHILE the Sterling-Ferguson race will dominate the run-off primary, don't let Texas forget for a minute the importance of nominating the right man for lieutenant governor. In the history of the state it has happened many times that the lieutenant governor became the governor—and filled the place more acceptably, and with more credit, than had his predecessor. For example, right here in Texas, the elevation of Will Hobby following the impeachment of James E. Ferguson.

In the coming primary we have two candidates for lieutenant governor. One is Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, an elderly ex-traveling salesman with no legislative background, but only the record of having briefly attempted to win a seat in the United States senate as the enthusiastic champion of the Ku Klux Klan. The other is one of the soundest men in Texas, Edgar Witt of Waco.

Considering the circumstances with its possible eventualities, Witt's nomination for second in command is significantly important. West Texas voters should line up with him in a body, for here, is his legislative record:

He actively supported the legislation creating Texas Technological college.

He was a leader of the movement in behalf of the over-burdened women and helped put over the act to re-value their lands.

Senator Small's river-bed bills had his enthusiastic support, and he was one of the senators to vote for their re-passage over the governor's veto.

It was Witt, who, in the regular session of 1928, introduced the resolution asking congress to place an import duty of $1 per barrel on crude oil; and he was one of the authors of the pipe line bill sponsored by independent oil operators of Texas before the last special session.

West Texas cotton farmers have not forgotten pink bollworm regulation. Witt supported the bill setting up appropriations to pay for losses incurred in enforcement of the quarantine.

Witt's home folks are sold on him. He has been in the senate of Texas for 13 years. He was away, in army service, when his friends put his name up for his first term.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Movie fans who are weary of so much chatter on the talking screen may take comfort now, for slowly a trend toward "less talk in the talkies" is manifesting itself.

Maybe it all began with the arrival of Cergel Eisenstein, the Russian director whose first picture in Hollywood is being anticipated keenly.

Harold Lloyd Eisenstein from the first has been opposed to over-emphasis on dialogue in screen stories, and is zealous in defending the art of pantomime as it was in the pre-microphone era.

And others are agreeing cautiously, now perhaps, that screen art is essentially one of pantomime, that a single gesture, smile or frown may convey much more meaning than yards of talkie speech.

Storm Clouds Gather

DAGGER'S mother-in-law and Jack had disappeared, evidently for a private talk, and she found difficulty in adjusting herself to the conversation of the other women.

It was a relief when the men finally joined them, and Kitty suggested a bridge, for she had to concentrate on the game, and that diverted her thoughts from what Jack's mother was saying to him upstairs.

Mr. Vaneering escorted Dagger to her room after the party had broken up. He was very quiet, and made no reference to his wife's departure; but his manner toward Dagger was unobtusively affectionate.

"Good night, Alex—or may I say Dagger? Thank you." He stooped to kiss her. "You are a treat. I am going to enjoy you."

"Please do," was all she could say for acknowledgement.

For she was frightened. What had happened between Jack and his mother? What would happen? Jack was lounging in a big easy chair, a cigarette in his mouth. He rose at once, and made a determined effort to erase the shadow which hung over his features.

"Ah, sport!" he greeted her. "What luck?"

She tossed a handful of checks to him, without comment. He whistled, riffling through them.

"About a thousand, eh? And I suppose the chumps thought they would show the little girl from Texas some high life!" He took her hands, his eyes scrutinizing her with a mixture of adoration and concern. "Say—" he gulped—"you and mother haven't hit it off, have you?"

Dagger choked her first indignant affirmation of the question with an effort. A still small voice deep in her brain whispered that this man was her husband, who, in less than twenty-four hours, would have left her for the cauldron of war. Any humiliation or discomfort she suffered wouldn't be too steep a price to pay, if it made his going easier.

"I know, dear." She nodded wisely. "And you mustn't worry. We'll get along perfectly just as soon as we know each other. And your father and Kitty like me, already."

"They're wild about you. And so will mother be, after she's reconciled to the situation. She can't help loving you—nobody could."

And he swept her bodily off her feet in an embrace that shook her

DAGGER
by Mary Dahlberg

SYNOPSIS: Dagger Marley, 16-year-old niece of a Texas rancher, rescues Elaine Howard, American adventurer, from some Mexican insurgents and falls in love with him. Howard is already unhappily married, and does not return Dagger's affection. Later he is reported missing and probably dead in fighting on the Western front in France, and Dagger, heart-broken, goes to visit an aunt in San Antonio. There she meets Captain John Vaneering, flying ace, who falls in love with her and helps her learn to fly. Suddenly he is ordered back to France and impulsively they elope and are married. Vaneering's mother wires her disapproval of their sudden act, however, and Dagger's uncle, who has brought her up on the ranch, dislikes Vaneering. The captain drinks heavily but promises to stop to please Dagger. In New York Vaneering's mother is icily disapproving of Dagger, but his father and sister, Kitty, like her at once.

convoy is safe," she had buried her face in her pillow, biting the linen to restrain the sobs that struggled for utterance.

Jack went to the front; he was assigned to a pursuit group—down came the curtain!

St. Mihiel, and a brief announcement from First Army headquarters: "In combat over the enemy lines, Captain John Vaneering, D. F. C., D. S. C., shot down his tenth plane." Next a letter from Jack—'he'd received the Legion of Honor and a Belgian decoration. More weeks of strain. The Argonne. A second communique, terse and matter-of-fact: "Captain John Vaneering yesterday and the day before shot down in flames his eleventh and twelfth enemy planes. Today he destroyed an enemy observation balloon over Mont. Sec."

Like every other American, Dagger was swept off her feet by the rush of events that fall, the steady thrusts of the Allied armies, which were chopping the German resistance apart.

Indeed, as the tide of victory swelled, and the daily communiques increased the totals of prisoners and guns taken and ground gained, she became superstitious about her own investment in the titanic melee. With so many men dying, with millions grappling in a death-battle from the Alps to the Channel coast, with the skies constantly full of buzzing, man-driven killer-wasps, what right had she to expect special safety for her Jack? And she wasn't surprised when doom struck, a telegram from the Red Cross: "Captain John Vaneering is in Neuilly Hospital with shattered kneecap."

What a day that was in the Vaneering household! Telephones jangling, telegraph messengers coming and going in a steady stream. Mr. Vaneering pulled every wire he could reach, and the next morning brought a cable from Jack, himself: "Don't worry. Knee troublesome but safe. Nice blights." At least, as Kitty pointed out, Jack was safe now from worse harm. And that was something to be thankful for.

But an inevitable reaction Dagger experienced from this incident was to lose most of her interest in the war, and she would have been quite miserable had it not been for an episode which occurred a couple of weeks after the news of Jack's misfortune.

THIS YOUNG WOMAN Knows Exactly Where She Is Going

There are certain things for the home and for herself that she buys from force of habit at certain stores. But for the most part, she reads the advertising in The Herald before starting out on her day's shopping. She knows exactly where she is going for the items she needs, because she has first shopped at home from the columns of her newspaper. She is no different from other housewives: quite naturally they like to shop where selection is wide. This they find in the advertising of The Herald, where Big Spring's leading merchants regularly describe their merchandise. Besides wide representation from the Big Spring stores, there is column after column of fashion notes, recipes, women's features, household hints, short cuts to better home management, and many other valuable household helps. Are you following this convenient, satisfactory habit of reading regularly the advertisements in The Herald?

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Charleston, S. C. here and now.

In this connection you may recall the last clauses of the fifteenth chapter of St. Paul's letter to the Corinthian church. After the apostle has set forth the question of immortality at length, he concludes by urging his converts to be "steadfast, immovable, always abounding in the works of the Lord." They of course, there is a natural desire to know whatever can be known concerning the condition of our friends and loved ones. But Holy Scriptures deliberately diverts our attention from them to concentrate on the tasks of God's kingdom to venture all for His cause. Blessed is that servant who shall be found active in faith and deeds when his Master appears.

New York City.

I do not understand your attitude toward the Bible.

You speak of some of its parts as not being of divine authority, and suggest that we consider these particular parts just as we would any great literature and as the writings of wise men of olden days, who were human beings and not actually inspired.

Are any parts of the Book divinely inspired, and how can we determine just which parts are God's words and which are words of men?

I have answered similar questions before, but the frequency with which they occur shows that many people are deeply perplexed on the matter you raise. I am quite sure that in the practical use of the Bible you discriminate between its various parts. Some passages you rarely, if ever, read; others you read continuously. Why is this? It is because you believe that you get more help from your favorite portions.

Which would you choose among those favorite portions? Probably Psalm xxiii, Isaiah lili, Micah vi-6; the Beatitudes, the Parables of the Good Samaritan and of the Prodigal Son; Romans xii and Corinthians xiii mean far more to you than the genealogical tables in Chronicles, or the rules for ceremonial cleansing in Leviticus, or the crude stories in Judges. Why so? Because in them you hear God's voice, as you do not in the other selections.

Obviously then not all parts of the Bible are of equal value. By what principle must we judge them? Is it not by that truth about God which we believe has come to us in Jesus Christ?

We have to distinguish between the historical and moral values of the Bible. The scholar needs all of its parts to get the complete story of God's self-revelation. But His children have repeatedly failed to understand that revelation. Only very slowly did they come to a right knowledge of Him. The Bible records everything—men's failures as well as their successes. Why should we insist that the failures are not failures just because they are not recorded in the Bible? The Old Testament said, "An eye for an eye," Jesus said, "Forgive your enemies, love them, pray for them" Which of these utterances most truly represents God?

Great Falls, Mont.

I am disgusted with the European nations. We won the war for the Allies, and now they want us to undertake the loads they ought to carry themselves. What have you to say about the present mix-up?

It offers a fine opportunity for the patient exercise of considerate justice. The loads you mention are heavy enough in all conscience, and unless the white race co-operates they may prove disastrous. Besides, just what do you mean by saying that "we won the war"? This bald assertion should be qualified. It is very doubtful if anybody "won" the war. The majority of those involved in it incurred colossal debts, grievous wounds and a frightful death list.

So far as physical predominance is concerned, General von Kuhl, Chief Staff Officer of Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, and one of the greatest of the German commanders in the field, declares that Great Britain was the soul of the Alliance directed against Germany, and that her navy brought his country to her knees. Other competent authorities claim that without Belgium's gallant resistance, or the strategy of Marshal Foch, or the intervention of our expeditionary force, the conflict would either have been a draw or a triumph for the Central Powers.

So why not let historians handle the past, while we address ourselves to the reconstructive work which must be done for the future, lest we all likewise perish? If the nations formerly engaged in armed strife could only display the feverish energy for peace and security they manifested for violence and destruction, international affairs would speedily mend. It is for you and me to pursue this policy, and not return to wallowing in the crimson mire of war.

Barbers will clash this afternoon in what can be safely referred to as a "crossed" battle. Richardson, the Barbers and Coaden are in a clinch for first place in this second half race.

After today's tilt the Barbers have two games, one with Coahoma and one with Coaden. Richardson meets the Tigers before the week is up.

Jess Vick, the best on tap, as far as the Barbers are concerned, will probably be on the mound for the Barbs this afternoon. Dickinson probably will draw the assignment from Richardson.

SLUGGER HUNTED
HOUSTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—A man who jumped from a clump of bushes last night slugged Mrs. Pearl Bridgewater and her daughter, Phyllis, the mother reported to police today.

Mrs. Bridgewater said she did not know the identity of her assailant, nor any motive. She said that she and her daughter made their way to a nearby drug store where they were given first aid treatment. Neither was seriously injured.

OIL BRIEFS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 12 (AP)—Independent Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa got its first production in the Oklahoma City field today when its No. 1 Hatcher, in SE NE NE 2-11-3 WJN north end of the field, did 360 barrels of oil the first hour and had an estimated 10 million cubic feet of gas. Total depth 6,498 feet. The well was spudded June 8, which gives it the fast drilling time of 64 days.

T. B. Slick and William H. Atkinson added the second producer of the day at the No. 1 Alexander, in SE NE NW 2-11-3 W. Total depth is 6,555 feet. It is estimated good for 3,500 barrels of oil and 15 million cubic feet of gas.

NEWS BRIEFS

BALTIMORE—With Henry Benton it was merely a case of swapping stomach ache for a headache. Suffering with the former he gave a kypsy woman $4,000 in bills to make a plaster out of them to cure him. He wore it five days, and then discovered the $4,000 had shrunk to $9. That's when Henry got the headache.

Chemist By Chance Bobbitt Answers Compound Explosive; Buildings Wrecked Allred Charges

LADONIA, Tex., Aug. 12—(AP)—Replying to charges of his opponent that he was resorting to political trickery and ward politics to gain votes, R. L. Bobbitt, candidate for attorney general, in a speech here today asked the voters to check the records to see where the two aspirants to the office have stood on the issues.

Erke Nallina, 19, a press feeder, employed in the printing shop of David Leff, which occupied the smaller building, was killed. Mrs. Lillian Leff, wife of the proprietor, and others, were buried in the wreckage. Among the injured were a pedestrian and two firemen who were hit by falling bricks.

Death Threat Note Mystifies Police

FORT WORTH, Aug. 12 (AP)—Detective Chief Jackson is at a loss to know the origin of a "death threatening" note found on his desk at Central Station today.

HOUSTON, Aug. 12 (AP)—Sam Mann, 27, was in jail today facing charges of negligent homicide and driving while intoxicated in connection with a motor accident shortly before midnight Sunday in which Miss Anna B. Stark was killed and three other persons injured.

Death Threat Note Mystifies Police

While inclined to treat the matter lightly, Chief Jackson does not know whether the note was intended for him or for Chief of Police Lee, whose office is on the floor above. All mail addressed to the police department comes through Chief Lee's office and the chief personally delivers the mail intended for Jackson. Chief Lee said the note may have come through the mail but that he may have overlooked it in sorting the mail this morning.

Chemist By Chance Bobbitt Answers Compound Explosive; Buildings Wrecked Allred Charges

My opponent could have settled this issue of Fergusonism ten days ago if he had not been tied down with obligations or afraid to speak out publicly," Bobbitt said. "If absolute frankness and protection of the ballot box from illegal voting constitute 'political trickery' then your attorney general is guilty. I leave that to your consideration."

He publicly repudiated my action in throwing out nearly 3,000 illegal poll taxes in Bexar county and consorted with the machine leaders there, pledging them hands off if he were elected attorney general," Bobbitt said.

George Sheppard Thanks Supporters

FLEECE WOOL
BOSTON, Aug. 12—(AP)—Outlet for 56s fleece wools appears to be expanding and prices are showing a firmer tendency. Fair quantities of Ohio and similar strictly combing wools of this grade are moving at 30c in the grease. Some houses are refusing bids below 30c on their offerings of 56s. A similar trend is being noted in 58, 60s fleeces. Strictly combing Ohio 58, 60s, is sold ahead of grading at 30c in the grease, by some concerns, and small sales have been closed at 31c in the grease.

$2,500,000 Sought For State Treasury

AUSTIN, Aug. 12—(AP)—Immediate steps will be taken by the state to recover more than $2,500,000 taxes on casinghead gasoline due the state under a ruling by Attorney General Robert L. Bobbitt, it was announced today by George H. Sheppard, state comptroller.

The comptroller is charged with collection of the tax; including initiation of any litigation incident to its recovery. He said he would confer with Attorney General Bobbitt at an early date regarding the proper procedure.

Possibility of collecting the tax was first surmised by Moore Lynn, state auditor, who requested an opinion from the attorney general as to whether casing head gas should be subject to the gross production tax of two per cent as an oil. Bobbitt ruled that the gasoline should be so classified, and subsequent investigation by the auditor disclosed that besides $2,500,000 or more now due from this tax, the tax was accruing at the rate of more than $30,000 per annum.

KONJOLA ENDS NEURITIS AND STOMACH PAINS

GRATEFUL MAN RAGER TO ENDORSE FAMED MEDICINE THAT DID SO MUCH FOR HIM

MR. W. T. BRYANT

"Konjola is the best medicine ever made," said Mr. W. T. Bryant, 1009 Morrill street, Oak Cliff, near Dallas. "Neuritis became so severe in my legs that I could scarcely walk. There was a constant aching in my back and shoulders. I could never get a perfect night's rest. My bowels were irregular and I was constantly taking cathartics. I always had a sour stomach, frequent accumulation of gas and severe headaches. My vitality was at a low ebb, and I felt miserable."

"After giving Konjola a trial I am like a different man. Konjola restored my organs to normal condition and they now function perfectly. I am no longer bothered with indigestion or constipation. The neuritis pains have completely left me and my entire system is in good condition. Konjola deserves all the praise it gets—and more."

When taken for six to eight weeks, Konjola the new and different medicine, will work wonders that will astonish those who suffer from the stubborn ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and of rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Bros. drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section—Adv.

Ten Far Western Counties Lacking Power Facilities

Electric power, the last needed resource to round out the development of West Texas, is now available in almost every county in this part of the State. Fewer than a dozen of the thinly settled counties of the extreme western part of the State are not reached by the electric transmission lines which provide electric service to this area, according to C. S. Blomshied, district manager of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Construction work of the electric power companies in West Texas during the last three years has greatly increased the power resources of cities and towns which receive electric service from the electric power transmission lines. Electric service also has been made available to smaller communities and rural homes from the same lines which supply electricity to the larger towns and cities.

The discovery of oil in several parts of West Texas hastened the construction of electric power lines, for the oil industry is the largest single user of electricity in this part of the State. Soon after oil fields were opened, electric lines were built to supply power for drilling oil wells, pumping oil from the ground and for the operation of oil pipeline pumping stations. New cities which grew rapidly following the discovery of oil were supplied with ample electric power.

The recent extension of power lines throughout West Texas has created a West Texas electric transmission system which supplies this section of the State with the same standard of electric service found in the older parts of Texas. Large electric generating stations in various parts of the State feed electric power into these transmission systems, which are tied together to prevent any interruption.

The Texas Electric Service Company, one of the electric companies serving West Texas, operates more than 1,500 miles of electric power transmission lines and supplies electric service to 65 cities and towns in its territory. These lines also furnish power for oil field operations in seven of the major oil fields of West Texas.

The industrial development of this area has been aided by the abundance of dependable electric power, available in many cases at the very source of raw materials. Oil refineries, cotton gins, gypsum plants, cotton seed oil mills and dozens of other growing industries are large users of electric power supplied from the electric power lines.

WHEN THE CONOCO MAN ASKS "ETHYL?" say Yes! and you'll say it again

THE next time you drive into a CONOCO station, the man at the pump will ask you a one-word question. "Ethyl?", will be his query.

And in justice to yourself and the car you drive, we urge you to answer, "Yes!"

For Ethyl, added to CONOCO, the gasoline we're proud of, is like seasoning added to food. As seasoning brings out taste and deliciousness, so Ethyl brings out the qualities which have made CONOCO Gasoline famous.

Ethyl stops the knock that makes the foot retreat from the accelerator when you would rather "bear down" harder. Ethyl stops the knock that forces you to shift gears on hills. Ethyl stops the knock that embarrasses you when you let in the clutch in traffic.

So when the CONOCO salesman asks, "Ethyl?" . . . Say, "Yes!" . . . and you'll say it again.
