

Parade to Be at 3 Tomorrow

An estimated crowd of 25,000 people, both young and old, is expected to witness the gigantic balloon parade that will wind through Pampa's downtown thoroughfares beginning tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, officially opening the 1947 Christmas season in Pampa.

In true Christmas spirit, in a bright and new flaming-red suit, will come Santa Claus. Old Saint Nick will be seen riding in the parade on the cowcatcher of the giant balloon train.

Six bands, two choirs—the Pampa High School A Cappella Choir, and a group from the local chapter of the S.P.E.B.Q.S.A.—a string band, and civic and commercial floats will be seen in the parade along with over 60 balloon figures of fiction and fantasy. The event is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

The parade will form in the 200 block on N. West, move to Foster, move east on Foster to Frost; north on Frost to Browning; east on Browning to Cuyler; south on Cuyler to Thut, and east on Thut to the Baker School where the parade will end.

Leading the parade in the official car will be C. A. Huff, mayor; Frank D. Smith, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Jack Nimmo, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; M. Samples, chairman of the Retail Trade Committee of the C. of C.; and W. B. Weathered, chairman of the Adolphe Wallis Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Amarillo College Band, under the direction of Charles Kiker, will appear in the parade along with the high school bands from McLean and Canadian. Three bands from Pampa will march in the parade. They are the Pampa High School band, the Junior High School band, and the elementary school band.

Some 175 Pampa Boy Scouts will assist in the parade in the handling of the enormous balloons.

Manney Gault, 61, Noted Ranger, Is Dead at Austin

AUSTIN —(AP)— Manney Gault, 61, long-time Texas Ranger and for the past 10 years Ranger captain at Lubbock, died of heart disease at a local hospital at 5:20 a. m. today.

Gault was active with former Ranger Captain Frank Hamer and Louisiana County officers in the killing of the notorious Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker who had swept the Southwest in a wave of crime in the middle 1930's.

Gault had also personally handled cases in Littlefield in which Dr. Roy Hunt was first attacked and later slain along with his wife in the bedroom of his home.

Gault had served with the Rangers, his service being broken only temporarily during the administration of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson when many of the old-timers either left or were removed from service.

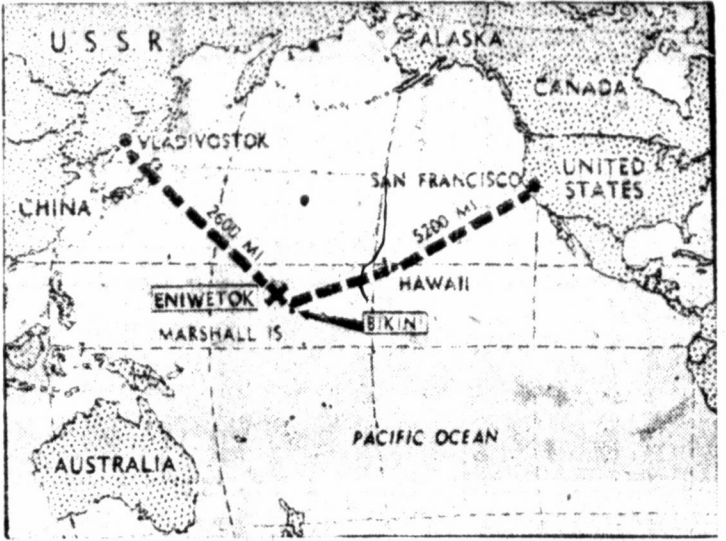

During his absence from ranger service, Gault served as deputy sheriff in Texas County.

Gault is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Leona Pennell, and one son, Johnson, all of Austin.

Funeral services will be held here at 2 p. m. tomorrow with graveside services conducted by the Union Creek Masonic Lodge.

Before joining the Ranger service which he was a member of since 1929, Gault had been a stock raiser and farmer in Travis County.

The Governor said he plans to return by tomorrow afternoon in time to attend the meeting here of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

Rumors Say Reds Facing Inflation

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Soviet Russia's tightly managed Communist economy is reported in serious trouble from a wave of bank runs and panic buying in Moscow and other cities.

Well-based reports, some of them broadcast to the world in 23 languages last night by the State Department's official "Voice of America" radio said:

1. Crowds excited by rumors that the ruble was about to be devalued, have forced many stores to close in the last few days because of frantic efforts to turn paper money into durable goods.

2. A rush to withdraw money from savings bank accounts resulted in an order to limit individual withdrawals to 200 rubles daily.

These spectacular reports—coming out of Russia itself—gave such a sudden new twist to the Kremlin's relations with the rest of the world that diplomats here were cautious in weighing the likely effects.

Moscow's unceasing propaganda against American plans to aid Western Europe has hammered the theme that (A) the capitalist United States is headed for an economic depression while (B) the Soviet economy is secure.

Detailed accounts reaching Washington said the residents of Moscow seemed to consider as true rumors that the Kremlin would decree a new currency to replace the ruble and that later new and higher prices would be ordered into effect.

Any scaling down of the value of the ruble or raising prices for consumer goods would be a harsh blow to savings. Together, such actions would have the same effect as inflation in the forms more familiar in China and other countries.

There, inflation is measured in terms of foreign currencies and prices have assumed astronomical proportions.

In Russia, however, the ruble has an arbitrarily decreased value of 20 American cents.

The word of Russia's economic woes broke into print with startling suddenness.

Dispatches of American and other news correspondents in Moscow have given no hint of any such developments. But these dispatches must be sent over Soviet-controlled transmission facilities.

As received here from sources in a position to know, the information is that Moscow last week officials here said the low recorded last night was 28.

Establishment of such a government in the American, British and French occupation zones has been regarded as likely should the Big Four fail to reach any understanding at their present session.

Yesterday's session—which adjourned early last night—could take tea with King George at Buckingham Palace—ended discussions on preparation of the German peace treaty.

Search Is Abandoned For Plane

U. S. Constabulary ground parties abandoned late today German time, the hunt for a missing C-47 Army transport, piloted by Lt. Wesley Fleming, of Pampa. The plane was lost Friday with 20 persons aboard.

The Associated Press Bulletin from Frankfurt said zero visibility blocked aerial reconnaissance of the wood area in which the plane was believed down.

Earlier today it was reported that an advance rescue party trying to reach the spot by ground was last reported about two miles from its objective, but radio contact with this group—composed of 20 American soldiers—was lost in mid-morning.

At Frankfurt airport, headquarters of the rescue operations, a search for the plane and medicines waited the signal to take off as soon as word was received that the wrecked plane or any of its survivors had been sighted.

Two sergeants will go on the plane ready to parachute into the area.

Officials directing the search said they were almost certain they were on the right track but could not declare they had definitely located the plane.

Lt. Fleming, in the service for five years, attended Air Corps schools at Nashville, Tenn., Buffalo, N. Y., Maxwell Field, and graduated at the Stuttgart, Ark., airfield.

In addition to his wife and two children, Carolyn, 16, and Eugene, 7, and his mother, Mrs. J. H. Fleming, of 702 S. Gray, relatives here are a brother, W. E. Fleming, and two sisters, Mrs. Paul Walker and Mrs. Judie Porter.

After graduating from Pampa High School, Lt. Fleming worked here for the Columbian Carbon Co.

Federal Grand Jury Opens Red Probe

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A federal grand jury today began investigating the cases against 19 Hollywood movie directors and writers cited for contempt of Congress because they failed to say whether they are Communists.

It's 'Winter Wonderland' Here

The treasured effect of legendary "winter wonderland" greeted Pampans today as the eve of Santa Day.

Trees had a thin sheet of ice formed last night when a freezing wind caught up with a slow drizzle. Some sleet fell.

Partly cloudy weather prevailed over Texas, though it was clear at Pampa at noon.

Windstorms hit Abilene, Graham and Albany. At Graham, winds ripped the roof off a school, uprooted trees and knocked out the electrical system for a time.

US Warned Aid May Get Back To Us in War

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Emergency help for Europe and China began its journey through the House today with an opposition cry that "all we give in the way of aid may eventually be used against us in one way or another."

Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill.) called upon his colleagues to defeat the $600 million measure immediately at issue and give searching scrutiny to future foreign spending proposals lest "The industrial plants built with our money... be used to manufacture the implements of war for Russia to use against us."

Allen, chairman of the Rules Committee, was scheduled as the first speaker at the opening of House debate.

At least two days of heated debate face the bill before it collides head-on with a road-block of amendments designed to reduce the financial authorization and to restrict its application.

Present plans call for a final vote Tuesday or Wednesday. Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) has expressed the hope it can reach President Truman by the end of next week.

But between the time the bill passes the House and the time it goes to Mr. Truman it must hurdle a Senate-House conference committee, for the House is considering a different bill from the one the Senate passed last Monday.

The major differences are in the amounts of interim aid proposed—$500 million by the House Foreign Affairs Committee and $697 million by the Senate—and in the countries that would receive it.

The Senate voted to toss the measure only to Italy, France and Austria. The House committee added China and suggested that $60 million be earmarked for that country.

Even opponents of the bill, including Allen, conceded that the measure will be passed, but they were determined to fight to the last vote for amendments.

The Russian leader said yesterday that the United States, France and Britain should submit to the foreign ministers council within two months "proposals for the fundamentals of the peace treaty for Germany."

His suggestion drew the immediate fire of French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who said that if the four agreed to such an arrangement they might just as well adjourn the London meeting at once because it is the fundamentals of the German peace settlement that they are supposed to be discussing here.

Neither U. S. Secretary of State Marshall nor British Foreign Secretary Bevin made any comment, so Molotov announced that, lacking support, he would withdraw his proposal.

Soviet officials said later he had had no intention of trying to break off the London meeting. His exact purpose, however, remained a mystery to French, British and American authorities, who shared Bidault's view that the fundamentals of the German peace treaty are an immediate concern of the current conference.

Some Western observers speculated that Molotov's suggestion had merely been put forward casually. Others, suspicious of every Russian move, sought for deeper and more devious motives.

Among the theories advanced by the latter group was the possibility that Molotov believed that should he commit the Western powers to a report on the German treaty fundamentals two months hence he would delay any move on their part to set up a government in western Germany.

Establishment of such a government in the American, British and French occupation zones has been regarded as likely should the Big Four fail to reach any understanding at their present session.

Yesterday's session—which adjourned early last night—could take tea with King George at Buckingham Palace—ended discussions on preparation of the German peace treaty.

MECHANICS TO THE RESCUE—For two months a mechanical bladder has kept alive 6-year-old Morris Richardson, of Alamosa, Colo., who was hurt under a truck and suffered a lacerated bladder. To permit healing, Pueblo hospital doctors by-passed the boy's bladder with a tube attached to a small motor and pump which draws fluid into a jar, right. Morris has had four operations; will have two more before his bones and organs are back in order. (NEA Telephoto.)

Lefors Man Killed In Highway Wreck

William Frederick Wells, 40, of Lefors, was fatally injured shortly after 7 o'clock last night in an automobile-truck crash on Route 273 about one and one-half miles northwest of Lefors.

Wells was brought by Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance to a Pampa hospital, where he died a short time afterwards.

State Highway Patrolmen investigating the crash reported that Wells, driving a Chevrolet sedan, was traveling toward Lefors from Pampa and had apparently lost control of his car, careening into the side of a truck coming from the opposite direction. The truck driver, L. C. McCain, was uninjured in the crash.

Patrolmen said driving conditions were extremely dangerous with a pelting rain coming down on an already ice-cold road.

A sand-clogged siren caused by an earlier run of the ambulance, almost caused the ambulance itself to crack up during its dash up Cuyler.

Mr. Wells had been employed as a machine operator by F. E. Bull in Lefors for the past four years. He was born in Trail, Okla.

Surviving are his wife, Lila Grace Wells; two daughters, Freda Olene and Billie Pearl at home; three sons, John Edward, Roy Lee, and William Gail, at home.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. M. E. Wells, Madera, Calif.; and six sisters, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Jeannette McCraw, both of Ponca City, Okla.; Mrs. Hulda Simms, Mrs. Grace Spangler, both of Madera; Mrs. Rose Sudduth, Lefors; and Mrs. Sylvia Greaves, Houston; four brothers, all of Madera, Joe George, Jack, and Phillip.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

In addition to the county fatality yesterday, City Police recorded four minor crashes Wednesday afternoon and evening and one early this morning.

The first, at 3 p. m., involved a 1941 Hudson, driven by Bernard

Egypt and Iraq Also Scenes of Wild Disorders

By The Associated Press

The death toll mounted today in Palestine's civil strife as an Arab strike protesting partition went on through its third and last day. New disorders broke out elsewhere in the Arab world, even as appeals were made by both Arabs and Jews for a halt to the violence.

Four new deaths were reported today, bringing to at least 35, the number who have died in the pillage, burning and destruction. Hundreds have been injured.

One Arab was killed and several Jews and Arabs were wounded in renewed fighting in the no-man's land between all-Arab Jaffa and all-Jewish Tel Aviv. A Jewish factory worker was reported shot to death by police in the Jaffa sector. A Jewish truck driver died of knife wounds sustained in yesterday's Jerusalem fighting, and the slashed body of another Jew was found in the center of the Holy City.

For the fourth day Cairo experienced a tumultuous anti-partition demonstration. A crowd estimated at 15,000 paraded, smashed shop windows and fired trolleys and automobiles. Police dispersed the mob.

Ernest Thompson Fears Rationing Of Petroleum

AUSTIN —(AP)— The unpopularity of federal control and even demanded rationing for petroleum products has brought with it a new rationing, says Railroad Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson.

Thompson told Gov. Beaudry H. Jester's administrative calendar yesterday that Texas could combat this threat by burning less high octane gasoline in their automobiles and turning to "regular" gasoline.

He explained that the manufacture of high octane gasoline requires much more crude oil than low octane fuel.

As for this year, Thompson said, 156 new oil fields have been discovered in Texas, but demand for crude oil is such that these discoveries are not enough. The discoveries to date this year outnumber those of any previous year.

"The problem is not a shortage of supply, however," Thompson told the State department heads and the Governor. "The supply is good, but the demand is heavier than ever before. People are learning how to conserve gasoline. They are going further distances in their cars and staying longer."

Texas oil fields are all producing at their maximum rate of efficiency, the commission chairman continued. It is not all they can produce, but all they should produce under sound conservation practices.

Adjutant to Take Reports from 5-6

Adjutant H. G. Lambrecht, of the Salvation Army, said he would be in the Chamber of Commerce office, City Hall, from 5 to 6 this afternoon to receive reports from campaign workers who have cards.

He said the drive thus far had brought in about $4,000 and a total of $6,500 is sought. Industries are responding well, he said, adding that he hoped to have a complete report by tomorrow for the public.

ELLA THE ELEPHANT is one of the best-mannered characters who will parade here tomorrow afternoon when the spectacular giant balloon parade of more than 50 figures will bob and trundle over a mile-long route, under the auspices of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The entire procession of humorous and weird figures will be escorted by more than 100 costumed attendants. Although Ella requires only four handlers, the giant balloon train that also appears in the parade will be propelled by a contingent of about 30 large boys.

Ralph Thomas Is Chicago Honoree

Gray County Agent Ralph R. Thomas received the Distinguished Service Award of the National County Agents Association at the banquet of their annual convention held in Chicago at the Edgewater Beach Hotel last night.

Mr. Thomas came to Gray County as county agent in 1930. He has always taken a great interest in boys 4-H Club work, and many of the members first enrolled are now leading farmers in their community.

The need for soil conservation was noted as soon as he came into the county. He surveyed the first level terraces in the county that first year, and terracing as well as dams on the farms and ranches for erosion control and conservation of water has been a major part of his work.

Crop improvement, mainly through the use of certified seed, has been one of the important contributions made by Thomas to the agriculture of the county. In 1935 he organized the county for testing of cattle for tuberculosis, giving the county an accredited rating as T. B. free. Eradication of bindweeds has come to the front of Thomas' activities since his return from the armed services. Considerable progress has been made in this program.

Scouts to Sell Christmas Trees

Scout Troop 80, for the fourth consecutive season, will sell Christmas trees here, it was announced today by Scoutmaster Freddie Galtman.

The scoutmaster said the Scouts had been donated space at the corner of Cuyler and Francis by Peg's Cab, and that they would begin selling their wares this Saturday.

Money from the project goes into the Scout fund for next year's activities, it was said.

Services Held for Kuehl Infant Today

Funeral services for Richard Bryan Kuehl, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kuehl, 414 W. Francis, were to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the baby garden of Fairview Cemetery, with J. P. Crenshaw, pastor of the Francis Avenue Church of Christ, officiating. The baby died shortly after birth.

Survivors are the parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kuehl, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Duran, all of Pampa.

Duenkel-Carmichael is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Dress up a meat loaf with broiled canned cling peaches and it becomes something quite festive. Cover outside of the halves with softened butter or margarine and fill cups with spicy tomato catsup and broil until fruit is heated through.

Man Plead Not Guilty of Charge

Charges of disturbing the peace and resisting arrest were lodged late yesterday by city police against Roy Fulcher, Pampa, after it took four officers to put him behind bars following a disturbance in the Court House Cafe.

Fulcher entered the cafe and approached three policemen, and a reporter, and started talking to them saying he was looking for a friend. A few moments later he started a disturbance by cursing loudly. Patrolman Joe Wilkinson approached Fulcher and told him to leave the cafe. Refusing, the policeman placed him under arrest.

In the police station Fulcher refused to enter a cell and had to be forced in. In an attempt not to injure or strike him, three other officers assisted Wilkinson in getting Fulcher behind bars.

For some unknown reason Fulcher was released early last night only to be rearrested by Deputy Sheriff Rufe Jordan in a local night spot. Fulcher was released from the county jail this morning and turned up before acting Corporation Court Judge Tom Braly.

Fulcher pleaded not guilty to both charges and was placed under $100 appearance bond on each charge. His trial was set for 9 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 10.

Capacity Crowd Sees Minstrel

Enthusiasm was shown toward the ESA Turn-about Minstrel that was presented last night on the stage of the LaNora Theatre.

The show, presented before a capacity crowd, was written and produced by women of the local ESA sorority and was directed by Ben Gull.

Consisting of all local talent, the five-act show was well received from the opening number.

The turn-about minstrel gets its name because everything was done in reverse to what is done in most minstrels. The sorority girls made up the chorus, took the majority of the lead roles, and played the part of the end "men."

Two numbers never before seen on the Pampa stage were presented, and both were well received. These acts were Dick McDuft, Pampa's 21-year-old singer, who can be heard over radio station KPDN each Monday evening in the "Dick McDuft Show," and Dr. Calvin Jones, playing the part of a blushing bridesmaid, and singing "I Wanta Get Married."

Other members of the cast included Harry Kelley, Charlie Roberts, Mrs. Harry Hoyle, Iris Rags-

Political Cleavage Of Europe Growing, 2 Europes Are Seen
By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Thus far Western Europe—with France and Italy on the firing line—has held its own, and a bit more, against the efforts of bolshevism to take over.

Of course we just now are entering the critical winter months which will put a further terrific strain on the already impoverished resources of the war-torn continent. Still if the economic front can be held until spring comes to the rescue, the democracies will be in hopeful position.

Here it's significant to note that the stiffening of the French and Italian defenses is being accompanied by Russia's further consolidation of her bloc of satellite nations. For one thing Moscow has announced a new trade agreement with Finland, negotiated in a "spirit of friendly mutual understanding," under which Russia's little neighbor apparently will receive many of her essentials next year. That seems to show up strategically situated Finland which would like to be friendly with the West.

Then Jan Masaryk, Czechoslovakian foreign minister, says the European states of the Russian orbit might enter a "loose regional defense agreement," in full accord with the United Nations Charter, if the Big Four fail to write a German peace treaty. However, he says he doesn't think an absolute break in the London conference is likely.

So the cleavage between Eastern and Western Europe seems to be growing. Soviet failure to drive communism through to the English Channel will result in two Europes—the Soviet dependencies of the Eastern half and the democracies of the West.

One of the greatest weaknesses of the Russian position in Western Europe is that it not only is introducing a political "isn" but is trying to substitute Moscow's will for the will of the nations concerned. In short, the governments of France and Italy and other communist countries would in effect lose their sovereignty and would be responsible not to their own peoples but to the domination of Russia. That can't be rammed down the throats of the democracies.

Texas 'Blue Baby' Dies at Johns Hopkins

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Patricia J. Moore, 18-month-old "blue baby" from Marshall, Texas, died at Johns Hopkins Hospital today after specialists determined she was too ill to undergo the famed Blalock-Taussig operation.

Patricia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore, was admitted to the hospital Sunday critically ill. She had a congenital malformation of the heart which impeded the flow of blood to the lungs to receive oxygen, a condition usually producing a bluish tinge about the lips and finger tips.

At 6 p. m. a 1940 Chevrolet, driven by Luther P. Boyd, 610 E. Craven, and a 1940 Dodge truck, driven by James Guill, 123 N. Arthur, collided at Frost and Foster. Slight damage was caused to the one automobile. There were no injuries.

One-half hour later police were called to S. Barnes where Reuben Jones, 788 Denver, driving a 1935 Ford panel truck, had crashed into a steel guard rail in front of a storm sewer. The truck's front wheels had to be pulled from the sewer. Jones was arrested by police and charged with driv-

Demonstrators in Iraq set fire to the United States information office at Baghdad, wrecked furniture and smashed windows, despite efforts of police to halt them. All Baghdad's Jews were believed to be a precautionary move looking toward possible evacuation of the Jewish population to a safe place.

The Jewish quarter of Beirut, Lebanon, was shaken by a bomb explosion, but there were no casualties.

At Lake Success, N. Y., headquarters of the United Nations, Jewish agency officials were reported seeking means for the suppression of the anti-partition rioting in the Holy Land. One source said the agency sought diplomatic pressure by the U. S. State Department on Arab governments in the Middle East and an embargo on materials which might be used to further the Palestine conflict.

A committee of Arabs who returned to Haifa last night from a meeting in Lebanon with Haj Amin el Husseini, exiled Mufti of Jerusalem, issued a plea for Palestine Arabs to "refrain from unorganized attacks and await orders." Clouds of smoke still hung over Haifa from fires set in last night's rioting.

Hagana, the Jewish underground militia, appealed to "dissident groups" to join them, and Irgun Zvai Leumi, one of the Jewish underground's dissident units, issued a warning to Arabs against further violence.

Hagana announced that a shipload of 170 uncertified Jewish immigrants slipped by the British blockade during the night and entered Palestine, scattering at once to Jewish settlements in the Tel Aviv area.

Dissension Among Pacific Coast Loop

MIAMI, Fla.—P—One of the big battles in baseball appeared to be shaping up today as rumors of dissension among Pacific Coast League owners leaked out here to dwarf all other activity at the minor league's 46th annual convention.

Despite league president Clarence Rowland's insistence that all was serene among the coast's moguls, it was learned that Paul J. Fagan, vice president of the San Francisco Seals, and generally referred to as the "strong man" of the league, had confided to friends that he was determined to bring major league baseball to San Francisco.

Fagan added he did not care whether the Seals entered the big leagues as part of the eight club Pacific Coast circuit or as a four-team group composed of themselves, Los Angeles, Oakland and Hollywood.

It also was learned that the "big four" coast teams, with the exception of the Chicago Cubs' owned Los Angeles club, had "secret" meetings several weeks ago to consider what steps would be necessary if the big leagues refuse the coast's request for major league status.

It appears almost a certainty that the American and National Leagues will not grant such a request. It is almost equally certain that the minors here and elsewhere, pending action by the majors next week.

An informant told the Associated Press that the three clubs had placed a value on the property held by Sacramento, San Diego, Portland and Seattle at $2,500,000 and agreed among themselves to compensate those clubs that amount.

Each of the clubs going into the majors agreed to pay $500,000 to the others within a half million dollars coming out of the league treasury, the informant added.

Frankie Groves' Career as Football Player Very Brief

AUSTIN—P.—Frankie Groves' football career— that is, as a member of a boys' team—was very brief. It lasted nine minutes, to be exact.

Frankie is the 16-year-old girl who captured the nation's headlines by playing tackle for Stinnett High School against Groom Nov. 14.

But the Texas Interscholastic League stepped in yesterday. It announced that "a prohibition against girls playing in any of these rougher sports" will be incorporated in the rules before the next football season.

It also found that Frankie was ineligible to play in the first place since she didn't fill out an eligibility blank.

Roy Bedichek, director of the league, indicated the state executive committee believed that Frankie was the victim of a publicity stunt.

This was denied by Coach Truman Johnson of Stinnett High, who said: "Frankie Groves' football playing was not a publicity stunt; it was serious business. The Interscholastic League is mistaken."

Then Frankie dispatched a telegram to the league, saying: "Gentlemen, I make a plea for the girl footballers of Texas. We want to continue to play."

But the league was adamant. It was indicated that there would already have been a rule against a girl playing football with an interscholastic league team if the league had thought any girl would ever want to play.

"Curiously enough, we already have a prohibition against girls competing in boys track and field events because the division is set up under the title 'field and track for boys,'" said Bedichek.

So the rule that would ban Frankie and other girls from football probably will come about with a heading "Football for Boys."

Frankie still gets four to five fan letters a day over her gridiron exploits. She received a football pin yesterday from a boy footballer at Franklin High School, New York.

It all started one day when Johnson, watching Frankie in a practice game with the boys, noted her vicious tackling and remarked: "don't tackle my players so hard; you might hurt them." Then he added: "I wish I had you on my team."

So Frankie asked for a uniform. There was no rule against her playing and her parents didn't object, so Frankie got into the final game of the season against Groom. The biggest crowd ever to see a game in Stinnett turned out. Frankie did all right, too.

The result was that three other girls announced they would be candidates for the team next fall.

Orlando Tourney Opens Today
ORLANDO, Fla.—P—Most of the nation's top professional and amateur players were on hand today to start the winter golf tour with the $10,000 Orlando Open over the 6,554-yard par 71 Duval Country Club course.

Among the 164 participants are seven members of the American Ryder Cup Team—Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret, Lew Worsham, Jr., Ed Oliver, Dutch Harrison and Herman Keiser.

Hardin-Simmons To Play in Annual Harbor Bowl
SAN DIEGO, Calif.—P—Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Tex., will meet in the second annual Harbor Bowl football game here New Year's Day.

The bowl committee announced H-SU's acceptance last night.

Michigan's one-two punch, Bump Elliott, left, and Bob Chappuis will next be let go against Southern California in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, Jan. 1.

Harvesters Meet Childress Tonight

The Pampa Harvester basketball team, coached by Dick Livingstone, will be out for their second win in as many starts when they meet the Childress Bobcats tonight at 8 o'clock in the Junior High School Gymnasium.

The Harvesters swept their opening series against the Panhandle Panthers Tuesday night by winning the B Team opener 47 to 13 and the varsity game 29 to 21.

The B Teams of both schools will battle at 7 o'clock in a preliminary game.

Coach Livingstone announced that the same starting lineup of King, center; Fagan and Miller, forwards; and Gambin and Hernandez, guards that started against Panhandle would start against the Bobcats tonight.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., NEW YORK—P—Pat Kennedy, who probably knows as much about basketball officiating as anybody, figures that the lessons learned in the big pro league eventually will lead to two changes in the college court regulations.

Kennedy, a notably noisy figure when he's officiating, manages to keep fairly quiet while he's discussing his job as referee in chief for the Basketball Association in accents—and sometimes words—faintly reminiscent of Mushky Jackson.

"We have made two changes that I think the colleges will follow," says Pat. "We allow coaching from the bench during timeouts. Everybody knows it's done anyway, so we let the coaches go over to the sidelines and receive any instruction the coach wants to give. And we don't allow a team to refuse a foul shot and take the ball outside. We found it slows up the game, costs the team that's behind a chance for a two or three-point shot and it leads to repetition of the foul."

The BBA is again anything that slows up the game. The whole idea—of those guys except Lenglet, Connelly and Barbara.

K. O.—OK
In the Madison Square Garden where Joe Louis will defend his heavyweight title against Jersey Joe Walcott Friday, the late Jimmy Johnston once staged a card consisting of these bouts: Hans Birkie vs. Andre Lenglet; Charley Massare vs. Eddie Simms; Bob Pastor vs. Alex Borchuk; George Brescia vs. Frank Connelly and Lou Nova vs. Ralph Barbara.

The interesting point to Joe is that at one time or another Louis knocked out all of those guys except Lenglet, Connelly and Barbara.

One-Minute Sports Page
Gossip in local radio circles says the Giants soon will announce a million dollar deal with a big cigarette company for broadcasting ball games. Ohio State U. will have an all-sophomore basketball team this season because Coach Tippy Dye can't find any juniors and seniors good enough to displace the sophomores.

White Sox Manager Red Lyons spent part of his time in Chicago before the minor league huddle telling the boys that Vern Stephens is a better all-around shortstop than Johnny Pesky.

and, speaking of the Sox, have they come out yet with the news that Johnny Rigney, retired pitcher and son-in-law of owner Grace Comiskey, has been given the newly-created post as head of the club's farm system?

one of five colleges in the Midwest and southwest under consideration, the committee said.

Interscholastic League Will Expand to Four Conferences

AUSTIN—P—The Interscholastic League will have four conferences instead of three next year, Class AA will have 14 districts and a system of byes for bi-district playoffs, and girls will not play on high school football teams.

These were the conclusions reached yesterday by the league's state executive committee.

The league added a new conference with establishment of a four-city group made up of Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio high schools.

All league events except music will be placed on a four-conference basis—city, AA, A and B. Basketball will not be affected by the reclassification of this coming season as schedules already have been completed, League Director Roy Bedichek reported.

In accordance with desires of the four big cities and also in order to make several AA districts less crowded, the executive committee approved the city conference idea.

As a result, Dallas and Fort Worth high school city champions will hold a Northern semifinal, and Houston and San Antonio a Southern semifinal. The two winners will then tangle to decide the championship of the city conference.

Dallas schools are Crozier Tech, Forest Avenue, North Dallas, Sunset, Adamson, and Woodrow Wilson. Fort Worth contestants will be Arlington Heights, Amon Carter-Riverside, Fort Worth Tech, and Polytechnic. San Antonio entries will be Thomas Jefferson, Brackneridge, Sidney Lanier, Burbank, Harlandale and Alamo Heights. Houston schools are Milby, Jeff Davis, Reagan, Lanier, Sam Houston, San Jacinto and Stephen F. Austin.

Bedichek said District 1-AA through 10-AA will probably remain the same. Class AA will have only 14 districts, with the last four considerably re-grouped as follows:

11-AA—Beaumont, Orange Port Neches, Port Arthur and South Park (Beaumont).
12-AA—Freeport, Galena Park, Galveston, Goose Creek, Pasadena and Texas City.

13-AA—Austin, Corpus Christi, Laredo and Victoria.
14-AA—Alice, Brownsville, Edinburg, Haringen, Kingsville, McAllen and San Benito.

Port Neches, Freeport, Galena Park, Texas City, Victoria, Alice comes in 15-AA.
Winners in districts 1-AA in the northern bracket and 8-AA in the southern bracket will receive byes at the bi-district playoff level in 1948, and consecutive district numbers will draw byes in following years, the executive committee decided.

Bedichek indicated the system of byes probably will not remain in effect very long. An increasing number of schools will qualify for AA competition on a basis of scholastic enrollment within the next few years, and a 16-district conference will be re-established when feasible, he said.

The executive committee took no final action on the eligibility of girls to play high school football, but it found Frankie Groves' girl tackle for Stinnett High School, was ineligible to play in the game against Groom High School last month.

BOWLING

In the Major Bowling League last night at the Pampa Bowling Alley, Cabot won three games from Burnett's and Yocham-Kendrick won three games from Pampa Bowl. John McFall of the Yocham-Kendrick team bowled high single game with a 229 and high three game series with 544.

In the Ladies' Lone Star League, Walker's Grocery won three games from Parker's Blossom Shop and the Modern Beauty Shop won three games from Franklin Life Insurance. Daily Sander of the Modern Beauty Shop team bowled high single game with a 154, while Ferris Crump of the same team rolled high three game series with a 418.

Time to Quit

Dr. J. P. Korchik works on Cow-boy Ruben Shank after his knockout by Mel Brown in the eighth round in Minneapolis. The Denver middleweight, treated for concussion of the brain at hospital, announced his retirement.

Raadik to Meet Priest Tonight

CHICAGO—P—Anton Raadik the Estonian middleweight who floored Marcel Cerdan, European champion, three times in their recent bout but lost the decision, will meet Al (Red) Priest of Cambridge, Mass., in one of the four 10-round bouts at the Stadium tonight.

Mitchell plans to take the team to Phoenix two days before the game.

Sheetketski said his Nevadans will start practice Dec. 22 and leave for Phoenix Dec. 28.

North Texas' only defeat in the regular season was 12-0 at the hands of Arkansas. Nevada's two defeats were to University of San Francisco, 13 to 37, and Detroit University, 6 to 38.

Columbus brought cows to America on his second voyage in 1495.

They were holding out for some reason or another. They never did say just why, but the Salad Bowl officials told me tonight that it all had created so much publicity for the game that there will be no need for further advertising—it will be a sell-out.

At Phoenix, chairman Dave Wynne of the selection committee said $10,000 in tickets already have been sold and "in view of the developments, we now expect

Lake Stocked With Bass and Catfish

During the past summer Lake McClellan has been stocked with 22,500 bass and 17,000 channel catfish, announced Bert Howell, lake manager, this week in order to give fishermen of the area the best year around fishing.

Howell stated that 5,000 of the channel cat were stocked last Friday. There is no closed season on fishing on this government owned lake.

The hunting season for duck and geese will open on December 16 and will run through December 29. Hunting will be allowed at the lake on Wednesdays, Sundays, and holidays. During the season last month, Howell said, the hunters received their full quotas without any trouble.

Body of Man Is Located by Use Of Pay Telescope

SAN PEDRO CALIF., (AP)—Herbert Kraencke, 27, put a dime in the slot of a pay telescope on Point Firmin Monday, looked for a while and then spotted the body of his father floating in the ocean. The son reported his find to the Coast Guard and when the body was brought ashore identified it as that of his father, Fritz Kraencke, 57, a scenic artist and filmset designer who had been missing since Sunday. Detective Lieuts. Donald Gray and Ralph Weyant said they were investigating the case and that an autopsy will be performed. PORT ARTHUR—(AP)—Ulys G. Knight, executive secretary of the American Red Cross here since January 1, says he will become manager of the Waco Red Cross Chapter December 15.

Samaritans in Wartime, Pacific Natives Will Now Meet Men Who Bring Bibles

SEATTLE—(AP)—The wartime experience of being adrift for days on the blazing South Pacific, with aid and rescue from natives on a tiny atoll, gave Jack Maier an aim in life. With Marvin Norstedt, he has started the several-thousand miles trip back there in a tiny 35-foot sloop, to bring "help" to the kindly people of Tabiteuea South, which lies 212 miles south of Tarawa. Their locker is full of Bibles. "We're depending on the Lord to see us through," Maier said. "We think we can do a lot of good with His help." Both are 25 and unmarried. Maier professes to be a Catholic and Norstedt a Protestant. They have no church or religious group sponsorship. Their home is Bellingham, Wash. "The people there were good when I needed help, and I'm determined to go back to help them," Maier said. In the last war, as second mate of the F-14, a 96-foot freighter which broke down in April, 1944, he and his mates drifted 1,321 nautical miles across the Pacific, he recalled. Norstedt has spent several years in the Merchant Marine. "Then we ran aground on Tabiteuea South, and the natives fed us and treated us wonderfully," Maier said. "For the first time in seven years, a trading vessel put in there and rescued us." The gaff-rigged sloop, The Despy, is 35 feet long and had a 62-horsepower engine. But they hope to sail much of the way. Their first planned stop is Honolulu, but stormy winter weather lies immediately ahead of them. During the summer of 1946, 488,819 persons visited Grand Canyon national park, in northern Arizona.

Dog Catcher Has Goat Doesn't Want

SACRAMENTO, Calif., (AP)—The dog catcher got a goat in his net and now wishes he hadn't. "I just got to find the owner," wailed Poundmaster George Martin. "This goat is going to be a mother pretty soon." "She may be kidding, but I'm not."

Santa Claus Given Blame to Now—but Things May Change

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — My wife is mad at Santa Claus. He's never brought her a fur coat, and she's beginning to think he never will.
A few weeks before Christmas, the year we were married, I looked in Frances' eyes and saw mirrored there a strange fussy image.
At first I glanced back thinking a bear was behind me, but I learned after consulting other husbands that what I had glimpsed in her eyes was merely the well-known "fur coat look."
It is a kind of affliction that gets in the eyes of most wives about the time cold weather comes on.

Since then I have noted it in Frances every winter about this time. She will be talking along about how times are getting pretty good now, and then all of a sudden that queer "fur coat look" will come over her face.
Just before the first Christmas ten years ago, I asked her what she wanted Santa Claus to bring her and she said:
"A fur coat."
"But you've got a fur coat," I objected.
"Oh, that old thing," she said. "I've had that for years."
Christmas morning she went over to the tree to try on her new fur coat and — what do you think? There wasn't anything there but some perfume.
"Santa Claus must have had a tough year," I consoled her.
So she whacked down her old fur coat to a jacket. The next year Santa left her a new wing chair instead of a fur coat.
"You'll have to wear the old one another year," I said.
"If I do I'll have to wear it as a veil," she said. "You should see what the moths have done to it."
Each year after that she got the old familiar "fur coat look" in her eyes. And each time Kris Kringle got mixed up in his deliveries. One year he'd bring a new rug, and another year a new sofa. But somehow he never managed to crawl down the chimney with that fur coat.
I asked her just why a fur coat was so important. She said I never would understand, but I got the idea that somehow a fur

Commissioner, Mayor Meet With 2 Departments

Firemen and policemen were told yesterday afternoon by Mayor C. A. Huff they were free to vote the way they pleased and to campaign for passage of the civil service law all they wanted to without fear of any disciplinary action regardless of the election's outcome.
The ten-minute meeting came as a result of a whispering campaign put on by some individuals that policemen and firemen were being gagged through fear of losing their jobs if they talked for or against the bill being voted on today.
Mayor Huff told the men he personally was against the bill because it "took a certain measure of home rule away from the city."
He added that at no time had the commission discussed the measure officially other than calling the election and had made no official stand on the matter until H. H. Hunter of Amarillo, second vice president of the Texas Fireman's Union, had appeared before the commission charging them with dereliction of duty in failing to publish the law and intimating that coercion was being used against the men in keeping quiet about the bill. "This charge," the mayor said, "the commission wishes to refute. You are free to do as you please; either to vote for or against it and to solicit your friends to vote for it if that is the way you feel about it. You are citizens of Pampa, but the commission balked when an outsider tried to tell us how to run our business."

City Commissioner W. E. Ballard told the men the commission at all times had the department's best interests at heart and were willing to listen and help wipe out any prejudices they may have arise.
Both Mayor Huff and Commissioner Ballard were introduced to the men by City Manager Steve Matthews.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The stock market sagged today, largely from its own weight, for the first time this week.
After early gains for a few industrial favorites faded in the absence of any stimulating news developments, a general downturn engulfed all sections of the list. Offerings never became urgent, however, and final losses were held to a relatively narrow range. Total transfers were in the neighborhood of $50,000,000.

New 1947 lows were touched by Pepsi-Cola and Twentieth Century-Fox. Other leaders depressed included Santa Fe, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Caterpillar Tractor, Pacific Western Oil, Phillips Petroleum, American Woolen, Union Bag & Paper (after a stock offering), American Smelting (traded ex-dividend), Johns-Manville, J. I. Case, International Paper, Texas Pacific Land Trust and Owens-Illinois. Yarn & Towne improved on dividend news, while better performers included American Can and International Harvester.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Buying of feed grains, particularly corn, halted a downturn in grain prices on the board of trade today. Prices moved above yesterday's close, although wheat tended to lag behind other cereals.
Strength of corn reflected a good demand in the cash market. Rains over the Midwest were expected to delay movement of corn to market. Oats were wanted on a trade report that the government was seeking a large quantity of rolled oats for export. Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 higher, Decem-

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(P)—Post-war international philanthropy certainly has its odd moments:
 (1) In Manhattan an Irish hack driver kills his own horse to help feed starving Europe, and is promptly arrested by police.
 (2) In Italy two small war-wrecked towns in the beachhead area where thousands of U. S. troops lie buried—Anzio and Nettuno—quarrel bitterly over the division of $100,000 in American gifts.
 The two stories point some kind of a moral on the spirit of giving—and the spirit of sharing. Let's consider the case of John Horkin and his eight-year-old horse, Portaslain, familiar to thousands of New York visitors who've taken rides through Central Park in Horkin's old-fashioned hansom cab.

 When Portaslain went lame, Horkin, who had been brooding over the hunger in Europe, decided to slaughter this horse he loved, pickle the meat and turn it over to an organization sending charitable contributions to Europe. He knew that horsemeat is a delicacy there now in some areas.
 "And with the coming winter," he said, "I was convinced that thousands would die."
 A practical man with experience in slaughtering animals in his native county Mayo, Ireland, Horkin decided to do the job himself.
 So Saturday night he took his horse into the basement of a riding academy, tied it to the bottom of an elevator and then ran the elevator to the first floor, thus raising the horse on its hind legs.

 He stunned it with a hammer, split its throat, and spent twelve hours skinning Portaslain, butchering her and putting the meat in brine.
 Arrested on a charge of slaughtering without a Health Department permit, the thirty-nine year-old bachelor told police who pointed out he had destroyed his own means of livelihood.
 "I can get along without the $8 or $9 a day I make from the cab."
 However misguided his act, Horkin's simple sincerity stands in decided contrast to the spirit in the controversy raging in Italy between the mayors of Anzio and Nettuno.
 The two towns are adjacent beach resorts and ancient rivals. Recently two upper New York State towns—Dunkirk and Fredonia—raised $100,000 in good will gifts of food, clothing and other supplies for battered Anzio. Gloom-ridden citizens of Nettuno, convinced their town had carried the brunt of the Allied landing more than Anzio, sent Mayor Mario De Francheschi to ask for a share of the American gifts.
 De Francheschi reported that the Anzio mayor, Melvito Vecchiarello, rebuffed Nettuno's request and added insult to injury by declaring the gifts had been made to Anzio "not because Anzio is the location of an American cemetery, but because the people of Dunkirk probably like this town better than others."

 There is an interesting postscript, too, to hack driver Horkin's sacrifice of Portaslain; the horse that died to feed Europe.
 The meat was destroyed by the Health Department here.

Marry Young? Marry Old?

When Jeb Crowell's daughter, Sue, married nineteen-year-old "Slim" Blake, a lot of folks (especially older ones) began to shake their heads. Young marriages! Tut, tut!

That's why I'm not worried about our younger married couples. They were raised in a country that respects one another's right—a country of tolerance and temperance (a lot of bridegrooms are ex-G.I.'s, and it looked to me like their favorite beverage was beer!).
 From where I sit, it isn't when you marry that's important. It's the all-important spirit of tolerance and understanding that you bring to marriage.

Hint Communist Work Pattern

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hint that Communists may be partly responsible for the collapse of the cattle slaughter program in the United States-Mexico campaign against the foot and mouth disease was left with a Congressional committee today.

It came as members of a House agriculture subcommittee questioned E. F. Simms, chief of the Agriculture Department's Bureau of Animal Industry.

Responding to a question by

Rep. Worley (D-Tex.) whether Communists were carrying on a word-of-mouth campaign to dissuade Mexican farmers and ranchers from surrendering their animals for slaughter, Simms replied:

"We realize that the opposition has had the backing of some organization.

"At first it appeared sporadically, then we began to see it following a pattern."

The opposition, Simms continued, led to the recent decision to abandon the slaughter program in Mexico and substitute quarantine and vaccination of cattle.

Simms said that while he believed only a slaughter program could stamp out the foot and mouth disease, he favored support of the vaccination program as a second best method.

House Considers Move Requiring Citrus Purchase

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members from citrus and dried fruit producing states considered yesterday a possible amendment to the foreign aid bill to require purchase of surplus fruits along with grains for shipment abroad.

Rep. Jack Z. Anderson (R-Calif.), chairman of the California delegation's agriculture subcommittee, told a reporter "It seems clear that some such amendment is necessary."

Spokesmen for the citrus industry expressed doubt at a meeting yesterday that a provision inserted in the bill by the Senate permitting the Commodity Credit Corporation to sell surplus commodities at a loss will be effective in disposing of the estimated 15,000,000-box citrus surplus in the foreign relief program.

F. R. Wilcox of Los Angeles, speaking for the California Fruit Growers Exchange, said the authorization still will not insure that the Army and the State Department will buy citrus, even at low prices, for the foreign aid shipments.

Senators and representatives from California, Florida, Texas and Arizona agreed with the citrus industry spokesmen that inclusion of citrus fruits and juices in the European relief program is necessary to provide a balanced diet.

The congressmen agreed to support the industry's request to Secretary of Agriculture Anderson that the government purchase 17,000,000 to 23,000,000 boxes of citrus fruits.

Plan Said Ready in Regard to Workers

EL PASO (AP)—An international agreement on the contracting of Mexican agricultural workers for work in the United States was reportedly ready today for submission to both governments for final approval.

Heads of the U. S. and Mexican delegations yesterday reported completion of their joint conference but did not reveal details of the agreement.

Unofficial reports said that the agreement contained an anti-discrimination clause.

Since September Mexico has barred Mexican nationals from work in Texas on grounds of discrimination.

Big Farm vs. Little Farm Argument Is Getting Writer All Mixed Up

By LOUIS FRANKS Extension Editor Texas A & M

This big farm vs. little farm argument is getting me all mixed up.

Louis Bromfield, who makes his living writing and rides his soil conservation hobby very hard, has just finished his third Texas trip in two years, this one with the Friends of the Land conservation train. He is generally regarded as the leading advocate of the big farm theory.

He has been widely quoted as saying that the small, family-sized farm is doomed.

He did say, "Our present complicated, complex economic civilization cannot afford countless small enterprises save under very exceptional circumstances." But checking further into some of the things Mr. Bromfield has written on this subject, I fail to find that he is saying anything about the family-sized farm being uneconomical.

What he has said again and again is that the general farmer, who grows a little of everything, can't stand up against the specialized farmer, who grows one or two kinds of crops and has the equipment to handle it cheaply.

Even that goes against the theory of farm diversification I was raised on. I was taught that the farmer who had some cotton, corn and raised a few hogs and chickens always got by, because if his cotton failed he had something else to fall back on.

And he was considered smart because he spread his labor and equipment over the year.

I still don't know what happens to the fruit specialist who gets a late freeze or the potato specialist when the bottom drops out of the spud market.

Of course I can see Mr. Bromfield is right when he says that the specialist in one kind of farming is going to know more about it and handle his equipment more efficiently than the farmer who tries to grow 10 or 15 different kinds of crops.

County agents up in the Panhandle tell me that some of the big wheat farmers put in a section here and another there, sometimes 50 or 100 miles apart. That way they spread the risk of hail or drought. I don't know whether that's a form of diversification or of specification.

Somebody once said, "The large farm produces crops, the small farm produces men."

That's kind of what's happening in parts of East Texas, where wealthy people are buying up small farms and combining them into estates. If you think just in terms of the land, there's no doubt but what the large landowners are doing a better job of soil conservation, and maybe of gross income. Most of the land is being put into improved pastures for beef cattle.

But when you think in terms of the community I don't know.

Out in California, according to a speech made before the annual Farm Chemurgic Conference in Oklahoma City the other day, there are two separate communities, one surrounded by farms averaging 57 acres, the other by farms averaging 497 acres. The land is about the same and the dollar value of crops produced about equal.

But the small-farm community has two banks against none for the large farm community, two newspapers against one, 141 businesses against 52, four grammar schools and one high school against one grammar school and no high school, and 14 churches against 7.

And so it goes. I see where the USDA has been asked to select two 4-H Club boys, one who can speak French and the other Italian, to go to Europe with the Friendship Train food shipment.

They'll tell the French and Italians some thing like, "This food comes from the hearts of our people and is for the hearts of our friends abroad."

The government pulled a switcheroo. One week we had poultryless Thursday, and the next the USDA is urging farmers to cull their flocks and go to market with the low producers. All of a sudden it's patriotic to eat more chicken.

The object of poultryless Thursdays was to save grain, but you can't save grain by keeping cull chickens on the farm with their

Urge Revival of Slaughter Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Revival of a cattle slaughter program in Mexico to stamp out foot and mouth disease among livestock has been urged by two Texas cattlemen.

Robert Kleberg of the King Ranch and Tom Armstrong of Armstrong, expressed their views in a joint statement in which they lambasted the U. S. Agriculture Department's role in the campaign against the disease. The department and Mexico announced last week agreement to reduce materially the killing of infected Mexican cattle.

"Actually no real slaughter program ever got under way," the Texans said. "It was only a half-hearted attempt that cost American taxpayers about $45,000,000 and in which only infected cattle were killed."

Advocating a new campaign, they said it should call for slaughter of at least half the 2,000,000 (two million) head of cattle in the quarantine zones of Mexico, and no further movement of livestock from infected areas to Mexico City for salvage. Such a program might cost the United States as much as $1,000,000,000 (one billion), Armstrong estimated, adding it would be justified if that amount is necessary to stamp out the disease and keep it from spreading across the border into this country. Kleberg expressed belief the campaign would cost only $250,000,000 to $300,000,000. The Texans said they did not believe that a quarantine zone and vaccination of cattle would effectively hold back the spread of the disease.

Dwarf Apple Is Developed

TOPEKA, Kans.—A new hardy, "family size" dwarf apple tree suitable for Middle Western home fruit gardens is being developed by Iowa State College horticulturists, according to Francis A. Kutish of the college staff, in an article in the November issue of Capper's Farmer.

Known as Clark Dwarf, the new variety has produced as high as a bushel of fruit per tree, Kutish writes. It was developed from stock propagated 24 years ago by the late Professor Thomas Maney of Iowa State College. Professor Maney obtained the original blossoms from H. Walton Clark, an amateur horticulturist.

"Iowa State College now has over 75 dwarf trees propagated with Clark Dwarf," Kutish declares.

"These trees are from 7 to 18 years old. They have gone through all the variations of Iowa climate without injury. The drought period of 1934 and 1936, the winter of 1935-36, with temperatures as low as 20 degrees below zero and the destructive blizzard of November, 1940, have not harmed them.

"The new dwarf trees don't take up much space. You can plant them as close as 6 to 12 feet apart. Because they're low in height, it's easy to harvest the fruit. Their small size permits them to be sprayed with a garden-size hand sprayer. Their yield is just about right to give variety to your home-produced fruit supply without getting more than you can handle."

While these trees are not yet commercially available, Iowa State College has furnished a number of nursery firms with stock of Clark Dwarf, Kutish says. "They are now multiplying it as rapidly as possible," he writes. "So you will have to wait a few years."

"But these dwarf fruit trees are likely to play a mighty important role in farm fruit gardens. It's something you'll want to keep your eye on and try out for yourself as soon as these dwarf trees are commercially available."

The first elective office Abraham Lincoln ever sought was in the Illinois legislature. He ran seventh in a group of 10 candidates.

I appeal with all the power I possess to those who left us to come back to mobilize their strength with us for one purpose—to win for American labor.

—William Green, president, AFL.

literally blue with the cold. But to get back to our muttons, as the Englishman says: The worst is yet to come for France. The winter with all its hardships is going to strain morale to the limit. And the general public most certainly is going to assess the blame for its suffering on somebody. Thus the position is full of dynamite politically.

This fact is recognized by all political parties. For example, General Charles de Gaulle, the war-time Free French leader, whom many expect to come to power soon at the head of his new "People's Rally" party, is said to be wary of taking over before spring, that is, after the country has passed through the dangerous winter months.

By the same token, the strategy of the Communist Party, which is trying to get control of the government, is to push the general into power immediately, with the idea that he couldn't survive the trials of winter. The Reds, while bent on ruling, prefer first to break De Gaulle—their most powerful enemy—and then take over when the warmth of spring has softened the bitterness of the people.

However, present signs are that the Communist strategy will be put to a hard test, because a large section of the public already is assessing the blame for the country's predicament against the Reds. The suffering of winter may well add to this feeling.

Married Vets Just Can't Keep Secret

HARTFORD, CONN., (AP)—There's one secret married veterans at Trinity College can't keep from their wives—their report cards.

The college, however, said yesterday its practice of mailing reports cards to the wives of ex-servicemen need cause hubby no concern.

With an average of 78.8 percent, Dean Arthur H. Hughes reported, married veterans outranked all other students in scholastic achievement during the 1946-47 academic year.

Single veterans came through with an average of 76.3 percent while non-veterans, all of them single, averaged 74.1 percent.

The Right to Be Let Alone

Somerset Maugham, the novelist, has said this: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is content or money that it values more, it will lose that too."

The greatest danger in this country is what H. W. Prentiss, Jr., has termed, "the present blurring of the lines of responsibility between the three departments of the federal government."

The late, great Justice Brandeis once said: "The makers of the Constitution should be regarded as against the government, the right to be let alone, the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by civilized man."

For centuries the world struggled toward that goal. Now it is turning back along a road whose end is always slavery and despair.

So They Say

If our defenses are permitted to lapse the probability is that the United States as we now know it will cease to exist.

Abandonment of rigid, coercive schedules of baby care can contribute to mental health of both baby and mother.

Disloyal and subversive employees must be removed from the federal payroll, but the government must not engage in a witch hunt.

It is a tragic fact that the rich and the poor do not enjoy equal justice in the courts. . . . That is why I am strongly in favor of a Public Defender system.

It is not possible to maintain true freedom to speak, assemble, vote and worship if freedom to buy, sell, own and earn are taken away.

By this time it should be evident that the American people is capable of democracy.

WAGE EARNERS BILL OF RIGHTS

A campaign appears to be shaping up to inform the public and the wage earner about the benefits of the Taft-Hartley law.

Public polls showed not long ago that this measure had been the victim of "smear" at the hands of labor bosses who have lost some of their power under the new law.

The polls showed that a majority of wage earners did not understand the provisions of the law, and spoke of Taft-Hartley supporters as "labor baiters."

Wage earners now are beginning to get the other side of the picture. For the first time since passed in 1935 employers dare exercise their constitutional right of free speech. They can now legally talk with their own employees about labor unions and labor problems, economics and our way of doing things.

And employers are beginning to do a little talking. They are beginning to explain their side to employees in talks and letters and pamphlets.

One such pamphlet just sent me as a sample sets forth some of the benefits of the Taft-Hartley law from the wage earner's viewpoint, illustrating with factory scenes. Here are some typical punch lines.

WELL, DID SUNNY FINALLY MAKE FRIENDS WITH MORTIMER?

OH, SURE—BUT MORTIMER STILL HAD THE WORDS "MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS" ON HIS FRONT!

Y-YES, HE'S HERE!

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

now supply ninety-three percent of the domestic market.

WASHINGTON — Britain's complete curtailment of tobacco purchases in the United States will mean a loss of many millions of dollars annually to several southern states, notably the Carolinas, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee.

These normally Democratic commonwealths grow the weed which England, Canada and other countries can no longer afford for lack of dollars.

The government will try to cushion this unexpected shock by Commodore Credit Corporation loans and purchases, but it will not pay producers as much as they might have received in the export markets.

Fall prices at the tobacco auctions reflected the decline, and the party figure is only 90 percent.

Moreover, a prospective reduction in acreage—some estimate it as high as 25 percent—will cut sales and profits, as well as cause unemployment in Dixie and elsewhere. It will be especially hard on small growers, who depend on this crop for their winter cash or to discharge bank obligations.

ALLOTMENT — The British allocation came at a particularly bad time. Not anticipating it, Department of Agriculture officials had made a larger allotment of acreage for the current year, and the 1946-47 crop has been high.

As a result, Westinghouse has had to "go into the tobacco business in a big way," as Charles E. Gage, Agriculture's tobacco director, admits.

Harold Knutson, Ways and Means Chairman, prefers heavy black cigars, but he has given serious consideration to the proposal, although he has made no commitments.

But the Republicans, with their eyes on the border states' electoral vote, as well as on other states hurt by the loss of foreign markets, may try to put the plan across.

TOBACCO — Although tobacco is grown in twenty-one states, the five leading producers, in order, are North Carolina, Kentucky, Virginia, South Carolina and Tennessee. It is also grown extensively in Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Maryland, Ohio and Connecticut.

The situation has a political aspect, especially for the Republicans. Should the loss of overseas markets cause hardships, the G.O.P. may have a better chance of tipping over doubtful states in the major tobacco belt and in other affected areas.

Although they seem to repose in the Truman column now, their importance in a close race counts as a major headache around the White House.

TAXES — This politico-economic tobacco problem has aroused special interest in a novel plan for broadening the consumers' market which independent manufacturers of "economy cigarettes" have submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee and to Senator Ralph E. Flanders's special group during its investigation of high prices in the United States.

The independents propose a reduction of the excise taxes on about ten low-price brands which they introduced during the depression. Although these "cigs" sold well in the hard times years, their sale has fallen from 1.4 percent in 1929 to only one percent last year.

What they suggest is that the federal tax on their product be (three-and-a-half cents on a pack of twenty). The current rate on their commodity, as well as on the five higher-priced brands is $3.50 (seven cents a pack.) The latter of union dues, and then only under a union shop agreement.

"An employee can demand a financial statement from his union."

"An employee cannot be forced by his union to work slower or do less work than he desires."

"An employee cannot be called out on strike, with loss of pay, in sympathy with some labor dispute of the union against another employer or another union."

All these and many more specific benefits restore to the wage earner a measure of the freedom he had before the advent of the huge power pyramids called unions.

Reading this list, we cannot help being struck by the similarity of our New Deal legislation to that of Soviet Russia. Such a list sounds more like a counter-revolution in the U.S.S.R. than in the U.S.A.

As employers and the more assertive of the independent labor leaders continue to blow away the smoke screen laid down by union propagandists, we may expect increasing support in the ranks of labor for the new measure.

CIO and AFL bigwigs are losing face, partly because their dues payers are now seeing through their duplicity. Their threat of war on every Congressman and Senator who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill may fizzle out.

USA OR USSR?

"An employee cannot be discharged from his job by union demand except for non-payment of union dues, and then only under a union shop agreement."

"An employee can demand a financial statement from his union."

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

"Tolerance is Dangerous" We hear a lot of people chanting about their tolerance. They seem to think it is a quality to be admired. I want to quote from an article under the heading of "Tolerance is Dangerous" in the Liberty Magazine, a magazine of religious freedom, by one of its associate editors Frank H. Yost.

The article goes on to tell how disagreeable a bigot is and how much more pleasant it is to be in company with a tolerant person than with a bigot. I quote:

"But suppose the tolerant man comes into authority, where he can to a degree govern the conduct of others. He is still tolerant. He still condescends. But it is a condescension. At any time that he deems it best, this pleasant but condescending tolerant man can at his own discretion have the rules of the game changed, and deal with those who have been differing. He may restrain them quite completely. He may put interdicts upon the abuses of procedure of disagreement. He may merely issue some cautions respecting differing. He once condescended to permit differences. Now, having enforced a greater or less degree of unity, he condescends to limit or restrain the differences.

"Clearly then, the attitude of tolerance is permissive. The continuation of tolerance is dependent, not upon a set of principles of freedom, but upon the attitude, the judgment, the authority, of those who extend the tolerance. Under tolerance, latitudes of difference, wider or narrower, are permitted. These latitudes exist by sufferance, they are not an inherent freedom."

LICENSE IS NOT A RIGHT "Contrast this situation with liberty. To be free is an inherent right. License is not right, because it trespasses upon the rights of others. The liberty possessed by each man because he is a man, balances, and is balanced by, the liberty possessed by every other man. This liberty, thus practically balanced, is inherent. It is not extended, or granted, it is not acquired. It exists as part of the personality of man because he is a personality. When we say to our fellow man, "That is your right, to do so-and-so," we are not condescending to him, we are not expressing tolerance. We are stating the inherent right of a situation, adhering to a principle, and very simply living out with our fellows an inherent relation of freedom.

Liberty and liberty are mutually incompatible. Bigotry cannot thrive where there is liberty. Bigotry is destructive of liberty. There is no disharmony in the relation of liberty and liberty. Where only tolerance prevails, liberty is not operative on principle, tolerance is permissive. They cannot abide together."

And I heard my saying that liberty is anarchy; that we can have too much liberty; that we need the government to license us for this and that; that we need the license almost as much as we need the government tries to "educate" us the less equality of liberty we will have; the more we will be robots and bigots and beasts. I have heard instead of liberty, the author winds up his article as follows:

"Tolerance is not a principle but an attitude. Therefore, it cannot be relied upon.

"We pay respect to the toleration which is permitted in so many parts of the world today. Like the pleasant fellowship of the tolerant man, it is enjoyable, and far more congenial than intolerance. But man is answerable, not to man, but to God for his conscience, and nothing short of religious liberty gives to man the opportunity, inherently his, to find his God for himself. It is the duty of man to be free; to have the government his servant instead of his master.

Gracie Reports

I see that a psychologist says he thinks he could bring about world peace if he could only get five minutes in which to hypnotize the rulers of the nations.

I'm a little afraid that if we let this kind of hypnotism get started, we couldn't tell where it would stop. Suppose President Truman hired a hypnotist to work on the Republicans in Congress so they'd pass his measures. And, meanwhile, a Republican hypnotist was working on me not to buy any hats, while my hypnotist was working on George to okay my bills? On second thought, that's just silly. No hypnotist in the world has enough passes for those jobs.

Pilots Bearing End of Big Trip

AMARILLO — (P) — Clifford Evans and George Truman planned to leave here sometime today for Oklahoma City on a conference of their leisurely jaunt around the world in a pair of light planes.

The two landed here yesterday from El Paso. Amarillo was their 48th stop for the tour which

Office Cat

"I've come to kill a printer," said the little man who entered the office of a weekly newspaper in a village.

"Any printer in particular?" asked the foreman.

"Oh, any one will do. I would prefer some sort of a bluff at fight or leave home, since the paper called my wife's pink tie a 'swill' trait."

An insurance agent who called upon a big business man, at the close of a busy day was admitted and the big fellow said:

"Big Business Man—You ought to feel honored, highly honored, young man. Do you know that today I have refused to see seven insurance men? Agent—I know. I'm them."

Professor—Did you have a brother in college last year? Student—No, sir; it was I. I'm taking it over again.

Professor—Extraordinary resemblance, though extraordinary.

Lady (to the waiter)—Pardon me, sir, does my hat bother you? Gentleman behind—No, but it bothers my wife. She wants one like it.

Traveler—I want to buy a toothbrush. Shopkeeper—Sorry, brother, but our line of summer novelties ain't in yet.

The low income consumer needs no voluntary rationing. He is already being involuntarily rationed—by prices.
