American Legation In Damascus Stoned

Death, strikes, insults at the United States and grim threats of a Holy war developed swiftly in the Eastern Mediterranean today in wake of a United Nations decision to partition Palestine, a move which incensed Arabs throughout the area.

Seven Jews were killed in the Holy Land. Four other persons were slain at the Syrian capital of Damascus during an attack on Communist Headquarters and the cultural center of the Russians, who like the United States supported the move to create a Jewish state in part of the Holy Land.

The American Legation in Damascus was stoned, its flag was ripped down, its shutters torn off and some of its windows broken.

Shouts of "down with the United States," "down with the American University" and "give us arms" rang through the streets of ancient Cairo. Students also cried out against Jews.

The threat to early peace seemed implicit in utterances of Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha, secretary of the Arab League of seven nations with 33,000,000 Arabs. He declared the Arabs never would submit to partition.

"I cannot say wage and when I will place my troops," he declared. "I can only say we will fight and are preparing for victory. It is a question of life or death. We never wanted violence or war. Now our hands are forced to a definite course for which Palestine Arabs and the whole Arab world have no alternative."

A Cairo informant said King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia had agreed to give oil revenues paid him by U. S. oil companies, estimated at $18,000,000 annually, to support Arab military resistance. There was no comment from the King.

The Arabs called for a three-day general strike throughout Palestine beginning tomorrow and tightened the boycott of Jews. Sixteen Arabs were wounded slightly at Acre Prison when guards opened fire on prisoners attacking Jewish inmates.

Hagan, the Jewish underground army, was said to have 60,000 to 70,000 troops ready for battle, it called for mobilization of Jews, women as well as men, between the ages of 17 and 35.

The Jews celebrated throughout Palestine with parades, street dancing and display of national banners.

The partition plan, sponsored by the United States and Russia, was approved by a 33 to 13 vote of the Assembly late Saturday. Ten nations abstained and 11 were absent.

Six Dead After Fire Sweeps Dorm For Homeless Men

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men early today, leaving six known dead, 10 believed missing and at least 38 injured—many of them employed as street corner Santa Clauses.

Some of the victims were killed or injured in leaping from their quarters in the second and third floors of the Volunteers of America, Inc., as firemen—hampered by sub-freezing weather that turned the water from the hoses to ice against the building walls—fought vainly to prevent them from jumping.

Thirty men were listed as treated at three hospitals where doctors described a number of them as in critical condition.

Doctors at St. Luke's and Children's Medical Center said Stanley Busch, 45, died several hours after being brought to the hospital.

Other known dead were identified as: Stanley Kenney, 50; Thomas Wallace, 45; Michael Boyle, 50; Patrick Allen, 70; and William Snead, 65. Their address was listed as the burned dormitory.

Assistant Superintendent of Police, Thomas P. Burns said that several hours after the fire was brought under control 51 men had been accounted for, including the six bodies that had been removed to the city morgue.

This left 10 or more still missing from among the 61 or more believed by Night Watchman a William Patterson to have been in the building.

The blaze was first discovered by Patterson at 12:40 a. m. and he ran through the first and second floors shouting the alarm.

The flames—fanned by a high wind—spread rapidly through the four-story brick building which is occupied entirely by the Volunteers of America.

The organization, with headquarters in Oxford and Marshall Sts., used the first floor for a shop in which new and repaired toys are sold during the Christmas season and furniture and clothing the remainder of the year.

Funeral services for E. R. "Buck" Jay, 512 E. Browning, a Pampa resident for the past seven years, will be held this afternoon at Gorman, Tex., where he was stricken with a heart attack, Saturday morning.

Jay, an employee of the local branch of the Humble Pipe Line Co., was stricken while spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his mother, a resident of Gorman.

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Campbell, a student at Oklahoma A & M in Stillwater; and Gloria, a student at TSCW in Denton.

Christmas Decorations Are Being Completed

The city Christmas decorations consisting of strings of lights on spruce roping on three of Pampa's main streets, Chrysler, Kingmill, and Frost Streets, will be completed today, announced Johnnie Phelps, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce project.

The Jaycees completed most of the work during the past weekend in order to have the decorations up for the opening of the Christmas season, here in Pampa, December 5.

The season will be officially opened at 3 o'clock, Friday afternoon with the gigantic Santa Day Parade that is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Seven Killed in Crash As Plane Brakes Fail

SEATTLE—(AP)—The pilot of a four-engined Alaska Airlines transport plane which crashed and burned at the Seattle-Tacoma airport blamed the crash today on failure of the hydraulic brakes to "take the slightest hold." Seven persons died and three others were critically injured as a result of the accident late yesterday.

The pilot, Capt. James F. Farris, 37, of Seattle told the Seattle Times that the DC-4 plane landed at a speed of approximately 100 miles an hour, "rolled like it was on a bed of ball-bearings" until it leaped a 60-foot embankment at the end of the airport runway, killing a blind woman in the car. The plane was flying from Anchorage, Alaska to Seattle.

It had 28 persons aboard, 25 passengers and a crew of three.

Three passengers were reported in a critical condition at the New Renton Hospital and two were listed as unsatisfactory at Harborview County Hospital.

The others had been released after treatment or were recovering from minor burns and bruises in the hospital.

Twenty-six of the 28 aboard the plane scrambled from door and emergency exits or were pulled from the flames by rescuers. All, however, were seared by the gasoline-fed flames that flashed through the fuselage. Four of the rescued died later.

The latest casualty was the plane's stewardess, Miss Feba Monk of Santa Monica, Calif., who was credited by survivors with having led many of the passengers to safety.

The other dead are: Fred Smith, Tacoma, Wash., who died eight hours after the crash; Leslie Howe, 33, Seattle and Spokane, Wash., a carpenter, died in the hospital.

Ole Ring, Anchorage, Alaska, died of burns and injuries. Mrs. Virginia Stitworth, 33, Tacoma, entertainer known professionally as Virginia Krafton Gordon, Johnson, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Palmer, Alaska.

Mrs. Pearl Stella Jones, 43, Seattle, blind woman trapped in the car which the big transport smashed as it careened off the field onto the intersection of the Des Moines, Wash., highway and 165th St.

Ten others of the plane's passengers and crew members were released.

Texas Teachers Hold State Meet

Around 5,000 teachers and school administrators were present at the Texas State Teachers Assn. convention in San Antonio Thursday through Saturday as Emma Mae Brotz of Marshall was named president of the association and Joe Humphries, principal of Abilene High School, was named vice president.

Attorney General Price Daniel addressed the group Thursday evening, urging the cooperation of Texas teachers in protecting the state.

Mrs. Agnes E. Meyer of the Washington Post spoke Friday evening on "Is the Public School Worth Preserving?" The same evening Dr. A. J. Stoddard, superintendent of Philadelphia public schools, spoke on "Now That the War is Over." Dr. Stoddard, in speaking of juvenile delinquency, said that "it is an outgrowth of the first floor of the local branch of the Humble Pipe Line Co., was stricken while spending the Thanksgiving holidays with his mother, a resident of Gorman."

He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Johnnie Campbell, a student at Oklahoma A & M in Stillwater; and Gloria, a student at TSCW in Denton.

GOP Senators Are Split Over Party Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) claimed support among rank and file Republicans today for his proposal that the party "free itself from reactionary control" and appeal "to farmers, labor and housewives."

The New England lawmaker told a reporter he has received much mail since his demand last week that GOP National Chairman Charles McNamara resign as part of a "top to bottom" party shakeup.

"The only complaints I had were from Democrats," the gray-haired former Vermont governor said. "They gave me the devil, saying that if the Republicans kept Mr. Reece in there they could retain the presidency and regain control of Congress."

Aiken said he has not talked with McNamara and does not plan to do so.

"But," he added, "I may have a statement later if things don't change. I want to see the Republican Party win in 1948 but to do that we must have broader individual management in the national party and more constructive legislation in Congress."

Aiken said his remarks were not aimed at Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate's Republican Policy Committee and an avowed candidate for his party's presidential nomination.

Meanwhile it was learned that Taft and Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) have exchanged friendly letters as an aftermath to their disagreement at a recent conference of Senate Republicans.

Neither made the letters public but Flanders is known to have informed Taft that he intended no challenge of Taft's right to speak as policy committee chairman when the Ohioan criticized President Truman's anti-inflation program in a radio speech last month.

Flanders previously let it be known he believes Taft and other party leaders should offer a "positive" Republican program instead of merely criticizing the President.

Flanders headed a Senate-House investigation of the cost of living during the summer. In report submitted to the full committee headed by Taft, the Flanders group suggested several of the anti-inflation measures later urged by Mr. Truman in his message to Congress.

Movie Actor Stops In Pampa for Meal

Famed movielander, Robert Taylor, paid a surprise call in Pampa shortly after 6 p. m. yesterday when he and his hunting party dropped in at the Hotel House Cafe for a steak dinner.

Dressed in heavy hunting clothes Taylor almost came and went without recognition until he was spotted by some of his feminine admirers. The word spread like wildfire through the cafe and started a rush of the curious and autograph hunters in his direction. At least two little boys succeeded in getting the screen celebrity's "John Hancock" on a piece of paper.

Taylor is spending the next four days in the Panhandle hunting on Old Tack's ranch, the Big Bull Ranch in Hemphill County. He is accompanied by Morgan Marree his business manager and Ralph Couser, a flying buddy.

Newsman interviewing the star at English Field, Amarillo, where he landed his own plane, were told by Taylor that he had never seen anything he recognized as Communist propaganda in Hollywood and expressed his surprise at the Congressional Committee on un-American Activities when they picked on Hollywood to unearth the Reds.

WILHELMINA BACK

AMSTERDAM—(AP)—Queen Wilhelmina reassured royal supporters today after an interruption of six weeks for reasons of health. During that period Crown Princess Juliana acted as a regent.

France, scheduled to receive up to $328,000,000 in supplies under the pending stop-gap bill, did not share in the earlier relief fund. Austria's quota in the new measure is $42,000,000 and Italy's $27,000,000.

These represent the maximum amounts of winter relief the three countries could expect to obtain under the authorization bill. Congress will fix the actual expenditures later when the Appropriations Committee has completed canvassing needs and balancing them with American resources.

These groups find that the proposed new stop-gap bill is likely to overlap the relief program previously voted by Congress, advocates of whittling down the new program may get unexpected support.

While the Senate seemed likely to approve the over-all authorization bill without lowering the support.

COMMUNISTS RAIDED IN PARIS—Police and Mobile Guards enter the plant of the Humanite, one of two Communist newspapers in Paris, France. Premier Schuman asked the National Assembly for power to crack down on agitators for strikes or sabotage "by speeches, writing or tracts."

Strikes Continue To Grow in Paris

PARIS—(AP)—Strikes halted the Paris subway today and leaders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor defied the government's anti-strike legislation. CGT leaders summoned all workers "to action," asserting they would refuse to negotiate further toward ending nationwide walkouts if the legislation was enacted in the National Assembly.

TB Patch Tests Will Be Given In County Schools

The Gray County Chapter of the National Tuberculosis Association today launched a program of testing children of this county for tuberculosis, it was announced. The testing, to be done by what is called the "patch test," is a long-range program intended to check all school children over a period of years, it was said.

A system of grade-checking will be used in order to insure that each child will be checked each two to three years throughout elementary and high school years.

Mrs. Joe Stephens, local nurse, has been selected to give the test. Most positive cases will be referred to the following work on those children who have positive reactions.

It is important, it was pointed out, that children showing positive reactions should be taken by their parents to see a physician. Most positive cases will be referred to the following work on those children who have positive reactions.

U.N. Faces New Problem as Arab Group Walks Out

NEW YORK—(AP)—The angry walk-out of the six Arab delegations from the United Nations Assembly in protest against passage of the Palestine Partition plan opened a new chapter today in the bitter majority-minority battles in the U. N.

It was the fourth time in the 11-week assembly that a defeated minority had attacked the victory of a majority and had refused to be bound by it.

The other three occasions involved the Russian group, which declined to accept majority decisions creating the "Little Assembly" committee, the Balkan Watchdog Commission and the Korean Independence Commission.

The Arabs indicated their walk-out was meant only for the Palestine case, but spokesmen said yesterday they might await instructions from their home governments as to how far their protest was to be carried.

Meanwhile, Arab opposition to the Assembly-approved plan to create separate Arabic and Jewish nations in Palestine became violent in the Middle East. Syrian demonstrators stoned the United States Legation in Damascus and Jews were killed and wounded in Palestine in outbreaks there.

The partition plan, sponsored by the United States and Russia, was approved by a 33 to 13 vote of the Assembly late Saturday. Ten nations abstained and 11 were absent.

SMU and Texas Place Most Men On the All-SWC Football Team

DALLAS—(AP)—Champion Southern Methodist and runner-up Texas, as should be, placed most men on the All-Southwest Conference football team. Each landed three and four of those selections were unanimous.

Arkansas came up with only one—bounding Clyde Scott—but he was the fifth unanimous choice among coaches, scouts and sports writers.

Seven members of the team were selected easily. They just stood out enough that there was no question of their making the all-star outfit. These players were:

Max Bumgardner, Texas, end; Dick Harris, Texas, tackle; J. W. Magee, Rice, guard; Joe Watson, Rice, center; and Bobby Layne, Texas; Doak Walker, Southern Methodist, and Scott, backs. Bumgardner, Harris, Layne, Walker and Scott were unanimous picks.

The other four spots were filled by close margins.

Sid Halliday, the blond pass-catching, fierce-tackling Southern Methodist star, edged big James Williams of Rice for the other end position.

Jim Winkler, huge Texas Aggie tackle, came in just a little ahead of Weldon Edwards of Texas Christian, for the other forward job.

Earl Cook of Southern Methodist barely beat out Theron Roberts of Arkansas and Charles (Chuck) Stone of Baylor for the other guard position.

Pete Stout, the line-ramming high-scoring fullback of Texas Christian, got the fourth backfield spot. Dick McKissack, brilliant Southern Methodist fullback, was very close.

Local Spaniel Wins Highest Award in Show

Al Lawson's Captain Judy, virtually walked away with the trophies at the Cocker Club of the Panhandle show at Amarillo yesterday afternoon. About 50 entries were shown.

Captain Judy, a black and tan sire well known in Panhandle dogdom, won his class in ASCOB (which means all colors except black), and then went ahead to win the trophy for the best dog in the show.

Judges were quoted as saying he was no doubt the best cocker in the Panhandle.

Lawson said today he was encouraged to campaign him for the regular Texas spring circuit, which will include a number of showings beginning with Fort Worth.

Also a winner Sunday was the 8-month-old black bitch pup owned by John Ransey, 610 South Gillespie. The pup won her class. These were the only two Pampa dogs—both Lawson dogs—to enter the show, according to reports.

State Grid Playoffs Move Into 1st. Round

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

The Texas schoolboy football play-off moves into its first round this week with three games Friday and five Saturday—and a free-for-all, typical of 28 years of battling, in the offing.

Championship favorites are bracketed in such a way that one will eliminate the other before the finals and the make-up of the play-off field is a hodge-podge of beaten and tied teams.

Here is the first round schedule: Friday—Brackenridge at Corsicana, Forest (Dallas) at Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) (night), Lamar (Houston) at Goose Creek (night).

Saturday—Amarillo at Wichita Falls, Odessa at Austin (El Paso), Lufkin at Andrews (Brackenridge, San Antonio) at Harlingen, Paris at Highland Park (Dallas).

Feature game should be the Lufkin-Longview engagement in which the undefeated, untied Lobos, strangely, are under dogs before a Lufkin knockout that has didn't start to move until the chips were down. In the last five games the Panthers have rolled up 181 points and appear the team to beat in the Southern playoff bracket.

Longview wasn't scored upon until last week when Gladewater got a touchdown and Lobo followers believe the mighty defense of their favorites will carry the East Texans for in the state race.

Wichita Falls and Odessa, the two highest in the standings, were left in the field, would be picked to play for the championship if they were in different brackets. As things stand, the two will meet in the quarter-finals—that is, if they beat Amarillo and Forest (Dallas), respectively. The overwhelming opinion is that they will.

Favorites to win this week will be Wichita Falls, Odessa, Highland Park, Arlington Heights, Corsicana, Lufkin, Goose Creek and Brackenridge, which would send Wichita Falls against Odessa, Arlington Heights against Highland Park, Corsicana against Lufkin and Goose Creek against Brackenridge in next week's quarter-finals.

The feeling is that Wichita Falls and Brackenridge will be in the semi-finals three weeks hence.

Forest and Goose Creek are undefeated but Forest has been tied so many times—five—that the Lions are considered about as bad as the Lions in the state school, they consider two touchdowns a scoring spurge. The big trouble is that the opposition hasn't been able to get any points.

Amarillo, Austin (El Paso), Arlington Heights, Harlingen and Brackenridge has lost only one game. Corsicana has lost only one but has been tied once. Goose Creek has only one tie to mar its record.

Amarillo's lone loss—to Odessa 21-0—will serve as a good comparison between Wichita Falls and Odessa.

Three Southwest Conference Teams To Play in Bowls

By The Associated Press

The Southwest Conference championship was neatly packaged and tagged "Southern Methodist" today as all but three teams vacate for next year.

A wild 19-19 tie with Texas Christian last week gave the undefeated Mustangs the title. They finished a half-game ahead of Texas.

Three of the seven conference teams have bowl dates New Year's Day.

Southern Methodist plays undefeated, untied Penn State in the Cotton at Dallas; Texas plays Alabama in the Sugar at New Orleans, and Texas Christian meets Mississippi in the Delta at Memphis, Tenn.

Texas finished the year with nine victories and one defeat when it blasted Texas A and M, 32-13, Thanksgiving Day.

Arkansas, co-champion and Cotton Bowl representative, landed in sixth place in the standings this time with one victory, one tie and four losses.

Rice, the other co-champion and an Orange Bowl contestant last season, finished third in the loop on a 34-6 win over Baylor last week to end with a four-two nothing record in conference play. Baylor, which won only one conference game, finished last, while Texas Christian held down fourth place on two wins, three losses and a tie.

All-America Doak Walker, who kept the Mustangs undefeated by setting up the final touchdown in the last moments of play, topped individual scorers with 87 points.

The three touchdowns he scored against Southern Methodist boosted Pete Stout into second place with 64 points.

Coach Matty Bell said Southern Methodist would rest until Dec. 10 before resuming workouts.

The University of Texas will not practice until Dec. 8 and Texas Christian will wait until Dec. 16.

Elwood Petchel Leads Penn State Offense

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Offensive ace of the unbeaten, untied Penn State football team is 145-pound Elwood Petchel, of Easton, star "spot" player of the 1947 Nittany Lions.

Even though he failed to start a single game, and was on the sidelines for two weeks with a wrenched knee, Petchel topped his fellow-backs with a total of 581 yards via air and hand.

Right in behind him in the ground-gaining department was another "reliever," Fullback Francis Rogel, who started in only two games but played long enough and often enough in nine games to amass 499 yards through the line. The North Bradlock line-craacker carried 110 times for an average of 4.5 yards per carry.

Next best ball-toter on the power-packed Lions was 205-pound Jeff Durkota, of Colver, who picked up 411 yards in 28 carries to earn the best average of 11.5 yards per carry. The sturdy wingback also was on the receiving end of six passes which were good for three touchdowns and a total of 110 yards.

Petchel, who also excelled in the passing department, came off with a record of 15 completions in 38 attempts, and his 18 completions were good for 363 yards and five touchdowns.

about that. Don Boven, who wound up the football season at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving Day, will head the Western Michigan basketball team when it invades the Garden next Saturday. And Denver's Dick Yates is passing up a football trip to Hawaii to come East with the basketballers.

Branch Rickey, Jr., offers to bet the Pirates will finish in the first division next season, but he won't give away any likely trades by saying what the Bucs will finish with.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK —(AP)— Now that the football season has everyone completely confused (the "regular" season goes on with such names as Notre Dame-Southern California but there also are two "bowl" games this week) let's go indoors for an equally goofy basketball season. Tulane opens the big-time doubleheader season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a squad of five New Orleans boys, ten from Indiana and one each from Kentucky and Illinois. Coach Cliff Wells tutored Indiana high school cagers for 29 years before going to Tulane. And this isn't pointing the finger at Cliff, because everybody is getting them from he can these days. The Garden schedule calls for eleven double-headers before Christmas. Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, etc., all will be staging the big-time pre-Christmas shows, but the topper comes from Peoria, Ill. Bradley T., carrying on all by itself, will play three successive bargain bills with such teams as Hardin-Stimmons, West Texas State and Texas Christian furnishing the main opposition, and then will go to Boston to play Harvard.

Browns Ask More Money; Two More Players for Sale

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— The St. Louis Browns, richer by $425,000 following four startling transactions sought more gold today, dangling such tasty bait as outfielder Jeff Heath and Catcher Jake Elly among other front line players.

Among the first to arrive for the annual minor league convention which gets under way Wednesday, the Browns' delegation of General Manager Bill Dewitt, his brother, Charles, secretary of the club, and Zach Taylor, the new manager, already have set up shop in one of this winter resort's leading hotels.

Bill Dewitt made it plain that others of last season's squad which finished a dismal last in the American League race are certain to follow Vern Stephens, Jack Kramer and others who will improve the club.

"We are determined to field a young, speedy, hustling team next year."

"We are not through trading by any means," Dewitt said. "We are prepared to trade anybody on our roster if we feel those deals will improve the club."

Dewitt was not the only would-be David Harum at the minor leagues' show, which attracted

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Question from S.T.Z. of North Adams, Massachusetts: "As to the Marshall Plan, the threat has been made in many instances that, if we don't help the Europeans, they will swing to communism. If our reason for helping Europe is selfish rather than humanitarian, aren't we simply trying to buy or bribe them into choosing our form of government?"

Answer: There has been so much fuzzy thinking on this question of aid to Europe, due largely to the muddled manner in which Washington first proposed and elaborated on the original idea, that a brief review seems timely, pertinent and helpful.

President Truman led off when, without warning, he enunciated what became known as the "Truman Doctrine." In a surprise message to Congress last spring, he asked Congress to appropriate $400,000,000 to aid key Mediterranean and Middle East nations as Greece and Turkey in order to keep them outside the orbit and control of communistic Russia.

OPINION — Contrary to the popular belief, Secretary Marshall was not speaking officially for the administration when he advanced his far broader program at Harrogate last June. He made clear that he was merely giving his personal opinion on how much assistance the U.S. would give under certain circumstances.

Both President Truman and Secretary Marshall were amazed at the sensation which the latter's commencement day speech caused here and abroad. Once the project of all-out aid to Europe, especially as there seemed to be general approval of it, they could not back out.

There ensued almost immediately the isation conference at Paris to estimate their own requirements over a four-year period and what they could do, working together, to help themselves.

DAMAGE — Secretary Marshall did not mention Russia but there was an indirect slap at Moscow in his address. After declaring that "our policy is directed not against any country or doctrine but against hunger, poverty, desperation and chaos," he warned that "any country which maneuvers to block the recovery of other countries cannot expect help from us."

He subsequently broadened his invitation and program to include Russia, but it was too late. The damage had been done. As you know, Moscow refused to take part in the European rehabilitation program and prevented her eight satellite nations from attending the Paris conference.

Ever since, the Kremlin's propaganda bureau, as well as Messrs. Molotov, Vishinski and Zhdanov, have assailed the Marshall Plan as a subtle form of "American imperialism and expansionism." And, because of our counter-attack on Russia's present effort to gain control of Germany, France, Greece, Italy, Turkey and Italy, the cold war has become colder.

MOTIVES — Now to your question, S.F.Z.: Humanitarian motives, of course, do underlie the Marshall Plan, as they did the Hoover relief operations after World War I.

But, as I read administration and Congressional statements today, the basic objective is practical, realistic and in our own interest.

It is a twisted mixture of humanitarianism, everyday economics and new kind of dollar diplomacy, with emphasis on the later two motives and purposes.

Common Ground

By R. C. BOLES
A Big Industrialist Reports on Europe

In the last several issues I have been reporting a speech made by Ernest Weir, Chairman of the National Steel Corporation, on his trip to Europe.

At the conclusion of yesterday's column, Mr. Weir pointed out that he deems it hardly unfair to ask Americans to labor extra hours to provide food, clothing and shelter for Europe when Europeans were on a 40-hour week and unwilling to work more, and in providing these materials European politicians can continue to fool the European people that "regimentation and socialism can provide abundance for all."

What we are doing, and for everybody's sake, is to try to check the world-wide spread of communism, with its suppression of the individual's right to his soul, his family, his way of life, his property, and whatever else a human being holds dear and lives by.

In such a struggle, I think it doesn't make much difference whether our motives are idealistic or realistic. Don't you agree, S.F.Z.?

DUMPED — One of our local newspapermen recently quoted a well-known citizen who had just returned from a trip abroad as saying that shiploads of goods destined for foreign countries out of New Orleans were taken out to sea and dumped. Can this be true?

Answer to B.J. of Muncie, Indiana: I doubt it, and, of course, if it were being done, there would be almost secrecy concerning such destructive operations. It is a fact, however, that the War Assets Administration has escorted many obsolete airplanes, tanks and other war materials to a watery grave both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

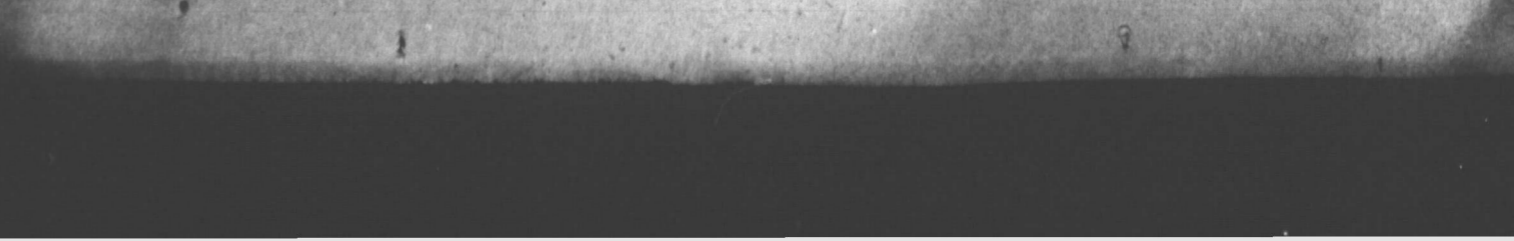

Your "well-known citizen" may have seen such a disposition of material which, according to WAA, has no future military or salvage value, not even as scrap. I wish that your newspaper's informant would send me more information on what he saw—or thought he saw—as basis for a careful check-up.

The question of foreign aid should be approached in the realization that the United States will be with us for years, and for decades. Nothing that we do will bring recovery in Europe today or tomorrow. Our total aid should be held well within the practical limits of our own abilities and resources. It should be extended only to those countries which show the sense and the willingness to use it toward practical ends. And above all, we should frankly use our aid as an incentive to the emotional and personal freedom and the free competitive economy in the countries aided. We should do this with the larger aim of achieving a world condition of freedom, prosperity and peace.

PUT OUR OWN HOUSE IN ORDER — If we are to act on this principle abroad, certainly we cannot neglect our own home. We must put our own economic house in order. We are handicapped in that task today because our government is in the hands of men whose thinking is tainted by some of the same social and political ideas that affect Europe. The central idea is that government must order and the individual obey. Communism and fascism represent this idea in its extreme form, but it is also represented in modified form by the socialism of Britain and the New Dealism of the United States.

As a nation, we have our great opportunity to do this in the next presidential election. The national policies that we elect to carry out those policies will, of course, profoundly affect the manner and condition of life within the borders of the United States. But the election will also tell the world whether the United States still has confidence in the great principles of human freedom on which it was founded and intends to stand on them.

All over the world the issue of the controlling state versus individual freedom and the free competitive economy is basic to all other issues. However, it may be obscured, it will be the basic issue in the next presidential election. The strong assertion in that election of America's determination to be free socially, politically and economically—an influence for the good of our own country—for the good of the world. As practical men and as patriotic citizens, I urge each one of you to enlist in the battle of freedom.

No Place for Young People

The avowed purpose of socialism is to equitably distribute a nation's wealth. What it actually does is to spread the poverty. And, in the process, it does an extremely effective job of destroying incentive, opportunity, and ambition, as well as wealth.

An illuminating example of this is found in a recent editorial in the Portland Oregonian. Some time ago the Oregonian's circulation manager carried on a correspondence with a printer in Dorset, England, and sent him a number of the paper's big Sunday issues.

Both President Truman and Secretary Marshall were amazed at the sensation which the latter's commencement day speech caused here and abroad. Once the project of all-out aid to Europe, especially as there seemed to be general approval of it, they could not back out.

There ensued almost immediately the isation conference at Paris to estimate their own requirements over a four-year period and what they could do, working together, to help themselves.

But, as I read administration and Congressional statements today, the basic objective is practical, realistic and in our own interest.

It is a twisted mixture of humanitarianism, everyday economics and new kind of dollar diplomacy, with emphasis on the later two motives and purposes.

So They Say

Unless these (price) controls are reimposed in time, America is riding for the biggest and most sensational economic disaster in all history.

—Ernest T. Weir, chairman, National Steel Corp.

It's when we put up barriers and stand off and swell up and think we are better than somebody else that we can't get along with our neighbors.

—President Truman.

Washington. BRADLEY SAID IT WAS A STRIKE — In the Golas case GM appealed, putting the matter squarely in the lap of Gen. Omar Bradley, Veterans' Administrator in Washington. Bradley ruled that the GM work stoppage was caused by a strike.

But UAW was not content to let the case rest there. Lawyers for the union filed suit in Washington District Court, in effect a challenge to the Government's decision and seeking to reinstate the decision of the Michigan state readjustment agent.

The whole Golas case has been reviewed for the court by U. S. Commissioner William J. Harr, of Washington. He has filed a report that the court does not have jurisdiction in this case. His point hangs on a section of "The Economy Act of 1933," which was passed when Congress was looking for every way it could find to save money.

By WESTBROOK PEGLER NEW YORK — We have in the United States a few private associations, embracing roughly 10,000,000 citizens, which enforce laws and inflict punishments so harsh that no public government would undertake to impose them.

This was a study for lawyers of the paradox of brutal totalitarian government carried on under the protection and political patronage of a national government which, at that very time, was interfering in the domestic affairs of Germany on the ground that Hitler's treatment of his chosen victims was undemocratic.

"Such infra-state governments are now exercising jurisdiction concurrently with the state itself, over millions of Americans and their families," the article said. This was an understatement. The jurisdiction of the unions does not flow quite together with the government's jurisdiction. It comes first in most matters. The unions come first in taxes and loyalty. The nation, state, city, family and church follow, not necessarily in that order.

The United Auto Workers is the union of Walter Reuther, who strangely, has been receiving a warm press lately because he has struck the now-popular attitude of defying the Communists. Posner had used the name of James Harris in some phases of his furtive career and was now known as Thomas V. De Lorenzo. He was of draft age, and a healthy, pugnacious, picket-line goon.

He was hiding out from the war under the deferment which the Roosevelt government granted to its own broken shirts who had the political duty of getting up the money for the party's campaigns and keeping the faceless nonentities properly docile. Mr. H. Ebert raised such a row over Posner's declaration that he would rather let an American flyer die than sacrifice any interest of the United Auto Workers that, finally, it was found expedient to draft him.

Until the adoption of the withholding tax, which is simply the old union checkoff under another title, the unions had first lien on the earnings of all those mil-

Challenge To Love

By ETHEL HAMILL

THE STORY: Cam, convinced now that Joel is in love with her, is ecstatically happy the morning after the fire and their late romance. But her castle people when Maurine receives a bouquet of flowers from Joel.

XVIII THE bright, wordless song inside her was making itself felt no longer, by the time that morning's classes were over. It was ridiculous to have let a simple note and an armful of white asters upset her so. After all, Joel must be wanting to make it up to Maurine for the cavalier fashion in which he had tossed her to Herbert.

Yet all during the lecture on Political Science, which she would have found absorbing only yesterday, Cam had been staring thoughtfully out of the classroom window toward the blue hills hanging in the distance. When the dismissal bell brought an end to her period of captivity at last, her notes for the highly instructive hour just ended consisted of a pageful of double hearts pierced by arrows.

She tried to shake off this sharp but senseless feeling of disappointment as she cut across the brick walk of the middle campus on her way back toward College Hill and lunch. One minute alone with Joel himself, she knew, and everything would be right again. Voices called out to her—"Hey, there, Cammie!" and "Wait for me, Austin!" and "Cammie, about the pledge tea at the house."

But she passed them by quickly. Because they were friendly and well-meant, they were worth a vivid if unseeing smile as she glared at them. But none of them really touched her. None was her concern. "Hey, Cam!" it came at her the way a dozen other greetings had come during her walk across campus. "How's the beautiful fire victim recuperating?" And for one split second, so alien was the breezy salute to what she had been thinking and feeling, she failed entirely to recognize who had shouted it or from where it had come.

Then its source became achingly clear to her. A jalopy had come careening with the abandon of a joyous drunkard along the driveway behind her. Now it was rolling across the intersection where she had halted, blithely unaware of an adverse traffic light. And Joel was one of four laughing figures in its rear seat.

ONE of his arms was lifted toward her in utterly friendly and utterly transient salute as the improbable equipage bucked past. The other arm, Cam noted, lay with equally negligent comradery around the shapely shoulders of that red-headed Betty Lawrence who had been her own runner-up for Queen of the Harvest Ball last November.

"How did you survive that soul-searching session out on the river?" Joel's voice had begun to fade out already as the jalopy flung itself onward in the general direction of the Kandy Kitchen. It trailed back to her with a casual friendliness which seemed to Cam, as she stood there, far worse even than hatred would have been. Before she could have answered it—if, indeed, there had been anything to say—the tire-borne ruin and its passengers were out of earshot.

The jalopy rolled into a parking space not too far from Ozzie Kremolka's familiar door, and halted with a macabre flourish which threatened its flapping fenders. The gang piled out of it, unfolding from improbable angles made necessary by the cramped quarters where four had occupied space designed for two. Betty Lawrence was laughing as she smoothed down her plaid skirt in the general direction of Lobby socks of a matching red.

"Joel, you can't leave us! Even ex-heroes have to eat, and that stupid Psych paper of yours will wait for a hamburger!" "Sorry," Joel said. "You guys knew when you gave me a lift."

"What," demanded Betty of the world at large, "have a lot of statistics on behaviorism got that I haven't got? Didn't you ever hear of the pace that kills, soldier? And about all work and no play?" "I play, Plenty. But not today, thanks. We'll try it soon again."

HE waved to the three others grouped at the curb and started on his way, wide shoulders thrust forward a trifle against the chill portent of autumn in the wind which unrolled among the campus elms across the way. He liked Betty Lawrence. If she was all surface, with none of those unexpected cool, deep places in her personality which one came upon in a girl like—for instance—Cam Austin, there was nothing wrong with surfaces, provided they were pleasant, gay, and not utterly transient salutes as the moment last night when his own surface had come treacherously close to cracking. His breath still caught when he imagined the swirling turbulence into which he might have been plunged if he had not this morning streaked back for shore. It would have been easy, so perilously easy.

But he had retreated. He had run for his life. And today he had been able—hadn't he?—to shrug off the whole danger as a thing which never was. And Cam, looking so poised and pleasant back at the traffic crossing, certainly could have wanted it no other way. There had been nothing but graceful indifference in her return to his greeting.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE WITH MAJOR NOOPLY

ESAD FATHER! I CAN PIERCE THE VEIL OF THIS MYSTERY. MY AUTOMATIC BED LIFTED YOU TO YOUR FEET, BUT YOUR NIGHTMARE WAS SO REAL YOU OPENED FIRE ON THE MOHAWKS. DM! BUT HOW DID THE BED GET IN YOUR ROOM?

HOW DO I KNOW? DO YOU PUT PEOPLE IN BEDS THAT FIT THEM FOR A TOUCH-DOWN?

WONDER IF WE'D FIND RASPBERRY JAM ON LEANDER'S CHIN?

THE SMOKE IS CLEARING AWAY.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everyone has a personal catalog of pet hates that rob life of zest and pattern and add a touch of horror.

Here are some of my favorite pet hates—pressure raisers—things that never would be missed.

Little white dogs that smile at you until you turn your back and then sneak up and bite you in the neck.

Socks that get a hole in the right to get the first time you wear them. (Is there any other kind?)

Snakes, snails, eels, centipedes, spiders, tarantulas, and old ladies who kiss small children with a noise like a broken vacuum cleaner.

Alarm clocks, low-held umbrellas, smudged typewriter ribbons, cuff links, and dresser drawers that stick until the pulling wife comes over to help and then pull out a new pair of slippers.

Women who lift a martini at 12:01 p.m. and say brightly: "First one this afternoon."

Men who down their tenth highball at the evening at 12:01 a.m. and say brightly: "First one this morning."

People who say anything before taking a drink.

Bold port gravy, dirty dishes, unmade beds, extr. vagantly cute birth announcements mailed in any envelopes, visitors who stay after midnight, and grown men who never get dirt under their fingernails.

Cab drivers who strike up a conversation or agree with your gripes just to earn a bigger tip. Also the attendants in the men's rooms of night clubs—"The useless demanding tribute to perform the unnecessary."

Hatcheck girls who sneer daintily if you fork over less than two bits to buy back the battered cent at a pawshop.

Elevator operators too cowardly to murder passengers who say: "Your life sure has its ups and downs."

People who look at you as if you were an idiot because you admit you never owned a motor car, can't drive one and don't want to learn how.

Bubble gum, inconsiderate restaurant waiters, salesmen who want me to buy a swimming pool, shirts with long collar points that curl up into my eyes, and mothers who hand me babies to hold that don't wear rubber pants.

This is my index of irritations. Send me yours—and when I get the complete list perhaps we can vote all the nuisances out of this nerve-frayed world at once.

OUT OUR WAY

PLANE CRASH

In critical condition at Seattle and Renton hospitals. Several were not expected to live.

Bodies of two of the dead were not recovered until nearly four hours after the crash because of the intense heat emitting from the wreckage.

The plane, a DC-4, crashed only a few minutes after it had been turned back from an attempted landing at Seattle's Boeing Field by fog. Two airport employes in the control tower at the Seattle-Tacoma field said the ceiling radioed to Pilot James Ewan Farris, Seattle, as the plane settled through the overcast was "600 feet with one and one-quarter miles visibility." Three minutes after the crash, a special reading showed the ceiling at "400 feet with three-quarters of a mile visibility."

aid limit, determined economy advocates, carried their fight today to the House Republican Steering Committee.

Although the House Foreign Affairs Committee already has voted to trim the aid total for France, Italy and Austria by $100,000,000 and add $90,000,000 for China, a drive was under way to have the committee reverse its 10-9 decision.

Whatever the outcome before the Steering group (meeting at 2:30 a. m. EST) or the Foreign Affairs body (10 a. m.), the issue was due to be checked to a conference of all House Republicans tomorrow.
