

'Harmony' Unit Scores First At Demo Meet

Upbraided Confusion, Fights And Near Fights Mark Waco Session

WACO, May 28 (AP)—Advocates of the Roosevelt-Garner "harmony" program drew first blood today in the most tumultuous state democratic convention held in Texas in recent years.

Speeches Drowned Out Despite uproarious confusion, they succeeded in electing George Butler of Houston, chairman of the Harris County Garner-for-President organization, temporary chairman of the convention.

But Butler and succeeding speakers could scarcely be heard when they attempted to go on with the business. First fight or near first fight were numerous, and police broke up several, escorting one man from the auditorium.

Mayor Tom Miller of Austin read his keynote speech in spite of the jeering, lauding President Roosevelt and saying Texas would offer Garner, a native son, to the national party convention for president.

Speaker after speaker, including former Gov. Pat Neff, attempted to quiet the crowd. The delegates subsided for a moment in response to Neff's appeal, but resumed their shouting when he relinquished the floor.

Boars of bores rocked the auditorium when Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president now living in Texas, mentioned Miller's name in an introduction.

The demonstrations apparently were emanating from elements favoring a Texas delegation pledged outright for the renomination of President Roosevelt.

Leaders of this group include Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston, whom they had proposed for temporary chairman, and Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio.

Keynoting the state convention, Miller said "defense of the American way of life" was the principal problem facing the American people. The chairman of the Texas Roosevelt third term committee added:

"We meet to affirm our enthusiastic approval of our leader, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and at the same time praise Vice President Garner as the 'second workman in this leadership'."

Maverick And Miller Scrap

WACO, May 28 (AP)—Mayor Tom Miller of Austin and Mayor Maury Maverick of San Antonio engaged in a brief altercation just before the state democratic convention met here today.

First reports were that the men exchanged blows, and Miller himself said he hit Maverick in the chest, but others said they merely pushed each other around.

Maverick said that Miller struck at him but missed and hit Floyd McGowan, Maverick's executive assistant.

"Miller started it," Maverick said, declining further comment. Miller, keynoter of the convention and a leader of the "harmony" democrats favoring instructions for Garner but not participation in a "stop Roosevelt" movement, said Maverick made an insulting remark to him.

"So I hit him," Miller said. The clash occurred near the entrance of the auditorium, in the midst of milling throngs of delegates.

"I don't have anything against Maury," said Miller. Maverick is an ardent advocate of a third term for President Roosevelt.

Miller was chairman of the original organization of Roosevelt third terms in Texas but later agreed to a "peace" settlement aimed to reconcile the Garner-Roosevelt factions.

Two Jailed At Stanton; Alleged Disrespect To Flag Involved

Members Of Religious Organization Charged After Citizens Get Irate

STANTON, May 28—Two men, affiliated with the religious organization of Jehovah Witnesses, were held in the Martin county jail today in lieu of bonds totalling $4,000 arising out of alleged disrespect to the United States flag.

Sheriff Morris Zimmerman said that the men were Tom Bellflower, Midland barber, and A. L. Paschall, assertedly a district representative and of California, Miami, Fla., and more recently of San Angelo. They faced two counts each of disturbing the peace. Bonds were set at $1,000 in each case.

Bellflower and Paschall were jailed after a series of disturbances and when it appeared that irate Stanton citizens might do them violence, said Sheriff Zimmerman.

They were arrested Sunday evening after numerous complaints and a warning to the men to leave town, according to the sheriff.

"They were distributing literature," said Sheriff Zimmerman, "and we examined it. After questioning them, they said that they would not salute the American flag, nor would they take off their hats to it."

"We had complaints that they would go to homes and almost force their way in to sell or give away literature. When they couldn't get in, they sat on porches and played recordings."

"I told them they had better get out of town, but they said they wouldn't, that they didn't have to. Later a group of people gathered about them and it looked bad. So we had to arrest them."

District Attorney Martelle McDonald, who with Sheriff Zimmerman took statements from the defendants, said that the pair based their refusal to salute or remove hats to the flag on the assumption that such constituted worshiping something other than Jesus Christ, they bowed to none but Christ, they said.

The statements were forwarded to FBI office in El Paso and Sheriff Zimmerman said that federal authorities told him that they would investigate the case.

"I got a bunch of names from Paschall," said the sheriff. "There are a lot of the same cult in this territory. I got the names of some Big Spring people from the older man (Paschall)."

At Abilene Floyd E. Johnson, 24, was under $1,500 bond on a charge he insulted the United States flag. He also is a Jehovah Witness and made a statement almost identical with Bellflower and Paschall.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The senate banking committee approved unanimously today a $500,000,000 increase in government funds for crop loans intended to protect American farmers from wartime price shocks.

Government loan officials estimated these funds would be needed for new crop loans: $150,000,000 to cover 3,000,000 bales of cotton; $150,000,000 for 260,000,000 bushels of corn; $90,000,000 for 140,000,000 bushels of wheat; $40,000,000 for tobacco loans; and $60,000,000 for loans on other crops.

Ex-Service Men Band In Urging A Sane Course Of Americanism

Band together as "Minute Men" members of two service organizations—those men who recall best of all the problems of the last World war—met in Big Spring Monday evening to work toward a two-fold goal of Americanism.

Members of the American Legion post and the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars took notice, not only of "fifth column" menaces, but also of the threat of groundless fears and hysteria that are affecting many people; and called upon the local public for a middle-of-the-road course.

"We believe in common sense and preparedness," said the ex-service men. "We are banding together to assist our duly constituted officials in combatting 'fifth columnists,' and all enemies of our government. We are also banding together to urge reason in consideration of all reports, and to call for an end to panic and hysteria that bring on extreme talk and action."

"If word of a questionable case reaches you, don't spread it around, but notify the proper authorities. That is the way to be American and to be cooperative. We are as determined as any American group to quell undermining influences, but we are also determined that malicious and idle gossip should stop."

The service groups will meet again next Tuesday evening, and will invite the public to join them in consideration of problems before the American people as a result of the war crisis.

Leaders Agree On Increasing Debt Limit

Nature Of New Levies Not Revealed After A Conference

WASHINGTON, May 28 (AP)—The administration and congressional leaders agreed today to raise $3,000,000,000 of new taxes in the next five years to pay the costs of national defense.

Approved By FDR The plan, ratified by President Roosevelt, was drafted in a three hour conference by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the house ways and means committee and Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee.

It calls for the immediate financing of defense costs by the sale of $3,000,000,000 of special "national defense obligations." It also calls for levying of additional taxes, amounting to between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 annually for the next five years, the proceeds to be used to retire the "national defense obligations" and pay interest on them.

The conferees agreed to ask congress to increase the treasury's $45,000,000,000 debt limit to $48,000,000,000, to make possible the borrowing of the new defense funds.

The administration's budget, prepared before the defense program was laid down, provided expenditures which required borrowing up to the present debt limit by about June 30, 1941.

A joint statement issued by the conferees said "the secretary of the treasury communicated to the president the conclusions reached by the conferees and the president expressed his approval of the program."

The statement said Doughton and Harrison would call their committees immediately to work out details of the tax program.

None would give any indication of what kinds of taxes might be imposed nor did the statement make it clear whether enactment of the new taxes would be sought at the present session of congress. His only reference to the present session was a statement that the increase in the national debt limit would be asked immediately.

Britons May Withdraw?

LONDON, May 28 (AP)—Britain gathered her forces today for a supreme effort to break the German ring of steel around her expeditionary force in Flanders, now deprived of the support of Belgium's surrendered army on the northern flank.

Naval spokesmen indicated that withdrawal of the British army from the Belgian battlefield was under consideration, but it was admitted that great dangers would be faced in any attempt to bring it out by way of the heavily bombed channel ports.

Prime Minister Churchill and his war cabinet met for an hour and 45 minutes at Ten Downing street to consider this and other momentous decisions.

It was indicated that it would be up to the navy and the Royal Air Force to protect any withdrawal from the army's present position by way of the channel ports.

It was admitted that the Belgian capitulation opened a way for the naval legions to smash through to Dunkerque, France's vital channel port, through which the B. E. F. has been largely supplied.

The government was silent, however, concerning any moves it was likely to make, particularly since such decisions are up to the field commanders.

King 'Disowned,' But Action A Serious Blow To Allies

By The Associated Press With the surrender of the Belgian army under a surprise order by King Leopold III—whose own government quickly "disowned" him as a ruler of Belgium—a huge allied force estimated at between 450,000 and 600,000 men was reported massing tonight on the Alsace river for a "now or never" offensive.

The desperation-inspired allied counter-attack, it was reported, will be launched in the vicinity of Rethel, 95 miles north of Paris, in an attempt to rescue the British and French troops trapped in the Germans' "squeeze" pocket in Flanders.

King Leopold's command to lay down their arms after an 18-day defense came as a crushing blow to the allies in the north, depriving them of approximately 300,000 Belgian soldiers protecting their left flank.

Prime Minister Churchill told the house of commons, however, that despite this setback the allies would continue the fight with "full vigor."

The action of the refugee Belgian government, now in Paris, means, in effect, that the Belgian king has been declared deposed.

Premier Hubert Pierlot announced, contrary to the monarch's order to lay down arms, that Belgian forces which could be reorganized would continue their fight on the allies side.

All indications were, however, that the main Belgian army—the Germans said between 400,000 and 500,000 men—had ceased to fight and that only minor units or new levies raised from among the throng of Belgian refugees in France would be at the disposal of the Belgian government.

While Frenchmen in the streets of Paris cried "treason!" at the news of King Leopold's capitulation, Churchill asserted that the British and French governments would ignore Leopold's action.

Churchill's statement in effect meant the deposition of the Belgian king, whose father, King Albert, fought staunchly at the side of the allies throughout the World war.

Churchill was widely cheered as he declared: "Nothing which may happen to us in this battle can in any way relieve us of our duty to defend the world cause to which we have bound ourselves."

British May Withdraw From Belgian Sector With the German high command declaring that the allied armies "pocketed" in Flanders were doomed, British naval spokesmen hinted that the British expeditionary force was preparing to withdraw from the battle in Belgium.

It was not immediately indicated whether the British contemplated complete withdrawal from the continent or merely a shifting of their trapped armies south to aid France in her defense along the Somme river front.

The naval spokesman said the British troops in Belgium would face terrific obstacles in attempting to retire across the channel.

The Royal Air Force and the fleet, they added, would have to hold off the naval "Luftwaffe" (air force) to cover the movement.

At the height of the furor created by King Leopold's sudden surrender, the German high command announced a new series of smashing naval successes.

Nazis Break Through French Fortifications Hitler's mechanized columns broke through strong French border fortifications "on a broad front," the high command said, and captured numerous towns and villages in the giant "squeeze" movement on the trapped allied armies in Flanders.

The British cabinet quickly met at No. 10 Downing street in consideration of the grave consequences of the Belgian army's capitulation.

The Belgian monarch's decision to lay down arms came at the most critical hour in the struggle for mastery of the English Channel.

The nazis high command reported its armies had driven to within six miles of Bruges, Belgium, and had partly broken allied resistance in the battle of Aisles and Flanders.

The German breakthrough, it said, was made north of Valenciennes. Other nazis hordes crossed the strategic Scheidt canal and captured Orchies and Douai, French towns south of Lille, the high command announced.

Action May Hasten Italy's Entry Into War Foreign circles in Rome expected the Belgian surrender to hasten Italy's long-awaited entrance into the war—to help Germany "finish off" the allies and win a share of the victor's spoils.

King Leopold's order, bitterly assailed by Premier Reynaud of France as given "in full battle" without even notifying the French and British, seriously exposed the allies' rear on the English Channel between Dunkerque and Ostend.

Dunkerque has been the main supply base for feeding munitions, food and equipment to the desperately pressed allies in the battle of Flanders.

Although the military picture remained confused, the Germans seemed to be concentrating on a drive to cut into two segments the allied forces enmeshed in Belgium and northern France.

Making a new stand north of Valenciennes, French troops fought back at German thrusts heading east toward Ypres and southwest toward Lille. The nazis already had crossed the Lys river at several points and were said to be threatening Ypres.

Warplanes Are Kept In Use By Both Sides Having widened the bottleneck of their main salient between Peronne and Arras, other German forces swept through to strengthen their units around Calais, just 22 miles across the channel from Dover.

The Germans claimed Calais already had fallen, but the French did not concede the loss of the city.

Both sides declared their warplanes were raging the battle areas, bombing enemy troop movements and lines of communication.

The French said the Germans apparently were throwing tremendous numbers of men, tanks, planes and guns into the fight and were paying a terrific price in casualties for their gains.

Britain kept on making herself ready to beat off the invasion Germany has threatened.

Sir Edward Grigg, war office undersecretary, said 400,000 volunteer "parashooters" had been organized to fight any German parachute troops landed in England.

Leopold To Be 'Taken Care Of' By Nazis By capitulating, Leopold saved his throne so far as the Germans are concerned.

Adolf Hitler was reported "profoundly stirred" both by the soldierly attitude of the Belgian king and at his political wisdom in capitulating when, in the German view, further resistance was hopeless.

In some form or other, assuming Germany is victorious, Leopold will be permitted to continue functioning as king, informed sources predicted.

French military circles said they were at a loss to account for King Leopold's decision, and expressed "sympathy" for the Belgian army.

At the time Leopold's order was issued, one spokesman said, the Belgians were holding all along the line from Meuse, on the French-Belgian frontier, to Ghent.

Premier Reynaud, in announcing Leopold's action, said in part: "In full battle, King Leopold III of Belgium—without warning General Blanchard, without consideration or a word for the French and British soldiers who had come to the help of his country in response to his anguished appeal—King Leopold III laid down his arms."

"It is a fact without precedent in history."

Spotted showers fell from Fairview north to Ackery, where the precipitation was reported heavy. Eastward the fall was more intense, and in some spots of the Vealmoor community the total was estimated up to four inches. The Vincent territory had as much as two inches at many points.

Unsung Frosh May Crack The 440 Record

By SAM JACKSON
BERKELEY, Calif., May 28 (AP)—A phenomenal California runner virtually unknown in his home state has been "discovered" by the East and invited to make a bid for fame in the Princeton Invitational track meet June 8.

Grover Klemmer is the name, and the reason it doesn't mean much to the general sporting public is that he is still a freshman at the University of California and hence barred from varsity competition.

But he's a whiz in the quarter-mile, and almost as good in the 220 and 880. Dink Templeton, the former Stanford coach, says Grover is headed for a world record in the quarter.

"He'll lose some races against top-notch men, but I see no reason why he shouldn't develop," said Hamilton. "In a meet April 30 he ran 47 flat in competition with the high school all-stars. He really has never been extended in the quarter."

When Ben Eastman was a freshman at Stanford the best he could do was 49.4—enough for the old local freshman record—but he went on to set the existing world record of 46.4. Klemmer apparently has a big start on him.

He is just discovering his ability. He had only one year of competition in high school and that rather sketchy. His best time last year was 49.5 seconds. This spring's achievements have been made almost from scratch.

Though Hamilton believes Klemmer can run the 220 in less than 22 seconds, he will have him train for the quarter and half-mile, believing he's "geared" to a longer race. Running with little practice—it was final examination week—Klemmer turned in a 1:53.3 for the half.

A native of San Francisco, Klemmer is 19 years old, stands 6 feet 1-1/2 inches tall and weighs 168 pounds. He is studying to be an electrical engineer and goes in for no other sports.

TWO TEAMS IN CLASH AGAIN TONIGHT

By HANK HART
Exceptionally stable in the clutches, Clarence "Levi" Trantham subdued the Big Spring Barons with eight scattered hits as the Amarillo Gold Sox won the opener of a three game series here Monday evening, 8-1, and increased their WT-NM league lead over second place Pampano.

Boasting little but a fast one, the former Big Spring hurler was superb when the heat was on. He had to be to win. He was constantly working himself into tight spots and then out again.

He whiffed only four but had the locals popping up or hitting into the dirt most of the time.

His mates gave him excellent support, combing the offerings of two Big Spring hurlers—Ray Parmentier and Warren Kanagy—for a total of 11 base blows, most of them when the chips were down.

The Gold Sox added another in the second when Don Wolin fumbled Jack Denero's ground ball, allowing Bill Altenberg to seep across the dish and two more in the third when Parmentier momentarily lost control.

The Big Springers finally counted in the sixth on Shan Denniston's double, a walk to Bill Garbe and Bob Wittig's infield roller but the cost was terrific. Altenberg picked up Wittig's hopper and turned it into a double play.

The 141 Yankees loaded the sacks in the eighth but Al Duarte took Eldon Kurator's short fly into left and turned it into a double play, catching Garbe at third base.

Bill Altenberg and Bones Sanders dominated the Sox' hitting, Altenberg collecting two doubles and as many singles in four official trips while Sanders had a brace of doubles and a single and drove in three runs.

Carl Cox manufactured two base blows for the Big Springers and Trantham hasn't stopped him yet. The brilliant third sacker drew free transportation to first on both his other tries.

The teams go to it again this evening, 8:30 o'clock, with Lefty Sperry slated to work for Skipper Rego, then close out their series Wednesday night.

Carl Cox, "The Talkinest Guy", Makes Fans Forget Billy Capps

The one bright spot in Big Spring Barons' recent string of reverses has been Carl Cox, youthful third sacker who has proved more than adequate in filling Billy Capps' shoes. Carl has a handsome stick mark of .347 at the present time, which represents a gain of about 25 points over the past seven days.

Familiar known as "the tobacco auctioneer" because he talks faster and louder than any infielder in the league, Coxey has shown uncanny ability to cover his assigned territory. The Hollywood product apparently has everything required of a third sacker, including speed and an unbelievably true arm.

Small, even frail in appearance, Carl has exhibited plenty of mace power, has yet to be fooled by any pitcher in the league. He rarely goes down swinging, has been retired on strikes but once in the games played here, that when he was called out on a curve that broke away from the plate he still thinks was a ball.

In the 41 hits he has accumulated, Carl has 12 extra base blows, including ten doubles and a brace of home runs, has driven in a total of 26 runs in the short time he has been here.

He looks exceptionally well composed once he steps into the batter's box, will never go for a pitch unless the ball is good.

Opposing hurlers have been trying to find his weaknesses but thus far have not succeeded to any degree. About the only thing they know about him is that he hits an outside pitch to right, inside to left and one down the middle into center.

He can wade clear of a "dust-off" with astonishing ease, rarely pivots in evading a bad pitch, instead exerts but the slightest motion in moving clear.

Carl is tremendously popular with the "knot hole gang" around third base. The staccato vocal barrage he dispatches across the infield must be welcome relief to a slabbman.

Dodgers And Reds Are Staging A Real Scrap For League Lead

HARPER LOSES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Bobby (Poison) Ivy, youthful Hartford, Conn., slugger, got off the floor to win an eight-round decision over Lee Harper of Port Arthur, Texas, here last night.

A smashing right sent Ivy down for a nine-count in the first round. He came back to floor Harper for a nine with a left to the stomach in the third, then floored him two more times with the same blow in the fourth. Harper swung on to the bell, then fought a defensive fight to the end.

MORE FLAX

Farmers whose ground is suitable and who have more than twelve acres under cultivation may be obliged to devote a certain area to flax.

Pros Rip Par In Qualifying For The Open

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Old Man Par apparently hasn't a chance and the best of the amateur golfers not much more when the crack professionals who think they may win the National Open championship start taking golf courses apart.

Thirty-one of the best players—the low 30 in last year's open and the home club pro at Cleveland's Canterbury club where the 1940 tournament will be played June 6-8—were exempted from yesterday's sectional qualifying rounds for the open. Yet when the rest of the entry list of 1,175 had finished playing 36-hole rounds in 20 districts the fairways were fairly littered with the pieces they had chopped off par. And only five amateurs were able to lead the way in their respective districts, including two who tied for top honors.

The greatest job of par breaking by any of the 139 qualifiers and one of the greatest ever seen in these sectional rounds, was turned in by Lawson Little, who got hot and shot amazing rounds of 65-69—134 to lead the big field in the Chicago district. He was eight strokes under par.

The only one to come within three strokes of Little's figure was Leonard Dodson, who carded 68-69—127 at Kansas City.

In addition to Willie Turnesa, 1938 amateur champion, and Ray Bidlow, last year's runner up to Bud Ward, such prominent amateurs as Chick Evans, one-time amateur and open champion, Art Doring, Bobby Dunkelberger, Trailer Bill Holt, Bob Babbish, Edwin C. Kingsley, Leland Hamman and the former tennis champion, Elsworth Vines, failed to make the grade.

Ben Hogan, a sensation among the pros last winter, could earn no better than an alternate's berth, while ex-champion Billy Burke and Willie MacFarlane missed out along with Wiffy Cox, Chandler Harper, Joe Kirkwood, Alvin Krueger, Bill Melhora and Jock Hutchinson, Senior.

Men In Pits Have Won Many Speedway Races

By HAROLD HARRISON
INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (AP)—The men who man the pits are the unsung heroes of the Memorial Day speedway classic.

In those tiny, equipment-packed enclosures, 10 by 20 feet, along the grandstand straightaway many a race is won or lost.

Most auto race fans know the pits as the racers' repair bases, comparatively few know the racer's strategy and tactics are carefully mapped out there and flashed to him as he whizzes by.

Pit men must be clock-like in their precision. They change tires in three swift movements—a hitch in any one means precious seconds lost. They must keep the driver accurately advised on how he is running—a slip may cause him to make his bid for first place too soon or too late.

There's no wasted space in the pits. Every conceivable article needed for car or driver during the grueling 500-mile race is kept within easy reach. Fuel containers. Spare wheels. Tools. Extra parts. Even electric refrigerators. The refrigerator, a comparatively new wrinkle, contains refreshments and an extra crash helmet. Those head coverings get pretty hot in the blazing sun.

Five men are assigned to each car. The pit manager usually times his driver by stop watch. Another man signals the driver by blackboard notes. The others divide the tasks of tire changing, refueling, and attending the driver himself.

H. C. (Cotton) Henning, master mechanic for the Mike Boyle racing team, is an ace pit manager. He did a great job of master-minding Wilbur Shaw to first place last year and has directed more winners than any other man attached to the 1940 race.

The Schedule
Here's his pit program: "We signal the driver by blackboard, his miles per hour, position, and which cars are running just behind and ahead of him. We also let him know, after stop-watch checkup, whether he's gaining or losing and advise him how to regulate his speed. Signals are given every 10 laps in the later stages.

"It's our job to function as the eyes and ears of the man behind the wheel, telling him what he can't see on the track or car. To do the job right you must race with your car every lap."

Pollet Wins Tenth Game

By the Associated Press
Young Howard Pollet can claim the lion's share of glory in Houston's sensational Texas League drive.

The Buffs are ten games ahead of second place San Antonio, exactly the number of decisions the youthful pitcher has gained. He has yet to meet defeat.

His tenth win came last night, turning back Oklahoma City 4-1 with eight hits.

San Antonio beat Fort Worth 6-2.

Third place Beaumont wore out Tulsa 4-3 in ten innings with Ned Harris stealing home for the decision.

Dallas beat Shreveport 12-4 to move into fifth place.

The membership of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers numbers 122,134 as of April 15, officers of the organization announce. This is a new high. For the past two years the Texas congress has held fourth place among the states in membership total.

Cincy Wins Two But Brook Keeps First Place

By JUDSON BAILEY;
Associated Press Sports Writer
National league fans, who have endured many hair-raising races in recent years, never have had anything closer than the Cincinnati Reds and Brooklyn Dodgers are today.

The Dodgers are on top in percentage, .714 to .710, but they are half a game behind in won-lost calculations. Cincinnati has won two games more (2) than the Dodgers, who have lost one less (eight) than the Reds.

The Reds did all in their power to capture the lead in stopping the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 and 7-3 yesterday.

But Cincinnati's best wasn't good enough to erase that percentage margin as long as the Dodgers continued to win—and they chalked up their fourth straight victory with a 6-0 shutout of the Philadelphia Phillies.

Bill Posedel held the New York Giants to four safeties while the Boston Bees pounded out a 7-1 triumph with 12 hits off three pitchers.

The Chicago Cubs kept the National league design four-corned by belting the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1 and closing the gap between them and second place to a game and a half.

The Cleveland Indians slipped half a notch in their efforts to overtake the Boston Red Sox in the American league by losing a night game to the Detroit Tigers 6-1.

Only games scheduled (Houston at Tulsa game originally scheduled for Tuesday will be played as part of doubleheader Tuesday).

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETS
NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Here's something you won't see again for a coon's age... Last Tuesday all four clubs in the Arizona-Texas league sported a percentage of 500... El Paso, Albuquerque and Tucson had won 16 and lost 16... Bisbee, bringing up the rear had won and lost 15 each.

One for the Books: Here are the Boston Red Sox leading the loop and they haven't seen a starting pitcher finish a game since May 4.

Up to yesterday the Sox have thrown in 67 pitchers this season. In a college golf match at Evans of Jackson ruffled the cup on a 281-yard par four hole. Then his opponent, Orv Ruttie of Kalamazoo dittoed. So they halved the hole with eagle two's.

Their first tournament was a nine-hole caddy meet in Fort Worth and Nelson beat Hogan in the finals.

A few weeks ago Byron vanquished Ben in the play-off of the Texas Open... A friend gave Charles Lee a glove made from it—only one in the majors.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, May 28 (AP)—Traders dumped stocks on today's market, as war bearishness revived with the surprising capitulation of Belgium to Germany, but bought some of them back later and substantially reduced early losses running to 7 or more points. The forenoon shock to sentiment was subsequently offset to some extent by Prime Minister Churchill's speech to the house of commons declaring that, while the situation was exceptionally serious, the British and French would fight on to the finish. At the close many issues which had slumped to new 2-year lows more than halved their early declines. Transfers were around 1,300,000 shares, with volume picking up a bit in the final hour.

New Emphasis on Traffic Enforcement

More emphasis is being placed on enforcing traffic ordinances against running traffic lights, double and alley parking, city police announced Tuesday. Checks are still being made on overtime parking in the downtown district where this rule has been in effect. Particular attention will be paid to failure to stop before making a right turn on red lights, for running through red lights, for parking behind the regular line of parked cars (double parking), and parking in alleys. Traffic officers said they had contacted operators of several business firms and had received pledges of cooperation in reducing and possibly eliminating double parking. Insofar as possible, the department is attempting to eradicate violations without the necessity of issuing tickets.

Dewey Greeted At GOP Conclave

DALLAS, May 28. (AP)—The state republican convention, drawing its greatest turnout of delegates in years due to the visit here of presidential aspirant Thomas E. Dewey of New York, today got down to the business of deciding its course at the national convention. Every indication was that the delegation to Philadelphia would go unopposed. Last night, the presidential aspirant spoke over a nation-wide hookup, declaring America today is woefully weak in its armed forces due largely to the bungling of the present administration. He advocated a five-point program for national defense, declaring "first, we must decide what we are going to defend." He said a non-partisan board must be named to direct the program of rearmament, the administration "must remove socialists, communists and fellow travelers" from office, the administration must abandon its war on business and "our national morale must be revitalized."

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 28. (AP)—Conflicting testimony that Mrs. May Walker Burleson was insane, and that she was "faking" insanity has been presented to a jury trying her for the slaying of her divorced husband's second wife. Indications were that testimony would be concluded today, and that the jury by tonight would begin deliberating the case of the 51-year-old artist and former suffragette leader of Galveston, Tex. Describing the findings of state hospital psychiatrists who observed Mrs. Burleson for a 30-day period, Dr. E. L. Dr. Horger was a rebuttal witness for the state, called after defense psychiatrists, and relatives and friends of Mrs. Burleson testified last week that she was the victim of Paranoia, a type of insanity. As a young man, Neville Chamberlain, British statesman, spent several years managing his father's estates in the Bahamas.
