WALTER EASY TO SATISFY

DETROIT (AP)—Sitting around at a club the other day some one asked Walter Hagen if he had read the article in which Gene Sarazen was reported as being the best he could see for "the Hag" in the open this June was a place or show better.

"Yes, I saw that," Hagen shot back, "and say, I want to thank Gene for the compliment. Picking the 'old man' to place or show in the national open is a compliment. It be tickled if I can land that high."

Poor Pitching Contributes To Tiger Defeat

Poor pitching was costly to the Mexican Tigers Sunday and they lost to Knott, 11 to 3. Although fanning eleven Knott batsmen, Chendo Cruz, Tiger twirler, was touched for fifteen clean hits, two of them home runs. Manager Vega's poor pitching also contributed to the Tiger defeat.

The Knott pitcher hurled a "tight" game. Gilbert Valdez was the only Tiger to secure as many as two hits, connecting for a single and a double that scored A. Cruz from 1st. Perras scored the other two Mexican runs with a single.

A great part of the Tiger weakness was due to the fact that Albert Garcia and P. Piaro were out working overtime. They have sent finished goods into such traditionally English markets as India and China. They have sent them to South America, where both British and American mills have done business; of late they have even begun to send them into the United States itself.

This has led to protests, and the protests have led to re-examination of our trade relations with the Mikado's empire.

Now the Japanese foreign office points out that, whatever the Japanese mills may do with their finished product, they at least buy most of their raw material from American products.

During recent years, for instance, America has sold approximately $100,000,000 worth of raw cotton to Japan annually. These sales constitute the largest single item in America's agricultural export trade.

Last year the United States' sales of cotton to Japan outvalued the total of all Japanese exports to the United States.

In this connection it is worth remembering that Secretary of State Hull and Foreign Minister Hirota last year exchanged letters agreeing that there is no good cause for friction between the nations; and it is also noteworthy that the Japanese are anxious to conclude a new treaty with the United States working out a non-competitive basis for the foreign commerce of the two countries.

All this is worth remembering for the simple reason that it points in the direction of peace instead of war. Our navy may feel justified in holding its maneuvers in the Pacific; these figures indicate that the danger of war is only superficial, and that underneath there are most solid and substantial reasons for keeping the two nations at peace.

RELATIONS WITH JAPAN BELIEVE ALL WAR TALK

During the last three or four years, the average American came to recognize the word Japan as a synonym for trouble.

Japan was doing this, that, or the other thing in China and Manchuria. Japan was refusing to abide by the Washington treaty; Japan was fortifying mandated islands in the Pacific; some day Japan and the United States would get together and fight it all out.

That was the burden of most public references to Japan in this country. And since cultivation of an attitude like that is a necessary prelude to war, it all had a pretty ominous sound.

But of late the keynote seems to have changed. We are beginning to hear talk about rivalry. Someone seems to have remembered that Japan is one of our best customers in the matter of foreign trade, and that fixing to fight your best customer is about the poorest known way of promoting a trade revival.

The recent argument over Japanese exports of textiles lends point to this matter.

Japanese textile mills have been

REFINERS IN TIE FOR CELLAR

By HANK HART
The Ford Motor Company team dropped the Cosden Lab into a tie for the cellar position Tuesday evening, defeating the Richardson forces, 10-9, and the Herald Type also pushed themselves into a tie for first place, defeating the third place Cosden Lab, 5-4.

The Motorists tallied one run in the first stanza, four in the second, then held back and allowed the Chemists to rally for nine runs in the second and third.

Trailing two runs going into the final frame, the Johnsonmen snatched the game from the fire when they combined two hits with two Lab miscues for victory.

Taylor and Jackson led the ninth attack against Richardson with two bluffs.

The Chemists collected eight hits off Lois Madison, who took the mound in the absence of Manager Buster Johnson. Six of the hits came in the second and third innings.

Greenwood was the only Cosdenite to collect more than one hit off the Ford pitcher, coming through with two base blows in four attempts.

Glenn Guilkey limited the Cosden Oilers to eight hits and with good support from his mates, managed to pull through after he had allowed the Henningermen to tie the count in the seventh.

The Newbies led off with two runs in the first, returned to count again in the second, tallied another in the fifth, and won the game when Driver crossed the plate on successive hits by Hall and Gant in the seventh.

Driver and Gant each connected for two hits to give Henning the most trouble.

The Oilers bunched their hits to count two runs in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Jack Smith led the loser's attack with two hits in two attempts.

The defeat shoved the Oilers into fourth place.

WHY AMERICA PREFERS BUDWEISER...

Its age-old TASTE is found only in Budweiser

Hundreds of years ago, an ancient monastery in Budweis, Bohemia, brewed a beer of such distinctive and exquisite taste that connoisseurs pronounced it the finest in all the world. Its taste was slightly tart with a delicious, unforgettable tang. Those who drank this beer never tired of it.

Sixty years ago, Anheuser-Busch got from the Bohemian monks their age-old formula. And so BUDWEISER came to America. Its popularity swept the country and then the entire world. The demand for BUDWEISER built the world's largest brewery.

Refinements of method and facilities, yes—but the ancient formula of BUDWEISER remains unchanged. And so today, as of yesterday, BUDWEISER holds an unmatched record—the biggest-selling bottled beer in history. Its distinctive, age-old taste makes it so.

Vic Defeats Gene La Belle

Dutchman Wins Third Fall in 4 Minutes With Arm Whip
Gene La Belle put power into his rough stuff Tuesday night and took the first fall from Vic Webber, but Vic gave Gene a big dose of his own medicine in the latter part of the match and won two straight.

For the first few minutes La Belle's performance was fairly clean, but it wasn't long before he resorted to his old tricks and almost blinded the Dutchman. Once Gene got the deadly Indian stake hold on Webber, but he left room enough for Vic to duck under him and break it.

After some twenty minutes of fire-works La Belle took the first fall with a Flying Jenny. Vic left the ring favorite with the fans and came back fighting mad, slugging La Belle into submission in sixteen minutes. The fall was registered with a Top Body Pin. Webber, unusually, powerful in his arms, flipped the Frenchman against the ropes time after time. Webber needed only four minutes to win the third and deciding fall. He won with his favorite—the arm whip.

Chambers smeared Pogi, the present Mid-West champ, with stams. Cliff was impressive in the match, and after the first few minutes proved to be the aggressor. Pogi retreated outside the ropes several times only to be flipped back in by the San Antonio flash.

John Felix and Bob Castle staged a slug-fest in the time limit. Felix took the place of Red Michols, who suffered a broken ankle.

upon graduation is 17 1-2 years old.

Statistics were shown that athletes often were held out of school in order to gain advantage before graduation, and thus have an advantage over normal high school pupils.

Favorable To Hennig
Coach Hennig, who has piloted Mustang eleven to two district championships in the five years he has been here, one time going into quarter-finals for the state championship, is strongly in favor of lowering the age limit.

This should put a stop to recruiting of athletes, which various West Texas towns do not try to conceal. Even the fact that a student must be in the school for a year before becoming eligible to play, following transfer, has not halted the practice.

While he did not say so, Coach Hennig is working on the theory that brains and speed will win in the future and that material he may be given here, from a comparatively small town, more equably will be able to compete with teams in larger cities.

Hennig Favors Low Age Limit

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sallow and the world looks gray, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels and a more movement. Don't get the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two ounces of bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up, your stomachs, you have a bloated, bad taste and your breath is foul. Acid often makes you miserable. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes a good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel like a new man.

Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. See at drug stores. ©1935 C. M. Co.

WOW Wallops Southern Ice

DALLAS (Sp.)—Popularity of the Fair Park race course here has been thoroughly demonstrated in the mind of Julius G. Reeder, general manager of the track, which despite 15 days of rain out of 21 racing days has just closed its most successful meeting.

Attendance Dropped
Attendance figures dropped from the fall meeting, but mutual play increased. This was due to the fact that purse distribution was increased by $10,000 which brought the best grade of horses yet to campaign at the Fair Park track to the spring race meeting.

The class of horses at the track is best shown by the percentage of favorites winning here. Out of the 168 races, favorites finished third or better in 129 of the races, for a total percentage of favorite wins of 44 per cent. Selections came in as follows: first finished 71 times, first, 35 times second, and 23 times third; second selections finished 29 times first, 41 times second and 28 times third; third selections finished 27 times first, 33 times second and 28 times third.

Better Class Horses
"Weather caused the decrease in our attendance," Judge Reeder said, "but the better class of horses which campaigned here this spring brought about the increase in our mutuals play. We expect to increase the purse distribution again at the fall meeting, and have an even better grade of horses race here than was seen in action during the meet just closed. The meeting has been very successful, and horsemen, operators and patrons are well pleased with the outcome."

Midland Golf Team Defeats Stanton

MIDLAND (Sp.)—Only one match was played in the Sand Belt golf league Sunday, Midland team widening its lead with a 22 to 18 decision over Stanton.

Burris Hit With Everything But Posts To Back-Stop

The W.O.W. hit "Buff" Burris with everything but the posts of the backstop to defeat the Southern Ice Tuesday evening, 17-3, for their first win of the season.

The Woodmen waited until the second to "strike," but broke through in that frame to tally twice and continue with five runs in the third, six runs in the fourth, two in the fifth, and one in the sixth.

Patton set the loomen down with eight hits.

ELTON GILLILAND, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Gilliland of this city, who represented Big Spring in the "My Home Town" speaking contest, conducted each year by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, did not make the finals, but made a very creditable showing at the Plainview convention. Below his speech is reproduced:

MY HOME TOWN.

Lying in a cluster of the typical West Texas hills there is a thriving city which I proudly call my home town. This home town of mine being Big Spring is situated in a valley of lovely tapestried scenery of majestic and open-hearted hospitality. Big Spring is a division point on the Texas and Pacific railroad and is the best town on it. My home town is at the point of intersection of two national military highways, the Broadway of America and the Gulf to Glacier. Big Spring is also widely known as the gateway to the great staked plains, because the plains like many other great things begin in Big Spring. I am proud, and all the citizens of Big Spring are proud that our home town is also in the heart of good old West Texas.

Big Spring enjoys a rare setting and history. It is the home of such pioneers as the Earl of Aylesford and the immortal painter, H. W. Caylor. The glamour of the frontier days still clings to the land of rolling plains, rough and ready sports, adventure, and old time hospitality. Big Spring has always been the home of thinking people, people with inventive minds, since a Big Spring man invented the first six cylinder automobile, and people with progressive minds since Big Spring had the first Boy Scout Troop in Texas, and even the first automobile fire engine in the state was bought by Big Spring. From this we see that Big Spring has always strived to be first in everything.

Now in describing my home town I would certainly have to say that it is most beautiful. Here you find the hum of sober industry, a deep peace of simple, but beautiful living, such as you may have thought had vanished forever. Big Spring has many places of interest and beauty, such as our scenic mountain, which is famous for its natural scenery, and being chosen by the State Park Commission as one of the most beautiful park sights in West Texas, with its natural four miles of mountain drive overlooking the plains and the city. Big Spring is rapidly becoming a mecca for tourists, and above all a mecca for home seekers, who really want to live, as the city offers health, happiness and prosperity to all. Big Spring has fine hotels, modern office buildings, and two well equipped hospitals, although our cemetery, according to population is the smallest in the world. Why! If it were not for the automobile accidents which occur upon our splendid highways, we would have the doctors on the relief. Big Spring is served by the Texas and Pacific rail service and receives a very appreciative payroll from this company, which has a million dollar roushhouse and shops located in my home town. The city is served by several of the well known bus and truck lines and our airport is ranked among the best in the southwest being served by the American Airlines.

To the north and east of Big Spring is found a very fertile sandy loam, which yields an abundance of cotton and feeds annually. One of the few United States experiment farms is located in my home town. To the south of Big Spring is found a beautiful ranching country and one of the most remarkable shallow oil pools in Texas, having approximately six hundred producing wells, supplying three oil refineries, which have a daily capacity of 25,000 barrels, and employing several hundred workmen. One of the most encouraging facts to investors, is the fact that Big Spring has never suffered a bank failure, and has an ever increasing population, having now reached approximately 15,000.

Big Spring boasts of her eight splendid schools, which are ranked among the best in the state of Texas. We have twenty churches, and approximately 4000 church members all working for the common cause. These factors are two of which few towns can so highly boast.

I have mentioned to you our splendid churches, schools, parks, highways, and hotels but the spirit of the people who go to our schools and churches enjoy themselves in our parks, ride on our smooth streets, and live in our hotels and residential districts are really the ones who are responsible for the great progress and beauty of my home town, so Big Spring with her five sources of income, agriculture, oil, industrial payrolls, live stock, tourist, bids people to the gates of our fair city to help us circulate the $350,000 we have on deposits in our splendid banks, because a city with the mentioned assets is truly the heart of opportunity.

Senior Play Filled With Laughs And Many Amusing Complications

"Apple Blossom Time", the Senior play for this year, will be given Friday night beginning at 8 o'clock in the Municipal Auditorium. Admission will be twenty-five cents and there will be no reserved seats. Tickets may be secured from members of the senior class or at the high school.

A pretty little neighbor is the role assigned to a pretty and popular young senior girl, Miss Bobby Gordon, who was selected by the student body as the best all-around girl in the Big Spring High School, will be in the role of Nancy Prescott. This is an unusually good character and Bobby Gordon has shown herself capable of filling it to perfection.

Miss Prescott lives near to the Forrest's home and is a regular visitor, thereby having a large part in the action occurring during the entire play. She doesn't have to be around the neighborhood long either after Charlie Laurence has come to town to find out that he is just the young man she wants. Between her and Charlie there arise many situations highly amusing.

The entire play is filled with many laughs and there is a plot which is so interesting that there are also many tense moments when it is impossible to be indifferent to the outcome of the situation.

Les Deux Tables Club Plays At The Settles

Members of the Les Deux Bridge club met at the Settles hotel Tuesday evening as the guests of Miss Lucille Rix. The hostess, herself, scored highest.

Mmes. Glenn Golden, Kelly Burns and Harold Lytle played with the club. The members present were: Meses. Emma Lou Freeman, Mary Vance Keneaster, Evelyn Merrill and Mrs. Searcy Whaley. Mrs. Whaley will be the next hostess.

The club elected Mrs. Clarence McMurray as wardrobe demonstrator and voted to hold another all-day meeting June 4. There will be a demonstration of sandwiches with dinner served at noon.

Present were: Meses. Floyd Ashley, Duke Lipscomb, Clarence McMurray, Kack McKinnon, Ross Hill, Ches Anderson, Bob Asbury, Mrs. Claude Ballard of Chalk and Miss Parr.

The cat of Mrs. Karl Klausner of Karnes City, Tex., will drink water only from a bowl with goldfish in it but never has attempted to eat the fish.

To prevent motor damage when you

...you must have oil of high film strength!

D ID YOU know that idling along at ten miles an hour or picking up suddenly can cause as much motor wear as high-speed driving?

All three put extreme pressure on your connecting rod and crankshaft bearings. If your oil does not have enough oiliness and film strength to withstand these high pressures, your motor parts suffer damaging wear. That's why you need oil with the greatest possible oiliness and film strength.

Straight mineral oils have no more oiliness and film strength than they had 10 years ago. Some, because of over-refining, have less!

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil has more oiliness and 2 to 4 times more film strength than straight mineral oils! The Germ Process—adding concentrated oily essence to highly-refined, paraffin-base oil—puts into this oil more film strength and oiliness than any oil possesses naturally, no matter what crude oil it is made from!

That extra film strength and oiliness enable Germ Processed Oil to stay on the job and prevent wear under the most extreme pressure and heat. It helps Germ Processed Oil give long mileage with greater motor protection, as proved by the famous Indianapolis Destruction Test.

Germ Processed Oil protects your motor another way. Because it penetrates and combines with metal surfaces, it forms a "Hidden Quart" that stays up in your motor and cuts down wear during the starting period.

Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is the oil you need in this day of slow city driving, speed on the highway and sudden acceleration everywhere. It protects your motor and saves you money!

From the diary of a couple who had a grand time—

"We stopped at a Conoco station and they had some lunch on the level road. Every detail and road condition was marked."

"The individually marked state road signs kept us on the level road. Every detail and road condition was marked."

"The travel booklets told about scenic and historic points, and hotel and camp directories helped us choose places to stop."

"Friendly Conoco service made it a grand trip, too. You can supply at any Conoco station for the free travel service."

ENEMY'S KISS

Chapter Five
 ABOUT MR. REESE:
 But then the whole thing was so odd!

With her father had just written to say that he meant to leave London and took for a house in the country, he had at least an outline of the kind of place he wanted; had mentioned the Berkshire as a likely spot, since his fiancée, Miss Summers, wanted to hunt.

A golf course not more than a few miles off, some rough shooting, a good tennis court, gardens, nothing too large but room enough to put up Allison's friends—she had read that part of the letter with a shudder, for it was like her father to want everything and want it just so!

In the very first few moments in this house, she had thought it

WANTS 'BUTTER AND EGG MAN'

Ed Howe (left), noted Kansas journalist, arriving at Baltimore for an eye operation, took time to assert his emphatic opinion that the country needs a "big butter-and-egg-man" and "Roosevelt isn't the man we want." Howe is shown with his son, Gene, Amarillo, Tex., editor. (Associated Press photo) year when she left school—and had swallowed every other feeling when, dismounting in the darkness, she had ended by sending a telegram of congratulation.

A serious and thoughtful girl, older than her age, although a reticent nose and round, child-like face made her look younger, she had spent thirty-six apprehensive hours traveling from Switzerland to Dover, determined that whatever she herself felt, she would not let it show or cloud her father's happiness.

After all, if she did not like her stepmother, it would be easy to get a job; with the allowance which her father gave her she could afford to do unpaid work for charity. She had worked herself up to a point when her love for her father and the man, she had stood on the porch of this house, ringing the bell.

And now.

"It's funny." In those two words she framed all her doubts of the telegram, his letter and this queer arrival. Her father, who had always been so careful, even funny, for her safety!

The man beside her had been watching her face anxiously and now he said quickly, "By the way, I looked up in the aisle while you were in the bath. If your friend the beauty champion's up there he must be hiding in the water tank and laying up enough pneumonia to keep him quiet for months."

"Don't understand it," Allison was frowning. "He must be hiding somewhere in the house."

"Assuming that you really saw him."

"Oh, I did! He kept shoving against the door, trying to get in! Besides I couldn't have imagined anything so—so beastly!"

The young man frowned.

"Hm. Well, he's not in this house now. We've been over every inch of it, haven't we?"

"Y—yes . . ."

"Well then, obviously, he's gone. You'll admit that."

He was arguing with her fearfully, as one reasons with a child. "Yes. But I saw him."

The young man's eyes twinkled. "You passed out, you know, for about two minutes and I was pretty busy bringing you round. You also let out a yell that was enough to scare the dead. Sorry, but you know what I mean. Don't you think your friend may've taken the hint and cleared?"

strange that he should take anything quite so small, so dingy and shabby furnished, for Robert Rodd. If not rich in the sense of millions, was comfortably wealthy and Allison's home in London was big, well-furnished and well-run.

Travel, good hotels, a good cook and a good school for his only child—her father had never stinted himself in any of these ways and Allison had wondered as she flashed her torch into room after room whether this lonely little old house up on the Sussex Downs had been chosen for him by the stepmother-to-be whom she had never met.

If so, she thought, her father would be terribly disappointed! He had always been busy about details and by no stretch of imagination could the girl conceive his liking

Advertiser's Most Beautiful Girl Joins Parade Through Big Spring

By O. R. F. Sooner or later they hit Big Spring—the nation's celebrities—ex-presidents, movie actors and actresses, statesmen.

The latest arrival is the Lucky Strike girl. I walked into Shine Phillips' Setties drug store this morning and he said, meet Miss Ruth Barrett.

I looked at Miss Barrett and saw a golden-brown girl, brown hair, blonde hair, fair skin and a set of familiar features. "Elizabeth Arden's representative," explained Shine. Of course everybody knows the house of Elizabeth Arden, one of the pillars of beautiful complexion.

We talked and I learned of new things that Miss Arden is recommending for Big Spring, and still I pondered. At last she confessed it. Her's is the face that has looked out at us from Lucky Strike ads on those colored covers on magazine backs.

She's always been with Miss Arden. The Lucky Strike so admiring that Arden complexion that they stole her for a while. She posed for their photographer and then the next thing she knew, her picture was spread on new stands the world over.

This is the superlatively lovely young lady that Elizabeth Arden has sent to Big Spring to hold private consultations with the ladies on their cosmetic problems—parade days, Wednesday and Thursday.

BONUS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) pension certificate; that Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader, had said he hoped something could be worked out after the Patman veto was sustained; and that Roosevelt had said flatly he would veto any bill for full immediate cash payment of the bonus.

It was believed in important quarters he was indicating a possible willingness to sign a compromise that avoided full payment now. The president was accompanied to the capitol by Mrs. Roosevelt, two of his secretaries—Stephen Early and Marvin McIntyre—and Captain Wilson Brown, his naval aide.

Officials of veterans' organizations were on hand, but withheld comment until the message was delivered. They heard the president, and it was not right to single out veterans, in the present economic situation, for treatment different from that accorded to other citizens who did not wear the uniform during the World war.

Without mentioning the senate dispute Tuesday over propriety of his personal appearance, the president remarked "with your permission, I should like to continue from time to time to act as my own messenger."

 After the program Mrs. Nora K. White of Forsan installed Mrs. George Neely, president; Mrs. H. I. Spratt, vice-president; Mrs. Glenn Smith, secretary; Miss Ala B. Collins, treasurer and Mrs. Raymond Smith as officers for the coming year.

Chairman Of Utility Company Says Objectionable Features of Wheeler-Rayburn Bill Not Yet Eliminated

NEW YORK—None of the major objectionable features of the Wheeler-Rayburn bill affecting electric and gas utilities have been eliminated in the revised bill reported out of the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, according to C. E. Grosbeck, chairman of the Electric Bond and Share company. In a report mailed to more than 200,000 stockholders of the company, Grosbeck questioned the "pressure" that is being used to hasten the bill through Congress, despite the hundreds of thousands of protests from stockholders and others, and pointed out that the only proponents for the bill are government employees.

The statement of Grosbeck follows:
 "In view of the lack of public support of this bill and the nationwide protests against its enactment, it is not natural that the people should look askance at efforts being made to rush this bill into law. One can not help but feel that there is an unexplained motive behind this extraordinary procedure.

"I am forced to the opinion that the ultimate plans of those who are trying so hard to speed this bill into law includes not only the approved objectives of destruction of holding companies but also embraces as their primary purposes the weakening of local privately-owned companies so that they will have to seek financial aid from the government at its dictated terms, thus hastening the day of socialization of this industry without recompense to the investors who built it.

 "As was recently expressed, "the bill remains as before, unaltered in substance, punitive in spirit and destructive in its effects."
 "What America wants is not more destruction but more construction; greater payrolls instead of more people in relief; more confidence in business investment instead of fear.

"The Wheeler bill is not aimed to regulate or to build or to protect; it is aimed to strangle and to destroy. It will retard instead of advance recovery."

progress and the President.
 "Who appeared for this bill? No one, except a few employees of the Government. Not one person representing the millions of investors, not one person representing the millions of electrical customers appeared before either of the committees to speak in favor of this legislation.

Giant Aces Win Despite Frequent Enemy Homers

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the amazing things about the admittedly potent pitching staff of the Giants is the proclivity of its members for tossing home run balls. Almost half of the scoring done against the low-hit throwing quartet of Hubbell, Parnese, Schumacher and Castleman in the first month of the season was via home runs. Enemy batsmen cracked 24 home runs against 23 Giant round-trippers the first four weeks—extraordinary in view of the fact the team was winning at a .737 clip during all this bombarding.

Was Weak, Easily Worried

"I felt weak, tired and very nervous," writes Mrs. Clifford Wehner, of Smyrna, Ga. "It seemed like everything worried me. Children got on my nerves with their noise at play. My mother had given me Cardui when I was just a girl for run down condition, and I was better from taking it, so I decided when so nervous and weak that this was the time to take Cardui again. It surely did help me. I am stronger and my nerves are better."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician—adv.
