It's time to polish those wheels and shine the fenders.

The Muleshoe Rotary Club will host their first car show on Saturday, April 30 at the Bailey County Coliseum. The car show was previously hosted by the Muleshoe Lion's Club.

The car show will begin at 10 a.m. and finish at 7 p.m. on that date.

In the car show, all special interest cars, trucks and motorcycles may be entered in competitions.

Money raised from the car show will be used to fund local projects sponsored by the Muleshoe Rotary Club around the county, according to Lonnie Adrian, a member of the Muleshoe Rotary Club.

"The Rotary Club gives out scholarships every year, we help send kids to camp and do other things," Adrian said.

There will be 44 indoor spots and 45 outdoor spots in a fenced area connected to the Coliseum building.

SEEKING CONTRIBUTIONS—Muleshoe Boy Scout Corey Williams is inviting groups, as well as individuals, to donate items to be placed in his time capsule. He spoke at the AARP meeting Friday.

Boy Scout hopes to preserve history with time capsule

By Helena Rodriguez

Many people have heard the saying, "If I could save time in a bottle..." Well one 15-year-old boy in Muleshoe wants to save time in a vault, literally.

Corey Williams has been a Boy Scout for 10 years and is currently working toward the Scout's highest rank, an Eagle Scout. In order to achieve this rank, Corey must complete a community project. For his project, Corey has decided he would like to bury a time capsule, filled with replicas of this decade.

The time capsule, which is scheduled to be buried on June 12, 1994, will not be opened until June 12, 2044, exactly 50 years from the time it is buried. When the time capsule is open in the year 2044, Corey will be 65 years old.

Corey said he got the idea for the time capsule from his grandmother, who has done one before herself.

He said, "I thought it would be good to do a time capsule because in the future, I can come back and see what I have done."

Corey said that if he has children someday, he would like to be able to show them old photos and samples of baseball and basketball cards of the 1990's.

Corey is the son of Dawn and Roger Williams.

Corey's father, Roger, said that another reason his son chose to do the time capsule is to help Bailey County merchants and residents preserve a piece of history.

While the Williams intend to place some of their personal photos and other replicas into the time capsule, they are extending an invitation to anyone in the community to donate items that they would like to see preserved in the time capsule for future generations to see.

The time capsule will be about six feet by four feet. The Williams say that the vault, which will be made of steel, is guaranteed to last at least 50 years.

Corey has suggested that people donate items such as letters, birthday coins, baseball cards, small hand-crafted items, photographs, newspaper clippings, video tapes and jewelry. Items which basically show how the lifestyle in this decade is, versus the future.

The Heritage will open the Depot as a drop-off center for donations, which will begin being taken on May 9 from 5-7 p.m. Donations will be accepted through May 23 from 5-7 p.m.

The Muleshoe Memorial Park has donated a site at the entrance of the cemetery for the time capsule to be buried.

Corey asks that all items be placed in an envelope, wrapped in foil then placed in a plastic bag. Other items may be placed in small canning jars that can be

Nominations for Teachers of Year now being taken

The third annual Teacher of the Year Awards for Muleshoe Independent School District will be held at the general faculty meeting on May 25 in the high school auditorium.

For the first time, the district will this year recognize both an elementary and a secondary Teacher of the Year.

Teachers at Dillman and De Shazo Elementary will be eligible for the elementary award and Watson Junior High and Muleshoe High School teachers will be eligible for the secondary awards.

The awards will consist of a golden apple and a check for $250. The teachers selected will also advance to the regional competition in Lubbock, and from there, can qualify for state and national honors in each category.

Prior to this year, each district could only send one nominee - either elementary or secondary - to the regional tournament. The district may now send one in each division.

New Hispanic district requested

By Helena Rodriguez

After a second meeting on Wednesday night on redistricting of the Muleshoe Area Medical Center Hospital Districts, many participants seem to favor a plan which will create two Hispanic minority majority districts.

The hospital is currently in the process of realigning and redistricting voting precincts in accordance with the Voting Rights Act. The changes are necessary in order to adjust for population changes following the 1990 census.

At Wednesday's meeting, the Census Planning Committee met with members of the hospital board of directors.

In presenting the plans on Wednesday, Virginia Daugherty of Daugherty and Associates of Amarillo said, "We need to get as close to equal populations in each district as possible and comply with the Voting Rights Act to make sure there are no minority groups which will be worse off than before."

One citizen, Alberto Daniel, said, "I think that the best plan for the minority will be Plan

#5."

Under Plan #5, two Hispanic minority majority districts will be created. Both of the districts will have a majority of voting age Hispanic populations and one of the districts will exceed 65 percent in the Hispanic population.

Daugherty said that so far, her firm, which was hired by the hospital to provide legal counsel, has heard favorable response toward plan #5. Nevertheless, she said she wants to give people the opportunity to give her firm, as well as the hospital board feedback.

Another citizen present Wednesday night, Alfonso Posadas, said, "I would like to recommend to the committee to look close at plan #5 and study it carefully."

The Census Planning Committee is expected to make a recommendation to the hospital board by the end of the month.

Tim Campbell, hospital board president, said on Wednesday night, "The hospital board will probably go along with whatever the committee recommends."

Campbell seemed to favor the creation of two Hispanic minority majority districts. However, he said, "We want someone to run for the board who will contribute. If we get a guy who runs but never attends meetings, then it loses its reason, its effect. The main thing we want is to get five good members who will work together."

While a person can run for a seat in any hospital district, they can only vote in the district they live in. Muleshoe Area Medical Center has operated under single-member districts since 1991. The hospital district encompasses Bailey County, as well as a portion of Parmer County.

Bobbye Hill of Daugherty and Associates said that she has done a preliminary review of voter registration information she obtained from the Bailey County Clerk's Office.

Hill said she has not had a chance to review the voter registration information in full, but based on her preliminary review, she said, "It looks like there are

Also competing will be Charles Villareal, the district runnerup in boys singles. His first match will be at 10 a.m.

Health Fair to be held next Sunday

A Spring Health Fair will be presented on Sunday, May 1 at the Bailey County Coliseum.

In a cooperative effort, the Muleshoe Area Medical Center and Aaron Purdy, a Boy Scout who is pursuing his Eagle Scout badge, will be sponsoring a health fair for the community. It is a public service and effort to provide an opportunity for everyone to expose themselves to better health.

Many of the community businesses who are involved in providing health care services have been invited to have individual booths.

Some of those represented will be local doctors, dentists and eye specialists, Hopsice of the Plains, Aerocare, United Blood Services, W.I.C., Department of Public Health, the local Police Department, Bailey County Extension office, Muleshoe Area Home Health, Spartan, Emergency Medical ILLUSTRATOR VISITS DILLMAN— Scott Blazeck, illustrator for Pelican Books' "Clovis Crawfish" series, visited Dillman Elementary Friday, April 22 to present a demonstration on illustration to students. Blazeck is from Clovis, N.M.

Correction

Incomplete information Koy Dale Wilhite, a student at Muleshoe High School, was among those listed on the honor roll for the last grading period. Her last name was inadvertently omitted on the Thursday, April 21 issue of the Muleshoe Journal.

Wilhite is in the 10th grade at MHS. The Muleshoe Journal regrets any inconvenience this may have caused.

Illustrator visits Dillman Elementary

By Annette Bottelman

Scott Blazeck of Clovis, an illustrator of several children's books, gave a presentation to Dillman Elementary School students in Muleshoe on Friday. Blazeck's books are all under what he calls the "Clovis Crawfish" series.

Blazeck drew several illustrations for children. His advice to the students was, "If you want to become an artist, just begin drawing lots of pictures and practice a lot now."

He showed the students how to draw the characters, and also explained his illustrations in a slide presentation, as the author of the books, Mary Alice Fontenot, read the story on tape.

Following the presentations, Blazeck answered questions from the children, concerning the illustrations and his interest in art.

Blazeck was born and raised in New Orleans, La. His interest in art began as a small boy, when he was stricken with polio at the early age of four.

He said, "I was always inspired by Walt Disney." That's when he started drawing pictures, as he was confined to his home with the illness.

He received a degree in advertising design from the University of Southwestern Louisiana, and continued his studies at Concordia Seminary in St. Louis, where he was awarded a Master of Divinity degree. He has served Lutheran congregations as a pastor since 1975.

As we Texans are so familiar with Clovis, N.M. one would think that (even though most of us wouldn't know a crawfish if we saw one), the book series "Clovis Crawfish" had to have come from Clovis. But, actually the stories come from Louisiana, where Fontenot began what people have called everything from a Louisiana folk hero to a Cajun ambassador for children of Acadia.

Blazeck began drawing for the author in Louisiana, when Fontenot saw a poster he had designed hanging on a wall, and called him to ask him if he would illustrate the books. He illustrated in Louisiana, until his calling led him to a church in Clovis where he currently re-certification date for the applicable crop by refunding any advance program payments previously received.

The 1994 programs offer price support loans and target level protection with a portion of the deficiency payments available at sign-up, as well as flexible planting options.

Acreage reduction requirements are 11 percent for upland cotton, and zero for wheat, corn, grain sorghum, oats, and barley.

Farm program participation is voluntary, however, producers must understand that they will not be eligible for program benefits on their 1994 crops unless they sign up to participate.

City reminds residents of debris ordinance

Muleshoe City Ordinance 115A states that in the event that trash is of such a nature that it cannot be put in the dumpsters provided by the city, it shall be placed in neat and orderly piles. It should be placed adjacent to the alley or on the edge of the alley, in order that it may be removed conveniently.

It is again the time of the year when residents of the city are beginning to do cleaning of their property. The city has received numerous calls about trash and other debris being placed in the alley.

If anyone has trash that is of a nature that it cannot be put in the dumpster, the city would like to take this opportunity to urge people to place the debris from your property in the alley behind your property, not beside the dumpster.

By doing so, the city should be able to remove the trash more efficiently and the dumpsters will be more easily emptied as well.

City trucks are available for public use after hours and on weekends if anyone has a large amount of debris to be removed from their property. The public may use the trucks to load, on a first come first service basis.

Trucks may be reserved by calling City Hall at 272-4528.

Last annular Solar Eclipse for several years to be viewed soon

On May 10, people will have the opportunity to see one of the last annual eclipses of the century. Make plans now to secure a ringside seat for this big event at the Don Harrington Discovery Center.

The Discovery Center and the Amarillo Astronomy Club have numerous activities planned to accompany the eclipse viewing which will take place on May 10 at the Discovery Center.

The eclipse will be visible in Amarillo at 11:22 a.m. An annular solar eclipse occurs when the moon, which blocks our view of the sun during any type of solar eclipse, is slightly farther in its orbit around the Earth than usual.

The result is that the moons apparent size from earth is not big enough to cover the entire disk of the sun. A "ring" will be visible when those directly in the path of the eclipse look at the sun.

Numerous activities have been planned during the viewing session. Participants will be able to view the eclipse as the sun's image will be projected on the planetarium dome.

If the skies are cloudy on May 10, televised images from other locations will be shown in the planetarium. Telescopes will be set up outside as well as special viewing boxes for viewers to safely take a look at the eclipse.

Presentations will be made on the causes and types of eclipses, and folk tales will be told about eclipses from around the world.

Handouts will also be available informing participants how to safely view the eclipse.

There are several different ways to look at the sun during an eclipse. It is not safe to stare directly at the sun during an annular eclipse for the same reason that it is not safe to stare at the sun on any normal day. The bright light of the sun can permanently damage a viewer's retina, even if he or she is not aware of it at the time.

Annual eclipses occur when the moon slides across the face of the sun at a distance from earth too great to completely cover the solar disk. The result is a bright ring of sunlight surrounding the dark disk of the moon.

Depending on the relative sizes of the sun and moon, these rings of light can be narrow (as was one that was seen over the eastern seaboard on May 30, 1984) or they can be broad. The ring of sunlight for this May's eclipse will be relatively large: at maximum eclipse only 89 percent of the sun will be covered.

The moon's shadow first touches Earth's surface during the eclipse in the Pacific Ocean about 450 miles southeast of Hawaii. Residents of Hilo and Honolulu will see a half-eclipsed sun rising up from the morning sea, climbing for half an hour before the last traces of the moon depart from the sun's edge.

At the same time, viewers at Punta Eugenia on the Pacific coast of Mexico's Baja Peninsula will be watching the ring of sunlight as the moon slips fully into the brace of the sun's limb.

Over the next two hours, the shadow will sweep across the rest of North America, racing at nearly three-quarters of a mile every two seconds, visible in a path varying from 145-170 miles wide.

After cutting a path across North America, the shadow will touch Europe before the eclipse reaches a sunset ending over Morocco.

Oddfellows/Rebekahs host meeting

The South Plains Association of Oddfellows and Rebekahs met at the Oddfellow Hall in Muleshoe for their annual meeting Saturday, April 16.

Members attended from Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Abernathy, Muleshoe and visitors from Borger and Friona.

Joe Herring of Brownfield presided.

The flags were presented by Crispin Green and Marvin Tolar. Levelland Rebekahs presented the Bible and Hazel Tolar gave the invocation.

Robert Montgomery, mayor of Muleshoe, welcomed the group.

Betty Medford of Levelland, past President of the Assembly of Texas, gave a report on the work being done with property at Ennis. The Aged Home now has approximately 80 people being cared for.

Betty also reported that some of the buildings are being used as storage. The cottages are being used as a day care center for working mothers, a place for single mothers and school drop-outs to keep in touch with their education so they will stay in an educational environment.

She also gave a report on the State Assembly meeting held in Abilene in March.

Charles Lawrence reported on the annual Grand Lodge session.

After a delicious lunch served by the Muleshoe Rebekahs, Mary Ann and Albert Ramirez conducted a school of instruction for respective members.

During the afternoon session, Abernathy Rebekah craped the Charter, Brownfield Rebekahs undraped the Charter.

Muleshoe Rebekahs presented a memorial service for a deceased member this past year.

During the business session, R.A. Gross of Muleshoe was elected President. Hazel Tolar, Abernathy, was elected Vice President, and June Green, Muleshoe, as Secretary-Treasurer.

Next year, the meeting will be in Abernathy.

Honk Out Some Encouragement

I've always been something of a conscientious objector as far as bumper stickers are concerned. It's not so much that I mind the stickers themselves. On the contrary, I enjoy what Paul Harvey calls "snicker stickers," the stickers that leave you chuckling, as much as anyone. But (unlike a local grain dealer and faithful reader who shall remain nameless!) I just prefer my own bumpers clean.

Recently, though, I remembered the once-popular bumper sticker which invited its readers to "Honk if you love Jesus" when I was reading an interesting little anecdote about one of the best "honkers" of the animal kingdom, one with which we Muleshoe folks should be most familiar, the sandhill crane.

Veterans of sandhill crane hunts, and anyone else who has ever watched these amazing birds, can testify that they have a honking sort of call which is absolutely unique. As the sun rises early in the morning and the sky fills with black clouds of these huge birds, the morning solitude is broken by hundreds of cranes honking out their unforgettable call. You can see why I was interested to see the following excerpt from Bruce Larson's Wind and Fire in which he writes about these unique birds. He writes:

"These large birds, who fly great distances across continents, have three remarkable qualities. First, they rotate leadership. No one bird stays out in front all the time. Second, they choose leaders who can handle turbulence. And then, all during the time one bird is leading, the rest are honking their affirmation. That's not a bad model for the church. Certainly leadership ought to be shared. But most of all, we need a church where we are all honking encouragement."

You see, honking if you love Jesus may be fine (though we'd probably best bless the community by staying off the horn!), but in the church a big part of loving Jesus means "honking" if you love your brother! Isn't that what Paul is telling us when he urges us to "encourage one another and build each other up . . ." (1 Thessalonians 5:11)? So, go ahead! Honk out some encouragement this week!

Hopes for '94 cotton crop turning to dust on High Plains

Hopes for their 1994 cotton crop are rapidly turning to dust for growers on the Texas High Plains. Following a record '93 crop, cotton farmers in this three-million-acre "cotton patch" are looking all the way back to 1974 to find fields as dry as they are now, says a cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. That year was a disaster.

"Only two of the 25 High Plains counties - Floyd and Briscoe - have moderate soil moisture," said Kater Hake, Extension Service cotton specialist. From last August until now, only 3.4 inches of rain have fallen at Lubbock.

"Rains have largely jumped over the entire High Plains," Hake said. "Most cotton counties (on the High Plains) have a soil moisture deficit of between six to 10 inches." The soil moisture deficit is the difference between what could be stored and what is stored.

Only seven inches of rain fell across the 25-county area from August 1973 until August 1974. Then in August, September and October 1974, when cotton bolls were maturing and opening, 16 inches of rain fell.

The area yield that year was only 264 pounds of lint an acre and quality was poor. Last year, the area's record crop of more than 3.6 million bales averaged 658 pounds an acre for irrigated fields and 503 pounds an acre for dryland fields, with outstanding strength and micronaire (fineness).

"That 1993 dryland crop had healthy, deep roots that extracted all of the surface soil and most of the deep soil moisture," Hale said. "The surface hasn't received any moisture for planting, and is powder dry."

With only scant rain after July last year, irrigated fields were also dry at harvest, the cotton specialist noted. "Those fields also had excellent root systems that extracted deep moisture," he said. By the time that crop was complete, wells

Chapter 1 officers elected

At the Annual Chapter 1 Parent Program held on Tuesday evening, April 12, several members were selected to two year terms on the Chapter 1 Parent Advisory Council. They are: Manuel Galindo, Beatrice Garcia, Lupe Toscano, Jimmy Villa, Diana Gallegos, and Rosalinda Rincon.

These six members will serve in advisory capacity for the federally funded Chapter 1 Programs on the four Muleshoe campuses and volunteer their time and talent toward coordinating the educational efforts of the home and schools.

Maria Contreras and Esther Norman will serve one year terms to replace members who moved and could no longer serve.

Those members whose two-year terms expire on June 1, are Dolores Salcido, Ruben Rosales, Natividad Rosales, Guadalupe Lopez, Mike Garcia, and Maggie R. Martinez.

were declining. "Pivot irrigation systems required renozzling several times during the season to keep water flowing to the end of the pivots from the dwindling well capacity," Hake said.

Over last winter, producers pre-irrigated these fields and the wells haven't recovered during the pre-irrigated season for the '94 crop, the agronomist said.

Hake said row-watered fields that were irrigated early also have lost seed bed moisture. "These will need to be watered, or wait for rain, prior to planting. Sprinkler-irrigated fields have had heavy evaporation losses in recent weeks.

"Only LEPA (low energy precision application) pre-irrigated fields have fared reasonably well," Hake said, because these limit evaporative losses by placing the water directly on the soil in a small wetted surfaced area.

If rain sets in now, it could provide May is considered the optimum planting time in much of the High Plains. "But," Hake points out, "Only once in the 90 years since precipitation records have been reported has our April rainfall exceeded four inches.

"A more realistic scenario is that some planting rain will fall in late April or May and dryland producers will scramble to plant as much as possible before the dry winds suck the moisture from the soil. Patchy stands will result, with parts of the field devoid of plants where the race was lost to the drying winds.

"Where stands do result, any failure of rains to shower on the Plains in 7 to 14 day intervals will result in cotton that abruptly runs out of moisture and either dries or unloads fruit."

For irrigated cotton the scenario of April-May rain is only marginally better than for dryland, the agronomist said. "Producers should have moisture to plant, but the lack of deep moisture and declining well capacities will make this an expensive crop to grow, and one that is highly vulnerable to drought in July or August."

He said producers will start irrigating shortly after the plants emerge to keep from running behind in July. "Even a pivot considered to have a good water supply (four gallons per minute per acre) can only meet half the water needs in July and August, which is eight gallons a minute per acre. The other half comes from stored soil moisture.

"Irrigated cotton production on the Texas High Plains in 1994 will most likely be a high risk venture, with the crop surviving from hand to mouth with each passing cloud that sustains the crop for another week."

Against the Sea

Have you ever wandered idly along a sandy ocean beach or the rocky shore of a lake and come upon the battered hull of an old boat? Perhaps the bottom has been smashed in or the sides leak so badly that probably the repairs would cost far more than the old boat is worth. So it is left to rot; abandoned to the merciless pounding of the wind whipped surf and the constant destruction of the surging water. Let us consider for a moment how many people of our acquaintance have, through their own choice, made their lives very much like this old boat. They have let the destructive waters of malice and greed eat away at their hearts and minds until their lives have become as worthless as this rotting hull. And yet, God in His Infinite Mercy will not let man be abandoned. There is no measure of His forgiveness if we but acknowledge that He is our Father and we are His children. There is no life that He considers worthless or beyond repair. Begin now to attend the church of your choice regularly... for through the church you will know of everlasting life.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man in response to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedom which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

In order to complete his time capsule, Corey is trying to raise $2,500 in expenses in order to help purchase the vault, the landscaping of the site, film for pictures to be taken of Muleshoe and various other expenses.

Corey plans to take photos of places around the city, including Main Street, so future generations can see how the city looked in 1994.

Roger said that the community project will show Boy Scout show to be responsible and show that they can handle a situation and supervise it.

Among items that Corey plans to place in the time capsule himself is a current photo of himself and a photo of his Boy Scout group. There are about 15 boys in his Boy Scout group.

Corey has been in Boy Scouts since he was about five years old. He has been active in athletics at Muleshoe High School, including basketball, football and cross-country track.

He said that Boy Scout's only have until age 18 to become an Eagle Scout, which is one reason Boy Scouts encourages boys to begin working on this rank soon.

Corey has been working towards an Eagle Scout rank for four years now.
