

House Removes Public Financial Disclosure From Ethics Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The House has tentatively passed an ethics bill that once was strong but now will not require public officials, such as legislators, to reveal their sources of income.

A final vote was expected today. Any amendments must get a two-third majority to be placed on the bill before final passage.

Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said Thursday night the amendment that removed financial disclosure "totally destroyed the intent of the bill."

Daniel said he would do everything he could to persuade a two-third majority to restore public disclosure of income and holdings.

The speaker and one of the co-authors of the bill, Rep. Larry Bales, D-Austin, were so disappointed in what they considered a gutted bill that they voted against it.

The other co-sponsor, Rep. Jim Nugent, D-Kerrville, voted for it, however.

The amendment removing financial disclosure was authored by Rep. Fred Agnich, R-Dallas. It passed on a vote of 71-68.

Under that amendment, elected and appointed public officials, and state employees who earn $12,000 or more a year and who also have policymaking power, would submit their financial statements in sealed envelopes.

Nobody could look at the statements, not even a 12-member ethics commission set up by the bill, unless an accusation is filed against a public official or employe saying he violated the bill.

Even then, a majority of the commission would have to vote in favor of opening the envelope.

Opponents of the amendment said the commission needed to be able to see the financial statements to determine if a violation had occurred, such as a legislator voting for a bill that would profit a company whose stock he owned.

Nugent did not speak against Agnich's amendment. He has previously said he thinks a bill requiring disclosure of holdings is an unconstitutional invasion of privacy, despite Atty. Gen. John Hill's recent opinion that it is not unconstitutional.

Asked why he failed to speak against the amendment, Nugent told The Associated Press:

"I thought we could get more pressure out of Lane Denton (Democratic representative from Waco) speaking against it."

"Why?"

"Denton and some of his 'reform' friends had been among those voting for previous amendments to the bill," Nugent said.

"Why didn't you speak against it too?"

"Just a judgment decision," he said. "You can't speak against every amendment."

"But this was the biggest amendment to the bill."

"No, it wasn't the biggest," Nugent said.

"What was bigger than taking out financial disclosure?"

Nugent stood puffing on his pipe a moment. He could not remember a bigger amendment without seeing a list of the amendments, he said.

Bales later said Nugent was "working the floor" and changed three votes while the amendment was being debated. The only member Bales could remember off hand that Nugent persuaded to switch his vote was Rep. Frank Lombardino, D-San Antonio.

Agnich said he agreed after his amendment was approved to restore public reporting of recent sales or acquisitions of property but not income or holdings. He withdrew his support when he suspected repeated delay were for the purpose of substituting a whole new bill to get around his amendment.

Agreement Reached On Indian Demands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department announced today the government has "reached an agreement in principle" with Indians holding the besieged hamlet of Wounded Knee, S.D.

The department said "certain critical procedural matters are yet to be resolved" in ending the siege that began Feb. 27 when 200 Indians took over the village.

But, the department statement said, "these matters pertain to the manner and time that the non-residents will depart Wounded Knee."

However, the brief statement left open the possibility that the confrontation would not be settled.

The statement said the agreement in principle with attorneys for the American Indian Movement "could settle the current problems at Wounded Knee."

Earlier, there had been unconfirmed reports that militant Indians and federal officials had reached an agreement.

Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., said in Washington he had heard an agreement had been reached.

The stage for renewed talks was set Thursday night when the Indians and government officials declared a cease-fire. It came shortly before the government's deadline for Indians to leave village took effect.

About 200 Indians have held the town since Feb. 27.

In Washington today, Sen. James Abourezk, a South Dakota Democrat who visited Wounded Knee last week, said he "been told by friends and a staff member that an agreement had been reached and would probably be announced later in the day. He said he had no details."

There was no confirmation in Wounded Knee from Indians or officials of the Justice and Interior departments.

An intense exchange of gunfire occurred before the cease-fire was to go into effect. The cease-fire was announced first in Washington and was not known to all Indians when the shots were fired, a government spokesman said.

Jack Hushen, a Justice Department official, told newsmen Indians had initiated the shooting by firing on a government road-block.

Rationing Authority Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gasoline-rationing authority for President Nixon is included in a Senate committee's recommendation for a one-year extension of his powers to control wages and prices.

The President would be directed, under the bill approved Thursday by the Senate Banking Committee, to report every three months on what steps he has taken to hold down food prices.

The approval came after the Bureau of Labor Statistics, in its monthly report, said wholesale prices for farm products, and processed foods increased in the last three months at a seasonally adjusted rate of 36 percent.

Petroleum products cost 12.5 percent more than a year ago. The committee defeated on tie votes amendments to make Phase 3 tougher by imposing rent controls in metropolitan areas and to return to the kind of wage-price control system, known as Phase 2, that Nixon abandoned Jan. 11.

Sens. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and Harrison Williams, D-N.J., promised a floor fight on this when the bill is before the full Senate.

Sen. Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H., originally had offered an amendment in collaboration with Sen. Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., to give the president authority to allocate and ration any scarce commodities.

But several senators said the authority was too broad.

McIntyre changed it to read "petroleum products," which have been in short supply, especially in New England.

"This is standby power," McIntyre said. "I'd rather have the President do this than Mobil, Shell, Exxon, etc."

Mandatory controls over petroleum products were reimposed by the Cost of Living Council Tuesday. Petroleum price hikes were listed as 5.7 percent last month in the Wholesale Price Index.

DUE TO DWINDLING SUPPLIES

Pioneer Gas To Ask For Increase In Rate

By TEX DEWEESE
Pioneer Natural Gas Co. will ask the City Commission next Tuesday for a 5 per cent increase in gas rates for Pampa to become effective April 15.

The requested rate boost, if approved, would hike the current average domestic bill approximately 37 cents a month or an average annual increase of $4.45, according to James McCoy, Pioneer's local manager.

It would also increase the 3,000 cubic feet minimum charge per customer from $1.90 to $2 a month.

Pampa gas consumers currently are paying 59.7 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for gas. The increase being asked would boost that to 62.7 cents.

The present average annual bill of Pampa domestic gas consumers, according to Pioneer, is $88.52. If the rate request is granted, it would go to $92.97 a year.

What the gas company is asking amounts to 3 cents per 1,000 cubic feet cost of gas adjustment to the general service rate for gas service in the city.

In making the request to the City Commission, E.N. Lampe, Pioneer vice president, noted that the rate adjustment is necessary due to continuing decline in the supply of gas in the Gray County area.

Lampe said Pampa receives its gas from Pioneer's West Texas Transmission System, which also serves 61 other incorporated cities and towns in an area extending southward to Odessa. The system receives its gas supply from many different sources along the way, including Gray County.

The Pioneer vice president stated that when Pioneer acquired the Gray County Wells from Empire Southern Gas Co. in 1958, the Gray County wells had enough production to provide the volume of gas required for Pampa.

Since that time, Lampe said, production from the original Gray County wells has continued to decline so that, as of 1972, only about 50 per cent of Pampa's annual volume requirements could be met from these wells.

"On peak days," Lampe said, "only about 25 per cent of the city's requirements can now be taken care of from these wells."

The additional volume of gas necessary to serve Pampa now is delivered from Pioneer's West Texas System through an interconnecting pipeline constructed shortly after the company began serving Pampa. Lampe added that the city's gas supply has relied more and more each year upon this integrated gas source.

The reason for the rate increase request, he said, is due to Pampa's increasing dependence on Pioneer's integrated system.

The 3 cents per 1,000 cubic feet increase request is in addition to 1.5 cent total adjustments made in 1971 and 1972.

The rate presently in effect in Pampa was established in 1969. It was adjusted by 6 cent in April of 1972 and the city was notified of an additional 1.5 cent in the cost of field gas.

IRA Squad Blamed In Explosions

LONDON (AP) — Members of the Irish Republican Army in Belfast said today that 10 Irish men and women being questioned by Scotland Yard about bomb explosions in London Thursday were part of the IRA squad that planted the explosives. But they claimed eight other members of the gang got back to Ireland safely.

Seven men and three women were arrested at London's Heathrow Airport shortly before cars packed with gelignite exploded outside the Old Bailey criminal court and the central army recruiting office in the Whitehall area. Two other booby-trapped cars were found in central London, and the explosives were removed.

The explosions killed one person, wounded 243 and blew out windows in neighboring buildings.

The sources in Belfast blamed the arrest of the 10 on the 24-hour rail strike in Britain Thursday protesting the government's anti-inflation curb on wage increases. Because of the strike, the 10 guerrillas stuck together instead of splitting up to escape via widely separated ports and airports, the informants said.

Death Toll Strikes Nine In Fort Stockton Crash

FORT STOCKTON, Tex. (AP) — The count of dead rose to nine today following the crash of a tractor-trailer and a bus Wednesday night.

Kenneth D. Cordes, 26, of San Antonio, Tex., died early today in the Brooke Army Medical Center's burn installation.

James Simon of Beaumont, Tex., died in the burn center late Thursday.

Cordes and Simon were the only victims listed as critical immediately after the crash. The injured list now stands at 21. Four persons on the bus escaped harm.

The Department of Public Safety (DPS) today also identified one of three previously unnamed victims as Barbara Jean Cordes, 17, wife of Kenneth Cordes who died in the burn center today.

The accident occurred on a bridge about 30 miles east of this remote West Texas town on U.S. 290 at about 9:10 p.m. The truck struck the Tunis Creek bridge abutment and jackknifed on the bridge, and the bus and truck slammed together.

Two other badly burned victims remained unidentified.

of Public Safety late Thursday night continued attempts to identify the seven persons killed Wednesday night in the fiery crash of a bus and a truck.

A total of 23 other persons were injured in the tragic collision which occurred on a bridge across Tunis Creek on a lonely stretch of U.S. 290 about 30 miles east of this remote West Texas town.

Two of the persons critically burned in the accident but still alive were taken to Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio late Thursday. They were burned over more than 90 per cent of their bodies.

The DPS late Thursday asked that anybody knowing a passenger not among the dead or injured call them in Austin with any information as to the passenger's personal effects, including jewelry, that they might have been wearing.

Most of the dead in the accident were burned beyond recognition.

Many victims were burned, a DPS spokesman said, and others suffered crippling injuries when they plunged 15 feet to the dry creek bed below.

Vaughn Butler Thomas, a highway safety investigator from Odessa, died suddenly Thursday of a heart attack while at the scene of the crash.

Damp Chill To Continue For Several More Days

Pampa was just one degree away from the coldest spot in the state this morning, 38 degrees, but that was little consolation as residents hunched deep in their coats to escape the damp chill left by the rain.

In the past 24 hours cloud systems passing over the city dropped .11-inch of moisture, which seems to have touched off patches of growing green in lawns about town.

—And more rain seems to be in store as Gray County appears to be on the southern fringe of a series of fronts moving east that have caused weather observers to predict a week of rain as far east as Oklahoma City.

So, thunderstorms tonight will leave cloudy skies and showers through Saturday with the high both days around 55 and the low slipping to 40 tonight.

In Associated Press reports Texas weather early today showed its widely varied faces.

with different conditions in every corner of the state.

A few showers and thunderstorms were in the extreme northeast part of the state, while clear skies and rather cool weather showed up in the far west. Meanwhile, fog and drizzle left weather dismal along the coast.

Generally light wind conditions around the state were about the only common factors.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from 38 degrees at Dalhart in the extreme northern part of the Panhandle to 70 degrees at Brownsville on the southern tip of the state. Readings in the mid 60s were most common, however.

Thursday night, showers and thunderstorms struck along the Red River and scattered light rains fell near Houston, but turbulence earlier predicted for wide sections of North Texas failed to materialize.

An area of dry air kept most of Southwest and West Texas under clear skies. Maximum temperatures ranged from 85 degrees at McAllen down to 48 at Dalhart.

—Today's outlook called for fair and equal weather in the northwest, while over the remainder of the state, the weather service saw mostly cloudy skies with a chance of showers and a few thunderstorms. Little change in temperatures were expected.

Department Lacked Finances For Repairing Old Structure

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Highway Department had plans on its desk to replace that 22-foot-wide bridge on U.S. 290 at Fort Stockton with dual 42-foot-wide structures. It just didn't have any money.

Wednesday night a truck and a bus enroute from San Francisco to Miami slammed together coming across the narrow bridge, killing seven, injuring 25.

It's just a matter of financing, complained Marcus Yancey, administrative engineer of the highway department.

—(It's the Fort Stockton bridge) was one of the top priorities in the state. Plans were complete and sitting in the Austin office."

But the money to replace the bridge was gone in January, frozen by the Nixon Administration's impoundment of the Highway Trust Fund. And Congress, which didn't pass a highway aid bill last year, haven't done so this year either.

"We've talked about financing," Yancey signed. "Here is a classic example."

Yancey says project bids were to have been set for the Fort Stockton structure several months ago.

But there was no money, and the bidding was rescheduled for next month.

Yancey said he didn't want to imply construction of the new bridge might have precluded the accident. Even while the new bridges, part of an interstate system, were being built, traffic would have continued on the old bridge, Yancey said.

"The accident still could have occurred."

"Of the 27,040 state bridges in Texas, 3,685 are less than 26 feet wide. Of that number, 1,348 are under 20 feet wide. Just to repair all the latter would take 15 years, based on current work rates.

The department repairs dangerous bridges at about 75-100 per year. Last year 80 were repaired, at a cost of $10 million.

"It's funny," he said. "The bridge at Fort Stockton was considered wide at the time it was designed. Lanes were 11 feet wide. Cars were six feet wide. Now they're eight feet wide."

THE WORDS OF CHRIST

And they were bringing children to him, that he might touch them; and the disciples rebuked them. But when Jesus saw it he was indignant, and said to them, "Let the children come to me, do not hinder them; for to such belongs the Kingdom of God."

Mark 10

Of all the world's great religions, the Christian faith was the first to lift up the place of children in the life of the believing community. Here again, the central figure is Jesus and his sensitivity to the needs and yearnings of young people. Even his devoted disciples missed the boat when they attempted to keep back the youngsters that crowded around the Master. In traditional religious services, children were out of place. In formal religious communities, one must be of "age" to participate fully in matters of worship and study. Not so with Christ.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Bill is a victim of "honey-moon jitters." For he is deluded by mankind's age-old delusion that it is the husband's fault if he isn't erotic in the boudoir. Malarky! He doesn't need testosterone; it's the wife who needs sex hormone shots!

CASE W-547: Bill A., aged 55, is a jittery prospective bridegroom.

"Dr. Crane," he confessed, "I was happily married for 25 years but lost my wife, due to cancer."

"That was 3 years ago."

"Since then I have met a charming widow, aged 44, and have proposed to her."

"But I am skittish about the wedding date."

"For I am scared about the honeymoon!"

"At my age, would I be able to function properly? Or should I take a series of testosterone shots?"

"Since she is 11 years younger than I am, and quite youthful in her behavior, would I be able to satisfy her?"

BRIDEGROOM JITTERS

Bill is a healthy male, so he should have no medical reasons for dreading that he'd be a platonic mate.

But it is "fear" itself that could make him impotent.

In fact, such a severe sexual inferiority complex often produces bridegroom impotence in young husbands not half Bill's age!

So remember these salient medical and psychological facts:

(1) It is the wife's responsibility to excite her mate and thus make him function!

If Bill is platonic in the boudoir, that's no reflection on him but would be an indictment of his new bride!

Alas, husbands ever since Adam have cherished the false notion that it was their responsibility to arouse themselves.

That's totally wrong. If you husbands become platonic, don't fret about taking shots of testosterone.

Instead, have your wives receive big shots of ovarian hormones till they become more seductively alluring.

(2) Wives are naturally more passive and reticent in the boudoir.

The average young husband has such a surplus of erotic verve that he can function with much active cooperation from his bride.

Not so, the scared males, especially those in Bill's age bracket.

So you wives can quickly revive your husband's erotic vigor by becoming more seductively aggressive in the bedroom.

Remember the sky's the limit in the boudoir of husband and wife!

(3) Your sex appetite should remain with you, as does your gastric appetite, as long as you live!

And regular exercise of glands promotes more vigorous functioning!

This is true of the stomach as well as the gonads.

Thus, it is the fasting male who has a diffident appetite in the dining room - as well as in the boudoir.

The glutton at the dinner table is usually the first one to the dining room when the next meal is announced!

(4) A main reason why older husbands chase around with younger sirens, is the fact the latter serve enticing cheesecake instead of roast beef.

Such "cheesecake" usually involves a more slender figure, plus coquetry, perfume, diaphanous nighties, etc.

Wives, fight fire with fire and don't rebuff your middle aged mate!

If you do, you may drive him toward an outside siren, first in his imagination and then possibly in reality, too!

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Platonic Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.) Copyright 1972.

Ideal Announces Freeze On Its Grocery Products

LIBERAL, Kan. — Ideal Food Stores will freeze prices on more than 350 grocery products for the next 60 days, it was announced Thursday by Steve Phillips, general manager of Ideal.

Prices have been frozen from March 8 through May 8 on a wide variety of Ideal's own private label brand products including canned goods, soft drinks and household cleaning items.

Special shelf labels will indicate which items have not been included in the price freeze. Ideal's own brands include Camelot, Meadowdale, Ideal and Squire.

The freeze will be in effect at all 34 Ideal Food Stores located throughout Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma, as well as the Ideal-operated K Mart Food Store in Amarillo, Tex., and Ace Food Store in Hays, Kan.

Phillips explained the price freeze.

"Ideal wanted to do something to help hold down the cost of living. We have no control over the wholesale prices of nationally advertised brands, fresh produce and meat, but we could make a price freeze commitment on our own private label products," he said.

"If at all possible, we will extend the price freeze beyond May 8. Prices on some items included in the freeze may be reduced during this period, but we absolutely guarantee they will not go up," Phillips said.

Phillips explained that wholesale prices to Ideal have been going up rapidly with little prospect of a downward trend. For this reason, they could not include such items as meats, produce or major brands in their freeze.

In 1927, naturalists estimated that house mice in one section of Kern County, Calif., averaged 17 to the square yard or 82,000 per acre.

Shamrock 'Greening' For Celebration

SHAMROCK (Sp.) — The "greening up" pace quickens in Shamrock as local Irishmen sporting donegal beards prepare to stage their 27th annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17.

Irishmen and Indians will smoken peace pipes and join in the shenanigans honoring the great St. Patrick to carry out this year's theme ... "Irish Powwow!"

Urka Rejects A Purring Brutus

HOUSTON (AP) — Brutus thought Urka was the real cat's meow but Urka turned a deaf ear to his purring.

So Urka was on her way to Dallas Thursday to meet Ivan.

Urka, Brutus and Ivan are rare Siberian tigers.

Highlighting the festival will be the appearance of Justin Wilson, whose tall tales in bayou lingo have rollicked audiences from coast-to-coast, in person and on record.

Wilson will be featured at the pre-St. Patrick's Day Celebration Banquet at National Guard Armory at 7:30 p.m. Friday, March 16.

The colorful St. Patrick's Day Parade, a mile long and an hour in passing, is slated to begin down Main Street promptly at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 17. It will feature more than 25 decorated floats, a dozen or so bands, drill teams and novelty marching units.

The popular Old Settlers Reunion, which annually registers 300 to 400 old timers, will begin at 9 a.m. on the great day. The Old Fiddlers Contest, with 350 in cash prizes, is scheduled to begin at Clark Auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

The 1973 Miss Irish Rose will be chosen from a bevy of 20 or more high school beauties of the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma and crowned at 3 p.m. at the Armory.

Shamrock High School Auditorium will be the scene of a special program presented by the "Good News Quartet" of Amarillo and "One Way Believers" of Wellington at 7 p.m. Saturday. At 8:45 p.m. Shamrock Ministerial Association will sponsor a film, "For Pete's Sake," at the high school auditorium.

Three dances will climax the day of Irish fun and frolic: a square dance at 213 North Main, E.B. Thompson, caller; The St. Patrick's Dance featuring Charlie Phillips and the Sugartimers at the Armory; and a teen-age dance at Junior High Gymnasium featuring "Black Water Draw."

Biblical Refrain of Forty Is Most Familiar at Lent

NEW YORK (AP) — The number 40 recurs like a refrain in Biblical events and it marks the length of an age-old observance that Christians began this week — the 40 days of Lent.

Nowadays, however, it has a different emphasis than it once did. Attention now is focused not so much on doing without something as on doing something in a positive sense to improve oneself and the conditions of others.

More important than giving up something is giving something," the Rev. Dr. Albert P. Stauderman, editor of a denominational weekly, "The Lutheran," says of the general shift away from the older practices of fasting.

The new approach is pointed up in Scripture readings used in the liturgy of the period, such as in Isaiah 58, which says that rather than dietary fasting, God wants justice for the oppressed and shared bread with the hungry.

"Then... your healing shall spring up speedily... Then you shall call, and the Lord will answer."

The observance is intended for penitence from wrongdoing, for reeducation and spiritual renewal as a preparation for the Easter celebration of Christ's Resurrection.

How it came to run for 40 days is not altogether clear, since it originally lasted only a day or two in the beginning years of Christianity, and later only a week.

It was lengthened to 40 days in the 5th century, and that time span now often is seen as deriving from the 40 days that Jesus fasted in the wilderness before beginning his ministry.

However, the figure 40 is one of those mysteriously recurring time measurements in the Bible, a kind of "holy" number.

In the flood for which Noah built his ark, it rained for 40 days and 40 nights. The children of Israel wandered for 40 years in the wilderness. Moses spent 40 days and nights atop Mount Sinai when he received the 10 Commandments.

Forty hours elapsed from the moment Jesus died on the cross until His hour of Resurrection. The period of the Resurrection appearances lasted 40 days before Jesus ascended into the divine sphere.

The 40 days of Lent doesn't include Sundays, which were not "fast days" in the older modes of observance, when the emphasis was mainly on restricted diets and self-denial, which often took trivial forms such as foregoing sweets.

Roman Catholicism, in the changes of the mid-60s emanating from the Second Vatican Council, abolished its Lenten rules limiting eating to one full meal with meat a day, leaving it up to individuals to choose more meaningful ways of observing the period.

Episcopalians, Lutherans and other Protestants that observe Lent previously had moved away from the dietary formulas and put the emphasis on positive steps for deepening commitment and helping the needy.

Church drives for relief funds for work among the world's poor are part of the observance.

However, aside from such tangible efforts, the period also calls for inner spiritual reform, for reassessment and recommitment, for developing more regular habits of Bible study, meditation and prayer.

The period began with Ash Wednesday this week, emphasizing the finitude of human life, people's sinfulness and dependence on God, a theme brought out in services in which Catholics, Episcopalians and some others received a touch of ashes on the forehead.

"Remember, man, you are dust, and unto dust you shall return," go the old words underlining human mortality. But besides pointing to human frailty, Lent also points to the responsibility of believers to share the work of their Lord in redemption of the world.

Wycliffe Associates Set Dinner

Wycliffe Associates in Amarillo are sponsoring a dinner at 7 p.m. Thursday, at the Holiday Inn on I-40.

Purpose of the dinner will be to encourage interest in the Wycliffe Bible Translators. Wycliffe Associates is the authorized Lay Division of this group.

Wycliffe is an inter-denominational mission specializing in Bible translation among tribal groups. It now has 2,900 members in 24 countries at work with tribal people who do not have a written language. A team enters a new tribe every 12 days.

Thus far, 540 tribes have translation teams at work. The teams live with the people, learn the language, develop an alphabet, teach reading and writing with the goal of translating the New Testament into the native tongue.

Upgrading health and agriculture and teaching simple industries is also a part of their outreach.

Dr. Dale Kietzman, director of all Wycliffe activities in the U.S. will be the dinner speaker. He joined the translators in the days when they spent weeks on rafts and in canoes to reach tribes that are accessible within hours today by airplane.

Mrs. Alfred Baker, Amarillo is handling reservations.

CELEBRATING AT DEPARTURE POINT PLYMOUTH, ENGLAND (AP) — Plymouth, starting point for many famous voyages and birthplace of many of England's greats, plans a summer of pageants, spectacles and historical celebrations for 1973.

To celebrate the departure of the Pilgrim Fathers from Plymouth on Sept. 6, 353 years ago, special celebrations will be held from Sept. 6 to 9. Before that there will be an Elizabethan carnival of pageantry, processions and concerts from June 16 to 30.

CAN'T SHOOT BRANT WASHINGTON (AP) — Brant is getting so scarce on the east coast that Nathaniel P. Reed, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, expects the hunting season will be closed for at least two more years.

Estimates are that these little geese have dropped from 200,000 in the late 1960s to about 40,000, the smallest number in a quarter of a century. The decrease has been blamed on poor nesting seasons in the Canadian Arctic.

COME FLY WITH AERO JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ballooning — the sport of taking to the air in hot-air or helium-filled balloons — has been added to the list of aerial activities governed by the Aero Club of South Africa.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

First Presbyterian Church of Pampa

REV. MARTIN HAGER
Pastor

I think of the waiting room of a railroad station late at night, or a large gallery in a museum just before closing time, or the corridor of a hospital after the patients are all asleep — some neutral, public kind of place where the light is dim and where there is an air of stillness, isolation, a vague sense of expectancy. The place is empty except for two people, and they are standing or sitting some distance apart waiting for something, passing the time, in that strange, suspended state where time seems almost to stop because nothing is happening to mark its passage. Let us say that one of the people is you, and the other is a stranger. The silence between you is very deep, so deep that you can almost hear it, but there is no convention that says you must speak to a stranger in a public place, so it is not an embarrassing silence like the silence on occasions where human beings are expected to speak. In fact, to you, the stranger is hardly a human being at all. He is a face dimly seen, a dark shape sitting on a bench or leaning against the wall. The silence, the emptiness, the preoccupation with your own thoughts and your own waiting, separate you from him as fully as light years of space separate stars. The mystery of who you are: your loves and fears and dreams: are as hidden from him as the mystery of who he is, is hidden from you. If somebody asked you later if there was anyone else there with you, you might say: "No. At least I don't think so. I'm not sure."

Then maybe, one impulse, you speak: "Hi... it's a long wait..." some silly word. Something. It's a small miracle. What made you speak? God knows. Maybe a sudden pang of loneliness. A sudden desire to be known, to know. Maybe you need the sound of your own voice to bring you back to reality. But for whatever the reason, you do speak; for some combination of reasons, you have to break the silence. To a stranger you reveal some part of the mystery of who you are: not just the silly words that you speak but the sense of some kind of human need that breathes beneath your word. In some partial, tentative way, you open yourself to the stranger's knowing. Does he hear you? Does he answer you? If he does, a little bridge is built, and you can meet on the bridge. But does he? Is there really a person there at all, or is it just a trick of shadows?

This is what I think, in essence, prayer is. It is the breaking of silence. It is the need to be known and the need to know. Prayer is the sound made by our deepest aloneness. Prayer is man's impulse to open up his life at its deepest level. People pray because they cannot help it. And God, of course is the stranger. Through prayer the shadows become a face, a presence. The stranger turns out to be no stranger after all.

Mimeo Sheet Urges Objections to Films

A number of local church members of various congregations are in possession of a document headed "urgent appeal" that carries a "mailer" objecting to X-rated movies being shown on a major television network.

The spirit of the appeal is certainly in order but certain facts are lacking as well as necessary "mechanics" of the mailing piece.

The facts are that the network in question sound out public opinion months ago regarding films on the late show. Since that time no decision has been reached and no such rated films shown.

There have been features offensive to many but none of the X-rated although in the opinion of many viewers, they should be.

The urgent appeal states that, unless there are objections to the late night X-rated features, they will also be scheduled all hours of the day at a later time.

A network spokesman told a national wire service recently that at no time had this been discussed nor had it been considered.

The final line of the urgent appeal points to the "note" below which may be signed and mailed. That mailer is addressed to the president of the network in question and also carries the legend: "cc-Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D.C."

This-of-course-is-business letter parlance for noting that a carbon copy has been sent to the address mentioned.

Unless the well-meaning individual who mails the note gets two sheets and does, in truth, mail one to the FCC, he or she will be party to making a fraudulent statement by mail.

Many church leaders are trying to encourage their people to express themselves in their own way with their own simple letter to the network.

Relief Society Marks Founding Anniversary

Members of the Relief Society organization of the Pampa Ward of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints celebrate this month the 131st anniversary of the founding of Relief Society.

On March 17, 1842, Joseph Smith, first president of the Church, organized the Female Relief Society of Nauvoo in Illinois with 18 women present. Today they list 377,840 members in 7,000 congregations.

President of the Relief Society in the Pampa ward is Mrs. F.R. (June) Brooks. Weekly Relief Society is held at the chapel, 731 Sloan, on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. All women are invited to attend the meetings anytime.

Relief Society is for women—college-age girls, older women, young mothers, mothers with teenagers, old maids and widows. It's for all women and it's a women's program.

However, through the years it evolved into probably the most organized and broad program for women of all backgrounds, interests, cultures and nationalities.

It now has a balanced and well-rounded curriculum to develop the whole woman. On a weekly and rotational basis, Relief Society has a cultural living class, a social living class, a spiritual living class, and a monthly workshop, to help a girl or woman learn and practice the finer arts of being a better mother, wife and woman.

At the same time, it still stands ready and anxious to help those who need their services—whether it be a warm meal, bedding and clothing, physical care, love or whatever.

A typical Relief Society assignment begins with a telephone call from the bishop, a lay official who is charged with the spiritual material welfare of the local church members.

The ward Relief Society president visits the family, counsels with the family concerning their needs, then fills an order on the Church welfare system. These commodities generally are available locally through a Church storehouse.

Got A Consumer Complaint? You Can Sound Off

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — NEA — "Brother, did I get a lemon," has become a frequent complaint among consumers. And it's often followed by a time-consuming and sometimes fruitless quest for a way to solve their problems without a tremendous loss of time and money.

In most cases there is an available solution. You are not powerless when it comes to dealing with the frustrations of consumerism.

If you have purchased a faulty product and feel that your merchant is giving you the runaround you should write to James P. Low, American Society of Association Executives, 1101 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Low and his ASAE staff will place your legitimate complaint in the hands of the appropriate trade association so that a solution can be worked out.

This is really a one-stop service for handling genuine complaints.

Suppose you have bought an automobile tire which you feel comes up short of the advertised quality. If you really have an honest complaint and can't get satisfaction in any other way write to Low and he will put it in the hands of the National Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association which, in turn, will take up the matter with the appropriate member company.

"American businessmen are not trying to cheat the consumer," Low said. Businessmen, he insists, are sincere in their desire to serve the public with the best products they can produce at the lowest price possible so as to make a reasonable profit.

"If businessmen can't do that," he said, "the buying public will shy away from their products and they'll soon go out of business."

"It is to everyone's advantage — the manufacturer, the dealer and the consumer," he added "that the public be served good products and all honest businessmen really want to do that. It's just plain good business."

There's no way, of course, to make 100 per cent sure that no faulty products get into customers' hands but Low's viewpoint is that good businessmen try hard to cull out faulty products.

Going to the trade association is just what the federal government does in a good many instances. Shortly after Mrs. Virginia Knauer was appointed Special Assistant to President Nixon for Consumer Affairs she initiated a belting of communication between her office in the White House and the offices of American industry.

She did so by the simple expedient of writing a letter, followed up by a conference with the American Society of Association Executives.

This national association is made up of the men and women who manage America's trade and professional associations and it was the link Mrs. Knauer needed to reach American business and industry.

The results of her letter and her meeting with the officials of ASAE was that all of the key industrial associations in the country agreed to do something about the consumer complaints which the White House was receiving from citizens. Complaints going to the White House are sent on to the appropriate trade association which then gets in touch with the member company and a determined effort is made to find an equitable solution.

Not all complaints turn out to be genuine. The customer himself is sometimes at fault. For example, a New Hampshire man claimed that several things had gone wrong with his new car. He said he got no satisfaction after several trips to the dealer. The National Automobile Dealers Association turned the matter over to the New Hampshire Automobile Dealers Association and that organization made a thorough investigation.

A third-party examined the car and found it to be in perfect shape except for a slight problem with the rear wheels which had caused excessive tire wear — and which had been caused by customer overloading. It was fixed for $30. A short time later the customer was arrested on the turnpike for operating the vehicle while it was grossly overloaded and towing a trailer.

Not all complaints can be solved. But it's worth writing a letter if you have a legitimate problem.

He got her number but now he won't call

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-R. Y. Nevo Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a man I met on the telephone by mistake. I was calling someone else and got the wrong number. We started talking and seemed to have a lot in common. I am 33 and divorced, and he said he was 39 and divorced. I gave him my phone number and he called me every night for two months and we'd talk for hours. Then we made a date to meet.

I had my hair done that day and even bought a new outfit so I'd look real sharp. When we met I almost fainted because he was so handsome. Just like I imagined him to be. He seemed to like me a lot that first night and asked me to go to a motel with him. I refused. We made another date and again he asked me to go to a motel with him. This time I went. I am not what you would call an "easy number," but I just couldn't help myself.

After that he quit calling me, but I'd call him and we'd talk a while. He hasn't asked to see me again and I am going crazy. I think about him night and day.

How can I get him to return my love, Abby? Don't tell me to forget him. I tried and I can't.

TELEPHONE SWEETHEART

DEAR SWEETHEART: He's seen your full line and it's no sale. (Next time, hold something back.)

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are planning a June wedding here in Honolulu as that is where we are both from. It will be a large church wedding, and I am sure we'll be getting lots of wedding gifts.

We would rather not have to pack and ship these gifts to the mainland, so can you suggest a good way to tell people to please write down what they had in mind to give us, enclose the money, and let us make the purchase when we get to the mainland? Or don't you care for that idea?

STAR-BULLETIN READER

DEAR READER: Requesting money instead of a gift is awkward even to the reason makes sense. If I were you, I'd pack and ship the gifts to the mainland.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 65-year-old unmarried woman and I still feel young enough to dance. There is something that has annoyed me for years.

When I go to a dance I just sit there with the rest of the unaccompanied women while all the men look us over, and when one decides he wants to dance with me, he asks me. Abby, I feel that with Women's Lib giving women so many more rights, the ladies should be able to look the men over and decide who they want to dance with. Once in a blue moon they announce "Ladies Choice," then the ladies get to ask the gentlemen.

Will you please see what you can do to give us women a better break? They say a lady must wait for a gentleman to make the first move.

HOPING FOR A CHANCE

DEAR HOPING: Who are "they"? Next time you go to a dance, unaccompanied, look the gentlemen over, and when you see one you'd like to dance with, ask HIM. I'll bet he'll feel honored. And if he asks you why you did the asking, tell him Abby said it was all right. Gentlemen?

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69706, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Your Horoscope

By Jeanne Dixon

SATURDAY, MARCH 10
 Your birthday today: Social betterment, not just yours but that of those around you becomes your main interest this year. Today's natives are versatile, with a lasting curiosity about human nature.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: You may think you've said it right, but you may be misunderstood if you are hasty or careless. Take your time.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Even a close-knit family encounters tensions today. Improve your skills, learn more details of a favorite hobby.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: It's natural to ask favors, but keep it simple. One at a time works better, too.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Stay out of disputes. Offer no advice until you are specifically asked for it.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Your prestige is up because of an interesting story told about you, for no special reason. Do things that support the image of yourself you want to display.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: This entire Saturday may as well be spent collecting odds and ends of uncompleted projects.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Declare this a personal vacation, no matter what you're doing or have to do. Take a holiday spirit. This can be fun.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Knowing the right people is only part of the story. Get to work improving yourself.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Today's general run of circumstances should please you tremendously. Many different, interesting things are happening.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Now that you've gathered the results of long and diligent cultivation, you find you have more to do for full reward.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: In your celebration of today's fluent, easy mood be sure you do not drift into taking other people lightly.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: You can expect your routine or even a special Saturday schedule to be upset by the rush of events.

Next time you are making oven-broiled cheese toast, sprinkle the cheese with a little paprika before broiling.

Modern Dancer Goes Classical

By MARY CAMPBELL
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — When Erik Bruhn, generally considered the world's best classical male ballet dancer, retired in early 1972, American Ballet Theater immediately looked around for an important male dancer to hire. The company hired Paolo Bortoluzzi, 33, an Italian who has been dancing for the last dozen years with the Bejart Ballet in Brussels, a company which uses the modern pop choreography of Maurice Bejart.

Bortoluzzi's first season with the company was last summer and included both "La Sylphide," which Bruhn had been doing only six months before, and "Le Spectre de la Rose," which was danced by the legendary Vaslav Nijinsky.

"I think in life you must take risks," Bortoluzzi says. "If you think of Erik, you never do it. But I love danger. If not I would never dance 'La Sylphide' directly after Erik. He is my ideal dancer; I have followed him very much in my life.

"It is important to know where you are in your life. I want to know if I am good, if I am bad — not just dream about it."

Bortoluzzi wanted to join American Ballet Theater because it includes some of the classical ballets, like "Swan Lake" and "Giselle," in its repertory. "I am known in New York previously with a modern company only. I don't want to keep closed in one style and stay in that. Otherwise people think you can't do the other. And I find it is not a complete career."

The dancer has, in the past 12 years, done some classical dancing as a guest artist around Europe, but the Bejart company has kept him so busy that he hasn't done a great deal of it. He says he doesn't have a preference between dancing modern or classical ballet. "With a good classical technique you can control and command yourself every time. I don't really prefer something. I love dancing."

Bortoluzzi's father had a clothing store and nobody in the family was in any branch of theater. Nobody in the family wanted him to be a dancer, either. "I studied gymnastics in school and I studied music 10 years. Maybe movement and music together is ballet. I didn't think I would be a dancer in my life until I was 15 and I got a pass to a ballet performance.

"In Italy for a boy to be a dancer is something not really serious. My family was a little bit right because to do a big career in dance is very difficult. You must be very gifted and still it is difficult. But I am very hard-headed and I kept going. Of course they are very happy now. They enjoy ballet very much."

Bortoluzzi married a dancer in the Bejart company, who is from Iran, and they had their first child last summer. They still make their home in Brussels.

Some viewers were startled to see Bortoluzzi use his hands a great deal while dancing "Le Spectre de la Rose" and there was some adverse criticism. Bortoluzzi says he hasn't changed his style because of it.

"The original of that ballet was many years ago and I don't know if people expected it to be that we do."

A winning bridge player should tend to be an optimist in the bidding and a pessimist in the play of the dummy. In other words, he should overbid a trifle on his way to games and slams, but once he gets there he should play safe for his contract instead of gallivanting around in search of overtricks.

An optimist would try to make seven with today's hand. He would draw trumps with three leads; play out all the diamonds and take the heart finesse.

East would win the trick and lead back a heart, whereupon optimist South would have to locate the queen of clubs in order to make his slam.

A good dummy player would start the same way, but when he got around to hearts he would first play dummy's ace, then the queen. Irrespective of which opponent produced the king because the man on lead would have to lead a club to give him a sure-fire play in that suit or a heart to give him a ruff and discard.

He would have lost a potential 30-point overtrick, but he would have insured the 1,430 points for game, slam and rubber.

Baseball Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atlanta Hawks haven't lost to the Portland Trail Blazers in two National Basketball Association seasons.

The Hawks beat the Trail Blazers 135-129 Thursday night for the eighth straight time over the past two seasons.

Pete Maravich scored 29 points for the Hawks and Lou Hudson added 34 to pace the Atlanta attack.

Maravich was the game's high scorer and also had 13 assists as he and Hudson maintained their scoring binge. During the past 10 games, Hudson has average 32.1 points and Maravich 30.3.

In other NBA games, Buffalo beat Chicago 112-102, Kansas City-Omaha stopped Baltimore 105-93 and Boston beat Phoenix 141-134 in overtime.

In the American Basketball Association Thursday night, Virginia beat New York 130-118 and San Diego edged Memphis 107-105.

One of the key plays in the Hawks victory came with 26 seconds to play and Atlanta holding a three-point margin at 130-127. Center Walt Bellamy of the Hawks made a layup and was fouled on the play. He made the free throw for a three-point play which put the Hawks up by six.

Geoff Petrie topped the Portland scoring with 22 points.

The Buffalo Braves, leading by 30 points during the third period, fought off a furious fourth quarter rally by the Chicago Bulls and went on to win the game.

Elmore Smith was perfect from the field in the first half as the Braves raced to a 63-42 halftime lead, featured by a run of 12 straight points in the second period.

The Braves were guilty of 13 turnovers in the fourth period, allowing the Bulls to creep from behind. Bob Love's 13 points and Norm Van Lier's 10 brought Chicago to within 108-102 with a minute left on a basket by Howard Porter, the Bulls' final basket.

Love was the games' high scorer with 33 points while Bob McAdoo had 28 for Buffalo followed by teammates Randy Smith and Elmore Smith with 25 and 22 points, respectively.

Julius Erving scored 29 points and led the Virginia Squires over the New York Nets in an ABA contest.

The Squires, trailing 50-49 with 4 1/2 minutes remaining in the second period, went on an 18-6 scoring tear to take an 11 point intermission lead and were never threatened again.

Archibald, who scored 29 points for the Kings, now has 2,492 points for the season, breaking the record of 2,480 set by Robertson when the team was in Cincinnati. Baltimore trailed 90-85 with seven minutes to play, but the Kings wrapped up the victory by outscoring the Bulls 13-4 to take a 103-89 edge with 3 1/2 minutes to play.

Don Chaney's three-point play with less than 30 seconds to play in an overtime period gave the Boston Celtics a tough win over the Phoenix Suns.

Schoolboy Tournament Concluding Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Eddie Owens of Houston Wheatley is 6 feet 7 inches tall and so adept at handling a basketball he can dribble behind his back at full speed without breaking stride.

Owens, says his coach Jackie Carr, "is the best high school player I've ever coached at Wheatley or ever seen play in high school"—and that includes University of Houston starter Jerry Bonney and Dwight Jones, a 1972 Olympian.

But Owens is back, twice all-tournament, averaging 28 points a game for a team that has a 41-1 season record and has scored over 100 points in 33 games this season.

Wheatley and Corpus Christi Carroll, the stingiest defensive team in Class 4A, were matched in the tournament opener at 4:30 p.m. Carroll has allowed only 46.6 points a game.

Another blue-chip college prospect, 6-10 Ronald Taylor.

Wheatley lost to Cypress-Fairbanks. Although he scored 31 points last year, Wheatley lost to Dallas Roosevelt in the finals, and Owens was upstaged by Ira Terrell of Roosevelt and Rick Bullock of San Antonio Jefferson in individual performances.

But Owens is back, twice all-tournament, averaging 28 points a game for a team that has a 41-1 season record and has scored over 100 points in 33 games this season.

Wheatley and Corpus Christi Carroll, the stingiest defensive team in Class 4A, were matched in the tournament opener at 4:30 p.m. Carroll has allowed only 46.6 points a game.

Another blue-chip college prospect, 6-10 Ronald Taylor.

averaging 24.1 points a game, was to lead Midland against Spring Branch, winners of 39 to 40 games, in the Friday night semi-finals.

Class B opens Saturday with defending champion Laypoyor of Larue, an East Texas team, paired against Danbury in a first-round game, followed by Spade vs. Brock of Weatherford.

Here is this weekend's schoolboy state basketball schedule, with team records:

Friday:

Class 4A, 4:30 p.m. Houston Wheatley, 41-1, vs. Corpus Christi Carroll, 32-4, 8:30 p.m., Spring Branch, 39-1, vs. Midland, 31-3.

Handball Finals Set

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The fifth and second seeds in the U.S. Handball Association's national tournament here took a day off to relax today before their Saturday afternoon match for the national singles championship.

Terry Muck of St. Paul, Minn., the second seed, and No. 5 seed Steve Auger of Los Angeles, Calif., both romped through Thursday's semifinals in straight sets to advance to Saturday's finals.

August, the 1968 champion, beat No. 8 Stuffy Singer of Los Angeles, 21-12, 21-20, while Muck, last year's national runner-up, stopped third seed and five-time champion Paul Haber of San Diego, Calif., also by 21-12, 21-20.

Trevino Leading Doral

MIAMI (AP) — Jerry McGee entered today's second round of the Doral Eastern Open tied for second place at 68 with Bob Barbarossa, four strokes behind front-running Lee Trevino's eight-under-par 64.

But McGee was thinking of the chances of defending champion Jack Nicklaus instead of his own. Nicklaus was in a group at 69 on the par 72, 7.065 yard course.

"If Lee plays steady, Jack's going to have to come out with a fantastic round," said McGee, dismissing his own hopes with "I don't think he (Trevino) is worrying about me."

Before Thursday's first round, McGee said he and Trevino were standing together, watching Nicklaus hit some long drives. Trevino said, "I'm going to get him. It's mine this week."

Trevino finished in a tie for second with Bob Rosburg, two strokes behind Nicklaus, here last year after missing the event the previous two years.

Trevino's effort matched the course record set by Nicklaus in the 1969 and 1972 tournaments.

Tied with Nicklaus for fourth place Mike Hill, Tom Kite, Larry Ziegler, Rich Rhodes, Dwight Neill and Bill Collins.

Heading a group of 14 at two-under 70 was 60-year-old Sam Snead.

SAN FRANCISCO GIANTS

National League West

PROSPECTUS: The Giants are, as the polite phrase has it, rebuilding. Willie Mays is gone, Willie McCovey and Juan Marichal are not long for this team and how are the 49ers going to be next season? Bobby Bonds and Chris Speier provide some encouragement and an off-season trade brought durable Tom Bradley to pitching staff but this is a team that will do a lot of struggling. Manager Charlie Fox may belong on an endangered species list.

PITCHING: Bradley, 15-14 with White Sox, joins young Ron Bryant, floundering vets Marichal (6-16) and Sam McDowell on what could be strong staff if, if, if. Second line pitchers and bullpen are frightening. (to Giants), though, with relief ace Jerry Johnson coming from shaky season.

INFIELD: McCovey is 35, fragile as a giant potato chip. Ed Goodson filled in capably for him at first last year, may get more work this time. Tito Fuentes is harmless at second, Speier possibly the best all-around shortstop since Ernie Banks. Third nominally belongs to Dave Kingman, who is gangly fielder and strikeout-prone though powerful hitter. Alan Gallagher, retired Jim Hart (the Giants left their Hart in Phoenix most of last year), Chris Arnold pick up slack.

OUTFIELD: Though Bonds slumped in 72, he should bounce back. Garry Maddox has center field job on strength of respectable debut last season. Two youngsters, Gory Mathews (108 RBIs at Phoenix) and Jim Williams, compete with Jim Howarth for third spot.

CATCHING: Dave Rader looked good as rookie, will improve. Rookie Jerry Brown, Fran Healy back him up.

Predicted Finish: Fourth in West.

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop to his utmost capability.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Industry? What Is It?

It is all the rage today to put industry down.

Carping professors, who ought to know better, hurl invectives at the business world with all the fervor of an old-time preacher thundering against sin; thus, by example, encouraging their student charges to go and do likewise. Lost sight of in the heady rhetoric and we rather suspect, envy of the moment we are the simple facts that, were it not for industry, there would be no ivied halls of learning and no salaries for the industry-hating professors.

Zealous ecologists, many of whom wouldn't know how to light a campfire without industry-produced matches and canned fuel, and certainly couldn't survive a night in the wilds which they profess to love without the industry-produced clothing they wear, hold forth against industry at great length accusing it of everything from "raping the environment" to "being against motherhood, Aunt Tilly, and apple pie."

Homeowners, snug in their industry-built suburban palaces, commuting to their industry-provided places of employment in their industry-constructed automobiles, rail at the "system," accusing it of wanting to invade their residential enclaves with smelly "glue factories" and call for laws to control and subdue the "beast."

Youngsters, never taught in their government-oriented schools that smoke coming out of the chimney of a place of business is objective proof that there are people within serving other people, write letters to editors castigating business establishments for "polluting the environment," can call for the marshaling of public opinion to discipline the offending culprit.

Such criticism, the magnitude of which we have merely touched upon, surely suggests the question: Just what IS industry anyway?

And, having posed the question, may we venture to respond with an answer which, although perhaps over-simplified, is nevertheless true.

Industry is US; all of us! In fact, when the activity the word describes is permitted to operate voluntarily, "industry" is indistinguishable from "the public" and "the common weal."

Just think about that a bit.

What does industry do? Why, it produces things and services people need and want at prices people can pay as determined by their actions in the market place. From the food we eat, the clothes on our backs, the houses we live in, the doctor ministering to a patient, sheet music for the music student and lover, that play produced and staged for the drama buff, the books we read for enjoyment and improvement of mind, equipment for the backpacker into the wilderness, items for the sportsman, all of these and many more, multiplied by the thousands and the millions, are the output of industry.

Industry is people: people who are producers on the one hand, and consumers on the other; which, when we really think about it, is all of us. Like it or not, we, each and every one of us, has been, is, or will be connected with industry in some way.

And the point of it all is simply this: When we criticize industry and call for controls over its activities, we are, in truth, criticizing our own choices and calling for control over our freedom to choose and act.

So, "industry," still evolving, sometimes does things which we deem to be harmful. Admittedly, that is true. Keep in mind, however, that it is acting in response to signals YOU have transmitted to it via your purchases in the market place. If you want it to change, the change you must begin with YOU. Change the signals to your fellowmen in "industry," and the new signals will be received, noted and acted upon.

No bureaucratic edicts are needed for that!

No Change? Well, Look!

Who can help but believe in change today? Change is all around us. As an example, things once (rightly or wrongly) considered "American" are taking on new coloration. Now we have:

Baseball strikes that have nothing to do with batting a ball.

Teacher strikes which have nothing to do with employing the hickory stick to encourage a child to learn.

Teenagers who have to think twice about holding jobs to help out with their expenses and the family budget lest they find the extra "help" filling government rather than family coffers.

The cry to force "you and him" to keep the world clean instead of the character-building hymn's injunction to "Brighten the Corner Where You Are."

Hard work as a badge of shame instead of courage and accomplishment.

Reliance on government and politicians instead of reliance on self-government and God.

There is change a plenty.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Just to satisfy my own curiosity, sir, may I ask WHY you want your picture on your new checks?"

Intelligence Report

(Frank A. Capell evaluates intelligence from both private and official sources in Washington, and around the world.)

The appointment of radical Congressman Ronald Dellums (D-Calif.) to membership on the House Armed Services Committee has caused severe consternation. Dellums was initially turned down for the assignment in a secret ballot of the eighteen-member Democratic Committee on Committees. But, through the urging of Speaker Carl Albert (D-Okl.) and Representative Wilbur Mills (D-Atk.), he has now been seated on this important Committee. In spite of Ronald Dellums' long record as a pro-Communist, he will now have access to Top Secret military documents.

Ronald N. Dellums of Berkeley, California, is a Democrat serving his second term in Congress. A graduate of San Francisco State College and the University of California, he was elected from California's 7th Congressional District with the open support of the Communist Party. He has been a longtime supporter of the Black Panthers and the Soledad Brothers Committee. In February of 1968 he keynoted a gathering in honor of Black Panther Huey Newton, who had just been convicted of killing a policeman. On the platform with Dellums were James Forman, H. Rap Brown, and Bobby Seale. In July of 1968, Dellums participated in a conference on behalf of the United Front Against Fascism, sponsored by the Black Panthers and the International Liberation School. From November 28 to November 30, 1970, a World Conference on Vietnam, Laos, and Cambodia was held in Stockholm, Sweden, under the auspices of the (Communist) World Peace Council. Among the Americans present were Gil Green and Sylvia Cushman, both well-known members of the Communist Party, U.S.A.; Dave Dellinger, self-proclaimed Communist; and Ronald Dellums.

The Communist Daily World reported on February 6, 1971, that Congressman Dellums has gone so far as to make congressional office space available to radical protesters when they were planning the Communist demonstrations held in Washington on May Day 1971.

In his hometown of Berkeley, Dellums has been promoting community control of the police department, a program sponsored by the Communist Party. Wherever there is a Communist cause, Dellums is there to smile on it. He even demanded total abandonment of our A.B.M. and M.I.R.V. missile systems as a step toward peace with the Soviet Union. Given a choice for a seat on the House Armed Services Committee between Gus Hall and Ronald Dellums, the Communists would no doubt prefer Dellums.

In a nearby town there is an outdoor movie screen clearly visible from the highway. People park along the side of the road and watch the X-rated fornicators free. A gentleman came by to see me the other day to get me to sign a petition to force the removal of the screen, or at least to make them turn it around so people sitting at a drive-in restaurant next to it wouldn't be forced to look at lewd acts while trying to eat.

"Yes, I'll gladly sign," I replied. "And I'd like to see the operator—who could be William O. Douglas for all I know—jailed."

"That's interesting," he replied. "The last man I approached to sign the petition was the pastor of the United Methodist Church. He told me: 'No, I won't sign it. The manager of the theater is a friend of mine, and gives free tickets to me and my wife.'"

Well, most of us have skeletons in our closet. I suppose, and one of mine is that I formerly belonged to the United Methodist Church. So I wasn't surprised. The X-rated movies doubtless contain as much Christianity as do some of the United Methodist sermons.

Questions
1) Wonder what all else the pastor gets free?
2) Does he report it all to his congregation and to IRS?
3) Would it be right for the congregation to turn the movie screen around without turning the pastor around too?

DO WE REALLY BELIEVE IN 'SELF-DETERMINATION'?

One of our excuses for dragging ourselves into World War I was to make the world safe for mob rule (democracy) and people's "right to self-determination."

Evidently we no longer believe in the right of

Bailing Out Russia

Another Soviet request for American grain is in the offing. There has not been enough snow to protect the winter grain crop from the wave of sudden and severe frosts that have swept the Soviet Union, creating a disaster condition that has not yet been widely reported in the West. The reason the "Liberal" media are playing down the crop disaster is fear that the American people will insist that the Communists give something in return before we again come to their rescue.

The Review of the NEWS

Galloping Inflation

The Virginia Taxpayers Association has charged that the Nixon Administration's new 1974 budget, "far from being an economy budget as advertised," actually pushes the federal deficit $12 billion higher than the present "intolerable level."

The state taxpayer group declares, "Americans should not be fooled into believing they will pay no higher federal taxes in the coming year. Even if Congress does not increase the proposed budget a single penny, the planned $12 billion deficit will impose on each of us the cruelest tax of all: inflation that robs while the thief remains unrecognized."

The VTA warns that "Congress should start by cutting its own and the President's salaries in order to have the courage to make the many other necessary reductions in federal expenditures. After a four-year record spending spree, Nixon now loudly proclaims his concern for the taxpayer. Yet his new so-called budget cuts conspicuously fail to start from the top."

The Virginia Taxpayers Association also backed House Joint Resolution 112, a proposed Constitutional amendment that would limit the expenditure of federal funds to the amount of revenue received during the preceding accounting period. H.J.R. 112 was introduced in the opening days of the new Congress by Rep. Harold Runnels (D-N.Mex.).

Concerning reported plans to aid North Vietnam financially, the VTA says, "Giving tax money which the U.S. does not have in its treasury to an undefeated and unrepentant enemy cannot be supported by any sound-thinking citizen."

Wit & Whimsy

Saturday is the day you've looked forward to so you can begin stewing about Monday.

March is the catch-up month for all the bad weather we've missed all winter.

Our neighbor is going to return our skis just in time to borrow our golf clubs.

Butter your fingers and you'll have a better chance of not picking up the lunch check.

Somewhat, it won't be the same if women's lib takes the gals out of wine, women and song.

From the weather around here, all we can deduce is that the groundhog needs new glasses.

Forgotten Warning Re: Chinese Propaganda

In June, 1971, the V.F.W. magazine featured an important article by the late F.B.I. Director J. Edgar Hoover entitled "Mao's Red Shadow in America." Addressing himself to the dangers imminent as the U.S. was then moving closer toward establishing new contacts with Red China, Mr. Hoover stated in part: "Red China desperately wants to make contact with and influence our rising generation, both college and high school students."

The V.F.W. article was to have been reprinted for wider distribution, but only a few days before the Nixon Administration's announcement of a "new China policy," a discreet call from the White House led to cancellation of those plans. A few months later, the F.B.I. Director was dead and his warnings about the Red Chinese forgotten.

Just as he predicted, however, pro-Mao Tse-tung propagandists and apologists have wasted no time flooding the U.S. with television productions, books, articles in educational publications, conducting campus seminars, and engaging in numerous other enterprises aimed at spreading Mao's message and that of his glorious revolution, like a thousand poisoned lotus petals across the land.

So successful has this propaganda barrage been to date, that the Red Chinese press agency, Hsinhua, recently featured a series of articles proclaiming that friendly relations between the Chinese and American people is "now a common desire among the broad masses of the American people. The colorful flower of friendship will surely bear rich fruits of friendship. The current friendship between the Chinese and American peoples is surging forward!"

The following are only two examples from the many that could be offered on the extent of pro-Red China propaganda in the U.S.

During President Nixon's tour of Red China, he and Mrs. Nixon were entertained at the Peking Ballet by a performance of "Red Detachment of Women," a revolutionary production telling the story of Mao's Red Army victory over Chinang Kai-shek's nationalist forces. Only weeks later NBC presented the entire "Red Detachment of Women" ballet to millions of U.S. viewers narrated by actor Gene Kelly. All arrangements were made for the showing by a woman television producer named Lucy Jarvis, who, this January 16, showed up on NBC with her own pro-Red China special called "The Forbidden City," sponsored by the multimillion dollar industrial conglomerate, the Eaton Corporation, of Cleveland, Ohio. It should be noted that among Eaton's 4,000 manufactured products are a number of items that the Mao Tse-tung regime might like to purchase if U.S. tax-supported loans could be arranged—including heavy machinery and complex construction equipment.

Nothing in the text informs the young, impressionable readers how Mao's regime murdered millions of Chinese following Red victory. Instead: "China has no slaves, no very rich people and no very poor ones. Everyone is equal."

The Red Line.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Friday, March 9, the 68th day of 1973. There are 297 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1862, the first battle between ironclad ships was fought by the Monitor and Merrimac at Hampton Roads, Va.

On this date, in 1451, the Italian navigator for whom America is named, Amerigo Vespucci, was born in Florence.

In 1796, Napoleon Bonaparte married Josephine.

In 1822, Charles Graham of New York City received the first U.S. patent for artificial teeth.

In 1916, Mexicans under Pancho Villa attacked Columbus, N.M., killing 15 persons.

In 1942, the Japanese completed the conquest of the Dutch island of Java in the Pacific war.

In 1961, the Dalai Lama appealed to the United Nations to restore Tibet's independence from China.

Ten years ago: A foe of the De Gaulle government in France, Georges Bidault, was taken into custody by German authorities in a small village in southern Germany.

Five years ago: Nineteen persons were killed in an explosion in a steel plant in Becke, West Germany.

One year ago: President Nixon ordered American airlines to take new security measures to prevent hijacking of planes.

The sparrow's neck, less than an inch in length, has 14 vertebrae. The giraffe with its eight-foot-long neck has only seven vertebrae.

Sea Stentor
Scientists at the Naval Research and Development Center have determined that the voice of the largest creature ever to inhabit the earth -- the nearly extinct blue whale -- can be heard underwater for 100 miles.

The lip-smacking and soft grunting of baboons indicates peaceful intentions, while hard stares and yawns are danger signals.
