Mann Opens The Way To Bid For Governorship

Statement Assails Stevenson As An Anti-New Dealer

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP)—Attorney General Gerald C. Mann in a statement sharply assailing the policies of Governor Coke R. Stevenson, said today that "if I remain in public life it will be as governor of Texas."

Mann said that he had not yet determined what he would do in the coming election.

GERALD C. MANN

His statement, while not saying flatly that he would run for governor, did definitely put Mann out of the running for re-election as attorney general. This left the field wide open for that office.

Mann's statement made the new deal an issue should he run against Stevenson. The governor "is completely out of step with our national administration," Mann's formal statement said, noting that this opposition "does not date from gasoline rationing but from the day the administration proved itself responsive to the needs of all the people."

"I am completely in harmony with the great social gains accomplished by Franklin Roosevelt," the Texas attorney general said. Mann's statement followed publication by the Amarillo Globe yesterday of a story quoting Stevenson as saying he would be a candidate for re-election. When asked for confirmation, the governor denied that he had thus entered the race.

Portugal Base Action Brings Axis Protests

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Germany and Japan protested to Portugal today over the granting of bases in the Azores to the British, and the Nazis angrily served notice that they reserved the right to take retaliatory action. Germany left unstated, however, whether she would go so far as to declare war on the Portuguese.

In announcing the protest, the Berlin radio called Portugal's act a "severe violation of neutrality." Berlin then reiterated its contention that the Lisbon government had been forced into concession under pressure—a theme the Germans have harped upon since the Anglo-Portuguese agreement was first announced.

Just what retaliation the Nazis would take remained to be seen, but it was considered doubtful that they would plunge Portugal into war because by so doing they would lose one of their most valuable listening posts and spy centers in Europe.

A Tokyo broadcast announcing Japan's protest quoted a Japanese spokesman as saying that Allied acquisition of Azores bases was "one more example of Anglo-American violation of international law as in the case of the seizure of Madagascar and of strong unjustified pressure exercised on a weaker power."

Apparently the Japanese failed to remember that they moved into the Portuguese island of Timor before the British occupied Madagascar.

AT&T INCOME UP

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and subsidiaries reported today net income of $46,216,421 for the quarter ended Aug. 31, or $2.38 a common share, compared with $41,019,028, or $2.11 a common share, for the like period of 1942.

American Bomber Force Suffers Record Raid Loss Of 60 Planes

War Plants In Reich Hard Hit

By HENRY B. JAMESON

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Germans, massing their most effective fighter opposition to date, shot down a record number of 60 American Flying Fortresses from a heavy force that made a shambles yesterday out of three Nazi roller and ball bearing plants at Schweinfurt.

The Fortresses, with their fighter escorts, downed at least 104 enemy planes as a gigantic air battle—probably the greatest ever fought over the continent—raged for two hours all the way from the European coast to the targets in Central Germany and back again.

While no details of the opposition tactics were disclosed officially, numerous crewmen told of encountering swarms of single-engine Nazi fighters and also the twin-engine craft on which the new German rocket apparatus is chiefly mounted.

The fortresses destroyed 91 enemy aircraft and possibly 42 more. Thunderbolts escorting them part of the way on the 500-mile trip added another 13 and three probables. Two U. S. fighters failed to return.

The number of fortresses that participated in the raid was not disclosed, but it was described officially as "large."

Despite the opposition, the their bombs over all of the 72 acres of factory buildings housing one of Germany's most important centers for producing bearings—an essential for virtually every piece of mechanized war equipment.

"There ought to be all bearings rolling all over Germany," said one crewman who watched hundreds of bombs pour into the target area.

The 60 heavy bombers announced officially as missing constituted the greatest loss ever inflicted upon the Allied Air Forces by the Nazis in a single raid.

It exceeded by one the 59 lost by the Americans Aug. 17 in the and Regensburg when formations two-pronged raid on Schweinfurt hitting the latter target made their celebrated shuttle trip to Africa. The RAF lost its greatest number, 58, in a night attack on Berlin Aug. 23.

The minimum of 104 Nazi fighters knocked down yesterday fell far short of previous American achievements. The record of 307 destroyed on the Schweinfurt-Fegensburg attack Aug. 17 still stands.

The second highest number of enemy fighters destroyed, 142, was claimed in the American raid on Bremen and Vegesack a week ago today when the German rocket device made one of its first reported appearances.

Local Men's Brother Succumbs At Dublin

C. C. Balch and C. R. Balch of Big Spring have received word of the death of their brother, W. W. Balch of Dublin, who succumbed Thursday night from a heart ailment.

Other survivors include his widow, Mrs. W. W. Balch and four children. Services are pending.

Ship Bearing Americans Reaches Exchange Port

MORMUGAO, Portuguese India, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Japanese exchange ship Teia Maru carrying American, Canadian and Latin American civilians from Japanese controlled territory arrived here tonight.

Previously the port officer here had been informed by radio that the liner Gripsholm, bringing Japanese Nationals from America, would arrive in this exchange port tomorrow.

(The Teia Maru is carrying 1,236 Americans, 221 Canadians and 40 Latin Americans who have been under internment in Japanese hands and will be exchanged at Mormugao for the Japanese Nationals aboard the Gripsholm.) The entire wharf in the harbor had been cleared of ships in expectation of the arrival of the Teia Maru and the Swedish ship Gripsholm, bringing home Japanese Nationals, which is expected here tomorrow.

Argentina Scored For Anti-Semitism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt sharply rebuked Argentina today for suspending publication of Jewish newspapers, terming this action in line with characteristics of Nazi doctrines.

It was the second time within recent weeks that this government has approved the only American nation still maintaining diplomatic relations with the axis.

Secretary of State Hull previously sent a strongly worded message turning down an Argentine request for lend-lease assistance.

Mr. Roosevelt said in a statement to a press-radio conference that primarily the suspension of Jewish newspapers concerned the Argentine government and people, but he added: "I cannot forbear to give expression to my own feeling of apprehension at the taking in this hemisphere of action obviously anti-semitic in nature and of a character so closely identified with the most repugnant features of Nazi doctrine."

Vegetable Price Ceilings Fixed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Seeking to close a gap in living cost controls, the Office of Price Administration has announced a program of retail price ceilings which, it said, would lower the cost of 13 fresh vegetables substantially below levels of last winter.

OPA General Manager Chester Bowles said it would mean reductions of as much as 30 and 50 per cent in consumer charges for such items as lima beans, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers and cauliflower.

Other vegetables brought under ceilings are snap beans, carrots, celery, egg plant, lettuce, green peas, peppers and spinach.

OPA officials explained the ceiling prices would not be effective until full, official regulations are issued. No definite date has been set for the issuance, but it probably will require several weeks.

Bowles attributed three-fifths of last winter's rise in living costs to the soaring prices of fresh fruits and vegetables alone.

"OPA has already moved to control the price of some fruits and with these vegetable ceilings we hope to head off any such spiral before it gets started this season," Bowles said.

LAD IS LOST

NEWVILLE, Pa., Oct. 15 (AP)—Soldiers of the Carlisle Barracks Medical Field Service School joined today in a hunt for 8-year-old John Coover, lost since yesterday in a forest near this central Pennsylvania community.

Ship Bearing Americans Reaches Exchange Port

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—General Henry H. Arnold, chief of the United States air forces, reported officially today that 60 Flying Fortresses and 593 crew members were lost in yesterday's raid on Schweinfurt, but that "at least half" of the crew members "are believed to be alive as prisoners of war on the basis of past experience."

The American bombers, Arnold said, encountered the "most intense fighter opposition" so far met over Europe.

"That," he declared in a formal statement, "is the pay-off on the importance which the Nazi attaches to his ball-bearing industry at Schweinfurt. The more important the target the more fiercely he fights to protect it."

Valley Crops Aided By Good Rainfall

M'ALLEN, Oct. 15 (AP)—Thirty-six hours of slow rain this week was like money in the bank to vegetable and citrus growers in this area.

Over The Top

British troops with Gen. Clark's 5th army are shown above scaling a wall in pursuit of the enemy after gaining a bridgehead. The bridge had been destroyed by the foe, but allied engineers replaced it in 50 minutes. The arrow in the map below points out the Volturno river which the 5th army was crossing in force. In central area allies captured Vinchiaturo and Guardia, increasing flank threat to the upper Vulture. Area between dotted line and solid line indicates advances in a 24-hour period.

Chief Of Staff For Mountbatten Named

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Appointment of Lt. Gen. Sir Henry Royds Pownall, of the British army, to be chief of staff for Lord Louis Mountbatten in the South Asia Allied command, and Major General Albert Coady Wedemeyer, of the United States army to be his deputy chief of staff, was announced today by the war department.

Water Survey Is Under Way

Work actually has started on surveys which their sponsors hope will lead to an early solution of the water supply situation here.

The firm of Freese and Nichols of Fort Worth has been employed by the Federal Works Agency to work out an immediate program for relieving the critical water supply situation here, and a member of the firm already was on the ground here Thursday.

According to an announcement from the city, the US Geological Survey, underground water division, and the State Board of Water Engineers are cooperating with the engineers, FWA and the city.

Marvin Nichols, member of the engineering firm, joined with W. A. George, the USGS underground water representative, here Thursday and were making preliminary surveys of the territory Friday.

They are, city officials said, "investigating supplies of water in Glasscock and Sterling counties."

Possibility of speedy action was seen in the additional expression that "it is hoped by all parties concerned that this problem may be solved by early summer."

It was learned authoritatively that one of the first steps which may be taken is the drilling of some sizeable test wells so that projected supplies can be given rigorous pumping tests. The matter of supply lines would follow later. Some of the production spots mentioned in speculation would later lend themselves to replacement by impounding of drainage areas.

Dnieper Dam Wrecked Again By Nazi Army

Germs Acknowledge Retreat From Key Base In South

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—The waters of the great Dnieper dam—the largest in Europe—were sent rolling over the Russian countryside once more by German troops, the Berlin radio reported today in acknowledging their flight from Zaporozhe, their long-held southern key base and guardian fortress of the Crimea.

News that the $110,000,000 Dneprostroy had been blown up by the enemy, indicated that they had succeeded in repairing it after the Russians destroyed its usefulness themselves, when falling back from the Dnieper in 1941 in what was called the greatest piece of self-sabotage of all time.

The gigantic dam is situated at the lower end of the Dnieper rapids, a few miles north of Zaporozhe and was considered one of the outstanding industrial achievements of the Soviet regime. Its waters generated power for the whole industrial area of the Ukraine and it has been said that "whoever controls the dam controls the whole southwestern Russian industry."

By blowing up the great dam, five miles northwest of Zaporozhe, the Germans evidently hoped to stall the Russian advance westward and to prevent the entrapment of garrisons in the Crimea, believed to number more than 100,000 troops. There was no confirmation of the dam's destruction from Moscow and it was not known whether the Russians were able to transport their armies across the newly-flooded terrain to close the Crimean escape corridors.

The great dam was frequently called the Dneproetrovsk dam although it lies some 40 miles south of that Dnieper river city. German dynamite was unable, however, to spoil the real Russian victory of the Zaporozhe bridgehead which the Soviet army publication Red Star said was the last German hope of protecting the railway to the Crimea through Melitopol from the north and of checking the Russian offensive in the south.

One London military columnist wrote today that the victory "may even be much greater than that by Stalingrad," pointing out that by crossing the Dnieper in force at Zaporozhe the Russians would be in position to drive along the inner lines of German forces south of the Dnieper and in the Crimea.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army also advanced on the inland sector of the transpeninsular front and captured the town of Casacalenda, five miles northwest of Bonifero and on the north side of the Cigno river.

Big-Three Parley Due To Open Soon

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—It is expected here that the Moscow "big-three" conference will open within the next few days.

Previous forecasts have been that U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden would open sessions with Soviet leaders by mid-October but transportation difficulties may delay the meetings a few days.

Plane Score 210 To 8 In Recent Attacks On Japs

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 15 (AP)—American and Australian planes have run up a score of 210 to 8 against the Japanese since Sunday over two enemy strongholds where Nippon's airpower is reputed to be great—New Britain and Bougainville.

The bulk of the score, 177 to 5, was registered Tuesday at Rabaul, New Britain, by the largest force of bombers and fighters ever amassed for a single day's operations in the Southwest Pacific.

But today's communique disclosed that for the second time in as many days, more than 100 bombers and fighters swarmed over Bougainville in the northern Solomons the day prior to Rabaul's blitz. While blowing up gun positions and spreading fires around the big Kahila airdrome and sinking two large enemy cargo ships in Buka Passage, these raiders downed 12 out of 25 Japanese interceptors without the loss of a plane.

On Sunday, it was reported previously, 21 Japanese planes were shot down in the same sector, with the American losses totalling three.

As more reports trickled in on the big Rabaul raid, it became increasingly evident how amazingly complete was the surprise. Anti-aircraft defenses there have been so stout in the past that Rabaul has become known as the "Japanese Malta." But Tuesday the 1,000 raiding fliers encountered only spotty ack ack. Many Japanese gunners fled their positions.

Others had their guns turned toward the sea—but the attackers hit Rabaul from inland.

Three four-engine Liberators, a Mitchell medium bomber and a Beaufighter were lost out of the hundreds of planes involved in the 350-ton bombing assault. Every one of more than 100 P-38s, making their first appearance over Rabaul, got back.

5th Army Crossing Voltorno; British Make A Landing

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 15 (AP)—The main forces of the Allied Fifth army poured across the Voltorno river into newly won bridgeheads today, and dispatches from Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's battle headquarters said the British and Americans were throwing the enemy back along the entire front from the west coast to the mountain backbone of Italy.

The message telling of decisive gains all along the front in the course of furious and bloody fighting was received after an Allied headquarters communique had disclosed that British infantry and tanks had landed from British vessels on the north side of the Voltorno's mouth early Wednesday simultaneously with a frontal assault across the stream by American and British infantry and engineers.

Rolling up the enemy's coastal anchor, this amphibious force quickly dug in positions along a canal, while British naval guns belched steel into the strong German defensive positions behind the coastal railroad line on high ground four miles north of the river.

While the British destroyers, Laforey and Lookout, and the Netherlands gunboat Flores hurled tons of explosives into the hills, a terrific fight raged along the coast. The Germans obviously had been uneasy over the possibility of such a landing—the first amphibious operation undertaken by the Fifth army since its original arrival on the Salerno beaches—and had concentrated huge artillery groups in the dominating heights and in the lower ground.

Meanwhile American troops stormed the heights northeast of Capua in the face of steady German resistance and consolidated their hold on the high ground screening the all-important Capua bridgeheads where the major body of the Fifth army was streaming into the offensive.

A German broadcast said today the Allies had "superior infantry and tank forces on both sides of Capua."

At almost all points north of the river, reports from Clark's headquarters said, the Germans were counter-attacking sharply and bitterly, time after time, employing tanks in desperate efforts to retard or dislodge the Allies at key points.

"The enemy's position hourly becoming more desperate and he will obviously be forced to pull out from all the low area near the river," a military spokesman declared.

An official dispatch from Clark's headquarters at 10:25 a. m. today declared, "The Fifth army continued a strong drive which is rolling the enemy slowly backward. Numerous pockets of resistance are being wiped out."

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army also advanced on the inland sector of the transpeninsular front and captured the town of Casacalenda, five miles northwest of Bonifero and on the north side of the Cigno river.

Super Planes Put Into Use

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—A Super-Bomber—dwarfing the Liberators and the flying forts with its giant bomb load and destructive might—is on its way to enemy lands.

Some have been delivered to the Army although full production and participation in combat is not expected until next year. But belief was expressed by officials today that when the new planes fly into battle, the prediction of world War Ace Eddie Rickenbacker will be borne out—that "No nation could survive the pounding a fleet of these planes can deliver."

The mystery plane is known as the B-29, with a greater bomb-carrying capacity, range and fighting power than any existing bomber.

General Henry H. Arnold, army air forces commander, has observed—apparently with the new B-29 in mind—that the Liberators and Flying Fortresses were the "last of the small bombers."

Labor Leader Says Sales Tax Means Pay Hike

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Philip Murray of the CIO blasted away today at proposals for a national retail sales tax, bluntly warning that if such a levy became law labor would demand wage increases "to make up for this unjustified wage cut."

"The proposed sales tax levy would be the equivalent of a military defeat," he told the house ways and means committee, considering new tax legislation.

Economic Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson previously told the tax-framing body a 10 1/2 per cent sales tax would raise an 8 per cent rise in the cost of living and that subsequent demands for wage and price increases would break the "hold the line" wartime economic policy, opening the way for wild inflation.

Supporters of the tax contend it would deter inflation. Murray, who said he represented 5,000,000 working men and women, stated: "We are absolutely opposed to the imposition of any sales tax. The sales tax is directed at the low income group, it is the worker and his family that spend practically all of their money just to keep themselves alive. They are to have their full income in effect taxes under this most vicious type of tax legislation. High income groups that spend only a portion of their income for food, clothing, or other necessities are to have just that small percentage taxes, whereas the rest of their income may be continued to be amassed for further concentration of wealth in their hands. A sales tax is an imposition of a national wage cut bearing most heavily on the low income groups. Such a tax would be a violation of the obligation given by this government to the working people of America that wages and prices are to be stabilized as of their relationship which prevailed on September 15, 1942."

Only Two Conference Contests In 3-AA

Central, East Warders Score Grid Victories

Central Ward smothered South Ward 26-0 while East Ward desperately staved off a College Heights rally to win 7-6 in opening games of the elementary school football league Thursday afternoon on the Steer stadium grid-iron.

Jones and McMillan, Central backs, each scored a pair of touchdowns to lead the attack of the victors in the opening game while Clark, playing right end, continually smashed what offensive efforts the South Ward boys could muster. However, it was the same story—the boys from the south were too small by virtue of being short a grade and could not cope with superior weight and size.

With Woods smashing at will, East Ward punched to a quick touchdown against College Heights and kept the opposition on the ropes the rest of the first half. However, College Heights rallied in the second, got a score and were pounding back dangerously at the end. Woods ran the deciding point across following his touchdown while Rusk, brother of the Steer quarterback, scored for College Heights.

Southwestern And NTAC Meet For Second Game

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP)—The Little Giants of Southwest football—Southwestern University and North Texas Agricultural College—got together here tonight in the second and final game of their series.

Again it will be a whirlwind passing attack against a terrific ground game.

The ground offensive took the decision when Southwestern and NTAC met the first time with the former winning 20-0.

In four games, Southwestern has allowed a net of only 14 yards through its line, and their victims included Texas, favorite for the Southwest conference title.

FOOTBALL SELECTIONS

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Having changed the tune last week with 28 wins, five defeats and one tie for a season's standing of 92 victories, 21 setbacks and three ties we plunge into this week's football selections with the feeling that it is about time for the roof to fall in, (visiting teams first)

Army-Columbia—Cosech Earl Blaik says the cadets haven't been tested in riling up a combined score of 120 to 0 against Villanova, Colgate and Temple. They'll not be tested tomorrow either.

Penn State - Navy—The Nittany Lions haven't shown anything that would indicate they can stop Navy.

College of Pacific - Del Monte Pre-Flight—Pacific probably is Stagg's best but Del Monte has Len Eshmont, Parker Hall and Paul Christian in backfield Del Monte.

Notre Dame - Wisconsin—The Irish to ramble on unopposed. Purdue - Ohio State to remain undefeated.

Great Lakes - Northwestern—Time to take out the well-worn penny. Heads—Northwestern; tails—Great Lakes. It's heads.

North Carolina - Duke—Duke didn't lose much prestige in dropping a one-point decision to Navy. The Blue Devils on the rebound.

Tulsa - Oklahoma—The Sooners got acquainted with Red Wade when we was with Missouri—much to their sorrow. He's with Tulsa now and the Sooners will regret it once again.

Texas Christian - Texas Aggies—Some say the winner of this one will be the Southwest Conference champ. If that be the case you can put the crown on the Aggies right now.

Southern Methodist - Rice—Drawing this one out of the hat. Southern Methodist to be the first one of the two to win a game.

Camp Grant - Minnesota—The Gophers to continue their surprise showing.

California - U. C. L. A.—A quick guess—California. Holy Cross - Cornell—Cornell to crack the Holy Cross line for a touchdown for the first time this season, Cornell.

Indiana - Iowa—Indiana because of superior scoring power. Arkansas - Texas—No argument, Texas.

And here we go over the chalk lines: Villanova over Bucknell, Maryland over West Virginia, Iowa State over Nebraska, Colgate over Rochester, Oklahoma Aggies over Norman Navy, Richmond over V. M. I., Wake Forest over North Carolina State.

Lester Bowlers Stay Undefeated In League Play

Harry Lester's team went hog wild Thursday evening to blast Safeway for three straight games and thus grab the lead in the Men's Classic Bowling league at the West Texas Bowling Center.

All other matches were decided by 2-1 counts with Park Inn winning over Texas Electric Service, Barrow downing Lee Hanson, and Key & Wentz edging Elmo Wasson.

Ramsey (Park Inn) was high individual with 214 and had high series at 586. Melson (TES) was second on game with 211 while LaBleu shot 556 for runner up in series. Other games of 200 or better were LeBlau 203, Wheeler 200, Hall 207. Harry Lester's team was high on game with 911 and top with series of 2,599.

Team	Standings	W. L. Pct.
Lester	6 0 1.000
Park Inn	5 1 .833
TES	4 2 .667
Safeway	3 3 .500
Barrow	2 4 .333
Key & Wentz	2 4 .333
Wasson	1 5 .167
Hanson	1 5 .167

Hermleigh Uses Power And Aerial Attack To Thump Yearlings, 21-0

Hermleigh powered and passed its way to a 21-0 victory over the Big Spring Yearlings here Thursday evening, scoring once in the first, third and fourth quarters.

Big Spring stalled after the initial kick-off and Douglas' kick went almost straight up. Hermleigh gained nothing in three tries, but instead of trying for an out-of-bounds kick rammed for a first down on the fourth try. This left it on the 10 yard line from where it was rammed through the center on the second down for a score.

The rest of the half was more or less give and take with Hermleigh adding four more first downs while completely stopping the Yearlings.

McClaren and Barron turned in several nice gains for the Yearlings in the third before the attack bogged down and Hermleigh used the old Detroit pass for a 40-yard touchdown pass.

Rallying, the Yearlings stormed back to the Hermleigh 30 yard

Take The Field Against Lamesa At 8 o'Clock

In better physical condition than at any time during the past two weeks, the Big Spring Steers bid tonight for their first conference victory when they meet the Lamesa Tornados at 8 o'clock under the lights at Steer stadium.

Despite a confusion of "dope," Big Spring still rules as the favorite for the tilt, even if a group of local youngsters did rile up the Lamesa youngsters by painting "beat Lamesa" across the high school sidewalk there Thursday evening.

A large number of fans is expected since there is a movement to make "Steer loyalty night" to encourage the Big Spring lads in their effort to get back into the groove after a severe drubbing last week.

These same fans are due to witness a little added color at the half when the high school band queen for the year will be presented. Results of the election will not be known until 6:30 p. m. and identity of the queen will not be divulged until she is introduced at the half following some special maneuvers by the band.

Dibrell said he anticipated starting his regular line up. That would mean Gene Smith and Pete Cook on ends, I. B. Bryan and Lee Christian on tackles, Ray Thomas and Harlan Morgan on guards, Barkley Wood at center, and Leo Rusk, Bobby Barron, Hugh Cochran and Dewie Stevenson, backs.

SPTS—ADD TAKE TO... Starters for Lamesa probably will be W. Bratcher and Ernest Hawkins, ends; J. Billingsley and Bill Matlock, tackles; W. L. Patterson and A. Roberts, guards; D. Moore, center; W. Roberts, R. Kirk, D. Whitmore and D. Wise (Capt.) backs. W. Roberts is an outstanding back and is dangerous, especially when passing to Bratcher. Wise knows his way around, too.

Both Lamesa and Big Spring run from the T formation, which shifts into the box. Both can and do occasionally run from the T. Against Lamesa plays, the Steer first string looked good this week. However, Coach John Dibrell has spent most of the time on practicing protection for the passer and punter, on tackling and dummy scrimmage. He also has given his boys a couple of new plays.

Officials for the game will be Stoney Walls, Stumpy Hamilton, Prentice Walker and Jim Macdgen.

League Warhorse To Turn Manager

DETROIT, Oct. 15 (AP)—Stanley Raymond Harris, the old American league trouper who didn't last a full season in the National league, has prepared the way to return to the junior circuit by signing to manage Buffalo of the International league in 1944.

Buffalo is the principal minor league affiliate of the Detroit Tigers, and the studied reaction here to Harris latest baseball move, announced yesterday in Buffalo, is that he may return to an important role in the Detroit organization. Harris managed the Tigers five seasons before Mickey Cochrane replaced him in 1934.

Bucky Harris, now nearly 47 years old, came to Detroit 15 years ago from Washington, where he had made fame as the "boy manager." The Tigers got him in—eager and immediately appointed him as successor to Manager George Moriarty.

A&M-Christian Tilt Headliner In Southwest

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor

The kids of Aggie land match their speed and spirit against the veterans—comparatively speaking—of Texas Christian tomorrow in the southwest's only battle between unbeaten college teams.

From this tilt at Fort Worth, it is agreed by the critics, will come the team that will play Texas for the conference championship.

Two other games are scheduled with Texas playing Arkansas at Austin and Rice meeting Southern Methodist at Dallas but the emphasis is on the Aggie-T.C.U. struggle.

Texas is expected to wallop Arkansas with only a modicum of trouble and Rice and S.M.U. haven't been figuring in title calculations in the past three weeks.

But vying with the Frog-Aggie tilt will be a joust at Austin tonight between Southwestern, rated in most quarters as the No. 1 college team of the southwest, and the North Texas Aggies.

This is the second game of the season between Southwestern and NTAC and from all indications is due to be closer than the first. The first time these teams met Southwestern beat the Aggies down with one of the greatest running games ever seen in Texas.

However, the Aggies have improved greatly on defense against a running attack and appear to have made rapid strides indeed with their passing.

Texas A. and M. will be favored to beat Texas Christian in most quarters, mostly because of its speed and superior manpower, but the Frogs are fast, too. Maybe their passing doesn't stack up to former years but the T.C.U. running game showed plenty in the lone test for the Frogs to date—a two-touchdown decision over Arkansas.

Here's how they look to a guy who picked four games last week and missed three of them (anticipated attendance in parenthesis):

Friday—Southwestern vs. North Texas Aggies at Austin, 8 p. m. (7,000); Too much power—Southwestern by a touchdown.

Saturday—Texas A. and M. vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth, 3 p. m. (5,000); everybody else is taking the Aggies; we'll pick Texas Christian in a close one.

Rice vs. Southern Methodist at Dallas, 3 p. m. (5,000)—we flipped a nickel, it came up heads but that didn't suit, so we're taking Southern Methodist anyway.

Texas vs. Arkansas at Austin, 2:30 p. m. (15,000)—You know whom; Texas by three touchdowns.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

One minute sports page—All five members of a women's bowling team representing a Chicago beauty shop are blondes. But two of them had to have their collures retreated to meet the sponsor's request... Downstate Illinois sports editors rubbed their eyes and demanded a recheck last Saturday when the AP wires carried a prev football score: Salem 184, Fairfield 0... The recheck was made and the Salem correspondent reported: "We have checked our score again and now find we were wrong. It was really Salem 188, Fairfield 0."... Fullback Don Wile of Salem made 13 touchdowns and ten extra points.

Pigskin pickings—(Northwestern vs. Great Lakes) The gobs from Great Lakes Have just what it takes.

(Duke vs. North Carolina) After Duke runs over the Tar Heels They'll think they were under street car wheels.

(Cornell vs. Holy Cross) If you pick Holy Cross You'll suffer no loss.

Nation's Top Teams Due To Have Little Trouble This Week

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Duke vs. North Carolina at Chapel Hill; Purdue vs. Ohio State at Cleveland and Holy Cross vs. Cornell at Ithaca appear to be tomorrow's best college football games.

Notre Dame, Army, Navy and Pennsylvania—the nation's top four ranking eleven—all face so-called pushovers in Wisconsin, Columbia, Penn State and Lakehurst Naval Air Station. Chief interest centers, therefore, on sectional clashes.

In this category there are many attractive games, notably Rochester-Colgate in the east; Camp Grant-Minnesota, Iowa Seahawks-Missouri; Great Lakes-Northwestern; Pitt-Illinois; and Tulsa-Oklahoma in the midwest; North Carolina State-Wake Forest and Georgia Tech-300th Infantry of Fort Benning in the south Texas Christian-Texas Aggies and Arkansas-Texas in the southwest; and College of the Pacific vs. Del Monte Pre-Flight on the Pacific Coast.

"A Lady Takes A Chance"

RKO presents Jean Arthur and John Wayne in a romantic comedy with Chas. Winninger, Phil Silvers & Cy Kendall.

Jean, a white collar girl, goes West for a vacation. Meets Wayne, a rodeo rider, who takes her on a tour of the town's night spots.

She has such a good time she misses her bus. Wayne with Winninger decides to show her two weeks of fun. They fall in love.

Jean tries to get Wayne to propose and cooks dinner for him, but when it comes to the dish-washing stage he walks out of her life.

She goes back to New York, but Wayne follows her, confesses his love and rescues her from welcoming clutches of her boy-friends.

Meet the Stars With Luis Rosado

Never seen on the screen yet one of the most talked of actresses of the season.

That is Mimi Forsythe, the beautiful and talented young lady who has suddenly burst upon the scene with a bang. She has just finished playing a top role in United Artists' "Russian Girl" and despite the fact that the picture has not yet been released, the grape vine has it that here is a potential star if ever there was one.

Right now she is commencing her second part, an important role in the Benedict Bogeus picture, "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" written by Thornton Wilder.

Miss Forsythe was born in Chicago, but didn't tarry there very long as her parents, industrialist Arthur Armstrong and his lovely wife, were great ones for traveling. So Mimi spent most of her young years traveling about the capitals of Europe and learning about peoples and human nature that now come in so handy for her picture roles.

At an early age she decided that she was going to do something in the arts. Assiduously she tackled the piano and today there are few concertos that she wouldn't tackle at the drop of a piano lid. Not only the piano, but painting and sculpture intrigued her, and today sculpture is her pet hobby.

At the age of sixteen she got her first job in a Little Theatre production and the audience's reaction was so favorable that she immediately decided to make a career. To that end she has studied with the best teachers ever since.

The start of the war found her in Europe where she had some horrible encounters with the blitz and various and sundry other happenings that will some day play an important part in her biography.

She arrived in Hollywood nearly two years ago, settled down in Beverly Hills, and decided to quietly find out what makes the cinema village tick before really tackling the problem of getting into pictures.

Now the opportunity has arrived and it appears that Mimi Forsythe is firmly set on the road to early stardom. She is particularly excited over her role in "The Bridge of San Luis Rey" although she does deplore the fact that for the second successive time on the screen she has to die.

Mimi is a gorgeous blonde, who weighs 118 pounds and has bright green eyes. She is a vibrant personality, always on the go, and has an inexhaustible supply of energy. She is very athletic as far as gin rummy and dancing are concerned. Especially if she is dancing with the servicemen at the Hollywood Canteen.

She speaks beautiful French and can speak a smattering of Italian and Spanish. She likes French poodles which she raises, any kind of candy, the plays of Noel Coward, and yellow roses. Loves music, pretty clothes, and motion pictures.

She takes her acting very seriously and spends much of her spare time on the set watching the older and more experienced players doing their scenes. She has a bracelet which she always wears which has a bangle commemorating practically every event of her life, from her first baby ring to a cross she got in Paris just before she was driven out of the French capital.

With Irwin Allen

Taking a bath on a Saturday night has long since become an international habit. It's not only a clean, indoor sport, it also keeps a guy out of a lot of jams. Maybe there's nothing romantic about a hot tub of water, but it's still the safest place in town. You have the double advantage of knowing you won't be knocked over by a runaway street car plus the freedom of a solo vocal or two within the privacy of four white walls. Carrying the virtue of the weekly dip to a fine point, there is always the possibility that it might keep you from a slight case of murder.

A handy kid with a knife, who didn't go for that Saturday night soap-fest, was a guy who operated under the tag of "Jack the Ripper." The word "operated" is used advisedly. This kid had developed the nasty habit of carving up dolls at the rate of one every Saturday night. Being too busy with his surgical chore, he just skipped the idea of a bath. There is a school of thought which contends that Jack might have been a good kid if he stuck to his tub on Saturday night instead of wandering around town with a nervous stiletto in his belt. A guy can get himself into an awful jam carrying up dolls, even if he limits himself to only one a week. And if he's not especially careful, he winds up in a movie based on his life, sixty years after he dies! It isn't the thought of the carvings but the humility of having every movie-goer in the world know that he didn't take a bath on Saturday nights will have the Ripper spinning in his grave.

Twentieth-Century Fox is producing the life of "the Ripper." The story is based on the best seller "The Lodger" written by Mrs. Belloc Lowndes back in 1911. The facts are not fiction. There actually was a "Jack the Ripper" back in 1886. He knocked off six dolls all within an area of one square mile in Whitechapel, England, and all within a period of three months. According to available records he was never caught, even though the best of Scotland Yard's sleuths trailed him. Laird Cregar plays the title role. George Sanders is the Yard's number one Dick Tracy and Merle Oberon is the number seven doll.

Climax of the series of murders is Cregar's entry into Oberon's dressing-room. The visit could hardly be called a social one. The killer is fascinated by the actress' beauty and at the same time reacts to a twisted brain that forces him to murder. The dialogue and the acting is wonderfully restrained. No screaming, no hating, Cregar whispers his words, Oberon reacts in a slow, convincing manner. And finally the climax. The raised dagger, the scream, the splintering door and Sanders enters guns blazing. It's formula but its good! There's at least enough terror in it to give you half a dozen sleepless nights.

Clifford Odets' "The Front Page" is being produced by RKO. It's a comedy about newspaper life. The story is based on the best seller "The Front Page" by E. V. Rieu. The facts are not fiction. There actually was a "Front Page" back in 1906. He was a newspaper editor in Chicago, and he was never caught, even though the best of Chicago's sleuths trailed him. Cliff O'Connell plays the title role. George Sanders is the Yard's number one Dick Tracy and Merle Oberon is the number seven doll.

"TRUE TO LIFE"

Homespun dramas always seem to find their way into audiences' hearts and "True To Life" is one of those. Even to the highly sophisticated this type of entertainment is a welcome relief from the every day life presentation. This is well understood because all of us have a certain weakness to refreshen our minds and think of things that have happened in the past with such joy and which are so different from the usual run of the mill.

Take the story of "True To Life." It's one of those simple stories told with such charm and beauty that the interest never wanes. You wish after it's all over that there was more of it.

A couple of radio writers have been warned by their sponsors that their day time program (usually known as soap-box operas) are becoming too stale to suit their listening audiences. (These soap-operas are a favorite of practically every wife and have a listening audience of about 5,000,000.) Anyway, the writers are desperate. One of them goes out to think about the problem facing them. He walks until he comes to a coffee counter. He is hungry and orders a meal for which he can't pay since in his worried condition he has forgotten his wallet. The waitress takes pity on him thinking that he is broke, takes him home with her, (don't get excited, she is a respectable girl) and introduces him to her family—a typical American family, with whom the writer has lost contact. Their genuine chatter, and simple way of living inspire him to write a series of radio programs about them. He is so taken with the family that when the father tries to secure him a job he readily accepts. (The writer goes to work in a bakery, lifting sacks of flour.) Then the family listens to the radio and hear their every day happenings on the air. From then on its one laugh after another, since the family think that they have been ridiculed, instead they find themselves the most popular family in America, and the writer and the waitress find that Cupid has played a wonderful trick on them.

Paramount has given this picture all the elements that will satisfy the most sophisticated person in the world. They have a production so "True To Life" that you can't help but live it with the screen characters.

Dick Powell plays the writer. Never have we seen Dick play with such enthusiasm. So far it's the best thing he has done on the screen. His flair for comedy is brought to great advantage. Dick has a following that have been captured by his singing voice. Here they will find a new personality, as Dick doesn't depend on his singing to come across with a crackerjack performance.

Mary Martin also doesn't make use of her voice to captivate the audience, as she plays a straight role minus her singing pipes. Mary is tops. Franchot Tone plays the role of the other writer. He is a sort of a wolf, but a nice one, nice enough to know when he isn't wanted. Dramatically, Franchot has been a success, and in this comedy he finds a new challenge and he does mighty well.

Victor Moore and Mabel Paige (Remember her as Alan Ladd's supposed-to-be mother in "Lucky Jordan?") are superb as the parents.

Others in the cast who add color to the picture in such a manner as to make it a success are Beverly Hudson, Raymond Roe, William Demarest, Harry Shannon and J. Farrell MacDonald.

Speaking of Glamour

LACE WITH TIES

Although she still is of high school age, Hollywood's madcap dancer, Peggy Ryan, shuns those sloppy Joe sweaters that are so popular with girls of her age. Peggy likes to dress up, and you can't ration ideas with a girl like her. Seeing all the business going on with men's bow ties in gay prints, Peggy came up with an idea of how to use these ties to her own advantage. They were just the thing to brighten up her last year's sheer grey wool dress. The printed tie bands were laced across the bodice and on the skirt, finishing with bows at the sides.

NURSERY HINT

Papering or panelling a room with maps is an old story, but Allan Jones has put a new twist on it for the nursery occupied by his children. Instead of using traditional maps of the globe, Allan and Mrs. Jones (Irene Hervey) have gone to points beyond, such as Fairland, Wonderland, the Never-Never Land and so on. The children get a big kick out of this and so do grown-ups.

GLAMOUR IN SLINGS

When does a sprained wrist make a gal the life of the party? When she designs the most dramatic of slings. Recently Patti Brill, seen in RKO Radio's "Government Girl" was invited to an important dinner and wanted to wear a new dress the appearance of which would not be improved by the conventional sling, so she shopped for material that just matched the dress—made a stunning sling and as a finishing glamour touch decorated it with real gardenias!

HUG-ME-TIGHT FOR PAULETTE

One of the latest additions to Paulette Goddard's personal wardrobe is a stunning mid-season dress designed for her by Edith Head. The dress is a slim skirted basic black light weight wool, with sleeves that reach the elbow. Over this basic dress is worn a white "hug-me-tight" tied at the throat and tied again at the midriff. Paulette wears a tiny white hat and carries one of the new "old fashioned" drawing bags. Paulette is busy these days working in her new Paramount picture "Standing Room Only."

Quiz Box

With Dale Drum

Q: June Francis, Fresno, Calif.—Would you please tell me if the stage play "Best Foot Forward" is being made into a picture and who are its stars?

A: "Best Foot Forward" is being made by MGM Studios. Its stars are Lucille Ball, William Gaxton, Virginia Weiler, and Harry James.

Q: Ginny Smith, Bellflower, Calif.—I would like a biography of George Murphy and also where could I get in touch with him?

A: When he was in College George Murphy was injured in a football game so badly that he almost lost a leg. After spending months of agonizing work to finally recover he went to work in a coal mine and was again injured in the legs. Once again he regained his ability to walk and even learned to dance. George is now one of Hollywood's foremost dancers. He learned this from Juliette Johnson whom he married in 1927. They danced together as a team until he came to Hollywood. It was eight years before he finally rose to stardom. Since then he has played in "Ringside Music," "Mayor of 44th Street," "For Me and My Gal," "Bataan," and many more. He is now under contract to MGM studios, Culver City, Calif. He was born in New Haven, Conn., on July 4. He is 5 feet 11½ inches tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. The Murphy family was made a trio in 1938 when Dennis Michael was born.

Inside Hollywood

With Edith Gwynn

Latest bulletin on the Alfred Hitchcock bulge is that he's lost eight-seven pounds to date, with a mere twenty-five left to go. Also been told to smoke two cigars a day—something he never did before. . . . Luise Rainer has rented the house that Garbo had for so long and then moved out of because she suddenly discovered that the wall around it wasn't high enough. . . . Twentieth is testing high school girl Gwen Carter, whose puppy love is Donald O'Connor. . . . Bill Girard is getting an awful lot of ribbing along with the well-wishing on his new associate-producer job. . . . Modesty notes: It is true that in that book, "The Twenty Best Screenplays of All Time," which Dudley Nichols is compiling, his own, "The Land Is Mine," is included? . . . The SPARS are frantically looking for femme musicians for their band at Palm Beach, Fla. . . . Walter Slezak, always referred to in print as a Czech, isn't. He's a Viennese—and not a refugee either. Been a citizen long enough to have voted for F.D.R. twice, he says. . . . The Jorge Delanos, Sr. and Jr., (of the Rockefeller Committee), interviewing Shirley Temple on the set. And Jorge, Jr., gave her a Samba lesson. . . . A local wolf confides that he's charmed, though baffled by the fact that Angela Green (the latest of the belles) can carry on a conversation! Not absolutely necessary, mind you—but so refreshing to discover.

A scene to delight the heart of a playwright took place at that budget meeting held by the officers and directors of the Producers Corp. of America the other day. They had just decided unanimously to hold expenses down on everything. Especially on little things, etc. Right at that very moment, in walked John Shanks, their auditor, proudly exhibiting with great glee a new check-protecting gadget he had just purchased! P. S. They spoiled all his fun. . . . Mary McCarty and Farley Granger have chatted up six weeks steady dating now. . . . Unless there is a drastic paper cut, Life Magazine hopes to give its old advertisers the same amount of space in '44 as it did in '43.

Jill (of all trades) Warren, who acts, writes a radio column, etc., is giving up her current secretarial job at Fox for a couple of weeks to play a part in "Two Sisters and a Sailor" at MGM. . . . Reminds us, Harry James is the subject of a "most hated man" article in a national mag. And no wonder. He's just made recordings of all bugle-calls for the Army Special Service—some of which will wake the soldiers up all over the world. . . . Hear that the Hays office is going to force a title change on the film version of "Naked Genius"—and after they paid all that money for it! . . . Richard Thorne and Charlie Ruggles, the Bill Sellers, Major and Mrs. Frank Floyd, the Bill Gorgans, the Don Ameche, glimpsed at the Clover Club. . . . Dick Haymes says his net economy now is bow-ties. Or don't you catch on? . . . Paul Lukas, home abed with food poisoning. . . . Veronica Lake will keep her two-year-old baby, Elaine, with her here. Though this may be changed to part-time custody when the divorce from Maj. Dettie goes to court.

Dennie Moore, who scored in film comedy roles here before returning to Broadway, is marrying Sander Simon any minute. . . . That famous director, strangely enough, is heading east for a vacation, just as his inamorata is returning to Hollywood from same. . . . Ray Milland will do an air-version of "Adv in the Dark" with Gertie Lawrence for the debut of her radio show. . . . The Paul Draper gets congratulations on a brand new baby girl. . . . Lewis Bowen, National Director of Public Information for the Red Cross, arrived here last night to talk with industry heads. . . . Gail Patrick speech-making to the Women's Advertising Club recently at the Chapman Park. . . . So now the Riobamba in N. Y. is suing the Waldorf-Astoria over Frank Sinatra—and it looks like both places will be suing him!

The Tony Owens are breaking up. For keeps. . . . Lela Rogers is dying to produce a picture—especially at RKO. It's titled, "Situation Out of Hand." Quite a situation over same, too. . . . Pat Knowles goes into the Air Corps today as an instructor. . . . Harry Brand is thinking about taking Benny Thum out on a personal appearance tour as the only man to beat Sol Wurtzel at you-know-what. . . . After eight years training, the Bob Leonards are now ready to launch Marion Bell, who, we hear is quite a singer. . . . Greta Palmer, of Reader's Digest, is here to do an over-all piece on the studios. As we mentioned some time ago, this magazine is getting increasingly Hollywood-conscious. . . . Ida Lupino in a big party, Mervyn LeRoy flanked by Greer Garson and Marlene Dietrich, Jack McLean, Maury Cleary amidst the mob at Mocambo. . . . As we said, the Sonny Tufts are living at Malibu. BUT he now admits they're not with pals—just encoined in an auto-court. And if they don't find themselves a cottage small by something before they leave for San Francisco, they'll have to come back to it again. . . . Jane Green, queen of the soap-operas in Chicago, just arrived to take up her contract at Metro.

Little Increase Due In November Crude Output

AUSTIN, Oct. 15 (AP)—Texas can expect little, if any increase in daily petroleum production in November, based on information Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford Jester obtained in Washington.

Returning from the capitol after conferences with petroleum administration for war officials Jester said the additional oil production from Texas awaited primarily the completion of two new pipe lines.

One from the Slaughter field to Drumright, Okla., is scheduled to be completed about Feb. 15 and another, from Midland to Corsicana, is scheduled to be completed about March 10.

Also under construction is a loading rack at Midland and it should be completed about Nov. 1. West Texas crude transported by these new facilities will be made available to the Chicago-midwest area for refining and to the north Atlantic coast area for heating, Jester said.

The PAW certification for daily October production of Texas petroleum was 1,999,000 barrels and the commission reported average daily allowances for the week ended last Saturday was 2,008,195 barrels.

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

This labor shortage has reached a new peak. Unless our eyes deceived us the other morning, J. H. GREENE, chamber of commerce manager, was doing his own sweeping out. And this to the accompaniment of some good natured heckling of his friends standing by.

Mr. and Mrs. ROYCE SATTERWHITE drove by just in the nick of time for us the other morning and deposited us at the office and because of the ride we got to work on time. Mrs. SATTERWHITE was up early because she had decided to do a little painting about the house. ROYCE claims he has his fingers crossed until he sees the results, but the teasing didn't seem to bother her at all.

Visited a moment with Mrs. B. E. FREEMAN, who was out doing a little shopping. She was of the same mind as we were and that is that these autumn days are too lovely to stay indoors and work.

The Steers sort of checked it to us about the game Friday night. After the disastrous defeat last week, they are asking that everybody come and give them a little moral support tonight and they'll come through against Lamesa. Time will tell, but it isn't a lot to ask of the hometown, anyway.

XYZ Club Entertained With Mexican Dinner

Mrs. C. O. Nalley, Mrs. George Thomas Are Hostesses

Members of the XYZ club were entertained with a Mexican dinner in Mrs. C. O. Nalley's home Thursday evening and Mrs. George Thomas was co-hostess.

A fiesta motif was carried out in decorations, and the dining table and buffet were centered with mixed flowers flanked by blue tapers. Autumn flowers were placed at vantage points throughout the entertaining rooms.

Following the dinner, a business session was held with Mrs. J. D. Jones, president, presiding. Red Cross work was discussed, and the group decided to work at the Red Cross surgical dressing room on Friday mornings of each week.

Bridge and '42 were entertainment for the evening and high score for bridge went to Mrs. Roy Reeder. Mrs. Charles Girdner won '42 high, and Mrs. Alec Miller binged.

Others attending were Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. W. D. Thompson, Mrs. J. B. Apple, Mrs. Bill Younger, Mrs. Leon Lederman, Mrs. Emma Lovelady, Mrs. H. P. Wooten, Mrs. V. A. Whittington, Mrs. Doyle Vaughn, Mrs. Jack Johnson and two guests, Mrs. Tommy Jordan and Mrs. Marie Walker.

Mrs. Charles Girdner and Mrs. Doug Orme will entertain the club next month at Mrs. Girdner's home, 905 E. 12th.

Royal Neighbors To Have Halloween Party

The Royal Neighbors met at the WOW hall Thursday afternoon with oracle, Mrs. Alice Wright, presiding over the business session.

A Halloween party on October 27th at Mrs. Lula May Holley's home was discussed, and those attending were Mrs. Mable Hall, Mrs. Holley, Mrs. Paralee Nabors, Mrs. Pearl Gage, Mrs. Lillian Burleson, Mrs. Emma Wilson and Mrs. Cleo Byers.

Teacher Is Honored At Class Party

A surprise handkerchief shower was given in Mrs. Jack King's home Thursday afternoon honoring Mrs. Arthur Pickle, teacher of a Sunday school class at the Wesley Memorial Methodist church.

Mrs. W. W. Coleman gave the devotional and Mrs. H. J. Whittington was in charge of a business session which was held.

A Halloween motif was carried out in party decorations and golden glow and other autumn flowers were placed at vantage points about the entertaining rooms.

Among games played was a doughnut eating contest won by Mrs. John Whittaker.

Refreshments were served and those attending were Mrs. George Jeffreys, Mrs. Cora Shelton, Mrs. W. W. Coleman, Mrs. J. A. Wright, Mrs. H. J. Whittington, Mrs. Ed Robertson, Mrs. John Whittaker, Mrs. Cecil Nabors, Pauline Milam, Mrs. Mary Edwards, Mrs. H. C. Penikett, Mrs. Arthur Pickle, Mrs. Riley Love-lace and the hostess, Mrs. Jack King.

ARRESTED IN GALVESTON
Weldon Wright, charged here in justice court with embezzlement of funds, was arrested in Galveston by officers there, Sheriff Andrew Merrick said Friday. Wright made bond of $500 for his appearance here on October 25th to stand trial.

ETIQUETTE

Q. I am about to have our Christmas cards engraved and am in doubt as to how my husband's and my name should be signed. Can you help me?
Thanks,
Mrs. J. B.

A. Since Christmas cards are messages of friendship and goodwill, there is a tendency of making them less formal, and personal in your greeting. If the cards you plan to send are to persons with whom you are not very well acquainted, it is best to sign "Mr. and Mrs. John Doe." While if the greeting is to a personal friend, it is better to have the names signed John and Mary Doe" following the conventional rule of Mr. and Mrs.

P-T. A. Program, Business Meet Held At Ward School

Unit To Sponsor Benefit '42 Party And Carnival Here

Parents and teachers met at the West Ward School Thursday afternoon for the second fall P-T. A. meeting of the year which opened with the group singing, "America."

Mrs. S. C. Cooper gave the devotional entitled "Bringing Up Our Children in Admonition of the Lord," closing with a prayer, and Mrs. Charles Clay gave a paper on "Every Child's Rightful Heritage."

During a business session, reports were given by Mrs. J. C. Sewell secretary, and Mrs. W. B. Graddy, treasurer, and the October letter from the P-T. A. president, Mrs. J. C. Stewart, was read.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, reported on the scrap drive which was held last year, and reports were given by various committees. Plans were made to sell defense stamps to school children on Friday of each week.

Mrs. Robert Hill reported on the safety drive and it was announced that the P-T. A. unit sold $3,600 in war bonds during the Third War Loan Drive.

Two amendments were made to the constitution to raise dues to 50 cents, and the list of officers was reduced to president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. A benefit '42 party and carnival will be held at the school October 29th and further plans will be announced at a later date. A group study course will be held October 19th and the group presented a farewell gift to Mrs. Anderson who is moving.

Room count went to Mrs. H. I. Rutherford's class and those attending were Mrs. A. B. Brown, Mrs. Rufus Davidson, Mrs. L. I. Mundt, Mrs. H. H. Rutherford, Mrs. Cecil Pennick, Mrs. L. J. Hadley, Mrs. H. D. Stewart, Mrs. Robert Hill, Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Mrs. A. G. Tynes.

Students Serve On Fine Arts Committee
Representatives to North Texas State Teachers college committees were announced recently by W. J. McConnell, president of the college, and included two Big Spring girls now enrolled in the school at Denton.

Selected to serve on the fine arts committee were Cornelia Frazier, sophomore, and Sara Lamun, senior. Each representative was selected from a group of three nominees, named in a class meeting last week.

Wanda Neel has returned from Dallas and Fort Worth where she has been visiting friends and relatives.

WORTH HUNTING FOR!

Yes, you sometimes have to "go hunting" to "bag" a bottle of CH-B Pickles these days. But, they're worth the effort... because they're always so crisp and fresh, so zestfully flavorful. Naturally, the men of our Armed Forces come first with CH-B and you wouldn't want it any other way. But, we're also supplying your grocer as often as possible. So keep on looking for these quality pickles in the wide-mouth jar, easy to get out!

Editorial - - Leave Strategy To The High Command

Senator Chandler told his colleagues that General MacArthur should be given all he needs to get ahead in the Pacific, or be discharged. The implication in this statement and other recent senatorial talk is that MacArthur has been starved for equipment—deliberately denied even the bare essentials of victory. (But he has been doing pretty well lately, don't you think?)

The best and only answer to these mischief-making senatorial snipings at the high command was supplied a week or so ago by Gen. Henry H. Arnold, chief of the army air forces, whose nickname is the same as Senator Chandler's—Hap or Happy.

Said General Arnold: "The task at Salerno would have been easier with more planes—it could not have been done with less."

Our casualties at Salerno were pretty heavy, including a great number of Texas boys. Now suppose some of the planes that Gen. Arnold said provided a narrow margin of victory had been sent to MacArthur in the Pacific? Our casualties not only would have been much heavier, but we probably would have been thrown right off the Italian mainland.

The reason MacArthur hasn't got all the planes he needs—no military commander ever got all of everything he needed, and never will—was because those planes were covering our men at Salerno, or touching up the Japs in Burma, or smashing Hitler's warplants, or chasing submarines, or performing other necessary and equally vital tasks. We simply need more planes. If we had all we needed, we'd win the war come Thanksgiving.

But it is the job and the responsibility of the high command to apportion available planes to the various tasks. God have mercy on our sons if this task is ever taken over by the politicians.

Washington Daybook— Navy Recruits Heavily For Civilian Employes

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Your capital in wartime:

The manpower situation here has produced some queer quirks but none stranger than the fact that although the Navy doesn't recruit for uniformed duty any more, it is conducting a virtually nationwide recruitment of civilian employes. In 36 states, the Navy is urging civilian employes (mostly girls) to take jobs with the department in Washington. While no effort is made to glamorize Washington, the recruiting officials go in heavily for debunking a lot of the adverse publicity that has flowed out of here about the town's bad working and living conditions.

The truth of the matter is that Washington is getting such a bad name as a place to work and live that not only the Navy but many other federal agencies are finding it an aggravation of the manpower shortage. In spite of Navy's recruitment campaign, it is having difficulty keeping its personnel up to the 20,000 employment that it now has here. One Navy officer tells me that there are numerous reports from the field that girls have refused to join the WAVES and women Marines unless they are promised that they won't be shipped to Washington.

The invasion of Italy has got one of the agricultural agencies burning the midnight oil. It is trying to develop a super-duper spaghetti that will contain all the vitamins, proteins, etc., needed for a balanced diet. If it works out, we may be shipping Italy a spaghetti that will be meat, potatoes, salad, fruit and a dash of ice cream.

As a matter of fact, some agricultural chemists are toying with the idea of putting all the essentials of a balanced diet into the basic food of each of the nations which will have to be fed as this war progresses.

Whether it had anything to do with it or not, the shakeup in the State department and other agencies concerned with foreign relations was certainly a triumph for Harold D. Smith's Budget Bureau. Smith's bureau for a long time has been urging consolidation of all these agencies and much along the same lines that brought lend-lease, the Office of Economic Warfare, the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation, and the State department's old Economic Coordination division, all under Director Leo T. Crowley's new Office of Foreign Economic Administration.

The witch-hunt for professors in key government jobs probably reached its climax the other day when one of the anti-administration congressmen referred to James P. Mitchell, civilian personnel director of the Army service forces, as a Harvard graduate and protégé of Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter.

As a matter of fact Mitchell is a graduate of New York University's night school courses in personnel and labor relations. Much of the time he took the courses, he was working in the shops of Western Electric Co., of which he eventually became personnel chief.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 17

Dumb-founded, Brad stared at Ella Black.

"But why?" he finally asked. "I talked to her just a while ago. She . . ."

"Jane is not here, Mr. Forrester." Mrs. Black's eyes were cold as the winter wind that cut at Brad's face. "She will not be in—to you."

Something snapped in the back of Brad's mind. What was all this? He was getting the run-around, but why?

"Now, listen, Mrs. Bl . . ." he began, but that lady closed the door firmly. There was a distinct 'click' as the old-fashioned bolt slid into place.

Brad stared at the heavy white paneling for a full minute. What the hell? he thought.

Half-way to his car, he turned and surveyed the house. A curtain in the library fluttered back into place. So Ella was watching, was she? Maybe she had a right to, after the way she had told him off.

Or had that been Jane?

Not wanting to believe that, Brad hurried to his car. Once out of the driveway, he slowed down. He wanted to think and he had long since learned that thinking such as he had to do does not mix with fast driving.

Stumbling a little in the darkness, Jane almost ran along the narrow footpath. She had to get away from the house—far away—while Aunt Ella dealt with Brad.

She did want to see him, she realized now with a sinking feeling at the pit of her stomach. She wanted to see him so badly that it hurt.

But she didn't dare. There was something about Brad that made you believe what he said—and she couldn't believe him. Not ever. Uncle Ed had spoken the truth and Brad himself had verified it when he contacted Brandt at the funeral. And all the time, she had been believing in him, telling him everything . . . and falling in love with him.

Angry at herself for admitting it, Jane knew that she was in love with Brad Forrester. In love with him despite the fact she never thought there could be anyone else after Joe Masters was killed. Hardly realizing where she was going, she followed the path as it left the forest and hugged the side of the highway. The wind that whined through the pine trees sounded lonely and sick at heart. Like me, Jane thought.

Oh, Joe, she pined, don't go back on me. Help me to be strong. The wind whipped the words from her lips and flung them into the darkness.

Jane wasn't aware of the car until the headlights swept past her, boring twin holes in the night. Then the brakes squealed and the car lurched to a stop.

"Get in, Jane."

"Brad!"

A new fear grew in her heart. There was anger in his voice, however hard he might be trying to connect it. But there also was misunderstanding and hurt. Jane got in.

"Well, Jane?"

Jane sat silent, hunched in her corner of the seat.

"So that's the way it is?" Brad said after a few seconds. He stepped on the starter. "All right, Jane." His voice was softer.

"Give, as the youngsters say. We're going to drive around until you do—or until my gas gives out."

Jane answered him with a tight little laugh. She hoped he didn't hear her heart pounding away, calling her a liar with every beat.

Finally she said, "Brad, don't you know? Honestly? Surely he wouldn't force her into an explanation. He couldn't!"

But he did. "No, I don't. Suppose you let me in on your little secret?"

Hot anger swept over Jane.

"So you're being that way!" she snapped. "Well, no matter. I'll tell you—and be glad of the chance. I hate you, Brad Forrester! Every bone in your Nazi body. Or, you fooled me for a long time. I didn't believe Uncle Ed when he told me you aren't an American agent. I thought he was mistaken."

"But he wasn't, Brad," she plunged on, her anger at white heat now. "You told me so yourself, just as much as if you'd said 'Jane, I am a Nazi' when you met Brandt at the funeral."

"Jane, I can . . ."

"Explain? Yes, I imagine you could. You're very good at that, Brad. But tell me one thing, why did Brandt search for that letter I found in Mr. Billingsley's files? You had it, you know. Was it because he was trying to throw everyone off the trail?"

Jane's anger faded, leaving her tired. Some of the butterflies that had been imprisoned in her stomach the night they had found

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Plays Part Of Goebbels

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Paul Andor, born in Cincinnati and once well known as a movie actor in Germany, today is wearing Leslie Howard's shoe (one shoe) and Charlie Chaplin's coat.

Mr. Andor's donning of second-hand attire is due indirectly to wartime conversation, and directly to the fact that a Minnesota movie exhibitor is staking $500,000 of his own money, whereupon his faith in the box-office value of a yarn about Hitler's propaganda chief, Goebbels.

The faith of this exhibitor, W. R. Frank, newly turned Hollywood producer, is giving employment also to Sigrid Gurie, born in Brooklyn and reared in Norway, and to Alfred Zelsler, born in Chicago and reared in Germany. Zelsler, once head man at Germany's UFA studios, is directing and Miss Gurie plays a leading role in "Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, His Life and Loves."

Mr. Andor, who plays the club-footed Goebbels, is using the same shoe, from a costume rental company, that Leslie Howard used as the club-footed hero in "Of Human Bondage." His coat, from the same company, was worn by Chaplin as Hitler in "The Great Dictator."

He is a pleasant, mild-mannered and soft-spoken man, but slight in build like Goebbels and capable before the camera of assuming all the polished manners and sly cunning of the Hitler mouthpiece. He will tell you that he never met Goebbels personally, a dubious pleasure he forewent because, after 1933, an interview with Goebbels meant working with the Party or else. He declined, and finally in 1937 won admittance, on a Hungarian passport, to this land of his birth.

Andor had worked in Hollywood for a while in 1931, making German versions, but on his return he had some bad times before he established himself. Anatole Litvak, making "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," launched him on the Nazi cycle which he has ridden, in various minor roles, to his present starring status.

Bill Frank, the producer, is 50, a vigorous chap with a full thatch of greying black hair and an unorthodox habit of answering all the questions, pertinent or otherwise, thrown at him. Before he left the University of Minnesota for World War I he had an interest in six nickelodeons, and his subsequent confessed "passion for business and fighting" has brought him, among other enterprises, 17 movie houses in Minnesota, several finance company, several restaurants, and shares in returns from three Frank-backed movies, "Martin Eden," "The Devil and Daniel Webster" and "Syncopation."

Capital Comment - Tribute To Texas Fighting Men

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Staff Correspondent

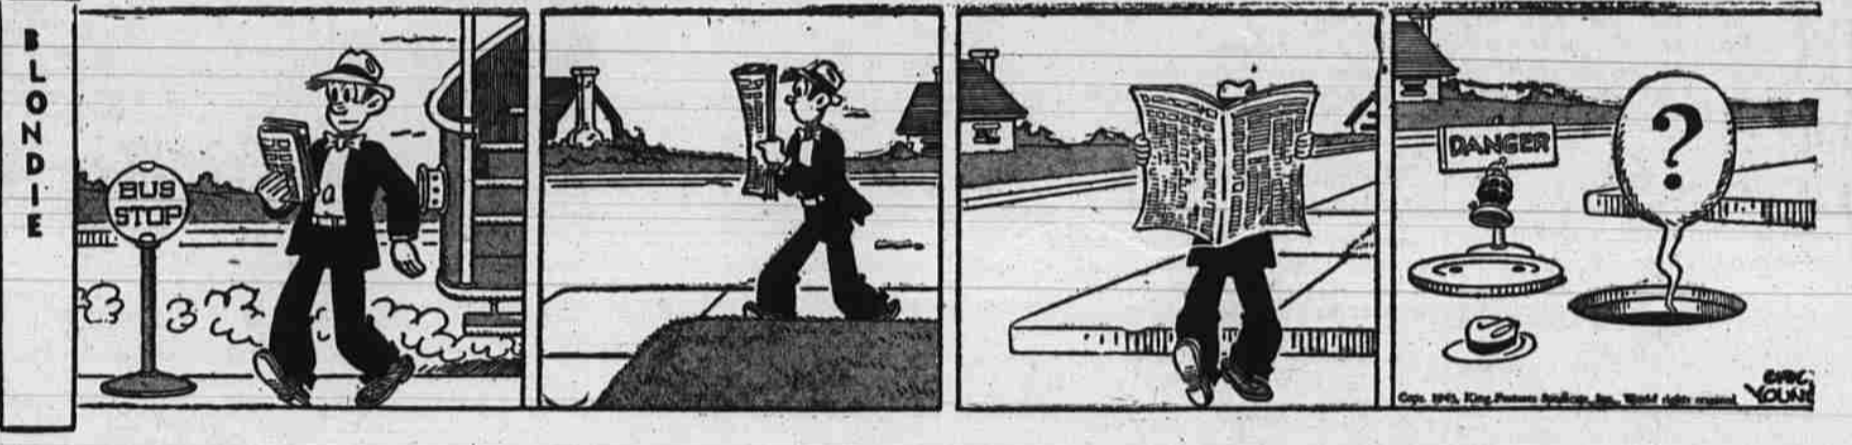

Since Pearl Harbor the local traction company in Washington has trained 1,200 persons to take jobs as street car conductors, bus drivers and the like. It cost the company $500 to break in each one of these new employes, a total of $600,000. Despite this costly training program to increase personnel, the company has only ten more employees than it had when it started the program.

"To my mind," says Congressman Wright Patman, "the President could not have made a better selection for the place of War Food Administrator than our former colleague here in the House of Representatives, Judge Marvin Jones. He is not only an able man, but he has plenty of good, common, horse sense, which is manifesting itself rapidly in connection with the administration of his high and very important office. Judge Jones is further to be commended for surrounding himself with good men like our former colleague here in the House, the Honorable W. L. Nelson, who served on the committee on agriculture when Judge Jones was chairman, and the Hon. Grover C. Hill, assistant secretary of Agriculture."

It is surprising how many people think that Texas was admitted into the Union by treaty. Congressman Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Ranking Democratic member of the house foreign affairs committee, took occasion the other day to set his colleagues right on this point. "The admission of Texas into the Union," said Luther, "was not by treaty. Texas at the time was a republic, an independent sovereign republic. An effort was made to get it admitted through a treaty, but this was not done, and it was admitted by joint resolution of both the senate and the house."

"What's Past Is Prologue," a quotation from Shakespeare's Tempest, is one of the inscriptions on the Archives Building in Washington.

"Madam President (Senator Hattie Caraway in the chair), says Senator Sheridan Downey, of California, "now I desire to call the figures to the attention of the distinguished Senator from Texas (Mr. Connally); because he, as a distinguished leader of the Senate, the man who may very

New Controls In Effect On Employment
WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Stringent federal controls over labor migration and job changes went into effect throughout the nation today.

1) Workers who change their jobs must obtain, either from the U.S. Employment Service (USES) or their former employer, a statement of availability;

2) A worker who leaves a "locally needed" activity may not take another job unless it would "aid in the effective prosecution of the war";

3) A worker is entitled to a certificate of availability if he is discharged, if he is laid off for a week or more, if his continued employment would be an undue hardship or if he is subjected to sub-standard wages or working conditions.

4) The USES must approve the hiring of a worker just arrived in a locality, and must approve job transfers in "critical" occupations and transfers from agriculture to a non-agriculture activity.

5) The USES may refer to other

THE WAR TODAY: Soviet Gains Support Talk For Second Front

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Red army's continued devastating steps into the very vitals of the German front—the cumulative effects of which threaten to tear the Hitlerite line loose from its anchors and force it into dangerous retreat once more—provide an important and significant setting for the Moscow conference of the foreign ministers of Russia, America and Britain which is due to assemble at any moment now.

The Muscovites have let it be known in blunt terms that the initial item on the agenda isn't to be political but is military. They insist that first there must be agreement about the business of winning the war, which includes the "second front" that the Soviet long has demanded.

This has the formidable backing of the situation which the Red offensive is creating. It enables the Soviet to reiterate the theme that the time for the Allies to slant Hitler with everything they have is when he's reeking on his heels.

In advancing arguments to substantiate this stand Moscow can even call on the authoritative German periodical, Das Schwarze Korps which is published by Gestapo Chief Himmler. This paper dares tell the people of the reich that the nazl retreat in Russia has resulted in "a tremendous loss of political prestige for Germany x x x a loss which now troubles many of us."

However, the Allies also have new and striking successes, which are huge contributions to the united war effort, to lay on the table. These include Italy's declaration of war against her former German ally, Portugal's grant of an invaluable base in the Azores, the steady northward grind of American and British armies on the Italian peninsula, and the crippling of Hitler's industrial war effort by the fiercest aerial bombardment the war has produced.

Perhaps it would be best if the issue of the second front and the military effort should come up at once, as the Soviet desires. It strikes me that this probably is the most important problem of the moment, and that once this is solved it will be possible to iron out other differences. In short, post-war relations among the big three are likely to hang on the present decision about military cooperation.

Clothing for U. S. soldiers overseas is now packed in hales instead of boxes.

Labor Disputes Cropping Up

By The Associated Press

Another flurry of work-cancellation springing from labor disputes sprinkled the U.S. industrial front today, even as some recent difficulties were being adjusted.

Return of the nation's coal mines to their private owners--without a contract having been arrived at--was a signal for approximately half of Alabama's pit workers to stop work. A mine front tabulation showed at least 12,000 miners idle and 24 shafts closed. Two Alabama blast furnaces operated by Republic Steel Corporation, were taken out of production for lack of fuel. A United Mine Workers official at Birmingham said the miners in that area had no objection to return of the mines to the private companies, but their agreement to continue work was with the government, and they had no contract with the owners.

Production at the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Docks company yards at Kearny, N. J., was hampered by a partial work stoppage, which union officials said was unauthorized. Union spokesmen said the walkout followed dismissal of five shop stewards the company announced causing a work stoppage last Monday.

The National War Labor Board has had before it since last July, for action, the union's contract with the corporation.

On the other hand, truck drivers in 16 southern states ended their week-long strike and resumed the movement of war-vital freight.

USO Entertainment Slated For Families Of Service Men

An all WAC and soldier show will be presented Monday at 8 p. m. at the city auditorium for parents and next of kin of men and women in the armed services from Howard county.

The show, which is free to relatives of servicemen and women, will include such numbers as a WAC and soldier chorus, and soloists Hal Harris, Bernice Sciorra and Rose Fineberg.

The variety show is being put on through the Special Services department of the Bombardier school and is designed to show those with men and women in the service the type of entertainment which is being provided by the USO.

Original music, dances, and other entertainment will headline the hours program and will be similar to programs which those in the service hear at United Service Organization centers over the country.

Leaders Named For Revival

Accent definitely will be on youth in the community wide revival meeting being sponsored here by the Big Spring Pastors association, it was disclosed Friday with announcement of the evangelist, singer and dates for the meeting.

The Rev. W. O. Vaughn, Jr., pastor of the University Baptist church at Abilene, will be the preacher, and the Rev. Alsie Carlton, Lubbock, pastor of the St. John's Methodist, will direct the music and young people's work, the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, president of the association, announced.

Dates for the meeting will be Nov. 21 to Dec. 5, inclusive, and the First Baptist church will be the site.

Selection of the two leaders for the revival combines the talents of two pastors who have charges in the shadows of two of the largest colleges of West Texas, association spokesmen pointed out.

Committees named at the Friday meeting included: Rev. R. Elmer Dunham, publicity; Rev. H. Clyde Smith, finance; Rev. J. E. McCoy, ushers and hospitality; Rev. Ivy Bohannon, prayer meetings; Rev. W. W. Porterfield, music.

Water Analysis Conference Held By Engineers

Civilian engineers from more than a dozen military posts in this region were to end up a two-day school on water analysis and chemical treatment at the Big Spring Bombardier School today.

The Parley dealt principally of treatment of water for boilers.

Among those here for the school were:

Elmer Davenport, office engineer, AAF pilot school at Earle; Harvey L. Clinton, heat and steam engineer, PAAF post engineers, Pecos; Willis V. McDonald, supervisor of high steam plants at Camp Barkeley; James B. Davidson, operating engineer, hospital and central heating, Goodfellow Field, San Angelo.

Curtis C. Benson, assistant mechanical engineer, Pyote army air field; William C. Lease, sewer disposal and water analysis operator, Ft. S. D. Russell; T. E. Pullman, plumbing and heating foreman, Concho Field, San Angelo; H. H. Pitman, mechanical engineer, Tarrant Field, Fort Worth.

Cecil H. Pemberton, senior steam operating engineer, Camp Wolters; R. E. Murphy, water treatment engineer, headquarters 8th Service Command, Dallas; Orville S. Allen, steam plant supervisor, Camp Bowie; D. Troy Strong, post engineers operator, Midland Bombardier School; Henry C. Holden, heat foreman, Big Spring Bombardier School. Others from the post engineers at the local post were in on the conferences.

War Adventures Take Second Place In Conversation Of Capt. Cordill; That Young Son Is The Main Topic

Bombing and being bombed, winning the Air Medal and an Oak Leaf cluster for 12 combat missions in the Mediterranean area should give a man enough to talk about for months. But Capt. Olie Cordill, home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cordill, on a 30-day leave after treatment for an injury received in an airplane crash in North Africa, would much rather talk about something more important--his three and a half month old son.

Capt. Cordill, pilot of a B-26, who was injured in a takeoff crash near Tunis was in a hospital in North Africa when he received a letter from his wife saying something about how cute his four day old son was. And that nearly brought the captain out of bed, for the cablegram announcing the birth of his son had never arrived and the letter was the first information he had that he was a "Papa."

After getting the letter he was practically well enough to get home, Captain Cordill said, to see his family and that boy, Olie III, whom he already sees as a track star.

Olie had completed his 12th combat mission which included trips over Cape Bon, Pantelleria, Lampadusa, Palermo, Borzeto airport, Milo airport in Sicily, Sardinia and Messina, when he was scheduled to go on a "sea sweep," looking for enemy ships. As he got his bomber off the ground, one engine quit due to heat causing the motor to vapor lock. None but Olie was injured in the crash which occurred on July 3rd. After that he was moved to several hospitals before being returned to the United States for treatment.

Life in North Africa wouldn't exactly come under the head of fun, but Capt. Cordill told of amusing experiences that happened. Everyone in his crew were Texans but the bombardier, who hailed from Florida, so they didn't have to fight the civil war again. But one of his crew had played football for Sam Houston Teachers College which had beaten Rice one year. "Had a little trouble with him," Cordill laughed for the Big Spring man was formerly a star on the Rice team.

The pilot talked of the perfect bombing which the air corps had done in Tunis. "Every dock and harbor and installation which had been marked for bombing, was destroyed while the town itself was not harmed," he pointed out.

Having heard Italian prisoners tell how the people didn't want to fight and having seen some Italian fighter planes whose pilots flew around and waved at them, the surrender of Italy was no surprise to most of the men, Cordill said. But he claimed the Germans were good fighters, and tricky enemies skilled in the art of laying booby traps for unwary Americans and English.

He also spoke admiringly of the ground forces, "who really have it tough. They fight for days without letup while if we get back, we have a bed to sleep in. In the air corps, we run into fighter opposition near the target, anti-aircraft fire over the target, and then fighter opposition on the way back, but then it is all right," he claimed.

Besides bombing, the former Big Spring football star pointed out that they got bombed, too, and one time, they were really unhappy over the results.

The cook at his base had gotten a new stove, new pots and pans, and the whole squadron was looking forward to a good meal for a change. Then the night that all the new equipment was installed, a German plane came over strafing the area and apparently concentrated on the kitchen, ruining the whole place. Asked where he was during this attack and Capt. Cordill chuckled, "I was a couple of feet underground."

The American boys had a lot of interest in the Arabs whom they of course had never seen until they got to Africa. They found out that the Arabs would pay most anything for a clean white sheet and pillowcase, but not for use on beds. "They cut a hole in the sheet and wrap it around them and put the white pillow case on their heads, and the other Arabs think they are men of wealth and show their respect," Cordill said.

Capt. and Mrs. Cordill and their son will leave next week for Houston where Mrs. Cordill's parents live and then he will return to McKinney hospital at the end of his leave.

The captain, whose record as a football star in high school here, later at Rice and then one year for the professional Cleveland Rams, is spoken of with respect by football dopsters, received his wings as a pilot in December of 1941 at Stockton, Calif. He took an instrument course with United Airlines and then was sent to Jackson, Miss., before going overseas.

But all that he has done or will do seems pretty insignificant to Olie. He'd rather show you how his son can sit up, try to walk a little, and grin when you smile at him.

Negro Wounded In Cafe Altercation

Condition of Archie Massie, negro, who was shot during an altercation Thursday night in a cafe in the negro section of town was described as serious by officers, who arrested James Goosby, negro cafe manager, after the shooting.

According to J. B. Bruton, police chief, the police received a call from Goosby that Massie was causing a disturbance in his cafe. Before the police arrived, Goosby claimed that Massie rushed at him with a knife, and he fired three shots from a .38 revolver, one hitting Massie in the chest.

Massie is receiving treatment at Malone-Hogan Clinic-Hospital where he underwent surgery this morning.

Charges are pending.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP) -- The stock market again edged upward today, with leaders adding fractions to 2 points or so, although profit taking stemmed the trend near the close.

The extension of Thursday's recovery got under way at the start and, while buying was almost as timid as the day before, there was enough of it to lift leaders in virtually all departments. Although some issues inclined to waver at the last, plus signs were widely distributed. Volume ran to about 550,000 shares of the full proceedings.

Lend-Lease Inquiry Gains Momentum

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP) -- The Senate Appropriations committee agreed informally today to investigate Lend-Lease operations in conjunction with the Truman War Investigating committee.

Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn.) announced that the appropriations group had "substantially agreed" in an executive session to undertake the probe in response to demands from several senators.

A subcommittee composed of Senators Tydings (D-md.), Truman (D-Mo.) and Nye (R-N. D.) was named to draft a resolution setting out the scope of the inquiry.

Here 'n There

The War department announced Friday the name of 116 Texas soldiers held as prisoners of war by Japan and included Capt. Curtis E. Heaton, son of Mrs. Minnie Heaton, Stanton; Cpl. Joe B. Heaton, Stanton; Mrs. Daisy M. Haigwood, son of Mrs. Odessa, and Sgt. Raymond W. May, son of Mrs. Myrtle B. May of Sweetwater.

Visitors in town Friday from Stanton were Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Mrs. Owen Ingram, Mrs. Son Powell and Mrs. Earl B. Powell.

Pfe. Chester C. Blake, B company, 321st infantry, Camp Horn, Ariz., has been awarded the army's good conduct medal for exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity while serving in the army of the United States, according to announcement from his camp.

Waddell Strain, Colorado City is one of six Texas boys who won the American Farmer award at the 16th Future Farmers of America convention this week in Kansas City. In all there were 134 of these degrees, and all of the Texas winners were among Santa Fe railroad educational award winners. Waddell and others were given an expense paid trip to Kansas City for this achievement.

Dr. and Mrs. P. Marion Simms have received word that their grandson, Lieut. Tom Simms, is now in New Guinea hospital undergoing treatment for back injuries received when his plane was shot down. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burney G. Simms of Sacramento, Calif., and received his commission and wings at Phoenix, Ariz.

W. Dub Coates was inducted into the army as an aviation cadet through the San Francisco induction station as a transfer from the local board. He is now a member of the enlisted reserve and is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Coates, until he is called into active service.

SOLDIERS CHARGED

PAIGNTON, England, Oct. 15 (AP) -- Fourteen American soldiers were charged at a court martial today with mutiny at a United States camp in Cornwall in the result of a clash Sept. 26 in which two military policemen were shot and seriously wounded.

Fire-Proof Coal

NEW YORK--A certain Brooklyn coal dealer is not expected to quote Chief District OPA Attorney Edward L. Coffey in advertising his product.

Coffey complained in federal court that the dealer sold coal that not only failed to burn but "would even extinguish any fire to which it was added."

The court issued a cease and desist order against the dealer.

Services Held For Colorado Woman

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 15 -- Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Grace Shoemaker, 34, were held Wednesday at Kiker chapel in Colorado City. The Rev. Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist church in Big Spring, officiated.

Mrs. Shoemaker died in a Rosscoe hospital Tuesday after an illness of several weeks. She was born in Eastland county, May 15, 1909, and was married to Clyde Shoemaker at Snyder, February 5, 1927.

Her husband and several children, including a two-weeks-old son, survive her. Her children are Mary Louise, Charlotte, Hazel, Lona May, Clydine and Johnnie Lloyd. Also surviving are her father, W. W. Wilson and the following brothers and sisters: J. E. Wilson, Hobbs, N. M.; Mrs. A. R. Claridy, Snyder; Mrs. Weyman Bates, Colorado City; Mrs. Albert Sellers, Seminole; Mrs. W. L. Stokely, Graham; J. Woodrow Wilson, Colorado City; and Walter Wilson, Jr., who is in military service in Alaska.

Death Of Colorado Pilot Is Confirmed

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 15--A telegram was received by Pvt. Tom Morrison, at home in Colorado City while on leave from Sheppard Field, confirming the report of the death of his brother, Lynn R. (Redmoon) Morrison, who was stationed in England with the RCAF.

First word of the pilot's death came recently in a letter to his sister, Gene Morrison, from a friend of the flier in England. The letter gave some of the details of the crash which resulted in Morrison's death while he was piloting a Thunderbolt plane returning from a mission. The Canadian plane crashed on a mountain. Two planes in the same flight were lost in a dense fog, the latter said, one piloted by the flight commander, one by Morrison.

"Redmoon" Morrison, as he was known in Colorado City was born here and graduated from Colorado high school where he starred in football. He enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force several years ago and had been in England more than a year.

Mrs. Self Succumbs To Brief Illness

Mrs. Donna Clara Self, 62, succumbed at her home early Friday following a brief illness.

Final arrangements have not been made, but the body will lie in state at the Nally-Reeder funeral chapel, and services will be held at the Primitive Baptist church in Midland with the Rev. T. A. Dunn of Crosbyton and the Rev. R. B. Howze of Big Spring, officiating.

Mrs. Self was born August 6th, 1881 in Bell county and is survived by her husband, T. Self; one son, C. A. Self of Big Spring; one daughter, Mrs. J. A. Barrington of Midland; nine grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Manpower Board's Meeting Postponed

The important War Manpower Commission meeting for employers, scheduled here for Tuesday evening, has been postponed due to conflict of a state meeting which has been called since. O. R. Rodden, US Employment Service manager, said Friday.

New date for the meeting is Oct. 28. It will be held at the Settles hotel.

Casacalenda is 20 miles southwest of Termoli and about an equal distance northeast of Campobasso.

But the spokesman said Montgomery's patrols were stabbing deep beyond the announced front lines in the direction of the communications centers of Campobasso and Vinchiaturo in the Matese mountains.

Nowhere was the Eighth army meeting heavy and sustained resistance although the Germans fought a brief, sharp battle before relinquishing the ground overlooking Casacalenda.

Fifth army headquarters said both tanks and tank destroyers--big high velocity anti-tank guns on self-propelled mounts--were joining the infantry in the furious drive across the flatlands crisscrossed by small, still-flooded watercourses north of the Volturmo and into the heights beyond which rise to 6,000 feet.

Engineers were throwing "every sort of bridge" across the Volturmo for this flood of men and material, although the assault forces east of Capua were able to wade the stream almost at will.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Charges of forgery against S. F. Morris were dismissed Friday on motion of the district attorney, Martelle McDonald. According to the district attorney, Malcolm Lane admitted to the forgeries for which Morris was indicted by the last term of grand jury. Three charges of forgery have been filed in justice court against Lane.

Soldiers Entertain At Club Luncheon

A trio of soldiers from the Big Spring Bombardier school entertained the American Business club at luncheon Friday noon at the Settles hotel with songs and dances.

Cpl. Phil Tucker acted as master of ceremonies, and introduced Cpl. Yetta Kaufman and Cpl. Ed Todd. The trio sang "Put Your Arms Around Me," and "Sunday, Monday or Always." Cpl. Tucker also sang "Pistol Packin' Mama" and a tap danced. He gave an impersonation of Marlene Dietrich singing "Falling in Love Again."

Cpl. Todd played the piano accompaniment for the numbers.

Sonny Barnett sang "Touch of Texas," and "Gobs of Love," with Mrs. Anne Houser as accompanist. J. B. Apple was in charge of the program.

Two Air Instructors Missing In Plane

STEWART FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 15. (AP) -- Two Stewart Field instructors are missing in their twin-engine training plane, Col. George L. Schlatter, commandant said today.

Lt. Leighton O. Anderson, 21, of Raymondville, Tex., and Lt. Charles O. Beck, 25, of Alexandria, La., took off from Stewart Field at 9:30 a. m. yesterday and were to return at 11 a. m.

Twenty-eight planes participated in a search until dark last night.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Save American Lives

The Army's medical units have the best medical and surgical equipment the medical profession can devise. The same thing is true of the Navy. But it costs money. An operating table for a Navy hospital, for instance, costs $400.

The Bond you buy today or tomorrow or next week, may help buy the operating table upon which many lives will be saved by Navy or Army surgeons. We can't let those boys down. Buy as many Bonds as you can. "They give their lives--You lend your money."
