

Plan Revision Of Corporate Taxation

Administration Wants To Give Evidence Of Cooperation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Treasury experts are formulating drastic revisions of corporation taxes, it was learned today, to give tangible evidence to businessmen of the cooperation administration officials have been proclaiming.

Await Mar. 15 Returns

The proposed changes, designed to make business taxes slightly smaller and substantially simpler, will not be made public for at least a month, a high official said, because the treasury wants to gauge the March 15 income tax payments before offering a new tax bill.

The official, who declined to be quoted by name, indicated the revisions would be aimed particularly at unifying into possibly two taxes the five different levels now paid by corporations and also at giving corporations larger allowances for capital asset losses.

He pointed out that corporations now pay an income tax, excess profits tax, undistributed profits tax, capital stock tax, and social security tax.

The Undistributed Profits Tax

The undistributed profits tax, which in 1936 aroused a storm of business protest, is a dead letter in present discussion, the official said, because the 1928 congress substantially reduced it and provided for its automatic expiration at the end of this year.

The chief objection of corporations to present tax laws, he said, is the $2,000 limitation on deductions of net capital losses. A corporation which makes $1,000,000 profit on selling capital assets (property and securities, primarily) and loses $2,000,000 in liquidating other capital assets can claim only a $2,000 loss as an offset against income from sources other than the sale of capital assets.

Similar limitations formerly bound individuals as well.

The official said many businessmen regard the corporate capital gain and loss provisions as unfair because in good times they get taxed on the profit from capital assets, but in bad times cannot deduct the loss on similar items.

Jews Eager To Get Out Of Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Jews filed into the central emigration office today, eager to complete German legal formalities for leaving the country in the hope some foreign country would accept them.

Five times as many as police had ordered to appear had reported at the office by noon. A total of 100 daily are being notified to get their papers ready and leave Germany within two weeks.

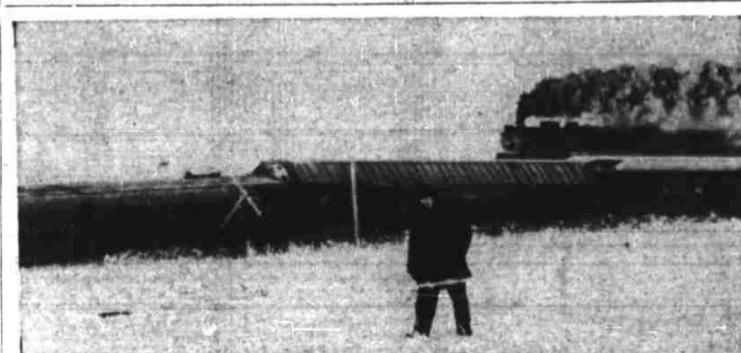

Leaders of the estimated 160,000 Jews in Berlin must submit each day, beginning today, the names of 100 Jews who can leave within a fortnight.

There was a fear among Jews that Jewish men who failed to obtain the necessary papers after being ordered to do so would be sent to concentration camps.

Jewish leaders said they told police the 100 a day figure was so high that some could not obtain visas in the allotted two weeks. But they promised to step up emigration as much as possible.

SIT-DOWNERS RAPPED BY HIGH COURT; EMPLOYER IS GIVEN RIGHT TO DISCHARGE THEM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The supreme court condemned today the action of employees who seized their employer's plant in a sit-down strike.

The decision, by Chief Justice Hughes, upheld the right of the Fansteel Metallurgical Corporation to discharge employees who seized two key buildings of the plant in a 1937 sit-down strike.

This was the third major decision delivered today by the high tribunal against orders by the national labor relations board.

The three were the first important decisions administered by the Wagner labor law in 1935.

"The employees," Chief Justice Hughes asserted, "had the right to strike but they had no license to commit acts of violence or to seize their employer's plant."

"To justify such conduct because of the existence of a labor dispute or of an unfair labor practice," Hughes continued, "would be to put a premium on resort to force instead of legal remedies and to subvert the principles of law and order which lie at the foundations of society."

"As respondent's (fansteel) unfair labor practices afforded no excuse for the seizure and holding of its buildings, respondent had its normal rights of redress."

"Those rights, in their most obvious scope, included the right to discharge the wrongdoers from its employe."

The two other labor opinions were delivered by Justice Stone and Roberts.

In a decision by Justice Stone, he set aside an order by the national labor relations board directing reinstatement of striking employees of the Columbian Enameling and Stamping company, Inc., of Terre Haute, Ind.

Another decision, by Justice Roberts, set aside a board order directing the Sands Manufacturing company of Cleveland, O., to reinstate 48 employees.

Justice Stone asserted the board's conclusion that the Columbia company had refused to bargain with See SIT-DOWNERS, Pg. 5, Col. 1

Labor Groups Not Likely To Merge

Division Of Union Field Seen As Result Of FD's Plea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—A "peace without union" between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor was being discussed in the capital today as the possible outcome of President Roosevelt's appeal to end organized labor's civil war.

Lewis Due To Accept
Predictions were general in both government and labor circles that the two organizations, at odds for three years, would be much more likely to arrange a formal division of the union labor field than merge their forces.

Although some experts were none too optimistic that even such a truce could be reached, they expressed certainty that John L. Lewis of the CIO would follow William Green of the AFL in accepting the president's invitation to appoint a peace committee.

Lewis was silent during the weekend, but Green promptly selected three officials to represent the federation in negotiations.

Shortly after Green made known his position, the AFL yesterday issued a general call for cooperation of government, business, labor and farmers in expanding production and putting men to work. It also suggested creation of a labor council to help advise the government on economic problems.

These proposals, contained in the monthly AFL business survey, came as a Roosevelt administration campaign to reassure business and industry was going forward.

Besides the new attempt to bring about labor peace, this drive included:

- 1. Secretary Hopkins' pledge of cooperation and his declaration that creation of business confidence was a New Deal aim.
- 2. Statements by Mr. Roosevelt, Hopkins and Secretary Morgenthau that no new taxes were planned and that corporation taxes might be revised to help "unfreeze" idle capital.
- 3. Creation of the federal monopoly committee not to propose new anti-trust legislation this year.

Although these developments evoked widespread acclaim in business and congressional quarters, some anti-Roosevelt senators said a determined effort to cut federal expenditures would do much more to restore business confidence than administration promises of no new taxes. They pointed out that government economy was not mentioned in the statements by Secretaries Hopkins and Morgenthau.

Urges Freight Adjustments

Thompson In Washington For Rate Hearings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, Texas railroad commissioner, urged today that the government instruct railroads to correct freight rate differentials discriminatory to the southwest.

He attended a senate interstate commerce sub-committee hearing on freight rates and was expected to testify tomorrow.

Dancer's Love Life Examined In Quest For Death Clues

One Man Friend Furnishes Alibi; Police To Clear Self Of Suspicion

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—Clues from the love life of Anya Sosoyeva, blonde Russian dancer, failed police today in a baffling hunt for the man who beat her to death three nights ago on the campus of Los Angeles City College.

A 34-year-old accountant, Kermit Anderson, who told of "keeping company" with the former Ziegfeld dancer for several months, furnished proof to police that he had joined friends in a poker game at the time she was bludgeoned.

Captain D. R. Patton quoted Anderson as saying he had once lived at the same hotel as Miss Sosoyeva and during their brief but tempestuous romance she had scratched him twice in quarrels and he had slapped her once.

At San Francisco, the movie-struck victim's former home, 30-year-old Stewart Johnson went to police headquarters last night, saying he wanted to make a statement for the record to clear himself of any suspicion.

Officer John Hunt said Johnson told of his one-time friendship with Anya, but declared he knew of no reason why anyone should want to take her life.

Police here still held for further questioning Bernard Sutton, 33, janitor, who was found in Harnsdall Park a few blocks from the college campus Friday night. Sutton is on probation on a lewd charge.

Two murder theories were advanced by Captain Patton, directing the investigation. He said the evidence indicated "it was a grudge slaying, or the work of a sex fiend who lay in wait for a victim."

The pretty dancer was struck on the head with a two-by-four piece of lumber as she hurried to the college auditorium to appear in a parody playlet of "Idiot's Delight."

A fellow student in the federal-sponsored night school, Kenneth Kremling, told police Miss Sosoyeva, before lapsing into unconsciousness, cried out she had been hit without warning by a man she had never seen before. County autopsy surgeons said an examination indicated she had not been ravished.

Miss Rosalyn Ann Stanley, night school dramatic coach, who had befriended her and shared an apartment with her, said the dancer had been so despondent over a blighted love affair recently "that I had decided to sell my small coupe and give her enough money to go back to San Francisco."

An osteopathic physician reported to police the flaxen-haired Russian visited him about two weeks ago for a physical examination, complaining she was indifferent to the attentions of men.

CATTLE MOVEMENT FROM MEXICO INCREASES

UVALDE, Feb. 27 (AP)—A total of 42,853 head of cattle entered the United States from Mexico in 1938 at the ports in the 23rd customs district, Harry P. Hornby of Uvalde, collector of customs, reported today.

This was the second highest number to enter in any year since 1933, and was exceeded only by the 1935 importations which totaled 47,822 head.

Eagle Pass retained its lead as the principal port of entry, 23,096 head having come across the Rio Grande at that point. Del Rio was second with 11,364 head. At Laredo, 6,771 head crossed, and at Hidalgo 1,712 head crossed.

Attendance Is Above That Of Last Year

Bad Windstorm Cuts Down Club Boys' Entry List

Although the worst sandstorm of the season cut entries below expectations, the second annual Big Spring district 4-H club and Future Farmers of America livestock show opened here Monday with a field increased in number and quality.

At 2 p. m. when W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, started judging the animals, there were 14 calves, lambs and pigs officially entered. Included in the group were 61 milked and dry lot steers, 22 lambs and a pair of fat barrows. In addition, club boys displayed five other sheep and one calf not eligible for competition.

J. F. Winnans, Veanmor, had three registered Angoras on display. The show building—the Currier brick warehouse at E. 1st and Goliad streets—was crowded with people as well as fat calves and sheep. There was a much larger attendance than last year when the first district club boy show was staged here.

F. E. Keating, superintendent, and W. S. Satterwhite, secretary, said that the doors would remain open until 10:30 p. m. today so that townspeople could have an opportunity to view the fine animals.

Among those here for the show were V. G. Young, Glasscock county agent; H. M. Fitzhugh, Garden City vocational agriculture teacher; E. B. McLeroy, Borden county agent; George Bond, Martin county agent; H. M. Carter, Sterling City vocational agriculture teacher.

Stangel was to judge sheep classes first during the afternoon and to continue through the four calf divisions. Due to the high winds, judging was being done in a vault of the building.

Winners of the various placings in the nine classes of the show will share in cash awards totaling $250. Their animals will be decorated with ribbons emblematic of their placings.

In contrast to last year, the awards will be made the first day so that the public may compare the champion animals with others on display. The show terminates officially at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

Those with livestock on display were:

- Milked heavyweight—James Jones (M.), J. A. Nabors (Se), Russell Sadler (M), two, Billy Sadler (M), and Homer Howard (M).
- Milked lightweight—J. R. Erwin (Se), James Jones (M), Elmer Anderson (M), Lewis Glen (M).

HAIL AND WIND TAKE HEAVY DAMAGE TOLL IN N'ORLEANS AREA

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27 (AP)—A freakish storm of hail, lightning, rain and wind, the worst to batter this city in 15 years, caused more than $100,000 property and crop damage here and in adjacent parishes.

No one was reported hurt. The storm, lasting no more than 12 minutes, struck at 11:45 o'clock last night. Weather bureau chief W. F. McDonald, who said the bureau's gauge recorded high winds of 40 miles an hour, said the hail fall was the worst to hit here since 1924.

Some stones caved in windows. Power lines were blown down in St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes.

The worst single damage reported, $43,000, was inflicted on the block-square Magnin's industrial terminal here where part of the roof was lifted off, allowing hail and rain to pour in.

LEGAL STEPS TAKEN TO STAVE OFF LONG TERM FOR HINES

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Legal maneuvers were in the making today to stave off a possible long-term prison sentence for Tammany District Leader James J. Hines, whose conviction Saturday of selling political protection to a numbers racket also threatened to unseat a Tammany magistrate.

Apparently ignoring Mayor F. H. LaGuardia's ultimatum that he resign or face impeachment, Magistrate Hulon Capshaw declared he would welcome an investigation by the appellate division of supreme court, to which his case would go.

An appointee of two Tammany mayors, Capshaw was accused by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of having dismissed policy cases against henchmen of the slain

First Aid Tests For Boy Scouts Slated Mar. 11

First aid contests of the Buffalo Trail council will be held in Big Spring on the afternoon of March 11, Al Stiles, Sweetwater, announced Monday.

He said that the six districts of the council were due to hold eliminations Saturday and that these winners were to receive some special training before the council gathering. Council winners, in turn, will be given additional training in preparation for sectional and then regional competitions.

Here for the meeting will be E. L. Vredenburg, assistant national director of health and safety for Boy Scouts of America, Dr. Charles Rosebrough of Sweetwater will be in charge of the competition and Dr. Frank Boyls, Big Spring district safety chairman, will arrange for the judging.

QUICK APPROVAL EXPECTED IN SENATE ON ARMY EXPANSION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Administration leaders forecast today a quick senate approval of the $358,000,000 army expansion bill, 6,000 instead of the house-approved figure of 5,900 appeared likely to provoke debate.

Another senate controversy seemed imminent over a navy recommendation for improving harbor facilities on Guam.

Despite an assertion of Chairman Walsh (D-Mass) of the naval affairs committee that house approval of the $3,000,000 proposal had effectively killed it, an impression prevailed in some quarters that the navy would urge the senate to approve the plan.

The naval committee was expected to take up this week the $48,000,000 naval air base bill, which originally contained the Guam item.

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Less than a third of the objective in the Abilene Sportsmen Club ticket drive for that city opening WT-NM baseball league game had been disposed of in a two weeks campaign which closed Saturday evening so leaders extended the time, sent committees out again, to do the work for Fincher Withers.

A pastboard at $1.10 a throw is especially difficult to peddle but the campaign will probably go over the top. When spring training gets underway, old Sol begins to take control and the youngsters begin tossing the pelotes around then it will be much easier to talk turkey.

Many Abilene folks are still skeptical that baseball will be able to compete with softball, a very popular sport in that city, firmly believe that softball will continue to draw the crowds. In other league cities softball has died out almost entirely. Midland sportsmen have played very little during the past two years. Lubbock seems disinterested while the game spurred here only on occasions.

Withers is planning to make a definite statement concerning the status of the Abilene situation at the schedule meeting of the league's executive committee at Lubbock next Sunday.

Porter Willis, Gene Bennett and Bill Hay, all of Abilene, were selected on the Abilene Reporter-News' all-regional basketball team in the interscholastic league tournament staged in Abilene last weekend along with Leon Jennings and Roy Kindred, both of Lake View. The other starters for the Eagles, Jimmy Conner and Gordon Busby, were named as alternates along with Gabby Hamill and Sleepy Harris, both of Breckenridge, and Jack Martin, Burkett.

The team's success in the West-enders such as fit in the interscholastic league's quarter-final football game at Lubbock last fall.

Mentors of this vicinity consider the Jennings boy as fine a center as there is in the state. A goodly portion would take him over Bennett, the tall Abilenean, who was such a hit in the district tournament here.

Fonso White, the Menton middleweight who has been wintering here and who won his last start in Fort Worth, Oklahoma, is booked for a San Angelo appearance Thursday evening along with Roy Beard, Big Spring 160-pounder. Fonso meets Holbert Giffitt, Lakota, Colo., the heavy-weight wrestler, Everett Marshall's, home town while Beard will take on Joe Flores, a familiar foe.

Larry Friday and Adrian Clark open their third week of spring football practice at Sweetwater high school this afternoon with about 60 boys in camp. Robert Hendrick, James Owen, Bill May, Buck Johnson, Woodrow Hollingsworth, Floyd Gattiff and Audrey Gill are the returning lettermen while Sparky Eberle is a likely candidate for a backfield that will find the redoubtable Jake Webster and Buck Wetzel missing. Hendrick is the only letterman back returning to the fold. Snooks Thomas, cagy quarter, has also gone his way.

Tennis interest is on the up-swing here. Both courts in the city park were taxed to the limit Sunday. The proposed courts on the high school's WPA athletic plant grant, due shortly, will be a welcome addition.

Speaking of tennis, Jo-Jo Elrod, Sweetwater's star netter who also plays a fair game of basketball on the side (he made all-district) wanted to join his father in taking up residence here but remained in Sweetwater because he would not have been eligible here this season. His father, J. W., is in the furniture business in Big Spring.

The Furman athletic mentor, Brady Nix, among others, intends to drop in on Austin and the finals in the interscholastic league basketball playoff this weekend. Brady is a constant student of the game.

Raider, Aggies Start Series

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 27 (AP)—The long awaited crucial series between Texas Tech and the New Mexico Aggies for the leadership of the Border conference basketball race opens here tonight.

The Aggies are the top of the loop with Tech forced to sweep the two-game card to supplant them. The teams play again here tomorrow night; then go to Lubbock for two more games Friday and Saturday.

Herd Football Drills Due To Begin Today

Murphy Expected To Take Care Of 60 Boys In Camp

Provided the elements don't interfere, spring grid drills of the local high school football squad will get underway this afternoon on the new Donley street campus.

There's six weeks of it due this time, with a brief lull booked in mid-April when John Daniel calls a spring basketball drill, and 60 youngsters or more are due to ask for togery before the week is out.

Carmen Brandon, who has assisted with coaching duties for the past three years, shoves off for a new job this week and Daniel will take his place as line tutor until Stanley Smith, former Washington State star and newly appointed physical education director, appears on the scene. Smith will help during the spring. Elva Baker, appointed to succeed Brandon, will not assume his duties until Sept. 1.

Texans Defeat Spindale In Atlanta Meet

ATLANTA, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Phantoms of Bismarck, N. D., held the favorite's role in semifinals of the American basketball corporation's independent tournament today.

Bismarck was pitted against Trenton, N. J., in tonight's opener, followed by Louisville, Ky., and Dallas, Texas.

The Phantoms, playing without substitution, flashed their second straight strong finish last night to eliminate Taylors, S. C., 45-37.

Trenton trimmed Atlanta, 47-45, with long-distance firing.

The big Dallas quietest knocked Spindale, N. C., out of the running with a 53-44 decision when Milton Lewis dropped in two free shots in the last minute.

Louisville jumped into an early lead and coasted to a 47-32 victory over Spokane, Wash.

Pairings For Playoff Tues.

Abilene And Livingston Favored To Gain Finals

By the Associated Press
Pairings will be made probably tomorrow for the state schoolboy basketball tournament at Austin, contenders for which were named last week in eight regional tournaments.

Athletic Director R. J. Kidd of the interscholastic league said he was awaiting official reports from the regional directors before arranging the schedule for the annual meet Friday and Saturday.

Teams to compete are Dalhart, Abilene, Vernon, Gilmer, Livingston, Sidney Lanier (San Antonio), Kingsville and Bowie (El Paso).

Abilene and Livingston were generally favored to reach the finals.

Casadena Five Cops Bowling Tournament

Paced By Stan Wheeler, Locals Defeat Hobbs Team

First prize of $50 was awarded to the Casadena club quintet after their sweeping victory over Hobbs Alley, Hobbs, N. M., in the finals of the Class A eliminations bowling tournament at the Casadena Allevs Sunday. Runnersup received $20.

Paced by Stan Wheeler, who had an individual game high of 223 and an average total of 198, the Casadenans walked off the runways with a pin total of 2,780, setting up a new game record their first time out with a mark of 1,908.

Wheeler, D. Ausmus and Ward Hall rolled four consecutive strikes in that first game to give the locals a fast get-away.

The Casadenans had initiated their drive toward finals by noosing out Pet's Bowling team of Big Spring in two of three matches, scoring 2,708 pins to 2,674 for the opposition, then mowed down the Roadway Transport of Big Spring in the following up duel, tallying 2,542 pins in that one to 2,560 for the foe.

Two Lubbock teams, two of Hobbs and an Abilene quintet competed along with the local entrants.

A total of $105 in prize money was awarded.

The Hobbs combination of O. H. Motley and T. Cunningham socked up the premiums in doubles play, scoring 1,223 while a local pair, J. C. Loper and Wheeler, came in second with 1,145. To the winners went $8 while runnersup were given $4.

In singles competition Earl Odem, Hobbs, was declared the winner with a 589 total, three pins more than Hiram Brimberry, Big Spring. Odem was awarded $5 while Brimberry received a prize of $3.

Roadway Transport of Big Spring won third place in final standings by noosing out Weaver's Service Station, Hobbs, N. M., scoring 2,544 pins to the invaders' 2,518. The Truckers were given a award of $18.

PICARD IST

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Feb. 27 (AP)—Henry G. Picard, the "Hersey Hurricane," who swept $2,700 into his bankroll within a week, led Florida's touring professionals into Georgia today after scoring his second straight victory.

The tall shotmaker from Hershey, Pa., won the Thomasville open and $700 yesterday with a five-under-par 211. He took top money of $2,000 in the New Orleans open a week ago after having won only $175,000 previously on the winter tour.

Picard vaulted into third place among money winners of 1939 by beating John Bulla, young Chicago pro, by one stroke in the $3,000 Thomasville test.

The professionals' next stop is St. Petersburg, Fla., where a $3,000 open starts Wednesday.

HALL IS UPSET BY McGEHEE

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Swinging into the third round of the national indoor tennis championships today, the marked men were Bill McGehee, 19-year-old New Orleans schoolboy, and John H. Pitman of the Seventh Regiment Tennis club here in New York.

This pair thrust themselves into the class for special attention Saturday by upsetting, respectively, fourth-seeded J. Gilbert Hall, veteran from Orange, N. J., and Frank A. Froehling, northwestern tennis captain who was seeded eighth.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS MIX IN NATL. GG PRELIMINARIES

CHICAGO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Four hundred amateur boxers moved into Chicago today in quest of glory and titles inside the squared ring.

Of this horde of youthful fighters, 250 will go home disappointed and 150 will survive the three days of punching in the 12th annual renewal of the Golden Gloves competition.

Tonight's fighting will be confined to the 112, 115, 126 and 135-pound classes. Tomorrow night entrants in the 147, 160, 175 and heavyweight divisions hold the spotlight. Wednesday winners on the two previous nights swap punches in the third round and quarterfinals. When the punching is finished there will be four fighters left in each of the eight classes.

These 32 will return to Chicago March 19 for the final reckoning, eight being crowned as champions.

The Golden Gloves tournament, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., has produced several notable fighters, the most prominent of whom are Joe Louis, heavyweight titleholder, and Barney Ross, who won the welterweight championship in 1932.

Louis won the light-heavyweight Golden Gloves crown in 1934. Ross the Golden Gloves featherweight title in 1935.

Father Time Ump Who Never Argues) Calls 3rd Strike On Many Veterans

Goose Goslin

Mule Haas

By DELTON GRAHAM
AP Feature Service Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Feb. 27—Many familiar faces are missing as the major league baseball teams move to spring training camps.

The bewhiskered grandpops with the scythe, an umpire they can't talk back to, has called the third strike on more than a dozen big-league veterans.

Some have quit baseball. Others have gone downstairs to the minor leagues, as managers or players.

George (Mule) Haas closes his career with the Philadelphia A's last year. Mule came up as an outfielder with the A's a decade ago.

played several years with the Chicago White Sox and then returned to Connie Mack. Haas will manage Oklahoma City.

Haas (Kiki) Cuyler wound up his outfielding chores with Brooklyn. A good hitter and base-stealer, Cuyler played with Pittsburgh, Chicago and Cincinnati. He'll manage Asheville.

Tex Carleton's string as a Chicago Cub pitcher ended last fall when he chucked a wild pitch in the last game of the World Series. He'll carry on in the minors.

Five of last year's major league managers are missing. Mickey Cochrane, one of the game's greatest catchers, was let out by Detroit in mid-season. Charles Grimm, Chicago Cub pilot, turned over the reins to Gabby Hartnett late in the campaign. Cochrane stepped into a business job. Grimm is a broadcaster.

Frank Frisch, Gabby Street and Burtleigh Grimes also are gone. Frisch, one of the greatest second basemen and in recent seasons St. Louis Cardinals manager, may land a radio assignment. Street, longtime catcher, was ousted as the St. Louis Browns' pilot. Brooklyn released Skipper Burtleigh Grimes, who caught on as Montreal manager.

Jo Jo White, Detroit outfielder, said he would retire. White had been traded to Seattle.

Goose Goslin, whose timely hit clinched a World Series championship for Detroit only a few years ago, finished as a Washington outfielder last season. Pitchers Bill Hallahan and Fred Lucas were let out by the Philadelphia Phillies and Pittsburgh, respectively.

Pitchers Guy Bush, Boston Bear; Waite Hoyt, Brooklyn; and Elton Toggatt, Washington, and Outfielder Chick Hafey, Cincinnati, are other veterans who've bowed out of the Big Show.

After Missouri beat Kansas State twice last week while Kansas was knocking Oklahoma out of the picture, those two teams wound up in a tie for the Big Six lead with Oklahoma a half game behind. The winner of Thursday's scrap is certain of at least a tie for the title.

In the northern division of the Pacific coast conference, Oregon with 12 victories in 14 starts is just a game ahead of Washington. An even break in this week's two games would give the Huskies the title. California is the same distance ahead of Southern California in the southern division after they split two games.

Any one of four games in the Eastern Intercollegiate conference may spring a knockout blow. Georgetown, still holding a slender margin over Carnegie Tech and Penn State despite last week's upsurge, finishes its season. The Hoyas figure to have the edge over Penn State tonight and Pittsburgh Saturday because they are at home. Carnegie plays West Virginia then Penn State and by winning both earns a final shot at Temple for a tie or outright victory.

Indiana of the Big Ten and Oklahoma Aggies of the Missouri Valley, on a tie for the title, will have to win if they keep on winning this week wide margins, can take the titles or if their only surviving rivals, Ohio State and Drake, are beaten.

BOVINES CAN COAST TO TITLE WT-NM LOOP MEET WEEK AWAY

Thursday Fray With Aggies Last Game

Mustangs And Bears To Tangle For Third Place

By WILLIAM T. RIVERS
The Texas Longhorns will end a six-year basketball famine this week.

Eight straight victories have carried them within sight of the land of plenty—undisputed possession of the Southwest conference title—and their pennant special should roll in without derailment.

The Steers clinched a tie for the championship last week, and can gain a clear claim by knocking over A. & M. in their final season game at Austin Thursday.

Or, they could win without going on the court—Rice could perform the vicar's role by eliminating the second-place Arkansas Razorbacks in the first of their two-game series starting Wednesday in Houston.

Texas has won 11 and lost two, Arkansas has won 7 and lost 3; therefore, the Razorbacks have but a slim chance to win a tie. They must sweep the Rice series, and A. & M., now ensconced in sixth place because Texas Christian simply won't leave the cellar, must trip the Steers.

The rise of Texas can be told in seven words—team work, unquenchable spirit, and Bobby Moore.

When the season started, no one paid any attention to Texas; or, indeed, to any team except Southern Methodist. The Mustangs were given the title hands down by the pre-season forecasters.

The Steers dropped two of their first three games to Rice and Arkansas and went to Dallas early in February to meet the high-riding Methodist, who had won five straight.

The conference was stunned as Texas stole the ball from S. M. U. time and again, retrieved it from the backboards consistently, guarded the enemy marksmen tenaciously and finally left the court with a deserved 33-27 win.

That was the tip-off. Sparked by Moore, the little guard who has been the difference between a championship team and a second-division club, the Steers have since conquered Baylor, Rice, T. C. U., A. & M., and Southern Methodist again.

While Moore has "the difference," the Longhorns have shown an unmatched display of team work. Capt. Willie Tate, center, and Oran Spear, chief defensive unit, have given Texas the balance it needed.

During this, the closing week of play, S. M. U. and Baylor will compete at Dallas Thursday to break a third-place tie. Depending on the outcome of the Rice-Arkansas series, the winner will have a shot at second place.

The other games—Rice-Arkansas and Texas-A. & M.—end the season.

Texas Christian already has ended its scholastic. Maintaining its reputation for poor basketball, the Christian outfit lost all of its games.

CAUSED A CHANGE
FAIRMOUNT, Minn., Feb. 27 (AP)—Promoter Wally Richmond has ruled out rough stuff at wrestling matches here.

The order came after two juvenile brawlers, armed with bean bladders, halted a match by peppering the contestants with BB shot.

ED WHITE TRIMS JOHN BARNUM IN HOUSTON FINALS

Triumph Over Reigel In S-finals Triumph Over Reigels in S-finals

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
HOUSTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—Long-hitting Ed White of Houston today was champion of the Houston Invitation amateur golf tourney.

White yesterday ousted the 26-year-old Rio Grande valley sensation, John Barnum, 3 and 1, in the 18-hole final.

Barnum previously had held out left-handed Howard Creel of Colorado 4 and 3 in a semi-final match. White, 25, had defeated the Texas amateur golf champion, Bobby Reigel, 3 and 1, in the morning semi-final play.

The new champion of the invitation met turned the first nine with an even par 36. He came to the tenth hole over the green. Barnum was within five feet of the pin with his tee shot. White failed to get on the green in two and was about eight feet beyond the cup in three. Barnum conceded White's putt and slapped his own five-foot putt about 14 inches beyond the cup. The Rio Grande valley contestant asked the referee, Louis Douglass, if White had not conceded the putt, was told that he had not. He leveled down and halved the hole in four strokes.

That incident seemed to upset Barnum, who played coldly and methodically until the seventeenth hole, where by virtue of the score he was eliminated, 3 and 1.

Whickee And Today May Be Nags To Beat

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27 (AP)—Just when it looks like a pair of Argentine horses seem to have the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap sewed up in a bag for delivery to Charles S. Howard, along came three surprise packages named Whickee, Today and Congressman and proceed to wrap a question mark around the foreigners' respective necks.

Kayak II and Sortado are the South American candidates of note. Kayak II still is a contender of note, but Sortado flattened out in the San Antonio handicap Saturday and the surprise trio took over the big money in that $10,000 race.

Whickee, Major Austin C. Taylor's five-year-old gelding, had the race from start to finish, and the others ran two-three.

Sortado, Howard's $45,000 importation, may not have been ready for the San Antonio; whether he'll be ready for the $100,000 special next Saturday remains to be seen.

Big 6, Eastern Cage Races Still Open

Most Conferences Have Passed The Crucial Stages

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—To take over a hockey team for use on a hardwood court, it's "mad as death" basketball on this week's schedule as most of the major college conferences wind up their campaigns.

In hockey that means when either team scores a goal it wins the game. In the 1939 cage season, at this stage, it means that a team that wins a game wins a championship.

Colorado already has clinched the title in the Rocky Mountain Big Seven and Dartmouth of the Eastern league and Texas of the South-west conference have reached the point where they can only be tied if they lose their remaining games. They should clinch the championships this week.

The Southern and Southeastern conferences, after finishing up the ends of their regular campaigns, start their championship tournaments this week.

Although Wake Forest finished its regular campaign with 15 victories in 18 games, the Deacons are just one of eleven teams invited to compete in the tournament starting Wednesday.

Alabama may not be able to carry its southeastern conference lead into the tournament play beginning Tuesday, but the Tide-men are considered a hard team to beat. They play their final regular season game against Mississippi State tonight.

Most conclusive of the other games on the program are the Kansas-Missouri encounter at Columbia, Mo., Thursday and the two Oregon-Washington meetings at Seattle Friday and Saturday.

After Missouri beat Kansas State twice last week while Kansas was knocking Oklahoma out of the picture, those two teams wound up in a tie for the Big Six lead with Oklahoma a half game behind. The winner of Thursday's scrap is certain of at least a tie for the title.

In the northern division of the Pacific coast conference, Oregon with 12 victories in 14 starts is just a game ahead of Washington. An even break in this week's two games would give the Huskies the title. California is the same distance ahead of Southern California in the southern division after they split two games.

Any one of four games in the Eastern Intercollegiate conference may spring a knockout blow. Georgetown, still holding a slender margin over Carnegie Tech and Penn State despite last week's upsurge, finishes its season. The Hoyas figure to have the edge over Penn State tonight and Pittsburgh Saturday because they are at home. Carnegie plays West Virginia then Penn State and by winning both earns a final shot at Temple for a tie or outright victory.

Indiana of the Big Ten and Oklahoma Aggies of the Missouri Valley, on a tie for the title, will have to win if they keep on winning this week wide margins, can take the titles or if their only surviving rivals, Ohio State and Drake, are beaten.

Denton Stands In Way Of ET And Cage Title

COMMERCIAL, Feb. 27 (AP)—The East Texas State Lions, who never have won undisputed possession of the Lone Star conference championship, will have the opportunity tonight to achieve the honor.

If they conquer the North Texas college crew in a match here tonight, they will wipe out the chances of Stephen F. Austin, the nearest competitor, to catch them. The Lions already have clinched a tie for the title. Should they lose tonight's battle, Austin could lose the race leadership into a deadlock by trimming Sam Houston at Huntsville tomorrow night in the season finale.

CIGARET COSTLY

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 27 (AP)—Lonzo Stokes, 26, came into court as a spectator and left as a prisoner.

In the course of a trial, he lit a cigarette.

Judge John W. Spencer, Jr., sentenced him to 10 days in jail for contempt of court.

SOME PUZZLES ON PURCHASING POWER

Purchasing power is a favorite kibblesh in Washington.

How to create it is usually the ambitious subject of discussion with all manner of fiction in statistics to make us believe we are exceedingly poor.

Recognizing this position, the administration should have gone to congress and said that it will be necessary to negotiate with Japan for a settlement in the Pacific...

THE VOTE AGAINST FORTIFYING GUAM

Considering the way in which the authorization for Guam was presented to congress, the action of the bi-partisan majority in the house was, it seems to me, fully justified.

Nobody was thinking about Guam until the report of the Hepburn board appeared. That report was made by a committee of naval officers appointed by order of congress.

Under the interpretation of the Washington treaties which the United States officially insists upon in all its dealings with Japan, we do not have a legal right to fortify Guam.

Recognizing this position, the administration should have gone to congress and said that it will be necessary to negotiate with Japan for a settlement in the Pacific...

Idling through a drugstore one day, Del Solar thought it would be a nice gesture to send her a postcard. There were some lovely ones with the nicest sort of pictures on display in the drugstore.

Shortly after her return, amigo Del Solar rambled over to his friend's office. When he came in the girl began to blush and nervously arrange her hair.

Just then Del Solar's friend came in with a knowing wink, shouted, "Ha, you sly dog, why didn't you tell me?"

"I don't know what you are talking about," Del Solar protested. "Why, you Lothario, you Don Juan, you Casanova, you've been making love to my secretary... she's all twitter. Look at her blush."

The poor girl was so embarrassed she didn't know what to do. And, Del Solar, he practically winked, shouted, "Ha, you sly dog, why didn't you tell me?"

It applies in foreign affairs, the American people like to be let alone, and so they will put up with a lot for a while in the hope that if they do not pick a quarrel, the other fellow will not pick a quarrel with them.

That is why America, to the continual amazement of the rest of the world, has been at once so pacifist and so pugnacious. It would be well if foreigners here and abroad could grasp this characteristic of the American people.

For some few seconds there was a profound silence, and then Del Solar's friend quietly sank into a chair and began to laugh and laugh, until finally they thought they would have to get a doctor for him if he didn't control himself soon.

HOLLYWOOD—Sing a song of censors, a pocketful of lye, there are certain movie lenses would like to see 'em fry...

The only difference between "Yes, My Darling Daughter" and some of the other flickers passed by the good New York board is that the forbidden one shows the heroine talking the matter over with mamma and grandma before she goes to spend the night...

And speaking of censors... There's a chap named Gustav Machaty making a movie out here today, and I'll bet nine out of 10 fans can't place the name...

Howard Hawks and Josef von Sternberg were assigned once to work together on a movie. Within a week the two directors had branched out in different directions, and the upshot was they called the whole thing off...

Annabella and Robert Young and Walter Connolly are together in "Maiden Voyage". Annabella's accent has decreased beautifully, but you still have to listen carefully...

DANGEROUS SERVICE

by GRACE ELLIOTT TAYLOR

Chapter 35 The Gypsy's Prey

No sooner had Peter gone to Spain, than the full storm broke, the revolt started. Rebel ships from the North Atlantic colony landed their foreign legionnaires at Algiers, and seized the province of Huécha, Boun, the rebels held control of Spanish Morocco, the Canaries, the Balearic Islands, most of southwest Spain, and Navarre, the large area north of Madrid.

In Madrid itself, Petrel read, there were many with insurgent sympathies, so that lorry loads of militiamen, bristling with arms, patrolled the streets. Private, commandeered cars, spilling militiamen from steps and wings, dashed up and down Calle Acala, searched houses suspected of harboring Fascists, and fired at those appearing in their windows, if the search had proved unsuccessful. Orders were broadcast, dismissing officers of the army from lieutenants, upwards. Martin Rowdon heard the rattle of militia machine guns, attacking the Montana Barracks, above the heavily censored report which Peter's voice read to him, from the press room. She read Peter's dispatches. Once, he managed to fly over to the French side of the frontier, where the beaches were still filled with holidaymakers, who sat "watching the war." He sent photographs to his paper, which he had obtained in France, of the rebel troops under General Davis, attacking Trun. They showed a petrel in blue overalls, slung rifles, and red berets; Carlins in khaki, with white sking socks, and Sam Browne belts; women, who had joined in the rebellion, and were armed, like men. Soon after Peter made this expedition, they learned that his plane had been commandeered by the Government forces.

Petronella met some of the refugees, among them, her friends the Lorillos from Madrid. They arrived at Victoria Station with the equivalent of a few pounds, in pesetas, a pathetic bundle of clothes, and two tiny suitcases. This was all they had been able to save from the beautiful villa which she remembered as their home. She remembered that they had a son. "Where is Emilio?"

"We do not know, Miss Mallone, He is fighting. It was his duty," the mother answered. She accepted Petronella's invitation to stay at the cottage, with a storm of grateful weeping. Peter had managed to send a letter by these friends. It had escaped the censor. In it he said: "Tony has turned up, so we're both staying at the 'Bristol', and see a good deal of each other. It is lucky for me. He has a friend in the Telefonica building, and I may find it easier to make, and receive calls, with his influence. He says Spain will be an international battleground, before this grim business is settled. I asked him if he had any message for you, old dear. I know you'll want to know his answer. He said, 'My congratulations, that's all.' But he talked about you. He said it seemed odd to find me alone. He feels, as I do, that you've chosen to do the most sane thing you could. With such a job, he couldn't help making you a poor husband. And even though he loves you, he couldn't give it up. But he wants you to be happy. He said, 'Even though he loves me,' thought Petronella, and tried, but failed, to feel scornful of Tony's exaggeration.

Thereafter, Peter's letter was long and interesting, filled with calmly stated details of the revolution. The fact that no censor stood between him and his pen, had not tempted him to exaggerate. One or two scenes of brutality, which he had seen, he recorded. But the letter gave an impression of truth, which other screaming headlines, announcing widespread atrocity, had not. Martin Rowdon thanked Petrel, when he received three of the four sheets, and published most of it as an "uncensored" letter from Spain. The news became worse. Despite Peter's private assurance that "most of the bombs they are dropping are duds, and do little damage," Petronella found it impossible not to be anxious. In the streets, every few yards, Peter was told to "Manos arriba," hands up, and had his papers examined.

James was very understanding of her wretchedness. This was the first real danger Peter had encountered, since she left him. He knew her superstitious fear that fate might, seizing this opportunity, separate them from one another permanently. But there was an additional reason for her anxiety which he did not understand. She had not told him Tony was in Madrid.

"I'm sorry, it's hell for you. But there is nothing you can do about it," he sympathized unhappily. "No, nothing." He blamed the exaggeration of her fear on the Lorillos. "Can't you send them somewhere else? It is enough to get on your nerves having them in the house, always talking about Spain?" "No. They haven't anywhere to go."

"Yes, awful, awful!" "It had to happen, I suppose. I used to laugh at you; then I knew you attacked me. But it didn't seem serious. We've grown into each other lives, just as Petrel has grown out. We can't help it." "You don't hate me," she sobbed. She was warm, small, passionate. "I think I love you." "But you love Petrel." "Differently," he said miserably. "It is you that I want, like this, close to me. How the devil am I to tell her? I must, but when I do Tamara, I shall be responsible for—she'll go to Peter, in that hell, cutting her adrift again. We must wait."

"Yes, I don't think she'll notice." When Petrel joined them they felt guilty, as conspirators. But she seemed scarcely to see them. She told them her news.

Terrorism In The Holy Land

Military On Alert As Rioting Kills 26, Injures 49

HAIFA, Palestine, Feb. 27 (AP)—Soldiers and police were ordered into a state of alert throughout Palestine today as a new wave of Arab-Jew terrorism, coinciding with a deadlock in the London conference on the Holy Land, brought death to 26 and injuries to 49 persons over the weekend.

Three bomb explosions at the Haifa Jewish market and railroad station left 20 known killed and 37 wounded. In Jerusalem three Arabs were killed by bombs and one Arab and one Jew were slain by snipers. At Jaffa burning hand grenades killed one Arab and wounded four.

These disorders brought the casualty toll since the London peace conference opened Feb. 7 to about 130.

U. S. REACTION LONDON, Feb. 27 (AP)—United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy told the British government today that the British government's immigration restriction of Jewish immigration into Palestine and abolition of the British mandate over the Holy Land would have a "disastrous effect on public opinion in the United States."

The Ambassador saw Foreign Minister Viscount Halifax as Jewish delegates threatened to end a conference on the long-standing Arab-Jewish controversy unless Great Britain changed a plan to make the Holy Land an Arab state allied with Britain, with Jews there relegated to minority status.

It was understood Kennedy discussed the situation in the light of a convention between the United States and Great Britain signed Dec. 2, 1924, which stated that no change could be made in the terms of the league of nations mandate "unless such modification shall have been assented to by the United States."

Viscount Halifax was reported to have told Kennedy the British plan was by no means final and promised no change would be made affecting American interests in Palestine without first receiving approval of the United States.

Sit Downers

Justices Black and Reed dissented to both opinions. Justice Frankfurter did not participate in either. Stone said in the Columbus Enameling case that while the labor act "makes it the employer's duty to bargain with his employees, and failure to perform that duty entails serious consequences to him, it imposes no like duty on his employees."

The Roberts decision affirmed a ruling by the sixth circuit court of appeals against the board. The circuit court held that the company had "sincerely attempted over a long period" to negotiate differences with the Mechanics Educational Society of America and had suspended only after the labor organization had taken action "which in effect was equivalent to a strike."

MARKETS

Wall Street NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Ralls regained popularity in today's stock market while many recent leaders were neglected at slightly lower levels.

A few utilities and specialties attracted some buying, but steels, motors, rubbers, aircrafts and mail orders had difficulty throughout in keeping losses to small amounts.

A more than looked-for jump in this week's steel mill operations caused the steel shares to shade early declines, although most were unable to post plus marks.

Italian Tenor Has Some Unkind Things To Say About U. S. Opera

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—Remarks critical of the Metropolitan opera, attributed to Beniamino Gigli by some provincial Italian newspapers brought quick reaction today from American singers.

The Italian papers quoted Gigli as saying the Metropolitan opera, in which he appeared in New York, was in a state of decadence, partly because financial conditions forced it to open its doors to artists who were chosen "with judgment not too rigorous."

Gigli also was quoted as describing three American singers, Lawrence Tibbett, Grace Moore and Richard Crooks, as stars "who cost less and substitute notoriety created by publicity for intrinsic value."

In Rome today Gigli's secretary said the quotations attributed to the tenor were "inexact." Gigli, he said, never concerned himself with politics either in Italy or abroad.

The tenor, who is going to London March 3 to fill a concert engagement, was resting at his villa outside Rome.

Tibbett, in Detroit, fired back "as one publicity hunter to another, x x x I like this country and I think Gigli doesn't."

Miss Moore, in Newtown, Conn., suggested Gigli was disgruntled because "he came back this year and was greeted with only a lukewarm reception."

"It sounds like sour grapes," said Frederick Jagel, American tenor. "He found too many fresh American voices to compete with. I'm going to ask that the Gigli photograph be removed from the Metropolitan gallery."

Opera officials here recalled that Gigli was upset when he arrived in this country last fall and had to pay income taxes due the government since his previous visit.

He also was faced with a rent bill of several thousand dollars and other claims.

Women Demo Leaders Being Named For Their Own Organization

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson, chairwoman of the state democratic executive committee, said yesterday chairwomen being appointed in Texas counties were for a congressional women's organization and not for county democratic committees.

In her statement Mrs. Edmondson noted that made at Dallas Saturday by E. B. Germany, state democratic committee chairman, who said he had written democratic chairmen in Texas counties that chairwomen named in some of them had no legal standing.

Germany had said he did not know that Mrs. Edmondson directed the appointments, but that the chairwomen were named as a result of newspaper articles quoting Mrs. Edmondson that she intended to have them appointed.

Mrs. Edmondson declared: "Mr. Germany is either ignorant of the election laws and of party rule, or is deliberately attempting discord and dissension in democratic ranks of the state for the purpose of destroying women's rights to be a party to the democratic structure."

Mrs. Edmondson said she was preparing a letter to Germany demanding an explanation of his "actions to tear down and destroy women's suffrage in Texas."

The chairwoman said she headed a congressional women's group formed of district chairwomen appointed by congressmen to keep them informed of present problems in the area. The district chairwomen are empowered to appoint chairwomen to preside in the precincts and the electoral districts, but these appointees have no legal status as far as election laws are concerned, Mrs. Edmondson said.

NO ACTION YET ON HWY. APPOINTMENT

AUSTIN, Feb. 27 (AP)—Awaiting committee recommendations on major topics, the legislature plugged away today with floor consideration of secondary bills.

The senate was not ready to consider confirmation of J. C. Hunter of Abilene, Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's nominee for highway commissioner.

Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, chairman of the committee on governor's nominations, said his group would meet some time before Wednesday to order a hearing on the Hunter nomination but added no meeting would be held today.
