

CARDINAL PAGELLI IS CHOSEN AS 262ND POPE

SELECTION IS MADE BY CARDINALS ON THIRD BALLOT

Former Papal Secy. Of State Takes Name Of Pius XII, To Follow Immediate Predecessor; Coronation Likely March 12

VATICAN CITY, March 2 (AP)—Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli today was elected 262nd pope of the Holy Roman church on his 65th birthday and assumed the name of Pius XII.

The name under which the new pontiff will be spiritual ruler of 331,000,000 Catholics was assumed in recognition of his successor Pius XI, to whom he was papal secretary of state.

The election of the eminent Italian cardinal on the third ballot of the first day of the conclave's voting was without precedent in the modern history of the church.

Not since 1621, when Gregory XV was chosen, has a conclave acted so promptly.

The new pontiff has a thorough knowledge of the church in the United States, where he was a visitor in October and November, 1936.

Vatican authorities said the coronation of the new pope was expected to take place on March 12, but the coronation date is decided by the new pontiff himself.

It was considered unlikely that preparations for the elaborate ceremony could be completed by next Sunday, March 5.

Papal coronations customarily take place on Sunday.

The election of Pope Pius XII shattered another tradition in that rarely has a secretary of state to the preceding pope been elevated to the papal seat.

Before the conclave opened Cardinal Pacelli was reported to be the favorite of the 37 foreign cardinals because he was believed to be best qualified to continue the policies of Pius XI, who died Feb. 10.

As if to indicate his intentions of following in the footsteps of his predecessor, the new pope selected the same name.

Pius XII imparted his first papal benediction from the central balcony of St. Peter's to a wildly cheering throng shortly after the announcement of his election.

Camilla Cardinal Gaetano Dominioni, dean of the order of cardinal deacons, appearing on the balcony at 6:57 p. m. (11:07 a. m. C.S.T.) made the announcement into a microphone which carried his voice to loudspeakers in the great square before the basilica and to the world by radio.

In Latin he proclaimed: "Annuntio vobis gaudium magnum; habemus papam—eminentissimum ac Reverendissimum cardinalium Gaetanum Pacelli, qui sibi imposuit Pio Duodecimo."

"I give you tidings of great joy; we have a pope—the most eminent and Reverend Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, who has taken upon himself the name of Pius XII."

Great Ovation Given New Pope

After another wait by the crowd which pushed ever nearer to the steps under the balcony, noble guards, papal guards and papal gendarmes took their places at the sides of the balcony.

The crucifix bearers and acolytes who first had appeared with the dean of the order of deacons, reappeared.

Suddenly the new pope, surrounded by cardinals, came into view. Papal guards executed military honors, first on the balcony and then from below.

The crowd burst into a tremendous ovation as his holiness came forward to the balcony and gazed down.

"Viva il Papa" the spectators roared. Handkerchiefs and hats were waved from thousands of hands.

The pontiff let the ovation continue for some minutes; then he lifted his right hand and signaled for the benediction.

A silence fell on the crowd and some knelt.

A monsignor opened a large ritual book and held it for the pontiff to see.

Gives His Blessings Upon Crowd

"Blessed be the name of the Lord," he said.

"From now and henceforth for evermore," tens of thousands of voices responded.

"Who made heaven and earth," rolled back the response.

The pontiff raised his right hand and three times made the sign of the cross, turning to the four corners of the earth.

"May the blessing of God Almighty, father, son and holy ghost, descend upon you and remain there always," he concluded.

"Amen," roared the faithful.

Pius XII appeared on the balcony at 6:22 p. m. (11:22 a. m. C.S.T.), 15 minutes after the announcement of his election.

After giving his blessing, he remained for several minutes, smiling down on the vast crowd.

Then he raised his hand again in blessing and retired, followed by the cardinals and attendants.

The crowd remained for some minutes, then slowly began to disperse.

The jam in St. Peter's square was so great it took some time for all to leave.

When the election was announced, the great 11-ton bell of St. Peter's, which tolled the news of the death of Pius XI Feb. 10 rang again—this time with the joyous confirmation of the announcement of the choice of the successor to the late pontiff.

Nazis Not Enthusiastic At Choice

BERLIN, March 2 (AP)—Nazi circles today expressed the opinion that election of Cardinal Pacelli as pope would not improve chances of better understanding between Nazism and Catholicism.

Pacelli is generally regarded by Nazi Germany as an enemy of Weimar government.

O'Daniel Cites Guarantee Of Age Pensions

Governor Heard In Texas Independence Day Address

WASHINGTON-ON-THE-BRAZOS, Tex., Mar. 2 (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel stood on the sacred site of Texas' birthplace today and condemned those who would "engender class hatred" by opposing the constitutional guarantee of pensions for the aged and other needy.

On the 102d anniversary of Texas' independence, the governor called for a reconnection to the fundamental principles of democratic government as expressed in the state's constitution.

"As changes in our modern industrial world have brought us to social problems," the governor said, "the people of this state, acting on the principles stated in the Bill of Rights that all power is inherent in the people, have so amended our constitution as to place upon the legislature and upon the governor, the responsibility for finding a satisfactory means for providing pensions for the aged who have but a few more years to live and who are not adequately able to care for themselves."

"These same sovereign voters have written into the constitution the obligation that the legislature must find the money to adequately care for dependent children, provide funds for the needy blind and retirement of teachers who have passed the day of usefulness as instructors of the youth of the land."

"The who would have their public officials disregard their obligations which are a part of the constitution, need not be surprised if in doing so they engender class hatred, a distrust for government and a loss of respect for property rights."

The governor warned that, as representatives of the people, "we cannot successfully demand respect for property rights written into the constitution if we see AGE PENSIONS, Pg. 8, Col. 1

Lutheran Pastor Starts 2nd Year In Nazi Camp

BERLIN, Mar. 2 (AP)—The Rev. Niemoeller, militant Lutheran pastor and World War submarine commander, began his second year in a concentration camp today without any hope of early release.

His parishioners asserted his health was good and his spirit unbroken.

All attempts to intercede in his behalf have failed on orders from the highest quarters, his detention continues indefinitely.

Rev. Niemoeller was arrested July 1, 1937, when he solicited a collection to finance the anti-Nazi fight of the confessional synd, the majority group of the Protestant churches.

On March 2, 1938, he was sentenced to seven months' imprisonment and fined $600 for attacking leaders of the state and using the pulpit improperly.

Army Bill Up For Debate In Senate

Logan Calls Neutrality Act An Aid To Dictatorships

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2 (AP)—Senator Logan (D-Ky.) said in the senate today that passage of the United States neutrality act "gave the green light to the dictator nations of the world to move on the democracies."

Speaking in behalf of the administration's $538,000,000 army expansion bill, Logan said that because neutrality legislation had given "much encouragement" to Germany, Italy and Japan, the United States must be prepared to defend itself against any possible attack.

The house began consideration, meanwhile, of a half billion dollar army appropriation bill, the largest since 1922, and was told immediately it would be asked to "add substantially" to that figure in the very near future.

Democratic Leader Barkley predicted the senate would wind up its arduous discussion of foreign policy and pass the $538,000,000 army expansion bill tomorrow. House officials forecast passage about the same time of the $489,857,936 war department appropriation bill.

Shorty Hudson of Knox City led the way, averaging about 5 miles an hour for the first 45 miles from the starting point, Nacogdoches, to Wichita Falls. However, T. J. Sykes of Devol, Okla., was first into Olney and led the way out to Throckmorton.

It is expected the riders will reach Big Spring possibly by Saturday.

The state department, in turn, furnished McCasland with ammunition valued at around $50 and including about 700 each of .45 and .38 calibre bullets and 1,000 .22 calibre shells.

A comprehensive brief in support of such air mail, express and passenger service has been compiled under direction of J. H. It has been indicated that a hearing on the Braniff application will be held some time in April. Braniff filed application for several other lines, all of which would boost its route mileage from 2,711 miles to 8,208. Braniff told the CAA his company is ready to inaugurate service immediately on the proposed routes, using modern twin-engine Douglas and Lockheed equipment. Schedules on the routes would be coordinated with present Braniff flights and with those of other airline operators. The north-south line would make connection here with the east-west transcontinental schedules of American Airlines.

The child, Marian Wolf, has been unconscious since Monday. "She's a mass of bruises," said Corporal Richard Gray. State troopers jailed Paul William Barrick, 22-year-old former brickyard worker, on a charge of assault and battery and held the child's mother, Helen Wolf, as a material witness. The corporal quoted Barrick as saying he was jealous because he was not the child's father.

Dodd Pays A Fine On Driving Charge

HANOVER COURTHOUSE, Va., Mar. 2 (AP)—Dr. William E. Dodd, former ambassador to Germany, was fined $250 and costs in Hanover court today on a plea of guilty to a charge of hit-run driving involving an injury to a negro child.

The negro child, Glois Grimes, was struck by an automobile on a highway near here last December 5. When indicted by a Hanover county grand jury in January, the ex-ambassador pleaded innocent and was left at liberty under $2,000 bond pending his trial. Prosecutor Stimpkins this morning called Dr. C. C. Coleman, a Richmond surgeon, to testify that the child's condition is now good. The surgeon said there was no fracture of the skull or bones, but that she was unconscious when he first examined her in December.

TEXAS WOMAN IS REPORTED MISSING

CLOVIS, N. M., Mar. 2 (AP)—Southwestern officers today launched a search for West Texas to Phoenix, Ariz., for Mrs. Ruby Horton, 27, of Quanah, Texas, reported last seen February 10 in Phoenix. Mrs. Voda Bates of Clovis, the missing woman's sister, sought police aid after learning her sister purchased a travel bureau ticket at Phoenix and set out for her home February 10 in a car occupied by four men, believed to be Indians. She said she was informed the party was routed by way of El Paso, Texas. Mrs. Horton never reached her destination. Mrs. Bates was unable to suggest any reason for her sister's disappearance other than that she had met with foul play.

MARKETS

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Mar. 2 (AP)—There were individual firm spots in today's stock market but many issues were unable to shake off moderate declines. While an assortment of new highs for the past year or so were in evidence, and aircrafts and specialties were in mild demand, losses of fractions to around a point were plentiful at the close. Dealings were even more sluggish than in Wednesday's slow proceedings, transfers approximating 350,000 shares. Stocks were wobbly the greater part of the day, as were markets. The latter, however, improved in the afternoon. Rails were extremely narrow, as were the majority of coppers, oils and utilities.

MUCH TERRACE WORK DURING PAST MONTH

Monthly report of County Agent O. P. Griffin Thursday showed a total of 150,000 linear feet of terrace and contour lines run on 34 farms during February. Only about six farms have terrace line requests on file, said Griffin. The work may be finished by the end of the week. Another notable development during the month was the formation of a one-variety cotton community at Vashnoor with 22 farmers listing 1,800 acres to Texas Mammoth cotton. Application to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics for clearing will be made later.

Not one of the popular forms of taxation had been overlooked—natural resources, retail sales, transactions and net incomes. Senate and house sub-committee had a collection of bills accumulated over weeks of public hearing for the laymen. The house had will report back next Monday; the senate on March 13.

Club Boy Has Net Of Over $136 On 7 Acres Of Cotton

GAIL, Mar. 2—Joe Landrum, Borden county 4-H club boy in the Fluvanna community, has reported on an outstanding cotton raising project which gave him a net income of $136.29 from seven acres of land.

Joe was given improved Acala seed by Von Roeder Seed Farms of Knapp (Borden county) on the condition he would make a complete report of his demonstration. From seven acres in the center of his father's field, he produced 2,793 pounds of lint cotton in 1938. This amounts to an average of 399 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

He planted eight acres, harvested from seven, put in a total of 88 1-2 man hours labor (exclusive of picking) valued at $8.72, incurred a total expense of $138.72, received $273.01, counted $136.29 net income and $145.01 labor income.

Joe was one of a small group of Borden county 4-H club boys earning a free trip to the state fair at Dallas last year.

Presidential Power Over Agencies Is Debated Again

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2 (UP)—A 150-year-old dispute over the power of presidents to remove officials or abolish agencies is arising once more in the new administration proposal to revamp government departments.

The reorganization bill, though shorn of many controversial features of the measure beaten in the 1938 congress, carries a provision the president may abolish agencies or the functions they perform.

Oddly enough, the first congress worried over a similar problem in 1789. Its debates were secret, but the memoirs and letters of its members show clearly the course of the discussion.

It arose during the debates over creation of the first three government departments—state, treasury and war—and has lingered ever since.

Angelo Visitors Present Rodeo Atmosphere Here To Advertise Stock Show Opening Friday

A routin', tootin' bunch of pseudo cowboys from the Concho blew into town Wednesday night to tell the local gentry in noisy fashion, that San Angelo is having a Fat Stock Show and Rodeo this weekend and would like to have some Big Spring folk be there.

The Angeloans — about 30 of them, traveling by bus — hit town late in the evening, and after a session with the galloping dominoes in the Settles hotel lobby, were persuaded to partake of a dinner along with local service club representatives.

There were exchanges of courtesies as to the relative merits of San Angelo and Big Spring — all speeches being neatly punctuated with audience remarks and tossing of bread rolls — but the Angeloans got in plenty of plugs for their show, which opens Friday and continues through Monday.

Ed Riedel, Legion official, presided at the dinner program, and speakers included Mayor B. A. Carter, City Commissioner J. W. Patterson and Dallas Wales, generalissimo of the party. Best advertisements of them all were three young women singers performing as the Concho Cowgirls — Les Wilkinson, Al Taylor and Zelma Mammack. They harmonized with selections they composed themselves, and were called back for more. There was an impromptu rendition by a male quartet, but that didn't count.

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, and City Manager E. V. Spence, made the responses for Big Spring.

The Angelo jaunt was sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce of that city. The trippers headed west from home base Wednesday, went out to Fort Stockton and Pecos, then back east through Odessa and Midland. They left here Thursday morning with stops scheduled for Colorado, Sweetwater, Abilene, Winters and Ballinger.

BASEBALL FUND WORKERS IN STRETCH DRIVE AS THE DEADLINE NEARS

The Sports Parade

By HANK HART

Baseball stock in this sector's smaller schools is picking up. In Coahoma, where Coach Lloyd Devan and the school board are planning to sod the Bulldog playing field, the red lead is looking forward to the 1939 season with enthusiasm.

Out at Garden City Herschel Wheeler has the endorsement of the school board to continue the six-man game next fall. Floyd Burnett, who coached the Garner Hill Billies to the PSAA championship last fall, will probably conduct a spring training session after track season.

Devan has had a hard time in getting complete approval of the game at Coahoma but his efforts are being repaid now. Already his flock wants to open spring training. Recently Devan said he took the togger from storage to allow the boys to take pictures for a school year book and the boys were reluctant in putting it back, wanted to start in again then and there.

Ellis Head, Richard Gibson and Bobby Martin have been invited to participate in San Angelo's West Texas boxing championships March 10-11, a meeting that will attract about 35 or 40 fighters from throughout this sector.

While Martin is tied up with football and has no intention of competing at the present time and Gibson has retired from the game at the present time, Head said recently he might make the trip provided the lightweight class offers any competition at all.

Alex Martin, the Wichita Falls laddie attending Hardin-Simmons university, Abilene, has been asked to attend but it is doubtful that the former Golden Gloves featherweight champion will be able to take time off for the bout.

Malcolm Bridges, the Kermit promoter who brought that flock of sluggers in here to take part in Ray Simmons' Golden Gloves tournament, is promoting the bouts as a part of his new job as WPA recreational director of the San Angelo district.

Ruffian Rhone, the Kermit wallop who registered in staying almost two rounds with Read in the tourney here, is crying for another

ANNOUNCEMENT ON SCHEDULE MEET MADE

While the official announcement that the WT-NM baseball league's annual schedule would be held in Lubbock Sunday came from League President Milton E. Price's office in Dallas, workers in the campaign to raise $4,000 to protect the local franchise headed into stormy weather as the deadline for a final checkup neared.

Committeemen were to report back to R. L. Cook, the club's president, in an open meeting of fans and directors Friday evening in the district court room of the county court house. The success or failure of that session was to decide the future of professional baseball in Big Spring.

The league is prepared to go to eight clubs, Price's announcement read. If Big Spring retains its franchise, the other seven are ready to join, the report said, while the admittance of Abilene and Amarillo is assured. Midland, Lubbock and Clovis, which supported franchises during the 1938 season, are prepared to operate again.

BROWN IN LEAD

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Mar. 2.—Marshall Brown, Texas Tech's sophomore scoring wizard, has bumped Kiko Martinez, New Mexico Aggie ace, out of first place in the Border conference basketball individual scoring race, unofficial tabulations showed today.

In 16 games, which included the Tech-Aggie series ended Tuesday night, Brown piles up 230 points, against 227 snagged by Martinez in 14 contests.

By the Associated Press ORLANDO, Fla.—Catcher Rick Ferrell arrived at the Washington Senators camp today armed with a Spanish dictionary and a mitt. "We've got so many Cuban pitchers this year," he explained, "that I figured I'd better start doing something about the language."

Ferrell's object is Roberto Ortiz, 203-pounder who knows no English but who throws very hard.

MEDWICK REFUSING TO TAKE $5,000 FAY SLASH ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—It's a $5,000 pay reduction, according to reports, that is keeping Joe Medwick, slugging outfielder, from signing his 1939 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals.

VETERANS SHINE IN BOSTON BEES' CAMP BRADENTON, Fla.—It looks like old-timers week for the Bees. Casey Stengel, who is no spring flower himself, praised the practice efforts of such veterans as Al Simmons, who clouted the ball all over Florida in the first two drives; Danny MacFayden, as usual in better condition than other hurriers; and Tony Cuccinello, who couldn't resist some batting practice even in civilian clothes.

WOULD LIKE ADDITIONS SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Although 14 hurriers took part in the first spring drill of the St. Louis Browns, club officials appeared anxious today to obtain signatures of several veterans, including Buck Newsom.

Six Nags Given Best Chances In Handicap

Heftily May Surprise; Jacola Is Only Filly In Starting Field

LOS ANGELES, Mar. 2 (AP)—As candidates for the $100,000 purse of the Santa Anita handicap hit the track for another workout today, horse experts continued to grapple with the task of dividing the field of probable entries in the Saturday classic into classes of best, next best and distinct long shot hopes.

Bearing in mind anything can and often does happen in a horse race, these six stood out as leading eligibles: Kayak II, Cravati, Whishes, Specify, Gosum and Today.

Ranked just behind were Thangving, Jacola, Heftily, Sortendo, Don Mike, Congressman, Quick Devil, Main Man and Frezo. Much has been said of the favored six, but Thangving, Jacola and Heftily can stand a little attention, too.

Jacola, the lone filly in the outfit, was voted the best in the nation last year as a 3-year-old.

Lefty Bethell, Bob Savage In Bovine Camp

Lefty Bethell, Bobby Savage and D. R. Gartin, counted upon to fill regular slots in the 1939 edition of the Big Spring high school football team, showed up for practice in the "Bovines" spring drills Wednesday as Pat Murphy moved the corps to the Birdwell camp site.

Forty-six uniforms have been issued, Murphy said. The head mentor, assisted by John Daniel and Stan Smith, sent the team through a blocking and tackling drill.

Dempsey Protege Once Aspired To Be Champ Diver

NEW YORK, Mar. 2 (AP)—Jack Dempsey unveiled a diver as his latest heavyweight fight prospect today, and the New York boxing writers gasped when they heard Bill Boyd, the fighter in question, admit it.

"But don't get me wrong, boys," the ex-sailor man hastened to add. "All my diving is done in a swimming tank. I'm pretty good at it, too. I had ambitions to go places as a swimmer and diver before I turned to fighting."

Boyd went on to tell of his boxing "career." It's still quite young but two years ago, professionally less than two years ago, but to date it's blossoming quite nicely. His record shows 23 victories, including 18 knockouts, in 24 pro starts.

Dempsey liked the way Boyd could weather a punch and keep coming, and he'll be in Bill's corner when the 24-year-old "Bama biter" fights Philadelphia Jim Robinson in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Hogs Retain Title Chance

Defeat Rice; Texas Opposes A&M In Feature Go

By the Associated Press The Southwest conference basketball season comes to a close tonight (Thursday) with Texas university virtually assured of the title, but with Arkansas university retaining a chance to go into a tie for top rung with the Longhorns.

If the University of Texas defeats Texas A. and M. at Austin, as expected, the title is theirs regardless of the outcome of the contest at Houston between Arkansas and Rice. If Texas should lose and Arkansas win, the Razorbacks would move into a tie with the Longhorns. Arkansas defeated Rice Wednesday night, 50-45.

Baylor and Southern Methodist fight it out for third place at Dallas. The Bears have lost the services of guard Harry Shahan, who has been ill, which, in addition to playing on foreign soil, Dallas, is expected to handicap them. Baylor and S.M.U. are tied for third place, each having won seven games and lost four.

Arkansas' victory last night gave the Porkers eight wins and three losses while the Longhorns have nine victories and two defeats. Rice has won six and lost five. Texas A. and M. has two victories out of 11 starts and the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs bring up the rear with 20 victories in 22 games.

The Hall of Fame! The name has a magic sound. The Baseball Hall of Fame stands at Cooperstown, New York, where baseball was born, and designated by bronze plaques are those great men of the national game whose deeds will live forever in baseball memories.

MASTER OF THE FADEAWAY

Christy Mathewson will always live in baseball memory as the famous "Big Six" of the New York Giants. Mathewson is not living to receive his laurels during the Centennial. He died in 1925 of pneumonia, his last illness being attributed to the effects of poison gas he inhaled during Army service in the World War.

Matty came to the Giants the idol of Bucknell university, where he had been a football as well as baseball star. He first came into the baseball limelight in 1900 when he won 21 out of 23 games with Norfolk of the Virginia league. He was acquired by the Giants later that year. Strangely enough, when John J. McGraw came to the Giants he found Matty had been placed at first base. But Mac quickly recognized Matty's pitching ability, watched his development carefully, and soon had one of the greatest hurlers taking his turn regularly.

When Matty's arm was feeling right, he was unbeatable. He was an artist with his fadeaway ball, and was largely instrumental in the pennant triumphs of the Giants in 1904, 1905, 1911, 1912 and 1913. During his spectacular career, he pitched two no-hit games, but his greatest feat undoubtedly was registered against the Philadelphia Athletics in the World Series of 1905. In this first official world championship of the National and American leagues, he hurled three shut-out games and the Giants won the series.

He held jointly with Grover Cleveland Alexander the major league record of winning 30 or more games three seasons in a row. Mordecai (Three-Fingered) Brown of the Chicago Cubs was Matty's greatest mound rival, and the two pitched many spectacular duels. Big Six pitched a no-hitter against Brown in 1900, but Mordecai gained his revenge in the famous pennant playoff between the Giants and Cubs in 1908 when Chicago won. Misjudgment of a fly by Cy Seymour, Giant outfielder, was held responsible for this loss, however.

Matty was a great sportsman as well as great pitcher and with his death baseball lost one of its finest figures.

Third Year In Row For SMU Star Center

Adams, Cressy, Moers And Carswell Are Also Honored

Billy Dewell, Southern Methodist's great all-around athlete, capped a brilliant collegiate basketball career by headlining the Associated Press 1939 All-Southwest conference team.

The strapping Dodge City, Kas. youth was picked by conference coaches for the third straight year as the league's finest center.

He joined a group of youngsters — fleet of foot, keen of eye and strong in the clinches — to round out a versatile crew of ball hawks — Long John Adams, scoring sensation from Arkansas, and Pete Cressy, Baylor, forwards, and Frank Carswell, Texas, and Bobby Moers, Rice, guards.

Cressy barely edged past his teammate Grady Vaughn, basketball's sophomore.

Moers and Cressy are juniors; Adams and Carswell, sophomores. Dewell, Moers and Adams were the breath of life for their teams, and every coach cast first-place ballots for them.

Southern Methodist floundered after a burst of speed at the start, and failed to justify the experts' predictions of a second straight championship. Dewell's play suffered somewhat with his team's, but he still was good enough to coast in.

Adams shoved his Razorbacks into a contending position after a ragged start. His scoring spree never let up and coaches believe he'll be a three-year man on the mythical quarter.

Far and away the conference's greatest individual player was Bobby Moers. His ball-handling was magical, and frequently he interrupted enemy drives by stealing the ball. The championship-bound Longhorns were singed by Moers' flaming competitive spirit and never let up. Besides performing a splendid defensive chore, he was a 100-point man through the season.

Cressy did a yeoman job for the Baylor Bears, getting in a smooth, point-producing offensive game at his forward position, then dropping back to guard the opposition's most potent scorer.

Carswell's specialty of dropping in shots from beyond the foul line had other teams frantic. A dexterous ball-handler, he led many downcourt drives and was a backboard specialist.

Making up the second team were Vaughn and Virgil (Country) Wilkerson of S. M. U., forwards; Willie Tate, Texas captain, at center, and Oran Spears, Texas, and Howard Hickey, Arkansas, guards.

J. D. Norton, captain and forward of the S. M. U. 1938 champions, had a chance, like Dewell, to crawl in a first-place berth for the third consecutive time, but his standard of play was far below last year's.

Much Interest In Tennis At Coahoma

Flache Must Find Successors To Marshall And Doubles Team

COAHOMA, Mar. 2—A record number of candidates for the 1939 Coahoma high school tennis team is taking daily workouts under Coach John Flache.

The team that swept all county net honors in 1938 except the senior boys doubles suffered heavily from graduation but Flache has several promising candidates at hand.

The job of replacing Ralph Marshall, county's singles champion of a year ago, and James Hunter and Clyde Ellis Dunn, who lost in a doubles playoff to the Thomas twins of Garner, isn't going to be easy but Laurence Robinson, Roy Collins, Eldon Hull, Hezlie Reed, Evert Little, Jack Graham and Jim Turner are all showing promise.

Workouts are being conducted in the Bulldog basketball gymnasium, which has been converted into a tennis court.

PROBLEMS IN POPULATION

When in a radio address recently Peter Molyneux, editor of The Texas Weekly, made the statement that for the first time in more than one hundred years more people were moving away from Texas than are coming to the state to live, many of the people who heard him were surprised and some doubted it. But the editor proved his statement by figures from United States census.

Today And Tomorrow

By Walter Lippmann (Mr. Lippmann's column is published as an informational and news feature. His views are personal and are not to be construed as necessarily reflecting the editorial opinion of The Herald.—Editor's Note.)

NEW ADMINISTRATION POLICY: I. THE ELECTION RETURNS BEGIN TO REACH WASHINGTON

It is, I think, the fact that Mr. Hopkins would not have wanted to make his low speech and that Mr. Morgenthau would not have been allowed to open up tax reform, were it not that the President has at last begun to hear the election returns.

LIPPMANN

But for eight weeks the newly elected Congress has been in Washington. Direct contact with the representatives of the people has begun to convince the President that the seasoned observers were after all correct when they pointed out in November that the total failure of the Democratic party and the great Republican gains marked the end of a political era.

What is happening now is Mr. Roosevelt's response to what he has learned from Congress about the results of the elections. Mr. Roosevelt is attempting to solve a very difficult problem. He is trying to keep the New Dealers in control of the Administration and the party by letting the New Dealers try to remedy the grievances from which the opposition draws its strength.

So the error of the President's policy is, it seems to me, that he is still misjudging the political situation, failing to see that the primary remedy called for is a change of men rather than a change of measures.

The Herald's Serial Story Dangerous Service

Chapter 26 KEUNION This was the strangest journey of her life, thought Petronella. She was fulfilling prophecy. As the gipsy woman, in her van at the Derby, had indicated she would, she was making her way, of her own free will, towards a besieged city.

Petrel sat limply in her corner, trying to sleep. But her thoughts thronged too fast. Only now and then, they became staccato. She had arrived. No one had met her. She had had to search in the darkness for them, and when she found Tony he was faceless; a cold, impersonal presence, who did not speak to her. She woke, shuddering, and saw her traveling companions.

One of these was a young corporal in the red militia. He had stood, when she entered the compartment, with raised, clenched fist. "Salud, Camarada!" He had helped her with her suitcase, and been surprised when she thanked him in his own language.

He sat, now, peeping through a crack in the flapping blind at the dark, dry, serrated country through which they were passing. The train was ordered to show no lights, for fear of air attack. In the other two corners of the carriage sat two new recruits. They were going to join the Government forces. Like the mercenaries of past wars, they had sold their services to a foreign country.

Behind her, Petronella heard the door open, and a deep, cheerful voice spoke her name. "Petrel!" There he stood, small, sandy, beaming, his arms held out to her. She flung herself into them. "Peter, how lovely!" Behind him, in the corridor, stood Tony. "He has come," she thought. She did not dare to look at him, above Peter's hard shoulder. She could only wait. But Tony's hand gripped hers.

"What is happening?" "The Cheka were searching the train for a dirty spy. They have caught him. He will be shot, the filthy swine!" She saw a young man marched control of the Democratic party, and, therefore, it had lost its control of the country. The only workable response to that development was to reorganize the Administration so as to make it truly representative of the election returns.

down the platform. Watching, pitifully, she wondered whether Tony risked the same treatment, when he carried a number as well as a name. The train was pulling out of the little station again. As it did so, the captive man made a sudden wild break. Dodging and twisting, so that he left half his coat in his captor's hands, he sprang on to the motor. She met his dark, desperate eyes. She started towards the next door, intending, instinctively, to help him. But a volley of shots splattered against the coach. He fell. It was better like that, she realized. To be shot down, hoping to escape, with your eyes filled by a vision of the free hills, of the village where the peasants would have given him food, of the shaggy pony, or mule that would have carried him to safety. It was better to die suddenly, than to go through the suspense of imprisonment, the brutality of questioning, the hopelessness of a trial.

"Now I understand," Peter sounded relieved. "We may be able to help you. But I'd really rather do it myself, than risk your staying in Madrid, Petrel. I mean, I can't imagine what James had to say about it. Perhaps he doesn't realize what Madrid is like, what first hand war you'd see? But if anything happens to you, he'll blame me. Glad as I am that this brought you out to see us—" "Yes, James did try to stop me. But not for his sake, for mine." Petronella's voice was uncertain, but she knew that she must tell the truth. Tony was looking down at her. She raised her head and met his eyes in the half darkness. They gave her the courage she needed. For she knew, "Nothing is changed. He loves me." Mrs. McLean, who ranches near Junction, sold 168 coming yearlings and twos at 7 1-2 and 8 1-2 cents to C. B. McMillan of Mason. They were reported to have been sold without shrink or cut.

M. B. McVay, Eden banker and one of the promoters of Eden's annual ram sale, has one of the lamb crop stories for 1939. McVay says that five of his registered, ewes gave birth to nine lambs last week.

Dee Jones of Roswell, N. M., has contracted his 1939 calves, the unborn crop, to a northern feeder at 11 1-2 cents a pound. He is said to have an unusually good herd of cows. Rumors went the rounds of the ranch country last week to the effect that a Panhandle ranchman had sold his unborn calf crop at that same figure.

Charlie Gray & Sons, in the Brady country, contracted a string of around 400 coming yearlings some time ago at 9 and 10 cents a pound for May 1 delivery.

Bryan Yeager of Brownwood, who operates the Merryweather ranch near Alpine, sold 3,000 yearling ewes at $5.50 out of the wool. Reports the last of the week were that a large string of yearling ewes had been bought from several ranchmen at Fort Stockton at $6.50 a head in the wool.

June 16 and 17 have been claimed at Spur for the Spur Roundup, to be held with the Young Men's Business club as sponsor. The rodeo is an all-amateur affair and will be held on the old roundup site on the Spur ranch. George Sloan has been named chairman of the rodeo board.

New Braunfels business men will be hosts at their annual good will fiesta on March 8 and 9, entertaining with a two-day short course, livestock show and barbecue. The affair is sponsored by the chamber of commerce.

Speakers for the short course will include W. R. Nesbitt, animal husbandry specialist of A. & M. college; George P. McCarthy, poultry expert from A. & M.; L. L. Johnson, state director of 4-H clubs; F. E. Lichte, A. & M. cotton specialist; Walter Dillard, Jr., of New Braunfels Textile Mills, and Walter Carlwell of the Luling Foundation Farm.

A baby beef show and auction sale will feature the second day and the celebration will climax with a free barbecue. Approximately 3,000 farmers and ranchmen are expected for the event.

recreation and entertainment for the two days.

Three representatives from the Crow and Cheyenne Indian reservations in Montana were in Uvalde for a week recently and bought 1,500 head of yearlings from various ranches in that section.

Pierce A. Hoggett has been named central chairman of the new Kerr County Boys Fat Stock Show, recently made a permanent organization. Adam Wilson is vice-chairman and Monroe Kensing is secretary-treasurer. Success of the fourth annual stock show this year at Kerrville was said to have justified further expansion and permanent organization. Regular standing committees were appointed at a meeting of business men, ranchmen, and representatives of the sponsoring group, the Junior chamber of commerce.

Marvin Skaggs of Junction, whose Angoras topped the recent Kimble county livestock show, plans to take ten or fifteen goats to the Angora show at Lampasas July 19, 20 and 21. Six or eight of the goats will be his show flock and the balance will be sold.

W. O. Dickerson of Roosevelt says that not over ten per cent of the kid crop in his country is on the ground.

Blackstone Smith of Junction describes the Angora as the "poor man's friend" and says the goat eats up, while the sheep eats down. Mr. Smith says he never has to feed his goats and kids them on the open range. He watches the weather for shearing time and waits for a warm temperature so that he will avoid having to keep the goats in a shed.

Little Chance For Bill Fixing State Policy On Dams

AUSTIN, Mar. 1 (AP)—A state policy for public dams—seeking to stipulate what percentage of each reservoir should be kept vacant for flood protection—faced a battle for life today.

The senate affairs committee refused it a favorable report yesterday after declining to send it to a subcommittee for rewriting.

Sen. L. J. Sulak of LaGrange, the author, gave notice of minority report but 15 affirmative votes will be necessary to keep it alive on the senate calendar.

A house committee recently killed a similar bill which pertained only to Buchanan dam, operated by the Lower Colorado River Authority. Sulak's proposal was statewide in effect. He stipulated a 50 per cent vacancy in reservoirs but suggested the committee could alter the figure.

Asserting he had no intention of destroying the LCRA or any other public authority, Sulak said his bill sought only genuine flood protection for property owners along the lower Colorado.

Opponents had argued adoption of the policy he suggested would prevent repayment of loans by rivers authorities which depend upon revenue from sale of power for amortizing their borrowings. They claimed a permanent 50 per cent storage space would not allow sufficient water for generating power in quantities to keep pace with amortization.
