Commissions Open To Former Army Medical People

Many former Army nurses, dietitians, physical therapists and occupational therapists who had duty in World War II are now eligible for regular Army commissions.

This is possible under an act which became law on May 14, Col. Oscar B. Abbott, chief of the Texas Military District explained. The act opens integration into the Army for a period of one year for World War II nurses and other medical department women. This is provided they had not reached their 35th birthday at the time of entrance on extended active duty, regardless of their present age. Reserve nurses now on extended active duty are provided for as well as those not now actively commissioned. Similar provision is made for others. Appointment grades range from second lieutenant to captain. Detailed information may be had from the Office of the Surgeon General, department of the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fields, 806 Young St., have as their guest, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Arnold Fields of Emerson, N. J. Mrs. Fields arrived in Big Spring Saturday morning by plane from New Jersey.

NON-FARM JOBS HIT NEAR-RECORD PEAK

AUSTIN, June 24 (U)—Non-farm employment of Texans hit a near-record peak in May, the State Employment Commission said today.

The total was 2,367,100 compared with 2,375,300 in December. That was the record high.

The May figure was 53,100 above that of last year.

Factory employment shot up to 394,500, due mainly to the addition of several thousand workers in Lower Rio Grande Valley food processing plants.

Fort Worth led the 17 major labor market areas in gains, with 1,700 workers going on the job in aircraft, food processing, construction and communication industries. Dallas was next with 1,600. In the Beaumont-Port Arthur area the employment situation improved despite labor-management disputes which threw some 5,000 off jobs. An employment increase of 500 was reported.

Other employment gains, Abilene, 450; San Antonio, 400; Lubbock, 350; Wichita Falls, 350; Texarkana, 250; Austin, El Paso and San Angelo, 200 each. Smaller increases were reported at Corpus Christi, Amarillo and Longview-Kilgore-Gladewater areas.

Only two employment losses were recorded in the 17 major areas, and both were minor. Waco and the Galveston-Texas City areas dropped some workers, TEC said.

Benefit In Training Is Now Top Aim Of Army Reservists

Army reservists reporting for training now will be assigned only such duties as "contribute materially to the individual's military development."

Under this new regulation, benefit in training to the reservist becomes the paramount objective. Training will be scheduled for completion within the ordered time, without extensions.

10 Prisoners Let Out

TOKYO, June 24 (U)—Ten Japanese minor war criminals will be paroled July 3, General MacArthur's headquarters said today. They are being released under MacArthur's parole plan for minor prisoners who have finished half their sentences.

Local Candidates Meet Assessments

All local candidates passed the second hurdle on their way to a place on the ballot Saturday.

L. S. Patterson, chairman of the county executive Democratic committee, said that all ballot assessments had been met. The charge came as a surprise to a few neophytes to political wars, as is always the case. However, all paid.

The charge results from the effect that the July primary (and run-off in August) is a Democratic party affair. Therefore, its financing is a Democratic party affair. This is done by assessing candidates a certain share of the estimated total cost. The office sought, plus the number running for that office, sometimes influence charges.

Another deadline comes up Monday. That is the last day for candidates to file their first expense account with the county clerk.

Corcoran Rites Held Saturday

Burial was in the St. Mary's cemetery, with Eberley Funeral home in charge of arrangements. Pallbearers were Dick Canafax, Shine Phillips, W. T. Alexander, Lester Wise, G. W. Dabney, Charles Vines, Wendell Parks, and Paul Frame of Alamo. All railroad men were considered honorary pallbearers.

Small Producer Is Possible In Irion

Possibilities of the development of a small production from the Leonard section of the lower Permian have been found at Wilshire Oil Company and Balboa Oil Company No. 1 Brooks, Central-East Irion County wildcat, five miles southwest of Tankersley.

This venture ran a one-hour drillstem test at 3,725-4,000 feet. Recovery was 30 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no shows of formation water.

N-Central Howard Venture To Seek Clear Fork Zone

Operations reportedly were underway on the G. P. Livermore, Inc. No. 1 Texas & Pacific Coal & Oil Co. No. 1 W. B. Currie, north central Howard Clear Fork exploration.

WEEK'S REVIEW New Pool Seen In Kent And Runnels

SAN ANGELO, Tex., June 24—Widely separated Kent and Runnels counties led in West Texas oil news development the past week, Kent with a Pennsylvania lime strike and Runnels with a Morris Sand opener.

Trio Of Canyon Ventures Staked

Three Canyon explorations have been staked in the oil fields of Scurry County.

On the north edge of the Diamond M-Canyon field eight miles west of Snyder, the Pure Oil Company has scheduled its No. 1 Iowa Williamson.

Drillable will be 487 feet from west and 860 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 214, block 97, H&TC survey.

Water Continues In NW Mitchell

John W. Murchison and Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Womack, wildcat in Northwest Mitchell County, is still flowing more water than oil from a Pennsylvania lime.

On the latest test reported, it flowed 82 barrels of fluid, of which 79 per cent was water and 20 per cent a one-inch choke.

Offset Is Slated For Kent Discovery

Kewanee Oil Company has staked a one-location north offset to its recent Pennsylvania lime discovery in Southwest Kent County.

The proposed venture, Kewanee No. 1-D Will, will be 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 3, block 4, H&GN survey, and 15 miles southwest of Clairmont.

Northeast Howard Tests Progressing

Two northeastern Howard county wildcats continued drilling ahead Saturday.

Shell No. 1 E. T. No. 1, 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west lines of section 2-30-1n, T&P, progressed to 7,187 feet in shale and lime.

Amerada Stakes Well

Amerada has staked its No. 3 Cora E. Weathers, 2,002 feet from the north and 1,508 feet from the east lines of section 94-35, H&TC, a 7,500-foot rotary test in the Von Roeder pool of southeast Borden.

Fifth Of Groups Apply For Benefits Of Smith-Doxey Act

About one-fifth of the organized cotton improvement groups have already applied for the benefits due them under the Smith-Doxey Act, according to H. J. Matejowsky, cotton representative of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Applications for these services can be secured from: Cotton Classing Office, PMA Office, County Agent and Gins. They should be sent immediately to P. O. Box 2001, Abilene, Texas.

Depletion Figure Retained In Tax Bill Due This Week

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, June 24, (U. S. —) If the new tax bill becomes law, oil men can put to rest for some time to come any fears of a reduction in their tax depletion allowance.

The bill, scheduled for House consideration Tuesday, leaves undisturbed the 27 1-2 per cent reduction allowed oil and gas operators for income tax purposes—a provision designed to compensate them for abnormal financial risks peculiar to the petroleum industry.

Locations Pace Activities In Good And Vealmoor Pool Areas

An inside location for the Good pool in southwestern Borden and a northeast offset to the Vealmoor pool highlighted operations in these two areas last week.

Condor moved in on its No. 2-36 Good, a north offset to its No. 1-36 on the lease, and a south offset to Seaboard & Pan-American No. 15 Good which completed for 984 barrels. No. 2-36 Good will be 660 feet from the north and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 38-33-4n, T&P and is projected for 8,500 feet.

Other operations in the field included deepening of the Seaboard & Pan-American No. 17 Good. This southwest edger to the pool, 660 feet from the north and 1,994 feet from the west lines of section 48-33-4n, T&P, did not respond to a 50,000-gallon acid shot. It had deepened to 8,332 and was drilling.

Seaboard & Pan-American No. 19 Good, 1,588 feet from the east and 660 feet from the west lines of section 37-32-4n, T&P, was fishing at 5,430. Seaboard No. 21 Good, 2,047 feet from the east and 560 feet from the north lines of section 48-33-4n, T&P, was drilling plugs at 3,200.

Three-quarters of a mile north east of the recently completed Toklan No. 1 McAdams; Jake L. Hamon & Edwin L. Cox, et al

Martin Wildcats Make More Hole

Martin County's two deep wildcats are both making more hole. Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-E-B George W. Glass, in the southwest sector of the county, 12 miles north of Midland and 18 miles west of Stanton, had reached 10,214 feet in lime and shale, and was boring deeper.

This venture is projected to 13,500 feet to test the Ellenburger. It has logged some shows of possible production in the lower Permian which can only be fully evaluated by further testing.

Location is 1,960 feet from north and east lines of section 13, block 39, TP survey, T-1-N.

Spartan Drilling Company and associates No. 1 Wolcott, in Northwest Martin County, 13 miles northwest of Leonora, and 5,864 feet from west and 1,471.8 feet from north lines of league 251.

Ward County School Land survey, had penetrated below 11,500 feet in dry lime in the Pennsylvania, and was going on down.

North Outpost Seen For Clairmont Pool

Sun Oil Company has scheduled a north outpost to the two-well Clairmont-Lower Pennsylvania pool in Central Kent County.

Sun No. 1 E. A. Teague will be one-location north of the same operator's No. 1 Sampson, east offset to the discovery well.

The No. 1 Teague is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 10, block 58, H&TC survey, and one mile southwest of Clairmont.

Slatid depth is approximately 6,800 feet. Operations are to begin by June 30.

Terry Wolfcamp Discovery Looms

Anderson - Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 H. C. Bever, Southwest Terry County wildcat has shown as a probable commercial oil gas discovery from a lime reef—possibly Wolfcamp of the lower Permian.

The prospector recovered 74 barrels of free, clean, pipe-line oil during a three hour drillstem test at 9,097-9,730 feet. None of the oil flowed out at the surface while the tester was open.

However, practically all of the oil unloaded while the drill pipe was being pulled. The was no formation water with the oil.

The oil fill up in the drill pipe during three hour test was at the rate of 24.18 barrels per hour. Gravity was 41 degrees.

Operator is preparing to core deeper. The reef lime was topped at 9,705 feet. Elevation is 3,277 feet. That gives the project a datum of minus 6,428 feet on that marker.

Production Tests Are Due Discovery In Central Midland

Production tests on Midland County's new Ellenburger discovery are slated to begin early Sunday afternoon.

Operator of the Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2 Parks at that time will drill plug set on five and one-half inch casing at 12,944 feet and begin completion tests from open hole section in the Ellenburger at 12,944-970 feet.

It also developed flowing Pennsylvania production.

The discovery, located 11 1-4 miles southwest of the city of Midland, previously flowed 123.71 barrels of 53.9-gravity oil hourly from open hole zone to be tested on a drillstem test.

The No. 2 Parks is 660 feet from north and 2,180 feet from west lines of section 10, M Daugherty survey.

Interested observers calculated that the Anderson - Prichard discovery is at least 600 feet high, structurally to the Stanolind failure.

The indicated new field opener is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 39, block DD, John H. Gibson survey. It is three miles southeast of Wellman and 10 miles southwest of Brownfield.

There was a strong blow of air at the surface as soon as the tester was opened. It continued for 55 minutes and was replaced by a strong blow of gas. The gas blow continued for the remainder of the three-hour drillstem test.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure rose from zero at the start of the test at 750 pounds at the time the tool was closed.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes was 4,000 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 4,750 pounds.

Should the wildcat yield oil on a regular production test from the 9,697-9,730 foot horizon the way it acted on the drillstem test, it would make approximately 600 barrels of oil per day naturally.

Intermediate Test Staked In Scurry

In an undeveloped section between the Diamond M and Kelley-Snyder fields in West-Central Scurry County, The Sun Oil Company has staked its No. 1 J. W. Voss and others.

Drillable will be 2,226 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 203, block 97, H&TC survey, and nine miles west of Snyder.

If the venture misses the Canyon pay in the area, operator plans to deepen to approximately 5,100 feet in an attempt to develop some sort of production from the Strawn.

Operations are to begin immediately.

RIDES "LIKE A MILLION" delivers for less than some sixes

POWER? Sure! Here's a whole bonnet-ful of Fireball straight-eight power. Room? Plenty—in big, sofa-wide seats and generous room for elbows and shoulders. Style? Well take a look—see anything on the road today that is so smart, so sleek, so quickly spotted?

But that's just a start in this beauty: Here you're going to meet the "ride of a lifetime"—smooth, level-going comfort in the quite matchless Buick manner.

Just see why this is so: Most cars have coil springs in front. Buick has them all around.

Most cars now ride on low-pressure tires: Buick adds to them Safety-Ride rims to cut heel-over and sway.

Most cars drive through the rear springs, which means they have to be stiff. Buick drives through a firm torque-tube that takes up driving thrust and roughness.

And no other car—no, not a single one—has all these comfort extras plus husky frames plus Hi-Poised engine mountings plus middle-of-the-car seating plus the extra silkiness of Dynaflo Drive.* Worth something? You bet it is. But it's riding luxury that doesn't show up in the price tags. Figures start at levels lower than on many sixes—yet every Buick has this matchless array of ride features.

Better come learn about them—by first-hand trial. Can you see your Buick dealer today?

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Buick and Oldsmobile models.

IMAGINE UNCLE QUENTIN MAKING ME APOLOGIZE TO THAT STABLEBOY... I'VE NEVER BEEN SO HUMILIATED!

HUMILIATED OR NOT, YOU'D BETTER NOT CROSS YOUR UNCLE... NOT IF YOU EVER HOPE TO INHERIT ALL THIS... AND I DON'T MIND SAYING I HOPE YOU DO!

...AND IT'S PLAIN ENOUGH HE'S GOT A SOFT SPOT FOR THAT BOY, RUSTY... OUR JOB IS TO UNDERMINE THE KID!

OKAY, GOLDY... BUT MY IMMEDIATE PROBLEM IS FIGURING SOME WAY TO MAKE BIG BLAZE SICK, OR CORKY WILL UPSET THE APPLE CART BY TELLING UNCLE QUENTIN I OWE HIM A COUPLE OF GRAND!

HOW DO YOU MEAN TO DO IT, TAFFY?

I DON'T KNOW YET, BUT IT OUGHT TO BE EASY IN THE CONFUSION OF THAT HUNT CLUB PARTY.

IT MIGHT BE A CHANCE TO KILL TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE... I MEAN YOU COULD MAKE IT LOOK LIKE RUSTY RILEY IS TO BLAME...

AS YOU KNOW, RUSTY, BIG BLAZE IS ENTERED FOR THE GELBY CUP AGAIN, AND SINCE A LOT OF STRANGE HORSES WILL BE HERE FOR THE HUNT, I WANT YOU TO PUT BLAZE IN THE LITTLE BARN WHERE YOU KEEP HILLBILLY AND THE COLT... PUT HILLBILLY IN BLAZE'S REGULAR STALL.

YES, SIR... I KINDA THOUGHT YOU'D WANT TO DO THAT, SO I CLEANED HILLBILLY'S STALL THIS MORNING.

THERE YOU ARE, HILLBILLY... IN BIG BLAZE'S STALL... GOLLY! YOU'RE SUCH A SWELL-LOOKING HORSE, I BET MOST PEOPLE WOULD THINK YOU'RE THE BIG SHOT, HIMSELF!

LATER

MY UNCLE SEEMS TO HAVE CHANGED HIS MIND ABOUT PUTTING OUR HORSES IN THE OLD BARN. HE SAID I COULD BRING THEM HERE...

OH, YES, MR. ALLERDYCE... HE TOLD ME... STALLS NUMBER 3 AND 4.

BOY! WHAT A BREAK! RIGHT NEXT DOOR TO BIG BLAZE! NOW I CAN COME IN HERE WITHOUT ANYBODY GETTING SUSPICIOUS!

KING ARTHUR

BY HAROLD R. FOSTER

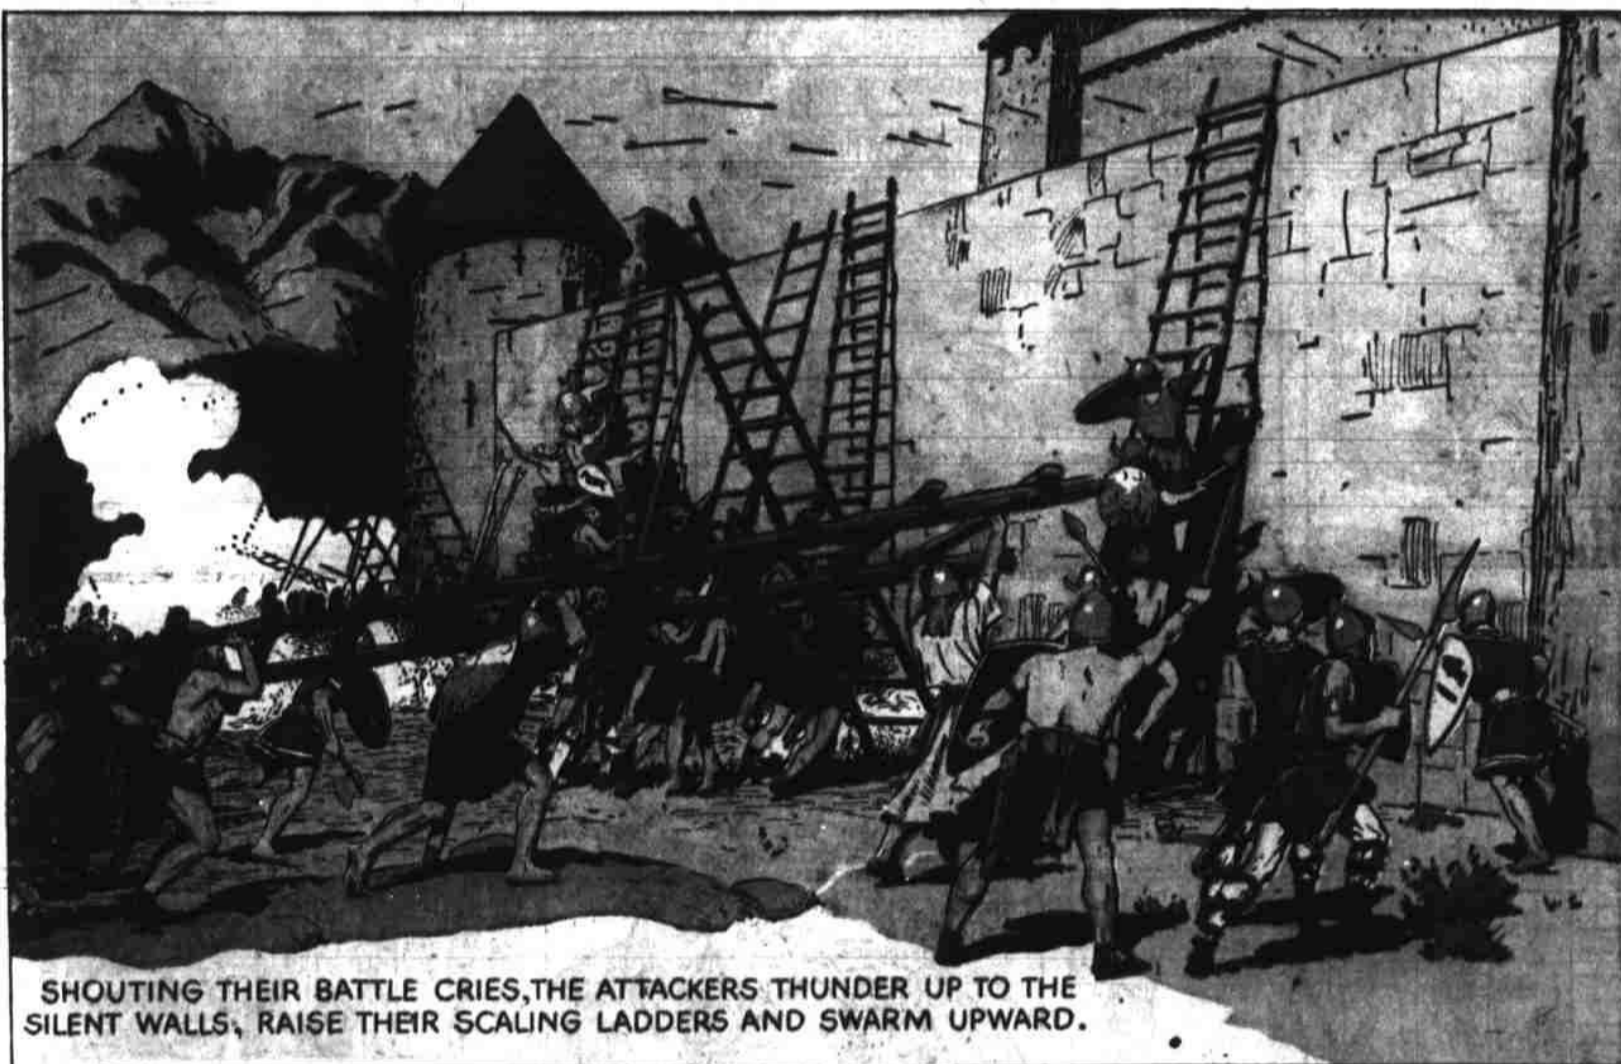

HE IS TOO GOOD A LEADER TO LET THIS SILENCE DECEIVE HIM INTO CARELESSNESS. HE FEIGNS A STRONG ASSAULT ON THE MAIN GATE...

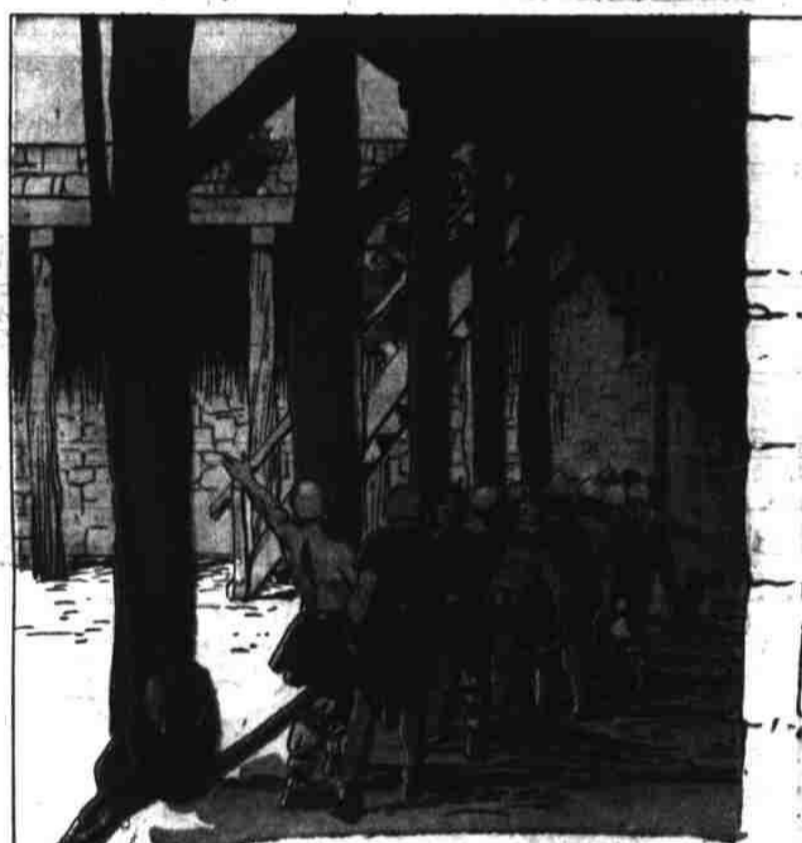

THEN SUDDENLY, UNDER COVER OF HIS BOWMEN, LAUNCHES HIS GREAT ATTACK ON THE SOUTH WALL!

Synopsis: WHEN HAP-ATLA LED THE WARRIORS OF THE INNER LANDS AGAINST KING AGUAR'S STRONGHOLD HE HAD EXPECTED A FIERCE BUT VICTORIOUS BATTLE. BUT THE CASTLE STANDS GRIM AND SILENT, NOT A MAN IS TO BE SEEN.

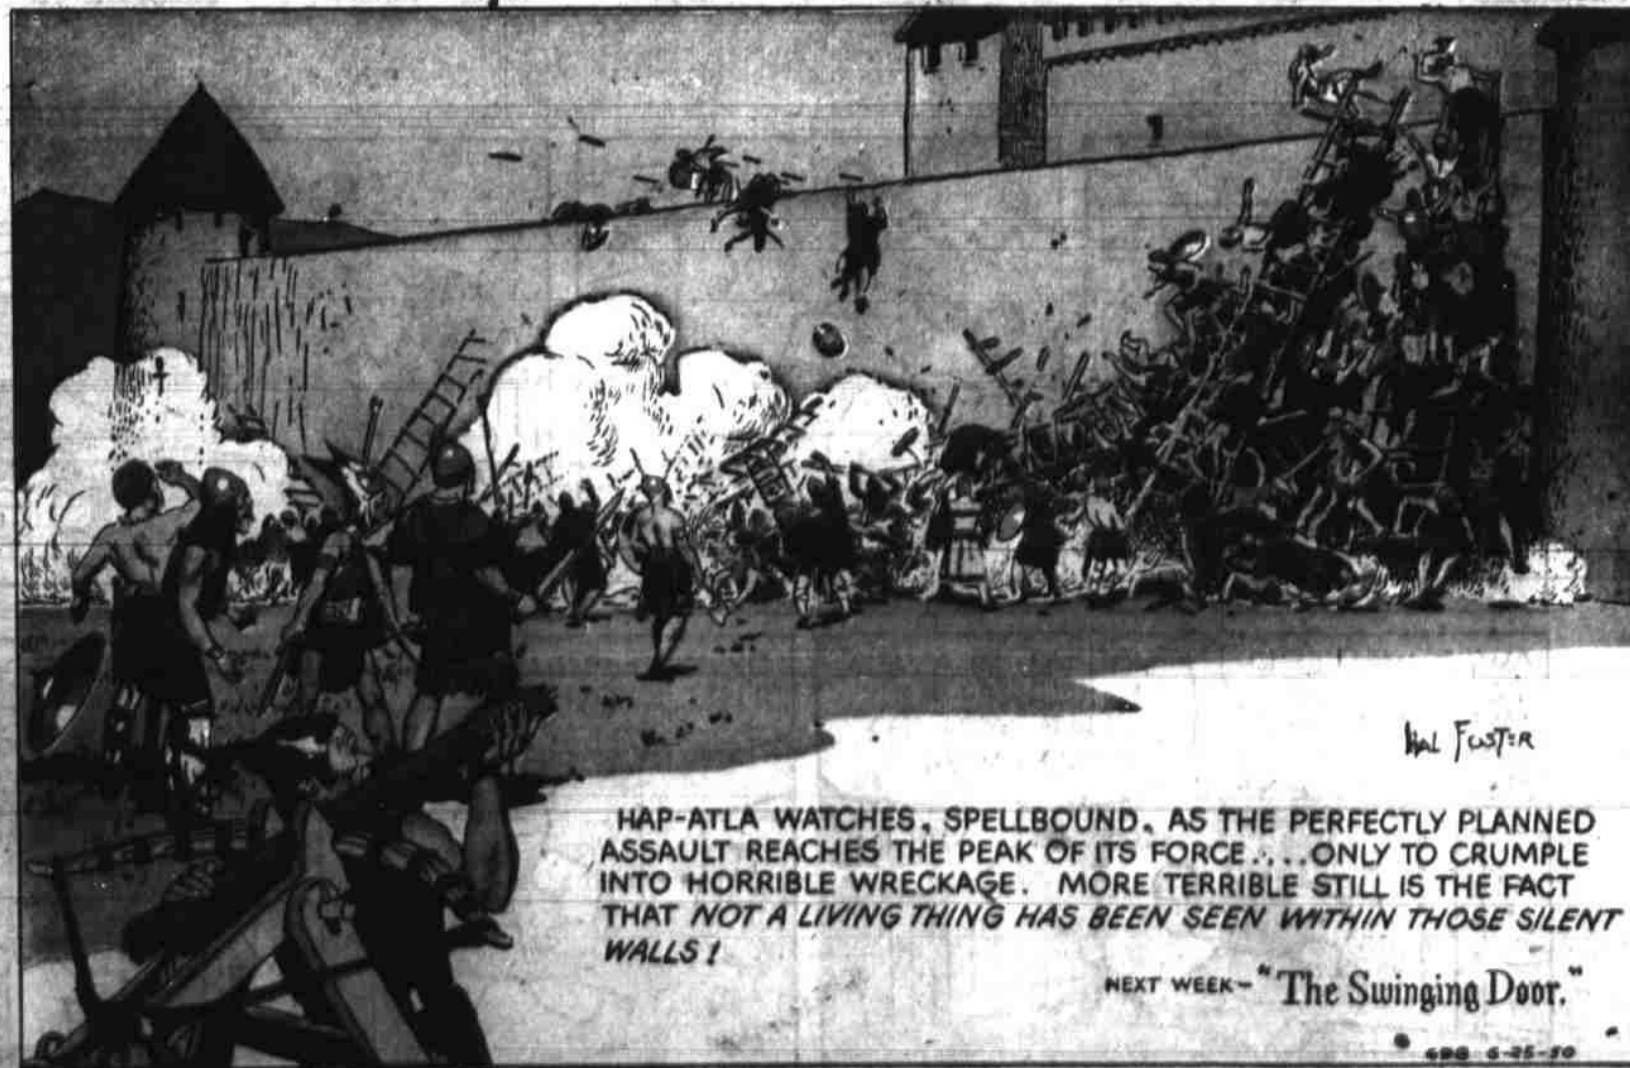

SHOUTING THEIR BATTLE CRIES, THE ATTACKERS THUNDER UP TO THE SILENT WALLS, RAISE THEIR SCALING LADDERS AND SWARM UPWARD.

BENEATH THE GALLERY THE WARRIORS OF THULE MAN THE PULLING ROPES AND BEND TO THEIR TASK WHEN THE SIGNAL COMES.

DOWN THE LENGTH OF THE WALL RUMBLES THE SIMPLE MACHINE, ITS LONG ARM SWEEPING MEN AND LADDERS FROM THE TOP.

HAP-ATLA WATCHES, SPELLBOUND, AS THE PERFECTLY PLANNED ASSAULT REACHES THE PEAK OF ITS FORCE... ONLY TO CRUMPLE INTO HORRIBLE WRECKAGE. MORE TERRIBLE STILL IS THE FACT THAT NOT A LIVING THING HAS BEEN SEEN WITHIN THOSE SILENT WALLS!

SUMMERTIME AT THE SEASHORE

Galveston Has One Of Finest Beaches, 32 Miles In Length

Texas, with an unlimited variety of vacation appeals, lacks nothing when it comes to activities down by the sea shore.

From Galveston to Corpus Christi, the two principal anchor points, there's plenty doing.

Galveston, of course, is primarily a resort city although it cuts a major swath as a port. Located on an island two miles in the Gulf of Mexico off the mainland, Galveston is connected by two causeways. A 7 1/2 mile seawall protects it from floods and provides a scenic drive.

One of the finest beaches in America is situated at Galveston—32 miles in length. There are hosts of bath houses, beach apartments, cottages, hotels, beach amusement centers, etc. The municipal pleasure pier provides facilities for dancing, fishing, yatching, water sports and other recreation. On the eastern end of the island is Steward Beach, a playground. Picturesque are the oileanders, now in 30 odd varieties ranging from white to scarlet.

Sights include the port, John Sealy Hospital, and the medical branch of the University of Texas.

Corpus Christi long has catered to the tourist trade. Now, with completion of a causeway to Padre Island, the area is all excited about further possibilities. The state parks board is building a park on the island. Facilities of all kinds for other sports and recreation are provided.

Pivot point for seagoing pleasures is the youth basin adjacent to the seawall. Boating, by sail or power, is popular in all seasons. Waters of the 100-square mile bay furnish good fishing grounds. Charter boat owners will take visitors almost anywhere they want to go.

Bathing beaches at Corpus Christi are reported to be free of predatory fish and to be devoid of undertow. Sights in the area, aside from a profusion of architecture, includes the U. S. Naval Training Station and the Port of Corpus Christi.

Within 26 miles of Corpus Christi and on the north end of Mustang Island is Port Aransas, a famous fishing resort. On the mainland six miles across Red Fish bay lies Aransas Pass, another popular spot with fishermen. The silver tarpon is found at its best in this area, as well as south toward the Brownsville area.

All along the Gulf coast the same dreamy semi-tropical climate prevails. Winter or summer, it is good vacation land.

Two Local Firms Planning Employee Installations Here

At least two Big Spring concerns are planning installations for employees at Lake Colorado City, the new reservoir on Morgan Creek. Cosden Petroleum Corp. has leased a 600-foot front on the new lake and is planning to make improvements there in the near future. The Texas Electric Co. has a 200-foot lake front.

The Cosden facility will be the third for that company. Others are already in use at Possum Kingdom and Phantom Hill lakes.

In all, approximately 50 sites have been leased along shores of Lake Colorado City, which promises to become a new vacationland and recreation center for the area. Several Big Springers are included among those who have secured sites.

The lake itself, now boasts a bountiful supply of water, following spring rains which put the level within a few feet of the spillway.

Americans Like ECA Grass Roots Plan In Greece

ATHENS, (AP)—Four American farm leaders, following a four-day inspection of Marshall Plan agricultural projects in Greece, have commended ECA's "grass roots" approach to farmers and their problems. "There seems to be a very genuine, and successful, attempt to bring the American farm program right down to the individual farmer most intimately concerned," declared Allan Kline, of Chicago, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Included in the group with Kline were James G. Patton, of Denver, president of the National Farmers Union; Jess Sanders, of Washington, special assistant to the president of the National Grange; and John H. Davis, of Washington, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Co-operatives.

Knee Pants Optional

LONDON, (AP)—A Boy Scout recruitment committee held out an inducement to British men who may be thinking about becoming scoutmasters: they don't have to wear knee pants. "Shorts do not suit everybody," said the committee, "and no one can do good work while feeling slightly ridiculous."

Travel's Golden Year

By JOHN L. SPRINGER

THIS is the year of the big move—the year when all America, it seems, is going places.

Ask travel agents, resort owners, ship line operators, rail, air and bus line officials to outline their prospects for 1950. You get a delighted smile and the unanimous verdict:

"Greatest Travel Year in History!"

Vacation Time, 1950, is a time for superlatives. Americans have more money to spend. They have more time to travel. They have a greater desire to get out and see things. And everybody in the travel field, from the owner of the roadside hot dog stand to the innkeeper in the French provinces, seems to be working harder than ever to promote the idea of a traveling vacation.

More than 400,000 Americans are expected to travel to Europe. The major tourist magnet is of course Rome, the scene of the colorful, centuries-old pageantry of Holy Year. But the rest of Europe, in wistful longing for dollars, also is vigorously fighting for tourist trade—and will get it. To a greater extent than ever, Europeans are promoting their lures, which range from the six-month-long program of performances at the Shakespeare Memorial Theater to special motor trips through the Bavarian Alps.

ONE powerful inducement to foreign travel promises to be stronger: The desire to visit relatives in the old country. Last year, Commerce Department officials estimate, 40 percent of all Americans who went to Europe did so primarily to see their kin. Most of Europe has recovered economically and politically so strongly that Americans who deferred trips abroad until things settled down now face better conditions than at any time in a dozen years.

Record-breaking millions respond to tourist lures in all parts of the world.

Holy Year ceremonies are major magnet to Europe.

Arthur Haulot, president of the European Travel Commission, gives this report on the continent today: No food or gasoline rationing for tourists; ample restaurant meals; normal prewar schedules on railroads and bus lines; shops again well stocked with merchandise; theaters, music halls, night spots back in full swing.

SAYS Newell Grinnell, president of the American Society of Travel Agents: "Currency devaluation has brought values hitherto unavailable to tourists. Coupled with this bargain aspect is the fast-moving trend to more and more low-cost transportation, chiefly in the air field."

The trek of Americans abroad probably will represent an outlay of more than half a billion dollars. Even this whopping figure is only a fraction, however, of what will be spent by the entire nation on vacation travel. That over-all total is expected to be ten to twelve billion dollars.

Here are statistics which put expectant smiles on the faces of those who stand to profit from vacationists who "see America first."

More than half of all employees of private industry now get paid vacations. Ten million more persons now receive paid vacations than before the war. Against a 15 per cent population gain, national wealth has increased 300 per cent since 1940, and individual personal savings 30 percent. More pleasure cars than ever now are on the roads—22,500,000 of them, three million more than the prewar peak of 1941. There's one automobile for every four Americans—enough seating capacity to transport every person in the country.

Twenty years ago, a worker lucky enough to get a week's vacation was likely to spend it at home, or close to home. Today, vacationists get out and go. Once, a cross-country trip was a project for the rich. It meant sleeping and eating at places far beyond the average person's means. Now, means have gone up and prices have come down to meet them. You'll find hotels, tourist homes, and motels eager to serve for Mr. Everyman's dollars. Neat, clean restaurants are almost everywhere, generally with prices little different from those in places nearer home.

RAILROADS are offering bargain-priced excursions to resort areas. Bus companies have moved behind a campaign to attract travel their way. With reduced family fare plans, the air lines are expecting their biggest year in history.

Open a map of the United States and you can preview travel's golden year. In thousands of the country's favorite tourist spots, you can count on records being smashed. From the mountain-climbers' mecca of Mount Rainier in Washington to the deep caves of the Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico, from the fishermen's paradise in the lakes of Maine to the magnolia gardens of Charleston, S. C., you'll see people having fun.

Competition for the tourist dollar is keen, and the traveler benefits by better accommodations, a wide variety of attractions and special events, and more courteous service than he's ever had before. The spirit of "get-up-and-go" is in the air.

Even if you've decided on a stay-at-home vacation this year, you'll find yourself becoming restless when the mailman delivers "wish-you-were-here" cards from friends and neighbors. So you might as well plan to join the 90,000,000-plus who'll be counted among the nation's tourists in 1950.

■ Sunny beach, cool breezes, and a pretty girl make a perfect picture of contentment.

■ Dad stops along the road just long enough to make a memorable family snapshot.

■ Can't you just tell they're city folks, getting away from crowds to walk in the fields?

Six Tips Ease Home Cares Of Travelers

It could happen, but it didn't. Neighbors cooked up this gag on vacationers.

ONE sure way to have a care-free vacation is to give no thought to the house you leave behind.

Insurance companies will bet you something like 1,000 to 1 that your house will be as safe and sound as you left it. So why worry?

If anything is going to happen to your house, it can happen while you're in town about as easily as when you are away.

Of course, there is no need to advertise the fact that you are not at home. Therefore:

1. Notify the milkman, newsboy and mail carrier, at least a day ahead of time, to stop deliveries.
2. Ask a neighbor to keep an eye on the house while you are gone and to remove all handbills from your doorsteps.
3. Destroy all oily cloths and other rubbish that might cause spontaneous ignition. Heat and lack of ventilation in a closed house enhances this danger.
4. Turn off the pilot light on gas range, water heater or gas refrigerator to guard against a slump in pressure, which could fill the house with gas when pressure resumes.
5. Lock all doors and windows, removing goldfish bowls and bottles from direct rays of the sun, which can cause fire by magnification, and
6. Have a good time.

Everybody goes on a vacation some time or other, so don't think you are a pioneer. You might come home to find moths in your blankets, ants in the sugarbowl and swallows in the chimney—but that's part of a vacation.

Besides it gives you something to talk about in the wintertime.

Tuneful Touring

Whether you tour solo, duet, trio or quartet, you can while away the miles pleasantly by singing.

After you've tired of all the soap operas beamed to your car radio, shut it off and try this little game. All you need is a voice and a memory.

Each passenger in the car takes a turn at suggesting a song with the name of a place in its title. If he suggests "Carolina Moon," for example, at least one of the others touring with you must be able to hum the tune.

If no-one else can do so, the person who first suggested the song title must hum it or sing the words.

Make Sure Youngsters Have Fun

By SAUL PETT

THE best way to amuse children during your vacation auto trip is to leave them home and send them funny postcards. If you must take them along plan in advance your campaign for keeping them reasonably happy and out of your hair.

First thing, in starting out, don't be timid. Ask that certain question. Be sure of the answer. Cross-examine them. Make them tell you the exact time they allegedly did what all kids should do before starting a trip. It's important. For nothing is more annoying than to have to stop 10 minutes after you've started.

You're on your way. The sights begin to pale. All the candy you were saving for that emergency, when boredom first sets in, is gone. Now is the time to start playing games. Some of the old-fashioned ones are still good, like Twenty Questions or Ghost.

Try to make the kids share responsibility. Give them an extra road-map and make them navigators. Now and then ask about the next turn. But don't take their word for it or you'll find all roads leading to the nearest cowboy movie.

There are many other games you could play. Reason I know is I just read a book, "Tourplay," by Winfield C. Higgins (William-Frederick Press, $1.50). He suggests, for example, collecting states. The first contestant to spot a license plate from another state yells, "I spy Kansas," or whatever the case may be. Then he circles the state on his map.

Higgins recommends that the first to circle all 48 states be given honorary title-of President of the United States. Thirty states gets a kid a vice presidency. If I were you, though, I would retain the portfolio of the Defense Department. Also Supreme Court.

By the way, Higgins wouldn't start a trip without enough equipment to amuse the kids. Among others, he suggests two kinds of loaded cameras (movie and still), colored crayons and pencils, scissors, pocket knife, mouth harp, ocarina and other small musical pieces, small song books, telescope, compass and Scout books, cards, checkers, cross-word puzzles, diary and boxes for captured butterflies, bugs and trophies. You, yourself, might think of a few other things.

THERE are several recommended distance or speed guessing games. Guess the speed of a freight train going in the same direction. Or select an object far ahead. Close your eyes until you think you've reached the spot and then yell, "Right here." Not recommended for the driver.

Then there's "Smile A Mile." The driver calls out, "Get ready, get set, smile!" Each contestant smiles for what he thinks is a mile and then he whistles. The driver, by glancing at the speedometer, judges the winner. This is fine if you don't mind passersby thinking you've got a carload of grinning idiots.

For making stops, Higgins recommends treasure hunts for pine cones or acorns or old bird nests or any number of things. Rules: members of the hunt must not stray out of sight of the car and must return at the sound of the horn.

Of course, you can make your own rules but in most states the laws against child abandonment are pretty severe.

Good Packing Keeps Clothes Wrinkle-free

Her garments, neatly arranged, do not show creases. Here is how she does it.

THERE'S an art to packing properly. Once you master it, you'll be rewarded by wrinkle-free clothes, and luggage that lasts longer, looks better, and has more capacity.

Start with plenty of tissue, bunched up accordion-wise to take up pressure. Group related items together, and pack the heaviest ones—shoes, for instance—first. Place purses flat on the bottom.

Roll sweaters length-wise. Pack one-piece dresses length-wise, too, with the fold at the waistline. Blouses with shoulder pads should be packed crosswise, with one fold only at the waistline.

Lay slips folded lengthwise on several full-length pieces of tissue. Panties and bras can be placed on top of them. Now roll your lingerie crosswise. Tissue paper will be on the outside of the roll. Lingerie packed in this fashion comes out of the suitcase clean and creaseless.

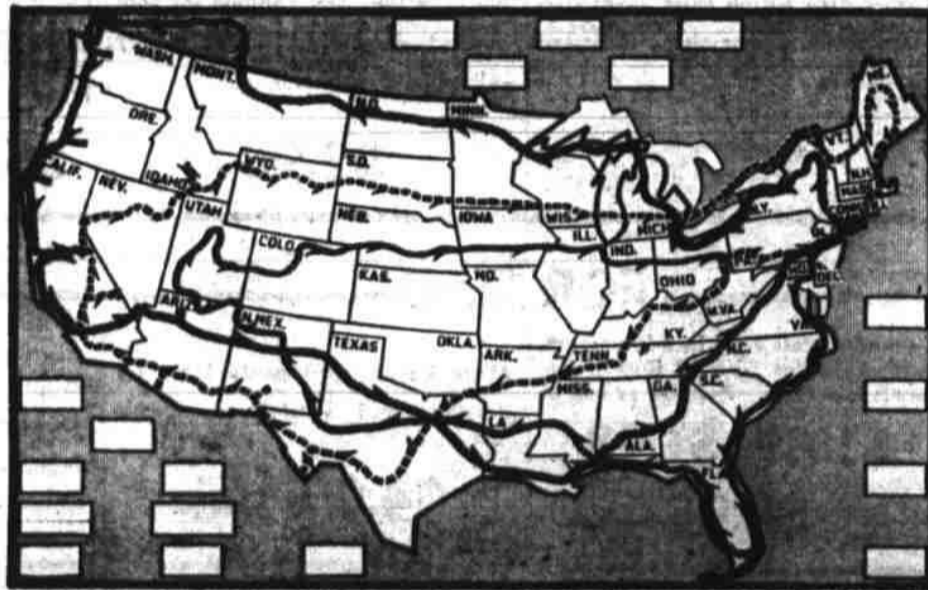

HERE'S how to keep skirts wrinkle-free. Lay them out flat, with the hem touching the edge of one end of your case and the waist extending beyond the other end. Turn side panels inward over strips of accordion-pleated tissue. Flip the waist back into the case over two rolled sweaters. Do likewise in packing slacks, using a rolled sweater at the knees.

To pack a suit, lay the jacket flat in the case length-wise. Open up the front flaps and lay the waist of your skirt at the shoulder of the jacket. Now button up the jacket and bring the skirt up over it and a rolled sweater. In packing men's suits, you can follow the same procedure with trousers that you used with your skirt.

Evening dresses are packed last. Lay hem of the dress so that it touches one end of the case. Then fold the sides inward over accordion-pleated tissue. Double a short dress over once, with plenty of tissue between the fold, if you have a 28 inch Pullman case. The kind of dress that sweeps the floor is doubled over twice.

Fill corners of your case with gloves, belts and rolled lingerie so that nothing slides around. Sliding causes wrinkles. Be sure all spillables are in the rubber-lined zipper compartment of your case. If you lack this, pack them in a tin box well-insulated with cotton.

Show Your Trips on a Picture Map

Anyone can follow these simple rules for designing an attractive pictorial map.

By WILLIAM ROWLEY

HERE'S how to combine a decorative permanent record of your trips with a colorful wall panel for your den or rumpus room.

Start with a road map, obtainable at auto club or oil company travel bureaus, on which your route has been marked. In a log book keep a record of places of interest, daily mileage, overnight stops, and top-notch restaurants. Take some snapshots in color and collect color post cards en route.

When you return, buy a colored pictorial map of the United States in the size your prefer. It should not show any roads. Mount your map on heavy cloth or smooth cardboard. Referring to your road maps, mark your trips on the map with water color pencils, using a different color for each trip.

Draw your route line through towns and pictures shown on your map, indicating places through which you have passed. It's wise to draw this line very lightly in pencil first, so that you may check for accuracy before coloring.

Draw color lines lightly through the pictures where necessary, with a heavier colored line between pictures. Wax crayons, by the way, are not recommended.

At intervals on your route line, using the same color, draw small arrow heads to indicate the direction of your trip. At the bottom of your map draw neat rectangles in each color used for each trip. Next to the rectangle show the dates or the year in which the trip was made. This will "key" your map without putting the year along each route line.

To add interest, finish off your map by pasting colored snapshots and post cards around the outside as shown. Each successive trip can be drawn after your map has been placed on your wall.

If you are artistically inclined, you can buy a small colored or black and white picture map. A photo studio with photo-mural enlarging equipment can "blow it up" to whatever size you wish. An enlargement to about three by five feet from an original size of about 16 by 24 inches, should cost about $25.00. Ask for a dull or "matt" finish for coloring. Then you can color the enlargement yourself.

Use water sparingly on your water color pencils in coloring pictures on your map. Colors should not be too bright except for the route lines, which should stand out.

Anyone can make a pictorial map record of vacation trips. It's fun and it need not be expensive. Thus you'll have a continual reminder of many pleasant hours in interesting places you have visited.

Speed and Recklessness Are Killers

Food Variety Adds Spice To Your Trip

Be foodwise about your vacation from the moment you start. If you're going by plane, train or boat, you'll have a choice of foods you especially like. You'll probably get excellent meals, in wide variety, well-prepared and well-served.

If you're driving you must make some preparations in advance. Rule one is not to rely on finding the perfect eating place at the moment you want it along the road. You may find you've just left the best restaurant in the neighborhood 15 minutes behind, and the next attractive place is an hour away.

As soon as you have planned your route, find out about eating places along it. Ask friends and returning travelers, and consult guide books. Allow for a number of really good dinners at extra-special restaurants—even if you have to economize on some breakfasts and lunches.

You'll be mighty glad if you tuck a few accessories into a picnic basket in the luggage compartment. Take along vacuum bottles and a wide-mouthed vacuum jar. Filled with favorite drinks, they'll see you hand-somely through a stretch when you don't want to stop. If there are children along be sure you always carry water — young ones are notorious for wanting a drink and you won't have to stop at gas stations.

Put a can and bottle opener, paper cups and plates, a paper roll towel and napkins, a small paring knife, forks and knives in your basket. They'll come in handy when you explore markets in new towns and buy provisions for an impromptu lunch. When you find the right picnic place stop and have a make-your-own lunch.

One word of warning about carry-along desserts. Don't indulge in cream puffs, or pies or cakes with cream filling — no matter how luscious these may look. They spoil quickly and dangerously at warm temperatures and may be extremely harmful even when they have no spoiled odor, taste, or change in appearance. And don't ever buy milk unless it is pasteurized — read the label on the bottle.

In choosing food in restaurants don't always order the same kind of food you get at home! Try regional foods and specialties. Who knows what delectable new dish you'll discover? Lima pie and crawfish in Florida, special chowders in New England, hot breads and hominy down South — there are treats in store for you. Take advantage of them!

New Style Motels Are Modern Version Of Stage Coach Inns

New California-style motels and tourist courts springing up in all parts of the country have been described as modern versions of the old stage coach inns. Most of them are situated out of town, along favorite highways. Many motel operators select lakeside, mountain-top, or other scenic locations. Usually the cabins or cottages are clustered around a larger central building which houses dining facilities. Tourists have shown a preference for rooms with tile bath and shower, in bright color schemes, with comfortable modern furniture. Travel surveys indicate that in many states motels and hotels are running neck and neck in competition for tourist dollars.

Swing Your Partner

"Swing Your Partner" is a popular cry at more and more vacation resorts. In fact, Colorado reports square dancing is a leading tourist attraction. Governor Lee Knous, who likes round figures, reports that 14 per cent of the Silver State's 2,000,000 visitors last year were attracted by the famous square dances.

Motors Manners Stressed In Accident Prevention

The spotlight has been focused on motor courtesy throughout the country in many ways.

The National Highway Users Conference has issued a "blue-booklet" of traffic etiquette, "Motor Manners," written by Emily Post as a non-profit public service.

Auto clubs are presenting Merit Driving Awards to careful drivers.

One stunt that has attracted wide attention is the Sullivan County (N. Y.) Resort Council's corps of "Courtesy Coppets." Their approach is a smiling one, and motorists are presented with a set of five courtesy rules instead of a ticket. The rules:

1. Why speed? The scenery is beautiful and the gals that decorate it are well worth seeing.
2. Don't try to pass that car on a curve or hill. You're here to kill time—not yourself or the other guy.
3. Observe the white lines. Give the other fellow a chance.
4. Watch those pedestrians. The woods are full of them and they have to use the roads, too.
5. Use your horn with consideration. Remember, it's a warning device and not meant to scare people to death. You don't shout at your friends—often.

Miss Post's "Code of Courtesy" stresses additional safety factors. Here are excerpts:

"A well-mannered driver will share the road, never usurping the right-of-way from other vehicles or pedestrians. An honorable man or woman would no more cheat traffic regulations than cheat at games or in sports.

"Courteous pedestrians will cross busy streets at intersections, respect traffic lights and avoid darting out from behind parked vehicles. An obliging driver will never other cars in the dark.

"Well-bred people, whether drivers or passengers, are just as considerate of each other as are hosts and guests in a drawing room.

"An accommodating driver parks his car so as not to interfere with the use of other parking spaces or with the movement of other vehicles. A courteous driver never fails to signal his intentions to stop, turn or pull out.

"One who has any consideration for the safety of others will refrain from driving when physically exhausted. Kindly persons never show curiosity at the scene of an accident and always give any assistance that may be possible."

Auto club surveys have shown that most highway accidents are caused by drivers who did not have the right of way, and motorists who are speeding. Driving on the wrong side of the road, cutting in, and failure to signal are other major factors.

Merit Award drivers are urged to avoid such common accident situations as driving one-eyed cars, getting out on the wrong side, beating the red light, exceeding speed limits in school zones, road hogging, double parking, cutting off other cars by making sharp turns at intersections, and failure to heed stop signs.

The cautious and courteous driver, club officials emphasize, is the safe driver.

Historic Fort Tejon To Be State Park

LEBEC, Calif. (AP)—California is making a state park of historic Ft. Tejon, the only fort erected to protect and rehabilitate Indians. High in Tejon Pass, which winds through the Tehachapi mountains linking the Los Angeles plain with the San Joaquin valley, workers are restoring barracks almost a century old.

Gen. E. F. Beale, then superintendent of Indian affairs, ordered the fort built in 1854. His idea was to make the Indian self sufficient by teaching him agriculture.

Sensible Prices

Despite the prominence given to lush luxury cruises in recent months, travel experts report a general return to "sensible" prices for lodging and food, the two items which account for almost half the travel budget.

India Now Adopts Hindu Language

NEW DELHI, India. (AP)—The government has directed state governments to make Hindi compulsory in all upper primary classes. Hindi, spoken by nearly 70 per cent of the people, has been adopted as the national language. Non-Hindi speaking areas have been given 15 years to learn the language.

The government also is making arrangements to teach Hindi to employees who do not know the language. Similar arrangements have been advised for the state government's employees. Hindi, a mixture of Sanskrit, Arabic and Persian, is not yet fully developed. A committee has been set up to find suitable equivalents for technical and scientific terms.

Startled By Rain

HAIFA, Israel. (AP)—Rain fell in this Israeli Mediterranean coastal city in June. The meteorological station reported it was the first rainfall in that month in 20 years.

Rules For Taking A Long Journey

Some of the advice Samuel Johnson gave his friend Henry Perkins, in a letter dated July 28, 1782, is still good today. "I am much pleased that you are going on a very long journey," he wrote, "which may by proper conduct restore your health and prolong your life. Observe these rules:

1. Turn all care out of your head as soon as you mount the chaise.
2. Do not think about frugality; your health is worth more than it can cost.
3. Do not continue any day's journey to fatigue.
4. Take now and then a day's rest.
5. Get a smart sea-sickness, if you can.
6. Cast away all anxiety and keep your mind easy."

Poison Ivy Has Its Own Antidote

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Poison ivy is so mean it would kill itself if it didn't manufacture its own antidote, according to Dr. Irwin W. Sizer, Massachusetts Institute of Technology scientist. In a five-year study, just completed, he has found the antidote is an enzyme or catalyst called laccase. The laccase keeps the poison ivy vine flourishing by constantly changing the irritants before they can kill the plant.

But don't rush down to your neighborhood druggist yet for a bottle of laccase. Just keep away from the three-leaved poisoner of backyard and wayside. Medical men still are figuring how to apply Dr. Sizer's discovery.

The Sacramento (Calif.) National Wildlife Refuge is a popular wintering ground for geese.

Tourist Reports On Hawaii Clime

A young tourists just back from Hawaii reports perfect year-round temperatures never varying from a range of 70 to 80 degrees. For $20 a day, she says, you can have a penthouse beach-side apartment for four, complete with balcony and two bedrooms, kitchenette and living room. Soothing Pacific breezes waft the perfume of myriad flowers and fruits through the air, and everyone is friendly and informal. Best of all, though, she enjoyed going wherever she pleased, in the vicinity of famed Waikiki Beach—barefooted and completely relaxed.

Thirteen Children

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—All four of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Skinner's children were born on the 13th of a month, one on a Friday.

Here's A Still "Revenooers" Don't Care About

HICKORY VALLEY, Tenn. (AP)—There's a still in this little farming community that goes full blast off and on the "revenooers" don't mind at all. It is used to make oil-of-sassafras, not corn-squeezin's or moonshine.

It's easy to tell when the still is working. If you're anywhere in the valley your nose will pick up the sassafras smell. And it doesn't take long for the tellers in oaks in surrounding towns to tell when the still has been at work. The money paid out to farmers and to helpers winds up in the banks and always has that sassafras smell.

Private Memorial On Illinois Farm

CLINTON, Ill. (AP)—On the night of Feb. 5, 1943, an Army plane crashed on the John A. Gibson farm. Five officers and men were killed.

Mrs. Gibson decided that they should not be forgotten. She put up a homemade plaque bearing their names at the scene of their deaths. Each Fourth of July, Armistice Day and Memorial Day, she places five flags in a half circle about the plaque and lays a bouquet of flowers in the center.

says one person who did complain was a Negro helper at the still, who asked for his pay in some money that didn't smell. "This here money's too easy for my wife to find," he said.

GET OUT AND PLAY!

■ Salt air and sunshine stir new vigor in you. Try a run down the beach for exercise if formal games don't appeal.

By JIM BECKER

YOU may be about as athletic as George Bernard Shaw but you needn't let that keep you from enjoying sports on your vacation.

Vacation sports can be as strenuous or as untaxing as you like. Either type will give you a welcome change from your normal routine. You'll return to the grind feeling better for the activity. And you may learn a new game that can keep you fit the year around if pursued back home.

For instance, if you don't golf, try it. Golf can be played, and well, by almost everyone but me. On any golf course you can find players ranging from trim teenagers to doddering gentlemen of social security age and up. They find golf a challenge, mentally and physically.

And you could develop into one of those rare creatures who flirt with par. Or, even if you fall into that group of players to whom breaking a hundred is an event to rank with the millennium, you'll find the walk in the air worth it. In the latter case, too, you can develop the philosophy of "the more strokes, the more exercise."

Any sporting goods store can furnish enough equipment to enjoy this humbling game for a small cash outlay. It isn't necessary to advance on the first tee loaded down with a cowhide leather bag, enough heavy clubs to slow down a 20-mule team, and a dozen brand new balls. That can come later, if you like. You might decide to chuck the whole rig in the nearest water hole after a while, anyway.

IN which case, there are a number of other sports open to the vacationer who had other things to do besides win athletic letters during his school years.

You don't have to be a fullback to sail a boat. And if you've never been sailboating, you've missed a lot of things besides an occasional dunking. There's a real thrill to churning along in a small boat with only the wind to move you. One note of caution: Go out with an experienced hand. If one of those little boats ever gets stalled, an inexperienced sailor may never get it started again. Then you can try rowing.

Of course, if you spend your vacation at a resort hotel, you will find many organized athletic activities. To some, this is the gainless way to acquire stiff

Make the most of your play-time by exercising those sleepy muscles. Here are some tips to help young and old get into the swing of new games.

■ Once you've mastered a few golf tricks you'll never, never pose like this for a picture of what not to do on the links.

your legs soon, and after a while you'll even be able to sit down. And when you get used to it, you'll find it fine sport.

VACATION time generally means swimming time, either ocean or pool variety. Swimming is an activity that requires the use of practically all your muscles, as you'll discover when you get up the next day.

This article is assuming that your football and basketball days are over. Let's leave those sports to the youngsters. They don't know any better. But baseball, among the major professional sports, can be played long after the whip is gone from the old throwing arm.

Major league scouts will unanimously stay away from your games. Don't let that hurt your pride. It's better to bounce your throws to first base than to have to chase your arm halfway across the infield.

Many resorts now feature skeet shooting. A personal experience, here. Last summer, a crew of skeet and trap shooters invited me to try my hand at it. We non-shooters were convinced these guys and gals had misplaced their marbles because they spent all the daylight hours filling the air with stray pellets and then talked all night about their scores. But I tried it—and I loved it. There's a big thrill in hitting the moving target. Of course, you can't expect to do as well as I did the first time, but give it a try if you get a chance.

ALTHOUGH some people think archery is the exclusive property of Smith College, it isn't so. If you get near an archery range, you're in for a pleasant surprise if you shoot a few arrows into the air.

There is one other sport, illustrated on this page, that usually is engaged in only by photographers' models and people who make the equipment. That's water skiing. We wouldn't have brought the subject up at all, except that the editor thought this was a nice picture. Has something for everybody, you know. A girl for me and a boy for you, if you're a girl. You don't mind, do you?

Most of these activities discussed can be pursued alone, in small groups or with one horse. Few need organized teams. Remember to get some exercise—but not too much—on your vacation.

And if you're interested in a sample timetable for recreation during those two weeks away, here's one I've worked out just to show you I believe almost everything I write:

- 6 a.m.: Sleep.
  - 9, 10, 11 a.m.: Sleep.
  - 12: Heavy brunch.
  - 1 p.m.: Light nap.
  - 5 p.m.: Dinner.
  - 6 p.m.: Light Nap.
  - 8:30 p.m.: Visit to bar.
  - 1 a.m.: To bed.
- But don't YOU try it.

■ To hit a bull's eye in sports, use bow and arrow.

■ For satisfying thrills, go sailing in a good breeze.

■ Here the author, skeet-shooting, does what he has urged you to do at resorts.

■ Northerners have adopted water skiing as an invigorating sport. This is not Florida, but White Rose Lake, in New York.

STUDY ABROAD MAKES WORLD A CLASSROOM

Names on the map of the world are going to become real places for thousands of teachers and students planning to study abroad.

Increasing numbers of teachers and students will be flocking to the United States as well. For these education-seekers, the governments of the world have provided thousands of scholarships.

The United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) has issued a new edition of its international handbook, "Study Abroad." More than 21,000 opportunities for foreign study, observation and research are listed. Distributed by Columbia University Press, it is the only single volume offering detailed information of this kind gathered on a world-wide scale. The emphasis is on fellowships, scholarships and educational grants that will promote closer relationships between citizens of certain regions; improve international understanding; and facilitate the exchange of ideas. The grants are classified according to the country of origin and show more than 5,000 such awards stemming from private and governmental sources in the United States. Fifty-two other nations and 23 territories are also represented.

Other useful sources to consult, if you are planning to study abroad are: "Work Study, Travel Abroad," published by the U. S. National Student Association; "To Study Abroad," by the Educational Travel Division of the American Express Company; Travel Service of the National Education Association; the Students International Travel Association (SITA); and American Youth Hostels (AYH).

All of these deal with summer opportunities and include work camps, study programs, seminars and summer study-travel programs, country by country. Also, though there will be student travel by boat as in previous years, many more students will go by air, with universities and private agencies planning such trips as part of their summer school programs.

No Answer To Spread Of Green Peach Aphid

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—"Wanted: An iron curtain, or something, to stop the green peach aphid." No such public appeal has been made by the University of California citrus experiment station here, but neither have its experts been able to halt the spread of the green peach aphid.

This creature flies through clouds of insecticide without turning a hair, spreading a virus that causes cantaloupe mosaic. This is a disease which on two recent occasions has ruined a third of the early melon crop hereabouts.

The northern division representative in the annual Pacific Coast Conference basketball playoff has defeated the southern team for the last three years.

Travel Agency Has Answer To Problems

If you are contemplating a "periodic break with established routine, involving a change of physical environment," the person to see is not your psychiatrist, but your travel agent.

Like a stock broker, brain surgeon or lawyer, a travel agent is a specialist and the logical person to be consulted when you've travel on your mind. In most cases, he's a little different than other specialists because it doesn't cost a cent to pick his brains.

The travel agent — there are some 1,800 of them who are properly accredited—does not, however, provide this service just because he likes to know people are getting around. He is paid a commission by the hotels, steamships, railroad and air lines from which his clients buy tickets.

There are roughly six very good reasons to let a travel agent worry over your trip and its details.

He's a sort of self-contained department store, with information about all forms of transportation at his finger-tips.

He can, with an expert's skill, fit a travel plan to you, your budget, your personality, likes and dislikes.

He knows travel requirements and can anticipate difficulties. Red-tape cutting is part of his job, and he knows just when a passport is required, how much money you can take in or out of a country and how many dollars worth of goods you can bring back duty-free.

He is up-to-date in his information about hotel facilities and transportation routes and can steer you away from a number of unhappy and annoying errors — really save expense sometimes, and delays regularly.

He can advise you on a number of items which might be overlooked. Many travelers remember to carry accident insurance and perhaps cover their luggage in case of loss. The travel agent frequently reminds you of other precautions like taking out special household insurance for the duration of your trip, so that your mind is relieved from worry.

Visitors Invited Aboard Liners On Sailing Dates

When my Uncle Harry and my cousins from Kalamazoo come to New York, I take them on a simple sightseeing tour that never fails to delight them. We go to the steamship piers to watch luxury liners sail to vacationlands abroad.

First we check sailing dates in the morning papers. Having chosen the ship we want to see, we journey to piers along the Hudson. Visitors are not allowed aboard ship on the day of arrival without a customs pass. On sailing dates, however, everyone is welcome. The cost is only a contribution to the Seamen's Welfare Fund—not over 50 cents. Visitors may roam the decks freely.

So many thousands want to swarm around the Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary, Mauretania and other ships, that officials have had to set certain rules about visitors. On sailing day there are no restrictions on the number who may visit, but you must be a friend or relative of someone who has booked passage.

When the ships sail at midnight, the number of evening visitors is limited to two each for tourist or cabin class passengers, and four for first class passengers. To watch the huge Queens shove off, always a thrilling sight, you need only stand along the shore. Thousands come to see each sailing.

The United States Lines permit visitors aboard the America and the Washington on sailing day, without restrictions. When the ships are about to leave, you may go to an upper level balcony from which you can obtain a perfect view.

For large groups or special parties who wish to see ships on days other than "embarkation day" (but not arrival day) a telephone call to the offices of the steamship company usually will arrange everything.

All lines welcome visitors. One hour before the ship sails—funny how everybody still uses the word "sails"—all non-passengers leave the liner.

The little tugboats, with ropes firmly tied to the sea giant, begin to chug and push. Slowly the liner moves. With whistles tooting, the ship, like a mother and her little ducklings, moves out into the river and then towards the open sea.

We often wish we were aboard. But like Brooklyn Dodger fans our motto is: "Wait Till Next Year."

Bus Trips Are Gay And Very Informal Today

If you remember the movie "It Happened One Night" you know why so many people choose busses to carry them to vacationlands. The film stressed the informality and friendliness of riding the highway coaches.

Another big factor, of course, is economy. When the driver sings out his call for a "twenty minute stop" passengers know, too, that they can get by on a small investment for lunch.

Of more than a billion passengers who ride the 30,000 inter-city busses each year, a large number are summer vacationers. Highway coaches rolled up almost two billion miles last year.

Bus lines emphasize "scenic stopovers" along highways that reach almost every part of the country. They stress comfort, too. Most coaches on long runs are air-conditioned. Seats are soft and adjustable, and the new buses have plenty of leg-room. Wide windows frame the panorama of mountain grandeur or green country-side along the road.

A single bus ride on a national system can carry you as much as a thousand miles. If you're going farther, you can make connections with another highway coach to take you on the next segment of your trip. When travel is heavy, most lines arrange for long-distance passengers to be seated before local riders.

Some vacationers say they choose bus travel because they feel at home on the big highway cruisers. Others feel they can see more of the country from a coach window.

For bus enthusiasts, a Highway Travelers Club was organized recently. A non-profit service organization, with headquarters in Chicago, it provides members with a magazine subscription, travel literature and tour information, maps, courtesy cards and luggage labels.

And bus travel has proven so popular, so convenient, and so much a part of customary transportation that many overseas tourists arrange for bus rides through the European country-side as part of their trips. European bus lines cooperate with railroads and airlines in taking passengers on short, scenic hauls to places of interest.

Sightseeing trips by bus, here and abroad, cover historic sites as well as the usual things to see in the cities.

Sanitation is more important to young turkeys than to any other comemo domestic poultry.

Communist Split Up Into Five Groups In Ragoon, Burma

RANGOON, IS — A secret Communist center in the heart of Ragoon was discovered during a police raid on a house here. The underground Communists apparently are without affiliation either to the Red Flag (Trotskyites) or White Flag (Stalinist) parties now at open war with the Burmese government.

Five Communist associations, each independent of the other, are known to exist in Burma. These are the Red Flags, the White Flags, the Upper Burma Communist Association, the Lower Burma Communist Party and the Democratic Communist Party.

Sudan Beer Parties Cut To Three Days

KHARTOUM, Sudan. IS — The biggest social events of the year in remote areas of the Sudan are the festivals held when young boys of the village are circumcised.

Now in Western Darfur the district council has ordered circumcision festivals cut from 15 to three days. The reason: villagers were using their whole year's grain crop for beer consumed during the single festival.

ACQUIRING A SUN TAN SHOULD BE GRADUAL

A little sun goes a long way when you take the first steps toward obtaining that vacation tan. Unless your happen to be of the rare type that tans naturally with infrequent trouble from blisters, it usually pays to show respect for old Sol when first warming up for the summer.

For example, it is not a good idea to absorb the first rays of the season in the middle of the day. A few moments in the early morning and late afternoon usually works out better for the first few days. Then, after "warming" to the situation, a few minutes around the noon hour will help speed things up a bit, but too much speed defeats your purpose.

While acquiring the tan, a big, wide-brimmed hat, a flowing robe and sunglasses should be donned immediately after the sun bath unless you seek a shady spot. The entire process should be gradual and suntan lotions and creams should be used freely, especially when swimming is mixed in with the suntan program. The sun rays are tricky on the water, and painful burns can develop rapidly while you are boating or swimming.

Take it easy if you want it that way.

Carlsbad Is Not Far From Big Spring Area

Even if you are one who holds with the theory that a person must get away from home to really and truly take a vacation you still needn't travel far from Big Spring to find noted tourist attractions.

Take the Carlsbad Caverns, for instance. People anxious to have a look at them without any undue time wastin' can make it there and back in a single day by getting an early start and making a late return.

The caverns certainly rate a spot among the top notchers on any attraction list, since they have been visited by something over two-million sight-seers and they have been recognized as a point of interest by the Federal government for almost three decades, first as a national monument in 1923 and since 1930 as a national park. Actually the caverns are huge crevices in a rock bank that was thrown slightly out of balance when the Rocky Mountains came into being.

The mystery of the Caverns is made even more awesome by the fact that they still have not been completely explored.

If you plan to spend several days in the area, however, you probably are interested in a few vacation attractions outside the caverns. There is fishing for those who care for it, while others may prefer such recreational activities as swimming, horseback riding, etc.

As for the caverns themselves, they are equally pleasant in summer and winter, having a constant temperature of about 65 degrees.

Word Of Warning

Canton, Ohio, police have a word of warning for tourists everywhere. Make sure your car is locked when you stroll off to see the sights or buy some souvenirs. Of 114 cars stolen in their city, the owners of 104 had left keys in the ignition.

Off The Beaten Path?

Looking for recreation spots off the beaten path? You should find plenty of them. The Department of Interior reports that only 25 per cent of the country has been mapped adequately. Right now 2,000 mapping projects are under way. The job won't be finished for 50 years. By that time tourists probably will be looking for sky routes to the moon.

Outdoor Fun Is Plentiful In New Mexico

A wealth of rustic beauty, seasoned with facilities for fishing and other outdoor activities, plus a cool climate — that's vacation-land in most any language and neighboring New Mexico has a good supply of it.

Best known and most popular in this area probably is Ruidosa, or maybe Cloudcroft.

The former is a resort of renown, boasting many cabins and is headquarters for a fishing hotbed. The temperature almost never exceeds 75 degrees, even in mid-summer, which is a recommendation within itself. Hiking, horseback riding and other rugged outdoor activities are popular there.

Cloudcroft is famous for several reasons, including its highest golf course in the world. The temperature there usually gets no higher than 72 degrees, and in addition to golf there is bowling, tennis, riding, etc., to entice the vacationers.

More Leisure for Millions

MILLIONS of Americans are just beginning to play. More people have more time for vacations now than ever before. And the next ten years will see a spectacular increase in leisure time and vacations with pay, in the opinion of many recreation experts.

Not so long ago, play was considered something of a sin. Suggested pioneers who were carving a nation out of a wilderness had no time for dancing or card-playing or anything except the most necessary travel. Today churches and schools

Industry sets trend toward liberalized vacations-with-pay

sponsor picnics, dances and other social functions. Psychiatrists, clergymen and teachers agree with medical science that a change from routine and a chance to relax are important to physical and mental health. Major industries have set up recreation programs. Vacations with pay have doubled in the past ten years and will be almost universal by 1960, the Twentieth Century Fund reports.

A recent survey by the U. S. Department of Labor sees a trend toward three-week vacations for long-term employees. Its conclusions are based on a study of 1,473 collective bargaining agreements, checked last year by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"Liberalized paid-vacation benefits provided by current collective-bargaining agreements have been one of the outstanding features in the development of labor-management relations in the last decade," the BLS reports. "More extended vacations for workers . . . have been made possible by greater efficiency, improved technology, and increased productivity of American industry."

ALMOST all agreements studied provide for paid vacations—nine out of ten of them setting two weeks or more as the standard. And one out of three plans specifically provides for more than two weeks after specified periods of service.

A study by the National Industrial Conference Board shows that a majority of the three-weeks-with-pay plans are for employees who have worked 15 years for their firms. Half of these plans are in industries employing hourly workers.

A researcher who has been studying vacation trends reports the move toward three-weeks-with-pay is booming. He predicts that more than half the nation's industries will have such programs in operation within the next ten years. This applies both to hourly workers and to those who are on annual salaries.

Studies of collective-bargaining agreements are representative of vacation plans for the 14,000,000 workers who belong to AFL, CIO or independent unions. Similar plans, of course, are provided for a majority of the un-organized workers in the nation's labor force of almost 60,000,000 people.

Analyzing the results of liberalized vacation plans, forecasters have come up with some startling conclusions. Dr. Harold G. Moulton, president of the Brookings Institution, says that 100 years from now, the United States could support a doubled population, on a plane of living eight times as high as today's.

THE nation's dollar spending, he believes, will multiply eight times for food, 20 times for clothes and personal care, 30 times for health and education, and—highest of all—33 times for recreation and travel.

"For the future," says the Twentieth Century Fund, "it looks as if we Americans will have both more time and more money for recreation. Vacation travel is likely to go steeply upward. Outdoor sports of all kinds are likely to increase in popularity."

To Dr. William C. Menninger, noted psychiatrist, the trend toward longer vacations for more people means better mental health for the nation. "As a psychiatrist," he says, "I would prescribe a vacation . . . if you have become 'fed up,' if you are just going along on nerve, if you feel bogged down, or if the pressures of life are making you lose your sense of humor. But the best prescription of all is to take a vacation before you reach any of these states."

A vacation, says Dr. Menninger, should be refreshing, should enrich your interests, and should break monotony. He points out that this formula should apply not only to jobholders, but to every member of the family as well.

Businessmen know their secretaries and stenogs will come back to the office refreshed after a relaxing holiday outdoors.

Vacations should break monotony, the experts say. City folks welcome a couple of weeks on the farm for recreation.

Mom and the kids need a break in routine, too. Family trips should give the housewife relief from home duties.

Let's Go Shopping

Every store in town has stocked up on vacation accessories you need to help make your holiday perfect. Here are some of the new things you may find on the shelves in addition to old stand-bys.

Train case has removable tray for grooming aids, room for clothing, mirror in lid.

Picnic baskets are outdated by insulated plastic thermal containers for hot or cold foods or ice cubes.

One of the newest domestic 35 mm cameras, ideal for color pictures.

Ready-to-use adhesive bandages come in moisture-proof, handy first aid kit.

New portable phonograph has amplifier, record storage compartment, automatic changer, take-off lid.

Slumber Magic

Mother and child sleep peacefully in a Hawaii-bound Stratocruiser high above the clouds. Seats form roomy bed.

A good night's rest is half the fun of "having a wonderful time." Vacationers making long hops by plane or train can relax in luxury now.

Seats on modern airliners can be transformed in a jiffy into berths that are wider than the average twin bed and more than six feet long. Slumber in the sky is aided by soundproofed walls.

New types of train compartments feature comfortable fold-away beds. A new sleeping car drawing room for family groups is equipped with three beds. An upper berth folds into the wall, while a day-time sofa becomes the lower berth. The third bed folds away. Two folding lounge chairs which face full-view windows during the day are tucked out of sight beneath the berths.

The new compartments also feature enclosed wash room facilities, enclosed wardrobes, and wide overhead luggage shelves. Passengers control room temperature in the air conditioned sleepers.

Heavier Items Go First In Packing

Packing is important for the successful vacation.

Not only does it involve transporting clothing with a minimum of wrinkles, but it also touches the matter of conserving space.

In packing bags, naturally the heavier items such as purses flat on the bottom, shoes, etc. go on the bottom. Sweaters should be rolled length-wise, as should one-piece dresses. Fold on the latter should be at the waist line.

Lay slips folded length wise on several full-lengths of tissue paper. Panties and bras can be placed on top of them. Roll lingerie cross-wise. Tissue paper will be on the outside of the roll. Lingerie packed in this fashion comes out of the suitcase clean and creaseless.

To keep skirts wrinkle free, lay them out flat with the hem touching the edge of one end of your case and the waist extending beyond the other end. Turn side panels inward over strips of accordion-pleated tissue. Flip the waist back into the case over two rolled sweaters. Do likewise in packing slacks, using a rolled sweater at the knee.

For suits, lay the jacket flat in the case length-wise. Open up the front flaps and lay the waist of your skirt at the shoulder of the jacket. Now button up the jacket and bring the skirt up over it and a rolled sweater. In packing men's suits, follow the same procedure with trousers that you used with skirts.

In the case of evening dresses, pack them last. Lay hem of the dress so that it touches one end of the case. Then fold the sides inward over accordion-pleated tissue. Double a short dress over once, with plenty of tissue between the fold, if you have a 26-inch Pullman case. The kind of dress that sweeps the floor is doubled over twice.

Fill corners of your case with gloves, belts and rolled lingerie so that nothing slides around. Sliding causes wrinkles. Be sure all spillable items are in the rubber-lined zipper compartment of your case. If you lack this, pack them in a tin box well insulated with cotton.

In the case of packing luggage into cars, papers may be used to advantage to prevent scuffing and rubbing between the pieces. Care should be taken to put pieces needed most frequently toward front of the stack for convenience. Luggage should be padded or packed so that it will not slide.

The Mason-Dixon Line was surveyed by two British surveyors Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, beginning in 1763.

Vacation Means Texas To Many Out-Of-Staters

The word "vacation means Texas to thousands of residents of other states, according to statistics compiled by the state highway department.

The statistics are believed to be fairly accurate, since they are obtained from out-of-state travelers at the state line along all major highways.

Among other things, the figures indicate that tourist trade is a major industry in the Lone Star State, with out-of-state vacationers spending almost three quarters of a billion dollars during 1949.

Of the out-of-state persons entering Texas last year, almost three fourths of them were vacationing, and outside tourist traffic during the year was up 33 percent over 1948.

Since California generally is regarded as a major tourist attraction, Texans may attach some significance to the fact that the West Coast state furnished almost one-fifth of the out-of-state tourists in Texas last year, far more than any other state.

The state highway department figures the average tourist party last year was composed of 2.7 persons, spent about $18.04 per day, and remained in Texas 4.7 days.

Plenty Of Railroads

If you're having trouble deciding where and how to go on your trip, no wonder. The United States has a third of the world's railroad trackage and highways. You can take your choice of 3,327,000 miles of highways, roads and streets. Last year more than 25,000,000 people flew over the world's air networks, with a plane taking off every five seconds.

Night Prowler

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. — Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lerch heard a prowler in the house. They looked, found nobody. Then, in the still of the night, came the soft sounds of feet stealing down the interior stairs. They searched again, but in vain. An hour later there was a noise and a dim figure at the back door. Police were called. They captured the marauder. It was a raccoon.

Tourist Record Forecast for National Parks

NATURE trails, wild life, recreation areas, fishing, mountain climbing and some of the grandest scenery in all the world lure millions annually to national parks in the United States. This year's attendance is expected to exceed the 31,864,180 visitors clocked in 1949.

The Great Smoky mountains, in Tennessee and North Carolina, ranked first in popularity last year, with 1,510,000 visitors. Colorado's Rocky Mountain National Park and the tri-state Yellowstone National Park were second and third, each with more than 1,300,000 guests.

Platt National Park in Oklahoma, and Shenandoah National Park in Virginia also drew more than a million visitors each. Other historical and recreational areas attracting more than a million tourists were Lincoln National Memorial, Washington, D. C.; Lake Mead Recreational Area, Arizona and Nevada; and Blue Ridge Parkway, North Carolina and Virginia.

Most popular national historical parks were at Morristown, N. J.; Saratoga, N. Y., and the Statue of Liberty, New York. Favorite historic sites were Federal Hall Memorial, Roosevelt's Hyde Park Home, and the Vanderbilt Mansion, all in New York state.

The national park system embraces 21,000,000 acres of land, kept in a natural state except for tourist facilities.

Lodges, cabins and bus transportation are provided in the larger recreation areas by concessionaires. The government does not operate public accommodations or transportation.

Many park museums supplement talks and conducted tours by naturalists or historians.
