Was Linked In Massacre Of Old Gang Day

Machine Gun Jack McGurn Wanted By Many; Case Deeply Involved

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (AP)—The tangle of gangland hostilities—extending back seven years to the St. Valentine's Day massacre of 1929—enmeshed tonight the hunt for the slayers of dapper "Machine Gun Jack" McGurn.

"Public Enemy No. 5" on the original Chicago list, McGurn died early today, just 12 hours past the exact anniversary of the septuple killing of George "Bugs" Moran henchmen which spotlighted him in national notoriety. The pistol man ended his "chained" life in a near-Northwest side bowling alley.

There were "just too many reasons" why the death of the chief machine gunner of the Capone "syndicate" could have been desired to make it easy to trace the killers, said Mal Coghlan, assistant state's attorney.

"Police will have to untangle many phases of his life before we can even get started toward a solution," he said.

Three Open Fire McGurn, indicted for the Valentine's Day massacre, was assassinated in typical gangland fashion. While he and two companions awaited their turn to bowl, three men entered the place and opened fire with pistols on McGurn. One shot hit him in the back of the neck, one behind the ear.

In his dozen years as a major gangster, the frequent target of bullets himself, McGurn was credited in underworld boastings with the death of at least two dozen men, the extortion of thousands of dollars, the favor with his chief (now in federal prison) which spread jealousy among his own associates, and gave a suave ruthlessness with enemies of his gang that incited hope of vengeance.

McGurn beat the charge in the massacre by producing the now-famous "blonde alibi," Louise Roife, who later became his wife. She testified they were in a hotel at the time of the massacre.

The chief gunman for Capone was reputed to have amassed several hundred thousand dollars in prohibition days, but he died "broke."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight uncovered a proposal for an extraordinary inter-American conference, encompassing 20 Central South American governments as an aim "at permanent peace on this, the western continent."

NEW PEACE MOVE

FD Suggests Parley For American Nations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt tonight uncovered a proposal for an extraordinary inter-American conference, encompassing 20 Central South American governments as an aim "at permanent peace on this, the western continent."

In almost identical personal letters to the presidents of the various republics, the chief executive suggested that the parley be held at Buenos Aires, Argentina, at an early date.

The cause of peace in the new world, he said, is a matter of "vital concern."

Braniff Cited For Airmail Violation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—The postoffice department today ordered that all airmail pay of Braniff Airways, Inc. be withheld, after finding that the company had violated the air mail act in 1935 by operating an "off line" service between Chicago and Dallas in competition with American Airlines, and by not paying pilots and co-pilots according to regulations.

Barnyard Hen Out-Distanced

Hatcheries Due To Exceed 1935 Output Of 400,000 Chicks

A once modest effort at diversification is blossoming into a thriving industry here.

Instead of leaving the perpetuation of the poultry line to the little red hen, three hatcheries turned out a combined total of approximately 400,000 baby chicks here last year.

Orders placed already and inquiries made by farmers and chicken ranchers indicate an even bigger season for 1936. At any rate capacities and facilities of the hatching plants have been enlarged and improved in anticipation of the biggest year for baby chicks.

These three hatcheries, Logan's Nest, and Co-op, are now in a position to turn out 101,000 chicks every 21 days. Of course they won't have a demand sufficient to entail capacity operation until June when the season ends, but they are reasonably sure to exceed the total amassed last year.

Prices are within reach of the average farmer or chicken rancher this season. From $4.50 per hundred for cockerels, the buyer has his choice of most every type of chicken up to $9.50 per hundred for pullets. Prevailing price is $6.90 per hundred with the price scaled upwards for more selective strains and sexed lots.

Numbers are impressive, but the potential profit to be realized in chicken production is even more imposing. At $6.90 per hundred, the chick costs 69 cents. With proper care it will grow into a two-pound fryer, having consumed somewhere between five and nine

City Is In Line For Next Teachers Meet

Offers Only Bid At Lubbock Session, But Action Delayed; Lamesa Man New Head

(Special To The Herald)

LUBBOCK, Feb. 15.—Big Spring's invitation for the 1937 convention of the West Texas Teacher association probably will be accepted by the organization's executive committee, it was said after the first annual session closed here today.

W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring superintendent and retiring president of the association, read a telegram from the Big Spring chamber of commerce inviting teachers there, and no other city asked to be the next host.

Lack of a quorum of the executive committee, however, delayed action on the invitation.

Rogers Installed Supt. V. Z. Rogers of Lamesa was inducted into office as new president at the concluding session. Mrs. Della K. Agnell of Big Spring was named a member of the executive committee.

Approximately 1,200 attended the convention. The teachers passed resolutions asking the removal of the $17.50 limit on the school per capita apportionment; urging that Texas technological college's library facilities be increased; asking location of deputy state superintendents in community centers; and asking adoption of textbooks for vocational courses and state adopted free textbooks for all courses subject to being accredited.

More than 60 members of the faculty of the Big Spring school system were in Lubbock for the West Texas Teachers association meeting, which opened Friday afternoon and adjourned Saturday afternoon.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship presided for the sessions, and several Big Spring teachers had a part on the program. Curriculum problems were discussed in most of the talks made before the convention.

LIQUOR MEN DUE To Set Up Temporary Control Office Monday

Monday a group of inspectors will arrive here to begin preliminary work in regard to liquor law violations and set up a temporary district office in Big Spring for the state liquor control board.

Garet Hawkins will be in charge of the temporary set-up, it was announced from Austin. His assistant inspectors will be K. W. Armstrong, C. K. Barton and E. C. Pinson.

They will check this section for irregularities in liquor sales and will be maintained here until some permanent organization is developed by the state control board.

TEXAS REPUBLICANS SELECT FT. WORTH

B'Spring Gets 15 Pct. Credit On Fire Rate

Rating Boosted 3 Per Cent By State Insurance Commission

A three per cent boost in the credit rating on fire insurance, due to mean a saving of several thousand dollars in rates, has been announced for Big Spring by the state fire insurance commission.

The city was given a 15 per cent credit, as compared with 12 per cent last year. The former rating was nine per cent above 1934's three per cent.

The credit is based on the basic rate set for the community, the basis involving premium values and fire losses. Credit reducing insurance cost is given for good fire records and penalties assessed for bad records.

The 15 percent rating accorded Big Spring formerly was the maximum, but a new rating system installed this year permits a maximum of 25 per cent credit. The new ratings, effective March 1, are based on a four-year average record, and beginning next year the average for five years will be used. The old system took a three-year average.

Ahlene and Amarillo were West Texas cities getting a 25 per cent credit, while El Paso was given 20 per cent. In the rating with Big Spring are Beaumont, Tyler, Wichita Falls and Rusk. Ten per cent credit went to Dallas, Fort Worth, Midland, and Texarkana, while Mineral Wells and San Angelo were in the five per cent class. Brownwood and Sweetwater got neither credit nor penalty. Breckenridge and Eastland were among cities drawing a 5 per cent penalty. Ranger was one point assessed a 15 per cent penalty.

Feed Test At Midway Mark

Small Weight Advantage Is Shown In Feeding Of Full Rations

There seemed little advantage in feeding a full ration over a limited ration to feeder cattle on the basis of reports shown at the half way mark on the 180-day feeding test conducted annually at the U. S. experiment farm Saturday.

Cattle fed a full ration or all they could eat showed a 20 per cent gain over those fed a ration consisting of 30 per cent less at the end of 90 days, records compiled by Jot Smith, feeder, revealed.

Tests this year are being conducted on a different basis than in preceding years to determine if better results are obtained from giving stock all they can eat or a smaller amount. Last year the tests compared individual feeding against group feeding. The two preceding years were designed to compare the relative advantage of native rations.

This year one group of 10 calves is being fed a full ration of 10 individual, ten other individuals 80 per cent of the full ration, a third bunch of ten being fed a full ration as a group, and a fourth unit of ten fed the limited ration as a group.

Group No. 1 averaged 650 pounds, a gain of 153 pounds, or an average daily gain of 1.7 pounds per day at the half way mark. Group No. 2 showed an average of 625 pounds, a gain of 143 pounds or an average daily increase of 1.4 pounds; group No. 3 a gain of 150 pounds or an average daily gain of 1.6 pounds and the fourth group 145 pounds or an average daily gain of 1.5 pounds.

Calves on individual feeding even have the amount of water consumed daily gauged.

The stock will be taken off feed about the middle of May when the annual Feeder's Day program will be held at the farm. In past years this feature has attracted growing crowds of farmers and stockmen.

Jack, son of Mrs. Alice Riggs, appeared to be slightly improved Saturday. He has been seriously ill for the past few days at the family home, 1704 Main street.

Baptists Open New Campaign

Meeting At Local Church Inaugurates Enlargement Program

A Sunday school enlargement campaign in district 8, which includes Big Spring, Lamesa and Mitchell, Sunday Baptist associations, was launched Saturday with a preliminary district meeting at the East Fourth Street Baptist church here.

W. J. Liles of Dallas, who will direct the program in the Big Spring association presided at the meeting, at which a dozen churches were represented. Also present was Mrs. Annie Going Taylor of Fort Worth, director of the work for the First Baptist church here.

Representatives from Mary Hardin-Baylor college, Elton, arrived to serve various churches in the district, and they were taken to the various places after the Saturday afternoon meeting. Outside workers are leading the program in each church. The campaign includes census, tabulation, visitation, enlargement of organization and the study of a book.

The district campaign, which extends through next Sunday, all be in general charge of G. S. Hopkins, state Sunday school secretary for the Texas Baptist convention. Hopkins was scheduled to arrive here early today and will preach at 11 a. m. at the First Baptist church.

He will also appear on a district-wide program to be held in connection with the campaign at the First church here Wednesday. Other speakers scheduled for the all-day meeting are Liles and Mrs. Taylor, Rev. H. B. Fowler, Dallas; Rev. J. D. Brannon, Ahilene; Mrs. E. M. Francis, Ahilene; Earl Edmond, Lamesa; Claude Crain, Edmond, and Lawrence Hays of Snyder.

Another meeting on campaign work will be held at Stanton Tuesday afternoon.

Country Club Elects Heads

Blomshield, Johnson New Officers; Committees Are Appointed

Officers and directors were named and preliminary plans for the new year were mapped at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Big Spring country club at Hotel Settles Friday night. Carl S. Blomshield was elected president for the year and Monroe Johnson was chosen as vice-president.

Blomshield was advanced from the vice-presidency to succeed Obit Bristow, who presided for the Friday night session. Bristow and Fred Stephens were elected to three-year terms on the board of directors, succeeding Dr. M. H. Bennett and R. T. Piner. They will serve with D. P. Watt, J. Y. Robb, Dr. P. W. Malone and Tobe Taylor, hold-over directors. Val Larson remains in the secretary's post.

Blomshield announced that the directorate would meet at an early date to map definite program for the new year. It is considered probable that the group will order some repairs and renovation work at the clubhouse.

New committees announced by the president Saturday include Entertainment—Elmo Wasson, Mrs. J. Y. Robb, Ben LaFever, House—Willard Sullivan, Mrs. E. O. Ellington, Ben Carter, Greens—C. W. Cunningham, C. R. Worley, Harry Hurt, Mrs. Alice Phillips, Mrs. M. H. Bennett. Membership—Monroe Johnson, W. D. Carnett, Ralph Rix, Yastine Merrick, Victor Mellinger.

600 AUTO DRIVERS GET NEW LICENSES

Saturday with more than 600 drivers licenses issued, employees in the tax collector-assessor's office estimated their task was only 5 per cent done.

Since issuing the licenses Friday, clerks have been turning them out at the rate of 300 per day. Up to closing time Saturday there was a group of applicants waiting to be served.

It is a traditional circumstance that rail rates have been designed to the protection of manufacturing and industrial centers of the North and East.

Taxes for unemployment and old age pensions under the social security act may well run to 40 or 50 billions of dollars annually within one generation.

What some term a "new" Jean Harlow comes to the screen Sunday and Monday with the presentation of her latest picture, "Riffraff," at the Ritz Sunday and Monday.

Given a dramatic role in a story of stormy love against a waterfront setting, Miss Harlow has adopted soft brown hair in place of her famous platinum blonde tresses to more aptly fit the part. And most reviewers say the transformation is a success.

Miss Harlow is teamed with Spencer Tracy, who plays capably as her swaggering, two-fisted lover. The story, written by Frances Marion, is one of love that survives the most severe tests. Jean appears as Hattie, belle of the waterfront, who is secretly in love with Dutch Muller (Tracy) one of the huskiest men of the fishing fleet. They attend a fisherman's celebration, and strangely become engaged as the result of a free-for-all fight at the affair.

Dutch becomes involved with a labor agitator, calls a strike to get even with a rival for Hattie's affections. The strike fails, Dutch is kicked out of the union and in a rage deserts Hattie.

She later hears he is in trouble, steals money to go to his aid. That costs her freedom and she is sent to prison. Dutch goes back to work, but later is injured, and his wife breaks prison to go to him. There's a surprise turn in the plot to end the story, but Dutch and Hattie eventually find the type of happiness two such characters desire.

The picture has its laughs and its drama, and is swiftly moving story of elemental love among people who live a strong life.

Supporting Miss Harlow and Tracy are Una Merkel, one of the screen's most capable comedienne; Joseph Calleia, who appears as the domineering cannery owner; Victor Killian, Mickey Rooney, J. Farrell MacDonald, Roger Imhoff and Vince Barnett.

In June, 1934, he was graduated from Cumberland University law school at Lebanon, Tenn., and was admitted to the Texas bar in December of the same year. Following his admittance to the bar, he returned to Big Spring and has been engaged in practice since.

In announcing his candidacy, Faucett said that he felt he was qualified to fulfill the duties of the office in view of his legal training. He pledged himself to give efficient service if elected to the office. Faucett said he would make all active campaign before the primaries in an effort to contact the voters of this justice precinct.

Wolcott Seeking Reelection As Tax Official

John F. Wolcott, long time resident of Big Spring and Howard county, said Saturday he would again seek the office of tax collector-assessor.

Wolcott is well known to most of the voters, having lived in Big Spring and Howard county for more than half a century.

He said that he felt that experience gained in the office during his first term qualified him to give even more efficient service for another term. He pointed out that he had made a successful effort to put a large amount of the heretofore unrendered property on the rolls, to the end of lessening the tax burden.

For proof that the office had been operated efficiently, he alluded to the statement made by state auditors last week to the effect that the records were well kept and that the office was in good shape.

Wolcott announced his candidacy subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Episcopal Style And Fashion Revue To Be Eve Of March 6

The date for the Fashion Revue and style show to be given by St. Mary's Episcopal auxiliary and one of the social events of the spring season has been set for March 6.

An innovation this year will be the staging of the show in the evening. Instead of the Settles hotel ballroom, which was inadequate from the beginning in seating capacity, the style show will be at the municipal auditorium. An auto show will be held in connection with it.

The excellent stage of the auditorium and the lighting effects afford limitless possibilities, announced Mrs. Shine Phillips, publicity director of the revue, and these will be taken advantage of. Something new in fashion revues will be given, entertainment that will be more of a show in its appeal to the eye and ear than a mere fashion parade.

Tickets will not be on sale until the last week in February. Then they will be sold for the two weeks preceding the style revue. Names of committees in charge of tickets and other style activities will be announced later.

Asylum To Be Reviewed By Pharmacist

Shine Phillips Tells Of His Reactions To Famous Book

Shine Phillips said Saturday he as I have," he said, "you start classifying your friends according to the type in the book, especially the intimate ones. You go home and look the children over carefully to see if there isn't a nut streak in one of them inherited from the wife."

When asked if he recommended an intensive study of the book Shine answered: "Yes for the student of psychology; no for the public. The public will find it amusing and one time is enough for them. They'll like the story of the dignified Episcopalian clergyman who put mashed potatoes and gravy in his pockets. The book is full of crazy stunts like that; you have no idea of what people can think up to do, until you get acquainted with a book like this."

"A consoling feature—especially to those feeble-minded people still walking the streets—is the picture of happiness the book draws. No sadness or grief in that asylum, which is a true picture of one of the United States' largest institutions of its kind. A man is as well as he is in bed with a broken knee or back."

Shine was greatly intrigued by the analysis of geniuses in such places. "Why 99 per cent of the artists and writers and famous people like that are neurotics. After reading it I was all ready to feel insulted if anybody called me a normal individual," he declared.

The tickets for the review are being sold by members of the club this week. The review will be held at the Settles hotel at 4 o'clock Thursday.

36 Locations, 16 Completions Mark Active Week In Oil Area

New Production In Winkler; Crane Well Largest

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 15.—Nine West Texas counties this week gained locations for 36 tests for oil, a new record for the year while new production of 20,960 barrels daily was added in the completion of 16 wells in nine counties. Further indicative of increasing development to a level comparing with that during any time in the Permian Basin's history, 18 tests in seven counties struck oil in amounts promising commercial yield. Five of six completed producers in Winkler county were in the Sayre pool, which at the close of last week was extended one-half mile north by Amerada No. 1-A Daugherty. It topped broken pay at 2,825 feet and flowed 279 barrels of oil in one 24-hour period while drilling to 2,930 feet in lime. Location is 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 35-74-pal.

404 Barrels Hourly
Largest initially of the completed wells was Gulf No. 12 Waddell in northern Crane county, flowing 404 barrels of oil hourly, a rate of 5,095 barrels daily, at 3,536 feet after treating pay topped at 3,200 feet with 5,000 gallons of acid. The well is 330 feet out of the northeast corner of section 10-B23-pal.

Gulf had another Permian lime well in the making in the area in No. 3 Henderson, which developed heads from pay at 3,323-25 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of section 3-B23-pal.

Gulf No. 1 W. N. Waddell estate in western Crane county, first well in West Texas outside the Big Lake field in Reagan county producing from the Ordovician, prepared to clean out from around 6,127 feet after failing to maintain its initial production on the pump. The well made 122 1/2 barrels the first day, 91 barrels the second and 61 the third day. The oil, testing 34.7 gravity, is from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, topped at 3,960 feet, 3,299 feet below sea level. This series was shot twice. The well is 660 feet out of the northwest corner of section 4-B27-pal.

Showing
One and three-quarter miles southeast of Gulf No. 1 W. N. Waddell estate, Sinclair-Prairie and others No. 1 Tubb, in the southeast corner of section 3-B27-pal had a slight showing of oil from 2,878-94 and drilled ahead below 2,930 feet. Two miles farther southeast Humble No. 1 Tubb in the northwest quarter of section 11-B27-pal, had reached 2,825 feet in lime. All materials were on the ground and derrick was being built for John I. Moore and P. D. Moore No. 1 T. C. Barnaley estate, in the center of the southwest quarter of section 43-22-pal. These three tests will seek Ordovician production.

Making slow headway due to hardness of lime, Wahlenmaier and York & Harper No. 1 Dr. E. Jones in Gaines county had drilled to 5,071 feet without showing. It is in the southwest corner of section 414-G-C&D&RNG, 17 miles northwest of Seminole. W. T. Walsh and Harry Adams No. 2 Averitt, three miles northwest of Seminole and in the northeast corner of section 228-G-WTRR, struck more gas at 3,915 feet that blew the tools up the hole. The string was recovered without difficulty but again was lost and recovered twice.

Test Is Shot
Magnolia No. 1 State-Walton, northern Winkler county wildcat midway between the Sayre and Keystone pools, had slight oil showings from 3,148-50 and from 3,248-54 but after being shot with 270 quarts from 3,191 to 3,279 feet, the total depth, showed only 1 1/2 million cubic feet of dry gas. It was probable a higher section will be shot in the event production is not developed in the lime section from which the Keystone wells produce. The Magnolia test is 2,310 feet from the south line and 960 feet from the east line of section 7-B3-pal.

Sayre No. 5-A Howe, in the southwest quarter of section 12-26-pal, was completed at 2,990 feet.

1,556-Barrel Well Best In Hawley Field

Production From New Horizon; Seven Other Locations Staked

ABILENE, Feb. 15.—Gauge of 1,556 barrels of oil on a 24-hour railroad commission potential test this week placed the Thos. D. Humphrey No. 3 Henry Dorsey estate as the highest producer in this immediate area. Oil is also of the highest gravity for this section, tests showing it to be 43.8, and production is from the fifth pay horizon of the Hawley field, a hitherto unexplored structure, at 2,308 feet. Location is 18 miles north of Abilene in Jones county, on the east edge of the field. The discovery of the new producer was followed by the staking of locations for seven new tests, one of which has already been spudded, by Humphrey.

The flow, was made through six-inch casing with 1,000 feet of two-inch flowline leading to the storage battery, under a back-pressure of 150 pounds. Footage is 1,000 feet from the south and 200 feet from the east line of section 18, Manuel Bueno survey No. 198.

Storage
Foundations are being erected for a 55,000 barrel storage tank on the lease which will be connected by a two-inch line to the Onyx Refinery, about eight miles southeast of the field. New equipment being installed at the plant will increase its capacity more than 100 per cent.

Two new tests are scheduled to reach a pay horizon this week for completion in the field. They are the Humphrey No. 2 Dorsey, midway between the No. 1 and the new producer, which was shut down this week for cement to set at 2,960 feet; and the N. H. Martin & Son of Wichita Falls No. 1-B Dorsey, west of offset to Humphrey's first well, which was drilling at 1,975 feet late this week. The Martin well is located in the south-flowing 1,294 barrels of oil daily following a 170-quart shot from 2,810 to 2,980 feet. Drilled within less than three weeks, Sinclair-Prairie No. 3 Cummins was completed at 2,972 feet, flowing 620 barrels daily. It is in the northeast quarter of section 11-26-pal, Empire No. 2 Daugherty, in the southwest quarter of section 11-26-pal, flowed 524 barrels daily for completion at 3,026 feet. Maxwell and Atlantic No. 7 Daugherty, in the southeast quarter of section 11-26-pal, was completed at 3,014 feet, flowing 976 barrels of oil daily. Humble No. 1 Howe, in the west half of the east half of section 12-26-pal, flowed 1,178 barrels of oil daily for completion at 2,833 feet.

Wildcat Showing
Emperor No. 1 Halley (Woodley), in the northeast quarter of section 12-B12-pal, in southern Winkler county, flower 680 barrels of oil in 24 hours at a plugged back depth of 3,000 feet and was shut in for storage. Gulf No. 1 E. H. Hill, southern Winkler wildcat 440 feet from the south line and 2,200 feet from the east line of section 9-B11-pal, had a showing of oil from 3,372-80 feet and salt water from 3,395 to 3,405 feet that rose 200 feet in three hours. The test drilled ahead at 3,430 feet in lime with 700 feet of water in the hole. Gulf No. 10 Keystone, in the southeast quarter of section 10-B3-pal, plugged back from 2,578 to 3,522 feet and in one 24-hour period flowed 149 barrels of oil and 2 1/2 barrels of water with three million cubic feet of gas.

Ed Richardson's No. 26-E W. D. Johnson was Ward county's only completion during the week, flowing 1,611 barrels of oil daily at 2,333 feet. It is in the east quarter of section 22-34-H&TC, Richardson No. 26-B Johnson, in the south quarter of the same section, was testing following a 340-quart shot from 2,840 to 2,979 feet, the total depth. Rio Bravo No. 2 Olcott, in the east quarter of section 7-34-H&TC, showed gas and oil in drilling to 2,384 feet in lime.

Four 500-barrel tanks were being erected at E. J. (Red) Davidson and Honolulu No. 1 L. P. Bennett, south central Yoakum county wildcat, which will be tested as soon as some equipment taken to the Wahlenmaier and York & Harper test in Gaines county is returned. No. 1 Bennett has been shut down for several months with 4,000 feet of oil in the hole from 4,088 to 4,050 feet, the total depth. It is in the center of the northwest quarter of section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

east corner of section 4, Bueno survey No. 197. It is a north offset to the Ungren & Frazier No. 3-C Dorsey which was drilling in lime at 1,140 feet.

Work was resumed this week on the Fortex Oil Corporation and Danziger Oil & Refineries No. 1 Dorsey, on the northeast side of the field, in operations to lower six-inch pipe from 2,052 to 2,204 feet. It will probably drill into the new pay horizon the first of the week. Location is in the north half of section 30, Bueno survey No. 196.

Hal Hughes et al No. 1 R. D. Bumpass, seeking a southwest extension to the field, was underreaming six-inch pipe through a water show in Tannett sand around 1,090 feet. It is in the north end of the T. Malby survey.

Leaders Area
In the Leaders area, Ungren & Frazier No. 3-A J. W. Jennings was running tubing after drilling five feet of the King sand to a total depth of 2,062 1/2 feet, slightly low on structure. It did not flow, but operators thought it would be good for 200 barrels. It is located in the east half of the northeast quarter of section 207, HBB&C survey, three miles northwest of Leaders in eastern Jones county.

Other wildcats drilling in that area include the Bob Elmore No. 1 O. L. Caton, in the southwest corner of section 10, D. & D. A. survey, which was underreaming casing around 1,750 feet. It is about a mile west of the Reliance and Jones & Stasney No. 1 Crow which was abandoned in the King sand late last fall.

The Herring & Hodges No. 1 Mrs. C. T. Cowart, another King sand wildcat, was drilling ahead past 2,148 feet. It is located north of the Sandy Ridge Oil Corporation and Crawford production, and is in the northwest corner of section 42, O. A. L. survey.

Around And About

The Sports Circuit By Tom Beasley

JACK DOYLE, Broadway betting commissioner, has given the boys who like to wager on baseball an early mark.

E. V. (GENE) Spence, city manager, is still trying to help A. & M. his alma mater, attain the football heights.

INTERESTED IN a city baseball league? Fans are talking it up. It might be possible to put such a thing over, but we doubt it would be much of a success.

AMERICANS ARE truly sports-minded. Sport project allotments have sliced into the government's four billion-dollar work relief fund for more than $340,000,000 in the last six months.

COUNTRY CLUB directors last week discussed the possibility of changing the C. C. layout from a sand green to grass greens course. No action was taken.

JESS RODGERS, writing in the Midland Reporter-Telegram, has a ray of hope for a baseball league along the T. & P. "Bill Collyns, president of the Permian Basin baseball league, has issued a call through the secretary of the league, Fred Haddock of Texon, for towns interested in entering a team in the league this year.

Collyns, a resident of Midland after several years at McCamey, is confident of an eight-team league this year for the first time in the history of the organization.

Beaure Unimpressive Beating George Brown DALLAS, Feb. 15.—Winning nine out of ten rounds, Tom Beaure, the Dallas white hope, was awarded the decision over George Brown, Houston heavy, Friday night.

What Midland will do in regards to entering the league remains uncertain, but only a short time ago "Dutch" Baumgarten and Fred Pipkin announced their intention of promoting a semi-pro team here that would make things warm for any other clubs in the section.

Interest Up For Tourney

Big-Time Golfers Arrive In Houston To Play Practice Rounds

HOUSTON, Feb. 15.—Interest mounted today in the Houston country club's invitation golf tournament, which opens Feb. 19 and continues through Feb. 23, because of the field that has arrived.

Johnny Dawson, Chicago, former titlist, will seek the honor won by Gus Moreland in 1935. Moreland has taken up residence in Peoria, Ill., and will not compete.

Henry Bowber and Gus Novotny, former western amateur titlist, came in with the Chicago brothers and will represent the Windy City in the invitational.

Beaure Unimpressive Beating George Brown

DALLAS, Feb. 15.—Winning nine out of ten rounds, Tom Beaure, the Dallas white hope, was awarded the decision over George Brown, Houston heavy, Friday night.

All the rounds went to Beaure except the seventh. Brown was on the defensive through the entire fight and Beaure constantly did all the leading.

that he place a team on the field that could and would play baseball.

Joseph Erps Rates Tops As Leading H.S. Cage Mentor

By TOM PAPROCKI Associated Press Sports Writer Out west they call Joseph W. Erps the dean of high school basketball coaches.

Erps has been connected with Colorado Springs high school ever since 1910, except for three post-war years when he was in Denver—and his basketballers have won nine Colorado state high school basketball championships for Colorado Springs.

Colorado Springs high school athletic teams are known as "Terrors," and they certainly are just that to the rest of the basketball teams in Colorado.

Erps introduced the pivot play in Colorado basketball 25 years ago. For the past few years opposing coaches have been trying to solve his "stratified zone" defense, a combination of the zone and man-to-man style of play.

Mexican First With Application For Age Benefit; Many Produce Family Bibles To Prove Their Age

Saturday, one day after old age assistance application blanks were made available, two per cent of the total anticipated for the entire district had been returned to the district headquarters here for action.

District Supervisor George White said that 80 applications had been received Saturday afternoon, practically all of them from Big Spring. Three came from Midland.

First to return an application to the district office in the Petroleum Building was Margarito Yanez, 71-year-old Mexican, who hobbled in with the aid of his nine-year-old son. Yanez is the father of 12 children ranging in ages from 36 to nine years and all on relief except one married daughter. His was also the largest family listed in the applications. More than a score told of families of 9 and 10 children.

Expect 3,000

White said that the Texas old age assistance commission had estimated 3,000 persons would make application from the 12 counties of this, the 15th district. The commission pegged the number of persons over 65 years of age at 4,500 for the district.

White covered the entire district Friday, leaving blanks in Big Spring, Stanton, Midland, Odessa, Seminole, Plains, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Post, Gail, Garden City, Andrews and Brownfield.

COOPERATION ASKED ON ALLEY PAVING

Property owners are slow in signing up on the alley paving program sponsored by the city as a WPA project, City Manager E. V. Spence said Saturday.

The city is sending out individual agreements through the mail and is asking the cooperation of property owners in signing, said the manager.

He said that work would be started only on blocks which were solid.

Alley paving plans call for a two-course rock aggregate asphalt topping at a minimum price.

Temperature Here Makes A Sharp Drop

Shifting winds drove the thermometer down 15 degrees in the space of an hour Saturday evening as a past due cold wave appeared to be nearing. From 63 degrees at 7 p. m., the temperature dropped to 51 degrees in 25 minutes and 48 degrees within the hour. One hour later it was 42 degrees and at 10 p. m. it had declined to 38 degrees. Weather observers did not anticipate severe cold, however.

RUN WILD IN BAYLOR BEAR GAME

WACO, Feb. 15. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks all but clinched the Southwest conference basketball title tonight by swamping Baylor Bears, 39 to 14. The Porkers led up a lead of 24 to 3 in the first half and then took things easy the rest of the way.

Gilliland and Poole shared scoring honors for the boys from the Ozarks with ten points each and Poole forged ahead in the conference goal shooting. His ten points put him ahead of Theo Alford, Baylor forward, who failed to find the basket even once.

Earl Wray scored five points to lead Baylor.

Southern Methodists' Mustangs 14 to 30 win over the Texas Longhorns at Dallas tonight led the Razorbacks take the biggest lead any team has held this season.

Before the Porkers' win over Baylor last night Arkansas and Texas were tied for the top position, but the Longhorns' loss paved the way to the Razorback lead that left the Ozark boys heavy favorites for the conference crown.

Rest of Arkansas' games will be played on the home court.

VENZKE SCORES SMASHING WIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)—Amid a veritable bedlam of excited acclaim, Gene Venzke, Pennsylvania's picture runner, scored a smashing victory tonight over his arch-rival Glenn Cunningham, in the Baxter Mile, the feature event of the annual New York A. C. track meet.

Venzke outran the world record holder decisively and broke the tape three yards in front in four minutes 10.2 seconds.

Venzke ran the second fastest race of his career to administer a stunning triumph over the barrel-chested Kansan, up to this season the king of millers shortly after Syracuse's Eddie O'Brien flashed to a world record breaking victory in the Buermyer 500-yard race in 57.8 seconds.

Cunningham was clocked in at 4:10.7 his fastest performance of the indoor campaign and had the consolation of taking outright possession of the Baxter cup. Cunningham took the cup because he turned in the fastest time, 4:09.8, last year.

A crowd of 13,000 went wild as Venzke, altering his usual tactics, took pace-setting position from Cunningham with two laps to go and successfully fought off every subsequent challenge by the record-holder and won going away in a short stretch drive.

FORD V-8
FOR 1936

It costs us more to build a car like this

FORD QUALITY goes far below the surface. It is built into every part of the car—in those things you see and those that are hidden. We say it with assurance—because it has been the experience of so many millions of drivers—that many months after your first ride you will still be saying—"I'm glad I bought a Ford."

The Ford Motor Company is not content with ordinary specifications for materials. Its own standards of quality for many important parts are considerably higher than usually accepted standards.

Ford valves are an example of this extra value. They are made of a nickel-chrome alloy-steel that contains 13% chromium, 13% nickel and 2% silicon. This unusually high alloy content increases resistance to heat—insures more efficient, economical performance and longer life.

Intake valves, as well as exhaust valves, are made of this more expensive steel in the Ford V-8. It is one of several good reasons why the Ford engine is singularly free of valve troubles.

It costs us more to build a car like this—yet the price of the Ford V-8 remains low. Ford manufacturing methods save many dollars for Ford owners—and bring fine-car quality within the reach of every one who drives.

It Takes 25 Operations to Finish One Ford Valve—Each Ford V-8 valve stem is ground five times for greater accuracy and smoothness. Amplifying gages check the stem for roundness within two ten-thousandths of an inch. Similar gages check diameter. Measurements are made in specially built rooms with temperature-control. The exhaust valve seats are shrunk in liquid oxygen before they are pressed into the block.

THE BOOMERANG CLUE

Chapter Six CALLERS

The coroner said a few soothing words and dismissed her. Then he addressed the jury.

Their task was to state how this man came by his death. Fortunately the matter appeared to be quite simple. There was no suggestion that Mr. Pritchard had been worried or depressed or in a state of mind where he would be likely to take his own life.

On the contrary he had been in good health and spirits and had been looking forward to his holiday. It was unfortunately the case that when a sea mist was rising, the path along the cliff was a dangerous one, and possibly they might agree with him that it was time something was done about it.

The jury's verdict was prompt. "We find that the deceased came to his death by misadventure, and we wish to add a rider that in our opinion the Town Council should immediately take steps to put a fence or rail on the sea side of the path where it skirts the chasm."

The coroner nodded approval. The inquest was over.

On arriving back at the Vicarage about half an hour later, Bobby found that his connection with the death of Alex Pritchard was not quite over. He was informed that Mr. and Mrs. Cayman had called to see him and were in the study with his father.

Bobby made his way there and found his father gravely making suitable conversation without, apparently, much enjoying his task.

"Ah!" he said with some slight relief. "Here is Bobby."

Mr. Cayman rose and advanced towards the young man with outstretched hand. Mr. Cayman was a big florid man with a would-be hearty manner and a cold and somewhat shifty eye that rather belied the manner.

As for Mrs. Cayman, though she might be considered attractive in a bold, coarse fashion, she had little in common with that early photograph of herself, and no trace of that wistful expression remained. In fact, Bobby reflected, if she had not recognized her own photograph it seemed doubtful if anyone else would have done so.

"I came down with the wife," said Mr. Cayman, enclosing Bobby's hand in a firm and painful grip. "Had to stand by, you know, Amelia's naturally upset."

Mrs. Cayman sniffed.

"We came round to see you," continued Mr. Cayman. "You see, my poor wife's brother died, practically speaking, in your arms. Naturally, she wanted to know all you could tell her of his last moments."

"Absolutely," said Bobby unhappily. "Oh, absolutely," he grinned nervously and was immediately aware of his father's sign—a sigh of Christian resignation.

"Poor Alex!" said Mrs. Cayman, dabbing her eyes. "Poor, poor Alex!"

"I know," said Bobby. "Absolutely grim." He wriggled uncomfortably.

"You see," said Mrs. Cayman, looking hopefully at Bobby, "if he left any last words or messages—naturally I want to know."

"Oh, rather," said Bobby. "But as a matter of fact, he didn't."

"Nothing at all?" Mrs. Cayman looked disappointed and incredulous. Bobby felt apologetic.

"No—well—as a matter of fact, nothing at all."

"It was best so," said Mr. Cayman solemnly. "To pass away unconscious, without pain—why, you must think of it as a mercy, Amelia."

"I suppose I must," said Mrs. Cayman. "You don't think he felt any pain?"

"I'm sure he didn't," said Bobby. Mrs. Cayman sighed deeply.

"Well, that's something to be thankful for. Perhaps I did hope he'd left a last message, but I can see that it's best as it is. Poor Alex. Such a fine out-of-door man."

"Yes, wasn't he?" said Bobby.

He recalled the bronze face, the deep blue eyes. An attractive personality, that of Alex Pritchard, attractive even so near death. Strange that he should be the brother of Mrs. Cayman and the brother-in-law of Mr. Cayman! He had been worthy, Bobby felt, of better things.

"Well, we're very much indebted to you, I'm sure," said Mrs. Cayman.

"Oh, that's all right," said Bobby. "I mean—well, I couldn't do anything else—I mean—"

"We should forget it," said Mr. Cayman. Bobby suffered once more that painful grip. He received a firm hand from Mrs. Cayman. His father made further adieu. Bobby accompanied the Caymans to the front door.

"And what do you do with yourself, young man?" inquired Cayman. "I mean—leave—something of that kind?"

"I spend most of my time looking for a job," said Bobby. He paused. "I was in the Navy."

"Hard times—hard times nowadays," said Mr. Cayman, shaking his head. "Well, I wish you luck, I'm sure."

"Thank you very much," said Bobby politely.

He watched them down the weed-grown drive. Standing there, he fell into a brown study. Various ideas flashed chaotically through his mind, confused reflections—the photograph—the girl's face with the wide-apart eyes and the misty hair—and ten or fifteen years later—Mrs. Cayman with her heavy make-up, her plucked eyebrows, those wide-apart eyes sunk in between folds of flesh till they looked like pig's eyes, and her violent hair-tinted hair.

It all came perhaps of marrying a hearty boomer like Mr. Cayman. If she had married someone else she might possibly have grown older gracefully. But perhaps anyway—

Bobby sighed and shook his head. "That's the worst of marriage," he said gloomily.

"What did you say?"

Bobby awoke from meditation to become aware of Frankie, whose approach he had not heard.

"Hullo," he said.

"Hullo. Why marriage? And whose?"

Bobby explained. He found Frankie unsympathetic.

"Nonsense. The woman's exactly like her photograph."

"When did you see her? Were you at the inquest?"

"Of course I was at the inquest. I was thrilled to the teeth."

(Copyright, 1935-36, Agatha Christie)

Bobby writes, tomorrow, to the Caymans.

Mr. Cayman rose and advanced towards the young man with outstretched hand. Mr. Cayman was a big florid man with a would-be hearty manner and a cold and somewhat shifty eye that rather belied the manner.

As for Mrs. Cayman, though she might be considered attractive in a bold, coarse fashion, she had little in common with that early photograph of herself, and no trace of that wistful expression remained. In fact, Bobby reflected, if she had not recognized her own photograph it seemed doubtful if anyone else would have done so.

"I know," said Bobby. "Absolutely grim." He wriggled uncomfortably.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

11 a. m. Sunday Room 1, Settles Hotel

"Soul" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 15.

The golden text is: "Unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul. Show me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths" (Psalms 26:1,4).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I say unto you, Ask, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened" (Luke 11:9, 10).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Truth will at length compel us all to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (page 290).

WATCH THE KITES Danger Of Flying Kites Near Wires Cited

The danger of flying kites in the vicinity of electric wires is pointed out by officials of the Texas Electric Service Company, who are appealing to parents to warn their children to keep away from wires.

"Several fatal accidents already have occurred this spring as a result of boys flying kites too near electric wires," said G. S. Bloomfield, district manager of the electric company, "and we want to impress on parents and children the dangers of letting kites and kite strings come in contact with wires. Above all, children should be cautioned never to use metal wire in the place of string when flying kites, for if the wire should fall across an electric line, the current would flash to the person holding it."

"Whenever kites become entangled in electric wires, don't climb poles or use long sticks to remove it. Call the company and a line man will be sent to get it down, if possible. Another wise precaution is not to fly kites during a rain, as a wet string is almost as dangerous as a wire should it come in contact with an electric line. Kites with metal frames, or wood frames, braced with wire, should not be used."

"Employees of the company will visit local schools within the next few days and make a further explanation of the dangers of flying kites near electric wires."

To Drill For Oil On Famed Chittim Ranch

EAGLE PASS, Tex., Feb. 15 (UP)—One of West Texas' most famous ranches will be explored for oil, according to announcement today of Stanolind Oil & Gas company.

A lease covering 150,000 acres included the Chittim ranch of Maverick county and was confirmed by company officials. The agreement allows a geological survey by the company which must make a final lease on the property within six months or release it outright.

The Chittim ranch has been involved in several border "wars" between Mexican bandits and cattle rustlers and Texas peace officers and cowboys.

The Week

 park off highway No. 1. Work was officially begun on this last week. It will be a long time before the job is completed but when it is, it will permit tourists to pause and rest, giving them reason to remember Big Spring. Perhaps that time or the next time they will make this place their overnight stop.

During the week work was finished on the Coahoma school project. Stanton reported a growing enrollment and a balanced school budget. Both reports reflect an increase in population for the two places. For which Big Spring should be proud. It is a good thing to see our neighbors prosper.

Just when it looked as if it were all off for more payments from the late AAA, news was received here last week that subsidy payments would be made out of the deficiency farm bill signed into law by the president. Observers here had expected only payments on uncompleted contracts. Now it develops that the county may receive as much as $50,000 more in aid on last season's crop. Fifty thousand injected into local trade would quicken the commercial heart-beat.

In the way of prediction, you may expect some important news of an important move following a school meeting here Tuesday. Much has been quietly done on this matter in recent days and it is believed that something definite will come of it this week.

To legally sell or not sell any and all liquors here is the question to be decided here Feb. 29 by the people of Howard county. The county commissioners court Tuesday set the date for an election after considering a petition asking a vote. Dry forces are organizing for the fight and are now conceding the inside track. Wets will be less vociferous in their campaign but will poll a good vote, too. The issue "prohibition" or "control."

And why not parallel parking along East Third street? Some say the people won't stand for it now.

There was a time when they thought the city had no right to tell them to keep their hogs and cows off Main street. None mourns the fact that the livestock had to go, however.

Boy Scout week has just closed. People were reminded anew that it pays to teach youngsters the elements of good citizenship and character. The Bible says to bring a child up in the ways he should go and when he is old he will not depart from it. Few children are incorrigibles. Many adults are.

The city formally retired $28,000 outstanding from a 1911 water works issue, saving thousands in interest and wiping the obligation off the books. Among other things, the city is setting the stage for a surface water supply bond issue in event it comes.

Tugwell Unit Is Expensive

20 Per. Of Allotment Is Going For Administrative Costs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (UP)—Reports that Rexford Guy Tugwell's resettlement administration may be abandoned were revived today by disclosure of relatively high administrative expenses. Sen. Robert F. Wagner, (D-N.Y.), discussing housing plans said he believed the resettlement administration should be gradually dissolved and its activities taken over by the federal housing administration.

Figures obtained at RA headquarters showed $19,727,305—20 per cent—of the $98,568,861 expended by the administration to Jan. 31 was for administrative expenses—office space, administrative employees' pay rolls, furniture, etc.

The administration was allotted $230,419,354 from the $4,851,000,000 work-relief fund appropriated by congress last year. Officials said not all of this would be spent in the four and a half months remaining until the end of the present fiscal year.

They said, however, that several types of projects have reached the stage where actual work and purchase of land will begin at any time.

Of the $31,000,000 originally allotted for suburban resettlement projects, only $4,458,939 has been spent. Of the $41,837,825 allocated for resettlement community projects, only $257,881 has been spent.

An allocation of $22,650,000 set aside for administrative expenses, has less than $3,000,000 remaining. The peak of administrative employees was reached July 15, 1935, when more than 15,000 persons were on the payroll. About 5,000 have since been dropped.

Poultry

more and more they are realizing that there is money to be made in chickens.

Today the three local hatcheries are filling their modern incubators with good eggs as rapidly as possible, nearing peak production. The mechanical hens are pegged at 100 degrees temperature and the warm air kept circulating. Regularly the eggs are turned. When candling shows one to be infertile, it is removed. Then on the 21st day shells begin to crack. The trays become a moving mass of eyes, bills and down. About 70 per cent of the eggs have been transferred into living money makers.

If the chicks are of proven strains, receive intelligent care, as high as 90 per cent may survive. If they are less hearty and get haphazard care, the mortality rate soars until profit fades into loss.

By no means all the baby chicks here are raised in Howard county. Thousands are shipped out of the county, shipment after shipment going to New Mexico and Arizona. These sales are far in excess of those made by out of town and out of state hatcheries to Howard county poultry raisers.

The time may come, judging from strides made in the past three years, when agriculture statisticians may have to list poultry production as one of the outstanding money makers for the farmer. The old hen who used to cluck around the barnyard, her brood chirping around, may yet be laying golden eggs.

WPA ROLLS LARGER

More Than 1,400 Certified In This District

WPA district rolls showed an increase of about 100 for the week. District Director R. H. McNew said Saturday. At the end of the week 1411 laborers were certified in addition to 46 technical or professional workers.

During the past week it became necessary to halt the mineral survey in Borden county due to lack of men to handle the job. The project was shifted to Glasscock county where a road job was stopped because of an insufficient number of men to make the work feasible.

The mineral survey for Andrews county had to be given up due to difficulty in getting enough workers to man the job.

COLEMAN CO. MAN SETS SELF AFIRE

COLEMAN, Feb. 15. (AP)—Fulfilling an expressed desire to "go to heaven in a flaming chariot" J. C. Duncan, 45, of Glen Cove, Coleman county, saturated his clothing with kerosene and set himself afire Friday afternoon.

Duncan was discharged from the state hospital for the insane at Wichita Falls in 1933.

Witnesses said he tried to persuade his 55-year-old mother to join him in the act. Barclay Martin, justice of the peace, said an inquest verdict would be "suicide by fire self-ignited."

New Service Man At B'Spring Motor

Lynn Harrell, service manager of Big Spring Motor company, Ford dealers in Big Spring, has resigned his position, and has gone to Arkansas where he will reside. Harrell has been succeeded by O. E. Matson of Dallas, who for the past ten years has been identified with various Ford motor agencies throughout the state as service manager. Matson comes to his new position highly recommended in his line of work. He has already assumed his new duties.

VETS COME FIRST

Ruling Made On Preference In Work-Relief Jobs

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15. (UP)—Federal Judge George A. Welsh ruled that the presidential order giving persons on relief rolls the preference for WPA and FWA employment was invalid.

The court held that the order was in violation of the veterans preference law which gives first call to war veterans, their wives or widows for employment on government projects.

At the same time, Judge Welsh issued an order restraining officials of the business census, a WPA project, from employing or compensating any worker unless a "veteran's wife or widow had first been given preference."

The decision was made in a test suit brought by Benjamin J. Spang, Philadelphia war veteran, who contended he was denied employment with the business census because he was not on the relief rolls.

Judge Welsh declared that if a war veteran appeared at the WPA office, presented his honorable discharge from the service and was physically qualified to fill a job he was entitled to the position.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Fisher and son, Edward, and Lester Fisher motored to San Angelo Friday, where they remained for the day.
