ONE DIES, SEVEN INJURED...This two car collision Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m., two and a half miles east of Muleshoe on the Plainview highway, took the life of a 10 month old Muleshoe infant and injured seven other people, three seriously. With the number injured, the ambulance could not hold all of them so Chief of Police Harrold White is shown transferring two of the injured to West Plains Memorial Hospital in his police car. Three of the injured were transferred from the local hospital on to Lubbock. The infant died in route to Lubbock's Methodist Hospital, investigating the wreck was Texas Highway Patrolman, Richard Loter.

Three Transferred To Lubbock Hospital

A grinding, near head on collision Thursday afternoon just before 3 p.m., claimed the life of a 10 month old Muleshoe infant and injured seven other local residents.

Leonard Martinez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mateo Martinez of Muleshoe, was a passenger in a west bound car being driven by Mrs. Olga Valero, 18, also of Muleshoe when it collided with a late model Buick driven by Mrs. Eugene (Rita) Hawkins which was traveling east on Highway 70, two and a half miles east of Muleshoe. The Varlero car was attempting a left turn across the highway at the YL crossroads when it was struck by the Hawkins car.

Riding in the Valero car were Mrs. Rose Martinez and her two children, Leonard and Sam 3, years old. In the other car were Mrs. Hawkins and her three children, Sharla, 7, Keith, 11 and Shelly, 9.

All eight of the occupants were taken to West Plains Memorial Hospital by Singleton-Ellis ambulance and by law enforcement officials. Chief of Police Harrold White brought Mrs. Hawkins and the Martinez infant to the hospital in his police car and Deputy Sheriff Bud Street brought several children in.

Mrs. Martinez was treated at the hospital by Dr. B.O. McDaniel for extensive lacerations on the face and forehead and for badly mangled right foot and then was immediately transferred by Singleton-Ellis ambulance to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. The immediate transfer was inacted to try and save the foot from amputation, but sources reveal the operation was later necessary. She has been reported to be in serious condition.

Her 10 month old son was also transferred to Lubbock with her, but died in route to the hospital of a severe skull fracture when he was thrown from the car during the accident.

Mrs. Olga Valero was rushed to emergency surgery upon arrival at West Plains. Dr. Charles Pummill performed a tracheotomy, enabling her to breathe and possibly saving her life. She was also treated for a severe laceration on Page 3, col. 1

Muleshoe SYLP Committee Against Gun Control Laws

The Muleshoe Support Your Local Police Committee met recently and Mrs. Gene Lowe, chairman, reports that the committee is urging citizens to write their Senators and Representatives and urge them to oppose any anti-gun measures which may reach the floor of either house. Mrs. Lowe said that the citizens could "just tell the Senators and Representatives that you do not want any further federal gun controls. Tell them some of the reasons why. Persuade your friends and neighbors to do the same, and do it without delay."

Water Inc. Receives Money From Public Works Bill

Pleased in a word, that describes the reaction of Water, Inc., officials to announcements in Washington that the money for completion of the West Texas-New Mexico import project study is included in the Public Works bill passed out of the House Appropriations Committee. The recommended appropriations to the Bureau of Reclamation, Corps of Engineers and the Mississippi River Commission wind up the seven year undertaking, and findings released by the agencies by next June will testify to their activities.

The Mississippi group is making a determination of surplus water in that river, and the Corps and Bureau have been investigating possible canal routes and distribution systems for the West Texas-New Mexico area.

The big question, and key to the future of the proposed project is "Is there indeed any surplus water in the Mississippi?" That question will not be completely answered until next June. Meanwhile, Water, Inc., officials point out that preliminary reports conclude that water will be available from the Mississippi, in a paper delivered at the Ninth Annual West Texas Water Conference in Lubbock last year Fred H. Bailey III the assistant chief, Planning Division, Mississippi River Commission said "Some preliminary figures have been developed which indicated that a surplus above the 50-year demands (of all interests in the Lower Mississippi Basin) will occur in some high-flow months..."

Gaston Wells, president, Water, Inc., noted that this was the news we have been waiting for. "We have very definite reason to believe that the reports next year will substantiate Bailey's remarks," Wells said.

Assuming the reports are favorable and Congress gives the project its blessing, next on the agenda is the feasibility study, the detailed engineering and design work. Ordinarily this phase is time consuming, however, in the case of the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico Project, the studies now underway approach the feasibility level, a fact that will save time in the next step.

Congressman George Mahon, addressing the annual Water, Inc., membership meeting in Plainview last February, warned that the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico project will run into some real competition with other proposals before Congress. But he added, "Nothing must be permitted to block our efforts to find a way to meet adequately our water needs."

Editorial The Bombing

There are signs the bombing of North Vietnam is having the result President Nixon sought when he ordered it resumed.

The muffled level of domestic criticism of the renewed bombing, incidentally, probably results from a conviction among the great majority of Americans that President Nixon has in recent years made a serious effort to de-escalate the war, and has offered Hanoi a reasonable ceasefire containing major U.S. concessions. Some also believe disunity at home, while the President pursues his ceasefire effort, serves the enemy.

But apart from that, there are hints the bombing this time is undermining the hawks in Hanoi. Great destruction is being inflicted on North Vietnam's industry and transportation—more than in the earlier bombing. Laser-guided bombs and more air power are two of the reasons. Fewer restrictions on targets is another.

If, as appears likely, the bombing produces enough pressure on the enemy to force him to accept a ceasefire, the President will have confounded his critics; moreover, the doctrine espoused by Senator Barry Goldwater in 1964 will have been largely vindicated. Of course, in 1964 many doves and leftwingers claimed Goldwater's election would have been a global catastrophe.

As it turned out, the war was greatly escalated by the man who defeated Goldwater, is still in progress, and has been, perhaps, the greatest national tragedy both politically and economically in the nation's history. Goldwater's bombing campaign and the mining of Haiphong in 1964 might well have produced a ceasefire then. Goldwater haters, of course, would never admit it.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor and also TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

What dollar amount do you place on a human life? Is it worth $50 in taxes a year - or $75- or even more? How much would you be willing to pay? How do you decide what amount is too much?

The car accident that occurred Thursday afternoon is only the first example of the horror that is sure to follow in the coming months. Isn't it ironic that this first tragedy occurred only one day after our very capable surgeon moved away because we refused to plan for better hospital facilities.

The doctors we have believe that we, here in Bailey County, could not care less about medical care for our loved ones. Do we? Do we care enough?

There were two doctors on duty Thursday afternoon. What about the next time? What shall happen when all our doctors have gone because of overwork, too much pressure, and finally because the present hospital shall be closed because it does not meet Medi-Care standards.

How much money, in taxes, for a new hospital would you be willing to pay for the life of your child, mother, father, grandchild, friend? For I fear that a similar tragedy shall touch each of us if we do not take action now.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

McGovern Gaining Muskie's Effort- G.O.P. Reaction- Nixon's Hope

Washington, D. C.--The hope of anti-McGovern forces, that the momentum behind the nomination campaign of the South Dakotan would be checked prior to the convention, has failed to materialize. In small-state delegate selections of mid-June McGovern continues to gain.

Estimates are now that McGovern will reach Miami with better than 1300 delegates, quite possibly 1350. That means he will be within 150 votes, more or less, of a first-ballot nomination. If within 100, it will probably prove impossible for any combination to stop him.

In addition, if there's a strong possibility Senator Edward Kennedy will accept second place on a McGovern ticket, the nomination can almost become a certainty.

Though Senator Hubert Humphrey failed to halt McGovern in California, he came close. Senator Edmund Muskie's late June bid to stop the almost-inevitable, apparently accomplished little. Governor George Wallace's immobility also handicapped whatever force

Tax Values Boosted In Moore County

Moore County Commissioners yielded to months of argument and drastically boosted the county's tax values recently.

The commissioners had wrestled with the problem since January, when they were petitioned by county industries and oil and gas owners to raise values on farm land.

They settled on increases of more than 200 per cent and decided to start appraisal proceedings on a formula similar to that followed by the Dumas Independent School District.

They will now face opposition from the county's farmers, most of whom were expecting something to be done, but who generally feel they are taxed to much already.

Judge Ezell Fox said prime irrigated land, formerly valued at $60 an acre, will now be valued at $200 an acre, while pasture land at $25 an acre will go up correspondingly.

Judge Fox said appraisers and representatives of the school tax office, will begin work on individual property assessments shortly, so a board of equalization can meet before August.

"The board will then sit for hearings," Judge Fox said. "This is going to raise taxes some, and in some cases quite a bit, but not as much as some people think it will."

The County Commissioner Court sits as the board of equalization.

It is reported that values of land will vary according to types of land and to the assessment formulas and according to different kinds of usage.

"I doubt there is any section of land in the county whose accrease will be valued at the top amount of $200," he said.

Attorneys representing the oil and gas and other industrial firms in the county have been meeting for several months with the commissioners, urging the increase on farm lands.

W.C. "Pete" Gillis, Phillips Petroleum Co. attorney from Bartlesville, Okla., represented the industrial interests at the meeting Monday.

The industry tax representatives have contended that industry in the county has paid an unequal portion of the county tax bill, and argued that improved farm land was selling for from $300 to $500 an acre. They said valuations should be more in line with market values.

Judge Fox said the industry representatives urged that values be set closer to those of the school district, which values top land at $350 an acre.

Gillis had been seeking a top value of $220, that set for the same land in Sherman County, other land values graduated on a basis paralleling those of the school district.

The commissioners had agreed with the industry representatives about a year ago to boost the land valuations, but had made no move until Monday. The earlier agreement had been made after industry attorneys had decided on the possibility of a law suit forcing action.

Discussions since January have centered around setting specific tax values, Judge Fox said.

The judge recalled that present tax rolls were made up about 15 years ago, and that there have been no changes since. Valuations had been changed about 1957 about $10 an acre, raising the top land value to $60.

the stop-McGovern movement would have had.

Meanwhile, the G.O.P. is beginning to view a McGovern candidacy more seriously than party pros had earlier. There are some who feel McGovern could collar a surprising mass of dissident and youth votes unless the war in Vietnam is ended by election day.

Controversial positions McGovern has assumed on some issues are the basis of his special appeal to youth and dissidents and the political question is whether his views are radical enough to drive away more moderate and middle-road Democratic votes than his philosophy attracts.

The best insurance for President Nixon, of course, is to settle the war in Vietnam before election day.

There is an intriguing chance this can be done and the all-out Air Force effort in recent weeks is designed to accomplish that end.

With help from Moscow and Peking, the war might be ended and such is being actively sought by Washington.

The final answer will come from Hanoi itself, which in the past has always followed a hard line.

The Nixon hope is that heavy punishment dealt North Vietnam and its army in recent weeks will induce even the hawks there to agree to a ceasefire.

tion of the throat and of the head. Pummill was in surgery with the woman who was also six months pregnant, for approximately three hours. A 6 p.m. her condition had stabilized enough for her to be transferred to Lubbock where she is reported to be in serious condition at press time.
 Mrs. Hawkins, more seriously injured than any of her three children, was hospitalized at West Plains with a fractured nose, fractured finger of the left hand, severely fractured left knee and multiple lacerations and contusions. She underwent additional X-rays Friday morning and although in quite a bit of pain, her condition is listed as satisfactory.
 Her daughter, Sharla, was also admitted to the hospital suffering from a concussion and multiple bruises on her face and arms. She was released Friday morning.
 Dr. Pummill treated seven of the injured alone with the aid of nurses as West Plains lost its surgeon, Dr. Lucien Armand, on Wednesday. Dr. Allgood was out of town on his afternoon off and the other local doctor, Dr. B.E. Sanderlin is presently recuperating at home from major surgery.
 A hospital staff spokesman reported that there was a lot of confusion in the hospital due to onlookers overcrowding the emergency room area; but that the doctors and nurses worked as efficiently as possible to take care of the injured.
 Hospital Administrator Marshall Cook stated that the confusion with onlookers could have been avoided. He said that although all of the people had the best of intentions and wanted to help, there wasn't anything they could do, but get in the way of trained medical personnel.
 Another comment was heard on telephone calls coming into the hospital hampering the emergency situation. The police department also reported a good many calls inquiring of the nature of the accident.
 Cook also stated that the shortage of doctors created some problems as did the lack of a much needed new hospital.

GSPA Opposes Further Limitation Of Payments

There are indications that when the Agricultural Appropriations Bill comes before the House of Representatives in the latter part of June, there will be an attempt to again lower the limits of farm payments. Anticipating a disaster for American agriculture if this attempt is successful, GSPA wrote the 432 members of the House of Representatives urging them to vote against further limitations.
 The letter pointed out that limitation of payments would hurt not only the farmers who would be affected directly, but small farmers and consumers as well. "The purpose of farm programs is to keep production in line with consumption," the letter stated. "Limitation of payments would force the larger farmers out of the farm programs, and consequently would force millions of diverted acres back into production. This increased production would build the surplus and break the prices for all farmers."

 Many persons who object to the government payments fail to comprehend that the payments are actually a consumer subsidy. The payments permit prices to stay below market value and make cheaper food and clothing available to the entire nation. Prices at the supermarket will spiral even higher than they are now if farmers have to get their entire income from market price, rather than from a combination of market price and government payments.

Couple Repeats Vows In Garden Ceremony

MRS. JOHNNY IRVIN ST. CLAIR, the former Deborah Lynn Wagon

Miss Deborah Lynn Wagon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pat Wagon, and Johnny Irvin St. Clair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Irvin St. Clair, were united in marriage Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. in the garden of her parents' home. The double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend Dick Tarr of Leveland from the Bible of the bride's grandmother, the late Mrs. Marie White.

Centering the garden entrance was a circular registering table with a full length cloth of yellow satin with an overskirt of white chiffon, bordered with swags of white chiffon caught with French nosegays of pink carnations. Registering guests was Mrs. Tony Young of Friona. The bride entered from a private garden and ascended an aisle decorated with hurricane lights and swags of white satin roping. Catching each swag were white satin bows backed with lemon foliage.

The couple were married under a hexagon shaped gazebo of white Victorian lattice placed in front of a natural background of trellis roses and pink China dolls. The gazebo was covered with Southern smilax. On either side were candle trees of hurricane lights holding fresh salad foliage. Flanking the candle trees were additional hurricane lights.

Miss Sharron Stowe of Austin, cousin of the bride, presented selections on the piano of "Because", "O Promise Me," "A Time For Us," "Pans Angelicus", the processional from Lohengrin and the recessional from "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Otis Stowe of Austin, accompanied by his daughter, sang "My Own True Love" immediately preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" in benediction.

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of dotted Swiss featuring an Empire bodice fashioned with a square neckline edged with Venise lace. The long Bishop sleeves with deep cuffs were finished with Venise lace. Bands of the lace extended down both sides of the bodice, around the waist, down the front and around the hem of the softly gathered skirt. Venise lace bordered the chapel length Mantilla veil. Pink and yellow roses dominated the garden bouquet of the bride, with accents of peach elegance, lavender and variegated pink pixies, baby's breath, springeria, china berry heather and fern green satin ribbon.

For something new, the bride carried a lace edged linen handkerchief given to her by the groom's mother. Something old and borrowed was the pearl necklace belonging to her mother. The bride carried in her shoe a penny minted in the year of her birth which was brought to her from Europe by Mrs. Mary Sweatmon. She wore the traditional blue garter.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Cathy Mardis. Bridesmaids were Jamie Thomas of Lamesa and Mrs. Jimmy Evans of Wichita Falls. Tyree Wagon, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

The attendants wore floor length dresses of floral print dotted Swiss featuring sweetheart necklines and tiny covered buttons extending to the Empire waists which were accented with summer green velvet ribbons. The long sleeves were finished with wide flounces and edged in the matching velvet ribbons. Wide brimmed yellow garden hats, with clusters of daisies in the back, complemented the baskets of yellow and white daisies carried by the bridesmaids. The maid of honor carried a natural ratan basket of mixed spring flowers, baby's breath and springeria.

Laurie Young, candlelighter, lighted the hurricane lamps on either side of the gazebo. Denise Young, the flower girl, scattered pink rose petals in front of the bride. The girls, cousins of the bride from Wichita Falls, were dressed identical to the other attendants. All the attendants wore gold cross necklaces, which were gifts from the bride.

John St. Clair, cousin of the groom from Morton, served as best man. Groomsmen were Prentice Griffiths; Kelly St. Clair, brother of the groom; and Robby Young of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were B.H. Wagon, uncle of the bride; Jimmy St. Clair of Morton, cousin of the groom; Mike Miller, brother-in-law of the groom; and Clifford Black, cousin of the groom.

The mother of the bride was attired in a formal length dress of couture design in leaf green chiffon with a self standing neck and full sheer sleeves to the wrist. The shirred skirt fell from a fitted waist for a full cascading effect. Mrs. Wagon wore opera length pearls and carried a purse corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother wore a formal length gown of aqua blue textured chiffon. The cowl neckline complemented the accordion pleated bodice and full length sheer sleeves. The long graceful skirt hung from a wide fitted waistband accented by a satin bow. Her accessories were tinted the same color and she wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

To the music of "Ave Maria" by Schubert, Mrs. Wagon was escorted by B.H. Wagon and Mrs. St. Clair by Mike Miller.

Following the ceremony the couple received their guests in front of the gazebo. The reception was held in the garden which was lighted with pillar candles and hurricane lights. The bride's portrait was displayed on a standing easel.

Reception music of favorite love songs was presented on the piano by Karen Mayhugh and Mrs. L.S. Aylesworth.

The bride's table was covered with a bridal cloth of white net with a wide satin border above which were applied white felt doves and roses joined together with love knots and accented with seed pearls. The cloth was made for the bride by her grandmother, the late Mrs. Marie White. Centering the bride's table was an antique silver epergne filled with an arrangement of ermiris, pink and yellow majestic daisies, snapdragons and baby's breath. The four foot colonaded wedding cake, with white French lattice work separating each of the three tiers, was decorated with roses, azaleas, daisies and forget-me-nots in pink, yellow, green, apricot and blue. Heart and bell shaped finger sandwiches, iced fresh fruit and punch were served from antique silver appointments.

AUGUST WEDDING PLANNED...Mr. and Mrs. Jessie V. Stancell of Route 2, Muleshoe, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Maudie Faye, to Larry L. A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in honor of the couple and their wedding party at the Muleshoe Country Club pool area. The serving table was covered with a floor length cloth centered with an arrangement of ermiris, daisies and Peruvian lilies. Around the pool the guests were seated at individual tables covered with multi-colored cloths. Centering each table was a pie shaped slice of fresh watermelon with yellow and white daisies surrounding a hurricane candle. Floating in the pool was a large rattan frog nestle in greenery and summer blossoms. Surrounding the pool were multi-colored luminari lights with votive candles. Steaks were cooked on an outside grill by Herbert Griffiths and Joe Bob Stevenson. Mrs. Herbert Griffiths greeted the guests and directed them to the pool area. The opening toast was made by the groom's father.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Gary Miller; Mrs. James Thomas of Lamesa; Mrs. Dee Merritt of Morton; Lou Ann Gaubatz of Odessa; Mrs. Mike Miller, sister of the groom; Mrs. Otis Stowe of Austin, cousin of the bride; Mrs. John Young of Wichita Falls, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Clifford Black, cousin of the groom; Rhonda Stevenson; Lee Ann Yerby; and Brenda and Janis St. Clair, cousins of the groom. Rice bags were passed out by Laurie Young and Tyree Wagon. For a honeymoon trip to New Orleans and Jamaica, the bride wore a summer chiffon dress in shades of yellow, gold and pink. The v-shaped neckline was edged in double ruffles to the Empire waist. The dress was fashioned with a chiffon overskirt and a matching shawl with a deep ruffled edge. Matching pink accessories completed her ensemble.

The couple will reside in Space 158 of the Holiday Park in Lubbock. The bride is a 1971 graduate of Muleshoe High School and attended Texas Tech University where she will return to complete her degree in special education. St. Clair is a 1969 graduate of Muleshoe High School and has attended Baylor University, West Texas State University and Texas Tech, where he plans to receive a degree in marketing. The groom is employed at Latham's Department Store in Lubbock.

State FB Justifies Raw Products Freeze

WACO--TFB President J.T. (Red) Woodson has called President Nixon's decisions not to impose a freeze on raw agricultural products, "a just action." However, the farm and ranch leader expressed concern over the President's recent removal of all quota restrictions on U.S. meat imports.

"The U.S. quality and health standards for meat products are very high," Woodson explained, "and we are concerned that imports may not meet the national standards." Woodson said: "The housewife deserves top quality meat at the market counter. She has a right to know where the meat she buys comes from and that it is the very best quality."

combined with the current drought situation existing in many areas of Texas, may mean severe hardship for local ranchers. "It would be a serious matter if weather conditions force livestock producers to sell in a market already depressed by excessive imports," Woodson said.

"Furthermore, President Nixon's order to lift meat import restrictions does not strike at the basic cause of inflation," Woodson concluded. "The real cause is government spending and what is needed to cure inflation is sound fiscal policies by the Federal Government."
