NFL playoffs

Bengals and 49ers Super Bowl bound, Page 9

The Pampa News

Tent city

Refugees ordered to evacuate camp, Page 3

VOL. 81; NO. 238, 12 PAGES

JANUARY 9, 1989

MONDAY

Rescue workers help survivors from wreckage of British Midland flight.

Both engines probably failed in plane crash that's killed 44 people

By ROBERT BARR Associated Press Writer

KEGWORTH, England (AP) -Both engines on a brand-new Boeing 737 apparently failed before the plane crashed along a highway, killing at least 44 people, officials said today

Aviation experts said the chances of double-engine failure were about 10 million to one.

"So far the evidence, although by no means conclusive, is consistent with the right engine having stopped before impact and there are also signs of fire in the left engine," Transport Minister Paul Channon said in an inter-Corp. television.

Officials raised the number of confirmed dead to 44 late today. Eighty-two people were injured in the crash

Investigators recovered the flight recorders from the wreckage today, hoping they might shed light on what caused the accident.

Firefighters pumped foam onto the crumpled jet to prevent seeping aviation fuel from catching fire. The Belfast-bound jet carrying 126 people broke into three pieces on the edge of Britain's main north-south highway, the M1, in central England on Sunday night

The twin-engine Boeing 737-400 narrowly missed the small town of Kegworth and plowed into an embankment just a few hundred yards short of the runway as the pilot struggled to make an emergency landing at East Midland Airport, 100 miles north of London.

British Midland Airways said sabotage was not suspected in the crash, which came less than three weeks after a bomb blew apart Pan Am Flight 103 over a Scottish village, Lockerbie, killing all 259 people o, board and 11 on the ground. Witnesses and a radio operator who monitored the pilot's final exchanges with air traffic controllers Sunday also said both engines appeared to have failed.

British Midland said the jet was delivered just 12 weeks ago and had flown less than 500 hours. It grounded its other 737-400 for inspection.

"At the moment it does seem to be a technical problem," said Paul Beaver, a managing editor of aviation for Jane's publications. "I think they have ruled out pilot error and almost definitely ruled out sabotage.

Beaver, interviewed on ABC-TV's Good Morning America, said the chances of both engines failing were "something like a 10 million to one chance, and of course sometimes those chances

"It's amazing" no motorists or nearby residents were killed, Leicestershire Assistant Chief Constable Tony Butler told a news conference today. "It's a very busy road."

Channon said the fast response of alerted emergency services saved lives

"The airport fire brigade was there within minutes ... a number of people are living as a result."

Police said the last person was taken from the wreckage more than seven hours after the crash. They said it took 21/2 hours to extract Hunt, the pilot, who a spokeswoman for the Leicester Royal Infirmary said was in poor condition with multiple injuries.

The plane took off from London's Heathrow Airport at 7:52 p.m., and about eight minutes later reported "severe vibrations in one of the engines," said airline chairman Michael Bishop.

The pilot reported an engine on fire, then said he had it under control and asked for clearance to make an emergency landing at East Midlands Airport, the airline's home base 100 miles north of London.

But witnesses said the left engine was on fire as the plane crashed about a half-mile shy of the runway. Ham radio operator Mervyn Solloway said that from what he could hear, both engines were in trouble.

U.S. Supreme Court agrees to review state abortion law

By RICHARD CARELLI Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court, acting in an appeal urging reversal of its landmark 1973 decision that legalized abortion nationwide, today agreed to review a Missouri law regulating abortions.

The justices said they will study a federal appeals court ruling that struck down key provisions of the state law

Even before today's action in the appeal filed by Missouri officials, the case had become the most-watched battleground in the continuing political war over abortion. Justice Department lawyers also are urging the high court to use the case as a means of undoing its 1973 ruling, called Roe vs. Wade But nothing in the brief order issued today suggested that the justices will reconsider Roe vs. Wade. The court's eventual decision, expected by July, could resolve the Missouri controversy without significantly changing the 1973 decision or other past rulings on abortion. The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals last July 13 struck down, among other aspects of the Missouri abortion law, these five provi-

 A ban on using public hospitals or other government-run facilities for abortions not necessary to save a woman's life.

 A ban prohibiting any public employee from performing or assisting an abortion. A ban on using taxpayer money for "encouraging or counseling" women to have abortions

• A requirement that doctors planning to abort a fetus believed to be older than 19 weeks test for weight and lung capacity to determine whether the fetus is capable of surviving outside the womb.

 A declaration that "the life of each human being begins at conception.'

The appeals court upheld a provision in the state law that bans the use of taxpayer money for performing or assisting an abortion. But it said use of a public facility or the services of a public employee cannot be banned if all such costs are reimbursed by a patient.

In the apppeal acted on today, Missouri Attorney General William L. Webster said the 8th Circuit court's ruling "expands (Supreme Court) precedents in favor of abortion on demand, further contracts the state's compelling interest in the life of viable, unborn children and disregards this court's holdings that abortion is a private matter which government need in no way subsi-

The 1973 decision "should itself be reconsidered" if it cannot be squared with the disputed Missouri law, Webster said.

William Bradford Reynolds, then chief of the Justice Department's civil rights division, wrote to Missouri officials last summer urging them to include a challenge of Roe vs. Wade in the state's appeal.

"I felt this was the best case on the horizon to undertake reconsideration of Roe,' Reynolds told The Wall Street Journal in a recent interview

In a brief filed two days after the presidential election last Nov. 8, Justice Department lawyers supported Missouri's appeal. That sparked Molly Yard, president of the National Organization for Women, to accuse

the women of this country.

Eleanor Smeal, president of the Fund for the Feminist Majority, said there will be "no honeymoon on the issue of abortion" for President-elect Bush because of the Justice

In its 1973 ruling, the Supreme Court said women have a constitutional right of abortion, based on the right of privacy. The court most recently reaffirmed that ruling in 1983. But today's court is viewed as deeply divided on the abortion issue. Justice Harry A. Blackmun told a law school audience last September that the 1973 decision he authored could be overturned in the court's 1988-89 term. "The next question is, 'Will Roe vs. Wade go down the drain?' I think there's a very distinct possibility that it will — this term. You can count the votes," he said. While Blackmun and Justices William J. Brennan, Thurgood Marshall and John Paul Stevens have resisted attempts to reverse or greatly modify the 1973 decision, antiabortion forces are hoping some day to attract five votes for such a result Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist and Justice Byron R. White dissented from the 1973 ruling and several subsequent abortion decisions Justice Sandra Day O'Connor in past decisions has questioned the court's reasoning. Justice Antonin Scalia, who has not yet voted in an abortion decision since being named to the high court by President Reagan in 1986, is thought to favor overturning or curtailing Roe vs. Wade

Department's involvement in the Missouri

Children see traffic differently than adults

By BEAR MILLS Staff Writer

The city of Pampa safety officthat ran last week in The Pampa News will cause parents to be more concerned about the safety of their children around traffic.

The stories focused on often dangerous conditions in which children have to cross streets and exit school buses.

The dangerous conditions are the result of a large number of drivers who disregard traffic laws that require they stop for school buses with flashing lights and slow to 20 mph in school Jim Laramore, a former Pampa police officer and current safety officer, said children perceive traffic in a totally different way than adults. He said that puts them at great risk anytime they are around traffic.

Laramore, assisted by Sgt. Ken Hopson of the Pampa Police Department, offers a 45-minute program on children and safety around traffic which includes a 15-minute videotape produced partially by the American Automobile Association.

The AAA film, entitled Children in Traffic, explains that children see traffic differently than adults. It points out that when children hide their eyes, they believe themselves to be invisible. Conversely, when they see a car, they believe the car - or the driver in it — sees them.

The film also makes a point of Laramore motioned me to come on out of church," Laramore said, explaining why he is so concerned about children and traffic. "I didn't hear the car coming and I was a 'dart out.' The car nailed

He said that had he not grabbed the bumper of the car as it struck him, he would have been trapped under the wheel.

"Adults have always protected children. They can't imagine a car, driven by an adult, ever hurting them. And when they see people on TV get hurt, they're back on another show. When the coyote on Roadrunner gets run over. he's fine the next minute," Laramore said.

His training has taught him that children see cars as the fact that children have no machines that take them where cate children cannot focus on two ments of death

The film warns that parents should not consider children to be "little adults.

"It is difficult for (children) to understand the need for rules. Fantasy and reality are equally important to them," the film's narrator said.

Laramore agreed with facts presented in the film that indi-peripheral vision to see traffic they want to go. That image things at once, thus making it makes it difficult for them to per- hard for them to worry about "When I was little, my father cieve cars as potential instru-traffic when other matters are on their mind

"How many parents say that they want the kids home at a certain time? Then, all the kids focus on is hurrying home, not being safe in traffic," Laramore said. School or civic groups interested in seeing the videotape film and hearing the accompanying presentation can contact Laramore at City Hall, 665-8481.

MYTHS AND FACTS

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has outlined five myths children often believe that instead may increase their danger near traffic. It suggests parents find out if their children believe any of the myths and then teach them the truth.

MYTH - A green light means it is safe to cross.

FACT - A green light means you have permission to stop and search for cars. Look left-right-left. If safe, cross, but keep looking for cars. Be alert for vehicles making right turns on a red light.

MYTH — You are safe in a crosswalk. It's like magic. FACT — You should cross at the crosswalk. But stop first and look while still on the curb. Look left-right-left. When you cross, keep looking.

MYTH — The driver will stop if you are in a crosswalk or at a green light.

FACT — The driver may not see you. The driver's view may be blocked. The driver may run a traffic light illegally. The driver may turn without looking for pedestrians.

MYTH — Wearing white at night makes you visible to FACT — Even if you wear white clothes, drivers will have a hard time seeing you at night. Wear retro-reflective clothing. Carry a flashlight. Walk facing traffic.

MYTH — If you see a driver, the driver will see you.

FACT — The driver may not see you. Make sure the driver sees you AND stops before crossing in front of a car. Try to make eye contact with the

Arab states campaign to link chemical-nuclear weapons bans

By ELAINE GANLEY Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — A campaign by Arab states to link nuclear and chemical disarmament has threatened to jeopardize a consensus at an international conference called to bolster flagging talks on a chemical weapons ban.

At the conference Sunday, the Soviet Union announced it will start destroying chemical arms stockpiles this year, but U.S. officials said the Soviets are merely playing "catch up" because the United States has been routinely destroying stockpiles of aging chemical arms since the early

Delegates from 16 Arab countries at the 150-nation conference argued, meanwhile, that a total chemical ban would be discriminatory as long as another weapon of mass destruction exists for a few countries, Israel among them.

"Iraq believes that any call for a comprehensive ban on chemical weapons must be coupled with a parallel and similar call for a comprehensive ban on nuclear weapons," Vice Premier Tario Aziz of Iraq said Sunday.

In a fiery speech to about 80 foreign ministers among the delegates, he accused Israel of posing "a serious threat to the security of Arab nations.'

Aziz said Israel has "nuclear weapons as well as chemical weapons and missiles that can reach many Arab cities.

Israel called the Iraqi statement "blatant hypocrisy." Iraq is known to have used chemical weapons in its 8-year war with

The five-day conference, which ends Wednesday, is aimed at giving new political impetus to a 1925 Geneva Protocol that prohibits the use of such toxic chemical and biological agents.

A final statement is to be adopted by consensus, meaning differences could block an accord or leave it grossly weakened.

Among foreign ministers scheduled to address the conference today were Moshe Arens of Israel and Jadalla Azouz Ettalhi of Libya, which Washington accuses of building a factory to manufacture poison gas.

Shultz, left, and Shevardnadze, right, visit with others after signing research agreement.

Secretary of State George P. Shultz said Sunday that in talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze, he had persuaded the Soviet Union to look into the U.S. allegations. Earlier the two had signed an agreement for joint scientific research for the two nations.

Shevardnadze said in a speech to the conference Sunday that the Soviet Union will not wait for disarmament negotiators in Geneva to reach an accord banning use, production and stockpiling of chemical arms. He said a new Soviet facility to destroy chemical weapons will go into operation this year.

The envoy said his country has stopped production of chemical weapons, an announcement first made in April 1987.

"What they are doing is playing catch-up ball," said a senior official of the U.S. delegation, speaking on condition of anonymity.

Delegation members said the ing chemical weapons since the early 1980s, while continuing to manufacture modern chemical It was not immediately clear whether the Soviet announcement signaled a program to systematically destroy all chemical

United States has been destroying limited quantities of ag-weapons, but U.S. officials appeared doubtful. Lynn Hansen, director of the bureau of multilateral affairs at the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, said the Soviet position "now corresponds to our own position. ... We simply don't get the press, because for us

it's more routine. "When they do it, all of a sudden it's news," Hansen told re-

The United States and the Soviet Union are the only two countries to admit possessing chemical weapons. According to U.S. estimates, about 20 countries possess or have the ability to manufacture chemical weapons.

Daily Record

Services tomorrow

HASSELL, Robert Henry — 2 p.m., Carmichael-Whatley Colonial Chapel. GAY, Myrtle O'Delia — 2 p.m., graveside services at Wetumka Cemetery, Wetumka,

Obituaries

There were no obituaries reported to The Pampa News today

Police report

The Pampa Police Department reported the following incidents during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

SATURDAY, Jan. 7

Glynn Abbott, 1513 Williston, reported a hit and run at the residence. Howard "Bud" Speck of Bryan reported a theft in the Coronado Inn parking lot. Paul Anthony Tristan, 1321 N. Coffee, reported burglary of a motor vehicle at the residence. SUNDAY, Jan. 8

Taylor Food Mart, 600 E. Frederic, reported a forgery at the business. Pampa Police reported a weapons violation at 600 E. Frederic. Homeland, Pampa Mall, reported a forgery at the business.

Arrests SATURDAY, Jan. 7

Ronnie Don Jenkins, 38, 314 N. Wells, was arrested near the residence on a charge of public intoxication. He was released on a court sum-

SUNDAY, Jan. 8

Patricia Stinnett, 30, 203 E. Tuke, was arrested at 201 W. Kingsmill on warrants. She was released on payment of fines.

Troyce Glenn Brewer, 20, 2312 Cherokee, was arrested in the 1300 block of North Hobart on charges of driving while license suspended and a DPS warrant. He was released on bond.

William Kirkham, 27, 1936 N. Christy, was arrested at 600 E. Frederic on charges of public intoxication and forgery.

Lisa Doyle, 23, 3009 Rosewood, was arrested at 600 E. Frederic on charges of public intoxication. Keith Orville Heiskell, 21, 1116 Perry, was arrested at 600 E. Frederic on charges of public intoxication and carrying a prohibited weapon.

Stock market

OF REAL PROPERTY AND PERSONS ASSESSED FOR THE PERSONS ASSESSED FOR THE PERSONS ASSESSED FOR THE PERSONS ASSESSED.	THE RESIDENCE THE PROPERTY OF THE PARTY OF T	THE VALUE OF THE PARTY OF
The following grain quotations are	Arco 821/8	up36
provided by Wheeler-Evans of	Cabot 391/8	dn 1/8
Pampa.	Chevron 471/8	dn⅓
Wheat 3.82	New Atmos 161/4	dn 1/8
Milo 4.35	Enron 363/8	up36
Corn 4.90	Halliburton 281/2	dn 1/8
The following quotations show the	HCA461/4	dn36
prices for which these securities	Ingersoll-Rand 36%	up38
could have been traded at the time of	Kerr-McGee 38	NC
compilation.	KNE 17%	NC
Damson Oil	Mapco	up1/4
Ky. Cent. Life	Maxxus71/8	NC
Serfco 4	Mesa Ltd 133/h	dn 1/8
The following show the prices for	Mobil 461/n	up1/8
which these mutual funds were bid at	Penney's 521/2	up%
the time of compilation:	Phillips 201/4	dn36
Magellan 48.93	SBJ33%	dn1/2
Puritan	SPS27	NC
The following 9:30 a.m. N. Y. stock	Tenneco 491/2	NC
market quotations are furnished by	Texaco 521/4	dn³6
Edward D. Jones & Co. of Pampa.	New York Gold	403.00
Amoco	Silver	5.97

Hospital

CORONADO HOSPITAL Admissions Lucille Gambill. Pampa Nell Gantz, Pampa Howard, Tania Pampa Brenda McKeen, Pampa Mary Pampa

Schaffer, Geneva Schroeder, rock

Pampa Patsy Stiles, Pampa Marvin Woodruff, Pampa Births

Manuel Pina of Pampa, Dismissals Luther Coleman, Wheeler

Pampa Audrey James,

Pampa SHAMROCK HOSPITAL Admissions Everett Miller, Tex-

ola, Okla. Brady Risinger, Shamrock Monnie Risinger,

Shamrock Adah Wooten, Sham-Dismissals

baby girl, Shamrock Eric Randall, Alan-To Mr. and Mrs. reed Tressie Blocker, Wheeler Ocie Harding, Stephanie Smith and

Sarah Kay Dew Binford Gilbert, Shamrock

Calendar of events

PAMPA SINGLES ORGANIZATION Pampa Singles Organization will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at 533 N. Roberta for a game night and snacks. For more information, call 665-8197 or

VIETNAM VETERANS OF AMERICA

North Plains Chapter #404, Vietnam Veterans of America, meets at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at the American Legion Building in Borger, on the west side of the Aluminum Dome. All Vietnam-era veterans are welcome to attend.

Fire report

The Pampa Fire Department responded to the following calls during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today

SATURDAY, Jan. 7 8:30 p.m. — Wood pile fire was reported at 2329 Aspen. One unit and two firefighters responded. SUNDAY, Jan. 8

11:52 a.m. — A central heating unit switch burned out at 1616 Charles, creating a smoke scare. Two units and seven firefighters re-

Minor accidents

The Pampa Police Department reported the following minor accident during the 40-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

SATURDAY, Jan. 7 Time unknown - An unknown vehicle struck a legally parked 1988 Dodge owned by Glynn Abbott, 1513 Williston, in the 1500 block of Wil-

Class of '92 getting less financial help but more plan advanced study

By JILL LAWRENCE AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Entering college freshmen are getting less aid from the federal government and are increasingly interested in making their educations pay off in cold cash, according to a survey of more than 300,000 students.

The annual survey nonetheless found that students entering college in 1988 were more likely than their 1987 counterparts to want to pursue graduate study despite the financial obstacles.

And although students are more interested in making money, they seem less interested in business careers as a means of reaching that goal, the

The findings released Sunday by the American Council on Education and the Higher Education Research Institute at the University of California at Los Angeles are based on questionnaires filled out by 308,007 freshmen entering 585 two-and fouryear colleges and universities. The results were adjusted to reflect the total population of 1.64 million first-time, full-time entering students and have a margin of error of plus or minus two points.

Only 15.6 percent of freshmen entering school last fall received Pell grants, the government's major aid program for low- and middle-income students, the survey found. That was the lowest level since the survey began 23 years ago and less than half the 31.5 percent who received Pell grants

Freshman participation in other federal aid programs also fell, while students reported greater reliance on family contributions, savings, loans and institutional grants.

The amount of Pell grant aid awarded to students actually rose nearly 57 percent from 1980 to 1988, or 17 percent taking inflation into account, according to The College Board, a New York-based lobbying group.

But during the same period, the aid was more sharply aimed at the very neediest post-secondary students, many of whom shun college in favor of vocational schools that teach cosmetology, art, drama, auto mechanics, business skills or other

Victoria Tripp, an Education Department spokeswoman, said 11 percent of Pell money went to vocational students in 1980, compared with 27 percent in 1988. "That figure will increase to onethird in the early 1990s," she predicted.

Despite the falloff in college aid, a record proportion of freshmen said they were interested in pursuing advanced degrees — 58.7 percent, compared with 48.3 percent in 1980.

"The rising degree aspirations suggest that a growing proportion of students feel the bachelor's degree will not be an adequate credential in the job market during the next decade and into the next century," said Kenneth C. Green, associate director of the survey.

In line with that, a record 72.6 percent of the freshmen indicated "making more money" was a very important factor in their decision to attend college. By contrast, the proportion who said they were going to college "to gain a general education" declined for the 11th straight year, to 60.1

Examining personal habits, the survey also found that a 22-year decline in smoking may be reversing itself. In 1966, 16.6 percent of the freshmen said they were frequent smokers. That fell steadily to 8.9 percent in 1987, but rose to 10.1 percent among those entering college last fall.

A record high percentage of freshmen (10.5 percent) said they frequently felt depressed, while there was no real change in those rating their emotional health as above average (56.1 percent, as opposed to 56.8 percent in 1987).

On the career front, the survey found that freshman interest in entering the business world to be leveling off — 24.6 percent in 1987 and 23.6 percent in 1988 — after two decades of steady gains.

Student interest in teaching rose from 8.1 percent in 1987 to 8.8 percent in 1988, reflecting a trend that started in 1983 after interest had bottomed out at 4.7 percent in 1982.

Opryland may come to San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Opryland USA Inc. and an insurance company invited more than 200 business and city leaders to a press conference and luncheon today to discuss the possibility a theme park might be built in the Alamo city.

Invitations said there would be "an announcement of special sig-nificance to San Antonio" at the press conference.

Officials at Opryland USA headquarters in Nashville. Tenn., and the San Antonio-based USAA insurance company refused to confirm whether a decihad been made to build a theme park in San Antonio.

However, a San Antonio real estate developer, who asked not to be named, told The Dallas Morning News that the project "had the go-ahead" from Opryland planners

The real estate developer said San Antonio was chosen for the theme park because of San Antonio's strong tourist trade and the success of Sea World, a $140 million, 200-acre marine life theme park that opened last year northwest of the city.

Last spring, Opryland and USAA began conducting a feasi-bility study on building a theme park on 1,600 acres at Interstate 10 and Loop 1604 owned by the insurance company. The location is about 10 miles east of Sea

Tom Adkinson, director of public relations for Opryland, said he could not confirm whether a decision to build a park had been made, but said the press conference would be an opportunity to give a progress report on the

San Antonio City Manager Lou Fox said he was given no details about what the press conference would involve, but said, "I can't imagine we're all going out there to hear we've been turned down."

Drug searches hurt Houston port

HOUSTON (AP) — Some importers are leaving the Port of Houston because a zealous effort by the U.S. Customs Service to nab illegal drugs has pushed up the cost of conducting legitimate business at the port, some officials claim.

Ned Holmes, chairman of the Port of Houston Authority, said local Customs offices adhere to strict compliance procedures that include conducting examinations at its centralized stations, where cargo containers are taken for inspection.

"Offices in other ports have different interpretations of the rules, regulations and tariffs," Holmes said. "We have become, in some respects, a port to be avoided.'

Brokers said the intensive examinations of containers of cargo can cause delays, which ultimately cost money. Also, importers also must pay to repair containers after inspectors have drilled holes in them searching for drugs.

In one case, a major toy company reportedly pulled out of the port after facing the costs and delays of a total inspection of 13 containers from Brazil.

"It really does appear Houston has lost business because the rules are not being enforced to the same degree in other cities that they are in Houston," said Don Carlson, an aide to Rep. Bill Archer, R-Houston.

The problem also comes at a time when the city is looking to the port as a key element in the city's effort to diversify its economy, the Houston Chronicle reported Sunday.

Although the Customs Service has made numerous drug seizures from ships docked at the port, it has little to show for examinations at the centralized sta-

No drugs were found in any of the 6,200 containers that were completely inspected during fiscal 1987, according to the agency.

Patricia McCauley, Customs Service district director in Houston, acknowledged there have not been as many seizures in Houston as in Miami or Los Angeles.

"We don't have the success rate, but we're looking just as hard," McCauley said.

Customs Service officials also said Houston is getting the same treatment as other cities.

"I would disagree that we are treating (importers in Houston) unfairly," she said. "We are following national instructions."

A computerized system determines which shipments are picked for inspection. The system uses criteria that includes the type of commodity, the manufacturer, the importer and the country of origin.

That means much of the merchandise entering Houston from drug-producing South American nations will be flagged for an intensive examination.

to halt axing of pines Group wants

AUSTIN (AP) — Local citizens are irate over a highway department plan to cut down hundreds of loblolly pines along a scenic, historic stretch of Texas 21 east of Bastrop — purportedly to improve safety.

"A prudent driver isn't going to have trouble in there," said Don Fries. "Let's put a little responsibility on the individual, not Mother Nature.

Fries, who has an undergraduate degree in forestry, helped form a citizens group — Save The Pines — to try and stay the state's

But the highway department contends the trees — some decades old and 40 feet tall - may pose a hazard to motorists, the Austin American-Statesman re-

"We're not happy with the prospect of cutting trees," said Randall Dillard, spokesman for the highway department's District 14 that includes Bastrop County. But, he added, "We're concerned about the safety." In 71 accidents along the stretch from 1982-1987, six people were killed. Forty-four accidents involved fixed objects, probably trees in most cases, said Dillard. The accident rate on the stretch is 54 percent higher than those on similar roads, he said.

The 5.7-mile divided highway was once part of El Camino Real (King's Highway) that linked San Antonio and Nacogdoches beginning in the early 1700s.

The trees dot the 56-foot wide median between the eastbound and westbound lanes.

The close proximity of the trees to the highway may cause visibility problems in certain areas, especially at crossings, Dillard

A survey by highway workers found 3,485 trees, a minimum of 4 inches in diameter, in the area. Ninety-eight percent or more are pines, with the rest being oaks and cedars. The cutting program, still under revision, would affect up to 30 percent of the

The proposal calls for the highway department to put guard rails along the highway edge in the median and clear eight feet on each side of the outside lanes.

The initial schedule was to have the federally funded $700,000 project ready for letting a contract in May, but that probably will be moved to June, Dillard said.

Fries said he fears any treecutting will put remaining trees under stress leaving them susceptible to insect infestation.

And he said the accident statistics do not address whether the accidents were alcohol or drugrelated.

The Save The Pines group has proposed increasing warning signs on the highway, closing some crossings, and pruning in order to save the trees.

Judge blocks INS travel order consider converting the restrain-

Naturalization Service.

BROWNSVILLE (AP) - A federal judge this morning issued a temporary restraining order blocking a 3-week-old immigration service procedure that attorneys suing the government maintain has left hundreds of Central Americans living in tents and shanties in the lower Rio Grande

"One would be blind not to recognize that we have a problem," said U.S. District Judge Filemon Vela, upon issuing the order.

Vela set a hearing for 9 a.m.

ment a chance to prepare. "Your honor, the Immigration Service is not to blame for the plight of the people who are out senting the INS, this morning

asked the judge to delay con-til Thursday to give the govern-

there," Ayala said. The judge's restraining order Thursday, when he said he would City Commission to meet

The Pampa City Commission will meet in regular session for the first time in 1989 when it convenes Tuesday at 6 p.m. in City

The meeting will be proceeded by a commission work session at 4 p.m. City officials said the work session was originally publicized as being Friday, Jan. 13, due to a typing error.

The work session will include a review of 1989 projects and the goals the commission has set for itself and the city during the new

Among the projects the commission will consider is the establishment of a separation and recycling center at the city landfill and construction of a central service center, animal shelter and veterans memorial.

In all, the commission is currently considering 40 objectives for the year.

for first session of 1989 During the commission meeting, no new business is on the agenda. Under new business, the commission will consider acceptance of the 1987-88 audit report. appointment of an individual to the Lovett Memorial Library Board and authorizing the mayor to execute payment relative to the purchase of a motor grader.

> During the meeting, Mayor David McDaniel will also make the official presentation of the Pampa Police Department's accreditation certificate. The department is one of the first in the state to receive national accreditation.

The meeting and work session will also be the last one for City Manager Bob Hart, who has resigned to accept the same position in Georgetown. Hart will be officially reporting for work in Georgetown next week.

restores the right of asylum seeking order into an injunction ers to travel further into the United States and submit their apagainst the Immigration and plications in the INS districts where they intend to live. Attorney David Ayala, repre-

Hundreds of Central American asylum seekers have set up camp in the Rio Grande Valley to await the processing of their applications. Some 300 applicants camping in a field near Brownsville have been ordered to leave the primitive tent city by this afternoon. (See related story, Page 3.)

City Briefs

GLENDA'S TAX Service and Bookkeeping, 665-0310, 274-2142.

BIG RECORD Sale. 100's of albums and cassettes. $3 each. 1950's-80's. 112 W. Foster 11-6, by Coney Island, Monday-Saturday.

TAKING APPLICATIONS, 900 S. Hobart, Evco Exxon. Adv. LINDA'S CUT 'n' Curl, 337 Finley. Open Tuesday-Saturday, 665-

6821. Adv. OPEN INVITATION, you are cordially invited to attend a reception honoring Bob Hart, Thursday January 12. M.K. Brown Room, Community Building (Chamber of Commerce) 4-6 pm. Mayor and City Commission.

PAMPA FINE Arts annual art exhibit by members of the Pampa Fine Arts Association. January 21-22 at the Citizens Bank and Trust. 665-5036. Adv.

DAYLIGHT DONUTS now open Sunday-Saturday. 7 days a week. Under new management.

Weather focus

LOCAL FORECAST

Partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high around 42 degrees. Northwest winds 10-20 mph. Tonight, not quite as cold, with a low around 18 degrees. Tuesday, partly cloudy and warmer, with a high around 50. Sunday's high was 32; the overnight low was 13.

REGIONAL FORECAST West Texas — Clear tonight. Warmer Tuesday. Lows tonight ranging from 19 in far West Texas and the mountains to 27 in the southeast and near 30 in Big Bend valleys. Highs Tuesday ranging from 55 in the Panhandle and mountains to 64 in the southeast, except upper 60s in the Big Bend valleys.

North Texas — Decreasing clouds northeast with scattered showers southeast tonight. Mostly fair central and west tonight. Lows tonight ranging from 23 northwest to 35 southeast. Mostly sunny and warmer Tuesday. Highs Tuesday ranging from 62 west to 54 northeast South Texas - Cloudy with a chance of showers east and south Tuesday. Decreasing clouds over the west. Warmer in most sections. Lows tonight ranging from the 30s north to the 40s south with 20s in the Hill Country. Highs Tuesday mostly in the 50s.

BORDER STATES New Mexico — Fair south and partly cloudy in the north tonight and Tuesday. Not so cold tonight. Continued warming Tuesday. A few snow flur-ries possible over the northern mountains Tuesday. Lows tonight ranging from the teens to low 20s south and 5 to 20 in the north, except zero to 10 below zero in the high mountain valleys. Highs Tuesday ranging from 30s to mid 40s in the mountains and northwest, with mid 40s to near 60 else-

Oklahoma - Fair and not as cold tonight. Sunny and warmer Tuesday. Highs today mostly in the 40s. Lows tonig in the 20s. Highs Tuesday mostly in the 50s.

Texas/Regional

Refugees ordered to vacate tent city with 'nowhere to go'

Associated Press Writer

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Hundreds of Central Americans ordered to vacate a primitive tent city say they have nowhere else to go, as attorneys sought to block a new U.S. policy blamed for the immigrants' desperate conditions.

"Leave for where? That's the dilemma," said

Bonniy Campos of Nicaragua.

Campos, 30, and his wife have been sleeping under sheets of plastic supported by tree limbs for the past week in a field across the street from the Casa Oscar Romero shelter for Central American refugees operated by the Roman Catholic Church.

About 300 people have set up camp in the field because Casa Romero is filled to its courtrestricted capacity of 200, and a new U.S. policy all but prevents them from leaving the area while their applications for political asylum are being

The policy, which was effective Dec. 16, also limits their ability to work during the waiting period, at least 30 days.

Previously, aliens who entered the country illegally in southern Texas were allowed to pursue their asylum applications in other cities, often Miami or Los Angeles.

U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service officials say the change was adopted to reduce huge case backlogs in those cities and curb frivolous refugee claims.

The INS maintains that most of the 300,000 asvlum applicants who passed through the Harlingen District last year were ineligible for political asylum because they merely wanted to better themselves economically.

A lawsuit filed Friday in U.S. District Court seeks to reverse the policy and a hearing was scheduled for today on a temporary restraining order.

The attorneys suing INS Commissioner Alan Nelson and U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh blame the 3-week-old procedure for an increase in the number of Central Americans sleeping in condemned buildings and camping with little

"In essence, south Texas has been turned into a de facto detention area and asylum applicants are trapped there," says the suit filed on behalf of asylum-seekers by immigration attorney Linda Reyna Yanez, Robert Rubin of the San Francisco Lawyers' Committee for Urban Affairs and the Harlingen-based Proyecto Libertad immigrant advocacy group.

It accuses the INS of depriving immigrants of adequate access to the asylum procedure as required by the Refugee Act of 1980, and of implementing a policy change without publishing it in the Federal Register for public comment.

INS officials have declined comment on the law-

Legal officer Susan Timberlake with the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees visited the tent city southeast of Brownsville last Tuesday and said she witnessed "difficulty and hardship," On Sunday, sheriff's deputies told those living on the litter-strewn campsite that they had 24 hours to vacate the private property or face trespassing

Cameron County Sheriff Alex Perez said authorities gave the order to vacate after the property owner posted "No Trespassing" signs in English and Spanish on Sunday afternoon.

"Maybe I'll sleep in some other field," said Gerardo Enrique Perez, 19, of Honduras, as a rainy cold front blew into the area Sunday night.

The campers have been helped by area residents who have provide food and clothing, but the field has no sanitary facilities.

But some nearby residents said the growing retirees making up the bulk of her tenants.

campground made them nervous. "You don't know who these people are." said Alma Zieger, manager of Paul's RV Park, who said the situation "creates uneasiness" among the

Skinheads organizing in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) - A band of vouths who call themselves "Skinheads" is passing out business cards and frequenting youth-oriented nightclubs in an effort to recruit members to the neo-Nazi group, its leader says.

The Houston-area group now numbers about 15, but is trying to bolster its ranks and also raise money to open an office and start a telephone information hotline, said Toby Whitehead, who claims to head the organization.

Whitehead, a 17-year-old unemployed high school dropout, said his group calls itself the National Socialist Skinheads of

"We're not violent, but we will respond to violence with violence," Whitehead said. "We're training in hand-to-hand combat.'

A Houston police spokesman said some people in the Houston area try to look like Skinheads, but he had no reports that any of them have become involved in illegal activity.

Officials estimate there are about 2,000 Skinheads in the United States, that they range in age from 14 to 27 and that their number is increasing. Members have been linked to racial violence against Jews, blacks and homosexuals. "These kids have developed a sub-cultural style which has a great deal of meaning to them as street warriors trying to clean up what they see as the unwanted elements in American society," said Eric Anderson, a Yakima, Wash., anthropologist who wrote a master's thesis on the Skin-

"They certainly pose a threat to those individuals they don't like. There are going to be victims," Anderson said.

Generally, Skinheads are said to be young and impressionable people who are guided by older, more experienced racist groups such as the Ku Klux Klan, the White Arvan Resistance or the Aryan Nations.

Whitehead said that he decided to form a Skinhead movement because of the "large number of non-whites moving to Houston," and that he contacted the Aryan Nations about it.

"The Fuehrer told me not to give any interviews and not to have any photographs made," Whitehead told the Houston Chronicle in an article published Sunday. He declined to identify the "Fuehrer."

Whitehead confirmed his group uses the Skinhead recruiting method of distributing business cards with the group's name, post office box number, telephone number and a racist motto. Members also are going to clubs frequented by young people, he said.

"We're not hate-mongers," Whitehead said. "We're dedicating our lives to the white race."

"The white race is dying out," he said. "People with light skin, light hair, the Aryans, are going to be extinct in 60 to 80 years."

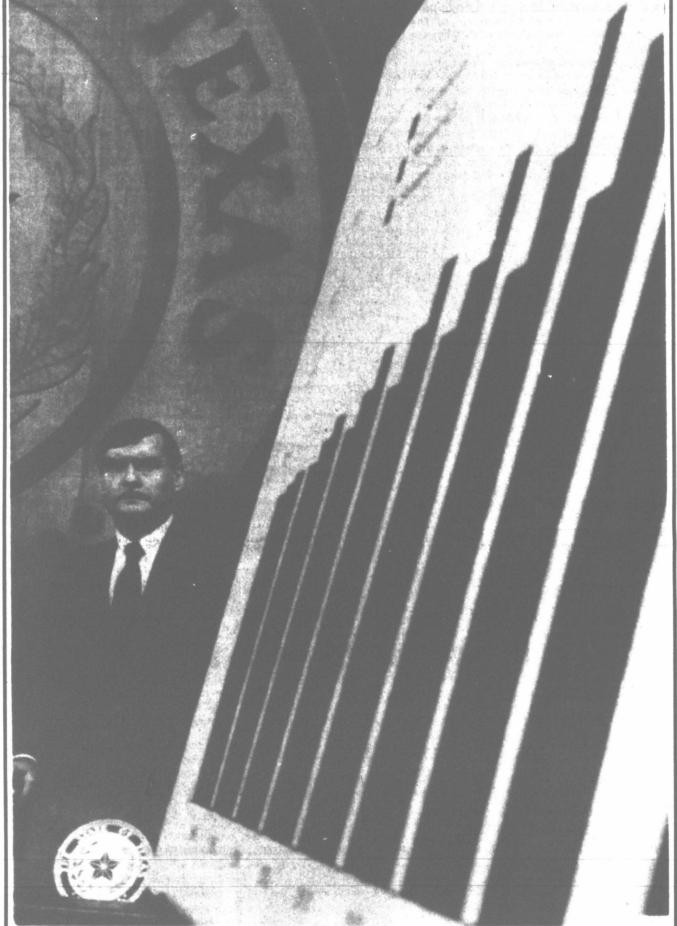

Sheldon Filger, director of the southwest region of the Anti-Defamation League in Houston, said although the number of Skinheads is small, they pose a dangerous threat.

"It now appears that there is an active effort by neo-Nazi Skinheads to recruit followers in Houston," Filger said.

Houston had been one of the few major cities without a Skinhead chapter, but members have been present in some other Texas cities. Last February, Skinheads were involved in a racial brawl at Austin Crockett High School, and in Dallas in October they defaced the Temple Shalom and the Jewish Community Center.

Skinheads received national publicity as the result of a fistswinging melee that broke out recently on the Geraldo Rivera television talk show.

Growth projections

Steve Murdock, a demographer with the Texas Department of Commerce, is dwarfed by a chart showing how the state's population will grow in the next 30 years. The population is predicted to increase by a rate more than double that projected for the United States. The projections show that by the year 2025, some 50 percent of the state's population will be composed of various minority groups.

Minority homicides on the rise

HOUSTON (AP) — A disproportionate number of minorities were slain last year in Houston, and the city's police chief said the problem is a public health threat, not just a law enforcement issue.

Houston had 465 homicides last year, compared to 338 in 1987. Of the total, 234 of the victims were black, 131 were Hispanic and 94 were white.

Of the male victims, Police Chief Lee Brown said, 185 were black, 117 Hispanic and 61 white.

The ratio is about the same nationwide, according to the National Urban League's State of Black America Report for 1988.

The report indicated that homicide is the leading cause of death for black males between the age of 15 and 24.

About 42 of every 100,000 blacks in that age group die from homicide. This compares to about eight per 100,000 whites in the same age group, the report said.

"The supposition that the police can control it (homicides) is in itself wrong," Brown said. "That doesn't mean that the police can't do something, but we have to look at it as being a broader issue than the police.

'I think it has to be viewed as a public health problem."

Brown also said the nationwide problem concerning the increase in the number of minority homicide victims has prompted some to call it an "epidemic."

A growing factor that contributes significantly to the rise in the overall homicide rate in Houston is the increase of drugrelated killings, Brown said. Police said evidence has conclusively linked 106 killings, including 57 blacks and 30 Hispanics, to Police theorized the rise in drug-related slayings could be attributed to an increasing popularity of crack cocaine, as well as the influx of Colombian and Jamaican drug merchants.

Consequently, police and experts said, blacks and Hispanics have become players in a deadly struggle for turf with Jamaican and Colombian drug dealers, who many times resort to violence to resolve conflicts.

The numbers indicate fewer Jamaicans and Colombians were homicide victims than were blacks and Mexican-Americans. Statistics show that there there were 20 Colombians and 13 Jamaicans killed in Houston last

An expert on crime in minority communities theorizes that using drugs does not cause blacks and Hispanics to kill each other, but that the presence of drugs might create the event surrounding such a response. "Drugs create a need that must be supplied through finances and if you don't have it you steal, or you fight or you kill in the process," said L. Alex Swan, dean of the Sociology Department at Texas Southern University.

Victor James, president of the Houston Area Urban League, cited drugs, economics, lack of education and decreased moral values as being possible reasons for the disparity in the homicide numbers between blacks and other groups.

Alm. 1200 PER PERSON COMING TO AMERICA (R) SCROOGED (PG) ALIEN NATION (R) ERNEST SAVES CHRISTMAS (PG) CALL 665-7141

FEET HURT? DR. PATRICK CRAWFORD

NOW SEEING PATIENTS FOR ALL TYPES OF FOOT DISORDERS INCLUDING:

669-1035

Winter wheat facing trouble from drought DALLAS(AP)—Texas agricul- some areas of South Texas.

ture experts say they fear the continuing drought will slash yields in some parts of the state by as much as 80 percent.

have never been two droughts like 1988 back to back," said Mark Waller, a grain marketing specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service in College Station. "Now it's looking like this may be the point in time when we may see two in a row."

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is scheduled on Friday to release its first 1989 estimates showing how much acreage is planted in winter wheat, and projecting production based on past trends, weather indicators and other factors.

Texas is the nation's fourthleading producer of winter wheat. Planted in the fall and harvested by early summer, winter wheat accounts for threefourths of all wheat grown nationally.

But early estimates range from Texas Panhandle to 80 percent in where soil moisture levels remain perilously low from last summer's dry spell,

Lower than expected yield We've been told that there around the country could drive grain prices upward. Wheat prices have been advancing steadily since last summer. Winter wheat for March delivery jumped more than 10 percent to $4.40 a bushel at the end of the year from $3.96 a bushel in early August on the Chicago Board of Trade.

"I think there is some concern among a lot of people that if we get another disastrous weather year, we may really have a problem in maintaining the levels of carryover wheat stocks," said Mickey Paggi, a farm export analyst with the American Farm Bureau Federation in Park Ridge, Ill., and formerly a Texas Agricultural Extension Service economist.

Texas wheat production last year declined 11 percent to 89.6 million bushels from 100.8 million a possible reduction in the winter bushels in 1987, according to the wheat crop of 15 percent in the Texas Agricultural Statistics

ALL ON SALE Charlie's FURNITURE 1304 N. Banks 665-6506

Tailor Made to suit your needs

IRA's ANNUITIES RETIREMENT PLANS BUSINESS INSURANCE PERSONAL INSURANCE

DERREL HOGSETT Rt. 1, Box 75 Pampa, Tx. 79065 Phone 806/665-3918

Viewpoints

The Bampa News

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Let Peace Begin With Me

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. Only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he possesses can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government, and that men have the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property for themselves and others.

Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is, thus, consistent with the coveting commandment.

Louise Fletcher

Larry D. Hollis Managing Editor

Opinion

A modern parable that's all too true

Government Man sat in his office. He looked out the window at all the poor people suffering at Christmastime. He decided that something must be done.

Then Government Man went to Rich Man, and said, "You are the greedy; give me money for the needy." Rich Man hesitated. He had other plans for the money — his own contributions to charity and expansion of his company to hire Poor Man.

Before Rich Man could answer, Government Man said, "You don't have any choice. Cough up the Rich Man did so, and mused that Government Man did say the poor needed money, and Government Man had many programs for helping them.

Then Government man went to Middle Class Man, and said, "You are the greedy; give me money for the needy." Middle Class Man said, "But I give to my own charities, and it's hard enough providing for my own family." "Foul wretch!" Government Man replied: "You don't have any choice. See Poor Man over there suffering? You have to support my programs for helping him.

So Middle Class Man gave much of his substance to Government Man, thinking that, after all, Government Man's job was to help Poor Man.

Then Government Man went to Poor Man. "Ah," thought Poor Man, "My family will have a happy Christmas after all. Here comes Government Man to help me. Rich Man and Middle Class Man did nothing, keeping everything for themselves. But at least someone cares.

Government Man said, "Poor Man, empty your pockets." Poor Man thought, "Government Man certainly is efficient. He's making sure that I really am needy, so that the money isn't given unjustly to the

So as his famished family looked on, Poor Man put all his money, what little he had, on the table. Government Man immediately swept Poor Man's money into his pocket, then left. Poor Man's family went hungry for Christmas.

His work done, Government Man spent all the money he had collected on himself.

THE PAMPA NEWS

(USPS 781-540)

Serving the Top 'O Texas 77 Years Pampa, Texas 79065 403 W. Atchison PO Box 2198

Circulation Certified by ABC Audit

SUBSCRIPTION RATES SUBSCRIPTION RATES
Subscription rates in Pampa by carrier and motor route are $5.00 per month, $15.00 per three months, $30.00 per six months and $60.00 per year.
THE PAMPA NEWS is not responsible for advance payment of two or more months made to the carrier. Please pay directly to the News Office any payment that exceeds the current collection period.
Subscription rates by mail are: $19.50 per three months, $39.00 per six months and $78.00 per year. No mail subscriptions are available within the city limits of Pampa. Military and students by mail $5.72 per month. Mail subscriptions must be paid 3 months in advance.

subscriptions must be paid 3 months in advance.

Single copies are 25 cents daily and 75 cents Sunday.

The Pampa News is published daily except Saturdays and holidays by the Pampa News, 403 W. Atchison Street, Pampa, Texas 79065. Second-class postage paid at Pampa, Texas. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to the Pampa News, P.O. Drawer 2198, Pampa, Texas 79066-2198.

Missing Your Daily News? Dial 669-2525 Before 7 p.m. Weekdays, 10 a.m. Sundays

He has a voice to be heard

WASHINGTON — During his six years as secretary of the navy, John Lehman modeled his life after the fellow who was famed for his even temper: He stayed mad. He was mad about the Navy; he was mad at the Pentagon bureaucracy. His motto was full speed ahead, and the torpedoes be damned.

It made for a tempestuous time. Lehman fought for the big carriers; he fought for his beloved battleships; he tangles with the other services; and he wrestled with the gods of Capitol Hill. He made waves — big bow waves — and he loved every minute of his cruise.

Lehman used to invite me to lunch at his office. His purpose was not to pick my brain, but to wash it. For an hour or so he would drown me in facts and figures. Once he summoned aides to display a 14-foot chart of the bureaucratic flow he meant to correct. He had measured laws, rules and regulations governing procurement: They occupied 1,512 feet of shelf space.

At our last luncheon in the spring of 1987 I asked what he meant to do on retirement. He grinned the Lehman grin — the kind of anticipatory grin that one sees on a bulldog about to eat dinner. "I'm going to write a book," he said.

He did write a book. This month brings publigation from Scribners of Command of the Seas. Come and have lunch with John Lehman. A small part of the book — the kinder, gentler part — is purely autobiographical. For the rest, it is Lehman on the stump.

He convincingly defends the refitting of battleships; he makes an excellent case for hightech warships, especially carriers, that are big enough to defend American interests anywhere.

He tells us more about weapons systems than many readers may truly want to know, and his exposition of the "intellectual foundations" of

James J. Kilpatrick

maritime strategy gets to be heavy reading, but his concluding chapter alone is must reading for everyone who shares a concern for national de-

It is a sad chapter in its way. Lehman's waves flattened out on the bureaucratic beach. He accomplished a great deal as secretary; he revitalized the office and got things done, but many of his reforms never left port.

"Simply put," he writes, "the major problem at the Pentagon is that we are not getting what we need: the right forces at the lowest cost. Too frequently, we are not getting the right forces at all. And sometimes we are getting the wrong forces at the highest cost."

The Department of Defense is "much too big." If the department were appraised by a book value, it would equal the top 30 companies on the Fortune 500 list combined. "And yet the Pentagon is organized like a 7-Eleven store, with all decision-making drawn up to a centralized office.'

This is crazy, in Lehman's view, but he fears the lunacy will continue. He sees "old, familiar patterns" returning, as industry seeks cost-plus and sole-source contracts; congressional voices call for still more centralization under a procurement czar, and the services succumb once again "to the lust to fiddle, change, and goldplate systems.'

Lehman's ideas make sense. He would centralize defense policy; he would decentralize day-to-day operations. Policies shoud be fixed by the president in consultation with the secretary of state, the secretary of defense and the three service secretaries.

Execution of these policies should then be left largely to the joint chiefs of staff and to combatant commanders. "The current absurdity of Persian Gulf naval operations being run by a thousand-person bureaucracy in Tampa speaks for itself.'

Lehman believes passionately in the constitutional principle of civilian control over the military. Toward this end, he would restore the system by which the service secretaries, rather than the joint chiefs of staff, select outstanding officers for promotion to flag rank. He ridicules the excessive emphasis that is placed upon desk duty for senior officers. He would reduce the number of men on active duty and place greater reliance upon reserves.

Fifteen years ago the Defense Department worked with only four committees in Congress. Today the department is bogged down with more than 60 committees and subcommittees. This "anarchy," says Lehman, "must be curtailed."

What we have in Command of the Seas is a young voice — Lehman is 46 — speaking with the authority of experience. If Lehman now and then seems a little cocksure, if his gung-ho enthusiasm occasionally overflows, his book is nonetheless an important book. His is a voice to be heard with respect.

Today in history

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, Jan. 9, the ninth day of 1989. There are 356 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On Jan. 9, 1793, what's generally regarded as the first successful balloon flight in the United States took place as Frenchman Jean Pierre Blanchard traveled between Philadelphia and Woodbury, N.J.

On this date:

In 1788, Connecticut became the fifth state to ratify the Constitution.

In 1861, Mississippi seceded from the Union.

In 1945. American soldiers led by Gen. Douglas MacArthur invaded Luzon in the Philippines during World War II. In 1964, anti-U.S. rioting broke out in the Panama Canal Zone, resulting in the deaths of 21 Panamanians and three U.S. sol In 1972, reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes, speaking by telephone from the Bahamas to reporters in Hollywood, said a purported biography of him by Clifford Irving was a fake.

In 1977, the Oakland Raiders defeated the Minnesota Vikings. 32-14, in Super Bowl XI, played in Pasadena, Calif.

Too many emotional decisions

This past year Americans gave through their churches and charities a record $93.68 billion. Why?

The logical explanation is that we "feel sorry" for those who are sick, hurting, hungry or cold. And so we do.

But a new book has provided us with another mirror — a less flattering mirror — of ourselves. The book is called Thinking in the Shadow of Feelings: A New Understanding of the Hidden Forces That Shape Individuals and Societies by psychotherapist Reuven Bar-Levav.

His conclusions are frighteningly plausible. He says we are all born before we are ready. The cortex of our brain is not functional for a year and a half. We do not remember that part of our life yet traces of it are registered in our bodies. We are forever left between the wish to be protected and the desire to be free.

The result, he says, is a contradiction between our hearts and our minds which interferes with our ability to make rational decisions.

Here is where the author begins mentally to fear but under normal circumstances most of us manage to function reasonably well.

"We all have huge amounts of this irrational

Paul Harvey

"At any time, however, some 10 percent of us have trouble emotionally. This is an age of anxiety. Depression is our most common illness. We are just beginning to learn how many physical complaints derive from emotional trauma.

"We are all like eight-cylinder cars with only four cylinders firing. On a normal day, in warm weather and on flat terrain, the car goes fine. But if the weather turns bad, if the terrain is hilly, the car won't go.

"That is how we are. If we are under stress, if we are physically ill — if we are going through a divorce or the death of a loved one - we have trouble functioning.'

Collectively we are an irrational society trying to make rational decisions. Reuven Bar-Levav believes that Americans are inclined to favor the underdog too much. "Our automatic wish to defend and protect all helpless people strongly suggests that we overidentify with them. In an emotional sense we are fighting for our own survival. But it is less embarrassing and much more self-righteous if we take up a cause in behalf of others rather than ourselves. Fighting for any cause pushes our own personal sense of powerlessness aside.

That identification with the underdog can lead to public policy which makes no sense." You may have to re-read his words once or twice to extract the full meaning. The author cites as an example of misplaced compassion the happiness with which we save grossly deformed babies through "the miracles of modern medicine" with no thought for the pain we are inflicting on the children.

"We make the emotional decision, not the rational one."

It's time to take poor Marxist to lunch

By WILLIAM A. RUSHER

Ridicule is a serious weapon in politics and one of the most overlooked. I suggest it is time conservatives started lavishing it on the world's diminishing supply of "Marxists" - using that overworked term to describe the whole ragged army of leftist insects now huddled beneath it.

Not long ago there was scarcely an American campus of any importance that didn't boast a whole covey of pro-fessors who loudly proclaimed that they were "Marxists." Actually most of them were (or would have been, if their guts had equaled their bitter hostility to American society) more properly describable as communists. But "Marxist" is a somewhat broader term that included communists and could be dissected endlessly into its numerous subdivisions, in one or another of which these braves could take refuge whenever the going got a that segment of the notoriously flaky students of the 1960s who never left college at all, but hung on under the ivy, got into the teaching profession, and eventually acquired tenure. Thus it came to pass that the nutty students and relatively sane faculties of the 1960s were replaced by the zonkedout faculties and comparatively sensible, hard-working student bodies of today. In due course the intellectual basket-cases now on the faculties will wither into retirement and be dragged off to some Laughing Academy for over-aged mountebanks, and the groves of American academe will be repristinated at last.

But meanwhile why on earth don't we use these clowns for the healthy chuckle-fodder they indubitably pro-vide? After all, their great minds bought the worst and most dubious by-products of the Enlightenment lock, stock and barrel. They were sure that capitalism was finished ("I have been over into the future and it works," sighed Lincoln Steffens); that national pride was mere atavism ("superpatriotism"; "the last refuge of a scoundrel"); above all, that God was dead. And they? Who were they? Why, they were the New Men and Women, the thinkers to whom the leadership of a rational, godless world would necessarily fall.

Don't give them credit for seeing early on that something was going seriously wrong with this grotesque picture. Most of them still believed in it devotedly when every tin-pot dictator in West Africa realized that socialism was a walking disaster, being systematically outstripped by economies based on capitalism.

No, it wasn't until Deng Xiaoping broke down and admitted that his Chinese socialist economy was an un-workable mess, and Mikhail Gorbachev followed by conceding as much about the Workers' Paradise, that even the flakiest "Marxist" huddled in some tenured cage on an American campus was forced to change his sto-

Not, heaven knows, that he broke down and admitted the truth, which is that he was wrong from the start, has misled and miseducated several generations of better young men and women than himself, and would have done considerably less harm to the world if he had flung himself from some suitably high building 30 or 40 years ago. Oh, no; he now contends he was just some sort of "Marcusian deconstructivist" or what-have-you, all

But, since they lack the guts to admit the truth, let's at least laugh at the old zanies. They were wrong; they were caught at it; and the least they can do in return is provide a little innocent merriment for the local Young Americans for Freedom chapter or for the Young Republican Club at their college. Let these forces gather under some-old fraud's window to console him with guitar music. Or (if that can stand it) take the wretched old Marxist to lunch.

Nation

It's income vs. spending as state legislatures face deficits

By LINDA BARNAS Associated Press Writer

nce

old-

ılize

ixed

:ret-

the left

om-

y of у а

aks

illit-

sys-

ther

ling

ules

lesk

the ater

1ent ess.

vith

ees.

cur-

is a

the

and en-

k is

e to

the

ry:

ral-

sful

ates

ean

beod-

ıme

on-led

innes

by

Igs.

d in s if ıer

de

ed

les

nd ve he m 40 he je-

all

iey in-in-or at ier to (if

Aid to education, prison overcrowding, insurance reform, property tax relief and the environment are among the issues challenging state lawmakers this year, but none looms as large as the battle of the budget.

It's income vs. spending, and if revenues are up. so are costs of services. Just to stay even is more expensive, without talking about adding money for things like schools, road repair or social services.

"What we face in the coming months will not be easy," Connecticut Gov. William A. O'Neill said last week in his state-of-the-state address. "We will have to say 'No' when we really want to say 'Yes.'

Some states, including Alaska, California, Connecticut, Iowa, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Montana. New York and West Virginia, are running in the red or face deficits in the coming fiscal year. Others, like Illinois, have avoided deficits by nofrills budgets and face a backlash from the lean

A lucky few are running surpluses, heating up debate on what to do with the largesse.

Caution abounds. New York and Massachusetts saw surpluses of a few years ago turn to deficits at least $636 million in Massachusetts' current $11.6 billion budget and more than $1 billion in New York's budget of more than $28 billion.

States expecting to do well this year — Hawaii, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Virginia, Idaho and Maryland — are fearful of the same thing happening to them.

"It's real easy to make a tax cut right now, and we all look good for re-election," says Hawaii House Finance Committee Chairman Joseph Souki. "But is that the wisest thing?"

Lawmakers, having read voters' lips, are loath to talk about hiking taxes. The idea is being mentioned mainly in the states with the biggest money woes, and the most likely candidates are increased taxes on cigarettes, alcohol and gasoline, rather than raising state income taxes.

Spending on education has perhaps the highest priority. Even in West Virginia, with a fiscal headache totaling $680 million, Gov.-elect Gaston Caperton has promised unspecified raises to the state's teachers, who rank 46th nationally in Illinois education officials, who have gone two years without a significant budget increase, are expected to seek increases totaling more than $600 million this year.

Coupled with increasing aid to education is the need in some states to restructure the system for public school financing to reduce the disparities between rich and poor districts. Montana's Legislature must fashion a new system to replace one that a state court last year declared unconstitu-

Prisons are another big-ticket item. Michigan is in the middle of a massive prison building program; by 1991, the state will have spent $900 million to build 28 prisons, and if projections hold true, the system still will be overcrowded.

'The cost of operating prisons is eating us alive," said Michigan Senate Appropriations Chairman Harry Gast.

Virginia is building two new prisons to increase its inmate capacity by 2,600, but corrections officials say the state still will be at least 1,000 beds short in a few years and more money will be sought.

"The cost of crime is expensive, so we must accept the fact that the money drawn to support the criminal justice system is money that we will not have for the wide range of other important needs throughout the commonwealth," said Gov.

Gerald L. Baliles.

Once lawmakers have their budget priorities settled, they still won't lack for issues.

Rising auto insurance costs are expected to be debated in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Carolina. And California is awaiting the results of a court challenge to Proposition 103, a voter initiative passed last November that requires a 20 percent rate rollback for most kinds of insurance and tougher state regulation of insurers.

The environment and waste disposal is another sore spot for some states. New Jersey suffered a second consecutive summer of beach closings because of high bacteria levels and medical waste washing ashore, and the Legislature passed a series of measures designed to help clean up the state's ocean waters.

However, other proposals to track the disposal of medical waste, impose tougher penalties on polluters and create a powerful commission to protect the coast remain mired in disputes.

South Carolina residents are clamoring for reductions in the amount of hazardous waste buried in a landfill used by more than 30 other states, and the Legislature is studying ways to deal with rapidly filling solid-waste landfills, also a consideration in New Hampshire.

Reagan's last budget attacks deficit by killing 82 programs

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER AP Economics Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan today sent Congress a $1.15 trillion farewell budget that attacked his biggest economic failure, the federal deficit, by reprising some of his cherished ideas about reducing the size of government

The president's ninth and final spending plan called for reducing the budget deficit to $92.5 billion in the 1990 fiscal year, its lowest level since the beginning of his presidency

"This budget shows that a gradual elimination of the deficit is possible without raising taxes," Reagan said in his budget message. "It can be done in a reasonable, responsible way — with discipline and fairness. New taxes are not required."

In his proposals for the fiscal year that starts Oct. 1, 1989, Reagan advocated terminating a total of 82 government programs, slashing spending on farm subsidies and holding down the growth in Medicare and Medicaid, the giant health programs.

The budget would provide increased spending for two of the problems, bailing out hundreds of insolvent savings and loan institutions and cleaning up contaminated nuclear weapons plants. AIDS research and space exploration would also receive in-

While Reagan was presenting his budget only 11 days before leaving office, many of its broad outlines were expected to be adopted by President-elect Bush, who has said he will unveil his own proposals to a special joint session of Congress soon after taking office.

In two key respects, the two budgets will be alike. Both men pledged to cut the deficit, which is projected to climb this year to $161.5 billion, without resorting to new taxes and without touching Social Security.

But Bush is expected to seek a smaller increase in defense spending while allocating more money in such areas as child care, cleaning up the environment and housing the homeless.

Skeptical Democrats believe Bush will find it impossible to fulfill all his campaign promises for higher spending while relying on a "flexible freeze" on other government programs to eliminate

(AP Laserphoto

Clyde Glasiter, defense controller, briefs reporters on proposed Department of Defense budget plans.

ing to new taxes.

"President Reagan's final budget is really irrelevant at this point," Rep. William Gray, D-Pa., former chairman of the House Budget Committee said today on CBS This Morning. "It is a farewell gesture that every president is required to do. It only becomes relevant if George Bush says, 'That's my budget.' I don't expect him to do that.'

Reagan will leave office with a budget that proposes collecting $1.059 trillion in revenues and spending $1.152 trillion, leaving a budget deficit of $92.5 billion.

The deficit, if realized, would be the lowest since a $73.7 billion imbalance between spending and to balance the budget by 1984. Reagan saw that promise swamped by a tide of red ink which has almost tripled the national, debt

In his budget message, Reagan blamed the huge deficits on the severe 1981-82 recession, which reduced government revenues, and on the refusal of Congress to go along with his spending cuts. But he predicted that the deficit could be totally eliminated by 1993 if Congress adopts his spending cuts. Similar predictions of future budget deficits in past Reagan budgets have proved to be wildly optimistic, however.

"We have an opportunity this year to put the worst of the deficit problem behind us and enable the next administration to begin its term of office with a clean slate," Reagan said.

Reagan's $92.5 billion deficit target for 1990 would be well within the Gramm-Rudman requirement which sets a $100 billion deficit goal for 1990. This law establishes declining deficit targets leading to a balanced budget in 1993, holding out the threat of across-the-board spending cuts if the targets are not met.

Reagan took office with a pledge lieve Reagan's 1990 deficit estimate is based on overly optimistic assessments about how the economy will perform, including expectations that growth will continue at a rapid clip while inflation and interest rates both de-

Among the 82 individual programs recommended for termination by Reagan are the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Legal Services Corporation, the Economic Development Administration, the Appalachian Regional Commission, direct loans by the Small Business Administration, Amtrack railroad passenger subsidies, mass transit grants and subsidies to airlines serving small airports.

Reagan has tried and failed over the years to get Congress to go along with these proposals.

The president's final budget protects his defense buildup, one of the hallmarks of his presidency, by proposing a 5.4 percent increase to $315.2 billion in spending authority, 2 percent higher than the expected rate of inflation. As part of the increase, the budget seeks a 44 percent increase in spending on development of the spaced-based Star

Americans' views of homelessness: Bad and getting worse

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans generally agree that homelessness is widespread and worsening, and most are dissatisfied with the government's response and would be willing to pay more taxes to combat the problem, a poll has found.

A plurality of the 1,084 adults surveyed in the Media General-Associated Press poll primarily faulted society rather than the homeless for homelessness.

A plurality also said the federal government is chiefly responsible for solutions.

The poll exhibited the broad reach of homelessness: Six in 10 said homeless people were in their communities, and threequarters said the problem plagues communities of all sizes, not just big cities.

rated the problem as extraordinarily severe. Sixty-eight percent called it "very serious" and 24 percent said "fairly serious."

portance.

The national poll, conducted by telephone among a random sample of adults Nov. 10-20, had a 3point margin of error. It was completed before winter's cold increased attention on the home-

Still, nearly seven in 10 respondents said homelessness was getting worse, a quarter said it was unchanged, and 3 percent saw improvement.

Views were divided on the responsibility for solutions. Thirtytwo percent said the federal government was primarily responsible; 24 percent said state governments, 18 percent said local governments and 9 percent said private charities. The rest had no answer.

Wherever prime responsibility Accordingly, respondents lies, only 27 percent said the federal government was doing enough to prevent people from becoming homeless, and 58 percent said it was not.

homeless should be increased, and 86 percent of that group said they would be willing to pay higher taxes for that purpose. That totaled 52 percent overall, an unusually high level of acquiescence to higher taxes. On specific programs, 62 percent said the federal government should spend more on housing for the homeless, and as many favored the preventive measure of building more federally subsidized housing for the poor.

In virtually all these measures. homelessness was seen as severe and worsening by a greater share spending on programs for the of women, Democrats, liberals, minorities and younger people. They also were more apt to blame society and to favor a greater federal response.

> Seventy-eight percent of women rated the problem as 'very serious," compared with 56 percent of men, for example. Eighty-three percent of Democrats said it was getting worse, compared with 54 percent of Republicans. And sixty-four percent of liberals said society was at fault, compared with 37 percent of conservatives.

An economic division also existed among respondents, with lower income Americans more was mainly at fault for homelesslikely to view the problem as serious and to favor greater responses. Of those with family incomes less than $25,000 a year, for instance, 73 percent favored more subsidized housing, but among those earning more than $50,000 just 54 percent agreed.

The survey found split views on the issue of people living on the streets by choice. Of those with an opinion, 45 percent said people should be allowed to live on the streets if they want to, but 51 percent said they should not have that right.

Finally, the survey asked who ness — society or the homeless themselves. Forty-five percent said society was primarily to blame: 33 percent said the homeless and 22 percent had no answer. Media General Inc., a communications company based in Richmond, Va., publishes the Richmond Times-Dispatch, The Richmond News Leader, the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and the Winston-Salem (N.C.) Journal, and operates TV stations WXFL in Tampa. WCBD in Charleston. S.C., and WJKS in Jacksonville,

World

Political parties try to emerge in Hong Kong's fading colony

By DAN BIERS Associated Press Writer

HONG KONG (AP) — Political parties are struggling to emerge in this British colony but face the formidable hurdles of apathy, public distrust and a wary Communist China, which gains sovereignty over the territory in Attempts to form the groups comes as Britain prepares to hold Hong Kong's first general legislative elections and China appears to have reluctantly dropped its opposition to such activity.

The organizations will be different from Western-style political

Contra leader shot to death in Honduras

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — A Nicaraguan rebel leader was killed by machine-gun fire as he drove along a highway west of the Honduran capital, police said.

The body of Manuel Adan Rugama Acevedo, 39, also known as "Commander Aureliano," was riddled with 26 Uzi machine gun bullet wounds, police officials said.

Rugama apparently was alone Saturday when he was shot as he drove along a highway west of Tegucigalpa. Officers later found his body on the street, outside the vehicle he was driving to a friend's home to attend a birthday party.

They said they had no more details about the killing.

Leaders of the anti-Sandinista rebels, known as the Contras, immediately blamed the Nicaragua Sandinista government for the killing of one of their regional commanders. They said Rugama had been scheduled to meet with other Contra leaders in Tegucigalpa that afternoon.

The United States supports Nicaragua's Contra rebels, who are trying to overthrow Nicaragua's leftist government.

'The Nicaraguan Resistance profoundly laments this act perpetrated by the communists of the Sandinista Front, who are our only enemies," said Enrique Bermudez, a member of the Nicaraguan Resistance Directo-

He spoke Saturday in a telephone interview.

A doctor by profession, Rugama had been a Contra for nine years. He was the organization's Segovia regional commander.

Bermudez said Rugama had returned to Tegucigalpa two days ago after visiting with his mother, Elsa Acevedo, who lives in San Francisco, Calif.

Roberto Ferrey, another Contra directorate member, told The Associated Press in a telephone interview Saturday that "our organization doesn't have the slightest doubt that the Sandinista regime sent a commando to Honduras to kill not only Commander Auerliano, but also other high-ranking members of the Nicaraguan Resistance.'

Raisa left out of new group

MOSCOW (AP) - A Soviet cultural group picked five candidates Saturday to sit on a new national political body, but the organization's best-known member, Raisa Gorbachev, was conspicuously absent from the list.

It is not known if the wife of Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev, who attended the meeting according to state-run television, presented herself as a candidate to represent the Soviet Culture Fund. She helped create the organization in 1986.

If so, her failure to achieve election could be a clear rebuff to her husband. However, the wives of Kremlin leaders do not usually engage in political or Communist Party business.

Excerpts of Saturday's meeting in Moscow were shown on the Saturday evening television news show Vremya.

The program said the Soviet Culture Fund was entitled to send five representatives to the Council of People's Deputies. The council is a new 2,250-member body that will chose members of the national Supreme Soviet legislature and elect the Soviet president, the post now held by Gorbachev.

The five chosen included Dmitri Likhachev, a top member of the literature and language department of the Soviet Academy of Sciences; and Daniel Granin, a prominent Leningrad author, parties because they will not be able to form a sovereign government. Instead, they will be limited to trying to influence the outgoing British rulers and pursuing whatever local power Beijing permits under the "high degree of autonomy" it promises for this capitalist enclave after

"The administration of Hong Kong will be in the hands of Hong Kong people, so in that sense we still have a lot of power," said Yeung Sum, chairman of Meeting Point, a pressure group of about 300 members that views itself as a future party

In recent weeks, businessman Stephen Cheong and lawyer Martin Lee, both members of the colony's Legislative Council, have announced plans to form political parties. Councilor Maria Tam's Progressive Hong Kong Society also is mentioned as an emerging party.

Those groups are expected to participate in general elections to be held in 1991 for 10 of 56 seats on the council, which is primarily a forum to debate policy made by the British governor and his advisers. The council now consists of government officials. government appointees and representatives of interest groups and local advisory boards.

The 1991 elections "will be run on party lines, I'm quite sure,' said Joseph Y.S. Cheng, a political scientist at the Chinese University of Hong Kong. But the groups will face huge problems in gathering support from Hong Kong's 5.7 million people, who traditionally distrust political parties.

Families who fled to the coastal enclave blame China's myriad 20th century woes on both the Communists and Nationalists, after the British leave.

who moved to Taiwan after the 1949 revolution. Both parties operate unofficially in Hong Kong.

"People in Hong Kong feel very comfortable with the status quo, and they are afraid of political activities, political confrontation," Cheng said

Yeung acknowledged that Meeting Point had not clearly declared itself a political party for so long because "all through the years, people (have been) skeptical of the label." Cheong rejects the "party" label for his new group.

Political scientist Peter Harris of the University of Hong Kong believes the groups will have trouble winning broad backing. He said "the mass of the Hong Kong people are more interested . in getting the kids to school. Their understanding of issues is still in a very inchoate stage."

Attempts by civic leaders three years ago to form political parties stalled not from apathy but because of China's opposition, according to Lee.

That stance appears to have softened, however, with the onset of legislative elections that China has promised will continue after

Xu Jiatun, China's main representative in Hong Kong, said early this month that the new constitution being drafted for the territory effectively allows political parties.

Many of the emerging political groups have not clearly stated an ideology and may be identified primarily by the personality of their leaders. Some of those leaders may seek to become Hong Kong's first chief executive, which will be the top local post

ENSION HEADACHES

If you're bothered by headache that seems to have its origin at the base of your skull, you may be suffering from tension headache.

Tension headaches can be caused by an irritation of the nerves in the area of the spine immediately under the skull. These are called the suboccipital nerves. They pass through small openings in the spinal column to muscles in the surrounding area. Any abnormal pressure of dysfunction of neck and muscles can irritate the nerves, causing tension.

The tension doesn't cause the headache. To treat this form of headache, attention should be paid to the bone and muscle structures. They should be returned to normal balance so they can function properly again.

Medication is not the answer to tension headaches. Aspirin and other painkillers may give you temporary relief-but they won't solve the problem. Once the source of the problem is found and treated, THEN you can get the relief you

Dr. Mark Ford

Dr. Louis Haydon

CALL NOW: 665-7261 Haydon Chiropractic Clinic

28th Street at Perryton Parkway, Pampa, Tx.

PAMPA CENTER

900 N. FROST

LARRY D. GILBERT

PAMPA, TEXAS 79065

BEGINNING COMPUTER WORKSHOP

CLASS DATE: Monday night classes begin January 16.

Wednesday night classes begin January 18. (8 WEEK COURSE) 6:00-9:00 p.m. Pampa Middle School LOCATION:

TUITION $50.00—Enroll at the Pampa Center INSTRUCTOR: Doug Rapstine

TRALEE CRISIS VOLUNTEER TRAINING

LOCATION: TUITION:

CLASS DATES: Begins Monday, January 23 (Will meet Monday & Wednesday nights for 4 weeks) Clarendon College $10.00 7:00-10:00 p.m.

HOSPICE TRAINING

CLASS DATE:

LOCATION:

TUITION:

Begins January 16 (10 WEEK COURSE) 6:30-9:30 p.m. Clarendon College—Room 102 $30.00 INSTRUCTOR: Hazel Barthel

ATTENTION: PAMPA BUSINESSES

FREE JOB PLACEMENT Clarendon College Pampa Center offers free job placement for our secretarial callege graduates. Please call us at the Pampa Center office at 665-8801.

larendon College

LARRY D. GILBERT DIRECTOR

REGISTRATION: January 16-18

CLASSES BEGIN: January 18

PAMPA CENTER

900 N. FROST 806 - 665-8801

PAMPA, TEXAS 79065 SPRING SEMESTER 1989

CLASSES END: May 11 (Schedule subject to change)

" DAY CLASSES

l	DAY CLASSES
Course Abr. & No.	Course Title	Credit Hours	Lab Fee	Instructor
MONDAY/WEDNE BAS 142-1P HST 213-1P	SDAY 9:00-10:20 A.M. Word Processing I American History 1500-1865	3	$10.00	Pat Johnson Margaret Hopkins
MONDAY/WEDNE BAS 143-1P HST 223-1P PSY 204-1P	SDAY 10:30-11:50 A.M. Word Processing II American History 1865 to Present Child Psychology	333	$10.00	Pat Johnson Margaret Hopkins Linda Olson
MONDAY/WEDNE BAS 235-1P	SDAY 1:00-2;20 P.M. Office Procedures	3		Pat Johnson
MONDAY/WEDNE	Introduction to Zoology	4	$10.00	Shirley Windhorst
TUESDAY/THURS *BAS 113-1P *BAS 123-1P +ENG 113-1P	DAY 9:00-10:20 A.M. Beginning Typewriting Intermediate Typewriting English Comp. & Reading	3 3 3	$10.00 $10.00	Pat Johnson Pat Johnson Linda Thompson
TUESDAY/THURS *BAS 124-1P + ENG 123-1P PSY 133-1P	DAY 10:30-11:50 A.M. Intermediate Shorthand English Comp. & Reading General Psychology	3 3 3	$10.00	Pat Johnson Linda Thompson Linda Olson
TUESDAY/THURS BUS 214-1P BUS 215-1P ENG 273-1P	DAY 1:00-2:20 P.M. Principles of Accounting I Business Communications World Lit1850 to Present	3 3		Staff Staff Linda Thompson
. THE 101 WOLT	THE COMMAN INTERNITY THE IS OF THE	uired lab a	ace for all	students enrolling in

+ ENG 101-WRITING COMMUNICATIONS-This is a required lab class for all students enrolling in English 113 and English 123. Time to be announced.

EVENING CLASSES

Course Abr. & No	o. Course Title	Credit Hours	Lab Fee	Instructor
MONDAY 7:00-10 BAS 142-2P BAS 143-2P *BIO 224-1P *BIO 235-1P BUS 214-2P *CHM 114-1P + ENG 123-2P MTH 115-1P HST 223-2P PSY 133-2P PSY 133-3P VRLE 0100 MTH 113-1P PED 102-1P NUT 113-1P	Word Processing I Word Processing II General Botany (LAB) Human Anatomy & Physiology II Principles of Accounting I General College Chemistry I English Comp. and Reading Math for Business & Economics I American History - 1865 to Present General Psychology General Psychology Property Management College Algebra Tennis/Volleyball Principles of Nutrition	334434333333333	$10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00	Lee Carter Lee Carter Steven Ogletree Shirley Windhorst Tom Grantham M.B. Smith Linda Thompson Michael Downes Ronald Kotara Jerry Lane Frances Mercer Charles Buzzard Barbara Evans Jan Haynes Beverly Baker
TUESDAY 7:00-10 *ART 131-1P *ART 132-1P *ART 241-1P *ART 242-1P *ART 251-1P *BAS 113-2P *BAS 123-2P *BIO 224-1P *BIO 235-1P *CHM 124-1P CIS 205-1P ECO 223-1P ENG 273-2P MTH 120-1P PSY 204-2P RLE 114-1P SPE 113-1P *ELE 3005-1P SPA 113-1P	Drawing I (LAB-TBA) Drawing II (LAB-TBA) Intro. to Water Color (LAB - TBA) Water Color Painting (LAB-TBA) Intro. to Oil Painting (LAB-TBA) Beginning Typewriting Intermediate Typewriting General Botany Anatomy & Physiology II (LAB) General College Chemistry II Prin. of Computer Info System (LAB-TI Principles of Economics (MICRO) World Literature-1850 to Present Modern Math I Child Psychology Real Estate Principles Basic Techniques of Speech Solid State Devices Beginning Spanish I	3 3 3 3 3 3 4 4 4 4 3 3 3 3 3 4 4 4 4 4	$10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00	James Ivey Edwards Marian Allen Marian Allen Steven Ogletree Shirley Windhorst M.B. Smith Doug Rapstine Bob Killebrew Tim Powers Lane Heitz Herman Vinson Charles Buzzard Gary Kelton Lee Jackson Tina Eberz
WEDNESDAY 7:00 CIS 206-1P BUS 134-1P *CHM 114-1P + ENG 113-2P ENG 263-1P GOV 213-1P HST 213-2P MTH 105-1P MTH 116-1P PSY 113-4P VRLE 0106	O-10:00 P.M. Advanced Computer Program. Technic Introduction to Business General College Chemistry I (LAB) English Comp. and Reading World Literature-Greeks to 1850 American National Government American History 1500-1865 Intermediate Algebra Math for Business & Economics II General Psychology Real Estate Law	ques 4 3 4 3 3 3 3 3 3	$10.00 $10.00	Eugene Hamilton Marian Allen M.B. Smith Linda Thompson Marion Teel Richard Peet John Watson Frank McCullough Jay Smith Staff Phil Vanderpool
THURSDAY 7:00- *ART 261-1P *ART 271-1P BUS 215-2P BUS 224-1P CHM 124-1P BAS 142-3 FAA 110-1P GOV 223-1P HST 223-3P SPA 113-1P SOC 243-1P VRLE 0105 *ELE 3001-1P SPE 123-1P	Introduction to Sculpture Introduction to Ceramics Business Communications Principles of Accounting II General College Chemistry II (LAB) Word Processing I Introduction to Fine & Applied Arts State & Local Government American History 1865 to Present Beginning Spanish I (LAB) Introduction to Sociology Real Estate Finance DC Electronics Basic Tech. of Interpersonal Speech	333343333433333	$10.00 $10.00 $10.00 $10.00	James Ivey Edwards James Ivey Edwards Dana Epperly Phillip Conner M.B. Smith Jan Haynes Staff John Watson Margaret Hopkins Tina Eberz Herman Vinson Gregg Davis Lee Jackson Gary Kelton
TUESDAY & THU *ART 181-1P *ART 182-1P	RSDAY 5:30-7:00 P.M. General Photography I General Photography II	3	$10.00 $10.00	James Ivey Edwards James Ivey Edwards

+ ENG 101-WRITING COMMUNCATIONS - This is a required lab class for all students enrolling in English 113 and English 123. Times to be announced.

**Class size will be limited. Enrollment in these classes will be taken on a first come/first pay basis beginning January 16, 1989.

SPECIAL COURSES WILL BE SCHEDULED DURING THE YEAR. FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT LARRY GILBERT, DIRECTOR, CLARENDON COLLEGE - PAMPA CENTER, 900 N. FROST, PHONE 665-8801

!!!NOTICE!!!

NURSING/LVN & RN

The classes offered this Spring will apply to the following courses of study:

ELEMISEC. EDUCATION Prin. of Computer Info. Systems Economics (Micro) Speech College Algebra Modern Mathematics I General Psy. or Child Psy. Sociology

All other general ed. requirements

Anatomy & Physiology Nutrition General & Child Psy. English 113 General Chemistry Math 105

REAL ESTATE Introduction to Business Accounting | & || Psychology, Business Management Prin. of Computer Info. Systems Government, English Real Estate Courses Business Math, Typing College Algebra, Int. Algebra Speech, Sociology, Economics Business Communications

Lifestyles

801 ards

n

gh ards

ns

Blank's needlepoint in his "Front Gallery Series" features a portion of his grandmother's porch.

Needlepoint on exhibit at Square House Museum

PANHANDLE — "Color Magic in Wool," a large-scale needlepoint exhibit by Lloyd W. Blanks, will be on display in the Educational Center Auditorium of Carson County Square House Museum through the month of

The show features works by a native of Caps, near Abilene, who has lived in New York City for more than 30 years. Blanks uses woolen yarns exclusively in a full range and combination of depicting the spirit of his West Texas heritage.

"I use mostly warm colors in my work, but I also use all colors," Blanks said. He began his career as a painter and sculptor but decided to work in needlepoint in 1974.

The largest work to be displayed is 36 inches by 58 inches and will be included with the "Front Gallery Series." Blanks grandmother called the long porch that curved across the front of her farmhouse the "Front Gallery." Blanks' memories of the horizon as seen from the porch have formed the basis for his needlepoint designs, which feature the sky, land and a portion of the porch — a post or railing

San Angelo Museum of Fine Arts director Howard Taylor said, "I think his work is a discovery. It has not been seen in any major museum exhibition. although in the fiber world he is very well known. The things that make this exhibit interesting are that Blanks is a native son of Texas, that his work is unique it's not like anybody else's — and that the exhibit is a beautiful panorama of Texas."

Mechanical banks made saving fun

By RALPH and TERRY KOVEL

Saving money has never been easy, but mechanical banks helped children get in the habit by making it a game.

Mechanical banks often included some sort of figure, such as a clown. When a penny was placed in the clown's hand and a lever pulled, the clown ate the

A William Tell figure would shoot a penny that would knock the apple off a boy's head. Animals kicked pennies into a bank, people dropped pennies into bags or pockets or hit pennies with baseball bats.

The designers had imagination. One bank had an eagle feeding pennies to her young.

The mechanical iron bank was at the height of its popularity from 1870 to World War I. Iron banks then became too expensive, and mechanicals started to be made from brightly colored tin or, more recently, plastic.

Any mechanical bank is of value, even plastic space ships or small banks advertising oil companies. If you can't afford the best of the old banks (one sold for $250,000 in November), at least save the new ones. It's always fun to watch how the bank gets the

We have a lovely old square rosewood piano. The legs are heavy, carved and round. The name "Stodart, New York" is on a plaque on the piano. How old is it?

A. Pianos marked "Stodart, New York" were made by Jacob Dill. He made square pianos and worked from 1870 to about 1880.

Q. My husband inherited three bronze statues of pirates. They are signed by Paul Herzel. Can you tell me the age and history of these items? We love them and would not sell them at any price.

A. Paul Herzel was a wellknown sculptor, painter and illustrator born in Germany in 1876. He studied and worked in the United States and made many bronze and bronzed plaster figures that were sold in gift shops.

After we wrote about a dogpowered treadmill churn, a reader wrote to tell us more. "The inventor was Alpheus Hamblin. He was born in Brockville, Ontario, Canada, in July 1819. ... He invented and manufactured pumps and washing machines in Canada. He was a cabinet maker and made chairs, tables, beds, chests of drawers, cradles and other useful articles. His dog-powered churn earned over $3,000.'

Antiques

Q. Does it matter if I use raw linseed oil instead of boiled linseed oil on my furniture?

A. Yes. They are entirely different. But we do not recommend either for antiques. Linseed oil crystalizes and leaves a permanent finish that will discolor.

A reader who worked as a metallurgist wrote to tell us more about Monel metal. We mentioned that it was a popular alternative to aluminum in the 1920s. Introduced in 1905 by International Nickel Co., it was used for parts in chemical and mining equipment, marine fittings, and kitchen and restaurant equipment. A special type known as Ebonized Monel was made with a black finish.

Q. "Z.S. & Co., Bavaria" is written on the bottom of my gold and white plate. The number 54 is also on the plate. Could this be a numbered, limited edition?

A. Zeh, Scherzer & Co. used the mark found on your plate. The plate was made in Rehau, Bavaria, which is now part of West Germany. The company worked from 1880 to the present.

The numeral 54 is a factory mark telling shape or type of decoration. Numbered limited edition plates are more specific; it would say, for instance, that it is plate 54 of an edition of 5,000.

Q. I have a decorated piece of canvas from a World War I airplane. It was taken from a plane after it crasted. An Indian head and the words "Escadrille Lafayette" are part of the design. It was painted by a crew member. Is it of value?

A. Yes. The painting on the canvas is now considered folk art. Collectors of airplane and war memorabilia as well as those who treasure folk art would be interested in the canvas. It could be sold to a local dealer, an auction gallery or a snop that specializes in that type of collectible.

*** TIP: Go outside and try to read your house numbers from the street. If you can't read them, get new, larger ones. Police responding to an emergency must be able to see the numbers in your

This Humpty Dumpty clown bank, made by the Shephard Hardware Co. of Buffalo, N.Y., in 1884, represents a well-known pantomime clown of the day. Put the penny in the hand, press the lever in the back and the tongue falls back, the eyes roll and the hand puts the penny in his mouth. (Sotheby's New

Your antiques are worth money! Learn the up-to-date prices for over 500 categories of antiques and collectibles in Kovels' Antiques and Collectibles Price List, which includes hundreds of factory histories, illustrations and tips for care of your collection. For your copy, send $10.95 plus $1.90 postage to Price Book, Box 22900, Beachwood, Ohio 44122.

CURRENT PRICES

Phoenix Bird egg cup, blue and white: $20.

Haskell leaf pin, faux aquamarine center, 2 inches: $45.

Heisey pitcher, pink, marked, 10 inches: $75.

Donald Duck hand puppet,

Sterling silver letter opener, Jacobi & Jenkin, floral relief on handle, marked, 7 inches: $115. Sterling silver lettuce fork, gin: $125. Cranberry finger lamp, embossed design, applied clear handle, 51/4 inches: $250.

chrysanthemum pattern, Dur-

Whirligig, green-head mallard, carved and painted, inset glass eyes, American, late 19th/early 20th century, 271/2 inches: $330.

Buddy Lee doll, Coca-Cola uniform, composition: $475.

Country poplar cupboard, grain painted, projecting top, two glazed doors, two short drawers, recessed paneled cupboard doors, cutout feet, red-brown grain-painted, Pennsylvania, c.1825, 87x55x22 inches: $6,000. c 1989 by Cowles Syndicate. Inc

India's legal equality for women submerged by religion

By NILOVA ROY Associated Press Writer

NEW DELHI, India (AP)- Indian women have constitutional guarantees of equality, but they are often trapped as second-class citizens because of laws rooted in their religions.

"We are so steeped in patriarchal culture that the role of a woman as an individual is not recognized," says Amarendra Sharan, an attorney who presents cases before the Supreme Court. "She is always somebody's daughter, wife or mother." Article 14 of the Indian Constitution guarantees equal rights for all citizens, regardless of sex or

But Article 25 guarantees freedom of religion, and this means everyone is subject to the personal law of the community into which he or she is born. Hindus are governed by Hindu law, Moslems by the Shariat laws of the Koran, and Christians by their own laws. "Personal laws, dating from mythology and religious scriptures, are based on inequality between the sexes," says Elisabeth, an activist with a women's resource center called Saheli, or friend. In keeping with the center's policy, she declined to disclose her surname.

These laws made men the heads of the family and denied women the right to inherit property,

Rukmani, a lawyer with Saheli, lists several anomalies in personal laws:

— A Hindu woman cannot head a household or inherit ancestral property. She can inherit her father's or her husband's personal property only if

- A Moslem man may have up to four wives at once, divorce at will and not be forced to pay alimony. A Moslem woman cannot initiate divorce in India, and she is entitled to only half the amount of property her brother can inherit.

- Christian women can only divorce spouses who commit incest. They do not have equal inheritance rights.

There is no uniform civil code, although the criminal code is common to all Indians. Nandita Haksar, a lawyer and women's rights activist, says this is because the framers of the 1949 constitution said granting women equal rights within the family would interfere with religious laws.

Because of this, the death of a woman in a dispute over her dowry is not considered murder.

'There is one law for all Indians who commit murder, Indian law," says Vina Mazumdar, head of the Center for Women's Development Studies. "But when a woman is murdered by her husband and in-laws for money or dowry, that is treated as a special category, a dowry death.

Yet a dowry is illegal. The Dowry Prohibition Act of 1961 makes the giving and taking of dowry an offense punishable by fines, imprisonment and confiscation of property. The law is widely ignored. P. Chidambaram, minister of state for home affairs, recently told Parliament that dowry deaths were increasing. At least 1,572 women were killed in 1987 for not bringing in enough dowry, compared with 1,323 in 1986. Last year in New Delhi, police received 3,700 dowry-related complaints ranging from harassment to murder, but records show they investigated only 358. The number of trials and convictions was so small that police did not record them. "Women are largely regarded either as sex objects ... or as goddesses to be revered," says Sharan, the attorney. "Women are taught from early youth to aspire to the status of a goddess performing impossible feats of self-effacing martyrdom.'

Folklore venerates women like Sita, a Hindu princess who spent 14 years in exile in a jungle to serve her husband, the warrior-king Rama. Even Sita, the epitome of Indian womanhood, was forced to walk through fire to prove her chastity after she was abducted by a demon king and rescued by her husband in an epic battle. The story is related in the Ramayana, revered as a holy book by Hindus. who make up more than 82 percent of India's population.

Sita accepted the punishment given her by her lord without a murmur, a fact frequently cited by parents to silence young girls who ask questions.

Bride rents Depression glass

By BARBARA MAYER AP Newsfeatures

When Aimee Gauthier and Mike Reed wed last fall in Stamford, Conn., her hobby of collecting 1930s and 1940s tableware and vintage tablecloths and napkins occupied center stage. The tables holding the wedding feast were covered with the tablecloths and set with her mixed collection of colorful Depression glass and Fiestaware. The menu consisted mainly of food made by the bride

It was a prime example of couples planning their wedding as a very personal event.

Gauthier-Reed says colorful tables are conducive to a festive atmosphere. Though unassuming and not normally for a formal table, the settings were a delightful surprise to guests at her wedding, she says.

Gauthier-Reed, a 25-year-old graphic artist, says she learned some of her stylish ways by working as an assistant to Martha Stewart, the food stylist and author and yellow peppers, carrots and of books on party-giving, including Weddings.

She put Stewart's lessons on color to use at her own wedding to create a relatively inexpensive event that was nevertheless original. The menu included a salad of thinly-sliced filet of beef and red snow peas in vinaigrette dressing. There was also tortellini salad with pesto, sesame noodles, tomato and red onion salad and broccoli.

collection for gatherings

Table garnishes included a mix of black, purple, red, yellow, green and orange peppers and edible nasturtium flowers.

Though her new business is unusual, it is not unique, she says. She came across the idea in Cali-

The Spirit of Truth Christian School admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race. color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs and athletic and other school-administered

1269 S. Summor

programs

Best help for retarded kids may not be at home DEAR ABBY: In response to supervision and care, help the child "Judy in West Virginia" who cared socialize at her own pace and level, for Maria, her 10-year-old blind and retarded child at home, Judy is to be commended for having lasted so long. She needs to recognize that she is not equipped to spend every waking hour caring for her child however well-loved. Her decision concerning whether or not to place Maria in a facility relatives think. Such critics are and train her in some basic skills. However much Judy tries, her closeness to her child as well as the guilt trip imposed by the relatives renders her unable to do these things effectively.

Facilities for the mentally re-

The federal government sponsors a program to enable the mentally retarded person to reach his/her should not depend on what her maximum potential. The ICF/MR program (Intermediary Care Facilignorant of the toll caring for a ity for the Mentally Retarded) is multi-handicapped child at home usually supervised and sometimes takes on the child and the entire managed by the state. There is some governmental subsidy, which varies from state to state. Information tarded are able to give 24-hour is usually available from the regional mental health center. If not, Judy should write to the Department of Health and Human Services in Washington, D.C. Judy has done all she can. Now it's time for her to give that could kick myself for having waited first it may be very hard and leave and the interference of relatives. a terrible void, but for the child's sake, it's better at 10, rather than 20 years later when health or other problems occur.

Dear Abby Abigail Van Buren

My husband and I placed Sherry, facility after much deliberation by us, and criticism from relatives. I experience. I found fault with everything and everyone until I realized that after the initial shock of separation, Sherry was better controlled and, believe it or not, happier there than she had been at a long, stamped, self-addressed home. Now, eight years later, I envelope for a reply.

responsibility to the specialists. At so long because of my own pride Good luck to Judy!

RELIEVED IN TEXAS

DEAR RELIEVED: Thanks to ou and many others for the helpful input. Interested parour retarded teen-ager, in such a ents should consult the special education department of their local school district, and for thought I would not survive the more information, they should write to:

The Association for Persons with Severe Handicaps (TASH), 7010 Roosevelt Way N.E., Seattle, Wash. 98115. Please enclose

Today's Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

- 1 Remain
- 5 Deer 9 Yank
- 12 Diving duck 13 ____ school
- 14 LP speed 15 English count
- 16 Villain in
- "Othello"
- 17 Sup
- 18 Actor Nick 20 Small islands
- 22 Salt (pharm.)
- 23 Airline info 24 Powerful
- explosive (abbr.)
- 27 Ore. summer time
- 29 Strip of leather
- 33 Nonsense
- 35 Vagrant
- 36 City in Pennsylvania 37 Vocalized
- 40 Thin cookie
- 42 Sign at full house (abbr.)
- 43 Of course 44 Total
- 46 Flightless bird 48 Greasy
- 50 Medicinal plant 53 Bath
- 54 Male cats 56 Transmitted

58 Mrs. in

- Madrid 59 Small sword
- 60 Reveler's cry 61 Superlative suf-
- 62 Morning
- moistures 63 Fruit skin DOWN
- 1 Compass point 2 Government agent

- 3 Of aircraft
- 4 Shouts 5 Protects
- 6 Senorita's aunt 7 Texas A&M
- student 8 Specters 9 Christmas item
- 10 Arrow poison 11 UK time
- 19 Mulberry cloth
- 21 Loom frame 24 Strength 25 Ibsen character
- 26 Weekendwelcoming abbr.
- 28 So 30 Actor ____ Calhoun
- 31 Busy as ___
- 32 Seed containers
- 34 Smallest 38 Hair
- 48 Hairy clothing

39 Heavy book

45 Nearsighted

person

41 Grooved

ONCE

NITRO

- 49 Blind as __
- 51 Birthmarks 52 In a short time
- 53 Mao ___ tung 55 Gull

Answer to Previous Puzzle

OLIVE

ILIAD

I E R L Y E

LST

I C E H O T

NICHE

HEART

NIXONIIWO

ILEROOT

FIN

ARE

IVY

OSLO

VOLAR

DOTES

- 47 Auto racer Al 57 Edward's nickname

63

38 39

- 52 60
  - © 1989, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

GEECH

EEK & MEEK

B.C.

By Jerry Bittle

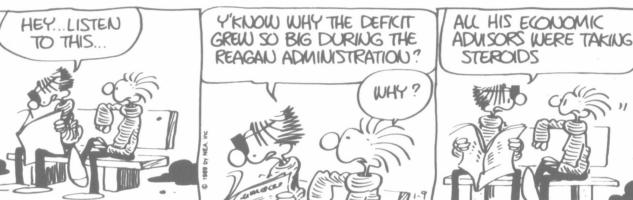

By Brant Parker and Johnny Hart

IM INTERESTED IN WORKING OUT WITH THE NAUTILUS.

By Howie Schneider

MARMADUKE

ZECEK

PSYCHIATRI

By Brad Anderson

$302HOERON

the family to pull together today on both small and large tasks that need attention. After they are finalized, all can share pride in what was collectively

KIT N' CARLYLE

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Focus on your priorities today, not your probabilities. Several important objectives can be achieved simultaneously if you attack them methodically. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If your

Astro-Graph

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today

you have the capability to scale rather heady heights if you have the inclinations to do so. Even when confronted with obstacles, you'll remain sure-footed. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph

Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you.

Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this news-44101-3428.

feel are truly deserving.

hard work and diligence.

victories.

difficult.

apt to be requested.

cially joined.

CAN YOU RETURN THEM?

THEY DON'T BOUNCE

WORTH A DARN

lution is already in your head.

paper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's your second nature to be charitable to people you like and today this quality will be accentuated, but only to those you'll

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Bridges can be rebuilt today with a friend with whom you've been having disagreements. Start taking some positive mea-

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A harvest is at hand and you should have an opportunity at this time to reap rewards in areas where you have paid your dues with

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A seemingly complex problem can be resolved today if you base your conclusions on similar experiences in the past. The so-

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Do not be discouraged if you have been unable to fulfill your present ambitions. Changes are stirring that could suddenly turn your disappointments into substantial

CANCER (June 21-July 22) In an important involvement today consider what must be done in order to be fair to everyone concerned. Making the right decisions from this premise won't be

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Your greatest asset today is your ability to solve problems that others find difficult. Before the day is out, your special talents are

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A friendly get-together with an old pal may take on additional significance today. There is a mutual interest that can be benefi-

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Encourage sures to wipe the old slate clean.

by bernice bede osol

mate hasn't been getting proper mileage out of the family budget lately, it could be a signal for you to step in and take control. You should be effective in this area.

By Larry Wright

MARVIN

ALLEY OOP

SNAFU

YELLOW BEARD AND HIS BOYS TOOK TH' CHEST INSIDE!

C'MON! LET'S MOVE UP BE HIND THOSE ROCKS!

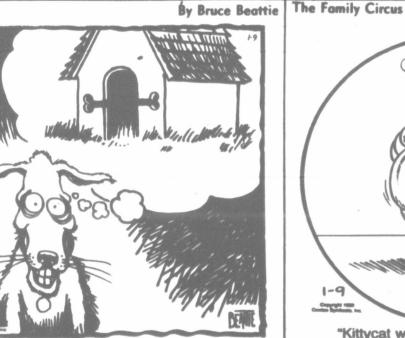

By Bil Keane

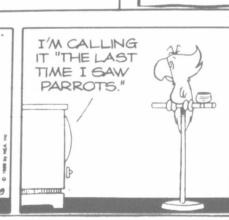

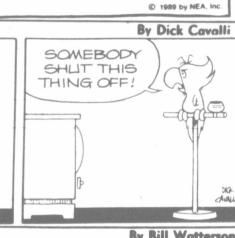

in here with me.

'What's wrong with them treating you like a dog?"

THE BAY DOORS OPEN AND OUT FALLS CALVIN, THE C-BOMB!

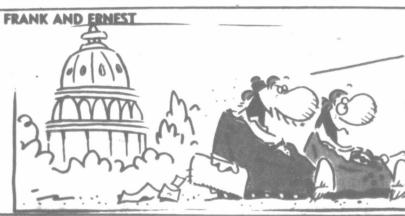

THE BORN LOSER THIS PRICELESS ANTIQUE IS ONE OF A KIND!

WE'VE GOT AN INVISIBLE BOMBER ... NOW TO COME UP WITH SOME INVISIBLE TAXES TO PAY FOR IT. @ 1000 by NEA Inc THAVES 1-9

PEANUTS

Sports

) Today inclinanfronted ure-foot-

ro-Graph for you. land, OH

It's your e to peoity will be se you'll

Bridges

end with disagree-narvest is n oppor-

rds in ar-

dues with o not be unable to Changes

enly turn

bstantial

n an im-consider be fair to the right

won't be greatest

Ive prob-

t. Before lents are friendly

may take

ay. There

e benefi-

ncourage

y on both

ed atten-

ollectively

Focus on orobabili-

f you at-

(1) If your lately, it

ep in and fective in

Wright

all can

Super Bowl XXIII: 49ers vs. Bengals

Montana, Rice tandem paces 49ers Cincinnati defense dominates Bills

NFC Championship per Bowl would allow him to

By DAVE GOLDBERG AP Football Writer

CHICAGO — Bill Walsh is right where he wants to be — in position, in what may be his final game as an NFL coach, to establish his San Francisco 49ers as the team of the 1980's.

The 49ers, who won NFL titles after the 1981 and 1984 seasons, rolled over the Chicago Bears 28-3 on Sunday, brushing aside the Windy City's frigid weather to qualify for the last Super Bowl of the decade, to be played in two weeks in Joe Robbie Stadium at Miami.

For Walsh, who has never lacked for ego, winning the Su-make his mark on NFL history. His third NFL title in three tries since 1981 would better Washington's two victories and a loss in Super Bowls this decade. It might also be Walsh's swan song. He has hinted more strongly than ever this season that it might be his last.

"At my age, you often look for new challenges," he said on his 57th birthday last November. On Sunday, he sounded like he had achieved

"We may be the team of the decade," he said. "At least one

The challenges Sunday were the Bears, the 30 mph wind and a wind-chill factor around 20 below. "Bearrrr Weather"

Jerry Rice (80) pulls down a 62-yard touchdown pass from Joe Montana as he eludes Chicago's Mike Richardson (27).

crowed the press box at Soldier field between warnings to the 64,830 fans to report to first aid stations at the first sign of frostbite

There was no frost biting the 49ers as Jerry Rice, Joe Montana and their teammates played like they they were back in the 60-degree temperatures of Candlestick Park.

Montana, who completed 17 of 27 passes for 288 yards, threw a 61-yard touchdown pass to Rice in the first quarter, hit him with a 27-yarder in the second and threw a 5yarder to tight end John Frank in the third. Rice finished with five catches for 133 yards.

The 49ers played the entire 60 minutes without a penalty, the first time that has happened since Pittsburgh did it in the 1975 Super Bowl, a span of 117 playoff games.

That left everybody on the 49ers paying tribute to each

"Bill prepared us very well, both mentally and physically," Montana said. "We came into this game fresh and ready to go."

'We certainly peaked at the right time," Walsh said. "Considering the conditions, this certainly was one of Joe Montana's finest games.'

For a while, it looked like just what everyone expected considering the conditions — a less-than-perfect defensive struggle for field position with short, line-drive punts and ground offense the order of the

But that changed suddenly with 3:18 left in the first period

On third down and nine at the San Francisco 39, Montana dropped back and threw the ball on the right sideline toward Rice, who had drawn single coverage from Mike Richardson. Rice leaped, caught the ball on the tip of his white gloves, and raced between Richardson and Todd Krumm to complete a 61-yard scoring play

"The wind was really taking the ball all day long," Rice said. "Joe told me before the play that the ball might not be right where I wanted it to be and I would have to make a play on it.

Meanwhile, the underrated San Francisco defense was playing like it was supposed to.

AFC Championship

By BARRY WILNER AP Sports Writer

CINCINNATI — Boomer was bound for a mountaintop, Sam thought he might be headed for the unemployment line and Ickey wasn't even a dancer yet.

That was a year ago, when the Cincinnati Bengals occupied the depths of the AFC. They had gone 4-11 and generally messed up their 1987 season with poor play and disastrous decisions.

Today, the Bengals are AFC champions and headed for the Super Bowl for the second time. They got there with a 21-10 victory over the Buffalo Bills built on staunch defense, strong special teams and the Ickey Express.

"It's been a great trip so far," quarterback Boomer Esiason said. "It's a great story, and it's an unfinished

The final chapter will be written in Miami Jan. 22 against the San Francisco 49ers, who won the NFC Championship 28-3 over Chicago on Sunday. The rematch of the 1982 Super Bowl is not quite what Esiason envisioned last January

"I'll tell you, a year ago I was on a plane heading for a mountain in Lake Tahoe," he said. "Now, we're on a plane heading for a beach down in Miami. It's just incredible the turnaround we've experienced."

The Bengals have made the second biggest improvement in one year in NFL history. Only the Oakland Raiders, who went from 1-13 in 1962 to 10-4 in 1963 beat it. And the Raiders didn't get near the championship.

Wyche wasn't sure he'd get near the field for the 1988 sea son. Several of last season's close defeats hinged on poor coaching decisions.

"I realized I might be relieved of the job, absolutely," said Wyche, who is finishing the final season of a five-year contract. "Was it destroying me? No. I had confidence in myself.'

"Paul Brown decided that continuity was the better option for 1988."

Another of the options Cincinnati used was grabbing Ickey Woods in last spring's draft. Although he led the nation in rushing at Nevada-Las Vegas, Woods didn't go until the 40th

"I was watching it on TV," Woods said of the draft. "I turned it off after the first round. I was disappointed."

And he was determined to prove that he should have been selected earlier. Fifteen touchdowns, 1,066 yards and a dance craze later, Woods helped his team to the AFC Central crown.

With a pair of 100-yard games and three more touchdowns in the playoffs, he has catapulted it to Miami.

"The Super Bowl in my first year." he said in the jubilant locker room.

Woods performed the Ickey Shuffle twice Sunday after 1yard scoring runs. This time, he and several teammates added a hip-gyrating, fingerpointing variation.

The 59,747 fans at the Jungle

- Riverfront Stadium - loved

While Ickey scored and danced, the Bengals' defense, which ranked just sixth in the AFC to Buffalo's first, was dominant. In the third quarter, the Bills lost 12 yards, and Buffalo gained just 181 net yards in the game, the fewest allowed by Cincinnati all year. The Bills were 0-for-10 on third downs

The Bills had plenty to think about, such as falling for a fake punt that keyed Cincinnati's 39-yard drive to the clinching touchdown, a personal foul penalty in the end zone against Derrick Burroughs near the end of the third period that got the cornerback ejected, and some poor decisions on special teams. There was also the inability of the offense to get untracked.

"The way they played today, they played like one of the top teams in the league," Bills guard Jim Ritcher said. "We Bengals' David Fulcher celebrates his fourthquarter interception in the Cincinnati endzone to stop the Bills' final offensive drive.

Hogs run Longhorns ragged, 99-92

SWC roundup

By DENNE H. FREEMAN AP Sports Writer

The Arkansas Razorbacks' basketball team is taking up right where the championship football team left off.

The Hogs gave coach Nolan Richardson his first victory in Austin in four attempts on Saturday with a 99-92 victory over Tom Penders' run-and-gun Texas Longhorns, who were run ragged by the deep Razorbacks.

Arkansas, which had downed Texas Tech earlier in the week, was tied atop the SWC ladder with the surprising Texas Christian Horned Frogs at 2-0.

TCU won twice on the road at Texas A&M and at Waco on Saturday night 66-53 in the new Ferrell Center.

In other games, Southern Methodist gave coach John Shumate a victory in his SWC opener with a hard-earned 77-69 triumph over Texas A&M; Rice beat Texas Tech 79-74 in overtime; and Houston beat Pan American 72-63 in non-conference action.

Houston and SMU are 1-0 followed by Rice and Texas 1-1 and Baylor, A&M and Tech, all 0-2.

For Richardson, it was only his eighth SWC road win in 25 games. The Hogs were so happy they dumped an ice bucket on him in the shower.

"We kept our poise down the stretch," Richardson said. "Everybody was so excited in our dressing room you would have thought we won the championship or something.'

What Arkansas did was beat Texas at its own game. Forced to play only seven players because of a knee injury suffered by Courtney Jeans, Texas led by 11 points early then faded in the second half as the Hogs cracked the 'Horns' press.

"We just couldn't rattle them in the second half," Penders said. 12,647 fans. "Arkansas has a deep team. They can go 10 players without a drop-off. I don't think we had a record for the worst shooting perconditioning problem. They just played well in the second half."

Freshman Lee Mayberry led Arkansas with 22 points before

Baylor hit only 3 of 20 shots in the first half to establish a school centage in 20 minutes, 15 percent. Rich Antee scored 20 points to pace the Frogs. Baylor coach Gene Iba said of Daryl Duncan (45) of Texas A&M beats Glen Puddy (52) and J.D. Green of SMU to a rebound Saturday night in Dallas.

"I did."

Antee: "He's 6-10 and weighs 240 pounds. Our freshman center (Joey Fatta) wasn't ready."

Donald Thompson, A&M's leading scorer, had 12 points before he fouled out with 13:19 left and SMU took advantage behind Kato Armstrong's game-high 25

SMU center Glenn Puddy had 17 points and 12 rebounds for the Mustangs before a crowd of 5,375

SMU coach John Shumate said he was a little worried at the end. He said "it was a great game. There is no question when we have to go to A&M it will be a heckuva game. We weathered the storm and pulled it out in the

"We played very well in the first half but Puddy lost his legs in the second half. He gave us a good half but got tired.'

A&M coach Shelby Metcalf said the Aggies couldn't find an answer to Puddy until he tired.

"Puddy hurt us bad in the first half," Metcalf said. "We couldn't handle him.

"We struggled but I thought our effort was good. I'm glad we don't play again until next Saturday because I'm looking at making some changes. Our comeback came from hustle.

The Aggies were 17 points down but cut the deficit to four points before losing.

Kenneth Rourke's 25 points led Rice in its overtime victory.

"It's our biggest win of the season," said Rice coach Scott Thompson. "We kept our poise when it got to the nitty gritty." Arkansas is back on the road again Wednesday night at TCU in a big early season showdown. In other games, Houston is at Texas Tech, SMU is at Baylor, and Texas is at Rice.

Pampa girls beat odds

Pampa's Lady Harvesters proved the "experts" wrong with Saturday night's 59-51 victory over Frenship.

"It was a big win. Frenship was one of those teams rated ahead of us in the pre-season picks and we came out and took control early in the game," said Pampa coach Albert Nichols.

Yolanda Brown and Nikki Ryan combined for 50 points as the Lady Harvesters led the entire game.

"Both Yolanda and Nikki were solid players for us inside the entire game," Nichols said. "Although she didn't score a point, I thought guard Christa West did a terrific job on Rosie Llanas. She was scoring about 20 points a game and Christa held her to just 13."

Brown, a 5-11 senior, led all scorers with 29 points while Ryan, a 5-9 freshman, contributed 21.

"We went man to man with them the entire game and never got behind," Nichols said. The Lady Harvesters are now 4-3 in District 1-4A play and have a chance to get back into the playoff race with a win over second-place Dumas Tuesday night.

Levelland remains in first place with a perfect 7-0 mark after a 55-33 win over Randall Friday night.

Nichols believes the Lady Harvesters have an excellent chance of upsetting the 6-1 De-

"Frenship played right with Dumas in a three-point loss and I feel like our girls can rise to the occasion," Nichols said. "It's going to be a big game for

"Dumas has a good threepoint shooter (Amy Jowell) who plays on the wing and a little point guard (Nicole Guidry) who pesters you all over the place. We're going to match up with them in a man-to-man and try to take it to them.' Gametime is 6:30 p.m. in McNeely Fieldhouse.

The Pampa Harvesters go into Tuesday night's 8 p.m. game against Dumas in McNeely Fieldhouse with a perfect 5-0 record in District

Frenship was Pampa's

latest victim as the Harvesters pulled away in the fourth quarter for a 70-58 win Saturday "It was a very hard-fought game," said Pampa coach Robert Hale. "Our team is playing hard and they're playing good. I want to urge our fans to keep giving us good support and wear their green and gold Tuesday night.

Pampa and Frenship were involved in a close game for three quarters with the Harvesters leading by only two points. Pampa owned a slim one-point lead (36-35) at halftime.

The fourth quarter, however, belonged to Pampa as the Harvesters outscored Frenship 21-11.

It was another strong team effort by the Harvesters as eight players made the scoring column.

Dustin Miller led Pampa in scoring with 21 points and also jerked down 15 rebounds. Mark Wood and Ryan Teague joined Miller in double figures with 15 and 10 points respectively.

Dumas was winless at 0-4 in district going into Friday night's game against Frenship.

Looking ahead, the Harvesters travel to Levelland Friday night and are back home against Borger next Tuesday night. Both those district games tip off at 8 p.m.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Home Sweet Home" is an adage the New York Knicks and the Los Angeles Lakers can really get

In the only NBA games Sunday, the Knicks walloped the Los Angeles Clippers 134-100 for their 11th straight victory at Madison Square Garden, while the Lakers pounded the San Antonio Spurs 126-96 at the Forum, where they are 13-0 and the only team still unbeaten at home this season.

New York, which now is 14-1 at home, with the one loss coming at the hands of the Lakers, had lost its previous two games.

'We have it in our mind that we don't want lose another game at home the rest of the year," Johnny Newman said.

Newman and Patrick Ewing led the Knicks with 26 points apiece, while Charles Oakley added 17 rebounds and 12 points.

The Knicks raised their overall record to 21-11, moving them 41/2 games in front of idle Philadelphia in the Atlantic Division, despite a road mark of only 7-10.

Newman, breaking out of an eight-game scoring slump, hit for 22 of his points in the Knicks' 80point second half as New York turned a six-point halftime lead into a blowout.

Quintin Dailey topped the Clippers with 26 points and Charles Smith added 15. The Clippers now have lost five straight games, five straight away from home, and are 2-18 on the road this

Lakers 126, Spurs 96

The Lakers, who also have struggled on the road this season - with a 9-11 record and seven straight losses — got 16 points, 17 assists and eight rebounds from Magic Johnson against the Spurs to keep their home record per-

The Lakers will carry a sevengame road losing streak — their longest since an eight-game slide in 1975 — to Sacramento Tuesday

"Somewhere, this has to stop," LA coach Pat Riley said of the road woes. "We've had some bad breaks on the road, but we don't want to have all that hanging over our heads when we go to Sacramento.

Byron Scott and Michael Cooper, starting in place of the injured James Worthy, added 17 points each as eight Lakers scored in double figures.

Willie Anderson led the Spurs with 19 points and Alvin Robertson had 16.

San Antonio rallied to within 60-54 at halftime, but the Lakers spurted away, building an 83-65 lead 71/2 minutes into the third period.

San Antonio Spurs' center Greg Anderson (33) lays the ball in as A.C. Green (left) and Kareem Abdul Jabbar of the Lakers look on.

Tyson prepares for next month's fight

AP Sports Writer

LAS VEGAS — Mike Tyson, a

"I'm just a normal guy," Tyson said. "I'm not a tryant. I just don't take garbage from who meets Britain's Frank Bruno on Feb. 25 in his first fight in eight months, portrayed himself in a weekend interview as a misunderstood fighter because of the intense spotlight on his life.

high-spirited, energetic and wild," he said. "I'm going to live the way I want to live anyway. I have to live my life. Once I start to change, that's the first sign of appeared to be well on his way to trimming down to his fighting weight of about 218 pounds as he met for about an hour Saturday with a handful of reporters in a Las Vegas Hilton hotel suite.

with his estranged manager, Bill Cayton, sat with his new "adviser," promoter Don King, and declared himself enthusiastic about

'When I have these long layoffs I get in trouble," said Tyson, whose last fight was a 91-second June. "After this fight, I'm going to continue fighting every eight weeks or so.

Tyson said he wanted to "tour the whole world, maybe go to Asia" in a series of fights he wants handled by King.

King was at Tyson's side throughout the session, but the heavyweight champion answered his own questions and seldom deferred to the promoter.

"Mike Tyson is the boss," King said. "Whatever Mike Tyson wants to do, I'll formulate it."

Tyson, who reportedly had ballooned to almost 260 pounds during his layoff, said he sparred Friday for the first time since beginning training shortly before Christmas, working a total of six rounds with two sparring part-

The heavyweight champion said he is down to 230 pounds and is pleased with his training, despite the absence of longtime trainer Kevin Rooney, who he fired after the Spinks fight.

"I did six rounds and wasn't tired at all," Tyson said. "I was impressed with myself after a seven-month layoff that it felt so good. My friend Frank Bruno is in real trouble.'

He said the split with Rooney was both a personal and financial decision, but one that will have little effect on his performance in tyrant inside the ring, insists he's not one outside of it.

By TIM DAHLBERG

anvone. The heavyweight champion,

"The way I am is the way I am,

Tyson was in good spirits and

Tyson, involved in a lawsuit knockout of Michael Spinks last game. Steve Smith had 18 points for Michigan State, 9-3. No. 4 Oklahoma 94, North Carolina-Charlotte 86

Oklahoma held off a late rally by North Carolina-Charlotte. Charlotte pulled within 78-75 with 5:18 left, but Wiley scored eight of Oklahoma's next 10 points as the Sooners widened their lead to 88-78.

Stacey King scored 25 points and Mookie Blaylock 24 for the Sooners, 12-1. Byron Dinkins led UNC-Charlotte with 33 points. No. 5 Georgetown 112, Miami, Alonzo Mourning scored 26 points as Georgetown rebounded from its only loss of the season.

town coach John Thompson said. "And anytime you're wounded. you get out there and get things going.'

Miami, which had won five in a row, is 9-5. No. 9 Iowa 98, No. 6 North Caroli-ma 97 Roy Marble hit a free throw with 11 seconds left, giving Iowa the one-point victory. But North Carolina's Steve Bucknall claimed Marble should not have been the one at the foul line.

"There was no doubt who I fouled, it was (Ed) Horton," Bucknall said. "But the referee came running out of nowhere and made the call.

line at that point, while Horton had missed two key free throws down the stretch.

Jones captures Tournament of Champions win

By BOB GREEN AP Golf Writer

CARLSBAD, Calif. — Steve Jones was careful to keep things in perspective after his front-running triumph in the Tournament of Champions.

"I'm not thinking I'm some kind of hero," the rangy, 6foot-4 Jones said Sunday. "I don't have the talent or the technique or the swing of a lot the guys out here. But sometimes I can persevere out of the bad times.

'Of course you want to win. But you don't win very often out here, so you have to take it with a grain of salt

Jones, 30, who qualified for this exclusive, winners-only tournament with his 1988 triumph in the Pebble Beach National Pro-Am, won the opener of the 1989 season by three strokes, closing with a 69 for a 279 total, nine under par at the La Costa Country Club. "Even when you're leading through three rounds you can't expect to win. If you do. well. you just have to shrug and say, 'OK, I won,' and go on to the next one. "To win out here, it has to be your day. This was my day,' said Jones, who collected $135,000 from a purse of $750,000.

It also provided a quick hit on two of his targets for the year and gave him a running start toward another major goal.

"It got me back in the Masters and the World Series (of Golf). I'm really thrilled about that," Jones said. "Now, my goal is to get in the Nabisco" tournament, the seasonending affair that takes only the top 30 money-winner for the year. Jones had a two-shot lead when the final round started and was never headed. He was in danger, however, after bogeys on the 15th and 16th holes cut the lead to one shot.

He wrapped it up, however, with a 25-foot birdie putt on the

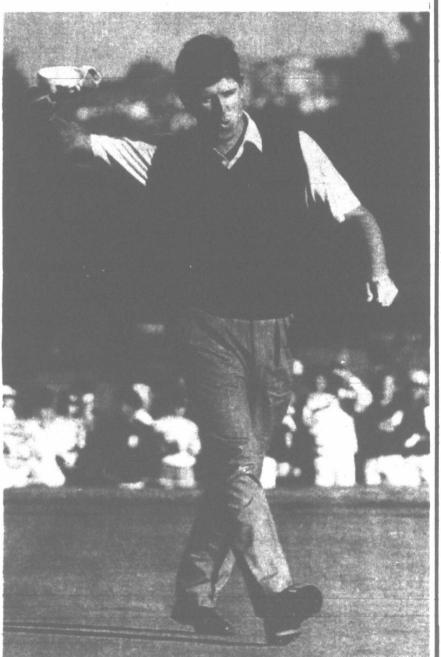

"That pretty much turned out the lights," said Jay Haas, who tied for second with South African David Frost at 282. Each had a closing 68, with Haas chipping in for birdies on both the 17th and 18th.

Australian Greg Norman, with a 68, was at 283 and Chip Beck followed at 284 after a 71.

In a separate, simultaneous competition for Seniors, Miller Barber scored a 1-shot victory over Dale Douglass by chipping in from 50 feet for a birdie on the final hole.

Barber matched par 72 over the final 18 holes and achieved his 25th Seniors' Tour victory with a 280 total. It was worth $50,000.

Douglass had a closing 67 and a 281 total.

AD cal Cer ing paj 14: est 974

Eve afte

Steve Jones of Phoenix, Arizona, swings his visor after sinking a putt to win the Tournament of Champions.

Andre Wiley scored 29 points as Schneider dominates rivals

By The Associated Press

Never in the 23-year history of the World Cup has a woman so dominated her rivals the way Switzerland's Vreni Schneider

Schneider has won the last eight events on the women's tour, a phenomenal streak that supplants anything a team, much less one individual, has ever accomplished. The great Austrian team of 1979 won eight consecutive events, but three racers shared those trophies. Schneider has done this all by herself.

And yet the 24-year-old queen of the mountain appears to be the most relaxed person around. 'Why should I get tense after so many wins?," Schneider said with considerable logic. "It's quite normal that I'm relaxed."

With the next race a downhill at Grindelwald, Schneider's streak appears to have ended. Although she is an excellent downhiller. she is by no means a dominant figure in that high-speed discipline, certainly not the unbeatable force she has become in slalom and giant slalom.

A double Olympic gold medalist at Calgary last year, she'll be a top-heavy favorite to repeat the sweep during the World Alpine Championships at Vail, Colo., later this month. She won the GS title in the 1987 World Championships at Crans-Montana, Switzerland.

"I'll go to Vail relaxed," Schneider said. "What I have won no one can take away from me. I am world champion and (double) Olympic champion."

By winning two giant slaloms and a slalom over the weekend, Schneider ran her victory string to eight, her season total to nine and her runaway lead in the overall standings to 232-118 over second-place Ulrike Maier of Austria.

With the overall, giant slalom and slalom season titles already virtually locked up, Schneider is on the verge of making history.

Only Annemarie Moser-Proell, the six-time overall champion from Austria, has won more than 10 victories in a season. Moser-Proell, who retired following the 1980 season with a record 62 victories in a 12-year career, won 11 times in 1973 and 10 times in 1975.

Schneider, a winner 22 times in 4½ seasons, has 16 events remaining this season in which to catch, and perhaps pass, Moser-Proell. With Saturday's victory at Schwarzenberg, Austria, Schneider increased her career victory total in giant slalom to 14. only two shy of Moser-Proell's record. The way she's skiing, Schneider might get that record

for a shot over New York Knick Johnny Newman. NBA standings

All Times CST EASTERN CONFERENCE

EASTERN CONFERENCE
Attentic Division
	W	B.	Pct.	GB
New York	21	11	.656	-
Philadelphia	16	15	.516	41/2
Boston	14	16	.467	6 :
New Jersey	13	19	.406	8 .
Weshington	9	21	.300	11
Charlotte	9	22	.290	111/2
Control	Divi	alan
Cleveland	24	5	.828
Detroit	21	9	.700	31/2
Attente	21	11	.656	41/4
Milwaukee	18	11	.421	6
Chicago	14	14	.533	81/2
Indiana	- 8	23	.258	17
WESTERN C
Aldwast
,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,	W	L	Pct.	GB
Denver	19	12	.613	-
Houston	19	12		_
Delles	17	12	.413
Utah	18	14	.586	1
San Antonio	10	-	.563	11/2
Allami		20	.333	81/2
	3	28	.097	16
Pacific I
L.A. Lakers	21	11	.456	_
Phoenix	20	11	.645	Vb
Seettle	17	12	.586	21/2
Portland	18	13	.581	21/2
Golden State	12	16	.429	7
L.A. Clippers	10	22	.313	11
Secremento	7	21	.250	12
Salvrday*	3 60	mes
Cleveland 104, Ne
Charlotte 187, Wa	ehin	pton	104	4
Affenta 103, New .			1	1
Indiana 113, Detro				1
Philadelphia 16, h Denver 115, Dalla	love	lon 9	5	- 1
Denver 115, Delle	694			1
Phoenix 167, Alter	mi 99	)
Seattle 129, Partic	yhd 1	23
Alifwaukse 197, Utah 69
San Antonio 104, Golden State 102
Sunday's Gemes
Late Game Hot Included
New York 134, L.A. Clippers 100
Sen Antonio at L.A. Lakers, (n)
Tedov's Gomes
L.A. Clippers.of Besten, 4:30 p.m.
Utah at Charlotte, 4:39 p.m.
Printengementals der Liegitussis, 77.der (b.111).
Claveland at $eptite, 9 p.m.
Phoenix of Goldon State, P: 30 p.m.
				2

NBA sums Knicks 134, Clippers 100 L.A. CLIPPERS (180): Hormon 2-18 0-1 4. Welf 5-12-2-2 12. Beniamin 4-7 1-3 12. Delfey 12-21-2-2 32. Great 5-11 4-6 14. Nits-on 2-4-6-6-4. Smith 5-10-5-6 15. Williams 2-7 4-4 15. Carriot 1-1-0-2. Papasan 6-0-0-6. Totals, dl-95 10-25 100.

Loyola posts record-shattering victory over U.S. International Louisville 81, DePaul 67; No. 14 them a 67-52 lead late in the

By MIKE HARRIS

Los Angeles Clipper Gary Grant, right, goes up

AP Sports Writer

Loyola Marymount coach Paul Westhead, who had just watched his team explode for 162 points, insisted on talking about defense. His team presented the former coach of the Los Angeles Lakers with a record-shattering 162-144 victory over U.S. International Saturday night, the total of 306 points breaking the NCAA record of 302 set in the Lions' seasonopening 164-138 victory over Azusa Pacific on Nov. 28.

'We are obviously capable of playing much better defense," Westhead understated.

The Lions led 93-68 at halftime. setting an NCAA mark for most points in a half. The previous record was 87, set by Oklahoma earlier this season in the second half of the Sooners' 152-122 victory over Oral Roberts.

U.S. International set a Division I record for most points by a losing team in regulation. The previous mark was 127 by Pepperdine against Loyola Marymount on Feb. 20, 1988

Hank Gathers, the NCAA's leading scorer, had 40 points and 23 rebounds for the Lions. Gary Williams had 40 points to lead the

In games Saturday involving Top 10 teams, it was No. 1 Duke 84, Virginia 76; No. 2 Syracuse 90, No. 10 Seton Hall 66; No. 3 Illinois 71. Michigan St. 54; No. 4 Oklahoma 94, North Carolina-Charlotte 86: No. 5 Georgetown 112, Miami, Fla., 79; No. 7 Michigan 94, Northwestern 66, and No. 8 Arizona 64, California 55. In the second 10, No. 11 Mis-

Ohio State 73, Wisconsin 70; No. 15 Florida State 104, Southern Mississippi 79; No. 16 North Carolina State 71, Temple 59; No. 17 Tennessee 86, Mississippi State 85; No. 18 Kansas 127, Iowa State 82; No. 19 Georgia Tech 84, Wake

Georgia 66 TOP TEN No. 1 Duke 84, Virginia 76 Danny Ferry scored 27 points

Forest 75, and Florida 80, No. 20 and freshman Christian Laettner had 15 as Duke rallied for its 13th straight victory over Virginia. The Cavaliers led 38-35 at halftime, but the Blue Devils took the lead for good, 53-50, on Laettner's three-point play. Virginia guard Richard Morgan scored 22 points in the first half, but was hampered by foul trouble in the second half and finished with 31 points. Duke improved to 11-0, while Virginia fell to 7-5. No. 2 Syracuse 90, No. 10 Seton Hall 66

Derrick Coleman scored 21 points and Sherman Douglas 20 as Syracuse handed Seton Hall its first loss of the season.

The Orangemen, who lost their first game Wednesday to Pittsburgh, rebounded impressively. They built a 30-point lead early in the second half and led by as mar, as 38 points late in the

Syracuse improved to 14-1 overall and 1-1 in the Big East. Seton Hall fell to 13-1 and 2-1. No. 3 Illinois 71, Michigan St. 54 Kendall Gill and Nick Anderson scored 21 points each, leading unbeaten Illinois in the Big Ten. The Illini, 13-0, put the game souri 84, Colorado 75; No. 13 away with a 12-2 run that gave

Fla. 79

"We were wounded," George-

Georgetown, which lost to Seton Hall Tuesday, is 10-1.

Marble was 8-for-8 from the

and sweet for the seller!

BUY SELL SAVE

in classified, because time is money!

XTERMINATOR

104 Lots

Classified: a quick in value!

WAIT A MINUTE!

NOW I'VE LOCATED

THE PROBLEM AREA!

Chaumont Addition Loop 171 North

FOR Sale in Memory Gardens. 4

Burial spaces. Section A. Lots 291-292. 5 spaces 5-6-7-8. Will fi-nance with reasonable down.

White Deer, Tx. 79097. P.O. Box 383. Phone 883-5471.

104a Acreage

1221. Coldwell Banker.

669-1221

9 ACRES FOR SALE

835-2210

FOR Sale or trade. Approximately 200 feet. Highway 60. 808 W. Brown. Dale Greenhouse 665-

NEEDED leaser for 3000 foot fully equipped restaurant. 779-

NEED INVESTMENT

INCOME?

ty, Milly Sanders 669-2671.

318-320 S. Cuyler. Contact Palo

Duro Savings and Loan in Amarillo. 374-9867. Financing

110 Out of Town Property

2-2 bedroom houses for sale on 6

lots. 713 N. Rowe, 717 N. Rowe.

GREENBELT LAKE

sunroom. Has all new paint, carpet and central heat. All on 2 lots. Owner moving. Low down and low payments. Must see.

First Landmark

665-0717

1600 N. Hobart

645-8237

645-4534

645-8244

665-2190

Guy Clements
Nine Speenmere
Irvine Elphahn GRI
Martin Elphahn
Mile Bingham
Rense Thernhill
Mad Massaces

359-4525

PAMPA NEWS 403 W. Atchison 669-2525

3 Personal

ıjor

[as-

(of out my co"

onmly

for ead

rted

was

ter

l6th

hot.

ver,

the ned

aas.

outh

282.

vith

son

lan.

Chip

a 71.

ous

iller

tory

hip-

rdie

ver

ved

tory

orth

g 67

rphoto

sor

of itana,

red,"

have from n and aloms

ekend

string

o nine

e over-

over

of Au-

lalom

ready

ider is itory.

Proell.

mpion

e than

Moser-

ng the

62 vic-won 11

n 1975.

mes in main-catch,

Proell.

ry at tria,

career 1 to 14,

ll's re-

kiing;

record

n."

MARY Kay Cosmetics, free facials. Supplies and deliveries. Call Dorothy Vaughn, 665-5117.

MARY KAY Cosmetics, free fa cials. Supplies, deliveries. Call Theda Wallin, 665-8336, 665-3830.

BEAUTICONTROL

Cosmetics and SkinCare. Free Color analysis, makeover and deliveries. Director, Lynn Allison. 669-3848, 1304 Christine.

FAMILY Violence - rape. Help for victims 24 hours a day. 669-1788. Tralee Crisis Center

TURNING POINT AA and Al Anon meets Tuesday and Saturday, 8 pm. 1600 W McCullough. 665-3317, 665-3192.

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS and Al Anon, 300 S. Cuyler, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday 8 p.m. Monday thru Saturday 12 noon. Call 665-9104.

5 Special Notices

CASH loan on guns, jewelry, VCR's, and more. AAA Pawn 512 S. Cuyler. 669-2990.

KIRBY Service Center. Repair, parts, supplies. New and used vacuums. 512 S. Cuyler, 669-

PAMPA Pawn phone 665-PAWN. Tuesday-Friday 2-6, Saturday, 10-2. Cash loans on

10 Lost and Found

anything

REWARD, Blonde, female, Cocker Spaniel. 669-7366 or 669

FOUND 1 green head mallard duck in the Pampa Mall parking

14 Business Services

lot. 665-2767.

ODOR BUSTERS

We remove any and all odors, auto, home, fire etc...no chemicals, no perfumes, quick and inexpensive. 665-0425, 669-3848.

RESUMES, Business Correspondence, Schoolpapers, Mailing Labels. Pick up, delivery. SOS ASSOCIATES, 883-2911, White Deer.

14b Appliance Repair

WASHERS, Dryers, dis-hwashers and range repair. Call Gary Stevens 669-7956.

RENT To RENT RENT To OWN

WE have Rental Furniture and Appliances to suit your needs.
Call for Estimate.
Johnson Home Furnishings 801 W. Francis

Do You Need Help

AT ODD HOURS? Call Williams Appliance, day or night, 665-8894.

14d Carpentry

Ralph Baxter Contractor & Builder Custom Homes or Remodeling 665-8248

ADDITIONS, Remodeling, new cabinets, old cabinets refaced. Ceramic tile, acoustical ceilings, panelling, painting, wallpaper, storage building, patios. 14 years local experience. Free estimates. Jerry Reagan, 669-9747. Karl Parks, 669-2648.

ADDITIONS, Remodeling, roofing, cabinets, painting and all types of repairs. No job too small. Mike Albus, 665-4774.

HOME Improvement Services Unlimited. Custom Cabinets. Remodeling. Additions. 665-

HOME repairs. Remodeling, roofing. Work guaranteed. References. Gary Winton. 669-6995.

REPAIRS, Remodeling, Additions, Painting, Redwood Decks, Patios, Concrete. David Bronner, 665-4218, 665-6064.

LAND Construction. Cabinets, bookcases, paneling, painting. Call Sandy Land, 665-6960.

OVERHEAD Door Repair. Kidwell Construction. 669-6347.

14e Carpet Service

NU-WAY Cleaning Service, Carpets, Upholstery, Walls. Quality doesn't cost..It pays! No steam used. Bob Marx owner. operator. 665-3541. Free esti-

"14h General Service

TREE trimming, shrub shaping, general hauling. Reasonable. 669-9993, 665-9292.

HANDY Jim general repair, painting, rototilling. Hauling, tree work, yard work. 665-4307.

TREE TRIMMING Evergreens specialty. Buster after 5, call 665-4550.

-14m Lawnmower Service

PAMPA Lawnmower Repair. Pick up and delivery service available. 501 S. Cuyler. 665-

LAWNMOWER and Chainsaw Service and Repair. Authorized dealer-all makes. Radcliff Electric, 519 S. Cuyler, 669-3395

14n Painting

HUNTER DECORATING 30 years Painting Pampa David Office Joe 985-2908 669-6854 669-7885

HOME Improvement Services Unlimited. Professional Painting. Acoustics. Texture. Stu Free estimates. 665-3111.

14n Painting

INTERIOR-exterior-staining mud work. James Bolin, 665

> Mud-Tape-Acoustic Painting, 665-8148 Stewart

CALDER Painting. Interior, exterior. Mud, tape, acoustic. 665-4840, 669-2215.

14q Ditching

DITCHING, 4 inch to 10 inch wide. Harold Baston, 665-5892. 14s Plumbing & Heating

BULLARD SERVICE CO. Plumbing Maintenance and Repair Specialists Free estimates, 665-8603

Builders Plumbing Supply 535 S. Cuyler 665-3711

LARRY BAKER PLUMBING Heating Air Conditioning

Borger Highway 665-4392 CHIEF Plastic Pipe & Supply, Inc. also sells steel pipe and fittings thru 2 inch. 1239 S. Barnes,

ELECTRIC sewer and sink line

cleaning. Reasonable. $30. 669-

SEWER line cleaning and odd jobs. Call 665-7735. 14t Radio and Television

DON'S T.V. SERVICE We service all brands

304 W. Foster 669-6481 Curtis Mathes Green Dot Movie Rentals $1.00 Everyday Color TV, VCRs, Stereos

2211 Perryton Pkwy., 665-0504 14v Sewing

QUILTING. First come, first served. 718 N. Banks, 669-7578. 14y Upholstery

SPECIAL on regluing 20% off for December. Call 665-8684.

19 Situations

TREE Trimming. Now is the time to remove, prune, or mani-cure your trees. Call Putman's Quality Services at 665-0107 or 665-2547 nights.

WILL do alterations in my home. 665-1011

21 Help Wanted

AVON

Pay those Christmas bills, sell Avon to help pay them off. Good earnings, flexible hours. Call

NOW taking applications for nurse aides, above minimum wage, good benefits. Apply at 1504 W. Kentucky, Coronado Nursing Contor.

Nursing Center. RELIABLE Licensed Nurse for

private practice. Local physician. Willing to train in specialized field. Send resume with salary expectations to Box 28, Pampa News, P.O. Drawer HARVIES Burgers and Shakes, 318 E. 17th Str., apply in person between 1-4 p.m.

HELP wanted Harvy Mart, 304 E. 17th. Apply in person.

CLERICAL-skilled in operating business machines. Payroll and computer experience neces-sary. Experienced in general office duties. Excellent com-pany with good benefits. Send typed resume to Box 29 % Pampa News, Drawer 2198, Pampa, Tx. 79066-2198.

PART time drivers and day prep person, must be 18 and have car and insurance. Apply 1500 N. Banks, Pizza Hut De-

WANTED Parts Counter Per-

son. Experience preferred.
Good salary plus benefits. Call Dave or Carolyn at Pampa Ford Lincoln Mercury, 665-8404 or apply in person at 701 W. Brown. GOVERNMENT Jobs! $18,037 to $69,405. Immediate hiring!

Your area. Call refundable 581-459-3611 extension F2090 for federal list 24 hours.

PARTS Manager needed for Ford Lincoln Mercury Dealership. Previous-experience necessary. Good salary and be-nefits. Call Dave or Carolyn at

30 Sewing Machines

WE service all makes and models of sewing machines and vacuum cleaners. Sanders Sewing Center 214 N. Cuyler 665-2363

50 Building Supplies

Houston Lymber Co. 420 W. Foster 689-6881

White House Lumber Co. 101 E. Ballard 669-3291 57 Good Things To Eat

HARVY Mart I, 304 E. 17th, 665-2911. Fresh, cooked Barbeque-boef, smoked meats, Meat Packs, Market sliced Lunch

BUGS BUNNY® by Warner Bros.

59 Guns

QUITTING the gun business! Some guns priced below cost. When these are gone there will be no more. Fred's Inc. 106 S. Cuyler. No phone.

60 Household Goods 2nd Time Around, 409 W. Brown

Furniture, appliances, tools, baby equipment, etc. Buy, sell, or trade, also bid on estate and moving sales. Call 665-5139. Owner Boydine Bossay

JOHNSON HOME FURNISHINGS

Pampa's Standard of excellence In Home Furnishings 801 W. Francis 665-3361 RENT TO RENT

RENT To OWN We have Rental Furniture and Appliances to suit your needs.
Call for Estimate. Johnson Home Furnishings 801 W. Francis 665-3361

SHOWCASE RENTALS Rent to own furnishings for your home. Rent by Phone 113 S. CUYLER 669-1234 No Credit Check. No deposit. Free delivery.

LIKE new, fully electric Hospit-al Bed and Good used Hollywood double bed, extra long. Call Newt Secrest 669-3206 office or

FOR sale sofa and chair (swivel rocker). 665-6604.

NEW stove and dryer for sale. Call 669-6724.

69 Miscellaneous

THE SUNSHINE FACTORY Tandy Leather Dealer Complete selection of leather-craft, craft supplies. 1313

CHIMNEY fire can be prevented. Queen Sweep Chimney

Cleaning. 665-4686 or 665-5364.

When you have tried every where - and can't find it - come see me, I probably got It! H.C. Eubanks Tool Rental. 1320 S

Barnes. Phone 665-3213. CHILDERS Brothers Floor Leveling. Do you have cracks in your walls, doors that won't close, uneven or shakey floors? Your foundation may need to be reserviced. For free estimates and inspection call 352-9563.

COTTONWOOD firewood, $40 a cord, in Wheeler. 806-826-5665.

Financing available

FIREWOOD, seasoned mes-

ANTIQUE brass fireplace insert with thermostat. $100. Wheeler 826-3348

SEASONED Oak firewood. 60% split. $155 cord, $80 half cord. 883-2151.

FOOSBALL table $50, infant dressing table $20. Call 665-4909.

FIREWOOD mesquite $120 a cord. Oak $140 a cord. 665-1179.

69a Garage Sales

GARAGE SALES LIST With The Classified Ads Must be paid in advance 669-2525

JANUARY Sale. J&J Flea Market, 123 N. Ward, Phone 665 3375. Open Saturday 9-5, Sunday 10-5. Fuller Brush Watkins Pro-

70 Musical Instruments

RENT TO OWN Your piano. Tarpley Music, 117 N. Cuyler, 665-1251.

75 Feeds and Seeds

WHEELER EVANS FEED We appreciate your business 665-5881, Highway 60 Kingsmill S&J Feeds, complete line of ACCO Feeds. 4 p.m. till ? 1448 S. Barrett 669-7915.

77 Livestock

CUSTOM Made Saddles. Good used saddles. Tack and accessories. Rocking Chair Saddle Shop, 115 S. Cuyler 665-6846.

FEATURED HOME Travis Bargain, Full brick, Large 3 hodroom,
Attached garage, New Dove
Grey interior point, New contrul best, New Grey Fermica Cabinet Top and Fescets,
New tob surround, Large letwith fesced back year. Recauthy reduced to $30,000.
Call Jill 669-1221, 6657007, Caldwell Bunker Acblas Basky.

YOUNG Bulls, pairs, springs, roping steers, ranch horses, milk cows. Shamrock, 256-3892.

77 Livestock

80 Pets and Supplies

CANINE and feline clipping and grooming, also boarding. Royse Animal Hospital, 665-3626.

PETS Unique 910 W. Kentucky. Miniature Schnauzers, critters and pet supplies. Iams dog food. Professional grooming includ-ing show conditioning. 665-5102. CANINE Grooming. New customers welcome. Red, brown Toy Poodle or Yorkshire Terrier stud service. Excellent pedigrees, 665-1230. FOR Sale. AKC Registered Toy Poodle puppies. Wormed and shots started. Call 665-1230.

AKC miniature Poodle puppies, 6 weeks old, wormed, shots started. Silver and party. After 12 noon. 669-6065.

FRANKIE'S Pet Service.

Obedience training, boarding, pick up available. 665-0300.

½ Cowdog, ½ German Shepherd puppies, free to good home. 835-2737. AUSTRALIAN red heeler puppies, 6 weeks old. Free to good home. 883-7461, 848-2589.

FREE to good home, full blood German Shepherd female 1 year

89 Wanted To Buy

old. 665-1153.

WANTED records, especially 1950's-60's albums. Big record sale. Bring to 112 W. Foster by Conev Island, 11-6 Monday through Saturday.

95 Furnished Apartments

HERITAGE APARTMENTS Furnished David or Joe 669-6854 or 669-7885

ALL bills paid including cable TV. Starting $60 week. Call 669-

ROOMS for gentleman, show ers, washer, dryer, clean, quiet. Davis Hotel, 116½ W. Foster $35 week and up

ing. No pets. 665-1875.

96 Unfurnished Apt. GWENDOLYN Plaza Apart-ments. 800 N. Nelson. Adult liv-

97 Furnished Houses

1 bedroom mobile home in White Deer. $200 plus deposit. 665-1193,

home, 3 miles from Cleanese.

98 Unfurnished Houses IN Lefors. 7 room house, 4 car garage, storm cellar, free standing wood burning heater.

Rent or owner finance sale. 665-bedroom furnished mobile

2 bedroom, $250 month. 3 bedroom, $700 month. 3 bedroom, 11/2 bath, $350 month Walter Shed, 665-3761.

3 bedroom with stove, refrigera-tor. $350 month, $200 deposit.

665-7007 after 6.

2 bedroom house, clean, good location, 883-2031.

99 Storage Buildings MINI STORAGE

You keep the key. 10x10 and 10x20 stalls. Call 669-2929. CONCRETE STORAGES Mini and Maxi Top O Texas Quick Lube Borger Highway 665-0950

TUMBLEWEED ACRES SELF STORAGE UNITS Various sizes 665-0079 665-0546

to work for you."

99 Storage Buildings

CHUCK'S SELF STORAGE 24 hour access. Security lights

Gikas.

Action Storage Corner Perry and Borger Highway. 10x16 and 10x24. No de posit. 669-1221, 665-3458.

many sizes. 665-1150 or 669-7705

321 N. Ballard St. 665-8207 or 665 2400 square feet. Retail. High traffic location for rent or lease. Will remodel. Reasonable rent. 112 W. Foster. Off street employee parking. See John or Ted 102 Business Rental Prop.

OFFICES for lease 119-121 E. Kingsmill. 665-0975.

103 Homes For Sale

105 Commercial Property PRICE T. SMITH, INC. LEE Way motorfreight building on 1/2 acre, reduced to $33,900. Su-665-5158 Custom Houses-Remodels Complete design service per buy! Jannie 665-3458, Coldwell Banker Action Realty,

Laramore Locksmithing Come by our new location 844 W. Foster or call 665-KEYS

3 bedroom, 14 baths, double garage. $50,900. Austin school. Super buy! Shed Realty, Marie, 665-3761, 665-4180.

BUY home at appraisal $62,000

3 years old, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths 1613 N. Christy. 665-1176. PamTex building that will produce immediate income. MLS FOR sale in Lefors, 3 bedroom brick, 2 full baths, living room, 817.
large den with fireplace, car- 1111 W. WILKS - 120 foot on large den with fireplace, carpeted, central heat, air, storm windows and doors, laundry room, kitchen built-ins, double car garage with automatic opener, 2 large storage buildings. Swimming pool, water well. Priced at $50,000. Call 835-

2944 for appointment. 2407 Fir, 3 bedroom, 2 baths, for Sale Commercial building fireplace, double garage. 669-318-320 S. Cuyler. Contact Pale

Small equity and assume pay ments. Call after 6 p.m. 665-1311

2 bedroom, 1 bath house for sale, available, $14,000.

Lefors. Low $20's. 835-2210. 3 bedroom, 1¼ and ½ bath, good location, recently remodeled, approximately 2700 square feet. Low $60's. Call after 4 p.m. 665-Pretty trees surrounding the 2 bedroom brick with huge open living, kitchen, dining-separate

3 bedroom, 2 bath house in

3 bedroom, could be 4, nice carpet, storm fence. New plumbing, water line, sewer line, 30x36 foot garage or workshop built on back. 1120 Sierra. 669-3669.

WOULD like to sell or trade 2 bedroom, 1 bath home for something of equal value. 669-9271.

FOR sale by owner, roomy 3 bedroom, 2 bath, den with fire-place, dining room, knotty pine cabinets in large kitchen, central heat, air. $28,000. 324 N. Dwight, 669-6582.

bath home, gameroom, 2 living areas, double fireplace, large utility room, sprinkler system, near schools in Amarillo for smaller house in Pampa. 355-WHITE Deer, 5 acres, completely remodeled large 2 bedroom home. City utilities, 2 barns, many amenities, 806-883-

WOULD like to trade newly re-redecorated 3 bedroom, 2½

3651 after 6 p.m.

Royse Estates
10 Percent Financing available 1-2 acre home building sites; utilities now in place Jim Royse, 665-3607 or 665-2255. MOBILE Home Spaces for rent. Quiet, clean. Very reasonable. 665-2341, extension 44-or 47.

FRASHIER Acres East-1 or more acres. Paved street, utili ties. Balch Real Estate 665-8075

LARGE mobile home lot, $1000

down, owner carry. Privacy fence, sidewalk, porch. Shed Realty, Marie 665-3761, 665-4180.

cordinerr BANKER

ACTION REALTY

2313 COMANCHE - Spiff) 3-114-2 with large screened sun porch. Lovely back-yard. Recent exterior paint. Gas grill, fireplace in family room. Real wood paneling, wainscot and cabinets. Perfect for young family, MLS 944. Call Gene 665-3456.

649-1221 -251-1663 Eut. 665

114 Recreational Vehicles 120 Autos For Sale

BILLS CUSTOM CAMPERS Toppers, Honey motorhomes, trailers, parts, accessories. 665-4315, 930 S. Hobart.

SUPERIOR RV CENTER 1019 ALCOCK WE WANT TO SERVE YOU!"

Largest stock of parts and 32 foot 5th wheel travel trailer Lots of extras. Call 665-2169.

FOR Sale. 8x40 Mayflower travel trailer. Call 669-6227.

114a Trailer Parks

2100 Montague FHA Approved 669-6649, 665-6653. TUMBLEWEED ACRES

RED DEER VILLA

Free First Months Rent

Storm shelters, 50x130, fenced lots and storage units available. 10 acre tracts, very close to town. Call 665-8525. 865-0079, 665-0546. PRICE reduced 10 acres and FHA approved mobile home spaces in White Deer. $60 in home, 4 miles from Pampa, $49,500. Roberta, 665-6158, 669cludes water. 665-1193, 883-2015.

CAMPER and mobile home lots

Country Living Estate, 4 miles west on Highway 152, ½ mile

north. 665-2736 114b Mobile Homes

$179 per month for a new 3 bedroom, 2 bath home fully furnished. Free delivery to your location, 240 months at 13,75 APR with $1386 down. Ask for Art 806-376-5630 or 1-800-666-fireplace, island range, composition roof, and air conditioner. Free delivery and set up. Call 806-376-5365 or 1-800-666-2164. NO down payment, 3 bedroom, 2 bath double wide, composition roof, fireplace. Free delivery

NO down payment, buys a 4 bed-room, 2 bath double wide, with and set up. $299 per month at 240 months, at 13.75 APR. Ask for Here's 25 storage units, all in a Lee 806-376-5363 or 1-800-666

> Norma Ward REALTY 669-3346

O.G. Trimble GRI ...

Judy Taylor

CULBERSON-STOWERS INC. Chevrolet-Pontiac-Buick-GMC and Toyota 805 N. Hobart 665-1665

PANHANDLE MOTOR CO. 865 W. Foster 669-9961

BILL ALLISON AUTO SALES

Late Model Used Cars 200 N. Hobart 665-3992 1200 N. Hobart Marcum Chrysler-Dodge We want to service your Chrysler, Plymouth, Dodge 833 W. Foster, 665-6544

KNOWLES OLDSMOBILE CADILLAC

124 N. Ballard 1984 Cutlass Supreme. Can be seen in Pampa. Will consider

1979 Impala stationwagon. $1300 or best offer. See at 505 N.

trade. $3,800. 1-826-3348

Dwight 122 Motorcycles

FOR sale 1986 Suzuki 230 cc quad sport. Call 665-0352.

OGDEN & SON Expert Electronic wheel balancing. 501 W. Foster, 665-

124 Tires & Accessories

125 Boats & Accessories

OGDEN & SON

501 W. Foster 665-8444 Parker Boats & Motors 301 S. Cuyler, Pampa 669-1122, 5909 Canyon Dr., Amarillo 359-9097. MerCruiser Stern Drive

445-8752

.883-4122

.665-7197

.445-3290

445-3296

.665-2039

669-2214 669-1723 665-3667 665-7650

665-3667

665-1449

Jan. 9, 1989

Dealer

Katlo Sharp Audrey Alexander Milly Sanders BICR Leveno Faris Mario Bastham Brando Willinson 669-6500 Dr. M.W. (BIII) Hor Melba Meagrere Daris Babbins BICR Date Babbins Liftin Brainard . . . 445-1593 669-7555 445-0119 669-3222 Junio Shed, Broker GRI, CRB, ARA . Walter Shed Broker 645-5977 Norma Ward, GRI, Broker

'Selling Pampa Since 1952'

665-5919

.669-7790

669-6284

449-7790

669-6240

669-3623

.665-3687

General

Bill Cox.

Lois Strate Bir.
Boula Cox Bir.
MARILYN KEAGY GRI, CRS

Special

STATEMENT FOR PUBLICATION

Rue Park G.R.I.

Bill Stephens
Evelyn Richardson Offi
Mary Etta Smith
Dobbie Middleton
JJDI EDWARDS Offi, CRS

Bobbio Sue Step

Darrol Sahorn

LEFORS INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT SUMMARY OF REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES

YEAR ENDED AUGUST 31, 1988

	Generar	Special
f and	Operating	Revenue
1	Fund	Fund	Total
/()
REVENUES
Local	$1,138,670	$	$1,138,670
State Program Revenues	72,029		72,029
Federal Program Revenues	15,099	12,853	27,952
,
Total Revenues	1,225,798	12,853	1,236,651
EXPENDITURES
Instruction	542,838	5,490	548,328
Instructional Resources and Media Services	18,064	59	18,123
School Administration	57,895		57,895
Curriculum and Personnel Development	3,033		3,033
Guidance and Counseling Services	6.180		6,180
Health Services	4,577		4.577
Pupil Transportation - Regular	27,147		27,147
Pupil Transportation - Exceptional
Children	57	1.000	1.057
Co-curricular Activities	41.539		41,539
Food Services	43.887		43.887
General Administration	161,469		161,469
Plant Maintenance and Operations	232,752	6.575	239,327
Computer Processing	500	0,515	500
Computer Frocessing			300
Total Expenditures	1,139,938	13,124	1,153,062
			mornish ramatal about a
REVENUES IN EXCESS OF EXPENDITURES	85,860	(271)	85,589
FUND BALANCE, SEPTEMBER 1, 1987	432,894		432,894
h + 5 2-1
FUND BALANCE, AUGUST 31, 1988	$ 518,754	$ (271)	$ 518,483
*

for opening session of state Legislature

By SCOTT ROTHSCHILD Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — When the state House and Senate open for business at noon Tuesday, another group that works hard to influence the outcome of legislation will be waiting in the Capitol wings — the lobby.

More than 500 paid lobbyists have registered with the secretary of state's office in advance of this year's 71st regular session, making up what often is referred to as the Legislature's "Third House."

That number means there will be at least three lobbyists for every member of the House and Senate, and the lobbyists' numbers are likely to grow as the 140-day session unfolds.

The lobbyists registered so far represent more than 1,000 special interests, ranging

The lobbyists represent more than 1,000 special interests. ranging from Baptists to bankers. architects to tobacco producers.

from Baptists to bankers, architects to tobacco producers

And they usually are backed by big bucks from political action committees.

Lobbyists try to influence lawmakers to support the interests of their clients.

They hang around the corridors of the Capitol and sit in on committee meetings. They provide legislators with information about bills and proposals.

After hours, lobbyists, many of whom represent more than one client, wine and dine lawmakers. They also arrange paid trips, often hunting and fishing excursions or golfing outings at swank Austin-area country clubs.

Lobbyists are not allowed on the floor of the House and Senate when those bodies are in session. But they stand just outside the doors on alert terests. The lobbyists can pass messages into legislators on the floor, ask them to come out, or confer with aides.

ready to protect their in-

The impending legislative fight over workers' compensation will feature an army of high-powered lobbyists representing business, insurance, doctors, trial lawyers and labor

When an issue nears boiling, lobbyists rally supporters to contact their legislators.

Don Adams, considered one of the consumate lobbyists in Austin, said he has seen the business grow in recent years.

"In the last four or five years, lobbying entertainment has escalated a lot," Adams said. "A lot of other people are doing it so you almost have to keep up with what they are doing.

But Adams said he doesn't believe lawmakers are influenced by the free trips and free dinners, and there are certain ethical standards lobbyists should maintain.

"I tell people who work for me I don't want you lobbying in bars," Adams said.

Above all, he said, lobbyists must provide legislators with the facts. "That's the quickest way in the world to get out of this business — to misrepresent things."

The extent of lobbyists' influence over the Texas Legislature concerns some groups.

"Lobbying is a legitimate function in the political process. Our concern is the role of how money seems to affect politics and who has the power." said Pam Fridrich, executive director of Common Cause, a citizens' lobby.

"I can't say they (lobbyists) have too much power, but we've been concerned about money and how it allows access," she said.

'Third House' ready Long-term AIDS survivors defying odds

By BRENDA C. COLEMAN Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Mike has lived twice as long as might have been expected when doctors diagnosed his AIDS. Dan Turner and Cristofer Shihar had one chance in five of

They don't know why they've survived what has been a death sentence for more than 45,000 Americans, but say it may be a matter

"A lot of people don't die of the disease, they die because they give up," said Mike, a 34-year-old Chicagoan who was diagnosed with acquired immune deficiency syndrome in January 1984. He asked that his last name be withheld.

According to Judith Wiker, a Chicago holistic therapist who says she has counseled hundreds of clients with AIDS or AIDS-related problems, Mike is one of many people with the disease who are well enough to feel and act normal.

Scientists are trying to determine just why some people have survived as long as 10 years with AIDS. The federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta is studying 119 people known to have lived with it for three or more

"Is the virus somehow different?" asks Ann M. Hardy, a CDC epidemiologist now at the National Center for Health Statistics in Hyattsville, Md. "Is it something in their immune system?

Does survival time hinge on the mildness or severity of the infections that attack people with AIDS? Or could the key really be a "lifestyle-psychosocial type of thing" — a positive attitude and emotional support? All of these possibilities are now being studied, either by the CDC or in studies funded by the National Institutes of Health. For the purposes of the CDC's 2-year-old study, long-term survivors were defined as people who lived at least three years after being diagnosed.

Unlike the estimated hundreds of thousands of Americans who are infected with the AIDS virus but do not have symptoms, long-term AIDS survivors actually have battled one or more ailments that define AIDS — including Kaposi's sarcoma, pneumonia, damaged immune systems and severe weight loss.

Most are white homosexual men in their 30s whose main or only symptom is Kaposi's, the skin cancer that was rare before AIDS became an epidemic.

For Mike, an accountant, three years of chemotherapy kept the skin sores of Kaposi's sarcoma at bay. He then began treatment with the drug AZT, now called zidovudine. which prolongs the lives of many with AIDS. Mike said his only current health problem is mild leg pain. Turner, 42, of San Francisco, was diagnosed with Kaposi's in February 1982, before most Americans — including doctors had heard of AIDS. "I do believe one can live with AIDS and strike up a bargain and coexist with the virus, as we do with other viruses," he said.

He underwent chemotherapy, a year of acupuncture, took megadoses of Vitamin C for a while, has taken zidovudine intermittently since early 1988 and still gets alphainterferon, a genetically engineered anticancer drug.

Shihar, 38, of Los Angeles, was diagnosed with Kaposi's in November 1982.

"I would love to say it was all very spiritual, but I was in remission before I became spiritual," said Shihar, who works for Northern Lights Alternatives, a New York-based education and support organization for people with AIDS. "I think the one thing I hear from people I know who have survived is they're real stubborn."

Regardless of psychological factors, survival prospects continually improve in newly diagnosed AIDS cases, thanks to drug treatments such as zidovudine and an aerosol form of pentamidine, a medication that fights the rare type of pneumonia that has been highly fatal to AIDS patients.

As recently as two years ago, 80 percent of people with AIDS were expected to die within 24 months, but that has changed dramatically, said Dr. Nathaniel Pier, a New York City physician with a large number of AIDS pa-

The CDC says it can't currently estimate AIDS victims' average survival.

"As of November 1988, we can assist somebody to stay alive and healthy for two years, with the current therapy," Piers said. "And a great deal may occur in two years. We've seen an enormous change from 1986 to 1988.'

Western swing to continue at inaugural bash

By WENDY E. LANE Associated Press Writer

BIG SPRING (AP) — The posh, chandelier-hung ballroom of the Washington Hilton is a long way from the rodeo arenas and VFW halls where Jody Nix is used to fiddling.

But that's just fine with him. Nix and his band, the Texas Cowboys, are heading east to the big time, the Texas State Society Inaugural Ball in Washington, where the dress code calls for tuxedoes with Western boots and the door prizes include a pickup truck with gun rack.

"We plan to hit 'em with something they'll really dance to and keep the flow going," Nix said of his band's plans for the bash, to be attended by the new president.

The Jan. 21 event is one of the Capital's hottest tickets among the host of balls, parties and receptions surrounding George Bush's Jan. 20 inauguration.

The $50 tickets sold out in less than 12 hours and almost 2,000 people are on a waiting list, said Lois Auer, a spokesman for U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, president of the society.

Nix won his invitation to Washington after Stenholm heard the band play at the Stamford Texas Cowboy Reunion

When the 5,500 guests in Washington take to the floor and two-step to the sound of the Texas Cowboys, they will be hearing the legacy of a West Texas musical tradition that spans four decades.

Nix, 36, is the son of Hoyle Nix, leader of the West Texas Cowboys and close associate of renowned fiddler Bob Wills, the man who made the swing tune "San Antonio Rose" famous.

"When my dad was a very young man, Bob Wills was just getting started and was the rage like Randy Travis or George Strait is today," said the younger Nix. "He was a big influence on my father, who copied his fiddle playing and the way he ran his band.

Wills, the front man for the Texas Playboys, and Hoyle Nix met in the 1950s. Over the next 20 years, until Wills' death, the two bandleaders played together at rodeos and dance halls throughout West Texas.

Spending his early years traveling with his father's band laid a strong musical foundation for Nix, who began playing the drums at age 2. By the time he was 8, he was a bona fide member of the West Texas Cowboys, backing his father's fiddling on the drums.

Later he learned to play the fiddle and sang for his dad's band. "Dad would call me up to show me off or when he wanted to rest," said Nix, who although left-handed plays a right-handed fiddle.

"I played fiddle off and on some but never played it full time until my dad passed away, and then I had to come to the front and start running things," Nix said.

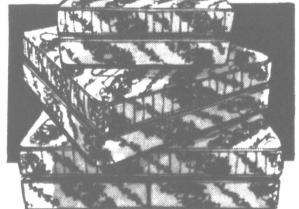

Hoyle Nix died in 1985, and since then his son has carried on with his own six-member band, based in Big Spring.

Backing Nix, who plays the fiddle and sings, are Ricky Boen of Odessa on the fiddle and mandolin, Rick Johnson on steel guitar, Neal Goates on drums and Tommy Harvell of Blackwell on Nix says the traditional element of his work helps keep him going, and the ties to Wills and his father remain strong. Nix played on Wills' last album in 1973 and returns each year to the fiddler's hometown of Turkey to play with the remaining members of the Texas Playboys at the annual Bob Wills' Day celebration.

And the Texas Cowboys sing a song, written by Johnson, about Nix's musical legacy, called "Carrying on the Show."

Twin Full

Retail $149.50 Retail $219.50 Retail $499.50 Retail $399.50

$79 ea. pc. $129 ea. pc. $299 set $399 set

Iron & Brass Daybed

$388

Lane Cedar Chest-Cherry Wood with Padded top in green and mauve floral-Put this at the foot of any bed in the house Retail $349..... $188 Virginia House Oak Dining Table with carved ball and claw legs-Four side chairs, 2 leaves, perfect for the kitchen Retail $1195 .....

Mayo Sofa-Traditional styled frame with a plush woven cover of wine, blue and eggshell colors. This won't last long

Retail $799.....

Morganton Occasional Chair-Woodtrimmed design with wicker sides-Beige velvet seat cover-Perfect for any room

Retail $179.....

Conveniently Located in Dowtown Pampa

9:00-5:30 Mon.-Sat.