

Complex, Sensitive Investigations Not New To Archibald Cox

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Complex and sensitive investigations are nothing new to Archibald Cox, the Harvard Law School professor chosen Friday as the special Watergate prosecutor.

In the fall of 1969, the governing body at Harvard delegated complete authority to Cox to call the shots for the administration during nearly two years of intermittent student disturbances.

Cox, who served during the Kennedy-Johnson administrations as solicitor general in the Justice Department, also undertook a job as the unpaid special counsel to a Massachusetts legislative committee in late 1971.

State Rep. Cornelius F. Kieran, the man who chaired the committee, said Friday that the legislators' confidence in Cox was justified "in every way."

Elliot Richardson, a former Massachusetts attorney general, said he was a student under Cox at Harvard, said he "was very happy to endorse him both professionally and personally." Quinn termed Cox "one of the outstanding legal minds in the country."

During World War II, Cox filled various federal offices, then served as chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board under President Truman.

He joined the Harvard law faculty in 1945, but left in 1961 to become solicitor general under President Kennedy. He returned here in 1965.

"I guess I'd better not comment on that," she said. "I just know he's a good man."

Four Hijackers Take Airliner To Havana

MERIDA, Mexico (AP) — A commandeered Venezuelan airliner refueled here Saturday afternoon on a forced 24-hour tour of Latin American airports and flew to Cuba with four hijackers and 38 hostages aboard.

In Mexico City, the airport said it had word that the plane landed Saturday evening in Havana. Venezuela had refused the hijackers' demand of freedom for 79 "political prisoners."

There was no immediate word of what happened after the Havana landing. The hijackers had told newsmen in Merida they would free the passengers and crew in the Cuban capital, then blow up the plane.

The four leftist hijackers came off the plane in Merida to talk with newsmen. They invited an Associated Press photographer aboard to confirm that the 32 passengers, five crewmen and a Mexican government official were not hurt.

The four terrorists, three young men and a young woman, earlier had threatened to blow up the Convair turboprop plane and the Venezuelan passengers unless Venezuela freed 79 imprisoned revolutionaries.

Watergate Questioning May Become Explosive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's Watergate probe is expected to pursue a potentially explosive line of questioning into political use of official police intelligence information when televised hearings resume later this week.

That the Senate Watergate committee will call for testimony from Robert C. Mardian, former head of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division and later an official of the Nixon campaign, Mardian hasn't yet been added to the official witness list.

including former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans, finance committee treasurer Hugh Sloan, finance committee counsel G. Gordon Liddy and administrative officer Robert C. Odle.

The passengers have nothing against us and we have nothing against them," one of the hijackers said through an interpreter. "The airplane is Venezuelan government property so we will blow it up when we get to Havana."

The plane arrived in Mexico City on Saturday morning after earlier stops in Curacao, Panama and Merida.

Questioning will bore in on whether government wiretap information found its way into the hands of the Nixon re-election campaign.

When hearings resume Tuesday morning, Watergate conspirator James W. McCord will again take the stand. He testified Friday that he had repeatedly been offered executive clemency by a former White House aide who told him President Nixon knew of the offer.

They were kept informed, McCord said, of "forthcoming demonstrations in the Washington area." a McGovern campaign committee's purported funding of Vietnam Veterans Against the War, a call "dealing with the bombing of the Pentagon" and unspecified other intelligence.

Urethane insulating, overheated by temperatures of up to 110 degrees in the space station, is thought to be giving off potentially lethal gases such as carbon monoxide, formaldehyde and toluenodisocyanate — TDI — officials said.

Dr. Royce Hawkins, director of life sciences at the Johnson Space Center, said the TDI gas is causing the most worry because it can kill at very low concentrations.

One source said it is likely that the Senate Watergate committee will call for testimony from Robert C. Mardian, former head of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division and later an official of the Nixon campaign, Mardian hasn't yet been added to the official witness list.

This confirmed testimony McCord had given earlier in a civil lawsuit.

McCord testified the information was provided by John Martin, chief of the analysis and evaluation section, and Martin's deputy, Joel Lisker. It contained government intelligence regarding political and nonpolitical individuals and groups that the men thought he "ought to be aware of," McCord said.

The witness said he put the information in memoranda that were distributed to "about six of the senior staff members" of the Nixon re-election campaign.

Skylab 1 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz are scheduled for launching at 9 a.m. EDT Friday and to board Skylab next Saturday or Sunday if they can install a sun shade to cool off the space station.

Legislature Passes Bill To Open Government Files

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A bill opening most state and local government files to newsmen and all other citizens was passed by the legislature Saturday. It now goes to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

House members completed legislative action by voting to accept Senate amendments which Speaker Price Daniel Jr. said improved the bill.

It is the fourth in Daniel's nine measure "reform" program to go to the governor.

There are 14 specific categories of records which would not be open, including documents made confidential by law, such as corporate franchise tax reports, personnel files that would involve a "clearly unwarranted invasion of personal privacy," information that would give advantages to competitors or bidders, criminal investigation files, trade secrets, certain private correspondence of elected officials.

and reports by bank examiners.

When there is a dispute over whether a document falls within one of the exemptions, the state attorney general would be the referee.

The cost of getting a state agency to copy a document would be cut from the present $1 a page to a price that would not "be excessive." The State Board of Control would publicize actual reproduction costs periodically as a guideline.

Making confidential information public would be punishable by up to six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

Daniel complimented the Senate and its leadership "for helping to improve the House version of the bill," which didn't contain as many exemptions.

Four new city image signboards will be erected on highways leading into the city by the Tourist Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, according to Warren Mayo, chairman.

Approximately $3,000 is needed to finance the construction, erection, and painting involved in the four new boards. A campaign is now being conducted by the committee to fund the program.

Mayo said the signs are designed to impress tourists driving through the city with the fact that Pampa is a thriving and prosperous community.

The last surviving signer of the U.S. Constitution was James Madison.

Cates Votes Against Bill
Rep. Phil Cates of Pampa voted against the bill to reduce penalties for possession of marijuana that passed the House 97-38 this past week.
Rep. Cates said he opposed the measure because it could possibly put some dope pushers out of prison and back on the streets.
He said that, under the measure, approximately 700 persons now serving time for this offense must be re-sentenced at high cost to the state. Others will be qualified for release.
Cates said a number of these who were sentenced for simple possession of marijuana were believed actually to be pushers.

Celanese Plant Honored For Record Of Safety

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The safe operations of the Pampa plant of the Celanese Chemical Co. were recognized by the National Petroleum Refiners Association during the trade group's 71st annual meeting in San Antonio last month.

At the association's annual membership luncheon on April 3, NPRA President Allan V. Hoffman presented an NPRA safety plaque to Celanese in recognition of the exceptional record of safe operations at the company's Pampa plant. In making the presentation, the president of NPRA cited the local plant for operating 365 consecutive days without a disabling injury.

Recipients of NPRA safety plaques included 25 additional refineries and petrochemical plants who operated 365 consecutive days without a disabling injury. Eleven plants received NPRA safety awards for operating one million or more man-hours without a disabling injury. Fifteen refineries and chemical plants were recognized for operating two or more years without a disabling injury.

The presentation of the association is part of a comprehensive program which the NPRA's Fire & Accident Committee has developed to promote accident prevention in the refining and petrochemical industry and to publicly recognize the excellent record of safe operations which the industry has compiled.

Founded in 1902, the National Petroleum Refiners Association is the oldest organization of its type in the refining industry and, with a nationwide membership of 121 small and large refining and petrochemical companies, the largest.

Youth Have Opportunity For Studying Overseas

While some students are trying to decide how they will spend their summer, almost 2,000 teenagers are eagerly preparing to spend their vacation as young ambassadors overseas.

These are participants on the Youth for Understanding International Teenage Exchange Program. They will travel to Europe, South America, Mexico, Japan or the Philippines to spend the summer or a year as a member of a foreign family.

Youth for Understanding is a non-profit organization cooperating with the U.S. Department of State and offers an international family living experience to American students, as well as to teenagers from 30 nations who come to the United States for six months or one year.

Since it was founded by Dr. Rachel J. Andresen in 1959 when German and Austrian teenagers were brought here to observe and participate in American family life after the Second World War, YFU has exchanged more than 35,000 teenagers between the U.S. and other countries.

Founded on the concept that world peace and understanding are best learned by living as a member of a family overseas, YFU emphasizes the importance of the family living experience. All American participants live with families screened and selected by YFU committees abroad. Year participants also attend a high school overseas.

American students are selected by the international headquarters in Ann Arbor, Michigan, on the bases of community, school, and personal recommendations as well as grades.

James Aneff, Southwest Regional Director, announces that application may still be considered for the summer or year. Any interested students should write to him immediately at 3301-Curry Lane, Abilene, Tex. 79605.

New Mexico Plans Square Dance Festival

RED RIVER, N.M. — The sounds of square dance music will resound against the fabled Sangre de Cristo Mountains of Northern New Mexico on May 25 and 26 when the Spring Square Dance Festival is held in Red River.

Although the event has only been planned for a short time, square dancers from throughout the Southwest and Midwest have made reservations to attend.

The first annual Spring Square Dance Festival is being held in their honor and another one is planned for the fall.

Callers for the Spring Festival are Don Ashworth of Enid, Okla. and Bailey Campbell of Plano, Tex. Both are well known throughout this part of the country.

Dances will be held both Friday and Saturday nights and the two callers will alternate each evening, according to Pat Lamb, Red River town councilman and organizer of the festivals.

Further information and reservations can be had by calling the Red River Chamber of Commerce — AC 505-754-2277 or writing to P.O. Box 267, Red River, New Mexico 87558.

Perrone's appearance in Borger Tuesday night will mark one of the visits he is making to the 107 Realtor Boards in Texas according to Edward W. Turner, president of the Borger board.

State Files Suit Against Exxon Firm

ATLANTA, Tex. (AP) — Attorney General Bill French filed Friday a suit against Exxon, formerly Esso, to recover the $1.5 billion value for gas produced in fields leased from the company.

The suit seeks not less than $1.5 billion.

Exxon was singled out because it holds more state leases than any other company.

The suit seeks release of the state's gas, which the state says is not being produced and sold as agreed upon in the leases.

The suit also seeks various other remedies, including the ceasing of production by the Federal Power Commission, prices of gas to be set at 20 cents per cubic foot, while the market price is estimated at 45 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

What Are Workings Of Gold Marketplace?

NEW YORK (AP) — World-wide attention turned this past week to the esoteric community that deals in a bright and corrosion-resistant metal with the atomic number 79.

A monetary milestone was being marked: The price of that metal, gold, surpassed $100 U.S. dollars an ounce.

But what are the workings of the marketplace in which the landmark was passed? Who buys and sells gold? Where, and how? And, perhaps most important, why?

From conversations with government officials, dealers in precious metals and businessmen who make their living distributing gold and shaping it into commercial forms like rings and dental fillings emerges the picture that follows.

Dealing in gold dates back to the earliest recorded civilizations, which worked it with enthusiasm into everything from ornaments and arrowheads to chalices, crowns and coins.

Gold was bought and sold in auction markets as early as the fairs of the 12th and 13th centuries.

Today's basic system of gold markets, centered in London and Zurich but extending to many other places, has been in existence about 50 years.

"You'd probably get an argument from the Swiss on this, but London is the 'bell cow,'" one gold man says.

It is there that representatives of five leading bullion merchants meet twice a day. Consulting their lists of buy and sell orders, they arrive at the "fixing"—a price which at least theoretically balances demand and supply at that moment.

The price is not truly "fixed." The market is said to be a very free one, subject to shifting pressures at any moment. But the London fixing is transmitted around the world on financial news wires, and it has a major influence.

In most countries except the United States, anyone can buy or sell gold from anyone else. But the London merchants and a group of three Swiss banks in Zurich are the centers of activity.

As in any other commodities trading arena, there are two basic types of buyers: those who seek gold for commercial purposes and the speculators.

Most observers agree it is impossible to tell how many fall into each group. They point out that the commercial buyers by their very participation in the market are putting themselves in a position of speculating.

If they believe the price will come down, they are likely to buy, sparingly and operate on their inventories. If they believe the price will rise, they probably will "stock up" like a housewife at a sale.

If the traders in gold are difficult to identify, the sources of supply are much more easily discerned. According to U.S. Bureau of Mines figures for 1971, the latest data available, South Africa produces two-thirds of the world output of close to 50 million troy ounces per year.

The Soviet Union, second on the list, was estimated to have accounted for about 14 per cent; Canada, five per cent; and the United States, three per cent.

The major source, South Africa, keeps some of its gold in reserve and sells the remainder in the free market. One observer says it was keeping about a third of its production as of a few months ago but lately has been holding on to a much smaller amount.

Observers report that the gold sold by South Africa customarily is shipped to London by sea, to some other points by air. The big dealers buying it "stash it all over the world," in the words of one observer.

The United States does a lot of the buying. Even though its citizens and institutions are legally barred from dealing in gold for investment purposes, the legal commercial use of some seven million ounces annually makes the United States the world's biggest gold customer.

Swordfish eggs hatch in two or three days.

Rythm and Blues Show Coming to Pampa June 6

Banking on the premise Pampans are entitled to more road show entertainment, Mike Troy announced Saturday he has booked the Johnny Otis Rythm and Blues Show for the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium Wednesday, June 6.

Troy said he has been shopping around for an attraction that would entertain Pampa's youth and at the same time bring back some memories for the adult audience.

The Johnny Otis group, consisting of several different contemporary music acts on stage, offers a complete musical history of rhythm and blues, rock and roll and soul music, according to Troy.

The Pampa radio personality said he caught and was pleased with the Otis show in Las Vegas, Nev., and learned it was to make a Texas tour. Later he was successful in signing Otis and his company for an appearance in Pampa between large city engagements.

Appearing with Otis in Pampa will be his entire band, along with the Otisettes, billed as three tons of joy: Big Daddy Rucker, the Mighty Flea, and friends.

Otis currently is producing and recording for Epic Records and has two new albums out, "Operation Rythm and Blues" and "Here Comes Shuggie Otis," his son's first solo album.

The Pampa appearance of the King of Rythm and Blues on June 6 will be a stop-over between engagements in Albuquerque, N. M., and Houston, Texas.

Mars Tour

A round trip to Mars could be made with a powerful rocket in 400 days, including 40 days spent in exploring the planet.

Museum Has 'Texan' Series

An addition to the White Deer Land Museum Library section has been received from the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio.

Eight volumes in a series called "The Texans And The Texans" has been compiled and published by the Institute. Titles are "The Polish Texans," "The Indian Texans," "The Norwegian Texans," "The German Texans," "The Spanish Texans," "The Czech Texans," "The Mexican Texans," "Los Mexicanos Texanos." Cover illustrations are by John Adamietz. The Institute Executive Director is R. Henderson Shuffler.

The books are available for study at the museum during its opening hours, which are Sunday afternoons from 2 to 5 p.m. during winter months, and Friday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons during the summer months of June, July and August.

 "Finesses, finesses, finesses," shrieked South. "Lucky players never lose one. I had to lose three out of three."

His king of hearts had lost to East's ace at trick one. East had led the suit back and after trumping the third heart South had played two rounds of trumps. He then lost a club finesse to West's king. A club came back and South finally tried a diamond finesse to wind up down two.

We agree that with all finesses right—South would have made six. We also know that if he felt impelled to take every finesse he should have taken the diamond finesse first. That way he could have finally discarded a club on the ace of diamonds and only been one down. But he should never have taken the diamond finesse at all.

After drawing trumps he should have cashed the king and ace of diamonds. He would have dropped East's queen and been home with game and rubber.

Would he have looked silly if West held the diamond queen? Not at all. He would simply have led a third diamond and discarded his deuce of clubs. West would have been caught in an end play.

Suppose East held three diamonds to the queen? South could ruff; enter dummy with a trump; lead the three of clubs and duck completely. West would still have been end-played.

Social Security Q&A

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Have you a question about social security? Address it to Howard L. Weatherly, branch manager, Social Security Administration, 1541 N. Hobart, Pampa, Texas 79065. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

By HOWARD L. WEATHERLY
Q. My father, age 81 recently spent 120 days in a hospital. His bill was $1,598.00 after Medicare. How come? I thought Medicare paid all the expenses.

A. Your father's hospital stay was a very lengthy one. Initially, he was responsible for the first $72 of the bill (deductible). Then after 60 days of full coverage, his Medicare benefits became limited. From the 61st through the 90th day of hospital stay, a patient is responsible for $18 a day.

if he chooses to use his 60-day lifetime reserve after the 90th day, he is responsible for $36 a day of his hospital bill. Your father's part of the bill was therefore 30 days at $18 a day and 30 days at $36 a day, plus the initial $72 deductible.

Q. I am told that when a person on Medicare goes to the hospital he must stay in a semi-private room and pay for comfort items. Is this true?

A. He does not have to stay in a semi-private room but Medicare will only pay for a semi-private room unless it is medically necessary to have a private room.

Congress did not cover these services under Medicare in an attempt to keep the cost of the hospital insurance at the lowest level compatible with good hospital care.

Scouting Scoops

MRS. G.J. BOYD
Camp Directors and staff for Girl Scout Day Camp are all VOLUNTEERS. Anyone wishing to take part in this activity should contact the Girl Scout office. There are still some vacancies to be filled. Drivers are still needed to bring the bus drivers back from the campsite and to take the drivers out in the afternoon to drive the buses back to town. This takes only a few minutes and is most important. The bus drivers donate their time from their busy schedules to drive the girls to camp and return them safely home. So please, even if you can only do this service for a few days or possibly mornings or afternoons only... contact the Girl Scout office.

If for some reason, a registration wasn't made by the deadline. Do check with the Girl Scout office. The first session has been completed and is closed to further campers but there are still openings in the second session. The date of this session... June 18-22. The camp-site will be the Red Sietz ranch near Miami.

Campers will meet each morning of either session at the north end of Coronado Center parking lot and will return to that location each afternoon at 4 p.m. Parents are asked to see that their daughters are at the parking lot in time to board the buses at 8:30 a.m. and to see that they have transportation home from that location in the afternoon.

PATS wishing a specific duty during day camp should contact the Girl Scout office to be assigned to her particular unit.

A letter was received recently from the National President of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. telling of the great honor for the organization when a portrait of Juliette Low was officially accepted into the National Portrait Gallery of the Smithsonian Institution, Washington D.C. The acceptance of the portrait, which formally hung in the Birthplace in Savannah, puts the Girl Scout Founder in a select minority... less than 10 per cent of the gallery portraits are of women.

Among the 609 guests present for the event were three members of the original troops in Savannah... Mrs. Low's niece Mrs. Samuel G. (Daisy) Lawrence, as well as Mrs. Carl Aslakson and Mrs. Henry N. Platt.

The Girl Scout Council of the Nation's Capitol found Girl Scouts from that area to represent each of the 50 states as well as the territories of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands... and of course, the District of Columbia.

Rev. Rosenberg Will Retire From Ministry

Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Rosenberg will be honored at a reception and retirement party, Saturday, May 26, from 4-6 p.m. at St. Paul United Methodist Church. Rev. Rosenberg is retiring from the ministry after 43 years of service. The Rosenbergs are parents of two sons, John and Jimmie, and one grandson. A money-tree from members and friends will be presented Rev. and Mrs. Rosenberg as a parting gift.

Quay, Roosevelt, Curry and De Baca Counties.

The story is not complete, though, without mention of the fact that from this parsonage there will go into the ministry of the Methodist Church two boys. One already serving and the second entering Seminary this year. 100 per cent isn't a bad average. There are just two children in this parsonage family.

After retirement in May, the Rosenbergs will be at home to their friends at 111 N. Starkweather, Pampa.

Pampa College of Hair Dressing

Guide to Glamour

Converting a brunette into an "iceblonde" doesn't happen with a rinse. First, the hair must be bleached to a pale shade using a hair lightener. Then the hair is toned with whatever the shade is desired. Hair thus treated must be touched up once every two weeks or so to keep it from turning blonde. All that is necessary for a natural, shiny, safe bleach is to use a reputable brand of color and have an efficient operator do the work. She will see that your hair is kept in perfect condition.

Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, MAY 20

Your birthday today: Tonight the Sun leaves Taurus, enters Gemini at 11:55 p. m. E. S. T. All of today's natives are under pressure to declutter their working places and homes. Meditation is beneficial. Today's natives are talented original thinkers.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: After the community's Sunday ceremonies, mingle with your neighbors and friends. Attend to a local problem that affects all.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Strong demands on your energy are likely. People from the past may reappear, not fit into the present. Communication is favored.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Impromptu changes turn out well. Social adventures include romance. Set aside a few moments to plan the week ahead.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Among this Sunday's endless conversations much can be learned. Give others the same time you'd like for yourself.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Busy Sunday, unexpected invitations and extra duty to perform. Avoid excesses. Respect others' sentiments.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Creativity fills your Sunday if you'll let it. Young people dominate the scene. Relax and enjoy yourself.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Make the most of what you are and what you have. Today's progress is permanent, thus worthy of your enthusiasm. Make it a steady-paced Sunday.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Nothing goes quite as planned. The changes are favorable, but demand extra time. Be receptive, flexible!

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Get out early. Catch up with the news of your neighbors. Evening is a time for reflection.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Putting your feelings on the line is only part of the theme of the day. Back your convictions with contributions and personal involvement.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Social activities tend to get beyond original ideas. Bring on interested friends who may be willing and able to help.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Life spreads out before you in a broad panorama of potential. Be alert to take in all that happens. Prayer helps.

MONDAY, MAY 21

Your birthday today: Is a starting point—past is preface. This story is now one of reconstruction, reconsideration—personal transformation. Relationships either evolve with your changing, or are outgrown. Today's natives are enterprising, original in their thinking, often skilled in precise work.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Up and on the go early! You'll need tact to get around some temporary obstacle. Avoid excess.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Friends seek diversions, are unlikely to pay heed to work details, collaboration. Don't rush to catch up lost time.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Pay careful attention to serious ideas offered by family and associates. Adapt them to your purposes, devise your own short-cuts.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Your organizing skills are tested for ways of getting out of things as well as putting projects together. Meet rivals head-on.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Mark time for the moment. You are overdue for a lengthy period of dealing with uncertain facts, doubtful figures.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: A coherent schedule is worthy of your efforts. Money trickles out for little return. Younger people claim attention.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: It's time to get down to fundamentals, do and say what you really believe and get a fresh start.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Find the dramatic undertones in even the duller routines this week—there's plenty to observe.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Potentially a successful day in financial terms. Formalities must be attended to, with care for remembering all appointments.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Work in the appropriate time and place—forget your job when you're on your own time. New contacts deserve follow-up.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Begin your week with a physical check-up. Take inventory of your ready resources, plan for their sensible use.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Your discretion is a prime factor in your own interest and in the success of your family.

Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are planets that cannot be seen with the naked eye.

$600 'sacrifice' renews her desire for husband

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married to an American serviceman for 16 years. We have two children, 13 and 9. Our marriage has been miserable. I am easy-going, and he is very temperamental. He was sent to Korea for 13 months, and I wanted to write and tell him we were finished because I had lost all love and desire for him. That's when I went to this lady who reads palms.

The lady told me that money is power, and power is the devil's curse, and if I had any money I would have to sacrifice it to drive the evil spirits from my body.

I told her all I had was $600 in cash and $2,800 in bonds. She told me to bring her the cash so she could take it to church and burn it as a sacrifice, then I would be free of the devil's curse.

I did as she asked, and I know it sounds weird, but like a miracle I started feeling love and desire for my husband again, even tho we were separated. I wrote him love letters every day. The palm reader told me if I mentioned the miracle to my husband the spell would be broken.

I was very happy. Then this woman called and told me she had a message from God, who said if I wanted the spell to last after my husband got home I would have to cash in my bonds and sacrifice them, too, so I obeyed her.

My husband is coming home soon, and I don't know what to tell him about our savings and the bonds. I'm afraid he will kill me. Please help me.

WORRIED IN BALTIMORE

DEAR WORRIED: Your story should be told to the police.

DEAR ABBY: As soon as Tom and I became engaged, he started the "Why wait?" line, so we became intimate, altho I was a virgin until then. Now I find that he has told all his friends, and I feel betrayed.

I am not sure I want to spend the rest of my life with someone that immature. Abby, if a boy really loves a girl and respects her, would he tell something like that?

YOUNG SQUARE

DEAR YOUNG: No. And I think you are wise to question his love. Don't marry a "boy"—marry a MAN.

DEAR ABBY: Often people write to you for information which they can easily get by simply calling their public library (such as the recent inquiry about the origin of the American Indian). Most libraries are happy to serve the public with ready reference material by phone. Libraries are not just for "bookworms"—they are the storehouse of mankind's accumulated knowledge, historical as well as current.

Librarians are there to arrange this material in some logical manner, and guide people in their search for it. They can supply facts concerning the World Series, instructions on repairing a car, material for a term paper, a directory of addresses, back issues of a magazine.

Please urge people to USE their public libraries. We have no budget to advertise the many services we offer. Will you give us a small plug, Abby?

FORMER LIBRARIAN

DEAR FORMER: You've helped me for years. This is the least I can do for you. I hope this item doesn't swamp you.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

CATHEDRAL WINDOW QUILT—Mrs. N.B. Ellis, president of Varietas Study Club in 1972-73, won special honors for her needlework recently. At the Federated Clubs' Top of Texas District meeting in Canyon she won the sweepstakes award for her Cathedral Window quilt as well as first place for her punch rug. She attended the state convention of Federated Clubs in Brownwood — and again won the top award for her quilt. It is composed of squares one and one-fourth inches in size, each of which contains a flower, an animal, a piece of furniture, or some other object.

Missiles to Protect Missiles

Nuclear Crop Ripens on the High Plains

By TOM TIEDE

NEKOMA, N.D.—(NEA)—For more than a decade residents of this remote region have muttered about the 20th-century use of their 19th-century farmland. Despite government assurances of safety and necessity, few here have appreciated the planting of Minuteman missile silos in the flat, black earth that stretches along the Canadian border.

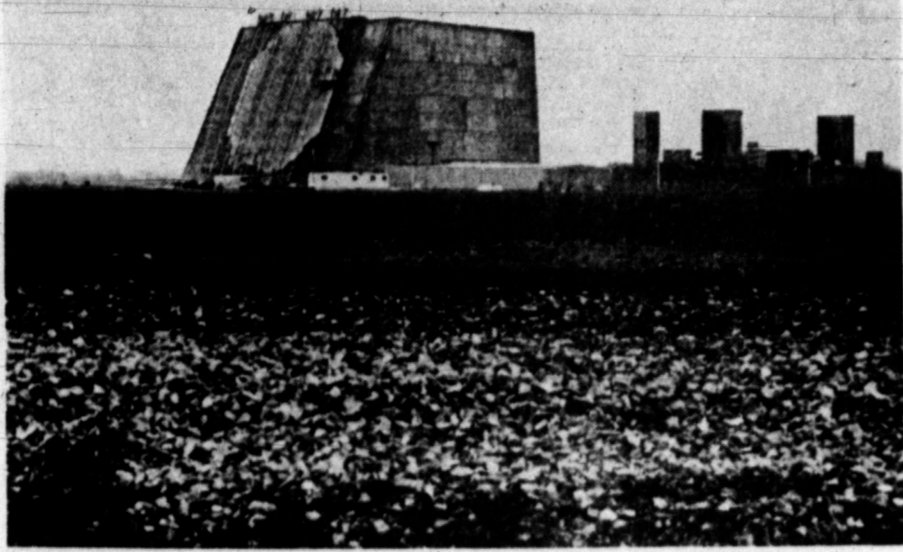

And now, the citizens sigh, shaking their heads, the abuse has come full circle: "As ye sow so shall ye reap." Almost like the ripening of a nuclear crop, America's only Safeguard antiballistic missile site has sprung from the earth here, ugly and awesome and altogether unthinkable.

The site is actually a series of system components split up over 36 miles of wheatland. There are two monstrous blockhouses designed to survive in a nuclear atmosphere. There are accompanying constructions of energy sources designed to function even if the rest of the country is blown to hell. And there are the warhead nests themselves, empty now but almost ready for a final seeding of kilotons and megatons.

The flowering, strangely, depressingly visible for miles in this locale, has gone almost unnoticed throughout the rest of the nation. Although Americans have paid some $5.9 billion for ABM research, although they have debated the worth of the expenditures like few other military issues, most are unaware that Safeguard exists and is, with perhaps a year more site preparation, ready to go and to presumably blow.

Yet here it is. Since April of 1970 the Pentagon has allotted some $200 million worth of construction contracts for the erection of (what amounts to) the first new domestic Army base since World War II. Structural work is almost complete. Major attention now is being given to the positioning of up to 100 Sprint and Spartan ABMs. Says site publicist Glen Robertson: "We should be fully operational by late 1974."

For all its eyebrow-raising potentiality, however, the Nekoma ABM base is actually a bit shopworn and kicked around. At least philosophically. Officials originally hoped to construct 11 such locations in the nation. The SALT agreements with the Soviet Union reduced that figure to a mere two. And as of now it appears likely only one will be built; the other suggested ABM site, near Washington, has been so vigorously opposed that its chances for quick construction are almost nonexistent.

The opposition, though debatable, is understandable. There are legions of scientists and citizens who believe the ABM to be little more than a make-work mistake for defense contractors. The system, which does not destroy incoming missiles but instead is designed to "neutralize their warheads," is, say some, too fragile.

Besides, as a Nekoma critic adds: "What real good will it do even if it does work? The system is supposed to protect our Minuteman missiles, right? But how can you protect 1,000 Minutemans with 100 ABMs—because, by the end of 1974 that's where we'll be. We'll have 100 ABMs here, none of which is effective at more than a 100 miles. We won't be able to protect the Minuteman in Montana. God, I don't even know if we can protect their west of Minot."

There are of course counter arguments to the nay-sayers. Pentagon authorities believe that the protection of some Minutemans, even a minority, is better than the protection of none. "If we can assure the retaliatory capacity of 50-60 Minutemans we can still destroy the enemy." That fact, assuredly, is well known to any enemy. Thus the continued viability of the deterrent is preserved. Furthermore, says the counter argument, Russia has already built one of her authorized ABM sites (near Moscow) and has reportedly deployed some weapons.

The bickering over the merits of ABM will no doubt continue. But here in Nekoma the arguments are now obsolete. Regardless of who's right, this Safeguard site is fact and will remain so. And what a site it is. Says one neighbor: "I should be used to it by now. I suppose. Even so, every time I go by it stands my hair on end."

The system's most visible structures, called blockhouses by the locals, are temples to Behemoth thinking. The main building (Missile Site Radar) is 231 feet square at the base, stands 75 feet high, and sinks some 50 feet into the earth. It looks like the Cheops pyramid of Egypt with the peak lopped off. It was built with 180,000 cubic yards of concrete and 22,000 tons of reinforced steel. The other principle building, 36 miles away, is the Perimeter Acquisition Radar site, 200 feet square at the base, 120 feet high and shelled with seven-foot-thick walls. Both buildings house gigantic radar screens, thus the reason for their separation.

Not so visible are the ABM holes themselves. Seventy for the 27-foot Sprint and 30 for the 55-foot Spartan. The missile gardens, as some refer to them, are arranged in neat rows both quite near and fairly far away from the MSR. When loaded, each hole will contain more explosives than were dropped on both Hiroshima and Nagasaki during World War II.

Statistically, the Safeguard system is not all that much. But physically, standing on the bleak Dakota plains, replacing durham wheat, it is truly staggering. And inside, what with all the equipment needed to do something never done before, the system beggars belief. Generators with 17-ton flywheels, electricity fuses as big as waste-paper baskets. The radar face of the PAR is 112 feet high and can see north for 1,000 miles.

"We have the equivalent of 20 IBM 360-65 computers," says Glen Robertson. "They're designed to do maintenance on themselves, or to tell us what's wrong and how to fix it. Some of the really advanced computers are not here yet, therefore we now have old computers actually telling us how to install their replacements."

Eventually, perhaps, the Nekoma computers will be telling the technicians other things here on the farmlands of North Dakota. Like the speed of incoming missiles. Like which antimissile to use in retaliation. But then, well, hush-hush. Out here on the plains, surrounded by all this black soil and black hardware, nobody likes to think about the prospects of a nuclear harvest.

Agriculturally Speaking

On May 14, a seven-state cattle-on-feed report should have made some National headlines. But today you haven't heard a thing about it unless you were engaged in the cattle business. This report showed a startling twenty percent less cattle were placed on feed during the month of April 1973 as compared to April 1972.

Why such a drastic and unheard of drop in placements? Remember a few weeks ago when I told you Ted Alexander wasn't replacing any cattle in the feedlot. He gave as a reason, "The ceiling on meat prices." "No incentive." "No chance for profit."

Apparently there are a great many Ted Alexanders in the seven main cattle feeding states that feed well over sixty percent of the total fed cattle. Very recently a statement was made from the National level to the American housewife: "Had a ceiling been placed on live cattle, you would have been standing in a line at the meat counter instead of a Boycott line."

I wholeheartedly agree, but what is the difference in freezing meat prices and live cattle prices? None. There has always been and will always be a direct relationship between meat prices in the counter and prices of cattle on foot.

If anyone on Capital Hill needs any lessons in economics, they should get them a copy of the recent cattle on feed report and see what happens when you artificially tinker with the supply demand concept.

There is an old saying, "You can take a horse to water but you can't make him drink." You can place artificial ceiling on cattle prices if you can make

Streak Virus Threatens Panhandle Wheat Fields

LUBBOCK—All the signs are right for heavily damaging outbreaks of wheat streak mosaic virus, wheat rust and powdery mildew in the Panhandle wheat fields.

This warning by area plant pathologist Dr. Robert Berry of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service was sounded today after a tour of wheat fields in that region.

Berry said that he observed wheat streak mosaic virus in many fields in the Panhandle, as well as some traces of rust and powdery mildew.

"It is too early to tell what the losses in yield might be from the mosaic virus," Berry said. "But the plants are at the tender stage and the virus exists in many fields."

"At the same time," the pathologist pointed out, "rain and moderate temperature could bring more damage by wheat rust, which could cause low test weight and lower yields if moisture remains favorable."

"With the trace of rust already prevalent in wheat fields," he added, "we could expect more of it within two weeks following heavy humidity and rainfall."

Another fungus disease, powdery mildew, was observed in the Panhandle wheat fields for the first time in ten years, Berry reported.

"We don't know what effect the mildew will have in this area," the area Extension specialist said, "but it has been serious in other wheat producing areas in years past."

He emphasized that growers can do little at this point to slow the spread of the diseases.

"In the case of the mosaic virus," he pointed out, "the earliness of the infection determines the severity of the losses. Control measures such as destruction of volunteer wheat and late planting are best for prevention the next crop year."

Wheat streak mosaic has caused serious economic losses to Panhandle areas—wheat farmers since 1962," he recalled. "As high as 50 percent of the seeded wheat acreage was either lost or damaged in some counties during several years since that time."

Berry listed the symptoms of the disease as retarded growth and yellow streaking and mottling on plant leaves. The stunting persists through maturing stages, and the yellow leaves tend to turn brownish and die.

Losses in yield could range up to 100 percent, he said. Plants that become infected the early spring will develop leaf symptoms, but yield loss will be lighter than on those early-seeded fall-infected plants. Growers have favored early seeding for winter grazing purposes. Generally, if seed is planted after the first frost, it will escape heavy mosaic damage, he advised.

Rust represents a potential threat as great as the mosaic virus, Berry reported. Although it exists in traces, the rust is widespread. With the right kind of moisture, the rust spores which have been spread by the wind will germinate, causing new infection on other plants. Again, the only control step that can be taken, he said, is one of prevention. Planting of resistant wheat varieties is the most important practice.

"Any one of the three diseases have the potential of wiping out an entire field, the pathologist warned. Only time will determine the extent of loss that producers will suffer."

This means, he added, that growers will need to take extreme precaution in their plans for wheat planting next year if they are to avoid heavy losses.

USDA Sees Strong '73 Wheat Mart

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wheat farmers can expect prices to continue relatively strong for another year, according to the latest production and use estimates by the Agriculture Department.

The winter wheat crop, which supplies the bulk of the bread grain, was estimated Thursday at a record 1.282 billion bushels. That would be 8 percent of 96 million bushels more than harvested in 1972.

Although the estimates are still subject to major revisions, it appears that as of now a crop of around 1.7 billion bushels would be about equal or slightly less than the demand expected for wheat next marketing year.

As it looks to USDA experts, wheat exports for the year beginning July 1 may run about 950 million bushels, second only to the record 1.115 billion expected to be shipped in the current year.

If domestic use in 1973-74 is about equal to this season, another 800 million or more bushels will be required. That would put total use in the range of 1.7 billion to 1.8 billion bushels.

In other words, if the total crop materializes as it looks to USDA now—and the exports and other requirements shape up—the United States may not produce enough wheat this year to meet total demand.

That would put new upward pressure on the farm price of wheat through mid-1974 when another crop will be ready for harvest. It also would syphon off the dwindling carryover or reserve of wheat, expected to be about 441 million bushels on July 1.

The July 1 carryover, reduced by exports to the Soviet Union and other markets, would be the smallest in six years.

Farm Prices Decline... Read Meat Production Increases... Cook-Off Contest is May 19.

What goes up must come down; at least that is true for farm prices. The all-farm products index of prices received by Texas farmers as of April 15 is down 10 points from the previous month. The livestock and livestock price index was down five per cent from a month ago.

Hog prices averaged $34.50 per hundred pounds, down almost $7 from a month ago. Beef cattle at $43.60 per hundred pounds are down $2.50 from a month ago. Calves at $56.80 per hundred pounds are $6.60 under a month ago.

Sheep at $16.90 per hundred pounds are $2.10 under last month. Lambs at $36.10 per hundred pounds are $4.50 below a month ago.

Turkeys and eggs showed price increases during the recent month. Turkey prices averaged 33 cents per pound compared to 28 cents a pound a month ago. Egg prices reached an average of 58 cents per dozen compared to 53 cents a month earlier.

Wool and Mohair prices remained unchanged from a month ago.

In crops, wheat was up four cents at $2.20 per bushel. Grain sorghum was down a penny at $2.76. Corn at $1.73 per bushel was down two cents per bushel.

Despite price increases during 1972, livestock producers did not achieve full parity. No category of livestock achieved full parity throughout the year.

The average price of cattle, calves, hogs, sheep and lambs in Texas during 1972 was $35.85 per hundred pounds.

The average parity price for those categories of livestock during 1972 was $42.06 per hundred pounds, thus the average price the farmer received was more than $6 under the average parity price during 1972.

RED MEAT production in Texas during March showed a nine per cent increase above a month earlier.

Cattle slaughtered during March in Texas totaled 300,000, which is up 31,000 over the month ago. During the first three months of 1973, a total of 865,000 head of cattle were slaughtered in Texas.

Average live weight of cattle slaughtered was 934 pounds compared with 928 a month ago.

Hog slaughter in Texas during March was down 6,000 compared to a month ago.

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS
For several weeks this column has been presenting a "Position Paper" prepared by the Executive Director of the Water Development Board, Harry Burleigh. The "Position Paper" was prepared for presentation by the Texas Board of Water Development to the current Texas Legislature.

Last week we presented the portion of the "Position Paper" dealing with ground-water management. This week we are presenting the following segment.

"At the federal level, there is persuasive evidence of an increasing intent to force necessary controls to prevent waste or quality impairment of the nation's groundwater resources—legislation has been proposed for sweeping federal action. Other proposed legislation indicates that the federal investment project might be withheld in areas where ground water occurs if ground-water resources are not subject to a federally accepted management scheme."

"A very comprehensive body of Texas law deals with the management and administrative control of surface waters by the State. Present Texas law relating to use of ground-water resources leaves unanswered many questions which present real problems from the standpoint of effective water planning and management if such is to be predicated on maximizing beneficial use of surface and ground water resources in an effective and economic manner of a long-term basis and with full environmental protection."

"Any comprehensive ground water management law, whatever the level of administration, would have to be so designed that the management objectives of each aquifer as well as the diverse needs and customs of arid West Texas and relatively water-rich

East Texas could be accommodated. Present Texas statutory ground-water law does permit a certain degree of management of ground water through local districts whose boundaries coincide with definable hydrologic units or underground reservoir subdivisions. These districts may enact rules that provide for the spacing of wells, regulation of production and prevention of waste. Although there are a few minor exceptions to this power, of the local districts—for example, a requirement that the rules apply only to wells producing 100,000 gallons of water per day or more—these are not particularly significant insofar as the real authority of the districts is concerned."

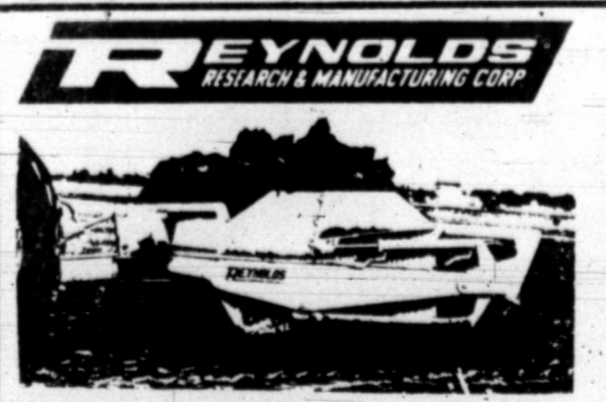

"Active conservation and development programs have been undertaken locally through some of these underground water conservation districts. Programs carried on are not the same from district to district, but generally are in the field research and education with varying levels of interest in well-spacing or pumpage regulation. Of particular interest and economic importance, was the successful effort by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 to secure tax allowance for the diminishing ground-water resources in the Ogallala Formation."

"The State must decide, through the Legislature, whether in the interests of the State as a whole

"it is necessary to establish improved systems of ground-water management."

"If established, whether these systems should be administered statewide or regionally, and whether the benefits achievable by conjunctive management of ground and surface water resources in the form of greater yields, lesser overall economic costs, prolongation of the usability of aquifers, and protection of the resources."

Mini-Watergate at Oklahoma U.

By JOAN RYAN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Oklahoma University has its own miniature Watergate scandal still unfolding in the heart of Sooner land.

Some Southwest Conference or Big Eight team, smitten with envy at OU's number two ranking, squealed that Kerry Jackson and Mike Phillips of Galveston's Ball High School had been academically ineligible when their own recruiters sought them. So the question arose: what happened to produce the instant brains?

Investigation indicated that, indeed, the high school transcripts in OU's possession had been falsified. But OU athletic director Wade Walker insisted in a phone interview, "Two individuals from Ball High School did change the records of Mike and Kerry. No one at OU did this. This isn't to say we didn't have knowledge of the change, though."

Contacted in Galveston, school superintendent Eli Douglas was equally adamant about Ball's innocence. "OU changed the records originally," he claimed. "And our staff changed our records after the fact, to protect the boys."

But it was too late to protect the boys, despite the most mammoth whitewash job since Tom Sawyer turned the brush over to his pals.

Oklahoma offered to forfeit eight of their 11 victories last season, tantamount to punishing Miami by giving the Redskins an asterisked Super Bowl win in May. But no matter what the NCAA ruling, OU's fall schedule seems fixed because of binding television contracts.

And so life goes on, except for the two victims, both of whom are suspended until the 1974 season. Kerry Jackson, who was considered a better quarterback prospect than Jack Mildren, was disconsolate.

In the heads-will-roll department, OU assistant coach Bill Michael, who admitted knowledge of the transcript doctoring but denied he did it, has resigned. OU head coach Barry Switzer claimed innocence as did former coach Chuck Fairbanks.

Housecleaning continued in Galveston. Ball coach Joe Woolley admitted that he compounded the wrong by altering the transcripts in the high school files. "I changed the record to match what was on OU's record to protect the kids," he said. He and an assistant principal resigned.

Jack Scott, the Oberlin athletic director who is trying to revolutionize athletics by putting some of the sport back into sports, took the scandal in stride.

"It's typical of the situation in American athletics," he said. "It's just like the Watergate thing. When someone is in charge of a program, he is responsible. But the specifics are hard to find out."

"The head coach sets the tone for a program. If he puts unreasonable demands on the assistant coaches in their recruiting areas, well, their job is on the line and they do it — they produce. So when it all comes out, the poor assistant coach and the poor kids get the ax, and those in charge keep rolling along."

The fact remains that the only punishment to date is the suspension of the innocents, Kerry Jackson and Mike Phillips. The Ball coach and his assistant will be "re-assigned to new jobs." OU assistant coach Michael most likely will catch on with another team. And the head coach who was "setting the tone" when Jackson and Phillips were recruited, Chuck Fairbanks, is safe with the New England Patriots, drawing a salary that could almost support Ball High's entire payroll.

Who has the courage to feed Jackson and Phillips plaudits on justice? Two wrongs don't make a right. The end doesn't justify the means. All they want to do is play football and because of the win-at-any-cost greed of men they trusted, they can't.

By 2½ Lengths Secretariat Wins Preakness; Gains Momentum For Belmont

BALTIMORE (AP) — Secretariat, the Kentucky Derby winner, turned in a sizzling, front-running performance Saturday and won the $182,400 Preakness Stakes at Pimlico.

Secretariat crossed the finish a daylight victor over Sham, who had also been the runnerup in the Derby. Our Native, third in the Derby, was third again.

Secretariat was last in the six horse field going into the clubhouse turn. Then jockey Ron Turcotte put the strapping Bold Ruler colt in gear and he took the lead entering the backstretch and easily kept it as he went on to win by 2½ lengths over Sham.

The margin of victory was the same as it had been in the Derby. Our Native was eight lengths back of Sham.

Secretariat, who smashed the record for the 1½ mile Derby when he was timed in 1:59 1/5, raced the 1 3/16-mile Preakness before a Maryland record crowd of 61,657 in 1:55 flat, a second off the stakes and track record set by Canonero II in 1971.

The victory sends Secretariat into the June 9 Belmont Stakes with a chance of becoming thoroughbred racing's ninth Triple Crown winner and the first since Citation did it in 1948. The victory also was sweet for Mrs. Helen Tweedy, operator of Meadow Stable, trainer Lucien Laurin and Turcotte, the same trio which had lost the 1972 Preakness with Derby winner and odds-on favorite Riva Ridge, who finished fourth.

Secretariat, an overwhelming favorite, paid $2.60, $2.20 and $2.10. Sham, owned by Sigmund Sommer, paid $2.20 and $2.20. Our Native, owned by Mrs. M.J. Pritchard, Dr. E.W. Thomas and trainer Bill Resseguet Jr., returned $2.20 to show.

Completing the order of finish were Ecole Etage, Deadly Dream, and Torsion. Each starter carried 126 pounds.

Secretariat's performance was almost as dazzling as his incredible race in the Derby two weeks ago. Once the Virginia-bred chestnut colt began moving past horses the only question unanswered was could he hold arch-rival Sham. The question was answered when Turcotte looked over his shoulder at Sham and jockey Laffit Pincay with one-eighth mile to go.

TEE-OFF TID-BITS

By Hart Warren

With the cancellation of the watering system construction until September, club tournament committee chairman Vic Trammell put his mind to scheduling our tournaments for the upcoming season.

Plans for the club partnership June 23-24 are underway but with a new twist this year. You may play with a member or a guest and the ladies are encouraged to play and show the men what the so-called "weaker sex" can do.

This year's entries are headed by Dale Ladd and Herman Jarrard, while Jean Duengel, our first lady entry, teams up with son Eddie. Lee Ziegelgruber and Rick Clark plan to participate and hope to avoid the choke this year.

After the heavy rains this year the rough is really living up to its name. But C.O. Ward mastered it with a deuce on number three. Not to be outdone, Dale Ladd smoothed his second shot in the hole on number 11. These are just two of a plague of eagles this season.

Jim Nation came up with another one when he swatted his second shot in on number 14 from on top of the hill. Not bad! Huh, Carlton?

As for myself, this past Friday I found myself on number 18 taking a putting lesson from Ed Myatt and Ray Kuhn. They both carded eagle threes. It seems that there just wasn't any room in the hole for my ball. I just recorded my routine birdie.

TIP FOR THE WEEK—To make your game, and that of other golfers, more enjoyable, know the rules of golf and proper golf etiquette. Pick up a free rule book at the shop. See you in the rough!

Royals Beat A's, 5-2

OAKLAND (AP) — Kansas City exploded three home runs in the sixth inning against Vida Blue and defeated Oakland 5-2 Saturday.

Blue and Dick Drago were locked in a scoreless duel until the sixth when the Royals suddenly broke loose. Paul Schaal opened the inning with his second homer of the season.

After a two-out double by Kurt Bevaqua and a walk to John Mayberry, Amos Otis hit his seventh homer of the year. Lou Pinella then followed with his third homer of the season and Rollie Fingers replaced Blue.

Drago, 4-3, was working on a three-hitter until the ninth when the A's knocked him out. Doug Bird came on to preserve the victory. Blue is 3-2.

The A's scored their first run in the eighth inning on a single by Ray Fosse, a throwing error, an infield out and a sacrifice fly by Angel Mangual. They added another in the ninth on hits by Reggie Jackson and Deron Johnson.

Yankees Lose

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dave Duncan hammered two homers and John Ellis hit another to lead the Cleveland Indians to a 6-4 victory over the New York Yankees in American League baseball action Saturday night.

The victory, credited to Milt Wilcox, now 3-0, with relief help by Ray Lamb, halted a three-game Cleveland losing streak. The loss was charged to Fritz Peterson, 3-6, who gave up the three Cleveland homers.

Duncan's first homer into the lower left field stands was good for three runs in the first inning. It followed two-out singles by George Hendrick and Charlie Spikes.

Duncan homered again with two out in the third, and one pitch later, Ellis delivered his first homer of the year, giving the Indians a 6-1 lead.

Wilcox was chased in the sixth, when the Yankees rallied for two runs after two were out.

Brahm Wins Long Jump

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two records were smashed Saturday night in the field events of the 58th Southwest Conference track and field meet.

Danny Brahm of Baylor bested his long jump record by four inches with a leap of 25 feet, 8 inches.

Ken Stadel of Rice smashed an eight-year-old record held by Texas A&M's Randy Matson in the discus. Stadel sailed the discus 202 feet, 11 inches. The old record was 199-7 1/2.

Jim Pearce of Rice captured the javelin with a toss of 236 feet, three inches.

Texas Christian Plans Return To The Airways

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian plans to re-enter the air age this fall, but that's only part of the story as the Horned Frogs wait for the 1973 football season.

Head coach Billy Tohill is one chapter, painfully beginning his recovery from a March auto crash which left him with multiple injuries and cost him his right foot.

Artificial turf for the TCU stadium is another, as are some bright new faces in the Purple lineup.

The turf and a new offensive formation—a grafting of the wishbone option onto a slot-1 alignment—will be most noticeable. After last season, when injuries hampered the Frogs and they slumped to a 2-5 Southwest Conference finish, Tohill felt his team needed more variety in its attack. So offensively they will look different and throw more.

One of the 72 injury victims, Kent Marshall, came back strong in the spring and is a key to the new attack—a speedy quarterback who can run and pass.

"If our offensive line proves adequate," says offensive coordinator Russell Coffee, "we'll move the ball well. We have good people in a lot of places and depth at the skill positions."

Those good performers include tailback Mike Lucas, who ran for 906 yards as a sophomore and is considered a natural for the new formation. Ronnie Webb is a solid fullback. And the move to more passing is encouraged by receivers like Steve Patterson, Ronnie Littleton, split end Dave Duncan and tight ends John Ott and Danny Brown.

The line remains a question mark, with only center Leon Bartlett returning from last year's starting crew. Elsewhere there is size in tackles Merle Wang and Sidney Bond (270) and quickness in guards Johnny McWilliams and Terry Champagne.

The defense has fewer problems, with a stout front built around tackles Charlie Davis (260 pounds), and a solid All-America candidate and Tommy Van Wart, end Rusty Pitt and inside linebackers Dede Terveen (240) and Gen Moser (225).

The pass defense leaked a year ago, but defensive chief Frank Young sees improvement. He likes outside linebackers Mike Hanna (235), Gary Whitman, Chad Uley and Tim Pulliam, and the secondary of Terry Dregnan, Gene Hernandez and Jeff Breithaupt had a good spring.

Hanna and Breithaupt, transfers from California junior colleges, quickly won their spurs in the spring. Pulliam, defensive back Allen Hooker and quarterback Lee Cook were sophomores who proved they could play.

In September the Frogs will test them all, and their new turf, against UT-Arlington before hitting the road for early season backbreakers against Ohio State and Arkansas.

Bill (Moose) Skowron hit 385 for the Los Angeles Dodgers when they swept the four-game 1963 World Series against the New York Yankees. Skowron now lives in Ocala, Fla., and sells real estate for the Deltona Corporation.

Atlanta Braves Get Pepitone From Cubs

ATLANTA (AP) — Seeking bench strength, specifically left handed, the Atlanta Braves acquired first baseman Joe Pepitone from the Chicago Cubs Saturday in a trade for minor league first baseman Andy Thornton and cash.

Pepitone was slightly less than elated.

"I'm a little disappointed that I'm leaving the Cubs," he said in Philadelphia, where the Cubs were playing a doubleheader with the Phillies. "But it's all part of the game and I'll roll with the punches."

"Nothing's going to bug me anymore. I'll be playing baseball and that's all that matters," Pepitone added.

In announcing the deal, Braves General Manager Eddie Robinson called Pepitone a winning type of ballplayer and said he "will add strength to our offensive lineup and will be an exciting player for the Atlanta fans to watch."

Thornton is hitting 160 at the Braves' Richmond farm club. Rookie Jack Pierce was optioned to Richmond to make room for Pepitone on the Braves' roster.

Pepitone played with the New York Yankees for six years before being dealt to the Houston Astros, who soon traded him to Chicago.

He hit 307 for the Cubs in 1970, averaged 262 in limited action last year and is hitting 267 for the Cubs in 31 games this season.

Dave Hill Still Leads By 1 Shot

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Dave Hill blew a two-stroke lead in threatening weather, regained it with an eagle three just as a tornado warning went up and finished with a one-stroke margin Saturday after the third round of the $175,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis Golf Classic.

Hill, a three-time champion of this event, struggled to a two-over par 74 as the 7,193-yard Colonial Country Club course was subjected to blustery wind, occasional showers and one driving rainstorm.

The dark, wiry Hill was almost as erratic as the weather as he posted a 211 total, five-under-par with 18 holes to go in this chase for a $35,000 first prize.

With Hill losing four strokes to par in one five-hole stretch, the tournament developed into a multiple-man struggle with eight players locked within two strokes of each other at the top of the standings.

Lee Elder survived some uncertain putting for a 69 and moved into second place at 212, just one shot away.

Trainer And Team Doctor Are Most Important Met Personnel

NEW YORK (AP) — The two most important men in the New York Mets' dressing room these days are trainer Tom McKenna and club physician Dr. Peter LaMotte.

The club has been hit with a siege of injuries that has tape and bandages at a premium at Shea Stadium.

"It is a good thing we signed Dr. LaMotte for the year," said

General Manager Bob Sheffing. "We couldn't afford him by the visit."

How bad off are the Mets? Well, their starting pitcher Saturday against Pittsburgh was Jon Matlack, wearing a foam rubber protective device to protect his fractured skull.

Matlack had the bad luck to stop a line drive with his forehead 10 days ago. He had the good luck of not getting killed. Chub Feeney, president of the National League, presented the young left-hander with his 1972 Rookie of the Year award Friday night. "Congratulations," he said, "and next time duck."

The night Matlack got coked, his catcher was Jerry Grote. Grote won't be his

Bucs Win, 4-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Stargell slammed a three-run homer off relief ace Tug McGraw with two out in the 10th inning Saturday, lifting the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets.

The Pirates, who had lost four in a row to New York and 16 of their previous 22 games, tied the score in the ninth when Bob Robertson led off with a home run off McGraw, his seventh of the season.

catcher again for a while. He suffered a broken right wrist when hit by a pitch. He's gone for three months.

Outfielder Cleon Jones missed 17 games with a sprained right wrist, came back for four and then missed the weekend series against Pittsburgh.

Willie Mays, troubled by bad knees and advancing age, went on the disabled list for the first time in his career last week because of a sore shoulder. When he went on the list, John Milner, nursing a pulled hamstring muscle, came off it. He still can't run.

The same night Grote's wrist was broken, Rusty Staub was hit by a pitch on the hand and damaged his left index finger. He has played despite the injury.

Second baseman Felix Millan, hottest hitter on the club, left the lineup with a sprained left ankle and missed a week's action.

How does Manager Yogi Berra handle the manpower crisis? "Don't ask me my lineup for tomorrow," he says, "because I don't know. I make two of them at home and then I still could be wrong when I get to the park. Sometimes I have to make another

When Grote was injured, the Mets made a deal for a catcher to back up Duffy Dyer, the only other receiver on the roster. Their man was Jerry May, purchased from Kansas City.

May was the perfect choice for this team. He'll fit right in. He's been on the disabled list four times in his career.

University Of Colorado Put On Year's Probation

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — The University of Colorado was placed on probation for one year by the Big Eight Conference Saturday for recruiting irregularities.

The action was taken by the conference faculty representatives, the Big Eight's governing body.

The conference also publicly reprimanded Colorado and C. B. McGowan, an assistant baseball coach at the university who was formerly associated with the school's football program as an assistant coach.

Commissioner Charles M. Neinas said the probation does not affect Colorado's availability for post-season competition or the National Collegiate Athletic Association football television series.

The charges against Colorado involve four athletes but neither the faculty representatives nor Neinas would disclose their names.

Neinas said Colorado had violated a conference rule when it allowed a student who failed to predict a 1.6 grade average to practice with its football team before the student had met eligibility requirements.

Two other athletes were transported by private aircraft owned by a representative of the university's athletic interest without the representative accompanying the prospects. Neinas said.

Reaves Busted On Pot Charge

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — John Reaves, a University of Florida passing hero who quarter-backed the Philadelphia Eagles to a troubled 2-11-1 season in 1972 as a rookie, was arrested on a possession of marijuana charge in a night club parking lot Friday night.

Reaves, 23, was freed under $500 bond after being booked at city jail on the misdemeanor charge, police said. In Florida, conviction carries a maximum sentence of one year in jail or a $1,000 fine, or both.

The charges against me are totally untrue and I am innocent of any wrongdoing," the 6-foot-3, 205-pound quarterback said in a statement later. "I have never used drugs of any type or marijuana and I am confident that this will be shown by the evidence."

Reaves said his attorney, Manny Garcia of Tampa, instructed him not to comment or details of his arrest, but said he would ask for "an early hearing to establish my innocence."

Arrested along with Reaves was his brother Robert, 28, and Sharon Emerson, 21.

Two vice squadmen who made the arrests said the three were passing among themselves a marijuana cigarette while standing beside Reaves' car in the parking lot of "The Other Place," a north Tampa bar popular with the younger set.

Food, a Global Shortage

This is the first year since 1946 that we have seen almost the entire world facing an agricultural crisis.

Here in the United States we have a crisis brought on by three factors. These are (a) a large, credit sales of wheat, corn and soybean meal, to the Red bloc countries — the Soviet Union and to Red China; (b) a cheapened dollar abroad that causes Arab countries to be more choosy in their petroleum sales to us and that brings on a consequent rise in energy prices to the farmer; (c) late planting and late harvests as a result of cold, wet weather. In addition to these three factors, this country's farm producers are faced with a difficulty of moving the 1973 grain harvest because so much of the rail transport is completely occupied with carrying prior year grain to port cities for shipment to the Red bloc.

Canada in 1972 had a poor harvest. That country has been a principal supplier of the grain to the Red bloc countries. The failure of the crop there is one reason their foreign customers turned toward the U.S.

Red China is in a bad way this year because a decade ago that country's social planners decided to build an industrialized society without first building agricultural production. All classical economists agree that farmers must be able to produce enough surplus food to support city populations before cities can be sustained. In other words, you must have workers close by if you are going to have industry and to keep the workers you must be able to feed them. That is, the farmers have to be equipped to do more than feed themselves or you will not be able to buy food stuffs necessary to sustain factory workers. The Chinese planners, clever though they were in many ways, missed this fine point and so their population suffers greatly today.

Red Flag, a mouthpiece for Peking's ruling regime, criticized discouragement among its own officials over the current farm situation and in the criticism confessed its dire difficulties to the world. Agricultural officials, Red Flag declared, call every task too difficult. They feel that natural conditions are too complex, and it is therefore too difficult to alter unfavorable patterns. Since natural calamities like floods and droughts are common, they claim it is difficult to stabilize production. Since fertilizer and machinery are both lacking, they consider it very difficult to increase production.

The key words and phrases in the above are "patterns" — an indicator of both the past and present — "stabilize production" — indicating a probability of declining production, "fertilizer and machinery lacking" — indicating a locked-in situation not likely to be cured without outside help.

In the Soviet Union, with between 30 and 40 per cent of the population still living on the land to support the others 70 to 80 per cent who reside in the cities, we find the government crying out for farm labor. The planners indeed are shifting workers from the city to the farm and promising bonuses to the work parties. But the 1973 crop remains questionable. In years just previous, the Soviet Union had not been able to produce enough to feed its own population. Machinery is short, and further — as here in the U.S. — transport is hard to come by.

This is not the first time the Red bloc has faced a crisis. In the past they were able to recoup by turning to the Free World. Usually Australia and Canada have been willing to do business. In 1962 and 1972, when those sources failed, the Soviet found help in the United States. And in the latter year, Red China also found help. But even the mighty U.S. goes into the 1973 grain harvest with little carry over as a result of huge credit-financed, tax-subsidized obligations to the Red bloc.

In spite of the present food pressure, the Soviet Union and Red China have a good chance of reversing the trend. The USSR has vast reserves of oil and vast production. Moreover, oil is easy to ship and the market is receptive. Mainland China in the past 12 years has outlined tremendous oil reserves, although convenient production is not yet extensive.

We offer this review in order to provide the reader some basis for understanding what will be happening to his grocery prices in the very near future. In part, the American housewife's struggle with the food budget is a result of the weather, in part, it is the result of manipulation by Washington politicians.

Connally 'Crossed' By Nixon?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — There are reports that President Nixon confounded John B. Connally by formally announcing his "informal" role as part-time adviser.

When Connally walked away from his private conversation with the President some days ago at Key Biscayne, it is said to have been his understanding that he had agreed to serve him not only unofficially but also inconspicuously. He did not anticipate a White House announcement.

He is reported to have promised Mr. Nixon to be in Washington often enough, and long enough at a time, to be "physically available" for quiet, private consultation.

The nearest parallel was the way lawyers Abe Fortas, Clark Clifford and James H. Rowe served the late President Lyndon Johnson in the early days of his White House tenure. He was heavily dependent upon their counsel, but in those days they all remained totally in the background — with only close president-watchers aware of their key role.

Having this understanding of what he would be doing, Connally saw no need to detach himself from his law firm or from the several corporate boards on which he was serving. After all, none of those who were giving Johnson on-the-telephone at midnight service felt it necessary to give up their private law practices.

The White House announcement, changed all that, even though Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler made it clear the former Treasury secretary would serve without pay and have no "operational responsibilities."

Since Connally's law firm represents oil interests, Ziegler said he was sure the President would not consult him on oil problems and "would in any discussion eliminate anything that would involve conflict of interest."

Nevertheless, a storm broke over the conflict of interest issue. Critics rose to the attack. The nation's Republican governors, meeting in New York, sounded limp in their defense of the Connally situation, even as one veteran governor's aide privately excoriated the President for "moral blindness and arrogance" in bringing the big Texan into the fold in the thick of the Watergate mess.

Connally's response of course was quick once he was in the exposed position. He took a leave of absence from his firm and got off the corporate boards.

If my sources are correct, then Connally seems clearly to have been crossed up by the President's decision to make their "consulting arrangement" public.

The presumption would have to be that Mr. Nixon, desperately eager to reassure the country he is cleaning house and surrounding himself with new men free of possible Watergate taint and impressive in sturdy ability, could not resist using Connally for openly supportive purposes.

As an interesting sidelight, the word is that Connally at Key Biscayne had reportedly turned down all offers of Cabinet or other official administration posts before he agreed to make himself available as an unpaid consultant.

His unofficial role naturally gives Connally more freedom as a brand new Republican to move about and build party stature for a presumed 1976 presidential bid. But right now Mr. Nixon's preference for him seems more liability than asset.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The 1972 hurricane season was the quietest in 42 years according to the National Hurricane Center. The low hurricane activity was attributed to three unusual conditions—lower sea temperatures in the Atlantic, a stationary inter-tropical convergence zone and widely varied wind currents. The World Almanac notes. Officials at the hurricane center could not explain what factors created these weather conditions.

U.S. Unwitting Aide To Terrorist Arabs?

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — There is a direct relation between the U.S. and the Soviet-armed Palestinian guerrillas waging vicious hit-and-run war against Lebanon.

The U.S. is putting up approximately one-half of the United Nations' maintenance of the refugee camps where the defiant Palestinian combatants and terrorist assassins originate.

Last year, the U.S. contributed $22.2 million of the $51.1 million budget of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestinian Refugees (UNRWA).

That share is expected to be about the same this year. In the 20 years' existence of UNRWA, the U.S. has provided more than $500 million of its funds.

Russian and its East European satellites have given nothing — with the exception of a small Rumanian grant in 1971. The Soviet Union is the principal supplier of Arab weapons, guerrilla arms captured by the Lebanese are virtually all Russian.

The record of the Arab countries is only a little better. In 1972, under strong urging by the U.S. and other Western nations, they put up a total of around $1.4 million.

That comes out to somewhat less than $1 per refugee.

Latest available data puts their number at 1,487,000 — of which an estimated 1,250,000 are receiving UNRWA "services" — that is, food, medical care and education. More than 250,000 students are enrolled in UNRWA-supported schools up to ninth grade, and another 65,000 in higher grades. There are 63 UNRWA camps.

Brotherly Help

Not only is the Arabs' share proportionately small, but some Arab countries don't contribute at all.

Foremost among them is Egypt.

Others make what amounts to a token contribution. They include oil-rich Libya with the magnificent sum of $109,000. Libya, with a population of around 2 million, has an annual oil income of more than $2.5 billion. Its military dictator, Colonel Muammar Qaddafi, is the most ferocious-talking of the Israel haters and the leading benefactor of the Palestinian guerrillas and terrorist killers. More than 2,000 of the latter are being trained in Libyan camps maintained by Qaddafi.

Other Arabian "big spenders" are Iraq, $100,000, and Syria $92,000.

Biggest Arabian contributors are oil-rich Saudi Arabia, $297,000, and Kuwait, $220,000.

Large as the U.S. ratio of the UNRWA budget is, it still marks a decrease from the high of 70 per cent that prevailed until 1969. That year, Congress insisted on cutting this excessive proportion, and it was pared to 53 per cent. Since then it has been reduced to less than half.

At the same time, other countries have slightly increased their grants.

They include Britain — $4,692,000 up from $4,500,000; West Germany — $3,073,065 up from $3,008,931; France — $1,382,913 up from $683,959; Italy — $481,000 up from $238,000; Japan — $350,000 up from $700,000; Switzerland — $2,193,000 up from $2,000,000.

Until 1964, the U.S. and Britain contributed around 88 per cent of the UNRWA's "governmental revenue," with "other countries" the remaining 12 per cent — amounting to $3,900,000.

When the U.S., in 1965, announced intention to begin reducing its UNRWA share, the official explanation stressed:

"The U.S. has been bearing an unduly high proportion of UNRWA's expenses. The U.S. is therefore encouraging other countries to increase their contribution. The U.S. believes that relief costs could be cut and the number of recipients on relief rolls reduced. The U.S. continues to support an increased emphasis on educational and vocational training programs."

Why We're Paying

It's in the humanitarian and strategic interest of the U.S. to continue pouring millions into the Palestinian refugee camps.

That was the view advanced by John Armitage, director of the State Department's United Nations Political Affairs Office, in a discussion with the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Near East.

Squarely asked, "Does UNRWA still serve a useful purpose, and how long will such refugee relief continue?" — he replied:

"From the humanitarian point of view alone, the United States investment in UNRWA has been worthwhile. From the humanitarian point of view, the people and government of the United States could have done no less. More broadly, our continued support of UNRWA is an integral part of our overall efforts to maintain political stability in the Middle East, and to help bring about a negotiated settlement between Israel and her Arab neighbors."

Armitage pointed out that Israel is among the large contributors to UNRWA, with $943,000 last year.

Not only is that several times more than the largest single Arab contribution, but approximately two-thirds the total Arab share — $1,400,000.

"The U.S. sees its significant strategic, political and economic interests in the Middle East importantly served by the maximum possible degree of political stability in that area and UNRWA contributes importantly to that stability," argued Armitage.

"We have recognized that it is unhealthy for UNRWA and undesirable for the U.S. to have that agency rely too heavily on the U.S. That is why over the past few years we have sought to move forward on several fronts to reduce the percentage share of U.S. contributions, while at the same time keeping very much in mind the direct impact of UNRWA's activities on U.S. interests in that area."

The Palestinian guerrillas have not, according to Armitage, "directly interfered" with UNRWA activities in Lebanon — as yet.

"But I would not try to suggest," he admitted, "that there is no problem because the Lebanese government does not have full control over camps in the southern part of the country. We have been informed that in general these camps are distinct from from military training camps, and that the guerrilla organizations handle their own feeding and support of the personnel undergoing training."

Your Health

Recommends Rectal Exams

By Lawrence E. Lamb M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb — I would like your advice on two questions.

How important and necessary are proctoscope examinations — say done on a routine physical even though there are no bowel or rectal problems? I am a 47 year old, female who has an exam yearly and also a rectal examination done at this time, along with a female examination. I have heard pros and cons on this. It is a $25 expense that makes me wonder how important it is.

Also, since I find myself allergic to wheat germ oil and my doctor says vitamin E is all right to take, what can I use? Is a synthetic vitamin E just as good? What are your thoughts on vitamin E.

Dear Reader — There is a sufficient likelihood of having significant disease in the rectum and colon area that no medical examination is complete without at least a rectal examination by finger. A large number of cancers of the rectum are within reach of the physician's examining finger. If they are detected early, they can usually be cured. If they are not detected sufficiently early, the outcome is less optimistic.

Whether or not one needs to then use the proctosigmoidoscope tube and examine also the lower part of the colon, is a matter of opinion. Certainly in individuals past 45 I think they should have one relatively frequently. Of course, if there is any history of bowel problems then such an examination is definitely indicated.

If money and the time of both the doctor and the patient were no object, why then I would say that all adults probably should have such an examination. The number of people in the younger age groups who would be found with significant problems would be small, but if you're doing a complete examination you want to find even those small numbers of individuals who have problems.

We did require all of the candidates for the Astronaut Program to have such an examination. A number of these young men were found to have polyps, which were removed. All of these individuals were 35 years of age or younger.

With the increased likelihood of having cancer or other problems with increasing age you have to decide whether the yield is worth the effort both in the patient's and the doctor's point of view. No doubt a number of doctors feel that one should be done for everyone on each examination past age 40. Others might choose 45 and some 50, but all knowledgeable doctors would agree that a plain, simple rectal examination (which shouldn't cost $25) should be part of any regular complete examination.

Most people get enough vitamin E from vegetables, cereals and an infinite variety of foods. In most cases, vitamin E in moderate amounts, "won't do you any good, won't do you any harm." This applies equally well to natural or synthetic vitamin E.

THIS IS a big week for 382 members of the 1973 graduating class at Pampa High School.

It all gets down to the nitty-gritty for final verdicts with senior exams starting tomorrow morning and running through Tuesday. Junior and sophomore exams will be concluded Wednesday and Thursday.

Vesper services for the graduating seniors are scheduled for 5 o'clock this afternoon in the High School Field House. They will be honored at a tea in the Girls' Gym following the services.

When exams are finished Tuesday the seniors will have a couple of free days before the climax of their 12-year elementary and secondary schooling.

That begins with a 10 a.m. commencement practice session in the Field House on the real thing scheduled for 8 p.m. Friday when the sheepskins will be handed out.

Then — when the commencement is over — comes the big wing-ding that has been traditional with high school seniors on graduation night for years and years.

That's the All-Night Party. It will start at 10:30 p.m. with dancing and games in the M.K. Brown Auditorium Heritage Room.

From there the party moves to the Capri Theater for a movie at 2:30 a.m. to 4:30 a.m. The all-night activities will wind up with a 5 a.m. breakfast in First Baptist Church.

By that time there should be 382 sleepy graduates who used to be high school seniors and who now face college or the hard, cold facts in a somewhat mixed up world.

In whatever direction they go, we wish them well.

WATER AND who controls it is very important to the people of the Texas Panhandle — or anywhere for that matter.

Felix Ryals, general manager of the Panhandle Water Conservation District No. 3, is in the office the other day and we got to talking about water.

During the course of the conversation, Ryals told us about a meeting he had about a week ago with Texas Panhandle representatives and senators in the State Legislature down at Austin.

Concerned about a bill downstate legislators have introduced that would impose state control and management of underground water resources, Ryals spent two days in the state capital feeling out Panhandle legislators on how they felt about the bill, backed by Houston and Dallas delegations in the Legislature.

He talked with Senators Max Sherman of Amarillo and Jack Hightower of Vernon, along with State Representatives Phil Cates of Pampa, Bryan Poff and Ben Bynum of Amarillo, Dean Cobb of Dumas and Bill Clayton of Spring Lake.

What he learned pleased Ryals. He found the entire Texas Panhandle delegation was opposed to the state control bill and unreservedly in favor of local control and management of the state's underground water.

MORE ABOUT underground water.

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Emergency care received before a wreck victim reaches a hospital could make the difference in a patient arriving alive or dead, says the Texas State Department of Health.

Since 1968 the Health Department has worked to raise the odds on victims arriving alive through intensive emergency care training programs for ambulance attendants.

Although other factors must be considered, emergency training is part of the reason why there has been a decline in traffic deaths in rural areas as compared to the total percentage of traffic deaths across the state.

Two programs are carried out by the Civil Defense and Traffic Safety Division. One is an 18-hour course called an Emergency Care Attendant School, while the other is a comprehensive Emergency Medical Technician School with a minimum of 72 hours of instruction.

So far this year 11 ECA schools have been held in Texas. Since the first school was conducted in San Angelo in 1968, the 18-hour program has been presented to 12,652 students with 8,784 successfully completing the courses. Many of those trained came from rural communities which had been without trained emergency medical care personnel.

The training was presented close enough to their homes so they could attend one of the 135 courses offered in that span since 1968.

The longer Emergency Medical Technician School was conducted the first time in 1970 at Austin. Thirty-one others have been conducted since then with 889 graduates from an enrollment of 1,062 persons.

ECA schools are underway now in Galveston, Beaumont, Austin, Dallas, Webster, Victoria, Wharton, Nacogdoches, Baytown, Bryan, Brownwood and San Angelo. After their completion in June, three others are scheduled for El Paso, Alice and Texarkana.

Students attending the Emergency Care Attendant School receive instruction in resuscitation, cardiac massage, splinting of fractures, handling of emotionally disturbed patients and emergency childbirth.

Many of the students attending the course do so out of dedication to their community and at their own expense. Realizing this, the State Health Department provides training in the students' own or neighboring community.

With the cooperation of local medical societies, the State Health Department conducts the school free of charge to all students.

In the major metropolitan areas of Texas, great strides are being made in providing trained personnel and equipment to meet the most critical life-saving situations. Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth, and San Antonio have seen the need for more detailed and lengthy training of ambulance personnel.

The methods and curriculum used in the ECA School are expanded in the Emergency Medical Technician School, again with the aid of local medical societies.

Texas was one of the first states to provide such training for ambulance personnel with the Austin course which began in May, 1970.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC
The Red Cross Board met Tuesday, May 15 in the Red Cross office with 23 members present—Joe Pafford, chapter chairman, presided and Mrs. Charlene Frazier, secretary, read the minutes of the last two meetings.

Reports were given by the standing committees of the work done during the past month. During the business session the group accepted Pafford's resignation as he and his family are moving out of town. Miss Norma Briden was elected chapter chairman for the coming year.

Jim Dalrymple was elected as vice chairman for the year.

The group voted to send $250 from Pampa to the Mississippi-Missouri flood victims. Our quota from Gray Co. was $932, but the board thought that a disaster drive at this time was not feasible.

Persons in the community who would like to give to the flood victims should send their checks to the Red Cross Office, Box 1036, Pampa, Texas.

More about the Missouri-Mississippi flood:
Our own Betty Moody from Childress and Catheryn Guckian from Wichita Falls and our new Field Representative from Ft. Worth, Mark Scheel, are all working in the Illinois Division of the Disaster Services.

We know that they need funds to keep 18 shelters open and the canteens feeding 8400 persons three times a day. Let us help with our funds and prayers. This is one of the worst Missouri-Illinois floods in 200 years.

Ted Gikas and Libby Shotwell attended the Hutchinson County annual meeting May 15 in Borger. The guest speaker was Larry Fuller, who was on the Red Cross Board in 1952 and who was anxious to hear of our continued work in Pampa. Thirty-five people attended the banquet.

Thirty-nine ladies attended the adult-swim classes held at the Pampa Youth Center. Classes in beginner swimming, advanced beginner swimming and intermediate swimming are being given at the Center by the Red Cross instructors.

Registration at the City Pool will continue until all classes are filled. Come to the Red Cross office and register for the City swim program.

Classes at the City Pool will begin June 18 for two weeks from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. The next session will begin July 2 and last two weeks, and the third session will begin July 16 and last two weeks.

Classes in beginner, advanced beginner and intermediate will be taught at 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. and classes in beginner, advanced beginner and swimmer will be taught at the 10 o'clock hour.

The only change will be in the July 16 classes. There will be no intermediate or swimmer classes this session, as classes in Junior and Senior Life Saving will be taught from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. Pool fee will be $1 for each person taking the classes. Instruction is free.

We have a new Red Cross Volunteer working with us this year, Mrs. Lena Mohon, who will work on the second Wednesday with Miss Margaret Wilkerson. Mrs. Mohon is our first new volunteer for hospital work this year.

If you are interested in this work, call our office, 669-7121, and let us talk with you.
