

The Pampa Daily News

Serving The Top O' Texas 67 Years

WEATHER

Fair and a little warmer today
Partly cloudy with no temperature change tonight and Wednesday. High today and Wednesday, 75. Low tonight, 55.
Northerly winds reaching 12 mph.

VOL. 67—NO. 45

Circulation Certified by ABC Audit

THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1973

(12 Pages Today)

Weekdays 10c
Sundays 15c

PEACEFUL ON THE OUTSIDE — Spring weather has provided an aura of peace to the White House surroundings, masking the onslaught of big trouble inside because of Watergate hearings and San Clemente property questions. Otherwise, it's a nice time of year.

Legislature Approves Death Penalty Plans

AUSTIN (AP) — The legislature has voted overwhelmingly to bring back the death penalty in Texas.

Senators passed a new capital punishment bill Monday by a vote of 27-4. The House voted for the measure 114-30.

The bill now goes to Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who asked for it after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled 5-4 last year that Texas' death penalty law was unconstitutional because it gave juries "unfettered discretion."

The punishment range under the old law for murder with malice was two years to death. This had resulted in unequal application of the laws because most of those getting the supreme penalty were poor blacks.

The new bill reduces the number of crimes for which death in the electric chair can be the sentence. It also narrows the range of punishment to death or life imprisonment.

The bill applies to killers of on-duty policemen or firemen, those who kill for hire or who hire killers, those who kill prison or jail guards, and those who kill while committing or attempting to commit kidnapping, burglary, robbery, aggravated rape or arson.

Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, argued that the sentence range still was too broad to make the bill constitutional.

There is absolutely too much latitude in this bill to meet constitutional muster, Washington said.

Some defendants too poor to hire lawyers would get court-appointed lawyers just as they do now, he said, and rich defendants would have prominent lawyers representing them.

You will see in no uncertain terms death will be imposed on the one with the court-appointed attorney and not on the one with the prominent attorney, Washington said.

Show me in this bill how all people will be treated equally, he said. Show me how the color of a man's skin will not determine whether he is executed, or how much money he has, or the color of his eyes or the length of his hair or the way he pronounces his words.

Rep. Joe Spurlock, D-Fort Worth, opposed the compromise, but for a different reason.

He said the House sent the Senate a constitutional bill. They sent us back a bill that is patently unconstitutional. You give a death penalty in one section and you take it away in another, he said.

He asked the House to instruct House conferees to negotiate again with their Senate counterparts and come back with a mandatory death bill.

A motion to table his proposal prevailed, 117-25.

Under the bill, if a jury finds a defendant guilty of capital murder, it will be asked if he did it deliberately and whether or not there is a probability that the defendant would commit criminal acts of violence that would constitute a continuing threat to society.

A third question will be asked if the evidence raises it. Was the conduct of the defendant in killing the deceased unreasonable in response to the provocation, if any, by the deceased?

All three questions must be answered yes by all 12 jurors before the judge is required by law to give the death sentence. A life sentence is mandatory if the jury gives a negative reply to one of the questions.

Before it can give a negative answer, a minimum of 10 jurors must agree. If less than 10 agree, the jury would be deadlocked, and the defendant would have to be tried again.

The jury also would be deadlocked if it gave less than a unanimous affirmative reply to any question.

PRESIDENT SAYS

San Clemente Projects Requested By Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says more than $100,000 in improvements made at President Nixon's San Clemente, Calif., estate during the past four years were requested by the Secret Service "for the protection of the President."

The projects included a new electric heating system for the President's Spanish-style mansion, a $3,360 storage shed, more than $50,000 worth of brick or redwood fences and a $13,000 bullet-proof windscreen alongside the presidential swimming pool.

Building permits were issued by the city of San Clemente for about $70,000 worth of government-financed improvements. The rest apparently was done without building permits.

The federally financed work was in addition to the $123,514 that the White House said last week the Nixons had spent themselves for improvements on their home and 5.9-acre homestead.

In a statement Friday, disclosing that Nixon had sold the bulk of his estate to one of his wealthy friends, New York industrialist Robert M. Abplanalp, the White House would not provide a breakdown on the $123,514 figure.

The transaction took place in December 1970—18 months after Nixon had purchased the ocean-side property with $625,000 loaned him by Abplanalp.

The loan was canceled in the subsequent transaction that left Nixon with a net investment of $374,514 for the house and 5.9 acres, and Abplanalp with an investment of $1.2 million for the remaining 23 acres.

The entire tract including the portion now owned by Abplanalp, remains under Secret Service guard. It is immediately adjacent to a Coast Guard station, which serves as the site of the President's office and other buildings constituting the Western White House.

After the Associated Press reported Monday that the federal government had spent more than $100,000 for improvements on Nixon's estate, a White House spokesman issued a statement saying "All the work done at the Western White House as listed in The Associated Press story was requested by the Secret Service for protection of the President.

"If The Associated Press had recommendations to make to the Secret Service as to how the President and his family should be protected, The Associated Press should outline those suggestions at the same time it carries a story which implies the President has improved his property at the expense of the government," said the statement given by Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren.

A Secret Service spokesman also issued a statement saying "We recommended all of the items for the compound.

of protection of the President.

"If The Associated Press had recommendations to make to the Secret Service as to how the President and his family should be protected, The Associated Press should outline those suggestions at the same time it carries a story which implies the President has improved his property at the expense of the government," said the statement given by Deputy White House Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren.

A Secret Service spokesman also issued a statement saying "We recommended all of the items for the compound.

Astros Looking At Sun

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab astronomer Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin today pointed a battery of telescopes at the sun, hoping to give scientists their best look yet at how this seething sphere of gases controls our solar system.

Physicists also hope the experiment will help unlock the secret of controlled thermonuclear fusion, the source of the sun's energy. This might aid in the search for an unlimited, pollution-free power source on earth.

While Kerwin tuned up the $107-million array, Charles Conrad Jr. and Paul J. Weitz assembled cameras and sensors which they'll use starting Wednesday to survey the earth's resources.

It was the fifth day of the planned 28-day orbital flight.

The telescopes are mounted on a large device that is extended away from the orbiting station on long metal arms. Kerwin operated them from a workshop console which Conrad calls so complex "it's like playing three 88-key piano boards at one time."

The astronauts on Monday completed setting up housekeeping in the laboratory, which is the size of a three-bedroom home, and began their first medical experiments.

A makeshift sunshade erected Saturday reduced temperatures to near 80 degrees, far below the 125 degrees recorded inside the cabin after a heat shield was ripped away during the launch of Skylab on May 14.

Flight controller Neil Hutchinson predicted the temperature would level out near 70 degrees within a day or two and make the workshop fully livable.

During a brief news conference televised to mission control Monday, Conrad replied "You betcha," when asked if he felt they could complete the full four-week mission.

"If the temperatures keep going down, it's gonna get real pleasant in here. It's not bad now."

One was a cylinder which fit over the lower half of Weitz' body and with air evacuated simulated gravity pressure like that experienced by a man standing on earth. Several measurements will be taken of each man during the mission to gain a running measurement of the deconditioning rate of the cardiovascular system (heart and blood vessels) in weightless space.

As the storms criss-crossed the Midwest and South during the weekend a great many of the deaths resulted from drownings. Flash floods and wind-whipped lakes knocked out power, swept away homes and uprooted trees in state after state as the storms moved first southeast and then up the East Coast.

The storms began Saturday in eastern Oklahoma and continued into Monday night, when a tornado at Athens, Ga. took the life of one person and left more than 60 injured.

Reports from local officials indicated total losses would climb well above $100 million. The worst damage appeared to be in small towns such as Brent, Ala., and Keefeton, Okla., and in the city of Jonesboro, Ark.

The storms began their weekend of terror in Keefeton, a community of 400 in eastern Oklahoma. Officials said a funnel cloud dropped from the sky just west of town on Saturday and proceeded to make a half-mile-wide swath of destruction.

Destroyed was 75 per cent of Keefeton, including 150 homes, 125 cars, and virtually all of the business district. Five persons, including four members of the same family who were rushing toward a shelter, were killed.

As the storms criss-crossed the Midwest and South during the weekend a great many of the deaths resulted from drownings. Flash floods and wind-whipped lakes knocked out power, swept away homes and uprooted trees in state after state as the storms moved first southeast and then up the East Coast.

The action by Col. Theodore W. Guy of Tucson, Ariz., was the first such move against any of the 566 U.S. military POWs who have returned home.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said the names of the eight-five soldiers and three Marines would be made public after they are formally notified.

Friedheim did not disclose the

Prosecutors Want Nixon To Appear

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government prosecutors reportedly would like President Nixon to testify on how the Watergate coverup could have been carried out without his knowledge, but are said to feel a subpoena would be of dubious constitutionality.

The Washington Post, quoting Justice Department sources, said today that the President's role in the scandal is the only key question remaining to be clarified in the grand jury investigation.

The prosecutors are reported to have told their superiors that evidence obtained thus far justifies questioning the President about how his closest aides could have kept knowledge of a coverup from him.

The President should be given an opportunity to explain himself, the Post quoted a source as saying.

The Watergate investigation has run smack into the Constitution. We now must deal with the question of how the President can be investigated.

Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

Dean was quoted by CBS as saying "I have heard something about it," but the network said he would not divulge whether he would accept the offer.

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

The New York Times said Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

Dean was quoted by CBS as saying "I have heard something about it," but the network said he would not divulge whether he would accept the offer.

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

The New York Times said Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

meanwhile, Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said the Senate Watergate investigating committee will call former high-level administration officials to testify "by the end of June." Baker, vice chairman of the committee that resumes hearings June 5, said John N. Mitchell, H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and John W. Dean III would not be called before then.

The Post's sources reported that prosecutors have recommended the indictments of Mitchell, former attorney general, and Haldeman and Ehrlichman, both White House aides who have resigned.

The Post's account brought a sharp retort from White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler. He said the story, if true, "reflects a shocking and irresponsible abuse of authority on the part of the prosecutors."

Grand jury proceedings are by law secret.

Ziegler said the White House has asked Attorney General Elliot L. Richardson and Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox to investigate the circumstances of these anonymous charges against the President of the United States—and to do so immediately.

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

The New York Times said Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

Dean was quoted by CBS as saying "I have heard something about it," but the network said he would not divulge whether he would accept the offer.

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

The New York Times said Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

The network said it had learned from unnamed government sources that the offer was from prosecutor Earl Silbert in a letter to which Dean had not responded by Monday night.

Dean was quoted by CBS as saying "I have heard something about it," but the network said he would not divulge whether he would accept the offer.

The Post quoted a source as saying "There is no bombshell tucked away. Rather there is an evidentiary pattern" that raises questions about the President's role. "No document does it," the source said.

The New York Times said Dean has told Watergate investigators that Herbert W. Kalmbach, president Nixon's former personal attorney, approved the spending of $200,000 to $400,000 in GOP funds in an effort to engineer the defeat of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in 1970.

Two Washington attorneys familiar with election law told the Times that, while such contribution would not have violated any federal laws, a careful check of the Alabama campaigns financing laws would be needed.

Wallace, who was widely regarded as a potential threat to President Nixon in 1972, won a runoff election for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in June 1970 after finishing behind Gov. Albert P. Brewer in the primary a month earlier.

CBS News has reported that Dean, White House Counsel who was fired by President Nixon, has been offered immunity from all charges except one of obstructing justice, if he testifies about "all he knows" concerning Watergate.

Broadcasters Can Reject Paid 'Controversial' Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court held today that broadcasters may not be required to accept some paid advertising on controversial public issues.

The U.S. Circuit Court here had held that if a broadcaster accepts at least some kind of paid advertisements he cannot flatly refuse to accept paid announcements on public issues. Today's decision by a split court reversed that holding.

The case was brought to the high court by the Federal Communications Commission, the Columbia Broadcasting System, American Broadcasting Co. and operators of WTOP radio and television stations here.

Writing for the majority, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said that under the right-of-access system envisioned by the Circuit Court, the commission would be required to oversee far more of the day-to-day operations of broadcasters' conduct, deciding such questions as whether a particular individual or group has had sufficient opportunity to present its viewpoint and whether a particular viewpoint has been sufficiently aired.

Regimenting broadcasters is too radical a therapy for the ailment, that brought the issue into federal courts, Burger wrote.

The dispute arose in 1970 with a request by the Democratic National Committee for an FCC order compelling broadcasters to sell time to "responsible entities" for comment on public issues.

In a case that was heard at the same time, a group called Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace challenged WTOP radio's refusal to provide for one-minute antiwar announcements.

Traffic Toll Reaches 465

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents claimed 465 lives around the nation during the three-day Memorial Day weekend.

The National Safety Council had estimated 550 to 650 persons would die in traffic mishaps during the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday, local time.

The Associated Press counted 565 traffic deaths during the 1972 Memorial Day weekend, also three days. The record toll for a three-day observance of the holiday was 597 in 1969.

Inside Today's News

Abby	Pages
Classified	5
Comics	11
Crossword	8
Editorial	10
On the Record	2
Sports	9
Women's News	3

REFUSES TO BREAK TIE

Daniel Defeats School Finance Bill In House

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — In a jolting decision heard round the Capitol, Speaker Price Daniel Jr. defeated a $44 million public school finance bill just before legislators closed out their 140-day session at midnight Monday.

His dramatic decision not to break a 70-70 tie—announced after he weighed the political consequences in the privacy of his office—was reminiscent of another speaker's vote 12 years ago.

Daniel's father, Price Sr., was governor when Speaker James Turman cast a tying 72-72 vote to kill temporarily a controversial sales tax proposal in the final minutes of the 1961 Legislature.

After Daniel declined to vote, a frantic effort to resurrect Gov. Dolph Briscoe's $39 million emergency school bill failed even though the governor sent word in the last hour that there was still time.

The House simply refused to consider it. Nevertheless, Briscoe said, "I see no need for a special session."

At a double-time pace, the legislature voted Monday to restore the death penalty for some murderers, to reduce the jail sentence for marijuana convictions and to make legislators and statewide politicians tell where they get their money.

The lawmakers agreed to require lobbyists to register and report expenses and to require political candidates to report their campaign contributions and how they were spent until their campaign accounts were settled.

All three proposals were worked out over the weekend by Senate-House negotiators after the two chambers had threatened political war over Daniel's "reform" movement, which was widely publicized.

In blocking the school proposal, Daniel bucked Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who possibly avoided a confrontation with Daniel by announcing Monday he would not seek the job of permanent chairman of the constitutional convention that will meet Jan. 8.

That should be the next time the legislature convenes, although Sen. A. R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, predicted the lawmakers would have to meet in special session if the federal government fails to pump as much money as expected into Texas' public welfare program.

There was a significant first in federal financial aid, however, as the "sharing" of more than $300 million in revenue enabled legislators to write a $9.7 billion two-year state budget without levying new taxes.

The legislature made Aug. 27, birthday of the late former President Lyndon Johnson, a state holiday but rejected a proposal to honor the late civil rights leader, Martin Luther King, on his birthday.

Meeting in the midst of the "energy crisis," the Senate adopted a resolution which led to a state lawsuit against Exxon for more money from past production on state-owned oil and gas land. But the Senate defeated an oil and gas unitization measure which Hobby and others claimed could lead to the recovery of more oil and gas.

On the final day the Senate elected Republican Sen. O. H. "Ike" Harris, a boyish-looking 40-year-old Dallas lawyer, as its assistant presiding officer until the next session. That will give Harris a chance to serve as governor for a day.

Officers Recover Stolen Equipment

Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan and Deputy James Shelton of McLean, working in concert with Oklahoma officers, have recovered a large portion of property stolen here and at McLean Aug. 16.

A four-horse trailer, four saddles and an assortment of tack was taken from O. L. Blankenship on I-40 two miles east of McLean.

The same night, six saddles, horse-shoeing equipment, spurs and various tack were taken from a location a half-mile west of the Pampa city limits. This property belonged to James McCarley and Doug Boyd.

Investigation at the time led officers of the Gray County Sheriff's department to believe the same persons were involved in both break-ins since the heavy cutters used left the same markings at both locations.

Investigation of the thefts continued until Friday when information produced took Sheriff Jordan, Deputy Shelton, McCarley and Blankenship to Oklahoma City. There, an 18-hour stay produced the horse trailer valued at $1,000 and two saddles, one belonging to Boyd and one to Blankenship.

A saddle belonging to McCarley had been sold and re-sold and has not been recovered. Sheriff Jordan said he believed this saddle and the rest of the stolen property would be recovered on a projected return trip to Oklahoma in about ten days.

He praised the sheriffs of Oklahoma and Cleveland (Norman) Counties for their cooperation in the investigation and in obtaining the search warrants in district court in Norman.

Sheriff Jordan said no charges have been filed as yet but should be forthcoming sometime this week.

On The Record

- Highland General Hospital SUNDAY Admissions Mrs. Sherry McCasland, Wheeler, Baby Girl McCasland, Wheeler, Otis Kidwell Sr., 932 S. Barnes, Jerome T. Willett, Borger, Mrs. Martha H. White, 1517 Dogwood, Mrs. Della L. Phillips, 401 Perry, Dismissals Mrs. Ruby Burton, White

- Deer Baby Girl Burton, White Deer Mrs. Martha A. Porter, 1029 S. Banks, Baby Girl Porter, 1029 S. Banks, Mrs. Peggy S. Lane, Skellytown, Baby Girl Lane, Skellytown, Luke Lunn, Olney, Bryan W. Terry, 730 E. Brunow, Evert E. Nixon, 730 E. Brunow, Mrs. Delorus Dumas, 913 Montague, Anita R. Wood, 1019 N. Wells, Congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Terry McCasland, Wheeler, on the birth of a girl at 5:24 a.m., weighing 5 lbs., 6 ozs.

MONDAY Admissions

- Anderson C. Howard, 601 Short, Thomas L. Goldsmith, Lefors, Mrs. Effie L. Simonton, 112 S. Nelson, Mrs. Mary R. Whaley, McLean, Mrs. Georgia M. Hinton, 933 Fisher, John H. Jones, 601 N. Gray, Mrs. Margaret Kimmins, Phillips, Miss Roxanne Bartush, Borger, Mrs. Lena R. Blackwall, 1213 Duncan, Gerald R. Anderson, Miami, Mrs. Karen A. Slate, 1500 W. 22nd, Mrs. Penny E. Cargile, 1037 S. Christy, Mrs. Audra Dehls, 1320 Duncan, Walter L. Jackson, Lefors, Clifford Everhart, Pampa, Miss Debra S. Hoggat, 1824 N. Wells, Robert McPherson, 1032 E. Twiford, Floyd Hindman, 316 S. Cuyler, Dismissals Mrs. Peggy Jo Beighle, Skellytown, Mrs. Laurann Dougherty, 530 N. Gray, Kit Autry, 715 N. Somerville, Todd W. Hammer, 824 N. Christy, Malley K. Hammer, 824 N. Christy, Mrs. Susan Dunigan, 1801 Charles, Baby Boy Dunigan, 1801 Charles, Mrs. Mary Hernandez, 101 S. Sumner, Robert D. Kelley, 304 Anne, Ruth E. Williams, 1016 Dwight

Stock Market Quotations

Table with columns for various stock indices and prices, including Chicago Exchange, New York Stock Market, and various commodity prices.

The Pampa Daily News SUBSCRIPTION RATES Subscription rates in Pampa and RTZ by carrier and motor route are $1.75 per month, $5.25 per three months, $10.50 per six months and $21.00 per year. THE PAMPA DAILY NEWS is not responsible for advance payment of two or more months made to the carrier. Please pay directly to the News Office three months or more. Subscription rates by mail are: RTZ $4.25 per three months, outside of RTZ $5.25 per three months. Mail may be paid in multiple of three months. Single copies are 10¢ daily, 15¢ Sunday. Published daily except Saturday by the Pampa Daily News, Atchison and Somerville Streets, Pampa, Texas 79065. Phone 665-2323. All departments. Entered as second-class matter under the act March 3, 1879.

Missing your Daily News? Dial 667-2323 before 7 p.m. weekdays, 10 a.m. Sundays

SAM BELL, ...seminar speaker

Tourist Seminar Slated

Sam Bell, general manager of the Panhandle Plains Auto Club, an affiliate of the American Automobile Association, of Amarillo, will be the leader of a tourist seminar at the Coronado Inn Thursday, May 31.

All persons in the Pampa area who deal with the traveling public are invited to attend one of two identical sessions, the first at 2 p.m. and the second at 7 p.m.

Bell is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma and has been associated with the AAA office in Amarillo since 1960, serving 54 Northwest Texas counties.

Warren Mayo, chairman of the Chamber's Tourist Development Committee, points out that the seminar is free to the public and is being sponsored to better prepare sales people serving the traveling public.

No advance registration is necessary. Mayo said it would be helpful if those attending would call the Chamber office in order that adequate plans could be made to take care of the group attending.

Government Denies Sex Accusations

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath's government continued to insist today that no more of its ministers are involved in a sex scandal despite newspaper reports to the contrary.

Two government ministers resigned last week because Scotland Yard found out they had been consorting with call girls. But the government on Monday night denied a report in two Sunday papers that a third minister—and possibly a fourth—had been mixed up with call girls.

One of the papers, The People, said call girl Norma Levy had given it the name of the third man and said he visited her three times at $125 a visit. She reportedly said she couldn't be positive about the fourth man until she saw a picture of him. Mrs. Levy was reported to have taken refuge in Morocco, which has no extradition treaty with Britain.

The names of the men were not disclosed, but the paper said it passed them along to the government.

Heath flew to West Germany Monday for a brief vacation, but his office announced Monday night that Scotland Yard's investigations had produced "no evidence of any kind" to support the allegations that more members of the government might be involved.

County Residents Purchase Bonds

During April there were new purchases of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds amounting to $33,835, according to George B. Cree, chairman of the Gray County Savings Bonds Committee.

Sales for the first four months totaled $163,782 for 36 per cent of the yearly sales goal of $450,000.

April sales in Texas totaled $19,525,843 exceeding last year's $17,331,291 by $2,194,552. Year-to-date sales amounted to $83,791,839, an increase of $9,533,410 over 1972 sales of $74,258,429.

Nationwide, monthly sales were $562 million, 11.8 per cent above 1972 sales of $502 million. Exchanges of Series E and Savings Notes for Series H Bonds amounting to $30 million were reported for April, 13 per cent above the $27 million exchanged last year.

Theft Suspect To Face Trial

G.T. "Red" Sparks, charged with theft over $50, will be returned to Pampa this week from Houston, where he was arrested last month on a grand jury indictment issued in Pampa in January, 1972.

Sparks is charged with the theft of a saddle from John Sims Jr., a rancher living nine miles east of Pampa. The theft occurred Dec. 4, 1971.

Sparks will face trial on the charge after his return, according to Gray County Sheriff Rufe Jordan.

Saigon Okays Truce Proposal

SAIGON (AP) — Government sources said today that the South Vietnamese government has agreed in principle to a detailed timetable for a true Vietnam cease-fire.

The agreement, worked out in Paris by Henry A. Kissinger and Hanoi's Le Duc Tho, calls for both Saigon and the Viet Cong to order all their units to stop shooting, the sources said.

The sources said Saigon has requested some modifications and made some counterproposals. They did not elaborate.

These sources predicted the following developments: —Kissinger and Tho will officially announce their agreement on strengthening the original cease-fire accord at the conclusion of their next round of talks in Paris scheduled to begin June 6.

—The United States will halt all air reconnaissance missions over North Vietnam.

—Twenty-four hours after the announcement, the Saigon government and the Viet Cong will order opposing battlefield commanders to cease their fire.

—Five to 10 days later, Saigon and the Viet Cong will grant guarantees of privileges and immunities for members of the two-party Joint Military Commission. The two sides will fully deploy observers into the field to keep the peace.

—Within five to 10 days, the United States will resume operations to remove mines from North Vietnamese waters and also will resume economic talks with Hanoi.

—Within three months, zones of control will be delineated.

—Within six months, a National Council of National Reconciliation and Concord must be established and an election procedure set up to shape the political future of South Vietnam. Under terms of the original agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27, this was supposed to have been accomplished by the end of April.

—Military commanders of the opposing parties will meet to establish safety corridors through the respective zones of control.

—Respect for the demilitarized zone and a withdrawal of troops and war equipment from the buffer zone. Demobilization of forces by both sides.

—The establishment of legitimate ports of entry for the replacement of war materials by each side on a one-for-one basis.

—The release of the remaining Vietnamese military and civilian prisoners of war.

—The sources said terms of the agreement were communicated to President Nguyen Van Thieu by William H. Sullivan, Kissinger's aide in the Paris talks with Thieu. Sullivan was in Saigon for three days last week.

South Vietnam agreed in principle with some modifications, said one source. "Counter proposals were given to Ambassador Sullivan to carry back to Kissinger."

South Vietnamese field commanders reportedly were alerted over the weekend to the possibility of eleven-hour Communist efforts to seize territory before any new Kissinger-Thieu accord comes into effect.

In advance of a resumption of talks in Paris on June 6 between Kissinger and Tho, the Saigon government and the Viet Cong delegations to the two-party Joint Military Commission agreed to discuss an exchange of maps delineating zones of control by each side.

This is one of the key provisions in the original Vietnam peace agreement signed Jan. 27 in Paris that has never been put fully into effect. Both sides have accused each other of land-grabbing.

It was the Saigon government that proposed the exchange of maps. The establishment of zones of control was one of the major points Kissinger and Tho discussed last week, the informants said. Kissinger made it clear he had every intention of concluding an agreement with Tho during the next round of talks beginning June 6.

REVISED BILL

Governor Gets Drug Measure

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A comprehensive drug revision bill that makes marijuana possession a misdemeanor has been sent to Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Only when the amount exceeds four ounces (about 80 cigarettes) can marijuana possession be treated as a felony under the new bill. And even then, a judge can reduce the penalty to a misdemeanor if the defendant convinces him there was no intent to sell it.

Under present law, marijuana possession of any amount carries a penalty of two years to life—the stiffest marijuana law in the United States.

But juries have become more and more reluctant to send defendants to prison for marijuana possession. An Austin jury gave probation sentences in early April to two young men convicted of possessing almost 2,000 pounds of marijuana.

Hundreds of marijuana cases are pending before the Travis County Grand Jury, which has been waiting to see what the legislature would do.

Briscoe aide Roy Coffee, who has worked for months on the drug bill, predicted the governor will sign it.

Generally, I think it does exactly what the governor set out to do. It's a complete revision of all the drug laws and it gets tough with pushers," Coffee said.

The legislature approved the bill Monday, the last day of the legislative session. The house vote was 84-58. Senators passed it by a 24-7 vote.

Man Injured In Accident

A 21-year-old Pampa man was taken to Highland General Hospital Sunday after he was run over by a vehicle driven by his father.

Officers investigating the incident said the father told them he did not see his son until he glanced in his rear view mirror and discovered him on the ground.

They reported that friends present took the man to the hospital.

According to the official report, the incident occurred when friends of the son arrived and he offered them a beer which the father reminded him belonged to another guest.

Words ensued, according to officers, and the father got into the vehicle to leave. While he was starting the motor, the son was trying to raise the hood, witnesses said. That is when the accident occurred.

The young man was not believed to be seriously injured.

Obituaries

MRS. L.H. GREENE Wednesday 2 p.m. services are set in First Baptist Church for Mrs. L.H. Lula Greene, 90, 510 N. Somerville, who died at 2:30 a.m. Monday in St. Ann's Rest Home in Panhandle.

Rev. Claude Cone, minister, assisted by George Warren, will officiate. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery by Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors, Inc.

Born in Collin County April 8, 1883, she moved to Pampa in 1906.

Survivors include one son, Bill Greene, Pampa; two daughters - in-law, Mrs. Bob Green, Sunray, and Mrs. Guss Greene, Pampa; 11 grandchildren; 25 great grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mainly About People

The Gray County Association for Retarded Children has announced that deadline for a summer camp for mentally retarded boys and girls is June 1. The camp is scheduled to be held June 17 through June 30 at Camp Wigwam, located north of Amarillo, and will consist of two one-week sessions.

Garage Sale—316 Anne Wednesday - Thursday (Adv.)

Your Laundry and Lucky's will close Saturday 12:00 noon starting June 2 (Adv.)

Garage Sale: 1025 Mary Ellen (Adv.)

Interested in car pool to West Texas this Summer? 665-1237 (Adv.)

For Sale—Clean 1961 4 door Chevrolet 665-5003 (Adv.)

Authorities Arrest Forgery Suspects

An alert pharmacist at a local drug store may be responsible for the apprehension of persons who passed forged prescriptions in Borger last week.

The pharmacist became suspicious of a prescription rendered to him last Wednesday and called the Gray County sheriff's office. The parties seeking to fill the prescription fled, but the pharmacist obtained the license number of the car they were driving.

Investigations in Amarillo and Borger have resulted in the arrest of one suspect in Amarillo, with law officers planning to take two more in custody today.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan commended the pharmacist for his alertness when the spurious prescription was presented.

Hospital Offers Therapy Class

Highland General Hospital will offer an introductory course in respiratory therapy beginning June 5. The course will be offered from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings for nine weeks.

The course is designed to introduce persons to the basic knowledge required to enter the hospital as a trainee to become a technician assistant in the Respiratory Therapy department. It will be taught by the faculty of the Respiratory Therapy Associate Degree Program from Amarillo College.

The topics covered will include study of respiratory structure and function, respiratory therapy equipment and its proper application, and introduction to the general knowledge necessary to begin to learn how to be a safe and effective therapist.

Respiratory Therapy is one of the newest paramedical professions, providing the relief available to patients through the use of oxygen, medicines, and machines designed to improve ventilation.

People interested in the opportunity to learn to serve patients and work in this new field should contact Miss Verneil Meador, R.N., director of nursing service at Highland.

Chamber Slates Second Check-In

The second check-in of the Chamber of Commerce's Membership Round-up will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the chamber offices, according to Gene Steel, campaign director.

All team members are urged to attend the Wednesday morning check-in so plans can be made for the final check-in Friday morning, June 1, at 11 a.m. in the chamber office.

Forty-eight workers divided into eight teams are competing for top prizes in the memberships drive to enlist new members and renew current members who have not paid 1973 dues.

Advertisement for CAPRI featuring a woman's face and text: "Please don't reveal the secret of The Other", "COMPLETE LINE OF KITCHEN CARPETS - INDOOR-OUTDOOR CARPET", "OVER 5,000 SAMPLES ON DISPLAY. LARGE SELECTION OF REG. & SHAG CARPET IN STOCK.", "ALL MATERIALS 1ST QUALITY LIFETIME WARRANTY ON CUSHION. PROFESSIONAL INSTALLATION. SHOP & SAVE.", "REOPENING SOON LaVISTA THEATER"

YEAGER HEARING AID. Repairs on all makes can be handled through this office. Serving The Golden State for 3 yrs. Is Now Located in The B&B Pharmacy. Will Be in Office Each Wednesday. Those With Hearing Problems are Invited in For a Free Audiometric Test Without Obligation.

Carmichael-Whitley. Pampa's Leading FUNERAL DIRECTORS. 665-2323

GOSPEL MEETING. Monday, May 28th through Saturday, June 3rd. 7:30 Nightly. T.A. Williams of Tulsa Evangelist. Enesh Fuller Song Leader. OKLAHOMA STREET CHURCH of CHRIST. 506 Oklahoma St. Wayne Lemons, Minister. 669-3311

Drunkel. Pampa, Texas. PHONE 669-3311

HELLO Graves in the N tap num by left

WEDNES Your birth ting to fund goal for a retaining a ments. You to be some day's native with a read responsibility eye for pres Aries [Ma However it seems, it y windfall You ed between the commun Taurus [A Ask cooper more nor you'd expect do. with av Social activi Gemini [N You go alon unless you b of them. It' out early, st Cancer [J

Price 'Stability' Has Uncertainty

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Those who claim to see equilibrium returning to the economy later this year are saying that the furious surge in prices during the first quarter was the result of exceptional circumstances. These same circumstances, they are advised, will exert progressively less pressure on prices as the year wears on, and the economy will resume the same, normal course plotted for it by the nation's leaders. The blame, therefore, is placed on unforeseen events, on "temporary forces," as it was put by Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. No policy changes are required, Stein said in congressional testimony. And what were these temporary phenomena that wrecked the plans? First, a spurt in food prices, Stein indicated, curiously confusing cause and effect. Yes, prices rose because prices rose, but why did they rise? One reason was the sale of grain to the Soviets. Another was a sharp downturn in Peruvian fishmeal production, which caused expensive feeds to be provided to livestock. And there was poor weather. Another explanation is that there was a surge in economic activity, which again sounds more like the effect of short-sighted economic policy rather than an explanation of why a sound policy foundered. If it is the job of the Council of Economic Advisers to analyze probabilities and adjust their planning, why wasn't the surge foreseen and appropriate action taken? A temporary lapse? Next on the list of explanations is the dollar devaluation, which caused an increase in the price of imports, and then the shift of wage-price controls from Phase 2 restraint to Phase 3 confusion. It can be assumed that, even if the likelihood of a dollar devaluation were foreseen, it really couldn't have been effectively worked into planning. But the shift from Phase 2 to Phase 3 is entirely the administration's doing. So also is it the administration's responsibility for allowing fears to grow among buyers that sent them on a spending spree to avoid higher prices and the tendency of sellers to mark up prices in fear of another freeze. But as Stein argues, "Most of these phenomena were, we believe, temporary," and that brings up the question of what temporary phenomena might possibly intrude in coming months. One possibility is that workers will become more adamant about raises. One thing that typical Americans cannot abide is the feeling they have lost ground, are worse off than a year ago. But this is so for many workers. Another is that consumer plans might be more extensive than foreseen. A Conference Board study released today shows that, while consumers have grown pessimistic about business, their purchase plans are up sharply. Strong consumer spending could, in turn, cause manufacturers to raise their capital spending programs, putting further inflationary pressure on the nation's ability to meet demands. Or perhaps business will overcompensate and be left with huge excess capacity that could lead to recession. While the worst is said to be over in regard to the food-price rise, a forecast made before by Stein, is there any assurance that a late summer drought, a wet fall or an early winter won't raise havoc with food prices? And what of the delicate psychological factors that so often affect markets, such as world opinion and the value of the dollar, and thus force changes in the best-laid plans for the domestic economy? In its broadest terms, the psychological uncertainties relate to the question: Will the President be able to rally opinion behind his plans and convince people of the financial stability of the U.S.A.?

Pentagon Wants Possibly Unnecessary Weapons

With the end of the Vietnam War and improving U.S. relations with Russia and China, World War III seems less than imminent. Yet this nation is buying awesome weapons on a high-priority basis. Are we buying what we need? This last in a series from the AP Special Assignment Team explores that question.

By JEANHELLER Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force wants to spend over $1 billion for an aircraft called the AX, designed to give close air support to ground troops. The AX may never be needed unless this country fights another ground war in Europe, a very remote possibility. The slow AX is vulnerable to attack from enemy aircraft and, while it protects ground troops, it needs another aircraft to protect it. So the Air Force is buying the F15 Eagle which, under current plans, will cost $7.8 billion. Some defense experts insist both jobs could be done satisfactorily by the F4 Phantom, an airplane already in the U.S. arsenal. The Navy wants to spend at least $13.5 billion on a new submarine called Trident which would give the United States more nuclear firepower against Russia. Twenty existing Polaris-Posidon submarines with MIRV—multiple—warheads already have the capability of delivering between 3,200 and 4,480 weapons to the Soviet Union. By 1976, under programs already funded, there will be 31 Polaris-Posidon submarines able to fire between 4,960 and 6,944 warheads at Russia.

The administration is asking Congress for $657 million for fiscal 1974—on top of $229 million received last year—to build a new nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. Such a ship has no role whatever in strategic defense. Its usefulness is limited solely to small wars like Vietnam. "I won't say flatly that these are things we shouldn't be buying, but I don't think anybody has seriously asked if we really need them or not," Adm. Gene LaRoque said in an interview. LaRoque is the former commander of a naval task force that comprised half of the Sixth Fleet and is now director of the Center for Defense Information here. The center is a non-profit clearing house for defense information.

"We have to start equating the forces that the Pentagon wants to buy with the job that needs to be done," LaRoque said. "Instead we've gotten on this syndrome of buying a new shiny thing that goes faster and higher than the old thing, and that has become rationale enough to the Pentagon."

Take the nuclear aircraft carrier. Aircraft carriers were very effective in World War II. Ask the Navy where they've been effective since then and they'll tell you in Lebanon and Vietnam. They've been of no strategic value. And they're terrible vulnerable to enemy attack. In all-out war, they wouldn't last a day.

Col. Edward Miller, a retired Air Force officer, is associate director of the center. He said in an interview he is concerned that the AX is too limited in capabilities and may have hidden costs that will make it prohibitively expensive.

"So if we buy the AX, we have to buy the F15 for the air superiority and interdiction," he said. Some Texas congressional powers are pushing to have the AX scrapped in favor of continued production of the A7, an attack plane built by LTV Aerospace Corp., in Texas. The Texans contend the close air support mission could be done as well and more cheaply by the A7 than by developing a new aircraft.

While Miller says the Center is not trying to put down all new Pentagon projects, he questions whether enough thought was given to the nation's bomber force before the Air Force began spending what will eventually be $11 billion for 244 new B1 bombers.

"No one disputes that the B1 has some performance advantages over the current B52s," Miller said. "But I'm not sure those performance advantages are good reasons to go ahead with production."

A study of the B1 done by the center indicates that, while the B1 can fly higher and faster, and lower and faster, than the B52, the B52 can carry exactly the same weapons as the B1. In addition, because of the ABM treaty limiting nations' missile defenses, the B52 could penetrate Soviet air space as well as the B1. Each B1 will cost about $45 million. Each B52 costs $8 million.

"The life span of the B52 with the recent modernization is well into the 1980s," Miller said. "I just don't think the B1 is that urgently needed."

Robert Anderson, president of Rockwell International, the company which is building the B1 disagrees. "The youngest B52 will be 16 to 20 years old when the first B1 goes into use," he said. "The oldest one will be close to 30. The plane is tired and worn out. I wasn't suggesting that we abandon the B1," Miller said. "I'm just suggesting we might not need it as urgently as the Air Force says we do."

PRINCESS ANNE "Ohhh-ing" at the steeplechase riding events at Badminton, England, evokes a question: Does she buy her blue jeans at a discount house or in Paris?

Haig Warns Of Isolationism

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Gen. Alexander M. Haig says the United States must remain a vigorous force in world affairs and not retreat into isolationism. Addressing the graduating class of Niagara University on Sunday, the general urged the seniors not "to cop out on the world."

To do so, he added, "would be at great peril for ourselves and the world." Haig, a newly appointed White House aide, did not make any direct reference to the Watergate affair. He noted that some people desired the destruction of certain institutions, but he advised, "Don't change institutions because of their imperfections. Correct the imperfections."

Addressing the graduating class of Niagara University on Sunday, the general urged the seniors not "to cop out on the world."

To do so, he added, "would be at great peril for ourselves and the world."

Haig, a newly appointed White House aide, did not make any direct reference to the Watergate affair.

He noted that some people desired the destruction of certain institutions, but he advised, "Don't change institutions because of their imperfections. Correct the imperfections."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Tuesday, May 29, the 149th day of 1973. There are 216 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1453, the capital of the Byzantine Empire, Constantinople, was captured by the Turks. The date is listed by some historians as the end of the Middle Ages.

On this date: In 1736, the American patriot, Patrick Henry, was born in Hanover County, Va.

In 1790, Rhode Island became the last of the 13 original colonies to ratify the U.S. Constitution.

In 1848, Wisconsin joined the Union as the 30th state.

In 1917, the 35th American president, John F. Kennedy, was born in Brookline, Mass.

In 1943, the Americans defeated the Japanese in the Pacific war Battle of Attu in the Aleutians.

In 1953, Edmond Hillary of New Zealand and Tensing Norkey of Nepal became the first climbers to reach the top of the world's highest mountain, Mt. Everest.

Ten years ago, President John F. Kennedy was honored as "father of the year" on his 46th birthday.

Five years ago, in South Vietnam, quiet was returning to suburbs of Saigon after a series of attacks by enemy troops.

One year ago, in Moscow, President Nixon and Soviet Communist party Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev signed a declaration pledging an era of peaceful coexistence between the United States and U.S.S.R.

Today's birthdays: Dancer and choreographer Pearl Lang is 51. Comedienne Beatrice Lillie is 75.

Thought for today: Initiative is doing the right thing without being told — Victor Hugo.

Vote NO! - Vote Against the School Bond Issue May 30!

THESE ARE ONLY SOME OF THE REASONS: -

Taxpayers' Nightmare: Carver Center Fiasco:

The only notice of the Pampa School Board called meeting held at 8 a.m. May 18, 1973 at the Carver Center was a notice at the Courthouse. School administrators surprised some school board members with a guest, Mr. Davis, who represented Columbian Securities Corporation of San Antonio, Texas, the hopeful fiscal agent. Mr. Davis had all the legal answers regarding an administration proposed one million dollar bond issue. The school business manager outdid himself and painted such a rosy picture of a cure-all $1,000,000.00 bond issue that the board of education turned financial wizards and surprised all school administrators and guest, Mr. Davis, by insisting on adding $200,000.00 to the million dollar bond. The school administrators argued "no need for more than one million" but the board won the argument because "It would be too embarrassing if we run out of money to spend." Mr. Davis called the home office for new figures, and was hired on the spot 15 minutes later for his fast work. In fact, it all happened so fast no one had a chance to decide what they were going to spend all of that money for until after they officially voted to call the election.

VOTE AGAINST FAST BOND ISSUES! VOTE NO!

Why Was the Election Called in 10 Days with Only 3 Days for Absentee Balloting?

This quickie surprise bond issue enabled "black-mailed" vacation-bound school employees to vote absentee before school was out. Absentee election clerks and officials are school business office employees who were free to observe the voting, and violated voter secret ballot privilege. Voting booths were not conveniently provided. Vote NO! to election irregularities! Vote against the School Bond Issue.

Worn-Out School Bus Myth:

It has been stated by School Officials that "No school buses have been purchased in the past five years." The May 15, 1972 School Board Agenda states that the board voted unanimously to order two 66 passenger buses. The bus inventory lists two 1970 model buses.

It is a fact that five regular bus routes were eliminated two years ago, and these buses have eased the existing load. There are 12 regular school bus routes, and 22 buses. Qualified full-time mechanics have kept this fleet in good condition. VOTE NO to extravagant spending needlessly!

Is the School District Really Out of Operating Funds?

It has been publicly stated several times in the past week that: "The School is out of operating funds, and is currently borrowing money to pay bills." Page 40 of the May School Board Agenda reflects investments, as of April 30, 1973 - $534,805. These will all mature during the 1972-73 school year. Page 42 of the same agenda lists Building Fund Investments, as of April 30, 1973 of $50,625.00 maturing Oct. 6, 1973. Therefore the School District is not out of money.

No Tax-Increase Bond Bargain

FACT: If No Pampa School Tax Bonds are voted: - Due to pay-off of major bond indebtedness during the 1972-73 school year, bond rates are scheduled to decrease 15% of the present bond rate down to 34¢ - Now - not four years from now! If the bond issue passes, the proposed 6¢ increase will pay ONLY the interest, leaving the $1,200,000 principal unpaid for the next four years. This deferred principal payment wastes $240,000.00 interest. Vote NO!

The "Balanced" Budget

In August, 1972, Dr. James Malone, superintendent of Pampa Schools, and Homer Craig, school business manager, presented a budget for 1972-73 with no deficit. This budget was unanimously adopted by the Board of Education, and was publicly presented as a balanced budget! $444,225 budgeted for the vocational building will balance, but it appears now that budgeted teacher salaries - instructional categories 213.1 elementary teachers and 213.2 secondary teachers will exceed budgeted amounts by more than $100,000.

Vocational Building Deficit:

It has been stated by school officials that a large Vocational Building Deficit was caused by state dictation as to the site and building plans.

EXPLANATION: The May 8, 1973 School Board agenda shows the budget amount: Capital Outlay Buildings, $444,235.00. $387,058 has been expended, including the $24,000.00 spent in May which leaves $57,177.00 in the budget to date. As of May 8, 1973, $60,494 were required to complete the building. The total bid on the Vocational Building was $422,063.00. $6,000 is to be paid to the architect. Vote AGAINST the School Bond Issue!

Don't Be Fooled -

School officials, explaining the 1973-74 budget deficit proclaim "Homestead exemption will cost Pampa Schools a minimum of $50,000 per year when carried into effect in our local school district."

FACT: Homestead exemption does not apply to current bond requirements, and must be paid by all property owners. If this issue passes, senior citizens also will be required to pay this tax until it is paid in full. Vote NO!

Once-A-Year SALE!

The GENIE portable sewing machine

The perfect gift for brides, graduates, everyone who sews or wants to sew... The Genie super-portable is compact... but mighty! Loaded with features like 1. The exclusive front drop-in bobbin. 2. Multiple built-in stitches: multi-stitch, blindstitch and zig-zag to sew everything from cotton to leather. 3. Makes sewing so easy with up-front dialing and push-button control. 4. The sleek glide-on carry case provides spare room for sewing accessories. Save now for nifty giving... even to yourself!

This week only $129 Reg. 149.95

ONLY $67 for a Singer zig-zag sewing machine! And no other brand offers the Singer 122-Year assurance of quality and dependability. That's value. Model 177.

SINGER

Sewing Centers and participating approved dealers

Singer has a liberal trade-in policy. Also, a Credit Plan is available at Singer Sewing Centers and many approved dealers. For address of store or dealer nearest you, see the yellow pages under SEWING MACHINES.

*A trademark of THE SINGER COMPANY

VOTE NO TOMORROW! - VOTE AGAINST THE PAMPA SCHOOL BOND ISSUE!

Paid For By Citizens For Better Pampa Schools

Loafer son no longer a 'minor' problem

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Our son was given every opportunity for as much education as he wanted, plus room and board without costing him a quarter, but as the kids say today, "he blew it."

Now he comes and goes as he pleases, lounges around the house, reading, listening to records, eating like a king, contributing nothing, and making long speeches about what is wrong with the world. We told him to please get out until he either gets a job or goes back to school and completes his education. So far, neither alternative appeals to him.

He says that he is a minor and we have to take care of him until he is 21. That means another eight months, and I don't think we can take it. Any suggestions?

HAD IT IN DETROIT

DEAR HAD IT: In Detroit your son is an adult at 18, and he has no more right to live on your property than a stranger. You can give him the official 30 days notice to move out of your home, and if he refuses, the court will advise him that he has 10 days to move, after which, they will "help" him.

You don't live in Detroit—you live in Atlanta, Ga., or Muscatine, Ia., or Boston, Mass.? Well, ring up your local Legal Aid Society and find out what the law in your community says.

DEAR ABBY: I have a beautiful 22-year-old daughter. She has always had many boy friends and girl friends until about a year ago when she met this one girl at school. Since then, nothing has been the same.

My daughter has dropped all her other friends and she associates only with this one girl. They are together morning, noon, and night. They have all their classes together, and after school this friend comes home with her, eats dinner here, and on weekends she spends the nights here.

They never have dates, but it doesn't seem to bother them—they are so wrapped up with each other. It just doesn't seem normal to me.

Abby, I am beginning to wonder about the relationship between these two girls. I love my daughter more than my own life. What should I do? HEARTSICK MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Let your daughter know you love her and accept her as she is. There is no more convincing proof of your love.

DEAR ABBY: What would you say about a guy who is so egotistical he flies the American flag on his birthday? He was in World War II, and all he ever did for his country was get a dishonorable discharge.

Isn't there a law against flying the American flag whenever you feel like it? And if so, what is the penalty, and where do I turn this conceited bum in?

Nothing would give me more pleasure. Thank you. GALVESTON, TEX.

DEAR GALVESTON: You'd better find another way to punish the guy. There is no law against flying the American flag anytime, or all the time.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from the housewife who said her husband got all kinds of offers from willing women to have coffee and "something" while making a delivery: I've been installing phones for five years, and the most I've ever been offered was a cup of coffee and a piece of cake.

I hope all wives whose husbands make deliveries and service calls don't think their husbands are fooling around. They aren't. Believe me, I know.

NOTHING ON THE SIDE

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOREN: Superstar misses you. Please call your mother collect immediately.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Tree Saves Man's Life

LINCOLN CITY, Ore. (AP)—A tree has saved a 22-year-old man from a 1,000-foot fall from Cascade Head on the Oregon coast.

William Mosher of Salem, Ore., was climbing the rock outcropping in tennis shoes with three companions on Sunday. He slipped and slid 150 feet before the tree—the only one nearby—snared him.

Mosher was examined and released by North Lincoln Hospital in Lincoln City.

Willy Brandt Preparing For State Visit To Israel

TEL AVIV (AP)—The black red and yellow flag of West Germany will fly over Israel next month—Chancellor Willy Brandt is coming.

It will be a delicate four-day stay, putting a final seal on the painful growth of relations between the two nations. A German official in Tel Aviv says, "We expect it to be fully successful."

But for more than 300,000 Nazi victims—who now live in Israel—half of them concentration camp victims—Brandt's stay will be a time of conflicting emotions, unlike any routine state visit. With his anti-Nazi past, Brandt is respected as a man, but his country evokes unbearable memories for many Israelis.

"We have the fullest and the deepest understanding of that, and so does the chancellor," says a German official living in Israel. "We are not so optimistic as to think that there will be no protests against him here, but if anyone throws eggs or tomatoes at him, they are throwing it at the wrong target."

There is certainly no objection to Brandt the man," said Pessach Burstein, world chairman of the organization of Former Concentration Camp Inmates. "With his anti-Nazi past, he was our comrade, and I am recommending that no demonstrations be held."

An Israeli telephone book reveals a chilling list of such survivor groups—the Association of Nazi Blind Victims, the Association of Invalid Fighters against the Nazis, the Association of ex-Pioneers of Bergen-Belsen, and others. None of them so far has disclosed plans to demonstrate against Brandt.

"I do not oppose Mr. Brandt's coming," said Kitty Schweiger, 54, a former Austrian who works for the Organization of Survivors from Bergen-Belsen, which alone has more than 4,000 members.

"But I think the Germans did Austrian Jews an enormous injustice," she said, recalling how she was deported in 1938. "All my people were killed. I went to Hungary and hid in the forests."

Such stories are commonplace in Israel, where only a few years ago people would spit at Volkswagens. The music of Wagner and Richard Strauss is still banned by the Israeli Philharmonic Orchestra, and Yad Vashem—a huge government institution dedicated to Nazi victims—is a magnet for Israeli emotions.

Brandt's first act in Israel will be to lay a wreath at Yad Vashem, on a floor paved with black stones, each carved with the name of a death camp.

The German chancellor arrives June 7, and Israeli security is so tight that specific details of his schedule are secret. The security, however, is mostly against possible Arab guerrilla attacks.

Brandt is the first West German government leader to visit Israel. President Gustav Heinemann, who holds the ceremonial office of West German chief of state, visited in 1971 without major incidents.

Brandt will meet Premier Golda Meir and Foreign Minister Abba Eban, visit collective farm settlements, walk around the old Arab city of Jerusalem and tour the ancient Jewish fortress of Masada. He will move at full speed and get a minimum of public exposure.

"It will be a working visit and not just a formality," said a German diplomat. "But we have no bilateral problems and there are no specific items on the agenda. One thing is certain, and that is that Germany is not going to make suggestions or offer a solution to the Middle East dispute."

Mrs. Meir has made clear she does not want Germany to get involved in the dispute, and said she and Brandt will discuss only general issues.

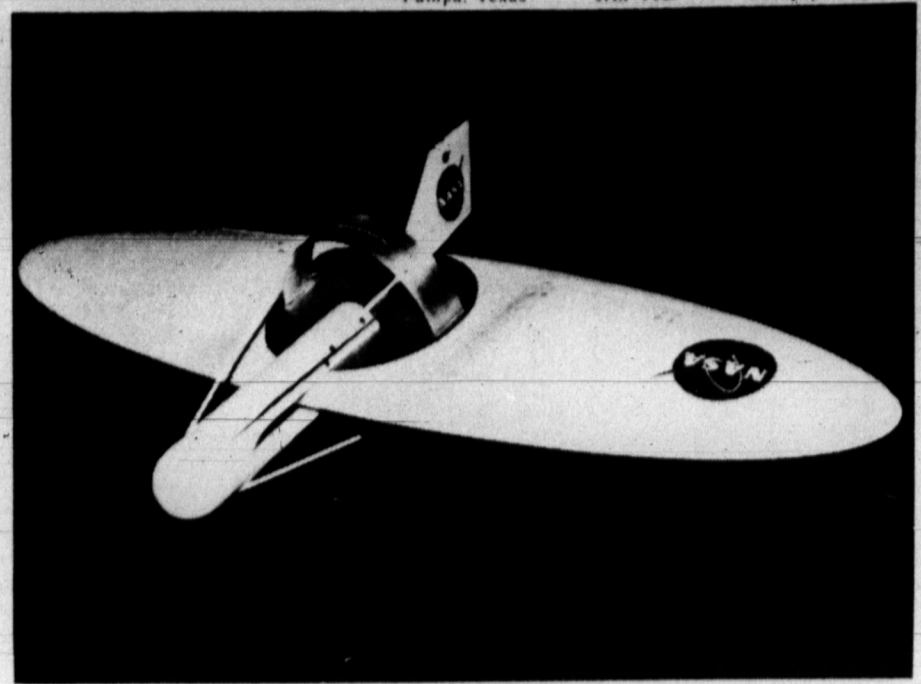

"We are in no position to act as a mediator," said the German official. "We try to preserve complete political neutrality between Israel and the Arabs, but as Mr. Brandt has said, there can be no neutrality of the heart as far as Israel is concerned."

The long path to normalcy in relations between the Jewish state and Bonn began with a secret compensation meeting 21 years ago. In 1952, Germany began restitution payments that so far total about $10 billion to the state of Israel and individual Israeli Jews.

Part of the payments were in industrial goods which helped build Israel—from merchant ships to traffic lights, water pipes to textile looms and power plants that opened up the Negev Desert. Cash payments fueled the present-day prosperity. By the mid-1950s, Israel was getting military equipment and selling its own Uzi submachine guns to the German army.

Lakes, rivers and reservoirs cover less than 1 per cent of Nebraska's 77,227 square miles. But Nebraska has a bigger underground water supply than any other state in the union.

IT'S A WIND TUNNEL MODEL of an advanced technology Remotely Piloted Vehicle being designed for NASA's Ames Research Center, Mountain View, Calif. Such an all-wing RPV has wide potential for civil and military uses. The final craft will have a 90 hp engine, 22-foot wingspan, and will cruise at about 130 knots. Weight will be about 500 pounds.

One Group Ladies Dresses Originally 20.00 to 150.00 Reduced 1/4 to 1/2	Limited Group Safari Shirts Sizes 8-10-12 Only in colors of yellow, brown, lilac or purple. Long sleeves. Polyester-cotton poplin. Usually 6.00. 4.88	Large Group! Junior Sportswear Originally 6.00 to 30.00 Reduced 1/3 to 1/2 Broken sizes and styles from coordinated groups. Famous labels in desirable fabrics. JUNIOR DRESSES Originally 16.00 to 32.00 Now 1/2 Price Famous brands for juniors in broken sizes.
Select groups of famous labels for misses or women from our regular stock. Broken sizes and styles in polyester knits or seasonal fabrics. One Group Pants-Tops Nylon or polyester pants in waist sizes 30 thru 40. Long or short sleeve tops in 38 thru 44. Broken sizes and styles. Originally to 20.00 ..... 6.99 to 9.99	Limited Group Girls Dresses Limited group of famous labels mostly in sizes 4 thru 6X, originally 10.00 to 18.00 1/3 Off One Group Canvas Oxfords Famous brand in two styles. Broken sizes, originally 6.00 and 6.50 3.99

CLEARANCE

OPEN THURSDAY 'til 8:00 pm

Remember - Father's Day June 17

One Group Mens Suits were 85.00 to 125.00 Reduced 1/4 to 1/2		Over 125 Pairs Men's Famous Name SHOES <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Straps</li> <li>● Slip-ons</li> <li>● Oxfords</li> </ul> Originally 18.00 to 24.00
One Group Polyester Double Knit Pants Were to 20.00 10.90		Men's Polyester Double Knit Coats Save up to 20.10 on these polyester knit sport coats. Great choice of colors, checks, bold plaids or neat patterns in a choice of color tonings. Two button, center vent models with new broad sweep lapels. Polyester double knit that holds its crisp look throughout a long day and bounces back for the next one. Regulars 38 through 46; longs 39 through 44. 39.90

DUNLAPS

Pampa's Finest Department Store

Coronado Center

OPEN DAILY and SUNDAY
11 a.m. - 2 p.m.; 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Child's Plate 75¢

Banquet Rooms Available

Enjoy Piano Artistry Evenings at Furr's

SUNDAY MENU

MEATS
Baked Chicken Lasagna ..... 65¢
Roast Prime Ribs of Beef, au jus, a generous cut of aged beef ..... $1.89

VEGETABLES
Tomato and Onion Stack ..... 25¢
Sunshine Carrots ..... 24¢

SALADS
Cherry Nut Gelatin Salad ..... 25¢
Furr's Fresh Fruit Salad ..... 30¢

DESSERTS
German Chocolate Cake with Coconut Pecan Icing ..... 35¢
Egg Custard Pie ..... 30¢

MONDAY MENU

MEATS
Barbecued Spareribs ..... 89¢
Seafood Platter ..... $1.69

VEGETABLES
Raisin Nut Rice ..... 20¢
Green Limas in Cheese Sauce ..... 30¢

SALADS
Date Marshmallow Waldorf Salad ..... 30¢
Cottage Cheese with Radish, Green Onion and Bell Pepper ..... 28¢

DESSERTS
Chocolate Chiffon Pie ..... 30¢ Hot Cherry Cobbler ..... 30¢

ns carry exactl as the B1. In e of the ABM
tions' missile 2 could pene ace as well a will cost abou
B52 costs $8

f the B52 with ization is well filler said. "The e close to 30 and worn out esting that we Miller said ing we might nly as the Air do.

e perat-

the past funds, ills."
reflects
5. These ar.
Page Invest-tating not out voted: - during heduled down to e bond

y ONLY ncipal ncipal
NO!

tendent business with no pted by esented for the ars now tional 3.2 secnds by a large ate dic-

l Board Outlay
s been in May late. As omplete uilding to the suel budget will cost ar when 1."

y to curd by all citizens is paid

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Dr. Rundle has neatly diagnosed a major problem of medicine. Taxes would drop and church budgets would thus be much easier to meet if we could divert 50,000,000 psychosomatic patients from physicians to clergymen and church organizations!

CASE X-520: Dr. Frank Rundle is an astute physician. "Dr. Crane," a prison official informed me, "Dr. Rundle recently diagnosed one of the most crucial problems of our inmates."

"For he said that most men in prison are incredibly in need of psychological attention."

"They yearn for human warmth and concern. But often the only avenue open to them is through medical complaints."

"Dr. Crane, isn't that also a chief reason why older people make it a habit to descend on physicians regularly for placebos and a little fatherly advice?"

PSYCHOTHERAPY

When an elderly woman loses her husband, she feels as "wobbly" mentally as the confirmed cripple whose crutch is taken away.

For wives (as well as husbands) learn to lean upon their mates for companionship, conversation, compliments and comfort.

Widows thus feel an overwhelming urge to be consoled and uplifted by masculine words.

Clergymen and physicians are the two major professions that such lonely oldsters feel they can consult.

But they realize they dare not impose on the preacher every week.

If they develop psychosomatic ailments, however, then it will seem legitimate to schedule a weekly appointment with a physician.

For they pay him his fee, so they are not embarrassed by the sense of unrequited obligation they would suffer if they barged in upon their clergyman chronically.

Besides, they grow unduly apprehensive about their health after they have lost their mate. For now they may be all alone in the house.

"Suppose I should fall and break my hip?" they wonder. "Or maybe I might have a heart attack or a stroke!"

These worries are magnified because they realize nobody else is in their home to look after them or phone the doctor.

So they grow increasingly obsessed with their "innards." For marriage extroverts a person by making him focus at least part of the time on his mate.

But when the latter is gone, this external object for affection, consolation and conversation, is missing.

If such a widow formerly diverted at least 50 percent of her thoughts to her mate, that 50 percent is now unharassed mental energy.

So she tends to turn much of it back upon herself.

Millions of widows in America wouldn't need sleeping pills and the usual placebos (sugar pills and tranquilizers) if they were to remarry soon.

Alas—the women above 21 years of age now outnumber men by at least 5,000,000, so most of the widows must "buy" masculine attention via periodic visits to the local doctor's office.

The usual M.D. thus functions indirectly in lieu of the missing husband, both to widows as well as divorcees, and often serves as a father symbol, plus a small edition of God Almighty.

We have plenty of medics in America without wasting more taxes on National Health Insurance and other boondoggling projects!

For 85 percent of patients will get well without any drug store medicines or surgery!

If our churches relieved medics of these millions of psychosomatic patients, our taxes would drop, while church budgets would be much easier to meet!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Worry Clinic, Hopkins Bldg., Marion, Indiana 47630. Enclose a long stamped, addressed envelope and 15 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Social Security Q And A

(Have you a question about social security? Address it to Howard L. Weatherly, Branch Manager, Social Security Administration, 1541 North Hobart, Pampa, Texas 79065. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.)

By HOWARD L. WEATHERLY

Q. Does Medicare pay for prescription drugs?

A. No. Prescription drugs and biologicals that you can administer yourself are not covered.

Q. I go to my doctor every 12 or 18 months for a routine check-up. Is this covered by Medicare?

A. No. Medicare does not pay for routine medical examinations.

Q. I was taken to the local hospital by ambulance. Medicare paid that bill. However, my local doctor said that I would need to see a specialist in a distant city, and I was sent to the hospital near the specialist's office by ambulance. Medicare refused to pay that ambulance bill. Why?

A. If the hospital in which you are a patient has the necessary equipment to care for you, Medicare will not pay for the cost of moving you to another hospital even though it might be more convenient to you or your doctors.

Q. I was sent to an extended care facility after spending a week in the hospital. Medicare paid for 12 days of care in the nursing home and then notified me that the services were no longer covered. Am I not entitled to 100 days of coverage?

A. Extended care services are covered only as long as the patient needs full-time skilled nursing care. Custodial care—helping with walking, eating, bathing, taking of routine medications, and the like—is not covered. Ask your nursing home personnel to explain to you why your coverage stopped.

Name Changed

Henry Wilson, vice-president under President Grant, was born Jeremiah Jones Colbath but later changed his name to Henry Wilson.

Noah's Ark

In the 7th chapter of Genesis it is recorded that Noah was 600 years old when he completed the ark, but it does not say how long was required to build it.

Television And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The NBC Television network, which gave us the "Today" show in 1952 and "Tonight" in 1954, plans "Tomorrow," a late-hour interview show, starting this fall.

The host of the one-hour program will be Tom Snyder, a Milwaukee, Wis., native. He's been the 6 p.m. news anchorman since 1970 at KNBC-TV, a Los Angeles area station owned by NBC.

"Tomorrow" is aimed at earlier risers or night owls, depending on one's point of view. It'll start at 1 a.m. Tuesday through Friday right after the Monday-through Thursday "Tonight" shows.

"Tomorrow" is described by NBC as a "sophisticated talk show" that will tackle controversial, adult subjects. Snyder will discuss these subjects with one or more experts and various personalities.

Some of the shows will cover the lighter side of life, according to NBC, which says "Tomorrow" will be taped without an audience at the network's studios in Burbank, Calif.

The idea for the show was developed by Mort Werner, NBC's senior vice president for program planning and one of the developers of the successful "Today" and "Tonight" shows.

When the show begins, probably in October, it will mark the first time a network has regularly scheduled broadcasting past 1 a.m. on weekdays, although NBC has been starting its "Midnight Special" pop music show at 1 a.m. every Saturday since Feb. 3 this year.

"Tomorrow" will end only five hours before the "Today" show begins and could lead to even more network programming in the predawn hours on weekdays.

Changes also are afoot at the CBS Television network. But they involve a change of anchor-men on the CBS Morning News, a program we always have considered a good, well-edited hour of news.

CBS says John Hart, anchorman of the show since August 1970, and his Washington-based co-anchorman, Nelson Benton, are being reassigned. The change is expected by midsummer at the latest.

They'll be replaced by another two-member anchor team, one of whom will be a woman. Their names are expected to be announced in several weeks. A CBS spokesman said.

Richard S. Salant, CBS News president, reported the change earlier this month to a CBS affiliates meeting in Los Angeles. He said the decision to change was hard to make, but that "our support was eroding." He said in an interview later he meant that a number of CBS affiliates now either aren't carrying the show—which appears opposite the first hour of NBC's "Today"—or are broadcasting only 30 minutes of it.

TV Log

- 6:30 4-Hollywood Squares
- 7-Hee Haw
- 10-To Tell the Truth
- 7:00 4-Movie, "A Time For Love"
- 10-Maude
- 7:30 7-Movie, "Five Desperate Women"
- 10-Hawaii Five-O
- 8:30 10-Movie, "Your Money or Your Wife"
- 9:00 4-It Takes a Thief
- 7-Marcus Welby, M.D.
- 10:00 4-7.10-News
- 10:30 4-Johnny Carson
- 10-Movie, "Which Way to the Front"
- 10:45 7-Bonanza
- 11:45 7-Jack Paar Tonight
- 12:00 4-News
- 12:25 10-News

Nationalization Threatened

CAIRO (AP) — Libya may nationalize the holdings of Western oil companies unless they accept the government's demands in negotiations now under way. President Moammar Khadafy says.

"We are seeking to achieve full control of Libyan oil, and nationalization is a feasibility," the Libyan leader said Sunday in an interview with the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al-Ahram.

The largest oil operation in Libya is the Oasis oil group, which is owned primarily by four U.S. firms — Continental, Amerada, Shell and Marathon.

FUN ON THE BEACH? Hardly, as the locale is central Indiana where water frontage is in short supply. But three young ballplayers found a handy substitute in a sand-laced gravel pit, giving James R. Howard a prize-winning shot in the Kodak International Snapshot Awards.

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. I'm selling some real estate in a few months, probably at a big profit. I want to spread the payments I will receive over several years to avoid one big tax bill. What should I do?

A. You may use the installment method of reporting income to relieve you of paying tax on income that you have not collected. Under this method, you include in your gross income only the portion of each collection that constitutes profit. If a sale results in a loss, you may not use the installment method.

In general, you may use the installment method for the sale of real estate if: 1) the buyer agrees to make two or more payments in two or more of your tax years and 2) the collections, if you receive any, in the year of the sale do not exceed 30 percent of the selling price. You should make the election to use the installment method in your tax return for the year of the sale. For more details, see IRS Publication 537, "Installment and Deferred Payment Sales." It's available free by writing your Internal Revenue district office.

Q. Last year I filed a withholding exemption certificate so I wouldn't have to have tax withheld from my pay. Do I have to file a new one to be exempt from withholding this year?

A. Yes. Withholding Exemption Certificates (Form W-4E) must be filed annually. So if you did not owe any tax last year, expect to owe none in 1973, and file a new Form W-4E with your employer, you will be exempt from income tax withholding throughout 1973.

Remember, if tax has already been withheld from your 1973 pay, you must file a tax return next year to have it refunded.

Q. When will I receive my refund check?

A. It normally takes six weeks, but it may take longer if you mailed your return near the April 15 deadline. Delays will also occur if the return is incomplete or inaccurate.

If you have not received your refund or a letter explaining the reason for the delay within 10 weeks after mailing your return, contact your local IRS office or write the IRS office where you filed your return. Give all details including your social security number, current address, and the approximate date the return was filed.

Q. Does the Internal Revenue Service pay interest to the taxpayer when it is late in issuing a refund?

A. Yes. However, the IRS has 45 days from the due date of the return or the date of filing, whichever is later, to issue a refund without payment of interest. If it takes longer than that, interest at an annual rate of 6 percent from the due date or the date of filing, whichever is later, is added to the refund.

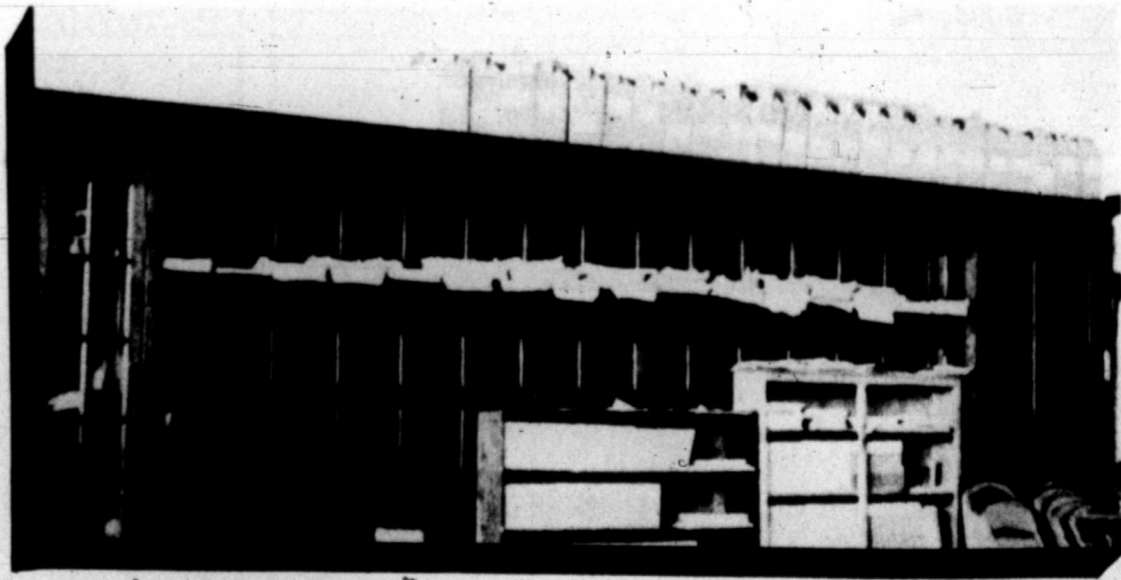

Have You Read Page 7

political Advertisement Paid For by Friends of Pampa Independent School District. Lee Fraser, Chairman.

Some would have you think the bond issue was proposed because we are in a "hole"... -It's because the children are!

Let us show you some of the holes students study in attending Pampa schools. Buildings date back to the 20s. Rooms are high-ceilinged and dark with no wall plugs at all. The whole thing is laced together with antiquated wiring described by one electrician as "a fiddle strung with gut from a cat with enemies." No wiring conduit was used in those days. A crew working at one of the old schools reported a transformer too hot for workmen to touch! We feel these class rooms are the real deficit that must be faced.

The bond issue will alter them - make them light and safe.

Practice positive thinking... Vote FOR the BOND ISSUE tomorrow!

A Little Insanity Puts D.J. on Top No Stealth for Steele — LOUD, Man!

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — When television came in, they said radio was dead. It isn't. Far from it. It's a huge, rousing business and probably the chief reason is the disc jockey, the D.J.

He's a phenomenon, this character who plays records and talks and sells beer and shampoo and everything else. Of them all, the one with the biggest impact in each city is generally on the Top 40 stations, the station that plays only those records which are the current best-sellers on the charts.

The Real Don Steele

"I like the loudness. I like it all around me..."

In Los Angeles, KHJ is the biggest of the Top 40 stations and it's probably one of the most influential in the country. And the one D.J. who is possibly the most popular of them all is a tall, slender man who calls himself The Real Don Steele.

Record promoters say that Steele is one of the four or five most important men in the business in the nation today. He's on every afternoon, when the teen-agers come home from school, and they do their homework to his loud music and even louder chatter.

In millions of homes around southern California, in thousands of the teen-agers' cars, in garages and juke joints and on portable radios on the streets and at the beach, The Real Don Steele blasts out from 3 to 6 p.m. every weekday and Saturday. He's the man who shapes the taste of many millions of kids.

I sat with him for a couple of hours as he churned out his program. It was an experience from which my eardrums are slowly recovering. In his little studio, he keeps the level of music up, up, up, until the walls shake and the ceiling trembles.

He came in barely three minutes before air-time, wearing a white, short-sleeved shirt, blue slacks, gold-rimmed glasses. His hair is long, but not over-long.

"Are you ready to do a show?" his engineer, Jon Badaeux, asked.

"Ready, man," Steele said, and sat down at his console, plugged in his earphones and cleared his throat.

When the clock pointed to three, Badaeux gave him the signal. He was on the air.

"Hi," he said. "It's three o'clock on a wonderful Wednesday."

He shouts, he waves his arms, he half-raises out of his chair. The music begins. He has two opened packs of cigarettes — one white, one brown paper — and alternates between them. There is a paper cup of coffee at his side constantly.

As the music plays, he raps on the table with his pencil, keeping time to the frantic rhythm.

The station is always running some kind of contest. This one required listeners to call in with answers. He said he'd take the ninth call and he did. He was all business as he asked the caller to spell his name, spell the name of the street where he lived, repeat his telephone number.

He kept planning the show as he went along, giving Badaeux his instructions.

"We go to weather, we go to Chrysler, we go to Bristol, we go to milk."

One of the songs he played was Chuck Berry's current hit, "Reelin' and Rockin'," which is full of double-entendres.

"Six or eight years ago," Steele said, turning the sound down a few decibels so we could talk, "that would have been called a party record. The morality of radio has changed."

The quiet appeared to upset him. He quickly spun the dial and the sound zoomed back up.

In front of him, on his desk, were several metal stands, on which he had forms. He kept scribbling penciled notations on them as he worked. Above, at the top of the glass wall which separated him from his engineer, a string of colored lights blinked.

As the records played, he played along with them on various imaginary instruments.

"I play all the instruments," he said, "when the records are going. I'm big on the trumpet. He (and he pointed to his engineer) thinks he's Diana Ross. And we get paid for it. Don't tell anybody."

Program manager Bill Watson had described Steele to me earlier as "crazy, but a great jock." I asked him what makes a great jock, and he said, "Being crazy helps."

"They think I'm insane," Steele said, flipping the sound down for a moment again. "I like the loudness. I like it all around me, so that I don't have to listen for it. At least that's my theory. I know they think I'm insane, but that's my theory."

He turned back to his work.

"I'm going to weather first, then American Savings and Loan, then Sears, then Peter Paul, then L-1."

The last-L-1 was a code for a record. He has a list of 30 records. During his three hours on the air, he must play all of them. He can also play a few from other lists of oldies and newies. But there is no set order. He programs as he goes along, calling them out for Badaeux to put on the table.

"I'm restricted, within boundaries," he said. "I program as I go, depending on my mood, on the pace of the show, one whatever I feel like bearing."

In his three hours, he'll average about 35 records. Some he likes more than others. He played Michael Jackson's recording of "Ben," and you could tell it wasn't one of his favorites.

"Here's a song about a rat," he said. "It's selling millions. Would you believe it?"

Occasionally, the special phone lit up. Big artists called up to chat.

"Far out," he said to one caller. "You were off the list for awhile but you're back by popular demand."

The station's vice-president, Dwight Case, told me that Steele doesn't make a six-figure salary, "but he pushes hell out of it."

"We'll do Pan Am, do a Pizza Hut, L-3, I'll do a current."

The noise was deafening. As I staggered out, he was waving his arms and there was a blissful expression on his face.

FITE FOOD

1333 N. Hobart      665-1092 or 665-8842

We Give Pampa Progress Stamps
DOUBLE STAMPS
Wednesday with $2.50 Purchase or More

Open 8 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. Daily
OPEN SUNDAY
9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

FREE DELIVERY--This Ad Good Through Saturday June 2nd

Backbone and Ribs

Country Style 98¢
Lots of Meat Lb.

U.S. Inspected, Fite's Feed Lot Beef
Arm Roast Lb. ....		98¢
U.S. Inspected, Fite's Feed Lot Beef
Chuck Roast Lb. ....		93¢
Hickory Smoked
Polish Sausage Lb. ....		$1.09
Fresh, Tender
Calf Liver Lb. ....		69¢
Fite's Smoke House
Bacon Lb. ....		89¢

We Give Pampa Progress Stamps
With All Cash Beef Purchases

BEEF

For Your Freezer

Fite's Famous Feed Lot Beef, USDA INSPECTED
Cut—Wrapped—Frozen

Half Beef	72¢	Plus 10¢ Lb Processing
Front Quarter	62¢	Plus 10¢ Lb Processing
Hind Quarter	82¢	Plus 10¢ Lb Processing

Prices Subject to change without notice
130 Days in Feed Lot—Fed 24 Hours a Day

LARGE EGGS

Nest Fresh, Grade A, Doz. .... 59¢

Shurfresh	Peter Pan	Shurfine
OLEO	Peanut Butter 18 Oz. Jar	FLOUR
Pound 25¢	89¢	Lb. 55¢
	Kingsford	5
	Charcoal 10 Lb. Bag
	89¢
	48 Oz. Bottle
	Liquid Ivory
	99¢
Assorted Colors	Mighty Dog	Shurfresh
Kleenex	Dog Food Reg. Can	Biscuits
200 Ct. 29¢	10¢	Reg. Cans 25¢
	Assorted Colors
	Delsey Tissue 4 Reg. Rolls
	51¢

Shurfine Frozen

Orange Juice 12 Oz. Can .... 45¢

Morton's Chicken, Beef

Pot Pies ..... 5 8 Oz. Pkgs. $1

Fresh, Tender

Carrots ..... 2 Pkgs. 25¢

Calif. Long White

Potatoes ..... 10 Lb. Bag $1.09

FITE FOOD No. 28743

SAVE 76¢

3 Oz. Size Reg. $1.65      89¢ With Coupon

Instant NESTEA

100% TEA

76¢ OFFER EXPIRES 6-16-73

We would like to brighten the bond issue question... -By lighting some classrooms!

The negative thinking that opposes the bond issue and progress for Pampa schools has shed no real light on the needs ... merely sounded the "NO" of rebuttal. Look at the new classroom below. Then look at some old rooms made new above. This is what we want to do for every classroom and the bond issue will make it possible. Would you by the latest craze in hi-fi for your children ... and ask them to listen to it on a wind-up gramophone? Isn't a modern classroom just as important to them? Sure, Abe Lincoln studied by a dim light but that isn't what made him great. We feel young Lincoln would have gladly voted for a bond issue that would have let him turn in his shovel slate for something better!

Have you read page 6

Positive thinking says it can be done. Your "yes" vote will make it possible.

Vote FOR the BOND ISSUE tomorrow!

Political Advertisement Paid For by Friends of Pampa Independent School Dist. Inc. Lee Fraser, Chairman.

PRICES HAVE GONE SKY-HIGH.
I CAN HARDLY AFFORD TO MAKE UP A BATCH OF BREW.
SOMETHING SHOULD BE DONE ABOUT IT!
MAYBE I'LL START A POWDERED BAT-WING BOYCOTT.

HE ADMITTED IT, AND I FORGAVE HIM...
BUT I STILL DON'T THINK A FRIEND SHOULD EAT THE HEAD OFF YOUR CHOCOLATE BUNNY!

WAY TO GO, MAN! GOT A JOB LINED UP?
ARE YOU JIVING? I'M GOING TO HANG LOOSE!
I'M GOING TO LIVE IN A COMMUNE ON UN-EMPLOYMENT CHECKS AND FOOD STAMPS.
FOR THIS WE DROVE A BROKEN DOWN, 1965, SUB-COMPACT FOR THE LAST FOUR YEARS?

MISS GRUNDY, HAVE YOU ANY IDEA WHO MIGHT WANT TO KILL YOUR NEPHEW?
CERTAINLY NOT... FLOYD'S LED A SHELTERED LIFE... HE'S WHAT ONE MIGHT CALL A HARMLESS SPECIMEN!
THEN, IN SPITE OF WHAT'S HAPPENED, YOU FEEL HE'S IN NO DANGER?
I DIDN'T SAY THAT, MISS WILDE. MY NEPHEW IS FREQUENTLY IN DANGER...
...FROM DESIGNING HUSSIES!

WE'RE STILL A COUPLE OF MILES AWAY FROM HOME...
CHIPS IF YOU MUST CHASE CARS...
WHY CAN'T YOU JUST CHASE THEM A BLOCK OR TWO, LIKE OTHER DOGS DO?
HUFF HUFF HUFF

FRIENDS, WHY SUFFER WITH NAGGING HEADACHES AND BURNING EYES (KNEE) YOU CAN DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT?
CLICK!!
HE'S RIGHT! I FEEL BETTER ALREADY!

I HAFTA GO TO THE BATHROOM!
CHECK OUT

HERE COMES FANG!
YUK! YUK! THAT'S GUFFAW! FANG?! YUK!
YEP, FANG!

I WISH THERE WAS SOME WAY TO KEEP WOWER FROM HOWLING WHILE I PRACTICE MY CORNET!
THAT'S EASY... GIVE 'IM SOMETHIN' TO EAT!
HE CAN'T YOWL WITH HIS MOUTH FULL!
THAT'S A WONDERFUL IDEA!
ME AN' MY BIG MOUTH!
BLAT BLOOD
BRAP BRAP NEVER

WHAT'S UP, SHERIFF?
DETECTIVE O'MARA - DO YOU HAVE YOUR TRICK CAMERA WITH YOU?
THE PIN ON MY LAPEL IS THE EYE OF MY CAMERA - AND ALL I HAVE TO DO IS PUT MY HAND IN MY POCKET AND PRESS THE BUTTON!
NOW WHAT'S MY SUBJECT?
TWO PEOPLE - TOGETHER!
TOM AND I WILL DRIVE YOU OVER!

ALL CURLED UP WITH A GOOD BROOK, ELL NUTCHELL!
PHT

I SAW THE MOST BEAUTIFUL DRESS AT TUDBURY'S TODAY
BUT I SAID TO MYSELF... I CAN'T AFFORD TO BUY THAT DRESS!
WELL, I CERTAINLY HAVE TO GIVE YOU CREDIT THAT'S JUST WHAT THEY SAID - SO I BOUGHT IT!

HI-YAH! YOO-PAN! YEH-HOO!
OKAY, DRUTHER, THROW TH' NET!
I... I CAN'T!

DOORS LOCKED... DRAPES DRAWN GOOD
NOBODY'S IN SIGHT ANYWHERE
FINE
I'LL TAKE THE ROAST OUT OF THE OVEN

FRANK & ERNEST VETERINARIANS
DOCTOR WILL BE WITH YOU SHORTLY
SIT! - STAY!

IN THE SEVENTH ROUND, EDDIE LANG IS WELL IN FRONT ON POINTS...
WITH ONE MINUTE LEFT IN THE ROUND, CLUBB LUNGES AT LANG...
BAM!

BEST TRAFFIC DIRECTING I'VE EVER SEEN.
I HAVEN'T STARTED YET, I WAS JUST FIXING MY HAIR.

I'VE SEEN HER HUSBAND LEAVING THE HOUSE ABOUT SEVEN ON SUNDAY MORNINGS
SO SHE MUST TAKE OFF FOR MUDDVILLE PRETTY SOON AFTER 7
LET'S MEET AT WIFFIE'S IN TEN PAST SEVEN?
WE'LL DISGUISE OURSELVES IN CASE SHE SEES US!
AND WEAR YOUR STEEL SHIRTS IN CASE SHE'S INVOLVED WITH THE GODFATHER GROUP!

Indy 500 Rescheduled Because Of Crash, Rain

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The 57th running of the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race was rescheduled for today with the pall of a fiery, wrenching crash and an ensuing torrential downpour still hanging over the ancient Speedway.

The crash came on the main straightaway only seconds after the lead cars of the 33-car field had started the rain-delayed race. It stunned the immense crowd of more than 300,000 persons who had waited for four hours.

The race was rescheduled for 10 a. m. EDT. The National Weather Service predicted a 30 per cent chance of showers.

One driver, David "Salt" Walther, 25, of Dayton, Ohio, was hospitalized by injuries received in the accident, as were nine spectators. Walther was listed in critical condition with burns on 40 per cent of his body, a broken left wrist and a possible back injury.

Dr. Thomas Hanna, head of the Speedway medical staff and in charge of the infield hospital, said most of the injured spectators suffered burns.

Drivers Mike Hiss and John Martin received minor injuries and were expected to be in the field today if their cars could be repaired in time.

Crews of the cars damaged in the wreck—which involved nine vehicles—and Speedway repair crews worked throughout the night to get both the cars and the track ready for the race.

Walther's car rammed into the wall, turned upside down and exploded into flames. The crash sent a shower of debris that dented several other cars.

and flew into the front rows of the crowd only about 20 feet from the track.

The crash sheared off two steel poles supporting a cable and wire mesh fence above the wall, but the cables kept the cars and bigger pieces of wreckage from going into the grandstand.

Only Walther's McLaren was ruled out of the race.

Martin and Hiss both said they felt their crews would have their Eagle automobiles ready to go. Lee Kunzman's Eagle was questionable since it sustained heavy damage, but the crew insisted it would be ready.

The race was scheduled to be a total restart, with rows of three where possible, and drivers moving up to fill the empty spaces.

There were four showers, the final one only 20 minutes after the crash.

The front row—polesitter Johnny Rutherford and former champions Bobby Unser and Mark Donohue—was not involved in the accident, nor were three other former champions, three-time winner A.J. Foyt, Mario Andretti and Al Unser.

LIFE AROUND SECOND BASE is never boring, anyway, as Philadelphia Phillies shortstop Larry Bowa can attest. At left he completes a double play in spite of the hard-sliding Johnny Bench and at right he looks incredulous as Atlanta's Dusty Baker is called safe on a steal attempt.

Baseball Standings

By The Associated Press

National League
	W.	L.	Pct.
Chicago	27	18	.600
New York	20	21	.488
Pittsburgh	18	20	.474
Montreal	18	21	.462
Philadelphia	19	25	.432
St. Louis	17	24	.415
West
San Francisco	31	19	.620
Los Angeles	28	19	.596
Houston	28	20	.583
Cincinnati	26	19	.578
Atlanta	17	27	.386
San Diego	16	32	.333
Monday's Games
Pittsburgh 4, Houston 2
Cincinnati 6, Chicago 5
San Francisco 6, New York 5
St. Louis 3, Atlanta 2
Montreal 7, San Diego 6
Los Angeles 5, Philadelphia 4
Tuesday's Games
Houston (Reuss 6-1) at Chicago (Reuschel 4-3 or Bonham 3-0)
Atlanta (Morton 4-3) at Pittsburgh (Walker 1-2 N)
Cincinnati (Carroll 1-3) at St. Louis (Spinks 0-4) N
Philadelphia (Brett 3-1) at Los Angeles (John 3-2) N
New York (Seaver 5-3) at San Francisco (Barr 4-5) N
Wednesday's Games
Houston at Chicago
New York at San Francisco
Atlanta at Pittsburgh N
Cincinnati at St. Louis N
Montreal at San Diego, 2 N
Philadelphia at Los Angeles N

American League
	W.	L.	Pct.
Detroit	24	20	.545
New York	22	22	.500
Baltimore	18	20	.474
Milwaukee	19	23	.452
Boston	18	22	.450
Cleveland	19	25	.432
West
Chicago	26	14	.650
California	23	18	.561
Kansas City	26	21	.553
Minnesota	22	19	.537
Oakland	23	22	.511
Texas	13	27	.325
Monday's Games
Minnesota 10, Baltimore 3
Texas at New York, rain
Det. 4, Oakland 3
Kansas City 5, Boston 4
California 7, Milwaukee 4
Chicago 6-4, Cleveland 3-0, 1st game 21 innings, completion of suspended game of Saturday night
Tuesday's Games
Oakland (Blue 3-2) at New York (Peterson 3-6) N
California (Ryan 6-4) at Boston (Lee 4-1) N
Cleveland (Bosman 2-6) at Texas (Merritt 0-0) N
Baltimore (Palmer 4-3) at Kansas City (Spittorf 7-2) N
Minnesota (Blyleven 5-6) at Milwaukee (Slaton 2-3) N
Detroit (Lolich 2-4) at Chicago (Fisher 4-3) N
Wednesday's Games
Oakland at New York N
California at Boston N
Cleveland at Texas N
Baltimore at Kansas City N
Minnesota at Milwaukee N
Detroit at Chicago N

Texas League
	W.	L.	Pct.
Arkansas	23	18	.561
Memphis	23	18	.561
Shreveport	19	23	.452
Alexandria	17	23	.426
West Division
El Paso	24	17	.585
San Antonio	21	24	.467
Midland	17	25	.404
Amarillo	17	25	.404
Monday's Games
Alexandria 3, Arkansas 1
Midland 6, San Antonio 2
Memphis 3, Shreveport 0
El Paso 5-2, Amarillo 0-5
Tuesday's Games
El Paso at Amarillo
Midland at San Antonio
Arkansas at Alexandria
Shreveport at Memphis
Wednesday's Games
El Paso at Amarillo
Midland at San Antonio
Arkansas at Alexandria
Shreveport at Memphis

Baseball Roundup

Associated Press Sports Writer

For it's 1, 2, 3 strikes you're out at the old ball game.

At least, that's the way it always was until Andy Messersmith and Joe Ferguson of the Los Angeles Dodgers decided to play a different tune Monday night.

Messersmith became the first pitcher in modern national league history to start the first six batters at the start of a game, and matched the major league standard as he pitched the first inning of the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over the Phillies.

In the second inning, the only trouble was that Messersmith was playing fast ball and catcher Ferguson was playing passed ball.

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Associated Press Sports Writer

For it's 1, 2, 3 strikes you're out at the old ball game.

At least, that's the way it always was until Andy Messersmith and Joe Ferguson of the Los Angeles Dodgers decided to play a different tune Monday night.

Messersmith became the first pitcher in modern national league history to start the first six batters at the start of a game, and matched the major league standard as he pitched the first inning of the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over the Phillies.

In the second inning, the only trouble was that Messersmith was playing fast ball and catcher Ferguson was playing passed ball.

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Joe Morgan singled home the winning run with one out in the ninth inning, providing the Reds with a comeback 6-5 victory over the Cubs.

Dock Ellis, with help from three relievers, halted his personal five-game losing streak in the Pirates' victory over Houston.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Rick Wise drove in what proved to be the winning run and pitched the Cardinals over the Braves with ninth-inning relief help.

Mashore's game-winning blow for Montreal followed two-out singles by Hal Breeden and John Boccabella and made him the 18th player in major league history to hit two consecutive pinch homers.

Baseball Roundup

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets 6-5, the Cincinnati Reds nipped the Chicago Cubs 6-5, the Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Houston Astros 4-2, the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Atlanta Braves 3-2 and the Montreal Expos knocked off the San Diego-Washington Red Sox 7-6 on Clyde Max's three-run pinch homer, two out in the ninth inning.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox defeated Cleveland 6-3 in a 21-inning game suspended from Saturday night and then took the regularly scheduled contest 4-0 as Wilbur Wood won both games. Detroit shamed Oakland 4-3, California defeated Milwaukee 7-4, Kansas City nipped Boston 5-4 and Minnesota whipped Baltimore 10-3. The Texas-New York game was rained out.

Bobby Bonds belted a home run on the first pitch thrown by rookie Tommy Moore and added a run-scoring single when the Giants scored four times in the second en route to their victory over the Mets.

Juan Marichal boosted his lifetime record against New York to 26-5. He lost his shutout bid on John Milner's two-run homer in the sixth.

Baseball Roundup

Associated Press Sports Writer

For it's 1, 2, 3 strikes you're out at the old ball game.

At least, that's the way it always was until Andy Messersmith and Joe Ferguson of the Los Angeles Dodgers decided to play a different tune Monday night.

Messersmith became the first pitcher in modern national league history to start the first six batters at the start of a game, and matched the major league standard as he pitched the first inning of the Dodgers' 5-1 victory over the Phillies.

In the second inning, the only trouble was that Messersmith was playing fast ball and catcher Ferguson was playing passed ball.

Greg Luzinski struck out but reached first when the third strike got away from Ferguson. Bill Robinson and Mike Schmidt also fanned. Then Luzinski took second on another passed ball before Bob Boone broke the strikeout string with an outfield fly.

Messersmith, who finished with 12 strikeouts, picked up No. 7 by getting Unser again in the third, and again the pitch escaped Ferguson for another passed ball, and again a batter struck out only to wind up on first base.

Elsewhere, the San Francisco Giants held off the New York Mets

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

DES Benefits Banned

Nobody seems able to cope with inflation and nothing much can be done about the weather. But even dumb animals know better than to let the hand that feeds them... The quote is from an editorial 'Mother Nature and Pushing the Cost of Living Out of Sight' in Barron's, the National Business and Financial Weekly.

Moreover, Barron's went on at greater length, 'the meat is superior — a DES fed carcass contains 5-10 per cent less fat and seven per cent more protein... a vital fact to heart patients.' According to Dr. Edwards himself (Dr. Charles C. Edwards, former FDA Commissioner), Barron's added: 'DES clearly is a useful and effective product.'

Laser to Weed Out Pest

A death ray may still belong more to the realm of science fiction than to fact, but a former Army Corps of Engineers scientist has just patented the closest thing to it yet... Dr. Ralph A. Scott Jr. has invented a device and method for destroying water hyacinths and other water plant pests by means of laser energy.

Pointed Comment

Follow me, know can't figure out what all the fuss is about acupuncture. His wife's relatives, he says, have been giving him the needle for years. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

All the world's a stage and Uncle Sam is picking up the amusement tax. Myron Cohen

Local Level Bureaucracy Is Growing

By PAUL HARVEY

Almost unanimously Americans protest 'no more taxes.' But almost unanimously, also, they demand 'no less service.'

Opinion polls and referendums reflecting crosscurrents of American opinion can only reflect misinformed Americans. In city after city, school taxes and building bonds are voted down. Court suits are filed against property tax assessments. Landlords abandon slum apartments rather than pay taxes on them.

Yet George Gallup's newest survey shows most Americans want President Nixon to spend what Congress allocates for housing, welfare, education, rural electrification, soil conservation.

In this same nose count, 65 per cent of the persons questioned think taxes are too high. Yet they resist and resent White House efforts to cut back costs which necessitate high taxes.

Public confusion results partly from the fact that we're still 'blaming Washington' for what has become a state of local overburden. Although one in five Americans now works for government, federal government payrolls have remained as is — about 3 per cent of the work force — for 25 years. Uncle Sam now hires only about 5 million persons, military and civilian.

It's 'little government' which has grown big. State and local government upkeep has not just expanded, it's exploded. Your tax dollars pay the salaries of more than 10 million local-level bureaucrats.

The big drain on the total tax purse is City Hall and its vast armies of local-level employees. Although every elected official knows that he must 'talk' economizing, he dares not, because we won't settle for less garbage pickup, less sewer maintenance, less street repair, less police and fire protection.

But all these departments have to pay higher and higher wages for competent workers, thus state and local spending continues to soar. This is not intended to indict local government for extravagance, rather it is an accounting intended to wipe the mist off the mirror.

It's in there that we see the number one guy we're upkeeping — and his appetite is insatiable and expensive. Each person can easily see that he cannot live and work for long with less income than he has now. Bankruptcy eventually follows such a situation, whether it is a family business or a nation. However, when inflation worsens the 'crunch' between income and outgo, it is easy to hunt for scapegoats. The other fellows 'profits' of course, get the blame.

The fact is that we all profit from profits, in more ways than readily meet the eye. For example, when all of us, as consumers, decide we want more of some product, we are willing to pay to get it. This adds to the income of those who produce that product. Other potential producers see this increased demand, and this increased income, and decide to 'get in on the act.' Soon, in a free nation, more of the product is made available and the producers must improve their product in order to keep the customers coming in.

Improvement and increased efficiency, caused by this seeking of more customers and more profits, soon bring more of the wanted products to the market, at better prices. Everyone profits because a desired product is brought to the public in good quantity and with a variety of qualities from which to choose. This creates new jobs, where none existed before, to build plants and to produce the new products. Stores selling the product build new stores and hire more sales people. All these workers pay more taxes, buy more food, homes, etc., creating more jobs and paying more taxes.

On the other hand, the business which fails to make a profit, must curtail operations, lay off workers, etc. Taxes formerly paid by the firm drop off until bankruptcy ruins the business entirely; everybody suffers unless another business expands to meet new needs and absorbs the workers from the declining company. When a business prospers, everybody profits.

'It's Another Harassed Mother Complaining That We've Preempted Sesame Street!'

BRUCE BLOSSAT Nixon and Mitchell Closeness a Sham

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Watergate, with all its destructive force, somehow still has not smashed one myth that deserves to die — the strong, persistent notion that President Nixon and his former Attorney General, John Mitchell, were close personal friends.

That they are not intimate now is accepted, since Mitchell couldn't even get to see the President when he tried here a few weeks ago. That they were is an erroneous idea that has astoundingly wide currency in the press and elsewhere, and beclouds understanding of Watergate events.

In many quarters, for instance, it is almost automatically assumed that what Mitchell knew and did he quickly told Mr. Nixon, though not too much is said about the President consistently responding in kind.

Both he and Mitchell fostered the idea of a close relationship, and succeeded admirably in purveying it. In a brief interview I had with Mitchell in December, 1968, he told me he did not anticipate serving as Attorney General and added: 'I probably wouldn't be coming here if it weren't for the other thing.'

He didn't have to spell that out. He presumed I would catch the vague short-hand phrase as indicating Mr. Nixon's well-advertised reliance upon him for personal counsel. At 54, he stood in as a kind of elder statesman, if not a father figure, with his iron facade and ring of authority.

Mitchell surely did have some clout in this administration. What is wrong is the impression of closeness. The idea got started, of course, early in the campaign of 1968. Sources tell me that Mr. Nixon deliberately let it grow because he perceived it then as a matter of great political convenience.

One of the damaging consequences of his losing campaigns for the presidency in 1960 and the California governorship in 1962 was the belief that, since Mr. Nixon was presumed to be controlling all the levers himself, no one could speak for him or be counted upon to reach him directly with messages of advice. This troubled many key Republicans.

In 1968, when Mitchell sort of stumbled into the campaign chairmanship as other like California's Gaylord Parkinson dropped away, word went around that the President liked the Wall Street lawyer's ways.

They were pictured as having been good friends from before 1966, when Mitchell's small but prosperous law firm linked up with Mr. Nixon's. The candidate quickly saw the advantage in this portrait of a friendship.

Your Health Back, Chest Pains May Be Digestive

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Can you help me? For four years now I have gone to several doctors and even had X rays for my problem. They either say I'm too young for my symptoms, or they don't know what it is that's wrong.

For the past four years I have had severe chest pains. My age is 22 and I have had four children. I have been awakened with my chest aching. It felt like it was being crushed and I had a hard time breathing. It seemed to start down in my back and work its way up into my chest and ache clear into my back. The pain is so severe that I sometimes had to get a shot for the pain. The longest it has lasted is about five hours.

I also have trouble in swallowing my food. I take small bites and chew it up as well as possible, it feels like sandpaper going down. The pain is located where my ribs come together. I have also had X rays for this. I drank some chalky fluid and the doctor said he found nothing. This started about four years ago too. I have a lot of trouble with gas and acid. Doctor, I just don't think I can go through this much longer. I hope and pray you can help me. Thank you.

Dear Reader — Every chest pain is not a sign of heart disease. From your symptoms alone I would be inclined to think that you do not have heart disease at your age.

Heart pain does not cause pain in the back and it is not associated with difficulty in swallowing. More likely you are having spasms of your digestive tract, including the esophagus. This can cause severe chest pain mimicking the pain of a heart attack. Muscles in the esophagus tube clamp down and act like a muscle cramp.

You have a history of a lot of digestive disturbances and since you've already had X rays, I would presume that you don't have any major obstruction. Anyone who has difficulty in swallowing certainly must have a complete medical examination. Having done that, the best advice I can give you is to change your diet completely. Eliminate all milk and all milk products, including cheese, buttermilk or any foods that are made from milk, coffee, caffeinated or decaffeinated, tea, do not smoke, eliminate all alcoholic beverages if you use them, try to eat a diet made of very lean meat, such as baked chicken, broiled lean beef or broiled fish. Avoid excess use of breads. You can use some Jello, avoid spicy foods, and if you respond well to this procedure, later on you can add more cereals to your diet.

If this regimen helps you a great deal I would suspect that you might have intolerance to some of these foods and you'll have to be careful about which ones you use. High on the list of aggravating factors in your case may well be milk, milk products and coffee.

Inside Washington

U.S. Still Land of Promise for World's Poor

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Despite all the domestic trials and tribulations, don't let anyone tell you that the United States still isn't the land of hope and promise to untold numbers in other countries.

That is strikingly shown by the latest report of the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS).

Both legal and illegal entrants are steadily increasing. Following are revealing statistics as detailed by the INS.

—384,865 legal immigrants in fiscal 1972. That's an increase of 29.7 per cent over the fiscal 1965 total of 296,697.

—505,949 deportable aliens located in fiscal 1972. That's a 20.4 per cent increase over the 420,126 total in fiscal 1971.

—116,215 were naturalized last fiscal year — 7.2 per cent more than the preceding year. INS attributes this increase largely to the number of Cuban refugees attaining the resident requirement for naturalization.

Significantly, 54 per cent of the aliens naturalized came from only seven countries — Cuba, China (including Taiwan), Italy, Germany, the Philippines, Britain and Mexico. The remaining 53,386 naturalizations were from 138 other nations.

Signally noteworthy of the legal immigrants last fiscal year is the tremendous increase from Asia — 121,058 as against only 20,683 in fiscal 1965, a hike of 485.3 per cent.

Of this huge Asian influx, 17,339 came from China and Taiwan, 4,391 from Hong Kong, 10,926 from India, 29,370 from the Philippines, 18,876 from Korea, 19,493 from other Asian countries.

Smaller increases were recorded for legal immigrants from southern and eastern Europe, 65,492 in fiscal 1972 as against 40,106 in 1965; also Canada, 144,375 as against 126,729.

Notable, on the other hand, was a marked drop in immigrants from two important areas — northern and western Europe, 24,501 down from 73,318 in 1965, a decline of 66.6 per cent; and South America, 19,359 down from 30,965, decrease of 37.5 per cent.

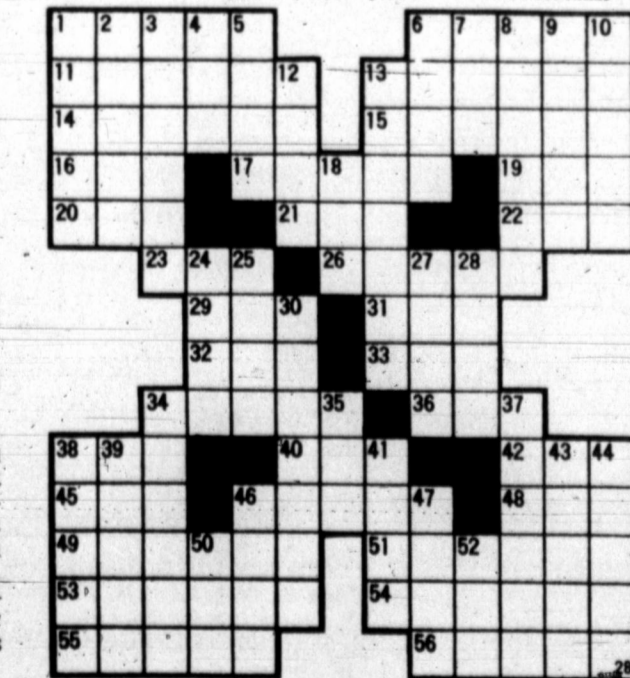

Major factor behind the constant rising flood of illegal aliens is the Immigration Service's inability to cope with the problem. Reason for that is lack of means.

For example, the INS budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 is virtually the same as its current one — $135,994,000. Thus, although the alien problem has soared five-fold since 1965, INS's effective budget over this period has gone up only around $20 million.

Another illustration: Last year INS asked for a personnel increase of 1,065. The Justice Department, under which INS functions, slashed that to 456. That was bad enough, but the Budget Bureau went even further. It knocked out even this drastically reduced number — with the result that INS, grappling frantically with a

Figures and Forms

- ACROSS 1 Finger or toe 36 Coterie 6 Form 38 Experimentation room (ab.) 11 Figure with equal angles 40 Commander in chief (ab.) 12 Beetle 42 Inaugural (coll.) 14 Projecting wheel rim 45 Long fish (ab.) 15 More recent 46 Moslem deity (ab.) 16 Federated 48 Everything 17 Laminoline bird 49 Throat, lozenge 19 Island (Fr.) 51 Sewing need 20 Sainte (ab.) 53 Hues (Sp.) 21 Scientific 54 Indian tennis (ab.) 22 Color 55 Lily plants 23 Mom's partner 56 Negative contraction 26 Aftersong 29 Twitching 31 Theater sign (ab.) 32 Egg (comb. form) 2 Small island 33 Latin conjunction (pl.) 3 Prodded with stick 34 Musical 4 Ignition (ab.)

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The Free State of Israel was proclaimed in Tel Aviv on May 14, 1948, as the British evacuated Palestine. The first de facto recognition of the new nation came from the United States, May 14, and the Soviet Union on May 17. The World Almanac recalls...

GIBSON'S DISCOUNT CENTER

WHERE YOU ALWAYS BUY THE BEST FOR LESS

Open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. - Closed Sundays

PRICES GOOD THRU THURS.

VALUABLE COUPON
Void where restricted... For 21+ yrs.
LARK King Long
$3.85 $3.75 (with this coupon)
FILTER CIGARETTES
Good only at GIBSON'S. Good Until MAY 31, 73
Limit one per family
Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined
That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.
King: 17 mg. "tar", 1.2 mg. nicotine; Extra Long: 18 mg. "tar", 1.3 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette; FTC Report (Feb. 73).

Maddow 24
Regular
$2.47

FISH BASKET $2.09

GIBSON'S
SAVE 50¢ WHEN YOU BUY A 10 oz. Jar of
INSTANT FOLGER'S COFFEE CRYSTALS
SPECIAL PRICE
WITH THIS COUPON
$1.09
WITHOUT COUPON 1.59
Coupon cash value 1/20 of 1¢
GOOD THRU MAY 31, 73

1 Group Country Western
8 TRACK TAPES $2.49

DIPNET

BURGESS Batteries
Size 2 For 27¢
C or D

CLAIROL
Gleaner or Blush

60 Min. Cartron Cassette
Blank Tapes 49¢

No. 147
99¢

cheer 10 lb. 11 oz. FAMILY SIZE cheer $2.49 ONLY GOOD ONLY AT GIBSON'S
OFFER EXPIRES MAY 31, 73
WITH THIS COUPON WITHOUT COUPON $2.99
LIMIT 1 COUPON PER PURCHASE

Ref. $2.50
$1.19
Sylvania
Flashcubes 79¢

Foam SKI BELTS
Regular $3.77
$2.99

Cane Fishing Pole
2 Piece Reg. $1.37
99¢

PARKAY MARGARINE 25¢ lb.

NEW SYLVANIA MAGICUBES X
USE WITH Kodak X SERIES AND OTHER MAGICUBE CAMERAS
SYLVANIA MAGICUBES $1.19

Unfinished BAR STOOLS $3.99
24 Inches High

Longhorn Cheese Bar-S 69¢
10 Oz. CUDAHY BAR S

Skillshop Drill $9.79
1/4" Model 1710

SMOKE STANDS $8.99 Ea.

GIBSON'S R pharmacy
SAVE ON PRESCRIPTIONS

Storm and Screen Door Crash Chain 39¢
Mr. Hardware

ALL DESCOWARE 25% off

ALBERTO BALSAM CONDITIONER $1.19
Regular, Super or Extra Hold 18 Oz. Special Price

Bug Foiler 77¢
Sylvania Yellow 60 & 100 W 2 Bubl Pack

Listerine MOUTH WASH 69¢
14 Oz.

ALBERTO BALSAM HAIR SPRAY 69¢
Regular, Super or Super Hold 14 Oz. $1.19 7 Oz.

Melnor 2 Arm Revolving Sprinkler 88¢
No. 170

Dupont No. 7 Chrome Polish 57¢
12 Oz.

VO 5 The Natural One HAIR SPRAY 69¢
7 Oz. 11 Oz. $1.19

JERGENS New Jergens Moisturizing Body Foam 67¢
7 Oz.

Medi Quik 89¢
5 Oz. 3 Oz. $1.29

TOSSEMS Disposable Bottles $1.19
100's

JERGENS Bath Beads 99¢
2 For

VO 5 Hairdressing 69¢
1 1/2 Oz. Tube

GLEEM II TOOTH PASTE 67¢
7 Oz. 16 Oz.