

Hungarian Case Under Scrutiny, Truman Says

Asserts US Does Not Intend To Stand Idly By

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — President Truman today denounced the communist coup in Hungary as an outrage and asserted that the United States does not intend to stand idly by in that situation.

He told a news conference that the State Department right now is looking into the whole Hungarian affair.

A reporter said that it has been suggested that the United States is sometimes in the position of shaking its fist at Hungary and sometimes just shaking its finger. He inquired whether the United States intended to do something in the present situation and Mr. Truman replied that it does not intend to stand idly by.

In response to another inquiry he said that the Hungarian situation is terrible and reiterated that the State Department is making a full investigation.

Diplomatic authorities are speculating whether the Hungarian coup may be followed by steps to set up a Balkan federation of Soviet-dominated states in eastern and southern Europe.

Until last week, Hungary's non-communist government was the sole break in an otherwise solid lineup of Moscow-controlled nations extending from the Baltic to the Adriatic Seas.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia has been an outspoken advocate of a formal Balkan Federation, and such a development now is being viewed here as a definite possibility.

Like the Hungarian overturn, it would be regarded as (1) a curt Moscow rejoinder to the American program of aid to Greece and Turkey and (2) a move to solidify the Soviet bloc before final ratification of the satellite peace treaties forces withdrawal of Red army occupation forces.

Diplomats also consider as a possible next Russian step in eastern Europe some action to perpetuate the communist domination of Czechoslovakia. A leftist bloc which included communists won last year's elections there, but a more recent rightist trend has suggested that the communists might slip back to second or third place in the next balloting.

Meanwhile, a formal United States protest and further economic slaps remained under consideration at the State Department to express this government's concern over the communist seizure of control in Hungary.

Weatherford Bank Robber Confesses

OTHER POWERS MUST ACT

First Of World War II Peace Treaties Ratified

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — The Senate completed ratification of the first four of World War II's peace treaties today.

After ratifying the Italian treaty by a 79 to 10 vote, the Senate then gave voice vote approval to treaties with Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary. Action on the Italian agreement came after rejection, 67 to 22, a proposal by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) to delay action on all of the treaties until next January 25.

The treaties become effective on ratification by all of the big four powers—the U.S., Britain, Russia and China.

Before the vote was taken, Senator McMahon (D-Conn) told his colleagues he is fearful that ratification will lay Italy open to communist control and "Hungary's fate." The government in Hungary has been taken over by communists, a move that President Truman denounced today as outrageous.

When the four treaties become finally effective, withdrawal of occupation troops from the countries involved will become necessary within 90 days, except that Russia may continue to keep sufficient troops to maintain her communication lines to Soviet-occupied areas of Germany and Austria.

The United States would withdraw its troops from Italy, a move that some senators contend would open the gateway to communism there.

While he also denounced the communist coup in Hungary, Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate foreign relations committee urged approval of the treaty with that country as an encouragement to democratic elements there. He said otherwise they would feel they had been entirely forsaken by the United States.

Convict Under Parole Taken In Fort Worth

Had $2950 Taken In Wednesday's Lone-Wolf Holdup

FORT WORTH, June 5. (AP)—James Clifton Wheeler, 26, sandy-haired conditionally-pardoned Texas convict, walked into the arms of three Fort Worth detectives at 7:30 a. m. today, his pockets crammed with $2,950 taken from the Citizens National Bank of Weatherford in a lone-wolf robbery shortly after noon yesterday.

Police Chief R. E. Dysart said Wheeler made a full confession.

Wheeler had broken through a cordon of federal state and local officers "beating the bush" around Weatherford all last night.

He told officers that he had hitch-hiked to Fort Worth and had ridden in a taxicab to the home of his grandmother in far east side, where city detectives T. P. Hoot, C. C. Carmichael and D. S. Harris had been waiting all night.

"Something told me they knew who I was and were waiting for me — but I just walked on up anyway," he told police Chief Dysart and Detectives A. C. Howerton and H. E. Chappell.

The arrest climaxed a closely-integrated search by FBI, state and local officers started shortly after Wheeler calmly walked into the bank and showed a pistol and paper sack at Mrs. Vaudine Bullington, 22, teller, and told her he wanted all of the money in her cash drawer.

Parker county sheriff's deputies stopped by the Wyler filling station on Highway 80 to give a description of the robbery car to attendants.

"James Wheeler was in here in a car like that earlier this morning," the officers were told.

The report was broadcast, and Fort Worth detectives noted that a similar car, a black 1940 Dodge coupe with a bent front door, had been stolen here earlier from Arthur L. Weir Jr., an insurance man.

Wheeler, a former carpenter, said he didn't know why he committed the robbery and that he had no plans what he would do with the money.

Asked by a Star-Telegram reporter whether he was sorry, he hesitated, smiled faintly and said, "I'm sorry I got caught."

The robbery car was abandoned about 16 miles from Weatherford, Wheeler told officers, after he saw airplanes and cars of officers combing the territory for him. He then fled on foot, losing his .32 pistol and hat in a flight across the prairie after state highway patrolmen "blew their horns."

Wheeler was faced here in the detectives office by the bank teller, Mrs. Bullington, and R. B. Kearby and Will Barnett, who were in the bank at the time of the robbery.

"Have you ever seen this lady?" Chappell asked.

Wheeler grinned, and said, "I was looking at her yesterday."

He is the father of two children, a girl 3 and boy 6, by a former wife.

His pretty present wife came to the police station after the arrest to talk with her husband.

Wheeler had been in Fort Worth since Saturday. He left home Tuesday with the pistol despite his wife's protest that "they'll revoke your parole" if officers found him with it.

Had he stayed clear of trouble three weeks longer, he would have escaped jurisdiction of the board of pardons and paroles. His conditional pardon Nov. 22, 1946, would have been up June 29, 1947. The board now must revoke the pardon.

FBI agents planned to file charges today in connection with the bank robbery.

Record Number Will Get Age Pensions

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—A record number of persons will receive old age assistance checks during June totaling $5,636,907, the State Department of Public Welfare announced today.

John H. Winters, executive director, said checks were being mailed to 194,848 aged and dependent persons, a net increase of 806 over May.

Average checks will be $28.93. Current payments compared to $4,078,679 in June, 1945, for old age assistance.

Solons Kill Last-Minute Tax Measure

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Two last-gasp efforts to ram a tax bill through the 50th legislature in its last 24 hours were killed today in the House of Representatives.

One of these attempts was in the form of an amendment to a $30,000,000 rural road bill, pinched off by invocation of the 24-hour rule designed to eliminate controversial issues in the crowded closing moments of a session.

The other came when the House refused by a vote of 58 to 57 to suspend the rules and take up the tax bill by Rep. Woodrow Bean of El Paso.

It became apparent as the session moved closer to its final day that Senators and Representatives were trying to keep their records clear on the question of aid to rural roads.

As this situation stood at midday, the Senate had passed and sent the House a bill making a $30,000,000 appropriation for farm-to-market roads. The House Bill to the same effect, along with the tax rider Bean attempted to attach, was caught by the 24-hour rule.

However, the House has adopted resolutions, which if the Senate concurs, would permit either measure to be considered under suspension of the 24 hour rule.

Bean opposed the resolution to permit consideration of the House bill. He said there was "no doubt" the Senate had "acted in bad faith and passed this bill over to us to keep their records clear."

"Why should we do the same thing?" the El Paso lawmaker asked.

This is what would happen to any rural road appropriation for as much as $30,000,000. It would have to go to the comptroller for certification. Since the session has virtually exhausted the treasury, it was anticipated the comptroller would say the money was not in hand, or in sight. This would necessitate final passage of the bill by a four-fifths vote in both houses. Even then, it would face the possibility of a veto.

Thus far Gov. Beauford H. Jester has not said what he would do with any measure so passed and which would put the state back on deficit financing. His office announced he would hold his regular Thursday press conference because of the pressure of legislative business.

Approximately the same situation confronts several other house appropriations bills amended last night by the Senate and returned to the House for concurrence.

These included the Dallas Cancer Center Hospital, the Lamar College appropriation, the San Antonio Medical College branch bill, and three museum bills.

Backers of these bills announced they would move for concurrence in the Senate amendments, when they may do under the rules. Such concurrence, even at this stage before final adjournment, may be had on a simple majority.

The bills are estimated to cost more than funds available.

FLOOD DAMAGE

Redistricting Issue Put In Amendment

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The 50th session of the Texas legislature, in a last-minute resurgence of sentiment on redistricting, voted yesterday to submit to the people a constitutional amendment empowering a board to reapportion the state if the legislature fails to follow the existing constitutional mandate to do so.

This affirmative house action on a Senate-approved proposed constitutional amendment came at the end of one of the session's longest and busiest legislative days headlined first by the decision to adjourn finally at noon tomorrow.

The amendment, if adopted by the people at the general election in 1948, provides that a board reallocate legislative representation after each succeeding federal census if the legislature fails to act, as it has for the last 26 years in the face of shifting populations.

This board would be made up of the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the House, the land commissioner, the comptroller, and the attorney general. The plan would go into effect after the 1950 census.

Rep. Joe Kilgore of McAllen led the long, hard fight in which House redistricting forces adopted the submission resolution by a vote of 100 to 36. Kilgore said the fundamental issue at stake was "the same as at the Boston Tea party — taxation without representation."

Redistricting advocates contend there is no justice in the present situation, with highly inequitable representation for the public in the legislature. This is premised on the fact that populations have radically shifted westward and southward in recent years.

HCJC Term Nears Close

Only one final examination remained on tap after today as Howard County Junior College moved nearer the completion of its second semester's work.

The last examination will be given Friday morning, and Friday at 8:30 p. m. at the First Methodist church eight college students and 10 members of the academy (high school division principally for veterans who also take some college work) will be candidates for graduation. Dr. Gordon Worley, head of the division of supervision and curriculum for the state department of education, will be the commencement speaker, President E. C. Dodd announced.

Thursday and Friday students were reporting for refunds of library and laborator deposits, and Margaret Crouch, registrar, urged all to claim their returnable fees not later than Friday. In addition, the college is buying used books from students who wish to sell.

Meanwhile, interest appeared to be mounting in the summer school session. Registration starts Monday and Tuesday and classes begin on Wednesday of next week. A number of students who have been attending other colleges plan to take summer work at HCJC. Miss Crouch said inquiries indicated.

Midland Rodeo Opens Tonight

Midland begins its 12th annual rodeo this evening for four days running.

Top performers of the rodeo circuit will be on hand to try for the purse of $7,500 and to match skill against a tough aggregation of stock furnished by Gene Autry and Everett Colborn. Rodeo officials anticipate record attendance.

A parade at 4 p. m., headed by William Murray, Texas railroad commissioner, was to officially open the affair. Time for the evening shows will be 8:30 o'clock and the Sunday performance will be at 2 p. m.

Included in the 40 cowgirls trying for prizes valued at approximately $1,250 is Earlyene Jeffreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jeffreys, Lees community, who is riding as Miss Big Spring. Miss Jeffreys is a seasoned rider and rodeo competitor having participated in most of the top shows of the Southwest as well as in the Madison Square rodeo event.

Coahoma Tax Board To Meet Friday

The Coahoma Independent School district equalization board will be in session Friday, starting at 10 a. m. Notices have been mailed to property owners where changes in renditions are indicated, advising of the equalization session. No pronounced changes in valuations are anticipated.

Mahon Wins With Amendment

40 Million Added To Funds To Provide Airplane Purchase

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a $5,280,982,423 Army supply bill after adding $40,000,000 to funds for airplane purchases. The action was taken by unanimous voice vote.

As it left the House, the bill was $455,809,077, or 7.6 per cent below the President's budget estimates for new appropriations for the War Department during the fiscal year beginning July 1. The House had debated for hours an amendment by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) to add the amount to the bill before discovery that the appropriations committee had erred in reporting that there was an additional $280,000,000 available for the Air Corps.

Rep. Engel (R-Mich), who had led the fight against the amendment yesterday, told the House today the proposed $396,000,000 for new planes included $280,000,000 in contract authorization for next year. Earlier, Engel had contended the $280,000,000 was in addition to the $396,000,000.

When Engel admitted his error, the House shouted its approval of the Mahon amendment and Democrats crowded around the Texan to congratulate him.

Engel is chairman of the subcommittee that wrote the bill, but said he did not write that part of the committee's explanation claiming the $280,000,000 was not included in the $396,000,000.

WALLACE NOT INCLINED TO GIVE TRUMAN HIS SUPPORT NEXT YEAR

RALEIGH, N.C., June 5. (AP) Henry Wallace, asked at a press conference today if he would support President Truman for reelection, hesitated and said: "That depends on — I would say, 'No'."

The former vice president is to make an address here tonight and the press conference this morning was held at the home of Joseph Daniels, publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer and a former cabinet member.

Wallace, who has been crusading vigorously against the "be fix with Russia" aspects of President Truman's foreign policy, had been asked earlier if he planned to lead in the forming of a third party, and he replied: "I'm doing everything I can to make the Democratic party a liberal party. If the Democratic party becomes a war party, a party of reaction and depression then I'll no longer be a Democrat."

Explaining his answer to the question about supporting President Truman for reelection, Wallace said that his support of the Democratic party in the 1948 election depended on whether it is a "war party" at that time.

Asked if he would support the Republican party, Wallace said: "I can't imagine myself campaigning for a Republican under any circumstances."

Oil Valuations Up For Hearing

Representatives of most of the major oil companies doing business within Howard county were on hand for the annual session of the board of tax equalization, which got underway in the district court room this morning.

Lively debate occurred when a proposal that the valuations of all oil properties be raised slightly due to the increase in the price of oil and new production was referred to the representatives of the oil concerns.

A committee chosen from the delegation later was closeted with the members of the county commissioners' court, who compose the board, to bring the matter into open debate.

Indications were the session would be terminated this afternoon.

Private property owners will be privileged to have their inning with the board later, probably during the final week of this month or in early July.

Another Tornado Strikes Panhandle

TWITTY, June 5. (AP)—A small tornado that struck this community in the eastern Texas Panhandle yesterday evening damaged several cotton warehouses and homes, but caused no injuries. A moderate hail and rain storm accompanied the tornado.

Heavy hail damage was reported at Shamrock, seven miles south.

WATER SEARCH TURNING TO THE UNDERGROUND

Work Of 'Pioneers' In Irrigation Being Watched

(This is the first of a series of three articles dealing with the prospects and problems of irrigation in this area, a development of mounting interest throughout the region.—Ed. Note.)

The continuous search for ways and means of improving moisture conditions, which began when the first pioneers settled in West Texas, is turning to the underground, and success stories which have trickled in from the high plains are causing many a farmer in this area to think in terms of irrigation.

Although irrigation from wells has not been pursued on a scale by any means as broad as that followed farther north, interest in this locality is increasing. Operation of some new and more or less scattered projects is being watched closely by farmers, ranchers, Soil Conservation district supervisors, the Soil Conservation Service, county agents and others.

A number of factors is involved however, and only by studying projects actually under operation in this vicinity over a sufficiently long period of time can it be determined whether success stories to the north can be repeated consistently here.

Irrigation wells have been pumped in a limited area of Martin county for several years, and results have prompted several others there to bore wells and install pumps. H. B. Shick and O. T. Hayden started the irrigation there on two adjoining farms. Shick has been operating two wells, one 90 feet deep and another 154 feet deep, and he recently completed drilling and installing pumping equipment at a third site. He uses turbine-type pumps powered by gasoline engines.

One well on the Shick farm was once pumped for 14 days and nights, and the owner reported that the stream of water appeared as strong at the end as when the long operation started. Shick estimates that it costs about 45 cents an acre for fuel for each watering. He irrigates some cotton and grain. Last year, on 50 acres of land that averaged less than 100 pounds of lint per acre before irrigation, he harvested almost 51 bales. A grain field, on which he obtained a very poor stand at planting time, made 1,000 pounds per acre.

Hayden has averaged up to 3,000 pounds of grain per acre on his place. Since 1946 was a particularly dry season, Shick watered his cotton four times during the season, but heretofore he confined it to three times a year. His two oldest wells are now in their sixth season.

These results have caused operators of some 15 other farms to enter the irrigation field, and at present more than 20 wells in the immediate area are in operation. There have been 13 new wells drilled this year.

The chief Martin county irrigation system is in the west central part of the county, a few miles west of Tarzan and extending a few miles north and south.

Among the farms with irrigation wells now are A. C. Woodward, LeRoy Mattingly, Emmett Pittman, Alsup and Tom, Fay Harding, Ocie Smith, Noel Giendinning, Marvin Thompson, Joe McReynolds, Tom Green, Wesley Williams and Jim Meeks.

Pittman, who is associated with the SCS, shares Martin County

Agent James Eiland's optimism over the future of irrigation in that area. Pittman said most of the wells are eight inches in diameter and range in depth from 90 feet to 175 feet. He estimates their average production at 700 to 800 gallons a minute.

It takes from $3,500 to $4,000 to cover expenses of drilling one well and installing pumping equipment. The Martin county farmers report that they have found that one well can irrigate from 90 to 100 acres under normal conditions.

Heavy Demands For Education Met By Texas

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The post-war record-smashing demands for higher education in Texas were answered by the 50th Legislature. It granted:

1. An all-time high $45,447,646 biennium appropriation, compared with last biennium's $26,072,465, to provide more teachers at better salaries and other necessities to accommodate mushroomed enrollments.

2. Submission to a statewide election of a $60,000,000 building program for adequate plant facilities at the 14 state-owned universities and colleges.

3. A Negro State University and A&M to provide "equal education" to Negroes and whites alike. For the first time in nearly a quarter of a century the state returned to a "jump sum" appropriation method, permitting each school to do its own allocating of funds under such broad headings as salaries, maintenance and the like.

College presidents thought it would provide necessary elasticity to meet emergencies and permit use of funds to the best advantage. Since 1923 they have had to follow a strict allocation pattern of little leeway.

A sizeable increase was also granted in the junior college appropriation—boosted from last biennium's $687,000 to the new high of $1,850,000.

Voters will have to decide at the polls Aug. 23 on the proposed building program.

Water Diversion Requests Granted

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Three applications for diversion of surface water have been approved by the State Board of Water Engineers this week.

The city of Marshall has granted permission to pump 10,000 acre feet of water annually from Cypress Bayou, a tributary of Caddo Lake, for municipal purposes.

Jesse K. Liddell of San Antonio was given authority to divert 400 acre feet annually from a drainage ditch of the Cameron County Water Improvement District for irrigation purposes.

J. D. Bordages, Beaumont, was given permission to divert 300 acre feet annually from Sand Gully, a tributary of Mud Bayou, for irrigation.

Utilities Wrecked When Dam Breaks

Drinking Water Brought Into Flood-Swept Town By Truck

RUTLAND, Vt., June 5. (AP)—Fears of an outbreak of disease abated here today as tank trucks carrying drinking water rolled into this city digging out of the wreckage of a flash flood that knocked out all utilities.

Power and light were restored but gas and water supply systems were still out of commission — with a possibility that it may be several days before pipelines can be repaired.

Hundreds still homeless from the flood unleashed by a bursting power dam Tuesday night were being housed in the armory and fed by mobile kitchens.

Emergency water stations were set up with farmers from the surrounding countryside helping in serving well and spring water in a pail and bucket brigade.

The first major step in rehabilitation was taken last night when electric power, ruptured for 24 hours, reached the city through auxiliary feeder lines.

The utility services were wrecked when a nine foot wall of water, released by smashing of a power dam, poured into wide sections of the city Tuesday night. Torrential 24-hour rains preceded the break.

Authorities estimated it would be two or three weeks before normal gas services was restored, but city officials hoped to establish a water connection today for sanitary purposes.

Few of the 500 families that abandoned homes when the water bunched out of a 20-foot wide creek had returned to their mud strewn dwellings. At least 60 persons were being cared for at the state army. Others had been taken in by friends.

The raging waters spewed mud from five inches to two feet thick in hundreds of residences in the northerly section of the city and battered foundations in some areas.

TRUMAN SAYS MISSOURI VOTING PROBE SHOULD BE COMPLETED

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—President Truman declared today that investigation of the alleged vote frauds in his Missouri home county should be carried through to its logical conclusion.

No one, the president told a news conference, wants to condone a vote fraud.

He made his comments when questioned about inquiries now underway at Kansas City into last summer's congressional primary.

A state court grand jury has indicted 71 persons. After the indictments were returned, a safe was blown and ballots figuring in the inquiry were stolen from the election board offices.

Bus Workers Accept Wage

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Spokesmen of striking maintenance workers of the Southwestern Greyhound bus line announced that locals voted last night to accept the company's offer of five to 24 cents an hour wage increase and return to work in the nine-state southwestern area.

L. G. Fenn, Dallas agent of the International Association of Machinists, the striking union, said that the raises would mean as much as $35 a month for shop clerks and Paris men, two of the lower paid classifications. Mechanics received five to 10 cents an hour raises. The basic wage rate before the strike, which began April 1, was $1.20 to $1.30 an hour.

Thomas Lyndon, business agent of the Kansas City local, said that his union recommended that the new agreement be effective only one year, instead of two as proposed by the company.

During the strike schedules were maintained and maintenance work on buses was done at filling stations and small-town garages.

Elmo I. Nichols Is Drowned In German River

Word has been received here of the death, by drowning, of Capt. Elmo I. Nichols, 31, grandson of W. H. Cardwell, Big Spring.

Capt. Nichols, assigned with the 40th Ordnance Service battalion as adjutant in Nordenham, Germany, perished on May 20, when a canoe in which he and another Texas officer overturned in the Weser river. He made for shore but went under before reaching a life belt thrown from the bank. The point at which he went under is near the mouth of the Weser on the North Sea and his body has not yet been found.

He had been at Nordenham since August 1946 and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Carter, Big Spring, knew him there when Carter was on overseas duty with the Army. His mother, Mrs. Ethel Curtis lives in Seattle and her husband, Maj. B. L. Curtis has gone overseas to take charge of arrangements in event the body is recovered.

Other than Mr. Cardwell, relatives here include an aunt, Mrs. Fanny Merrjworth, and these cousins: W. D. Leo, Walter Francis, James and Troy Abbe, Mrs. Richard Hooper, Mrs. Ray Meyers, and Mrs. Arch Ellington.

Texas Flier Dies In Plane Crash

WASHINGTON, June 4. (AP)—Navy Lt. Donald Eugene Umphres, 25, of Phillips, was killed yesterday when his P-80 plane crashed in Chesapeake Bay during a review before Marine Corps officers from Quantico, Va.

The Navy said Umphres' plane suddenly nosed into the water 500 yards off the beach at Patuxent, Md., Naval Air station as he was doing a low altitude "fly by" at high speed.

A veteran night fighter pilot in the Pacific war theater, the flier was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Humphres, of Phillips. He held three Distinguished Flying Crosses, nine Air Medals and a Presidential Unit Citation.

Teen-Agers To Run State Government

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Next week a group of about 300 teenage boys will meet in Austin to show Texas how they think a state government should be run.

For the eighth year, the boys will set up a model state government, elect their own officials, publish their own newspaper, and carry out all duties prescribed by the Texas constitution.

The Boys' State activity is sponsored annually by the American Legion department of Texas.

Ford Promises To Lead Way To $1,000 Auto

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Company, said here that when the public demands a $1,000 car, Ford will give it to them.

Ernest R. Breech, executive vice president accompanying Ford on a tour of company plants, explained that such a car would not be the luxury-equipped quality car of today. He said customers demand quality and this, coupled with inflation, has boosted the price of cars above the old accepted levels.

Ford also said that the new 1948 Ford cars which may be in production early in 1948, would be as different from today's model as the model A was from the Model T.

Breech explained the new model as "simply out of this world." He said changes would be radical both in engineering and in design. The Lincoln, for example, will have a completely new engine.

Ford said later in an address at a testimonial luncheon given him by the Dallas chamber of commerce that the "great objective these days" was to get back to the top of the low-priced automotive field.

"It is not going to be an easy job, but we are determined to get there," he said. "Most of all, we are getting ready for a buyer's market, though we don't know any more than the next fellow just when that market is going to appear."

Farm Agencies Await Action On Fund Bills

All local farm agencies are 'standing by,' pending action on the proposed agricultural appropriations cut recently passed by the House of Representatives and now before the Senate.

Of the three functions which would be affected by budget slashes, only the Soil Conservation Service has lost any personnel. One man was dropped from the SCS payroll last week.

Fate of the local Farmers' Home Administration office is unknown, even by its employees.

M. Weaver, county supervisor of the AAA, recently received word from College Station to halt all conservation work where government loans were involved.

The legislation passed the House by an overwhelming majority but is expected to meet stiffer resistance in the Senate.

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—There will be no sororities, fraternities or secret societies lawfully existing in any public school in the state after next Sept. 4 if Gov. Beauford Jester signs a bill passed in the Senate last night.

Approved by a 20-to-4 Senate vote, the House-passed bill bans the organizations in public high schools, junior high schools and schools of lower grade. Universities and colleges above the grade and rank of high schools are exempt.

The three types of organizations are proclaimed in the bill to be "inimical to the public good."

TEXSUN CITRUS EXCHANGE, WESLACO, TEXAS

Hits Unification As An Outright Merger

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Senator Robertson (R-Wyo) said today the pending Army-Navy unification bill actually would merge the two services.

"It's merger legislation, pure and simple," the Wyoming lawmaker told a reporter. "Let's not fool ourselves about that."

Robertson is a member of the Senate Armed Services committee which in his absence yesterday approved the bill by a 12 to 0 vote. He said he would have voted against the measure.

It provides for unification of the military and naval forces under a Secretary of National Security. The bill says specifically that there shall be no merger, a provision upon which the navy insisted.

But Robertson contended that 'nine lines of the bill are merger lines and it doesn't take a lawyer to figure it out.

He referred to a section which creates a "National Security Organization (which) shall consist of the Department of the Army, the Department of the Navy and the Department of the Air Force . . ."

Robertson's argument is the making of the three departments part of an "organization" spelled merger. He said he intends to fight the bill on that ground when it reaches the Senate floor, probably next month.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), who voted for the bill in committee but reserved the right to offer amendments on the floor, told a reporter he has no major changes in mind.

"I may have a few little revisions to offer and I didn't want to be bound by the committee vote from doing so," Bridges said.

Despite their differing views on the unification bill, Bridges and Robertson agreed on a related matter. Both said they want the armed services committee to hold hearings as soon as possible on universal training. The committee will decide about this next week, even though prospects for final action this year are virtually nonexistent.

Bad Check Charges Getting Numerous

After an unexplainable lull, the sheriff's department is again being besieged by persons soliciting for action on bogus checks.

Four complaints were entered on the county court docket Tuesday against bad check artists. All have either departed town or cannot immediately be contacted, a spokesman for the sheriff's office stated.

Other peace officers are attempting to run down check artists in other cases before filing complaints.

Enters Guilty Plea

A. W. Armistead, picked up Tuesday evening by members of the state highway patrol on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, entered a plea of guilty in county court Wednesday and was fined $75 plus costs. Armistead also lost the right to his driver's license for the ensuing six months.

Cake For Bridal Supper How To Make A Wedding

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

The buffet table for a bridal supper should be as beautiful as possible. The family's loveliest silver, complete, if possible, with a silver coffee service, a lustrous white Irish linen cloth, lovely flowers (pink or white roses, particularly) and a really handsome cake will delight the guests and make any bride and her mother proud. The bride's mother can make a wonderful cake for this great occasion if she will follow the simple step-by-step procedure given below.

SWEETHEARTS' CAKE FOR THE BRIDE

Step I: Paper Heart Pattern: Make a paper pattern of a heart from a piece of paper 10 inches in diameter. (Use your 10-inch cake pan and trace a circle on brown wrapping paper. You'll find the heart easily to cut.)

Step II: Cardboard Base: Take a piece of cardboard, oblong in shape, at least 22 inches long by 12 inches wide. Now, use your paper pattern to trace two overlapping hearts on the cardboard. Cut out the double heart (all in one piece, of course). You probably will have to do this with a sharp knife rather than scissors if the cardboard is at all heavy. Set aside until needed.

Step III: Layer Cakes: Bake four 10-inch layers of the Bride's White Cake. Note recipe below makes two layers. Do not double the recipe; for perfect cakes, mix two separate batches of this one recipe.

Step IV: Cool cakes well. Use paper pattern of the heart and cut four large heart-shaped cakes from the four thick layers of white cake.

Step V: Spread Cream Filling Frosting between layers, making the pair of two-layer, heart-shaped cakes. Set one in place on the prepared cardboard of double hearts. Trim the second layer cake to fit into the first and then set the second cake in place on the prepared cardboard. Now note, with interlocking hearts in place, that the cut surfaces are "crumbly." It is difficult to frost smoothly when crumbs can rub off. Therefore, mix 1 egg white with a tablespoon of water. With this, paint the cut surfaces. Set aside to dry; cut surfaces will be smoothly sealed in.

Step VI: For greater ease of handling after cake is frosted, it is wise to place it on a large paper doily or on a large sheet of clean white wrapping paper—these can be trimmed away later or not, as desired, but it gives you space for the rim of ornamental frosting at the lower edge of the cake. It permits the cake to be transferred freely from one spot to the other, after frosting, without damage.

Frost cake smoothly over top and sides, using the Seven Minute Frosting which follows. Then fill pastry bag with Ornamental frosting and bead edges both top and bottom, as desired. (If you are not adept with a pastry tube, do a little before-hand practicing.) For this, use a soft kitchen shortening, pressing onto waxed paper. The same shortening can be used over and over again—with no damage to the shortening—until you find yourself able to make a perfect beading in a professional manner.

Finally, transfer cake to a silver tray (right on its cardboard and paper mat)—or use a large mirror as the serving platform. Bank sweetheart roses around the edge of the tray or mirror. Also make two old-fashioned boutonnières of tiny roses. Place one in the center of each heart.

Bride's Delicate White Cake
(2 layers)
3 cups sifted cake flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
3-4 cup butter or fortified margarine
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1-2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
4 egg whites

Prepare two 10-inch layer cake pans by greasing, then lining with paper. Sift dry ingredients together. Set aside until needed. Cream butter or margarine until fluffy and add sugar gradually, beating well. Add lemon juice. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with the liquid—about a third of each at a time, beating until smooth after each addition. Beat egg whites with rotary beater until they are stiff but not dry. Fold into the cake batter. Fill two prepared 10-inch layer cake pans 2-3 full. Bake in 350 degree oven about 30 minutes, until well baked through and delicately browned over top. Turn out on cake rack, remove paper lining, cool. Follow general directions for shaping, spreading and frosting.

Cream Filling Frosting
1-4 cup butter or fortified margarine
2 cups confectioner's sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
3 tablespoons cream or orange juice (as preferred).
Cream butter or margarine until very soft. Sift the sugar and remove all lumps. Then begin to add 1 cup of sugar gradually to the butter or margarine, beating until smooth after each addition. As remaining sugar is beaten in, add liquid as necessary to make frosting easy to beat and of proper consistency to spread. Sufficient filling for two, two layer sweetheart cakes.

Seven Minute Frosting
2 egg whites
1 1-2 cups sugar
Dash of salt
1-3 cup water
2 teaspoon light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup marshmallows (finely cut)
Mix egg whites, sugar, salt, water and corn syrup in top part of double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with rotary beater about 7 minutes, or until frosting thickens and holds its shape when dropped from beater. Remove from boiling water, add flavoring and continue beating until marshmallows are melted and frosting is stiff enough to spread. Cover top and sides of sweetheart cakes, spreading smoothly.

Ornamental Icing
1 cup sugar
1-2 cup water
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
2 egg whites
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-4 cup confectioner's sugar
Put sugar, water and corn syrup in saucepan and stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Boil covered, about 3 minutes. Then boil, uncovered, and without stirring, until a small amount of syrup forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Remove syrup from heat. Quickly beat egg whites until stiff, then pour syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly. Add salt and flavoring and continue beating until frosting is cool and of proper consistency to spread. Stir in, very lightly, the confectioner's sugar. This mixture should be firm enough to hold its shape when molded as flowers, letters, or other decoration. Apply with a pastry tube. If frosting becomes too firm to use easily, add a small amount of unbeaten egg white. Approximate yield, 2 cups.

A healthy young tea bush 2 1-2 feet high produces only 2 1-2 ounces of black manufactured tea a year.

School Expansion Problems Begin

School board members are beginning to tackle some of the vexing problems attached to its proposal for expansion of the system.

At the meeting Tuesday evening trustees made their initial study of tentative plans for a high school building. This at once posed some questions. Should the plant be functional or should it bear more classical treatment in its exterior. The board, at the moment, definitely is inclined to the functional theory. Thus, while the proposed plant would be attractive, the sprawling architecture would be for the purpose of serving educational needs rather than primarily pleasing the eye. Aside from the merits of designing for utility, there is a definite financial consideration between construction costs.

Should the board be inclined to the one and two-story plan in its building, the land problem is solved happily in advance, for the district has an adequate site fronting on Eleventh place. This ought to suggest that similar steps might now be taken in reference to other prospective school sites before they are ruled out by buildings upon them sometime in the future.

But the main problem that confronts the board—and ultimately the district—is the same old problem of financial limitation. Early estimates are that the type of high school plant envisioned (which would be adequate possibly for a city almost twice this size) would cost around $800,000. This would leave only $200,000 or a projected million dollar bond issue for other educational plant improvements. Obviously, it is a difficult problem.

Better Sense Of Balance Needed

Observing that there is no reason to believe that reviewers are paid by authors, but that some certainly scent of subsidization, the Paris News takes a poke at the current trend in "literature."

This goes under the banner of realism, and its recruits and adherents are legion. There cannot be serious objection to realism, but it should be done with proper perspective and with a sense of proper proportion.

And on the ground that authors certainly lose their sense of proportion, we go along with the News in saying that something is wrong in the literary world. It was Robert Quillen who aptly observed that a best seller is a book that wouldn't get through the first printing if it had the smut removed. Sadly, that is all too true. People are not reading for literary merit, but because some acquaintance or some reviewer has said it is naughty or nasty, or that it has to be bought from under the counter.

Certainly there is ugliness and filth in the world and there's no use in hiding our heads from the fact. Even the Bible does not ignore some pretty sordid scenes, but modern writers certainly could take a timely lesson from the over-all picture presented by the Bible. Nowhere does it place emphasis on degrading things. Rather it presents them in blunt and unexcited language for what they are—bad examples.

In the world there happens to be vastly more of the wholesome and beautiful, especially in literate lands. As a matter of emphasis, we suggest that there ought to be more of this and less of the smut.

Washington Also Science Capital

WASHINGTON. (AP)—You may not have thought of it that way but Washington is the world's science capital.

This city is the center of great scientific activity although the noise of the politicians and lawmakers drowns out the quiet scientists.

Yet, you could rubberneck around Washington a good while and still not see the work in science being done here.

Since World War I Washington has become more and more a scientific center. It spurred in to first place under the drive of World War II.

The Washington Post, recently speaking of the scientific growth of the city, said:

"Growth has been topsy-like—a cyclotron here, a wind-tunnel there, medical research laboratories somewhere else, until you look about and suddenly realize that your own backyard is a treasury of scientific endeavor."

Probably more scientific organizations, including some of the largest, have their headquarters here than in any other city. For example:

The American Association for the Advancement of Science, with more than 32,000 members all over the world; the National Academy of Sciences, with a membership of 350 top scientists; the American Chemical Society; the American Psychological Society, and son on.

The government, with its fingers in many pies, is doing most of the scientific work here.

The biggest non-governmental outfit is the Carnegie Institution of Washington which operates a great cyclotron, used in atomic research.

Here are some of the government centers:

The National Institute of Health—it investigates the causes of disease, and ways to prevent them.

The National Cancer Institute—it's doing research in cancer.

The Agricultural Research Center—its great acres, just outside Washington are a swarm of scientific experiments with plants and animals.

Army Medical Department's research and graduate school—among other things, it is investigating tropical diseases.

The National Bureau of Standards—it's one of the principal research and testing laboratories of the government in all kinds of fields, such as chemistry, physics, engineering, weights, measures, temperatures.

"NOW, THAT'S REAL ART—ALMOST LIKE A PHOTOGRAPH"

Hal Boyle's Notebook

Right-Diet For Lads

OKLAHOMA CITY. — What fun is it to be whistled at if the whistlers aren't worth a hoot?

That's what a number of Oklahoma high school girls write in to ask Miss Maxine Turner, state nutritionist, when she told them a frank booklet that the best way to become a "Whistle Job" was to develop a "Classy Chassis."

The girls complained that the quality of "Nice Wolves" was so low it was hardly worth the trouble to develop eye appeal. So Miss Turner, an attractive brunette who follows her own advice, has prepared a booklet for the Oklahoma State Department of Health telling high school boys "How to be a big time operator."

She talks in their own jive language. "If you're only slightly repulsive, you can talk it over with the physical education teacher or coach," she wrote. "They were probably young once, too."

"However, there are a few things every guy can do to stay on the beam. Such foods as milk shakes, pastries, cakes, rich sauces, cream, fat meats and candies are no-go if you sport a plump rump."

"If you're a Slim Jim—and you can sell from the number of times she claims that receiver down in your ear—you'll need to eat more of the fattening foods."

Miss Turner listed as the seven basic food needs: Green and yellow vegetables—one serving a day.

Citrus fruits—one serving a day.

Potatoes and other fruits and vegetables—two or three servings a day.

Milk and milk products—one quart daily.

Meat, fish, eggs and poultry—two servings daily.

Whole grain or enriched bread and cereals—three servings daily.

Butter or fortified margarine—three tablespoons daily.

The booklet also advised boys how to clear up skin "bickies" by getting plenty of sleep, cutting down on sweets and using a mild face soap.

Big broad shoulders and an athlete's hips are certainly a big asset," Miss Turner said "but it takes a few additional doodads to snag the dates."

Friends Again, But How Friendly?

The United States and Argentina are going to be friends again, but just how friendly?

This is the question that remains paramount in the wake of President Truman's patching up of US differences with the Peron government.

These troubles centered around Argentine efforts to clean house of Nazi influences there.

The White House indicated in a statement it is satisfied with Argentina's performance but wants to talk it over with the Latin American governments before saying so publicly.

Diplomats say it is a cliché that when the formalities are over this particular US-Argentine problem will have been removed.

What they are concerned about now are these questions:

1. The long-range US policy toward Argentina.

2. The fundamental American policy toward all the Latin American countries.

Both tie in together because they seem to be recurrent.

It is well established now that both Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden and George Messersmith, ambassador to Argentina, will go out of office shortly and almost simultaneously. They have long been on more official speaking terms because of their clashes over Argentine policy.

These clashes, while involving some element of divergent personalities, really represent a collision of fundamental ideas on US Latin American policy.

Oversimplified, the problem is: shall the United States under the good neighbor policy treat all the Latin American neighbors alike or be firm with those it considers to be bad neighbors?

Should the United States maintain "inter-American unity" at all costs or play down this unity when the situation warrants?

Messersmith is generally classified in the school devoted to maintaining unity. Braden is regarded as an advocate of seeking widest possible acceptance by the Latins of principles this country deems essential.

During the past five years there have been four reversals of policy toward Argentina as one school won favor for the time over the other.

Now the question arises again. There is no clear indication yet what President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall will decide.

Those who have been clamoring most for a change in Argentine policy seem also to be advocating a close working relationship between the two countries.

Diplomats from nations bordering on Argentina express fears privately that if this happens their countries will be forced into Argentina's orbit. They have said that up to now they have been depending on US support to ward off that possibility.

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Gleason Defender Of Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Just a change of pace, it's novel to hear someone upholding these sunny shores against the verbal onslaught of Hollywood's detractors. Such a guy is James Gleason.

Jimmy got his Irish up concerning the recent statement by playwright Moss Hart that the movies would have been more civilized if the industry had stayed in the East, where it would have been exposed to the uplifting influence of the stage. Nuts, says Jimmy.

"The trouble with New Yorkers like Moss," said Jimmy, who was born in the Big Town but grew up in San Francisco "is they think the world is bounded by the Battery and the Harlem River. To them, anything that happens on the outside couldn't be any good."

As for the movies profiting by closer association with the stage, Jimmy said that's sheer nonsense.

Even if pictures had stayed

In New York, they'd still be made by the same men... and they'd still have to appeal to the same audience—the 10-year-olds with the turned-up socks."

No human being could act in a play and a movie simultaneously, he added.

"I'll tell you why the movies are in California," Jimmy declared. "Because within a two-and-a-half hours' drive I can take you to backgrounds for any picture you could imagine. We've got everything here."

Except skyscrapers.

Free Utilities

NEW YORK (AP)—The water and light commission of Brooklyn, recently gave one free month of water, light, power, and heat services to all consumers in the city. The Municipal Finance Officers Association reports that this free month amounted to about $10,000 in savings to the community.

Tall Story Winner

YAKIMA, Wash. (UP)—Frank W. Bennett of Wapato, Wash., won the liars' contest at the 12th annual dinner of the Yakima Valley anglers and hunters club. His story:

"Dan MacDonald was telling me about a hunting trip to Canada, when it was almost too cold to survive. One bitter day he spotted a fine, 12-point deer. He shot and scored a direct hit, but the deer leaped over a cliff and disappeared. When Dan looked over the cliff he saw the deer frozen in the air halfway down. It was so darn cold the law of gravitv froze, too."

Americans with incomes under $1,500 a year purchased 32 per cent of the life insurance policies sold in the United States in 1942 and only 16 per cent of the policies in 1944. Those with incomes of more than $5,000 a year purchased 7 per cent of the policies sold in 1942 and 16 per cent in 1944.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Draw Pearson

Housing Is Troubling President

WASHINGTON. — White House friends say that President Truman is getting more and more concerned over the housing shortage and the failure of either private industry or the government to do much about it. Whether Truman now realizes his mistake in letting his own administration officials cut the ground out from under ex-housing czar Wilson Wyatt remains to be seen. However, it is a fact that not only Congress, but also Truman's own housing expeditors have bogged down on housing.

Here is an example of how they have bogged right in Truman's home bailiwick — Kansas City.

The other day Dutch Miller, promoter of the midget-car races at Olympic Stadium, Kansas City, wanted to enlarge the seating space for his spectators. In hot weather, he said, they had to sit too close together. So he proposed $8,500 worth of new construction.

However, the Kansas City Citizens Committee, appointed to protect the veterans' housing program, said no. They ruled first that midget-car races weren't necessary to the life of Kansas City, and second, that it wouldn't hurt the spectators to sit a little closer together, anyway.

Whereupon Dutch Miller went over the heads of the Kansas City Veterans' Housing committee and took his case direct to the office of housing expediter in Washington. And, much to the surprise of the local people, he won. William E. O'Brien, deputy housing expediter, wired his official permission to build bigger and better seating arrangements for those who wanted to view the midget-car races in Kansas City.

THEATRES vs. VETERANS

Questioned by this column as to why he overruled the Kansas City committee, Deputy Housing Expediter O'Brien explained that only a small amount of building was involved. However, what he forgot was the sock-on-the-jaw he gave the morale of the folks in Kansas City. The starch was taken right out of them regarding veterans' housing.

However, when Harry Truman appointed O'Brien and Frank Credon to run the office of housing expediter, he should have known what he was doing. For Credon's previous record in yielding to private interests as against veterans' interests was readily available to the White House. Time after time, as a member of the Civilian Production Administration, Credon had overruled Wilson Wyatt when it came to veterans' housing.

Here are some of the cases where Credon ruled in favor of reconditioning or remodeling amusement places and against veteran's housing.

Knickerbocker Burlesque theatre, Columbus, O.; Griffith Theatres, Carlsbad, N.M.; A. Afalu and Sons Theatre, Leland, Miss.; Paul Neale Outdoor Theatre, Lexington, Ky.; Constantine Vovela Theatre, Nogales, Ariz.; Edward S. Nolan Theatre, Electric, Ala.; N. H. Sparks Theatre, Tompkinsville, Ky.; Robin Adair Theatre, Atlanta, Ga.; Chas. R. Jones' Restaurant, Bar and Liquor Store, San Diego, Calif.; Frank Nund and Tony Mangier Night Club, Galesburg, Ill.; Princeton, Ind., Theatre.

Many of these involved only small amounts of money. But taken in the aggregate they have a definite impact on veterans' housing. Most important impact, however, is on the morale of local citizens committees, such as in Kansas City, when they are overruled by the office of housing expediter in Washington.

ESCAPE IN JAP CAMP

The Navy has received a new and revealing affidavit regarding Lt. Com. Edward M. Little, who now faces secret court-martial for his treatment of American prisoners at Camp 17, Fukuoka, Japan. The affidavit indicates that another American might have been tortured or killed by the Japs had the war lasted one more day.

On the day the war ended, Paul J. Shaughnessy, former Coast Artillery private, of Brighton, Mass., was caught stealing a pair of pants at Camp 71. And, according to Shaughnessy's affidavit, Little was about to turn him over to the Japs when the American commander of the camp intervened, ordering Little to think over this severe punishment for at least 12 hours, before turning Shaughnessy over to the Japs. (Two other Americans turned over to the Japs by Little had been tortured and starved to death.)

A few hours later—and while Little was still thinking it over—the war ended. Here is Private Shaughnessy's story of what happened:

"I was a prisoner of war 3 1/2 years. I was under the command of Lieutenant Little. Camp 17 in Japan. As a mess officer he had caught me for stealing a pair of pants. He had threatened me in front of at least 40 or 50 direct witnesses and he said 'Shaughnessy!!! I'm going to turn you over to the Japanese and they are going to shoot you.' I gave him an answer back which was very unsuitable and he struck me and I fell to the ground. He came over and raised me from the ground and said, 'we are going to the Japanese.'"

"On the way to the Japanese we ran into our then camp commander who asked Mr. Little where he was going and Mr. Little answered, 'I am bringing Shaughnessy to the guard house.'"

"Our camp commander commanded Mr. Little to weigh the evidence at least 12 hours before making any hasty decision knowing that when he turned me over to the Japanese I would be shot as I was already a three-time loser."

"Mr. Little reluctantly gave in after a direct order. He told me that I could go to work on the moon shift but my chances of coming out of this were just next to nothing. I returned to my barracks, wrote two notes back to my folks at home. I also gave the notes and a picture that I had saved from the start of the war to a very close friend, Thomas is his name, from Pennsylvania."

THE WAR ENDED

"I went to work and that was August 15, 1945. I worked two hours and all men were brought back to camp. Not knowing what had happened, we were in a more or less stagnated state for 3 or 4 days not knowing whether the war was over."

"When a Red Cross car came into camp the fifth day and told our camp commander that the war was over, an MP section was set up out of our own men with Mr. Little in charge. The first act that he did was to have myself and 4 other men thrown into the guard house. The American planes came over while we were in the guard house and we were dropped off to be distributed among prisoners. Mr. Little, through his own orders, had the men in the guard house cut off from the extra food dropped by the planes. He was supposedly going to save us for the Americans to be brought to trial."

"I escaped from the guard house on August 29 at 9:30 p.m. went out through a hole in the fence, and on the 12th of September I ran into the southern-most part of Kyushu. I was also a witness to the Pavlovsk and Knight incidents in which Mr. Little was responsible for their deaths. The Pavlovsk and Knight deaths were due to food incidents, but mine was due to clothing. If Mr. Little uses the defense that he was protecting the rest of the camp's food supply, how is he going to explain my incident as it has nothing to do with food?"

NOTE: A lot of things went on during the stress and strain of war which can be forgotten and forgiven. However, it is also important to remember that Congress is now being asked to pass universal military conscription, under which regular army and navy officers would be given even greater power over the youth of the nation. This makes it incumbent on the army and the navy to improve their officer standards.

Cheap Money? IO-G Bill Appears

So many students are graduating this year that a shortage developed in sheepskin.

President H. W. Stillwell of Texarkana College said diplomas issued there were printed on high grade paper. It was, he said, the first time in the history of the school that diplomas were not on genuine sheepskin.

Inflation has hit the folding money field. Corpus Christi bank tellers decided when a $10,000 bill showed up.

A bill that size is rare. It's the largest denomination issued by the government. It can be obtained only through a federal reserve bank. If, for some strange reason, a person wants a $10,000 bill he has to go to a lot of trouble.

Banks do not normally keep them on hand. They requisition them from a branch of the federal reserve.

L. B. Dunn, assistant cashier of the Corpus Christi National bank, said he couldn't remember when he had received such a bill before.

Dunn said it was received as a deposit from a large firm.

And speaking of checks, Briscowe Wilder, manager of the Harlingen Retail Credit Bureau, said checks are bouncing more easily nowadays than they did during the war. He said the average man obviously has less ready cash these postwar days.

He said both the out-end-out hot check and the "warm" check, the one marked insufficient funds, are increasing in number.

Getting hot? The Texas Engineering Experiment Station, College Station, has a free bulletin on how to get maximum effect from electric fans.

Broncs Lose 13-2 Decision And Longhorn League Lead

Bert Baer To Try For Eighth Win

Humberto Baer tries for his eighth victory of the year at Big Spring Broncs and the Vernon Dusters square off for the rubber game of their three-bout set. Contest time is 8:15 p. m. Baer suffered his first defeat last Sunday in Sweetwater. Ballinger, instead of Midland moves into the local orchard for a three game series starting Friday night. The Cats will be here through Sunday.

Tigers Invade Abilene Sunday

Ynez Yanes' Big Spring Tigers will play a return game with Abilene's Browns Eagles in Abilene Sunday afternoon. In a previous outing, the Bengals thrashed the War Birds, 8-0, behind the effective elbowing of Alfredo Chavez. Yanes said the local semi-pro would probably play here Sunday, June 15.

Newcomer Meets Martin Monday

Billy Widner, who hails from Boston, the city of the bean and the cod, moves into the Big Spring Athletic club Monday night to dispute Wayne Martin's claim on the top rating among local wrestlers. Martin won that spot, at least temporarily, by throttling George Lopez last time out. Jack Pappenheim also returns to the club next week.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

James Felts who has taken over the job of looking after the Big Spring Motor company softball team, wants to throw out the present Munny moshball league schedule and adopt a new one. His argument is that interest in the circuit has suffered from the current program, which permits the teams to play only when the professional baseball nine is out of town. Felts maintains that the pros will not suffer, that their clientele is established. The athletes would get more out of a busier program, says he.

Other managers within the family reportedly favor Felts' idea and may take action on it within the immediate future.

Deadline for entry in the 11th Annual West Texas Softball tournament, which will be staged in San Angelo June 30 through July 5, will be 6 p. m., Friday, June 27.

At least one and possibly two teams of the local Munny league are due to be entered in the fast field, which will be battling for $400 in prize money. The championship club, incidentally, drags down $250. Entry fee is $10 a team and should be sent to Hugh Welch' care of the Angelo Standard-Times, before the tournament starts.

Abilene's Onyx's Oilers were last year's champions, beating Carr's of Angelo in the finals, 1-0. J. D. Quinlan Brown, who saw action in several Munny games here as a member of the Manhattan team, was the winning pitcher. Brown, incidentally, is now pitching for Odessa and Lubbock teams.

Four of the five members of the 1946 All-State High school basketball team will be playing for the SMU varsity team in '47. They are Harold Salmon and Jack Brown of Crozier Tech; Marcus Frelberger of Greenville; and Charlie Lutz, of Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio). Barkley T. Wood, Jr., of the class of 1949, son of Mrs. Ellen B. Ezell of Our Town, was presented with the NA Varsity Athletic award for his work with the 1946 US Naval Academy football team in a ceremony at Annapolis last Monday. Midshipman Wood, who attended high school here, was on the second team at the Academy last

Locals Guilty Of 11 Boots

Members of the Big Spring baseball club awakened this morning to find themselves a part of the hoi polloi. After weeks of riding atop the Longhorn league standings, the Broncs dropped to second place Wednesday night. The procedure was very simple. They kicked away a decision—both literally and figuratively—to the Vernon Dusters, 13-2, while the Midlands, long berating hard on the necks of the locals, were thrashing Odessa again.

The Hosses have never been quite as bad as they were in their Wednesday contest played at the local park. Gerry Rodriguez was the losing twirler but the younger did not deserve such a horrible fate. He gave up 11 hits and pitched a grand slam home-run ball to Gerald Fahr, the Vernon hurler, but might have escaped a lot of trouble had his mates rallied behind him.

Eleven times during the course of the struggle the locals committed misplays. In addition, the Cayuses were guilty of several mental errors that could not go down in the record books against them. Vernon went out in the first inning and collected two runs. Then the Dusters dented the dish ten times in Round Three to erase all doubt as to the outcome. Two innings later they added another for good measure.

Bad inning and all, Rodriguez was better than usual and showed signs that he is recovering some of his stuff. He cut down 14 batters on strikes, including Wayne Ingram four times. The Hosses with six safeties, notched ten strikeouts himself, and coasted in after the ten-run outbreak. He caught one of Rodriguez' "notching" pitches to drive out his home run, lifting the ball high enough so that the wind caught it and carried it over.

Pat Stasey connected with his 12th home run of the season in the ninth with a blow over the left field wall.

COPENHAGEN, June 5. (AP)—A valuable trinket presented to the late Grace Moore by King Haakon VII of Norway was found recently near the scene of the airplane crash in which Miss Moore lost her life. Deputy Police Commissioner Arthur Dahl said today.

He said the trinket, which bears the king's initials, would be sent to the singer's heirs.

Court Tests Ahead For Labor Statutes

By PAUL BOLTON
 Herald Austin Bureau

(This is the second of a series of articles on labor legislative developments in Texas.—E.L. Note.)

AUSTIN, June 5. — Along toward mid-September or early October, Texas courts may break out in a rash of lawsuits to test the validity of the many labor laws passed by the 50th Texas legislature; and the interests of most employers will be centered in the test of the anti-closed shop bill.

Of the several labor bills passed none got the 100 votes necessary for immediate effectiveness; so all will become effective 90 days after the adjournment of the legisla-

Orphanage Deeded To Church, But To Be Refused

BROWNSVILLE, June 5. (AP)—Mathes H. Coleman and his wife Ruth, negro operators of the Santa Rosa orphanage, have deeded the institution to the Catholic church, but the most Rev. E. B. Ledvina, bishop of Corpus Christi, says that the gift will be turned down.

The Colemans, convicted in federal court here last week on a mail fraud indictment growing out of their solicitation of funds for the negro orphanage, transferred the property to Bishop Ledvina in a deed filed with the Cameron county clerk here.

"They had no right to do that," Bishop Ledvina said in Corpus Christi, when informed of the transfer.

"I am not obliged to accept the property. This was done without my knowledge and consent."

The bishop said he had refused to take over operation of the home a year ago because the transaction was "too involved."

He stated that he would instruct church representatives at Brownsville to refuse acceptance.

June 6 has been set as the adjournment date. And House Bill 23 will be tested the first time a closed shop contract comes up for renewal after that date.

Organizations backing the closed shop prohibition — and they included numerous statewide groups such as trade associations — are confident that the anti-closed shop bill will stand the test of the courts, despite the failure of the proposed amendment to the constitution to write the same language into basic law.

This confidence is based upon decisions of courts outside of Texas.

Embodied in the Florida constitution was an amendment practically identical with the measure which Texas passed as a bill. It was attacked in federal court as in conflict with Federal constitution. The court said the Florida constitution was okay; "it does not deny the labor union member of equal protection of the law, but appears to be designed to give to the non-union worker a protection of law which he has not theretofore enjoyed."

The court also said that it found no federal law with which the Florida provision was in conflict.

The Supreme Court of Alabama upheld the constitutionality of an Alabama law which is practically identical with the Texas law.

The Florida case was taken to the US Supreme Court. That court declined to pass upon the whether there was a conflict between the Florida constitution and Federal law. In fact the lawyers are prepared to prove that Texas' new law actually follows the lines laid down by Federal law.

The Texas law — very short and simple — says:

1. "The inherent right of a person . . . to bargain freely with his employer, individually or collectively . . . shall not be denied by law or by an organization . . ."
2. "No person shall be denied employment on account of membership or nonmembership in a labor union."
3. "Any contract which requires . . . that employees shall or shall not be members of a labor union shall be null and void . . ." This is applicable only to future contracts or renewals of contracts.

Chinese Reds Near Mukden

NANKING, June 5. (AP)—Government reinforcements reached Manchuria today, Nationalist dispatches reported, as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces faced a possible communist assault on Mukden, and Changchun, capital city.

Military quarters appeared concerned over the new southward sweep which has carried communist soldiers to within 20 miles of Mukden. They held Mukden's fall unlikely but questioned whether Changchun, 175 miles northeast, could hold out until aid arrived.

Nationalist dispatches pictured the government's position as somewhat improved by recapture of Kungchuling, railroad town between Mukden and Changchun.

A Mukden dispatch to the newspaper Hsin Min Pao said government reinforcements — perhaps part of the 100,000 troops promised the hard-pressed Manchurian defenders — had landed at a "certain port" together with large supplies of munitions.

Showers Slowing Work In Fields

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—Drying fields permitted field work to be resumed over most of the state but continued showers still delayed progress in some northern and northeastern counties, the US Department of Agriculture said today.

Soil moisture was reported in excellent balance, sufficient for all growing crops and grasses, but dry enough for field work.

Cool weather at mid-week retarded the growth of cotton and maturity of small grain crops.

Binding and combining of wheat started in northern and north central counties where a general harvest was expected before the end of the week. Some fields were still too wet for combining and in need of continued sunshine.

Wheat was maturing in the southern high plains and was heading in the extreme northern panhandle.

Exams Announced By Civil Service

The civil service commission has announced an examination for psychologist (personal counselor) for employment in the Veterans Administration offices in Washington, D. C. and at any other point in the U. S.

One of the requisites is to have qualified, except for thesis, for a PhD degree in psychology. Salary is $4,902.

The commission also has announced examinations for internal revenue agent. Salaries range from $2,644 to $4,902 per annum. Further information and application forms may be had from A. A. Porter, local commission secretary, at the postoffice or by writing to the civil service regional office in New Orleans, or national offices in Washington.

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

How to Go to Sleep

We were sitting around Bill Webster's parlor Friday evening and the talk turned to the best way of overcoming sleeplessness . . . like breathing real slow and deep, imagining that you weigh a ton, or simply throwing away the pillow.

The consensus favored counting sheep. But right away was the question: what kind of sheep? There were some votes for countin' Merinos, Shropshires, Oxfords and Dorsets. Ed Mapes said he had best luck counting crossbreeds.

Finally, Bert Childers spoke up with his formula: A light snack and a mellow glass of beer at bedtime. Sort of puts you in the mood for quiet thoughts and peace of mind. Let's you relax . . . and "ho hum," off to pleasant dreams!

From where I sit, there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer to smooth away the creases of the day, relax a body, and pave the way for a good night's sleep. Try it, and see if I'm not right.
