Birchers Defend OSHA Attack

The John Birch Society Saturday claimed its indictment of OSHA as a dangerous fraud has effectively been substantiated by one of the co-authors of the new federal program himself.

In a statement issued yesterday, Jack Skelly, Pampa Birch leader, asserted that a "dishonorable and misleading" condemnation of the Birch position by Congressman William Steiger has only proven the truth of its original charges about OSHA.

OSHA, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, is one of the newest targets of the Birch Society, Skelly stated.

Created by the Williams Steiger Act of 1970, OSHA has produced a myriad of standards, regulations and edicts of America's businessmen which are being enforced by an "army" of official Compliance Officers, Skelly said.

Visits from OSHA have resulted in an enormous number of fines, citations and costly demands which have been bitterly denounced by businessmen from coast to coast.

According to Skelly, the John Birch Society sees OSHA as an arm of growing federal power over the productive element of America.

Skelly stated, "Under the guise of promoting safety and health, OSHA has produced costly, ridiculous and impossible standards which give the federal government the power to control or destroy every business in this nation."

Last December, the Birch-affiliated magazine American Opinion published an analysis of OSHA written by contributing editor Alan Stang. The article, "OSHAcrats," bluntly labels the agency as tyranny in-the-making. On March 21, Congressman William Steiger, one of two authors of the Act creating OSHA, entered a condemnation of Stang's article in the Congressional Record.

According to Skelly, each of the eighteen so-called examples of inaccuracy cited by Congressman Steiger has been

Youth Arrested After Accident

A 16-year-old Pampa youth was lodged in city jail Friday night to face charges of juvenile driving while under the influence of intoxicants, with two traffic citations.

The situation grew out of an accident at 524 S. Cuyler when the boy lost control of the vehicle he was driving and went over a curb, striking a house. His vehicle spun around on impact and struck the right rear of a small car parked in front of the house, according to police reports.

Witnesses told police that other passengers in the car with the youth exited and ran from the scene. Police said the driver smelled strongly of alcohol and had difficulty with his speech.

Apparently there were no injuries in the accident, only undetermined property damage, police said.

LDS Church Glass Broken

The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 731 Sloan, was the victim of vandalism sometime Friday night but damage was limited to a front door glass valued at $50.

Police said some object such as a ball must have hit the glass and caromed off. Whatever the object that broke the glass, it was not found inside.

Their investigation report leaned toward the vandalism theory since there was no indication that anyone had attempted to enter the building.

Alaskan Range

Democracy, A Republic-- It's The Same

ATHENS (AP) — If a Greek had shouted "Long live democracy" in public before Friday he would have been liable to court-martial on charges of subverting social and political order. Now it's the new craze.

Regime strongman George Papadopoulos started it when he proclaimed Greece a republic Friday.

In Greek the words "republic" and "democracy" happen to be the same.

When Papadopoulos twice called out "Zito i thimokratia"—Greek for "Long live the republic"—in Friday's nationwide radio announcement, he was also saying "Long live democracy."

Greece's new official state title is Presidential Parliamentary Republic or Presidential Parliamentary Democracy. The government radio and television networks are constantly announcing that the new republic—or "the new democracy"—has been created.

To Greeks, noted for millennia for oratory and mastery of language, this play with words provokes a significant smile.

CONTRIBUTIONS SAVE CONSERVATION PAPER

LANDER, Wyo. (AP) — The spirit of Earth Day welled up recently to save the High Country News.

This local biweekly, circulated nationally, devoted entirely to the conservation cause and supported by subscriptions alone — announced sadly that with a $7,500 bank loan due, it would have to go out of existence "barring a miracle."

The miracle happened. Contributions flowed in. Editor Tom Hill who took only $910 in salary for all of 1971 and 1972, started drawing a salary of $400 a month and announced, "We are on a stronger footing than we ever have been."

The earth's greatest known ocean depth is in the Pacific's Mariana Trench — 36,198 feet.

Dear Abby

Women turn out but are they turned on?

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion of this situation: A girl of marrying age (18-20) leaves town for an abortion. This is a family secret—or so she thinks. She returns and begins planning a big formal church wedding—white gown, veil, and all.

Are we, her friends who are wise to all this, supposed to act dumb? Should we buy her shower and wedding gifts and dance at her wedding as if nothing had happened?

I don't like to be made a fool of while she and her family think nobody else knows the whole story.

HATES HYPOCRITES

DEAR HATES: If you would feel less "a fool" were you to tell her that you know the whole story, tell her. But if you buy her shower and wedding gifts and dance at her wedding, she might mistake you for a friend, so unless you identify yourself, you're also a hypocrite.

DEAR ABBY: My husband took me to a company party where there was an orchestra for dancing. We didn't even have one dance when my husband left me, saying he'd be back in a minute. Not five minutes later I saw him out on the floor dancing with a girl. I just sat there alone and waited for him.

After what seemed like forever my husband came back and said one of the executives asked him to please dance with his wife because he (the executive) wanted to dance with his secretary and he didn't want to leave his wife sitting alone.

What about ME? I was left sitting alone, but that didn't seem to matter.

Abby, I love to dance, and my husband is a marvelous dancer, and there have been very few occasions where we have been able to dance, and I was really hurt.

During the evening my husband left me THREE times to ask that same lady to dance, so her husband could dance with his secretary. The secretary had a husband somewhere, but he never asked me to dance.

I told my husband when we got home I was humiliated and hurt and he said I was the only woman alive who would react that way. Am I?

ODD WOMAN OUT

DEAR ODD: Not while I'm alive.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

NEW BEDFORD GETS WHITE WHALE
 NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A giant statue of Moby Dick, rising from a pool of turbulent water, will be the striking symbol in a new downtown shopping mall that will reflect New Bedford's whaling tradition.

The 50-foot-long sculpture, made of foam concrete, will be the feature of White Whale Court, one of four court areas in the enclosed $15 million-Melville Mall.

Other courts in the two-level shopping complex will feature a harpoon sculpture, a whale-spout fountain and a lighthouse with a circular stairway.

Wood planks, overlapped in the manner of a whaleboat's lapstrake hull, will be used on interior paneling to enhance the maritime atmosphere.

Construction of the two theaters and 90 stores in the urban-renewal project is scheduled to begin this fall. Completion is expected in the fall of 1975.

Foreign Oil Imports Are Not Final Answer To Shortages

HOUSTON (AP) — A special consultant to the American Petroleum Institute says every oilman he knows recognizes that a substantial increase in oil imports is essential.

Paul Wollstadt of Washington adds, however, that it must be recognized that imports are not the complete answer to the nation's short-term, immediate or long-range petroleum supply problems.

Part of the problem, he says, is a widespread misconception that all crude oils are alike and can be used in any refinery.

"There is a worldwide shortage of crude oils that can be readily used in refineries not equipped for high-sulphur crude," he explains.

The variations in the characteristics of crude oils and in the capacity of each refinery to handle crudes with certain characteristics.

Wollstadt also says petroleum products from foreign sources also are in short supply.

"As for importing finished products, there is no great store of surplus supplies in world markets waiting for U.S. buyers," he says.

"Moreover, the cost of imported products is currently considerably higher than comparable domestic products."

Wollstadt also says two other factors prevent foreign oil from being a solution to the nation's energy problems.

"Imports expose the country to increased deficits in the balance of trade," he says.

"Imports expose the United States to the danger that foreign countries will wield their oil reserves as a political club."

Wollstadt says, however, that President Nixon's actions clearing the way for increased crude oil and products imports were designed in part to increase incentives for new refinery construction in the United States.

"This is to be accomplished by setting import fees for refined products higher than for crude oil, and by exempting from import fees part of the crude oil imported to run in new refining capacity," he says.

There already is indication the Nixon strategy is working. Construction of new domestic refining capacity has been at a standstill many months. But several major projects have been announced since Nixon abolished the import quota system in favor of the formula involving fees.

Exxon Co. USA announced plans May 15 for a $400 million expansion that would add 350,000 barrels a day in processing capacity at its plants at Baytown, Tex., Baton Rouge, La., and Bayway, N.J.

New Bayton units scheduled for completion by late 1976 would process 250,000 barrels a day and be capable of handling either domestic or foreign high sulphur crude oil.

M. A. Wright, Exxon board chairman, says the $400 million program will help increase the nation's self-sufficiency in refined products.

Butz Due for TFB Building Dedication

WACO — Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz will be in Waco on June 13 to help the Texas Farm Bureau celebrate the opening of its new $2.7 million building here, according to an announcement by TFB President J.T. (Red) Woodson.

Butz will speak at a barbecue dinner that evening climaxing dedication day activities.

Other notables who will participate earlier that day in dedication ceremonies include Congressman W.R. (Bob) Poage, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee; Governor Dolph Briscoe; and Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White.

Governor Briscoe has signed a proclamation designating the week of June 10-16 as "Farm Bureau Week" in Texas.

get underway at 1:30 that day in front of the new building at 7420 Fish Pond Road. Governor Briscoe will deliver the dedication address, and he will be introduced by Commissioner White. Congressman Poage will welcome the assemblage to Central Texas.

The ceremony will also include the planting of a symbolic pecan tree, using soil from counties all over Texas, and the burial of a time capsule containing historic items.

Open house for Farm Bureau members and the general public to tour the building will be from 2:15 until 6 p.m. The barbecue dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Waco Convention Center.

In his proclamation setting aside the special week, Governor Briscoe noted that The Texas Farm Bureau is the largest general farm organization in the state and said that for many years it has wielded "a strong influence in state affairs."

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

A number of people who read this column have raised the question with me concerning the unusual amount of rainfall we have had the past two years. Most seem to think that our underground Ogallala fresh water formation is getting a lot of recharge.

Too many things are working against any appreciable amount of the rainfall and snow of the past two years getting back to the underground reservoir. There is the great depth to the underground formation. Then there is the sun and the wind combining to evaporate approximately 84 inches of moisture from the surface each year. Our weather men constantly remind us that our average humidity is low. Finally, the plant life on the surface uses a big portion. The net result is that a small amount of moisture gets back to the underground reservoir.

With a definite volume of water in the formation and a definite amount being pumped to the surface for municipal, industrial, and agricultural use, we can safely predict that the underground reservoir will be empty by an approximate date.

The two rainy years in succession actually means that the empty date has been extended by two years.

The irrigation farmers, the industrial plant, the municipal government and finally, the people who live in the houses — all must use the water wisely.

Norman Flaigg of the Austin Office of the Bureau of Reclamation has done extensive research on the secondary benefits of irrigation. The irrigation farmer already knows this. Many of our city people do not know this. For their education, we pass this on to them.

Increases in net farm income are only the most visible and easily defined benefits of irrigation. Other increases in returns accrue throughout economic channels far beyond the farm where crop production is increased by irrigation. Before the crop leaves the farm, employment and income are created by the farmer's payments to farm labor and his purchases of supplies and equipment needed to produce the crop. After the crop leaves the farm, employment and income are created for those who transport the crop, process it into various products, and distribute those products to the consumers. Finally, employment and income are created in retail concerns by purchases of all sorts of consumer items by irrigators, by suppliers of agricultural labor, materials, and equipment and by transporters, processors, and marketers of farm products with increase in their incomes attributable to irrigation.

Under Bureau of Reclamation procedures, estimates of secondary irrigation benefits reflect profits to enterprises engaged in transporting, processing, and marketing increases in irrigation-produced farm sales between the farm and final consumers. To derive such estimates, secondary benefit factors are applied to increases in farm sales of each crop due to irrigation. By applying these factors to irrigation-produced increases in farm sales, as estimated by the Texas Water Development Board and New Mexico State University, average annual secondary irrigation benefits attributable to the project are estimated as $220,800,000 for the Texas High Plains and $34,300,000 for New Mexico.

In its economic studies, the Texas Water Development Board estimated secondary irrigation benefits to be much greater than those derived in accordance with Bureau of Reclamation procedures. In these studies, the Board estimated the per-acre effect of irrigation on income within the Texas High Plains to (1) suppliers of agricultural labor, supplies, and equipment based on the estimated value added by those suppliers, (2) handlers and processors of agricultural products by application of local expansion coefficients to estimated increases in farm sales, and (3) retailers of consumer items based on the estimated value added to those items within the Texas High Plains.

without further moisture. Don't worry about the big cracks that are beginning to show up in wheat fields. Remember in either 1958 or '59 this same thing happened. We still had yields in the upper 35 and 40 bushel category. You can't predict wheat yield by height of wheat. Look at the length of head and the thickness of the stand. We have wheat with the longest heads I've ever seen.

Now, if the one above will keep the hail away, a lot of money will be brought into the Pampa Trade Territory. Let's do some figuring. We estimate there are 90,000 acres of wheat in Gray County. Let's say the wheat will average 38 bushels. We believe this is low. This is three million, four hundred and twenty thousand bushels. Multiply this by $2.72 per bushel (the present price) and you come up with an industry that has added $9,302,400 to your economy. Pretty good don't you think?

Before you get the idea that farmers are getting rich, think of the past five years of crop failures or the $15,000 tractor the farmer had to buy to replace the one he bought 10 years ago that cost $7,500.

County Extension Agent GRAY COUNTY HORSE SHOW

The Gray County Horse Show held their County Eliminations Show Wednesday, May 30, 1973 at 7 p.m. at the Rodeo Arena on East Highway 60 in Pampa.

Extension District 1 each year holds a show, or eliminations, to pick the top 20 horses in the District to compete in the State 4-H Horse Show in August. Each county holds an Elimination Contest to pick their participants in the District Show. The number from each county that can attend is determined by enrollment. Gray County will send 12 this year.

Ribbons will be given through six places in each class. All-around will receive a $15 gift certificate. Runner-up will receive a $10 gift certificate.

At time of this writing, the ribbons have not arrived. This tends to make a fat County Agent a little nervous. Have you ever tried to tell an irate mother the trails and tribulations of getting ribbons from Illinois? I'm not sure I can worm out of things that easy.

For some of you that has tried to call my home phone, the answer is, "Yes, we've paid our phone bill, but we have moved. New number is 665-8071."

LEADER HONORED

Don Morrison, Pampa rancher, will be given special recognition June 6, during the 1973 4-H State Roundup at Texas A&M University.

Morrison is one of 26 4-H adult leaders that will be so honored for outstanding contributions to the 4-H program in Texas.

He is currently chairman of District 1 Adult Leaders Association. He has been an organizational leader for seven years in the Sundowner's 4-H Club of Pampa. During this period, four members of the club have received the Gold Star award. He has been presented the five-year Adult Leader certificate and represented District 1 at the Citizenship and Heritage Tour in Washington D.C.

Morrison is also active in the First United Methodist Church of Pampa and the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association.

The leaders, two from each of the 13 districts of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will receive special plaques at a noon luncheon in their honor sponsored by the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation, according to 4-H officials.

Others from the Panhandle and South Plains to be so recognized are Mrs. Don Peters, a Sunray homemaker and Mrs. Kenneth Littlefield, a homemaker from Tulia.

Some 1,800 4-H boys and girls from throughout the state will be attending Roundup, competing in more than 30 different contests and demonstrations.

Roundup is sponsored annually by the Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. It is the oldest such gathering in the nation.

Fuel Shortage Said 'Wolf at Each Door'

The energy crisis is a very real "wolf at the door" — the barn door, the garage door, the front door of every farmer and homeowner in the land.

This particular species has no teeth but can cause a great deal of inconvenience and discomfort until it moves on.

The Treasury Department will hold hearings June 11-15 to see how well the government's voluntary crude oil and fuel allocation program is working. Pending the outcome of that hearing, agriculture leaders in both Texas and Washington have some advice that might help.

Farmers are urged to buy no more fuel than they need. Then, if a shortage develops, they are urged to report it immediately to Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

ASCS field offices have been monitoring the fuel situation since February and problems are being forwarded to the office of Oil and Gas in the Interior Department.

The ASCS advisory also said farmers could conserve fuel by keeping tractors tuned up. These machines, because of the dirty working condition of field service, often need attention more often than the family car or pickup truck but get it less as a rule.

This is also seen as a good time to begin the practice of minimum tillage. More commonly referred to as "trash farming" minimum tillage is the practice of eliminating two, sometimes three, tours of the field after planting. The accumulation of "trash" in the windrows has been found to be more beneficial than detrimental.

This form of tilling a crop began a good while before the fuel shortage developed. It was the result of two problems being solved by a single method. In some areas for some crops additional soil cover had to be provided in the rows. Too, inflation had increased the cost of fuel and repairs to machinery making those extra tillage tours of the field expensive.

Now, the trash farmer has extra profits to count and not so many worries over the energy crisis so far as crops are concerned as those who still practice maximum tillage.

In a bygone era, the energy crisis would not affect the home until cold weather comes again. Now, in the age of air conditioned comfort, there must be fuel to cool as well as to heat. The answer is proper insulation according to the Texas Agriculture Extension Service. Without it, more energy is required in either cooling or heating.

Generally speaking, there are several types of insulating materials that will do a specific job. All are rated with either an "R" or an "U" value. The higher the "R" value, the better the insulation.

A typical value of "R" value, the better the insulation.

A typical value of "R" is 3.7 for one inch of fiberglass. The "U" value is the reciprocal of "R" (1 divided by R), thus the "U" value of one inch of fiberglass would be 1-3.7 of 27.

Different types of insulation with the same R-rating will have the same insulation properties and are comparable. Price or ease of handling for any given application would become the consideration here. Be sure to consider the cost of any associated materials needed when comparing actual insulation prices.

The family car or the pickup truck which often doubles in duty is the real focal point of the fuel shortage.

A very definite trend has been established toward small cars, both foreign and domestic. Some dealers in such have called it more of a stampede that a trend, finding it hard to supply all the cars wanted. The small pickup is even more popular with used ones on the dealer's lot selling for new prices when he cannot supply the new units.

First-time small car buyers have been surprised on two counts: comfort and safety. This, according to the industry is because the smaller vehicles have been vastly upgraded in the past few years and also because many features about them were either misrepresented or misunderstood.

This is not to sell the bigger units short. They are highly favored and probably will be as long as fuel is available at all. There are certain measures that can be taken to improve gasoline mileage but forget that old legend about the carburetor that was suppressed because it got 75 miles per gallon.

The bigger cars use more because you are feeding a bigger hole. Many of the popular small makes run about 95 cubic inches of displacement. That is product of the bore times the stroke. Bore is the diameter of the piston hole and the stroke is the depth of it. If your engine turns up 3,600 revolutions per minute at 70 miles per hour, you are filling that hole up thirty six hundred times a minute!

The answer to that is... drive slower and fill that gapping maw less times per minute and per mile. A car will get 75 per cent more fuel efficiency at a steady 50 miles per hour than varying from 30 to 70 miles per hour.

Coupled with speed adjustments are those adjustments to your engine known as the "tune-up." This means ignition points should be replaced before they quit completely. Even when they are relatively new, they should be checked for re-gapping to allow for wear and the occasional looseness that works into them.

Spark plugs are very important. All the gasoline additives and oil detergents may be fine for the innards of your engine but they give spark plugs a short life. IMPORTANT: A spark plug does not have to be "missing" (mis-firing) to cost you fuel. Find a reliable service man and

Wheat Crop

The announced projection of a record U.S. wheat crop of 1.28 billion bushels and a projected $3.2 billion bushels in Texas — the highest since 1961 — is prompting an "all out" and continuing effort to line up markets and buyers at home and abroad for the increase in order to turn the golden harvest into cash and profits for producers, according to Bill Nelson, Amarillo, Executive Vice President of the producer supported Texas Wheat Producers Board.

As a part of this effort, three "trade teams" of potential foreign users are scheduled to converge on Texas wheat fields, country elevator operations and port facilities during the peak harvest period. They will come from Denmark, Brazil and Korea — all small, but rapidly expanding wheat market areas.

The first such team will be in Texas, May 31 through June 2. Members will include Mr. Erik Odum Jorgensen, Chief Buyer of Dansk Mel-Central, Odense, Denmark; Mr. Hans Christian Petersen, Vice Director, Hayne-Mollen, Fredericia, Denmark; and Mr. Daniel Joseph White, Market Specialist, Great Plains Wheat, Inc., Washington, D.C. This group's principle interest in Texas will be to observe the export operations and what quality maintenance techniques at the Port of Houston, which handles seventy per cent of all Great Plains area wheat which is exported, according to Nelson, who will join the foreign buyers in Houston and conduct conferences and on-the-spot facility studies with members of the Houston Merchants Exchange and officials of the Port of Houston.

Worth repeating is the advice to buy no more than you need. All the refineries in the U.S. manufacture 43-million gallons of gas each month. Motorists need 46-million each month with the vacation season projecting it to 49-million... six million gallons short.

That is SOME wolf at your garage door!

let him set your unit up for economy. (They can also be set up for top performance but the two are not compatible.)

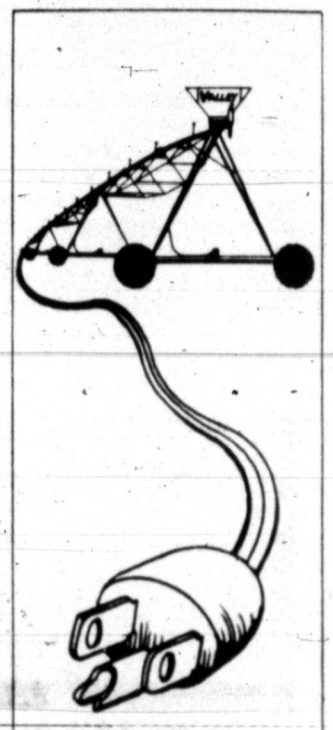

Wheel alignment is most important for a number of reasons, not the least of which is safety. Proper alignment means your front wheels are going where you direct them with the steering wheel. Too, a mis-aligned wheel is "dragging" the tire sideways so many feet each mile. This wears the tire and costs you gallons of fuel per mile.

Your service man should have some more tips, too, about your particular model.

Just remember, if you're traveling into a known — or even suspected — fuel shortage area, do NOT let your tank get below half full before you buy gas. That way, if you stop one place that is out, you have enough to get to another.

WHEAT PROSPECTS
Yield prospects on wheat is by far the best I've seen in over 30 years of observation of wheat crops in the Panhandle. We have lots of dryland wheat that stands to exceed 40 bushels per acre. The dryland looks better than the irrigated. We should say wheat subject to irrigation. Few irrigation farmers have watered wheat to date. A good, slow, 2-inch rain and then 30 days of dry weather is what is needed. However, we will make a tremendous wheat crop

without further moisture. Don't worry about the big cracks that are beginning to show up in wheat fields. Remember in either 1958 or '59 this same thing happened. We still had yields in the upper 35 and 40 bushel category. You can't predict wheat yield by height of wheat. Look at the length of head and the thickness of the stand. ECONOMICAL ANGLER
MANKAT, Minn. (AP) — National fresh-water fishing champion Dave Jadwin's first fishing tackle consisted of a radio antenna from a wrecked car and safety pins as hooks.
As he explains, "I was 9 years old and couldn't afford anything else. They worked real fine."

The world's largest diamond weighed 3,106 metric carats — one pound six ounces — when it was dug out of a South African diamond pit with a penknife in 1905.

Safety Seminar Set In Amarillo

AMARILLO — The Texas Safety Association is sponsoring a two-day safety seminar beginning at 9 a.m. Thursday, June 21-22, in the Plaza I Conference Room, 7th Floor, Amarillo National Bank, Amarillo.

The "Key Man Development Course" is a management training seminar with special emphasis on accident prevention, loss control and safety requirements.

The 12-hour course is taught by a qualified professional safety engineer and is designed to train both newly appointed supervisors and foremen, as well as experienced personnel who need re-training to improve their safety awareness.

By using the most up-to-date seminar techniques including lectures, slide presentations, pamphlets and text books, industry supervisors are provided with the basic training necessary for every company's safety program, according to TSA officials.

For registration information write or call the Texas Safety Association, P.O. Box 3138, (512) 444-6551, Austin, Texas 78764.

Crop Futures' Trading Raises Price Of Meat

CHICAGO (AP) — If you've never seen a bushel of soybeans it's hard to imagine why scores of men would be willing to pay $10 for them.

But scores of men are willing to pay that much and more for a bushel of the oily, pea-shaped beans. And many don't even know what soybeans look like.

Yet they buy and sell thousands of bushels of soybeans by dealing in commodities futures, contracts promising delivery at some future date.

Thousands, and sometimes hundreds of thousands, of dollars are won and lost daily in such dealings at the Board of Trade.

In the past few weeks, the traders have been mostly making money.

The commodities futures boom has nearly tripled the price of soybeans in a year and almost doubled that of wheat and corn.

Consumers will eventually feel the price increase at the meat counter, say many traders. The commodities bought and sold at the Board of Trade are used primarily as livestock feed.

"The farmer is getting pressure from both ends," one broker said. "He's faced with paying more and more for his feed grains, yet not being able to raise prices above the government ceiling. He has no choice but to cut production."

Soybeans are the "glamor stock" of the futures market. But other futures prices have been soaring, too.

Most traders say, with conviction, that prices are hitting record levels because the supply of food commodities simply can't keep pace with demand.

But there is another view expressed by one trader: "The only thing that's worth a damn in this country is its agriculture."

"They're not producing cameras or televisions any more in this country. Pretty soon they're not going to be making cars. Who wants to buy a 300 horsepower car that breaks down twice a week?"

Anderson Gets Certificate

The official State Health Department's certificate of competency for the oldest ecology oriented profession in Texas, has been awarded to Tony R. Anderson, superintendent of Pampa's water treatment plant.

As an ecology worker, Anderson has been taught effective ways for producing safe drinking water and treatments to make wastewater into clean streams for public use.

The training from the Texas Water Utilities Association, the largest water and wastewater training school in the United States, has produced clean streams and better operated water facilities than any other section of the country.

To receive the certificate, Anderson has completed both a formal and a specialized education, accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience, and passed the examination given by the State Health Department's Sanitary Engineers.

By Jeane Dixon

SUNDAY, JUNE 3
Your birthday today: Find your set for a year of health self-interest. Increased earnings are probable. It's a challenge to find time for meditation. Relationships tend to volatile episodes requiring care. Today's imaginative natives follow many callings.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Without haste or waste, reach out to renew contact with old friends. Make the day a personal vacation from regular duties.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: Do your share of the community's Sunday observances. Romance is strong and fresh. Your friends are in a mad rush to nowhere.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Your energy stirs everybody, may get you in the middle. Any invitation to make easy money is a risk, not an investment.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: If your clothes are not quite right, give serious thought to replacements soon. It's a good pastime on a day of mild surprises.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Survey your family conditions this quiet Sunday. Leave driving to others, or proceed with care.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: The more completely you leave the workweek behind you, the better. Avoid commitments. Meditation comes naturally.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Be receptive, let life flow in a deep quiet tide. An unfortunate incident may put you into an unaccustomed role.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Pursuit of your goals can make this a most noteworthy Sunday. Achievements may include insight into yourself.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Now you hear many touching stories of others' lives. Continue your pet hobbies and amusements in available moments.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Meddling with family possessions upsets everybody—don't do it! Organize your routines a little at a time.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Let the spiritual powers of life guide you past all sorts of unproductive distractions. Avoid excess.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Spend time with loved ones. Altho friends bustle about, you needn't avoid spending money.

MONDAY, JUNE 4
Your birthday today: Purposeful change is your motto for the coming year. Competition this year inspires you to superior achievement. Today's natives are natural travelers who often select some technical subject for special study.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Use lively ideas promptly, even in haste, while you're in the rush of enthusiasm. Do no "favors" today.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: The closer and more affectionate, associates can impede your work—find a middle course. There's a possibility of increasing earning power.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Intuition leads you thru a creative day. Humor sparkles. Be hospitable and make your friends comfortable.

Cancer [June 21-July 22]: Recent puzzles are resolved when more details are completed. Bargain hunting succeeds, for once.

Leo [July 23-Aug. 22]: Exert yourself to be seen and heard this extremely productive day. Ask for what you're sure is yours.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: More has been working in your favor than you have realized. Technical advice can be helpful, but do your own thinking.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: Give others chance to function, altho you have to redo their errors later; everybody learns from the experiment. Home life has rewards.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Begin a new career activity. Forgive an awkward friend rather than lose him by criticism.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Open your week's adventure boldly, make new

Jezelek-Stamps Vows Are Repeated In White Deer

(See Picture, Page 7)
The First Baptist Church of White Deer, was the setting Friday, June 1 at 7:30 p.m. for the exchange of nuptial vows by Miss Truby Wray Jezelek and Ronnie Dale Stamps of El Paso. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jezelek of White Deer and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Stamps of Madill, Okla.

THE CEREMONY
The Rev. Ronald Ledbetter officiated for the double-ring ceremony. Sheila Timmons, organist, accompanied Paula Lane as she sang "Twelfth of Never."

The background of two spiral candelabra and two basket arrangements of mums formed the setting for the wedding. Satin bows marked church pews. Before the ceremony the bride presented her mother with a red rose and a kiss and following the ceremony, she presented the bridegroom's mother a rose and a kiss.

THE BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length gown of Chantilly lace over bridal taffeta styled with a Sabrina neckline, natural waistline and long fitted Camelot sleeves. Tiny sequins enhanced the neckline and wide satin ribbon with long streamers complimented the waistline. The full skirt was designed with rows of ruffles in waterfall fashion. Her veil of imported illusion fell from a coil into a chapel length train, and she carried a large orchid bouquet surrounded by tiny flowers.

ATTENDANTS
Sandi Hankins, cousin of the bride, Dallas, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Tonya Terry of White Deer, and Cindy Moreland, Skellytown. They wore identical dresses of purple meri-mist over lilac satin and carried orchid bouquets. Eddy Jezelek served as candle lighter. Best man was Richard Tackett and groomsmen were Tony Stamps, Madill, Okla. and Nicky Jezelek of White Deer.

The couple plan to live in Pampa. The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of White Deer High School and he is presently serving in the US Army. The bride was honored in White Deer with a bridal shower May 19 in the church parlor.

FIRST BAPTIST WOMEN
The Baptist Women met at the church at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday, May 30, for their regular monthly Royal Service program. President, Mrs. Jack White, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. George Smith gave the Call to Prayer with Mrs. Claude Cone leading the prayer. The minutes were read by Mrs. Paul Turner. She also gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Carrol Ray gave a report from the nominating committee. Then, Mrs. Ray, who is the Area Missionary's wife, introduced Mrs. Jack Pearce. Mrs. Pearce is from Perryton, where her husband is pastor of the First Baptist Church. She and her husband went on the East African Crusade in 1970, to the country of Malawi, for four weeks. She dressed as the Malawi women dress and showed many items they had brought back from that country. She then gave a slide presentation, with commentary of different points of interest of that country. After the informative program, Mrs. White announced to the group that the mission action project for the months of June and July will be to bring food goods for the young people of the church who will be going on a mission trip to Colorado this summer. Mrs. Ed Anderson dismissed the meeting with prayer.

TRAVIS PTA
The PTA members gave an appreciation luncheon recently for the teachers and staff members of Travis School. The tables were decorated with clusters of brightly-colored mushrooms and a floral arrangement. Vickie Miller was presented a going-away gift on behalf of the teachers. Vickie was librarian at Travis.

Monzon Keeps His Title By Outpointing Griffith

MONTE CARLO (AP) — Carlos Monzon of Argentina, taking advantage of his reach, outpointed a lunging Emile Griffith over 15 rounds Saturday and retained the world middleweight boxing championship.

Monzon, apparently drained by efforts to make the weight — he scaled 159, a pound under the class limit — still had enough left to edge Griffith, a 35-year-old five-time world champion who was fighting in his 21st title bout 15 years from the day he made his pro debut.

The unanimous decision might have signaled the end of Griffith's career as a championship class fighter. Monzon, almost six-foot tall, won the fight by scoring well with left jabs, mixed with an occasional solid right. The 31-year-old Argentine landed the best punch of the fight in the 14th round, a right to the head that hurt Griffith with 30 seconds left in the round.

It was the only time either fighter appeared hurt. Neither ever was in danger of being knocked down. The only cut was on above the right eye of Griffith in the final two rounds, which did not bother him. Monzon was knocked out in 14 rounds by Griffith on May 19, 1971, tried to stay close to the champion by lunging in past Monzon's reach.

The New York veteran, who weighed 157 pounds, appeared strong during the middle rounds. In the ninth he landed a solid right to Monzon's head along the ropes and as Monzon spun off the ropes Griffith shot another good right to the head.

Granger Leads

HOUSTON (AP) — North Texas State senior John Granger's putter remained hot Saturday and he played well out of four traps to fire a two-over-par 73 and take a three-stroke lead in the 64th Texas Amateur Golf Championships.

Granger, who had a 69 for the only sub-par round of the tournament on Friday to take the lead, was at 217 Saturday. University of Texas' Tony Pfaff was next with a one-over-par 70 for a 220 total.

Guy Cullins of Denton fired his second straight 72 for a 221 total for third place. Bob Harwell of Austin and Van Gillen of Conroe shared fourth with 223.

My putter was working pretty good again today," said Granger, who returned to play last Tuesday after suffering a bout with the mumps. "I didn't make the long ones but I made the 5-footers—how have to make."

Granger had double bogies on holes 4 and 7 to start his round but came back with birdies on 8 and 10 and then parred the remaining eight holes.

Granger said he had trouble keeping the ball in play and was in traps on holes 4, 6, 8 and 18.

Alton Setliff Is In Finals

Alton Setliff, Pampa High tennis coach, and his partner David Hester, will compete in the consolation finals of the Hillcrest Country Club pro-am tennis tournament today at 1 p.m.

Setliff and Hester lost to the team of Bob McKenna-Ross Hester 7-5, 4-6, 7-5 in their opening round match. They moved into the consolation finals by beating Joe Ben Whittenburg-Bill Marshall 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, Saturday.

Woldt Second

Deck Woldt, golf coach at Pampa High School, shot a two-over-par 72 Friday in Canyon at the annual Golden Spread Coaches Invitational Golf Tournament to take second place behind Roger McKinnon of Guymon who shot a 71.

The tournament is sponsored by the sports committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Woldt's team, consisting of Sandra Iga, Deway Cudney and Gip Gipson, tied for low honors with Dob Hudson, Paul Howard, Eloise Woldt and Herman Jarrard.

This can't be a very tough game if those two teams can shoot 31—or maybe they just got all the shots?

Howard Lockhart proved how simple the game is this week with an effortless 73, but some people just like to make things hard. Dr. Julian Key and Jim Nation were the only two players to brave the wind last Sunday. They both wanted to quit but wanted the other to say the word.

With the continuation of the seemingly scheduled rains, the course continues to become more of a challenge each week. The higher the rough grows, the higher the score goes.

The improving playing conditions are an aid to a few players in search of Mr. Par. Eddie Duken shot a 68 to post

Margaret Court and Chris Are In Finals

PARIS (AP) — The matchup that had been anticipated for the women's singles final of the rain-plagued French Open Tennis Championships began reality Saturday when Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Australian Margaret Court scored semifinal victories in the $135,000 tournament.

Meanwhile, Tom Gorman of Seattle became the first man to advance to semifinal play, where he was joined later by second-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania, whom he will meet.

The 18-year-old Miss Evert needed only 37 minutes to dispatch Francoise Durr of France 6-1, 6-0 as she kept intact her record of not having lost a set in the tournament. Mrs. Court downed Evonne Goolagong 6-3, 7-6 in an all-Australian semifinal.

The 30-year-old Mrs. Court and Miss Evert had been seeded 1-2 in the women's division, which meant they would not meet one another until the final. The championship match—Chris' first major tournament final—was to be staged Sunday.

Gorman defeated Czech Jan Kodes, who won the men's title in 1970 and 1971, 6-4, 7-6, 4-6, 6-1. Kodes, a clay-court specialist, fought back well in the middle of the quarter-final match but faded badly in the fourth set.

The flamboyant Nastase, a strong favorite to win the men's first prize of $15,500, joined Gorman in the semis by beating Roger Taylor of Britain 6-0, 6-2, 7-6.

Two Americans—Paul Gerken and Frank Froehling—host fourth-round matches Saturday. Gerken of East Norwalk, Conn., was stopped by Taylor 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-7, 6-4 in a match spread over three days, played on two courts and interrupted four times by rain.

Froehling, a resident of Miami, lost to Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

Memphis State Quits Mo Vally Conference

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Missouri Valley Conference officials were in the final day of spring meetings Saturday, trying to decide how to deal with the withdrawal of Memphis State University.

Memphis State pulled out of the conference Friday over a conflict in the number of conference football teams a school must play in order to be eligible for the MVC championship.

A new rule requires that a member school play six league games to be a contender for the title. Memphis State had only three MVC teams on its 1973 football schedule and four for 1974.

The withdrawal came after defeat of an MSU amendment to the six-game rule.

Dr. Ford Haynes, Memphis State representative at the conference, said the decision to withdraw from all Valley sports activities "was preceded by months of study and careful consideration of the future course of Memphis State's total athletic program."

MSU Athletic Director Billy Murphy said dropping out of the MVC will give Memphis State "additional latitude to schedule Southeastern and other major regional teams in both football and basketball as well as the possibility of intersectional games."

Murphy said the basketball schedule for next season is "already set and includes contracts with most of the Missouri Valley Conference teams. Our football schedule is set through 1980 and includes contracts with most teams in the Missouri Valley Conference."

Cubs Win, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Jose Cardenal drove in the tying run on an infield out and then scored the winner on a wild pitch, lifting the Chicago Cubs to a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves Saturday.

The Cubs were trailing 3-2 when Glenn Beckert opened the sixth inning with a single. Billy Williams singled him to third and he scored as Cardenal forced Williams.

Then Ron Santo singled Cardenal to third and the Cub outfielder scored the deciding run on a wild pitch by reliever Ron Schueler.

With 13 offensive and defensive starters returning, Teaff says his major problem in 1973 will be depth at most positions other than the offensive backfield.

"At tailback we've got five men who are capable of helping us—returning starter Gary Lacy ('69) rushing and six touchdowns to lead the team last year; Godfrey White, Billy Wilson, JC transfer Steve Beard and Ray Harper," says Teaff.

At quarterback, all three 1972 lettermen return, including starter Neal Jeffrey. "Neal is the No. 1 quarterback now," said Teaff, "although Robert Armstrong had an outstanding final spring game. Randy Cavender also is very dependable."

The offensive line also should be stronger with starters Gary Dorman at center, Richard Mason at tackle, Tim Mills at guard and ends Ken Townsend and Charley Dancer all return-

Deadline Nears

The deadline for entering the Pampa Men's City Golf Tournament is Thursday at noon, according to Bill Ellis, Celanese official in charge of the tournament.

The match play tourney will begin this Saturday and Sunday and will be completed the following weekend.

Entry fee for the event is $6. That entitles each entrant to at least three rounds of golf at the Pampal course.

Practice rounds will be held tomorrow through Wednesday at the course. Golfers interested in entering the tourney may do so at the Chamber of Commerce office or at the Pampal course.

Texas Has Best Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Texas has produced the nation's winningest major football team in the last five years, according to rankings released Saturday by the National Collegiate Sports Services.

Texas had a 45-4 record over that period, under Coach Darrell Royal and holds a narrow edge over Penn State, which has had 47 victories and five losses.

Fourteen major schools won at least 80 per cent of their games over the five years and 11 of those 14 had the same coach all five seasons.

All of the top five teams have been under the same coach for the past five years: Royal at Texas, Joe Paterno at Penn State, Bo Schembechler at Michigan, Woody Hayes at Ohio State and Frank Kush at Arizona State University.

Rounding out the top 10 teams are Tennessee, Nebraska, Toledo, Notre Dame and San Diego State.

Bears Now Have More Than Just A Hope And A Prayer

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The Baylor Bears have more than a hope and a prayer going for them this season. Based on spring training they've got some players who could put Coach Grant Teaff's charges in a position to challenge Texas for the title.

Under the tutelage of Teaff, a virtual unknown brought here from little Angelo State University, Baylor fought to a 5-6 record in 1972, the best mark for the bears, since 1966.

Teaff was rewarded with The Associated Press Southwest Conference Coach of the Year honors, but the 39-year-old lay minister is by no means resting on his laurels.

"We hit every day for 20 days, then our squad got together after spring training and set some very definite goals for 1973," said Teaff. "Those goals may sound too high, but we're looking to win the conference championship. But remember, winning five games sounded un-

Stands 13 Under Par Tom Weiskopf Streaks Into Kemper Open Lead

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Streaking Tom Weiskopf rode a string of three birdies to a third-round 68 and a two-stroke lead Saturday in the $200,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Weiskopf had a 54-hole total of 203, 13 under par on the hot and muggy, 7,219-yard Quail Hollow Country Club course.

Veteran Ken Still and the youthful Lanny Wadkins matched one-under-par 71s and were tied for second at 205 going into Sunday's final round in the chase for a $40,000 first prize.

Four players, including second-round leader Leonard Thompson, were one more stroke back at 206.

Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer each had a 71 and remained well back in the pack. Trevino at 210 and Palmer nine strokes off the lead at 212.

Weiskopf ran together three birdies beginning on the 14th hole.

He wedged to 15 feet there and sank the putt. Another 15-footer on the next hole also went in for a birdie. He followed that with a punched wedge only two feet from the hole.

It appeared as if he might take a three-stroke lead but made his only bogey of the day on the 18th when he hit a flyer out of the rough, missed the green, and failed on a five-foot putt.

His first two birdies came on par fives, he reached the fifth with a wood second shot and hit a wedge to within two feet on the 10th.

Ruling Favors Cowboys

DALLAS (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League may continue to demand purchase of revenue bonds as a condition for the purchase of season tickets at Texas Stadium.

Judge Robert M. Hill Friday granted the Cowboys and the City of Irving, where the stadium is located, a summary judgment and dismissed the suit.

A season ticket holder had charged the Cowboys and the city of Irving were violating anti-trust laws by requiring season ticket holders to buy eat-in options.

Hill noted that single game tickets are available for every home game played by the Dallas Cowboys, although he mentioned that he was aware of the difference between a seat on the 50-yard line and one in the end zone.

Hill said the fact that single game tickets are available "supports this court's conclusion that the plaintiff was not coerced to buy pre-season tickets in order to gain admission to the regular season games."

Alton Setliff Is In Finals

Alton Setliff, Pampa High tennis coach, and his partner David Hester, will compete in the consolation finals of the Hillcrest Country Club pro-am tennis tournament today at 1 p.m.

Setliff and Hester lost to the team of Bob McKenna-Ross Hester 7-5, 4-6, 7-5 in their opening round match. They moved into the consolation finals by beating Joe Ben Whittenburg-Bill Marshall 7-5, 4-6, 6-2, Saturday.

Woldt Second

Deck Woldt, golf coach at Pampa High School, shot a two-over-par 72 Friday in Canyon at the annual Golden Spread Coaches Invitational Golf Tournament to take second place behind Roger McKinnon of Guymon who shot a 71.

The tournament is sponsored by the sports committee of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Cubs Win, 4-3

CHICAGO (AP) — Jose Cardenal drove in the tying run on an infield out and then scored the winner on a wild pitch, lifting the Chicago Cubs to a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves Saturday.

The Cubs were trailing 3-2 when Glenn Beckert opened the sixth inning with a single. Billy Williams singled him to third and he scored as Cardenal forced Williams.

Then Ron Santo singled Cardenal to third and the Cub outfielder scored the deciding run on a wild pitch by reliever Ron Schueler.

Bears Now Have More Than Just A Hope And A Prayer

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The Baylor Bears have more than a hope and a prayer going for them this season. Based on spring training they've got some players who could put Coach Grant Teaff's charges in a position to challenge Texas for the title.

Under the tutelage of Teaff, a virtual unknown brought here from little Angelo State University, Baylor fought to a 5-6 record in 1972, the best mark for the bears, since 1966.

Teaff was rewarded with The Associated Press Southwest Conference Coach of the Year honors, but the 39-year-old lay minister is by no means resting on his laurels.

"We hit every day for 20 days, then our squad got together after spring training and set some very definite goals for 1973," said Teaff. "Those goals may sound too high, but we're looking to win the conference championship. But remember, winning five games sounded un-

David Pearson Has Mason-Dixon Pole

DOVER, Del. (AP) — The yellow rear bumper sticker, which usually identifies rookie stock car drivers, will be prominently displayed on a veteran's front row car at the start of Sunday's Mason-Dixon 500.

David Pearson led 20 qualifiers at the Dover Downs International Speedway Friday and earned the pole position with a speed of 133.111 miles per hour in a 1971 Mercury over the paved one-mile banked oval.

And, while 20 more drivers qualified today, the other front row starter, Cale Yarborough, probably will have to endure the first wave of needing about his "rookie" status.

Although he has been driving full-time since 1964, Yarborough has never raced at Dover Downs and under NASCAR rules he'll be required to carry the sticker which normally cautions others of an inexperienced competitor.

The Mason-Dixon has been a 500-mile event for only the past two years, while Yarborough was involved in Indianapolis car racing.

Back on the Grand National circuit this year, Yarborough has won two races to push his lifetime earnings total over $500,000.

The tipoff

Get ready for another big blast on the firing line between pro football players and management—over comparative salaries. Or try to explain why Bob Lilly, the greatest defensive lineman in the game, makes $5,000 less per annum than Joe Ellis. Who's he? Why a $60,000-a-year benchwarmer for the basketball Warriors.

Q—Why do almost all batters wear gloves now when they come to the plate? It can't be that cold.—Pete Burns, Newport News, Va.

A—Mostly to protect their hands from blisters and callouses. The batter without both gloves on is getting extinct. Charlie Fox, the manager of the Giants, reports the first man he saw wearing gloves was Joe DiMaggio in the late 1940s when he was taking a lot of extra batting practice near the close of his career. DiMag wore a left-handed glove. They're out of style now. The sporting goods manufacturers have capitalized on the fad by making special baseball batting gloves a little heavier than the golf species.

Q—Who do you think is the best of the ex-jocks in broadcasting today?—Leon Hagen, El Dorado, Ark.

A—If you discount Dandy Don Meredith as a stand-up comedian, Pat Summerall is the general choice. Pat was a broken-down defensive end who, in a varied career, wound up as a placekicker with the New York Giants. He roomed in a Bronx hotel with quarterback Charlie Conerly. One day Jimmy Dolan of CBS radio called Conerly for an audition. Conerly was in the shower. "You sound pretty good," said Dolan to Pat, who answered the phone. "You come down, too." Pat tagged along and got the job and launched a new life. Motto—time your showers better.

Q—What kind of effect is the designated pinch-hitter having on baseball in the American League?—Gus Olafson, Sarasota, Fla.

A—Designated hitter? NOT a pinch-hitter—of course, hitting averages are up, but that's not the key result of the new rule. It has speeded up games. Not as many leisurely strolls from the bullpen. Dick Williams, who's for the rule, claims it has hurt his World champion Athletics because it minimizes his strong bullpen staff, which doesn't get enough work. Managers stay with their starters longer. Even Chub Feeney, National League president, admits the other league's rule has speeded up the game.

Q—You don't hear much about it any more, but does racism in your opinion, still exist in sports?—Dan Bloom, San Jose, Calif.

A—You still get incidents. Like when Spencer Haywood jumped from the ABA to the NBA (with Seattle), a strong factor was an overheard conversation. Spencer was in a hotel room chattering with Denver officials on staying with his original team. He overheard one of them next door saying, "We'll get that nigger."

Q—What keeps Jack Nicklaus in shape? Does he watch his diet now that he took off all that blubber?—Rick Jones, St. Paul, Minn.

A—Jack claims he eats pretty much what he wants. He has a new passion, though, to melt the excess—tennis. Has his own grass court at his Florida digs and plays the game the way you might expect, attacking the net at all times.

Q—How come that loudmouth Ali gets all the attention and you never hear anything about George Foreman?—Jim Hamilton, Orinda, Calif.

A—Guess there's no payoff in waving the flag, as George did when he won his Olympic title. George does pick up a few bucks here and there in exhibition matches and pops in and out of his home in Hayward, Calif. Interest will pick up when he gets close to defending his title. Ali won't get first crack at it.

Ricky Marsh struck out four batters and walked only three in leading Haralson Oil to an 11-9 win over Harvester Barbecue Friday to open the American League second half race.

In Farm League action last week Citizens Bank beat Chase 15-5 with Ronnie Shoppa on the mound. Mike Lamberson had a grand slam home run for Citizens.

Brewers Beat White Sox, 3-2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ellie Rodriguez' 13th inning single delivered the deciding run to give Milwaukee a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox 3-2 Saturday.

George Scott opened the 13th with a walk and Johnny Briggs sacrificed him to second. Then Ollie Brown singled but Scott was cut down trying to score on Pat Kelly's throw to catcher Ed Herrmann.

Brown took second on the play and Bobby Heise went in to run for him. Moments later, Rodriguez greeted reliever Cy Acosta with the winning hit. Jim Slaton had checked Chicago on four hits until pinch hitter Jorge Orta singled leading off the eighth. Two outs later, Dick Allen tied the score at 2-2 when he lined his 12th homer.

Twins Beat Tigers, 3-2

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Joe Lis ripped a homer in the bottom of the 10th inning Saturday, lifting the Minnesota Twins to a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Lis connected with one out in the 10th, tagging a 371-foot homer against loser Woody Fryman. Reliever Ken Sanders got the victory.

Bytlevan had his scoreless string cut at 23 innings when Detroit scored two runs in the fifth for a 2-2 tie on three singles, two of them infield scratches, and shortstop Jerry Terrell's throwing error.

Gates Brown and Willie Horton delivered run-scoring infield singles after Terrell, with one out, overthrew second trying for a forceout on Mickey Stanley's grounder.

The Twins had picked up two runs in the fourth, one of them also unearned, when Aurelio Rodriguez threw Terrell's bases-loaded hit single past catcher Duke Sims, allowing the second run to score.

SF Blasts Philadelphia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tito Fuentes and Bobby Bonds ripped three hits apiece Saturday, leading the San Francisco Giants to an 11-7 comeback victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Fuentes singled home two runs in the sixth inning to give the Giants the lead for good. San Francisco added three wrap-up runs in the eighth, one coming on Bonds' 12th homer of the season.

The Giants collected 16 hits off five Philadelphia pitchers with the loss going to Jim Lonborg.

Fuentes singled off Lonborg with the bases loaded to drive in the tying and lead runs.

Charlie Williams, who replaced Juan Marchal in the sixth inning, was the winner.

Former Yankee southpaw Whitey Ford received 255 votes for the Hall of Fame. He was 29 votes shy this winter when he first became eligible to be on the ballot.

Pitchers on the Milwaukee Brewers roster show only 43 victories for their 1972 major league efforts.

PUTS HIM OUT — Motor Inn catcher Monte Shearer puts the tag on Gibson's Larry Shoppa and got him out in American Little League play this past week. Larry got on base when he was hit by a pitched ball but his attempted steal of home plate was unsuccessful. Motor Inn won the game for its first victory of the year.

Hank Aaron Undergoing A Special Sort Of Hell

CHICAGO (AP) — They honored Hank Aaron again Friday night—they called him great, greater than—and finally, the greatest. And though he smiled through it all, a tiredness crept into his face from time to time.

That's because Hank Aaron, a black man, is looking to break the home-run record of Babe Ruth, a white man, and there are some hateful men—and women and children—who can't see that.

"God only knows what kind of hell I've been going through," he said to the crowd at the headquarters of Operation PUSH (People United to Save Humanity).

The Rev. Jesse Jackson, head of PUSH, had asked him to speak, but Aaron said he preferred to hit home runs. He said he was tired of the talk of hate mail. He also said he was tired of talking about the record held by the immortal Babe.

"As long as I can keep my mind clear and play the type of baseball I know how to play, I'll hit more than 714 home runs," Aaron said.

The crowd cheered. "I'm going to let the umpires call the balls and I'll handle the strikes," he added in a soft resonant voice. Although he received most of the attention, Aaron was there to help one of his colleagues. Chicago Cubs pitcher Ferguson Jenkins was promoting a book he has written, but said little about his book, preferring to talk about Aaron.

There's only one Hank Aaron, and he's one hell of an individual. Jenkins said "He's a better man now because of the abuse he's taken. When they start talking about home runs, they'll talk about a black man and it will be Hank Aaron."

Asked if any of Aaron's 686 homers were hit off him, Jenkins smiled and said, "Only one, in 1968. I've been pretty lucky. Billy Williams, the Cubs left fielder, was there too, and he called Aaron 'magnificent' 'amazing,' and I'm glad we're from the same home town." Aaron and Williams are from Mobile, Ala.

Chet Walker of the Chicago Bulls spoke of Aaron's assault on Ruth's record as "the great most motivating factor to blacks in the history of sports. What he's after means more to the little black youngster now going into sports than at any other time in history.

Aaron, dressed in a gray suit, moved through the crowd with the same easy motion he displays on a baseball field—confident and smooth. He spent most of the evening posing for photographs with the youngsters who came out to see their heroes.

And when one of his admirers would approach him with yet another question about his home run record or his recent problem with hate mail, he would smile and answer that the mail incident is behind him now and the record will be broken in due time, and with a little patience and some luck he would do it.

Then he would walk away and answer the same questions all over again.

Not GOP's Fault

Clipping one's opponent on the football field is bad enough. What the Watergate conspirators did was like slipping sleeping pills into the other team's water bucket.

In other words, it was an entirely different category of offense from the usual nasty tricks political rivals play on one another.

The homely image of the playing field was suggested by Sen. Joseph R. Biden Jr., Democrat from Delaware, speaking at a recent City Club Forum in Cleveland, Ohio, as a last-minute substitute for one of the many casualties of the Watergate explosion.

The importance of Watergate is not the bugging of telephones, it is the massive assault of the system," said Biden. "—eliminating the field of contenders and subverting the system.

Rating Not No. 1

Viewer reaction to the Senate's televised Watergate hearings suggests that even the Second Coming would upset a lot of people if it occurred in prime time or interrupted afternoon soap operas.

Stations in cities across the nation report that most people, writing or calling in have protested the preemption of their favorite programs.

It's true that people are always ready to complain about something they don't like

Relief from Watergate

For newsmen seeking a respite from Watergate and other scandals, there's a chance to get away from it all. The management of Meramec Caverns and Onondaga Cave, in Stanton and Leasburg, Mo., respectively, are offering courtesy memberships in a real "underground" press club.

It's public relations, of course, but not entirely unrelated to the subject that occupies so much journalistic attention today.

Crossroads Report

Editor: It seems to me that Watergate has accomplished one thing — bringing the United States down to its lowest point in history.

What is Watergate but a Democratic stunt to destroy a Republican administration, which slaughtered the Democrats in the election of 1972? Watergate never would have made as large of headlines as it has, had it not been for the Democrats' persistence on the matter.

I am a junior in high school — what the adults call a "future leader of tomorrow." At the rate we are going now, there will be nothing to lead tomorrow.

The lesson school board members and administrators should learn from last Wednesday's election is that if the public's trust is to be won, it must be done by playing the game with all the cards on the table — and no cards up the sleeve.

Suspicion arises when meetings are called without adequate notice to all parties concerned. That's what happened when the meeting was called to set the bond issue election.

People are yelling for the President to resign or to be impeached, although, President Nixon has repeatedly said that he is not involved in the Watergate scandals.

TO CONTINUE the postmortem, there were lots of things voters didn't understand about the arithmetic of the bond issue, why its proponents stated there would be no tax increase when the legal notice of the election specifically stated...

Let's make it clear here that no personalities were involved, no ill will held — it was just the editor felt the bond issue thing was out of hand, had been jumped up too hurriedly.

FATHER'S Day comes up Sunday, June 17. Good old dad. He's going to be honored, too. There is no word yet that Pampa's 1973 Father of the Year has been selected.

I believe that the President has done too tremendous a job to be stopped now by something as unimportant as Watergate. Even if the President was involved, I would much rather have a Watergate burglar for President than a Chappaquiddick murder suspect.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

About 1543, Nicholas Copernicus, the Polish astronomer, published his heliocentric theory which stated that the planets circled the sun.

"CAN'T YOU TALK ABOUT ANYTHING BUT WATERGATE?"

Rearview Mirror

By TEX DEWEESE Editor Of The News

WHEN THERE is a "tragic" death, there is usually a postmortem to determine the cause.

So let's go into the death of that $1.2 million school bond issue last Wednesday. The findings boil down to a simple lack of public trust.

Swamped by a 2 1/2 to 1 shellacking, the school board and school administrators were victims of mishandling of a project shot through with maneuvering that confused voters who refused to believe the story that a $1.2 million bond issue would not carry with it a tax increase.

In other words, promoters of the bond issue were not completely frank with the folks they were trying to sell it to. However, they did a splendid job of confusing the issue.

That kind of a report calls for checking out. A reporter was sent by the editor to ask the school board president if there was any truth to it.

The school board president told the reporter he would be at the editor's office in 15 minutes. Twenty minutes later he arrived.

Let's make it clear here that no personalities were involved, no ill will held — it was just the editor felt the bond issue thing was out of hand, had been jumped up too hurriedly.

Unless an atmosphere of complete trust is created, any project is in trouble. That's what happened to the school bond issue.
