GONE BERZERK — The 1954 Dodge, shown above, left U. S. Highway 60 at 7 p. m. Saturday 3.2 miles west of Pampa, rolled over four times and stopped three yards south of the Santa Fe tracks. Four men, all thrown from the car, were taken to Highland General Hospital where the driver, Mack Phillip Clark, 35, Amarillo, was taken to the emergency room. The passengers, all of Amarillo Air Force Base, were treated for bruises and lacerations and released to Air Force officials. They were Billy Groves, 22; Jerome C. Riley, 20; and Randall Hunter, 35. One-Car Wreck Sends Four To The Hospital

A car containing four Amarilloans careened off the side of the Amarillo highway, near Pampa, Saturday night and all four of the occupants were taken to the hospital. The one-car wreck occurred at 7 p. m., about 3.2 miles west of Pampa, according to the highway patrol.

Deaton Is Charged In Canadian

CANADIAN — Charges of aggravated assault were filed against ex-mayor candidate Roy Deaton by Hemphill Co. Attorney William J. Jackson, following an attack by Deaton on Canadian Record Editor Ben Essell at the American Legion Hall March 3. Essell was released from Hemphill County Memorial Hospital after receiving treatment for a cerebral concussion, and cuts and bruises about the head and face. Deaton, who was also hospitalized for causes not connected with the events at the Legion Hall, was transferred to an Amarillo hospital, released and returned home. He announced his withdrawal from the mayor's race in a formal note filed with the Canadian City Commission.

St. Paul Cross Is Presented

The Cross that is outside of the Fellowship Hall of St. Paul Methodist church was presented in a memorial ceremony at 8 p. m. Saturday, with a large number of persons in attendance. This Cross is the gift of Al Lawson and Loyce Caldwell. They are responsible for the Cross being erected and lighted. It was pointed out to those present that there are many others that had a definite helping hand, and appreciation was given for those who helped: Jeffries Trucking Company that did the handling of the Cross during construction and placing it in the ground; OK Construction Co., for the cement work along with Transmix Company; Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for digging the hole; and Methodist Men's organization of St. Paul that had this as their project. Lawson did the neon work on the Cross.

Matusow In A Jam

EL PASO, March 12—U.S. District Judge R. E. Thomason Saturday held turnabout professional witness Harvey Matusow in criminal contempt of court because he "schemed maliciously and deliberately to obstruct justice." The judge, however, denied a new trial for New Mexico labor leader Clinton Jencks, in whose connection Matusow's testimony figured heavily. Thomason granted Jencks, an international representative of independent Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union, a hearing on a new trial.

COMMANDER — E. L. Gunter, 1808 Coffee. Saturday received word that he had been promoted to commander in the Supply Corps of the U. S. Navy Reserve. The appointment is retroactive to July 1, 1954. (News Photo)

Burglar Hits Four Homes

Pampa police Saturday night were still puzzled over four minor break-ins the night before. Police Chief Jim Conner reported that four homes were burglarized: L. A. Barber, 901 E. Francis; Ed Anderson, 1002 E. Francis; Harold Devore, 732 Sloan; and Willard Miller, 736 Sloan. Relatively minor items were taken from the four homes, Conner said. Barber reported a pocket knife and two ladies watches missing. Anderson said two silver dollars and 25-60 pennies were taken. Devore figured he was missing a wrist watch. But Miller could find nothing missing. All the "jobs" were apparently done by the same person. For in each case, a window screen was removed, the window raised and entrance effected. The burglar didn't use such good judgment, though, Conner pointed out. Few among the items unaccounted were some furs, camera equipment, new guns and other watches.

Knowland Says Ship Ought To Be Stopped

Even If U.S. Fleet Has To Waylay It

WASHINGTON, March 12 — UP — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said Saturday the Finnish tanker Aruba must be kept from reaching Red China with its jet fuel cargo even if the U. S. Seventh Fleet has to waylay it. But Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee disagreed flatly with Knowland. "I wouldn't go that far," George told reporters. "We're not at war with anybody. If the Chinese Nationalists intercept it, that's another problem."

Red Subs May Attempt Tanker Escort

TAIPEI, March 12 — UP — Chinese Nationalist sources speculated Saturday that Communist submarines may attempt to escort a Finnish tanker, loaded with jet plane fuel, through the Nationalist blockade to a Red China port. Authoritative Nationalist sources said Friday that the Nationalist Navy has been ordered to make every possible effort to intercept the tanker "Aruba" and prevent delivery of the jet fuel. American Air Force sources said the tankers' 13,000 tons of high grade kerosene are enough to fuel Chinese Communist jets for 5,000 missions against Formosa.

BET THAT'S THE FASTEST CHANGE OF A LIST IN HISTORY

WASHINGTON—UP—Burning Tree Golf Club is, with some embarrassment, sending out a new membership list. In the earlier list it forgot to include the name of its most prominent member — Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Man Arrested

Nehru Grapples With Assassin

NAGPUR, India, March 12—UP—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru Saturday fought off and disarmed a would-be assassin who sought to attack him as he was riding in an open automobile. Police said the Indian prime minister wrenched a knife from the hands of his attacker in a scuffle on the running-board of the car. Soldiers and police seized the man, identified as an unemployed rickshaw puller named Babu Rao, and placed him under arrest. Nehru, attempting to minimize the incident, said the attacker was "an individual crank." He added that the knife he seized from the man was "small and not very dangerous."

Loyal Troops Baffle Rebel Indo-Chinese

By LOUIS GUILBERT SAIGON, Indo-China, March 12 — UP — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem Saturday threw tanks, an artillery barrage and 40 battalions of loyal infantry into a major campaign against entrenched rebel forces who have seized a large area 60 miles south of Saigon. The large-scale military action came on the heels of a government announcement that the back of a smaller rebel force, operating north of this capital, was broken during the night. A communique said loyal forces stormed and captured the rebel headquarters town of Ba Long, 20 miles south of the frontier with Communist North Viet Nam. Diem's American-backed regime is under both military and political attack at home and has been sharply criticized for its "faults" and inefficiency by a special French parliamentary investigating committee.

No Split, They Say

WASHINGTON, March 12—UP—Senate leaders of both parties Saturday disputed reports of a split between President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles over defending the Nationalist-held islands of Quemoy and Matsu off the coast of Red China. The reports, originating with some Democratic House members, had previously been denied by Dulles and the White House. Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee told reporters "I don't know of any real difference in viewpoint."

AF Plane Is Found In Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, March 12—UP—Wreckage of one of two planes missing in Utah was reached Saturday atop 12,000-foot Mt. Timpanogas by a three-man ground party and identified as an Air Force B-25. Three bodies were found aboard the craft. Searchers hurriedly digging through eight-foot-deep snows for bodies of two more men reported to be aboard the plane were forced to leave the crash site because of darkness and a snowstorm moving into the avalanche-threatened peak. The three bodies found were left at the crash site until searches could return. Meanwhile, an air search continued for a civilian Beechcraft airplane that became missing Wednesday about the same time the B-25 became lost.

AEC Blast Proves Smog Is Good Thing

By COLIN MCINALLY LAS VEGAS, Nev., March 12 — UP — The Atomic Energy Commission set off a "midget" atomic bomb above a smoke screen Saturday to prove that man-made "smog" can protect cities from the furnace heat of the nuclear fireball. Mice took the place of humans beneath the furious pre-dawn blast at the Nevada Proving Grounds, 75 miles northeast of this gambling resort. AEC officials said the test was "successful" but disclosed no further details of the results. It was the fifth "shot" of the 1955 nuclear test series, a blast from atop a 300-foot steel tower that packed the wallop of 5,000 tons of TNT. To carry such a load of TNT, 166 freight cars would be required. Saturday's device was estimated unofficially as being capable of being

That Trash Can Really Pay Off

The City of Pampa has received more publicity from its new method of trash disposal. For the March issue of "Public Works" contains a picture of one of the city's Dempster Dumpster containers being loaded. The picture is on Page 27 of the magazine and is one published by The Pampa Daily News at the time the trash-disposal system was first introduced to Pampa.

Linda Skewes Places Second

Pampa and Gray County came in second for the second time in two years when Miss Linda Skewes, the county's entry in the High Planes Spelling Bee, was defeated by a Hemphill County boy, John D. Glenn, Jr. Miss Glenn, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Skewes, failed to spell the word "ratiocination" and dropped into second place. She was presented with a plaque, a pin and a portable radio while John Glenn won a trip to Washington, D. C., as a contestant in the National Spelling Bee, and several other prizes. A year ago, Miss Martha Gordon placed second in the Amarillo spelling-down.

Nixon Says

U. S. Should Treat All Three Equally

LOS ANGELES, March 12—UP—Vice President Richard Nixon said Saturday the United States "should treat Latin America on the same basis as we have treated Europe and Asia." Nixon, who recently completed a goodwill tour of Latin American countries, said this had not always been done in the past. He told reporters who met him upon his arrival here by plane that he preferred to withhold further comment on Latin America pending two speeches he will deliver here Monday. When asked if President Eisenhower would run for a second term, Nixon said, "I certainly hope he will run again... and I also suppose a great number of Democrats hope Ike will run again." Nixon declined to comment on whether he would seek the candidacy for Vice President again.

New Tax Law No Different In The Standard Deduction

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth of five special dispatches written by the top federal tax official to help you make out your 1954 income tax return. Monday's dispatch tells how to claim all the deductions to which you're entitled.

By T. COLEMAN ANDREWS
Commissioner of Internal Revenue

WASHINGTON, —UP— May I take a deduction for payments to the nursery school my child attends? How do I report deductions for medicine? How do I compute the loss on trees damaged by a hurricane? How much credit am I entitled to for interest on the TV set I am buying by installments? What is the difference between the standard deduction and item-by-item deductions?

Married couples filing a joint return may not deduct more than $5,000 for medical and dental costs in one year; not more than $7,500 if they have one dependent; and not more than $10,000 if they have two or more dependents.

Note: If you receive payments from a health insurance plan, or are otherwise repaid for your medical and dental expenses, your deduction for these expenses is reduced accordingly.

Hurricanes Carol, Edna and Hazel of last year have prompted a tremendous number of questions about deductions for losses. Remember to reduce your deduction claim by any amount of insurance you recover on the loss.

Generally, the deduction you may claim for hurricane damage to your property is the difference between the value of your whole property immediately before the storm and its value immediately after the storm (before you clean it up).

This is the general rule whether you lose one bush or a whole house.

Interest is Deductible

The final deductible item I shall deal with is interest—the interest you pay on a mortgage, on an installment plan purchase, on a personal loan, or on bank taxes.

In most of these cases, the interest is clearly designated and easily reported.

In the case of many purchases on the installment plan, however, there is no interest fee as such, but it is part of the so-called carrying charge.

The new law tells you how to figure interest in such a situation; calculate how much you still owed on your purchase at the beginning of each month; add these amounts; divide by 12; take six per cent of the answer and report it as interest. But the deduction, thus calculated, may not exceed the total carrying charge for the whole year.

Senator Urges Civil Defense Pointers

WASHINGTON—UP— Sen. Henry M. Jackson urged Saturday that the people get crystal-clear instructions on what to do in the more frequent and more realistic civil defense tests ordered by President Eisenhower.

The Washington Democrat, member of a Senate subcommittee looking into civil defense problems, applauded the President's order, disclosed Friday by Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson.

But Jackson said it will be "unwise to dramatize" the dangers of atomic explosions and subsequent radioactive fallout "without giving the people a clear idea of what is expected of them."

Jackson also said the test will be meaningless unless local mayors and civil defense directors know, for example, that their areas must be evacuated "in X number of hours so that they will not be evacuating the dead."

Peterson told the subcommittee that "the President has suggested more and more realistic tests—in order that we become better prepared." He also announced there will be a mock atomic raid to test civil defense preparations in June.

Peterson made the disclosure after Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Hester, also testifying before the subcommittee, pleaded for more civil defense information from the federal government.

Peterson expressed confidence that National Guard units, and perhaps some regular military units, will be available for civil defense work in case of atomic attack. Hester had said States needed to know if they would have the help of national guardsmen in the hours after a sneak attack.

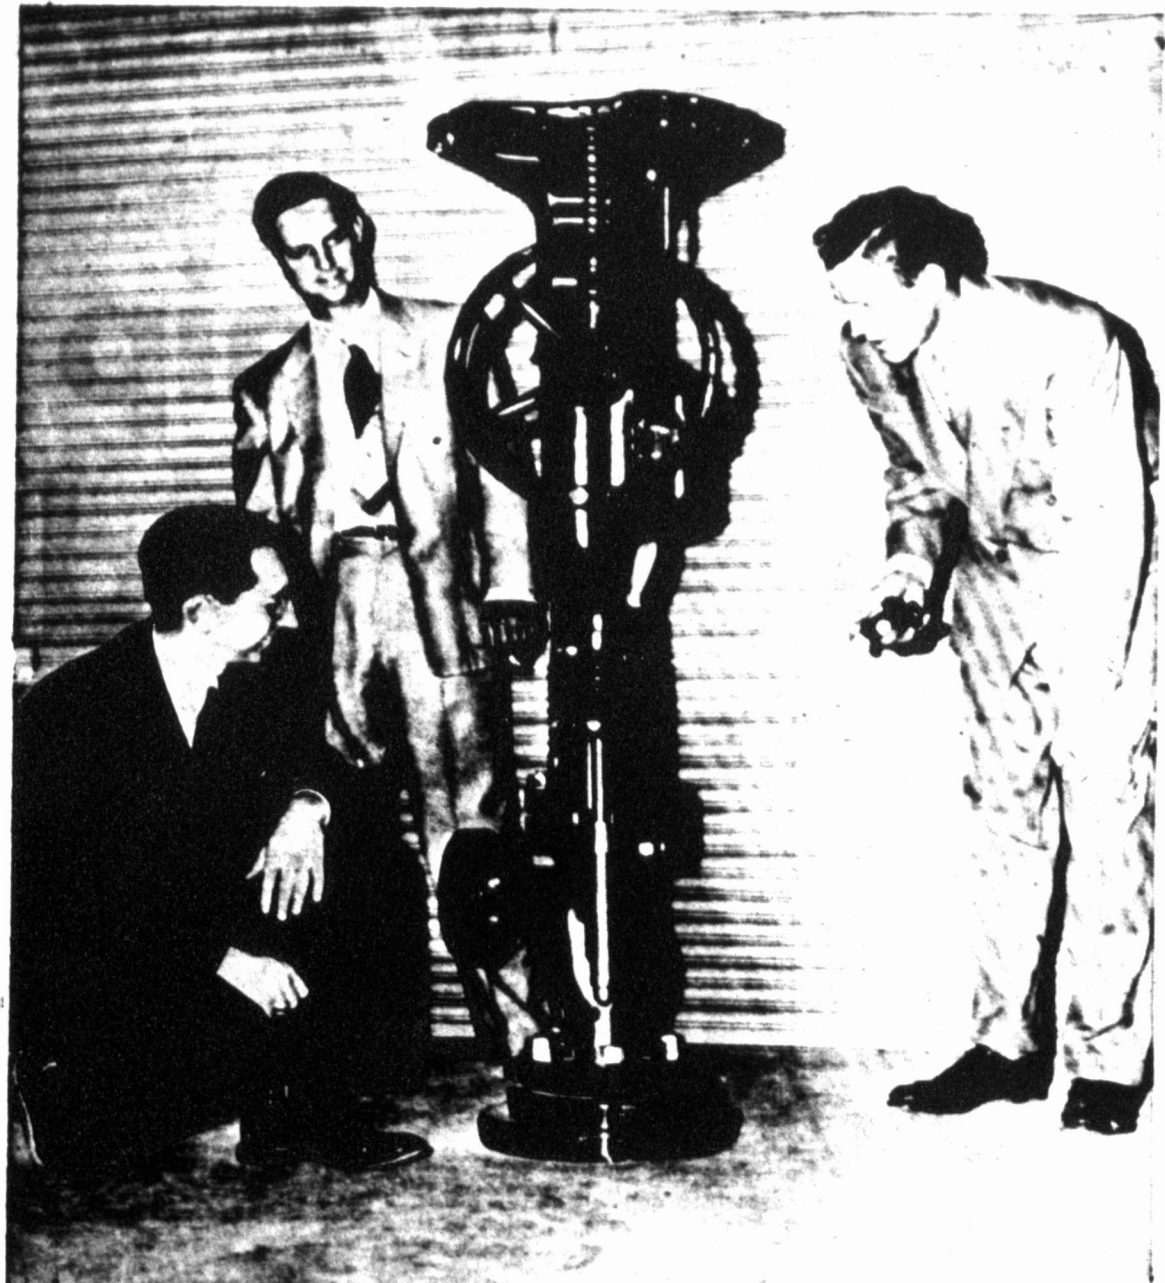

Hester also called for immediate information on what citizens could do to escape the danger of radioactive fallout—the deadly particles spewed by atomic explosions.

Hester said the Army, Air Force or National Guard should be equipped to forecast the spread of radioactive fallout in case the Boston Weather Bureau, for example, were knocked out.

INSTRUMENT SPECIALISTS — Men who will participate in the Wednesday and Thursday Borger show of the Instrument Society of America check a control valve which will be on view.

Instrument Society Plans Borger Show

The Instrument Society of America will hold its first show in the Panhandle area next Wednesday and Thursday at the Bunavista Cafeteria, Borger. Twenty-four national manufacturing firms will display their equipment.

H. F. Smith, oil industry sales manager, western division, for Minneapolis Honeywell, will be the principal speaker at the Thursday night banquet. Walter Graham, engineer at Celanese with the instrument department, said the exhibit control will be of interest to many Borger because of the heavy concentration of chemical, oil and industrial manufacturing in the area. Graham said the firms have spent $7,000 in preparing the exhibit.

The exhibit is open to the public at no charge except for those wishing to attend the banquet. Major instrument show this year will be held in Los Angeles, with area shows throughout the country.

Among the major concerns exhibiting control instruments are Minneapolis Honeywell, General Sales, Inc., Leeds and Northrup, Taylor Instrument Companies, The control will be of interest to many Borger because of the heavy concentration of chemical, oil and industrial manufacturing in the area.

Bill Is Introduced On School Powers

AUSTIN —UP— A Denton county legislator introduced a bill in the House Friday proposing that the state education commissioner be "through the inability of the governing board and the professional personnel of the district to work their educational services become 'disrupted'."

Rep. Alonzo Jamison Jr. of Sanger did not mention Irving by name but simply introduced his bill as a "legislative start on this problem." Irving schools have been under stress for more than two weeks with the school board and school employes in dispute.

"There appears to be no present law which provides an effective means for insuring the continued daily operation of a local school system when a board-faculty disagreement disrupts or threatens to disrupt the operation of the school," Jamison said.

Simpler Means Sought

The legislature might be able to find a simpler means of "minimizing disruptive effectiveness upon the pupils of major intra-school disagreements," Jamison said.

Under the bill, the state commissioner of education would be authorized to assume management and control of any school district when the educational services of the district become disrupted "through the inability of the governing board and the professional personnel of the district to work their educational services become 'disrupted' under two conditions:

"Disruption" Defined

"If a majority of the district's teachers certify to the commissioner the effectiveness of their teaching has 'materially decreased' due to actions of the governing board or administrative staff of the district.

"If a majority of the governing board of the district certifies to the commissioner the effectiveness of their supervision has materially decreased due to actions of the teaching or administrative staff."

The education commissioner, after taking charge of a district, would have authority to reassign teachers or administrators, suspend temporarily any teacher or administrator and make regulations.

CAUTION!

YOU MAY BE THE VICTIM OF A FAST-TALKING ARTIST AND, SO, WE OFFER YOU THESE SUGGESTIONS

Be on your guard when approached by certain out-of-town roofing and siding salesmen. It's always wise to consult your local lumber dealer and compare notes and figures. You'll save if you take local, friendly advice. You'll have few, if any, regrets later. You'll avoid buying inferior materials and poor workmanship. Home owners throughout the country have learned the hard way and now they take caution... they consult the man in their home town with whom they live and see every day. Don't be pressured or kidded into buying a roof or a siding job at prices which in the end cost you more than your local dealer asks. Your local, reliable lumber dealer will give you estimates without cost. Be sure to consult him!

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD PAY

ROOFING

Roofing is sold by the bundle or by the square. It takes three bundles or one square to cover an area 10x10 ft. An average size roof, completely applied, should cost about

$6.39 Per Month

SIDING

Asbestos cement siding is the most popular type. This is also sold by the square. An average home can be sided, including all labor charges for as little as

$11.19 Per Month

This includes Tufflex insulation

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD GET

No. 1 quality Rubberoid tiles on 230 pound shingles. The latest colors and patterns (no discontinued lines or factory seconds.) Applied by local workmen and sold by a local merchant who will be right here to back up a guarantee of complete satisfaction.

Johns-Manville First Grade Asbestos Siding. All siding looks good when it's first applied. But it takes first quality material, skillfully applied, to hold up year after year. Because we're here in town to stay, we take pains to see that everything's okay. We want you to be a satisfied customer for years to come.

Please Note: Our own workmen apply INSULATED SIDING on an average house, including labor and materials, and insurance on labor, for as little as $14.38 per month.

WHATTA LETTER -- Miss Claudette Matheny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Matheny, 1120 S. Hobart, smiles up from a letter that more than one person has had a hand in. The picture in the picture is of her pen-pals. (News Photo)

Queen-Sized Letter Certainly Does Make All The Rounds

A continuing letter began circulating from Christian College Columbia, Mo., last October and arrived in Pampa last week. It was addressed to Miss Claudette Matheny, 1120 S. Hobart.

This letter had no commercial value and its recipients didn't have to send anything to the person at the top of the list.

The letter was the result of the close friendship of 17 Pampa High school girls. The group had agreed to keep in contact with each other.

Miss Matheny opened the brown envelope and found inside 27 pages, small ones, large ones, typewritten ones and some written in longhand. Each letter was dated at different times and sent from different addresses. The envelope contained letters from each of her high school chums.

Miss Matheny is going to write a letter and send it with the "one" she received to another of her friends.

The girls involved in the chain letter "means of keeping contact" are: Joa Rogers, TSCW, Denton; Adelaide Skelly, Allegheny College, Meadville, Penn.; Sue Williams, Columbia Mo.; Su Stone University of Colorado, Boulder, Colo.; Janice Baker and June Montgomery, WTSC, Canyon; Ramona Meadows, Wayland College, Plainview; Judy Nance, Texas Tech, Lubbock; and Christine Pierce, TCU, Fort Worth.

Also Jaquin Robertson, Baylor University, Waco; Gaye Nell Carter, Tarleton, Stephenville; Carolyn Dial, Trinity University, San Antonio; Alice Seawright, Oklahoma A&M Stillwater; Sandra Burch North Texas State, Denton; and two girls who are in Pampa, Miss Claudette Matheny and Mrs. Leta Whitler.

C-Of-C Bus Going To Shamrock

The Goodwill and Reception Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Thursday will sponsor a special bus to the St. Patrick's Day Celebration in Shamrock.

The bus will leave Pampa at 8:45 a.m. from the chamber of commerce office, according to Ham Luna, chairman of the committee. Round-trip fare on the bus will be $1.50 each, and all business and professional men in Pampa are invited and urged to make the trip, Luna said.

If enough reservations are made two buses will be used. The group will return to Pampa immediately after lunch, getting back around 2:30 p.m.

All business and professional people who care to make the trip should make their reservations at the Chamber of Commerce office by calling 4-3242.

The parade in Shamrock is scheduled for 10:00 a.m.

Czerner Rosary Services Tonight

Alvin Alfred Czerner 31, died Thursday at 9:05 p.m. at St. Anthony's Hospital in Morrilton, Ark. Mr. Czerner, a resident of Scotland, Ark., was born Dec. 5, 1923 in San Antonio. He was a farmer, a member of the Catholic Church, and moved to Scotland one month ago from Springer, N. M. A veteran of WW II, he served in the Air Force.

2 Candidates For Mayor

MIAMI — There will be two candidates for mayor of Miami, and four for the two vacant city alderman posts, in the city election April 5, Miami City Secretary Kelly Patterson announced.

Two candidates filed their own names for places on the ballot, and the remaining four will appear on the ballot by virtue of a petition.

W. M. Byers is a candidate for the mayor's office, and Dr. S. W. Corbin is seeking one of the alderman posts.

A petition filed with Patterson asked that Mayor R. J. Bean's name appear on the ballot for re-election, and that the names of Randall Gill, Ellis Locke and Newton Cox appear as candidates for city alderman. Cox is presently serving on the council.

Absentee voting will begin Wednesday, 20 days before the election. Absentee ballots may be cast until midnight April 1 in Patterson's office.

C. T. Locke will serve as judge of the election, and Mrs. C. Carmichael, Mrs. Joe Cunningham and Mrs. C. C. Carr will serve as clerks.

New Grand Jury At Work

PANHANDLE — A new grand jury in Panhandle, composed of five women and seven men, has been empaneled in 100th district court, and in two days it returned 11 true bills of felony grade.

Women put on the grand jury were Miss Beulah Shockley, Mrs. J. P. Smith, Mrs. Frank Hewitt, Mrs. E. C. Shuman and Mrs. J. P. Callahan.

Men grand jurors are Fred Suratt, who was appointed foreman by Judge Luther Gribble, Cox C. Foster, James Ludwig, Jim Fogers, D. C. Armstrong, Harrison Caldwell and Harold Welsh.

H. L. Powell and James L. Richardson were appointed bailiffs.

The grand jury was recessed after two days of work.

Survivors are: a son, Harry Alexander of Ft. Worth; a brother, W. S. Odum, Dallas, four sisters, Miss Frankie Odum and Miss Gerlie Odum, Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Sally Summers, Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Mrs. Rufus Baxter, Memphis, Tenn.; seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Politicos Reshuffle In Canadian

CANADIAN — The filing deadline for the April 5 city election in Canadian brought a fast-breaking realignment of candidates which left only two men contesting in a field of five seeking the two city commission places.

Judge W. L. Helton, first to file for mayor, withdrew from the race last week to file as a candidate for city commissioner; Bill Flewelling, local hardware dealer, tossed his hat into the ring just ahead of the deadline; and Roy Deaton, who had announced earlier for mayor, confirmed rumors of his withdrawal from the race in a letter presented to the city commission.

In its final form, the ballot will list M. A. (Nick) Morgan, Canadian automobile dealer who announced last week, and Mayor Maury Abraham, who is seeking re-election for his second term, as the only candidates for the office of mayor.

In the city commission race will be Commissioners Furman Williams and Claude Jones, both seeking re-election; Judge Helton, L. B. (Curley) Owens, and Flewelling.

Deaton sent a formal request, in writing, to the city commission requesting that his name be withdrawn from the list of candidates for mayor. No reason was given for the withdrawal.

Judge Helton dropped out of the mayoralty campaign in order to file as a candidate for the city commission.

Absentee voting in the city election will begin Wednesday and continue until three days before the election April 5.

Alexander Rites Monday Morning

Mrs. Eva Moore Alexander, 78, died at 7:50 p.m. Friday in the Fay Thomas Convalescent Home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Alexander was born August 14, 1876, in Tennessee and lived in Pampa before moving to Amarillo about 20 years ago.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 10 a.m. in the Blackburn-Shaw Chapel with Rev. W. T. Newsome, First Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Llano Cemetery.

Survivors are: a son, Harry Alexander of Ft. Worth; a brother, W. S. Odum, Dallas, four sisters, Miss Frankie Odum and Miss Gerlie Odum, Peoria, Ill., Mrs. Sally Summers, Murfreesboro, Tenn., and Mrs. Rufus Baxter, Memphis, Tenn.; seven grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Replacement Named For Secretary

Mrs. Cameron Marsh, 1433 N. Russell, was appointed to replace Mrs. Dorothy Ponce as secretary of the Adult Education Board at a meeting of that group held Friday afternoon.

Also at the meeting it was announced that additional discussion groups are now being formed and the subject and other final plans will be completed sometime in April. These groups will be in addition to the five groups now in progress.

A review of each group was given. Of special interest is the new beginner Spanish discussion group which has just begun. This class meets Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the library and anyone interested in joining can contact Mrs. H. H. Hahn, the leader, or the board secretary for other details. The advanced Spanish group also meets weekly Monday in the library. Anyone interested in joining this group can contact Walter Stein, leader.

The Great Books group meets every second and fourth Thursday in the library. It was announced that at their next meeting, which will be March 24, the group will be starting a new year, and new members are especially invited to begin at this time. The leaders are Mrs. Clifford Braly, Dr. R. M. Hampton and John Bradley.

The World Affairs group meets once monthly with Robert Olson as leader. A different country is discussed at each meeting, and the use of films makes this a most interesting meeting.

The American Heritage group is now discussing the book "Next America" by Lyman Bryson. This group meets twice monthly with Fred Sloan and G. F. Branson as leaders.

Dr. Hampton, chairman of the board, announced that membership was open at all times in any of these groups and everyone is invited.

Band Man Resigns In Panhandle

PANHANDLE — Leslie E. Talbert, Panhandle band and choral director, has presented his letter of resignation to the school board, effective at the end of the present school term.

Talbert is in his third year in the Panhandle public schools. He was graduated from high school at Happy in 1939 as an honor student and who's who in Texas high schools. He participated in athletics and band, and played in a dance band during his high school years.

Talbert received his Bachelor of Arts degree from West Texas State College in 1949, and the degree of Master of Music from the University of Texas in the summer of 1953. He lacks three semester hours having a music supervisors certificate. In college Talbert was active in band, chorus, orchestra, variety shows, dance band and a member of the national honorary band fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi.

Miami Legion Plans Party

MIAMI — Miami Legionnaires are planning a gay celebration of the 36th anniversary of the birth of the American Legion, which occurs Tuesday and Thursday.

A birthday party has been scheduled by Pulaski Post No. 106 of the American Legion of Miami for Tuesday night, according to William E. Cox, post commander.

The American Legion is now riding the greatest membership crest in all its history and the Pulaski Post is a typical example having reached its 1955 membership quota by Nov. 11, 1954. Cox said. Its present membership numbers 68, and Roberts County leads all other counties in Texas in the percentage of veterans belonging to the Legion.

Watson Sentenced, Fined For D-W-I

A. J. Watson, 1405 S. Barnes, was fined $100 and costs and assessed three days in jail when he pled guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated. Watson was picked up Saturday at 12:15 a.m. by local police.

Graham Insists World Must Have Religious Revival Soon

NEW YORK, March 12 UP — Evangelist Billy Graham left for a preaching tour of Scotland Saturday declaring that a religious revival within five years is the only hope of the world.

Graham sailed aboard the French liner Liberté to appear in 38 Scottish towns and cities, beginning with Glasgow.

He told reporters before he left that the West is on the decline. "I am going this year with more of a sense of fear," he said. "A religious revival is the only hope of the world. We must absolutely have a religious revival in the world in the next five years if we are to survive."

Referring to a recent speech on the hydrogen bomb by Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Graham said: "Only if we re-

County Jail Gets Two Men

Two men — a Californian and a New Mexican — Saturday night were lodged in county jail charged with forgery, following cross-county trips.

Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported that Deputy Sheriff Buck Haggard had returned with E. E. Beir from Merced, Calif., and Chief Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols had arrived back in town with Clint Sanders from Taos, N. M.

Beir was wanted by Gray County for $200 worth of checks, Sheriff Jordan said. And "three or four" surrounding counties want Sanders.

McCarthy Blasts Ike On Prisoners

WASHINGTON, March 12 UP — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) Saturday demanded to know "what, if anything," the President is doing to secure the release of American servicemen held by Red China.

"The mothers, fathers and wives (of the imprisoned servicemen) get no information from you on this, as though they had no right to know," McCarthy said in a public letter to the chief executive. "I submit that you are mistaken in this."

The White House had no comment. McCarthy's letter followed up his blistering attack on the President last Dec. 7. At that time, he accused Mr. Eisenhower of a "shrinking show of weakness" in dealing with the Chinese Reds on the issue of freeing American prisoners.

McCarthy's earlier complaint came immediately after he had been condemned by the Senate in a 67 to 22 censure vote. He accused Mr. Eisenhower then of having sided with pro-censure forces. Republican leaders, including many senators who had voted against censure, defended Mr. Eisenhower vigorously at that time, and sharply criticized McCarthy's attack on the President.

McCarthy's new letter, dated last Thursday and made public by the senator Saturday, said the Communists "thumbed their noses at us" when the United Nations command asked for an accounting of 944 unformed Americans "who have disappeared behind the Chinese Communist bamboo curtain."

Hemphill May Get Salk Tests

CANADIAN — One hundred and twenty-two first and second-grade youngsters in Hemphill County may get free injections of the new Salk polio vaccine next month if their parents consent. . . . and if the vaccine is licensed. Dr. Rush Snyder, Hemphill County health officer, announced.

Detailed plans are now being worked out here for the administration of the polio vaccine if final surveys now being conducted are approved by the Federal government.

PHS Band Is Honored

PERRYTON — (Special) — Members of the Perryton High School Ranger band were honored with their annual formal banquet last week in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. Mothers in the Band Parents Club prepared the banquet and were in charge of it.

Decorations carried out the good luck theme with a large rainbow with a pot of gold at the end serving as the background. The tables were centered with bouquet of flowers and gold wishbones, and each place card carried a gold wishbone.

Bob Irby served as a toastmaster for the banquet. During the program the stage band presented two numbers and Rodney Symons, Bill Thrasher and Kent Apple gave an imitation of the Andrews sisters. E. D. Walker, director of the band presented the outstanding band member award for this year to Charlotte Flowers, a graduating senior, who plays bassoon in the band. She made her second trip to Dallas this year to play with the All-State Band. At the end of the program, prophecies were given for the sixteen graduating seniors and Walker.

Approximately 110 band students and guests were present at the banquet, which especially honored the following graduating seniors: Jerry Conner, student director; Helen Dragoun, Charlotte Flowers, Marvin Flowers, Barbara Hawk, Kathleen Jones, Jane Malone, Rodney Symons, Kayleen Schnell, Marjette, Marilyn Scott, Bill Thrasher, Phyllis Vernon, Ronnie Waide, Sue Williams, Virgie Wilson, and Pat Wood.

Only Two File For School Board

PANHANDLE — Only two candidates have filed for school trustee with M. C. Davis, assistant secretary of the Panhandle School Board.

A. L. Stovall and Phil H. Hawkins, incumbents, have filed for reelection.

J. E. Roselius, long-time trustee, has told friends that he does not plan to run for reelection.

Candidates may file until 5 p.m. Tuesday.

AROUND THE WORLD

HAVING A NICE TIME—As a result of this general melee near the Rangers' goal during their game at Madison Square Garden, Ranger Bob Chrystal and Canadian Maurice Richard each received a two-minute penalty. Richard followed up the action by batting the glass of the penalty box a few times with his hockey stick, getting a 10-minute misconduct penalty, too.

HARD GOING—Heavyweight Charlie Norkus, right, shoots a blow to the head of Roland La Starza as the latter counters with a punch during the first round of their bout in Cleveland. Norkus upset seventh-ranked contender La Starza on a very close but unanimous decision.

POINTS OF INTEREST—Not the horns of prehistoric monsters but racing carts and sulkeys create the weird effect at the Pinehurst, N. C., Race Track. They were being unloaded and prepared for use in the winter training of harness horses.

SOMETHING TO LOOK AT—Two skaters halted their practice at the rink in New York's Rockefeller Plaza when the annual Christmas tree was being hoisted into place by a crane. The huge, 65-foot tree this year is a Norway spruce weighing about four tons. Each year the gaily decorated branches dominate the plaza where ice skaters enjoy the outdoor rink.

HEAD TO HEAD—There are no mirrors used in doing this trick on a bicycle in Paris; that would make it all too easy. Two female members of an Austrian acrobatic team used only skill and perfect balance as they rehearsed this for a circus performance.

SKIRTING THE ISSUE—Though skirts are not usually worn by women riders, this informal occasion in Ascot, England, finds Mrs. Alan Oliver, left, and Susan Whitehead displaying keen form while garbed in every-day dress instead of the horsewoman's outfit. They are taking the hurdles at the winter quarters of a British circus.

MINOR LEAGUES' QUEEN—Carolyn Kelly, right, 20, of Houston and the Texas League, was selected Queen of the Minor Leagues in her home town. Marilyn Mehaffy, 19, of the Three-I League, is the pretty girl behind the plate.

Special Taxpayer Assistance Days Begin Monday Here

By JOEL COMBS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Walter C. Bowen, administrative officer in charge of the Pampa Internal Revenue office located at Room 10, Post Office Building, announced Saturday that the Internal Revenue Service would resume holding special Taxpayer Assistance Days on Mondays beginning this Monday.

The hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Taxpayers who have read their instructions, who have their W-2 withholding tax statement, and are fully prepared to file their tax return but have a technical question can go to the local office for information on Taxpayer Assistance Day. Additional Taxpayer Assistance days will be held on Mondays, March 21 and 28 and April 4 and 11.

Bowen stated most taxpayers can prepare their own returns after reading the instruction without any assistance from Internal Revenue. The fact that only one out of ten taxpayers filing returns this year have contacted Internal Revenue proves that most taxpayers can prepare their own returns without help from Internal Revenue. During January and February, 124,877 taxpayers contacted Internal Revenue for some sort of assistance. Two-thirds of these contacts were questions over the telephone.

"Use 'The Day'" Bowen urged that taxpayers, desiring to call on the telephone for tax information, call on Taxpayer Assistance day. He explained that the regular work keeps the employee of the Pampa office out of the office for a very large part of the time on other days of the week. Internal Revenue Service personnel are remaining at the office on Monday and will be very happy to answer taxpayers' questions by telephone on that day.

Internal Revenue will not be able to give detailed assistance in the preparation of returns involving business income schedules, depreciation schedules listing more than one property, returns reflecting substantial income and returns having complex problems. Internal Revenue will answer specific questions in connection with complicated returns. Taxpayers were requested not to ask Internal Revenue for help until they had thoroughly analyzed their tax instructions.

Bowen released the following figures comparing the income tax filing for 1955 with 1954.

In 1955 Internal Revenue has received 1,192,906 pieces of mail during the first 45 working days. During 1954, Internal Revenue received during the same period 1,324,574 pieces of mail. A very large part of the mail received is income tax returns. During January of 1955 more taxpayers filed than during January of 1954. The number of taxpayers filing dropped slightly during February but is dropping rapidly at the present time because of the change in the filing deadline.

Last year March 15 was the deadline whereas April 15 is the deadline this year. Based on last year's mail receipts more than a million pieces are yet to be received in a little over the month remaining. Bowen felt that those taxpayers who have not filed had better sharpen their pencils and start figuring because there is not much time left.

Deposits: The Dallas Internal Revenue District deposited $236,596,986.75 during January and February of 1955. Even though this is a respectable amount, it was $3,358,194.32 less than the $239,955,181.07 deposited during January and February of 1954. Internal Revenue expects the March 1955 deposits to drop below those of last year since many taxpayers will wait until April 15 to pay their tax.

Refunds to 129,962 North Texans totaled $10,094,311.45, or an average of $77.67 per refund check. Internal Revenue is mailing out refunds at the rate of 10,000 per day. They will be required to maintain the 10,000-per-day rate to get out the more than 700,000 refund checks by the May 31 deadline. Internal Revenue has 300,000 refunds being processed at the present time.

It requires six weeks to two months to process a refund. They have six weeks' work on hand at the present time. In spite of the 430,000 tax returns due refunds that have been filed to date, more than 300,000 Texans whom the government owes money have not filed their tax return. Bowen urged taxpayers who have a tax refund due to file immediately so that Internal Revenue can begin the necessary processing work. He stated that tax refunds amounted to more than $72,000,000 in 1954. Internal Revenue would expect $72,000,000 or more to be paid out in refunds during 1955. Bowen requested that taxpayers do not write Internal Revenue concerning their refund. Internal Revenue can send out several refunds while they answer one letter. The large volume of refunds to be processed prevents the Internal Revenue Service from giving a taxpayer individual attention concerning his refund regardless of circumstances.

Can Take Time Many things can prevent the Internal Revenue Service from getting the taxpayer his refund check within six weeks after he files his return. It is obvious that a very large majority of North Texans will receive their refunds within two months after filing. Taxpayers who make errors in their tax returns will not receive their refund checks until after correct refund returns have been processed. Bowen concluded by urging that every taxpayer that has not yet filed, no matter whether he is due a refund of over tax, sit down immediately, prepare his return and mail the return with a check for any tax owed today.

Slot Machines Disappear CALUMET CITY, Ill. —UP—County police raided a tavern Friday, seized two slot machines and put them in their squad car, and returned to the tavern. When they emerged the squad car was gone. It was found a few blocks away but the slot machines were missing.

Washington —UP—The House Appropriations committee bluntly told the Post Office Department Friday to worry less about getting completely reorganized and more about delivering the mail.

The Democratic-controlled committee, in its first crack at the Eisenhower administration's budget, also told the department it is time "some of the substantial savings" promised from reorganization show up in dollars and cents.

So, the committee lopped $69,117,000 off the department's request for $2,734,817,000 for operating funds during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Swing at Treasury In the same bill — the first regular money measure of the session — the committee also took a swing at the Treasury Department. It voted to abolish the job of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Laurence B. Robbins. He has charge of rubber and tin programs and other assets transferred from the now-defunct Reconstruction Finance Corp.

56 Cabot Employees Get Safety Plaques

Cabot employees were honored with a banquet in the Sportsman Club Friday night.

The event, a safety award banquet, honored the Schafer A and B plants at Skellytown, the Research and Development Department, Oil and Gas Departments, and the special crew, for having completed 1954 with no lost time accidents.

Employees received awards for five, 10, 15, and 20 years of safety with the company.

Hugh Burdette presented the individual safety plaques to fifty-six employees. Cabot gives the awards to those who complete five-year intervals of safety in their work. There were twenty who received five-year plaques, twenty-two 10-year, eleven 15-year, and three 20-year awards.

Shriners put on a barbecue for the affair and all proceeds were to go to their Crippled Children's Hospital.

Washington —UP—The government is launching a new program to spur the development of privately-financed housing projects with lower rents for families with moderate incomes, it was learned Saturday.

The program is expected to be particularly useful for local housing authorities, which raise funds from private investors by selling bonds to construct their projects.

The government's new program is called yield insurance. It guarantees that those fund-raising bonds will pay interest each year and that they will be retired at a set rate, or faster.

The yield insurance program was written into the National Housing Act in 1948, but it never has been put to work.

Washington —UP—Home R Ferguson, former Republican senator from Michigan, was nominated Friday by President Eisenhower to be the new ambassador to the Philippines.

Ferguson was named to succeed Raymond Ames Spruance, retired Navy admiral. Spruance resigned as ambassador last month.

U.S. Launches New Housing Project

WASHINGTON —UP—The government is launching a new program to spur the development of privately-financed housing projects with lower rents for families with moderate incomes, it was learned Saturday.

The program is expected to be particularly useful for local housing authorities, which raise funds from private investors by selling bonds to construct their projects.

The government's new program is called yield insurance. It guarantees that those fund-raising bonds will pay interest each year and that they will be retired at a set rate, or faster.

The yield insurance program was written into the National Housing Act in 1948, but it never has been put to work.

Cotton Futures Recover Haltingly

NEW YORK —UP—Cotton futures this week recovered haltingly after plummeting to the lowest level in 14 months.

Maximum losses of $5.50 a bale were reduced by about 25 per cent as the period ended.

At Friday's close the general list ruled 19 to 28 points — 95 cents to $1.40 a bale — lower than the preceding week.

Old crop deliveries stood the brunt of an avalanche of the selling credited to Wall Street commission houses, New Orleans brokers, Liverpool and Memphis interests, plus the usual amount of hedge selling as trade buyers backed away.

The spot March delivery, where dealings will end on Tuesday, proved the weakest spot. It fell to 32.65 cents a pound on Monday, establishing a new low since Dec. 31, 1953, and represented the widest break for any season in 2½ years.

On Sept. 8, 1952, the market collapsed around 125 points when a government crop estimate was revised upward sharply, traders re-galled.

New crop positions suffered from the combining effects of: 1. Dullness in the textile markets; 2. Uncertainties over farm legislation dealing with acreage controls, price supports and export policies for raw cotton; 3. The heavier rate of producer loan redemptions; 4. Favorable tenor of preliminary new crop news; 5. The stock market upset and the declining trend in the general commodity price level.

Legislative developments highlighted: 1. Senate repeal of the "buy-back" provisions under Public Law 480, which awaits House action; 2. House Agriculture Committee approval of a bill to extend 90 per cent of parity supports for 1956-57; 3. Senate Agriculture committee approval of a bill to boost the 1955 cotton acreage allotment by 258,000 to 18,538,000 acres.

Traders thought repeal of the "buy-back" provision, under which sales with higher-priced cotton out of the loan, would stimulate raw cotton exports because the recent decline brought a Mexican

One of the screen's most dramatic moments is enacted by Grace Kelly and William Holden in this scene from Paramount's stirring film of love and war, "The Bridges at Toko-Ri," which opens today at the LaNora Theater. Fredric March and Mickey Rooney are also starred in this Technicolor film which was produced by William Perleberg and George Seaton.

TV Turning Carson Into Serious Roles

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK, March 12-UP—Television is enhancing the start made by the movies in turning Jack Carson from a buffoon into an actor of serious roles.

And a pretty good actor, too, if you accept the evidence that he's been called here twice for top roles in two of the "U. S. Steel Hour" shows. Alex Segal, the dynamic director of this ABC program, is no man to accept the second-rate.

"Jack is one of the rare performers with two completely separate histrionic skills," Segal said. "Had he never been a comedian, he would still have been a fine dramatic actor, able to stand up to the best of them."

Still Has Comedy Show
Carson, of course, still has his once-a-month comedy half hour on the NBC-TV network and he has no intention of giving up the funny stuff.

"I guess I'm essentially serious guy," he said on one of his recent acting visits here from Hollywood, "but I think most of those in comedy are serious guys. I think that the really great comedians are the finest actors in the world."

"I also feel that comedy is more difficult than even the most demanding dramatic roles."

"New Carson" Born
The star dates the "new Carson" from the time he was cast as a reasonable facsimile of a human being instead of just a clown in the Judy Garland movie, "A Star Is Born," more than a year ago. That was followed by another good role in Judy Holiday's "Piff," and the TV dramatic jobs came along this season.

Carson's two "Steel Hour" plays have been "Goodbye, But It Never Goes Away" and "Seven Times Monday."

"What I like about these dramatic roles is that the dramas are so deep," Carson said with a mis-leading solemnity. "On those two you couldn't even understand the titles."

Another "Splash" Promised
"Producers' Showcase," which brought that fabulous production of "Peter Pan" to television last Monday night, hopes to make another splash its next time out.

The production for April 4 on NBC-TV will be one of Robert E. Sherwood's very best plays, "Reunion in Vienna," with Greer Garson playing the heroine. The Lunis starred in it on the stage 24 years ago, and John Barrymore and Diana Wynyard played it in the movies.

Aline Chronicles Teenage Music Craze In Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD—UP—The current craze among teenagers for rhythm and blues songs with racy lyrics has become a sizzling controversy around the country.

A rhythm and blues tune, or "R and B" as devotees call it, has a jazz two-beat that some musicians call "barbaric" or "dirty."

Usually there's a honking saxophone behind the blues-wailing lyrics.

BOOK PATTERN

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

The library recently acquired the biography of one of the greatest and most fascinating musical personalities of the 20th century. Unfortunately, Howard Taubman turns in a very pedestrian biography of a scintillating personality in his "The Maestro: The Life of Arturo Toscanini."

It is difficult to understand how the music editor of the New York Times, who not only claims to know the maestro personally, but also claims to have collected anecdotes and studied the Italian genius' life for the past 20 years, could turn out a personality sketch and sketch it in, which echoes the bloodless and lifeless enumerations of accomplishments characteristic of the chronological "Who's Who in America."

Fagiolacci Premiere
Here was a man who many claim has no peers as a conductor in the modern musical world, a man who conducted the world premieres of such operas as Puccini's "La Boheme," and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci," and yet Taubman breathes no life into the biography of a man who was and is part of the great operatic traditions of Italy and America.

A man who knew Giuseppe Verdi, Enrico Caruso, Geraldine Farrar and Gatti-Casazza, director of the Metropolitan Opera, New York.

Even if Toscanini was stiff and unbending, a stickler for detail the milieu in which he moved would have made for delightful reading, with intimate accounts of Toscanini's almost three-quarters of a century in the musical world.

Here was a man who started his conductorial career at the age of 19, before the memory of most people living today, a conductor who was born six years before Enrico Caruso's birth in 1872.

Taubman continually harps on Toscanini's capacity for hard work, but never seems to bring into the open the reason for the maestro's genius. Many have a capacity for hard work but it hardly makes geniuses of them.

The author certainly accumulated a mass of material, but it would have been wiser had he turned the material over to a writer with more musical feeling for a collaboration. The biographer misses the maestro's nuances which he should have gleaned over a 20-year study.

Good biography is always concerned with the delicate observations and gradations which sets men apart from one another.

Highest Honors
Had Taubman been faced with the obstacle of writing about a personality long deceased it might have been understandable. Memoirs, personal observations are often missing to bring the totality of the person into view.

But in the case of Toscanini, it seems hardly excusable, especially in view of his claim of 20 years of study and intimate contact with the dean of American conductors.

Toscanini attended the conservatory in his home town, of Parma and was graduated with a scholastic record of no mean accomplishment; highest honors. He received 160 out of 160 in cello 80 out of 50 in piano, and 80 out of a possible 50 in composition.

Following his graduation, the years 1887 to 1898, according to one of his biographers, were "wanderjahre." — the years of apprenticeship. He conducted at Verona, Novara, Palermo, Bologna, Genoa, Rome and Milan among others.

Toscanini, though given an unrivaled opportunity to conduct at a very tender age, worked hard to get to the top. He didn't start in Milan's La Scala.

The possibilities are a fascinating, although more than the budgeted $250,000 may be required to clean up the "schlag shops" that have turned the world famed "Boulevard of Stars" into "Boulevard of Scars."

The announced glamor ideas—planter boxes, 4800 star photos imbedded in the pavement, street lights with diamond reflectors and star shaped street markers—are rather uninspired.

To make the physical Hollywood live up to the state-of-mind Hollywood, "The Johnson Plan" must be adopted. Its highlights: Facades featuring interesting views of Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell, Blondes in shorts directing traffic (they can wear evening gowns at night.) Cary Grant and Tony Curtis facemasks for all newboys.

Meditations for LENT

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Written for NEA Service

Since in the New Testament joy is linked with trial and temptation, we must be aware that the very process of undergoing trial can be exhilarating. The Psalmist describes how the sun "like a strong man runs its course with joy" (Psalm 19:5, RSV). The strong man's joy comes from the testing of his strength. The athlete trained for the game has no joy while sitting on the bench. The competition may be fierce, the ordeal long and trying, but this is the thing for which he has made ready. This is the cause for which he lives. He gets no joy if he remains muscle-bound. The sailor has no joy in the landlocked harbor. He is eager to pit his strength and skills against wind and wave. This is the life for which he is trained. So it is with the spirit of man. We were not made for lives of ease and comfort, and the soul's true joy comes in "right that triumphs over wrong."

The story is told of a member of a ship's crew who was assigned to lifeboat duty. He informed the captain that the proposed rescue was impossible. "We can go out all right," he said "but we could never get back." "Launch the boat!" said the captain; "we must go out; we need not come back." They would be unworthy of the traditions of the sea if they drew back when hardship threatened. Life's trials offer joy to those who dare to live adventurously.

Perryton Begins Safety Program

PERRYTON — (Special) — A traffic safety program to recognize the "Most Courteous Driver" has been launched in Perryton through the cooperation of the Perryton Sorosis Club, the city and school officials and the Chamber of Commerce.

A "Most Courteous Driver" award will be made each month to the youth and the adult driver who accumulates the most points in judging to be done by police officers in Perryton.

These officers have agreed to watch drivers on Perryton streets and to make a notation when a driver is observed making the correct hand signals, observing the customary rules of driving and practicing ordinary courtesy while driving.

At the end of the month, the results will be tabulated, and the person with the most "good marks" will be notified and presented a certificate by the Sorosis Club.

Prichard Goes To Shamrock

PERRYTON — (Special) — J. D. Prichard, who has been manager of the White House Lumber company in Perryton since 1948, has been transferred to Shamrock where he will manage another White House outlet.

A successor to Prichard has not been named. Bob Kile, assistant manager will remain at the Perryton yard as assistant manager.

Prichard has been associated with White House for 20 years, having started with the firm at Canadian. He moved to Perryton from Miami where he was manager of a White House firm.

Mrs. Prichard and daughter, Jan Karen, do not plan to move to Shamrock until the present school term is out.

Coal Industry Is Up In Arms Over Harris Exemption Bill

WASHINGTON, March 12 — UP — The coal industry is up in arms over the Harris bill to exempt independent natural gas producers from federal price regulation, it was learned Saturday.

Its opposition is based primarily on failure of the bill by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) to include President Eisenhower's fuels committee recommendation that a "competitively unfair, below-cost" sales of natural gas in interstate commerce be outlawed.

A spokesman for the National Coal Association said this is only one of "important omissions." He warned on behalf of the industry that unless corrective amendments are adopted, there will be all-out opposition from coal circles.

The oil and gas industry has been counting heavily on coal support to put the legislation over. Coal can muster more than 125 votes in the House and 30 in the Senate. This opposition, coupled with that of hostile legislators from gas consuming areas, could spell the bill's death.

The Harris measure — and several like it — would bypass a Supreme Court decision that the nation's 5,000 gas producers are subject to regulation if their gas is sold in interstate commerce. The oil and gas industry is spending more than $1 million on an "educational" campaign in an attempt to get it enacted.

Palestine Woman Found Innocent ENID, Okla. — UP — A jury of 10 men and two women Friday found a Palestine, Tex., housewife innocent of charges she murdered her husband in their trailer house here last Dec. 10. The jurors deliberated more than seven hours before announcing at 1 a.m. Friday their decision to acquit Mrs. Marguerite Tatom. She had admitted at the trial she shot her husband Jackson Deari (Cowboy) Tatom, 38, nine times with a .22 caliber pistol but said it was to defend her own life. Tatom, a pipeline worker, had come here from Palestine and Fort Worth and was living here temporarily while working on a construction job.

CONSERVATION FARMER -- Amos Harris, on the left, was recently selected by the Gray County Soil Conservation District as the "Best Conservation Farmer in Texas." His name was submitted to the Fort Worth Press "Save Our Soil and Save Texas" contest. Harris is shown here working in one of his fields with County Agent Ralph Thomas. (News Photo)

Operates 960 Acres Kingsmill Farmer Named For 'Best Conservationist'

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer
The Gray County Soil Conservation District recently nominated a 47-year-old Kingsmill farmer, Amos Harris, as "the Best Conservation Farmer in Texas" in the Fort Worth Press' annual "Save Our Soil and Save Texas" contest.

A survey of local farming opinion bears out the endorsement of the board of supervisors of the Soil Conservation District. Harris operates 960 acres of land as a joint tenant 3 1/2 miles southeast of Kingsmill. During 1952 Harris, who has "toyed" with conservation practices since he came to the Panhandle in 1934, decided to put small level terraces on his land to hold all of the water which "might" fall. He adopted a program even more ambitious than the soil conservation district recommended, and began running the lines in 1953. Over a two-year period Harris constructed 8 1/2 miles of level or slightly graded terraces, in addition to 20 miles of smaller terraces, or borders between the larger ones. According to Jim Strawn, local unit conservationist who worked with Harris, "it looked as though the land were laid out for border irrigation."

Doubled Wheat Crop
Harris was blessed with five inches of rainfall soon after starting the terracing. One hundred and sixty acres of terracing had been completed at the time of the eight-hour rainfall. The terraces held well, and backed water as had been hoped for. A moisture penetration check after two weeks showed 42 inches of subsoil moisture as compared to 15 inches on unterraced fields. Following the planting of wheat in 1953, his harvest was twice that of the county average.

Harris, a native of Kansas, came to Gray County 20 years ago after attending McPherson College. He worked as a laborer on the farm. He presently operates as a joint tenant in conjunction with Paul Sargent, Kansas banker, who has always been the silent partner. Sargent has left the farming judgment up to Harris whom he knows to be an experienced hand. Of the 960 acres in the farm, 927 are in cropland, five acres in farmstead, and 28 acres in pasture. The farm is the typical High Plains farm with wheat, grain sorghums, and a small herd of pure-bred short-horn beef cattle.

Eager Student
Harris has always been an eager student of new conservation and agricultural methods. Working with the county agent's office, Harris has carried out a fertilizer trial demonstration. He also tried experiments with trial plantings of winter legumes, and had superior results with Austrian winter peas.

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER

The Record Shop: The DeJohn Sisters are setting a new style, with the quaint way of turning on syllable words like "more" into two. That word "more," for instance, comes out "maw-er," as in their Epic hit, "No More." Others copying the custom, so one syllable words may be on their way out.

Life gets maw-er complicated every day. Capitol records may have fallen heir to a coming star in an unusual way. The company was bought recently by a European outfit, EMI. Among EMI's stars on the old continent was a French singer, Line Renaud.

A month or so back, Miss Renaud was brought over here by Bob Hope, and wangled an engagement at the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria. Record scouts saw her and decided she had it. But Capitol sat back; through their new owners, they already had her safely signed. On the dotted line.

Virtually every record company has made a version of "The Ballad of Davy Crockett." It will almost certainly be one of 1955's biggest hits, and many people feel it's the kind of song that will become a standard. The artist who stands to profit most from this is Bill Hayes.

Bill's record of the song, on the Cadence label, is so far the leading seller. It was first. It may not be best, but it's close. And it may bring Bill, at long last, the record fame he deserves.

How Bill came to make the record is another story -- and you could call this "The Ballad of Archie Bleyer."

Hayes is the good-looking, pleasant-voiced singer who starred so long and so well on NBC-TV's "Your Show of Shows." Then he quit for a whirl in musical comedy, playing the lead in the Rodgers and Hammerstein show "Me and Juliet."

All the while, he made records. Not much happened to them. All the while, too, he'd do his own personal record shopping at Archie's store on Long Island. Bleyer's record company, Cadence, has been phenomenally successful, considering its youth -- hits like Julius LaRosa's "Eh, Cumiri," Archie's own "Hernando's Hideaway" and the McGuire Sisters' "Mr. Sandman."

"I live near Archie's store," Bill says. "I bought all my records there. And I talked to him about my recordings. We agreed that the best one I did for MGM was 'High Noon.' We figured we'd do a record together, and Archie said he'd call me when the right number came along. He called on 'Davy.'"

He's now under contract to Cadence. Bleyer is unique in the record business; he isn't figuring out how to capitalize on Bill's sudden

"strike" by rushing out another record. "All together," Bill says "Archie's made only 20 records. But the percentage of hits is fabulous. He says he doesn't make a record until he's sure it's the right song for the artist. I think he's right. I'll wait."

Archie, Archie Bleyer, king of the wild music business. RCA's latest swoon boy Tony Tgavis, owes his latest racket to an older racket -- a tennis racket. He plays tennis occasionally in California with Dinah Shore and one day he pulled a record out of his golf bag for whatever people carry tennis rackets in) and said it was made by a friend.

Stocks Have Widest Break In 15 Years In Industrials

NEW YORK -- UP -- Stocks had their widest break in 15 years in industrials and nearly 22 years in rails during the past five sessions. The losses were sharp. They piled up in each session except Thursday's and that day a late selling drive cut down what otherwise might have been a substantial recovery.

The drop came after a sharp rise last week to new bull market highs. That rise had impaired the market's position somewhat and left it vulnerable to anything that smacked of bad news.

The Senate investigation on the stock market furnished what Wall Street considered bad news -- testimony of several witnesses that margins ought to be raised until the market was on a cash basis.

At least that furnished an excuse to sell. Monday's decline was a modest one. Tuesday's was much sharper and it came when a Harvard professor of economics suggested eliminating margin trading.

There were other factors in the investigations that hurt stocks. The principal one was a statement by Sen. J. William Fulbright, conducting the hearings, that some of the companies with defense contracts might be making too much money. He also appeared opposed to any modification of the capital gains tax.

Selling hit the defense issues first. Then it spread throughout the whole market. On the one hand recovery day the issues hardest hit previously were the best performers until late that day.

Losses Suffered
Steels, aircrafts, railroad issues, oil, shipbuilding stocks, and many specials had wide breaks. Substantial losses also were suffered by motors, mercantiles, chemicals, utilities, communications, airlines, and specials with a peacetime operation.

Trading picked up until Wednesday when 4,500,000 shares were turned over, second only this year to the 5 million-share day on Jan. 6. The latter was the biggest since Sept. 5, 1939, the day after Hitler invaded Poland and World War II started.

The next day the volume fell off again and on Friday despite another sharp setback, the trading was relatively light.

Harvester Thinlies Place Second At Graham

RETURNS HOME -- Joe Fortin, a well-known figure in the West Texas-New Mexico League ranks, signed a Pampa Oiler contract yesterday for the 1955 season. Fortin, who previously played three full seasons in an Oiler uniform, is shown already picking out a bat that he hopes will speak loudly this season. (News Photo)

Oilers Sign Joe Fortin

Joe Fortin, one of the heaviest sluggers to ever don a West Texas-New Mexico League uniform, has signed a 1955 Pampa Oiler contract. Fortin is returning to the diamond after laying out one year. Big Joe, however, did play for three different teams in the WT-NM League last year on "5 days looks."

Fortin, who has played professional baseball nine years, will take over the first base duties for the Oilers. Most of Fortin's baseball career has been spent in the outfield and first base. He has also done some catching, in fact, will be the No. 2 catcher for the Oilers this coming season.

Fortin, who is a native of Detroit, Mich., formerly played for the Oilers. He came to Pampa in 1947 from Lamesa and he played here through the 1948 season.

After a year at Richmond in 1949, Fortin returned to Pampa in 1950 when he compiled his best season batting average of his career—.401.

The Oilers sold Fortin to Augusta, Ga., in 1951. Fortin returned to Pampa that year for a brief spell and then finished the season at Albuquerque.

Lamesa obtained Fortin's services in 1952 and then Joe signed with Artesia of the Longhorn League in 1953.

Fortin appeared in 21 games last season for four different clubs while holding down a steady job. He played 11 games with Amarillo, seven with Pampa and three for Plainview.

Big Joe compiled a .361 batting average during last year's race, collecting 30 hits in 83 trips. Four of his hits were homers, one a grand slammer. Fortin drove in 22 runs last season.

Fortin's best year in pro ball was in 1950. In addition to his .401 batting average, Joe collected new league record at the time; 50 doubles; 28 home runs; and 371 runs-batted-in.

Don Stokes has since broken Fortin's base-hit record with 242.

Most of Fortin's value down through his career has been in the RBI department. Following is Fortin's RBI record since 1946:

|---|
| 1946 — Lamesa, 131.   |
| 1947 — Pampa, (missed half of season with broken ankle), 104. |
| 1948 — Pampa, 183.  |
| 1949 — Richmond, Va., 97.                                     |
| 1950 — Pampa, 171.  |
| 1951 — Augusta, Pampa and Albuquerque — 100.                  |
| 1952 — Lamesa, 142.   |
| 1953 — Artesia, 78 (for one half of season).                  |

The signing of Fortin leaves only one infield position open. Others in the fold are Johnny Brugga, third base; and Pete Carmona, second base. The shortstop position remains unfilled.

THSCA Selects Don Coach For School

BEAUMONT, Tex., March 12 — UP — Phil Wolpert, coach of top-rated San Francisco, and Milton Jowers, basketball mentor at Southwest Texas State at San Marcos, have been named instructors for the 1955 coaching school sponsored by the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Wolpert's San Francisco Dons finished the regular season rated tops in the nation and went into the NCAA regional playoffs.

Jowers was hired after requests from high school coaches who wanted to learn how he made his Bobcats one of the most respected teams in the nation.

The two men will coach the all-star squads for the annual North-South basketball game to be played in San Antonio Aug. 4. Which coach will coach which squad has not been definitely decided.

Cantrell, Lewis Set New Records

GRAHAM, March 12 — (Special) — Paschal of Fort Worth outlasted the Pampa Harvesters for top honors in the ninth annual Possum Kingdom Relays here Saturday.

Paschal compiled 40 points to win the Class AA division while Pampa followed with 32½ points. Host Graham won the Class A division with 34½ points.

Rummerup Pampa furnished the top two individual performers of the night. Jon Cantrell was the high point man of the meet with 12 points with his team mate Harold Lewis close behind in second place with 11½ points. Crow of Paschal was third with 8 3-4.

Cantrell won two first places and Lewis one. Both boys set a new meet record.

Cantrell won the shot put and high jump while Lewis captured the 220-yard dash.

Cantrell set a new record in the shot put with a heave of 52 feet, 3 inches. The old mark was 49 5/8 set of Bowvall of Weatherford in 1954.

Lewis' record breaking performance came in the 220-yard dash in a time of 22.6 seconds. The old mark was held by Dean Smith of Graham and later a sprint star at the University of Texas and a member of the United States Olympic team in 1952. Smith's mark was 22.7.

Lewis placed second in two events, the 100-yard dash and the 440-yard dash.

Cantrell, in addition to his first places in the high jump and shot put, placed third in the discus.

Cantrell's winning jump in the high jump was 5 feet 7 inches. Thirty-nine schools participated in the meet here that included 478 contestants.

Following Paschal and Pampa in Class AA were Sherman with 25 and Breckenridge with 24½.

Andrews was second to Graham in Class A with 25 points while Mansfield was third with 12 and Bowie fourth with 11.

Following are the complete results in the Class AA division:

7 Harvester Cagers Win Letter Awards

Seven members of the 1954-55 Harvester basketball team, District 1-AAAA champions for the third straight year, have been awarded letters for the past season.

Those receiving letter awards are Gary Griffin, E. Jay McVain, Ken Hinkle, Buddy Sharp, Benny Cartwright, Dickie Maudin and Jimmy Enloe.

It was the second letter for Griffin, McVain and Hinkle and the first for the other four.

The seven lettermen consist of four seniors, two juniors and one sophomore. Griffin, McVain, Hinkle and Cartwright are the seniors. They were Gerald Clark, Gene Sharp and Enloe are juniors and Maudin a sophomore.

Three other members of the Harvesters received reserve letters. Brown and Melvin Romine, all of whom are juniors.

An additional letter award went to student manager Gene Vineyard.

The Harvesters compiled a 25-6 won-loss record the past season. The Green and Gold won their own Top of Texas Invitational Tournament and then followed up by winning the Northern 1-AAAA title, the overall District 1-AAAA crown and the bi-district championship.

Coach Clifton McNeely's crew finished fourth in the state. McNeely's crew closed out his eighth year as the Harvester cage mentor.

During McNeely's regime, the Harvesters have won 198 and lost only 23 for a percentage of .896.

LaSalle Sets NCAA Record

PHILADELPHIA, March 12 — UP — LaSalle College, defending NCAA champion, set another tournament scoring record Saturday night when it blazed to a 99-64 victory over Canisius to earn a Semifinals spot despite a freeze by the losers in the final five minutes of play.

The Explorers, who play Iowa next Friday in Kansas City, won their 12th straight game of the season and their eighth straight NCAA tournament game to tie the Oklahoma Aggies in consecutive tournament victories without a tournament loss.

Dimmitt Repeats As State Champs

AUSTIN, March 12 — UP — Defending champion Dimmitt and Midway of Waco captured state titles Saturday night in Conference A and B divisions, respectively, in the Texas Interscholastic League's girls basketball tournament.

Bowie High School won the Conference AA division earlier Saturday by staging a last-minute freeze for a 54 to 52 victory over Angleton.

Sooner Aags, NTS Win Border Titles

LAREDO, Tex., March 12 — UP — Oklahoma A&M, led by four top distance runners, upset favored Texas Saturday night to become the first university outside the Lone Star State to win the 23-year-old Border Olympics.

The Oklahoma Aggies pulled relentlessly ahead as the track events were run off. They trailed in the field events.

Texas, the defending champion, and Texas A&M were the only schools that had ever won the university division championship since the present organization of the meet went into effect.

Frederick Eckhoff of Norway won the two mile run for Oklahoma A&M, and Sture Landqvist of Sweden raced to a 4:24.8 victory in the mile.

J. W. Masburn won the 440-yard dash for the Oklahoma Aggies. The fourth winning performance came in the 890-yard run, where Bill Heard led the field.

The brilliant team from north of the Red River also picked up six and one-half points in the pole vault event, Charles Manwaring was first, while James Graham tied for second.

North Texas State won its fourth crown in a row in the college division, Abilene Christian was second and Southwest Texas third.

Two meet records fell. The Houston sprint relay team ran the 440-yard relay in 41.3 seconds, a tenth of a second better than the record set last year by Texas.

In the final event of the night, Oklahoma A&M climaxed its victory by setting a new mark in the one-mile relay. The Aggie team made the distance in 3:16.5.

Official results gave Oklahoma A&M 52 and one-half points in the university division. Texas had 38, Texas A&M 33 and one-half and Houston University 21.

Bobby Whilden of Texas was individual high point man of the division with 10 and three-fourths points.

In the college class, North Texas scored 56 and two-thirds points, Abilene Christian 48, Southwest Texas 35 and one-half and East Texas 12 and one-half.

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

WITH NOTHING APPARENTLY standing in its way, the Pampa Oilers Community Baseball Association is going to get down to serious business this week in the drive to sell 3,000 season books to the 1955 Oiler home games.

Time is growing short for achieving this goal. The Oiler spring training session will start two weeks from today and after that the time will really fly until the season opens April 20.

The local baseball organization faces a tremendous task in reaching its goal of 3,000 season books. But I don't believe there's a single member of the POABA who thinks the goal can't be reached.

The player personnel of the Oilers is just about set. And Manager Grover Seitz hopes to get the vacant spots filled on his visit to the Shreveport spring training camp this week.

Grover leaves Tuesday for Shreveport and will spend several days there. The Oiler skipper may even get in a personal visit with pitcher Jonas Gaines during his trip to Louisiana. Gaines lives in Baton Rouge, some 200 miles from Shreveport.

Seitz' worries will be somewhat relieved if Gaines decided to play another year in organized baseball.

"We couldn't buy a player of Gaines' equal for $2,500," Seitz said yesterday.

The thing that makes Gaines even more valuable is that he is of Limited Service classification. The Limited Service classification includes players who have played professional baseball three years or less. Gaines has played only one year and has two more years to go in the LS bracket.

The same thing goes for Dick Hairston who recently signed his 1955 Oiler contract.

The way Seitz has it figured at the moment, he will only carry 14 players on his roster this season.

"If we stay within the salary limit as specified by the league headquarters, there's nothing else we can do," Seitz pointed out. "And we certainly aren't going to do any 'under the table' dealing," Grover added.

The salary limit is $4,600 per club per month. In other words, the combined salaries of all players on the roster must not exceed $4,600 for a one month period. This excludes the manager's salary.

Just about every club in the league, and in other minor leagues too, have gone over the salary limits in the past years.

But, that's the reason several clubs have gone bankrupt. The overhead was just too much and the clubs couldn't break even, even if they had a winning club.

It is believed, though, that if the WT-NM clubs stay within the $4,600 salary limit that all will be able to pretty well break even and maybe net a little profit.

We sincerely hope that all clubs will abide by the specified salary limit.

Hal Syles, president of the WT-NM, said at the last league meeting that a close check would be made throughout the season on the player wages of each club.

MAIL CALL — The mail man dropped off a rather humorous letter on our desk Friday.

Without further introduction, here is the contents of the letter:

Higgins, Texas
March 8, 1955

Sports Editor,
Pampa Daily News,
Pampa, Texas

Dear Sir:

Last week a friend, Perry Landres, and myself attended the wrestling fiasco at Pampa. It was our first offense.

Perry could hardly keep me from getting in there and mixing it with the rest of those happy people.

Could I get a place on the program? It looks even easier than living on an old age pension.

My qualifications: False teeth, bifocals and big waist line, bald, flat feet, fifty nine and in my prime. I grunt, growl and pain easily.

I can spot that senile, bald, anemic, tottering old Dory Funk thirty pounds and win without removing my false teeth or glasses. It would be so much more fun than just being a spectator.

Yours Truly
D. E. McNamur
P.S.: Did Funk and Poffo leave town in the same car the other evening?

Well, Mr. McNamur, I believe, sorta' went overboard somewhat in his belief that wrestling is a "racket."

"We're not going to argue pro or con with McNamur whether wrestling matches are fixed or not. But we do know that just any-one can't become a wrestler. Wrestlers take a lot of physical punishment and there very definitely is an art to the sport.

Anyway, McNamur, thanks for the letter. I'll see if I can't get you matched with Funk on the local card in the near future.

There's a promising card at the local arena Monday. A grudge tag-team match plus an all girl bout shares the spotlight.

Your patronage to the local mat shows will go toward helping some crippled child to walk again. The Shrine Club, sponsors of wrestling in Pampa, gives a major portion of the weekly proceeds to the Shrine's Crippled Children's Hospital in Dallas.

Big Spring edged Pampa in the championship finals of the Class A Division of the Pampa High School Invitational Girls Volleyball Tournament last night at Harvester Fieldhouse by winning the "rubber" game of a three-game series, 18-14.

Pampa had won the first game, 15-14, but Big Spring bounced back to win the next two, 15-5 and 16-14.

Big Spring also won the Class B Division, swamping Plainview in the finals, 15-1 and 15-1.

Phillips won the Class A consolation title by defeating Plainview in the finals, 7-15, 15-7 and 15-6.

Canyon defeated Berger for the Class B consolation crown.

Sixteen teams, eight in the Class A Division and eight in Class B, took part in the tournament that was run off in one day Saturday.

The eight teams in Class A were Berger, Lefors, Pampa, Phillips, McLean, Canyon, Plainview and Big Spring.

Participating in Class B were Pampa, McLean, Plainview, Canyon, Big Spring, Lefors, Phillips and Berger.

All tournament teams were picked in each division. The Class A all-tournament team was made up of Lila Austin, Pampa; Unice Freeman, Big Spring; Lillie Boyles, Phillips; Elaine Skinner, Plainview; Phea June Ford, Canyon; and Billie McClellan, McLean.

The Class B all-tournament team consisted of Freda Donica, Big Spring; Mary Matlock, Plainview; Alice Brotherton, Canyon; Glenda Adams, Berger; Wanda Armstrong, Phillips; and Marilyn Delver, Lefors.

Trophies were awarded to the first, second and consolation winners in both divisions.

Big Spring Hogs Volley Ball Honors

Big Spring edged Pampa in the championship finals of the Class A Division of the Pampa High School Invitational Girls Volleyball Tournament last night at Harvester Fieldhouse by winning the "rubber" game of a three-game series, 18-14.

Pampa had won the first game, 15-14, but Big Spring bounced back to win the next two, 15-5 and 16-14.

Big Spring also won the Class B Division, swamping Plainview in the finals, 15-1 and 15-1.

Phillips won the Class A consolation title by defeating Plainview in the finals, 7-15, 15-7 and 15-6.

Canyon defeated Berger for the Class B consolation crown.

Sixteen teams, eight in the Class A Division and eight in Class B, took part in the tournament that was run off in one day Saturday.

THE BLONDE TERROR -- Bonnie Watson, rough and rowdy gal wrestler, will meet Olga Zapeda in a best two of three falls match Monday night in one of the feature bouts of the weekly wrestling matches at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club arena. (News Photo)

All-Gal Bout Pits Watson, Zapeda

Silver-blonde Bonnie Watson of West Virginia, who turned in a good job against Mexico's female wrestling champion last week, returns to the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club Monday night against another Latin American — smiling but dangerous Olga Zapeda of Houston and Monterrey.

The pretty girls again share main event honors with the well established men. And here is a "return" appearance, too.

Heading the card, by popular demand, is a return match between Prof. Roy Shire and Bobby Wallace, of Evanston, Ill., against Parks of North Bay, Ontario, Canada, who goes along with his younger brother, Bill "Dinty" Parks, in a legal manner this time.

It's a tag team match that may result in confusion, because members of opposing teams have been having personal trouble in the ring and at ringside for some time. There seems to be considerable personal enmity. There was a slight flare-up in the course of an informal meeting early this week during which Dory Detton, Amarillo promoter and director of the Southwest States Enterprises which attempts to control wrestling in this area, was trying to tell the boys that infractions of the rules would be punishable, by fine or lifting of licenses, and possible suspension.

The Parks brothers pointed to Shire and Wallace and vice versa, and made unkind remarks about each other. It nearly led to an old-fashioned fist fight, but Detton said: "You can fight it out in Pampa Monday night."

It could be rugged.

The girls' match is expected to be rugged, too. Bonnie Watson, demure appearing and quite beautiful, is tigerish in the ring. Miss Zapeda, who was born in Houston, can get that way, too, when provoked. They are considered two of the better women wrestlers now campaigning in the United States.

Angelo Poffo, tall, handsome Italian from Chicago goes against clever Bob Clay of Oklahoma bashful outside the ring but a scientific grappler inside, in the opening event, one fall or 20 minutes. It could be one of the outstanding "wrestling" matches of the evening.

Bills Win In NIT 110-103

NEW YORK, March 12 — UP — Slick, sharp-shooting St. Louis University set a National Invitation record Saturday night by crushing Connecticut, 110-103, in leading three other seeded teams, St. Francis (Pa.), Niagara and Louisville, into the quarter-final round.

Big Maurice Stokes paced little St. Francis to an 89-78 triumph over Seton Hall in the opening game of the evening doubleheader before a crowd of 16,812 at Madison Square Garden. In an afternoon twinbill, Niagara easily defeated Lafayette, 83-70, and Louisville rallied in the second half to eliminate Manhattan, 91-86 before 9,485 fans.

The victories qualified Louisville to meet top-seeded Duquesne, and Niagara to play fourth-seeded Cincinnati in Monday night's quarterfinals. St. Louis will be pitted against second-seeded Dayton, and St. Francis against Holy Cross, the tournament's defending champion and third-seeded entry, in Tuesday night's round of eight.

Dick Boushka, six-foot-five forward, scored 32 points as St. Louis battled back from two 11-point deficits in the first half and also weathered a late second half surge before beating Connecticut.

Colorado Rips Bradley 93-81

MANHATTAN, Kan., March 12 — UP — Colorado pulled away late night and won 93-81 in the NCAA western regional to qualify for a berth in the semifinals in Kansas City March 18.

The Buffaloes led almost all the way. They showed the same form that gave them their first undisputed Big Seven championship during the regular season. The pace-setters were Bob Jeangerard and Burdette Halderson.

Gola Unanimous Selection On NEA Basketball All-America

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—The business of picking an All-American basketball team was a vastly smoother process this year. There was no Bevo Francis to emotionalize the vote. And no Newt Oliver to amote.

Point flurries still swayed opinion, but as the feed lines came in from our key sources of opinion in every section of the nation the emphasis swung over to all around court ability as the guide of player merit.

So you started with class in the person of La Salle's fabulous Tom Gola, already acclaimed as the nation's greatest player college basketball has ever produced. And his coach, Kenny Loeffler, should only have four such running mates as NEA's selection board, composed of coaches and writers from each area, has chosen for him—he couldn't cry "garbage."

This is the NEA All-America: Tom Gola, La Salle, forward; Dick Hemric, Wake Forest, forward; Bill Russell, USF, center; Dick Garmaker, Minnesota, guard.

When Gola disappears next season, Russell, the spring-legged 6-10 junior, center of San Francisco's top-ranked Dons, becomes the undisputed No. 1 man in the nation. With speed and reflexes unusual for his size, who's to say he won't supersede the La Salle lulu? Not since Bob Kurland of Oklahoma A&M, has there been a defensive genius such as Russell.

The plunger on our team, for heavy work off the boards and a constant threat in close to the basket is Wake Forest's Hemric who works normally out of the pivot. For value to his team, 6-7 Dick, a senior, is unsurpassed. You can't overlook his consistent ranking among the country's top five scorers.

Minnesota came up exceptionally strong in the Big Ten, thanks to Dick Garmaker who has every shot in the book and the wherewithal to get them off. The husky 6-4 senior was the scoring sparkplug of the Gophers. What particularly impressed Minneapolis Lakers Coach Johnny Kundla was Garmaker's unfruffled approach to the game.

"Here he's got that high scoring average," explained Kundla, "and yet I saw him in one game where he didn't score for almost 10 minutes but didn't get desperate and start gunning. He knows they'll fall for him eventually."

One of the flashiest performers in basketball is Duquesne's junior guard, Shugo Green, an ebony streak with unstoppable drives and the ability to out-rebound men half a foot higher than his 6-2. He's the choice for this year's All-America over teammate Dick Ricketts, a 1934 selection, because he's having a shade better year than sharp-shooting Dick, who has been both-ered most of the season with a bad ankle.

Also a strong contender was St. Francis' Maurice Stokes, a big man on a little team who does everything superbly. In the same pattern were Ed Conlin of Fordham and Jock Twyman of Cincinnati, strong off the boards and yet great outside threats. North Carolina State thinks junior pivot Ron Shavlik will rank as the greatest cager in Wolfpack history before he's through.

Unrepresented on the all-star lists is highly rated Kentucky, which may be a tribute to team effort. That, after all, wins games.

Trabert, Brown to Clash
BARRANQUILLA, Colombia—UP—Tom Brown of San Francisco defeated Herbert Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-2, 2-6, 6-4 Friday to reach the final round against Tony Trabert of Cincinnati in the Barranquilla International Tennis Tournament.

NEW YORK, March 12—UP—Niagara flowed hot and heavy Saturday with a torrent of scoring to beat Lafayette, 55-70, while Louisville came from behind to defeat Manhattan, 51-56, in first round National Invitation Basketball Tournament games at Madison Square Garden.

Niagara now plays fourth-seeded Cincinnati and Louisville takes on top-seeded Duquesne in quarter-final games Monday night. In an evening double-header

Pan-Am Games Starts Today

MEXICO CITY, March 12—UP—With all the pageantry and parties behind them, athletes from 22 countries move into actual combat Sunday for the first time in the 1935 Pan-American games.

Competition the first day will be held in track and field, basketball, baseball, fencing, soccer, weightlifting and tennis.

The delegation from the United States is expected to hop off to a big lead as it most assuredly will dominate in the track and field events where it has a good chance to pile up a lot of points.

Coach Leo Johnson expects that his U. S. men's team will do a "good job" despite the 7,500-foot altitude.

"Our boys are in pretty good shape and we'll have a good account of ourselves," says Johnson. "This is a very strong team in the field events. We may have trouble on the track, however."

But sideline observers believe that the U. S. team has a good chance to win at least 14 of the 21 men's track and field events. Not only that, in many they may finish one-two-three.

The team pairings for the first day's competition are like this: Men's basketball—Argentina vs. Venezuela.

Women's basketball—U. S. vs. Brazil, Mexico vs. Chile.

Baseball—Mexico vs. U. S., Dominican Republic vs. Venezuela.

Soccer—Venezuela vs. Mexico, Argentina vs. Dutch West Indies.

There are five men's events in track and field and two for women on Sunday. In all of them except the 10,000 meters (a little more than six miles), and the women's discus, the U. S. participants are expected to give a good account of themselves.

Tonsils May Sideline Top Oriole Rookie

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 12—UP—Baltimore Orioles manager Paul Richards' elation over the showing of rookie second baseman Don Leppert was tempered Saturday when a physical examination showed that the 24-year-old infielder needs a tonsillectomy.

Leppert, who had a double and two singles in three trips to the plate Friday against Cincinnati will undergo further examinations to determine whether the condition of his tonsils is serious enough to demand an immediate operation.

Three Americans

The 100-meter dash has three U. S. men attempting to qualify—Dean Smith of University of Texas, Willard Williams of Illinois and Lt. Rod Richard of the Armed Forces. This event has drawn 28 entrants and they will attempt to qualify six heats. The best time is expected to come from Rafael Fortun of Cuba.

U. S. high jumpers Ernie Shelton of Los Angeles and Herman Wyatt of the Armed Forces are expected to soar away from the competition in the high jump and the American entry of Lou Spurr of San Francisco, Mal Whitfield of Los Angeles and Arnold Sowell of Pittsburgh is expected to do well in the 800-meter event in which there are three heats, with three from each heat qualifying for the finals.

But from there on, the high altitude is expected to crop the efficiency of the U. S. contingent and from several of the other low altitude countries.

Mathews Believes Married Life Will Improve His Play

BRADENTON, Fla., March 12—UP—A little family responsibility may make home run slugger Eddie Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves a better ball player this season.

For handsome Eddie is a married man now. What's more, in August, he is scheduled to become a daddy.

"Yes, it is going to be different this year," he exclaimed. "Being married will help me. It will give me a routine of living, more responsibility and more security. Before I got married after the 1934 season, it was eating in restaurants and fooling around unless I wanted to spend my time looking at four hotel walls."

That "fooling around" involved Mathews in some difficulty last season when he stayed out late, was arrested for speeding and named a cop. The Milwaukee judge being a baseball fan like every body else in the home of the Braves, let Eddie off with a stern lecture, although he asked him for an autograph.

It was quite so easy to get out of Manager Charley Grimm's doghouse, Jolly Cholly, who was anything but that when he heard about it, told Mathews to "straighten up and fly right."

But it was easy to see that Mathews was back in the good graces of his amiable boss, now. He burst through the door of the Bradenton clubhouse and shouted to Mathews:

"C'mon Muscles, the newscree guys are here. They want to see your form. By the way how is it?"

"Okay Skip," Mathews replied. "I'm ready."

That seemed to be the new Mathews slogan for 1935. Eddie is ready.

THEN AND NOW—At Newcomerstown, O., Cy Young, crowding 88, demonstrates the famous wind-up that accounted for a record 511 major league victories from 1890 through 1911. Old Tuscarawas was equally effective in both circuits. (NEA)

Baxter Leads Houston To Border Title

LAREDO, Tex., March 12—UP—The University of Houston golf team, led by medalist Rex Baxter Jr. of Amarillo, won the Border Olympics golf tournament Saturday with a 577-stroke total, four better than North Texas State.

Baxter finished the two-day tournament with 141, the same score registered by Max Wilkinson of North Texas. The two played a sudden-death playoff. Baxter shot par on the second hole, while Wilkinson took a bogey.

Houston won with Baxter's 141, Tommy Cruise's 144, Pete Heasemer's 145 and Wally Bradley's 147.

Oklahoma A&M, co-champion last year with North Texas, finished in third place with 596. Lamar Tech was fourth with 599, followed by Hardin-Simmons and Texas A&M with 600. Texas Tech with 608, Trinity with 615, Baylor with 617 and Pan American College with 679.

Roman Patrol Wins Louisiana Derby

NEW ORLEANS, March 12—UP—Roman Patrol, the crowd's favorite and a top contender for Kentucky Derby honors, ran like a prairie fire in the stretch Saturday to win the $49,000 Louisiana Derby, the closing feature of the Fair Grounds racing season.

The dark son of Roman, ridden by Doug Dodson and carrying top weight of 123 pounds, flashed the mile and one-eighth event for three year olds in 1:49 4-5 to knock a second off the feature's record, set in 1936 by Rushaway and tied in 1937 by Grey Count.

Roman Patrol, who has won both previous starts at the Fair Grounds this season, made his bid at the turn to the stretch, and finished going away four and one-half lengths in front of Speed Rouser and five and a half lengths in front of Portersville.

He paid $4.20, $3.20 and $3.20; Speed Rouser $8.20 and $5.40 and Portersville $5.40.

Blue Quest, owned by the Woodley Lane Farm and ridden by Jockey R. Borgemenke, broke first among the starting field and set the early pace, followed by Speed Rouser, handled by Johnny Heckmann, and Roman Patrol who went to the post at even money.

The dashing Blue Quest held a four-length lead at the first turn, five lengths in front of the winner. The three maintained the position until the turn for home when Speed Rouser edged into the lead.

It was there that Roman Patrol, handled expertly by Dodson, made his bid. As soon as Dodson applied the whip several times, the big horse increased his stride to move into the lead mid-way of the stretch run.

As he hit the finish line he was going away from Speed Rouser in long gallops. Portersville, handled by Ray Broussard, who won his 100th race at the Fair Grounds this season in an earlier race Saturday, raced by the fading Blue Quest shortly after the midway point in the stretch to come in third.

Marlene Is A Big Girl Now; At 21, She Rates Self As Pro

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (NEA) — Pretty little Marlene Bauer gets mad if anyone even hints she's a washout in professional golf at the age of 21.

"Anybody who thinks I'm through at 21, can forget it," she said determinedly here.

"That over-the-hill stuff sounds like something started by someone doing a little wishful thinking—maybe someone afraid of getting beat."

"I think 1934 was the turning point for me. I believe I've started to click as a pro. By that, I don't mean I'll take over the tour or anything like that."

Marlene finished 1934 ninth in official money winnings with $4,787 and 10th in Vare Trophy standings with an average of 77.99 for 67 rounds.

But the high point of the year for the 5-2, 105-pound lass from Sarasota, Fla., was her victory in the $35,000 Colonial-Open in New Orleans.

"That was my first major victory," Marlene said. "And it was the climax of a series of events that gave me the confidence which I feel will give me a lift in golf."

Marlene explained that when she joined the pro tour in April, 1930, with her sister, Alice, she was a cobby kid. Her brilliant amateur record had convinced her she could go equally well as a pro.

But she didn't. From like Babe Zaharias, Louise Suggs and Patty Berg were too much for a teenager just breaking in as a pro.

Her cockiness disappeared, which was good. But the process continued until she lost confidence in her own ability.

"I developed the habit of underclubbing . . . of wishing my shots in," she said. "I was babying the club, and even when Daddy (Dave Bauer) pointed it out to me, it was something I just couldn't shake."

Going into the last round in a tournament at Spartanburg, S. C., last year, she trailed Babe Zaharias by three strokes. She was playing the same threesome with the Babe.

Catching fire, she caught, and passed Zaharias and finished the 18th confident she was a winner. But Suggs came in for a birdie three that tied her.

In a sudden death playoff, Marlene holed out a short putt for a par five on the first hole. Louise was lying off the green in three. It appeared the best Suggs could do was split the hole. But a miraculous chip dropped, and Suggs won the tournament.

"Despite losing," said Marlene, "I knew I had done a couple of things. Down three strokes, I had beaten the Babe while playing in her threesome. Then, I was playing on even terms with Louise when she holed out that fabulous shot."

With increasing confidence, Marlene moved into New Orleans for the Colonial Club Open.

On the final day Marlene trailed the leader—Zaharias, of course—by five strokes. But she wound up the day a winner, firing a 70 (five under women's par) and setting a course record for women.

"That was the clincher," Marlene says. "I'm not 'little Marlene' any more. I'm a big girl now."

NEW YORK, March 12—UP—completing the first round, St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., met Seton Hall and St. Louis University took on Connecticut.

Before an announced crowd of 9,488, Niagara breezed to a first-half lead of 44-31 and then let up a little to win with ease. It was the first time in the tournament for Lafayette, a 12-point underdog, and the Pennsylvania Leopards played like the exit signs in the Garden were put up for them personally. Aside from a tremendous one-man scoring effort by George Young, who made 31 points, Lafayette showed little offense.

Niagara, a smoothly-coordinated unit, had a two-man offensive punch of Jim McConnell and Ed Fleming. Fleming made 26 points on 12 field goals and two free throws while McConnell had 25 on 11 and three.

In the first game, Louisville pulled away from a 45-44 deficit at halftime and completely disorganized Manhattan's floor play. The Cardinals opened a 63-51 margin after eight and one-half minutes of the second half, and Manhattan never was in the game again, except for a brief flurry at Louisville's key man, John Frutkin, heated out.

TEST FOR THOMPSON—Milwaukee's Bobby Thomson gives his ankle a thorough test—as Coach Bucky Walters watches hopefully—in sliding pit at Braves' Bradentown camp. Thomson broke the ankle in spring training last year and Braves hope it will hold his big bat in the lineup for the full season. (NEA)

Panhandle Personals

By BERNICE LORENZ
Pampa News Correspondent
Miss Frances Kirk was guest of honor at a bridal shower at the Memorial Building last week. Hostesses for the affair were Anna Russ, Lydia Gaston, Billy Bickerstaff and Norma Darnell. Many of her friends presented her with crystal and china of her selection.

Thirty-three of the 36 faculty members of Panhandle School were re-elected by the school board Tuesday night. At a previous meeting Supt. James R. Co and High School Principal Lester McCoy and Grade School Principal J. J. Julian were re-elected. Leslie Talbert, band and choral director, resigned.

Six track teams meet in Panhandle Wednesday for a track meet. Towns represented were Claude, Groom, White Deer, Lelia Lake and Price College. Jones Hedrick of Panhandle won the 440-dash, Everett Howard won fourth in the 440-dash. Wayne Mohan won second and Pat Hamilton won fourth in the 880. Hedrick and Bobby Durham of Panhandle tied for fourth place in the 100 dash. Larry Hiron and Marlin Mitchell placed first and third in the high hurdles. In the 220 dash Durham placed second and Hiron tied with several for fourth place.

Panhandle School will have a new athletic area just north of the school grounds. Most of the land has been purchased for the new location. There is to be a football field, track field, two or three softball and baseball diamonds and a field house will be put on the land.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClough have gone to Rochester, Minn., to take their daughter Gail for treatment.

Last week Panhandle Schools were open to visitors in celebrating Texas Public School Week. There were many parents and patrons registering in rooms and eating in the school cafeteria.

The Panhandle Business and Professional Women will meet in the Memorial Building Monday night for their regular business meeting. The program for the evening will be based around the topic, "Know Your Enemy."

Boyd Williams, football coach in Panhandle since 1953, has asked permission from the board of trustees to drop his coaching duties and continue as a classroom teacher in the Panhandle school system.

Williams has taught in the Panhandle school system for six years. He came to Panhandle as an assistant football coach in 1949 under John Cowan and remained under Cowan two years. He was an assistant coach for two years under John Truelove and became head football coach in 1953. Williams is also coach of the girls basketball team who has just completed the season as District 1-A champions. The girls lost only one non-conference game to Claude and one bi-district loss to Dimmitt, winner of 2-A. Williams hopes to do some football and basketball officiating as supplementary work.

Leslie Talbert, School band and choral director, has resigned his position. Talbert has taught in Panhandle Schools for three years. He taught formerly in Wildorado and White Deer-Skellytown. He was graduated from High School in Happy, received his Bachelor degree from West Texas State, and in 1953 received his Masters degree in Music from the University of Texas. While director of the Panhandle Band, they won several excellent ratings at contest. Individuals have distinguished themselves in solos and ensembles as well as in all-state band tryouts.

Auto Workers Strike Looms

DETROIT—UP—The CIO United Auto Workers' filed notice Friday they will terminate their contract with Ford Motor Co. June 1 when the present five-year contract expires.
Ken Bannon, director of the Ford department of the union, said the notice was filed to satisfy requirements of the Taft-Hartley act. The notice clears the way for 135,000 Ford workers to strike June 1 if agreement hasn't been reached on a new contract.
The action in filing notice against Ford, whose contract runs out two days later than the General Motors contract, heightened speculation that the UAW might pick out Ford for a strike if it is unable to win a contract containing the controversial guaranteed annual wage plan through negotiations.
The first talks aimed at a new contract will be held Monday, when General Motors and Ford open negotiations.
In New York, a key spokesman for the automobile industry predicted that the auto workers will strike this year on the issue of the guaranteed annual wage.

Former Official To Testify In George Parr's Libel Suit

SAN DIEGO, Tex.—UP—Diego Heras, former Benavides school official, former Benavides school official, filed Saturday in a $50,000 libel suit against him and Santos de la Paz, Corpus Christi newspaper publisher, by South Texas political boss George Parr.
The suit opened Friday in county court. Everett Looney of Austin, Parr's attorney, questioned Heras, a former official of the Benavides Independent School District board of trustees. However, Heras repeatedly invoked the Fifth Amendment and refused to answer most of the questions.
Parr was not in the courtroom, and only a few spectators were present, including State Sen. William Shireman of Corpus Christi, County Judge Dan Tobin Jr. is hearing the case.
Alleges Libel
Parr alleges in his suit that De la Paz libeled him in his weekly newspaper, La Verdad (The Truth), in the Feb. 5, 1954, issue. The newspaper is published in Corpus Christi.
The political boss claims the statement was "a defamation in printing tending to injure the reputation" of Parr and "to expose him to public hatred, contempt, ridicule, and financial injury and to impeach his honesty, integrity and reputation."

Heras was granted immunity from prosecution on Feb. 10, 1954, by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd in matters involving mishandling of state funds, in exchange for Heras' testimony about irregularities in the Benavides school district.
Refuses Four Questions
Heras, 43, who now is employed at Houston, refused to answer four questions put to him by Looney. They were:
1. The details of his leaving the employ of the school district.
2. An interview between him and W. H. Ninedorf in 1954. He identified Ninedorf as a member of the intelligence division of the Internal Revenue Department.
3. The identity of a person or persons who asked him to make a written affidavit March 18, 1953, which he identified in court as having been composed and typed by himself and signed before Donato Serna as notary public.
4. The identity of the person who asked for a copy of the affidavit.

SORT OF LIKE A SEQUEL TO 'COME HOME LITTLE SHEBA'

REDWOOD CITY, Calif.—UP—County Clerk John Bruning had a reply Wednesday to a summons he sent Mrs. Jeanne Reckling of East Palo Alto to appear for jury duty.
Mrs. Reckling wrote she "would be delighted to comply with your request as I am heartily sick of North Africa where I have lived for the past year."

FINGERPRINTED
B. R. Sheffield, left, sought on a Texas veterans land scandal indictment, is fingerprinted by Marx Weise, Texas Dept. of public Safety identification officer in Austin last week. State Police arrested Sheffield near Gainesville shortly after he entered state from Oklahoma. Sheffield is jointly charged with former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles for conspiring to commit theft of $83,500 of state money. (NEA Telephoto)

Scott McLeod Would Hire A Communist

WASHINGTON—UP—State Department security chief R. W. Scott McLeod said Friday he would hire a Communist or security risk "if necessary to do a job" the government needed done.
McLeod told a Senate Government Operations subcommittee that he would not take that risk if it could be avoided. But, he said, "our policy is not to be so secure we can't get the job done."
Sen. Norris Cotton (R-N. H.) promptly asked how many security risks the State Department had knowingly hired in the last two years because they were uniquely qualified for necessary jobs.
McLeod consulted his aides, stared at the ceiling, and said "I can't honestly think of an. This discussion has been largely hypothetical—something that might happen."
"I feel reassured" said Cotton. "McLeod, onetime FBI agent and former administrative assistant, to Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.), is administrator of the State Department's bureau of security and consular affairs."

Paris In The Spring

After months of preparation, the "Paris in the Spring" style show will be presented this afternoon in the Palm Room, City Hall, with tea to be served 30 minutes before each show in the City Club Room. Showings are slated for 2, 4 and 6 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Council of Clubs, Celanese Corporation and the Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of Pampa merchants. Commentator for the show will be Mrs. Margaret Langley, of New York, assistant director of consumer relations for Celanese Corporation of America.

The show will be staged against a setting of a Paris skyline and ushers will be dressed as French maids.

UPPER LEFT: Mrs. Kay Fancher, who will model for Behrman's Shoppe, is shown in a mauve sheath dress topped by a bolero, fashioned from pure moynagshel linen. It was designed by Ike Clark. She will model a semi-formal of imported organdy with a brown floral print, a Will Steinman original.

LOWER LEFT: Mrs. Jake Osborne, model for Murfee's, is shown in a stylish suit of English tweed, with Irish lace trim at the collar and the cuffs. In the show, she will model an Eisenberg afternoon dress in pink, with a picture hat of red Milan straw.

UPPER RIGHT: Mrs. Charles Hickman Jr. will model for Bentley's store. She is shown in a navy blue semi-formal gown. The shirred bodice is of Celanese taffeta and the upper bodice and skirt are fashioned from net, embroidered with vari-colored ribbon. The bouffant skirt has two under-skirts . . . one of taffeta and one of ruffled net.

LOWER RIGHT: Mrs. R. A. Johnson will model an after-five dress for Gilbert's Ladies Shop. The antique gold dress of imported status quo cotton is fashioned along princess lines, with a deep-V neckline in back. It may be worn with a jacket styled with a flared peplum.

TOP CENTER: Committee chairmen for the show are members of clubs belonging to the Council of Clubs. Shown above, seated, are Mrs. Ralph McKinney, left, refreshments chairman; and Mrs. Melvin Watkins, right, ticket chairman. Standing, left to right, are Mrs. Lonnie Richardson, entertainment; Mrs. Azelle Loftus, publicity; Mrs. Rufe Jordan, models; and Mrs. Clifford Whitney, decorations. Other chairmen not shown are Mrs. E. W. Hogan, ushers; Joe Tooley, merchants; Clifford Whitney, Celanese; and Ed Anderson, choir arrangements.

Peg O' Pampa

PEG HAD A WONDERFUL TIME at the Twentieth Century Club coffee the other morning . . . Lenore Sloan certainly gave a wonderful talk on Indians . . . one of the most interesting Peg has heard lately . . . the origin of the Indians . . . where they came from . . . was real interesting . . . and why they had to dwell in cliffs . . . some of them . . . very fascinating . . . and the serving table was so attractive . . . Indian mats . . . and basket-type dishes . . . and a lovely pottery bowl . . . and the centerpiece was all fruits and vegetables that the Indians ate . . . wish Peg could make fruits and vegetables into such a pretty arrangement . . . and they had an Indian headdress and blanket on display . . . understand it was given to Dick Hughes by the Indians . . . don't know if they made him an honorary member of the tribe or not . . . The hostess and some of the members were all in squaw dresses . . . Peg thinks Dorothy Neelage is getting prettier every day . . . and she's always so sunny and sweet . . . A few of the women Peg spied were Doris Stowers, Mrs. W. E. Campbell, Mrs. Warren Hasse, Lois Sheilamer, Icie and Marie Harrah, Jean Duncan, Mrs. George Scott and Mrs. J. R. Holloway.

UNDERSTAND THE GIRL SCOUT LEADERS had an exceptionally fine meeting the other morning . . . Over 80 women present . . . think it's one of the best attendances they've had in a long time . . . everyone is still talking about Tommie Jeter's song leading and the games she taught them . . . about how much they enjoyed it . . . Glad to see so many enthusiastic women working with our young girls . . . While on the subject of Girl Scouts . . . understand Mrs. Burl Lewter's troop has come up with a novel idea . . . they were to adopt a baby yesterday . . . which was the Girl Scout birthday . . . the first girl born Saturday in Highland General Hospital . . . (sorry, written beforehand) . . . were going to give her a dollar for her first year dues in Scouting . . . when she's old enough . . . and an honorary Brownie membership . . . Haven't heard of anything so cute in a long time . . . bet everyone got a kick out of it . . . the mother . . . and father . . . and, of course, the girls.

TODAY IS THE BIG DAY for the style show . . . kept peeping into the Palm Room this week to see how the stage set is coming along . . . looks very good . . . Betty Whitney and her helpers spent a lot of time on it . . . Peg has said before and still thinks the style show will be one of the biggest social events in Pampa this year . . . It would be hard to say how many people have contributed, in one way or another, to it . . . seems like nearly everyone in town . . . and the committees have certainly worked hard . . . Mrs. Margaret Langley, a Celanese representative from New York, was in town this week . . . a very charming and chic person . . . she should give a very interesting commentary . . . and all the models are so attractive . . . Of course, we think Pampa has an edge on good-looking women . . . young and old . . . Peg has heard about some of the gowns . . . should send us all out shopping . . . that is, if our "one-and-onlys" relinquish the necessary funds . . . Peg is dying to see how many men will be there . . . bet a lot of them would enjoy it . . . if you're going, don't forget to go a half hour early and get in on the tea.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK: A creative economy is the fuel of magnificence. (Ralph Waldo Emerson) . . . Economy is a distributive virtue, and consists not in saving but in selection (Edmund Burke) . . . Economy is the art of making the most of life (George Bernard Shaw) . . . All that is worth reckoning is what we do, and the best of everything is not too good, but is economy and riches (Mary Baker Eddy) . . . Economy is half the battle of life; it is not so hard to earn money as to spend it well (Charles Spurgeon) . . . Frugality is good, if Liberty be joined with it. The first is leaving off superfluous expenses; the last bestowing them to the Benefit of others that need (William Penn).

HERE AND THERE . . . Understand Bunny Behrman has gone out of town this week end . . . certainly is a busy man . . . saw Mrs. Ed Gentry down town the other day . . . in a lovely blue knit suit . . . very attractive woman . . . Understand a group of men from the Presbyterian church are going to Chicago . . . or are already there . . . for a church meeting next week end . . . don't know all who are going . . . heard Max Hukill was going . . . nice to see so many men active in church work . . . Heard everyone had a good time at the Ladies Golf Association all-day affair the other day . . . had a big time playing bridge . . . and Mrs. G. M. Walls gave a wonderful book review . . . Peg had to miss it, but sure won't this week . . . Frances Hofness has herself really buried . . . working so hard on her new house . . . thinks they'll be able to move in a month or so . . . Van Finnell came over from Berger Friday . . . stopped in to see Frances . . . glad she's so close and can get back once in awhile.

WHAT FUN WE ALL HAD at the Lions Club Minstrel Thursday . . . a big success as it always is . . . Pampa has some wonderful local talent . . . Little Sissy Milliron was as cute as ever . . . during intermission went down to sit near her grandmother . . . Hattie Holt . . . who is rightfully proud of her . . . Dr. Malcolm Brown's "cutting up" had everyone in stitches . . . and the long and short of it . . . sitting next to each other . . . Henry Gruben and Joe Tooley made quite a combination . . . didn't know either one could be so funny . . . Dr. Joe Donaldson's interpretation of Liberace was a scream . . . and Joe Tooley as George . . . Loved the jitterbug number of Janie Sims and Otto Mangold . . . she's so tiny and Otto's not so small . . . really cut quite a rug . . . Red Payne's number was very good . . . as they all were . . . Bunny Shultz did a good job directing it . . . and of course . . . credit goes to all who worked and gave up their time for it . . . Didn't realize Jack Dunham had such a good voice . . . he really had the audience with him all through his number . . . a good kick off for the show . . . Sheriff Rufe Jordan was good, as usual . . . and Carmelita Hogan was excellent on her lap numbers . . . seemed to get into it more for her encore . . . Mary Ann Guthrie's blues number was a hit . . . as last year . . . Got a big kick out of the Lion-hearted Four . . . Duke Bathrop's dead pan . . . and occasional bend of the knee . . . had everyone in stitches . . . even Red Wedgeworth's back thumping couldn't make him unbend . . . and laurels to the Dixieland band . . . pretty much unsung heroes . . . without whom the show would certainly be lacking . . . Well . . . now we can start looking forward to next year's production . . . had a full house . . . spied Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Dixon . . . Jess O'Brien . . . Mrs. George Friauf . . . Fay Burns with her fiancé Jim Terrell . . . they'll be Mr. and Mrs. soon now . . . Harold Lewis . . . Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Nestel . . . Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thut . . . Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gaylor . . . Ham Luna . . . Dr. Raymond Hampton, Ed Cleveland and Rev. Ronald Hubbard among those selling candy . . . Ed Myatt . . . Paul Brown on stage urging everyone to buy the candy . . . enjoyed Earl Williams' harmonica numbers during intermission . . . accompanied by pretty Carol Paxson . . . Saw Cliff Braly with his wife and daughter . . . Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nace and Mrs. H. A. Yoder . . . Lhad the idea of presenting the Lions Club sweethearts during intermission . . . sort of pretties up the whole thing . . . certainly are an attractive and well-poised bunch.

FORGET TO TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER this week . . . well, we have it . . . and it hasn't been too bad . . . barring a little dust here and there . . . In a few months we'll probably be wishing it were still again . . . Oh, well . . . It's always something to talk about.

Heavy Fish — NORTH PLATTE, Neb. — UP — The trucker was fined $104 in Lincoln county court — but he had to admit that local officials were cooperative. The man was arrested for overweight at noon on a Saturday when county officers normally knock off for the week end. But the official agreed to stay open a bit longer than usual to give the trucker a break because of his cargo — a load of fresh fish.

Twentieth Century Forum Women Hear About Insurance, Wills, Estate Planning

Twentieth Century Forum met recently in the home of Mrs. Henry Rose. During the business session, led by Mrs. Eben Warner, president, reports were given on several service projects.

The program was entitled, "Insurance, Wills, and Estate Planning." Mrs. J. B. McCrery spoke on "Estate Planning."

"It is the arrangement of property for and among a family so that the estate will pass to the right people," she explained. "A will is usually the most important document in an estate plan. One should always estimate how much the estate will be diminished by debts, expenses of the last illness, taxes of various kinds and administration expenses. A sound insurance plan program is very important as often life insurance is practically the entire estate of many people."

A. M. Teed's talk followed Mrs. McCrery's and he emphasized many of the points she brought out. He dealt mainly with family wills explaining that Texas got its community property laws from the old Spanish laws which regarded marriage as a partnership.

"Community property is all that is acquired during marriage, and separate property is that held before marriage or received by gift or inheritance," he pointed out. "These are handled differently by law when there is no will. A correctly made will be one of sound mind cannot be broken, although it is often tried. A person may change his will as often as he wishes. In fact, wills should be checked every so often in view of changes in laws and taxes to be sure it is what the person wishes."

Combine products of California or Florida with those of New England and the get-together is colorful and delicious. Here it is, made with oranges and cranberries.

Orange-Cranberry Shortcake
(Yield: 5 to 6 servings)
One cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/4 cup strained fresh orange juice, orange - cranberry sauce, 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Sift the first 4 ingredients together. Blend in butter or margarine. Stir in orange juice. Turn dough onto a pastry board, knead about 20 strokes. Roll to 1/2-inch thickness. Shape with a 3-inch cookie cutter. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees F.). Cool. Split biscuit and arrange on a serving plate with orange-cranberry sauce in shortcake style. Top with whipped cream.

Orange-Cranberry Sauce
(Yield: 2 Cups)

Three cups fresh whole cranberries, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 3/4 cup fresh unstrained orange juice, 2 large fresh oranges.

Wash and pick over cranberries. Place in a 1 quart saucepan with sugar and orange juice. Mix well. Cook until all the cranberries pop their skins. Simmer 3 minutes. Cool. Peel oranges and separate the sections, being sure to remove all the white tough portion and the membrane. Mix with the cranberries.

Elementary School PTA Units Hear Speeches On Safety, Elect Officers

Several elementary schools held Parent Teacher Association meetings this week in the respective school auditoriums.

SAM HOUSTON
During the Sam Houston unit meeting, a nominating committee to choose a slate of officers for the coming year was selected. They were Mmes. Miles Morgan, Price Dozier Jr. and Aubrey Steele. It was announced that volunteers are needed to help bind books in the office of Homer Craig, principal, Monday.

Clifford Braly, guest speaker, talked on traffic safety. He pointed out that safety zones at the schools are the biggest traffic problem because parents do not leave home early enough and do not enter the school zones at 15 miles per hour. He reminded parents that they should load and unload so the children will not have to cross the street.

A play on safety was presented by fourth grade students.

WOODROW WILSON
Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, presented the devotional at the meeting of the Woodrow Wilson unit. Guest speaker, Chief of Police Jim Conner, was introduced by Mrs. C. L. Ditmore. Chief Conner spoke on safety for school children, giving statistics on traffic fatalities. He pointed out that people need to be educated on traffic safety, which should begin in Junior High School.

Mrs. W. F. Walsh, school nurse, told about the use of the audiometer for hearing and the telebinocular for checking the children's eyes. She stated that this is the time for summer round-inoculations and doctors' checkups for the children.

During the business session, officers were elected. They were Mrs. C. L. Ditmore, president; Mrs. Carl Sexton, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Watkins, secretary; Mrs. John Brewer, treasurer; Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, historian; Mrs. F. R. Ward and Mrs. Phillips Grange, city council representatives.

HORACE MANN
Mrs. Edwin L. Hall presided at the meeting of the Horace Mann unit. Group singing of Texas songs was led by Mrs. John Branham, with Miss Fay Dellis Adams accompanying.

Officers elected were Mrs. Ott Shevemaker, president; Mrs. Edwin L. Hall, vice president; Mrs. John Mitchell, recording secretary; Mrs. A. L. Smiley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. M. Brooks, treasurer; Mrs. H. B. Ormsom, historian; Sam Begert, parliamentarian; Mrs. Ralph Delashaw and Mrs. H. L. Meers, city council representatives.

Delegates to the district convention, to be held April 18 and 19, will be Mrs. Ott Shevemaker and Mrs. Edwin L. Hall. Following the meeting, open house and room visitation was held. Next meeting will be April 24, with Cameron Marsh as guest speaker.

B. M. BAKER
"Citizens Safety Program" was the topic of the speech by Patrolman Cecil McNeil of Amarillo at the meeting of the B. M. Baker unit. He was introduced by B. R. Nuckols, county superintendent of schools.

Purpose of this program, McNeil explained, is to promote safety in the schools, the home and

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
This is a letter for J. J. Why not spend some of your time and talent of which you seem to have, in writing to some lonely GI's who are away from home, and are hungry for news from the United States. I believe you would be happier and more satisfied than in brooding over the human faults of your husbands mother.

If her worst fault is in being possessive, then it might be well to examine your own mind, for in your letter you used the possessive adjective, "MY children," four times. Don't they also belong to your husband?

I expect it is as hard for most sons to sever all parental ties as for the daughters. You seldom read a letter from a husband saying his father-in-law is doing something to wreck his home, yet the wife's father is probably as tied to his daughter as the mother to her son.

You too will be a mother-in-law in a few short years. Will you cease to be possessive? Will it make you proud to read letters your in-laws have written about you?

Read some good constructive books and magazines. Do a charitable deed for someone every day. Look for the blue sky instead of the clouds and you will be surprised how soon your mind will be better, your health will improve, you will be more patient and understanding with your children. And then maybe you can find some good qualities in the woman who is your husband's mother.

Irene

LONESOME
Dear Grace Friend
I have just arrived here. Could you tell me how a widow of 40 could meet people her age?
Lonesome

Dear Lonesome
Join some clubs. First try the YWCA. It has a dozen groups you might enjoy which meet regularly. The YWCA, Red Cross and many other such organizations need volunteer workers. Why not apply. You will meet many nice people through such contacts.

If you belong to a church, join some of the classes and clubs, members of which are a suitable age.

in every phase of everyday living. The program covers 26 counties in this district. Following his talk, he showed a film on safety.

During the business session, Mrs. Boyd Bennett announced a study course for anyone interested at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the school cafeteria. Officers chosen for the coming year were Mrs. J. H. Trotter, president; Mrs. Homer Miller, vice president; Mrs. Evan Jones, secretary; Mrs. B. E. Tidwell, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Darnell, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Dan Selman, historian.

LAMAR
A panel discussion, "We The People Promote The General Welfare Of The Child," was presented at the meeting of the Lamar unit. Mrs. Jack Foster led the panel. Other members were Rev. Porter Brooks, vicar of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church; Mrs. Lillian Snow, city librarian; Sheriff Rufe Jordan; and Dr. Joe Donaldson.

Rev. Brooks spoke on the influence of the church on the child; Mrs. Snow told about a child's reading habits; Sheriff Jordan spoke on juvenile delinquency; and Dr. Donaldson told about the advantage of having a youth center in Pampa.

New officers were elected during the business session. They were Mrs. Kenneth Cambren, president; Mrs. Floyd Barrett, vice president; Mrs. J. B. Rasco, secretary; Mrs. Ed Gentry, treasurer; Mrs. C. T. Rasco, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Shirley Nickols, historian.

RUTH MILLET
Sometimes a man seems to appreciate an efficient secretary more than a loving, loyal and hard-working wife.

It even happens now and then that a man is so afraid of losing a capable secretary that he will shut his eyes to her faults, even when she is trying her best to cause trouble between him and his wife.

Here is a letter from a wife who says her husband's secretary — who is so efficient he thinks he couldn't get along without her — is systematically stabbing the wife in the back.

And the husband is so naive he doesn't see, or doesn't want to see, what she is up to when she runs down housewives, or brings him clippings that belittle stay-at-home women. Or when she always manages to make some little remark that puts his wife in the light of one who just doesn't understand her husband's problems.

The wife says the secretary has a long history as a troublemaker, but has convinced her present boss that in past situations she was always right and someone else was always wrong.

The wife wants to know what she ought to do. I think she ought to put all the cards on the table, and make her husband face the situation for what it is.

She could say something like this: "I know Miss Blank is efficient and that in a business way she makes your life easier. But she is a troublemaker.

"If you can see her for what she is, and see through her attempts to put me in a bad light, then she can't hurt us any.

"A woman like that can only cause trouble when the man she is working for can't or won't see her for what she is."

Homemaking Tips For Busy Women

If you're puzzled about getting that circular felt skirt clean, here are a couple of tips: clean with a spray-can cleaner, following instructions carefully. Press with a dry iron at "wool" setting. Steam shrinks and mats felt.

Window too tight? Try gluing a strip of sandpaper in the slide. The window's action will sand itself down till you have an easy-up window.

Do you have air conditioning? Well, have you thought that now you can have the frothiest white curtains in the world with much less work? Pleasant in a bedroom with a window unit.

Dress up your turned-down bed. Add wide printed fabric borders to top of sheet and pillow cases. Be sure you wash the fabric before sewing, to avoid puckering.

Teen-ager craves a sitting room when she has a bedroom? Change the look of her bed with piles of pillows. She'll enjoy novelty pillows made like watermelon slices, a pie or a banana.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
In a magazine of parent education, I recently read this statement on the pre-adolescent child: "The courage to stick to his pal against you . . . is an important step forward in his social growth."

It was made by Fritz Redl, one of this country's great social workers. I have such personal respect for his work that I wish he had added: "Your courage to stick to your values in opposition to your child's is equally important to his social growth."

For Johnny's inexperience may one day make uncontrolled loyalty to his pal a hazard to his social growth. If the pal happens to be one who finds it satisfying to vandalize his school building, Johnny's loyalty may involve him in a humiliating experience with a juvenile court.

There, because his parents have been unable to control his loyalty, a probation officer will have to try to do it by helping Johnny see that it's been misdirected.

Though this adult will appreciate our youngster's courage in sticking to his pal, he will not feel compelled to agree that the pal is a wonderful guy.

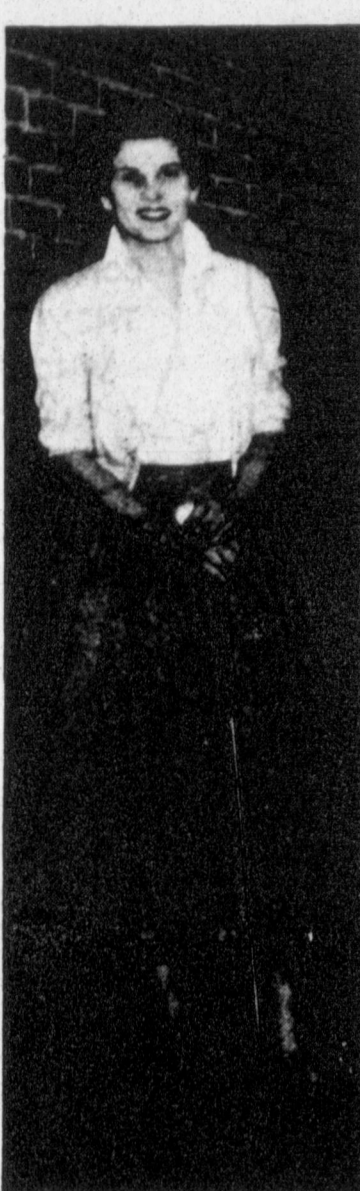

So while we approve of Johnny's courage in sticking to his destructive friend, we do not have to approve of the friend. Though we grant him his right to his inexperienced values, we claim our right to our own.

It is a very important distinction. For unless we are certain of our right to disagree with Johnny, we can be very impatient when he disagrees with us.

Unless we can see courage in ourselves when we stand quietly by what we believe in, we cannot see similar valor in Johnny's effort to defend what he believes in. Because we do not appreciate our own courage in defending our values, Johnny's bravery in defending his will appear to us as defiance and stubbornness.

So it's dangerous to be confused on this point. Because we love Johnny, we don't have to love all his judgments. Because we trust him, we don't have to trust all his values.

A child struggling with a disapproved friendship is in the position of a fighter pilot exploring the skies alone. It's brave. It's fine. It's also very, very hard on him.

If we know this, we don't relax our point of view. We know that our young pilot needs certainty of the aircraft carrier waiting beneath him. We know he wants it to maintain its constant position so that he can avail himself of it the moment his navigation gets confused.

Sound Off By A Leaguer

The League of Women Voters has announced its support of House Resolution 392, which was introduced by Representative E. H. Dewey of Bryan. Support of the bill was announced by the state president, Mrs. L. K. Richards.

The League's support of this bill is the culmination of a concentrated state-wide study in the Texas election code. Although the League has studied all aspects of this code, it is lending its support to procedural changes only at this time. League members are asked to write their representatives and senators encouraging support of this bill.

MAKE FRIENDS MANNERS

If your teenage son sits sprawled out in the most comfortable chair in the living room when you bring a woman guest into the house, then you have failed to teach him one of the important points of etiquette for men. That is that a man always rises when a woman enters the room.

And men who grow up without knowing the fine points of gentlemanly behavior are handicapped when they go out into the world.

Good Posture Aids Housework Strain

No one who's ever done it feels that the homemaker is "unemployed." And by the time she's raised a couple of kids and given up on expecting her husband to move the sofa six inches, a woman begins to think of herself as a dray horse.

Women in the middle years ought to guard against being a beast of burden for any reason. This is the time when one ought to realize one isn't as resilient as formerly.

Take these posture precautions:

Let your legs bear the burden when you must lift something heavy. Don't reach over. Sort of sit or squat and let your legs push you up.

Carrying two equal packages is easier than carrying one heavy one. Get your groceries divided in two parcels and carry them close to the center of your body.

Washington Colossus

The proposal last week by Dwight Eisenhower that $7,000,000,000 be expended by the federal government for "emergency" school construction is further evidence that expansion of the central government is to go on, and on, and on.

It is bad enough that government schools and compulsory attendance has been foisted upon the American public at the state, county and district level, but let the federal government stretch its tentacles into the field and the classrooms of America will become incubators for unadmitted national socialism that will lead us down the road the Germans under Hitler, the Italians under Mussolini and the Russians under the communists have already trod to the sorrow of the citizens.

We hold that no school should be tax-supported, that no member of a free society should be compelled willy-nilly to attend school and we have pointed out on numerous occasions the basic error of the government school system. But even those who disagree with us realize the grave menace of federal control and interference in the classroom, to any further degree than already exists.

There already is a trickle of federal funds in well nigh 300 projects moving from the national government to state and district school circles.

The federal government already dominates scores of fields which properly belong within the jurisdiction of the individual and of the separate states. It has moved into these fields through grants of money with strings, that eventually become chains, attached. Do you think the allocation of federal funds will be on any different basis?

We already have as much, and more, Big Government in these United States as we can afford. Yet this aged destroyer of men's freedom is not diminishing in stature in America.

Back in 1952 when the Republicans came to power, the halting of continual expansion of government was a clear-cut issue. The grand Old Party was the rallying point for millions of American citizens who, above everything else felt that this country should be a land of limited government and maximum individual liberty. These people have been boldly betrayed by the Eisenhower administration.

No one expected Big Government to disappear overnight. But it was important that there be a change in direction and philosophy. Yet it seems that in the din of rising production and soaring material comforts, the same issue of Big Government versus individual liberty has been drowned out. The fact that there is little organized dissent does not mean we are headed in the right direction. On the contrary it appears that Eisenhower & Co. are determined to puff the balloon even larger.

It is not the school subsidy proposal alone that bears witness to the developments. There has been plenty of other evidence including the President's earlier message to the new Congress.

As Henry Hazlitt wrote recently in Newsweek, "He outlined a $101,000,000,000 ten-year highway modernization program. He asked for more public works programs; special aid to low income farm families; more loans of the taxpayers' money to small business; still more government-subsidized housing; a federal health re-insurance program. He asked Congress to raise the federal minimum wage from 75 cents an hour and to expand its coverage."

These proposals lead in only one direction — greater dependence upon government and less freedom for the individual. We are moving toward the day when it will be impossible — after taxes — to provide for our own individual security. We will be compelled to lean on government whether we like it or not. We will then cease to be free either economically or politically. Is this what the American people really want? Or more important, do we want to pass this condition of servitude along to our children?

THE NATION'S PRESS

THE POWER TO TAX IS THE POWER TO DESTROY

(Free Men Speak)
By Col. Buford H. J. Bal...

Every nation on earth that has grown to prominence and then perished, has been destroyed largely by reason of oppressive taxes and taxing procedures. This has been true of so many once great nations that today are only memories in the books of history: Babylon, Persia, Carthage and the Roman Empire.

The fact is, that our brave and noble experiment in human freedom, begun by our founding fathers against the tyranny of George III, began its decline with the enactment into law of the Sixteenth Amendment (Income Tax) to our Federal Constitution.

Our forefathers threw off the British yoke because of many accumulated grievances, not the least of which was, that they pay a few pennies by way of revenue stamps on legal documents. At his greatest point of strength George III would never have considered taxing the American colonies on their incomes, let alone in amounts that would destroy all initiative. Yet the American people themselves, by the Sixteenth Amendment, have made all the income of all the people subject to unquestioned levy at the whim of the government of the moment.

If America is to survive, the Sixteenth Amendment to our Constitution must be replaced or surrounded with drastic restrictions. Those who contend that restricting income taxes to 25 per cent of income would "only help the rich man" simply do not understand the problem. The people can be strong and happy only in a free society that can free itself from the power of the state.

"Freedom Works Both Ways"

This column has been talking about peace for the last few days. Since it has contended that peace and liberty or freedom are the same thing, I want to quote an editorial that appeared in the February issue of The Freeman magazine, written by Dan Russell, while Frank Chodorov, the regular editor, was ill.

From here on Dean Russell is speaking in The Freeman magazine.

"Everybody says he's in favor of freedom. Even the Soviet leaders claim to be fighting for freedom. So did Hitler. Our own leaders are also for freedom. So was my slave-owning grandfather.

"But my grandfather failed to understand the fact that freedom is a mutual relationship; that it works both ways. He thought that he himself remained completely free even though he restricted the freedom of others. He never grasped the obvious fact that his participation in slavery controlled him and his actions just as it controlled his slaves and their actions. Both my grandfather and his slaves would have been richer—materially as well as spiritually—if he had freed his slaves, offered them the competitive market wage for their services, and left them totally responsible for their own actions and welfare. But like most of us today, he continued to believe that some persons—without injury to themselves—can legally force other persons to conform to their wishes and plans. He learned the hard way.

"Hitler and Stalin were also victims of the systems they created and enforced. Their 'blood tasters,' bullet-proof cars, personal bodyguards and constant fears of assassination were the visible evidence of a part of the freedom they lost when they decided to force peaceful persons to conform to their wills and viewpoints. Knowingly or unknowingly, they lost a great deal of their own freedom when they deprived others of their freedom. That's the way it always works.

"Apparently, our own political leaders, regardless of party, are also unaware that freedom is a mutual relationship among persons; that it works both ways. Like my grandfather, they are under the delusion that freedom is something which one person can take from another with no effect on the freedom of the person doing the taking—especially if it's legal. If they thought otherwise, they would stop most of the things they are now doing. In the good name of freedom, our leaders now force others to conform to their viewpoints and prejudices on housing, savings and retirement, military service, electricity production, hours of work, wages, education and a host of other items which form the major part of every person's daily life. All of these are restrictions against freedom because they are enforced against peaceful persons who would not participate voluntarily.

"The freedom of the American people—like the freedom of legal slaves—is lost to whatever extent they are forced to conform to the ideas, whims and viewpoints of others. That is all that slavery is. And the fact that the current restrictions and compulsions are legal doesn't deny that they are acts against freedom: the slavery of 1860 was also legal!

"As long as our officials continue to deprive peaceful persons of their right to use their time and earnings as they please, the officials will continue to lose a part of their own freedom along with the rest of us. As long as they continue to believe that freedom permits or obligates them to force their ideas upon peaceful persons who do not wish to participate, the system they have created enslaves them also. They obviously don't understand it, but they are somewhat like the man sitting on the chest of a person he has pinioned to the ground; as long as he sits there, he restricts his own freedom about as much as he restricts the freedom of his victim.

"The officials who endorse and defend this system of legalized compulsions and prohibition against peaceful persons are compelled to spend most of their time discussing ways and means—such as propaganda, secrecy, guile, deceit, laws, policemen, courts, jails, fines and so on—to force the rest of us to conform to their ideas and plans which we would reject if we were permitted a real choice in the matter. As long as they continue to enforce this mutually degrading process, they restrict and destroy the potentialities they have within themselves for advancement toward human understanding and some worth—while ideal or goal. Sooner, or later, the restrictions and compulsions they enforce against others will culminate in one type of an upheaval by an aroused and angry society which the officials can no longer control. Acts against human freedom, if they are to have any effect, must be properly used to stop—instead of to support—the persons who attempt to force their ideas upon peaceful persons who would not subscribe to them voluntarily.

When that happens, we will enjoy as much peace and prosperity as it is possible for us to have on earth."

U. S. Government Doesn't Insure $10,000 Deposits

By THURMAN SENSING

One bit of misinformation that is quite prevalent among us — and should be straightened out — is the general belief that the Federal Government insures bank deposits up to $10,000. It is doubtful that one person out of one thousand is aware that this is not so.

Actually, bank deposits up to $10,000 each are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This corporation was created by an Act of Congress, and originally the stock was subscribed by the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Bank.

At the end of 1954, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation had net assets of about $1.6 billion, practically all of which was invested in United States Government bonds. This is the entire security back of all insured bank deposits in the country, except that in time of stress the law does provide the privilege of calling upon the Treasury for a loan of $3 billion.

Generally speaking, this should be ample security. It has certainly been more than enough since the Corporation was organized in 1933. In the twenty years since then, the Corporation has disbursed approximately $280 million to protect depositors of 422 financially distressed banks, a large part of which has been recovered. The assets of the Corporation have steadily grown until they now amount to the above mentioned figure of $1.6 billion.

Nevertheless, the fact should be faced that if we had another depression like the one of the early 1930's, the assets of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation would not begin to be sufficient to protect all the insured deposits. During the four year period, 1930-33, approximately 9,000 banks failed with deposits totaling about $7 billion. The total deposits in all the banks of the country during those years averaged about $50 billion. In other words, about one-seventh of the bank deposits of the country were in failed banks.

At the end of 1954, total deposits in the banks of the country amounted to approximately $200 billion. Failure of banks with one seventh of these deposits now would mean deposit insurance would have to cover about $28 billion in deposits for them to be fully insured. Compare this with the surplus of $1.6 billion now in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or even with total assets of $4.6 billion.

Lawrence also reminds us that Soviet concentration camps contain some 13,000,000 persons, most of whom must have relatives back home somewhere who would do almost anything to liberate them. Other millions of Soviet citizens have been murdered by their Communist rulers, and these dead must also have relatives who remember, and who would eagerly seize any chance for revenge.

Moreover, beyond Russia's borders, live over 100,000,000 more people in the satellite countries of Eastern Europe, who have seen their nations as well as themselves — enslaved, and for whom the hope of regaining freedom must be their most passionate prayer. East Berlin, as well as the stories of escaped refugees, both emphasize and bolster the Lawrence conviction that all these millions batters, despise their Soviet masters.

The recent shift in command, whatever else it may mean, certainly reveals that things are not going well behind the Iron Curtain. Dictators don't just "resign" or "retire" or "step down" for fun. A change like this one has to be from weakness, and, as David Lawrence points out, this is something the Western World should take advantage of — and capitalize on. How?

Lawrence would have us encourage the revolution of all these slaves against their master — a revolution which he feels history proves is inevitable. He would have the West offer friendship and food and economic aid to all these oppressed people, with but one condition attached — the condition that they establish free governments of their own choosing — in order to remove the fear of war from the world!

Churchill's Eloquency Sorrowful Admission

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The most important turn in the cold war has been the recent disappearance of the inferiority complex toward Russia that has existed since World War II. As usual, Winston Churchill spoke to the heart of the matter with the simple statement that, "The Russians are not eight feet tall!"

Outside military and diplomatic quarters, the extent of postwar deference to Russia's supposed military might is not generally appreciated. It was darkly reminiscent of the days when the western powers bowed to Hitler, Mussolini and the Japanese war lords in several crises lest opposition would provoke global war. It was responsible for our cautious policies in China, Korea, the Balkans and the Middle East. We did not want to stand up to the Communists lest they retaliate with armed aggression.

It was, in retrospect, necessary to exercise restraint in those years. The Allies had disbanded and reduced their forces, whereas Moscow expanded at home and in her satellite empire. Truman had cut the military budget to $15 billion. The economy of our European Allies was shattered. The more civilized peoples and politicians had no heart for military adventures, even of a defensive nature.

It was acknowledged by Pentagon experts that the Red Army could sweep to the English Channel and the Mediterranean within three to six weeks. Without any opposition save meaningless notes, the Kremlin violated every post-war treaty, thereby acquiring control of Central Europe, the Balkans, North Korea and through Mao Tse-tung's proxy rule all China.

The reasons for our new and more realistic attitude are numerous and solidly based. We have ringed Russia with naval and air bases from Norway to Japan with only growth from the Moscow bear. Our five-to-one lead in atom and hydrogen bombs, as well as in guided missiles, neutralizes her superiority in ground troops and conventional arms. The Allies' air and naval forces excel those of the Reds, quantitatively on the water, qualitatively in the skies.

Our Buck Rogers weapons deprive Russia of her historic asset in warfare — namely, her vast expanse of territory. She withstood Napoleon's and Hitler's invasions only by resorting to strategic withdrawals and a scorched earth policy. The enemies' extended supply lines were their undoing. But in an atomic conflict, enemy airplanes ranging deep into Russia's industrial areas will do the scorching. There will be no insurmountable logistical difficulties.

The Soviet's inner turmoil — political, economic, industrial, agricultural — is another factor for western confidence. Politburo officials, the newspapers and trade magazines report regularly of breakdowns and deficiencies in the factories and mines, on the farms and railroads. There is a shortage of everything essential for supporting a prolonged struggle. The Soviet military shield has basic, inner weaknesses.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Several years ago the late Dr. C. Anderson Aldrich and Mrs. Aldrich wrote a book called "Babies Are Human Beings," which has recently come out in a new edition.

The main theme is that babies should not all be treated alike because if they were their individual personalities would have a little chance to develop.

PRACTICALLY NOTHING is so bound up with tradition and prejudice as the care of babies. Anyone and everyone offers free advice on how the baby should be fed, clothed, and how it should be trained. True, this advice is given with the best of intentions, but usually it results from a strange mixture of what grandmother did, what I did, or what somebody's aunt said.

AMONG OTHER important aspects of child care, the Aldriches discuss fondling or loving of babies. Conscientious mothers often ask whether fondling is proper. For some reason they sometimes feel that it may be wrong for babies to be rocked, hugged or mothered, and that the infant in order to be healthy must be raised as practically "untouched by human hands."

Everyone thrives on some affection and probably infants most of all. Of course, it is good to fondle babies—good for the baby and good for the parents. This does not mean using dangerous roughness or giving the child an infection, like a cold.

IT IS NOT GOOD, of course, for a baby to have indiscriminate fondling by friends and relatives. Like everything else, this matter can be overdone. The more people who come in close contact with the baby the greater the chance of giving the infant some infection.

Common sense—which is all too uncommon — should be the attitude to take toward infants. Dr. and Mrs. Aldrich rendered a great service when they wrote this book based on their professional and personal experience.

U. S. Government Doesn't Insure $10,000 Deposits

By THURMAN SENSING

One bit of misinformation that is quite prevalent among us — and should be straightened out — is the general belief that the Federal Government insures bank deposits up to $10,000. It is doubtful that one person out of one thousand is aware that this is not so.

Actually, bank deposits up to $10,000 each are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. This corporation was created by an Act of Congress, and originally the stock was subscribed by the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Bank.

At the end of 1954, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation had net assets of about $1.6 billion, practically all of which was invested in United States Government bonds. This is the entire security back of all insured bank deposits in the country, except that in time of stress the law does provide the privilege of calling upon the Treasury for a loan of $3 billion.

Generally speaking, this should be ample security. It has certainly been more than enough since the Corporation was organized in 1933. In the twenty years since then, the Corporation has disbursed approximately $280 million to protect depositors of 422 financially distressed banks, a large part of which has been recovered. The assets of the Corporation have steadily grown until they now amount to the above mentioned figure of $1.6 billion.

Nevertheless, the fact should be faced that if we had another depression like the one of the early 1930's, the assets of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation would not begin to be sufficient to protect all the insured deposits. During the four year period, 1930-33, approximately 9,000 banks failed with deposits totaling about $7 billion. The total deposits in all the banks of the country during those years averaged about $50 billion. In other words, about one-seventh of the bank deposits of the country were in failed banks.

At the end of 1954, total deposits in the banks of the country amounted to approximately $200 billion. Failure of banks with one seventh of these deposits now would mean deposit insurance would have to cover about $28 billion in deposits for them to be fully insured. Compare this with the surplus of $1.6 billion now in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, or even with total assets of $4.6 billion.

Lawrence also reminds us that Soviet concentration camps contain some 13,000,000 persons, most of whom must have relatives back home somewhere who would do almost anything to liberate them. Other millions of Soviet citizens have been murdered by their Communist rulers, and these dead must also have relatives who remember, and who would eagerly seize any chance for revenge.

Moreover, beyond Russia's borders, live over 100,000,000 more people in the satellite countries of Eastern Europe, who have seen their nations as well as themselves — enslaved, and for whom the hope of regaining freedom must be their most passionate prayer. East Berlin, as well as the stories of escaped refugees, both emphasize and bolster the Lawrence conviction that all these millions batters, despise their Soviet masters.

The recent shift in command, whatever else it may mean, certainly reveals that things are not going well behind the Iron Curtain. Dictators don't just "resign" or "retire" or "step down" for fun. A change like this one has to be from weakness, and, as David Lawrence points out, this is something the Western World should take advantage of — and capitalize on. How?

Lawrence would have us encourage the revolution of all these slaves against their master — a revolution which he feels history proves is inevitable. He would have the West offer friendship and food and economic aid to all these oppressed people, with but one condition attached — the condition that they establish free governments of their own choosing — in order to remove the fear of war from the world!

'LOCKED OUT'

President Eisenhower was temporarily "locked out" of the White House last week when he walked into Rose Garden to greet a group of foreign students. When he tried to re-enter, he found door locked. Shown surrounded by White House staff, the President is pressing buzzer for admittance.

Sheffield Free On $60,000 Bond

AUSTIN —UP—B. R. Sheffield, named in 20 veterans land transaction indictments and the object of a five-day search, was free on $60,000 bond Friday.

The Cadillac-driving Brady land dealer was arrested north of Gainesville Thursday, escorted to Austin by state police and held in "jail" three hours and 15 minutes before his bond difficulties were worked out.

Sheffield remained in the sixth-floor penthouse jail atop the Travis county courthouse when brother E. W. Sheffield, who spells his name differently, and Brady car dealer Norman Lawler could not get property bonds accepted immediately as surety. Lawler flew his private plane to Brady to get the McCulloch county sheriff to certify he owned the property.

Sheffield was indicted jointly with former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles last weekend on a charge of plotting to steal $83,500 from the Veterans Land Board.

Giles posted a bond Thursday, this time $50,000 in San Antonio on a charge he accepted bribes from two San Antonio men in connection with a veterans land deal. He previously posted $60,000 bond in connection with the Travis county indictment that named him as a conspirator with Sheffield.

Sheffield, accompanied by his wife, daughter and son-in-law, dashed away from the court house in Austin late Thursday night. Mrs. Sheffield said they were in a hurry to get something to eat.

"All they do in Travis county is hunt you, they don't feed you," she told newsmen with a smile.

Object of Search
Sheffield had been the object of a five-day search since his indictment. His attorney, Hal S. Lattimore of Fort Worth, maintained that Sheffield was out of the state. They were together Thursday when Sheffield was arrested near Gainesville, apparently only a short time after he entered Texas.

Giles, who was fingerprinted and posed for a mug-shot in San Antonio Thursday, said he "welcomed the opportunity to make my defense in court."

Those indicted by the Bexar county grand jury with Giles were C. V. Wynn and Arthur McKenzie, charged with giving $30,000 in bribes to the former commissioner to influence sale of veterans land under the state program. Their bond was $2,500 each.

A civil suit was filed by Attorney General John Ben Shepperd against Giles Thursday in 53rd District Court. It was for recovery of $35,000 Giles allegedly received illegally from Wynn.

CHICAGO —UP—Radio and television announcer Bill O'Connor was left speechless Thursday when thieves broke into his station wagon and stole $263 worth of sound equipment.

San Antonio To Be Site Of Maneuvers

SAN ANTONIO —UP—The Medical Field Service school here is making plans for one of the largest logistical maneuvers in peacetime army history, it was announced Friday.

The maneuver, known as LOGEX-55, will be held at Fort Lee, Va., May 2-7, but the plans are being drafted here, a task that began last July.

The planning staff is composed of the Army's technical and administrative schools. Brig. Gen. James P. Cooney, commander of the Medical Field Service school, has been named maneuver director.

More than 5,000 student officers, observers, umpires and enlisted personnel will participate in the six-day support maneuver at Fort Lee.

LOGEX will be used for the first time this year as a vehicle to test a proposed new set of logistical concepts developed by the First Logistical Command, Fort Bragg, N. C., at the direction of the Continental Army Command, Fort Monroe, Va.

The exercise represents the first test of one of the various proposals to revise army logistic procedures in the field.

Why wouldn't you want your two to stop dreaming about earning your own big money—? I take a hoo to the store!
