Russia Will Attend Big Four Conference

Russia, 7 Nations Sign 20-Year Pact

WARSAW, Poland, May 14 — UP — Russia and seven East European nations Saturday signed a 20-year military-political treaty creating a giant unified army. They named Soviet Marshal Ivan Koniiev as supreme commander. Koniiev, Soviet deputy defense minister under Marshal G. K. Zhukov, will make his supreme headquarters in Moscow.

Peng Teh Hui, Communist Chinese defense minister attending as an observer, hailed the signing of the treaty and pledged his nation's support of the new alliance, designed to counteract the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization and West German rearmament.

Others Sign Treaty

Aside from the Soviet Union, nations signing the treaty were Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, East Germany, Poland, Rumania and Czechoslovakia.

Giant Crowd On Hand For The Circus

A capacity crowd at Recreation Park Saturday night saw Scouts from all over the Top o' Texas go through their paces in Pampa's first council-wide Boy Scout Circus. The affair, put on by the Adobe Walls Council, was a huge success.

Well-informed foreign and Yugoslav sources said that Yugoslavia will not join the East European Communist bloc or ditch its Western friends at the urging of the Russian.

But, the sources said, the Belgrade conference later this month will hinge on how far the Russian leader will go to help the Yugoslavs solve the problems of President Tito and his government.

The Yugoslavs cannot possibly offer enough to persuade the hard-headed Yugoslavs to resume the "satellite" status they escaped from in 1948, it appeared.

The Yugoslavs, all sources agreed, will be in an extremely strong bargaining position and will take full advantage of it. They will be fully conscious of their own value to the Soviet Union as underlined by the willingness of Moscow to send practically all its top leaders outside the Iron Curtain to a country that only two years ago was regarded as an "enemy."

President Tito's government formally has assured the Western powers and its Balkan alliance partners that the meeting with the Russians does not mean any change in the "cordial and good" relations existing with the West.

Diplomatic sources said the ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France, Greece and Turkey were called to the foreign office Friday and informed of the plan for the meeting with the Russians.

'Kid-Gloves' Killed Scribe

SINGAPORE, May 14 — UP — A government report said Saturday that police at a nearby roadblock in a passing patrol car had other emergency duties and were unable to aid United Press Correspondent Gene Symonds when he was fatally beaten by rioters Thursday.

The Chinese-owned Singapore Standard said that Symonds, UP manager for Southeast Asia, met his death because Singapore police were "ordered to take kid-glove methods to deal with a blood-thirsty mob."

Armed British Hussar, Royal Air Force patrolmen and Gurkha troops patrolled the city of Singapore Saturday to prevent further riots by strikers and Chinese students. The rioters have caused the deaths of four persons, including Symonds, since Thursday.

The government statement said that Symonds passed through two roadblocks on the way to a riot scene Thursday night and told police he would take "full responsibility."

The nearest roadblock to the scene of the attack on Symonds was about 330 yards, the government statement said. Police on the roadblock were ordered to maintain the position and could not leave their posts. A radio car passed Symonds after the attack on its way to another riot and called urgently for an ambulance.

However, Symonds was picked up by a police van and taken to the hospital before the ambulance arrived. The newsman died Friday morning of multiple injuries, including a fractured skull and a broken left arm and leg. The mob beat him with clubs, bottles and stones, witnesses told police.

U.S. Plan On Polio Coming Announced Tomorrow

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL

WASHINGTON, May 14 — UP — The government's long-awaited voluntary plan for assuring fair distribution of Salk polio vaccine will be made public Monday, the White House announced Saturday.

The disclosure came as federal experts predicted rapid clearance of millions of Salk shots now that 1 million doses of Parke-Davis vaccine have been released for immediate inoculations.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, will submit the vaccine control blueprint to President Eisenhower early Monday. The White House said it will be made public about two hours later.

The plan, which Mrs. Hobby's aides began formulating a month ago, is understood to assign top priority on available vaccine supplies to children from five through nine years. These are the youngsters most susceptible to polio.

The control system also is expected to call for the allocation of vaccine to states on the basis of the number of children in this age group, what is needed for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and the requirements of state and locally financed programs.

Meanwhile, the administration's handling of the whole vaccine problem came in for a heavy drubbing from Democrats and a round of praise from Republicans.

Archer Dies In Car Crash

An accident in the north part of Hutchinson County was fatal to one, Hutchinson County Sheriff Hugh Anderson reported Saturday night.

Oscar Archer, Spearman rancher, was dead as the result of a collision Saturday night at the intersection of Highway 15 and Farm-to-Market road 281, 14 miles south of Spearman, Anderson said.

Archer's car, a 1955 Chevrolet, collided with a pickup driven by Robert Owenby, who lives north east of Stinnett, as he was driving toward Spearman, the sheriff reported. Owenby suffered minor injuries but was not hospitalized.

Butler Charges Plan 'Manhandling'

WASHINGTON, May 14 — UP — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler charged Saturday the administration has "manhandled" the program for Salk polio vaccine. He was promptly assailed for "playing politics with a desperately serious situation."

Butler made his statement in a speech before a Democratic group in Cleveland. He coupled it with a general blast against the administration's health, welfare and other programs.

Digs His 'Pen-Pal'

APPLETON, Wis., May 14 — UP — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said Saturday night that President Eisenhower has done nothing to free American servicemen held by Chinese Communists "except trying to soft-soap a Communist thug... General Zhukov, his Moscow 'pen-pal'."

The Wisconsin Republican, in a speech prepared for his hometown post of the Catholic War Veterans, said "our government lacks the moral qualities of honesty and courage." He said American history does not contain "a more shameful episode than the refusal of the current administration to secure the freedom of our Korean prisoners of war."

McCarthy said the administration has attempted to create two false impressions—that only 11 or perhaps 12 American servicemen are held by the Chinese Reds, and that it first learned of this last November when Communist China announced it would try U. S. airmen as spies.

But McCarthy said, there are "41 American uniformed men left in Communist prisons" and the administration "has known about them nearly two years."

Molotov Delivers Message To West

VIENNA, Sunday, May 15 — UP — Russia has accepted an invitation from the West for a conference between President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure, it was announced officially Sunday.

Russia's acceptance of the invitation for the conference "at the summit" was delivered by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at a meeting with U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the foreign ministers of Britain and France Saturday night.

A Soviet note on the subject will be dispatched to the capitals of the western Big Three soon, the announcement said.

Dulles Talks To Nation Tuesday Night

By DONALD J. GONZALES
WASHINGTON, May 14 — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will deliver a major report to the nation Tuesday night on the strides made toward peace during his conferences in Europe with Allied and Russian diplomats, it was announced Saturday.

Dulles will make the televised broadcast from President Eisenhower's circular-shaped White House office—the first ever made from there. He will be introduced by the President.

The report will be delivered over the four major TV networks from 5 to 5:30 p. m. est. It will be transcribed for use over the four radio networks later in the evening.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, and other top presidential aides will be present during the telecast.

Dulles is known to attach the greatest importance to his meetings in Paris and Vienna. He reached Allied agreement with Britain and France to invite Russia to a heads-of-government meeting.

He also attended North Atlantic Treaty meetings which welcomed West Germany into the alliance against Communism, reached a new understanding with France on policy in troubled Viet Nam, and crowned his trip by going on to Vienna to sign an Austrian treaty.

In his address, Dulles will list these major developments as highly important to world peace. However, the actual answer to world peace hopes will be put up to Russia to make good on its avowed willingness to end the cold war.

Atomic Energy May Fix Up Texas Soil

RENNER, Tex., May 14 — UP — The Texas Research Foundation has put atomic energy to work in an experiment to try to improve soil.

Dr. W. Derby Laws, chairman of the foundation's soil science department, said Saturday the objective is more productive and profitable agriculture for southwestern soils.

"Hot phosphorus in the form of 21 per cent radio-active superphosphate is being used in a series of fertilizer tests to determine the rates and the manner in which phosphorus can be applied to the soil for the best crop returns," Laws said.

New Eagles Tomorrow

Three 14-year-old Boy Scouts of Troop 14, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, will become Eagle Scouts at a troop court-of-honor tomorrow night.

They are Richard Newberry, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Newberry, 1308 N. Starkweather; Robert Sidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sidwell, 1344 Williston; and Dick Elkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Elkins, 1312 Terrace.

Each of the trio entered Scouting about the same time. Garvin Elkins, Scoutmaster, pointed out Saturday night, a fourth Scout, Freddy Neslage, entered the same time, too. But he beat out his buddies—he became an Eagle about a month ago.

The troop court-of-honor will begin at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow and all parents and troop committee members are urged to attend. Elkins continued, Harry McWaters, former troop Scoutmaster, will make the presentations to the Eagles and Fred Neslage will be the director.

Several other awards will also be given. Elkins' assistants are Wade Gilbert and Bill Getting.

French Seal Off Saigon

By LOUIS GUILBERT
SAIGON, Indo-China, May 14 — UP — French troops sealed off Saigon's European sector Saturday and warned its residents to stay indoors during anti-colonial demonstrations called off Sunday by South Viet Nam's revolutionary junta.

Gen. Paul Ely, commander of the French Expeditionary Corps, ordered his 40,000 battle-tested troops to smash any attempt at anti-European violence during the demonstration. The French force will be backed by 400 tanks and armored cars. Blaring sound trucks circulated through Saigon and the suburb of Cholon calling on the capital's 2 million residents to converge on the market place at 9 a. m. Sunday.

They asked the population to demonstrate its "hatred of the colonialists" and of absentee chief of state Bao Dai, who is living on the French Riviera.

The sound trucks bore insignia showing they had been provided under U. S. aid funds.

The revolutionary committee, which supports Premier Ngo Dinh Diem, said in a communique it would punish anyone trying to harm white residents. But French authorities took extraordinary precautions against any violence.

They virtually quarantined the European section where 15,000 members of the French Community live with several hundred other Europeans and some Americans.

Premier Diem, meanwhile, received President Eisenhower's special envoy, Gen. J. Lawton Collins, in a farewell audience.

Canadian Boy In Washington

CANADIAN — John Deavenport Glenn, Jr., spelling champion of the "Golden Spread," is engaged in a week of work and play in Washington, D. C.

Glenn left this week on a trip with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn, and his aunt, all of Canadian, to the nation's capital, where he will participate in the National Spelling Bee this Thursday.

He won the trip by outspelling 89 other county champions at the annual Amarillo Globe-News Spelling Bee in Amarillo in March.

The spelling bee means work for John in Washington. But the remainder of Bee Week, Monday through Friday, will be filled with sightseeing trips and other pleasurable plans.

He is staying at the Willard Hotel, Bee Headquarters for 65 other state and regional champions. Besides trips through Washington and visits to the capital where he will see Congress in session, he will be taken to historic Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, and to Annapolis where he will see a dress parade of the U. S. Naval Academy midshipmen.

The trip to Mount Vernon will be made by boat down the Potomac. A big banquet on Friday night will close the week's activities.

Negro Leader Gives $200,000

DALLAS, May 14 — UP — Mrs. Pearl C. Anderson, a Negro leader and philanthropist, gave the Dallas county Community Chest Trust Fund four, two-story buildings, a parking lot and three garages worth more than $200,000 Saturday.

The property is in downtown Dallas, half a block from the new Statler-Hilton hotel. The property will be administered by the trust and the net profit will go to Mrs. Anderson as long as she lives.

When she dies, profits from the property will be known as the Pearl C. Anderson Fund in the Trust. In giving the property to the Trust Fund, Mrs. Anderson told how she preferred that profits from the property be used, but did not make it a condition.

Wolfson Bats .333

CHICAGO, May 14 — UP — Financier Louis E. Wolfson Saturday won three seats on the nine-man Montgomery Ward & Co. board of directors in one of the biggest proxy fights in corporate history.

The final outcome was announced Saturday after both the Wolfson forces and the incumbent slate had been given an opportunity to recumulate votes cast at the annual stockholders' meeting last April 22.

Wolfson conceded that he would fall to win outright control of the big mail order firm. But financial sources credited his campaign with forcing 82-year-old Sewell Avery to step down as chairman of the board earlier this week.

Avery, however, will remain as a director. He led the incumbent slate with 6,087,662 votes.

EGG, BREAD AND NO FLOOR SHOW - SIX BITS

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 14 — UP — Paul Hemp, 50, a Rochester farmer, said Saturday he paid 75 cents for an egg sandwich in Dayton, Ohio, Thursday at a time when farmers were selling eggs for 29 cents a dozen.

He bought the sandwich at the airport restaurant in Dayton while waiting for a plane to Rochester. He ate at the counter and hung his hat on his knee as he gobbled the sandwich, he said.

When the check for 75 cents came, he couldn't believe it. He told the waitress there must have been a mistake. She referred him to the cashier, who referred him to the manager.

The manager told him that was right—75 cents.

"We sell eggs for 29 cents a dozen," Hemp protested.

But the manager pointed out he also had bread with the egg.

"Well, I suppose the bread did shoot the price way up there," Hemp said afterward. "But it looks like a fellow should get a floor show or something for a price like that."

Hemp said he's going to frame the check.

Amarillo AFB Plans AF Day

AMARILLO AIR FORCE BASE—Plans for one of the biggest Armed Forces Day celebration and open house ceremonies ever seen in the Panhandle area are being shaped at Amarillo Air Force Base, according to a recent announcement made by Brigadier General Walter R. Agee, base commander.

Col. William L. Todd, AF Day project officer, said that open house would be held Saturday afternoon from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m., and from 10:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Sunday, May 22. The doors of the Air Base will be opened to the public on these days, and visitors are welcomed to the jet airplane training center on these dates.

At 3:00 p.m. Saturday, there will be a massive review of Air Force, Navy and Marine reserves and National Guard troops, with the USAF Band, Drum and Bugle Corps, and a Color Guard representative of the parade services.

Following the review, a guest speaker, as yet unnamed, will speak on general Armed Forces Day topics, concentrating on the 1955 AFD theme, "Power for Peace."

Visitors will see on display late model jet fighters and bombers, various types of conventional propeller driven aircraft and Air Force equipment in the way of armament, radar, communications and cut-away models of jet engines. Overhead, a demonstration of precision formation flying and aerial maneuvers will be seen.

During the week-end Armed Forces Day open house, visitors will be guided on tours of food-service facilities and dining halls, service club, hobby shops, athletic facilities and the MARS radio station. A snack-bar on the flight-line will be open on both days, and ice-cream and soft drinks will be available at refreshment stands along the hangar lines.

Amarillo Air Force Base has entrances from both Highway 60 and 66, and lies nine miles northeast of the city of Amarillo.

One Of The Bruces Lives Under A Sofa

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

A new member of the Bruce family has shown a snobbishness which in certain circles might not be tolerated.

Shackelford has exhibited an exclusiveness which has found him secluding himself for three and a half months. Only recently, he decided to share his household's company after an extended session at monasticism which would have tried even the strongest of mortals.

But recently this member of the chipmunk family decided to show up for breakfast at the Bruce home, southeast of the city, after his winter hibernation, and much to the joy of his mistress, Sally, a 17-year-old junior at the Pampa High School.

Shackelford, the little man, vest-size in fact, with the big appellation, "came out," almost as a young society girl, with certain reservations. During a period of six weeks this spring following hibernation, his appearance was made at the Bruce residence for no more than an hour a day from his abode in the bottom of the divan in living room. But almost as soon after his appearance in the great wide world, he would descend into the comfort of his happy stomping ground.

Active Vegetarian
Shackelford has decided to remain out of the lower extremities of the divan for the duration of the summer, and like any prima donna, he has since dominated the doings of the Bruce household.

Vegetarian that he is, Shackelford keeps to a steady diet which smacks considerably more in diversity than most cafeteria's. Nuts, brown sugar, ice cream, roasted corn, apples, pecans, and almost anything from the table exclusive of meats, whet the appetite of the ground squirrel.

Sally says he has an appetite which is almost exclusively Texan, and foreign plants "such as Momma's African Violets seem to make the little rascal break out with the hives."

Fortunately so, because there would be little left of the Bruce's delightful garden.

Stored Food
Before secluding himself off from the family in the winter of 1954, the little tyke made extreme in the bottom of the divan over a pound of shelled pecans, peanuts and raw oatmeal. Mrs. Bruce said she tried to pass off some salted nuts on the "little gourmet" but it was "nix" so far as he was concerned.

The family would open up the divan from time to time to observe "Shack's" condition, but he was completely oblivious to their concern, not even moving a muscle.

Sally said he was so cold that you would hardly think he was alive during his period of hibernation. "The heartbeat of a chipmunk gets so slow during this time that they are nearer death than any other living creature. He was actually rolled up like a little ball, and was completely immune to all solicitations in his behalf."

Lots of Wildlife
Sally, the curator of the Bruce menagerie, has had her experiences with a diverse collection of wild life. Mrs. Bruce readily attests to the facts presented.

At the same time she picked-up Shackelford, visiting relatives near Durango, Colo., last year, Sally picked up another ward in the same family, "Herkimer," a chipmunk, with considerably less temperament than his buddy. Herkimer came to a somewhat tragic end when he was crushed to death after someone sat on him in the Bruce living room.

Sally's sorties into the field of unusual pet collecting had a year ago found her gathering sparrows from nests before they even have feathers and raising them with the parental love which mommas sparrows might envy. She had been unusually zealous in caring for her new found charges, milk feeding them every thirty minutes with an eye dropper, catching such delightful victuals as grasshoppers for their sensitive appetites, and getting up in the wee hours of the morning to gather worms when they are most plentiful. "I was so busy getting these choice items for the young sparrows," Sally said, "that I was more than ready for them to grow up and eat regular bird food."

Mischievous Tyke
Sally who intends to go to West Texas State at Canyon when she finishes high school has more than her hands filled with her charge, Shackelford, whose mischievousness makes him more of a problem than any of the foundlings she has mothered over the years.

Besides disturbing flower beds, teasing the family dog, a Pekinese whom Shack enjoys pulling the hair from (they are buddies though) and racing through his legs, the little "devil" takes joy in waking up all members of the family in the morning.

"He jumps all over you and then sits over to one side to see if his shenanigans have been effective," Sally said. "I wonder if my brother Jerry would ever get up if it weren't for Shack's endeavors." "We've gotten so used to all his mischief, nothing seems unusual anymore," Sally said with parental love. "He's like a little kid — gets into everything he knows he shouldn't be in, and when you reprimand him, he looks at you with utter disdain."

Sally's Lollypop
But despite his playfulness which often results in pandemonium Shackelford is often rewarded with a lollypop for the pleasure he brings the family, and he sucks it like a child.

And though he's well over a year old, Sally still treats him like a baby. He seems to like it. The proof is he won't take his milk except from a bottle, doll-sized, including a nipple.

Daddy, Thomas Bruce, looks on the whole Shackelford problem with reserve, and somewhat uncommittlingly. You seem to know that he's saying that if the family enjoys the "youngster" he'll go along with the majority opinion.

Cotton Prices Up Last Week

NEW YORK —UP— Cotton futures worked onto higher ground for the second week in a row scoring gains up to $1.25 a bale. At Friday's close, the general list ruled 21 to 25 points, or $1.08 to $1.25 a bale higher than the preceding week.

Factors generating the price-lifting power included: 1. Strength of the May contract before its expiration on Thursday. 2. Diminishing prospects for a U. S. subsidy on raw cotton exports next season. 3. Anticipated export sales to Korea, Spain and other countries. 4. An improved mill demand for spot cotton. 5. Backwardness of the new crop start, made more important this year because of the smaller acreage to be planted.

Prompt absorption of the May contract deliveries, credited largely to Southern mill accounts, made a strong impression on the trade and led some observers to believe the July delivery may follow a similar pattern, particularly if the anticipated export sales materialize.

Discussions on the chances for an export subsidy next season came back into the foreground. While the question remains to be decided by the secretary of agriculture, other reports out of Washington indicated lessening change for a subsidy.

Samuel C. Waugh, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, dashed cold water on the idea of a federal export subsidy for cotton.

Waugh did not flatly oppose the idea, but he warned that U. S. subsidies might result simply in foreign governments matching the action and thereby cancelling out "what he hoped to gain in introducing the subsidy."

Farmers Go To The Polls June 25

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN

WASHINGTON —UP— Farmers who grow 15 or more acres of wheat must decide June 25 in a national referendum whether marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1956 crop.

The crop must be grown on not more than 55 million acres, the national acreage minimum set by Congress.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson set the referendum date Friday. He could have set it for as late as July 25. Apparently the earlier date was chosen in order to give Congress time to consider the situation which would arise if marketing quotas are voted out.

Grow All They Want

Without federal quota control, farmers could grow as much wheat as their land would produce. And the wheat bins of the nation already are jam-packed with the important food grain.

Benson said the current estimates are that about 1,863,000,000 bushels of wheat will be available for the 1955-56 marketing year which begins July 1. He said this is enough wheat "to take care of all our domestic and export needs for two full years."

If two-thirds of those voting in the referendum approve marketing quotas, the growers in commercial wheat states who stay within the acreage allotted for their farms will be eligible for the full level of price support.

Those who do not comply with their allotments will not be eligible for price supports and will be subject to marketing penalties of 45 per cent of the parity price on wheat grown on their excess land.

stay within their acreage allotment.

However, with quotas voted out, those farmers who exceed their allotments can do so without being subject to quota penalties. There just wouldn't be any marketing quota. But in order to get even 50 per cent of parity, they've got to stay within the 55 million national acreage limit.

Under farm law, the present surplus situation requires that the secretary proclaim marketing quotas.

Top Herefords To Be Sold

One of the better known Hereford herds that had a marked influence in the improvement of better beef cattle throughout the Southwest will be dispersed this month.

F. D. Jones, owner of Jones Hereford Ranch, Rhame is selling his entire herd, consisting of 335 head of registered Herefords, on Friday and Saturday, at the ranch location 25 miles north of Fort Worth on U.S. Hwy. 81.

The Jones Herd has won many honors during the past 15 years at Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Amarillo, Shreveport, Albuquerque, and Kansas City. The past year his herd won grand champion bull, reserve champion female, as well as 23 first prizes and 22 second prizes at these top shows.

Included in the sale will be the Jones interest in M Zato Commander, the $50,000 bull in which Jones purchased an interest some time ago from J. P. McNatt, Greenville. All the cattle that have made the fine record for the Jones ranch will sell, as well as their sires and dams, all of which carry some of the best bloodlines of the Hereford breed.

WEEKLY LIVESTOCK ROUNDUP

FORT WORTH —UP— USDA— Livestock: Compared last Friday: Slaughter classes unevenly weak to 50 lower, stockers strong, trade slow and prices sharply lower first two days but activity picked up when receipts lightened and prices also improved. Monday's run largest in several months but rains were quite general and marketings dropped off later. About 40 per cent of the run comprised cows, rest mainly yearlings, rather thin, with fed steers and heifers in moderate supply. Week's tops: Slaughter steers 21-22-50, good 18-20, commercial 14-17. Good and choice heifers 16.50-21, utility and commercial 11-15. Commercial cows 12-12.75, utility 10-11.59, canners and cutters 6-10. Commercial bulls 13-13.50, cutter and utility bulls 9-13. Medium and good stockers and feeders 13-19, choice scarce. Medium stocker cows 9-10.

Calves: Compared last Friday: Slaughter calves unevenly weak to lower, stockers strong. Good and choice slaughter offerings 16-21, utility and commercial 10-14, culls 8-9. Medium and good stocker steer calves 13-19, choice 20-21, few to 22.

Sheep: Receipts show about 30 per cent drop from last week's record supply, about 40 per cent spring lambs and per cent old crop shorn lambs. Compared with late last week: Spring lambs steady to 50 higher, shorn slaughter lambs 15-1 lower, slaughter ewes and stocker spring lambs steady, shorn stocker and feeders 50 or more lower. Week's tops: spring lambs 21, shorn slaughter lambs 16, slaughter ewes 4, stocker spring lambs 14, mixed fat and feeder shorn lambs 13.50. Closing bulks: Good and choice spring lambs 20-21.50, utility and good spring lambs mixed 17.50-19.50, culls 11-15. Good and choice shorn slaughter lambs 13.50-15.50, cull and utility shorn slaughter lambs 8-12, few good shorn yearlings and two year old wethers 10, cull to good shorn slaughter ewes 3-4, stocker spring

WEEKLY GRAIN ROUNDUP

FORT WORTH —UP—USDA— Weekly grain: Milo jumped 9c per 100 pounds this week. Oats and barley went steady. Corn declined a half cent per bushel.

These were the net price changes at Southwest cash grain markets from May 6 through 13, reported to the Agricultural Marketing Service. They are based on wholesale carlots, Texas common freight rate points.

Milo went up every day this week, although demand was only fair. Since there is practically no milk in free hands, the supply is very tight for trading purposes. No. 2 yellow Milo closed Friday at $2.97 to $3.02 per 100 pounds, the highest since May 28, 1954.

Inventories of barley and oats are running low, so prices moved forward despite rather slow business. No. 2 white oat were quoted at 94c to 96c a bushel Friday and No. 2 barley at $1.44 to $1.47.

Cash wheat remained very firm, because stocks are just about depleted. However, demand remained light since most buyers are waiting for the new crop. Kansas City basis broke sharply May 12 in anticipation of the new crop. No. 1 hard wheat closed at $2.66 to $2.80 a bushel.

Offerings of corn were plentiful for the fair demand. No. 2 white corn closed Friday at $1.85 1/2 to $1.87 1/2 and No. 2 yellow at $1.81 to $1.82 per bushel.

Here's what happened to wheat at Oklahoma country elevators. Prices at some spots were up 1 to 3c above last Friday and closed like this: $2.25 at Guymon and Hooker; $2.28 at Oklahoma City, Vici, Yukon, Hobart, El Reno, Enid, Medford, Clinton and Blackwell; $2.29 at Alva, Hennessey and Kingfisher and $2.30 at Bison.

lams 12-14, medium and good shorn stocker and feeder lambs 10-12.

Hogs: Compared last Friday: Butchers 50 higher, Sows steady. Week's tops: Butchers 17.75, sows 13.50. Closing bulks: Choice 190-240 lbs. 17.75, choice 250-300 lbs. 16.50-17.50. Sows 10-13.50.

'Hopper Group In The Works

A poorly attended meeting Friday afternoon frustrated attempts to form a Gray County Grasshopper Association for grasshopper spraying.
But County Agent Ralph Thomas said that if more interest is shown "this week the association may still be formed. Farmers and ranchers are asked to contact Thomas immediately if they are interested.
"After the farmers and ranchers realize how serious the grasshopper problem may become," Thomas emphasized, "they may decide to spray. The hoppers are small now, but once they become more of a pest chances are the association will be formed."
Jim Maloney of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, plant pest control division, after giving an enlightening talk on the life cycle of grasshoppers, said it would not be economically feasible to do the spraying unless at least 20,000 acres of Gray County land were signed up under the program. He said the cost would be approximately 60 cents an acre with the government paying one-third the cost.
Thomas said that if we intend getting any spraying done it must be done by July 1, "because after that date it would not be nearly as effective as it would be earlier in the season."
It will take at least two weeks to let the contract, and two weeks for the spraying, Thomas said.
"If we want to accomplish anything in this proposed control program must begin immediately."

Two County Schools Close

Two county schools close this week for the academic year, according to B. R. Nuckols, county schools superintendent.
The Grandview School closes for the year Tuesday. The same evening three seventh grade seniors will participate in commencement exercises in the school auditorium. Graduating are Aimea Babcock, Duane Stamps and Eugene Weinheimer.
Hopkins School, which closes Friday, will hold its commencement exercises Wednesday evening. Fifteen seniors will go on a four-day trip Thursday to the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, Nuckols said.
The Hopkins School Monday will hold an all-day picnic at the Southern Production picnic grounds. Grandview will hold its annual picnic Thursday on the school grounds. Schools in Pampa close May 27, Nuckols said.

Methodist Men Meet

MOBETTIE - (Special) - Methodist Men's Organization met in regular session Wednesday evening with Rev. F. Eugene Matthews, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Earth, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Matthews, as the principal speaker speaking on the subject, "A Mighty Rock in A Weary Land."
More than 50 people enjoyed a family fellowship hour, with an informal covered dish dinner, prepared by the ladies. Those having birthdays during the month of May were recognized, with special mention to D. G. Sims, who was celebrating a birthday Wednesday.
Others recognized were Mrs. H. E. Matthews, Mrs. Allen J. O'Brien, Glynda Beck, Mrs. L. R. Reeves, and Mrs. Maggie Thompson.
Out-of-town visitors were Rev. and Mrs. Matthews and family and Mrs. Ona Pugh, Oakland, Calif., who is visiting a sister, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Williams, and brother Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Walker.

Pampa Makes House Organ

The City of Pampa was featured in the April issue of "Sonde Off," the monthly company publication of the Schlumberger Well Surveying Corporation of Houston, with offices here.
The six-page spread with 31 pictures surveyed the general economic picture of the city, depicting it as a community "where oil flows and wheat grows."
Schlumberger field office is a comparative newcomer to the Pampa scene, though the outfit has done work in the surrounding oil and gas field for many years. The Pampa location was opened in February, 1953.
The office handles the territory formerly served from Liberal, Kan., Elk City, Okla., and Lubbock, which includes the 25 counties of the Panhandle.
A staff of 28, headed by Location Manager W. O. Matejowsky, operates four surveying units and one perforating unit. The bulk of their work is in the Panhandle field.
Chamber of Commerce Manager Red Wedgworth said that the addition to the community of the Schlumberger location in 1953 has been an important factor in the general economy of the community.
"We certainly appreciate the fine story, and we were also glad to cooperate with company officials on the article."

Pampa Will Get Addition

The third and final reading of the proposed ordinance to make the Fraser Annex Addition No. 2 a part of the city of Pampa, will be read at the Tuesday meeting of the city commission, according to City Manager Fred Brook. The addition is located northeast of the city.
Brook said the engineering contract with Roberts and Merriman, Pampa, for a drainage survey on the Hobart St. Underpass is expected to be accepted by the commissioners.

C-O-C Working On Membership

The Chamber of Commerce is now busy setting up procedures and details for its annual members' ship roundup campaign which gets underway May 23.
Ninety per cent of the present 600 members of the C-O-C have already renewed their membership. Floyd Watson, president, said Saturday, all new concerns in the city will be contacted during the campaign.
Membership is expected to be increased during the coming year, Watson said.
"We have an ambitious program outlined for the coming year which will be of interest to the community. Every business and profession is invited to invest in the chamber's vital program."

One Hired, One To Go

Mrs. Loretta Ritter, 328 N. Nelson, will start work tomorrow in city police offices as a replacement for one of the two clerks who are resigning in the near future.
Mrs. Hazel Scherer and Mrs. Beth Walkup both notified Police Chief Jim Conner of their intentions to resign recently - both unaware of the other's plans to leave.
So Conner has been looking for replacements, and having come up with one will still be taking applications this week until the position is filled. Conner said that typing ability was essential for the job and that a knowledge of shorthand would be invaluable.

Parakeet Pete Is A 'Spoiled Child'

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

The "spoiled child" of the A. C. Braxton household is a cute, colorful and talkative 3-year-old named "Pete."

And he's got a vocabulary estimated at 400 words!

Learning his "A-B-C's," however, has not kept him from learning to take care of himself.

"Pete" is an expert on the shorter words of the American language -- the longest word he comes out with is "Braxton," what Mr. and Mrs. Braxton insist is his last name, too.

Between words, though, he trims his own feet -- or whatever a parakeet calls what he walks on -- and keeps himself spotlessly clean by constant and long looks in the Braxton bedroom mirror.

The Braxtons, who live at 2112 Coffee, have had "Pete" since he was six weeks old, but they thought they had the "strong, silent" type till he was six months old. Then he began talking.

And he hasn't quit to this day. "Pretty Boy"

"Pete is a pretty boy," was both the first thing he ever came out with and, evidently, what he continues to say the most. "He really believes it, too," Mrs. Braxton says.

And why not? His yellow-green body is three inches long and his blue tail, another two inches. His wings are gray with green and yellow running through them. There is a stretch of blue across his beak and three black dots on each side of the bill.

His looks isn't the only thing that "Pete," the parakeet, is fussy about. Like any other male -- Mrs. Braxton thinks the bird is a male, anyhow -- he likes to eat well. There's the regulation parakeet feed, of course. But lettuce, celery, toast, ice cream, popcorn, apples are to his liking. His favorite, though, is a good solid swig of Dr. Pepper.

"Pete's drinking coffee and smoking a cigaret" is what he'll oftimes say. But, actually, for reasons known only to himself, he doesn't go far either caffeine or nicotine.

Sports Lover
He knows where he lives, though. "Pete's home is in Pampa," he chortles. Evidently, he likes sports. "Let's play ball, boys," he trumpets. He knows a physician when he sees one. Says he: "Dr. Elder, Pete's a sick boy." He can spot an out-of-stater easily -- "Are you an Okie?" -- and likes to mimic cats -- "Kitty, kitty, meow."

"Pete" speaks in a rasping squeak and does most of his talking when there's somebody else around. He is not a TV fan. "We turn the lights off and it's competition," Mrs. Braxton explains. The radio, however, is OK with "Pete."

One thing "Pete" won't stand for is somebody to punish him -- he won't even let the Braxtons put a hand on him. That doesn't keep him from resting on their finger, or atop their heads, though. And it doesn't keep him from pecking away at anything in sight. Fingers, furniture, anything.

Reckless
This business of admiring himself almost cost him his life -- twice. Let out of his cage one time, he zoomed into the bedroom to feast his eyes on himself and went straight into the mirror.

Recovering, he zoomed back out the door into the living room -- right into the picture window. He was knocked unconscious both times.

Where did he gather his "im-mense" vocabulary? "We just kept talking to him and now he picks up words by himself," says Mrs. Braxton.

He's got a girl friend, aged 2, across the street. A human one, though. By name of Denny Burrows on whose shoulder he has an especially favorite perch.

When it comes time to go to bed -- "Pete" sleeps on the swing in his cage, putting his head around on top of his back -- he says, "Good night, you ready to go to sleep, let's go to bed."

And that's as good as any place to leave "Pete" the Pampa parakeet. As the Braxtons say each night:

"Good night, Pete."

Celanese Has High Earnings

Celanese Corporation of America and domestic subsidiaries Saturday reported net income of $3,911,314 after charges and taxes for the three-month period ended March 31, equivalent to 47 cents a common share after preferred stock dividends.

Both net income and common share earnings were the highest since the third quarter of 1952.

First quarter earnings, which included a non-recurring profit of $802,900 on the sale of investments, compared with net income of $95,973 in the first quarter of 1954 year.

Net sales for the first quarter of 1955 aggregated $45,851,680, as against $28,971,685 in the corresponding period last year. Income before provision for federal taxes in the first quarter of this year was $6,911,314, compared with a loss of $1,074,027 in the same 1954 period.

"Considerable progress is being made with the market development of the new fiber Arnel, spun from cellulose triacetate," according to Harold Blanche, president. "Garments from fabrics made with this yarn," he continued, "are gradually being introduced into the market and should appear in volume by the third quarter of this year."

Seniors Honored

Pampan Walked In Uranium, Thought 'Counter Was 'Off'

By JOEL COMBS
Pampa News Staff Writer
Maurice White, 733 N. Nelson, who once walked over a rich uranium deposit with his geiger counter "going crazy" and then left because he thought his counter was faulty, is one of Pampa's first sincere uranium prospectors.

White has been all over the Southwest, West, and Northwest in search of the elusive millionaire-maker. He says that he could take you to 50 spots in no time and guarantee the finding of uranium.

The kicker, though, is that it just wouldn't pay to get it out of the ground. In fact, the expense of buying equipment, hunting it down, leasing the land, having it assayed and then mined is rarely covered by the sale of uranium. It takes a really rich "mother" vein to pay out.

White said that it is doubtful that one in ten who start out to find uranium stick with it "til they do some good because it gets so disgusting with all the run-arounds you get from claims jumpers, false alarms and dry runs. And it even gets you into wife trouble, occasionally.

As to some of the basic facts about uranium prospecting, White said that the most important equipment includes a scintillator, geiger counter, pick, shovel, dynamite, camping equipment and a vehicle built for rugged treatment.

The scintillator and geiger counter register a signal coming from anything radioactive and, therefore, a reaction on either of them doesn't necessarily mean that you have found uranium. In fact, most of the time you haven't.

A radioactive substance, uranium or anything else, gives off a radiation and it depends on how deep the substance is and how radioactive it is as to the strength of the signal the geiger counter records. Sometimes very "hot" uranium causes only a weak reaction because it is so deep in the ground. Therefore, a weak signal does not always mean that the substance emitting the radiation is small or "weak," just as a strong signal does not guarantee a uranium discovery.

After a uranium "find," a sample of the substance should be taken away from its "background" and retested for strength. If the prospector believes he has found something, he can stake a claim if it is on government land, go to town and register his claim before someone beats him to it, and then get his sample assayed.

If the lucky prospector has really found uranium he may be eligible for a government bonus of $10,000, provided he works his claim regularly and complies with certain regulations that have been set up. The bonus is in addition to his earnings from the sale of his uranium. Good uranium is currently selling for $3.50 per pound. If a prospector can get 3-per-cent-uranium from his work he has struck it rich — until it plays out.

White says that uranium might be any of several colors. He has found some around Globe, Ariz., which had streaks of green in it and carnotite, the most common type, is yellow. Carnotite is usually found in sand, rock and limestone. White's first experiences were with black shale in Missouri where he got a strong reaction on his geiger counter but no substantial amount of uranium. He says that most of it is found cropping out of mountains or in canyons.

H. L. Meers, Ray Browning and Floyd Horsey, all of Pampa, often go with White on his prospecting excursions and sometimes he goes alone. He has prospected in Washington, California, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Utah, Oregon, Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho, and has just returned — last week end — from treks into Colorado and Arizona.

Once, while prospecting near Yuma, Ariz., White and some friends got exposed to radioactivity as a result of the settling of a cloud from one of the atomic test shots in Nevada, several hundred miles away. They got enough radioactivity that when they returned home a geiger counter would still react to radiations coming from their clothes. However, a doctor explained that no more harm would occur than if they had been X-rayed, perhaps one time.

White says that, while some think that prospecting is simple, it is a "hard old row to hoe." It still holds an attraction for him, though; as he says, "It gets in your blood. The further you go, the more you want it, but there can be a lot of heartache in the whole thing. When you spend a lot of time and money and don't get anything but a sunburn, you begin to wonder who started all these rumors, anyway."

Lela School Has Graduation

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Lela Independent School held commencement exercises for the eighth grade class last week.

The program was held in the Lela Baptist Church. Jesse J. Dyer, superintendent of Wheeler County Schools, delivered the commencement address.

Margaret Daly is valedictorian of the class and Sharon LaBlanc is salutatorian.

R. L. Wyatt and C. V. Brown presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Other members in this year's graduating class are Tommy L. Fenley, Lynn M. Fletcher, Jerry D. Riley, Jimmy D. Daugherty, Lila J. Griffin, Beverly K. Hughes, Nellie Lisle, Shirley A. Moore and Nancy B. Phillips.

Air Specialist Says Russia May Be Ahead Of U.S. In Jets

WASHINGTON — UP — A Congressional air power specialist said Saturday that Russia may have more intercontinental jet bombers than the United States and warned against discounting Soviet technology.

Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.), chairman of a House subcommittee on air force appropriations, said the government's disclosure Friday of major Russian air power advances shows that in any event "We are not as far ahead as we thought."

The Defense department disclosed in a brief statement that "parade formations" of a heavy bomber comparable in size to the American B-52 flew over Moscow in late April. The department also said Russia now has an all-weather jet interceptor.

Meanwhile, the Navy told Congress it has a big seaplane with range and speed rivaling land-based aircraft and is working on an atomic-powered seaplane.

Rear Adm. F. R. Furth, chief of Naval research, in testimony before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, said a new Navy sweptwing, jet-powered seaplane "could be based in bays or lagoons near theaters of war and be supported by submarine or seaplane tenders."

He said "nuclear-powered aircraft offer the obvious advantages of practically unlimited range with very high speed, and a sea-based aircraft offers peculiar advantages for exploring nuclear propulsion in aircraft."

Other Congressional developments.

Vaccine — Sen. Wayne L. Morse (D-Ore.) introduced a bill providing that the federal government pay all hospital and medical expenses of children contracting polio after taking Salk vaccine shots. He said the government has a moral responsibility in such cases because it was the government's duty to put the vaccine to "every possible test."

Private bills — The Senate Friday passed more than 70 so-called private bills. These are measures which grant special relief to individuals, many of them aliens who face deportation because they have violated some law but can claim mitigating circumstances.

Treaty — Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said he expects the Senate to act "fairly promptly" on the Austrian peace treaty after it is submitted by President Eisenhower. He hailed the treaty as "possibly a good omen for the future." But Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.) argued that the claims of victims of Nazi persecution in Austria be settled before the treaty is ratified.

Wheat — Sen. Milton R. Young (R-N.D.) said he will urge wheat farmers to vote for marketing quotas on their 1956 crop in the referendum ordered Friday by Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson. Failure to vote for quotas would mean lower price supports and lead to "a wheat and that would be national catastrophe," Young said.

Will Fight Provision — Atoms for peace — Sen. Frederick G. Payne (R-Me.) told the Senate Friday that the President's atoms-for-peace plan "has done more than any other single action to strike a crippling blow at Communist propaganda which paints us as ruthless and warmongering people."

Employees — Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and A.S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said they will fight a provision in the President's foreign aid bill permitting the firing of hundreds of employees in the foreign operations administration. It would authorize the ouster of any employees of the expiring FOA who make more than about $5,200 a year. Most of FOA's functions are being transferred June 30 to a new agency in the state department.

Highways — Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) told the Senate Friday that even though the public works committee accepted a Democratic highway construction bill, the action was "a victory for President Eisenhower's leadership. Case said it was the President who sparked the move for greater federal aid for highway building. Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) said in a Waterbury, Conn., speech Saturday he believes the President's own highway program still has a "fighting chance" to pass the Senate. He called the Democratic plan "deceptive."

Summerall Is Dead

WASHINGTON — UP — Gen. Charles P. Summerall, 88, former Army chief of staff, died Saturday at Walter Reed Army hospital.

He had been under treatment at Walter Reed since last August. It was reported at the time of his admission to the hospital that he was suffering from leukemia.

He is survived by his son, Charles P. Summerall Jr., a retired Army colonel. His wife died in 1948. The son and the son's wife were at the bedside when death came at 9:50 a.m. est.

Summerall was a soldier of the old school who believed in ramrod discipline and strict military courtesy. His military career spanned 56 years, including service in three campaigns, four years as Army chief of staff, and 22 years as president of The Citadel in Charleston, S. C., one of the nation's oldest and proudest military colleges.

On his 88th birthday, which he celebrated March 4 with a small party at the hospital, he was still erect and soldierly in his bearing, precise in all his habits, and unbendingly formal in his manner.

Prices declined on profit-taking and then rallied from their lows. The averages recorded only moderate declines, however, since the really big losers were in issues outside those used to compute the averages.

The industrial averages closed the week at 419.57 off 4.27; railroad, 157.01, off 3.82; utility 63.89, off 0.81 and 65 stocks, 157.23, off 2.31. Sales for the week averaged 2,208,352 shares daily compared with a daily average of 2,313,320 shares a week ago.

The market made its highs for the year on April 26 when the industrial average was at 430.64, a record high and the rail average at 161.54, a new high since Oct. 26, 1929.

The industrial average at the close this week was down 11.07 points from its record high and the rails were down only 4.53 points from their high.

The real story of market erosion is told by comparing actions of some stocks recently bid up by speculators and sold for profits.

For example, Amerasia is down 40 points from its 1955 high; Chance Vought, down 31 5/8; United Aircraft, 25 1/8; Boeing Airplane 29 1/2; Bath Iron Works, 23 1/2; Babcock & Wilcox, 21 1/2; Douglas Aircraft, 25 General Dynamics, 21 7/8 Lockheed, 20; Bethlehem Steel, 16 3/4; Combustion Engineering, 15; International Business Machines (not considered a speculative issue) 33; and Pullman, 15 1/8 points.

General Motors has fallen 12 1/8 points from its high despite record automobile production statistics.

Cage Loop Planned HOLYOKE, Mass. — UP — A meeting will be held in Boston later this month to organize a New England College Basketball conference, it was announced Tuesday by John Bunn, Springfield College athletic director.

Stock Market Volume Falls

NEW YORK — UP — Wall Street chalked up a victory for the Federal Reserve system this week when stock market volume fell to the lowest level for any full week since Oct. 29, 1954.

That shrinkage in volume reflected the Federal Reserve action to curb speculation, which appeared absent during the trading. The higher credit terms and higher margins were catching up with the market.

Prices declined on profit-taking and then rallied from their lows. The averages recorded only moderate declines, however, since the really big losers were in issues outside those used to compute the averages.

Gleason Will Be Back Again Soon

By JACK GAVER NEW YORK, May 14 -- UP-- Jackie Gleason says who have been wondering whether they'd ever get another look at some of his other characters besides Ralph Kramden of "The Honeymooners" will be pleased to know that the comedian will do a couple of his variety-type shows soon.

Richard Cassilly, Rosemary Kuhlmann and Maria Di Gerlando carry the leading roles. End Abbott, Lou Costello, Rhonda Fleming and Gordon MacRae head up "The Colgate Comedy Hour" for NBC.

They will be scattered among his last four Saturdays on the air. The program quits for the summer on June 18.

The CBS "Toast of the Town" will offer Gary Crosby, Louis Armstrong and Sammy Davis, Jr., among others. Jackie Cooper stars on NBC's "TV Playhouse" in "The Pardon Me Boy" by J. P. Miller.

Reggie Van Gleason and some of the others are not likely to be seen in new sketches, however. Jackie will repeat some of the old sketches.

One of the hour-long "Honeymooners" sketches of a few months back will be repeated this month, and most of the fans probably will probably welcome it because they never saw the ending when it was done originally.

This was the script in which bus-driver Kramden turned out to be the double of a gang leader and ran into all sorts of riotous troubles. Just as everything was building to a suspenseful climax, the show went off the air, losing the last two or three minutes. The timing of the performance was off.

Another idea being tossed around is that Gleason will find a way to work Reggie and some of the other characters into "The Honeymooners" from time to time.

Jack Barry is busy these days putting on film a TV series dealing with mental health under the title "Conflict." His firm is making the episodes with the Cooperation of the National Association for mental health.

Engaged in the filming is the camera crew that made the academy award movie, "On The Waterfront," in Hoboken, N. J. The pilot film budgeted at $40,000, Sidney Lumet and Reginald Rose are, respectively, the director and author involved, and both are top talents.

Physicians, nurses and others will be portrayed in their real-life roles in the series when practical. When actors have to be used, they will be "non-name" players.

Monday night's Marciano-Cockell world heavyweight championship fight will not be on home TV, but about 250,000 fans are expected to pay their way into various theaters around the country to see it on big-screen, closed-circuit TV.

Eighty-three cities will have it available in movie houses. The average cost for the TV showing will be $3.50 a ticket.

Sunday TV highlights: NBC will offer a 90-minute version of Gian-Carlo Menotti's latest opera, "The Saint of Bleeker Street," which had a Broadway run this season, Virginia Copeland.

School Activities Begin Tonight

MOBEETTE -- (Special) -- End of school activities are due to begin with the senior baccalaureate service to be held this evening in the First Baptist Church, with Rev. Albert W. Cooper, local Methodist minister, as the speaker for the evening.

Wednesday at 8:15 p.m., with Jim Daugherty of Shamrock, as principal speaker, the eighth grade commencement exercise will be held. The seventh grade chorus will sing for the occasion. Mrs. J. A. Neece is sponsor of the eighth grade class.

BOOK PATER

By BILL KERR Pampa News Staff Writer

The legends of western folklore, the numerous though they be, contain no more fascinating a personality than Joaquin Murietta. His knife continually ready for a "gringo's" ribs, his eyes flashing, and an unsurpassed passion for the gallant act, have made him one of the peers of California gold-rush lore.

Cherokee factional wars in the Oklahoma Territory. In an effort to gain acclaim, he wrote Murietta's "lie story." Fame has been and was his, but financially he was left little better off than before his undertaking in the literary field.

The biography of the legendary badman appeared in 1854. The author was John Rollin Ridge, a half-Cherokee and Yellow Bird Indian. The only known copy of the biography in its original edition is in the hands of the distinguished Western American collector, Thomas W. Streeter, of Morrilton, N. U.

Through his zealous efforts in behalf of his chosen specialty, Streeter made available the complete set of the valuable item of Western Americana to the University of Oklahoma Press.

Color TV Here May 30

AMARILLO, May 14 -- (Special) -- Color television comes to Channel 4 and the Panhandle Monday, May 30!

Only 27 months after going on the air, KGNC-TV will carry its first color show, "The Petrified Forest," a 90-minute Producer's Showcase Spectacular, beginning at 6 p.m. May 30.

With Humphrey Bogart, Henry Fonda and Lauren Bacall in starring roles for TV, Robert Sherwood's "Petrified Forest" was both a big movie and Broadway hit.

KGNC will carry three hours of color during the first week. The following Saturday, June 4, Channel 4 will present NBC-TV's production of the opera, "The Chocolate Soldier," starring Rise Stevens.

It is possible that some television set dealers in the area will have color receivers operating in their showrooms so that the public can view the initial color telecasts in the Panhandle.

Modification of television cable circuits from Oklahoma City to carry the color TV signal will be completed this month by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Color telecast schedules will be carried in area newspapers beginning in June.

They Have 400

The Cobbs Go 'Overboard' In The Collection Of Pets

By LOUISE COFFMAN
Pampa News Correspondent
SHAMROCK —(Special)—Some people are satisfied with one or two pets but Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Cobb have more than 400.

Chiquita, a 14-year-old Mexican Chihuahua, is the only quadruped in the place. The rest are Australian sheil parakeets. They have had parrots, a mina bird, finches, cockateels, and Java Rice birds; but the breeding of rare birds has crowded the other breeds out of their aviary.

DOC AND BIRDS -- Dr. M. V. Cobb, of Shamrock, holds "Skipper" and "Parkey," two of the many birds in his aviary. Reading a national magazine got Dr. and Mrs. Cobb started in the bird business.

By 1949 the three pair, had increased in number until the Cobbs needed an aviary. Their son Bradford, converted a stone building in the backyard into a four-cage aviary without ever having seen another Dr. Cobb, who is a member of the American Budgeriegah Society, directed construction after visiting aviaries in other parts of the country.

The cages are roofed; half of each run is enclosed for weather protection and half is screened. There are four cages under a single roof and each is approximately four by ten feet. Each cage is equipped with tree limbs and swings for the birds' entertainment.

Two years ago the population of the aviary, now devoted to the breeding of rares, demanded more room and another similar building was erected.

The birds are fed a mixture of white millet and canary seed. One peculiarity of the budgie is that it shells each seed before eating it. The fact that it eats dry foods is one reason it is such a clean bird.

Grass cuttings are added to their diet during the summer months and lettuce served for winter green stuff.

The birds travel in flights and are divided about 40 to each cage. The whole group will swoop from the perches in the screened end of the cage into the sheltered cages which hold the self-feeders and waterers, chattering bird language.

Some may mimic up a few sounds other than bird talk, but to develop the possible vocabulary of 450 words they should be finger-trained. While the birds do not like bathing like other birds, they enjoy being sprinkled with the hose during warm weather.

The Cobbs have sold some 150 "rares" this year on the wholesale market. They are more interested in developing rare colors than in training individual birds. The "rares" have solid or nearly solid color on the back of the neck and head rather than the scalloped barring found on the so-called normals.

The Cobbs now have the albino whites, butter creams, yellow-faced blues, opalines in many hues, Cinnamon wing, Dutch pied, crested pied, fallow and golden fulino.

The most unusual birds in their aviary are the harlequin and Danish Pied. Their first pairs of these birds were bought when very young. The markings on these birds are most distinctive. The yellows have a definite band along the lower breast where the plumage becomes a soft shade of green. The so-called "Blue" harlequin is a white bird with blue plumage below the breast line.

In Control Cages -- Most of the breeding is done in control cages with one pair to the cage. These special cages are haliscreeen boxes about 2 feet long, 14 inches deep and 18 inches high. A pair of birds, while nesting, will lay one egg every other day for eight days. On the thirteenth day the first egg hatches and the others follow in order. When each baby is 7 to 12 days old a metal band is put on its leg to give the Cobb Aviary code number, assigned by the American Budgeriegah Society. Each bird has its own number.

They are completely bare of feathers while small and do not open their dark eyes until they are ten days old. The young will not venture into the larger cage until their bright pink skinned bodies are almost fully developed. They make no attempt to fly until they have developed their full plumage and leave the nesting box.

The Cobbs have two finger-trained birds which are usually given the run of the house -- Skipper, a normal, and Parkey, a yellow. They have been allowed to stay together, but the Cobbs plan to separate them soon so that Skipper will not forget how to talk and Parkey will learn. Skipper has been a house pet for several years.

He Was Friendly -- During the days when the Cobbs had a parrot, Skipper lost two toes from trying to be friendly. He would fly to the parrot's cage for a chat and Butch, the parrot, nipped his toes through the spokes of his cage. One of Skipper's favorite perches is atop Dr. Cobb's head. Mrs. Cobb says it is because "he's the tallest thing in sight." Skipper has quite a large vocabulary and even mimics his neighbor's dog, though his barks aren't very fearsome.

Dr. and Mrs. Cobb came to Shamrock in July, 1944, following Dr. Cobb's service in the Navy. Before World War II he practiced as a chiropractor in Littlefield. They are from Maine, originally. Their son served in the navy during the Korean conflict.

Bradford, his wife, and small son, Rickey, now make their home in Amarillo.

Mrs. Cobb assists her husband in the office of their lovely air-conditioned home. Both spend hours working in the yard and with the birds. They visit aviaries, everywhere they take a trip.

As members of the American Budgeriegah Society and of the Texas Bird Breeders and Fanciers Association, they have a wide acquaintance among "budgie" fanciers. What started as a hobby has grown into an interesting business sideline.

Hard-Working Texas Solons Advance Labor, Land Bills

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
AUSTIN —UP— Texas legislators, working hard without pay, advanced bills restricting labor union activities and tightening controls on the scandal-ridden veterans land program before quitting for the weekend.

The House advanced on second reading, by voice vote, a controversial labor control bill which brought bitter debate about the Port Arthur strike, but refused to take final action on the measure. The Senate unanimously passed the bill tightening controls over the land program and barring "block deals" involving more than two veterans. The bill, on 25-0 vote, was sent to the House for action on a series of 20 amendments.

Raises Aid Ceiling
The Senate also, by voice vote, passed House-approved legislation hiking from $35 million to $42 million the ceiling on annual state expenditures for old age pensions, aid to needy children and the blind. The bill, authored by Rep. Scott Sayers of Fort Worth, carries out a constitutional amendment approved by the voters in last November's general election. It was returned to the House for concurrence on a minor Senate amendment.

The labor bill brought fiery debate. Gov. Allan Shivers Wednesday urged House members to approve the bill as a means of preventing recurrence of strikes such as the bitter, 14-month walkout of retail workers at Port Arthur. The bill would outlaw picketing of an establishment unless a union already represented a majority of employees.

Rep. Otis Lee of Port Arthur charged that Shivers in last summer's gubernatorial campaign did "irreparable damage" to Port Arthur.

'Bottom of Mud Barrel'
"Only a dying candidate would resort to tactics Governor Shivers used in his campaign," Lee shouted. "When the governor saw his cause was lost he reached into the bottom of the mud barrel and maligning and prostituting the good name of the city of Port Arthur, where he was raised and where his mother is still living.

"Conditions are not as bad as he told the people during the gubernatorial campaign. I know they're good people, regardless of what the governor or other representatives of the people have said."

Lee said "when you vote for this bill, you're only going to make organized labor determined to grow stronger...more efficient...and yes, even become better citizens of this state."

He expressed belief that Texas labor, the schools, old people and the road program "have benefited more under Governor Shivers than any other governor in the history of Texas."

Murphy also received strong applause.

'Little Taft-Hartley'
The House rejected attempts to write into the bill what was called a "little Taft-Hartley act" with elections for union recognition similar to those conducted by the National Labor Relations Board.

Main opposition was leveled at a provision not to allow employees to vote who had been discharged "for cause" or in a "bona fide reduction in force," but allow voting by permanent replacements for employees on strike or employees hired in a bona fide increase in force.

The veterans land bill, sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, provides penalties of from two to 10 years in prison and fines of from $1,000 to $10,000 for misrepresentation or fraud.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips said there was "no bill of such importance to the people of Texas as this."

The bill provides for increased local control of the program through appointment of property owners to appraise the land and screen veterans, and requires the seller provide a history of the land involved.

Nats Cut Two
WASHINGTON —UP— Rookie pitchers Dick Hyde and Bill Currie were sent to Chattanooga of the Southern Association Saturday as the Washington Senators cut their roster down to the legal 25-player limit. Hyde was optioned out while Currie's contract was assigned to the farm club.

Hunt Fortune Still Secret

DALLAS —UP— The will of the late wife of billionaire oilman H. L. Hunt failed Saturday to give any clue to the exact value of what must be one of the most valuable estates in the world.

Mrs. Hunt died May 6 in the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. She suffered a heart attack in Dallas and was flown there for treatment in a chartered plane. An application to admit her will to probate valued her estate "in excess of $30,000." The law does not require that its exact value be revealed publicly.

Half Is Hers
Under community property laws, half of everything acquired after their marriage belonged to Mrs. Hunt. When they were married in 1914, Hunt had not started amassing his vast fortune; he owned only a plantation in Arkansas.

A spokesman for Hunt said in New York about a year ago, however, that Hunt was worth "in the neighborhood of $2 billion." He is supposed to be one of the world's richest men.

She left her stocks and bonds to the H. L. Hunt Foundation, a charitable, non-profit organization. She left her interest in the family mansion in Dallas to a son, Lamar.

Books to Daughters
Mrs. Hunt bequeathed her books, clothes and jewelry to two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Hunt Hill and Mrs. Caroline Hunt Sands. She willed her real estate holdings in Chicago county, Ark., to Mattie Virginia Sessions, a sister, of Lake Village, Ark.

She asked in the will that the rest of her estate be divided into five equal parts and put in trusts for five of her six children. Each of the trusts provides sub-trusts for present and future grandchildren.

H. L. Hunt, Jr., a sixth child was not included in the will. Mrs. Hunt said he had already piled up a big estate in his own right and needs no help.

A's Add Sleater
KANSAS CITY, Mo. —UP— The Kansas City Athletics have picked up pitcher Lou Sleater from the New York Yankees for the $10,000 waiver price. Sleater, who came to the Yankees late last year, did not pitch for New York since the 1955 season began.

Hottest news in Hardtops is the 4-Door Riviera

Why take anything less than the sensation of the year?

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning far notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the first two-door hardtop six years ago.

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNALOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You get better gas mileage by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

THE PANHANDLE AREA LOST a fine coach when Glenn Selbo, head basketball mentor at Perryton, resigned the past week to accept a similar post at Midland High School.

Selbo had been a Panhandleite only one year, but during his short tenure the former All-American basketball player gained a lot of respect from sports fans and fellow coaches in the Panhandle area.

Selbo, it seems, is highly respected everywhere he goes. It all started back in his high school days in Wisconsin where he won honors in football, basketball and baseball.

Then upon leaving high school, Selbo enrolled at Wisconsin University (that'll be two-bits, Hasse) where he won national recognition as a basketball player.

Selbo was an All-American choice at Wisconsin in basketball.

Selbo entered professional baseball after graduating from Wisconsin U. and it ended at least temporarily, last year when he suffered a broken leg while playing with the Midland Indians of the Longhorn League.

Selbo, in the previous two years before coming to Perryton last fall, had been the head basketball coach at Midland Junior High. From junior high to a Class 4A school within the space of two years is pretty fast stepping for any coach. But that's par for the course for Selbo in his athletic career.

Selbo is a well known figure in West Texas as a pro-baseballer.

He played with Lamesa and Abilene in the West Texas-New Mexico League before going to Midland where he played in 1952-53-54. At Midland, Selbo batted .346 in 1952; .313 in 1953; and .374 last year before breaking his leg.

Well, it was nice having Selbo with us even though it was only for a short while.

I'm sure the Perryton fans will join us in wishing him all the luck in his new assignment at Midland.

AND SPEAKING OF PERRYTON, the annual Perryton Invitational Golf Tournament comes off today at the Wolf Creek Course in Perryton.

All golfers of the Panhandle area are especially invited to enter the tournament.

There were 137 entries last year and the Perryton Country Club president, A. C. Witt, believes that this year's turnout will match last year's entry list.

This would be a good chance for Pampans to use the new route to Perryton via the Canadian River bridge. A host of Pampa golfers have been taking in the Perryton tourney, anyway, when the route was much longer to the Northern Panhandle city.

New Faces In Pony And LL Pilot Lineup

Several new faces will be seen in manager's roles in the three Pampa kid baseball leagues this summer, Western and Eastern Little League and the Pony League. Only three men who managed teams last year will be back this season. And one of these, Bill Ridgway, who managed Cabot in the Eastern League last year, will manage the Pampa Druggist Pilots this season in the Pony League.

The other two holdover managers are Newt Secrest of Jeffries Trucking in the Western Little League and W. A. Gipson of Kist Beverage in the Pony League.

Five of the other nine head managers this season served as assistants last year. In the Western Little League three assistants are moving up to head posts. Bill Garrett will manage the Spokesman team; Jack Robinson will manage Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners; and Ed Lowrance will manage Utility Oil. All three served as assistants for these three teams last year.

The Eastern Little League will have a complete set of new managers. The Eastern managers are Bob Chase, Cabot; Bill Stevens, Tom Rose; Homer Miller, Hoff man Oil; and Coy Clay, Sportsman Store.

Of the four, Chase and Clay were in the league last year, both as assistants. Chase assisted Ridgway as the Cabot manager while Clay assisted Ed Engel of Tom Rose, Jerald Sims, who assisted Deck Woldt as the First National Bank manager in the Pony League, moves up to head manager this summer. Woldt will manage one of the teams in the Teen Age League.

Gipson, Ridgway and Howard Coday round out the Pony managers. Coday is a newcomer to the league. He'll manage Elmer's Super Market for the coming season.

HOFFMAN OIL Manager—Homer Miller Roster—Travis Tucker, Bobby Miller, Jerry Dyess, Darrell Doss, Robert Garrett, Steven Vaughn, Jim Tarr, Bill Lane, Don Owen, Frank Pryor, F. A. Wise, Jerry Masquire and Pat Glascock.

SPORTSMAN STORE Manager—Coy Clay Roster—Paul Glick, Dennis Mills, Ricky Stewart, James West, Wayne Matney, Billy Glick, Mike Clark, Charles Fant, Harold Burgess, Bryant Perkins, Larry Larkin, Lucky Dunham, Donny Kirkham, James Wells and Lynn Schoolfield.

Texas Aggies Placed On Two-Years Probation

By JOHN COLTON HOUSTON, May 14—UP—The Southwest Conference put Texas A&M on two years' probation and voided all of the school's letters of intent with prospective athletes Saturday in a heavy-handed slap at Athletic Director Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant's recruiting practices.

The stiff action came after warnings in September and December, 1954, that serious charges of recruiting violations had been made against the coaches and alumni and that further irregularities would be met with prompt action.

But, Conference Secretary Howard Grubbs said in a prepared statement, "since these meetings, other violations have occurred . . . and the conference concluded that to improve recruiting practices more drastic action than further warnings were necessary."

Bryant accepted the "drastic" rebuke and punishment. He said A&M is an educational institution of "high standards" and he wants to correct any wrongs. But he said he doesn't think any rules were broken by his staff and if any were without his knowing about it, it was unintentional.

"We're Not Giving Up" "One of the first things you learn in football is when you're down, you begin to fight," he said. "We're not giving up. Our recruiting program will continue but we'll do all our own recruiting from now on without help from anybody."

Bryant said he did not go to any Southwest conference meetings where he was warned about his recruiting. He said representatives of A&M did go and told him to be sure and go by the rules. "And we have. 'We were then," he said positively.

Bryant was hired last year from Kentucky to improve the school's all-around athletic fortunes, but particularly those of the football team. The Texas Aggie team last fall surprised everyone with its spirit and threw a scare into virtually every opponent, but wound up with a lone 6-0 triumph over Georgia out of a 10-game schedule.

To improve this situation, Bryant and his staff waged a relentless campaign throughout Texas to persuade high school athletes to attend Texas A&M. On the basis of the number of "name" players signed, the campaign apparently was a success. But in the process the recruiters apparently became a little overzealous and ignored certain strict recruiting rules on the conference books.

Win Moves Locals Into First Place

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

Buddy Woods and Jack Venable combined their efforts to pitch the Oilers to a 7-5 victory over the El Paso Texans at Oiler Park last night and give the locals the edge in the three-game series, 2-1.

The game wound up the current Oiler homestand. The Pampans go to Abilene for a two-game series today and Monday and will bring the Abilenians back with them Tuesday for a three-game set at Oiler Park.

In last night's game, the Oilers built up a 7-2 lead through the first seven innings and then had to choke off an eighth Texan rally to protect the advantage.

Woods hurled masterful ball for seven innings, giving up only five hits for two runs during this spell but he tired in the eighth when the Texans broke loose for three runs.

Venable came on to put out the fire and then blanked the visitors in the ninth to preserve Wood's second win of the season against one loss.

The Oilers broke the scoring ice during the first seven frames came on James Baldacci's two-run homer in the fourth.

The Oilers' victory last night elevated the locals into West Texas-New Mexico League lead as Albuquerque, who led going into Saturday's games, bowed to Plainview, 11-10.

The Oilers have a 12-9 record for .571 while Albuquerque and Lubbock, who are tied for second, have 13-10 records for .565.

In the second inning with a pair of runs, Joe Fortin started the inning with a base on balls. After Hairston struck out, Hardaway walked and Sonny Tims singled between third and short to drive in Fortin with the first run of the game.

Hardaway went from second to third on Jack Hall's deep fly to centerfield and then Hardaway and Tims worked a double steal, Hardaway scoring and Tims going to second.

Baldacci's homer tied it up at 2-2 in the fourth. Gerald Mackay, who had doubled, scored ahead of Baldacci's run-scoring homer.

The Oilers scored three in the fifth to break the tie and then the winners led the rest of the way. Hall led off the Oiler fifth with a single but was forced at second by Woods. Little Rach Slider then slammed the first of two doubles to right to send Woods to third.

Woods then scored on Red Dial's fly to left. Halter and Fortin drew a base on balls to load the bases and Dick Hairston bounced a single to right to drive in Slider and Halter for runs Nos. 4 and 5.

The Oilers added single runs in the sixth and seventh to move five runs ahead. Slider's second double of the game sent Hall across in the sixth and Tims hit a bases loaded single in the seventh to win the game. The Oilers' record is now 12-9 and the Texans' record is 10-11.

Texas Edges Ags For Track Title

HOUSTON, May 14—UP—Jon Totz and Dik Foerster came through with two fine laps in the final event—the mile relay—to enable Texas to nose out Texas A&M by two points and win its 23rd Southwest Conference track and field title Saturday.

Texas was trailing the Aggies 70-1-2 to 68-1-2 when the final event started and Totz pulled Texas into a slight lead on the third lap of the mile relay and Foerster held it to nip Rice's Harold Griffin and give Texas the vital 10 points as the Aggies finished third.

Rice finished in third place with 54 points, Southern Methodist fourth with 28, Arkansas fifth with 16, Baylor sixth with 15 and Texas Christian seventh with 6.

Texas Wins Fresh Division In the freshman division, staged this year for the first time, Texas walked off with the crown by amassing 83 points to 63-2 for Baylor, 54-2-3 for Texas A&M, 20-1-2 for SMU, 14-1-3 for Rice, 14 for TCU and Arkansas 1.

Only two new records were set in the meet, marred by rain during the high hurdles, 220-yard dash and 880-yard run, but Texas' Dean Smith, the meet's high point man for the second straight year with 12-1-2 points, equalled the 100-yard dash mark of 9.5 seconds for the second straight day.

The Texas 40-yard relay four some of Dean Smith, Jerry Previt, Alvin Frieden and Bobby Whidden posted a 40.8 to snap the old mark of 41.1, but failing to equal its best season time of 40.5. Lift Pole Vault Record Stephen James of Rice lifted the pole vault record to 13 feet 11 1/2 inches to break the 19-year-old record of 13-10-1/2 set by Rice's Dave Weichert.

Burrus Sets Discus Record

TEMPE, Ariz., May 14—UP—Ray Burrus of West Texas State set a new discus record for the Border Conference Saturday with a throw of 162 feet, 11 1/8 inches, exceeding the old mark by seven feet.

The Burrus performance came Saturday morning in the only final event of preliminary Border Conference competition until Saturday night, when Arizona and Arizona State at Tempe duke for championship honors. ASC-Tempe is defending champ.

Burrus had better throws, but fouled on them. The old record of 155 feet, 10 1/2 inches, was set in 1952, by Earl Putman, Arizona State at Tempe.

Both Merle Wackerbarth of Arizona State at Tempe and Clarence Anderson of Arizona bettered the 202-yard mark in time trials, but neither mark will be allowed because of wind conditions.

Junior Oilers Host Hedley The Junior Oilers will meet Hedley in a Cap Rock League game today at Oiler Park. Game time is 3 p.m.

Buddy Moore will start on the mound for the Junior Oilers. Remainder of the lineup will be Ken Mumford, catching; Travis Taylor, first base; Ray Cooper, second base; Red Wanner, third base; Don Denham, short; Doug Randolph, left field; Glen Adams, centerfield; and Gerald Mobley, right field. Admission prices are 50 and 25 cents.

Rockey Set For Title Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14—UP—Rocky Marciano put the final polish on his body attack Saturday and challenger Don Cockell in the heavy middleweight fight in "fold him" as he did Rex Layne in July 1951.

Chunky Cockell, a pig and poultry farmer of Oram, Eng., was one of the most highly regarded challengers in heavyweight history as he took his last workout at nearby San Rafael, Calif.

Quotations against him from various odd-makers ranged from 10-1 to 20-1. It was 5-4 he wouldn't last five rounds, 2-1 he wouldn't go 10, and 5-1 he wouldn't finish the scheduled 15 rounds.

Nevertheless, co-promoter Jim Norris and his associate hoped for at least 30,000 fans and a gate of at least $280,000. "If all depends on the weather," Norris said.

The present, San Francisco fight-gate record of $167,870 was paid by 19,870 fans at the Cow Palace in 1949, when Ezzard Charles defended his NBA heavy crown against Pat Valentino.

Brown-haired, 26-year-old Cockell was a lowly underdog for his fight at the concrete and stucco oval where the football Forty-Niners play, because of his comparative record and because he had been unimpressive in training. His work did not enhance his title of British Empire champion.

However, men who have seen his fight in England claim he is a "poor gymnasium performer." Favors Body Attack Meanwhile, 30-year-old Marciano of Brockton, Mass., appeared at the peak of his career during his sparring sessions at Calistoga, Calif., as he prepared for his fifth title defense. Unbeaten, cocky, the ring's first perfect-record heavy champ, seeks his 48th straight professional victory. In the later stages of his 210-

Pony, LL Minor Rosters Revealed

Rosters for the minor leagues in the Pampa Pony and Little Leagues were announced yesterday at a meeting of the participants at Kiwanis Park.

Twelve teams will participate in the Minor League this summer, four teams each in the Eastern and Western Leagues and four in the Pony League.

Between 150-200 boys have been placed on Minor League teams. Any boy whose name doesn't appear on the rosters below and who would like to take part in the Minor Leagues this summer are asked to call the presidents of the respective leagues.

The Minor League presidents are:

Eastern Little League — James Washington.

Western Little League — D. L. Tucker.

Pony League — James Pennington.

Six sponsors for the Minor League team had been located yesterday with six more still needed.

Sponsor fee for the Minor League team is $60. Any one who would sponsor a Minor League team is asked to call Johnny Campbell, director of boys' work of the kid baseball program.

The Minor League season will begin next Saturday.

Following are the 12 team rosters: (Teams are listed as Nos. 1-2-3-4 in each league until sponsors are found for each team):

Wes Santee Fails In Bid With 4:06.5

FRESNO, Calif., May 14 — UP

Wes Santee, the long-striding Kansan, failed in his bid for the four-minute mile again Saturday as he was clocked in a so-so (for him) 4:06.5 as he won the invitational mile in the 29th annual West Coast Relays.

With a stiff 14-mile per hour wind, which has been following him around all spring and thwarting every record effort, Santee finished a good 30-yards ahead of Len Simpson of San Francisco Olympic Club — but found no solace in that.

"It was the wind again," said Santee after the mile run. "I felt real good and thought this might be the day. But the wind was too tough down the backstretch."

This race was especially designed to give Santee a chance at the four-minute mile. He asked for and was given lane No. 3. Art Dalzell, a former Kansas teammate, ran most of the first three laps in front to break the wind; and a lad named Gene Jones of the Santa Clara youth center, ran along Santee's side shouting encouragement.

"I appreciate all the help I got, especially from Dalzell and Jones," Wes said as his wife embraced him at the finishline. "But it just wasn't the day."

Fernando Ledesma, of USC, finished third and Jim Hunt of San Diego State, fourth. Dalzell and Jones failed to finish.

The clockings by quarters were 59.62, 63 and 62.5. The time for 1,500 meters 3:48.5.

Santee had anticipated perfect weather here — and earlier in the week the forecaster had promised just that. But the temperature, which had been up around 90 all week, suddenly dropped to near 70 and the winds came up.

An afternoon crowd of about 10,000 track fans witnessed the special event of the day time program which featured mostly high school and junior college events.

Frank Hearn, Brannie Vaughan, Ralph Tice, Earl Kitto, Dilton Sanders, Lynn Pinson, J. W. Gist, Grant Camberen, Larry Tarvin, Coyle Winborn, Dickie Elkins.

CLOSE, YET SO FAR

Grover Seitz, Oiler manager, extends hearty congratulations to Paul Halter who had just walloped a three-run homer in the ninth inning of Friday night's Oiler-El Paso game at Oiler Park. Halter's roundtripper, his eighth of the season, pulled the Oilers to within one run of catching up, 9-8. El Paso staved off the Oilers to take the decision.

MAN FOR MAN

Mays Only Giant Who Would Make Dodgers, Say Rivals

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It's easy to account for the Dodgers' early foot. The old pros in the party are sound and the pitching is living up to its potential. When Pee Wee Reese went out with strained muscles on the side of his groin, you got Don Zimmer, and the Brooklyn power can carry a shortstop who isn't hitting. Chatting with the National League have-nots further stresses the Superbas' over-all strength. "Man for man, how many Giants would play regularly with the Dodgers?" asks a veteran attache of the Pirates. "I'll tell you... just one... Willie Mays. And as great as he is in center, Willie would have to play left field for the ped Snider, it was suggested. Didn't the Duke bench himself against them while racing Mays and Don Mueller for the batting championship last season? "That was greatly over-played," opined Haney. "I don't believe Snider knows who's pitching half the time. I doubt that the type of pitcher makes a bit of difference to him. If it does, it shouldn't." Nelson King, the towering relief worker up from New Orleans, recalled that Snider belted his change of pace into the right center field deck in Pittsburgh. "I'll say this much for Snider," testified King. "I didn't help him any. He furnished his own power." It is agreed that Roy Campanella is the most indispensable of the Dodgers. The Round Man handles the pitchers and is the only member of the parts who cannot be satisfactorily replaced by switches. "But don't throw out Jack Robinson," said Haney. "I never saw him for an instant when he wasn't giving in everything he had. I've seen only one base-runner who had anything on him — Ty Cobb. "In addition to his outstanding all-round ability and competitive spirit, it's the little things he pulls that makes Robinson so valuable. Like being purposely hit by a batted ball to break up a double play. When young Gene Freese covered first base for us and reached to take a low throw, Robinson kicked the ball out of his glove and wrenched the kid's arm. It was just quick thinking and hard baseball." An injured nerve in his hand sidelined Campanella one third of the way last season and when he played he couldn't grip the bat. Robinson was hobbled by an assortment of injuries. Don Newcombe couldn't get anybody out. Johnny Podres underwent an appendectomy. So it's beginning to dawn on a lot of people that Walter Alston turned in an acceptable job of managing in his freshman year by keeping the Dodgers in contention as long as he did.

IN TAG TEAM BOUT Murdock Returns To Wrestle Card

Frankie Hill Murdock, the gimlet-eyed roughster from Waxahachie, is back on the prowl in the Southwest States wrestling territory, and, as usual, slams right into the thick of activity by challenging, with the help of All Bey, for the tag team championship of the section. Dory Funk and Cowboy Carlson, the almost perennial champs, figured maybe that Murdock ought to be around a spell and work in some "preliminary" matches before setting out to gain a title, or even to share one, but they ultimately agreed to lay the trophy on the line. It'll be a regulation champion-

Texan Acquitted On GG 'Dope' Charge

AUSTIN — UP — A county court-at-law jury, after 30 minutes deliberation, Friday night acquitted Charles J. (Chuck) Hill, former operator of an Austin health club, of charges he drugged a Golden Gloves fighter. The charges stemmed from a statement given police by George Trad, 25-year-old University of Texas boxer, who said he took three amphetamine tablets prior to his Golden Gloves bout Feb. 4. Trad lost the bout on a technical knockout decision. Hill swore during the four days of his trial that he never unlawfully gave amphetamine tablets to "anyone in this world."

Wheeler Man Wins WTS Rifle Award

WHEELER — (Special) — Cadet Second Lieutenant Bobby J. Weatherly of Wheeler was the winner of the Rifle Team Award for its Best Competitive Shot during the annual "Awards Day" ceremonies for the West Texas State College Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit. Weatherly is a two-time winner of this award, having won the first time last year. He was also presented a ribbon for firing 370 or higher in rifle matches at WT. An agriculture major at WT, Weatherly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon O. Weatherly of Wheeler.

PANHANDLE OUTDOOR LIFE

By S. V. WHITEHORN Latest report from Possum Kingdom indicates the fish are really biting. Some of the statements run something like this: Buckhorn Camp: Wilbur and Sid Kinnerman — Sixteen channel cat weighing from one to two and a half pounds, six black bass ranging from one to four pounds, all caught on minnows. Pat and Uncle Herman's Camp: Cecil Brown, Dallas — Eight black bass weighing from one and half to five and half pounds caught on Bayou Boogie. B. A. Gant, Ft. Worth: 15 black bass weighing from one to three and one half pounds, caught on swimming minnows. Scenic Point: One party from Paducah caught 188 white bass from three fourths to two and one half pounds, on sidewinders and picco lures. Truman Parker, Gradford, Texas, caught one yellow 55 lb. cat, one 43 lb. yellow cat and one that weighed eight lbs., using carp and beam for bait. Lefty's Ranch: Mr. Forest Cayce, Vernon, Texas, fifty white bass weighing up to two and one half pounds; 24 black bass weighing up to three and one half lbs. on picco and dragnetters. The report goes on and on for several pages but this is just an idea of how they are biting at Possum Kingdom. G. P. 'Slim' Davis, Game warden from Shamrock remarked the other day that Lake McClelland had caught about three feet of water and was still rising due to the recent rains and that the canal cat would start biting. (They usually do when lakes are on the rise.) Mr. Davis further stated that there had been some nice bass taken from this lake in the last few days, with one angler catching five nice ones the largest weighing over five pounds. Seems that they have come up with a new idea down on the coast. — i.e. — Austin, May — Trying for maximum usage of productive Gulf Coast areas, the Texas Game and Fish Commission is exploring the possibility of alternating rice and fish crops on a

Perryton Cage Coach, Selbo, To Midland

PERRYTON — (Special) — Glen Selbo, who for the past year has been Ranger basketball coach, has accepted the head basketball coaching job at Midland, and he and his family will leave soon after school is out. He had a 10-15 season at Perryton last year, playing 19 schools with larger enrollment and six with smaller enrollment. He came to Perryton last fall from Midland where he was junior high basketball coach. He had been at Midland one year, coming there from Sonora where he had an 11-1 record. Selbo is a former All-American basketball player at Wisconsin in 1947. He is married and has a two-year-old daughter, Brenda.

Rice, Baylor Lads Co-Champs In Golf

HOUSTON — UP — John Thornton of Baylor and John Garrett of Rice were co-champions of the Southwest Conference golf field Saturday. Thornton, four strokes back of Garrett when the final 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament opened Friday, caught up with the leader, moving up from fourth place. The two shot scores of 297. Garrett started the day with a two-stroke lead over the field, but slipped to a five-over-par 77 on the first 18 holes Friday, while Thornton shot a hot four-under-par 68. Then Thornton cooled off and got a 77 on the final 18 holes while Garrett shot a respectable 72. Davis Love of Texas took third with 301, followed by Bobby Briggs of Texas A&M with 302. Pre-tournament favorite Floyd Addington of Southern Methodist wound up fifth with 304. Other finishers in order were: Kenny Scott, SMU, 306; Eldridge Miles, TCU, 307; Gray Linzel, Arkansas, and Tommy Towry, SMU, 309; David Vandervoort, A&M, 310; Jerry Durban, A&M, 312; Jay Riviere, Rice, 315; Stewart Carrell, SMU, 316; Bill Rogers, Arkansas, 317, and Marcelino Moreno, A&M, 321. SMU had previously won the conference team title.

Working Agreements With Colleges Asked By Hatfield

By CARL LUNDQVIST NEW YORK, May 14 — UP — The major leagues should establish working agreements with colleges and develop young players there instead of asking them to play for the low salaries that are paid in the minors, infielder Fred Hatfield of the Detroit Tigers suggested Saturday. Hatfield, an amazing young man who admits he is "no ball of fire as a big leaguer," wants to coach college baseball and other sports when he quits playing, and he has made an extensive study of the subject. The 30-year-old Alabamian, one of the best glove men in the majors, would make it big if his hitting came up to his fielding. But he is well prepared for the time when he no longer can play big league ball. A descendant of the famed family that carried on the long-standing Hatfield-McCoy feud, friendly Fred isn't "mad at anybody." He doesn't have time to be. He lives in a trailer in Detroit, complete with television, telephone and pretty wife, Dorothy, and he is studying via correspondence

Wheeler 9 Wins Class B Title

WHEELER — (Special) — The Wheeler High School boys' baseball team won the title of Class B, District 3, Friday when the undefeated Mustangs defeated previously undefeated Mobeetie's Hornets on the home diamond, 15-14. In previous play the Wheeler team had defeated Kelton 7-4, Allison 17-10 in conference play and won over Canadian in non-conference play. The Wheeler boys are coached by J. D. Atwell.

Reason Enough

CINCINNATI — UP — More reasons why the Dodgers in first place. Duke Snider leads the league in homers with nine, Carl Furillo is second with eight. Snider leads the league in runs batted in with 31. Roy Campanella is second with 30 and Furillo third with 25.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read II Corinthians 4:5-10

The just do live by faith. Successful living depends upon a dependable faith. Having seen what a misplaced faith can do for him, Bunker Bean moved his confidence over to a more stable base and discovered that his more rational faith worked even greater miracles.

What he had accomplished during the days of his delusion he outdid when he discovered the reality of his powers. Had the author been interested in teaching a great religious truth, he might have extended his tale to show that Bunker Bean, under the impulse of a great faith in God, was capable of true greatness.

That is the result faith produces in the lives of men. Something of that idea was in the minds of the prophet Habakkuk when he said: "The just shall live by his faith." (2:4)

The most serious quest of any person's life is the search for a satisfactory religious faith. Occasionally we hear someone say: "I have a religion of my own. I worked it out for myself, and as long as it suits me that is all that is necessary." Those are brave words which are entitled to respect, but they leave room for a good deal more to be said.

An enduring religious confidence is not built up on the basis of any one man's personal experience, any more than a "system of medicine can be built up on the basis of one person's physical reactions. The "private religion" which we work out for ourselves must be measured alongside that which has been demonstrated in the lives of many thousands, or even millions, who have found it sustained them.

For thy charity of mind I thank thee, O God. Thou hast visited me when I have been confused in my thinking. Thou hast guided me when I have lost my way. Thou art seeking to lead me out of wrong and into right. I will listen

Adobe Walls Boy Scout Circus

DAREDEVILS -- Jimmy, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Crinklaw, 621 E. Francis, is shown taking the jump through the flaming hoop. The action was part of the first annual Adobe Walls Council Boy Scout Circus, which was held last night at Recreation Park. Holding the hoop are Jack Williams, left, and Gordon Crinklaw. (News Photos by T. D. Ellis)

COWBOYS AND INDIANS -- Well, not quite cowboys and Indians, but Cub Scouts are putting on a scene from the Old West as covered wagons, Indians by the hundreds and -- in the end -- the U. S. Cavalry comes to the rescue. That was one attraction a capacity crowd at the Boy Scout circus witnessed Saturday night at Recreation Park.

CIRCUS PARADE -- This is a portion of the Boy Scouts who passed in review down Cuyler Street at 2 p. m. Saturday. The Scout parade was to publicize the first annual Adobe Walls Council Boy Scout Circus. Hundreds of people stopped their shopping and lined the streets to watch the Scouts display their best, which was nothing compared to the activities that took place at Recreation Park Saturday night. All troops, dens and packs were well represented.

BEOWULF AND THE DRAGON -- From the beginning of time, people have been afraid of dragons, but not Saturday night at the Boy Scout circus. A pack of Lefors Cub Scouts kept this one under control as hundreds of knights in shining armor filled the arena at Recreation Park Saturday night. It was a typical scene from Beowulf's time.

TEJAS INDIAN DANCES -- One of the most colorful presentations of the evening was the Tejas Indian Dancers from Borger. The Scouts, representing the one-time Great Plains roamers, performed three ceremonial dances to the tune of an Indian drum.

EXPLORERS, TOO -- Every kind of Scout in the book was on hand for the Circus Saturday night and above are some Explorer Scouts demonstrating their ability to dance. In a scene from the "Old West," Borger Explorer Scouts perform a square dance with the precision and confidence of the early-day settlers of the West.

Installation Held At 20th Century Culture Meeting

Twentieth Century Club held its final meeting of the club year recently in the home of Mrs. Warren Haase, 1704 Christine. Mrs. Joe Donaldson, president, led the business session.

The program, introduced by Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, was a book review by Mrs. Donaldson. She reviewed "A Woman of Texas" by Rebecca Richmond, the life story of Mrs. Perry C. Pennington. She came to Tyler as a teacher from Virginia, where she met and married Mr. Pennington. She was an active clubwoman, being elected president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in 1961. She was named president of the General Federation in 1912 and was reelected in 1914. She was active in all types of civic work.

Following the program, new officers were installed by Mrs. Helen Laycock of White Deer, a past president of the club. She used a wheel as a symbol of the club with the inscription "The Hub". Those installed were Mrs. L. J. Zachry, president; Mrs. J. L. Chose Jr., vice-president; Mrs. Doyle Osborne, secretary; Mrs. Jack Merchant, federation counsellor; Mrs. Joe Donaldson, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. W. Edminster, reporter; and Mrs. V. L. Hobbs, council representative.

Members present were Mrs. E. Jeff Bearden, J. L. Chase, J. R. Donaldson, J. W. Edminster, Frank F. Fata, H. H. Hahn, Warren Haase, E. L. Henderson, V. L. Hobbs, Rufe Jordan, Jack D. Merchant, Ed Eaton, Myles Morgan, Doyle Osborne, E. E. Sheehamer, Michael Wilson and L. J. Zachry.

IN RECITAL — Johnlyn Mitchell, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, will be presented in recital at 4 p.m. today in the Church of the Brethren by her piano teacher, Mrs. H. A. Yoder. She will present numbers by Haydn, MacDowell, Debussy, Bach, Heller and Chopin. (News Photo)

Miss Johnlyn Mitchell To Be Presented In A Piano Recital By Mrs. H. A. Yoder

Johnlyn Mitchell, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell, 328 N. Faulkner, will be presented in a piano recital at 4 p.m. today in the Church of the Brethren by her teacher, Mrs. H. A. Yoder.

Of special interest in her program will be Mozart's "Sonata in C Major," with Mrs. Yoder playing Greg's second piano accompaniment. Johnlyn will also play the first movement of Haydn's "Concerto in D." Her program will also include MacDowell's "Shadow Dance," and "Gollwog's Cakewalk" by Debussy, as well as compositions by Bach, Heller and Chopin.

Assisting with the recital will be Jan Williamson, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williamson of Amarillo. A speech pupil of Mrs. Guy Ballard of Amarillo, she will give two readings.

Johnlyn, a fourth-grade student in Horace Mann School, has won many honors during her four years of piano study. She has participated in the National Piano Auditions each year, the last three years preparing programs of 20 pieces. Each year she received an International Certificate and pin, with an attached report card indicating superior-plus ratings.

She has also won cash prizes, as well as first-rating gold medals for several years in the International Recording Festival, sponsored annually by the National Guild of Piano Teachers. She has been accompanist for two school operettas and has played for a wedding.

In March Johnlyn was soloist with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra, having won first place over 28 contestants from the area in her division in the student competition in February. She placed alternate in the same contest two preceding years.

The public is invited to attend this recital. Mrs. Yoder will present her other piano pupils in recitals slated for 8 p.m. in the Church of the Brethren Thursday and May 23.

Ohio Housewife Goes Back To School

By NEA Service — Springfield, Ohio — (NEA) — Mixing homemaking chores with study, a Springfield mother of three who was graduated from high school 17 years ago is taking her first college course at Wittenberg College in hopes of becoming an elementary school teacher some day.

While papa stays home with the children, Mrs. Fianona DeLong attends classes two nights a week in Wittenberg's new Cadet teacher training program.

Her story is not unique. She is one of about 29 women, most of them homemakers, who are participating.

"I had never thought much about teaching or attending college until the children came along," says Mrs. DeLong, "but my experience with them changed my whole outlook for I've enjoyed working and playing with them and teaching them — and I'd like to make a career of it."

And Mrs. DeLong will be able to bring a wealth of experience to the classroom, for her children's ages are one, four and 12.

As for her homework, Mrs. DeLong has a special technique. She places note cards and books at strategic points about her home, such as her ironing board, and studies while working.

It'll be four long years before she is ready to take her stand at the blackboard — but by that time all her own children will be in school, giving her the time she needs to teach.

But there is another side to her story. There is a critical need for elementary school teachers — and Mrs. DeLong will be helping to meet that crisis.

Mrs. W. H. Fuller Will Honor Pupils

Mrs. W. H. Fuller will honor her Dunning theory pupils with a tea at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the parlor of the First Baptist Church. To be honored are students who have completed assignments required by the National Music Teachers' Association, of which Mr. Fuller is a member.

Parents of the pupils will be special guests. Entertainment will consist of recital numbers.

Those completing the course of theory are Linda Arey, Doris Ann Bullard, Janis Hartson, Carolyn Jonas, Susie Lane, Marsha Marsh, Carol Jean McBroom, Darlene Riley, Elaine Tinsley and Sara White.

Leather Garments Rated Economical, Functional And Popular Spring Styles

Leather clothes still remembered as a rare luxury by our elders, this Spring are reaching very wide use in the medium-priced, ready-to-wear field. And that's no accident. Today garment leathers are much more functional than ever. They have undergone great technological improvements, such as new dyes that are dry-cleanable like any other garment, and grain leathers which can be sponged off with soap and water. Fashion designers and style authorities like leather garments, since they fit in admirably with the relaxed and informal pattern of modern living.

And that's why you'll find stores ready for spring selling with a variety of leather garments to suit any mood or occasion. They range from the most casual sportswear in shorts, pedal pushers and shirts, cuffed suits and coats, to evening halters and jackets.

Horace Mann PTA Gives Membership

Highlight of the recent meeting of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher Association in the school auditorium was installation of officers and the awarding of a life membership.

Mrs. F. H. Jernigan was installing officer. For the ceremony, she used the word, "Builders." to describe the officers. She stated that the letter "B" was for busy; "U" for unselfish; "I" for initiative; "L" for love; "D" for devoted; "E" for energetic; "R" for respect; and "S" for service.

Those installed were Mrs. Ott Shewmaker, president; Mrs. Edwin Hall, vice president; Mrs. John Mitchell, recording secretary; Mrs. A. L. Smiley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. M. Brooks, treasurer; Mrs. H. B. Ormson, historian; Mrs. Ralph Delashaw and Mrs. H. L. Meers, city council representatives; and Sam Begert, parliamentarian.

Recipient of the life membership award was Mrs. John Branhart. The presentation was made by Mrs. Edwin Hall, outgoing president. The installation service was introduced by Mrs. James Lewis, incoming president of the PTA City Council.

Following the meeting, mothers of children to enter school in the fall were honored with a tea. Hostesses were mothers of first grade students.

Spring Brinos Ideas Of Scents, Flowers

Men should catch on by now, but they never seem to until it's spelled out to them in two-dimensional diagrams.

They think of perfume for Christmas. But come springtime and we women start dropping bombshell hints like bunchy bouquets on the dining room table and suggestions for lingering walks through botanical gardens; do they get it? Seldom.

For it is really springtime that starts women thinking of perfume and cologne, bubble baths and flowers. What's the fun of a spring bonnet if there's just the same old baseball bat fragrance to wear with it?

Lead 'em to the counters, ladies. Point out the bottle. Call their secretaries or leave baffling notes at their shops. If all else fails, have it delivered to their sweat shops c.o.d. Let them figure it out.

For, to go with your new spring outfit, your new complexion, your new haircut, you really need a new fragrance.

One spot on the counter to which you might lead your lead-footed male is the one where there's violet perfume. A famous violet fragrance now comes out in a purse-sized flacon in a purple moire case that would slide right into a handbag with no fuss at all. And the tab-won't cause your husband to look at you reproachfully.

MRS. VERNON LAWRENCE

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

It's an old story about the girl who's putting the finishing touches on her make-up half an hour after her date has arrived. Most girls think they will be more appreciated if they keep a date waiting for them to make a grand entrance. Actually, no young man likes to sit and wait for a girl. And there is this for a girl to remember: While her date is cooling his heels he may be thinking about the girl he might have asked—who might have been ready on time.

Shopping For Gowns With Latest Lines Means Dressing Up All At One Time

By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor.

Trends in fashion this year demand special shopping techniques. Many women have discovered that their old habits, buying a skirt and three weeks later, a blouse, just won't work today.

The elongated lines of the tunics, overblouses and narrow suits make it impossible to coordinate everything unless you have everything right with you.

The makers of the primary items on a woman's shopping list — girdles and brassieres — have a few helpful hints on shopping amongst these new, flattering fashions.

The long smooth line, with its more subtle bosom, cannot be fitted over last year's bra and girdles. So if you're shopping for the latest look, go first to the foundation department and get yourself comfortable and well fitted there.

Then, when you go for your new suit or dress, wear your new undergarments. You may have been planning to save a pretty long-line bra for dress up, but force yourself to wear it when you try on dress-up clothes.

Then choose a slip, or slips, in the same color as your foundation whatever, but cut along the lines of your new outfit. If it has a fitted, high bosom, and many do, don't get a slip with bunchy tucks over the bosom.

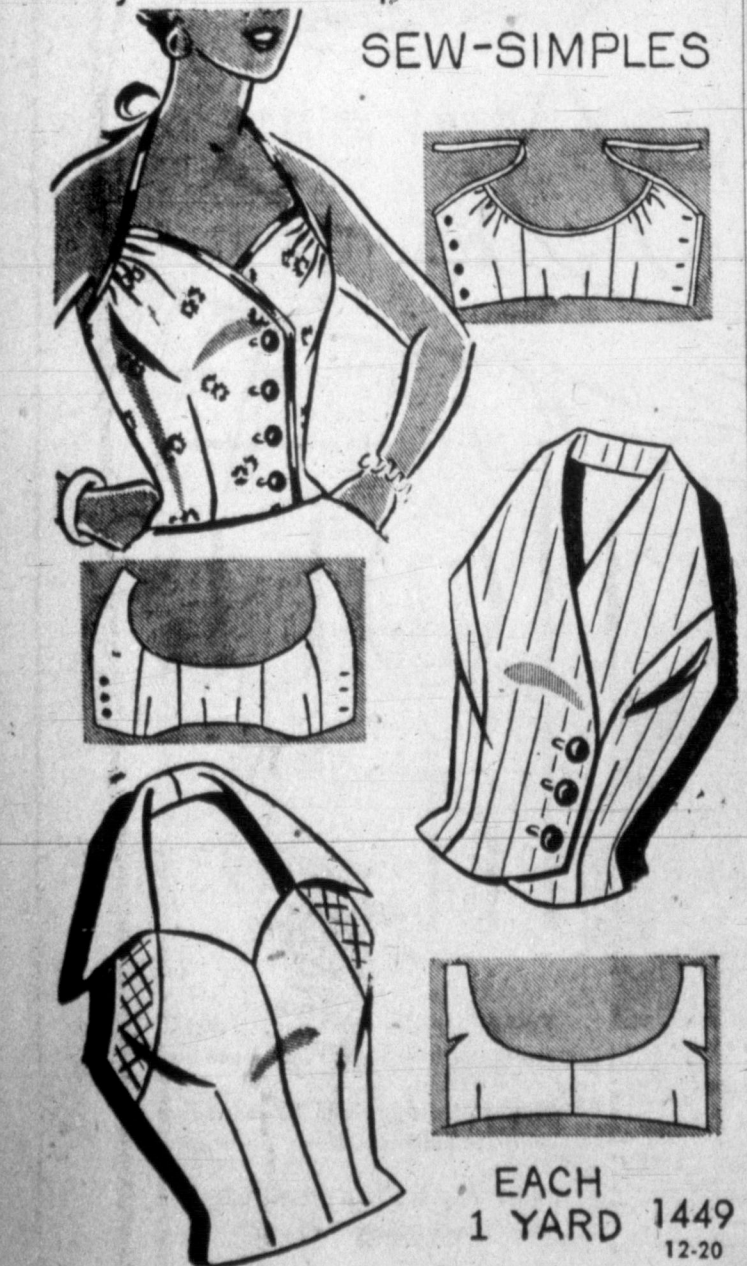

Then pick your stockings. Color is news in hosiery right now, so get it color coordinated to your dress or suit. Get shoes and handbag that complement the lines of your suit. If it has a couple fussy details, avoid them on your shoes.

Then the hat. Be sure you try it on with the rest of the outfit in place. A lucious concoction may look like a wedding cake with your particular suit.

Then, of course, you may gloomily contemplate your stacked-up bills. But you will be coordinated and this spring coordinated is another word for handsome.

Alfalfa, like most other legumes, grows best in a neutral to slightly alkaline soil.

Pretty Halters To Top Summer Skirts

Just about the most wonderful warm-weather sewing you'll find are these clever halter-blouses to wear with all your summer skirts. And they're sew-simple — even if you're just learning to sew you can complete each of this trio with ease and confidence.

Pattern No. 1449 is in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20. Size 14, 1 yard of 38-inch for each style.

Ladies Golf Group Presented Program By PHS Students

A group of Pampa High School dramatic students, under the direction of Miss Helen Schafer, presented the program for the Ladies Golf Association luncheon in the Pampa Country Club Friday.

Master of ceremonies was Miss Charlotte Hoggatt. On the program were Miss Mary Willis, who gave two pantomimes to records; B. D. Robison, who gave a reading on a "private eye;" Miss Hoggatt and Eddie Collum, in a record pantomime; and Miss Mary Ann Guthrie, who sang several selections, accompanied by Miss Carol Paxson.

The program was introduced by Mrs. H. H. Hicks, association president. Prior to the program, Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, a guest announced that the Pampa Association is eligible to compete with Babe Zaharias for National Golf Day, which is June 4. Charge per person is $1 and the proceeds are divided between the champion and the Red Cross. The group decided to hold the competition June 3, when the Pampa ladies are host to the Panhandle Ladies Golf Association.

The program for next week will be presented by the Paint, Pot and Piddle Club and will be on making jewelry and ceramics. Deadline for luncheon reservations is noon Thursday.

Twentieth Century Installs Officers

The spring luncheon of Twentieth Century Club was held recently in the Pampa Hotel with Mrs. Lloyd Hicks and Mrs. Raymond Harrah as hostesses. The table was centered with a large basket of pink peonies and each individual place was marked by a May basket.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Frank Culbertson. During the business session, Mrs. V. J. Jamieson reported $55.50 was netted on a bake sale held recently, with proceeds to go for books for the Lovett library.

Mrs. E. L. Campbell gave a report of the district convention in Snyder.

"All incoming presidents should attend a convention for the inspiration it affords those present," she stated.

Mrs. I. B. Hughey led a Federation quiz.

For the installation service, Mrs. George Vineyard, installing officer, used a theme of the stars of the sky. She pointed out that the president's job was like that of the North Star, "giving us all direction."

New officers are Mrs. E. L. Campbell, president; Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, secretary; Mrs. Jack Foster, treasurer; Mrs. R. H. Sanford, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. W. Stowers, critic; Mrs. Kirk Duncan, reporter; Mrs. George Vineyard, Council of Clubs representative; and Mrs. H. R. Thompson, federation councillor.

White Deer HD Club Told Group's History

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Mrs. Loyd Collis was hostess to the White Deer Home Demonstration Club recently. During the business session, plans were made for a tour of Amarillo. Mrs. L. O. Nicholson pointed out. The first program, "History of Home Demonstration."

"A man instigated the idea of home demonstration work," Mrs. Nicholson pointed out. The first club was organized at Terrell, Texas in 1903. Purpose of the organization is to educate rural women for the economical and practical side of homemaking.

Members attending were Mmes. Rick Ramming, Jack St. Clair, Lawson Shaw, Leon Nicholson, Glendon Young, J. A. Dooley, and Collis.

Julia Sue Reynolds And Gary Frashier United In Marriage During Home Rite

Miss Julia Sue Reynolds and Gary Evan Frashier of Lubbock were united in marriage at 8 p.m. May 7, in the home of the bride's parents, 420 N. Crest. Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated for the single-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Reynolds, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Frashier, 616 N. West.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white chantilly lace over white satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt was ballerina-length. Her shoulder-length veil of nylon net fell from a satin band, and she carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of red roses and satin and lace ribbon.

Miss Charlene Russell was maid of honor. She wore a blue tulle gown and a corsage of white carnations.

Lawrence Langwell served as best man.

The couple was married before an improvised altar of candelabra with white stock and gladioli.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue tulle suit with navy blue accessories. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a toast-brown linen suit with brown accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered by white tapers in crystal holders. The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Refreshments of punch, cake, nuts and mints were served.

Mrs. Billy Washington, sister of the bride, served the cake, and Mrs. James Lancaster, sister-in-law of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Guests were registered by Miss Glenda Dudley.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a white pique dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds. The couple will reside in Lubbock.

The bride attended Pampa High School, where she was a member of Future Homemakers of America and Tri-Hi-Y. The bridegroom was graduated from Pampa High School where he was a member of the Latin Club, Hi-Y, and Debate Club. He is a chemical engineering student at Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

MR. AND MRS. GARY FRASHIER

Tailored Suit Wear Can Be Overdone

One mature woman we know decided one day that she was tired of buying suits—and then spending three days in steady sewing to make them fit.

She announced that she was switching to dresses and that if anyone in her family had any objections, would they please speak up. No one said a word. They had gone through too many harrowing evenings when she couldn't make a zipper lie down correctly. They were glad.

This department frequently extols the tailored suit as becoming, conservative, safe wear for mature women. But this idea shouldn't be carried to the extreme that the tailored suit fan mentioned above did, before she changed her mind.

If there are hours of tedious labor involved in making a suit fit, it just isn't worth the eyesight and temper to look tailored. There are tailored dresses that do the job as well.

Don't feel that it's a hard and fast rule, even if all of the women you play bridge with wear tailored suits. Skirts and tailored blouses, shirtwaist dresses, jumpers with V necks can do the job well.

If you're just not happy if you don't have at least one suit in your wardrobe and ready-to-wear sizes won't mesh with your shape, make one yourself. Or, if you can make you one.

Manage the price, have a tailor. But don't, for the sake of common sense, beat yourself fit to a pulp to make something fit. It isn't worth it.

Fluffy, Clean Beds Stay Comfortable

A comfortable, fluffy, clean bed is much more conducive to restful sleep than a lumpy, sagging, or soiled one. Although most homemakers are adamant about seeing that sheets and pillowcases are kept snowy white, they often neglect the "unseen" — their mattress pads or mattress covers.

There is often a build-up of perspiration on mattress covers, hardly noticeable at first, but if it accumulates next to impossible to remove. Of course, it's far easier to keep them clean before they soil too badly than to try to clean them up once they are stained.

How often, then, should mattress pads and covers be washed? Ideally, the answer is at least once a month. By merely slipping one pad in with the week's washing, four beds can be taken care of each month. Since a mattress cover usually weighs about two pounds, the rest of the washload should be gauged accordingly. For cleaner washes, it's always best to underload.

Even the cleanest bed, however, will not provide a good night's sleep unless another "unseen" — the mattress and bedspring combination — is in good condition.

Level, resilient support is necessary to give every muscle in the body a chance to relax.

Regular Rest Gives Key To Good Looks

Take a tip from the high-fashion models: Make sleep part of your regular beauty routine. It's one of the most important factors in keeping your looks up to par.

As you mature, you may think that you need less sleep than you did when you were in your teens, and still growing.

This may be so, but not when it comes to your appearance.

Actually, as you add years, it's wise to add a little more to your sleep schedule. At least eight hours nightly (plus two or three nights per week with ten) helps lessen the strain of time and modern living. Even if you can't sleep that much, just relaxing in a comfortable bed combats the effects of fatigue — premature wrinkles, dried-up skin, listless hair and a scratchy disposition.

Without the natural benefits of regular rest, all the beauty aids you buy will fall short of their mark. There's more to "resting" than just meeting a slipp quota, though. If you put in your slumber time on a lumpy mattress or sagging bedspring, you'll never look or feel your best. That's why an investment in quality bedding (and replacement when necessary) is an investment in beauty.

Many decorators and baby experts recommend that Baby's room not have a carpet because it's hard to clean. But if your home has a cold floor or the people downstairs complain, put down something other than scatter rugs. They are dangerous in Baby's room.

Baby is interested in odd things. One Baby we know doesn't care for the abacus beads on his pen, but loves to flip up the metal catch that holds the pen solid. He may pinch his fingers, so best to bend it tight or tape it down.

GOODNESS! MAY IS ALREADY HALF GONE . . . time sure is flyin' . . . pretty soon Peg, Mr. Peg and the little Pegs will be gone and back from that vacation they've been looking forward to . . . sure hate to see time go by so fast . . . means Peg is getting older by the minute . . . sure hope the Little and PONY Leagues can get going Tues. day . . . our little one is so anxious . . . and he can't understand what rain has to do with it . . . sure glad we got some moisture this week . . . Peg sure likes this warm weather . . . loves to blossom out in nice fresh cottons . . . she isn't so happy at ironing time, though . . . but summer clothes just seems to be so feminine.

PEG SURE HATES TO SEE the end of club year . . . everyone on vacation . . . and a very slack social season . . . of course, it is the time for informal entertaining, which Peg likes, too . . . heard Marjorie Magee may go to Hawaii for her vacation . . . sure would be nice . . . did you know Nina Spoonmore has a player - piano? . . . quite the deal . . . sure a lot of installations this week . . . all the clubs are looking forward to a good year in the fall . . . have mighty capable women as presidents . . . Zenobia Holloway for 20th Century Forum . . . Nell Zachary for 20th Century Culture . . . Evelyn Nace for Varietas . . . Katie Key will be busy as presidents of Parent Ed and Council of Clubs . . . Mrs. J. B. Maguire Jr. for 20th Century Cotillion . . . Mrs. George Neef Jr. for Jay-Cee-Elite . . . Mrs. E. L. Campbell for 20th Century . . . Hattie Holt will lead the B & PW group . . . Sibyl Turner, AAUW . . . congratulations to all the new presidents.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK . . . No virtue is more universally accepted as a test of good character than trustworthiness (Harry Emerson Fosdick) . . . The first business of any democracy is to protect the Truth . . . for the protection of the Truth is protection of itself (Dorothy Thompson) . . . The people want to be told the truth. They want to be trusted. (Calvin Coolidge) . . . What is intended as a little white lie often ends up as a double feature in technicolor. (Madena R. Wallingford) . . . The ability to discriminate between that which is true and that which is false is one of the last attainments of the human mind. (Washington Irving) . . . It is proverbial that dishonesty retards spiritual growth and strikes at the heart of Truth. (Mary Baker Eddy).

HERE AND THERE . . . Peg liked the gay circus motif used on the table for the pre-school mothers tea at Sam Houston school . . . credit goes to Al Curry . . . her tables are always so original . . . Horace Mann PTA had a lovely tea, too . . . Mrs. Ed Hall looked so stunning in a white wide-brimmed hat . . . she is such an attractive woman . . . nice to see Mrs. Ott Shewmaker . . . as president . . . she is so capable . . . see pretty Sarah Parker around quite a bit . . . she's all aglow . . . going to be a June bride . . . glad to see Wynell Weathered back in town . . . another bride-to-be . . . had such a nice shower for her last week . . . Sally Butler's lovely daughter has been visiting her . . . Sally's two grandsons, too . . . Understand vivacious Mona Coberly was in town this week.

IF YOU'RE LOOKING for a good desert to serve for this time of year entertaining, Peg has one she thinks is delish . . . It's easy to make . . . and a frozen dessert which makes it nice and coolish . . .

- 1-4 pound marshmallows
- 1-3 cup evaporated milk
- 1-3 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
- 1-2 tsp. vanilla extract
- 2-3 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 2-3 cup evaporated milk, chilled icy cold

Melt marshmallows in the milk over hot water. Remove from heat and blend in chocolate bits. Stir in vanilla. Cool mixture until it begins to thicken. Line bottom of freezing tray with half the crumbs. Whip chilled milk stiff. Fold in cooled marshmallow mixture. Pour at once into freezing tray. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs and freeze immediately. Make 1 quart or six servings. Peg is sure you can put it in a fancier dish than a freezing tray for party fare . . . the idea is to get it frozen.

OUR OILERS SURE PLAYED a thriller - diller Thursday night . . . sure kept Peg on the edge of her seat . . . a big crowd there . . . Peg thinks the attendance has improved this year . . . sure hope it keeps up . . . we have to support the team to keep it here . . . and no Oiler baseball in Pampa would be awful . . . the game kept Peg pretty occupied, but she did spy Frank Dial . . . in a topcoat . . . Now, Frank . . . it wasn't that chilly! . . . also saw Aubra Nooncaster . . . Deck Woldt . . . Dr. Malcolm Brown . . . wonder if he ever misses a game . . . Neil Miller . . . Floyd Hunter.

PEG WOULD LIKE TO GIVE a word of commendation to the League of Women Voters . . . they are such a fine and energetic group . . . understand they are going to make a survey on the effects of world trade on local business . . . besides being interesting, it is really a service . . . to the community and to the country . . . the Leagues all over the country are doing the same thing . . . they are going to have a big day Thursday, too . . . some state officers are to be there . . . Hazel Hahn has done such a good job as president . . . and Mrs. A. D. Hills . . . who is very capable . . . is sure to carry on just as well this year . . . Laurels to a fine group of women doing a good job!

POTPOURRI . . . Understand the T. D. Phillips had a big week . . . their 25th wedding anniversary . . . their daughter's birthday . . . at least, that's what Peg was told . . . Wilma works for Dr. L. M. Hicks . . . heard Dr. and Mrs. Walter Purviance visited their daughter in Oklahoma this week . . . Martha Hopkins is going to graduate from the University of Texas in June . . . going to be bride, soon, too . . . heard somewhere that Betty Williams was chosen the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi at SMU . . . she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Williams . . . what a nice honor . . . the dream of many a college girl . . . Ed Nash was running around with a bewildered look the other day . . . trying to find out how to cook codfish . . . Come now, a New Englander ought to know that! . . . Frances Hoffness is still hibernating, pretty much . . . still working hard on her house . . . Peg is so anxious to see it after it's all finished . . . she and George have put out a lot of work on it.

A GROUP OF HIGH SCHOOL KIDS presented the cutest program for the ladies Golf Association luncheon . . . cute Charlotte Hoggatt introduced the numbers . . . Mary Wills gave a dramatic and a musical pantomime . . . Charlotte and Eddie Collum did an adorable musical pantomime . . . and attractive Mary Ann Guthrie sang two numbers . . . sure do like her on those blues songs . . . a good crowd again this week . . . spied Florence Esmond . . . Edwina Boyd . . . Mrs. Clifford Braly Sr. . . Mrs. Charles Hickman Sr. . . Mrs. H. W. Waddell . . . Nina Spoonmore . . . Libby Shotwell looking chic in a black and white suit and perky white straw hat . . . Mrs. I. B. Hughey . . . Mrs. Ivan Noblitt . . . Pearly Mitchell . . . Frances Cree . . . Mrs. Chester Thompson . . . Mrs. H. E. Schwartz . . . Lil Hall . . . Fay Palmer . . . Mrs. Ed Eaton . . . to name a few . . . and of course Teed Hicks . . . she's president.

48th Year Mrs. W. D. Waters Will Present Pupils In Piano Recitals Thursday And Friday

TO PERFORM — Miss Dixie Sue Rhoades, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Rhoades, 1149 N. Starkweather, will play "Hungarian" by MacDowell in Mrs. W. D. Waters' piano recital Friday. She will also play in a quartette with Mrs. George F. Collett, Miss Ramona Hudgins and Miss Carolyn Miller. Their number will be "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2" by Liszt.

Mrs. W. D. Waters will present by Russell, Jane Carter, Margie her piano pupils in two recitals this week in the First Assembly of God Church. The recitals are scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday.

Thursday, elementary and intermediate students will be presented. Solos, duos and quartets will be featured. In this recital, pupils doing ensemble work are Jean Prock, a pre-school pupil, who will play "March of the Wee Folk" (Gaynor) with her sister, Joyce Prock at the second piano. Other two-piano numbers are "Dream Waltz" (Nevin) by Patricia Rohde and Gloria Fulcher; "Wood Nymphs Frolic" (Aaron) by Sue and Tommie Thompson; "March of the Tiny Soldiers" (Munn) by Eddie Flood and Jackie Young; "Minuet from Don Juan" (Mozart) by Sami Sue Cook and Orveta Eldridge; "Vale of Song" (Rofe) by Gwen Carver and Sue Thompson; "Sontina in F Major" (Beethoven) by Jan Adams with Joyce Prock.

"Ten Little Indians" by Schaum will be a quartet number by Douglas Frick, San Williams, Johnny Robison, and Price Dosier III. A quartet by four intermediate students, "In the Procession" by Hewitt will be given by Mary Ellen Williams, Thad Wyatt, Karen Monahan and Jim Cook.

Others to play solos Thursday are Donna Hall, Linda Meech, Beverly Brown and Sandra Childers. Betty Lou Hogsett, guest vocalist, will sing "Indian Love Call" by Friml.

Junior high and high school pupils who will play Friday are Bety Russell, Jane Carter, Margie Nichols, Neville Eldridge, Brenda Brown, Beryl Nash, Patricia Jones, Linda McDonald, Bonnie Glaxner, Linda Steele Marcia Monahan, Ramona Hudgins, Carolyn Miller, Dixie Sue Rhoades and Sharon Cook Collett.

Beryl Nash will play "Concerto In C Major" by Williams, with Carolyn Miller at the second piano. Margie Nichols and Brenda Brown will also play a duet, "Spanish Folk Dance" by Howe. "Spanish Gypsy Dance" by Decevee will be presented by Linda Steel and Bonnie Glaxner.

Other two piano numbers will include Haydn's "Concerto In D Major" by Linda McDonald, with Patricia Jones at the second piano; Ramona Hudgins playing Williams' "Concerto In A Minor" with Marcia Monahan at the second piano; and Sharon Cook Collett presenting "Concerto In G Minor" by Mendelssohn, with Carolyn Miller at the second piano.

A quartet "Country Gardens" by Percy Grainger will be played by Linda Steele, Patricia Jones, Linda McDonald, and Bonnie Glaxner. Another quartet, "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 1" by Liszt, will be played by Sharon Collett, Dixie Rhoades, Carolyn Miller and Ramona Hudgins.

Guest vocalist will be Jim Austin, junior high choral director. He will sing "Rain and the River" by Fox and "Me and My Little Banjo" by Dichmont. Miss Carol Paxson will be accompanist.

The public is invited to attend both recitals.

IN RECITAL — Mrs. George F. Collett, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook, 1811 Charles, and Carolyn Miller, right, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Loving, 1308 Charles, will perform in Mrs. W. D. Waters' recital Friday. Mrs. Collett will play Mendelssohn's "Concerto in G Minor," with Miss Miller at the second piano. Both will also play in a piano quartet with Miss Dixie Sue Rhoades and Miss Ramona Hudgins.

RUTH MILLET

In June she will finish high school. In July she will be 18. She is giving serious thought to the idea of marrying a boy who finished high school a year ago and has been working for a year. If she does she and the boy will get married and then tell her parents, for she is sure they will "raise the roof" if she tells them of her plans.

But here is the most significant statement in her letter: "The reason I'm so anxious to get married is that I'm not happy at home. My parents are so strict I am fed up with living at home. If I get married, then I'll be my own boss."

Every year a lot of young girls marry for no better reason than that they want to escape from parents they think don't understand them or from homes that are unhappy.

Sometimes these "escape" marriages succeed. But more often than not the marriage made to escape unhappiness turns out to be an unhappy marriage.

If you don't want to risk messing up your own life and making your parents unhappy, how about taking time to think about your future, about what you owe yourself and what you owe your parents.

You certainly owe them your confidence. So if you are determined to marry — don't run away. At least give them a chance to try and understand.

Now for your duty to yourself. It is difficult for any girl to know at 17 either what kind of man she wants for a lifetime partner or what kind of marriage she wants.

Furthermore, trying to escape an unhappy home situation is a poor basis for a marriage with anyone.

So why not try to work things out with your parents to make your relationship with them happier. If you can't work that out, how do you ever hope to work out all the problems that marriage will bring you?

There will be plenty of time to think of marriage when you are ready to think of marriage as an end in itself — not as a means of escape.

They were Mrs. J. H. Trotter, president; Mrs. Homer Miller, vice president; Mrs. B. E. Tidwell, secretary; Mrs. Evan Jones, treasurer; Mrs. A. D. Selman, historian; Mrs. Elmer Darnell, parliamentarian.

Installing officer was Mrs. W. L. Bossa, outgoing president of the PTA City Council.

TO BE MARRIED

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Smithhisler, west of city, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jan, to James E. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Gibson, 1306 E. Frederic. Vows will be exchanged June 30, in Holy Souls Catholic Church with Rev. Myles P. Moynihan, C. M., officiating. (Photo by Quall's Pampa Studio)

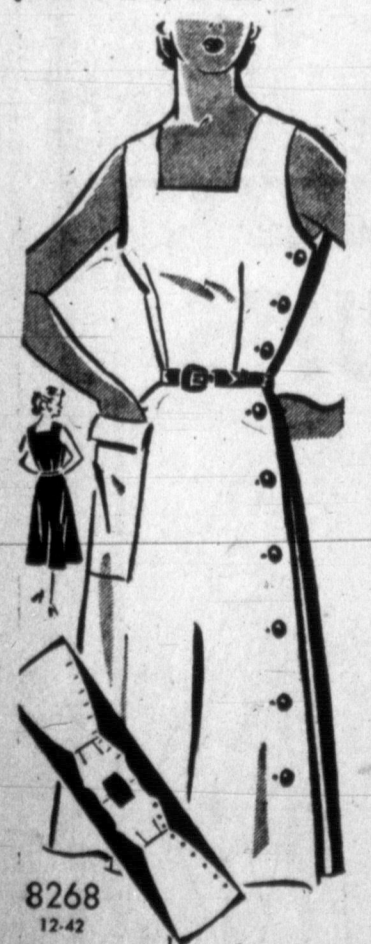

Vacations Are Made Easier By Luggage Light In Weight And Suited To Occasion

By GAILE DUGAS
NEW YORK — (NEA) — How many pieces of luggage did you take with you on your last trip? Were you loaded down with three heavy cases you got as a gift 10 years ago for a birthday or anniversary. If you were, it's time for a look at what's happening with luggage. Far lighter weight, for one thing. Even 10 years ago, a woman's wardrobe case was so heavy empty that it wasn't easy to lift. Add clothes to this weight and she couldn't possibly walk from house to taxi without two men and a boy to handle the luggage. And that wasn't all. She needed more than just that one wardrobe case. If may have been impressively heavy but it wasn't planned to hold much. So she had to have a train case for her cosmetics and possibly a suitcase or another case in addition. The new lightweight luggage means that a woman can easily carry her own case, if need be. And any woman who's been stuck at airport or railroad station with no porter about knows what this means. The new luggage is considerable of you in other ways. Luggage designers have come to plan cases for certain periods of time. That is, one new case is designed to hold everything a woman needs for a two weeks' vacation. Other pieces are similarly planned.

whether for a week end, a week or just overnight. And these new pieces are the ultimate in efficiency. One new case, for instance, separates in two compartments. The top part you hang up for packing. This will hold up to eight dresses. The bottom part lies flat for packing shoes, accessories and cosmetics plus all the other needed odds and ends. Into the hanger section you can put four dresses, two jackets and skirts, a beach robe and a light, unlined coat. The flat section will take a good-sized cosmetic kit, six pairs of stockings, travel slippers and robe, lingerie, two bathing suits and swim cap, shorts, two blouses and sweater, flats and evening shoes, jewelry, scarves and handkerchiefs.

Cook's Nook

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

If you are planning an engagement luncheon or supper, then this chicken a la king in green bean and rice ring is just to your order. Joan Rock, one of the country's outstanding food experts, gave it to us.

Chicken a la King in Green Bean and Rice Ring

(Makes 4 or 5 servings)
Chicken: 1-4 cup flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 3-4 spoon salt, few grains pepper, 3-4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 3-4 teaspoon paprika, 1 can (6 ounces) broiled mushrooms, approximately 2 cups milk, 2 to 3 cups diced leftover chicken, 1-3 cup diced pimiento, 1 cup cooked or canned peas.

Melt butter or margarine; blend in flour, salt, pepper, monosodium glutamate and paprika. Drain liquid from mushrooms into measuring cup; add milk to make 2 cups; add to first mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Add mushrooms, chicken, pimiento and peas. Heat.

Rice Ring: One cup uncooked rice, 2 1/4 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1 (No. 2) can (1 pound) cut green beans, 2 1-4 to 3 cups chicken a la king, 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, salt, to taste.

Cook rice with water, salt and 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate until tender and all water is absorbed. Spoon a layer of rice into bottom of well-oiled, 8-inch ring mold. Heat beans in their liquid. Use remaining rice and hot beans alternately to fill mold level full. Place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) to heat through. Heat chicken with monosodium glutamate; add salt if needed. Turn mold out upside down on hot platter. Fill center with hot chicken mixture.

Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained guests and members with a "Squaw Party" recently in the City Club Room.

Decorations were Indian spears. Those attending wore squaw dresses and Indian jewelry. As members and guests arrived, they were presented Indian headbands, and nametags inscribed with Indian names.

Competitive games, such as charades and orange passing were played. Feathers for the headbands were awarded the winning groups. Refreshments of soft drinks and cookies were served from a buffet decorated with Indian items.

Following the social period, a short meeting of prospective pledges was held.

Hostesses were Mmes. Clifton McNeely, Thelma Bray, Howard Buckingham Jr. and P. Stewart. Guests were Mmes. Harold Meador, Dwayne Lyon, Ralph Milliron, George Neef Jr., Howard Ray Johnson, Harold Anderson, Orville Lewis, James Matlock, June Griffith, Roy Johnson, Jimmy Terrell, Betty Chadwick, Jack Jordan, Vernon Bell, George Hauser, Trice, Barbara Pittsenbarger; and Jan Hughey, Earl Luther, J. GS Day Camp Registration Ends Monday

Registration for Girl Scout Day Camp, to begin May 30, totalled 211 by Saturday morning, according to Mrs. Herman Brown, assistant director. She added that a total registration of 250 is expected by the registration deadline Monday.

Fifteen Senior Scouts, who will act as program aides, will spend both day and night at Camp Mel Davis, near Lefors, during the Day Camp period.

The girls, along with their leaders and mothers helping with the camp, will leave the GS Little House each day at 8 a.m. and return at 2 p.m. Transportation will be provided by three buses and cars, if needed. June 3, the last day of camp, the girls will leave at 2 p.m. to prepare a camp-fire visitation program for their parents, slated to begin at 6 p.m.

A pre-camp orientation is planned Friday for leaders and mothers helping with camp at Camp Mel Davis. Mrs. Herb Wilson of

Mobeetie HS Banquet Has French Theme

MOBEETIE — (Special) — The Junior-Senior banquet for Mobeetie High School was held recently in Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church. The Hall was decorated in the colors of both classes. Seasoned cut-flowers decorated the tables.

Mac Shelton of the junior class was master of ceremonies and gave the welcome. Bobby Galmor from the senior class gave the response. Speakers for the occasion were three teachers, L. R. Reaves, Mrs. J. H. Scribner and James E. Banks.

Borger, camp director, will be in charge. The women will become acquainted with the camp and the program, and choose unit home sites. They will leave the GS Little House at 9 a.m. and return at 2 p.m.

Those in charge of Day Camp, in addition to Mrs. Wilson, are Mrs. Brown, assistant director; Mrs. Marian Osborne, business manager; Mrs. Buri Lewter, camp counselor; Mrs. W. F. Walsh, registered nurse; Mrs. A. L. Smiley, program director; and Mrs. Fern Dawson, registrar.

Lamar PTA Has Installation Service

Mrs. Rufe Jordan installed new officers for the Lamar Parent-Teacher Association at a recent meeting.

Those installed were Mrs. Nolan Cole, president; Mrs. Floyd Barrett, vice president; Mrs. J. B. Rasco, secretary; Mrs. Ed Gentry, treasurer; Mrs. C. T. Rasco, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Shirley Nickols, historian.

Mrs. Cole was elected president to replace Mrs. Kenneth Cambern, who is moving from Pampa.

Spical music was provided by the school choir, under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Lauderdale.

Following the program, mothers of children to enter school in the fall were special guests at a tea.

Baby will delight in cooked ground beef. He seems to know that he has to chew it well, but he enjoys every mouthful. Just break apart the pieces as it cooks in the pan and let him at it.

Confusion In Far East

The recent remarks on the floor of the Senate by Sen. William Jenner, Indiana Republican, in connection with the circumstances of our nation's status in the Orient and his resolution that would halt further surrender of the territory of free nations to Communist nations, deserve full consideration.

The air is full of foreboding that a carefully laid plan is under way for the United States to give up bit by bit its commitments in the Formosa Strait. We sense that the decisive moment is close at hand.

Since the passage of the Formosa Resolution by a nearly unanimous vote, the policy embodied in that resolution, of drawing a line which the Red Chinese armed forces were not to cross, has been undermined by a series of simple-seeming but really very skillful steps to remove the props on which it rests.

The appeasers are cleverly trying to change the Formosa Resolution from a courageous stand on the world conflict with Communism, to a minor difference of opinion about a few little islands off the coast of Asia.

This planned shrinkage of a major world crisis to a minor border clash is back of the proposals to ask for a cease-fire, to send the question to UN, to let UN set up two Chinias, to hold a plebiscite, and to ask our allies to help guard Formosa.

Everyone of these proposals was designed to belittle the Formosa question, and to get us to consent to surrender by implying we were debating a minor adjustment involving no decisive issue. As Senator Jenner said:

"The issue in the Formosa Strait is not a few islands. Formosa is an outpost on the boundary line which protects the free world. This line marks the limits behind which those who oppose Communism are safe. If the line breaks at Formosa the whole free world is imperiled, and in retreat. All the Asian nations which live on the borders of the Soviet Empire — Japan, the Philippines, Southeast Asia, and Pakistan, know their security is in peril. All the frontier nations in Europe read the warnings the same way. Surrender at Quemoy will shake Formosa to its foundations, tell Austria it has no hope, warn Italy it is now on the crumbling frontier, tell France it is the next victim."

"As our Minority Leader said in Indianapolis, 'Quemoy and Matsu are outposts as important as the island of Berlin. When the Communists attempted to blockade Berlin, why did we resist? We did not retreat because a retreat from Berlin would have endangered the entire frontier of freedom in the West. Retreat would have weakened the morale of our supporters behind the Iron Curtain and in the line of fire.'

"How absurd to judge the importance of a battle by the size of the battlefield! Bunker Hill was only a hillock. Valley Forge was only an encampment. Thermopylae was only a mountain pass. They were portentous because two worlds, two ways of thinking, faced each other in mortal combat, and the issue was victory or death."

"If surrendering a few islands will avoid a world war, why not surrender Hong Kong to Red China? Why not surrender Berlin to East Germany? Why not give Denmark to the Soviet Union? It will ease her tension for the moment! But if we start to retreat at Quemoy, where do we end our object surrender?"

"Americans are on the side of Free China, because Free China shares our belief in the dignity of man. Free China has been fighting to hold back the onslaught of the modern Genghis Khan since 1927."

"We have pledged our word to Free China again and again. Only a few weeks ago our Navy was assigned to help in removing the pitiful inhabitants of the Tachen Islands whose families had lived on their rocky fields for centuries. We were told the move was necessary to straighten the line that marked our outposts. If that was not a commitment to help guard the corrected line, including Quemoy and Matsu, I do not know what a commitment is."

"Since the end of the Second World War the Communists have started three wars against legally established governments in Asia — first against Nationalist China, second against the Republic of Korea. In the third war against Indo-China, their legions were moved from North Korea to South China. They helped seize half of Viet Nam and enslaved millions of human souls. Now they boast of plans for a fourth war in Asia, and we know the fourth war will not be the last. They will hold our American prisoners-of-war in common jails in spite of their specific agreement, in the cease-fire settlement, to return all prisoners-of-war. On what grounds does anyone dare ask America to appease these bandits?"

The United States has been slow to use its power in every crisis in Asia. Like Gulliver in Lilliput, its great strength has been pinned down by men too small for it to notice. I will not go into the question of what is responsible. This is a time for Americans to agree so far as they can find agreement.

Our problem today is to make sure our strength will not be pinned down again, if the Communists start a fourth war in Asia. We must find a way to lock the stable, before the horse is stolen. We must have a formula to prevent surrender or appeasement, so clear, so simple, so self-executing, that no hidden appeasers can pervert it.

I offer here a resolution to that end. It rests on the belief that the Communists will never stop their militant aggression until our country is destroyed. It rests on the belief that there is a moral difference between the Soviet philosophy and that of the free nations, not only in political difference or an economic difference, but a difference in the meaning of promises and agreements and truth, a difference in the way human life is to be valued. We compromise on such issues at our peril.

"It follows, I believe, that we cannot in our national interest, surrender a single square foot of free land to Communist rule, so long as that rule is inhuman tyranny. We cannot morally subject a single free man to Communist rule so long as that rule is human slavery."

"My proposal is simple. I propose that no official of our civil or military establishment shall participate, in any way, in any act which has the purpose or effect of surrendering either territory or people now part of the Free World. I propose that if any American official does participate in any such agreement, his acts are not binding on the government and the people of the United States."

How About Academic Freedom? As colleges grow and more and more of the youth come to believe that they can get an education at colleges, it is rather important that we have a clearer understanding of what academic freedom really means.

I just read a book called "Academic Freedom" by Russell Kirk. It had its first printing in February, 1955 and its second printing in March, 1955. Professor Kirk also wrote "The Conservative Mind" in 1953.

He is not listed in "Who's Who." He had an article in July of 1952 in The Contemporary Review under the heading of "The Moral Conservatism of Hawthorne." In this article he listed his address as Michigan State College, so he has evidently been associated with a state college. It seems impossible to believe that a man who is a professor at a state college could really understand a conservative mind or the true meaning of academic freedom. However, in his book Kirk realizes that a great many professors in colleges are not entitled to academic freedom, because they are not seekers after truth. As he says, they do not seem to realize that "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

That statement does not make a great deal of sense unless one realizes that one of the meanings of fear, even according to Webster's dictionary, is profound reverence. Goodspeed translates this "The practice of wisdom is reverence for the Lord. It is good judgment in all to practice it."

So why teacher who has reverence for God's laws or nature's laws is not entitled to respect for his opinions. But academic freedom certainly does not mean that any institution, whether it be the state or an endowed institution, should continue to keep a person on its payroll when he fails to have reverence for God or truth.

Generally speaking, academic freedom seems to mean that a teacher is entitled to tenure whether the party employing him believes he is getting value received or not. That kind of "academic freedom" is nothing but a racket.

In his book Professor Kirk observes: "Academic freedom, in short, belongs to that category of rights called 'natural rights,' and is expressed in custom, not in statute."

"It is, rather, a moral system applied to jurisprudence; a body of belief in certain rights long established by custom and prescription, and found by the test of time to accord with human nature and civil social nature. Most adherents to natural-rights theory believe that the original impulse toward these moral rights came from a source more than natural and more than human, if by 'natural' and 'human' is meant simple utility and private interest; but the particular form which the search after natural law has taken are the product of human experience in history, supported by the franchises of what the ancients call 'the democracy of the dead'—that is, the considered opinion of the innumerable good and wise men who lived before our time. These are rights which rise superior to particular governments and particular states; and if some arrogant political authority, or some presumptuous generation, ignores them, that the original impulse may justly obey the natural law in defiance of the ephemeral law that is set up in opposition to the moral traditions of the race and the historic experience of society."

"If academic freedom exists anywhere, then it exists in the realm of natural rights and social conventions sanctioned by tradition; and if theorists deny the reality of natural law, logically they must deny the reality of academic freedom."

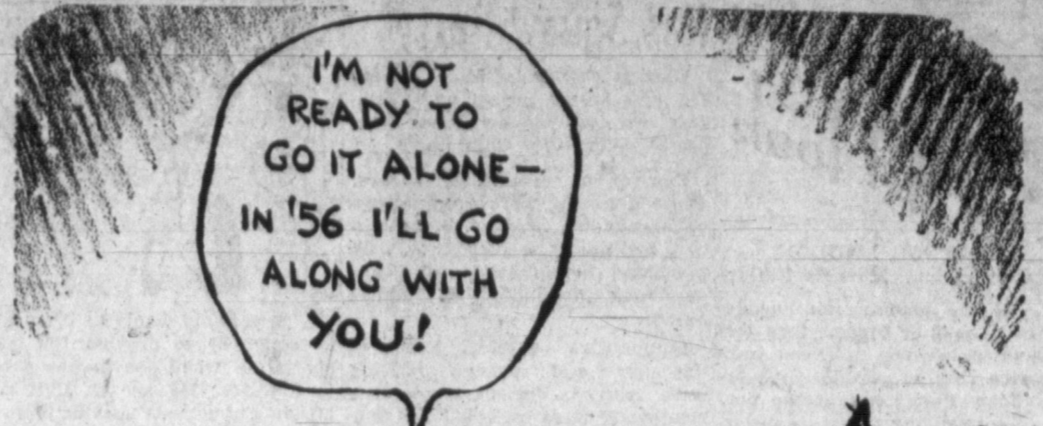

Deologue And Governments
"Far from believing that the silence of an articulate voice of some sovereign invalidates the idea of academic freedom, I am convinced that academic freedom is all the more real and valuable because it finds its sanction in moral belief and ancient usage. The very Deologue, after all, is only partially and imperfectly recognized by the positive laws of modern states."

That is about what this column has been preaching in season and out — that governments, especially those pertaining to education, do not recognize the Deologue — "thou shalt not covet" and "thou shalt not steal." And if one believes in cause and effect, that the means predetermines the end, it is impossible to believe that any activity of any government — local or national — that violates the Deologue can produce results that will promote spiritual and intellectual development and peace and prosperity.

Professor Kirk continues: "Our dearest liberties and privileges are conferred upon us much. And there is another point. New York, for example, has more than 700 conventions booked for 1955. Of that number only 10 percent will be attended by as many as 500 persons. The other 90 percent will range all the way down to 75 people. It is difficult to see what the Government hopes to do about the convention scramble, except of telling the hotels which conventions they must take and the conventions what cities they must go to."

What is not clear is how owning five hotels instead of four in New York and two instead of one in three other cities will upset the

OUR POLITICAL DISEASE

With the "red fringe" screaming demands that President Eisenhower take "an open stand against the Bricker amendment"—a repetition of presidential forensics that hardly seems necessary in view of last year's performance—it appears that the treaty-curbing amendment may be in for some rough going. This year we have additional executive interference in the form of White House orders preventing Secretary of State Dulles from giving testimony on the amendment.

Nor is the situation helped or clarified any by some of the once conservative Senators, columnists, and commentators who have professed to favor the Bricker amendment. Among them are men who have spent the best years of their lives taking the hide of FDR, Harry Truman, and Dean Acheson, but who recently have become apologists for Mr. Eisenhower who appears to be doing his level best to carry out the policies laid down by FDR, Harry Truman, and Dean Acheson.

Such confusion is symptomatic of a political disease which afflicts people who are obsessed with party labels, political expediency, hero worship, and bandwagon riding. When Mr. Eisenhower reaffirms his "open stand" against the Bricker amendment, as he undoubtedly will unless it is sufficiently watered down to meet his internationalist complex, certain Senators, columnists, and commentators will find themselves in an exceedingly uncomfortable predicament.

Look To House

Urgently as we need the Bricker amendment in its very strongest version, perhaps we should avert our eyes from that embarrassing spectacle for the moment and take a look at the House of Representatives. At least two House members have shown spine-stiffening action which merits the support of every American who cherishes the Constitution and wishes to preserve the freedom and sovereignty of this Republic.

On January 31, 1955, Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R., N. D.) introduced in the House of Representatives H. R. 3296, a bill "To rescind and revoke membership of the United States in the United Nations and the specialized agencies thereof, and for other purposes."

H. R. 3296 further provides that all appropriations for the UN and its agencies be rescinded; that the International Organizations Immunities Act of December 29, 1945, be repealed; and that any and all Executive orders extending or granting immunities benefits and privileges under said Act be rescinded, revoked, and held for naught.

Unusual Courage
Rep. Burdick, a Republican, could not be unaware of our supposedly Republican President's passionate devotion to the United Nations and other international organizations. Mr. Eisenhower has made his internationalism quite clear, both in his book "Crusade in Europe" and in practically every public utterance since he became President. It must, therefore, have required unusual courage for a Re-

The Doctor Says

Does a brain tumor always show in an X-ray film? How does a brain tumor affect a person? These are questions recently received which raise the question of brain tumors in general.

In answer to these specific questions it should be said that a brain tumor may not show in an X-ray film and other tests are always necessary. What symptoms result from a brain tumor depend on the location of the tumor and its size. Many tests are available but a high degree of skill and training in diagnosis is necessary before a brain tumor can be diagnosed and its location determined.

MOST OF US never develop a brain tumor but it is helpful to know that the diagnostic methods have so greatly improved in recent years that the chances of a successful operation are better now than ever before.

Much of the credit for the great progress in this field goes to the pioneer nerve and brain surgeon, the late Dr. Harvey Cushing. His long and painstaking studies on human beings and animals played a large part in developing new methods of surgical treatment of the nervous system. Many others have made their contributions too, and though one does not like to think of it, the casualties of both world wars made possible the development of new techniques which have greatly speeded the progress of neurosurgery.

ASIDE FROM WARTIME injuries there are a number of conditions for which this kind of operation may be needed. Accidents can happen in peacetime and if a portion of the skull is crushed in, the relief of pressure and other measures used by brain surgeons can, and often has been, lifesaving. Many brain tumors also can be operated on successfully and this, as is easy to imagine, is a complicated affair. First, the location in the brain must be determined.

US Role In World Affairs Changed Sharply Recently

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The United States' role of leadership in world affairs has been changed subtly but sharply by recent events abroad, even though the effect may not become evident immediately. Russia has likewise suffered a diminution of influence from the impact of similar pressures in her sphere.

Until today, Washington and Moscow have been the two great citadels of world power. Through coercion or persuasion, or by appeals to self-interest, the White House and the Kremlin have shaped other nations' policies since World War II. They have aligned the world into two hostile and opposing factions.

Indeed, Prime Minister Nehru of India charges that the U.S. has "dictated" to small countries needing our military or financial aid in the cold war. He considers our system of "alliances" as dangerous as Communist "conquests." And there has been enough substance to the indictment for several countries to decline our offers of help.

Russia, on the other hand, has resorted to open invasion, subversion and infiltration. She controls her satellites with an iron hand. She binds China, North Korea and North Indo-China to her with ideological and material ties. She has opposed the American-inspired NATO with a military grouping of Central European and Balkan powers.

This alignment of the U.S. versus the U.S.S.R. will undoubtedly continue, although forthcoming peace talks may lessen the tension. The relief may be only temporary, in view of Moscow's "zigzag" policy. She may be on the warpath whenever she thinks the moment opportune.

Nevertheless, both the American and Russian power to dominate is waning. Within the month, West Germany regained full sovereignty, and Austria may soon become united and independent. Japan is beginning to develop her own commercial and diplomatic interests, and American direction, including closer relationships with Communist China, Russia and their allies in Southeast Asia.

The 29 Afro-Asian nations which convened at Bandung have become more articulate in their resistance to American or Russian "colonialism." They may eventually organ-

THE NATION'S PRESS

ROOM SERVICE, PLEASE

The government's anti-trust suit against the Hilton Hotel Corporation may have some sound legal aspects to it for all we know, but it certainly has some puzzling ones.

Hilton last fall acquired the Statler chain of hotels in nine cities. Hilton already had fifteen hotels in eleven cities in the country.

Now, the Government suit does not say that it had for the Hilton people to have a total of 25 hotels in sixteen cities. What it says is that it had for the Hilton people to have certain hotels in certain cities. The Government says that to own certain hotels in certain cities will lessen competition, especially in the business of handling national and regional conventions.

So the Government wants the court to order Hilton to get rid of the Statler hotels it acquired in New York, Washington, D. C., St. Louis and Los Angeles. It's all right for Hilton to keep the ones in Boston, Hartford, Buffalo, Cleveland and Detroit.

One thing that puzzles us about the suit is its choice — a number aspect. Before the Statler chain was bought the Hilton people owned four hotels in New York City. Is it all right to own four hotels and all wrong to own five in a city with 25 hotels equipped to handle "big" conventions?

Hilton owned only one hotel each in Washington, St. Louis and Los Angeles before Statler sold. Now Hilton owns two in each city. Is it all right to own four hotels in New York, but all wrong to own two in the other cities?

In Chicago, the biggest convention town of all these western Statler hotels for Hilton to acquire. But Hilton already owned two hotels there. Is it all right to own two hotels in Chicago and all wrong to own two in Los Angeles, Washington and St. Louis?

Another thing that puzzles us is the Government worry about the convention business. There are all sorts of conventions: large ones, small ones, middle-sized ones. A lot of them go year after year to the same hotel in the same town. Others like to move about the country. Cities and hotels bid for conventions. And it doesn't seem to make much difference to the conventioners who might own the hotel but only how it is run.

BID FOR A SMILE

It is really desirable to have the table and chairs higher, it would seem to be much more sensible to call in a furniture-maker and have him fit them with longer legs — which, of course, is exactly what free enterprise does. Only collectivism, in its various forms, employs uneconomic means to lift and hold things higher than they would be otherwise.
