Alaska, Hawaii Statehood Appears To Be A Dead Issue

WASHINGTON — UP — Key committee chairmen said Wednesday there is little chance of reviving legislation to grant statehood to Hawaii and Alaska at this session of Congress. A combined bill to make the two territories states suffered an apparent death blow late Tuesday when the House voted 218 to 170 to send it back to the interior committee. Statehood supporters discussed the possibility of splitting the bill and asking the House to vote on each territory separately. But the outlook was dark. Chairman Clair Engle (D-Calif.) of the House Interior committee said the House vote was quite decisive against a combined bill and raised "grave doubts" of whether separate bills for either area would be approved if sent to the floor. No Senate Action Seen Chairman Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) of a Senate Interior subcommittee which held hearings on a similar combined bill said there probably will be no Senate action as a result of the House vote. He said the Senate passed a combined bill last year and probably would not accept separate measures. House opponents of the combined bill argued that Communists were influential in Hawaii, that Alaskans could not support statehood and that the founding fathers never intended that unattached areas should become states. Statehood supporters answered that a promise of statehood was implied when the territories were given incorporated governments and that the United States should show the rest of the world that it favors self-government in territorial areas. Other developments: The House Banking committee postponed Wednesday's scheduled questioning of Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele on delays in the Salk polio vaccination program. Scheele notified the committee he was busy helping prepare a report to the President on distribution of the vaccine.

House Investigators Have All-Star Cast Of Witnesses

By LLOYD LARRABEE AUSTIN — UP — The House special committee investigating the veterans land program, in what was expected to be its last public meeting before submitting a report, had an all-star cast of witnesses Tuesday night — Gov. Allan Shivers, and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Both denied responsibility for the scandals and irregularities that have rocked the $100 million program. Both testified under oath, first Shivers for 35 minutes; then Shepperd for 37 minutes. Shivers renewed his defense of the idea behind the program and again expressed his regret that "certain people saw in the law a situation they could take advantage of...for their own personal gain..." Protests About Reports Shepperd protested that there had been "greatly exaggerated" reports about his visit to the Minnesota farm of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles. The attorney general also reviewed for the House committee the general investigation into the program. He said Texas grand juries have returned 278 indictments, including nine returned by a Guadalupe county grand jury Tuesday. Giles, who with Shepperd and Shivers made up the Veterans Land Board, has been named in two criminal indictments growing out of veterans land scandals. He resigned at the beginning of a new term as land commissioner last Jan. 1. His Minnesota land holdings have figured in the various and continuing investigations of the Veterans Land Board. Shepperd, on specific invitation

House conference committee charged the Senate's amended version of the administration's foreign trade bill will restrict rather than promote world trade. There were indications the House group will stand fast against the Senate amendments unless the President says specifically he does not object to the changes. He was accompanied by his two sons, said Shepperd, and "spent maybe an hour or an hour and a half—it may have been an hour but I doubt if it were an hour and a half" at the Giles farm near Crookston, Minn. Burckett asked: "Was that the only time you ever visited Mr. Giles in Minnesota?" Shepperd answered: "Yes, it was the only time I was ever in Mr. Giles home, and he's never been in mine." Both Shivers and Shepperd were questioned closely by Burckett about an April 27 meeting of the Veterans Land Board when the governor and attorney general repudiated minutes of more than 100 previous board meetings. The minutes covered meetings when specific approval was given to certain block transactions. The minutes said the governor and attorney general, or their representatives, gave their approval. Repudiate Minutes Shepperd and Shivers repudiated those minutes. But none of the previous minutes were "obliterated," Shivers said Tuesday night; only corrected by being stamped with a notation in red ink pointing out that they were incorrect in making reference to the April 27 meeting. Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, one of the principal Senate investigators of the land program, was a spectator at the House committee session Tuesday night. Read The News Classified Ads.

$65 Taken In Pampa Break-In

A break-in at the Play More Enterprises, 213 W. Tuke, sometime Tuesday afternoon netted $65 in cash, according to Police Chief Jim Connor. The cash — two $20 bills, one five, a roll of quarters, and 10 singles — was taken from a box underneath the counter.

A language that is whistled, not spoken, flourishes in the Canary Islands, says the National Geographic Society. On hilly Gomera, people must communicate across long distances, and whistling carries better than shouting. By a series of higher and lower tones, pauses, intonations and stresses, a whistler can communicate.

VACCINE

(Continued From Page One) heightens the distribution problems which may occur when the vaccine is released on the commercial market. On the CBS television program, "See It Now," Scheele said Tuesday night there has been "absolutely no evidence to show any doubt in the vaccine—it is a wonderful vaccine." He said the number of children who came down with polio after being vaccinated is not unusual in comparison with preliminary tests in 1954. A United Press survey showed that 77 children in the U.S. and Hawaii had come down with polio after receiving Salk inoculations.

BANDIT

(Continued From Page One) $18,000 in bills of $1 to $20 denomination. Wilson said the robber declined to take any coins. He said the hold-up man was in the bank not more than 10 minutes. One of the employes managed to trip the burglar alarm, but officers arriving to free the prisoners did not know how to get the vault open. He said the robber, however, did not throw the combination lock on the door, but "just screwed it shut." A former employe of the bank finally released the group. The last robbery at the bank occurred in 1929 when the notorious Cunningham gang escaped with $10,000. They killed a sheriff and were captured in Duncan, Okla. Pampa News Women's Editor

DO YOU HAVE a lump in your mattress? Maybe you'd better check on it if you do. I read recently where a Frenchman had been uncomfortably aware of a lump in his mattress for many years. Finally he opened the mattress to discover an unexploded booby trap — a farewell gift from the German army of occupation! If only goes to show that you never can tell what's going to happen next, eh?

I ALSO READ an interesting article on what happens when you're sleeping. Below are portions of the article.

"Ever wonder what happens to you when you crawl into bed for your nightly slumber? Sleep, the psychologists say, is 'a halfway state between consciousness and unconsciousness.' You don't lapse into unconsciousness as you may have thought, for your brain and sense organs are still sufficiently alert to respond to danger signals.

"During the course of a night's rest, periods of deep and shallow sleep usually alternate. If you go to bed at a normal hour, you rapidly enter a phase of deep slumber which gradually becomes lighter until about 3 or 4 a.m.

"At this point, sleep may become so shallow that you almost regain consciousness. You may even awaken momentarily, although the chances are that you won't remember it in the morning. Sleep then deepens again gradually until about 6 a.m., after which it lightens until you awaken spontaneously or are aroused by some slight disturbance.

"Trying to snatch a few extra moments of sleep after the alarm rings sometimes has a boomerang effect. Often, you feel more drowsy when you wake up the second time than you would have if you hadn't indulged yourself with a doze. The reason is that you slip into the sleep cycle again and return to the first phase of deep sleep rather than the slight degree of somnolence from which you originally awoke."

NOTHING IS MORE irritating than not being able to sleep at night. Luckily, I am one of those persons who is seldom bothered with this problem, but I know many who are. Below is a formula I ran across that is a "travel plan" that outdoes counting sheep, but not a guaranteed ticket to dreamland. However, it might be worth a try.

"First, start the water for a nice tepid bath — not hot, but just warm enough to be soothing and comfortable. While the water is splashing into the tub, go into your bedroom and make a thorough check.

"See that the bed linens are fresh and clean and that the bed is tightly made with the corners tucked in snugly. A clean, smooth,

World Friendship Group Gives Tea For Missionary

The World Friendship Group of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service honored Miss Naomi Hare with a tea recently in the parlor of the First Methodist Church. Miss Hare, from Hereford, is a missionary teacher in Lima, Peru.

Miss Hare spoke to the girls on the customs and the people of Peru and of the girls' school in which she teaches. Other honored guests were mothers of the girls.

The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of iris and columbine. Miss Nancy Coley and Miss Wanda Cook presided at the tea table.

Attending the tea were Meses. A. A. Hare, W. W. Adcock, Robert Coley, V. H. Pigg and C. F. Killo; and Meses Patsy Gorman, Edna Sackett, Caroline Reed, Ann Adcock, Donna Pigg, Wynelle Green, Caroline Hill, Wanda Cook, Nancy Coley, Ruth Adcock, Nancy McConnell, Judy Killo comfy bed feels ever so relaxing after a warm bath. Remember, though, that the condition of your mattress, bedspring, and pillow is important, too. If they are worn (lumpy, droopy, or sagging), they should be replaced at the first opportunity, or you'll never get a really good night's rest.

"If your stomach has a hollow feeling, have a light snack. But keep it light! Warm milk or tea with a small sandwich or some cookies is preferable. Digestive processes draw the blood into your internal organs and away from your overworked brain.

"By now your bath should be ready. Ease yourself into the tub, lean back, and soak leisurely. Observe how the mild temperature eases your tense muscles and frayed nerves. Blot yourself dry and crawl into bed. Make your mind as nearly blank as possible and you'll be surprised how quickly you fall asleep."

Pleasant dreams!

BRIDAL SHOWER — Miss Sarah Parker was honored with a bridal shower recently in the First Methodist Church. Shown at the event, left to right, are Mrs. John Parker, sister-in-law of the honoree; the bride-elect; and Mrs. T. B. Parker, mother of the honoree. Miss Parker will marry R. S. Boyd June 11. Thirteen women were hostesses. (NEWS PHOTO)

The bride-elect was presented a corsage of pink roses. Her mother, Mrs. T. B. Parker, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Parker, were given corsages of white chrysanthemums.

Guests were registered by Mrs. John Parker and Mrs. W. A. Waggoner and Mrs. Bob McCoy provided background piano music.

The serving table was covered with a pink linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink snapdragons and pink shasta daisies. Refreshments of pink cake and green punch were served. The hostesses alternated serving the cake and presiding at the punch bowl.

No need to lug a big kettle out of doors for cooking corn on the cob. Remove the silk, but leave husks on corn. Soak in gold water for 1 to 1½ hours. Drain, smooth husks and place corn on the grill over glowing coals. Cook about 20 minutes, turning every 5 minutes or so. Serve with plenty of butter, salt, pepper and Accent.

While summer weather keeps of doors for cooking corn on the melons nice, there's still time for that very special appetizer. Honeydew melon fingers are wrapped in 'ribbons' of piquant Italian-style ham. Paper thin slices of ham, please.

The program will be divided into three parts, featuring students in the elementary, intermediate and advanced grades respectively. Those to perform in the first section will be Sylvia Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Graham, will play "Nothing Easier" by Williams; Peggy and Billy Ragdale, Mark Westbrook, Gary Doss, James Anderson, Clara and Kitty Jo Gates. The intermediate section will include numbers by Carolyn and Tommie Kelly, Linda Andis, Carmen Long and Joyce Doggett. The concluding number will be "Concerto in C Major" by Williams, to be played by Sue Foster, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster. Mrs. Carr will play the orchestral parts on a second piano.

RUTH MILLET

No husband likes to have his wife point out his faults to him or tell him in so many words just how she wishes he would act. That kind of straight talk is more than the masculine ego can take. So through the centuries smart wives have figured out more subtle ways of getting their husbands to behave the way they want them to.

The wife who is married to a man a little on the stingy side doesn't, if she hopes to change him, tell him how stingy he is. Instead she pounces on any little sign of generosity, using it as an example to brag to others about how generous he is — in his hearing, of course.

If he is a normal male he begins to like the picture of himself as a big-hearted, generous fellow even better than he likes to hold on to his money, and the battle is won.

The wife who wishes her husband paid more attention to the children doesn't make the mistake of trying to nag him into it. She keeps telling him how wonderful his children think he is until he can't resist making an effort to be their hero.

The wife whose husband refuses to be a handyman around the house doesn't keep after him to do this or that until he accuses her of never giving him a moment's peace. She hires a simple job done, and lets him pay the bill. And the thought suddenly occurs to him that he could have done the job himself and saved the money.

The wife who thinks her husband is a careless host doesn't tell him so. Instead, after they've been to a party at someone else's house, she points out what a good host Bill or Dick is, and the praise of another man's good qualities makes the husband examine his own behavior as a host.

No smart woman ever tries to change her husband by pointing out his faults.

Opening number of the advanced section will be "Morning Mood" by Grieg, a piano duet played by Cynthia Duncan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Duncan, and Janice Foster, daughter of Mrs. Lucille Foster. Other students in this section will play Debussy's "Clair de Lune"; Don Sprinkle, playing Handel's "Parscaglia"; Peggy O'Neal, to play Debussy's "Prelude Pour Le Piano"; Janis Foster, playing Haydn's "Concerto In D Major"; Cynthia Duncan, to present "The Witch's Dance" by MacDowell; and Ann Price, who will play Chopin's "Military Polonaise" and "Concerto in F major" by Williams. For the concerto Mrs. Carr will play the orchestral parts on the second piano. The concluding number of the program will be Liszt's "7th Hungarian Rhapsody" by Joyce Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Gordon. A prize will be given for the outstanding number in each group. The recital is open to the public.

Sam Houston PTA To Meet Thursday

BABY

Tip from a nurse in a hospital nursery: keep the points of diaper pins stuck in a bar of soap when they're not in the diaper. They'll slide into the fabric more easily this way. Easier to replace a bar of soap than a pincushion, too.

Finding it tedious to squat down and poke through the refrigerator for Baby's lunch makings? Try putting the jars that are already opened, plus his vitamin jar, in one of those wire-plastic-covered egg baskets for easy removal.

One theory is that kids love sweets because we reward Baby with them when he eats his spinach and because we call Baby "Honey" and "Sweetie." Might try calling him Little Cabbage or Carrot or Pumpkin and see if that prevents sweet tooth.

Make a vegetable special for tots or teenagers by mixing 2 cups cooked white rice, 1 cup grated cheese (part sharp, part American) 1 cup milk and some chopped pimiento, and spreading it in a greased shallow baking dish or on an oven-proof platter. Top with cooked, seasoned mixed vegetables then lots of tomato slices. Sprinkle 1 cup grated cheese over the top. Bake at 450 degrees F. for 10 minutes. Then place under the broiler until the cheese is bubbly and browned. Serve and watch every bit disappear — fast.

QUICK AND EASY TO PREPARE is this Poppy Seed cake made with a new instant cake mix.

COOK'S NOOK

New Instant Cake Mix For Poppy Seed Cake

By GAYNOR MADDOX NEA Food and Markets Editor

We went to a press luncheon at the Stork Club in New York where a new instant cake mix was introduced. Quite a performance. Really tender, fine grain cake with only one mixing step. Two eggs and water are all you need beside the mix, an egg beater, a bowl and a baking pan. There is only one mixing step to this pleasant business of making a cake.

Mrs. Charles Leuin of Johnstown, Pa., gave us her favorite recipe. It's home style Poppy Seed Cake. The Pennsylvania homemaker adds poppy seeds (which have been previously soaked in water) right to a package of instant yellow cake mix along with two fresh eggs, all at once. The cake is baked in two square pans and is served with a custard filling between the squares and a simple glaze on top.

Poppy Seed Cake

One-quarter cup poppy seeds, 2-3 cup water, 1 package instant yellow cake mix, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1/2 cup water, Custard Cream filling, confectioners' sugar glaze.

Soak poppy seeds in 2-3 cup water about 1 hour. Then place cake mix in bowl. Add poppy seeds and water, eggs, and remaining 1/2 cup water. Beat 3 minutes till smooth and creamy. Pour batter into two 8 x 8 x 2-inch square pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes. Cool cakes. Prepare Custard Cream filling and spread between the layers. Make the glaze and spread over the top of the cake. (Store leftover cake in refrigerator).

Care Of Fabrics Told To HD Club

The Worthwhile Home Demonstration club met recently in home of Mrs. John King, with Mrs. O. G. Smith in charge of the business session.

It was announced that the program for the May 29 meeting will be on the constitution of Texas. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Noah Cude, 526 S. Ballard, with Mrs. J. C. Payne as hostess.

The demonstration on care of fabrics was given by Miss Helen Dunlap, county HD agent. She pointed out that the new "miracle" fabrics are stain and moth resistant and require very little, if any, ironing. She warned that the new fabrics should never be squeezed or rung.

During the social period, tea and cookies were served. Members present were Mmes. W. G. Kinzer, O. G. Smith, P. G. Turner, E. T. Clark, Noah Cude and John King. Miss Dunlap was a guest.

Baker PTA Slates Installation, Tea

Prior to the meeting, the executive board will meet at 1 p. m. in the office of John Evans, principal.

new summer colors — chiffon and pink pearl — also available in white

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
In a new book on child guidance, I find these words: "Never allow a child to bully you into granting a demand. It teaches him to force recognition by being unpleasant."

"Do they shock you?" They should. For this "expert" is telling us: "Your child's pleasant manner not the justice of what he asks, determines your decisions. Forget whether he is entitled to what he demands. Consider only whether he presents his demands agreeably."

To follow such advice would make us utterly dependent on the moods of children. It would not only deprive us of our own integrity but increase any problem we might have with an angry child.

If Alice comes home from school to find her little sister has spilled her milk, she may become angry. Her anger may inspire her demand that we forbid further misuse of her property. The fact that she may try to "bully" us into action on her demand has nothing whatever to do with us.

Our business is a just decision on her demand. If we deny her justice because her manner is unpleasant, we're going to be in trouble. Unless we can dispense justice to her regardless of her attitude, we will have a chronically resentful child on our hands — or one who learns to use insincere, cajoling words to manipulate what she wants.

A child who makes excitable, "bullying" demands is one who does not trust our justice.

Because she does not trust it, she has to rally anger to "force our recognition." If she trusted our justice, she would ask for what she wanted with the "pleasantness" so desirable to the "expert."

Not trusting it, she has to use excited belligerence to club her point of view into our heads. Under such circumstances, we do not concern ourselves with her "unpleasantness." Instead, realizing that it represents suspicion of our fairness, we take special care to dispense it to her.

Despite the "expert," we cannot afford to permit a child's "bullying" to dictate our treatment of her. We cannot make our loyalty to justice dependent on "pleasantness" or "unpleasantness."

We have to judge the rights and wrongs of Alice's demands on us whether she advances them gently or angrily. We are supposed to be grown-up people, not 19th century ladies swooning off into irresponsibility at the sound of a raised and angry voice.

Redistricting Bill Defeated

Austin — UP — A Proposal calling for redistricting of county commissioners' precincts failed to gain final passage in the House Tuesday, virtually spelling death for the measure. The proposal, by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland, received a vote of 87-43, falling short of the 100 votes necessary for House approval of a constitutional amendment. Anderson said his measure "gives back to the citizens the right to redistrict" precincts. Representatives of rural areas assailed the plan as one which would "destroy county government."

World's Hottest Walk-In Oven Is In Sheraton-Park Hotel

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS WASHINGTON — UP — Eddie Stepich, the chef, asked me if I would like to step inside his new oven. "But don't stay too long," Eddie warned. I didn't go in very far or remain very long. It was the hottest oven I ever walked into, and according to the Sheraton-Park hotel people, one of the largest in the world. Stepich was born in Austria, then became an Italian citizen and now is an American. He has dipped his lunch-hooks into cook pans around the world. With his starched white kitchen cap, which sticks way up there, he has to duck a little when he walks into his oven after it cools off—even though the cooking machine is seven feet high. (Eddie is a big fellow.)

It's a big bake-oven, for sure. In addition to being seven feet high, it is eight feet wide and has a depth of 15 feet with seven rotating shelves for uniform cooking. With equipment like this in the new wing of the sprawling hotel...

Name Referee In Rail Strike

WASHINGTON — UP — The National Mediation Board Tuesday appointed Francis J. Robertson, Washington, D.C., attorney, as neutral referee to arbitrate the Louisville & Nashville railroad strike. Robertson will start closed hearings on the original union demands and company counter-proposals Thursday. His recommendations for settling the dispute will be final and binding on both sides.

Board Chairman Francis A. O'Neill has estimated that the arbitration procedure will take a week. G. E. Leighty, chairman of the non-operating unions' negotiating committee, said Tuesday that the arbitration decision is to be incorporated into a wage contract by May 19. The agreement to submit the dispute to binding arbitration was reached Monday along with an agreement to end the 57-day-old strike Wednesday.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH Read Isaiah 2:12-22 Evil is abnormal. There is a town in the island regions of Turkey consisting of several thousand people, every one of whom, with no more than twenty exceptions, is blind. All day long the tapping of canes on cobblestones goes on, filling the air with the strangest sound that has ever greeted the human ear. Trachoma is responsible for this pathetic condition, but the people do not know they are pitiable, for blindness is almost universal in that town, and the vast majority have never seen the light of day. Those who can see are considered abnormal. There are social circles in which the teetotaler is considered abnormal. There are other circles in which the chaste seem strange. There are communities in which cultured and refined people seem eccentric.

But just as God expected every man, woman, and child to see the sun, so he also expected every person to share in certain spiritual joys which come with righteous living. The accusing conscience which lashes us day and night was never a part of God's original plan. The sense of guilt with which we are pursued was never in the Father's original design. The human spirit was prepared to live on friendly terms with its Creator, with itself, and with the world in which it was expected to exist. It is only after we have subdued our best that we are able to live comfortably with sin. It is only after we have destroyed something holy within ourselves that we are able to enjoy evil. It is not the godly, but the ungodly man, who is "just a little bit queer."

I was born to inherit thy good will and solicitude, O God. They are exerted at all times in my behalf. There is no moment of my life when I am out of thy sight, nor beyond thy love and care. I will therefore dismiss my anxieties and submit myself to thee. Amen. Make a list of ten faults of which you are aware, and which you are willing to admit are your faults. Now alongside that list write down five things you are doing to overcome those faults. What progress are you making? VA Tightens Rules On Closing Cost

VA Tightens Rules On Closing Cost

The Veterans and Federal Housing Administrations have considerably tightened closing cost rules so that such costs may not be included in the mortgage where federal guarantee or insurance is involved, according to John I. Bradley, local real estate operator. To be positive veterans pay the closing cost in cash. Bradley continued, the VA has made it essential for builders or sellers to issue a certificate stating that they will not or have not paid any part of the closing costs. The VA has issued orders for its offices to keep under close surveillance offers by builders in the form of gifts or promises to defray moving cost in order to induce sales. The VA feels builders who offer to absorb the costs of these inducements, might set their appraisals too high. Under FHA rulings, Bradley stated, down payments must be increased to reflect the closing cost, however where it is proven by the leader that the cost will be less than the FHA estimate, the administration will adhere to the lower figure.

Solon Hits Statehood For Hawaii

WASHINGTON — UP — Rep. John R. Pillion (R-N.Y.) said Tuesday that granting statehood to Hawaii "would only serve to deliver the Hawaiian state government to the Communist party on a silver platter." Pillion made the charge in a House speech on a bill to admit Hawaii and Alaska to the union. A vote is scheduled late Tuesday, with both sides conceding the outcome will be close. The New York Republican asserted that candidates endorsed by two "communist controlled" labor unions won in a majority of contests last November for seats in the Hawaiian legislature. "The last session of the Hawaiian legislature," he said, "was a Communist holiday. They passed bill after bill on the order of the Communist ILWU." The ILWU is the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, one of the two unions in the islands Pillion said was Communist controlled. The other, he said, is the United Public Workers Union. He noted both were expelled from the CIO on grounds they were dominated by Communists. The ILWU has about 25,000 members in the territory, Pillion said, and the UPW has about 2,000 "government public workers" as members. Pillion was challenged by Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) who said a 1951 FBI report showed there were fewer than 100 Communists in Hawaii, compared with 22,575 in New York.

'Ma Kettle' Is A Pin-Up Queen With Europe Fans

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD —UP— Hollywood does not hand Oscars or beauty prizes to Marjorie Main but "Ma Kettle" proudly reported she's a pin-up queen in Europe.

The town's admittedly most unglamorous actress is back at Universal-International Studio to begin the eighth "Ma and Pa Kettle" movie. A doubt as to continuing the series vanished, she says, on her first trip to Europe.

"People stopped me on the street," she said. "When I got off the train they called 'Ma Kettle' in Florence, Italy, I went to a Ma Kettle movie and 30 people stood around my seat and grinned.

Wheeler 4-H Dairy Team Wins First

The Wheeler County 4-H Dairy Demonstration team placed first in the District I contest which was held on the campus of West Texas State College Saturday. Jerry Lackey and Garland Moore of the Kelton 4-H Club composed the Dairy Demonstration team. The demonstration they gave was on Electric Dehorning of Dairy Calves. In this demonstration they showed why the electrical method dehorning is becoming popular; how to hold the calf during the dehorning operation; what to look for when purchasing an electric dehorner; and then how to dehorn a dairy calf using the electric dehorner.

Besides being a popular star both at home and abroad, Marjorie also is credited with helping save U-I Studio.

"Coupla years ago they were ready to close the gates," she said, "when they came to me with this Kettle series, I didn't want to do it.

"I told my agent the script was terrible. But the studio put up a plea."

The first three Kettle pictures cost about $300,000 apiece and grossed $5 million.

By now the series has worn out four sets of children. Percy Kilbride, who was Pa Kettle, quit, so in this episode Ma visits her brother, Arthur Hunnicutt.

"If this goes over Arthur and I will do some more," Miss Main said. "I like the series. We have the same crew, same director, you can relax. Sometimes the stories are corny but I'd stand on my head to make people laugh. That's all I have to live for. I don't want to retire."

The actress often is the butt of jokes about her lack of glamour but "I don't want to be a glamour girl, there are enough in this town."

"I don't like to fool around with clothes and I haven't had to go to the make-up department in years," she drawled.

A make-up man at this point opened her dressing room door to announce it was time for her scene. Miss-Main stuck her little finger in a rouge pot and in two swipes colored her mouth.

"Looks fine," said Ma Kettle and trugged, bathrobe cord trailing, off to the cameras.

"I never dreamed I was known in Europe. It was kinda nice."

Miss Main, now 65, sat in her dressing room. She wore a long, billowing white nightgown and plaid bathrobe from her scenes. She was brushing her waist-length graying hair ("I keep it long in memory of my husband—he liked women to be women." He died nearly 20 years ago.)

KENNETH TOWERY
... addresses House

House Hears Texas Editor, Ken Towery

AUSTIN —UP— Pulitzer prizewinner Kenneth Towery told the House of Representatives Tuesday he doubted there will be any more "startling" disclosures on the scandal-ridden veterans land program.

Towery, managing editor of the Cuero Record who received the coveted award for his work in unearthing irregularities in the program, spoke at a morning session of the House.

"We've got a scandal here that the whole nation looks at," the quiet-spoken Towery said. "I think the investigation—especially here in the House—is in good hands."

Towery expressed hope "we can use this whole thing as a backdrop for laws and legislation Texas can be proud of—laws that will have some teeth, so this sort of thing won't go on."

He said there were two things he was most proud of—honest public servants and honest newspapers. Unfortunately, he added, there are a "few" dishonest public servants and newspapers.

"For every crooked public servant we have, we have possibly a few hundred honest ones—it's been a great satisfaction to me," Towery said.

Towery said he wanted to see "justice coincide with law."

"I've seen a great many things that are legal that are not necessarily justice," he added.

Rep. Charles E. Hughes of Sherman, introducing Towery, praised

SO MUCH MORE CAR... AT SUCH A LOW PRICE!

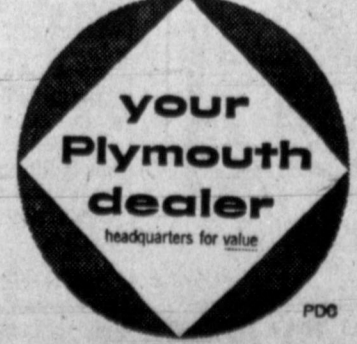

BEST BUY NEW; BETTER TRADE-IN, TOO

Have you compared price tags on Plymouth and the other two cars in the lowest-price field lately? And, by the way, have you checked prices on the medium-price cars that claim they cost as little as Plymouth? If you have, you've discovered three facts of great importance to everyone planning to buy a new car:

- 1 Model for model, all low-price cars are priced about the same. The important thing is that the Plymouth price includes such items as electric windshield wipers, an oil bath air cleaner, resistor-type spark plugs, and a high-output generator; items you have to pay extra for on the other cars. (And don't be fooled by the claims of so-called medium-price cars that they cost as little as Plymouth; add total prices—you'll see the difference quickly.)
- 2 Prices of the big, beautiful Plymouth are surprisingly low! You get a car that's not only larger and roomier than all the other cars in Plymouth's field, but actually bigger than some cars costing many hundreds of dollars more! In its field, only Plymouth gives you the smooth, steady ride only a truly big car can give. And when it comes to endurance, Plymouth leads them all! That's why there are more Plymouths used as taxicabs than all other cars combined!
- 3 When you compare VALUE, Plymouth is like the high-price cars in everything but the price tag! It's the only low-price car this year with all-new, Forward-Look styling. (That means there'll be a good demand for this model when trade-in time comes.) In powerplants, Plymouth offers the thriftiest, smoothest six, and the most powerful standard V-8 in the lowest-price field. Inside, it's the roomiest, most comfortable car of "all 3," and has the greatest visibility.

A lot of people are finding out that Plymouth's low price offers the most value per dollar of any car in its field. So many people, in fact, that Plymouth sales have been record-breaking this year. This means a generous trade-in allowance on your big new Plymouth. See your dealer today, and you'll see why the big swing this year is to PLYMOUTH.

PLYMOUTH

Can you SEE, STEER, STOP safely? Let a Plymouth Dealer SAFETY-CHECK your car this week!

These hikers seem foolish to me, Sarge! If a war comes, along we won't have any energy left to fight it!

Plane Crash Kills Four

PADUCAH, Tex. —UP— A four-place private plane crashed and burned after losing one wing in a thunderstorm, killing the four persons aboard.

They were tentatively identified as Dr. J. H. Lathrop and Mrs. Kathryn Good Norris, both of Carlsbad, N. M., and Nana Hogan and Mary Cooley, both of El Paso, Tex.

Friends in Carlsbad reported the four were en route to Minneapolis, Minn., to attend a convention of the Gideon Society in which Dr. Lathrop was active.

All four of the bodies were so badly burned in the wreckage that they could not be identified immediately.

But Sheriff E. C. Clark said he had found the driver's license of Mrs. Norris and another paper with the name of Dr. Lathrop which led to the others' identification from Carlsbad.

The secret is almost out! Yes, everybody will know the prom theme come Friday night. Be there at 8 to give yourself time to scurry around filling the dance program. Charlie Roberts and the Mellow-Aires will start the dancing at 8:30. To be presented midnight are pinups Carol Foster and D. I. Wilkinson; Favorites Pat Reynolds, E. Jay McIlvain, Jo Tooley, Robert Fleming; Cynthia Cantrell, Bill Fulenwider, and Rhona Finkelstein, Jerry Don Hopkins. See you there?

After the excitement of the prom wears off, however, you'll hear creaks and groans from the seniors. Although most of them are tickled pink about next Thursday (May 19) being THE last day for them — the purple monster "semester exams" rears its head next week. Is everybody prepared? Ho, ho! Joke, joke!

Tomorrow night will see the installation of the Tri-Hi-Y officers for '55-'56. The installation itself will be at 7 and a little party will follow. Sounds like fun.

Lend an ear for some off-beat definitions picked up from the Eagle Pass Hi-Light (school paper), Eagle Pass? Good:

Patrick Henry — an American patriot who said: "Give me liberty or give me death," and whose descendants merely say: "Gimme!"
Hillbilly — a mountain William. (that's an old one.)
Historian — a person with no future to his job.
Hit Tune — a song you can't help remembering but wish you could forget.
Hobby — the type of hard work that you would be ashamed to do for a living.

Homes Offered Japanese Girl Bomb Victims

NEW YORK —UP— Scores of families already have offered homes to 25 Japanese girls who were burned in the Hiroshima atom bomb blast, it was revealed Tuesday.

The girls will take turns entering the hospital for plastic surgery during the year.

Most of the homes are in prosperous suburban areas near New York city. The young women from Hiroshima, scarred from burns they received in the atom bomb blast 10 years ago, speak no English and the volunteering families speak no Japanese.

In spite of the difficulties, the New York Friends Center Assn., a Quaker organization in charge of hospitaling the girls, have a waiting list of temporary homes for the bomb victims.

Each family was asked to take two girls so they would not be lonely.

"One family near New York city is taking two girls for the entire year," Arnold B. Vaughn, executive director of the Friends Center, said. "Others have offered to take two weeks to several months."

The young women arrived Monday after a four-day trip by air from Japan. They are from 17 to 31 years old, and have been working at various jobs, most of them in positions where they did not need to meet the public.

Before they begin the series of operations at Mount Sinai hospital, they will rest here in a hotel for several days and then go by bus to Pendle Hill, a Quaker school near Philadelphia, for two weeks' vacation.

Waco Remembers Tornado Which Struck 2 Years Ago

WACO —UP— This is the day in Waco when, two years ago, a deadly black funnel swooped down on the city that Indian legend said a tornado would never hit.

The toll was 114 dead and $40 million property damage.

Plus two "open cases" — so classified by the American Red Cross. They weren't in Waco Wednesday. Both, Mrs. Robert Russell of Key West, Fla., and Cecil Mangrum of Houston, have returned home — in wheel chairs.

A tornado can wipe out hundreds of dreams, and it did that in Waco Wednesday as it observed an anniversary of tragedy was whether the dream of one man can wipe out a tornado.

The Wacoan with the dream is determined to wipe out the gaping hole left in downtown Waco by the tornado. He is Walter Lacy, Jr., president of Citizens National Bank, one of Waco's two leading banks.

The bank has acquired that gaping hole.

Just last week, it purchased the property where the tornado destroyed Dennis Furniture Store once stood. Earlier, Lacy acquired

Frozen Foods Escape

LOS ANGELES —UP— Radiation has no apparent effect on frozen foods, a nine-man panel of experts decided Wednesday after sampling food subjected to last Thursday's "Operation Cue" atomic blast in Nevada.

Monopoly Suit Filed

LOS ANGELES —UP— A Hollywood nightspot Wednesday accused three of the nation's leading hotel chains and the Music Corporation of America in a $1,687,000 damage suit of monopolizing big game table acts.

Get ready for the auditorium roof to raise at Vesper services May 22. The A Cappella Choir and the Harvester Band will join forces for the first time in a long time, if not the very first time of all. They will be doing an arrangement of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Bill Tregoe and Robert Payne are the conductors.

Hear that the senior mothers are busy-busy making plans for the tea which traditionally follows.

The graduation exercises are not far behind. AND the receiving of that precious diploma.

This year, instead of having a guest speaker, members of the senior class itself are going to give speeches. James Pickett, valedictorian; James Vicars, salutatorian; D. I. Wilkinson, class president, and Ben Sturgeon, student body president, are on the roster.

Methinks there is a frustrated typist on the Little Harvester staff. WHOSE fingers fiddled the following:

"now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country now is the time for all good men to come to now is the time now!"

Sounds like Chaucer's early English, eh seniors?

Talked about hay rides last week, and here's another big, big along those lines. A Cappella members and their dates will make an evening of it Saturday by "hay-riding" out to the Osborn (Betty) Ranch for a barbecue. Bill Culpepper is in charge of the planning committee.

And that's not all. Los Duenos, teen fraternity, is planning a shindig at Lake McClellan, and the PHS journalists are off to a picnic in the city park this very afternoon. Four is the starting time, and hot dogs are on the agenda.

And more about the A Cappella. They plan to set aside $100 of the money that has collected in the choir fund over a period of a few years for a scholarship to be given next year for the first time to a deserving music student. It is to be an annual presentation with the choir each year being responsible for seeing that the necessary $100 is there to be given. A scholarship committee is working with Mr. Edmondson on it now. Choir president D. I. Wilkinson is in charge.

And if you missed the full moon last Friday night, it's just your own hard luck; there won't be another one till June 5. And that's a mighty long way off.

The folks who found their way to the field house for the annual Choral Spring Festival didn't miss it however. And they got in for some pleasing listening too.

Saturday, May 21, will be emancipation from spring football training for next year's Harvester team. But it has been a little special process this year because the boys have been getting acquainted with new coach Lockett.

Haven't these rains been truly wonderful? Thank God for them.

News Promotion Asked

CHICAGO —UP— Newspaper promotion managers should spend more money promoting news and less on comics and features, a leading editor said Monday. J. Russell Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times-Herald, addressed the silver anniversary meeting of the National Newspaper Promotion Association here.

Waco has been a city of split personality since the tornado, as one resident put it. It knows about the Lacy dream, and it argues about it.

Some businessmen, busy moving uptown, argue that old downtown Waco is dead. Some have already moved. Four buildings remained boarded up Wednesday, just like they were the week after the tornado.

The move uptown started before the tornado, because of growth of the city, they argue, and the tornado only accelerated the move.

The city's other leading bank, First National, located across the street from the spot at Fifth and Austin where the center of the tornado funnel did its worst damage, is on the move. First National is constructing a $1 million building uptown at Ninth and Washington.

A huge parking lot now is in operation at Fifth and Austin. No one would guess today if the Lacy dream eventually would wipe out the other tornado remains.

FOR COCKELL-ROCKY FIGHT

British Scribes Are Coming Dressed For The Occasion

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK — UP—This is of boxing and bowler hats, monocles and moustaches and oranges and tea.
If that sounds confusing, and it should, I'm referring to the impending heavyweight championship between Britain's Don Cockell and the USA's Rocky Marciano. Explicitly it has to do with British boxing writers covering this latest "battle of the century."
They make me feel that we colonials still are buckskin-clad clouds and I wouldn't be surprised to find my tepee-besieged by gaugsters when I get home to night.
I don't know what kind of a battle Cockell is going to put up against Marciano Monday night, although my suspicion would be decidedly unpopular in Picadilly. But I do know that the Boxing Boswells of Britain already have stowed away sartorial honors in the social joust preceding the actual hostilities.
Boxers in training are inclined to a sameness, viz. scantily-clad men bulging with biceps. So, too, do our fight writers who, albeit minus muscles, dress in sober stibilarity. But not the British clout correspondents.
They have introduced a distinct individuality. As example, Desmond Hackett of the London Daily Express checked in at Cockell's headquarters wearing a scarlet waistcoat and a brown derby. Not to be outdone, Peter Wilson of the London Mirror arrived with a "Billicock" hat, an alpine model, and a walking stick. When moisture is present he switches to an umbrella and, while everybody knows it never rains in California, he may need the bumbershoot on Monday night.
The handclasp moustache came with A. W. Parsons of the London Sunday Dispatch, an item measuring eight inches from wing tip to wing tip. And Gerard Walter of the London News-Chronicle proves himself one of the bravest of the brave by wearing a monocle—without a safety ribbon. If my old friend Frank Butler of News of the World doesn't come up with something scintillating right quick I fear he may be ostracized.
Their copy, too, is having an effect which makes me feel that

Porky Oliver Wins Dallas Pro-Am Title

DALLAS — UP—Ed (Porky) Oliver, the Lemont, Ill. pro who can clown his way around 18 holes and still shoot golf with the best of them, returned home from a few days visit to Texas Tuesday with his jeans jangling.
The pudgy veteran of the tournament circuit won top money of $550 Monday in the Dallas Pro-Amateur golf tournament. The day before he picked up $2,000 for finishing third in the Colonial National Invitation golf tournament at Fort Worth.
Especially hot with his putter, Porky toured Dallas Country Club's tight 6,400-yard layout in a five-under-par 34-33-67 to collect first money.
Although a number of "name" pros made the short trip from Fort Worth for the Pro-Am, Oliver was virtually the only one to get into the money in the 18-hole one-day affair.

Swaps In Hollywood
INGLEWOOD, Calif. — UP—Swaps, winner of the Kentucky Derby, arrives Wednesday and will be quartered in the same stall at Hollywood Park he occupied as a two-year-old. Accompanying the colt on the train trip from Louisville are trainer Mickey Tenney and owner Rex C. Ellingsworth.

Ags Nip Owls Twice To Take SWC Lead

By UNITED PRESS
Rain dealt Southern Methodist's Southwest Conference baseball title hopes a temporary setback and permitted the Texas A&M Cadets to move one game out in front. But the Mustangs have a chance to recoup Wednesday.
The Aggies cleared two major hurdles toward the baseball title by taking a doubleheader from Rice, 11 to 4 and 5 to 2, Tuesday at College Station.
The Cadets now rest on their 11-2 league play record until next week when they play their final two games against SMU Monday in Dallas and Texas Tuesday in Austin.
At Dallas Tuesday, SMU and the Texas Christian Horned Frogs were tied 4-4 when the game was rained out in the top of the eighth inning.
SMU athletic officials said the game will be replayed from the start as part of a TCU-Methodist doubleheader Wednesday in Dallas.
Besides its scheduled game with the Aggies next week, SMU also has a Saturday date with Rice at Houston.
The Southwest Conference ordered SMU and A&M to play an early-season rained-out game on Monday after the schools failed to reach an agreement on a date.
The Mustangs and the Aggies went into Tuesday's games tied with 9-2 conference won-lost records.
At College Station, Leg Byrd's two home runs, one in each game, provided the big punch for the Cadets. Byrd first homered in the third inning of the first contest, four pitches after Aggie center-fielder John Stockton hit a four-baser with one man on.
Byrd's 350-foot blast over the left field fence with two men on base won the nightcap in the bottom of the seventh inning.
It was hit off Rice righthander James Briggs, who pitched a fine game against the No. 2 Aggie hurler, Jerry Nelson. Nelson allowed only three hits, but one of them in the seventh by Rice catcher Tony Navarro tied the game 2-2.
The Aggies, while winning the first game easily, paid dearly.
Southpaw pitcher Joe Hardgrove, trying for his seventh straight win and nearing former Texas Longhorn Bobby Layne's conference record of eight victories without defeat, pulled a muscle throwing a curve ball in the first inning. He

Wes Santee Eyes California Meet

By HAL WOOD
SAN FRANCISCO — UP—If Wes Santee, the great Kansas miler, ever is going to crack the four-minute barrier, he'll have his best chance in the West Coast relays at Fresno Saturday.
Meet Director J. Flint Hanner says that Santee will be given every consideration in an attempt to become the first American to run the distance under four minutes.
"Wes told me in a telephone conversation the other day that the conditions haven't been right so far this year for him to run the four minute mile," said Hanner. "He also told me that he would be in the finest possible condition for the record attempt at Fresno."
"To help him along we are staging the mile run at 1:10 in the afternoon, when the weather will (or should) be nearly perfect. The forecast is for very hot sun this weekend."
"On top of that, the No. 1 lane will not be used before the race so Santee won't have to run on a chopped-up track. So if he ever is going to set that record, he'll have a good chance here."
Hanner said that there will be only three other men in the race, so there won't be much chance of a traffic jam. Running against Santee will be Art Dalzell of Kansas; Len Simpson of California and Jim Hunt of San Diego State.

Experts Fear Vaccine May Make Folks Careless Of Polio

NEW YORK — UP — Polio specialists are afraid the mere existence of the Salk anti-polio vaccine will make some people careless about polio, which would be too bad because polio is not something to toy with.

When some one is about to come down with polio, there usually is fever. The fever may be accompanied by headache, lassitude, sweating, nausea, vomiting, constipation, diarrhea.

During the summer polio season, fever in combination with any of the others is justification enough for calling a doctor. If there also is sore throat or stiff neck or back, walk fast when you walk to the phone.

When it comes to deciding whether a slight illness is the beginning of a polio case, doctors divide the polio possibilities into three categories — abortive, non-paralytic, and paralytic.

There isn't much doubt about the full-blown paralytic case for very long. These cases proceed quickly into paralysis which may be temporary. But there may be much doubt about abortive and non-paralytic cases.

The truth is that the first signs may be almost anything. The ill person just doesn't feel well. The symptoms are vague; a doctor can't say positively what it is which produces fever and "general malaise."

The patient seems to get well. But four to seven days later, he hits again and this second time the central nervous system may be involved with the danger of permanent paralysis.

Usually this does not happen in abortive or non-paralytic cases, but can. This is why any vague illness during the polio season should be looked at and watched by a skilled and knowing person.

The chances are that polio is not the cause. But when there are quite a few polio cases in the community, these chances are lessened. The summer polio season has already started in the deep south and is moving northward.

Polio specialists estimate that up to 99 per cent of all polio illnesses are abortive. Indeed, the signs are often so very mild they're not even noticed. But abortive cases produce healthy "carriers" of polio viruses.

They excrete viruses which in another human body may cause paralysis or even death. Therefore, the rules of personal hygiene and ordinary sanitation should be observed most rigidly during polio seasons.

Sudden chilling is bad. So is violent exercise by persons unaccustomed to it, or anything which brings about inordinate fatigue. These things have been known to make latent viruses active.

But people should be calm and live their accustomed lives, polio specialists said. They warn against "poliophobia" as well as against polio. Poliophobia is the illness of a person who is so afraid of polio, fear alone makes him ill. In extreme cases, there may even be paralysis, along with fever and other symptoms. It's amazing what a mind that is being powerfully by hysterical fear can do to its body.

Airlines Get Best Safety Mark Ever

By ROBERT J. SERLING
WASHINGTON — UP — The nation's airlines have been handed the most complimentary report in the history of commercial aviation. Their safety record for 1954 was the best ever. In a way, it was better than that of the railroads.

Only 16 persons were killed in accidents aboard domestic scheduled airliners during the year, while 23 persons died in train wrecks.

The actual fatality rate per billion miles traveled still favors the railroads, which have a greater mileage total, but the airline rate still comes out to less than one death for every billion miles flown. This is the lowest in aviation history.

But while the bouquets are being passed out for '54, the airlines have already had the wind taken out of their sails. In the first three and a half months of this year, 35 persons died in commercial airline crashes — more than twice the total of last year.

It is evident there is still a lot to be done in the field of aviation safety.

Electronics and improved safety devices, along with more exhaustive pilot training, have probably saved the lives of thousands of passengers in recent years. It is now possible for planes to fly in perfect safety through weather that would have caused a crash or grounded them 10 years ago.

And the effort to take the element of danger out of flying goes on. United Air Lines, for example, has ordered $4 million worth of radar equipment for its planes. This will help keep pilots informed on weather conditions as far as 150 miles ahead of their position.

Two tubber companies have come up with an airplane fuel tank that won't burst in a crash. Tests are still going on, but if perfected the fuel tank would eliminate the danger of fire in a crash landing.

Experiments are continuing with passenger seats facing the back of a plane instead of the front. Many experts believe this innovation would do more than anything in cutting down airline fatalities.

Government officials are taking a long and serious look at the techniques of investigating air accidents with a view toward learning more about how to prevent them.

Total annual earnings of all employees in Minnesota iron mining declined from $100 million in 1953 to $75 million in 1954.

Man Sheds Wife To Join Marines

OKLAHOMA CITY — UP — Jesse J. Brashears divorced his pretty wife Jeanne in the friendliest manner. He did it so he could join the Marines.

Tuesday night Marine Corps Pfc. Brashears and Geanne were remarried.

That was all right with the Marines, for Brashears has finished boot camp now.

Marine recruiter Lorin Conkel told their story.

Brashears and Jeanne, Knight, both 28, were married at Oklahoma City last Dec. 9. The groom received his draft notice the next day.

The newlyweds decided that better he should be a Marine. The Marines require that a recruit be single until he completes basic training.

Jeanne and Jesse agreed to get a divorce, she because "I want you in the Marines."

Brashears went to boot camp at the Marine Corps recruit depot in San Diego, Calif. Despite a week's confinement in the hospital with pneumonia, he finished as honor man in the honor platoon and graduated on March 18. He was assigned to Camp Pendleton Marine Base, Calif.

Pfc. Brashears got leave a few days ago and rushed home to his greatly-relieved "former wife," who had some anxious moments about her decision when the mail grew infrequent under pressure of the Marine training schedule.

Brashears, newly-remarried, said he didn't regret his action.

"I think all young couples might try this, to find out if they really care for each other," he said.

Jeanne wasn't quite so sure.

Mounting World Pressure Brought Ike's OK For Meet

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

President Eisenhower's decision to meet his fellow leaders of the Big Four powers has come only after months of mounting pressure on the United States government from all over the world.

The pressure has come directly from leaders of Allied governments.

It has stemmed, however, from the fear of ordinary people all over the world of what might happen to them if the United States and Soviet-Russia clashed in an atomic war.

The pressure started as long as two years ago when Winston Churchill, then prime minister of Great Britain, called for a Big Four meeting "at the summit" in an attempt to ease world tension. It increased after the crew of a Japanese fishing boat were affected by radioactive ash which fell on them as the result of the United States H-bomb test at Bikini—800 miles away—on March 1, 1954.

The United States resisted the pressure firmly. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles saw no sign that the Soviet government was disposed to end the cold war which it started—not to mention the hot war which it instigated in Korea.

But now there has been a change. The ratification of the treaties for the arming of Western Germany has put the free world in a position of great strength. Communism is on the defensive.

The situation now seems to be that even if the Western Allies gained nothing as the result of a Big Four conference "at the summit" at least they could lose nothing.

Whether there is any real chance of major agreements as the result of a meeting of the Big Four leaders is in the field of speculation.

It looks as if any big concessions made in the interest of world peace would have to come from the Russian side.

Russia's policies have put the world in its present position. Only a change in these policies can give any hope for improvement.

There is also the question whether Russia's representative at a top-level Big Four meeting will be able to talk with any authority.

Certainly Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin is not the No. 1 Russian leader. If there really is a No. 1 leader right now, it may be Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party of the Soviet Union.

There is increasing evidence, however, that the Kremlin leadership is a team business.

But if President Eisenhower, Marshal Bulganin, British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure can meet for a few days and maintain a cordial atmosphere while they talk things over, some good may result.

UAW Hits Bill
WASHINGTON, May 10 — UP — The United Auto Workers charged Tuesday that a bill to bar suspected potential spies and saboteurs from non-sensitive defense jobs would turn America "into a nation of stool pigeons."
