Big Four Meet To Open June 18th

Don't Expect Too Much, Ike Warns

By MERRIMAN SMITH
WEST POINT, N. Y., — President Eisenhower Tuesday warned the world against "fatuous expectations" that the Big Four "summit" meeting will produce miraculous cures for warlike tensions between the West and the Russians.

Speaking at the graduation of 469 men of the Military Academy, the chief executive dealt briefly, but pointedly with his forthcoming meeting with the state heads of Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union in Switzerland.

Geneva To Be Host For Four-Day Conference

BERNE, Switzerland — UP — The Swiss government revealed Tuesday that the long-planned conference of the heads of the governments of the United States, Russia, Britain and France will be a four-day affair.

Switzerland officially announced that it has agreed to host June 18 through 21 at Geneva to the top-level effort to ease world tensions.

The abbreviated conference was a concession to the desires of President Eisenhower, who said he wished to spend only two or three days in the "summit conference" that is to set the stage for more detailed efforts at settlement of East-West issues by the foreign ministers and their expert advisers.

Asked for Ample Time
Britain's Prime Minister Anthony Eden had expressed a desire for ample time at the top-level meeting to tackle the big issues.

The foreign ministers also will meet in Geneva before the heads of government arrive, to prepare an agenda and handle other preliminary details.

"The Swiss government has been asked about the possibilities of holding a four-nation conference in Geneva from July 18 to 21, which conference would be preceded by a meeting of the foreign ministers 12 to 18."

Having contacted the authorities of Canton and the city of Geneva, the federal government has replied in the affirmative.

First Official Confirmation
The brief communique was the first official confirmation that the western Big Three in their invitation to Moscow had set July 18 as the date for the opening of the top-level conference. It had been unofficially reported that the date had been selected when the invitations were forwarded to Moscow Monday.

Switzerland's announcement also provided the first slip-off that the conference of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Anthony Eden, French Premier Edgar Faure and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will be a four-day affair.

Steelworkers Open Talks For Wage Hike

By J. ROBERT SHUBERT
PITTSBURGH — UP — The CIO United Steelworkers opened steel industry wage negotiations with the U. S. Steel Corp. Tuesday morning with a record-breaking push to tie the union over until 1956, when it expects the guaranteed annual wage "to drop in our laps."

U. S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer, was the first of the booming industry's top firms to hear the 1.2 million-member union's demands for a wage increase the union described only as "substantial."

The union did not specify the exact amount it sought, but the union's estimated 20-cent-a-hour package won Monday by the CIO United Auto Workers in the Ford negotiations gave USW President David J. McDonald a likely target in wage talks limited under contract terms to wage rates only.

McDonald indicated last month that the USW might be after new high in wage boosts when he said, "In the past we've gotten increases of 18 1/2 cents an hour (in 1946) and 12 cents an hour but I don't say that is a substantial figure as of today."

The USW's big steel negotiation opening here will be followed by similar sessions each day this week with other members of the industry's "big six" producers — Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland Steel. These firms employ more than two-thirds of the basic steel industry's 600,000 production workers, who now earn an average hourly rate of $2.23.

Pipe Plant To Be Built

Arrey Construction Co. is now clearing up the old Danciger refinery plant site in order to begin construction of a concrete pipe manufacturing plant within the next 30 days, Ernest Arrey announced today.

The present field office, warehouse, construction yard and ancillary buildings will be moved to the site, north of the Country Club, about the same time.

Arrey, 1414 Charles, has been in the construction business in Pampa for 22 years. The concrete pipe plant is to be sold to contractors — firms for irrigation, concrete curbs and sewer purposes.

Referendum On Wheat Set June 25

A referendum of wheat farmers will be held again this year to determine if marketing quotas will be in effect for the 1956 crop of wheat. Any wheat producer who will have an interest in a farm with more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1956 is eligible to vote in the referendum.

The date of the referendum is Saturday, June 25. Voting places: Grandview community — (Precinct 3) — Grandview School; Laketon community — (Precinct 1) — Laketon store; Pampa community — (Precinct 2) — County Court Room, Pampa; McLean community — (Precinct 4) — City Hall, McLean.

If quotas are approved by two-thirds majority of the farmers over the nation, wheat producers who stay within their wheat allotments will be eligible for full price support.

Farmers who exceed their wheat allotments will not be eligible for price support and will also be subject to penalty determined at 45 per cent of the wheat parity price on May 1, 1956.

If quotas are disapproved by more than one-third of the farmers over the nation, producers who exceed their wheat allotments will be eligible for price support at 60 per cent of parity. Farmers who exceed their wheat allotments will not be eligible for price support and also will not be subject to penalty.

Wheat allotments will be in effect for 1956 whether quotas are approved or disapproved.

Notice of 1956 wheat allotments have been mailed to all wheat producers in the county. The county allotment this time is 92,360 acres, 368 acres more than the 1955 county wheat allotment. Appeals on wheat allotments must be made within 15 days from the date of the allotment notice.

Strikes Threaten General Motors

By REY W. BRUNE
DETROIT — UP — General Motors Corp., under pressure to extend the principle of guaranteed pay to 360,000 more workers by midnight, faced a twin strike threat from the CIO United Auto Workers and the CIO Electrical Workers Tuesday.

The contract of General Motors, covering 325,000 auto workers and 35,000 IUE workers, runs out at midnight. The unions threatened strike action unless a satisfactory settlement was reached.

The IUE, which represents workers at six Delco, Frigidaire and Packard electric plants of GM, also was pushing for the annual wage principle.

The IUE and UAW were negotiating simultaneously with General Motors. On economic matters, the IUE usually follows the general lead of the auto workers in negotiations with GM.

General Motors and the union worked until 2:45 a.m. Tuesday morning in their longest negotiation session to date.

They took a six-hour recess before reuming.

Livingston sounded the keynote for the GM talks after the union's guaranteed wage for Ford.

"I don't see any reason why we can't do better than they did at Ford," he said. "General Motors certainly can afford it."

Two Building Sites Cleared

Sites are now being cleared for new locations of two Pampa business firms.

The new Ideal store, and the new home of Security Federal Savings and Loan Association are expected to be ready for occupancy about Jan. 1, according to company officials.

Ideal's new store, located at Purviance and Francis will include an area 90 x 140 feet, with parking facilities adequate for 135 vehicles. The $125,000 structure is being built for Ideal's owners, Blakemore Brothers of Liberal, Kan.

Architect B. R. Cantrell said the building will be completely air conditioned, and will have face brick on all sides with a terra cotta bulkhead under the plate glass.

Aubrey Steele, general manager here for Security Federal, said plans for their $80,000 modern building are in the final stages and are expected to be approved at a directors meeting tomorrow.

The new structure located at Francis and Gray will be built on a lot 100 x 140. The office, completely air conditioned, is to be 4,600 square feet in area.

The company, in business in Pampa since 1928, is now located at 208 N. Russell. Bids will be let for the construction of the new building near the end of June, Steele said. Cantrell is the architect for the building.

Lucky, Unlucky
MAXWELL, Neb. — UP — When Neils Cannegard's pickup truck went off the road on his 71st birthday, he escaped injury. But when he walked across the road to get a fence post to help pry the truck from the ditch he slipped, fell and broke his left leg.

Civil Defense Meeting Set Friday Night

Gray County Civil Defense coordinator Rufe Jordan has called an organizational meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the district court room.

Jordan urged that anyone in Gray County who was interested in the work of civil defense and who could aid in the event of a disaster of any kind be present at the meeting. He especially urged that doctors, law men, nurses, and others qualified to meet emergencies attend.

In cooperation with local civil defense work, the Pet Milk Company is distributing small identification tags to be worn around the neck. The tags may be acquired by filling out an application blank, which is available at grocery stores throughout the county, and sending it in to the company with 25 cents to cover handling charges.

Jordan urged that citizens of Gray County take advantage of the opportunity to safeguard themselves and give peace of mind to others by getting and wearing the identification tags.

The tags would also be advantageous in helping locate the parents of lost children, identifying accident victims and holding down confusion.

The Friday night meeting will be used to set up and organize a civil defense group for immediate action when, if disaster strikes the Top o' Texas.

Capt. Daggett Back In Germany

Captain Fred G. Daggett, U.S. Army, former Army Recruiting Officer for Pampa and Gray County, has returned to Frankfurt, Germany, from an extended visit to Marseilles, Rome, Athens, Greece, Ankara and Istanbul, Turkey, Syria and the Holy Land.

Mrs. Daggett, the former June Marie Hoover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hoover of 1409 East Francis Ave., and children, Linda Kay, Fred Jr. and Pamela recently flew from New York to Germany to join Captain Daggett for the duration of his overseas assignment.

Gas Code Study Group Approved

City Commissioners today approved a four-man board to study a proposed gas code outlined by the plumbers' association. No date was set by the commission for the board to submit its recommendations.

Appointed to the board were men from the four groups interested in the adoption of the code.

Members are C. L. Sullins, representing the master plumbers; James McCoy, assistant manager for Empire Southern Gas; Paul Crossman, serving for the appliance dealers; and Malcolm Hinkle who will represent heating and air conditioning men.

City Manager Fred Brook at the last meeting of the commission pointed up the need for the gas code. Brook said that at present there is nothing in the city ordinances to cover many of the details of gasoline work. He added that the plumbers' association has been working the past three months on a rough draft.

The purchase of a new tractor-mowing machine for use by the Parks Department was awarded by the commission to Hogue-Mills Equipment Co., who submitted a low bid of $1,360 on a Farmall Super C. Other bidders were Pitts Farm Equipment, on a Ford 600, $2,002.76; Crossman Implement Co., John Deere, $1,425.50; Harvesters Feed and Implement Co., Allis Chalmers, $1,495.25, trail type, $1,580.13; and Hogue Mills, which also bid $1,690 on a Farmall 200.

Infant Dies Of Injuries In Auto Crash

Frances Ann Parker, 21 months old, died yesterday following a two-car accident near Groom at 3:50 p.m.

Isaac Ruben Baggerman, 21, of Groom, was the driver of an auto which was in collision with one driven by Nancy Woods Parker, 26, of Happy, at an intersection of two dirt county roads 6.4 miles northeast of Groom. Frances Ann and Cathy Parker, 3 years, 10 months old, were passengers in the Parker car.

Frances Ann died in the Groom Hospital, where all four involved in the accident were taken for treatment of injuries.

Light damages were inflicted on two cars involved in another accident one mile west of Pampa on Highway 60 at 4:35 p.m. yesterday.

The accident occurred as Ruth Hagen Taylor, 34, of 532 Summers, was turning left off the highway. Her car was in collision with one driven by Elizabeth B. Finley, 42, of Claude. Only light dam-

Irving Board Rehires Beard

IRVING, Tex. — UP — Dr. John L. Beard, whose firing as superintendent of Irving schools caused two special school elections, a teachers' strike and a hearing in Austin, has been rehired at his request.

Board President John T. Andrews said Beard asked to be rehired and that the board rehired him.

No formal announcement of Beard's re-instatement was made, however. Andrews said at a board meeting Monday night that Beard's rehiring was "in the best interests of Irving's schools."

He said testimony of an Austin hearing at which Beard sought his job back was reviewed by the board, which found "no just cause for (his) removal."

Million Polio Shots Slated For 5 States

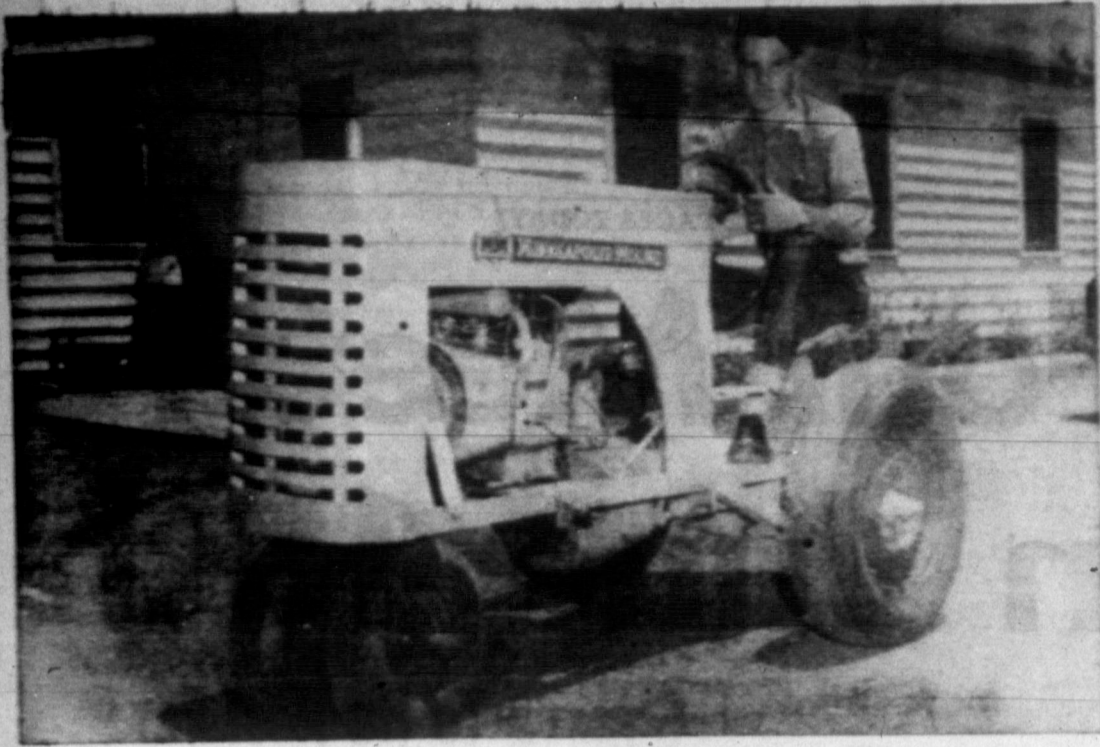

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
WASHINGTON — UP — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Tuesday the 1 million-Salk polio shots released by the government Monday night will be shipped quickly to five northern states and the Deep South.

The five northern states are New Jersey, Maine, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota. Their problems have been held up for lack of approved vaccine. They will get roughly 400,000 shots immediately to take care of first injections for first and second grade school children.

The remaining 600,000 doses will be sent as soon as possible to the Deep South to begin the second round of shots for first and second graders in the area where the polio strikes earliest.

Dr. G. Foard McGinness, head of the foundation's vaccine program, said Florida, Mississippi, Alabama, Texas, and Georgia almost certainly will be included in the first shipments.

Release of the 1 million shots was announced by the Public Health Service. It said the vac-

HOME-MADE TRACTOR

Vinson L. Shaw, 641 N. Christy, sits atop the tractor he designed and built in his machine shop classes at Pampa High School. Shaw used a '34 Ford truck transmission and a twin-cylinder Onan engine. The implement is capable of 15 mph in 4th gear and about 2 mph in compound. He had offers for the purchase of the tractor before it was completed, but prefers to keep it and make his $75 back plowing gardens this summer. (News photo)

American Women To Crowd European Fashion Centers

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
ROME—UP—Hundreds of American women shoppers will invade the high fashion salons of Europe this summer to splurge on a made-to-measure outfit. A few will step timidly into the carpeted style headquarters to see if there are accessories, like scarves and costume jewelry, for sale with the imported label and a hometown-type price tag. This is to advise the first-time visitors that they don't need to bother explaining they're from the United States. They'll be greeted by experts who not only speak several languages, but can spot an American woman the minute they lay eyes on her.

"I look at her feet," a friendly, smiling woman known only as Dottie said to explain her American-spotting trick at the fashion salon of the Fontana sisters here. More Comfortable Shoes Seem American women wear more comfortable-looking shoes with more room in the toes. French and Italian women have accepted the extreme pointed toe and needle-tapered heel more rapidly than the Americans. At the Fontana Salon here, run by three sisters who come from a 200-year dressmaking tradition in their family, women shoppers ride up on floor in a tiny, wire cage elevator and step into the second floor foyer to find Dottie waiting to greet them. She has been warned by a bell rung by the doorman downstairs.

"We sell 10 simple dresses to our American customers for every one we sell a striking dress. That one we call a striking dress. That is typical of European taste also." Even simple dresses come high in these famous designer headquarters. But it is possible to buy dresses with intricate handwork and embroidery for prices much lower than similar handmade styles in the United States. More than 100 white-smoked girls work in a long room on the third floor of the Fontana Salon, sewing, heading and embroidering.

Least Expensive Costs $100 A handmade straw lace cocktail dress for summer can be ordered for $110, which is about the least expensive dress in the shop. Other dresses, made to the customer's measurements from a sample modeled by one of the four full-time models, sell from $200 to $450. The sisters are preparing their next fall's designs in secret now, but Zoe made one fashion promise which she vowed will come true. "We like feminine women, she said. "We don't like flat women. You will hear no more about flat women for a while."

A Principle

WATERBURY, Conn. — UP — Told by a pair of armed bandits to hand over her money, Mrs. Max Fischer replied, "Shut up!" The bandits fled. Later she disclosed she wasn't carrying any money but balked because of the "principle of the thing."

Two Levels

TERRAVILLE, S. D. — UP — As Harry Kinney drove his car out of its garage, it hit a patch of ice, skidded and landed on the porch roof of the Dorothy McGriff home. That's not impossible in Terraville, which is built on a hillside. The porch roof was on a level with the street on which Kinney lived.

Two In One

RIVERTON, Wyo. — UP — Nannie Phillips got a bonus egg when she checked her brood of Red Hampshire pullets. Inside one egg was a smaller egg. The double egg was laid by a pullet less than a year old.

Salk Working To Improve His Vaccine

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — UP — Dr. Jonas E. Salk revealed Tuesday he is working to make his anti-polio vaccine more effective against type-one polio virus. Type-one virus causes the most paralytic polio but is the type against which the vaccine now is least effective.

Salk, U. S. Surgeon-General Leonard Scheele, and other polio vaccine experts appeared on one program at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association. The program was clearly designed to reassure physicians as to both the safety and potency of the vaccine. It is no secret that medical men have been only a little less confused than the general public. Two points were emphasized. In addition to the complete safety of the vaccine as it is now being distributed and manufactured under strengthened safeguards. They were, first, that one "shot" of vaccine gives almost as much protection as two and this protection persists even when the second "shot" is given weeks or even months after the first, and, secondly, there are only minor risks involved in vaccinating children during the summer "polio season."

U.S. May Ask Soviets About Americans In Red Prisons

By CHARLES H. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
It will not be surprising if the United States asks the Russians, at the approaching Big Four conference, about the Americans who are known to be imprisoned in Soviet slave labor camps. In recent months, emphasis has been put on American prisoners of war held by the Chinese Communists.

Texas Solon Hits Court's Race Ruling

AUSTIN — UP — Rep. Jerry Sadler of Hickory Grove charged Monday that the U. S. Supreme Court had taken a "left-wing, Communist propaganda" in its ruling banning public school segregation, and suggested secession from the union. "If it becomes necessary for us to quit the United States, I think we can get along without them," the East Texas lawmaker told the House of Representatives. Sadler, former railroad commissioner, also criticized Texas' two U. S. senators and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. "The time has come when our two senators should quit running for president or other offices and ask Congress to pass a constitutional amendment" to strike down the court's action," Sadler said. He charged the U. S. Supreme Court had struck down 59 previous holdings in arriving at its decision. He also suggested Gov. Allan Shivers should call a special session of the legislature to deal with the question. He did not suggest what might be done at such a session. Rep. Edgar Berlin of Port Neches, following Sadler, accused Sadler of making "a play for statewide publicity." Berlin said Sadler had "killed a lot of time in a useless and futile gesture."

Cops Promise Full Probe In Symonds Case

SINGAPORE — UP — Harry Best Livingstone, crown counsel, told a coroner's inquiry into the murder of United Press staff correspondent Gene Symonds Tuesday that the investigation and efforts to apprehend the killers will not end when the present inquiry closes. Livingstone made his statement in an opening address to the coroner's inquiry.

Some Suspicions

There always has been some suspicion that American fliers who made forced landing in Siberia during the war against Japan were kept prisoner by their Russian "allies." Bomber planes which landed on Russian territory became models for Russian bombers. After the end of World War II there were intermittent reports that the Russians were holding many American civilians. In addition to reports of Americans held in slave labor camps, it was known that Russia was refusing permission for some American citizens to leave Russian territory. The United States made representations to Russia in October and December, 1949, about 25 American citizens who were being detained. Russia denied that these 25 were Americans. The State Department asserted in a statement on March 3, 1950, that approximately 2,000 Americans were being held in the Soviet Union. Most of these were in Lithuania and eastern Poland when the Russians seized those territories. At that time Russia denied that Americans were being held as slave laborers. Letters Received The State Department retorted that letters from American slave laborers had been received by relatives in this country. The letters bore return addresses at labor camps. Some of them described conditions in the camps. The United States government continued to receive reports of the imprisonment of Americans, some of them soldiers seized on the West-East border line in Germany. In 1953, Austrian and Dutch war prisoners freed by the Russians started giving details of the imprisonment of Americans. They were able to identify a few of the Americans. These, the Russians released later.

Two Pampans At Girls State

Sheila Chisolm and Carol Carnes left Sunday to attend the Bluebonnet Girl's State in Austin, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Thousands of girls over the nation, 352 of them in Texas, will attend the 10-day session this year to be held at the Texas School for the blind until June 15.

Bluebonnet Girl's State is to provide girls of high school age training in citizenship; it is to give them an opportunity to live together as self-governing citizens; to inform them about the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities of American citizenship. To attain this, the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors an annual session of Girl's State which is not a school of textbook classes, but a week of learning by doing.

The girls become members of a party, pay their poll tax, obey their own laws, and vote in county, city, and state elections.

Sheila and Carol were chosen by the faculty of Pampa High School to attend the session on the basis of their leadership, citizenship and scholarship. They will be among the other participants meeting and hearing outstanding state officials, including Governor Allan Shivers, and will also take a tour of historical sites in Austin.

Brownell Won't Settle Press Suit

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. announced Tuesday that the government will not settle its anti-trust suit against the American Newspaper Publishers Association out of court.

Brownell's statement came after Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) demanded that the attorney general explain his reported plan to settle the suit.

Brownell said "the anti-trust division has no intention of settling any pending cases without the entry of a consent decree. There would be no effective enforcement of any agreement unless it is made Judiciary Committee brought up a matter of record by entry of such a decree."

Celler, chairman of the House subject at a hearing on monopoly and anti-trust problems.

He read a newspaper report from South Bend, Ind., quoting Brownell as saying that the government might settle the suit without requiring the American Newspaper Publishers Association to sign a consent decree.

Graham Gets Praise For Paris Talk

PARIS — UP — Billy Graham's simple message attracted warm praise and unexpected success in this strongly Catholic country Tuesday.

The American evangelist had 6,000 listeners at the Palais des Sports Monday night—a surprisingly large turnout for Monday which usually is the slowest day of the week. Of these, 365 came forward for Christ.

These figures, added to Sunday's "greatest opening victory," brought the crusade's two-day figures to 18,000 attendance and 988 decisions.

The percentage of decisions in this predominantly Catholic city has been about treble the number of Graham's most successful meetings in Britain.

The success of Graham's crusade stirred much comment Tuesday from every corner of Paris. The preacher's ability to "reach" his audiences in a generally anti-religious and lay observers.

Most observers agreed with Pastor Albert Finet, director of the leading French weekly "Reforme," who attributed Graham's success to the simplicity of his message. Finet, lukewarm to the American before hearing his service, said Graham's theology was "reduced to a bare minimum that anyone could accept, even a Catholic priest."

The French press—other than Communist and Catholic newspapers—agreed with Finet's appraisal of the services. It praised the revivalist's dynamic appeal and simple but stirring message.

The Communist press continued to lead the expected opposition. It bitterly attacked the 37-year-old preacher as an agent of American foreign policy. Catholic newspapers refrained from commenting.

JIM CRACKS

By JIM DEAN

The romantic young lady sings: "He took me in his arms and turned the lights down low. . . . And began to talk about BASEBALL! BASEBALL!"

An unusual beginning for a song, indeed, and no doubt an abrupt end to what might have been . . .

However, it seemed an appropriate way to get into a subject of much concern here in Pampa and in many other cities of this size and some larger.

I heard the song just recently—a new recording which apparently is yet to arrive on the Pampa scene.

But the sad lament of baseball has been ringing in my ears for years, and it is played in the tempo of a funeral march.

Despite the dedicated efforts of a few men whose love for the sport approaches passion, baseball continues to decline in the one phase where it must excel — gate receipts.

Here in Pampa, a number of men are included in that category of "Baseball Fans."

There are such fellows as Dr. Malcolm Brown, Grover Seitz, Guilford Fox (Pinky Branson), Joe Fischer, Harold Miller, Travis Livey Jr., DeLea Vickers, Aaron Sturgeon, Warren Haase and our own Buck Francis. And there were others, of course, who helped to keep the sport alive in Pampa this year.

But, when all is said and done, the "Baseball Fan" is a rare bird today.

He is a man who loves baseball as a sport. He feels the ecstasy of the first love of youth when his team battles its way to a pennant and he knows the exquisite pain and the hopeless love when his crew fails.

He is the man who, at the drop of a hat, can name you batting averages of the stars; he can recall in detail a given situation in a crucial contest 10, 15 years ago; he can tell you where so and so hit a ball in a certain situation that broke up a ball game. In many cases, he's an "amateur" manager who can recite the "percentage" and can explain how the manager made a mistake . . . and, one important point, he's at the ball game every night.

That's the consideration baseball, the sport, gets from the true fan.

And as a sport, baseball is hard to beat.

But the dilemma of this great game is that it must derive its means for subsistence from its appeal as a medium of entertainment . . . and there is where the violins begin to play.

When I was a youngster in East Texas (where the pine trees tickle the eegles' toes) my home town secured, for a part of the season, the franchise of Shreveport, La., in the Texas League.

Baseball was an afternoon game in those days, there being no lights at the park. And the competition for the entertainment dollar was practically non-existent.

The game, today, is as it was then, with the lamentable exception that it has lost many of its colorful "characters."

But the competition for the entertainment dollar has never been more fierce.

Today folks drive around in automobiles; they listen to music over the radio which also brings them the account of the ball game, and that "fad" they call television has sprouted antenna horns all over the nation.

Baseball has done nothing to improve itself as a medium of entertainment though it remains the same exciting sport it ever was.

In the face of constantly improving, modern outlets of entertainment, however, it is easy prey. The motion picture industry which once quaked at the sight of the television monster has recovered in the style and is reclaiming many of the dollars once counted lost. It has added soft seats, sound, color, wide screen and even better on the pop corn in the last 30 years!

And, as an example of fine entertainment, here in Pampa, the new movies coming up include "Davy Crockett" and "A Man Called Peter."

These are masterpieces of an industry that knows, perhaps better than any enterprise, the fickle heart of the public.

Theatre Man Paul West may feel there is a long way to go, but the comeback of the motion picture industry is quite a credit to competitive enterprise.

But changeless baseball yet faces its dilemma. It must maintain its character to appeal as a sport, and yet its lengthy contests and its drawn-out season, its every-day-appearance robs it of its appeal as "entertainment."

Now it's time for The Poet's Nook which will be a regular feature of this column at its closing: "A thing of beauty is a joy for ever. Its loveliness increases; it will never pass into nothingness; . . ."

Well, perhaps it will give you something to think about. It's a hint about the subject of next week's effort in this column.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Exodus 3:1-6

All creation follows a pattern. It is very necessary for us to think clearly on the subject of miracles.

We do not deny God's power, when we explain a miracle by revealing the law which produced it. We have thought of a miracle as an isolated, unexplained act of God, contrary to the usual, which appears to be a result of a direct interference with the established order; but if he is a God of order, will his character permit him to do so? The more we know about the universe he has made the more apparent it becomes that all creation follows an exact pattern into which everything fits. There are no loose pieces scattered about to be called "accidents." A "miracle" is a natural product of a natural law which is explained to our complete satisfaction when we have discovered the law by which it came into existence.

To many devout people the loss of miracles is a spiritual disaster, for they have relied upon them as evidence of the power and personal interest of God. But one demonstrable law is worth a hundred miracles if properly interpreted in spiritual terms.

The burning bush from which God spoke to Moses in the desert is identified as having stood there. No other spot was holy because Moses had not found God in any other spot. But to the modern devout man with a trained mind, every spot on earth is holy because it is packed with atomic energy which is the direct product of God's presence.

The scientists have told me that there is energy everywhere, and my church has told me that all energy is from thee, O God. Then I will see thee in every display of energy all about me, and believe thee to be present in everything that shares in thy energy. Thou art near, Amen.

Look at half a dozen small objects about you, and remind yourself of the statement of the scientists that all are composed of atomic energy. Then repeat the script, "In him we live, and move, and have our being." (Acts 17:28.) Note the awe that comes over you.

Old Prison
MONTPELIER, Vt.—UP—Vermont claims that its state prison at Windsor is the nation's fourth oldest penal institution. Its history dates back to 1809, but the actual buildings now in use were not erected until 1875-76. Penal institutions in Richmond, Va., Trenton, N. J., and Charlestown, Mass., are older.

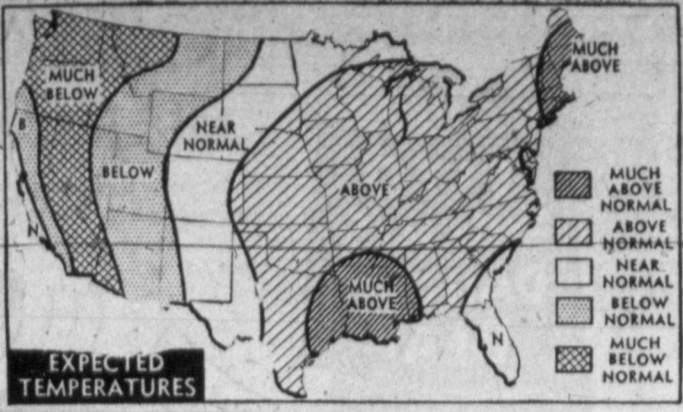

Night Shift
NEW BRITAIN, Conn.—UP—John Yurko began to think he had found a bottomless pit. He told police he worked on an excavation each day, but the hole never seemed to get any bigger. Police learned that someone had been shoveling dirt back into the hole each night after Yurko went home.

HOLLYWOOD —(NEA)— Exclusively Yours: Memo to all secretaries:

Take a memo that you have a lot more appeal to Mr. Average Guy than Hollywood's glamor babes.

Debonair George Sanders just told me so. Yup, Zsa Zsa Gabor's ex-hubby.

Movie queens, says George, are narcissistic while most men like the type of woman who will show at least a smattering of interest in her escorts. And most secretaries I've met," says the star, "seem to fill that bill better than actresses."

A movie queen, Sanders said on the set of U-I's "A Time Remembered," "may be listening to you, seemingly drinking in every word, but she's really not listening at all. She's thinking about whether her visible reaction is in good form or creating the intended effect."

Sanders also let it fly: "Secretaries and other women not immersed within their own private world are not saddled with the horrible burden of trying to look every inch the raving beauty under any and all circumstances."

JIM BACKUS developed a slight accent for his "Francis in the Navy" role so he wouldn't sound too much like Mr. Magoo, the near-sighted cartoon character he vocalizes for the screen. But Andy Devine still sounds like Andy Devine despite his first non-comedy role in 18 years.

Big Andy plays a police detective with Jack Webb in "Peter Kelly's Blues" and for a couple of days he thought he should have a new dramatic voice to match.

"But after a couple of lessons," Andy told me, "I listened to myself on a playback record and was shocked at what I heard. I sounded like a combination of CHUB WILLS and Ronald Colman. So I decided to keep right on squeakin'."

Escaped Inmates All Recaptured
WAYMART, Pa. — UP—The last of 15 escapees from the Farview state hospital was captured exhausted and hungry Sunday after wandering through woods for more than 32 hours.

The 15 inmates battered their way out of Farview, an institution for the criminally insane, Saturday morning after overpowering three guards and ripping out telephone wires. Ten were captured by alert guards within an hour of the break. Four others were combed out of nearby woods Saturday night.

The 15th escapee, identified as Moses Ross, 24, of Philadelphia, surrendered without a struggle to guards patrolling some woods about five miles from the hospital.

Eve Arden Says Television Made Her A Movie Star

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Aline Mosby is on vacation. Guest columnist Eve Arden writes about her triumphant return to movies from TV.)

By EVE ARDEN

Written for the United Press
HOLLYWOOD — UP— It's a funny thing, one that people who have followed my fortunes and miston-tunes as Connie Brooks on CBS television's "Our Miss Brook" may have lost sight of, but I never was a movie star until now — and it took television to get me there.

For years and years, which I will not stop to count at this time, I played someone's best friend. Once, I played a role in which I wasn't even a best friend — the Russian lady sniper in "The Doughgirls." But still I wasn't a star.

Now, after three years in television and radio, playing a schoolteacher, I'm back at Warner Studios, where I did all those sharp-tongued, best-friend roles, as star of my own picture.

It's fun to be back at Warner's with all my old friends — especially under these circumstances. And making this picture will be even more fun with all my old television friends in the picture with me.

Al Lewis and Joe Quillan, who write those wonderfully amusing "Our Miss Brooks" scripts, have done the screenplay for the "Our Miss Brooks" movie. The entire television cast will play their television roles in the movie.

"I almost said 'the entire television cast will play themselves.' We've all come to feel so closely identified with the roles that we sometimes think of each other as Mr. Conklin, instead of as Gale Gordon; or as Walter Denton, instead of as Dick Crenna, or as Mr. Boynton, instead of as Robert Rockwell.

Being as fond of the "Our Miss Brooks" show as I am, I'm happy it has given me my first starring role in a movie. The old days were fun, and playing those wisecracking roles gave me some wonderful lines of dialogue, but I did get tired of being typed. I'd go to a party, or even be stopped on the street by someone who recognized me, and be expected to come up with something bright and witty. It was flattering, but a little disconcerting.

The Connie Brooks role took me off that particular hook, for which I'm grateful. It may possibly, if the public goes on enjoying the show as much as it seems to now, give me in another way — as a schoolteacher. But, at least, it's fun!

HOUSTON — UP— Texas J. Foster, who two years ago gained national attention when he posed as a narcotics "pusher" to help break up two teen-age dope rings, was fired Monday by Police Chief Jack Heard.

The police chief ordered the 29-year old Foster suspended as the result of an incident last Wednesday night in which Patrolman Homer L. Bruner was wounded in the arm.

Heard asked the Civil Service board to make the suspension "indefinite," which would be permanent.

He said the shooting last Wednesday night was less responsible for Foster's dismissal from the force than the story he told about it afterward.

Legion Chief, British Navy Brass In Tiff

LONDON — UP—The top admiral of the British navy and the national commander of the American Legion had a polite brush in public Monday.

It was so polite that the national commander, Seaborn P. Collins, insisted afterward he didn't think the tiff was in first sea lord Admiral Earl Mountbatten's statement "was intended that way at all."

However, the British Exchange Telegraph news agency reported that the nation's newspapers that Mountbatten had "rebuked Mr. Collins."

The exchange followed an unusually blunt speech by Collins before the 13th biennial conference of the British Service League of which Mountbatten is grand president.

Collins denounced "the Godless tyranny of communism" and would up by warning the British to be firm because "you saw what happened at Munich." Moreover, he said, "the American Legion strongly opposes the sending of strategic material to China or any other country behind the Iron or Bamboo Curtain."

With that, Mountbatten arose and skipping the usual thank-you platitudes, said coolly:

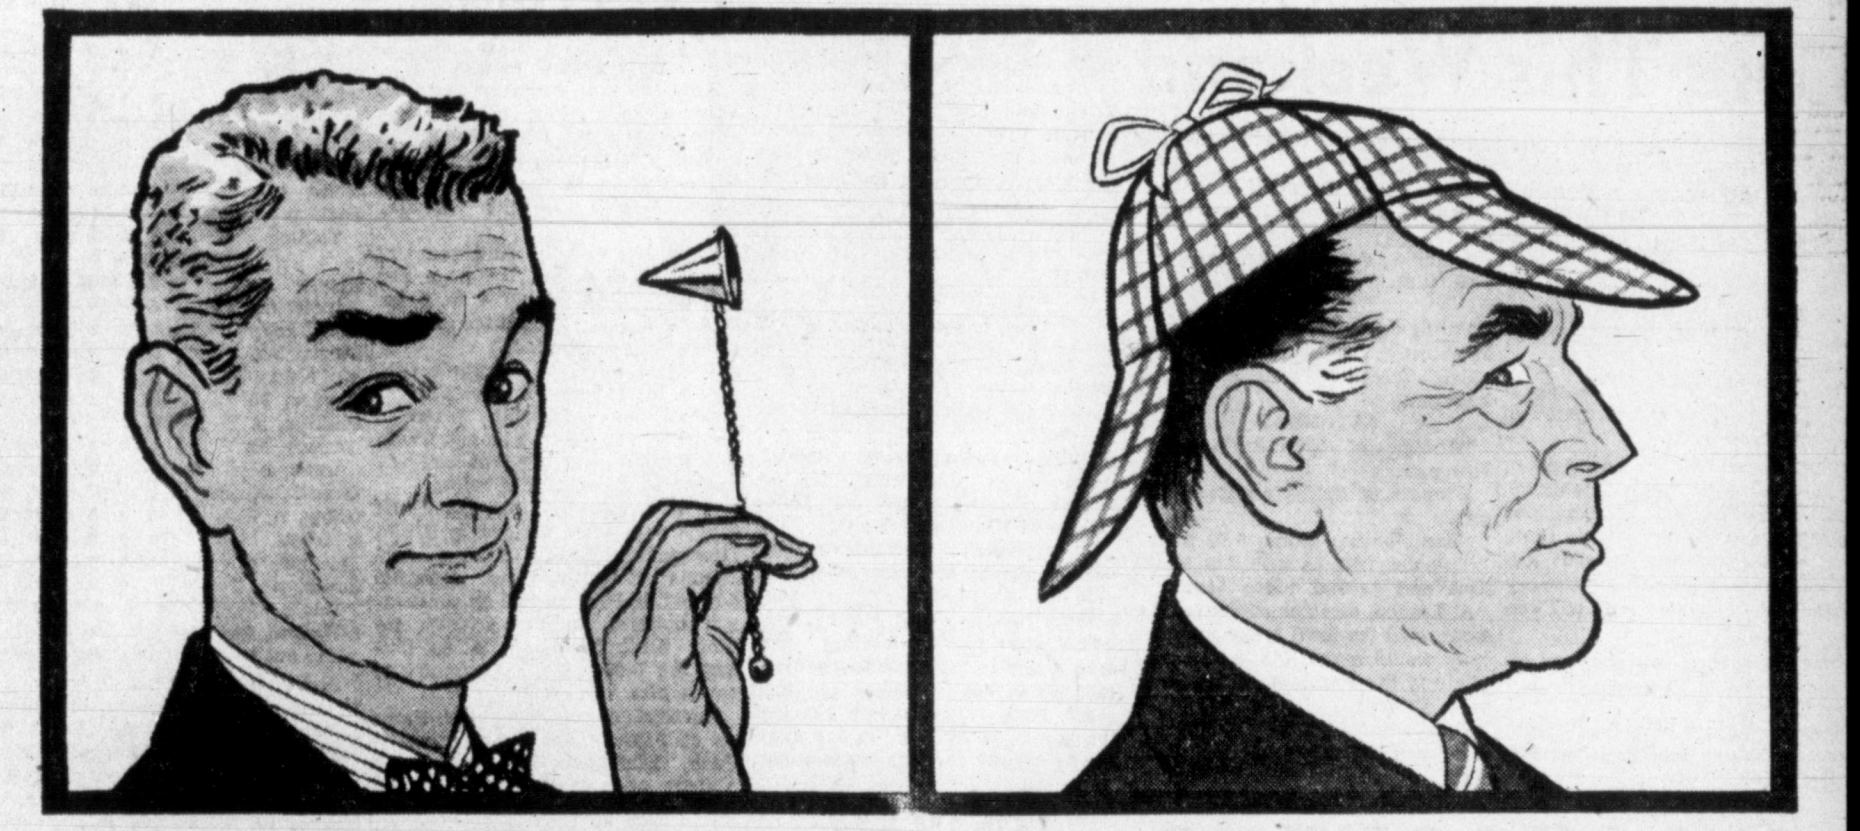

"I would point out to Mr. Collins that we confine ourselves to the ex-service men, which is the main object of the league."

Appointments Okayed
WASHINGTON — UP— The Senate unanimously approved Monday President Eisenhower's appointments to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Mr. Eisenhower renamed Adm. Arthur W. Radford as chairman of the joint chiefs; Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, as Army chief; Adm. Arleigh A. Burke as chief of naval operations, and Gen. Nathan F. Twining as Air Force chief. All were two-year terms.

Longhorn Makes Suspension Ruling

MIDLAND, Tex. —UP—A new rule to end abusive use of the suspended player limit went into effect in the Longhorn League Tuesday.

Directors met Monday and voted to fine any player placed on the suspended list a day's pay for each day's suspension with the money to be remitted to the league general fund.

The league will also fine any club which attempts to reimburse a fined player $500.

Directors said the rule was adopted to prevent abusive use of the suspended player list which has enabled some teams to carry more than the legal number of five veterans by shifting players from the active to suspended list from day to day.

In an economy move the league voted to limit all rosters to 15 players, including five rookies, five veterans, and five limited service players.

League President J. C. (Peck) Cunningham announced his retirement because of business pressure.

Cunningham asked that a new president be elected by July 1.

Frustrating, Wilson Says

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON — UP — What's new in Washington?
Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson was briefing a society of business editors on his job. The secretary remarked: "I have found the job intriguing, fatiguing and frustrating — it is a combination of highly important things and tremendous trifles. It is difficult to get good men... The people we need sit next to God and have financial and technical experience... these people are hard to find."
In the park across from the Capitol these days youngsters by the thousands are cluttering up things with basket lunches and camera shooting. The senators and congressmen are aware of the potentials of "I saw our congressman and I got his autograph," when the kids go back to their voting parents. The law-givers aren't shy. A lot of them walk out of the Capitol building pen in hand.
In the current session, the Senate has had a lot of weekends off. But, while the Senate is getting a lot of work done. Under the leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate has passed 408 bills and has approved 39,728 nominations, from the slightest postmaster way on up.

Legislature To Adjourn Marathon Session Tonight

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
AUSTIN — UP — Texas lawmakers, payless since May 10, were scheduled to finally adjourn the 54th Legislature at 6 p.m., Tuesday night.
Adjournment was assured when the Senate Monday night adopted a house resolution setting the time.
Lawmakers' pay stopped 28 days ago under the constitutional amendment providing $25-a-day for the first 120 days of the session. The session started Jan. 10.
Action on a hotly-disputed statewide water conservation program was postponed until Tuesday morning in the House.
In its final hours, the legislature snarled on a controversial bill to license automobile dealers when Sen. Doyle Willis, Fort Worth, leading a lone attack on the measure, opposed adoption of a conference committee report.
Filibuster Threat Folds
However, the threat of a full-blown filibuster folded when the House rejected the same report by a vote of 59 to 58.
Gov. Allan Shivers had on his desk for signature an embattled bill creating a Trinity River Authority. The measure, sponsored by Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, cleared the legislature Monday.
It would take in all of five counties and parts of 12 others with an ad valorem tax ceiling of two cents per $100 valuation for water conservation purposes.
Willis attacked the car dealers' licensing act as a "bad old bill" and charged it "puts all of the (used) car dealers in Texas out of business who now sell new automobiles."
"No One Wants Bill"
"I don't know of anybody that wants this bill except the new car dealers," the Fort Worth lawmaker said.
Other legislative developments included:
A bill providing increases for old age assistance, needy blind and dependent children effective July 1, expected to cost $370,000, won approval of the House. The measure, by Rep. Grady Hogue of Athens, now goes to the Senate.
A conference committee report on a state building commission bill received House voice vote approval. The bill provides $500,000 for air conditioning of House and Senate chambers, and office space or House members in space to be vacated by courts and the attorney general's office, to be moved to a new building.
Concurs in Changes
The Senate concurred in House changes to a controversial school financing bill designed to provide money for more classrooms. The bill, which now goes to the governor, fixes a ceiling of $1.50 per $100 valuation on ad valorem taxes for maintenance purposes, and sets a ceiling of 10 per cent of the assessed taxable property for levying taxes for construction purposes.
A bill appropriating $484,000 over the next two fiscal years for the judicial retirement system and salaries of new judges and district attorneys created this session won House approval and now goes to the governor.
A measure allowing the Texas Turnpike Authority to use up to $200,000 in surplus money obtained from the planned Dallas-Fort Worth toll road for use in determining feasibility of toll roads in other areas received 84-45 final passage in the House and goes to the Senate.
Governor Gets Prison Bill
A proposal to allow the Texas prison board to sell some 4,500 acres of land on the Blue Ridge farm land near Huntsville won approval of both House and Senate and was sent to the governor.
A measure appropriating $339,000 over the next two fiscal years to the state board of pardons and paroles to put into effect a system of adult probation and parole supervisors received House approval and was sent to the Senate.
The House agreed 119-5 to Senate changes to a proposed constitutional amendment providing up to $1.5 million a year in assistance for totally and permanently disabled persons. The proposal will be submitted to a vote of the people.

Segregation Block On Bill For Military Reserves Hit

WASHINGTON — UP — Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson said Monday it is imperative to U.S. security that congress break the deadlock over segregation that has stalled action on President Eisenhower's military reserves bill.
"I sincerely hope," the Texas Democrat told reporters, "that we will not imperil the existence of our nation by raising issues which can have no meaning in terms of results."
While he declined to be more specific, he was clearly referring to the impasse which has developed in the House where a civil rights bloc teamed up with opponents of the reserve bill to write in an amendment forbidding assignment of reservists to segregated units in the National Guard. This made the bill unpalatable to southern Democrats who had previously been a chief source of support, and the legislation has been pigeonholed indefinitely. Efforts to work out a compromise in the House appeared last week to have collapsed.
Johnson's statement prompted speculation that the Senate Armed Services committee, of which he is a member, may take the initiative in reviving action on the reserve bill. The committee is scheduled to start hearings Thursday on a House-approved bill to extend the draft law. It could amend this bill to include the reserve program.
