IRON HORSE RETURNS

Shades of the nostalgic past were relived today as Pampans got their first view of an "ancient" steam locomotive, not in use on the Santa Fe for the past year-anda-half. Once king of the rails, the locomo tives were put back into use because of a shortage in engines caused by the bumper California potato crop. (News Photo)

Don't argue with this baby!

All Chevrolet's competitors and most of the high-priced cars tried it recently in official NASCAR* trials - and took a licking!

Meet the champ! The new Chevrolet "Turbo-Fire V8" - the most modern V8 on the road today. Here's what happened-

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Acceleration Tests Over Measured Mile From Standing Start. Chevrolet captured the 4 top positions in its class! 8 of the first 11! And on a time basis Chevrolet beat every high-priced car, too-but one! But wait!-this is igst he beginning!

Daytona Beach. NASCAR Straightaway Running. Open to cars delivered in Florida for $2,500 or less. Chevrolet captured the first two places, 7 out of the first 11 places! Daytona Beach. NASCAR 2-Way Straightaway Running Over Measured Mile. Open to cars from 250 to 299 cu. in. displacement. Chevrolet captured 3 of the first 5 places! Columbia, S. C. NASCAR 100-

Mile Race on half-mile track. Very tight turns. Chevrolet finished first!

Fayetteville, N. C. NASCAR Late Model Event, Chevrolet again finished first. Because of even tighter turns the driver chose to run the entire 150 laps in second gear! Yet no overheating or pit stops! These facts you can't laugh off.

Sales leader. Road leader. A crowning achievement of Chevrolet and General Motors. Try a Chevrolet . . . and live in a land of going-away where you win all the arguments! Soon, maybe?

Way, way ahead!

Cereal Festivals were celebrated in mid-April about 500 B.C. by the Romans to solicit protection for growing grains. The modern version of this celebration is the Spring Cereal and Milk Festival sponsored by the breakfast cereal and dairy industries to promote the food value of cereal and milk. Cereal and milk complement each other in both food value and appetite appeal. Besides providing calcium, cereal and milk also contribute other important minerals (phosphorus and iron), B vitamins (thiamine, niacin and riboflavin), top-quality protein and

Graham To Tour 15 Big Cities

PARIS -UP- American evangelist Billy Graham inspired by the response to his Paris crusade, Wednesday scheduled a whirlwind tour of 15 major continental cities. The tour will take Graham to Switzerland, Germany, Holland Norway, Denmark and back to London before he returns to the United States late next month,

A spokesman for the evangelist said Graham is "very happy about the results of his crusade in

"Some skeptics told him the Parisians would not come to big evangelistic meetings," the spokesman said. "Yet, he has drawn crowds from 7,000 to 9,000 persons and each night 300 to 400 persons respond to his invitation and make a decision for Christ."

Graham held a prayer meeting with his team members before noon Wednesday. Then he rested in his hotel room for the fourth meeting of his crusade in the huge Palais des Sports Wednesday night. Graham will leave Paris late Sunday for a short rest at some still undisclosed place, probably, in France, to prepare for his continental tour and to work on his book

'MY FOOT ITCHES'

Visited by a friend in a Winfield, Kan., hospital, that's what three-year-old Connie Ruth Lawson, victim of the tornado that blew her home town of Udall to pieces, told the friend. But the foot Connie complained of wasn't there. It had been amputated. The little girl lay in the hospital not knowing that her mother and four others of her family had been buried in the Udall cemetery. Her father, also a tornado victim, is alive in a Wichita hospital. until most of the lumps in the hue Wall, cheese are gone. Pour jello into another bowl. Add two cups hot water, as directed on package. Stir until jello is dissolved. Instead of cold water, add the 11/2 cups pineapple juice and 12 cup cold water. Stir in. Add jello to pineapple-creamed cheese mixture, a ittle at a time. I have never been able to avoid some lumps, so I beat the mixture a little to help get rid of some of them. Beating also makes it nice and foamy, Put into loaf casserole and chill until firm.

Print Dresses Are | 48th Year Neat, Sophisticated

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK - (NEA)- Prints, small and neat and in sophisticated colorings, are used by top designers this year for everything from suits to dresses for late day wear. Lots of women have been afraid of prints in the past and with good reason. They were designed to "go with everything" and consequently went with nothing.

Prints this year, are meant to be accessorized in line with the predominant color in the print. Instead of fighting upright as usual, Charles showed his home town fans he could go into an opponent head down — in Rocky Marteiano fashion — and press him at claim fashion — and press him at plenty of room for his looping punches, could get little power or accuracy into his blows.

Most of us old-fashioned anglers, sunburn and insect bites, and the firm conviction that fishing ain't what it used to be.

A fish-producing, scientific approach involves a reconnaissance in an entirely different way.

This type angler isn't particularly interested in surface conditions of the water. He knows the fish are down under that water, yet he can't see any further under accuracy into his blows.

There's a bilious green pamphlet which is being widely distributed by the National Education Association

It is reminiscent of the cries put out by other totalitarian outfits. The Japanese used "Room to Live" as one of the reasons for their move into Mukden in 1935.

Mussolini used an Italian version to explain his attack on Addis Ababa. And Hitler screamed "Liebenstraum"

as his goosestepping Wehrmacht took over the Suden-

Apparently enough, Washington Post Cartoonist Herb-lock has furnished an illustration for the cover. It depicts a very shoddy American school so overcrowded with children that they are bulging through breaking windows, even as one little fellow leans out tolling the school bell. Obviously calling on America's taxpayers to Now, while it is true America is faced with a grow-

We note, for instance, on page 4 of this publication, this item: "Not until September 1949, when enrollments leaped from 23.9 million children to 25.1

million during one summer, did the shortage of school buildings become nationwide in its impact."

lieve that suddenly and without warning some 1.2 mil-tion children, each one six years of age, miraculously appeared on the scene from July until September. But, since children have a way of being born considerably younger than six years of age, the startling advent of these school age tots on the educational scene could not possibly have been totally unheralded. Further, they

A more restrained and factual statement might better have been written: "During the 1943-49 school year enrollment climbed from 23.9 million children to 25.1 million, an increase of 1.2 million children." But the purpose of this moss-colored document apparently

It goes on with this interesting set of facts. It says on page 5: "In 1952 we had a million classrooms in use, but we needed 312,000 additional classrooms to house 8,881,000 children." Then a little further on it reveals that in determining the number of classrooms needed, "30 pupils to a room is a reasonable standard." Now the only increase in classrooms reported by this document comes in the next paragraph where it is noted: "In 1954-55 the need for additional classrooms was originally estimated at 370,000 by the U.S.

Office of Education, but new school construction exceeded the amount expected for 1954. Because we built 60,000 classrooms (at a cost of $21/2 billion) the

Let us examine some of this arithmetic with the understanding that the people who worked it out are probably not completely accountable since they ap-

Of course we don't know on the strength of these figures just what the true situation is. But, by using all that the NEA has provided in the way of information, we come to the following conclusions: 1. Since the first construction noted was for the years 1954-55, that there was no construction worth mentioning in previous years. Therefore, 2. In 1952 there were a million school rooms in use and in 1949, when the school population

"leaped" upwards so remarkably to a total of 25.1 million children, there would have been approximately 25

Now since that 1.2 million increase was so remarkable we might use it as a base for further figuring.

If school populations are increasing about the same speed, then from September 1949, until June 1955 we would expect a population increase of right at 6 mil-

Iton. Since the school population then was 25.1, if you

Now, the NEA says that if you have 30 persons in a classroom that is about right. So if their estimates are about right, and if we didn't have any more than the million school rooms we had in 1952, then we'd have about 31 students per room as an average, which is not what we'd actually get excited about and call a

Because the NEA admits that in 1954-55 60,000

"Actually, what we are experiencing is not peace but a change in war tactics. The threat of America's atomic weapons has caused the war-makers to revert to tactics and strategy more devious and indirect than those of Mussolini in Ethopia, of Hitler against Czechoslovakia and Poland, or of Stalin against Finland. But subversion, sabotage, raids, assassinations, kidnappings, guerrilla fighting, blockades, civil war and threats of still greater violence are not peace, although they are what the communist calls 'peaceful coexistence.'

The fact is that the UN today far from being the world's peacemaker, is a device, or tactic, of the collectivist enemies of peace. In the name of peace it is subverting the only form of government that can bring peace to the

"For, in the collectivist view, peace is a state of bliss to be reached only through much violence and war. In that far-off Utopia every individual will work submissively in society as a wheel turns quietly in a smooth-running

"Meanwhile, to attain that state of perfect 'social adaptation,' collectivists propose to use an allpowerful state to 'socialize' mankind, that is, to make each person want only to serve 'Society.' as represented by the orders of government.

'Some persons, they agree, this state cannot remake: they are too confirmed in their individualistic ways of thinking, feeling and acting. The socialist and 'liberal' hope to override or ignore these 'reactionaries' by legal force; the communist proposes to liquidate them - 'purge' them - as quickly as possible. All collectivists agree that the real hope for the future Planned Society lies in the young, who must be reared from infancy in socialized nurseries. kindergartens, schools and young people's organizations.

'Most Americans today know better than they did 20 years ago that this is not the way to peace but to perpetual conflict, war improverishment and death. More and more, I believe, they are public and private, coming to a new appreciation of the very different view of peace ers of this Republic. The American Way to Peace "Those revolutionaries spurned the thought of a society in whick there is no individual striving and struggle, conflict and competition, success and failure. They believed that self-interest, individual freedom, personal responsibility and free competition are necessary for man to develop the untold possibilities within him "But they also knew that this individual opportunity is possible only insofar as people - including government officials - live accord with moral law.

"In this view government has no other duty or responsibility than that which moral law imposes on every person. And for their understanding of moral law these men looked to the Bible to the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, for they believed that moral law is God's law.

"Clearly, if every man lived by the Golden Rule, there would be peace, even though there would still be disagreements and conflicts. No one would do violence to any other. None would steal or cheat. Each would try to get others to do as he wished only by peaceful persuasion, by voluntary gift, or by free exchange. If everyone behaved in this way there would be peace.

"Conversely, a person breaks the peace - he violates moral law - if he initiates violence or threat of violence against a fellow man, or if he practices fraud.

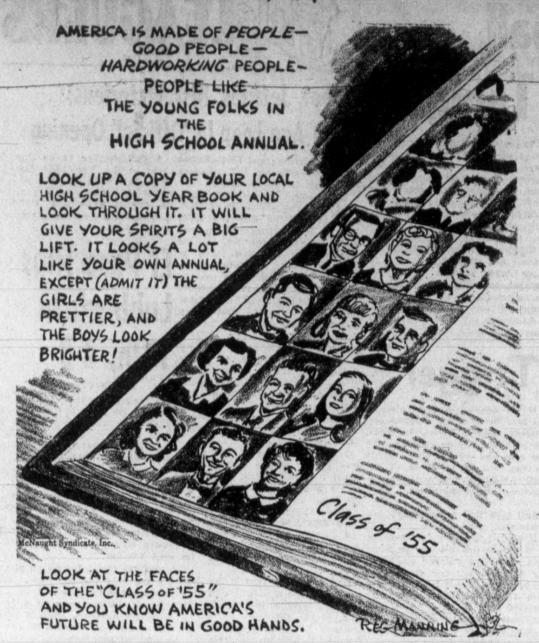

"This may not seem revolutionary until we apply it, as the Founding Fathers of this Republic applied it, to the conduct of men acting in concert, as in a government, This was and is, the essential meaning of individualism. It means that group action against an individual is subject to the same moral law as the action of one individual against another. "The collectivist believes otherwise. He believes that government can do with impunity what no individual should do. He may agree that no private person should use violence to force his next-door neighbors to pay their money into a 'social security fund,' but he thinks it quite all right for gove ernment to use threat of injury for this and many other purposes under pretext of doing good or promoting the 'general welfare.' "This is the pagan faith that leads to war, the faith in violence as a means of doing good for oneself or others. If legal violence is good for one's fellow citizens, why not extend its blessings to foreigners? If the state should compel the rich to support the poor, why should it not compel the strong to defend the weak? If it is right for government to take our wealthy neighbor's property for our use, is it not even better to selze the foreigner's?

"The Founding Fathers of these United States knew that this was not the way to peace. Therefore, they tried to make a government that would itself obey the law that they believed all men should live by. They knew that for anyone to be free, he must be free from government interferences as well as from private coercion. Only thus can anyone realize the God-given possibilities within him. "With this in mind they wrote into the Constitution many specific and board limitations on the powers of government. Then they divided and scattered this limited power. They separated it into departments, and designed these to check and balance one another. They intended that no official or department might with impunity violate the law or become strong enough to overpower the others and destroy the Constitution.

"And they adopted constitutions to limit the state government as the federal Constitution limited the federal authority. Thus they decentralized power.

WHAT A BREEZE!

This giant, five-bladed propellor stands on a dock at Newport News, Va., evidence that water transportation, though age-old, is still vital in this jet age. Too large for railroads and too heavy for highways, four of these 70,000-pound propellors were shipped by barge from Philadelphia, Twenty-one feet in diameter, the cast manganese bronze propellors were designed for the
