

Pampa Hospitality When Tragedy Hits Rates Letter To Governor Shivers

A tragedy on U.S. Hwy. 60, three miles west of Pampa, has resulted in a letter on Texas hospitality from the president of a California company to the governor of Texas. A copy of the air-mail letter, that praises "so many good people in such a confined area as Pampa," was sent to The Pampa Daily News.

The letter, concerns the death of Victor A. Reed, 68, of San Francisco, who was driving a new company car May 2 from Detroit, Mich., to San Francisco. Mr. Reed was involved in a slight automobile accident and, shortly after he climbed out of the car and began to speak to the other vehicle's driver, he slumped to ground. He was dead on arrival at a local hospital. Mrs. Reed was accompanying her husband on the trip. Charles D. Walker, president of the Charles D. Walker Co., San Francisco, writes, Gov. Allan Shivers of the "hospitality in Texas" which was shown to Mrs. Reed during her stay in Pampa. When Mrs. Reed arrived in San Francisco, the letter reads, "she stated that she did not know what she would have done if it were not for the good people of Texas, and she had nothing but praise and in fact surprise that there were so many good people in such a confined area as Pampa." First, Walker says, "there was a Mr. Searis, who lives near Pampa, he drove Mrs. Reed to the hospital." Then, he continues, "after the doctors had told her the sad news, she asked which hotel they would recommend as she was too weak to travel."

"A Mrs. Helen Groninger appeared, apparently from nowhere," the letter goes on, "and insisted that Mrs. Reed come home with her where she was given a comfortable room and meals without charge. Miss Verna Shaw was the owner of the building in which Mrs. Groninger lived and she in turn went out of her way to make Mrs. Reed comfortable."

Rev. Porter Brooks, pastor of St. Matthews Episcopal Church, "was also more than cooperative," Walker wrote, the governor. Bob Carmichael, of the Dunkel-Carmichael Funeral Home, also came in for words of praise. He "went out of his way to do considerable telephoning to the Leslie Salt Co. (Mr. Reed's firm). Mrs. Reed's relatives, purchased the train ticket, placed Mrs. Reed on the train and informed the conductor of the circumstances and did several other duties which were beyond the call of his profession." "If at any time a Texan needs a favor in this vicinity, I certainly shall be pleased to try to reciprocate," Walker told Gov. Shivers. "We in California, have certainly learned a lesson from your good people," he concludes. "May your state and the people in it prosper."

US Might Flexed In Awesome Show

WASHINGTON, May 21 —UP— America Saturday displayed her armed might—a powerful array of weapons which may keep the nation at peace. Some 5 million Americans trooped to air bases, Army posts, and Navy installations to look wondrously and reassuringly at the awesome armadas. They heard, too, warnings from high military officials that in many cases this nation holds a perilously slim margin of superiority over Russia in some weapons. The occasion was the third annual observance of Armed Forces Day and its theme was the same as in the two previous years—"power for peace."

Parades Over Nation
The rhythmic drum of Army boots clattered out on city streets in parades throughout the nation; jet fighters and bombers left trails high in the skies; and Navy men showed visitors their gleaming, beautifully deadly ships in many ports. Even dogs—which played a part in the last war—showed their canine readiness. At Fort Riley, Kan., the 48th scout dog platoon was put on display. Throughout the nation, military

CC Member Drive To Open Monday

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce tomorrow morning kicks off its annual membership drive — and, at the conclusion of the drive, two of the top men in the drive will get an expenses-paid trip to two Kansas City major league baseball games. A kick-off breakfast will be held at 7:15 a. m. tomorrow in the Pampa Hotel, Floyd Watson, chamber president, said Saturday. Watson himself will preside, Ed Myatt, chamber vice president, will give a brief pep talk and Joe Fischer, chamber financial director and drive chairman, will explain the mechanics of the drive. Each of the 21 chamber of commerce committee chairmen will head a six-man committee, Watson explained. And each team will have only 10 chamber member candidates to contact. The top two teams will be determined on a point basis, the president continued. And each of the two top teams will pick one of its members for the Kansas City trip which will include seeing the Kansas City Athletics in two major league baseball games. They will travel on Santa Fe's San Francisco Chief and will stay at one of KC's better hotels. The winning team — all six men on it — will be treated to a T-bone steak dinner by the chamber of commerce itself, Watson concluded.

officials made speeches. The observance got underway Friday night when Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson set the keynote. He said the nation's "tremendous power" is being built "in an unremitting effort to achieve world peace." Air Power Draws Attention
Naturally, air power drew most of the attention. Many of the military speakers—in what seemed an effort to clarify the confusion over Russian versus American air power—stressed the air theme. All contended that the United States has superiority over the Soviets but warned that America can not stand still in development and planning for even better air power. At San Angelo, Tex., Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) urged the government to start a "crash" project to develop an intercontinental missile in the quickest possible time. Such a missile with an atomic warhead, he said, will be "the ultimate military weapon, at least in our time."

More than 7,000 men of the Armed Forces paraded in Washington. They were reviewed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Wilson, and Deputy Defense Secretary Robert B. Anderson. President Eisenhower was week-ending at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Annexation On City's Agenda
The Pampa City Commission Tuesday morning will probably consider the annexation of one piece of land and the plat for another. The second of three readings of a proposed ordinance to annex the East Fraser Addition, presented last week to the commission, is scheduled. City Mgr. Fred Brook reported Saturday.

Pampa Holds Simple Rites For AF Day

Pampa observed Armed Forces Day yesterday by staging a breakfast for Reserve and National Guard officers, by raising the post office American flag, by featuring officials on a radio program and by putting up U.S. flags outside business establishments. An all-day open house that had been planned at the new Texas National Guard armory yesterday had to be cancelled because of unsatisfactory roads between Pampa and the building along U.S. Hwy. 60. The breakfast was held at 7 a. m. yesterday in the Pampa Hotel under the sponsorship of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce for all officers of Reserve and Guard units in Pampa, Navy and Marine Reserve officers who are associated with Amarillo units were also on hand. Mayor Lynn Boyd gave the welcoming address and Clinton Evans, past chamber president, was master of ceremonies. Lt. Com. Mack Hiatt of the Navy Reserve unit spoke briefly. The breakfast was over by 8 a. m., in time for the raising of the American flag in front of the Pampa post office by Guard and Reserve personnel. The five commanding officers of Pampa Reserve and Guard units were featured on Station KPND's "Staff Breakfast" at 9:30 a. m. On hand were First Lt. James O. Harris, Guard, headquarters battery; First Lt. Winfrey L. Vesale, Jr., Guard, service battery; Second Lt. Terrence Culley, Guard, medical detachment; Capt. Truett Ross, Army Reserve; and Maj. Robert Brown, Air Force Reserve. Dotted the Pampa downtown area during the day yesterday were U.S. flags in their accustomed places by the parking meters. Armed Forces Day was all over by mid-morning yesterday — except for Navy and Marine Reserve personnel. Some of them went to Amarillo to participate in Armed Forces Day activities there with their units.

Tornado Hits Orphans' Home
MACON, Ga., May 21—UP—A small tornado struck Macon residential areas Saturday and tore a roof from an orphans' home but none of the 200 children inside was hurt. At least one home was destroyed and several others unroofed as the funnel of the twister struck with a one-two punch out of a boiling black sky. A dairy barn also was wrecked. But no injuries were reported anywhere. Flying trees and branches gashed the roofs of scores of houses. Debris blocked several roads. The frightened but safe orphans

Train, Auto Crash Kills 6
HEMPSTEAD, Tex., May 21—UP—Six farm workers were killed and a seventh critically injured Saturday when a speeding Southern Pacific passenger train slammed into a truck at a crossing five miles north of Hempstead. The farm workers were all members of the Juan Marian Gonzales family of Floresville, in South Texas. Juan Marian Gonzales was one of those killed, but full identification had not been completed on other members of the family. The accident occurred in clear weather at a crossing in the small community of Howth, about five miles north of Hempstead. Waller County Sheriff Sterling Fletcher said two of the dead were women. A seventh member of the family was hospitalized in Hempstead and attendants said he wasn't expected to live.

U.S.-Red China Talks Seen In Two Months

Retest Vaccine, Government Says

WASHINGTON, May 21—UP—The government has proposed that all unreleased Salk vaccine be completely retested even though it would halt the nation's polio inoculation program for more than a month, a high drug industry source revealed Saturday. He said most vaccinating manufacturers felt such a move is unnecessary. But some concede it might have a good "psychological effect" on the public. The source did not wish to be identified by name.

The issue will be debated at a top-level meeting of polio experts and industry representatives here Monday. The Public Health Service called the conference to consider proposed new government safeguards in the testing and manufacture of Salk shots. The service declined to comment on the meeting. But federal health officials said they will move very slowly before releasing any more vaccine for inoculations. They said they are going "all out to make sure supplies are absolutely safe, regardless of how long it takes."

The drug industry official said several vaccine makers maintain that running stocks through the current testing program again will add nothing to the safety of the shots. But he said many scientists feel the testing methods can be improved greatly. Some observers feel the government may be obliged to call a halt to all inoculations until fall

Spy Net Probe Revealed

WASHINGTON, May 21—UP—A special Hoover commission task force headed by Gen. Mark W. Clark has completed an exhaustive investigation of high-level United States intelligence operations around the world, it was learned Saturday.

The special inquiry board will make far-reaching recommendations, most of them secret, to improve the gathering, processing and dissemination of vital intelligence information of many agencies, including the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency. It is expected to criticize overlapping of some activities and in many cases to recommend closer coordination.

There is evidence the inquiry is regarded by those who shared in it as anything but a "whitewash," Hoover Heads Commission. The task force expects to submit two reports to the commission headed by former President Herbert C. Hoover. Under present plans, a bulky report of the overall investigation is to be delivered to President Eisenhower. This will be so highly classified only one copy will be made. The second report will be gleaned from the first. It will go to Congress, which authorized the inquiry, and presumably will form the basis for public release of some information. This data would be deemed useless to unfriendly powers.

Some indication of the importance of the study is shown in the way the task force finished its work. It is understood that most, if not all, records accumulated are being destroyed. Procedures also suggest that the investigation was made as independently as possible from the various operating intelligence agencies. Mr. Hoover selected Gen. Clark, retired from the Army and now president of The Citadel military college, to head the task force. Later, the former President revealed that the study would cut across "other major intelligence activities of the government."

This put the intelligence activities of the CIA, Army, Navy, Air Force, and the National Security Agency under scrutiny. Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), a frequent critic of the CIA, is believed to have turned some information over to Clark, McCarthy's repeated threats, in 1953 and 1954 to investigate CIA are believed to have had some bearing on start of the Hoover inquiry.

Reds Claim Woman Spy For US Caught

LONDON, May 21—UP—The Czechoslovak Communists said Saturday they have caught a 28-year-old woman official of the French embassy in Prague "in the act" of spying for American intelligence. A Czech ministry of interior statement identified the Frenchwoman as Yvonne Gossart. She is being detained and will be expelled from the country, it was added. The interior ministry statement was broadcast by the official Czech Communist news agency Ceteke. It said the woman, "an official of the French embassy in Prague," was arrested last Wednesday "after being apprehended in the act of receiving a document containing anti-state and espionage information."

The Communist statement said: "Investigation has revealed that Yvonne Gossart has for some time past been in contact with a group of persons hostile to the Czechoslovak republic and that she had taken over from them various anti-state materials and intelligence reports of a military and economic character."

Twice Across U. S.
'Sunday' Flier Sets Speed Mark
VAN NUYS, Calif., May 21—UP—A "Sunday" flier set a new unofficial east-to-west national speed record Saturday as he streaked his flashy F-56 Sabrejet back-and-forth across the nation in aviation's first dawn-to-dusk transcontinental roundtrip flight. Air National Guard Lt. John M. Conroy, 35, Van Nuys, who builds Hollywood swimming pools for a living, roared from New York to Van Nuys in five hours, 28 minutes and 32 seconds. He broke the official east-to-west record of seven hours and four seconds set in 1947 by Paul Mantz in a North American F-51 Mustang propeller-driven plane. The fastest cross-country flight was made in March by Air Force Lt. Robert R. Scott, who, by refueling in the air, raced across the continent west-to-east in three hours, 44 minutes and 53 minutes in March in a jet.

After swooshing his jet to a landing at San Fernando Valley airport at 6:26:18 p. m. (sat Saturday, Conroy said he encountered only "minor trouble" in his history-making flight and felt in "good shape." His finish was clocked by Bert Rhine, official West Coast timer for the National Aeronautical Association. Conroy, who roared to New York and back in an Armed Forces Day "Operation Boomarang" demonstration promoting the Air National Guard, flew the 3,085-mile roundtrip in 11 hours, 26 minutes and 33 seconds. He had hoped to make the flight in less than 14 hours. When Conroy's jet roared to a stop on the Sag-Farmanas Valley airport runway, a cheering crowd of aviation officials and spectators swarmed about the plane. His wife, Jeanne, and his three children, Barbara, 4, John, 3, and Bill, 1, pushed to the front of the crowd. As he stepped from the sleek jet, Conroy's proud and excited wife leaped up and kissed him. He grinned and waved to the crowd.

Buffalo Once Roamed Over Panhandle Site

Pampa News Staff Writer
PANHANDLE — With thousands of buffalo roaming the Panhandle of Texas, there is evidence that herds gathered in the present Carson County area and buffalo hunters by the hundreds, both white men and Indians, killed the lumbering animals for hide and meat. Carson County, lying in that section of Texas formerly known as Llanos Estacado, was one of the buffalo hunters' choice spots. Cheyenne, Kiowa and Comanche Indian tribes roamed the vicinity in large bands in search of the huge bison and the Indian was hard to drive out of his hunting grounds. As late as 1874 Indians banded together and attacked a settlement near the Canadian River, which in its northeasterly course passes only five miles northwest of the county. Carson County was organized in 1888 from Young and Bexar territories. It was named for a Secretary of State for Texas, Samuel P. Carson. Not having any permanent residents at the time of its creation, Carson County was attached to Bexar County for judicial and governmental purposes but when Wheeler County, near it, was organized in 1879 it was transferred to that county for those purposes and remained under that jurisdiction until its organization nine years later. There were few residents of the county until the railroad was built to Panhandle, the present county seat, in 1887 and opened to transportation in 1888. Under the Texas Constitution, a county must have a petition with one hundred fifty signers who are legal or bona-fide residents of that county in order to organize. The petition must be presented to the commissioners court of the county to which it had been attached. Such a petition was circulated in Carson County early in 1888 and it is claimed by many of the "old timers" that no great care was taken to determine whether the signers were or were not legal residents. However, the petition was granted and in June of the same year temporary officers were appointed to serve until an election could be held. The county had been divided into four commissioner and four justice precincts, which coincided at every point. The temporary officers were: O. H. Nelson, county judge; W. T. Snodgrass, A. S. McKenney, and W. S. Frazer, commissioners; J. S. Wynne, sheriff, and W. C. Bright, clerk. There were no residents in the fourth district, therefore no commissioner was appointed. The first business of the commissioners court was transacted at their first called meeting, June 29, 1888. They ordered bonds to be issued for the construction of a frame building to serve as a courthouse and jail. The bonds were to be for $8,000. At the next meeting, on July 27, of the same year, the location for the courthouse was selected to be on block 64 of the city of Panhandle. This courthouse and jail were used by the county officers and by the court until 1901. In 1900 the commissioners court ordered an election to be held Nov. 6, on a proposal to issue $15,000 in bonds for the purpose of erecting a new courthouse and jail. The votes were canvassed by the court and found to be 72 for and 20 against the issue. The new building was constructed the next year. It served until 1909 when another election was held to vote on a bond for $40,000 for a new courthouse and jail. The election carried, the election carried by a vote of 113 to 71. In 1950 a beautiful three-story courthouse containing one of the

5th Cooking School Set Here June 1, 2

The Pampa Daily News' fifth annual all-electric cooking school will be held at 1:30 p.m. June 1 and 2 in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium.

An estimated 2,000 homemakers from Pampa and the Top of Texas area are expected to be on hand for the two-day affair. Each session will last two hours.

Miss Fern Brannen, noted home economist, will conduct The News' school. She will be assisted by Mrs. Margaret Nolan, the former Miss Margaret Nelson, who has "worked" the school the last two years as an assistant.

There will be no charge or tuition for attending the school and the two sessions will feature both up-to-date 1953 recipes and prizes galore.

Many Pampa merchants will donate awards, worth an estimated $800 which will be given away each day of the school.

To receive the more valuable awards, housewives must deposit coupons, received at the first session, in local participating stores. The gifts will then be presented during the June 2 class.

Miss Brannen will demonstrate on an electric range many tasty dishes for easy preparation. Scores of cooking hints will be explained. She will take up all phases of cooking, including main dishes, desserts and appetizers and will explain how cooking with electricity gives a full-flavored taste to all types of dishes.

The recipes of the dishes which Miss Brannen is to prepare in the school will be presented in a special News section, scheduled to be published the afternoon of May 31. Housewives are requested to carry the section with them when they go to the school so that they may better follow the action as it is carried out.

Interspersed with the awarding of prizes and the preparation of foods will be discussions of food balance, nutrition and household hints.

Mrs. Nolan, Miss Brannen's assistant, was graduated from Texas Tech where she received a degree in home economics. Associated with the Pampa office of Southwestern Public Service, she has conducted schools in Pampa and Groom and has made numerous house calls to inform housewives about all-electric cooking equipment.

COOKING SCHOOL PRIZES

Frank Smith, owner of Smith's Quality Shoes, exhibits the matching pair of shoes and handbag which will be given away at the Pampa Daily News fifth annual all-electric cooking school June 1 and 2. Some $800 in prizes will be given away each day, the donations of Pampa merchants.

Six Win Bikes At Coke Plant

Winners of bike prizes in the Coca Cola Bottling Plant contest Saturday afternoon numbered six. The prizes were awarded in conjunction with an open house held by the Pampa Plant Saturday and today.

Bicycle winners were Gary Crommon, 1002 N. Somerville; Carol Belmont, 309 N. Hobart; Mrs. W. R. Davis, Rt. 2, Box 292; Lefors; Russell Bowen, 801 E. Francis; Bertha Dowdy, 952 S. Gray; and Chester Cummings, Box 1974.

Open house will be held today from 2-5 p.m. with the grand prizes, including $500 worth of groceries being drawn. Runner-up prize will be a Philco double-door refrigerator, with the third place winner receiving a General Electric electric dishwasher. Fourth place winner will get a Westinghouse clothes dryer, with a Panhandle "blue-ribbon" beef going to the fifth place holder. Sixth will be 500 gallons of ethyl gasoline. The awards will be made today at 3 p.m. with Radio Station KPDM announcing the awards.

The winners have been determined by drawing names from a hat. For every 12 caps turned in a contestant got a chance at the bike contest. In the grand prize contest 24 caps were necessary for a chance, according to manager Bob Mack.

Free Cokes will be served, today at the plant in the 1500 block on N. Hobart.

Pope Urges Experiments In Aviation

VATICAN CITY, May 21-UP—Pope Pius XII Saturday urged airplane manufacturers to forge ahead with "ever more daring experiments" in the field of aviation.

The pope, first pontiff ever to have first hand flying experience, spoke to delegates to the general assembly of the International Association of Aeronautical Equipment Constructors.

The 79-year-old pope said flying represents the fulfillment of one of man's oldest dreams. He said there appeared to be no limit to the performances in speed, altitude and distance that may be attained one day.

"Your desire must be ardent to launch engineers and pilots in new and ever more daring experiments toward new performances in speed, altitude and distance," he said.

The pope said that in the conquest of space man showed a spirit which incites him "to surpass himself, to enlarge himself morally and to find in his soul ever new resources of generosity and heroism."

Philippines To Honor Texas General

MANILA, P. I., May 21-UP—The adjutant general of the Texas National Guard who commanded a tough Filipino division in the Battle of Bataan in 1942, Saturday as he received one of the Philippine's highest military awards.

Major Gen. Kearie L. Berry was so touched by the proceedings that he wept visibly.

The Philippine Legion of Honor (Degree of Commander) was pinned on the chest of the Texan by armed forces Philippines Chief of Staff Lt. Gen. Jesus Vargas in simple ceremonies in suburban Quzon City.

The medal was awarded to the "Hero of the Pockets" for having contributed largely to the protracted defense of the Philippines which altered the timetable of the invading Japanese forces while leading the scrappy First Philippine regular division of the U.S. Army.

A parade and review capped off the award ceremony.

On hand to congratulate the retired general were Secretary of Defense, Sotero Cabahug, Sen. Marcio Peralto Jr., and top officers of the Philippine and American armed forces here.

Berry, who came here from Austin, Tex., also renewed acquaintances with his former regimental commander, Brig. Gen. Alfonso Santos, and his former orderly Staff Sgt. Bien R. Vejar.

Berry arrived here with 13 other U. S. officers Friday to renew old friendships.

The American Kitchen Takes Top Brains In Engineering

WASHINGTON, D. C. — "The American kitchen, today, is more than ever in the world's spotlight," according to Joseph P. Battley, President of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. "It's because the best brains in the fields of engineering, chemistry and interior decoration are devoting so much attention to the room that plays such an important role in the American household," General Battley points out.

"Because of this great interest," he reports, "home makers welcome more information on the durable and decorative new quality finishes used to revolutionize modern kitchen equipment. These new finishes with so many remarkable qualities are the products of years of research by thousands of chemists in the paint, varnish and lacquer industry. The flexibility as well as the toughness of today's coatings make them far superior to the old brittle and 'chip-plaqueted' unpatchable coatings which were formerly used on ranges, refrigerators and other such items. All too often, these old-fashioned coatings chipped or cracked at the drop of a hat—or a mishandled pet. It's actually a wonder they are still being applied to some high-priced appliances."

In recent years, according to the association executive, manufacturers in all fields have closely watched the rise of an elite group of laboratory-developed materials which are spear-heading an entirely new concept in protective and decorative finishes. While these are known as synthetic resins, the word "synthetic" is really a misleading term when applied to these wonder-workers. The word should not be used to identify an artificial substance or a substitute for the "real thing." General Battley believes. In the case of the modern laboratory-created resins, nothing could be farther from the truth. "Synthetic," today—especially in the paint, varnish and lacquer industry—simply means that chemical and technical progress has, in some instances, produced materials far better than those obtainable from nature. The phenolics, vinyls, epoxys and alkyds are but a few of this select "synthetic" company. These names, incidentally, have become household words among those who demand the utmost in quality, durability and beauty, according to the General.

When these resins are incorporated into a finish used on the surface of kitchen equipment, the resulting coating has a life expectancy exceeding that of the appliance itself, the General estimates and comments that it is the same durability that is in today's automobile finishes. The finishes for appliances are at their best when shrugging off the effects of heat, hot grease, food acids, strong soaps and detergents—or a child's toy hammer, for that matter. He points out that the secret of such a performance is, of course, flexibility, toughness and the ability to absorb punishment and "roll with the punch," so to speak. He also emphasizes the ease with which such finishes are cleaned and kept clean.

"The full story of these new coatings is not only to be found in their better wearing qualities and beauty but in the new colors which are being used for kitchen equipment," says General Battley. "When the full-time hired cook virtually disappeared from the American kitchen, our housewives stepped in and demanded that their 'shop equipment' receive the benefits of interior decoration. Because color does wonders for the morale, new kitchen equipment is coming out in a variety of eye-catching hues not available in the outmoded and old-fashioned brittle coatings."

White is getting keen competition from such pleasing colors as light green and golden yellow. This says the General. "It's but another step in the revolution in industrial product finishes which has already swept over furniture, TV and radio, bathroom fixtures and the production line at all automobile plants."

Clare Luce To Return Next Week

ROME, May 21-UP—The U.S. embassy disclosed Saturday that Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce will return to Washington next week for talks on the deepening Italian political crisis.

Mrs. Luce will fly to Washington next Friday for "consultations" and a brief vacation, the embassy said. The news came as a surprise to diplomatic quarters in Rome.

The announcement was issued after Mrs. Luce held an important one-hour conference with new Italian President Giovanni Gronchi. Last month's election of Gronchi, a leftwing Christian Democrat, has roused fears Italy might drift leftward domestically and veer toward neutralism in its foreign policy.

It was the first private talk between Mrs. Luce and the Italian president since his election. A U.S. embassy statement indicated that in this "formal courtesy call" both Gronchi and the ambassador had discussed matters troubling Italy and worrying the United States.

Hangar Rites Slated Early

It's going to be an early Sunday for those who attend the dedication of the new hangar at Perry LeFors Field.

The whole program will be over by 10 a.m. June 19. Pampa Chamber of Commerce officials said yesterday.

A "fly-in" breakfast will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. June 19 in the new hangar itself, they said. At 9:30 a.m. the brief dedication ceremony will begin.

All aviation enthusiasts from a radius of 250 miles of Pampa will be invited to the affair.

Sponsoring the dedication will be the chamber's aviation committee in conjunction with the Perry LeFors Field Board.

Final details on the dedication will be ironed out in the near future.

Weekly Grain Roundup

FORT WORTH — UP—USDA—Weekly grain happened this week at Southwest cash grain markets since most buyers are waiting for new crops.

Prices recorded by the Agriculture Marketing Service showed only minor net changes from May 13 through 20. White corn went up 4¢ to 4½¢ a bushel and yellow corn 1½ to 2½¢. Oats gained 2½¢ and barley a penny on the low end of the range. Milo held steady. Wheat lost 2¢ a bushel.

These net gains and losses are based on wholesale carlot quotations. Texas common freight rate points.

The upturn in corn followed the higher Kansas City market. Southwest offerings were plentiful for the fair demand; No. 2 white corn closed at $1.90½ to $1.92½ and No. 2 yellow at $1.82½ to $1.84½ a bushel.

Oats showed some strength nearly all week, climbing to 96 to 95¢ a bushel by Friday, highest prices in a month.

Very little barley moved with prices quoted at $1.45 to $1.47 per bushel. Same was true of milo. No. 2 yellow closed Friday at $2.97 to $3.02.

Nearness of the new wheat crop let prices sag. No. 1 hard wheat was quoted at $2.64 to $2.78 Friday. First few loads of wheat from the new crop have been received in the Olney-Seymour area.

In the Oklahoma country markets, wheat held firm. Prices closed Friday like this: $2.31, Bison; $2.30, Alva, Hennessey and Kingfisher; $2.29, Blackwell, Enid, Medford, Clinton and Vici; $2.28, Hobart; $2.27, El Reno, Oklahoma City and Yukon; $2.25, Guymon and Hooker; and $2.24 at Frederick.

Threat To Freedom

Growth with a capital "G" is a fact of life in the United States today. It looms with stunning proportions even in a country that has known nothing else for over a century and a half. The population is increasing, industry expanding. The wide open spaces of one day become the teeming shopping centers of the next. In the material way we are living in a breath-taking era. But the other side of the coin is sobering.

The reason for our being as a nation does not show in business indexes nor in a chrome-plated standard of living. It lies in an attitude of mind and in laws which protect the sovereignty of the individual, in the ownership of property and in religious and political matters beyond any material value.

So long as he behaves himself, the individual can still do pretty much as he pleases in our country. But the pressures toward conformity threaten to grow along with everything else and a nation of mediocre conformists would hardly be fit to carry the responsibilities of free men. This is why far-sighted industrial and political spokesmen are endeavoring to preserve individualism and private initiative here.

The greatest single threat to the attributes of a free nation is the insidious growth of government. For example, as of June 30, 1939, about 4,800,000 persons were receiving a federal check every month. In 1953, fourteen years later, 20,000,000 people were receiving a regular monthly check from the government. Figures such as these show why it is of supreme importance to place a ceiling on government.

In a recent address, Roland R. Hughes, director of the Bureau of the Budget, made a penetrating analysis of government in business. He observes that whereas private wealth increased only 78.7 per cent from 1929 to 1948, public wealth increased 278 per cent and that while in 1929 the public wealth represented only 15 per cent of the national wealth, by 1948 it amounted to 27.3 per cent of the total. Mr. Hughes asked, "At what point do we enter the shadow of socialism? When government owns a quarter of the land and wealth in the country as at present? When it owns a third? Or must it own half?"

Socialism is a form of government. It is not compatible with the American system and as an academic proposition a great majority of our people reject it. But these same people have come to accept the growth of government in this country the same as they have accepted the growth of any major activity that has become necessary to supply the needs of a soaring population. As a result, again in the words of Mr. Hughes, "The federal government today operates over a hundred business-type activities. It is, among other things, the largest electrical power producer in the country, the largest insurer, the largest lender and the largest borrower, the largest landlord and the largest holder of timber land, the largest owner of grain, the largest warehouse operator, the largest shipowner, and the largest truck-fleet operator. For a country which is the citadel and the world's principal exponent of private enterprise and individual initiative, this is rather an amazing list."

When the government enters a field of activity the area of private initiative is reduced, and the freedom which is the reason for our existence as a nation is diminished. Every time the government becomes the proprietor of a business, a source of tax revenue is lost and must be made up at the expense of remaining taxpayers. Oddly enough, government generally goes into business not at the behest of crusading socialists, but as a matter of convenience or expediency. It started making rope in 1834 because the Navy Department felt cordage from private suppliers was inferior. The Post Office Department has insisted on government production of locks used on untold thousands of mail bags on the grounds that the security of the bags might be compromised by commercial manufacturers of locks. So it goes ad infinitum.

A recent example is a proposal to increase the sizes of packages that can be carried by parcel post, thus in effect further putting the Post Office Department into commercial business. This would, of course, displace private taxpaying-express facilities.

In political quarters, efforts to limit the government's growing domination over our lives and let private enterprise carry on, have been given the misleading title of "give-away" programs. One thing is certain. In the midst of our spectacular material gains, we cannot afford to lose sight of the meaning of our existence as a nation.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR F. JORDAN, M. D.

Sometimes, as in today's first inquiry, it is easy to tell the writer what can be done to overcome the difficulty but the answer is not likely to be the one the writer wants to hear.

Q—My trouble started just two years ago after I had taken a number of bottles of lozenges for laryngitis. Now every time I take any intoxicating drink I blotch up on the neck, face and forehead. What would you suggest? Mrs. E. M.

A—If you get this blotching only after taking alcoholic beverages the obvious and easy answer is to stop taking them. It seems reasonable to believe that there was something in the large number of lozenges you took which has caused the development of an allergy but why this should be to alcohol instead of what was in the lozenges is hard to say. Many people seem to get the same reaction from alcoholic beverages without a history such as yours. There is a slight possibility that some alcoholic beverages would not have this effect whereas others did.

Q—For a couple of years I was in misery due to cramps in the legs. My father-in-law had the same trouble until he put an extra blanket across his legs when retiring. Fortunately, I remembered this and about two years ago I tried the same thing and am now rid of the trouble. I am 81 years old and thought this might help someone else.

A—I appreciate this comment. I cannot see that it would cause anyone harm to try it and perhaps some people will get relief in this manner.

Q—I am nearly 51 years old and come from German stock on one side of my family who were of the short, stocky type. On the other side of the family they can eat anything and not gain an ounce. I weigh 129 pounds and am 5'1" tall but I am upset about my figure particularly around the waist. M. M.

A—It seems unquestionably true that the shape of the figure is related to what one has inherited from ancestors. You could not count on increasing your stature no matter what you did but you could almost certainly lose weight by going on a diet calculated to your needs and sticking with it for a reasonable period of time.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Will You Really Work For Peace?

If you are really interested in peace and good will, I know of no better way than that you can promote them than to inform yourself as to what causes war and what causes peace. If you want to do this, I think you can learn as much about the causes of war and peace by reading the new book on the subject by Dr. V. Orval Watts called "The United Nations, Road to War."

In the last issue I quoted what Dr. Watts had to say about the things we are doing in the United States that are surrendering the sovereignty of the United States. Then he writes: "Is this the way to Peace?" He explains it in this way:

"Already, as the Korean 'police action' showed, the American people have surrendered the constitutional right of their own representatives in Congress to declare war or to prosecute it."

"Already, they have let their fellow citizens be conscripted and forced to fight under and for the flag of the new World Authority. Again this appeared in the Korean war."

"Already, by the Status of Forces Treaties, American conscripts shipped into foreign service have been deprived of the protection of American laws."

"Already, Americans have surrendered a portion of American soil in the heart of New York City to the new World Government, and yielded to it the rights of 'extra-territoriality,' permitting it to set up its own laws for governing its staff, its own controls of immigration and of trade, and its own postoffice."

"More than this, Americans in all these States have already been subjected to the decisions of international agencies in their use and sale of wheat, newsprint, copper, tungsten, sulphur and other strategic materials. In their domestic dealings as well as in foreign trade."

"And they have surrendered their Congress to decide how their tax money shall be spent. Under the UN Charter the United States Government must pay its share of UN expenditures. What that share shall be is determined by vote of the UN General Assembly in which the U. S. delegation has 1 vote in 60. This same Assembly decides how these funds shall be spent."

"By their votes for these arrangements and enforced these arrangements, millions of Americans appear willing to surrender their own freedom and that of their fellow citizens into the keeping of a new super-Government that is above the law and Constitution of the United States."

"Some of them don't like to admit that they are helping to establish a World Government, or World State. They don't like to say that they are abandoning American principles of liberty and law, and lowering the American flag that represents those principles."

"Yet they are letting world agencies take dominion over their trade, their property, and their own sons."

"They are willing to help build a World Government, with a world army able to take over lesser governments, suppress local opposition, and enforce decisions and decrees of world rulers."

"To those who crave this super-government and call it 'collective security,' the personal freedom and political independence for which Americans went to war in 1776 seem now out-moded, an obstacle to progress, no longer a shield for liberty and a sure defense in time of war."

"But will the new super-state, this world web of inter-governmental bureaucracies, do what its sponsors say that it will?"

"A fish swims because it is made that way. A bird flies because it is made in a different way. What anything can do, even a government, depends on how it is made, what it consists of and how it is put together."

"Is the United Nations made so that it can promote peace?"

"Its Charter makes it in large part subject to control by communists. According to an estimate of the 'United States News & World Report' for December 12, 1953, one-third to one-half of the executives of the UN staff are communists or persons who obey the communists. These zealots get their own kind into key posts in any organization they control, and they control many parts of the UN. Will they use that control to promote peace and justice? Do they not make the UN a menace to everything that Americans should stand for?"

"Is this the way to peace, to freedom, to justice? Do those who keep their own people in socialist servitude understand the meaning of freedom or of justice? If not, can they guard the peace?"

Keeper Of The Peace

REG MANNING

It's Your Country

By John Beck

Everybody, parent or not, has a vital personal stake in thwarting the Communist plan to destroy the United States through corruption of our children. The American Legion Magazine, November, 1954, contains on page 6, under the heading "Master Plan," a verbatim list of the official Communist Party "Rules for Revolution." Here is the first rule on the list:

"Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness."

And who are the eager beavers, the dupes, the stooges used by the Communist Party to carry out the "Master Plan"? Foremost among them is a thing called UNESCO—United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization. Under its auspices American teachers were trained at Columbia University, and today it hangs like a giant, evil shadow over our schools feeding its propaganda to teachers, and from them to pupils, through such organizations as the National Education Association and its offshoots.

UNESCO Publications
A study of the series of UNESCO publications for teachers, entitled "Towards World Understanding" (International Documents Service, Columbia University Press, 2960 Broadway, New York 27, N. Y.), should leave no doubts as to UNESCO's true purposes. Nationalism, which is the UNESCO word for patriotism, is referred to as a "disease" with which children are "infected" by their parents. It is to be purged from youthful minds in preparation for the coming world government. The old moral standards and traditions, such as reverence for God, country, flag, and parents, are ignored or scorned and the children are to be educated in "world-mindedness," with considerable side accent on sex.

Part IV of the UNESCO series contains the hundreds of particularly offensive questions propounded by the late Dr. Ruth Benedict of Columbia University during the early period of General D. D. Eisenhower's presidency of that institution. This UNESCO booklet recommends that teachers pry into the most intimate personal details of family life, with special and revolting emphasis on sex and the child's relations to his family.

Snooping Questions
Here are just a few of the Benedict questions to which teachers are supposed to learn the answers: Are there devices for overcoming sterility or for limiting the family? Is there any arrangement for illegitimate children? If marital intercourse restricted during nursing? Is masturbation in children recognized as being common or exceptional? How do the parents behave toward each other before the children? What are the boys' chief sources of sex knowledge? How much emphasis is placed on chastity? What adolescent sex activities are common?

Among the methods recommended by Dr. Benedict for use by teachers in obtaining such information is the ugly practice of snooping, to be subtly employed by questioning and watching the children, by leading them into depicting the intimate details of their personal and family lives through drawings, and by the use of dolls representing family members. Everything learned from the children, whether by prying questions or by suggestive trickery masked as "play," is to be carefully recorded.

PAUSE FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETSEN
President, Spiritual Mobilization

According to the Associated Press P. L. Shackelford of Birmingham, Ala., chairman of Area Team 5 of the ten non-operating unions that have been on strike for more than a month against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, told a recent mass meeting of strikers they had his permission to "do anything you want to keep" non-strikers from working.

Shackelford reportedly said he was "not preaching violence" and cautioned against involving the wives and children of non-strikers. But he was quoted as saying, "I do not care what you do to the people who are working."

If this is not incitement to assault, then words have lost their meaning. And to pretend that such violence, if and when perpetrated, does not involve the wives and children of the men who are maimed or killed is the rankest hypocrisy.

Savagery indulged in by strikers is just as heinous and just as unlawful as when it occurs under any other auspices. And those who engage in it or officially sanction it should be hauled into court and given the heaviest penalties the law provides. After all, what are all our taxes for if they do not provide protection for the peaceful against the barbarous assaults of the warlike?

He had been sitting next to her at the dinner table for the last hour and was admiring her beautiful arms and shoulders.

She (suddenly)—Do you know, I've been in misery for a week. Sometimes I could almost scream with pain!

He—Why, what's the matter (sympathetically) She—I was vaccinated last week and it has taken dreadfully. His eyes fell and his gaze was curious. But he saw no need to be inquisitive.

He—Why, where were you vaccinated (impudently) She—In New York.

Limited Atom Dismantling Looks Brighter Than Ever

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The prospect of at least limited atomic dismantling has grown brighter as a result of the problems which Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has listed for discussion at forthcoming conference of the heads of the "Big Four" nations in late July or August. Although the A and H bombs may remain as latent weapons in the nations' armories, there will be an attempt to restrict their use to the battlefield, instead of against helpless civilian populace and unprotected cities.

The recent Moscow exhibition of long-range jet bombers contributes to this movement. This development appears to have changed military and diplomatic thinking on public and private statements at Washington, London and the Kremlin. The reasons for Russia's apparent willingness to explore this atomic area are obvious.

Although the United States still leads Russia in the size of its atomic stockpile, the difference is unimportant. The Soviet has, or hidden stocks of weapons and fissionable material. Each side would have to trust the other's good faith, and that is almost too much to hope for, in view of the Kremlin's disregard for treaties.

But the opposing powers could pledge themselves to use a minimum of atomic force to stop an attack or invasion. They could also agree that nuclear weapons shall not be directed against cities except in a last-ditch stand for survival. The failure to employ gas fight furnishes precedence for such a pact.

As a matter of fact, the United States has shown considerable forbearance in the use of A-H bombs, despite the drops on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. We now have tactical missiles which can pinpoint strictly military targets, and they would have proved helpful in Korea and Southeast Asia. But we refrained from their use, and will undoubtedly show the same restraint in a war over Formosa.

No nation, it appears, wants to be the first to hurl the hydrogen bomb, inaugurating an era of wanton and mass destruction. It now remains for the only two powers capable of delivering it on an intercontinental basis to agree not to use it against civilians and cities to use it against civilians and cities. Ironically, there may be such a thing as atomic chivalry.

Complete atomic dismantling is admittedly remote, perhaps illusory. It seems improbable that any inspection system can be devised which will detect and destroy hidden stocks of weapons and fissionable material. Each side would have to trust the other's good faith, and that is almost too much to hope for, in view of the Kremlin's disregard for treaties.

PUT CONGRESS IN UNIFORM

The Tulsa Tribune
Richard Lloyd Jones

We draft our sons into the armed forces of our country. We compel them to fight for our flag. If they are captured, they are just out of luck. We do nothing to reclaim them. What has become of the America that once filled us with pride? While soldiers enlist to save our freedoms, our Congressmen have been consistently losing them to subversive sources. Our Congressmen have defeated America.

One Sven Aderton, of Edgar, Nebraska, writes to his United States Senator. He wants to know what his Senator is doing to reclaim the America we have lost. To Senator Carl Curtis he writes: "I am an American. How I wish I could have written it in bygone days. My parents were sturdy, free and independent pioneers who taught me things which youngsters are apparently no longer taught."

"At the age of 15 I went to Enid, Okla., and followed the grain harvest and threshing through to Canada. I worked, as did all the harvest followers, 10 to 14 hours a day for wages ranging from $1.50 to $2.50 per day. It was hard work. Perhaps you have tromped a header barge, shocked barley, or pitched bouquets of wheat at the sun. But what did we care? We were eating fried chicken, etc., doing all right for ourselves and helping to make a great Nation greater."

"I'm those days, Senator, labor was not considered degrading. The hired man might — and frequently did — marry the daughter of his boss. We made, each for himself."

THE OTHER WAY AROUND

(The Wall Street Journal)

Many people believe that, for all its imperfections, the United Nations remains the world's best hope for peace. They think at least some of the imperfections can be remedied by changing some of the rules, and a Senate subcommittee is now looking into this question of whether the United States should seek revisions in the U. N. Charter.

Perhaps certain kinds of changes could bring improvements in the UN's machinery. But former President Hoover, testifying on the subject the other day, showed exactly why it is impossible to amend the Charter in such a way as to make the organization an effective instrument of peace. Before it can be that, Mr. Hoover said, "the world must await a great change in the whole Communist attitude."

That is the heart of the matter. The U. N., like the League of Nations before it, is based on the idea of maintaining peace through world-wide and united collective action instead of through balances of power and special military alliances. But it is obviously impossible to have world-wide and united collective action in a world bitterly, and seemingly irreparably, divided.

The basic error of the U. N.'s designers was in assuming that the world was united. Since it was not, a mere organization could not by itself create unity. Human affairs operate the other way around.

The CRACKER BARREL

On page 144 of "Together" by Katherine Tupper Marshall (the wife of General George C. Marshall) I find the following passage: "To catch hold of a luscious weed and jerk it until it comes out of the ground, roots and all, gives one a very satisfied feeling of accomplishment. As I looked at the piles of uprooted weeds lying in the sun, where they no longer could suck the life of seedlings struggling for air, I wished that the evils of the human race could be dealt with as satisfactorily. But man is too complex to obliterate his frailties so easily. And the evil he does lives after him." I guess we've all felt that way at times.

Lions Club Loses Its Star Performer

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

Lions in Pampa this past year were treated to an earful as well as an eye-ful of Carol Paxson's charm. The talented and attractive young pianist for the Lions Club since June 1954, who graduates from Pampa High School this term, will undertake collegiate work this fall at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth.

Classmates will miss her. But so will Lions. She added so much in decor and talent to the programs of the civic club. But before she leaves, Carol has committed herself to make numerous return engagements to the portals of the basement of the First Methodist Church to give an occasional command performance at the piano for an adoring public.

Carol, along with 200 or so of her classmates, will receive her diploma this Thursday evening, culminating four years of hard work and achievement.

Psychology Major
Carol will push on to TCU this fall where she hopes to embark on therapy or teaching seem to be a major in psychology. Medical careers with which she is toying at the moment, but Carol didn't want to commit herself, because she is well aware of the numbers of her conferees who suffer a career "adjustment" following a short spell in the undergraduate life.

Carol, having had her share of queenly honors in local competitions, will pursue in college a minor in the field which has made her well known over the city of Pampa and the surrounding communities. Music has been an ardent passion of Carol's for sometime. This last year, Carol won the musical award, and rightly so, because she's been active in musical work since the fifth grade, taking part in the functions of the a cappella choir of which she's been an accompanist the past two years.

Entertained Locally
Since early in her high school career, she and Jerry Sloan, have teamed up, entertaining at social functions throughout the community. Carol's five years of piano, have also proven valuable economically. She was sponsored commercially with Jip Austin, music director at the high school, over Radio Station KPDM.

No slouch in the academic department, Carol has pushed her way through a rough academic course and commercial studies and managed to come up a two-year member of the National Honor Society, with a "lowly" four-year average bordering on 93.

Activities in which Carol has managed to participate if listed in "Who's Who" would probably take up the better part of 25 inches, matching that of many an illustrious college president. But among the "few" activities in which Carol has managed to devote part of her well-earned extra-curricular time the secretaryship of Tri-Hi-Y, the student council and the student body. During the year Carol attended two council conferences in Phillips and Amarillo, as well as the Tri-Hi-Y conference in Lubbock. Lubbock was also on the agenda this past April when she represented the Lions club as their queen in the district convention. This year Carol won the high school's citizenship award.

Oil Progress Queen
As part of her queenly duties last fall, Carol was elected "Oil Progress Queen," which won her the coveted trip to Dallas and the State Fair. While there, she was a guest on television and radio shows, including "The Early Birds."

"Four days, and it was a glorious trip. We saw the "King and I, Cinerama," Carol said reminiscently.

A lot of those happy North Texas associations will be relieved when Carol goes "East" to school this fall. Fort Worth she says "is such a wonderful town. I may get lonesome, but there will be eight or so classmates going to school with me there."

Carol who has always found it easy to meet people is looking forward to her new association with the beginning of her freshman year, maybe even a few basketball players, who she has shown partiality for. TCU is no newcomer to the sport, having made quite a solid mark for itself to beat in future years.

Carol may be starting with a clean slate as far as dating goes when she arrives on the campus, but it seems reasonably assured she'll be one of the most popular girls on the campus.

Pat Jones Is Jr. High Valedictorian

At an awards assembly Friday afternoon Pat Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones, was named valedictorian of the Junior High School with a ninth grade average of 96.70. No formal commencement exercises will be held at the Junior High.

Salutatorian of the class is La Vada Naylor, daughter of Mrs. Roberta Wood. Her senior year average was 96.33. The high-ranking boy is Robert Collette, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Perryton OKs Phone Rate Hike

PERRYTON — (Special) — The Perryton city council granted the rate increase Tuesday night, climaxing more than a year of negotiation.

Representatives of the company met with the council Tuesday night, general office in San Angelo, the city council will fix these new rates by ordinance at their next meeting.

The increase ranged about 10 per cent. The company had asked for an increase up to 50 per cent. In September the city council denied any rate increase. The company came back in December, requesting reopening of the old rate case, and the council declined to reopen it.

In Tuesday night's meeting most of the time was spent in determining the "fair value" of the company's investment in Perryton. Under the Texas law, the telephone company is entitled to 6 per cent return on the "fair value" of its investment.

Both the council and the company agreed upon a figure of $278,293, much less than previous figures, and the new rates are designed to earn the company 6 per cent on this investment.

Meeting with the city officials were Vic Reynolds, district manager from Guymon; Mills Roberts, division manager from Memphis, and Mac McClure, rate representative from the general office in San Angelo.

Perryton Pool Opens Friday

PERRYTON — (Special) — The Perryton Swimming Pool at the city park will open for the summer season on Friday, May 27. Coach Pete Peterson will open the pool again this year.

There will be free swimming on opening day. The pool is being cleaned thoroughly and a number of minor repairs have been made during the winter months.

Keith Flowers will be assistant manager and will teach diving during the summer.

Sea Serpent File
PROVINCETOWN, Mass. — UP — George Washington Ready, town crier in 1886, solemnly swore he saw a 300-foot sea serpent that breathed sulphurous fumes. Ready said in an affidavit he was not "unduly excited by liquor or otherwise."

NOTICE TO BIDDERS
Sealed proposals addressed to the County Judge and Commissioners County, Pampa, Texas, will be received at the office of the County Judge, Pampa, Texas, until 10:00 o'clock A.M., June 1, 1955, for furnishing all necessary materials, machinery, equipment, supervision and labor for construction of Grading and Draining for 2.85 miles of road extending East and North from Back Corner on State Highway 272.

Bidders must submit a satisfactory Cashier's or Certified Check, or a Bidder's Bond, payable without recourse to the order of Bruce L. Parker, County Judge, in an amount not less than 5% of the bid submitted, as a guaranty that the Bidder will enter into a contract and execute a performance bond within ten (10) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without approved check or bond will not be considered.

The successful Bidder must furnish a satisfactory performance bond or other surety in the amount of 100% of the total contract price.

All lump sum and unit prices must be stated in both scrip and figures. The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive formalities. In case of ambiguity or lack of clearness in stating the prices in the bid, the Owner reserves the right to consider the most advantageous construction thereof, or to reject the bid. Unreasonable or "unbalanced" unit price will authorize the Owner to reject any bid.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions.

Attention is called to the fact that there must be paid on this project not less than the general prevailing rates of wages. A detailed wage scale is included in the Specifications.

Instructions to Bidders, proposal forms, Specifications and Plans are on file at the Office of the County Judge. Copies may be obtained from Roberts, Merriman & Bowden, Consulting Engineers, 209 1/2 N. Russell, Pampa, Texas.

This memorial honoring the men and women of the Coast Guard during World War II will be dedicated May 30 at Battery Park, New York City. Cast in bronze and mounted on the base of Maine granite, it symbolizes the humanitarian side of the Coast Guard's mission.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH
Read Psalms 115

Life began as a mystery. Life was an insoluble mystery for man through thousands of years. Knowing nothing of natural law he could live only by guesswork. His days began with fears and uncertainty and ended with wounds and doubts. His instincts were his only friends, for he had not yet learned to use his wits.

The result was that life was little more than a succession of terrors. Then he developed magic and undertook to secure the good things of life by means of charms, but life remained full of fears for the reason that his magic was undependable.

Something was always going wrong with the incantations. Driven by the severities of life he elaborated his ritual, improved his magic, surrounded his altars with greater mystery, and employed men to serve threat as professional priests. It was their duty to make a study of the rites which might be expected to outwit the evil spirits.

Then one morning memory came to the rescue, and he recalled that he had had the same experience on a previous day. It had been accompanied by many of the same circumstances. This set him thinking and he made the discovery that the two experiences had a common base. By experimenting a little he discovered he could reproduce the experience, and in that moment he found the secret of mastery. He could make use of the law of cause and effect.

With that first discovery of law came the first break in the fog in which man lived. That permitted a little light to come through, and from that moment on he began to walk securely.

Amid all the mystery that is still a part of life, I am confident that I am living in a world that is governed by thy law, O God. That makes the universe of which I am a part intelligible. I may not know the truth, but I know it can be known because thy world is orderly. Amen.

Think back over yesterday and compare it with today. Note the similarities in your spiritual experiences. A sense of guilt has followed wrongdoing in both cases; a sense of strength has followed right action. What does that seem to indicate?

Early City Ordinances Dealt With Dogs, Fights, Streets

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

When the Pampa city fathers first began running things, they must have been worried about dogs mules, "unhealthy water," garbage, sidewalk obstructions, donkey teams, drunkenness, cows, horses, fighting in public, oxen, jacks, jennets and how to keep the streets clean.

For they are among the items handled in the first 10 Pampa city ordinances ever passed by elected city officials.

But uppermost in their minds must have been their own conduct during the hours they were handling city business — they took care of that in Pampa City Ordinance No. 1.

For more than four decades, city officials have been passing ordinances — the latest was the 428th last week — but it was the first one, the ones buried in the city "archives" on yellowing pages, that can give you a picture of Pampa history as nothing else can. Not to mention a chuckle, now and then.

Any member wishing to speak on a pending question, Ordinance No. 1 reads, dealing with the Rules of Order, "shall rise from his seat and address the President and, if recognized, he shall proceed." Members of the city's governing body were instructed to stand while speaking, they were not to be interrupted and "no member shall speak twice on the same question" till everybody had a turn.

Duncan Was Mayor

That was dated April 22, 1912 — 43 years ago — when J. N. Duncan was mayor and J. R. Brown, city secretary.

The nuisance and sanitary ordinance was No. 2 and citizens were admonished that it was unlawful to "throw or conduct . . . all filthy and unhealthy water and slops . . . through any streets, alleys or enclosures, so as to be unwholesome." The fine was $2-$25 and, after 24 hours, the minimum fine jumped to $5.

No horse, cow, mule, hog or any other livestock was permitted to "run at large on the streets, alleys or vacant lots," according to Ordinance No. 3. The town marshal was directed to take the livestock of any violator "into his custody and keeping" and "properly water and feed such animal." Violation could cost a man: $1 for each animal, plus 50 cents per day per animal.

That took care of ordinances for three days. But then on the third day came another one. It was costly for a Pampa man to dump garbage in a place but the town dump ground, it read. The fine could go as high as $10 per violation.

The city fathers waited a whole month before dealing, by ordinance, with disturbance of the peace. "If a person shall go into or near any private house (and) rudely display any pistol or other deadly weapon in a manner to disturb the inhabitants of such . . ." it could cost him $100. Same as for fighting in a public place.

To The Point
It was five months more — Oct. 7, 1912 — before the city officials thought of dealing with drunks. And Ordinance No. 6 was brief and to the point. The fine was not to exceed $25.

No. 7 was longer. The "boys" were concerned with the hindered crossing, or "free passage," on Cuyler, from Atchison to Brown, and on Foster and Kingsmill, from Russell to Ballard. No more. The fine was steep: not to exceed $25, for "each and every day" — separate offense each day.

Ordinance No. 8 was the one that hit the men, at least "all able-bodied male persons between the ages of 21 and 45, who reside inside the city limits."

They had to work on the city streets "for five days each calendar year." They could get out of it, though, by paying a $5 fee to the town marshal. And all the time you had to be in Pampa to "qualify" for the streetwork detail was 15 days immediately before your term of duty. If you didn't do it, you could be fined $5 to $10. A later ordinance, No. 19, exempted "ministers of the gospel activity engaged in the discharge of their duties."

Ordinance No. 9, passed June 4, 1913, decreed it was unlawful to "hitch any mules, donkeys, horses, cows, oxen, jacks or jennets to any awning, telephone or telegraph pole . . . fence . . . tree, vine or shrub . . . inside the city limits. And there were more: no horse or team drawing a vehicle, implement or machinery could be left standing in the streets more than 15 consecutive minutes."

Passed the same day was Ordinance No. 10. It was brief. There would be a $2 tax on dogs in the city.

Those were the first city ordinances. But there were more of the "same stripe" to come.

It was scarcely a month later when the city fathers cast their eyes at the town jail and passed an ordinance stating it was unlawful to "loiter near the town jail and converse with the prisoners."

Three years later, in 1916, the officials found themselves concerned with ball playing and speed. It was unlawful, an ordinance declared, to "practice ball pitching or throwing (or) throwing a ball to another" in the business district. Nine years later, they passed a separate ordinance on a baseball — don't play it in the streets. Fines ranged from $1 to $50.

Okayed the same day as the first "ball ordinance" was one prohibiting the operation of a motor vehicle inside the city at more than — 12 miles an hour! That didn't apply, of course, to "race courses and speedways." However, all vehicles had to carry a lighted lamp on them from one hour after sundown to one hour before sunrise. The fine for violation: $5-$100.

On June 23, 1919, came a Great Day. The city fathers passed an ordinance stating that the community's population was more than 600 — it was "in fact, 860" — and that, therefore, it would henceforth be known as the "City of Pampa." No longer, the "Town of Pampa."

It was about this time, too, that the city officials okayed an ordinance clamping fees on certain shows: theater or "dramatic representation," $5 a day; menagerie, waxworks, sideshow, exhibition, $10 per performance; "sleigh-of-hand," $25; concert, $5 a day.

Then, later, they got busy on livestock and fowl. One ordinance said it was unlawful for anyone to "keep more than one hog at the same time or place" and another stated it was against the law to "permit chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese . . . to run at large or off the premises." Fine in each case was $5-$100. Second offense: $25-$200.

May 25, 1925, was the date the city "boys" decided to crack down on the more athletic of the populace. An ordinance they passed said it was unlawful to "whistle, cut, deface . . . or swing upon the trees . . . on or near the streets of Pampa." A $10 fine could follow.

Two years later, the subject of fire hoses came up. And — quick as a fire siren — an ordinance followed. If you violated it, you could be fined up to $100 for operating "any vehicle whatsoever . . . over the fire hose" — but only if it actually was engaged in fighting a fire.

"Great Day"
Later that year — Nov. 8, 1927 — another Great Day came to Pampa. Even if it did cost the city $18.50. The people voted in an

Honor Society Initiates Group At Perryton

PERRYTON — (Special) — The National Honor Society of Perryton High School held a formal initiation for its new members and pledges in the First Methodist Church recently.

Jerral Allred presided for the initiation ceremony and presented the colors to Lynn Tucker, Connie Slaughter, Jo Morris and Kent Apple, pledges.

Pins were presented to Benny Easter, Ray Castle, Ola Sue Johnson, Bob Roberts, Marilyn Reitz, and Bob Williams, new members.

Rev. A. B. Cockrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church spoke on "What National Honor Society Stands For."

Iris and Ione Martin sang a duet accompanied on the organ by Charlotte Flowers, who also played organ selections before the ceremony.

Mrs. John Barnes and Mrs. Kenneth Prech are sponsors of the National Honor Society.

A dance was given to honor the new pledges, members and their guests at the Harvester-Room of Hotel Perryton. The refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of gold and white flowers flanked by gold candles in crystal holders.

Approximately 50 attended the dance.

election for the city charter, which it cost $18.50 to file in Austin. T. D. Hobart was mayor. That followed action earlier that year — March 19 — when a resolution was " . . . after careful investigation and inquiry . . . passed, declaring the Pampa population to be in excess of 5,000." To wit, 6,607.

It wasn't long afterward before a permit was needed to operate a "ferris wheel, flying jenny or other sort of riding device of any character" and then, on June 17, 1929, two more ordinances were passed that were directed to today's children and males as much as yesterday's:

"It is unlawful to permit the growth of weeds or grass over 10 inches."

"It is unlawful for anybody to maintain, use, or operate any amplifier, musical instrument, radio, or fire crackers, guns, pistols, (or) use any pyrotechnic, ring bells, blow horns, bugles, . . ."

BOOK PATTEN

By BILL KERR
Pampa News Staff Writer

Pampa women's clubs have real-ly put their shoulders to the wheel in helping build a stronger book collection at the Lovett Library. The campaign now in progress is hoped will be contagious and inspire Pampa's men's clubs to greater heights to make the book collection worthy of the building in which it is housed.

Mrs. Roy McKernan, library board member, in February went before the Council of Women's Clubs with a proposal — Did they want to participate in a campaign to raise funds or books for the newly opened library? The 21 clubs endorsed the plan 100 per cent. Mrs. McKernan said. She is to be thanked for her initiative in proposing the library fund for books, for over the months, Mrs. McKernan has been the spark for all the women's club's activities.

Since February various women's clubs have sponsored a variety of activities to meet their objectives—holding book showers, cake sales, plays, and baked-food sales. Friday, the Altrusa Club held a food sale. Parent Education Club earlier held a similar type of food fair, and donated the $50 in proceeds to the growing library book fund. The American Legion Auxiliary has also made its strength felt.

Among the clubs contributing were (all clubs will before too long have their contributions in to Mrs. Lillian Snow, librarian) The Twentieth Century Forum $25, Twentieth Century Culture Club $25, Civic Culture Club $10, Business and Professional Women $25, Kappa Kappa Iota $10, with the Twentieth Century Club turning in later this week $75 and some 200 books.

Other clubs, whose efforts in behalf of the library have swelled the resources of the library, are the El Progresso who gave the library a book shower and $20, Twentieth Century Cottillon $15 and four books, Delta Sigma Gamma, whose book shower netted $35 books, with Kappa Kappa Iota donating 25 books. The American Association of University Women plan to hold a play in behalf of the fund, according to Mrs. McKernan.

Other contributions received by the library come from probably the youngest bibliophile in Pampa who early in life realized the need to make his contribution to the stacks, 13-year-old Ronnie Biggerstaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff, 1025 N. Charles. Ronnie, an amateur radio enthusiast, gave a dozen books on chemistry and the field of fiction.

Mrs. Carl Lang's contribution to the library will probably attract a bevy of readers (including the writer) — "Bonjour Tristesse" — the controversial novel by Françoise Sagan; the 18-year-old French girl, whose work has caused considerable comment on both sides of the Atlantic and which was featured in a recent issue of "Life Magazine" along with her visit to the United States.

Swelling the library's collection with additions recently were the Veterans of Foreign Wars with 25 volumes, Mrs. Jack Merchant, Miss Mabel Davis, and Mrs. Dick Hughes.

Mrs. Hughes' contributions were two substantial works in the field of American History. "A Pictorial History of the Wild West" by James D. Horan, stands out as a fascinating account of Western badmen, desperadoes, rustlers of the territory west of the Mississippi River, as well as the contribution of those souls who sought to establish law and order.

The other volume is Paul Horgan's "Great River: The Rio Grande in North American History." The work, all two volumes and 1020 pages of it, which Horgan spent 14 years preparing, was described by Carl Carman as ranking with the masters of historical writing by Americans, as Motley, Prescott, Bancroft. Horgan has been described as "probably the most celebrated of writers who now make their home in the Southwest."

Pvt. Marchuk Is Convicted

BERLIN — UP — A U.S. Army court martial Friday convicted Pvt. William T. Marchuk of betraying American intelligence secrets to the Russians.

Marchuk, 38, of Norristown, Pa., held prisoner by the Soviets for six years, was found guilty on three charges of betraying secrets, association with Soviet secret police and desertion.

Goodyear Kills Bid On Plant

AKRON, Ohio — UP — The Goodyear Synthetic Rubber Corp. Thursday announced it has withdrawn its bid for the Baytown, Tex., synthetic rubber plant.

E. J. Thomas, president of the synthetic rubber division of Goodyear, said his company expressed its concern before a congressional hearing over the fact that the Baytown plant was not sold along with 24 other plants.

Thomas urged congress to pass new legislation designed to accomplish the sale of the Baytown new legislation designed to accomplish the sale of the plant until such legislation is passed.

No Big Hike In Interest Rates Seen

TOPEKA, Kan., May 21 — UP — Interest rates may creep a little higher but will make no large advance, a Texas banker and economist told the Kansas savings and loan league convention Friday.

Dr. Arthur A. Smith, vice president of the First National Bank in Dallas, said "both blades of a high interest policy cut sharply." "Higher government interest rates," he said, "would put an end to the inflationary monetization of the debt which the low interest rate policy of the past has generated."

He said Uncle Sam borrowed the astounding total of $149 billion last year.

This was because the federal government managed to keep control of its huge public debt through "short term borrowing."

The 59th annual meeting of the league was told that Americans now owe — public and private debt — nearly $700 billion.

Dr. Smith said the demand for financing funds is unusually keen this year.

However, he asserted "there is little evidence of any shortage of home mortgage money in Kansas — your state's savings and loan associations are larger than ever before and still growing."

Blockade Talks Set In Berlin

BERLIN, May 21 — UP — The Soviet zone Communist called anew Saturday for East-West German negotiations on the Red's "baby blockade" of Berlin.

The East German traffic ministry offered to meet with West German officials "to discuss the wishes" of the Bonn government on the stiff road tolls imposed by the Communist on western trucks supplying Berlin.

A similar East German offer was rejected by the West German government previously. It was repeated Friday by Soviet High Commissioner G. M. Puskin and turned down by the three Western Allied ambassadors.

Puskin, in Friday's four-hour meeting with the Western envoys, refused to abolish the exorbitant road tolls introduced by the Communists April 1. He said the matter was "solely within the competence of East German authorities."

Reinstate Pay

Calling of a special session would reinstate the legislative wage of $25 a day, pay that ended when the deadline of 120 days was reached May 10.

The governor said he was personally opposed to calling a special session. However, in a special message to the legislature, he agreed to such action "if a majority of you feel that the present financial hardships facing you will not permit the present session to complete its work."

Sharp senate disagreement over the new tax proposals offered by our senators, quickly tagged as the "fearless foursome," was indicated in initial comment.

The proposal, scheduled for committee airing Monday afternoon, was sponsored by Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, Jimmy Shireman of Corpus Christi and Jop. S. Fuller of Fort Arthur.

The bill would add a budget-balancing $58 million to the state's depleted general revenue fund over the next two fiscal years, and make available an additional $83 million for highway improvements.

The tax revenue would come from three sources:

An additional two-cent per gallon state tax on gasoline.

A penny-a-pack increase in the state tax on cigarettes.

A tax increase on beer, boosting the levy from $2 to $3.50 a barrel.

In earlier tax debate, the house summarily knocked down Gov. Allan Shivers' request for a two-cent gasoline tax hike, and rejected all efforts to increase the tax on beer.

The lower chamber compromise went to the senate carrying a one-cent increase in the gasoline tax, a penny-a-pack hike on cigarettes and general increases in the fee on beer and wine dealer licenses.

As now proposed, a general tax on beer would be substituted for the dealer license increase, the cigarette increase would stay as approved by the house, and the one-cent per gallon hike in the gasoline levy would go to two cents.

Sen. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth immediately served notice he will seek to hold the gasoline tax line at one cent.

Other senators strongly hinted they'll stage a strong fight against any tax increase on beer.

Texas Solons Put Woes Aside For Week End Home

AUSTIN, May 21 — UP — Session-weary lawmakers—heading home for the weekend — Saturday temporarily shelved their search for a solution to the twin problems of spending and taxes.

Meantime, as the legislature headed into the second full week of its overtime payless period, member of the Senate State Affairs Committee prepared to tangle Monday with another new version of a multi-million dollar tax bill.

If early committee agreement is reached on the $139 million tax bill, some legislative leaders expressed belief the session might end within 10 days or two weeks.

Few lawmakers indicated any disposition to accept Gov. Allan Shivers' offer to call a special session based on the legislature saying it can't complete the state's work without pay.

Calling of a special session would reinstate the legislative wage of $25 a day, pay that ended when the deadline of 120 days was reached May 10.

Sales get BIGGER!
and BIGGER!
and BIGGER!

This '55 Buick must have something that folks just won't do without!

PICK YOUR CAR FROM THE HOTTEST-SELLING BUICKS IN HISTORY

There's a Buick to fit every purse and purpose—the budget-priced SPECIAL, the high-powered CENTURY, the extra-spacious SUPER (illustrated here in the Riviera model), and the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Two months ago, in the public print, we said that this looks like Buick's biggest year—and we weren't fooling.

But what has happened—and continues to happen—is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production—already revised upward several times—keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher—outstripping by far the phenomenal success of last year—the success that moved Buick into the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

What is it about the '55 Buicks that folks by the hundreds of thousands just won't do without? It's many things.

It's styling that's boldly distinctive and fresh as tomorrow. It's beauty of line and beauty of interior décor. It's a ride that's level, firm and steady. It's a new sweetness of handling. It's great power—walloping new V8 power of record might.

But above all, it's a new kind of performance, from a new kind of automatic transmission that was born of flight thinking.

It's Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—engineered from the principle of the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller—and what it brings you in the way of pure thrill, mere words can't describe.

Just you drop in on us this very week and try it. That way you can see what a terrific automobile—and a terrific buy—the hottest-selling Buick of all time really is.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Thrill of the year is Buick

Locals Return Home Today; Meet Hubs

AMARILLO, May 22—The Pampa Oilers evened the series with the Amarillo Gold Sox here Saturday night by downing the Amarilloans, 8-4, behind the seven-hit chunking of Buddy Woods.

The win enabled the Oilers to divide the series at 1-1, the Gold Sox having won Friday night's opener, 10-3. The Oilers will return home to double down the left field line by Carmona.

The Oilers made it 4-1 in the fifth with a brace of run-scoring singles by Fortin and Tims. The Oilers put the game out of the sixth. Hall started the rally with a homer over the left field wall. Then Slider singled, Hardaway walked and Halter and Fortin each pounded run-scoring singles.

The final Oiler run came in the seventh on back-to-back doubles by Hall and Woods. Four Amarillo double plays helped to hold the Oiler scoring down.

Table with columns: Player, AB, R, H, Po, A, E. Shows stats for Oilers and Amarillo players.

Second and third game of the series will be played Monday and Tuesday nights and then the Oilers start their second swing around the circuit Wednesday at Plainview.

Three Amarillo moundmen saw activity with starter Frank Johnson absorbing the loss. Johnson was relieved in the fifth by Jim Clatch who gave way an inning later to Jerry Simon.

The Oilers collected 12 hits off the three Gold Sox moundmen with Joe Fortin, Sonny Tims, Pete Carmona, Hall and Woods leading the way with two each.

Both of Woods' hits were doubles. In the go-ahead inning for the Oilers — the second — Hairston started the rally with a walk and went to second on Tims' single which was the first hit for the Oilers at the time. Both Hairston and Tims moved up a base on a wild pitch and then both scored on a

Hacker Spins 1-Hitter In Leading Cubs Past Braves

By UNITED PRESS
Warren Hacker, one time "hard luck pitcher" of the National League, tossed a one-hitter Saturday as the surprising Chicago Cubs defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 2-1, for their ninth win in 10 games.

Hacker, who earned his nickname in 1953 when he lost 19 games, had a no-hitter for 8 1/3 innings before pinch-hitter George Crowe broke it up with a home run. He faced only 29 batters in the near-classic, retiring 16 of them on outfield flies.

Had Hacker achieved the no-hitter, it would have marked the first time since 1917 that two pitchers hurled classics for a major league team in the same season. Ernest Koob and Bob Groom of the St. Louis Browns turned that neat trick in 1917—on successive days. Sam Jones pitched one for the Cubs this year on May 12.

The Cubs took a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning when right-fielder

Hank Aaron's error on a single enabled Eddie Miksis to score all the way from first base and added their other run in the seventh when Dee Fondy hit his sixth homer of the year.

Giants Win Fourth Straight
In the other National League games, the New York Giants made it four straight victories with a 3-2 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Brooklyn Dodgers made the most of four hits to beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4, and the Cincinnati Redlegs made six runs in the sixth inning to wallop the St. Louis Cardinal 9-4.

The New York Yankees downed the Baltimore Orioles, 9-4, and took over first place in the American League when the Detroit Tigers edged out the Cleveland Indians, 3-2. Dick Donovan won his fifth straight game as the Chicago White Sox beat the Kansas City Athletics, 7-4, in the other American League day game.

US Again Wins Walker Cup Title

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 21—UP—America's rain-soaked amateur golfers retained the Walker Cup Saturday by winning six of eight singles matches to complete a 10-2 triumph that was one of Britain's worst beatings in the 15-tournament series.

The ease with which the United States won the trophy in a two day downpour was a surprise, in view of the fact that this year's British team was rated one of its best while the American contingent was one of the youngest and least experienced ever sent across the ocean.

Starting the day's play with a 4-0 lead carried over from their sweep of Friday's four foursomes matches, the Yanks promptly clinched the tournament for the 14th time in 15 tries by winning the first three 36-hole singles matches completed. Harvie Ward of San Francisco, Billy Joe Patton of Morganton, N. C., and crooner Don Cherry of Wichita Falls, Tex., provided these triumphs.

Establish Final Score
Dick Yost of Seattle, Wash., Jim Jackson of Glendale, Mo., and young Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., followed with victories on the ancient St. Andrews course to establish the final score. Only twice before had the British been beaten more badly. In 1928 the Americans won 11-1 and in 1936 the U. S. won nine matches and was held to ties in three others.

It was left to Cudd, the "baby" of the U.S. team at 25, to climax the tournament with the most gallant comeback victory of the series. Trailing by three holes as he teed off on the 31st, Cudd won five of the last six holes to defeat Ernest Millward of England, 2 up.

Bill Campbell, captain of the U.S. team and the only member of the American group who ever before had played the St. Andrews course with its tricky winds, numerous bunkers and rough gorse, sat out both the foursomes and singles competition. The tall West Virginian preferred to assign the honors to the other Yanks. Aside from Campbell, only Ward, Cherry and Jackson ever before had played on the Walker Cup team.

The trophy was presented to Campbell by Lord Bruce of Melburn, captain of the royal and ancient club, who paid tribute to the Americans.

Cherry, asked to sing, apologized for not knowing any Scottish songs and then crooned the American popular tune "I Believe."

One old Scot snorted, "this was the final humiliation. First they beat us 10-2 and then a crooner gets up at the hallowed home of golf and sings such a song."

Ten walks and homers by Roy Campanella and Sandy Amoroso produced enough runs for Brooklyn's Don Newcombe to win his sixth straight decision and hand the Phillies their 16th defeat in 18 games.

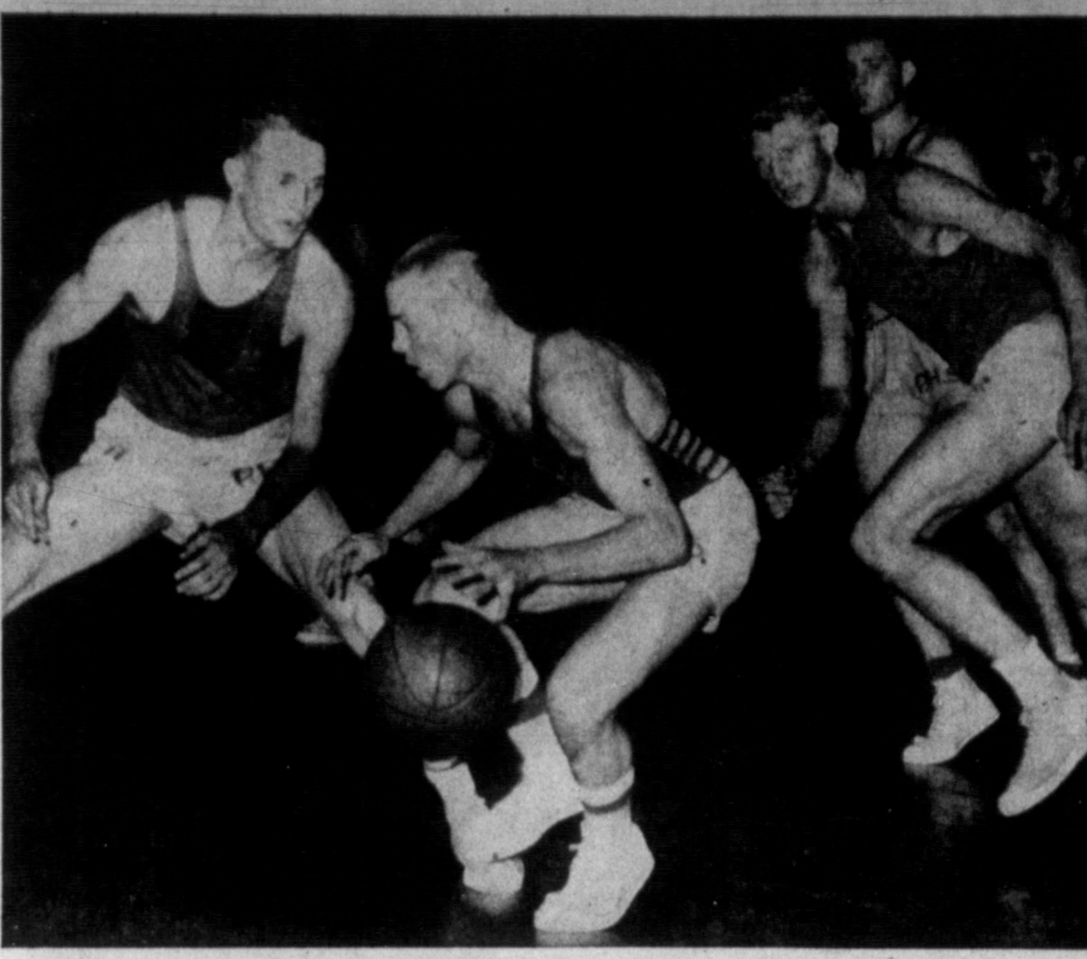

Score Six Runs in Inning
A double by Ted Kluszewski and a homer by Bob Thurman sparked Cincinnati's second six-run inning in as many games. Smokey Burgess also homered for the Redlegs.

Third-string first-baseman Ed Robinson knocked in four runs with two homers to lead the Yankees to their fifth straight triumph. Rookie Johnny Kucks yielded 11 hits but won his second decision. Yogi Berra homered for New York and Mickey Mantle reached base safely four times—making it 13 consecutive times he's done so.

Duke Maas, 26-year-old rookie, scattered nine hits to out-pitch Mike Garcia and give the Tigers their second straight win over the Indians.

Virgil Trucks struck out Vic Power to preserve Donovan's victory as the White Sox snapped a three-game losing streak.

Boston was at Washington in a night game.

Question: Can a catcher, with a runner on first, deliberately drop a third strike, then throw to second in an attempt to start a double play?—Charley Walston.

Answer: No — the batter is out if there is a runner on first, and none or one out. However, if the runner is fooled on a play like this and breaks for second, he is on his own.

Q. Was Gene Woodling ever involved in a trade with a major league manager?—Art Cholmers.

Yes — Cleveland traded him to the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1936 for a catcher by the name of Al Lopez, who now manages the Tribe.

Q. How many years in a row has Bob Porterfield been in the major leagues?—Chris Dunphy.

A. The Washington hurler is in his fifth year — he was up and sent back to the minors on two other occasions.

Exes Trim Futures In PHS Cage Tilt

The Harvester Exes were too much for the Futures to handle in Friday night's cage tilt at Pampa High School as the "Vets" won by a 77-45 tally.

The four starters off the 1954-55 team who were playing for the Exes Friday night did virtually all of the scoring for the winners. This quartet, composed of E. Jay McVain, Gary Griffin, Kenny Hinkle and Benny Cartwright accounted for 74 of the 77 points scored by the Exes.

McVain led the scoring parade with 23 points, followed by Hinkle with 21, Cartwright with 17 and Griffin with 13.

Gene Brown, hitting mostly from the corners, took high scoring honors for the Futures with 17 points. He was followed by Carroll Cole with 11.

The Futures surged ahead 8-0 at the outset but the Futures batted back to narrow the gap to 8-2 on two field goals and a free toss by Brown and a field goal by Jerry Gee.

The Exes, however, found their range again and pulled away quickly, scoring 15 points while holding the Futures scoreless for the remainder of the quarter and taking a 2-38 lead.

It was 40-20 at halftime, and 54-32 after three quarters.

The Futures were playing with out three players: off last year's Harvester squad, Buddy Sharp,

If your church has not mailed an entry blank, please do so immediately. For further information please call 4-4929.

A General Board has been set up to rule the league. The following are members of it: Joe Wells, George Thompson, Leroy McBride, Bunny Shultz, D. E. Jameson, and M. E. West.

Here's why PONTIAC WINS BUYERS FROM EVERY OTHER MAKE

It's a king-size luxury car—Biggest at its price!

Pontiac is a big, roomy car. Here it is—A car with 122" or 124" wheelbase—longest in its price field, even longer than some models in the top price range—and with true big-car stability to match. Luxury is in key. For quality of fabrics, conveniences and appointments, Pontiac compares with the costliest cars.

It's America's topmost value—Greatest buy of any year!

Pontiac is selling at the fastest rate of all time for this simple reason: America agrees—when you can get the size, power, beauty and luxury you want at Pontiac's easy price, that's the place to put your money. Come in and get all the facts.

It's a 200-horsepower performer—Most powerful at its price!

As the only car with the Strato-Streak V-8, Pontiac has a big performance advantage. This newest and most efficient V-8 enables Pontiac to provide more power than any car has ever delivered at Pontiac's price—a full 200 horsepower with the four-barrel carburetor, an extra cost option; 180 H.P. is standard.

It's a future-fashioned beauty—Most distinctive at any price!

Style-conscious motorists turn to Pontiac for true mode-of-tomorrow design, beautifully different from any other car on the road. Exclusive Vogue Two-Tone styling, Twin-Streak hood and low, rakish lines give you a car that you know will remain a prideful possession for many years to come.

You can buy a big, 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and for much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes—none of which equal Pontiac in combined power, size and future-fashioned beauty.

CAN YOU SEE, STEER, STOP SAFELY! CHECK YOUR CAR—CHECK ACCIDENTS.

Hairston Top Hitter In WT-NM League

Pampa's Dick Hairston took over the West Texas-New Mexico batting lead this week, according to Bill Weiss, league statistician. Hairston replaces J. B. Palmer of Plainview as the league's top batsman. Hairston maintained his batting average of last week, .453, while Palmer slipped from .509 to .450. Palmer is now second to Hairston in the batting race.

Another Oiler, Tom Pollet, holds the top pitching mark in the league with a 5-1 mark. Ken Harrington of Plainview has five wins also, but has suffered two defeats. Palmer continued to dominate the leads in other individual batting departments. The Plainview catcher leads in runs-batted-in with 35; total bases with 87; and shares the lead in most hits with Bobby Fernandez of Lubbock and Don Stokes of Plainview, each with 45, and in most doubles with Fernandez with 11.

Don Stokes of Plainview leads in most runs with 36; Bob Scott of Lubbock is the three-base hit leader with four; Dale Perry of Plainview leads in homers with 11; Ozdie Walker of Abilene and Alex Gonzales of El Paso share the stolen base lead with 22 each; Gonzales has drawn the most base on balls with 24; and Bob Flores of Albuquerque has struck out the most times, 24.

In pitching, Chuck Lehmann of El Paso, with a 5-4 record, has pitched in the most innings, 60; and has recorded most strikeouts, 44. Tiltman Conovan of El Paso owns two dubious honors, most losses with six and for issuing most base on balls, 49; Tom Gallagher tops the league in wild pitches with seven; and Ted Shandor of Albuquerque has pitched the most complete games.

Following are the league averages (including all games through Monday, May 16):

Records Held To Minimum In Coliseum Meet

LOS ANGELES —UP— Arnie Sowell, Pittsburgh's great middle-distance runner, Saturday refused to blame Tom Courtney of Fordham for knocking him out of the 880-yard run in Friday night's Coliseum Relays, declaring their bumping was "just a bad break."

Courtney was disqualified out of his win in the half-mile in one of two disqualifications as chilly weather kept even meet records to a minimum, to the mild disappointment of the crowd of 56,173 fans.

One of the relay marks set was by Wes Santee who ran the four laps in 4:05.5 to set a new mark for the event.

Billy Tidwell, another Kansan from Emporia State teachers was second nearly 20 yards back of Santee.

University of Houston's great sprint relay team was the only double event winner, capturing the 440 and 880 yard relays thanks to the finishing kick of anchorman Larry McBride. They won the 440 in 40.8 and the 880 in 1:25, both good times but not records. Texas was second in both events.

Vinegar Bend Mizell Marking Days He'll Get Army Discharge

ATLANTA —UP— Vinegar Bend Mizell is marking off the days until he will be out of the Army and back in a St. Louis Cardinal uniform. But he says that because of his stretch in the service he might be a better pitcher in the future.

The big, colorful native of Vinegar Bend, Ala., said Saturday that Oct. 5, the day he's scheduled to be discharged, will be one of the biggest days of his life.

However, Mizell says that the big reason he's so anxious to get out of service is so that he can get back in professional baseball. Otherwise, the big fastballer would be content in the Army.

Friday's Oiler Box

Table with columns for Player, OILERS, and AMARILLO. Rows list players like Slider, Hardaway, Halter, Fortin, Halstrom, etc., with their respective statistics.

Before Mizell went into the service he was considered one of the top mound prospects in the majors. He won 23 games and lost 18 in his two years with the Cards.

If Mizell has improved his control, it might be all he needs. He's never had much trouble piling up strikeouts, but in 1952 he led the National League in bases on balls.

"I think I can get with it pretty quick once I get out of the Army," Mizell said. "I'm in pretty good shape right now, and once I start getting plenty of work, I don't think I'll have much trouble."

Rain Washes Out TL Doubleheader

TULSA, May 21—UP—Continued rains Saturday washed out a scheduled day-night Texas League doubleheader between the league-leading San Antonio Mission and the Tulsa Oilers.

The two clubs first called off the afternoon game and expressed hope they could get in a night twin bill, but a short while later announced that both games had been called off. The clubs were also rained out Friday night.

Pool Is Back PAWNEE CITY, Neb. —UP— Merchants hope repeal of a 70-year-old ordinance prohibiting billiard parlors here will spur business. The shopkeepers figure that with men spending more time playing pool or billiards women will keep busy in the stores until time to go home with their husbands.

TL Attendance Shows Gain

DALLAS, May 21—UP—Sizeable increases at both Houston and Dallas has enabled the Texas League to show an 8 per cent gain in attendance to 297,299 paid admissions for the first 148 games of the current season, League President Dick Butler said Saturday.

The front-running position of the Buffs and Eagles have lured 25,415 more customers into the park at Houston and 20,575 at Dallas. Houston has averaged 3,333 customers for the first 21 games of the season, while Dallas has averaged 3,137. This compares with the league average of 2,008 per game.

Score Can Stop Worrying Now; He's 'Got It Made' In Majors

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK —UP—Young Herb Score can stop worrying. The 21-year-old rookie southpaw of the Cleveland Indians admits that he is a steady "worrier."

But there is enough evidence in the record books by now to indicate fully that as a big league pitcher he has "got it made."

So, too, apparently have the Indians. For when you toss the gangling "new Lefty Grove" onto a staff which includes such as Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn, Bob Feller, Art Houtteman, et al., even the hopeful New York Yankees must admit that the front-running Tribe is going to be hard to catch.

Of course the Indians have a long way to go. Yet their rebound from the morale-crushing disaster of the World Series with the Giants seems to indicate a revitalized ability to go all the way once again.

Score is one of the reasons. Still, despite his spring buildup, the modest Floridian had to prove himself. Like most left-handers, he was threatened by wildness. It is a weakness, which has kept many a potential star out of the majors and has forced others completely out of baseball.

Even after his first three starts as a major leaguer, the freckle-faced young man was a question mark. He won his opener against Detroit with a seven-hitter but while striking out nine he issued that many walks, too. Cleveland's hitters got him off the hook the next time as he gave up nine hits in eight innings. But in his third assignment Detroit pinned him in six innings.

Fuentes Holds Turner Even

NEW YORK —UP— Welterweight contender Ramon Fuentes, displaying stepped-up speed and power, will be rewarded with another television fight at Madison Square Garden on June 17 for holding middleweight Gil Turner to a surprise, return-bout draw Friday night.

Stocky, saddle-nosed Fuentes of Los Angeles will meet Sugar Ray Robinson or Chico Vejar, matchmaker Billy Brown said Saturday. Turner of Philadelphia, who weighed 154½ pounds to Fuentes' 153½, apparently underrated the Los Angeles Mexican whom he had stopped in the fifth round of their previous bout at the Garden, Aug. 12, 1953. Gil was favored at 8-5 Friday night.

Twenty-four-year-old Turner let Fuentes take the play away from him at the finish of many exchanges in their close-quarter fight. Ramon, 29, landed the hard punches and buckled Gil's knees with three "repeater" left hooks in the seventh round.

PANHANDLE OUTDOOR LIFE

By S. V. WHITEHORN

All the game species here in the Panhandle are off to a good start as a result of the general rains that have covered the entire game range in this part of Texas. The turkeys have been nesting for some time now and the quail are all paired off and nesting activities are underway at this time.

With just a little more moisture in the hot part of the summer you can depend on a large crop of this most-sought-after game bird.

We might be able to count on an antelope hunt this fall if the rains continue to improve. In June or July the Texas Game Dept. will have one of the flying wardens, probably Frank Hamer, Jr., to bring the plane up for a couple of weeks, then the Warden and Warden Supervisor, Jim Maggard, and the Wildlife Biologist, A. S. Jackson of Canadian, will fly and tabulate the number of animals.

OLSON PLANS TRAINING

SAN FRANCISCO —UP— Sid Flaherty, manager of world middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, said Saturday his fighter will train at Asbury Park, N.J., for his June 22 bout with light heavyweight champion Archie Moore in New York's Polo Grounds. Olson will leave for his training camp during the first week in June.

Jack Woodford, State Game Warden located at Miami, also confirmed this opinion. Mr. Woodford attributed this fact to the big ones not being able to see the fisherman and therefore not being shy of the angler.

It seems that the larger ones are a little more wary and elusive and that it takes a great deal more thinking to outsmart them. The Miami Warden also stated that the Heddon chuggar spook was particularly effective at this part of the evening. The spook is a floating plug and when used properly, will cause a large ones to hit the top of the water and practically devour the plug.

Drink More Milk Campaign Looms

WASHINGTON, May 21—UP—An industry-government campaign to induce people to drink more milk and use other dairy products more liberally is about to burst forth.

The full impact of the campaign will hit in June, the traditional dairy month. That is the period of peak milk production, with abundant supplies of milk products like butter, cheese, ice cream and buttermilk.

The dairy industry's mammoth celebration of June as the dairy month will be a repeat performance. There will be newspaper and magazine ads telling why dairy products should be used, pointing out that there is plenty of milk for all, and asking, in effect, "why don't you drink some now?"

To Encourage Regular Channels

The government's role in the drink-more-milk campaign — besides Benson's dedicated interest in milk as a food — is to encourage the movement of dairy products through regular channels of trade. The government wants to stop supporting the price of milk and storing huge surpluses of milk products.

The Agriculture Department's fact sheet on the dairy month celebration notes that milk is "the most nearly perfect of foods."

"Money spent on milk and its products is money wisely spent," Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson has said many times. "In terms of food value, it pays excellent returns."

The department's fact sheet lists highlights of the dairy marketing year which ended March 31. Among them are a 5 per cent increase in the consumption of fluid milk and several important milk products. Civilians used 115 billion pounds of fluid milk.

Stocks Reduced

The need for government purchases under the price support program was cut considerably and the stocks held by the Commodity Credit Corp. were reduced substantially.

The department says the dairy situation has improved. During the last year, the department said, "the industry has made encouraging progress in stepping up its merchandising and promotion program."

Among the most notable promotion gimmicks are the portable milk vending machines that have appeared on street corners and in many building corridors.

Other farm front developments:

Wheat—The late crop report indicated that drought and dust storms took a nine million-bushel bite out of the winter wheat crop in one month. The report forecast a total crop of 653 million bushels as of May 1. The April 1 condition indicated a crop of 662 million bushels. With the addition of the

Poultry Prices Gain In Texas

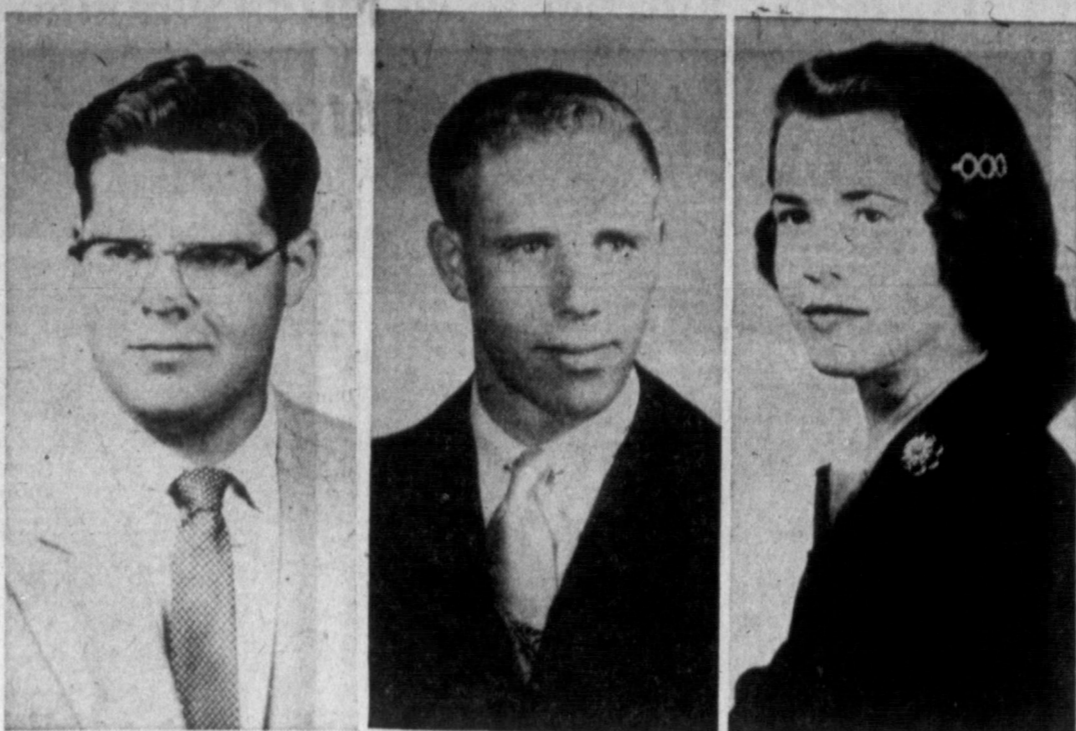

AUSTIN—UP—Prices on Texas poultry markets showed gains of one to two cents this week, the State Department of Agriculture reported Saturday.

The East Texas market rose one to two cents. Waco-Coriscana two cents, and South Texas was unchanged to one cent higher. South Texas and Waco closed at 30c, and East Texas, 29½ to 30c, mostly 30c.

Trading opened on an unsettled note in South Texas, slowly gained strength through the week and closed firm. Supplies were about adequate to mostly short of the fair to good demand during the week, with moderate to normal movement. The undertone was steady.

The East Texas market held steady until mid-week when the trend turned upward, closing on a firm note. Supplies grew short of the very good demand. The undertone was fully steady.

The Waco-Coriscana market rose one cent on the second day of trading and held steady until a second one-cent increase was added Friday. Supplies were generally about adequate for a slow to fair demand. Movement was moderate to normal during the week. The undertone was steady.

Red Chinese Fire At Quemoy

TAIPEI, Formosa, May 21—UP—Chinese Communist gunners on Tatung Island fired an artillery barrage at the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy Saturday, the defense ministry said.

The Nationalist ministry said the Reds fired 10 rounds but failed to cause any damage to Nationalist installations on Quemoy.

The new artillery attack was disclosed as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek celebrated the first anniversary of his second term of office as president of Nationalist China.

Nationalist Premier O. K. Yui, meanwhile, reiterated at a news conference that Chiang's government would not recognize the result of any negotiations with Red China which excluded the Nationalists.

Cotton Trading Has Slow Week

NEW YORK—UP—Cotton prices settled back irregularly this week in one of the slowest trading periods of the year.

Uncertainties relating to the crop picture, farm legislation, the export outlook and internal market condition, all served to turn more traders to the sidelines.

At Friday's close the list ruled 2 to 19 points—10 to 95 cents a bale—lower than the preceding week.

The setback came after the July delivery on Monday reached 34.35 cents a pound. This represented a cumulative recovery of $5.40 a bale from the low made on April 20 and was up $6.15 a bale from the season's low made in March.

The lack of definite new incentives to develop after the recent expiration of the May contract was another hindrance to new market interest, traders thought.

The export subsidy question continued to hold foreground attention. Although Agriculture Secretary Benson said he would make a decision "well in advance" of the new season, commencing Aug. 1, he gave no hint of what the department will decide to do.

On the question of price support legislation, the Senate Agriculture Committee voted to hold "unlimited hearings" on the House-approved bill to restore rigid 90 per cent of parity supports on the basic crops.

Committee Chairman Ellender (D-La.) expressed doubts as to whether hearings could be completed in time to get a bill on the floor before adjournment this year.

Oldest Houston Native Dies

HOUSTON, May 21—UP—F. A. Heitmann, Houston's oldest native citizen and dean of Houston businessmen, died in his sleep early Saturday at St. Luke's hospital. He was 87 years old.

Heitmann's colorful business career as president and board chairman of F. W. Heitmann Co., spanned 75 years of Houston's growth.

His father, F. W. Heitmann, was once a partner in a metal business with the Allen brothers, the men who founded Houston.

The Heitmann company, still at 113 Main St. where it was founded by Heitmann's father in 1865, is the oldest mercantile and hardware company in Texas.

Heitmann was a pioneer supporter of the Houston ship channel. He led frequent trips to Washington to secure the first funds for deepening and widening Buffalo Bayou for commerce two score years ago.

How to get safe, dependable, trouble-free electrical protection is being explained by John Dwyer, Vocational Agriculture teacher, to Donald Mansel. The various fuses may look alike but each one is designed to protect either an electrical circuit or an electric motor of given capacity.

John Dwyer, Vocational Agriculture Instructor, Groom, Texas, observes as students of Vocational Agriculture operate properly protected electric power tools. The wiring system is planned and adequate to supply the motors with sufficient electricity. All of the equipment has grounding protection. From the left: John Dwyer, James Angel, Ronald Homer, and Donald Mansel.

using the new three-prong plugs. (See accompanying photos).

While your electrician is installing your grounding system, ask him to check overload protection for your motors. Electric motors, while relatively inexpensive, do cost money and they should also have their share of protection from overloading.

A good example of a farm workshop which provides both operator and motor protection is the Farm Shop of the Vocational Agriculture Department, Groom High School, Groom, Texas. Under the guidance of John Dwyer, the instructor, this shop has been adequately wired, the electrical powered tools have the proper overload protection, and proper grounding convenience outlets are used. All wiring is in metal conduit.

These and other safe practices mean that this shop is a safe place for the students of Vocational Agriculture to work and learn how to use the tools that make farming more profitable. Your farm shop can be just as safe.

Farm power tools such as electric saws, drills, grinders, and sanding machines, both portable and stationary, are coming equipped these days with a grounding plug. The plug has three prongs, and, at first glance, one would think that he had received a three-wire, 220 volt plug. Actually, this is not the case. The plug is simply an ordinary 110-volt plug, but with this difference: the third prong is for a grounding connection. Some power plugs instead of having a third prong, will have a green wire protruding.

With this third connection, the This terminal, usually a green covered wire that protrudes from the plug, is another type of ground used on some electric equipment. This ground should be connected to a water pipe or the conduit of the wiring system, if it is properly grounded.

operator of the power tool is completely safe in the event of insulation becoming worn or broken and the bare wire touching the frame of the motor. Current which might ordinarily energize the equipment will, instead, travel along the safety "ground" and be dissipated without harm. This will be so even if the ground or floor on which the operator is standing should be wet. If your present farm power tools do not have the third wire for grounding, call in your electrician and have him run a grounding wire for you so that tools may be plugged in

Below is plug and outlet available for installing a grounding wire on your existing 115 volt single phase electric powered tools. The third terminal carries the electricity to ground, if the equipment should become energized due to worn insulation on wires.

This type of electrical plug is found on the new "Electric Farm Power Tools". The third terminal is for the grounding wire that connects the motor to the ground in the wiring system.

BEATING THE HEAT—Art student Sunny Benson had a unique method of doing just that when the temperature rose unexpectedly into the 90s in Chicago. Sunny crawled into the shade cast by one of the two huge lions at the entrance to the Art Institute to seek refuge from that hot old sun. It seemed as good a place as any to do home work.

FOR MORE SAFETY—New traffic markers in Berlin are two-foot-high white rubber cones, left. Easy to see and hard to damage, they collapse under impact by an auto bumper or wheel, right, then spring back into shape. Since they're not attached to the pavement, the cones do not represent a collision hazard.

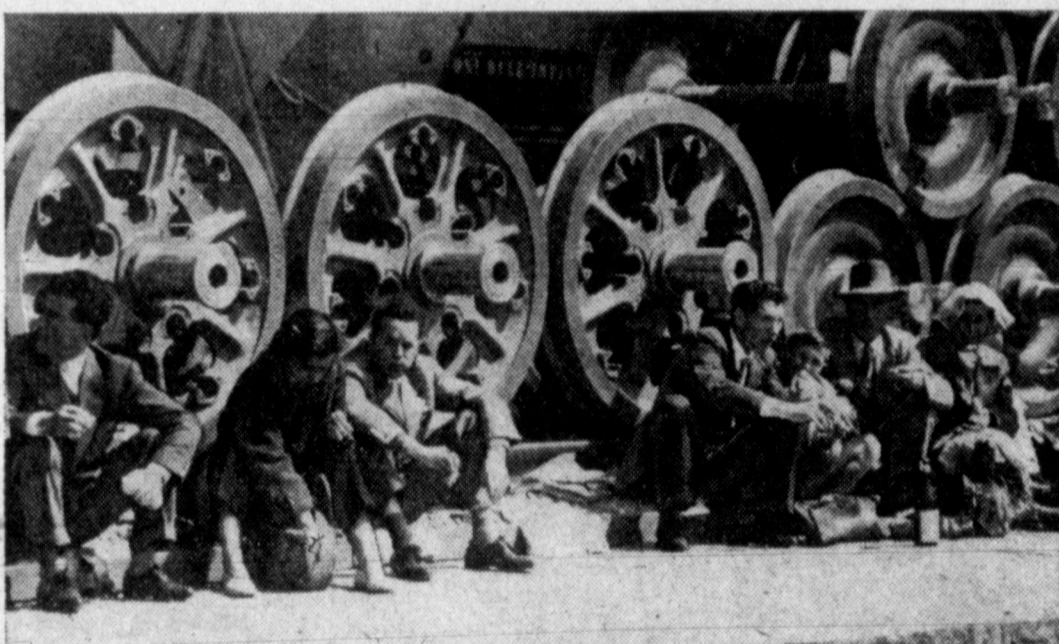

PACKAGED APPEAL—Bulging envelopes of Conservative Party campaign material are looked over by Mrs. H. A. Giggins at Tory headquarters in London. The vote-pulling packages were being mailed out to British citizens getting ready for the May 26 general election. The Tories are expected to win a 65 to 70 seat majority in the House of Commons, according to the latest public opinion poll. Campaigning began when the Queen dissolved Parliament May 6.

SMART ANIMALS—As they headed for that last roundup with others of their family, these two baby sheep fell off the truck in Cleveland. Their owner got them back some time later, but didn't have the heart to kill them. Now they're neighborhood pets and young George Lignos is their pal.

AROUND THE WORLD

THING OF THE MOMENT—As some weary sight-seers at the Milan, Italy, annual fair took time out for a bite, the wheels of progress ground to a halt. They're resting under some heavy railroad wheels—part of one of the displays contributed by 13,000 exhibitors.

IDIOSYNCRASY—Here's a cat which definitely has a mind of its own. Owned by Luise Schmitz, of Neuss, Germany, this feline gets bottle-fed four times a day and just won't respond to any other feeding method. This way looks a bit awkward for both cat and owner, but they're used to it.

CHANGING SCENE—Modern housing structures have replaced what was once a squatter community of wooden shacks as this new resettlement project takes shape in Hong Kong. Now standing in an area which was burned last year are these buildings with roof play areas.

PETTICOAT INFLUENCE—It's stealing an idea from more formal fashions when a bathing suit sports its own crinoline to prop a brief, but flaring skirt. The petticoated swimsuit, with sleekly-fitted bodice was modeled in Miami Beach by Grace Franklin, who shows the suit to very good advantage.

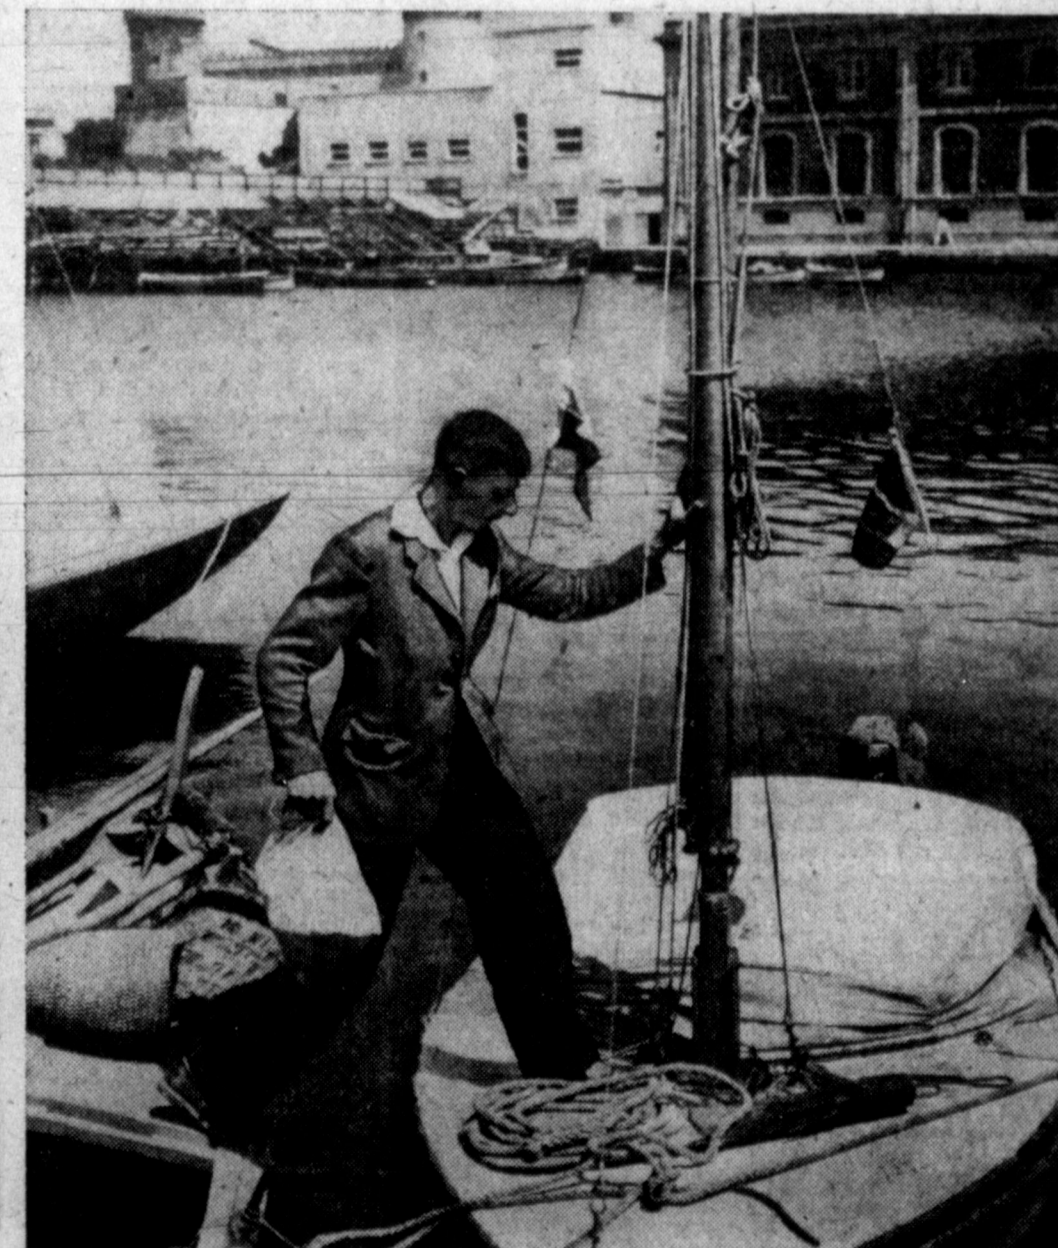

STORY OF HER LIFE—Actress Eve Arden, famed as the schoolteacher on the radio-TV program, "Our Miss Brooks," just can't get away from teaching in real life. She's shown in New York with teacher Florence Straus, left, making plans for Teachers Recognition Day in New York State. Eve's pushing a drive to make that day a national event.

THAI NURSES—Three nurses of the Royal Thai Air Force are shown in Tokyo shortly after they arrived in Japan for training with U.S. Air Force medical personnel. The girls, all from Bangkok, present a mighty trim and attractive appearance.

DANCING LADY—She's lovely Rosita Alonso, a 19-year-old Spanish dancer now appearing in Paris. With her skirts flying high, Rosita executed a few steps for the cameraman. She started dancing as a child, appeared in New York's Carnegie Hall when she was 11 and may come to the U.S. soon.

HE GETS AROUND—Twenty-three-year-old English mariner Michael Lewis is shown stepping aboard his tiny vessel, Le Macareux, in Naples, Italy, where he was preparing to continue on his round-the-world trip. After crossing the English Channel, Lewis took the boat up the Seine River to Paris, and on to Marseilles by canals and rivers.

THE COUNTRY GIRL

Bing Crosby and Grace Kelly are husband and wife in the absorbing drama, 'The Country Girl,' which co-stars them with William Holden, opening today at the LaNora Theatre. It was for her stellar performance in this picture that Miss Kelly won the coveted "Oscar" for "Best Actress of 1954."

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

MOVIES - TV - RADIO by Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD - (NEA) - Exclusively Yours: Impersonating Marlon Brando's Oscar-winning "On the Waterfront" performance has become a national craze. A million kids, from toddlers to teenagers, are chewing gum and mumbling hardly distinguishable words along with 324,852 night club and TV comers.

But only two of the pros, Jimmy Durante and Sid Caesar, register on Marlon's laugh meter. "Both of them gas me," he laughed on the "Bugs and Dolls" set.

Sure, the Oscar winner peeked in on "Sid's 'On the Docks' TV satire of the year's best movie. Only he didn't think it as funny as Sid's fun-poking at "A Streetcar Named Desire" a couple of years ago.

"I think Caesar is one of the most creative comics around," Marlon told me, "but there was a poor choice of scenes from 'Waterfront.' He played it too straight. He was too good."

Are movies offering piling up since Marlon won that Oscar? You bet. He isn't saying how many - I know of eight - but he was willing to grin it:

"I guess I won't starve next year." He won't starve next week, either. He's getting $200,000 for "Guys and Dolls."

This is Hollywood, Mrs. Jones: Zsa Zsa Gabor sent George Sannes a telegram of congratulations the day their divorce was final. THERE'S ANOTHER lost voice in Hollywood besides Marlon Lanora's. Francis the mule loses one Controversy still rings bells at the box office. MGM's rock 'em and sock 'em "Blackboard Jungle" is the studio's best money maker in years.

Donald O'Connor made his first big movie hit as a 12-year-old with Bing Crosby in "Sing You Sinners" 13 years ago. Now they're both eyeing the dolls in "Anything Goes."

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER

Star Letter Route: "Dear Dick: I'm sorry I couldn't get to see you in New York but we were working so hard rehearsing 'Seventh Heaven' that I couldn't even find time to fit my costumes. We have been to New Haven and are now in Philly and everyone loves the show. However, this is the hardest work I have ever done before. Pictures and nightclubs are a cinch by comparison with the theater. 'It's rehearse, rehearse and more rehearsals. Then we put the show on and stay afterwards to discuss it. 'I'd like to tip you off about the music of 'Seventh Heaven.' Victor Young has outdone anything he ever did before for the movies or television. His score is full of hit songs. I love 'Where Is That Someone For Me?' and 'If It's a Dream,' both of which I sing. 'Best regards, Gloria De Haven."

A Few Fast Facts: Edgar Bergen's new dummy, which he'll unveil in Reno, is a Swedish fisherman called "Lars Linquist." Secret of Your Hit Parade's ability to avoid the phony re-recording nonsense - microphones are wired to his esinglers legs, then the mike head is stuck in a pocket. Flash: Liberace's gorgeous harpist, Corky Hale, sometimes wears gowns made of the same material as Liberace's tuxedo jackets. Industrial designer Paul Wrablick was commissioned to design a new liquor bottle. He used strip teaser Winnie Garrett as a model for the bottle. Bottoms up!

This 1954-55 Broadway season will be remembered for many different reasons by many different people, but by Marge and Gower Champion it will always be remembered as the year Marge and Gower arrived.

It's been eight years in the works, this Broadway bow of the Champions. In 1947, they put together a nightclub act as a deliberate showcase of their considerable dancing talents, primarily to interest Broadway producers. But it took the eight years with a lengthy detour to Hollywood, to make it.

And now they're two of the "3 For Tonight" (the other is Harry Belafonte) that are delighting New York audiences. Now the long struggle is won. Bravo.

"We were so happy," says Marge. "On opening night, we were eight feet off the ground. 'But ye felt it was for real on second night,'" says Gower. "We were doing a number, much like the numbers we've done in picture."

"Pearl of the South Pacific." He clunked a fellow extra on the head with a paddle, almost capped an outrigger canoe and finally fell overboard.

"I thought you were a real Hawaiian," rapped Director Allan Dwan.

"I am, boss." Was the reply. "Pure blooded. But I was born in Des Moines, Iowa, and this is the first time I've ever been near the ocean."

Short Takes: Esther Williams' aquatic makes its big splash in England in the spring of 1956, then will tour the U. S. George Formel received his Coast Guard discharge just as his attorneys picked up his final divorce decree from Leslie Caron. He's headed for Austin, Minn., the old home town.

3 Crocketts, 1 Real

No Alamo For 1955 'Davy'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — "Davy, Davvy Crockett — king of the wild frontier!"

Current king of television, too. Also of juke boxes and the conch skin cap industry.

For the second time since television brought home screens to living rooms, millions of kids — and their parents — have discovered a new western idol.

The first was Hopalong Cassidy, who rode to a fortune for Bill Boyd four years ago when a series of 48 of his old movies were the most popular on TV.

Now it's Davy Crockett, a more rugged character in a coonskin cap who became a national idol in only three 45-minute film appearances on Walt Disney's Wednesday evening Disneyland.

There are as many western heroes on home screens as there are commercials, but Davy had something the others didn't have. Most important was Disneyland's big audience, estimated at 56 million, and Disney's magic touch in film entertainment.

Fanning the Crockett blaze was a catchy theme song, "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" which quickly climbed to the Hit Parade, and more than 500 merchandise items bearing the Crockett name.

In four months, to be exact, Fess Parker, a 6-foot-5 Hollywood movie bit player who played Crockett, became a star and his sidekick, veteran comedian Buddy Ebsen, was re-discovered after years on the "has been" shelf.

Davy's impact on TV audiences was so great even celluloid death couldn't stop him.

In the third of the Disney films Davy fought to the death at the Alamo. But the walls of a million kids convinced Disney he would have to re-write history. You don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg in TV, either.

Davy will ride again in two more 45-minute telefilms, "Crockett and the River Boatman," which will appear on Disneyland next November. Like the first three, which just completed a second run on TV, they will be spliced together for later showings in movie theaters.

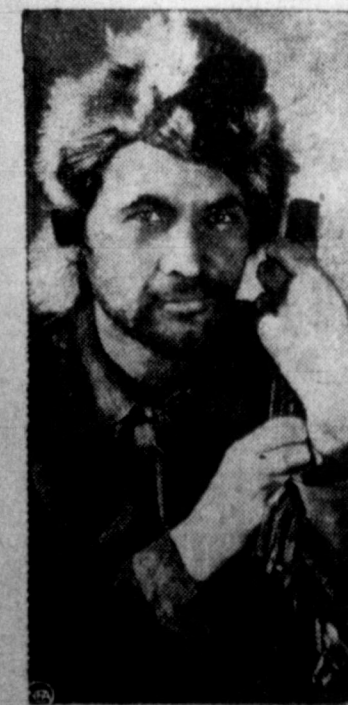

There's gold in that that Davy even after home TV showings. Disney is releasing the Crockett films to theaters in June.

Twenty-seven-year-old Fess Parker's sudden fame as Davy Crockett was amazing even to Hollywood, where success can be jet-propelled. He arrived in Hollywood four years ago from his home in San Angelo, Tex., where his parents live on a farm. He describes his dad as a part-time horse trader and real estate man.

Eager for an acting career, he looked up Adolphe Menjou, whom he had met when the star visited the University of Texas. Menjou introduced Fess to his agent, who helped him get bit roles in eight movies and several telefilms.

DESCENDANT — David Rutledge Crockett of Sewickley, Pa., is 9-year-old descendant.

MOVIE DAVY — Fess Parker, 27, will keep right on riding despite the Alamo.

But the pay was so small Fess sometimes found himself eating peanut butter sandwiches for lunch and having macaroni and cheese dinners.

"Them" and "Battle Cry" were among the movies in which he appeared, along with the role of a rookie cop for Jack Webb in a Dragnet show.

Too tall for Webb's closeups in Dragnet, Fess had to practically kneel to be seen. As he tells it: "I went into a sorta West Texas squat, like we do on Saturday afternoons in front of the local grocery store."

An agent took Fess to Disney's studio when word got around that Davy Crockett was to be cast. Disney saw Fess in the movie, "Them," was impressed with his Texas accent and that he even looked like the young Crockett. Disney was delighted, too, when he discovered Fess could play the guitar and sing folk songs. He was tested for the role and signed a seven-year contract with Disney last September.

After the next Crockett films for TV, Disney plans to star Fess in a feature movie, "The Light in the Forest." But other studios now are bidding for the services of the handsome bachelor and there's little doubt about his becoming one of Hollywood's biggest stars.

But forget for this year at least, any chance of a week-to-week Davy Crockett series on TV. Disney has no plans for one and Fess is of the same mind. He says: "I don't want to ride a good horse to death and I figure Mr. Disney knows what he's doin'."

2 MPs 'Guilty' In Murder Case

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., May 21 (UP) — A district court jury Saturday found two military policemen guilty of murder with malice aforethought and assessed 99-year prison terms for each.

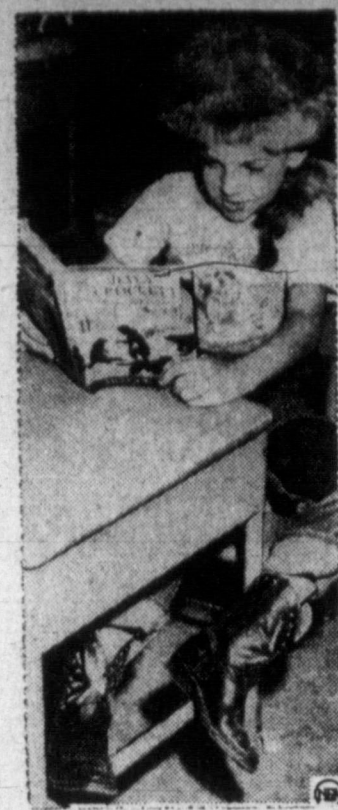

The airmen are Arthur M. McClain Jr., 22, of Potwin, Kan., and John Preston Beard, 20, of Kingsport, Tenn.

They were charged with killing and robbing Cecil J. Byrd, 58, in the downtown Wichita Falls shooting gallery he operated.

Byrd was killed last April 14 with 15 shots from a .22 caliber rifle and robbed of about $150.

The jury took the case shortly before noon and returned its verdict about 1:30 p.m.

Attorneys for the airmen indicated they planned no appeal.

KANSAS DAVY — Dressed to match his name is lad in Topeka, Kan. His dad not sure if he's kin.

Women Voters To Sponsor Trade Survey

The Pampa League of Women Voters expects to sponsor a trade survey in the near future.

The purpose of it will be to determine some of the effects of foreign trade upon the local community. Mrs. A. D. Hills, league president, said Saturday.

In charge of the project is Mrs. H. O. Darby, 2001 Mary Ellen, member of the board of directors of the league. Cooperating with the league in this endeavor will be the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

Areas to be covered include petroleum production and processing, agriculture (cattle, wheat, cotton) and manufacturing like carbon black, acetone, methanol, acetic acid, acetic anhydride, methyl and ethyl ketone.

"Foreign trade has many aspects," Mrs. Hill, stated, "but basically it involves the exchange of goods and services among nations. Each country pays particular attention to the volume and value of this exchange and is especially concerned with the relationship between the goods and services that are sent outside the country and those that come into the country. Our purpose is to attempt to determine some of the effects of exports and imports on our local economy."

In the main, the survey will consist of two parts: (1) gathering of information supplied by the Chamber of Commerce concerning the economic interests and problems of the community and (2) interviewing the spokesmen of the various areas selected for study.

It was emphasized that every effort will be made to assure that the survey will result in an accurate and objective presentation of the pertinent facts and opinions obtained. All data will be kept confidential when so requested by Mrs. Hills.

A Threshing Violin
CHAMBERLAIN, S.D. — UP — Art Priebe, a retired farmer, has made a violin out of an old threshing machine. Priebe constructed the instrument out of fine maple and spruce wood found in an old-time Rumley Advance threshing machine.

Delayed Check
MEAD, Neb. — UP — The payroll department of the Nebraska Ordnance Plant was somewhat puzzled when it received a cancelled payroll check one year after it was issued. Joan Winship said she didn't remember not having cashed the check until she found it at home a year after she received it.

"White Glove" Cooking

That's electric cooking, of course — the modern cooking method, the white glove cooking way. That's because electric cooking is so clean that you can actually take a clean, white glove and run it across the top of the electric element. Unlike the old-fashioned flame-type burners, electric elements collect no soot.

Then, too, electric cooking is electrically controlled for accuracy and dependability. Ever notice how engineers build things with electric controls when they're after modern, automatic control? So, it's obvious that for modern cooking it makes good sense to go all-electric. Get the range that cooks with and is controlled by electricity.

An electric range is clean and it always looks modern. That's because electric cooking is as clean as an electric light bulb. And, it looks modern because if it's electric it IS modern. See the beautiful, modern electric ranges on display at your Reddy Kilowatt Electric Appliance dealer's store. Ask for a free demonstration. Go modern — and that's to go electric!

...of course, it's Electric!

VALEDICTORIAN -- James Pickett, who lives west of the city, is the valedictorian of this year's graduating class of Pampa High School. His average was a whopping 96.82. (News Photo)

Vespers Begin PHS Ceremonies

Vesper services at 5 p.m. today begin the ceremonies which will wrap up the final school year for the 217 students in the 1955 senior class at Pampa High School.

The final step of the graduation ceremonies will be presentation of diplomas in the commencement exercises Thursday at 8 p.m. in the field house.

Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church will deliver the vesper sermon. Special music will be presented by the A Cappella choir and the Harvester Band.

This year, for the first time, choir and band will team up on the traditional "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

For the first time in several years, members of the senior class will speak at the commencement exercises. D. I. Wilkinson, senior class president, James Pickett, valedictorian and James Vicars, salutatorian will represent the class.

The Harvester Band will play the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," processional.

Highest ranking girl in the class is Mary Lynn Miller.

Other senior officers are Carl Blonkvist, vice president and Marlene Kolb, secretary.

Best citizens, announced in the school annual for 1955 are Carol Paxson and Marion Stone.

Stone has also represented the school this year as president of the Texas Association of Student Councils.

Student body officers have been Ben Sturgeon, president; Carl Blonkvist, vice-president and Miss Paxson, secretary.

Pat Reynolds and E. Jay McIlvain were elected all-school favorites, and Jo Tooley and Robert Fleming are senior favorites.

Elected pin-ups were Carol Foster and J. R. Cross.

"The Curious Savage," was the year's senior play, presented in February. The cast included Charlotte Hogatt, D. I. Wilkinson, Mary Willis, Jon Cantrel, Glenda Dudley, Pat Taylor, B. D. Robinson, Kenneth Van Sickle, Marchita Hall, Janice Smithister and Clifford Ryan.

Among the class projects were booths at the all-school carnival; the sale of stuffed green and gold "Harvester" Dogs and a presentation of a gift to the school, a directory to be placed in the center hall.

Three high spots of the year were Kid Day, the annual class trip to Palo Duro Canyon and the class party, "Mardi Gras."

Nine senior boys and girls were selected by the student council throughout the year to be guests of the Lions and Rotary Clubs.

SALUTATORIAN -- James Vicars, 608 Buckler, missed being valedictorian of the 1955 Pampa High School graduating class by a mere .05 of 1 per cent. That made him salutatorian, with an average of 96.77.

Kay Williams Top Student At Panhandle

PANHANDLE — (Special) — At the high school commencement exercises here Tuesday in the auditorium of the school, Miss Kay Williams, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Clarence C. Williams, will preside as valedictorian. Her four year average was 95.03.

Salutatorian will be Georgette Rohan with an average of 94.70. The high ranking boy is Leon Simpson whose average is 91.79. Leon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Simpson of Conway, is president of the school's National Honor Society. He plans to attend Texas Tech College in the fall.

Miss Williams, who has been awarded a basketball scholarship to Wayland College at Plainview, was president of the student council this past year and was voted the class favorite. Attending school in Panhandle the past 12 years, Miss Williams has actively participated in all school activities, with heavy emphasis on sports. She was on the basketball and volleyball team, for four years, and was district tennis champ in 1953.

Miss Rohan, awarded a scholarship by West Texas State College, Canyon, is a member of the National Honor Society, FHA president and has received the citizenship award, and typing and shorthand awards. She has served as band president and drum major.

Dr. J. Chess Lovern, pastor of Lubbock's First Methodist Church, will give the invocation. The benediction will be offered by the Rev. Dudley Strain, First Christian Church, Lubbock.

Commencement music will be provided by Herbert Colvin, organist, and William R. Geisert, vocal soloist. Both men are members of the Tech faculty.

The baccalaureate address will be delivered Sunday night, May 29, by Dr. John Franklin Anderson, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Dallas. The service is scheduled to begin at 8 in Jones Stadium.

Provisions have been made to transfer the traditional graduation exercises to the First Baptist Church in case of inclement weather.

Area Students To Graduate At Wayland

PLAINVIEW — Among the 69 candidates for degrees at Wayland College May 30 are Robert Allford, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Leonard, Pampa, and Miss Carolyn Evans, White Deer. Commencement exercises will begin on May 29.

Allford, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Allford, 1601 Duncan, Pampa, is a 1951 graduate of Pampa High School. During the summer of 1954, he served as music director for the First Baptist Church of Pampa.

He has been a member of the Wayland International A Cappella Choir throughout his college career and has served as president of the Choir. Allford has also served as president of Thespians, vice-president of the junior and senior classes and is one of the four members of the Judicial Board.

This session, he was chosen senior class favorite. A music major, he recently gave his senior voice recital. Following graduation, he will be minister of music for First Baptist Church, Hollis, Okla.

Jesse Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Leonard, 505 N. Carr, Pampa. He was graduated from Mobeetie, Texas, High School, and is now pastor of First Baptist Church, Turkey, Texas. Mrs. Leonard, the former Carolyn Bryant, is a graduate of Bowdon, Georgia, High School. Her name has appeared on the Dean's Scholastic List for three semesters. The Leonards completed their work in January, but will receive their degrees with the class on May 30.

Miss Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, White Deer, is a 1951 graduate of White Deer High School. For three years she was elected campus favorite, and nominated for campus beauty. She has served on the Student Government Association council, Baptist Student Union council, and is enrollment vice president for Future Teachers of America and Ikwaw, Women's service organization. She was selected as one of the top students on the basis of leadership. Employed part-time in the office of the Dean of Students for three years, Miss Evans will remain on the staff of Wayland College as secretary to the Dean of Students.

Edgar Allison Herron, manager of Glorieta Baptist Assembly, Glorieta, N.M., will deliver the commencement address the evening of May 29 as the climax to a week-end of activities honoring the seniors, including a reception by President and Mrs. A. Hope Owen and a luncheon by the Association of Former Students. Rev. William Caswell Bryant, pastor of First Southern Baptist Church, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Rev. Jones Weather, pastor of First Baptist Church, Brownfield, will deliver the missionary and baccalaureate sermons. The three guest speakers will be presented with honorary degrees at the commencement exercises.

Dr. J. Chess Lovern, pastor of Lubbock's First Methodist Church, will give the invocation. The benediction will be offered by the Rev. Dudley Strain, First Christian Church, Lubbock.

Peg O' Pampa

WE CERTAINLY CAN'T COMPLAIN about dry weather this week... when it rains here in our Panhandle, it certainly rains... quite a few people out considering the weather... Peg spied some women downtown... "sans" raincoats... getting just soaked... bet we have a rash of folks with colds and flu... guess they just couldn't believe it was really raining... one lady was heard saying to a friend: "Isn't this lovely weather?"... which expresses the sentiments of a lot of us... who cares about getting wet... just so we have some rain... things should really start growing fine now and looking so nice and green.

WHAT A LOVELY RECEPTION the Council of Clubs had the other night... Peg certainly did enjoy it... all the presidents looked so lovely... Maxine Rose was as pretty as ever in a light blue and white ballarina-length gown... and Jean Chisholm was so attractive in her formal... Katie Key was so gracious in her closing speech Peg just knows she's going to make a wonderful president... Adrienne Foster all in pink... gave a very impressive installation service... really made a solemn and very important occasion out of it... as it should be... just loved the idea of using Katie Key's profile for the centerpiece... it sure surprised... and pleased her, too... a lot of people there... Dorothy Neslage looked very chic... just loved the hat she had on... very different... pretty Carol Paxson's piano music was enjoyed by everyone... Peg spied, here and there... Mrs. Tom Rice, Mrs. Sherman White, Mrs. Elma Vanderburg... Ola Gregory... Evelyn Milam, Elsie Gee... Gladys Jaynes, Mrs. J. B. White... Lois Watkins... Betty Henderson... Lillian Jordan... Mary Johnson... Sue Johnson... to name a few... one of the nicest Peg has attended in a long time.

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS had a big day Thursday... despite the deluge of rain... had some wonderful meetings with two state officers... both very charming women... Mrs. George Stevens and Mrs. Jack Story... who is the sister of Mrs. Tom Calaway of Pampa... mostly just League business, but very informative for the members... Some of the women attending the meeting were Azelle Loftus... Mrs. Jesse Clay... Norma Hrdlicka... Lillian Snow... Libby Shortwell... Mrs. A. D. Hills... Buena Cox... Mrs. D. A. Finkelstein.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK... It is not enough to do good; one must do it in the right way. (John Morely)... How often it is difficult to be wisely charitable... to do good without multiplying the sources of evil. (John Ruskin)... "Charity sufferech long and is kind," but wisdom must govern charity, else love's labor is lost and giving is unkind. (Mary Baker Eddy)... A bone to the dog is not charity. Charity is the bone shared with dog, when you are just as hungry as the dog. (Jack London)... There are two kinds of charity, remedial and preventive. The former is often injurious in its tendency, and later is always praise-worthy and beneficial. (Thomas Charles Edwards)... Charity is injurious unless it helps the recipient to become independent of it. (John D. Rockefeller, Jr.)

THE RAIN HAS PUT A DAMPER somewhat on the week's social activities... the Junior High PTA meeting had just a handful there... but it was a nice meeting anyway... Adrienne Foster will make a wonderful president... she is so capable... Peg marvels that she finds time for all she does... guess it's always the busy ones that have the time... Mrs. F. H. Jernigan made a fine presentation of the past president pin to Mrs. R. D. Goodnight... she has had a wonderful year, too... among those having the weather... other than the teachers... were Mrs. Joe Tooley... Mrs. F. M. Culbertson, who gave a short but effective installation service... Jim Austin... Deck Woldt... Jack Foster... Wilma Caldwell... J. R. Strohle and W. F. Vanderburg... both on the program... and a goodly number of teachers.

A SIDELINE ON THE PRESIDENTS tea put on by the Council of Clubs was told to Peg... it's about Bertha Chisum... one of the past council presidents... she is always so charming in her manner of congratulating every officer for a job well done... never misses a one... and she always offers her support to the new officers... she never misses a president's tea, either... and she did look so attractive Tuesday night... all in blue... she is also a very interesting person to talk to.

PEG KEEPS LOOKING for easy dishes for the hot summer weather coming up... she has such an aversion to cooking in the summer... at least anything that takes much preparation... here is an easy tuna roll - up...
 1 tsp. grated lemon rind 2 7-ounce cans tuna fish
 1 Tbs. lemon juice 1-2 tsp. salt
 1-2 cup water 1-4 tsp. pepper
 2 cups biscuit mix 1 pimiento, chopped
 1 egg yolk 2 Tbs. minced onion
 2 Tbsp. milk 3 Tbs. minced parsley
 Drain tuna; flake with fork. Add salt, pepper, pimiento, onion, parsley and lemon rind; mix well. Combine lemon juice and water. Add to biscuit mix and stir vigorously with fork to combine. Roll into 8-by-13-inch rectangle on lightly floured board. Spread with tuna mixture. Roll as for jelly roll. Dampen outside edge with egg yolk beaten with milk; press to seal. Lay seam side down in floured shallow baking pan. Brush top and sides with remaining egg mixture. Bake at 400 degrees, 25 to 40 minutes. Makes six servings.

HERE AND THERE... Peg really didn't get out too much this week... but she did pick up a few things... understand Ted Hicks is in Dallas or Fort Worth... at least she was this week... Lorene Locke is ready to go to Fort Worth to visit her daughter and three grandchildren... also understand she's toying with the idea of going to a writers' seminar in Boston... that certainly would be a wonderful experience... Marge Brauchle is certainly working hard on the Ladies Golf Association programs... that is quite a job getting a program for every week... and they have all been so interesting... for you young single gals... Peg heard a rumor that a young, good-looking college boy is going to be a lifeguard at the pool this summer.

THIS IS THE TIME when everyone is planning vacations... it is always so interesting to hear where everyone is going... understand Gayle Herr is planning a trip to Europe this fall... lucky person... one of Peg's dreams... also hear that Frank and Esther Culbertson are leaving in mid-July for a trip to Fairbanks, Alaska... Esther has a cousin in Fairbanks she will visit, while Frank expects to go inland for some fishing... getting off the vacation subject, understand Jack and Iva Back are in the midst of plans for a new house... sounds real nice.

THIS RAINY WEATHER: Peg doesn't get much of a chance to use her raincoat in this country... But last week was sure an exception. And a wonderful one, too, she can tell you... And she wasn't the only one who had to don the rain-repelling garments. No, indeed... There were lots of people Peg saw who did the same thing... Take Aubrey Jones, who was whipping into the City Hall one day last week. The water was dripping off him, in "rivers"... And musn't forget Jackie Cary, who works over in the Courthouse. She was bouncing along. Between the raindrops, maybe. Or she thought, anyway... Bunny Hukell, another cute girl, had one of those hood affairs. She was huddled inside it, while the rain just swished down... Jeanne Bell, though, just let her long red hair wave in the rain. No hood for her... Janice Stafford, who will be married in a couple of weeks, was grinning through the rain, too... One way to tell how the weather is just look inside one of the coffeehouses of a morning, say a wet morning, and just take a look at the wet raincoats stacked, one atop the other, on the coat hooks. Down below the mis always a puddle of water... Wet, rain! Isn't it wonderful?... Peg has felt so good all week!... Oooo, musn't forget seeing Buck Haggard, the deputy sheriff, taking care of himself in the wet weather. He had his pants tucked inside his boots... Helen Hinds looked real sweet, too, all raincoated up, ready for whatever the weather brought... But Peg is wondering one thing. Will we get 40 days and 40 nights of rain? Even split up, maybe?

Duckily yours,
Peg

Delta Kappa Gamma Chapter Convenes In Groom For Business Meet, Coffee

Members of Delta Kappa Gamma met recently in the clubhouse at Groom for a coffee and meeting, with Miss Bernice Lash, Mrs. R. T. Foster and Mrs. Bernice Johnson as hostesses. Mrs. M. Roy Sullivan of Pampa, president, announced the Southwest Regional Meeting will be held in El Paso Aug. 15-17, with Texas being host to 10 other Southwest states.

Miss Claude Eversly was presented a certificate and gift for her outstanding service to Delta Kappa Gamma in Texas. She was one of seven to receive the achievement award for "work faithfully rendered to promote the spirit of fine fellowship and promote the advancement of DKG." The presentation was made by Mrs. McHenry Lane.

Miss Eversly is a charter member of the Beta Delta Chapter, organized in 1934. She was appointed vice-president at that time and is holding that office at this time. She was president from 1943-45, and recording secretary 1937-41. She was state chairman of letters and publication from 1944-46 and wrote the history of the organization for a state book, to be presented to Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, national founder, at her retirement in 1945.

"A Tribute To The Founders" was given by Miss Daisy Childers of Canadian. She stated that Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, with 11 other women teachers, organized DKG May 11, 1829, while state superintendent, Dr. Blanton helped secure free textbooks for Texas children, helped raise standards for teachers' certificates and sponsored consolidation of schools. At the time of her death in 1945, 35 states had organized chapters totaling 22,900 members. It is now an international organization.

Mrs. Kenneth Walters and Mrs. Sullivan reported on the state convention in Mineral Wells. Mrs. Clemantine Morgan of Panhandle presented a quiz on the constitution. Miss Eversly introduced the Groom trio, composed of Misses Callie Gunter, Jimmie Cornett and Mildred Burgin, who sang several selections. Two vocal solos were also presented by Miss Mary Kay Johnson. Group singing of DKG songs was led by Mrs. Owen L. Moore.

Other members present were Mrs. D. V. Biggers, John L. Bradley, Sam Irwin, William Karr, Grace T. Harris, J. B. White, John Evans, Florence Pounds, June Harvey, R. Q. Ziegler, I. E. Padgett, and Misses Ardelle Briggs, Evelyn Milam, Sibyl Turner, Ruby Trusty, Nova May, Mary Dean Dozier, Pearl Spangh, Minnie Allen, Lella Clifford, Lillian Mullinax, Mary Reeve and Mary E. Ewing.

RUTH MILLET

Perhaps the President of the United States never asks the First Lady in the somewhat condescending manner of most husbands, "Well, Dear, what have you been doing all day?"

But if he ever has in the past—in the future he should have a keener appreciation of just what she has been doing when she answers casually, "Well, I visited a flower show, greeted a delegation of women from West Podunk, had my picture taken with two adorable little Brownie Scouts, etc."

For the other day the President pinch-hit for Mrs. Eisenhower when illness prevented her from attending a flower show. And according to United Press reports, that supposedly simple little chore turned out to be not so simple after all.

A brick wall which a couple of photographers had climbed to get a better shot of Mr. Eisenhower came tumbling down and the photographers came tumbling down. Humpty Dumpty fashion at the President's feet. Garden club women pressing for a closer look at the President of the United States got their coupages crushed.

Another photographer, trying for a good shot of President Eisenhower throwing a coin into a pond, designated as a wishing well, lost his footing and plunged into the water.

The President even had a three-foot-long alligator thrust at him which certainly is a test of anyone's—even a President's—poise.

This is all by way of leading up to the moral that it is never a bad idea for a wife to let a husband pinch-hit for her occasionally.

It gives a man a better understanding of a woman's day and ought to take the condescension out of any husband's question, "What have you been doing with yourself all day?"—with the implied reminder, "while I was hard at work."

Preventive Measures For Aching Feet Given For National Foot Health Month

Polio, we all hope, may soon be as absolute as smallpox and bubonic plague, but in this wonderful age of preventive medicine there's still no vaccine for a lesser scourge that has caused misery through the centuries: Aching feet!
We suppose this may have something to do with the fact that no one ever dies of aching feet. So in lieu of inoculations against bunions and corns, we'll have to fall back on a universal vaccine known as "common sense."
That's the theme of National Foot Health Month, when the country's foot doctors conduct their annual crusade to help you take the ache out of your suffering feet.
During the month of May, foot specialists from coast to coast are suggesting a common-sense regime to keep the nation foot happy during the hot weather.
First, they urge you to buy shoes that really fit. Are your summer shoes long enough and wide enough to accommodate your feet there room to wiggle your toes? Foot doctors point out that shoes that are too short or too narrow are a major cause of foot trouble, especially when the thermometer starts to soar.
Second, the medical experts recommend that you wear all-leather shoes; believe it or not, it peeps up shoes, uppers and soles — sturdy blood circulation.

with paper, dividing batter so as to have the same depth in each pan.
Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 35 to 40 minutes. Cool cakes. Prepare Lemon - Orange Wedding Cake Frosting, making two batches. Reserve 2 1/2 cups for decorating. To make the first tier of cake, arrange two of the 13x9x2-inch layers, 13-inch sides together, on cardboard underliner.
Place on serving tray or board. Frost. To make second tier, place remaining 13x9x2-inch cake lengthwise on first tier and frost. For third tier, cut a 1-inch strip from opposite ends of the 9x9x2-inch layer. Place on second tier and frost.
With a cake decorator, use reserved frosting to make roses, leaves, floral garlands, or other desired decorations on cake top and sides. If desired, garnish base of cake with small or lemon leaves.
Lemon - Orange Wedding Cake Frosting: (Mix this recipe twice to make enough frosting.) Measure 6 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, Cream 3-4 cup shortening with 1-4 teaspoon salt. Add part of the sugar gradually to creamed shortening, blending well after each addition.
Then add remaining sugar, alternately with about 1/2 cup light cream until of right consistency to spread, heating after each addition until smooth.
Add 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract and 1/2 teaspoon orange extract packages of cake mix as directed and blend. Note: While frosting cakes, cover bowl with damp cloth to prevent hardening of frosting which have been lined on bottoms.

Automobile Manufacturers Do Survey On Selling Points With Woman Driver

DETROIT — What are the selling points with the woman driver when she selects a car?

A panel of representative women drivers recently invaded the Detroit Athletic Club, historic stronghold of Detroit's automotive executives, to supply the answers to Hudson Motors' officials. Hudson is conducting a national merchandising program for the Hudson Rambler aimed almost exclusively at the women's market.

The panel was composed of a suburban housewife, a social worker, a visiting nurse, a school teacher, a volunteer charity worker, and a fashion model. All have one thing in common: the automobile is a necessity in their busy lives.

In addition to urging Hudson officials to consider the features on a woman's hat when establishing the amount of headroom in a car, the lady drivers revealed that low initial cost, economy of operation, safe construction and dependability were important factors determining the choice of a personal car or a second family car.

They also preferred small cars that park easily and fit into the average garage with ample clearance. Surprisingly, few considered air-conditioning a selling feature, although all agreed it would be pleasant to have. But they voted 100 per cent for power steering, power brakes and automatic transmission, contending strongly that these features should be standard equipment for all cars.

The four-door sedan was preferred 2 to 1 over the two-door model, which received the vote of panel members with small children. The housewife named the station wagon as filling all transportation requirements for suburban living.

With the exception of the school teacher, who conducts a high school course in driver training, none of the panel members was interested in "under the hood" features. They consider this the exclusive domain of the husband or the garage mechanic.

The ladies also volunteered more than a few suggestions on how the automobile industry can improve its products from the standpoint of convenience and comfort for the woman driver.

They would like to see: larger glove compartments of the "drawer" type located in the center of the instrument panel; windshield wipers for rear windows as standard equipment; special safety seats for small children that would enable them to see out the windows; a special gadget holder for maps, flashlight, etc., located on the driver side; larger ash trays with adequate holder for lighted cigarettes; smaller steering wheels; an adjustable accelerator pedal for short persons; more efficient sunvisors; door locks controlled by a button on the driver side of the instrument panel; and smooth hard-surfaced upholstery fabrics that clean easily when "junior spills his ice cream."

While not advocating a return to running boards, the ladies all wish the manufacturer would devise a folding step that would enable children and older persons to more easily enter the rear passenger compartment. As the charity worker put it: "An elderly person doesn't enter the rear seat of today's cars; they are forcefully pushed in or they manage to fall in."

Mrs. L. Hartsfield To Present Recitals

Piano students of Mrs. Lilly Hartsfield will be presented in recitals at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in the Assembly of God Church, 500 S. Cuyler.

Pupils of all ages will be included in each program. Familiar classical and modern numbers will be featured in the ensemble groups each evening.

Pupils taking part in Monday's program will be Patty Walsh, Dianne Thomas, Mollie Cornutt, Jim Barnard, Patricia Moore, Johnnie Beth Walker, Jonlyn Howard, Dianne Phillips, Kay Lard, John Carlson, Pauline Walker, Juanette Adams, Gordon Bayless Jr., Sandra Sue Redus, Jack Carlson, Norma Jean Vaughn and Jo Ann Moxley.

TO APPEAR IN RECITAL
Harriet Henderson, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, 419 E. Foster, will be one of the pupils of Mrs. Roy Johnson to appear in a piano recital at 3 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church. Harriet will play "Cheer Up" by Richter. (Photo by Clarence's Studio)

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Children appreciate

—parents who can say "No" with the firm cheerfulness that sees nothing peculiar in not having everything you want.

—parents who permit you to remain up for the end of your TV program without attacking their own decision by complaining.

"When I was a child, I went to bed when I was told to."

—parents who encourage your joy in a new bike or a turkey drumstick without reminding you of your good fortune as though you didn't deserve it.

—parents who recommend specific action toward your class bully instead of sneezing. "What kind of a sissy are you? Nobody ever pushed me around like that when I was your age!"

—parents who never ask your friends' personal questions like, "Why was your mother away last week end? Do you know how much your father got on the old car?"

Parents who do not say, "Just wait until you have real problems, son" when you're frantically trying to locate the mislaid history notebook you need for school.

—parents who ask, "Why did you disobey me?" with more interest in what they have to say than in what they have to say.

—parents who don't try to soothe you after an arithmetic failure by saying, "Next month, you'll get an A."

—parents who answer your sex questions without trying anxiously to tell you everything they know.

—parents who notice you've just finished reading that magazine article on the H-bomb "fall out" — and need help to come back to trust of the world that could consider dropping one.

Parents who can digest and discard the anxiety aroused by your teacher's complaints, just passing the facts on to you.

—parents whose punishments somehow always end with you thinking, "I see something new about my attitude to other people that I didn't see before I got this reproof, this deprivation, this spanking."

—parents who refuse to get mad at themselves because you get mad at them.

—parents who can make fun of their worries about you instead of using them to make you sorry for them.

—parents who don't harass you with warnings whenever you leave them in case you forget how much wiser and trustworthy they are than you are.

—parents who provide fun and treats for themselves as happily as they arrange them for you.

Mrs. Drex Clonts Feted At Shower

Mrs. Drex Clonts, the former Sammie Jo Cason, was honored recently with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. S. E. Byars, 1035 E. Francis.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Byars were Mmes. Lester Maaz, Elmer D. Young, Richard Muncie, Roy Willson, Roy Guthrie, Robert Laid and Earl Farley.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Dean Cason, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. D. Clonts, were presented corsages of blue and white carnations.

Guests were served refreshments of punch and cake. The serving table was covered with an imported white linen and lace cloth over blue. Appointments were crystal and silver. Candelabra with blue and white tapers and an arrangement of spring flowers centered the table.

Mrs. J. P. Fletcher, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Roy Willson, aunt of the bridegroom, served the cake.

Approximately 75 guests attended.

TO PLAY — Among the piano students of Mrs. H. A. Yoder, to be presented in recital Monday, will be Donna Walsh, left and Becky Walsh, right, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Walsh, 1229 Duncan. Both will be featured in solo selections. (Photos by Call's Studio)

Mrs. H. A. Yoder Will Present Pupils Monday In Final Spring Piano Recital

Mrs. H. A. Yoder will present her pupils in a second piano recital at 8 p.m. Monday in the Church of the Brethren. Two-piano music will be featured, and children of all ages will perform.

The program will include "Concerto in C Major" by William, played by LaVonna Andrus and "Concerto in C" by Rassechau, performed by Betty Lou McWilliams. The first movement of the "Concerto in F" by Boykin will be presented by Donna Tarpley.

Sarah Lou Harnly will play "Sonata in G" by Mozart, with Mrs. Yoder playing Grieg's second piano accompaniment. Other numbers with second piano parts will be presented by Becky Walsh, Sandra Braly and Nannette Flynn.

Closing number of the program will be Mendelssohn's "Concerto in G Minor" by Willie Marie Roland, a Carver High School senior, who has earned the Guild High School diploma in social music this year, offered by the National Guild of Piano Teachers.

Others soloists will be Jim Shelhamer, Russell Maddox, Sara Nan Delashaw, Sharon Carnon, Jan Lively, Linda Key, Donna Walsh, Barbara Glover and Raynor Fillman.

At the close of the recital, Mrs. Yoder will present certificates and pins earned in the recent National Piano Auditions. Thirty-four of Mrs. Yoder's pupils earned certificates.

Juicy Pineapple Pie Is Always Perfect

How would you like to bake a perfect Pineapple Pie — each time you try? Would you like to know that every time you bake a Pineapple Pie you can be sure that your filling will be sweet enough and of just the right consistency, yet with a true Hawaiian Pineapple flavor? There's an easy and economical answer available now in cans!

The Dole Hawaiian Pineapple Company is introducing in local markets this week a brand new product — Hawaiian Pineapple Pie Filling. This new Pie Filling, made with generous morsels of juicy pineapple, sweetened and thickened to just the right consistency, is ready-to-use. All you do is open a convenient No. 2 can (2 1/2 oz.) and turn it into a pastry-lined 8-inch pie plate, cover with a top crust, and bake. There's nothing to measure, nothing to mix, and you're sure of perfect results every time.

This new product is packed in the cannery in Honolulu where the ingredients are scientifically blended to assure you of top quality of flavor, appearance and taste appeal.

Why not plan to bake a delicious Pineapple Pie today? You'll find that you, too, can bake a perfect Pineapple Pie — each time you try!

RECITALIST — Sarah Lou Harnly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harnly of Miami, will present Mozart's "Sonata in G" during the recital of Mrs. H. A. Yoder's pupils Monday. Mrs. Yoder will play Grieg's second piano accompaniment. The recital will be held at 8 p.m. in the Church of the Brethren.

Pampa League Of Women Voters Has Special Sessions With State Officers

The Pampa League of Women Voters was host recently to two state officers. They were Mrs. George Stevens of Ft. Worth, organization chairman for Central Texas and Mrs. Jack Story of Wichita Falls, state finance chairman.

The women met with the League board during the morning, and were honored at a luncheon for the League membership at noon in the Pampa Hotel dining room.

During the general session following the luncheon, Mrs. Stevens explained and clarified some of the League purposes and objectives. She explained the League did not support a candidate for political party.

"The purpose of the League," she explained, "is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government."

She told the women that if they informed themselves they'd read the paper better and listen to the radio better because they would know more about what was there. "Work harder," she charged. "Inform yourself better and help your community inform itself better."

She explained the local, state and national structure of the League to the group, showing how the local Leagues have a voice in the state and national program if they take advantage of the opportunities to make their proposals known.

In conclusion, she advised the women that aren't 100 per cent for all the League is doing to stay in the organization and make themselves heard.

Following the general session, special committee sessions were held with Mrs. Story and Mrs. Stevens. Preparations for the event were under the direction of Mrs. A. D. Hills, local president.

Facts On Heredity Revealed In Article

Parents today can no longer say, "I didn't know he was going to look like that!" says the May issue of Pageant Magazine. The veil of mystery which surrounded the unborn baby has been lifted, for now expectant parents can tell in advance just about all the characteristics their baby will inherit. "A Sneak Preview of Your Unborn Baby," is replete with charts and information giving parents-to-be a glimpse of what they should expect to see when their baby arrives.

One of the things expectant parents are most anxious to know is what physical characteristics the baby will have. Science says the baby will inherit the dominant features from each side of the family, and if a feature like dimples have been in the family for a long time you can be almost certain that it will show up again in your baby. Some other interesting facts that the article reveals is that the child will probably be taller than the parents, that science has found that a tendency to disease is more likely to be inherited than the disease itself, that eye-color and hair-color follow a pattern of the darker colors tending to dominate the lighter one.

However, environment, according to the article, plays the most important role in determining what the child will be like when it grows up. Even though science has made it easier for couples to get a preview of what's coming, all can be altered. The child's height, weight, health, intelligence though mostly predetermined by family history, can all be changed with good or bad environment.

Mrs. O. T. Glasgow Holds Open House

PERRYTON — (Special) — Mrs. O. T. Glasgow was honored with an open house on her 80th birthday, recently in the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Glasgow. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Glasgow's daughters, Mrs. J. T. Francis of Eureka, Kan.; Mrs. O. C. Pimston of Canadian; and Mrs. Myrtle Jordan of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Francis and Mrs. H. T. Glasgow received the guests. Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. H. T. Glasgow registered the guests. The serving table was covered with an embroidered linen cloth and centered with pink peonies in a crystal epergne with pink tapers. A crystal ring of ivy formed a base for the epergne and ivy entwined around the tapers. Mrs. W. E. McMillen, Mrs. H. T. Cutter and Mrs. H. C. Brillhart served punch. Miss Carol Ann Pinson, a granddaughter of Mrs. Glasgow served the cake. Approximately 70 guests called.

The Nation's Children Take To Music With Surprising Burst Of Enthusiasm

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor
NEW YORK — (NEA) — For generations now, the association of kiddies with music lessons with the woodshed has been an American tradition, like pork-and-beans. No red-blooded child was supposed to relish the notion of music by scheming parents and thereafter the household was rent with screams over music lessons, practice and the bills for these same lessons.

But the myth is being exploded by means of another all-American institution, the survey. A recent survey shows that far from detesting music lessons, the kiddies actually like them. Further they pick their own poison and, according to the Wurlitzer Music Workshop, on it play either Bach or boogie according to their own personal liking. In only a few cases is long-haired music still superimposed on short-haired tastes.

In the last decade, the instrument playing population in this country has nearly doubled. Youngsters account largely for the increase and most of these are the bumper crop of war babies.

Today there are three million kids blowing or banging away at something and school bands are increasing ten per cent a year with a total of 40,000 bands right now.

Nearly 70 per cent of the children queried in this musical survey chose their own instruments. Of these, 52 per cent picked piano lesson; 23 per cent are studying violin; five per cent are playing the accordion and others are learning to play various band instruments.

Chief reason for the popularity of the piano seems to be that "nearly all the kids in my block play the piano." But most children pick an instrument on the basis of sound and they find that the most rewarding aspect of music lessons is the recital.

The kids are divided fifty-fifty in their liking for popular vs. classical music. But all of them said they played the music they liked best and that the only thing they disliked about lessons was the mo-

Junior High PTA Installs Officers

Mrs. Jack Foster was installed president of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association at a recent meeting in the school auditorium.

Other officers, installed by Mrs. F. M. Culberson, were Mrs. Gene Fathere, vice-president; Mrs. Sam J. Gerald, secretary; Mrs. E. A. McLennan, historian; Mrs. George Newberry, parliamentarian; Mrs. Joe Schroedel and Joe Gordon, city council representative. A past-presidents' pin was presented to Mrs. R. D. Goodnight by Mrs. F. H. Jernigan.

Following the installation, Mrs. Foster announced her committee chairmen for next year. They are Mrs. F. H. Jernigan, membership; Mrs. Homer Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Fred Hobart, publicity; McHenry Lane, budget and finance; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Andis, hospital-ity; Mrs. Ed Barnes, publications; Mrs. J. M. Rutherford, room representative; Joe Tooley, safety; Mrs. L. L. Milliren, study; Mrs. H. H. Hahn, legislation; Jim Aus-tin, radio; J. R. Stroble, character and spiritual; Mrs. Garner Altom, telephone.

Master of ceremonies was Rev. W. F. Vanderburg. J. R. Stroble presented the devotional, on the theme of "triangles." First of these was God, husband and wife, with God at the apex in the relationship between husband and wife. Second was God, parent and child, with the parents cooperating with God in rearing children. He charged the parents to think, plan and help the child have a spiritual birth. The third triangle was God, family and community with God and the family working together for a better community, city, nation and world.
