Violent June weather re-erupted on the nation's midsection Wednesday, although it sent showers and thundershowers to the Mississippi Valley and the Southern Plains.

Triple Murder Case Gets Hot

DICKENSON, Tex. — UP — A mystery man, who met one of three murder victims several times in a Dickinson cafe, was sought Wednesday by authorities.

Galveston Sheriff Frank Biaggne said two ex-convicts were being sought as suspects after both were seen in Dickinson last week — the week that Mrs. John McPherson, 44; her 12-year-old son, George; and her mother, Mrs. J. N. Norman, 65, were killed in their beds at their home.

Biaggne indicated a possible break in the case shortly. He said "something big" may turn up in a couple of days. But he declined to elaborate.

Met in Cafe However, Biaggne said one of the men — "the hottest suspect" — met Mrs. McPherson several times in a cafe. The sheriff said he knew the man's name, but he would not reveal it.

One of the men is believed to be somewhere in West Texas, and the other in Los Angeles, Calif., Biaggne said.

Dickinson Constable Earl Turner said authorities had learned that Mrs. McPherson had bought two beers in the Linda Lee cafe in Dickinson for herself and a mystery man. Turner did not go into further detail.

Rings Not Stolen However, he said that Mrs. McPherson's wedding ring and engagement rings were not stolen as reported earlier by the victim's husband, an oil drilling supervisor who was on a job in Sulphur, La., at the time of the slayings.

Turner said Mrs. McPherson tried to pawn the rings in Dickinson after returning home last Wednesday from Sulphur, where she had visited her husband.

Other Developments A 21-year-old AWOL Dallas airman, from Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, was picked up and questioned by Dallas police. However, Homicide Capt. Will Fritz said after questioning the airman that he doesn't think he had anything to do with the Dickinson murders.

A Mississippi ex-convict was picked up Tuesday at Fort Davis in southwest Texas. However, Sheriff Tom Gray said after questioning the man that he doesn't think he has any connection with the case, although he resembled somewhat one of the suspects sought.

Prediction: 380 Deaths On July 4 CHICAGO — UP — The National Safety Council estimated Wednesday that 380 Americans will die in four of July highway accidents during the "biggest holiday on wheels" in America's history next weekend.

The council predicted that 40 million vehicles will be on the move during the three-day holiday. It pleaded for extra caution to prove that the council's estimate was too high.

The council's estimate covers traffic deaths that occur from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday to midnight Monday.

Lander Says Bonds Won't Hike Taxes

Chet Lander, administrator of Highland General Hospital, said yesterday that if the bond issue is voted it would not increase the taxes of Gray County residents.

Lander stated, "The residents of the county will be very receptive to the bond issue. . . I do know this, the people want private rooms. I'm very confident that if this bond issue is put up to the people it will carry." He pointed out that at present the hospital is equipped only for eight private medical rooms and 14 private surgical rooms, and since 90 per cent of the surgical patients request private rooms the facilities can accommodate only 45 per cent of them.

The admissions to Highland Hospital have shown a definite increase over the past five years. In 1951, 4,315 patients were admitted; in 1952—5,036; 1953 — 5,519; 1954—5,582; and in the first six months of 1955, some 3,064 people have been admitted. If the rate continues at this rate, "55 will see over 6,000 patients treated."

After the first few months of operation the hospital has successfully operated in the "black," showing a net profit of $36,000 last year. The gross income for '54 was $529,480, the operating expense was $443,245. The rate per patient day is $19.07.

Two dialyzers, oxygen equipment, surgical instruments and air conditioning for the nursery were among the new equipment and supplies purchased in '54.

If the bond issue is voted, the hospital board will have the north wing addition built anticipating the installing of air conditioning at a later date. Either a central unit or individual window units will be used.

Strike Hits Tin Smelter

TEXAS CITY, Tex. — UP — Some 370 employees of the government-owned Texas City tin smelter remained on strike Wednesday and a union official said the company had misrepresented the strike issue.

A. Gresprien, secretary of the CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, Local No. 4-449, said the company was offering a 10-cent hourly wage boost effective when the strike is over.

But Gresprien said the company previously had said the pay raise would be retroactive to May 30. Union officials want a 12-cent hourly raise retroactive to March 1.

Some of the workers went back to their jobs Monday, but left when plant officials told them the smelter couldn't resume work until the wage dispute is settled.

Helicopter Falls During Air Search

YOKOSUKA, Japan — UP — A helicopter crashed Wednesday during the disaster-plagued search for three Marine fliers missing in the Pacific off Japan and the Navy announced that one of its four crewmen is missing.

It was the third disaster of the week. On Sunday a fighter-bomber plunged into the sea off the mouth of Tokyo Bay. Tuesday a fighter-bomber of the vast search armada vanished in the mists over volcanic Oshima Island.

A hot summer sun had burned away the Pacific fog hampering the search for three missing U. S. Marine fliers, but mounting seas and negative reports from search planes and ships dimmed hopes for their survival.

But Hunt Goes On Bearded and red-eyed Air Force Army and Marine officers refused to give up though they were sleepless from continuous search operations since Sunday and the search went on Wednesday. Then came the crash of the helicopter to give their morale another blow.

Faint radio signals from an elusive rubber life raft had given tantalizing hope of success in the search for the Marines, but the signals were not heard Wednesday.

The search had been broadened to seek the third missing Marine when the helicopter crashed.

The Marine helicopter, flying from the deck of the USS White-marsh, a landing ship drydock, went down at noon. The three survivors were snatched from the water by another helicopter and flown to Yokosuka Naval Hospital. The missing crewman was not identified.

Three Crewmen Identified The helicopter crewmen rescued were 2nd Lt. Robert Eugene Suedes, son of Robert W. Suedes, Eathau, S. D.; Cpl. Kyle Wayne Follett, son of Harrison Alto Follett, Fairview, Utah; and Cpl. James Willard Huskinson, son of Emor James Huskinson, Osage, Wyo.

The missing man was believed drowned when the helicopter ran out of gasoline near its mooring and dropped into the sea.

One of the missing fliers was Lt. Alan Murdoch McAneny of Glenwood Gardens, Yonkers, N. Y., whose bride of three months Margaret, lives near Axtguy Naval Air Station northwest of Yokohama. She is the daughter of Bradley C. Barnard, publisher of the Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel.

The two men he sought when he radioed his squadron leader he had lost him in the haze were Capt. Hodgen P. Montague of Jackson, Miss., and 2nd Lt. David W. Bell, 24, Wayzata, Minn., son of Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills.

Ike Says Peace Chances No Better

WASHINGTON — UP — President Eisenhower said Wednesday he believes that chances of easing world tensions and fears are better than he thought two months ago.

He told a news conference he based this at least partly on what he had learned of last week's United Nations anniversary meeting in San Francisco.

The President said he is trying not to expect too much from next month's big four "summit" meeting at Geneva. But he said it is obvious that some change has taken place in the Soviet attitude and the Big Four meeting may be able to make some progress toward relieving fears.

Fear A Burden If there is a way to take the burden of fear off people, Mr. Eisenhower said, then we ought to explore it.

He they said he personally believes the chances for doing that are better than he thought they were two months ago.

The President, like Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday, seemed to discount the effect on the forthcoming Big Four meeting of last week's U.S.-Russian plane incident off Alaska.

Mr. Eisenhower said he is sure that the shooting down of a Navy patrol plane by two Russian MIGs was a local occurrence and not a matter of Soviet policy. He went on to say that weather conditions in the area were not good and that part of the incident was a misunderstanding.

Apology Encouraging The President said it was very encouraging that in this one incident at least the Soviets have adopted an apologetic attitude.

He said he believes he will be leaving for the Geneva Conference which begins Monday, July 18 either the previous Friday evening (July 15) or Saturday morning. He said he wants to be in Geneva at a reasonable hour Sunday morning, July 17.

The President was asked whether he thinks Soviet Premier Nikoita Bulganin will be able to speak for the collective heads of the Soviet Union. He replied that the reporter raised a question that is a puzzle because no one really knows where the dominant influence rests among the group of Russian leaders.

But he said that because of different forms of government everywhere it is not possible to get exact counterparts at a meeting of this type.

Corner Stone Laid GEORGETOWN — UP — The corner stone of the $250,000 Martin Ruter boys dormitory at Southwestern University was laid Tuesday. It is the first of a three-unit dormitory planned at the school.

Steel Mills Set For Strike Thursday

PITTSBURGH — UP — Some of the nation's greatest steel mills banked furnaces Wednesday in preparation for a strike shutdown scheduled for midnight Thursday unless agreement is reached in the currently deadlocked labor negotiations.

U. S. Steel Corporation representatives met early Wednesday with officials of the CIO United Steelworkers union in a race against time to seek agreement before the strike deadline.

Talks between labor and management were recessed Tuesday night with neither side apparently ready to budge from previous stands on wages, the only contract provision up for negotiation this year.

U. S. Steel President Clifford H. Holt said his company's wage offer, ranging 10 cents an hour was "fair and equitable" and that the union had "no valid economic basis" for rejecting it.

He said a strike is "totally unnecessary" but that U. S. Steel was preparing to shut down its mills "because the USW has refused to accept" the firm's wage offer.

USW President David J. McDonald said in a television talk Tuesday try "can easily afford" a higher pay boost. He said workers are "entitled" to it because of increased per-man production rates. He said the steel industry "failed utterly to disprove the union's case for wages higher than those offered."

Layoffs will start Wednesday unless negotiators quickly reach a common ground for settlement.

King Slips, Breaks Leg OSLO, Norway — UP — King Haakon VII, 83, slipped Wednesday and broke his leg while visiting his summer residence, Bygdoye Kings Farm.

The elderly monarch was rushed to the Rikshospitalet, a hospital in Oslo.

Immediately upon the king's being incapacitated by his accident, Crown Prince Olav became regent of Norway under an automatic provision of the Norwegian constitution.

The first bulletin from the hospital said he had broken the thigh bone, but that "everything taken into consideration," his condition was satisfactory.

New Survey For Pampa Is Assured

Pampa was assured of a new industrial survey following the financial endorsement Tuesday of the Citizens Corp. of America and The Pampa Daily News.

Work started Burt Blanton, Dallas industrial engineer, immediately went to work gathering statistics this morning for the compendious work which will run several hundred pages not only in its contemporary economic assessment of Pampa and Gray County, but in its projections and forecasts for the 1953-1960 period.

Other firms which will make the survey possible are Southwestern Public Service, Empire Southern Gas, Cabot Companies, Citizens Bank and Trust Co., Hughes Development Co., and Radio Station KPDM. The $3,000 cost of the survey will be made up of $200 contributions from each of the eight firms, and a $1,400 contribution from the Pampa Chamber of Commerce. The survey is expected to take four months to complete, Blanton said.

Future Prospects Blanton, 32 years in the field of business analysis, has already begun work collecting statistics from local banks, and all city offices. Statistics gleaned will supplement the facts gathered in the last survey made in 1945. The 1945 study covered from 1930-1945. Though the survey will lay emphasis on the past 25 years in Pampa and Gray County, Blanton said this morning, particularly heavy emphasis will be given in the new survey to prospects for the future. Blanton leaves Thursday morning for Dallas, where he said the next two months work will be heavily concerned with the laying out of charts and projections for the survey.

The city engineer's office will prepare for the report a treatise on Pampa's water outlook. Blanton said that he had already received statistics from Superintendent Knox Kinard on scholastic enrollments and public school properties.

Business Given AUSTIN —UP—Business totaling $7.4 million were received Tuesday in a sale of oil and gas leases on University of Texas lands. The high bonus paid was $700,000 by Magnolia Petroleum Co. on a drilling block of 2,632 acres in Upton county.

Nicest Thing About Quiz Folks Dust Off Family Bibles

By JERRY BRAZDA
NEW YORK —UP—Mrs. Katherine E. Kreitzer said Wednesday the nicest thing about her winning $16,000 on a television program is that it has caused a lot of people to "dust off their Bibles."

The quiet little grandmother from Camp Hill, Pa., who has read the Bible daily for most of her 54 years, correctly identified the seven brothers of the Biblical character, Joseph, Tuesday night on the Columbia Broadcasting System program, "364,000 Question."

She won the choice of taking $16,000 in cash or trying next week to answer an even tougher question and bring her total winnings to $32,000.

Lot of Money Mrs. Kreitzer won $8,000 last week by giving "Mene Mene Tekel Upharain" as the words constituting the handwriting on the wall.

She had until Tuesday night to decide whether she wanted to risk losing the money in trying to double it.

"The $8,000 looks like a lot of money," she said, then she asked for the $16,000 question.

She stepped into a sound-proof booth with a one-way window that cut off her view of the audience and was given 30 seconds to concentrate before trying to identify Joseph's youngest brother and then six others. The studio audience was tense as an unseen orchestra played "suspense" music.

No Trouble at All When the time was up she promptly gave Benjamin as the name of the youngest and then, without faltering, named Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar and Zepulun, as six of the other 11.

Mrs. Kreitzer, who works as a typist at the naval supply depot in Mechanicsburg, Pa., appeared to be taking the whole thing a great deal more calmly than most members of the audience.

She said she and her husband, James, "had been dependent on us." Their six sons all are grown and married, and the Kreitzers have nine grandchildren.

"I didn't go into this because we had any pressing need of money," she said. "The money is just luxury."

Man Fined In Assault Case Willie Bill Parker, 78, of Austin, pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and was fined $25 and costs in County Court yesterday.

Parker was charged with the assault on Lee Wagner of 834 E. Craven at 12:15 a.m. yesterday. The assault occurred in the 2400 block of S. Starkweather following an argument at Myrtle's bar on E. Barnes.

Wagner suffered a severe knife wound in the lower part of his left arm. He was taken to Worley Hospital for treatment.

Sodium Chlorate Distributed The 42,000 pounds of sodium chlorate ordered by the local Soil Conservation District office has already been distributed to farmers and ranchers who had placed their orders earlier, according to the county agent's office.

Ford was sentenced to four years in prison once before on the charge in 1932, but the sentence was reversed and a new trial ordered by the Fifth U.S. Court of Appeals.

The jury returned a guilty verdict last Friday after a week-long trial. He was accused of evading more than $8,000 in income taxes for the years, 1945, 1946 and 1947.

Ford's counsel gave notice of appeal, and bond was set at $5,000.

The recruiting job will be turned over to state and local civil agencies in the area, which has a population of 16 million.

Plans for air defense of the area, under control of the 33rd Air Division for alerting purposes were disclosed at a seminar here Tuesday sponsored by the 33rd Air Division.

The filter centers will be at San Antonio, Dallas, Houston, and Corpus Christi, Tex.; St. Joseph, Brantwood and Joplin, Mo.; Little Rock, Ark.; Shreveport, La.; Hutchinson, Kan., and Oklahoma City.

Nuckolls explained the first objective is to protect key industrial centers close to foreign territory.

Negro Soldier Convicted In 'Lover's Lane' Slaying

WACO —UP—An all-male, all-white jury deliberated only an hour and 20 minutes before finding Negro Army sergeant Marion A. Washington guilty early Wednesday of the "lover's lane" slaying of airman Henry Poole. Washington was sentenced to death in the electric chair.

The defendant, chewing gum, took the verdict with no show of emotion. There was no demonstration among the some 300 persons in the courtroom, many of them Negroes, when the verdict was announced at 12:30 a.m. The jury retired at 11:30 p.m.

Poole, a Bryan Air Force Base airman from Spartanburg, S. C., was shot to death on the night of last April 3 at a secluded "parking" spot near Waco when he raped a Negro attacker from rapping his fiancée, Miss Dorothy Papendorf of Waco.

Innocence Claimed Two days of testimony ended near midnight Tuesday with the 25-year-old Bremond, Tex., defendant, steadfastly sticking to his story that a confession he signed was made only after he was beaten by police officers.

Washington testified he was in the Fort Worth-Dallas area the weekend of the killing, but two surprise witnesses walked into the jam-packed courtroom Tuesday to puncture this testimony.

J. W. Stone, owner of a wrecking yard in Waco, and Billy Jack Shrum, who works for Stone, said Shrum came into their yard on Sunday morning, April 3, to have the generator on his car fixed.

Lightning Victim's Rites Set Funeral services will be held for Kenneth Eugene Guyer, Sr., 46, of White Deer, Thursday at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of White Deer, under the direction of Poston's Funeral Home of Panhandle. Burial will be in White Deer Cemetery.

Guyer was killed about 4:30 p.m. Monday when struck by a bolt of lightning while operating a tractor on his farm seven miles southwest of Panhandle. He had been a resident of White Deer for 29 years.

Born in Ellis County, Okla., in 1909, he had operated a service station several years before selling it to devote his full time to farming.

Survivors include his wife, Hazel; a daughter, Sarah Kay; and a son, Kenneth Eugene, Jr. Other survivors include one sister, Mrs. Riley Stone of California; two brothers, Jess of Billings, Mont., and Morris of Casper, Wyoming.

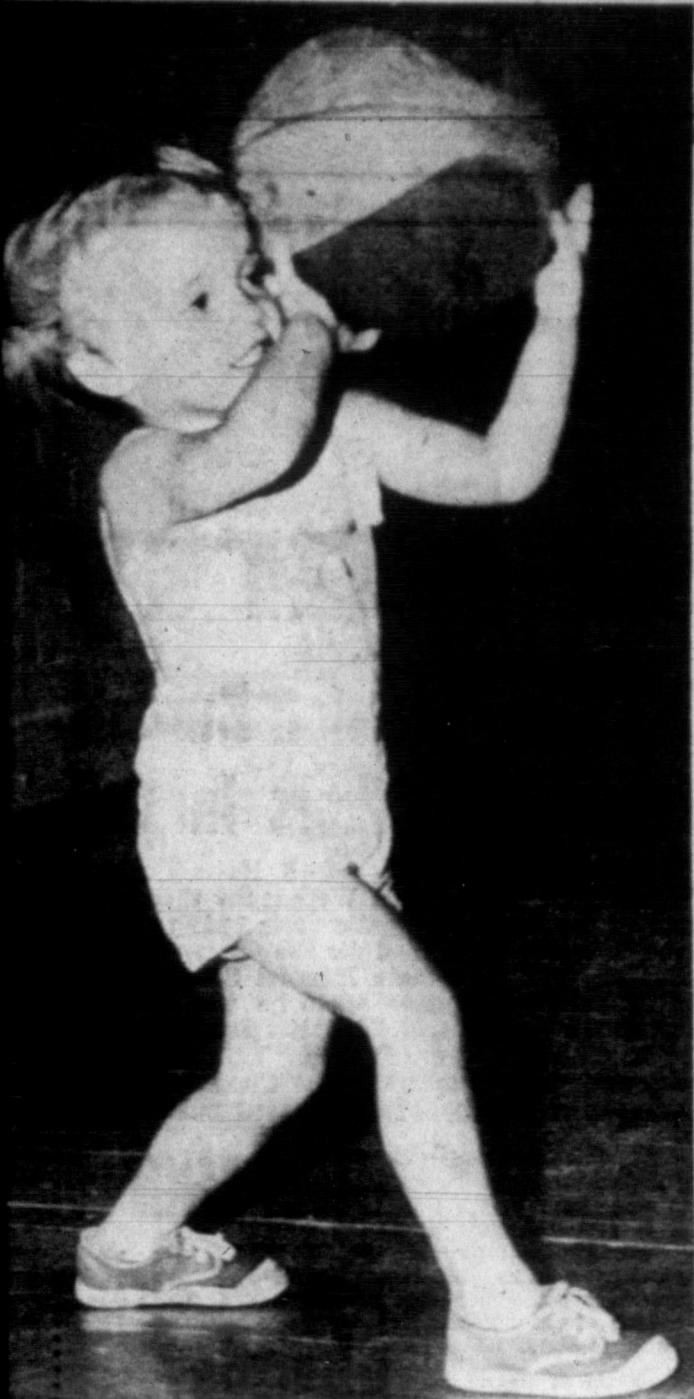

Stone and Shrum weren't supposed to testify. They said they were sitting listening to the radio Tuesday when they heard that the defendant had said he was out of town the weekend of the murder. They called District Attorney Tom Moore Jr. and Moore summoned them to the courtroom.

Both testified that Washington stayed in their wrecking yard for several hours that day while his car was being repaired and that he paid for the work with a wrist watch.

At one point during testimony, the overflow crowd cheered and District Judge D. W. Bartlett ordered all those standing to leave the courtroom.

Contract Awarded LAREDO —UP—Laredo Mayor J. C. Martin Jr. reported a joint committee has awarded a $409,175 contract to a Mexico City contractor for building a new four-lane concrete highway bridge over the Rio Grande from Laredo.

American Prisoners Of Reds Make US Flags Out Of Rags

By CHARLES M. McCANN United Press Foreign Analyst It was inspiring to read last weekend how Americans imprisoned in Russian slave labor camps are making little United States flags out of bits of colored paper and displaying them at the risk of torture.

Imprisonment of Americans would seem to make this almost certain. Austrian returning from imprisonment told not only of Americans but of Britons and Frenchmen and Germans and Japanese imprisoned by Russia.

Now Seems Certain Even if President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles did not raise the question, the British and French delegations probably would.

How To Iron Shirt Told HD Members

Sunshine Home Demonstration Club met recently in the home of Mrs. I. U. Bryant, west of city, with Mrs. Jim King, president, in charge.

During the business session, plans were made to invite the Goodwill Club to the July 22 meeting.

Mrs. F. P. Hayes showed the women how to sprinkle and iron a shirt. She stated that shirt should be folded as it is sprinkled, instead of being rolled. When ironing the shirt, start with the sleeve, the inside of the back, she explained. Fold the front over and iron on top of the back. The collar should be ironed last, she stated.

Mrs. Hayes also demonstrated how to make a jello salad.

Second part of the program was presented by Barbara Epps and Alice Coombes, 4-H girls, who showed the women how to make chocolate chip cookies.

Mrs. Bryant spoke on skin care, advising the women to use a good cleansing cream and to pat the face dry instead of rubbing.

The white elephant was brought by Mrs. G. H. Murrah and awarded to Mrs. Bryant. Mrs. J. P. Chilcoat presented an embroidered scarf she had made to Mrs. Bryant for her birthday.

Refreshments of chocolate chip cookies, jello salad, cake and punch were served. Attending were Mrs. Jim King, A. A. McElrath, F. P. Hayes, I. U. Bryant, J. P. Chilcoat, Don Warminski, G. H. Murrah, Cordia McBride, John Mobley, C. E. Deist and Jo Cockran. Visitors were Mrs. A. P. Coombes and Misses Barbara Epps and Alice Coombes.

Miss Mona Cruise Feted With Shower

Miss Mona Cruise, bride-elect of Bob Patterson, was complimented with a miscellaneous shower recently in the home of Mrs. S. B. Harrelson, 2236 Williston.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Harrelson were Mrs. Omar Bybee, Evelyn Clay and Harold Turner.

The honoree was presented a corsage of white daisies. Mrs. Howard Cruise, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Irvin Patterson, mother of the prospective bridegroom, were given corsages of pink daisies.

Guests were registered by Mrs. James Lueddecke, sister of the prospective bridegroom.

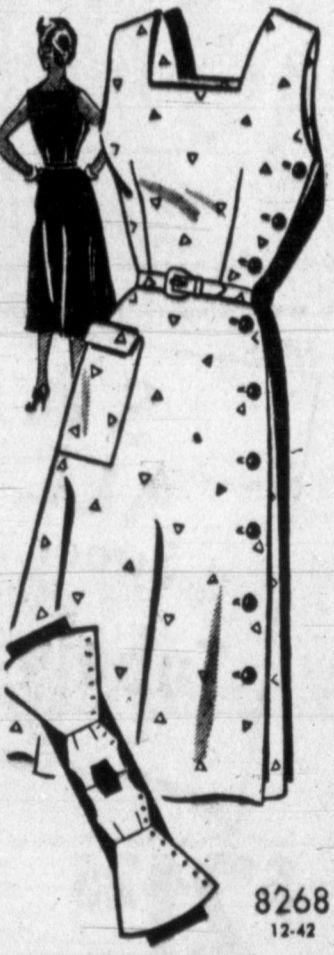

Refreshments of punch, cookies, mints and nuts were served. The table was centered with the punch bowl encircled by pink and white daisies, and flanked by pink and white tapers.

The honoree was presented two heart-shaped cakes, decorated in pink and white, with the words "Mona and Bob" and the date "June 30" on them. The hostesses alternated at the punch bowl.

The hostess gift was an heirloom bedspread. Approximately 50 persons attended the event.

New Modeling Clay Takes Oven Baking

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — It takes a wise mother to know when to encourage and when to discourage certain creative tendencies in a child. These tendencies can range from the artistic trend indicated in writing on the bathroom walls to the culinary talent displayed in mixing up a mass of cookies.

Nearly all children show a marked tendency to create something or other. The mother who wants to save herself the most wear and tear will channel this inclination in the right direction. And the right direction is one that won't wreck the house and leave her a shattered heap.

If your little darling loves to dabble in modeling clay, don't make discouraging noises about it. It's true that some clays stain hands, clothes, wallpaper and woodwork. Hands and clothes can be scrubbed. And you'll just have to rise above the wallpaper and the woodwork.

But if you don't feel like being drastic, there is a solution, one that will allow you to clean up on the artistic aftermath without crushing latent talent. There is, for instance, a brand-new modeling clay developed from a vinyl plastic. Its makers claim that it will stay clean, colorful and nontoxic no matter how long it's used. The job, therefore, of scrubbing both child and room after an art session is practically eliminated.

And no one can say you crushed out Wilbur's one great talent.

IT'S AN AWFUL THING to think we might have the makings of a shriek! — it is if you've read the play or even just heard about it. But who knows, we may have the potential. To keep us in line, or to keep us from becoming too complacent, below is a quiz to see if you're on the way to becoming a shriek.

WHEN SOMEONE ASKS your husband a question and he is slow to answer, do you answer for him? If your answer is "yes," you've got the makings of a shriek, says June Allyson.

Miss Allyson, in a very frank article in the July Woman's Home Companion, tells how her latest movie role of "The Shrike" has made her realize that there is a little of the shriek in every woman — and herself too. She's doing her best to curb her shriek-like tendencies, and suggests that every wife take the "Are You a Shrike" quiz which accompanies her article. Here are a few of the quiz questions:

1. Do you extol, in front of other people, the virtues of the men who wanted to marry you before you married your husband?

2. Have you tried to "make him over" completely?

3. Do you make a point of letting him know whenever a friend's husband gets a raise?

4. Have you ever made any of these remarks to your husband? "I know you better than you know yourself!"

"Listen, I'm talking to you. Why don't you answer me?"

"I'm only thinking of it from your point of view dear."

"I was doing quite well in business when I married you. Just remember that."

"Maybe you just don't know how to handle the situation."

5. Do these questions make you mad? If your answer is "yes" to these and other quiz questions you better take stock of yourself. A few "yes" answers do not make you a full-fledged shriek, but you are probably enrolled in the course. It's one course wives should flunk.

THEY'VE DONE IT again — come up with something new and unusual in greeting cards. The latest card is a Musicard. At first glance it might appear to be just a conventionally nice birthday card, glittering and embossed. When it is opened, however, it contains a 78 rpm record of the "New Happy Birthday Song" with Rosemary Clooney on the vocal.

There are eight versions of the song cut by Miss Clooney to match the eight different cards — for wife, husband, sweetheart, darling, mother, dad, sister and daughter. Put out by Gibson Greeting Card, the Musicards will go on the market within the next few weeks.

Just a thought — why strain your vocal chords when Rosemary Clooney can do so much better? No slur on anyone's voice intended — just thinking of my own.

Dead Beats

A former member of the Federal Power Commission, well known for his leanings toward government power development, proposes that Congress provide for the construction of a number of publicly-owned "yardstick" atomic energy plants.

This may seem wise to some people. But if Congress should authorize such plants, and if they were built and operated on the same basis as the socialized plants using conventional sources of energy, the resultant "yardstick" would be about two feet long.

First of all, socialized plants are either wholly or mainly tax-free. The privately owned utilities, by contrast, pay over 20 cents in taxes for every dollar of revenue.

Then a socialized utility enjoys many other subsidies, direct and hidden. To quote Economic Intelligence, "The government treasury may do its financing, the attorney general may do the legal work, general engineers may do surveys and planning. . . Such a publicly owned utility frequently charges part of its expenses to other functions such as recreation, mosquito control, beautification, navigation, flood control, etc. Instead of charging off the depreciable property at the normal rate established by the Internal Revenue Bureau for private property, a government enterprise may charge off at half that annual rate. Thereby the books show lower costs!"

It's certain that this type of "yardstick" could make the rates charged by private enterprise look too high. It would do that in any line of endeavor in addition to electric power — food, clothing, entertainment, newspapers, and what have you. Economic Intelligence compared the "yardstick" plants to "the dead-beat who owes everybody around town but boasts offensively about his shiny new Cadillac!" That's about the size of it.

Hank Finds Photography Just 'Ain't' His Speed

By HENRY McLEMORE

One of the basic American beliefs is that every man should have a hobby. "And there's no better hobby than photography," I told myself as I bought a new candid camera.

Well, Steichen, Bachrach, Hurrell, and the rest of the celebrated photographers don't have to worry about competition from me. Of the 24 pictures I took, 11 are coal black — there isn't a speck of light to be seen — and the 13 pictures that "turned out" are a much better. They have a striking similarity, to begin with. The subject is always "way over to the left of the film, with vast expanses of landscape on the other side."

In no instance do the feet of my subjects show. And in four of the pictures, only half of the person shows. It makes an interesting study — half a person with no feet.

My group pictures could scarcely be called group pictures, though that was the original intention. For instance, I took a picture of four friends and my dog. The camera caught part of the dog — no feet, of course — but the friends were a little too far to the left to get in the picture at all. I don't think I am quite ready yet for conventional banquet pictures.

On looking at my pictures someone suggested that what I needed was a course in composition. "Oh, I've had composition," I said. "Took that in the fourth of fifth grade, Miss Phispy was my teacher. I remember I won a prize once for the best crayon cover for my composition on a visit with grandmother in the country."

He said he didn't mean that sort of composition, but photographic composition. As I get it, photographic composition is the art of arranging your subjects attractively. You must never photograph a fat man standing next to a barrel, or a porcupine climbing up a cactus.

A photographic "must" is that if you ever run across an old, old man with a beard, stick your

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

The Conscription Idea

Here is more of Dean Russell's article in the magazine, "Ideas of Liberty" issued by The Foundation for Economic Education.

Suppose a foreign enemy were actually attacking a peaceful United States which had withdrawn its military forces from the various foreign nations all over the world. Suppose we had thus left no opening at all for charges of militarism, imperialism, and colonialism. I am confident that they would not be attacked under those circumstances, but let us suppose we were attacked or directly threatened with attack. Again, what would I do? I would (in fact, will) volunteer for the duration and for any assigned duty, and I would willingly subject myself to the leadership of the duly appointed or selected experts. There is no doubt whatever in my mind that almost all other Americans would be hastening to join me in whatever capacities they were assigned.

The advocates of subscription seem necessarily to be taking the position that I and most of the other Americans are too stupid to recognize a danger and to act in behalf of our own welfare. Either that, or they look upon us as unpatriotic cowards. Whatever the reason, they show no hesitation in advocating the use of compulsion upon us "for our own good."

"But this time it's different," I'm often told. "You may possibly be right about World War I and II, but this time we truly have no choice but to fight the communists in Europe and Asia or to surrender to them at home. And we would far rather have our freedom conscripted from us temporarily by our own governmental and military authorities than to lose it permanently to the Russian."

This argument is, of course, the old "either-or" proposition which can be true or merely a gimmick to mislead foolish or unwary persons. In this instance, the "either-or" approach is completely spurious.

If I had to choose, I too would prefer a democratically elected or appointed American master rather than a conquering Russian master or, for that matter, any other foreign master. But so such choice is necessary. Those who advocate the "temporary loss" of our freedom in order to preserve it permanently are advocating only one thing: the abolition of liberty. In order to fight a form of slavery abroad, they advocate a form of bondage at home! However good their intentions may be, those people are enemies of our freedom and my freedom; and I fear any potential Russian threat to my liberty. Those sincere but highly emotional patriots are clear and present threats to freedom; the Russians are still thousands of miles away.

"But you don't understand," the advocates of compulsory military service continue to argue. "Unless we station our troops all around the communist borders to contain communism, the communists will surely conquer the United States and enslave us all with their evil philosophy."

Actually, those sincere people aren't talking about the dangers of communism itself, which is "any system of social organization involving common ownership of the agents of production, and some approach to equal distribution of the products of industry." Over the past fifty years, that philosophy of government ownership and government controls has steadily gained favor in the United States by vote of the majority who claim to be against communism. What my opponents really fear is the Russian army and the plans of the Russian leader "to conquer the world by revolution and armed intervention."

Let us concede that the Russians are even more determined than the world shall follow their way of life than we Americans are determined that our way of life is best for the world. Our history of armed intervention all over the globe — beginning with our occupation of the Philippines and lasting through into the future — won't prove this, but let us concede it anyway.

Can the Russians start a revolution in the United States? Categorically, they can't. And every American citizen, including the few who have pledged their allegiance to Russia, probably knows this. There will never be a successful revolution in America unless the majority of the people want it or refuse to oppose it. In either instance, it will be an American decision, not Russian. If the United States finally adopt the economic policies of communism, it will be because the people want communism or don't care one way or the other. If we finally go completely totalitarian at home in order to fight totalitarianism abroad, we will have done it to ourselves.

Economic Warfare Could Bring Reds To Their Knees

Washington — David Sarnoff's outline of an intensive, comprehensive and continuing campaign of economic, political, and psychological warfare against the Communist empire is neither self-sufficient nor self-sustaining.

According to news reports, the General Federation of Women's Clubs, meeting recently in Philadelphia, passed a resolution urging the appointment of a new Cabinet officer who would be concerned specifically with the interests of consumers — that is, all of us, without regard to whether we are farmers, wage earners, labor union members, or anything else.

And so the big wheel of government has come full circle — and now we need a new department to do the very thing the government as a whole, was instituted to do in the first place.

I am very much in favor of establishing such a department and then abolishing every one of the other departments, forthwith.

The appeasers and internationalists are not anxious to have you hear about it but Senator William E. Jenner has introduced a great resolution to prevent another Yalta. It stipulates: "That (a) no official or employee of the government of the United States, or member of its armed services, may take part in any conference, or in any steps leading to any conference, or in any commitment, open or secret, which has for its purpose or effect the transfer of any people or any part of the population of any nation to Communist enslavement, (b) No such agreement or commitment shall be binding on the United States."

It begins at last to look as if we had the Reds on the run!

Together with our presumed superiority in nuclear weapons, the strengthening of NATO through rearmament of Germany, the alliances we have negotiated in every sensitive world sector, and a construction of Allied bases on the circumference of the Russo-Chinese empire, the Sarnoff suggestion might force Kremlin negotiators to talk peace — and mean it — at the July 18 conference of the Big Four nations at Geneva.

It begins at last to look as if we had the Reds on the run!

Before and during World War II, the United States spent billions on what became known as "preclusive buying." Although we did not need strategic war materials offered to Hitler by neutral or pro-Axis countries (Spain), we bought them at top prices in order to keep them out of Der Fuehrer's hands.

Although there are equally important phases of the Sarnoff program, it is the blockade of markets — for sale or for purchase — which will paralyze both the Russian and Chinese Reds. Economically and industrially, the Communist empire is neither self-sufficient nor self-sustaining.

University's Award To Hoyt A Thing Of Paltry Quality

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The paltry quality of awards of "honor" which are conferred by American institutions of learning is well represented by a political salute by the University of Arizona to E. Palmer Hoyt, editor of the Denver Post. Hoyt received the Peter Zenger award for distinguished work in American journalism.

In the course of this attack he lauded an underworld character with a criminal record formerly connected with the Bugsy Segal mob in Las Vegas. In a paper subsidized by the printer's union, this ex-convict vilified Senator McCarthy in terms that Hoyt himself did not dare to reprint. The Denver Post itself has a notorious reputation dating from the gaudy licentiousness of Tammen and Bonfils, two rascal rogues of frontier journalism well recounted by Gene Fowler in his classical memoir entitled "Timber Line."

It was established that the Rosenberg spy ring took secrets from the signal corps and transferred them to Russia. Rosenberg stole the proximity fuse and handed it over to a Russian agent. A member of the Rosenberg spy ring who had been employed by the signal corps was Joel Barr. He has fled the United States and is reported living behind the Iron Curtain. Sarrant was employed at Monmouth. Sarrant was identified as a member of the Rosenberg spy apparatus. Like Barr, he is reported to be living behind the Iron Curtain.

Forty-five signal corps employees, Fort Monmouth, were suspended on loyalty and security grounds, eight were discharged after hearings. Three resigned. In addition the following (a list of eleven) were suspended, discharged or resigned. Six additional employees were denied access to classified information. Four of these have resigned. The other two were cleared and have been reinstated.

THE NATION'S PRESS

THE "RIGHT" TO A JOB (Omaha World-Herald) Does J. P. Pinkley, chairwarmer, the bureaucrat, have an inalienable right to a Federal job? Or do the people themselves, the taxpayers and patriots, have a superior right to kick him out whenever that seems to them the wise and prudent thing to do?

Those are getting to be rather important questions in the United States. Men of high standing are taking opposite positions.

Among those on the Bureau at Chairwarmer's side is Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. In his concurring opinion in the recent loyalty case involving one Dr. John P. Peters, Mr. Justice Douglas made one of the most extreme statements on this subject that has yet been heard in the land. Said he:

"We have here a system where Government with all its power and authority condemns a man to a suspected class and the outer darkness without the rudiments of a fair trial. The practice of using faceless informers has apparently spread through a vast domain. It is used not only to get rid of employees in the Government, but also employees who work for private firms having contracts with the Government. It has touched countless hundreds of men and women, and ruined many. It is an un-American practice which we should condemn. It deprives men of liberty within the meaning of the Fifth Amendment, for one of man's most precious liberties is the right to work." (Emphasis added).

This, it should be stressed, is the opinion of only one of the nine members of the court. But the fact that even one justice should express the conviction that a person's right to his job is guaranteed by the Constitution — that he can't be kicked out except by something in the nature of a judicial proceeding — should give the American people something almighty serious to think about.

The other side of the argument was expressed in Omaha this week by Scott McLeod, the former FBI man who now is security chief of the State Department in Washington.

Nobody, he said, NOBODY in all the land has any right to hold a Government job. Such a job is simply a privilege, he said, and it can be withheld or withdrawn by the Government itself when that seems advisable.

Added Mr. McLeod: "The Government has a duty to the rest of the citizens to erect certain standards before they extend the privilege.

"I don't want Communists to be permitted to work in the Government. Or persons who may become dupes of the Communists."

Now let's translate these two clashing views. Mr. Justice Douglas's and Scott McLeod's, into terms of a strictly hypothetical case. Suppose you, Dear Reader, were the head of an important Government agency — for example, the State Department.

And suppose you were to become suspicious of one of your employees, a man who was holding a job of critical international importance. Suppose you were to become convinced, from what you had seen and incidents reported to you by people you considered credible, that this man was playing footsie with the Reds. Nothing that would stand up in court, understand, but enough to convince you that this man was either a traitor or a glib associate of traitors.

In those circumstances what do you think should be done? Should the man be left in his job, left in a position to betray America? Left there until, if ever, you are able to get evidence that would stand up in a court of law? Or should he be kicked out instantly and replaced with a man whose history, associates and deeply held convictions are unquestionably pro-American?

The questions answer themselves. The privilege of working for the American people should be extended only to those who beyond question are loyal to the American ideal and the American Republic.

Oh envy, envy those lucky Methodists who are attending Youth Assembly at McMurry College, Abilene, this week. Due back Saturday are Jackie Collins, Thera Warner, Gaye Nell Grundy, Sarah Harnley, Dan Teed, Ruth Robinson, Jo Ann Jones, Jean Caldwell, Cynthia Duncan, Nancy Cooley, Eulsen Moore and Ruth Adcock.

Pampans, watch out for a "Rock Around the Clock" rage, coming with the showing of "The Blackboard Jungle," that is predicted to beat the rage for it that is already going strong.

Two welcomes go out this week — to Gwen Thurmond, already well known in Pampa since she was a Lafors girl, who has moved to Pampa now, Gwen is known all over for her twirling ability, having won state honors and recognition, and, most recently, the 188th Open National Contest.

Second welcome goes to visitor Mary Ruth Venable from Brownfield who is visiting Dot Gantz this week.

Looks so good to see more and more "home from college" faces — Shirley Larson and Connie Jo Kelly were at the Sub Deb slumber party last night.

And speaking of that slumber party, it was a real whing-ding, a "backyard campfire" at the far end of hostess Jo Tooley's yard furnished an out-of-the-ordinary treat — Somewhere, which as anybody who has been to Scout Camp knows, are a toasted marshmallow placed between slabs of Hershey placed between graham cracker squares. Mmmmmmm mighty good!

And for extra special entertainment, rushes Heidi Schneider and Pat Jones presented a "Hit Parade Down Through the Years" puppet show that was cute as can be! Man, you haven't seen anything yet till you've seen a couple of hand puppets boy!

And speaking of teen entertainers, Don Cox plays all over that Gibson guitar, and sing — oh oh! Besides all that, he does magic tricks.

Enough rattling and rambling for one week — enjoy the coolish nights, don't panic too much when clouds gather; See you next week — same day, different chatter.

Dulles Hits Red Attack On U.S. Plane

By WILLIAM GALBRAITH
WASHINGTON — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday deplored "trigge-happy" Soviet action in shooting down an American Navy plane last week. But he said he nevertheless hopes next month's Geneva "summit" conference with the Russians can begin "on the assumption that all of the four participants genuinely desire a secure peace."
He said in a news conference statement that the United States "doubts that (the shooting down of the plane) represents a considered policy on the part of the Soviet Union."
He noted that Russia has at least made an expression of regret. He believed this was the first of its kind ever made to the United States by Russia.
Dulles said the United States thinks it knows exactly where Soviet MIG fighters shot down the Navy Neptune fighter last Wednesday over the Bering Strait between Alaska and the Soviet Union. He conceded there is always a possibility of slight error, but the United States is as certain as humanly possible that the American plane was not over Soviet territory as the Russians claimed.

Americans Escape Bomb In Saigon

SAIGON — UP — A score of Americans attending a birthday party narrowly escaped death Tuesday night when a terrorist grenade exploded against the wall of the United States information office.
One Frenchman was injured. The grenade was hurled at 11 p.m. (9 a.m. cet) at a window on the first floor of the USIS building, 10 yards from the heart of Saigon's European quarter.
The grenade missed the window by only a yard.
The Americans inside were shaken but escaped unharmed.
The injured Frenchman was caught by flying fragments of the grenade as he was passing the building.
Piles of anti-American pamphlets were scattered along the sidewalk outside the information center.
Police said the grenade probably was thrown by terrorist agents of South Viet Nam's rebellious sects, whom the Communists have been urging to turn against the Americans who are supporting the anti-Red government of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.
The grenade throwing was the latest in a series of anti-American demonstrations which included the bombing of a villa occupied by personnel of the U.S. economic mission and an attack against an American jeep.
Communist agents recently have been active distributing propaganda tracts demanding: "U.S., go home."

Press Box Views By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

THE PAMPA OILERS COMMUNITY Baseball Association is currently working on a gimmick that may solve the financial difficulties of our ball club.

There's nothing definite on it at the present, therefore we are withholding what the "gimmick" is.

The POCBA, in a meeting Monday, got an up-to-date report from Oiler business manager Dick Wold of the financial status of the ball club.

The report wasn't too encouraging. In fact, something is going to have to be done and done quickly to keep the Oilers alive financially.

Total number of season books sold on the emergency ticket drive is about 100. To insure full season's operation in the black, 900 books were going to have to be sold.

Since the season ticket drive is falling far short of its goal, directors of the POCBA got their heads together Monday and came up with another idea that could very well solve the financial woes of the local club is now in.

As soon as everything is worked out on the newly proposed money-raising plan, we'll, of course, pass it along.

You perhaps realize that when a city loses out in organized baseball, the community gets a "black eye."

In most cases when a city is forced to give up a professional baseball franchise, the club is either buried in the league cellar or in the second division.

Therefore, with the Oilers leading the league, it would be even more a tragedy for Pampa to lose out in organized baseball.

We've never heard of a league-leader folding in organized ball.

The attendance at Oiler games this season has been encouraging. Despite bad weather for almost every home engagement this season, the Oilers have averaged close to 900 fans per game.

But, all but about 100 or so for each game have been getting in on a ticket from a season book which averages less than 29 cents per ticket.

It takes many more than this at 29 cents per head to make ends meet.

All of the financial problems now facing the directors of the POCBA was brought about when the 2,000 season book goal fell short by 900 books or so.

Lubbock vice president Sam West said he thought the change was in the best interest of the club, which now rests in sixth place in the standings.

Trabert, Patty Battle Each Other In Wimbledon Semis

By ROBERT C. DOWSON

WIMBLEDON, England.—UP—Tony Trabert and Budge Patty, two young men with special reasons for wanting to win men's singles crown, battle Wednesday for the honor of carrying America's colors into the final round of the famed Wimbledon tennis championships.

Second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia gaced unseeded Kurt Nielsen of Denmark in the other semifinal, which was scheduled to precede the Trabert-Patty match on the historic center court.

The 25-year-old, top-seeded Trabert of Cincinnati has set out resolutely to make himself the "world's best amateur."

Patty wants Davis Cup berth. The 30-year-old, seventh-seeded Patty, who won the title in 1950, wants to regain it as a stepping-stone to a high national ranking and a possible berth on the U.S. Davis Cup team.

The United States already is assured of winning the women's singles championship for the 12th straight year. That became certain Tuesday when U.S. girls captured all four berths in the semi-

Pill Rollers, Hoffman Oil, Utility Oil Record Triumphs In Kid Baseball Ranks

Pampa Druggists, Hoffman Oil and Utility Oil emerged victorious in yesterday's kid baseball games.

Pampa Druggists won a 11-1 decision from Elmer's Super Market in the Pony League; Hoffman edged past Sportsman's Store, 11-9, in the Eastern Little League; and Utility Oil defeated You! Laundry and Dry Cleaners, 15-7, in the Western Little League.

Mike Conway went all the way to pitch the Pill Rollers to victory over Elmer's, Conway gave up five hits.

Duane Glover furnished the bat power for the Pill Rollers with two booming home runs.

It was the third straight win for the Pill Rollers in second half play.

The Pill Rollers pushed across three runs in each of the second and third innings and then put the game on ice with four in the fourth.

The lone Elmer's run came in the second on a double by catcher Broadbent.

Hoffman choked off an eight-run Sportsman's Store rally in the fifth inning to take the Eastern Little League title.

The eight-run Sportsman's rally came on only three hits and narrowed the final difference to two runs, Hoffman winning by 11-9.

Hoffman took command in the first inning on a homerun by Don Owens and the Oilers were never headed. Hoffman scored three in the first and four in the second to go ahead 7-0 and then held off the never-say-die Sportsman nine.

The Hoffman victory kept alive the Oiler hopes for the second half crown.

Utility Oil, leading by only 6-5, after four innings, pulled a 9-5 victory from winless You! Laundry in the final two innings to win by a decisive 15-7 margin.

Lubbock Captures Lid-Lifter, 10-2

BY BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

Tom Pollet will take the mound tonight in attempt to square the series for the Pampa Oilers with the Lubbock Hubbers at Oiler Park, the Hubs having won the series opener last night, 10-2.

Pollet will be gunning for his 10th win of the season. He has lost two. The lean righthander will be opposed by John Dickson, who sports a 4-6 record. Dickson is also a righthander.

Pollet although he has appeared in 19 games this season, will be facing Lubbock for the first time tonight.

Dickson will be appearing against the Oilers for the third time in tonight's tilt. Dickson's record against the Oilers is 1-1. He was the winner in a 14-2 Oiler win May 1 at Lubbock and then was the loser in a 13-2 Oiler win June 5, also at Lubbock.

Dickson was used in relief in his other time to face the Oilers, May 23, which was won by the Oilers but he wasn't charged with the defeat.

Tonight's game, which will be "Pennant Club night" at Oiler Park, will begin at 8:15.

The Oilers despite a 13-hit attack off Bob Galey last night, couldn't get the hits when they needed them most and thus went down to the up-and-coming Hubs.

Three double plays helped Galey out of potential Oiler rallies. Last night's game marked the debut of second baseman Bob Scott as the Hub manager. Scott, who has been with the club all year, was hired as the Hub pitcher Tuesday morning, succeeding Mike Curran who was given his walking papers.

The new assignment appeared to satisfy young Scott who broke loose with a rash of base hits.

Red Sox Win A Couple For Agganis; Bums Nip Giants

By UNITED PRESS

The name of Harry Agganis never again will appear in a box score but the quiet determination of his bereaved Boston Red Sox team mates, tells a story without words—they're winning 'em now.

The Red Sox wore their black arm bands of mourning in silence and they played without the usual wise-cracks and razzing Tuesday night but they won two games, 4-0 and 8-2 over the Senators, the first on a three-hit shutout by Frank Sullivan, the second with an explosive eight-run rally in the ninth.

Sullivan, who now has won six games in a row, turned in his second straight shutout and Jack Jensen contributed three runs batted in on a homer and a sacrifice fly in the opener. Throneberry also hit a homer.

Agganis would have been proud of them.

Lightning played around the country Monday night and caused the middle of night to look almost as day. Two persons were struck and fatally injured by the massive array of fireworks. (News Photo)

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH

A force outside us operates in the spiritual world. The great sages and seers of the past have declared that they have talked with God. The Hebrew prophets assured their generations that they had their messages directly from the Most High. Isaiah saw a vision in the Temple. Ezekiel fell into some kind of an ecstatic state, and Jeremiah was moved to prophesy by the sight of an almond tree in bloom. But each believed he had come into possession of the truth by divine means. There is no sense, however, in which the experiences of the prophets are not peculiar to them. All of us have had great spiritual experiences which could not be explained except by the fact that we have been moved upon by "something" entirely outside our selves. There have been times when we have longed passionately for a holiness and cleanness of life beyond anything we have ever known. Suddenly we become aware of the difference between what we are and what we ought to be, and we are overcome with remorse. Then we find ourselves reaching out in an endeavor to lay hold upon a purity that is beyond our grasp. It may all have taken its rise in a simple thing like singing an old hymn, looking at a beautiful picture, or visiting some sacred scene. Nothing can explain the longing itself, however, except that it has come in upon us from the outside. It broke in from the nowhere and wrapped our spirits in a wistfulness that was almost painful. "Something got hold of me" is probably the way we described the experience and that "something" is about as near as we ever get to an explanation of the experience. But it came from the outside. For these moments of illumination with which I have been blessed, I am grateful to thee, O thou living God. Without the blazing truths that come to me from thee, I would be like the ox in the field or the pig in its pen. Thou hast lifted me and made me a man! Amen. Try to recall the sense of strength and satisfaction that came to you after you did something that cost courage and fortitude. Is it not worth repeating? Would you not be willing to be courageous again? Is there no chance in your life? Citizen At 90 Haverhill, Mass.—UP—Mrs. Maria Simone was admitted to citizenship in superior court in nearby Lawrence. The Haverhill woman said she became a citizen because "I love this country." Not so unusual? Mrs. Simone is 90.

PLYMOUTH DESIGNS WITH YOU IN MIND!

to put extra value in the low Plymouth price!

This message is for people who think all low-price cars are "pretty much alike." Of course, all cars have horns and wheels and headlights, but there's a lot of difference in the features of a car that add up to v-a-l-u-e. Here are just a few of Plymouth's features that will add to your comfort and your convenience. In the low-price 3, you'll find them only in Plymouth. Drive a new Plymouth today; see how much more its "personalized design" gives you!

 Cornerposts of Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield are swept back, top and bottom (not bottom only), for better, safer vision.	 Plymouth's Oilite fuel filter is located back in the fuel tank (not on the engine) to protect the entire fuel system and engine from dirt and water.
 The PowerLite Range Selector is mounted on the dash, near the ignition key—the logical place for easiest use. You can change speed by touch alone!	 For more direct pillowing action, Plymouth mounts the longer-stroke front Oriflow shock absorbers inside the big front coil springs.
 If you ever have a blowout, your Plymouth has Safety-Rim wheels which help hold a deflated tire on the rim while you slow to a safe stop.	 Plymouth's brilliant Forward Look styling gives you better forward visibility by letting you see more of the road directly ahead of the car.

Plymouth places two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel (other low-price cars use only one) for smoother stops, greater reliability.

17 FEET LONG

Plymouth is the BIGGEST, LONGEST, ROOMIEST car of the low-price 3. In fact, you can pay as much as $500 more for a medium-price car that's smaller than Plymouth!
