Churchill Bows Out

LONDON — UP — Sir Winston Churchill, who fought and defeated every enemy save the unyielding toll of time, presented his resignation as prime minister of Great Britain to the queen Tuesday.

His successor as prime minister will be Sir Anthony Eden.

The venerable statesman drove alone from his official residence at No. 10 Downing Street to the palace in the sunshine of a bright spring day. Cheering thousands applauded him in the streets.

He arrived at the palace at 4:29 p. m. (10:29 a. m. est.) and left at 5:11 p. m. (11:11 a. m. est.).

Then he went for a walk in Downing Street and stood for a time, old and mute, his fingers raised in the "V" for victory sign and tears standing bright in his eyes, while from Buckingham Palace the announcement came officially that he had quit.

The palace announcement said: "The right honorable Sir Winston Churchill had an audience of the queen this evening and tendered his resignation as prime minister and first lord of the treasury which her majesty was graciously prepared to accept."

Lifetime of Achievement
For Churchill it was the winter of a lifetime of achievement seldom matched, and exceeded by few.

But time and age came together at 4:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. est.) on this warm and tranquil day in spring to bring his stewardship to an end.

He quit quietly and with sadness at the end of a final 24 hours as prime minister that were filled with deep emotion and rich affection.

Monday night he played host to the sovereign at a farewell formal dinner party and received the rare tribute of a personal toast from the queen.

Tuesday morning, he cancelled a scheduled appearance before his beloved House of Commons, and his ministers answered questions in his stead.

Afraid to Trust Emotions
The great statesman, whose sonorous words and unflinching will had carried this nation to new heights of greatness, was afraid to trust his emotions in a farewell speech to parliament.

But he called in the men who made up his government for a 45-minute farewell session with his cabinet at the prime minister's official residence at No. 10 Downing Street.

What went on there was a secret, save that Churchill and his ministers posed for a final photograph that would preserve the memory of their association.

Then, with the last war he fought seeming as far away as distant drums, Churchill drove through parks once pitted by gun emplacements and returned to Queen Elizabeth II the charge he had last accepted from her father, King George VI, three and a half years ago.

Sentries snapped to a salute as his car drove through the iron gates of Buckingham Palace. Churchill stepped out and entered.

Simple Procedure
The procedure of resignation was as simple as it was far-reaching for the British commonwealth of nations: A request to the queen to let him and his ministers quit, and a recommendation that she summon Eden to succeed him.

The request and the recommendation are the queen's command, and Eden at 57 falls heir to the post for which he has trained so long.

Churchill, who battled and defeated every enemy save the relentless passage of time, presented his resignation to Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace.

WHERE TWISTER HIT - The little town of Stamford, located on the northern line of Jones County, was hit by a tornado today causing damage estimated at around $200,000, but no deaths were reported.

Blizzard Hangs On, At Least Six Dead

By UNITED PRESS

A phenomenal, record-busting April blizzard swirled over Wyoming and Montana for the third straight day Tuesday.

At least six persons were dead, seven were missing in the snow wilderness, and scores of motorists were marooned by drifts which sometimes covered their cars. Many towns were isolated.

It was the worst blizzard in history for the area, outdistancing the great storms of 1887 and 1949. The U. S. Weather Bureau, which rarely uses such phrases, called it "phenomenal."

The young spring, which has been showing its teeth ever since its start last month, meanwhile stirred up trouble in other parts of the nation.

Forest Fire in Carolina
In North Carolina the worst forest fire in state history swept towards Fairfield. Coast Guardsmen, troops and marines were called out to help fight it.

The irrefragable fire has charred 250,000 acres of timber. An observer said it "is spreading through the tops of the trees and traveling like a cyclone."

In the Midwest a tornado swooped down on two farms near Midburn, Iowa, destroying six buildings and sending a farm family scurrying to shelter in a cave. Hail stones three to six inches deep followed the twister.

Another storm dumped four inches of snow on Duluth, Minn., and in the Southwest farmers hoped that two days of high winds and land-tearing dust storms were over.

But none of these disturbances could compare to the freak cyclonic mass which rotated over a vast area of the northern Great Plains with its crippling blizzard.

Snow Mounts Steadily
The massive snows mounted steadily late Monday and were whipped into 14-foot drifts by 70-mile-per-hour winds.

Sheridan, Wyo., the focus of the storm, had 38 inches of snow. Residents literally dug their way out of their homes Tuesday and emergency Red Cross headquarters were set up down town after the hospital was temporarily isolated.

The storm covered a circular area that covered parts of Wyoming, Montana, Utah, South Dakota and Nebraska. Snow depths early Tuesday included 35 inches at Havre, Mont., and 27 inches at Lusk.

Lusk was isolated by the storm early Tuesday and officials said there was no indication when traffic began moving over the roads and highways that feed into the town. Snow drifted as high as the eaves of houses in the center of the town.

Forty-seven persons were rescued from the fury of the storm near Lusk, Wyo., Monday night by a school bus pulled by two tractors.

The rescued including several children, were taken from automobiles isolated on a three-mile stretch of highway outside the tiny Wyoming city. The rescue crew required 12 hours to travel over the three miles of highway and bring the car's occupants to safety at Lusk.

Several oil workers were reported stranded near their oil rigs in northeastern Wyoming. But the reports said they had shelter and supplies.

Seven representatives of bidding firms were on hand at 10 a. m. today when City Secy. Ed Vicars began reading the bids. The commission met in the basement of City Hall, on the site of the old public library, as the city commission room upstairs was being used by Ward 1 voters.

Near noon today the three low apparent bids were being tabulated by Vicars, preparatory to the city commission making a final decision on the awarding of the contract. Once awarded, the bid for the bond issue must be okayed by the office of Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd in Austin, City Mgr. Fred Brook said.

Mature in 1945
Other apparent low bidders, in order, were Muir Investment Co., San Antonio (1.92727 per cent, $21,300); First National Bank, Dallas (1.9704545 per cent, $21,675); and Citizens Bank and Trust Co., Pampa, (1.99545 per cent, $21,950). All bids were for 10 years, making 1955 the maturity date.

Commissioners planned, once the bond issue contract was let, to make a final decision on the bids for two water wells, pumps, aligned equipment and a ditching machine. Lowest apparent bidders were H. H. Heiskell, Pampa, on the wells, pumps and equipment and Conley, Lott and Nichols, Lubbock, on the ditcher.

In earlier action this morning the commission heard a request from the Negro section of the city, annexed another part of property for the Jarvis-Sone Addition, okayed the advertising of bids for more cement for paving and agreed to fulfill its obligation to (See B2D5, Page 3)

Twister Cuts Two Mile Path, But Only Two Hurt

By UNITED PRESS

A tornado blasted a two-mile path through the southwestern part of the West Texas city of Stamford and the country around it Tuesday and Fire Chief Dick Rowland estimated damage at $1 million.

At least two persons were injured. Hundreds of homes were damaged. Many roofs sailed off. Haulstones bruised cattle. Big signs were ripped down. The rodeo grandstand was unroofed.

The Stamford Compress was heavily damaged. So was the Market Poultry and Egg Co., in the old Wichita Valley and Katy Railroad roundhouse. Electric power poles were blown across the highways.

Rowland's estimate of $1 million damage was based on crops, homes and business places. Nearly an inch of rain and hail heavily damaged grain and other crops.

Rain Hits Dozen Places
Thunderstorms and rain hit a dozen places and were indirectly responsible for at least one death. Mrs. Louisa Pitcock, about 60, of Graham, was killed when a car overturned near Decatur on a rain-slick road. Five other prominent Graham women were hurt.

State police said three persons were hurt at Stamford. They said the three were a woman and two small children, hospitalized for shock and minor injuries.

But the Stamford hospital reported that it had received only two injured persons. They were Mrs. C. W. Lathan, whose finger was cut off by glass, and C. M. Mays, 82, who was blown out of his home.

Mays suffered lacerations on his scalp, but his condition was not serious. A house was blown against the home of the A. D. Green family whose five children were down with measles.

None of the Greens was hurt, but they were all removed to the hospital.

C. F. Uphaw, an insurance man estimated damage at $100,000 to $200,000. Nearly an inch of rain fell, then hail, the size of marbles, came rattling down until the ground was white.

"There was a terrific roar," one witness said. "It blew down lots of tree limbs and broke a lot of windows."

Described as Tornado
The state highway patrol called it a tornado and said the southwestern part of town was the hardest hit. Stamford, of 5,900 population, is 37 miles northwest of Abilene.

Heavy thunderstorms also were reported at Jacksonville, Bowie and Graham. The weather bureau in Dallas issued a "severe weather" warning its second in two days for a big sector of the northern half of Texas.

The weather bureau predicted "scattered severe thunderstorms" through the afternoon along and 50 miles on either side of a line from 50 miles southwest of Abilene to 50 miles south of Fort Smith, Ark.

At Stamford, the tornado struck about 6 a. m. The Stamford compress, in the extreme southwestern part of town, appeared to have suffered the heaviest damage. No structure was completely destroyed.

Windows Cave in
But plate glass windows caved in under the impact of the wind. Roofs sailed off and the Walker grain elevator was turned over sideways. Some damage was reported at the municipal airport, three miles east of town.

The blow left the streets of Stamford littered with debris. Power lines were damaged, but nearly all were restored two hours after the storm struck.

Monday, weather forecasters predicted thunderstorms and possibly a tornado from Waco, Tex., to McAlester, Okla., and from Tyler, Tex., to Texarkana. Though there were some locally heavy rains in the area, no big thunderstorms or tornadoes were reported.

If it comes from a Hardware Store, we have it. Lewis Hude.

13 Bids For City Bonds

Thirteen bonding firms, or groups of two or more concerns, submitted bids today to the Pampa City Commission on the selling of the city's $200,000 water improvement bond issue.

Lowest apparent bid was that of the First National Bank, Pampa, and the First Southwest Co., Dallas, with an average interest rate of 1.9255 per cent and a net interest cost (less $4,000 cash premium) of $21,180.50. Highest apparent bidder was Republic National Bank, Dallas, with a bid of 2.2407 per cent and $24,648 net interest cost.

City officials commented that the entire slate of bids was considerably lower than expected. The betting around City Hall had been the average bid would be about 2 1/2 per cent.

Seven representatives of bidding firms were on hand at 10 a. m. today when City Secy. Ed Vicars began reading the bids. The commission met in the basement of City Hall, on the site of the old public library, as the city commission room upstairs was being used by Ward 1 voters.

Cabot Buys Out Tulsa Mfg. Corp.

The Franks Manufacturing Corporation of Tulsa, pioneer and largest manufacturer of portable drilling and well servicing equipment, was purchased today by the Cabot Shops, Inc., of Pampa, it was announced this morning.

White Carl White, Jr., president of Franks, and R. A. Baker, vice-president and general manager of the Franks organization in the development of portable well servicing units, drilling rigs and tele-scopeing derricks is well known in the oil industry, said Baker. "Its contribution to revolutionary developments in drilling and service equipment design is unequalled by any other company."

Association with Cabot Shops, a well established manufacturer of oil field pumping units and surface equipment, is expected to improve on the already favorable performance in behalf of the customers of both companies.

White disposed of his entire holdings, representing the bulk of the stock outstanding.

It was expected that the other members of the present executive engineering and sales groups will remain with the company as well as all plant, field and office personnel.

"The record of achievement of the Franks organization in the development of portable well servicing units, drilling rigs and tele-scopeing derricks is well known in the oil industry," said Baker. 82 Pampans Vote By 11:20

A grand total of 82 Pampans had voted by 11:20 a. m. today in the city election for mayor and four city commissioners.

By that time, the polls had been open for three hours and 20 minutes. The polls close at 7 p. m. today.

Ward 1 sported the most voters — 33. That ward was followed in order, by Ward 3, with 22 voters; Ward 4, with 15; and Ward 2, with 12.

There are no contests in Wards 1 and 2. Incumbent Commissioner Gene Fatherson and Frank Dial are unopposed. In Ward 3, W. B. Noel, incumbent, is opposed by Don Buckner. And in Ward 4, incumbent W. D. Varmon has Earl Lane and E. C. Schaffer for opponents. Lynn Boyd is also unopposed for mayor.

There was no doubt about it — 82 was a light vote by noon. As one election official put it, laughingly, "We sure are overworked."

Bridge Dedication Program Arranged

The Honorable E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the Texas State Highway Commission, is scheduled to give the dedicatory address about 1:30 p. m. April 29 at the dedication of the Canadian River Bridge. The tentative program was released by the Chamber of Commerce on Monday.

The general steering committee for the bridge dedication met at the bridge site at noon today to make final plans, map out final details, and take a final look at the dedication site, according to Fred Thompson, committee chairman.

The dedication ceremony gets underway at 1 p. m., according to the tentative program, with band music by the Amarillo Air Force Band. Thompson will call the meeting to order and following the playing of the National Anthem, the invocation will be given by Rev. Keith McCormick, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Perryton.

Max Boyer of Perryton will recognize attending guests. Short greetings will be delivered by county judges, Bruce Parker, Gray, Ed Haynes, Roberts, and Howard Slaughter, Ochiltree.

Recognition of State Highway officials will be made by Marshall Formby, State Highway Commissioner. Frank Culbertson of Pampa, will introduce Thornton, the principal speaker.

A noon barbecue will be served. Music at the luncheon will be provided by the Pampa Junior High School Band with Orland Butler conducting.

The order of the seven ribbon cuttings is as follows: Mrs. Sherman White, Pampa; W. B. LaMaster, Perryton; Woods King, Roberts County; Gen. Robert Lee Bobbitt, San Antonio; Herbert C. Petrie, Forney; and Thornton, members of the State Highway Commission.

At the close of the ribbon cutting, platform guests will take their places in the cars provided for a procession across the bridge.

Controversy Over MacArthur's Views On Russian Aid Flares

WASHINGTON — UP — The controversy over what Gen. Douglas MacArthur thought about Russian help against Japan during World War II widened Tuesday.

It probably won't be settled by the now-planned publication of official documents bearing on MacArthur's views about Russian intervention in the war 10 years ago. Defense Department security officers are reviewing the stack of papers now and may have them ready for publication in the next few days.

The controversy was fanned Monday when an Army historian asserted flatly that MacArthur at the time of the February, 1945, Yalta conference was "thoroughly in favor" of Soviet entry into the war against Japan.

"Willing to Make Concessions"
Louis Morton, chief of the Pacific section of the Army's Office of Military History, wrote in the Reporter magazine that MacArthur was "perfectly willing" to make concessions to gain Russian participation.

The historian's claims were at odds with MacArthur's assertions that if anyone had asked him at the time of Yalta he would have opposed Russian entry "at that late date."

MacArthur said Sunday night that President Roosevelt and other heads of state got their military information at Yalta from their chiefs of staff who "acted solely upon their own responsibility." He said his views were never asked and he learned of concessions to Russia months later.

Supported by Commanders
Morton contended the desire of the American chiefs of staff for Russian help was "supported by theater commanders." He said MacArthur "stated emphatically at the time of Yalta to more than one visitor that American forces should not invade Japan until three months after the Red army had attacked in Manchuria" where Japan had a huge army.

Otherwise, Morton wrote, the Japanese could move large numbers of troops from the continent to their home islands and take a high toll in American casualties in the then-expected invasion of Japan.

The view that Soviet forces should pin down Japan's Kwantung army on the Asiatic mainland has been attributed to MacArthur in several books.

Robert E. Sherwood said in "Roosevelt and Hopkins," published by Harper & Brothers in 1948, that at Yalta Mr. Roosevelt's prime concern in all Far Eastern discussions was American war plans against Japan. He said, "MacArthur's calculations were based on the assumption that the Russians would contain the great bulk of Japanese forces on the Asiatic mainland" during the invasion of Japan.

Sherwood had visited MacArthur shortly after the Yalta conference.

DR. SALK AND PATIENT: "Time will take care of the rest."

Doctor Salk's Polio Fight

By WARD CANNON, NEA Staff Correspondent
PITTSBURGH—(NEA)—Behind the desperate and ponderous race to wipe out paralytic polio stands the man who has given most of his professional career and his name to what may be an effective vaccine—Dr. Jonas E. Salk.

It has not been an easy job. It has not been the most satisfying. It has not made a fortune for anybody. But it has led Dr. Salk to conclude: "There is more in life than money."

His career proves it.

In 1921, when he was 17 years old, Jonas Salk entered the College of the City of New York. He hadn't a single course in science in high school. He didn't know anything about it.

Out of curiosity he enrolled in several introductory science courses. That sealed his future. By the time he was graduated he had abandoned his old ambitions of a career in law.

He went to New York University's medical school. He was a small fellow, with dark hair and a high forehead and a hungry look behind his eyes. He told them he wanted to become a doctor. And after that he wanted to go into research.

They said he was foolish. They said there were had to make money. They said research took a lifetime and left no time for family or rest.

By the time he was a senior medical student, he had found himself. Or rather, Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., had found him working late into the night in the laboratory.

What was so interesting to the young man? Dr. Francis said: "The answer was simple: Dr. Jonas E. Salk was learning about viruses."

He was graduated from New York University and went into internship at Mt. Sinai Hospital. He was a practicing doctor.

Within four years he was writing to Dr. Francis who had gone to the University of Michigan. Was there a place there for his former student? He didn't need much money. He and his wife could live simply. But the laboratory—this was the important thing.

Dr. Francis called him, told him that he had a March of Dimes grant from the National Founda-

More Bridge Work Slated

A meeting and some more construction work on the Panama River Bridge, between Panama and Pangua, are planned this week. The general steering committee for the April 26 dedication of the bridge will meet at noon tomorrow at the bridge site and get a preview of the ceremony—the members will not barbecue just as they will April 26, according to Fred Thompson, one of two Gray Councilmen on the committee.

Last night plans will be discussed at the meeting, Thompson said.

Highway engineers today reported that Cooper and Washburn, America's, would begin the "heavy" operation on the bridge. However, they can not begin on the "light" until April 18, by Panama Highway Department regulations.

The engineers were certain, though, that everything would be ready in time for the dedication.

"He didn't leave any name! Just phoned to ask your condition—said he needed the information for an office pool!"

AUSTIN, April 4—UP—A Waco truck driver will be the honor guest at a banquet here Tuesday night when he receives an award for safe and courteous driving.

The driver is H. E. Box. He was selected from among 85 truck drivers by the Hobbs Manufacturing Co., of Fort Worth, which makes the award, and the Texas Safety Association.

In addition to the award, the cab of his truck will be air-conditioned by Hobbs.

About 300 persons are expected to attend the banquet. Gov. Allan Shivers will make the principal talk.

Seven Called In Probe Of Land Deals

AUSTIN—UP—Seven witnesses summoned to appear Monday before the Senate investigating committee included two Dallas attorneys because "they are familiar" with block operations of the Veterans Land Board.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton said he asked that Dallas lawyers Ross Bohannon and Dan Gibbs be called because he was advised they could shed some light on the overall operation.

The Senate group has been investigating veterans land scandals for some time. Phillips said he understood Bohannon and Gibbs were familiar with Veterans Land Board block operations.

Other witnesses called are Alvin Vandyriff, an Austin attorney and former executive secretary of the Veterans Land Board; Neil Allen of Austin, a real estate dealer; Jacke Sucke of Austin, who was mentioned in previous public testimony before the committee; Ralph Siocum of San Antonio, previously called as a witness in connection with a Robertson county block deal, and Stanley L. Fry of Corpus Christi.

Senate Okays Pay Increase For Jobless

AUSTIN—UP—The Senate Monday approved and sent to the House legislation boosting the maximum unemployment compensation benefits from $20 to $25 weekly, and nailing down provisions banning benefits to any person on strike.

The measure, passed on voice vote, was sponsored by Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin.

In addition to other changes, the bill modifies law to prohibit payment of unemployment benefits to seasonal workers.

The present law prohibits payment of benefits to persons on strike.

However, in a recent test case now in the courts, the employment commission held that because there was no complete "work stoppage" at the plant, strikers were entitled to unemployment compensation.

The commission later reversed its stand, and the case is now under legal contest.

Lock said his proposal spells out the requirement that if a job is waiting "and the only reason you won't come back is because you don't want to cross a picket line, then there are no unemployment benefits."

"The principle," he said, "is that an employer should not be compelled to finance a strike against himself."

Graham Hits H-Bomb Terror

EDINBURGH, Scotland—UP—Billy Graham told British servicemen Monday that unless human nature changes, hydrogen bomb warfare will terrorize the world.

The American evangelist, still suffering from a throat infection, addressed a rally of soldiers, sailors and airmen at Edinburgh's Redford Barracks. He said the present era is the most crucial in the history of the human race.

"Unless we get enough people in the world whose natures are changed and transformed," he said, "we can all look forward to all the terrors that a hydrogen war can bring."

Graham said "we are living in a period of world history that is the most critical and crucial for the human race."

Political and military leaders seeking a solution to world problems must consider the critical problem of the hydrogen bomb, he said.

Graham's throat infection is not likely to keep him from fulfilling a Glasgow appearance in connection with his "Tell Scotland" crusade, now in its third week.

Two Israeli soldiers were reported killed and 19 wounded in latest flareup of Near East fighting. The Israeli Army said Egyptian guns and mortars opened fire on a patrol but were silenced after a battle. The Egyptians were also accused of firing mortar shells at the settlement of Nahal Oz, about 2 1/2 miles from Gaza on the Beersheba road, and just across the border from Egyptian-held Gaza strip. James Hart, Chapter Chairman, presided at the meeting which was opened with an invocation given by Rev. Dick Crews of the First Christian Church. Libby Showell, Executive Secretary of the Chapter, presided at the program which consisted of recognition of the Chapter's Gray Ladies. Twenty-five Gray Ladies introduced themselves and were given awards for outstanding service during the year. Dr. Carl Lang spoke for the local hospitals, thanking the Gray Ladies for their service to families of those ill during the year. Brice Brooks and two others began the Negro part of town requested the commission for some help in renovating a building for use as a recreation center. Mayor Tom Ross explained that both the Pampa school board and the Gray County Commissioners Court are tied up in the proposed site and that something would have to be worked out. There is enough money in city funds for a wading pool, Mayor Ross said.

More Land Annexed

An additional 40 acres of land adjacent to the Jarvis-Sone addition was annexed to the city on three emergency readings by Vice-Mayor. The land in question is bounded by 18th Street on the north, 22nd Street on the south, Sumner on the east and the alley west of Wilson on the west. The Pampa Planning Commission will meet at 5 p.m. Monday to consider the annexation of the new Overton Heights addition and at that time is expected to set a public hearing date on the new Jarvis-Sone property.

L. S. Sone, for whom the addition is named, was present today and said that the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration insisted he get an annexation of the city commission that would sewer and street systems would be dedicated. The commission did so. However, the commission turned down Sone's request for partial paving in the addition—that has been city policy for some time.

The city will need 5,000 barrels (or 20 carloads) of cement for its paving program. City Director of Public Works James Owan told the commission today. That will mean more of Pampa on into next year, he said. The commission set April 26 as the bid-opening date. Commissioners also approved the annexation to the CRMWA of an amount of money equal to 25 cents per water meter inside the city limits. There are an estimated 6,000 water meters so included. That would provide a total of $1 per meter to the authority. The city has already seen along 75 cents. Other activity included the turning down of a proposal by insurance men for more insurance on the Overton Memorial Library. The building is now insured for $170,000 and the tenants for $25,000.

Fort Sill May Double In Size

WASHINGTON — UP — Plans are being studied to approximately double the size of the Fort Sill, Okla., military reservation, informed sources said here Tuesday. Fort Sill, the nation's artillery center, now takes in about 76,000 acres in southwest Oklahoma. It is used for firing the Army's biggest weapons and is the training ground for crews using the giant atomic cannon. Washington sources said late Monday tentative plans call for transfer of all or part of the 59,000-acre Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge, adjoining the post, from the Interior Department to the Army. It was not known what effect such a plan would have on the annual Easter Pageant held in the area.

The scenic refuge, famed for its buffalo, draws an estimated 750,000 tourists annually and has served as background scenery in several motion pictures. The Army and Interior departments would not confirm the reports of an impending transfer. Army officers at Fort Sill had "no comment" on any of a long list of questions asked by reporters from Lawton.

Rogers Says Quemoy, Matsu Not Worth American Blood

Quemoy and Matsu Islands, off the shores of Red China, "are not worth the blood of one American boy."

Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, writing his weekly newsletter to the 18th Congressional District, says he does not believe the United States "is going to be drawn into any sizable conflict over Quemoy and Matsu. If we ever go to war with Red China, and God forbid that circumstance ever require it, it will be for reasons of much greater weight than two islands off the Asiatic coast."

"The grain sorghum group made a deep and lasting impression on the people in Washington," the congressman writes. "By this I mean that they have talked about the general economy of all, and have not appeared to be a group interested only in some problem that concerns them personally. Among visitors in Rogers' office was Horace Smith, Miami, 'the new oil man.'"

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—The laugh parade: A movie queen with an unemployed husband read about Columbia's new movie, "The Queen Bee," and telephoned her agent.

"BLACK TUESDAY," the Edward G. Robinson starrer, has been banned in England.

At long last tourists in Hollywood will be able to see how movies are made. A demonstration set with a working cast and crew will be featured at the permanent $1,000,000 Motion Picture Exposition, now being planned for Movietown.

It took TV's competition and Walt Disney's big Disneyland, opening to the public this summer, to convince Hollywood it needed some kind of attraction to retain its magic town reputation.

Young Acting Find Claims He's Not Imitating Brando

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD—UP—James Dean, the hottest acting find of the year, served notice he's not a movie "star" and he doesn't imitate Marlon Brando.

Those tags were pinned on the 24-year-old Dean after his first starring role in "East of Eden" caused a full-scale sensation in filmville.

With the tears just dried on this year's Oscars, Hollywoodites already predict an academy nomination next year for young Dean. He's called the first exciting actor since Brando, and a follower of the Brando "throw away your dialogue and scratch your nose" school.

"I'm not a star in the commercial sense," Dean insisted. "I don't think people should be subservient to movie idols. This 'God' business!"

"And I do not idolize Marlon Brando, Brando!" he snorted. "If I imitate him subconsciously, I don't know about it. If I do it consciously, I'd be a fool to admit it."

But some observers think Dean took over where Brando left off after he gave up T-shirts for tuxedos. Dean is from a farm near Fairmont, Ind. He attended high school and UCLA here and drifted into acting with bit parts in "Fixed Bayonets" and "Sailor Beware."

"I did a little TV," he said. "I also studied with James Whitmore and he's responsible for whatever the hell I do."

Later Dean became a top TV actor in New York and a stage success in "See the Jaguar" and "The Immoralist." Director Ellis Kazan, who has led Brando through stage and screen successes, tapped Dean for "East of Eden."

In Hollywood Dean is becoming the town's most colorful character. He rented a house in the Hollywood hills so he could ride his motorcycle up a cliff in his backyard.

One night he drove the motorcycle to Ciro's nightclub. He wore a leather jacket and a dark shirt and made faces when the fan magazine photographers rushed over.

"Brando drove a motorcycle for effect. I drive one because I know how," he said.

Dean also goes in for bluejeans and T-shirts and often dates Vampira, a glamour ghoul on local television. He whips around town in a white sports car, a German Porsche. In fact, this interview took place while he wheeled around corners at 50 mph. . .

A-Test Injury Talk Branded 'Irresponsible'

WASHINGTON—UP—Chairman Lewis J. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission branded as "irresponsible" Sunday talk that there has been human injury from radio-active fallout in the Nevada atomic tests.

The nation's top experts on the effects of radiation agree, Strauss said, that the Nevada tests have been conducted "well within any danger" zone. He said any fallout would have had no more effect on an individual than an ordinary chest X-ray.

The Defense Department reported Friday that four persons suffered eye injuries during tests in 1952 and 1953.

Strauss said if there were any eye injuries they didn't occur from radio-active fallout and may have been the fault of the observers. He said all military personnel were told not to look at the atomic fireball without proper glasses.

Exam Electricity—UP—University of Minnesota students aren't any different from other students when it comes to "burning the midnight oil" at final examination times. Engineers reported the lighting bill increases 15 to 20 per cent during final exams.

Meditations for Lent

By DR. J. CARTER SWAIM
Written for NEA Service

For our Lord, one of the great events of Holy Week was the message from a company of outsiders, relayed through Philip: "Sir, we wish to see Jesus" (John 12:21, RSV). These words, often inscribed now on pulpits, were first uttered by Greek-speaking inquirers. Consider what an encouragement it must have been to Jesus that they came when they did! It was Tuesday, four days before the end.

Everybody else had begun to desert: the multitudes who had hoped for an easy living, the fanatical nationalists who had thought Jesus might lead a war for independence, the fair-weather friends who did not relish the thought of a cross. How wonderful that, just at that time, the Greeks came, harbingers of that "great multitude which no man could number from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and tongues" (Revelation 7:9, RSV)!

The difference between one friend and no friend is infinite. Carlyle was once tempted to give up trying to make writing a career. "No periodical editor wants me money for my work." The critics said his harrow was "clogged nonsense." At this critical juncture, he received a letter from a nameless Irishman, praising his work. "One mortal, then, says I am not entirely wrong; blessings on him for it." One understanding voice gave him the strength to go on. Are there persons known to us, passing through trials and loneliness? Would encouragement from us mean the difference between victory and defeat?

Construction Increases
DALLAS—UP—More than $20 million worth of construction awards were recorded during the first quarter of 1955 in Texas during the corresponding period last year, the magazine Texas Contractor reports. Awards for 1955 so far total $228,374,985.

NEW DESIGNS, NEW COLORS, new leathers will give windows of children's shoe shops the festive air of a greenhouse or florist's this Easter. The revolution in children's shoes over the past few years has been dictated by the youngsters themselves. Boys and girls from the age of five up insist on shoes with style and fashion interest — the laced oxford is still with us, but seems to be fighting a rough battle, especially in spring and warm weather shoes.

HERE IS A BRIEF RUNDOWN on what you can expect to find in your favorite shoe shop this spring when you go buying those Easter shoes:

Little girls' leather pumps are available in almost every color you can think of, in smooth and suede leathers, and some reptiles, too. Throbbing variations on the pumps include the peaked, deep-V, squared, pinked and scalloped. You will find these in both single and double-strap shoes. For the girl who is a little older there are even T-strap versions, just like mother's.

Pastels head the leather color picture, with pink as the leader — both in all-pink shoes trimmed with spots and strips of pink here and there. Black and blue suede dress shoes have pink touches in the form of kid bows, pearl trim, nailheads and underlays and overlays of smooth leather.

Multi-color or ombre shoes will also be featured in stripping sandals for play and in several closed shell pump styles for dress. And, of course, white — by itself or with pastel trim, will be the No. 1 leather color for dress-up shoes for summer.

BOYS ARE TAKING OVER Daddy's current favorite: the two-eye-let leather shoe in moccasin, wing-tip and plain-toed blucher styles. The two-eyelet style is particularly popular with the boys because it makes getting in and out of the shoes so much easier.

Which also explains the popularity of the gored shoe — those are the shoes that have no laces at all, but are elasticated at the sides of the vamp to keep the shoe from slipping off. The black-leather tassel moccasin is a third member of the easy-in easy-out category.

Color and texture are hitting the boys' shoe market this spring and summer. Stores now have casual shoes for boys in leathers ranging from very-light tans — almost beige colored — to greens and heliotrope... although the latter colors are used mainly for trim.

Soft glove leathers and shag-buck leathers (which have a suede finish) are found in shoes of soft-flexible construction — a far cry from the rigid shoe of yesterday. Development in the past year or so of leathers which are rugged and wear-resistant, but still soft and very supple, is responsible for this trend.

FOR OLDER SISTER and her teen-age friends, little tailored leather flats in every color under the sun are the "greatest." With Bermuda shorts and skirts and knit skirts, teen-agers want the little-tailored, rather than the feminine shoe.

Soft-grained leathers are used in many of the new flats, with leading designers stressing the pastel and shock colors. Woven leathers are now in the higher-priced flats and embossed leathers that give a realistic woven effect are widely used in medium and low-cost shoes.

Multi-color leather sandals are back in favor this spring for party and dress-up wear. Pink, blue and yellow are the favorite colors, with pink perhaps having a slight edge. Also white single-strap pumps with pastel trim to match the many pastel cottons being worn. Bright leathers like red, green and royal blue will be found in solid-color sandals.

SIR ANTHONY EDEN AT 57 — From his silvery hair to the tips of his highly-polished shoes, he radiates six feet of charm.

How Will Eden Do As Prime Minister

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Special Correspondent
LONDON — (NEA) — Britons are wondering what sort of prime minister Sir Anthony Eden will make. Will Churchill's cigar continue to cast a long shadow over British politics? Has Eden lived in the shadow of other men too long to have a substance of his own? Neither of these questions bothers Eden's friends. The Churchill-Eden relationship, they point out, was a collaboration in which Eden willingly took a back seat. What worries Eden's backers is The Legend. He will have to live it down, they say, if he is ever to succeed as prime minister. The Legend has to do with his perennial youth. At 57, Eden was the youngest British foreign secretary in modern times; at 57, he was still foreign secretary. He is spoken of as the Peter Pan of Politics, the Golden Boy who refused to grow up.

Site Of Famed 'Monkey Trial' Unchanged After 30 Years

DAYTON, Tenn. — UP — Thirty years ago this spring a discussion around a drug store table projected an unknown schoolteacher into world prominence and led to one of America's most celebrated court tests—the "Monkey Trial." John T. Scopes, who was teaching Darwin's theory of evolution as part of a science course, became the central figure in a courtroom drama that lured some of the nation's greatest orators and newspaper reporters here. It happened in this little east Tennessee town (pop. 4,000) where the thinking today is as it was in 1925: That the Biblical story of the creation of man is fundamental, not to be challenged by educators or scientists. There's not much interest here in the news that the Scopes trial has been made a plot of play which will open on Broadway this season with Paul Muni in a starring role. The townspeople are busy with plans for the east Tennessee Strawberry Festival May 14. "Big Thing" Planned "It'll be the biggest thing around here, outside of carnivals, in a long time," said Druggist F. E. (Doc) Robinson whose store was the setting of that first conversation in May, 1925. The 24-year-old Scopes was talking with two lawyer friends about a new Tennessee law making it illegal to teach "any theory that denies the story of the Divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower form of animals." Scopes agreed to be a "guinea pig" in a test of the law. He admitted teaching evolution. A Dayton school official, a party to the plan, swore out a warrant against him.

Reason For Coffee Price Jump Cited

WASHINGTON, April 4 — UP — The Federal Trade Commission reported Saturday a "restrictive" contract in use on the New York exchange was a primary cause of the 50-cent a pound increase in coffee prices in 1953-54. In making its report the FTC outlawed the contract in hopes of preventing similar sharp increases in price in the future. Some brands of coffee jumped from 90 cents a pound to $1.41 in the 1953-54 period. The price increase had been blamed at the time on bad weather in Brazil. The outlawed contract, known as the "B" agreement, had been used on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange since 1948. The contract earned its name because it originally specified that futures trading in this country could be conducted only in coffee to be exported from the Brazilian port of Santos. The contract was later modified to allow trading in coffee from three other Brazilian ports but shippers still had to pay penalties when they didn't import from Santos. Saturday's announcement climaxed an 18-month investigation by the FTC into the coffee price situation. "This restrictive arrangement used by the exchange," the commission's statement said, "was a primary cause for the spiraling prices in 1953-54."

Matusow Out Of Jail On $10,000 Bond

EL PASO — UP — Harvey Matusow, while lying on the witness stand got him a three-year prison sentence for criminal contempt of federal court, was let out of jail Monday in $10,000 bond from New York. Joe Calamia, his lawyer, said Stanley Faulkner, a New York attorney, sent the money. He did not specify who furnished the money, but hinted it came from the sale of Matusow's book, in which he disclosed that he had lied as a professional witness. This case is under appeal and he was able to get out of jail on bond until a decision on his appeal. Matusow said he will use the next few days to "prepare my income tax return, including my earnings as a paid witness in 1954." When Matusow walked out of El Paso County jail which he entered on March 18, he reported he had lost 15 pounds. He said he had "no complaints on jail routine" and whiffed away the time reading 32 books. Matusow said he wants to take the first plane to New York and plans to issue a statement before he leaves. He wore the same gray suit he went to jail in as he went from the jail to the U. S. district clerk's office to sign his bond papers. He said his appeal has been filed and his lawyers are trying to hurry a hearing. His bond calls for his appearance whenever he is needed before the Fifth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans.

Counter-balanced against these criticisms...

Counter-balanced against all these criticisms is the feeling among average Britons that it would be indecent to name anyone but Sir Anthony as prime minister. In this conviction they are harking back to the Eden of the 1930's—the Knight in Shining Armor, the youthful St. George who tried to slay the Dragon of Fascism. Almost alone of British politicians, Eden was right about Mussolini. He was right about Hitler. And he did resign from the government rather than be a party to the appeasement of these dictators. In the members' bar of the House of Commons a graying politician recalled those early days. "Eden," he said, "was what every man secretly admires and hopes to be—an idealist. "Unfortunately," he sighed, "downing his glass on the bar, 'ideals' are luxuries that few of us can afford nowadays. The Men in the Kremlin use them against us. The question is, will they twist them against Eden?"

EFFORTS ARE BEING MADE by the Pampa Chamber of Commerce to interest the surrounding towns in the 1955 Pampa Oilers.

In a meeting of the Goodwill and Reception and Sports Committees of the local CC yesterday, it was decided to make goodwill tours to all of the area towns within reasonable driving distance to Pampa.

The tour has been set for April 11. At least four car loads of local businessmen will leave early this morning to visit with businessmen and sports fans of our neighboring communities.

Cities to be visited include Borger, Stinnett, Spearman, Perryton, Miami, Canadian, Wheeler, Lefors, McLean, Groom, Alanreed, White Deer, Panhandle and Skellytown.

The Chamber of Commerce has purchased 10 season ticket books (700 tickets in all) to give away in these various communities to the Oiler home games for the coming season.

The purpose for the goodwill tour is two-fold. First it will build up friendly relations between Pampa and these communities and secondly, it will help to increase interest in professional baseball at these neighboring towns which, of course, should help the attendance at the Oiler home games.

The goodwill tour is a fine gesture on the part of the local CC.

SOME CITIES WILL DO ANYTHING TO GET ON THE MAP. Take the Odessa-Billy Maxwell situation.

Maxwell, you'll note, was the Oakland team options Cain.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 2-UP—Veteran drivers Gene Hartley, Indianapolis, and Duane Carter, Speedway City, Ind., and two rookies were entered Saturday for the 300-mile Indianapolis Speedway May 30.

Rookies Aplenty In Major Loop Camps

TAMPA, Fla., —UP—Almost every one of the 13 major league clubs training in Florida this spring has come up with a prize candidate for rookie of the year honors.

Outstanding are Ken Boyer, the third baseman of the Cardinals whose veteran baseball observers already are calling a "second Pie Troncymer;" J. W. Porter, the hard-hitting outfielder of the Tigers who is just out of service, and pitcher Johnny Kucka of the Yankees, another returning serviceman who has just one year of experience in organized ball.

But far behind them rate three rookie pitchers—Jim Owens and John Meyer of the Phillies and Humberto Robinson, who is making a strong bid to become a starter on the loaded pitching staff of the Cleveland Indians. Others are also in the running—like outfielder Bill Wirtz of the Cardinals who may make it possible for the Cardinals to start the season with a strong lineup.

Dissension Threatened In Dodger Ranks

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —UP—The Brooklyn Dodgers were threatened with dissension Tuesday as Manager Walter Alton and star Jackie Robinson waged an angry dispute of the type that has often cost somebody his job.

"It looks like I stirred up a hornet's nest," admitted Robinson after his complaints to reporters about being benched had caused Alton—a famed "silent man" who never, never shouts—to "blow up" in anger.

"If he's got any complaints he ought to come to me instead of going to the press," snapped Alton, and then in rage he turned on reporters and told them it wasn't "any of your business" whether Robinson would be in the opening day lineup.

Dodge officials obviously were worried by the sudden explosion in the ranks of the team that is trying a "pennant comeback" but were refusing to comment directly on the dispute. Club President Walter O'Malley, contacted in Brooklyn, said he wasn't familiar with the details as yet and would say only, "It's nice to see somebody getting excited; maybe if a few people get excited, we will win some ball games."

Despite O'Malley's quip, there was nothing jovial about Alton's irritation with Robinson and also with reporters' questions about the Dodgers' lineup. Indulging in one experiment after another with different lineups every day until some of the players complained privately they were "confused," Alton has repeatedly ducked queries about his plans for the regular season.

"You guys can go on asking me who's going to play third base every day," said Alton, spicing his words with appropriate adjectives. "But you might as well stop because I'm not going to tell you."

As for Robinson, the manager said Jackie had complained a while ago of a sore arm. He said he had "no idea" that Robinson's arm was feeling better and he was ready to play until he read it in the papers. Alton said he told Robinson to "come to me in the future if he's got any complaints."

Oilers Trek To Amarillo For Opener

The Oilers will make another try to open their 1955 exhibition schedule when they journey to Amarillo tomorrow to meet the Amarillo Gold Sox.

Tomorrow's game will be an afternoon affair, starting at 2:30. The two teams were to have met here Sunday but high winds halted hostilities.

Jack Venable is due to start for the Oilers in tomorrow's game. Jim Clarich is the probable Gold Sox starter.

Both managers Grover Seitz of the Oilers and Red McQuillen of the Gold Sox will likely use at least three pitchers in tomorrow's game. Seitz is expected to follow with Bobby Votaw and Dean Higgins.

Remainder of the Oiler lineup will likely remain the same as had been planned for Sunday's game.

This lineup is as follows along with batting order:
Each slider, ss.
Sonny Sims, cf.
Paul Halter, lf.
Dick Hairston, rf.
Joe Fortin, lb.
Johnny Bruzba, 3b.
Jack Hall, c.
Pete Carmons, 2b.
Jack Venable, p.

After tomorrow's game, the Oilers will meet Southwestern College at Weatherford, Okla., Thursday afternoon, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Thursday's game was originally scheduled to be played here but was switched to Weatherford. Cause of the change was that some new dirt is being hauled in for the Oiler Park infield and the field won't be ready by Thursday.

Southwestern will return the game here, April 12, the date that the Oilers were scheduled to play at Weatherford.

The Oilers will wind up this week's play Saturday and Sunday at Plainview.

Elsewhere on the Oiler front, the house-to-house canvass being conducted by the Pampa Oilers Community Baseball Association for the purpose of selling season ticket books to the 1955 Oiler home games got underway last night.

Between 200-300 members of the five local civic clubs are participating in the city-wide drive. Each of the five clubs, Kiwanis, Lions, Optimists, Rotary and the Jay-Cees have been assigned districts to cover in the house-to-house canvass.

It is hoped that every home in Pampa will be contacted this week on the ticket campaign.

PHS Thinlies, Golfers Prep For 1-AA Meet

The Harvester track and field team will journey to Canyon Friday for the District 1-AA meet.

The Harvesters are expected to run second in the favored Amarillo Sandies in the one-day district affair on the West Texas State College cinderpath.

In addition to the Harvesters and Sandies, Borger and Plainview rounds out the 1-AA field.

Coach Dwayne Lyon's Harvesters are expected to pick up most of their points in the weights and sprints.

Jon Cantrell of the Green and Gold will be heavily favored to cop the shot put event. Cantrell holds the 1-AA shot put record, heaving the iron ball 51 feet 6 3/4 inches in winning last year's title.

Cantrell has bested this mark several times this year. Only last week Big Jon heaved the shot 55 feet 1 inch to set a Brady Relays record.

Cantrell holds the best shot put mark in the state this year. Cantrell will also enter the discus event Friday.

Ed Strickland of the Harvesters will also bid for honors in both the shot put and discus.

The Harvesters' next strong point is in the sprints with Harold Lewis and Dickie Mauldin as the top dash men. Lewis holds the 1-AA record in the 200-yard dash with a 21.3 time set last year.

Lewis, slowed most of this year with a pulled leg muscle, is gradually rounding in top shape and is due to be in top condition Friday.

Both Lewis and Mauldin, the latter a sophomore, will enter both sprint events, 100 and 200-yard dashes.

The Harvesters hold four District 1-AA records. Besides the two records held by Cantrell and Lewis, the other two Harvesters to hold records are John Darby and Ed Dudley.

Darby owns the 180-yard low hurdles mark with 19.7 while Dudley is the possessor of the 120-yard high hurdles record with 14.7.

All other District 1-AA records are held by Amarillo.

The first three places in the 1-AA meet Friday will qualify for the regional meet.

Friday's meet will be the fifth of the season for the Harvesters. Previously the Green and Gold had participated in the Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham, Southwestern Recreation Meet at Fort Worth, West Texas Relays at Odessa and the Brady Relays at Brady.

The Harvester golfers will also enter the 1-AA meet Friday on the Amarillo Country Club course.

Coach Weldon Trice of the Harvester linkmen is currently holding qualifying rounds among his squad of 10-12 boys. The top four will compete in the 1-AA meet.

The Harvester golfers are given the best chance in history on the 1-AA meet to unseat the perennial golf kings, the Amarillo Sandies, in Friday's meet.

Harvester Weightmen Bidding For Points In District 1-AA Meet Friday At Canyon, Ed Strickland, Left, and Jon Cantrell. The Two Boys Will Enter Both Weight Events, Shot Put and Discus. Cantrell Holds the 1-AA Record in the Shot Put with 51 Feet 6 3/4 Inches Set Last Year.

FEARLESS FRALEY Scribe Sees Willie, Ted As Top Batsmen

NEW YORK, —UP—The butcher, the baker and the few remaining candlestick makers may be all at sea as to what to expect when the major league campaigns open Monday so Fearless Fraley presents a few predictions on what's ahead.

Naturally everybody has his mind made up as to which teams are going to win, with very little wagering reported in Pittsburgh and Kansas City, that is, concerning first place.

But there are a whole heap of startling developments coming up. An example, catchers will wear out a half dozen pairs of shoes this season, while hitters quite often will wear out that many pitchers in a single game.

Willie Mays will cop the National League batting title with a .355 average and claim he's "still learning." Ted Williams will come back late and hit .408 for the American League crown.

"Hamming it up" for the TV cameras will reach a new peak, with umpires setting a new historic high.

Whitey Ford of the Yanks will be the American League's top pitcher with 22 wins, but Robin Roberts of the Phils will get 23 in the National.

Hears will continue to be the favorite game in the clubhouse. Rookies of the year will be the Yanks' "new Bob Grim," Johnny Kucka, and the Cardinals' "new Pie Traynor," Ken Boyer.

One of the 22 bat boys will write a book about his thrills while working in the baseball lumber yards.

Ted Kuszewski of the Reds, given the "go" sign at the fence, will run ahead of Babe Ruth's pace for a while, and wind up with 54, six short.

Kid Baseball Meeting Tonight

A mass meeting of all kid baseballers in Pampa will be held tonight at the Sam Houston Grade School Auditorium.

All boys planning to play in the Little League, Pony League, and the Teen Age League are requested to attend the meeting.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

The Optimist Club, sponsors of the kids baseball program, will sign up all of the boys planning to play in the leagues at tonight's confab.

Various members of the Optimists will be on hand to explain the plans for the 1955 season.

John Schofield, president of the Pony League, will speak on the Pony League; Buck Francis, president of the Western Little League, will speak on behalf of both Little Leagues; while Deck Woldt will give a run-down on the Teen Age League.

The latter league is in the process of being formed. Boys too old for the Pony League and who still have at least one more year eligibility remaining in high school athletics, will be eligible to compete in the proposed Teen Age League.

All parents of the boys are also invited to tonight's meeting.

Also to be on hand will be Oiler manager Grover Seitz and some of his players.

A Little League movie will be shown.

Bear Linkmen Win

WACO, Tex. —UP—Baylor's golf team blanked Nebraska Wesleyan 6 to 0 Monday when Johnny Thornton shot a 71 and Eddie Farina a 72.

Joe Jones Favored at Bowie

BOWIE, Md. —UP—Joe Jones, from the stable of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs of New York, was favored to lead home a field of eight Saturday in the $25,000 added Bowie Handicap. The five-year-old son of Stymlie showed a fondness for the Bowie strip last Autumn when he captured the John B. Campbell Memorial Handicap.

Bosox Rookie May Win Regular Berth

By UNITED PRESS
Rookie Norm Zauchin, who played sandlot ball in the shadows of Detroit's Briggs Stadium, shaped up Tuesday as a "sleeper" who could help make the Boston Red Sox forget loss of Ted Williams' big bat.

Zauchin, a 25-year-old, 6-foot, 175-pound right handed hitter who tips the scales at a mere 225 pounds, caught Manager Mike Higgins' eye early in spring training and now is considered almost certain to oust "Golden Greek" Harry Agganis as the Red Sox' regular first baseman. Higgins said a few days ago that he might not make up his mind until "a day or two before opening day" but since then Zauchin has been the team's best hitter.

The big fellow sparked the Red Sox for the second straight game Monday when he smashed two singles and a double in leading them to a 9-7 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies at Greenville, S. C. The day before he hit a two-run homer, drove in a run and scored another as the Red Sox beat Boston in Roberts and the Phillies, 4-2.

Zauchin, who hit .288, blasted 18 homers and knocked in 118 runs for Louisville last season, is considered the ideal type for Boston's Fenway Park with its short left field fence. Agganis, former Boston University football star, hit .251, and had only 11 homers and 57 runs batted in last season.

The Red Sox—who seem to be shaping up as a dangerous team with or without Williams—have beaten the Phillies three straight games and have a 19-8 Grapefruit League record against major league competition. The Washington Senators, who have a 12-6 mark, and the New York Yankees, 10-4, are the only American League teams with better records.

The Senators took a whopping 7-0 lead in their spring series with Cincinnati Monday when they over-came a five-run deficit to score an 8-5 victory over the Redlegs. Eddie Yost, Roy Sievers and Mickey Vernon all hit homers for the Senators after homers by Ed Bailey and Wally Post enabled the Redlegs to build up their early lead.

In other games Monday the Milwaukee Braves 10-8; the Cleveland Indians took a 3-2 victory over the New York Giants; the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the Baltimore Orioles 9-8, the New York Yankees outlugged Chattanooga 11-8, the Chicago Cubs beat Beaumont, of the Texas League 2-1; the Kansas City Athletics downed the Columbia, S. C., Redlegs, 7-1, and the Chicago White Sox beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2.

U.S. Presidents Had Various Ways Of Working Off Steam

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON—UP—Our chiefs looked up at the messenger and said: "Just a minute, please."
Old John, at the moment, was knocking down in a game of marbles with his young son.
Swims Ohio River
Zachary Taylor was pretty tough, too. One March he swam the Ohio River from Kentucky to the Indiana side when the stream was cluttered with ice. He dried off, ran for the high office, and won.
John Quincy Adams used to take a morning dip in the Potomac, in the raw. One day a tramp came along and walked away with his clothes. The President noticed a small boy fishing. He bade him run up to the White House and ask Mrs. Adams to send along a pair of pants.
The boy did and was rewarded with a fine breakfast at the White House with the President of the United States.

Wife-Killer Given 'Life'

OKMULGEE, Okla.—UP—Lynman Moss, 51-year-old wife-killer who asked that he be sent to the electric chair, was sentenced to life imprisonment Monday by District Judge J. I. Pitchford.
Sheriff Ellis Holly said the Beggs service station operator had asked his attorneys to get the death penalty for him after he pumped eight pistol bullets into his 52-year-old wife, last December while telling her, "I'm sending you to hell."
Moss, standing pale and impassive, heard the verdict from Pitchford after entering a guilty plea Monday. He has spent 30 days under observation at the Eastern State mental hospital at Vinita before doctors there announced him sane. Holly said Moss will be taken to the state prison at McAlester Tuesday.
Moss killed his wife Dec. 21 at the home of some of her friends in Okmulgee after divorce papers had been served on him earlier in the day.
Sheriff Holly said Moss appeared at the door of the home and told residents he had a note for his wife from their daughter. Mrs. Moss declined to see him but he brushed past, entered the kitchen, seized his wife behind the head with his left hand and began shooting.
When she slumped to the floor on her face he pumped a final shot into her back, Holly said, with the explanation, "I'm sending you to hell."
He was captured later in a wild chase over a maze of country roads that lasted for over two hours. During the chase his ear was shot off. He finally surrendered to County Attorney Ed Boatman after his car stalled.

Group Urges State To Use Promotions To Get Tourists

DALLAS—UP—Officers and directors of Texas Longhorn Caves, Inc., Tuesday urged the state to undertake a campaign to promote Texas and its tourist attractions through state-sponsored advertising legalized by a constitutional amendment before the Legislature.
The cavern corporation, management company for the cave located in Longhorn Cavern State Park near Burnet, cited its own experience to point up the value of advertising Texas tourist attractions.
"Several years ago," said the organization's president, Hugo W. Schoellkopf Sr., of Dallas, "we stepped up our program of publicity and advertising for Longhorn Cavern, and for the beautiful Highland Lakes resort area in which the cavern is located."
"As a direct result, paid attendance at the cavern increased more than 50 per cent from 1952 to 1954 and last year was the best we have had since the cavern was opened to the public in 1932," he said.
Longhorn Cavern is eight miles long and the third largest in the world.
A Senate-approved measure proposed by Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano proposing to amend the Texas constitution to remove restrictions on state advertising now is before the House of Representatives.
"It would require a vote of the people if approved by the Legislature."
Officers and directors of Texas Longhorn Caves, Inc., held their annual meeting at Dallas Monday afternoon.

Crash Victims Hunted In Lake

DENISON, Tex.—UP—Rescue workers all but abandoned hope Monday of finding the bodies of two men who were aboard a T-33 jet trainer from Perrin Air Force Base which crashed into Lake Texoma last week.
The wreckage of the plane has been found in fragments, bearing out reports by witnesses that it exploded just before it crashed into the water.
The cockpit section of the trainer, raised by divers over the weekend, was so badly wrecked that Air Force officers were unable to determine if the seats had been ejected before the crash.
The men on the plane were identified earlier as Capt. Robert L. Fluit of Sherman and Capt. R. McCarl of Denison.

Cancer Drive Plans Made

Plans for the Cancer Crusade, to begin in Pampa April 17, are already in motion, Sheriff Rufe Jordan, crusade chairman, stated today.
Sheriff Jordan is in the process of picking five persons to act as an executive committee and to head the crusade activities. He expects to announce the names within a few days.
Already $200 has been received at the sheriff's office, the crusade headquarters at present, Jordan stated. He added that people need not wait for the crusade to start to contribute.
Although April is designated as "Cancer Month" the Gray County chapter carries on an educational campaign throughout the year. County chapter chairman is Rev. Porter Brooks.

Gnashings
By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

IT COULD BE CALLED the day of the year when a few citizens, interested or otherwise, take the time to go to the polls and vote . . . That's today, Election Day . . . But Gnashings has always wondered whether it was right for folks who know nothing of a political race to go and just put a mark opposite somebody's name. Because he likes it, or he has a relative the same name, or the name is third on the ballot and "three" has always been his lucky number . . . Will Rogers used to say that politics is appeasement . . . Well, one way to make even more sense out of the apples would seem to be to vote unintelligently . . . Anyhow, American custom requires that Gnashings say, "Vote for whom you please, but please vote" today.

WHATEVER happened to the Top o' Texas Eshelers Club, people keep asking all the time . . . Well, the boys in the club seem to be going their own way these days . . . Especially Weldon (Whirlwind) Witcher. He got married.

MARRIED! — That's what they said of Gnashings had gone and done last Friday . . . The gang over at City Drug heard about it first thing in the morning, and by noon the City Hall and Fire Station guys and dolls had the story. And finally — Gnashings himself "got the word," which admittedly was news to him, an old bachelor of more than a quarter of a century . . . Nope, there were no swooning girls with hearts a-flutterin', Gnashings doesn't kid himself about such things . . . Careful questioning of all possible sources produced — nothing . . . Now Gnashings isn't going to tell who really started the story. But if he can find some prank to play on Dorothy Barritt, he just might do it . . . Still, after all, it WAS April Fool's Day.

THE WEATHER: The current rush of snow, dust, winds, rain, dirt and motionless silt-in-the-air brings to mind the 1948 Republican campaign slogan against the Democrats — "Had enough?"

SPEAKING ABOUT the weather — and who isn't? — there's nothing that beats a play-by-play description of it . . . A reporter on a daily newspaper probably has as hard a job writing a weather story, especially if it is "doing" something outside at the moment and deadline is minutes away, as any other kind . . . For instance, the paper here couldn't keep up with the weather last Thursday — it kept changing too much. And one thing you don't do, for sure, is try to predict it . . . Anyhow, Sylvia London, the paper's correspondent in Groons, turned in what might well be called a "classic" report on weather the other day . . . She started out by writing that "snow has been falling since daylight, most of it is melting as fast as it falls." . . . Then she continued on some other subjects, finally ending up with this sentence: "Our snow is about over."

BROADWAY IN PAMPA? And why not? . . . Why shouldn't Pampa have the opportunity to see a Broadway show once in a while? . . . What is required is a three-way marriage among the legitimate theater, television and the movies. And it can be done — it already has . . . The players on Broadway merely put on a show before the TV cameras which beam it into the theaters of the na-

Pilot Unhurt In Jet Crash

GRANDVIEW, Mo.—UP—A Texas pilot escaped without serious injury when his F-80 jet interceptor crashed on a simulated emergency landing at Grandview Air Force Base Sunday night.
The plane burst into flames after it crashed and was described by Air Force officials as a "total loss."
But the pilot, identified as 1st Lt. Joe Williams Carr, 25, of Electra, Tex., "walked out of the aircraft." He was taken to the base infirmary with lacerations of the face and burns on the right leg. Attendants said his condition was "fair."
Carr was on a training mission at the time of the crash.

Martin Van Buren, "a born gambler," also loved the bangtails, but he fed them sugar in the paddock instead of getting aboard. He risked many a bob, just to go along with the times. He got his exercise stalking the trout.
By the time William Henry Harrison rose to the presidency, he had fought the Indians and tromped the trails, and figured he'd had all the exercise a man needed for a full life.
John Tyler was handsome, tall and slender, and clean of face. He rode and he hunted. But when he was notified that he would be the next President, he was down on his knees. He was said to have

Hiroshima Victims Due Surgery Here

NEW YORK—UP—Twenty Japanese girls, so disfigured by the Hiroshima atom blast that they have lived as virtual recluses, will arrive here within the month for plastic surgery and medical treatment which may return them to normal life, it was announced here Monday.
The girls, now 19 to 24 years old, were trapped in a public school by the first atomic attack on Aug. 6, 1945.
They will be flown here together by the United States Air Force and will receive free care from two doctors and a hospital through the interest of Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review.
No date for the girls' arrival has been set, but it is expected they will arrive sometime after May 1.
Their trip is formally sponsored by the Hiroshima Peace Center Associates, a group formed by Saturday Review readers some years ago.

BACK TO STEAM

"Twenty-five miles to the gallon of water," the man said, and he wasn't kidding. Charles Keen made this boast while explaining the steam-powered car he built that has no gear shift or clutch — and runs on water. Other features of the car, which cost Keen 13 years and $100,000, are no "exhaust and doesn't make any noise." Keen, who owns a die and stamping business in Madison, Wis., is pictured above in his hand-made car showing where the gear shift isn't.

Highway Crash Takes 2 Lives

TEXAS CITY—UP—A car-truck collision south of Kenah, Tex., claimed a second life Sunday and one of two other persons injured was hospitalized in critical condition Monday.

Attendants at Galveston County Memorial hospital here said Mrs. Mildred Berger, 32, of Taylor, had a 50-50 chance to live. She suffered broken ribs, a fractured leg and internal injuries.

Mrs. Berger's mother, Mrs. Lillian Berger, 51, also of Taylor, died here Sunday of injuries received in the amashup late Saturday night on State Highway 146. Killed instantly in the wreck was H. E. (Pat) Murphy, 41, of Pasadena.

State highway police said the accident occurred when Murphy, driving a pickup truck, apparently lost control and went off the road, then swung back into the oncoming traffic lane.

Weldon Berger, 31, husband of Mildred, was driving. He received treatment for minor injuries.

Brownell To Speak In Dallas

DALLAS, April 4—UP—Attorney General Herbert Brownell will be one of the speakers during Lawyer's Week, an annual event of the Southwestern Legal Center, in Dallas April 19-23.

Robert G. Storey, president of the sponsoring Southwestern Legal Foundation, said this year's event, which will center on atomic energy, will be held on its largest scale.

Besides Brownell, Gen. William J. Donovan, who was head of the lost control and went off the road, then swung back into the oncoming traffic lane.

Giles Charged Bill To Fix Gas Price Hit In New Felony Theft Cases

AUSTIN—UP—Former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles Tuesday faced four additional felony complaints charging theft of $377,350 from the state in Veterans Land Board transactions.

This brought to eight the number of felony complaints involving more than $1 million in alleged thefts filed against Giles. Also named in the complaints filed was J. Paul Little, a Crystal City attorney.

The action stemmed from transactions involving sale of Zavala county land to the state while Giles was head of the three-member Board.

Monday's charges against Giles and Little were signed by W. H. Dickson Jr., an internal security agent of the Department of Public Safety.

District Attorney Les Procter filed four felony theft counts last Wednesday against Giles and Brady land promoters L. V. Ruffin and B. R. Sheffield. Those involved $688,544 in Veterans Land Board funds.

Procter said last week he filed the felony counts to prevent anyone from returning money to the state, paying a $1,000 fine and getting off without further penalty. The law provides for only a fine if the money is repaid and prosecution has not been instigated.

Procter declined to discuss the latest court action.

Bond was set at $5,000 on each of Monday's complaints, the same amount set in last week's counts.

The latest complaints alleged that Giles stole $50,250 on Aug. 21, 1953; $164,786 on Aug. 3, 1954, and $81,348 in one transaction and $80,960 in a second on Oct. 11, 1954.

Similar dates and amounts were named in the complaints against Little.

Giles and Sheffield also are under indictment by a Travis county grand jury on charges of plotting to steal $83,500 in a veterans land transaction and Giles is under indictment by a Bexar county grand jury for allegedly accepting a $30,000 bribe in connection with a block deal.

AUSTIN—UP—A bill which would authorize the Railroad Commission to fix prices paid to natural gas producers if "economic waste" exists suffered a setback Monday when House members refused to bring it up for debate.

A motion calling for suspension of the rules to allow immediate consideration, requiring a two-thirds majority vote, failed to gain even a simple majority as it failed, 53-82.

The motion was made by Rep. Guy Hazlett of Borger.

Rep. John Crosthwait of Dallas attacked the bill as "price-fixing" legislation and compared it to "fair trades" bills killed in previous years by the legislature.

"We have killed this monstrosity every session I have been here," Crosthwait said.

"It's a bad bill, an awfully bad bill," Crosthwait added.

Hazlett said the measure was not primarily a revenue-raising bill, but added it would "raise revenue from existing taxes."

House Won't Speed Trinity River Bill

AUSTIN—UP—House members refused Monday to speed up action on a controversial bill calling for creation of an authority to develop the Trinity River watershed.

The House voted 80-49 to take up the bill, but failed to give it the necessary two-thirds majority to suspend rules and permit immediate consideration.

Rep. Bascom Sanders of Dallas, a sponsor of the measure who called for immediate debate, said there has been "a lot of misinformation and a considerable amount of confusion" about the bill.

"The storm of controversy which has swirled about this legislation has been the navigation feature," Sanders told the House.

The bill would provide for barge navigation on the Trinity from Fort Worth to the Gulf of Mexico, in addition to development of the river through dams and other water conservation projects.

"We need an authority... the Trinity is wasting 6 million acre-feet of water into the Gulf each year, more than any other river except the Sabine," Sanders said.

Sanders said the sponsors would be "willing to abide by the will of the House on the navigation feature," and added that if that provision was removed, "we still want the bill."

The Dallas lawmaker said the bill would affect all of four counties and parts of 15 others. He pointed out the measure would provide a 10 cent per $100 property valuation tax levy.

Sanders said the authority would have 18 directors, and control "would remain in the rural areas" through a provision limiting the combined number of directors from Dallas and Fort Worth to seven.

New Method Can Get 'Lost' Oil

COLLEGE STATION, Tex.—UP—Chairman W. J. Murray Jr. of the Texas Railroad Commission said new methods of secondary recovery of oil now can yield 10 billion barrels in Texas fields, but new methods must be found to recover more lost oil.

Murray told the eighth annual Oil Recovery Conference at Texas A&M College Monday that another 50 billion barrels will never be recovered until new methods are developed.

Baked-In Relief

BUFFALO, N.Y.—UP—Even the modern drug makers haven't figured out a more convenient way to take care of acid indigestion than the ancient Greeks. Pharmaceutical researchers of the Anker Co. here say Grecian wedding cakes contained baked-in ingredients supposed to reduce indigestion caused by over-indulgence.

Dietrich Heads List

NEW YORK—UP—Grandmother Marlene Dietrich Monday led the list of the custom tailors guild's annual "ten best tailored women in America." Running a close second was Grace Kelly, who won Hollywood's top acting award last week. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, represented women in public life on the guild's 1955 list.

Distaff Cops HONG KONG—UP—Police-women are directing traffic in Hong Kong for the first time. The novelty hasn't worn off yet, either. Car drivers and pedestrians still wave and smile when passing the skirted constables.

The smallest known fish in the world is the Pandaka pygmaea. These are about the size of an ant and are almost transparent, the large eyes being the only feature clearly visible.
