HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

WELL, Shine Phillips' prediction and recommendation about an airline between Big Spring, Hobbs and Carlsbad has been fulfilled, except that the line is plying between Midland and the western points. The Texas Flying Service, Inc., opened Midland-Hobbs service a few days ago and now announces an extension to Carlsbad.

The Big Spring airport's business has doubled within the past sixty days. It has become the busiest airport in West Texas in point of number of passengers arriving and departing from it. The Cromwell line had much to do with this, and S.A.T., continuing the steady, dependable service inaugurated more than a year ago, is carrying capacity loads much of the time.

FRED KEATING, out at the government farm, is busy planting scores of varieties of crops in the 500 plots of 58 and 10 acre that checkerboard the 100-acre federal experiment plant.

This farm is something we all know is there, but of which we really know very little. It is one of the most complete plants of its kind in the nation, the southernmost of a chain of experiment farms maintained by the department of agriculture. It is also, one of the most remarkable things of the type to be found in the southwest.

Plots containing 50 varieties of cotton, 85 of grain sorghums, 20 of forage sorghums, ten of soy beans, ten of cowpeas are there. Two hundred plots are devoted to tests in seed bed preparation, rotation and culture methods. Cultural tests are being made with broom corn, corn, wheat, kafir, milo and cane.

Different methods of soil preparation are tested with various varieties. Spacing tests with cotton, date of seeding tests with three varieties of cotton, six varieties of grain sorghums and three of forage sorghums are maintained.

Mr. Keating, who is recognized not only as a foremost agronomist, but also a practical farmer—a rare and valuable combination—is authority for the statement that soil is in excellent condition for planting and, in much of the county, for seed germination.

FARMERS' CONDITIONS REVIEWED

Cooperative Leader Is Speaker Before Local Group

Before a crowd of Howard County farmers and agriculturists, C. O. Moser, vice-president of the American Cotton Cooperative Association, explained the nature of the organization, its advantages to farmers of the United States, and the workings of the branch office and national organization, Wednesday afternoon in district court room.

Moser was introduced by C. T. Watson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, T. N. Carswell, secretary of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, and C. A. Barron, vice president of the Texas organization also spoke.

Moser gave a brief review of the economic conditions in agriculture and all forms of industries. Before going into the subject of the organization, he gave a sketch of the agricultural business for the past 10 years.

"The farming industry has had an increased indebtedness for one billion a year for ten years," he declared. "The farmer can't get ahead on account of the process of losing money. There is a reason for this. The farmers don't work together, don't think together, and as long as there are as many ideas about farming as there are they never will. Once they agree they may be able to go somewhere."

Moser declared the farmers have the problem of production, one of the major ones in agriculture, fairly well under control. As a producer, the American farmer is the greatest, but as a marketer he is a miserable failure, Moser declared.

A large portion of Moser's address was centered about markets, the law of supply and demand, and the value of the cooperative spirit among farmers.

"The farmers compose the only class that tries to market their products individually. They won't accept the group system. Marketing is a problem for the group, not the individual. They break the price against one another; every bale of cotton on the street is a competitor to every other bale."

Not The Way
"They have talked prosperity for the last ten years now. None of that prosperity trickled in the direction of the farmer. Why? Because the farmer wouldn't take his cue from other lines of business."

"The farmer went ahead producing cotton when cotton wasn't in demand, and as a result they received the lowest price possible. You can't violate the supreme law of the business world—supply and demand—and make a success in any business where a margin of profit is necessary."

"The large industries group their marketing. The farmers don't. That is the difference. And while those major industries saw prosperity as a result, the farmer faced poverty."

Moser told of the method of group production and group marketing in Denmark, the condition of the agricultural business there, and how the cooperative system had paid huge dividends. He discussed the citrus business in California, and how cooperative marketing put the business on a paying standard. He told how the organization increased the demand, increased the price, and boosted the consumption.

"Marketing and production together mean a prosperous business; separated they created a demoralized industry," he declared.

MURPHY'S PLATFORM PRESENTED

State's Rights Chief Pleas Of San Angelo Man

Centering his speech around an attack on "the monopolistic tendencies of our government," E. E. (Pat) Murphy, San Angelo, candidate for Congress from the 14th district of Texas, spoke Wednesday night in the district court room in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Murphy was introduced by James T. Brooks, attorney.

Murphy let loose a verbal barrage in the direction of his opponent, R. E. Thomason, El Paso, declaring "there is a political evil in El Paso which has as its purpose control of power in the sixteenth district."

"They have formed a little Tammany out there," he declared. "Thomason is using the name of an ex-service men's organization on his campaign literature, trying to trick the ex-service men of this district into thinking he is endorsed by that body."

"Prohibition is a dead issue," he declared, "but if they want to make it an issue I am willing, because I am the only prohibitionist in the race. One of my opponents is running on a wet platform, the other is a wet." Murphy pleaded for the right of the independent oil men, and declared the greatest need of the land today "is to break the trusts."

Railway Law
"I am in favor of the repeal of certain provisions of the railway law that forces Texas to go to Washington for permission to operate its own railroads. I am against the certificate of necessity clause of the law and want to return the God given state rights to control our own railroads in Texas."

He declared he was in favor of a tariff on products of farm and ranch that need protection, and tariff on crude oil. In the course of his address he declared he would always "stand for a square deal for all ex-service men and their dependents." He is in favor of dating by law all adjusted service certificates 1918 instead of 1925 or later, he said.

He declared his belief in restricted immigration, opposition to gambling in the products of the soil, favored the universal draft act, declaring "profit should be taken out of war; wealth should be drafted as well as man power in the event of war," he declared.

Establishment of a federal department of education and a national university are planks in Murphy's platform.

Centralization
"I will oppose monopolies, trusts, branch banking and excessive freight rates," Murphy declared. "There is too much centralization of government in Washington. If the people do not arouse themselves they will soon be paying taxes direct to a bunch of bondholders in New York. The government, so far as this district is concerned would be controlled by the agents of special privileges in the

Miss Marguerite Boldin will be duchess of Lamesa at the Oil Men's Jubilee here July 3, 4 and 5, according to a message received by Chris Ming, who is in charge of the coronation and of the pageant to be given as part of the pretentious program.

Duchesses already are being chosen by Fort Worth, San Angelo and other cities. Stanton chose Miss Willie Epley.

The pageant, "Texas Under Six Flags," to be presented in a huge amphitheater, will employ a cast of several hundred. The coronation ceremonies, when the Queen of the Jubilee, whose identity will be kept secret until that time, will be crowned, is being planned on a scale that will mark them as one of the outstanding features of the entire program.

YOUNG MAN TO DIE FOR HIS CRIME

'Dagger' Pruitt Denied Executive Reprieve From Chair

HUNTSVILLE, June 5 (AP)—William "Dagger" Pruitt will die before another sun at the hands of "The Law," whose compulsion his youthful bravado used to deny.

In the early morning darkness tomorrow a small procession, like many another, will move along a narrow walk in the "back yard" of the state prison here. It will end, as they all end, at a squat stone chamber whose only furnishing is an electric chair with spindly, reaching arms. There Pruitt will be executed because he killed William Mann, a 17-year-old Dallas high school boy.

"Dagger" waited today as he must, while the sun was shining outside, and in his particular cubicle in death row he preserved a quiet stoicism. If the way he was "acting" it was remarkable at all, it was remarkable because of his youth—22 years is young to die. He had hoped for clemency, but none, he knew, was coming, and he was "ready to go."

His mother was coming today to see him; his routine was all the same. Breakfast in silence; lunch in silence; dinner tonight—that "last dinner" where the state gives a man whatever he wants, "even to chicken"—probably in silence, too.

Pruitt has been here in his cubicle for a bit more than a month. One man he has seen proceed him in the early morning procession. "Dagger" Pruitt has been a "quiet prisoner" here, but two years ago in Dallas he was a different boy. There the police called him "The One Man Crime Wave," and they arrested him only after storming a house where he had barricaded himself and had loosed a pistol upon them.

Oil Banquet Tickets Sought

A brisk sale of tickets for the banquet to be given at the Crawford Hotel, Friday night at 8 o'clock, as the initial district session of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas, was reported at the Chamber of Commerce this morning.

Wild, Charles Morgan, Dallas, secretary and treasurer, Tom Cranfill, Dallas, state president, and E. G. Bedford, Midland, are scheduled to appear on the program.

"Foreign Oil and Howard County" will be the topic of Cranfill. Wild will speak on "Why the Independent," and Bedford's subject is "The Relation of the Land and Royalty to the Independent Movement." Morgan will discuss oil transportation.

A large number of Howard county producers are expected to attend the banquet.

BURR STORE WILL OPEN ON FRIDAY

Large Establishment Offers Wide Variety To Shoppers

Shoppers of Big Spring and vicinity faced a day of prime importance Thursday, with announcement of the opening Friday at 2 p. m. of the new local store of L. C. Burr & Company.

Workmen, clerks and executives have been laboring for weeks to complete and fully stock the new store with merchandise for the opening day.

Special invitation has been issued the Chamber of Commerce to visit and inspect the new store at 2 p. m. The store will then remain open for the convenience of all visitors who care to come and look over the new establishment in a leisurely manner. All members of the local store's organization will be on hand to greet and serve visitors. This will also give the local salespeople an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the merchandise and prices in preparation for the usual Saturday rush.

Ready To Open
Several carloads of merchandise have been unloaded during the past few weeks and the store is now stocked with more than fourteen hundred lines of merchandise. All of the decorating and construction work has been completed and the new walnut finished fixtures have been installed. The store will have 25 people in attendance during the opening days and will have a permanent sales force of 10 people, according to W. A. Bryan, local manager.

"The store personnel will be entirely a local organization after the opening," said Mr. Bryan, "and will be composed of people from this city as soon as they can be trained satisfactorily."

"We expect this store to become a typical Big Spring organization and all of our people will work and strive for the welfare of this city at all times," Manager Bryan continued.

Good Location Here
Big Spring was selected because of its location in the heart of an oil, agricultural and industrial section and the belief that this city is certain to grow and expand. Only after a detailed analysis and investigation had convinced the officials of this company Big Spring was assured an excellent future did they determine definitely to establish this new department store.

In showing the Herald representative through the store today Mr. Bryan pointed out several problems that the company has satisfactorily solved. The arrangement of the sales floor is unique in that each department is arranged so that it is clearly set off from each of the other adjoining departments.

The walnut finished fixtures used throughout are so designed and constructed that each department has its own specially built cases, shelving and counters. Unusual in this respect is the Infants Wear Department with its lighted glass

COMMITTEE POWERLESS IT IS SAID

Petition Puts Leading Republican In For Governor

DALLAS, Tex., June 5 (AP)—R. B. Creager, Republican National Committeeman for Texas, has been drafted as a Democratic candidate for governor, Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee, announced today.

The application for a place for Creager on the democratic ticket was received today by Johnson from D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, committee chairman. It had been mailed to Wilcox from Dallas Monday before the time for filing ended.

The petition was signed by 30 persons, five more than are required under the law. With its filing, Creager occupied the same official status as Gov. Dan Moody, Lynch Davidson of Houston, and Sen. Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, all of whom were drafted.

Johnson said that he was certain that under the recent supreme court ruling in the Love case Creager could qualify. "The committee has no authority to keep him off a democratic primary ballot merely because he happens to be a republican, and the head of that party in Texas."

The list of signers of the application was headed by H. C. Williams of Dallas.

Other applications received today by Johnson from Wilcox and mailed before the deadline, were Sterling P. Strong of Dallas, and J. F. Hair of San Antonio, for lieutenant governor, Jockie W. Burks of Austin, for land commissioner, and R. M. West of Newcastle for commissioner of agriculture.

So You'll Know, Her Waist Is Seven Inches Above Hips

The U. S. bureau of standards has decreed that a woman's waist-line is seven inches above her hips. That settles it—or does it?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman's waist, that mysterious line so fascinating to poets and lovers since time began, has at last been definitely designated by Uncle Sam himself.

Acting as referee for a group of pattern makers, the bureau of standards of the U. S. department of commerce has decreed that a woman's waist line is just seven inches above the hips.

Heretofore, left to the whim of every wind of fashion that blew, it has been tossed about on a sea of patterns varying at an angle of five inches to nine inches above the hips.

Moreover, Uncle Sam has topped Venus de Milo off her pedestal. According to the measurements evolved from the conference of manufacturers, merchants and educators, there is no longer one perfect woman as represented by the cold marble woman without arms, but many!

The little slim brunette, the statuesque tall blonde, the plump woman and the Hollywood diet thin woman have now a chance to look in the mirror and with satisfied sighs say "I'm perfect!"

Here is the new set of proper measurements which will be put out by the pattern makers:

WOMEN
Bust . . . 34 36 38 40 42 44 50 48 50
Waist . . . 28 30 32 34 36 38 40 42 44
Hip . . . 37 39 41 43 45 47 49 51 53 55

MISSES
Size 14 16 18 20
Bust 32 34 36 38
Waist 27 28 30 32
Hip 35 37 39 41
Socket bone to the floor . . . 52 54
Socket bone to floor 52 54

These measurements apply to patterns, not to ready-made garments.

No matter what the period, whether of crinolines and muslins or of fish net and velvets, a man now knows where he stands. He must place his arms about a line just seven inches above the hips!

Firecrackers Please Some, Irk Others; Dynamite Caps Present Danger To Children Hereabouts

NOTE—The article has been written by experts in the explosive industry for the benefit of school teachers who wish to explain the dangers of playing with blasting caps. It contains a full description of the nature of blasting caps and their place in industry.

Firecrackers are explosive devices which are made merely to afford amusement. When a match is touched to them they explode with a loud noise which gives some people a good deal of pleasure and cause other an equal amount of irritation. There are other kinds of explosives which are much more powerful than firecrackers and which are not merely entertaining or annoying but do useful work for us all every day. One of these is dynamite.

The three things that we need most, for our bodily comforts at least, are food, shelter and clothing. We cannot raise all the food we need to keep us alive on our own farms, or still less in our back yards or in the window boxes of our apartments. Cattle and sheep and hogs have to be raised, sometimes thousands of miles away from where their feed, mutton and bacon cutters are eaten. The wheat of the Dakotas, the corn of Kansas, and the fruits and vegetables of California and Florida have to be transported great distances in order that we may have our ordinary three meals a day. Railroads and steamships are necessary for this transportation and railroads mean that steel has to be produced for the engine and the rails and the cars, and coal has to be produced to supply the steam for the engine. The houses in which we live are built from materials that are not usually made or grown near us.

To get the steel and the coal, the copper and other metals, and the clay and stone necessary for all these purposes in large quantities, and at a low cost, explosives must be employed and more than five hundred million pounds of dynamite are used every year in the United States alone to supply the country with these so-called raw materials. By placing dynamite in holes bored into the rock or the coal or the metal-bearing ore and exploding it there, these materials can be torn from their natural beds and broken up so that they can be handled and removed.

Dynamite is different. But dynamite is very different from the explosive in a firecracker. In order to explode dynamite it is necessary to do more than stick a match to it. It is necessary to give it a terrific shock and for this purpose a device known as a blasting cap is required.

When a blaster wishes to use a blasting cap he inserts it in a piece of safety fuse, which consists of a train of powder somewhat like fireworks powder wrapped tightly with several layers of cotton threads, and then pushes a hole in a dynamite cartridge and places the blasting cap in this hole. He places the cartridge along with some more dynamite in the hole bored in the rock or coal, lights the end of the fuse sticking out of the hole and runs away. When the fuse burns down to the explosive in the blasting cap, it sets it off and this in turn explodes the dynamite.

It is unfortunate that blasting caps are so called because the name brings to one's mind the cap that is used in a toy cap pistol which makes a loud snap but does no particular harm whereas a blasting cap is a terribly powerful device, so strong that when it explodes it will blow a hole through a steel plate one-sixteenth of an inch in thickness. It will blow a baseball to fragments, it will entirely wreck a shoe, and worst of all it will tear a boy's hand off, blind him for life, or even kill him if it explodes in his hand or near him. In quarrying and mining regions and other places where dynamite is used, the workmen sometimes carelessly leave these blasting caps around and children find them and try to use them for putting on the end of a pencil or for making whistles or sometimes they realize that they are explosive and try to make them explode, thinking they are no more dangerous than a firecracker. It is really, however, extremely dangerous to pick up blasting caps or play with them or investigate them or have anything to do with them unless you are a quarryman, miner or blaster. These men understand blasting caps and take no chances with them.

Don't Fool With Them. If you try to remove the contents of a blasting cap you will surely lose some of your fingers and perhaps your hand, and perhaps you may even lose your eyesight. If you step on a blasting cap, your foot will probably be torn to pieces. If you try to explode a blasting cap by putting it in a fire or by holding a match to it you are likely to be very badly hurt. Even if you are several feet away from a cap when it explodes the flying copper is likely to impale itself in your body as these little particles of copper fly with very great force and so fast that they will stick into an iron plate a foot or more away. They will cut right through the eyeball of a boy and blind him for life.

The proper thing to do with a blasting cap is to leave it alone or if one of your companions should have found one and already has it in his possession, get him to handle it very carefully, and as soon as possible give it to some older person who knows what to do with it. If it has to be disposed of, the best thing to do is to throw it into a river if one is handy. If no water is available, it had better be buried deeply in some spot where it will never be found or never be struck by a plow or other instrument.

W.T.C.C. Report Heard By Club

That the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been a power for good in West Texas, more so than most people realize, was the declaration of B. Reagan at this week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary club. He told of the work of the organization during the past few years.

C. T. Watson told of the annual W.T.C.C. convention in Abilene, and of Big Spring's activity there.

E. B. Ribble reported on Boy Scout work at the recent area rally in Sweetwater and of the work of Troop 1, the Rotary-sponsored troop. A. C. Williamson, area executive, urged interest in the area camp for Scouts of the Buffalo Trail area, June 16 to 30, at the regular camp of the Concho Valley council north of San Angelo.

Miss Hortense Reed told of the Chautauque program opening Saturday and pleaded for support of that institution in Big Spring. Fred Rix, former resident, brought greetings from the Lubbock Rotarians.

Other visitors were R. H. Newson of Pecos, Eddie Price of Big Spring, B. C. Rix of Lubbock, Mr. Bonham of Big Spring, M. J. Williamson, Miss Hortense Reed and A. C. Williamson.

PASTOR RESPONSIBLE FOR 16 NEW CHURCHES

PORTALES, N. M. (INS)—The efforts of the Rev. Thomas B. Sowell, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, have been instrumental in the erection of ten church buildings and four parsonages. He recently saw the completion and dedication of his tenth church, a $60,000 structure, for which he not only raised the money but worked on himself as superintendent of construction, occasionally taking up a saw and hammer when necessary. The Rev. Sowell always raises the money for his churches and supervises their construction. When necessary, he works on them himself, alongside the laborers.

The Portales church was built under his supervision by day labor at an estimated saving to his congregation of $20,000. Although Portales is a town of only 2500 the building dedicated here is the largest in the New Mexico conference. The church has a membership of 450. Rev. Sowell is serving his second year as pastor of the church. He came here from Texas, where most of his other church buildings were erected.

ACTRESS WANTS TO OWN NEWSPAPER

CHICAGO (INS)—When Olive Bell Hanson tried being a little girl reporter in Chicago six years ago—and lasted only two months—she went into vaudeville, and, under the stage name of Loma Worth, is still at it. But when she appeared here in her act, she revealed that she still clung to her early ambition.

"I'm just working to try to earn enough money to buy a newspaper of my own, so no city editor can fire me," said Lamo—or Olive, I like newspaper work more than anything else. But I've always been "scared" of city editors. Some day I'm going to have a newspaper of my own, so I can have at least one city editor "scared" of me."

BASEBALL DAYS OVER; BURRUS RUNS CAFE

ATLANTA, Ga. (INS)—From the position of a major league first baseman to the ownership of an Atlanta restaurant is the step which has been taken by Dick Burrus, noted N. C. State college athlete. Burrus moved here recently from his old home in Cape Hatteras, N. C., and purchased a cafe located on one of the busiest streets in the city.

Burrus began his professional baseball career several years ago—he is 31 years of age—in the old South Atlantic league. From there he went to the Philadelphia Athletics for two seasons, given his release by the A's he signed with the Columbus, Ohio club in the American Association, where he stayed for three seasons.

The majors called him again and he joined the Boston Braves, and was with that club for four years. He was released to the Atlanta club in the Southern association, but quit baseball last year.

CHICAGO'S FOREIGN COMMERCE GROWING

CHICAGO (INS)—The extent to which Chicago's foreign commerce is growing is reflected by the presence of 49 resident consuls in the city, according to the Chicago Association of Commerce.

The increase has been particularly marked during the past few years, and credit is given to the good will messages carried abroad by such Chicagoans as Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Melvin Traylor. The consuls now here represent all the countries of Europe, Japan, and many nations of South and Central America.

TO CHANGE NAME OF MEXICAN STREET

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Because of the general feeling that the street name Nuevo Mexico (New Mexico) only serves to recall the acquisition of the state of New Mexico by the United States from Mexico, the street here by that name shortly will be changed to Avenida del 123 Constitucional.

The new name will commemorate Article 123 of the federal constitution which gives certain rights to laborers. Street names carry considerable significance here and it is felt they should, like monuments, serve to commemorate personages or great deeds. Street names are many here inasmuch as each block is designated by a different name.

SON INHERITS DAD'S LOVE OF PROGRESS

ODDEN, Ill. (INS)—Merle Harper, whose father owned the first bicycle ever ridden on the streets of this town, and later drove the first Ogdenville automobile, has become Odden's first airplane owner.

Harper purchased the plane after graduating from a flying school. Turkey Raisers' Cooperative CLAY CENTER, Neb. (INS)—A turkey raisers' cooperative recently has been organized here. The members expect to increase production of the Thanksgiving birds in anticipation of better prices received through cooperative marketing.

Foreign Vegetable Trade U. WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Showing a steady increase the last few years, the volume of foreign trade of the United States in vegetables last year registered more than $40,000,000. Imports had a value of nearly $20,000,000 as compared with about $12,000,000.

Storey Candidate For State Office, Is Visitor Here

Cecil Storey of Vernon, a leading figure in the lower house of the state legislature for several terms, who now is a candidate for attorney general, visited in Big Spring this week. Mr. Storey, with Senator C. C. Small of Wellington, led the fight in the 41st legislature for a series of bills designed to correct injustices to West Texans arising from land statute, some of which were passed a century ago by the Republic of Texas. One of these, the river bed bill, was passed over the veto of the governor, Mr. Storey especially favored the venue bill which would have changed the law so that citizens sued by the state would not have to go to Austin to have the suits tried.

Mr. Storey's formal announcement: In the inception of all Democratic governments, there has been found, in the fundamental law of each, the theory of separation of its legislative and judicial departments. Each to be separate in its own sphere, neither transgressing nor approaching upon the other.

Such basic doctrine is incorporated in Section 1, Article 2 of our Texas Constitution adopted in the year 1875 and under which our state now functions. As an integral part of our government, specifically designated and defined, Section 22, Article 4, creates the office of Attorney General, enumerates his powers and places upon him the duty among others, "to give legal advice in writing to the Governor and other executive officers when requested by them." These duties are manifold, mandatory, and in no sense optional.

Believing, as I do, that the founders of our government and the framers of our Constitution were eminently wise and correct in thus classifying and dividing our departments of State, and in creating the office of Attorney General and imposing upon him such duties. Also believing that said office is one of the greatest within the gift of the people and feeling that my conception of Democratic government, my faith in the fundamental laws of the land, and my legal qualifications, practice and experience are such as to allow me to aspire to its honors and privileges, I hereby make formal announcement of my candidacy for the office of Attorney General of Texas; submitting my name to the Democracy of Texas subject to the action of the voters in the primaries in July. Pledging my best ability, to a conscientious, impartial and careful enforcement of the duties of this office in accordance with the spirit and letter of our Constitution and laws, especially vigilant in the prosecution of violations of the Anti-trust laws of the State; professing an intense and sincere desire to help promote the welfare and happiness of the people of Texas by a sane, economical and business-like administration to the end that the affairs of the people may properly broaden and prosper, and the resources of the State be justly protected and developed, I enter upon this campaign. Respectfully, CECIL STOREY.

Sheriff Returns From Los Angeles

Sheriff Jess Slaughter returned late Wednesday afternoon from Los Angeles, bringing with him C. E. Bonner, charged with removing mortgaged property from the state. Sheriff Slaughter went from Big Spring to El Paso on the Texas & Pacific, and from El Paso to Los Angeles by plane. Bonner is charged with taking an automobile to Los Angeles upon which a mortgage was held by a local man.

NEW ORLEANS 451,634

NEW ORLEANS, June 5. (AP)—The preliminary 1930 census announced by the director Frank Plankuchen, with one district blank, gives New Orleans a population of 451,634, an increase of 64,415 over the 1920 population, or a gain of 16.6 per cent. The missing block is expected to add a few hundreds to the total figure.

The census revealed that the population of greater New Orleans, including the population of St. Bernard parishes and a section of Plaquemine would pass the half million mark. The 1930 enumeration gives Jefferson parish 39,000 and St. Bernard parish 6,321. Plaquemine parish is still incomplete.

Poultry Raisers Count Profits

LAMESA, June 5.—According to records kept by nine Dawson county poultry raisers during April, they realized a total income of $879.39 from 3,490 dozen eggs produced by 2,456 birds during that month. The feed cost was $249.90, or .693c per dozen. Average per hen for the month for the 2,456 birds was 17 eggs. The poultry raisers received an average of 25c per dozen.

The highest production was the average of 23.3 eggs per hen by a flock of 244 white leghorns owned by Joe M. Peterson. His total income was $396.65 and his feed cost him $41.12. His profit was $155.43.

Since the poultry short course held here in January, which lasted one week over 300 poultry houses have been constructed in Dawson county, according to W. W. Evans, county agricultural agent. All of the flocks have access to farm range with modern houses under sanitary conditions. Interest manifested in poultry raising in this county has led to the formation of the Dawson county Poultry which meets monthly at Lamesa.

Barbecue Pit, Not Barrels, Place For Fires In City Park

Barrels at the city park are not to be used to burn paper and waste in, City Manager V. R. Smitham advised this morning.

Smitham asked those having picnics at the park to place the papers in the barrels, the city hauls the trash away. If papers are to be burned the barbecue pit should be used for the purpose, Smitham said.

NEW YORK (INS)—The total number of motor vehicles registered in 1929 was 26,501,443, according to a report just issued by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Other facts follow. New York State has the largest number of motor vehicles with 2,263,259 registered. California is next with 1,974,341 and Ohio third with 1,766,614 motor vehicles.

The average life of each car is 6 and 3-4 years. Since the beginning of 1920 the number of bus passengers has been growing steadily larger than the number of trolley passengers. OIL BRIEFS

TULSA, Okla., June 5 (AP)—Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 Caesar, largest producer in the Konawa pool of southern Seminole county and believed to be the largest Cromwell sand oiler ever drilled, flowed 10,461 barrels of oil in 24 hours, pinched in. The location is NW SE 20-6-6. The same company's No. 2 Caesar, in NE SE 20-6-6, yielded 543 barrels of oil in 21 hours from sand drilled to 3,006 feet.

Hilton Phillips' and others' No. 2 Burgess, in NW NE 29-6-6, Konawa field, produced 365 barrels of oil in 90 minutes Wednesday. Total depth is 2,861 feet.

Although Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. A-1 State in the Hobbs pool of New Mexico was brought under control without unexpected difficulty after flowing wild several hours, indications have pointed to delay in completing the well as rotary returns had not been obtained. Addition of cottonseed hulls to fill an apparent cavity may be necessary before drilling can be resumed.

Meanwhile interest began to shift north of production where Shell Petroleum Corporation's No. 1 McKinley, in the southwest corner of section 24-15-37 was being drilled near the expected deep pay at 3,910 feet.

Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil Company's No. 3 University was added to the list of producers in the Church-Fields pool in Crane county by swabbing 80 barrels in 18 hours from pay topped at 3,090 feet and drilled to 3,090 feet.

DALLAS, Tex., June 5 (AP)—The Mook-Texas No. 11 Minnie Sibley, ten miles east of Eastland and near the village of Staff, yesterday made from 750 to 1,000 barrels a day from the top of the Ranger lime. The pay was reached at 3,420-21 feet. Drilling had not been completed.

A. P. Nicholson and others No. 1 Stannett, located in block 29 W. L. Herring survey, abstract 188, in the extreme southeast part of Archer county has been completed at an estimated production of 80 barrels, extending the Pridcaux field several miles to the northwest.

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 5 (AP)—A good showing of oil was encountered in the Magnolia Petroleum and Ramsey Petroleum No. 1 Johnston wildcat, near Britton, this morning. The well is directly north of Oklahoma City, within sight of the state capital.

Some water was showing however, but was believed to be coming from behind the casing, thus preventing workmen from lowering the fluid fast while bailing. Total depth is 6,520 feet in sandy shale and lime.

PARIS (INS)—Simple French wooden sabots are going to be the pattern for the perfect shoe which Dr. H. R. Bynum of Memphis, Tenn., expects to design in the near future. The American foot expert has recently arrived in Paris to study the problem. He believes that this peasant footwear has its good points as well as bad ones, which will help him in providing comfort for more men and women everywhere.

"Few people realize," said Dr. Bynum, "how important the shoe problem is. Poorly fitting shoes render a man irritable and provoke new and old complicated diseases."

Expect Alsop Case Before Jury Today

FORT WORTH, June 5 (AP)—A possibility that the case of John Alsop, charged with murder, would get to the jury tonight was seen by attorneys this morning as the state put four more witnesses on the stand. Miss Aletha Hale, student of Polytechnic high school, was the first witness this morning. She told of seeing a white man and two negroes in a car about noon of Thursday, a short time before the attempted bank robbery which resulted in the slaying of Isaac (Will) Tate and George Terrell, negroes. Alsop is on trial in connection with Tate's death.

Miss Hale said the car was near the high school and the two negroes got out.

Anderson Gradington, negro porter of the Elks club, testified he saw Tate and Will Vincent, negro chauffeur, talking together about a week before the killing. Vincent, who was charged with conspiracy to rob in connection with the holdup of the First State bank of Polytechnic, was on the stand Tuesday.

City Detective J. W. Swinney said he was sent to guard the bank against the anticipated robbery on Tuesday and Wednesday before the killing, and that on Tuesday he saw Alsop there. The witness quoted Alsop as saying, "There won't be anything in it for any of us."

Detectives Ed Weatherford, who was in the bank when the attempted robbery took place, described the holdup and the shooting that followed.

Love Supreme Court Ruling Made Final

AUSTIN, Tex., June 5 (AP)—The supreme courts order to the state democratic executive committee to place the name of Senator Thomas S. Love of Dallas on the party ballots as a candidate for governor was final today. The court overruled the committee's motion for a rehearing yesterday.

The court had previously held that the committee exceeded its lawful authority on February 1 in Austin when it passed resolutions barring as candidates for state offices persons who failed to vote for the democratic presidential electors in 1928. Love had acknowledged that he did not vote for former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, the party's nominee for president, and was upheld by the supreme court in his contention that the pledge to support nominees of the party required of participants in the 1928 primaries was not binding in conscience.

The committee will meet in Austin next Monday, when it will certify the names of candidates for state offices to the county chairmen and select a site for the state convention to be held September 5.

Chicago Gangland Gunner Chinese

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—Gang gunner went Chinese last night. A group of celestials armed with pistols and a machine gun swept through Chinatown raking the territory in the neighborhood of Archer avenue and Twenty-second street. Chin told police he was a representative of the Chin Oak Tin Tong, a national organization devoted, he said, to the interests of the ancient Chin family.

FRENCH SCHOOLS OVERWORK CHILDREN

PARIS (INS)—French school children are coming in for a deal of discussion these days. At the Congress of Government Free Schools recently held at Rouen, a number of educators, complained that they were overworked and made a plea for less fatiguing courses and simpler examinations.

Monieur Lethullier, Principal of St. Joseph's of Mismieresen-Bray, said that after three solid hours of class-room work, children have reached the peak of their capacity for learning and should not be compelled to remain another three hours and then be sent home to prepare homework for the following day.

The Principal also complained of grueling examinations requiring forty to fifty minutes for each question, when a minimum of practical examples are sufficient to ascertain the general knowledge of every average child.

TOWN LOST LAST CIVIL WAR VETERAN

LEADVILLE, Colo. (INS)—This town will be without a Civil War veteran when Memorial Day is observed this year.

N. N. Robertson, 87, the last remaining member of the James A. Garfield Post No. 9, Grand Army of the Republic, died at his home here recently.

During the last two ceremonies, Robertson was the sole representative of the armies who fought in the '60s.

The veteran was born at Minot, Me., and grew up on his father's farm. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was rejected several times, but finally was successful in joining the quartermaster's corps at Washington in September, 1864. From that time until the close of the War he saw active service with the Army of the Potomac.

Robertson came to Colorado in 1871 and a few years later came to Leadville.

WANT TO BECOME STOUT? HERE'S TEN SURE WAYS

PARIS (INS)—The President of the French "Two-Hundred-Pounder Club," the Gourmet-Gourmand in more polite French, has just given out the following ten commandments which shall bound to increase anybody's weight.

Combine both quantity and quality of food.

Never eat at a crowded table or wear tight clothing.

Don't eat hot meat on a cold plate.

Don't eat too many hors d'oeuvre—they kill the appetite.

Never eat roast chicken at a restaurant; never eat chicken with anything but the juice of the bird.

Don't disturb your Burgundy wine too much.

Never eat salad with folic grass, Champagne and Chateau Yquem should be served with ice.

Drink your coffee in small instead of large cups; it tastes better.

Eat slowly and after long practice, you will weigh at least 200 lbs.

Revival Draws Larger Crowds

Interest in the revival meeting being conducted at the Church of Christ with S. A. Ribble of Shamrock occupying the pulpit increased Wednesday evening's service when a large and highly attentive congregation was present.

"Something more than seeming to be right is essential as to the way of life, and salvation," declared Mr. Ribble. "Experience leading to belief that one has found the right way is not the only essential."

"There are numerous highways between various points on the map. We could insofar as earthly things are concerned assume the attitude that any way is all right, just as we get there. But we cannot do this with divine things. We are unable to provide a way of salvation for ourselves. It has been provided for us. It is the way of Christ."

"The only way must be a way of faith, a way of reformed life, and of complete obedience."

Service are held at 10 a. m. and 8:15 a. m. daily.

SAYS INDIA IS ABOUT TO AWAKEN

BOSTON (INS)—That the people of India are beginning to leave their old ethnic faith, with its attendant downward social trend, for the better instincts which lead upward was expressed by Bishop Fred B. Fisher, of Calcutta, India, in addressing Boston University, theological students here recently.

"The people of India once believed that their only release from this poor life was no life," Bishop Fisher declared, "but Christian and scientific knowledge showed the fallacy of the old system. There has come about a transfer from the downward pull of the old social instincts for a release of their fine instincts. Now they feel that they can mould their nation solidly, and that is what they are trying to do."

In discussing the present situation in India, Bishop Fisher continued, "This confusion in India about which so many are worrying is good. It was once said that India was an insane, inert, supine that the world's capital would be safe there, for the people would never object. But today India is finding herself, she is standing up by herself, and this individualism is to be admired."

U. S. SKYSCRAPERS INVADE EUROPE

VIENNA, June 4. (INS)--American skyscrapers are invading Central European cities. Until lately the construction of buildings over six floors high was not permitted in Central European states. Austria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, however, have almost simultaneously abolished the skyscraper prohibitions, and Jugoslavia is expected to follow the example.

The Vienna municipality has already begun with the construction of an 11 stories high apartment house, while the municipal committee of Budapest has just given permission for the erection of a 12 story building. The introduction of the skyscrapers in Prague, Belgrade and Zagreb is also imminent.

GERMAN TONNAGE SHOWS DECREASE

HAMBURG (INS)--The completion in the first quarter year of North German Lloyd's great "Europa" reduced by some 50,000 tons the amount of tonnage under construction in the various German shipyards and brought a reduction of 21,000 tons as compared with the last quarter of 1929. Germany, however, still occupies second place, with 223,000 tons followed by France with 183,000, Holland with 179,000, Japan with 144,000, Russia with 123,000 and Sweden with 120,000. Great Britain is still far in the lead, with 824 ships of a total tonnage of 3,300,000 under construction, an increase of 155,000 over the last three months of 1929. This increase is largely accounted for by tankers, which can still be profitably operated despite the prevailing depression in the world's freight market.

TO ATTEMPT FLIGHT FROM HUNGARY TO U. S.

BUDAPEST (INS)--Hungarian nationalist circles are collecting funds to finance a demonstrative flight of the Hungarian aviator Sandor Magyar from Detroit to Budapest. Sandor Magyar has named his plane "Justice for Hungary" and intends to compete it for Lord Rothermere's $10,000 prize for the first flight between America and Hungary. Magyar plans to make his attempt this summer.

BANKING OPULAR AMONG STUDENTS

BOSTON (INS)--Banking and accounting are the most popular vocations among the students of Boston University's college of business administration, according to figures compiled by the university's vocation department. For the past two years, the number of graduates who have gone into banking and accounting have been equal, and this year's figures indicate that choice will again be the most popular. Selling gives every indication again of ranking next to banking and accounting with transportation and communication, advertising, insurance, foreign trade, education work following in the order named.

MEXICAN PRESIDENTS NEPHEW RUNS LIFT

KANSAS CITY (INS)--Being the nephew of the president of Mexico doesn't mean a lot to Andres Ortiz, who runs a freight elevator at a hotel here. In fact it might have remained a dark secret had not a woman guest at the hotel, recently a visitor in Mexico, gained the confidence of the youth. After much questioning he admitted his relationship to the Mexican president.

He has been in the United States four years "touring" the country from one job to another. Now he plans to return to Mexico this winter and enter "agriculture."

He maintains he does not wish to gain anything by his relationship with the president, but wants to "make his own way."

STRIKES OUT MEN IN 5 GAMES

MEDIA, Pa. (INS)--Lou Kraussee, 17-year-old Media High School hurler, in the five games he has pitched, is believed to have established a world's record. He has struck out a total of 82 opponents, while holding the opposition to 13 hits and the amazing total of 4 runs. Kraussee pitched his best game against Ridley Park High, two weeks ago, holding them without a hit or run, and striking out 18. In this game he created what is believed to be another record, when he struck out 14 batters in a row. The youngster was under the tutelage of Connie Mack, veteran manager of the world champion Athletics, during his vacation last summer, and is slated to wear an Athletics' uniform when his schooling is completed.

2,000,000 TO TOUR NEW ENGLAND 1 N1930

BOSTON (IS)--More than two million persons will take vacation motor tours in New England, and they will spend well over $175,000,000, according to preliminary estimates made by the American Automobile Association. Reports from tourist bureaus throughout the country show that the White Mountain Region of New Hampshire will be one of the outstanding objectives of tourists this year.

Manufacturers have proposed that the Union of South Africa bar importation of second hand clothing, contending that it is unhygienic.

POLICEMEN HALT SALE OF BOTTLES

ST. LOUIS, June 4. (INS)--Chief Gerky's police department here has decided not to sell any more bottles and crocks, attached in liquor raids. The Supreme Court recently ruled that this practice had to halt. The proceeds of the sales had gone to the Police Relief Association.

Poultry Calendar

(The poultry calendar issued by the Extension Service of the Texas A. & M. College is one of the best sources of information in the state as to the practical methods of caring for chickens, according to Mrs. Louelle Allgood, county demonstration agent.)

Watch for Worms Are your fowls thin and droopy? Have they almost quit laying? Are they idle, quiet and sleepy? If so, suspect worms, but don't guess. Kill one or two of the poorest, slit the intestines from end to end and see for yourself. Probably you failed to plow the yard this spring. Perhaps the house is dirty. Possibly there are one or more stagnant water pools about or wet places around the drinking fountain. Whatever the cause, remove it now for it is a barrier to profit.

In the meantime worm the flock. For round worms, which are commonly found, mix 2 lbs. pulverized tobacco to each 100 lbs. of mash. Feed for 3 weeks. Stop 3 weeks and feed again for same period of time.

The pulverized tobacco used should be fresh and contain from 1-2 to 2 percent of nicotine. Regular nicotine sulphate capsules are also recommended as are capsules of tetrachlorethylene. These capsules can be secured already prepared. A liquid mixture of free iodine introduced into the gizzard is also very effective and may be purchased ready prepared. For tape worms, kamala tablets or capsules are effective. The iodine mixture noted above is also good. More detailed directions about prevention and treatment of worms are contained in Extension Circular C-60 which can be secured from the county or home agent.

Shade Necessary Many heavy producing hens die from being over-heated. If trees, cactus beans or other large foliage plants do not supply natural shade, provide artificial shade this month. A few poles set in the ground supporting other poles covered with hay, makes an excellent and cheap shade. The thatch should be at least four feet from the ground.

Water Facilities Supply plenty of cool, fresh water during the summer. Look over the supply of water vessels and furnish enough of them so that no bird will have to wait for a drink. Place part of them on the outside in the shade and the others within the house. Avoid sloppy, wet watering places.

agriculture back on its feet. It doesn't want to stand by and see the farmer wear out his land, his machinery, and increase his indebtedness.

There is no other way to solve this greatest of problems than cooperation. The farmer must learn to adjust his supply to demand and produce in a correct ratio to consumption.

Following the session a committee was appointed to investigate general conditions here and ascertain if there is enough cotton to justify a branch organization.

The committee is composed of George White, Walter Robinson, R. L. Frief, T. S. Currie, B. Reagan and C. T. Watson.

Chickasha Mob Inquiry Leads To Charge Of Murder

CHICKASHA, Okla., June 5 (AP)—A murder warrant was prepared this afternoon for Jud Brown, 33, after a coroner's jury investigating the death of Henry Argo, alleged negro attacker who met his death at the hands of a mob last Saturday, had named Brown as the slayer.

Brown had been arrested earlier today. The jury deliberated 20 minutes and returned a verdict finding that the negro, who was fired upon while besieged in the Grady county jail by a howling mob, came to his death by means of gunshot wounds which, according to hearsay testimony, was inflicted by one Jud Brown.

No other person was named in the jury's verdict but County Attorney B. F. Holding was preparing warrants for 12 other persons involving homicide accusations, conspiracy charges and charges of inciting a riot.

Dean Williams Becomes M. U. Head

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 5 (AP)—Dean Walter Williams, founder of the school of journalism at the University of Missouri, today took office as the institution's twelfth president.

He will be acting president until December 31, while President Stratton D. Brooks is on a leave of absence. When Brooks' resignation, requested by the board of curators, becomes effective December 31, Dean Williams will become permanent president.

Ranger Captain Hickman Marries

FORT WORTH, Tex., June 5 (AP)—Ranger Captain Tom Hickman, who many times has prided himself on "getting his man," today had his girl who was Miss Tina Knight of Fort Worth before they were married yesterday at the bride's home.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. E. Hall, San Antonio, chaplain of the Rangers, in the presence of Ranger Sergeant Manuel (Lone Wolf) Gonzales of Dallas. The couple left immediately after the wedding for Mineral Wells and on June 8 will leave for a three months' European tour.

Dipheryl, Rival For Steam Heat, Produced

DETROIT, June 5 (AP)—A rival for steam heat, Dipheryl, the world's newest commercial substance, was introduced to the American Institute of Chemical Engineers here today.

Dipheryl—pronounced Dy-fen-ill—is a synthetic chemical, something that probably never existed anywhere in nature, but better than water for one purpose. This property, scientifically named "Heat Transfer," was described by Prof. W. L. Badger of the University of Michigan.

Heat transfer is the thing that steam does when it warms the radiator and through it the air in the room. Dipheryl carries great heat without the dangerous, explosive pressure of steam.

Dipheryl is not at present a substitute for steam heat, but it foreshadows the sort of stuff likely some day to make it easier to pipe heat into the house from a central station such as water now is piped.

The automobile is responsible for Dipheryl. About two years ago an oil refiner wanted it to substitute for steam in a gasoline making process. He could not buy any. There was just one pound in the United States, costing $40. The-dure Swann, a young chemical manufacturer of Birmingham, Alabama, undertook to develop the stuff commercially and now makes it at 30 cents a pound wholesale.

Strangely enough Dipheryl is made from explosive benzene. By heat two hydrogen atoms are forced out of two benzene molecules, which thereupon unite to form the new substance, a yellowish, white solid. It melts at about 155 degrees Fahrenheit.

It has given promise already of being a worthy child of benzene, which is one of the most widely used chemicals. From Dipheryl already have been made amber colored resins, black pitches and grey crystalline solids. It has been used in making varnish, insulation, flame proofing and water proofing.

Fort Worth Gets Robbery Suspects

DALLAS, June 5 (AP)—Three men brought to Dallas last night as suspects in the robbery of the Grand Avenue State Bank, which was robbed of $11,023 Saturday, will be released to Fort Worth officers. Officials of the bank failed to identify them but Dallas detectives said that money found in their possession at the time of their arrest at Fort Worth yesterday was taken from rival rum runners at Fort Worth. The serial numbers of the bills did not tally with those taken from the Dallas bank.

Concrete Sewers are most efficient

Because of their practically unvarying inside diameters, concrete pipe provide greater hydraulic capacity (discharge more waste for any given diameter) than sewer pipe of any other material.

And because they are made of portland cement concrete to meet rigid and exacting specifications, maximum uniformity, strength and durability are assured.

Concrete sewers built in your city this year will give perfect service indefinitely—and will require no repairs or maintenance.

As he sits in the living room of his well guarded cottage, playing over and over German phonograph records, he doesn't even talk a good fight.

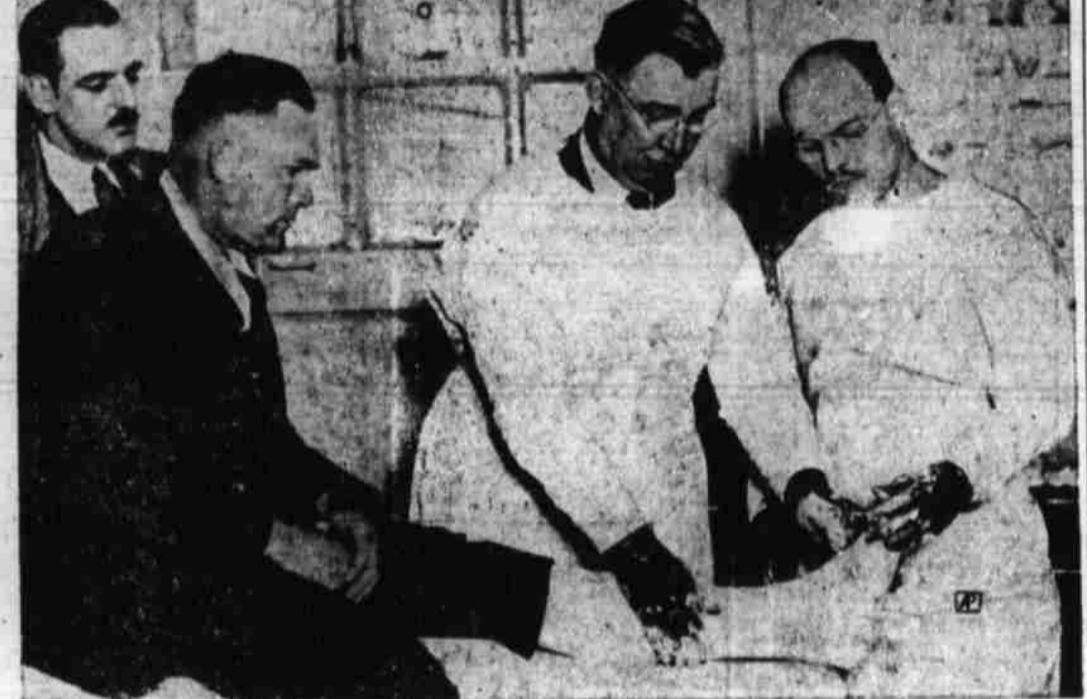

Colored an Indian brown by the sun in his outdoor workouts, the young German is a picture of superb condition as he sits in his easy chair, happy to talk of fights in his halting English liberally sprinkled with German phrases.

"I hope I beat Sharkey," he said with a smile and a wave of both hands. "I do not know. No one knows. If I get my chance, I win. If not I lose."

"Sharkey is a good boxer, yes? He hits, punches good with left hand, no; well, maybe it make him discouraged if he can't hit me with his best punch. That is important."

"There is another thing, Sharkey, he says. 'How will Schmeling feel fighting a man like me who has met everyone and licked the men I have?'"

BROKEN LEG BENCHES ROGERS HORNSBY

Rogers Hornsby, Chicago Cub second baseman and star hitter, went out of the line-up Decoration day with a broken leg.

REDS' PUNCH SPUDDERS SET SWIFT PACE FOR TEXAS LOOP

Team Clouts 84 Hits In Their Last Seven Games

The Reds, as they are now, seem to have everything but the ability to make their hits count. They got plenty of blows, 84 of them in their last seven games, and frequently have good pitching to go with them.

The Cubs finished only two games behind Brooklyn as the Robins literally threw away a game to the Pittsburgh Pirates by a 12 to 6 score.

The American League produced four tight battles, three of them going ten innings. The leading Philadelphia Athletics beat out the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 3, in the only nine inning contest as Sam Gray, formerly the star of the Browns mound staff, lost his ninth straight game.

NOTHING NOVEL OR NEW ABOUT NIGHT BALL

By GAYLE TALBOT, JR. Associated Press Sports Writer DALLAS, Texas, June 5 (AP)—Leave it to the old timer to go you one better!

"Night baseball and night football were played 33 years ago. On November 20, 1897, the Carlisle Indians defeated Illinois in a football game in the old Coliseum in Chicago, 23 to 6."

The Spring Lake Country Club golf tournament at Waco June 11 to 12 will present a significant departure from the accepted rules of tournament play.

Amateurs and professionals have met in competition for many years, but in medal play. The open title of Texas might come to be a muchly coveted crown in a few years.

The Lavender boy from Abilene, incidentally, has accepted a challenge from Frank Foxhall of Memphis (Texas) for a special 72 hole match to settle the championship of "Greater West Texas."

VON ELM WINS LA BOULIE, France, June 5 (AP)—George Von Elm, American golfer, eliminated his countryman, Raleigh Allen, of Asheville, N. C., four and three, today in the quarter-finals of the French international championship golf matches.

NIGHT ENDS EXCITING FRAY

Nesbitt And Brown Leading Sluggers Of Day

In a mild melee that started sometime Wednesday afternoon and terminated sometime Wednesday night, the Barbers finally won a hitting orge from the Laundry 14 to 13.

Each of the teams shifted players to every position possible in an effort to stop the onslaught of the other.

After Vick entered the business of bench warming, Tinsley gave up four hits to allow six runs to trot across the plate for the Laundry.

Errors were numerous during the engagement, the Barbers rolling away seven and the Laundry nine.

the state university being thus endowed. Oil and mineral rights of such lands have poured immense amounts into the educational coffers of the university and the various technical colleges belonging to the state. These lands are the property of the entire state and are located in widely separated areas. The immense political project presents difficulties seemingly insurmountable. Recent history indicates the people of Texas are not easily persuaded to undertake changes. For example, a dispute between Texas and Oklahoma over the border line between these states is now in process of legislative adjudication. Committees of both bodies have visited back and forth. The merits of the case have been submitted, yet the bodies have not agreed on anything definite. A decade ago a similar dispute arose over the Red River border. This dispute became so acute the United States government stepped in and took possession of the disputed territory, and it took several years to settle the matter. The people of Texas are united thoroughly. Internal fights over distribution of state funds for schools and road purposes are no more acrimonious than in other states. Texas is selfish in many ways. Railroad corporations, for example, must maintain separate corporate identity in Texas. Division of Texas into several states would entail vast corporate changes and upset legislative enactments of the past 100 years. The time to have made such divisions was when Texas was admitted into the American union and not at this late date. E. E. ELLIOTT.

GIFTED AMERICANS

SHAMING THE LIFE OF REILLY.

by Oscar Hitt

"Why, yes, I did, sir. Mistress being economical and all that, I was letting out one of her gowns." Flique bowed acquiescently. "But madame went into the little hall, shutting the door behind her—" "Oh, yes, Mr. Flique." "And perhaps she had one hand thrust deep into a pocket of her robin's-egg blue gown? No? I am wrong?" "Oh, but she had, sir!" Manning burst forth excitedly. "She seemed to be holding something tight and I wondered what it was." "Mademoiselle would, being a woman of intelligence," Flique murmured gravely. "But madame was—um—nervous, perhaps?" "Yes, she was," Manning cried, glowing. "All upset. But I didn't think much of it, for Mr. Parados never treated her property. But she needn't have snapped at me the way she did when I showed her that little stone I found on the carpet." "A little green stone?" "That's all it was, sir," Manning continued warmly. "I showed it to her and she knocked it out of my hand. I thought she was going to slap my face. Really I did, sir." "Mademoiselle has her problem. But who has not, I ask you?" Flique laughed. "That's right, sir," Manning sighed piously. "We all have our crosses." "Mademoiselle has the philosophy, also," Flique beamed, and he chuckled Manning under the chin. "But this little green stone—you have it, out?" "No, sir, I haven't. When I looked for it, it was gone. Mistress must have picked it up." Flique shrugged. "A nothing," he murmured casually. "It happened this, after madame had bathed?" "Yes, sir. You always guess right, Mr. Flique." "Mademoiselle tempts me to try again," Flique said bowing. "Tell me, when madame entered her bathroom you heard—um—water running?" "Yes, I did," said Manning nodded vehemently. "For maybe four or five minutes it was, too. It surprised me for I'd always prided myself on having mistress's bath just right. Maybe that's what made her so touchy." Manning's face at this became troubled and she began to pluck at her apron. "I don't know why you are asking me all these questions, Mr. Flique. I do hope I'm not saying anything I shouldn't." "Non, non," Flique protested, spreading his plump hands engagingly. "Mademoiselle is a jewel of discretion. Those questions—pouf! What are they but to settle a point with M. l'Antiquaire? It is done. Mademoiselle may return to her duties." "Reassured, Manning departed, and Flique regarded me with a twinkle. "Well, my friend?" "Flique," I said, "you have broken two more alibis." (Copyright 1930 William Morrow and Company) that moment, a duster in her hand. "Let us leave the good Manning to her duties," Flique suggested. As we stepped onto the terrace, Flique glanced at the outside stair that led up the west side of the east wing to the flat roof above the sun room. "So charming are these Californian—um—adaptions of our old-world architecture," Flique remarked, picking his words with care. "Consider that little stair. So enchantingly placed and so admirably useless. I shall wager you a cigar that it is never used. Oh, my good Manning," and Flique tapped on one window of the sun room. "The girl came running. "That stair there, ma fille," Flique said. "Is it ever used?" "Hardly ever, sir," Manning assured us. "It's just another pile of steps to keep swept." "But that, my little one—is it not a labor of love? Could it be otherwise in this temple of beauty?" "Oh, go on, Mr. Flique," and Manning giggled behind her duster. "I'm not anybody's 'little one.' Then seriously, 'It's no temple of beauty, sir—inside, anyhow. It's a wicked house and I don't care who hears me say so.' "The virtue of mademoiselle redeems it," Flique said, bowing solemnly. "It intrigues me, that little stair. Whose chamber do I see at the top of it?" "Ah! And there is a door. It opens into madame's chamber?" "Well, not exactly," Manning replied. "You see, there's a bedroom and a bathroom and a—you know, a little hall, in between." "And the roof door I see up there opens into the little hall—is that it?" "Yes, sir." Flique beamed. "It is clear that mademoiselle is a woman of intelligence." "I try to make the best of the talents that were given to me, sir," Manning said. "Who could doubt it?" Flique inquired, and I wondered what his game was. "And now, mademoiselle," he continued, "you will remember that monsieur was killed between half-past six and seven on Friday evening?" "Indeed I do, Mr. Flique." "And you were with madame every moment of that tragic half hour, yes?" "I was, sir. I told Mr. Samuels, too." "Mais oui. That is to say, you were with madame every moment of that half hour except, of course, for the—was it ten minutes?—in which she bathed?" "Of course, sir," and Manning simpered. "Mistress bathes herself, sir—" "To be sure," Flique chuckled. "And when she had prepared herself for the bath and slipped on her green robe—" "Her blue robe, sir. Her robin's-egg blue—" "Imbecile that I am!" Flique cried vehemently. "Her robin's-egg blue, to be sure! And then she went into the hall that opens into the bathroom, shutting the bedroom door behind her, while you, my little one, plied your twinking needle—" "Bad Breath? Every Stomach Sufferer Has It! Regulations Governing Milk And Meat Sold In City Are Reviewed

There are on the statute books of the city of Big Spring, ordinances which comprehensively cover regulation of the production, preparation and distribution of milk and meats in the city.

The new city sanitary inspector, J. M. Williams, formerly foods inspector for the city of Waco, is charged with the enforcement of these ordinances.

Milk is classified certified milk, grade A raw milk, grade B raw, grades A, B, and C pasteurized and ungraded milk. The law provides that cans or other containers, including bottles, containing milk must be labeled plainly to show what grade milk they hold.

Here are some of the chief provisions of the standard milk ordinance, which is that used in practically all of the cities of the country:

Milk must contain not less than 8 1/2 per cent of solids not fat and not less than 3 1/4 per cent of milk fat, or butter fat.

It is unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to bring or receive into the city for sale or to offer for sale or to have on hand any milk or milk product excepting evaporated milk, condensed milk, skimmed milk, powdered whole or powdered skimmed milk who has not paid his license fee in advance and who does not possess an unrevoked permit from the health officer of the city and on whose place of business there does not appear in a conspicuous place a placard showing that the permit has been obtained.

Bottles, cans, packages and other containers enclosing milk or any milk products and sold or served shall be plainly labeled or marked with the name of the contents as classified in the ordinance, as well as the grade of the product according to the provisions of the ordinance. If pasteurized that word must appear. If it is raw milk the percentage of milk fat must be shown. Every grocery store, restaurant, cafe, soda fountain or similar establishment selling or serving milk shall display in a place designated by the inspector a card furnished by him, stating the grade of the milk at the time it is delivered and whether it is raw or pasteurized.

At least once during each grading period, which in no case shall exceed six months, the sanitary inspector shall inspect every dairy farm producing milk or cream for consumption in the city and all milk products or cream intended for consumption in the city. In case he discovers violation of any item of sanitation he shall make a second inspection after a lapse of such time as he deems necessary for the defect to be remedied but not before the lapse of three days and the second inspection shall be used in determining the grade of milk or cream.

One copy of the inspection report shall be posted by the health officer in a conspicuous place upon an inside wall of the dairy farm or milk plant buildings, and it shall be removed by no person except the inspector. Another copy shall be filed with the records of the health department. In addition a written notice shall be mailed to or left with the owner or manager in the case of violations.

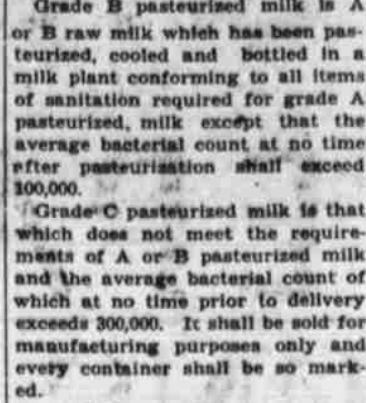

During each grading period at least four samples of milk or cream from each dairy farm and each milk plant shall be tested by the health officer. Samples of milk and cream from stores, cafes, soda fountains, restaurants and other places where milk products are sold shall be tested as often as the inspector shall require. These tests shall include the determination of the bacterial count made in conformity with the standards and methods recommended by the American Public Health Association and may include other chemical and physical determinations as the health officer may deem necessary. Notices of bacterial count shall be given interested persons on request. If market value of any sample exceeds 25 cents the city shall pay for it.

At least once every six months the health officer shall announce through the daily press the grades of milk and cream supplies delivered by all producers or distributors and ultimately consumed within the city of Big Spring. These grades shall be based upon the following standards: the grading of cream may be identical with the grading of milk except that the permissible bacterial limits shall be multiplied five fold in the case of cream.

Certified milk is that conforming to the requirements of the American Association of Medical Milk Commissions and produced under the supervision of the medical milk commission of the Medical Society of Howard county.

Grade B raw milk is that the average bacterial count of which at no time prior to delivery exceeds 200,000 per cubic centimeter, which is produced under conditions outlined in the ordinance except that in no case shall cleanliness of the barnyard be omitted and changing the cooling system to provide 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and substituting boiling water for steam to and handed in sanitary fashion until the meat is sold. The houses for killing animals may be arranged according to the mutual interest and convenience of the inspector and the owner of the building, or the proprietor. It is unlawful to transport any meat unless it is securely wrapped in paper or tightly woven cloth unless the vehicle has a tight cover and is kept closed.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

New York City.

What do you and other pacifists think about military music? It stirs my blood and I wonder if you have any red blood to stir.

That let me correct you on one point. I am a lover of peace and not a pacifist. I love peace both for the individual and for mankind and am willing to strive for it. Moreover, my hair used to be sandy and my mustache red, colors not usually associated with mild temperaments. With millions more of like mind I rejoice in the broadening prospects of international security and order.

Why not study these terms before you affix them where they do not belong. The careless use of titles and names is typical of those who rage when they should reason and resort to abuse when they have no case. Having, I trust, clarified your mind on this distinction, let us proceed. Of course there is basic appeal in the trumpets and drums and first-class military bands are always inspiring. But their repertoire has been so greatly widened and enriched during the past fifty years that organizations like the Garde Republicains of Paris and the Guards' Bands of the British Army go far beyond purely martial music in their concert programs.

Last summer I heard the Coldstreams play in London. They opened their program with Wagner's bridal music from "Lohengrin" and closed with a selection from Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. Their balance, tonal effects and precision revealed what heights of artistic achievement a military band can attain. In their renditions were present those educational elements which lead to a higher appreciation of art and which have been valued by all wise men from the Greek classical period to the modern era. The sensations, impulses and sympathies conveyed by any body of musicians depend on what they play. Strictly military music is elemental and endeavors to awaken the combative instincts. But the compositions of Palestrina, Bach, Mozart and Beethoven contain the magic of the Infinite and leave us speechless before the vision of man's nobler being.

Today a premier military band is not confined to the lower levels of music's tremendously diversified scope and power. It can reproduce either the crude strains of strident conflict or the sublime harmonies of a world dedicated to life's lasting good. For these reasons I am glad that our own Army and Navy have vastly improved their permanent military bands. Hear the Marine Band whenever you can do so. No organizations of this kind are likely so reach the effects of a full symphony orchestra. But their reed and brass choirs do splendid work which is appreciated by every lover of music—and of peace.

My case is like that of the woman who wrote you some time ago, and my betrayer was also a doctor. I asked nothing, and received nothing for the injury he did me, although he was a man of wealth and I a domestic servant. I realized I was partly to blame and I have long since forgiven him. I find great peace and joy in serving the aged and little children who come under my care in my preswork. But I sometimes wonder whether the man who sins as he did ever pays the penalty he should.

You are wise not to dwell so far as you are personally concerned on that unfortunate episode of years gone by. You have long since learned its tragic lesson and have exercised your right of forgiveness.

No moral wound should be continually opened afresh to the detriment of its healing.

The man in the case will not get off scot free. He may delude himself into thinking that he has succeeded in his deception, and possibly he has for the time being. But such heartlessness as his arranges its own revenge. Life's law of retribution has an amazing number of ways by which it exacts its penalties from such an offender. In its direct form he may see someone dear to him treated as he treated you. That is a terrible moment when in another man's deeds the guilty sinner meets himself. But there is an indirect method of retribution whereby upon the occurrence of some other and unrelated tragedy the sufferer is compelled to dwell on forgotten crimes and injustices until his heart is searched and driven to despair. Before his fortured mind the marshalled procession of his misdeeds parades and conscience passes judgment on the great indictment with an liberality from which there is no appeal.

I believe those forces are always at work as well as those of a compensatory nature available to the penitent sinner. You have already proved their existence, but the guilty man has to face the consequences of his betrayal. He cannot escape because he carries in his own soul both his Accuser and his Judge.—Conscience. It may slumber but it never dies and when at last it rises to summon him to the bar his sentence he must respond.

If you are taking the Herald, before you leave on your vacation, be sure to have the address on your paper changed.

Whether you go to the Pacific Coast or the nearer mountains, the Gulf resorts or the North and East, you will want to know what's going on in Big Spring. And as everybody knows, the only way to do that is to read the Herald.

WE WANT YOU TO MEET

After riding across New York City in a taxicab one day, Dr. Cadman attempted to pay the driver, who refused to take the fare.

"You are Dr. Cadman, aren't you?" the driver said. "I have four sons. We all listen to you every Sunday on the radio. You are doing more to help me make good citizens of my boys than anything else in the world. You can't pay me for any ride in my cab."

"Is happiness the end of life?" "What is your conception of hell?" "My wife wants to bob her hair—how can I stop her?" "Should people about to marry confess to each other?" "What is the soul?"

These are representative of the questions which thousands of perplexed readers ask the man whom critics have called the greatest figure to fill a pulpit since Henry Ward Beecher died. He will counsel and comfort you if you write him, in care of this paper. Your letter will be forwarded, unopened, and held in confidence by this great-hearted man. Some of the questions which readers ask him and his human, understanding answer appear daily under the heading Everyday Questions. Read this inspiring feature in The Herald every day.

Barr, district census supervisor of Lubbock, more than 35 Lamesans have been found who had not been counted. This places Lamesa well above the three and a half thousand list.

Name Your Babies Promptly, County Nurse Pleads Of All Fond Parents

Name your child promptly. It is because of the fact that most parents name their expected little one before it comes and then find that their fond hopes are blasted by the baffling fact that the sex was not what they expected that there is a high percentage of children not registered in the county where they are born.

So far as the state and government are concerned they are as good as not born.

So to the parents first, the county health nurses and her department appeals for their cooperation in naming their babies promptly and thus letting the doctor fill his end of the bill, by sending in a birth certificate. This he cannot fully do until the child is named.

A campaign to make people more conscious of the necessity of registering the births of their children is now under way, according to Mrs. M. R. Showalter, county health nurse of this city.

The appeal is being sent out to the following organizations and individuals and their cooperation has been pledged: parents, newspapers, Chamber of Commerce, P. T. A., Home Demonstration Clubs and Agents, County Agent, Mrs. Delbridge of the Southern Ice and Utilities Co., ministers, county medical association, auxiliaries, county health department, county and city officials, lodges, unions, service clubs, City Federation and all social clubs.

The following are reasons for registering your baby's birth:

See that the doctor is careful to include the name of the baby in making out the certificate. A certificate that does not carry the name of the baby is not a complete record, and may cause you trouble in future years, if it is ever required for a legal document.

YOUR BABY'S BIRTH SHOULD BE REGISTERED. WHY?

1. Because it is one of the greatest events of its history.
2. Because your baby will need its birth certificate all through its life.

STANTON NEWS

STANTON, June 5.—Stanton will be represented at the Oil Men's Jubilee at Big Spring by Miss Willie Epley, as duchess of Stanton.

Stanton and locality enjoyed a good rain, amounting in some parts of the country to 1 1/2 inches. This will greatly benefit crops as well as grass.

Summer school opened Monday, June 2. It is under supervision of Taylor Rushing and will continue five weeks.

Mayor R. E. Thomason of El Paso was a visitor in Stanton last Wednesday. Mayor Thomason is a candidate for the office of congressman from this district. He will return here soon to deliver an address.

The weekly meetings of the Lions club will be discontinued until September it was announced last Tuesday evening. This club has done some excellent work this year and only discontinuing temporarily because so many members will be away part of the summer. A meeting will be called soon, however, for election of officers.

A committee for the Farmers Cooperative Society of Stanton returned this week from Dallas where members inspected and ordered machinery for Stanton's new gin. Construction will begin within a few days. Those who made the trip were L. W. Woody, J. W. Pollock, T. B. Stewart, J. W. Blocker, M. O. Gibson and John F. Friddy.

At the district meeting of the Methodist church Missionary society Thursday here there were 35 out-of-town attendants, representing Colorado, Lorraine, Westbrook, Coahoma, Big Spring and Spangenberg. All auxiliaries were represented except two. Despite bad weather attendance was good. Excellent program was given. Lunch was served at the church.

J. E. Milhollan and wife visited in Garden City Saturday.

Mrs. Ruby Robertson is visiting in Colorado and Lorraine this week.

Mrs. A. C. Reed was hostess to the Congregational Klud Klub last Wednesday afternoon. Decorations were in pink and yellow with appointments to match. Miss Vera Burnham held high score for club members and Mrs. Sharp held low. Mrs. H. O. Houston won high score for guests.

After the games, the hostess, assisted by Miss Lorena Odum and
