Peron Jails Catholic Leaders In Argentina

Impeachment Of High Court Justice Reported In Plan

By WILLIAM L. F. HORSEY
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — UP — The Peron government has arrested two top leaders of the Roman Catholic church and is considering the impeachment of a Catholic supreme court justice, it was reliably reported Wednesday.

The Box Score In Peron's Church Attack

BUENOS AIRES — UP — In the past seven months President Juan Peron's government has taken the following action against the Catholic church in Argentina:

1. Legalized divorce and permitted remarriage of divorced persons for the first time in Argentine history.
2. Passed a law recognizing that children born out of wedlock have equal rights with legitimate offspring.
3. Restored legalized prostitution throughout Argentina, a despise strong church opposition.
4. Abolished the obligatory teaching of religion in public schools and ended government subsidies to Catholic schools.
5. Ruled that five religious holidays recognized throughout Argentina as national holidays now are just work days.
6. Banned processions and open air religious meetings without special police permission.
7. Lifted the church's exemption from real estate and other taxes — move that will cost the Catholic church about $14 million annually.
8. Introduced a move for a constitutional assembly to be called to amend the present constitution separating the church and state. The Catholic church has been the state church since the Argentines won their independence from Spain 145 years ago.
9. Arrested a number of priests on charges of being disrespectful to Peron.
10. Dismissed two Jesuit priests from their official posts on charges they mixed politics with religion.

Civil Defense Test

Ike, Top Officials Spirited Away

By JOHN L. CUTLER
EMERGENCY U.S. NEWS CENTER — UP — President Eisenhower and most of the government's top officials go underground Wednesday in a surprise realistic dress rehearsal of the struggle for national survival that would follow a massive atomic attack on America's key cities.

Only the enemy bombers, rain and wind were the only dangers that were imaginary in the nationwide "Operation Alert, 1955" biggest civil defense exercise ever undertaken.

For Mr. Eisenhower and 15,000 key officials, the wall of the air raid warning sirens at 10:05 a.m. in Washington meant a quick round trip to a basement bomb shelter, but the start of an actual evacuation that will transport the key function of the United States government from the capital to secret relocation centers for the next three days.

New York, Chicago, Boston, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Seattle and 41 other cities were targets, along with Washington, of the simulated atomic holocaust.

It Has Drama
The most dramatic events, however, were centered in Washington, where Mr. Eisenhower and members of the cabinet led the way in making the exercise a completely authentic preview of the emergency measures that would be taken to keep the federal government functioning if real war comes.

The H-hour plan called for key officials of 31 federal departments and agencies to drop their work the moment the sirens went off and to scatter, by limousine, private car and helicopter, to 31 previously-designated "emergency relocation centers" dispersed over the eastern seaboard within a radius of 30 to 300 miles from Washington.

The various relocation centers are linked by an elaborate communications system including closed-circuit television that would enable Mr. Eisenhower to hold "face-to-face" conferences or even a full cabinet meeting with his top advisers.

Centers Linked
All of the centers in turn are linked to the emergency center, located more than 100 miles from Washington. Through this center, where about 100 press, radio and television correspondents are on hand, news of the exercise will be funneled to the public, just as in real war news of draft calls, rationing orders and similar measures would be disseminated.

Voluntary censorship forbids publication of the actual sites of any of the 31 secret relocation centers.

IN BINGO, YOU GOTTA SPEAK UP

FLEMINGTON, N. J. — Mrs. Patsy Stra emerged Wednesday as the winner of a $200 jackpot in a bingo game she played nearly three months ago. The Flemington borough council ruled that Mrs. Stra should get the prize because she called "bingo" first. Mrs. Celia De Stefano had contended she covered all the squares on her card first but just neglected to say "so."

Weather Hits Texas Crops Severe Blow

By UNITED PRESS
A line of storms that whipped parts of West Texas with tornadoes, high winds, vicious thunderstorms and hail was expected to form again late Wednesday, dropping scattered showers over the top half of the state.

Only a trace of rain was reported in Pampa last night, but Monday's rain made it 44 inch according to the weather bureau at KPDS. A total of 1.16 inches of moisture has fallen in June.

Forecast for today and tomorrow is fair mornings and partly cloudy afternoons. The high today at 86, the low at 56, the high tomorrow at 87.

derstorms and hail was expected to form again late Wednesday, dropping scattered showers over the top half of the state.

The violent weather Tuesday night pounded scattered West Texas areas, destroying or damaging buildings in several communities, wiping out crops in many sections and slightly injuring several persons.

Forecasters said showers from the instability line have about died out now, but will develop again in West Texas, North Central Texas and the northern part of East Texas.

The storms struck around Abilene, Vernon, Plainview, Levelland and Ralls. Vernon was hit by a severe wind and electrical storm that knocked radio station KWVC off the air. A heavy dust storm swept through the city before the storm hit. The station went off the air after lightning hit its tower three times.

Up to four inches of rain fell in the Abilene area, where the storm's greatest violence was centered around Roby, northwest of Abilene.

Royce Ferrell, switchboard operator at Sylvester near Roby, said crops were wiped out by hail and that severe winds struck the Pledger community, between Sylvester and Roby. There was considerable damage to buildings and homes in this area.

Nobody Killed
The squall line that set off the isolated storms took no lives as did last week's similar weather which killed two persons, but several dwellings were destroyed in the Abilene area and in the South Plains.

A tornado that "roared like a freight train" destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Roberts east of Abilene. The Roberts and their two young children saw the storm from a distance.

Molotov In US For Meeting Of UN Session

NEW YORK — UP — Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister, arrived Wednesday from Moscow, backed by a massive Communist propaganda campaign aimed at winning the Big Four talks.

The Soviet foreign minister, making his first visit to the United States since 1948, is accompanied by the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth one day before the western Big Three foreign ministers assemble in New York to re-organize their united front.

Coinciding with Molotov's arrival was a major broadcast by Moscow radio setting forth the Kremlin's aims at the forthcoming "meeting of the Big Four" and blaming the United States in advance for failure should talks occur.

Molotov, who remained aboard the liner with the other passengers until 4:40 a.m., spoke briefly in Russian before a battery of television and newsreel photographers and newsmen.

"On behalf of the delegation of the Soviet Union I greet cordially the people of the world famous city of New York and wish them all those in the United States who are in favor of lasting peace, national co-operation and consolidation of friendship among nations."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay begin a two-day conference Thursday and then journey to San Francisco Monday to meet Molotov and lay plans for the July 18 meeting of the heads of government.

The occasion of the San Francisco meeting is a 10th anniversary commemorative session of the United Nations in the city where it was born. Molotov leaves for the west coast by train Wednesday night.

Butler To Speak In Dallas Tonight

DALLAS — UP — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler is expected to unleash his oratorical Sunday punch in a major address Wednesday night in Dallas, one of the strongest Republican bailiwicks in Democratic Texas.

First, however, the national chairman from Indiana was to make his second speech in the state at a noon luncheon at Big Spring.

Butler arrived in Texas Monday for a week-long series of speeches. He will try and reconcile the two warring intra-state party factions, represented on one side by Gov. side and the liberal's "Progressives" movements, which sent the state into the Republican column in the 1952 presidential election. On the other side is the liberals or "loyalists" who remained true to the national party.

The liberal Democratic Advisory Committee, which Shivers says is not representative of the majority of Texans, is sponsoring Butler's visit. Consequently, Shivers and some other state officials are boycotting the meetings.

Anti-Trust Suits Killed

AUSTIN — UP — The Texas Supreme Court Wednesday threw out the state's anti-trust suit against 10 major oil companies alleging price-fixing on gasoline.

The high court sustained a trial court decision dismissing the state's case, originally filed in 1949 by former Texas attorney general Price Daniel, now the state's junior U.S. senator.

Tomorrow morning, plans call for a baseball tournament.

Oldest U.S. JP Is Dead

WEST BEND, Wis. — UP — Charles S. Hayden, the nation's oldest justice of the peace who celebrated his 100th birthday March 6, died Wednesday.

Hayden had been in St. Joseph's hospital several weeks but had not been considered in serious condition.

"Judge Charlie" had been a justice of the peace 44 years in West Bend after once being a railroad executive on several lines.

He held open house on his 100th birthday and received greetings from throughout the nation. The greetings included notes from the President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

Ex-Solon Fined For Payroll Pad

WASHINGTON — UP — Former Rep. Ernest K. Bramblett (R-Calif.) Wednesday was fined $5,000 and put on probation 15 months for padding the payroll of his congressional office.

Appellate Judge Walter M. Bastian first sentenced the former congressman to not less than four months or more than 12 in jail, and then suspended the sentence and put Bramblett on probation for one year.

Bramblett received the sentence steadily. His hands were cuffed behind his back and he was escorted to Bramblett's trial and since had been promoted to the court of appeals.

Bramblett was convicted on seven counts of padding his payroll. He could have received five years in prison on each count and a $10,000 fine on each.

At the request of Bramblett's attorney, Edward B. Williams, Bastian gave Bramblett 60 days in which to pay his fine.

The 'Double or Nothing' Dilemma

By H. D. QUIGG
NEW YORK — UP — Patrolman Redmond L. (Red) O'Hanlon, one of New York's finest, is in a "dither" today.

He has a wife and five nice kids and a two-story, frame, stained-shingle house with a nice heavy mortgage — and $16,000 in crisp cash.

The $16,000 he won Tuesday night. With it he would like to build two more rooms on his house (he has three bedrooms now, and feels the need for more as his family keeps increasing).

But by answering just two more questions correctly on a subject on which he's an expert — Shakespeare — he can win $64,000 on the new CBS television quiz program called "The $64,000 Question."

However, if he misses either question, he'll win no money at all and will have to settle for a measly old consolation prize — a Cadillac dreamboat convertible.

Long Study
O'Hanlon, 39, is a 10-year veteran of the New York police force and a 16-year student of Shakespeare with a total of 8,000 hours of study of the wordplay (puns, and such) in the Bard's works.

Last week on the TV show he answered eight Shakespearean questions (that's the category he picked) to win $8,000. Figuring income taxes closely, he risked losing the $8,000 Tuesday night and for the $16,000.

Tuesday night's prize is four times the size of his yearly patrolman's salary. Next week he could double that, and the week after, double again.

Before Tuesday night's quiz, O'Hanlon said that if he won $16,000 he would not risk losing it by coming back again. But afterwards, he seemed to be caught by the lure of more money. He said he'd "have to talk to the missus" about it. They have a full week to decide.

Maybe Next Is Hard
The $16,000 question: "The first collected edition of Shakespeare's plays is called 'The First Folio.' Two of Shakespeare's fellow actors, John Heming and Henry Condell, gathered the plays together and acted as editors. Two other men were the actual publishers and printers."

"Now for the $16,000 I want the full names of both printers, plus the exact date of the printing. You have 30 seconds to think over your answer."

O'Hanlon came up with the printers: Isaac Jaggard and Edward Blunt. Then with a wave of his left hand, his strained voice showing traces of Irish from mother and father both came from county Armagh and New York (he was born in Manhattan) dialects, he said: "And the date was 1623."

Gas Commission Meets Thursday

The gas commission consists of four appointed members: Paul Crossman, Dick Smith, James McCoy, and Malcolm Hinkle.

A pet bird in an Ohio town is said to have died of hiccups. Maybe it was a night owl.

1 Dead, 3 Hurt As Passenger Train Derails

FORT MORGAN, Colo. — UP — The Union Pacific railroad's passenger train Challenger en route from Chicago to Los Angeles was derailed at a washed-out bridge six miles northeast of here Wednesday killing one and injuring three crew members and a passenger.

The train, first erroneously reported as the streamliner City of Denver, was being detoured around another washed-out portion of the railroad's main line between Julesburg, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo., when the accident occurred shortly before 5 a.m. and 16 a.m. east.

B. E. Dillenburg, telegraph operator at the Fort Morgan station, said one crew member had been killed. Fort Morgan community hospital said three persons had been admitted for emergency treatment there.

The train's engineer said he spotted the washout ahead and was slowing down when the derailment occurred. All but the last two of the Challenger's 13 cars were off the track, with the train's three-unit diesel locomotive, a baggage car and two Pullmans on their sides. Only one passenger, a woman, was reported injured, and not seriously enough to require hospitalization.

The Challenger was being detoured through Colorado because of a washout near Pine Bluffs, Wyo., railroad officials said.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

There's an art to shellwork and to bubble blowing, it would seem, but Wanda Foster, 12, Stinnett, has very little trouble in mastering the art of blowing bubbles. She does need help in shellwork, which she is getting from Linda Gross, left, 14, of Groom. Miss Foster is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Foster. Wanda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Gross. The occasion was the arts and crafts class at the 4-H Summer Camp at Recreation Park. (News Photo)

WEATHER

(Continued from Page One) the twister coming and got out of the house unhurt. A small twister, possibly the same one that hit the Roberis' home, was reported 12 miles east of Abilene. A house trailer was overturned and another house trailer blown off its block. Two Blown Out Mrs. Bob Kirkpatrick, her young son and daughter were in the house trailer that was turned upside down and dropped on its side. Mr. Kirkpatrick said she and her son were thrown through a window and the little girl remained inside. All three suffered only bruises and scratches. Hallstones measuring an inch in diameter fell for about 15 minutes at Abilene as the official weather station recorded 1.53 inches of rain while downtown estimates measured up to 2.10. Gusts of wind up to 70 miles-per-hour swept the city and the temperature dropped 15 degrees in 39 minutes time. Crops Hard Hit Cotton, wheat and alfalfa were particularly hard hit by the isolated storms that swept the South Plains around Lubbock. A vicious storm at Post, 40 miles southeast of Lubbock, lasted about an hour and a half and dropped two inches of rain. A house owned by Sterling Kelly in the northwest part of Post was demolished by the wind. It toppled over on an empty car standing beside the house but Kelly and his family, fortunately, were in New Mexico. The roof was torn off Westley Stephens' house at Post. Many garages and chicken houses were destroyed and good-sized trees, some four to five inches across, were snapped off by the wind. Heavy Hail Falls Windows blew out of downtown stores and merchants took shovels and scooped hailstones out of their establishments into the street. Water ran curb deep. In last week's storm, 2,000 acres of cotton in the eastern part of Garza county (Post) were lost. All had been replanted, but this hail storm hit hardest in that part of the county. Heavy hail hit Idalou in Lubbock county, and a 100 per cent loss on crops was reported about 20 miles north of Idalou on Farm Road 438. Cotton, wheat and alfalfa were wiped out in more than 20 sections around Lockney, 40 miles northeast of Lubbock in Floyd county. Observers said one field looked like it had been mowed with a combine. Irrigated wheat was reported all lost in that area.

Tankers Down Hoover, 9-3

Atlas Tank defeated Hoover Oil 9-3, in a Teen-Age League game Tuesday evening at Harveste Park. Hoover Oil jumped on Harlan Boyle for a three run lead in the first inning on two walks, a walk, a wild pitch and an error. However, he tightened up and only fourteen men faced him in the next four innings. Boyle's wildness got him in trouble in the 6th when a hit batter and two walks filled the bases with none out, but he really went to work then, getting the next three batters on strike-outs. Johnny Claunch allowed only one hit and issued one walk in the first three innings, but five hits, one a triple by Gary Herr and another a double by Buster Baird, coupled with two errors, in the fourth produced five runs for Atlas Tank, and gave them a lead they never relinquished. They added another unearned run in the fifth and three more, all unearned, in the seventh. Boyle's pitching and the hitting of Herr and Baird featured the game. Boyle struck out fifteen and allowed only four hits, all singles. Herr hit three out of four, one a triple, and drove in four runs. Baird got two-for-three, one a double, and drove in two runs.

McDonald said the cab of the truck, driven by Roy James Keen, 45, Higgins, Tex., cleared the track, but the diesel engine hit the trailer and its load of 600 bushels broadside. HOLY GEE

This newly developed ceramic filter, being checked by Engineer Jack Kerns, for use in the manufacture of Salk vaccine, has just been announced by the Selas Corporation of America. The new filter contains more than eight hundred million — that's right, million — tiny holes per square inch through which components of the polio vaccine are strained for bacteriological purity. Number of holes per filter is measured precisely by checking how much air must be forced through immersed tube to create bubbling.

Racial Group Asks Meeting In Houston

HOUSTON —UP— The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People plans to petition the Houston school board in the next few days for a meeting to discuss desegregation. An announcement of the move was made by Maceo Smith of Dallas, executive secretary of the state NAACP.

Smith also said petitions asking for desegregation meetings will be filed "almost immediately" in every Texas school district with Negro children under its jurisdiction.

If the NAACP feels that any school board is taking an "unreasonable" length of time to desegregate its schools, law suits will be filed against the board, Smith said.

Thurgood Marshall, special NAACP counsel from Baltimore who successfully argued the public school segregation case before the United States Supreme Court, said such action is in line with NAACP policy.

Marshall was in Houston Monday for a lawyers association banquet.

"No matter what the feeling is in any particular area of the South," Marshall said, "we're not going to let anybody go past September of 1956 before desegregation is accomplished."

However, he said, "we're going to be in court before September of 1956."

He said suits would be filed in "every district" where the NAACP feels that school boards are taking too long to put desegregation into practice.

Beverly Stone And Willard Edgett Jr. Are United In Marriage In Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Miss of "Life" by Victor Herbert. The Beverly Stone became the bride of Willard Edgett Jr. in a double ceremony in the First Methodist Church at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Rev. Frank Beauchamp officiated. Mrs. Brannon accompanied her daughter. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stone of Shamrock, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edgett Sr. of Lubbock.

Two white baskets of Maroon daisies and candelabra flanked the altar.

Mrs. Cabot Brannon, organist, played a prelude of nuptial music. Miss Connie Lewis accompanied the Shamrock High School sextet as they sang "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white lace and tulle gown over satin. It was styled with a molded bodice of lace over satin. The high neckline was finished with a brief stand-up collar of tulle, and the long lace sleeves extended to petal points over the wrists. The bouffant skirt was styled with lace tiers down the sides. The bride's fingertip veil of imported illusion, fell from a cap of lace outlined in rhinestones and pearls. Lace appliques decorated the veil.

The bride wore rhinestone buckles on her shoes that belonged to her paternal grandmother, a blue garter and had a coin-in-her shoe. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple orchid showered with stephanotis and pink and orchid satin ribbon.

Mrs. Stone, mother of the bride wore a dress of navy blue lace with white accessories. Mrs. Edgett, mother of the bridegroom, wore a rose beige sheer dress. They both wore corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the lower auditorium of the church.

Parents of the couple, the bride's grandmothers, Mrs. John S. Stone, Sr. of Clarkburg, W. Va., and Mrs. Eva T. Lipps of Amarillo, with the bride and bridegroom, and feminine attendants, made up the receiving line.

Cook's Nook

Here's a recipe for delicious "Chicken - in - a - Basket." It comes from the excellent new Fish & Poultry Cookbook, illustrated in color and unusually clear in its instructions, and very inexpensive.

Chicken-in-a-Basket
(4 servings)

One ready-to-cook frying chicken (about 3½ pounds), ½ cup butter-milk, ½ cup sifted flour, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, fat for frying.

Cut chicken into 8 serving pieces — 2 breasts, 2 wings, 2 thighs, 2 drumsticks. Pour buttermilk into shallow pan or pie plate; combine flour, salt and pepper in second shallow pan or pie plate.

Dip chicken, 1 piece at a time, in buttermilk, then in flour-mixture.

Melt enough fat to make ½-inch depth in large heavy frying pan; heat until a drop of water sizzles in it. Brown chicken, a few pieces at a time, on all sides; drain on absorbent paper.

Arrange browned chicken in single layer on greased wire rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender when pierced with 2-tine fork. Fill cup with unspiced bread or tray; serve hot. Pass cranberry sauce, if desired.

The book gives this practical advice:

To Thaw Whole-Frozen Poultry or Game: Place in original wrapper or box in food compartment of refrigerator. Allow about 5 hours thawing time per pound.

To Thaw Rapidly: Place poultry or game in its original wrapping in cool running water 1 to 3 hours (to 12 hours for very heavy poultry), or just until pliable.

JUNE IS THE TRADITIONAL MONTH of brides, so this may be a good time to bring up an important point of etiquette connected with weddings. . . "thank you" notes for gifts. I was especially reminded of this the other day when someone asked me if a month wasn't too long to expect the acknowledgement of a wedding gift sent through the mail. This person was obviously worried that the couple didn't like the gift or had never received it.

TO ME, SUCH THOUGHTLESSNESS is inexcusable. Brides are always up in the air, but it is necessary to keep one foot on the ground to write thank-you notes.

My suggestion to young brides-to-be is to devote at least one hour, more or less if needed, toward the end of the afternoon to write notes for all gifts received that day. If you put aside the time each day, it will all become a part of your pre-wedding routine. And you won't be apt to forget to do it. This prevents your becoming swamped with notes to write — keeps them from piling up on you. It will also be a relief to know that when you return from your honeymoon, you won't have such a big task ahead of you.

For gifts that arrive the day of your wedding or while you are on your honeymoon, enlist the aid of your mother or some other relative to send the acknowledgement of the arrival of the gift, stating that you will write in person upon your return. You will be surprised how grateful people will be. And the comment on your wedding will be not only, "what a lovely bride," but "how lovely and how thoughtful."

I know of one bride who followed this system and is still, after several years of marriage, receiving favorable comments on how promptly she replied to her wedding gifts. Because there was so much comment, it must be that not too many brides are sending their notes promptly. Just remember in the flurry and excitement before the wedding, when you're anxious that all will go well, that prompt acknowledgement of gifts is part of a successful wedding.

GOOD MANNERS make good parties. A recent issue of Seventeen magazine listed some "often-neglected rules of etiquette" that make a party a success. This might be a good time to brush-up on these rules if you teenagers are planning any summer parties.

The swellie, commonly called the mountain beaver, is not a beaver at all. Neither is it a typical mountain animal. Native to the western coast of the United States, this small rodent has no living relative but is the last survivor of a primitive race of rodents.

New faces? Mmmm boy! Never saw so many new faces as are popping up in Pampa this summer. A hearty welcome to this little city at the Top o' Texas to Pete Noebel, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stein, who is here this summer working and visiting the Stein's. He plans to enter Texas A&M in the fall to study Aeronautical engineering. His German is like the one Dieter Umbach, Burk Brehm and Gretchen Johnson, exchange students, charmed PHS with.

And to Dick Lawrence, who has moved to Pampa from Kermit and is staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lawrence, 1817 Mary Ellen, Frank Phillips Junior College is his destination in the fall.

Another newcomer - one month ago, Gabe Crossman, who moved here from Panhandle, was at the miniature links last night with Robert Grider, Tommy Strawn and Jim Ayres, who, by the way, beat the other guys out of a free game.

Johnny Claunch and Jan Dyer were trotting around with golf clubs too.

YOUTH REVIVAL? Did someone say Youth Revival? That's right. Just ask the young people of Central Baptist Church. They're sponsoring one soon. Keep your eyes peeled for red cardboard placards in the windows of cars around town for the details. There's nothing better for slumping summer-spirits than a revival, especially a youth one.

It's a regretful goodbye that teens say to the Lewis Bonneys, who have moved to Borger. They made many young friends during

AMA Says Free Salk Unnecessary

WASHINGTON - UP - The American Medical Association charged Wednesday that a Democratic plan all children is "completely unnecessary" and would involve an "unreasonable" expense for American taxpayers.

In accordance with the great traditions of medicine, it asserted, "no child will be denied a vaccination because of inability to pay a physician's fee."

AMA spokesmen told the Senate Labor committee the physicians' organization would reluctantly accept the President's more modest $35 million proposal to furnish free vaccine only to youngsters whose parents cannot pay.

But they said that no new legislation or federal program really is needed. Physicians and local health authorities, they said, can solve the vaccine problem under the government's voluntary distribution plan.

The AMA's position was outlined by AMA Trustee Julian P. Price and past President Walter Linn in prepared testimony before the committee.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, also was called as a witness as the vaccine hearings entered their second and final day.

Foundation sources said O'Connor would not take a public stand in the rival free vaccine plans of his. But they said he was ready to discuss the whole vaccine controversy in which the organization has been deeply involved.

In testimony Tuesday, Health Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby bluntly branded the Democratic proposal as a "back door" route to "socialized medicine" and said it could cost $130 million.

Wickersham Explains Deal

WASHINGTON - UP - Rep. Victor Wickersham (D-Okla.) Tuesday explained how he got a share in what he calls a "wildcat" oil deal in Florida without putting up a nickel of his own.

Wickersham said he took an option a couple of months ago on 17,650 acres of land at $10 an acre in the Everglades. The land was held by the estate of an Oklahoma friend, J. A. McDougal, he said.

Wickersham said he later assigned his option to a Florida-Virginia syndicate in exchange for 5 per cent interest in the ownership of the land. The syndicate bought the land under the option, which at $10 an acre would be $176,000. Wickersham said he is entitled to 5 per cent of whatever the syndicate may get if it sells the land. If it sells at the same price, he would get $8,824.

The land is under exploration for oil, Wickersham said. His share of any oil is 1-20 of 1-2 of 1-8, he said, or one barrel out of 1,280 under terms of the agreement.

Wickersham said the idea of taking the option was suggested by Allan Bruzee, owner of the Washington Teal Estate Exchange. Wickersham has previously been in the real estate business here.

Wickersham said of the deal, "I'm out no money, and in no money."

Houston Family Going Underground For A Test

By KYLE THOMPSON

HOUSTON —UP— A Houston family of four goes underground Wednesday at 5:15 p. m. est for a three-day stint in an H-bomb shelter for the first test of its kind in the nation. The family, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Christmas and their son, Stanley, 13, and daughter, Mary Louise, 11, will keep an hour-by-hour account of their existence in the H-bomb shelter for civil defense officials. The shelter test is being conducted as part of a nation-wide civil defense drill, called "Operation Alert." Christmas and his wife, both of whom experienced bombing raids during World War II, sat up most of the night completing a tentative schedule for their part in the test. They enter the shelter at 5:15 p. m. Wednesday when an all-city air raid alert will be sounded. Christmas said they figured it would take them until 8 p. m. to settle down, at which time they will have their first meal in the shelter. Someone on Watch One member of the family will be on watch at all times, including the children, who will take their turns on shifts the last two nights the family is in the shelter. From 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. on the first night the family will play games, then at 10 p. m. sharp they will go to bed. Christmas himself will take the first watch, from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m., and his wife will relieve him from 2 a. m. until 6 a. m. Mary Louise will take the third watch on that night, from 6 a. m. to 8 a. m., but during that period she will be "coached" by her mother. At 8 a. m. breakfast will be served. During the last two nights, all four members of the family will stand watch, each taking two hour shifts from 10 p. m. until 6 a. m. Christmas, a dietician's aid at a Houston hospital, said the family will have three regular meals daily and two light snacks between meals. Light Exercise The family will take light exercises each morning, but Christmas emphasized that they will be light to conserve the oxygen reserves. Activities planned to fill in between meals and sleeping time will include writing, card games, group singing, reading aloud from the Bible, group games and spelling and arithmetic problems. During the three days the bill of fare will be made up of dehydrated foods, powdered milk and a large amount of canned foods. Christmas is a veteran of the Air Corps during World War II and saw action in Okinawa. Mrs. Christmas was in Honolulu on the Sunday morning in 1941 when Pearl Harbor was bombed. The shelter, in the back yard of a private residence that later will be sold, is of a circular structure 13 feet deep and has about 113 square feet of living space. For their efforts in the test, the Christmas family will be paid $100 per day by the Houston Home Builders Association.

June Allyson, Dick Powell Plan 'If Happened One Night'

By ALINE MOSSBY

HOLLYWOOD —UP— Dick Powell and June Allyson are starting one of Hollywood's most ticklish projects: The re-make of that favorite screen classic, "If Happened One Night."

The Powells, as further denial of those recent separation rumors are working together for the first time in their 10-year marriage. The ex-crooner is producing and directing a musical version of the old picture, with June taking Claudette Colbert's role and Jack Lemmon in the old Clark Gable part. Powell admits he'll have the fans of the 1934 version to answer to. "If my picture's good they'll say

I had a good picture to copy to begin with," he said. "If it's bad, they'll say what's that idiot trying to prove?"

The two most famous scenes of "If Happened One Night" — when Miss Colbert hitched a ride from Gable, and when they hung a "walls of Jericho" blanket between their beds — will be kept in the musical version. Tune-smith Johnny Mercer is composing songs for those scenes.

But producer-director Powell is altering the story in other ways. "In the original, the heroine's rich father was a New York banker. That's kind of tired now. In my movie he's a cattle and oil man from Houston-Tex.," he explained.

"Then the bus ride in the old picture was from Miami to New York. But that scenery's been filmed before. I scouted locations in the South — took an actual bus ride — and our camera will show the route from Miami to Houston."

Some movie-makers try to cover up re-makes. But Powell bravely says he'd like "to spend all my life re-making those good old movies."

"They have a new audience to day," he said. "I ran 'If Happened One Night' the other day and it's great. Except acting styles have changed. Claudette was a cow and Gable talked as if he had glue in his teeth."

Powell's office in Columbia Studio is lined with candid photographs he's shot of his wife, a hobby that seems like a postman's walking holiday for both. The actor turned director has wanted "to work with my wife for some time." "I was going to take the Gable part," he said as we inspected the still gallery. "But we decided it would be hard to separate 10 years of personal publicity about our marriage and try to be a romantic team."

Senate Group OKs Fund Bill

WASHINGTON —UP— The Senate Appropriations committee approved Tuesday a $31,838,521,336 military money bill containing added funds to boost production of B-52 intercontinental H-bombers by 35 per cent.

The committee bill is $348,315,336 bigger than the one approved by the House but $396,293,664 less than the administration asked.

The Senate committee bill contains, however, $356 million asked by the administration to step up manufacture of the eight-jet H-bombers just now starting to roll off production lines.

Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.) of the Military Appropriations subcommittee said this will "make certain the U.S. Air Force is the most powerful in the world."

Oil Production Down In Texas

TULSA —UP— Texas led a national decline in U.S. crude oil production last week that saw the daily average fall 6,750 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

Average daily production totaled 6,594,475 barrels, the journal said. Texas output dropped 15,875 barrels daily and Louisiana 9,900. This was partially offset by a climb of 8,300 barrels in Oklahoma and 10,700 in Kansas. Alabama production declined 100 barrels, Arkansas 400, Colorado 3,800, Florida 25, Nebraska 200, New Mexico 3,500, North Dakota 1,800 and Utah 100. Illinois showed a gain of 5,600, Indiana 800, Kentucky 100, Mississippi 1,250, Montana 600, and Wyoming 900.

Almost 54 per cent of the improvement came in the last eight years, due to recent research success.

BIGGER AND BETTER, THANKS TO RESEARCH

We have come a long way on the farm front since Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson praised our grandfathers, 50 years ago, for an output "so large as to be beyond any rational comprehension." Farm output now is nearly twice what it was in those days. Federal, state and private research have played a big part. The pictures above tell the stories of some of these advances.

Fare Cut To Hear Graham

ZURICH, Switzerland—UP—Switzerland's national railway gave Billy Graham a boost Tuesday by cutting fares for thousands of persons traveling cross-country to hear him preach.

Special tickets for the American evangelist's Zurich crusade cut cost of travel up to 40 per cent, sponsors of the campaign reported. Graham preaches here Saturday and in Geneva Sunday.

The Swiss, who largely have ignored the revivalist's previous successes in other countries, showed signs of warming up to his visit. Ticket applications poured in, and newspapers splashed their pages with stories about the 37-year-old preacher.

Graham arrived during last weekend and immediately stirred up the interest.

The press, which had touched only briefly on Graham's triumph in Britain and France, suddenly began publishing belated reports on those crusades. Two prominent journals, "La Suisse" in Geneva and "Die Welt" in Zurich even devoted most of their front pages to the North Carolinian.

Staid newspapermen here were surprised by the crusade team's use of publicity in religion. They showed open shock when at a press conference Graham was described as "a high power salesman of the word of God."

'Ma' Ferguson Honored On 80th Birthday

By O. B. LLOYD JR.
AUSTIN—UP—Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, Texas' first and only woman governor, emerged from the shadows of retirement to accept the plaudits of another generation on her 80th birthday anniversary Monday night.

An estimated 300 friends and dignitaries attended a 55-plate banquet in the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill hotel to honor the woman who twice served as the state's chief executive—two non-consecutive terms from 1925 to 1927 and from 1933 to 1935.

"What a party! Thank you and God bless you all," the tiny gray-haired Mrs. Ferguson said as the festive celebration ended.

Cuts Double-Tiered Cake
Earlier she had cut a double-tiered white birthday cake, boasting only one candle, carefully reserving the first four slices for her grandson, Jimmy Watt, and three great-grandsons, George, Allan and Bill Nalle, all of Austin.

Her wish revealed, was that the next 80 years might be as happy for her as the last 80.

Gov. Allan Shivers, as master-of-ceremonies, led the guests in loud and enthusiastic singing of "Happy Birthday."

Sharing speaking honors with the governor at the head table were Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson and Alvin Owsley of Dallas, former United States minister to Rumania, Denmark and the Irish Free State. Also at the head table with other prominent guests was former Gov. James V. Allred, now a federal district judge.

Receives Wrist Watch
John Adams, president of the Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce, the organization sponsoring the party, presented Mrs. Ferguson with a gold wrist watch as a birthday present.

Mrs. Ferguson, wearing a rose-native lace-over taffeta dinner dress, entered the ballroom on the arm of Gov. Shivers. She beamed happily as she struck up, "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet," a tune she made famous in Texas as her campaign song.

Telegrams and letters of congratulations read to the dinner guests included one of best wishes from President Eisenhower.

Johnson hailed Mrs. Ferguson and her late husband, former Gov. Jim Ferguson, as people who "stood for the folks—four square, without apology and no compromise. Maybe they weren't always right, but they tried to be right, and you can ask no more of anyone."

Travels 1,600 Miles to Attend
Johnson told Mrs. Ferguson he "traveled 1,600 miles to be here (from Washington) and I would gladly have traveled 16,000."

Owsley praised Mrs. Ferguson as "one of the great governors of Texas," and linked her career with that of her husband's.

He smilingly referred to Mrs. Ferguson's campaign slogan of "Two Governors for the Price of One."

"There was no neutrality in Texas when the Fergusons were the candidates, but considering the time they occupied the governor's mansion, the modification is inescapable that the majority of the people were on their side," he said.

Newsman's Assassination Spotlights Morocco Danger

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

The assassination of a French newspaper publisher in Morocco has brought into the open a new and dangerous aspect of the situation in French North Africa.

Publisher Jacques LeMaigre-Dubreuil was killed by a machine gunner last Saturday as he came out of an office building in Casablanca.

LeMaigre-Dubreuil was not murdered by native terrorists, as so many Frenchmen have been in Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria.

There seems to be no doubt that he was shot by a fellow Frenchman—an agent of those French settlers who are fighting to the bitter end against increased home rule for France's North African possessions.

LeMaigre-Dubreuil was one of the Frenchmen in North Africa who favor home rule.

Not Like Indo-China
These Frenchmen say that the natives must be given the greatest possible measure of self-government if Morocco, Tunisia and Algeria are not to go the way of Indo-China.

LeMaigre-Dubreuil, who only recently had become the principal owner of the Casablanca newspaper Maroc-Presse, had received a number of threatening letters. Other Frenchmen who favor home rule have received similar letters.

The French government has taken an exceedingly serious view of LeMaigre-Dubreuil's assassination. Some people in Paris hold that, in the long run, the most serious struggle in Morocco at least will not be that between the French and the natives but between Frenchmen themselves.

As soon as the news of LeMaigre-Dubreuil's murder reached Paris, the government sent Roger Wybot, chief of the French secret service, to take charge of the investigation.

Wybot was ordered to investigate the French police force in Morocco as well as the murder itself.

Only Some Punished
There have been strong complaints, some of them by officials, that while Moroccan terrorists are punished drastically by French courts, French counter-terrorists who kill Moroccans escape punishment.

French Premier Edgar Faure presided Tuesday night at a cabinet meeting in Paris to consider the counter-terror situation.

There are two organized French groups in Morocco. "Presence Francaise" (French Presence) represents the anti-home rule settlers. "Conscience Francaise" (French Conscience) represents those elements who believe that home rule is essential.

The French government now believes that the anti-home rulers, or some group of them, have organized a definite terrorist group and that the machine gunner who ambushed LeMaigre-Dubreuil was a member of it.

Oilers Rip Dukes In Opener 17-2; Doubleheader Set Tonight

The Oilers won their 18th home game in 22 starts last night with a smashing 17-2 victory over the Albuquerque Dukes in the first of a four-game series at Oiler Park. Dial pitched even with the board by going the route for his sixth victory of the season against as many losses.

Dial aided his own cause at the plate with three hits, one of them a double, his first round tripper of the season. The Oilers and Dukes will continue their series tonight with a doubleheader at Oiler Park. The first game will start at 7:00.

One of Fortin's blows was a homerun, his 16th round-tripper of the season. Fortin was the fellow who got only seven hits in his route going in the second game for nine, first inning. The big first sacker's out seven and passed only two.

Both Albuquerque runs came in the fifth after the Oilers had taken a 7-0 lead. Gil Valentin and Pedro Santiago drove in the two Duke runs.

In addition to Fortin and Haller's four-hit performances for the Oilers, three other Oilers collected three hits apiece. Slider, Sonny Tims and Dial each hit a safely three times for the winners.

The Oilers put the game completely out of reach with five runs in the seventh and four in the eighth to extend their lead from 8-2 to 17-2.

Fortin drove in six Oiler runs and Halter three. The Oilers turned in an errorless game afield, their eighth errorless game of the season.

The Oilers increased their margin to 6-0 with three more in the second and the locals breezed in from this point.

Pampa Druggists, Hoffman Oil Record Shutouts; Utility Oil Wins 21 to 7

Two shutouts were recorded in the kid baseball ranks yesterday. Pampa Druggists blanked Elmer's Super Market in the Pony League, 5-0, and Hoffman Oil shutout Sport. an Store, 7-0, in the Eastern Little League.

In the other game, Utility Oil defeated Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners 21-7, in the Western Little League.

Lynn Boyd and Gary Meyers split mound chores in the whitewashing for the Pampa Druggists team. Garrett recorded the shutout for Hoffman Oil, allowing the Sportsman nine only two hits.

Boyd and Meyers allowed Elmer's five hits.

In the Pony game, the Pill Rollers jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first inning which was all the Druggists needed.

But, for good measure, the Druggists pushed across two runs in the fourth and sixth innings. Larry Ingram led the Pill Rollers hitting attack with two hits. Hoffman was held to five hits in its game with Sportsman's Store.

Deadline Is Tonight For Trading

Big league bigwigs sat hopefully by the telephone, but there appeared to be little chance that any major player deals would be made before the trading deadline strikes at midnight Wednesday night.

The Yankees would like Detroit General Manager Muddy Ruel to ring that telephone bell and say "okay" on a deal for pitcher Ned Garver; the Indians were hoping the Orioles would part with Gene Woodling and Billy Cox; and the Giants still were looking for a catcher.

But the odds were that none of these things would come to pass. The runaway Brooklyn Dodgers, who seem to need help less than anybody, were the only ones to pick up a new player as the deadline approached. They obtained reserve outfielder Bob Borkowski from Cincinnati, but that was merely the completion of a deal which had been made before the season.

The Dodger Manager Walter Alton said right-handed Borkowski, batting only .167, would replace left-handed Sandy Amoros in left field whenever a southpaw pitcher starts against Brooklyn — which isn't very often the way the Dodgers are clobbering southpaws these days.

Righthander Garver, with a 5-7 record, seems beyond the Yankees' grasp right now.

Indications were the Yankee offer for Garver included only sub outfielder Bob Cerv and a seldom-used pitcher.

The Indians would dearly love to get outfielder Woodling and infielder Cox from Baltimore, and reportedly were offering a two or three player package that might include veteran outfielder Larry Doby. However the Orioles didn't seem to be leaping at the bait.

The Giants still may have a chance to land catcher Smokey Burgess from Cincinnati, for the Redlegs admit they're in a trading mood.

But otherwise, things looked quiet on the baseball market as the clock hands moved toward midnight.

Ags Nip Arizona In NCAA Tourney

OMAHA, Neb. —UP— What is perhaps the greatest Oklahoma A&M baseball team of all time, battles Wake Forest Wednesday night with a possible national championship only 24 hours away.

The once-beaten Aggies topped when the Aggies and Arizona played Arizona, 5-4, in the 12th inning Tuesday behind the masterful pitching of Tom Borland who went the route.

The Aggie victory plus the Wake Forest upset of previously undefeated Western Michigan Thursday night in the NCAA tourney into a three-way A&M 0-0 101 200 001-5 8 2 Lee, Thomas (12) and Zivkovich; Borland and Patrick. HR—Don Gile (2), for Arizona, 4th, none on; 6th, none on.

The winner of Wednesday night's A&M - Wake Forest battle will meet Western Michigan Thursday night for the college world series title.

Borland went the route Tuesday despite the fact he had pitched 2 1-3 innings in relief the previous day. He allowed 10 hits and five walks.

Aggie Third Baseman Jim Woolard scored the winning run in the last of the 12th after right fielder Mayo Hemperly had pounded a ground ball to second.

The loss eliminated Arizona from the tourney.

The Aggie - Arizona semifinals game developed into a marathon pitchers' duel after Arizona's Don Gile smacked homers in the fourth and sixth innings to tie the game at 2 and 2.

The Aggies scored single runs in the second and third on hits by Hemperly and First Baseman Phil Finnegan.

Arizona went ahead, 4-2, in the seventh on a single by Catcher Sam Zivkovich, which scored two runs. But the Aggies tied the score in the eighth when Shortstop Don Bacon tripled home two runs.

Arizona's pitcher Don Lee was pulled with two on and one out in the 12th.

Reliever Carl Thomas allowed the Aggies to reach first on a fielders choice to load the bases. Woolard, who had singled to open the

Snead, Hogan Top Picks In National Open

SAN FRANCISCO —UP— The 1955 National Open golf tournament, destined to be the greatest of them all in the opinion of Gene Sarazen, opens here Thursday with the old-time wosome of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead in the favored roles.

A crack field of 162 professionals and amateurs, culled from more than 1,000 of the nation's best, will start teeing off Thursday at 9 a. m. est, and every seven minutes thereafter a threesome will start down the fairways of the old Olympic club course. The last starter will hit his drive at 2 p. m.

But the fans will be watching Hogan and Snead in the main, with Snead the top attraction.

The one-time Virginia hillbilly, who has tried without success for 15 years to capture the most coveted of all golf crowns, is taking what may be his last crack at the National Open title.

He now is 43 years old and has finished second four times, stretching way back to 1937. Generally acknowledged as one of the great golfers of all time, this one has always proved a jinx to Jim.

On the other hand, Hogan has won it four times — and is seeking his fifth win here.

These two men, of course, aren't the only stars in the field. The defending champion is Ed Furgol, and the lame-armed professional plays this course very well. He is at the top of his game and is just off winning the international tournament at Washington, D. C., against the best golfers in the world.

Furgol probably is the most confident man on the course. While the other stars have been moaning about this layout being too tough, the champion simply says that it is a "good test of golf," but that it can be licked.

He had a 74 Tuesday and in previous rounds always has been down around the par of 70.

Missions Drop To Third In TL Race

By UNITED PRESS

San Antonio, which led the Texas League for 83 days, settled in third place Wednesday after losing seven of its last nine games.

The Missions fell victim to Dallas 6 to 3 Tuesday night to drop into third, their lowest position since opening day.

Fort Worth's 2 to 6 victory over Houston put the Cats in second place 3½ games behind the Eagles.

In other games Shreveport stopped Oklahoma City 8 to 1 and Beaumont and Tulsa split a doubleheader. The Exporters took the first 2 to 1 with the second going to Tulsa 4 to 2.

The Missions defeat came as the clutch hitting completely failed. They left 11 runners stranded and three times had runners on third base with none out and failed to score.

The Eagles touched four Mission hurlers for 10 hits including Ray Murray's 18th homer of the year.

Jim Tugerson received credit for the win although he needed help from Charley Fowler who held San Antonio hitless in the last 2 2-3 innings.

Fort Worth used two big innings to whip Houston, scoring five in the first and three in the fifth. Frank Marchio and Joe Pignatano each got three hits for the Cats.

Willie Brown had a two-run homer and three singles for the Buffs.

Dan McDevitt picked up his third win while Bob Mabe suffered his fourth loss.

A five-run scoring outburst in the eighth broke up the game and gave Shreveport the victory over Oklahoma City. Joe Koppe's two-run triple was the big blow in the rally.

Ivan Abramowitz got the first game win for Beaumont, giving up five hits. But loser Stan Pitula only gave up three. Mike Lutz paced the Indians' hitting attack which won the second game.

Dallas plays in a doubleheader at San Antonio Wednesday night, with Oklahoma City at Shreveport, Tulsa at Beaumont and Fort Worth at Houston in single games.

Good Target

We should like to give a round of applause for some very courageous people. They are the ones responsible for the formation of a new organization which has as its avowed purpose, the repeal of the 16th Amendment.

Now, in this day of tensions and tribulations there are always those who cry out in alarm if anyone mentions the thought that taxes can be lowered, or, as in this case, that a specific tax can be repealed.

But it is so patently apparent that our problems stem from excessive government that it is hard to find substance behind the squeals.

The proponents of repeal in this organization point out that the Sixteenth Amendment (the income tax amendment) authorizes the federal government to assess ANY DEGREE of taxation upon you that it may desire.

There is one point we haven't been able to locate in the literature of the "Organization to Repeal Federal Income Taxes." That is, that if this amendment were repealed it would mean the end of a great deal of federal snooping and peeking.

Can you imagine the freedom you would experience if you actually were able to keep the state of your finances as your own private business? It's a wonderful and a brave idea.

THE NATION'S PRESS

The Communist strategists will settle for a middle-of-the-road policy because the trend of the middle is constantly leftward. The middle of today is the far left of yesterday, and the far left of today is the middle of tomorrow.

Today, federal housing, government ownership of utilities, social security, federal subsidy for education and confiscatory taxation on larger incomes and estates are considered middle - of-the-road measures.

The Repeal of Government That government must do some things we all agree, but unless we succeed in limiting the scope of its power and functions, freedom will eventually disappear as the reach of government grows wider and stronger.

The use of the terms right and left is confusing. It indicates that we have a choice and that there are different ways of doing things with equal effectiveness.

clarify much thinking in this area. We don't speak of right and left with reference to the moral law, but rather of right and wrong.

In the same sense there is economic law, which is right, and there is violation of it which is wrong. Economic law is based squarely on the moral law and the violation of it is wrong in the same way that the violation of moral law is wrong.

Moral Law in Economics "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" is good economics as well as good morals.

Having respect for one's elders, honoring one's parents, that is, learning all we can from human experience, is conducive to success in material affairs and is, therefore, good economics as well as good morals.

It is time that people come to better understand the great harm that labor unions that practice collective "bargaining" do to everyone.

One who rests at proper intervals and worships God is much more likely to develop proper mental attitudes and sustained constructive energy than one who neglects to rest on the Sabbath Day and to develop an attitude of reverence and worship toward God.

Coveting, stealing and murder are just as much violations of economic law as of moral law.

Ideologies Of Labor Unions Primary Cause Of Depression

Now that the C.I.O. and the A.F.L. have combined and are demanding a guaranteed annual wage and many other things that make it more difficult to increase production, and thus the real standard of living, it might be well to take a look at the ideologies of labor unions that insist on collective "bargaining."

If one reads the Communist Manifesto written by Karl Marx one has a pretty good idea of the ideologies of labor unions. The worst thing about labor unions is that they do not respect the inalienable rights, or the natural rights, that belong to each and every individual.

Now, how do labor unions cause depression and unemployment? They do this by establishing the caste system - that is, by seniority. They temporarily raise the wages of certain groups so high that the unemployables, those that the labor unions tramp under, are not able to buy the products produced under the wasteful methods of labor unions.

Thus when we have depression caused by labor unions refusing to cooperate and adjust wages on a free market basis, something has to be done to help those whom the labor unions have deprived of their natural rights.

And this condition comes about from the ideologies of the labor unions that both parties in a contract need not make a profit.

Among politicians like the practical New Yorker, there is more rejoicing over the defeat of one sinner than there is over the return to Washington of all the other Senators.

Despite his tolerance and amiability, President Eisenhower is extremely anti-Morse.

Senator Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona, who doubles as Chairman of the Republicans' Senatorial Campaign Committee, reported to Hall after a tour of the Northwest that Morse can be defeated through money and improved organization of the state forces.

The Democrats, however, are as anxious to re-elect Morse as the Republicans are to defeat him.

Besides the presence of Butler and other prominent members of the Democratic hierarchy as evidence that Morse has been adopted by the opposition, it is understood that Harry S. Truman will deliver the principal address.

Although the former President has declined numerous political invitations, including a chilly suggestion that he attend the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the founding of the United Nations, he will go all out for Morse.

A recent letter from G. G. again raises the subject of fibroid tumors. She asks whether a slight fibroid tumor requires an operation and how serious this complaint may be.

Fibroids are tumors made up of muscle and other tissue which grow in the walls of the womb.

Some fibroids are small and never cause any trouble. Others, however, grow slowly and may produce a feeling of pressure in the abdomen and general weariness.

Specialists in diseases of women have done a lot of work on fibroids and as a result there is not so much suffering as there used to be.

The fact that removal of the womb is a serious operation makes the decision about operation difficult. In many cases it can be postponed until after or near the end of the childbearing period.

Senator Goldwater, incidentally, has also told Chairman Hall that Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York, who sides with Morse and Magnuson on this question (the St. Lawrence and Niagara Rivers), can be licked again with money and a Dewey-like organization.

GOP Guns Set To Knock Off Sen. W. Morse Of Oregon

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON - Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall's prize objective in next year's Congressional campaign is the defeat of Senator Wayne Lyman Morse of Oregon, whose desertion of the GOP enabled the Democrats to organize the Senate.

In fact, Hall has ordered the collection of a special fund for this purpose.

Among politicians like the practical New Yorker, there is more rejoicing over the defeat of one sinner than there is over the return to Washington of all the other Senators.

Move Afoot To Call Dissenters "Disturbed"

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I have lately dealt with the im-movement in lunatic asylums of a number of persons by the federal government. The cases are all bad and are symptoms of a growing campaign to disqualify and discredit political dissenters on the ground that they are "disturbed."

Mrs. Miller was indicted on a charge of violating the draft law. She claims the law is unconstitutional and demands a trial.

Therefore, with a strange show of consideration for the victim, the department of justice gassed the Miller household in the night, sized her and flew her all the way to Washington for "treatment" in St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

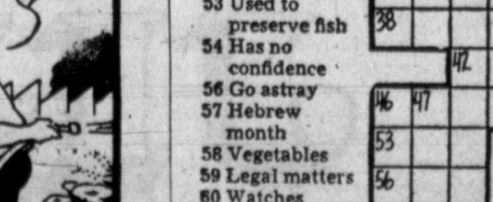

Brownell will have to send her back to Bethel but then how will he explain this awful abuse of a patriotic citizen who certainly is not crazy by any reasonable, established test.

Domestic Chores If this columnist had the luxury of an assistant or secretary, it goes without saying that every letter from a reader would be promptly answered.

And they really are! The fact that these nice letters still sit hopelessly on our desk in full view rather than being filed away or discarded, testifies to both our sincere desire and intent to answer them personally - someday!

Another psychiatrist had the gall to broadcast for the Democratic party in 1952 a "psychiatric diagnosis" of McCarthy, whom he had never even seen.

Altogether, psychiatry is overloaded with political bigots. And what can anyone say for a branch of medicine which will permit one of its practitioners, claiming professional distinction, to diagnose a patient he has never seen, smear the victim with a loathsome insinuation for a political purpose with absolutely no scientific excuse all without the "patients" permission? BUGGY DAZE

The past met the present in LaPorte, Ind., recently when a horse and buggy driven by Frank Hitesman, 75, of nearby Pinola, Ind., came to town on a visit. Both Hitesman, bewhiskered but spry, and the stallion, Golden Dawn, seem puzzled by the parking meter which hardly resembles the old hitching rack. Hitesman used it anyway when told how the contraption worked. He admitted it had been some time since his last visit. (Exclusive NEA Photo)

Rented Suits And Dresses Constantly Used In Capital

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS WASHINGTON — UP — Some odd things about Washington: For one thing some 2000 rented dress suits, dinner coats and suits are in constant circulation in the capital.

This business is better in the winter. But in the summer some senators and congressmen who are not used to dressing for an evening out rent the summer suits. A white coat, black vest and a soft shirt with studs and shoes and even a phony carnation for the buttonhole if necessary. The price per coat, shoes or collar runs for whatever the traffic will bear. A coat may be $5 for the evening, returned in the a.m. A whole suit, double that price. With the flower pitched in if you return it in the morning with coat, pants and studs.

Time was around town when three outfits rented evening dresses for government gals and also the ladies of congress. All three went out of business. It seems that the gals would run down to the rent people, try on the pretty gowns and run home and think it over. A lot of them had been trained in the needle, thread and sewing machine business and many of them went straight to a dry goods store, bought a bolt of frilly stuff and showed up at a party with a duplicate of whatever looked good at the rental.

Back to the men — one of the renters has in stock for instance, pink shorts, like they wear in Britain, with navy blue coats to match and flashy sport shirts. All for $13.50 for a weekend. There have been no congressional takers on this deal so far.

I got a lot of other information from Eleanor Early. The lovely Eleanor is an old hand at research on such business in the capital and other cities.

One of Eleanor's favorite stores is one about the Folger Shakespearean library, located near the Supreme Court and Library of Congress. There rest the corsets of Elizabeth I.

Miss Early dug up the fact that Henry Clay Folger, who founded the library, learned that the corsets of the queen were saved during Shakespear's time were on sale at auction.

Folger dispatched a cable call, made a bid and he knew it, he had a bunch of rare corsets on his hands.

And for a long time, they were right out in the open. As of now, though, they are underground — down in the basement of the library with other relics.

Every year the capital entertains some half million kids. All of them frisky, but some day to grow to voting age. There is pressure from the hill to be nice to all the young, they have pillow fight in hotels. That is a nuisance to the hotels. The Willard hotel, for one, has started using foam pillows. The same hotel has started to weld room numbers on the doors. Some kid bring along their own screw drivers to take home a screw and room numbers aren't welded on.

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH Read Psalm 91 Spiritual laws govern spiritual conditions. Having accepted the principle that spiritual laws govern spiritual conditions, and conceding that the universe is under the authority of law, it remains for us to seek out spiritual laws and apply them to spiritual facts and conditions.

This certainly means we have a right to aspire to serenity, peace and power. We have a right to believe there is a way to live among irritating people without becoming irritable. We have a right to expect that we can cultivate a spirit within us which will resist all fear and face any disaster without terror.

We have a right to anticipate the coming of a day when we can live without worrying, work without becoming tense, and enjoy satisfactions instead of enduring strains. None of this is to be thought of as a case of lifting oneself by one's bootstraps, but as a process by which divine power is given an opportunity to flow in upon our souls according as we provide the spiritual receptivity which makes it possible.

Many of us have been accustomed to pray for power to become the splendid person we seek to be. That is not necessary. The power is waiting ready for us; we must act upon our decision and appropriate the power. As we act the power that is waiting is released, and we become new creatures.

Life is not an insoluble mystery, certainly the spiritual life is not. In fact, it is almost transparently clear. In Jesus' sermon on the mount there are at least a score of rules which, if any man will obey them, will redeem life for him.

I will wait on thee, O God, in the expectation that thou wilt make thyself plain. I will accept the highest and holiest suggestion that comes to me in the next 15 minutes as the revelation of thy will for me, and I will act upon it in Jesus' name. Amen.

Pay Raise Favored For Civil Group

WASHINGTON — UP — The House Civil Service committee voted Tuesday in favor of a 7.5 per cent pay raise for the government's 1 million white collar Civil Service employees.

The committee rejected by a tie vote a proposal by Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) for an 8 per cent increase — the same recently granted postal workers. Moss promptly served notice that he intends to make a floor fight for his proposal.

The committee did not formally approve a bill. It merely settled upon the amount of an increase for the classified federal workers.

The group planned to meet Wednesday to settle such questions as retroactivity and pay increases for employees in the judicial and congressional branches of the government.

It was estimated that a 7.5 per

Haymes Going Back To Work

HOLLYWOOD — UP — Crooner Dick Haymes, unemployed for a year, will go back to work next Saturday at the Dunes hotel in Las Vegas, Nev.

Haymes, husband of actress Rita Hayworth, will sing at the gambling city luxury hotel for three weeks at a reported $15,000 weekly.

The Argentine-born crooner recently won his deportation fight with the government when a federal judge ruled he was not deportable. The government plans to appeal the ruling, however.

Hazel Wilsey, 1513 E. Loit, Kingsville, Texas, wrote us as follows: "When I commenced to take Barcontrate, I weighed 180 pounds. I now weigh 124, a loss of 56 pounds."

Pay Raise Favored For Civil Group

WASHINGTON — UP — The House Civil Service committee voted Tuesday in favor of a 7.5 per cent pay raise for the government's 1 million white collar Civil Service employees.

The committee rejected by a tie vote a proposal by Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif.) for an 8 per cent increase — the same recently granted postal workers. Moss promptly served notice that he intends to make a floor fight for his proposal.

The committee did not formally approve a bill. It merely settled upon the amount of an increase for the classified federal workers.

The group planned to meet Wednesday to settle such questions as retroactivity and pay increases for employees in the judicial and congressional branches of the government.

Denverites Hit Pet-Food Tax

DENVER — UP — Pet owners yelped Wednesday at the suggestion that a one cent tax on dog and cat food be levied to pay for enforcement of Denver's new leash law.

The city health board estimated Tuesday it would cost $84,000 a year to see that all dogs are leashed or penned. It suggested a tax of one cent on every pound of commercial pet food sold in Denver to provide the money.

The city council votes next week on whether to have the health department or police enforce the leash law. Mayor Quigg Newton got a quick sample of dog owners' opinion after the health board proposed the tax, and hastily announced he wanted no part in such a tax.

Attorney Philip Rossman, a dog owner, fumed that "this whole leash law thing -- and now the enforcement problem -- is the beginning of a system to rid Denver of dogs."

Rossman said "many pets have been disposed of already and a tax on the very food they eat will doom still more of them."

7 Women In Air Race

RATON N. M. — UP — Seven women fliers balanced gas consumption statistics against flying time Wednesday to determine who won their 860-mile Skydaly air derby from Little Rock, Ark., to Raton.

Ann Waddell of Garden City, Kan., was the first to land here Tuesday. The last to complete the two-lap race was Margaret Calloway of Fort Worth. She had been the first to take off earlier in the day from Dodge City, Kan.

After an overnight stop at Dodge City, the ladies had to delay their departure for Raton nearly four hours because of bad weather. They all ran into some rough weather on the last lap.

Mrs. Ruth Nickell of Topeka, Kan., chairman of the derby, said the calculations to determine the winner would not be finished until late Wednesday.

Church Men Convene In Lubbock

LUBBOCK — UP — Seven hundred delegates opened a general assembly of Cumberland Presbyterian Church Wednesday. They may decide whether to move Bethel College from McKenzie, Tenn., to Memphis, Tenn.

A resolution to move the college, which has about 600 students, and a seminary, on the college grounds, which has 150 students, will be presented tomorrow by G. H. Keninger, a prominent Memphis businessman and financier.

A citizens' committee from McKenzie will arrive by plane Thursday to fight the proposal to move the college. Another group is due in from Memphis and it is expected to offer to start a campaign to raise $1,500,000 to move Bethel college.

Keninger started a campaign to move the college after revisiting it. He first proposed moving it before a meeting of the executive committee of the General Assembly of Cumberland Presbyterian church in Nashville June 8.

He promised then to direct a campaign for $1,500,000 if the college were moved. The committee agreed to debate the question at the general assembly, which represents the national church.

Bandit Killed In Payroll Theft

NEW YORK — UP — A policeman killed a payroll bandit and three other persons were wounded Tuesday in a wild gun battle witnessed by thousands in a crowded commercial district a few blocks from City Hall.

The hold-up man, fleeing with a $4,000 payroll snatched from a 19-year-old girl messenger in a building lobby, was killed by a motorcycle policeman after an exchange of bullets which ripped through windshield of an occupied automobile.

Before he was killed the bandit shot a building elevator man who went to the rescue of the payroll messenger; grazed a woman passerby with a bullet aimed at the policeman, and shot another passerby who attempted to nab him.

An unidentified FBI man also went to the patrolman's assistance, but didn't fire a shot. He was unhurt.

Diana Panzer, 19, clerk and typist for the Lincoln Letter Service, said she had left a bank for her office with the payroll wrapped in a plain brown paper envelope.

"I noticed a man following me," she said. "When we got into the ground floor hallway, he grabbed me. I screamed. I thought his gun was a toy pistol."

As the elevator man, Joseph Sotolano, 43, ran to her aid, the gunman fired, dropping Sotolano with a shot in the groin, and fled with the payroll.

Motorcycle Patrolman Aurelio de Filippi, 28, jumped off his bike and ran after the bandit.

A passerby, Detrick Eberhard, attempted to halt the bandit and shot by him.

The bandit then shot at the policeman. Adele Lambert, 50, a state industrial relations investigator, walked into the path of the bullet. She was hit in the neck, not seriously.

"I pulled my gun and as I rounded Elk Street, I called 'stop,'" de Filippi said. "He barricaded himself behind a parked station wagon and fired one shot at me."

"I got behind a truck with an FBI man."

"The guy shot at me again, and I emptied my gun as I jumped toward him."

"He was crumpled when I got him."

The payroll was recovered.

New Boxcars Get Numbers From Start

By ALFRED LEECH
CHICAGO — UP — The Chicago and North Western Railway has saved itself a lot of headaches and money by starting all over at No. 1 in numbering its new box cars.

Most of the railroad's rolling stock now bears five and six-digit numbers, the result of accumulation through the years.

So when the road ordered 625 new box cars a couple of years ago, President Paul Feucht specified that they be numbered from 1 to 625.

The use of fewer digits might seem a trivial matter. But consider this:

In a single month, the number of each car is written, typewritten, tabulated and even televised hundreds of times.

The more digits, the greater chance for error and delay.

Like other roads, the North Western has so many thousands of cars on the move it has numerical nightmares. All the car numbers laid end to end probably would short circuit an electronic brain.

Each day the road must keep tabs on about 60,000 freight cars, including its own and those on loan from other railroads. Accurate records must be kept for many reasons, including the "per diem" factor.

It seems one road must pay another $2.40 per day for the use of a freight car on loan. And some cars seem to spend more time on other roads than on their own.

To keep track of such meanderings requires an accounting department with a battery of electronic tabulators consuming about 1.7 million punch cards per month.

Railroad officials will admit it's possible to lose a freight car now and then.

Union Red Given Full Sentence

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — Hugh Bryson, handsome 40-year-old former head of a leftwing waterfront union, was sentenced Tuesday in federal court to the maximum five years imprisonment and $10,000 fine for lying when he signed a Tatt-Hartley anti-Communist affidavit.

Defense Attorney Richard Gladstein immediately filed notice the case would be appealed and asked that Bryson be permitted to remain on bail.

Judge William C. Mathes, before passing judgment, denied without comment three defense motions seeking to overturn the verdict of a jury which convicted Bryson last month of falsely swearing that he was not affiliated with the Communist party. The jury acquitted the former labor leader of the charge that he lied when he denied actual party membership.

Bryson, immaculately dressed in a conservative brown suit, stood impassively before the bar as Mathes passed judgment. His wife, Vera, sobbed silently when the judge denied a motion for probation and burst into unstrained tears when her husband was remanded to the custody of the U.S. marshal.

Turnpike Group Sells Road Bonds

AUSTIN — UP — The Texas Turnpike Authority Monday sold $38.5 million in Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike revenue bonds at a public sale.

The successful bid, at an interest rate of 2.92805 per cent, was made by a group composed of the First Boston Corporation, First Southwest Co. and Rauscher, Pierce & Co. & Associates, who bid a price of $37,365,041.50.

A spokesman said the interest rate represented the lowest cost so far received by any authority in the initial financing of any turnpike not yet in operation, under which the entire cost was financed by bonds secured solely by toll revenues.

An interest rate of 2.70 per cent was designated for $13 million in bonds due Jan. 1, 1960 and 2.75 per cent for $45,500,000 in bonds due Jan. 1, 1965.

An authority spokesman said the issue was believed to be the largest issue of this type of bonds ever issued in Texas.

State Senator To Address GI Forum

AUSTIN — UP — State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton will speak at the seventh annual convention of the American GI Forum of Texas to be held July 1-3 at San Antonio, it was announced Tuesday.

Forum State Chairman Richard M. Casillas, a San Antonio attorney, announced Phillips will speak at a convention banquet to be given in his honor.

"We are particularly gratified that Senator Phillips has accepted our invitation to address the convention," Casillas said. "We feel that his aggressiveness on the land investigations did much to arouse public consciousness of the corrupt practice disclosed and prevented suppression of valuable evidence that will help bring the guilty ones to justice."

Phillips served as a member of the Senate's General Investigating committee which conducted a session-long inquiry into the scandal-ridden veterans land program.

Casillas said Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., of San Antonio will deliver the keynote address at a morning session July 2.

Some 400 delegates from areas with heavy Latin American populations were expected to attend the convention. Delegations also were expected from New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Ohio and Utah.

The convention will open with a reception July 1, and close with a queen coronation ball July 3.

Among items on the business agenda was a proposed change to the organization's constitution to open membership to non-veterans, up to a specified ratio of the total membership.
